

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

February 2017 | Volume 6, Issue 2

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

Administration ..... 4

American Government and Politics ..... 8

Comparative Politics ..... 30

International Relations ..... 50

Methodology ..... 74

Non-Academic ..... 83

Other ..... 84

Political Theory ..... 106

Public Administration ..... 120

Public Law ..... 126

Public Policy ..... 131

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

February 2017 | Volume 6, Issue 2

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4 (8 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 8 (48 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 30 (46 listings)

International Relations ..... 50 (55 listings)

Methodology ..... 74 (19 listings)

Non-Academic ..... 83 (1 listings)

Other ..... 84 (40 listings)

Political Theory ..... 106 (25 listings)

Public Administration ..... 120 (10 listings)

Public Law ..... 126 (8 listings)

Public Policy ..... 131 (25 listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 285

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for February

ADMINISTRATION

Brown University

Rank: Professor and Director of the Annenberg Institute

Professor and Director of the Annenberg Institute

Brown University seeks to recruit an outstanding scholar whose research focuses on questions relating to education, particularly educational inequality, to join the faculty at the level of tenured professor and serve as Director of the Annenberg Institute.

Background

The Institute was founded in 1993 with generous support from the Annenberg Foundation. Currently, the Institute's endowment is valued at nearly $60 million. With an annual budget of around $6 million, the Institute is supported by a combination of endowment income and grants. Under its inaugural director, Theodore Sizer, the Institute's focus built on the experience of the Coalition of Essential Schools to promote high-achieving public schools across the country. Under its second director, Warren Simmons, the Institute has emphasized district-level reform and community organizing for school improvement. A recent planning process chaired by the Provost and including faculty from a range of disciplines, senior administrators, and Institute staff has produced a road map for Annenberg's future directions that calls for greater integration within Brown's academic mission and strategic priorities, including the creation of Institute-based faculty positions.

The Annenberg Institute and Brown's Strategic Plan

The Annenberg Institute represents an extraordinary opportunity to build an interdisciplinary education policy center that supports high-quality scholarship its translation into policy and practice. The University's strategic plan, Building on Distinction: A New Plan for Brown, calls for achieving distinction in "scholarship and public discourse on institutions and ideas that promote social justice and economic prosperity domestically and internationally." As Brown's hub for education policy research broadly focused on questions of educational inequality, the Institute will stand alongside and partner with an array of highly-regarded centers and institutes with related interests, including the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs, the School of Public Health, the Population Studies and Training Center, the Rhode Island Innovative Policy Lab, the Center for the Study of Race and Ethnicity in America, and the Hassenfeld Child Health Innovation Institute.

The Director Search

In seeking outstanding candidates to lead the Annenberg Institute in this new phase of growth and development, the University will give greatest consideration to the following qualities and qualifications:

1. Academic Accomplishment. Because the Director of the Annenberg Institute will be actively engaged in faculty recruitment, evaluation, promotion, and retention, and is responsible for the quality of the various research and teaching programs housed within the Institute, he or she should have a strong scholarly record appropriate for a tenured faculty appointment and be well-known in his/her field. S/he must be able to evaluate academic scholarship from different disciplines, understand and embrace the standards of excellence expected in faculty recruitment and promotion processes, and be respected as a scholar within the broader Brown University faculty community.

2. Vision and Leadership. The new Director will work collaboratively with relevant faculty from across the University to determine the areas of focus for the Annenberg Institute under the general framework of "educational inequality." The Director should not only embrace this framework, but also be able to articulate how s/he will implement and adapt this strategy in the years ahead.

3. Public Engagement. The Director's record should demonstrate an appreciation of the important role of research in informing policy and practice, and also with engaging community stakeholders.

4. Administrative Experience/Leadership Style. As the Annenberg Institute continues to develop, the next Director must be capable of leading an executive team to manage an increasingly complex organization with many different constituencies (faculty, staff, students, Board of Overseers, University administrators, donors, visitors, etc.). A demonstrated record of successful fundraising, program development, faculty recruitment, and organizational management, and a leadership style that is both inclusive and directed, are key for this position.

To apply for this position, please use the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/40580>. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled, but best consideration will be given to materials submitted before March 15, 2017.

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of, gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

For more information about Brown University, please visit www.brown.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/24/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2666

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Academic Director

The Social Science Research Institute (SSRI) invites applications for a senior (Associate/Full), tenure eligible position focused on novel approaches to accessing data on human social, psychological and/or behavioral/biobehavioral processes. This position also will serve as the Academic Director of SSRI's Survey Research Center and, in this new role, pursue novel approaches to extending/supplementing traditional survey data collection approaches. Potential research domains include, but are not limited to, active and passive data collection through mobile devices, social media, and sensors for environmental and physiological data, as well as innovative approaches to capturing population/epidemiological data. As elaborated in the Office of Behavioral and Social Science Research (OBSSR) strategic plan <https://obssr.od.nih.gov/about-us/strategic-plan/>, opportunities for novel data acquisition and measurement paradigms in the social and behavioral sciences are evolving rapidly. We seek a colleague who will develop and implement a vision for innovative approaches that spark novel questions about and insights into human bio-psycho-social and behavioral processes--as these operate in context and across the life cycle. Social and behavioral scientists are located in colleges across Penn State, are oriented to interdisciplinary and collaborative research, and have substantial expertise in traditional survey methods, quantitative analysis of human development and demographic and social change, design, implementation and evaluation of education and preventive intervention programs, real-time ambulatory assessment, and spatial and social network analysis (SSRI). Social/behavioral scientists also connect to interdisciplinary expertise such as in the measurement of the physical environment (IEE) and physiological processes (HUCK), device development (MRI), cyberscience (ICS), and clinical and translational science (CTSI). To foster innovation and capitalize on Penn State's strengths, we seek candidates with strong publication and external funding records along with demonstrated teaching and graduate mentorship proficiency. The successful candidate will hold a doctoral degree in the relevant discipline and join the faculty in the academic unit that provides the best fit to her/his research and teaching interests: Biobehavioral Health, Educational Policy Studies, Educational Psychology, Counseling and Special Education, Human Development and Family Studies, Information Science and Technology, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. We welcome joint appointments across departments and/or colleges. Review of applications will begin immediately, and applications will be accepted until the position is filled; we expect the position to start by August 2017. To apply, applicants must complete an online application that includes a cover letter describing research interests and experiences, curriculum vitae, names of three references and supporting materials (reprints, preprints, statement of teaching and research interests). Please direct questions to the search coordinator, Ms. Rebecca Shultz, rag212@psu.edu or to Professor Susan McHale, mchale@psu.edu, Director, Social Science Research Institute. Please include Innovative Methods Search in the subject line.

<https://psu.jobs/job/69053>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2642

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Dean of Arts and Sciences

This is a 3-year appointment with anticipated renewal. A Dynamic Leadership Opportunity: The University of Rhode Island, the flagship public university of the state, an urban-grant, land-grant, and sea-grant institution, seeks a visionary, innovative leader to serve as Dean of Arts and Sciences, with the goal of leading a diverse college of internationally and nationally renowned programs in research, academics, creative arts and outreach see <http://web.uri.edu/artsci/>

Reporting directly to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Dean serves as the academic leader and principal administrative officer of the College of Arts and Sciences - the largest College in the University. The Dean is responsible for leading college faculty in the development and realization of a vision rooted in innovative perspectives of liberal learning and scholarship, while sustaining robust programs of research, scholarship and creative work in the college. The Dean is also responsible for working to foster collaborative and interdisciplinary academic programs and research that reflect the emerging needs of the university, state, national and global communities.

Visit the URI jobs website at: <https://jobs.uri.edu> to apply and view complete details for job posting (SF00402). APPLICATION DEADLINE: The search is open until filled. First consideration will be given to applications received by March 10, 2017. Second consideration may be given to applications received by March 30, 2017. Applications received subsequent to second consideration date (March 30, 2017) may not be given full consideration.

Please attach 4 (PDF) documents to your online Employment Application: (#1) Cover letter, (#2) Resume, (#3) "Other Document" the names and contact information of five professional references, and (#4) Vision Statement on research, academics, creative arts and outreach.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE SUBMITTED ONLINE ONLY.

The University of Rhode Island is an AA/EEOD employer. Women, persons of color, protected veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of other protected groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2641

Political Studies Association

Rank: Chief Executive Officer (CEO)

The Trustees of the Political Studies Association of the UK (PSA) are seeking to appoint an outstanding Chief Executive Officer (CEO) to build on our heritage as the second largest learned society in the world dedicated to the study of politics.

Since its creation in 1950 we have always advocated a set of common principles that promote the intellectual, social and public value of the study of politics. As a result, British expertise on politics is recognised around the world for its scholarly quality, its openness and most of all for its ability to bridge both politics in theory and politics in practice.

We're about to embark on an exciting ten-year strategy that builds upon this success. The focus of our ambition is to become the leading learned society within the social sciences with an international reputation for supporting our members and being at the forefront of developments in political science. Reporting to the Chair of the Executive Committee and accountable to the Board of Trustees whose role is to determine our strategic direction, we're looking for a dynamic individual to implement their vision.

The successful candidate will be a perceptive, innovative leader, with significant experience of developing productive relationships with trustees and volunteers at all levels. You'll have strong financial acumen, exceptional communication skills and the ability to lead a competent and experienced team of staff.

There is outward-focused work to be done to increase membership and engage similar organisations and sponsors, so your experience will demonstrate how you've developed successful partnerships and commercial relationships with a broad range of players.

But you won't be alone. Core to the success of the PSA is a knowledgeable team of five staff and an engaged and supportive board of trustees.

To find out more, we're holding an open day for prospective candidates on 23 February in our central London office. You can still apply if you're unable to attend the open day, but we strongly advise that you come along to gain a better understanding of what we're looking for in your application.

Formal applications are invited by sending your CV demonstrating the criteria required and a covering letter to Sarah.Brown@psa.ac.uk by 17:00 on 3 March 2017.

Please note that due to the volume of applications we can only respond to those shortlisted.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 3/3/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2628

Portland State University

Rank: Director

Oregon's premier urban research university, Portland State is located on a 49-acre downtown campus in the heart of one of America's most vibrant centers of culture, business and technology. PSU is home to more than 22,000 undergraduate and 5,500 graduate students pursuing degrees in eight Schools and Colleges. PSU was recognized in U.S. News & World 2017 Report as one of the nation's "Most Innovative" universities, and has long been a recognized leader in community engagement and sustainability.

The Mark O. Hatfield School of Government (HSOG) is housed within the College of Urban and Public Affairs (CUPA), which also includes the Nohad A. Toulan School of Urban Studies and Planning, the Department of Economics and the Department of International and Global Studies. CUPA's academic units offer both undergraduate and graduate programs in a dynamic environment of cooperation, collaboration and community engagement. The College has long-standing relationships with local, state, regional and federal governments, nonprofit organizations and associations, and international organizations, allowing students to design and implement solutions to modern challenges through hands-on internships and experiential curricula.

The Departments of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Political Science, and Public Administration are located within HSOG, and offer undergraduate and graduate programs in those disciplines. HSOG offers two interdisciplinary graduate degrees: Master of Public Policy; and PhD in Public Affairs and Policy.

Several Centers and Institutes operate within HSOG, including: Criminal Justice Policy Research Institute; Center for Public Service; Nonprofit Institute; Institute for Tribal Government; National Policy Consensus Center; Center for Turkish Studies; and Center for Women's Leadership.

The Hatfield School of Government (HSOG) Director is responsible for providing intellectual leadership by fostering inquiry and collaboration among faculty and Center and Institute staff. The Director oversees and coordinates, with the chairs of HSOG's Departments, the interdisciplinary Master of Public Policy and PhD in Public Affairs and Policy programs.

The Director will typically be responsible for teaching one course per term related to those degrees, however, this expectation will be reviewed each year with the Dean and may be reduced given academic leadership and other responsibilities and initiatives in the School.

The Director also oversees all HSOG Centers' and Institutes' operations, appoints their respective Directors, provides assistance for research and outreach, and facilitates collaborative activities. This is a twelve-month position, with a five-year, renewable term, and will be offered to the candidate of choice with indefinite tenure at the rank of Professor.

Review of applications will begin 1/16/17. More information about the position can be found here: <https://jobs.hrc.pdx.edu/postings/21843>

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/8/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2469

University of South Alabama

Rank: Chair of the Department

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Public Administration

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Criminal Justice, Health Care

The Department of Political Science & Criminal Justice at the University of South Alabama invites applications for the position of Department Chair to begin August 15, 2017. The department offers undergraduate degrees in Political Science and Criminal Justice as well as a Master's in Public Administration. Highly qualified Associate and Full Professors with a Ph.D. in Political Science, Criminal Justice, or a closely related discipline from an accredited university will be considered for this position.

The ideal candidate will be an accomplished scholar, committed to excellence in research and teaching, have exceptional organizational and interpersonal skills, and possess the vision to lead a growing department. The abilities to collaborate effectively and advocate for program faculty and students are essential. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated administrative experience, but exceptional candidates lacking such experience who have a strong desire to transition to an administrative role are also encouraged to apply.

Applicants should apply at the following link and be prepared to attach a letter of application, a one-page statement of research interests, a brief description of teaching philosophy and proficiencies, a summary statement of leadership and administrative skills, current Curriculum Vitae, names of five references, and a sample of scholarly work. <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/usouthal/jobs/1588869/chair-and-assoc-or-full-professor> Upon request, applicants will arrange to have official transcripts and three letters of recommendation sent to the Chair of the Search Committee. Review of applications will begin December 12, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Information: <http://www.southalabama.edu/colleges/artsandsci/poliscie/jobs.html>

The position of Chair is a 12-month appointment. The ideal candidate will demonstrate the ability to contribute to existing programs and help develop new offerings. An appreciation for mixed methodology is preferred. The ideal candidate will provide transparency in budget and scheduling decisions and be able to highlight faculty and student successes, advocate for program faculty at the college and university levels, seek to increase faculty, majors, and department activities, and mentor junior faculty for success in tenure and promotion and mentor associate professors for promotion to full professor.

The Department of Political Science & Criminal Justice has 10 full-time faculty and more than 300 undergraduate majors and 40 graduate students. The department offers courses for four interdisciplinary programs within the College of Arts and Sciences: African American Studies, Forensic Science, Gender Studies, and International Studies. The department is also home to the USA Polling Group, a survey research center with a 10 station CATI lab that works with a variety of internal and external clients. Additionally, the department has a sizeable Masters in Public Administration (MPA) program and an active student body.

If you have questions about this position, the department, the University, or the area, please contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Elise Labbé-Coldsmith, at ELabbe@southalabama.edu.

The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expressions) religion, age, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2398

Mississippi State University

Rank: Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Mississippi State University. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is searching for a Department Head at the rank of Professor, beginning July 1, 2017. Applications from Associate Professors could be considered conditional to promotion at the rank of Professor by the time of appointment. We seek an accomplished scholar to lead a dynamic program, with an energetic and productive research and teaching faculty experienced in training high-achieving undergraduate and graduate students. Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Public Administration, or related fields, an established research and/or extramural funding record, a commitment to academic excellence, and strong administrative skills. In providing such leadership, the Head will guide curricular revision and programmatic assessment; guide faculty through the tenure and promotion process; oversee all personnel matters; manage the budget; serve as a liaison between faculty and administration; and sustain and enhance collaborative programs with other campus units. Documented experience in departmental or college leadership positions is required. The teaching assignment is negotiable. The salary will be competitive. Degree programs offered include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master in Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research and government centers, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral, research university classified as Doctoral/Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation. It is located in a progressive Sunbelt community and has an array of centers and institutes receptive to collaborative research. Its mission is to provide access and opportunity to students from all sectors of the state's diverse population and to offer excellent and extensive programs in instruction, research, and outreach. More information on the university's mission can be seen at: <http://www.msstate.edu/web/mission.html>.

Applications are to be submitted electronically by accessing <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> and should include a Vita, a letter describing administrative philosophy and research interests, and supporting materials demonstrating administrative, teaching, service, and scholarly achievement, as well as a list of references. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2016, but applications will be accepted and reviewed until the position is filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2187

Ohio State University

Rank: Mershon Center for International Security Studies Director/Academic Department Professor

Units: Mershon Center for International Security Studies/Academic Department

Position: Director (50%) and Professor (50%)

Rank: Professor

Description:

The Ohio State University seeks a director for the Mershon Center for International Security Studies. The Center is the intellectual center on campus for the study of national and international security in a global context. It brings together top faculty from across campus and beyond to promote multi-disciplinary collaboration, high quality scholarship, and public outreach that addresses the questions central to security studies, broadly defined. Ohio State's Office of International Affairs and the College of Arts and Sciences sponsor this position jointly. The director will be expected to pursue an active research agenda and to carry a half-time teaching load in his or her department.

Qualifications:

The Mershon Director must hold a PhD or equivalent degree and have a record of successful publication and teaching that justifies appointment at the rank of full professor. Experiences in governmental, inter-governmental, and/or non-governmental institutions and agencies dealing with security issues are desirable, as is significant experience of international engagement and collaboration generally. Applicants should have a track record of academic leadership including grant seeking and institution building. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajojobs/8055>. All applicants should submit a curriculum vitae and a cover letter briefly (1-2 pages) explaining why they are interested in the position and describing their vision of international security studies going forward. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled but those received by October 24, 2016, will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Richard Herrmann at Herrmann.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 9/1/2016

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2094

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

University of South Florida - St Petersburg

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Presidency, Political Behavior, Research Methods

Job Title: Visiting Assistant Professor of American Politics

Job ID: 12529

Location: USF St. Petersburg

Full/Part Time: Full-Time

Regular/Temporary: Regular

Posting Details

Department: Department of History and Politics

College/Division: College of Arts & Sciences

Salary Plan: Visiting - 9 month

Hiring Salary/Salary: $41,400

DUTIES:

The History and Politics Department at the University of South Florida, St. Petersburg, invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professorship in American Politics to begin in the Fall of 2017. Duties will include teaching undergraduate courses such as American National Government, the American Congress, the American Presidency, Political Parties, Political Behavior, Politics and Media, Public Opinion, and Research Methods. As appropriate, the position may also involve teaching General Education courses and participating in the University Honors Program. The position is an academic year visiting appointment with a possible renewable term for up to three years, budget pending. Salary is competitive. Applications must be received by March 22, 2017 to guarantee full consideration.

QUALIFICATIONS (Education & Experience):

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications: Preference will be given to applicants with teaching experience and demonstrated excellence in scholarship.

<http://www.usf.edu/administrative-services/human-resources/careers/>

Equal Employment Opportunity

USFSP is an EO/Equal Access Institution. Welcoming...Diverse... Inclusive

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/22/2017

Date Posted: 2/24/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2667

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of History and International Studies at Hawaii Pacific University invites applications for a full-time career track position for an Assistant Professor in Political Science. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science with a specialization in US politics.

Candidates should also be capable of teaching an undergraduate course in political science methodology. A focus on Hawaii or other American state/local politics and/or and an ability to contribute to our MA programs in Global Leadership and Sustainable Development and Diplomacy and Military Studies programs are highly desirable.

Other desired qualifications include teaching experience at the university level in a diverse environment. Hawai'i Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawai'i Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Application materials, including a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation should be submitted by March 27, 2017 through the page for this position vacancy found at <https://www.hpu.edu/UniquelyHPU/HPUemployment/job-listing.html>

Please send questions to socialsciences@hpu.edu (no application materials accepted at this e-mail address).

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 2/27/2017
Date Posted: 2/23/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2662

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

UC CENTER SACRAMENTO:
 LECTURER FOR ACADEMIC YEAR 2017-2018

The UC Center Sacramento invites applications for a temporary teaching position in American Politics for the 2017-2018 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the unit. UCCS seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee will offer up to six courses over three quarters. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, and two letters of reference to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01471>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by April 1, 2017 but materials will be accepted until the position is filled.

In evaluating the candidates, the following criteria will be used: coursework and demonstrated knowledge of American Politics and public policy; quality of the graduate training program; demonstration of teaching ability; letters of recommendation; ability to complete degree before appointment; and interview. An acquaintance with California politics and policy making is considered advantageous.

UCCS is interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 4/1/2017
Date Posted: 2/23/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2656

University of California, Davis

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

UC CENTER SACRAMENTO:
 VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR FOR ACADEMIC YEAR 2017-2018

The UC Center Sacramento (UCCS) is pleased to announce a one-year Visiting Assistant Professorship for 2017-2018 in American Politics and Public Policy. We welcome new or recent Ph.D. scholars with an interest in California state politics and policy. Degree must be completed by July 1, 2017.

The University of California Center, Sacramento (UCCS) is a system-wide program of the University of California. Since its inception in 2004, the program has offered UC students from across the 10-campus system opportunities to study public policy and journalism through seminars and internships in and around the state Capitol. The Center also serves as a conduit through which research-based knowledge generated on the 10 campuses is disseminated to lawmakers, legislative staff, and executive branch officials.

The Visiting Assistant Professor will be responsible for teaching Political Science undergraduate courses as well as performing administrative duties assigned as part of the UCCS leadership team. Duties include teaching four undergraduate courses per year, and in addition, to contribute materially towards the Center's mission to increase student and alumni outreach, enhance the student experience, and expand the Center's research and knowledge sharing function. The appointment will be housed at UCCS located in Sacramento, California.

The UCCS Visiting Assistant Professor salary is competitive and includes health benefits.

In evaluating the candidates, the following criteria will be used: coursework and demonstrated knowledge of American Politics and public policy; quality of the graduate training program; demonstration of teaching ability; letters of recommendation; ability to complete degree before appointment; and interview. An acquaintance with California politics and policy making is considered advantageous.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, CV, teaching evaluations, statement on teaching, writing sample, and three letters of reference through the online application form found at <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01470>. For full consideration applications must be received by April 1, 2017. The position is open until filled.

The University of California is an equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 4/1/2017
Date Posted: 2/23/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2657

Los Rios Community College District

Rank: Political Science Adjunct Assistant Professor

Los Rios Community College District

Political Science Adjunct Assistant Professor
 Part-time, Assistant Professor Position. Adjunct pools are open continuously and applicants are contacted/hired year round for assignments based on college needs.

Job Posting Number: F00149P
 Closing Date: open

Complete job description and application available online at: <https://jobs.losrios.edu/postings/3518>

Position Summary

The Los Rios Community College District is seeking a pool of qualified applicants for possible temporary part-time teaching assignments. These positions are filled on an as needed basis and are on-going recruitment. Assignments may include day, evening and weekend courses.

(For complete information on the adjunct faculty recruitment process, select “Home” on the navigation bar to the left, then click Los Rios Jobs and select “Adjunct (PT) Faculty Recruitment Overview” in the “Applying for Positions at LRCCD” section.)

Assignment Responsibilities

General Responsibilities:

The adjunct faculty member shall be responsible for the following: teaching assigned classes under the supervision of the area dean; helping students fulfill their maximum potential in mastering course content; assessing student learning outcomes; maintaining a thorough and up-to-date knowledge in his/her regular teaching field; continuing professional development; utilizing current technology in the performance of job duties; maintaining standards of professional conduct and ethics appropriate to the professional position; assisting with articulation and curriculum development and review; serving on college committees and participating in faculty governance including accreditation and student co-curricular activities; assuming other responsibilities as assigned by the area dean; fulfilling other duties and responsibilities of an adjunct faculty member as outlined in the college faculty handbook.

Minimum Qualifications

1. Have a master’s degree in political science, government, public administration, or international relations OR Bachelor’s in any of the above AND Master’s in economics, history, social science, sociology, any ethnic studies, JD, or LL.B.; OR, hold a California Community College Instructor’s Credential in the discipline area; OR, the equivalent.*
2. Have sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic socioeconomic, cultural, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, and ethnic backgrounds of community college students, including those with physical or learning disabilities as it relates to differences in learning styles.

*Note: Applicants applying under the “equivalent” provision must attach details and explain how their academic preparation is the equivalent of the degrees listed above.

The Los Rios Community College District is an equal opportunity employer, and does not discriminate regardless of race, color, sex, religion, age, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, disability, medical condition, political affiliation or belief, or marital status.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/21/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2652

High Point University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

High Point University invites applications for a one-year (9-month) appointment in political science to begin in August 2017. We are open with respect to sub-field specialization, but the successful applicant must be prepared to teach introductory American politics. The teaching load for a visiting assistant professor is three courses each semester. This line may be renewable, contingent on excellent performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval.

Competitive candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students in a liberal arts setting. We prefer candidates who will have a Ph.D. completed by August 2017, but will consider otherwise competitive ABD applicants for appointment at the instructor level (which would entail teaching 4 courses each semester).

A review of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Application instructions are available at: https://highpoint.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/HighPoint/job/High-Point-University/Visiting-Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science\_R0000120

For more information regarding this position, please contact Dr. Alixandra Yanus at ayanus@highpoint.edu. Information on our department can be viewed at: <http://www.highpoint.edu/politicalscience/>

To apply, candidates will need to apply on-line, uploading their C.V. and a letter of interest that includes an overview of their teaching and scholarly interests. It will be helpful if applicants will identify in their letters any of our existing courses that align closely with these interests. After an initial screening, some candidates will be asked to provide letters of reference, copies of graduate transcripts, writing samples, and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

High Point University is located in the North Carolina's Piedmont Triad, a metropolitan area with more than 1.5 million people. The university is a selective private liberal arts college that enrolls approximately 4,500 students from across the country and dozens of foreign countries. The political science faculty offers small classes and excellent instruction from an accessible, caring group of teacher-scholars. The university is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2650

University of Maine

Rank: Lecturer in Leadership Studies & Public Service

The William S. Cohen Institute for Leadership & Public Service at the University of Maine is seeking qualified candidates to fill a full-time, academic year lecturing position in Leadership Studies, for a two-year appointment starting September 1, 2017, with the potential for annual reappointments thereafter. Typical hiring range for this position is $44,000 to $50,000.

Responsibilities and Duties: The primary duty of this position is teaching, with secondary responsibilities of research and service. The teaching load is 3/3, with a mix of introductory and upper-level courses at the undergraduate level in UMaine’s interdisciplinary Leadership Studies Minor. The minor consists of three core courses—Foundations of Leadership, Leadership Ethics, and Advanced Leadership Theory and Practice—as well as special topics courses, electives, and an internship/practicum course. Supervise internships, independent studies, and undergraduate theses. Advise students on their course of study within the minor and aid them in the registration process, which includes maintaining regular office hours. Maintain an active research program. Perform appropriate service, which includes but is not limited to, active participation in program development and implementation in Leadership Studies and the Cohen Institute, and representing these units in interactions with the larger University and community.

Qualifications: We prefer candidates with an earned doctorate in leadership studies, organizational leadership, organizational psychology, organizational behavior, political science, or a related field. Advanced ABD candidates may be considered for the position. We are particularly interested in candidates with a track record of teaching and research in leadership studies from an interdisciplinary, liberal arts perspective, as well as experience in active learning pedagogies, service learning, and community engagement. Additional requirements include record of or demonstrated potential for success in university-level teaching, assisting with program development, and advising and supervising student internships.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of interest in the position, a current C.V., three letters of reference, at least one sample of research related to leadership studies, copies of graduate school transcript(s), and available teaching evaluations and course syllabi. Review of applications will begin March 17, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit application materials electronically at <https://umaine.hiretouch.com>. Specific questions may be addressed to Richard Powell, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Cohen Institute: rpowell@maine.edu, 207-581-1795. Additional details about the Cohen Institute and the Leadership Studies Minor can be found at umaine.edu/cohen.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2648

Miami University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow or Research Associate in American Political Economy

The Department of Political Science and the Thomas W. Smith Institute for Political Economy at Miami University is searching for a Postdoctoral Fellow or Research Associate in American Political Economy. The position will begin in the 2017-2018 academic year. This position will provide advising and assistance to the Thomas W. Smith Institute and the Miami University Janus Forum; teach one course per term, including (1) an introductory or more advanced course on American political economy and political-economic thought, or on a topic related to the enduring legacy of the Framers of the American constitution, and (2) a course related to the research expertise of the candidate. Duration of appointment is negotiable, 9 to 12 months.

Require: For appointment as Postdoctoral Fellow: Ph.D. in political science, economics, or related field, earned December 2015 through July 2017. For appointment as Research Associate: Ph.D. expected no later than August 2018.

Submit cover letter, resume, statement of research plans, and teaching philosophy to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=3842>. Upload 3 letters of reference (as "other"). If available, upload sample publication/research & evidence of teaching effectiveness. Inquiries can be directed to Cheryl Chafin at chafinca@miamioh.edu. Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2017 and continues until position is filled.

Miami University, an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, is firmly committed to a multicultural environment and strongly encourages applications from minorities, women, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. Miami University does not permit and takes action to prevent harassment, discrimination and retaliation on the basis of sex (including sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking), race, color, religion, national origin, disability, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, military status, or veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, and employment practices. Miami University immediately investigates and takes disciplinary and/or remedial action when appropriate. Requests for reasonable accommodations for disabilities should be directed to Ms. Mary Jane Leveline at (513) 529-2027. Miami University's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report with information on campus crime, fires, and safety may be found at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>. Hard copy available upon request. A criminal background check is required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free campuses.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2647

University of South Dakota

Rank: Chair & Odeen-Swanson Distinguished Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Political Theory

The University of South Dakota invites applications and seeks nominations for Chair of the Department of Political Science and Director of the W.O Farber Center for Civic Leadership. The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or closely related field with evidence of excellent teaching and a dynamic research agenda. The fields of expertise are open, though the ability to teach in American Politics, Public Administration and/or Political Theory would be welcome. Preference will be given to candidates who have some administrative experience and who have demonstrated the ability to connect with alumni and other external constituencies. Candidates with a strong academic record may also qualify for an appointment as the endowed Odeen-Swanson Distinguished Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will be expected to cultivate a broad range of alumni contacts, develop strong relationships with public and private sector partners throughout the state, region and nation, be effective at fundraising, lead by example as a strong scholar, teacher and mentor, and represent the interests of the Department at all levels of the University. The successful candidate will administer a diverse unit with three undergraduate majors (political science, criminal justice and international studies), five graduate programs (MA, MPA, MSA, EMPA and Ph.D.), and several minors. Several programs are online with additional programs being considered for online delivery. The Department has a long and deep tradition of mentoring students, which is reflected in a strong and attentive base of alumni. That tradition has also resulted in the Department being especially well-endowed with scholarships, travel awards, and endowed professorships. The Farber Fund enables our students to study abroad, pursue language immersions, take internships, and participate in a multitude of domestic & international study tours, competitions and conferences. This is a 12 month appointment. Salary is competitive. Anticipated start date is August 22, 2017, although an earlier start date will be considered.

Applications must be submitted online at <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu> and should include 1) a cover letter explaining interest in the position; 2) curriculum vitae, and 3) contact information for four references. Additional information may be requested of finalists for the position. Review of applications will begin March 15, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions about the position may be addressed to:
John Dudley (John.Dudley@usd.edu) Chair, Political Science Search Committee,
College of Arts and Sciences
The University of South Dakota
414 E. Clark St.
Vermillion, SD 57069
605 677-5221.

For more information about the University, visit <http://www.usd.edu/>.

Diversity and inclusiveness are values that are embraced and practiced at the University of South Dakota. Candidates who support these values are encouraged to apply. The University of South Dakota is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2645

Wake Forest University

Rank: Anna Julia Cooper Center Post Doctoral Fellow in Gender, Race, and American Politics

Specializations: Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Asian American Politics, Latino Politics

Anna Julia Cooper Center Post Doctoral Fellow in Gender, Race, and American Politics
2017-2019

The Anna Julia Cooper Center invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship on gender, race, and American politics.

The Anna Julia Cooper Center is an interdisciplinary center at Wake Forest University with a mission of advancing justice through intersectional scholarship. The AJC Center supports, generates, and communicates innovative research at the intersections of gender, race, and place, sustaining relationships between partners on campus and throughout the nation in order to ask new questions, reframe critical issues, and pursue equitable outcomes. Central to that mission is creating a hub for intellectual collaboration, collegial interaction, and scholarly support of interdisciplinary research with attention to intersectional identities and experiences. We invite scholars engaged in research similarly positioned to apply.

The AJC Center postdoctoral fellow is expected to teach two courses in the fall semester and one course in the spring semester in the Department of Politics and International Affairs. These courses are expected contribute to the subfield of American politics broadly defined. The AJC Center postdoctoral Fellow is expected to be involved with and present at AJC Center events; to present annually and participate in AJC Center faculty research seminars; to work closely with AJC Center undergraduate research fellows and to be part of the intellectual life of the AJC Center.

Applicants are welcome from a broad range of social science discipline with the understanding of the expectation of ability to teach courses for the Department of Politics and International Affairs in the subfield of American politics with any of the following focus areas: American political history, American political institutions, American political behavior, American public opinion, human and civil rights, African American politics, Latino/a politics, Asian-American politics, race and politics, gender and American politics, and sexuality and queer politics. Candidates must have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. by September 1, 2017. Applicants should submit online the following materials by March 1, 2017. Please note materials should be in either in Word or PDF format and there is a limit of 5 file uploads per applicant.

- A cover letter directed to Melissa Harris-Perry, director of the Anna Julia Cooper Center
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate transcripts
- A statement of research program
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- Writing sample or publication
- Additional supporting documents will be requested if an interview is granted.

Applicants must make arrangements to have three confidential letters of recommendation sent to letters@wfu.edu. Otherwise, letters and additional documents can be uploaded in OpenHire.

For complete details and to apply, go to <https://wakejobs.silkroad.com> or call (336) 758-4700. The submission of an online application for Wake Forest University is required for this position. Questions about the application process may be addressed to wakejobs@wfu.edu. In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living community, Wake Forest University conducts background investigations for all final faculty candidates being considered for employment.

Wake Forest University welcomes and encourages diversity and inclusion and seeks applications from women and members of underrepresented groups. It seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce to maintain the excellence of the University.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2646

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2017 - 2018

Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2017-2018. Offered by the Program on Constitutional Government, Harvard University - Harvey Mansfield, Director. The Program on Constitutional Government in the Center for American Political Studies and the FAS Department of Government at Harvard University will offer one postdoctoral fellowship for the 2017-2018 academic year. The stipend is $55,000. Applicants must have received their doctorates no earlier than spring 2014 and no later than June 2017. They should have a record of teaching and writing in the fields of political theory or American government and politics, with an emphasis on the theoretical foundations or institutional and political consequences of the American Constitution. A resume, research proposal, and brief writing sample with names of two references should be sent to Laura Donaldson, CAPS-Harvard, CGIS Knafel K429, 1737 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, MA 02138 (phone # for express shipments is 617-384-9810). Applications review process will begin on May 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries should be directed to ldonaldson@fas.harvard.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 5/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2629

University of Delaware

Rank: Temporary Assistant Professor of American Politics

The University of Delaware invites applications and nominations for a temporary assistant professor in American Politics in the Department of Political Science and International Relations (<http://www.poscir.udel.edu/>). Successful candidates should have a scholarly specialization in the field of American Politics. The effective start date is September 1, 2017. Position is for one year, renewable for a total of three years, subject to satisfactory performance, departmental needs and availability of funding.

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POSCIR) within the College of Arts and Sciences has 24 full-time and jointly appointed faculty, nearly 800 undergraduate majors and minors and 45 graduate (mostly doctoral) students. The Department offers two undergraduate majors (Political Science and International Relations) and two undergraduate minors (Political Science and Political Communication) as well as a Ph.D. in Political Science. The department faculty covers four subfields of political science: American politics (including public law and U.S. foreign policy), comparative politics, international relations and political theory. The faculty is a methodologically diverse and collegial group of research-intensive and nationally and internationally known scholars. They are outstanding teachers, mentors, advisers and public servants.

The Department seeks a temporary assistant professor with a record of strong teaching in American politics. Candidates will contribute to excellence in our teaching mission, teaching up to four courses each semester. Evidence of teaching experience is required, with the ability to teach a wide range of courses in American politics. We have particular needs for teaching the presidency and courts, as well as introduction to American politics. The ability to teach in areas of politics, groups, and identities would also be welcome. Opportunity to develop a "topics" course is likely.

Ph.D. in hand by September 1, 2017 expected. Applicants who are ABD will be considered, but must have a granted Ph.D. upon arrival. Applicants must be able to demonstrate skills necessary for excellence in teaching.

Using the Interfolio® online system at UD, applicants should submit a cover letter outlining interest in the position; a statement of teaching philosophy; teaching evaluations and any other evidence of teaching quality, and a current CV. Letters of recommendation may be requested at a later date.

Questions, but not application materials, should be e-mailed to the attention of Professor David Redlawsk (redlawsk@udel.edu), Chair, Political Science and International Relations. Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1743, the University of Delaware (www.udel.edu) combines tradition and innovation, offering students a rich heritage along with the latest in instructional and research technology. Located in scenic Newark, Delaware, within 2 hours of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C., the University is one of the oldest land-grant institutions in the nation, one of 19 sea-grant institutions, and one of only 13 space-grant institutions. With external funding exceeding $200 million, the University ranks among the top 100 universities in federal R&D support for science and engineering and has nationally recognized research (Carnegie rated, very high research activity). With 23 academic departments, 27 interdisciplinary programs and centers, and more than 10,000 students, the College of Arts and Sciences is the largest college on campus (www.cas.udel.edu). The University of Delaware is an Equal Opportunity Employer and encourages applications from minority group members and women.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/8/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2627

Arizona State University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate (JOB#11892)

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The School of Politics and Global Studies at Arizona State University invites applications for a post-doctoral research associate for the Sub-National Analysis of Repression Project, a National Science Foundation funded project. Anticipated start time is August of 2017. This is a full-time, academic year position that is expected to last for two academic years. Salary is $40-45,000 a year and some support for travel to conferences is available.

The research associate will work under the supervision of Principal Investigators Thorin Wright and Reed Wood (in consultation with co-PIs at other schools K. Chad Clay and Christopher Fariss) to help implement coding and data collection of sub-national patterns of repressive practices by states and non-state actors. The postdoctoral research associate will also help to oversee student (undergraduate and graduate) researchers, and will meet regularly with PIs to discuss the project. A description of the project on the National Science Foundation website can be found at: https://www.nsf.gov/awardsearch/showAward?AWD\_ID=1626775

Minimum qualifications include: completion of a Ph.D. in Political Science, Geography, Sociology, Economics or a related field by the time of appointment, but no earlier than Spring of 2015, relevant experience in data collection, spatial econometrics, item response modeling, and/or text analysis.

Desired qualifications: Prior relevant experience in data collection and research concerning international conflict, political violence, state repression, spatial econometrics, or Human Rights more broadly. Fluency in statistical packages such as R, STATA, and an understanding of GIS would be beneficial.

The School of Politics and Global Studies grants a Ph.D., M.A., B.S. and B.A. in Political Science and a B.A. in Global Studies. The School offers a M.A. in Global Affairs and Management in conjunction with the Thunderbird School of Global Management. The successful candidate will have opportunities to contribute scholarship, teaching and service to advance these and other programs at ASU. The School of Politics and Global Studies values interdisciplinary scholarship, and the successful candidate will have the opportunity to affiliate and collaborate with other schools and centers at Arizona State University.

Please send the following application materials to thorin.wright@asu.edu: application letter, cv, names and contact info for two references, and two writing samples. Initial deadline for review of complete applications is March 3, 2017. If not filled, review of complete applications will continue every two weeks thereafter until the search is closed. This is a paperless search; only electronic materials will be accepted. A background check is required for employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html>
<https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2622

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for three full-time Lecturer positions to begin Fall 2017, pending budgetary approval. Lecturers at Georgia State University are full-time non-tenure track faculty with both teaching and service requirements, as well as the opportunity for promotion. Successful candidates will have experience at delivering high quality instruction to undergraduates. They will also have experience and interest in working closely with students of varied backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning. Enrolling one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, Georgia State University has been recognized for providing an outstanding education and exceptional support for students from all backgrounds. Women and minorities are especially encouraged to apply.

Position 1: Candidates for this position should be able to teach Intro to American Government, both online and in large in-person sections. Additional expertise and interest in teaching Intro to Research Methods is preferred.

Position 2: Candidates for this position should be able to teach Intro to American Government as well as Classical to Early Modern Political Thought and Modern Political Thought. In addition, ability to teach Global Issues will be viewed favorably.

Position 3: Candidates for this position should be able to teach courses in our pre-law concentration, including Judicial Process, Civil Liberties and Rights, Intro to American Law, and American Constitutional Law. Additional expertise and interest in teaching Intro to Research Methods is preferred. Candidates able to serve as pre-law advisor are preferred.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in hand by August 2017. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Georgia State University is a unit of the University System of Georgia, is an equal opportunity institution, and an EEO/AA employer. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification. Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, sample teaching materials, any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness, and original transcript(s). Please submit all materials electronically to pols-search@gsu.edu. Please be sure to identify for which of the three positions you wish to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2613

Heidelberg University

Rank: 10 Three-Year Positions (Part-Time, 65%) for Doctoral Candidates

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: American Politics, Foreign Policy, Political Theory

The Heidelberg Center for American Studies (HCA) at Heidelberg University, Germany, invites applications for 10 Three-Year Positions (Part-Time, 65%)

(October 1, 2017 – September 30, 2020) in a Research Training Group (DFG-Graduiertenkolleg) on Authority and Trust in American Culture, Society, History, and Politics.

Funded by the German Research Foundation (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft), the interdisciplinary Training Group will focus on three broadly defined research areas: (1) the authority of the modern state and trust in public and social institutions; (2) the urban dimension of authority and trust; (3) authority and trust in literature, culture and religion.

We target postgraduates with a background in the following disciplines: American Studies, political science, social science, geography, history, linguistics, literature and culture, and religious studies.

Applicants must be fluent in English; hold an excellent master's degree or equivalent; and propose an innovative dissertation project within the thematic focus of the Training Group. Collegiates must take residence in Heidelberg and enroll as doctoral students at Heidelberg University.

The Graduiertenkolleg Authority and Trust (GKAT) offers a stimulating interdisciplinary and international environment at Germany's oldest university. Collegiates will find collaborative networks of European and North American scholars, individualized mentoring, and participate in a qualification program tailored to academic as well as professional career paths.

Gross annual salaries—predicated on the German public sector remuneration system (TV L)—will start at € 28,600 plus benefits (health, nursing care, pensions, and unemployment).

Application deadline: March 15, 2017. Qualified applicants with an interesting profile will be invited to a job market in Heidelberg in late April 2017. For more information on the application process, as well as detailed descriptions of the research design, curriculum, and qualification program, please go to: hca.uni-heidelberg.de/gkat. Heidelberg University seeks to increase the number of women in positions in which they are underrepresented. In the event that the selection committee must choose between several equally qualified candidates, preference will be given to persons with disabilities. Heidelberg University is also dedicated to assist young scholars with families.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/15/2017
Date Posted: 2/2/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2612

Dickinson College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The department of Political Science at Dickinson College is seeking qualified candidates for a one-year replacement position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor for the academic year 2017-18.

The teaching load for this position is five courses per year, to include several sections of introductory-level American Government, and higher level elective courses on institutions or political behavior. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate. Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an interdisciplinary liberal arts environment. A completed or nearly-completed Ph.D. is required.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC, and Philadelphia.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically, via QUEST (online application system) at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>. Please submit the following materials: a letter of application; curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; three letters of recommendation; teaching statement; sample syllabi (preferably for the above listed courses); and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates should identify in the application letter the courses they are prepared to teach. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Dickinson College is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/1/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2607

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral/Postgraduate Associate in Policy Research
Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Methodology
Specializations: Criminal Justice, Education Policy, Economic Policy

Research- and Policy-Related Opportunity at the Policy Lab at the Yale University Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS)

Professors Jacob Hacker and Andrew Papachristos seek a postdoctoral associate/postgraduate associate in policy research for a one-year, full-time appointment starting in August 2017 (or earlier, depending on availability). The position is for a researcher with interests in domestic policy-related domains (especially, criminal justice, education, and economic inequality) with a desire to help develop new collaborative educational and research opportunities for Yale undergraduate and graduate students at ISPS. In addition to pursuing his or her own individual research agenda, the successful candidate's responsibilities will include assisting Professors Hacker and Papachristos in the development of a new collaborative research-policy initiative; mentoring undergraduate and graduate researchers and undergraduate interns; and working with city-, state- and occasionally national-level policy makers. Technical skills—such as statistical and computer skills and understanding of social science methods—are highly desirable. Excellent organizational and project management skills are a must. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or equivalent professional degree. Outstanding candidates with a masters in public policy and/or administration will be considered as well.

Review of applications will commence on March 1, 2017, and will continue until a successful candidate is identified. Applicants are asked to prepare PDF files that contain a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references (who would be contacted during the final stage of consideration). Please apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8860>.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

More information at <http://policylab.yale.edu/> or <http://isps.yale.edu/>.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/1/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2601

Howard University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Howard University seeks applications for a tenure-track position in American Government, specializing in constitutional law. The appointment, at the rank of Assistant Professor, begins in August 2017. Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate courses in American government, constitutional law, administrative law, and judicial processes. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by August 2017.

Candidates should submit: (1) a letter of application that includes a statement of current and future teaching and research interests; (2) a current CV; (3) three letters of reference; and (4) a sample of written work. Applications should be complete by February 15, 2016 when the review process will begin; however, the search will continue until the position is filled.

Howard University is a comprehensive, research oriented, historically Black private university. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. Equal Employment Opportunity: Howard University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, marital status, religion, or disability.

Send application to:
Search Committee Chair
Howard University
Department of Political Science
Douglass Hall, Room 144
2419 6th Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20059
(202) 806-6720

The letter of application, CV, and letters of reference can also be sent via email to: sdrake@howard.edu. Please use subject heading of "Position Vacancy – American Government."

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/27/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2580

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Research Scientist

RESEARCH SCIENTIST, Political Science, to manage the day-to-day research activities of the <http://electionlab.mit.edu/news/election-data-and-science-lab-launches-mit> Election Data and Science Lab (MEDSL)&lt;/a>. MEDSL advances and disseminates scientific knowledge about the conduct of elections in the U.S. and around the world. Its major initiatives over the next two years will be to launch a website that supports a variety of research networks related to election science, establish a data hub to encourage the sharing of new data sets devoted to the scientific analysis of elections, and support the future development/updates of the Elections Performance Index (EPI). Responsibilities include assisting the director in designing and implementing research projects, gathering and analyzing data, designing research protocols, and documenting research results; daily EPI updates for the 2016 (and possibly 2018) election, acquiring data and designing protocols to update indicators, cleaning and checking data accuracy, and working with web designers to modify the EPI website; overseeing the creation of the permanent MEDSL website; monitoring the work of students; keeping current on the latest scholarly research; interfacing with scholars around the country to facilitate the lab's outreach work; and other administrative/financial/clerical duties.

REQUIRED: master's degree or at least three years' field experience in elections and voting research, experience independently analyzing data using statistical programs (e.g., R, Stata), superior written and oral communication skills, flexibility, initiative, and ability to work independently and as part of a team. Demonstrated research experience in voting, elections, election administration, redistricting, campaign finance, or similar subjects preferred. Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or related field preferred. Knowledge of web design and social media strategy useful.

https://careers.peopleclick.com/careerscp/client\_mit/external/jobDetails.do?functionName=getJobDetail&jobPostId=9364&localeCode=en-us apply through MIT's job portal for Job #14424&lt;/a>

MIT is an equal employment opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 1/27/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2586

University of California, Riverside

Rank: Lecture with Potential for Security of Employment

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Lecturer with Potential for Security of Employment - University of California, Riverside -
Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for one full-time Lecturer with Potential for Security of Employment (LPSOE). Appointment as a lecturer with PSOE requires a demonstrated commitment to high-quality and innovative teaching, professional achievement, and service to the academic community and/or public. We are particularly interested in candidates with a record of teaching excellence beyond any experience they may have as teaching assistants. We also seek someone able to teach in several fields, including lower division courses, in three out of the four traditional fields of political science (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Political Theory).

Lecturers with PSOE are members of the academic senate and will be expected to teach six quarter-length courses per year, and to be engaged in significant service and/or research (in pedagogy or political science) equivalent in time commitment to three additional quarter-length courses. Applicants must have a PhD by the start of appointment on July 1, 2017. Salary will be competitive and commensurate with education and experience.

Complete applications should be submitted to <https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/apply/JPF00713> and must include a cover letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations for four or more courses, a statement of contributions to diversity, and three letters of recommendation. Optional writing samples may also be considered. Review of the applications will begin on February 15, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials received by February 15 will receive full consideration. Electronic application and submission of materials is strongly preferred.

Lecturers with PSOE are appointed to two-year terms, are reviewed biennially, and are required to undergo a mandatory 7th-year review for promotion to Lecturer with Security of Employment (SOE). The review process focuses on teaching excellence, professional activity, and service.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/25/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2568

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Rowan University is a comprehensive state-designated research institution with approximately 16,000 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20-miles southeast of Philadelphia, and it has a branch campus and medical school in Camden and a second medical school in nearby Stratford. Rowan is one of two universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical-degree programs. The School of Osteopathic Medicine has a faculty practice plan that serves approximately 200,000 patients throughout Southern New Jersey. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. The University boasts seven colleges--William G. Rohrer College of Business, Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering and colleges of Communications and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics. Rowan has been recognized as one of the Top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked 3rd among public institutions in the North by US News & World Report.

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The position is open to candidates specializing in public policy, public administration, or a related field. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and will be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship at the pre-tenure level.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Applicants should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2017. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by February 17, 2017. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://rowanuniversity.hodesiq.com/job-details.aspx?jobid=5392388>

Submit a cover letter, a C.V., unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.

All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/17/2017

Date Posted: 1/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2553

University of Texas, Tyler

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and History at the University of Texas at Tyler invites applications for a tenure track position in American Politics with an emphasis on Racial and Ethnic Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in Latino/Latina Politics.

The position is at the Assistant Professor level and is contingent upon funding. Ph.D. in hand by time of appointment required. Candidates should demonstrate the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, maintain a record of research, advise students, and serve the department, college, and university. Salary is competitive and based upon experience.

Located ninety minutes east of Dallas/Ft.Worth, Tyler is a thriving city of over 100,000 and mixes traditional southern charm with twenty-first century progressiveness. UT Tyler has an enrollment of almost 10,000 students and has become the cultural and intellectual hub of the area.

Please submit a letter of application outlining teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Robert Sterken, Search Committee Chair, The University of Texas at Tyler, 3900 University Blvd., Tyler, Texas, 75799 or e-mail application materials to rsterken@uttyler.edu

Review of applications begins March 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

The successful applicant must be able to demonstrate eligibility to work in the United States. This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code Section 51.215, which authorizes the employer to obtain criminal history record information. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. The University of Texas at Tyler is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2559

University of Texas, Tyler

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and History at the University of Texas at Tyler invites applications for a tenure track position in American Politics with an emphasis on Racial and Ethnic Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in Latino/Latina Politics.

The position is at the Assistant Professor level and is contingent upon funding. Ph.D. in hand by time of appointment required. Candidates should demonstrate the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, maintain a record of research, advise students, and serve the department, college, and university. Salary is competitive and based upon experience.

Located ninety minutes east of Dallas/Ft. Worth, Tyler is a thriving city of over 100,000 and mixes traditional southern charm with twenty-first century progressiveness. UT Tyler has an enrollment of almost 10,000 students and has become the cultural and intellectual hub of the area.

Please submit a letter of application outlining teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Robert Sterken, Search Committee Chair, The University of Texas at Tyler, 3900 University Blvd., Tyler, Texas, 75799 or e-mail application materials to rsterken@uttyler.edu

Review of applications begins March 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

The successful applicant must be able to demonstrate eligibility to work in the United States. This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code Section 51.215, which authorizes the employer to obtain criminal history record information. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. The University of Texas at Tyler is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2560

Christopher Newport University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow in American Studies #8532

Post-Doctoral Fellow in American Studies

The Department of Leadership and American Studies at Christopher Newport University invites applications for a Post-Doctoral Fellow in American Studies, with annual renewal possible for a total of three years, effective August 21, 2017. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. The successful candidate will have an appropriate Ph.D. by August 21, 2017, a teaching/research focus, and expertise in the study of America's origins and religion, or America's place on the world stage. The successful candidate must be academically qualified and prepared to teach in the American Studies core, including AMST 100, the foundations of America, and AMST 200, the evolution of America, or AMST 300, a course that focuses on America's role in the world, as well as upper level course in the candidate's expertise. The successful candidate will hold a concurrent appointment as Post-Doctoral Fellow in the University's Center for American Studies, an interdisciplinary center that promotes teaching and scholarship on America's founding principles and history, economic foundations, and national security. The nominal teaching load for the Post-Doctoral Fellow is 2-2. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; the University is seeking to shelter a Phi Beta Kappa chapter. The Fall 2016 freshman class of 1,225 students was selected from nearly 8,000 admission applications, and presented high school GPA and SAT score middle 50% ranges of 3.5-4.0 and 1080-1240, respectively. Capital improvements (approaching $1 billion) on the beautiful, 260-acre campus, located between historic Colonial Williamsburg and the ocean resort of Virginia Beach, integrate the University's liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. These include the state-of-the-art Tribble Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport University is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the CNU workplace. For further information on CNU, please visit our website at <http://www.cnu.edu>.

To apply, please send a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), syllabi and other evidence of teaching style and effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation to:

Director of Faculty Recruitment
Post- Doctoral Fellow in American Studies Faculty Search
Search #8532
Christopher Newport University
1 Avenue of the Arts
Newport News, VA 23606-3072
Or facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu

Review of applications will begin on February 16, 2017. Applications received after February 16, 2017, will be accepted but considered only if needed. Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Christopher Newport University, an EO Employer, is fully committed to Access and Opportunity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/16/2017

Date Posted: 1/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2550

National Defense College- Abu Dhabi

Rank: Academic Dean

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Description: Candidates are invited to apply for the position of Academic Dean at the National Defense College (NDC), an accredited senior national security education institution in Abu Dhabi, UAE.

Candidates should possess an outstanding academic background and proven leadership capabilities that will equip them to play a central role in advancing the collage through its next phase of growth.

NDC is a leading institution of higher education in the Middle East that encourages experiential learning through methods that include models, case studies and exercises, and educational technology, to foster a culture of learning among high-skilled policy professionals. More information about the college can be found at (<http://www.ndc.ac.ae/en/>).

The successful candidate will provide academic leadership to the core MA program, including, in coordination with the Education Wing Commander, Planning Wing Commander, and the College Commandant, developing the academic schedule, faculty load and course rotation, managing the day-to-day academic operations of the college, supervising student evaluation, and lecturing and leading seminars as necessary. The Dean will also lead curricular revisions to the core MA program in strategic security studies and oversee a reaccreditation site visit by the local accrediting body of the UAE. The Dean will also lead the development of new programs, including an Arabic language war course, a possible doctorate in strategic studies, as well as short courses and other outreach efforts. In coordination with the college leadership, the Dean will brief senior leadership on the college's academic operations and represent the college.

The ideal candidate will work to continue the college's reputation for critical thinking and academic excellence and grow the institution's profile within the UAE, in the MENA region, and internationally. The candidate will be able to communicate effectively with our diverse faculty and staff, which includes active duty military personnel and civilians from more than a half-dozen countries. He or she should also be able to effectively work with stakeholders and local and international partners in advancing the NDC mission and vision.

Qualifications

REQUIRED EDUCATION/EXPERIENCE:

The candidate must possess a terminal degree from an accredited university in an appropriate discipline and an academic profile of scholarship and instruction equivalent to that of a full professor. The candidate should also hold significant academic leadership experience in a relevant institution, such as a defense college or a civilian graduate program. Experience working as an administrator and faculty member at the graduate level is essential.

DESIRED SKILLS/EXPERTISE:

Experience working as an administrator and as a faculty member at institutions that offer instruction to senior professionals, is highly desirable, as is familiarity with active learning at the graduate level. Practical experience in a field relevant to the college curriculum is a plus, as is experience working to bridge the policy and academic communities.

Cross-cultural proficiency, particularly experience teaching or working in the Middle East and/or demonstrated expertise in strategic studies education in a multi-national/ multi-cultural setting, is a strong advantage. Previous experience generating new graduate level programs and supervising accreditation and reaccreditation site visits are also an advantage.

Arabic language proficiency is an asset but all courses will be conducted in English.

Benefits package includes:

- Attractive and highly competitive salary
- Full housing allowance
- Vehicle allowance
- Education allowance for eligible minor children
- Cost of living allowance

- Relocation allowance

Interested parties should send a cover letter detailing qualifications and CV, including a list of professional references, along with an unofficial transcript of the doctorate (copies are acceptable) to Ms. Betty Boutros at (boutros@translangltd.com). Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2519

University of Virginia

Rank: Full Professor in History, Philosophy, or Politics

History, Philosophy, or Politics

The University of Virginia and the Jefferson Scholars Foundation seek a scholar and teacher of international prominence in the study of the origins, influences, and legacies of the Age of Jefferson. The scholar will be a member of one or more of the following departments: History, Philosophy, or Politics, all of which are in the College and Graduate School of Arts & Sciences. This endowed position will be at the rank of full professor with tenure. The anticipated start date for the appointment is July 25, 2017.

