

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

March 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 3

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

Administration ..... 4
American Government and Politics ..... 13
Comparative Politics ..... 34
International Relations ..... 57
Methodology ..... 87
Non-Academic ..... 98
Other ..... 98
Political Theory ..... 115
Public Administration ..... 133
Public Law ..... 138
Public Policy ..... 142

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

March 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 3

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4 (14 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 13 (46 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 34 (46 listings)

International Relations ..... 57 (64 listings)

Methodology ..... 87 (22 listings)

Non-Academic ..... 98 (29 listings)

Other ..... 98 (36 listings)

Political Theory ..... 115 (8 listings)

Public Administration ..... 133 (12 listings)

Public Law ..... 138 (19 listings)

Public Policy ..... 142 (listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 296

Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for March

ADMINISTRATION

University of Southern California

Rank: Turpanjian Chair in Contemporary Armenian Studies

Specializations: International Political Economy, Post Soviet Region, Immigration Policy

The Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and the USC Dornsife Institute of Armenian Studies at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California, invite applications for the Turpanjian Chair in Contemporary Armenian Studies. The search is rank-open (Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor), and applications from all social science and humanities disciplines are welcome. Scholars whose work focuses on diaspora, immigration, transnationalism, race/identity, nationalism, post-Soviet studies, and transitions to democracy—including such work in comparative perspective—are particularly encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will have a primary appointment in his/her disciplinary home department. In addition, the successful candidate will be an affiliate of the USC Dornsife Institute of Armenian Studies, and if s/he is of the appropriate rank, will be invited to serve as the Director of Research in the Institute. Applicants must have a doctoral degree in their field of study.

In addition to the letter of application, interested candidates should provide a research statement, their curriculum vitae, and a list of references. All application materials must be combined into and uploaded as one PDF document. Please submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usc Careers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/turpanjian-chair-in-contemporary-armenian-studies/1209/7282713>. Applications will begin to be reviewed on March 19 but the position will remain open until filled. Inquiries may be directed to Silva Sevlian sevlian@usc.edu or Laurie Brand brand@usc.edu.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/28/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4075

Princeton University

Rank: PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Administration, Other, International Relations

PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellowship

Job Listing

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship program for the 2018-19 year. Up to three 3-year postdoctoral fellowships will be awarded to exceptional recent Ph.D. recipients who are researching issues of global importance in the sciences and engineering, arts, humanities, and social sciences. Fields of special interest include hydro-climate modeling and analysis of infectious diseases, other global challenges and large structural processes, systems thinking, and cross-regional interaction (Brazil-Africa, Brazil-China, China-India, China-Africa, India-Africa, Africa-Europe, Russia-China, etc.). Applicants must have already demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievement and excellence in teaching.

The fellowship's responsibilities include both teaching (one course or equivalent each semester for two years, one course in the third year) and research. The Fellow will either participate in a team-taught course or offer a self-designed course in an interdisciplinary program. In addition, the Fellow will do some advising in his/her specialty or related areas. When teaching, the successful candidate will carry a secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching is contingent on sufficient course enrollments and the prior approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

Appointments, to be made at the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate, will be annual with the expectation of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and continued funding. In addition to salary and benefits, the program will provide fellows a research account of $3,000 a year, an office, a personal computer and other resources. Fellows are expected to reside in or near Princeton during the year in order to attend related seminars and workshops and participate fully in the intellectual life of PIIRS and related units. A Ph.D. is required.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad/positions/position/5961>.

The following application items should be uploaded by the applicant:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Dissertation abstract
- Writing sample: one chapter of the dissertation or one published article related to the dissertation topic.
- Research proposal
- Two course proposals
- For ABD (All But Dissertation) candidates: letter of "Progress to Degree" from the director of graduate studies or department chair.
- For applicants with PhD degree: document confirming your completion of all requirements for the PhD degree.
- Names and email addresses for three references, who will be invited to upload their confidential letter of recommendation to the online portal once the application has been submitted.

For full consideration applicants should apply by Friday, March 23, 2018. Due to the anticipated volume of applications, only final candidates will be contacted. Further information about PIIRS can be found at: <http://piirs.princeton.edu/>.

For questions about this position, please contact Nicole Bergman at nbergman@princeton.edu.

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Winter 2018

Application Deadline: 3/26/2018

Date Posted: 2/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4074

Iowa State University

Rank: Professor and Director of Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Iowa State University invites applicants with academic administrative and fundraising experience and expertise in American women and politics to apply for the position of professor and director of the Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics. The director will continue to enhance the state, national and international reputation of the center.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the overall administration of this college center including fund-raising; donor relations; oversight of a budget consisting of multiple general fund and foundation accounts; strategic planning; program development, implementation and evaluation; management of high-profile lecture series; and hiring, supervision and evaluation of center support staff. Other duties include media relations (interviews with print, radio, and television media); collaboration with other university, local, state and national organizations focused on women, politics and civic engagement; and presentations to local, state and national groups about women and politics, leadership, and other related topics.

Founded in 1992, the Carrie Chapman Catt Center is the second oldest university-based center focusing on women and politics in the United States. Its nationally recognized programs are designed to interest, educate, and engage citizens in the political process. The Catt Center's research activities include the web-based Archives of Women's Political Communication, Carrie Chapman Catt Prize for Research on Women and Politics, Women in Iowa Politics database of original research reports; and Gender Balance Project. Its outreach programs include the Mary Louise Smith Chair in Women and Politics lecture series and Ready to Run Iowa: Campaign Training for Women. Other Catt Center programs include the Legacy of Heroines and Stanley Global Leaders scholarships; Women Impacting ISU annual calendar; and Plaza of Heroines.

The Catt Center is located administratively in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Iowa State's core and academically most diverse college with programs in the sciences, humanities and social sciences. The college is committed to student success, helping students acquire the intellectual depth and breadth to become knowledgeable, inquisitive and creative citizens and leaders, ready to address the challenges of the 21st century. College faculty lead internationally renowned research programs and teach approximately 50 percent of all undergraduate student credit hours at Iowa State University. The college offers nearly 50 baccalaureate degrees in addition to master's and Ph.D. degrees.

Iowa State University is classified as a Carnegie Foundation Doctoral/Research University-Extensive, a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), and ranked by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top public universities in the nation. More than 36,000 students are enrolled and are served by over 6,200 faculty and staff.

Iowa State University is a global and culturally diverse university committed to providing an inclusive, equitable, and diverse environment for both learning and employment. We know that diversity in experience and perspective is vital to advancing innovation, critical thinking, solving complex problems, and building an inclusive academic community. At Iowa State, we translate these values into action by seeking individuals who have experience working with diverse students, colleagues, and constituents. The university has an expectation that all employees will demonstrate a contribution to diversity and inclusion as embodied in Iowa State University's Principles of Community.

Ames, Iowa is a progressive community of 60,000, located approximately 30 minutes north of Des Moines, and recently voted one of the best college towns in the nation.

Iowa State University is an equal opportunity employer committed to excellence through diversity and strongly encourages applications from all qualified applicants, including women, underrepresented populations, and veterans. ISU is responsive to the needs of dual career couples, is dedicated to work-life balance through an array of policies, and is an NSF ADVANCE institution.

All employees are expected to exhibit and convey good citizenship within the program, the department, college, university activities, collegial interactions, and maintain the highest standards of integrity and ethical behavior.

To apply for this position, please click on "Apply for this Job" and complete the Employment Application. Please be prepared to enter or attach the following:

- 1) Resume/Curriculum Vitae
- 2) Letter of Application/Cover Letter – include a statement of the candidate's administrative philosophy and experience
- 3) Contact Information for Three Professional References

If you have questions regarding this application process, please email employment@iastate.edu or call 515-294-4800 or Toll Free: 1-877-477-7485.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4062

Iowa State University

Rank: Professor and Director of Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Iowa State University invites applicants with academic administrative and fundraising experience and expertise in American women and politics to apply for the position of professor and director of the Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics. The director will continue to enhance the state, national and international reputation of the center.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the overall administration of this college center including fund-raising; donor relations; oversight of a budget consisting of multiple general fund and foundation accounts; strategic planning; program development, implementation and evaluation; management of high-profile lecture series; and hiring, supervision and evaluation of center support staff. Other duties include media relations (interviews with print, radio, and television media); collaboration with other university, local, state and national organizations focused on women, politics and civic engagement; and presentations to local, state and national groups about women and politics, leadership, and other related topics.

Founded in 1992, the Carrie Chapman Catt Center is the second oldest university-based center focusing on women and politics in the United States. Its nationally recognized programs are designed to interest, educate, and engage citizens in the political process. The Catt Center's research activities include the web-based Archives of Women's Political Communication, Carrie Chapman Catt Prize for Research on Women and Politics, Women in Iowa Politics database of original research reports; and Gender Balance Project. Its outreach programs include the Mary Louise Smith Chair in Women and Politics lecture series and Ready to Run Iowa: Campaign Training for Women. Other Catt Center programs include the Legacy of Heroines and Stanley Global Leaders scholarships; Women Impacting ISU annual calendar; and Plaza of Heroines.

The Catt Center is located administratively in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Iowa State's core and academically most diverse college with programs in the sciences, humanities and social sciences. The college is committed to student success, helping students acquire the intellectual depth and breadth to become knowledgeable, inquisitive and creative citizens and leaders, ready to address the challenges of the 21st century. College faculty lead internationally renowned research programs and teach approximately 50 percent of all undergraduate student credit hours at Iowa State University. The college offers nearly 50 baccalaureate degrees in addition to master's and Ph.D. degrees.

Iowa State University is classified as a Carnegie Foundation Doctoral/Research University-Extensive, a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), and ranked by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top public universities in the nation. More than 36,000 students are enrolled and are served by over 6,200 faculty and staff.

Iowa State University is a global and culturally diverse university committed to providing an inclusive, equitable, and diverse environment for both learning and employment. We know that diversity in experience and perspective is vital to advancing innovation, critical thinking, solving complex problems, and building an inclusive academic community. At Iowa State, we translate these values into action by seeking individuals who have experience working with diverse students, colleagues, and constituents. The university has an expectation that all employees will demonstrate a contribution to diversity and inclusion as embodied in Iowa State University's Principles of Community.

Ames, Iowa is a progressive community of 60,000, located approximately 30 minutes north of Des Moines, and recently voted one of the best college towns in the nation.

Iowa State University is an equal opportunity employer committed to excellence through diversity and strongly encourages applications from all qualified applicants, including women, underrepresented populations, and veterans. ISU is responsive to the needs of dual career couples, is dedicated to work-life balance through an array of policies, and is an NSF ADVANCE institution.

All employees are expected to exhibit and convey good citizenship within the program, the department, college, university activities, collegial interactions, and maintain the highest standards of integrity and ethical behavior.

Required Education and Experience

- PhD from a reputable, accredited institution.
- A distinguishing record in research, teaching, and service that qualifies the candidate for tenure at the rank of full professor in one of the academic departments in the college.
- Demonstrated knowledge/expertise in American women and politics.
- Administrative experience directing an academic center or program.

Preferred Education and Experience

- Record of publications and presentations in the field of American women and politics.
- Regional or national professional organization experience/leadership.
- Demonstrated success in fundraising.
- Experience in budget management.
- Experience in public/media relations.
- Experience supervising staff and/or mentoring students.

Iowa State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, marital status, disability, or protected veteran status and will not be discriminated against. Inquiries can be directed to the Office of Equal Opportunity, 3410 Beardshear Hall, 515 Morrill Road, 515 294-7612, email eooffice@iastate.edu.

To apply for this position, please click on "Apply for this Job" and complete the Employment Application. Please be prepared to enter or attach the following:

- 1) Resume/Curriculum Vitae
- 2) Letter of Application/Cover Letter – include a statement of the candidate's administrative philosophy and experience
- 3) Contact Information for Three Professional References

If you have questions regarding this application process, please email employment@iastate.edu or call 515-294-4800 or Toll Free: 1-877-477-7485.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4063

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Management and Director of Political Management Program

The George Washington University
Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Management and Director of Political Management Program, Graduate School of Political Management (GSPM)

The College of Professional Studies (CPS) of The George Washington University invites applications from qualified applicants for this full-time fiscal year faculty position at the assistant or associate professor level with an administrative appointment as the Director of the Political Management Program at the Graduate School of Political Management. This is a twelve-month, non-tenure-track, renewable appointment with an initial appointment period of three years, beginning as early as August 1, 2018.

The GSPM master's degree in Political Management educates students in applied politics, as they relate to campaigns and elections, advocacy and lobbying, political leadership and strategic communications. (For more information on the program, see gspm.gwu.edu). Political Management is one of the four degree programs in the Graduate School of Political Management, together with Legislative Affairs, Strategic Public Relations and a Spanish-language degree in Political Communication and Strategic Governance.

Duties and Responsibilities: The faculty member is responsible for teaching 4 courses per year (over 3 terms), undertaking research, participating in public thought leadership and media opportunities, advising students, contributing to the school's marketing and recruiting efforts, offering curricular and program support, recruiting and onboarding adjunct faculty, overseeing the program's online education provider, and participating in the advancement of GSPM's mission via service.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have: 1) an advanced degree such as a PhD, a law degree, or other relevant degree by the date of appointment; 2) experience in the field of applied politics; 3) demonstrated ability to teach graduate level courses in political management; 4) demonstrated excellence in teaching both online and in class.

How to apply: Complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/49455> and upload a cover letter and Curriculum Vitae.

Only complete applications will be considered. Review of applications will begin on March 19, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4054

California State University, Fresno

Rank: Associate Dean of the College of Social Sciences

Job Title: Associate Dean of the College of Social Sciences

Job ID: 13420

Full/ Part Time: Full Time

Job Code: 3306

Department: College of Social Sciences

To apply, please visit: <http://apptrkr.com/1161777>

Position Summary:

Major duties of the job include:

Academic Affairs:

- Provide assistance with the developing and reviewing curriculum, course offerings, and assessing programs under the College.
- Oversee the general catalog and schedule of courses that pertain to the College, along with updates.
- Oversees the course articulation related to the College.
- Assist with program review related to the College.
- Provide oversight to the matters related to the College.
- Participate in the administration of College assessment efforts.

- Collaborate with committees within the College and represent the College at other committee meetings across the campus.

Student Affairs:

- Supervision and leadership of the College Advising Center.
- Oversight of the College scholarship and grant programs.
- Facilitate outreach, student recruitment activities, and student affairs of the College, including student/faculty grievances and petitions.
- Provide oversight of student issues, and advise and consult on student/faculty issues.

Administrative:

- Manage Part Time budget allocation.
- Assist with College budget issues.
- Assist with student outreach and retention and related enrollment management.
- Oversee the faculty recruitment plans for the College,
- Provide guidance and assistance with facilities (classrooms, laboratories, office space utilization) questions/concerns.
- Supervise of College support staff including computer technicians and Dean's office support staff.
- Act as Dean in the Dean's absence.

Secondary Duties of the job include:

- Analyze and plan optimal space utilization (including offices and classrooms).
- Participate with the college advisory groups and in selected community events/organizations.
- Assist with budget allocation process.
- Assist in grant/contract development and planning.
- Assist with extramural funding.
- Review and respond to student requests/deadline (i.e. petitions, grievances, add/drop, etc.).
- Oversee student events (convocation, outreach, career fairs), including student instructionally related activities (IRA) and resources.
- Assist the Dean with fundraising efforts.
- Collaborate with the Dean in meeting the goals of the College's strategic plan.
- Other duties as assigned.

Qualifications:

Minimum Qualifications:

- An earned Ph.D. from an accredited institution in a field appropriate to one of the Departments/programs in the College of Social Sciences.
- Prior teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- Rank of full professor.
- Related transferable experience and a demonstrated ability to serve as a key member of the College's leadership team.
- Outstanding interpersonal skills.
- An ability to professionally, successfully, and effectively interface on all levels to represent the College in accomplishing its mission.
- Successful experience as department chair or comparable leadership experience (institute director, program director, etc.).
- Excellent written and oral communication skills.
- Superb interpersonal skills, including the ability to engaged in meaningful ways with people from a variety of backgrounds.
- Demonstrated performance in making sound independent judgments.
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively and collegially with faculty, staff, students, and administrators.

- Commitment to inclusivity and diversity, consultation, and faculty governance.
- Demonstrated collaborative attitudes and attributes.
- Work effectively with other university administrators and offices.
- Work effectively with university committees.
- Work effectively with department chairs and college faculty, staff and administrators, both state and foundation.
- Work effectively with college committees and subcommittees (executive, curriculum, research, instructional technology, international and elections).

Preferred Qualifications:

- Knowledge and experience working with data in regard to students' success.
- Knowledge and experience developing data for an academic program or grant.
- Understanding of and experience working with academic budgets.
- Knowledge of the disciplines in the College of Social Sciences.
- Demonstrated leadership ability in regards to promoting innovative ideas and concepts.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 2/25/2018

Date Posted: 2/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4012

Bentley University

Rank: Dean of Arts & Sciences

Bentley is launching its search for a new dean of arts & sciences. The next dean will have an unprecedented and exciting platform from which to shape not only the future of Bentley University but to influence the future of undergraduate education in our nation and beyond.

The next dean will be an articulate and compelling spokesperson for the importance of the arts and sciences to an exceptional business education as well as to the intellectual and civic development of students. Reporting to the provost, the next dean will oversee eight academic departments and work closely with an outstanding faculty and staff, providing inspirational leadership to forge new initiatives and unite an academic community to address institutional challenges.

Who we are looking for

The successful candidate will bring a strong record of scholarship, a demonstrated commitment to education, strong management and operational experience and the interpersonal and relationship-building skills to help Bentley realize its strategic goals. Read the full leadership profile: https://www.bentley.edu/files/2018/01/07/Bentley\_Dean\_of\_Arts\_and\_Sciences\_Leadership\_Profile.pdf

How to apply

Inquiries, nominations and applications are invited. For fullest consideration, applicant materials should be received as soon as possible but no later than February 16, 2018. Candidates should provide a CV, a letter of application and the names of five references. References will not be contacted without prior approval. Bentley University has retained Witt/Kieffer to partner on this search. Candidate materials should be sent via e-mail to BentleyDeanArtsSciences@wittkieffer.com. The consultants can be reached at (630) 575-6178.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/16/2018

Date Posted: 1/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3950

Bentley University

Rank: Dean of Arts & Sciences

Bentley University, located in Waltham, MA, is launching its search for a new dean of arts & sciences. The next dean will have an unprecedented and exciting platform from which to shape not only the future of Bentley University but to influence the future of undergraduate education in our nation and beyond.

The next dean will be an articulate and compelling spokesperson for the importance of the arts and sciences to an exceptional business education as well as to the intellectual and civic development of students. Reporting to the provost, the next dean will oversee eight academic departments and work closely with an outstanding faculty and staff, providing inspirational leadership to forge new initiatives and unite an academic community to address institutional challenges.

