

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

November 2016 | Volume 5, Issue 11

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4

American Government and Politics 7

Comparative Politics 38

International Relations 62

Methodology 89

Non-Academic 98

Other 98

Political Theory 132

Public Administration 147

Public Law 159

Public Policy 167

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

November 2016 | Volume 5, Issue 11

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4 (6 listings)

American Government and Politics 7 (73 listings)

Comparative Politics 38 (53 listings)

International Relations 62 (64 listings)

Methodology 89 (23 listings)

Non-Academic 98 (1 listings)

Other 98 (67 listings)

Political Theory 132 (32 listings)

Public Administration 147 (23 listings)

Public Law 159 (16 listings)

Public Policy 167 (49 listings)

Total listings this issue 407

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for November

ADMINISTRATION

University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Rank: Director, Public Policy Program

Director, Public Policy Program

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte invites applications from outstanding senior scholars to serve as Director of the Public Policy Program, an interdisciplinary Ph.D. granting program that draws upon faculty and resources from three colleges. The term of the position begins on July 1, 2017. The Program Director reports to the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the tenure home for the Director will be in a department in the College that is affiliated with the Public Policy Program.

Required qualifications include a Ph.D. in Public Policy or a closely related social science discipline and a record of distinction in public policy research, with credentials and experience appropriate for a tenured professorship at UNC Charlotte. We seek candidates with administrative or other related experience that has prepared them to serve as Director of a diverse and growing interdisciplinary Ph.D. granting program, and who have a commitment to promoting diversity and inclusion as values in the program and college. Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching and research.

We will give preference to candidates with experience working within an interdisciplinary environment, and who have experience in multiple facets of graduate education, including recruitment, curriculum development, mentoring, and placement. A track record of extramural funding is strongly desired. Preference will also be given to those with a record of active service to the discipline of public policy through its organizations and journals. We seek candidates who possess the vision and leadership to support a program targeted to expand its mission considerably, who will enhance the intellectual and interdisciplinary climate of the program, and build networks within the profession and with practitioners.

The position is open with respect to research specialty. The Public Policy Program has particular strengths in policy areas related to the urban environment including planning and development, governance, environmental, education, health, economic, crime, and social policy and provides all students rigorous training in quantitative analysis. The program is supported by over 30 core faculty drawn from departments and colleges throughout the university including Criminal Justice and Criminology, Economics, Geography and Earth Sciences, Philosophy, Political Science and Public Administration, Public Health, and Sociology. The program has a strong track record of placing its students in both academic and non-academic positions.

The Program Director will be responsible for coordinating and expanding the interdisciplinary program within the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, where it is housed, as well as coordinating with the Belk College of Business and the College of Health and Human Services. The Director is responsible for coordinating all aspects of graduate education in the Public Policy Program and represents the program within and across college, university, professional, and community networks.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is a doctoral, research-intensive university, located in one of the nation's fastest-growing metropolitan areas on an expanding modern campus. One of sixteen campuses in one of the oldest public university systems in the United States, UNC Charlotte offers over 28,000 culturally diverse students a wide range of undergraduate and graduate degree programs. Charlotte's metropolitan area is rich in cultural and racial diversity (over 40% Hispanic/Latino and African-American) and our faculty strives to reflect and interact positively with that population. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences houses 20 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, physical sciences, and military sciences, as well as 8 research centers and institutes and 13 interdisciplinary programs.

Applications must be submitted electronically at <https://jobs.uncc.edu> (use position number #004161) and the following documents should be attached: cover letter describing your qualifications and approach to leadership, teaching, and scholarship; CV; and names and contact information of three references. Applicants will be subject to a criminal background check.

AA/EOE employer. Minorities, women, and persons with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply. Screening of applications begins December 1st, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2325

New York University

Rank: Clinical Faculty Position in Public Service Communications

Subfield(s): Administration, American Government and Politics, Non-Academic

Specializations: Political Communication, Health Care, Public Opinion

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service at New York University (NYU Wagner) invites applicants for a clinical faculty member with expertise in public policy communications in a public service environment, including government agencies, nonprofit organizations, and/or healthcare or hospital organizations. In addition to teaching, successful candidates will be responsible for directing a cohort of students in NYU Wagner's new Master of Science in Public Policy program with the goal of developing and creating a cohesive academic and co-curricular student experience.

Applicants must hold a graduate degree (PhD preferred) and have at least 10 years of professional experience. We are particularly interested in applicants with experience teaching strategic and persuasive oral and written communications skills courses, as well as critical analysis and research, in a graduate public administration or public health program. Successful candidates will have experience teaching courses focused on effectively communicating and influencing a position or change in public policy or public opinion.

The successful candidate will join NYU Wagner's full-time faculty and should have a strong interest in interacting with faculty, staff, and students in a multi-disciplinary professional school of public service.

Applications received by December 1, 2017 will receive full consideration and the successful candidate will begin June 1, 2017. The position is open until filled. Please send a cover letter, resume/curriculum vitae, research publications (if available), teaching evaluations (if available), and contact information for at least three professional references via the URL below.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/39006>

NYU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and is strongly committed to diversity within its community.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2306

Mississippi State University

Rank: Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Mississippi State University. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is searching for a Department Head at the rank of Professor, beginning July 1, 2017. Applications from Associate Professors could be considered conditional to promotion at the rank of Professor by the time of appointment. We seek an accomplished scholar to lead a dynamic program, with an energetic and productive research and teaching faculty experienced in training high-achieving undergraduate and graduate students. Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Public Administration, or related fields, an established research and/or extramural funding record, a commitment to academic excellence, and strong administrative skills. In providing such leadership, the Head will guide curricular revision and programmatic assessment; guide faculty through the tenure and promotion process; oversee all personnel matters; manage the budget; serve as a liaison between faculty and administration; and sustain and enhance collaborative programs with other campus units. Documented experience in departmental or college leadership positions is required. The teaching assignment is negotiable. The salary will be competitive. Degree programs offered include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master in Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research and government centers, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral, research university classified as Doctoral/Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation. It is located in a progressive Sunbelt community and has an array of centers and institutes receptive to collaborative research. Its mission is to provide access and opportunity to students from all sectors of the state's diverse population and to offer excellent and extensive programs in instruction, research, and outreach. More information on the university's mission can be seen at: <http://www.msstate.edu/web/mission.html>.

Applications are to be submitted electronically by accessing <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> and should include a Vita, a letter describing administrative philosophy and research interests, and supporting materials demonstrating administrative, teaching, service, and scholarly achievement, as well as a list of references. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2016, but applications will be accepted and reviewed until the position is filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2187

Middle Tennessee State University

Rank: Chair

Middle Tennessee State University seeks applications for Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Relations (#128005). Start date for this position is August 1, 2017.

The department consists of 15 full-time faculty members and offers undergraduate degrees in Political Science (including a popular pre-law concentration) and International Relations and a Masters in International Affairs. Ideal candidates will be committed to shared governance and collaborative leadership. Candidate must have earned PhD in Political Science, eligible for rank of Associate or Full Professor, with expedited tenure considered. Subfield specialization open. Record of experience in departmental and/or university governance will receive special consideration.

Responsibilities of the chair will include providing academic leadership for the Department, representing the Department within the University and broader communities, managing resources and staff, facilitating planning and assessment, and teaching and mentoring students.

To apply or for additional information visit <http://mtsujobs.mtsu.edu/postings/3834>. All applicants must complete an on-line application. Submission of application letter, curriculum vita, teaching philosophy and research/creative activities statement must be attached via online system. Additionally, applicants must supply contact information (including email) for a minimum of three individuals (in the sections provided) that may be contacted at any point during the search for letters of recommendation and references. Applicants may submit unofficial transcripts, published articles, or text that display their successful professional activity. Begin review date is November 7, 2016. MTSU is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that values diversity in all its forms. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2116

Ohio State University

Rank: Mershon Center for International Security Studies Director/Academic Department Professor

Units: Mershon Center for International Security Studies/Academic Department

Position: Director (50%) and Professor (50%)

Rank: Professor

Description:

The Ohio State University seeks a director for the Mershon Center for International Security Studies. The Center is the intellectual center on campus for the study of national and international security in a global context. It brings together top faculty from across campus and beyond to promote multi-disciplinary collaboration, high quality scholarship, and public outreach that addresses the questions central to security studies, broadly defined. Ohio State's Office of International Affairs and the College of Arts and Sciences sponsor this position jointly. The director will be expected to pursue an active research agenda and to carry a half-time teaching load in his or her department.

Qualifications:

The Mershon Director must hold a PhD or equivalent degree and have a record of successful publication and teaching that justifies appointment at the rank of full professor. Experiences in governmental, inter-governmental, and/or non-governmental institutions and agencies dealing with security issues are desirable, as is significant experience of international engagement and collaboration generally. Applicants should have a track record of academic leadership including grant seeking and institution building. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8055>. All applicants should submit a curriculum vitae and a cover letter briefly (1-2 pages) explaining why they are interested in the position and describing their vision of international security studies going forward. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled but those received by October 24, 2016, will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Richard Herrmann at Herrmann.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2094

University of Georgia

Rank: Dean of the School of Public and International Affairs

The University of Georgia (UGA) invites applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA).

The School of Public and International Affairs, which was established in 2001, is now ranked by U.S. News & World Report as the nation's fourth best public affairs graduate school and the nation's second best among public universities.

Led by a group of over 50 talented faculty members, SPIA is home to the Departments of International Affairs, Political Science, and Public Administration and Policy. The School currently enrolls more than 1,600 undergraduate students and over 300 students who are pursuing master's and doctoral degrees. SPIA is honored to call four Rhodes scholars, two Marshall scholars, three Carnegie Junior Fellows, and three Truman scholars graduates of its programs. Departmental faculty and students have continued to distinguish themselves with honors and awards. Teaching, research and service are part of the highly valued mission in SPIA. For more information, please see: <http://spia.uga.edu/>.

The University of Georgia, a land-grant and sea-grant university with statewide commitments and responsibilities, is the state's oldest, most comprehensive, and most diversified institution of higher education. UGA was founded in 1785 by the Georgia General Assembly as the first state-chartered University in the country and is consistently ranked among the top 25 public universities in U.S. News & World Report. The University's main campus is located in Athens, approximately 65 miles northeast of Atlanta, with extended campuses in Griffin, Gwinnett, and Tifton.

UGA employs approximately 1,700 full-time faculty and more than 7,600 full-time staff. The University's enrollment exceeds 36,000 students including over 27,500 undergraduates and over 8,500 graduate and professional students. Academic programs reside in 17 schools and colleges, as well as a medical partnership with Augusta University housed on the UGA Health Sciences Campus in Athens. Additional information about the University of Georgia is available at: <http://www.uga.edu/>.

The Dean will provide energetic and visionary leadership, as well as principled administrative guidance and advocacy for the mission of the School in teaching, research, and public service. The Dean serves as the chief academic and administrative officer of the School, reporting to the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost. The Dean's duties include overall responsibility for leadership of the School; strategic planning and analysis of School operations; research productivity with an emphasis on increasing external funding; curriculum development for departments, centers and programs in the School; budget development; fundraising; faculty recruitment; and liaison with department heads, center directors, program directors and School staff.

Candidates should have a terminal degree such as a Ph.D. (alternate terminal degrees will be accepted) in International Affairs, Political Science, Public Administration and Policy, Economics, Law, or a related field, a distinguished record of scholarship, and qualify for tenure at the full professor level. A minimum of two years of experience in a discipline related to public and international affairs is required. The successful candidate should have a demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching and research, be able to manage and advocate for a diverse college with multiple departments and centers, be an effective internal manager with good budgetary skills and the ability to work in a collaborative and collegial manner with a diverse faculty and staff, encourage externally supported scholarship and student funding, and have the ability to be a successful fundraiser with foundations and individual donors.

Applicant screening will begin immediately. Candidates are encouraged to submit their materials by Sunday, November 27, 2016; however, screening will continue until the position is filled. The application packet should include a cover letter detailing how the applicant's credentials and experience meet the needs, responsibilities, and qualifications stated above; a current curriculum vita; and contact information for three references (who will not be contacted without further correspondence with the applicant).

All applicants must apply online at FacultyJobs@UGA. Please see the job posting at: <http://facultyjobs.uga.edu/postings/1165>

Nominations, questions and/or other inquiries should be directed to Rebecca Rykard, Primary Consultant with the UGA Search Group, at rrykard@uga.edu or 706-542-5769.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. As such, the University of Georgia is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community. We not only strongly encourage women, minorities and other diverse candidates to consider applying for this position, but we also maintain that all candidates should share our commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1955

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

New York University

Rank: Clinical Faculty Position in Public Service Communications

Subfield(s): Administration, American Government and Politics, Non-Academic

Specializations: Political Communication, Health Care, Public Opinion

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service at New York University (NYU Wagner) invites applicants for a clinical faculty member with expertise in public policy communications in a public service environment, including government agencies, nonprofit organizations, and/or healthcare or hospital organizations. In addition to teaching, successful candidates will be responsible for directing a cohort of students in NYU Wagner's new Master of Science in Public Policy program with the goal of developing and creating a cohesive academic and co-curricular student experience.

Applicants must hold a graduate degree (PhD preferred) and have at least 10 years of professional experience. We are particularly interested in applicants with experience teaching strategic and persuasive oral and written communications skills courses, as well as critical analysis and research, in a graduate public administration or public health program. Successful candidates will have experience teaching courses focused on effectively communicating and influencing a position or change in public policy or public opinion.

The successful candidate will join NYU Wagner's full-time faculty and should have a strong interest in interacting with faculty, staff, and students in a multi-disciplinary professional school of public service.

Applications received by December 1, 2017 will receive full consideration and the successful candidate will begin June 1, 2017. The position is open until filled. Please send a cover letter, resume/curriculum vitae, research publications (if available), teaching evaluations (if available), and contact information for at least three professional references via the URL below.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/39006>

NYU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and is strongly committed to diversity within its community.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2306

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Marvin Hoffenberg Endowed Chair in American Politics and Public Policy

The UCLA Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding scholars in the study of American Politics for a tenured full professor position as the Marvin Hoffenberg Chair in American Politics and Public Policy. We encourage candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence. All applicants must hold a PhD. Salary commensurate with education and experience.

Applicants are to apply for this position online at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply>. Job tracking number is JPF02581. The position will remain open until filled, but to ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 30, 2016. Rank and salary will be determined by the candidate's qualifications and professional experience. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 2017.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2305

Skidmore College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Political Science Department at Skidmore College invites applications for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in American Government with a specialization in the presidency and Congress. The appointment will begin in fall 2017. We are particularly interested in candidates from underrepresented backgrounds who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of our academic community. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses on American political institutions that will include The United States Presidency, The Politics of Congress, and Introduction to American Government. The successful candidate will also have the option to teach special topics courses that coincide with teaching or research interests. The teaching load is three courses per semester. The Department is committed to limiting as much as possible the course preparations of new faculty.

The application deadline is January 17, 2017. Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, sample syllabi, evaluations of undergraduate teaching or other evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a teaching philosophy. A Ph.D. in Political Science at time of appointment is strongly preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

Skidmore is a liberal arts institution of approximately 2,400 students, with 21% students of color, and 248 full-time faculty members, located in upstate New York. Enthusiasm for advising, teaching, and mentoring a diverse population of students is essential.

Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

To learn more about and apply for this position please visit us online at:

https://careers.skidmore.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=57622

Skidmore College is committed to being an inclusive campus community and, as an Equal Opportunity Employer, does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, gender, age, national or ethnic origin, physical or mental disability, military or veteran status, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, predisposition or carrier status, domestic violence victim status, familial status, dating violence, or stalking, or any other category protected by applicable federal, state or local laws.

Employment at Skidmore College is contingent upon an acceptable background check result.

CREATIVE THOUGHT MATTERS.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2287

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: American Politics/Public Policy

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at the University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications invites applications for a full-time, open rank tenure-track position beginning in August of 2017 in the Political Science Program. UTD is a fast-growing, suburban research university with undergraduate, Master's, and PhD programs in Political Science. We currently have approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 24th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity." Faculty typically teach two courses per semester, and opportunities for sabbatical become available after a successful third-year review.

Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and teaching excellence. Scholarly topics of interest include American politics or public policy. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory state politics course, as well as more specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses. Possible sub-specializations include: Federalism (including policy diffusion), direct democracy, institutions, political communication, political parties, interest groups, social/health policy, or elections. The ability to teach graduate level statistics or research design is also desirable. PhD by time of employment is expected.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through January 15, 2017. Position starts in August 2017. If you have questions, please contact Dr. Robert Lowry (robert.lowry@utdallas.edu) To apply, go here: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/6857>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/17/2017

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2292

Schreiner University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Schreiner University welcomes applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a tenure-track faculty position beginning August 2017. The successful candidate will teach the basic introduction to American Politics course and a variety of courses in American politics (e.g. Presidency, Congress, Legislative Process, Public Policy, Public Administration, Media and Politics, Judicial process, etc.). Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience in working with pre-law majors. The successful candidate will also have an active research agenda (area of specialization is open). Responsibilities include teaching, advising, and participation in curricular development and assessment. The successful candidate will be expected to participate fully in departmental duties, committee service, campus activities, and engage in scholarship and/or creative activities aligned with institutional goals. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester.

Qualifications: An earned doctorate in political science, ABD with completion no later than August 2017. Teaching experience at the collegiate level is preferred.

Schreiner University is a small liberal arts college in the Texas Hill Country (approximately 1 hour from San Antonio and 2 hours from Austin). Schreiner University is a Hispanic-serving institution, an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is strongly and actively committed to diversity within its community.

The employment application can be found at the link below. Candidates should include in their application a cover letter, CV, list of three references, and course evaluations if available.

<http://www.schreiner.edu/about/hr/application/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2278

Birmingham-Southern College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Gender Politics & Policy

Birmingham-Southern College seeks candidates with demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduate courses for two tenure-track positions beginning August 2017. Broadly-trained candidates with strong quantitative methodological and/or GIS skills are preferred. Subfield and regional specialization are open, as are areas of scholarly focus. Passion to teach at least three of the following courses is required: American Government/Politics, Public Policy, Statistics, Research Methodology, Women in Politics, Comparative or American Political Behavior, and/or Introduction to Global and Comparative Studies.

The teaching load is 3-1-3 including an interim term in January. During January, professors offer unique, innovative, experiential, and/or travel courses.

Applicants should hold a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field by August 2017. In addition to service to the College and dedication to sustaining and enhancing a rigorous political science curriculum, preferred candidates will be able to contribute to at least two additional established and/or emerging programs: Global and Comparative Studies, Urban Environmental Studies, Human Rights and Conflict Studies, Public Health, Poverty Studies, Creative and Applied Computing, Gender and Women Studies, and Media and Film Studies.

Birmingham-Southern College (BSC) is a selective residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 1,300 undergraduate students. BSC is included in Pope's Colleges that Change Lives and is a sheltering institution for Phi Beta Kappa. The College's curriculum is based on close faculty-student interaction in teaching, advising, and research. For more on the College's faculty, students, educational mission, and national reputation, visit www.bsc.edu.

Birmingham-Southern College is located just minutes from downtown Birmingham, the largest city in Alabama and a leading hub for banking and medical research in the Southeast. There are six higher education institutions; a symphony; a ballet; the largest art museum in the Southeast; and numerous opportunities for outdoor adventure and recreational activities.

Review of applicants will begin immediately. Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, copies of graduate transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Email applications are preferred at pssearch@bsc.edu.

BSC is an equal opportunity employer and is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their teaching, research, and/or service to the diversity and excellence of Birmingham-Southern College. BSC complies with the Alabama Child Protection Act and E-Verify EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2263

University of Maine

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellow in Leadership Studies

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Leadership Studies, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Conflict Processes

The William S. Cohen Institute for Leadership & Public Service at the University of Maine is seeking qualified candidates to fill a full-time, academic year post-doctoral fellow position in Leadership Studies, for an eighteen-month appointment from January 1, 2017 thru May 31, 2018. Typical hiring range for this position is $37,000 to $40,000, commensurate with experience.

Responsibilities and Duties: The primary duty of this position is teaching, with secondary responsibilities of research and service. The teaching load is 3/3, with a mix of introductory and upper level courses at the undergraduate level in UMaine's interdisciplinary Leadership Studies Minor. The minor consists of three core courses—Foundations of Leadership, Leadership Ethics, and Advanced Leadership Theory and Practice—as well as special topics courses, electives, and an internship/practicum course. Supervise internships, independent studies, and undergraduate theses. Advise students on their course of study within the minor and aid them in the registration process, which includes maintaining regular office hours. Maintain an active research program. Perform appropriate service, which includes but is not limited to, active participation in program development in Leadership Studies and the Cohen Institute, and representing these units in interactions with the larger University and community.

Qualifications: We prefer candidates with an earned doctorate in leadership studies, organizational leadership, organizational psychology, organizational behavior, political science, or a related field. Advanced ABD candidates may be considered for the position. We are particularly interested in candidates with a track record of teaching and research in leadership studies from an interdisciplinary, liberal arts perspective, as well as experience in active learning pedagogies, service learning, and community engagement. Additional requirements include record of or demonstrated potential for success in university-level teaching, assisting with program development, and advising and supervising student internships.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of interest in the position, a current C.V., three letters of reference, at least one sample of research related to leadership studies, copies of graduate school transcript(s), and available teaching evaluations and course syllabi. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit application materials electronically to coheninstitute@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Richard Powell, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Cohen Institute: rpowell@maine.edu, 207-581-1872. Additional details about the Cohen Institute and the Leadership Studies Minor can be found at umaine.edu/cohen.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Winter 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2234

Farmingdale State College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science

Farmingdale State College - Assistant Professor - Political Science

Farmingdale State College, a campus of the State University of New York, is a college of applied science and technology with an enrollment of more than 9,000 students. As the largest of SUNY's colleges of technology, Farmingdale equips students with the resources and critical thinking skills sought by today's emerging industries through its Schools of Business, Engineering Technology, Health Sciences, and Liberal Arts & Sciences. Farmingdale offers 38 undergraduate degree programs and will offer its first Masters program in the Fall 2017 semester. The college is a pioneer in environmental sustainability and alternative energy, and boasts a highly successful NCAA Division III athletics program.

According to the 2016 U.S. News & World Report, Farmingdale State College is ranked #9 among public colleges in the north and #28 among all colleges in the region. Farmingdale has been ranked as one of the top colleges in return on investment and as one of the safest colleges in the nation according to multiple rankings. The campus is located on 380 lush acres in the heart of Long Island, approximately 45 minutes by rail or automobile from New York City.

The Department of History, Politics and Geography at Farmingdale State College of the State University of New York invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in Political Science commencing Fall 2017. The search committee is interested in candidates whose areas of specialization are American national government, state and local government, and public policy and administration. The successful applicant is expected to offer and develop introductory and upper-level courses in his or her areas of expertise, to provide appropriate levels of service to the department, division and college, and to engage in research leading to scholarly, peer-reviewed publications.

All faculty members at Farmingdale State College have three workload components: teaching, research and scholarly activity, and service. Service includes advising students as well as serving on departmental and college-wide committees. The successful candidate will demonstrate an interest and high level of competence in teaching. Candidates should have a research agenda that complements their area of academic specialty and has the potential for peer-reviewed publications and presentations, both of which are necessary for promotion and tenure at Farmingdale State College.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Political Science or related field (by May, 2017); Specialization in American national government, state and local government, and public policy and administration; proficiency in statistical and spatial data analysis; college teaching experience.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Demonstrated record of scholarship in advertised fields

- This is a full-time, 10 month faculty position.
- POSITION AVAILABLE: September 1, 2017
- CLOSING DATE FOR RECEIPT OF APPLICATIONS: December 1, 2016
- Salary $65,000 and may increase commensurate with experience
- The State University of New York offers excellent fringe benefits including health insurance options and retirement plans

VISA SPONSORSHIP IS NOT AVAILABLE FOR THIS POSITION

The Consumer Information web page can be viewed at the following link - <http://www.farmingdale.edu/consumer-information>

This page describes various services, information and statistics on many different aspects of the College's operations.

State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

A letter of application with curriculum vitae should be submitted online at: www.farmingdale.edu

Candidates invited for interviews will be asked to make a presentation on their research as well as a separate teaching demonstration.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/76tvrxrft5>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2228

Merrimack College

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Government/American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Assistant Professor, American Government/American Politics

Merrimack College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The successful applicant will teach introductory American Politics courses and courses for our pre-law minor including American Constitutional Law and Civil Liberties and Civil Rights. Candidates who can teach courses in Political Theory will receive special consideration. The full teaching load is 3-3. A demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, and service is essential. All specialized subfields within American Politics/American Government will be considered. Successful candidates will have the opportunity to develop and teach courses in the Master of Public Affairs Program. Ph.D. is required by time of appointment.

Merrimack College is a selective Catholic college in the Augustinian tradition, offering programs in the liberal arts, business, the sciences, and engineering for its 3000+ students. The college is located in the Merrimack Valley, approximately 25 miles north of Boston in North Andover, Massachusetts.

Complete applications should include a letter of interest, CV, sample of scholarship, teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation. A digital copy of the application materials should be sent to hrjobs@merrimack.edu. Review of applications will begin on November 15th, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled.

Merrimack College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2220

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant Professor, U.S. National and Subnational Institutions

American Politics: U.S. National and Subnational Institutions

Department of Political Science

College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences

Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of U.S. governing institutions. We are interested in applicants who can demonstrate research and teaching expertise in the structures and processes of governance at the national and subnational levels in the United States. Specialists in the complex interactions among executive, legislative, and/or judicial branches at any level of government; across multiple levels; among governmental actors, interest groups, political parties, and the mass media; or in American political development will be given priority. Emphases on the dynamics of gender, race, class, or religion are of particular interest. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. This position will begin August 10, 2017.

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2017. Applicants must demonstrate a strong interest in conducting research and teaching courses on governing institutions and processes in the U.S. Successful candidates will have documented effectiveness in both undergraduate and graduate teaching in order to meet the Political Science department's key needs in its B.A. and M.A. programs and those of doctoral students in cognate programs. Potential for excellence in research and teaching is required.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to broadly trained candidates who have grounding and skills in a variety of theoretical, analytical, and methodological approaches to social science research, and who can work with undergraduate and graduate students.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu, posting TR0160127, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a recent writing sample, and teaching evaluations, along with the names and contact information of three academic references. Screening of applications will begin on November 15, 2016. All inquiries can be sent to: Dr. Wayne Moore (wmoore@vt.edu), chair, U.S. Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Major Williams Hall, Room 531 (0130), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should also contact the search committee chair.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, or veteran status; or otherwise discriminate against employees or applicants who inquire about, discuss, or disclose their compensation or the compensation of other employees, or applicants; or any other basis protected by law. For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Accessibility at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2214

Ramapo College of New Jersey

Rank: Temporary Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor of Political Science

ONE YEAR TEMPORARY POSITION – ACADEMIC YEAR 2017-2018

Ramapo College of New Jersey invites applications for a temporary full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science with a specialization in American public policy. Areas of policy research and methodology are open. Primary teaching responsibilities include policy courses within the political science major and public policy minor as well as introductory classes in American politics or political theory. The successful candidate will also help develop policy-related internships. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D., in Political Science or related discipline by the time of appointment.

Applications will be accepted starting on September 26, 2016 by logging on to <http://www.ramapojobs.com>. Attach resume, cover letter, statement of teaching philosophy, research interests, a writing sample and a list of three references. All applications must be completed online. Hard copies of resumes and/or applications will not be accepted. Review of applications will begin after November 1 and will continue until the position is filled. To request accommodations, call (201) 684-7761.

Ramapo College of New Jersey is located in the beautiful foothills of the Ramapo Mountains approximately 25 miles northwest of New York City. Accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, Ramapo College is a comprehensive institution of higher education dedicated to the promotion of teaching and learning within strong liberal arts based curriculum, thus earning the designation "New Jersey's Public Liberal Arts College." Its curricular emphasis includes the liberal arts and sciences, social sciences, fine and performing arts, and the professional programs within a residential and sustainable living and learning environment. Organized into thematic learning communities, Ramapo College provides academic excellence through its interdisciplinary curriculum, international education, intercultural understanding and experiential learning opportunities.

RAMAPO COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY
505 Ramapo Valley Road
Mahwah, NJ 07430

"New Jersey's Public Liberal Arts College"
Ramapo College is a member of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC), a national alliance of leading liberal arts colleges in the public sector.

EEO/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/7/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2203

American Association for the Advancement of Science

Rank: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellows

Call for Applications: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships
The American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) is pleased to announce a call for doctoral level social scientists to apply for the 2017-18 Science & Technology Policy Fellowships (STPF).

Fellows serve yearlong assignments in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the federal government in Washington, DC. In this unique opportunity, fellows gain hands-on policy experience, help develop and execute solutions to address societal challenges, and join a strong and influential network of 3,000+ fellows.

Apply today! <http://www.stpf-aaas.org/>.

QUALIFICATIONS

-Doctoral-level degree (PhD, MD, DVM, DSc, etc.) in any scientific, social science, or engineering discipline, OR a Master's in engineering with three years of engineering related professional experience.

-U.S. citizenship.

STIPEND & BENEFITS

- $75,000–100,000.
- Health insurance, travel/training and relocation allowances.

ONLINE APPLICATIONS DUE: November 1, 2016

FELLOWSHIP YEAR: September 1, 2017 – August 31, 2018

For more information and to apply: <http://go.stpf-aaas.org/blue.html>

Questions? Email fellowships@aaas.org or call 202-326-6700

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2016

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1895

Southern Virginia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Southern Virginia University invites applications for a full-time, continuing-status track position in politics, in the area of international relations or American politics, to begin August 2017. The appointment will be at the assistant professor or associate professor rank. Southern Virginia University is an equal opportunity employer, and strongly encourages women, members of U.S. racial and ethnic minority groups, veterans, and candidates with disabilities to apply.

Ph.D. in political science is required. ABD applicants will be considered if there is convincing evidence that all Ph.D. requirements will be completed by August 2017.

Southern Virginia seeks faculty who can teach within a rigorous curriculum in the liberal arts and sciences. Prior teaching experience and a commitment to student learning are strong positives. Southern Virginia emphasizes excellence in teaching, but the candidate should also be committed to scholarly research. Additional responsibilities include typical committee work and academic advising.

A specialization in either American politics or international relations is required. The standard teaching load is 4/4, with typically 2 or 3 preparations per semester, including introductory courses. Upper-division electives will be determined by the specialization and interests of the instructor.

Send a cover letter, CV, at least two letters of reference, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a copy of graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial application) to provost@svu.edu

We prefer electronic applications, but will also accept paper applications mailed to:

Politics Search Committee
Office of the Provost
Southern Virginia University
One University Hill Drive
Buena Vista, VA 24416

The cover letter should discuss the applicant's familiarity with and support for Southern Virginia University's mission statement (see <http://svu.edu/about/history/>). Applicants are not required to be members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. A review of applications begins Dec. 1 and will continue until the position is filled. A writing sample will be requested at the interview stage.

Southern Virginia University is a liberal arts college with over 800 students, approximately 90 percent of whom are members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Located in the Shenandoah Valley, Southern Virginia is one hour from Roanoke, 75 minutes from Charlottesville, and three hours from Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2181

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: American Politics/Comparative Politics/International Relations Faculty Position

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Los Angeles invites applications for an open-field faculty position in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. We are particularly interested in applicants who have recently received or will soon be candidates for tenure. Rank will be determined by the candidate's qualifications and professional experience, but all applicants must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field, or complete their Ph.D. prior to the appointment. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 2017.

We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, and service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to excellence and diversity. Applications for this position should be made online at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF02585>. The job tracking number is JPF02585. The position will remain open until filled, but to ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 9, 2016. Applications should include a current C.V., a statement of research, teaching interests, a statement of contributions to diversity, and a writing sample. Junior applicants should also include transcripts and three letters of recommendation. Senior candidates need only provide names of three possible references.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2190

Illinois College

Rank: Tenure-Track position in American Politics

Specializations: Political Behavior, Congress, American Politics

Illinois College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics beginning in the Fall of 2017. We seek applicants who are able to offer a variety of courses on American political institutions and political behavior. The ability to teach an introductory methodology course would be helpful, as would an interest in media/social media and politics. We seek a candidate who values the liberal arts and is able to demonstrate excellence in teaching and research. Teaching load is three courses per semester. Completed Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

Illinois College is a residential, private liberal arts college located in historic Jacksonville, Illinois, 70 miles northeast of Saint Louis, Missouri, and 30 miles west of Springfield, the Illinois state capital. True to its founding vision in 1829, Illinois College is a community committed to the highest standards of scholarship and integrity in the liberal arts. Illinois College promotes academic freedom, equality of opportunity, and human dignity through an increasingly diverse student population, currently comprised of 26 percent underrepresented students. The College develops in its students qualities of mind and character needed for fulfilling lives of leadership and service, fostering academic excellence rooted in opportunities for experiential learning while preparing students for lifelong success.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness (syllabi, course evaluations [if available], and a statement of teaching philosophy that includes discussion of teaching to a diverse student body), a statement of research plans, undergraduate and graduate transcripts, and three letters of reference to the Office of Academic Affairs, Attn: Winston Wells, Chair of the Search Committee, Illinois College, 1101 W. College Ave, Jacksonville, IL 62650. Electronic submissions are encouraged; please send materials in PDF format to deansearch@mail.ic.edu.

Review of applications begins November 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Illinois College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from underrepresented minorities and women.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2169

Colorado Mesa University

Rank: Visiting Professor

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus in late March-to mid- April 2018, teach a one credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 10, 2017 to: Professor Steven C. Schulte, Department of History, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to Schulte@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1418.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 2/10/2017

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 2168

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: FRGV0504: Lecturer in Political Science/College of Liberal Arts (American and Texas Government & Politics)

University of Texas Rio Grande Valley
FRGV0504

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley invites applications for Full-Time Lecturers in American Government & Politics and/or Texas Government & Politics to begin Fall 2017. The successful candidates will teach multiple sections of U.S. Government & Politics and/or Texas Government & Politics, which are mandated by the State of Texas.

For a complete position description, please visit: <https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/12230>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/31/2017

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2165

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning approximately June 26, 2017. Candidates should have teaching and research interests in any area of American politics, as well as expertise in political theory. Responsibilities include teaching core courses on American government and national security, introductory political theory, and upper division American government courses; maintaining a strong record of teaching and research; academic advising; and service on department and Academy committees. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date. The position is open to U.S. citizens.

The United States Air Force Academy (USAFA), located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution that awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead in the United States Air Force in service to our nation. Faculty applications are invited from candidates who can contribute to this mission by interacting with cadets, both in and out of the classroom, as instructors and mentors. The student body consists of approximately 4,000 men and women representing every state and several foreign countries. The Academy faculty is an integrated group of military and civilian educators. The curriculum includes core academic and professional courses, and 27 disciplinary and interdisciplinary majors. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences.

The U.S. Air Force Academy is an Equal Opportunity Employer and provides reasonable accommodation to qualified applicants with disabilities. The Air Force believes that diversity is essential to accomplishing its mission. The Air Force Academy highly values individuals who have a demonstrated ability to work successfully with and help develop individuals of diverse backgrounds and perspectives. For the Air Force, diversity encompasses: personal life experiences, geographic background, socioeconomic background, cultural knowledge, educational background, work background, language abilities, physical abilities, philosophical/spiritual perspectives, age, race, ethnicity, and gender.

For detailed application requirements and to apply, go to www.usajobs.gov. Type in "USAF Academy" under Location, and "professor" under Key Words. Scroll down until you locate this position. Applications must be received by November 14, 2016.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/14/2016

Date Posted: 9/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2141

University of Colorado Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Political Thought

Specializations: American Politics, Political Thought: Historical, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

The Political Science Department at the University of Colorado, Denver, invites applications for a Political Science specialist to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor, starting August 2017. Applicants should have areas of expertise in the field of American Political Thought, with a critical approach to such issues as: race, gender, class, GLBTQ, disability or age. Applicants focusing either on historical or current perspectives in these fields are encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate will be rostered as a tenure-track assistant professor in either the Political Science Department. This position comes with research, teaching and service expectations. The standard teaching load is 2/2 (four courses an academic year), at both the undergraduate and graduate level.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field from an accredited university; track record of engaging and innovative teaching; record of scholarly achievement or promise of future scholarly achievement; areas of expertise in the field of American Political Thought, with a critical approach to such issues as: race, gender, class, GLBTQ, disability or age.

GENERAL QUALITIES DESIRED: The Political Science Department is interested in candidates who can create innovative American studies courses. The Department values candidates with a record of, or interest in, community engagement.

SALARY AND BENEFITS: Salary is commensurate with skills and experience. The University of Colorado offers a full benefits package. Information on University benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at <https://www.cu.edu/employee-services>.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS Applicants should submit an electronic application packet by visiting the links referenced below. The packet should contain the following materials:

- A Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vita
- Graduate Transcript
- Research Writing Sample
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including a syllabus for a proposed American Political Thought course, teaching evaluations, and a statement of teaching philosophy
- Applicants should also have three letters of reference mailed to the same address.

To apply for this position go to <http://www.cu.edu/cu-careers>. Reference job posting 06808.

The direct link for this job position is: https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=06808&lang=en&sns_id=mailto#.V-G6Kvfp2Ao.mailto

Formal review of applications will begin December 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Colorado Denver is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To assist in achieving that goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees.

The University of Colorado Denver is committed to recruiting and supporting a diverse student body, faculty and administrative staff. The university strives to promote a culture of inclusiveness, respect, communication and understanding. We encourage applications from women, ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities and all veterans. The University of Colorado Denver is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment.

For more information, contact Search Committee Chair, Professor Christoph Stefes, at christoph.stefes@ucdenver.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2149

Arizona State University, West Campus

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The School of Social & Behavioral Sciences seeks to hire a tenure-track assistant professor in the area of American politics. The successful candidate will be expected to develop a program of research with national and international reputation in American politics that engages or has a bearing on issues of socio-economic justice or human rights. The successful candidate's research should focus on the way the study of American politics can shed light on some dimension of socio-economic inequality in the United States. For example, research can focus on the way political institutions or processes shape economic policy or economic outcomes; issues related to the representation of ethnic or racial minorities, of gender, or of sexual orientation; the politics of immigration and border control; or the politics of incarceration and prison reform. The social science program in the School of Social and Behavioral Sciences is characterized by interdisciplinarity, methodological pluralism, and a social justice orientation. Because of our unique characteristics and because of our interdisciplinary configuration, our faculty often teach courses that cut across disciplinary boundaries and courses in the Social Justice and Human Rights masters program. The successful candidate will demonstrate deep commitment to student learning and engagement and an ability and willingness to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in American politics, Social Justice and Human Rights, Methods, and related subjects. The successful candidate will conduct and publish original research, conduct service for the school, the profession, and the community, and demonstrate potential for leadership in the profession. We encourage our faculty to seek external funding where available and appropriate and would value experience with or ability to seek such funding.

Required Qualifications: a Ph.D. in political science by time of appointment; evidence of an ongoing research program on the themes outlined above and a level of publication consistent with experience; and evidence of successful college/university teachings.

Desired Qualifications: An interest and ability to teach quantitative or qualitative methods courses; an ability to seek external funding where available and appropriate.

Application procedure: Send the following items electronically to Jamie.Howell@asu.edu 1) a letter of application, 2) a current curriculum vitae, 3) three samples of scholarly work and 4) the names and contact information for three references (references will not be contacted without candidate notification). Please reference job # 11693 with your application materials. Application deadline: November 7, 2016; if not filled, every two weeks thereafter until the search is closed.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. See <https://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html> and the complete non-discrimination statement at: <https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/7/2016

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2128

Norwich University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

The Department of History and Political Science at Norwich University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall 2017 semester. The successful candidate will teach and do research in the fields of American politics and public policy and will teach undergraduate courses in Intro to Public Policy, the survey course in American Politics, the U.S. Presidency, Legislative Process, State and Local Politics, Research Methods (with emphasis on quantitative methods), American Citizenship, and a Capstone Senior Seminar in the candidate's field of expertise. The successful candidate will also manage the Political Science Internship Program and facilitate the growth of public policy studies across the university. While a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, Norwich University is committed to junior faculty developing scholarship through a supportive faculty development program.

Qualifications: To be eligible for appointment at the assistant professor rank, candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a Ph.D in a public policy-related field. Highly qualified ABDs may be considered for appointment at the instructor level. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2016 and remain open until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of interest, which includes your preferred substantive American politics and public policy focus, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy): <https://norwich.interviewexchange.com>

Norwich University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to providing a positive education and work environment that recognizes and respects the dignity of all students, faculty and staff. Reasonable accommodations will be made for the known disability of an otherwise qualified applicant. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at nuhr@norwich.edu for assistance.

All candidates must be authorized to work for any U.S. employer. A post offer, pre-employment background check will be required of the successful candidate.

Norwich University offers a comprehensive benefit package that includes medical, dental, vision, group life and long term disability insurance, flexible-spending accounts for health and dependent care, 403(b) retirement plan with employer match, employee assistance program, paid time off including parental leave, and tuition scholarships for eligible employees and their family members.

Norwich University is a diversified academic institution that educates residential students - both military and civilian lifestyles - and working adults across the globe. Norwich offers a broad selection of traditional and distance-learning programs culminating in baccalaureate and master's degrees, and graduate certificates. Founded in 1819 by U.S. Army Capt. Alden Partridge, Norwich is the oldest private military college in the country and the birthplace of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC).

Norwich University takes positive action to insure that all applicants for employment are considered, and employees are treated in compliance with applicable laws and regulations governing non-discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, color, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, genetic information or veteran's status. As an institution of higher education, Norwich is dedicated to learning, emphasizing teamwork, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking and encourages applications from qualified individuals who will help us achieve this guiding value.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2124

California State University, Sacramento

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor - American Identity Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Latino Politics, Asian American Politics

The Government Department at California State University, Sacramento seeks candidates who specialize in American identity politics to fill a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor to begin in Fall 2017. Candidates must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science, Political Sociology, or related field. ABD candidates will be considered; if ABD, candidates will be required to complete the doctoral degree by January 2018. Applicants are expected to have a strong commitment to college teaching and to be able to teach a range of undergraduate and graduate courses in identity politics in the United States, especially courses in race and ethnicity, such as: Latino politics, Native-American/indigenous politics, Asian-American politics, or African-American politics. Furthermore, applicants are expected to have the ability to teach introduction to American government (GOVT 1) and a class on the politics of the underrepresented (GOVT 165). Candidates are required to demonstrate potential for scholarly achievement and to have strong substantive and methodological training, though the position is open with regard to methodological approach. Candidates must have a demonstrated commitment to working with a diverse student body and a diverse community. Furthermore, experience in promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of a diverse student body is preferred, as is experience in working with a diverse community and interest in working with a proposed academic center on race, ethnicity, immigration, and social justice at Sacramento State.

Review of applications will begin October 31, 2016 and the position will remain open until filled. An applicant can find the full vacancy announcement at, and must apply through, the Sacramento State jobs website at <http://www.csus.edu/about/employment>.

Applicants must submit the following: (1) cover letter addressing qualifications; (2) current curriculum vita/resume; (3) names and contact information of 3 references who will speak to the professional qualifications of the applicant; (4) unofficial transcripts of all graduate work (official transcripts required if invited for an interview); (5) writing sample; (6) teaching evaluations and syllabi (if available); (7) statement of teaching philosophy. Applicants are encouraged to include a statement of commitment to and experience working with a diverse student body and community. In addition, applicants should have three letters of recommendation emailed directly by the writer to govt-identity-hire@csus.edu. Inquiries can also be made to govt-identity-hire@csus.edu.

California State University, Sacramento is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and has a strong institutional commitment to the principle of diversity in all areas. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, or disability. Sacramento State hires only those individuals who are lawfully authorized to accept employment in the United States. It is the policy of California State University, Sacramento to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified persons with disabilities who are employees or applicants for employment. If you need a disability related reasonable accommodation as part of the application and/or interviewing process, visit <http://www.csus.edu/hr/departments/equal-opportunity/index.html>. The University is committed to creating an education and working environment free from discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. For more information on mandatory training for new employees, visit <http://www.csus.edu/hr/departments/equal-opportunity/Information%20for%20Job%20Applicants.htm>. Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act and Campus Fire Safety Right-To-know Act Notification. For additional information, visit <http://www.csus.edu/aba/police>. Background Check: A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with California State University, Sacramento. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current California State University, Sacramento employees who apply for the position. Child Abuse and Neglect Report: The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in the California State University Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/31/2016
Date Posted: 9/23/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2114

Gettysburg College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – American Politics

Position Summary:

Gettysburg College invites applications for a one year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2017.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a commitment to teaching in the liberal arts tradition and show potential for scholarly engagement. The Department of Political Science seeks candidates in the subfields of American Politics and American Political Thought. The successful candidate is expected to offer introductory and advanced courses in these two subfields. A Ph.D. in political science or ABD status is required. The teaching load is 3/3.

Application Details:

Applicants should apply online at: <http://gettysburg.peopleadmin.com/postings/1875>. A curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, transcripts, and a separate statement of the applicant's teaching philosophy should be submitted. In addition, applicants should enter the names and email addresses of three professional references. After the applicant completes his/her on-line application, the professional references indicated will be contacted by Gettysburg College via email to submit letters of recommendation electronically. At least one of the letters of recommendation must address the applicant's teaching effectiveness.

Review of applications will begin immediately, and will continue until a successful candidate is found. Application materials must be received by December 15, 2016 for full consideration. Inquiries can be addressed to Dr. Donald Borock at dborock@gettysburg.edu.

Gettysburg College, an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal, state, local laws and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and admission. The College prohibits discrimination and harassment, and provides equal opportunity without regard to race, ethnicity, color, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital/familial status, possession of a General Education Development Certificate (GED) as compared to a high school diploma, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, sex, age, or genetic information in all aspects of employment, educational programs, activities, and admissions. Pursuant to Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972, Gettysburg College prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex (i.e., which includes but is not limited to the prohibition of sexual misconduct and relationship violence, including sexual assault and harassment) in all of its educational programs and activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/15/2016
Date Posted: 9/23/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2113

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration seeks applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 2017. Candidates should have a primary research and teaching interest in American Politics with a principal focus on American political institutions. A Ph.D. degree is required. Candidates with ABD status will be considered but they must possess a Ph.D. degree by the time of appointment. Applicants should demonstrate a strong research capability, a commitment to effective teaching, and a willingness to work with colleagues in professional service responsibilities. The teaching load is four classes per year, a 2-2 load.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 Ph.D. students. The department has strong ties to several research centers within the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information is available on the department at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Brian Shoup, at bds223@msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF #493890) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, and a curriculum vita. In addition, please send three letters of recommendation to Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin October 21, 2016, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/22/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2095

The Heritage Foundation

Rank: Visiting Fellow in American Political Thought

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy

The one-year Visiting Fellow in the Simon Center for Principles and Politics is open to university faculty (on sabbatical, on leave, or retired) and to recent Ph.D.'s. Applicants should demonstrate an ability to relate the foundational principles of American political thought to contemporary issues and debates. The Fellow will conduct research in any of the areas of interest to the center including, but not limited to:

1. The Founding and Founding Principles
2. Constitutional Government and the Administrative State
3. Modern Conservatism and Liberalism

The Fellow will:

- Publish research papers for the Heritage Foundation.
- Publish topical commentary in media outlets.
- Work on his/her academic projects (in previous years, fellows have used their time at Heritage to complete books).
- Organize a conference, funded by Heritage, that brings together leading experts in one's subject area.
- Give public lectures at Heritage.

Requirements:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field.
- Preference will be given to faculty members on sabbatical or on leave, although recent Ph.D.'s will be considered.
- Possess a proven interest in the Simon Center's mission of promoting a proper understanding of America's founding principles and applying them to inform contemporary policy debates.

Location

- The scholar will preferably work at the Heritage Foundation in Washington, D.C. Office space will be provided.

Duration

- The Fellowship will last one year and run from September 2017 to August 2018. The duration and start dates, however, are flexible and will be determined by the successful candidate and the Heritage Foundation.

Compensation

- The Fellow will receive an annualized salary, commensurate with his/her experience. As this is a temporary position, it does not include employee benefits such as health insurance.

Additional Benefits:

- Ongoing research support from Center's staff
- Loan privileges with the Library of Congress

To Apply:

Mail or e-mail the following materials:

- 1.) A short proposal outlining what you would work on during your time at Heritage, including the publications you intend to produce and the theme of the conference you will host.
- 2.) C.V.
- 3.) One academic writing sample and one or two non-academic pieces, preferably published.

Completed applications are being accepted until further notice. Notification will be made when the position is filled. Questions and application materials should be sent to:

Dani Doane
Senior Program Manager
B. Kenneth Simon Center for Principles and Politics
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, D.C. 20002
Email: dani.doane@heritage.org

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2090

Florida State University

Rank: Political Science/African American Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Other, Public Policy

Specializations: African American Politics, Caribbean, Civil Rights & Liberties

Florida State University is embarking upon a Diversity and Inclusion initiative, which can be found online at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity_initiatives. As part of this initiative, the Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci?q=node/1>) and the FSU African American Studies Center (<http://coss.fsu.edu/aas/>) seek applications for a tenure track or tenured faculty member to participate in their programs. The Department has twenty-two tenured or tenure track and two non-tenure track faculty that serve a large undergraduate program, a master degree in applied politics, and a PhD program. African American Studies is an interdisciplinary undergraduate program that offers BA and BS degrees.

The position is open with respect to candidates' specialization, and they may have doctoral degrees in African American Studies, Political Science, or other related disciplines, with evidence of scholarship and teaching with respect to African Americans and the African diaspora. Teaching will include at least one course in the African American Studies core curriculum, a second course at the nexus of race and politics, and other courses in the political science curriculum. The candidate's tenure home will be in Political Science. Candidates should have strengths in quantitative, experimental and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital city, with a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions. Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a writing sample, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. Items (1) through (3) must be submitted electronically; items (4) and (5) may be sent as hard copies or electronically. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Electronic files must be submitted to polisci@fsu.edu, as may questions about the search.

Mailed letters of reference and transcripts may be addressed to Political Science/AAS Search, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer; racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2083

Saint Anselm College

Rank: Endowed Jean Chair of American History and Government

Jean Chair of American History and Government

The History and Politics Departments at Saint Anselm College invite applications for the endowed Jean Chair of American History and Government. The Chair is named in honor of Joseph Jean, a New Hampshire businessman and philanthropist, and alumnus of the College, class of 1953. The committee will consider applications from advanced assistant professors through full professors, granting appointment with tenure to tenured faculty, and appointments on the tenure track to those without tenure.

The appointment will be made in either the History Department or Politics Department depending on the candidate's Ph.D. degree. The committee encourages applications from historians working on U.S. political or constitutional history and from political scientists working on American political development in an area other than political institutions. The committee also prefers scholars who take an interdisciplinary approach to their subject matter or could foster collaboration across these two departments.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach two courses per semester. These will include both existing department course offerings and new courses to be developed for the department in the candidate's area of expertise. Since a 2/2 teaching load constitutes a reduced annual teaching load, the endowed chair must demonstrate correspondingly higher levels of scholarly productivity and leadership in public outreach activities. Other duties include advising, curriculum development, and committee service.

Applicants must submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability and research potential (samples of scholarship, articles or conference papers) and academic transcripts to the attention of Dr. Beth Salerno, History Department Chair, via the college website at www.anselm.edu/hr. Three letters of recommendation are required and should be submitted in PDF format via email to the department faculty assistant, Robin Allard, at rallard@anselm.edu. Inquiries can be made to Dr. Beth Salerno at bsalerno@anselm.edu or 603-641-7049. Review of applications and supporting materials will begin October 30, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Required Skills

Ph.D. and record of excellence in scholarship and teaching required.

Required Experience

Candidates need a minimum of four years full-time teaching experience, and candidates for associate or full professor should be widely recognized for their distinction and professional accomplishment.

Founded in 1889, Saint Anselm College is a Catholic, liberal arts college in the Benedictine tradition. The community includes approximately 2,000 students, 150 full-time faculty members and 380 full-time staff in addition to the monks of Saint Anselm Abbey.

Successful candidates will be able to assist the college to further its strategic goals for institution-wide diversity and inclusiveness.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2071

Brown University

Rank: Racial Inequality Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: United States, African American Politics, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

RACIAL INEQUALITY POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

DESCRIPTION: Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Racial Inequality to be jointly shared by the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs and the Center for the Study of Race & Ethnicity in America. We seek a scholar with interests in racial inequality/structural racism in the post 1970s U.S. in areas such as: urban poverty, social and cultural theories of racism, gender, segregation, housing or welfare.

The successful candidate will teach one course per year in a Watson Institute related program, collaborate on the vision, design and implementation of CSREA programming related to his/her research areas each year on a key topic in contemporary racial inequality studies, and be expected to actively participate in the intellectual life of CSREA (including regular participation in the CSREA research seminar), the Watson Institute and the University as a whole.

QUALIFICATIONS: Scholars with a Ph.D. in Sociology, American Studies, Political Science, History, Social Theory, African-American Studies or a related discipline in the Humanities or Social Sciences will be considered. Dissertation must be signed by August 1, 2017.

INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, writing sample (15-20 pp), a personal statement (1 page) and the names and addresses of three referees through the Interfolio posting: <https://apply.interfolio.com/36251>

The application deadline is November 15th, 2016. Review of applications will begin November 17th, 2016, and final notifications are expected to go out by March, 2017. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective August 1, 2017, and is not renewable.

EEO STATEMENT: Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

For more information, please visit:

<https://www.brown.edu/race> | <http://watson.brown.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2050

Fordham University -- Rose Hill Campus

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Congress, Legislative Studies, Political Parties & Organizations

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University (Rose Hill) invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. Qualified candidates will have a research focus on Congress and legislative politics, and political parties. Candidates should also have related research interests in campaigns and elections from either a behavioral or institutional perspective. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the department's graduate program in Elections and Campaign Management. We seek candidates whose work is theoretically sophisticated and methodologically rigorous. We would especially welcome candidates who have substantive interests in race, ethnicity, sexuality, or gender. We invite candidates with an ability to make a positive contribution to the department's climate fostering inclusiveness and diversity.

Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor Costas Panagopoulos, Search Committee Chair, via Interfolio (<https://secure.interfolio.com/apply/37635>): letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, course syllabi, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of reference. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required. Review of applications will begin on October 15.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition that welcomes applications from all backgrounds. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2044

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor American Politics/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas invites applications from well-qualified individuals for a full-time, nine-month tenure-track position in American Politics. The position will be filled at the assistant professor level, commencing fall 2017. In addition to teaching introductory courses in American Politics and courses in his or her areas of expertise, the successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in public policy. Preferred qualifications include the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in research methods. Other responsibilities include: engaging in research leading to scholarly, peer-reviewed publications; mentoring undergraduate and graduate students; and providing appropriate levels of service at the department, college and university levels. The department offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in Political Science.

For more information go to:

<https://www.higheredjobs.com/institution/details.cfm?JobCode=176345790&Title=Public%20Policy%2F%20American%20Politics%20Assistant%20Professor%20%5B17037%5D&aID=584>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2052

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics (Institutions and Behavior)

Specializations: American Politics, Legislative Studies, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in American Politics to begin July 1, 2017. We are interested in candidates with expertise in legislatures, institutions and behavior.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire.

Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <http://apply.interfolio.com/36525>. Review of applications and nominations will begin September 5, 2016, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/14/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2027

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics (Race, Ethnicity, Migration)

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in American Politics, specializing in the study of race, ethnicity, and migration. The position will begin July 1, 2017.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire.

Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <http://apply.interfolio.com/35941>. Review of applications and nominations will begin September 5, 2016, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Vesla Weaver (vesla.weaver@yale.edu or 203-432-3237), Search Committee Chair, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/14/2016

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2028

Ohio State University

Rank: American Politics and Director of Democracy Studies

Description: The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of associate or full professor. The successful candidate will have a sustained record of high quality scholarship in the quantitative study of mass political behavior, institutions, or policy making processes. The successful candidate will serve as the Director of the emerging Democracy Studies Program, an interdisciplinary community of faculty from the fields of political science, law, public administration, history, philosophy, communications, and others (see <http://u.osu.edu/democracystudies/>). Through high-profile research projects and other collaborative activities, the Program supports thoughtful inquiry into issues relating to the institutions, processes, and norms of a healthy democratic society. The Director will be responsible for leading the Democracy Studies Program and helping to promote its growth. Beyond serving as the Director, the selected candidate will teach courses within the Department of Political Science. This position is partially funded by Ohio State's Discovery Themes Initiative, a significant faculty hiring investment in key thematic areas in which the university can build on its culture of academic collaboration to make a global impact.

Qualifications: Candidates must have a doctoral degree in political science or a related field. Appointment is contingent on the University's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The OSU campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Please submit applications via Academic Jobs Online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7886>. Complete applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement describing experiences and abilities relevant to the Director position. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but those received by October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be made to Professor Kathleen McGraw at mcgraw.36@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2001

Ohio State University

Rank: Race and Gender in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Description:

The department of political science seeks candidates for a tenured or tenure-track position in the study of race and/or gender in politics. We welcome applications from scholars studying comparative politics and international relations, however, we are especially interested in applicants who study race and/or gender as they pertain to politics in the United States. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding.

This position is part of a larger initiative at Ohio State to increase faculty diversity and to promote research and teaching on topics central to race, ethnicity, sex, and gender as well as disparities in modern society linked to these categories. The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences intends to hire at least eight new faculty members under this initiative. The new cluster of faculty will be able to build a network with many committed professors already at home in the College of Arts and Sciences in the Diversity & Identity Studies Collective, the Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and the Department of African American and African Studies. Graduate certificates in this area of inquiry and undergraduate bridge programs are also being built to support this initiative.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have that degree by Autumn 2017. It is possible the successful candidate could have a PhD degree in a cognate field such as sociology or social psychology but a PhD in political science is preferred. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7871>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2000

James Madison University

Rank: Assistant Professor- U.S. Government and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY- {Job link #0407599}- The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in U.S. Government and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2017 semester, pending budgetary approval. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. Areas of specialization should include health policy, economic policy, and/or comparative public policy.

The department seeks candidates with strong teaching and research skills. Review of applications will begin October 6, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {# 0407599}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience. The College of Arts and Letters (CAL) at JMU serves as a cross-disciplinary center of intellectual inquiry and practice on campus. All programs in the college are committed to fostering rigorous, constructive dialogue in classrooms, local communities, and the larger world.

James Madison University is committed to a diverse and inclusive community and to maintaining a work and educational environment that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability, genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1980

Texas Tech University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics--Behavior

Specializations: Political Psychology, Gender Politics & Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Department of Political Science at Texas Tech University is seeking applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017. The department is seeking candidates with research and teaching specialization in American Political Behavior. Candidates who study the political psychology and/or race/ethnicity/gender politics are especially encouraged to apply. We prefer candidates with strong quantitative or formal methods training and the ability to teach graduate methods courses. Evidence of excellence in teaching and research, and a commitment to attracting external funds are also highly valued. Service duties include program-building, as well as commitment to extra-curricular activities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected. The successful candidate will have his/her PhD in Political Science completed by the start of the appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants for the position will start to be reviewed on 10/15/2016. For questions about the position, contact Dr. Dennis Patterson, Chair, Department of Political Science; dennis.patterson@ttu.edu. These items should be submitted at <http://www.texastech.edu/careers/>. The requisition number is 8508BR.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, though their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, protected veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1970

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Garwood Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointment as Garwood Teaching Fellow for the academic year running from September 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018. The Garwood Teaching Fellowship can be for one semester or the academic year. Garwood Fellows teach at least one undergraduate course on statesmanship and presidential leadership in Princeton University's Department of Politics, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Depending on the needs of the University, additional teaching opportunities may be available, again subject to enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

James Madison Program Fellows will spend their Fellowship in residence at Princeton University. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University, and are encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply:

For full consideration, applicants are required to submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. To apply for a Visiting Fellow position please go to requisition 1600685.

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a course proposal and draft syllabus;
- * contact information for two references;
- * a confidential statement that indicates the applicant's salary for the current academic year, what financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide, and what support they are likely to need from the Program.

The deadline for application materials is 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2016 for appointments beginning in September 2017. Awards will be announced in March 2017.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D., Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu / Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1846

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Political Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the year from September 1, 2017 to September 1, 2018 with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on good performance. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence at Princeton University for the duration of the appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates must have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education in the future. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply:

For full consideration, applicants should submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu> by December 1, 2016; however, applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2017. To apply for a Postdoctoral Research Associate position, please go to requisition #1600687.

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.
Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu
Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1847

Princeton University Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar or Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks visiting scholars and/or post-doctoral or more senior research associates for the 2017-2018 academic year. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. Applications are welcome from political scientists and scholars in related social science disciplines at any career stage, but any applicant who has yet to complete the PhD must have turned in a final draft of the dissertation by July 1, 2017.

Each scholar will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Department of Politics, and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. CSDP scholars must be in residence at Princeton during the academic terms, and are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary (those who hold faculty appointments at other academic institutions normally receive one-half their academic-year salaries for the appointment period, but this may vary depending on level of support from the home institution), applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance.

Please note that (only) candidates who currently hold faculty appointments and are applying to visit CSDP for 2017-2018 while on leave from their current institution must apply directly to CSDP at this link: https://csdpapp.princeton.edu/csdp_application.php. All others must apply online at <https://jobs.princeton.edu> -- Requisition # 1600740 and submit a cover letter (optional), CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of two references.

The deadline for receipt of complete applications, including letters of recommendation, is November 30, 2016 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions? Email csdp@princeton.edu or phone Michele Epstein, Assistant Director of CSDP, 609-258-6493.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the university's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1952

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Raymond Dawson Bicentennial Professor of Political Science

American Politics. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for the position of Raymond Dawson Bicentennial Professor of Political Science, effective Fall 2017. We seek an accomplished senior scholar in any area of American politics. Review of applications will begin October 1 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applications from women and minorities are particularly welcome. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer that welcomes all to apply, including protected veterans and individuals with disabilities.

To complete a full application for the position, please follow this link: <http://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/105253>
Please attach your cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a sample of current research on this site.

Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265. The web address is <http://www.unc.edu/depts/polisci>. Informal inquires may be directed to Frank Baumgartner, Chair of the Dawson Search Committee, at Frankb@unc.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1943

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for full-time appointment during the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical and computational research techniques with contemporary social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health, the role of party networks in contemporary American politics, and methods for addressing post-treatment bias in experiments. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by attending seminars, consulting with faculty and students on research, etc. QSS fellows also join a broader community of postdoctoral social science researchers at Dartmouth that includes scholars at the Neukom Institute, the John Sloan Dickey Center, and the Dartmouth Society of Fellows.

The stipend for the QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, there may be an opportunity for the fellow to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend. The fellowship can be extended through the 2018-2019 academic year subject to the approval of Nyhan and the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application Instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests no longer than two pages that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/37062.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1934

Georgetown University

Rank: Multiple positions--African American Studies

Seizing this pivotal moment in Georgetown's history, the Department of African American Studies invites applications for at least four open-rank positions, which have an anticipated start date of August 1, 2017. This first set of hires inaugurates a multi-year hiring initiative and is an integral part of Georgetown University's plan to expand African American Studies, and establish a Research Center for Racial Justice. We seek scholars who have an ambitious research agenda, a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, and an earnest desire to help build the newly formed department and participate in other university service. Currently, our strengths lie in African American studies and its intersections with literary studies, sociology, history, and performance studies. Building upon these fields, we seek cross-disciplinary, multi-disciplinary, and trans-disciplinary scholarship that strengthens African American Studies' capacity in psychology, visual studies, philosophy, political science, economics, women's and gender studies, and law and criminology. More specifically, we seek applicants whose research interests engage with one of the following topics:

- Structural and cultural causes of and solutions to black inequality
- Black cultural productions and responses to legacies and impacts of slavery, Jim Crow segregation, and imperialism in US institutions

- How Black intersectionality informs equality and social justice

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. in African American Studies or related fields by July 1, 2017. Senior candidates with administrative and departmental leadership interests and experience are especially welcomed. All applicants should specify the rank for which they are applying in the letter of interest.

Applicants without tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), three letters of recommendation, and dissertation abstract (if the candidate is ABD).

Applicants with tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), research statement (current and future projects, or career narrative), and names, telephone numbers, and email addresses for three referees.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016 and will continue until the positions are filled.

Applicants without tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36591>

Applicants with tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36594>

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1933

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor American Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics beginning July 2017. A Ph.D is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money

Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 “Best Colleges” in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a “Best in the Midwest” in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 17, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1939

Cornell University

Rank: Distinguished Professorship in American Politics

Cornell University invites applications for a distinguished professorship for a position beginning July 1, 2017. We seek to hire a senior scholar of American politics with a distinguished record of scholarship and teaching. Interested prospective candidates should submit a letter of application and curriculum vitae. Electronic application materials should be sent to: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7740>. Individuals who are interested in learning more or who wish to nominate someone for the position may contact Stacy Kesselring, sk866@cornell.edu. We will begin to review applications starting October 1, 2016, and will continue until the search is completed. We strongly encourage women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

Diversity and Inclusion are a part of Cornell University’s heritage. We are a recognized employer and educator valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans, and Individuals with Disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1924

University of the Incarnate Word

Rank: Assistant Professor in Government and International Relations

Assistant Professor in Government and International Relations (tenure-track, 4-4 load) beginning August 2017.

The successful candidate will have the ability to teach upper division courses in American government, judicial politics and/or public law and a wide range of lower division courses within the field. A strong commitment to undergraduate education is essential.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in American Politics (ABDs considered) with a specialization in judicial politics or public law by July 2017.

The successful candidate will have at least one year of demonstrated university-level teaching experience in the discipline.

Official duties and responsibilities of faculty members at the University of the Incarnate Word include teaching, scholarship, service, and professional activities. In all matters, faculty are expected to maintain the highest standards of professional ethics consistent with the UIW mission.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1920

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of assistant professor. This position is pending final budgetary approval.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda as evidenced by working papers or publications, and be able to teach graduate and undergraduate courses as indicated by research presentations and/or teaching assessments. The Department expects applicants to have strong substantive and methodological training, as demonstrated by completed coursework, but has no preferred methodological approach. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs will be considered but must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the date of appointment.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/36801> and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching/research interest (including a summary of teaching evaluations, if available), and sample publications. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 9, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

The university and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1904

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Law and/or Judicial Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

Political Science: Assistant Professor in the area of public law and/or judicial politics for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor. The position will begin in the 2017-2018 academic year. Searching for a colleague with teaching and research expertise in American politics, constitutional law, civil rights and liberties, and an area of specialty, who will advise students as part of the college-wide pre-law program, and who will develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; contribute to the undergraduate and MA program. The successful candidate will teach an introductory course in American politics and public law/judicial politics as well as other courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels in the area of expertise. Required: PhD by date of appointment in Political Science or a related field.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=3214>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University is committed to equal opportunity, affirmative action, and eliminating discrimination and harassment. Miami University does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, military status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or protected veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, programs or employment practices. Requests for all reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

Miami University's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report with information on campus crime, fires, and safety may be found at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>. Hard copy available upon request. A criminal background check is required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free campuses.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1879

Eastern University-St Davids

Rank: Assistant Professor American Government

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Assistant Professor American Government
Political Science Department
2016-2017 AY Replacement Search

The Department of Political Science at Eastern University, a university of the liberal arts and sciences located in St. Davids Pennsylvania, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in the fall of 2017. We are seeking to fill a position in American Government with preference given to individuals who can contribute to Political Theory. Candidates should desire to participate in the liberal arts core by teaching courses that explore the intersection of faith, reason, and justice. A Ph.D. in hand is preferred but ABD candidates nearing completion are also encouraged to apply. Please note that a J.D. is not sufficient for this appointment.

Eastern University is a Christian university of the arts and sciences that integrates faith, reason and justice for students in its undergraduate, graduate, Seminary, urban, professional and international programs. Applicants should have a religious commitment compatible with its mission and be willing to endorse by signing Eastern University's doctrinal statement. The university complies with federal and state guidelines of nondiscrimination in employment; members of protected classes encouraged to apply.

This description is intended to describe the general level and nature of work performed by the person/people assigned to this position. It is not to be construed as an exhaustive list of duties and responsibilities of the person/people so assigned.

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017. Applicants are requested to send a cover letter including a brief statement of your faith, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations (or portfolio), unofficial copies of graduate transcripts, and three professional letters of recommendation/reference to jobs@eastern.edu or by mail to:

Eastern University
Office of Human Resources
1300 Eagle Rd.
St. Davids, PA 19087-3696

All positions remain open until filled.

Interested candidates participating in the APSA Annual Meeting should contact Dr. Sharon Gramby-Sobukwe to arrange an on-campus visit and interview.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1874

Texas Tech University

Rank: American Politics --Institutions

The Department of Political Science at Texas Tech University is seeking applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017. The department is seeking candidates with research and teaching specialization in American Political Institutions. Candidates who study the executive branch (presidency and/or bureaucracy) are especially encouraged to apply. We prefer candidates with strong quantitative or formal methods training and the ability to teach graduate methods courses. Evidence of excellence in teaching and research, and a commitment to attracting external funds are also highly valued. Service duties include program-building, as well as commitment to extra-curricular activities. Service to the department, college, and the university is expected. The successful candidate will have his/her PhD in Political Science completed by the start of the appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants for the position will start to be reviewed on 10/15/2016. For questions about the position, contact Dr. Dennis Patterson, Chair, Department of Political Science; dennis.patterson@ttu.edu

As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, though their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, protected veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1864

Lafayette College

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

The Department of Government and Law invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in the academic year 2017-2018. The Department will consider candidates with specialties in any subfield of American politics, except public law and public policy. Candidates should be prepared to teach an introductory course in American Politics, courses concerning national political institutions and/or processes, and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. The Department welcomes candidates with additional expertise in the politics of race, ethnicity, and citizenship. Candidates will also be expected to make a contribution to the College's interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda.

Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of each and all of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. Lafayette College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Located within 70 miles of New York and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship.

Applications should include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. Please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or community service might support Lafayette College's commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in the College's diversity statement (<http://www.lafayette.edu/about/diversity-statement/>).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36763> by September 30, 2016. Questions may be directed to Helena Silverstein, Department Head, at silversh@lafayette.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/30/2016

Date Posted: 8/18/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1835

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Kinder Institute Professor of Constitutional Democracy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Job Description

The Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri invites applications for the Kinder Institute (Assistant/Associate/Full) Professor of Constitutional Democracy to begin in the Fall Semester 2017. The position is open rank in Political Science and holds a joint appointment with the Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy.