The successful candidate will work in areas such as: the political thought and/or history of Early America; the philosophical influences on Jefferson and his contemporaries; the foundations of liberal political philosophy. Additionally, the Jefferson Scholars Foundation Endowed Professor will:

- forge interdisciplinary and collaborative relationships with faculty across Arts & Sciences.
- provide leadership in A&S teaching and scholarship at a time when we are celebrating the 200th anniversary of the founding of the university.
- train graduate students in the graduate programs across these departments.
- become an active member of the Jefferson Scholars Foundation community. ??The Jefferson Scholars Foundation (www.jeffersonscholars.org) attracts to the University the most promising leaders, scholars, and citizens in the world and provides them with sufficient financial support so that they are free to develop their talents for the good of the University community and beyond. Professors joining the University by way of the Foundation's Chaired Professorships are not only leaders in their respective disciplines, but they also serve the University's mission to provide the best learning experience for undergraduates. They will join a Jefferson Scholars community of engaging undergraduate and graduate students and distinguished professors.

Experience should include:

- a record of advancing the field through the publication of original and impactful research.
- a reputation as a leader in the field.
- recognized excellence in teaching and mentoring.
- a Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree in a relevant field.

To apply, please complete a Candidate Profile online through Jobs@UVa (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>), and electronically attach a CV and a cover letter stating your interest in the position; search on posting 0620002. Letters of reference will be discreetly solicited later in the application process. If requesting information or nominating an individual for this opportunity, please contact S. Max Edelson at sme4n@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process in JOBS@ are directed to Kent Merritt: lkm6h@virginia.edu.

Review of applications will begin February 15, 2017; however, the position will remain open until filled.

U.Va. will perform background checks for all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2510

York College of Pennsylvania

Rank: Post-Graduate Fellow and Visiting Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Research/Teaching Fellowship, Arthur J. Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy, York College

York College of Pennsylvania invites applications for the inaugural Fellow for its Arthur J. Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy.

A joint program of York College's Center for Community Engagement (CCE) and its Department of History and Political Science, the Institute for Public Policy will engage the Fellow and our students in the policymaking process by providing nonpartisan research to legislators at the City, County, and State levels of government. The Fellow will conduct research and work with advanced students to identify and define problems in the greater York community, develop policy approaches to solve those problems, and aim to achieve adoption and successful implementation of specific policy proposals via the Pennsylvania General Assembly and municipal jurisdictions in the South Central Pennsylvania region.

The appointee will hold the title of Fellow in the Center for Community Engagement and the rank of Visiting Instructor in the Department of History and Political Science. The fellowship will generally carry a two-year appointment, though in appropriate cases that time frame might be lengthened or shortened to accommodate a specific project. Among the duties of the fellow will be:

- Completing an appropriate research project or projects likely to be of interest to local residents, legislators, and civic/business leaders;
- Teaching one advanced course per semester;
- Delivering at least two public lectures for the local community;
- Disseminating the results of her/his research in appropriate scholarly and public venues;
- Collaborating with students and faculty in other appropriate York College programs such as the Center for Professional Excellence, the Graham and Eisenhart Scholars, and other CCE programming.

Funding will be provided for travel, speakers, and other appropriate initiatives of the Institute.

Requirements: The ideal candidate will hold a doctorate in a field directly related to public policy research (though ABD or MPP will be considered). The successful candidate will have a research agenda well-suited to studying local, regional, and state-level policy, and evidence of scholarly potential.

York College is committed to building a diverse college community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Interested candidates should electronically submit the following: a current curriculum vitae, letter of application, and names of three references to <http://ycp.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=76821>. Review of applications will begin immediately. While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, for full consideration, applications should be received by January 15, 2017.

York College of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. For a copy of York College's Annual Security Report, you may contact the Office of Campus Safety or visit the College's website and search for Annual Security Report.

About York College and the Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

York College of Pennsylvania (<http://www.ycp.edu>) is a private-sector, independent institution of higher education, offering over 50 baccalaureate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing. The College has an enrollment of over 4000 full time, over 500 part time undergraduate students and over 200 graduate students from 30 states and 12 foreign countries. The campus is located in South-Central Pennsylvania (50 miles north of Baltimore, MD, 30 miles south of Harrisburg, PA, and 90 miles north of Washington, DC) and offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits.

Though the Fellow will spend time on York College's main campus, the locus of the research and mentoring activities noted above would be housed in the CCE's headquarters in downtown York. The Institute for Public Policy is meant to be an objective, nonpartisan advocacy organization committed to the best practices in academic social science. The CCE hosts local government leaders, non-profit organizations, community groups, and other stakeholders, providing assistance in identifying and developing approaches to solving the community's most pressing problems. Under the guidance of the Fellow, the Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy will contribute to that mission through policy research.

The CCE's 20,000 square foot building at 59 East Market Street will open with Phase One mid-fall, 2016. Located across the street from the Yorktowne Hotel and adjacent to city, county, and state offices, the location is central to the downtown renaissance in Royal Square, the Arts District, and Central Market. This Center will be a hub for community education, meetings, and small conferences making it an ideal location for students and faculty engaged in policy research and analysis. This space will become a highly visible epicenter of policy activity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2506

University of Michigan, Flint

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The University of Michigan-Flint invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Public Administration to start Fall 2017. Areas of specialization are open but the candidate will be expected to teach one or more foundational courses in undergraduate and graduate public administration. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or Public Policy is required; ABD's whose degrees will be completed by September 2017 will be considered. The teaching load is 3/3. UM-Flint stresses excellence in teaching as well as scholarship/research. Further, it has been awarded the Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement and places high value on outreach. Candidates should submit evidence of promise as teacher/scholars and willingness to participate in civic engagement. Review of applications will start January 20th 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit: a cover letter outlining teaching and research interests/agenda, C.V., teaching evaluations (if available), names and contact information of three references and writing samples. Documents must be submitted electronically and addressed to: Dr. Kathryn Schellenberg, Search Committee Co-Chair at kathsch@umflint.edu.

http://careers.umich.edu/job\_detail/134911/assistant\_professor\_-\_public\_administration

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2498

University of Idaho

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Politics & Philosophy seeks well qualified applicants for a full-time (9 month) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Science. Beginning August 2017 this position will teach courses to support the on campus and on line Master of Public Administration program, and the undergraduate political science curriculum. The faculty member will conduct research on local government administration and public administration, and provide service to the Department of Politics and Philosophy and the Center for Local Government Research and Outreach.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD in Political Science or Public Administration.

Teaching and research expertise in local government administration and public administration.

Preferred Qualifications:

Expertise in local government administration and research methods. Evidence of teaching and research effectiveness.

Background Check: Applicants who are selected as final possible candidates must be able to pass a criminal background check.

To apply, please visit: jobs.uidaho.edu

EEO Statement

University of Idaho is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/29/2017

Date Posted: 12/12/2016

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 2476

Misericordia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government, Law, and National Security

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Misericordia University invites applications for a tenure-track position as assistant professor in the Government, Law, and National Security program starting August 2017. Offering the second largest major in the College of Arts and Sciences, the GLNS program is part of the university's Department of History and Government and seeks a specialist in American Government or American Politics. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or public administration is required; college teaching experience is strongly preferred and research output is expected.

The candidate will teach the following undergraduate courses in the growing Government, Law, and National Security Program: 1) The U.S. Homeland Security System 2) Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy and 3) U.S. Homeland Security Issues (focusing on areas of natural hazards, mitigation planning, emergency management, domestic intelligence, transportation security or border security). The candidate must be able to offer courses in the university's Core Curriculum, as well as upper-level courses in the major reflecting the candidate's teaching and research interests.

Misericordia University, a 92-year-old institution founded by the Sisters of Mercy, offering baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degrees, is located adjacent to the Pocono Mountains region of Northeastern Pennsylvania, approximately 2 hours from New York City and Philadelphia. The university's approach of combining a quality liberal arts education with professional preparation and service leadership has resulted in its wide regional acclaim.

Misericordia University is committed to student, faculty and staff diversity and values the educational benefit this brings to campus. Candidates should indicate any experience and/or leadership that contribute to this goal.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

For confidential consideration please enclose in your application package a letter of application which includes your telephone number and e-mail address, transcripts, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy and three letters of reference to: Misericordia University, Attention: Human Resources Department, 301 Lake Street, Dallas, Pennsylvania, 18612 or applications can be submitted online at www.misericordia.edu/hr.

URL to apply: https://workforcenow.adp.com/jobs/apply/posting.html?client=mucougars&jobId=43083&lang=en\_US&source=CC2

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/5/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2454

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Electoral Behavior

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis. Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. Doctorate required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Please submit cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Applications should be submitted online at AcademicJobsOnline (AJO) at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8511>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2017. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications if there is still a vacancy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2439

Schreiner University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Schreiner University welcomes applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a tenure-track faculty position beginning August 2017. The successful candidate will teach the basic introduction to American Politics course and a variety of courses in American politics (e.g. Presidency, Congress, Legislative Process, Public Policy, Public Administration, Media and Politics, Judicial process, etc.). Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience in working with pre-law majors. The successful candidate will also have an active research agenda (area of specialization is open). Responsibilities include teaching, advising, and participation in curricular development and assessment. The successful candidate will be expected to participate fully in departmental duties, committee service, campus activities, and engage in scholarship and/or creative activities aligned with institutional goals. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester.

Qualifications: An earned doctorate in political science, ABD with completion no later than August 2017. Teaching experience at the collegiate level is preferred.

Schreiner University is a small liberal arts college in the Texas Hill Country (approximately 1 hour from San Antonio and 2 hours from Austin). Schreiner University is a Hispanic-serving institution, an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is strongly and actively committed to diversity within its community.

The employment application can be found at the link below. Candidates should include in their application a cover letter, CV, list of three references, and course evaluations if available.

<http://www.schreiner.edu/about/hr/application/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2278

Norwich University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

The Department of History and Political Science at Norwich University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall 2017 semester. The successful candidate will teach and do research in the fields of American politics and public policy and will teach undergraduate courses in Intro to Public Policy, the survey course in American Politics, the U.S. Presidency, Legislative Process, State and Local Politics, Research Methods (with emphasis on quantitative methods), American Citizenship, and a Capstone Senior Seminar in the candidate's field of expertise. The successful candidate will also manage the Political Science Internship Program and facilitate the growth of public policy studies across the university. While a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, Norwich University is committed to junior faculty developing scholarship through a supportive faculty development program.

Qualifications: To be eligible for appointment at the assistant professor rank, candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a Ph.D. in a public policy-related field. Highly qualified ABDs may be considered for appointment at the instructor level. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2016 and remain open until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of interest, which includes your preferred substantive American politics and public policy focus, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy): <https://norwich.interviewexchange.com>

Norwich University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to providing a positive education and work environment that recognizes and respects the dignity of all students, faculty and staff. Reasonable accommodations will be made for the known disability of an otherwise qualified applicant. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at nuhr@norwich.edu for assistance.

All candidates must be authorized to work for any U.S. employer. A post offer, pre-employment background check will be required of the successful candidate.

Norwich University offers a comprehensive benefit package that includes medical, dental, vision, group life and long term disability insurance, flexible-spending accounts for health and dependent care, 403(b) retirement plan with employer match, employee assistance program, paid time off including parental leave, and tuition scholarships for eligible employees and their family members.

Norwich University is a diversified academic institution that educates residential students - both military and civilian lifestyles - and working adults across the globe. Norwich offers a broad selection of traditional and distance-learning programs culminating in baccalaureate and master's degrees, and graduate certificates. Founded in 1819 by U.S. Army Capt. Alden Partridge, Norwich is the oldest private military college in the country and the birthplace of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC).

Norwich University takes positive action to insure that all applicants for employment are considered, and employees are treated in compliance with applicable laws and regulations governing non-discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, color, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, genetic information or veteran's status. As an institution of higher education, Norwich is dedicated to learning, emphasizing teamwork, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking and encourages applications from qualified individuals who will help us achieve this guiding value.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2124

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration seeks applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 2017. Candidates should have a primary research and teaching interest in American Politics with a principal focus on American political institutions. A Ph.D. degree is required. Candidates with ABD status will be considered but they must possess a Ph.D. degree by the time of appointment. Applicants should demonstrate a strong research capability, a commitment to effective teaching, and a willingness to work with colleagues in professional service responsibilities. The teaching load is four classes per year, a 2-2 load.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 Ph.D. students. The department has strong ties to several research centers within the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information is available on the department at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Brian Shoup, at bds223@msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF #493890) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, and a curriculum vita. In addition, please send three letters of recommendation to Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin October 21, 2016, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2095

Saint Anselm College

Rank: Endowed Jean Chair of American History and Government

Jean Chair of American History and Government

The History and Politics Departments at Saint Anselm College invite applications for the endowed Jean Chair of American History and Government. The Chair is named in honor of Joseph Jean, a New Hampshire businessman and philanthropist, and alumnus of the College, class of 1953. The committee will consider applications from advanced assistant professors through full professors, granting appointment with tenure to tenured faculty, and appointments on the tenure track to those without tenure.

The appointment will be made in either the History Department or Politics Department depending on the candidate's Ph.D. degree. The committee encourages applications from historians working on U.S. political or constitutional history and from political scientists working on American political development in an area other than political institutions. The committee also prefers scholars who take an interdisciplinary approach to their subject matter or could foster collaboration across these two departments.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach two courses per semester. These will include both existing department course offerings and new courses to be developed for the department in the candidate's area of expertise. Since a 2/2 teaching load constitutes a reduced annual teaching load, the endowed chair must demonstrate correspondingly higher levels of scholarly productivity and leadership in public outreach activities. Other duties include advising, curriculum development, and committee service.

Applicants must submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability and research potential (samples of scholarship, articles or conference papers) and academic transcripts to the attention of Dr. Beth Salerno, History Department Chair, via the college website at www.anselm.edu/hr. Three letters of recommendation are required and should be submitted in PDF format via email to the department faculty assistant, Robin Allard, at rallard@anselm.edu. Inquiries can be made to Dr. Beth Salerno at bsalerno@anselm.edu or 603-641-7049. Review of applications and supporting materials will begin October 30, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Required Skills

Ph.D. and record of excellence in scholarship and teaching required.

Required Experience

Candidates need a minimum of four years full-time teaching experience, and candidates for associate or full professor should be widely recognized for their distinction and professional accomplishment.

Founded in 1889, Saint Anselm College is a Catholic, liberal arts college in the Benedictine tradition. The community includes approximately 2,000 students, 150 full-time faculty members and 380 full-time staff in addition to the monks of Saint Anselm Abbey.

Successful candidates will be able to assist the college to further its strategic goals for institution-wide diversity and inclusiveness.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2071

Ohio State University*Rank: American Politics and Director of Democracy Studies

Description: The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of associate or full professor. The successful candidate will have a sustained record of high quality scholarship in the quantitative study of mass political behavior, institutions, or policy making processes. The successful candidate will serve as the Director of the emerging Democracy Studies Program, an interdisciplinary community of faculty from the fields of political science, law, public administration, history, philosophy, communications, and others (see <http://u.osu.edu/democracystudies/>). Through high-profile research projects and other collaborative activities, the Program supports thoughtful inquiry into issues relating to the institutions, processes, and norms of a healthy democratic society. The Director will be responsible for leading the Democracy Studies Program and helping to promote its growth. Beyond serving as the Director, the selected candidate will teach courses within the Department of Political Science. This position is partially funded by Ohio State's Discovery Themes Initiative, a significant faculty hiring investment in key thematic areas in which the university can build on its culture of academic collaboration to make a global impact.

Qualifications: Candidates must have a doctoral degree in political science or a related field. Appointment is contingent on the University's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The OSU campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Please submit applications via Academic Jobs Online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7886>. Complete applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement describing experiences and abilities relevant to the Director position. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but those received by October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be made to Professor Kathleen McGraw at mcgraw.36@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2001

Ohio State University*Rank: Race and Gender in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Description:

The department of political science seeks candidates for a tenured or tenure-track position in the study of race and/or gender in politics. We welcome applications from scholars studying comparative politics and international relations, however, we are especially interested in applicants who study race and/or gender as they pertain to politics in the United States. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding.

This position is part of a larger initiative at Ohio State to increase faculty diversity and to promote research and teaching on topics central to race, ethnicity, sex, and gender as well as disparities in modern society linked to these categories. The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences intends to hire at least eight new faculty members under this initiative. The new cluster of faculty will be able to build a network with many committed professors already at home in the College of Arts and Sciences in the Diversity & Identity Studies Collective, the Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and the Department of African American and African Studies. Graduate certificates in this area of inquiry and undergraduate bridge programs are also being built to support this initiative.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have that degree by Autumn 2017. It is possible the successful candidate could have a PhD degree in a cognate field such as sociology or social psychology but a PhD in political science is preferred.

Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/7871>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2000

James Madison University

Rank: Assistant Professor- U.S. Government and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY- {Job link #0407599}- The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in U.S. Government and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2017 semester, pending budgetary approval. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. Areas of specialization should include health policy, economic policy, and/or comparative public policy.

The department seeks candidates with strong teaching and research skills. Review of applications will begin October 6, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {# 0407599}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience. The College of Arts and Letters (CAL) at JMU serves as a cross-disciplinary center of intellectual inquiry and practice on campus. All programs in the college are committed to fostering rigorous, constructive dialogue in classrooms, local communities, and the larger world. James Madison University is committed to a diverse and inclusive community and to maintaining a work and educational environment that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability; genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1980

Texas Tech University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics--Behavior

Specializations: Political Psychology, Gender Politics & Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Department of Political Science at Texas Tech University is seeking applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017. The department is seeking candidates with research and teaching specialization in American Political Behavior. Candidates who study the political psychology and/or race/ethnicity/gender politics are especially encouraged to apply. We prefer candidates with strong quantitative or formal methods training and the ability to teach graduate methods courses. Evidence of excellence in teaching and research, and a commitment to attracting external funds are also highly valued. Service duties include program-building, as well as commitment to extra-curricular activities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected. The successful candidate will have his/her PhD in Political Science completed by the start of the appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, contact information for three references, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants for the position will start to be reviewed on 10/15/2016. For questions about the position, contact Dr. Dennis Patterson, Chair, Department of Political Science; dennis.patterson@ttu.edu. These items should be submitted at <http://www.texastech.edu/careers/>. The requisition number is 8508BR.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, though their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, protected veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1970

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for full-time appointment during the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical and computational research techniques with contemporary social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health, the role of party networks in contemporary American politics, and methods for addressing post-treatment bias in experiments. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by attending seminars, consulting with faculty and students on research, etc. QSS fellows also join a broader community of postdoctoral social science researchers at Dartmouth that includes scholars at the Neukom Institute, the John Sloan Dickey Center, and the Dartmouth Society of Fellows.

The stipend for the QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, there may be an opportunity for the fellow to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend. The fellowship can be extended through the 2018-2019 academic year subject to the approval of Nyhan and the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application Instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests no longer than two pages that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant

4) Three letters of reference

5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/37062.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1934

Georgetown University

Rank: Multiple positions--African American Studies

Seizing this pivotal moment in Georgetown's history, the Department of African American Studies invites applications for at least four open-rank positions, which have an anticipated start date of August 1, 2017. This first set of hires inaugurates a multi-year hiring initiative and is an integral part of Georgetown University's plan to expand African American Studies, and establish a Research Center for Racial Justice. We seek scholars who have an ambitious research agenda, a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, and an earnest desire to help build the newly formed department and participate in other university service. Currently, our strengths lie in African American studies and its intersections with literary studies, sociology, history, and performance studies. Building upon these fields, we seek cross-disciplinary, multi-disciplinary, and trans-disciplinary scholarship that strengthens African American Studies' capacity in psychology, visual studies, philosophy, political science, economics, women's and gender studies, and law and criminology. More specifically, we seek applicants whose research interests engage with one of the following topics:

- Structural and cultural causes of and solutions to black inequality
- Black cultural productions and responses to legacies and impacts of slavery, Jim Crow segregation, and imperialism in US institutions
- How Black intersectionality informs equality and social justice

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. in African American Studies or related fields by July 1, 2017. Senior candidates with administrative and departmental leadership interests and experience are especially welcomed. All applicants should specify the rank for which they are applying in the letter of interest.

Applicants without tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), three letters of recommendation, and dissertation abstract (if the candidate is ABD).

Applicants with tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), research statement (current and future projects, or career narrative), and names, telephone numbers, and email addresses for three referees.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016 and will continue until the positions are filled.

Applicants without tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36591>

Applicants with tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36594>

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1933

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor American Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics beginning July 2017. A Ph.D is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 17, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1939

Eastern University-St Davids

Rank: Assistant Professor American Government

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Assistant Professor American Government
Political Science Department
2016-2017 AY Replacement Search

The Department of Political Science at Eastern University, a university of the liberal arts and sciences located in St. Davids Pennsylvania, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in the fall of 2017. We are seeking to fill a position in American Government with preference given to individuals who can contribute to Political Theory. Candidates should desire to participate in the liberal arts core by teaching courses that explore the intersection of faith, reason, and justice. A Ph.D. in hand is preferred but ABD candidates nearing completion are also encouraged to apply. Please note that a J.D. is not sufficient for this appointment.

Eastern University is a Christian university of the arts and sciences that integrates faith, reason and justice for students in its undergraduate, graduate, Seminary, urban, professional and international programs. Applicants should have a religious commitment compatible with its mission and be willing to endorse by signing Eastern University's doctrinal statement. The university complies with federal and state guidelines of nondiscrimination in employment; members of protected classes encouraged to apply.

This description is intended to describe the general level and nature of work performed by the person/people assigned to this position. It is not to be construed as an exhaustive list of duties and responsibilities of the person/people so assigned.

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017. Applicants are requested to send a cover letter including a brief statement of your faith, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations (or portfolio), unofficial copies of graduate transcripts, and three professional letters of recommendation/reference to jobs@eastern.edu or by mail to:

Eastern University
Office of Human Resources
1300 Eagle Rd.
St. Davids, PA 19087-3696

All positions remain open until filled.

Interested candidates participating in the APSA Annual Meeting should contact Dr. Sharon Gramby-Sobukwe to arrange an on-campus visit and interview.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1874

Hendrix College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Hendrix College invites applications for a tenure track position for an Assistant Professor of Politics to begin in August 2017. The College seeks to extend its tradition of excellence in teaching and scholarship by attracting faculty who combine mastery of their disciplines with broad intellectual interests and commitment to the aims of a liberal arts college. The successful applicant will teach the basic public policy course; one or two upper level, policy specific courses, and generally contribute to the department's American politics offerings. The successful applicant also will teach a section of Research Methods and participate in the Department's undergraduate research seminar, as well as the college's program in engaged learning. Training that would allow the development of a course in some aspect of political behavior is also a plus. Doctorate is expected by the start date; ABD will be considered.

Applications should include a cover letter addressing the candidate's interest in teaching in a demanding liberal arts environment, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate and undergraduate transcripts, as well as a statement of scholarly interest. In addition, three letters of recommendation should be requested sent via e-mail to facultyrecs@hendrix.edu. Address cover letter to Dr. Kimberly Maslin, Politics/IR Department Chair. Review of materials will begin October 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Electronic submissions are strongly encouraged and can be submitted at <https://goo.gl/PcAgQE>. Hendrix is a distinguished liberal arts college located in Conway, Arkansas, thirty miles from Little Rock at the foothills of the Ozark Mountains. The College, affiliated with the United Methodist Church, has a strong commitment to excellence in teaching liberal arts. Hendrix College strives to maintain an environment free from discrimination and harassment, where employees treat each other with respect, dignity and courtesy. The College adheres to the principle of equal educational and employment opportunity without regard to age, race, color, religion, gender, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, or national origin.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies: Shawn Goicoechea, Assistant Director of Human Resources & Title IX Coordinator 1600 Washington Ave, Conway, AR 72032 501-450-1415 goicoechea@hendrix.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1784

American University

Rank: Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

AY2016-17

School of Public Affairs

American University

American University's School of Public Affairs (SPA) invites applications from accomplished scholars for the position of associate dean for undergraduate education. This position includes a faculty appointment at the rank of (advanced) associate or full professor in the Government Department or the Department of Justice, Law & Criminology beginning June 1, 2017. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring. The position offers the unique professional, research, social, and cultural opportunities of a top-ranked school and university located in Washington, DC. In addition, the associate dean for undergraduate education will play a critical role in formulating school policy and be part of a dynamic leadership team.

The School of Public Affairs offers four undergraduate majors, four undergraduate minors, and three highly selective enrichment programs (SPA Leadership Program, Politics, Policy and Law Scholars, and SPA Honors). SPA has approximately 1300 engaged undergraduate students who are research focused and use DC as their laboratory. The associate dean for undergraduate education will provide leadership in the area of undergraduate education and will be responsible for handling all issues that arise concerning undergraduate students in the school. The associate dean directs the activities of the assistant director of recruitment and retention, four academic advisors, enrichment program directors, and serves as the school's Academic Integrity Officer. Duties will also include teaching one course a year in one of the School's degree programs.

American University is reshaping the composition and experience of its undergraduate student body. The University is committed to diversifying the student body in terms of racial/ethnic diversity, geographic diversity, and diversity of socioeconomic status. American University received a record number of undergraduate applications for Fall 2016, resulting in an admit rate of approximately 25 percent. The number of students with SPA undergraduate majors has increased over the past several years. American University is undertaking a multi-year initiative to reinvent the student experience through reimagining service delivery, a focus on student success, and modernization of the undergraduate curriculum. We are looking for an associate dean who will embrace the opportunity to participate in this initiative and shape the future of SPA's undergraduate programs.

Qualifications

Candidates must possess a distinguished record of scholarship in one of the academic fields encompassed by the school's undergraduate programs and meet American University's standards for appointment with tenure at the associate or full professor level. Preference will be given to candidates who have held leadership positions at the university, school, department or program level and who can also provide evidence of advancing their university's academic standing, scholarship, or research productivity.

Application Process

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2016, and continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/35978>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vita, statement of administrative experience and contact information for three references. Electronic submissions are preferred.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively “Protected Bases”) in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1756

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for one tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2017. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. We are especially interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of democratic representation, particularly as it relates to the study of underrepresented minorities, either in the U.S. or cross-nationally.

Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by November 1, 2017. The application deadline is September 15, 2016, but applications will be accepted until the search is closed. All applications should be submitted electronically via <https://jobs.rice.edu/> (from this page, select “Faculty,” then choose “Assistant Professor of Political Science” or “Associate Professor of Political Science,” according to your level). A complete application for candidates at the assistant professor level will include (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) two writing samples, and (5) three letters of recommendation. Candidates who currently hold the rank of associate professor are asked to submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and information for at least three references.

Equal Opportunity Employer – Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 9/15/2016

Date Posted: 7/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1611

University of Redlands

Rank: Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for the Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017 semester.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (American Politics or Comparative Politics with U.S. expertise), with at least five years of professional experience, preferably at a liberal arts institution. We especially welcome applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University’s Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position.

Please submit application materials (including letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, samples of scholarly work, and three letters of reference, under separate cover) electronically at apply@redlands.edu or mail to: Human Resources, University of Redlands, PO Box 3080, Redlands CA 92373-0999. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2016, and position will remain open until filled.

Inquiries can be directed to steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu, including requests for interview at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Philadelphia, PA.

The University of Redlands is committed to increasing the diversity of the university community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and/or experiences in the area of inclusivity. Strongly preferred are candidates with demonstrated experience working with diverse student populations. The University of Redlands is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Employer and actively encourages applications from minority and other members of underrepresented groups. The University of Redlands does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, disability, age, marital status, or sexual orientation in its programs and activities.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/1/2016

Date Posted: 7/7/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1593

American University

Rank: Director, Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies and Associate or Full Professor in American Politics

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Presidency, Congress

Position Announcement

Director, Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies and Associate or Full Professor in American Politics

Department of Government
School of Public Affairs
American University

The School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of associate or full professor to serve as the Director of the Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies (CCPS) beginning August 1, 2017. The Director is responsible for developing and facilitating high-profile research projects and creating public programming that draws on the expertise of AU faculty and leading analysts from the Washington, DC community and beyond. The Director should ensure that CCPS contributes to the national dialogue about Congress, the Presidency, campaigns, and elections. The Director must secure external funding to support CCPS work and enhance the School of Public Affairs' prominence as a venue for high impact research and policy analysis.

Since its establishment in 1979, CCPS has facilitated collaborative research projects, organized hundreds of forums and conferences related to American politics, promoted curriculum development, and connected its work to policymakers, journalists, students, and academics who put research findings into practice. The new Director will be expected to continue that legacy and position CCPS to become even more influential.

Applicants should hold a doctoral degree in political science with a focus on American political institutions – Congress or the Presidency – and related subfields including campaigns and elections. We seek to recruit candidates who are theoretically sophisticated, methodologically rigorous, and have demonstrated success in externally funded research, high impact publications, and teaching. Depending on qualifications, the candidate will be hired at the rank of either Associate or Full Professor and will be suitable for tenure at the time of hiring.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/35010>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vita, statement of research interests, statement of vision for CCPS, and contact information for three references. Electronic submissions are preferred.

The Center for Congressional Presidential Studies has organized over 300 conferences and academic forums since its founding. The research focus of the Center has been on Congress and the presidency, U.S. elections and issues and policies facing the two institutions. The Center staff consists of full time and part-time affiliated faculty, graduate students, and an administrative staff member. See website: american.edu/spa/ccps for details on all Center videos, programs and publications. The Center publishes the refereed journal, Congress and the Presidency, since 1984. The Center has successfully solicited funding for its research, educational activities, and student scholarships since its founding and has sponsored over thirty visiting research fellows Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu. American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/16/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1475

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Bates College

Rank: Lecturer

Visiting Position in Comparative Politics with a focus on Middle East
The Department of Politics at Bates College invites applications for a one-year visiting position focusing on Comparative Politics with a specialty in politics of the Middle East starting in the fall of 2017. Candidates should have a Ph.D. completed or nearly complete. The Politics Department has implemented an innovative curriculum that uses concentrations on broad sets of ideas in political science rather than the traditional subfields. Those applying should show a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and scholarly research. Responsibilities include teaching four courses and advisement of individual senior theses. Candidates with teaching and research interest in mixed-methods approaches are encouraged to apply. The college and the Politics Department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their teaching statement and/or research statement. Consideration of applications will begin March 10, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

QUALIFICATIONS

ABD will be considered, Ph.D., preferred.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Review of applications begins March 10, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following: a letter of application, curriculum vita, teaching statement, research statement, writing sample, graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation.

Employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background check.

<http://apply.interfolio.com/40843>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/10/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2659

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, Foreign Policy

<http://www.cmu.edu/ips/>

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in American Politics, Comparative Politics, IPE, and Globalization.

The postdoctoral fellow will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2017 to July 31, 2019. The salary for this position is $45,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2014, and August 31, 2017. The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on March 23, 2017.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Please e-mail your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/23/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2660

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia

The Department of History and International Studies at Hawaii Pacific University invites applications for a full-time career track position for an Assistant Professor in International Studies. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science, International Studies, or International Relations with a specialization in Asia or the Asia-Pacific region.

Candidates must be qualified to teach courses on the politics and international relations of Asia or the Asia-Pacific region, as well as contribute to our MA Diplomacy and Military Studies program.

Other desired qualifications include teaching experience at the university level in a diverse environment. Hawai'i Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawai'i Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Application materials, including a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation should be submitted by March 27, 2017 through the page for this position vacancy found at <https://www.hpu.edu/UniquelyHPU/HPUemployment/job-listing.html>

Please send questions to socialsciences@hpu.edu (no application materials accepted at this e-mail address).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/27/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2661

High Point University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

High Point University invites applications for a one-year (9-month) appointment in political science to begin in August 2017. We are open with respect to sub-field specialization, but the successful applicant must be prepared to teach introductory American politics. The teaching load for a visiting assistant professor is three courses each semester. This line may be renewable, contingent on excellent performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval.

Competitive candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students in a liberal arts setting. We prefer candidates who will have a Ph.D. completed by August 2017, but will consider otherwise competitive ABD applicants for appointment at the instructor level (which would entail teaching 4 courses each semester).

A review of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Application instructions are available at:

https://highpoint.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/HighPoint/job/High-Point-University/Visiting-Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science\_R0000120

For more information regarding this position, please contact Dr. Alixandra Yanus at ayanus@highpoint.edu. Information on our department can be viewed at: <http://www.highpoint.edu/politicalscience/>

To apply, candidates will need to apply on-line, uploading their C.V. and a letter of interest that includes an overview of their teaching and scholarly interests. It will be helpful if applicants will identify in their letters any of our existing courses that align closely with these interests. After an initial screening, some candidates will be asked to provide letters of reference, copies of graduate transcripts, writing samples, and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

High Point University is located in the North Carolina's Piedmont Triad, a metropolitan area with more than 1.5 million people. The university is a selective private liberal arts college that enrolls approximately 4,500 students from across the country and dozens of foreign countries. The political science faculty offers small classes and excellent instruction from an accessible, caring group of teacher-scholars. The university is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/20/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2650

Rutgers University, New Brunswick
Rank: Non-Tenure Track Assistant Teaching Professor, Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science is seeking to hire one individual for a full time, non-tenure track Assistant Teaching Professor position, to teach in the fields of Comparative Politics and International Relations. Experience with the large lecture introductory courses in those fields strongly preferred, as is experience teaching Undergraduate Research Methods. In addition to such basic introductory classes, courses to be covered might include Comparative Public Policy, Conflict Resolution, Politics and Culture, Politics of Developing Countries, and Social Movements. Area coverage in Europe, including Russia, a definite plus. Ideally, this person will also be responsible for the Rutgers/Ritsumeikan exchange program, helping host 15-20 Japanese undergraduates who visit Rutgers for several weeks in the Spring, and accompanying a similar set of Rutgers students who visit Japan in the early summer. Standard teaching load will be three undergraduate-level courses per semester. Appointment will be for one year with possible renewal based on need, teaching evaluations, and available funding. PhD required in Political Science or related field by start date.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Applicants should send a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, list of courses taught, sample syllabi, and three letters of recommendation to:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/40687>

Review of applicants will begin on March 6th and continue until the job is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/20/2017
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 2649

Pittsburg State University
Rank: Instructor (Full-Time, Temporary)

Job Type: Unclassified

Job Category: Faculty

Is position tenure earning: No

Position Department/Office: History, Philosophy, and Social Sciences

Appointment Duration: 9 month

Position Responsibilities: The successful applicant will teach an introductory course in comparative politics, a regional subfield course in European Politics, a course on the U.S. Congress, and upper-division courses on topics of human rights. The normal teaching load is four classes (12 hours) per semester.

Minimum Requirements: Qualified candidates must have a master's degree, or be ABD, in political science and demonstrated potential for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: The ideal candidate will have a PhD in political science and demonstrated potential for excellence in undergraduate teaching.

The Following Background Checks Are Required:

- A criminal background check

Range/Salary: Contingent upon funding

Position Closes: Open Until Filled

Application Review: For first consideration, apply by 3/1/17

Application Instructions:

All applicants should apply online at <http://www.pittstate.edu/office/hr/jobs.dot>. Please upload curriculum vitae; statement of teaching philosophy; all unofficial degree transcripts; and evidence of teaching excellence, such as summarized course evaluations, sample syllabi, etc. Applicants should also provide contact information for three professional references.

Other Information:

Pittsburg State University is an accredited, comprehensive, state-supported institution in southeastern Kansas, enrolling over 7,400 students annually. The institution has Colleges in the fields of Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, and Technology (see: <http://www.pittstate.edu>.) Pittsburg State University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/15/2017
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 2643

University of Georgia
Rank: Lecturer

The Department of International Affairs at the University of Georgia invites applications for two full time lecturer positions to begin in the fall semester of 2017. These are nine month academic year appointments that are renewable on an annual basis for up to six years. The successful candidates are expected to teach 8 courses per year and to have teaching experience in the fields of international relations or comparative politics. The candidates should be able to teach introductory courses in the fields of international relations and comparative politics as well as offer upper division courses that are specific to the expertise of the candidates. A minimum of one year of teaching experience required. A Ph.D. or near-completed PhD in political science is required at the time of hiring. If still ABD, the Ph.D. requirement will have to be completed by June 30, 2017.

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a letter of interest describing their teaching philosophy, a curriculum vita, teaching evaluations, original transcripts, and three letters of recommendation in electronic form to the UGA Faculty Job site at <http://facultyjobs.uga.edu/postings/1857>. Questions or hard copies of letters of recommendation can be sent to Bill Zachmann, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 309, Athens, GA 30602 (zachmann@uga.edu). Applications received by April 15, 2017 will be assured full consideration.

Georgia is well known for its quality of life including both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2644

Cornell College

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Politics

The Department of Politics invites applications for a part-time Visiting Lecturer position in comparative politics or international relations during the 2017-2018 academic year. Candidates should be prepared to teach the introductory course in international relations and comparative politics as well as upper-division courses in international political economy and development. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated commitment to teaching and mentoring students.

Teaching load is 5 classes over the course of the year. Although the College would prefer the courses all be taught by one instructor, candidates interested in teaching part of the listed classes below may apply. Cornell College operates under a one course at a time model and will need the following courses taught:

September 4-27, 2017 (International Political Economy)

October 2-25, 2017 (Political Economy of Developing Countries)

February 12-March 7, 2018 (International Politics)

March 19-April 11, 2018 (Comparative Politics)

April 16-May 9, 2018 (regional topics course)

Qualifications: PhD or ABD preferred, Master's Degree required.

Affordable furnished housing may be available upon request.

Cornell College is an undergraduate liberal arts college that has attracted national attention for its distinctive academic calendar under which faculty teach and students take one course at a time in month-long terms. The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Submit letter of application, vita, statement of teaching and research interests, graduate transcripts, a writing sample, and three letters of reference through Cornell's online employment application - <https://cornellcollege.applicantpro.com/jobs/527171.html>

Applications will be reviewed as received and will continue until the position is filled.

Cornell is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Cornell complies with Iowa's Smoke Free Air Act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2638

Villanova University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a one year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics/International Relations for the 2017-2018 academic year. Responsibilities include a 3-3 teaching load of introductory and upper division undergraduate courses and M.A. level graduate courses, and advising approximately 25 undergraduate majors.

All Comparative Politics and International Relations specializations will be considered. Ph.D. in hand is strongly preferred; ABDs will be considered. Broad training in political science is expected. Evidence of teaching excellence is essential.

Applicants must apply on-line at <http://jobs.villanova.edu>. The on-line application should include a brief letter of application indicating your interest and suitability, a statement of teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, official graduate and undergraduate transcripts, two syllabi (if available), and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The names and contact information for two referees are required and must be included with your submission. The letters of recommendation will be able to be submitted directly and confidentially by the reviewer who will receive an email with instructions once your application is submitted. All material must be received by March 17, 2017. Questions about the position can be directed to the department chair, Dr. Matthew Kerbel at matthew.kerbel@villanova.edu

Villanova is a Catholic university sponsored by the Augustinian order. Diversity and inclusion have been and will continue to be an integral component of Villanova University's mission. The University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and seeks candidates who understand, respect and can contribute to the University's mission and values. For a more detailed description of the department, please consult <http://www1.villanova.edu/villanova/artsci/psc.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/17/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2614

Arizona State University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate (JOB#11892)

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The School of Politics and Global Studies at Arizona State University invites applications for a post-doctoral research associate for the Sub-National Analysis of Repression Project, a National Science Foundation funded project. Anticipated start time is August of 2017. This is a full-time, academic year position that is expected to last for two academic years. Salary is $40-45,000 a year and some support for travel to conferences is available.

The research associate will work under the supervision of Principal Investigators Thorin Wright and Reed Wood (in consultation with co-PIs at other schools K. Chad Clay and Christopher Fariss) to help implement coding and data collection of sub-national patterns of repressive practices by states and non-state actors. The postdoctoral research associate will also help to oversee student (undergraduate and graduate) researchers, and will meet regularly with PIs to discuss the project. A description of the project on the National Science Foundation website can be found at: https://www.nsf.gov/awardsearch/showAward?AWD\_ID=1626775

Minimum qualifications include: completion of a Ph.D. in Political Science, Geography, Sociology, Economics or a related field by the time of appointment, but no earlier than Spring of 2015, relevant experience in data collection, spatial econometrics, item response modeling, and/or text analysis.

Desired qualifications: Prior relevant experience in data collection and research concerning international conflict, political violence, state repression, spatial econometrics, or Human Rights more broadly. Fluency in statistical packages such as R, STATA, and an understanding of GIS would be beneficial.

The School of Politics and Global Studies grants a Ph.D., M.A., B.S. and B.A. in Political Science and a B.A. in Global Studies. The School offers a M.A. in Global Affairs and Management in conjunction with the Thunderbird School of Global Management. The successful candidate will have opportunities to contribute scholarship, teaching and service to advance these and other programs at ASU. The School of Politics and Global Studies values interdisciplinary scholarship, and the successful candidate will have the opportunity to affiliate and collaborate with other schools and centers at Arizona State University.

Please send the following application materials to thorin.wright@asu.edu: application letter, cv, names and contact info for two references, and two writing samples. Initial deadline for review of complete applications is March 3, 2017. If not filled, review of complete applications will continue every two weeks thereafter until the search is closed. This is a paperless search; only electronic materials will be accepted. A background check is required for employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.tml>
<http://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/7/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2622

University of Cologne

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

The Chair for European Politics (Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch) at the Cologne Center for Comparative Politics (CCCP) at the University of Cologne invites applications for the position of a Post-Doctoral Research Fellow in Comparative Politics with a weekly working time of 39,83 hours (100% position).

The initial contract is for 4 years (extension possible) and will be awarded as soon as possible.

The successful applicant is expected to hold a doctoral degree in political science (comparative politics) and have a strong quantitative and computational background, experience with statistical programming in R, international publications, and a research interest in political institutions, political parties, or political representation in Europe.

The salary is commensurate with experience and is at least 43,900 Euros with additional employer benefits based on the German E13 TV-L scale if terms and conditions under collective bargaining law are fulfilled.

Tasks:

The post-doctoral researcher is expected to develop and carry out his or her own research projects, publish in international peer-reviewed journals, and contribute to teaching (4 hours per week) and student supervision and examination, as well as to the intellectual life of the CCCP.

The University of Cologne is an equal opportunities employer. Applications of women are especially encouraged. Disabled candidates will be given priority in case of equal professional qualification.

For further information, please contact Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch (so.proksch@uni-koeln.de). Informal inquiries are welcome.

Applications should be submitted in English and include a research statement, CV, copies of transcripts and degree certificates, and a writing sample. Please send your application by February 17, 2017 in one PDF file to so.proksch@uni-koeln.de. In addition, two letters of reference should be sent separately to the same email address by the same deadline.

Start Date: Spring 2017
Application Deadline: 2/17/2017
Date Posted: 2/7/2017
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 2620

Mary Baldwin University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics and International Relations

Specializations: Africa, Middle East, Latin American

The Department of Political Science at Mary Baldwin University invites applications for a fixed term assistant professor position in Comparative Politics and International Relations. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Candidates must have broad theoretical and methodological training with the ability to teach introductory and advanced courses in International Relations, U.S. Foreign Policy, Comparative Politics, and Politics of Developing Nations, as well as topics courses related to their area of specialization -- preferably Asia, Latin America or Africa. Applicants must be committed to excellence in teaching and research in a small liberal arts undergraduate program. The position carries a 3-3-1 teaching load.

Please send cover letter, vita, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of reference to Terri Walker, assistant to the provost at doc@marybaldwin.edu. In keeping with its commitment to further diversify its faculty, Mary Baldwin University particularly encourages minorities and women to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2615

Mary Baldwin University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics and International Relations

Specializations: Africa, Middle East, Latin American

The Department of Political Science at Mary Baldwin University invites applications for a fixed term assistant professor position in Comparative Politics and International Relations. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Candidates must have broad theoretical and methodological training with the ability to teach introductory and advanced courses in International Relations, U.S. Foreign Policy, Comparative Politics, and Politics of Developing Nations, as well as topics courses related to their area of specialization -- preferably Asia, Latin America or Africa. Applicants must be committed to excellence in teaching and research in a small liberal arts undergraduate program. The position carries a 3-3-1 teaching load.

Please send cover letter, vita, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of reference to Terri Walker, assistant to the provost at doc@marybaldwin.edu. In keeping with its commitment to further diversify its faculty, Mary Baldwin University particularly encourages minorities and women to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 2/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2616

Saint John's University

Rank: Political Science/International Relations

The Political Science Department of the College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University invites applications for a full-time one-year position at the rank of assistant professor to begin in August 2017. A completed Ph.D. in political science is preferred; ABD will be considered. Teaching assignments will include three courses per semester. The department seeks a broadly trained political scientist who can teach the following courses.

- Introduction to International Relations (POLS 121): Introduction to the study of the global system and international relations theories. Focuses on states, international organizations, sub-state and non-state actors. Case studies focus on conflict, globalization, climate change or other issues of instructor interest. (2 sections)

- Latin American Politics (POLS 347): An upper division course which incorporates comparative analysis of Latin American politics focusing on the themes of the military in politics, economic dependency, reform and revolution, and agrarian reform.

- One other upper division course in the candidate's area of interest.

- First Year Seminar: FYS is a required full-year course taken during the first year. It is designed to help students improve their ability to read carefully and think critically about what they read, to write in a variety of academic formats, improve their information literacy, and to develop discussion skills necessary for successful college course work.

Saint John's University, a liberal arts college for men, and the College of Saint Benedict, a liberal arts college for women, are located five miles apart in Central Minnesota just outside metropolitan St. Cloud and 70 miles from Minneapolis. Both are Catholic colleges in the Benedictine tradition, which emphasize quality teaching and a commitment to intercultural learning. For further information, see <http://www.csbsju.edu>

Qualifications:

Ph.D. in political science is preferred; ABD will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2606

University of Reading

Rank: Lecturer in Politics and International Relations

We are seeking to appoint a Lecturer in Politics and International Relations with internationally recognised research excellence, who can contribute to grant applications, teaching, administration, and outreach. The position is open with respect to subfield, but expertise in international relations, war and conflict, and foreign policy would be advantageous. A demonstrated interest in mixed methods and an ability to engage in policy-relevant research is desirable.

Politics and International Relations is ranked as one of the top 150 politics departments globally in the 2014 QS World University Rankings, and among the top 10 politics departments in the UK by research outputs in the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF). We are a dynamic department that expects to grow in strength over the next few years, with particular expertise in Conflict, Security, and Strategy; Applied Political Theory; and Comparative Politics.

The Department of Politics and International Relations is part of the School of Politics, Economics, and International Relations (SPEIR). It offers two single honours undergraduate programmes, 6 Masters programmes, and contributes to a range of joint honours programmes. It hosts an active community of PhD students with regular research seminars. The School and the Department have an established reputation for inter-disciplinary research, and members are collaborating with colleagues from schools across the university. Further information on the Department and its people and activities may be found at our web-site, <http://www.reading.ac.uk/spirs>.

The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the growth of research in the department, and to help further develop our engagement with external stakeholders. They will engage with both undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and research supervision as appropriate, and contribute to student support, outreach and general administration duties within the School. We are particularly interested in applicants who can show the ability to work across disciplinary and methodological boundaries and have a strong interest in maximising the policy impact of their research activities.

For further details about the vacancy and how to apply online please go to <https://jobs.reading.ac.uk/displayjob.aspx?jobid=471>

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr Jonathan Golub, email: j.s.golub@rdg.ac.uk

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/12/2017
Date Posted: 2/1/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2605

Clemson University

Rank: Visiting Lecturer

International Relations/Comparative Politics. The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure track position as a visiting lecturer to begin in August 2017. Specialization within international relations and comparative politics is open. The successful candidate will complement the department's current offerings and will share the Department's commitment to quality undergraduate teaching. The Department offers a BA and BS in Political Science. Responsibilities include a four-course teaching load per semester comprised of introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in international relations, comparative politics, and research methods. The specific combination of courses will depend on the successful candidate's academic profile.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations by the time of employment is preferred, though ABDs will be considered. Salary is competitive. To apply, upload the following to Interfolio: an application letter of interest, CV, unofficial transcripts of graduate work, three letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applications received by February 27, 2017, will receive full consideration. Review will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, please contact Professor Jeff Peake at jpeake@clemson.edu. Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status or genetic information. Clemson University is building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and encourages applications from minorities and women.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 1/31/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2598

Allegheny College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science
 The Department of Political Science at Allegheny College invites applicants for a two-year position in European Politics beginning August of 2017. The Department seeks a dynamic teacher and scholar focused on comparative, regional, or international dimensions of European Politics, particularly Western Europe. We are especially interested in candidates who can creatively link to other departmental and college-wide areas of interest, especially International Studies (<http://sites.allegheny.edu/intstudies/>). Ph.D. at the time of appointment is preferred. Teaching load includes three courses per semester. All faculty are expected to participate in delivering college-wide freshman/sophomore seminars that emphasize writing and speaking. Allegheny College is a highly selective private liberal arts college in NW Pennsylvania with an increasingly diverse student body and a dedicated faculty of teacher-scholars.

Candidates with experience or interest in teaching students from traditionally underrepresented groups are especially welcome to apply. Candidates should send letter of application, c.v, and teaching evaluations or other indicators of effective teaching electronically (in PDF format) to Professor Shannan Mattiace, Chair, Department of Political Science, c/o Sarah Holt, Allegheny College, Box 20, 520 N. Main St., Meadville, PA 16335 (poliscisearch2017@allegheny.edu). Candidates should request three current letters of recommendation and have them sent electronically to the above email address. (If not possible, paper copies acceptable). The Department will begin reviewing applicant files on March 1, 2017.

Applicant must be authorized to work in the United States to be considered. Allegheny College is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, inclusion, and equity. Women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups are highly encouraged to apply. Allegheny does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, or national origin.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 1/30/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2593

University of Texas, San Antonio

Rank: Cybersecurity and National or International Security Policy
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT SAN ANTONIO
 Department of Political Science and Geography
 Position Announcement
 Open Rank (Tenured or Tenure-track)
 Cybersecurity and National or International Security Policy

The Department of Political Science and Geography at The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position (Open Rank) in cybersecurity and national or international security, global affairs, and governance to begin Fall 2017.

Required Qualifications: All applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a directly related discipline by August 31, 2017. Applicants must have a track record of scholarship, publications, and/or research funding relating to cybersecurity. We are especially interested in candidates who link cybersecurity to broader social, political, economic, and policy questions in the contexts of national and/or international security. The position is part of a cross-disciplinary, campus-wide initiative in the area of cybersecurity. The successful candidate will demonstrate an ability to collaborate on research and grant applications with faculty in Computer Science, Engineering, and UTSA's highly regarded Cyber Security Program. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester in the Political Science Department's proposed graduate program in Global Affairs and/or traditional undergraduate or graduate classroom courses in Political Science and Global Affairs. The successful applicant will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses on topics such as Politics and Cyber-Security, New Global Threats, and Global or National Security Policy. Scholars doing cross-disciplinary research in applied cyber security research are encouraged to apply but an applicant's primary field must be Political Science or a closely related discipline. Applicants must demonstrate potential for research publication and a strong potential to attract external funding, and have a strong theoretical grounding in national or international security.

All applicants must provide evidence of scholarly and professional publications commensurate with the rank for which the applicant is applying. All applicants should also provide, if possible, some representative evidence of high-quality teaching – ideally in courses that address cyber security in the context of national or international security, global affairs and governance. Applicants must also be willing to teach a range of courses in international relations or global affairs.

To be considered at the tenure-track Assistant Professor level, successful applicants must be able to articulate a research agenda and have an emerging record of publications, excellent teaching skills, and a commitment to service.

To be considered at the tenured Associate Professor level, successful applicants must have an established research agenda, a strong record of publications, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

To be considered at the tenured Full Professor level, successful applicants must be recognized authorities in their respective fields of specialization and have excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications: Applicants at the Full or Associate Professor levels should demonstrate an ability to acquire external funding. Preference will also be given to candidates who can teach courses in traditional and emerging sub-fields of political science and international relations/global affairs, and/or in such areas as environmental governance, law and institutions, compliance, and/or transnationalism.

Responsibilities: Teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students; pursue an active research and publishing agenda; and serve the University, profession, and community.

All information and materials associated with an application for this position must be sent electronically through <https://jobs.utsa.edu/>. In PDF format, applicants should submit the following items electronically:

1. Letter of application that states the rank for which the candidate is applying, research interests, teaching experiences, and qualifications for the position;
2. Current curriculum vita;
3. Copy of all graduate transcripts;
4. Samples of written or published scholarly work (no more than three);
5. Two representative samples of syllabi for courses taught or proposed by the applicant;
6. Teaching evaluations (if available or other evidence of course instruction evaluation);
7. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three references who are familiar with the applicant's scholarship and/or teaching and can be contacted to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer, it is the policy of The University of Texas at San Antonio to promote and ensure equal employment opportunity for all individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or veteran status. The University is committed to the Affirmative Action Program in compliance with all government requirements to ensure nondiscrimination. The UTSA campus is accessible to persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2597

Wesleyan University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a one-year visiting position in comparative politics during the 2017-2018 academic year. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment (September 1, 2017). We welcome applications from comparativists with any regional or topical specialty. The teaching load is 3-2, including three sections of an introductory comparative politics course, one survey course, and one seminar. The successful candidate will also be asked to supervise up to two senior theses. The search committee will review files as they arrive and will continue to review files until the position is filled.

To apply, please go to <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/5746>. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a statement about your research and teaching experience (as part of the teaching statement, we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body), (4) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (5) sample syllabi if available. After you set up your account, you will be prompted to provide (6) the email addresses of three referees, each of whom we may contact at the appropriate time to request a letter of recommendation for you.

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Antonio Farias, Vice President for Equity & Inclusion, Title IX and ADA/504 Officer, 860-685-4771, afarias@wesleyan.edu

Please contact Ms. Kristin McQueeney (kmcqueeney@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department administrative assistant, if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2595

Howard University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Western Europe

The Department of Political Science at Howard University seeks applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in International Relations/Comparative Politics specializing in one or two of four regions (Africa, Asia, Europe and Latin America). The appointment, at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, begins in August 2017. Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate courses related to not only the different regions, but also possibly international organizations, global race relations, post-colonial theory, social movements, and human rights depending upon the candidate's areas of research. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by August 2017.

Candidates should submit: (1) a letter of application that includes a statement of current and future teaching and research interests; (2) a current CV; (3) three letters of reference; and (4) a sample of written work. Applications should be complete by February 15, 2016 when the review process will begin; however, the search will continue until the position is filled.

Howard University is a comprehensive, research oriented, historically Black private university. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. Equal Employment Opportunity: Howard University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, marital status, religion, or disability.

Send application to:
Search Committee Chair
Howard University
Department of Political Science
Douglass Hall, Room 144
2419 6th Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20059

(202) 806-6720

The letter of application, CV, and letters of reference can also be sent via email to: sdrake@howard.edu. Please use subject heading of "Position Vacancy – International Relations/Comparative Politics."

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2579

Oberlin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics. Appointment is for the 2017-18 academic year. This is a non-continuing position.

The incumbent will teach five courses in international and/or comparative politics. We prefer candidates with the ability to teach one or more courses on Latin American or West European politics.

To be assured consideration, submit a letter of application, a cv, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a writing sample, and at least three recent reference letters to <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/> by February 15, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2578

University of California, Riverside

Rank: Lecture with Potential for Security of Employment

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Lecturer with Potential for Security of Employment - University of California, Riverside -
Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for one full-time Lecturer with Potential for Security of Employment (LPSOE). Appointment as a lecturer with PSOE requires a demonstrated commitment to high-quality and innovative teaching, professional achievement, and service to the academic community and/or public. We are particularly interested in candidates with a record of teaching excellence beyond any experience they may have as teaching assistants. We also seek someone able to teach in several fields, including lower division courses, in three out of the four traditional fields of political science (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Political Theory).

Lecturers with PSOE are members of the academic senate and will be expected to teach six quarter-length courses per year, and to be engaged in significant service and/or research (in pedagogy or political science) equivalent in time commitment to three additional quarter-length courses. Applicants must have a PhD by the start of appointment on July 1, 2017. Salary will be competitive and commensurate with education and experience.

Complete applications should be submitted to <https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/apply/JPF00713> and must include a cover letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations for four or more courses, a statement of contributions to diversity, and three letters of recommendation. Optional writing samples may also be considered. Review of the applications will begin on February 15, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials received by February 15 will receive full consideration. Electronic application and submission of materials is strongly preferred.

Lecturers with PSOE are appointed to two-year terms, are reviewed biennially, and are required to undergo a mandatory 7th-year review for promotion to Lecturer with Security of Employment (SOE). The review process focuses on teaching excellence, professional activity, and service.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/25/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2568

Bridgewater College of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor of Global Politics

The Department of History and Political Science at Bridgewater College seeks a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor to teach classes in Global Politics beginning in August 2017.

The successful candidate will possess a Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, Global or Comparative Politics. Candidates who are ABD will be considered if their degree is expected to be conferred by August 1, 2017. Teaching responsibilities include a range of courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with, or interest in, the creation of a Model UN. Candidates will be expected to show a commitment to teaching and mentoring students within a liberal arts context and are willing to participate in the College's First Year Seminar and General Education programs. The teaching load is 21 semester credits per year (3-3-1 or 4-3 distribution) on a semester with May term calendar. The Department of History and Political Science consists of six historians and four political scientists, and offers majors in History, Political Science, History and Political Science, and Global Studies.