Who we are looking for

The successful candidate will bring a strong record of scholarship, a demonstrated commitment to education, strong management and operational experience and the interpersonal and relationship-building skills to help Bentley realize its strategic goals. Read the full leadership profile: https://www.bentley.edu/files/2018/01/07/Bentley\_Dean\_of\_Arts\_and\_Sciences\_Leadership\_Profile.pdf

How to apply

Inquiries, nominations and applications are invited. For fullest consideration, applicant materials should be received as soon as possible but no later than February 16, 2018. Candidates should provide a CV, a letter of application and the names of five references. References will not be contacted without prior approval. Bentley University has retained Witt/Kieffer to partner on this search. Candidate materials should be sent via e-mail to BentleyDeanArtsSciences@wittkieffer.com. The consultants can be reached at (630) 575-6178.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 1/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3951

Bentley University

Rank: Dean of Arts & Sciences

Bentley University, located in Waltham, MA, is launching its search for a new dean of arts & sciences. The next dean will have an unprecedented and exciting platform from which to shape not only the future of Bentley University but to influence the future of undergraduate education in our nation and beyond.

The next dean will be an articulate and compelling spokesperson for the importance of the arts and sciences to an exceptional business education as well as to the intellectual and civic development of students. Reporting to the provost, the next dean will oversee eight academic departments and work closely with an outstanding faculty and staff, providing inspirational leadership to forge new initiatives and unite an academic community to address institutional challenges.

Who we are looking for

The successful candidate will bring a strong record of scholarship, a demonstrated commitment to education, strong management and operational experience and the interpersonal and relationship-building skills to help Bentley realize its strategic goals. Read the full leadership profile: https://www.bentley.edu/files/2018/01/07/Bentley\_Dean\_of\_Arts\_and\_Sciences\_Leadership\_Profile.pdf

How to apply

Inquiries, nominations and applications are invited. For fullest consideration, applicant materials should be received as soon as possible but no later than February 16, 2018. Candidates should provide a CV, a letter of application and the names of five references. References will not be contacted without prior approval. Bentley University has retained Witt/Kieffer to partner on this search. Candidate materials should be sent via e-mail to BentleyDeanArtsSciences@wittkieffer.com. The consultants can be reached at (630) 575-6178.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/16/2018

Date Posted: 1/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3952

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Dean

Subfield(s): Administration, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

DEAN, COLLEGE OF THE LIBERAL ARTS

The Pennsylvania State University seeks candidates for the position of Dean, College of the Liberal Arts. Penn State is the land-grant University of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with the University Park campus as its administrative hub, 23 other campuses located throughout the state, and its online World Campus. Reporting directly to the Executive Vice President and Provost of the University, the Dean serves as the principal academic and administrative officer of the College. The Dean holds the Susan Welch Dean's Chair and is known as the Susan Welch Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts. The Dean's Chair was named in honor of Dean Welch with an endowment gift of $5 million in 2010.

The position requires a distinguished scholar and strong proponent of the liberal arts. The new dean will work aggressively to advance the College's position as a leader among institutions of higher education in the creation and dissemination of knowledge for increasingly diverse and global constituencies. The successful candidate will be able to lead and manage the College in a multi-disciplinary and highly interdisciplinary research university. Prior leadership experience with responsibility for strategic management of personnel, programs, communication, and resources is required, along with an ability to inspire students to expand their knowledge and understand their impact in a multicultural, global society. In addition, the successful candidate should be a visionary leader; have a commitment to high-quality disciplinary and interdisciplinary education, as well as diversity and inclusion; a record of accomplishment in research, teaching, and fundraising; and familiarity with national issues affecting undergraduate and graduate education, with credentials appropriate for a tenured appointment at the rank of professor. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

The College of the Liberal Arts, founded in 1909, has approximately 6,000 undergraduate and 850 graduate students enrolled in residence, and an additional 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in online certificate and degree programs delivered through the Penn State World Campus. The College's faculty teach about 30 percent of all undergraduate credit hours at University Park and a higher percentage in the World Campus. The College has more than 700 full-time faculty members, about half of whom are on the tenure track, including many who are recognized leaders in their fields. Departments in the College span the humanities, social sciences, and the life sciences and many of the departments are among the top 10 of their peers in the last National Research Council rankings. Several interdisciplinary research centers and institutes, within the College and across the University, enhance the College's teaching, research, and outreach missions. College centers support research ranging from ethics to cognitive neuroscience, from the Civil War to human evolution, and from the bilingual brain to counterterrorism.

The 2017-18 operating budget for the College is approximately $102 million, with the World Campus generating significant additional income. In 2016-17, the College had about $30 million in research expenditures. The College has an endowment of approximately $130 million with more than 600 active funds, and an annual fundraising commitment that averages $15 million per year.

The College provides instruction and research opportunities in 21 departments and schools—African American Studies; African Studies; Anthropology; Applied Linguistics; Asian Studies; Classics and Ancient Mediterranean Studies; Communication Arts and Sciences; Comparative Literature; Economics; English; French and Francophone Studies; Germanic and Slavic Languages and Literatures; History; Jewish Studies; Labor and Employment Relations; Philosophy; Political Science; Psychology; Sociology and Criminology; Spanish, Italian and Portuguese; and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

To apply for this position, send (cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information of four references) via the University's employment web site at <https://psu.jobs/job/76213>. Please send any questions to the Chair of the Dean, Liberal Arts Search Committee at PSU-Search@psu.edu. The Search Committee will review applications and nominations beginning February 1, 2018, and will continue to receive them until the position is filled. For more information about the College of the Liberal Arts, visit our web site at <http://www.la.psu.edu/>.

Employment will require successful completion of background check(s) in accordance with University policies. Final candidate(s) for the position will be required to complete a full background check process, including education, employment, credit, motor vehicle verifications, criminal, and child abuse as appropriate.

To review the Penn State Annual Security Report, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>; a hard copy of the report is available on request.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to minorities, women, veterans, disabled individuals, and members of other protected groups.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3933

University of Georgia

Rank: Director

The University of Georgia's School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) seeks applications for the Director of the Center for International Trade and Security (CITS). The successful candidate must have a record appropriate for an academic professional faculty position (non-tenured) with adjunct faculty status in the School's Department of International Affairs and must have a strong record of grant and contract acquisition.

The University of Georgia, located in Athens, Georgia, approximately 60 miles northeast of Atlanta, is a Research I institution in the University System of Georgia. Founded in 1785, the University is the largest and most comprehensive educational institution in the state.

The Center for International Trade and Security's mission is to promote peace and prosperity through programs that focus on the mitigation of threats posed by the transfer, trade, and use of technologies and materials associated with weapons of mass destruction (WMD). This includes the safety and security of chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear materials, and strategic trade controls on dual use products related to both WMD and conventional weapons. The Center is eager to broaden its scope to address other unconventional threats to national security, such as cybersecurity, threats to energy infrastructure, and terrorism.

CITS has a distinguished record of policy-relevant research, and worldwide has provided outreach and training to US and foreign policymakers and industry representatives to secure the supply chain of advanced technologies and materials, and stop the proliferation of WMD. The Center also engages these communities, educators, students, and the general public via international colloquia and Track II negotiations on emerging security issues. CITS's Security and Strategic Trade Management Academy alone has trained more than 800 government officials, academics and industry representatives from 70 countries on the establishment, implementation, and enforcement of strategic trade controls. The Center's programs are sustained by private foundation grants, individual and corporate gifts, and corporate and government contracts.

CITS contributes to SPIA's Master of International Policy (MIP) Program that prepares graduate students for careers in international security and nonproliferation. CITS experts serve as instructors in the MIP Program, whose graduates have been placed in prestigious educational and government institutions. Likewise, CITS experts administer the year-long Richard B. Russell Security Leadership Program which prepares undergraduates for careers in nonproliferation and national security. SLP Fellows have earned distinguished national and international scholarships and have been hired by US government agencies, international organizations, corporations, and consulting firms.

The Director of the Center reports to the Dean of the School of Public and International Affairs, and is a non-tenured, academic professional with adjunct faculty status in the Department of International Affairs. For more information, visit: <http://spia.uga.edu/departments-centers/center-for-international-trade-and-security-cits/>.

A terminal degree is required in policy, law, science, technology, or engineering. The Center seeks a candidate with demonstrated leadership skills and a solid record of grant- and/or contract-funded research and service. Depending on experience and interests, the Director may have opportunities to teach graduate courses on issues such as WMD nonproliferation, counterterrorism, arms trade cybersecurity, or other emerging threats to national and international security.

Applications received by February 16, 2018 are assured consideration. Please apply using the FacultyJobs@UGA online system (<https://facultyjobs.uga.edu/>). Include in your application (1) a cover letter (2) a curriculum vita or resume, and (3) contact information for three individuals who can provide reference letters. If you have questions or would like more information, please contact Amanda Sandoval at amandapage@uga.edu or 706-542-2985.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3930

Portland State University

Rank: Director

Portland State University seeks Director of the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government

Click here to view position profile. https://summitsearchsolutions.com/wp-content/uploads/2017/10/PSU\_HatfieldSOG\_Profile.pdf

Location: Portland, Oregon

The Director of the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government (HSOG) provides leadership and coordination among its various Programs, Centers, and Institutes, and articulates a strategic vision for how the School can thrive and expand its impact. The Director works with a diverse staff, across multiple disciplines and topic areas, and with numerous organizations and constituencies both internal and external to the University. In particular, the Director's role is to:

- 1) Raise the visibility of the School in the community, state and nation;
- 2) Seek extramural projects and funding related to research and partnerships;
- 3) Support advancement of Centers and Institutes in the School and their connectivity to the community and to the broader University;
- 4) Oversee the School's two interdisciplinary degree programs: Master of Public Policy and PhD in Public Affairs and Policy; and
- 5) Recognize and promote connectivity among School faculty, staff, and students.

The Director reports to the Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs and sits on the Dean's Executive Committee. This is a twelve-month position, with a five-year renewable term, and will be offered to the candidate of choice with indefinite tenure at the rank of professor. The Director typically teaches one course in each of the three terms of the academic year, often in the interdisciplinary degree programs, but teaching responsibilities are negotiable.

Qualifications:

- Doctorate in one of HSOG's disciplines or a related field, and scholarly achievement commensurate with appointment at the rank of tenured full Professor. Candidates of extraordinary accomplishment outside academia may also be considered.

- Administrative experience directing an academic unit, program, center, or institute.
- Passion for and experience in interdisciplinary research and/or teaching.
- Experience working with community partners and other stakeholders, with a track record of securing external funding and contracts.
- Ability to work productively with a diverse faculty, staff, and student population.

Key cultural competencies:

- Creates an environment that acknowledges, encourages and celebrates differences.
- Functions and communicates effectively and respectfully within the context of varying beliefs, behaviors, orientations, identities and cultural backgrounds.
- Seeks opportunities to gain experience working and collaborating in diverse, multicultural, and inclusive settings with a willingness to change for continual improvement.
- Willingness to adhere to and support adherence to all PSU policies including the policies on Prohibited Discrimination & Harassment and the Professional Standards of Conduct.

About the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government

The Hatfield School of Government was created in 1999 to honor the legacy of Mark O. Hatfield, a public servant who served as both Oregon Governor and U.S. Senator. Hatfield's independent spirit, strong moral compass, and commitment to the public good are hallmarks of his leadership style and public service. The School's first Director was appointed in 2000 and the current Director recently stepped down in preparation for retirement. The Hatfield School offers real-world application of studies only steps away from the classroom. Students actively engage in a variety of hands-on public service projects throughout Oregon, the nation, and the world. Locally renowned, the Hatfield School has also gained national prestige as one of the top 50 Public Affairs graduate programs in the nation, according to the 2016 U.S. News and World Report rankings.

The Hatfield School is home to three academic departments whose chairs report to the Dean: Criminology & Criminal Justice, Political Science and Public Administration. All departments offer undergraduate and graduate programs in addition to two programs offered by multiple units in the School: Master of Public Policy and PhD in Public Affairs and Policy. The School is also home to the multiple centers and institutes including the National Policy Consensus Center, the Center for Public Service, the Institute for Tribal Governance, the Nonprofit Institute, the Center for Turkish Studies, and the Center for Women's Leadership.

The Hatfield School of Government is part of the College of Urban and Public Affairs (CUPA). CUPA is among the oldest colleges of its kind in the country. CUPA's academic programs prepare students to be effective leaders, collaborators, and problem-solvers. The College now contains, in addition to the Hatfield School of Government, the Toulan School of Urban Studies & Planning, the Department of Economics, and the Department of International and Global Studies. The College is dedicated to public service and social justice and does more than teach as it prepares students for community leadership and for making the world a better place.

About Portland State University

Portland State University (PSU) is Oregon's urban research university recognized for excellence in sustainability and community engagement, and is located in the heart of downtown Portland. PSU offers more than 200 degrees with opportunities to work with businesses, schools and organizations on real-world projects. The University's reputation is built on excellence through accessibility, innovation, collaboration, engagement, sustainability, and transformation. As the state's only urban public university, Portland State provides comprehensive undergraduate education as well as professional education to thousands of Oregonians as well as to students from over 90 countries around the globe. Portland State is renowned for innovative academic programs and excellence – particularly in fields related to urban and public affairs; business administration; science, technology, and sustainability – that combine student learning, research, and community engagement. The university's programs continue to garner national recognition and rankings and it was named one of the top ten innovative universities in the country (US News and World Report 2016-2017). To see an up-to-date list of the outstanding PSU rankings and references by Princeton Review, Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and other nationally respected organizations, please click on the following link: <http://www.pdx.edu/profile/portland-state-university-rankings-and-references>.

Portland State University's motto is "Let Knowledge Serve the City." The University is an anchor institution, providing the Portland region with a highly-educated population, substantial economic impact, and distinctive contributions to its culture. The University promotes access, inclusion and equity as pillars of excellence. It is committed to curiosity, collaboration, stewardship and sustainability; strives for excellence and innovation that solves problems, and believes everyone should be treated with integrity and respect.

Portland State University has approximately 27,200 students with over 21,000 undergraduates and 5,600 graduate students. Some 62 percent of the students are full time, approximately 76 percent are residents of Oregon, and 64 percent are transfer students. The university has approximately 7,000 employees, including research and instructional faculty, academic professionals, managers, and staff and administrators.

For more information about Portland State University, click here: <http://www.pdx.edu/aboutpsu>

Procedure to apply:

While review of applications and nominations will be accepted until the position is filled, parties who apply by December 11, 2017 will be given first consideration. To apply online, go to <http://www.highereddecisions.com/sss/> and select this vacancy. Please submit a PDF version of your curriculum vitae and letter of interest upon application. All applications and nominations will be held in confidence.

The projected start date for the Director is July 1, 2018.

For nominations or further information:

Beth Baldino
Senior Consultant
Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
Direct: (828) 645-8967
bbaldino@summitsearchsolutions.com

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3720

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenure Track Business and Public Policy Position

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Administration

The Business, Government & Society (BGS) Department in the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin teaches future leaders how to recognize and respond to the legal, ethical, social, and regulatory expectations that businesses face and contributes to important public policy debates through research that rigorously applies social science research methods to relevant questions at the intersection of business activity and government regulation.

BGS now invites applications for a tenure-track position starting in the 2018-2019 school year. The ideal candidate will possess a Ph.D. in political science or economics and have core research interest in areas such as political economy, CSR, business and public policy, and ethical decision making. Research interests in international political economy, sustainability, health care and technological innovation and regulation are a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrable methodological skill set, a rigorous research agenda relevant to business and its non-market environment, and the potential to publish in top journals in these areas.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/45561>

Additional information here: <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/28188>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3560

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Nonprofit Management and Policy, Assistant/Associate Professor

About University at Albany:

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy is part of the University at Albany. Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,300 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses. About one third of our undergraduates are the first in their family to go to college. In fall 2016, approximately 32 percent of all students at the University at Albany were students of color or of mixed race/ethnicity, and approximately 11 percent were international students.

Rockefeller College is home to a diverse group of scholars interested in teaching and research on issues of importance in the public and nonprofit sectors. Ranked 19th overall by US News and World Report, the Department of Public Administration and Policy offers an undergraduate major, a Master in Public Administration (MPA), and a PhD in Public Administration and Policy. The Department is nationally ranked in Information Technology Management, Public Management, Nonprofit Management, Public Policy Analysis, and Public Finance and Budgeting. We actively seek and support demographic diversity in our faculty and student body. To learn more about the Department visit our website at <http://www.albany.edu/rockefeller/pad.shtml>.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:

The Department of Public Administration & Policy in the University at Albany's Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Nonprofit Management and Policy position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor beginning fall 2018. Candidates should be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research and should be effective teachers. Faculty in Rockefeller College are expected to pursue an active research program, teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students, and engage in service activities.

Our program on Nonprofit Management, ranked 10th in US News and World Report, emphasizes the "nuts and bolts" of operating and sustaining nonprofit organizations and the tactics and strategies of creating social change toward greater equity and justice. We welcome applications from candidates engaged in high-quality nonprofit management and policy research in these areas. Candidates conducting research on nonprofit governance, resource generation and sustainability, nonprofit public policy, policy advocacy, collaboration, and/or nonprofit networks are especially encouraged to apply. We are open to scholars conducting research in domestic, international or global contexts, and who use qualitative and/or quantitative methods.

Requirements:

Minimum Qualifications:

- Applicants must have a PhD by September 1, 2018 from a college or university accredited by the US Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization.
- Senior applicants should have a well-established research program; junior applicants should have a trajectory to develop a tenurable research record.
- Applicants must be able to teach in Nonprofit Management and in core Public Policy or Public Administration courses, and be able to, or have the potential to, fulfill the mission and goals of Rockefeller College.
- Applicants must have the ability to work with a culturally diverse population.

Preferred Qualifications:

- The successful candidate's PhD will likely be in Public Administration, Public Management, Public Affairs, or an allied field such as Sociology or Political Science.
- Experience in a nonprofit organization, and working on or writing research grants for external funding, will be considered a plus in the selection process but not a requirement.

Additional Information:

Professional Rank and Salary Range: Assistant or Associate Professor; salary competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=86289>

Application Instructions:

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

- Cover letter addressed to Jennifer Dodge, Chair of the Search Committee
- Curriculum vitae
- Writing sample
- Teaching evaluations (associate faculty only submit teaching evaluations for the past 4 semesters)
- Three letters of recommendation and graduate transcripts, emailed to PADsearch@albany.edu

Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.). See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.

Returning Applicants - Login to your UAlbany Careers Account to check your completed application.

A review of applications will start October 1, 2017 and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2945

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Southern Utah University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Job Description: Full-time tenure-track position teaching a range of American Politics and other political science courses.

General Duties & Responsibilities:

- Teach 12 credit hours each semester in undergraduate political science courses (SUU places major emphasis on quality teaching).
- Carry out committee and/or special assignments upon request of the department chair or dean of the college.
- Make recommendations for equipment, texts, audio-visual materials, reference materials, etc., to support program instruction.
- Advise Political Science students.
- Develop course content, objectives, and evaluation systems for course offerings.
- Provide on-going assessment of course offerings and degree requirements.
- Perform all other duties as assigned.

Required Qualifications:

- PhD in political science or related discipline, with emphasis in American politics. ABD nearing completion in appropriate field considered. JD with significant teaching experience in American politics and political thought also considered. Candidates should be prepared to demonstrate how their degree field and/or experience will supplement the department and benefit students.
- Ability to effectively teach political science courses, with emphasis on American Politics and American Government.
- Ongoing professional scholarly activity.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- Support collegiality and stewardship concepts.
- Ability and willingness to adapt courses to current technology applicable to the discipline and teach some online courses.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to teach political thought and an introductory research methods course desired.
- Background in identity/minority politics desired.
- Effective teaching record in an accredited institution of higher learning preferred.