Started in 2014 and supported by a generous grant from the Kinder Foundation, a family philanthropic foundation established by Rich and Nancy Kinder, the Kinder Institute is an interdisciplinary academic center at the University of Missouri dedicated to promoting excellence in teaching and scholarship on American political thought and history, broadly construed.

The successful candidate will teach four classes per year, maintain an active research and publishing agenda, contribute to undergraduate and graduate education, and participate in the intellectual community and activities of the Kinder Institute.

Qualifications

Applicants must demonstrate a track record of excellence in teaching and publication in a subject area that advances the mission of the Kinder Institute. Special consideration will be given to candidates whose prior work bridges subfields in political science and reflects the potential to teach courses in the area of political institutions and/or political and constitutional development. A Ph.D. in political science is required at the time of the appointment.

Application Materials

Applicants should use the online application system available at <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/index.php>. Apply for Job ID 20828. See here for a direct link to this job:

https://myhr.umsystem.edu/psp/tamext/COLUM/HRMS/c/HRS_HRAM.HRS_CE.GBL?Page=HRS_CE_JOB_DTL&Action=A&SiteId=9&JobOpeningId=20828&PostingSeq=1.

Applicants should include a statement of teaching philosophy, and an outline of a current research agenda in the "attachments" portion of the system. Applicants should merge their CV with a brief cover letter and upload the document in the Resume/CV section of the application. Candidates at the rank of assistant professor should also include three letters of recommendation. Candidates at the rank of associate or full professor should may provide the names and contact information for three references.

All letters of recommendation should be sent to politicalscience@missouri.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2016.

<Other Information>

For more information about the Kinder Institute, including descriptions of all faculty, graduate and undergraduate programs, please visit democracy.missouri.edu.

The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

<Benefit Eligibility>

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>

<Equal Employment Opportunity>

The University of Missouri is an equal access, equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is fully committed to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status. For more information, call the Associate Vice Chancellor of Human Resource Services/Affirmative Action officer at 573-882-4256.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility & ADA Education at 573-882-5835.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1813

Hendrix College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Hendrix College invites applications for a tenure track position for an Assistant Professor of Politics to begin in August 2017. The College seeks to extend its tradition of excellence in teaching and scholarship by attracting faculty who combine mastery of their disciplines with broad intellectual interests and commitment to the aims of a liberal arts college. The successful applicant will teach the basic public policy course; one or two upper level, policy specific courses, and generally contribute to the department's American politics offerings. The successful applicant also will teach a section of Research Methods and participate in the Department's undergraduate research seminar, as well as the college's program in engaged learning. Training that would allow the development of a course in some aspect of political behavior is also a plus. Doctorate is expected by the start date; ABD will be considered.

Applications should include a cover letter addressing the candidate's interest in teaching in a demanding liberal arts environment, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate and undergraduate transcripts, as well as a statement of scholarly interest. In addition, three letters of recommendation should be requested sent via e-mail to facultyrecs@hendrix.edu. Address cover letter to Dr. Kimberly Maslin, Politics/IR Department Chair. Review of materials will begin October 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Electronic submissions are strongly encouraged and can be submitted at <https://goo.gl/PcAgQE>. Hendrix is a distinguished liberal arts college located in Conway, Arkansas, thirty miles from Little Rock at the foothills of the Ozark Mountains. The College, affiliated with the United Methodist Church, has a strong commitment to excellence in teaching liberal arts. Hendrix College strives to maintain an environment free from discrimination and harassment, where employees treat each other with respect, dignity and courtesy. The College adheres to the principle of equal educational and employment opportunity without regard to age, race, color, religion, gender, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, or national origin.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies: Shawn Goicoechea, Assistant Director of Human Resources & Title IX Coordinator 1600 Washington Ave, Conway, AR 72032 501-450-1415 goicoechea@hendrix.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1784

Hope College

Rank: Tenure-Track Appointment in American and Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Hope College political science department invites applications for a tenure-track appointment beginning the 2017-18 academic year. We seek candidates who are equipped to offer courses in one or more of the following areas: American politics and institutions, comparative politics (open regional focus other than Africa), and research methods. The position also includes exciting opportunities to participate in Hope's highly regarded Washington D.C. honors program. Candidates should have a demonstrated ability to combine teaching excellence with genuine scholarly promise, and should be committed to the character and mission of a liberal arts college firmly rooted in the Christian faith. PhDs and ABD candidates who have made substantial progress on the dissertation are encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

As part of the online application found at www.hope.edu/employment/faculty, candidates will upload the following documents: a cover letter including a paragraph clearly addressing the ways in which you will support the mission of Hope College (www.hope.edu/about/mission.html), a curriculum vitae, a description of your current research program, and a statement of your teaching experience and approach to teaching. Additionally, please arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent to jobs@hope.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 15th, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding the position may be directed to David Ryden, department chair, at ryden@hope.edu.

About Hope College

Hope College is a four-year liberal arts college where academic excellence and vibrant Christian faith join together in a supportive and welcoming community. Hope offers an academically rigorous, co-educational and residential education to 3,200 undergraduate students from more than 40 states and 45 countries. Affiliated with the Reformed Church in America since its founding in 1866, Hope College is known for its invitational ecumenical Christian atmosphere, friendly campus community, and well-balanced academic and co-curricular offerings. Hope's beautiful campus is located just steps from award-winning downtown Holland, Michigan and less than seven miles from Lake Michigan.

Hope College is recognized as a national leader in undergraduate research and scholarship and for providing exceptional professional preparation and life-changing educational experiences that equip our students for success after graduation. The college has consistently ranked among the nation's top liberal arts colleges and is featured in the book Colleges That Change Lives.

Hope College is financially sound, with more than 40 consecutive years of balanced budgets, an endowment of approximately $200 million and no deferred maintenance, and over $140 million invested in the construction of new facilities during the past 12 years. The college completed its newest buildings, the Kruizenga Art Museum and the Jack H. Miller Center for Musical Arts, in 2015 and will open the Jim and Martie Bultman Student Center in 2017.

In 2015, Hope College launched its 10-year strategic plan, Hope for the World: 2025, which consists of six goals, focused on: academics; Christian formation; global engagement; community; reputation and influence; and value. Developed by the campus community, the strategic plan supports the college's mission, "to educate students for lives of leadership and service in a global society through academic and co-curricular programs of recognized excellence in the liberal arts and in the context of the historic Christian faith."

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1769

American University

Rank: Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

AY2016-17

School of Public Affairs

American University

American University's School of Public Affairs (SPA) invites applications from accomplished scholars for the position of associate dean for undergraduate education. This position includes a faculty appointment at the rank of (advanced) associate or full professor in the Government Department or the Department of Justice, Law & Criminology beginning June 1, 2017. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring. The position offers the unique professional, research, social, and cultural opportunities of a top-ranked school and university located in Washington, DC. In addition, the associate dean for undergraduate education will play a critical role in formulating school policy and be part of a dynamic leadership team.

The School of Public Affairs offers four undergraduate majors, four undergraduate minors, and three highly selective enrichment programs (SPA Leadership Program, Politics, Policy and Law Scholars, and SPA Honors). SPA has approximately 1300 engaged undergraduate students who are research focused and use DC as their laboratory. The associate dean for undergraduate education will provide leadership in the area of undergraduate education and will be responsible for handling all issues that arise concerning undergraduate students in the school. The associate dean directs the activities of the assistant director of recruitment and retention, four academic advisors, enrichment program directors, and serves as the school's Academic Integrity Officer. Duties will also include teaching one course a year in one of the School's degree programs.

American University is reshaping the composition and experience of its undergraduate student body. The University is committed to diversifying the student body in terms of racial/ethnic diversity, geographic diversity, and diversity of socioeconomic status. American University received a record number of undergraduate applications for Fall 2016, resulting in an admit rate of approximately 25 percent. The number of students with SPA undergraduate majors has increased over the past several years. American University is undertaking a multi-year initiative to reinvent the student experience through reimagining service delivery, a focus on student success, and modernization of the undergraduate curriculum. We are looking for an associate dean who will embrace the opportunity to participate in this initiative and shape the future of SPA's undergraduate programs.

Qualifications

Candidates must possess a distinguished record of scholarship in one of the academic fields encompassed by the school's undergraduate programs and meet American University's standards for appointment with tenure at the associate or full professor level. Preference will be given to candidates who have held leadership positions at the university, school, department or program level and who can also provide evidence of advancing their university's academic standing, scholarship, or research productivity.

Application Process

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2016, and continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/35978>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vita, statement of administrative experience and contact information for three references. Electronic submissions are preferred.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1756

Morehouse College

Rank: Assistant Professor -- Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Morehouse College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates should be trained in the area of American national government, with a specialization in public law, and should be prepared to teach courses in constitutional law, race and law, and civil liberties.

Responsibilities include teaching courses (a 2-2 load), advising, and mentoring students; executing administrative duties related to the pre-law program; developing and maintaining a scholarly research and publication agenda; and service to the department and the College. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources. The start date for the position is August 2017, and possibly January 2017 if a suitable candidate is identified and appointed. Minimum qualifications include a PhD in political science; commitment to excellence in teaching; evidence of a productive research program; and service to the profession and community.

A successful application will consist of the following: a letter of application providing detail on how the candidate meets the qualifications for the position and why they are a good fit for Morehouse College in particular (no more than 2 pages); a current curriculum vitae (no more than 4 pages); a statement of teaching philosophy (no more than 2 pages); research/scholarship agenda (no more than 2 pages); three confidential letters of recommendation. Candidates also have the option of sharing the following: sample syllabi (no more than 2 courses); samples of research (no more than 2 samples); teaching evaluations or summaries of evaluations (no more than 2 courses, but if submitted, only submit full class evaluations and not samples of class evaluations)

All application materials must be submitted online: <https://apply.interfolio.com/36489>

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until September 30th. We will be interviewing at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Service on Friday, September 2nd and Saturday, September 3rd. Applicants who wish to be considered for an APSA interview should send a cover letter and CV, by August 22nd, to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Andrew Douglas (andrew.douglas@morehouse.edu).

Morehouse College is an equal opportunity employer. No employee or applicant will be discriminated against in any condition of employment because of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, veteran status or any other status protected by law.

About Morehouse

Morehouse College is a private historically black liberal arts college for men whose mission is to develop men with disciplined minds to lead lives of leadership and service by emphasizing the intellectual and character development of its students and by assuming a special responsibility for teaching the history and culture of black people. Since the founding of the College in 1867, the faculty, staff, and leadership have worked to inspire, nurture, challenge, support, and engage students with the expressed intent of fomenting a very special kind of development.

Morehouse has a very proud tradition of having developed leaders, with the most notable of course being Martin Luther King, Jr. (class of 1948). Each era has defined the qualities of a Morehouse Man—an expression of the expectations we have of our graduates—a bit differently, but there are some enduring constants. Backed by nearly 150 years of history, we see our work as helping to shape men of acuity, integrity and agency; men who will commit to brotherhood, standing together with their peers to cheer, challenge and support each other; and men who will strive to lead consequential lives, to not just do well for themselves, but to do good in the world.

Our strong legacy is continued now as we claim a number of successes. Morehouse is the number one baccalaureate origin institution for black male doctorate recipients in science and engineering, life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences, education, and humanities over the decade ending 2012 according to the National Science Foundation. We are the top producer of underrepresented minority physics baccalaureates among non-PhD granting institutions over the three years ending in 2013 as measured by the American Physical Society. And the College just this year became the only non-majority college or university to have produced four Rhodes Scholars. Our graduates include not only men like King and Julian Bond, but Spike Lee, David Satcher, Eddie Glaude, Jim Shelton, and many more operating in and out of academia in some way.

The College offers instructional programs in three divisions—business and economics, humanities and social sciences, and sciences and mathematics—as well as extracurricular and co-curricular activities that, combined with the academic program: foster the development of oral and written communication skills; foster appreciation of world cultures, artistic, creative expression and the nature of the physical universe; promote understanding of the specific skills needed to pursue professional careers and graduate study; and cultivate the personal attributes of self-confidence, tolerance, morality, ethical behavior, spirituality, humility, global perspective, and commitment to justice.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1757

Texas Woman's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

The Department of History and Government at Texas Woman's University invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2016. The successful applicant will be broadly trained in political science with a primary field of American Politics and a secondary field in public affairs/policy. A focus on women and politics is highly desirable. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching and an active record of research. The successful candidate will teach the introductory American government course, as well as advanced undergraduate courses and Master's level courses in Public Affairs/policy. Candidates will also advise students and serve the department, university, and profession.

Required qualifications:

- Earned doctorate in Political Science or related field
- Demonstrated potential for teaching excellence
- Demonstrated potential for research and publication

Preferred qualifications:

- Prior teaching experience

The History and Government Department offers a Bachelor and Masters in Government as well as the Bachelors in Criminal Justice (co-administered with the Department of Sociology and Social Work). The department has 5 full-time Government faculty members (plus 5 full-time History faculty) offering degrees to approximately 115 undergraduate Government majors and 20 Master's students.

Send a cover letter, graduate transcripts, CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a sample of scholarly work, and three letters of reference to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Tim Hoye, at THoye@twu.edu. Review of applications will begin on Nov. 1, 2016.

Texas Woman's University strives to provide an educational environment that affirms the rights and dignity of each individual, fosters diversity, and encourages a respect for the differences among persons. Discrimination or harassment of any kind is considered inappropriate. Texas Woman's University is committed to equal opportunity in employment and education and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, veteran's status, or against qualified disabled persons.

Individuals may qualify for a Veteran's Employment Preference or a Former Foster Youth Employment Preference at Texas Woman's University over other applicants for the same position who do not have a greater qualification. If you believe you may qualify, click here for more information and instructions on how to claim an employment preference: <http://www.twu.edu/recruitment-selection/6589.asp>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1731

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Boston College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position, beginning September 2017. We are looking for someone who combines a broad interest in American politics with special interest in the politics of regulation. We are interested in applicants who study any form of government regulation. Applicants should have a solid background in the study of American political institutions and policymaking, and be able to teach at least one course on the politics of environmental regulation. Applicants should have completed the PhD or be very near to finishing. Rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor, depending upon degree status.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Interested candidates should upload a letter of introduction, including research and teaching interests; curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; and writing sample; and, if available, evidence of teaching excellence to the Interfolio online system at APPLY.INTERFOLIO.COM/36473. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual writers. Completed applications must be received by October 15, 2016. No email or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/3/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1726

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a position in the field of American Politics. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. No transcripts are requested at this time.

For best consideration apply by September 1, 2016.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1696

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a position in the field of Comparative Politics. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. No transcripts are requested at this time.

For best consideration apply by September 1, 2016.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1697

CUNY, Hunter College

Rank: Tenure Track Position-Open Rank

The Hunter College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in either U.S. public law or American political behavior to begin in Fall 2017. The priority is to hire in public law but a second appointment in political behavior is possible. Appointments may be made at the rank of assistant, associate, or full professor. For public law, the department seeks a scholar with research and teaching interests in constitutional law, broadly understood. We also expect the successful candidate to share in the teaching of the department's historically-oriented introductory American government course. For political behavior, applications are welcomed from candidates focused on political participation broadly construed.

The department places a high value on both effective teaching and strong scholarship. Hunter College, located on Manhattan's Upper East Side, is a part of the City University of New York, and has a vibrant and exceptionally diverse student body. In addition to teaching undergraduates at Hunter, many department members are part of the CUNY Graduate Center faculty and participate in the doctoral program. A Ph.D. is required for appointment at a professorial rank; the department prefers completion of the degree by the start of the appointment. For appointment as associate professor, substantial publication and teaching experience are required; for appointment as full professor, evidence of an established professional reputation, a strong and sustained publication record, and substantial teaching experience are required. Salary is commensurate with rank and experience. Hunter College is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Please apply online by accessing the CUNY Portal on City University of New York job website <http://cuny.edu/employment.html> and navigating to Careers at CUNYfirst. Current users of the site should access their established accounts; new users should click on the appropriate link to register. Please send cover letter, CV, a writing sample, graduate school transcript, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please arrange to have three confidential reference letters mailed to: Chair, Public Law Search, Department of Political Science, Hunter College, CUNY, 695 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10065. Please direct queries via e-mail to polsci.search@hunter.cuny.edu. To assure full consideration, candidates should submit all application materials by 9/16/16. The department will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1665

University of Rochester

Rank: American Politics - Open Rank

American Politics. As part of our new initiative in American Politics, the Department of Political Science at the University of Rochester invites applications from candidates working in any area of American Politics for tenure-track positions in all ranks starting July 1, 2017. The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education. We will consider all applications received by September 9, 2016, although we will continue to accept applications after that date. Candidates for a tenure-track position should submit the following documents: c.v., research statement, teaching statement, letters of recommendation, samples of written work, and a transcript. Candidates for a senior position should submit only a letter of interest and c.v. Materials should be submitted on-line: <https://www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting/positions/show/3792>

For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department: <http://www.rochester.edu/college/psc/>
EOE Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/9/2016

Date Posted: 7/25/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1653

University of Rochester

Rank: Methods - Open Rank

Methods. The Department of Political Science at the University of Rochester invites applications from candidates who specialize in Methodology for tenure-track positions in all ranks starting July 1, 2017. We are particularly interested in candidates who apply their research to American Politics. The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education. We will consider all applications received by September 9, 2016, although we will continue to accept applications after that date. Candidates for a tenure-track position should submit the following documents: c.v., research statement, teaching statement, letters of recommendation, samples of written work, and a transcript. Candidates for a senior position should submit only a letter of interest and c.v. Materials should be submitted on-line: <https://www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting/positions/show/3802>

For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department: <http://www.rochester.edu/college/psc/>
EOE Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/9/2016

Date Posted: 7/25/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1654

University of Rochester

Rank: Political Economy - Open Rank

Political Economy/American Politics. As part of our new initiative in American Politics, the Department of Political Science at the University of Rochester invites applications from candidates working in Political Economy for tenure-track positions in all ranks starting July 1, 2017. The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education. We will consider all applications received by September 9, 2016, although we will continue to accept applications after that date. Candidates for a tenure-track position should submit the following documents: c.v., research statement, teaching statement, letters of recommendation, samples of written work, and a transcript. Candidates for a senior position should submit only a letter of interest and c.v. Materials should be submitted on-line: <https://www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting/positions/show/3792>

For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department: <http://www.rochester.edu/college/psc/>
EOE Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/9/2016

Date Posted: 7/25/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1656

University of Rochester

Rank: Race & Ethnic - Open Rank

Specializations: Latin American, African American Politics, Asian American Politics

Race and Ethnic Politics. As part of our new initiative in American Politics, the Department of Political Science at the University of Rochester invites applications from candidates working in any area of African-American politics, Asian-American politics, Latina/Latino-American politics, Native American Politics, or other areas in American race and ethnic politics, for tenure-track positions in all ranks starting July 1, 2017. The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education. We will consider all applications received by September 9, 2016, although we will continue to accept applications after that date. Candidates for a tenure-track position should submit the following documents: c.v., research statement, teaching statement, letters of recommendation, samples of written work, and a transcript. Candidates for a senior position should submit only a letter of interest and c.v. Materials should be submitted on-line: <https://www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting/positions/show/3792>

For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department: <http://www.rochester.edu/college/psc/>
EOE Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/9/2016

Date Posted: 7/25/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1655

Washington College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Washington College is seeking an American politics specialist for an entry-level appointment as Assistant Professor of Political Science, tenure-track, beginning August 2017. Ph.D. should be in hand or very near completion; salary is competitive. We seek candidates whose graduate transcripts, teaching experience, research, or other experience demonstrate preparation to teach courses in American political institutions, especially the American Presidency, Congress and the Legislative Process, and Parties and Interest Groups—and several other upper level courses in areas such as Minority Politics and Media and Politics. The ability to offer a basic research methods course would be an added benefit and the candidate will also teach our introductory level course in American politics as well; faculty are also expected to periodically contribute to the college's first year seminar program. As we have expertise in the following areas already, we are not seeking candidates who specialize in public law, political theory, or religion and politics. Teaching load is three courses per semester. Some senior thesis advising, undergraduate advising, and occasional internship supervision are required.

Washington College, founded in 1782, is a selective liberal arts institution of 1500 students that emphasizes excellence in teaching and a commitment to scholarly research. It is located on Maryland's Eastern Shore, about 1.5 hours from Washington, Baltimore, and Philadelphia. For more information about the college please consult the college's website (<http://www.washcoll.edu>) and the department's website (<http://polisci.washcoll.edu>).

Applications should be submitted by October 10, 2016. Materials should be directed to the attention of Dr. Melissa Deckman, Chair, Department of Political Science; e-mail: mdeckman2@washcoll.edu. Please send letter of application, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts from all institutions attended, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations, if available, through our online portal at https://higherdecisions.com/wcm/current_vacancies.asp. If unable to combine additional materials into one document to upload to Consensus, please send materials to politicalscience_search@washcoll.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Candidates who wish to be interviewed at the APSA Convention's job placement services in Philadelphia should e-mail or call after August 15 to request an appointment. Washington College is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to a diverse cultural environment and encourages applications from women, minorities, disabled persons, and veterans.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/10/2016

Date Posted: 7/25/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1652

University of Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Congress, Presidency, Public Opinion

The Department of Political Science at the University of Denver invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor to start in fall 2017 in the field of American Politics. To complement existing faculty strengths, we are most interested in candidates with research expertise in one or more of the following subfield specialties: Congress, the executive branch, public opinion, and political psychology. We particularly encourage applications from those with the desire and ability to teach research methods at an undergraduate level, and we welcome the incorporation of experiential learning opportunities in the curriculum such as internships, simulations, or service learning. The position requires teaching the equivalent of two courses per quarter across three quarters per year in the Political Science department, covering a range of upper division American politics courses, introductory courses, and other university requirements. Courses should be taught in a variety of lecture and discussion formats. Faculty at the University of Denver balance their commitment to undergraduate education with the pursuit of rigorous research involving such scholarly works as books, peer-reviewed scholarly articles, and conference presentations. The person holding this position would also be expected to contribute to University and departmental service.

The Department of Political Science is an undergraduate-only department with small classes, intensive writing assignments, and close interaction between students and faculty. We aim to develop student's capacity to think and act in the world that will serve students long after they graduate.

Essential Functions

- Teach the equivalent of six courses per academic year.
- Advise students.
- Pursue a fruitful research agenda that results in published work.
- Contribute to University and departmental service.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

- Expertise in one or more of the following subfield specialties: Congress, the Executive Branch, Public Opinion, and/or Political Psychology.

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science or a related social science field, or be near the completion of one. If ABD, the degree must be completed no later than the summer of 2017.
- Experience teaching undergraduate courses in Political Science.

Preferred Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science.

Special Instructions

Candidates must apply online through <https://dujobs.silkroad.com/> to be considered. Only applications submitted online will be accepted. Once within the job description online, please click New Resume/CV at the bottom of the page to begin application. We will give priority to applications received by September 23, 2016, but will consider applications until the position is filled. For questions regarding this position, please contact: Doug Booth, douglas.booth@du.edu.

Please include the following documents with your application:

- CV
- Letter of interest
- Research & teaching statements
- Inclusive-excellence statement (The separate inclusive-excellence statement should be a succinct description of how the candidate's research, teaching, and/or service contributes to inclusive excellence and involves effective interaction with members of historically under-represented communities. See <http://www.du.edu/cme/resources/inclusive-excellence.html> for more details.)
- Evidence of scholarly work
- At least three recommenders should provide letters of recommendation, which can be emailed to polisci@du.edu.

NOTE: The online system is limited to uploading 5 files. Please combine content if necessary to get all content uploaded.

The University of Denver is committed to enhancing the diversity of its faculty and staff and encourages applications from women, minorities, members of the LGBT community, people with disabilities and veterans. The University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1630

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The position is open to candidates specializing in public policy, public administration, or a related field, with a particular focus on the politics of health policy. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship.

Rowan University is a comprehensive state-designated research institution with approximately 15,000 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20-miles southeast of Philadelphia and it has a branch campus and medical school in Camden and a second medical school in nearby Stratford. The University boasts seven colleges—Rohrer College of Business and colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Engineering, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2017. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 20, 2016. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://rowanuniversity.hodesiq.com/jobs/assistant-professor-of-political-science-aft-glassboro-new-jersey-job-5301829>. Rowan will have representatives at the APSA annual meeting in Philadelphia. Please email Lawrence Markowitz to request a meeting at markowitzl@rowan.edu.

Submit a cover letter, a C.V., unofficial transcripts, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment. Candidates must demonstrate authorization to work in the United States. All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/20/2016

Date Posted: 7/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1625

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for one tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2017. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. We are especially interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of democratic representation, particularly as it relates to the study of underrepresented minorities, either in the U.S. or cross-nationally.

Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by November 1, 2017. The application deadline is September 15, 2016, but applications will be accepted until the search is closed. All applications should be submitted electronically via <https://jobs.rice.edu/> (from this page, select "Faculty," then choose "Assistant Professor of Political Science" or "Associate Professor of Political Science," according to your level). A complete application for candidates at the assistant professor level will include (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) two writing samples, and (5) three letters of recommendation. Candidates who currently hold the rank of associate professor are asked to submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and information for at least three references.

Equal Opportunity Employer – Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 9/15/2016

Date Posted: 7/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1611

University of Redlands

Rank: Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for the Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017 semester.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (American Politics or Comparative Politics with U.S. expertise), with at least five years of professional experience, preferably at a liberal arts institution. We especially welcome applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position.

Please submit application materials (including letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, samples of scholarly work, and three letters of reference, under separate cover) electronically at apply@redlands.edu or mail to: Human Resources, University of Redlands, PO Box 3080, Redlands CA 92373-0999. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2016, and position will remain open until filled.

Inquiries can be directed to steve_wuhs@redlands.edu, including requests for interview at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Philadelphia, PA.

The University of Redlands is committed to increasing the diversity of the university community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and/or experiences in the area of inclusivity. Strongly preferred are candidates with demonstrated experience working with diverse student populations. The University of Redlands is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Employer and actively encourages applications from minority and other members of underrepresented groups. The University of Redlands does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, disability, age, marital status, or sexual orientation in its programs and activities.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2016

Date Posted: 7/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1593

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Urban Politics, Economic Policy, Health Care

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in public policy to begin August 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a research and teaching specialization in any of the following areas of public policy: health policy, social policy, economic development, community development, sustainable development, intergovernmental relations, state and local government, and/or urban policy. Expertise in these areas is expected to be in the context of the United States. Candidates also must possess the capacity to contribute to departmental efforts to increase community outreach and engagement with government officials and practitioners in the greater Montgomery area. A completed Ph.D. is required prior to appointment.

Teaching responsibilities normally include undergraduate courses offered to political science majors and graduate courses in the candidate's area of expertise in the Department's NASPAA accredited master's degree program in public administration. Opportunities exist to teach doctoral courses. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate degree in political science and a master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu and upload a cover letter identifying teaching areas, teaching philosophy and research agenda, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), one writing sample, and a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

Public Policy Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/1/2016
Date Posted: 6/16/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1549

American University

Rank: Director, Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies and Associate or Full Professor in American Politics

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Presidency, Congress

Position Announcement

Director, Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies and Associate or Full Professor in American Politics

Department of Government
School of Public Affairs
American University

The School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of associate or full professor to serve as the Director of the Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies (CCPS) beginning August 1, 2017. The Director is responsible for developing and facilitating high-profile research projects and creating public programming that draws on the expertise of AU faculty and leading analysts from the Washington, DC community and beyond. The Director should ensure that CCPS contributes to the national dialogue about Congress, the Presidency, campaigns, and elections. The Director must secure external funding to support CCPS work and enhance the School of Public Affairs' prominence as a venue for high impact research and policy analysis.

Since its establishment in 1979, CCPS has facilitated collaborative research projects, organized hundreds of forums and conferences related to American politics, promoted curriculum development, and connected its work to policymakers, journalists, students, and academics who put research findings into practice. The new Director will be expected to continue that legacy and position CCPS to become even more influential.

Applicants should hold a doctoral degree in political science with a focus on American political institutions – Congress or the Presidency – and related subfields including campaigns and elections. We seek to recruit candidates who are theoretically sophisticated, methodologically rigorous, and have demonstrated success in externally funded research, high impact publications, and teaching. Depending on qualifications, the candidate will be hired at the rank of either Associate or Full Professor and will be suitable for tenure at the time of hiring.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/35010>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vita, statement of research interests, statement of vision for CCPS, and contact information for three references. Electronic submissions are preferred.

The Center for Congressional Presidential Studies has organized over 300 conferences and academic forums since its founding. The research focus of the Center has been on Congress and the presidency, U.S. elections and issues and policies facing the two institutions. The Center staff consists of full time and part-time affiliated faculty, graduate students, and an administrative staff member. See website: american.edu/spa/ccps for details on all Center videos, programs and publications. The Center publishes the refereed journal, Congress and the Presidency, since 1984. The Center has successfully solicited funding for its research, educational activities, and student scholarships since its founding and has sponsored over thirty visiting research fellows

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu. American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/16/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1475

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Kinder Postdoctoral Fellowship in Political Science

The Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy at the University of Missouri invites applications for the Kinder Postdoctoral Fellowship in Political Science for the 2016-2017 academic year, with the possibility of renewal for AY 2017-2018. The Kinder Institute is an interdisciplinary academic center dedicated to revitalizing teaching and scholarship on American political thought and history, broadly understood to include the origins and development of the nation's constitutional and democratic traditions as well as their application and reinterpretation in later periods and around the world. Our mission and activities are detailed on our website, <http://democracy.missouri.edu>.

The Kinder Postdoctoral Fellow will teach two political science courses per year on subjects appropriate to the Institute's mission as well as conduct research, and will be expected to be in residence at the University of Missouri during the academic year, contributing to the life of the Political Science Department and participating in Kinder Institute discussions and events. We are particularly interested in applicants whose research focuses on American constitutional and political development and/or American political thought and who would benefit from collaborating with one or more current MU faculty members. Candidates are encouraged to consult the websites of the Department of Political Science (<http://politicalscience.missouri.edu>) and Kinder Institute for information on current faculty research interests and to contact potential faculty collaborators directly. The Kinder Postdoctoral Fellow will receive a salary of $50,000 plus full benefits and will be provided with office space and staff support. Additional funds for travel and research are available from the Kinder Institute and the university. A Ph.D. in Political Science or Government is required by the time the fellowship begins in August 2016.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, research proposal of no more than 10 pages, curriculum vitae, two emblematic examples of their written scholarly work, sample syllabi for courses they would be interested in teaching, and three letters of recommendation (sealed or under separate cover) to: Thomas Kane, Kinder Institute Communications Associate, University of Missouri, 112 Read Hall, Columbia, MO 65211-7500. Materials also can be sent electronically, using Kinder Postdoctoral Fellowship Application in the subject line, to KaneTC@missouri.edu. Specific questions concerning the fellowship should be directed to Justin Dyer, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Kinder Institute, at DyerJB@missouri.edu.

The University of Missouri is an EO/AA employer. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. To request ADA accommodations, please contact our ADA Coordinator. Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2016, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2016

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/26/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1311

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Part-Time Instructor(s)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Middle Georgia State University has part-time employment opportunities for instructors for face-to-face classes on all campuses (Macon, Warner Robins, Cochran, Dublin, and Eastman) for day, evening, and weekend classes to start Fall 2016 or later in the fields of history and political science. We have particular needs for instructors who are interested in teaching one or more of the following courses:

POLS 1101 American Government

POLS 2501 Domestic Issues

POLS 2601 Intro to Public Administration

The Macon campus is located just over one hour's drive southeast of Atlanta.

Minimum Qualifications: To qualify for a teaching position, candidates are required to have a minimum of a master's degree in political science or a master's in another field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in the discipline.

To Apply: Interested candidates should submit a letter of interest with a current CV or resume, unofficial transcripts from both undergraduate and graduate courses, a list of at least two professional references including email and phone contact information, and statement of teaching philosophy, preferably combined as an attachment in a single PDF file, to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, assistant department chair, at christopher.lawrence@mga.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Informal inquiries welcome.

Middle Georgia State University is a Unit of the University System of Georgia, EEO/AA/M/F/V/D.

Start Date: Fall 2016

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/5/2016

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 1170

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Nazareth College of Rochester

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The History and Political Science Department at Nazareth College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment in Comparative Politics and International Relations (or IR) to begin in August 2017.

The successful applicant will teach introductory courses in political science, comparative politics and international relations, as well as upper-division electives focused on the politics of the region in which the candidate specializes.

Region of expertise is open, but preference will be given to candidates with a background in Africa or the Middle East and who can contribute to our well established programs in International Studies, Women and Gender Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, and other interdisciplinary minors focused on global issues and culture. The standard teaching load is three to four courses per semester.

Ph.D. in political science is expected at the time of employment. ABD candidates may be considered if they anticipate successful defense of their dissertation by February 2018.

Applicants must attach a CV, Cover Letter and Teaching Philosophy to the online application <https://jobs.naz.edu/postings/1380>. In addition, applicants must submit three letters of recommendation to tkneela8@naz.edu.

Review of applications begins on December 10, 2016.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2320

University of Ottawa

Rank: Tenure-track Position in Global Security

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, Defense

Graduate School of Public and International Affairs

Faculty of Social Sciences

University of Ottawa

Full-Time Faculty Position (preference at the rank of Assistant but open to all ranks)

The Faculty of Social Sciences comprises nine departments, schools and institutes, which offer undergraduate, Master's and doctoral programs in both English and French. With its 10,000 students, 260 full-time professors, and wide array of programs and research centres, the Faculty of Social Sciences plays a key role at the heart of the University of Ottawa. Its graduate students are supervised by excellent researchers and undertake cutting-edge research in the Faculty's Master's and Ph.D. programs.

The Graduate School of Public and International Affairs at the University of Ottawa is accepting applications for one (1) tenure-track position.

Priority will be given to candidates who can demonstrate expertise, a strong research and publication record in the area of Global Security.

The department is interested in candidates with expertise in:

- Security and defence
- Terrorism and Asymmetrical Violence
- Human Security
- Conflict, Human Rights and International Law

The department also welcomes candidates working at the intersection of area studies and security studies.

DUTIES

- Conducting research and publishing activities
- Teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels (including on our Conflict Studies and Human Rights degree)
- Supervising Master's and Ph.D. candidates
- Participating in the University's academic and administrative activities
- Other activities as specified in the collective agreement

QUALIFICATIONS

- Hold a Ph.D. in a relevant field (candidates who are close to completing a Ph.D. could be considered);
- Demonstrate excellence or the potential for excellence in teaching and research;
- Strength of publication and research track record in the field.
- An ability to teach in French is essential.

- An ability to teach in both official languages is desirable.

BILINGUALISM

The University of Ottawa is a bilingual institution and all professors in the Faculty of Social Sciences must be actively bilingual to obtain tenure. The University of Ottawa offers second-language training to staff members and their spouses.

TERMS AND SALARY

Tenure-track position. Assistant professor salary scale commensurate at C$80,673.

STARTING DATE

July 1st, 2017

LOCATION OF WORK

Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, University of Ottawa, 120 University, Ottawa, ON, K1N 6N5, Canada

BENEFITS PACKAGE

The University of Ottawa provides a complete compensation package which includes long term disability, basic group life insurance, supplementary health insurance, University of Ottawa Pension Plan and optional life insurance.

Consideration of applications will begin on November 25th, 2016 and will continue until the position is successfully filled.

Applicants must submit their curriculum vitae and a letter indicating their teaching and research experience and interests. They must also indicate their French and English language abilities and submit copies of their main publications. Applicants must also request that three referees send letters of recommendation under separate cover.

All information and letters are to be sent directly to:

Gilles Breton

Director, Graduate School of Public and International Affairs
Faculty of Social Sciences (FSS6005), University of Ottawa
120 University, Ottawa, ON K1N 6N5, Canada

E-mail: api@uOttawa.ca

All qualified candidates are invited to apply; however, preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. The University of Ottawa is an equal opportunity employer. We strongly encourage applications from women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities. If you are invited to continue the selection process, please notify us of any particular adaptive measures you might require by contacting the Office of the Associate Vice-President, Faculty Affairs at 613-562-5958. Any information you send us will be handled respectfully and in complete confidence.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 11/25/2016

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2321

Kent State University

Rank: TT, Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Lesbian & Gay Studies, Conflict Processes

The Department of Political Science at Kent State University invites applications for a tenure-track position, open with regard to region and rank, in Comparative Politics, to begin in August 2017. We seek scholars studying marginalization, structures of oppression, and the politics of dissent, with potential topics including, but not limited to: identities (race, gender, sexualities, ethnicity), global inequality, settler colonialism, migration, borders, and labor.

The Political Science Department at KSU is a PhD-granting department with a dynamic, well-published faculty and a robust undergraduate program that encourages students to engage and change the world around them. The successful candidate will demonstrate an ability to conduct and publish research commensurate with the expectations of a research institution and to teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels. There will be ample opportunities for collaboration across departments and for community engagement. The teaching load for untenured TT faculty members is two courses per semester.

Applicants should have a PhD in Political Science or cognate field such as Sociology, Black or Africana Studies, Ethnic Studies, Gender Studies, or Sexuality Studies at the time of hire (August 2017). Review of applications will begin in mid-November and continue until the position is filled. Candidates for Assistant Professor should show promise of a quality research agenda and teaching success, and senior scholars should show evidence of scholarly impact in their area of research. Applicants at the Assistant level should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, a research plan, graduate transcripts, and three letters of reference; senior-level applicants should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three references. All applications should be submitted to <https://jobs.kent.edu/postings/11194>. Questions should be addressed to cpjob@kent.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/21/2016

Date Posted: 10/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2301

University of Rochester

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowship in international and Central European politics in the Skalny Center/ Department of Political Science

Applications for 2017-18 are welcome in any area of international or comparative politics, but preference will be given to applicants whose work focuses on Central and Eastern Europe, broadly defined. Fellows offer two courses during the academic year and receive a stipend of $42,000. Applicants without a Ph.D. should describe their plans for completing the degree by the time the fellowship commences.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a 3-5 page research project description, a one-page sketch of proposed courses, one or more writing samples, and three letters of recommendation to: Fellowship in International and Central European Politics, Skalny Center for Polish and Central European Studies, University of Rochester, Harkness Hall 101, Rochester, New York 14627-0147. Applications must be postmarked by Dec . 15, 2016. Direct questions to Dr. Bozena Sobolewska, bsobolew@mail.rochester.edu, or 585-275-9898.

The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to principles of diversity, and actively encourages applications from members of groups underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2300

Central Connecticut State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

POLITICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

Central Connecticut State University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a one-year position as an Assistant Professor. The successful candidate will teach courses and pursue research in Comparative Politics, with particular interest in European politics (including opportunities to teach courses focused on Eastern Europe, Russia, migration, and citizenship) and to contribute actively and effectively to the Department. The ability to teach Political Theory is also desired. We seek an individual with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching of both majors and non-majors, and to mentoring majors in various areas, including undergraduate research.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science [The completion of a Ph.D. is required by August 15, 2017]
- College teaching experience in Political Science
- Commitment to serving culturally, ethnically and linguistically diverse communities

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience teaching undergraduate introductory comparative politics courses, upper-level courses on European politics, and courses in political theory
- Demonstrated excellence in teaching
- Publications in comparative politics and/or European politics
- Research interests appropriate to student participation and experience involving undergraduate research

Application & Appointment: For full consideration, applications must be received by January 1, 2017. Incomplete applications will not be considered. To begin the application process, please submit the following electronically, in a single email, to the Chair of the Search Committee, Professor Paul Petterson, at petterson@ccsu.edu:

- Letter of interest addressing all the qualifications for the position;
- Current curriculum vita or resume;
- One document addressing two areas: your teaching philosophy; and a description of research interests and specific plans for future research;
- A copy of unofficial transcripts; and
- For ABD candidates, letter from thesis advisor stating anticipated date of completion.

Additionally, please arrange for three letters of professional recommendations to be mailed directly by the recommender to Dr. Paul Petterson, Political Science Search Committee Chair, CCSU, 1615 Stanley St., New Britain, CT 06053, or pettersonp@ccsu.edu.

For more information, contact Dr. Paul Petterson at pettersonp@ccsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2288

Wake Forest University

Rank: African Politics and African/International Studies

African Politics and African/International Studies – Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and International Affairs of Wake Forest University invites applications for a tenure-track position in African Politics and International Studies beginning in the 2017-2018 academic year. The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor level and will involve teaching and research interests in the area(s) of the politics of Sub-Saharan Africa, international, and/or comparative politics. Included in this teaching load will be courses offered for interdisciplinary minors in African Studies and International Studies. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, undergraduate teaching, and mentoring. The most competitive candidates will have their PhD in hand at time of appointment. Applicants should submit the following materials through the on-line site identified below by January 6, 2017:

- a cover letter directed to Dr. Katy Harriger (harriger@wfu.edu), Chair, Department of Politics and International Affairs;
- curriculum vitae;
- graduate transcripts;
- a statement of research program;
- a statement of teaching philosophy;
- course outlines;
- teaching evaluation summaries.

Applicants must make arrangements to have three confidential letters of recommendation sent to letters@wfu.edu. Otherwise, letters and additional documents can be uploaded in OpenHire (2413-141). When applying, please refer to tracking number.

For complete details and to apply, go to <http://wakejobs.silkroad.com/> or call (336) 758-4700. The submission of an online application for Wake Forest University is required for this position. Questions about the application process may be addressed to wakejobs@wfu.edu. Wake Forest University is an equal opportunity employer. Wake Forest University values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2291

Birmingham-Southern College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Gender Politics & Policy

Birmingham-Southern College seeks candidates with demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduate courses for two tenure-track positions beginning August 2017. Broadly-trained candidates with strong quantitative methodological and/or GIS skills are preferred. Subfield and regional specialization are open, as are areas of scholarly focus. Passion to teach at least three of the following courses is required: American Government/Politics, Public Policy, Statistics, Research Methodology, Women in Politics, Comparative or American Political Behavior, and/or Introduction to Global and Comparative Studies.

The teaching load is 3-1-3 including an interim term in January. During January, professors offer unique, innovative, experiential, and/or travel courses.

Applicants should hold a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field by August 2017. In addition to service to the College and dedication to sustaining and enhancing a rigorous political science curriculum, preferred candidates will be able to contribute to at least two additional established and/or emerging programs: Global and Comparative Studies, Urban Environmental Studies, Human Rights and Conflict Studies, Public Health, Poverty Studies, Creative and Applied Computing, Gender and Women Studies, and Media and Film Studies.

Birmingham-Southern College (BSC) is a selective residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 1,300 undergraduate students. BSC is included in Pope's Colleges that Change Lives and is a sheltering institution for Phi Beta Kappa. The College's curriculum is based on close faculty-student interaction in teaching, advising, and research. For more on the College's faculty, students, educational mission, and national reputation, visit www.bsc.edu.

Birmingham-Southern College is located just minutes from downtown Birmingham, the largest city in Alabama and a leading hub for banking and medical research in the Southeast. There are six higher education institutions; a symphony; a ballet; the largest art museum in the Southeast; and numerous opportunities for outdoor adventure and recreational activities.

Review of applicants will begin immediately. Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, copies of graduate transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Email applications are preferred at pssearch@bsc.edu.

BSC is an equal opportunity employer and is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their teaching, research, and/or service to the diversity and excellence of Birmingham-Southern College. BSC complies with the Alabama Child Protection Act and E-Verify EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2263

Clarkson University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Clarkson University is the nationally ranked research institution of choice for more than 3,400 enterprising, high-ability undergraduate and graduate students who launch remarkably successful careers.

The Humanities and Social Sciences Department at Clarkson University invites applicants to apply for the position of Assistant Professor. This position is an entry-level tenure track appointment in International Relations or Comparative Politics to begin in August 2017. The successful candidate must be able to teach introductory level courses as well as courses in her/his area of expertise, which could include a regional focus. Applicants should bring a lively interest in contributing to the programmatic development of one or more of Clarkson's intra-school emphases in environmental sustainability and the health sciences, or to the university's goals of international and global outreach.

The ordinary teaching load is three courses (usually two preparations) per semester, including each fall two sections of a first-year, writing-intensive course focused on a theme of the applicant's choosing. There is ample opportunity for course development in electives. The successful candidate will have evidence of excellence in scholarship and teaching. PhD required by August 1, 2017. Minimum qualifications include PhD in political science with emphasis on International Relations or Comparative Politics. Some teaching experience and scholarly productivity.

Review of applications will begin January 15, 2017 and continues until the position is filled. To submit your application, go to www.clarkson.edu/hr and click "Career Opportunities" on the left hand navigation bar. An equal opportunity /affirmative action employer, Clarkson actively seeks and encourages applications from minorities, women and people with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2268

Ozyegin University

Rank: Two Open Rank Positions in Political Science

The Department of International Relations at Özyegin University invites applications for two posts (assistant/associate/full professor levels) to begin in September 2017.

We are seeking to hire two political scientists, preferably with an emphasis on political institutions, elections, and voting behavior, or public policy, governance and social policy. Proficiency in political theory or experience with survey methodology will be a plus. A research profile that includes a regional focus would also be desirable.

Candidates must have an active research agenda with a publication record appropriate to their academic level, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service to the field. Successful candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand or have fulfilled all requirements for the degree by the start of the appointment.

Candidates need to send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current curriculum vitae including names and contacts of at least two references, one sample publication/working paper, and a teaching portfolio with one sample syllabus and a summary of teaching evaluations. All items must be combined in ONE

PDF file and sent via e-mail to the Faculty of Social Sciences, Department of International Relations, to socialsciences@ozyegin.edu.tr. To ensure consideration, the application should be received by Monday the 19th of December 2016.

Özyegin University is a private, non-profit Turkish institution of higher education located in Çekmeköy, Istanbul. The University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. The medium of instruction is English. The normal teaching load consists of two to three courses per semester. Salary and benefits are competitive.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2252

Columbia University

Rank: Visiting Professor

Columbia University invites applications for two István Deák Visiting Professorships in East Central European Studies for one semester each (Fall or Spring) in the academic year 2017-2018. The professorship, commemorating Professor Deák's legacy of excellence in research and teaching, is open to scholars who have active interest and accomplishments in East and Central European studies. ONE appointment will be at the rank of Visiting Professor. The second will be an open-rank appointment to be filled at any level from Visiting Assistant to Visiting Full Professor.

The visiting professors will be appointed in one of the Humanities or Social Science departments of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The visitors will teach two courses, one a lecture course of broad interest for undergraduates, the other a seminar for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students. The visitors are expected to give one public lecture and participate in the academic life of the University, whose interests in East and Central European studies are well represented on campus by the East Central European Center, the European Institute, and the Harriman Institute.

Please provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of three persons who may be asked to provide a letter of reference, and a modest sample (article or book chapter) of scholarship. The letter of application should include a statement of which semester the applicant prefers, a list with the names and descriptions of two courses which the applicant might teach, and a description of the applicant's current research interests.

All applications must be made through Columbia's online Recruitment of Academic Personnel System (RAPS) at: academicjobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=63524

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2241

SUNY, Geneseo

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Middle East, Research Methods

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at SUNY Geneseo invites applicants for a tenure-track, assistant professor position, to begin August of 2017. Duties of the position include: Teach undergraduate courses in political science, including U.S. Foreign Policy, Politics of the Middle East, Social Science Research Methods, and upper division courses in comparative politics or international politics. Responsibilities include academic advising and mentoring of students, establishing and completing a program of research and publication in Political Science, service to college, community and discipline.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science by the time of appointment in August 2017. Possess the expertise necessary to teach U.S. foreign policy, politics of the Middle East, social science research methods, and other undergraduate courses in political science. Candidates should also have the potential for scholarly contributions in political science.

Applicants should be prepared to upload a cover letter, a CV, and an additional document containing sample syllabi and summary teaching evaluations (as Other Document). The cover letter should address teaching philosophy and interests and plans for establishing a research program. In addition, applicants should be prepared to supply contact information (email address) for three references. References will be contacted and invited to submit letters of recommendation at the time of application.

Please submit materials at <https://jobs.geneseo.edu/postings/1311>

Review of completed applications will begin upon receipt. To be guaranteed consideration, applications must be completed by November 11, 2016. The search committee anticipates conducting initial interviews by telephone/Skype during the week of November 28, 2016.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2229

San Diego State University

Rank: Director of the J. Keith Behner and Catherine M. Stiefel Program on Brazil

The College of Arts and Letters of San Diego State University seeks to hire an associate or full professor with a specialty on Brazil.

Requirements:

Ph.D. in Humanities and/or Social Sciences, with a research and teaching focus on Brazil. Proven administrative experience building interdisciplinary and/or intercollegiate programs and record of success in obtaining external funding.

Rank and salary commensurate with experience and professional accomplishments. Tenure upon hire is possible depending upon qualifications.

Duties:

I. Develop both long and short term plans to meet the program's objectives in the areas of:

research, scholarship and creative endeavors;
 academic programming and co-curricular activities in all aspects of Brazil's life - social, cultural and scientific - including international programs with and/or in Brazil, such as exchange of students/faculty; engagement and outreach

II. Establish an open, inclusive and transparent process to allocate seed money for research projects and support for curricular and extra-curricular initiatives that are poised to deliver tangible outcomes.

III. Instigate and develop internal and outreach efforts, including development.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all. SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

Application Instructions

To ensure full consideration, please apply via Interfolio. Position will remain open until filled.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.'

This institution is using Interfolio's ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2221

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank - Political Science

Open Rank - Political Science

Below you will find the details for the position including any supplementary documentation and questions you should review before applying for the opening. To apply for the job, please click the Apply for this Job link.

Please Note: Internal Applicants (current benefits-eligible employees only) must login to the applicant portal before clicking "apply for this job" in order to access the internal application.

Northeastern University Employee Benefits

Northeastern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Educational Institution and Employer, Title IX University. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by the law. Northeastern University is an E-Verify Employer.

Bookmark this Requisition | Print Preview | Apply for this Job

Please see Special Instructions for more details.

Please be prepared to attach you cv, cover letter, and be prepared to enter the names and e-mail addresses for three references.

Posting Details

Posting Detail Information

Position Title Open Rank - Political Science

Requisition Number FTFR000866

Division/College College of Social Sciences and Humanities

Interdisciplinary Division/College

Location Boston Main Campus

Full-time/Part-time Full Time

Benefits Eligible Yes

Tenure Status Tenured/Tenure Track

Posting Date 10/05/2016

Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/polisci/>) and the College of Social Sciences and Humanities at Northeastern University invite applications to fill one or more open-rank tenure-track faculty positions to begin in the fall of 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a record of excellence in research and teaching in the fields of comparative politics or public policy with a focus in resilience, sustainability, and related areas. Of particular interest are new or established scholars who study how governments and societies adjust to disruptions and major changes in existing relationships and practices. This emphasis on resilience and sustainability may cross different policy areas, including environmental, economic, social welfare, and others. Joint appointments with other units in the college and the university are possible.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science or related field or the equivalent is required by the start of the appointment. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Additional Information

The Department of Political Science has 26 tenured and tenure-track faculty members, two teaching professors, one lecturer, and three staff members. Ten faculty members hold joint appointments in other academic units. The robust undergraduate and graduate programs include 550 undergraduate majors and 60 graduate students in the Master of Arts in Political Science, Master of Science and Graduate Certificate in Security and Resilience Studies, and PhD in Political Science programs. The Department offers a collegial environment in which faculty engage in different research methodologies in a multidisciplinary setting. The Department is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have traditionally been underrepresented in the field.

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

Applicants should submit a CV and letter of interest describing research interests and evidence of scholarly expertise, along with the names of three references. Candidates will be notified before their references are contacted.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the link for full-time positions, or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click "Apply to this job." Please address nominations and inquiries about the position to Kirsten Rodine Hardy, Chair of the Search Committee (K.Rodinehardy@northeastern.edu). Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Documents Needed to Apply

Required Documents

Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter

Optional Documents

Other

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/11/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2212

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: American Politics/Comparative Politics/International Relations Faculty Position

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Los Angeles invites applications for an open-field faculty position in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. We are particularly interested in applicants who have recently received or will soon be candidates for tenure. Rank will be determined by the candidate's qualifications and professional experience, but all applicants must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field, or complete their Ph.D. prior to the appointment. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 2017.

We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, and service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to excellence and diversity. Applications for this position should be made online at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF02585>. The job tracking number is JPF02585. The position will remain open until filled, but to ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 9, 2016. Applications should include a current C.V., a statement of research, teaching interests, a statement of contributions to diversity, and a writing sample. Junior applicants should also include transcripts and three letters of recommendation. Senior candidates need only provide names of three possible references.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2190

Stanford University: Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center

Rank: 2017-18 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows in Contemporary Asia

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce its search for two 2017–18 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows in Contemporary Asia-Pacific Studies. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent PhDs must have degree conferral and approval by August 31, 2017) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the fellowship is on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or topics in international relations and international political economy. Postdoctoral fellows are required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment, and to take part in center activities throughout the academic year. Fellows are also required to present their research findings in center seminars, and to participate in the center's publication program. The postdoctoral fellowship is a 10-month appointment with a salary rate of $52,000 plus $2,000 for research expenses. Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2017–18 academic year.

Applications must be received by December 16, 2016.

For additional information and to apply, visit:

<http://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/fellowships>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/16/2016

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2129

California State University, Sacramento

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor -- Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Movements, Gender Politics & Policy, Immigration Policy

The Government Department at California State University, Sacramento seeks candidates who are broadly trained in the field of comparative politics to fill a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor to begin in Fall 2017. Candidates must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science or related field. ABD candidates will be considered; if ABD, candidates will be required to complete the doctoral degree by January 2018. Candidates must be able to teach a range of undergraduate and graduate courses in comparative politics, including introduction to comparative politics (GOVT 35 and 140) and courses specializing in identity politics, including but not restricted to ethnicity, nationalism, social movements, gender, migration, or religion. Candidates are required to demonstrate potential for scholarly achievement and to have strong substantive and methodological training, though the position is open with regard to methodological approach. Candidates must have a demonstrated commitment to working with a diverse student body. Furthermore, experience in promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of a diverse student body is preferred.

Review of applications will begin October 31, 2016 and the position will remain open until filled. An applicant can find the full vacancy announcement at, and must apply through, the Sacramento State jobs website at <http://www.csus.edu/about/employment>.

Applicants must submit the following: (1) cover letter addressing qualifications; (2) current curriculum vita/resume; (3) names and contact information of 3 references who will speak to the professional qualifications of the applicant; (4) Unofficial transcripts of all graduate work (official transcripts required if invited for an interview); (5) writing sample; (6) teaching evaluations and syllabi (if available); (7) Statement of teaching philosophy including discussion of commitment to and experience with a diverse student body. In addition, applicants should have three letters of recommendation emailed directly by the writer to govt-cp-hire@csus.edu. Inquiries can also be made to govt-cp-hire@csus.edu.

AA/EO Employer. Clery Act statistics available. Mandated reporter requirements. Background check (including criminal record check) required.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2144

Hollins University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Advanced Industrial Societies, China, Environmental Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor of Global Politics and Societies
HOLLINS UNIVERSITY

The Global Politics and Societies (GPS) Department at Hollins University in Roanoke, Virginia invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor. This is a full-time position with a three-year appointment beginning July 1, 2017.

The new GPS department includes four separate major programs of study in sociology, religious studies, political science, and international studies and one minor program of study in social justice. Each of the programs uses an interdisciplinary approach with some shared courses and collaborative teaching based on the common research and teaching interests of faculty members.

The ideal candidate will be a broadly trained political scientist or sociologist with global research and teaching interests. Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in comparative politics and international studies, as well as upper-level electives in sociology and international studies. The faculty member will also be expected to contribute to shared courses in other GPS programs of study. Preference will be given to candidates who can also contribute to one or more of the following programs: environmental studies, gender and women's studies, religious studies, and/or urban studies. The position carries a teaching load of three courses per semester. Other duties include advising students, conducting independent studies, supervising students doing senior research projects, participating in department and university service, and ongoing scholarly activity in the form of publications and presentations.

Candidates must meet the following minimum requirements: Ph.D. in political science, sociology, or related GPS discipline completed by June 30, 2017; evidence of scholarly promise; and an excellent record of teaching at the undergraduate level. Applicants must also demonstrate a clear understanding of and commitment to teaching in a single-sex, liberal arts institution. Applications are sought from those who have demonstrated success working with diverse populations and share Hollins' commitment to preparing students for leadership opportunities in a broadly diverse, global society. Final candidates will be subject to a criminal history background check.

Qualified candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, separate statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of effective teaching, three letters of recommendation, and graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable) to GPS@hollins.edu. Applications must be received by Dec. 1, 2017 to receive full consideration.

Hollins is an independent, liberal arts university offering undergraduate education for women, selected graduate programs for men and women, and community outreach initiatives. Founded in 1842 as Virginia's oldest chartered women's college, Hollins is best known for its creative writing program, one of the oldest study-abroad programs in the country, and extensive internship opportunities. The campus is surrounded by the Blue Ridge Mountains, and has the amenities of a mid-sized city in the immediate vicinity.

Hollins University is an equal opportunity employer. Hollins values diversity in its community, and strongly encourages applications from members of underrepresented populations.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/1/2016
Date Posted: 9/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2118

University of Chicago

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for senior faculty positions in the study of armed conflict. The search is open with respect to field and rank. Candidates should submit a CV and any accompanying documents such as sample publications online at: <http://tinyurl.com/h6pz5gk>. No applications will be accepted after June 30, 2017.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non_discrimination_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-5671 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2111

University of North Texas

Rank: Assistant Professor--Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of North Texas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2017 in the broadly defined field of contentious politics in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are interested in prospective candidates who conduct research in such areas as civil society, social movements, ethnic politics, and non-state opposition groups (e.g., terrorist organizations, rebel organizations, extremist parties).

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) A Ph.D. in Political Science (highly qualified ABD candidates will also be considered) and (2) evidence that demonstrates a potential for excellence in research, teaching, and service will be required of the selected candidate. Preference will be given to candidates with strong methods skills and who are likely to publish in top-tier journals, seek external funding, and who show a willingness to work with other faculty and graduate students.

The faculty member will teach core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continue a record of robust scholarly research, direct graduate research, and provide service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 26 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly and Journal of Political Science Education. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the UNT Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site can be found at: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With nearly 38,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) a writing sample, (5)

evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., peer reviews, evaluations), (6) a copy of transcripts, and (7) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquiries to David Mason, search committee chair (David.Mason@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 21, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date. UNT is an AA/ADA/EOE.

The University of North Texas System is firmly committed to equal opportunity and does not permit - and takes actions to prevent - discrimination, harassment (including sexual violence), and retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, disability, family status, genetic information, citizenship or veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, and employment practices. The University of North Texas System immediately investigates and takes remedial action when appropriate. The University of North Texas System also takes actions to prevent retaliation against individuals who oppose a discriminatory practice, file a charge, or testify, assist or participate in an investigative proceeding or hearing.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2115

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics/ International Relations

Rhodes College – Visiting Assistant Professor – Comparative Politics / International Relations

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College invites applications for a visiting Assistant Professor to start Fall 2017. A Ph.D. in hand by Fall 2017 is required. The appointee is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either Comparative Politics or International Relations as well as an upper level course on international conflict. The ability to teach research methods in international studies would be a plus. The position has a 3-3 teaching load and offers the possibility for renewal up to a third year after the successful completion of the first year.

The department seeks candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and research. Successful candidates will also be those who can contribute to an interdisciplinary atmosphere. Application materials must include: a letter of application, CV, names and contact information of 3 references, writing/publication sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please address in your cover letter your interest in teaching at a liberal arts college and how your experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. Apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu. For additional information please contact Ms. Kim Stevenson, Departmental Assistant, Department of International Studies, StevensonK@rhodes.edu. Review of completed applications will begin on November 14 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2099

University of California, Merced

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor in Inequality, Power and Social Justice

The University of California, Merced is recruiting between one and four Assistant, Associate, or Full Professors as part of a cluster hire in the area of Inequality, Power, and Social Justice focused on issues related to 1) Identity, Experience, and Representation and 2) Structural and Institutional Inequality. We seek Political Scientists who study political institutions and/or political behavior, with a substantive focus in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Full details are available at: <https://aprecruit.ucmerced.edu/apply/JPF00389>

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2096

Brown University

Rank: Racial Inequality Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: United States, African American Politics, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

RACIAL INEQUALITY POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

DESCRIPTION: Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Racial Inequality to be jointly shared by the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs and the Center for the Study of Race & Ethnicity in America. We seek a scholar with interests in racial inequality/structural racism in the post 1970s U.S. in areas such as: urban poverty, social and cultural theories of racism, gender, segregation, housing or welfare.

The successful candidate will teach one course per year in a Watson Institute related program, collaborate on the vision, design and implementation of CSREA programming related to his/her research areas

each year on a key topic in contemporary racial inequality studies, and be expected to actively participate in the intellectual life of CSREA (including regular participation in the CSREA research seminar), the Watson Institute and the University as a whole.

QUALIFICATIONS: Scholars with a Ph.D. in Sociology, American Studies, Political Science, History, Social Theory, African-American Studies or a related discipline in the Humanities or Social Sciences will be considered. Dissertation must be signed by August 1, 2017.

INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, writing sample (15-20 pp), a personal statement (1 page) and the names and addresses of three referees through the Interfolio posting: <https://apply.interfolio.com/36251>

The application deadline is November 15th, 2016. Review of applications will begin November 17th, 2016, and final notifications are expected to go out by March, 2017. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective August 1, 2017, and is not renewable.

EEO STATEMENT: Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

For more information, please visit:

<https://www.brown.edu/race> | <http://watson.brown.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2050

Princeton University

Rank: Niehaus Center Visiting Fellowship Program

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to six visitors for the 2017-2018 academic year Visiting Fellowship Program. NCGG will award one-year research positions to eligible, talented postdoctoral or more senior scholars. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Preference will be given to recent recipients of a doctoral degree.

Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2017 - July 1, 2018).

Application Deadline – December 9, 2016, 11:59p.m. EST

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials and apply online at: <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Search for requisition no. 1600791.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Friday, December 9, 2016. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions will also be required to submit:

- Statement indicating if a sabbatical leave is available;
- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- History of 'sabbatical leaves' over the past seven years;
- A confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2016 - July 1, 2017).

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in March 2017.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2037

University of Massachusetts, Boston

Rank: Assistant Professor Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Massachusetts Boston invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative politics to be filled at the rank of Assistant Professor. The department seeks a specialist in Chinese politics, but additional expertise in the politics of one or more other countries in East Asia, South Asia or Southeast Asia (including the Indian subcontinent) would also be desirable. UMass Boston has vibrant programs in Asian Studies and Asian-American Studies, which may provide additional collaborative opportunities to the successful applicant. A typical teaching load is two courses per semester, and candidates are expected to be productive scholars with active research agendas and pedagogical commitments, as well as being active in seeking outside funding support for their research.

All candidates must hold a PhD in a relevant field or should have a reasonable expectation of earning it by no later than August 2017.

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Please include with your application a curriculum vitae, relevant transcripts, a statement of research and teaching interests, a writing sample, and contact information for three letters of recommendation. Please submit application materials online: <http://umb.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=76218>

The University of Massachusetts Boston provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, age, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, disability, military status, or genetic information. In addition to federal law requirements, the University of Massachusetts Boston complies with applicable state and local laws governing nondiscrimination in employment in every location in which the University operates. This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2049

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics of South Asia

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics of South Asia to begin July 1, 2017.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire.

Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <http://apply.interfolio.com/35940>. Review of applications and nominations will begin September 5, 2016, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and underrepresented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/14/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2029

Ohio State University

Rank: Race and Gender in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Description:

The department of political science seeks candidates for a tenured or tenure-track position in the study of race and/or gender in politics. We welcome applications from scholars studying comparative politics and international relations, however, we are especially interested in applicants who study race and/or gender as they pertain to politics in the United States. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding.

This position is part of a larger initiative at Ohio State to increase faculty diversity and to promote research and teaching on topics central to race, ethnicity, sex, and gender as well as disparities in modern society linked to these categories. The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences intends to hire at least eight new faculty members under this initiative. The new cluster of faculty will be able to build a network with many committed professors already at home in the College of Arts and Sciences in the Diversity & Identity Studies Collective, the Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and the Department of African American and African Studies. Graduate certificates in this area of inquiry and undergraduate bridge programs are also being built to support this initiative.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have that degree by Autumn 2017. It is possible the successful candidate could have a PhD degree in a cognate field such as sociology or social psychology but a PhD in political science is preferred. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7871>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2000

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - Environmental Justice and Community Resilience

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Faculty Position

Environmental Justice and Community Resilience

Department of Political Science, Purdue University

As part of a university-wide cluster hire in the area of “building sustainable communities,” the Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a tenure track, assistant professor position focused on the politics of environmental justice and community resilience. Potential areas of interest include how gender, race, class, ethnicity, geographical region, or identities affect the unequal distribution of environmental benefits and burdens and/or community resilience in the face of environmental change. We are also interested in research on efforts to address environmental and social inequalities through international, cross-national, and/or domestic political action, including but not limited to work on norms and norm change, protest and resistance movements, and community-based conservation and resilience efforts. The primary field of specialization within political science is open. The successful candidate will add to the political science department’s identified strengths in environmental politics as well as the politics of race, ethnicity, gender, and class. The successful candidate will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the area of environmental politics as well as other appropriate courses in his or her subfield. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Environmental Studies, or a related discipline is required. Joint appointments are possible in other academic units participating in the cluster hire, including Anthropology, Communication, Philosophy, and Engineering. The position will begin Fall 2017.

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated potential to play a vital role in Purdue’s new “building sustainable communities” initiative dedicated to finding new approaches to addressing major environmental and sustainability challenges. Purdue’s Center for the Environment will serve as the interdisciplinary hub for this research community. Purdue also hosts several interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate programs focused on sustainability, including undergraduate degrees in environmental & ecological engineering and natural resources and environmental science, as well as a graduate program in Ecological Sciences and Engineering. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in and contribute to these programs as well.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon (acheever@purdue.edu). Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, samples of written work, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant’s commitment to and experience with interdisciplinary research and teaching relevant to the cluster. Review of applications will begin October 7, 2016, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to search committee chair Dr. Leigh Raymond (lraymond@purdue.edu). A background check will be required for employment in this position. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 2004

College of William & Mary

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in European and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in European and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies

The Programs in European Studies and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies at the College of William and Mary seek applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level, beginning in August 2017.

We are two strong, interdisciplinary area studies programs at one of the best small public universities in the United States, and we are seeking a colleague with a commitment to excellence in teaching and research.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D at the time of appointment (August 10, 2017). The candidate must have demonstrated excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Candidates from all disciplines in the social sciences and humanities with appropriate expertise will be considered, pending department approval. The appointment will be jointly held in the Global Studies Program and in a host department appropriate for the candidate’s discipline. Research and teaching expertise in fields such as state socialism, the First and/or Second World Wars, post-socialist societies, migration, regionalism, and identity politics are particularly welcome. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment and a demonstrated interest in comparative and trans-regional scholarship and teaching. Candidates must possess the skills to teach compelling undergraduate courses in both Russian and Post-Soviet Studies (RPSS) and European Studies (ES), as well as in the candidate’s home department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach “Introduction to European Studies” and “Introduction to Russian and Post-Soviet Studies,” as well as topics courses and research seminars for both programs.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation, at least one of which must speak directly to teaching ability. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, October 7, 2016. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

The College of William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. The College conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/7/2016
Date Posted: 9/8/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1995

Harvard University

Rank: China Public Policy Postdoctoral Fellow
Specializations: China, Political Economy, History & Politics

Harvard Kennedy School China Public Policy Postdoctoral Fellowships 2017-18

The Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation at the Harvard Kennedy School will offer two postdoctoral fellowships in the field of contemporary Chinese public policy to recent Ph.D.s of exceptional promise.

Applicants must have received their Ph.D. within five years of the start of the fellowship, in a relevant discipline in the social sciences or history. Preference will be given to those working in the areas of domestic politics and social development of China, with a focus on public policy challenges. Residence in the Cambridge area and participation in the activities of the Center are required. It is expected that the successful applicant will give at least one research presentation or public talk during the fellowship period. Knowledge of Chinese is required, as well as the ability to work with original sources. Those who are chosen to receive fellowships must have completed ALL requirements for the Ph.D. degree (including the dissertation defense) by June 1, 2017.

Each fellowship will begin on August 1, 2017 and run for a period of up to two years. The recipient will receive an annual stipend of $50,000, health insurance, and work space.

For complete information on how to apply visit: <http://ash.harvard.edu/china-public-policy-postdoctoral-fellowships> . Applications are due January 6, 2017. Questions can be emailed to Ash_Fellowships@hks.harvard.edu with "Postdoctoral Fellowships in China Public Policy" in the SUBJECT line.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Date Posted: 9/6/2016
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 1969

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2017. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy and political science broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2017.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must have three letters of recommendation, CV, and job market paper submitted by November 30, 2016. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to faculty_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as from others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 11/30/2016
Date Posted: 9/2/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1961

Princeton University Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar or Postdoctoral Research Associate
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks visiting scholars and/or post-doctoral or more senior research associates for the 2017-2018 academic year. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. Applications are welcome from political scientists and scholars in related social science disciplines at any career stage, but any applicant who has yet to complete the PhD must have turned in a final draft of the dissertation by July 1, 2017.

Each scholar will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Department of Politics, and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. CSDP scholars must be in residence at Princeton during the academic terms, and are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary (those who hold faculty appointments at other academic institutions normally receive one-half their academic-year salaries for the appointment period, but this may vary depending on level of support from the home institution), applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance.

Please note that (only) candidates who currently hold faculty appointments and are applying to visit CSDP for 2017-2018 while on leave from their current institution must apply directly to CSDP at this link: https://csdpapp.princeton.edu/csdp_application.php. All others must apply online at <https://jobs.princeton.edu> -- Requisition # 1600740 and submit a cover letter (optional), CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of two references.