MISSION: Bridgewater College is a residential liberal arts college of almost 1900 students with a vibrant core curriculum and a growing focus on undergraduate research. The College emphasizes creativity and innovation in pedagogy and research. Successful faculty members are dedicated to advising and mentoring students, contributing to campus-wide faculty initiatives, and maintaining an active research agenda. Bridgewater seeks faculty members eager to engage and support our commitment to liberal learning, and so application materials should address how you might contribute to the College's liberal arts mission or ways that this mission informs your vocation as teacher and scholar.

GENERAL INFORMATION: Bridgewater College was founded in 1880 as the first coeducational college in Virginia and has an educational philosophy of developing the whole person and equipping students to become leaders with a strong sense of personal accountability and civic responsibility. The College offers 63 majors and minors, 29 concentrations and emphases, pre-professional programs, dual degree programs, teacher education and certification, and its first graduate program in athletic training. Bridgewater's growing enrollment includes students from 30 states and eight countries. The College is a member of NCAA Division III and the Old Dominion Athletic Conference, and sponsors 22 intercollegiate athletic teams and an equestrian team that competes in the IHSA.

The beautiful and vibrant 300-acre residential campus includes an equestrian center and is located in the town of Bridgewater in the midst of the Shenandoah Valley. It is conveniently situated to provide easy access to both Washington D.C. and Richmond, each only two hours away. The area is a desirable locale for people who enjoy sports and outdoor activities. An excellent school system, a healthy business environment, the state's lowest crime rate, and the natural beauty of the region draw many graduates back to the area. The College enjoys tremendous support from the local community.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. Brandon Marsh at: bmarsh@bridgewater.edu.

APPLICATION: Please complete the online application (<https://jobs.bridgewater.edu/public/createApplication.php>) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts. Three letters of recommendation should be forwarded to Courtney Ritchie at critchie@bridgewater.edu.

DEADLINE: To receive full consideration, application materials should be received by March 1, 2017.

Bridgewater College is a welcoming and vibrant community committed to supporting a diverse faculty, and actively seeks applications from women, minorities, and other persons from traditionally underrepresented groups. Bridgewater College is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 1/23/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2563

Adelphi University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor

Political Science - Comparative Politics

Non-Tenure Track Fall 2017

Adelphi University College of Arts & Sciences

Adelphi University is a nationally ranked, doctoral research university offering exceptional liberal arts and sciences programs and professional training with particular strength in its Core Four—AU Arts and Humanities, AU STEM and Social Sciences, AU Professions, and AU Health and Wellness. The Political Science Department at Adelphi University is seeking qualified candidates for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2017-2018 academic year, beginning Fall, 2017.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. and bring teaching experience and research expertise in comparative politics. Specifically, the department is looking for candidates with expertise in non-European area studies, security studies, and/or comparative foreign policy. Potential for excellent teaching and research at an undergraduate institution is essential. The teaching load is 18 credits per academic year. The successful applicant will have the opportunity to work with departmental mentors in teaching and research. This position has the potential to be renewed.

A complete application must include a curriculum vitae, letter of application, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of recommendation. At least one of the letters of recommendation, which must address teaching effectiveness, should be sent directly by the recommender to the department's administrative assistant, dkelleher@adelphi.edu. Please put the candidate's name and the words "applicant for visiting position" in the subject-line.

Review of applications will begin on January, 30, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Except for the letter(s) of recommendation (indicated above), applicants should apply online at www.adelphi.edu/positions/faculty

Employment is contingent upon a satisfactory background check.

Adelphi University is a private, student-centered university of approximately 8,000 students located in the New York metropolitan region, on Long Island, 10 miles from JFK airport. Students and faculty have easy and ready access to the extraordinary resources and opportunities of the New York area. For more information about the School, visit www.adelphi.edu

Adelphi University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to building a diverse workforce and strongly encourages applications from women, under-represented groups, members of the LGBT community, people with disabilities and veterans. Adelphi University is an EEO/AA employer

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2543

Adelphi University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor

Political Science - Comparative Politics

Non-Tenure Track Fall 2017

Adelphi University College of Arts & Sciences

Adelphi University is a nationally ranked, doctoral research university offering exceptional liberal arts and sciences programs and professional training with particular strength in its Core Four—AU Arts and Humanities, AU STEM and Social Sciences, AU Professions, and AU Health and Wellness. The Political Science Department at Adelphi

University is seeking qualified candidates for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2017-2018 academic year, beginning Fall, 2017.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. and bring teaching experience and research expertise in comparative politics. Specifically, the department is looking for candidates with expertise in non-European area studies, security studies, and/or comparative foreign policy. Potential for excellent teaching and research at an undergraduate institution is essential. The teaching load is 18 credits per academic year. The successful applicant will have the opportunity to work with departmental mentors in teaching and research. This position has the potential to be renewed.

A complete application must include a curriculum vitae, letter of application, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of recommendation. At least one of the letters of recommendation, which must address teaching effectiveness, should be sent directly by the recommender to the department's administrative assistant, dkelleher@adelphi.edu. Please put the candidate's name and the words "applicant for visiting position" in the subject-line.

Review of applications will begin on January, 30, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Except for the letter(s) of recommendation (indicated above), applicants should apply online at www.adelphi.edu/positions/faculty

Employment is contingent upon a satisfactory background check.

Adelphi University is a private, student-centered university of approximately 8,000 students located in the New York metropolitan region, on Long Island, 10 miles from JFK airport. Students and faculty have easy and ready access to the extraordinary resources and opportunities of the New York area. For more information about the School, visit www.adelphi.edu

Adelphi University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to building a diverse workforce and strongly encourages applications from women, under-represented groups, members of the LGBT community, people with disabilities and veterans. Adelphi University is an EEO/AA employer

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2544

Austin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Austin College Political Science Department invites applications for a one-year position in IR/Comparative beginning in the Fall of 2017. ABD's are encouraged to apply, Ph.D.'s are preferred. A demonstrated commitment to undergraduate teaching is required. Teaching load is 3-3 plus a January term course. We invite applicants to demonstrate in their letter of application which courses they would be prepared to offer and how they would contribute to the department's desire for a well-rounded political science curriculum.

Austin College is a leading national independent liberal arts college located north of Dallas in Sherman, Texas. Founded in 1849, making it the oldest institution of higher education in Texas operating under original charter and name, the college is related by covenant to the Presbyterian Church (USA). Recognized nationally for academic excellence in the areas of international education, pre-professional training, and leadership studies, the College seeks to provide an academically challenging and lively community of students and teachers who are committed to intellectual growth through individual and collaborative endeavors. Austin College is one of 40 schools profiled in Loren Pope's influential book Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should include: a letter of application, CV, copies of graduate transcripts, a one-page statement of teaching philosophy, other supporting materials you wish us to consider, and two recent letters of recommendation. Please combine materials into one PDF document and email to PoliticalScienceSearch@austincollege.edu (preferred). Referees should send their letters to the same email address with your name in the subject line. We also accept hard copies mailed to Dr. Sheila Amin Gutiérrez de Piñeres, Vice President for Academic Affairs, 900 N. Grand Ave, Suite 6D, Sherman, Texas 75090-4400. Review of applications begins February 1st and will continue until the position is filled. If you have questions about the search, you may contact the Chair of the Political Science Department, Nate Bigelow, at nbigelow@austincollege.edu.

Austin College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body and welcomes all applicants. Must be legally authorized to work without sponsorship for employment visa status (e.g., H1B status).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2539

Lund University

Rank: Assistant professor and postdoc in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations

We are looking for ambitious political scientists in the beginning of their career who aim for a future career as university lecturer and researcher. We are hiring at least one assistant professor and at least one postdoctoral fellow.

The positions are associated with the research program State-Making and the Origins of Global Order in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond (STANCE), led by Professor Jan Teorell at the Department of Political Science in Lund, and funded by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond (www.stanceatlund.org). The project started in 2015 and will end in 2020. The program aims to bridge the gaps between comparative politics and IR, and between the study of political thought and positive empirical political science. Three overall research themes constitute the core of this research program: (1) How did the different dimensions of state-making, including internal and external sovereignty, revenue extraction, professionalization of the bureaucracy and the development of infrastructural capacity, evolve and interact during this time period? What actors and organized interests supported or put up resistance to these processes? (2) How were these dimensions of state-making affected by geopolitical competition, warfare and the diffusion of novel political technologies? (3) What were the consequences for the international system, both with respect to the type of state that emerged and what entities were granted membership in the state system?

The person(s) offered the position(s) will be expected to carry out research that contributes to the fulfillment of at least one of the overall research themes. However, each member of the project conducts independent research and enjoys the freedom to choose his or her own research questions, develop his or her own theoretical ideas, and choose the most appropriate methods. Methodologically the program aims for a mixed-methods approach ranging from quantitative methods to single case studies, textual interpretation and archival studies. Hence, we expect candidates with broad methodological training and an open mind to take on novel approaches.

The Lund University job application portal should be used when applying. Please follow these links for more information:

The postdoctoral fellowship:

<https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what/job/jobID:129005/>

The assistant professorship:

<https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what/job/jobID:129626/>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 1/13/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2536

Knox College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Knox College invites applications for a full time visiting assistant professor in comparative politics for the 2017-2018 academic year. Knox College operates on a trimester system with a 2-2-2 teaching load.

The successful candidate should be prepared to teach introductory and advanced courses in comparative politics with a primary focus on an area other than Latin America. Ability to teach in more than one area is a plus. The candidate should be a PH.D or advanced ABD in Political Science, International Relations or a closely related field. The candidate should also have significant fieldwork experience and experience working with diverse students.

Interested applicants should send (1) a letter of interest, including a statement of teaching philosophy, (2) a CV, (3) teaching evaluations and any other evidence of teaching excellence, (4) three letters of recommendation, with at least one addressing teaching, (5) Unofficial graduate transcripts, (6) two examples of recent scholarship such as articles, book chapters or conference papers to politicalscienceresearch@knox.edu. Review of applications begins February 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Duane Oldfield, Department Chair, doldfiel@knox.edu or 309-341-7156.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2528

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowship - The Center for the Study of Contemporary China

Post-doctoral Fellowship
The Center for the Study of Contemporary China
University of Pennsylvania

The Center for the Study of Contemporary China (<http://cscs.sas.upenn.edu/>) at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications to fill two postdoctoral fellowship positions for the 2017-2018 academic year. Applications are welcomed from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 30, 2017.

The CSCC postdoctoral fellowships support research on all aspects of contemporary China that fall within the broad mission of the CSCC -- to advance Penn's leadership in programs, research, and scholarship about the political, legal, economic, and social factors shaping China and its role in the world today. The Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at Penn engaged in work pertaining to contemporary China. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and a speaker series.

Fellows at the CSCC will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because fellows are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of the University of Pennsylvania. Each fellow receives a stipend of $48,000, a $2500 research fund, and health insurance.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AA employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. CSCC starts to accept application on December 1, 2016. Applications will be reviewed starting March 1, 2017. To receive full consideration, your application should be received by that date. Applicants will be notified of the outcome in early April, 2017. To apply, please send a C.V., a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to cscs-contact@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/5/2017
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 2523

Williams College

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship in Russian/Post-Soviet Politics

Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellowship in Russian/Post-Soviet Politics

The Department of Political Science at Williams College invites applications for a post-doctoral fellowship in Russian/Post-Soviet Politics, beginning July 1, 2017. We welcome applications from candidates who have completed their Ph.D. within the last five years and also those who have not yet completed their Ph.D. but will have the Ph.D. in hand by the start date of the appointment.

Williams is an institution that places a high value on undergraduate teaching. The successful applicant will provide evidence of excellence in teaching, including (if available) teaching evaluations accompanied by comparative or statistical context. We welcome applications from candidates in any area of specialty within Russian/Post-Soviet Politics. We have particular interest in Russian foreign policy, religious and/or ethnic politics, contemporary Russian political thought, and political demography. We also strongly prefer applicants who have a commitment to working effectively with a student population that is broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

The successful candidate will be appointed for a term of two years and will have a teaching load of one course each semester. The baseline stipend for these positions is $45,000 per year plus an allowance of $3,000 per year for research and professional travel expenses. Fellows will also be provided with full benefits including health and dental insurance. These positions are made possible by a grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation.

Applications should be submitted via Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/40016 and should include a c.v., a two page statement describing your research, a one or two page statement describing your teaching interests, and at least three letters of reference. Applications completed by January 30, 2017 will receive full consideration. All offers of employment are contingent upon completion of a background check. Further information is available here: <http://dean-faculty.williams.edu/prospective-faculty/background-check-policy/>

Fax and email applications not accepted. Inquiries may be sent to James.McAllister@williams.edu.

Williams College is a coeducational liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams College website (<http://www.williams.edu>). Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams College is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/5/2017
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 2521

Williams College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for an approved, one-year appointment in the 2017-18 academic year, as Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics. The successful applicant should provide evidence of excellence in teaching, including (if available) teaching evaluations accompanied by comparative or statistical context. We also strongly prefer applicants who have a commitment to working effectively with a student population that is broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

Candidates will be expected to teach four courses per academic year. We particularly seek individuals who can teach courses focused on East Asia or Africa, and complement the department's existing comparative curriculum. Candidates should have the Ph.D. in hand or completed by June 2017. We will begin to review applications on February 15th but will consider submissions until the search is completed. All application materials should be submitted through Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/40034 and should include: a letter detailing teaching experience and competencies as well as current scholarly interests; 2 syllabi of classes taught or planned to be taught; a curriculum vitae; three letters of recommendation; teaching evaluations; and a writing sample of only one article or chapter.

Fax and email applications not accepted. Inquiries may be sent to Sarah.Campbell-Copp@williams.edu. All offers of employment are contingent upon completion of a background check. Further information is available here: <http://dean-faculty.williams.edu/prospective-faculty/background-check-policy/>.

Williams College is a coeducational liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams College website (<http://www.williams.edu>). Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams College is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2522

Susquehanna University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Africa, East Asia, Middle East

The Department of Political Science at Susquehanna University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics beginning with the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate must be able to teach both introductory and advanced courses on the government and politics of the Middle East, Africa, or Asia, as well as introductory international relations. The candidate will have the opportunity to teach other courses in comparative politics and international relations. It is preferred that the candidate also be qualified to teach an introductory course in methodology. An ability to teach a course in comparative public policy will be considered a plus. Most upper-level courses are taught every other year and the normal teaching load is three courses per semester. Requirements include a Ph.D. or evidence that all doctoral degree requirements will be completed by June 1, 2017. Teaching experience is highly preferred and a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and research in a small undergraduate liberal arts university is expected.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching objectives, statement on how the applicant will contribute to the university's commitment to diversity and inclusion, three letters of reference, and a current email address. Please submit online at <https://jobs.susqu.edu/>. Any inquiries should be sent to the department head, Dr. Michele DeMary, at poliscisearch@susqu.edu. Review of applications begins February 3 and will continue until the position is filled.

As a living, learning and working community, Susquehanna University affirms its commitment to being an engaged, culturally inclusive campus. As we seek to embody the rich diversity of the human community, we commit ourselves to the full participation of persons who represent the breadth of human difference. The university encourages candidates from historically underrepresented groups to apply. Susquehanna University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Susquehanna University is a national liberal arts college committed to excellence in educating students for productive, creative and reflective lives of achievement, leadership and service in a diverse, dynamic and interdependent world. Its more than 2,200 undergraduates come from 35 states and 22 countries, and all students study away through Susquehanna's unique Global Opportunities program. Susquehanna University's 325 acre campus, noted for its beauty, is located in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, 50 miles north of Harrisburg in the scenic Susquehanna River Valley, about a three hour drive from Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and New York City. For more information, please visit <https://www.susqu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2508

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor. Priority: Comparative Politics or IR.

Other: Political Theory or Open

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, Middle East, Post Communist Europe

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2017. Applicants at the associate rank may also be considered. While we encourage applications by candidates in any field, our priority is to recruit in World Politics, which comprises Comparative Politics and International Relations. Located in the nation's capital, the Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major and a distinguished MA and PhD program.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Expertise in a regional area such as Latin America, the Middle East or Eastern Europe is a plus. Security studies and foreign policy are traditional strengths of the department. Beyond these fields, areas of interest include but are not limited to political theory and constitutionalism. We seek applicants who can enhance the historical, institutional and theoretical strengths of the department. Candidates who can cross field and disciplinary lines and articulate the relevance of ethical and religious concerns in their areas of specialty are particularly attractive.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a C.V., and a writing sample to

pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of graduate transcripts and three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found here:

http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html .

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, department chair, at coyle@cua.edu . Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment. The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2488

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowships in Inequality and Political Development in Latin America

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at the Universidad Católica del Uruguay is pleased to offer up to 3 two-year post-doctoral fellowship opportunities for 2017-19. Applicants should have obtained their PhDs after December 1, 2011 and need to demonstrate residence outside Uruguay during the last 3 years. Successful candidates should focus their research on one of two broad topics: stratification, inequality and social mobility, or political and social development.

The two-year fellowship will commence August 1, 2017 and conclude July 31, 2019. The Fellow will receive an annual salary of up to USD 26,317 and benefits depending on applicant's qualifications (calculated at current exchange rate of USD 1 = UYU 29); one round trip in economy class (up to USD 4,000), will have work space at the Department of Social and Political Sciences and access to facilities at Universidad Católica del Uruguay.

The position requires residency in Montevideo with a possibility of being a semester abroad for fieldwork if properly justified in the research proposal. There is a teaching requirement of 84 hours per year, in Spanish. The successful candidate is expected to teach 1 undergraduate course (42h), 1 course at the master level (21h) and 1 course at the Methods Winter School (20h) each year.

The post-doc is co-funded by the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII) under its "Fondo Profesor Dr. Roberto Caldeyro Barcia" initiative. The Department of Social and Political Sciences promotes scholarly, interdisciplinary research by faculty and students, advancing relevant knowledge about political, social, and economic issues, and generating communities of research and practice on key Latin American concerns.

The application process has two stages. Candidates should apply directly to the Department of Social and Political Sciences (DCSP), submitting a CV, a detailed research proposal, a cover letter, and 2 recommendation letters, by email to Mr. Gastón Sagasti (gsagasti@ucu.edu.uy). Recommendation letters should be sent directly to Mr. Gastón Sagasti. Applications for this stage are due by Tuesday, January 17, 2017.

Please direct any inquiries prior to the first stage deadline to Mr. Gastón Sagasti, Department of Social and Political Sciences, Universidad Católica del Uruguay (gsagasti@ucu.edu.uy), except for during the New Year's Holiday (December 31 to January 15). For more information about the Department, visit our webpage (<http://ucu.edu.uy/dcps>). Candidates are strongly advised to prepare documents according to the requirements established by ANII. Complete information can be found at <http://www.anii.org.uy/apoyos/formacion/6/posdoctorados-en-uruguay/>

A short-list of candidates would be invited to complete the second stage of the application process by January 24. During this second stage, candidates jointly apply with the Department of Social and Political Sciences to the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII). Applications for this stage are due by Thursday, February 2, 2017 (14:00, GMT-3).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/17/2017

Date Posted: 12/1/2016

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 2431

Wake Forest University

Rank: African Politics and African/International Studies

African Politics and African/International Studies – Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and International Affairs of Wake Forest University invites applications for a tenure-track position in African Politics and International Studies beginning in the 2017-2018 academic year. The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor level and will involve teaching and research interests in the area(s) of the politics of Sub-Saharan Africa, international, and/or comparative politics. Included in this teaching load will be courses offered for interdisciplinary minors in African Studies and International Studies. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, undergraduate teaching, and mentoring. The most competitive candidates will have their PhD in hand at time of appointment. Applicants should submit the following materials through the on-line site identified below by January 6, 2017:

- a cover letter directed to Dr. Katy Harriger (harriger@wfu.edu), Chair, Department of Politics and International Affairs;
- curriculum vitae;
- graduate transcripts;
- a statement of research program;
- a statement of teaching philosophy;
- course outlines;
- teaching evaluation summaries.

Applicants must make arrangements to have three confidential letters of recommendation sent to letters@wfu.edu. Otherwise, letters and additional documents can be uploaded in OpenHire (2413-141). When applying, please refer to tracking number.

For complete details and to apply, go to <http://wakejobs.silkroad.com/> or call (336) 758-4700. The submission of an online application for Wake Forest University is required for this position. Questions about the application process may be addressed to wakejobs@wfu.edu. Wake Forest University is an equal opportunity employer. Wake Forest University values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/26/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2291

San Diego State University

Rank: Director of the J. Keith Behner and Catherine M. Stiefel Program on Brazil

The College of Arts and Letters of San Diego State University seeks to hire an associate or full professor with a specialty on Brazil.

Requirements:

Ph.D. in Humanities and/or Social Sciences, with a research and teaching focus on Brazil. Proven administrative experience building interdisciplinary and/or intercollegiate programs and record of success in obtaining external funding.

Rank and salary commensurate with experience and professional accomplishments. Tenure upon hire is possible depending upon qualifications.

Duties:

I. Develop both long and short term plans to meet the program's objectives in the areas of:

research, scholarship and creative endeavors;
 academic programming and co-curricular activities in all aspects of Brazil's life - social, cultural and scientific - including international programs with and/or in Brazil, such as exchange of students/faculty; engagement and outreach

II. Establish an open, inclusive and transparent process to allocate seed money for research projects and support for curricular and extra-curricular initiatives that are poised to deliver tangible outcomes.

III. Instigate and develop internal and outreach efforts, including development.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all. SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

Application Instructions

To ensure full consideration, please apply via Interfolio. Position will remain open until filled.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.'

This institution is using Interfolio's ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2221

University of North Texas

Rank: Assistant Professor--Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of North Texas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2017 in the broadly defined field of contentious politics in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are interested in prospective candidates who conduct research in such areas as civil society, social movements, ethnic politics, and non-state opposition groups (e.g., terrorist organizations, rebel organizations, extremist parties).

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) A Ph.D. in Political Science (highly qualified ABD candidates will also be considered) and (2) evidence that demonstrates a potential for excellence in research, teaching, and service will be required of the selected candidate. Preference will be given to candidates with strong methods skills and who are likely to publish in top-tier journals, seek external funding, and who show a willingness to work with other faculty and graduate students.

The faculty member will teach core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continue a record of robust scholarly research, direct graduate research, and provide service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 26 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly and Journal of Political Science Education. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the UNT Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site can be found at: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With nearly 38,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) a writing sample, (5) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., peer reviews, evaluations), (6) a copy of transcripts, and (7) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquiries to David Mason, search committee chair (David.Mason@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 21, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date. UNT is an AA/ADA/EOE.

The University of North Texas System is firmly committed to equal opportunity and does not permit - and takes actions to prevent - discrimination, harassment (including sexual violence), and retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, disability, family status, genetic information, citizenship or veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, and employment practices. The University of North Texas System immediately investigates and takes remedial action when appropriate. The University of North Texas System also takes actions to prevent retaliation against individuals who oppose a discriminatory practice, file a charge, or testify, assist or participate in an investigative proceeding or hearing.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2115

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics/ International Relations

Rhodes College – Visiting Assistant Professor – Comparative Politics / International Relations

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College invites applications for a visiting Assistant Professor to start Fall 2017. A Ph.D. in hand by Fall 2017 is required. The appointee is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either Comparative Politics or International Relations as well as an upper level course on international conflict. The ability to teach research methods in international studies would be a plus. The position has a 3-3 teaching load and offers the possibility for renewal up to a third year after the successful completion of the first year.

The department seeks candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and research. Successful candidates will also be those who can contribute to an interdisciplinary atmosphere. Application materials must include: a letter of application, CV, names and contact information of 3 references, writing/publication sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please address in your cover letter your interest in teaching at a liberal arts college and how your experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. Apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu. For additional information please contact Ms. Kim Stevenson, Departmental Assistant, Department of International Studies, StevensonK@rhodes.edu. Review of completed applications will begin on November 14 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2099

Ohio State University

Rank: Race and Gender in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Description:

The department of political science seeks candidates for a tenured or tenure-track position in the study of race and/or gender in politics. We welcome applications from scholars studying comparative politics and international relations, however, we are especially interested in applicants who study race and/or gender as they pertain to politics in the United States. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding.

This position is part of a larger initiative at Ohio State to increase faculty diversity and to promote research and teaching on topics central to race, ethnicity, sex, and gender as well as disparities in modern society linked to these categories. The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences intends to hire at least eight new faculty members under this initiative. The new cluster of faculty will be able to build a network with many committed professors already at home in the College of Arts and Sciences in the Diversity & Identity Studies Collective, the Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and the Department of African American and African Studies. Graduate certificates in this area of inquiry and undergraduate bridge programs are also being built to support this initiative.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have that degree by Autumn 2017. It is possible the successful candidate could have a PhD degree in a cognate field such as sociology or social psychology but a PhD in political science is preferred. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7871>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2000

Georgetown University

Rank: Multiple positions--African American Studies

Seizing this pivotal moment in Georgetown's history, the Department of African American Studies invites applications for at least four open-rank positions, which have an anticipated start date of August 1, 2017. This first set of hires inaugurates a multi-year hiring initiative and is an integral part of Georgetown University's plan to expand African American Studies, and establish a Research Center for Racial Justice. We seek scholars who have an ambitious research agenda, a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, and an earnest desire to help build the newly formed department and participate in other university service. Currently, our strengths lie in African American studies and its intersections with literary studies, sociology, history, and performance studies. Building upon these fields, we seek cross-disciplinary, multi-disciplinary, and trans-disciplinary scholarship that strengthens African American Studies' capacity in psychology, visual studies, philosophy, political science, economics, women's and gender studies, and law and criminology. More specifically, we seek applicants whose research interests engage with one of the following topics:

- Structural and cultural causes of and solutions to black inequality
- Black cultural productions and responses to legacies and impacts of slavery, Jim Crow segregation, and imperialism in US institutions
- How Black intersectionality informs equality and social justice

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. in African American Studies or related fields by July 1, 2017. Senior candidates with administrative and departmental leadership interests and experience are especially welcomed. All applicants should specify the rank for which they are applying in the letter of interest.

Applicants without tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), three letters of recommendation, and dissertation abstract (if the candidate is ABD).

Applicants with tenure should submit a letter of interest, C.V., writing sample (10,000 words or less), research statement (current and future projects, or career narrative), and names, telephone numbers, and email addresses for three referees.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2016 and will continue until the positions are filled.

Applicants without tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36591>

Applicants with tenure should submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/36594>

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1933

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning July 2017. We are seeking a broadly trained Political Scientist who could teach courses in international relations and political philosophy. A Ph.D. is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a “Best in the Midwest” in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 31st, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1937

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, South Asia

WINTHROP UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Sciences

Rock Hill, South Carolina 29733

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Open Field

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position. The department welcomes applications in all subfields; however, we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: Comparative Politics (Middle East, Asia), Public Administration, Public Law, and/or American Institutions. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. Considered one of the strongest departments in the University, the Winthrop Political Science department boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching and research alike. The department is also home to a long-standing Model UN program, which just celebrated its 40th anniversary; the Social & Behavioral Research Laboratory, which is home to the renowned Winthrop Poll; and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in Political Science. Our areas of need include: Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, Politics of Asia, Public Administration, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Congress, The Presidency, Public Policy, Women and US Politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience and/or expertise in Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, and/or Politics of Asia

- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to teach research methods or experience in public opinion polling a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University’s innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement
- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring.
- Specialization in areas among those listed above.
- Evidence of excellence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning.
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication.
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above.

Employment Conditions: A 9-month full-time tenure-track appointment with option of summer employment if funds are available. Salary is dependent upon qualifications. Pending final budgetary approval.

Position Availability: August 16, 2017

Application Deadline: Friday, November 11, 2016. Application materials received after the deadline date may be considered if an acceptable candidate has not been found.

Application Procedures:

1. Applications should consist of:
  - letter of application, including a statement of “teaching philosophy,”
  - curriculum vitae,
  - sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length),
  - evidence of excellence and commitment to student learning,
  - three professional letters of reference,
  - all graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment).
2. If you are attending the Annual Meeting of The American Political Science Association (APSA) in Philadelphia from September 1-4, please email Department Chair Dr. Jennifer Leigh Disney (disneyj@winthrop.edu) to schedule a meeting at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service.

3. Applications may be submitted electronically to the following address:

PLSCJobs@winthrop.edu
 Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science
 346 Bancroft Hall
 Winthrop University
 Rock Hill, SC 29733
 (803) 323-2209

Winthrop University is a public, comprehensive university located in Rock Hill, SC, 30 minutes south of Charlotte, NC, that is among the very best institutions of our kind in the nation. Through an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement, Winthrop University helps students develop the knowledge, skills, and values that will enrich their lives forever and prepare them for all that the future holds. Winthrop University has 5,000 undergraduate students and 1,000 graduate students. We have a diverse student population, which is 69% women and 36% students of color, and we have a 14 to 1 student/faculty ratio. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 8/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1917

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: William S. Dietrich Endowed Chair in Political Science

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the inaugural William S. Dietrich II Endowed Chair in Political Science, with appointment to begin in the 2017-18 academic year, pending budgetary approval. The Chair is named in honor of the late Dr. William S. Dietrich II, a former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees who received his Ph.D. from the Department in 1984.

In filling this chair, and in keeping with the interests of Dr. Dietrich, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship in the fields of international relations or comparative politics, or whose interests cut across these and possibly other disciplinary subfields.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh currently consists of 25 tenure stream faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. The Department's NRC ranking has improved dramatically over the past decade, and presently ranks between 20th and 30th among Ph.D. granting departments. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Please submit a detailed cover letter and C.V. electronically at <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MTU3>. Additional information may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1780

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for one tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2017. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. We are especially interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of democratic representation, particularly as it relates to the study of underrepresented minorities, either in the U.S. or cross-nationally.

Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by November 1, 2017. The application deadline is September 15, 2016, but applications will be accepted until the search is closed. All applications should be submitted electronically via <https://jobs.rice.edu/> (from this page, select "Faculty," then choose "Assistant Professor of Political Science" or "Associate Professor of Political Science," according to your level). A complete application for candidates at the assistant professor level will include (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) two writing samples, and (5) three letters of recommendation. Candidates who currently hold the rank of associate professor are asked to submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and information for at least three references.

Equal Opportunity Employer – Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 9/15/2016

Date Posted: 7/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1611

University of Redlands

Rank: Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for the Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2017 semester.

Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (American Politics or Comparative Politics with U.S. expertise), with at least five years of professional experience, preferably at a liberal arts institution. We especially welcome applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position.

Please submit application materials (including letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, samples of scholarly work, and three letters of reference, under separate cover) electronically at apply@redlands.edu or mail to: Human Resources, University of Redlands, PO Box 3080, Redlands CA 92373-0999. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2016, and position will remain open until filled.

Inquiries can be directed to steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu, including requests for interview at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Philadelphia, PA.

The University of Redlands is committed to increasing the diversity of the university community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and/or experiences in the area of inclusivity. Strongly preferred are candidates with demonstrated experience working with diverse student populations. The University of Redlands is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Employer and actively encourages applications from minority and other members of underrepresented groups. The University of Redlands does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, disability, age, marital status, or sexual orientation in its programs and activities.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 11/1/2016
Date Posted: 7/7/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1593

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Latin America)

The Political Science Department at Dickinson College seeks applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. Successful applicants will have expertise, and be able to teach courses, in aspects of Latin American Politics. Tenure-track faculty at Dickinson teach a five-course load.

Dickinson College values interdisciplinary teaching and learning, and many in the Department teach and research outside traditional disciplinary boundaries. The successful candidate will be expected to support the College's interdisciplinary program in Latin American, Latino & Caribbean Studies.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC and Philadelphia.

The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically via <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>. Please include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample, three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Please address questions to department chair Ed Webb via webbe@dickinson.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/1/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 1574

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

University of Chicago

Rank: CIR Senior Lecturer

The Committee on International Relations (CIR) at the University of Chicago invites applications for a Senior Lecturer in International Political Economy. The initial appointment is for a three-year term beginning 2017-18. The position is renewable contingent upon ongoing curricular need, satisfactory performance review, and budgetary approval. Salary and benefits are competitive.

The successful candidate will annually teach four one-quarter courses in the International Relations MA program, including three core seminars on international political economy and one course of the Senior Lecturer's own design. The Senior Lecturer will also advise CIR M.A. students on their individual MA thesis research. In addition to teaching and advising responsibilities, the Senior Lecturer, working under the supervision of the faculty director and in collaboration with the program's other Senior Lecturer, will organize and lead co-curricular activities for the cohort of International Relations MA students, including regular academic workshops and professionalization activities for students seeking further graduate education or pursuing a career in government or the private sector, and will also oversee the program's alumni relations.

To be eligible, applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or related field with a focus on International Relations. Applicants must also have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring graduate students. Understanding of the University of Chicago's faculty and academic resources, and familiarity with non-academic careers in government and the private sector, are strongly preferred.

Applicants must apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <http://tinyurl.com/z6cjbnu>. Applications must include the following materials: 1) a cover letter, 2) a current curriculum vitae, 3) teaching statement, 4) teaching evaluations, 5) syllabi for two proposed courses, 6) an article-length writing sample, and 7) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin March 28, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/24/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2664

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, Foreign Policy

<http://www.cmu.edu/ips/>

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in American Politics, Comparative Politics, IPE, and Globalization.

The postdoctoral fellow will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2017 to July 31, 2019. The salary for this position is $45,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2014, and August 31, 2017. The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on March 23, 2017.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)

- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Please e-mail your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/23/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2660

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia

The Department of History and International Studies at Hawaii Pacific University invites applications for a full-time career track position for an Assistant Professor in International Studies. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science, International Studies, or International Relations with a specialization in Asia or the Asia-Pacific region.

Candidates must be qualified to teach courses on the politics and international relations of Asia or the Asia-Pacific region, as well as contribute to our MA Diplomacy and Military Studies program.

Other desired qualifications include teaching experience at the university level in a diverse environment. Hawaii's Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawaii's Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Application materials, including a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation should be submitted by March 27, 2017 through the page for this position vacancy found at <https://www.hpu.edu/UniquelyHPU/HPUEmployment/job-listing.html>

Please send questions to socialsciences@hpu.edu (no application materials accepted at this e-mail address).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/27/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2661

University of Oxford

Rank: Post-doctoral Research Fellow- From Conflict Actors to Architects of Peace: Promoting Human Security in Colombia and Internationally

Subfield(s): International Relations, Other, Public Policy

Specializations: Latin American, International Security, Conflict Processes

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Oxford is looking for a Post- doctoral Research Fellow to join a research team to work on an exciting new project directed by Dr Annette Idler, and supported by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO).

The project “From Conflict Actors to Architects of Peace: Promoting Human Security in Colombia and Internationally” explores the changes to the security landscape that accompany transitions from war to peace. In particular, it examines (i) how the reshuffling of violent non-state groups that occurs during such transitions affects conflict, security, order and governance; (ii) the implications for ethics and norms when the line between armed conflict and organised crime is blurred; and (iii) how historical turning points such as the end of Colombia’s armed conflict with the FARC fit within broader geopolitical shifts, and the world’s evolving security landscape. The project applies academic research to explore how Colombia’s security architecture needs to adapt and respond to a changing context in order to promote human security, both in Colombia and internationally.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage in advanced independent and collaborative research in the field of ethics, norms and law in settings of armed conflict and organised crime with a focus on Colombia and its international context. S/he will also be expected to publish research of an internationally excellent standard, and to participate fully in the research life of the Department and the Changing Character of War (CCW) Programme.

The post holder’s duties will include assisting the Project Director in the academic and practical organisation of two fora to be held in Oxford in June 2017 and June 2018; to assist with publications in the aftermath of the fora and with the development of plans for the extension and consolidation of a research programme on the nexus of armed conflict and organised crime in Oxford. The successful candidate will hold a doctorate in the field of ethics and law in armed conflict, or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant subject. Applicants should have previous experience of contributing to publications in the field of ethics and law in armed conflict and excellent administration and communication skills. Experience of engaging with defence and security-related practitioners and policymakers is highly desirable.

This post is offered on a full-time basis, for a fixed-term period until 15 August 2018, to commence 1 April 2017 or as soon as possible thereafter. Further duties and skills required are described in more detail in the further particulars.

Please direct enquiries about the role to Dr Annette Idler in the Politics and International Relations Department (annette.idler@politics.ox.ac.uk).

To apply for this role and for further details, please follow the link: <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancies-and-jobs.html>.

Applications for this vacancy are to be made online, quoting reference 127406.

Closing date for applications is noon (UK time) on Friday 17 March 2017.

The University of Oxford is an Equal Opportunities Employer

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 3/17/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 2653

University of Oxford

Rank: Post-doctoral Research Fellow -The Changing Character of Conflict Platform: Understanding, Tracing and Forecasting Change across Time, Space and Cultures

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Conflict Processes, Latin American

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Oxford is looking for a Post-doctoral Research Fellow to work on an exciting new project directed by Dr Annette Idler in collaboration with Dr Robert Johnson and Prof Peter Wilson, and supported by the Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC).

The project “The Changing Character of Conflict Platform: Understanding, Tracing and Forecasting Change across Time, Space and Cultures” aims to produce a comprehensive knowledge platform on how and when armed conflict changes, with a view to enabling governments and international organisations to adapt their strategies and policies to address ongoing and prevent future conflict.

The successful candidate will be expected to undertake quantitative research both independently and jointly with the Project Director and the project team, and in addition s/he will be expected to participate fully in the research life of the Department and the Changing Character of War (CCW) Programme.

The post holder’s duties will include statistical analysis, model development, and the creation of interactive data visualisations. Applicants should therefore have advanced skills in research design and quantitative analysis, with excellent skills in web technologies such as JavaScript and html. They should have demonstrable ability to use advanced data analysis software. The successful candidate will hold a doctorate in Statistics, Economics and/or Political Science, or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant subject. Experience in engaging with external stakeholders, including governments, international organisations and think tanks, is highly desirable.

The duties of the Post-doctoral Research Fellow will also include assisting the Project Director and the research team in the academic and practical organisation of two conferences on the Changing Character of Conflict Platform, to be held in Oxford in September 2018 and September 2020.

This post is offered on a full-time basis, for a fixed-term period until 30 April 2020, to commence 1 May 2017, or as soon as possible thereafter. Further duties and skills required are described in more detail in the further particulars.

Please direct enquiries about the role to Dr Annette Idler in the Politics and International Relations Department (annette.idler@politics.ox.ac.uk).

To apply for this role and for further details, please follow the link: <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancies-and-jobs.html>.

Applications for this vacancy are to be made online, quoting reference 127405.

Closing date for applications is noon (UK time) on Monday 3 April 2017.

The University of Oxford is an Equal Opportunities Employer

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 4/3/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 2654

High Point University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

High Point University invites applications for a one-year (9-month) appointment in political science to begin in August 2017. We are open with respect to sub-field specialization, but the successful applicant must be prepared to teach introductory American politics. The teaching load for a visiting assistant professor is three courses each semester. This line may be renewable, contingent on excellent performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval.

Competitive candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students in a liberal arts setting. We prefer candidates who will have a Ph.D. completed by August 2017, but will consider otherwise competitive ABD applicants for appointment at the instructor level (which would entail teaching 4 courses each semester).

A review of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Application instructions are available at:

https://highpoint.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/HighPoint/job/High-Point-University/Visiting-Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science\_R0000120

For more information regarding this position, please contact Dr. Alixandra Yanus at ayanus@highpoint.edu. Information on our department can be viewed at: <http://www.highpoint.edu/politicalscience/>

To apply, candidates will need to apply on-line, uploading their C.V. and a letter of interest that includes an overview of their teaching and scholarly interests. It will be helpful if applicants will identify in their letters any of our existing courses that align closely with these interests. After an initial screening, some candidates will be asked to provide letters of reference, copies of graduate transcripts, writing samples, and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

High Point University is located in the North Carolina's Piedmont Triad, a metropolitan area with more than 1.5 million people. The university is a selective private liberal arts college that enrolls approximately 4,500 students from across the country and dozens of foreign countries. The political science faculty offers small classes and excellent instruction from an accessible, caring group of teacher-scholars. The university is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2650

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Non-Tenure Track Assistant Teaching Professor, Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science is seeking to hire one individual for a full time, non-tenure track Assistant Teaching Professor position, to teach in the fields of Comparative Politics and International Relations. Experience with the large lecture introductory courses in those fields strongly preferred, as is experience teaching Undergraduate Research Methods. In addition to such basic introductory classes, courses to be covered might include Comparative Public Policy, Conflict Resolution, Politics and Culture, Politics of Developing Countries, and Social Movements. Area coverage in Europe, including Russia, a definite plus. Ideally, this person will also be responsible for the Rutgers/Ritsumeikan exchange program, helping host 15-20 Japanese undergraduates who visit Rutgers for several weeks in the Spring, and accompanying a similar set of Rutgers students who visit Japan in the early summer. Standard teaching load will be three undergraduate-level courses per semester. Appointment will be for one year with possible renewal based on need, teaching evaluations, and available funding. PhD required in Political Science or related field by start date.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Applicants should send a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, list of courses taught, sample syllabi, and three letters of recommendation to:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/40687>

Review of applicants will begin on March 6th and continue until the job is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2649

University of Georgia

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of International Affairs at the University of Georgia invites applications for two full time lecturer positions to begin in the fall semester of 2017. These are nine month academic year appointments that are renewable on an annual basis for up to six years. The successful candidates are expected to teach 8 courses per year and to have teaching experience in the fields of international relations or comparative politics. The candidates should be able to teach introductory courses in the fields of international relations and comparative politics as well as offer upper division courses that are specific to the expertise of the candidates. A minimum of one year of teaching experience required. A Ph.D. or near-completed PhD in political science is required at the time of hiring. If still ABD, the Ph.D. requirement will have to be completed by June 30, 2017.

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a letter of interest describing their teaching philosophy, a curriculum vita, teaching evaluations, original transcripts, and three letters of recommendation in electronic form to the UGA Faculty Job site at <http://facultyjobs.uga.edu/postings/1857>. Questions or hard copies of letters of recommendation can be sent to Bill Zachmann, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 309, Athens, GA 30602 (zachmann@uga.edu). Applications received by April 15, 2017 will be assured full consideration.

Georgia is well known for its quality of life including both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2644

Cornell College

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Politics

The Department of Politics invites applications for a part-time Visiting Lecturer position in comparative politics or international relations during the 2017-2018 academic year. Candidates should be prepared to teach the introductory course in international relations and comparative politics as well as upper-division courses in international political economy and development. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated commitment to teaching and mentoring students.

Teaching load is 5 classes over the course of the year. Although the College would prefer the courses all be taught by one instructor, candidates interested in teaching part of the listed classes below may apply. Cornell College operates under a one course at a time model and will need the following courses taught:

September 4-27, 2017 (International Political Economy)

October 2-25, 2017 (Political Economy of Developing Countries)

February 12-March 7, 2018 (International Politics)

March 19-April 11, 2018 (Comparative Politics)

April 16-May 9, 2018 (regional topics course)

Qualifications: PhD or ABD preferred, Master's Degree required.

Affordable furnished housing may be available upon request.

Cornell College is an undergraduate liberal arts college that has attracted national attention for its distinctive academic calendar under which faculty teach and students take one course at a time in month-long terms. The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Submit letter of application, vita, statement of teaching and research interests, graduate transcripts, a writing sample, and three letters of reference through Cornell's online employment application - <https://cornellcollege.applicantpro.com/jobs/527171.html>

Applications will be reviewed as received and will continue until the position is filled.

Cornell is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Cornell complies with Iowa's Smoke Free Air Act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2638

Columbia University

Rank: Professor (Open Rank)

Specializations: International Security, Intelligence, Foreign Policy

Professor (open rank)

International security policy and strategic studies

School of International and Public Affairs

Columbia University

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) invites applications for a professor (at any rank) in international security policy and strategic studies to begin July 2017 (or as soon thereafter as possible).

Ph.D. required. Candidates will be expected to sustain an active research and publication agenda and teach in graduate programs. Senior candidates must have a distinguished publication record.

Applicants should be qualified to teach some combination of courses on military operations, strategy and technology, arms control, weapons of mass destruction, regional security issues, terrorism and unconventional warfare, intelligence, or defense economics and program analysis. Research interests should be policy-relevant. Related experience in government service or policy analysis organizations is a plus. The person hired will participate in the activities of SIPA master's degree concentration in International Security Policy.

Please visit our online application site at:

<https://academicjobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=64104>

for further information about this position and to submit your application.

Screening of the candidates will begin immediately and the search will remain open no less than 30 days from the date of posting. For further information, please contact Joe Chartier, Academic Department Administrator, School of International and Public Affairs, at jc3317@columbia.edu.

SIPA brings together an interdisciplinary faculty to conduct research in policy-related fields and train students at the master's and doctoral level for careers in global public policy.

The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of SIPA's academic community. Applications from women and underrepresented minorities are strongly encouraged.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2633

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: LEO Lecturer I

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science in the College of Literature, Science and Arts at the University of Michigan is seeking up to two LEO Lecturer I lecturers to teach up to four courses during the Fall 2017 Semester. An applicant can apply to teach up to three courses maximum. The duration of this appointment would be from September 1, 2017 - December 31, 2017. The appointment effort would be 33% for one course (not benefits eligible), 67% for two courses (benefits eligible), and 100% for three courses (benefits eligible).

Responsibilities*

Responsibilities for each position include course coordination and teaching upper-level, undergraduate courses. In addition to classroom-teaching responsibilities, the instructor will hold office hours for students, provide appropriate syllabus and course materials electronically, attend regular course meetings, and handle routine course-related administrative matters.

Applicants should send a cover letter that describes their proposed course(s), as well as a draft syllabus for each proposed course. Applicants proposing courses in the following subject areas will be favored: International Security Affairs (POLSCI 372), The American Foreign Policy Process (POLSCI 371), International Organizations and Law (POLSCI 363), Politics of International Economic Relations (POLSCI 369). Applicants may likewise propose one or more courses of their own chosen heading using the POLSCI 389/489 description below.

The search committee will favor applicants conducting independent research who are interested in participating in ongoing workshops on political economy and conflict and peace. Please address this interest in your cover letter, with some discussion of the independent research you are currently conducting. Likewise, applicants able to teach courses from a perspective informed by political science scholarship will be favored. Please indicate in your cover letter the range of political science literatures on which your courses draw.

POLSCI 389. An upper-level lecture-discussion course on a topic in contemporary world politics. Area of focus is contingent on instructor's expertise; the course should employ political science concepts and analysis rather than just survey recent developments. Examples of recent courses taught under this designation include The United Nations, The Political Economy of Conflict: Terrorism and Civil War, Global Society, Third-Party Conflict and Post-Conflict Intervention, Human Rights in Global Politics, and Sexual Violence in Wartime.

POLSCI 489. A senior-level seminar on a topic in contemporary world politics. Area of focus is contingent on instructor's expertise; the course should employ political science concepts and analysis rather than just survey recent developments. Examples of recent seminars taught include Human Rights, The Historical Evolution of the Sovereign State System, The Politics of Sovereign Debt, Politics of International Finance, and Norm Diffusion.

Required Qualifications*

Candidates must have a Ph.D. or advanced graduate training in political science.

Union Affiliation

This position is covered under the collective bargaining agreement between the U-M and the Lecturers Employee Organization, AFL-CIO, which contains and settles all matters with respect to wages, benefits, hours and other terms and conditions of employment.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Selection Process

Applications will be selected based upon demonstrated subject matter expertise, successful performance in the classroom, ability to complete administrative tasks competently, and the needs of the department.

U-M EEO/AA Statement

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

How to Apply

To review posting and apply, go to umjobs.org. Apply to posting 137398.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/10/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2624

Villanova University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a one year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics/International Relations for the 2017-2018 academic year. Responsibilities include a 3-3 teaching load of introductory and upper division undergraduate courses and M.A. level graduate courses, and advising approximately 25 undergraduate majors.

All Comparative Politics and International Relations specializations will be considered. Ph.D. in hand is strongly preferred; ABDs will be considered. Broad training in political science is expected. Evidence of teaching excellence is essential.

Applicants must apply on-line at <http://jobs.villanova.edu>. The on-line application should include a brief letter of application indicating your interest and suitability, a statement of teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, official graduate and undergraduate transcripts, two syllabi (if available), and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The names and contact information for two referees are required and must be included with your submission. The letters of recommendation will be able to be submitted directly and confidentially by the reviewer who will receive an email with instructions once your application is submitted. All material must be received by March 17, 2017. Questions about the position can be directed to the department chair, Dr. Matthew Kerbel at matthew.kerbel@villanova.edu

Villanova is a Catholic university sponsored by the Augustinian order. Diversity and inclusion have been and will continue to be an integral component of Villanova University's mission. The University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and seeks candidates who understand, respect and can contribute to the University's mission and values. For a more detailed description of the department, please consult <http://www1.villanova.edu/villanova/artsci/psc.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/17/2017
Date Posted: 2/8/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2614

University of Notre Dame

Rank: 2017 Emerging Scholars Conference Participant

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) seeks nominations of outstanding candidates (advanced ABD students or pre/post doctoral fellows) to present their work at the second Emerging Scholars in Grand Strategy Conference. The two-day conference will consist of 6 workshops, one for each successful nominee. Each workshop will include a research presentation by the Emerging Scholar, a response by a senior scholar in the field, and a general discussion. NDISC will make all arrangements and cover all expenses related to the conference, which will be held May 24-26 at Oakwood Resort, IN.

By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek nominees whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of these issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal nominee will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of foreign policy goals.

Nominee(s) should upload a CV, a brief bio, and a 250-word abstract that describes their project to this posting. The automated system will subsequently ask nominators for a letter of recommendation; letters that have already been written for other purposes (e.g. fellowships, academic jobs) are sufficient.
 Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/40560>

The deadline for receipt of all materials is March 1, 2017.

The University of Notre Dame seeks to attract, develop, and retain the highest quality faculty, staff and administration. The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and is committed to building a culturally diverse workplace. We strongly encourage applications from female and minority candidates and those candidates attracted to a university with a Catholic identity. Moreover, Notre Dame prohibits discrimination against veterans or disabled qualified individuals, and requires affirmative action by covered contractors to employ and advance veterans and qualified individuals with disabilities in compliance with 41 CFR 60-741.5(a) and 41 CFR 60-300.5(a).

This appointment is also contingent upon the successful completion of a background check. Applicants will be asked to identify all felony convictions and/or pending felony charges. Felony convictions do not automatically bar an individual from employment. Each case will be examined separately to determine the appropriateness of employment in the particular position. Failure to be forthcoming or dishonesty with respect to felony disclosures can result in the disqualification of a candidate. The full procedure can be viewed at <http://facultyhandbook.nd.edu/university-policies/background-check-procedure-for-prospective-faculty/>.

Please feel free to contact mdesch@nd.edu if you have any questions.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 2/6/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2618

Vienna School of International Studies and University of Vienna

Rank: University Professor of European Studies

The University of Vienna and the Vienna School of International Studies seek to appoint a University Professor of European Studies with a special focus on policies, institutions, and decision-making processes of the European Union (full-time, 5-year appointment).

The successful candidate is expected to represent the field of European Studies in its full breadth of theoretical and methodological approaches. The position is open with respect to candidates' specialisation, and they may hold doctoral degrees in Economics, History, Law or Political Science.

The language of instruction is English.

Applications written in English should be submitted by e-mail to berufungsservice@univie.ac.at.
 Reference no.: UW/DA/17/1
 The application deadline is 31 March 2017.
 For further particulars, see www.da-vienna.ac.at/news.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/31/2017
Date Posted: 2/6/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 2617

Kenyon College*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Kenyon College, a highly selective, nationally ranked liberal arts college in central Ohio, invites applications for a one-year visiting position in International Relations in political science at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in July 2017. Qualified applicants must have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and active research interests in international politics. We are open to area of specialization, but are especially interested in candidates with expertise in human rights, international organization, international political economy, and/or peace and conflict. A capacity to teach courses in comparative politics is also desirable. Strong preference will go to candidates with a demonstrable record of excellence in teaching and research, fieldwork experience, and substantive historical knowledge. Candidates must also have a Ph.D. or be near completion by the beginning of the appointment.

To apply, candidates should visit the online application site found at <http://careers.kenyon.edu>. A complete application will be comprised of 1) a cover letter that includes an articulation of the applicant's teaching philosophy; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) three (3) letters of recommendation; 4) Unofficial transcript. All application materials must be submitted electronically through Kenyon's employment website.

Review of applications will begin February 24, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by February 24, 2017, will be guaranteed full consideration.

Start Date: Summer 2017Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 2/3/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 2611Mary Baldwin University*Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics and International Relations*Specializations: Africa, Middle East, Latin American

The Department of Political Science at Mary Baldwin University invites applications for a fixed term assistant professor position in Comparative Politics and International Relations. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Candidates must have broad theoretical and methodological training with the ability to teach introductory and advanced courses in International Relations, U.S. Foreign Policy, Comparative Politics, and Politics of Developing Nations, as well as topics courses related to their area of specialization -- preferably Asia, Latin America or Africa. Applicants must be committed to excellence in teaching and research in a small liberal arts undergraduate program. The position carries a 3-3-1 teaching load.

Please send cover letter, vita, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of reference to Terri Walker, assistant to the provost at doc@marybaldwin.edu. In keeping with its commitment to further diversify its faculty, Mary Baldwin University particularly encourages minorities and women to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017Application Deadline: 3/1/2017Date Posted: 2/3/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 2615Mary Baldwin University*Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics and International Relations*Specializations: Africa, Middle East, Latin American

The Department of Political Science at Mary Baldwin University invites applications for a fixed term assistant professor position in Comparative Politics and International Relations. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Candidates must have broad theoretical and methodological training with the ability to teach introductory and advanced courses in International Relations, U.S. Foreign Policy, Comparative Politics, and Politics of Developing Nations, as well as topics courses related to their area of specialization -- preferably Asia, Latin America or Africa. Applicants must be committed to excellence in teaching and research in a small liberal arts undergraduate program. The position carries a 3-3-1 teaching load.

Please send cover letter, vita, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of reference to Terri Walker, assistant to the provost at doc@marybaldwin.edu. In keeping with its commitment to further diversify its faculty, Mary Baldwin University particularly encourages minorities and women to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017Date Posted: 2/3/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 2616Heidelberg University*Rank: 10 Three-Year Positions (Part-Time, 65%) for Doctoral Candidates*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political TheorySpecializations: American Politics, Foreign Policy, Political Theory

The Heidelberg Center for American Studies (HCA) at Heidelberg University, Germany, invites applications for 10 Three-Year Positions (Part-Time, 65%)

(October 1, 2017 – September 30, 2020) in a Research Training Group (DFG-Graduiertenkolleg) on Authority and Trust in American Culture, Society, History, and Politics.

Funded by the German Research Foundation (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft), the interdisciplinary Training Group will focus on three broadly defined research areas: (1) the authority of the modern state and trust in public and social institutions; (2) the urban dimension of authority and trust; (3) authority and trust in literature, culture and religion.

We target postgraduates with a background in the following disciplines: American Studies, political science, social science, geography, history, linguistics, literature and culture, and religious studies.

Applicants must be fluent in English; hold an excellent master's degree or equivalent; and propose an innovative dissertation project within the thematic focus of the Training Group. Collegiates must take residence in Heidelberg and enroll as doctoral students at Heidelberg University.

The Graduiertenkolleg Authority and Trust (GKAT) offers a stimulating interdisciplinary and international environment at Germany's oldest university. Collegiates will find collaborative networks of European and North American scholars, individualized mentoring, and participate in a qualification program tailored to academic as well as professional career paths.

Gross annual salaries—predicated on the German public sector remuneration system (TV L)—will start at € 28,600 plus benefits (health, nursing care, pensions, and unemployment).

Application deadline: March 15, 2017. Qualified applicants with an interesting profile will be invited to a job market in Heidelberg in late April 2017. For more information on the application process, as well as detailed descriptions of the research design, curriculum, and qualification program, please go to: hca.uni-heidelberg.de/gkat.

Heidelberg University seeks to increase the number of women in positions in which they are underrepresented. In the event that the selection committee must choose between several equally qualified candidates, preference will be given to persons with disabilities. Heidelberg University is also dedicated to assist young scholars with families.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2612

John Cabot University

Rank: Full-time tenure track faculty position in Political Science and International Affairs

Full-time tenure track faculty position in Political Science and International Affairs

John Cabot University, a four year, fully-accredited American liberal arts college in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a full-time faculty position in political science and international affairs at the assistant or associate professor rank. We seek candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, commitment to academic service, and interested in the development of programs in a growing department.

The ideal candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses in international relations and global public policy with a load of three courses per semester. Ability to teach classes in American politics and foreign policy is an asset.

The ideal candidate should have extensive experience in the American liberal arts educational tradition. The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility of tenure. Candidates are expected to be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction. Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcript, three letters of recommendation, one or two research papers or journal publications, and evidence of teaching excellence to: politicalSci-Search@johncabot.edu. John Cabot University is an equal opportunity employer. Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2017. Only short-listed applicants will be notified.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2609

Saint John's University

Rank: Political Science/International Relations

The Political Science Department of the College of Saint Benedict and Saint John's University invites applications for a full-time one-year position at the rank of assistant professor to begin in August 2017. A completed Ph.D. in political science is preferred; ABD will be considered. Teaching assignments will include three courses per semester. The department seeks a broadly trained political scientist who can teach the following courses.