Additional Information:

- See institution website for application information/link: <https://jobs.suu.edu/postings/1793>
- Excellent benefits include an additional 14.2% of salaried amount contributed to individual retirement account by the university.
- The area around Southern Utah University is surrounded by beautiful mountains and national parks, and enjoys a relatively low cost of living.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 2/26/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4073

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor and Counterterrorism Option Director, MPS-HLS

Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor and Counterterrorism Option Director, MPS-HLS

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a three-year, non-tenure track position as Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor in Political Science and Director for the Counterterrorism Option in the interdisciplinary Master of Professional Studies in Homeland Security (MPS-HLS) online degree program. The position entails teaching in residence and online classes in terrorism and security, including the design and teaching of Master's level online coursework on terrorism and counterterrorism, as well as management of and advising within the Counterterrorism Option.

Candidates should have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science or in another discipline related to Terrorism and Homeland Security, though qualified applicants at the ABD level will also be considered. Professional experience in counterterrorism fields and/or on-line teaching experience is preferred.

For a more detailed description of the Master of Professional Studies in Homeland Security (MPS-HLS) program in which the Counterterrorism Option will be located, please visit the website: <https://www.worldcampus.psu.edu/degrees-and-certificates/penn-state-online-homeland-security-counterterrorism-masters/overview> To learn more about the Political Science department, please visit our website at <http://polisci.la.psu.edu/>.

The start date for the position is July 1, 2018. Please include in your application the following: a letter of application detailing relevant qualifications for the position, a current CV, a writing sample, sample syllabi and teaching evaluations. All candidates should also request three letters of reference to be sent directly to the search committee at: <mailto:plscapplications@psu.edu>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Apply online at <http://apprkr.com/1172266>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-34f384e1bc2d420b9adf701ee5cdb7dc

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4060

University of Redlands

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Theory, Latino Politics, African American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Candidates with interests in political theory, politics and race, and public policy (and especially those with an interest in bridging those fields in their teaching and research) are especially encouraged to apply. The standard six-course load for the position will be distributed across fall, spring and May terms according to the candidate's interests.

The department especially welcomes applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position. Candidates who apply are asked to identify their strengths and experiences in assisting diverse student populations to accomplish curricular goals.

The University of Redlands is a private, comprehensive liberal arts institution located 60 miles east of Los Angeles in a town of 70,000. The campus is surrounded by orange groves and sits at the base of the San Bernardino Mountains, one hour from the coast, and 40 miles west of Palm Springs. Information about the University and its mission and facilities is available at www.redlands.edu.

Required and Desired Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Evidence of success at college teaching and an ability to work in a collaborative, team-based environment are desired.

INQUIRIES: Candidates may contact search committee chair Steve Wuhs at steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu with additional questions or concerns.

TO APPLY : Please submit the following to apply@redlands.edu: a cover letter, current CV, evidence of teaching and research excellence, and three letters of reference. Applications packets must be received by March 15, 2018 to ensure consideration for the position.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN.

MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/15/2018

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4061

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Management and Director of Political Management Program

The George Washington University Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Management and Director of Political Management Program, Graduate School of Political Management (GSPM)

The College of Professional Studies (CPS) of The George Washington University invites applications from qualified applicants for this full-time fiscal year faculty position at the assistant or associate professor level with an administrative appointment as the Director of the Political Management Program at the Graduate School of Political Management. This is a twelve-month, non-tenure-track, renewable appointment with an initial appointment period of three years, beginning as early as August 1, 2018.

The GSPM master's degree in Political Management educates students in applied politics, as they relate to campaigns and elections, advocacy and lobbying, political leadership and strategic communications. (For more information on the program, see gspm.gwu.edu). Political Management is one of the four degree programs in the Graduate School of Political Management, together with Legislative Affairs, Strategic Public Relations and a Spanish-language degree in Political Communication and Strategic Governance.

Duties and Responsibilities: The faculty member is responsible for teaching 4 courses per year (over 3 terms), undertaking research, participating in public thought leadership and media opportunities, advising students, contributing to the school's marketing and recruiting efforts, offering curricular and program support, recruiting and onboarding adjunct faculty, overseeing the program's online education provider, and participating in the advancement of GSPM's mission via service.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have: 1) an advanced degree such as a PhD, a law degree, or other relevant degree by the date of appointment; 2) experience in the field of applied politics; 3) demonstrated ability to teach graduate level courses in political management; 4) demonstrated excellence in teaching both online and in class.

How to apply: Complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/49455> and upload a cover letter and Curriculum Vitae.

Only complete applications will be considered. Review of applications will begin on March 19, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4054

Texas A&M University - Central Texas

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Texas A&M University-Central Texas was born in the spirit of community cooperation on May 27, 2009 as a member of The Texas A&M University System, one of the largest systems of higher education in the nation. A&M-Central Texas is a military friendly, upper-level institution offering bachelors and master's degrees for life's next chapter.

Job Summary:

Primarily responsible for the teaching/learning process and will also participate in the necessary operations of the institution. Other responsibilities include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in Public Administration or related area, conduct research, advise students, serve on departmental and university committees and perform other duties as assigned. The ability to teach courses in a new Master's of Public Administration program is essential. While subfields are open, a focus on American Politics would be ideal, along with sufficient training to teach introductory graduate courses in statistics and/or formal modeling.

Required Education/Experience/Skills:

Earned doctorate Political Science or Public Administration. Must possess the minimum credential standards of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) which normally include at least 18 graduate semester credit hours in the subject area or suitable approved justifications. Must exhibit the potential for a sustainable record of scholarly activity.

HOURS: Faculty Hours/TBD

SALARY: Commensurate with experience

Open Until Filled

Interested applicants MUST apply online at https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/TAMUCT\_External. The department requires a cover letter, vitae, three letters of reference, and teaching philosophy for this position. Official transcripts will be required upon hire.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4053

Northwest Missouri State University

Rank: Instructor or Assistant Professor of Political Science

PRIMARY DUTY: To teach lower-division courses in Political Science, including a general education course in American Government and Politics, and upper-division courses depending upon the qualifications of the faculty member and the needs of the department. Successful candidate will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching within a comprehensive state University, engagement in student and University service, and the promise of scholarly achievement.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

1. Teach American Government General Education courses
2. Teach upper division courses in Political Science depending upon the qualifications of the faculty member and the needs of the department
3. Participate in scholarly research in academic field
4. Participate in department service, including student organization assistance and sponsorship
5. Participate in University service, including committee work
6. Advise and support students
7. Perform other duties as assigned

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

Education: ABD or Doctoral degree in Political Science

Skills: Teaching ability in Political Science and scholarly research

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Experience: College-level teaching experience in Political Science

WORKING CONDITIONS: The position entails classroom instruction in general education and major courses in classes typically ranging from 15 to 60 students. Faculty maintain regular office hours within the department area to support students.

EQUIPMENT/MATERIALS USED: Faculty are issued a personal laptop. All classrooms are technology-enhanced (document stations, video equipment, wireless Internet access)

TYPICAL PHYSICAL DEMANDS: Ability to meet classroom functions

COMMUNITY: Northwest Missouri State University is located in Maryville, Missouri, a community of 12,000 with a diverse economy, and a strong industrial base. Maryville is located 45 miles north of St. Joseph, Missouri and 90 miles north of Kansas City, Missouri. For more information visit the website at www.maryville.org.

UNIVERSITY: Founded in 1905, Northwest is a coeducational, primarily residential four-year university that offers a broad range of undergraduate and selected graduate programs on its Maryville campus as well as its Northwest-Kansas City location and through Northwest Online.

With an enrollment of about 6,500 students, Northwest has met all measures of the state's performance-based funding initiative during four of the model's first five years, and U.S. News and World Report has ranked it as the top moderately selective regional university in Missouri during three of the last four years. Safewise ranks the city of Maryville as one of the "Safest College Towns in America," while BestCollegesOnline.org has named the Northwest campus one of the "50 Most Amazing University Botanical Gardens and Arboretums in the U.S."

The University boasts a 59 percent graduation rate, which is in the 89th percentile of Northwest's national peer group. In addition, 96 percent of Northwest bachelor's degree earners and 97 percent of master's degree earners secure employment or continue their education within six months of graduation, according to the most recent data. Zippia, a career website, recently named Northwest the best college in Missouri for getting a job.

Northwest places a high emphasis on profession-based learning to help graduates get a jumpstart on their careers.

Students have opportunities to build their resumes with experiences on campus in nearly every area of study, including the Horace Mann Laboratory School, National Public Radio affiliate KXCV, the R.T. Wright Farm, Mozingo Outdoor Education Recreation Area or Knacktive, a student-driven integrated digital marketing communications agency.

For more information, visit www.nwmissouri.edu.

COLLEGE: The College of Arts and Sciences is one of three academic colleges at Northwest. Comprised of five departments and 16 academic areas, the College offers 104 different major and minor programs. The College is the home of Northwest's General Education program and serves all students across campus, regardless of their major. For more information visit our website at <http://www.nwmissouri.edu/academics/arts/index.htm>.

DEPARTMENT: The Department of Humanities and Social Sciences offers majors and minors in Geography, Geographic Information Science, History, Humanities, Philosophy, Political Science, Comprehensive Crisis Response, and Social Science Education. In addition, minors are offered in Public History, International Studies, and Criminal Justice. The department offers a certification program in Social Science Education in cooperation with the School of Education. For more information visit our website at <https://www.nwmissouri.edu/socialsciences/index.htm>.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications will be reviewed beginning March 9, 2018 or until the position is filled

DATE AVAILABLE: August 15, 2018

TO APPLY: Please fill out a Northwest application online by clicking <http://agency.governmentjobs.com/nwmissouri/default.cfm> to reach our employment opportunities listing. You will also need to submit a cover letter, resume, and the names, addresses, and phone numbers of three references in order for your application materials to be complete. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at 660-562-1127 or email mdrake@nwmissouri.edu for more information.

APPLICATION MATERIALS: A complete application consists of: (1) a letter describing your teaching experience and suitability for the position; (2) a current resume; (3) transcripts (copies acceptable at time of application); (4) three references including telephone numbers and email addresses to contact them

INQUIRIES FOR THE POSITION CAN BE MADE TO:

Dr. Dawn Gilley, Chair
Department of Humanities and Social Sciences
Northwest Missouri State University
800 University Drive
Maryville, MO 64468
Phone: 660-562-1290
Email: dgilley@nwmissouri.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4050

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Politics at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position.

The individual, who will work with Professor Jonathan Kastellec, will be asked to participate in projects that examine American political institutions. The postdoc will work on a variety of projects, which may include research on judicial and legislative behavior, as well as broader questions surrounding the study of law and courts.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date. The successful candidate will have a strong background in quantitative research, and knowledge of research on political institutions. Strong data skills, including programming in statistical packages, and experience compiling and manipulating large data sets are highly desirable. The candidate should also be well organized, flexible, attend to detail, and respond to deadlines in a timely fashion.

Applicants must apply online here: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/5822> and submit a cover letter, CV and contact information for two recommendations, one of which should be from the principal advisor of the doctorate program. For best consideration please apply by March 15, 2018. The appointment is for one year with the possibility for extension pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. This position is subject to the university's background check policy.

Salary and benefits will be based on the University's post-doctoral research associate compensation package.

Requisition No: D-18-POL-00013

Start Date:

Date Posted: 2/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4052

Harvard University*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2018-2019

Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2018-2019. Offered by the Program on Constitutional Government, Harvard University - Harvey Mansfield, Director. The Program on Constitutional Government in the Center for American Political Studies and the FAS Department of Government at Harvard University will offer one postdoctoral fellowship for the 2018-2019 academic year. The stipend is $55,000. Applicants must have received their doctorates no earlier than spring 2015 and no later than June 2018. They should have a record of teaching and writing in the fields of political theory or American government and politics, with an emphasis on the theoretical foundations or institutional and political consequences of the American Constitution. A cover letter, resume, research proposal, and brief writing sample with names of two references should be sent in that order as one pdf document, labeled as such: Last Name, First Name – PCG Postdoc app 2018-19. Applications and any questions should be directed to Laura Donaldson at ldonaldson@fas.harvard.edu. The application review process will begin on May 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 5/1/2018

Date Posted: 2/15/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4046

Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP), a program in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position.

The individual will be asked to participate in projects studying the role of political and electoral institutions. The postdoc will work on a variety of projects, which may include research on campaign finance, legislative behavior, presidential policy making, and judicial politics.

The successful candidate must have a PhD and a strong background in quantitative research, and knowledge of research on political institutions. Strong data skills, including programming in statistical packages, and experience compiling and manipulating large data sets are highly desirable. The candidate should also be well organized, flexible, attend to detail, and respond to deadlines in a timely fashion.

Applicants must apply online here: <https://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs> (D-18-WWS-00025) and submit a cover letter, CV and contact information for two recommendations, one of which should be from the principal advisor of the doctorate program.

The appointment is for one year with the possibility for extension pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. This position is subject to the university's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4044

Cornell College*Rank: Full-time Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Parties & Organizations, United States

The Department of Politics invites applications for a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position in American politics for the 2018-2019 academic year. This position may change to tenure-track in the following year.

Teaching load is 6 classes over the course of the year: three sections of introductory American Politics and one section each of Campaigns and Elections, Media and Politics, and Political Parties and Organized Interests. A candidate with appropriate training and/or experience could substitute a course in Constitutional Law for Political Parties and Organized Interests course.

Qualifications: MA in Political Science or a closely related discipline is required, Ph.D. or ABD preferred.

The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Cornell College is a selective liberal arts college distinguished by its One Course At A Time curriculum, which allows students to learn at the speed of life with more opportunities for off-campus study, full-time internships, and research blocks.

Academic immersion and unparalleled flexibility attract an ambitious student body from 45 states and 18 foreign countries. External endorsements include selection as one of the Colleges That Change Lives, a U.S. News Top 100 liberal arts college, and a Fiske Guide to Colleges Best Buy. Founded in 1853, Cornell's picturesque hilltop campus contains a mix of historic and modern facilities, ranging from the majestic King Chapel to the newly renovated Thomas Commons. It is located in Mount Vernon, Iowa, an urban fringe community recognized by Frommer's as one of "America's Coolest Small Towns" and located in the heart of Iowa's Creative Corridor.

All qualified and interested applicants must submit the following application material through Cornell's online application system (<https://cornellcollege.applicantpro.com/jobs/718039.html>).

- Letter of Application/Cover Letter
- Current Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- Sample Syllabus (if available) and evidence of teaching success
- Teaching Statement - describing teaching interests and methods, including examples of individual commitment to diversity in the classroom/campus community
- Research/Professional Interest Statement
- A list of three (3) Professional References (Letters of recommendation will be requested from selected candidates at a later date.)

- Undergraduate and Graduate Transcripts (Unofficial copies are acceptable. Official transcripts are needed prior to employment.)

Applications received by February 26, 2018 will receive full consideration, with later applications reviewed if necessary. Please direct any questions regarding the application or search process to Search Committee Chair, Dr. David Yamanishi at dyamanishi@cornellcollege.edu

For more information about the Politics program, please visit the website at

<https://www.cornellcollege.edu/politics/faculty/index.shtml>

Cornell is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from underrepresented groups. Cornell complies with Iowa's Smoke-Free Air Act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4032

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

Specializations: African American Politics, Latino Politics, Research Methods

Visiting Assistant Professor Position in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rhodes College, a highly selective, national liberal arts college located in Memphis, TN, invites applications for a one-year appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics, beginning in August 2018. Rhodes College is especially interested in attracting candidates from historically underrepresented groups and/or those with a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse and historically underrepresented populations. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to teaching in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate must have classroom experience and must be able to teach the introductory survey course in U.S. Politics and the research methods course. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. We particularly encourage candidates to apply who could teach in the areas of race, ethnicity, and politics; or public policy. Preference will be given to candidates whose courses can contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Africana Studies, Educational Studies, Environmental Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latin American and Latinx Studies, or Urban Studies. The teaching responsibility is 3 courses per semester. The Ph. D. in political science is preferred. Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities. <http://www.rhodes.edu/content/our-city>.

Please apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu; only online applications will be accepted. Completed applications will include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, syllabi for the course in US Politics and the course in research methods, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are encouraged to address in their letter of application their interest in teaching at a liberal arts college, their teaching philosophy, and their proposed teaching contributions to the department. The application must also include a separate statement that addresses how the applicant will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department and in interdisciplinary programs, and how their experiences with teaching, scholarship and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values.

Review of completed applications will begin March 19, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The online application system will solicit letters of recommendation electronically from the candidate's recommenders, once their contact information has been entered by the candidate and all other required application materials have been submitted. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews. For further information, please contact Dr. Amy Jasperson, chair of the search committee, at jaspersona@rhodes.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4036

Beloit College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Beloit College, a selective liberal arts college with a proud tradition of innovation, seeks an energetic teacher-scholar for a replacement position of five courses per year. The successful candidate will be responsible for introductory courses in political theory and US government, and for upper-level courses in the history of political theory, American political thought, and constitutional law. Ability to approach these courses from critical perspectives is a plus. We prefer candidates with a desire to collaborate with colleagues from other disciplines, and who develop pedagogical approaches that foster creativity and apply theoretical knowledge to address real problems such as institutionalized racism. Our friendly department offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2018-2019 academic year with a strong possibility of renewal.

Because equity and inclusion are central to our students' liberal arts education and vital to the thriving of all members of our residential learning community, Beloit College aspires to be an actively anti-racist institution. We recognize our aspiration as ongoing and institution-wide, involving collective commitment and accountability. We seek employees who are committed to and will actively contribute to our efforts to celebrate our cultural and intellectual richness and be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity.

Located in a diverse community close to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago, Beloit attracts students from across the United States and the world. The college emphasizes excellence in teaching, learning beyond the traditional classroom, international perspectives, and collaborative research among students and faculty. It is recognized as one of the Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should email a cover letter, c.v., three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, writing sample, and sample syllabi polstheory2018@beloit.edu

Inquiries about the position can be sent to John Rapp, chair of the search committee, at: rappja@beloit.edu. Review of applications begins immediately and all applications received by March 1st 2018 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4021

Skidmore College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Skidmore College invites applications for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in American Politics with a specialization in the presidency and Congress. We encourage applications from historically under-represented groups as well as individuals who have experience with diverse student populations. The College is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching, research, and/or service. The appointment will begin in fall 2018. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses on American political institutions that will include The United States Presidency, The Politics of Congress, and Introduction to American Politics. The successful candidate will also have the option to teach special topics courses that coincide with teaching or research interests. The teaching load is 3-2. The Department is committed to limiting as much as possible the course preparations of new faculty.

Skidmore is a liberal arts institution of approximately 2,400 students, with 21% students of color, and 248 full-time faculty members, located in upstate New York. We seek to attract an academically and culturally diverse faculty, especially those who can contribute to the growing diversity and excellence of the community through their teaching, scholarship, and service.