The deadline for receipt of complete applications, including letters of recommendation, is November 30, 2016 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions? Email csdp@princeton.edu or phone Michele Epstein, Assistant Director of CSDP, 609-258-6493.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the university's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1952

Georgetown University

Rank: Multiple positions--African American Studies

Seizing this pivotal moment in Georgetown's history, the Department of African American Studies invites applications for at least four open-rank positions, which have an anticipated start date of August 1, 2017. This first set of hires inaugurates a multi-year hiring initiative and is an integral part of Georgetown University's plan to expand African American Studies, and establish a Research Center for Racial Justice. We seek scholars who have an ambitious research agenda, a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, and an earnest desire to help build the newly formed department and participate in other university service. Currently, our strengths lie in African American studies and its intersections with literary studies, sociology, history, and performance studies. Building upon these fields, we seek cross-disciplinary, multi-disciplinary, and trans-disciplinary scholarship that strengthens African American Studies' capacity in psychology, visual studies, philosophy, political science, economics, women's and gender studies, and law and criminology. More specifically, we seek applicants whose research interests engage with one of the following topics:

- Structural and cultural causes of and solutions to black inequality
- Black cultural productions and responses to legacies and impacts of slavery, Jim Crow segregation, and imperialism in US institutions

- How Black intersectionality informs equality and social justice

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. in African American Studies or related fields by July 1, 2017. Senior candidates with administrative and departmental leadership interests and experience are especially welcomed. All applicants should specify the rank for which they are applying in the letter of interest.

Applicants without tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), three letters of recommendation, and dissertation abstract (if the candidate is ABD).

Applicants with tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), research statement (current and future projects, or career narrative), and names, telephone numbers, and email addresses for three referees.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016 and will continue until the positions are filled.

Applicants without tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36591>

Applicants with tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36594>

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1933

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning July 2017. We are seeking a broadly trained Political Scientist who could teach courses in international relations and political philosophy. A Ph.D. is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 31st, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1937

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, South Asia

WINTHROP UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Sciences

Rock Hill, South Carolina 29733

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Open Field

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position. The department welcomes applications in all subfields; however, we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: Comparative Politics (Middle East, Asia), Public Administration, Public Law, and/or American Institutions. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. Considered one of the strongest departments in the University, the Winthrop Political Science department boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching and research alike. The department is also home to a long-standing Model UN program, which just celebrated its 40th anniversary; the Social & Behavioral Research Laboratory, which is home to the renowned Winthrop Poll; and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in Political Science. Our areas of need include: Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, Politics of Asia, Public Administration, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law:

Federalism, and Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Congress, The Presidency, Public Policy, Women and US Politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience and/or expertise in Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, and/or Politics of Asia

- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to teach research methods or experience in public opinion polling a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement
- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring.
- Specialization in areas among those listed above.
- Evidence of excellence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning.
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication.
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above.

Employment Conditions: A 9-month full-time tenure-track appointment with option of summer employment if funds are available. Salary is dependent upon qualifications. Pending final budgetary approval.

Position Availability: August 16, 2017

Application Deadline: Friday, November 11, 2016. Application materials received after the deadline date may be considered if an acceptable candidate has not been found.

Application Procedures:

1. Applications should consist of:
 - letter of application, including a statement of "teaching philosophy,"
 - curriculum vitae,
 - sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length),
 - evidence of excellence and commitment to student learning,
 - three professional letters of reference,
 - all graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment).
2. If you are attending the Annual Meeting of The American Political Science Association (APSA) in Philadelphia from September 1-4, please email Department Chair Dr. Jennifer Leigh Disney (disneyj@winthrop.edu) to schedule a meeting at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service.

3. Applications may be submitted electronically to the following address:

PLSCJobs@winthrop.edu
 Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science
 346 Bancroft Hall
 Winthrop University
 Rock Hill, SC 29733
 (803) 323-2209

Winthrop University is a public, comprehensive university located in Rock Hill, SC, 30 minutes south of Charlotte, NC, that is among the very best institutions of our kind in the nation. Through an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement, Winthrop University helps students develop the knowledge, skills, and values that will enrich their lives forever and prepare them for all that the future holds. Winthrop University has 5,000 undergraduate students and 1,000 graduate students. We have a diverse student population, which is 69% women and 36% students of color, and we have a 14 to 1 student/faculty ratio. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 11/11/2016
Date Posted: 8/28/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1917

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

Political Science: Assistant Professor in the area of comparative politics or international relations focusing on the politics of the Middle East for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor. The position will begin in the 2017-2018 academic year.

Searching for a colleague with teaching and research focusing on the politics of the Middle East who will develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching, conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship, provide institutional and professional service, and contribute to the undergraduate and MA program. The successful candidate will be an expert who studies some combination of the following in a Middle Eastern setting: governance, gender politics, human rights, conflict and conflict resolution (domestic and/or international), identity politics, trade and development, energy, water, agricultural, and natural resource issues, and/or environmental problems. The successful candidate will teach introductory and advanced courses at the undergraduate and graduate level in the area of expertise, including an upper-level course on Middle Eastern politics.

Required: PhD by date of appointment in Political Science or a related field.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=3238>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Patrick Haney at haneypj@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University is committed to equal opportunity, affirmative action, and eliminating discrimination and harassment. Miami University does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, military status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or protected veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, programs or employment practices. Requests for all reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

Miami University's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report with information on campus crime, fires, and safety may be found at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>. Hard copy available upon request. A criminal background check is required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free campuses.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1902

Cornell University

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor

The Department of Government at Cornell University welcomes applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of assistant professor. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization. A PhD is required no later than July 1, 2017.

Applicants should apply online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7719>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, and three letters of recommendation, as well as teaching evaluations and materials if available. We will begin to review applications starting September 15, 2016, and will continue until the search is complete. Diversity and inclusion have been and continue to be a part of our heritage. The Department of Government, and the College of Arts and Sciences at Cornell embrace diversity and seek candidates who will create a climate that attracts students and faculty of all races, nationalities and genders. We strongly encourage women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Cornell University is a recognized EEO/AA employer and educator.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1886

Drexel University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Global Studies and Politics
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy
Specializations: Middle East, Developing Nations, Conflict Processes

The Department of Global Studies and Modern Languages at Drexel University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Middle Eastern politics, beginning September 1, 2017. Positions are subject to final budgetary approval. The Department will consider applications at the Assistant Professor rank. Global Studies is a new, interdisciplinary department at Drexel University, building on existing strength in International Area Studies. This position will include a joint appointment with Drexel's Department of Politics, and teaching may be cross-listed with that department. Founded in 1891, Drexel University is a dynamic, comprehensive, co-op university located within walking distance of Center City Philadelphia.

We seek candidates who specialize in Middle Eastern politics, either from a Comparative or IR perspective. A background in peace studies and/or conflict resolution is a plus, although not required. Successful candidates will also be expected to pursue an active research agenda and to contribute to the Department's undergraduate curricula. This will include teaching and mentoring our outstanding undergraduate students, all of whom have foreign language proficiency and a broad, global outlook. We have a growing Arabic-language program and offer study abroad programs and co-op opportunities in conflict resolution and civic engagement.

All requirements for the PhD must be completed by September 1, 2017.

Candidates should include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) up to three samples of your scholarly writing; and 4) three letters of reference. Only applications submitted via Drexel's online system will be considered.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016 and continue until filled. Questions should be addressed to: Prof. Joel E. Oestreich, <jeo25@drexel.edu>.

Drexel University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, welcomes individuals from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, and believes that an inclusive and respectful environment enriches the University community and the educational and employment experience of its members. The University prohibits discrimination against individuals on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability, age, status as a veteran or special disabled veteran, gender identity or expression, genetic information, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions and any other prohibited characteristic. Please visit our website to view all University Policies and Workplace Postings.

Background investigations are required for all new hires as a condition of employment, after the job offer is made. Employment will be contingent upon the University's acceptance of the results of the background investigation.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1894

Instituto Tecnológico Autonomo de Mexico (ITAM)

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Political Economy, Regulatory Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Instituto Tecnológico Autonomo de Mexico (ITAM) invites applicants for a position at the assistant professor level in the Political Science Department, commencing in August 2017. This is an open field position with preference for candidates in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political-Economy, Methods (formal and quantitative), and Political Theory (contemporary political theory along with Comparative Politics or Social Choice). Candidates should preferably have a focus on regulatory politics, or policy evaluation.

ITAM is an academic institution committed to scientific excellence and oriented to the international academic community. Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to research and should possess a Ph.D. in political science, but ABDs will be considered if there is a reasonable expectation of completion by December 2016. Classes can be taught in Spanish or English. Salary and teaching loads are in accordance to U.S. standards. Candidates can interview at the 2016 APSA Meeting in Philadelphia.

Information about the Department can be found at: <http://departamentodecienciapolitica.itam.mx/es>

CONTACT: Prof. Vidal Romero, Political Science Department, ITAM, Rio Hondo # 1, Mexico City, D.F. 01800, Mexico; email: vromero@itam.mx.

Application Instructions: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research papers, research statement (2 page limit), and three letters of reference in pdf format to marta.cebollada@itam.mx by November 1, 2016.

For more information, phone: +52(55)5628-4000, x.3788.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1866

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Conflict Resolution)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship in any field of political science, with a research and teaching profile that will contribute to the department's highly successful Master of Arts Program in Conflict Resolution. The Conflict Resolution Program offers an innovative and rigorous curriculum encompassing the core skills and multidisciplinary knowledge needed to pursue diverse careers, both in the U.S. and abroad, related to conflict management and conflict resolution. Applicants should have the ability to field core courses in conflict resolution theory and research methodology. The department also has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching speak to conflict processes and their relationship to race/ethnicity, gender, youth, development, or media. A Ph.D. in political science in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7687>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Desha Girod (desha.girod@georgetown.edu). For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive before September 20, 2016, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/19/2016Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 1862Northwestern University*Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Methodology (Tenure-track)*Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the field of political methodology at the rank of assistant professor. The department seeks candidates who connect cutting-edge quantitative methodological issues to substantive debates in political science, particularly in domains related to comparative politics or international relations, and whose research trajectories connect with “big data” methods including machine learning, nonparametric statistics, and text as data methods. The successful applicant will teach a combination of graduate and undergraduate courses. Applications received by October 15, 2016, will be guaranteed full consideration. Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States. The proposed starting date is September 17, 2017. Applicants should provide a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission at www.polisci.northwestern.edu. * For questions and assistance, please contact Jill Decremer at j-rubin4@northwestern.edu.

*The online portal for accepting applications will be open in early September. Once it is available, the link will be posted.

Start Date: Fall 2017Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/19/2016Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 1858SUNY, Cortland*Rank: Assistant Professor*Specializations: Western Europe, International Security, Post Communist Europe

Start Date: Fall 2017; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specialization: European Politics, International Relations

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2017. A Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. The Department seeks a person able to teach comparative politics covering Western, Central, Eastern Europe, Russia, and the European Union. Expertise in international relations also. Responsibilities include teaching introductory courses, including Introduction to World Politics, Foundations of Democracy, and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum according to the instructor's expertise.

Course load is three courses per semester. Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of international experiential activities (e.g. coordination of Model EU simulation activity, study abroad, internships). SUNY Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College. We have a strong commitment to the affirmation of diversity and have interdisciplinary degree programs in the areas of Multicultural Studies.

Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts from most recent degree; and a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

SUNY Cortland is a predominantly undergraduate state college located in upstate New York with a total student population of over 7200. The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, concentration in Law and Justice, and B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

Applicants must apply online at: <http://www2.cortland.edu/offices/hr/jobs/> For more information, contact Department Chair, Political Science Department, SUNY Cortland, Box 2000, Cortland, NY 13045.

Start Date: Fall 2017Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 1852

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: William S. Dietrich Endowed Chair in Political Science
Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the inaugural William S. Dietrich II Endowed Chair in Political Science, with appointment to begin in the 2017-18 academic year, pending budgetary approval. The Chair is named in honor of the late Dr. William S. Dietrich II, a former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees who received his Ph.D. from the Department in 1984.

In filling this chair, and in keeping with the interests of Dr. Dietrich, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship in the fields of international relations or comparative politics, or whose interests cut across these and possibly other disciplinary subfields.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh currently consists of 25 tenure stream faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. The Department's NRC ranking has improved dramatically over the past decade, and presently ranks between 20th and 30th among Ph.D. granting departments. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Please submit a detailed cover letter and C.V. electronically at <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MTU3>. Additional information may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1780

Hope College

Rank: Tenure-Track Appointment in American and Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Hope College political science department invites applications for a tenure-track appointment beginning the 2017-18 academic year. We seek candidates who are equipped to offer courses in one or more of the following areas: American politics and institutions, comparative politics (open regional focus other than Africa), and research methods.

The position also includes exciting opportunities to participate in Hope's highly regarded Washington D.C. honors program. Candidates should have a demonstrated ability to combine teaching excellence with genuine scholarly promise, and should be committed to the character and mission of a liberal arts college firmly rooted in the Christian faith. PhDs and ABD candidates who have made substantial progress on the dissertation are encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

As part of the online application found at www.hope.edu/employment/faculty, candidates will upload the following documents: a cover letter including a paragraph clearly addressing the ways in which you will support the mission of Hope College (www.hope.edu/about/mission.html), a curriculum vitae, a description of your current research program, and a statement of your teaching experience and approach to teaching. Additionally, please arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent to jobs@hope.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 15th, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding the position may be directed to David Ryden, department chair, at ryden@hope.edu.

About Hope College

Hope College is a four-year liberal arts college where academic excellence and vibrant Christian faith join together in a supportive and welcoming community. Hope offers an academically rigorous, co-educational and residential education to 3,200 undergraduate students from more than 40 states and 45 countries. Affiliated with the Reformed Church in America since its founding in 1866, Hope College is known for its invitational ecumenical Christian atmosphere, friendly campus community, and well-balanced academic and co-curricular offerings. Hope's beautiful campus is located just steps from award-winning downtown Holland, Michigan and less than seven miles from Lake Michigan.

Hope College is recognized as a national leader in undergraduate research and scholarship and for providing exceptional professional preparation and life-changing educational experiences that equip our students for success after graduation. The college has consistently ranked among the nation's top liberal arts colleges and is featured in the book Colleges That Change Lives.

Hope College is financially sound, with more than 40 consecutive years of balanced budgets, an endowment of approximately $200 million and no deferred maintenance, and over $140 million invested in the construction of new facilities during the past 12 years. The college completed its newest buildings, the Kruienza Art Museum and the Jack H. Miller Center for Musical Arts, in 2015 and will open the Jim and Martie Bultman Student Center in 2017.

In 2015, Hope College launched its 10-year strategic plan, Hope for the World: 2025, which consists of six goals, focused on: academics; Christian formation; global engagement; community; reputation and influence; and value. Developed by the campus community, the strategic plan supports the college's mission, "to educate students for lives of leadership and service in a global society through academic and co-curricular programs of recognized excellence in the liberal arts and in the context of the historic Christian faith."

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1769

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics of the Middle East

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics of the Middle East to begin July 1, 2017.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire.

Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <http://apply.interfolio.com/35938>. Review of applications and nominations will begin September 5, 2016, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1719

Stockton University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Developing Nations, Political Development, Conflict Processes

Comparative Politics

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE, Tenure-Track.

Starting Date: September 2017

A New Jersey public institution with a distinctive interdisciplinary focus and a commitment to teaching excellence seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science specializing in Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will offer undergraduate courses in Introduction to Comparative Politics, advanced courses in Comparative Politics, a rotation of Introduction to Politics as well as interdisciplinary General Studies courses.

Ability to offer courses in one or more of the following areas is desired – Political Economy of Development, Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict, Politics in the Developing World, Gender and Politics, Environmental Politics, Comparative Law, Democratization, or Regional Integration. Regional focus is open.

Teaching load is three courses (12 credit hours) per semester with additional duties as negotiated under the collective bargaining agreement. Applicants with a Ph.D. in Political Science completed will be given preference, although ABD candidates in Political Science will be considered. Evidence of excellent teaching experience or a demonstrable pedagogical commitment to teaching excellence is required. A strong commitment to scholarly activity and service is also expected.

Salary is dependent upon experience. Review of applications will begin September 28, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Representatives of the Political Science program will conduct informational interviews with potential candidates at APSA in Philadelphia. Interested candidates should contact Tina Zappile (Tina.Zappile@stockton.edu) to request an informational interview (include an electronic copy of CV with interview request).

To apply please visit: <https://careers-stockton.icims.com/jobs>. Only electronic documents will be accepted. Please complete the on-line application, which will require submission of the following required documents. All required documents must be submitted in order for your application to move forward. You may upload documents using Word, PDF or Videos either as one single file or as individual attachments.

- 1) A letter of application describing qualifications and accomplishments
- 2) A curriculum vitae
- 3) Evidence of teaching excellence (student evaluations, course syllabi, teaching philosophy, professional development related to teaching)
- 4) Graduate transcripts
- 5) Three letters of recommendation/reference

- All offers of employment are contingent upon a favorable background check.
- Individuals with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact: Sharon Hunt, Recruitment Manager at 609-652-4384.
- Prospective employees may access the Annual Security Report for the University at www.stockton.edu/campuspolice or contact the Campus Police department at 609-652-4378 to request a hard copy of the report.
- Stockton University is an equal opportunity institution encouraging a diverse pool of applicants, visit: http://www.stockton.edu/affirmative_action.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1704

California State University, Chico

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice
Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Position: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the Assistant Professor level. The position begins August 2017.

Minimum Qualifications: The minimum education requirement for appointment to this position is a Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or other related discipline. Candidates nearing completion of the doctorate may be considered; however, the doctorate must be complete prior to the beginning of the academic year in August 2017. The successful candidate's first two fields of research and teaching will be International Relations and Comparative Politics, with an emphasis on conflict/security. The regional specialization will be either Latin America or Africa. The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in our Master's program by teaching graduate seminars, participating in MA thesis committees, and/or reading Master's comprehensive exams.

Preferred Qualifications: The ideal candidate will contribute to other programs in the department by teaching courses in areas such as research methods, terrorism and homeland security, or other courses that bridge our degree programs. Please see our current course catalog for a list of the department's course offerings: <http://catalog.csuchico.edu/viewer/16/POLS/offerings.html>

Responsibilities: This tenure-track position carries responsibilities in the areas of teaching, scholarship, and service to the Department and University. Teaching assignments are based upon qualifications of the individual and the needs of the department. The successful candidate should also demonstrate the following:

Commitment to and/or experience promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of individuals from diverse backgrounds

Salary: Salary commensurate with education and experience.

The Department: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice offers undergraduate degrees in political science (including an option in legal studies), criminal justice, international relations, and public administration, as well as Masters degrees in political science and public administration. We have an exciting curriculum, with numerous options to meet a host of academic interests, and an active and productive faculty committed to excellence in teaching and scholarship. Over 1,000 students major in our programs. Additional information about our Department is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/pols/>. Additional information about the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/bss/index.shtml>.

Closing Date: Review of applications will begin on October 14, 2016, and continue until the position is filled.

How to Apply: All applicants must online apply at: <http://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/3718>

Complete online applications must include: CV, complete set of transcripts (unofficial acceptable), writing sample and teaching evaluations (if available). Three letters of recommendation MUST be submitted to the search committee chair at the email below.

Submit letters of recommendation and job-related questions to:
Dr. Jennifer Wilking, Chair
International Relations Search Committee
jwilking@csuchico.edu
(530)898-5960

An annual security report disclosing crime statistics for CSU, Chico can be obtained by contacting the University Police Department (530-898-5555) or by accessing the following website: http://www.csuchico.edu/up/clery_report.shtml

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

For disability related accommodations please call ADA Coordinator at (530) 898-5959.

CSU, Chico is an EOE/Minority/Females/Vet/Disability and only employs individuals authorized to work in the U.S. The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1639

Denison University

Rank: Pre- or Post-Doctoral Fellow

Specializations: China, South Asia, Japan

The Department of Political Science at Denison University, a highly selective liberal arts college, invites applications for a two-year pre- or post-doctoral Fellowship appointment beginning Spring 2017 or Fall 2017. One-time funding allows the Department of Political Science to offer a unique opportunity for a beginning scholar to gain valuable experience in the classroom with a reduced teaching load. We invite applications from either advanced ABDs or recent degree recipients who specialize in Comparative Politics, with regional expertise in Asia. Advanced ABDs should be at the revision stage or near completion of their dissertations to apply for a pre-doctoral Fellowship. The Fellow will be asked to teach an introduction to comparative politics of developing areas course and upper division courses in the Fellow's area of expertise and research.

The successful candidate will have broad training in political science and significant interest in undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting. Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate interest in teaching and a strong commitment to excellent teaching. The prospective teacher-scholar will gain valuable teaching experience in a liberal arts setting, mentoring from faculty colleagues, and benefit from the intellectual life of the campus.

Denison offers extensive support for faculty, including professional-development funding, opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, and a range of workshops and other opportunities to cultivate our strengths as teacher-scholars. Salary is $50,000 per annum. Full health care benefits, plus a generous stipend for research are provided as well.

Applications must be submitted online at: <https://employment.denison.edu> and should include: letter of application; curriculum vitae; contact information for three letters of reference; statement addressing the candidate's teaching interests and scholarly agenda [including estimated time frame of completion of the dissertation for pre-doctoral candidates]; transcript [official or unofficial]; at least two sample syllabi that reflect the kinds of courses the candidate would teach, e.g. a lower division introductory course in politics of developing states and an upper division course in Asian politics. Applicants should also indicate whether they will be available for an interview at the annual APSA meeting in Philadelphia PA September 1-2, 2016. The department will consider alternative interview arrangements (e.g. Skype, FaceTime) for candidates who are not attending APSA. To ensure full consideration, completed applications must be received by September 16, 2016.

Denison University is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2100 students from across the nation and around the world. Our college is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty. Granville is located just 30 minutes from Columbus, our state capital and a city with a thriving night life and award winning cuisine. Columbus is the 15th largest metro area in the United States. To achieve our mission as a liberal arts college, we continually strive to foster a diverse campus community, which recognizes the value of all persons regardless of religion, race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability, or socio-economic background.

For additional information and resources about diversity at Denison please see our Diversity Guide at <http://denison.edu/forms/diversity-guide>. Denison University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

For information, please contact:

Katy Crossley-Frolick, Chair
Department of Political Science
Denison University
Granville, OH 43023
frolickk@denison.edu

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/14/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1622

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for one tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2017. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. We are especially interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of democratic representation, particularly as it relates to the study of underrepresented minorities, either in the U.S. or cross-nationally.

Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by November 1, 2017. The application deadline is September 15, 2016, but applications will be accepted until the search is closed. All applications should be submitted electronically via <https://jobs.rice.edu/> (from this page, select "Faculty," then choose "Assistant Professor of Political Science" or "Associate Professor of Political Science," according to your level). A complete application for candidates at the assistant professor level will include (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) two writing samples, and (5) three letters of recommendation. Candidates who currently hold the rank of associate professor are asked to submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and information for at least three references.

Equal Opportunity Employer – Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 9/15/2016

Date Posted: 7/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1611

University of Redlands

Rank: Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for the Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017 semester.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (American Politics or Comparative Politics with U.S. expertise), with at least five years of professional experience, preferably at a liberal arts institution. We especially welcome applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position.

Please submit application materials (including letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, samples of scholarly work, and three letters of reference, under separate cover) electronically at apply@redlands.edu or mail to: Human Resources, University of Redlands, PO Box 3080, Redlands CA 92373-0999. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2016, and position will remain open until filled.

Inquiries can be directed to steve_wuhs@redlands.edu, including requests for interview at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Philadelphia, PA.

The University of Redlands is committed to increasing the diversity of the university community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and/or experiences in the area of inclusivity. Strongly preferred are candidates with demonstrated experience working with diverse student populations. The University of Redlands is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Employer and actively encourages applications from minority and other members of underrepresented groups. The University of Redlands does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, disability, age, marital status, or sexual orientation in its programs and activities.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2016

Date Posted: 7/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1593

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Latin America)

The Political Science Department at Dickinson College seeks applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. Successful applicants will have expertise, and be able to teach courses, in aspects of Latin American Politics. Tenure-track faculty at Dickinson teach a five-course load.

Dickinson College values interdisciplinary teaching and learning, and many in the Department teach and research outside traditional disciplinary boundaries. The successful candidate will be expected to support the College's interdisciplinary program in Latin American, Latino & Caribbean Studies.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC and Philadelphia.

The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically via <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>. Please include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample, three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Please address questions to department chair Ed Webb via webbe@dickinson.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1574

Bridgewater State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

The Political Science Department invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall semester 2017 at the level of assistant professor. The successful applicant will be a broadly trained political scientist with a primary field of comparative politics. The candidate will be expected to develop courses in comparative public administration, comparative public policy and political economy. An ability to teach introduction to American government would be an asset. Earned Ph.D., commitment to teaching excellence, and evidence of scholarly activity in the field of political science, public administration, or public policy are required.

Applicants should be strongly committed to excellence in teaching and advising, and to working in a multicultural environment that fosters diversity. They should also have an ability to use technology effectively in teaching and learning, the ability to work collaboratively, evidence of scholarly activity, and a commitment to public higher education. Candidates with quantitative and/or qualitative methodological skills preferred. Interested applicants should apply online at the following url:

https://jobs.bridgew.edu/postings/search?&query=&query_v0_posted_at_date=&query_position_type_id=&435=&query_organizational_tier_3_id=any&1426=3&commit=Search

Review of applications will begin October 17.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1567

Moravian College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Foreign Policy, Conflict Processes

The Political Science Department at Moravian College invites applications for a full time, tenure track position commencing in August 2017. Candidates should be prepared to offer a broad array of classes in international relations such as American Foreign Policy, Human Rights, International Law and Organization, International Security and Conflict Resolution. Candidates should also be prepared to teach courses that entail a geographic specialization with the area being open (e.g., Africa, Latin America, Middle East and the Islamic world etc.) except for Europe and Asia. Candidates should also be prepared to teach in the College's First Year Student Seminar Program with the subject matter for the seminar being at the discretion of the instructor. Ph. D. is expected by time of appointment.

Moravian College is a selective residential liberal arts college located in Bethlehem, PA with a proud tradition of providing an outstanding education in the liberal arts and sciences for men and women. Moravian College highly values excellence in teaching as well as scholarship and seeks to nurture the development of its students through strong personal interactions with its teaching faculty. The College is approximately an hour and a half from New York City and an hour from Philadelphia and is one of six members of the Lehigh Valley Association of Independent Colleges consortium.

Moravian College values diversity, strives to attract qualified women and minority candidates, and encourages individuals belonging to these groups to apply. Moravian seeks to ensure diversity by its policy of employing persons without regard to age, sex, color, race, creed religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation or gender identity.

Applications should be submitted electronically to searchpolsci@moravian.edu. Application materials should include letter of application, current curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of effective teaching, a statement of research plans, and three letters of recommendation with contact information for each reference. Review of application materials will begin July 1 and will continue until the end of October.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/15/2016

Date Posted: 6/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1531

Furman University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Furman University invites applications for an open rank tenure-track appointment in comparative politics to begin Fall 2017. The candidate's teaching responsibilities will include introductory courses in comparative politics and upper level courses in the area of Middle East politics. The ability to teach a Politics of Africa course and/or an introductory course in research methodology is a strong plus. S/he must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching and excellence in scholarship.

Furman University is a private, selective liberal arts college of about 2,700 residential students located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is situated in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Greenville has a thriving downtown and international community and is within a short driving distance of Charlotte, Atlanta, and Asheville. The Department of Political Science has 15 full-time members. Normal teaching responsibilities are five courses, spread over two terms, typically including two or three introductory courses and two or three upper level courses.

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. We will also meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association convention in Philadelphia, PA. To apply please go to <https://jobs.furman.edu/postings/5738> . For any questions please contact the chairperson of the search committee Dr. Akan Malici at akan.malici@furman.edu. Furman University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. Furman offers employment benefits to domestic partners of employees.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1505

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Nazareth College of Rochester

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The History and Political Science Department at Nazareth College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment in Comparative Politics and International Relations (or IR) to begin in August 2017.

The successful applicant will teach introductory courses in political science, comparative politics and international relations, as well as upper-division electives focused on the politics of the region in which the candidate specializes.

Region of expertise is open, but preference will be given to candidates with a background in Africa or the Middle East and who can contribute to our well established programs in International Studies, Women and Gender Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, and other interdisciplinary minors focused on global issues and culture. The standard teaching load is three to four courses per semester.

Ph.D. in political science is expected at the time of employment. ABD candidates may be considered if they anticipate successful defense of their dissertation by February 2018.

Applicants must attach a CV, Cover Letter and Teaching Philosophy to the online application <https://jobs.naz.edu/postings/1380>. In addition, applicants must submit three letters of recommendation to tkneela8@naz.edu .

Review of applications begins on December 10, 2016.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2320

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, Innovation, Science, and Technology Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego invites applications for an Associate or Full Professor, Innovation, Science, and Technology Policy to begin July 1st, 2017.

Applicants should be PhD graduates with an outstanding record in a PhD program and an expertise in one of the following fields: engineering and public policy, environmental regulation, or technological change and innovation. Applicants must have a PhD conferred or completed by July 1st, 2017.

GPS has a special interest in candidates who can research and teach in science and technology policy with an international or comparative focus, including scholarship and teaching that pertains to one of the regional areas of the Pacific Rim, broadly defined to include Asia and Latin America. Additionally, GPS has an interest in engineers or scientists whose research is substantially concerned with public policy, such as policies related to innovation, environmental regulation or other important policy topics.

The successful candidate will have the ability to build a research and teaching program on technology and public policy at GPS and have demonstrated the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity and commitment to diversity. The successful candidate may also develop rich links to other UCSD units, notably the Jacobs School of Engineering.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service, and contribute to--and participate in--our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

Applications will be reviewed on December 1, 2016.

To apply:

Candidates should submit: curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching ; three (3) contacts for reference; and a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>).

All applicant materials should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01266>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2316

University of Ottawa

Rank: Tenure-track Position in Global Security

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, Defense

Graduate School of Public and International Affairs

Faculty of Social Sciences

University of Ottawa

Full-Time Faculty Position (preference at the rank of Assistant but open to all ranks)

The Faculty of Social Sciences comprises nine departments, schools and institutes, which offer undergraduate, Master's and doctoral programs in both English and French. With its 10,000 students, 260 full-time professors, and wide array of programs and research centres, the Faculty of Social Sciences plays a key role at the heart of the University of Ottawa. Its graduate students are supervised by excellent researchers and undertake cutting-edge research in the Faculty's Master's and Ph.D. programs.

The Graduate School of Public and International Affairs at the University of Ottawa is accepting applications for one (1) tenure-track position.

Priority will be given to candidates who can demonstrate expertise, a strong research and publication record in the area of Global Security.

The department is interested in candidates with expertise in:

- Security and defence
- Terrorism and Asymmetrical Violence
- Human Security
- Conflict, Human Rights and International Law

The department also welcomes candidates working at the intersection of area studies and security studies.

DUTIES

- Conducting research and publishing activities
- Teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels (including on our Conflict Studies and Human Rights degree)
- Supervising Master's and Ph.D. candidates
- Participating in the University's academic and administrative activities
- Other activities as specified in the collective agreement

QUALIFICATIONS

- Hold a Ph.D. in a relevant field (candidates who are close to completing a Ph.D. could be considered);
- Demonstrate excellence or the potential for excellence in teaching and research;
- Strength of publication and research track record in the field.
- An ability to teach in French is essential.
- An ability to teach in both official languages is desirable.

BILINGUALISM

The University of Ottawa is a bilingual institution and all professors in the Faculty of Social Sciences must be actively bilingual to obtain tenure. The University of Ottawa offers second-language training to staff members and their spouses.

TERMS AND SALARY

Tenure-track position. Assistant professor salary scale commensurate at C$80,673.

STARTING DATE

July 1st, 2017

LOCATION OF WORK

Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, University of Ottawa, 120 University, Ottawa, ON, K1N 6N5, Canada

BENEFITS PACKAGE

The University of Ottawa provides a complete compensation package which includes long term disability, basic group life insurance, supplementary health insurance, University of Ottawa Pension Plan and optional life insurance.

Consideration of applications will begin on November 25th, 2016 and will continue until the position is successfully filled.

Applicants must submit their curriculum vitae and a letter indicating their teaching and research experience and interests. They must also indicate their French and English language abilities and submit copies of their main publications. Applicants must also request that three referees send letters of recommendation under separate cover.

All information and letters are to be sent directly to:

Gilles Breton
Director, Graduate School of Public and International Affairs
Faculty of Social Sciences (FSS6005), University of Ottawa
120 University, Ottawa, ON K1N 6N5, Canada

E-mail: api@uOttawa.ca

All qualified candidates are invited to apply; however, preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. The University of Ottawa is an equal opportunity employer. We strongly encourage applications from women, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities. If you are invited to continue the selection process, please notify us of any particular adaptive measures you might require by contacting the Office of the Associate Vice-President, Faculty Affairs at 613-562-5958. Any information you send us will be handled respectfully and in complete confidence.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 11/25/2016

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2321

University of Alabama

Rank: International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applications at the Assistant (tenure-track) or Associate (tenured) Professor level in International Relations beginning August 16, 2017. The successful candidate should have a strong research agenda with a clear plan for peer-reviewed scholarly publication. The University of Alabama is the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system, and offers the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees in Political Science. A completed Ph.D. in political science is required for appointment at the level of Assistant Professor. The position is open with regard to theoretical approach and substantive interest: we welcome applications from scholars using any combination of positive, normative, critical, explanatory, formal, or interpretive methods. That said, candidates should complement the expertise of the department's current faculty: applications from candidates with an ability to teach international organizations, international political economy, human rights, international law, political sociology, and civil-military relations are especially welcome. The candidate would also be expected to take an active role in the department's graduate program. To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu> and complete the online application. Attach a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, samples of publications and papers, and teaching evaluations, if available. Applicants should state in their letters whether they are applying at the assistant or associate professor level. Applicants at the assistant professor level should upload a transcript of graduate work and send three letters of recommendation directly to: International Relations Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213, or via email at apatrick@ua.edu. Applicants at the associate level should submit the names of three references to the same address. For more information, contact Karl DeRouen Jr., Search Committee Chair, at karl.derouen@ua.edu. We will begin reviewing applications on December 5, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 12/5/2016

Date Posted: 10/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2304

Yale University

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship in Political Economy, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The MacMillan Center, Yale University

The Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy at Yale invites applications for a post-doctoral position for AY 2017-2018. Candidates must have a robust research program in political economy, broadly construed, and must have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

The Post-doctoral Associate will teach one course during the year, either in the Fall or the Spring semester, pursue his/her own research, and participate in the activities of the Leitner program. Post-doctoral Associates are expected to be in residence from August 2017 to May 2018.

We will begin accepting applications immediately with review beginning on Thursday, December 15, 2016 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Compensation is competitive, and includes benefits and health coverage. We expect to be able to cover a junior scholar's salary for the full academic year and up to half of a senior scholar's salary. Senior scholars who will be taking leave from their home institution to accept the fellowship should indicate salary requirements and whether they expect to receive salary support from their university or outside sources.

To apply, send a cover letter, CV, research statement and a draft of a syllabus of a course you propose to teach at Yale. You'll also need to have three letters of recommendation submitted on your behalf.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/38382>

Ms. Hira Jafri, Program Manager, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: hira.jafri@yale.edu. For details on the Leitner program, please consult the website: <http://www.yale.edu/leitner>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2303

Gettysburg College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – International Relations

Position Summary:

Gettysburg College invites applications for a one year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Political Science with the possibility of a second year contingent on available funding beginning August 2017.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a commitment to teaching in the liberal arts tradition and show potential for scholarly engagement. The Department of Political Science seeks candidates in the subfield of International Relations with interests in U.S. Foreign Policy, National and International Security and International Organization. The successful candidate is expected to offer introductory and advanced courses in these two subfields. A Ph.D. in political science or ABD status is required. The teaching load is 3/3.

Application Details:

Applicants should apply online at: <http://gettysburg.peopleadmin.com/postings/1888>. A curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, transcripts, and a separate statement of the applicant's teaching philosophy should be submitted. In addition, applicants should enter the names and email addresses of three professional references. After the applicant completes his/her on-line application, the professional references indicated will be contacted by Gettysburg College via email to submit letters of recommendation electronically. At least one of the letters of recommendation must address the applicant's teaching effectiveness.

Review of applications will begin immediately, and will continue until a successful candidate is found. Application materials must be received by December 15, 2016 for full consideration. Inquiries can be addressed to Dr. Donald Borock at dborock@gettysburg.edu.

Gettysburg College, an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal, state, local laws and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and admission. The College prohibits discrimination and harassment, and provides equal opportunity without regard to race, ethnicity, color, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital/familial status, possession of a General Education Development Certificate (GED) as compared to a high school diploma, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, sex, age, or genetic information in all aspects of employment, educational programs, activities, and admissions. Pursuant to Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972, Gettysburg College prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex (i.e., which includes but is not limited to the prohibition of sexual misconduct and relationship violence, including sexual assault and harassment) in all of its educational programs and activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/15/2016

Date Posted: 10/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2302

University of Rochester

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowship in international and Central European politics in the Skalny Center/ Department of Political Science

Applications for 2017-18 are welcome in any area of international or comparative politics, but preference will be given to applicants whose work focuses on Central and Eastern Europe, broadly defined. Fellows offer two courses during the academic year and receive a stipend of $42,000. Applicants without a Ph.D. should describe their plans for completing the degree by the time the fellowship commences.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a 3-5 page research project description, a one-page sketch of proposed courses, one or more writing samples, and three letters of recommendation to: Fellowship in International and Central European Politics, Skalny Center for Polish and Central European Studies, University of Rochester, Harkness Hall 101, Rochester, New York 14627-0147. Applications must be postmarked by Dec . 15, 2016. Direct questions to Dr. Bozena Sobolewska, bsobolew@mail.rochester.edu, or 585-275-9898.

The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to principles of diversity, and actively encourages applications from members of groups underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2300

Wake Forest University

Rank: African Politics and African/International Studies

African Politics and African/International Studies – Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and International Affairs of Wake Forest University invites applications for a tenure-track position in African Politics and International Studies beginning in the 2017-2018 academic year. The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor level and will involve teaching and research interests in the area(s) of the politics of Sub-Saharan Africa, international, and/or comparative politics. Included in this teaching load will be courses offered for interdisciplinary minors in African Studies and International Studies. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, undergraduate teaching, and mentoring. The most competitive candidates will have their PhD in hand at time of appointment. Applicants should submit the following materials through the on-line site identified below by January 6, 2017:

- a cover letter directed to Dr. Katy Harriger (harriger@wfu.edu), Chair, Department of Politics and International Affairs;
- curriculum vitae;
- graduate transcripts;
- a statement of research program;
- a statement of teaching philosophy;
- course outlines;
- teaching evaluation summaries.

Applicants must make arrangements to have three confidential letters of recommendation sent to letters@wfu.edu. Otherwise, letters and additional documents can be uploaded in OpenHire (2413-141). When applying, please refer to tracking number.

For complete details and to apply, go to <http://wakejobs.silkroad.com/> or call (336) 758-4700. The submission of an online application for Wake Forest University is required for this position. Questions about the application process may be addressed to wakejobs@wfu.edu. Wake Forest University is an equal opportunity employer. Wake Forest University values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2291

Gardner-Webb University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in International Relations

The Department of Social Sciences at Gardner-Webb University seeks a qualified individual for a tenure track appointment as Assistant Professor of Political Science in International Relations beginning August 2017.

The teaching load is four courses per semester. Teaching duties will include general education Global Understanding courses, and upper-level courses such as International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Foreign Policy, and regional politics courses. We welcome a broadly trained candidate whose teaching interests cover any of the following: security studies, diplomacy, American foreign policy, globalization, international law, foreign policy analysis, or theories of international politics. Comparative background in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and/or the Middle East is welcomed.

The selected candidate will coordinate the Global Studies program, an interdisciplinary major grounded in Political Science.

We strongly value a candidate with demonstrated strengths, experience, or interest in developing students' disciplinary engagement, professional development, and personal growth outside the classroom. Opportunities are available for those interested in working with the department's non-curricular programs including: Model UN, the Pre-Law Society, a Pi Alpha Sigma honors society, internship development, study abroad opportunities, etc.

Gardner-Webb University is a private institution founded by North Carolina Baptists in 1905 and employs individuals who participate in and are committed to the university's academic and spiritual goals. The school is located in the foothills of North Carolina with easy access to Charlotte, Asheville, and Greenville-Spartanburg. Salary and benefits are competitive with institutions of similar size and purpose.

Submit application materials via email to searchpolisci@gardnerwebb.edu. A completed profile should include a letter of application, CV, official transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including syllabi), and a statement of how the candidate's personal faith connects with the mission of Christian higher education. These and three letters of reference (under separate cover) should be electronically submitted via email.

Review of applicants will begin after October 15, 2016. Applications by women and minorities are highly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2282

Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations (Intl Security - Global Governance)

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (IBEI) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in International Relations. We are particularly interested in recruiting someone with a special interest in the area of international security or global governance. The successful candidate is expected to start in September 2017. A five-year contract will be offered. A performance review for tenure will normally be undertaken at the end of the fourth year, or potentially earlier for candidates who already have a strong publication record.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. degree, and must show a promising record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or major scholarly presses. They should have obtained their Ph.D. degree in the five years prior to their application. Excellent inter-personal skills and an ability to contribute to collaborative research projects are also essential for this position. Assistant Professors are expected to teach in IBEI's Master's degree programmes (teaching in English) and to participate in IBEI's activities and research programmes.

Applications must be submitted by December 20, 2016. Applicants should send a letter of interest; a complete curriculum vitae; a sample of previous research (two papers); an outline of a proposed research agenda; and two letters of recommendation. Please send these documents by e-mail to Mr. Carlos Sanchez, research coordinator at IBEI (csanchez@ibei.org).

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals is a graduate teaching and research institution created by five universities in Barcelona (the University of Barcelona, the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Pompeu Fabra University, the Open University of Catalonia, and the Technical University of Catalonia). IT supports research in the fields of international political economy, international relations, international security, foreign policy and comparative politics. IBEI is an equal opportunities employer. Further information about IBEI and its Master's programmes can be obtained at <http://www.ibei.org>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2281

California State University Dominguez Hills

Rank: International Relations

Assistant Professor of International Relations
College of Natural & Behavioral Sciences

The faculty of Political Science at California State University, Dominguez Hills (CSUDH) invite applications from individuals for the position of tenure-track Assistant Professor of International Relations, effective fall 2017. All theoretical approaches are welcome. Expertise in Quantitative Methodology, including the ability and willingness to teach and perform research utilizing Quantitative Methods, is required. A secondary interest in area studies (open area) is preferred. Teaching and scholarship are the primary responsibilities. Committee work and community engagement are also valued.

Responsibilities

The selected candidate will be responsible for teaching, performing service on departmental and university-wide bases, publishing research in peer-reviewed academic journals relevant to the discipline of political science/the subfield of International Relations, maintaining office hours, and providing advising for our majors and minors, help direct a successful, team-run Model U.N. program, and participate with colleagues in curricular development.

Department of Political Science

The Political Science Department is located in the College of Natural and Behavioral Sciences. The current faculty is comprised of four tenured and tenure-track faculty joined by 9 to 11 part-time faculty each term. Political Science provides excellent opportunities for the study of government and politics. Over 40 courses cover all the major aspects of the discipline. Students develop an understanding of human behavior as it relates to politics. They learn to discuss and analyze critically current public policy issues facing the United States and the world. They are taught how to critically observe and understand world affairs and comparative politics. They are trained in appropriate research techniques for the study of political processes. The General Political Science Concentration is a relatively "open" one, allowing students to choose from a wide range of courses and subjects within a general framework. It is designed for students seeking broad exposure to the diverse subjects of the discipline and is recommended for most students.

The Department offers a general major composed of core courses in Quantitative Research Methods, History of Political Thought, American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations. Additionally, majors select breadth courses in American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations along with five elective courses selected from Departmental offerings. Majors must complete the Capstone Research Exercise (comprised of a major research paper) in one of the elective courses. The department offers internship opportunities at the national, California government and local government levels. The Department sponsors an active student organization (APSS, the Association of Political Science Students) and a successful Model United Nations (MUN) program for students.

For more information see: <http://www4.csudh.edu/political-science/index>

Qualifications

Background Checks

The successful candidate is required to complete a thorough background check and the employment offer can be rescinded if the background check reveals disqualifying or falsified information.

Minimum Qualifications

- A PhD or ABD in Political Science or a closely related field from an accredited institution of higher education
- Research experience
- Teaching experience or training in teaching techniques.
- A strong interest in developing new courses to reflect the changing nature of the international system and developments in the discipline of Political Science.
- An interest in developing community outreach and external relations with the public and private sector.
- Experience and/or ability in teaching undergraduates from diverse age, socioeconomic, cultural, and academic backgrounds.

Preferred Qualifications

- Teaching and research interest in International Relations
- Expertise in Quantitative Methodology
- Secondary interest in area studies
- Ability and willingness to teach, and perform research utilizing, Quantitative Methodology
- An interest in student-involved research

The University

CSU Dominguez Hills was established in 1960 and is one of the 23 campuses that comprise the California State University system. CSU Dominguez Hills is a comprehensive public university located in the South Bay region of the greater Los Angeles metropolitan area. With approximately 300 full-time faculty, the University serves a culturally rich, diverse student body of approximately 15,000 students in an urban setting.

How to Apply

While the position will remain open until filled, review of applications will begin on November 20, 2016

Register your online application/s at https://my.csudh.edu/psp/paaprd/EMPLOYEE/HDHPRD/c/HRS_HRAM.HRS_CE.GBL and have the following documents as a single file by November 19, 2016.

- Current Curricula Vitae
- Cover letter
- List of three references with contact information
- A Statement on Teaching
- A Statement on Research
- Sample Publications (if available)
- Teaching Evaluations (if available)

Instructions on how to submit a single document link:

<http://www4.csudh.edu/Assets/CSUDH-Sites/HR/docs/External-Applicant-FAQs-final.pdf>

Applicants that are selected to move forward in the recruitment process will be notified by the Search Committee when to submit their three letters of recommendation and official transcripts directly to Salvatore J. Russo at srusso@csudh.edu, or you may mail directly to:

Salvatore J. Russo
Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science
CSU, Dominguez Hills
1000 East Victoria Street
Carson, CA 90747

California State University, Dominguez Hills, is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status.

Individuals with disabilities requesting accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) may call the CSU Dominguez Hills Human Resources Office (310) 243-3771 or the Academic Affairs Personnel Services Office at (310) 243-3766.

Clery Act crime statistics for CSUDH are available at <http://www.csudh.edu/dhpd/>, or by calling University Police at (310) 243-3693.

Upon appointment all candidates must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S.

Start Date: Fall 2016

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2280

Birmingham-Southern College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Gender Politics & Policy

Birmingham-Southern College seeks candidates with demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduate courses for two tenure-track

positions beginning August 2017. Broadly-trained candidates with strong quantitative methodological and/or GIS skills are preferred. Subfield and regional specialization are open, as are areas of scholarly focus. Passion to teach at least three of the following courses is required: American Government/Politics, Public Policy, Statistics, Research Methodology, Women in Politics, Comparative or American Political Behavior, and/or Introduction to Global and Comparative Studies.

The teaching load is 3-1-3 including an interim term in January. During January, professors offer unique, innovative, experiential, and/or travel courses.

Applicants should hold a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field by August 2017. In addition to service to the College and dedication to sustaining and enhancing a rigorous political science curriculum, preferred candidates will be able to contribute to at least two additional established and/or emerging programs: Global and Comparative Studies, Urban Environmental Studies, Human Rights and Conflict Studies, Public Health, Poverty Studies, Creative and Applied Computing, Gender and Women Studies, and Media and Film Studies.

Birmingham-Southern College (BSC) is a selective residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 1,300 undergraduate students. BSC is included in Pope's Colleges that Change Lives and is a sheltering institution for Phi Beta Kappa. The College's curriculum is based on close faculty-student interaction in teaching, advising, and research. For more on the College's faculty, students, educational mission, and national reputation, visit www.bsc.edu.

Birmingham-Southern College is located just minutes from downtown Birmingham, the largest city in Alabama and a leading hub for banking and medical research in the Southeast. There are six higher education institutions; a symphony; a ballet; the largest art museum in the Southeast; and numerous opportunities for outdoor adventure and recreational activities.

Review of applicants will begin immediately. Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, copies of graduate transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Email applications are preferred at pssearch@bsc.edu.

BSC is an equal opportunity employer and is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their teaching, research, and/or service to the diversity and excellence of Birmingham-Southern College. BSC complies with the Alabama Child Protection Act and E-Verify EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2263

Clarkson University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Clarkson University is the nationally ranked research institution of choice for more than 3,400 enterprising, high-ability undergraduate and graduate students who launch remarkably successful careers.

The Humanities and Social Sciences Department at Clarkson University invites applicants to apply for the position of Assistant Professor.

This position is an entry-level tenure track appointment in International Relations or Comparative Politics to begin in August 2017. The successful candidate must be able to teach introductory level courses as well as courses in her/his area of expertise, which could include a regional focus. Applicants should bring a lively interest in contributing to the programmatic development of one or more of Clarkson's intra-school emphases in environmental sustainability and the health sciences, or to the university's goals of international and global outreach.

The ordinary teaching load is three courses (usually two preparations) per semester, including each fall two sections of a first-year, writing-intensive course focused on a theme of the applicant's choosing. There is ample opportunity for course development in electives. The successful candidate will have evidence of excellence in scholarship and teaching. PhD required by August 1, 2017. Minimum qualifications include PhD in political science with emphasis on International Relations or Comparative Politics. Some teaching experience and scholarly productivity.

Review of applications will begin January 15, 2017 and continues until the position is filled. To submit your application, go to www.clarkson.edu/hr and click "Career Opportunities" on the left hand navigation bar. An equal opportunity /affirmative action employer, Clarkson actively seeks and encourages applications from minorities, women and people with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2268

Koç University

Rank: Full-time faculty position

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Other

Faculty Position in Political Science and International Relations
KOÇ UNIVERSITY, Istanbul, Turkey

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Koç University invites applications for one or possibly more full time faculty positions starting in September 2017. We are especially looking for candidates with a specialization in political theory, but we will also consider outstanding candidates from other subfields of political science, giving special consideration to candidates with cross-field interests and to candidates specializing in international law, norms, and institutions. Rank will be open given outstanding and active long-term research agenda. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The group of Political Science and International Relations at Koç offers an undergraduate degree and two highly competitive graduate programs, granting an MA and a PhD in Political Science and International Relations. More on the faculty can be found at: <http://case.ku.edu.tr/intl/home>

Candidates should have a Ph.D. from an accredited university, a record of demonstrated research accomplishments and reputation commensurate with rank, and an interest in contributing to the scholarly life of our group. All candidates are expected to have a PhD degree prior to the time of appointment in September 2017.

Koç University is a private, nonprofit institution located in Istanbul, Turkey. The University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. The medium of instruction at Koç University is English. Admission to the University is extremely selective. For general information, please refer to the Koç University web page at: <http://www.ku.edu.tr>

We plan to interview a short list of candidates beginning mid-December 2016 through early February, 2017. Interested applicants should mail the following by November 30th, 2016:

- 1) a letter of application,
- 2) curriculum vitae,
- 3) a research portfolio including samples of published and/or unpublished writing and a summary of future research plans
- 3) a teaching portfolio including syllabi of courses taught and teaching evaluations, and
- 4) three recommendation letters to:

Office of the Dean
(c/o Mrs. Vildan Ertugrul)
College of Administrative Sciences and Economics
Koc University
Rumeli Feneri Yolu, Sariyer 34450
Istanbul, TURKEY
E-Mail: vertugrul@ku.edu.tr
Phone: (90-212) 338-1330

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 11/30/2016
Date Posted: 10/20/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2224

University of Southern California

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The USC Center for International Studies invites applications for the one-year Hayward R. Alker Postdoctoral Fellowship. CIS invites applications from scholars who specialize in international relations and political science. The fellow is expected to actively participate in related activities of the academic community. There is no teaching requirement for this position. The fellowship is open to junior scholars, who have received a Ph.D. within the last five years.

The one-year fellowship will begin in August, 2017. The Center will provide a salary, office space, computer support, USC library privileges, health insurance, and $1,000 each towards moving and research expenses.

Application requirements:

1. Curriculum vitae
2. Research proposal (single-spaced, 3-5 pages)
3. Writing sample (less than 50 pages)
4. Official graduate transcript
5. Three letters of recommendation (sent directly from referees)

Applications should be submitted via the online application portal (see link below). All materials must be received no later than January 13, 2017.

Link to online announcement: <https://dornsife.usc.edu/cis/postdoc/>

Link to online application portal: <https://goo.gl/forms/PzcVRwzAeiHYKI0M2>

Further inquiries should be directed to CIS Associate Director Cort Brinkerhoff: mcbrinke@usc.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 1/13/2017
Date Posted: 10/20/2016
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 2266

College of William & Mary

Rank: Adjunct lecturer of international relations

The Department of Government at the College of William & Mary is seeking an adjunct lecturer for the Spring 2017 semester to teach 2 sections of Introduction to International Politics. Each section is capped at 35 students.

The course is designed to introduce students to the theory and practice of international politics. The course will consider the international system of states and the bases of national power and will also address the role of other actors in the international system including international organizations, private companies, and NGOs. Finally, the course introduces students to the basic tools of analysis that are used by political science to describe and explain the political world.

A Master's degree in political science or a closely related field is required. A PhD or ABD in political science is preferred at the time appointment begins. Previous academic teaching experience is desirable.

Logistics:

Section 1: Tuesday/Thursday 12:30 - 1:50 pm

Section 2: Tuesday/Thursday 2:00 - 3:20 pm

Pay: $5,000/section = $10,000 total

How to apply: <https://jobs.wm.edu/postings/26136>

Information on the Department of Government: <http://www.wm.edu/as/government/>

The College of William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

Start Date: Spring 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/19/2016
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 2264

Columbia University

Rank: Visiting Professor

Columbia University invites applications for two István Deák Visiting Professorships in East Central European Studies for one semester each (Fall or Spring) in the academic year 2017-2018. The professorship, commemorating Professor Deák's legacy of excellence in research and teaching, is open to scholars who have active interest and accomplishments in East and Central European studies. ONE appointment will be at the rank of Visiting Professor. The second will be an open-rank appointment to be filled at any level from Visiting Assistant to Visiting Full Professor.

The visiting professors will be appointed in one of the Humanities or Social Science departments of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The visitors will teach two courses, one a lecture course of broad interest for undergraduates, the other a seminar for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students. The visitors are expected to give one public lecture and participate in the academic life of the University, whose interests in East and Central European studies are well represented on campus by the East Central European Center, the European Institute, and the Harriman Institute.

Please provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of three persons who may be asked to provide a letter of reference, and a modest sample (article or book chapter) of scholarship. The letter of application should include a statement of which semester the applicant prefers, a list with the names and descriptions of two courses which the applicant might teach, and a description of the applicant's current research interests.

All applications must be made through Columbia's online Recruitment of Academic Personnel System (RAPS) at: academicjobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=63524

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2241

Concordia University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science, Specializing in Human Rights

The Department of Political Science at Concordia University in Montreal, Quebec, is seeking applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Science, with a specialization in human rights. Preference will be given to research in International Relations. Applicants must have a Ph.D., or be near completion of a doctoral degree, in Political Science or International Relations. The ability to fulfill core teaching needs in the undergraduate and graduate (MPPPA and Ph.D.) curriculum is an asset. The successful candidate will provide evidence of a productive research agenda and teaching effectiveness.

Applications must consist of a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, copies of recent publications, a statement of teaching philosophy/interests, a statement of research achievements/interests, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates must also arrange to have three letters of reference sent directly to the department contact.

Dr. Marlene Sokolon

Chair, Department of Political Science

1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd. W.

Montréal, Québec, Canada, H3G 1M8

PoliticalScience.Chair@concordia.ca

<http://www.concordia.ca/artsci/polisci.html>

Subject to budgetary approval, we anticipate filling this position, normally at the rank of Assistant Professor, for August 1, 2017.

Completed applications are due by December 12, 2016, but will be considered until the position has been filled. All inquiries about the position should be directed to Dr. Sokolon:

politicalscience.chair@concordia.ca

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority. Concordia University is committed to employment equity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/12/2016

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2225

SUNY, Geneseo

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Middle East, Research Methods

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at SUNY Geneseo invites applicants for a tenure-track, assistant professor position, to begin August of 2017. Duties of the position include: Teach undergraduate courses in political science, including U.S. Foreign Policy, Politics of the Middle East, Social Science Research Methods, and upper division courses in comparative politics or international politics. Responsibilities include academic advising and mentoring of students, establishing and completing a program of research and publication in Political Science, service to college, community and discipline.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science by the time of appointment in August 2017. Possess the expertise necessary to teach U.S. foreign policy, politics of the Middle East, social science research methods, and other undergraduate courses in political science. Candidates should also have the potential for scholarly contributions in political science.

Applicants should be prepared to upload a cover letter, a CV, and an additional document containing sample syllabi and summary teaching evaluations (as Other Document). The cover letter should address teaching philosophy and interests and plans for establishing a research program. In addition, applicants should be prepared to supply contact information (email address) for three references. References will be contacted and invited to submit letters of recommendation at the time of application.

Please submit materials at <https://jobs.geneseo.edu/postings/1311>

Review of completed applications will begin upon receipt. To be guaranteed consideration, applications must be completed by November 11, 2016. The search committee anticipates conducting initial interviews by telephone/Skype during the week of November 28, 2016.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2229

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Political Economy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> invites applications for an advanced tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the area of international political economy to begin July 1, 2017.

Applicants should be PhD graduates in economics or political science with an established record of scholarly productivity. The successful candidate will have a background in the field of political economy with a focus on international issues and mastery of theoretical methods and modelling. GPS has a special interest in candidates whose range of teaching is relevant for professional master's students in public policy and international affairs. Applicants must have already completed a PhD.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

Review of applications will occur on November 20, 2016.

To Apply:

Candidates for the Assistant Professor position should submit: a curriculum vitae; three writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; and a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01262>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 11/20/2016

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2232

San Diego State University

Rank: Director of the J. Keith Behner and Catherine M. Stiefel Program on Brazil

The College of Arts and Letters of San Diego State University seeks to hire an associate or full professor with a specialty on Brazil.

Requirements:

Ph.D. in Humanities and/or Social Sciences, with a research and teaching focus on Brazil. Proven administrative experience building interdisciplinary and/or intercollegiate programs and record of success in obtaining external funding.

Rank and salary commensurate with experience and professional accomplishments. Tenure upon hire is possible depending upon qualifications.

Duties:

I. Develop both long and short term plans to meet the program's objectives in the areas of:

research, scholarship and creative endeavors;
academic programming and co-curricular activities in all aspects of Brazil's life - social, cultural and scientific - including international programs with and/or in Brazil, such as exchange of students/faculty; engagement and outreach

II. Establish an open, inclusive and transparent process to allocate seed money for research projects and support for curricular and extra-curricular initiatives that are poised to deliver tangible outcomes.

III. Instigate and develop internal and outreach efforts, including development.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all. SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

Application Instructions

To ensure full consideration, please apply via Interfolio. Position will remain open until filled.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.'

This institution is using Interfolio's ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2221

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Ocean Governance and Law

The Department of Marine Affairs at the University of Rhode Island seeks applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Ocean Governance and Law.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Marine Affairs, Environmental Policy, Public Policy, Geography or closely-related field by appointment date in August 2017. We seek highly qualified candidates with specialization in international ocean governance, international institutions, and/or international marine/environmental law & policy. Successful candidates will provide evidence of ability to develop and instruct undergraduate and graduate courses; develop an independently funded research program; publish and present at national and international meetings; and work with members of diverse and underrepresented groups.

DEADLINE: November 11, 2016. Application materials should include a cover letter describing qualifications for the position, CV with names and contact information of 3 professional references, combined statement of research accomplishments & future research plans as well as teaching accomplishments & philosophy, and one document of writing samples which can include up to 3 publications, working papers or dissertation chapters. For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/1774>.

Located within URI's College of Environment and Life Sciences, the Marine Affairs department offers Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral degrees. The mission of the Marine Affairs department is to provide leadership in the management of marine and coastal environments through distinction in teaching, research, service, and outreach programs. To accomplish its mission, the department emphasizes multi-disciplinary approaches to ocean & coastal governance and management.

The University of Rhode Island is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2222

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Administration, Public Policy

Specializations: China, East Asia, International Security

Princeton University & Harvard University

The Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program (CWP)

Princeton University and Harvard University jointly founded the fellowship program for the advanced study of China's international relations, the Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program (CWP), in 2005. The program's co-directors are Thomas J. Christensen of Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and Alastair Iain Johnston of Harvard's Government Department. The China and the World Program supports research that integrates theoretical innovations in the field of international relations with the rigorous study of China's interactions with countries, regions, institutions, and non-state actors.

In 2017-2018, the program will award several one-year postdoctoral research associate positions. Scholars should have defended their dissertations in the past five years. Preference will be given to scholars who are currently working on revising their Ph.D. thesis for publication as a book, or who are just beginning a second major project. Postdoctoral researchers are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the institution of residence.

Qualifications:

Applicants must have received a PhD before starting the position. Only applicants working on some aspect of China's relations with the outside world that supports CWP's mission need apply.

Application Process:

To apply, you will be required to submit an online application at <https://jobs.princeton.edu/> (link is external), requisition number 1600679 and follow the instructions for creating an application.

You are required to submit:

1-2 page cover letter that briefly states your interest in the program, your background, and a summary of your research project

CV

project description

2 scholarly writing samples

Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees

Contact information for two references.

The deadline for submission is December 9, 2016, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Please note that you will only submit contact information and the email of your referees. Your referee will then receive an automated email with instructions on how to submit a confidential recommendation on your behalf. All references must be received for full consideration. We recommend that you complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their applications in February 2017 and a public announcement will be made by March 2017.

For more information about the Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program, please visit its website at <http://cwp.princeton.edu/> or email cwp@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/9/2016

Date Posted: 10/9/2016

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2023

Georgetown University

Rank: Professor in the Practice of Security Studies

The Walsh School of Foreign Service and the Center for Security Studies at Georgetown University are seeking to fill a visiting professorship in the broad field of security studies. Rank and discipline are open, and scholars with government or other first-hand experience in the U.S. military are encouraged to apply. The term of the appointment will be twelve months, starting in August 2017, with some possibility of an extension. The visiting professor will teach three courses each semester, half in the master's-level Security Studies Program, half in the undergraduate School of Foreign Service.

Interested applicants should submit a detailed cover letter and a curriculum vitae. Applications for this position must be submitted online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8242>. Faxed, mailed, or emailed applications will not be accepted.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. For information on the Center for Security Studies, please visit the website at <http://css.georgetown.edu/>

Questions about the online application system should be directed to Nicholas Starvaggi, Director of Finance, at Nicholas.Starvaggi@georgetown.edu. Queries about the position should be directed to Dr. Tom McNaugher, Interim Director, Center for Security Studies, at t1m47@georgetown.edu.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2199

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank - Cyber Security

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Public Policy

Position Title Open Rank - Cyber Security

Requisition Number FTFR000859

Division/College College of Social Sciences and Humanities

Interdisciplinary Division/College

Location Boston Main Campus

Full-time/Part-time Full Time

Benefits Eligible Yes

Tenure Status Tenured/Tenure Track

Posting Date 09/30/2016

Responsibilities

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities (CSSH) at Northeastern University invites applications and nominations for an open rank position in cyber security.

Northeastern University aims to lead in education and research that advance an understanding of security, resilience and sustainability issues and in the development of innovative solutions. This interdisciplinary hiring initiative addresses policy relevant issues such as government sponsored hacking, non state actors involved in data theft, cyber conflict, human factors in cyber security, and the regulation of privacy.

Existing expertise at Northeastern University contributes to pioneering research in the emerging fields of physical, social, and infrastructure resilience through the Security Systems Lab, the Network and Distributed Systems Security Laboratory, the Center for Resilience Studies, the Resilient Cities Laboratory, the Kostas Research Institute for Homeland Security, and the Dukakis Center for Urban and Regional Policy. It includes the intersection of policy and design in advancing secure and resilient critical infrastructure and communities in the face of human-made and naturally-occurring disasters.

Applications are invited from any discipline that contributes to the issues of cyber security, cyber crime, data privacy and their overlap. A successful applicant may have his or her tenure home in the Department of Political Science, the School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, the School of Public Policy and Urban affairs, or the departments of Sociology, Anthropology or History. A cross-college appointment is expected to be made in the appropriate unit of the College of Computer and Information Science, the School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs, the Law School, the College of Engineering, or the College of Science.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a PhD or equivalent terminal degree at the beginning of the appointment and a record of scholarship and teaching commensurate with rank. Successful applicants will have the abilities to initiate and lead major funded research projects, to promote innovation in teaching, and to engage with practitioners in the public, private and non-profit sectors. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a NEU education.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the experiential liberal arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Northeastern University in Boston is a nationally ranked research university with a strong urban mission, a global perspective, and an emphasis on interdisciplinary scholarship and experiential learning. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the Full-time positions link. Applicants will be asked to upload a letter of application, CV, a statement of current and future research interests, a writing sample of no more than 50 pages, and the names of three referees. Review of applications will begin October 24, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries from potential candidates are welcome and may be directed to the Chair of the Search Committee, Daniel Aldrich, Director, Security and Resilience Studies Program. d.aldrich@neu.edu.

Documents Needed to Apply

Required Documents

Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter

Writing Sample

Research Statement

Optional Documents

Posting Specific Questions

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2192

Southern Virginia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Southern Virginia University invites applications for a full-time, continuing-status track position in politics, in the area of international relations or American politics, to begin August 2017. The appointment will be at the assistant professor or associate professor rank. Southern Virginia University is an equal opportunity employer, and strongly encourages women, members of U.S. racial and ethnic minority groups, veterans, and candidates with disabilities to apply.

Ph.D. in political science is required. ABD applicants will be considered if there is convincing evidence that all Ph.D. requirements will be completed by August 2017.

Southern Virginia seeks faculty who can teach within a rigorous curriculum in the liberal arts and sciences. Prior teaching experience and a commitment to student learning are strong positives. Southern Virginia emphasizes excellence in teaching, but the candidate should also be committed to scholarly research. Additional responsibilities include typical committee work and academic advising.

A specialization in either American politics or international relations is required. The standard teaching load is 4/4, with typically 2 or 3 preparations per semester, including introductory courses. Upper-division electives will be determined by the specialization and interests of the instructor.

Send a cover letter, CV, at least two letters of reference, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a copy of graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial application) to provost@svu.edu

We prefer electronic applications, but will also accept paper applications mailed to:

Politics Search Committee
Office of the Provost
Southern Virginia University
One University Hill Drive
Buena Vista, VA 24416

The cover letter should discuss the applicant's familiarity with and support for Southern Virginia University's mission statement (see <http://svu.edu/about/history/>). Applicants are not required to be members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. A review of applications begins Dec. 1 and will continue until the position is filled. A writing sample will be requested at the interview stage.

Southern Virginia University is a liberal arts college with over 800 students, approximately 90 percent of whom are members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Located in the Shenandoah Valley, Southern Virginia is one hour from Roanoke, 75 minutes from Charlottesville, and three hours from Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/5/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2181

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: American Politics/Comparative Politics/International Relations Faculty Position

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Los Angeles invites applications for an open-field faculty position in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. We are particularly interested in applicants who have recently received or will soon be candidates for tenure. Rank will be determined by the candidate's qualifications and professional experience, but all applicants must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field, or complete their Ph.D. prior to the appointment. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 2017.

We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, and service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to excellence and diversity. Applications for this position should be made online at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF02585>. The job tracking number is JPF02585. The position will remain open until filled, but to ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 9, 2016. Applications should include a current C.V., a statement of research, teaching interests, a statement of contributions to diversity, and a writing sample. Junior applicants should also include transcripts and three letters of recommendation. Senior candidates need only provide names of three possible references.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/5/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2190

Colorado Mesa University

Rank: Visiting Professor

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus in late March-to mid- April 2018, teach a one credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 10, 2017 to: Professor Steven C. Schulte, Department of History, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to Schulte@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1418.

Start Date: Spring 2018
Application Deadline: 2/10/2017
Date Posted: 10/3/2016
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 2168

Stanford University: Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center

Rank: 2017-18 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows in Contemporary Asia

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce its search for two 2017–18 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows in Contemporary Asia-Pacific Studies. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent PhDs must have degree conferral and approval by August 31, 2017) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the fellowship is on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or topics in international relations and international political economy. Postdoctoral fellows are required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment, and to take part in center activities throughout the academic year. Fellows are also required to present their research findings in center seminars, and to participate in the center's publication program. The postdoctoral fellowship is a 10-month appointment with a salary rate of $52,000 plus $2,000 for research expenses. Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2017–18 academic year.

Applications must be received by December 16, 2016.

For additional information and to apply, visit:
<http://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/fellowships>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/16/2016

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2129

Brown University

Rank: Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. Central to this mission is the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, an effort to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research related to the Institute's three core thematic areas: development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. Fellows receive two years of support, to be taken within a three-year period, with the expectation that they will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Institute. Fellows will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department.

Application requirements

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by October 30, 2016, via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/35593>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits.

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on October 30; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in January 2017.

Eligibility and terms

The fellowship competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. Scholars of all nationalities who received PhDs within three years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. For full application details see <http://watson.brown.edu/education/postdoc>.

For further information

For further information regarding the Watson Institute Post-Doctoral Fellows Program, please visit the Watson Institute website <http://watson.brown.edu> or contact:

Professor Catherine Lutz, Faculty Director of the Watson Post-Doctoral Fellows Program, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University at catherine_lutz@brown.edu; or

Keith Brown, Director of Post-Doctoral and Undergraduate Policy Programs, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University, Brown University at keith_brown@brown.edu.

For questions about the application process itself, please contact watson_applications@brown.edu

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2117

Hollins University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Advanced Industrial Societies, China, Environmental Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor of Global Politics and Societies
HOLLINS UNIVERSITY

The Global Politics and Societies (GPS) Department at Hollins University in Roanoke, Virginia invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor. This is a full-time position with a three-year appointment beginning July 1, 2017.

The new GPS department includes four separate major programs of study in sociology, religious studies, political science, and international studies and one minor program of study in social justice. Each of the programs uses an interdisciplinary approach with some shared courses and collaborative teaching based on the common research and teaching interests of faculty members.

The ideal candidate will be a broadly trained political scientist or sociologist with global research and teaching interests. Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in comparative politics and international studies, as well as upper-level electives in sociology and international studies. The faculty member will also be expected to contribute to shared courses in other GPS programs of study. Preference will be given to candidates who can also contribute to one or more of the following programs: environmental studies, gender and women's studies, religious studies, and/or urban studies. The position carries a teaching load of three courses per semester. Other duties include advising students, conducting independent studies, supervising students doing senior research projects, participating in department and university service, and ongoing scholarly activity in the form of publications and presentations.