- Introduction to International Relations (POLS 121): Introduction to the study of the global system and international relations theories. Focuses on states, international organizations, sub-state and non-state actors. Case studies focus on conflict, globalization, climate change or other issues of instructor interest. (2 sections)

- Latin American Politics (POLS 347): An upper division course which incorporates comparative analysis of Latin American politics focusing on the themes of the military in politics, economic dependency, reform and revolution, and agrarian reform.

- One other upper division course in the candidate's area of interest.

- First Year Seminar: FYS is a required full-year course taken during the first year. It is designed to help students improve their ability to read carefully and think critically about what they read, to write in a variety of academic formats, improve their information literacy, and to develop discussion skills necessary for successful college course work.

Saint John's University, a liberal arts college for men, and the College of Saint Benedict, a liberal arts college for women, are located five miles apart in Central Minnesota just outside metropolitan St. Cloud and 70 miles from Minneapolis. Both are Catholic colleges in the Benedictine tradition, which emphasize quality teaching and a commitment to intercultural learning. For further information, see <http://www.csbsju.edu>

Qualifications:

Ph.D. in political science is preferred; ABD will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2606

University of Reading

Rank: Lecturer in Politics and International Relations

We are seeking to appoint a Lecturer in Politics and International Relations with internationally recognised research excellence, who can contribute to grant applications, teaching, administration, and outreach. The position is open with respect to subfield, but expertise in international relations, war and conflict, and foreign policy would be advantageous. A demonstrated interest in mixed methods and an ability to engage in policy-relevant research is desirable.

Politics and International Relations is ranked as one of the top 150 politics departments globally in the 2014 QS World University Rankings, and among the top 10 politics departments in the UK by research outputs in the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF). We are a dynamic department that expects to grow in strength over the next few years, with particular expertise in Conflict, Security, and Strategy; Applied Political Theory; and Comparative Politics.

The Department of Politics and International Relations is part of the School of Politics, Economics, and International Relations (SPEIR). It offers two single honours undergraduate programmes, 6 Masters programmes, and contributes to a range of joint honours programmes. It hosts an active community of PhD students with regular research seminars. The School and the Department have an established reputation for inter-disciplinary research, and members are collaborating with colleagues from schools across the university. Further information on the Department and its people and activities may be found at our web-site, <http://www.reading.ac.uk/spirs>.

The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the growth of research in the department, and to help further develop our engagement with external stakeholders. They will engage with both undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and research supervision as appropriate, and contribute to student support, outreach and general administration duties within the School. We are particularly interested in applicants who can show the ability to work across disciplinary and methodological boundaries and have a strong interest in maximising the policy impact of their research activities.

For further details about the vacancy and how to apply online please go to <https://jobs.reading.ac.uk/displayjob.aspx?jobid=471>

Informal enquiries may be made to Dr Jonathan Golub, email: j.s.golub@rdg.ac.uk

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/12/2017
Date Posted: 2/1/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2605

Vienna School of International Studies

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in International Relations

The Vienna School of International Studies (Diplomatische Akademie Wien) is proposing the appointment of a Postdoctoral Fellow in International Relations for two years, from 25 September 2017. Geared towards promoting the professional development of the appointee, he/she will focus on his/her own research and do a limited amount of graduate teaching.

The successful candidate must hold – or have evidence of the imminent completion of – a doctorate in Political Science/International Relations. A record of research achievement at the international level, a strong agenda for future research and previous teaching experience – preferably at graduate level – are essential.

The Vienna School of International Studies is a professional school, specialized in the interdisciplinary training of graduate students, and an associate member of APSIA. The presence of international organizations in Vienna makes for excellent research opportunities, in particular for research dealing with global governance and multilateralism broadly defined.

The closing date for applications is Sunday, 16 April 2017, midnight. Depending on seniority and experience, the postdoctoral fellow will be offered a yearly salary (before taxes and social security contribution) between EUR 33.000 and 39.000.

Please apply online at <https://application.da-vienna.ac.at/postdoc/Application>. Your curriculum vitae, your research agenda (5-10 pages), and teaching documentation (e.g. syllabi of courses taught, student evaluation of courses taught, statement on teaching philosophy, etc) may be sent to us by e-mail (elisabeth.hofer@da-vienna.ac.at) or mail (Dr Elisabeth Hofer, Vienna School of International Studies, Favoritenstrasse 15a, 1040 Vienna, Austria). Please also make sure that we receive three letters of recommendation (e-mailed directly by your referees/dossier service, or mailed in a sealed envelope).

For further details, please contact Dr Elisabeth Hofer (see above address).

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 4/16/2017
Date Posted: 2/1/2017
Salary: $30,000 - $39,999
eJobs ID: 2599

Clemson University

Rank: Visiting Lecturer

International Relations/Comparative Politics. The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure track position as a visiting lecturer to begin in August 2017. Specialization within international relations and comparative politics is open. The successful candidate will complement the department's current offerings and will share the Department's commitment to quality undergraduate teaching. The Department offers a BA and BS in Political Science. Responsibilities include a four-course teaching load per semester comprised of introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in international relations, comparative politics, and research methods. The specific combination of courses will depend on the successful candidate's academic profile.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations by the time of employment is preferred, though ABDs will be considered. Salary is competitive. To apply, upload the following to Interfolio: an application letter of interest, CV, unofficial transcripts of graduate work, three letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applications received by February 27, 2017, will receive full consideration. Review will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, please contact Professor Jeff Peake at jpeake@clemson.edu. Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status or genetic information. Clemson University is building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and encourages applications from minorities and women.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 1/31/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2598

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Visiting Professor

Specializations: Middle East, Women & Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The University of Pittsburgh's Global Studies Center (GSC) announces the Visiting Professorship in Contemporary International Issues, which is funded by a generous endowed gift from Mr. William F. Benter and the Benter Foundation. This visiting professorship enables the GSC to host scholars whose research and teaching examine critical international issues that shape and define the contemporary world.

For the 2017-18 academic year, GSC invites applications from scholars with expertise in the Middle East. We are interested in candidates from any discipline whose research and teaching interests intersect with one or more of our focal themes of global health, human rights/human security, and inequalities. Candidates whose research also addresses migration or gender issues are especially encouraged to apply.

The Global Studies Center (GSC) is part of the University Center for International Studies (UCIS). UCIS integrates and reinforces all strands of scholarship on international affairs throughout the University of Pittsburgh, supporting teaching, research and public service in area studies and on major world issues. The Visiting Professor will be appointed for the fall and spring terms of the academic year, will teach two classes per term, and will participate in activities of the GSC and of the department(s) closest to her or his disciplinary interests, in coordination with the Director of the GSC.

Applicants must have a PhD and demonstrate outstanding professional achievement in their disciplines, in both research and teaching. Individuals with extensive high-level international experience in government or non-governmental organizations may also apply. Applicants should be comfortable in an interdisciplinary environment and should be prepared to engage with a variety of perspectives and audiences inside and beyond the academy. Preference will be given to individuals who have extensive experience living in the Middle East.

Applicants should submit a cover letter explaining their interest and qualifications; curriculum vitae; research and teaching statements; evidence of teaching excellence, if available; a writing sample; and, three letters of reference. Please visit website for application link at <http://www.ucis.pitt.edu/global/visitingprofessor>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/15/2017

Date Posted: 1/31/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2600

University of Texas, San Antonio

Rank: Cybersecurity and National or International Security Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT SAN ANTONIO

Department of Political Science and Geography

Position Announcement

Open Rank (Tenured or Tenure-track)

Cybersecurity and National or International Security Policy

The Department of Political Science and Geography at The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position (Open Rank) in cybersecurity and national or international security, global affairs, and governance to begin Fall 2017.

Required Qualifications: All applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a directly related discipline by August 31, 2017. Applicants must have a track record of scholarship, publications, and/or research funding relating to cybersecurity. We are especially interested in candidates who link cybersecurity to broader social, political, economic, and policy questions in the contexts of national and/or international security. The position is part of a cross-disciplinary, campus-wide initiative in the area of cybersecurity. The successful candidate will demonstrate an ability to collaborate on research and grant applications with faculty in Computer Science, Engineering, and UTSA's highly regarded Cyber Security Program. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester in the Political Science Department's proposed graduate program in Global Affairs and/or traditional undergraduate or graduate classroom courses in Political Science and Global Affairs. The successful applicant will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses on topics such as Politics and Cyber-Security, New Global Threats, and Global or National Security Policy. Scholars doing cross-disciplinary research in applied cyber security research are encouraged to apply but an applicant's primary field must be Political Science or a closely related discipline. Applicants must demonstrate potential for research publication and a strong potential to attract external funding, and have a strong theoretical grounding in national or international security.

All applicants must provide evidence of scholarly and professional publications commensurate with the rank for which the applicant is applying. All applicants should also provide, if possible, some representative evidence of high-quality teaching – ideally in courses that address cyber security in the context of national or international security, global affairs and governance. Applicants must also be willing to teach a range of courses in international relations or global affairs.

To be considered at the tenure-track Assistant Professor level, successful applicants must be able to articulate a research agenda and have an emerging record of publications, excellent teaching skills, and a commitment to service.

To be considered at the tenured Associate Professor level, successful applicants must have an established research agenda, a strong record of publications, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

To be considered at the tenured Full Professor level, successful applicants must be recognized authorities in their respective fields of specialization and have excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications: Applicants at the Full or Associate Professor levels should demonstrate an ability to acquire external funding. Preference will also be given to candidates who can teach courses in traditional and emerging sub-fields of political science and international relations/global affairs, and/or in such areas as environmental governance, law and institutions, compliance, and/or transnationalism.

Responsibilities: Teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students; pursue an active research and publishing agenda; and serve the University, profession, and community.

All information and materials associated with an application for this position must be sent electronically through <https://jobs.utsa.edu/>. In PDF format, applicants should submit the following items electronically:

1. Letter of application that states the rank for which the candidate is applying, research interests, teaching experiences, and qualifications for the position;
2. Current curriculum vita;

3. Copy of all graduate transcripts;
4. Samples of written or published scholarly work (no more than three);
5. Two representative samples of syllabi for courses taught or proposed by the applicant;
6. Teaching evaluations (if available or other evidence of course instruction evaluation);
7. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three references who are familiar with the applicant's scholarship and/or teaching and can be contacted to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer, it is the policy of The University of Texas at San Antonio to promote and ensure equal employment opportunity for all individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or veteran status. The University is committed to the Affirmative Action Program in compliance with all government requirements to ensure nondiscrimination. The UTSA campus is accessible to persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2597

Howard University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Western Europe

The Department of Political Science at Howard University seeks applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in International Relations/Comparative Politics specializing in one or two of four regions (Africa, Asia, Europe and Latin America). The appointment, at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, begins in August 2017. Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate courses related to not only the different regions, but also possibly international organizations, global race relations, post-colonial theory, social movements, and human rights depending upon the candidate's areas of research. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by August 2017.

Candidates should submit: (1) a letter of application that includes a statement of current and future teaching and research interests; (2) a current CV; (3) three letters of reference; and (4) a sample of written work. Applications should be complete by February 15, 2016 when the review process will begin; however, the search will continue until the position is filled.

Howard University is a comprehensive, research oriented, historically Black private university. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. Equal Employment Opportunity: Howard University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, marital status, religion, or disability.

Send application to:
Search Committee Chair
Howard University
Department of Political Science
Douglass Hall, Room 144

2419 6th Street, NW
Washington, D.C. 20059
(202) 806-6720

The letter of application, CV, and letters of reference can also be sent via email to: sdrake@howard.edu. Please use subject heading of "Position Vacancy – International Relations/Comparative Politics."

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2579

Leiden University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations (4 positions)

Assistant Professor of International

The institute of Political Science of the Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences invites applicants for the position of:

Assistant Professor of International Relations (1.0 fte/4 positions)
Vacancy number 2202

Key responsibilities

Due to growth in our programme, we are looking for candidates who are qualified to teach introductory and advanced or specialized courses in various areas of international relations at the BSc, MSc and Research MSc levels. Possible topics include international relations theory, international security, international political economy, international law and organization, transnational issues, global history, and ethics in international politics. One of the appointments will include teaching MSc courses on the politics of policy-making and on policy evaluation, both at national and international levels. Candidates are also expected to supervise undergraduate and graduate theses, to acquire external research funding, to contribute to the Institute's research agenda, and to participate in the intellectual and administrative life of the Institute.

Selection criteria

- Applicants must hold (or be near to completing) a PhD in Political Science with a strong training in international relations;
- Applicants should have a promising research agenda and publications in one or more areas of international relations, plus relevant teaching experience and good teaching evaluations;
- Fluency in English is required; competence in Dutch at the time of appointment is desirable. Candidates are expected to be able to communicate with staff and students in Dutch within three years of appointment;
- Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the University Teaching Qualification (BKO). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, s/he must obtain this qualification within two years.

Research at our Faculty/Institute

The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences comprises four institutes: Education and Child Studies, Political Science, Psychology and Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology. The Faculty also includes the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. The Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff. Our teaching and research programmes cover diverse topics varying from adoption to political behaviour. For more information, see <http://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/social-behavioural-sciences>.

The Institute of Political Science has a strong research tradition in various areas of comparative, Dutch and international politics, as well as political theory. Its research programme focuses on the design, workings and implications of political institutions, broadly defined, though individual members of staff pursue research projects within and beyond this theme. The Institute consistently receives high peer-reviewed ratings of its teaching and research programs. It has around 40 faculty members, including many non-Dutch scholars, and houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university's multi-disciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy. The Institute is based in Leiden but some teaching is done in The Hague.

The Institute offers a range of taught programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programmes include general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The Master programmes (taught mostly in English) include a one-year MSc with four specialisations in Leiden and two in The Hague, plus a two-year Research MSc co-sponsored by the Institute of Public Administration.

Terms & Conditions

The position starts in September 2017, or as soon as possible thereafter. The appointment is initially for 6 years. Permanent appointment is possible at the end of this contract but is subject to satisfactory performance and the budgetary situation of the Institute. Salary range from € 3.427,- to € 5.330,- gross per month (pay scale 11 or 12, in accordance with the Collective Labour Agreement for Dutch Universities)

Leiden University offers an attractive benefits package with additional holiday (8%) and end-of-year bonuses (8.3 %), training and career development and sabbatical leave. Our individual choices model gives you some freedom to assemble your own set of terms and conditions. Candidates from outside the Netherlands may be eligible for a substantial tax break.

Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the University Teaching Qualification (UTQ). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, he/ she must be willing to obtain this Qualification within two years.

Diversity

Leiden University is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from members of under-represented groups.

Information

Further enquiries can be directed to professor Daniel Thomas, chair of the selection committee, at email d.c.thomas@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Applications

Please submit online your application no later than 1 March 2017 via the blue button of our application system https://career012.successfactors.eu/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=2202&company=LeidenProd&rcm\_site\_locale=en\_US

Applicants should submit online a letter of interest, a cv (with list of publications), a research statement covering current and future research agenda, a sample paper or article, and a statement of teaching interests and experience including sample syllabi or teaching evaluations.

Applicants should also ask three people to submit recommendation letters commenting on their professional qualifications and suitability for the position directly (i.e. not through the applicant) to vacature\_powe@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

All documents, including recommendation letters, should be in English.

The selection procedure will take place in March/April. Selected candidates will first be invited for an online pre-interview; some will be invited for in person interview and job talk. You are kindly requested to be available in this period.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 2576

Oberlin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics. Appointment is for the 2017-18 academic year. This is a non-continuing position.

The incumbent will teach five courses in international and/or comparative politics. We prefer candidates with the ability to teach one or more courses on Latin American or West European politics.

To be assured consideration, submit a letter of application, a cv, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a writing sample, and at least three recent reference letters to <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/> by February 15, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2578

Southern University of Science and Technology

Rank: Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professors in Social Sciences

JOB DESCRIPTIONS: The Institute for Advanced Studies in Social Sciences at the Southern University of Science and Technology invites applications for full-time tenured or tenure-track faculty positions in social sciences at ranks of Full/Associate/Assistant Professor, to begin September 2017. The successful candidates will teach general education courses covering the following four core areas: 1) Science, Technology and Society, including history of science, ethics of science, sociology of science, and policy of science; 2) Environmental Studies, including environmental history, environmental policy, and environmental culture; 3) New Media and Visual Culture, including media and society, science, technology and arts, and cultural industry; and 4) Globalization, including transnational migration, comparative area studies, ethnographic studies and critical theories. The successful candidates will contribute to social science curricula that encourage interdisciplinary approach. Quality undergraduate teaching and mentorship, as well as innovative research and service are expected. With the exception of senior candidates with tenure, initial appointment will normally be made on a three-year contract, renewable subject to mutual agreement. Tenure review and promotion normally takes place before completion of the second three-year contract.

QUALIFICATIONS: Applicants should have a PhD degree from an accredited institution of higher education. Senior candidates are expected to have a high international standing in the fields, with an exceptional track record of high-quality research and scholarly publications. The university teaching languages are English and Chinese. Satisfactory knowledge of Chinese is preferable but not required.

SALARY: Salary is highly competitive, and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits include university subsidized housing and health insurance.

UNIVERSITY: Southern University of Science and Technology is a public university located in Shenzhen, China, a mega vibrant city and high-tech center across Hong Kong with a population of more than 10 million people. The university is intended to be a top-tier international university that excels in conducting interdisciplinary research, nurturing innovative talents and delivering new knowledge to the world.

APPLICATION PROCESS: Applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae with at least three names of references by email to shss@sustc.edu.cn, preferably before March 1, 2017. Review of applications begins on March 10, 2017, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2571

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

We are looking for candidates who will teach three sections of our required methodology course, two sections of an introductory course in international relations, and one additional course in international relations, for a total teaching load of six courses.

Applicants must submit materials online at <https://stolaf.hiretouch.com/faculty-postings>. A complete application includes:

A cover letter

A curriculum vitae

Undergrad and graduate transcripts

Statement of Teaching Philosophy

In addition, please provide the names and emails of three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship (we only ask for references' names and emails; St. Olaf solicits letters directly after an initial round of screening.)

If you have questions or need assistance with the application process, please send an email to term17-18@stolaf.edu or call 507-786-3127.

Review of applications will begin on February 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science promotes the systematic and critical analysis of government, politics and public policy. Its six, full-time, faculty members conduct research that enriches understanding of political life and public affairs in a global context, not only for other scholars but for decision-makers and citizens as well. More information about the political science department may be found at wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/

Founded in 1874, St. Olaf College is a residential, coeducational liberal arts college with approximately 3,000 students and 800 faculty and staff employees. It is located in Northfield, Minnesota, about 45 minutes from Minneapolis and St. Paul with their rich and diverse cultural resources. The college offers an academically rigorous, nationally ranked liberal arts education that fosters the development of the whole person in mind, body, and spirit and emphasizes a global perspective.

A liberal arts college of the Lutheran Church (ELCA), St. Olaf College is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity in students, faculty, and staff. The college is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity of our community through their teaching, research, and/or service.

To provide a safe and secure educational environment, St. Olaf College verifies the accuracy of all credentials presented by applicants and conducts a criminal background check on every new hire.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2581

Bridgewater College of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor of Global Politics

The Department of History and Political Science at Bridgewater College seeks a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor to teach classes in Global Politics beginning in August 2017.

The successful candidate will possess a Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, Global or Comparative Politics. Candidates who are ABD will be considered if their degree is expected to be conferred by August 1, 2017. Teaching responsibilities include a range of courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with, or interest in, the creation of a Model UN. Candidates will be expected to show a commitment to teaching and mentoring students within a liberal arts context and are willing to participate in the College's First Year Seminar and General Education programs. The teaching load is 21 semester credits per year (3-3-1 or 4-3 distribution) on a semester with May term calendar. The Department of History and Political Science consists of six historians and four political scientists, and offers majors in History, Political Science, History and Political Science, and Global Studies.

MISSION: Bridgewater College is a residential liberal arts college of almost 1900 students with a vibrant core curriculum and a growing focus on undergraduate research. The College emphasizes creativity and innovation in pedagogy and research. Successful faculty members are dedicated to advising and mentoring students, contributing to campus-wide faculty initiatives, and maintaining an active research agenda. Bridgewater seeks faculty members eager to engage and support our commitment to liberal learning, and so application materials should address how you might contribute to the College's liberal arts mission or ways that this mission informs your vocation as teacher and scholar.

GENERAL INFORMATION: Bridgewater College was founded in 1880 as the first coeducational college in Virginia and has an educational philosophy of developing the whole person and equipping students to become leaders with a strong sense of personal accountability and civic responsibility. The College offers 63 majors and minors, 29 concentrations and emphases, pre-professional programs, dual degree programs, teacher education and certification, and its first graduate program in athletic training. Bridgewater's growing enrollment includes students from 30 states and eight countries. The College is a member of NCAA Division III and the Old Dominion Athletic Conference, and sponsors 22 intercollegiate athletic teams and an equestrian team that competes in the IHSA.

The beautiful and vibrant 300-acre residential campus includes an equestrian center and is located in the town of Bridgewater in the midst of the Shenandoah Valley. It is conveniently situated to provide easy access to both Washington D.C. and Richmond, each only two hours away. The area is a desirable locale for people who enjoy sports and outdoor activities. An excellent school system, a healthy business environment, the state's lowest crime rate, and the natural beauty of the region draw many graduates back to the area. The College enjoys tremendous support from the local community.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. Brandon Marsh at: bmarsh@bridgewater.edu.

APPLICATION: Please complete the online application (<https://jobs.bridgewater.edu/public/createApplication.php>) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts. Three letters of recommendation should be forwarded to Courtney Ritchie at critchie@bridgewater.edu.

DEADLINE: To receive full consideration, application materials should be received by March 1, 2017.

Bridgewater College is a welcoming and vibrant community committed to supporting a diverse faculty, and actively seeks applications from women, minorities, and other persons from traditionally under-represented groups. Bridgewater College is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 1/23/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2563

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate

Duke University, with generous support from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, is seeking a one-year Postdoctoral Associate to participate in a year-long Mellon Sawyer Seminar on the theme of "Corporate Rights and International Law: Past, Present, and Future." The seminar is jointly hosted by the Department of History, the School of Law, and the John Hope Franklin Humanities Institute, though is broadly interdisciplinary in nature and open to scholars working in any field(s) of the humanities and social sciences. The successful candidate's area of research should engage themes related to the seminar, which emphasize humanistic approaches to subjects such as (but not limited to) the history of global or transnational corporations, international regulatory regimes, theories of corporate personhood and sovereignty, the private/public divide, and/or the relationship between corporate enterprise and human rights.

Eligibility: Applicants must have or will have completed the Ph.D. or JD degree between July 1, 2014 and July 1, 2017.

Appointment and Salary: The position will run from July 1, 2017 through June 30, 2018. The fellow will receive a salary of $47,500, as well as an additional $3,000 in research and professional travel support. The fellow is expected to be in residence at Duke during the term of the fellowship and to take active part in the Sawyer Seminar, including attendance and participation in events with visiting scholars and speakers, as well as co-teaching, with the seminar conveners, an advanced graduate course to run concurrently with the Seminar.

Application and Notification Schedule: We will begin reviewing materials on Monday, February 20, 2017. Incomplete submissions will not be accepted. Notifications will be made on or around March 15, 2017.

Required Application Materials:

- As one .pdf:
- Cover letter, describing applicant's research agenda and relevance to fellowship themes
- Curriculum vitae
- Publication or writing sample of no more than 8,000 words
- Three confidential letters of recommendation, submitted separately

Please email application materials, using the subject "Sawyer Seminar Postdoctoral Fellowship" to:

Ali Prince, Sawyer Seminar Assistant
ali.prince@law.duke.edu
 919.613.7187

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: 2/20/2017
Date Posted: 1/17/2017
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 2542

Austin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Austin College Political Science Department invites applications for a one-year position in IR/Comparative beginning in the Fall of 2017. ABD's are encouraged to apply, Ph.D.'s are preferred. A demonstrated commitment to undergraduate teaching is required. Teaching load is 3-3 plus a January term course. We invite applicants to demonstrate in their letter of application which courses they would be prepared to offer and how they would contribute to the department's desire for a well-rounded political science curriculum.

Austin College is a leading national independent liberal arts college located north of Dallas in Sherman, Texas. Founded in 1849, making it the oldest institution of higher education in Texas operating under original charter and name, the college is related by covenant to the Presbyterian Church (USA). Recognized nationally for academic excellence in the areas of international education, pre-professional training, and leadership studies, the College seeks to provide an academically challenging and lively community of students and teachers who are committed to intellectual growth through individual and collaborative endeavors. Austin College is one of 40 schools profiled in Loren Pope's influential book Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should include: a letter of application, CV, copies of graduate transcripts, a one-page statement of teaching philosophy, other supporting materials you wish us to consider, and two recent letters of recommendation. Please combine materials into one PDF document and email to PoliticalScienceSearch@austincollege.edu (preferred). Referees should send their letters to the same email address with your name in the subject line. We also accept hard copies mailed to Dr. Sheila Amin Gutiérrez de Piñeres, Vice President for Academic Affairs, 900 N. Grand Ave, Suite 6D, Sherman, Texas 75090-4400. Review of applications begins February 1st and will continue until the position is filled. If you have questions about the search, you may contact the Chair of the Political Science Department, Nate Bigelow, at nbigelow@austincollege.edu.

Austin College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body and welcomes all applicants. Must be legally authorized to work without sponsorship for employment visa status (e.g., H1B status).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2539

Lund University

Rank: Assistant professor and postdoc in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations

We are looking for ambitious political scientists in the beginning of their career who aim for a future career as university lecturer and researcher. We are hiring at least one assistant professor and at least one postdoctoral fellow.

The positions are associated with the research program State-Making and the Origins of Global Order in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond (STANCE), led by Professor Jan Teorell at the Department of Political Science in Lund, and funded by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond (www.stanceatlund.org). The project started in 2015 and will end in 2020. The program aims to bridge the gaps between comparative politics and IR, and between the study of political thought and positive empirical political science. Three overall research themes constitute the core of this research program: (1) How did the different dimensions of state-making, including internal and external sovereignty, revenue extraction, professionalization of the bureaucracy and the development of infrastructural capacity, evolve and interact during this time period? What actors and organized interests supported or put up resistance to these processes? (2) How were these dimensions of state-making affected by geopolitical competition, warfare and the diffusion of novel political technologies? (3) What were the consequences for the international system, both with respect to the type of state that emerged and what entities were granted membership in the state system?

The person(s) offered the position(s) will be expected to carry out research that contributes to the fulfillment of at least one of the overall research themes. However, each member of the project conducts independent research and enjoys the freedom to choose his or her own research questions, develop his or her own theoretical ideas, and choose the most appropriate methods. Methodologically the program aims for a mixed-methods approach ranging from quantitative methods to single case studies, textual interpretation and archival studies. Hence, we expect candidates with broad methodological training and an open mind to take on novel approaches.

The Lund University job application portal should be used when applying. Please follow these links for more information:

The postdoctoral fellowship:

<https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what:job/jobID:129005/>

The assistant professorship:

<https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what:job/jobID:129626/>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 1/13/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2536

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship at the Christopher H. Browne Center for International Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Security, International Law & Organizations

Postdoctoral Fellowship – Christopher H. Browne Center for International Politics

The Christopher H. Browne Center for International Politics at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship during the 2017-2018 academic year. The Browne Center supports research on all aspects of international politics. Applications are welcome from political scientists who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2017.

Fellows at the Browne Center will pursue their own research as well as teach one course in Penn's Political Science Department. The position pays a stipend of $47,500.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AA employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. Applications will be reviewed starting February 15, 2017. To receive full consideration, applications should be received by that date. To apply, send a c.v., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, a research statement, and cover letter to browne-center@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 2/15/2017

Date Posted: 1/12/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2534

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations, Tenure-Track (Bologna, Italy)

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Security, Conflict Processes

School Background:

Founded in 1943 and a Johns Hopkins division since 1950, The Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies of the Johns Hopkins University (SAIS) has been educating global leaders for more than 70 years. As a highly selective graduate institution with a distinguished faculty, SAIS consistently ranks as one of the top schools of international relations in the world. SAIS was founded to provide a practical approach to training students in international leadership and foreign relations, and to provide mid-career educational opportunities for those already working in related fields. To learn more about SAIS, visit www.sais-jhu.edu.

Position:

SAIS is seeking to appoint a full-time, tenure-track, assistant professor in international relations (IR). Candidates who combine their work in international relations with an interest in international security would have an advantage; candidates with an interest in international law, conflict management, international development, or the foreign policy of the United States are also encouraged to apply. Candidates should be able to teach an introductory course in IR theory at the graduate level.

The position is located at the SAIS Europe campus in Bologna, Italy. The goal is to fill the position with an appointment starting on or soon after July 1, 2017. Interviews will be held in Bologna, Italy.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. awarded by June 2017 will be a condition for employment. The ideal applicant will have strong academic credentials and a commitment to improve public policy. A record of excellence in teaching and publication record would be a distinct advantage.

Application:

Electronic submissions are preferred. A letter of application, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact details for three people who can provide letters of reference should be submitted to:

SAISEuropeIRSearch@jhu.edu
Or send to
SAIS Europe International Relations Search Committee
School of Advanced International Studies
The Johns Hopkins University
Via Belmeloro, 11
40126 Bologna, ITALY

Applications will be reviewed beginning February 15, 2017 and will be accepted until a final decision is made. Inquiries may be made to Professor Erik Jones (erik.jones@jhu.edu).

EEO Statement:

Johns Hopkins University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to recruiting, supporting and fostering a diverse community of outstanding faculty, staff and students. All applicants who share this goal are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2526

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence & Social Thought

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, International Law & Organizations, Life Sciences & Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a one-year visiting appointment for the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, ability, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is interdisciplinary, and focuses on one or more of the following areas: legal history; global legality; post colonialism; law and literature; or constitutional interpretation. The position requires a Ph.D. or a J.D.

Applicants should submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/40061> a cover letter addressed to Professor Adam Sitze, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college for men and women, with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages women, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 1/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2524

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowship - The Center for the Study of Contemporary China

Post-doctoral Fellowship
The Center for the Study of Contemporary China
University of Pennsylvania

The Center for the Study of Contemporary China (<http://cscs.sas.upenn.edu/>) at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications to fill two postdoctoral fellowship positions for the 2017-2018 academic year. Applications are welcomed from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 30, 2017.

The CSCC postdoctoral fellowships support research on all aspects of contemporary China that fall within the broad mission of the CSCC -- to advance Penn's leadership in programs, research, and scholarship about the political, legal, economic, and social factors shaping China and its role in the world today. The Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at Penn engaged in work pertaining to contemporary China. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and a speaker series.

Fellows at the CSCC will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because fellows are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of the University of Pennsylvania. Each fellow receives a stipend of $48,000, a $2500 research fund, and health insurance.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AA employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. CSCC starts to accept application on December 1, 2016. Applications will be reviewed starting March 1, 2017. To receive full consideration, your application should be received by that date. Applicants will be notified of the outcome in early April, 2017. To apply, please send a C.V., a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to csc-contact@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/5/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2523

National Defense College- Abu Dhabi

Rank: Academic Dean

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Description: Candidates are invited to apply for the position of Academic Dean at the National Defense College (NDC), an accredited senior national security education institution in Abu Dhabi, UAE. Candidates should possess an outstanding academic background and proven leadership capabilities that will equip them to play a central role in advancing the college through its next phase of growth. NDC is a leading institution of higher education in the Middle East that encourages experiential learning through methods that include models, case studies and exercises, and educational technology, to foster a culture of learning among high-skilled policy professionals. More information about the college can be found at (<http://www.ndc.ac.ae/en/>).

The successful candidate will provide academic leadership to the core MA program, including, in coordination with the Education Wing Commander, Planning Wing Commander, and the College Commandant, developing the academic schedule, faculty load and course rotation, managing the day-to-day academic operations of the college, supervising student evaluation, and lecturing and leading seminars as necessary. The Dean will also lead curricular revisions to the core MA program in strategic security studies and oversee a reaccreditation site visit by the local accrediting body of the UAE. The Dean will also lead the development of new programs, including an Arabic language war course, a possible doctorate in strategic studies, as well as short courses and other outreach efforts. In coordination with the college leadership, the Dean will brief senior leadership on the college's academic operations and represent the college.

The ideal candidate will work to continue the college's reputation for critical thinking and academic excellence and grow the institution's profile within the UAE, in the MENA region, and internationally. The candidate will be able to communicate effectively with our diverse faculty and staff, which includes active duty military personnel and civilians from more than a half-dozen countries. He or she should also be able to effectively work with stakeholders and local and international partners in advancing the NDC mission and vision.

Qualifications

REQUIRED EDUCATION/EXPERIENCE:

The candidate must possess a terminal degree from an accredited university in an appropriate discipline and an academic profile of scholarship and instruction equivalent to that of a full professor. The candidate should also hold significant academic leadership experience in a relevant institution, such as a defense college or a civilian graduate program. Experience working as an administrator and faculty member at the graduate level is essential.

DESIRED SKILLS/EXPERTISE:

Experience working as an administrator and as a faculty member at institutions that offer instruction to senior professionals, is highly desirable, as is familiarity with active learning at the graduate level. Practical experience in a field relevant to the college curriculum is a plus, as is experience working to bridge the policy and academic communities.

Cross-cultural proficiency, particularly experience teaching or working in the Middle East and/or demonstrated expertise in strategic studies education in a multi-national/ multi-cultural setting, is a strong advantage. Previous experience generating new graduate level programs and supervising accreditation and reaccreditation site visits are also an advantage.

Arabic language proficiency is an asset but all courses will be conducted in English.

Benefits package includes:

- Attractive and highly competitive salary
- Full housing allowance
- Vehicle allowance
- Education allowance for eligible minor children
- Cost of living allowance
- Relocation allowance

Interested parties should send a cover letter detailing qualifications and CV, including a list of professional references, along with an unofficial transcript of the doctorate (copies are acceptable) to Ms. Betty Boutros at (boutros@translangltd.com). Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2519

Susquehanna University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Africa, East Asia, Middle East

The Department of Political Science at Susquehanna University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics beginning with the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate must be able to teach both introductory and advanced courses on the government and politics of the Middle East, Africa, or Asia, as well as introductory international relations. The candidate will have the opportunity to teach other courses in comparative politics and international relations. It is preferred that the candidate also be qualified to teach an introductory course in methodology. An ability to teach a course in comparative public policy will be considered a plus. Most upper-level courses are taught every other year and the normal teaching load is three courses per semester. Requirements include a Ph.D. or evidence that all doctoral degree requirements will be completed by June 1, 2017. Teaching experience is highly preferred and a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and research in a small undergraduate liberal arts university is expected.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching objectives, statement on how the applicant will contribute to the university's commitment to diversity and inclusion, three letters of reference, and a current email address. Please submit online at <https://jobs.susqu.edu/>. Any inquiries should be sent to the department head, Dr. Michele DeMary, at poliscisearch@susqu.edu. Review of applications begins February 3 and will continue until the position is filled.

As a living, learning and working community, Susquehanna University affirms its commitment to being an engaged, culturally inclusive campus. As we seek to embody the rich diversity of the human community, we commit ourselves to the full participation of persons who represent the breadth of human difference. The university encourages candidates from historically underrepresented groups to apply. Susquehanna University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Susquehanna University is a national liberal arts college committed to excellence in educating students for productive, creative and reflective lives of achievement, leadership and service in a diverse, dynamic and interdependent world. Its more than 2,200 undergraduates come from 35 states and 22 countries, and all students study away through Susquehanna's unique Global Opportunities program. Susquehanna University's 325 acre campus, noted for its beauty, is located in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, 50 miles north of Harrisburg in the scenic Susquehanna River Valley, about a three hour drive from Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and New York City. For more information, please visit <https://www.susqu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2508

Mount Holyoke College

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in International Relations

Visiting Lecturer in International Relations

The Department of International Relations invites applications for a Visiting Lecturer position in international relations. The term of the appointment is three years beginning in Fall 2017 and covering the 2017-18, 2018-19, and 2019-20 academic years. Ph.D. required by the start of the appointment. Field of specialization is U.S. foreign policy. Candidates should be prepared to teach a range of introductory through advanced undergraduate courses on both the process and content of U.S. foreign policy since World War II. They may also expect to teach an introductory course in international relations on a rotating basis. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of strong teaching at the undergraduate level and experience mentoring students who are broadly diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

Teaching load is 3/2. Salary is competitive.

Applications must be made online at <https://jobs.mtholyoke.edu/> by submitting a cover letter, CV, graduate transcripts (as one pdf), a statement of research interests, a statement of teaching philosophy, a statement about mentoring a diverse student body, sample syllabuses (as one pdf), and a short writing sample no later than March 1, 2017. Applicants should also arrange to have three letters of reference submitted on their behalf. We recommend early submission because electronic prompts to referees will be generated automatically (and letters of reference accepted) only after the completed application has been submitted.

Mount Holyoke is an undergraduate liberal arts college for women with 2,200 students and 220 faculty. Over half the faculty are women; one-fourth are persons of color. Mount Holyoke College is located about 90 miles west of Boston in the Connecticut River valley, and is a member of the Five College Consortium consisting of Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts.

Mount Holyoke College is committed to enriching the educational experience it offers through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff members. Mount Holyoke seeks to recruit and support a broadly diverse faculty who will contribute to the college's academic excellence, diversity of viewpoints and experiences, and relevance in a global society. In furtherance of academic excellence, the College encourages applications from individuals from underrepresented groups in the professoriate, including faculty of color, faculty with diverse gender identities, first generation college students, individuals who have followed non-traditional pathways to college due to exceptional talent and motivation in the face of adversity, such as societal, economic or academic disadvantages, and individuals with a demonstrated commitment to applying and including diverse backgrounds and perspectives to learning, scholarship, service, and leadership in the academy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 12/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2499

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Conflict Processes Post-doc

Baker Center Global Security Post-Doctoral Fellowship
Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy

The Baker Center's mission is to educate the public, conduct research to further the public's knowledge, and highlight the critical importance of public service. The Baker Center focuses on education, public policy, and research in the areas of Energy and the Environment, Global Security, and Leadership and Governance, along with academic courses and student engagement programs. The Center is a place for civil, bipartisan discussion of issues affecting us all.

Global Security Program – Conflict Processes

The Center's Global Security Program has two main tracks: Conflict Processes and Nuclear Security. The Conflict Processes research cluster focuses on war, interstate dispute and civil war conflict resolution, territorial and maritime disputes, piracy, terrorism and other political violence, foreign policy and US national security policy. The cluster hosts a bi-weekly research workshop, a series of visiting lectures on different aspects of global security and foreign policy, and a biannual conference on some aspect of prevention, management, and resolution of international conflicts, civil wars, and terrorism and other political violence.

Position Summary

Fellows will spend a year working full time at the Baker Center, starting in August 2017, with a possible extension for an additional year. During their time at the Center, Fellows will conduct independent and joint research with others in the Conflict Processes research cluster on topics related to conflict processes issues with an expectation of producing several journal article length manuscripts. Fellows are expected to contribute to the activities of the Baker Center, present their research at least once a semester, and to participate in the Global Security lecture series. Participants will receive an annual stipend of $47,500 and individual health insurance.

Eligibility and How to Apply:

Applicants must be recent Ph.D. recipients in Political Science (within the last 3 years), and specialize in conflict processes. To apply, email a cover letter outlining the planned research and expectations about a topic in the area of conflict processes and how the research project fits with the work being done at the Baker Center, a CV, and a list of 3 references to Dr. Krista Wiegand, Director of the Conflict Processes research cluster, at kwiegand@utk.edu by March 1, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2016

Date Posted: 12/7/2016

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2463

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowships in Inequality and Political Development in Latin America

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at the Universidad Católica del Uruguay is pleased to offer up to 3 two-year post-doctoral fellowship opportunities for 2017-19. Applicants should have obtained their PhDs after December 1, 2011 and need to demonstrate residence outside Uruguay during the last 3 years. Successful candidates should focus their research on one of two broad topics: stratification, inequality and social mobility, or political and social development.

The two-year fellowship will commence August 1, 2017 and conclude July 31, 2019. The Fellow will receive an annual salary of up to USD 26,317 and benefits depending on applicant's qualifications (calculated at current exchange rate of USD 1 = UYU 29); one round trip in economy class (up to USD 4,000), will have work space at the Department of Social and Political Sciences and access to facilities at Universidad Católica del Uruguay.

The position requires residency in Montevideo with a possibility of being a semester abroad for fieldwork if properly justified in the research proposal. There is a teaching requirement of 84 hours per year, in Spanish. The successful candidate is expected to teach 1 undergraduate course (42h), 1 course at the master level (21h) and 1 course at the Methods Winter School (20h) each year.

The post-doc is co-funded by the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII) under its "Fondo Profesor Dr. Roberto Caldeyro Barcia" initiative. The Department of Social and Political Sciences promotes scholarly, interdisciplinary research by faculty and students, advancing relevant knowledge about political, social, and economic issues, and generating communities of research and practice on key Latin American concerns.

The application process has two stages. Candidates should apply directly to the Department of Social and Political Sciences (DCSP), submitting a CV, a detailed research proposal, a cover letter, and 2 recommendation letters, by email to Mr. Gastón Sagasti (gsagasti@ucu.edu.uy). Recommendation letters should be sent directly to Mr.

Gastón Sagasti. Applications for this stage are due by Tuesday, January 17, 2017.

Please direct any inquiries prior to the first stage deadline to Mr. Gastón Sagasti, Department of Social and Political Sciences, Universidad Católica del Uruguay (gsagasti@ucu.edu.uy), except for during the New Year's Holiday (December 31 to January 15). For more information about the Department, visit our webpage (<http://ucu.edu.uy/dcsp>). Candidates are strongly advised to prepare documents according to the requirements established by ANII. Complete information can be found at <http://www.anii.org.uy/apoyos/formacion/6/posdoctorados-en-uruguay/>

A short-list of candidates would be invited to complete the second stage of the application process by January 24. During this second stage, candidates jointly apply with the Department of Social and Political Sciences to the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII). Applications for this stage are due by Thursday, February 2, 2017 (14:00, GMT-3).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/17/2017

Date Posted: 12/1/2016

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 2431

University of South Alabama

Rank: Chair of the Department

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Public Administration

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Criminal Justice, Health Care

The Department of Political Science & Criminal Justice at the University of South Alabama invites applications for the position of Department Chair to begin August 15, 2017. The department offers undergraduate degrees in Political Science and Criminal Justice as well as a Master's in Public Administration. Highly qualified Associate and Full Professors with a Ph.D. in Political Science, Criminal Justice, or a closely related discipline from an accredited university will be considered for this position.

The ideal candidate will be an accomplished scholar, committed to excellence in research and teaching, have exceptional organizational and interpersonal skills, and possess the vision to lead a growing department. The abilities to collaborate effectively and advocate for program faculty and students are essential. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated administrative experience, but exceptional candidates lacking such experience who have a strong desire to transition to an administrative role are also encouraged to apply.

Applicants should apply at the following link and be prepared to attach a letter of application, a one-page statement of research interests, a brief description of teaching philosophy and proficiencies, a summary statement of leadership and administrative skills, current Curriculum Vitae, names of five references, and a sample of scholarly work. <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/usouthal/jobs/1588869/chair-and-assoc-or-full-professor> Upon request, applicants will arrange to have official transcripts and three letters of recommendation sent to the Chair of the Search Committee. Review of applications will begin December 12, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Information: <http://www.southalabama.edu/colleges/artsandsci/poliscie/jobs.html>

The position of Chair is a 12-month appointment. The ideal candidate will demonstrate the ability to contribute to existing programs and

help develop new offerings. An appreciation for mixed methodology is preferred. The ideal candidate will provide transparency in budget and scheduling decisions and be able to highlight faculty and student successes, advocate for program faculty at the college and university levels, seek to increase faculty, majors, and department activities, and mentor junior faculty for success in tenure and promotion and mentor associate professors for promotion to full professor.

The Department of Political Science & Criminal Justice has 10 full-time faculty and more than 300 undergraduate majors and 40 graduate students. The department offers courses for four interdisciplinary programs within the College of Arts and Sciences: African American Studies, Forensic Science, Gender Studies, and International Studies. The department is also home to the USA Polling Group, a survey research center with a 10 station CATI lab that works with a variety of internal and external clients. Additionally, the department has a sizeable Masters in Public Administration (MPA) program and an active student body.

If you have questions about this position, the department, the University, or the area, please contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Elise Labbé-Coldsmith, at ELabbe@southalabama.edu.

The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expressions) religion, age, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2398

Wake Forest University

Rank: African Politics and African/International Studies

African Politics and African/International Studies – Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and International Affairs of Wake Forest University invites applications for a tenure-track position in African Politics and International Studies beginning in the 2017-2018 academic year. The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor level and will involve teaching and research interests in the area(s) of the politics of Sub-Saharan Africa, international, and/or comparative politics. Included in this teaching load will be courses offered for interdisciplinary minors in African Studies and International Studies. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, undergraduate teaching, and mentoring. The most competitive candidates will have their PhD in hand at time of appointment. Applicants should submit the following materials through the on-line site identified below by January 6, 2017:

- a cover letter directed to Dr. Katy Harriger (harriger@wfu.edu), Chair, Department of Politics and International Affairs;
- curriculum vitae;
- graduate transcripts;
- a statement of research program;
- a statement of teaching philosophy;
- course outlines;
- teaching evaluation summaries.

Applicants must make arrangements to have three confidential letters of recommendation sent to letters@wfu.edu. Otherwise, letters and additional documents can be uploaded in OpenHire (2413-141). When applying, please refer to tracking number.

For complete details and to apply, go to <http://wakejobs.silkroad.com/> or call (336) 758-4700. The submission of an online application for Wake Forest University is required for this position. Questions about the application process may be addressed to wakejobs@wfu.edu. Wake Forest University is an equal opportunity employer. Wake Forest University values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2291

San Diego State University

Rank: Director of the J. Keith Behner and Catherine M. Stiefel Program on Brazil

The College of Arts and Letters of San Diego State University seeks to hire an associate or full professor with a specialty on Brazil.

Requirements:

Ph.D. in Humanities and/or Social Sciences, with a research and teaching focus on Brazil. Proven administrative experience building interdisciplinary and/or intercollegiate programs and record of success in obtaining external funding.

Rank and salary commensurate with experience and professional accomplishments. Tenure upon hire is possible depending upon qualifications.

Duties:

I. Develop both long and short term plans to meet the program's objectives in the areas of:

research, scholarship and creative endeavors;
academic programming and co-curricular activities in all aspects of Brazil's life - social, cultural and scientific - including international programs with and/or in Brazil, such as exchange of students/faculty; engagement and outreach

II. Establish an open, inclusive and transparent process to allocate seed money for research projects and support for curricular and extra-curricular initiatives that are poised to deliver tangible outcomes.

III. Instigate and develop internal and outreach efforts, including development.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all. SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

Application Instructions

To ensure full consideration, please apply via Interfolio. Position will remain open until filled.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.'

This institution is using Interfolio's ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2221

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Ocean Governance and Law

The Department of Marine Affairs at the University of Rhode Island seeks applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Ocean Governance and Law.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Marine Affairs, Environmental Policy, Public Policy, Geography or closely-related field by appointment date in August 2017. We seek highly qualified candidates with specialization in international ocean governance, international institutions, and/or international marine/environmental law & policy. Successful candidates will provide evidence of ability to develop and instruct undergraduate and graduate courses; develop an independently funded research program; publish and present at national and international meetings; and work with members of diverse and underrepresented groups.

DEADLINE: November 11, 2016. Application materials should include a cover letter describing qualifications for the position, CV with names and contact information of 3 professional references, combined statement of research accomplishments & future research plans as well as teaching accomplishments & philosophy, and one document of writing samples which can include up to 3 publications, working papers or dissertation chapters. For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/1774>.

Located within URI's College of Environment and Life Sciences, the Marine Affairs department offers Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral degrees. The mission of the Marine Affairs department is to provide leadership in the management of marine and coastal environments through distinction in teaching, research, service, and outreach programs. To accomplish its mission, the department emphasizes multi-disciplinary approaches to ocean & coastal governance and management.

The University of Rhode Island is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2222

University of North Texas

Rank: Assistant Professor--Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of North Texas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2017 in the broadly defined field of contentious politics in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are interested in prospective candidates who conduct research in such areas as civil society, social movements, ethnic politics, and non-state opposition groups (e.g., terrorist organizations, rebel organizations, extremist parties).

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) A Ph.D. in Political Science (highly qualified ABD candidates will also be considered) and (2) evidence that demonstrates a potential for excellence in research, teaching, and service will be required of the selected candidate. Preference will be given to candidates with strong methods skills and who are likely to publish in top-tier journals, seek external funding, and who show a willingness to work with other faculty and graduate students.

The faculty member will teach core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continue a record of robust scholarly research, direct graduate research, and provide service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 26 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly and Journal of Political Science Education. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the UNT Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site can be found at: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With nearly 38,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) a writing sample, (5) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., peer reviews, evaluations), (6) a copy of transcripts, and (7) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquires to David Mason, search committee chair (David.Mason@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 21, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date. UNT is an AA/ADA/EOE.

The University of North Texas System is firmly committed to equal opportunity and does not permit - and takes actions to prevent - discrimination, harassment (including sexual violence), and retaliation on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, disability, family status, genetic information, citizenship or veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, and employment practices. The University of North Texas System immediately investigates and takes remedial action when appropriate. The University of North Texas System also takes actions to prevent retaliation against individuals who oppose a discriminatory practice, file a charge, or testify, assist or participate in an investigative proceeding or hearing.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2115

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics/ International Relations

Rhodes College – Visiting Assistant Professor – Comparative Politics / International Relations

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College invites applications for a visiting Assistant Professor to start Fall 2017. A Ph.D. in hand by Fall 2017 is required. The appointee is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either Comparative Politics or International Relations as well as an upper level course on international conflict. The ability to teach research methods in international studies would be a plus. The position has a 3-3 teaching load and offers the possibility for renewal up to a third year after the successful completion of the first year.

The department seeks candidates with a strong commitment to teaching and research. Successful candidates will also be those who can contribute to an interdisciplinary atmosphere. Application materials must include: a letter of application, CV, names and contact information of 3 references, writing/publication sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Please address in your cover letter your interest in teaching at a liberal arts college and how your experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. Apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu. For additional information please contact Ms. Kim Stevenson, Departmental Assistant, Department of International Studies, StevensonK@rhodes.edu. Review of completed applications will begin on November 14 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2099

Ohio State University

Rank: Race and Gender in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Description:

The department of political science seeks candidates for a tenured or tenure-track position in the study of race and/or gender in politics. We welcome applications from scholars studying comparative politics and international relations, however, we are especially interested in applicants who study race and/or gender as they pertain to politics in the United States. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding.

This position is part of a larger initiative at Ohio State to increase faculty diversity and to promote research and teaching on topics central to race, ethnicity, sex, and gender as well as disparities in modern society linked to these categories. The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences intends to hire at least eight new faculty members under this initiative. The new cluster of faculty will be able to build a network with many committed professors already at home in the College of Arts and Sciences in the Diversity & Identity Studies Collective, the Department of Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and the Department of African American and African Studies. Graduate certificates in this area of inquiry and undergraduate bridge programs are also being built to support this initiative.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have that degree by Autumn 2017. It is possible the successful candidate could have a PhD degree in a cognate field such as sociology or social psychology but a PhD in political science is preferred. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:

The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries (see <http://liveworkplaycolumbus.com/>). Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions:

Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7871>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to October 15, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2000

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor American Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics beginning July 2017. A Ph.D is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science

Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 17, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1939

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning July 2017. We are seeking a broadly trained Political Scientist who could teach courses in international relations and political philosophy. A Ph.D. is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 31st, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 1937

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of assistant professor. The position requires outstanding research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and, if available, evidence of excellence in teaching. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/36630> To guarantee full consideration, all materials should be uploaded and available for review by September 7, 2016. Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/15/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1794

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: William S. Dietrich Endowed Chair in Political Science Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the inaugural William S. Dietrich II Endowed Chair in Political Science, with appointment to begin in the 2017-18 academic year, pending budgetary approval. The Chair is named in honor of the late Dr. William S. Dietrich II, a former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees who received his Ph.D. from the Department in 1984.

In filling this chair, and in keeping with the interests of Dr. Dietrich, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship in the fields of international relations or comparative politics, or whose interests cut across these and possibly other disciplinary subfields.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh currently consists of 25 tenure stream faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. The Department's NRC ranking has improved dramatically over the past decade, and presently ranks between 20th and 30th among Ph.D. granting departments. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Please submit a detailed cover letter and C.V. electronically at <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MTU3>. Additional information may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/12/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1780

Dartmouth College

Rank: Endowed Chair in Transnational Studies

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for appointment to a newly endowed chair in transnational studies, which includes scholarship on the roles of both state and non-state actors in international relations, in international political economy, and in the maintenance of security and political order. The appointment is open to any rank. The successful candidate's research and teaching should enhance the scholarly reputation of the Department of Government and also advance the mission of the Dickey Center for International Understanding, making significant contributions to contemporary policy debates in the United States and/or the international community. The position requires excellence in research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest and CV, including names and contact information for at least three references.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged. The review of applications will begin on September 23, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/28340>

Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu
Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/5/2016
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 1739

METHODOLOGY

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Postdoctoral Teaching Fellow

The Department of Political Science at The Pennsylvania State University invites applications for a two-year postdoctoral teaching fellow in political methodology and/or data- or computationally intensive techniques to start Fall 2017. Fellows will be asked to teach two courses a year and supervise the capstone experience for a small number of Social Data Analytics undergraduate majors. We seek candidates who are able to teach upper-level substantive undergraduate courses that incorporate research and statistical analysis and who will contribute to our graduate methods offerings, particularly in the introductory graduate methods class. Ph.D. required or all requirements for the Ph.D. must be completed by the appointment date.

Penn State teaching fellows participate extensively in the intellectual life of the department including opportunities to attend seminars and workshops, and present research results. Salary is competitive and additional money is available for travel and research. Submit a cover letter explaining research and teaching experience, a current CV, samples of scholarly writing and teaching evaluations (with a key). Additionally, request three confidential letters of reference be sent directly to plscapplications@psu.edu Application review will begin March 7, 2017, and continue until the position is filled. Apply online at <https://psu.jobs/job/69439>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/24/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2668

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, Foreign Policy

<http://www.cmu.edu/ips/>

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in American Politics, Comparative Politics, IPE, and Globalization.

The postdoctoral fellow will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2017 to July 31, 2019. The salary for this position is $45,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2014, and August 31, 2017. The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on March 23, 2017.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Please e-mail your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/23/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2660

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Academic Director

The Social Science Research Institute (SSRI) invites applications for a senior (Associate/Full), tenure eligible position focused on novel approaches to accessing data on human social, psychological and/or behavioral/biobehavioral processes. This position also will serve as the Academic Director of SSRI's Survey Research Center and, in this new role, pursue novel approaches to extending/supplementing traditional survey data collection approaches. Potential research domains include, but are not limited to, active and passive data collection through mobile devices, social media, and sensors for environmental and physiological data, as well as innovative approaches to capturing population/epidemiological data. As elaborated in the Office of Behavioral and Social Science Research (OBSSR) strategic plan <https://obssr.od.nih.gov/about-us/strategic-plan/>, opportunities for novel data acquisition and measurement paradigms in the social and behavioral sciences are evolving rapidly. We seek a colleague who will develop and implement a vision for innovative approaches that spark novel questions about and insights into human bio-psycho-social and behavioral processes--as these operate in context and across the life cycle. Social and behavioral scientists are located in colleges across Penn State, are oriented to interdisciplinary and collaborative research, and have substantial expertise in traditional survey methods, quantitative analysis of human development and demographic and social change, design, implementation and evaluation of education and preventive intervention programs, real-time ambulatory assessment, and spatial and social network analysis (SSRI). Social/behavioral scientists also connect to interdisciplinary expertise such as in the measurement of the physical environment (IEE) and physiological processes (HUCK), device development (MRI), cyberscience (ICS), and clinical and translational science (CTSI). To foster innovation and capitalize on Penn State's strengths, we seek candidates with strong publication and external funding records along with demonstrated teaching and graduate mentorship proficiency. The successful candidate will hold a doctoral degree in the relevant discipline and join the faculty in the academic unit that provides the best fit to her/his research and teaching interests: Biobehavioral Health, Educational Policy Studies, Educational Psychology, Counseling and Special Education, Human Development and Family Studies, Information Science and Technology, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology. We welcome joint appointments across departments and/or colleges. Review of applications will begin immediately, and applications will be accepted until the position is filled; we expect the position to start by August 2017. To apply, applicants must complete an online application that includes a cover letter describing research interests and experiences, curriculum vitae, names of three references and supporting materials (reprints, preprints, statement of teaching and research interests). Please direct questions to the search coordinator, Ms. Rebecca Shultz, rag212@psu.edu or to Professor Susan McHale, mchale@psu.edu, Director, Social Science Research Institute. Please include Innovative Methods Search in the subject line.

<https://psu.jobs/job/69053>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2642

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Computational Social Science Methods

The Department of Methodology is a leading centre for research and education in social science research methods. The Department has a thriving research culture, with its members advancing research in core social science disciplines as well as in research methodology. It leads the provision of research methods education to students across the range of disciplines at LSE. The Department is recruiting an Assistant Professor in Computational Social Science with expertise in quantitative methods.