Enthusiasm for advising, teaching, and mentoring a diverse population of students is essential.

A Ph.D. in Political Science at time of appointment is strongly preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. The application deadline is March 7, 2018.

To learn more about and apply for this position please visit us online at: <http://careers.skidmore.edu/postings/1507>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/7/2018

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4017

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship (Regional Studies)

The United States Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, seeks to fill a Post-Doctoral Fellowship with regional studies expertise in the Department of National Security and Strategy (DNSS) in the School of Strategic Landpower with an annual salary between $48,777 and $53,866. Fellowships provide up to one year of support for individuals to conduct research after attainment of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree. Duration of the fellowships is 9 to 12 months, beginning no earlier than 1 July 2018, and no later than 1 September 2018. Initial appointment is for one year, with the possibility of extension to a second year depending on the needs of the institution, performance, and availability of funds. This is a fulltime civilian faculty position at the US Army's most senior institution for professional military education. The Army War College educates the top echelon of US military officers of all services, US government civilians, and military officers from scores of foreign countries. It develops strategic leaders by providing a rigorous curriculum of theoretical and professional subjects, leading to a Master's of Strategic Studies accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

Postdoctoral fellows serve in the capacity of junior faculty and contribute to research and teaching at the U.S. Army War College. Principal duties of this position include conducting research on issues related to the fellow's area of expertise under the guidance of a senior faculty member; publishing articles; assisting in the planning and conducting of student-faculty research activities; teach selected lessons in the core curriculum or co-teach an elective under the guidance of a DNSS faculty member; conduct lectures and present research findings at academic conferences or other professional venues. The position comes with a generous compensation package as well as with the many benefits of working at an innovative, vibrant, and collegial military educational institution.

For additional information, and to apply for the position, please visit our website at <http://www.armywarcollege.edu/>. On the menu bar, click "About Us" and then "Employment Opportunities" to find the "Post-Doctoral Fellow in DNSS at the USAWC" job announcement. Or, visit the USAJobs website at <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/487138800>

Applications are due by 15 February 2018.

A talented, committed, and diverse faculty is our most important resource in educating the nation's future strategic leaders. We are fully committed to equal employment opportunity and compliance with the full range of fair employment practices and non-discrimination laws. Federal law dictates that the position may be offered to US citizens only

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 2/15/2018

Date Posted: 2/2/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4011

Allegheny College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Allegheny College invites applicants for a one-year position with possible second-year renewal beginning August of 2018. The Department seeks a dynamic teacher and scholar focused on American Politics.

Ph.D. at the time of appointment is preferred. Teaching load includes three courses per semester. All faculty are expected to participate in delivering college-wide freshman/sophomore seminars that emphasize writing and speaking. Allegheny College is a highly selective private liberal arts college in NW Pennsylvania with an increasingly diverse student body and a dedicated faculty of teacher-scholars. Candidates with experience or interest in teaching students from traditionally underrepresented groups are especially welcome to apply.

Candidates should send letter of application, c.v., and teaching evaluations or other indicators of effective teaching electronically (in PDF format) to Professor Shannan Mattiace, Chair, Department of Political Science, c/o Sarah Holt, Allegheny College, Box 20, 520 N. Main St., Meadville, PA 16335 (poliscisearch@allegheny.edu). Candidates should request three current letters of recommendation and have them sent electronically to the above email address. (If not possible, paper copies acceptable). The Department will begin reviewing applicant files on March 1, 2018.

Applicant must be authorized to work in the United States to be considered. Allegheny College is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, inclusion, and equity. Women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups are highly encouraged to apply. Allegheny does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, or national origin.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4007

Warren Wilson College

Rank: Political Science: American Government Faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science: American Government

The Department of History and Political Science, Warren Wilson College, seeks candidates for an entry-level position in political science with a primary field in American government and a secondary field in international relations, political economy, or political theory. The successful candidate will teach a range of courses across American politics, as well as courses related to their secondary field. This is a full-time, continuing position beginning July 1, 2018 and requires a Ph.D. in political science (in hand by August 1, 2018.)

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation through our online application. Letters of recommendation can be submitted with the application or sent via email with a subject line including "Letter of recommendation for (candidate's name)". Please see application for more details about submissions. Priority will be given to applications received by 5PM EST on Monday, February 19, 2018. All applications must be received by no later than 5PM EST Friday, March 2, 2018 to be considered. To apply, visit our website: <https://warren-wilson.breezy.hr/p/8d0b6601cef8-political-science-american-government-faculty>

Warren Wilson College does not offer tenure. Full time faculty are hired under extended contract eligibility. Contracts are awarded annually for a period of three years at which time a faculty is reviewed for a three-year contract. After completing these three years, the faculty is then reviewed for a seven-year contract and for successive seven-year contracts thereafter. This full-time, extended-contract-eligible faculty position begins July 1, 2018.

Warren Wilson College (www.warren-wilson.edu) is a vibrant, nationally recognized liberal arts college with an enrollment of approximately 600 undergraduates located on a 1,135-acre campus in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Asheville, North Carolina. The education program incorporates experiential learning, challenging work experiences, and deliberate community engagement, with a commitment to sustainable practices.

We desire a diverse faculty and a community that reflects a global outlook. Warren Wilson College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, or sexual orientation.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/1/2018

Date Posted: 2/1/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4008

Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: VAP American Politics and American Political Thought

Visiting Assistant Professor (One Year)

Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a one year visiting position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning Fall 2018. Ph.D preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper level courses in American political thought and American political development. Other teaching and research areas might include religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; rural and/or labor politics; and power and the American presidency. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Applications received by March 16, 2018 will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled. The department will conduct preliminary reviews at this year's WPSA meeting in San Francisco. Applicants should indicate whether they will be attending the meeting.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and arrange to have three letters of reference sent. Applicants should submit all materials through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/48507>. Additional inquiries can be directed to Professor Jodi Dean, Search Chair, at jdean@hws.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4001

University of Virginia

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Program on Constitutionalism and Democracy (PCD) in the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for one-year Research Associate / Postdoc positions (with limited teaching), with an anticipated start date of August 25, 2018 and ending May 24, 2019. This research associate position is renewable, based on performance and continued availability of funding, for an additional academic year. Pay is competitive, and benefits are available. PCD is directed by Professors James W. Ceaser and Rita Koganzon. It promotes scholarship and undergraduate teaching that is informed by political theory and that focuses on the American political tradition.

Applicants for the research associate position must have achieved the status of ABD by February 10, 2018 and must be on track to complete a PhD by June 2018. All requirements for the Ph.D., including a successful defense, must be completed by June 20, 2018.

Research associates will conduct their own research and teach one undergraduate course per semester, either "The American Political Tradition" (PLAP 2250) or "American Political Economy" (PLAP 3500). Fellows at their discretion may request to teach a second course in one of the semesters.

To apply, please submit a Candidate Profile online through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>); search for Posting Number 0622244. Please attach: a curriculum vitae, cover letter, brief statement of research interest, contact information for three (3) references, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages), and an unofficial copy of your graduate transcript.

Review of applications will begin on or after Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2018, and the positions are open until filled.

Questions regarding the application process in JOBS@UVA should be directed to Ms. Bonnie Bragg at bb6a@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3988

University of Virginia

Rank: Predoctoral Research Specialist

University of Virginia invites applications for one-year predoctoral Research Specialist positions (with limited teaching), with an anticipated start date of August 25, 2018 and ending August 24, 2019. This end date may be extended, based on performance and continued availability of funding, through May 24, 2020. Pay is competitive, and benefits are available. PCD is directed by Professors James W. Ceaser and Rita Koganzon. It promotes scholarship and undergraduate teaching that is informed by political theory and that focuses on the American political tradition.

Applicants for the research specialist position must be on schedule to acquire the status of ABD by June 30, 2018 with a planned completion of PhD by May 24, 2019.

Research specialists will conduct their own research and teach one undergraduate course per semester, either "The American Political Tradition" (PLAP 2250) or "American Political Economy" (PLAP 3500). Research specialists at their discretion may request to teach a second course in one of the semesters.

Research specialists will be responsible for completing their dissertation, using the methods and techniques appropriate to their project. Research specialists will also be tasked with teaching one or both of the two courses mentioned, which will require as background a concentration in political theory and/or an approach to American politics focusing on American political thought and American political development.

To apply, please submit a staff application online through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>); search for Posting Number 0622468. Please attach: a curriculum vitae, cover letter, brief statement of research interest, contact information for three (3) references, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages), and an unofficial copy of your graduate transcript (attach as Other 1).

Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2018, and the positions are open until filled.

Questions regarding the application process in JOBS@UVA should be directed to Ms. Bonnie Bragg at bb6a@virginia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/24/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3987

Rider University

Rank: Director, Rebovich Institute for NJ Politics

Rider University invites applications for the Director of the Rebovich Institute for New Jersey Politics who will oversee the day-to-day activities of the Institute, including: planning its research agenda; developing and promoting programs for students and the general public; branding and marketing Institute activities; engaging University alumni/ae and community groups, corporate neighbors, associations, etc. interested in politics and government; acting as a media contact by providing expert analysis of New Jersey politics; coordinating with University Communications in providing expert commentators on issues of politics and public policy; and disseminating polling and other data provided by the Department of Political Science. Further, the Director will work directly with students in a mentoring role, providing counsel on engaged learning opportunities, resume writing, networking, skills development, internships, and job placement. The Director will seek to raise additional funds to augment support from the University for Institute programming and intern scholarships for Rider students. In addition, the Director will work with faculty in the Department of Political Science to develop polling data and other material for dissemination to the news media. The Director may teach classes for appropriate adjunct compensation if requested to do so by the Department of Political Science and/or the Honors Program, as suitable for the Director's schedule. ??Successful candidate must be a distinguished scholar or practitioner; currently or potentially a public intellectual with a deep understanding of the subject matter and a dedication to providing students with engaged learning opportunities such as internships, seminars, speakers, and participation in research projects. Having connections that will enable the Institute to collaborate with local, regional, and (ideally) national governmental, NGO, corporate, and communications organizations is highly desirable. ??The Rider University community is composed of faculty, staff and students from a wide range of cultural backgrounds. Candidates with a demonstrated commitment supportive of the multicultural needs of Rider University and the surrounding community are highly desired. ??Rider University has once again been included as one of the nation's best universities by US News & World Report 2018 and remained in the top tier in the Regional Universities - North category. Additionally, The Princeton Review named Rider among its "Best 382 Colleges" in the nation. Both publications have ranked the University favorably in their respective surveys for more than a decade. ??Please visit RiderHires at <https://rider.peopleadmin.com/> to apply for position no. 300033.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 1/19/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3964Alma College*Rank: Visiting Assistant ProfessorSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor in US Politics and History

Alma College in Alma, Michigan invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor position in U.S. political science and history, beginning in August 2018, with the possibility of renewal for a second year. The successful candidate will teach six courses in American politics and history, equally divided between the Departments of History and Political Science. We especially welcome candidates who can contribute to inter-disciplinary programs, such as Public Affairs and Policy, Environmental Studies, etc. A Ph.D. in U.S. political science or history (with the qualifications to teach the other field) is required by August 2018.

Review of applications will begin on March 5, 2018. Please e-mail all application materials to Barbara Tripp (tripp@alma.edu)

- Cover Letter

- Curriculum Vitae
- Transcripts
- Teaching Statement
- Contact Information for three references

A Phi Beta Kappa institution, Alma is a selective, baccalaureate liberal arts college committed to academic excellence and an equal opportunity employer committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty, staff and student body. For more information about the College, visit www.alma.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 1/18/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3963University of Maine*Rank: Assistant ProfessorSubfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, American Government and PoliticsSpecializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Political Science at the University of Maine invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track academic-year faculty position in Political Theory and U.S. Constitutional Law at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2018.

Responsibilities and Duties: This position includes teaching, research, and service. The faculty member will maintain a productive research program. The standard teaching load is 2/3, with a mix of introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses. Teaching and service responsibilities include holding regular office hours, advising students on their course of study, aiding them in the registration process, advising students in pre-law and the interdisciplinary minor in Legal Studies, developing relationships with the Maine legal community, and participating actively in the internal governance of the department and representing it in interactions with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and university communities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected.

Qualifications: We are interested in hiring a broadly trained political theorist who can teach courses in the history of political thought and contemporary political theory as well as on U.S. constitutional law and related topics. Additional requirements include evidence of ability for success in university-level teaching and evidence of ability to develop and pursue a research agenda, including peer-reviewed publications, in the candidate's area of expertise. ABDs may apply but a Ph.D. in Political Science or equivalent field is required by the start of the position.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of application describing their credentials and experience relative to the qualifications above, a current C.V., official or unofficial graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations, a one page teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. Additional information, such as official transcripts, course syllabi, and writing samples may be requested at a later time. Review of applications will begin immediately, and continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by February 10, 2018 will be assured full consideration.

Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit applications electronically to: <https://umaine.hiretouch.com>. Letters of Reference should be emailed to polisci@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Amy Fried, Professor and Chair, Department of Political Science, amyfried@maine.edu, 207-581-1797.

We are a faculty that values work-life balance and particularly maintaining a productively collegial workplace. The greater Bangor-Orono area offers access to a wealth of outdoor activities, a thriving cultural scene, and is close to Bar Harbor, Acadia National Park, and Portland. The University of Maine is the flagship campus of the University of Maine System. It is the state's land grant and sea grant university, enrolling over 11,000 students. The Department offers a BA degree. Further information about the Department can be found at <https://umaine.edu/polisci/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. The Department of Political Science encourages applications from a diverse pool of applicants.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3958

Barry University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Department of History and Political Science at Barry University in Miami Shores, Florida invites applications for a full-time, continuing track position of Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in August, 2018.

The Department offers bachelor's degrees in Political Science, International Studies, History and Pre-law and is housed in the College of Arts & Sciences.

This full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science teaches undergraduate courses; provides academic advising and mentoring to undergraduate students; contributes departmental, college, university, community, and professional service; and engages in sustained scholarship.

Applications should be submitted by March 1, 2018.

Essential Functions

- The applicant must be able to teach courses on American politics and institutions, or on international relations, international organizations, and international political economy.

- The ideal candidate would also be able to teach research methods and/or political theory to undergraduates. In addition, the applicant should be able to teach Introduction to American Government.
- The course load is 12 credits per semester. Experience with developing and teaching distance courses is desirable.
- Additional duties include academic advising, professional service within the university and the community, and ongoing scholarship.

Qualifications/Requirements

- The position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialization in American Government and/or International Relations and with a secondary area in research methods.
- Experience with developing and teaching distance courses is desirable.
- The applicant should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vita, an official transcript, and three letters of professional reference.

Benefits: Barry University offers a comprehensive benefits package to full-time employees that includes health, dental, vision, life insurance, retirement, tuition assistance, paid time off and work/life balance initiatives such as wellness programs, spirituality in the workplace, and training and development.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/1/2018

Date Posted: 1/12/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3953

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Dean

Subfield(s): Administration, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

DEAN, COLLEGE OF THE LIBERAL ARTS

The Pennsylvania State University seeks candidates for the position of Dean, College of the Liberal Arts. Penn State is the land-grant University of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with the University Park campus as its administrative hub, 23 other campuses located throughout the state, and its online World Campus. Reporting directly to the Executive Vice President and Provost of the University, the Dean serves as the principal academic and administrative officer of the College. The Dean holds the Susan Welch Dean's Chair and is known as the Susan Welch Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts. The Dean's Chair was named in honor of Dean Welch with an endowment gift of $5 million in 2010.

The position requires a distinguished scholar and strong proponent of the liberal arts. The new dean will work aggressively to advance the College's position as a leader among institutions of higher education in the creation and dissemination of knowledge for increasingly diverse and global constituencies. The successful candidate will be able to lead and manage the College in a multi-disciplinary and highly interdisciplinary research university. Prior leadership experience with responsibility for strategic management of personnel, programs, communication, and resources is required, along with an ability to inspire students to expand their knowledge and understand their impact in a multicultural, global society. In addition, the successful candidate should be a visionary leader; have a commitment to high-quality disciplinary and interdisciplinary education, as well as diversity and inclusion; a record of accomplishment in research, teaching, and fundraising; and familiarity with national issues affecting undergraduate and graduate education, with credentials appropriate for a tenured appointment at the rank of professor. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

The College of the Liberal Arts, founded in 1909, has approximately 6,000 undergraduate and 850 graduate students enrolled in residence, and an additional 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in online certificate and degree programs delivered through the Penn State World Campus. The College's faculty teach about 30 percent of all undergraduate credit hours at University Park and a higher percentage in the World Campus. The College has more than 700 full-time faculty members, about half of whom are on the tenure track, including many who are recognized leaders in their fields. Departments in the College span the humanities, social sciences, and the life sciences and many of the departments are among the top 10 of their peers in the last National Research Council rankings. Several interdisciplinary research centers and institutes, within the College and across the University, enhance the College's teaching, research, and outreach missions. College centers support research ranging from ethics to cognitive neuroscience, from the Civil War to human evolution, and from the bilingual brain to counterterrorism.

The 2017-18 operating budget for the College is approximately $102 million, with the World Campus generating significant additional income. In 2016-17, the College had about $30 million in research expenditures. The College has an endowment of approximately $130 million with more than 600 active funds, and an annual fundraising commitment that averages $15 million per year.

The College provides instruction and research opportunities in 21 departments and schools—African American Studies; African Studies; Anthropology; Applied Linguistics; Asian Studies; Classics and Ancient Mediterranean Studies; Communication Arts and Sciences; Comparative Literature; Economics; English; French and Francophone Studies; Germanic and Slavic Languages and Literatures; History; Jewish Studies; Labor and Employment Relations; Philosophy; Political Science; Psychology; Sociology and Criminology; Spanish, Italian and Portuguese; and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

To apply for this position, send (cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information of four references) via the University's employment web site at <https://psu.jobs/job/76213>. Please send any questions to the Chair of the Dean, Liberal Arts Search Committee at PSU-Search@psu.edu. The Search Committee will review applications and nominations beginning February 1, 2018, and will continue to receive them until the position is filled. For more information about the College of the Liberal Arts, visit our web site at <http://www.la.psu.edu/>.

Employment will require successful completion of background check(s) in accordance with University policies. Final candidate(s) for the position will be required to complete a full background check process, including education, employment, credit, motor vehicle verifications, criminal, and child abuse as appropriate.

To review the Penn State Annual Security Report, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>; a hard copy of the report is available on request.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to minorities, women, veterans, disabled individuals, and members of other protected groups.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3933

University of Richmond

Rank: John Marshall Visiting Research Fellow for 2018-19

Specializations: Political Economy, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The John Marshall International Center for the Study of Statesmanship at the Jepson School of Leadership Studies at the University of Richmond is accepting applications for the position of John Marshall Visiting Research Fellow for 2018-19.

The Marshall Fellow will pursue his or her own advanced research in political economy as it relates to the theory and practice of statesmanship, and be in residence during academic terms at the Jepson School actively contributing to the intellectual life of the School and University through meaningful interactions with faculty and participation in Marshall Center programs. Educational requirements: Ph.D. program in economics, history, philosophy, or political science. Candidates who are ABD will be considered, but must have completed the Ph.D. in one of these fields by August 1, 2018. Applications for the fellowship are encouraged from those who have just finished or who are about to finish their doctoral dissertations.