Candidates must meet the following minimum requirements: Ph.D. in political science, sociology, or related GPS discipline completed by June 30, 2017; evidence of scholarly promise; and an excellent record of teaching at the undergraduate level. Applicants must also demonstrate a clear understanding of and commitment to teaching in a single-sex, liberal arts institution. Applications are sought from those who have demonstrated success working with diverse populations and share Hollins' commitment to preparing students for leadership opportunities in a broadly diverse, global society. Final candidates will be subject to a criminal history background check.

Qualified candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, separate statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of effective teaching, three letters of recommendation, and graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable) to GPS@hollins.edu. Applications must be received by Dec. 1, 2017 to receive full consideration.

Hollins is an independent, liberal arts university offering undergraduate education for women, selected graduate programs for men and women, and community outreach initiatives. Founded in 1842 as Virginia's oldest chartered women's college, Hollins is best known for its creative writing program, one of the oldest study-abroad programs in the country, and extensive internship opportunities. The campus is surrounded by the Blue Ridge Mountains, and has the amenities of a mid-sized city in the immediate vicinity.

Hollins University is an equal opportunity employer. Hollins values diversity in its community, and strongly encourages applications from members of underrepresented populations.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/1/2016
Date Posted: 9/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2118

University of Chicago

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for senior faculty positions in the study of armed conflict. The search is open with respect to field and rank. Candidates should submit a CV and any accompanying documents such as sample publications online at: <http://tinyurl.com/h6pz5gk>. No applications will be accepted after June 30, 2017.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non_discrimination_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-5671 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2111

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Economics

Assistant Professor, International Economics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (formerly known as the School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the field of International Economics to begin July 1st, 2017.

Applicants should be new or recent PhD graduates with an outstanding record in a PhD program in Economics, and an expertise in one of the following fields: international trade, international macroeconomics, or international finance. Applicants must have a PhD conferred or to be completed by July 1st, 2017.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service, and contribute to---and participate in---our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

The closing day for applications is December 1, 2016.

Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; research papers; three (3) letters of reference; and a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>).

All applicant materials should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01221>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: 9/1/2016
Date Posted: 9/23/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2089

University of North Texas

Rank: Assistant Professor--Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of North Texas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2017 in the broadly defined field of contentious politics in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are interested in prospective candidates who conduct research in such areas as civil society, social movements, ethnic politics, and non-state opposition groups (e.g., terrorist organizations, rebel organizations, extremist parties).

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) A Ph.D. in Political Science (highly qualified ABD candidates will also be considered) and (2) evidence that demonstrates a potential for excellence in research, teaching, and service will be required of the selected candidate. Preference will be given to candidates with strong methods skills and who are likely to publish in top-tier journals, seek external funding, and who show a willingness to work with other faculty and graduate students.

The faculty member will teach core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continue a record of robust scholarly research, direct graduate research, and provide service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 26 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly and Journal of Political Science Education. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the UNT Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site can be found at: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With nearly 38,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) a writing sample, (5) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., peer reviews, evaluations), (6) a copy of transcripts, and (7) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquires to David Mason, search committee chair (David.Mason@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 21, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date. UNT is an AA/ADA/EOE.

The University of North Texas System is firmly committed to equal opportunity and does not permit - and takes actions to prevent - discrimination, harassment (including sexual violence), and retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, disability, family status, genetic information, citizenship or veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, and employment practices. The University of North Texas System immediately investigates and takes remedial action when appropriate. The University of North Texas System also takes actions to prevent retaliation against individuals who oppose a discriminatory practice, file a charge, or testify, assist or participate in an investigative proceeding or hearing.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2115

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics/ International Relations

Rhodes College – Visiting Assistant Professor – Comparative Politics / International Relations

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College invites applications for a visiting Assistant Professor to start Fall 2017. A Ph.D. in hand by Fall 2017 is required. The appointee is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either Comparative Politics or International Relations as well as an upper level course on international conflict. The ability to teach research methods in international studies would be a plus. The position has a 3-3 teaching load and offers the possibility for renewal up to a third year after the successful completion of the first year.

The department seeks candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and research. Successful candidates will also be those who can contribute to an interdisciplinary atmosphere. Application materials must include: a letter of application, CV, names and contact information of 3 references, writing/publication sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please address in your cover letter your interest in teaching at a liberal arts college and how your experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. Apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu. For additional information please contact Ms. Kim Stevenson, Departmental Assistant, Department of International Studies, StevensonK@rhodes.edu. Review of completed applications will begin on November 14 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/22/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2099

Oakland University

Rank: Assistant Professor

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

International Relations/International Political Economy – 2016/2017

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure track position in International Relations with primary specialization in International/Global Political Economy, at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin August 15, 2017. The successful candidate should be prepared to teach an introductory course in international politics and upper-division courses in international/global political economy. Candidates will also have an opportunity to teach related thematic courses such as Globalization and IR Theory, and to develop additional courses in their area of expertise. Secondary specialization is open though the ability to teach quantitative methods and/or Asian politics is desirable.

Candidates with their Ph.D. in hand are preferred, but candidates who are ABD will also be considered, provided that they can demonstrate they are near completion of the dissertation. Candidates with prior college or university teaching experience, and those who have demonstrated scholarly productivity are especially encouraged to apply but those able to demonstrate strong potential for success in teaching and research will also be considered. Teaching load is competitive.

To apply, upload a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (unofficial copy acceptable), writing sample and a document with the names and contact information for three references to <http://jobs.oakland.edu/postings/8924>. Candidates may also upload teaching evaluations and sample syllabi if available.

The Department, housed in the College of Arts and Sciences, offers an undergraduate degree program in Political Science (B.A.), International Relations (B.A.), in Public Administration and Public Policy (B.S.), and an accredited graduate degree in Public Administration (M.P.A.) with concentrations in Health Care, Local Government, Criminal Justice, Court Administration, and Nonprofit Management.

Oakland University is a state-assisted, Doctoral/Research University offering baccalaureate, masters, and doctoral degree programs to more than 20,000 students. The 1,400-acre campus is located in Rochester, Michigan a suburban community 26 miles north of Detroit. The University hosts a residential theater company, maintains an art gallery and historic mansion, and provides an outdoor venue for summer musical events. It is convenient to many social, cultural, and recreational activities in the metropolitan Detroit area. For more information about the department, College of Arts and Sciences, and Oakland University visit our website at www.oakland.edu.

Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/20/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2079

Princeton University

Rank: Niehaus Center Visiting Fellowship Program

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to six visitors for the 2017-2018 academic year Visiting Fellowship Program. NCGG will award one-year research positions to eligible, talented postdoctoral or more senior scholars. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Preference will be given to recent recipients of a doctoral degree. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2017 - July 1, 2018).

Application Deadline – December 9, 2016, 11:59p.m. EST

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials and apply online at: <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Search for requisition no. 1600791.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Friday, December 9, 2016. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions will also be required to submit:

- Statement indicating if a sabbatical leave is available;
- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- History of 'sabbatical leaves' over the past seven years;
- A confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2016 - July 1, 2017).

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in March 2017.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Date Posted: 9/15/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2037

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor International Relations with Environmental Focus

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas invites applicants from well-qualified individuals for a full-time, nine-month tenure-track position in International Relations. The position will be filled at the assistant professor level commencing fall 2017. The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in International Relations. The department is open with regard to specialization but has particular needs in areas including but not limited to global environmental politics and/or conflict. Preferred qualifications include the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in research methods. Other responsibilities include: engaging in research leading to scholarly, peer-reviewed publications; mentoring undergraduate and graduate students; and providing appropriate levels of service at the department, college and university levels. The department offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in Political Science.

For more information go to:
<https://www.higheredjobs.com/institution/details.cfm?JobCode=176341945&Title=Assistant%20Professor%20International%20Relations%20With%20Environmental%20Focus%20%5B17036%5D&aID=584>

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/15/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2045

Yale University

Rank: Open Rank Position in International Relations

Yale University's Department of Political Science invites applicants for a position in International Relations to begin July 1, 2017.

The position is open rank. We are interested in candidates from all areas of International Relations, though we have a particular interest in those with expertise in International Political Economy and International Organization.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required.

Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/36890>. Review of applications and nominations will begin September 5, 2016, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and underrepresented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/14/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2026

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado Boulder invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level in International Political Economy. The successful candidate should have research interests in IPE and is expected to meet departmental instructional needs that include teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or have the Ph.D. in hand by August 15, 2017. Candidates who do not have a Ph.D. but are ABD are welcome to apply. Applications received by October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration, though we will continue screening applications until the position is filled.

Applications are accepted electronically at <https://www.jobsatcu.com>, posting # 06687, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please direct inquiries to the IPE Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309-0333. See www.colorado.edu/ArtsSciences/Jobs/ for full job description.

The University of Colorado is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to building a diverse workforce. We encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, individual with disabilities and veterans. Alternative formats of this ad can be provided upon request for individuals with disabilities by contacting the ADA Coordinator at hr-ada@colorado.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/13/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2025

Ohio State University

Rank: Race and Gender in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Description:

The department of political science seeks candidates for a tenured or tenure-track position in the study of race and/or gender in politics. We welcome applications from scholars studying comparative politics and international relations, however, we are especially interested in applicants who study race and/or gender as they pertain to politics in the United States. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding.

This position is part of a larger initiative at Ohio State to increase faculty diversity and to promote research and teaching on topics central to race, ethnicity, sex, and gender as well as disparities in modern society linked to these categories. The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences intends to hire at least eight new faculty members under this initiative. The new cluster of faculty will be able to build a network with many committed professors already at home in the College of Arts and Sciences in the Diversity & Identity Studies Collective, the Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and the Department of African American and African Studies. Graduate certificates in this area of inquiry and undergraduate bridge programs are also being built to support this initiative.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have that degree by Autumn 2017. It is possible the successful candidate could have a PhD degree in a cognate field such as sociology or social psychology but a PhD in political science is preferred. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/7871>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2000

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - Environmental Justice and Community Resilience

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Faculty Position

Environmental Justice and Community Resilience
Department of Political Science, Purdue University

As part of a university-wide cluster hire in the area of "building sustainable communities," the Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a tenure track, assistant professor position focused on the politics of environmental justice and community resilience. Potential areas of interest include how gender, race, class, ethnicity, geographical region, or identities affect the unequal distribution of environmental benefits and burdens and/or community resilience in the face of environmental change. We are also interested in research on efforts to address environmental and social inequalities through international, cross-national, and/or domestic political action, including but not limited to work on norms and norm change, protest and resistance movements, and community-based conservation and resilience efforts. The primary field of specialization within political science is open. The successful candidate will add to the political science department's identified strengths in environmental politics as well as the politics of race, ethnicity, gender, and class. The successful candidate will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the area of environmental politics as well as other appropriate courses in his or her subfield. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Environmental Studies, or a related discipline is required. Joint appointments are possible in other academic units participating in the cluster hire, including Anthropology, Communication, Philosophy, and Engineering. The position will begin Fall 2017.

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated potential to play a vital role in Purdue's new "building sustainable communities" initiative dedicated to finding new approaches to addressing major environmental and sustainability challenges. Purdue's Center for the Environment will serve as the interdisciplinary hub for this research community. Purdue also hosts several interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate programs focused on sustainability, including undergraduate degrees in environmental & ecological engineering and natural resources and environmental science, as well as a graduate program in Ecological Sciences and Engineering. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in and contribute to these programs as well.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon (acheever@purdue.edu). Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, samples of written work, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's commitment to and experience with interdisciplinary research and teaching relevant to the cluster. Review of applications will begin October 7, 2016, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to search committee chair Dr. Leigh Raymond (lraymond@purdue.edu). A background check will be required for employment in this position. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 2004

College of William & Mary

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in European and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in European and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies

The Programs in European Studies and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies at the College of William and Mary seek applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level, beginning in August 2017.

We are two strong, interdisciplinary area studies programs at one of the best small public universities in the United States, and we are seeking a colleague with a commitment to excellence in teaching and research.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D at the time of appointment (August 10, 2017). The candidate must have demonstrated excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Candidates from all disciplines in the social sciences and humanities with appropriate expertise will be considered, pending department approval. The appointment will be jointly held in the Global Studies Program and in a host department appropriate for the candidate's discipline. Research and teaching expertise in fields such as state socialism, the First and/or Second World Wars, post-socialist societies, migration, regionalism, and identity politics are particularly welcome. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment and a demonstrated interest in comparative and trans-regional scholarship and teaching. Candidates must possess the skills to teach compelling undergraduate courses in both Russian and Post-Soviet Studies (RPSS) and European Studies (ES), as well as in the candidate's home department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach "Introduction to European Studies" and "Introduction to Russian and Post-Soviet Studies," as well as topics courses and research seminars for both programs.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation, at least one of which must speak directly to teaching ability. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, October 7, 2016. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

The College of William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. The College conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/7/2016

Date Posted: 9/8/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1995

University of Southern California

Rank: Robert F. Erburu Chair in Ethics, Globalization, and Development

Robert F. Erburu Chair in Ethics, Globalization, and Development

University of Southern California

The Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles, California) invites applications for the Robert F. Erburu Chair in Ethics, Globalization, and Development. The successful candidate will bring a distinguished record of innovative research and publication, embodying interdisciplinary approaches to globalization and development. We are particularly interested in a scholar who combines International Relations with either Gender Studies or Environmental Studies. Candidates with distinguished practical or policy experience are welcome to apply. The applicant must hold a Ph.D. degree. The holder of the Erburu Chair will be tenured at the full professor level in the School of International Relations, with secondary appointments in other units as appropriate. Review of applications will begin immediately and candidates should submit their materials by November 1, 2016, to receive full consideration. The appointment is anticipated to begin on August 16, 2017.

Applicants are required to complete the on-line application process. To apply, follow this link or paste in a browser: <http://jobs.usc.edu/postings/74486> . Minimum required materials include a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, and the names of three references who may be contacted by USC. Inquiries may be sent to: lcole@usc.edu .

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1999

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor American Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics beginning July 2017. A Ph.D is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 17, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1939

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning July 2017. We are seeking a broadly trained Political Scientist who could teach courses in international relations and political philosophy. A Ph.D. is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 31st, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1937

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Political Economy, at the rank of assistant professor to begin as early as Fall 2017. The search is open as to research specialty and methodology. This position is pending final budgetary approval.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda as evidenced by working papers or publications, and be able to teach graduate and undergraduate courses as indicated by research presentations and/or teaching assessments. The Department expects applicants to have strong substantive and methodological training, as demonstrated by completed coursework, but has no preferred methodological approach. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs will be considered but must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the date of appointment.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/36805> and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching/research interest (including a summary of teaching evaluations, if available), and sample publications. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 9, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

The university and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1905

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

Political Science: Assistant Professor in the area of comparative politics or international relations focusing on the politics of the Middle East for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor. The position will begin in the 2017-2018 academic year.

Searching for a colleague with teaching and research focusing on the politics of the Middle East who will develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching, conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship, provide institutional and professional service, and contribute to the undergraduate and MA program. The successful candidate will be an expert who studies some combination of the following in a Middle Eastern setting: governance, gender politics, human rights, conflict and conflict resolution (domestic and/or international), identity politics, trade and development, energy, water, agricultural, and natural resource issues, and/or environmental problems. The successful candidate will teach introductory and advanced courses at the undergraduate and graduate level in the area of expertise, including an upper-level course on Middle Eastern politics.

Required: PhD by date of appointment in Political Science or a related field.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=3238>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Patrick Haney at haneypj@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University is committed to equal opportunity, affirmative action, and eliminating discrimination and harassment. Miami University does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, military status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or protected veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, programs or employment practices. Requests for all reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

Miami University's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report with information on campus crime, fires, and safety may be found at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>. Hard copy available upon request. A criminal background check is required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free campuses.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1902

Drexel University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Global Studies and Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Developing Nations, Conflict Processes

The Department of Global Studies and Modern Languages at Drexel University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Middle Eastern politics, beginning September 1, 2017. Positions are subject to final budgetary approval. The Department will consider applications at the Assistant Professor rank. Global Studies is a new, interdisciplinary department at Drexel University, building on existing strength in International Area Studies. This position will include a joint appointment with Drexel's Department of Politics, and teaching may be cross-listed with that department. Founded in 1891, Drexel University is a dynamic, comprehensive, co-op university located within walking distance of Center City Philadelphia.

We seek candidates who specialize in Middle Eastern politics, either from a Comparative or IR perspective. A background in peace studies and/or conflict resolution is a plus, although not required. Successful candidates will also be expected to pursue an active research agenda and to contribute to the Department's undergraduate curricula. This will include teaching and mentoring our outstanding undergraduate students, all of whom have foreign language proficiency and a broad, global outlook. We have a growing Arabic-language program and offer study abroad programs and co-op opportunities in conflict resolution and civic engagement.

All requirements for the PhD must be completed by September 1, 2017.

Candidates should include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) up to three samples of your scholarly writing; and 4) three letters of reference. Only applications submitted via Drexel's online system will be considered.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016 and continue until filled. Questions should be addressed to: Prof. Joel E. Oestreich, <jeo25@drexel.edu>.

Drexel University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, welcomes individuals from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, and believes that an inclusive and respectful environment enriches the University community and the educational and employment experience of its members. The University prohibits discrimination against individuals on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability, age, status as a veteran or special disabled veteran, gender identity or expression, genetic information, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions and any other prohibited characteristic. Please visit our website to view all University Policies and Workplace Postings.

Background investigations are required for all new hires as a condition of employment, after the job offer is made. Employment will be contingent upon the University's acceptance of the results of the background investigation.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/25/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1894

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Conflict Resolution)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship in any field of political science, with a research and teaching profile that will contribute to the department's highly successful Master of Arts Program in Conflict Resolution. The Conflict Resolution Program offers an innovative and rigorous curriculum encompassing the core skills and multidisciplinary knowledge needed to pursue diverse careers, both in the U.S. and abroad, related to conflict management and conflict resolution. Applicants should have the ability to field core courses in conflict resolution theory and research methodology. The department also has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching speak to conflict processes and their relationship to race/ethnicity, gender, youth, development, or media. A Ph.D. in political science in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7687>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Desha Girod (desha.girod@georgetown.edu). For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive before September 20, 2016, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1862

King Fahd University of Petroleum & Minerals

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

King Fahd University of Petroleum & Minerals
Dhahran, Saudi Arabia

College Name : College of Applied & Supporting Studies

Department Name : Department of General Studies

Positions/Ranks : Assistant/Associate Professor

Field/areas of specialization/experience : International Relations

The Department of General Studies at King Fahd University of Petroleum & Minerals (KFUPM) in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia invites applications for full-time faculty positions with the rank of Assistant and Associate Professor in the following field:

International Relations

Applicants are expected to hold a Ph.D. degree with a strong commitment to research and teaching. Applicants are also expected to be proficient in English (spoken and written) as the language of instruction at KFUPM is English. Candidates with Middle East expertise and experience are encouraged to apply.

Salary/Benefits: Two-year renewable contract. Competitive salary based on qualifications and experience. Free furnished air-conditioned on-campus housing unit with free essential utilities and maintenance. The appointment includes the following benefits according to the University's policy: air ticket/s to Dammam on appointment; annual repatriation air ticket/s for up to four persons; assistance with local tuition fees for school-age dependent children; local transportation allowance; two months' paid summer leave; end-of-service gratuity. The KFUPM campus has a range of facilities including a medical and dental clinic, an extensive library, computing, research and teaching laboratory facilities and a recreation center.

How to apply:

Please apply online by visiting KFUPM website at:

<http://www.kfupm.edu.sa>; then click on jobs link.

You can also contact us:

By email: faculty@kfupm.edu.sa

CC: c-gsd@kfupm.edu.sa

By mail: Dean, Faculty & Personnel Affairs, KFUPM,

Box no. 5005, Dhahran 31261, Saudi Arabia

Fax #: +966 13 860 2429

For additional information and to download application form, please visit: <http://www.kfupm.edu.sa/fpa> or <http://www.kfupm.edu.sa/gsd>

ALL RANKS/POSITIONS WILL REMAIN VACANT UNTIL FILLED

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1829

Northwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Methodology (Tenure-track)

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the field of political methodology at the rank of assistant professor. The department seeks candidates who connect cutting-edge quantitative methodological issues to substantive debates in political science, particularly in domains related to comparative politics or international relations, and whose research trajectories connect with “big data” methods including machine learning, nonparametric statistics, and text as data methods. The successful applicant will teach a combination of graduate and undergraduate courses. Applications received by October 15, 2016, will be guaranteed full consideration. Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States. The proposed starting date is September 17, 2017. Applicants should provide a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission at www.polisci.northwestern.edu. *For questions and assistance, please contact Jill Decremet at j-rubin4@northwestern.edu.

*The online portal for accepting applications will be open in early September. Once it is available, the link will be posted.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/19/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1858

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Western Europe, International Security, Post Communist Europe

Start Date: Fall 2017; Salary: Competitive
 Application Deadline: Open until Filled
 Specialization: European Politics, International Relations

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2017. A Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. The Department seeks a person able to teach comparative politics covering Western, Central, Eastern Europe, Russia, and the European Union. Expertise in international relations also. Responsibilities include teaching introductory courses, including Introduction to World Politics, Foundations of Democracy, and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum according to the instructor’s expertise.

Course load is three courses per semester. Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of international experiential activities (e.g. coordination of Model EU simulation activity, study abroad, internships). SUNY Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College. We have a strong commitment to the affirmation of diversity and have interdisciplinary degree programs in the areas of Multicultural Studies.

Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts from most recent degree; and a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

SUNY Cortland is a predominantly undergraduate state college located in upstate New York with a total student population of over 7200. The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, concentration in Law and Justice, and B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

Applicants must apply online at: <http://www2.cortland.edu/offices/hr/jobs/> For more information, contact Department Chair, Political Science Department, SUNY Cortland, Box 2000, Cortland, NY 13045.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/19/2016
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 1852

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of assistant professor. The position requires outstanding research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and, if available, evidence of excellence in teaching. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/36630> To guarantee full consideration, all materials should be uploaded and available for review by September 7, 2016. Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/15/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1794

University of Haifa

Rank: Tenure Track Position - International Relations

Tenure Track Position – International Relations
 University of Haifa

The School of Political Science at the University of Haifa invites applications for a tenure track position in International Relations beginning 1 October 2017. The position is open to individuals at all stages of their career, but candidates must have their Ph.D. by October 2017. Candidates whose focus includes International Political Economy, area studies other than the Middle East, and research methods are especially welcome to apply. Faculty are expected to achieve proficiency in Hebrew within two to three years of hiring.

Please submit a letter of application and CV including list of publications. Highly qualified candidates will be asked to provide additional materials (letters of reference and a sample of published work). Final decisions, including assignment of rank, are subject to resource availability, consideration of the Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences and the final decision of the Rector (Provost).

Applications should be sent electronically to the Division chair:
Prof. Zach Levey -- zachl@poli.haifa.ac.il

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 8/13/2016
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 1787

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: William S. Dietrich Endowed Chair in Political Science
Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the inaugural William S. Dietrich II Endowed Chair in Political Science, with appointment to begin in the 2017-18 academic year, pending budgetary approval. The Chair is named in honor of the late Dr. William S. Dietrich II, a former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees who received his Ph.D. from the Department in 1984.

In filling this chair, and in keeping with the interests of Dr. Dietrich, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship in the fields of international relations or comparative politics, or whose interests cut across these and possibly other disciplinary subfields.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh currently consists of 25 tenure stream faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. The Department's NRC ranking has improved dramatically over the past decade, and presently ranks between 20th and 30th among Ph.D. granting departments. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Please submit a detailed cover letter and C.V. electronically at <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MTU3>. Additional information may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/12/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1780

West Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice at West Texas A&M University invites applications for a tenure-track position in international relations, beginning fall semester 2017. We seek candidates with a promising research agenda in the relations among nation-states in Latin America, especially issues concerning women and minorities. The ability to teach courses in American national government is required and courses in quantitative and qualitative research design is desired. Additionally, the position includes teaching a mix of introductory and upper-level courses with a 4-4 load and participation in university service.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/16/2016
Date Posted: 8/8/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1744

Dartmouth College

Rank: Endowed Chair in Transnational Studies

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for appointment to a newly endowed chair in transnational studies, which includes scholarship on the roles of both state and non-state actors in international relations, in international political economy, and in the maintenance of security and political order. The appointment is open to any rank. The successful candidate's research and teaching should enhance the scholarly reputation of the Department of Government and also advance the mission of the Dickey Center for International Understanding, making significant contributions to contemporary policy debates in the United States and/or the international community. The position requires excellence in research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest and CV, including names and contact information for at least three references.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged. The review of applications will begin on September 23, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/28340>

Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/5/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1739

University of Tennessee

Rank: Assistant Professor--International Relations

University of Tennessee-Knoxville

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track, assistant professor position in International Relations to begin Fall 2017. While the department seeks a scholar broadly trained in theories of international politics and will review applications from all specializations including international political economy, it has a preference for candidates who can enhance our disciplinary presence in security policy/conflict processes (e.g. political violence, terrorism, civil war) and foreign policy. Applicants with a research focus on sub-state conflict processes are especially encouraged to apply. The successful candidate must have strong research skills, including training in quantitative and/or formal methods, and must have a clear research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed journals. We are particularly interested in applicants who address substantively important questions using rigorous analytical approaches. Ability to contribute to the department's methods sequence would be highly desirable. Preference will be shown for applicants with teaching and research interests that complement existing departmental interests, have a record of extramural funding commensurate with experience, and demonstrate evidence of college/university teaching excellence. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: <http://web.utk.edu/~polisci>. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (if available). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent directly to the search committee. All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science must be finished at the time of appointment. All materials should be mailed or sent electronically to: Professor Brandon Prins, Chair, International Relations Search Committee, Howard Baker Center for Public Policy, 1640 Cumberland Avenue, Room 340, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, TN 37996-3340. Review of applications will begin October 5, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Brandon Prins at bprins@utk.edu.

The University of Tennessee is an EEO/AA/Title VI/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA institution in the provision of its education and employment programs and services. All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, or covered veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1727

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a position in the field of International Relations. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. No transcripts are requested at this time.

For best consideration apply by September 1, 2016.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1698

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci?q=node/1>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor in International Relations. We are open with respect to specialization within IR, and successful candidates will add to the department's strengths in quantitative, experimental and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a writing sample, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. Items (1) to (3) must be submitted electronically; items (4) and (5) may be sent as hard copies or electronically. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Electronic files may be submitted to polisci@fsu.edu, as may questions about the search. Mailed letters of reference and transcripts may be addressed to International Relations Search, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1690

Saint Mary's College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science/Gender and Women's Studies

Specializations: International Political Economy, Developing Nations, Gender Politics & Policy

Gender and Women's Studies / Political Science. The Department of Political Science and the Department of Gender and Women's Studies at Saint Mary's College invite applications for a tenure-track joint appointment. We seek doctorally-prepared (ABD considered) political scientists who specialize in international relations and could teach courses in international development and/or global political economy. The successful candidate must be qualified to teach courses in Gender and Women's Studies (as demonstrated by graduate certification or equivalent), with a specialization in transnational feminisms and/or international feminist movements. Teaching responsibilities include the introductory Gender and Women's Studies course, the survey course in International Politics, and upper-level courses in international relations and transnational feminisms. The teaching load is 3:3. Send a letter of application, c.v., graduate transcripts, three letters of reference, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g. teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy) to Dr. Amy Cavender, CSC, at searchposcgws@saintmarys.edu. Review of applications will begin October 15. Preliminary interviews will be conducted at the National Women's Studies Association annual conference in November.

Saint Mary's College, a Roman Catholic women's college, was founded by the Sisters of the Holy Cross in 1844. Its mission is to educate women in the liberal arts tradition, focusing on intellectual vigor, religious sensibility, aesthetic appreciation, and social responsibility. Saint Mary's College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. In keeping with the College's mission, Saint Mary's is committed to increasing racial and ethnic diversity at all levels – students, faculty, and staff – and seeks applications from candidates who share this commitment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 7/25/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1657

California State University, Chico

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice
Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Position: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the Assistant Professor level. The position begins August 2017.

Minimum Qualifications: The minimum education requirement for appointment to this position is a Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or other related discipline. Candidates nearing completion of the doctorate may be considered; however, the doctorate must be complete prior to the beginning of the academic year in August 2017. The successful candidate's first two fields of research and teaching will be International Relations and Comparative Politics, with an emphasis on conflict/security. The regional specialization will be either Latin America or Africa. The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in our Master's program by teaching graduate seminars, participating in MA thesis committees, and/or reading Master's comprehensive exams.

Preferred Qualifications: The ideal candidate will contribute to other programs in the department by teaching courses in areas such as research methods, terrorism and homeland security, or other courses that bridge our degree programs. Please see our current course catalog for a list of the department's course offerings: <http://catalog.csuchico.edu/viewer/16/POLS/offerings.html>

Responsibilities: This tenure-track position carries responsibilities in the areas of teaching, scholarship, and service to the Department and University. Teaching assignments are based upon qualifications of the individual and the needs of the department. The successful candidate should also demonstrate the following:

Commitment to and/or experience promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of individuals from diverse backgrounds

Salary: Salary commensurate with education and experience.

The Department: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice offers undergraduate degrees in political science (including an option in legal studies), criminal justice, international relations, and public administration, as well as Masters degrees in political science and public administration. We have an exciting curriculum, with numerous options to meet a host of academic interests, and an active and productive faculty committed to excellence in teaching and scholarship. Over 1,000 students major in our programs. Additional information about our Department is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/pols/>. Additional information about the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/bss/index.shtml>.

Closing Date: Review of applications will begin on October 14, 2016, and continue until the position is filled.

How to Apply: All applicants must online apply at: <http://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/3718>

Complete online applications must include: CV, complete set of transcripts (unofficial acceptable), writing sample and teaching evaluations (if available). Three letters of recommendation MUST be submitted to the search committee chair at the email below.

Submit letters of recommendation and job-related questions to:

Dr. Jennifer Wilking, Chair
International Relations Search Committee
jwilking@csuchico.edu
(530)898-5960

An annual security report disclosing crime statistics for CSU, Chico can be obtained by contacting the University Police Department (530-898-5555) or by accessing the following website: http://www.csuchico.edu/up/clery_report.shtml

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

For disability related accommodations please call ADA Coordinator at (530) 898-5959.

CSU, Chico is an EOE/Minority/Females/Vet/Disability and only employs individuals authorized to work in the U.S. The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1639

Moravian College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Foreign Policy, Conflict Processes

The Political Science Department at Moravian College invites applications for a full time, tenure track position commencing in August 2017. Candidates should be prepared to offer a broad array of classes in international relations such as American Foreign Policy, Human Rights, International Law and Organization, International Security and Conflict Resolution. Candidates should also be prepared to teach courses that entail a geographic specialization with the area being open (e.g., Africa, Latin America, Middle East and the Islamic world etc.) except for Europe and Asia. Candidates should also be prepared to teach in the College's First Year Student Seminar Program with the subject matter for the seminar being at the discretion of the instructor. Ph. D. is expected by time of appointment.

Moravian College is a selective residential liberal arts college located in Bethlehem, PA with a proud tradition of providing an outstanding education in the liberal arts and sciences for men and women. Moravian College highly values excellence in teaching as well as scholarship and seeks to nurture the development of its students through strong personal interactions with its teaching faculty. The College is approximately an hour and a half from New York City and an hour from Philadelphia and is one of six members of the Lehigh Valley Association of Independent Colleges consortium.

Moravian College values diversity, strives to attract qualified women and minority candidates, and encourages individuals belonging to these groups to apply. Moravian seeks to ensure diversity by its policy of employing persons without regard to age, sex, color, race, creed religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation or gender identity.

Applications should be submitted electronically to searchpolsci@moravian.edu. Application materials should include letter of application, current curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of effective teaching, a statement of research plans, and three letters of recommendation with contact information for each reference. Review of application materials will begin July 1 and will continue until the end of October.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/15/2016

Date Posted: 6/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1531

METHODOLOGY

Columbia University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scientist

The Institute for Education Sciences training grant, operated jointly by Andrew Gelman (Columbia University), Jennifer Hill (New York University), and Marc Scott (New York University), invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Scientist position in Bayesian modeling for causal inference. This project, "Causal inference using hierarchical and nonparametric Bayesian interaction models," is funded by the Office of Naval Research. The postdoc will be appointed through the Institute for Social and Economic Research and Policy at Columbia University and will work under the joint supervision of Drs. Gelman and Hill. The postdoc will be working on a range of research problems involving Bayesian modeling, computing, and applications in causal inference. The candidate should have strength in Bayesian data analysis, statistical computing, and causal inference and be able to contribute to Stan, our open-source Bayesian inference program. This work will take place in an interdisciplinary research environment, and the postdoc will have the opportunity to collaborate on multiple projects in statistics and applied research. The candidate must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident. Columbia University is an EEO/AA employer.

Position Qualifications: PhD

Salary Range: $47,476

For benefits information visit: <http://www.columbia.edu/index.html>

Please send cover letter and resume to Dr. Andrew Gelman, at gelman@stat.columbia.edu.

The position is open until filled.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2322

University College London

Rank: Lecturer in Quantitative Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Political Behavior, Economic Policy, International Political Economy

UCL Department of Political Science
School of Public Policy

Lecturer in Quantitative Political Science

The appointment will be full time on UCL Grade7/8. The salary range will be Grade 7: £37,936 - £41,163 per annum / Grade 8: £42,304 - £49,904 per annum, inclusive of London Allowance.

UCL wishes to appoint a lecturer to contribute to research and teaching within the Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy. The lecturer will undertake research of the highest international standards within his or her own specialist field, which will contribute to the research standing and culture of the Department.

The lecturer will be a core member of the UCL-IOE 'Q-Step Centre', one of 15 Centres established as part of a multi-million pound, innovative new programme designed to promote a step-change in quantitative social science training for undergraduates, funded by the Nuffield Foundation, the Economic and Social Research Council and the Higher Education Funding Council for England. The post-holder will provide teaching on the core quantitative research methods modules for the Centre, as well as teaching within the School's other programmes and supervise PhD students.

This appointment is available from the 1st September 2017.

Applications are welcome from any sub-field in political science, but we are particularly interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in the fields of methodology, political behaviour, security, international political economy, comparative politics, development and/or public policy. Candidates must have a PhD, (at the time of appointment) in political science or a public policy related area and a track record of publications in leading journals. Evidence of excellence in teaching and the ability to attract grant-funding is highly desired.

For further details about the vacancy and how to apply online please go to <http://www.ucl.ac.uk/hr/jobs/> and search on Reference Number 1595051.

Informal enquiries may be made to Professor David Coen (d.coen@ucl.ac.uk) or Dr Jennifer vanHeerde-Hudson (jennifer.hudson@ucl.ac.uk). If you have any queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel, Finance and Staffing Administrator to the Department of Political Science, School of Public Policy, (ajay.patel@ucl.ac.uk).

Closing Date: 6 December 2016.

Latest time for the submission of applications: 23:59.

Interview Date: Week commencing 16 January 2017.

UCL Taking Action for Equality.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2318

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

The Social Science Data Analytic initiative at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a tenure track Assistant Professor or Associate Professor who has experience applying data analytics to social science problems. The subject area and tenure home for the position is open. The successful applicant could specialize in Economics, Political Science, Geography, Sociology, Criminal Justice, Psychology or other related disciplines. We seek diverse, talented individuals who are using new technologies and large-scale data in creative ways to foster knowledge about the social world. Experience in applying Bayesian methodologies, statistical learning, geospatial prediction, text analytics, causal inference, network analysis, or data visualization are particularly valued. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities and individuals from other underrepresented groups that can diversify the impact of data analytics across the university mission.

Michigan State University is located in East Lansing, MI, with easy access to the state capital, Lake Michigan, and award-winning school districts. MSU is also pro-active in exploring opportunities for employment for dual career couples, both inside and outside the University. Information about MSU's dual career support can be found at <http://miwin.msu.edu/>. For more information on the position, please contact Michael Colaresi (colaresi@msu.edu). The committee will begin looking at applications November 11 on a rolling basis until the position is filled.

You must apply for this position via Michigan State University Applicant Page (MAP). Please access the MAP system at <https://jobs.msu.edu>, posting number 4284. Please submit your curriculum vitae, letter of interest, samples of written work and at least three letters of recommendation. MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2277

Roanoke College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for an Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice beginning in August 2017. The position is tenure-track with a teaching load of three courses per semester.

Candidates should possess a Ph.D. in a relevant field (ABD will also be considered) and show promise of being an excellent teacher.

Teaching responsibilities will include major courses such as Introduction to Criminal Justice, Judicial Process, and Research Methods. In addition, all faculty members contribute courses to our Intellectual Inquiry general education program.

Roanoke College is a nationally ranked residential liberal arts college of 2000 students affiliated with the Lutheran Church (ELCA), located in the beautiful Roanoke Valley of Virginia. A Phi Beta Kappa institution, the College emphasizes strong teaching and close student-faculty interactions. The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research.

Candidates should submit electronic applications including cover letter, vita, three letters of reference, examples of published research or work in progress, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to pinckney@roanoke.edu. Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Review of applications will begin on December 1 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/1/2016
Date Posted: 10/4/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2174

Oberlin College

Rank: Post-Doctoral Faculty Position in Policy Analysis

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a post-doctoral faculty position in Policy Analysis in the College of Arts and Sciences. Appointment is for spring semester 2017. This is a non-continuing position. The incumbent will teach one course in methods and public policy and mentor students interested in policy analysis. To be assured consideration, submit a letter of application, a CV, graduate transcripts, and at least three recent reference letters to <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/> by November 11, 2016.

Start Date: Spring 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/28/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2137

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

Specializations: Economic Policy, Health Care, Education Policy

The DevLab@Duke has one opening for a Post-Doctoral fellow working to develop rigorous programming, collect monitoring and evaluation data, and conduct impact evaluations of development projects. Prospective candidates are expected to have done graduate work in one or more of these areas:

- * International Development
- * Economics
- * Political Science

Successful candidates will collaborate with Professors Erica Field, Erik Wibbels, Pablo Beramendi, Edmund Malesky, Manoj Mohanan, Marc Jeuland, Robert Garlick and other members of the lab in an interdisciplinary environment. They will be expected to work with lab associates to provide timely input to development practitioners affiliated with the DevLab—including donors, implementers and evaluators—at all stages of project conceptualization, design, implementation and evaluation. Lab activities will leave considerable time for independent research, and the position offers ample opportunity for developing new research projects in conjunction with DevLab members.

There is no deadline for applying to the opening, but applications will be considered on a rolling basis starting immediately. The start date is as soon as possible, but ideally no later than January 1, 2017. The position comes with very competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for one year, with options of renewal for another one or two years. For questions/information, please email lauren.faber@duke.edu.

Application Requirements

- Letters of Reference
- Cover Letter
- CV

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/22/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2100

York College of Pennsylvania

Rank: Research/Teaching Fellowship, Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Methodology
Specializations: Urban Politics, State Politics, Economic Policy

Research/Teaching Fellowship, Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy, York College

York College of Pennsylvania invites applications for the inaugural Fellow for its Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy.

A joint program of York College's Center for Community Engagement (CCE) and its Department of History and Political Science, the Institute for Public Policy will engage the Fellow and our students in the policymaking process by providing nonpartisan research to legislators at the City, County, and State levels of government. The Fellow will conduct research and work with advanced students to identify and define problems in the greater York community, develop policy approaches to solve those problems, and aim to achieve adoption and successful implementation of specific policy proposals via the Pennsylvania General Assembly and municipal jurisdictions in the South Central Pennsylvania region.

The appointee will hold the title of Fellow in the Center for Community Engagement and the rank of Visiting Instructor in the Department of History and Political Science. The fellowship will generally carry a two-year appointment, though in appropriate cases that time frame might be lengthened or shortened to accommodate a specific project. Among the duties of the fellow will be:

- Completing an appropriate research project or projects likely to be of interest to local residents, legislators, and civic/business leaders;
- Teaching one advanced course per semester;
- Delivering at least two public lectures for the local community;
- Disseminating the results of her/his research in appropriate scholarly and public venues;
- Collaborating with students and faculty in other appropriate York College programs such as the Center for Professional Excellence, the Graham and Eisenhart Scholars, and other CCE programming.

Funding will be provided for travel, speakers, and other appropriate initiatives of the Institute.

Requirements: The ideal candidate will hold a doctorate in a field directly related to public policy research (though ABD or MPP will be considered). The successful candidate will have a research agenda well-suited to studying local, regional, and state-level policy, and evidence of scholarly potential.

York College is committed to building a diverse college community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Interested candidates should electronically submit the following: a current curriculum vitae, letter of application, and names of three references to employment@ycp.edu. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016. While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, for full consideration, applications should be received by October 31, 2016.

York College of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. For a copy of York College's Annual Security Report, you may contact the Office of Campus Safety or visit the College's website and search for Annual Security Report.

About York College and the Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

York College of Pennsylvania (<http://www.ycp.edu>) is a private-sector, independent institution of higher education, offering over 50 baccalaureate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing. The College has an enrollment of over 4000 full time, over 500 part time undergraduate students and over 200 graduate students from 30 states and 12 foreign countries. The campus is located in South-Central Pennsylvania (50 miles north of Baltimore, MD, 30 miles south of Harrisburg, PA, and 90 miles north of Washington, DC) and offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits.

Though the Fellow will spend time on York College's main campus, the locus of the research and mentoring activities noted above would be housed in the CCE's headquarters in downtown York. The Institute for Public Policy is meant to be an objective, nonpartisan advocacy organization committed to the best practices in academic social science. The CCE hosts local government leaders, non-profit organizations, community groups, and other stakeholders, providing assistance in identifying and developing approaches to solving the community's most pressing problems. Under the guidance of the Fellow, the Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy will contribute to that mission through policy research.

The CCE's 20,000 square foot building at 59 East Market Street will open with Phase One mid-fall, 2016. Located across the street from the Yorktowne Hotel and adjacent to city, county, and state offices, the location is central to the downtown renaissance in Royal Square, the Arts District, and Central Market. This Center will be a hub for community education, meetings, and small conferences making it an ideal location for students and faculty engaged in policy research and analysis. This space will become a highly visible epicenter of policy activity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2042

Emory University

Rank: Assistant Professor – Quantitative Methodologist

Assistant Professor – Quantitative Methodologist
Institute for Quantitative Theory and Methods
Emory University
Atlanta, GA

The Institute for Quantitative Theory and Methods (QTM) at Emory University seeks to hire a quantitative social scientist with expertise in causal inference, Bayesian statistics, or machine learning. The position is tenure-track at the level of Assistant Professor (advanced assistants will be considered). The position is a joint hire between QTM and a social science department that will be the candidate's tenure track home. Teaching load will be standard for the tenure track home and distributed between QTM and the department.

The successful candidate must demonstrate excellence or the promise of excellence in both research and teaching. The candidate should have completed the Ph.D. or be very close to completing the Ph.D. by September 2017.

A complete application will consist of a cover letter, a research statement, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, teaching portfolio, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Application review will begin on October 4th, 2016. Materials must be received by November 14th, 2016. To apply for this position, please visit apply.interfolio.com/37157 and submit your materials free of charge through Interfolio.

Emory University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Disability/Veteran employer. The Institute for Quantitative Theory and Methods, Emory College, and Emory University are all strongly committed to recruiting female and minority candidates. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1984

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado Boulder invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level in quantitative political methodology. The successful candidate should have research interests in methods and is expected to meet departmental instructional needs that include teaching methods at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or have the Ph.D. in hand by August 15, 2017. Candidates who do not have a Ph.D. but are ABD are welcome to apply.

Applications received by October 1, 2016 will receive priority consideration, although we will continue screening applications until the position is filled.

Applications are accepted electronically at <https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.fdl?job=06686&lang=en>, posting #06686, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please direct inquiries to David Brown at david.s.brown@colorado.edu or by mail at Methods Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, Boulder, Colorado, 80309-0333.

The University of Colorado is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to building a diverse workforce. We encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, individual with disabilities and veterans. Alternative formats of this ad can be provided upon request for individuals with disabilities by contacting the ADA Coordinator at hr-ada@colorado.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1987

James Madison University

Rank: Assistant Professor- U.S. Government and Public Policy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY- {Job link #0407599}- The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in U.S. Government and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2017 semester, pending budgetary approval. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. Areas of specialization should include health policy, economic policy, and/or comparative public policy.

The department seeks candidates with strong teaching and research skills. Review of applications will begin October 6, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {# 0407599}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience. The College of Arts and Letters (CAL) at JMU serves as a cross-disciplinary center of intellectual inquiry and practice on campus. All programs in the college are committed to fostering rigorous, constructive dialogue in classrooms, local communities, and the larger world.

James Madison University is committed to a diverse and inclusive community and to maintaining a work and educational environment that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability; genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1980

New College of Florida

Rank: Applied Statistics

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Applied Statistics, starting in August, 2017. A Ph.D. in applied statistics or a related applied field is required. Postdoctoral or teaching experience is preferred and consulting experience is a plus. We seek an individual to help create an innovative Data Science Program in a liberal arts context. We are looking for candidates capable of designing and teaching courses and guiding research at both the graduate and undergraduate level in a highly interdisciplinary setting. We strongly encourage women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities to apply.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly-selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. New College is nationally known for its experimental, project-based approach to education. Students, with the help of faculty sponsors, plan their own academic programs through a series of semester contracts, and receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. Completion of a senior thesis is a graduation requirement.

The teaching load is two classes per semester, plus supervision of tutorials, independent study projects, senior theses and master's level projects. The College is especially interested in candidates who wish to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through teaching, scholarship and service.

A complete application includes a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation (at least one that evaluates teaching), a statement of teaching philosophy (including course proposals), and a description of proposed research (including how undergraduates would be involved). To ensure full consideration, all materials should be received by November 15, but applications will be reviewed until the position is filled. New College of Florida is an EOE institution. Please complete the application at ncf.simplehire.com. Contact jobs@ncf.edu with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/15/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1950

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for full-time appointment during the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical and computational research techniques with contemporary social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health, the role of party networks in contemporary American politics, and methods for addressing post-treatment bias in experiments. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by attending seminars, consulting with faculty and students on research, etc. QSS fellows also join a broader community of postdoctoral social science researchers at Dartmouth that includes scholars at the Neukom Institute, the John Sloan Dickey Center, and the Dartmouth Society of Fellows.

The stipend for the QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, there may be an opportunity for the fellow to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend. The fellowship can be extended through the 2018-2019 academic year subject to the approval of Nyhan and the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application Instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests no longer than two pages that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/37062.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1934

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science/Social Data

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position to start Fall 2017 for faculty whose substantive research interests are informed by, or inform the development of, data- or computationally-intensive techniques. We encourage applications at the assistant and early associate level but candidates at any level with exceptional records of accomplishment will be considered. The substantive research area is open although preference will be given to those candidates whose research agendas supplement existing areas of specialization within the department. Candidates should be able to contribute to our new undergraduate Social Data Analytics program (see <http://soda.la.psu.edu/>) and our graduate methods offerings. Faculty positions at Penn State involve substantial research support; in addition, junior positions offer significant release time. Candidates should have a record of publication in high-quality venues, external funding, and quality teaching credentials.

Candidates must have their Ph.D. in hand by appointment date. Application review will begin on October 1, 2016, and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, samples of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (with a key) at <https://psu.jobs/job/66139>. All candidates should request letters from three references to be sent directly to plscapplications@psu.edu.

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1918

Eastern University-St Davids

Rank: Assistant Professor American Government

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Assistant Professor American Government

Political Science Department

2016-2017 AY Replacement Search

The Department of Political Science at Eastern University, a university of the liberal arts and sciences located in St. Davids Pennsylvania, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in the fall of 2017. We are seeking to fill a position in American Government with preference given to individuals who can contribute to Political Theory. Candidates should desire to participate in the liberal arts core by teaching courses that explore the intersection of faith, reason, and justice. A Ph.D. in hand is preferred but ABD candidates nearing completion are also encouraged to apply. Please note that a J.D. is not sufficient for this appointment.

Eastern University is a Christian university of the arts and sciences that integrates faith, reason and justice for students in its undergraduate, graduate, Seminary, urban, professional and international programs. Applicants should have a religious commitment compatible with its mission and be willing to endorse by signing Eastern University's doctrinal statement. The university complies with federal and state guidelines of nondiscrimination in employment; members of protected classes encouraged to apply.

This description is intended to describe the general level and nature of work performed by the person/people assigned to this position. It is not to be construed as an exhaustive list of duties and responsibilities of the person/people so assigned.

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017. Applicants are requested to send a cover letter including a brief statement of your faith, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations (or portfolio), unofficial copies of graduate transcripts, and three professional letters of recommendation/reference to jobs@eastern.edu or by mail to:

Eastern University
Office of Human Resources
1300 Eagle Rd.
St. Davids, PA 19087-3696

All positions remain open until filled.

Interested candidates participating in the APSA Annual Meeting should contact Dr. Sharon Gramby-Sobukwe to arrange an on-campus visit and interview.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1874

Northwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Methodology (Tenure-track)
Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the field of political methodology at the rank of assistant professor. The department seeks candidates who connect cutting-edge quantitative methodological issues to substantive debates in political science, particularly in domains related to comparative politics or international relations, and whose research trajectories connect with “big data” methods including machine learning, nonparametric statistics, and text as data methods. The successful applicant will teach a combination of graduate and undergraduate courses. Applications received by October 15, 2016, will be guaranteed full consideration. Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States. The proposed starting date is September 17, 2017. Applicants should provide a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission at www.polisci.northwestern.edu. * For questions and assistance, please contact Jill Decremer at j-rubin4@northwestern.edu.

*The online portal for accepting applications will be open in early September. Once it is available, the link will be posted.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1858

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Tenure Track; Open to Subfield; Methods Specialization

This is a tenure-track, academic year position with appointment anticipated September of 2017.

Basic Function:

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in research methodology that serves as a requirement for both the Political Science and Criminal Justice undergraduate degrees as well as teach other courses in Political Science. Expected to publish original research open with respect to subfield and advise undergraduate students. Provide service to the department, the university and the profession

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2017. Primary or secondary field in the area of Political Science research methodology. Demonstrated evidence of effective college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated expertise in a wide range of methodological approaches. Demonstrated evidence of research excellence; scholarly publications commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated experience working with diverse groups/populations.

To apply, please submit materials at: <https://jobs.uri.edu/>

Instructions to Applicants

Please attach 4 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Employment Application: (#1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position; (#2) CV which includes the names/contacts information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and course syllabi and teaching evaluations for the last two years and/or for experience directly related to research methods instruction (as available) (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single PDF document); (#3) a brief research and teaching statement; (#4) an article-length sample of written work.

For additional questions or clarification, please contact:

Dr. Kristin Johnson

Associate Professor

Search Committee Chair

Department of Political Science

University of Rhode Island

Kingston, RI 02881

kristin_johnson@uri.edu

401 874-5495

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2016

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1855

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for up to three postdoctoral fellows for the 2017-18 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Each successful fellow should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently, and the fellow's research agenda should be grounded methodologically in statistics or other computational techniques.

During the 2017-18 academic year, fellows will participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results. The stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, each fellow may teach a one-quarter course on a subject of his or her choosing; there is an extra stipend for teaching. The postdoctoral fellowship can be extended through the 2018-19 academic year, subject to negotiation between the fellow and the QSS Chair.

Requirements:

1. Ph.D. in any discipline or expected Ph.D. by September, 2017.
2. Substantive interest in any social science field.
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical or computation methods.
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively.
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research.

Application Materials:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications.

- 2) Statement of research interests, no longer than two pages, that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth.
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant.
- 4) Three letters of reference.
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished.

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016, and interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/36369

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1816

Hope College

Rank: Tenure-Track Appointment in American and Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Hope College political science department invites applications for a tenure-track appointment beginning the 2017-18 academic year. We seek candidates who are equipped to offer courses in one or more of the following areas: American politics and institutions, comparative politics (open regional focus other than Africa), and research methods. The position also includes exciting opportunities to participate in Hope's highly regarded Washington D.C. honors program. Candidates should have a demonstrated ability to combine teaching excellence with genuine scholarly promise, and should be committed to the character and mission of a liberal arts college firmly rooted in the Christian faith. PhDs and ABD candidates who have made substantial progress on the dissertation are encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

As part of the online application found at www.hope.edu/employment/faculty, candidates will upload the following documents: a cover letter including a paragraph clearly addressing the ways in which you will support the mission of Hope College (www.hope.edu/about/mission.html), a curriculum vitae, a description of your current research program, and a statement of your teaching experience and approach to teaching. Additionally, please arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent to jobs@hope.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 15th, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding the position may be directed to David Ryden, department chair, at ryden@hope.edu.

About Hope College

Hope College is a four-year liberal arts college where academic excellence and vibrant Christian faith join together in a supportive and welcoming community. Hope offers an academically rigorous, co-educational and residential education to 3,200 undergraduate students from more than 40 states and 45 countries. Affiliated with the Reformed Church in America since its founding in 1866, Hope College is known for its invitational ecumenical Christian atmosphere, friendly campus community, and well-balanced academic and co-curricular offerings. Hope's beautiful campus is located just steps from award-winning downtown Holland, Michigan and less than seven miles from Lake Michigan.

Hope College is recognized as a national leader in undergraduate research and scholarship and for providing exceptional professional preparation and life-changing educational experiences that equip our students for success after graduation. The college has consistently ranked among the nation's top liberal arts colleges and is featured in the book Colleges That Change Lives.

Hope College is financially sound, with more than 40 consecutive years of balanced budgets, an endowment of approximately $200 million and no deferred maintenance, and over $140 million invested in the construction of new facilities during the past 12 years. The college completed its newest buildings, the Kruienza Art Museum and the Jack H. Miller Center for Musical Arts, in 2015 and will open the Jim and Martie Bultman Student Center in 2017.

In 2015, Hope College launched its 10-year strategic plan, Hope for the World: 2025, which consists of six goals, focused on: academics; Christian formation; global engagement; community; reputation and influence; and value. Developed by the campus community, the strategic plan supports the college's mission, "to educate students for lives of leadership and service in a global society through academic and co-curricular programs of recognized excellence in the liberal arts and in the context of the historic Christian faith."

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1769

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant/Associate professor in Innovative Quantitative Methodologies

ADVANCED QUANTITATIVE METHODOLOGIES CLUSTER HIRE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS, PURDUE UNIVERSITY
POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

The Departments of Anthropology, Political Science, Sociology, and the Brian Lamb School of Communication in the College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University (<http://www.cla.purdue.edu/>) are conducting a cluster hire for two positions in quantitative methodologies and/or formal theory at the Assistant or Associate Professor ranks, with initial positions starting in the fall of 2017. This search is concurrent with a search for an advanced qualitative methodologist as part of a larger hiring initiative with departments in the College of Health and Human Sciences (<http://www.purdue.edu/hhs/>), seeking a total of six tenure-track or tenured faculty members (three in each College) to expand campus-wide expertise in social, behavioral, and health science statistics and research methodology. For information about the cluster see: <https://www.cla.purdue.edu/research/clusterhire/index.html>.

The successful candidates for these positions will be expected to contribute to the research and teaching programs of the departments in which they affiliate, and to collaborate with others within the cluster and across the university in interdisciplinary and extramurally-funded research. Candidates will also be expected to contribute to an anticipated multi-college, shared graduate training platform, including a graduate certification program in advanced methodologies.

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue includes ten academic units across the social sciences, humanities and arts and is home to or closely affiliated with a wide range of interdisciplinary programs and research centers, including: Center on Aging and the Life Course, C-SPAN Archives, Center on Religion and Chinese Society, Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Regenstrief Center for Healthcare Engineering, Purdue Policy Research Institute and Center for the Environment. Successful candidates should have a Ph.D. in one of the social science disciplines participating in the cluster hiring initiative, a strong publication record (for Associate-level applicants) or the promise of a strong publication record (for Assistant Professors), a research program with high likelihood of external funding, and the potential for teaching and mentoring excellence. Faculty responsibilities will include maintaining a productive research program, directing graduate student research, and teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in methodology in their home department as well as cross-listed courses. We are particularly interested in candidates with a substantive area of research and who have demonstrated expertise in innovative quantitative techniques. We welcome applicants with expertise in the analysis of large or untraditional data, advanced hierarchical or structural equation modeling, experimental design and causal inference, automated textual analysis, and network analysis, among other areas.

A background check will be required for employment in this position. Reviewing of applications will begin on October 1, 2016, and continue until the positions are filled. Please send a cover letter outlining qualifications, vita, research and teaching statements, a writing sample, and the names of three academic references via email in PDF format to: cla-adr@purdue.edu. Questions regarding the position may be directed to Professor Melissa Remis, Associate Dean for Research and Graduate Education, College of Liberal Arts, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN, 47907 (remis@purdue.edu).

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/1/2016
Date Posted: 8/11/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1768

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods

The Department of Politics is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a position in the field of Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. No transcripts are requested at this time. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. For best consideration apply by September 8, 2016.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/1/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1699

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Formal Theory/Quantitative Analysis

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate or more senior research position in the fields of Formal Theory or Quantitative Analysis. This position involves a year of research at Princeton with the possibility of renewal for another year based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. Applications are welcome from scholars who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date, September 1, 2017. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars and to increase the critical mass of scholars with interests in formal theory and quantitative methods at Princeton.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members.

Transcripts should be sent directly to F/Q Postdoctoral Fellowship Search, Department of Politics, 130 Corwin Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08544. We will begin reviewing applications on February 15, 2017.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 2/15/2017
Date Posted: 8/1/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1701

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/?q=node/1>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor in International Relations. We are open with respect to specialization within IR, and successful candidates will add to the department's strengths in quantitative, experimental and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a writing sample, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. Items (1) to (3) must be submitted electronically; items (4) and (5) may be sent as hard copies or electronically. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Electronic files may be submitted to polisci@fsu.edu, as may questions about the search. Mailed letters of reference and transcripts may be addressed to International Relations Search, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1690

Furman University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Furman University invites applications for an open rank tenure-track appointment in comparative politics to begin Fall 2017. The candidate's teaching responsibilities will include introductory courses in comparative politics and upper level courses in the area of Middle East politics. The ability to teach a Politics of Africa course and/or an introductory course in research methodology is a strong plus. S/he must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching and excellence in scholarship.

Furman University is a private, selective liberal arts college of about 2,700 residential students located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is situated in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Greenville has a thriving downtown and international community and is within a short driving distance of Charlotte, Atlanta, and Asheville. The Department of Political Science has 15 full-time members. Normal teaching responsibilities are five courses, spread over two terms, typically including two or three introductory courses and two or three upper level courses.

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. We will also meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association convention in Philadelphia, PA. To apply please go to <https://jobs.furman.edu/postings/5738>. For any questions please contact the chairperson of the search committee Dr. Akan Malici at akan.malici@furman.edu. Furman University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. Furman offers employment benefits to domestic partners of employees.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1505

NON-ACADEMIC

New York University

Rank: Clinical Faculty Position in Public Service Communications

Subfield(s): Administration, American Government and Politics, Non-Academic

Specializations: Political Communication, Health Care, Public Opinion

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service at New York University (NYU Wagner) invites applicants for a clinical faculty member with expertise in public policy communications in a public service environment, including government agencies, nonprofit organizations, and/or healthcare or hospital organizations. In addition to teaching, successful candidates will be responsible for directing a cohort of students in NYU Wagner's new Master of Science in Public Policy program with the goal of developing and creating a cohesive academic and co-curricular student experience.

Applicants must hold a graduate degree (PhD preferred) and have at least 10 years of professional experience. We are particularly interested in applicants with experience teaching strategic and persuasive oral and written communications skills courses, as well as critical analysis and research, in a graduate public administration or public health program. Successful candidates will have experience teaching courses focused on effectively communicating and influencing a position or change in public policy or public opinion.

The successful candidate will join NYU Wagner's full-time faculty and should have a strong interest in interacting with faculty, staff, and students in a multi-disciplinary professional school of public service.

Applications received by December 1, 2017 will receive full consideration and the successful candidate will begin June 1, 2017. The position is open until filled. Please send a cover letter, resume/curriculum vitae, research publications (if available), teaching evaluations (if available), and contact information for at least three professional references via the URL below.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/39006>

NYU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and is strongly committed to diversity within its community.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2306

OTHER

Newcastle University

Rank: Lecturer in International Politics

Lectureship in International Politics x 2 Posts

Applications are invited for 2 Lecturers in International Politics, based in the School of Geography, Politics and Sociology. The successful candidates will join an expanding Politics unit that is committed to achieving excellence in both research and teaching. Applications are welcome from candidates with an excellent record of published research or outstanding research potential in any area of International Politics. The appointees will be expected to secure research funding and achieve wider engagement and impact from their research. The successful applicants will contribute to undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and the supervision of research postgraduates. We especially welcome applicants able to teach international political economy, security studies or introduction to international politics.

Informal and confidential enquiries may be made to the Head of Politics, Professor Derek Bell, (tel: +44 (0)191 208 87465; email derek.bell@ncl.ac.uk). The School's web site can be viewed at <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/gps/> and information on Politics can be found at <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/gps/politics/>.

To apply for this post please visit <https://vacancies.ncl.ac.uk/LoginV2.aspx>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/5/2016

Date Posted: 11/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2315

Newcastle University

Rank: Senior Lecturer in International Politics

Senior Lectureship in International Politics

Applications are invited for a Senior Lecturer in International Politics, based in the School of Geography, Politics and Sociology. The successful candidates will join an expanding Politics unit that is committed to achieving excellence in both research and teaching. Applications are welcome from candidates with an excellent record of published research or outstanding research potential in any area of International Politics. The appointees will be expected to secure research funding and achieve wider engagement and impact from their research. The successful applicants will contribute to undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and the supervision of research postgraduates. We especially welcome applicants able to teach international political economy, security studies or introduction to international politics.

Informal and confidential enquiries may be made to the Head of Politics, Professor Derek Bell, (tel: +44 (0)191 208 87465; email derek.bell@ncl.ac.uk). The School's web site can be viewed at <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/gps/> and information on Politics can be found at <http://www.ncl.ac.uk/gps/politics/>.

To apply for this post please visit <https://vacancies.ncl.ac.uk/LoginV2.aspx>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/5/2016

Date Posted: 11/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2314

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

The Political Theory Project (PTP) at Brown University will be appointing up to four Postdoctoral Research Fellows. Post-doctorates must have received their PhD's within the past three years. Salary is competitive.

Appointments are for two years. Postdoctoral fellows will pursue their own research, participate in PTP working groups, and teach one seminar course per year. In addition to a CV, three confidential letters of reference, and writing sample, applications should include a cover letter describing how their research fits within the mission of the PTP.

Details about the Project's research and pedagogical missions can be found at www.politicaltheoryproject.org. Applications received by November 18, 2016 will be assured of full consideration. Postdoctoral applications can be submitted online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/39115>

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2317

University of Chicago

Rank: Dean, Harris School of Public Policy

University of Chicago
Harris School of Public Policy
Dean
CHICAGO, IL

The University of Chicago seeks an experienced, inventive and ambitious scholar/administrator as the next dean of the Harris School of Public Policy. The Harris School was founded 25 years ago in line with the University of Chicago's traditions of intellectual rigor and interdisciplinary investigation. Its exacting, data-driven perspective, across a range of disciplines and policy domains, has distinguished the Harris School from its competitors.

In a brief period of time the Harris School has developed an array of new initiatives and blazed a remarkable path. Recent successes will provide the next dean with a rare opportunity to build a preeminent professional school for the next generation of policy leaders. In fundraising, the school has been the recipient of transformational gifts: $38 million in total to build its new home, the Keller Center and a landmark $100 million gift to establish The Pearson Institute for the Study and Resolution of Global Conflicts and The Pearson Global Forum. At the same time, the ranks of the full-time faculty have increased by 24% to 41%, with top flight hires in the areas of conflict and international development, data analytics, energy, labor economics and political economy. New degrees are now offered in the areas of computational analysis, environmental sciences, a certificate in data analytics as well as a BA in public policy for undergraduates in the College. Organizationally, the school has invested in enhancing staff capacity in advising, marketing, development and enrollment management to deliver a world class student experience and to enable the school to grow.

The next dean will come at a critical moment for the Harris School. Cultivating the school's academic distinction; strategizing and executing on The Pearson Institute and The Global Forum, opening the Keller Center; growing the faculty and student body; fundraising; sustaining and developing new academic programs; and implementing effective systems and policies internally will all be critical tasks for the dean.

The dean has the opportunity to firmly harness the school's forward momentum. There is much that is new at the Harris School and much that was always foundational and remains central to its identity. The school will require astute leadership from the dean to fully shape and settle an emerging and more expansive identity. As new faculty and staff are recruited, they will join an ambitious, successful and rapidly evolving school, reaching for new cohesion, an expanded place in the University and eminence in the world of policy analytics. The University of Chicago has engaged Isaacson, Miller, a national executive search firm, to assist with this search. Inquiries, nominations and applications should be directed in confidence to: www.imsearch.com/5835.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law.

Apply Here: <http://www.imsearch.com/5835>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/14/2016

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2313

Yale University

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship in Political Economy, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The MacMillan Center, Yale University

The Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy at Yale invites applications for a post-doctoral position for AY 2017-2018. Candidates must have a robust research program in political economy, broadly construed, and must have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

The Post-doctoral Associate will teach one course during the year, either in the Fall or the Spring semester, pursue his/her own research, and participate in the activities of the Leitner program. Post-doctoral Associates are expected to be in residence from August 2017 to May 2018.

We will begin accepting applications immediately with review beginning on Thursday, December 15, 2016 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Compensation is competitive, and includes benefits and health coverage. We expect to be able to cover a junior scholar's salary for the full academic year and up to half of a senior scholar's salary. Senior scholars who will be taking leave from their home institution to accept the fellowship should indicate salary requirements and whether they expect to receive salary support from their university or outside sources.

To apply, send a cover letter, CV, research statement and a draft of a syllabus of a course you propose to teach at Yale. You'll also need to have three letters of recommendation submitted on your behalf.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/38382>

Ms. Hira Jafri, Program Manager, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: hira.jafri@yale.edu. For details on the Leitner program, please consult the website: <http://www.yale.edu/leitner>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2303

Kent State University

Rank: TT, Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Lesbian & Gay Studies, Conflict Processes

The Department of Political Science at Kent State University invites applications for a tenure-track position, open with regard to region and rank, in Comparative Politics, to begin in August 2017. We seek scholars studying marginalization, structures of oppression, and the politics of dissent, with potential topics including, but not limited to: identities (race, gender, sexualities, ethnicity), global inequality, settler colonialism, migration, borders, and labor.

The Political Science Department at KSU is a PhD-granting department with a dynamic, well-published faculty and a robust undergraduate program that encourages students to engage and change the world around them. The successful candidate will demonstrate an ability to conduct and publish research commensurate with the expectations of a research institution and to teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels. There will be ample opportunities for collaboration across departments and for community engagement. The teaching load for untenured TT faculty members is two courses per semester.

Applicants should have a PhD in Political Science or cognate field such as Sociology, Black or Africana Studies, Ethnic Studies, Gender Studies, or Sexuality Studies at the time of hire (August 2017). Review of applications will begin in mid-November and continue until the position is filled. Candidates for Assistant Professor should show promise of a quality research agenda and teaching success, and senior scholars should show evidence of scholarly impact in their area of research. Applicants at the Assistant level should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, a research plan, graduate transcripts, and three letters of reference; senior-level applicants should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three references. All applications should be submitted to <https://jobs.kent.edu/postings/11194>. Questions should be addressed to cpjob@kent.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/21/2016
Date Posted: 10/28/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2301

University at Albany

Rank: Advanced Associate /Full Professor, Criminal Justice

Advanced Associate/Full Professor, Criminal Justice

About University at Albany:

Established in 1844 and designated as one of the four University Centers of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of approximately 17,000 students, including some 5,000 graduate students, and its full-time faculty of about 700, in eight schools and colleges across three campuses.

Albany, the capital of New York, is in a metropolitan area with a population of approximately 800,000. Located in beautiful upstate New York, it is in close proximity to the Berkshires, the Catskills, the Adirondacks, and the Hudson River Valley and is also convenient to Boston, Montreal, and New York City.

Job Description:

The School of Criminal Justice invites applications for multiple full-time tenure-track faculty positions, at the Full or Advanced Associate level, to begin Fall 2017.

Area of specialization is open.

The School of Criminal Justice has an internationally renowned doctoral program, offers a small M.A. program, and provides a select group of undergraduates the opportunity to earn the B.A. in criminal justice.

Requirements:

- Ph.D. in criminal justice or a related discipline from a college or university accredited by the U.S. Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization
- Demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching and research
- Applicants must address in their application their ability to work with a culturally diverse population.

Additional Information:

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=69526>

Application Instructions:

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

- CV
- Letter of application
- Statement of research and teaching interests
- Names and contact information of three professional references

Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.). See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.

Returning Applicants - Login to your U-Albany Careers Account to check your completed application.

Review of applications will begin December 9, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/bqpcmb2phz>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/27/2016

Date Posted: 10/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2299

University of San Francisco

Rank: Dissertation Fellowship: Gerardo Marn Diversity Fellowships 2017-2018

Dissertation Fellowship: Gerardo Marn Diversity Fellowships 2017-2018

University of San Francisco

Job Summary:

Position Information

Requisition Number

2016-1134Staff

Job Title

Dissertation Fellowship: Gerardo Marin Diversity Fellowships 2017-2018

Job Location

Main Campus - Hilltop

Salary Type

Exempt

Job Type

Full-Time

Union Type

Non Union

Travel

Up to 25%

Work Environment

Classroom/Office

Job Summary

The University of San Francisco invites applications for the Gerardo Marin Diversity Dissertation Fellowship for the 2017-2018 academic year. The Gerardo Marin Diversity Fellowships seek to help increase the presence of currently underrepresented racial and ethnic groups in the U.S. professoriate by supporting advanced doctoral candidates during completion of their dissertation.

Job Responsibilities

Scholars complete their dissertation and initiate an ongoing program of scholarly or creative work while becoming familiar with the usual service responsibilities of a university faculty member. Scholars teach one course in their discipline each semester and serve the University in various capacities.

The program will provide compensation and limited support for relocation and research-related expenses. Additional support includes office space, computer and library privileges.