Candidates should have completed a PhD and have research expertise in a relevant social science discipline and/or in computational and quantitative research methodology. They should have a track record or trajectory of internationally excellent publications. They should have the ability to teach a range of data science courses including the application of computational methods to social scientific research problems, programming, data manipulation, data analysis. We are especially interested in candidates using big data and computational methods to address significant large social, political, and economic challenges.

The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification, which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the job description and the person specification. To apply for this post, please go to: www.lse.ac.uk/LSEJobs.

If you have any queries about applying on the online system, or require an alternative format for the application, please call: 020 7955 6209.

The closing date for receipt of applications is 8 March 2017 (23.59 UK time). We are unable to accept any late applications. Interviews are expected to be held in the weeks of 27 March and 3 April 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/8/2017

Date Posted: 2/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2631

Arizona State University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate (JOB#11892)

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The School of Politics and Global Studies at Arizona State University invites applications for a post-doctoral research associate for the Sub-National Analysis of Repression Project, a National Science Foundation funded project. Anticipated start time is August of 2017. This is a full-time, academic year position that is expected to last for two academic years. Salary is $40-45,000 a year and some support for travel to conferences is available.

The research associate will work under the supervision of Principal Investigators Thorin Wright and Reed Wood (in consultation with co-PIs at other schools K. Chad Clay and Christopher Fariss) to help implement coding and data collection of sub-national patterns of repressive practices by states and non-state actors. The postdoctoral research associate will also help to oversee student (undergraduate and graduate) researchers, and will meet regularly with PIs to discuss the project. A description of the project on the National Science Foundation website can be found at: https://www.nsf.gov/awardsearch/showAward?AWD\_ID=1626775

Minimum qualifications include: completion of a Ph.D. in Political Science, Geography, Sociology, Economics or a related field by the time of appointment, but no earlier than Spring of 2015, relevant experience in data collection, spatial econometrics, item response modeling, and/or text analysis.

Desired qualifications: Prior relevant experience in data collection and research concerning international conflict, political violence, state repression, spatial econometrics, or Human Rights more broadly. Fluency in statistical packages such as R, STATA, and an understanding of GIS would be beneficial.

The School of Politics and Global Studies grants a Ph.D., M.A., B.S. and B.A. in Political Science and a B.A. in Global Studies. The School offers a M.A. in Global Affairs and Management in conjunction with the Thunderbird School of Global Management. The successful candidate will have opportunities to contribute scholarship, teaching and service to advance these and other programs at ASU. The School of Politics and Global Studies values interdisciplinary scholarship, and the successful candidate will have the opportunity to affiliate and collaborate with other schools and centers at Arizona State University.

Please send the following application materials to thorin.wright@asu.edu: application letter, cv, names and contact info for two references, and two writing samples. Initial deadline for review of complete applications is March 3, 2017. If not filled, review of complete applications will continue every two weeks thereafter until the search is closed. This is a paperless search; only electronic materials will be accepted. A background check is required for employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html>
<https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2622

University of Cologne

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

The Chair for European Politics (Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch) at the Cologne Center for Comparative Politics (CCCP) at the University of Cologne invites applications for the position of a Post-Doctoral Research Fellow in Comparative Politics with a weekly working time of 39,83 hours (100% position).

The initial contract is for 4 years (extension possible) and will be awarded as soon as possible.

The successful applicant is expected to hold a doctoral degree in political science (comparative politics) and have a strong quantitative and computational background, experience with statistical programming in R, international publications, and a research interest in political institutions, political parties, or political representation in Europe.

The salary is commensurate with experience and is at least 43,900 Euros with additional employer benefits based on the German E13 TV-L scale if terms and conditions under collective bargaining law are fulfilled.

Tasks:

The post-doctoral researcher is expected to develop and carry out his or her own research projects, publish in international peer-reviewed journals, and contribute to teaching (4 hours per week) and student supervision and examination, as well as to the intellectual life of the CCCP.

The University of Cologne is an equal opportunities employer. Applications of women are especially encouraged. Disabled candidates will be given priority in case of equal professional qualification.

For further information, please contact Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch (so.proksch@uni-koeln.de). Informal inquiries are welcome.

Applications should be submitted in English and include a research statement, CV, copies of transcripts and degree certificates, and a writing sample. Please send your application by February 17, 2017 in one PDF file to so.proksch@uni-koeln.de. In addition, two letters of reference should be sent separately to the same email address by the same deadline.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 2/17/2017

Date Posted: 2/7/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2620

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral/Postgraduate Associate in Policy Research

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Criminal Justice, Education Policy, Economic Policy

Research- and Policy-Related Opportunity at the Policy Lab at the Yale University Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS)

Professors Jacob Hacker and Andrew Papachristos seek a postdoctoral associate/postgraduate associate in policy research for a one-year, full-time appointment starting in August 2017 (or earlier, depending on availability). The position is for a researcher with interests in domestic policy-related domains (especially, criminal justice, education, and economic inequality) with a desire to help develop new collaborative educational and research opportunities for Yale undergraduate and graduate students at ISPS. In addition to pursuing his or her own individual research agenda, the successful candidate's responsibilities will include assisting Professors Hacker and Papachristos in the development of a new collaborative research-policy initiative; mentoring undergraduate and graduate researchers and undergraduate interns; and working with city-, state- and occasionally national-level policy makers. Technical skills—such as statistical and computer skills and understanding of social science methods—are highly desirable. Excellent organizational and project management skills are a must. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or equivalent professional degree. Outstanding candidates with a masters in public policy and/or administration will be considered as well.

Review of applications will commence on March 1, 2017, and will continue until a successful candidate is identified. Applicants are asked to prepare PDF files that contain a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references (who would be contacted during the final stage of consideration). Please apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8860>.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

More information at <http://policylab.yale.edu/> or <http://isps.yale.edu/>.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2601

Oberlin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics/ Quantitative Policy Analysis Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a post-doctoral faculty position in quantitative policy analysis in the College of Arts and Sciences. Appointment is for the 2017-18 academic year. This is a non-continuing position.

The incumbent will teach one course per semester in the quantitative analysis of public policy with at least some emphasis on American politics, help direct a series of guest scholars/policy practitioners, and mentor students interested in policy analysis.

To be assured consideration, submit a letter of application, a CV, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a writing sample, and at least three recent reference letters to <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/> by February 15, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2577

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

We are looking for candidates who will teach three sections of our required methodology course, two sections of an introductory course in international relations, and one additional course in international relations, for a total teaching load of six courses.

Applicants must submit materials online at <https://stolaf.hiretouch.com/faculty-postings>. A complete application includes:

A cover letter

A curriculum vitae

Undergrad and graduate transcripts

Statement of Teaching Philosophy

In addition, please provide the names and emails of three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship (we only ask for references' names and emails; St. Olaf solicits letters directly after an initial round of screening.)

If you have questions or need assistance with the application process, please send an email to term17-18@stolaf.edu or call 507-786-3127.

Review of applications will begin on February 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science promotes the systematic and critical analysis of government, politics and public policy. Its six, full-time, faculty members conduct research that enriches understanding of political life and public affairs in a global context, not only for other scholars but for decision-makers and citizens as well. More information about the political science department may be found at wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/

Founded in 1874, St. Olaf College is a residential, coeducational liberal arts college with approximately 3,000 students and 800 faculty and staff employees. It is located in Northfield, Minnesota, about 45 minutes from Minneapolis and St. Paul with their rich and diverse cultural resources. The college offers an academically rigorous, nationally ranked liberal arts education that fosters the development of the whole person in mind, body, and spirit and emphasizes a global perspective.

A liberal arts college of the Lutheran Church (ELCA), St. Olaf College is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity in students, faculty, and staff. The college is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity of our community through their teaching, research, and/or service.

To provide a safe and secure educational environment, St. Olaf College verifies the accuracy of all credentials presented by applicants and conducts a criminal background check on every new hire.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2581

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Rowan University is a comprehensive state-designated research institution with approximately 16,000 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20-miles southeast of Philadelphia, and it has a branch campus and medical school in Camden and a second medical school in nearby Stratford. Rowan is one of two universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical-degree programs. The School of Osteopathic Medicine has a faculty practice plan that serves approximately 200,000 patients throughout Southern New Jersey. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. The University boasts seven colleges--William G. Rohrer College of Business, Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering and colleges of Communications and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics. Rowan has been recognized as one of the Top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked 3rd among public institutions in the North by US News & World Report.

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The position is open to candidates specializing in public policy, public administration, or a related field. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and will be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship at the pre-tenure level.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Applicants should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2017. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by February 17, 2017. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://rowanuniversity.hodesiq.com/job-details.aspx?jobid=5392388>

Submit a cover letter, a C.V., unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.

All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/17/2017

Date Posted: 1/19/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2553

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor - Methodology

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) anticipates four tenure-track positions beginning in fall 2017. Two positions are at the level of Assistant Professor in the area of decision sciences. The other two positions are open rank and in the areas of (a) ethical or political theory and public policy, and (b) research methodology leveraging the NSF's Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) initiative. Applicants for all positions are expected to demonstrate a record predictive of future scholarly productivity, potential and commitment to develop and sustain a nationally competitive program of research with implications for public policy, capability and commitment to contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs and a doctoral degree or equivalent. The Hobby School emphasizes multidisciplinary collaboration and affiliation. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply, as are those with interest in working with diverse populations.

Decision sciences faculty — from a variety of disciplines including disciplines not usually associated with policy schools such as business, computer science, and industrial engineering — will apply state-of-the-art decision sciences theory and research to public policy, with interests including but not limited to statistical decision theory, rational expectations in economics and political science, cognitive psychology, technological change and the restructuring of decision processes, the impact of probabilistic forecasts on decision algorithms, and the micro-foundations of comparative justice systems. Research methodology faculty are expected to have familiarity with the NSF's EITM initiative (see <http://www.nsf.gov/sbe/ses/polisci/reports/pdf/eitmreport.pdf>) and serve at the Hobby School's EITM Summer Research Institute (see <http://www.uh.edu/class/hcpp/eitm/index.php>). Ethical or political theory and public policy faculty are expected to be philosophers or political theorists who continue to expand their impact beyond disciplinary boundaries into public policy and applied ethics.

With over 40,000 students on the main campus and one of the most culturally and ethnically diverse public universities in the nation, UH (www.uh.edu) is a Carnegie-Designated Tier One Public Research University. The Hobby School was recently created by the UH system and thus offers incoming faculty the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology and political philosophy in its teaching, training, and research.

The Hobby School is well-positioned for impactful research in Houston, the nation's fourth (soon to be third) most populous American city. Houston itself is a laboratory for the future, as it reflects what is happening in the United States in terms of demographic and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (a) a growing economy, including oil & gas, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center, the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) relatively low cost/affordability among large cities.

Interested individuals are asked to apply as follows:

Assistant Professor for Decision Sciences at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33130>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Methodology at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33131>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Policy Ethics at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33134>

and to include a letter of interest, statements of teaching philosophy and interests and research interests, three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation (i.e., referees), a curriculum vita, up to three representative papers, and evidence of excellence in teaching.

Upon receiving applications, referees may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants, but not for senior applicants. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. Questions may be directed to the following search committee chairs: (a) Pablo Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential research methodology position, (b) Jeffrey Church (jchurch@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential ethical/political theory and public policy position, and Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu) regarding the potential decision sciences positions.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body, UH is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committees anticipate holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at <http://www.uh.edu/af/universityservices/policies/sam/1GenAdmin/1D5.pdf>. The positions are also subject to the University of Houston's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2518

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Electoral Behavior

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis. Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable.

Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. Doctorate required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Please submit cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Applications should be submitted online at AcademicJobsOnline (AJO) at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8511>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2017. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications if there is still a vacancy.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2439

Columbia University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scientist

Two-year Postdoctoral Research Fellow position in Bayesian modeling for causal inference. This project, "Causal Inference Using Hierarchical and Nonparametric Bayesian Interaction Models," is funded by the Office of Naval Research. The Postdoc will be appointed through the Institute for Social and Economic Research and Policy at Columbia University and will work under the joint supervision of Drs. Andrew Gelman and Jennifer Hill. The postdoc will be working on a range of research problems involving Bayesian modeling, computing, and applications in causal inference, developing algorithms in Stan for Gaussian process models for causal inference, and comparing additive regression trees in R. The candidate should have strength in Bayesian data analysis, statistical computing, and causal inference and be able to contribute to Stan, our open-source Bayesian inference program. This work will take place in an interdisciplinary research environment, and the postdoc will have the opportunity to collaborate on multiple projects in statistics and applied research. Columbia is an EEO/AA employer.

Position Qualifications: PhD

Salary Range: commensurate with experience

For benefits information visit: <http://www.columbia.edu/index.html>

Please send cover letter and resume to Dr. Andrew Gelman, at gelman@stat.columbia.edu

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2322

James Madison University

Rank: Assistant Professor- U.S. Government and Public Policy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY- {Job link #0407599}- The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in U.S. Government and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2017 semester, pending budgetary approval. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. Areas of specialization should include health policy, economic policy, and/or comparative public policy.

The department seeks candidates with strong teaching and research skills. Review of applications will begin October 6, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {# 0407599}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience. The College of Arts and Letters (CAL) at JMU serves as a cross-disciplinary center of intellectual inquiry and practice on campus. All programs in the college are committed to fostering rigorous, constructive dialogue in classrooms, local communities, and the larger world.

James Madison University is committed to a diverse and inclusive community and to maintaining a work and educational environment that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability; genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1980

New College of Florida

Rank: Applied Statistics

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Applied Statistics, starting in August, 2017. A Ph.D. in applied statistics or a related applied field is required. Postdoctoral or teaching experience is preferred and consulting experience is a plus. We seek an individual to help create an innovative Data Science Program in a liberal arts context. We are looking for candidates capable of designing and teaching courses and guiding research at both the graduate and undergraduate level in a highly interdisciplinary setting. We strongly encourage women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities to apply.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly-selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. New College is nationally known for its experimental, project-based approach to education. Students, with the help of faculty sponsors, plan their own academic programs through a series of semester contracts, and receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. Completion of a senior thesis is a graduation requirement.

The teaching load is two classes per semester, plus supervision of tutorials, independent study projects, senior theses and master's level projects. The College is especially interested in candidates who wish to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through teaching, scholarship and service.

A complete application includes a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation (at least one that evaluates teaching), a statement of teaching philosophy (including course proposals), and a description of proposed research (including how undergraduates would be involved). To ensure full consideration, all materials should be received by November 15, but applications will be reviewed until the position is filled. New College of Florida is an EOE institution. Please complete the application at ncf.simplehire.com. Contact jobs@ncf.edu with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/15/2016

Date Posted: 9/1/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1950

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for full-time appointment during the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical and computational research techniques with contemporary social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health, the role of party networks in contemporary American politics, and methods for addressing post-treatment bias in experiments. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by attending seminars, consulting with faculty and students on research, etc. QSS fellows also join a broader community of postdoctoral social science researchers at Dartmouth that includes scholars at the Neukom Institute, the John Sloan Dickey Center, and the Dartmouth Society of Fellows.

The stipend for the QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, there may be an opportunity for the fellow to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend. The fellowship can be extended through the 2018-2019 academic year subject to the approval of Nyhan and the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application Instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests no longer than two pages that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/37062.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1934

Eastern University-St Davids

Rank: Assistant Professor American Government

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Assistant Professor American Government
Political Science Department
2016-2017 AY Replacement Search

The Department of Political Science at Eastern University, a university of the liberal arts and sciences located in St. Davids Pennsylvania, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in the fall of 2017. We are seeking to fill a position in American Government with preference given to individuals who can contribute to Political Theory. Candidates should desire to participate in the liberal arts core by teaching courses that explore the intersection of faith, reason, and justice. A Ph.D. in hand is preferred but ABD candidates nearing completion are also encouraged to apply. Please note that a J.D. is not sufficient for this appointment.

Eastern University is a Christian university of the arts and sciences that integrates faith, reason and justice for students in its undergraduate, graduate, Seminary, urban, professional and international programs. Applicants should have a religious commitment compatible with its mission and be willing to endorse by signing Eastern University's doctrinal statement. The university complies with federal and state guidelines of nondiscrimination in employment; members of protected classes encouraged to apply.

This description is intended to describe the general level and nature of work performed by the person/people assigned to this position. It is not to be construed as an exhaustive list of duties and responsibilities of the person/people so assigned.

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017. Applicants are requested to send a cover letter including a brief statement of your faith, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations (or portfolio), unofficial copies of graduate transcripts, and three professional letters of recommendation/reference to jobs@eastern.edu or by mail to:

Eastern University
Office of Human Resources
1300 Eagle Rd.
St. Davids, PA 19087-3696

All positions remain open until filled.

Interested candidates participating in the APSA Annual Meeting should contact Dr. Sharon Gramby-Sobukwe to arrange an on-campus visit and interview.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1874

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Tenure Track; Open to Subfield; Methods Specialization

This is a tenure-track, academic year position with appointment anticipated September of 2017.

Basic Function:

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in research methodology that serves as a requirement for both the Political Science and Criminal Justice undergraduate degrees as well as teach other courses in Political Science. Expected to publish original research open with respect to subfield and advise undergraduate students. Provide service to the department, the university and the profession

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2017. Primary or secondary field in the area of Political Science research methodology. Demonstrated evidence of effective college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated expertise in a wide range of methodological approaches. Demonstrated evidence of research excellence; scholarly publications commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated experience working with diverse groups/populations.

To apply, please submit materials at: <https://jobs.uri.edu/>

Instructions to Applicants

Please attach 4 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Employment Application: (#1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position; (#2) CV which includes the names/contacts information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and course syllabi and teaching evaluations for the last two years and/or for experience directly related to research methods instruction (as available) (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single PDF document); (#3) a brief research and teaching statement; (#4) an article-length sample of written work.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2016

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1855

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for up to three postdoctoral fellows for the 2017-18 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Each successful fellow should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently, and the fellow's research agenda should be grounded methodologically in statistics or other computational techniques.

During the 2017-18 academic year, fellows will participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results. The stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, each fellow may teach a one-quarter course on a subject of his or her choosing; there is an extra stipend for teaching. The postdoctoral fellowship can be extended through the 2018-19 academic year, subject to negotiation between the fellow and the QSS Chair.

Requirements:

1. Ph.D. in any discipline or expected Ph.D. by September, 2017.
2. Substantive interest in any social science field.
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical or computation methods.
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively.
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research.

Application Materials:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications.
- 2) Statement of research interests, no longer than two pages, that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth.
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant.
- 4) Three letters of reference.
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished.

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016, and interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.in-terfolio.com/36369

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1816

NON-ACADEMIC*University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Project Scientist - Center for the Study of Law and Society - School of Law

Position: Project Scientist

Salary Range: $79,900 – $109,300

Start Date: Anticipated (February 27, 2017)

This is a 100% time, 8-month term contract position.

Overview: The Center for the Study of Law and Society (CSLS) at Berkeley Law and the Haas Institute for a Fair and Inclusive Society (Haas Institute) is now accepting applications for the position of statistician. This is a shared appointment between these CSLS and Haas Institute, with an expected 50-50 split in time.

The UC Berkeley School of Law has a long history of empirical research on law. However, in recent years, with the addition of six new research centers, more scholars have begun to conduct quantitative research. Berkeley Law thus seeks a research statistician to advise faculty, graduate students, and other researchers with statistical analysis, procuring data sets, research design, complex data analysis, and database management.

The Haas Institute brings together researchers, organizers, policymakers, and other stakeholders to identify and work to eliminate the barriers to an inclusive, just, and sustainable society. At its heart, the Haas Institute is principally organized into seven research clusters: Disability Studies; Diversity and Democracy; Diversity and Health Disparities; Economic Disparities; LGBTQ Citizenship; Race, Diversity, and Educational Policy; Religious Diversity. The Haas Institute seeks a research statistician to advise and consult with faculty and affiliated researchers with data analysis, research design, and other aspects of quantitative research projects. Beyond the faculty clusters, the Haas Institute also conducts projects aimed at developing metrics on inclusiveness and equity and studying the link between financial systems and equity that would benefit from advice and consultation with a research statistician.

The staff member would be housed at the Center for the Study of Law and Society but would serve the entire law school community as well as Haas Institute needs.

For more information on CSLS, see <https://www.law.berkeley.edu/research/center-for-the-study-of-law-society/>.

Primary Responsibilities:

The Statistician's primary responsibilities will include:

- Advising law and social science faculty and graduate students on data analysis using multivariate statistical modeling with both continuous and discrete dependent variables;
- Advising faculty affiliated with the Haas Institute clusters and relevant Haas Institute projects on quantitative research projects, including aspects of research design and statistical analysis;
- For both Law and the Haas Institute, providing consulting and programming for database management and would assist with procuring data sets and setting up data for use with statistical packages including SPSS, Stata, SAS and programming languages such as Python and R;

- Providing consulting and assistance with statistical packages;
- Providing consultation to editors of the California Law Review and Othering and Belonging in reviewing article submissions that involve empirical analysis.

Minimum Qualifications Required (at time of application):

- Candidate must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Statistics or Biostatistics; OR
- Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Social/Behavioral Science with emphasis in quantitative/statistical methods.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience working with interdisciplinary faculty, including but not limited to law faculty and faculty with little knowledge of data analysis and statistical techniques;
- Experience advising students at all levels on research methods and data analysis;
- Knowledge of Stata and/or SAS;
- Knowledge of SPSS;
- Knowledge of R and/or Python;
- Knowledge of working with data in web API;
- Experience with StatTransfer;
- Familiarity with multivariate regression analysis techniques, including OLS, logit, probit, and Bayesian analysis;
- Familiarity with experimental methods and causal inference;
- Familiarity with other methods commonly used in the social sciences is also helpful, including ANOVA, time series / forecasting, structural equations, multi-level (hierarchical) modeling.

Application Procedure: Please visit the following link to apply: <http://apptrkr.com/952543>. Applications must include in pdf format a cover letter and CV, including publication listing. Applicants must also provide in AP Recruit the names and contact information for three (3) references. This position is open until filled. Early applications are encouraged.

Letters of reference or additional materials may be requested of top candidates. All letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a dossier service or career center, to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (<http://apo.berkeley.edu/evaltr.html>) prior to submitting their letters.

Criminal Background Check

This position has been designated as sensitive and may require a Criminal Background Check. We reserve the right to make employment contingent upon successful completion of a Criminal Background Check.

If you have questions about the position, please contact academicpositions@law.berkeley.edu.

Berkeley Law is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching or research. Qualified women and members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

<http://apptrkr.com/952543>

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/31/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2604

OTHER

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Women and Politics

Senior Appointment in Women and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Simon Fraser University in Burnaby, British Columbia, Canada, invites applications for a position in Women and Politics at the Associate of Full Professor rank.

The successful candidate will demonstrate excellent past performance in teaching and graduate student training and will have an outstanding record in research and publication.

The Department welcomes applications from qualified candidates in all approaches relevant to the theme of Women and Politics, and whose research and teaching areas will complement and strengthen the major areas of concentration in the Department of Political Science.

The Department of Political Science seeks to fill this position as early as September 1, 2017. The position is subject to availability of funding and final approval by the SFU Board of Governors.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a brief summary of their research record and current research. In addition, applicants should submit a summary of their demonstrated teaching experience and effectiveness.

Applications received by March 10, 2017 will be given priority. Short-listed candidates will be contacted to have three letters of recommendation forwarded to the Chair.

Simon Fraser University is in the top ten research universities in Canada and has ranked first in Maclean's Comprehensive category for many years. Located in Metro Vancouver, Simon Fraser University has three campuses. Vancouver is consistently rated among the top three most livable cities in the world.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply. However, Canadians and Permanent Residents will be given priority. Simon Fraser University is committed to the principle of equity in employment and offers equal opportunities to qualified women and men, including visible minorities, Aboriginal Peoples and persons with disabilities. Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for Academic Appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html

Please submit all application materials and direct any questions to moens@sfu.ca

Dr. Alexander Moens, Professor and Chair
Department of Political Science, Simon Fraser University
Burnaby, BC, Canada, V5A1S6
Phone: 778-782-3729
Email: moens@sfu.ca

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/10/2017

Date Posted: 2/24/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2663

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia

The Department of History and International Studies at Hawaii Pacific University invites applications for a full-time career track position for an Assistant Professor in International Studies. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science, International Studies, or International Relations with a specialization in Asia or the Asia-Pacific region.

Candidates must be qualified to teach courses on the politics and international relations of Asia or the Asia-Pacific region, as well as contribute to our MA Diplomacy and Military Studies program.

Other desired qualifications include teaching experience at the university level in a diverse environment. Hawaii's Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawaii's Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Application materials, including a cover letter, CV, and three letters of recommendation should be submitted by March 27, 2017 through the page for this position vacancy found at <https://www.hpu.edu/UniquelyHPU/HPUemployment/job-listing.html>

Please send questions to socialsciences@hpu.edu (no application materials accepted at this e-mail address).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/27/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2661

San Jose State University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track)

Specialization: Criminal Justice, Area: Crime, Disadvantage, and Race in Communities Around the World

Job Opening ID (JOID): 24018

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track)

Qualifications

Required:

- Ph.D. in Criminal Justice or Criminology.
- Qualitative research on local communities in the USA and at least one other country
- Expertise in race, violence, youth crime, and corrections and sentencing—including re-entry—among disadvantaged persons
- Evidence of ability to contribute to online programs, to internationalizing the curriculum, and to enhancing more than one of five departmental pillars: Criminology, Criminal Justice, Legal Studies, Human Rights, and Forensic Science.
- Active research agenda with strong potential for publications and funded research
- Awareness of and sensitivity to educational goals of a multicultural population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching and other comparable experience

Preferred:

- Strong record of teaching excellence
- Research and teaching in gender, policing, evaluation research, drugs and alcohol, and/or crime and justice in the Caribbean

Responsibilities:

- Maintain effective teaching in the Justice Studies undergraduate and graduate programs, including teaching required skills courses and providing guidance for graduate student research projects
- Actively participate in departmental governance, including curricular development, planning and implementing departmental activities, and student support
- Develop and maintain an active research and publishing agenda
- Advise students, collaborate with other faculty, and perform professional service to the University, community, and academic profession
- Address the needs of a student population of great diversity – in age, religion, nationality, cultural background, ethnicity, race, primary language, ability, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic status, and academic preparation – through course materials, teaching strategies and advisement

Salary Range: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Starting Date: August 21, 2017

Eligibility: Employment is contingent upon proof of eligibility to work in the United States. Application Procedure:

For full consideration, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests/philosophy, research plans, and at least three original letters of reference with contact information by March 15, 2017 to apply.interfolio.com/40709. Please include Job Opening ID (JOID) on all correspondence.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2658

University of Oxford

Rank: Post-doctoral Research Fellow- From Conflict Actors to Architects of Peace: Promoting Human Security in Colombia and Internationally

Subfield(s): International Relations, Other, Public Policy

Specializations: Latin American, International Security, Conflict Processes

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Oxford is looking for a Post- doctoral Research Fellow to join a research team to work on an exciting new project directed by Dr Annette Idler, and supported by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO).

The project “From Conflict Actors to Architects of Peace: Promoting Human Security in Colombia and Internationally” explores the changes to the security landscape that accompany transitions from war to peace. In particular, it examines (i) how the reshuffling of violent non-state groups that occurs during such transitions affects conflict, security, order and governance; (ii) the implications for ethics and norms when the line between armed conflict and organised crime is blurred; and (iii) how historical turning points such as the end of Colombia’s armed conflict with the FARC fit within broader geopolitical shifts, and the world’s evolving security landscape. The project applies academic research to explore how Colombia’s security architecture needs to adapt and respond to a changing context in order to promote human security, both in Colombia and internationally.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage in advanced independent and collaborative research in the field of ethics, norms and law in settings of armed conflict and organised crime with a focus on Colombia and its international context. S/he will also be expected to publish research of an internationally excellent standard, and to participate fully in the research life of the Department and the Changing Character of War (CCW) Programme.

The post holder’s duties will include assisting the Project Director in the academic and practical organisation of two fora to be held in Oxford in June 2017 and June 2018; to assist with publications in the aftermath of the fora and with the development of plans for the extension and consolidation of a research programme on the nexus of armed conflict and organised crime in Oxford. The successful candidate will hold a doctorate in the field of ethics and law in armed conflict, or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant subject. Applicants should have previous experience of contributing to publications in the field of ethics and law in armed conflict and excellent administration and communication skills. Experience of engaging with defence and security-related practitioners and policymakers is highly desirable.

This post is offered on a full-time basis, for a fixed-term period until 15 August 2018, to commence 1 April 2017 or as soon as possible thereafter. Further duties and skills required are described in more detail in the further particulars.

Please direct enquiries about the role to Dr Annette Idler in the Politics and International Relations Department (annette.idler@politics.ox.ac.uk).

To apply for this role and for further details, please follow the link: <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancies-and-jobs.html>.

Applications for this vacancy are to be made online, quoting reference 127406.

Closing date for applications is noon (UK time) on Friday 17 March 2017.

The University of Oxford is an Equal Opportunities Employer

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 3/17/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 2653

University of Oxford

Rank: Post-doctoral Research Fellow -The Changing Character of Conflict Platform: Understanding, Tracing and Forecasting Change across Time, Space and Cultures

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Conflict Processes, Latin American

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Oxford is looking for a Post-doctoral Research Fellow to work on an exciting new project directed by Dr Annette Idler in collaboration with Dr Robert Johnson and Prof Peter Wilson, and supported by the Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC).

The project "The Changing Character of Conflict Platform: Understanding, Tracing and Forecasting Change across Time, Space and Cultures" aims to produce a comprehensive knowledge platform on how and when armed conflict changes, with a view to enabling governments and international organisations to adapt their strategies and policies to address ongoing and prevent future conflict.

The successful candidate will be expected to undertake quantitative research both independently and jointly with the Project Director and the project team, and in addition s/he will be expected to participate fully in the research life of the Department and the Changing Character of War (CCW) Programme.

The post holder's duties will include statistical analysis, model development, and the creation of interactive data visualisations. Applicants should therefore have advanced skills in research design and quantitative analysis, with excellent skills in web technologies such as JavaScript and html. They should have demonstrable ability to use advanced data analysis software. The successful candidate will hold a doctorate in Statistics, Economics and/or Political Science, or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant subject. Experience in engaging with external stakeholders, including governments, international organisations and think tanks, is highly desirable.

The duties of the Post-doctoral Research Fellow will also include assisting the Project Director and the research team in the academic and practical organisation of two conferences on the Changing Character of Conflict Platform, to be held in Oxford in September 2018 and September 2020.

This post is offered on a full-time basis, for a fixed-term period until 30 April 2020, to commence 1 May 2017, or as soon as possible thereafter. Further duties and skills required are described in more detail in the further particulars.

Please direct enquiries about the role to Dr Annette Idler in the Politics and International Relations Department (annette.idler@politics.ox.ac.uk).

To apply for this role and for further details, please follow the link: <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancies-and-jobs.html>.

Applications for this vacancy are to be made online, quoting reference 127405.

Closing date for applications is noon (UK time) on Monday 3 April 2017.

The University of Oxford is an Equal Opportunities Employer

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 4/3/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 2654

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Kern Leadership Fellow

Description: The Lauder Institute invites applications for the position of Kern Leadership Fellow in International Studies. Appropriate candidates will have demonstrated practitioner and/or scholarly expertise in the field of leadership development, and will be able to provide expertise and academic programming support. Duties may include research, writing, guest lecturing, and/or student advising. Experience lecturing and leading professional school students is highly desirable. The length of the appointment is up to one academic year (July 2017-2018), with the possibility of renewal. Remuneration will be based on qualifications, duties, and length of stay.

Deadline: Applications will be considered beginning March 30, 2017.

Minimum Requirements: (1) Senior practitioner with demonstrated high-level leadership role(s) and/or completed PhD or doctorate by the time of appointment; (2) Open to any industry or any social science or humanities discipline; (3) Explicit identification of suitability and expertise based on the preferred qualifications below; and (4) Fluency in at least one language besides English.

Preferred Qualifications: The Lauder Institute especially seeks expertise in the fields of consumption, cultural affairs, finance, natural resources, philanthropy, science and technology, and/or sustainability, especially as applied to government affairs, international business, international finance, and/or international law. In addition, we are especially interested in candidates with experience in the areas of intercultural competency development, designing experiential learning modules, qualitative research methods and/or policy advocacy or research.

Documents Required: A brief letter summarizing the applicant's qualifications, a description of a proposed set of activities, a current CV, and three letters of recommendation.

Contact Information: Director, Lauder Institute, c/o katmon@wharton.upenn.edu. Please submit all files electronically.

Additional Information: The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other university-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (VOICE) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD)

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 3/30/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2655

Ohio Northern University*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science
F000038

Benefit package includes:

Medical, Dental, Vision and Prescription insurance, Life insurance, Workers' Compensation insurance, Unemployment insurance, and Total Disability insurance. Retirement: The University contributes 4% of the regular salary with up to 3% of additional matched contributions into the TIAA Retirement Program. Other benefits include tuition remission for employee, spouse, and employee's dependent children under the age of 25 (this does not include the last two year of the PharmD program or the JD), and twenty days of paid medical leave per year.

Job Scope:

The Department of History, Politics and Justice at Ohio Northern University seeks a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor of Political Science.

Principal Responsibilities:

The candidate will teach courses in American politics and government and, if qualified, courses in public policy. The candidate will engage actively in service to the students and in departmental activities.

Required Skills:

Ability to teach courses in American politics and government.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD in Political Science or doctoral candidate in Political Science. PhD required for the position title of Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science.

A doctoral candidate will hold the position title of Visiting Instructor of Political Science.

Preferred Qualifications:

Ability to teach courses in public policy; health policy preferred.

Appointment Length: 9-Months

Status: Full-Time

To view full description and apply online go to <https://jobs.onu.edu/postings/4989>

ONU is an equal employment opportunity employer. Accordingly, no person shall be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, gender identity, transgender status, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, marital status, military or veteran status, genetic information or any other category protected by federal, state, or local law. This policy applies to all areas of employment including recruitment, hiring, training and development, promotion, transfer, compensation, benefits, discipline, separation and other terms, condition and privileges of employment.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/85n6w8rn7x>

PI96901774

Start Date:

Date Posted: 2/21/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2651

University of Maine*Rank: Lecturer in Leadership Studies & Public Service

The William S. Cohen Institute for Leadership & Public Service at the University of Maine is seeking qualified candidates to fill a full-time, academic year lecturing position in Leadership Studies, for a two-year appointment starting September 1, 2017, with the potential for annual reappointments thereafter. Typical hiring range for this position is $44,000 to $50,000.

Responsibilities and Duties: The primary duty of this position is teaching, with secondary responsibilities of research and service. The teaching load is 3/3, with a mix of introductory and upper-level courses at the undergraduate level in UMaine's interdisciplinary Leadership Studies Minor. The minor consists of three core courses—Foundations of Leadership, Leadership Ethics, and Advanced Leadership Theory and Practice—as well as special topics courses, electives, and an internship/practicum course. Supervise internships, independent studies, and undergraduate theses. Advise students on their course of study within the minor and aid them in the registration process, which includes maintaining regular office hours. Maintain an active research program. Perform appropriate service, which includes but is not limited to, active participation in program development and implementation in Leadership Studies and the Cohen Institute, and representing these units in interactions with the larger University and community.

Qualifications: We prefer candidates with an earned doctorate in leadership studies, organizational leadership, organizational psychology, organizational behavior, political science, or a related field. Advanced ABD candidates may be considered for the position. We are particularly interested in candidates with a track record of teaching and research in leadership studies from an interdisciplinary, liberal arts perspective, as well as experience in active learning pedagogies, service learning, and community engagement. Additional requirements include record of or demonstrated potential for success in university-level teaching, assisting with program development, and advising and supervising student internships.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of interest in the position, a current C.V., three letters of reference, at least one sample of research related to leadership studies, copies of graduate school transcript(s), and available teaching evaluations and course syllabi. Review of applications will begin March 17, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit application materials electronically at <https://umaine.hiretouch.com>. Specific questions may be addressed to Richard Powell, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Cohen Institute: rpowell@maine.edu, 207-581-1795. Additional details about the Cohen Institute and the Leadership Studies Minor can be found at umaine.edu/cohen.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2648

University of Rhode Island*Rank: Dean of Arts and Sciences

This is a 3-year appointment with anticipated renewal. A Dynamic Leadership Opportunity: The University of Rhode Island, the flagship public university of the state, an urban-grant, land-grant, and sea-grant institution, seeks a visionary, innovative leader to serve as Dean of Arts and Sciences, with the goal of leading a diverse college of internationally and nationally renowned programs in research, academics, creative arts and outreach see <http://web.uri.edu/artsci/>

Reporting directly to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Dean serves as the academic leader and principal administrative officer of the College of Arts and Sciences - the largest College in the University. The Dean is responsible for leading college faculty in the development and realization of a vision rooted in innovative perspectives of liberal learning and scholarship, while sustaining robust programs of research, scholarship and creative work in the college. The Dean is also responsible for working to foster collaborative and interdisciplinary academic programs and research that reflect the emerging needs of the university, state, national and global communities.

Visit the URI jobs website at: <https://jobs.uri.edu> to apply and view complete details for job posting (SF00402). APPLICATION DEADLINE: The search is open until filled. First consideration will be given to applications received by March 10, 2017. Second consideration may be given to applications received by March 30, 2017. Applications received subsequent to second consideration date (March 30, 2017) may not be given full consideration.

Please attach 4 (PDF) documents to your online Employment Application: (#1) Cover letter, (#2) Resume, (#3) "Other Document" the names and contact information of five professional references, and (#4) Vision Statement on research, academics, creative arts and outreach.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE SUBMITTED ONLINE ONLY.

The University of Rhode Island is an AA/EEOD employer. Women, persons of color, protected veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of other protected groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2641

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenured/Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Public Management

Subfield(s): Other, Other, Other

The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs (LBJ School) at the University of Texas at Austin seeks to hire a new professor of public management to join the tenured/tenure-track faculty at a rank commensurate with experience. The School welcomes applications from candidates at any rank.

Public management is a core subject in the LBJ master's degree programs. Public management encompasses practitioner skills and scholarly research dedicated to policy implementation by government, non-governmental organizations, or non-profit agencies. The successful candidate will work with clinical professors and tenured/tenure-track faculty to solidify and sustain public management as a core program in the School's graduate curriculum. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a productive research program and to teach courses in the field as needed to support the School's instructional needs.

The LBJ School comprises more than 40 faculty members and approximately 300 graduate students, and offers multi-disciplinary curricula leading to the degrees of Master of Public Affairs, Master of Global Policy Studies, and Ph.D. in Public Policy.

Qualifications

Eligible candidates must have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of application and offer evidence of requisite academic qualification to teach graduate courses in public management. Published research and teaching experience will be required in the fields of: policy implementation at the national, state or local government level; public administration; management/leadership development; public acquisition and contracting; information technology management; organization development; performance measurement and management; or human resources management.

Successful candidates should offer evidence of work with diverse student and community populations. Successful candidates should demonstrate interest in, and success with, establishing dynamic, collaborative inter-disciplinary research and teaching, given the LBJ School's dedication to strengthening the field of public management by working with faculty in other University of Texas at Austin schools and institutions.

Application Instructions

Interested applicants are invited to submit a letter of interest and curriculum vitae that detail their professional accomplishments, teaching philosophy and experience, and research interests as well as three letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/40603. Screening of completed application files will begin on February 14, 2017, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2636

University of Nebraska - Lincoln

Rank: DROUGHT POLICY & IMPACT ANALYST

Lead the National Drought Mitigation Center in the investigation of methodologies for assessing the economic value of drought early warning and planning for various sectors and regions of the U.S., as well as help in assessing the economic impact of specific tools such as the U.S. Drought Monitor.

Required Qualifications: Master's degree in public policy, public administration, political science or related field plus two years of experience designing, implementing, and analyzing social science research projects. One year conducting cost-benefit analyses in the form of work or research project experience. Advanced data collection, analysis, interpretation and report writing skills. Knowledge of, and ability to apply, pertinent quantitative research and analytical methodologies, such as cost benefit analysis and impact assessment. Demonstrated ability to conduct critical analysis of research literature and data, and synthesize complex information. Expertise in statistical software such as R, SPSS, STATA or an equivalent analysis platform. Demonstrated ability to work independently and as part of a team. Demonstrated skill in written and oral communication.

Preferred Qualifications: Two or more years of experience conducting cost-benefit analyses. Project management and supervisory experience. Knowledge of methods for quantifying economic impacts of policies and programs related to drought, climate, hazards and/or natural resources issues. Knowledge of, and ability to design statistical models and analyses. Experience working with stakeholders including policy makers. Demonstrated ability to transform academic research into readily comprehensible reports. Excellent organizational skills.

View requisition S_170057 at <http://employment.unl.edu> for details and to apply. Criminal history background check will be conducted. Excellent benefits including staff/dependent scholarship program. Applicant review begins March 1. UNL does not discriminate based upon any protected status. Please see <http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/10/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2634

George Washington University

Rank: Global Residency Director

The George Washington University
Global Residency Director, Graduate School of Political Management (GSPM)

The College of Professional Studies (CPS) of The George Washington University invites applications from qualified applicants for this full-time (12-month) faculty position at the assistant or associate professor level with an administrative appointment as Director of the Global Residencies Program. This is a twelve-month, non-tenure-track, renewable appointment with an initial appointment period of two years, beginning as early as July 1, 2017.

GSPM currently offers hybrid (part online and part short-term immersion in-country) courses each year called "global residencies." Four residencies revolve around international politics and the immersion-week takes place in major world capitals (i.e., Mexico City, London, Brussels, Beijing, Tokyo, Seoul, Hong Kong, Istanbul, Berlin, Johannesburg, and Sao Paolo), and the fifth focuses on American national politics and the immersion is held in Washington, D.C. GSPM offers one international residency in the fall (late November or early December) and the spring (mid-March), and two in the summer (mid-May and early August). The D.C. Residency is offered in mid-July.

These global residency courses are designed to be cross-program survey courses (electives) for GSPM students in the school's three master's programs: Political Management, Legislative Affairs, and Strategic Public Relations. These courses help students understand how politics works (professionally and in practice) in the country visited, meaning that students will become familiar with the partisan, electoral, legislative, governing, and media environments.

Duties and Responsibilities: The Residency Director will be responsible for serving as the faculty member, teaching and leading five residency courses each year. He/she will work with the GSPM Program Coordinator to develop the itinerary and will be responsible for the course syllabus and curricular content. The Residency Director will serve as an advisor to GSPM students interested in enrolling in a residency course and will help to recruit non-GSPM students to enroll in the summer residency courses. Specific duties include:

- Instruct five three-credit residency courses a year
- Develop a unique and robust curriculum for each residency with distinct learning objectives

- Lead and initiate the plans for each residency (establish the relationships/contacts abroad and develop the meetings accordingly)
- Advise all GSPM students (e.g., when to take a residency, where it makes most sense, etc.)
- Manage the marketing and recruiting for the residencies (both to GW & GSPM students, as well as non-degree)
- Assess the effectiveness of the residency programs, glean lessons learned, and gather data for Middle States and APR
- Serve on the GSPM admissions committee for PMGT and LGAF

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an advanced degree such as a PhD, a law degree, or other relevant degree (e.g., MBA) by the date of appointment. Applicants must also have experience in the field of international politics, advocacy, or strategic communications; an active history of engagement with international society and American politics; and a demonstrated ability to teach graduate level courses.

How to apply: Complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/40460> and upload a cover letter and Curriculum Vitae.

Only complete applications will be considered. Review of applications will begin on March 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/9/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 2630

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track

FACULTY POSITION OPENING

Department:

Science and Math (Geological Sciences); Engineering and Computer Science (Civil Engineering and Construction Management); Social and Behavioral Sciences (Geography & Political Science) Effective Date of Appointment: August 23, 2017

(Subject to Budgetary Approval)

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track

Salary: Dependent on qualifications

In the past two decades, hiring faculty en masse into multiple departments/colleges, or "cluster" hiring, has emerged as a practice to successfully bring on board a critical mass of interdisciplinary faculty. Cluster hiring also has been used to address other needs such as fostering interdisciplinary collaborations, launching new initiatives, broadening engagement with the community, and enhancing inclusivity. Our cluster consists of at least three (3) faculty members formed to support interdisciplinary scholarship, under the umbrella of "Water Resources." It is anticipated that these faculty will develop new areas of inquiry showing promise of future scholarly activity that places CSUN in a strategic position of strength in the water sciences. Cluster faculty will be expected to engage in cross-departmental and / or cross-college interdisciplinary scholarship.

This group will form a nucleus of an advanced water team (cluster). This cluster will promote an interdisciplinary approach to water-resource science, sustainability, and management based on scholarly interests within the above listed departments.

Qualifications:

California State University, Northridge invites applications for three (3) full-time tenure-track appointments at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Departments of Civil Engineering and Construction Management, Geography, Geological Sciences, and Political Science, beginning August 23, 2017. The ideal candidates will have a strong interest and training in a subset of the general categories identified below. The areas of interest include, but are not limited to: surface-water hydrology and hydro-climatology, watershed processes, hydro-geology, applied mathematics and programming for surface and groundwater hydrologic modeling, and public policy with a particular focus on water in the western United States. Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree in a discipline appropriate for one of the listed departments or a related field of study by August 22, 2017. Evidence of degree(s) required at time of hire.

Applicants must provide evidence of outstanding commitment and demonstrated ability to research and teaching in an environment serving a diverse student population. Applicants with university teaching experience and evidence of commitment to teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels are desired.

At time of appointment, the successful candidate, if not a U.S. citizen, must have authorization from the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services to work in the United States.

Responsibilities:

This Cluster Hire in Water Resources promotes an interdisciplinary approach to water-resource science, sustainability, and management based on scholarly interests within several departments of the university. The proposed appointees will contribute to a workforce engaging multiple stakeholders, especially those focused on western United States water issues, and will build multidisciplinary research programs tied to the University's strategic initiatives.

The successful candidates will join faculty devoted to water resources in the physical, engineering, and social sciences. Because this appointment is designed primarily for research, it requires a commitment to seeking extramural research funds and to academic advancement based mainly on research accomplishments and publications in leading scientific journals. Accordingly, the appointee will teach a reduced load of one course per semester and receive initial funding for summer research (later to be funded by grant monies) during the probationary period.

The successful candidate will be reviewed for the granting of retention, tenure and promotion based on effective research productivity as outlined by each department, while complying with the associated college standards for scholarly productivity, effective teaching, service to the department, university, and/or broader community, and professional responsibilities.

How to Apply:

In order to be considered in the initial review, applications must be submitted prior to the date listed below. Application submissions received after the application screening date will be reviewed at the discretion of the University. Application submissions must include the following: a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement and evidence of publication, teaching statement, statement of philosophy/experience working with students from diverse backgrounds, and three letters of recommendation.

Application Materials:

This institution is using Interfolio's ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge to:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/39818>

For help signing up, accessing your account, or submitting your application please check out our help and support section or get in touch via email at help@interfolio.com or phone at (877) 997-8807.

Application Deadline:

Screening of applications will begin February 15, 2017. Priority will be given to applicants who meet the screening deadline. However, the position will remain open until filled. Please upload the following documents as pdf files: a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, evidence of publication (three documents which may include articles in research journals and book chapters), teaching statement, statement of philosophy/experience working with students from diverse backgrounds, and three letters of recommendation.

In later phases of the search process, applicants will be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees and/or licenses and certificates.

About the University:

Serving more than 42,000 students each year, CSUN is one of the largest universities in the United States. Money Magazine recently named CSUN one of the top ten values in all of higher education, and the Social Mobility Index ranked CSUN fifth in the nation for elevating its students' economic and social well-being. CSUN ranks 10th in the country in awarding bachelor's degrees to underrepresented minority students, fifth nationally in awarding master's degrees to Hispanic students and enrolls the largest number of deaf and hard-of-hearing students of any U.S. state university. CSUN's 171 academic programs and engaged centers enjoy international recognition for excellence. CSUN currently partners with more than 100 institutions of higher education in 22 countries around the globe and attracts the largest international student population of any U.S. master's level institution. Situated on a 356-acre park-like setting in the heart of Los Angeles' San Fernando Valley, the campus features modern educational buildings and world-class LEED Gold-certified performing arts and recreational facilities recognized as among the best in the country. CSUN is designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and an Asian American, Native American, Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI) and we value the diversity of all of our students and the campus community. CSUN is a welcoming university that champions accessibility, academic excellence and student success.

CSUN's Commitment to You:

CSUN is strongly committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, active learning and diversity. Our values include a respect for all people, building alliances with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity.

As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, CSUN strives to create a community in which a diverse population can work, teach and learn in an atmosphere of civility and respect for the rights of each individual. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, genetic information, medical information, marital status, or veteran status. For more information about the University, check our website: <http://www.csun.edu>

General Information:

In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line at <http://www.csun.edu/sites/default/files/clery-report.pdf>. Print copies are available in the library and by request from the Department of Police Services and the Office of Faculty Affairs.

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Applicants who wish to request accommodations for a disability may contact the Office of Equity and Diversity, (818) 677-2077. For questions about the online application, please contact Recruitment Services at (818) 677-2512.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2619

Emerson College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Communication

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Other

The Communication Studies department invites applications for a full-time tenure track professor (rank depending on qualifications) in political communication to begin on August 24, 2017.

Candidates must have completed a terminal degree by the time of hire. Successful candidates must also demonstrate potential for a productive scholarly research agenda, continuing professional practice, teaching experience within a diverse student community with evidence of potential for teaching excellence, and show the ability to work and collaborate effectively with faculty, students, and staff from diverse backgrounds.

The preferred candidate's teaching and research interests will be principally focused in political communication from a quantitative perspective. Preference will be given to candidates with experience in data driven analysis in opinion polling and web-based data analytics. Additional expertise in one or more of the following areas is desired: campaign management; electoral politics; social justice and politics; race and political communication; polling and demographics; civic engagement; public diplomacy; sports communication; and public affairs. Superior candidates will be those who can also complement other areas of department focus in sports communication, civic engagement, professional communication, global communication, public relations, non-profits, international relations, service-oriented teaching, and community-based learning. The successful candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses that fit the his or her research and teaching interests of the candidate.

As a member of the department, the candidate will advise and mentor undergraduate and graduate students, which can include advising student organizations aligned with political communication. Supporting the theory-practice mission of the Department of Communication Studies, the candidate will have the opportunity to engage in experiential and online learning, including the Washington, D.C. Program and civic engagement projects.

The Department of Communication Studies offers undergraduate and graduate programs. At the undergraduate level, degree programs are for students who wish to pursue communication-driven careers in the corporate, political, sports, or non-profit arenas. All three programs share a core curriculum that includes courses in communication research methods, argument and advocacy, and conflict and negotiation. The Master of Arts in Communication Management provides students with the knowledge, theory, and skills necessary to design and execute strategic, integrated communication plans for public and private organizations with expertise in web-based communication.

Emerson College is committed to an active, intentional, and ongoing engagement with diversity—in people, in the curriculum, in the co-curriculum, and in the College's intellectual, social, cultural, and geographical communities. Emerson endorses a framework of inclusive excellence, which recognizes that institutional excellence comes from fully engaging with diversity in all aspects of institutional activities. Members of historically under-represented groups are encouraged to apply.

Emerson & Boston

Communication Studies, founded in 1884 as the first department in Emerson College, engages students to appreciate application of theory and practice in leadership roles in all walks of life. From your first day at Emerson, Communication Studies students are immersed in local, national and global projects through coursework, teamwork, internships, and co-curricular activities such as Emerson College Polling Society, Forensics, and the Communication, Politics, and Law Association. Communication students work with their counterparts in Barcelona, Mexico, Chile, as well as locally in Boston, with the Bird Street Civic Engagement Project and Emerson Literacy Education & Empowerment Project (eLEEP).

Emerson College is dedicated exclusively to programs in communication and the arts. Located in the center of diversity-rich Boston, Emerson is surrounded by major healthcare, technology and research centers. The College enrolls approximately 3,783 full-time undergraduates and 671 full and part-time graduate students from 71 countries and 48 states.

To Apply, please submit a cover letter indicating teaching philosophy and professional orientation, summary of teaching evaluations if applicable, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references (not to be contacted without applicant's written approval). Application materials must be submitted through our applicant tracking system at the following link: <https://emerson.peopleadmin.com/postings/13721>.

Questions about the position should be directed to the Department Chair, Dr. Greg Payne at gregory\_payne@emerson.edu. Review of applications will begin January 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2610

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Visiting Professor

Specializations: Middle East, Women & Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The University of Pittsburgh's Global Studies Center (GSC) announces the Visiting Professorship in Contemporary International Issues, which is funded by a generous endowed gift from Mr. William F. Benter and the Benter Foundation. This visiting professorship enables the GSC to host scholars whose research and teaching examine critical international issues that shape and define the contemporary world.

For the 2017-18 academic year, GSC invites applications from scholars with expertise in the Middle East. We are interested in candidates from any discipline whose research and teaching interests intersect with one or more of our focal themes of global health, human rights/human security, and inequalities. Candidates whose research also addresses migration or gender issues are especially encouraged to apply.

The Global Studies Center (GSC) is part of the University Center for International Studies (UCIS). UCIS integrates and reinforces all strands of scholarship on international affairs throughout the University of Pittsburgh, supporting teaching, research and public service in area studies and on major world issues. The Visiting Professor will be appointed for the fall and spring terms of the academic year, will teach two classes per term, and will participate in activities of the GSC and of the department(s) closest to her or his disciplinary interests, in coordination with the Director of the GSC.

Applicants must have a PhD and demonstrate outstanding professional achievement in their disciplines, in both research and teaching. Individuals with extensive high-level international experience in government or non-governmental organizations may also apply. Applicants should be comfortable in an interdisciplinary environment and should be prepared to engage with a variety of perspectives and audiences inside and beyond the academy. Preference will be given to individuals who have extensive experience living in the Middle East.

Applicants should submit a cover letter explaining their interest and qualifications; curriculum vitae; research and teaching statements; evidence of teaching excellence, if available; a writing sample; and, three letters of reference. Please visit website for application link at <http://www.ucis.pitt.edu/global/visitingprofessor>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/15/2017

Date Posted: 1/31/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2600

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate

Post-Doctoral

Subfields: Behavioral economics, machine learning, neuroscience, political science. The interdisciplinary Decision Science certificate program at Duke University invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship. Applicants should have prior training in decision science along with a Ph.D. in a related discipline (e.g., economics, behavioral economics, political science, psychology, neuroscience, etc.). The fellow will participate in activities of the Duke Center for Interdisciplinary Decision Sciences and of related academic departments according to the fellow's research interests.

This is a full-time research and teaching position beginning in August of 2017. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. The post doc will be under the direction of the directors of the program: Scott de Marchi (Professor of Political Science, demarchi@duke.edu) and Scott Huettel (Professor of Psychology & Neuroscience, scott.huettel@duke.edu). The successful candidate must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. degree by June 2017. This post-doc carries a two course teaching load (one lecture course and one seminar) in the program. Applicants who do not currently have their Ph.D. in hand must provide a statement from their committee attesting that all requirements will be completed by June 2017. The position will be for initial one-year appointment term with the option of renewal for a second year. Applications (including a statement of research interests, a curriculum vitae, a sample of research, and three letters of recommendation) should be sent to Scott de Marchi, Department of Political Science, Duke University, Box 90204, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Durham NC 27708-0204 before March 1, 2017, or by email to demarchi@duke.edu. Duke University is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and we encourage applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2590

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate

Post-Doctoral

Subfields: Behavioral economics, machine learning, neuroscience, political science. The interdisciplinary Decision Science certificate program at Duke University invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship. Applicants should have prior training in decision science along with a Ph.D. in a related discipline (e.g., economics, behavioral economics, political science, psychology, neuroscience, etc.). The fellow will participate in activities of the Duke Center for Interdisciplinary Decision Sciences and of related academic departments according to the fellow's research interests.

This is a full-time research and teaching position beginning in August of 2017. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. The post doc will be under the direction of the directors of the program: Scott de Marchi (Professor of Political Science, demarchi@duke.edu) and Scott Huettel (Professor of Psychology & Neuroscience, scott.huettel@duke.edu). The successful candidate must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. degree by June 2017. This post-doc carries a two course teaching load (one lecture course and one seminar) in the program. Applicants who do not currently have their Ph.D. in hand must provide a statement from their committee attesting that all requirements will be completed by June 2017. The position will be for initial one-year appointment term with the option of renewal for a second year. Applications (including a statement of research interests, a curriculum vitae, a sample of research, and three letters of recommendation) should be sent to Scott de Marchi, Department of Political Science, Duke University, Box 90204, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Durham NC 27708-0204 before March 1, 2017, or by email to demarchi@duke.edu. Duke University is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and we encourage applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2591

Los Medanos College

Rank: Political Science Assistant Professor

Los Medanos College

Political Science Assistant Professor (Tenured Track)

Job Number: F00273

Salary: $58,452-$87,960 per year

Deadline: 02/05/2017

Complete job description and application available online at: <https://www.4cdcareers.net/postings/4046>

Los Medanos College is recruiting to fill a Political Science full-time tenure track faculty position to teach courses starting Fall 2017.