The University of Richmond is a nationally ranked liberal arts university offering a unique combination of undergraduate and graduate degree programs in arts and sciences, business, leadership studies, law, and professional and continuing studies. The nation's first school of leadership studies, a top-ranked business school, and a nationally recognized international education program enhance a strong liberal arts curriculum.

Inaugurated in 1992, the Jepson School of Leadership Studies is an independent academic unit of the University and offers students the opportunity to major or minor in Leadership Studies. With the aim of educating students for and about leadership, the Jepson School offers an intellectually challenging liberal arts curriculum delivered by means of a rigorous and innovative pedagogy. Candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, one-page research plan, and writing sample; and provide the names and emails of three references to <http://jobs.richmond.edu>. Review of applications will begin on March 10, 2018. For questions contact Stephanie Trent, Jepson School of Leadership Studies, strent@richmond.edu. Additional information about the Marshall Center can be found at <http://jepson.richmond.edu/conferences/marshall/index.html>.

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body and to supporting an inclusive campus community. In keeping with this commitment, our academic community strongly encourages applications from candidates who will contribute to these goals. The University of Richmond has a generous family leave policy, offers employment benefits to same sex domestic partners, and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, status as a veteran or any classification protected by local, state or federal law.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: 4/15/2018
Date Posted: 1/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3926

Roosevelt University

Rank: Lecturer, Political Science

The Department of Government, Law and Justice at Roosevelt University invites applications for a non-tenure track position in American Politics to begin August 15, 2018.

The department seeks candidates specializing in U.S. Constitutional law and judicial politics. Additional expertise in the fields of social movements or Chicago and Illinois politics is preferred but not required.

Candidates will be expected to teach the core sequence of the department's Legal Studies minor, which is designed to prepare students to apply to law school, as well as to serve as the program director of the minor. Candidates with ideas and experience about how to grow the stature and effectiveness of the minor as well as to establish more and deeper partnerships with regional law schools are especially welcome. Roosevelt University particularly seeks candidates who can successfully teach, work with and mentor a diverse student population.

Roosevelt University is a private, non-sectarian university with over 4,500 students studying at campuses in Chicago's south Loop, suburban Schaumburg and online. Founded on the principles of inclusion and social justice, Roosevelt is the fourth most ethnically diverse college in the Midwest, with a mission to prepare students to assume roles as leaders in their professions and communities.

Ph.D. in American Politics specializing in U.S. Constitutional law and judicial politics.

Departmental contact is David Faris at dfaris@roosevelt.edu

For more information on this posting, please visit us at: <http://jobs.roosevelt.edu/postings/4196>

Start Date: Summer 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/18/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3887

Western Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Urban Politics

Western Michigan University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in American Politics beginning Fall 2018 at the rank of Assistant Professor, pending budgetary approval. Preferred areas of specialization include subnational politics (State and Local Politics and/or Urban Politics) and public policy. The candidate should have experience with (or interest in) the operation and growth of internship programs and other professional field experiences for undergraduates. Administrative and teaching responsibilities related to our internship program will account for a substantial part of the instructional workload associated with this position. Successful candidates are expected to have a well-defined research agenda, to be prepared to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, and should have a completed PhD by August, 2018.

Western Michigan University (WMU), located in Southwest Michigan, is a vibrant, nationally recognized student-centered research institution with an enrollment of nearly 25,000. WMU delivers high-quality undergraduate instruction, has a strong graduate division, and fosters significant research activities. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has placed WMU among the 76 public institutions in the nation designated as research universities with high research activities.

The Political Science Department offers Bachelors, Masters, and Ph.D. degrees with a unique opportunity for individuals seeking a balanced research and teaching career. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package. Please visit wmich.edu/hr/jobs for detailed information and application procedures. For additional questions, please contact Dr. John Clark (john.clark@wmich.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5346. Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2018, and continue until position is filled.

WMU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Minorities, women, veterans, individuals with disabilities and all other qualified individuals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 1/8/2018
Date Posted: 12/6/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3857

Tarleton State University

Rank: Political Science Instructor
Specializations: State Politics, United States, American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences seeks a full-time Instructor of Political Science. The position will be primarily responsible for the teaching and management of a redesign course model for sections of GOVT 2306 Texas Government. The position may be transitioned to 15 hours of undergraduate courses per semester in GOVT 2306 or 2305 based on the instructional needs of the department. The position is based on the Stephenville campus and requires a Masters Degree in Political Science and redesign, hybrid and/or online teaching experience.

REQUIRED EDUCATION/EXPERIENCE: Masters Degree in Political Science; Experience teaching redesign, hybrid and/or online courses. Experience teaching Texas or Federal Government.

PROPOSED EMPLOYMENT DATE: 09/01/2018

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS: Applications accepted only online at <https://jobs.tarleton.edu>. The department requires a letter of application, statement of teaching philosophy, cv, transcripts (official or unofficial), and three recommendations for this position. If you are not able to attach the documents when applying, please mail the requested documents to:

Dr. Eric V. Morrow
 Department Head
 Department of Social Sciences
 Tarleton State University
 Box T-0660, Tarleton Station
 Stephenville, TX 76402

If mailing, please make sure you reference the Requisition Number #0801761 and title of this position.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/28/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3832

Lee University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Department of History, Political Science, and Humanities at Lee University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position of Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in the fall of 2018.

Duties

The successful candidate will have a concentration in American Politics and will be expected to teach courses in American Politics, the university core course in American Government, and a two-course sequence in Research Methods. Secondary specialization is open. An ability and willingness to teach courses in Public Administration would be an asset. Additional duties will include mentoring undergraduate research, advising students in the department's majors, developing curriculum, serving on university committees, seeking ways to serve the greater community, and working cooperatively with the Department Chair and departmental faculty.

Required Qualifications

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialty in American Politics. (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date.) The candidate will express a strong commitment to faith in Jesus Christ and Christian lifestyle expectations, indicate a commitment to undergraduate education, passionately support the Christian liberal arts, demonstrate college teaching ability, and, effectively integrate Christian faith into the academic discipline and the classroom.

Lee University is a Christ-centered, comprehensive university that is recognized as an emerging leader in higher education in the southeastern region. To apply please send a completed application form (available at the website listed below), curriculum vitae, statement of Christian faith, and statement describing the integration of Christian faith with discipline of expertise, transcripts, three letters of reference, and student evaluations (if available) to Dr. Randy Wood, Chair of the Department of History, Political Science and Humanities, Lee University, P.O. Box 3450, Cleveland, TN 37320-3450 or by email to rwood@leeuniversity.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information contact Dr. Randy Wood at rwood@leeuniversity.edu or (423) 614-8137. The application form is available at: <http://www.leeuniversity.edu/uploadedFiles/Content/human-resources/faculty-application%281%29.pdf>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/27/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3828

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3759

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3760

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Quantitative Methods

Seeking an Master Instructor to teach on campus in the area(s) of introductory American Government, public law, as well as supervise the MSSU Mock Trial program. Must have a Master's degree in the related discipline area, (PhD preferred). Certification in certain fields may also be accepted depending on subject matter. Employment will require a background check. E-verify participating employer. Applicant materials include a letter of application, curriculum vitae with the names, addresses, email and phone numbers of three references, and unofficial transcripts. Submit materials at www.mssu.edu/jobs. Official transcripts are required within 45 days of hire. Review of applicant materials begins immediately and will continue until the position(s) has been filled. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3721

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Dickinson College seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position. Appointment begins in Fall 2018. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline (e.g. Government) is required; a Ph.D./J.D. is welcome.

Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in American politics and public policy as well as upper-level courses related to their research interests. The preferred candidate will be able to teach "The Judiciary" (federal and state) and topics covering a public policy issue area or areas. Dickinson College is located in a county seat and is immediately adjacent to the Penn State Dickinson Law school. As such, Dickinson has ready access to pedagogical, research, and internship resources for the study of law and public policy. The state capital Harrisburg is a 20-minute drive away and Washington DC two hours by car. The ability to create an inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse student body is vital. Dickinson is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students located approximately two-hour's drive from Washington, DC, Baltimore, MD, and Philadelphia, PA.

Review of applications will begin October 30 and will continue until the position is filled.

<https://jobs.dickinson.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3567

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osullivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

Towson University

Rank: Lecturer

LECTURER SEARCH

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC YEAR 2018-2019

Areas of Specialization: Law, Judicial Process

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a position at the Lecturer level. The position entails teaching courses including Introduction to Law and the Judicial Process.

Applicants with Ph.D. and/or J.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference. J.D. applicants must have political science background. The teaching load is four courses per semester. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Cindy Cates, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open until filled.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3436

SUNY, Cortland*Rank: Assistant Professor

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specialization: Political Theory, Legal Theory, American Politics

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach political theory, legal theory, and American politics. Course responsibilities include Introduction to Political Theory, American Political Thought, Introduction to American Government. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to participate in the department's Law and Justice concentration. College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Teach possible upper level courses such as Legal Theory, Justice and Society, and/or other possible courses in the areas of theory and law in the undergraduate curriculum according to the instructor's expertise.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts from most recent degree; and a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3413

Ohio State University*Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3389

Ohio State University

Rank: The Health of Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position affiliated with the university's new Institute for Democratic Engagement and Accountability. In keeping with the university's motto, "Education for Citizenship," we welcome applications from scholars broadly interested in the health of democracy, especially the conditions for energetic democratic participation and effective governance. Successful candidates may specialize in one or more areas, including political behavior, political communication, political economy, political psychology, political theory, the policymaking process, race and ethnic politics, or others. Further, we are open with respect to subfield, though we are especially interested in applicants who focus on or include the American case. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by autumn 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9663>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at Neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3336

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Immigration/Migration Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latino Politics, International Political Economy

Immigration and/or Migration Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to understanding immigration and/or migration. We seek a scholar whose research advances our understanding of the causes and consequences of these population movements. He or she may also study the social, political, economic, and demographic realignments that migrants produce in their communities of destination or origin. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, History, Sociology, Psychology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03189>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3328

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Social Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Welfare, Labor Politics, Economic Policy

Social Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to social policy. We seek a scholar whose research advances our knowledge of policies that address the economic and social disparities—inclusive of differences in geography, race, and ethnicity. His or her research may deepen our understanding of the changing dynamics of labor-market opportunities or how employment contributes to the social welfare of individuals and families. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, Sociology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03183>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3329

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics/Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles) invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Politics/Political Behavior. We seek a scholar doing research on U.S. politics in one or more of the following areas of political behavior: public opinion, elections, political psychology, political communications, political parties, and social movements. Promise of excellence in research and teaching, and a completed Ph.D. by the time of appointment, are required.

In order to be considered, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-american-politics-political-behavior/1209/5281327>. The applicant should upload a CV, a letter of interest, writing samples, and the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for references. Referees will be contacted automatically upon receipt of the application, and must upload their letters prior to the deadline. Inquiries may be sent to posc@dornsife.usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted. Review of applications will start September 25, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3142

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, American Politics

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from senior scholars in the field of American politics. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs>. Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2017.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3069

Connecticut College

Rank: Assistant Professor in U.S. Politics with a specialization in electoral politics and political behavior

U.S. Politics

The Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in U.S. Politics with a specialization in electoral politics and political behavior, beginning on July 1, 2018. The successful candidate must demonstrate an ability to teach an introductory U.S. politics course and intermediate-level courses on parties and elections. Preference will be given to candidates whose scholarship and teaching are in the area of political behavior. Courses might include US social movements, identity politics, interest groups, political participation, lobbying, voting, and media. The department already has specialists in national institutions and legal studies. Required: ABD in Political Science with a U.S. Politics focus. Desirable: Ph.D. in hand and teaching experience. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. within one year of hire.

Salary is competitive. In addition to providing ongoing support for teaching and research, the College offers the following resources for pre-tenured faculty: a 2-2 teaching load in the first year, a research fund in the first two years, and a semester's sabbatical (at full salary) after a successful third-year review.

The College's Board of Trustees, President, administration, faculty and staff share a commitment to diversity. To this end, the College, located in New London, CT is continuing what has been a very successful initiative to diversify its faculty, staff, and student body. We encourage applications from candidates who share this understanding and will contribute to the diversity of our college community, including members of historically underrepresented groups. The College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Please visit our website, <http://www.conncoll.edu>, for more information about the College and our faculty searches.

Offering two popular majors (a government major and an interdisciplinary international relations major), Government and International Relations is a collegial department with 11 full-time faculty members. There are also opportunities for collaboration with interdisciplinary programs on campus. Moreover, the College's general education program, Connections, provides ample opportunity for collaborative and interdisciplinary teaching. For an overview of this innovative curriculum, please visit <http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/>

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts, and at least three letters of recommendation to <https://apply.interfolio.com/43334>. E-mail inquiries should be sent to Tristan Borer, Chair of the Department of Government and International Relations, at tabor@conncoll.edu. In your application letter, we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body. Review of applications will begin October 13, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled, although we expect file review to be completed by October 27, 2017.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3049

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Defense, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of several interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire one tenure-track assistant or associate professor for the UCF cyber security and privacy cluster. This position has a start date of August 8, 2018.

This will be an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department, as well as a possible combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved.) Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. All relevant technical areas will be considered. We are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) hardware and IoT security, (b) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (c) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster at the time of appointment, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The position will carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 64,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about UCF at <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty>.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/50404> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter, candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmittal to update applications.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eeo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about this position, please contact the Cluster's Search Committee Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3019

University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Political Behavior)

The Political Science Department at the University of Nevada, Reno is soliciting applications for a tenure-track, full time appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science to begin in the fall semester of 2018. The primary focus of our search is American Political Behavior. Preference will be given to candidates conducting quantitative research in public opinion, voting behavior, political parties, and/or media, though candidates with a comparative perspective will be given consideration. Duties include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the University.

The normal teaching load is 2 courses per semester, but may be subject to change. Candidates are expected to teach at all levels of the curriculum (lower division undergraduate, upper division undergraduate, and graduate MA/PhD). Candidates must be able to teach an introduction to American Politics course. Applicants should demonstrate a strong potential for research publication. Experience with external grant funding is a plus. Preference will be given to candidates whose research demonstrates methodological sophistication and who have the ability to teach research methodology at the graduate, MA/Ph.D. level. Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by August 15th, 2018.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.unrsearch.com/postings/25082> for more information and application process. Position is open until filled, but application review will begin October 6, 2017.

The University of Nevada, Reno is the State of Nevada's land grant institution of higher education and is one of eight institutions of higher education governed by the State of Nevada System of Higher Education. With a growing and increasingly diverse student enrollment of approximately 21,000 including over 2,800 graduate students, the University provides a comprehensive selection of degree programs at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. The University is currently classified (Carnegie) as "Research University/High" which places it among the top 200 colleges and universities in the United States. The University of Nevada, is located 45 minutes from Lake Tahoe and within four hours from San Francisco and the Napa-Sonoma wine country.

The University of Nevada, Reno recognizes that diversity promotes excellence in education and research. We are an inclusive and engaged community and recognize the added value that students, faculty, and staff from different backgrounds bring to the educational experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2940

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

University of Minnesota, Duluth

Rank: One-year FT Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics and International Relations

Subject to available funding, the Department of Political Science at the University of Minnesota Duluth has a full-time temporary Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics and International Relations available beginning August 20, 2017. Job duties include teaching seven courses. The courses in Comparative Politics may include, An Introduction to Comparative politics (offered twice). The courses in International Relations may include An Introduction to International Relations (offered twice) and American Foreign Policy. Further courses may include Contemporary Issues in World Politics and a Senior Seminar in Political Science.

For more information on the Department of Political Science, go to: <http://www.d.umn.edu/pol/main/index.php>

The University of Minnesota Duluth requires you to apply online for this position. For complete position description, requirements, and information on how to apply online, visit <http://employment.umn.edu/> and search for job requisition 322231. To ensure consideration, all required application materials must be received by April 1, 2018, and review of completed applications will begin on this date and continue until the positions are filled.

The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity educator and employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 4/1/2018

Date Posted: 2/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4077

College of New Jersey

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the International Studies Program at The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) invite applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor position in International Relations and Comparative Politics to begin August 2018. The successful candidate will have expertise in East and/or South Asian politics, and be prepared to teach introduction to international relations, a 200-level course on political development, and an upper-division course on the politics of East Asia. The successful candidate will also teach an introductory writing-intensive seminar in the College's interdisciplinary International Studies Program. The teaching load is four courses per semester. However, we anticipate no more than four different course preparations during the academic year. A PhD is preferred, but the College will consider ABDs. Applications received by March 16, 2018, will receive full consideration, but the position will remain open until filled.

Founded in 1855, TCNJ is a highly selective institution that has earned national recognition for its commitment to excellence. Emphasizing a residential experience for its nearly 7,000 undergraduates, TCNJ is one of Barron's 75 "Most Competitive" American colleges, and U.S. News & World Report's No. 1 public institution of its kind in the northern region of the country. The College also offers focused graduate programs in nursing, education and English. TCNJ was awarded, in 2006, a Phi Beta Kappa chapter—an honor shared by less than 10 percent of colleges and universities nationally. A strong liberal arts core forms the foundation for programs offered through TCNJ's seven schools—Arts & Communication; Business; Humanities and Social Sciences; Education; Science; Nursing, Health, and Exercise Science; and Engineering. TCNJ faculty members are teacher-scholars who share a commitment to liberal learning. TCNJ is located within an hour, by train, of NYC and Philadelphia. The College's campus is set on 289 tree-lined acres in suburban Ewing Township and is known for its natural beauty. TCNJ has 39 major buildings, including the 4th-best college library in the nation, according to the Princeton Review. The School of Humanities and Social Sciences enrolls over 2,000 majors in 14 academic programs. The Department of Political Science includes seven tenure-line faculty positions and supports approximately 160 political science majors, and the interdisciplinary International Studies Program boasts 140 majors. For more information, visit www.tcnj.edu.

Apply online at <https://chm.tbe.taleo.net/chm03/ats/careers/v2/viewRequisition?org=TCNJ&cws=37&rid=364>

Please submit the following materials:

- 1) Cover letter describing qualifications and research and teaching interests
- 2) Curriculum vitae (CV)

- 3) Unofficial graduate transcript
- 4) Scholarly writing sample
- 5) Evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi
- 6) Contact information for three references.

Applicants should also have at least three referees submit confidential letters of recommendation directly to Daniel Bowen at bowend@tcnj.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4068

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: East Asia, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Department of History and International Studies is seeking to hire an Assistant Professor of Political Science/International Studies starting fall 2018. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science, International Studies, International Relations, Security Studies or related field, OR hold a Master's degree in one of these fields combined with professional experience commensurate to a doctorate. Regional specialization is open, though with some preference for Asia-Pacific. The hire will teach eight courses over the course of the full academic year. The exact division of the courses and in which term will be negotiated between the candidate, the chair and the dean. The courses will include lower-division PSCI and INTR courses like PSCI 1400 American Politics and PSCI 2000 Introduction to Politics, and upper-division courses like PSCI 3412 US Foreign Policy, PSCI 3500 Comparative Politics, INTR 3000 International Relations, and INTR 3200 National and International Security. The hire will also be expected to offer graduate courses to support the MA program in Diplomacy and Military Studies, such as PSCI 6601 Diplomacy and International Relations and supporting electives in the hire's areas of specialization. Courses may include mixture of in-class and on-line offerings. Hawai'i Pacific University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

Qualifications:

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science, International Studies, Security Studies or related field from an accredited university OR Master's degree in Political Science, International Studies, or Security Studies from an accredited university combined with professional experience commensurate to a doctorate. ABD candidates will be considered. If the successful candidate is ABD, the appointment will be at the rank of instructor with the possibility of promotion to assistant professor with conferral of Ph.D. or terminal degree.