Minimum Requirements

Candidates in disciplines in which racial and ethnic groups are traditionally underrepresented will receive special consideration. Candidates must have completed all course work leading to their doctorate by Summer 2017 and must be considering a career in college teaching in one of the following fields:

Arts and Sciences: Communication Studies, Media Studies, History (emphasis in Islamic History), Art and Architecture (emphasis in Architecture, Design, Fine Art, and Art History), English (emphases in Native American Literature, Asian American Literature, Commonwealth Literature, or British Literature), Politics, Psychology, and International Studies

Education: Counseling Psychology, Leadership Studies, Learning and Instruction, International and Multicultural Education, Teacher Education

Special Instructions to Applicants

Applicants should submit online through usjobs.com a letter of application indicating area of expertise and desired department for placement; curriculum vitae; transcripts; dissertation prospectus; brief description of research plans; evidence of teaching ability (including student evaluations); and three letters of recommendation. Transcripts and letters of recommendation can be sent to:

Dr. Mary Wardell-Ghirarduzzi

Vice Provost

Dissertation Fellowship Search

University of San Francisco

2130 Fulton Street

San Francisco, CA 94117-1080

Or by email to mailto:diversity@usfca.edu with the subject line: Dissertation Fellowship Application

Official transcripts should be submitted by both undergraduate and graduate institutions. Complete applications must be received by January 15, 2017 to ensure full consideration.

Job Open Date

10/24/2016

Job Close Date

01/15/2017

Posted until Filled

No

About USF

The University of San Francisco is located in the heart of one of the world's most innovative and diverse cities, and is home to a vibrant academic community of students and faculty who achieve excellence in their fields. Its diverse student body enjoys direct access to faculty, small classes and outstanding opportunities in the city itself. USF is San Francisco's first university, and its Jesuit Catholic mission helps ignite a student's passion for social justice and a desire to "Change the World From Here." For more information, visit www.usfca.edu.

EEO Policy

The University is an equal opportunity institution of higher education. The University does not discriminate in employment, educational services and academic programs on the basis of an individual's race, color, religion, religious creed, ancestry, national origin, age (except minors), sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, medical condition (cancer-related and genetic-related) and disability, and the other bases prohibited by law. The University reasonably accommodates qualified individuals with disabilities under the law.

Fair Chance Ordinance

Pursuant to the San Francisco Fair Chance Ordinance, we will consider for employment qualified applicants with arrest and conviction records. For more information visit: <http://sfgov.org/olse/fair-chance-ordinance-fco>.

Job Responsibilities:

Minimum Requirements:

Additional Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities:

For information on how to apply, please visit the following link: <http://apptrkr.com/904350>

EEO Policy

The University of San Francisco is an equal opportunity institution of higher education. As a matter of policy, the University does not discriminate in employment, educational services and academic programs on the basis of an individual's race, color, religion, religious creed, ancestry, national origin, age (except minors), sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, medical condition (cancer-related and genetic-related) and disability, and the other bases prohibited by law. The University reasonably accommodates qualified individuals with disabilities under the law.

Copyright ©2015 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<http://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-b2a29c3a5daf4d2c9df8c209f468f054

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2296

University of San Francisco

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship: Gerardo Marín Diversity Fellowships 2017-2018

Position Information

Requisition Number
2016-1133Staff

Job Title
Postdoctoral Fellowship: Gerardo Marín Diversity Fellowships
2017-2018

Job Location
Main Campus - Hilltop

Salary Type
Exempt

Job Type
Full-Time

Union Type
Non Union

Travel
Up to 25%

Work Environment
Classroom/Office

Job Summary
The University of San Francisco invites applications for the Gerardo Marín Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2017-2018 academic year. The Gerardo Marín Postdoctoral Fellowship seeks to help increase the presence of currently underrepresented racial and ethnic groups in the U.S. professoriate by supporting post-doctoral scholars.

Job Responsibilities
The program is a “teaching postdoc,” intended to develop participants as both researchers and teachers. Fellows are housed in an existing department and work with senior faculty members to begin the development of an independent research program. In addition, fellows teach one course per semester in order to gain teaching experience.

The program will provide compensation, a modest budget for research supplies, and limited support for relocation. Fellows will be mentored by a senior faculty member; in the lab sciences, this mentor will provide lab space. Additional support includes computer and library privileges.

Minimum Requirements
Candidates in disciplines in which racial and ethnic groups are traditionally underrepresented will receive special consideration. Candidates must have completed their doctorate by Summer 2017, and be considering a career in one of the following fields:

Education: Counseling Psychology, Leadership Studies, Learning and Instruction, International and Multicultural Education, Teacher Education

Special Instructions to Applicants
Applicants should submit online through usfjobs.com a cover letter indicating area of expertise and desired department for placement; curriculum vitae; transcripts; research statement; teaching statement; evidence of teaching ability (including student evaluations); and three letters of recommendation.

Transcripts and letters of recommendation can be sent to:

Dr. Mary Wardell-Ghirarduzzi
Vice Provost
Postdoctoral Fellowship Search
University of San Francisco
2130 Fulton Street
San Francisco, CA 94117-1080

Or by email to diversity@usfca.edu with the subject line: Postdoctoral Fellowship Application

Official transcripts should be submitted by both undergraduate and graduate institutions. Complete applications must be received by January 15, 2017 to ensure full consideration.

Job Open Date
10/24/2016

Job Close Date
01/15/2017

Posted until Filled
No

About USF
The University of San Francisco is located in the heart of one of the world’s most innovative and diverse cities, and is home to a vibrant academic community of students and faculty who achieve excellence in their fields. Its diverse student body enjoys direct access to faculty, small classes and outstanding opportunities in the city itself. USF is San Francisco’s first university, and its Jesuit Catholic mission helps ignite a student’s passion for social justice and a desire to “Change the World From Here.” For more information, visit www.usfca.edu.

EEO Policy
The University is an equal opportunity institution of higher education. The University does not discriminate in employment, educational services and academic programs on the basis of an individual’s race, color, religion, religious creed, ancestry, national origin, age (except minors), sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, medical condition (cancer-related and genetic-related) and disability, and the other bases prohibited by law. The University reasonably accommodates qualified individuals with disabilities under the law.

Fair Chance Ordinance
Pursuant to the San Francisco Fair Chance Ordinance, we will consider for employment qualified applicants with arrest and conviction records. For more information visit: <http://sfgov.org/olse/fair-chance-ordinance-fco>.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 1/15/2017

Date Posted: 10/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2297

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor / Assistant Professor

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Applications are invited for:-

Faculty of Social Science

Professor / Associate Professor / Assistant Professor

(Ref. 160001ZV)

The Faculty of Social Science at The Chinese University of Hong Kong now invites applications of outstanding candidates for a faculty position with prospect for substantiation in Global Studies. We are interested in candidates who can champion research and teaching in one or more of the following areas of global studies:

- global media
- sustainability and environment

The appointee should be a committed social science educator who excels in undergraduate teaching, student advising and postgraduate mentoring. He or she should also be a prolific social scientist with an impressive record of publications and successes in obtaining extramural research funding. Aside from teaching foundation courses in global studies, the appointee will actively involve in the development of the Global Studies Programme, organizing and participating in activities related to programme promotion, student and staff recruitment, and student advising.

Appointment will normally be made on contract basis for 3 years initially commencing August 2017, which, subject to mutual agreement, may lead to longer-term appointment or substantiation later. Outstanding candidate for Professor rank may be specially considered for substantive appointment forthwith.

Applications will be accepted until the post is filled.

Application Procedure

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for the post above. For more information and to apply online, please visit <http://career.cuhk.edu.hk>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2283

University of Michigan

Rank: INAUGURAL DEAN, NEW SCHOOL FOR ENVIRONMENT AND SUSTAINABILITY

The University of Michigan, one of the world's premier research universities with tremendous breadth and depth of academic excellence across its nineteen schools and colleges, invites nominations and applications for the inaugural dean of a new interdisciplinary school for the environment and sustainability. This is an unprecedented opportunity for an innovative, creative and entrepreneurial leader with a passion for research and education.

The University of Michigan is pursuing major changes to its current environment and sustainability structure to strengthen U-M's position as a leader in interdisciplinary research and education that addresses global challenges in this area. Central to this new structure is a new school, to be named later this year, that addresses global sustainability challenges at the intersection of the environment and society through research, teaching and civic engagement.

U-M's expansive breadth and depth of expertise uniquely position the University to be at the forefront of an integrated, collaborative, innovative and dynamic set of programs that will magnify the impact of faculty, staff and student work in the environment and sustainability areas. While significant planning is being done over the coming year, the inaugural dean will be empowered to bring his or her vision to this transition process and will be charged with leading and shaping the new school over the coming years.

The new school will replace the current School of Natural Resources and Environment (SNRE), build on its strengths, have a broader mission, and be structured to engage faculty from across the university. It will have porous boundaries so it can provide leadership and work collaboratively with other schools, institutes and programs at the university to develop solutions to the most challenging global sustainability issues.

The new school will bring together faculty from a wide variety of disciplines that will pursue collaborative and highly interdisciplinary approaches to issues that impact our environment, sustainable development and societal linkages. As a new type of school, it will be organized around disciplinary clusters and interdisciplinary sustainability themes. The school will educate and train students on environmental and sustainability concerns at all levels; and the University is committed to ensuring that the new school has sufficient resources to achieve its bold vision of interdisciplinary education, research and service.

The Dean is the chief academic and executive officer of the School and reports directly to the Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Dean provides leadership and is responsible for all matters relating to the administration of the School, including academic programs, personnel, budgets, alumni engagement, government and industry relations, and fundraising. Working collaboratively with faculty and staff to advance the School's mission, the Dean represents the School within the University and provides leadership for a wide range of external constituencies.

The Dean of the new school will also be responsible for jointly overseeing the undergraduate Program in the Environment with the Dean of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, supporting the Program's mission of providing students with a liberal arts education in sustainability and the environment.

Qualifications include:

- A distinguished research and teaching record commensurate with an appointment as a full professor in the School,
- Demonstrated ability to work collegially and cooperatively by reaching across school/college/unit boundaries to form positive, productive relationships,
- Experience in and a commitment to enhancing diversity, equity and inclusion,
- The ability to lead and manage via influence and collaboration,
- The ability to consider issues and perspectives of multiple stakeholders and a wide range of disciplines,
- Demonstrated leadership and administrative experience,
- Excellent communication skills,
- An understanding of budgeting processes and financial acumen,
- An aptitude for fundraising,
- And entrepreneurial skills.

Review of nominations and applications will begin immediately and be accepted until the position is filled. Candidates should provide a curriculum vitae and a letter of interest that addresses the responsibilities and requirements described in the position profile. All inquiries, nominations, and applications will be treated in a confidential manner and should be submitted electronically to the consultants, Jane Gruenebaum, Jacki Mildner, Kahn Lee, and Carmen Delehanty at www.imsearch.com/5934.

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Apply Here: <http://www.imsearch.com/5934>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2284

Baldwin-Wallace University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science and International Studies, National Security

Baldwin Wallace University (BW) invites applications for a tenure-track interdisciplinary appointment in Political Science and International Studies, with a primary focus on National Security, at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. The successful candidate will assist in the development of a growing undergraduate program in National Security with focus on multiple forms of domestic and global security threats including traditional military, extremism, health, environmental, cybersecurity, and others. Broadly trained specialists with expertise in international relations and related fields are encouraged to apply. Candidates should demonstrate experience and expertise in teaching, advising, and a willingness to contribute in alternate years to BW's First Year Experience Program.

A Ph.D. (by the starting date of August, 2017) in a security-related field, teaching experience, and willingness to mentor undergraduates are required. Relevant professional experience, interdisciplinary expertise, and in-depth knowledge of at least one geographical region are preferred.

Baldwin Wallace University is a selective liberal arts university on the outskirts of Cleveland, Ohio. Its International Studies program, one of the first established in Ohio, currently serves approximately ninety majors and minors while playing an active role in campus internationalization. BW emphasizes teaching, advising, and service, and also encourages and supports scholarship.

Interested candidates should submit a letter summarizing their interest and qualifications, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, other evidence of effective teaching, and three letters of reference in one (1) Word or one (1) PDF document and submit via the To Apply link on BW's Employment and Careers' web page at <https://www.bw.edu/employment/> Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Baldwin Wallace University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer and educator. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2279

Koç University

Rank: Full-time faculty position

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Other

Faculty Position in Political Science and International Relations
KOÇ UNIVERSITY, Istanbul, Turkey

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Koç University invites applications for one or possibly more full time faculty positions starting in September 2017. We are especially looking for candidates with a specialization in political theory, but we will also consider outstanding candidates from other subfields of political science, giving special consideration to candidates with cross-field interests and to candidates specializing in international law, norms, and institutions. Rank will be open given outstanding and active long-term research agenda. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The group of Political Science and International Relations at Koç offers an undergraduate degree and two highly competitive graduate programs, granting an MA and a PhD in Political Science and International Relations. More on the faculty can be found at: <http://case.ku.edu.tr/intl/home>

Candidates should have a Ph.D. from an accredited university, a record of demonstrated research accomplishments and reputation commensurate with rank, and an interest in contributing to the scholarly life of our group. All candidates are expected to have a PhD degree prior to the time of appointment in September 2017.

Koç University is a private, nonprofit institution located in Istanbul, Turkey. The University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. The medium of instruction at Koç University is English. Admission to the University is extremely selective. For general information, please refer to the Koç University web page at: <http://www.ku.edu.tr>

We plan to interview a short list of candidates beginning mid-December 2016 through early February, 2017. Interested applicants should mail the following by November 30th, 2016:

- 1) a letter of application,
- 2) curriculum vitae,
- 3) a research portfolio including samples of published and/or unpublished writing and a summary of future research plans
- 3) a teaching portfolio including syllabi of courses taught and teaching evaluations, and
- 4) three recommendation letters to:

Office of the Dean

(c/o Mrs. Vildan Ertugrul)

College of Administrative Sciences and Economics

Koc University

Rumeli Feneri Yolu, Sariyer 34450

Istanbul, TURKEY

E-Mail: vertugrul@ku.edu.tr

Phone: (90-212) 338-1330

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016
Date Posted: 10/20/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2224

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associates

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for 1 to 2 postdoctoral research associate appointments for the 2017–18 year (12 months), beginning September 1, 2017. Postdoctoral associates would participate in the activities of the PIIRS research community “Migration: People and Cultures across Borders.” The research community, which consists of a multidisciplinary group of Princeton faculty and graduate students, aims to advance the scholarly study of migration as a global, many-faceted phenomenon. The group studies fundamental political, legal and demographic issues (and solutions sought), focusing primarily on contemporary concerns, although historical perspectives are also welcome. Among the themes of interest are migration and the politics of nationhood (including identities, race, gender issues, and borders); statelessness and refugees; language, culture, and the arts. For more information on the research community and its activities, see the PIIRS website at <http://piirs.princeton.edu/research-community/migration-people-and-cultures-across-borders>.

We seek candidates from a mix of disciplines who would be expected to participate regularly in the activities of the intellectual community and to be engaged in scholarly or creative work on a topic related to the community’s broader theme. Candidates must have completed their doctoral degree by the beginning of the appointment. All postdoctoral positions are subject to the University’s background check policy.

To apply, please link to <https://jobs.princeton.edu>, position requisition number 1600897.

Applications must include:

- (1) A cover letter;
- (2) A statement of plans for work and their relation to the community’s theme (under 1,000 words);
- (3) A current curriculum vitae;
- (4) Names and contact information for two references; and
- (5) A representative sample of recent work (under 25 written pages or equivalent in the candidate’s professional medium; for artistic work, links within a PDF preferred). The work sample need not be directly related to the theme of migration.

Application deadline: January 9, 2017 (11:59 PM EST).

For more information on PIIRS, see <http://piirs.princeton.edu/>. Questions about the application process for these positions may be directed to Beate Witzler (bwitzler@princeton.edu).

Princeton University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/20/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2272

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Fellowships

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for 1 to 2 visiting fellowships for the 2017–18 academic year, beginning September 1, 2017. The visiting fellowships are open to scholars and artists who would be in residence for 5 or 10 months. Fellows would participate in the activities of the PIIRS research community “Migration: People and Cultures across Borders.” The research community, which consists of a multidisciplinary group of Princeton faculty and graduate students, aims to advance the scholarly study of migration as a global, many-faceted phenomenon. The group studies fundamental political, legal and demographic issues (and solutions sought), focusing primarily on contemporary concerns, although historical perspectives are also welcome. Among the themes of interest are migration and the politics of nationhood (including identities, race, gender issues, and borders); statelessness and refugees; language, culture, and the arts. For more information on the research community and its activities, see the PIIRS website at <http://piirs.princeton.edu/research-community/migration-people-and-cultures-across-borders>.

The fellows would be expected to participate regularly in the activities of the intellectual community and to be engaged in scholarly or creative work on a topic related to the community’s broader theme. We seek candidates from a mix of disciplines and at varying levels of seniority. The visiting positions would be particularly suitable for a scholar or artist on sabbatical leave from his/her home institution. For a scholar or artist on leave, the fellowship may provide up to one-half of the scholar’s academic year salary, subject to a cap to be determined.

To apply, please link to <https://jobs.princeton.edu>, position requisition number 1600893.

Applications must include:

- (1) A cover letter;
- (2) For scholars and artists on leave, an indication of and justification for the level of support requested.
- (3) A statement of plans for work and their relation to the community’s theme (under 1,000 words);
- (4) A current curriculum vitae;
- (5) Names and contact information for two references; and
- (6) A representative sample of recent work (under 25 written pages or equivalent in the candidate’s professional medium; for artistic work, links within a PDF preferred). The work sample need not be directly related to the theme of migration.

Application deadline: January 9, 2017 (11:59 PM EST).

For more information on PIIRS, see <http://piirs.princeton.edu/>. Questions about the application process for these positions may be directed to Beate Witzler (bwitzler@princeton.edu).

Princeton University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2270

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Specializations: Science & Technology, Political Psychology, Intelligence

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of six interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire four tenure-track assistant or associate professors for the cyber security and privacy cluster. These positions have a start date of August 8, 2017.

These will be interdisciplinary positions that will be expected to both contribute to the common vision of the cyber security and privacy initiative and also strengthen a chosen tenure home department (or departments, when a joint appointment is preferable). A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. The cluster includes core members from Computer Science, Electrical and Computer Engineering, Industrial Engineering and Management Systems, the Institute for Simulation & Training, Political Science, Psychology, and Statistics, and affiliated members from several other departments. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/research/cyber-security> for a complete list of all the units involved.) This cluster will be the focal point of the University's research and educational efforts in cyber security and privacy. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with these new positions.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. We are looking for team players who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for four faculty who work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (b) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, (c) hardware and IoT security, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Applicants must have a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The positions will each carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

Located in Orlando, UCF is one of the nation's most dynamic metropolitan research universities. UCF has the top-tier Carnegie Foundation designation of a "very high research activity" university, is the nation's second-largest university, and is ranked by U.S. News and World Report as among the top up-and-coming universities in terms of innovative changes in the areas of academics, faculty, and student life. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes: software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/47217> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmission to update applications.

UCF is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about these positions please contact the Cluster Search Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2273

Ozyegin University

Rank: Two Open Rank Positions in Political Science

The Department of International Relations at Özyegin University invites applications for two posts (assistant/associate/full professor levels) to begin in September 2017.

We are seeking to hire two political scientists, preferably with an emphasis on political institutions, elections, and voting behavior, or public policy, governance and social policy. Proficiency in political theory or experience with survey methodology will be a plus. A research profile that includes a regional focus would also be desirable.

Candidates must have an active research agenda with a publication record appropriate to their academic level, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service to the field. Successful candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand or have fulfilled all requirements for the degree by the start of the appointment.

Candidates need to send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current curriculum vitae including names and contacts of at least two references, one sample publication/working paper, and a teaching portfolio with one sample syllabus and a summary of teaching evaluations. All items must be combined in ONE

PDF file and sent via e-mail to the Faculty of Social Sciences, Department of International Relations, to socialsciences@ozyegin.edu.tr. To ensure consideration, the application should be received by Monday the 19th of December 2016.

Özyegin University is a private, non-profit Turkish institution of higher education located in Çekmeköy, Istanbul. The University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. The medium of instruction is English. The normal teaching load consists of two to three courses per semester. Salary and benefits are competitive.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2252

San Jose State University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) Global In/Security

Subfield(s): Other, Other, Other

Specializations: International Security, Criminal Justice, Civil Rights & Liberties

Required:

*Ph.D. in a related field.

*Commitment to teaching excellence with technology integrated into teaching; ability to teach online classes

*Active research agenda with strong potential for publications and funded research

*Research and teaching may be in an array of areas such as International Relations, Critical Migration Studies, Border Studies, Peace and Conflict Studies, Food Justice, Cybersecurity, Surveillance, Personal Security, Terrorism, Genocide and Transitional Justice, and Critical Security Studies, among others.

*Demonstrated awareness of and sensitivity to educational goals of a multicultural population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching and other comparable experience

Preferred:

*Research and teaching that addresses contemporary issues of Global In/Security

*Research and teaching that can enhance existing department emphases in Criminology, Criminal Justice, Legal Studies, Human Rights, or Forensic Science, including Digital Forensics

*Strong record of teaching excellence

*A global or international perspective in teaching and research

Responsibilities:

*Maintain effective teaching in the Justice Studies undergraduate and graduate programs, including teaching required skills courses and providing guidance for graduate student research projects

*Actively participate in shared governance, including curricular development, planning and implementing departmental activities, and student support

*Develop and maintain an active research and publishing agenda

*Advise students, collaborate with other faculty, and perform professional service to the University, community, and academic profession

*Address the needs of a student population of great diversity – in age, religion, nationality, cultural background, ethnicity, race, primary language, ability, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic status, and academic preparation – through course materials, teaching strategies and advisement

Application Procedure:

For full consideration, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests/philosophy, research plans, and at least three original letters of reference with contact information by December 9, 2016 to apply.interfolio.com/38427. Please include Job Opening ID (JOID) on all correspondence.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/9/2016

Date Posted: 10/17/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2237

San Jose State University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) Law & Society

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Criminal Justice

Qualifications:

Required:

*Ph.D. in a related field.

*Commitment to teaching excellence with technology integrated into teaching; ability to teach online classes

*Active research agenda with strong potential for publications and funded research

*Expertise in socio-legal studies, critical legal studies, sociology of law, comparative law, or related field

*Demonstrated awareness of and sensitivity to educational goals of a multicultural population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching and other comparable experience

Preferred:

*Research and teaching in an area related to power and stratification such as constitutional and civil rights, juvenile justice, racial disparities in criminal justice, policing minority communities, economic inequality, disability rights, sexual orientation and gender identity discrimination, or family violence

*Research and teaching that can enhance existing department emphases in Criminology, Criminal Justice,

Legal Studies, Human Rights, or Forensic Science, including Digital Forensics

*Strong record of teaching excellence

*A global or international perspective in teaching and research

Responsibilities:

*Maintain effective teaching in the Justice Studies undergraduate and graduate programs, including teaching required skills courses and providing guidance for graduate student research projects

*Actively participate in shared governance, including curricular development, planning and implementing departmental activities, participating in committees, and student support

*Develop and maintain an active research and publishing agenda

*Advise students, collaborate with other faculty, and perform professional service to the University, community, and academic profession

*Address the needs of a student population of great diversity – in age, religion, nationality, cultural background, ethnicity, race, primary language, ability, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic

Application Procedure:

For full consideration, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests/philosophy, research plans, and at least three original letters of reference with contact information by December 9, 2016 to: apply.interfolio.com/38428. Please include Job Opening ID (JOID) on all correspondence.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/9/2016
Date Posted: 10/17/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2236

University of Maine

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellow in Leadership Studies
Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, Political Theory
Specializations: Leadership Studies, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Conflict Processes

The William S. Cohen Institute for Leadership & Public Service at the University of Maine is seeking qualified candidates to fill a full-time, academic year post-doctoral fellow position in Leadership Studies, for an eighteen-month appointment from January 1, 2017 thru May 31, 2018. Typical hiring range for this position is $37,000 to $40,000, commensurate with experience.

Responsibilities and Duties: The primary duty of this position is teaching, with secondary responsibilities of research and service. The teaching load is 3/3, with a mix of introductory and upper level courses at the undergraduate level in UMaine's interdisciplinary Leadership Studies Minor. The minor consists of three core courses—Foundations of Leadership, Leadership Ethics, and Advanced Leadership Theory and Practice—as well as special topics courses, electives, and an internship/practicum course. Supervise internships, independent studies, and undergraduate theses. Advise students on their course of study within the minor and aid them in the registration process, which includes maintaining regular office hours. Maintain an active research program. Perform appropriate service, which includes but is not limited to, active participation in program development in Leadership Studies and the Cohen Institute, and representing these units in interactions with the larger University and community.

Qualifications: We prefer candidates with an earned doctorate in leadership studies, organizational leadership, organizational psychology, organizational behavior, political science, or a related field. Advanced ABD candidates may be considered for the position. We are particularly interested in candidates with a track record of teaching and research in leadership studies from an interdisciplinary, liberal arts perspective, as well as experience in active learning pedagogies, service learning, and community engagement. Additional requirements include record of or demonstrated potential for success in university-level teaching, assisting with program development, and advising and supervising student internships.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of interest in the position, a current C.V., three letters of reference, at least one sample of research related to leadership studies, copies of graduate school transcript(s), and available teaching evaluations and course syllabi. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit application materials electronically to coheninstitute@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Richard Powell, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Cohen Institute: rpowell@maine.edu, 207-581-1872. Additional details about the Cohen Institute and the Leadership Studies Minor can be found at umaine.edu/cohen.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Winter 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/17/2016
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 2234

Concordia University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science, Specializing in Human Rights

The Department of Political Science at Concordia University in Montreal, Quebec, is seeking applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Science, with a specialization in human rights. Preference will be given to research in International Relations. Applicants must have a Ph.D., or be near completion of a doctoral degree, in Political Science or International Relations. The ability to fulfill core teaching needs in the undergraduate and graduate (MPPPA and Ph.D.) curriculum is an asset. The successful candidate will provide evidence of a productive research agenda and teaching effectiveness.

Applications must consist of a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, copies of recent publications, a statement of teaching philosophy/interests, a statement of research achievements/interests, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates must also arrange to have three letters of reference sent directly to the department contact.

Dr. Marlene Sokolon
 Chair, Department of Political Science
 1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd. W.
 Montréal, Québec, Canada, H3G 1M8
PoliticalScience.Chair@concordia.ca
<http://www.concordia.ca/artsci/polisci.html>

Subject to budgetary approval, we anticipate filling this position, normally at the rank of Assistant Professor, for August 1, 2017. Completed applications are due by December 12, 2016, but will be considered until the position has been filled. All inquiries about the position should be directed to Dr. Sokolon:

politicalscience.chair@concordia.ca
 All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority. Concordia University is committed to employment equity.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 12/12/2016
Date Posted: 10/14/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2225

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant Professor, Security Governance

Security Governance
Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences
Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of Security Governance. We are interested in applicants who can demonstrate research and teaching expertise in the following domains of inquiry: human security and insecurity (broadly defined), U.S. national and the transnational governance of national security threats, the role of NGOs and INGOs in matters of human governance/security, security and governance questions related to immigration, refugee flows, cross-border movements, and displaced populations, and gender and/or race and security. Focusing on these governance issues and public policy responses in the United States is the main emphasis but cross-national perspectives also are welcome. Applicants who approach these concerns from a theoretical and critical perspective are encouraged to apply. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. This position will begin August 10, 2017.

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2017. Successful applicants will demonstrate a strong interest in conducting research and teaching courses in the areas of human security/insecurity, security concerns as they relate to human displacements and cross-border movements, and gender as well as racial dimensions of security questions in U.S. national, subnational, and transnational contexts. Successful candidates will have documented effectiveness in both undergraduate and graduate teaching as well as program development in order to meet the Political Science department's key needs in its B.A. and M.A. programs and those of doctoral students in cognate programs such as the Alliance for Social, Political, Ethical, and Cultural Thought (ASPECT). Potential for excellence in research and teaching is required.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to broadly trained candidates who have grounding and skills in a variety of theoretical, analytical, critical, and methodological approaches to security and governance, and who can work with undergraduate and graduate students.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu, posting TR0160128, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a recent writing sample, teaching evaluations, along with names and contact information for three academic references. Screening of applications will begin on December 5, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. All inquiries should be sent to: Dr. François Debrix <fdebrix@vt.edu>, chair, Security Governance Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Major Williams Hall, Room 531 (0130), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with additional questions or with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact the search committee chair.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Agency
Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, or veteran status; or otherwise discriminate against employees or applicants who inquire about, discuss, or disclose their compensation or the compensation of other employees, or applicants; or any other basis protected by law. For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Access at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2215

University of Michigan

Rank: Michigan LSA Collegiate Postdoctoral Fellowship

LSA Collegiate Postdoctoral Fellows Program 2017-2019
Application Deadline: November 7, 2016

For full program information, please read more on our website:
<https://lsa.umich.edu/lsa/about/diversity--equity-and-inclusion/lsa-collegiate-postdoctoral-fellowship-program.html>

-Program Description-

The University of Michigan College of Literature, Science, and the Arts (LSA) invites applications for the LSA Collegiate Postdoctoral Fellowship Program. LSA offers its students an outstanding undergraduate education in the liberal arts at a premier research institution. We are dedicated to ensuring a diverse, scholarly environment and encouraging outstanding individuals to enter the academic profession. The purpose of the LSA Collegiate Postdoctoral Fellowship Program is to support promising scholars who are committed to diversity in the academy and to prepare those scholars for possible tenure track appointments in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts at U-M.

U-M will appoint recent recipients of the Ph.D. as Postdoctoral Fellows for a two-year term beginning July 1, 2017. The Postdoctoral Fellows will receive a starting salary of $55,000 plus benefits, and $7,000 for conference travel and research expenses. The Predoctoral Fellows will receive a starting salary of $50,000 plus benefits, and $7,000 for conference travel and research expenses. During the two-year term of appointment, the fellow will teach one course a year in the host department. All fellows are expected to be in residence during the academic year and participate in departmental seminars and related activities. The remainder of the fellow's time will be devoted to pursuing research. Each fellow will receive career advising from a mentor during their fellowship.

The College seeks extraordinarily promising scholars whose research, teaching, and service will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. The program is particularly interested in scholars with a demonstrated interest in bringing to their research and undergraduate teaching the critical perspective that comes from their non-traditional educational background and/or understanding of the experiences of groups historically underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 11/7/2016

Date Posted: 10/10/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 2207

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank - Cyber Security

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Public Policy

Position Title Open Rank - Cyber Security
 Requisition Number FTFR000859
 Division/College College of Social Sciences and Humanities
 Interdisciplinary Division/College
 Location Boston Main Campus
 Full-time/Part-time Full Time
 Benefits Eligible Yes
 Tenure Status Tenured/Tenure Track
 Posting Date 09/30/2016

Responsibilities

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities (CSSH) at Northeastern University invites applications and nominations for an open rank position in cyber security.

Northeastern University aims to lead in education and research that advance an understanding of security, resilience and sustainability issues and in the development of innovative solutions. This interdisciplinary hiring initiative addresses policy relevant issues such as government sponsored hacking, non state actors involved in data theft, cyber conflict, human factors in cyber security, and the regulation of privacy.

Existing expertise at Northeastern University contributes to pioneering research in the emerging fields of physical, social, and infrastructure resilience through the Security Systems Lab, the Network and Distributed Systems Security Laboratory, the Center for Resilience Studies, the Resilient Cities Laboratory, the Kostas Research Institute for Homeland Security, and the Dukakis Center for Urban and Regional Policy. It includes the intersection of policy and design in advancing secure and resilient critical infrastructure and communities in the face of human-made and naturally-occurring disasters.

Applications are invited from any discipline that contributes to the issues of cyber security, cyber crime, data privacy and their overlap. A successful applicant may have his or her tenure home in the Department of Political Science, the School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, the School of Public Policy and Urban affairs, or the departments of Sociology, Anthropology or History. A cross-college appointment is expected to be made in the appropriate unit of the College of Computer and Information Science, the School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs, the Law School, the College of Engineering, or the College of Science.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a PhD or equivalent terminal degree at the beginning of the appointment and a record of scholarship and teaching commensurate with rank. Successful applicants will have the abilities to initiate and lead major funded research projects, to promote innovation in teaching, and to engage with practitioners in the public, private and non-profit sectors. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a NEU education.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the experiential liberal arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Northeastern University in Boston is a nationally ranked research university with a strong urban mission, a global perspective, and an emphasis on interdisciplinary scholarship and experiential learning. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the Full-time positions link. Applicants will be asked to upload a letter of application, CV, a statement of current and future research interests, a writing sample of no more than 50 pages, and the names of three referees. Review of applications will begin October 24, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries from potential candidates are welcome and may be directed to the Chair of the Search Committee, Daniel Aldrich, Director, Security and Resilience Studies Program. d.aldrich@neu.edu.

Documents Needed to Apply

Required Documents
 Curriculum Vitae
 Cover Letter
 Writing Sample
 Research Statement
 Optional Documents
 Posting Specific Questions

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2192

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Race, Ethnicity and Politics Faculty Position

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Los Angeles invites applications for an open-field faculty position in Racial and Ethnic Politics. We are particularly interested in applicants who have recently received or will soon be candidates for tenure. We are open to different theoretical and methodological perspectives, including qualitative and quantitative approaches. Rank will be determined by the candidate's qualifications and professional experience, but all applicants must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field, or complete their Ph.D. prior to the appointment. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 2017.

We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, and service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to excellence and diversity. Applications for this position should be made online at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF02584>. The job tracking number is JPF02584. The position will remain open until filled, but to ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 9, 2016. Applications should include a current C.V., a statement of research, teaching interests, a statement regarding how he/she has contributed to diversity in the past and how they expect to contribute to diversity at UCLA in the future, and a writing sample. Junior applicants should also include transcripts and three letters of recommendation. Senior candidates need only provide names of three possible references.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2189

University of Central Florida

Rank: Associate/Full Professor in Coastal Environmental Policy/Coastal Political Geography

Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster: Coastal Environmental Policy/Political Geography

Applicants for an Associate/Full Professor position in Coastal Environmental Policy or Coastal Political Geography must have a Ph.D. from an accredited institution in political science, geography, or a related discipline, such as environmental policy/political geography or environmental anthropology/sociology.

The successful applicant will become a core faculty member in the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster and must bring expertise in environmental policy and politics to an interdisciplinary team in order to advance understanding of the social-ecological systems in coastal areas with a focus on public policy and coastal ecology. They must demonstrate a strong commitment to interdisciplinary research and publication; a commitment to interdisciplinary and collaborative research, have demonstrated an ability to perform high-impact and high-demand research, and develop a program that will lead to strong extramurally-funded research. The successful candidate will also have a strong teaching record with the ability to teach and mentor students at both graduate and undergraduate levels.

As part of an on-going hiring campaign, UCF recently established an interdisciplinary cluster approach to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are searching for faculty in the broad interdisciplinary area of Sustainable Coastal Systems (<http://ucf.edu/research/coastalsystems>) and plan to bring together a core group of faculty who work across traditional research boundaries or are working in transdisciplinary fields. This new hire will join current cluster faculty, representing twelve departments and seven colleges, to lead a world-class effort to understand and assess natural and human-related impacts to coastal ecosystem health, restoration, sustainability, and mitigation; and ultimately to characterize and integrate physical, chemical, biological, and socio-economic processes impacting coastal communities and ecosystems.

Faculty in these interdisciplinary positions will be expected to strengthen both their tenure home department as well as the Sustainable Coastal Systems cluster. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup are expected with these five new positions. Each new faculty member will have a unique interdisciplinary mentoring team to foster intellectual breadth and to facilitate integrative capacity to strengthen the success of the cluster.

Candidates must apply on-line at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/43915> (Position #38869) and attach the following materials:

a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter candidates should address their background in their discipline and should identify the department(s) for their potential tenure home. In the research statement candidates should include descriptions of their successful interdisciplinary research collaborations and how their current and future research can contribute to the cluster's overall interdisciplinary objectives.

The search committee will review applications on on-going basis and continue to accept applications until the position is filled. The University of Central Florida, the nation's second-largest university with more than 63,000 students, has grown in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando and more than a dozen other locations. UCF is an economic engine attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. For more information, visit <http://ucf.edu>. UCF is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer. All applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities, women, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

For more information about these positions please contact the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster Search Chair, Dr. Graham Worthy at CoastalCluster@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2184

Yale University

Rank: Open Rank Position in Korean Studies

Yale University seeks to appoint an outstanding scholar in the field of Korean Studies. Applications are encouraged from specialists in any humanities or social science discipline whose work is substantially focused on the study of Korea. This is an open rank search. Appointment will be to an appropriate disciplinary department, but with the expectation that the successful candidate will work with colleagues and students from across the university to help more fully integrate Korea into the study of Asia, and the world, at Yale. Duties include teaching and advising at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, a chapter-length writing sample prepared for anonymous reading, and three letters of references through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/37554>.

Review of applications will begin on November 14th, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

For more information, please contact eastasian.studies@yale.edu.

Yale University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, faculty, and staff. Applications from women, members of minority groups, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans are particularly welcome.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2172

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in African Studies (Social Sciences and Humanities)

The Council on African Studies at the MacMillan Center invites applications for a two-year post-doctoral fellowship at Yale University for AY2017-2018 and AY2018-2019, commencing on July 1, 2017. Candidates must have research and teaching experience relevant to modern and contemporary Africa, in the social sciences or humanities.

All applicants should have in-depth knowledge of at least one African language and fluency in English, and must have completed the Ph.D. by the time of appointment. The post-doctoral associate will spend 75% of their time pursuing his/her own research and teaching one course each academic year related to his/her interests, and 25% of their time curating the programmatic/scholarly activities of the Yale Africa Initiative. Applicants should submit a cover letter, one-page description of research plans; a draft of a course syllabus, and a title and brief summary of a second course; a CV; and letters of recommendation from two academic references. Compensation includes an annual salary of $50,000, health insurance, and other benefits afforded to post-doctoral associates at Yale: <http://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/my-benefits-yale/postdoctoral-associate-benefits>.

We will accept applications immediately with review beginning on November 15, 2016 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and under-represented minorities are particularly welcome.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/38069>. Uploaded PDF copies of signed reference letters will be accepted but signed hard copies should be mailed to the address below.

George Joseph, Deputy Director, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: george-joseph@yale.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2173

National University of Singapore

Rank: Open Rank up to Tenured Full Professor in Middle East-Asia Studies

Open Rank up to Tenured Full Professor in Middle East-Asia Studies

The Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (FASS) and the Middle East Institute (MEI) at the National University of Singapore (NUS) invite applications for the following positions:

1) Tenured Associate or Full Professorship in the Political Economy of the Middle East. Advanced Assistant Professors are also welcome to apply. Expertise in the relations between business and politics, and their ramifications in the wider society, is especially welcome. A transnational connective or comparative dimension, with knowledge of two or more countries, regions or languages in the Middle East and Asia would be a distinct advantage. Related interests in rentier state economies, authoritarian rule, social movements, democratization, party politics, religious revivalism, comparative fundamentalisms, and digital media are also welcome.

2) Tenured Associate or Full Professorship in Legal Pluralism and the Middle East. Advanced Assistant Professors are also welcome to apply. Our interest is in appointing a scholar whose work focuses on the interaction between different legal systems, traditions or norms, whether in 1) colonial, national, customary, guild, tribal non-state, sub-state and state contexts; or 2) supra-state or global ones such as Islamic law and global finance, Islamic reform movements, the new lex mercatoria, arbitration, mediation, private courts, functionally differentiated spheres such as international law, international humanitarian law, maritime law, and other international conventions. A transnational connective or comparative dimension, with knowledge of two or more countries, regions or languages in the Middle East and Asia would be a distinct advantage.

3) A Professorship in Middle East-Asia Studies at any rank. We are interested in scholars whose work connects the Middle East with any other part of Asia, in any field or discipline (e.g., history, geography, anthropology, literature, sociology, economics, religion). Knowledge of two or more countries, regions or languages in the Middle East and Asia would be a distinct advantage.

The successful candidates will be jointly appointed by the FASS and MEI, with a reduced teaching load in the most relevant FASS department (e.g. political science, sociology, history, economics, geography, communications and new media), and the opportunity to lead a research cluster in MEI.

NUS is a leading university in Asia which provides rich resources and opportunities for research, competitive remuneration and generous benefits, including housing and medical coverage. The university is looking to strengthen Middle East expertise across the FASS departments, and to create a distinctive Middle East Institute in Asia through three such senior appointments: in Political Economy, Legal Pluralism and Middle East-Asia Studies.

Please send a cover letter, CV, two sample publications, three referee names, research and teaching statements by 30 November 2016 to:

Chair, Middle East-Asia Studies Search Committee
c/o Ms Pui-Yoke BUN
Dean's Office, Faculty of Arts and Social Science
National University of Singapore
Shaw Foundation Building
5 Arts Link
Singapore 117570

Email: mes_sc@nus.edu.sg

Start Date: 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2145

National University of Singapore

Rank: Open Rank up to Tenured Full Professor in Middle East-Asia Studies

Open Rank up to Tenured Full Professor in Middle East-Asia Studies

The Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (FASS) and the Middle East Institute (MEI) at the National University of Singapore (NUS) invite applications for the following positions:

1) Tenured Associate or Full Professorship in the Political Economy of the Middle East. Advanced Assistant Professors are also welcome to apply. Expertise in the relations between business and politics, and their ramifications in the wider society, is especially welcome. A transnational connective or comparative dimension, with knowledge of two or more countries, regions or languages in the Middle East and Asia would be a distinct advantage. Related interests in rentier state economies, authoritarian rule, social movements, democratization, party politics, religious revivalism, comparative fundamentalisms, and digital media are also welcome.

2) Tenured Associate or Full Professorship in Legal Pluralism and the Middle East. Advanced Assistant Professors are also welcome to apply. Our interest is in appointing a scholar whose work focuses on the interaction between different legal systems, traditions or norms, whether in 1) colonial, national, customary, guild, tribal non-state, sub-state and state contexts; or 2) supra-state or global ones such as Islamic law and global finance, Islamic reform movements, the new lex mercatoria, arbitration, mediation, private courts, functionally differentiated spheres such as international law, international humanitarian law, maritime law, and other international conventions. A transnational connective or comparative dimension, with knowledge of two or more countries, regions or languages in the Middle East and Asia would be a distinct advantage.

3) A Professorship in Middle East-Asia Studies at any rank. We are interested in scholars whose work connects the Middle East with any other part of Asia, in any field or discipline (e.g., history, geography, anthropology, literature, sociology, economics, religion). Knowledge of two or more countries, regions or languages in the Middle East and Asia would be a distinct advantage.

The successful candidates will be jointly appointed by the FASS and MEI, with a reduced teaching load in the most relevant FASS department (e.g. political science, sociology, history, economics, geography, communications and new media), and the opportunity to lead a research cluster in MEI.

NUS is a leading university in Asia which provides rich resources and opportunities for research, competitive remuneration and generous benefits, including housing and medical coverage. The university is looking to strengthen Middle East expertise across the FASS departments, and to create a distinctive Middle East Institute in Asia through three such senior appointments: in Political Economy, Legal Pluralism and Middle East-Asia Studies.

Please send a cover letter, CV, two sample publications, three referee names, research and teaching statements by 30 November 2016 to:

Chair, Middle East-Asia Studies Search Committee
c/o Ms Pui-Yoke BUN
Dean's Office, Faculty of Arts and Social Science
National University of Singapore
Shaw Foundation Building

5 Arts Link
Singapore 117570

Email: mes_sc@nus.edu.sg

Start Date: 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2146

University of South Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor, Race and Society

The University of South Florida is a high-impact, global research university dedicated to student success. USF is a Top 50 research university among both public and private institutions nationwide in total research expenditures, according to the National Science Foundation. Serving nearly 48,000 students, the USF System has an annual budget of $1.5 billion and an annual economic impact of $4.4 billion. USF is a member of the American Athletic Conference.

The School of Interdisciplinary Global Studies (SIGS) at the University of South Florida invites applications for a 9-month tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning on August 7, 2017.

A Ph.D. in the Social Sciences or Humanities, with a specialization in African American Studies from an accredited institution is required for the position. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and publications focus on African American Politics and Social Thought, Critical Race Theory, or Race and American Society.

Applications from ABDs will be considered, but the degree must be conferred by appointment start date. The teaching load is four courses per academic year. Candidates must be able to teach both undergraduate and graduate level courses. Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate teaching effectiveness and a promising research agenda.

Salary is negotiable. Review of applications will begin on November 7, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

SIGS is a new academic unit, composed of the former Department of Government and International Affairs (gia.usf.edu) and the Department of Africana Studies (africanastudies.usf.edu). It also contains the Institute on Black Life (ibl.usf.edu) and the Institute for the Study of Latin America and the Caribbean (islac.usf.edu).

Applications must be submitted through the University of South Florida Employment website: employment.usf.edu (click on Access Careers@USF and choose Faculty as Job Family).

Direct link to posting: https://gems.fastmail.usf.edu:4440/psp/gems-pro-tam/EMPLOYEE/HRMS/c/HRS_HRAM.HRS_APP_SCHJOB.GBL?Page=HRS_APP_JBPST&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=1&JobOpeningId=11458&PostingSeq=1

Applicants should attach the following supplemental items to their application: a letter of application; vitae; graduate transcripts; research statement; writing sample of no more than 40 pages; teaching statement; sample syllabi; student evaluations of teaching; and any other evidence of teaching success. All documents must be combined and uploaded as one file. Three letters of recommendation should be sent electronically (to vincentj@usf.edu) or in hard copy to:

Jennifer Vincent, Academic Services Administrator
 School of Interdisciplinary Global Studies
 University of South Florida
 4202 East Fowler Ave, SOC 107
 Tampa, FL 33620

Conclusion of this search is subject to final budget approval. According to Florida Law, applications and meetings regarding them are open to the public. USF is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access institution. For disability accommodations, contact Jennifer Vincent at vincentj@usf.edu, a minimum of five working days in advance.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2171

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: Faculty Position in Poverty Studies

Professor of Poverty Studies Position PVL 88290

The University of Wisconsin–Madison invites applications for a faculty position in the area of Poverty Studies, open rank (tenured or tenure-track), beginning August 28, 2017. This position is part of the Chancellor's interdisciplinary cluster initiative in Poverty Studies (<http://clusters.wisc.edu/index.htm>). The initiative is designed to foster innovative, outstanding research programs that will stimulate productive interactions among faculty and students interested in poverty-related research across the campus and to expand interdisciplinary research in poverty studies.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain a vigorous, cutting-edge, highly visible poverty-related research program; advise graduate and post-graduate research in the area of poverty studies; develop and maintain extramural funding for their research program; and teach graduate and undergraduate courses or develop new courses in their area of expertise, as appropriate. Faculty hired under this initiative will have a primary faculty appointment in a tenure granting department participating in fields related to poverty studies, and will be an active affiliate of the Institute for Research on Poverty at UW–Madison. Instruction and research leadership and participation in faculty governance at the department level are expected. University and community service will also be expected as appropriate. PhD or equivalent in economics, political science, public policy, sociology, social work, or related to the departments described below.

For a tenured position, a clear record of excellence in research, teaching, and service is required. Tenure homes for candidates will reside in departments relevant to the candidate's area of expertise. Possible tenure homes include: Department of Economics, Department of Sociology, School of Social Work, Department of Political Science, and School of Public Affairs. Applicants should state their preferred departmental home in their cover letter.

Applications must include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a writing sample, and names or letters for at least three references. Teaching statements and prior course evaluations are strongly encouraged. Submit the application https://uwmadison.co1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_aXDIM2GSQlWlySp

Unless confidentiality is requested in writing, information regarding applicants must be released upon request. Finalists cannot be guaranteed confidentiality. University of Wisconsin is an Equal Opportunity/

Affirmative Action Employer. Women and minority candidates are urged to apply. Employment will require a criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/25/2016

Date Posted: 9/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2154

Monterey Institute of International Studies

Rank: Professor in Terrorism Studies

Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey Professor in Terrorism Studies

Position Information

Posting Number: F00054

Full-time/Part-time: Full-time

Benefits Eligible?: Yes

Hourly/Salaried: Salaried

Typical hours per week: 40

Band/Level: 1B

Department: GSIPM (Graduate School of International Policy and Management)

Location: Monterey, CA

Hire contingent upon successful completion of the following post-offer screening:

Criminal Background check

Position Summary:

The Middlebury Institute of International Studies at Monterey (MIIS) seeks to hire a full-time faculty member in the field of terrorism studies. The appointment will be in the Institute's MA program in Nonproliferation and Terrorism Studies (MANPTS) in the Graduate School of International Policy and Management (GSIPM). The position is open with respect to rank (assistant, associate, or full professor); for an individual with appropriate professional experience an appointment as a professor of practice is also possible. The position is also open with respect to areas of expertise within the field of terrorism studies, but we are especially interested in candidates who can teach courses on policies and strategies for responding to terrorism, such as counterterrorism, homeland security, or the roles of intelligence or law enforcement. Ability to teach one or more of our required core classes, such as introduction to terrorism, global politics, or research methods, would be a plus. Expertise in a relevant region or area in world politics, ideally complemented by appropriate language capabilities, is also welcomed. For an appropriately qualified candidate, the position may also come with an option to run our terrorism research center, MonTREP (the Monterey Terrorism Research and Education Program). An interest in serving as the director of MonTREP is not however a requirement to be considered for the faculty position. MIIS has a non-tenure, contract-based system. The initial appointment is for three years. Renewal after three years is based on performance in the areas of teaching, research, and service. Faculty work on a nine-month contract, and the standard teaching load at MIIS is 3/2. This position will report to the MANPTS Program Chair and the GSIPM Dean.

Responsibilities

Essential Functions:

- Teaching courses on terrorism and related subjects in the MANPTS program;

- Maintaining an active research agenda on topics related to terrorism and counterterrorism;
- Assisting the NPTS Program Chair and GSIPM Assistant Dean in ensuring the continued growth and success of the MANPTS Program.

Qualifications

Education:

A Ph.D. in Political Science, History, or another relevant field, with a research specialization relevant to terrorism studies, or extensive professional experience dealing with terrorism.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

- Expertise on topics relevant to understanding terrorism and how to respond to it;
- Ability to develop and direct research projects;
- Ability to teach courses in Terrorism Studies and related subjects;
- Collegiality and ability to work with others in an academic environment.

Experience:

- A proven track record teaching specialized courses on terrorism and/or counterterrorism, or on related topics such as homeland security, cybersecurity, intelligence, or counterinsurgency, will be a plus.
- A proven track record of publishing research, including in refereed academic outlets, will be a plus.
- A proven track record raising and managing funds for research will be a plus.

Posting Information

Close date:

Open Until Filled: Yes

Special Instructions to Applicants:

The priority application deadline is Oct. 31, 2016, but the position will remain open until filled.

Please submit the following documents with your application:- cover letter explaining qualifications for the position - c.v./resume - one writing sample - a sample syllabus if available - list of at least three references with contact info

Required Documents

1 Cover Letter

2 Resume/C V

Optional Documents

1 Syllabi Samples

2 Additional Document 1

3 Additional Document 2

To apply: <http://apptrkr.com/885559>

Copyright ©2015 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

Posted by the FREE value-added recruitment advertising agency

jeid-98c1109cd4fa9440a6d38afc432dae65

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2139

Naval War College

Rank: Associate or Full Professor of National Security Affairs (Professional Practice)

Join the faculty of one of the nation's largest and most vibrant graduate teaching departments in the interdisciplinary field of national and international security studies. The Department of National Security Affairs at the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island seeks to fill one vacancy beginning no later than July 2017. We invite applications from exceptionally qualified senior practitioners who are highly motivated to teach security studies courses within the resident master degree programs of the world's oldest graduate institution of professional military education. We are a blended faculty of scholars and practitioners providing professional education to mid-career students who are military and civilian national security professionals from the United States and more than sixty partner countries preparing to become the senior national security leaders of tomorrow.

Qualifications:

Associate Professor (Professional Practice) candidates must have extensive experience as a national security professional working at the strategic or theater-strategic levels including at senior ranks (minimum O-5/6 or civilian equivalent).

Full Professor (Professional Practice) candidates must have extensive experience as a national security professional working at the strategic or theater-strategic levels including in positions of significant stature (such as flag or general officer or civilian equivalent).

Candidates for both ranks must have at least a master's degree or a terminal degree that is directly relevant for at least one of the following fields: 1) international relations and regional security studies; 2) foreign policy analysis and U.S. foreign policy; or, 3) leadership studies.

Strongest consideration will be given to candidates with expertise encompassing at least two of the above fields. Additional highly desirable qualifications include: a relevant PhD is strongly preferred; a record of scholarly or policy research and publication that demonstrates future potential; teaching experience and demonstrated excellence (preferably at the graduate level); and, a demonstrated commitment to collegiality and an interdisciplinary ethos.

Responsibilities:

Specific responsibilities include: teaching within two distinctive common core graduate-level security studies survey courses; collaborating in the development of common core curricula including individual class sessions; developing and teaching elective courses; scholarly research and publication; and, college service. There is no requirement or expectation to attract external funding. Maximum teaching load excluding optional elective classes is 2/2/0 based on a 10-month trimester system. This involves teaching up to two seminar sections (single preparation) of no more than 16 students in the fall and winter trimesters, with a spring trimester and summer inter-session period devoted primarily to research, curriculum development, and college service. All positions are year-round (12-month). Initial appointment is for a multi-year contract that is renewable thereafter on an ongoing basis provided that performance expectations are met. The college is a non-tenure granting institution but has a long record of extremely high levels of faculty retention.

About the Institution:

The U.S. Naval War College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges to award master of arts degrees in Defense and Strategic Studies (for our intermediate-rank students), and National Security and Strategic Studies (for our senior-rank students). The college is dual accredited by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to award certification in Joint Professional Military Education Phase 1 & 2.

Salary Considerations:

Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plans (with employer matching contributions), paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Application Process:

Applications will be accepted through November 20, 2016 and must include the following: 1) a detailed cover letter that addresses the qualifications noted above; 2) a comprehensive CV; and, 3) prior teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (if any). In addition, applicants for associate professor rank must arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent separately, and applicants for full professor rank must provide three professional references for the search committee to contact. Applicants with current or previous military service should provide military ranks and dates of service.

Applications should clearly indicate the rank being applied for and reference VA#NWC-16-22. Please submit complete applications by email to NSAvacancy2@usnwc.edu. Signed letters of reference may also be sent to this email (preferred method) or they may also be mailed to:

Department of National Security Affairs
U.S. Naval War College
686 Cushing Road
Newport, RI 02841-1207
ATTN: Jill Marion

Please direct any questions to the Department Chair, Prof. David Cooper, at david.cooper@usnwc.edu. The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2138

Brown University

Rank: Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. Central to this mission is the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, an effort to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research related to the Institute's three core thematic areas: development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. Fellows receive two years of support, to be taken within a three-year period, with the expectation that they will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Institute. Fellows will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department.

Application requirements

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by October 30, 2016, via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/35593>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits.
- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on October 30; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in January 2017.

Eligibility and terms

The fellowship competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. Scholars of all nationalities who received PhDs within three years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. For full application details see <http://watson.brown.edu/education/postdoc>.

For further information

For further information regarding the Watson Institute Post-Doctoral Fellows Program, please visit the Watson Institute website <http://watson.brown.edu> or contact:

Professor Catherine Lutz, Faculty Director of the Watson Post-Doctoral Fellows Program, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University at catherine_lutz@brown.edu; or

Keith Brown, Director of Post-Doctoral and Undergraduate Policy Programs, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University, Brown University at keith_brown@brown.edu.

For questions about the application process itself, please contact watson_applications@brown.edu

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2117

Hollins University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Advanced Industrial Societies, China, Environmental Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor of Global Politics and Societies
HOLLINS UNIVERSITY

The Global Politics and Societies (GPS) Department at Hollins University in Roanoke, Virginia invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor. This is a full-time position with a three-year appointment beginning July 1, 2017.

The new GPS department includes four separate major programs of study in sociology, religious studies, political science, and international studies and one minor program of study in social justice. Each of the programs uses an interdisciplinary approach with some shared courses and collaborative teaching based on the common research and teaching interests of faculty members.

The ideal candidate will be a broadly trained political scientist or sociologist with global research and teaching interests. Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in comparative politics and international studies, as well as upper-level electives in sociology and international studies. The faculty member will also be expected to contribute to shared courses in other GPS programs of study. Preference will be given to candidates who can also contribute to one or more of the following programs: environmental studies, gender and women's studies, religious studies, and/or urban studies. The position carries a teaching load of three courses per semester. Other duties include advising students, conducting independent studies, supervising students doing senior research projects, participating in department and university service, and ongoing scholarly activity in the form of publications and presentations.

Candidates must meet the following minimum requirements: Ph.D. in political science, sociology, or related GPS discipline completed by June 30, 2017; evidence of scholarly promise; and an excellent record of teaching at the undergraduate level. Applicants must also demonstrate a clear understanding of and commitment to teaching in a single-sex, liberal arts institution. Applications are sought from those who have demonstrated success working with diverse populations and share Hollins' commitment to preparing students for leadership opportunities in a broadly diverse, global society. Final candidates will be subject to a criminal history background check.

Qualified candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, separate statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of effective teaching, three letters of recommendation, and graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable) to GPS@hollins.edu. Applications must be received by Dec. 1, 2017 to receive full consideration.

Hollins is an independent, liberal arts university offering undergraduate education for women, selected graduate programs for men and women, and community outreach initiatives. Founded in 1842 as Virginia's oldest chartered women's college, Hollins is best known for its creative writing program, one of the oldest study-abroad programs in the country, and extensive internship opportunities. The campus is surrounded by the Blue Ridge Mountains, and has the amenities of a mid-sized city in the immediate vicinity.

Hollins University is an equal opportunity employer. Hollins values diversity in its community, and strongly encourages applications from members of underrepresented populations.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2118

University at Albany

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty (3) Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security & Cybersecurity

The College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity at the University at Albany is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for three tenure track faculty positions in the fields of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity. The rank for all positions is open and the positions are also open with respect to subfield specialization.

In the field for Emergency Preparedness, we are particularly interested in applicants focusing on hazard mitigation, preparation and community resilience, response, recovery, disaster policy, disaster psychology, disaster mental health, extreme weather, crisis communications, disease outbreaks, privacy and civil liberties, and continuity of operations. Candidates focusing on either public health preparedness or severe weather and emergency response are strongly encouraged to apply. With respect to the field of Homeland Security, we are particularly interested in applicants focusing on terrorism, risk analysis, immigration, border security, critical infrastructure, forensics, crisis communications, transnational crime, cybersecurity, privacy and civil liberties. In the field of Cybersecurity, we are chiefly interested in applicants focusing on risk analysis, cyber warfare, cyber intelligence, cyber-crime, digital forensics, information assurance, vulnerability assessment, critical infrastructure, cyber physical systems, governance, privacy and civil liberties.

As the first college of its kind in the nation, the College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity is projected to grow over the next five years as it establishes both undergraduate and graduate academic programs in emergency preparedness, homeland security, and cybersecurity. The University at Albany and the State of New York are committed to seeing the College become a global leader in education and research in these fields, and are providing significant support to the establishment and planned growth of the unit.

To apply and for further details, visit:

<https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=75667> - For Emergency Preparedness

<https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=75665> - For Homeland Security

<https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=75668> - For Cybersecurity

The University at Albany is an EO/AA/IRCA/ADA Employer.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/tsjy3fm6pw>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2106

Miami University

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor: Africanist social scientist with specialization in development in sub-Saharan Africa Department of Global and Intercultural Studies

Tenure-track Assistant Professor: Africanist social scientist with specialization in development in sub-Saharan Africa
Department of Global and Intercultural Studies

We seek an Africanist social scientist who will specialize in development in sub-Saharan Africa. Required qualifications: PhD (by date of appointment) in African Studies, History, Cultural Anthropology, Geography, Political Science, Gender Studies, Sociology, or a closely related field; commitment to interdisciplinary teaching and research. Strong candidates will use approaches that include study of NGOs, feminist or critical gender theories, field-based methods, and competency in an indigenous, non-colonial African language. This faculty member will make contributions to research, teaching (four classes per year academic year), and service to the department, college, and university.

We welcome details about how the applicant will contribute to the Global & Intercultural Studies Department, its major in International Studies and its co-major in Global and Intercultural Studies. The successful candidate will also contribute to some of the department's other interdisciplinary academic programs: Asian/Asian-American Studies; American Studies; Black World Studies; Latin American, Latino/a, and Caribbean Studies; and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

Applications, including a letter of interest, C.V., and letters from three references, may be submitted to Miami University's job site Hire Touch: <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com>. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Direct queries about the search to the search committee co-chairs: Tammy Brown at brownt3@miamioh.edu and Gwen Etter-Lewis at etterlg@miamioh.edu. General Inquiries may be directed to Jana Braziel, Department Chair, at brazieje@miamioh.edu or 513-529-5333.

With a student body of over 15,000 undergraduate and 2,250 graduate students at its Oxford campus, Miami effectively combines a wide range of strong academic programs with the personal attention ordinarily found only at much smaller institutions. Graduate programs complement and enhance the undergraduate educational experience. Our unwavering commitment to teaching and learning is demonstrated in the University's record of exceptional retention and graduation rates, and their consistently strong and engaged alumni community.

Miami University serves the citizens of the state of Ohio, as well as a regional and increasingly national and international constituency. Miami's main campus is in Oxford, 35 miles north of Cincinnati, with two regional campuses in Hamilton and Middletown, the Voice of America Learning Center in West Chester, Ohio, and the Miami University Dolibois European Center in Luxembourg.

Miami University, an EO/AA employer encourages applications from minorities, women, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. Miami does not permit, and takes action to prevent, harassment, discrimination and retaliation. Requests for reasonable accommodations for disabilities should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or (513) 529-3560. Annual Security and Fire Safety Report may be found at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>. Criminal background check required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free.

While every effort will be made to preserve confidentiality until finalists are selected, the search is subject to the Ohio Public Records Act.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2087

University of California, Merced

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor in Inequality, Power and Social Justice

The University of California, Merced is recruiting between one and four Assistant, Associate, or Full Professors as part of a cluster hire in the area of Inequality, Power, and Social Justice focused on issues related to 1) Identity, Experience, and Representation and 2) Structural and Institutional Inequality. We seek Political Scientists who study political institutions and/or political behavior, with a substantive focus in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Full details are available at: <https://aprecruit.ucmerced.edu/apply/JPF00389>

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2096

Yale University

Rank: Senior Search in Political Economy

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Political Economy, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University intends to make a tenured Associate Professor or Professor appointment in the field of Political Economy, beginning July 1, 2017. The ideal candidate would be eligible for appointment jointly in the Department of Economics and the Department of Political Science.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required.

Applications (CV, cover letter, list of contact references, and two representative writing samples) should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/37919>. Review of applications and nominations will begin September 25, 2016.

For further information about the search, please contact Lani Colianna, at lani.colianna@yale.edu, Department of Political Science, Yale University, P.O. Box 208301, New Haven, CT 06520-8301.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2088

University of Kansas

Rank: Chairperson of Department of Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies (WGSS)

The Department of WGSS invites applications for the position of Chairperson and Associate or Full Professor of the department, expected to begin as early as August 18, 2017. The successful candidate will qualify for a tenured appointment with the rank of Full or advanced Associate Professor with research and teaching expertise in the field of women, gender, and sexuality studies (research specialization is open.) The position requires a nationally recognized program of research in the discipline of women, gender, and sexuality studies that includes a sustained record of publication and external funding, with the promise of continued productivity. The Chairperson also must communicate effectively, manage interpersonal relations, and contribute to a collegial work and learning environment. Applications should demonstrate a commitment to and experience in academic administrative roles. Candidates must also have a commitment to teaching excellence and mentorship at the undergraduate and graduate level.

The Department of WGSS began in 1972 as a result of activism by students, faculty, and community members and now boasts nine tenure-track faculty and over 70 affiliated faculty members. The department offers undergraduate majors and minors in Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies and in Human Sexuality, and a vibrant graduate program, granting M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, as well as a graduate certificate.

The University of Kansas is especially interested in hiring faculty members who can contribute to the climate of diversity in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and four key campus-wide strategic initiatives: (1) Sustaining the Planet, Powering the World; (2) Promoting Well-Being, Finding Cures; (3) Building Communities, Expanding Opportunities; and (4) Harnessing Information, Multiplying Knowledge. For more information, see www.provost.ku.edu/planning/themes/

The University of Kansas (KU) is located in Lawrence, Kansas, a bustling and progressive college town of around 94,000 located 40 miles west of Kansas City. Lawrence offers numerous cultural events, sports and recreational opportunities, local shops, and a wide range of great restaurants.

For a complete announcement and to apply online, go to: <https://employment.ku.edu/academic/7156BR> A complete online application includes the following materials: (1) letter of application describing experience and accomplishments; (2) record of productivity in research, teaching, and service as noted in CV; (3) research statement and supplemental materials (e.g., representative publications); (4) teaching statement and supplemental materials (e.g., teaching portfolio, sample syllabus, peer evaluations, student evaluations); and, (5) the names and contact information for three professional references. Questions may be directed to Professor Marta Vicente, Search Committee Chair, Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies Department, Blake Hall, 318 Blake Hall, 1541 Lilac Lane, Lawrence, KS 66045-7594; e-mail: WGSSsearch@ku.edu. Initial review of applications begins November 16, 2016, and continues as needed to ensure a large, high quality, and diverse applicant pool.

The University of Kansas prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, sex, national origin, age, ancestry, disability, status as a veteran, sexual orientation, marital status, parental status, retaliation, gender identity, gender expression and genetic information in the University's programs and activities. The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies and is the University's Title IX Coordinator: the Executive Director of the Office of Institutional Opportunity and Access, IOA@ku.edu, 1246 W. Campus Road, Room 153A, Lawrence, KS, 66045, (785) 864-6414, 711 TTY.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2086

Yale University

Rank: SENIOR SEARCH IN SOCIAL SCIENCE HISTORY

Yale University is conducting a senior-level (tenured Associate or Full) search for either a social scientist whose work, including on the present day, is animated by historically-influenced methods and materials, or a historian whose work is deeply informed by the social sciences.

Departments involved in the search include Economics, History, Political Science and Sociology.

The successful candidate will be appointed in the home department and serve on the faculty board of Yale's Center for Historical Enquiry & the Social Sciences (YaleCHESS).

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Review of applications will begin immediately and proceed until the position is filled.

Please apply using this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/37849>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/18/2017

Date Posted: 9/21/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2085

Florida State University

Rank: Political Science/African American Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Other, Public Policy
Specializations: African American Politics, Caribbean, Civil Rights & Liberties

Florida State University is embarking upon a Diversity and Inclusion initiative, which can be found online at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity_initiatives. As part of this initiative, the Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci?q=node/1>) and the FSU African American Studies Center (<http://coss.fsu.edu/aas/>) seek applications for a tenure track or tenured faculty member to participate in their programs. The Department has twenty-two tenured or tenure track and two non-tenure track faculty that serve a large undergraduate program, a master degree in applied politics, and a PhD program. African American Studies is an interdisciplinary undergraduate program that offers BA and BS degrees.

The position is open with respect to candidates' specialization, and they may have doctoral degrees in African American Studies, Political Science, or other related disciplines, with evidence of scholarship and teaching with respect to African Americans and the African diaspora. Teaching will include at least one course in the African American Studies core curriculum, a second course at the nexus of race and politics, and other courses in the political science curriculum. The candidate's tenure home will be in Political Science. Candidates should have strengths in quantitative, experimental and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital city, with a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions. Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a writing sample, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. Items (1) through (3) must be submitted electronically; items (4) and (5) may be sent as hard copies or electronically. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Electronic files must be submitted to polisci@fsu.edu, as may questions about the search.

Mailed letters of reference and transcripts may be addressed to Political Science/AAS Search, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer; racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2083

Purdue University

Rank: Postdoc

Tecumseh Postdoctoral Announcement

Purdue University invites applicants for two postdoctoral positions for the 2017-2018 academic year. A second year of funding could be available depending upon discipline-specific interest of the applicant. We seek candidates who will have completed their PhD program before August 2017, with demonstrated potential for scholarly contribution including publications. Potential college placements include: Agriculture, Engineering, Health and Human Services, Krannert School of Management, Liberal Arts, Pharmacy, Science, or Veterinary Medicine. Please visit the homepage of each college to determine the broad diversity of disciplines and programs available. (http://www.purdue.edu/purdue/about/colleges_schools.html). The Tecumseh Postdoctoral program was established to support Native American participation in the University at all levels. Scholars in this program will be expected to interact with our vibrant community of Native and Indigenous undergraduate and graduate students, including participating in ongoing programs coordinated through the Purdue Native American Educational and Cultural Center (<http://www.purdue.edu/naecc/>). A current initiative of the NAECC is developing and strengthening existing partnerships with Native communities to better serve their students and practical concerns. Postdoctoral scholars will be expected to mainly to conduct research to address fundamental questions in their area of expertise, but also to participate in the above programs by, for example, presenting and participating in seminars, and mentoring students.

The Tecumseh Scholars program was created through the Provost's Diversity Transformation Award, an initiative aimed at increasing diversity and inclusion at Purdue University. The Sloan Indigenous Graduate Partnerships at Purdue (funded by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation) has produced 21 alumni who are now actively engaged in academia, industry, and tribal affairs across the United States. Purdue has a wide range of networking, professional development, and community engagement opportunities for postdoctoral scholars, and successful applicants will be based in a collaborating department appropriate to the disciplines. We are especially interested in candidates who are considering academic career and who could later apply for a faculty position. Applications should include a pdf file comprised of a cover letter, CV, copies of recent publications, names and contact information of individuals for 3 reference letters, a titles statement of proposed research interests, identification of home department and potential faculty collaborators at Purdue, and a statement describing participation in diversity initiatives, and involvement in Native American communities. Salary is $50,00 plus benefits. All materials should be emailed to Professor Dawn G. Marsh (dmarsh@purdue.edu). Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2073

Purdue University

Rank: Post doctoral fellowship

Tecumseh Postdoctoral Announcement

Purdue University invites applicants for two postdoctoral positions for the 2017-2018 academic year. A second year of funding could be available depending upon discipline specific interest of the applicant. We seek candidates who will have completed their

PhD program before August 2017, with demonstrated potential for scholarly contribution including publications. Potential college placements include: Agriculture, Engineering,

Health and Human Services, Krannert School of Management, Liberal Arts, Pharmacy, Science, or Veterinary Medicine. Please visit the homepage of each college to determine the broad diversity of disciplines and programs available. (http://www.purdue.edu/purdue/about/colleges_schools.html). The

Tecumseh

Postdoctoral program was established to support Native American participation in the University at all levels. Scholars in this program will be expected to interact with our vibrant community of Native and Indigenous undergraduate and graduate students, including participating in ongoing programs coordinated through the Purdue Native American Educational and Cultural Center (<http://www.purdue.edu/naecc/>). A current initiative of the NAECC is developing and strengthening existing partnerships with Native communities to better serve their students and practical concerns. Postdoctoral scholars will be expected to mainly to conduct research to address fundamental questions in their area of expertise, but also to participate in the above programs by, for example, presenting and participating in seminars, and mentoring students.