Duties and Responsibilities

In addition to contractual duties, all full-time faculty are expected to participate actively in their disciplines, department activities, and the general intellectual life and governance of the college. Part of the teaching assignment may be in the evening and/or online. Duties and responsibilities include but are not limited to:

1. advancing equitable student learning through dedicated, exemplary instruction in accordance with established course outlines;
2. participating in the assessment of student learning outcomes for courses and programs; developing and implementing student learning outcomes assessment processes for courses and programs;
3. collaborating in the development and revision of curriculum and in program review;
4. engaging in department program improvement initiatives;
5. participating in department, division, and college committees;
6. participating in professional development activities, both departmental and college-wide;
7. maintaining current knowledge in the subject matter area and effective teaching/ learning strategies;
8. maintaining appropriate standards of professional conduct and ethics;
9. informing students of course requirements, evaluation procedures and attendance requirements;
10. preparing and grading class assignments and examinations and informing students of their academic progress;
11. maintaining attendance, scholastic, and personnel records and submitting them according to published deadlines;

12. posting and holding sufficient and regular office hours in accordance with prevailing policy;
13. participating in College's shared governance processes.

Minimum Qualification-Education/Experience

Master's in political science, government, or international relations OR bachelor's in any of the above AND master's in economics, history, public administration, social science, sociology, any ethnic studies, JD, or LL.B. OR the equivalent.

Desirable Qualifications

1. Experience in developing political science curriculum that is relevant to the interest and the transfer needs of California community college students.
2. Demonstrated experience fostering an inclusive learning environment both in and outside of the classroom, that meets the needs of persons of diverse linguistic, cultural, socioeconomic, ethnic, and academically prepared backgrounds.
3. Demonstrated experience in establishing cross disciplinary collaborations that fostered interdisciplinary studies and collaboration.
4. Demonstrated success at utilizing creative and effective pedagogical strategies that make the study of political science interesting, dynamic and culturally relevant to community college students.
5. Demonstrated success in utilizing digital media technologies in an educational environment.

It is the District's policy to ensure that all qualified applicants for employment and employees have full and equal access to employment opportunity, and are not subjected to discrimination in any program or activity of the District on the basis of ethnic group identity, race, color, ancestry, religion, marital status, sex, national origin, gender, gender identity, gender expression, age, sexual orientation, physical or mental disability, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, parental status, citizenship or because an individual is perceived to have one or more of these characteristics or based on association with a person or group with one or more of these actual or perceived characteristics.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/5/2017

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 2596

Bard College

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship

The Hannah Arendt Center for Politics and Humanities at Bard College announces one post-doctoral fellowships for the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow should have a Ph.D. in political theory, philosophy, or a related field in the humanities, and his or her work should intersect meaningfully with Hannah Arendt's thinking. In residence at the Arendt Center, the fellow will pursue his or her independent research at the Center, which includes Hannah Arendt's personal library. The fellow will have access to Arendt's Digital Archive through a relationship with the Arendt Center in New York City. In addition, the fellow will have the opportunity to participate in seminars, conferences, lectures, colloquia, and workshops organized by the Center.

The fellow will hold the title of the Klemens von Klemperer Post-Doctoral Fellow and teach one (1) course each semester at Bard College's Annandale campus.

He/She will also be responsible for advising one (1) Senior Thesis Project and giving one (1) public lecture based on their work at Bard. The fellow will also have the opportunity to contribute to the Arendt Center blog.

The fellowship runs from August 29th, 2017 through May 31, 2018 and includes compensation of $30,000, including benefits. The fellowship is for one year renewable for a second year.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

To apply for the fellowship, please submit a letter of application explaining your research project and interest in the Center, CV, and two letters of reference through Interfolio.com at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/40354>. Include in the letter a description of your teaching experience. The Deadline for Consideration is March 6, 2017.

Bard College is an equal opportunity employer and we welcome applications from those who contribute to our diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/6/2017

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2587

University of West Georgia

Rank: Chair of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of West Georgia invites applications for a department chair. Appointment to the position ideally would start on July 1, 2017, but it is negotiable.

We seek an individual whose record qualifies for appointment at the rank of full professor with tenure, and who brings relevant academic and administrative experience as department chair. We welcome applications from scholars in all subfields within political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field.

Serving approximately 150 undergraduate majors and 40 graduate students, the Department of Political Science offers BS and BA degrees in Political Science, BS degree in Organizational Leadership, a minor in public administration, a NASPAA-accredited MPA, and graduate certificates in Non-Profit Management, Public Management, and Disaster Management. The BS degrees and MPA are offered fully online and face-to-face.

The department chair is expected to provide academic and administrative leadership to 17 full-time faculty and staff, teach, conduct research, oversee and engage in departmental operations including budgetary management, and serve as a member of the College's senior leadership team.

Qualifications include a doctorate in political science, public administration, public policy or related field along with a demonstrated record of excellence in (1) teaching, (2) scholarly achievement, and (3) administrative leadership. Successful candidate must demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion, the ability to engender mutually beneficial community partnerships, and excellent communication, mentoring, and organizational skills. This is a 12-month appointment, and the salary is commensurate with rank.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest that addresses the academic and administrative qualifications for this position, a curriculum vitae, and contact information of three references. These materials should be sent in PDF format to Dr. Lisa Gezon, Search Committee Chair, at uwgpschairsearch@gmail.com.

Screening of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position has been filled. Finalists will be required to submit to criminal background check. The University of West Georgia is an Affirmative Action/ Equal Employment Opportunity Employer/ Americans with Disabilities Act institution. As a result, we welcome applications from women and minorities.

Located 45 miles west of Atlanta, the University of West Georgia is classified as a Comprehensive University by the University System of Georgia. On a residential campus with over 13,000 students, the university offers more than 100 degree programs at the baccalaureate, masters, and doctoral levels. Interested applicants are invited to visit the Political Science Department website: <http://www.westga.edu/polisci>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2588

CUNY-Lehman College

Rank: Assistant Professor

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in the field of science policy. The candidate's scholarship and research interests will be expected to focus on bridging the gap between the rapid advances in science and technology including "disruptive technologies" and public-policy. Concomitant public policy issues include artificial intelligence; genetics; privacy in relation to "big data," predictive analytics, and drones; autonomous vehicles; aging, life extension, and end of life issues; and renewable energy.

We are interested in a candidate who can contribute to the development of a Lehman College Center for Science Policy Development. S/he may also become involved in the Graduate Center of the City University of New York. The faculty member will be expected to: conduct research; publish refereed journal articles; teach undergraduate courses at all levels; provide student advisement; provide service to the Department, College, University, and community; and participate fully in the life of the College and the University.

The Lehman College campus is located in Bronx, New York and is a Senior College within The City University of New York (CUNY) system. Lehman is the only senior public college in the Bronx and is recognized as a Hispanic Serving Institution. The college serves primarily undergraduate students, preparing them for employment, the professions, and further study. The teaching load is 21 hours (usually seven courses) per year and although the college is teaching focused, faculty at Lehman are active in research, scholarship and creative works. The teaching load, however, is reduced significantly for junior faculty during the first five years of service for scholarly development, and all faculty are actively encouraged to seek external funding. Service to the college, university and community is part of the mission as is a clear commitment to student engagement including advisement. Opportunities are available for faculty development and travel awards. Lehman College and CUNY internal funding are available through competitive grants for scholarship support.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in Political Science or related field, with a focus upon American Politics, public policy, or public administration. Demonstrated academic or work experience in a STEM field is desired.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits. Assistant Professor: $XXXX- $XXX (determined by the new salary scale)

HOW TO APPLY

From our job posting system, select "Apply Now", create or log into a user account, and provide the requested information. If you are viewing this posting from outside our system, access the employment page on our web site and search for this vacancy using the Job ID or Title.

Candidates should provide a CV/resume and statement of scholarly interests.

CLOSING DATE

The review of CV's will begin December 1, 2016 and will be open until the position is filled.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

We are committed to enhancing our diverse academic community by actively encouraging people with disabilities, minorities, veterans, and women to apply. We take pride in our pluralistic community and continue to seek excellence through diversity and inclusion. EO/AA Employer.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/21/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2561

University of Calgary

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Gender and Political Behaviour

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Political Behavior, Political Psychology

A dynamic research team, under the leadership of Melanee Thomas at the University of Calgary, is seeking an exceptional postdoctoral fellow to join our project exploring the links between gender, stereotypes, and political attitudes.

The postdoctoral fellowship would be funded through the University of Calgary Eyes High Postdoctoral fellowship program. The position pays $50,000/year plus benefits for one year, with a possibility of renewal. Support for research and travel also available.

Requirements:

- PhD in Political Science or related field.
- Demonstrated research expertise in gender, political behavior, or political psychology.
- Advanced methodological skills in one or more of the following: survey research, experimental methods, quantitative content analysis, physiological testing. Particular emphasis is placed on survey data analysis and experimental methods.
- Ability to relocate to Calgary, AB for July 1, 2017 (pending any necessary immigration documents)
- Ability to read and write in French would be an asset, but not required.

Start Date:

July 1, 2017

To Apply:

Please send applications to Melanee Thomas (thomasm@ucalgary.ca). All applicants should provide a current CV and a cover letter explaining their research plans and fit with the team. The application should also arrange for two letters of recommendations to be sent directly to Melanee Thomas via email, with the applicant's name in the Subject line.

We will begin reviewing applications on March 1, 2017 until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2549

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Clinical Professor of Public Management

The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs (LBJ School) at the University of Texas at Austin seeks to hire a Clinical Professor of Public Management to teach this core subject in the LBJ master's degree programs. The successful applicant will develop and teach courses designed to equip LBJ graduates with the skills needed to implement the policies of government agencies and non-profit organizations.

The School intends to make innovative teaching about policy implementation match the School's national reputation for policy development and analysis. While teaching courses in public management, the Clinical Professor of Public Management, working with the Dean and faculty, will also help strengthen the School's inter-disciplinary academic research effort into more effective, equitable public management.

The School seeks applications from candidates with extensive public management experience for appointment to the faculty as a Clinical Professor. Extensive experience, at executive levels, leading government or non-profit organizations is a required qualification. A Ph.D.

or other terminal degree public management or related fields is strongly preferred. Experience in teaching public management also is strongly preferred.

Appointment as a Clinical Professor of Public Management will be through a negotiated three-year contract, with the prospect of renewal and extension of the contract for an additional three years after a performance review by the Dean and faculty.

The LBJ School comprises more than 40 faculty members and approximately 300 graduate students, and offers multi-disciplinary curricula leading to the degrees of Master of Public Affairs, Master of Global Policy Studies, and Ph.D. in Public Policy.

Qualifications

Eligible candidates must offer evidence of the requisite qualifications to teach graduate courses in public management. Examples of requisite qualifications include: substantial practitioner experience at executive levels, teaching experience, and published research in the fields of: human resources management, acquisition and contracting, information technology management, organization development, and performance measurement.

Successful candidates will offer evidence of their experience in working with diverse student and community populations. Successful candidates should be able to demonstrate interest in, and likelihood of success with, establishing dynamic, productive inter-disciplinary research, and teaching relationships with other University of Texas at Austin schools and faculty.

Application Instructions

Interested applicants are invited to submit electronic copies of a letter of interest and curriculum vitae that detail their professional accomplishments, executive leadership experience, teaching philosophy and experience, and research interests. All applicants should submit three letters of recommendation. Apply to: apply.interfolio.com/39710

Screening of completed application files will begin on December 12, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/12/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2533

Kent State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Social Conflicts and Community Engagement

Social Conflicts and Community Engagement
School of Peace and Conflict Studies
Kent State University

The Center for Applied Conflict Management at Kent State University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Social Conflicts and Community Engagement beginning in August 2017. The successful applicant will have strong credentials in conflict management, including with theories and practices of conflict intervention used to constructively manage social, racial, economic and identity-related community conflicts and violence prevention. Examples include conflicts associated with: police/community relations; restorative justice; civil rights; the environment and climate change; economic inequalities; and social justice. The successful applicant will also demonstrate an ability to conduct and publish research commensurate with the expectations of a research institution and to teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels; salary is competitive and start-up support is available. Kent State University, located 30 minutes from the Cleveland and Akron metropolitan areas and the Cuyahoga Valley National Park, enrolls more than 29,000 undergraduate and graduate students on the Kent campus. Kent is a Carnegie Research II university and is ranked among the top 100 national public universities in U.S.

Established in 1971, the Center for Applied Conflict Management has a robust undergraduate degree enrolling over 1,000 students per year. Center faculty also teach in the Conflict Analysis and Management Track in the Political Science PhD degree. This position supports the transition of the Center into a new School of Peace and Conflict Studies to promote constructive approaches to managing and transforming conflicts in order to build a more just and peaceful world. Applicants should have a PhD in Peace and Conflict Studies or cognate field at the time of hire (August 2017). Review of applications will begin February 20, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Candidates should show promise of a quality research agenda and teaching success, and should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, a research plan, graduate transcripts, and three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to <https://jobs.kent.edu> Reference letters may also be sent to CommunityEngagement@kent.edu. Please be sure to reference position number 988779.

Kent State University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Dr. Landon Hancock, Chairperson of Search Committee
Center for Applied Conflict Management
Kent State University
Kent, Ohio 44242-0001
lhancoc2@kent.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2511

Kent State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Social Conflicts and Community Engagement

Social Conflicts and Community Engagement
School of Peace and Conflict Studies
Kent State University

The Center for Applied Conflict Management at Kent State University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Social Conflicts and Community Engagement beginning in August 2017. The successful applicant will have strong credentials in conflict management, including with theories and practices of conflict intervention used to constructively manage social, racial, economic and identity-related community conflicts and violence prevention. Examples include conflicts associated with: police/community relations; restorative justice; civil rights; the environment and climate change; economic inequalities; and social justice. The successful applicant will also demonstrate an ability to conduct and publish research commensurate with the expectations of a research institution and to teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels; salary is competitive and start-up support is available. Kent State University, located 30 minutes from the Cleveland and Akron metropolitan areas and the Cuyahoga Valley National Park, enrolls more than 29,000 undergraduate and graduate students on the Kent campus. Kent is a Carnegie Research II university and is ranked among the top 100 national public universities in U.S.

Established in 1971, the Center for Applied Conflict Management has a robust undergraduate degree enrolling over 1,000 students per year. Center faculty also teach in the Conflict Analysis and Management Track in the Political Science PhD degree. This position supports the transition of the Center into a new School of Peace and Conflict Studies to promote constructive approaches to managing and transforming conflicts in order to build a more just and peaceful world. Applicants should have a PhD in Peace and Conflict Studies or cognate field at the time of hire (August 2017). Review of applications will begin February 20, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Candidates should show promise of a quality research agenda and teaching success, and should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, a research plan, graduate transcripts, and three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to <https://jobs.kent.edu> Reference letters may also be sent to CommunityEngagement@kent.edu. Please be sure to reference position number 988779.

Kent State University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Dr. Landon Hancock, Chairperson of Search Committee
Center for Applied Conflict Management
Kent State University
Kent, Ohio 44242-0001
lhancoc2@kent.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2512

Kent State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Social Conflicts and Community Engagement

Social Conflicts and Community Engagement
School of Peace and Conflict Studies

The Center for Applied Conflict Management at Kent State University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Social Conflicts and Community Engagement beginning in August 2017. The successful applicant will have strong credentials in conflict management, including with theories and practices of conflict intervention used to constructively manage social, racial, economic and identity-related community conflicts and violence prevention. Examples include conflicts associated with: police/community relations; restorative justice; civil rights; the environment and climate change; economic inequalities; and social justice. The successful applicant will also demonstrate an ability to conduct and publish research commensurate with the expectations of a research institution and to teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels; salary is competitive and start-up support is available. Kent State University, located 30 minutes from the Cleveland and Akron metropolitan areas and the Cuyahoga Valley National Park, enrolls more than 29,000 undergraduate and graduate students on the Kent campus. Kent is a Carnegie Research II university and is ranked among the top 100 national public universities in U.S.

Established in 1971, the Center for Applied Conflict Management has a robust undergraduate degree enrolling over 1,000 students per year. Center faculty also teach in the Conflict Analysis and Management Track in the Political Science PhD degree. This position supports the transition of the Center into a new School of Peace and Conflict Studies to promote constructive approaches to managing and transforming conflicts in order to build a more just and peaceful world. Applicants should have a PhD in Peace and Conflict Studies or cognate field at the time of hire (August 2017). Review of applications will begin February 20, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Candidates should show promise of a quality research agenda and teaching success, and should submit a CV, a letter of interest, a writing sample, a teaching portfolio, a research plan, graduate transcripts, and three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to <https://jobs.kent.edu> Reference letters may also be sent to CommunityEngagement@kent.edu. Please be sure to reference position number 988779.

Kent State University is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Dr. Landon Hancock, Chairperson of Search Committee
Center for Applied Conflict Management
Kent State University
Kent, Ohio 44242-0001
lhancoc2@kent.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2513

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor - Decision Sciences

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) anticipates four tenure-track positions beginning in fall 2017. Two positions are at the level of Assistant Professor in the area of decision sciences. The other two positions are open rank and in the areas of (a) ethical or political theory and public policy, and (b) research methodology leveraging the NSF's Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) initiative. Applicants for all positions are expected to demonstrate a record predictive of future scholarly productivity, potential and commitment to develop and sustain a nationally competitive program of research with implications for public policy, capability and commitment to contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs and a doctoral degree or equivalent. The Hobby School emphasizes multidisciplinary collaboration and affiliation. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply, as are those with interest in working with diverse populations.

Decision sciences faculty — from a variety of disciplines including disciplines not usually associated with policy schools such as business, computer science, and industrial engineering — will apply state-of-the-art decision sciences theory and research to public policy, with interests including but not limited to statistical decision theory, rational expectations in economics and political science, cognitive psychology, technological change and the restructuring of decision processes, the impact of probabilistic forecasts on decision algorithms, and the micro-foundations of comparative justice systems. Research methodology faculty are expected to have familiarity with the NSF's EITM initiative (see <http://www.nsf.gov/sbe/ses/polisci/reports/pdf/eitmreport.pdf>) and serve at the Hobby School's EITM Summer Research Institute (see <http://www.uh.edu/class/hcpp/eitm/index.php>). Ethical or political theory and public policy faculty are expected to be philosophers or political theorists who continue to expand their impact beyond disciplinary boundaries into public policy and applied ethics.

With over 40,000 students on the main campus and one of the most culturally and ethnically diverse public universities in the nation, UH (www.uh.edu) is a Carnegie-Designated Tier One Public Research University. The Hobby School was recently created by the UH system and thus offers incoming faculty the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology and political philosophy in its teaching, training, and research.

The Hobby School is well-positioned for impactful research in Houston, the nation's fourth (soon to be third) most populous American city. Houston itself is a laboratory for the future, as it reflects what is happening in the United States in terms of demographic and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (a) a growing economy, including oil & gas, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center, the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) relatively low cost/affordability among large cities.

Interested individuals are asked to apply as follows:

Assistant Professor for Decision Sciences at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33130>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Methodology at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33131>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Policy Ethics at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33134>

and to include a letter of interest, statements of teaching philosophy and interests and research interests, three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation (i.e., referees), a curriculum vita, up to three representative papers, and evidence of excellence in teaching.

Upon receiving applications, referees may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants, but not for senior applicants. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. Questions may be directed to the following search committee chairs: (a) Pablo Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential research methodology position, (b) Jeffrey Church (jchurch@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential ethical/political theory and public policy position, and Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu) regarding the potential decision sciences positions.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body, UH is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committees anticipate holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at <http://www.uh.edu/af/universityservices/policies/sam/1GenAdmin/1D5.pdf>. The positions are also subject to the University of Houston's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2517

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor. Priority: Comparative Politics or IR. Other: Political Theory or Open

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, Middle East, Post Communist Europe

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2017. Applicants at the associate rank may also be considered. While we encourage applications by candidates in any field, our priority is to recruit in World Politics, which comprises Comparative Politics and International Relations. Located in the nation's capital, the Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major and a distinguished MA and PhD program.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Expertise in a regional area such as Latin America, the Middle East or Eastern Europe is a plus. Security studies and foreign policy are traditional strengths of the department. Beyond these fields, areas of interest include but are not limited to political theory and constitutionalism. We seek applicants who can enhance the historical, institutional and theoretical strengths of the department. Candidates who can cross field and disciplinary lines and articulate the relevance of ethical and religious concerns in their areas of specialty are particularly attractive.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a C.V., and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of graduate transcripts and three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found here:

http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html .

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, department chair, at coyle@cua.edu .Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment. The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2488

Pace University

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty Member

Pace University's College of Health Professions, Department of Health Studies seeks a Full-time Tenure Track Faculty Member to join our new our Health Science (BS) program at the Pleasantville (Westchester County) and New York City campuses. The new faculty member will have a primary assignment at one campus but may be required to teach courses on the other campus as necessary.

About us:

The College of Health Professions (CHP) at Pace University is seeking to expand over the next three to five years. CHP was established in 2010 in an effort to showcase Pace's commitment to research and teaching in the health professions. The College is made up of the Lienhard School of Nursing, the Pace University-Lenox Hill Hospital Physician Assistant Studies Department, and the Department of Health Studies (which includes the Communication Sciences and Disorders program along with the Bachelor of Science in Health Science. Additional programs in health studies are currently in development).

Our vision is to be recognized for our innovative leadership in education, practice, scholarship, and service to improve health and the health professions. Our mission is to educate and challenge diverse students for the health professions to be leaders, innovators and lifelong learners who will positively impact local, national, and global health.

Pace University is an exceptional setting for prospective faculty members seeking a collegial work environment, a focused teaching practice, and excellent scholarship support in New York.

We provide unparalleled support in the form of:

- Scholarship support and opportunities, including conference support and consultants
- Released time to work on scholarship
- Faculty mentoring in teaching and scholarship
- Graduate assistants for research and teaching
- Competitive compensation package
- Financial support available for scholarship during the first two years

Required Experience:

- A Research Doctorate, (i.e. Ph.D, Dr.PH, Sc.D, or Ed.D), in Health Policy, Health Systems, Public Policy, Political Science, or a related social science field
- A minimum of (3) years teaching experience within a higher education setting
- An active program of research, and a track record of publications and grant activity
- Undergraduate teaching and/or professional experience in health policy and advocacy
- A background in evidence-based practice and cultural competence
- A strong commitment to teaching excellence, health-related scholarship that informs teaching, and university and professional service

The successful candidate will teach courses in the newly developed Health Science undergraduate major. Courses include: Health Care Policy, History of the US Healthcare System, Patient Education and Advocacy, Global Health Care Systems, and Government Policy and Politics.

The program offers three (3) academic tracks of study to prepare students for professional opportunities:

1. Generalist
2. Pre-Nursing Preparation
3. Pre-Physician Assistant Preparation

The program offers four (4) areas of concentration:

1. Health Policy and Advocacy
2. Global Health
3. Quality Improvement and Patient Safety
4. Telehealth

How to apply:

E-mail a CV and cover letter detailing research, teaching and service experience and goals to CHPEducatorJobs@pace.edu. Application reviews will continue until the position is filled. Faculty appointment commences on 9/1/17.

More Information:

For more information about the Department of Health Studies, please visit www.pace.edu/healthstudies. For more information about the Bachelor's of Science in Health Science, please visit <http://www.pace.edu/college-health-professions/undergraduate-programs/bachelor-science-health-science>.

Pace University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2486

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, Integrated Security Specializations: Science & Technology, Intelligence, Defense

Integrated Security
Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences
Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the area of Integrated Security. This faculty search is part of a cross-college cluster hire being conducted in the Integrated Security Destination Area (<http://provost.vt.edu/destination-areas.html>), which is one of several focused Virginia Tech initiatives to recruit and support world-class groups of faculty that bridge disciplinary strengths. This initial hire focuses on multiple aspects of today's embedded cyber-physical/human systems. We seek a colleague who will build upon our departmental, college, and university strengths in the study of all dimensions of governance, privacy, and security at the interconnections of the digital and physical worlds as humans, groups, institutions, and systems link these domains of complex action. Over the next four years, the number of Internet-connected devices will more than double, changing the ways people interact with technologies and their environments; however, fundamental security and privacy challenges have yet to be adequately addressed for these new technologies. This cluster hire will foster cross-disciplinary collaborations that explore these challenges through the lenses of technology, law, governance, ethics, and business.

We are interested in applicants who can demonstrate research and teaching expertise in one or more of the following domains of inquiry: human security and insecurity (broadly defined) in “the Internet of things”; the effects of these new developments on politics, governance, and security in organizations, states, or other entities; U.S. national, subnational, or transnational responses to network security threats; human governance of cyber-physical systems, property regimes, or regulatory organizations; security and governance questions related to immigration, refugee flows, cross-border movements, and displaced populations; security and class, gender, and/or race/ethnicity. Focusing on these governance issues and public policy responses in North America is the main emphasis but other cross-national perspectives are welcome. Applicants who approach these concerns from a theoretical and critical perspective are encouraged to apply. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. This position will begin August 10, 2017.

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2017. Successful applicants will demonstrate a strong interest in conducting research, teaching courses, and seeking grants and contracts in how the Internet of things affects concerns of human security/insecurity as they relate to governance of the public, private, and non-profit sectors as well the class, gender, locational, and racial dimensions of security in cyber-physical/human systems at any scale in U.S. national, subnational, and transnational contexts. Successful candidates will have documented effectiveness in both undergraduate and graduate teaching as well as program development in order to meet the Political Science department's key needs in its B.A. and M.A. programs and those of doctoral students in cognate programs involved in the Integrated Security Destination Area. Potential for excellence in research and teaching is required.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to broadly trained candidates who have grounding and skills in a variety of theoretical, analytical, critical, and methodological approaches to security and governance, and who can work with undergraduate and graduate students. Prior teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels is strongly preferred as well as documented success in collaborative activity in transdisciplinary teams.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu posting, TR0160157, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a recent writing sample, teaching evaluations, along with names and contact information for three academic references. Screening of applications will begin on February 6, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. All inquiries should be sent to: Dr. Timothy W. Luke &lt;twluke@vt.edu>, chair, Integrated Security Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Major Williams Hall, Room 531 (0130), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with additional questions or with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact the search committee chair.

Virginia Tech recognizes the critical importance of diverse teams of scholars. It seeks to diversify its faculty along multiple dimensions, including those that have been historically marginalized and excluded given the institutional history and legacy of the university. Virginia Tech is a public land-grant university, committed to teaching and learning, research, and outreach to the Commonwealth of Virginia, the nation, and the world. Building on its motto of Ut Prosim (that I may serve), Virginia Tech is dedicated to InclusiveVT—serving in the spirit of community, diversity, and excellence. We seek candidates who adopt and practice the Principles of Community, which are fundamental to our on-going efforts to increase access and inclusion and to create a community that nurtures learning and growth for all of its members. Virginia Tech actively seeks a broad spectrum of candidates to join our community in preparing leaders for the world.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Agency

Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Access at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2426

Baldwin-Wallace University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science and International Studies, National Security

Baldwin Wallace University (BW) invites applications for a tenure-track interdisciplinary appointment in Political Science and International Studies, with a primary focus on National Security, at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. The successful candidate will assist in the development of a growing undergraduate program in National Security with focus on multiple forms of domestic and global security threats including traditional military, extremism, health, environmental, cybersecurity, and others. Broadly trained specialists with expertise in international relations and related fields are encouraged to apply. Candidates should demonstrate experience and expertise in teaching, advising, and a willingness to contribute in alternate years to BW's First Year Experience Program.

A Ph.D. (by the starting date of August, 2017) in a security-related field, teaching experience, and willingness to mentor undergraduates are required. Relevant professional experience, interdisciplinary expertise, and in-depth knowledge of at least one geographical region are preferred.

Baldwin Wallace University is a selective liberal arts university on the outskirts of Cleveland, Ohio. Its International Studies program, one of the first established in Ohio, currently serves approximately ninety majors and minors while playing an active role in campus internationalization. BW emphasizes teaching, advising, and service, and also encourages and supports scholarship.

Interested candidates should submit a letter summarizing their interest and qualifications, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, other evidence of effective teaching, and three letters of reference in one (1) Word or one (1) PDF document and submit via the To Apply link on BW's Employment and Careers' web page at <https://www.bw.edu/employment/> Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Baldwin Wallace University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer and educator. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2279

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Specializations: Science & Technology, Political Psychology, Intelligence

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of six interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire four tenure-track assistant or associate professors for the cyber security and privacy cluster. These positions have a start date of August 8, 2017.

These will be interdisciplinary positions that will be expected to both contribute to the common vision of the cyber security and privacy initiative and also strengthen a chosen tenure home department (or departments, when a joint appointment is preferable). A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. The cluster includes core members from Computer Science, Electrical and Computer Engineering, Industrial Engineering and Management Systems, the Institute for Simulation & Training, Political Science, Psychology, and Statistics, and affiliated members from several other departments.

(See <http://www.ucf.edu/research/cyber-security> for a complete list of all the units involved.) This cluster will be the focal point of the University's research and educational efforts in cyber security and privacy. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with these new positions.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. We are looking for team players who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for four faculty who work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (b) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, (c) hardware and IoT security, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Applicants must have a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The positions will each carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

Located in Orlando, UCF is one of the nation's most dynamic metropolitan research universities. UCF has the top-tier Carnegie Foundation designation of a "very high research activity" university, is the nation's second-largest university, and is ranked by U.S. News and World Report as among the top up-and-coming universities in terms of innovative changes in the areas of academics, faculty, and student life. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes: software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/47217> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmission to update applications.

UCF is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about these positions please contact the Cluster Search Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/20/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2273

University of Central Florida

Rank: Associate/Full Professor in Coastal Environmental Policy/
 Coastal Political Geography

Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster: Coastal Environmental Policy/Political Geography

Applicants for an Associate/Full Professor position in Coastal Environmental Policy or Coastal Political Geography must have a Ph.D. from an accredited institution in political science, geography, or a related discipline, such as environmental policy/political geography or environmental anthropology/sociology.

The successful applicant will become a core faculty member in the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster and must bring expertise in environmental policy and politics to an interdisciplinary team in order to advance understanding of the social-ecological systems in coastal areas with a focus on public policy and coastal ecology. They must demonstrate a strong commitment to interdisciplinary research and publication; a commitment to interdisciplinary and collaborative research, have demonstrated an ability to perform high-impact and high-demand research, and develop a program that will lead to strong extramurally-funded research. The successful candidate will also have a strong teaching record with the ability to teach and mentor students at both graduate and undergraduate levels.

As part of an on-going hiring campaign, UCF recently established an interdisciplinary cluster approach to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are searching for faculty in the broad interdisciplinary area of Sustainable Coastal Systems (<http://ucf.edu/research/coastalsystems>) and plan to bring together a core group of faculty who work across traditional research boundaries or are working in transdisciplinary fields. This new hire will join current cluster faculty, representing twelve departments and seven colleges, to lead a world-class effort to understand and assess natural and human-related impacts to coastal ecosystem health, restoration, sustainability, and mitigation; and ultimately to characterize and integrate physical, chemical, biological, and socio-economic processes impacting coastal communities and ecosystems.

Faculty in these interdisciplinary positions will be expected to strengthen both their tenure home department as well as the Sustainable Coastal Systems cluster. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup are expected with these five new positions. Each new faculty member will have a unique interdisciplinary mentoring team to foster intellectual breadth and to facilitate integrative capacity to strengthen the success of the cluster.

Candidates must apply on-line at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/43915> (Position #38869) and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter candidates should address their background in their discipline and should identify the department(s) for their potential tenure home. In the research statement candidates should include descriptions of their successful interdisciplinary research collaborations and how their current and future research can contribute to the cluster's overall interdisciplinary objectives.

The search committee will review applications on on-going basis and continue to accept applications until the position is filled. The University of Central Florida, the nation's second-largest university with more than 63,000 students, has grown in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando and more than a dozen other locations. UCF is an economic engine attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. For more information, visit <http://ucf.edu>. UCF is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer. All applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities, women, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

For more information about these positions please contact the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster Search Chair, Dr. Graham Worthy at CoastalCluster@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2184

Purdue University

Rank: Postdoc

Tecumseh Postdoctoral Announcement

Purdue University invites applicants for two postdoctoral positions for the 2017-2018 academic year. A second year of funding could be available depending upon discipline-specific interest of the applicant. We seek candidates who will have completed their PhD program before August 2017, with demonstrated potential for scholarly contribution including publications. Potential college placements include: Agriculture, Engineering, Health and Human Services, Krannert School of Management, Liberal Arts, Pharmacy, Science, or Veterinary Medicine. Please visit the homepage of each college to determine the broad diversity of disciplines and programs available. (http://www.purdue.edu/purdue/about/colleges\_schools.html). The Tecumseh Postdoctoral program was established to support Native American participation in the University at all levels. Scholars in this program will be expected to interact with our vibrant community of Native and Indigenous undergraduate and graduate students, including participating in ongoing programs coordinated through the Purdue Native American Educational and Cultural Center (<http://www.purdue.edu/naecc/>). A current initiative of the NAECC is developing and strengthening existing partnerships with Native communities to better serve their students and practical concerns. Postdoctoral scholars will be expected to mainly to conduct research to address fundamental questions in their area of expertise, but also to participate in the above programs by, for example, presenting and participating in seminars, and mentoring students.

The Tecumseh Scholars program was created through the Provost's Diversity Transformation Award, an initiative aimed at increasing diversity and inclusion at Purdue University. The Sloan Indigenous Graduate Partnerships at Purdue (funded by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation) has produced 21 alumni who are now actively engaged in academia, industry, and tribal affairs across the United States. Purdue has a wide range of networking, professional development, and community engagement opportunities for postdoctoral scholars, and successful applicants will be based in a collaborating department appropriate to the disciplines. We are especially interested in candidates who are considering academic career and who could later apply for a faculty position. Applications should include a pdf file comprised of a cover letter, CV, copies of recent publications, names and contact information of individuals for 3 reference letters, a titles statement of proposed research interests, identification of home department and potential faculty collaborators at Purdue, and a statement describing participation in diversity initiatives, and involvement in Native American communities. Salary is $50,00 plus benefits. All materials should be emailed to Professor Dawn G. Marsh (dmarsh@purdue.edu). Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2073

Purdue University

Rank: Post doctoral fellowship

Tecumseh Postdoctoral Announcement

Purdue University invites applicants for two postdoctoral positions for the 2017-2018 academic year. A second year of funding could be available depending upon discipline specific interest of the applicant. We seek candidates who will have completed their

PhD program before August 2017, with demonstrated potential for scholarly contribution including publications. Potential college placements include: Agriculture, Engineering, Health and Human Services, Krannert School of Management, Liberal Arts, Pharmacy, Science, or Veterinary Medicine. Please visit the homepage of each college to determine the broad diversity of disciplines and programs available. (http://www.purdue.edu/purdue/about/colleges\_schools.html). The

Tecumseh

Postdoctoral program was established to support Native American participation in the University at all levels. Scholars in this program will be expected to interact with our vibrant community of Native and Indigenous undergraduate and graduate students, including participating in ongoing programs coordinated through the Purdue Native American Educational and Cultural Center (<http://www.purdue.edu/naecc/>). A current initiative of the NA ECC is developing and strengthening existing partnerships with Native communities to better serve their students and practical concerns. Postdoctoral scholars will be expected to mainly to conduct research to address fundamental questions in their area of expertise, but also to participate in the above programs by, for example, presenting and participating in seminars, and mentoring students.

The Tecumseh Scholars program was created through the Provost's Diversity

Transformation Award, an initiative aimed at increasing diversity and inclusion at Purdue University. The Sloan Indigenous Graduate Partnerships at Purdue (funded by the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation) has produced 21 alumni who are now actively engaged in academia, industry, and tribal affairs across the United States. Purdue has a wide range of networking, professional development, and community engagement opportunities for postdoctoral scholars, and successful applicants will be based in a collaborating department appropriate to the disciplines. We are especially interested in in candidates who are considering academic career and who could later apply for a faculty position. Applications should include a pdf file comprised of a cover letter, CV, copies of recent publications, names and contact information of individuals for 3 reference letters, a titles statement of proposed research interests, identification of home department and potential faculty collaborators at Purdue, and a statement describing participation in diversity initiatives, and involvement in Native American communities. Salary is $50,00 plus benefits. All materials should be emailed to Professor Dawn G. Marsh (dmarsh@purdue.edu). Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2062

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for full-time appointment during the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government

Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical and computational research techniques with contemporary social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health, the role of party networks in contemporary American politics, and methods for addressing post-treatment bias in experiments. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by attending seminars, consulting with faculty and students on research, etc. QSS fellows also join a broader community of postdoctoral social science researchers at Dartmouth that includes scholars at the Neukom Institute, the John Sloan Dickey Center, and the Dartmouth Society of Fellows.

The stipend for the QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, there may be an opportunity for the fellow to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend. The fellowship can be extended through the 2018-2019 academic year subject to the approval of Nyhan and the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application Instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests no longer than two pages that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/37062.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1934

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Tenure Track; Open to Subfield; Methods Specialization

This is a tenure-track, academic year position with appointment anticipated September of 2017.

Basic Function:

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in research methodology that serves as a requirement for both the Political Science and Criminal Justice undergraduate degrees as well as teach other courses in Political Science. Expected to publish original research open with respect to subfield and advise undergraduate students. Provide service to the department, the university and the profession

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2017. Primary or secondary field in the area of Political Science research methodology. Demonstrated evidence of effective college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated expertise in a wide range of methodological approaches. Demonstrated evidence of research excellence; scholarly publications commensurate with level of academic experience. Demonstrated experience working with diverse groups/populations.

To apply, please submit materials at: <https://jobs.uri.edu/>

Instructions to Applicants

Please attach 4 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Employment Application: (#1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position; (#2) CV which includes the names/contacts information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and course syllabi and teaching evaluations for the last two years and/or for experience directly related to research methods instruction (as available) (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single PDF document); (#3) a brief research and teaching statement; (#4) an article-length sample of written work.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2016

Date Posted: 8/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1855

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for up to three postdoctoral fellows for the 2017-18 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Each successful fellow should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently, and the fellow's research agenda should be grounded methodologically in statistics or other computational techniques.

During the 2017-18 academic year, fellows will participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results. The stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000 with a $5,000 account available for equipment, travel, and research materials. Subject to consultation with the QSS Chair, each fellow may teach a one-quarter course on a subject of his or her choosing; there is an extra stipend for teaching. The postdoctoral fellowship can be extended through the 2018-19 academic year, subject to negotiation between the fellow and the QSS Chair.

Requirements:

1. Ph.D. in any discipline or expected Ph.D. by September, 2017.
2. Substantive interest in any social science field.
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical or computation methods.
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively.
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research.

Application Materials:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications.
- 2) Statement of research interests, no longer than two pages, that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth.
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant.
- 4) Three letters of reference.

5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished.

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2016, and interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.in-terfolio.com/36369

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2016

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 1816

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: William S. Dietrich Endowed Chair in Political Science

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the inaugural William S. Dietrich II Endowed Chair in Political Science, with appointment to begin in the 2017-18 academic year, pending budgetary approval. The Chair is named in honor of the late Dr. William S. Dietrich II, a former chairman of the University's Board of Trustees who received his Ph.D. from the Department in 1984.

In filling this chair, and in keeping with the interests of Dr. Dietrich, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship in the fields of international relations or comparative politics, or whose interests cut across these and possibly other disciplinary subfields.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh currently consists of 25 tenure stream faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. The Department's NRC ranking has improved dramatically over the past decade, and presently ranks between 20th and 30th among Ph.D. granting departments. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Please submit a detailed cover letter and C.V. electronically at <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MTU3>. Additional information may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1780

American University

Rank: Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

Associate Dean for Undergraduate Education

AY2016-17

School of Public Affairs

American University

American University's School of Public Affairs (SPA) invites applications from accomplished scholars for the position of associate dean for undergraduate education. This position includes a faculty appointment at the rank of (advanced) associate or full professor in the Government Department or the Department of Justice, Law & Criminology beginning June 1, 2017. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring. The position offers the unique professional, research, social, and cultural opportunities of a top-ranked school and university located in Washington, DC. In addition, the associate dean for undergraduate education will play a critical role in formulating school policy and be part of a dynamic leadership team.

The School of Public Affairs offers four undergraduate majors, four undergraduate minors, and three highly selective enrichment programs (SPA Leadership Program, Politics, Policy and Law Scholars, and SPA Honors). SPA has approximately 1300 engaged undergraduate students who are research focused and use DC as their laboratory. The associate dean for undergraduate education will provide leadership in the area of undergraduate education and will be responsible for handling all issues that arise concerning undergraduate students in the school. The associate dean directs the activities of the assistant director of recruitment and retention, four academic advisors, enrichment program directors, and serves as the school's Academic Integrity Officer. Duties will also include teaching one course a year in one of the School's degree programs.

American University is reshaping the composition and experience of its undergraduate student body. The University is committed to diversifying the student body in terms of racial/ethnic diversity, geographic diversity, and diversity of socioeconomic status. American University received a record number of undergraduate applications for Fall 2016, resulting in an admit rate of approximately 25 percent. The number of students with SPA undergraduate majors has increased over the past several years. American University is undertaking a multi-year initiative to reinvent the student experience through reimagining service delivery, a focus on student success, and modernization of the undergraduate curriculum. We are looking for an associate dean who will embrace the opportunity to participate in this initiative and shape the future of SPA's undergraduate programs.

Qualifications

Candidates must possess a distinguished record of scholarship in one of the academic fields encompassed by the school's undergraduate programs and meet American University's standards for appointment with tenure at the associate or full professor level. Preference will be given to candidates who have held leadership positions at the university, school, department or program level and who can also provide evidence of advancing their university's academic standing, scholarship, or research productivity.

Application Process

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2016, and continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/35978>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vita, statement of administrative experience and contact information for three references. Electronic submissions are preferred.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1756

POLITICAL THEORY*University of South Dakota

Rank: Chair & Odeen-Swanson Distinguished Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Political Theory

The University of South Dakota invites applications and seeks nominations for Chair of the Department of Political Science and Director of the W.O Farber Center for Civic Leadership. The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or closely related field with evidence of excellent teaching and a dynamic research agenda. The fields of expertise are open, though the ability to teach in American Politics, Public Administration and/or Political Theory would be welcome. Preference will be given to candidates who have some administrative experience and who have demonstrated the ability to connect with alumni and other external constituencies. Candidates with a strong academic record may also qualify for an appointment as the endowed Odeen-Swanson Distinguished Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will be expected to cultivate a broad range of alumni contacts, develop strong relationships with public and private sector partners throughout the state, region and nation, be effective at fundraising, lead by example as a strong scholar, teacher and mentor, and represent the interests of the Department at all levels of the University. The successful candidate will administer a diverse unit with three undergraduate majors (political science, criminal justice and international studies), five graduate programs (MA, MPA, MSA, EMPA and Ph.D.), and several minors. Several programs are online with additional programs being considered for online delivery. The Department has a long and deep tradition of mentoring students, which is reflected in a strong and attentive base of alumni. That tradition has also resulted in the Department being especially well-endowed with scholarships, travel awards, and endowed professorships. The Farber Fund enables our students to study abroad, pursue language immersions, take internships, and participate in a multitude of domestic & international study tours, competitions and conferences. This is a 12 month appointment. Salary is competitive. Anticipated start date is August 22, 2017, although an earlier start date will be considered.

Applications must be submitted online at <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu> and should include 1) a cover letter explaining interest in the position; 2) curriculum vitae, and 3) contact information for four references. Additional information may be requested of finalists for the position. Review of applications will begin March 15, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions about the position may be addressed to:

John Dudley (John.Dudley@usd.edu) Chair, Political Science Search Committee,

College of Arts and Sciences

The University of South Dakota

414 E. Clark St.

Vermillion, SD 57069

605 677-5221.

For more information about the University, visit <http://www.usd.edu/>.

Diversity and inclusiveness are values that are embraced and practiced at the University of South Dakota. Candidates who support these values are encouraged to apply. The University of South Dakota is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2645

Bucknell University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Theory

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Theory

Start Date: Fall 2017

Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until filled

Subfield: Political Theory

Rank: Visiting Assistant

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position in Political Theory beginning in the fall semester of 2017. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester, and the successful candidate will be prepared to teach four sections of a core course in Political Theory, a course in Contemporary Democratic Theory, and one course in his or her field of specialization. The Department of Political Science has a distinguished record of hiring diverse faculty, whose courses expose students to a variety of racial, ethnic, and cultural perspectives, and we are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience, potential teaching excellence, and the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. or be ABD in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in Political Theory.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <http://apply.interfolio.com/40666>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, syllabi, and teaching evaluations, along with any other relevant materials. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Michael R. James at mjames@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on March 27, 2016, and applications received by that date will be guaranteed full consideration.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a highly selective, predominately undergraduate, private university with approximately 3600 students. Apart from its excellent academic departments and programs, it boasts the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender, which supports faculty teaching and scholarship in these areas; the Griot Institute for Africana Studies, which provides faculty and student intellectual and creative engagement with the cultures, histories, narratives, peoples, geographies and arts of Africa and the African diaspora; and the Bucknell Institute for Public Policy, which supports faculty research and teaching on issues of domestic, international, and comparative public policy. Bucknell also has a small but growing community of Asia scholars. In the spring of 2014, Bucknell introduced a 5-Year Diversity Plan aimed at enhancing the diversity of the faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum of the university.

Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. For those who crave the city, Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

EEO

Bucknell University, an Equal Opportunity Employer, believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. We seek candidates who are committed to Bucknell's efforts to create a climate that fosters the growth and development of a diverse student body, and we welcome applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2640

Boston College

Rank: Political Theory Postdoctoral Fellowship (Visiting Assistant Professor)

The Department of Political Science invites application for the Jack Miller Center John Marshall Project Post-Doctoral Fellowship (Visiting Assistant Professor) for the 2017-2018 academic year. Stipend is $50,000 per annum. The fellow's duties begin in September 2017, and the Ph.D must be in hand by August 31, 2017. The recipient of the Fellowship will be expected to teach two or three courses on topics related to America's founding principles and history and/or the history of western political thought, and to help administer an undergraduate fellows program.

Interested candidates should upload a letter of interest, transcript, brief writing sample and curriculum vitae to the Interfolio online system at <https://apply.interfolio.com/40646>. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by individual writers. Review of applications will begin on March 13, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

No email or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Boston College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of any legally protected category including disability and protected veteran status. To learn more about how BC supports diversity and inclusion throughout the university please visit the Office for Institutional Diversity at <http://www.bc.edu/offices/diversity>.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2639

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2017 - 2018

Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2017-2018. Offered by the Program on Constitutional Government, Harvard University - Harvey Mansfield, Director. The Program on Constitutional Government in the Center for American Political Studies and the FAS Department of Government at Harvard University will offer one postdoctoral fellowship for the 2017-2018 academic year. The stipend is $55,000. Applicants must have received their doctorates no earlier than spring 2014 and no later than June 2017. They should have a record of teaching and writing in the fields of political theory or American government and politics, with an emphasis on the theoretical foundations or institutional and political consequences of the American Constitution. A resume, research proposal, and brief writing sample with names of two references should be sent to Laura Donaldson, CAPS-Harvard, CGIS Knafel K429, 1737 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, MA 02138 (phone # for express shipments is 617-384-9810). Applications review process will begin on May 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries should be directed to ldonaldson@fas.harvard.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 5/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2629

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: LEO Lecturer I

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science in the College of Literature, Science and Arts at the University of Michigan is seeking a LEO Lecturer I to teach two or four courses in the Political Theory subfield during the 2017-18 academic year: 2 courses in the Fall and 2 course in the Winter semester (applicant may apply for one or both semesters). The duration of this appointment would be from September 1, 2017 - December 31, 2017 for Fall Semester, or from January 1, 2018 - May 31, 2018 for Winter Semester, or from September 1, 2017 - May 31, 2018 for both Fall and Winter Semesters. The appointment effort will be 67% (two courses in one/each term).

Responsibilities*

Responsibilities for each position include course coordination and teaching four upper-level, undergraduate courses. In addition to classroom-teaching responsibilities, the instructor will hold office hours for students, provide appropriate syllabus and course materials electronically, attend regular course meetings, and handle routine course-related administrative matters.

Applicants should send a cover letter that describes two or four proposed courses, as well as a draft syllabus for each proposed course, and should indicate which semester if applying for one semester only. Applicants proposing courses in the following subject areas will be favored: Political Theory, particularly in the areas of Feminist Political Theory (POLSCI 401) and Democratic Theory (POLSCI 406). Applicants may propose one or more courses under these headings and/or (an) alternative(s) of the applicant's choosing, using the POLSCI 489 description below.

The search committee will favor applicants conducting independent research who are interested in participating in an ongoing law-and-politics/political theory workshop. Please address this interest in your cover letter, with some discussion of the independent research you are currently conducting. Likewise, applicants able to teach courses from a perspective informed by political science scholarship will be favored. Please indicate in your cover letter the range of political science literatures on which your courses draw.

Course 1: POLSCI 489. An upper-level seminar examining an advanced topic in political theory. Area of focus is contingent on instructor's expertise; the course could explore the work of a major political theorist, a central question or theme or concept in political theory, a subject area such as Marxism or liberalism, etc.

Course 2: POLSCI 401 "Feminist Political Theory." An upper-level lecture course (often offered to satisfy the "writing intensive" requirement) that explores classic and current texts in feminist political thought, together with contemporary controversies regarding sex difference, gender, and more.

Course 3: POLSCI 406 "Democratic Theory." An upper-level lecture course exploring competing conceptions of democracy and/or topics in democratic theory and politics including political representation, inequality, and more.

Required Qualifications*

Candidates must have advanced graduate training in political science or related discipline and college-level teaching experience.

Desired Qualifications*

Candidates with the Ph.D. will be preferred.

Union Affiliation

This position is covered under the collective bargaining agreement between the U-M and the Lecturers Employee Organization, AFL-CIO, which contains and settles all matters with respect to wages, benefits, hours and other terms and conditions of employment.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Selection Process

Applications will be selected based upon demonstrated subject matter expertise, successful performance in the classroom, ability to complete administrative tasks competently, and the needs of the department.

U-M EEO/AA Statement

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

How to Apply

To review posting and apply, go to umjobs.org. Apply to posting 137397.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/10/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2625

Emory University

Rank: Marcus Foundation Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Post Doctoral Fellowship – Program in Democracy & Citizenship

Department of Political Science

Emory University

Atlanta, GA 30322

The Program in Democracy and Citizenship and the Department of Political Science at Emory University invite applications for a Marcus Foundation Post-Doctoral Fellowship for the 2017-2018 academic year. There is a possibility of renewal for 2018-2019. The Fellow will have three main responsibilities: 1. The Fellow will teach two courses in political theory, including a course focusing on American Political Thought starting from the Founding. 2. The Fellow will help administer a new interdisciplinary Great Books program for undergraduates. 3. The Fellow will be expected to participate in the academic activity of the department and conduct his or her own research. Salary is competitive. Ph.D. must be in hand by August 2017. Please send a letter of interest, including a discussion of what courses you propose to teach; teaching evaluations, if they are available; curriculum vitae; and two letters of recommendation electronically to Professor Judd Owen, Department of Political Science, at polisci.theory@emory.edu. To ensure full consideration, please have all materials sent by March 15, 2017. Emory University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Disability/Veteran employer. The Department of Political Science, Emory College, and Emory University are all strongly committed to recruiting female and minority candidates. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2621

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track

FACULTY POSITION OPENING

Department:

Science and Math (Geological Sciences); Engineering and Computer Science (Civil Engineering and Construction Management); Social and Behavioral Sciences (Geography & Political Science) Effective

Date of Appointment: August 23, 2017

(Subject to Budgetary Approval)

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track

Salary: Dependent on qualifications

In the past two decades, hiring faculty en masse into multiple departments/colleges, or "cluster" hiring, has emerged as a practice to successfully bring on board a critical mass of interdisciplinary faculty. Cluster hiring also has been used to address other needs such as fostering interdisciplinary collaborations, launching new initiatives, broadening engagement with the community, and enhancing inclusivity. Our cluster consists of at least three (3) faculty members formed to support interdisciplinary scholarship, under the umbrella of "Water Resources." It is anticipated that these faculty will develop new areas of inquiry showing promise of future scholarly activity that places CSUN in a strategic position of strength in the water sciences. Cluster faculty will be expected to engage in cross-departmental and / or cross-college interdisciplinary scholarship.

This group will form a nucleus of an advanced water team (cluster). This cluster will promote an interdisciplinary approach to water-resource science, sustainability, and management based on scholarly interests within the above listed departments.

Qualifications:

California State University, Northridge invites applications for three (3) full-time tenure-track appointments at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Departments of Civil Engineering and Construction Management, Geography, Geological Sciences, and Political Science, beginning August 23, 2017. The ideal candidates will have a strong interest and training in a subset of the general categories identified below. The areas of interest include, but are not limited to: surface-water hydrology and hydro-climatology, watershed processes, hydro-geology, applied mathematics and programming for surface and groundwater hydrologic modeling, and public policy with a particular focus on water in the western United States. Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree in a discipline appropriate for one of the listed departments or a related field of study by August 22, 2017. Evidence of degree(s) required at time of hire.

Applicants must provide evidence of outstanding commitment and demonstrated ability to research and teaching in an environment servicing a diverse student population. Applicants with university teaching experience and evidence of commitment to teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels are desired.

At time of appointment, the successful candidate, if not a U.S. citizen, must have authorization from the Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services to work in the United States.

Responsibilities:

This Cluster Hire in Water Resources promotes an interdisciplinary approach to water-resource science, sustainability, and management based on scholarly interests within several departments of the university. The proposed appointees will contribute to a workforce engaging multiple stakeholders, especially those focused on western United States water issues, and will build multidisciplinary research programs tied to the University's strategic initiatives.

The successful candidates will join faculty devoted to water resources in the physical, engineering, and social sciences. Because this appointment is designed primarily for research, it requires a commitment to seeking extramural research funds and to academic advancement based mainly on research accomplishments and publications in leading scientific journals. Accordingly, the appointee will teach a reduced load of one course per semester and receive initial funding for summer research (later to be funded by grant monies) during the probationary period.

The successful candidate will be reviewed for the granting of retention, tenure and promotion based on effective research productivity as outlined by each department, while complying with the associated college standards for scholarly productivity, effective teaching, service to the department, university, and/or broader community, and professional responsibilities.

How to Apply:

In order to be considered in the initial review, applications must be submitted prior to the date listed below. Application submissions received after the application screening date will be reviewed at the discretion of the University. Application submissions must include the following: a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement and evidence of publication, teaching statement, statement of philosophy/experience working with students from diverse backgrounds, and three letters of recommendation.

Application Materials:

This institution is using Interfolio's ByCommittee to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge to:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/39818>

For help signing up, accessing your account, or submitting your application please check out our help and support section or get in touch via email at help@interfolio.com or phone at (877) 997-8807.

Application Deadline:

Screening of applications will begin February 15, 2017. Priority will be given to applicants who meet the screening deadline. However, the position will remain open until filled. Please upload the following documents as pdf files: a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, evidence of publication (three documents which may include articles in research journals and book chapters), teaching statement, statement of philosophy/experience working with students from diverse backgrounds, and three letters of recommendation. In later phases of the search process, applicants will be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees and/or licenses and certificates.

About the University:

Serving more than 42,000 students each year, CSUN is one of the largest universities in the United States. Money Magazine recently named CSUN one of the top ten values in all of higher education, and the Social Mobility Index ranked CSUN fifth in the nation for elevating its students' economic and social well-being. CSUN ranks 10th in the country in awarding bachelor's degrees to underrepresented minority students, fifth nationally in awarding master's degrees to Hispanic students and enrolls the largest number of deaf and hard-of-hearing students of any U.S. state university. CSUN's 171 academic programs and engaged centers enjoy international recognition for excellence. CSUN currently partners with more than 100 institutions of higher education in 22 countries around the globe and attracts the largest international student population of any U.S. master's level institution. Situated on a 356-acre park-like setting in the heart of Los Angeles' San Fernando Valley, the campus features modern educational buildings and world-class LEED Gold-certified performing arts and recreational facilities recognized as among the best in the country. CSUN is designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and an Asian American, Native American, Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI) and we value the diversity of all of our students and the campus community. CSUN is a welcoming university that champions accessibility, academic excellence and student success.

CSUN's Commitment to You:

CSUN is strongly committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, active learning and diversity. Our values include a respect for all people, building alliances with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity.

As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, CSUN strives to create a community in which a diverse population can work, teach and learn in an atmosphere of civility and respect for the rights of each individual. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, age, disability, genetic information, medical information, marital status, or veteran status. For more information about the University, check our website: <http://www.csun.edu>

General Information:

In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line at <http://www.csun.edu/sites/default/files/clery-report.pdf>. Print copies are available in the library and by request from the Department of Police Services and the Office of Faculty Affairs.

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Applicants who wish to request accommodations for a disability may contact the Office of Equity and Diversity, (818) 677-2077. For questions about the online application, please contact Recruitment Services at (818) 677-2512.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 2/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2619

Emerson College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Communication

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Other

The Communication Studies department invites applications for a full-time tenure track professor (rank depending on qualifications) in political communication to begin on August 24, 2017.