College-level teaching experience

Currently authorized to work in the United States

Desired Qualifications:

Two years or more of undergraduate college-level teaching experience

Graduate-level college teaching experience

Scholarly publications

Experience teaching university students in a diverse environment

Master's level thesis supervision experience

Online teaching experience

Other Qualifications:

Report to work obligations to support the department and may require work during HPU's winter break, if necessary.

Must meet training and background check qualifications and comply with the Protection of Minors policy.

Upon hire, candidate must have reliable personal transportation to facilitate travel between to all HPU worksites and other locations as required by the position. This includes a valid driver's license and a personal vehicle that is legally registered and insured.

Able to teach classes scheduled during days, evenings, and weekends.

Able to teach classes at multiple locations on Oahu.

Successful candidate will be able to work in an environment that utilize excellent time and stress management skills.

Key Responsibilities/Essential Job Functions: Note: Percentages are estimates.

1. Teaching (75%)

Teaching is the primary responsibility of Regular Faculty and specific functions include, but are not limited to the following:

Develop a syllabus of course activities that meet the requirements of the course description or program chair, establishes appropriate student learning outcomes, and provides for appropriate class activities throughout the semester.

Plan and deliver individual classes that conform to the syllabus and other requirements of the University.

Demonstrate a command of the discipline and skill in presenting it effectively in the context of an integrated education.

Maintain accurate and complete records on student participation and performance, use appropriate measures and evaluate student performance on the basis of established student learning outcomes, provide timely feedback to students and assign grades that are an accurate and fair evaluation of student work.

Submit grades and any other required documentation in a timely manner.

Administer student evaluations of faculty at the end of each course, review evaluation summaries and meet with department chair and dean to review.

Post and maintain regular office hours at times reasonably convenient to students. Serve as an advisor to students to assist them in understanding the curriculum, especially within the major, and mentor them as they plan their degree programs and careers.

In addition to formal course loads, bear fair share of the faculty responsibility for supervising student research, professional internships, and independent study.

Meet deadlines and follow directions of the program/department chair, associate dean or dean of the college.

Evaluate the teaching of colleagues through the process of peer review as requested.

Prepare Professional Development Plans or Progress Briefs and reappointment/promotion applications according to established guidelines.

Promote student success by following requirements found in the Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Manual.

Faculty not assigned to College of Professional Services (CPS) may be required to teach up to two courses per academic year on a Military Program campus, but no more than one per semester.

2. Scholarship and Professional Development (10%)

Faculty members are expected to serve a professional role models to students and colleagues in scholarly activity and in critical investigation and experimentation for the purpose of increasing human knowledge.

Keep abreast of the new knowledge in the field to ensure courses, syllabi, instructional materials and techniques, and teaching methods are current and appropriate, and to participate where appropriate, in school or university-sponsored curriculum development programs and projects.

Engage in distinctive course and academic program development efforts; to participate in professional colloquia, seminars, and workshops; and to share ideas and the results of scholarly and artistic endeavors with peers both at the university and in the larger academic/ artistic community.

Examples of scholarly activities and professional development include but are not limited to the following:

Publication of research findings in peer-reviewed journal articles, academic papers, book chapters, books, or other writing normal to the discipline

Presentations at academic conferences

Obtaining internal or external research grants, fellowships, and other funding awards

Department, college, university, state, national, and international honors and awards

Invited evaluations and reviews of the work of other professionals

Participation on review panels for outside funding agencies

Service as either editor or referee for professional publications

Leadership of, committee work for, and participation in scholarly and professional organizations

Sustained activity in program development

3. University Service (10%) Engage in service to department, school or college, and the university in ways that extend and enrich the university's academic programs and its governance.

Attend orientation programs and Faculty Assembly meetings and participate in academic duties.

Participate in academic governance of department. Participate in committees; course, program and curriculum area coordination; curricular development and textbook selection; instructional workshops and activities within own curricular areas, policy and program review; or other learning assessments.

Serve as representatives on school or college level and university level committees of the Faculty Assembly, as well as on other task forces and committees that assist the chair of the Faculty Assembly and/or the deans in the formation of academic policies and related matters.

Assist with co-curricular activities to include organization of, participation in, or presentation of faculty forums or workshops; advising and sponsorship of clubs and societies; participation in, organization of, providing guidance and assistance to extra-curricular or co-curricular university events such as banquets, the literary magazine, the athletic program, intercultural events, theatrical productions, guest speaker forums, or graduation ceremonies.

May include specific accomplishments as a voluntary or elected member of a Faculty Assembly or school or college level committee; curriculum area liaison; coordination of a course, program or discipline; mentoring other faculty; program review activities; coordinating training or other events; and recruitment activities.

Colleges will further determine and articulate specific expectations for university service.

4. Performs other related duties as appropriate (5%)

Actively participate as an effective member of team by completing assigned duties, accepting additional assignments or reassignments.

This description is not designed to list all activities, duties or responsibilities which may be required for this job.

Hawai'i Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawai'i Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Agency

Hawaii Pacific University

Phone

808-544-1188

Website

<http://www.hpu.edu/employment>

Address

1164 Bishop St

8th Floor

Honolulu, Hawaii, 96813.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4069

Case Western Reserve University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Case Western Reserve University seeks qualified candidates for a visiting position in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations, at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) or Visiting Instructor, for the academic year 2017-18. This is a one-year position with the possibility of an additional one-year period.

Upper-division courses are open, in terms of expertise and interest, although we are in particular need of courses in comparative and/or international environmental politics and policy, the politics of Africa, south central Asian politics, and international security. Candidates must be able to offer either Introduction to Comparative Politics or Introduction to International Relations; ability to offer a course in Research Methods preferred. Candidates should identify in the application letter the courses they are prepared to teach. The conventional teaching load for this position is two courses per semester. ABD required, PhD preferred.

Candidates should submit 1) a letter of application stating research and teaching interests, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) graduate transcript, and 4) relevant teaching evaluations to Ms. Jessica Jurcak, Comparative Politics /International Relations Search, Department of Political Science, Case Western Reserve University, Mather House 111, Cleveland Ohio, 44106; electronic submissions should be sent to Ms. Jessica Jurcak at jkj22@case.edu. Candidates should also arrange for three letters of reference to be sent by each referee to Ms. Jessica Jurcak at jkj22@case.edu.

In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Case Western Reserve University provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office for Inclusion, Diversity and Equal Opportunity at 216.368.8877 to request a reasonable accommodation. Determinations as to granting reasonable accommodations for any applicant will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 4/20/2018

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4059

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Post Doc Fellowship

Specializations: Western Europe, International Political Economy, International Security

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs at Georgia Tech invites applications for a post-doctoral fellowship to begin Fall 2018 to be associated with the Center for European and Transatlantic Studies, a Jean Monnet Center of Excellence.

The term of appointment will be two years. The salary is highly competitive ($50,000 – 55,000). The responsibilities include teaching one course per semester and supporting the activities of the Center. The ideal candidate would have research and teaching interests in European politics broadly defined. A focus on comparative European foreign policy; justice and home affairs (including counterterrorism and asylum/migration); or privacy and the digital economy would be particularly welcome. Applicants should show promise of outstanding scholarly achievement.

The Sam Nunn School is a multidisciplinary school with a growing undergraduate, graduate, and overseas programs, including joint undergraduate degrees with Modern Languages and Economics. The School's programs focus on understanding the global context of advances in science and technology. The Sam Nunn School has 22 full-time faculty members; more than 200 undergraduate majors, 30 Master's and 10 Ph.D. degree students. Georgia Tech enrolls over 21,000 students and is consistently ranked as one of the top seven public universities in the United States. Georgia Tech is located in midtown Atlanta. A unit of the University System of Georgia, Georgia Tech is an AA/EO employer. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.

To receive full consideration, application materials should be received by March 21 and should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and an example of scholarly work. Applicants should also arrange for a graduate transcript and three current letters of recommendation to be provided. Materials should be sent to: inta-postdoc@t-square.gatech.edu. Please direct enquiries to Alasdair Young (alasdair.young@gatech.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/21/2018

Date Posted: 2/21/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4057

University of Portland

Rank: 2-yr Visiting Professor

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, Western Europe

The University of Portland invites qualified candidates in the field of Comparative Politics to apply for a two-year Visiting position in the Department of Political Science beginning August 2018 and ending May 2020. In addition to teaching sections of our introductory Core course in World Politics, the successful candidate will also offer upper-division undergraduate courses in his or her areas of expertise. We are particularly interested in candidates who are able to teach courses related to South, Southeast, or East Asia, or Eastern and/or Western Europe. Candidates should identify in their cover letter the specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Qualified candidates must demonstrate teaching effectiveness, manifest a strong understanding of and commitment to a liberal arts education, and be dedicated to participating in a collegial and cooperative department. Support of the university's mission as a comprehensive, Catholic, teaching university is expected. Applicants with a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment are preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered. This is a teaching-focused position with a 4/4 load, and teaching experience is required.

To apply for this position, please go to the link HireTouch link below and submit the required materials for consideration: a cover letter stating teaching philosophy, competencies, and interests; a curriculum vitae; relevant teaching evaluations (past two years only); and two confidential letters of recommendation. Informal interviews will be offered at the Western Political Science Association Annual Meeting in San Francisco, March 28-31; please contact Dr. Anne Santiago at santiago@up.edu to schedule an interview at WPSA. The position is open until filled. A background investigation check is required before final hiring procedures can be completed for all faculty and staff positions.

<https://up.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=46243&job=full-time-two-year-visiting-assistant-professor-comparative-politics-august-2018-and-ending-may-2020>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4041

Princeton University and Peking University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Within the framework of their Memorandum of Understanding, Peking University and Princeton University have established a Postdoctoral Fellowship Program: Peking-Princeton Postdoctoral Program (PPPP), aiming at training highly-qualified, early-career postdoctoral researchers in studies of contemporary China so that they are positioned to become leaders in their respective academic fields. Princeton University and Peking University invite applications for two postdoctoral research associates in studies of contemporary China for the 2018–19 academic year.

Each fellowship is expected to be awarded for up to two years: the first 12 consecutive months at Peking University with a visiting appointment at Princeton University and the next 12 consecutive months at Princeton University with a visiting appointment at Peking University, with renewal after the first year contingent on satisfactory performance. Preferred start date is September 1, 2018. The position is open to early-career scholars who would be in residence and participate in the host organization's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The position is also open to any discipline, as long as the fellow conducts research on contemporary China. The candidate's research must be supervised by a faculty member at each University and, as such, must receive the endorsement of a faculty member at each institution in order to apply.

Funding:

For the stay at Peking University:

During their stay at PKU, Postdoctoral Fellows will receive a monthly stipend of 15,000 RMB. They can receive an additional 3,500 RMB per month for self-organized accommodation or choose to live in a PKU postdoc flat. The fellows will further be eligible to apply for travel funding from external sources. During the appointment at Peking, the postdoctoral researcher will hold a visiting appointment at Princeton.

For the stay at Princeton University:

For the 12 months in residence at Princeton, each fellow will be appointed at the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior with a monthly salary of 5,000 (60,000/year) US dollars which will be provided by Princeton, including a one-time relocation allowance of 2,000 US dollars. Further, each fellow will be eligible to apply for travel funding, have access to resources at the Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China, and be eligible for employee benefits provided by Princeton. During the appointment at Princeton, the postdoctoral researcher will hold a visiting appointment at Peking University.

Eligibility and Evaluation Criteria:

The fellowship is open to highly qualified researchers of all nationalities who received their PhD no more than three years prior to the start of the appointment. The program is open to both internal and external candidates. Applicants holding tenure or tenure-track faculty positions are not eligible to apply.

Selection is based on the academic excellence of the applicant, the quality of the proposed research project, compelling demonstration of the anticipated synergy of the appointed postdoc, and the commitment of the respective hosts at both universities. The research proposal should include information on how the project will benefit from the research environments of both institutions.

Requirements and Opportunities:

Successful applicants must provide a 10-page report on their research and experience in the Postdoctoral Fellowship after completion of the two-year program.

Fellows are encouraged to publish together with their hosts at PKU and PU.

Applications:

To apply for a postdoctoral position, please link to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/5681> (link is external) (D-18-P11-00007). Simultaneously, you must submit a pdf application to PKU, as instructed below. This position is subject to the Universities' background check policy. All application documents must be prepared in English and include the following:

A research proposal and time plan (max. 10 pages in total, including tables/figures and references);

Concise Curriculum Vitae (max. 4 pages in total);

Two recommendation letters (including one from the applicant's doctoral supervisor);

Two explicit endorsement letters by the potential supervisors, one at each university; and
 One writing sample (not to exceed 10MB).
 Incomplete submissions will not be considered.

Application deadline: Application deadline: 3/1/18, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Submission to PKU:

The complete application should be saved as one file in pdf format. Please email it to: Mr. Fan Deshang, Postdoctoral Affairs Office, Peking University boguanban@pku.edu.cn.

Administrative Coordinators: Please see our FAQ before contacting the coordinators.

Mr. Fan Deshang
 Postdoctoral Affairs Office
 Peking University
 boguanban@pku.edu.cn

Ms. Yan Bennett
 Paul and Marcia Wythes
 Center on Contemporary China
 Princeton University

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/1/2018
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 4034

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – International Relations/Comparative Politics

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College, a highly selective, national liberal arts college located in Memphis, invites applications for an appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor beginning in August 2018. Rhodes College is especially interested in attracting candidates from historically underrepresented groups and/or those with a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse and historically underrepresented populations. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to teaching in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate will have classroom experience and is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either International Relations or Comparative Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach research methods and an upper-level course on international conflict or security. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. The successful candidate must earn their Ph.D. by August 2018. The teaching responsibility is 3 courses per semester, and the position offers the possibility for renewal up to a second year after the successful completion of the first year.

Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities. <http://www.rhodes.edu/content/our-city>.

Please apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu; only online applications will be accepted. Completed applications will include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, course syllabi, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are encouraged to address in their letter of application their interest in teaching at a liberal arts college, their teaching philosophy, their proposed teaching contributions to the department, and their research interests. The application must also include a separate statement that addresses how the applicant will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department and in interdisciplinary programs, and how their experiences with teaching, scholarship and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values.

Review of completed applications will begin March 15, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The online application system will solicit letters of recommendation electronically from the candidate's recommenders once their contact information has been entered by the candidate and the search committee requests them. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews. For further information, please contact Dr. Amy Risley, chair of the search committee, at risleya@rhodes.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4033

Wesleyan University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a one-year visiting position in the comparative politics of developing countries during the 2018-2019 academic year. We welcome applications from comparativists specializing in any region of the developing world. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment (September 1, 2018). The teaching load is 3-2, including three sections of an introductory comparative politics course, a survey course called Political Economy of Developing Countries, and a seminar on a topic of the visitor's choice. The successful candidate may also be asked to supervise up to two senior theses.

To apply, please go to <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/6254>. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a statement about your research and teaching experience (as part of the teaching statement, we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body), (4) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (5) sample syllabi if available. After you set up your account, you will be prompted to provide (6) the email addresses of three referees, each of whom we may contact at the appropriate time to request a letter of recommendation for you.

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Antonio Farias, Vice President for Equity & Inclusion, Title IX and ADA/504 Officer, 860-685-4771, afarias@wesleyan.edu

Please contact Ms. Kristin McQueeney (kmcqueeney@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department administrative assistant, if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/15/2018
Date Posted: 2/11/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4031

Thiel College

Rank: Teaching Fellowship

The Department of Political Science at Thiel College invites applications for a teaching fellowship in Political Science. This is a one year position. There is a possibility of a tenure-track position search in the near future. This opportunity has been developed to provide the successful candidate with quality teaching experience and mentoring in preparation for an academic career. Candidates must have a Masters in Political Science with preference given to candidates currently completing doctoral work. Areas of specialization are open, but teaching responsibilities will include: Introduction to International Relations, Introduction to Comparative Politics, and possibly upper-division courses in the IR/comparative subfields. Courses may include American Foreign Policy; International Law and Organizations; International Security; Politics of Industrial Societies; Nationalism; Politics of Developing Societies. Candidates should have an interest in joining an undergraduate department where teaching in a small classroom environment is emphasized. A two-course teaching load each semester and engagement on campus at least three days a week are expected. A stipend, campus housing and meal plan will be provided together with active mentorship by the department chair and Vice President for Academic Affairs/Dean of the College.

Email letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcripts, at least three letters of recommendation, sample syllabi and summaries of teaching evaluations if available to: employment@thiel.edu (preferred method), or mail application materials to: Jennifer Clark, Director of Human Resources, Thiel College, 75 College Avenue, Greenville, PA 16125. Review of materials will begin on March 1, 2018.

Thiel College is committed to attracting a culturally and professionally diverse faculty and staff who engage our students by providing a rich and fulfilling curricular and co-curricular experience. EOE

Start Date: Summer 2018
Application Deadline: 2/28/2018
Date Posted: 2/9/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4028

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Simons Research Fellow in International Law and Human Security

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University invites applications for the Simons Research Fellow in International Law and Human Security for the 2018-2019 academic year (September 1-August 30).

The Simons Research Fellow will be expected to participate in School activities during the term of their appointment, will deliver at least one presentation of their work to the School, and will undertake limited teaching responsibilities with the possibility that they might teach one undergraduate course in their area of expertise. The Fellow may also be asked to contribute to the organization of a workshop in the Spring 2019 term.

Compensation for the Simons Research Fellow is $40,000 CAD plus benefits, with an additional $2,000 CAD in research support. Selection will be based on the qualifications of applicants in the areas of International Law and Human Security and the nature of the work they propose to undertake during the duration of the award.

Application deadline is March 30, 2018. Applications should consist of a cover letter (including detailed research proposal), graduate transcripts, a CV, and three letters of recommendation. Referees should e-mail their letters directly to intst@sfu.ca. Please e-mail inquiries to the attention of Professor Tamir Moustafa at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Simon Fraser University is committed to employment equity and welcomes applications from all qualified women and men, including visible minorities, aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ communities. The position is subject to availability of funding.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the collection notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/30/2018
Date Posted: 2/6/2018
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 4022

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Assistant or Early Associate Professor of Black Political and Social Theory

Specializations: Latin American, Caribbean, Canada

The Department of African and African Diaspora Studies at UT Austin invites applicants for a position in Black Political Thought in the Americas at the rank of assistant or early associate professor. We seek outstanding scholars whose scholarship focuses on Latin America, the Caribbean or Canada, with a background in transnational racial politics, Political Theory, Comparative Political Theory, or decoloniality and Black Politics. Candidates should demonstrate a background in and commitment to African Diaspora Studies. The ideal candidate will also demonstrate scholarship that is informed by the intersectionality of race, gender, class, and sexuality. Duties include teaching both undergraduate and graduate courses, developing a strong research program, demonstrating evidence of successful research productivity, directing graduate research and exhibiting a commitment to service to the department, college, and university. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Position funding is pending budgetary approval. We will begin considering applications on January 15, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. The position will begin in Fall 2018.