The Tecumseh Scholars program was created through the Provost's Diversity Transformation Award, an initiative aimed at increasing diversity and inclusion at Purdue University. The Sloan Indigenous Graduate Partnerships at Purdue (funded by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation) has produced 21 alumni who are now actively engaged in academia, industry, and tribal affairs across the United States. Purdue has a wide range of networking, professional development, and community engagement opportunities for postdoctoral scholars, and successful applicants will be based in a collaborating department appropriate to the disciplines. We are especially interested in candidates who are considering academic career and who could later apply for a faculty position. Applications should include a pdf file comprised of a cover letter, CV, copies of recent publications, names and contact information of individuals for 3 reference letters, a titles statement of proposed research interests, identification of home department and potential faculty collaborators at Purdue, and a statement describing participation in diversity initiatives, and involvement in Native American communities. Salary is $50,000 plus benefits. All materials should be emailed to Professor Dawn G. Marsh (dmarsh@purdue.edu). Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2062

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor International Relations with Environmental Focus

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas invites applicants from well-qualified individuals for a full-time, nine-month tenure-track position in International Relations. The position will be filled at the assistant professor level commencing fall 2017. The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in International Relations. The department is open with regard to specialization but has particular needs in areas including but not limited to global environmental politics and/or conflict. Preferred qualifications include the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in research methods. Other responsibilities include: engaging in research leading to scholarly, peer-reviewed publications; mentoring undergraduate and graduate students; and providing appropriate levels of service at the department, college and university levels. The department offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in Political Science.

For more information go to:

<https://www.higheredjobs.com/institution/details.cfm?JobCode=176341945&Title=Assistant%20Professor%20International%20Relations%20With%20Environmental%20Focus%20%5B17036%5D&aID=584>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2045

College of William & Mary

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in European and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in European and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies

The Programs in European Studies and Russian/Post-Soviet Studies at the College of William and Mary seek applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level, beginning in August 2017.

We are two strong, interdisciplinary area studies programs at one of the best small public universities in the United States, and we are seeking a colleague with a commitment to excellence in teaching and research.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D at the time of appointment (August 10, 2017). The candidate must have demonstrated excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Candidates from all disciplines in the social sciences and humanities with appropriate expertise will be considered, pending department approval. The appointment will be jointly held in the Global Studies Program and in a host department appropriate for the candidate's discipline. Research and teaching expertise in fields such as state socialism, the First and/or Second World Wars, post-socialist societies, migration, regionalism, and identity politics are particularly welcome. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment and a demonstrated interest in comparative and trans-regional scholarship and teaching. Candidates must possess the skills to teach compelling undergraduate courses in both Russian and Post-Soviet Studies (RPSS) and European Studies (ES), as well as in the candidate's home department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach "Introduction to European Studies" and "Introduction to Russian and Post-Soviet Studies," as well as topics courses and research seminars for both programs.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation, at least one of which must speak directly to teaching ability. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, October 7, 2016. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

The College of William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. The College conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/7/2016

Date Posted: 9/8/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1995

University of Southern California

Rank: Robert F. Erburu Chair in Ethics, Globalization, and Development

Robert F. Erburu Chair in Ethics, Globalization, and Development
University of Southern California

The Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles, California) invites applications for the Robert F. Erburu Chair in Ethics, Globalization, and Development. The successful candidate will bring a distinguished record of innovative research and publication, embodying interdisciplinary approaches to globalization and development. We are particularly interested in a scholar who combines International Relations with either Gender Studies or Environmental Studies. Candidates with distinguished practical or policy experience are welcome to apply. The applicant must hold a Ph.D. degree. The holder of the Erburu Chair will be tenured at the full professor level in the School of International Relations, with secondary appointments in other units as appropriate. Review of applications will begin immediately and candidates should submit their materials by November 1, 2016, to receive full consideration. The appointment is anticipated to begin on August 16, 2017.

Applicants are required to complete the on-line application process. To apply, follow this link or paste in a browser: <http://jobs.usc.edu/postings/74486> . Minimum required materials include a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, and the names of three references who may be contacted by USC. Inquiries may be sent to: lcole@usc.edu .

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1999

Princeton University Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar or Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks visiting scholars and/or post-doctoral or more senior research associates for the 2017-2018 academic year. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. Applications are welcome from political scientists and scholars in related social science disciplines at any career stage, but any applicant who has yet to complete the PhD must have turned in a final draft of the dissertation by July 1, 2017.

Each scholar will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Department of Politics, and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. CSDP scholars must be in residence at Princeton during the academic terms, and are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary (those who hold faculty appointments at other academic institutions normally receive one-half their academic-year salaries for the appointment period, but this may vary depending on level of support from the home institution), applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance.

Please note that (only) candidates who currently hold faculty appointments and are applying to visit CSDP for 2017-2018 while on leave from their current institution must apply directly to CSDP at this link: https://csdpapp.princeton.edu/csdp_application.php. All others must apply online at <https://jobs.princeton.edu> -- Requisition # 1600740 and submit a cover letter (optional), CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of two references.

The deadline for receipt of complete applications, including letters of recommendation, is November 30, 2016 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions? Email csdp@princeton.edu or phone Michele Epstein, Assistant Director of CSDP, 609-258-6493.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the university's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1952

University of Michigan

Rank: Emerging Democracies Postdoctoral Fellowship

Fellowship period: September 2017 – May 2018

Application deadline: January 15, 2017

The Weiser Center for Emerging Democracies (WCED) at the University of Michigan invites postdoctoral scholars to apply for the Emerging Democracies Postdoctoral Fellowship. The fellowship supports research on the broad historical, political, economic, and societal conditions under which democracies emerge—and autocracies endure.

Three awards are available in 2017-18. Emerging Democracies Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in WCED workshops and events, and present one public lecture during their fellowship year, while in residence at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

We welcome excellent applicants from all disciplines. Fellows must have successfully defended and filed their dissertation before beginning the fellowship. Eligibility is restricted to those who have received their PhD after January 1, 2015.

Fellowships carry a salary of $50,000 plus $2,000 in research funds, and will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning September 1, 2017 through May 31, 2018). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Candidates will be required to submit:

- A two-page research plan that outlines the research project and how the fellow will spend his/her time during the fellowship year.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter, conference paper, or journal article.
- Two letters of recommendation.

Fellowship applications must be received by January 15, 2017, 11:59 pm EST. Applicants will be notified in March 2017.

Application link available at <https://www.ii.umich.edu/wced/postdoctoral-fellows.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1779

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for full-time appointment during the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical and computational research techniques with contemporary social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health, the role of party networks in contemporary American politics, and methods for addressing post-treatment bias in experiments. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by attending seminars, consulting with faculty and students on research, etc. QSS fellows also join a broader community of postdoctoral social science researchers at Dartmouth that includes scholars at the Neukom Institute, the John Sloan Dickey Center, and the Dartmouth Society of Fellows.

The stipend for the QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, there may be an opportunity for the fellow to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend. The fellowship can be extended through the 2018-2019 academic year subject to the approval of Nyhan and the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application Instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests no longer than two pages that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/37062.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1934

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Africana Studies/Political Science. Applicants should demonstrate a proven commitment and capacity for high quality research and teaching, evidenced by publications as well as teaching evaluations, relative to experience. Teaching will include lower division courses, upper division courses in candidate's area of specialization, and graduate courses. 2/2 load with on-going scholarship and publication.

Qualifications:

Required: ABD or Ph.D. by time of appointment in African/Africana Studies or Political Science. Specialization in foreign policy international relations, politics, field experiments, human rights or social justice, and evidence of quantitative research with respect to Africa and the African diaspora.

Preferred: Scholarship and teaching within a transnational context (African diaspora with emphasis on the Caribbean and the US is preferred).

This is a joint position between the Department of Africana Studies and Political Science. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled but for best consideration, dossier should be completed October 31, 2016.

FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA. Internal and external search to occur simultaneously. Anticipated Start Date: Fall 2017

The selected candidate must successfully clear a background investigation.

Application Procedure: Interested individuals should complete the Academic Jobs application process online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7607>. Interested candidates should submit a State employment application, curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching statement and samples of written work. In addition, please arrange to have three letters of professional recommendation submitted on your behalf.

Alternatively, submit above mentioned materials to:
Search Committee Chair, Africana Studies/Political Science Search
Department of Africana Studies
S-249, Social and Behavioral Sciences Bldg.
Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY 11794-4340

STONY BROOK UNIVERSITY IS AN AFFIRMATIVE ACTION/EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER. WE ENCOURAGE PROTECTED VETERANS, INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES, WOMEN AND MINORITIES TO APPLY.

IF YOU NEED A DISABILITY-RELATED ACCOMMODATION, PLEASE CALL THE UNIVERSITY HUMAN RESOURCE SERVICES DEPARTMENT AT (631) 632-6161 OR THE UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL HUMAN RESOURCES DEPARTMENT AT (631) 444-4700.

IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TITLE II CRIME AWARENESS AND SECURITY ACT, A COPY OF OUR CRIME STATISTICS IS AVAILABLE UPON REQUEST BY CALLING (631) 632-6350. IT CAN ALSO BE VIEWED ON-LINE AT THE UNIVERSITY POLICE WEBSITE AT <http://www.stonybrook.edu/police>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1828

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science/Social Data

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position to start Fall 2017 for faculty whose substantive research interests are informed by, or inform the development of, data- or computationally-intensive techniques. We encourage applications at the assistant and early associate level but candidates at any level with exceptional records of accomplishment will be considered.

The substantive research area is open although preference will be given to those candidates whose research agendas supplement existing areas of specialization within the department. Candidates should be able to contribute to our new undergraduate Social Data Analytics program (see <http://soda.la.psu.edu/>) and our graduate methods offerings. Faculty positions at Penn State involve substantial research support; in addition, junior positions offer significant release time. Candidates should have a record of publication in high-quality venues, external funding, and quality teaching credentials.

Candidates must have their Ph.D. in hand by appointment date. Application review will begin on October 1, 2016, and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, samples of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (with a key) at <https://psu.jobs/job/66139>. All candidates should request letters from three references to be sent directly to plscapplications@psu.edu.

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1918

Drexel University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor, Center for Science, Technology, and Society [STS], Drexel University

The Center for Science, Technology, and Society [STS] expects to hire a tenure-track Assistant Professor. We invite applications for this expected position at this time. The successful applicant would begin September 1, 2017. This position continues the re-invigoration of the research potential of the STS Center at Drexel University, which included the successful recruitment of a new Director in 2011, an Assistant Professor and Associate Professor in 2012, and an Assistant Professor in 2013. The position will be a joint appointment with the successful candidate's appropriate disciplinary department (e.g. global studies, anthropology, history, political science, sociology, etc.)

We are primarily interested in candidates who investigate the social and political dimensions of information technologies and/or digital infrastructures, especially as those relate to uneven distributions of power. Faculty expertise could, for example, be in the historical, cultural and political dimensions of the development and use of smart grids, patient health records, or digital media; issues of privacy, surveillance and big data; changes in regulatory structures and policies related to information technologies; access to information technologies; and/or the identities and communities created in digital worlds. Although open to any areas of study, we encourage scholars with an international or comparative focus to apply. Computing and society are central to Drexel's strategic plan, and the STS Center would like our new colleague to contribute to this area. We are especially interested in applicants with grounding in the field of STS, and strong methodological skills (e.g., in-depth interviews, focus groups, archival research, fieldwork, GIS or statistics). Applicants' degrees could potentially be in science and technology studies, political science, sociology, anthropology, history, or other relevant fields. We expect that this person's research and teaching, at both undergraduate and graduate levels, will contribute to the STS graduate program and the successful applicant's disciplinary department, and that our new colleague will participate in and initiate collaborations across the Schools, Colleges, and Centers at Drexel.

Candidates should include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) up to three samples of your scholarly writing; and 4) the names, institutional affiliation, and email addresses only of at least three references. Please do not submit reference letters at this time as such letters will be requested at a later date for short-listed applicants. All applications must be submitted online at www.drexeljobs.com. The successful applicant must have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. by August 15, 2017.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016 and continue until filled. Please address all queries to Prof. Kelly Joyce at kelly.a.-joyce@drexel.edu.

Drexel University offers an attractive benefits package including tuition remission, a generous retirement package with matching funds (up to 11%) and an opportunity to join a talented team of professionals directly helping the University achieve its record growth and quality reputation.

Background investigations are required for all new hires as a condition of employment, after the job offer is made. Employment will be contingent upon the University's acceptance of the results of the background investigation.

Drexel University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. The Center for STS is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of our academic community.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1870

University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Rank: Director of the Norman and Bernice Harris Center for Judaic Studies

We are seeking an exceptional and dynamic individual in the area of Jewish studies who will lead and serve as Director of the Norman and Bernice Harris Center for Judaic Studies at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL), a public land grant research university and member of the Big 10/Committee on Institutional Cooperation, with a total enrollment of over 25,000 students. The Harris Center for Judaic Studies promotes and supports scholarship in Jewish civilization and the nature and history of anti-Semitism. The Center administers an interdisciplinary minor in Jewish Studies, support for undergraduate and graduate research, and a program of public lectures and conferences, and oversees a scholarly community for faculty working on topics related to Jewish Studies.

We are seeking faculty members at the associate to full professor level who have active scholarship or creative activity in Jewish studies. Field of expertise is open within the social sciences and humanities. The tenure home will be within the College of Arts and Sciences. The Director will provide leadership and administrative oversight for the Center and foster the full potential of the Center through innovative collaboration within UNL and outreach to the Lincoln and Omaha communities.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. or equivalent in the social sciences or humanities with expertise in Jewish studies; a distinguished record of teaching, scholarship, and service; and a vision for enhancing the research and educational programs of the Center. Requirements also include excellent communication skills, both oral and written; evidence of community engagement; demonstrable leadership ability; and an interest in working with the University Foundation, donors, and alumni to support fundraising. The preferred candidate will have at least two years of experience in program development and budget planning.

To be considered for this position, candidates should apply online at <http://employment.unl.edu>, requisition #F_160185, and complete the Faculty/Academic Administrative form. Application materials should include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae with a full list of publications, the names of three references, and brief research, teaching and administrative statements. Inquiries regarding the position or the application process should be directed to: JSDirectorSearch@unl.edu, or Judaic Studies Search Committee Chair, College of Arts and Sciences, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, 1223 Oldfather Hall, Lincoln, NE 68588-0312 (Fax: 402-472-1123). Screening of applicants will begin on November 1, 2016; however, the search will continue until a suitable candidate is found. The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is committed to a pluralistic campus community through affirmative action, equal opportunity, work-life balance, and dual careers. See <http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2016

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1871

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Conflict Resolution)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship in any field of political science, with a research and teaching profile that will contribute to the department's highly successful Master of Arts Program in Conflict Resolution. The Conflict Resolution Program offers an innovative and rigorous curriculum encompassing the core skills and multidisciplinary knowledge needed to pursue diverse careers, both in the U.S. and abroad, related to conflict management and conflict resolution. Applicants should have the ability to field core courses in conflict resolution theory and research methodology. The department also has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching speak to conflict processes and their relationship to race/ethnicity, gender, youth, development, or media. A Ph.D. in political science in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7687>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Desha Girod (desha.girod@georgetown.edu). For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive before September 20, 2016, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1862

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Tenure Track; Open to Subfield; Methods Specialization

This is a tenure-track, academic year position with appointment anticipated September of 2017.

Basic Function:

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in research methodology that serves as a requirement for both the Political Science and Criminal Justice undergraduate degrees as well as teach other courses in Political Science. Expected to publish original research open with respect to subfield and advise undergraduate students. Provide service to the department, the university and the profession

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2017. Primary or secondary field in the area of Political Science research methodology. Demonstrated evidence of effective college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated expertise in a wide range of methodological approaches. Demonstrated evidence of research excellence; scholarly publications commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated experience working with diverse groups/populations.

To apply, please submit materials at: <https://jobs.uri.edu/>

Instructions to Applicants

Please attach 4 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Employment Application: (#1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position; (#2) CV which includes the names/contacts information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and course syllabi and teaching evaluations for the last two years and/or for experience directly related to research methods instruction (as available) (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single PDF document); (#3) a brief research and teaching statement; (#4) an article-length sample of written work.

For additional questions or clarification, please contact:

Dr. Kristin Johnson
Associate Professor
Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science
University of Rhode Island

Kingston, RI 02881
kristin_johnson@uri.edu
401 874-5495

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2016

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1855

Harvard University

Rank: Tenured Professor of Government - Open Field

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenured professor. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization. We are seeking candidates who can contribute through their research, teaching, and service to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

The appointee will teach and advise at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Demonstrated excellence in teaching and research is desired. Candidates should also evince intellectual leadership and impact on the field and potential for significant contributions to the department, University, and wider scholarly community.

The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2017.

Candidates are required to have a Ph.D.

Please submit the following materials through the ARIES portal (<http://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on October 15, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement
4. Research statement

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1830

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for up to three postdoctoral fellows for the 2017-18 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Each successful fellow should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently, and the fellow's research agenda should be grounded methodologically in statistics or other computational techniques.

During the 2017-18 academic year, fellows will participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results. The stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, each fellow may teach a one-quarter course on a subject of his or her choosing; there is an extra stipend for teaching. The postdoctoral fellowship can be extended through the 2018-19 academic year, subject to negotiation between the fellow and the QSS Chair.

Requirements:

1. Ph.D. in any discipline or expected Ph.D. by September, 2017.
2. Substantive interest in any social science field.
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical or computation methods.
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively.
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research.

Application Materials:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications.
- 2) Statement of research interests, no longer than two pages, that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth.
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant.
- 4) Three letters of reference.
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished.

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016, and interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/36369

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1816

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: William S. Dietrich Endowed Chair in Political Science

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the inaugural William S. Dietrich II Endowed Chair in Political Science, with appointment to begin in the 2017-18 academic year, pending budgetary approval. The Chair is named in honor of the late Dr. William S. Dietrich II, a former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees who received his Ph.D. from the Department in 1984.

In filling this chair, and in keeping with the interests of Dr. Dietrich, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship in the fields of international relations or comparative politics, or whose interests cut across these and possibly other disciplinary subfields.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh currently consists of 25 tenure stream faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. The Department's NRC ranking has improved dramatically over the past decade, and presently ranks between 20th and 30th among Ph.D. granting departments. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Please submit a detailed cover letter and C.V. electronically at <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MTU3>. Additional information may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1780

American University

Rank: Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

AY2016-17

School of Public Affairs

American University

American University's School of Public Affairs (SPA) invites applications from accomplished scholars for the position of associate dean for undergraduate education. This position includes a faculty appointment at the rank of (advanced) associate or full professor in the Government Department or the Department of Justice, Law & Criminology beginning June 1, 2017. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring. The position offers the unique professional, research, social, and cultural opportunities of a top-ranked school and university located in Washington, DC. In addition, the associate dean for undergraduate education will play a critical role in formulating school policy and be part of a dynamic leadership team.

The School of Public Affairs offers four undergraduate majors, four undergraduate minors, and three highly selective enrichment programs (SPA Leadership Program, Politics, Policy and Law Scholars, and SPA Honors). SPA has approximately 1300 engaged undergraduate students who are research focused and use DC as their laboratory. The associate dean for undergraduate education will provide leadership in the area of undergraduate education and will be responsible for handling all issues that arise concerning undergraduate students in the school. The associate dean directs the activities of the assistant director of recruitment and retention, four academic advisors, enrichment program directors, and serves as the school's Academic Integrity Officer. Duties will also include teaching one course a year in one of the School's degree programs.

American University is reshaping the composition and experience of its undergraduate student body. The University is committed to diversifying the student body in terms of racial/ethnic diversity, geographic diversity, and diversity of socioeconomic status. American University received a record number of undergraduate applications for Fall 2016, resulting in an admit rate of approximately 25 percent. The number of students with SPA undergraduate majors has increased over the past several years. American University is undertaking a multi-year initiative to reinvent the student experience through reimagining service delivery, a focus on student success, and modernization of the undergraduate curriculum. We are looking for an associate dean who will embrace the opportunity to participate in this initiative and shape the future of SPA's undergraduate programs.

Qualifications

Candidates must possess a distinguished record of scholarship in one of the academic fields encompassed by the school's undergraduate programs and meet American University's standards for appointment with tenure at the associate or full professor level. Preference will be given to candidates who have held leadership positions at the university, school, department or program level and who can also provide evidence of advancing their university's academic standing, scholarship, or research productivity.

Application Process

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2016, and continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/35978>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vita, statement of administrative experience and contact information for three references. Electronic submissions are preferred.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1756

Princeton University

Rank: Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Research Associate in Bioethics

The University Center for Human Values invites applications for the Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics for a possible opening in September 2017. The Shapiro Fellowship supports outstanding scholars studying ethical issues arising from developments in medicine or the biological sciences. We particularly encourage proposals focusing on problems of practical importance that have broader theoretical interest.

The Shapiro Fellow will spend from one to three years at Princeton conducting research. Candidates will be expected to contribute one course each year to the Center's undergraduate program in coordination with the Center and by approval of the Dean of the Faculty. The Shapiro Fellow will participate in the Ira W. DeCamp Seminar in Bioethics and will be invited to participate in other activities of the University Center for Human Values including a year-long research seminar for visiting fellows and Center faculty.

Qualifications

Applicants must have completed all the requirements for the Ph.D., M.D., or other equivalent doctoral degree by September 1, 2017, and must not have held the degree for more than three years by September 1, 2017. An applicant may have a background in any area of ethical studies, not necessarily in bioethics. However, the proposed research plan should be related to the field of bioethics.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments and the promise of the proposed research project in bioethics. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of the fellowship is one year, beginning September 1, 2017, with the possibility of renewal for up to two additional years pending satisfactory performance. Appointment will be made to the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate. Princeton University offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Search for requisition number #1600647. The online system includes instructions on how to apply.

A complete application will include the following supporting materials:

1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words);
3. A scholarly paper (not to exceed 50 pages) representing the applicant's scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who should be prepared to comment specifically about the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials should be submitted online by Thursday, December 1, 2016. We do not accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by December 5. If a vacancy for this position is confirmed, the selection committee may begin reviewing applications immediately and incomplete applications may be at a disadvantage. We hope to announce decisions by April 3, 2017.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 8/8/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1745

Harvard University

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor in Political Economy

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in Political Economy. We are particularly interested in scholars working on the political economy of developing areas, but this is not a requirement. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2017. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science, Economics, or related discipline required by the time the appointment begins.

Demonstrated excellence in teaching is desired.

Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<http://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on October 15, 2016.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement
5. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received.
6. Writing sample and publications, if applicable.

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1730

Princeton University

Rank: Lecturer

The Politics Department at Princeton University has an occasional need for lecturers (part-time and/or full-time) to teach or co-teach in areas such as American Politics, Comparative Politics, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods, International Relations, and/or Political Theory.

Advanced degree required. Please provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of teaching interest. Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Due to the volume of applications, only candidates selected for an interview will be contacted. No letters of recommendation are required at this time.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1703

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research position that involves a year of research at Princeton. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars. Applications are welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date, September 1, 2017.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members. Initial appointment is for one year with the possibility of renewal for another year based on satisfactory performance and available funding.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1702

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Formal Theory/Quantitative Analysis

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate or more senior research position in the fields of Formal Theory or Quantitative Analysis. This position involves a year of research at Princeton with the possibility of renewal for another year based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. Applications are welcome from scholars who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date, September 1, 2017. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars and to increase the critical mass of scholars with interests in formal theory and quantitative methods at Princeton.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members.

Transcripts should be sent directly to F/Q Postdoctoral Fellowship Search, Department of Politics, 130 Corwin Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08544. We will begin reviewing applications on February 15, 2017.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/15/2017

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1701

California State University, Chico

Rank: Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice

The Position: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice invites applications for three tenure-track positions in criminal justice at the Assistant Professor level. The positions begin August 2017.

Minimum Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Criminal Justice, Criminology, Political Science, or related disciplines is required. Candidates nearing completion of their doctorate will be considered; however, the doctorate must be complete prior to the beginning of the academic year in August 2017. The research specialization is open within Criminal Justice. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses in the Criminal Justice Program.

Preferred Qualifications: The ideal candidate will contribute to other programs in the department by teaching courses in areas such as research methods or other courses that bridge our degree programs. Please see our current course catalog for a list of the department's course offerings: <http://catalog.csuchico.edu/viewer/16/POLS/offerings.html>

Responsibilities: This tenure-track position carries responsibilities in the areas of teaching, scholarship, and service to the Department and University. Teaching assignments are based upon qualifications of the individual and the needs of the department. The successful candidate should also demonstrate the following:

- Commitment to and/or experience promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of individuals from diverse backgrounds;

Salary: Salary commensurate with education and experience.

The Department: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice offers undergraduate degrees in political science (including an option in legal studies), criminal justice, international relations, and public administration, as well as Masters degrees in political science and public administration. We have an exciting curriculum, with numerous options to meet a host of academic interests, and an active and productive faculty committed to excellence in teaching and scholarship. Over 1,000 students major in our programs. Additional information about our Department is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/pols/>. Additional information about the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/bss/index.shtml>.

Closing Date: Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016, and continue until the position is filled.

How to Apply: All applicants must apply online at: <http://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/3712>

Complete online applications will include: CV, writing sample, complete set of transcripts (unofficial acceptable), cover letter summarizing qualifications and experience, teaching evaluations (if available). Three letters of recommendation are also required and should be submitted to the search committee chair via email at the address below.

Letters of recommendation & job-related questions should be addressed to:

Matt Thomas, Chair

Criminal Justice Search Committee

mothomas@csuchico.edu

An annual security report disclosing crime statistics for California State University, Chico can be obtained by contacting the Chico State University Police Department (530-898-5555) or by accessing the following website:

http://www.csuchico.edu/up/clery_report.shtml

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

For disability related accommodations please call ADA Coordinator at (530) 898-5959.

CSU, Chico is an EOE/Minority/Females/Vet/Disability and only employs individuals authorized to work in the U.S. The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1640

POLITICAL THEORY

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

The Political Theory Project (PTP) at Brown University will be appointing up to four Postdoctoral Research Fellows. Post-doctorates must have received their PhD's within the past three years. Salary is competitive.

Appointments are for two years. Postdoctoral fellows will pursue their own research, participate in PTP working groups, and teach one seminar course per year. In addition to a CV, three confidential letters of reference, and writing sample, applications should include a cover letter describing how their research fits within the mission of the PTP.

Details about the Project's research and pedagogical missions can be found at www.politicaltheoryproject.org. Applications received by November 18, 2016 will be assured of full consideration. Postdoctoral applications can be submitted online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/39115>

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2317

University College London

Rank: Lecturer in Quantitative Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Political Behavior, Economic Policy, International Political Economy

UCL Department of Political Science
School of Public Policy

Lecturer in Quantitative Political Science

The appointment will be full time on UCL Grade7/8. The salary range will be Grade 7: £37,936 - £41,163 per annum / Grade 8: £42,304 - £49,904 per annum, inclusive of London Allowance.

UCL wishes to appoint a lecturer to contribute to research and teaching within the Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy. The lecturer will undertake research of the highest international standards within his or her own specialist field, which will contribute to the research standing and culture of the Department.

The lecturer will be a core member of the UCL-IOE 'Q-Step Centre', one of 15 Centres established as part of a multi-million pound, innovative new programme designed to promote a step-change in quantitative social science training for undergraduates, funded by the Nuffield Foundation, the Economic and Social Research Council and the Higher Education Funding Council for England. The post-holder will provide teaching on the core quantitative research methods modules for the Centre, as well as teaching within the School's other programmes and supervise PhD students. This appointment is available from the 1st September 2017.

Applications are welcome from any sub-field in political science, but we are particularly interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in the fields of methodology, political behaviour, security, international political economy, comparative politics, development and/or public policy. Candidates must have a PhD, (at the time of appointment) in political science or a public policy related area and a track record of publications in leading journals. Evidence of excellence in teaching and the ability to attract grant-funding is highly desired.

For further details about the vacancy and how to apply online please go to <http://www.ucl.ac.uk/hr/jobs/> and search on Reference Number 1595051.

Informal enquiries may be made to Professor David Coen (d.coen@ucl.ac.uk) or Dr Jennifer vanHeerde-Hudson (jennifer.hudson@ucl.ac.uk). If you have any queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel, Finance and Staffing Administrator to the Department of Political Science, School of Public Policy, (ajay.patel@ucl.ac.uk).

Closing Date: 6 December 2016.

Latest time for the submission of applications: 23:59.

Interview Date: Week commencing 16 January 2017.

UCL Taking Action for Equality.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2318

University of Miami

Rank: Appignani Foundation Chair for the Study of Atheism, Humanism and Secular Ethics

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Miami is seeking to fill the APPIGNANI FOUNDATION CHAIR FOR THE STUDY OF ATHEISM, HUMANISM AND SECULAR ETHICS. The ideal candidate is a distinguished scholar whose research and teaching interests include the study of atheism, humanism, and/or secular ethics, and intellectual and academic methods that emphasize a naturalistic approach in dealing with problems affecting humanity.

The holder of this chair will be expected to engage the broader community and offer at least one class a year on atheism and/or its role in human affairs as part of his/her regular faculty duties. S/he will have a recognized body of scholarship and evidence of effective teaching. The holder's appointment will be in one or more of the College's departments.

Review of applications will begin November 30, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates may apply electronically to appignanisearch@miami.edu. The application should consist of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and the names of three recommenders.

The University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity Employer — Females/Minorities/Protected Veterans/Individuals with Disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applicants and employees are protected from discrimination based on certain categories protected by Federal law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2307

University of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Political Theory at the level of Assistant Professor to begin the 2017-2018 academic year. Candidates should have in hand or be near completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. The search is open to all subfields in Political Theory. We particularly encourage candidates with research and teaching interests in practical ethics and public policy relating to contemporary issues, such as class, equity and welfare; race and ethnicity; gender; religion; or human rights. We seek candidates who combine rigorous and original scholarship with excellence in teaching and graduate student mentoring.

Applications must be submitted online at http://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/cw/en-us/listing/ job number 499316.

Applications must include: (1) a letter summarizing the applicant's qualifications and research interests (2) a curriculum vitae (3) a teaching statement and, if available, teaching evaluations. In addition, names and email address for three references must be provided on the application. An email will be sent automatically to your references, requesting them to upload their letters. Applications will be reviewed beginning December 15, and the position will remain open until filled.

The final candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at <http://www.naces.org/>.

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Searches are conducted in accordance with Florida's Sunshine Law. If an accommodation due to disability is needed to apply for this position, please call (352) 392-2477 or the Florida Relay System at (800) 955-8771 (TDD).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2295

Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse

Rank: Research Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse (IAST), France, invites applications for Research Fellowships, from 1st September 2017:

We welcome applications from researchers within a large range of disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences: anthropology, biology, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology and sociology, though motivated applications from outside these disciplines will be given full consideration. Applications from economists are also encouraged, but successful applicants will have demonstrated an interest in, and a commitment to, at least one of the other non-economics disciplines of the IAST.

We seek candidates with a strong research background in their own discipline, but willing and able to develop research projects drawing on IAST's substantial interdisciplinary resources, including particularly the proximity of strong groups in economics (Toulouse School of Economics, TSE). We are open to a variety of research methods, including theory, field and laboratory experiments, observational field work, and the analysis of large secondary data sets. All research interests relevant to the broad study of human behavior are welcome, but interests close to those already developed at IAST will be given special consideration, including, to cite only a few:

In political science: public opinion and public policies, comparative studies of democratic institutions, democratization in developing countries, experimental political science, studies of networks and their impact of individual and collective action.

Eligible applicants

Active researchers who have or will have completed their PhD after January 2014 and before September 2017. The IAST offers candidates an opportunity to devote themselves full time to their research at the start of their careers. Motivated applications will be considered from candidates whose PhDs were completed in 2013 or earlier; please explain your reasons in your cover letter

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2269

Koç University

Rank: Full-time faculty position

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Other

Faculty Position in Political Science and International Relations
KOÇ UNIVERSITY, Istanbul, Turkey

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Koç University invites applications for one or possibly more full time faculty positions starting in September 2017. We are especially looking for candidates with a specialization in political theory, but we will also consider outstanding candidates from other subfields of political science, giving special consideration to candidates with cross-field interests and to candidates specializing in international law, norms, and institutions. Rank will be open given outstanding and active long-term research agenda. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The group of Political Science and International Relations at Koç offers an undergraduate degree and two highly competitive graduate programs, granting an MA and a PhD in Political Science and International Relations. More on the faculty can be found at: <http://case.ku.edu.tr/intl/home>

Candidates should have a Ph.D. from an accredited university, a record of demonstrated research accomplishments and reputation commensurate with rank, and an interest in contributing to the scholarly life of our group. All candidates are expected to have a PhD degree prior to the time of appointment in September 2017.

Koç University is a private, nonprofit institution located in Istanbul, Turkey. The University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. The medium of instruction at Koç University is English. Admission to the University is extremely selective. For general information, please refer to the Koç University web page at: <http://www.ku.edu.tr>

We plan to interview a short list of candidates beginning mid-December 2016 through early February, 2017. Interested applicants should mail the following by November 30th, 2016:

- 1) a letter of application,
- 2) curriculum vitae,
- 3) a research portfolio including samples of published and/or unpublished writing and a summary of future research plans
- 3) a teaching portfolio including syllabi of courses taught and teaching evaluations, and
- 4) three recommendation letters to:

Office of the Dean
(c/o Mrs. Vildan Ertugrul)
College of Administrative Sciences and Economics
Koc University
Rumeli Feneri Yolu, Sariyer 34450
Istanbul, TURKEY
E-Mail: vertugrul@ku.edu.tr
Phone: (90-212) 338-1330

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2224

Claremont Graduate University

Rank: Tenured Position in American Politics, Political Behavior

Division of Politics & Economics
School of Social Science, Policy & Evaluation
Claremont Graduate University
Tenured Position in American Politics, Political Behavior

Claremont Graduate University's School of Social Science, Policy and Evaluation invites applications for a tenured position in American Politics, focusing on Political Behavior, beginning Fall of 2017. CGU's Department of Politics and Policy offers only graduate-level degrees: the PhD in Political Science and several MA degrees including the MA in Politics (with emphases in American and in Political Philosophy), the MA in Religion and Politics, and the MA in Public Policy.

In keeping with CGU's graduate-only focus, we seek a nationally renowned scholar in the area of American Behavioral Politics. This scholar should also show successful experience working with doctoral students to complete their dissertations in a timely way and to assist them in publication. The successful candidate will demonstrate experience and/or capacity for advising a diverse student body. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester, and the successful candidate should be prepared to teach graduate-level core American behavioral courses such as American Political Behavior, Voting Behavior, Political Psychology, Representation and Elections, and Political Parties in the US. We expect that the successful candidate will be expert in the use of appropriate research methods such as experimental research, survey research, etc.

The School is also interested in scholars and teachers whose work enhances CGU's diversity goals. Current members of Political Science at CGU are interested in diversity issues; for example, our senior American scholar is currently doing work on American Indian voting rights. CGU is a small university with a focus on transdisciplinarity, and therefore applicants with interests beyond one field are also appreciated.

CGU is affiliated with five undergraduate colleges via the Claremont Consortium. Joint research opportunities and teaching with the Claremont colleges may be possible.

Applicants should submit a letter discussing their interest in the position and how they could contribute to Political Science at CGU, a CV, a diversity statement (see below), and the names of four references to dresearch@cgu.edu. Consideration of applications will begin October 15, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. Any questions should be directed to Eliana Leon, Eliana.leon@cgu.edu.

CGU is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, national or ethnic origin, religion, ancestry, sex, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, physical or mental disability, marital status, pregnancy status, or any other basis protected by applicable laws in its employment or hiring practices.

Claremont Graduate University is committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area via their diversity statements. Applicants who have a demonstrated commitment to issues of diversity and inclusion are particularly encouraged to apply as are individuals who have membership in one or more of the following groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding: Alaska Natives, Black/African Americans, Mexican americans/Chicanas/Chicanos, Native American Indians, Native Pacific Islanders (Hawaiian/Polynesian/Micronesian), and Puerto Ricans.

Start Date: Fall 2016

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2251

University of Memphis

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at The University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track position in Political Theory at the level of Assistant Professor. The position will start in the fall 2017 pending the availability of funds. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand by August 2017. We seek applications from candidates in all areas of political theory. Candidates must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in political theory and must show promise of excellence in research and teaching. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please submit a letter detailing current research interests and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample (dissertation chapter, published article or conference paper), a one page statement of future research plans, evidence of teaching potential, and three letters of recommendation on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu>.

For all other inquiries please contact: Political Theory Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Memphis, TN 38152. Review of applications will begin on January 1, 2017 and may continue until the position is filled, pending the availability of funds. The University of Memphis is a Research II University with an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to diversifying its work force. Applications from women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/1/2017

Date Posted: 10/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2262

University of Maine

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellow in Leadership Studies

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Leadership Studies, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Conflict Processes

The William S. Cohen Institute for Leadership & Public Service at the University of Maine is seeking qualified candidates to fill a full-time, academic year post-doctoral fellow position in Leadership Studies, for an eighteen-month appointment from January 1, 2017 thru May 31, 2018. Typical hiring range for this position is $37,000 to $40,000, commensurate with experience.

Responsibilities and Duties: The primary duty of this position is teaching, with secondary responsibilities of research and service. The teaching load is 3/3, with a mix of introductory and upper level courses at the undergraduate level in UMaine's interdisciplinary Leadership Studies Minor. The minor consists of three core courses—Foundations of Leadership, Leadership Ethics, and Advanced Leadership Theory and Practice—as well as special topics courses, electives, and an internship/practicum course. Supervise internships, independent studies, and undergraduate theses. Advise students on their course of study within the minor and aid them in the registration process, which includes maintaining regular office hours. Maintain an active research program. Perform appropriate service, which includes but is not limited to, active participation in program development in Leadership Studies and the Cohen Institute, and representing these units in interactions with the larger University and community.

Qualifications: We prefer candidates with an earned doctorate in leadership studies, organizational leadership, organizational psychology, organizational behavior, political science, or a related field. Advanced ABD candidates may be considered for the position. We are particularly interested in candidates with a track record of teaching and research in leadership studies from an interdisciplinary, liberal arts perspective, as well as experience in active learning pedagogies, service learning, and community engagement. Additional requirements include record of or demonstrated potential for success in university-level teaching, assisting with program development, and advising and supervising student internships.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of interest in the position, a current C.V., three letters of reference, at least one sample of research related to leadership studies, copies of graduate school transcript(s), and available teaching evaluations and course syllabi. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit application materials electronically to coheninstitute@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Richard Powell, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Cohen Institute: rpowell@maine.edu, 207-581-1872. Additional details about the Cohen Institute and the Leadership Studies Minor can be found at umaine.edu/cohen.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Winter 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2234

Durham University

Rank: Chair in Political Theory

The School of Government and International Affairs at Durham University invites applications for a chair in political theory. We are seeking to appoint an individual with a combination of outstanding research, leadership and team-working skills. As the School embarks on a period of substantial growth and development, we envisage that this strategic appointment will make a significant contribution to the collective delivery of the School's research and teaching strategies. They will be expected to play a key role within the leadership team of the School as we grow student numbers, recruit new academic staff, deliver newly revised undergraduate programmes, and demonstrate outstanding quality in meeting the requirements of a challenging higher education environment.

Candidates must be able to demonstrate a track-record of successful research leadership based upon an impressive publication record, including outputs in leading journals, and making significant contributions more broadly through monographs and/or journal articles that have become key texts or interventions. Candidates should be able to demonstrate wider disciplinary knowledge across the disciplines of Politics and International Relations, should have an international profile for their research and be engaged in significant research networks and collaborative activities in their field.

The successful candidate will be a proven team player, who can demonstrate an ability to initiate, lead, encourage, contribute to, and build support networks around research activities. Candidates should be able to demonstrate a commitment to working with and supporting staff colleagues and research students, with evidence of successful mentoring and supervision of researchers at various career stages.

The successful candidate will be expected to work closely with the Head of School in delivering the School research strategy, which seeks to build our capacity to produce outstanding research and to meet the complex challenges of the UK research environment. This includes but is not limited to preparations for the Research Excellence Framework, improving the quality of grant submissions and grant capture rates, and embedding a strong culture of research-based public engagement activity which may demonstrate impact.

Applications in any field of political theory are welcome although candidates who work in the field of contemporary political theory (from either analytical or continental traditions) are especially encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will be able to demonstrate the potential for research engagement with colleagues across the School and reaching into disciplines beyond the School. As the first Politics and International Relations department to be awarded an Athena Swan award, we welcome applications from women and ethnic minority candidates and are committed to a diverse and inclusive research community.

Successful applicants will, ideally, be in post by 1st September 2017

We embrace excellence in all its forms and invite all qualified candidates to apply. We particularly welcome applications from women, candidates with disabilities and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are under-represented in the University.

For further details of this position and to make an application, please visit: www.durham.ac.uk/academicalent

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/15/2016

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 2226

Merrimack College

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Government/American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Assistant Professor, American Government/American Politics

Merrimack College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The successful applicant will teach introductory American Politics courses and courses for our pre-law minor including American Constitutional Law and Civil Liberties and Civil Rights. Candidates who can teach courses in Political Theory will receive special consideration. The full teaching load is 3-3. A demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, and service is essential. All specialized subfields within American Politics/American Government will be considered. Successful candidates will have the opportunity to develop and teach courses in the Master of Public Affairs Program. Ph.D. is required by time of appointment.

Merrimack College is a selective Catholic college in the Augustinian tradition, offering programs in the liberal arts, business, the sciences, and engineering for its 3000+ students. The college is located in the Merrimack Valley, approximately 25 miles north of Boston in North Andover, Massachusetts.

Complete applications should include a letter of interest, CV, sample of scholarship, teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation. A digital copy of the application materials should be sent to hrjobs@merrimack.edu. Review of applications will begin on November 15th, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled.

Merrimack College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2220

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Normative Political Theory

For 2017-2018, the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society at Stanford seeks to appoint up to four new postdoctoral fellows. Selected fellows will be designated as either Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows or General Ethics Fellows. The two types of fellows have some distinct training opportunities and responsibilities as described below, but they form a common community at the Center and participate together in the Center's intellectual life. The programs are described in detail below.

We aim to appoint fellows in both programs (four total across the two programs). All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships, and finalists will be consulted as to their designation as Interdisciplinary Ethics or General Ethics fellows.

Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellowship

2017-18 will be the second year of this new fellowship program at the Center. The program is rooted in the Center's commitment to bring ethical reflection to bear on pressing social problems. Addressing many of these social problems involves knowledge of the work of social science, law, and the life sciences. The premise of this program is that the normative scholarship of our fellows will be enhanced by engagement with empirically-oriented scholars. To that end, each fellow in the program will be matched with a partner research center at Stanford that is dedicated to interdisciplinary research. The partner centers will be determined based upon selected fellows' interests. For the 2016-17 year, the partner centers included the Stanford Center for Biomedical Ethics, the Stanford Center on Poverty and Inequality, the Immigration Policy Lab, and the Stanford Center for Philanthropy and Civil Society. To be considered for this fellowship, applicants must have normative training and hold a PhD in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a JD are also eligible so long as their research interests focus on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. Fellows will participate in the regular intellectual life of the partner center and the Center for Ethics in Society (e.g., attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across campus.

General Ethics Fellowship

Some selected fellows will be part of our longstanding postdoctoral program that is more broadly open to candidates with substantial normative research in any area within philosophy or political science. For 2017-18, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in inequality, global justice, environmental ethics, biomedical ethics, and ethics and technology, but we welcome all applicants with strong normative interests. Applicants must have a PhD in philosophy or political science. Scholars with a JD are also eligible so long as their research interests focus on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. General Ethics Fellows participate in the intellectual life of the Center for Ethics in Society (attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), teach one class per year, interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Appointment Requirements and Application Details

For both types of fellowships, the appointment term is September 1, 2017 - August 31, 2018. The initial term may be renewed for an additional year. Applicants must have completed all requirements for their PhD by June 30, 2017. Candidates must also be no more than 3 years from the awarding of their degree (i.e., September 2014).

The application deadline is December 12, 2016 (5:00 pm Pacific Standard Time).

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its scholarly community. We welcome applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research and teaching missions. Salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single spaced), and a teaching portfolio. Additional materials will not be considered. All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships, and finalists will be consulted about whether they may be designated as Interdisciplinary Ethics or General Ethics fellows.

Applications will be collected via Interfolio. Please refer to the Center's website for information about how to submit your materials: <https://ethicsinsociety.stanford.edu/postdoc-fellows/application-process>

If you have questions, please contact Anne Newman (arneman@stanford.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/12/2016

Date Posted: 10/10/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2209

Princeton University

Rank: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professor for Distinguished Teaching

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, Public Policy

The University Center for Human Values invites nominations and applications for the Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professorship for Distinguished Teaching. We aim to make individual appointments for the following: Spring 2018, Spring 2019, Spring 2020, 2018-19 and 2019-20.

These visiting professorships were established as part of Princeton's 250th Anniversary teaching initiatives, enabling the University Center to bring to campus excellent undergraduate teachers and scholars whose teaching and research explicitly examine values in public and private life. Candidates in all fields are eligible but special consideration for Spring 2018 applications will be given to scholars who have a demonstrated expertise in teaching related to environmental ethics and political theory and for Spring 2019 and Spring 2020 to scholars who have a demonstrated expertise in teaching related to service and civic engagement, human rights or ethics and public policy. Recent holders of these positions have been appointed at their home institutions in Comparative Literature, History, Politics, Philosophy, Psychology and Sociology. Ten-month positions bring a full salary. Five-month positions (half of a ten-month faculty position) bring a commensurate proportion of salary.

Since the successful candidates must demonstrate an established record of teaching excellence, applicants should normally hold a tenured position in their home institution. The professorship is not intended for early-career faculty and we do not generally consider applicants who have taught less than five years.

Candidates who have received teaching awards will be given especially serious consideration, but receipt of such awards is not a necessary condition for selection if there is other evidence of outstanding teaching. We are keen to consider applicants who have been innovative in the classroom through their use of technology, although again this is not a necessary condition for selection. International applicants with a demonstrable record of distinguished teaching are encouraged to apply.

Visiting professors normally teach one undergraduate course, organize at least one event focused on pedagogy, and participate in seminars, colloquia, and other activities of the University Center for Human Values. They also enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities throughout the University.

The appointment committee will consider applicants on the basis of:

- The quality of their teaching and relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values;
- The quality of their previous and proposed research and their ability to benefit from and contribute to the activities of the University Center for Human Values;
- The contribution they are likely to make to higher education in the future through teaching and writing about ethics and human values.

Nominations

The University Center encourages department chairs, deans, colleagues, and students to nominate candidates for consideration. Nomination letters should describe the nominee's teaching and scholarly interests and characterize the evidence as to quality of the nominee's record of teaching and scholarship. The nominee's c.v. should be included. The selection committee may invite nominees to provide further information if required. It would be helpful to us to receive the nomination by Friday November 18, 2016. Nomination letters may be sent by email to mkillen@princeton.edu

Applications

Interested applicants should apply online at www.princeton.edu/jobs. (The requisition number is 1600851). The following materials will be required. The application deadline is Friday, November 18, 2016:

1. A cover letter describing the applicant's interest in affiliation with the University Center and indicating the academic year in which the applicant seeks appointment;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. A statement of the applicant's teaching record in the last five-to-ten years listing courses offered and describing the evidence of distinguished teaching (e.g., teaching awards received and/or a summary of institutional teaching assessments);
4. A scholarly paper or book chapter accepted for publication within the last five years, ideally not exceeding 12,000 words;
5. A brief prospectus of research to be undertaken at Princeton;
6. The names and contact information of three referees, at least one of whom should be able to comment knowledgeably on the applicant's teaching record (in the event that their views are sought, referees will be contacted by the search committee).

The selection committee may request further information, such as institutional documentation of the teaching record, at a later stage.

We anticipate concluding the selection process by June 2017, for the appointments tenable in spring 2018 and the 2018-2019 academic year.

For more information about the University Center for Human Values, please visit our web site: uchv.princeton.edu

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/18/2016

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2180

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning approximately June 26, 2017. Candidates should have teaching and research interests in any area of American politics, as well as expertise in political theory. Responsibilities include teaching core courses on American government and national security, introductory political theory, and upper division American government courses; maintaining a strong record of teaching and research; academic advising; and service on department and Academy committees. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date. The position is open to U.S. citizens.

The United States Air Force Academy (USAFA), located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution that awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead in the United States Air Force in service to our nation. Faculty applications are invited from candidates who can contribute to this mission by interacting with cadets, both in and out of the classroom, as instructors and mentors. The student body consists of approximately 4,000 men and women representing every state and several foreign countries. The Academy faculty is an integrated group of military and civilian educators. The curriculum includes core academic and professional courses, and 27 disciplinary and interdisciplinary majors. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences.

The U.S. Air Force Academy is an Equal Opportunity Employer and provides reasonable accommodation to qualified applicants with disabilities. The Air Force believes that diversity is essential to accomplishing its mission. The Air Force Academy highly values individuals who have a demonstrated ability to work successfully with and help develop individuals of diverse backgrounds and perspectives. For the Air Force, diversity encompasses: personal life experiences, geographic background, socioeconomic background, cultural knowledge, educational background, work background, language abilities, physical abilities, philosophical/spiritual perspectives, age, race, ethnicity, and gender.

For detailed application requirements and to apply, go to www.usajobs.gov. Type in "USAF Academy" under Location, and "professor" under Key Words. Scroll down until you locate this position. Applications must be received by November 14, 2016.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/14/2016

Date Posted: 9/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2141

University of Colorado Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Political Thought

Specializations: American Politics, Political Thought: Historical, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

The Political Science Department at the University of Colorado, Denver, invites applications for a Political Science specialist to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor, starting August 2017. Applicants should have areas of expertise in the field of American Political Thought, with a critical approach to such issues as: race, gender, class, GLBTQ, disability or age. Applicants focusing either on historical or current perspectives in these fields are encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate will be rostered as a tenure-track assistant professor in either the Political Science Department. This position comes with research, teaching and service expectations. The standard teaching load is 2/2 (four courses an academic year), at both the undergraduate and graduate level.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field from an accredited university; track record of engaging and innovative teaching; record of scholarly achievement or promise of future scholarly achievement; areas of expertise in the field of American Political Thought, with a critical approach to such issues as: race, gender, class, GLBTQ, disability or age.

GENERAL QUALITIES DESIRED: The Political Science Department is interested in candidates who can create innovative American studies courses. The Department values candidates with a record of, or interest in, community engagement.

SALARY AND BENEFITS: Salary is commensurate with skills and experience. The University of Colorado offers a full benefits package. Information on University benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at <https://www.cu.edu/employee-services>.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS Applicants should submit an electronic application packet by visiting the links referenced below. The packet should contain the following materials:

- A Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vita
- Graduate Transcript
- Research Writing Sample
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including a syllabus for a proposed American Political Thought course, teaching evaluations, and a statement of teaching philosophy
- Applicants should also have three letters of reference mailed to the same address.

To apply for this position go to <http://www.cu.edu/cu-careers>. Reference job posting 06808.

The direct link for this job position is: https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=06808&lang=en&sns_id=mailto#.V-G6Kvfp2Ao.mailto

Formal review of applications will begin December 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Colorado Denver is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To assist in achieving that goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees.

The University of Colorado Denver is committed to recruiting and supporting a diverse student body, faculty and administrative staff. The university strives to promote a culture of inclusiveness, respect, communication and understanding. We encourage applications from women, ethnic minorities, persons with disabilities and all veterans. The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment.

For more information, contact Search Committee Chair, Professor Christoph Stefes, at christoph.stefes@ucdenver.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2149

Gettysburg College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – American Politics

Position Summary:

Gettysburg College invites applications for a one year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2017.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a commitment to teaching in the liberal arts tradition and show potential for scholarly engagement. The Department of Political Science seeks candidates in the subfields of American Politics and American Political Thought. The successful candidate is expected to offer introductory and advanced courses in these two subfields. A Ph.D. in political science or ABD status is required. The teaching load is 3/3.

Application Details:

Applicants should apply online at: <http://gettysburg.peopleadmin.com/postings/1875>. A curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, transcripts, and a separate statement of the applicant's teaching philosophy should be submitted. In addition, applicants should enter the names and email addresses of three professional references. After the applicant completes his/her on-line application, the professional references indicated will be contacted by Gettysburg College via email to submit letters of recommendation electronically. At least one of the letters of recommendation must address the applicant's teaching effectiveness.

Review of applications will begin immediately, and will continue until a successful candidate is found. Application materials must be received by December 15, 2016 for full consideration. Inquiries can be addressed to Dr. Donald Borock at dborock@gettysburg.edu.

Gettysburg College, an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal, state, local laws and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and admission. The College prohibits discrimination and harassment, and provides equal opportunity without regard to race, ethnicity, color, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital/familial status, possession of a General Education Development Certificate (GED) as compared to a high school diploma, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, sex, age, or genetic information in all aspects of employment, educational programs, activities, and admissions. Pursuant to Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972, Gettysburg College prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex (i.e., which includes but is not limited to the prohibition of sexual misconduct and relationship violence, including sexual assault and harassment) in all of its educational programs and activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/15/2016

Date Posted: 9/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2113

The Heritage Foundation

Rank: Visiting Fellow in American Political Thought

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy

The one-year Visiting Fellow in the Simon Center for Principles and Politics is open to university faculty (on sabbatical, on leave, or retired) and to recent Ph.D.'s. Applicants should demonstrate an ability to relate the foundational principles of American political thought to contemporary issues and debates. The Fellow will conduct research in any of the areas of interest to the center including, but not limited to:

1. The Founding and Founding Principles
2. Constitutional Government and the Administrative State
3. Modern Conservatism and Liberalism

The Fellow will:

- Publish research papers for the Heritage Foundation.
- Publish topical commentary in media outlets.
- Work on his/her academic projects (in previous years, fellows have used their time at Heritage to complete books).
- Organize a conference, funded by Heritage, that brings together leading experts in one's subject area.
- Give public lectures at Heritage.

Requirements:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field.
- Preference will be given to faculty members on sabbatical or on leave, although recent Ph.D.'s will be considered.
- Possess a proven interest in the Simon Center's mission of promoting a proper understanding of America's founding principles and applying them to inform contemporary policy debates.

Location

- The scholar will preferably work at the Heritage Foundation in Washington, D.C. Office space will be provided.

Duration

- The Fellowship will last one year and run from September 2017 to August 2018. The duration and start dates, however, are flexible and will be determined by the successful candidate and the Heritage Foundation.

Compensation

- The Fellow will receive an annualized salary, commensurate with his/her experience. As this is a temporary position, it does not include employee benefits such as health insurance.

Additional Benefits:

- Ongoing research support from Center's staff
- Loan privileges with the Library of Congress

To Apply:

Mail or e-mail the following materials:

- 1.) A short proposal outlining what you would work on during your time at Heritage, including the publications you intend to produce and the theme of the conference you will host.
- 2.) C.V.
- 3.) One academic writing sample and one or two non-academic pieces, preferably published.

Completed applications are being accepted until further notice. Notification will be made when the position is filled. Questions and application materials should be sent to:

Dani Doane

Senior Program Manager

B. Kenneth Simon Center for Principles and Politics

The Heritage Foundation

214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE

Washington, D.C. 20002

Email: dani.doane@heritage.org

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2090

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL) and the Department of Philosophy at the University of Richmond invite applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level to begin August 2017.

We seek a candidate with a strong commitment to high quality undergraduate education and primary research and teaching expertise in political philosophy. Among the required teaching responsibilities will be an undergraduate course in rational choice theory broadly construed, including decision-theory, game theory, and social choice theory. The successful candidate will be expected to teach a 2/3 course load per year. We seek individuals with demonstrated teaching excellence. A Ph.D. is required. ABDs will be considered, but must have completed the Ph.D. degree by the start date.

Applicants should apply online at jobs.richmond.edu using the Faculty (Instructional/Research) link. Applicants are asked to submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a summary of current teaching and research interests, a writing sample, and names of three references, at least one of whom addresses the candidate's teaching ability, who will receive an automated email asking them to submit their reference letters to this website. Applications should be received by November 1, 2016.

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the PPEL program or the philosophy department, see <http://ppel.richmond.edu> and <http://philosophy.richmond.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2097

Swarthmore College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Theory)

The Department of Political Science at Swarthmore College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2017. Applicants must demonstrate excellence in undergraduate teaching as well as research. We are particularly interested in candidates with both experience in and enthusiasm for teaching a range of undergraduate courses in the history of political thought (from ancient through modern and postmodern). The position is otherwise open as to specialization and the successful candidate would also have the opportunity to develop courses in one's specific area of interest.

Applicants should submit three syllabi, one for an introductory course and two for intermediate or upper-level courses. These syllabi represent an important part of the application. Candidates should also submit a cover letter which should include a statement of what is likely to make you a strong teacher of diverse students, a short writing sample of not more than 40 pages, their c.v., graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7805>. In your cover letter, please briefly describe your current research agenda; what would be attractive to you about teaching in a liberal arts college environment; and what background, experience, or interests are likely to make you a strong teacher of Swarthmore College students. The deadline for applications is November 1, 2016.

Swarthmore College is a highly selective liberal arts college, located in the suburbs of Philadelphia, whose mission combines academic rigor with social responsibility. Swarthmore has a strong institutional commitment to inclusive excellence through diversity in its educational program and employment practices. The College actively seeks and welcomes applications from candidates with exceptional qualifications, particularly those with demonstrable commitments to a more inclusive society and world.

For more information on Faculty Diversity and Excellence at Swarthmore, see <http://www.swarthmore.edu/faculty-diversity-excellence/information-candidates-new-faculty>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2007

Wayne State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, Political Theory

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY

Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Wayne State University in Detroit, Michigan, seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in Political Theory at the level of Assistant Professor. The department is interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations in the above field and with any substantive focus. The department offers B.A., B.P.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in addition to a NASPAA-accredited M.P.A. degree. Candidates must be prepared to teach Political Theory in our Ph.D. program as well as teach courses in the department's undergraduate curriculum. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester with a starting date of August, 2017. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and arrange to have at least three letters of reference sent to: Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 2040 Faculty/Administration Building, Wayne State University, Detroit, MI 48202. Upon receipt of your application, you will be prompted to apply online using a link supplied to you by the Search Committee. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Wayne State University is a nationally recognized Carnegie Research I (Doctoral/Research Extensive) institution with an urban teaching mission. It comprises 12 academic colleges offering over 350 undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees, including medicine, law, arts and sciences, engineering, business, pharmacy, health sciences, and education to more than 28,000 students. The National Science Foundation has ranked Wayne State among the top 60 U.S. public institutions for annual research expenditures. Wayne State University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 1972

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2017. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy and political science broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2017.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must have three letters of recommendation, CV, and job market paper submitted by November 30, 2016. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to faculty_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as from others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 9/2/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1961

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Garwood Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointment as Garwood Teaching Fellow for the academic year running from September 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018. The Garwood Teaching

Fellowship can be for one semester or the academic year. Garwood Fellows teach at least one undergraduate course on statesmanship and presidential leadership in Princeton University's Department of Politics, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Depending on the needs of the University, additional teaching opportunities may be available, again subject to enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

James Madison Program Fellows will spend their Fellowship in residence at Princeton University. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University, and are encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply:

For full consideration, applicants are required to submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. To apply for a Visiting Fellow position please go to requisition 1600685.

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a course proposal and draft syllabus;
- * contact information for two references;
- * a confidential statement that indicates the applicant's salary for the current academic year, what financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide, and what support they are likely to need from the Program.

The deadline for application materials is 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2016 for appointments beginning in September 2017. Awards will be announced in March 2017.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D., Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu / Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1846

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Political Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the year from September 1, 2017 to September 1, 2018 with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on good performance. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence at Princeton University for the duration of the appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates must have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education in the future. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply:

For full consideration, applicants should submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu> by December 1, 2016; however, applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2017. To apply for a Postdoctoral Research Associate position, please go to requisition #1600687.

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.
Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu
Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1847

Campbell University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science

Assistant/Associate Professor – Department of History, Criminal Justice and Political Science

Department: College of Arts and Sciences
 This position will be: Full Time

Description

The Department of History, Criminal Justice and Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at Campbell University seeks applicants for a full-time (9 month), tenure-track position in political science, either at the assistant or associate level, beginning August 2017.

Requirements | Qualifications

A Ph.D. in political science is desirable, but ABDs will be considered. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach undergraduate courses at all levels, with a particular focus on constitutional law and political theory. The new hire will teach, advise, and mentor majors and other students in a long-established, interdisciplinary and vibrant pre-law curriculum. The typical teaching load is 4 courses (12 hours) per semester. Candidates must be committed to liberal arts education; support the Christian mission of the University; and be dedicated to excellence in undergraduate teaching, mentoring students, and scholarship.

Compensation: Compensation will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits include health, disability, and retirement plans.

Additional Instructions

Applications should be submitted online using the link below. Please electronically submit a letter of application citing education, experience, pedagogical approach, and additional qualifications as they relate to teaching at Campbell University. The application packet should also include a current curriculum vitae as well as copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts for all institutions attended. Additionally, please provide names and contact information for three references.

See link below to apply.

<http://www.campbell.edu/about/employment/>

Review of applications will begin September 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. Campbell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Campbell University maintains a continuing policy of nondiscrimination in employment. It is our policy to provide equal opportunity in all phases of the employment process and in compliance with applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations. Accordingly, the University is committed to administering all educational and employment activities without discrimination as to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, ethnicity or national origin, religion, disability, genetic information, protected veteran status and any other characteristic protected by law, except where appropriate and authorized by law. This policy of nondiscrimination shall include, but not be limited to, the following employment decisions and practices: hiring; upgrading; promotions; demotions or transfers; layoffs; recalls; terminations; rates of pay or other forms of compensation; selection for training, including apprenticeship; and recruitment or recruitment advertising. Employees and applicants of Campbell University will not be subjected to any form of harassment or discrimination for exercising rights protected by, or because of their participation in, an investigation or compliance review related to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, the Veterans Employment Opportunities Act of 1998, or any other federal or state nondiscrimination law, rule, or regulation.

Campbell University also maintains affirmative action programs to implement our equal employment opportunity policy. Employees or applicants who wish to review appropriate portions of these affirmative action programs may schedule an appointment to do so by contacting the Vice President for Business and Treasurer at the Buies Creek campus, during normal business hours.

Campbell University will no longer be accepting paper applications. Please apply online by clicking "Apply for this Position" below the description of the position for which you are applying. If you have any questions, or if you are an individual with a disability and need assistance completing an application for employment contact the Human Resources Department at 910-893-1699 or email hr@campbell.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1941

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning July 2017. We are seeking a broadly trained Political Scientist who could teach courses in international relations and political philosophy. A Ph.D. is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 31st, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1937

Eastern University-St Davids

Rank: Assistant Professor American Government

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Assistant Professor American Government
Political Science Department
2016-2017 AY Replacement Search

The Department of Political Science at Eastern University, a university of the liberal arts and sciences located in St. Davids Pennsylvania, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in the fall of 2017. We are seeking to fill a position in American Government with preference given to individuals who can contribute to Political Theory. Candidates should desire to participate in the liberal arts core by teaching courses that explore the intersection of faith, reason, and justice. A Ph.D. in hand is preferred but ABD candidates nearing completion are also encouraged to apply. Please note that a J.D. is not sufficient for this appointment.

Eastern University is a Christian university of the arts and sciences that integrates faith, reason and justice for students in its undergraduate, graduate, Seminary, urban, professional and international programs. Applicants should have a religious commitment compatible with its mission and be willing to endorse by signing Eastern University's doctrinal statement. The university complies with federal and state guidelines of nondiscrimination in employment; members of protected classes encouraged to apply.

This description is intended to describe the general level and nature of work performed by the person/people assigned to this position. It is not to be construed as an exhaustive list of duties and responsibilities of the person/people so assigned.

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017. Applicants are requested to send a cover letter including a brief statement of your faith, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations (or portfolio), unofficial copies of graduate transcripts, and three professional letters of recommendation/reference to jobs@eastern.edu or by mail to:

Eastern University
Office of Human Resources
1300 Eagle Rd.
St. Davids, PA 19087-3696

All positions remain open until filled.

Interested candidates participating in the APSA Annual Meeting should contact Dr. Sharon Gramby-Sobukwe to arrange an on-campus visit and interview.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1874

Instituto Tecnológico Autonomo de Mexico (ITAM)

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Political Economy, Regulatory Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Instituto Tecnológico Autonomo de Mexico (ITAM) invites applicants for a position at the assistant professor level in the Political Science Department, commencing in August 2017. This is an open field position with preference for candidates in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political-Economy, Methods (formal and quantitative), and Political Theory (contemporary political theory along with Comparative Politics or Social Choice). Candidates should preferably have a focus on regulatory politics, or policy evaluation.

ITAM is an academic institution committed to scientific excellence and oriented to the international academic community. Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to research and should possess a Ph.D. in political science, but ABDs will be considered if there is a reasonable expectation of completion by December 2016. Classes can be taught in Spanish or English. Salary and teaching loads are in accordance to U.S. standards. Candidates can interview at the 2016 APSA Meeting in Philadelphia.

Information about the Department can be found at: <http://departamentodecienciapolitica.itam.mx/es>

CONTACT: Prof. Vidal Romero, Political Science Department, ITAM, Rio Hondo # 1, Mexico City, D.F. 01800, Mexico; email: vromero@itam.mx.

Application Instructions: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research papers, research statement (2 page limit), and three letters of reference in pdf format to marta.cebollada@itam.mx by November 1, 2016.

For more information, phone: +52(55)5628-4000, x.3788.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1866

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Political Theory)

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in political theory, with a special interest in candidates working in the areas of religion and politics, law, liberalism, and ancient and medieval, Continental, or American political thought. The department has a strong record of research and teaching in the history of political thought, broadly conceived, and applications are encouraged from scholars whose work speaks to this tradition. A Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester, typically a mixture of undergraduate and Ph.D.-level offerings. The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7688>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Richard Boyd, rb352@georgetown.edu. For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive by September 20, 2016, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/19/2016Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 1863University of Missouri, Columbia*Rank: Kinder Institute Professor of Constitutional DemocracySubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

&lt;b&gt;Job Description&lt;/b&gt;

The Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri invites applications for the Kinder Institute (Assistant/Associate/Full) Professor of Constitutional Democracy to begin in the Fall Semester 2017. The position is open rank in Political Science and holds a joint appointment with the Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy.

Started in 2014 and supported by a generous grant from the Kinder Foundation, a family philanthropic foundation established by Rich and Nancy Kinder, the Kinder Institute is an interdisciplinary academic center at the University of Missouri dedicated to promoting excellence in teaching and scholarship on American political thought and history, broadly construed.

The successful candidate will teach four classes per year, maintain an active research and publishing agenda, contribute to undergraduate and graduate education, and participate in the intellectual community and activities of the Kinder Institute.

&lt;b&gt;Qualifications&lt;/b&gt;

Applicants must demonstrate a track record of excellence in teaching and publication in a subject area that advances the mission of the Kinder Institute. Special consideration will be given to candidates whose prior work bridges subfields in political science and reflects the potential to teach courses in the area of political institutions and/or political and constitutional development. A Ph.D. in political science is required at the time of the appointment.

&lt;b&gt;Application Materials&lt;/b&gt;

Applicants should use the online application system available at <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/index.php>. Apply for Job ID 20828. See here for a direct link to this job:

https://myhr.umsystem.edu/psp/tamext/COLUM/HRMS/c/HRS_HRAM.HRS_CE.GBL?Page=HRS_CE_JOB_DTL&Action=A&SiteId=9&JobOpeningId=20828&PostingSeq=1.

Applicants should include a statement of teaching philosophy, and an outline of a current research agenda in the "attachments" portion of the system. Applicants should merge their CV with a brief cover letter and upload the document in the Resume/CV section of the application. Candidates at the rank of assistant professor should also include three letters of recommendation. Candidates at the rank of associate or full professor should may provide the names and contact information for three references.

All letters of recommendation should be sent to politicalscience@missouri.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2016.

&lt;b&gt;Other Information&lt;/b&gt;

For more information about the Kinder Institute, including descriptions of all faculty, graduate and undergraduate programs, please visit democracy.missouri.edu.

The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

&lt;b&gt;Benefit Eligibility&lt;/b&gt;

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>

&lt;b&gt;Equal Employment Opportunity&lt;/b&gt;

The University of Missouri is an equal access, equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is fully committed to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status. For more information, call the Associate Vice Chancellor of Human Resource Services/Affirmative Action officer at 573-882-4256.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility & ADA Education at 573-882-5835.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/17/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1813

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory/Law

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in Political Theory and/or Law at the rank of assistant professor. The position requires outstanding research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and, if available, evidence of excellence in teaching. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/36690> To guarantee full consideration, all materials should be uploaded and available for review by September 7, 2016. Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/15/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1793

Ball State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Ball State University is inviting applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position available August 18, 2017, with specialization in the field of classic and modern Western political philosophy with the major focus including background, knowledge, and skills in the area of political philosophy.

Major responsibilities: Teach courses in classic and modern Western political philosophy including American political thought. Additional strengths in comparative politics, non-Western political philosophy, and gender studies are preferred with opportunities available for developing courses in those areas. The normal teaching load is twelve hours per semester with a three hour course release per semester for candidates engaged in active research.

Minimum qualifications: Doctorate in political science with a concentration in political philosophy/theory from an accredited college or university no later than August 18, 2017; ability to teach courses in classic and modern Western political philosophy including American political thought.

Preferred qualifications: Research and/or teaching strengths in Comparative Politics, non-Western political philosophy, and gender studies; evidence of scholarship through publications, presentations, and successful grant proposals; evidence of successful teaching at the college level; successful involvement with professional organizations in the discipline; ability to interact effectively with faculty and staff to contribute to the strategic plans of the Department, College and University.

Candidates for searches must have current authorization to be employed in the U.S. without employer sponsorship.