Candidates must have completed a terminal degree by the time of hire. Successful candidates must also demonstrate potential for a productive scholarly research agenda, continuing professional practice, teaching experience within a diverse student community with evidence of potential for teaching excellence, and show the ability to work and collaborate effectively with faculty, students, and staff from diverse backgrounds.

The preferred candidate's teaching and research interests will be principally focused in political communication from a quantitative perspective. Preference will be given to candidates with experience in data driven analysis in opinion polling and web-based data analytics. Additional expertise in one or more of the following areas is desired: campaign management; electoral politics; social justice and politics; race and political communication; polling and demographics; civic engagement; public diplomacy; sports communication; and public affairs. Superior candidates will be those who can also complement other areas of department focus in sports communication, civic engagement, professional communication, global communication, public relations, non-profits, international relations, service-oriented teaching, and community-based learning. The successful candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses that fit the his or her research and teaching interests of the candidate.

As a member of the department, the candidate will advise and mentor undergraduate and graduate students, which can include advising student organizations aligned with political communication. Supporting the theory-practice mission of the Department of Communication Studies, the candidate will have the opportunity to engage in experiential and online learning, including the Washington, D.C. Program and civic engagement projects.

The Department of Communication Studies offers undergraduate and graduate programs. At the undergraduate level, degree programs are for students who wish to pursue communication-driven careers in the corporate, political, sports, or non-profit arenas. All three programs share a core curriculum that includes courses in communication research methods, argument and advocacy, and conflict and negotiation. The Master of Arts in Communication Management provides students with the knowledge, theory, and skills necessary to design and execute strategic, integrated communication plans for public and private organizations with expertise in web-based communication.

Emerson College is committed to an active, intentional, and ongoing engagement with diversity—in people, in the curriculum, in the co-curriculum, and in the College's intellectual, social, cultural, and geographical communities. Emerson endorses a framework of inclusive excellence, which recognizes that institutional excellence comes from fully engaging with diversity in all aspects of institutional activities. Members of historically under-represented groups are encouraged to apply.

Emerson & Boston

Communication Studies, founded in 1884 as the first department in Emerson College, engages students to appreciate application of theory and practice in leadership roles in all walks of life. From your first day at Emerson, Communication Studies students are immersed in local, national and global projects through coursework, teamwork, internships, and co-curricular activities such as Emerson College Polling Society, Forensics, and the Communication, Politics, and Law Association. Communication students work with their counterparts in Barcelona, Mexico, Chile, as well as locally in Boston, with the Bird Street Civic Engagement Project and Emerson Literacy Education & Empowerment Project (eLEEP).

Emerson College is dedicated exclusively to programs in communication and the arts. Located in the center of diversity-rich Boston, Emerson is surrounded by major healthcare, technology and research centers. The College enrolls approximately 3,783 full-time undergraduates and 671 full and part-time graduate students from 71 countries and 48 states.

To Apply, please submit a cover letter indicating teaching philosophy and professional orientation, summary of teaching evaluations if applicable, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references (not to be contacted without applicant's written approval). Application materials must be submitted through our applicant tracking system at the following link: <https://emerson.peopleadmin.com/postings/13721>.

Questions about the position should be directed to the Department Chair, Dr. Greg Payne at gregory\_payne@emerson.edu. Review of applications will begin January 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2610

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for three full-time Lecturer positions to begin Fall 2017, pending budgetary approval. Lecturers at Georgia State University are full-time non-tenure track faculty with both teaching and service requirements, as well as the opportunity for promotion. Successful candidates will have experience at delivering high quality instruction to undergraduates. They will also have experience and interest in working closely with students of varied backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning. Enrolling one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, Georgia State University has been recognized for providing an outstanding education and exceptional support for students from all backgrounds. Women and minorities are especially encouraged to apply.

Position 1: Candidates for this position should be able to teach Intro to American Government, both online and in large in-person sections. Additional expertise and interest in teaching Intro to Research Methods is preferred.

Position 2: Candidates for this position should be able to teach Intro to American Government as well as Classical to Early Modern Political Thought and Modern Political Thought. In addition, ability to teach Global Issues will be viewed favorably.

Position 3: Candidates for this position should be able to teach courses in our pre-law concentration, including Judicial Process, Civil Liberties and Rights, Intro to American Law, and American Constitutional Law. Additional expertise and interest in teaching Intro to Research Methods is preferred. Candidates able to serve as pre-law advisor are preferred.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in hand by August 2017. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Georgia State University is a unit of the University System of Georgia, is an equal opportunity institution, and an EEO/AA employer. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification. Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, sample teaching materials, any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness, and original transcript(s). Please submit all materials electronically to polsearch@gsu.edu. Please be sure to identify for which of the three positions you wish to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2613

Heidelberg University

Rank: 10 Three-Year Positions (Part-Time, 65%) for Doctoral Candidates

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: American Politics, Foreign Policy, Political Theory

The Heidelberg Center for American Studies (HCA) at Heidelberg University, Germany, invites applications for 10 Three-Year Positions (Part-Time, 65%)

(October 1, 2017 – September 30, 2020) in a Research Training Group (DFG-Graduiertenkolleg) on Authority and Trust in American Culture, Society, History, and Politics.

Funded by the German Research Foundation (Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft), the interdisciplinary Training Group will focus on three broadly defined research areas: (1) the authority of the modern state and trust in public and social institutions; (2) the urban dimension of authority and trust; (3) authority and trust in literature, culture and religion.

We target postgraduates with a background in the following disciplines: American Studies, political science, social science, geography, history, linguistics, literature and culture, and religious studies.

Applicants must be fluent in English; hold an excellent master's degree or equivalent; and propose an innovative dissertation project within the thematic focus of the Training Group. Collegiates must take residence in Heidelberg and enroll as doctoral students at Heidelberg University.

The Graduiertenkolleg Authority and Trust (GKAT) offers a stimulating interdisciplinary and international environment at Germany's oldest university. Collegiates will find collaborative networks of European and North American scholars, individualized mentoring, and participate in a qualification program tailored to academic as well as professional career paths.

Gross annual salaries—predicated on the German public sector remuneration system (TV L)—will start at € 28,600 plus benefits (health, nursing care, pensions, and unemployment).

Application deadline: March 15, 2017. Qualified applicants with an interesting profile will be invited to a job market in Heidelberg in late April 2017. For more information on the application process, as well as detailed descriptions of the research design, curriculum, and qualification program, please go to: hca.uni-heidelberg.de/gkat.

Heidelberg University seeks to increase the number of women in positions in which they are underrepresented. In the event that the selection committee must choose between several equally qualified candidates, preference will be given to persons with disabilities. Heidelberg University is also dedicated to assist young scholars with families.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2612

John Cabot University

Rank: Full-time tenure track faculty position in Political Science and International Affairs

Full-time tenure track faculty position in Political Science and International Affairs

John Cabot University, a four year, fully-accredited American liberal arts college in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a full-time faculty position in political science and international affairs at the assistant or associate professor rank. We seek candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, commitment to academic service, and interested in the development of programs in a growing department.

The ideal candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses in international relations and global public policy with a load of three courses per semester. Ability to teach classes in American politics and foreign policy is an asset.

The ideal candidate should have extensive experience in the American liberal arts educational tradition. The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility of tenure. Candidates are expected to be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction. Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcript, three letters of recommendation, one or two research papers or journal publications, and evidence of teaching excellence to: politicalSearch@johncabot.edu. John Cabot University is an equal opportunity employer. Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2017. Only short-listed applicants will be notified.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2609

University of Minnesota, Twin Cities

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate

Mellon Sawyer Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities invites applications for a Mellon Sawyer Postdoctoral Fellowship on the topic "The Politics of Land: Colony, Property, Ecology." This position will be for one year (July 1st, 2017 – June 30th, 2018), with an annual salary of $55,000.

This year-long John E. Sawyer Seminar, funded by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, will be hosted by the Department of Political Science, and directed by Professors Nancy Luxon, Robert Nichols, and Jean O'Brien (History). The seminar seeks to develop an integrated approach to the politics of land, framed by three themes: (1) Colony: How has a history of colonization left its mark on key concepts of legal and political thought, such as sovereignty, territory, jurisdiction, and land? What comparative difference does it make to conceptualize the politics of land through the framework of colonialism? (2) Property: How must prevailing theories of property be rethought to consider the specific economic and political struggles associated with land and displacement? (3) Ecology: How might the politics of land be reconceived in a more pluralistic, cross-cultural manner so as to include 'alternative ecologies' beyond the currently prevailing frameworks? Our primary focus will be on the conceptual architecture of these problems: how they are framed and analyzed, what analogies and comparisons are used to discuss them, and what comparative difference it makes to situate them in one context over another.

The seminar will provide the Fellow with a unique opportunity to work in a truly interdisciplinary and intercultural format, directly contrasting and comparing work from anthropology, geography, law, history, philosophy, political science, and sociology, as well as including hitherto marginalized Indigenous intellectual traditions. We are especially interested in recruiting candidates who share our interest in foundational conceptual questions, and who have particular expertise in theories of imperialism/colonialism, property, ecology, and/or Indigeneity.

The Mellon Fellow will take a leading role in the seminar, and will participate in all scholarly activities associated with the Sawyer Seminar, including workshops and lectures. The fellow will advance their own research agenda while contributing to the seminar's scholarly community. The fellow will be mentored by the seminar organizers and additional members of the University of Minnesota faculty, if appropriate, depending on specialization.

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D., conferred by July 1st, 2017. Excellent writing, analytical, and organizational skills.

Preferred Qualifications:

Graduate training in Political Science, Political Theory/Philosophy, and/or American Indian Studies.

Applicants should demonstrate a research agenda that connects well with the themes of the seminar.

Application Instructions:

Apply online through the University of Minnesota's Job Center: <http://www1.umn.edu/ohr/employment/index.html>.

- Job Opening ID: 315388
- Job Posting Title: Post-Doctoral Associate
- Job Code: 9546
- Jobs Posted Within: Last Three Months (or greater)
- Keyword(s): Political Science

The link to the specific job posting is: https://www.myu.umn.edu/psp/psprd/EMPLOYEE/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM.HRS\_APP\_SCHJOB.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_SCHJOB&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=1

Applications must be submitted online. To be considered for this position, please click the APPLY button and follow the instructions. You will have the opportunity to complete an online application for the position, and attach a cover letter and C.V. Additional documents must be attached to your "My Activities" page. The following required materials must be attached to your online application:

1. Cover letter (that includes a summary of the dissertation and addresses how the candidate's research aligns with the seminar's theme)
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Writing sample
4. List of three academic reference (who will be prompted via email to submit letters of recommendation electronically).

Additional materials may be requested from candidates at a future date. Additional documents can be attached after submission of the application by re-entering the Job Center, accessing your "My Activities" page (in the top list of hyperlinks), and uploading documents there.

The application deadline is February 27th, 2017.

For questions about the position, please contact Prof. Robert Nichols (rbnichol@umn.edu). For questions about the application process, please contact employ@umn.edu. To request an accommodation during the application process, please e-mail employ@umn.edu or call (612) 624-UOHR (8647).

Any offer of employment is contingent upon the successful completion of a background check. Our presumption is that prospective employees are eligible to work here. Criminal convictions do not automatically disqualify finalists from employment.

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in graduate and undergraduate education and to the conduct of leading social science research. For further information, please visit the department website, <http://cla.umn.edu/polisci>.

Established in 1868, the College of Liberal Arts supports the University of Minnesota's land-grant mission as home to disciplines in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. The College of Liberal Arts is committed to intellectual freedom, the pursuit of new knowledge, and the belief that the liberal arts are the foundation of academic learning. CLA prepares students to be independent and original thinkers, innovators in their chosen fields; to create meaning in their lives and in their life's work; and to become productive citizens and leaders in their communities and the world. The College of Liberal Arts values diverse cultures, experiences, and perspectives as key to innovation and excellent education. www.cla.umn.edu

Founded in 1851, the University of Minnesota, with its five campuses and more than 65,000 students, is one of the largest, most comprehensive universities in the United States, and ranks among the most prestigious research universities in the world. It is both a major research institution, with scholars of national and international reputation, and a state land-grant university, with a strong tradition of education and public engagement.

The University recognizes and values the importance of diversity and inclusion in enriching the employment experience of its employees and in supporting the academic mission. The University is committed to attracting and retaining employees with varying identities and backgrounds.

The University of Minnesota provides equal access to and opportunity in its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. To learn more about diversity at the U: <http://diversity.umn.edu>.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 2/27/2017

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2589

Bard College

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship

The Hannah Arendt Center for Politics and Humanities at Bard College announces one post-doctoral fellowships for the 2017-2018 academic year. The fellow should have a Ph.D. in political theory, philosophy, or a related field in the humanities, and his or her work should intersect meaningfully with Hannah Arendt's thinking. In residence at the Arendt Center, the fellow will pursue his or her independent research at the Center, which includes Hannah Arendt's personal library. The fellow will have access to Arendt's Digital Archive through a relationship with the Arendt Center in New York City. In addition, the fellow will have the opportunity to participate in seminars, conferences, lectures, colloquia, and workshops organized by the Center.

The fellow will hold the title of the Klemens von Klemperer Post-Doctoral Fellow and teach one (1) course each semester at Bard College's Annandale campus.

He/She will also be responsible for advising one (1) Senior Thesis Project and giving one (1) public lecture based on their work at Bard. The fellow will also have the opportunity to contribute to the Arendt Center blog.

The fellowship runs from August 29th, 2017 through May 31, 2018 and includes compensation of $30,000, including benefits. The fellowship is for one year renewable for a second year.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

To apply for the fellowship, please submit a letter of application explaining your research project and interest in the Center, CV, and two letters of reference through Interfolio.com at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/40354>. Include in the letter a description of your teaching experience. The Deadline for Consideration is March 6, 2017.

Bard College is an equal opportunity employer and we welcome applications from those who contribute to our diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/6/2017
Date Posted: 1/27/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2587

University of California, Riverside

Rank: Lecture with Potential for Security of Employment
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Lecturer with Potential for Security of Employment - University of California, Riverside -
 Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for one full-time Lecturer with Potential for Security of Employment (LPSOE). Appointment as a lecturer with PSOE requires a demonstrated commitment to high-quality and innovative teaching, professional achievement, and service to the academic community and/or public. We are particularly interested in candidates with a record of teaching excellence beyond any experience they may have as teaching assistants. We also seek someone able to teach in several fields, including lower division courses, in three out of the four traditional fields of political science (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Political Theory).

Lecturers with PSOE are members of the academic senate and will be expected to teach six quarter-length courses per year, and to be engaged in significant service and/or research (in pedagogy or political science) equivalent in time commitment to three additional quarter-length courses. Applicants must have a PhD by the start of appointment on July 1, 2017. Salary will be competitive and commensurate with education and experience.

Complete applications should be submitted to <https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/apply/JPF00713> and must include a cover letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations for four or more courses, a statement of contributions to diversity, and three letters of recommendation. Optional writing samples may also be considered. Review of the applications will begin on February 15, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials received by February 15 will receive full consideration. Electronic application and submission of materials is strongly preferred.

Lecturers with PSOE are appointed to two-year terms, are reviewed biennially, and are required to undergo a mandatory 7th-year review for promotion to Lecturer with Security of Employment (SOE). The review process focuses on teaching excellence, professional activity, and service.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/25/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2568

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence & Social Thought

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, International Relations
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, International Law & Organizations, Life Sciences & Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a one-year visiting appointment for the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, ability, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is interdisciplinary, and focuses on one or more of the following areas: legal history; global legality; post colonialism; law and literature; or constitutional interpretation. The position requires a Ph.D. or a J.D.

Applicants should submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/40061> a cover letter addressed to Professor Adam Sitze, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college for men and women, with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages women, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: 3/1/2017
Date Posted: 1/6/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2524

National Defense College- Abu Dhabi

Rank: Academic Dean
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Description: Candidates are invited to apply for the position of Academic Dean at the National Defense College (NDC), an accredited senior national security education institution in Abu Dhabi, UAE. Candidates should possess an outstanding academic background and proven leadership capabilities that will equip them to play a central role in advancing the college through its next phase of growth. NDC is a leading institution of higher education in the Middle East that encourages experiential learning through methods that include models, case studies and exercises, and educational technology, to foster a culture of learning among high-skilled policy professionals. More information about the college can be found at (<http://www.ndc.ac.ae/en/>).

The successful candidate will provide academic leadership to the core MA program, including, in coordination with the Education Wing Commander, Planning Wing Commander, and the College Commandant, developing the academic schedule, faculty load and course rotation, managing the day-to-day academic operations of the college, supervising student evaluation, and lecturing and leading seminars as necessary. The Dean will also lead curricular revisions to the core MA program in strategic security studies and oversee a reaccreditation site visit by the local accrediting body of the UAE. The Dean will also lead the development of new programs, including an Arabic language war course, a possible doctorate in strategic studies, as well as short courses and other outreach efforts. In coordination with the college leadership, the Dean will brief senior leadership on the college's academic operations and represent the college.

The ideal candidate will work to continue the college's reputation for critical thinking and academic excellence and grow the institution's profile within the UAE, in the MENA region, and internationally. The candidate will be able to communicate effectively with our diverse faculty and staff, which includes active duty military personnel and civilians from more than a half-dozen countries. He or she should also be able to effectively work with stakeholders and local and international partners in advancing the NDC mission and vision.

Qualifications

REQUIRED EDUCATION/EXPERIENCE:

The candidate must possess a terminal degree from an accredited university in an appropriate discipline and an academic profile of scholarship and instruction equivalent to that of a full professor. The candidate should also hold significant academic leadership experience in a relevant institution, such as a defense college or a civilian graduate program. Experience working as an administrator and faculty member at the graduate level is essential.

DESIRED SKILLS/EXPERTISE:

Experience working as an administrator and as a faculty member at institutions that offer instruction to senior professionals, is highly desirable, as is familiarity with active learning at the graduate level. Practical experience in a field relevant to the college curriculum is a plus, as is experience working to bridge the policy and academic communities.

Cross-cultural proficiency, particularly experience teaching or working in the Middle East and/or demonstrated expertise in strategic studies education in a multi-national/ multi-cultural setting, is a strong advantage. Previous experience generating new graduate level programs and supervising accreditation and reaccreditation site visits are also an advantage.

Arabic language proficiency is an asset but all courses will be conducted in English.

Benefits package includes:

- Attractive and highly competitive salary
- Full housing allowance
- Vehicle allowance
- Education allowance for eligible minor children
- Cost of living allowance
- Relocation allowance

Interested parties should send a cover letter detailing qualifications and CV, including a list of professional references, along with an unofficial transcript of the doctorate (copies are acceptable) to Ms. Betty Boutros at (boutros@translangltd.com). Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2519

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor - Policy Ethics

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) anticipates four tenure-track positions beginning in fall 2017. Two positions are at the level of Assistant Professor in the area of decision sciences. The other two positions are open rank and in the areas of (a) ethical or political theory and public policy, and (b) research methodology leveraging the NSF's Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) initiative. Applicants for all positions are expected to demonstrate a record predictive of future scholarly productivity, potential and commitment to develop and sustain a nationally competitive program of research with implications for public policy, capability and commitment to contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs and a doctoral degree or equivalent. The Hobby School emphasizes multidisciplinary collaboration and affiliation. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply, as are those with interest in working with diverse populations.

Decision sciences faculty — from a variety of disciplines including disciplines not usually associated with policy schools such as business, computer science, and industrial engineering — will apply state-of-the-art decision sciences theory and research to public policy, with interests including but not limited to statistical decision theory, rational expectations in economics and political science, cognitive psychology, technological change and the restructuring of decision processes, the impact of probabilistic forecasts on decision algorithms, and the micro-foundations of comparative justice systems. Research methodology faculty are expected to have familiarity with the NSF's EITM initiative (see <http://www.nsf.gov/sbe/ses/polisci/reports/pdf/eitmreport.pdf>) and serve at the Hobby School's EITM Summer Research Institute (see <http://www.uh.edu/class/hcpp/eitm/index.php>). Ethical or political theory and public policy faculty are expected to be philosophers or political theorists who continue to expand their impact beyond disciplinary boundaries into public policy and applied ethics.

With over 40,000 students on the main campus and one of the most culturally and ethnically diverse public universities in the nation, UH (www.uh.edu) is a Carnegie-Designated Tier One Public Research University. The Hobby School was recently created by the UH system and thus offers incoming faculty the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology and political philosophy in its teaching, training, and research.

The Hobby School is well-positioned for impactful research in Houston, the nation's fourth (soon to be third) most populous American city. Houston itself is a laboratory for the future, as it reflects what is happening in the United States in terms of demographic and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (a) a growing economy, including oil & gas, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center, the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) relatively low cost/affordability among large cities.

Interested individuals are asked to apply as follows:

Assistant Professor for Decision Sciences at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33130>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Methodology at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33131>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Policy Ethics at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33134>

and to include a letter of interest, statements of teaching philosophy and interests and research interests, three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation (i.e., referees), a curriculum vita, up to three representative papers, and evidence of excellence in teaching.

Upon receiving applications, referees may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants, but not for senior applicants. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. Questions may be directed to the following search committee chairs: (a) Pablo Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential research methodology position, (b) Jeffrey Church (jchurch@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential ethical/political theory and public policy position, and Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu) regarding the potential decision sciences positions.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body, UH is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committees anticipate holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at <http://www.uh.edu/af/universityservices/policies/sam/1GenAdmin/1D5.pdf>. The positions are also subject to the University of Houston's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 1/20/2017
Date Posted: 1/4/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2516

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor. Priority: Comparative Politics or IR.
Other: Political Theory or Open
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Other
Specializations: International Political Economy, Middle East, Post Communist Europe

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2017. Applicants at the associate rank may also be considered. While we encourage applications by candidates in any field, our priority is to recruit in World Politics, which comprises Comparative Politics and International Relations. Located in the nation's capital, the Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major and a distinguished MA and PhD program.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Expertise in a regional area such as Latin America, the Middle East or Eastern Europe is a plus. Security studies and foreign policy are traditional strengths of the department. Beyond these fields, areas of interest include but are not limited to political theory and constitutionalism. We seek applicants who can enhance the historical, institutional and theoretical strengths of the department. Candidates who can cross field and disciplinary lines and articulate the relevance of ethical and religious concerns in their areas of specialty are particularly attractive.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a C.V., and a writing sample to

pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of graduate transcripts and three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found here:

http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html .

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, department chair, at coyle@cua.edu . Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment. The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/14/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2488

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Normative Political Theory

For 2017-2018, the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society at Stanford seeks to appoint up to four new postdoctoral fellows. Selected fellows will be designated as either Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows or General Ethics Fellows. The two types of fellows have some distinct training opportunities and responsibilities as described below, but they form a common community at the Center and participate together in the Center's intellectual life. The programs are described in detail below.

We aim to appoint fellows in both programs (four total across the two programs). All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships, and finalists will be consulted as to their designation as Interdisciplinary Ethics or General Ethics fellows.

Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellowship

2017-18 will be the second year of this new fellowship program at the Center. The program is rooted in the Center's commitment to bring ethical reflection to bear on pressing social problems. Addressing many of these social problems involves knowledge of the work of social science, law, and the life sciences. The premise of this program is that the normative scholarship of our fellows will be enhanced by engagement with empirically-oriented scholars. To that end, each fellow in the program will be matched with a partner research center at Stanford that is dedicated to interdisciplinary research. The partner centers will be determined based upon selected fellows' interests. For the 2016-17 year, the partner centers included the Stanford Center for Biomedical Ethics, the Stanford Center on Poverty and Inequality, the Immigration Policy Lab, and the Stanford Center for Philanthropy and Civil Society. To be considered for this fellowship, applicants must have normative training and hold a PhD in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a JD are also eligible so long as their research interests focus on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. Fellows will participate in the regular intellectual life of the partner center and the Center for Ethics in Society (e.g., attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across campus.

General Ethics Fellowship

Some selected fellows will be part of our longstanding postdoctoral program that is more broadly open to candidates with substantial normative research in any area within philosophy or political science. For 2017-18, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in inequality, global justice, environmental ethics, biomedical ethics, and ethics and technology, but we welcome all applicants with strong normative interests. Applicants must have a PhD in philosophy or political science. Scholars with a JD are also eligible so long as their research interests focus on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. General Ethics Fellows participate in the intellectual life of the Center for Ethics in Society (attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), teach one class per year, interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Appointment Requirements and Application Details

For both types of fellowships, the appointment term is September 1, 2017 - August 31, 2018. The initial term may be renewed for an additional year. Applicants must have completed all requirements for their PhD by June 30, 2017. Candidates must also be no more than 3 years from the awarding of their degree (i.e., September 2014).

The application deadline is December 12, 2016 (5:00 pm Pacific Standard Time).

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its scholarly community. We welcome applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research and teaching missions. Salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single spaced), and a teaching portfolio. Additional materials will not be considered. All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships, and finalists will be consulted about whether they may be designated as Interdisciplinary Ethics or General Ethics fellows.

Applications will be collected via Interfolio. Please refer to the Center's website for information about how to submit your materials:

<https://ethicsinsociety.stanford.edu/postdoc-fellows/application-process>

If you have questions, please contact Anne Newman (arnewman@stanford.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/12/2016

Date Posted: 10/10/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2209

Wayne State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, Political Theory

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY

Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Wayne State University in Detroit, Michigan, seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in Political Theory at the level of Assistant Professor. The department is interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations in the above field and with any substantive focus. The department offers B.A., B.P.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in addition to a NASPAA-accredited M.P.A. degree. Candidates must be prepared to teach Political Theory in our Ph.D. program as well as teach courses in the department's undergraduate curriculum. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester with a starting date of August, 2017. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and arrange to have at least three letters of reference sent to: Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 2040 Faculty/Administration Building, Wayne State University, Detroit, MI 48202. Upon receipt of your application, you will be prompted to apply online using a link supplied to you by the Search Committee. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Wayne State University is a nationally recognized Carnegie Research I (Doctoral/Research Extensive) institution with an urban teaching mission. It comprises 12 academic colleges offering over 350 undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees, including medicine, law, arts and sciences, engineering, business, pharmacy, health sciences, and education to more than 28,000 students. The National Science Foundation has ranked Wayne State among the top 60 U.S. public institutions for annual research expenditures. Wayne State University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 1972

Campbell University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science

Assistant/Associate Professor – Department of History, Criminal Justice and Political Science

Department: College of Arts and Sciences
 This position will be: Full Time

Description

The Department of History, Criminal Justice and Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at Campbell University seeks applicants for a full-time (9 month), tenure-track position in political science, either at the assistant or associate level, beginning August 2017.

Requirements | Qualifications

A Ph.D. in political science is desirable, but ABDs will be considered. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach undergraduate courses at all levels, with a particular focus on constitutional law and political theory. The new hire will teach, advise, and mentor majors and other students in a long-established, interdisciplinary and vibrant pre-law curriculum. The typical teaching load is 4 courses (12 hours) per semester. Candidates must be committed to liberal arts education; support the Christian mission of the University; and be dedicated to excellence in undergraduate teaching, mentoring students, and scholarship.

Compensation: Compensation will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits include health, disability, and retirement plans.

Additional Instructions

Applications should be submitted online using the link below. Please electronically submit a letter of application citing education, experience, pedagogical approach, and additional qualifications as they relate to teaching at Campbell University. The application packet should also include a current curriculum vitae as well as copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts for all institutions attended. Additionally, please provide names and contact information for three references.

See link below to apply.

<http://www.campbell.edu/about/employment/>

Review of applications will begin September 1, 2016 and continue until the position is filled. Campbell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Campbell University maintains a continuing policy of nondiscrimination in employment. It is our policy to provide equal opportunity in all phases of the employment process and in compliance with applicable federal, state, and local laws and regulations. Accordingly, the University is committed to administering all educational and employment activities without discrimination as to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, ethnicity or national origin, religion, disability, genetic information, protected veteran status and any other characteristic protected by law, except where appropriate and authorized by law. This policy of nondiscrimination shall include, but not be limited to, the following employment decisions and practices: hiring; upgrading; promotions; demotions or transfers; layoffs; recalls; terminations; rates of pay or other forms of compensation; selection for training, including apprenticeship; and recruitment or recruitment advertising. Employees and applicants of Campbell University will not be subjected to any form of harassment or discrimination for exercising rights protected by, or because of their participation in, an investigation or compliance review related to Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, the Veterans Employment Opportunities Act of 1998, or any other federal or state nondiscrimination law, rule, or regulation.

Campbell University also maintains affirmative action programs to implement our equal employment opportunity policy. Employees or applicants who wish to review appropriate portions of these affirmative action programs may schedule an appointment to do so by contacting the Vice President for Business and Treasurer at the Buies Creek campus, during normal business hours.

Campbell University will no longer be accepting paper applications. Please apply online by clicking "Apply for this Position" below the description of the position for which you are applying. If you have any questions, or if you are an individual with a disability and need assistance completing an application for employment contact the Human Resources Department at 910-893-1699 or email hr@campbell.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1941

Monmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Monmouth College, a selective, private, residential liberal arts college in Illinois invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning July 2017. We are seeking a broadly trained Political Scientist who could teach courses in international relations and political philosophy. A Ph.D. is required for this position but ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates must show enthusiasm for interdisciplinary teaching and for participating in general education, including Monmouth's Integrated Studies Curriculum and advancing a growing Pre-Law Program. A commitment to the liberal arts and an appreciation for the small college learning environment is essential.

Located in the welcoming community of Monmouth, Illinois, the college is a member of the prestigious Associated Colleges of the Midwest. Following the adoption and implementation of a groundbreaking interdisciplinary general education curriculum and the continuation of a bold strategic plan entitled "Think Anew, Act Anew," the college is now prepared to move confidently forward as an innovator among liberal arts colleges. The college has invested $120 Million into campus facilities since 2002 and this year Money Magazine ranked Monmouth 28th out of 736 "Best Colleges" in the Most Affordable Private Colleges category. The Princeton Review named Monmouth a "Best in the Midwest" in its 2015 Best Colleges Survey.

Send letter of application, resume and the names and telephone numbers of three references to: Farhat Haq, Chair, Political Science Search Committee, Monmouth College by e-mail to: facultysearch@monmouthcollege.edu. Review of applications will begin October 31st, and continue until the position is filled.

Monmouth College, an Equal Opportunity Employer, is committed to diversity and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Monmouth does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, disability, age, military service, marital status, sexual orientation, pregnancy or other factors as prohibited by law in its employment policies.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2016

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 1937

Eastern University-St Davids

Rank: Assistant Professor American Government

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Assistant Professor American Government
Political Science Department
2016-2017 AY Replacement Search

The Department of Political Science at Eastern University, a university of the liberal arts and sciences located in St. Davids Pennsylvania, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in the fall of 2017. We are seeking to fill a position in American Government with preference given to individuals who can contribute to Political Theory. Candidates should desire to participate in the liberal arts core by teaching courses that explore the intersection of faith, reason, and justice. A Ph.D. in hand is preferred but ABD candidates nearing completion are also encouraged to apply. Please note that a J.D. is not sufficient for this appointment.

Eastern University is a Christian university of the arts and sciences that integrates faith, reason and justice for students in its undergraduate, graduate, Seminary, urban, professional and international programs. Applicants should have a religious commitment compatible with its mission and be willing to endorse by signing Eastern University's doctrinal statement. The university complies with federal and state guidelines of nondiscrimination in employment; members of protected classes encouraged to apply.

This description is intended to describe the general level and nature of work performed by the person/people assigned to this position. It is not to be construed as an exhaustive list of duties and responsibilities of the person/people so assigned.

Review of applications will begin January 1, 2017. Applicants are requested to send a cover letter including a brief statement of your faith, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations (or portfolio), unofficial copies of graduate transcripts, and three professional letters of recommendation/reference to jobs@eastern.edu or by mail to:

Eastern University
Office of Human Resources
1300 Eagle Rd.
St. Davids, PA 19087-3696

All positions remain open until filled.

Interested candidates participating in the APSA Annual Meeting should contact Dr. Sharon Gramby-Sobukwe to arrange an on-campus visit and interview.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1874

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory/Law

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in Political Theory and/or Law at the rank of assistant professor. The position requires outstanding research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and, if available, evidence of excellence in teaching. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/36690> To guarantee full consideration, all materials should be uploaded and available for review by September 7, 2016. Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1793

Ball State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Ball State University is inviting applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position available August 18, 2017, with specialization in the field of classic and modern Western political philosophy with the major focus including background, knowledge, and skills in the area of political philosophy.

Major responsibilities: Teach courses in classic and modern Western political philosophy including American political thought. Additional strengths in comparative politics, non-Western political philosophy, and gender studies are preferred with opportunities available for developing courses in those areas. The normal teaching load is twelve hours per semester with a three hour course release per semester for candidates engaged in active research.

Minimum qualifications: Doctorate in political science with a concentration in political philosophy/theory from an accredited college or university no later than August 18, 2017; ability to teach courses in classic and modern Western political philosophy including American political thought.

Preferred qualifications: Research and/or teaching strengths in Comparative Politics, non-Western political philosophy, and gender studies; evidence of scholarship through publications, presentations, and successful grant proposals; evidence of successful teaching at the college level; successful involvement with professional organizations in the discipline; ability to interact effectively with faculty and staff to contribute to the strategic plans of the Department, College and University.

Candidates for searches must have current authorization to be employed in the U.S. without employer sponsorship.

To apply: We prefer candidates to submit all application materials, except for letters of reference, in a single pdf file. Send a cover letter of application, current vita, copies of official transcripts, writing samples, teaching evaluations if available, and three original letters of recommendation to: Dr. Daniel J. Reagan, c/o: Stephanie Painter, Administrative Coordinator (spainter@bsu.edu), Department of Political Science, Ball State University, Muncie, IN 47306-0255.

Review of completed applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled and the search is terminated.

Ball State University is located in Muncie, Indiana, on an attractive campus 45 miles northeast of Indianapolis. Approximately 21,000 graduate and undergraduate students enroll in one of seven academic colleges that offer 187 undergraduate programs, 84 master's programs, and 16 doctoral programs. In addition to our regular undergraduate Program, we also house an undergraduate Legal Studies Program, and an undergraduate interdepartmental European Studies Program and at the graduate level we offer an MA and MPA.

Ball State aspires to be the model of the most student-centered and community-engaged of the 21st century public research universities, transforming entrepreneurial learners into impactful leaders – committed to improving the quality of life for all. The university offers an excellent benefits package, including health care and retirement plans, tuition assistance for employees and dependents, and generous time off with pay.

EEO/AA Employer/Veterans/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 12/13/2016

Date Posted: 8/1/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1695

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

University of South Dakota

Rank: Chair & Odeen-Swanson Distinguished Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Political Theory

The University of South Dakota invites applications and seeks nominations for Chair of the Department of Political Science and Director of the W.O Farber Center for Civic Leadership. The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or closely related field with evidence of excellent teaching and a dynamic research agenda. The fields of expertise are open, though the ability to teach in American Politics, Public Administration and/or Political Theory would be welcome. Preference will be given to candidates who have some administrative experience and who have demonstrated the ability to connect with alumni and other external constituencies. Candidates with a strong academic record may also qualify for an appointment as the endowed Odeen-Swanson Distinguished Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will be expected to cultivate a broad range of alumni contacts, develop strong relationships with public and private sector partners throughout the state, region and nation, be effective at fundraising, lead by example as a strong scholar, teacher and mentor, and represent the interests of the Department at all levels of the University. The successful candidate will administer a diverse unit with three undergraduate majors (political science, criminal justice and international studies), five graduate programs (MA, MPA, MSA, EMPA and Ph.D.), and several minors. Several programs are online with additional programs being considered for online delivery. The Department has a long and deep tradition of mentoring students, which is reflected in a strong and attentive base of alumni. That tradition has also resulted in the Department being especially well-endowed with scholarships, travel awards, and endowed professorships. The Farber Fund enables our students to study abroad, pursue language immersions, take internships, and participate in a multitude of domestic & international study tours, competitions and conferences. This is a 12 month appointment. Salary is competitive. Anticipated start date is August 22, 2017, although an earlier start date will be considered.

Applications must be submitted online at <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu> and should include 1) a cover letter explaining interest in the position; 2) curriculum vitae, and 3) contact information for four references. Additional information may be requested of finalists for the position. Review of applications will begin March 15, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions about the position may be addressed to:
John Dudley (John.Dudley@usd.edu) Chair, Political Science Search Committee,
College of Arts and Sciences
The University of South Dakota
414 E. Clark St.
Vermillion, SD 57069
605 677-5221.

For more information about the University, visit <http://www.usd.edu/>.

Diversity and inclusiveness are values that are embraced and practiced at the University of South Dakota. Candidates who support these values are encouraged to apply. The University of South Dakota is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2645

Idaho State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor, Political Science (1221)

Posting Number: req454

9 Month, Full-Time

College of Arts and Letters

Pocatello - Main

Primary Purpose

Tenure track appointment as Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science, College of Arts & Letters. Fields of focus include public administration and international relations and/or comparative politics. This appointment will begin Fall 2017. Located in Pocatello, Idaho, Idaho State University has an enrollment of more than 12,000 students. (Visit www.isu.edu for more information.) The Department of Political Science has one of the largest graduate programs in the College of Arts & Letters. Numerous outdoor recreational activities are popular in the region and the area is well known for mountain biking, hiking, fishing, rock climbing, kayaking, and skiing. Located in southeast Idaho, Pocatello is 2.5 hours or less by car to Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks, Sun Valley, Grand Targhee, Jackson Hole, and Salt Lake City. If you have questions, please contact the Department of Political Science, at 208-282-2211 or email at pols@isu.edu.

Key Responsibilities

The position carries a 3-3 teaching load of undergraduate and graduate courses. Faculty are expected to have an active research agenda and carry out service obligations.

Minimum Qualifications

A doctorate in Political Science, Public Administration or a related field is preferred but ABDs will be considered (a candidate would have to have their doctorate completed by August, 2017).

Preferred Qualifications

The ideal candidate would have expertise and be able to teach in two subfields: (1) public administration and (2) international relations and/or comparative politics. The ability to teach general courses in public administration, more specialized courses in financial administration and budgeting, politics and organization of NGOs, politics of developing areas, international sustainable development, and comparative public administration would be an asset. The candidate will also teach an introductory course.

Apply online at <https://isu.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?id=454>

Please submit the following documents with your application:

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter which specifically includes a teaching philosophy and a list of courses that the applicant could teach; curriculum vita that includes a sample of scholarly research and teaching evaluations; unofficial transcripts (official transcripts will be required of the successful applicant); as well as the names and contact information for three (3) professional references.

Priority consideration will be given to applications received by March 1, 2017. However, the position will remain open until filled. Salary will be commensurate with education and experience. Includes a competitive benefits package. Offers of employment may be conditional pending successful completion of a background investigation.

Idaho State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. We have an institution-wide commitment to inclusion and diversity and encourage all qualified individuals to apply. Veterans' preference. Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process will be provided to individuals with disabilities.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/zn8sc68d8b>

PI96795757

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/15/2017

Date Posted: 2/13/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2637

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Administration

Specializations: Urban Politics, Environmental Policy, Health Care

Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Administration

The School of Public Affairs (SPA) at Penn State Harrisburg invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of public policy and administration effective August 2017. The successful candidate will contribute to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program and the undergraduate Public Policy program, with the possibility of contributing to the PhD program in public administration. The SPA seeks a scholar with teaching interest and experience in a substantive public policy area (e.g., urban, environmental, health, transportation, welfare policy) and/or policy analysis and evaluation methods.

The successful applicant for this position should have an earned doctorate in Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related discipline and must provide evidence of, or potential for, an active research agenda. The J.D. is not a substitute for the doctoral degree and will not be considered a terminal degree for this position. The successful applicant must qualify for membership on the Graduate Faculty of The Pennsylvania State University: <http://www.gradschool.psu.edu/faculty-and-staff/faculty/criteria/>.

The MPA program, which is accredited by NASPAA, is designed for those with career interests in public management, health and human services, government, and other public service and nonprofit organizations. The program has a public policy/policy analysis component and is offered both in-residence and online. The undergraduate Public Policy program is designed for students interested in policy issues, politics, public administration, and related areas like policy analysis and policy advocacy. It prepares students for careers in the public sector, in government-related businesses, and in non-profit organizations, as well as for graduate work in the fields of law, public administration, criminal justice, public policy, political science, and health care administration.

The SPA offers additional undergraduate programs in Political Science, Criminal Justice, and Health Policy and Administration and additional masters programs in Criminal Justice, Health Administration, and Homeland Security. For more information on the School, its programs, and its faculty, visit our web site at <http://harrisburg.psu.edu/public-affairs>.

Penn State Harrisburg is part of The Pennsylvania State University, one of the largest and most widely recognized institutions of higher education in the nation. It is located in Pennsylvania's state capital region near the Penn State College of Medicine and Hershey Medical Center. It is within a two-three hour drive from metropolitan areas, including Baltimore, MD, Washington, D.C., New York City, and Philadelphia, PA. For information about Penn State Harrisburg, the School of Public Affairs, its programs, and its faculty, visit our web site at <https://harrisburg.psu.edu/>.

Applicants for the position should submit a letter of application indicating interest for the position and a curriculum vitae to <http://>

psu.jobs, job number 68968. Three letters of professional reference should also be submitted or emailed to katespa@psu.edu. Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Job URL: <http://apptrkr.com/953789>

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2608

York College of Pennsylvania

Rank: Post-Graduate Fellow and Visiting Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Research/Teaching Fellowship, Arthur J. Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy, York College

York College of Pennsylvania invites applications for the inaugural Fellow for its Arthur J. Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy.

A joint program of York College's Center for Community Engagement (CCE) and its Department of History and Political Science, the Institute for Public Policy will engage the Fellow and our students in the policymaking process by providing nonpartisan research to legislators at the City, County, and State levels of government. The Fellow will conduct research and work with advanced students to identify and define problems in the greater York community, develop policy approaches to solve those problems, and aim to achieve adoption and successful implementation of specific policy proposals via the Pennsylvania General Assembly and municipal jurisdictions in the South Central Pennsylvania region.

The appointee will hold the title of Fellow in the Center for Community Engagement and the rank of Visiting Instructor in the Department of History and Political Science. The fellowship will generally carry a two-year appointment, though in appropriate cases that time frame might be lengthened or shortened to accommodate a specific project. Among the duties of the fellow will be:

- Completing an appropriate research project or projects likely to be of interest to local residents, legislators, and civic/business leaders;
- Teaching one advanced course per semester;
- Delivering at least two public lectures for the local community;
- Disseminating the results of her/his research in appropriate scholarly and public venues;
- Collaborating with students and faculty in other appropriate York College programs such as the Center for Professional Excellence, the Graham and Eisenhart Scholars, and other CCE programming.

Funding will be provided for travel, speakers, and other appropriate initiatives of the Institute.

Requirements: The ideal candidate will hold a doctorate in a field directly related to public policy research (though ABD or MPP will be considered). The successful candidate will have a research agenda well-suited to studying local, regional, and state-level policy, and evidence of scholarly potential.

York College is committed to building a diverse college community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Interested candidates should electronically submit the following: a current curriculum vitae, letter of application, and names of three references to <http://ycp.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=76821>. Review of applications will begin immediately. While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, for full consideration, applications should be received by January 15, 2017.

York College of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. For a copy of York College's Annual Security Report, you may contact the Office of Campus Safety or visit the College's website and search for Annual Security Report.

About York College and the Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

York College of Pennsylvania (<http://www.ycp.edu>) is a private-sector, independent institution of higher education, offering over 50 baccalaureate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing. The College has an enrollment of over 4000 full time, over 500 part time undergraduate students and over 200 graduate students from 30 states and 12 foreign countries. The campus is located in South-Central Pennsylvania (50 miles north of Baltimore, MD, 30 miles south of Harrisburg, PA, and 90 miles north of Washington, DC) and offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits.

Though the Fellow will spend time on York College's main campus, the locus of the research and mentoring activities noted above would be housed in the CCE's headquarters in downtown York. The Institute for Public Policy is meant to be an objective, nonpartisan advocacy organization committed to the best practices in academic social science. The CCE hosts local government leaders, non-profit organizations, community groups, and other stakeholders, providing assistance in identifying and developing approaches to solving the community's most pressing problems. Under the guidance of the Fellow, the Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy will contribute to that mission through policy research.

The CCE's 20,000 square foot building at 59 East Market Street will open with Phase One mid-fall, 2016. Located across the street from the Yorktowne Hotel and adjacent to city, county, and state offices, the location is central to the downtown renaissance in Royal Square, the Arts District, and Central Market. This Center will be a hub for community education, meetings, and small conferences making it an ideal location for students and faculty engaged in policy research and analysis. This space will become a highly visible epicenter of policy activity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2506

University of Michigan, Flint

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The University of Michigan-Flint invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Public Administration to start Fall 2017. Areas of specialization are open but the candidate will be expected to teach one or more foundational courses in undergraduate and graduate public administration. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or Public Policy is required; ABD's whose degrees will be completed by September 2017 will be considered. The teaching load is 3/3. UM-Flint stresses excellence in teaching as well as scholarship/research. Further, it has been awarded the Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement and places high value on outreach. Candidates should submit evidence of promise as teacher/scholars and willingness to participate in civic engagement. Review of applications will start January 20th 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit: a cover letter outlining teaching and research interests/agenda, C.V., teaching evaluations (if available), names and contact information of three references and writing samples. Documents must be submitted electronically and addressed to: Dr. Kathryn Schellenberg, Search Committee Co-Chair at kathsch@umflint.edu.

http://careers.umich.edu/job\_detail/134911/assistant\_professor\_-\_public\_administration

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/19/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2498

Misericordia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government, Law, and National Security

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Misericordia University invites applications for a tenure-track position as assistant professor in the Government, Law, and National Security program starting August 2017. Offering the second largest major in the College of Arts and Sciences, the GLNS program is part of the university's Department of History and Government and seeks a specialist in American Government or American Politics. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or public administration is required; college teaching experience is strongly preferred and research output is expected.

The candidate will teach the following undergraduate courses in the growing Government, Law, and National Security Program: 1) The U.S. Homeland Security System 2) Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy and 3) U.S. Homeland Security Issues (focusing on areas of natural hazards, mitigation planning, emergency management, domestic intelligence, transportation security or border security). The candidate must be able to offer courses in the university's Core Curriculum, as well as upper-level courses in the major reflecting the candidate's teaching and research interests.

Misericordia University, a 92-year-old institution founded by the Sisters of Mercy, offering baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degrees, is located adjacent to the Pocono Mountains region of Northeastern Pennsylvania, approximately 2 hours from New York City and Philadelphia. The university's approach of combining a quality liberal arts education with professional preparation and service leadership has resulted in its wide regional acclaim.

Misericordia University is committed to student, faculty and staff diversity and values the educational benefit this brings to campus. Candidates should indicate any experience and/or leadership that contribute to this goal.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

For confidential consideration please enclose in your application package a letter of application which includes your telephone number and e-mail address, transcripts, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy and three letters of reference to: Misericordia University, Attention: Human Resources Department, 301 Lake Street, Dallas, Pennsylvania, 18612 or applications can be submitted online at www.misericordia.edu/hr.

URL to apply: https://workforcenow.adp.com/jobs/apply/posting.html?client=mucougars&jobId=43083&lang=en\_US&source=CC2

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/5/2016
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2454

University of South Alabama

Rank: Chair of the Department

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Public Administration

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Criminal Justice, Health Care

The Department of Political Science & Criminal Justice at the University of South Alabama invites applications for the position of Department Chair to begin August 15, 2017. The department offers undergraduate degrees in Political Science and Criminal Justice as well as a Master's in Public Administration. Highly qualified Associate and Full Professors with a Ph.D. in Political Science, Criminal Justice, or a closely related discipline from an accredited university will be considered for this position.

The ideal candidate will be an accomplished scholar, committed to excellence in research and teaching, have exceptional organizational and interpersonal skills, and possess the vision to lead a growing department. The abilities to collaborate effectively and advocate for program faculty and students are essential. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated administrative experience, but exceptional candidates lacking such experience who have a strong desire to transition to an administrative role are also encouraged to apply.

Applicants should apply at the following link and be prepared to attach a letter of application, a one-page statement of research interests, a brief description of teaching philosophy and proficiencies, a summary statement of leadership and administrative skills, current Curriculum Vitae, names of five references, and a sample of scholarly work. <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/usouthal/jobs/1588869/chair-and-assoc-or-full-professor> Upon request, applicants will arrange to have official transcripts and three letters of recommendation sent to the Chair of the Search Committee. Review of applications will begin December 12, 2016, and will continue until the position is filled. Information: <http://www.southalabama.edu/colleges/artsandsci/poliscie/jobs.html>

The position of Chair is a 12-month appointment. The ideal candidate will demonstrate the ability to contribute to existing programs and help develop new offerings. An appreciation for mixed methodology is preferred. The ideal candidate will provide transparency in budget and scheduling decisions and be able to highlight faculty and student successes, advocate for program faculty at the college and university levels, seek to increase faculty, majors, and department activities, and mentor junior faculty for success in tenure and promotion and mentor associate professors for promotion to full professor.

The Department of Political Science & Criminal Justice has 10 full-time faculty and more than 300 undergraduate majors and 40 graduate students. The department offers courses for four interdisciplinary programs within the College of Arts and Sciences: African American Studies, Forensic Science, Gender Studies, and International Studies. The department is also home to the USA Polling Group, a survey research center with a 10 station CATI lab that works with a variety of internal and external clients. Additionally, the department has a sizeable Masters in Public Administration (MPA) program and an active student body.

If you have questions about this position, the department, the University, or the area, please contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Elise Labbé-Coldsmith, at ELabbe@southalabama.edu.

The University of South Alabama is an EO/AA employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex (including pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expressions) religion, age, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2398

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Policy and Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration (PSPA) seeks applications for two tenure-track faculty positions in public administration and policy. We hope to select one assistant and one assistant/associate professor to begin August 16, 2017. Candidates should have primary research and teaching interests in public administration and policy with particular consideration given to well-qualified candidates specializing in public policy and program evaluation. Particular consideration will also be given to candidates with interest in assuming the role of Graduate Coordinator. A Ph.D. degree in public administration, public policy, or related fields is required at the time of appointment.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited MPPA, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research centers with the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, the Center for International Security and Strategic Studies, and the National Strategic Planning and Analysis Research Center. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Dr. Christine Rush, at crush@pspa.msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF #493904) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, current curriculum vita, and the names and contact information of three references. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to the following: Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin October 21, 2016, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2126

Norwich University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

The Department of History and Political Science at Norwich University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall 2017 semester. The successful candidate will teach and do research in the fields of American politics and public policy and will teach undergraduate courses in Intro to Public Policy, the survey course in American Politics, the U.S. Presidency, Legislative Process, State and Local Politics, Research Methods (with emphasis on quantitative methods), American Citizenship, and a Capstone Senior Seminar in the candidate's field of expertise. The successful candidate will also manage the Political Science Internship Program and facilitate the growth of public policy studies across the university. While a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, Norwich University is committed to junior faculty developing scholarship through a supportive faculty development program.

Qualifications: To be eligible for appointment at the assistant professor rank, candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a Ph.D in a public policy-related field. Highly qualified ABDs may be considered for appointment at the instructor level. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2016 and remain open until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of interest, which includes your preferred substantive American politics and public policy focus, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy): <https://norwich.interviewexchange.com>

Norwich University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to providing a positive education and work environment that recognizes and respects the dignity of all students, faculty and staff. Reasonable accommodations will be made for the known disability of an otherwise qualified applicant. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at nuhr@norwich.edu for assistance.

All candidates must be authorized to work for any U.S. employer. A post offer, pre-employment background check will be required of the successful candidate.

Norwich University offers a comprehensive benefit package that includes medical, dental, vision, group life and long term disability insurance, flexible-spending accounts for health and dependent care, 403(b) retirement plan with employer match, employee assistance program, paid time off including parental leave, and tuition scholarships for eligible employees and their family members.

Norwich University is a diversified academic institution that educates residential students - both military and civilian lifestyles - and working adults across the globe. Norwich offers a broad selection of traditional and distance-learning programs culminating in baccalaureate and master's degrees, and graduate certificates. Founded in 1819 by U.S. Army Capt. Alden Partridge, Norwich is the oldest private military college in the country and the birthplace of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC).

Norwich University takes positive action to insure that all applicants for employment are considered, and employees are treated in compliance with applicable laws and regulations governing non-discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, color, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, genetic information or veteran's status. As an institution of higher education, Norwich is dedicated to learning, emphasizing teamwork, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking and encourages applications from qualified individuals who will help us achieve this guiding value.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2124

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, South Asia

WINTHROP UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Sciences

Rock Hill, South Carolina 29733

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Open Field

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position.

The department welcomes applications in all subfields; however, we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: Comparative Politics (Middle East, Asia), Public Administration, Public Law, and/or American Institutions. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. Considered one of the strongest departments in the University, the Winthrop Political Science department boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching and research alike. The department is also home to a long-standing Model UN program, which just celebrated its 40th anniversary; the Social & Behavioral Research Laboratory, which is home to the renowned Winthrop Poll; and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in Political Science. Our areas of need include: Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, Politics of Asia, Public Administration, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Congress, The Presidency, Public Policy, Women and US Politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience and/or expertise in Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, and/or Politics of Asia
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to teach research methods or experience in public opinion polling a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement
- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring.
- Specialization in areas among those listed above.
- Evidence of excellence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning.
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication.
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above.

Employment Conditions: A 9-month full-time tenure-track appointment with option of summer employment if funds are available. Salary is dependent upon qualifications. Pending final budgetary approval.

Position Availability: August 16, 2017

Application Deadline: Friday, November 11, 2016. Application materials received after the deadline date may be considered if an acceptable candidate has not been found.

Application Procedures:

1. Applications should consist of:
  - letter of application, including a statement of “teaching philosophy,”
  - curriculum vitae,
  - sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length),
  - evidence of excellence and commitment to student learning,
  - three professional letters of reference,
  - all graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment).
2. If you are attending the Annual Meeting of The American Political Science Association (APSA) in Philadelphia from September 1-4, please email Department Chair Dr. Jennifer Leigh Disney (disneyj@winthrop.edu) to schedule a meeting at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service.

3. Applications may be submitted electronically to the following address:

PLSCJobs@winthrop.edu
 Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science
 346 Bancroft Hall
 Winthrop University
 Rock Hill, SC 29733
 (803) 323-2209

Winthrop University is a public, comprehensive university located in Rock Hill, SC, 30 minutes south of Charlotte, NC, that is among the very best institutions of our kind in the nation. Through an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement, Winthrop University helps students develop the knowledge, skills, and values that will enrich their lives forever and prepare them for all that the future holds. Winthrop University has 5,000 undergraduate students and 1,000 graduate students. We have a diverse student population, which is 69% women and 36% students of color, and we have a 14 to 1 student/faculty ratio. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 8/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1917

PUBLIC LAW

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: LEO Lecturer I

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science in the College of Literature, Science and Arts at the University of Michigan is seeking a LEO Lecturer I to teach two or four courses during the 2017-18 academic year: 2 courses in the Fall and 2 course in the Winter semester (applicant may apply for one or both semesters). The duration of this appointment would be from September 1, 2017 - December 31, 2017 for Fall Semester, or from January 1, 2018 - May 31, 2018 for Winter Semester, or from September 1, 2017 - May 31, 2018 for both Fall and Winter Semesters. The appointment effort will be 67% (two courses in one/each term).

Responsibilities*

Responsibilities for each position include course coordination and teaching four upper-level, undergraduate courses. In addition to classroom-teaching responsibilities, the instructor will hold office hours for students, provide appropriate syllabus and course materials electronically, attend regular course meetings, and handle routine course-related administrative matters.

Applicants should send a cover letter that describes two or four proposed courses, as well as a draft syllabus for each proposed course, and should indicate which semester if applying for one semester only. Applicants proposing courses in the following subject areas will be favored: Law and Public Policy (POLISCI 389); Law, Culture, and Rights (POLISCI 389); Race, Gender, and Law (POLISCI 496); and Human Rights Law (POLISCI 389). Applicants may propose one or more courses under these headings and/or (an) alternative(s) of the applicant's choosing, using the POLISCI 489 description below.

The search committee will favor applicants conducting independent research who are interested in participating in an ongoing law-and-politics/political theory workshop. Please address this interest in your cover letter, with some discussion of the independent research you are currently conducting. Likewise, applicants able to teach courses from a perspective informed by political science scholarship will be favored. Please indicate in your cover letter the range of political science literatures on which your courses draw.

POLISCI 489. An upper-level seminar examining an advanced topic in law, courts, and politics. Area of focus is contingent on instructor's expertise; the course should explore legal themes from a context animated by central questions in political science or a related law-and-politics field of study.

Required Qualifications*

Candidates must have a Ph.D. or advanced graduate training in political science or related discipline, preferably in the area of law and politics.

Union Affiliation

This position is covered under the collective bargaining agreement between the U-M and the Lecturers Employee Organization, AFL-CIO, which contains and settles all matters with respect to wages, benefits, hours and other terms and conditions of employment.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Selection Process

Applications will be selected based upon demonstrated subject matter expertise, successful performance in the classroom, ability to complete administrative tasks competently, and the needs of the department.