Qualifications

The selected candidate should have a Ph.D. in hand by the start of employment, demonstrate a promising publishing and research trajectory, and have a solid record as an effective classroom teacher or a teaching philosophy helping to ensure success in the classroom.

Application Instructions

Applications should be submitted via <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/30156> for consideration. Please include a cover letter, current curriculum vita, list of 3-4 referees, and one representative scholarly publication or writing sample.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4009

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Political Development

The DevLab@Duke has one opening for a Post-Doctoral fellow working to develop rigorous programming, collect monitoring and evaluation data, and conduct impact evaluations of development projects. Prospective candidates are expected to have done graduate work in one or more of these areas:

- International Development
- Economics
- Political Science

Successful candidates will collaborate with Professors Erica Field, Erik Wibbels, Pablo Beramendi, Edmund Malesky, Manoj Mohanan, Marc Jeuland, Robert Garlick and other members of the lab in an interdisciplinary environment. They will be expected to work with lab associates to provide timely input to development practitioners affiliated with the DevLab—including donors, implementers and evaluators—at all stages of project conceptualization, design, implementation and evaluation. Lab activities will leave considerable time for independent research, and the position offers ample opportunity for developing new research projects in conjunction with DevLab members.

There is no deadline for applying to the opening, but applications will be considered on a rolling basis starting immediately. The start date is July 1, 2018. The position comes with competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for one year, with the possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10802>. Address correspondence to: Professor Elaine Denny, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204; or email: elaine.denny@duke.edu.

Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Date Posted: 1/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4002

Bucknell University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics beginning in the fall semester of 2018. The teaching load is three courses per semester, and the successful candidate will be prepared to teach European politics, a core course in comparative politics, and quantitative or qualitative research methods, as well as other courses in the candidate's area of specialization.

The Department of Political Science has a strong record of hiring diverse faculty whose courses expose students to a variety of racial, ethnic, and cultural perspectives, and we are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience, potential teaching excellence, and the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. or be ABD in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in comparative politics.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <http://www.careers.bucknell.edu>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, syllabi, and teaching evaluations, along with any other relevant materials. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Scott Meinke at smeinke@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on February 26, 2018, and applications received by that date will be guaranteed full consideration.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a highly selective, predominately undergraduate, private university with approximately 3600 students. Apart from its excellent academic departments and programs, it boasts the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender, which supports faculty teaching and scholarship in these areas; the Griot Institute for Africana Studies, which provides faculty and student intellectual and creative engagement with the cultures, histories, narratives, peoples, geographies, and arts of Africa and the African diaspora; and the Bucknell Institute for Public Policy, which supports faculty research and teaching on issues of domestic, international, and comparative public policy. Bucknell also has a small but growing community of Asia scholars. In the spring of 2014, Bucknell introduced a 5-Year Diversity Plan aimed at enhancing the diversity of the faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum of the university.

Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. For those who crave the city, Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3995

Luther College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Luther College is an undergraduate liberal arts college with a population of two thousand students located in Decorah, IA. Our faculty and students are highly engaged in academics and research, music programs, athletics, sustainability, and service. Founded in 1861 by Norwegian immigrants, Luther values its heritage, just as it values the diversity of its students, staff, and faculty, who hail from many faith backgrounds and heritages. Coming from 39 states and 74 countries, 11% of our students are domestic students of color and 8% are international students.

Our location in the beautiful driftless region of northeast Iowa offers a wealth of opportunities not often found in small towns. The economic vitality of the Decorah area is attributable to being a regional hub for outdoor recreation, two nationally recognized healthcare systems, top ranked schools, business, agriculture, specialty retail, dining, and tourism. In a scenic rural setting, we are an easy 70 mile drive to three urban cities including Rochester, MN, home of Mayo Clinic and an IBM major campus.

Position and Qualifications: Luther College seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, with expertise in the field of Comparative Politics. This is a one-year, non-tenure track position to begin late August 2018. Ph.D. preferred; candidates who are advanced ABD will be considered. Teaching responsibilities will include Global Politics, Comparative Politics, and courses in the candidate's geographic (outside the US) or thematic area of expertise: for example Latin American politics, or the politics of development. The teaching load is 7 courses, spread over the Fall, January, and Spring terms.

Apply: Review of applications begins February 22, 2018 and continues until the position is filled. Apply at <https://luthercollege.hiretouch.com>. Applicant's dossier will include:

- letter of application (outline your qualifications, summarize your teaching and research interests, and briefly highlight strengths that align with strengths of Luther College)
- curriculum vitae
- unofficial graduate and undergraduate transcripts
- three letters of recommendation from those familiar with the candidate's teaching and scholarship (the college will send an email link to each letter writer identified in application process to upload their letter)

Inquiries about the position may be directed to Dr. Carly Hayden Foster, Political Science Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, Luther College; email: fosterc@luther.edu. Additional information about the college is available by visiting the college website, www.luther.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to facultysearch@luther.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/26/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3994

Shepherd University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies at Shepherd University invites applicants for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Political Science with specialization in global security/peace or global political economy. Regional specialization is open but preference for specialization in Latin America or Asia. Candidates with ability to teach either research methods or American political institution will receive preference.

Responsibilities include teaching 12 hours per semester (which could include 2 sections of either Introduction to American Government or an Introduction to Political Science course), scholarship, participation in Shepherd's Global Studies Program, student advisement and supervision of research projects, and participation in service activities. Candidates with a Ph.D in Political Science (or related field) in hand are preferred but candidates who are ABD with substantial evidence of nearing completion will be considered. Candidates should have demonstrated teaching ability and potential as a researcher. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. AA/EOE. Salary is commensurate with experience.

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies is a vibrant department which offers Bachelors Degrees in Political Science and in Global Studies. Within Political Science students have the opportunity to concentrate in legal studies. The Global Studies Program, an interdisciplinary program, offers concentrations in Global Governance and Peace, Global Economics and Development, Global Environments, and Global Culture and History. At the moment the Department has four full-time faculty members and between 80 and 100 majors.

Founded in 1871, Shepherd, a public liberal arts University, is located in Shepherdstown, a historic town on the Potomac River about 75 miles west of Washington, DC. Review of applications will begin immediately; applications received by March 5, 2018 will receive priority consideration. Submit a cover letter, CV, unofficial transcripts, list of references, and statement of teaching philosophy and research interests to <https://jobs.shepherd.edu>. Only electronic applications will be accepted. For more information, please contact Dr. Aart Holtslag, Search Committee Chair, at aholtsla@shepherd.edu.

Minimum Qualifications:

ABD in Political Science and primary area of competence in International Relations/Comparative Politics (area specialty other than Europe) with an ability to teach Political Philosophy, Public Policy, or Research Methods as a secondary competency.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3989

University of Essex

Rank: Professor of Comparative Politics

Professor of Comparative Politics
 Department of Government
 The Department of Government at Essex are world leaders in Political Science, ranked top in the UK for research excellence (REF2014), among the top 10 Universities for Politics in the UK (The Times Good University Guide 2017), top 10 in the world for Political Science and International Relations according to the Centre for World University Rankings (2017), and among the top 50 Politics & International studies departments according to the QS World University Rankings. With 96% student satisfaction (NSS 2016) and having been awarded Q-Step Affiliate Status, we are committed to excellence in education and research.

The Role and Duties

The post-holder is expected to conduct research and teaching in Comparative Politics. The ideal candidate will also have a strong background in political behaviour. They will supervise undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations. In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to generate research income, to contribute to the administration and leadership responsibilities within the Department, and to the local, regional and international profile of the Department.

Key responsibilities include building up a sustained and effective record of impact at a strategic level in relation to teaching and learning, as part of a wider commitment to academic practice and pursuing research that is world leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour, in keeping with the REF criteria.

The post-holder will undertake a full range of Education, Research and Leadership and Citizenship responsibilities as detailed in the job pack.

Qualifications and Skills

The successful candidate will hold a relevant doctoral-level research degree in Political Science or allied field or have equivalent professional experience / practice. They will be expected to have a distinguished academic record, including internationally excellent research in the field of Political Science and be a member of the Fellowship of the Higher Education Academy or ability to gain this at an appropriate level within a defined period of appointment.

Candidates will be required to demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels appropriate to the discipline; a strong, sustained record of academic publication at international or world-leading levels of recognition, with evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes; and an established record of success in securing and managing substantial research grants (appropriate to the discipline).

We particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the Department.

At the University of Essex internationalism is central to who we are and what we do. We are committed to being a cosmopolitan, internationally-oriented university that is welcoming to staff and students from all countries and a university where you can find the world in one place.

Please visit our website (<http://www.essex.ac.uk/vacancies/>) for a full job description, person specification and more information relating to this post. We recommend you read this information carefully before making an application. Applications should be made on-line, but if you would like advice or help in making an application, or need information in a different format, please telephone the Resourcing Team (01206 874588/873521).

Closing date: 4 March 2018
 Interviews are planned for: 30 April 2018

Salary: On the Professorial scale, commensurate with experience and achievements

https://vacancies.essex.ac.uk/tlive\_webrecruitment/wrd/run/ETREC107GF.open?VACANCY\_ID=140660FmjI&WVID=9918109NEM&LANG=USA

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 3/4/2018
Date Posted: 1/22/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3974

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professors in International Affairs/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (National University of Singapore), a premier public policy institution in Asia, invites applications for full-time tenure track positions at the Assistant and Associate Professor level in International Relations/Comparative Politics. Candidates are expected to demonstrate evidence of a high level of competence in theoretically sound, empirically grounded policy-relevant research in International Relations/Comparative Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who work on (A) International Political Economy; (B) Global Governance; and (C) The International Relations of ASEAN/Southeast Asia. For positions (A) and (B), applicants whose research and writing focus on Asia will have an advantage. The School is interested in candidates with a strong commitment to publishing at the highest level and would particularly welcome applications with a demonstrated record of research excellence. The School has just launched a new 2-year Master in International Affairs (MIA) and it is keen to hire faculty who will contribute energetically to the new programme.

Candidates should possess the following: a PhD degree in the relevant discipline; have a commitment to research and teaching excellence; and an ability to engage with policy and research communities in Asia and around the world.

Application Procedure
 Applicants should submit, in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file), the following:

- Cover note

- Detailed curriculum vitae
  - Names of three references
  - Brief statement of past and current research
  - Top 5 publications
  - Three courses that you would be interested in teaching (please refer to <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/admissions/> for the list of courses)
- Those who have a teaching record should submit the following as well:
- Teaching dossier including teaching evaluations (for those who have a teaching record)
  - Representative samples of course outlines (for those who have a teaching record)

Please send the electronic submission to Ms Laura Lim, lkysppjoi-nus@nus.edu.sg.

Applicants may submit hard copies to the following address:

Ms Laura Lim
Senior Associate Director, Human Resources
Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy
National University of Singapore
469C Bukit Timah Road
Singapore 259772

The deadline for applications is open until filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified and it is possible that interviews will be held at the International Studies Association Annual Meeting in San Francisco in April. Interested candidates are encouraged to find out more about the National University of Singapore and the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3969

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Summary:

The Institute of Political Science (IPS) in The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFU) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts as early as Fall 2018. The opening is in the field of comparative politics (with or without a focus on China), research methodology, and political theory (order is by preference). A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years. The tenure-track faculty members are expected to publish research on major journals of international reputation, offer high quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFU. Although the working environment is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background:

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas.

The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five Year Plan. SUFE is the only institution in the Mainland China that adopts tenure-track system and offers globally competitive salaries for entry-level faculty in the discipline of political science. The newly established Institute of Political Science has nine members. Seven of them hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents:

Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

Procedures:

The deadline for accepting applications is March 20, 2018, for this round of recruitment. We plan to interview a shortlist of applicants at 2018 Midwest Political Science Association conference in Chicago. In your cover letter, please state whether you will attend the meeting and be available for an interview. We also can arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype.

Contact:

Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/20/2018

Date Posted: 1/20/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3968

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

St. Olaf College invites applications for a two-third time (0.67 FTE) term position in comparative politics offered by the Department of Political Science. The successful candidate will teach two sections of an introductory course and two separate intermediate courses in their areas of expertise.

Position Description

The position requires teaching two sections during the fall semester of any one of our introductory comparative courses: the survey course;

human rights, or global democracy, plus two thematic or area-specific intermediate courses offered either fall, interim or spring semester. Maximum teaching load per semester is three courses. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated commitment to excellent teaching at the undergraduate level. Starting date is September 1, 2018. Applicants are expected to have completed, or be near completion of, a Ph.D. in political science. Appointment will be as an instructor or visiting assistant professor, depending on whether a Ph.D. is completed.

Please direct any questions about the position to the Department Chair, Katherine Tegtmeyer Pak, ktp@stolaf.edu. We will begin reviewing candidates on February 7 but will continue to accept applications until the position is filled.

A liberal arts college affiliated with the Lutheran Church (ELCA), St. Olaf College is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity in its students, faculty, and staff. To provide a safe and secure educational environment, St. Olaf College verifies the accuracy of all credentials presented by applicants and conducts a criminal background check on every new hire.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3962

Centenary College of Louisiana

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Centenary College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the Assistant Professor level in the Department of History and Political Science, starting 1 August 2018. Candidates should be broadly trained in Comparative Politics and International Relations, and prepared to teach a range of introductory, upper division, and core departmental classes such as Research Methods and the capstone Senior Seminar. The Ph.D. in hand by time of start date, strong teaching skills, and a commitment to scholarship are required. The standard teaching load is six courses per year, with some opportunity to teach in immersive May and August terms, and to participate in college-wide programs such as the first year experience (TREK) and Centenary in Paris.

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective, residential, national liberal arts college affiliated with the United Methodist Church. Founded in 1825, it is the oldest chartered liberal arts college west of the Mississippi river and is a member of the Associated Colleges of the South.

To apply, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts from all institutions of higher learning, sample course syllabi, and three letters of recommendation to hr@centenary.edu or to:

Political Science Search Committee
c/o Director of Human Resources
Centenary College of Louisiana
2911 Centenary Boulevard
Shreveport, LA 71104

Review of applications will begin on February 5 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3947

Lund University

Rank: One Postdoctoral Position in Political Science with a Specialization in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations

Online listing: <https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what:job/jobID:182617/type:job/where:4/apply:1>

The holder of this post will be expected to conduct research (about 90 percent) and to teach (about 10 percent).

This position is associated with the research program State-Making and the Origins of Global Order in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond (STANCE), led by Professor Jan Teorell at the Department of Political Science in Lund, and funded by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond (www.stanceatlund.org). The project started in 2015 and will end in 2020. Overall, the project aims to bridge the gaps between comparative politics and international relations, and between the study of political thought and positive empirical political science. Three overall research themes form the core of this research program: (1) How did the different dimensions of state-making, including internal and external sovereignty, revenue extraction, professionalization of the bureaucracy and the development of infrastructural capacity, evolve and interact during this time period? What actors and organized interests supported or put up resistance to these processes? (2) How were these dimensions of state-making affected by geopolitical competition, warfare and the diffusion of novel political technologies? (3) What were the consequences for the international system, both with respect to the type of state that emerged and what entities were granted membership in the states system?

Each post-doctoral fellow will be expected to carry out research that contributes to the fulfilment of at least one of these overall research objectives. However, each member of the project conducts independent research and enjoys the freedom to choose his or her own research questions, to develop his or her own theoretical ideas, and to choose the methods he or she finds most appropriate. Since the program methodologically aims for a mixed-methods approach ranging from quantitative methods to single case studies, textual interpretation and archival studies, we expect candidates with broad methodological training and an open mind to take on novel approaches.

In order to allow the research group to function as a team, all participants will be expected to have the Department of Political Science in Lund as their main place of work.

Qualifications:

Eligibility for employment as a postdoctoral researcher is restricted to applicants with a PhD degree in a relevant subject. Priority is given to applicants who have completed their PhD less than three years prior to the deadline for applying to the post. The three-year limit can be extended in cases of parental leave, sickness leave or similar circumstances occurring after the PhD defense. Applicants who have yet to complete their PhDs are welcome to apply but should demonstrate that they will receive their PhD degree before 1 September 2018.

Research skills and academic promise will be the main selection criteria, but teaching skills will also be considered. Proficiency in spoken and written English and the ability to teach in English is a requirement. The ability to conduct research independently and the ability to participate in international research collaboration are very important considerations.

The most important qualification for the positions is the capacity to contribute to the research program's overall goals, as expressed in the project proposal (see below).

Appointment Procedure:

The Lund University job application portal should be used when applying. Complementary documents should be sent to: Registry office, Lund University, P.O. Box 117, SE-221 00 LUND, SWEDEN (Address for delivery of packages: Byrålogen 5C). The official record number should be clearly stated when sending complementary documents.

Your application must contain (a) a cover letter, (b) a CV, (c) one or two article-length writing samples (approximately 10,000 words), at least one of which should be single-authored, (d) a research proposal for your contribution to the STANCE research program (approx. 3-5 pages), and (e) two letters of recommendation.

Salary is determined on an individual basis, within certain guidelines for this type of position. If you wish, please state the requested salary in your application.

The employment is limited for two years.

Lund University welcomes applicants with diverse backgrounds and experiences. We regard gender equality and diversity as a strength and an asset.

We kindly decline all sales and marketing contacts.

Type of employment: Temporary position longer than 6 months

Contract type: Full time

First day of employment: According to agreement but preferably on 2018-09-01

Salary: Monthly salary

Number of positions: 1

Working hours: 100 %

City: Lund

County: Skåne län

Country: Sweden

Reference number PA2017/3989

Contact

Jan Teorell, Principal investigator, +46-46-222 80 93, jan.teorell@svet.lu.se

Björn Badersten, Head of the department, +46-46-222 01 59, bjorn.-badersten@svet.lu.se

Online listing: <https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what/job/jobID:182617/type/job/where:4/apply:1>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/28/2018

Date Posted: 1/10/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3935

Gallaudet University

Rank: Lecturer In International Relations or Comparative Government

Gallaudet University

Department of Government and Public Affairs

Non- Tenure Track Position

Lecturer, Government, specializing in International Relations or Comparative Politics (Europe, Russia, Asia, Middle East).

Gallaudet University serves Deaf, Hard-of-Hearing, and hearing students from many different backgrounds and seeks to develop a workforce that reflects the diversity of its student body. Gallaudet is an equal employment opportunity/affirmative action employer and actively encourages deaf, hard-of-hearing, members of traditionally under-represented groups, people with disabilities, women, and veterans to apply for open positions.

General Information: The Department of Government and Public Affairs seeks candidates for a full-time 9-month non-tenure track position. Rank is dependent on qualifications. Appointment date: August 16, 2018. Position is contingent upon funding.