To apply: We prefer candidates to submit all application materials, except for letters of reference, in a single pdf file. Send a cover letter of application, current vita, copies of official transcripts, writing samples, teaching evaluations if available, and three original letters of recommendation to: Dr. Daniel J. Reagan, c/o: Stephanie Painter, Administrative Coordinator (spainter@bsu.edu), Department of Political Science, Ball State University, Muncie, IN 47306-0255.

Review of completed applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled and the search is terminated.

Ball State University is located in Muncie, Indiana, on an attractive campus 45 miles northeast of Indianapolis. Approximately 21,000 graduate and undergraduate students enroll in one of seven academic colleges that offer 187 undergraduate programs, 84 master's programs, and 16 doctoral programs. In addition to our regular undergraduate Program, we also house an undergraduate Legal Studies Program, and an undergraduate interdepartmental European Studies Program and at the graduate level we offer an MA and MPA.

Ball State aspires to be the model of the most student-centered and community-engaged of the 21st century public research universities, transforming entrepreneurial learners into impactful leaders – committed to improving the quality of life for all. The university offers an excellent benefits package, including health care and retirement plans, tuition assistance for employees and dependents, and generous time off with pay.

EEO/AA Employer/Veterans/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/1/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1695

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Theory

The Department of Politics is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a position in the field of Political Theory. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 8, 2016.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1700

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Northern Illinois University: Two Tenure-Track Positions, Open Fields

The Department of Public Administration at Northern Illinois University invites applications from individuals seeking a collegial environment that offers excellent research and teaching opportunities in our nationally ranked MPA program located in global Chicago's metropolitan region. The department anticipates filling two tenure track assistant professor positions to begin August 2017, pending budgetary approval.

Successful applicants will have primary teaching and research interests in the core public and nonprofit management subjects of the MPA degree including: organization theory and behavior, human resources management, information technology, budgeting and finance, performance measurement, and theory of public and nonprofit administration. The department particularly seeks candidates who can demonstrate competency in performance measurement and management, or human resource management. Applicants should be, or have the potential to be, a productive scholar as well as a high quality teacher. Candidates with a demonstrated ability to teach and engage a diverse student body and other program stakeholders are preferred.

A description of the program's core courses and specializations is at <http://www.mpa.niu.edu/pub_ad/mpa_program/index.shtml>. In addition to the MPA Program, Department faculty teach undergraduate courses for three university majors, and in the political science doctoral program.

Successful candidates must also demonstrate a strong research and publication record (or the potential for such) in a substantive public management field. Candidates with experience in working with public service practitioners are encouraged to apply, although this is not required.

The main NIU campus is located in DeKalb, Illinois, 60 miles west of Chicago. NIU enrolls more than 19,000 students, including a graduate body of about 5,000, and instruction is offered in DeKalb and three other sites – Hoffman Estates, Rockford and Naperville, to serve metropolitan Chicago students. NIU is nestled in a vibrant economic region that offers exceptional research opportunities for scholars in local government, and works closely with the University's Center for Governmental Studies. The department is a founding unit within a new School of Public and Global Affairs, along with the departments of Political Science and Economics, and the Center for NGO Leadership & Development (NGOLD); there is great opportunity for interdisciplinary work with school colleagues.

The NASPAA accredited MPA program ranks 6th nationally in local government management and ranks 14th in budgeting and finance.

The department fields about 50 full time graduate internships in local government and non-profit organizations throughout metropolitan Chicago, and a rapidly growing number of part-time midcareer students. Typically 95% of MPA students are professionally employed within six months of graduation, and one-third of all Illinois city managers are NIU MPA graduates. The MPA program celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2013-14 and boasts a network of over 1,200 alumni.

The position requires a PhD in Public Administration or a related field by date of appointment. Applicants must email (pasearch@niu.edu) a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and a research statement addressed to Dr. Michael T. Peddle, Search Committee, Department of Public Administration, Northern Illinois University. Preference will be given to applications received by December 1, 2016; however, the department will continue to accept and review applications until the position is filled. Applicants invited to campus will be expected to submit three letters of reference and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Potential applicants or nominators having any questions can contact Dr. Peddle at 815-753-6146 or email pasearch@niu.edu. A pre-employment background check is required. Northern Illinois University is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities.

Official posting: <http://jobs.niu.edu/JobDetail.cfm?Job=61723>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2323

Eastern Kentucky University

Rank: Public Administration, Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Economics at Eastern Kentucky University (EKU) invites applications for a position as a nine-month tenure-track assistant professor to teach classes in the Department's Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program and undergraduate political science classes as needed. Position starts August 15, 2017. Candidates will be expected to teach one or more core courses in the MPA Program, with the ability to develop and/or teach fully online courses. Preference will be given to candidates with secondary areas of interest including, but not limited to, non-profit management.

A doctorate in Public Administration, Public Affairs, Public Policy, or a closely related field is required and must be obtained within the first academic year of employment. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester. Successful candidates should be, or have the potential to be, an active scholar and a high quality teacher with demonstrated ability to develop and teach fully online courses.

Review of applications will begin November 14, 2016 and continue until position is filled. Qualified candidates must apply to requisition number 0619889 at <http://jobs.eku.edu>.

Eastern Kentucky University is an EEO/AA institution that values diversity in its faculty, staff, and student body. In keeping with this commitment, the University welcomes applications from diverse candidates and candidates who support diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2289

Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse

Rank: Research Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse (IAST), France, invites applications for Research Fellowships, from 1st September 2017:

We welcome applications from researchers within a large range of disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences: anthropology, biology, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology and sociology, though motivated applications from outside these disciplines will be given full consideration. Applications from economists are also encouraged, but successful applicants will have demonstrated an interest in, and a commitment to, at least one of the other non-economics disciplines of the IAST.

We seek candidates with a strong research background in their own discipline, but willing and able to develop research projects drawing on IAST's substantial interdisciplinary resources, including particularly the proximity of strong groups in economics (Toulouse School of Economics, TSE). We are open to a variety of research methods, including theory, field and laboratory experiments, observational field work, and the analysis of large secondary data sets. All research interests relevant to the broad study of human behavior are welcome, but interests close to those already developed at IAST will be given special consideration, including, to cite only a few:

In political science: public opinion and public policies, comparative studies of democratic institutions, democratization in developing countries, experimental political science, studies of networks and their impact of individual and collective action.

Eligible applicants

Active researchers who have or will have completed their PhD after January 2014 and before September 2017. The IAST offers candidates an opportunity to devote themselves full time to their research at the start of their careers. Motivated applications will be considered from candidates whose PhDs were completed in 2013 or earlier; please explain your reasons in your cover letter

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2269

University of North Carolina, Greensboro

Rank: Associate or Full Professor and MPA Director, Public Administration

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT GREENSBORO:
 Associate or Full Professor and MPA Director, Public Administration.

The Department of Political Science seeks a tenured Associate or Full Professor for a faculty position in Public Administration (field open) beginning August 1, 2017, to serve after one year as the Graduate Director of its NASPAA-accredited MPA program. We welcome applications from all specializations within public administration, but are especially interested in applicants whose research and teaching interests include public policy, program evaluation, organizational behavior, human resource management, ethics, or local government management. Celebrating its 40th year, the MPA program seeks a Director to build on its reputation of effective student preparation and innovative scholarship. The MPA program is one of the degree programs in the Political Science Department, which consists of fourteen full-time faculty and strong and diverse undergraduate and graduate programs (MPA, urban and economic development certificate, nonprofit management certificate).

Minimum Qualifications: A strong record of research, teaching and experience in an MPA program is essential. A PhD in public administration, political science or related field is required at the time of appointment. Salary is competitive.

Preferred Qualifications: Previous administrative and public service experience are desirable.

UNCG is proud of the diversity of its student body and we seek to attract an equally diverse applicant pool. UNCG is a Minority Serving Institution, with an undergraduate student body consisting of approximately 27% African Americans and 7% Hispanic or Latino Americans. UNCG and the Political Science Department foster an environment of collaboration across departments and schools and support community-engaged research. We are an EOE/AA/F/D/V employer and are strongly committed to increasing faculty diversity.

Applicants should submit all materials electronically (to apply, visit <https://jobsearch.uncg.edu> and click on "Faculty" and apply to position #13578), including a cover letter, a CV, a description of their research program, up to three representative publications, sample syllabi, and a statement of teaching interests. Applicants are asked to provide the names and email addresses of at least three (3) references in the References section of the electronic application. These references will be solicited by the UNCG jobsearch system via email, and asked to provide a confidential letter of reference/recommendation on behalf of the applicant. This will occur as soon as the applicant successfully submits the application and receives a confirmation number from the UNCG jobsearch system.

Inquiries can be sent to Professor Greg McAvoy (gemcavoy@uncg.edu). The program webpage is <http://www.uncg.edu/psc/> and information about UNCG's Graduate School is available at <http://grs.uncg.edu/current>. The review of applications will begin on December 1, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2016

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2258

Shippensburg University

Rank: Assistant Professor

SHIPPENSBURG UNIVERSITY – POLITICAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT
 PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, starting August 2017.

The Department is seeking a public administration generalist, who can teach both required and elective, graduate and undergraduate courses in public administration. The successful applicant will also be required to contribute to the University's General Education Program by teaching U.S. Government and Politics. In addition, faculty members are expected to perform other duties as assigned in compliance with the collective bargaining agreement.

Minimum Requirements: Applicants who are ABD and expect to complete the doctorate by August 2017 may be considered. A successful on-campus interview is required; the interviews will be conducted by faculty members and deans. Applicants selected for an on-campus interview will be required to complete a teaching demonstration and scholarship presentation. The successful applicant will also demonstrate an understanding of diverse populations.

Preferred Requirements: An earned doctorate in Public Administration or Political Science is preferred.

Applications Instructions: All candidates must apply online at <https://jobs.ship.edu/postings/815>

Materials submitted in other formats including paper applications will not be considered. For an application to be considered complete, candidates must submit: (1) a letter of interest that describes the applicant's teaching, research, and professional experiences; (2) a current curriculum vita; (3) a complete set of undergraduate and graduate transcripts; and (4) a list of three current references that includes both telephone numbers and e-mail addresses (required if granted an on-campus interview). Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Offers of employment are contingent upon successful completion of a criminal background check as well as sufficient course enrollment and budget allocations. Following the initial review of applications, telephone interviews will be conducted. Based upon the telephone interviews, the Department will invite applicants for on-campus interviews.

Applications received by November 28, 2016 will be given full consideration. Shippensburg University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Individuals from traditionally underrepresented populations are encouraged to apply.

For additional information, contact:

Dr. Sara Grove
Search Committee Chairperson
Department of Political Science
Telephone: (717) 477-1718
E-Mail: sagrov@ship.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2016

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 2240

College of Charleston

Rank: MPA Director

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for the position of Director of our NASPAA accredited Master of Public Administration program, beginning August 2017. We are seeking candidates with relevant administrative experience and an active research agenda who can make curricular contributions to the MPA core curriculum and ensure compliance with all NASPAA program standards. The program offers professional certificates in Urban and Regional Planning and Arts Management and services to area nonprofits and local government through its Community Assistance Program. Fields of specialization are open but public finance, nonprofit, and urban administration are especially desirable. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or a related field is required. Primary teaching and advising responsibilities will be in the Master of Public Administration program, with one or two undergraduate political science courses offered each year. The teaching load for the Director is four courses per year. The College of Charleston is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 1,100 graduate students. The Political Science Department has 21 fulltime faculty and approximately 320 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>). In addition to the MPA program with an enrollment of approximately 50 students (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>), the Department supports a Master of Environmental Studies and contributes to a concurrent MES/MPA degree. The College is located in a coastal metropolitan area of 750,000. Additional information about the institution and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>. Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae (including names and contact information for at least three references), graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations), and evidence demonstrating administrative effectiveness and experience in program assessment. Questions about the search can be directed to MPA Director Search Committee, Department of Political Science, College of Charleston, 66 George Street, Charleston, SC 29424. Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EO employer and strongly encourages women and minority candidates to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/1/2017

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2219

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Administration, Public Policy

Specializations: China, East Asia, International Security

Princeton University & Harvard University

The Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program (CWP)

Princeton University and Harvard University jointly founded the fellowship program for the advanced study of China's international relations, the Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program (CWP), in 2005. The program's co-directors are Thomas J. Christensen of Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and Alastair Iain Johnston of Harvard's Government Department. The China and the World Program supports research that integrates theoretical innovations in the field of international relations with the rigorous study of China's interactions with countries, regions, institutions, and non-state actors.

In 2017-2018, the program will award several one-year postdoctoral research associate positions. Scholars should have defended their dissertations in the past five years. Preference will be given to scholars who are currently working on revising their Ph.D. thesis for publication as a book, or who are just beginning a second major project. Postdoctoral researchers are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the institution of residence.

Qualifications:

Applicants must have received a PhD before starting the position. Only applicants working on some aspect of China's relations with the outside world that supports CWP's mission need apply.

Application Process:

To apply, you will be required to submit an online application at <https://jobs.princeton.edu/> (link is external), requisition number 1600679 and follow the instructions for creating an application.

You are required to submit:

1-2 page cover letter that briefly states your interest in the program, your background, and a summary of your research project
CV

project description

2 scholarly writing samples

Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees

Contact information for two references.

The deadline for submission is December 9, 2016, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Please note that you will only submit contact information and the email of your referees. Your referee will then receive an automated email with instructions on how to submit a confidential recommendation on your behalf. All references must be received for full consideration. We recommend that you complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their applications in February 2017 and a public announcement will be made by March 2017.

For more information about the Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program, please visit its website at <http://cwp.princeton.edu/> or email cwp@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/9/2016

Date Posted: 10/9/2016

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2023

University of Arkansas, Little Rock

Rank: Assistant Professor

University of Arkansas at Little Rock

Assistant Professor – Public Administration / R97062

Master of Public Administration

The University of Arkansas at Little Rock School of Public Affairs invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor (R97062) position in Public Administration beginning August 2017. UALR offers a competitive salary and attractive fringe benefits.

UALR is a research intensive doctoral institution with a metropolitan university mission and strong ties to state and local government and nonprofit organizations. Founded in 1927 and part of the University of Arkansas system since 1969, UALR serves a diverse population of roughly 11,000 students. See the UALR website at <http://www.ualr.edu> for more information about UALR. Little Rock is the capital city and the largest metropolitan area in Arkansas, boasting affordable housing, proximity to wilderness and recreational areas, and numerous cultural and civic attractions, including the William J. Clinton Presidential Library, the Arkansas Studies Institute, the Arkansas Arts Center, the Arkansas Repertory Theater, and the Arkansas Symphony Orchestra.

The successful candidate will be joining a collegial and active faculty in the School of Public Affairs. Applicants should have a commitment to both research and teaching. This position entails being a part of UALR's NASPAA-accredited MPA program and provides an opportunity to contribute to the graduate certificate in Nonprofit Management, the undergraduate certificate in Nonprofit Leadership Studies, and the Center for Nonprofit Organizations. Applicants with a specialty and/or an active research agenda in the management of nonprofit organizations who can build on our strengths as an urban university are especially encouraged to apply.

Minimum Qualifications: A Ph. D. or DPA in Public Administration or a related field are required. ABD's will be considered if degree will be completed by the time of employment. Must have a research or teaching focus that includes the management of nonprofit organizations.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of scholarship or scholarly potential, teaching experience, and the ability to contribute to one or more core courses in the MPA program.

Application materials must be submitted through the online application system. Additional information about this position and application requirements are available under the Jobs link on the Human Resources' website at <http://ualr.edu/humanresources/>. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Submit a letter of application (referencing Position R97062), curriculum vitae, and evidence of successful teaching (including sample syllabi and/or student evaluations), writing sample, and the names of three references whom we may contact for letters of recommendation. Incomplete applications cannot be considered; any materials not submitted as requested using the online application system renders an application incomplete. Applications will be accepted until November 15, 2016.

This position is subject to a pre-employment criminal and financial history background check. A criminal conviction or arrest pending adjudication and/or adverse financial history information alone shall not disqualify an applicant in the absence of a relationship to the requirements of the position. Criminal and financial background check information will be used in a confidential, non-discriminatory manner consistent with state and federal law.

The University of Arkansas at Little Rock is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and actively seeks the candidacy of minorities, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities. Under Arkansas law, all applications are subject to disclosure. Persons hired must have proof of legal authority to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/15/2016

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2166

University of Alabama, Birmingham

Rank: Global Public Affairs and Administration

University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB)

Public Administration – Associate Professor

The Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program in the Department of Government at UAB invites nominations and applications at the rank of associate professor with tenure to begin August 15, 2017. While the area of research specialization is open, we are particularly interested in established scholars specialized in global affairs and international nonprofit organizations.

The MPA Program is NASPAA-accredited, and according to US News and World Report, a nationally ranked MPA Program – one of the four top MPA Programs in the Southeast. The MPA Program has both in-service and pre-service students, and enjoys the steady support of organized MPA alumni with strong local and national membership. UAB is a premier, comprehensive research university, ranked as one of the top 15 research universities in the nation. Metro Birmingham (pop 1 million) is an ethnically diverse and cosmopolitan setting with exciting neighborhoods, excellent cultural institutions, and a very high quality of life.

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in relevant field. Record of scholarship and teaching consistent with rank of associate professor with tenure. To ensure full consideration, submit a letter of interest, sample of published work, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, and at least two letters of recommendation from senior scholars in the field. Review will begin October 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please visit: <http://uab.peopleadmin.com/postings/1849>.

UAB is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable and family-friendly environment in which all faculty and staff can excel and achieve work/life balance irrespective of, race, national origin, age, genetic or family medical history, gender, faith, gender identity and expression as well as sexual orientation. UAB also encourages applications from individuals with disabilities and veterans. A pre-employment background check investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2140

University of South Florida

Rank: Director

The School of Public Affairs at USF invites applications for the Director of the School and to serve as a faculty member in Public Administration or Urban and Regional Planning at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. The School seeks an experienced, dynamic, entrepreneurial, and engaged leader who will leverage the potential of the School, its faculty, and its students into a leading program in the discipline. The position begins July 2017. The School of Public Affairs houses a NASPAA-accredited MPA Program, a soon to be accredited Masters in Urban and Regional Planning (MURP) program, graduate certificates in public management, nonprofit management and community development, and an undergraduate minor in public administration.

We welcome applicants with expertise from all areas of public and urban affairs who will contribute directly to the mission of the School and who will help to boost the visibility of the School, both regionally and nationally. The successful candidate will provide leadership to further enhance the School's research, external funding (grants and contracts), publication record, educational programs, engaged scholarship and fundraising. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring junior faculty and students, and will encourage excellence in research and teaching that make a contribution to the School's academic programs. Supporting evidence of the ability to attract extramural funding is desirable.

The applicant must have a clearly defined and well-established research agenda in an area of public administration/management or urban and regional planning, and have a well-established reputation as a scholar. The successful candidate should also have the ability to teach public administration and/or urban or regional planning courses in the graduate programs. The School of Public Affairs is committed to multi-sector partnerships, which is the intersection and interaction of the public, government, nonprofit, and/or business sectors; candidates should have an interest in some aspect of multi-sector partnerships and/or multi-sector public service. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of community engagement, and show a willingness to raise the visibility of the School of Public Affairs in the Tampa Bay region.

Candidates must have strong interpersonal and communication skills; possess an earned doctorate in public administration, urban and regional planning, public policy or related academic fields; have a record of successful teaching, research, and service sufficient to warrant appointment at the rank of tenured Associate Professor or Professor; and be familiar with NASPAA accreditation standards for MPA programs and/or PAB (Planning Accreditation Board) standards for MURP programs. Previous experience as a Chair, degree program director, or equivalent administrative experience in a higher education setting is highly desirable. Salary is negotiable.

To apply, please visit <http://employment.usf.edu> and attach a cover letter addressing your qualifications for the position, CV, evidence of successful research, and provide names and contact information for three references. Position is open until filled, review of applications begin on December 1, 2016.

The University of South Florida is a high-impact, global research university dedicated to student success. USF is a Top 25 research university among public institutions nationwide in total research expenditures, according to the National Science Foundation. Serving over 48,000 students, the USF System has an annual budget of $1.6 billion and an annual economic impact of $4.4 billion. USF is a member of the American Athletic Conference.

Conclusion of this search is subject to final budget approval. According to Florida Law, applications and meetings regarding them are open to the public. USF is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access institution. For disability accommodations, contact Iris Lage at 813- 974-2345 or ilage@usf.edu, a minimum of five working days in advance.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2143

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Policy and Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration (PSPA) seeks applications for two tenure-track faculty positions in public administration and policy. We hope to select one assistant and one assistant/associate professor to begin August 16, 2017. Candidates should have primary research and teaching interests in public administration and policy with particular consideration given to well-qualified candidates specializing in public policy and program evaluation. Particular consideration will also be given to candidates with interest in assuming the role of Graduate Coordinator. A Ph.D. degree in public administration, public policy, or related fields is required at the time of appointment.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited MPPA, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research centers with the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, the Center for International Security and Strategic Studies, and the National Strategic Planning and Analysis Research Center. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Dr. Christine Rush, at crush@pspa.msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF #493904) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, current curriculum vita, and the names and contact information of three references. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to the following: Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin October 21, 2016, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2126

Norwich University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

The Department of History and Political Science at Norwich University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall 2017 semester. The successful candidate will teach and do research in the fields of American politics and public policy and will teach undergraduate courses in Intro to Public Policy, the survey course in American Politics, the U.S. Presidency, Legislative Process, State and Local Politics, Research Methods (with emphasis on quantitative methods), American Citizenship, and a Capstone Senior Seminar in the candidate's field of expertise. The successful candidate will also manage the Political Science Internship Program and facilitate the growth of public policy studies across the university. While a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, Norwich University is committed to junior faculty developing scholarship through a supportive faculty development program.

Qualifications: To be eligible for appointment at the assistant professor rank, candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a Ph.D in a public policy-related field. Highly qualified ABDs may be considered for appointment at the instructor level. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2016 and remain open until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of interest, which includes your preferred substantive American politics and public policy focus, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy): <https://norwich.interviewexchange.com>

Norwich University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to providing a positive education and work environment that recognizes and respects the dignity of all students, faculty and staff. Reasonable accommodations will be made for the known disability of an otherwise qualified applicant. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at nuhr@norwich.edu for assistance.

All candidates must be authorized to work for any U.S. employer. A post offer, pre-employment background check will be required of the successful candidate.

Norwich University offers a comprehensive benefit package that includes medical, dental, vision, group life and long term disability insurance, flexible-spending accounts for health and dependent care, 403(b) retirement plan with employer match, employee assistance program, paid time off including parental leave, and tuition scholarships for eligible employees and their family members.

Norwich University is a diversified academic institution that educates residential students - both military and civilian lifestyles - and working adults across the globe. Norwich offers a broad selection of traditional and distance-learning programs culminating in baccalaureate and master's degrees, and graduate certificates. Founded in 1819 by U.S. Army Capt. Alden Partridge, Norwich is the oldest private military college in the country and the birthplace of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC).

Norwich University takes positive action to insure that all applicants for employment are considered, and employees are treated in compliance with applicable laws and regulations governing non-discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, color, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, genetic information or veteran's status. As an institution of higher education, Norwich is dedicated to learning, emphasizing teamwork, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking and encourages applications from qualified individuals who will help us achieve this guiding value.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2124

Oakland University
Rank: Assistant Professor

Oakland University
 Public Administration Search 2016-2017

The Department of Political Science at Oakland University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Administration. The position is full-time at the rank of Assistant Professor and begins August 15, 2017. We seek a candidate specializing in nonprofit management and also capable of teaching basic quantitative methods and/or information systems management. More broadly, we seek a promising scholar capable of making a significant research and teaching contribution to our MPA core curriculum, which also includes courses in PA theory, HRM, Budgeting, and Evaluation.

Our MPA (estab.1979) is the second-oldest NASPAA-accredited program in Michigan, with concentrations in Health Care, Local Government, Criminal Justice, Nonprofit Management, and Court Administration. The MPA program has just launched a nonprofit management certificate program and is working toward becoming a metropolitan, community-engaged hub for public service education & training. Oakland University operates on a semester system, and the standard teaching load is five courses per academic year.

Candidates with their Ph.D. in hand are preferred, but candidates who are ABD will also be considered, provided that they can demonstrate they are near completion of the dissertation. Preference will be given to candidates with prior college or university teaching experience and those who have demonstrated scholarly activity.

Electronic submission of the application is required and must include a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (unofficial copy acceptable), a writing sample, and copies of teaching evaluations and course syllabi (if available). Three letters of recommendation are also required. The online submission system will automatically generate links for designated references to complete this step.

The Department, housed in the College of Arts and Sciences, offers undergraduate degree programs in Political Science (B.A.), International Relations (B.A.), and Public Administration and Public Policy (B.S.). The Department also conducts applied research for public and nonprofit agencies through the Public Affairs Research Laboratory. Oakland University is a state-assisted, Carnegie I research institution offering baccalaureate, masters, and doctoral degree programs to over 20,000 students. The 1400-acre campus is located in Rochester, Michigan a suburban community 26 miles north of Detroit. The University hosts a residential theater company, maintains an art gallery and historic mansion, and provides an outdoor venue for summer musical events. It is convenient to many social, cultural, and recreational activities in the metropolitan Detroit area. For more information about the department, College of Arts and Sciences, and Oakland University, visit our website at www.oakland.edu. Information about the MPA Program can be found at <https://wwwwp.oakland.edu/polsci/master-of-public-administration/mpa/>.

Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications should be submitted electronically via website: <http://jobs.oakland.edu/postings/8923>. Please address questions to Dr. J.P. (Pat) Piskulich, MPA Director and Search Chair, via email: ppiskuli@oakland.edu. Oakland University is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/20/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2080

University of South Dakota
Rank: Adjunct Instructor

The University of South Dakota seeks an Instructor for an online Graduate Course in Public Budgeting and Fiscal Management which analyzes governmental financial administration, including budget preparation and execution, and the management of debt and public expenditures. A Ph.D. with specialization in public budgeting and/or financial management is preferred. Will consider Masters-level candidates with experience in public budgeting, public financial management, and/or public accounting. Candidates must provide a CV, teaching evaluations, three letters of recommendation, a transcript of relevant course work, and copies of any syllabi relevant to this graduate-level budgeting and fiscal management course. Please send all materials re Position No. 0008149 to: William D. Richardson, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of South Dakota, 414 E. Clark Street, Vermillion, SD 57069. Inquiries may be directed to William.-Richardson@usd.edu

Start Date: Spring 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/17/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2066

York College of Pennsylvania
Rank: Research/Teaching Fellowship, Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Methodology
Specializations: Urban Politics, State Politics, Economic Policy

Research/Teaching Fellowship, Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy, York College

York College of Pennsylvania invites applications for the inaugural Fellow for its Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy.

A joint program of York College's Center for Community Engagement (CCE) and its Department of History and Political Science, the Institute for Public Policy will engage the Fellow and our students in the policymaking process by providing nonpartisan research to legislators at the City, County, and State levels of government. The Fellow will conduct research and work with advanced students to identify and define problems in the greater York community, develop policy approaches to solve those problems, and aim to achieve adoption and successful implementation of specific policy proposals via the Pennsylvania General Assembly and municipal jurisdictions in the South Central Pennsylvania region.

The appointee will hold the title of Fellow in the Center for Community Engagement and the rank of Visiting Instructor in the Department of History and Political Science. The fellowship will generally carry a two-year appointment, though in appropriate cases that time frame might be lengthened or shortened to accommodate a specific project. Among the duties of the fellow will be:

- Completing an appropriate research project or projects likely to be of interest to local residents, legislators, and civic/business leaders;
- Teaching one advanced course per semester;
- Delivering at least two public lectures for the local community;
- Disseminating the results of her/his research in appropriate scholarly and public venues;
- Collaborating with students and faculty in other appropriate York College programs such as the Center for Professional Excellence, the Graham and Eisenhart Scholars, and other CCE programming.

Funding will be provided for travel, speakers, and other appropriate initiatives of the Institute.

Requirements: The ideal candidate will hold a doctorate in a field directly related to public policy research (though ABD or MPP will be considered). The successful candidate will have a research agenda well-suited to studying local, regional, and state-level policy, and evidence of scholarly potential.

York College is committed to building a diverse college community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Interested candidates should electronically submit the following: a current curriculum vitae, letter of application, and names of three references to employment@ycp.edu. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016. While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, for full consideration, applications should be received by October 31, 2016.

York College of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. For a copy of York College's Annual Security Report, you may contact the Office of Campus Safety or visit the College's website and search for Annual Security Report.

About York College and the Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

York College of Pennsylvania (<http://www.ycp.edu>) is a private-sector, independent institution of higher education, offering over 50 baccalaureate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing. The College has an enrollment of over 4000 full time, over 500 part time undergraduate students and over 200 graduate students from 30 states and 12 foreign countries. The campus is located in South-Central Pennsylvania (50 miles north of Baltimore, MD, 30 miles south of Harrisburg, PA, and 90 miles north of Washington, DC) and offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits.

Though the Fellow will spend time on York College's main campus, the locus of the research and mentoring activities noted above would be housed in the CCE's headquarters in downtown York. The Institute for Public Policy is meant to be an objective, nonpartisan advocacy organization committed to the best practices in academic social science. The CCE hosts local government leaders, non-profit organizations, community groups, and other stakeholders, providing assistance in identifying and developing approaches to solving the community's most pressing problems. Under the guidance of the Fellow, the Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy will contribute to that mission through policy research.

The CCE's 20,000 square foot building at 59 East Market Street will open with Phase One mid-fall, 2016. Located across the street from the Yorktowne Hotel and adjacent to city, county, and state offices, the location is central to the downtown renaissance in Royal Square, the Arts District, and Central Market. This Center will be a hub for community education, meetings, and small conferences making it an ideal location for students and faculty engaged in policy research and analysis. This space will become a highly visible epicenter of policy activity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2042

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, South Asia

WINTHROP UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Sciences

Rock Hill, South Carolina 29733

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Open Field

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position. The department welcomes applications in all subfields; however, we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: Comparative Politics (Middle East, Asia), Public Administration, Public Law, and/or American Institutions. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. Considered one of the strongest departments in the University, the Winthrop Political Science department boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching and research alike. The department is also home to a long-standing Model UN program, which just celebrated its 40th anniversary; the Social & Behavioral Research Laboratory, which is home to the renowned Winthrop Poll; and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in Political Science. Our areas of need include: Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, Politics of Asia, Public Administration, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Congress, The Presidency, Public Policy, Women and US Politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience and/or expertise in Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, and/or Politics of Asia
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science

- Ability to teach research methods or experience in public opinion polling a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement
- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring.
- Specialization in areas among those listed above.
- Evidence of excellence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning.
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication.
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above.

Employment Conditions: A 9-month full-time tenure-track appointment with option of summer employment if funds are available. Salary is dependent upon qualifications. Pending final budgetary approval.

Position Availability: August 16, 2017

Application Deadline: Friday, November 11, 2016. Application materials received after the deadline date may be considered if an acceptable candidate has not been found.

Application Procedures:

1. Applications should consist of:
 - letter of application, including a statement of "teaching philosophy,"
 - curriculum vitae,
 - sample of representative written work (article- or chapter-length),
 - evidence of excellence and commitment to student learning,
 - three professional letters of reference,
 - all graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment).
2. If you are attending the Annual Meeting of The American Political Science Association (APSA) in Philadelphia from September 1-4, please email Department Chair Dr. Jennifer Leigh Disney (disneyj@winthrop.edu) to schedule a meeting at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service.

3. Applications may be submitted electronically to the following address:

PLSCJobs@winthrop.edu
 Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science
 346 Bancroft Hall
 Winthrop University

Rock Hill, SC 29733
 (803) 323-2209

Winthrop University is a public, comprehensive university located in Rock Hill, SC, 30 minutes south of Charlotte, NC, that is among the very best institutions of our kind in the nation. Through an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement, Winthrop University helps students develop the knowledge, skills, and values that will enrich their lives forever and prepare them for all that the future holds. Winthrop University has 5,000 undergraduate students and 1,000 graduate students. We have a diverse student population, which is 69% women and 36% students of color, and we have a 14 to 1 student/faculty ratio. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 8/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1917

Texas Tech University

Rank: Director, Master of Public Administration Program

The Master of Public Administration Program in the Department of Political Science at Texas Tech University seeks a candidate for the position of Director, Master of Public Administration Program with an appointment at the level of Associate/Full Professor. The Department would like the start date for this position to be January 1, 2017 but a start date of August 1, 2017 is also acceptable.

The successful candidate's field of specialization is open but the Department has needs in the areas of public management, human resource management, administrative leadership, ethics, and information technology. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. degree in an appropriate subfield of Public Administration and should possess substantial administrative experience managing a Master of Public Administration program, including advising, scheduling, and managing such things as admissions, degree plans, and recruitment. This position comes with a reduced teaching load. Finally, the successful candidate should have a substantial record of scholarly success including securing outside funds to support his/her research program. The salary for this position is competitive and includes a generous benefits package.

The Department of Political Science has 22 faculty members, offers the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees in addition to the MPA and is home to one of the four-campus USGS-funded South Central Climate Science Center (one of 6 in the continental U.S.) and the Earl Survey Research Laboratory and works closely with other research institutes on campus as the National Wind Institute and the Department of Public Health in the TTU Health Sciences Center. The MPA program at Texas Tech University is NASPAA accredited, and faculty in the Department receive substantial financial resources for research support and conference travel. Texas Tech University is Tier One Carnegie Research Institution, has over 35,000 students who select from undergraduate and graduate programs that include Medicine, Law, Engineering, Media and Communications, and Agricultural Sciences. Lubbock is a growing city of nearly 250,000 and is the commercial, medical, financial and cultural hub of the South Plains.

Review of Applications will begin on September 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications should include a cover letter addressing the candidate's qualifications, a CV, and a list of contact information for five references. These items should be submitted at <http://www.texas-tech.edu/careers/>. The requisition number is 7932BR .

As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and /or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, protected veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1725

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Public Management

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in Public Management (2 positions)

About University at Albany:

Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,300 students in eight schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:

The Department of Public Administration & Policy in the University at Albany's Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy invites applications for 2 full-time, tenure-track Public Management positions at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor beginning fall 2017. Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. Faculty in Rockefeller College are expected to pursue an active research program, teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students, and engage in service activities.

We welcome applications from candidates engaged in high-quality public management research and who employ a variety of methodological approaches. Candidates conducting research on collaboration, contracting, organizational behavior and theory, performance management, or strategic management are especially encouraged to apply.

Requirements:

Minimum Qualifications:

- Applicants must have a PhD from a college or university accredited by the US Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization by September 1, 2017.
- Senior applicants must have a well-established research program
- Junior applicants must have a trajectory that suggests a tenurable research record is likely
- Applicants must be able to teach core public administration and management graduate and undergraduate courses.
- Applicants must be willing and able to mentor graduate and undergraduate students.
- Applicants must possess excellent communication skills, including the ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing.
- Applicants must address in their application their ability to work with culturally diverse populations.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Doctorate from a college or university accredited by the US Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization in Public Administration, Public Management, Public Affairs, or an allied field such as Sociology and Psychology is preferred
- Experience obtaining grants is a plus.

Additional Information:

About Rockefeller College and the University at Albany:

Rockefeller College is home to a diverse group of scholars interested in teaching and research on issues of importance in the public and nonprofit sectors. Ranked 19th overall by US News and World Report, the Department of Public Administration and Policy offers an undergraduate major, a Master's in Public Administration (MPA), and a PhD in Public Administration and Policy. The Department is nationally ranked in information technology management, public management, public policy analysis, non-profit management, and public finance and budgeting. We actively seek and support demographic diversity in our faculty and student body. To learn more about the Department visit our website at <http://www.albany.edu/rockefeller/homepage/>.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=74071>

A review of applications will start on October 1, 2016 and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1694

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level to begin August 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a research and teaching specialization in any area of public administration or public policy. A completed Ph.D. is required prior to appointment.

Teaching responsibilities include graduate courses in the candidate's area of expertise in the Department's NASPAA accredited master's degree program in public administration as well as undergraduate political science courses. Opportunities exist to teach doctoral courses. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate degree in political science and a master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu and upload a cover letter identifying teaching areas, teaching philosophy and research agenda, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), one writing sample, and a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

PA & Policy Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/1/2016
Date Posted: 7/29/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1686

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The position is open to candidates specializing in public policy, public administration, or a related field, with a particular focus on the politics of health policy. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship.

Rowan University is a comprehensive state-designated research institution with approximately 15,000 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20-miles southeast of Philadelphia and it has a branch campus and medical school in Camden and a second medical school in nearby Stratford. The University boasts seven colleges—Rohrer College of Business and colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Engineering, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2017. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 20, 2016. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://rowanuniversity.hodesiq.com/jobs/assistant-professor-of-political-science-aft-glassboro-new-jersey-job-5301829>. Rowan will have representatives at the APSA annual meeting in Philadelphia. Please email Lawrence Markowitz to request a meeting at markowizl@rowan.edu.

Submit a cover letter, a C.V., unofficial transcripts, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment. Candidates must demonstrate authorization to work in the United States. All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/20/2016
Date Posted: 7/15/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1625

Bridgewater State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

The Political Science Department invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall semester 2017 at the level of assistant professor. The successful applicant will be a broadly trained political scientist with a primary field of comparative politics. The candidate will be expected to develop courses in comparative public administration, comparative public policy and political economy. An ability to teach introduction to American government would be an asset. Earned Ph.D., commitment to teaching excellence, and evidence of scholarly activity in the field of political science, public administration, or public policy are required.

Applicants should be strongly committed to excellence in teaching and advising, and to working in a multicultural environment that fosters diversity. They should also have an ability to use technology effectively in teaching and learning, the ability to work collaboratively, evidence of scholarly activity, and a commitment to public higher education. Candidates with quantitative and/or qualitative methodological skills preferred. Interested applicants should apply online at the following url:

https://jobs.bridgew.edu/postings/search?&query=&query_v0_posted_at_date=&query_position_type_id=&435=&query_organizational_tier_3_id=any&1426=3&commit=Search

Review of applications will begin October 17.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1567

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Urban Politics, Economic Policy, Health Care

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in public policy to begin August 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a research and teaching specialization in any of the following areas of public policy: health policy, social policy, economic development, community development, sustainable development, intergovernmental relations, state and local government, and/or urban policy. Expertise in these areas is expected to be in the context of the United States. Candidates also must possess the capacity to contribute to departmental efforts to increase community outreach and engagement with government officials and practitioners in the greater Montgomery area. A completed Ph.D. is required prior to appointment.

Teaching responsibilities normally include undergraduate courses offered to political science majors and graduate courses in the candidate's area of expertise in the Department's NASPAA accredited master's degree program in public administration. Opportunities exist to teach doctoral courses. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate degree in political science and a master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu and upload a cover letter identifying teaching areas, teaching philosophy and research agenda, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), one writing sample, and a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

Public Policy Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2016

Date Posted: 6/16/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1549

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Part-Time Instructor(s)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Middle Georgia State University has part-time employment opportunities for instructors for face-to-face classes on all campuses (Macon, Warner Robins, Cochran, Dublin, and Eastman) for day, evening, and weekend classes to start Fall 2016 or later in the fields of history and political science. We have particular needs for instructors who are interested in teaching one or more of the following courses:

POLS 1101 American Government
POLS 2501 Domestic Issues
POLS 2601 Intro to Public Administration

The Macon campus is located just over one hour's drive southeast of Atlanta.

Minimum Qualifications: To qualify for a teaching position, candidates are required to have a minimum of a master's degree in political science or a master's in another field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in the discipline.

To Apply: Interested candidates should submit a letter of interest with a current CV or resume, unofficial transcripts from both undergraduate and graduate courses, a list of at least two professional references including email and phone contact information, and statement of teaching philosophy, preferably combined as an attachment in a single PDF file, to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, assistant department chair, at christopher.lawrence@mga.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Informal inquiries welcome.

Middle Georgia State University is a Unit of the University System of Georgia, EEO/AA/M/F/V/D.

Start Date: Fall 2016

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/5/2016

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 1170

PUBLIC LAWEastern Kentucky University*Rank: Paralegal and Public Law*Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Government and Economics at Eastern Kentucky University seeks applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the Paralegal and Political Science programs at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning August 15, 2017. Teaching responsibilities will include introductory and advanced courses in a variety of areas of law in the Paralegal, Legal Studies, and/or Political Science Programs. Teaching duties will include both on-campus and online responsibilities. Previous experience supervising paralegals or working as a paralegal under the supervision of a licensed attorney is required. Previous teaching experience at the post-secondary level, along with prior legal practice or teaching in the areas of Constitutional Law and/or Civil Liberties is preferred. Candidates must either hold a J.D. degree, be licensed to practice law, and eligible for admission to the Kentucky Bar Association or hold a Ph.D. in the areas of Political Science, Public law, or a related field. (ABD Candidates considered if completing degree within one year.) The candidate's undergraduate and graduate degrees must be from an ABA accredited law school.

Review of applications will begin on November 17, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Qualified candidates must apply to requisition number 0619887 at <http://jobs.eku.edu>.

Eastern Kentucky University is an EEO/AA institution that values diversity in its faculty, staff and student body. In keeping with this commitment, the University welcomes applications from diverse candidates and candidates who support diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2017Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/26/2016Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 2290University of Texas at Dallas*Rank: Law & Courts/Judicial Behavior

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at the University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, open rank tenure-track position beginning in August of 2017 in the Political Science Program. UTD is a fast-growing, suburban research university with undergraduate, Master's, and PhD programs in Political Science. We currently have approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 24th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity." Faculty typically teach two courses per semester, and opportunities for sabbatical become available after a successful third-year review.

Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and teaching excellence. Scholarly topics of interest include law and courts or judicial politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach constitutional law, as well as more specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses. Areas of focus might include, but are not limited to, the following: judicial behavior, comparative courts, international courts, law and society, and cyber law and security. The ability to teach graduate level statistics or research design is also desirable. PhD by time of employment is expected.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through January 15, 2017. Position starts in August 2017. If you have questions, please contact Dr. Banks Miller (millerbp@utdallas.edu) To apply, go here: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/6859>

Start Date: Fall 2017Application Deadline: 1/15/2017Date Posted: 10/26/2016Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 2293Schreiner University*Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Schreiner University welcomes applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a tenure-track faculty position beginning August 2017. The successful candidate will teach the basic introduction to American Politics course and a variety of courses in American politics (e.g. Presidency, Congress, Legislative Process, Public Policy, Public Administration, Media and Politics, Judicial process, etc.). Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience in working with pre-law majors. The successful candidate will also have an active research agenda (area of specialization is open). Responsibilities include teaching, advising, and participation in curricular development and assessment. The successful candidate will be expected to participate fully in departmental duties, committee service, campus activities, and engage in scholarship and/or creative activities aligned with institutional goals. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester.

Qualifications: An earned doctorate in political science, ABD with completion no later than August 2017. Teaching experience at the collegiate level is preferred.

Schreiner University is a small liberal arts college in the Texas Hill Country (approximately 1 hour from San Antonio and 2 hours from Austin). Schreiner University is a Hispanic-serving institution, an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is strongly and actively committed to diversity within its community.

The employment application can be found at the link below. Candidates should include in their application a cover letter, CV, list of three references, and course evaluations if available.

<http://www.schreiner.edu/about/hr/application/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2017Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/21/2016Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 2278

Merrimack College

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Government/American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Assistant Professor, American Government/American Politics

Merrimack College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The successful applicant will teach introductory American Politics courses and courses for our pre-law minor including American Constitutional Law and Civil Liberties and Civil Rights. Candidates who can teach courses in Political Theory will receive special consideration. The full teaching load is 3-3. A demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, and service is essential. All specialized subfields within American Politics/American Government will be considered. Successful candidates will have the opportunity to develop and teach courses in the Master of Public Affairs Program. Ph.D. is required by time of appointment.

Merrimack College is a selective Catholic college in the Augustinian tradition, offering programs in the liberal arts, business, the sciences, and engineering for its 3000+ students. The college is located in the Merrimack Valley, approximately 25 miles north of Boston in North Andover, Massachusetts.

Complete applications should include a letter of interest, CV, sample of scholarship, teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation. A digital copy of the application materials should be sent to hrjobs@merrimack.edu. Review of applications will begin on November 15th, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled.

Merrimack College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2220

Princeton University

Rank: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professor for Distinguished Teaching

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, Public Policy

The University Center for Human Values invites nominations and applications for the Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professorship for Distinguished Teaching. We aim to make individual appointments for the following: Spring 2018, Spring 2019, Spring 2020, 2018-19 and 2019-20.

These visiting professorships were established as part of Princeton's 250th Anniversary teaching initiatives, enabling the University Center to bring to campus excellent undergraduate teachers and scholars whose teaching and research explicitly examine values in public and private life. Candidates in all fields are eligible but special consideration for Spring 2018 applications will be given to scholars who have a demonstrated expertise in teaching related to environmental ethics and political theory and for Spring 2019 and Spring 2020 to scholars who have a demonstrated expertise in teaching related to service and civic engagement, human rights or ethics and public policy. Recent holders of these positions have been appointed at their home institutions in Comparative Literature, History, Politics, Philosophy, Psychology and Sociology. Ten-month positions bring a full salary. Five-month positions (half of a ten-month faculty position) bring a commensurate proportion of salary.

Since the successful candidates must demonstrate an established record of teaching excellence, applicants should normally hold a tenured position in their home institution. The professorship is not intended for early-career faculty and we do not generally consider applicants who have taught less than five years.

Candidates who have received teaching awards will be given especially serious consideration, but receipt of such awards is not a necessary condition for selection if there is other evidence of outstanding teaching. We are keen to consider applicants who have been innovative in the classroom through their use of technology, although again this is not a necessary condition for selection. International applicants with a demonstrable record of distinguished teaching are encouraged to apply.

Visiting professors normally teach one undergraduate course, organize at least one event focused on pedagogy, and participate in seminars, colloquia, and other activities of the University Center for Human Values. They also enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities throughout the University.

The appointment committee will consider applicants on the basis of:

- The quality of their teaching and relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values;
- The quality of their previous and proposed research and their ability to benefit from and contribute to the activities of the University Center for Human Values;
- The contribution they are likely to make to higher education in the future through teaching and writing about ethics and human values.

Nominations

The University Center encourages department chairs, deans, colleagues, and students to nominate candidates for consideration. Nomination letters should describe the nominee's teaching and scholarly interests and characterize the evidence as to quality of the nominee's record of teaching and scholarship. The nominee's c.v. should be included. The selection committee may invite nominees to provide further information if required. It would be helpful to us to receive the nomination by Friday November 18, 2016. Nomination letters may be sent by email to mkilleen@princeton.edu

Applications

Interested applicants should apply online at www.princeton.edu/jobs. (The requisition number is 1600851). The following materials will be required. The application deadline is Friday, November 18, 2016:

1. A cover letter describing the applicant's interest in affiliation with the University Center and indicating the academic year in which the applicant seeks appointment;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. A statement of the applicant's teaching record in the last five-to-ten years listing courses offered and describing the evidence of distinguished teaching (e.g., teaching awards received and/or a summary of institutional teaching assessments);
4. A scholarly paper or book chapter accepted for publication within the last five years, ideally not exceeding 12,000 words;

5. A brief prospectus of research to be undertaken at Princeton;
6. The names and contact information of three referees, at least one of whom should be able to comment knowledgeably on the applicant's teaching record (in the event that their views are sought, referees will be contacted by the search committee).

The selection committee may request further information, such as institutional documentation of the teaching record, at a later stage.

We anticipate concluding the selection process by June 2017, for the appointments tenable in spring 2018 and the 2018-2019 academic year.

For more information about the University Center for Human Values, please visit our web site: uchv.princeton.edu

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/18/2016

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2180

Roanoke College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for an Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice beginning in August 2017. The position is tenure-track with a teaching load of three courses per semester.

Candidates should possess a Ph.D. in a relevant field (ABD will also be considered) and show promise of being an excellent teacher.

Teaching responsibilities will include major courses such as Introduction to Criminal Justice, Judicial Process, and Research Methods. In addition, all faculty members contribute courses to our Intellectual Inquiry general education program.

Roanoke College is a nationally ranked residential liberal arts college of 2000 students affiliated with the Lutheran Church (ELCA), located in the beautiful Roanoke Valley of Virginia. A Phi Beta Kappa institution, the College emphasizes strong teaching and close student-faculty interactions. The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research.

Candidates should submit electronic applications including cover letter, vita, three letters of reference, examples of published research or work in progress, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to pinckney@roanoke.edu. Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Review of applications will begin on December 1 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2174

University of Toronto at Scarborough

Rank: Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto Scarborough invites applications for a full-time, tenure stream appointment in Public Law. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor and will commence July 1, 2017.

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science by the date of appointment or shortly thereafter. Candidates must demonstrate a record of excellence in research in Public Law, the ability to mount an independently funded innovative program of research, and demonstrated excellence as an undergraduate teacher, as well as an emerging record for excellence as a graduate teacher and supervisor.

The successful candidate will be expected to conduct innovative research at the highest international level and establish an outstanding, externally funded research program. She/he will have an established or emerging record of scholarly accomplishment including publications in leading academic journals and/or with leading academic presses, or will provide evidence of excellence in research as demonstrated in presentations at significant conferences, awards for work in the field and strong endorsements by referees of high international standing. Excellence in teaching can be demonstrated by strong endorsements from referees, teaching accomplishments highlighted as part of the application, teaching evaluations, and the teaching dossier submitted as part of the application.

The successful candidate will teach in the undergraduate program at the University of Toronto Scarborough, and will also be a member of the tri-campus Graduate Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto. He/she will be expected to contribute to the undergraduate public law program at the University of Toronto Scarborough. This program includes required courses on the Canadian judiciary and Canadian constitution, and elective courses on comparative legal systems, international law, and law and public policy. Besides teaching required and optional courses in the undergraduate public law program, the successful candidate will also be expected to teach graduate courses and supervise graduate students in his/her areas of research expertise. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Toronto Scarborough is a research-intensive institution with an interdisciplinary commitment, a multicultural student body, and a modern campus. The University offers the opportunity to conduct research, teach and live in one of the most diverse cities in the world. The University also offers opportunities to work in a range of collaborative programs and centers of research.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking <https://utoronto.taleo.net/careersection/10050/jobdetail.fl>

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample and teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and concise descriptions of current research activity and graduate student supervision experience and future research plans. Three letters of reference should be sent directly by the referee (on letterhead, signed and scanned) to the attention of Professor Grace Skogstad, Chair, at polppsearch@utsc.utoronto.ca

All application materials should be submitted online. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. We recommend combining attached documents into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format.

The closing date for applications is November 30, 2016.

If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Grace Skogstad at polppsearch@utsc.utoronto.ca. For more information about the Department of Political Science, University of Toronto Scarborough, please visit: <http://www.utsoc.utoronto.ca/~polisci/>. For information about the graduate department of Political Science at the University of Toronto please visit: <http://politics.utoronto.ca/>.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2131

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Garwood Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointment as Garwood Teaching Fellow for the academic year running from September 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018. The Garwood Teaching Fellowship can be for one semester or the academic year. Garwood

Fellows teach at least one undergraduate course on statesmanship and presidential leadership in Princeton University's Department of Politics, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Depending on the needs of the University, additional teaching opportunities may be available, again subject to enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

James Madison Program Fellows will spend their Fellowship in residence at Princeton University. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University, and are encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply:

For full consideration, applicants are required to submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. To apply for a Visiting Fellow position please go to requisition 1600685.

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a course proposal and draft syllabus;
- * contact information for two references;
- * a confidential statement that indicates the applicant's salary for the current academic year, what financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide, and what support they are likely to need from the Program.

The deadline for application materials is 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2016 for appointments beginning in September 2017. Awards will be announced in March 2017.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D., Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu / Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1846

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Political Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the year from September 1, 2017 to September 1, 2018 with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on good performance. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence at Princeton University for the duration of the appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates must have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education in the future. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply:

For full consideration, applicants should submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu> by December 1, 2016; however, applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2017. To apply for a Postdoctoral Research Associate position, please go to requisition #1600687.

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.
Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu
Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1847

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics--Public Law

POSITION: Assistant Professor of American Politics—Public Law

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 21, 2017 (Fall Semester)

SALARY RANGE: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Political Science or in appropriate related discipline. Degree at time of application, or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2017. Specialization in Public Law, Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, or Law & Society. Teaching experience or evidence of strong potential for effective teaching. Demonstrated potential for successful research and publication. Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Specialization in one or more of the following: American law and courts, legal mobilization, rights advocacy and discourse, judicial process, or judicial behavior. Candidates with Juris Doctorate degrees in addition to the Ph.D. are encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates who are able to connect their specific areas of interest with broader questions within political science, such as the impact of economic, racial, ethnic, and gender inequality on democratic governance; the capacity of the American political system to deal effectively with economic and environmental challenges; or the relationship between American civil liberties and philosophies of social justice.

DUTIES: Teach courses in American politics at the undergraduate and graduate levels, which may include: Introduction to American Government; How Democratic is the U.S.?; Constitutional Law; Law and Social Change; Jurisprudence; Senior Seminar in Law, Politics, and Policy; Scope and Methods of Political Science; and Graduate Seminar in Public Law. Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication. Participate in service to the department, college, university and community. Advise students, serve as a member of Master's thesis and comprehensive exam committees.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION:

- A Student Success Statement about teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page)
- Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications and duties
- CV (including current email address)
- Three current signed academic letters of recommendation
- Writing sample

- Teaching evaluations
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
- Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form and an official transcript.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Applications and required documentation should be submitted through AcademicJobsOnline.com (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7652>; position #7652). Application materials will not be accepted via post or e-mail.

Requests for information should be addressed to:
Teresa Wright, Chair
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications to begin October 10, 2016

Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identification, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, political affiliation, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 1921

University of the Incarnate Word

Rank: Assistant Professor in Government and International Relations

Assistant Professor in Government and International Relations (tenure-track, 4-4 load) beginning August 2017.

The successful candidate will have the ability to teach upper division courses in American government, judicial politics and/or public law and a wide range of lower division courses within the field. A strong commitment to undergraduate education is essential.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in American Politics (ABDs considered) with a specialization in judicial politics or public law by July 2017.

The successful candidate will have at least one year of demonstrated university-level teaching experience in the discipline.

Official duties and responsibilities of faculty members at the University of the Incarnate Word include teaching, scholarship, service, and professional activities. In all matters, faculty are expected to maintain the highest standards of professional ethics consistent with the UIW mission.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1920

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, South Asia

WINTHROP UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Sciences

Rock Hill, South Carolina 29733

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Open Field

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position. The department welcomes applications in all subfields; however, we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: Comparative Politics (Middle East, Asia), Public Administration, Public Law, and/or American Institutions. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. Considered one of the strongest departments in the University, the Winthrop Political Science department boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching and research alike. The department is also home to a long-standing Model UN program, which just celebrated its 40th anniversary; the Social & Behavioral Research Laboratory, which is home to the renowned Winthrop Poll; and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in Political Science. Our areas of need include: Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, Politics of Asia, Public Administration, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Congress, The Presidency, Public Policy, Women and US Politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience and/or expertise in Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, and/or Politics of Asia
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to teach research methods or experience in public opinion polling a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement

- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring.
- Specialization in areas among those listed above.
- Evidence of excellence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning.
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication.
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above.

Employment Conditions: A 9-month full-time tenure-track appointment with option of summer employment if funds are available. Salary is dependent upon qualifications. Pending final budgetary approval.

Position Availability: August 16, 2017

Application Deadline: Friday, November 11, 2016. Application materials received after the deadline date may be considered if an acceptable candidate has not been found.

Application Procedures:

1. Applications should consist of:
 - letter of application, including a statement of “teaching philosophy,”
 - curriculum vitae,
 - sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length),
 - evidence of excellence and commitment to student learning,
 - three professional letters of reference,
 - all graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment).
2. If you are attending the Annual Meeting of The American Political Science Association (APSA) in Philadelphia from September 1-4, please email Department Chair Dr. Jennifer Leigh Disney (disneyj@winthrop.edu) to schedule a meeting at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service.
3. Applications may be submitted electronically to the following address:

PLSCJobs@winthrop.edu
 Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science
 346 Bancroft Hall
 Winthrop University
 Rock Hill, SC 29733
 (803) 323-2209

Winthrop University is a public, comprehensive university located in Rock Hill, SC, 30 minutes south of Charlotte, NC, that is among the very best institutions of our kind in the nation. Through an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement, Winthrop University helps students develop the knowledge, skills, and values that will enrich their lives forever and prepare them for all that the future holds. Winthrop University has 5,000 undergraduate students and 1,000 graduate students. We have a diverse student population, which is 69% women and 36% students of color, and we have a 14 to 1 student/faculty ratio. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 8/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1917

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Law and/or Judicial Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

Political Science: Assistant Professor in the area of public law and/or judicial politics for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor. The position will begin in the 2017-2018 academic year. Searching for a colleague with teaching and research expertise in American politics, constitutional law, civil rights and liberties, and an area of specialty, who will advise students as part of the college-wide pre-law program, and who will develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; contribute to the undergraduate and MA program. The successful candidate will teach an introductory course in American politics and public law/judicial politics as well as other courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels in the area of expertise. Required: PhD by date of appointment in Political Science or a related field.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=3214>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University is committed to equal opportunity, affirmative action, and eliminating discrimination and harassment. Miami University does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, military status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or protected veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, programs or employment practices. Requests for all reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

Miami University's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report with information on campus crime, fires, and safety may be found at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>. Hard copy available upon request. A criminal background check is required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free campuses.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1879

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory/Law

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in Political Theory and/or Law at the rank of assistant professor. The position requires outstanding research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and, if available, evidence of excellence in teaching. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/36690> To guarantee full consideration, all materials should be uploaded and available for review by September 7, 2016. Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1793

Morehouse College

Rank: Assistant Professor -- Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Morehouse College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates should be trained in the area of American national government, with a specialization in public law, and should be prepared to teach courses in constitutional law, race and law, and civil liberties.

Responsibilities include teaching courses (a 2-2 load), advising, and mentoring students; executing administrative duties related to the pre-law program; developing and maintaining a scholarly research and publication agenda; and service to the department and the College. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources. The start date for the position is August 2017, and possibly January 2017 if a suitable candidate is identified and appointed. Minimum qualifications include a PhD in political science; commitment to excellence in teaching; evidence of a productive research program; and service to the profession and community.

A successful application will consist of the following: a letter of application providing detail on how the candidate meets the qualifications for the position and why they are a good fit for Morehouse College in particular (no more than 2 pages); a current curriculum vitae (no more than 4 pages); a statement of teaching philosophy (no more than 2 pages); research/scholarship agenda (no more than 2 pages); three confidential letters of recommendation. Candidates also have the option of sharing the following: sample syllabi (no more than 2 courses); samples of research (no more than 2 samples); teaching evaluations or summaries of evaluations (no more than 2 courses, but if submitted, only submit full class evaluations and not samples of class evaluations)

All application materials must be submitted online: <https://apply.interfolio.com/36489>

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until September 30th. We will be interviewing at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Service on Friday, September 2nd and Saturday, September 3rd. Applicants who wish to be considered for an APSA interview should send a cover letter and CV, by August 22nd, to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Andrew Douglas (andrew.douglas@morehouse.edu).

Morehouse College is an equal opportunity employer. No employee or applicant will be discriminated against in any condition of employment because of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, veteran status or any other status protected by law.

About Morehouse

Morehouse College is a private historically black liberal arts college for men whose mission is to develop men with disciplined minds to lead lives of leadership and service by emphasizing the intellectual and character development of its students and by assuming a special responsibility for teaching the history and culture of black people. Since the founding of the College in 1867, the faculty, staff, and leadership have worked to inspire, nurture, challenge, support, and engage students with the expressed intent of fomenting a very special kind of development.

Morehouse has a very proud tradition of having developed leaders, with the most notable of course being Martin Luther King, Jr. (class of 1948). Each era has defined the qualities of a Morehouse Man—an expression of the expectations we have of our graduates—a bit differently, but there are some enduring constants. Backed by nearly 150 years of history, we see our work as helping to shape men of acuity, integrity and agency; men who will commit to brotherhood, standing together with their peers to cheer, challenge and support each other; and men who will strive to lead consequential lives, to not just do well for themselves, but to do good in the world.

Our strong legacy is continued now as we claim a number of successes. Morehouse is the number one baccalaureate origin institution for black male doctorate recipients in science and engineering, life sciences, physical sciences, social sciences, education, and humanities over the decade ending 2012 according to the National Science Foundation. We are the top producer of underrepresented minority physics baccalaureates among non-PhD granting institutions over the three years ending in 2013 as measured by the American Physical Society. And the College just this year became the only non-majority college or university to have produced four Rhodes Scholars. Our graduates include not only men like King and Julian Bond, but Spike Lee,

David Satcher, Eddie Glaude, Jim Shelton, and many more operating in and out of academia in some way.

The College offers instructional programs in three divisions—business and economics, humanities and social sciences, and sciences and mathematics—as well as extracurricular and co-curricular activities that, combined with the academic program: foster the development of oral and written communication skills; foster appreciation of world cultures, artistic, creative expression and the nature of the physical universe; promote understanding of the specific skills needed to pursue professional careers and graduate study; and cultivate the personal attributes of self-confidence, tolerance, morality, ethical behavior, spirituality, humility, global perspective, and commitment to justice.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1757

CUNY, Hunter College

Rank: Tenure Track Position-Open Rank

The Hunter College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in either U.S. public law or American political behavior to begin in Fall 2017. The priority is to hire in public law but a second appointment in political behavior is possible. Appointments may be made at the rank of assistant, associate, or full professor. For public law, the department seeks a scholar with research and teaching interests in constitutional law, broadly understood. We also expect the successful candidate to share in the teaching of the department's historically-oriented introductory American government course. For political behavior, applications are welcomed from candidates focused on political participation broadly construed.

The department places a high value on both effective teaching and strong scholarship. Hunter College, located on Manhattan's Upper East Side, is a part of the City University of New York, and has a vibrant and exceptionally diverse student body. In addition to teaching undergraduates at Hunter, many department members are part of the CUNY Graduate Center faculty and participate in the doctoral program. A Ph.D. is required for appointment at a professorial rank; the department prefers completion of the degree by the start of the appointment. For appointment as associate professor, substantial publication and teaching experience are required; for appointment as full professor, evidence of an established professional reputation, a strong and sustained publication record, and substantial teaching experience are required. Salary is commensurate with rank and experience. Hunter College is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Please apply online by accessing the CUNY Portal on City University of New York job website <http://cuny.edu/employment.html> and navigating to Careers at CUNYfirst. Current users of the site should access their established accounts; new users should click on the appropriate link to register. Please send cover letter, CV, a writing sample, graduate school transcript, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please arrange to have three confidential reference letters mailed to: Chair, Public Law Search, Department of Political Science, Hunter College, CUNY, 695 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10065. Please direct queries via e-mail to polsci.search@hunter.cuny.edu. To assure full consideration, candidates should submit all application materials by 9/16/16. The department will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1665

PUBLIC POLICY

University College London

Rank: Lecturer in Quantitative Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Political Behavior, Economic Policy, International Political Economy

UCL Department of Political Science

School of Public Policy

Lecturer in Quantitative Political Science

The appointment will be full time on UCL Grade7/8. The salary range will be Grade 7: £37,936 - £41,163 per annum / Grade 8: £42,304 - £49,904 per annum, inclusive of London Allowance.

UCL wishes to appoint a lecturer to contribute to research and teaching within the Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy. The lecturer will undertake research of the highest international standards within his or her own specialist field, which will contribute to the research standing and culture of the Department.

The lecturer will be a core member of the UCL-IOE 'Q-Step Centre', one of 15 Centres established as part of a multi-million pound, innovative new programme designed to promote a step-change in quantitative social science training for undergraduates, funded by the Nuffield Foundation, the Economic and Social Research Council and the Higher Education Funding Council for England. The post-holder will provide teaching on the core quantitative research methods modules for the Centre, as well as teaching within the School's other programmes and supervise PhD students.

This appointment is available from the 1st September 2017.

Applications are welcome from any sub-field in political science, but we are particularly interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in the fields of methodology, political behaviour, security, international political economy, comparative politics, development and/or public policy. Candidates must have a PhD, (at the time of appointment) in political science or a public policy related area and a track record of publications in leading journals. Evidence of excellence in teaching and the ability to attract grant-funding is highly desired.

For further details about the vacancy and how to apply online please go to <http://www.ucl.ac.uk/hr/jobs/> and search on Reference Number 1595051.

Informal enquiries may be made to Professor David Coen (d.coen@ucl.ac.uk) or Dr Jennifer vanHeerde-Hudson (jennifer.hudson@ucl.ac.uk). If you have any queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel, Finance and Staffing Administrator to the Department of Political Science, School of Public Policy, (ajay.patel@ucl.ac.uk).

Closing Date: 6 December 2016.

Latest time for the submission of applications: 23:59.

Interview Date: Week commencing 16 January 2017.

UCL Taking Action for Equality.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2318

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, Innovation, Science, and Technology Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego invites applications for an Associate or Full Professor, Innovation, Science, and Technology Policy to begin July 1st, 2017.

Applicants should be PhD graduates with an outstanding record in a PhD program and an expertise in one of the following fields: engineering and public policy, environmental regulation, or technological change and innovation. Applicants must have a PhD conferred or completed by July 1st, 2017.

GPS has a special interest in candidates who can research and teach in science and technology policy with an international or comparative focus, including scholarship and teaching that pertains to one of the regional areas of the Pacific Rim, broadly defined to include Asia and Latin America. Additionally, GPS has an interest in engineers or scientists whose research is substantially concerned with public policy, such as policies related to innovation, environmental regulation or other important policy topics.

The successful candidate will have the ability to build a research and teaching program on technology and public policy at GPS and have demonstrated the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity and commitment to diversity. The successful candidate may also develop rich links to other UCSD units, notably the Jacobs School of Engineering.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service, and contribute to—and participate in—our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

Applications will be reviewed on December 1, 2016.

To apply:

Candidates should submit: curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; three (3) contacts for reference; and a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>).

All applicant materials should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01266>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 12/1/2016

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2316

University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Rank: Director, Public Policy Program

Director, Public Policy Program

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte invites applications from outstanding senior scholars to serve as Director of the Public Policy Program, an interdisciplinary Ph.D. granting program that draws upon faculty and resources from three colleges. The term of the position begins on July 1, 2017. The Program Director reports to the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the tenure home for the Director will be in a department in the College that is affiliated with the Public Policy Program.

Required qualifications include a Ph.D. in Public Policy or a closely related social science discipline and a record of distinction in public policy research, with credentials and experience appropriate for a tenured professorship at UNC Charlotte. We seek candidates with administrative or other related experience that has prepared them to serve as Director of a diverse and growing interdisciplinary Ph.D. granting program, and who have a commitment to promoting diversity and inclusion as values in the program and college. Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching and research.

We will give preference to candidates with experience working within an interdisciplinary environment, and who have experience in multiple facets of graduate education, including recruitment, curriculum development, mentoring, and placement. A track record of extramural funding is strongly desired. Preference will also be given to those with a record of active service to the discipline of public policy through its organizations and journals. We seek candidates who possess the vision and leadership to support a program targeted to expand its mission considerably, who will enhance the intellectual and interdisciplinary climate of the program, and build networks within the profession and with practitioners.

The position is open with respect to research specialty. The Public Policy Program has particular strengths in policy areas related to the urban environment including planning and development, governance, environmental, education, health, economic, crime, and social policy and provides all students rigorous training in quantitative analysis. The program is supported by over 30 core faculty drawn from departments and colleges throughout the university including Criminal Justice and Criminology, Economics, Geography and Earth Sciences, Philosophy, Political Science and Public Administration, Public Health, and Sociology. The program has a strong track record of placing its students in both academic and non-academic positions.

The Program Director will be responsible for coordinating and expanding the interdisciplinary program within the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, where it is housed, as well as coordinating with the Belk College of Business and the College of Health and Human Services. The Director is responsible for coordinating all aspects of graduate education in the Public Policy Program and represents the program within and across college, university, professional, and community networks.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is a doctoral, research-intensive university, located in one of the nation's fastest-growing metropolitan areas on an expanding modern campus. One of sixteen campuses in one of the oldest public university systems in the United States, UNC Charlotte offers over 28,000 culturally diverse students a wide range of undergraduate and graduate degree programs. Charlotte's metropolitan area is rich in cultural and racial diversity (over 40% Hispanic/Latino and African-American) and our faculty strives to reflect and interact positively with that population. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences houses 20 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, physical sciences, and military sciences, as well as 8 research centers and institutes and 13 interdisciplinary programs.

Applications must be submitted electronically at <https://jobs.uncc.edu> (use position number #004161) and the following documents should be attached: cover letter describing your qualifications and approach to leadership, teaching, and scholarship; CV; and names and contact information of three references. Applicants will be subject to a criminal background check.

AA/EOE employer. Minorities, women, and persons with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply. Screening of applications begins December 1st, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2325

Arizona State University

Rank: Assistant Professor Organizational Leadership (AV 11773)

Specializations: Research Methods, Leadership Studies, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior

The Leadership & Interdisciplinary Studies faculty in the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts on the Tempe Campus at Arizona State University invites applications for an Assistant Professor in Organizational Leadership with an expected appointment start date of August 2017. We are a vibrant community of twenty-nine faculty dedicated to excellent teaching, scholarship and service. We are student centered, collegial, innovative, dynamic and growing. We offer undergraduate degrees in organizational leadership, interdisciplinary studies, liberal studies and will be launching a master's degree program in organizational leadership in Fall 2017. Information about our faculty and degrees can be found at <https://cisa.asu.edu/faculties>.

The successful candidate will pursue a rigorous interdisciplinary line of research that aligns with ASU's mission of enhancing the university's community impact and social embeddedness. The candidate will also teach four undergraduate or graduate courses per academic year (two in the fall and two in the spring), develop new curriculum as needed, participate in university service, and engage in the intellectual life of a collaborative and multidisciplinary faculty. The Assistant Professor position is an academic-year, benefits-eligible, faculty appointment with tenure implications. Salary is competitive to commensurate with experience. Candidate must reside in Arizona, or be willing to relocate.