U-M EEO/AA Statement

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

How to Apply

To review posting and apply, go to umjobs.org. Apply to posting 137399.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/10/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2623

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for three full-time Lecturer positions to begin Fall 2017, pending budgetary approval. Lecturers at Georgia State University are full-time non-tenure track faculty with both teaching and service requirements, as well as the opportunity for promotion. Successful candidates will have experience at delivering high quality instruction to undergraduates. They will also have experience and interest in working closely with students of varied backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning. Enrolling one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, Georgia State University has been recognized for providing an outstanding education and exceptional support for students from all backgrounds. Women and minorities are especially encouraged to apply.

Position 1: Candidates for this position should be able to teach Intro to American Government, both online and in large in-person sections. Additional expertise and interest in teaching Intro to Research Methods is preferred.

Position 2: Candidates for this position should be able to teach Intro to American Government as well as Classical to Early Modern Political Thought and Modern Political Thought. In addition, ability to teach Global Issues will be viewed favorably.

Position 3: Candidates for this position should be able to teach courses in our pre-law concentration, including Judicial Process, Civil Liberties and Rights, Intro to American Law, and American Constitutional Law. Additional expertise and interest in teaching Intro to Research Methods is preferred. Candidates able to serve as pre-law advisor are preferred.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in hand by August 2017. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Georgia State University is a unit of the University System of Georgia, is an equal opportunity institution, and an EEO/AA employer. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification. Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, sample teaching materials, any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness, and original transcript(s). Please submit all materials electronically to pols-search@gsu.edu. Please be sure to identify for which of the three positions you wish to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2613

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence & Social Thought

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, International Law & Organizations, Life Sciences & Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a one-year visiting appointment for the 2017-2018 academic year. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, ability, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is interdisciplinary, and focuses on one or more of the following areas: legal history; global legality; post colonialism; law and literature; or constitutional interpretation. The position requires a Ph.D. or a J.D.

Applicants should submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/40061> a cover letter addressed to Professor Adam Sitze, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college for men and women, with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages women, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: 3/1/2017

Date Posted: 1/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2524

California State University, Chico

Rank: Assistant Professor of Legal Studies

Assistant Professor of Legal Studies
Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice

California State University, Chico is committed to achieving the goals of equal opportunity and endeavors to employ faculty and staff of the highest quality reflecting the ethnic and cultural diversity of the state. We are committed to achieving excellence through diversity in the classroom and the workplace. We strive to establish a climate that welcomes, celebrates, and promotes respect for the contributions of all students, faculty, and staff

The Position: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track position in legal studies at the Assistant Professor level. The position begins August 2017.

Minimum Qualifications: The minimum requirements for appointment to this position are: a Bachelor's degree, a Juris Doctor (J.D.) from an accredited law school, current membership in the State of California Bar or membership within one year of the start of employment, ability to teach courses in clinical legal education (i.e., Community Legal Information Center) and courses in the Legal Studies program, as well as the capacity to engage in publishable academic and/or legal/professional research.

Preferred Qualifications: Preference will be given to applicants with any of the following: legal clinical experience, paralegal supervision, experience in practicing law, teaching experience, law review participation and/or additional degrees, such as a L.L.M. or Ph.D. In addition to teaching courses in clinical legal education, other primary teaching responsibilities may include courses in any one of the following areas: constitutional law, criminal law and procedure, civil litigation, introduction to legal studies, alternative dispute resolution, administrative law, and moot court.

Responsibilities: This tenure-track position carries responsibilities in the areas of teaching, scholarship, and service to the Department and University. Teaching assignments are based upon qualifications of the individual and the needs of the department.

Salary: Salary commensurate with education and experience.

The Department: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice offers undergraduate degrees in political science (including an option in legal studies), criminal justice, international relations, and public administration, as well as Masters degrees in political science and public administration. We have an exciting curriculum, with numerous options to meet a host of academic interests, and an active and productive faculty committed to excellence in teaching and scholarship. Over 1,000 students major in our department's programs. Additional information about our Department is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/pols/>. Additional information about the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/bss/index.shtml>.

The Legal Studies Program: The Legal Studies Program within the Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice includes an active moot court program, a paralegal certificate program, and the Community Legal Information Center (CLIC). Founded in 1969, CLIC is an extensive undergraduate law clinic designed to benefit participating students by providing hands-on legal training and active learning experiences. CLIC also provides a unique civic engagement program that helps serve the legal service needs of Northern California. Additional information about the Legal Studies Program is available at: <http://www.csuchico.edu/pols/undergraduate/legalStudies.shtml>

Closing Date: Review of applications will begin on February 6, 2017, and continue until the position is filled.

How to Apply: All applicants must apply online at: <http://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/4054>

Complete online applications must include: curriculum vitae or resume, cover letter, complete set of undergraduate and law school transcripts, and teaching evaluations if available. Three letters of recommendation are also required and should be submitted to the Search Committee Chair.

Job-related questions and letters of recommendation should be directed to:

Dr. Mahalley Allen, Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice
California State University, Chico
Chico, CA 95929-0455
mdallen@csuchico.edu , 530-898-6506

An annual security report disclosing crime statistics for California State University, Chico can be obtained by contacting the Chico State University Police Department (530-898-5555) or by accessing the following website: www.csuchico.edu/up/clery\_report.shtml

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position. For disability related accommodations please call the ADA Coordinator at (530) 898-5959.

CSU, Chico is an Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status and only employ individuals authorized to work in the U.S.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/15/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2494

Schreiner University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Schreiner University welcomes applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a tenure-track faculty position beginning August 2017. The successful candidate will teach the basic introduction to American Politics course and a variety of courses in American politics (e.g. Presidency, Congress, Legislative Process, Public Policy, Public Administration, Media and Politics, Judicial process, etc.). Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate experience in working with pre-law majors. The successful candidate will also have an active research agenda (area of specialization is open). Responsibilities include teaching, advising, and participation in curricular development and assessment. The successful candidate will be expected to participate fully in departmental duties, committee service, campus activities, and engage in scholarship and/or creative activities aligned with institutional goals. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester.

Qualifications: An earned doctorate in political science, ABD with completion no later than August 2017. Teaching experience at the collegiate level is preferred.

Schreiner University is a small liberal arts college in the Texas Hill Country (approximately 1 hour from San Antonio and 2 hours from Austin). Schreiner University is a Hispanic-serving institution, an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is strongly and actively committed to diversity within its community.

The employment application can be found at the link below. Candidates should include in their application a cover letter, CV, list of three references, and course evaluations if available.

<http://www.schreiner.edu/about/hr/application/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2278

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics--Public Law

POSITION: Assistant Professor of American Politics—Public Law

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 21, 2017 (Fall Semester)

SALARY RANGE: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Political Science or in appropriate related discipline. Degree at time of application, or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2017. Specialization in Public Law, Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, or Law & Society. Teaching experience or evidence of strong potential for effective teaching. Demonstrated potential for successful research and publication. Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Specialization in one or more of the following: American law and courts, legal mobilization, rights advocacy and discourse, judicial process, or judicial behavior. Candidates with Juris Doctorate degrees in addition to the Ph.D. are encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates who are able to connect their specific areas of interest with broader questions within political science, such as the impact of economic, racial, ethnic, and gender inequality on democratic governance; the capacity of the American political system to deal effectively with economic and environmental challenges; or the relationship between American civil liberties and philosophies of social justice.

DUTIES: Teach courses in American politics at the undergraduate and graduate levels, which may include: Introduction to American Government; How Democratic is the U.S.?; Constitutional Law; Law and Social Change; Jurisprudence; Senior Seminar in Law, Politics, and Policy; Scope and Methods of Political Science; and Graduate Seminar in Public Law. Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication. Participate in service to the department, college, university and community. Advise students, serve as a member of Master's thesis and comprehensive exam committees.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION:

- A Student Success Statement about teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page)
- Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications and duties
- CV (including current email address)
- Three current signed academic letters of recommendation
- Writing sample
- Teaching evaluations
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
- Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form and an official transcript.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Applications and required documentation should be submitted through AcademicJobsOnline.com (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/7652>; position #7652). Application materials will not be accepted via post or e-mail.

Requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications to begin October 10, 2016

Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identification, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, political affiliation, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2016

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 1921

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, South Asia

WINTHROP UNIVERSITY

College of Arts & Sciences

Rock Hill, South Carolina 29733

VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

TITLE: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science, Department of Political Science, Open Field

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position. The department welcomes applications in all subfields; however, we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: Comparative Politics (Middle East, Asia), Public Administration, Public Law, and/or American Institutions. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. Considered one of the strongest departments in the University, the Winthrop Political Science department boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching and research alike. The department is also home to a long-standing Model UN program, which just celebrated its 40th anniversary; the Social & Behavioral Research Laboratory, which is home to the renowned Winthrop Poll; and the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in Political Science. Our areas of need include: Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, Politics of Asia, Public Administration, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Congress, The Presidency, Public Policy, Women and US Politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching experience and/or expertise in Comparative Politics, Politics of the Middle East, and/or Politics of Asia
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to teach research methods or experience in public opinion polling a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement

- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring.
- Specialization in areas among those listed above.
- Evidence of excellence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning.
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication.
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above.

Employment Conditions: A 9-month full-time tenure-track appointment with option of summer employment if funds are available. Salary is dependent upon qualifications. Pending final budgetary approval.

Position Availability: August 16, 2017

Application Deadline: Friday, November 11, 2016. Application materials received after the deadline date may be considered if an acceptable candidate has not been found.

Application Procedures:

1. Applications should consist of:
  - letter of application, including a statement of "teaching philosophy,"
  - curriculum vitae,
  - sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length),
  - evidence of excellence and commitment to student learning,
  - three professional letters of reference,
  - all graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment).
2. If you are attending the Annual Meeting of The American Political Science Association (APSA) in Philadelphia from September 1-4, please email Department Chair Dr. Jennifer Leigh Disney (disneyj@winthrop.edu) to schedule a meeting at the APSA Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service.

3. Applications may be submitted electronically to the following address:

PLSCJobs@winthrop.edu
 Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science
 346 Bancroft Hall
 Winthrop University
 Rock Hill, SC 29733
 (803) 323-2209

Winthrop University is a public, comprehensive university located in Rock Hill, SC, 30 minutes south of Charlotte, NC, that is among the very best institutions of our kind in the nation. Through an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement, Winthrop University helps students develop the knowledge, skills, and values that will enrich their lives forever and prepare them for all that the future holds. Winthrop University has 5,000 undergraduate students and 1,000 graduate students. We have a diverse student population, which is 69% women and 36% students of color, and we have a 14 to 1 student/faculty ratio. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 8/28/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1917

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory/Law

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in Political Theory and/or Law at the rank of assistant professor. The position requires outstanding research, classroom teaching, and service to the College and the profession. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or evidence of substantial progress toward a Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and, if available, evidence of excellence in teaching. Dartmouth College combines a commitment to innovative scholarship with dedication to excellent teaching.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/36690> To guarantee full consideration, all materials should be uploaded and available for review by September 7, 2016. Questions may be sent to: government.department@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1793

PUBLIC POLICY

University of California, Davis

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

UC CENTER SACRAMENTO:
VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR FOR ACADEMIC YEAR
2017-2018

The UC Center Sacramento (UCCS) is pleased to announce a one-year Visiting Assistant Professorship for 2017-2018 in American Politics and Public Policy. We welcome new or recent Ph.D. scholars with an interest in California state politics and policy. Degree must be completed by July 1, 2017.

The University of California Center, Sacramento (UCCS) is a system-wide program of the University of California. Since its inception in 2004, the program has offered UC students from across the 10-campus system opportunities to study public policy and journalism through seminars and internships in and around the state Capitol. The Center also serves as a conduit through which research-based knowledge generated on the 10 campuses is disseminated to lawmakers, legislative staff, and executive branch officials.

The Visiting Assistant Professor will be responsible for teaching Political Science undergraduate courses as well as performing administrative duties assigned as part of the UCCS leadership team. Duties include teaching four undergraduate courses per year, and in addition, to contribute materially towards the Center's mission to increase student and alumni outreach, enhance the student experience, and expand the Center's research and knowledge sharing function. The appointment will be housed at UCCS located in Sacramento, California.

The UCCS Visiting Assistant Professor salary is competitive and includes health benefits.

In evaluating the candidates, the following criteria will be used: coursework and demonstrated knowledge of American Politics and public policy; quality of the graduate training program; demonstration of teaching ability; letters of recommendation; ability to complete degree before appointment; and interview. An acquaintance with California politics and policy making is considered advantageous.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, CV, teaching evaluations, statement on teaching, writing sample, and three letters of reference through the online application form found at <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01470>. For full consideration applications must be received by April 1, 2017. The position is open until filled.

The University of California is an equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 4/1/2017

Date Posted: 2/23/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2657

University of Oxford

Rank: Post-doctoral Research Fellow- From Conflict Actors to Architects of Peace: Promoting Human Security in Colombia and Internationally

Subfield(s): International Relations, Other, Public Policy

Specializations: Latin American, International Security, Conflict Processes

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Oxford is looking for a Post-doctoral Research Fellow to join a research team to work on an exciting new project directed by Dr Annette Idler, and supported by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO).

The project "From Conflict Actors to Architects of Peace: Promoting Human Security in Colombia and Internationally" explores the changes to the security landscape that accompany transitions from war to peace. In particular, it examines (i) how the reshuffling of violent non-state groups that occurs during such transitions affects conflict, security, order and governance; (ii) the implications for ethics and norms when the line between armed conflict and organised crime is blurred; and (iii) how historical turning points such as the end of Colombia's armed conflict with the FARC fit within broader geopolitical shifts, and the world's evolving security landscape. The project applies academic research to explore how Colombia's security architecture needs to adapt and respond to a changing context in order to promote human security, both in Colombia and internationally.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage in advanced independent and collaborative research in the field of ethics, norms and law in settings of armed conflict and organised crime with a focus on Colombia and its international context. S/he will also be expected to publish research of an internationally excellent standard, and to participate fully in the research life of the Department and the Changing Character of War (CCW) Programme.

The post holder's duties will include assisting the Project Director in the academic and practical organisation of two fora to be held in Oxford in June 2017 and June 2018; to assist with publications in the aftermath of the fora and with the development of plans for the extension and consolidation of a research programme on the nexus of armed conflict and organised crime in Oxford. The successful candidate will hold a doctorate in the field of ethics and law in armed conflict, or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant subject. Applicants should have previous experience of contributing to publications in the field of ethics and law in armed conflict and excellent administration and communication skills. Experience of engaging with defence and security-related practitioners and policymakers is highly desirable.

This post is offered on a full-time basis, for a fixed-term period until 15 August 2018, to commence 1 April 2017 or as soon as possible thereafter. Further duties and skills required are described in more detail in the further particulars.

Please direct enquiries about the role to Dr Annette Idler in the Politics and International Relations Department (annette.idler@politics.ox.ac.uk).

To apply for this role and for further details, please follow the link: <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancies-and-jobs.html>.

Applications for this vacancy are to be made online, quoting reference 127406.

Closing date for applications is noon (UK time) on Friday 17 March 2017.

The University of Oxford is an Equal Opportunities Employer

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: 3/17/2017

Date Posted: 2/22/2017

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 2653

Columbia University

Rank: Professor (Open Rank)

Specializations: International Security, Intelligence, Foreign Policy

Professor (open rank)

International security policy and strategic studies

School of International and Public Affairs

Columbia University

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) invites applications for a professor (at any rank) in international security policy and strategic studies to begin July 2017 (or as soon thereafter as possible).

Ph.D. required. Candidates will be expected to sustain an active research and publication agenda and teach in graduate programs. Senior candidates must have a distinguished publication record.

Applicants should be qualified to teach some combination of courses on military operations, strategy and technology, arms control, weapons of mass destruction, regional security issues, terrorism and unconventional warfare, intelligence, or defense economics and program analysis. Research interests should be policy-relevant. Related experience in government service or policy analysis organizations is a plus. The person hired will participate in the activities of SIPA master's degree concentration in International Security Policy.

Please visit our online application site at:

<https://academicjobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=64104>

for further information about this position and to submit your application.

Screening of the candidates will begin immediately and the search will remain open no less than 30 days from the date of posting. For further information, please contact Joe Chartier, Academic Department Administrator, School of International and Public Affairs, at jc3317@columbia.edu.

SIPA brings together an interdisciplinary faculty to conduct research in policy-related fields and train students at the master's and doctoral level for careers in global public policy.

The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of SIPA's academic community. Applications from women and underrepresented minorities are strongly encouraged.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2633

University of Tennessee

Rank: Associate Director, Howard H. Baker, Jr. Center for Public Policy - 1700000061

Associate Director, Howard H. Baker, Jr. Center for Public Policy - 1700000061

Description

Regular Full-time, Salary DOE&Q

The Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy, a non-partisan research and education policy center at the University of Tennessee with focal areas in Energy and Environment, Global Security and Leadership and Governance, seeks applications for the non-tenure-track position of Associate Director.

Responsibilities include coordination and cultivation of leadership programs and student engagement initiatives, mentoring, instruction in government/public policy, design and management of all public programs and events, marketing and communications, staff oversight, and pursuit of external funding opportunities. The Associate Director assumes primary responsibility for the Center's Leadership and Governance program. Candidates should have a passion for government, civic education, public policy and bipartisan civility, the legacy of the late Sen. Howard H. Baker, Jr.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent is required.

Preference will be given to candidates with a background in public policy and experiences in academia, think tanks and the public sector.

Interested candidates should electronically submit a cover letter, curriculum vita and the names of three references. Review of applications will commence immediately.

To see the complete job description and to apply, please visit: https://ut.taleo.net/careersection/ut\_knoxville/jobdetail.ft?job=1700000061

The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University. The University of Tennessee is an EEO/AA/Title VI/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA institution in the provision of its education and employment programs and services. All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, or covered veteran status.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/kcr5g9sxdy>

PI96762076

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/10/2017

Date Posted: 2/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2626

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Administration

Specializations: Urban Politics, Environmental Policy, Health Care

Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Administration

The School of Public Affairs (SPA) at Penn State Harrisburg invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of public policy and administration effective August 2017. The successful candidate will contribute to the Master of Public Administration (MPA) program and the undergraduate Public Policy program, with the possibility of contributing to the PhD program in public administration. The SPA seeks a scholar with teaching interest and experience in a substantive public policy area (e.g., urban, environmental, health, transportation, welfare policy) and/or policy analysis and evaluation methods.

The successful applicant for this position should have an earned doctorate in Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related discipline and must provide evidence of, or potential for, an active research agenda. The J.D. is not a substitute for the doctoral degree and will not be considered a terminal degree for this position. The successful applicant must qualify for membership on the Graduate Faculty of The Pennsylvania State University: <http://www.gradschool.psu.edu/faculty-and-staff/faculty/criteria/>.

The MPA program, which is accredited by NASPAA, is designed for those with career interests in public management, health and human services, government, and other public service and nonprofit organizations. The program has a public policy/policy analysis component and is offered both in-residence and online. The undergraduate Public Policy program is designed for students interested in policy issues, politics, public administration, and related areas like policy analysis and policy advocacy. It prepares students for careers in the public sector, in government-related businesses, and in non-profit organizations, as well as for graduate work in the fields of law, public administration, criminal justice, public policy, political science, and health care administration.

The SPA offers additional undergraduate programs in Political Science, Criminal Justice, and Health Policy and Administration and additional masters programs in Criminal Justice, Health Administration, and Homeland Security. For more information on the School, its programs, and its faculty, visit our web site at <http://harrisburg.psu.edu/public-affairs>.

Penn State Harrisburg is part of The Pennsylvania State University, one of the largest and most widely recognized institutions of higher education in the nation. It is located in Pennsylvania's state capital region near the Penn State College of Medicine and Hershey Medical Center. It is within a two-three hour drive from metropolitan areas, including Baltimore, MD, Washington, D.C., New York City, and Philadelphia, PA. For information about Penn State Harrisburg, the School of Public Affairs, its programs, and its faculty, visit our web site at <https://harrisburg.psu.edu/>.

Applicants for the position should submit a letter of application indicating interest for the position and a curriculum vitae to <http://psu.jobs>, job number 68968. Three letters of professional reference should also be submitted or emailed to katespa@psu.edu. Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Job URL: <http://apptrkr.com/953789>

Start Date: Spring 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2608

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral/Postgraduate Associate in Policy Research

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Criminal Justice, Education Policy, Economic Policy

Research- and Policy-Related Opportunity at the Policy Lab at the Yale University Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS)

Professors Jacob Hacker and Andrew Papachristos seek a postdoctoral associate/postgraduate associate in policy research for a one-year, full-time appointment starting in August 2017 (or earlier, depending on availability). The position is for a researcher with interests in domestic policy-related domains (especially, criminal justice, education, and economic inequality) with a desire to help develop new collaborative educational and research opportunities for Yale undergraduate and graduate students at ISPS. In addition to pursuing his or her own individual research agenda, the successful candidate's responsibilities will include assisting Professors Hacker and Papachristos in the development of a new collaborative research-policy initiative; mentoring undergraduate and graduate researchers and undergraduate interns; and working with city-, state- and occasionally national-level policy makers. Technical skills—such as statistical and computer skills and understanding of social science methods—are highly desirable. Excellent organizational and project management skills are a must. Applicants should have a Ph.D. or equivalent professional degree. Outstanding candidates with a masters in public policy and/or administration will be considered as well.

Review of applications will commence on March 1, 2017, and will continue until a successful candidate is identified. Applicants are asked to prepare PDF files that contain a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references (who would be contacted during the final stage of consideration). Please apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/8860>.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

More information at <http://policylab.yale.edu/> or <http://isps.yale.edu/>.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2601

University of Texas, San Antonio

Rank: Cybersecurity and National or International Security Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT SAN ANTONIO

Department of Political Science and Geography

Position Announcement

Open Rank (Tenured or Tenure-track)

Cybersecurity and National or International Security Policy

The Department of Political Science and Geography at The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position (Open Rank) in cybersecurity and national or international security, global affairs, and governance to begin Fall 2017.

Required Qualifications: All applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a directly related discipline by August 31, 2017. Applicants must have a track record of scholarship, publications, and/or research funding relating to cybersecurity. We are especially interested in candidates who link cybersecurity to broader social, political, economic, and policy questions in the contexts of national and/or international security. The position is part of a cross-disciplinary, campus-wide initiative in the area of cybersecurity. The successful candidate will demonstrate an ability to collaborate on research and grant applications with faculty in Computer Science, Engineering, and UTSA's highly regarded Cyber Security Program. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester in the Political Science Department's proposed graduate program in Global Affairs and/or traditional undergraduate or graduate classroom courses in Political Science and Global Affairs. The successful applicant will be expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses on topics such as Politics and Cyber-Security, New Global Threats, and Global or National Security Policy. Scholars doing cross-disciplinary research in applied cyber security research are encouraged to apply but an applicant's primary field must be Political Science or a closely related discipline. Applicants must demonstrate potential for research publication and a strong potential to attract external funding, and have a strong theoretical grounding in national or international security.

All applicants must provide evidence of scholarly and professional publications commensurate with the rank for which the applicant is applying. All applicants should also provide, if possible, some representative evidence of high-quality teaching – ideally in courses that address cyber security in the context of national or international security, global affairs and governance. Applicants must also be willing to teach a range of courses in international relations or global affairs.

To be considered at the tenure-track Assistant Professor level, successful applicants must be able to articulate a research agenda and have an emerging record of publications, excellent teaching skills, and a commitment to service.

To be considered at the tenured Associate Professor level, successful applicants must have an established research agenda, a strong record of publications, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

To be considered at the tenured Full Professor level, successful applicants must be recognized authorities in their respective fields of specialization and have excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications: Applicants at the Full or Associate Professor levels should demonstrate an ability to acquire external funding. Preference will also be given to candidates who can teach courses in traditional and emerging sub-fields of political science and international relations/global affairs, and/or in such areas as environmental governance, law and institutions, compliance, and/or transnationalism.

Responsibilities: Teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students; pursue an active research and publishing agenda; and serve the University, profession, and community.

All information and materials associated with an application for this position must be sent electronically through <https://jobs.utsa.edu/>. In PDF format, applicants should submit the following items electronically:

1. Letter of application that states the rank for which the candidate is applying, research interests, teaching experiences, and qualifications for the position;
2. Current curriculum vita;
3. Copy of all graduate transcripts;
4. Samples of written or published scholarly work (no more than three);
5. Two representative samples of syllabi for courses taught or proposed by the applicant;
6. Teaching evaluations (if available or other evidence of course instruction evaluation);
7. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three references who are familiar with the applicant's scholarship and/or teaching and can be contacted to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer, it is the policy of The University of Texas at San Antonio to promote and ensure equal employment opportunity for all individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or veteran status. The University is committed to the Affirmative Action Program in compliance with all government requirements to ensure nondiscrimination. The UTSA campus is accessible to persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2597

Oberlin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics/ Quantitative Policy Analysis Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a post-doctoral faculty position in quantitative policy analysis in the College of Arts and Sciences. Appointment is for the 2017-18 academic year. This is a non-continuing position.

The incumbent will teach one course per semester in the quantitative analysis of public policy with at least some emphasis on American politics, help direct a series of guest scholars/policy practitioners, and mentor students interested in policy analysis.

To be assured consideration, submit a letter of application, a CV, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a writing sample, and at least three recent reference letters to <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/> by February 15, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2577

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Assistant Professor-Public Policy

University of Texas at Austin: Public Policy – The Department of Government invites applications for a tenure-track position in public policy at the rank of assistant professor. The search is open to scholars working in any subfield specialty within public policy, including American and comparative public policy, federalism/state and regional politics, bureaucratic politics, policy history, and policy and political institutions. Applications from candidates with strong methodological skills are especially welcome. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor. Duties include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The department will start reviewing applications on March 1, 2017. To get full consideration applications should be submitted no later than March 15, 2017. Applicants should submit a vitae, transcripts, three letters of recommendation, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials. Apply through Interfolio here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/40314>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 3/15/2017

Date Posted: 1/25/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2569

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Rowan University is a comprehensive state-designated research institution with approximately 16,000 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20-miles southeast of Philadelphia, and it has a branch campus and medical school in Camden and a second medical school in nearby Stratford. Rowan is one of two universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical-degree programs. The School of Osteopathic Medicine has a faculty practice plan that serves approximately 200,000 patients throughout Southern New Jersey. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. The University boasts seven colleges--William G. Rohrer College of Business, Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering and colleges of Communications and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics. Rowan has been recognized as one of the Top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked 3rd among public institutions in the North by US News & World Report.

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in Fall 2017. The position is open to candidates specializing in public policy, public administration, or a related field. Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and will be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship at the pre-tenure level.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Applicants should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2017. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by February 17, 2017. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://rowanuniversity.hodesiq.com/job-details.aspx?jobid=5392388>

Submit a cover letter, a C.V., unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.

All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2017
Application Deadline: 2/17/2017
Date Posted: 1/19/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2553

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate

Duke University, with generous support from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, is seeking a one-year Postdoctoral Associate to participate in a year-long Mellon Sawyer Seminar on the theme of "Corporate Rights and International Law: Past, Present, and Future." The seminar is jointly hosted by the Department of History, the School of Law, and the John Hope Franklin Humanities Institute, though is broadly interdisciplinary in nature and open to scholars working in any field(s) of the humanities and social sciences. The successful candidate's area of research should engage themes related to the seminar, which emphasize humanistic approaches to subjects such as (but not limited to) the history of global or transnational corporations, international regulatory regimes, theories of corporate personhood and sovereignty, the private/public divide, and/or the relationship between corporate enterprise and human rights.

Eligibility: Applicants must have or will have completed the Ph.D. or JD degree between July 1, 2014 and July 1, 2017.

Appointment and Salary: The position will run from July 1, 2017 through June 30, 2018. The fellow will receive a salary of be $47,500, as well as an additional $3,000 in research and professional travel support. The fellow is expected to be in residence at Duke during the term of the fellowship and to take active part in the Sawyer Seminar, including attendance and participation in events with visiting scholars and speakers, as well as co-teaching, with the seminar conveners, an advanced graduate course to run concurrently with the Seminar.

Application and Notification Schedule: We will begin reviewing materials on Monday, February 20, 2017. Incomplete submissions will not be accepted. Notifications will be made on or around March 15, 2017.

Required Application Materials:

- As one .pdf:
- Cover letter, describing applicant's research agenda and relevance to fellowship themes
- Curriculum vitae

- Publication or writing sample of no more than 8,000 words
- Three confidential letters of recommendation, submitted separately

Please email application materials, using the subject "Sawyer Seminar Postdoctoral Fellowship" to:

Ali Prince, Sawyer Seminar Assistant
 ali.prince@law.duke.edu
 919.613.7187

Start Date: Summer 2017
Application Deadline: 2/20/2017
Date Posted: 1/17/2017
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 2542

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public/Nonprofit Management

Assistant Professor in Public/Nonprofit Management
 Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs
 University of Missouri-Columbia

The Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs seeks applications and nominations for a tenure-track position as assistant professor with teaching and research interests in public management or nonprofit management. Primary responsibilities of the position include:

- 1) Conducting a program of research leading to scholarly publications
- 2) Teaching graduate courses in the MPA and Ph.D. programs
- 3) Participating in outreach and public service activities as well as internal service

The typical distribution of responsibilities is forty percent teaching, forty percent research, and twenty percent service.

Applicants for this position are expected to demonstrate high potential for scholarly research and publication as well as teaching excellence. An earned doctorate (discipline open) is required at the time of appointment.

The University of Missouri-Columbia is a member of the Association of American Universities and is classified by the Carnegie Foundation as a Doctoral/Research Extensive Institution. The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

The Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs is one of fourteen schools and colleges at the University of Missouri-Columbia. The Truman School has an outstanding multidisciplinary faculty, including numerous joint appointments across the university, and houses several research centers and institutes. The University is an equal opportunity/access/affirmative action/pro-disabled and veteran employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. To request ADA accommodation, please contact the Disability Inclusion and ADA Compliance Manager at (573) 884-7278 or ada@missouri.edu.

Apply on-line at <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/index.php>. Upload CV and cover letter in the Resume/CV & Cover Letter section as one document. Include a list of names and contact information for three to four references in the uploaded document. Please contact Dr. Alasdair Roberts, Search Committee Chair, robertsas@missouri.edu, for questions about the position.

Screening will begin February 1, 2017, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>

Diversity Commitment

The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri is an equal access, equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is fully committed to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status. For more information, call the Associate Vice Chancellor of Human Resource Services/Affirmative Action officer at 573-882-4256.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Disability Inclusion and ADA Compliance Manager at 573-884-7278.

EEO IS THE LAW

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

EEO is the Law English Version

EEO is the Law Spanish Version

EEO is the Law Chinese Version

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/10/2017

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 2529

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor (Open Field)
Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs
University of Missouri-Columbia

The Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs seeks applications for a non-tenure track

Visiting Assistant Professor position for the 2017-2018 academic year. Applicants may have teaching and research interests in any area of public policy or public management. Primary responsibilities of the position include teaching graduate courses in the MPA and Ph.D. programs, and conducting a program of research leading to scholarly publications.

This is a term appointment that may be renewable based on satisfactory performance. An earned doctorate in public policy, public affairs, public administration, political science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment.

The University of Missouri-Columbia is a member of the Association of American Universities and is classified by the Carnegie Foundation as a Doctoral/Research

Extensive Institution. The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

The Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs is one of sixteen schools and colleges at the University of Missouri-Columbia. The Truman School has an outstanding multidisciplinary faculty, including numerous joint appointments across the university, and houses several research centers and institutes. The University is an equal opportunity/access/affirmative action/pro-disabled and veteran employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. To request ADA accommodation, please contact the Disability Inclusion and ADA Compliance Manager at (573) 884-7278 or ada@missouri.edu.

Qualifications:

Applicants for this position are expected to demonstrate a strong record of scholarly research and publication as well as teaching excellence. An earned doctorate in a relevant discipline is required at the time of appointment.

Salary Range: $60,000 - $70,000

Application Materials:

Apply on-line at <http://hrs.missouri.edu/find-a-job/academic/index.php>. Upload CV and cover letter in the Resume/CV & Cover Letter section as one document. Include a list of names and contact information for three to four references in the uploaded document. Please contact Dr. Alasdair Roberts, Search Committee Chair, robertsas@missouri.edu, for questions about the position Application Deadline: Screening will begin February 1, 2017, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>

Diversity Commitment

The University of Missouri is fully committed to achieving the goal of a diverse and inclusive academic community of faculty, staff and students. We seek individuals who are committed to this goal and our core campus values of respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri is an equal access, equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is fully committed to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status. For more information, call the Associate Vice Chancellor of Human Resource Services/Affirmative Action officer at 573-882-4256.

To request ADA accommodations, please call the Disability Inclusion and ADA Compliance Manager at 573-884-7278.

EEO IS THE LAW

To read more about Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) please use the following links:

EEO is the Law English Version

EEO is the Law Spanish Version

EEO is the Law Chinese Version

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/10/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 2530

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor - Policy Ethics

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) anticipates four tenure-track positions beginning in fall 2017. Two positions are at the level of Assistant Professor in the area of decision sciences. The other two positions are open rank and in the areas of (a) ethical or political theory and public policy, and (b) research methodology leveraging the NSF's Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) initiative. Applicants for all positions are expected to demonstrate a record predictive of future scholarly productivity, potential and commitment to develop and sustain a nationally competitive program of research with implications for public policy, capability and commitment to contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs and a doctoral degree or equivalent. The Hobby School emphasizes multidisciplinary collaboration and affiliation. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply, as are those with interest in working with diverse populations.

Decision sciences faculty — from a variety of disciplines including disciplines not usually associated with policy schools such as business, computer science, and industrial engineering — will apply state-of-the-art decision sciences theory and research to public policy, with interests including but not limited to statistical decision theory, rational expectations in economics and political science, cognitive psychology, technological change and the restructuring of decision processes, the impact of probabilistic forecasts on decision algorithms, and the micro-foundations of comparative justice systems. Research methodology faculty are expected to have familiarity with the NSF's EITM initiative (see <http://www.nsf.gov/sbe/ses/polisci/reports/pdf/eitmreport.pdf>) and serve at the Hobby School's EITM Summer Research Institute (see <http://www.uh.edu/class/hcpp/eitm/index.php>). Ethical or political theory and public policy faculty are expected to be philosophers or political theorists who continue to expand their impact beyond disciplinary boundaries into public policy and applied ethics.

With over 40,000 students on the main campus and one of the most culturally and ethnically diverse public universities in the nation, UH

(www.uh.edu) is a Carnegie-Designated Tier One Public Research University. The Hobby School was recently created by the UH system and thus offers incoming faculty the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology and political philosophy in its teaching, training, and research.

The Hobby School is well-positioned for impactful research in Houston, the nation's fourth (soon to be third) most populous American city. Houston itself is a laboratory for the future, as it reflects what is happening in the United States in terms of demographic and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (a) a growing economy, including oil & gas, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center, the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) relatively low cost/affordability among large cities.

Interested individuals are asked to apply as follows:

Assistant Professor for Decision Sciences at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33130>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Methodology at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33131>

Assistant/Associate/Professor for Policy Ethics at <http://jobs.uh.edu/postings/33134>

and to include a letter of interest, statements of teaching philosophy and interests and research interests, three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation (i.e., referees), a curriculum vita, up to three representative papers, and evidence of excellence in teaching.

Upon receiving applications, referees may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants, but not for senior applicants. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. Questions may be directed to the following search committee chairs: (a) Pablo Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential research methodology position, (b) Jeffrey Church (jchurch@central.uh.edu) regarding the potential ethical/political theory and public policy position, and Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu) regarding the potential decision sciences positions.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body, UH is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committees anticipate holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at <http://www.uh.edu/af/universityservices/policies/sam/1GenAdmin/1D5.pdf>. The positions are also subject to the University of Houston's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/20/2017

Date Posted: 1/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2516

York College of Pennsylvania

Rank: Post-Graduate Fellow and Visiting Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Research/Teaching Fellowship, Arthur J. Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy, York College

York College of Pennsylvania invites applications for the inaugural Fellow for its Arthur J. Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy.

A joint program of York College's Center for Community Engagement (CCE) and its Department of History and Political Science, the Institute for Public Policy will engage the Fellow and our students in the policymaking process by providing nonpartisan research to legislators at the City, County, and State levels of government. The Fellow will conduct research and work with advanced students to identify and define problems in the greater York community, develop policy approaches to solve those problems, and aim to achieve adoption and successful implementation of specific policy proposals via the Pennsylvania General Assembly and municipal jurisdictions in the South Central Pennsylvania region.

The appointee will hold the title of Fellow in the Center for Community Engagement and the rank of Visiting Instructor in the Department of History and Political Science. The fellowship will generally carry a two-year appointment, though in appropriate cases that time frame might be lengthened or shortened to accommodate a specific project. Among the duties of the fellow will be:

- Completing an appropriate research project or projects likely to be of interest to local residents, legislators, and civic/business leaders;
- Teaching one advanced course per semester;
- Delivering at least two public lectures for the local community;
- Disseminating the results of her/his research in appropriate scholarly and public venues;
- Collaborating with students and faculty in other appropriate York College programs such as the Center for Professional Excellence, the Graham and Eisenhart Scholars, and other CCE programming.

Funding will be provided for travel, speakers, and other appropriate initiatives of the Institute.

Requirements: The ideal candidate will hold a doctorate in a field directly related to public policy research (though ABD or MPP will be considered). The successful candidate will have a research agenda well-suited to studying local, regional, and state-level policy, and evidence of scholarly potential.

York College is committed to building a diverse college community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Interested candidates should electronically submit the following: a current curriculum vitae, letter of application, and names of three references to <http://ycp.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=76821>. Review of applications will begin immediately. While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, for full consideration, applications should be received by January 15, 2017.

York College of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. For a copy of York College's Annual Security Report, you may contact the Office of Campus Safety or visit the College's website and search for Annual Security Report.

About York College and the Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

York College of Pennsylvania (<http://www.ycp.edu>) is a private-sector, independent institution of higher education, offering over 50 baccalaureate majors in the arts and sciences and in professional fields as well as master's programs in business, education and nursing and a doctoral program in nursing. The College has an enrollment of over 4000 full time, over 500 part time undergraduate students and over 200 graduate students from 30 states and 12 foreign countries. The campus is located in South-Central Pennsylvania (50 miles north of Baltimore, MD, 30 miles south of Harrisburg, PA, and 90 miles north of Washington, DC) and offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits.

Though the Fellow will spend time on York College's main campus, the locus of the research and mentoring activities noted above would be housed in the CCE's headquarters in downtown York. The Institute for Public Policy is meant to be an objective, nonpartisan advocacy organization committed to the best practices in academic social science. The CCE hosts local government leaders, non-profit organizations, community groups, and other stakeholders, providing assistance in identifying and developing approaches to solving the community's most pressing problems. Under the guidance of the Fellow, the Glatfelter Institute for Public Policy will contribute to that mission through policy research.

The CCE's 20,000 square foot building at 59 East Market Street will open with Phase One mid-fall, 2016. Located across the street from the Yorktowne Hotel and adjacent to city, county, and state offices, the location is central to the downtown renaissance in Royal Square, the Arts District, and Central Market. This Center will be a hub for community education, meetings, and small conferences making it an ideal location for students and faculty engaged in policy research and analysis. This space will become a highly visible epicenter of policy activity.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2506

University of Michigan, Flint

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The University of Michigan-Flint invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Public Administration to start Fall 2017. Areas of specialization are open but the candidate will be expected to teach one or more foundational courses in undergraduate and graduate public administration. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or Public Policy is required; ABD's whose degrees will be completed by September 2017 will be considered. The teaching load is 3/3. UM-Flint stresses excellence in teaching as well as scholarship/research. Further, it has been awarded the Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement and places high value on outreach. Candidates should submit evidence of promise as teacher/scholars and willingness to participate in civic engagement. Review of applications will start January 20th 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit: a cover letter outlining teaching and research interests/agenda, C.V., teaching evaluations (if available), names and contact information of three references and writing samples. Documents must be submitted electronically and addressed to: Dr. Kathryn Schellenberg, Search Committee Co-Chair at kathsch@umflint.edu.

http://careers.umich.edu/job\_detail/134911/assistant\_professor\_-\_public\_administration

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2498

Misericordia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government, Law, and National Security

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Misericordia University invites applications for a tenure-track position as assistant professor in the Government, Law, and National Security program starting August 2017. Offering the second largest major in the College of Arts and Sciences, the GLNS program is part of the university's Department of History and Government and seeks a specialist in American Government or American Politics. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or public administration is required; college teaching experience is strongly preferred and research output is expected.

The candidate will teach the following undergraduate courses in the growing Government, Law, and National Security Program: 1) The U.S. Homeland Security System 2) Introduction to Public Administration and Public Policy and 3) U.S. Homeland Security Issues (focusing on areas of natural hazards, mitigation planning, emergency management, domestic intelligence, transportation security or border security). The candidate must be able to offer courses in the university's Core Curriculum, as well as upper-level courses in the major reflecting the candidate's teaching and research interests.

Misericordia University, a 92-year-old institution founded by the Sisters of Mercy, offering baccalaureate, master's, and doctoral degrees, is located adjacent to the Pocono Mountains region of Northeastern Pennsylvania, approximately 2 hours from New York City and Philadelphia. The university's approach of combining a quality liberal arts education with professional preparation and service leadership has resulted in its wide regional acclaim.

Misericordia University is committed to student, faculty and staff diversity and values the educational benefit this brings to campus. Candidates should indicate any experience and/or leadership that contribute to this goal.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

For confidential consideration please enclose in your application package a letter of application which includes your telephone number and e-mail address, transcripts, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy and three letters of reference to: Misericordia University, Attention: Human Resources Department, 301 Lake Street, Dallas, Pennsylvania, 18612 or applications can be submitted online at www.misericordia.edu/hr.

URL to apply: https://workforcenow.adp.com/jobs/apply/posting.html?client=mucougars&jobId=43083&lang=en\_US&source=CC2

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/5/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2454

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowships in Inequality and Political Development in Latin America

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at the Universidad Católica del Uruguay is pleased to offer up to 3 two-year post-doctoral fellowship opportunities for 2017-19. Applicants should have obtained their PhDs after December 1, 2011 and need to demonstrate residence outside Uruguay during the last 3 years. Successful candidates should focus their research on one of two broad topics: stratification, inequality and social mobility, or political and social development.

The two-year fellowship will commence August 1, 2017 and conclude July 31, 2019. The Fellow will receive an annual salary of up to USD 26,317 and benefits depending on applicant's qualifications (calculated at current exchange rate of USD 1 = UYU 29); one round trip in economy class (up to USD 4,000), will have work space at the Department of Social and Political Sciences and access to facilities at Universidad Católica del Uruguay.

The position requires residency in Montevideo with a possibility of being a semester abroad for fieldwork if properly justified in the research proposal. There is a teaching requirement of 84 hours per year, in Spanish. The successful candidate is expected to teach 1 undergraduate course (42h), 1 course at the master level (21h) and 1 course at the Methods Winter School (20h) each year.

The post-doc is co-funded by the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII) under its "Fondo Profesor Dr. Roberto Caldeyro Barcia" initiative. The Department of Social and Political Sciences promotes scholarly, interdisciplinary research by faculty and students, advancing relevant knowledge about political, social, and economic issues, and generating communities of research and practice on key Latin American concerns.

The application process has two stages. Candidates should apply directly to the Department of Social and Political Sciences (DCSP), submitting a CV, a detailed research proposal, a cover letter, and 2 recommendation letters, by email to Mr. Gastón Sagasti (gsagasti@ucu.edu.uy). Recommendation letters should be sent directly to Mr. Gastón Sagasti. Applications for this stage are due by Tuesday, January 17, 2017.

Please direct any inquiries prior to the first stage deadline to Mr. Gastón Sagasti, Department of Social and Political Sciences, Universidad Católica del Uruguay (gsagasti@ucu.edu.uy), except for during the New Year's Holiday (December 31 to January 15). For more information about the Department, visit our webpage (<http://ucu.edu.uy/dcsp>). Candidates are strongly advised to prepare documents according to the requirements established by ANII. Complete information can be found at <http://www.anii.org.uy/apoyos/formacion/6/posdoctorados-en-uruguay/>

A short-list of candidates would be invited to complete the second stage of the application process by January 24. During this second stage, candidates jointly apply with the Department of Social and Political Sciences to the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANI). Applications for this stage are due by Thursday, February 2, 2017 (14:00, GMT-3).

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 1/17/2017

Date Posted: 12/1/2016

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 2431

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, Integrated Security

Specializations: Science & Technology, Intelligence, Defense

Integrated Security
Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences
Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the area of Integrated Security. This faculty search is part of a cross-college cluster hire being conducted in the Integrated Security Destination Area (<http://provost.vt.edu/destination-areas.html>), which is one of several focused Virginia Tech initiatives to recruit and support world-class groups of faculty that bridge disciplinary strengths. This initial hire focuses on multiple aspects of today's embedded cyber-physical/human systems. We seek a colleague who will build upon our departmental, college, and university strengths in the study of all dimensions of governance, privacy, and security at the interconnections of the digital and physical worlds as humans, groups, institutions, and systems link these domains of complex action. Over the next four years, the number of Internet-connected devices will more than double, changing the ways people interact with technologies and their environments; however, fundamental security and privacy challenges have yet to be adequately addressed for these new technologies. This cluster hire will foster cross-disciplinary collaborations that explore these challenges through the lenses of technology, law, governance, ethics, and business.

We are interested in applicants who can demonstrate research and teaching expertise in one or more of the following domains of inquiry: human security and insecurity (broadly defined) in "the Internet of things"; the effects of these new developments on politics, governance, and security in organizations, states, or other entities; U.S. national, subnational, or transnational responses to network security threats; human governance of cyber-physical systems, property regimes, or regulatory organizations; security and governance questions related to immigration, refugee flows, cross-border movements, and displaced populations; security and class, gender, and/or race/ethnicity. Focusing on these governance issues and public policy responses in North America is the main emphasis but other cross-national perspectives are welcome. Applicants who approach these concerns from a theoretical and critical perspective are encouraged to apply. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester. This position will begin August 10, 2017.

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2017. Successful applicants will demonstrate a strong interest in conducting research, teaching courses, and seeking grants and contracts in how the Internet of things affects concerns of human security/insecurity as they relate to governance of the public, private, and non-profit sectors as well the class, gender, locational, and racial dimensions of security in cyber-physical/human systems at any scale in U.S. national, subnational, and transnational contexts. Successful candidates will have documented effectiveness in both undergraduate and graduate teaching as well as program development in order to meet the Political Science department's key needs in its B.A. and M.A. programs and those of doctoral students in cognate programs involved in the Integrated Security Destination Area. Potential for excellence in research and teaching is required.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to broadly trained candidates who have grounding and skills in a variety of theoretical, analytical, critical, and methodological approaches to security and governance, and who can work with undergraduate and graduate students. Prior teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels is strongly preferred as well as documented success in collaborative activity in transdisciplinary teams.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu posting, TR0160157, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a recent writing sample, teaching evaluations, along with names and contact information for three academic references. Screening of applications will begin on February 6, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. All inquiries should be sent to: Dr. Timothy W. Luke &lt;twluke@vt.edu&gt;, chair, Integrated Security Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Major Williams Hall, Room 531 (0130), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with additional questions or with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact the search committee chair.

Virginia Tech recognizes the critical importance of diverse teams of scholars. It seeks to diversify its faculty along multiple dimensions, including those that have been historically marginalized and excluded given the institutional history and legacy of the university. Virginia Tech is a public land-grant university, committed to teaching and learning, research, and outreach to the Commonwealth of Virginia, the nation, and the world. Building on its motto of Ut Prosim (that I may serve), Virginia Tech is dedicated to InclusiveVT—serving in the spirit of community, diversity, and excellence. We seek candidates who adopt and practice the Principles of Community, which are fundamental to our on-going efforts to increase access and inclusion and to create a community that nurtures learning and growth for all of its members. Virginia Tech actively seeks a broad spectrum of candidates to join our community in preparing leaders for the world.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Agency

Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Access at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2426

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Ocean Governance and Law

The Department of Marine Affairs at the University of Rhode Island seeks applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Ocean Governance and Law.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Marine Affairs, Environmental Policy, Public Policy, Geography or closely-related field by appointment date in August 2017. We seek highly qualified candidates with specialization in international ocean governance, international institutions, and/or international marine/environmental law & policy. Successful candidates will provide evidence of ability to develop and instruct undergraduate and graduate courses; develop an independently funded research program; publish and present at national and international meetings; and work with members of diverse and underrepresented groups.

DEADLINE: November 11, 2016. Application materials should include a cover letter describing qualifications for the position, CV with names and contact information of 3 professional references, combined statement of research accomplishments & future research plans as well as teaching accomplishments & philosophy, and one document of writing samples which can include up to 3 publications, working papers or dissertation chapters. For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/1774>.

Located within URI's College of Environment and Life Sciences, the Marine Affairs department offers Bachelors, Masters and Doctoral degrees. The mission of the Marine Affairs department is to provide leadership in the management of marine and coastal environments through distinction in teaching, research, service, and outreach programs. To accomplish its mission, the department emphasizes multi-disciplinary approaches to ocean & coastal governance and management.

The University of Rhode Island is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 11/11/2016

Date Posted: 10/13/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2222

University of Central Florida

Rank: Associate/Full Professor in Coastal Environmental Policy/Coastal Political Geography

Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster: Coastal Environmental Policy/Political Geography

Applicants for an Associate/Full Professor position in Coastal Environmental Policy or Coastal Political Geography must have a Ph.D. from an accredited institution in political science, geography, or a related discipline, such as environmental policy/political geography or environmental anthropology/sociology.

The successful applicant will become a core faculty member in the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster and must bring expertise in environmental policy and politics to an interdisciplinary team in order to advance understanding of the social-ecological systems in coastal areas with a focus on public policy and coastal ecology. They must demonstrate a strong commitment to interdisciplinary research and publication; a commitment to interdisciplinary and collaborative research, have demonstrated an ability to perform high-impact and high-demand research, and develop a program that will lead to strong extramurally-funded research. The successful candidate will also have a strong teaching record with the ability to teach and mentor students at both graduate and undergraduate levels.

As part of an on-going hiring campaign, UCF recently established an interdisciplinary cluster approach to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are searching for faculty in the broad interdisciplinary area of Sustainable Coastal Systems (<http://ucf.edu/research/coastalsystems>) and plan to bring together a core group of faculty who work across traditional research boundaries or are working in transdisciplinary fields. This new hire will join current cluster faculty, representing twelve departments and seven colleges, to lead a world-class effort to understand and assess natural and human-related impacts to coastal ecosystem health, restoration, sustainability, and mitigation; and ultimately to characterize and integrate physical, chemical, biological, and socio-economic processes impacting coastal communities and ecosystems.

Faculty in these interdisciplinary positions will be expected to strengthen both their tenure home department as well as the Sustainable Coastal Systems cluster. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup are expected with these five new positions. Each new faculty member will have a unique interdisciplinary mentoring team to foster intellectual breadth and to facilitate integrative capacity to strengthen the success of the cluster.

Candidates must apply on-line at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/43915> (Position #38869) and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter candidates should address their background in their discipline and should identify the department(s) for their potential tenure home. In the research statement candidates should include descriptions of their successful interdisciplinary research collaborations and how their current and future research can contribute to the cluster's overall interdisciplinary objectives.

The search committee will review applications on on-going basis and continue to accept applications until the position is filled. The University of Central Florida, the nation's second-largest university with more than 63,000 students, has grown in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando and more than a dozen other locations. UCF is an economic engine attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. For more information, visit <http://ucf.edu>. UCF is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer. All applicants are encouraged to apply, including minorities, women, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

For more information about these positions please contact the Sustainable Coastal Systems Cluster Search Chair, Dr. Graham Worthy at CoastalCluster@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2016

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 2184

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Policy and Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration (PSPA) seeks applications for two tenure-track faculty positions in public administration and policy. We hope to select one assistant and one assistant/associate professor to begin August 16, 2017. Candidates should have primary research and teaching interests in public administration and policy with particular consideration given to well-qualified candidates specializing in public policy and program evaluation. Particular consideration will also be given to candidates with interest in assuming the role of Graduate Coordinator. A Ph.D. degree in public administration, public policy, or related fields is required at the time of appointment.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited MPPA, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 15 faculty members, 197 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research centers with the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, the Center for International Security and Strategic Studies, and the National Strategic Planning and Analysis Research Center. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Dr. Christine Rush, at crush@pspa.msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF #493904) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, current curriculum vita, and the names and contact information of three references. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to the following: Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin October 21, 2016, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2126

Norwich University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy)

The Department of History and Political Science at Norwich University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall 2017 semester. The successful candidate will teach and do research in the fields of American politics and public policy and will teach undergraduate courses in Intro to Public Policy, the survey course in American Politics, the U.S. Presidency, Legislative Process, State and Local Politics, Research Methods (with emphasis on quantitative methods), American Citizenship, and a Capstone Senior Seminar in the candidate's field of expertise. The successful candidate will also manage the Political Science Internship Program and facilitate the growth of public policy studies across the university. While a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, Norwich University is committed to junior faculty developing scholarship through a supportive faculty development program.

Qualifications: To be eligible for appointment at the assistant professor rank, candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a Ph.D in a public policy-related field. Highly qualified ABDs may be considered for appointment at the instructor level. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2016 and remain open until the position is filled.

Please submit a letter of interest, which includes your preferred substantive American politics and public policy focus, curriculum vitae, three current letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy): <https://norwich.interviewexchange.com>

Norwich University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to providing a positive education and work environment that recognizes and respects the dignity of all students, faculty and staff. Reasonable accommodations will be made for the known disability of an otherwise qualified applicant. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at nuhr@norwich.edu for assistance.

All candidates must be authorized to work for any U.S. employer. A post offer, pre-employment background check will be required of the successful candidate.

Norwich University offers a comprehensive benefit package that includes medical, dental, vision, group life and long term disability insurance, flexible-spending accounts for health and dependent care, 403(b) retirement plan with employer match, employee assistance program, paid time off including parental leave, and tuition scholarships for eligible employees and their family members.

Norwich University is a diversified academic institution that educates residential students - both military and civilian lifestyles - and working adults across the globe. Norwich offers a broad selection of traditional and distance-learning programs culminating in baccalaureate and master's degrees, and graduate certificates. Founded in 1819 by U.S. Army Capt. Alden Partridge, Norwich is the oldest private military college in the country and the birthplace of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC).

Norwich University takes positive action to insure that all applicants for employment are considered, and employees are treated in compliance with applicable laws and regulations governing non-discrimination on the basis of gender, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, color, religion, disability, sexual orientation, age, genetic information or veteran's status. As an institution of higher education, Norwich is dedicated to learning, emphasizing teamwork, leadership, creativity, and critical thinking and encourages applications from qualified individuals who will help us achieve this guiding value.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2124

James Madison University

Rank: Assistant Professor- U.S. Government and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- U.S. GOVERNMENT AND PUBLIC POLICY- {Job link #0407599}- The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in U.S. Government and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2017 semester, pending budgetary approval. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. Areas of specialization should include health policy, economic policy, and/or comparative public policy.

The department seeks candidates with strong teaching and research skills. Review of applications will begin October 6, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number{# 0407599}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience. The College of Arts and Letters (CAL) at JMU serves as a cross-disciplinary center of intellectual inquiry and practice on campus. All programs in the college are committed to fostering rigorous, constructive dialogue in classrooms, local communities, and the larger world.

James Madison University is committed to a diverse and inclusive community and to maintaining a work and educational environment that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability; genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2016

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 1980

Hendrix College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Hendrix College invites applications for a tenure track position for an Assistant Professor of Politics to begin in August 2017. The College seeks to extend its tradition of excellence in teaching and scholarship by attracting faculty who combine mastery of their disciplines with broad intellectual interests and commitment to the aims of a liberal arts college. The successful applicant will teach the basic public policy course; one or two upper level, policy specific courses, and generally contribute to the department's American politics offerings. The successful applicant also will teach a section of Research Methods and participate in the Department's undergraduate research seminar, as well as the college's program in engaged learning. Training that would allow the development of a course in some aspect of political behavior is also a plus. Doctorate is expected by the start date; ABD will be considered.

Applications should include a cover letter addressing the candidate's interest in teaching in a demanding liberal arts environment, a curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, graduate and undergraduate transcripts, as well as a statement of scholarly interest. In addition, three letters of recommendation should be requested sent via e-mail to facultyrecs@hendrix.edu. Address cover letter to Dr. Kimberly Maslin, Politics/IR Department Chair. Review of materials will begin October 15, 2016 and will continue until the position is filled.

Electronic submissions are strongly encouraged and can be submitted at <https://goo.gl/PcAgQE>. Hendrix is a distinguished liberal arts college located in Conway, Arkansas, thirty miles from Little Rock at the foothills of the Ozark Mountains. The College, affiliated with the United Methodist Church, has a strong commitment to excellence in teaching liberal arts. Hendrix College strives to maintain an environment free from discrimination and harassment, where employees treat each other with respect, dignity and courtesy. The College adheres to the principle of equal educational and employment opportunity without regard to age, race, color, religion, gender, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, or national origin.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies: Shawn Goicoechea, Assistant Director of Human Resources & Title IX Coordinator 1600 Washington Ave, Conway, AR 72032 501-450-1415 goicoechea@hendrix.edu

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2016

Date Posted: 8/12/2016

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 1784