Background check required prior to employment. Official transcripts required prior to first day of employment.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

*Doctorate from a regionally accredited institution (or international equivalent) within any field with an interdisciplinary research focus on areas of organizational and/or leadership studies, such as (but not limited to) policy, communication, community development, group dynamics and/or behavior, international organizations, institutional change, labor, or organizational identity and/or culture (ABDs will be considered, but the doctorate must be completed prior to the first day of the appointment)

*Demonstrate a commitment to community engagement and use-inspired research consistent with the mission of Arizona State University

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS

* Record or promise of a research program addressing leadership within a wider interdisciplinary context with the potential to forge partnerships and seek external funding

* Experience in sponsored-research projects

* Experience teaching organizational leadership

* Experience teaching undergraduate and graduate students

* Experience teaching diverse student populations

* Experience teaching online (including experience with Blackboard or Canvas)

* Experience developing, refining and/or assessing curriculum

* Experience with faculty service

* Experience leading faculty

* Experience working in collaborative environments

Application Procedure:

To apply, visit <https://cisa.asu.edu/jobs> and upload your application as one combined .pdf document under job number 11773. Only electronic submissions will be reviewed. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Applications must contain:

1. A letter of application outlining your qualifications as related to the position
2. Curriculum vitae
3. One-page statement of teaching philosophy
4. One-page statement of research interests
5. Unofficial graduate transcripts
6. Contact information for three professional references (their position, title, e-mail, phone number)

The application deadline is 12/14/2016 at 5pm; and if not filled, then every Friday thereafter until the search is closed. A background check is required prior to employment. Direct all inquiries to Search Committee Chair, Denise Bates at denise.bates@asu.edu, for technical questions please contact cisajobs@asu.edu

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. (See ASU's complete non-discrimination statement at <https://asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html>; see ASU's Title IX policy at <https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>)

ASU offers applicants an opportunity to voluntarily self-disclose information for the University affirmative action plan; applicants may complete an EEO survey for the position they are applying for online. Information you will need to complete the survey: Job Number: 11773; Job Title: Assistant Professor, Organizational Leadership; Department Name: College of Integrative Sciences and Arts.

General Information:

Arizona State University is a comprehensive public research university recently named #1 in the United States for innovation, followed by #2 Stanford and #3 MIT. We measure our success not by whom we exclude, but rather by whom we include and how they succeed; advancing research and discovery of public value; and assuming fundamental responsibility for the economic, social, cultural and overall health of the communities we serve. The Faculty of Leadership & Interdisciplinary Studies is part of the College of Integrative Sciences and Arts (CISA), home to innovative teachers who are guided by educational access, student success, applied learning, and interdisciplinary inquiry. We understand there are many paths to achieving a university education, and we build undergraduate and graduate degree programs and pathways that are flexible and relevant for a rapidly changing world. The Phoenix metropolitan area offers sunshine year-round, a wide range of cultural activities, hiking, and professional athletic teams in every major sport. To learn more about ASU and CISA please visit: <http://about.asu.edu/> and <http://cisa.asu.edu>. P211370 HPC LS1318

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/14/2016

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2312

University of Michigan

Rank: JOAN AND SANFORD WEILL DEAN OF PUBLIC POLICY GERALD R. FORD SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY

The Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan is seeking applications and nominations for the Joan and Sanford Weill Dean of Public Policy. This position offers an extraordinary opportunity for a visionary leader with an established record of excellence in public policy to build on and expand the Ford School's engagement, impact, and visibility locally, nationally, and internationally. The Dean is the chief academic and executive officer of the School and reports directly to the Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs.

The Ford School is one of the nation's foremost policy schools, located within one of the world's great public research universities. Established in 1914 as the Institute of Public Administration and named in honor of President Gerald R. Ford in 1999, the Ford School has earned a global reputation for academic rigor and excellence; a strong and growing commitment to diversity; and a collegial, welcoming and stimulating interdisciplinary community. The Ford School offers ready access to the world-class intellectual, cultural, and social resources of the University of Michigan and its impressive alumni network. The School's faculty, staff, and students are passionately dedicated to conducting cutting-edge policy-relevant research; preparing future policy leaders and analysts for dynamic careers in the public and private sectors domestically and globally; working with policymakers to inform and improve local, state, national and international policies; and fostering dialogue and understanding about the most complex and pressing policy challenges and opportunities of today. With a current all-funds budget exceeding $20 million and 50 teaching faculty, of whom 31 are tenured or tenure-track faculty members, the School offers two professional degrees, M.P.P. and M.P.A., as well as a Ph.D. and a B.A. It also has strong alliances, jointly appointed faculty, and dual degree programs with many other academic units and programs at the University of Michigan. For more information about the Ford School, please visit www.fordschool.umich.edu.

Candidates must have qualifications appropriate for appointment as a tenured full professor, including a distinguished record of rigorous scholarship and teaching/mentoring. Effective and demonstrated administrative and budgetary expertise, the capacity for fundraising, and strong professional ties with diverse policy communities, are required. The desired candidate will also possess outstanding skills of leadership and collaboration in a setting that balances social science and public policy research with professional education. S/he will have experience in and a commitment to enhancing diversity, equity and inclusion, and will excel at communicating with diverse audiences and fostering an inclusive and open intellectual and professional culture.

The University of Michigan has a distinguished history beginning with its founding in 1817 as one of the first public universities in the nation. It is one of only two institutions consistently ranked among the nation's top ten public universities. Many of its departments and professional schools are ranked among the top ten in the country. The University has an annual budget of over $7 billion, $1.3 billion in annual research expenditures, and an endowment valued at more than $9 billion. For more information about the University of Michigan, please visit www.umich.edu.

Send applications (curriculum vitae and detailed cover letter), nominations, and inquiries to the email address below. For priority consideration, please apply by January 26, 2017.

FordSchool@kornferry.com

Ken Kring, Co-Managing Director, and Josh Ward, Ph.D., Senior Associate

Global Education Practice, Korn Ferry, Philadelphia, PA

The University of Michigan is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Contact Us: FordSchool@kornferry.com

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2308

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Marvin Hoffenberg Endowed Chair in American Politics and Public Policy

The UCLA Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding scholars in the study of American Politics for a tenured full professor position as the Marvin Hoffenberg Chair in American Politics and Public Policy. We encourage candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence. All applicants must hold a Ph.D. Salary commensurate with education and experience.

Applicants are to apply for this position online at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply>. Job tracking number is JPF02581. The position will remain open until filled, but to ensure full consideration, applications should be received by November 30, 2016. Rank and salary will be determined by the candidate's qualifications and professional experience. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 2017.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2305

St. Catherine University

Rank: Ranked Faculty, Department of Economics/Political Science

St. Catherine University in St. Paul/Minneapolis is a comprehensive Catholic university with the nation's largest college for women at its center. Founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet in 1905, the University integrates liberal arts and professional education within the Catholic traditions of intellectual inquiry and social teaching. Committed to excellence and opportunity, St. Catherine enrolls over 5,200 students in associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral programs in both traditional day and weekend formats. Associate and Graduate programs enroll both women and men.

The Departments of Political Science and Economics in the School of Humanities, Arts and Sciences at St. Catherine University invites applications for a full time, tenure-track position, beginning fall 2017, pending budget approval. Rank and salary commensurate with experience. Required: successful applicants should have a Ph.D. (in Political Science, Economics, Public Policy, or related field) by the beginning of September 2017.

Responsibilities: The selected candidate is expected to have responsibilities in teaching, research and service. The teaching load is six sections (24 credits) per academic year. Applicants from all fields are welcome and should expect to teach introductory and upper level courses within their area of expertise across politics, economics, or nonprofit programs. The creation of knowledge in the discipline resulting in its dissemination through the publication of peer-reviewed articles is expected. Applicants should demonstrate excellence in teaching and a commitment to university service. The selected candidate will be responsible for advising undergraduate students and is expected to engage in service activities with colleagues, the department, school, campus, community and professional organizations.

The departments are comprised of diverse faculty members, reflecting our diverse student body. The Political Science and Economics departments offer a wide array of majors, including Economics, Financial Economics, International Business and Economics, International Relations, Political Science, and Women and International Development, and have just inaugurated a Non-Profit Studies minor. Applicants should be prepared to work collaboratively to support students who are passionate about social justice and plan to use their training to lead and influence.

Special/Other Notes: Spousal hires: There are a number of other departments at St. Catherine University hiring, as well as a number of other higher education institutions in the Minneapolis/St. Paul area, making this position ideal for dual-career academics.

St. Catherine University seeks creative, adaptable, positive and progressive faculty who enjoy working in a university climate that promotes cultural diversity and multicultural understanding. Consistent with the university's Catholic identity, its commitment to women, diversity and social justice, preference will be given to candidates who manifest these themes in their teaching, research and service.

To apply: Please go to the St. Catherine University Employment Site to apply for this position. Website link is: <http://www.stkate.edu/hr>. Position number is: #20160036-FAC. Applicants may also visit the University Human Resources office, located in Derham Hall Room 8, to submit an electronic application. Attach an application letter of interest, current CV, statement of teaching philosophy, copy of graduate transcripts showing on track completion of doctoral degree and contact information for 3 professional references. Official transcripts, a background check and education verification will be required for hire. For more information, contact Dr. Deep Shikha at dshikha@stkate.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled; however, priority will be given to complete applications received by December 1, 2016.

St. Catherine University

2004 Randolph Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55105

EEO/AA/Drug Free Workplace Employer, Tobacco-Free Campuses

Our University is a proud member of the Upper Midwest HERC and is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding and diverse faculty and staff and assisting dual career couples. For more information and to find other higher education jobs in the Upper Midwest region, visit: www.uppermidwestherc.org

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/gt2p29dwc8>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/27/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2298

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: American Politics/Public Policy

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at the University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, open rank tenure-track position beginning in August of 2017 in the Political Science Program. UTD is a fast-growing, suburban research university with undergraduate, Master's, and PhD programs in Political Science. We currently have approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 24th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity." Faculty typically teach two courses per semester, and opportunities for sabbatical become available after a successful third-year review.

Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and teaching excellence.

Scholarly topics of interest include American politics or public policy. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory state politics course, as well as more specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses. Possible sub-specializations include: Federalism (including policy diffusion), direct democracy, institutions, political communication, political parties, interest groups, social/health policy, or elections. The ability to teach graduate level statistics or research design is also desirable. PhD by time of employment is expected.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through January 15, 2017. Position starts in August 2017. If you have questions, please contact Dr. Robert Lowry (robert.lowry@utdallas.edu) To apply, go here: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/6857>

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 1/17/2017
Date Posted: 10/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2292

Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse

Rank: Research Fellow
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse (IAST), France, invites applications for Research Fellowships, from 1st September 2017:

We welcome applications from researchers within a large range of disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences: anthropology, biology, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology and sociology, though motivated applications from outside these disciplines will be given full consideration. Applications from economists are also encouraged, but successful applicants will have demonstrated an interest in, and a commitment to, at least one of the other non-economics disciplines of the IAST.

We seek candidates with a strong research background in their own discipline, but willing and able to develop research projects drawing on IAST's substantial interdisciplinary resources, including particularly the proximity of strong groups in economics (Toulouse School of Economics, TSE). We are open to a variety of research methods, including theory, field and laboratory experiments, observational field work, and the analysis of large secondary data sets. All research interests relevant to the broad study of human behavior are welcome, but interests close to those already developed at IAST will be given special consideration, including, to cite only a few:

In political science: public opinion and public policies, comparative studies of democratic institutions, democratization in developing countries, experimental political science, studies of networks and their impact of individual and collective action.

Eligible applicants

Active researchers who have or will have completed their PhD after January 2014 and before September 2017. The IAST offers candidates an opportunity to devote themselves full time to their research at the start of their careers. Motivated applications will be considered from candidates whose PhDs were completed in 2013 or earlier; please explain your reasons in your cover letter

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/20/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2269

Missouri University of Science and Technology

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

The department of History and Political Science at Missouri University of Science & Technology invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship for Fall 2017 in Science and Technology Policy with an emphasis on Public Policy. Candidate must be prepared to teach an introductory survey in the department as well as upper-level courses in their area of specialization.

Area of specialization is open but the department is especially interested in candidates who have a field of study or emphasis in technology transfer, environmental policy, energy policy, health care policy, or policy process.

The successful candidate will have the opportunity to collaborate with colleagues as part of the Smart Living Best in Class initiative and participate in the creation of a Center for Science, Technology, and Society.

Missouri S&T is one of nation's leading research universities. Located about 100 miles west of St. Louis in the community of Rolla, Missouri S&T is an accessible, safe and friendly campus surrounded by Ozarks scenery. Missouri S&T offers degrees in engineering, the sciences, liberal arts, humanities and business, with master's and Ph.D. programs available in many of the science and engineering programs and master's degrees in biological sciences, business administration and technical communication. With nearly 9,000 students enrolled online and on campus, Missouri S&T is big enough to accommodate a diverse population but small enough for individuals to stand out.

Minimum Qualifications

Candidates must have PhD in hand no later than August 15, 2017.

Preferred Qualifications

Candidates must have PhD no later than August 15, 2017 and must provide evidence of excellence in teaching and scholarship.

Application materials including cover letter, c.v., transcript, three letters of reference, a teaching portfolio, and a sample of scholarship must be submitted electronically through the Missouri S&T HR website.

To submit an electronic application, please go to <http://jobs.mst.edu>. Select "Academic Employment" then select "Prospective Employees." The job opening ID is 21346. Please send three confidential letters of recommendation to Dr. John McManus at mcmanusj@mst.edu.

Comments

The final candidate is required to provide copies of official transcript(s) for any college degree(s) listed in application materials submitted. Copies of transcript(s) should be provided prior to the start of employment. In addition, the final candidate may be required to verify other credentials listed in application materials.

Failure to provide official transcript(s) or other required verification may result in the withdrawal of the job offer.

All job offers are contingent upon successful completion of a criminal background check.

Missouri S&T is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability or status as a protected veteran. Females, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The university participates in E-Verify. For more information on E-Verify, please contact DHS at: 1-888-464-4218.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/9/2016

Date Posted: 10/18/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2245

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Political Economy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> invites applications for an advanced tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the area of international political economy to begin July 1, 2017.

Applicants should be PhD graduates in economics or political science with an established record of scholarly productivity. The successful candidate will have a background in the field of political economy with a focus on international issues and mastery of theoretical methods and modelling. GPS has a special interest in candidates whose range of teaching is relevant for professional master's students in public policy and international affairs. Applicants must have already completed a PhD.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

Review of applications will occur on November 20, 2016.

To Apply:

Candidates for the Assistant Professor position should submit: a curriculum vitae; three writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; and a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01262>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 11/20/2016

Date Posted: 10/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2232

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Ocean Governance and Law

The Department of Marine Affairs at the University of Rhode Island seeks applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Ocean Governance and Law.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Marine Affairs, Environmental Policy, Public Policy, Geography or closely-related field by appointment date in August 2017. We seek highly qualified candidates with specialization in international ocean governance, international institutions, and/or international marine/environmental law & policy. Successful candidates will provide evidence of ability to develop and instruct undergraduate and graduate courses; develop an independently funded research program; publish and present at national and international meetings; and work with members of diverse and underrepresented groups.

DEADLINE: November 11, 2016. Application materials should include a cover letter describing qualifications for the position, CV with names and contact information of 3 professional references, combined statement of research accomplishments & future research plans as well as teaching accomplishments & philosophy, and one document of writing samples which can include up to 3 publications, working papers or dissertation chapters. For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/1774>.

Located within URI's College of Environment and Life Sciences, the Marine Affairs department offers Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral degrees. The mission of the Marine Affairs department is to provide leadership in the management of marine and coastal environments through distinction in teaching, research, service, and outreach programs. To accomplish its mission, the department emphasizes multi-disciplinary approaches to ocean & coastal governance and management.

The University of Rhode Island is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2222

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor with Tenure in International Development

DUKE UNIVERSITY

International Development

Tenure-line appointment in the Sanford School of Public Policy

Assistant Professor or Associate Professor with Tenure

Duke University's Sanford School of Public Policy (sanford.duke.edu) seeks applicants for a tenure-line appointment at rank appropriate to seniority. The successful candidate will be expected to teach economics and to conduct research relevant to international development. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research is at the intersection of development economics and health and human capital, broadly defined, or energy and the environment, with a cross-cutting interest in public finance, but we welcome strong candidates from other areas as well.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in economics or in public policy with a concentration in economics and experience conducting research in international settings. Applications received by December 1, 2016 will be guaranteed full consideration.

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of 69, and offers an undergraduate major, two masters programs, a PhD, and a joint PhD in environmental policy. The School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, including the Duke Center for International Development (DCID). The Duke Center for International Development advances international development policy and practice through post-graduate education, mid-career training, and policy research. In addition, DCID is engaged in advising services around the world with government ministries, international agencies, and NGOs. The Sanford School has plans to expand DCID's research on development policy, with a focus on economic development in middle-income countries. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to contribute to and shape this research agenda.

All candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, and recent writing sample to Professor Elizabeth Frankenberg, International Development Search Committee Chair, via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajol/jobs/8277>.

Candidates at the Assistant Professor level should include 3 letters of recommendation; candidates at the Associate Professor with Tenure level should include 3 references.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/12/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2217

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank - Political Science

Open Rank - Political Science

Below you will find the details for the position including any supplementary documentation and questions you should review before applying for the opening. To apply for the job, please click the Apply for this Job link.

Please Note: Internal Applicants (current benefits-eligible employees only) must login to the applicant portal before clicking "apply for this job" in order to access the internal application.

Northeastern University Employee Benefits

Northeastern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Educational Institution and Employer, Title IX University. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by the law. Northeastern University is an E-Verify Employer.

Bookmark this Requisition | Print Preview | Apply for this Job

Please see Special Instructions for more details.

Please be prepared to attach you cv, cover letter, and be prepared to enter the names and e-mail addresses for three references.

Posting Details

Posting Detail Information

Position Title Open Rank - Political Science

Requisition Number FTFR000866

Division/College College of Social Sciences and Humanities

Interdisciplinary Division/College

Location Boston Main Campus

Full-time/Part-time Full Time

Benefits Eligible Yes

Tenure Status Tenured/Tenure Track

Posting Date 10/05/2016

Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/polisci/>) and the College of Social Sciences and Humanities at Northeastern University invite applications to fill one or more open-rank tenure-track faculty positions to begin in the fall of 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a record of excellence in research and teaching in the fields of comparative politics or public policy with a focus in resilience, sustainability, and related areas. Of particular interest are new or established scholars who study how governments and societies adjust to disruptions and major changes in existing relationships and practices. This emphasis on resilience and sustainability may cross different policy areas, including environmental, economic, social welfare, and others. Joint appointments with other units in the college and the university are possible.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science or related field or the equivalent is required by the start of the appointment. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Additional Information

The Department of Political Science has 26 tenured and tenure-track faculty members, two teaching professors, one lecturer, and three staff members. Ten faculty members hold joint appointments in other academic units. The robust undergraduate and graduate programs include 550 undergraduate majors and 60 graduate students in the Master of Arts in Political Science, Master of Science and Graduate Certificate in Security and Resilience Studies, and PhD in Political Science programs. The Department offers a collegial environment in which faculty engage in different research methodologies in a multidisciplinary setting. The Department is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have traditionally been underrepresented in the field.

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

Applicants should submit a CV and letter of interest describing research interests and evidence of scholarly expertise, along with the names of three references. Candidates will be notified before their references are contacted.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the link for full-time positions, or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click "Apply to this job." Please address nominations and inquiries about the position to Kirsten Rodine Hardy, Chair of the Search Committee (K.Rodinehardy@northeastern.edu). Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Documents Needed to Apply

Required Documents
Curriculum Vitae
Cover Letter
Optional Documents
Other

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/11/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2212

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Administration, Public Policy

Specializations: China, East Asia, International Security

Princeton University & Harvard University

The Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program (CWP)

Princeton University and Harvard University jointly founded the fellowship program for the advanced study of China's international relations, the Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program (CWP), in 2005. The program's co-directors are Thomas J. Christensen of Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and Alastair Iain Johnston of Harvard's Government Department. The China and the World Program supports research that integrates theoretical innovations in the field of international relations with the rigorous study of China's interactions with countries, regions, institutions, and non-state actors.

In 2017-2018, the program will award several one-year postdoctoral research associate positions. Scholars should have defended their dissertations in the past five years. Preference will be given to scholars who are currently working on revising their Ph.D. thesis for publication as a book, or who are just beginning a second major project. Postdoctoral researchers are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the institution of residence.

Qualifications:

Applicants must have received a PhD before starting the position. Only applicants working on some aspect of China's relations with the outside world that supports CWP's mission need apply.

Application Process:

To apply, you will be required to submit an online application at <https://jobs.princeton.edu/> (link is external), requisition number 1600679 and follow the instructions for creating an application.

You are required to submit:

1-2 page cover letter that briefly states your interest in the program, your background, and a summary of your research project
CV
project description
2 scholarly writing samples
Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees
Contact information for two references.
The deadline for submission is December 9, 2016, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Please note that you will only submit contact information and the email of your referees. Your referee will then receive an automated email with instructions on how to submit a confidential recommendation on your behalf. All references must be received for full consideration. We recommend that you complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their applications in February 2017 and a public announcement will be made by March 2017.

For more information about the Princeton-Harvard China and the World Program, please visit its website at <http://cwp.princeton.edu/> or email cwp@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/9/2016

Date Posted: 10/9/2016

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2023

Ramapo College of New Jersey

Rank: Temporary Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor of Political Science
ONE YEAR TEMPORARY POSITION – ACADEMIC YEAR
2017-2018

Ramapo College of New Jersey invites applications for a temporary full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science with a specialization in American public policy. Areas of policy research and methodology are open. Primary teaching responsibilities include policy courses within the political science major and public policy minor as well as introductory classes in American politics or political theory. The successful candidate will also help develop policy-related internships. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D., in Political Science or related discipline by the time of appointment.

Applications will be accepted starting on September 26, 2016 by logging on to <http://www.ramapojobs.com>. Attach resume, cover letter, statement of teaching philosophy, research interests, a writing sample and a list of three references. All applications must be completed online. Hard copies of resumes and/or applications will not be accepted. Review of applications will begin after November 1 and will continue until the position is filled. To request accommodations, call (201) 684-7761.

Ramapo College of New Jersey is located in the beautiful foothills of the Ramapo Mountains approximately 25 miles northwest of New York City. Accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, Ramapo College is a comprehensive institution of higher education dedicated to the promotion of teaching and learning within strong liberal arts based curriculum, thus earning the designation "New Jersey's Public Liberal Arts College." Its curricular emphasis includes the liberal arts and sciences, social sciences, fine and performing arts, and the professional programs within a residential and sustainable living and learning environment. Organized into thematic learning communities, Ramapo College provides academic excellence through its interdisciplinary curriculum, international education, intercultural understanding and experiential learning opportunities.

RAMAPO COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY

505 Ramapo Valley Road
Mahwah, NJ 07430

“New Jersey's Public Liberal Arts College”

Ramapo College is a member of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC), a national alliance of leading liberal arts colleges in the public sector.

EEO/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2203

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank - Cyber Security

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Public Policy

Position Title Open Rank - Cyber Security

Requisition Number FTFR000859

Division/College College of Social Sciences and Humanities

Interdisciplinary Division/College

Location Boston Main Campus

Full-time/Part-time Full Time

Benefits Eligible Yes

Tenure Status Tenured/Tenure Track

Posting Date 09/30/2016

Responsibilities

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities (CSSH) at Northeastern University invites applications and nominations for an open rank position in cyber security.

Northeastern University aims to lead in education and research that advance an understanding of security, resilience and sustainability issues and in the development of innovative solutions. This interdisciplinary hiring initiative addresses policy relevant issues such as government sponsored hacking, non state actors involved in data theft, cyber conflict, human factors in cyber security, and the regulation of privacy.

Existing expertise at Northeastern University contributes to pioneering research in the emerging fields of physical, social, and infrastructure resilience through the Security Systems Lab, the Network and Distributed Systems Security Laboratory, the Center for Resilience Studies, the Resilient Cities Laboratory, the Kostas Research Institute for Homeland Security, and the Dukakis Center for Urban and Regional Policy. It includes the intersection of policy and design in advancing secure and resilient critical infrastructure and communities in the face of human-made and naturally-occurring disasters.

Applications are invited from any discipline that contributes to the issues of cyber security, cyber crime, data privacy and their overlap. A successful applicant may have his or her tenure home in the Department of Political Science, the School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, the School of Public Policy and Urban affairs, or the departments of Sociology, Anthropology or History. A cross-college appointment is expected to be made in the appropriate unit of the College of Computer and Information Science, the School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs, the Law School, the College of Engineering, or the College of Science.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a PhD or equivalent terminal degree at the beginning of the appointment and a record of scholarship and teaching commensurate with rank. Successful applicants will have the abilities to initiate and lead major funded research projects, to promote innovation in teaching, and to engage with practitioners in the public, private and non-profit sectors. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a NEU education.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the experiential liberal arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Northeastern University in Boston is a nationally ranked research university with a strong urban mission, a global perspective, and an emphasis on interdisciplinary scholarship and experiential learning. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the Full-time positions link. Applicants will be asked to upload a letter of application, CV, a statement of current and future research interests, a writing sample of no more than 50 pages, and the names of three referees. Review of applications will begin October 24, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries from potential candidates are welcome and may be directed to the Chair of the Search Committee, Daniel Aldrich, Director, Security and Resilience Studies Program. d.aldrich@neu.edu.

Documents Needed to Apply

Required Documents
Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter
 Writing Sample
 Research Statement
 Optional Documents
 Posting Specific Questions

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2192

American Association for the Advancement of Science

Rank: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellows

Call for Applications: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships
 The American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) is pleased to announce a call for doctoral level social scientists to apply for the 2017-18 Science & Technology Policy Fellowships (STPF).

Fellows serve yearlong assignments in the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the federal government in Washington, DC. In this unique opportunity, fellows gain hands-on policy experience, help develop and execute solutions to address societal challenges, and join a strong and influential network of 3,000+ fellows.

Apply today! <http://www.stpf-aaas.org/>.

QUALIFICATIONS

-Doctoral-level degree (PhD, MD, DVM, DSc, etc.) in any scientific, social science, or engineering discipline, OR a Master's in engineering with three years of engineering related professional experience.
 -U.S. citizenship.

STIPEND & BENEFITS

- $75,000–100,000.
 - Health insurance, travel/training and relocation allowances.

ONLINE APPLICATIONS DUE: November 1, 2016

FELLOWSHIP YEAR: September 1, 2017 – August 31, 2018

For more information and to apply: <http://go.stpf-aaas.org/blue.html>

Questions? Email fellowships@aaas.org or call 202-326-6700

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2016

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1895

Princeton University

Rank: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professor for Distinguished Teaching

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, Public Policy

The University Center for Human Values invites nominations and applications for the Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Professorship for Distinguished Teaching. We aim to make individual appointments for the following: Spring 2018, Spring 2019, Spring 2020, 2018-19 and 2019-20.

These visiting professorships were established as part of Princeton's 250th Anniversary teaching initiatives, enabling the University Center to bring to campus excellent undergraduate teachers and scholars whose teaching and research explicitly examine values in public and private life. Candidates in all fields are eligible but special consideration for Spring 2018 applications will be given to scholars who have a demonstrated expertise in teaching related to environmental ethics and political theory and for Spring 2019 and Spring 2020 to scholars who have a demonstrated expertise in teaching related to service and civic engagement, human rights or ethics and public policy. Recent holders of these positions have been appointed at their home institutions in Comparative Literature, History, Politics, Philosophy, Psychology and Sociology. Ten-month positions bring a full salary. Five-month positions (half of a ten-month faculty position) bring a commensurate proportion of salary.

Since the successful candidates must demonstrate an established record of teaching excellence, applicants should normally hold a tenured position in their home institution. The professorship is not intended for early-career faculty and we do not generally consider applicants who have taught less than five years.

Candidates who have received teaching awards will be given especially serious consideration, but receipt of such awards is not a necessary condition for selection if there is other evidence of outstanding teaching. We are keen to consider applicants who have been innovative in the classroom through their use of technology, although again this is not a necessary condition for selection. International applicants with a demonstrable record of distinguished teaching are encouraged to apply.

Visiting professors normally teach one undergraduate course, organize at least one event focused on pedagogy, and participate in seminars, colloquia, and other activities of the University Center for Human Values. They also enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities throughout the University.

The appointment committee will consider applicants on the basis of:

- The quality of their teaching and relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values;
- The quality of their previous and proposed research and their ability to benefit from and contribute to the activities of the University Center for Human Values;
- The contribution they are likely to make to higher education in the future through teaching and writing about ethics and human values.

Nominations

The University Center encourages department chairs, deans, colleagues, and students to nominate candidates for consideration. Nomination letters should describe the nominee's teaching and scholarly interests and characterize the evidence as to quality of the nominee's record of teaching and scholarship. The nominee's c.v. should be included. The selection committee may invite nominees to provide further information if required. It would be helpful to us to receive the nomination by Friday November 18, 2016. Nomination letters may be sent by email to mkilleen@princeton.edu

Applications

Interested applicants should apply online at www.princeton.edu/jobs. (The requisition number is 1600851). The following materials will be required. The application deadline is Friday, November 18, 2016:

1. A cover letter describing the applicant's interest in affiliation with the University Center and indicating the academic year in which the applicant seeks appointment;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. A statement of the applicant's teaching record in the last five-to-ten years listing courses offered and describing the evidence of distinguished teaching (e.g., teaching awards received and/or a summary of institutional teaching assessments);
4. A scholarly paper or book chapter accepted for publication within the last five years, ideally not exceeding 12,000 words;
5. A brief prospectus of research to be undertaken at Princeton;
6. The names and contact information of three referees, at least one of whom should be able to comment knowledgeably on the applicant's teaching record (in the event that their views are sought, referees will be contacted by the search committee).

The selection committee may request further information, such as institutional documentation of the teaching record, at a later stage.

We anticipate concluding the selection process by June 2017, for the appointments tenable in spring 2018 and the 2018-2019 academic year.

For more information about the University Center for Human Values, please visit our web site: uchv.princeton.edu

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/18/2016

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2180

University of Central Florida

Rank: Associate/Full Professor in Coastal Environmental Policy/Coastal Political Geography

Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster: Coastal Environmental Policy/Political Geography

Applicants for an Associate/Full Professor position in Coastal Environmental Policy or Coastal Political Geography must have a Ph.D. from an accredited institution in political science, geography, or a related discipline, such as environmental policy/political geography or environmental anthropology/sociology.

The successful applicant will become a core faculty member in the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster and must bring expertise in environmental policy and politics to an interdisciplinary team in order to advance understanding of the social-ecological systems in coastal areas with a focus on public policy and coastal ecology. They must demonstrate a strong commitment to interdisciplinary research and publication; a commitment to interdisciplinary and collaborative research, have demonstrated an ability to perform high-impact and high-demand research, and develop a program that will lead to strong extramurally-funded research. The successful candidate will also have a strong teaching record with the ability to teach and mentor students at both graduate and undergraduate levels.

As part of an on-going hiring campaign, UCF recently established an interdisciplinary cluster approach to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are searching for faculty in the broad interdisciplinary area of Sustainable Coastal Systems (<http://ucf.edu/research/coastalsystems>) and plan to bring together a core group of faculty who work across traditional research boundaries or are working in transdisciplinary fields. This new hire will join current cluster faculty, representing twelve departments and seven colleges, to lead a world-class effort to understand and assess natural and human-related impacts to coastal ecosystem health, restoration, sustainability, and mitigation; and ultimately to characterize and integrate physical, chemical, biological, and socio-economic processes impacting coastal communities and ecosystems.

Faculty in these interdisciplinary positions will be expected to strengthen both their tenure home department as well as the Sustainable Coastal Systems cluster. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup are expected with these five new positions. Each new faculty member will have a unique interdisciplinary mentoring team to foster intellectual breadth and to facilitate integrative capacity to strengthen the success of the cluster.

Candidates must apply on-line at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/43915> (Position #38869) and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter candidates should address their background in their discipline and should identify the department(s) for their potential tenure home. In the research statement candidates should include descriptions of their successful interdisciplinary research collaborations and how their current and future research can contribute to the cluster's overall interdisciplinary objectives.

The search committee will review applications on an on-going basis and continue to accept applications until the position is filled. The University of Central Florida, the nation's second-largest university with more than 63,000 students, has grown in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando and more than a dozen other locations. UCF is an economic engine attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. For more information, visit <http://ucf.edu>. UCF is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer. All applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities, women, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

For more information about these positions please contact the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster Search Chair, Dr. Graham Worthy at CoastalCluster@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2184

Stanford University: Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center

Rank: 2017-18 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows in Contemporary Asia

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce its search for two 2017-18 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows in Contemporary Asia-Pacific Studies.

Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent PhDs must have degree conferral and approval by August 31, 2017) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the fellowship is on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including North-east, Southeast, and South Asia), or topics in international relations and international political economy. Postdoctoral fellows are required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment, and to take part in center activities throughout the academic year. Fellows are also required to present their research findings in center seminars, and to participate in the center's publication program. The postdoctoral fellowship is a 10-month appointment with a salary rate of $52,000 plus $2,000 for research expenses. Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2017–18 academic year.

Applications must be received by December 16, 2016.

For additional information and to apply, visit:
<http://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/fellowships>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/16/2016

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2129

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Studies Program

Assistant Professor, Environmental Studies Program, University of Colorado Boulder focus on Natural Resources Policy and Governance

Boulder, Colorado – The Environmental Studies program invites applicants for a junior-level tenure-track position in Natural Resources Policy and Governance, beginning August 21, 2017. We solicit applicants with expertise in natural resources policy and management, with an emphasis on water, energy, land use or another natural resource focal area. This expertise will complement and build upon our existing capacity in climate and environmental policy.

The governance and management of natural resources is a vastly complex and critical area of interest to our students, from the international scale to the western United States. We welcome applicants who use a range of methods for their research, quantitative and qualitative, and who would be able to contribute to the program's course offerings in social science research methods. The interdependence of decisions that affect the natural environments, such as how to harness energy and secure mineral resources, develop more sustainable food systems, move and allocate water, manage forests and livelihoods, or preserve endangered species and ecosystems, adds to the complexity of creating and implementing sustainable resource policies in the 21st century.

This position will focus on empirical (quantitative, qualitative, or multi-methods) natural resources policy and governance or management research and practice. Successful candidates will have an active research agenda and experience with externally-funded research. They will also have a program and a track record of integrative and interdisciplinary research. We seek a candidate who will advise and teach in policy analysis, natural resource management, or research methods in policy, as well as policy and governance topics relevant to their own research. We also value relevant professional work experience and experience working with partners, stakeholders and practitioners involved in aspects of engagement in the public sphere. A PhD is required.

The Assistant Professor hired for this position will teach classes in natural resources policy (e.g. water, land use, energy) in the undergraduate, graduate and professional master's programs. They will have opportunities to forge partnerships with units that have intersecting interests with natural resources policy and governance or management. e.g. Political Science, Geography, Sociology, Communications, Environmental Design, and Civil, Environmental and Architectural Engineering, as well as the Center for the American West and the Law School's Getches-Wilkinson Center for Natural Resources, Energy, and the Environment. CU Boulder is at the heart of a nexus of science, policy and technology partners on the Colorado Front Range and there will be many opportunities to engage with the professional community.

The Environmental Studies (ENVS) program at CU-Boulder is a hub for facilitating interdisciplinary collaboration in environment and sustainability. Our primary strength is interdisciplinary research and education on human-environment interactions, in which we explicitly integrate environmental science, policy, and values. ENVS has a large, dynamic and comprehensive undergraduate degree program with over 800 students, and a highly successful graduate program, with 50 PhD and masters students along with 30 professional masters students. We have 16 rostered or co-rostered faculty and many associated faculty from across the campus.

The University of Colorado is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to building a diverse workforce. We encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities and veterans. Alternative formats of this ad can be provided upon request for individuals with disabilities by contacting the ADA Coordinator at hr-ada@colorado.edu.

Applications are accepted electronically at <https://www.jobsatcu.com>, posting #06792. More information is available at <https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=06792&lang=en>

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, separate research and teaching statements, and arrange three confidential letters of recommendation.

If you have questions, contact search committee chair Professor Max Boykoff boykoff@colorado.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2170

Oberlin College

Rank: Post-Doctoral Faculty Position in Policy Analysis

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a post-doctoral faculty position in Policy Analysis in the College of Arts and Sciences. Appointment is for spring semester 2017. This is a non-continuing position. The incumbent will teach one course in methods and public policy and mentor students interested in policy analysis. To be assured consideration, submit a letter of application, a CV, graduate transcripts, and at least three recent reference letters to <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/> by November 11, 2016.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2137

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Policy and Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration (PSPA) seeks applications for two tenure-track faculty positions in public administration and policy. We hope to select one assistant and one assistant/associate professor to begin August 16, 2017. Candidates should have primary research and teaching interests in public administration and policy with particular consideration given to well-qualified candidates specializing in public policy and program evaluation. Particular consideration will also be given to candidates with interest in assuming the role of Graduate Coordinator. A Ph.D. degree in public administration, public policy, or related fields is required at the time of appointment.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited MPPA, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research centers with the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, the Center for International Security and Strategic Studies, and the National Strategic Planning and Analysis Research Center. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Dr. Christine Rush, at crush@pspa.msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF #493904) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, current curriculum vita, and the names and contact information of three references. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to the following: Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin October 21, 2016, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2126

Norwich University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

The Department of History and Political Science at Norwich University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall 2017 semester. The successful candidate will teach and do research in the fields of American politics and public policy and will teach undergraduate courses in Intro to Public Policy, the survey course in American Politics, the U.S. Presidency, Legislative Process, State and Local Politics, Research Methods (with emphasis on quantitative methods), American Citizenship, and a Capstone Senior Seminar in the candidate's field of expertise. The successful candidate will also manage the Political Science Internship Program and facilitate the growth of public policy studies across the university. While a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, Norwich University is committed to junior faculty developing scholarship through a supportive faculty development program.

Qualifications: To be eligible for appointment at the assistant professor rank, candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a Ph.D in a public policy-related field. Highly qualified ABDs may be considered for appointment at the instructor level. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2016 and remain open until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of interest, which includes your preferred substantive American politics and public policy focus, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy): <https://norwich.interviewexchange.com>

Norwich University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to providing a positive education and work environment that recognizes and respects the dignity of all students, faculty and staff. Reasonable accommodations will be made for the known disability of an otherwise qualified applicant. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at nuhr@norwich.edu for assistance.

All candidates must be authorized to work for any U.S. employer. A post offer, pre-employment background check will be required of the successful candidate.

Norwich University offers a comprehensive benefit package that includes medical, dental, vision, group life and long term disability insurance, flexible-spending accounts for health and dependent care, 403(b) retirement plan with employer match, employee assistance program, paid time off including parental leave, and tuition scholarships for eligible employees and their family members.

Norwich University is a diversified academic institution that educates residential students - both military and civilian lifestyles - and working adults across the globe. Norwich offers a broad selection of traditional and distance-learning programs culminating in baccalaureate and master's degrees, and graduate certificates. Founded in 1819 by U.S. Army Capt. Alden Partridge, Norwich is the oldest private military college in the country and the birthplace of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC).

Norwich University takes positive action to insure that all applicants for employment are considered, and employees are treated in compliance with applicable laws and regulations governing non-discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, color, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, genetic information or veteran's status. As an institution of higher education, Norwich is dedicated to learning, emphasizing teamwork, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking and encourages applications from qualified individuals who will help us achieve this guiding value.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2124

Brown University

Rank: Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. Central to this mission is the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, an effort to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research related to the Institute's three core thematic areas: development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. Fellows receive two years of support, to be taken within a three-year period, with the expectation that they will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Institute. Fellows will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department.

Application requirements

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by October 30, 2016, via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/35593>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits.
- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on October 30; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in January 2017.

Eligibility and terms

The fellowship competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. Scholars of all nationalities who received PhDs within three years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. For full application details see <http://watson.brown.edu/education/postdoc>.

For further information

For further information regarding the Watson Institute Post-Doctoral Fellows Program, please visit the Watson Institute website <http://watson.brown.edu> or contact:

Professor Catherine Lutz, Faculty Director of the Watson Post-Doctoral Fellows Program, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University at catherine_lutz@brown.edu; or

Keith Brown, Director of Post-Doctoral and Undergraduate Policy Programs, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University, Brown University at keith_brown@brown.edu.

For questions about the application process itself, please contact watson_applications@brown.edu

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2117

The Heritage Foundation

Rank: Visiting Fellow in American Political Thought

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy

The one-year Visiting Fellow in the Simon Center for Principles and Politics is open to university faculty (on sabbatical, on leave, or retired) and to recent Ph.D.'s. Applicants should demonstrate an ability to relate the foundational principles of American political thought to contemporary issues and debates. The Fellow will conduct research in any of the areas of interest to the center including, but not limited to:

1. The Founding and Founding Principles
2. Constitutional Government and the Administrative State
3. Modern Conservatism and Liberalism

The Fellow will:

- Publish research papers for the Heritage Foundation.
- Publish topical commentary in media outlets.
- Work on his/her academic projects (in previous years, fellows have used their time at Heritage to complete books).
- Organize a conference, funded by Heritage, that brings together leading experts in one's subject area.
- Give public lectures at Heritage.

Requirements:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field.
- Preference will be given to faculty members on sabbatical or on leave, although recent Ph.D.'s will be considered.
- Possess a proven interest in the Simon Center's mission of promoting a proper understanding of America's founding principles and applying them to inform contemporary policy debates.

Location

- The scholar will preferably work at the Heritage Foundation in Washington, D.C. Office space will be provided.

Duration

- The Fellowship will last one year and run from September 2017 to August 2018. The duration and start dates, however, are flexible and will be determined by the successful candidate and the Heritage Foundation.

Compensation

- The Fellow will receive an annualized salary, commensurate with his/her experience. As this is a temporary position, it does not include employee benefits such as health insurance.

Additional Benefits:

- Ongoing research support from Center's staff
- Loan privileges with the Library of Congress

To Apply:

Mail or e-mail the following materials:

- 1.) A short proposal outlining what you would work on during your time at Heritage, including the publications you intend to produce and the theme of the conference you will host.
- 2.) C.V.
- 3.) One academic writing sample and one or two non-academic pieces, preferably published.

Completed applications are being accepted until further notice. Notification will be made when the position is filled. Questions and application materials should be sent to:

Dani Doane
Senior Program Manager
B. Kenneth Simon Center for Principles and Politics
The Heritage Foundation
214 Massachusetts Avenue, NE
Washington, D.C. 20002
Email: dani.doane@heritage.org

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2090

Florida State University

Rank: Political Science/African American Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Other, Public Policy
Specializations: African American Politics, Caribbean, Civil Rights & Liberties

Florida State University is embarking upon a Diversity and Inclusion initiative, which can be found online at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity_initiatives. As part of this initiative, the Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/?q=node/1>) and the FSU African American Studies Center (<http://coss.fsu.edu/aas/>) seek applications for a tenure track or tenured faculty member to participate in their programs. The Department has twenty-two tenured or tenure track and two non-tenure track faculty that serve a large undergraduate program, a master degree in applied politics, and a PhD program. African American Studies is an interdisciplinary undergraduate program that offers BA and BS degrees.

The position is open with respect to candidates' specialization, and they may have doctoral degrees in African American Studies, Political Science, or other related disciplines, with evidence of scholarship and teaching with respect to African Americans and the African diaspora.

Teaching will include at least one course in the African American Studies core curriculum, a second course at the nexus of race and politics, and other courses in the political science curriculum. The candidate's tenure home will be in Political Science. Candidates should have strengths in quantitative, experimental and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 8,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital city, with a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions. Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a writing sample, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. Items (1) through (3) must be submitted electronically; items (4) and (5) may be sent as hard copies or electronically. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Electronic files must be submitted to polisci@fsu.edu, as may questions about the search.

Mailed letters of reference and transcripts may be addressed to Political Science/AAS Search, Department of Political Science, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer; racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/20/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2083

University of South Dakota

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

The University of South Dakota seeks an Instructor for an online Graduate Course in Public Budgeting and Fiscal Management which analyzes governmental financial administration, including budget preparation and execution, and the management of debt and public expenditures. A Ph.D. with specialization in public budgeting and/or financial management is preferred. Will consider Masters-level candidates with experience in public budgeting, public financial management, and/or public accounting. Candidates must provide a CV, teaching evaluations, three letters of recommendation, a transcript of relevant course work, and copies of any syllabi relevant to this graduate-level budgeting and fiscal management course. Please send all materials re Position No. 0008149 to: William D. Richardson, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of South Dakota, 414 E. Clark Street, Vermillion, SD 57069. Inquiries may be directed to William-Richardson@usd.edu

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/17/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2066

Brown University

Rank: Racial Inequality Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: United States, African American Politics, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

RACIAL INEQUALITY POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATE

DESCRIPTION: Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Racial Inequality to be jointly shared by the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs and the Center for the Study of Race & Ethnicity in America. We seek a scholar with interests in racial inequality/structural racism in the post 1970s U.S. in areas such as: urban poverty, social and cultural theories of racism, gender, segregation, housing or welfare.

The successful candidate will teach one course per year in a Watson Institute related program, collaborate on the vision, design and implementation of CSREA programming related to his/her research areas each year on a key topic in contemporary racial inequality studies, and be expected to actively participate in the intellectual life of CSREA (including regular participation in the CSREA research seminar), the Watson Institute and the University as a whole.

QUALIFICATIONS: Scholars with a Ph.D. in Sociology, American Studies, Political Science, History, Social Theory, African-American Studies or a related discipline in the Humanities or Social Sciences will be considered. Dissertation must be signed by August 1, 2017.

INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, writing sample (15-20 pp), a personal statement (1 page) and the names and addresses of three referees through the Interfolio posting: <https://apply.interfolio.com/36251>

The application deadline is November 15th, 2016. Review of applications will begin November 17th, 2016, and final notifications are expected to go out by March, 2017. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective August 1, 2017, and is not renewable.

EEO STATEMENT: Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

For more information, please visit:

<https://www.brown.edu/race> | <http://watson.brown.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2050

Princeton University

Rank: Niehaus Center Visiting Fellowship Program

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to six visitors for the 2017-2018 academic year Visiting Fellowship Program. NCGG will award one-year research positions to eligible, talented postdoctoral or more senior scholars. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Preference will be given to recent recipients of a doctoral degree. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2017 - July 1, 2018).

Application Deadline – December 9, 2016, 11:59p.m. EST

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials and apply online at: <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Search for requisition no. 1600791.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Friday, December 9, 2016. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions will also be required to submit:

- Statement indicating if a sabbatical leave is available;
- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- History of 'sabbatical leaves' over the past seven years;
- A confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2016 - July 1, 2017).

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in March 2017.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Date Posted: 9/15/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2037

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral and Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, Latin American

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs seeks two postdoctoral or more senior candidates for the Postdoctoral and Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2017-2018 academic year. This fellows program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2017 - July 1, 2018).

Application Deadline – January 02, 2017

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials and apply online at: <https://jobs.princeton.edu>. Search for requisition no. 1600790.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Monday, January 2, 2017. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions will also be required to submit:

- Statement indicating if a sabbatical leave is available;

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- History of 'sabbatical leaves' over the past seven years;
- A confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2016 - July 1, 2017).

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in March 2017.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sex orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 1/2/2017
Date Posted: 9/15/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2038

York College of Pennsylvania

Rank: Research/Teaching Fellowship, Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Methodology
Specializations: Urban Politics, State Politics, Economic Policy

Research/Teaching Fellowship, Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy, York College

York College of Pennsylvania invites applications for the inaugural Fellow for its Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy.

A joint program of York College's Center for Community Engagement (CCE) and its Department of History and Political Science, the Institute for Public Policy will engage the Fellow and our students in the policymaking process by providing nonpartisan research to legislators at the City, County, and State levels of government. The Fellow will conduct research and work with advanced students to identify and define problems in the greater York community, develop policy approaches to solve those problems, and aim to achieve adoption and successful implementation of specific policy proposals via the Pennsylvania General Assembly and municipal jurisdictions in the South Central Pennsylvania region.

The appointee will hold the title of Fellow in the Center for Community Engagement and the rank of Visiting Instructor in the Department of History and Political Science. The fellowship will generally carry a two-year appointment, though in appropriate cases that time frame might be lengthened or shortened to accommodate a specific project. Among the duties of the fellow will be:

- Completing an appropriate research project or projects likely to be of interest to local residents, legislators, and civic/business leaders;
- Teaching one advanced course per semester;
- Delivering at least two public lectures for the local community;

- Disseminating the results of her/his research in appropriate scholarly and public venues;
- Collaborating with students and faculty in other appropriate York College programs such as the Center for Professional Excellence, the Graham and Eisenhart Scholars, and other CCE programming.

Funding will be provided for travel, speakers, and other appropriate initiatives of the Institute.

Requirements: The ideal candidate will hold a doctorate in a field directly related to public policy research (though ABD or MPP will be considered). The successful candidate will have a research agenda well-suited to studying local, regional, and state-level policy, and evidence of scholarly potential.

York College is committed to building a diverse college community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Interested candidates should electronically submit the following: a current curriculum vitae, letter of application, and names of three references to employment@ycp.edu. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016. While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, for full consideration, applications should be received by October 31, 2016.

York College of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. For a copy of York College's Annual Security Report, you may contact the Office of Campus Safety or visit the College's website and search for Annual Security Report.

About York College and the Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

York College of Pennsylvania (<http://www.ycp.edu>) is a private-sector, independent institution of higher education, offering over 50 baccalaureate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing. The College has an enrollment of over 4000 full time, over 500 part time undergraduate students and over 200 graduate students from 30 states and 12 foreign countries. The campus is located in South-Central Pennsylvania (50 miles north of Baltimore, MD, 30 miles south of Harrisburg, PA, and 90 miles north of Washington, DC) and offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits.

Though the Fellow will spend time on York College's main campus, the locus of the research and mentoring activities noted above would be housed in the CCE's headquarters in downtown York. The Institute for Public Policy is meant to be an objective, nonpartisan advocacy organization committed to the best practices in academic social science. The CCE hosts local government leaders, non-profit organizations, community groups, and other stakeholders, providing assistance in identifying and developing approaches to solving the community's most pressing problems. Under the guidance of the Fellow, the Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy will contribute to that mission through policy research.

The CCE's 20,000 square foot building at 59 East Market Street will open with Phase One mid-fall, 2016. Located across the street from the Yorktowne Hotel and adjacent to city, county, and state offices, the location is central to the downtown renaissance in Royal Square, the Arts District, and Central Market. This Center will be a hub for community education, meetings, and small conferences making it an ideal location for students and faculty engaged in policy research and analysis. This space will become a highly visible epicenter of policy activity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2042

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - Environmental Justice and Community Resilience

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Faculty Position

Environmental Justice and Community Resilience

Department of Political Science, Purdue University

As part of a university-wide cluster hire in the area of "building sustainable communities," the Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a tenure track, assistant professor position focused on the politics of environmental justice and community resilience. Potential areas of interest include how gender, race, class, ethnicity, geographical region, or identities affect the unequal distribution of environmental benefits and burdens and/or community resilience in the face of environmental change. We are also interested in research on efforts to address environmental and social inequalities through international, cross-national, and/or domestic political action, including but not limited to work on norms and norm change, protest and resistance movements, and community-based conservation and resilience efforts. The primary field of specialization within political science is open. The successful candidate will add to the political science department's identified strengths in environmental politics as well as the politics of race, ethnicity, gender, and class. The successful candidate will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the area of environmental politics as well as other appropriate courses in his or her subfield. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Environmental Studies, or a related discipline is required. Joint appointments are possible in other academic units participating in the cluster hire, including Anthropology, Communication, Philosophy, and Engineering. The position will begin Fall 2017.

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated potential to play a vital role in Purdue's new "building sustainable communities" initiative dedicated to finding new approaches to addressing major environmental and sustainability challenges. Purdue's Center for the Environment will serve as the interdisciplinary hub for this research community. Purdue also hosts several interdisciplinary undergraduate and graduate programs focused on sustainability, including undergraduate degrees in environmental & ecological engineering and natural resources and environmental science, as well as a graduate program in Ecological Sciences and Engineering. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in and contribute to these programs as well.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon (acheever@purdue.edu). Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, samples of written work, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's commitment to and experience with interdisciplinary research and teaching relevant to the cluster. Review of applications will begin October 7, 2016, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to search committee chair Dr. Leigh Raymond (lraymond@purdue.edu). A background check will be required for employment in this position. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 2004

Harvard University

Rank: China Public Policy Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: China, Political Economy, History & Politics

Harvard Kennedy School China Public Policy Postdoctoral Fellowships 2017-18

The Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation at the Harvard Kennedy School will offer two postdoctoral fellowships in the field of contemporary Chinese public policy to recent Ph.D.s of exceptional promise.

Applicants must have received their Ph.D. within five years of the start of the fellowship, in a relevant discipline in the social sciences or history. Preference will be given to those working in the areas of domestic politics and social development of China, with a focus on public policy challenges. Residence in the Cambridge area and participation in the activities of the Center are required. It is expected that the successful applicant will give at least one research presentation or public talk during the fellowship period. Knowledge of Chinese is required, as well as the ability to work with original sources. Those who are chosen to receive fellowships must have completed ALL requirements for the Ph.D. degree (including the dissertation defense) by June 1, 2017.

Each fellowship will begin on August 1, 2017 and run for a period of up to two years. The recipient will receive an annual stipend of $50,000, health insurance, and work space.

For complete information on how to apply visit: <http://ash.harvard.edu/china-public-policy-postdoctoral-fellowships> . Applications are due January 6, 2017. Questions can be emailed to Ash_Fellowships@hks.harvard.edu with "Postdoctoral Fellowships in China Public Policy" in the SUBJECT line.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1969

James Madison University

Rank: Assistant Professor- U.S. Government and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY- {Job link #0407599}- The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in U.S. Government and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2017 semester, pending budgetary approval. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. Areas of specialization should include health policy, economic policy, and/or comparative public policy.

The department seeks candidates with strong teaching and research skills. Review of applications will begin October 6, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {# 0407599}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience. The College of Arts and Letters (CAL) at JMU serves as a cross-disciplinary center of intellectual inquiry and practice on campus. All programs in the college are committed to fostering rigorous, constructive dialogue in classrooms, local communities, and the larger world.

James Madison University is committed to a diverse and inclusive community and to maintaining a work and educational environment that is free of all forms of discrimination.

This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability; genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1980

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Public Policy

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2017. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy and political science broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2017.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must have three letters of recommendation, CV, and job market paper submitted by November 30, 2016. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to faculty_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as from others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/30/2016

Date Posted: 9/2/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1961

Duke University

Rank: Tenure-line appointment - Energy Policy

DUKE UNIVERSITY

Energy Policy

Tenure-line appointment in the Sanford School of Public Policy (Assistant Professor or Associate Professor with Tenure level)

Joint appointment with the Duke University Energy Initiative

Duke University's Sanford School of Public Policy (sanford.duke.edu) seeks applicants for a tenure-line appointment at rank appropriate to seniority. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and conduct research relevant to energy policy, and help develop the University's Energy Initiative (energy.duke.edu).

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in economics, public policy, political science, or a related field. Applications received by November 25, 2016 will be guaranteed full consideration.

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of 69, and offers an undergraduate major, two masters programs, a PhD, and a joint PhD in environmental policy. The School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, including the Duke Center for International Development, and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, India, London and Geneva. The Duke University Energy Initiative is a university-wide interdisciplinary collaboration that addresses pressing energy challenges related to the economy, the environment, and security. The Initiative cuts across business, science and engineering, environment, law, and policy to educate tomorrow's energy leaders, create new options through research, and improve energy decisions by engaging decision makers in business and government.

All candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, and recent writing sample to Professor Billy Pizer, Energy Policy Search Committee Chair, via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7756>. Candidates at the Assistant Professor level should include 3 letters of recommendation; candidates at the Associate Professor with Tenure level should include 3 references.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1942

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Positions in Values and Public Policy

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Economy, Economic Policy

The University Center for Human Values and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for postdoctoral positions in Values and Public Policy. We aim to support highly promising scholars trained in moral and political philosophy, political theory, normative economics and related areas to develop a research agenda in the ethical dimensions of public policy.

Candidates selected will undertake a research project exploring a normative problem arising in an area of public policy in which the Woodrow Wilson School conducts research. They will be affiliated with a unit of the School that can inform and support their work. They will also be invited to participate in programs of the University Center for Human Values. Candidates will be expected to contribute the equivalent of one course each year to the undergraduate or graduate programs of the School or the University Center. This contribution may be fulfilled by teaching a course on a topic related to ethical issues in public policy, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval by the Dean of the Faculty, or service to the School or Center.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a Ph.D. and must not have held the degree for more than three years by the date of appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment.

Applicants' dissertation research need not be specifically in values and public policy, but they will be expected to demonstrate a commitment to working on a research project in this area during their time at Princeton. Projects must be related to an area in which the School has a Center or Program (such as science and environmental policy, health and well-being, democratic institutions and processes, information technology policy or globalization and governance). For more information about these areas, please consult <http://www.princeton.edu/centers-programs>.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments, the promise of the proposed research project in values and public policy, and the likelihood that the project will be enhanced by being carried out at the Woodrow Wilson School. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of appointment is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2017, with the expectation of renewal for one further year assuming good performance. Applicants are expected to be in residence for the duration of the appointment. Princeton offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

You may submit an online application at <http://jobs.princeton.edu>. Search for requisition number 1600730. The online system includes instructions on how to apply.

A complete application will include the following materials:

1. A current curriculum vitae;

2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words), conforming to the expectations stated above. Please identify the Woodrow Wilson School center or program with which you wish to be associated and briefly describe what you hope to gain from carrying out the project there. Also please supply an indicative title for the project at the beginning of the proposal;
3. A scholarly paper or dissertation chapter (not to exceed 12,000 words) representing your scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who will be asked to comment specifically on your qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials should be submitted online by Monday, November 14, 2016. We cannot accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by end of business day on Thursday, November 17, 2016. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately and applications lacking any of the elements listed above may be at a disadvantage. Decisions will be announced by Monday March 6, 2017.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/14/2016

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1930

Drexel University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Global Studies and Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Developing Nations, Conflict Processes

The Department of Global Studies and Modern Languages at Drexel University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Middle Eastern politics, beginning September 1, 2017. Positions are subject to final budgetary approval. The Department will consider applications at the Assistant Professor rank. Global Studies is a new, interdisciplinary department at Drexel University, building on existing strength in International Area Studies. This position will include a joint appointment with Drexel's Department of Politics, and teaching may be cross-listed with that department. Founded in 1891, Drexel University is a dynamic, comprehensive, co-op university located within walking distance of Center City Philadelphia.

We seek candidates who specialize in Middle Eastern politics, either from a Comparative or IR perspective. A background in peace studies and/or conflict resolution is a plus, although not required. Successful candidates will also be expected to pursue an active research agenda and to contribute to the Department's undergraduate curricula. This will include teaching and mentoring our outstanding undergraduate students, all of whom have foreign language proficiency and a broad, global outlook. We have a growing Arabic-language program and offer study abroad programs and co-op opportunities in conflict resolution and civic engagement.

All requirements for the PhD must be completed by September 1, 2017.

Candidates should include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) up to three samples of your scholarly writing; and 4) three letters of reference. Only applications submitted via Drexel's online system will be considered.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2016 and continue until filled. Questions should be addressed to: Prof. Joel E. Oestreich, <jeo25@drexel.edu>.

Drexel University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, welcomes individuals from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, and believes that an inclusive and respectful environment enriches the University community and the educational and employment experience of its members. The University prohibits discrimination against individuals on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability, age, status as a veteran or special disabled veteran, gender identity or expression, genetic information, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions and any other prohibited characteristic. Please visit our website to view all University Policies and Workplace Postings.

Background investigations are required for all new hires as a condition of employment, after the job offer is made. Employment will be contingent upon the University's acceptance of the results of the background investigation.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/25/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1894

Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México (ITAM)

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, Regulatory Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México (ITAM) invites applicants for a position at the assistant professor level in the Political Science Department, commencing in August 2017. This is an open field position with preference for candidates in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political-Economy, Methods (formal and quantitative), and Political Theory (contemporary political theory along with Comparative Politics or Social Choice). Candidates should preferably have a focus on regulatory politics, or policy evaluation.

ITAM is an academic institution committed to scientific excellence and oriented to the international academic community. Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to research and should possess a Ph.D. in political science, but ABDs will be considered if there is a reasonable expectation of completion by December 2016. Classes can be taught in Spanish or English. Salary and teaching loads are in accordance to U.S. standards. Candidates can interview at the 2016 APSA Meeting in Philadelphia.

Information about the Department can be found at: <http://departamentodecienciapolitica.itam.mx/es>

CONTACT: Prof. Vidal Romero, Political Science Department, ITAM, Rio Hondo # 1, Mexico City, D.F. 01800, Mexico; email: vromero@itam.mx.

Application Instructions: Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research papers, research statement (2 page limit), and three letters of reference in pdf format to marta.cebollada@itam.mx by November 1, 2016.

For more information, phone: +52(55)5628-4000, x.3788.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1866

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Kinder Institute Professor of Constitutional Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Job Description

The Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri invites applications for the Kinder Institute (Assistant/Associate/Full) Professor of Constitutional Democracy to begin in the Fall Semester 2017. The position is open rank in Political Science and holds a joint appointment with the Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy.

Started in 2014 and supported by a generous grant from the Kinder Foundation, a family philanthropic foundation established by Rich and Nancy Kinder, the Kinder Institute is an interdisciplinary academic center at the University of Missouri dedicated to promoting excellence in teaching and scholarship on American political thought and history, broadly construed.

The successful candidate will teach four classes per year, maintain an active research and publishing agenda, contribute to undergraduate and graduate education, and participate in the intellectual community and activities of the Kinder Institute.

Qualifications

Applicants must demonstrate a track record of excellence in teaching and publication in a subject area that advances the mission of the Kinder Institute. Special consideration will be given to candidates whose prior work bridges subfields in political science and reflects the potential to teach courses in the area of political institutions and/or political and constitutional development. A Ph.D. in political science is required at the time of the appointment.

Application Materials

Applicants should use the online application system available at <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/index.php>. Apply for Job ID 20828. See here for a direct link to this job:

https://myhr.umsystem.edu/psp/tamext/COLUM/HRMS/c/HRS_HRAM.HRS_CE.GBL?Page=HRS_CE_JOB_DTL&Action=A&SiteId=9&JobOpeningId=20828&PostingSeq=1.

Applicants should include a statement of teaching philosophy, and an outline of a current research agenda in the "attachments" portion of the system. Applicants should merge their CV with a brief cover letter and upload the document in the Resume/CV section of the application. Candidates at the rank of assistant professor should also include three letters of recommendation. Candidates at the rank of associate or full professor should may provide the names and contact information for three references.

All letters of recommendation should be sent to politicalscience@missouri.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2016.

Other Information

For more information about the Kinder Institute, including descriptions of all faculty, graduate and undergraduate programs, please visit democracy.missouri.edu.

The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri is an equal access, equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is fully committed to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status. For more information, call the Associate Vice Chancellor of Human Resource Services/Affirmative Action officer at 573-882-4256.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Director of Accessibility & ADA Education at 573-882-5835.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1813

Hendrix College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Hendrix College invites applications for a tenure track position for an Assistant Professor of Politics to begin in August 2017. The College seeks to extend its tradition of excellence in teaching and scholarship by attracting faculty who combine mastery of their disciplines with broad intellectual interests and commitment to the aims of a liberal arts college. The successful applicant will teach the basic public policy course; one or two upper level, policy specific courses, and generally contribute to the department's American politics offerings. The successful applicant also will teach a section of Research Methods and participate in the Department's undergraduate research seminar, as well as the college's program in engaged learning. Training that would allow the development of a course in some aspect of political behavior is also a plus. Doctorate is expected by the start date; ABD will be considered.

Applications should include a cover letter addressing the candidate's interest in teaching in a demanding liberal arts environment, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate and undergraduate transcripts, as well as a statement of scholarly interest. In addition, three letters of recommendation should be requested sent via e-mail to facultyrecs@hendrix.edu. Address cover letter to Dr. Kimberly Maslin, Politics/IR Department Chair. Review of materials will begin October 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Electronic submissions are strongly encouraged and can be submitted at <https://goo.gl/PcAgQE>. Hendrix is a distinguished liberal arts college located in Conway, Arkansas, thirty miles from Little Rock at the foothills of the Ozark Mountains. The College, affiliated with the United Methodist Church, has a strong commitment to excellence in teaching liberal arts. Hendrix College strives to maintain an environment free from discrimination and harassment, where employees treat each other with respect, dignity and courtesy. The College adheres to the principle of equal educational and employment opportunity without regard to age, race, color, religion, gender, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, or national origin.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies: Shawn Goicoechea, Assistant Director of Human Resources & Title IX Coordinator 1600 Washington Ave, Conway, AR 72032 501-450-1415 goicoechea@hendrix.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1784

Texas Woman's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

The Department of History and Government at Texas Woman's University invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2016. The successful applicant will be broadly trained in political science with a primary field of American Politics and a secondary field in public affairs/policy. A focus on women and politics is highly desirable. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching and an active record of research. The successful candidate will teach the introductory American government course, as well as advanced undergraduate courses and Master's level courses in Public Affairs/policy. Candidates will also advise students and serve the department, university, and profession.

Required qualifications:

- Earned doctorate in Political Science or related field
- Demonstrated potential for teaching excellence
- Demonstrated potential for research and publication

Preferred qualifications:

- Prior teaching experience

The History and Government Department offers a Bachelor and Masters in Government as well as the Bachelors in Criminal Justice (co-administered with the Department of Sociology and Social Work). The department has 5 full-time Government faculty members (plus 5 full-time History faculty) offering degrees to approximately 115 undergraduate Government majors and 20 Master's students.

Send a cover letter, graduate transcripts, CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a sample of scholarly work, and three letters of reference to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Tim Hoye, at THoye@twu.edu. Review of applications will begin on Nov. 1, 2016.

Texas Woman's University strives to provide an educational environment that affirms the rights and dignity of each individual, fosters diversity, and encourages a respect for the differences among persons. Discrimination or harassment of any kind is considered inappropriate. Texas Woman's University is committed to equal opportunity in employment and education and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, veteran's status, or against qualified disabled persons.

Individuals may qualify for a Veteran's Employment Preference or a Former Foster Youth Employment Preference at Texas Woman's University over other applicants for the same position who do not have a greater qualification. If you believe you may qualify, click here for more information and instructions on how to claim an employment preference: <http://www.twu.edu/recruitment-selection/6589.asp>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1731

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level to begin August 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a research and teaching specialization in any area of public administration or public policy. A completed Ph.D. is required prior to appointment.

Teaching responsibilities include graduate courses in the candidate's area of expertise in the Department's NASPAA accredited master's degree program in public administration as well as undergraduate political science courses. Opportunities exist to teach doctoral courses. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate degree in political science and a master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu and upload a cover letter identifying teaching areas, teaching philosophy and research agenda, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), one writing sample, and a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

PA & Policy Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/1/2016
Date Posted: 7/29/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1686

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The position is open to candidates specializing in public policy, public administration, or a related field, with a particular focus on the politics of health policy. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship.

Rowan University is a comprehensive state-designated research institution with approximately 15,000 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20-miles southeast of Philadelphia and it has a branch campus and medical school in Camden and a second medical school in nearby Stratford. The University boasts seven colleges—Rohrer College of Business and colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Engineering, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2017. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 20, 2016. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://rowanuniversity.hodessiq.com/jobs/assistant-professor-of-political-science-aft-glassboro-new-jersey-job-5301829>. Rowan will have representatives at the APSA annual meeting in Philadelphia. Please email Lawrence Markowitz to request a meeting at markowizl@rowan.edu.

Submit a cover letter, a C.V., unofficial transcripts, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment. Candidates must demonstrate authorization to work in the United States. All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/20/2016
Date Posted: 7/15/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1625

Bridgewater State University

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

The Political Science Department invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall semester 2017 at the level of assistant professor. The successful applicant will be a broadly trained political scientist with a primary field of comparative politics. The candidate will be expected to develop courses in comparative public administration, comparative public policy and political economy. An ability to teach introduction to American government would be an asset. Earned Ph.D., commitment to teaching excellence, and evidence of scholarly activity in the field of political science, public administration, or public policy are required.

Applicants should be strongly committed to excellence in teaching and advising, and to working in a multicultural environment that fosters diversity. They should also have an ability to use technology effectively in teaching and learning, the ability to work collaboratively, evidence of scholarly activity, and a commitment to public higher education. Candidates with quantitative and/or qualitative methodological skills preferred. Interested applicants should apply online at the following url:

https://jobs.bridgew.edu/postings/search?&query=&query_v0_posted_at_date=&query_position_type_id=&435=&query_organizational_tier_3_id=any&1426=3&commit=Search

Review of applications will begin October 17.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/28/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1567

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Urban Politics, Economic Policy, Health Care

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in public policy to begin August 2017. The Department seeks candidates with a research and teaching specialization in any of the following areas of public policy: health policy, social policy, economic development, community development, sustainable development, intergovernmental relations, state and local government, and/or urban policy. Expertise in these areas is expected to be in the context of the United States. Candidates also must possess the capacity to contribute to departmental efforts to increase community outreach and engagement with government officials and practitioners in the greater Montgomery area. A completed Ph.D. is required prior to appointment.

Teaching responsibilities normally include undergraduate courses offered to political science majors and graduate courses in the candidate's area of expertise in the Department's NASPAA accredited master's degree program in public administration. Opportunities exist to teach doctoral courses. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate degree in political science and a master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2016. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu and upload a cover letter identifying teaching areas, teaching philosophy and research agenda, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), one writing sample, and a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

Public Policy Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 10/1/2016
Date Posted: 6/16/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1549

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Part-Time Instructor(s)
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Middle Georgia State University has part-time employment opportunities for instructors for face-to-face classes on all campuses (Macon, Warner Robins, Cochran, Dublin, and Eastman) for day, evening, and weekend classes to start Fall 2016 or later in the fields of history and political science. We have particular needs for instructors who are interested in teaching one or more of the following courses:

POLS 1101 American Government
POLS 2501 Domestic Issues
POLS 2601 Intro to Public Administration

The Macon campus is located just over one hour's drive southeast of Atlanta.

Minimum Qualifications: To qualify for a teaching position, candidates are required to have a minimum of a master's degree in political science or a master's in another field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in the discipline.

To Apply: Interested candidates should submit a letter of interest with a current CV or resume, unofficial transcripts from both undergraduate and graduate courses, a list of at least two professional references including email and phone contact information, and statement of teaching philosophy, preferably combined as an attachment in a single PDF file, to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, assistant department chair, at christopher.lawrence@mga.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Informal inquiries welcome.

Middle Georgia State University is a Unit of the University System of Georgia, EEO/AA/M/F/V/D.

Start Date: Fall 2016
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/5/2016
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 1170