Qualifications: A M.A. in International Relations or Comparative Politics with specialization in any of the following fields: Western Europe, Eastern Europe and Russia, or Asia and the Middle East. College undergraduate teaching experience required; candidates should show a strong commitment to students and the department through quality teaching and service. The candidate should be fluent in American Sign Language or be willing to become fluent in American Sign Language.

Responsibilities: The candidate is expected to teach within the interdisciplinary general education curriculum and within the major. The candidate is expected to teach upper division courses within their specialization and international relations, a comparative government course, European Union course, American foreign policy, and a graduate course in international relations and development. The successful candidate will be expected to engage in in service activities for the Department, University and Community including advising and mentoring majors, participation in Department meetings and events, recruitment of students and open houses, assessment of students and other appropriate activities.

Application: Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until filled. Send a letter of application clearly outlining your qualifications and fit with the job description and requirements, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and research interests, and your personal and/or academic connection to diverse communities. In addition to this letter, please send your curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to:

Dr. Frances Marquez, Faculty Search Chair
Department of Government & public Affairs
Gallaudet University
800 Florida Avenue, NE
Washington, D.C. 20002

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3929

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Dean

Subfield(s): Administration, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

DEAN, COLLEGE OF THE LIBERAL ARTS

The Pennsylvania State University seeks candidates for the position of Dean, College of the Liberal Arts. Penn State is the land-grant University of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with the University Park campus as its administrative hub, 23 other campuses located throughout the state, and its online World Campus. Reporting directly to the Executive Vice President and Provost of the University, the Dean serves as the principal academic and administrative officer of the College. The Dean holds the Susan Welch Dean's Chair and is known as the Susan Welch Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts. The Dean's Chair was named in honor of Dean Welch with an endowment gift of $5 million in 2010.

The position requires a distinguished scholar and strong proponent of the liberal arts. The new dean will work aggressively to advance the College's position as a leader among institutions of higher education in the creation and dissemination of knowledge for increasingly diverse and global constituencies. The successful candidate will be able to lead and manage the College in a multi-disciplinary and highly interdisciplinary research university. Prior leadership experience with responsibility for strategic management of personnel, programs, communication, and resources is required, along with an ability to inspire students to expand their knowledge and understand their impact in a multicultural, global society. In addition, the successful candidate should be a visionary leader; have a commitment to high-quality disciplinary and interdisciplinary education, as well as diversity and inclusion; a record of accomplishment in research, teaching, and fundraising; and familiarity with national issues affecting undergraduate and graduate education, with credentials appropriate for a tenured appointment at the rank of professor. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

The College of the Liberal Arts, founded in 1909, has approximately 6,000 undergraduate and 850 graduate students enrolled in residence, and an additional 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in online certificate and degree programs delivered through the Penn State World Campus. The College's faculty teach about 30 percent of all undergraduate credit hours at University Park and a higher percentage in the World Campus. The College has more than 700 full-time faculty members, about half of whom are on the tenure track, including many who are recognized leaders in their fields. Departments in the College span the humanities, social sciences, and the life sciences and many of the departments are among the top 10 of their peers in the last National Research Council rankings. Several interdisciplinary research centers and institutes, within the College and across the University, enhance the College's teaching, research, and outreach missions. College centers support research ranging from ethics to cognitive neuroscience, from the Civil War to human evolution, and from the bilingual brain to counterterrorism.

The 2017-18 operating budget for the College is approximately $102 million, with the World Campus generating significant additional income. In 2016-17, the College had about $30 million in research expenditures. The College has an endowment of approximately $130 million with more than 600 active funds, and an annual fundraising commitment that averages $15 million per year.

The College provides instruction and research opportunities in 21 departments and schools—African American Studies; African Studies; Anthropology; Applied Linguistics; Asian Studies; Classics and Ancient Mediterranean Studies; Communication Arts and Sciences; Comparative Literature; Economics; English; French and Francophone Studies; Germanic and Slavic Languages and Literatures; History; Jewish Studies; Labor and Employment Relations; Philosophy; Political Science; Psychology; Sociology and Criminology; Spanish, Italian and Portuguese; and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

To apply for this position, send (cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information of four references) via the University's employment web site at <https://psu.jobs/job/76213>. Please send any questions to the Chair of the Dean, Liberal Arts Search Committee at PSU-Search@psu.edu. The Search Committee will review applications and nominations beginning February 1, 2018, and will continue to receive them until the position is filled. For more information about the College of the Liberal Arts, visit our web site at <http://www.la.psu.edu/>.

Employment will require successful completion of background check(s) in accordance with University policies. Final candidate(s) for the position will be required to complete a full background check process, including education, employment, credit, motor vehicle verifications, criminal, and child abuse as appropriate.

To review the Penn State Annual Security Report, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>; a hard copy of the report is available on request.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to minorities, women, veterans, disabled individuals, and members of other protected groups.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3933

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Specializations: International Security, International Political Economy, Foreign Policy

<http://www.cmu.edu/ips/>

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for teaching postdoctoral fellowship positions in Comparative Politics, IPE, International Relations, and International Security.

The postdoctoral fellow will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2018, to July 31, 2020. The salary for this position is $45,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2015, and August 31, 2018. The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on February 8, 2018.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Please e-mail your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/8/2018

Date Posted: 1/8/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3924

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate - Fixed Term

The Department of Political Science is seeking to hire a full time Research Associate in the broad areas of International and Comparative Political Economy. The successful candidate will be expected to work with Professor Cristina Bodea to enhance the department's research agenda in Political Economy, through the publication of co-authored work with the Political Economy faculty and graduate students.

The requirements include: 1) A PhD in Political Science; 2) advanced training in Statistics and Econometrics. The teaching obligations for this position include one undergraduate course and several lab sessions for graduate students in the candidate's area of expertise. The initial appointment will be for one year, with an option for reappointment for another year.

Review of applications will begin February 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is August 15, 2018.

Interested applicants should apply via Michigan State University's Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu/>. Please submit cover letter, CV, copy of graduate transcripts, one research paper, statement of proposed research ideas (2-3 pages) and two letters of reference. For further questions please contact Professor Cristina Bodea at bodeaana@msu.edu. MSU is an Affirmative-Action equal-opportunity employer and is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3852

Yale University

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship in Political Economy, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The MacMillan Center, Yale University

The Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy at Yale invites applications for a post-doctoral position for AY 2018-2019. Candidates must have a robust research program in political economy, broadly construed, and must have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

The post-doctoral fellow will teach one course during the year, either in the Fall or the Spring semester, pursue his/her own research, and participate in the activities of the Leitner program. Fellows are expected to be in residence from August 2018 to May 2019.

We will begin accepting applications immediately with review beginning on Friday, December 15, 2017 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Compensation is competitive, and includes benefits and health coverage. We expect to be able to cover a junior scholar's salary for the full academic year and up to half of a senior scholar's salary. Senior scholars who will be taking leave from their home institution to accept the fellowship should indicate salary requirements and whether they expect to receive salary support from their university or outside sources.

To apply, send a cover letter, CV, research statement and a draft of a syllabus of a course you propose to teach at Yale. You'll also need to have three letters of recommendation submitted on your behalf.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46617>

Ms. Hira Jafri, Program Manager, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: hira.jafri@yale.edu. For details on the Leitner program, please consult the website: <http://www.yale.edu/leitner>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3851

Rhode Island College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Assistant Professor, Political Science. The Political Science Department at Rhode Island College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in the field Comparative Politics, with specialization in the politics of the Middle East, to begin Fall, 2018. The person hired will teach introductory political science courses, upper-level courses in their areas of specialization, and a course on non-governmental organizations. Additionally, we seek candidates who can teach our required course on research and writing in Political Science. The standard teaching load is three 4-credit courses per semester. Additional information on the position and application instructions can be found at <https://employment.ric.edu>.

Rhode Island College serves a diverse student population and is located in the vibrant city of Providence, Rhode Island.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 3824

Cornell University

Rank: Visiting Associate Professor

Cornell University's Department of Government seeks to fill a three-year visiting position, beginning July 1, 2018, in International Relations and Comparative Politics, with a focus on the politics and foreign policies of the Middle East. The ideal candidate will be able to teach courses on Israeli politics in comparative perspective (Middle East and cross-regional), the politics of nationalism and separatist movements, and international politics more broadly. The Department welcomes applicants who cross subfield boundaries (e.g., with connections to political theory) and would interact with other departments and programs, such as Near East Studies and the Judith Reppey Institute for Peace and Conflict Studies. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and a list of three references. Electronic application materials should be sent to: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10478>. We will begin to review applications starting December 1, 2017, and will continue until the search is completed.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3789

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for the 2018-19 academic year for a 12-month appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2018. The position is open to a scholar who would be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The ideal applicant will have received a Ph.D. within the past three years and studies aspects of contemporary Chinese society from a social science disciplinary perspective. He/she will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Applicants must apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/4781> (D-18-PII-00004)

Applications should include:

1. A cover letter
2. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. Contact information for two references
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3765

American University in Cairo

Rank: Comparative Politics/Methods

Comparative Politics/ Methods

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in Comparative Politics with emphasis on methods at the Assistant or Associate Level Professor beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in comparative politics, using examples outside as well as inside the Middle East and North Africa. Candidates who can teach quantitative & qualitative methods and apply them to studies of surveys and elections in the Arab region are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/7/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3744

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics that focuses on Latin America beginning on August 1, 2018. This is a twelve-month tenure-track position at our Ft. Benning/Columbus, Georgia/ Phoenix City, Alabama location.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018 with a research specialization in Latin America. The preferred qualifications are a focus in Latin American Security and/or intelligence and the teaching will primarily be in our master's degree (MSIR) in international relations. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Candidates should have experience working with the military and be prepared to act as the local university representative to Fort Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Faculty duties include advising students, submitting academic discipline-related articles for publication, attending departmental meetings, and serving on departmental committees.

Administrative duties include acting as the local university representative to Ft. Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community, acting as the main liaison with the Political Science Department at Troy, serving as a common point of contact, helping with scheduling, and reviewing projected schedules.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and provide three reference providers. Please combine the writing sample and research statement into one document and upload it under the "Other Document" section. Please direct all questions to Dr G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/10/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3589

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations (MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/6/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3574

The Citadel

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: China, Southeast Asia, Latin American

The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina, is currently seeking to fill a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in International Relations or Comparative Politics in the Department of Political Science.

The Citadel is a state-supported coeducational military college in historic downtown Charleston, South Carolina. We are committed to excellence in teaching with the expectation that faculty engage in consistent research and publication. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science with three subfields: American Government, International Politics and Military Affairs, and pre-Law and Legal Studies. The Department is home to approximately 250 undergraduate majors. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a Master of Arts program in International Politics & Military Affairs and graduate courses related to a Master of Arts program in Social Science.

A Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD eligible candidates who will finish their dissertation by August 2018 will be considered. Expertise in China and Asian area studies is required with a preference for those with professional experience in a US government agency. Ability to teach courses in Latin American Affairs and International/Domestic Terrorism is an added asset. Undergraduate teaching responsibilities include: Introduction to International Politics, Comparative Politics, Southeast Asian Affairs, East Asian Affairs, and South Asian Affairs.

Successful candidates will also be expected to teach both evening and online courses related to the two Master of Arts Programs.

To learn more about The Citadel and its programs please visit our website at www.citadel.edu. To find more information on the Department of Political Science, you can visit us at <http://www.citadel.edu/root/politicalscience>.

Please include the following in your application materials:

- (1) A letter of application addressing the qualifications listed above
- (2) Official transcripts
- (3) A curriculum vita
- (4) Three letters of recommendation sent independently to the address below
- (5) A writing sample
- (6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Application materials should be sent to: Jack J. Porter, Dept. of Political Science, The Citadel, 171 Moultrie St., Charleston, SC, 29409.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3537

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specializations: Asia, International Relations

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach comparative politics with a regional specialization in Asia/Pacific Rim. Expertise in international relations also highly desirable. Possible areas of specialty can include, but need not be limited to, terrorism, revolutions, international politics, international economic relations, international conflict. Ability to teach a basic methods course also desirable, though not required.

Responsibilities include teaching introductory courses, including Introduction to World Politics, and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of international experiential activities (e.g. study abroad, internships, civic engagement, Model UN). College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Expertise in international relations and ability to teach basic methods course highly desirable.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts; a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3412

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3361

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - multiple positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics, international relations, political theory and quantitative methods. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/8/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3360

SUNY, College at Oneonta

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations and Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the State University of New York College at Oneonta invites applications for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in International Relations / Comparative Government beginning Fall 2018. The initial appointment will be for two years. Expectations include teaching, research, student advisement, college service, and continuing professional development. SUNY Oneonta is a comprehensive, public, liberal arts and sciences college. The College sits at #9 on the 2016 list of "Top Public Regional Universities" in the North published by U.S. News & World Report, and is ranked #175 in the Northeast on the Forbes magazine list of "America's Top Colleges." The Political Science Department is an expanding part of the College's School of Social Sciences, whose faculty are highly collegial and engaged as teachers, scholars, and mentors. They actively pursue the development of a dynamic learning environment for students in which research and applied learning opportunities are available. To learn more about the College or the Department, please visit www.oneonta.edu or www.oneonta.edu/academics/polsci/. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with diverse populations and/or teaching pedagogies and/or multicultural teaching experience.

For a complete description of this position go to: <https://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=87620>

To apply online go to: <http://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=87620>

For other employment and regional opportunities, please visit our website at: www.oneonta.edu/employment.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/7/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3351

Ohio State University

Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/15/2017
Date Posted: 9/5/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3337

Ohio State University

Rank: The Health of Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position affiliated with the university's new Institute for Democratic Engagement and Accountability. In keeping with the university's motto, "Education for Citizenship," we welcome applications from scholars broadly interested in the health of democracy, especially the conditions for energetic democratic participation and effective governance. Successful candidates may specialize in one or more areas, including political behavior, political communication, political economy, political psychology, political theory, the policymaking process, race and ethnic politics, or others. Further, we are open with respect to subfield, though we are especially interested in applicants who focus on or include the American case. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by autumn 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus:The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9663>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at Neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3336

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Immigration/Migration Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latino Politics, International Political Economy

Immigration and/or Migration Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to understanding immigration and/or migration. We seek a scholar whose research advances our understanding of the causes and consequences of these population movements. He or she may also study the social, political, economic, and demographic realignments that migrants produce in their communities of destination or origin. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, History, Sociology, Psychology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03189>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3328

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Social Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Welfare, Labor Politics, Economic Policy

Social Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to social policy. We seek a scholar whose research advances our knowledge of policies that address the economic and social disparities—inclusive of differences in geography, race, and ethnicity. His or her research may deepen our understanding of the changing dynamics of labor-market opportunities or how employment contributes to the social welfare of individuals and families. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, Sociology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03183>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3329

Le Moyne College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Le Moyne College invites applications from qualified candidates for a faculty opening for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor of International Relations or Comparative Politics, beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will offer traditional introductory IR or CP courses at the undergraduate level; upper-division courses are open in terms of expertise and interest in world politics, although interest in human rights issues, or in an area such as Africa or the Middle East would be welcome. Candidates should identify in the application letter the specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Qualified candidates must demonstrate teaching effectiveness, manifest a strong understanding of and commitment to a liberal arts education, and be dedicated to maintaining an active research agenda. Qualified candidates must be ABD; preference given to a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment.

To apply for this position, please go to <http://www.lemoyne.edu/employment> and submit the required materials for consideration: a letter of application stating research and teaching interests; a curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; relevant teaching evaluations; and three confidential letters of recommendation - all sent electronically to lemoynehr@lemoyne.edu with the subject line of "Visiting International Relations." Application materials and supporting documentation may also be submitted by mail to: Amy Zubieta, Le Moyne College, 1419 Salt Springs Road, Grewen Hall, 2nd Floor (Human Resources), Attn: International Relations Search, Syracuse, New York 13214.

Review of completed applications will begin January 31, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3320

New College of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - International Political Economy/Latin America

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in International Political Economy and Comparative Political Economy with a substantive focus on Latin America. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, teaching experience and career interest in liberal arts teaching, and a vibrant research agenda. In addition to anchoring the general IPE field and teaching courses in Latin American IPE/CPE, the candidate will offer an upper-level undergraduate course in the comparative politics of Latin America and join in the rotation(s) of at least one of the following disciplinary service courses: Intro to World Politics, Research Design (multiple approaches and methods), or Quantitative Analysis. Given the IPE/CPE emphasis of this position, we expect that the candidate hired would have advanced quantitative skills and be able to guide both qualitative and quantitative undergraduate research. While this position is open with regard to research interests, we would look especially favorably on someone who can teach about and supervise research on the large states and economies of South America. The candidate must have completed the Ph.D. by the start of employment in August 2018.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis or project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. We are committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourage collaborative student-faculty scholarship. The teaching load is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. Faculty members also provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior theses, and serve on baccalaureate committees. Professors are expected to maintain a program of research or creative work. We are particularly interested in candidates with a commitment to innovative undergraduate liberal arts teaching.

Candidates should apply on-line at <https://www.ncf.edu/employment> and upload the following: a cover letter; c.v.; statements of no more than a page each regarding teaching philosophy, the candidate's contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment, and research interests; syllabi; teaching evaluations; one writing sample (article or chapter length); and unofficial graduate transcript(s). In addition, please ask at least three references to send signed letters on letterhead electronically to ssc@ncf.edu or in hard copy to: IPE Search, Division of Social Sciences, New College of Florida, 5800 Bay Shore Rd, Sarasota, FL 34243. According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. For questions about the application process, please contact Ms. Kristi Fecteau at kfecteau@ncf.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. We will be at the APSA convention for preliminary interviews and more information. If you are interested in meeting at APSA, please send an e-mail to Prof. Barbara Hicks at bhicks@ncf.edu with APSA-IPE in the subject line.

New College of Florida is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty. Women and candidates from underrepresented groups or whose knowledge or skills can support an inclusive learning environment are especially encouraged to apply. Consistent with law and its respect for personal dignity, the college does not discriminate against applicants for employment based on race, color, sex, age, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. In accordance with state law, all employees are subject to a background check at the time of hiring. EOE/AA/ADA/WMA.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/1/2017
Date Posted: 8/9/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3156

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles) invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in the field of Comparative Politics. Areas of interest include state formation and capacity, authoritarianism and democratization, contentious politics, identity politics, political institutions and policymaking, and the political economy of development. We welcome applications from scholars studying any developing region, including South Asia, Latin America, and Africa. Promise of excellence in research and teaching, and a completed Ph.D. by the start of appointment, are required.

In order to be considered, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser:

<https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-comparative-politics/1209/5281326>. The applicant should upload a CV, a letter of interest, writing samples, and the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for references. Referees will be contacted automatically upon receipt of the application, and must upload their letters prior to the deadline. Inquiries may be sent to posc@dornsife.usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted. Review of applications will start September 25, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/7/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3141

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, Latin American, Mexico

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2017-18 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2018.

Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2017 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01465>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3001

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

University of Minnesota, Duluth

Rank: One-year FT Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics and International Relations

Subject to available funding, the Department of Political Science at the University of Minnesota Duluth has a full-time temporary Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics and International Relations available beginning August 20, 2017. Job duties include teaching seven courses. The courses in Comparative Politics may include, An Introduction to Comparative politics (offered twice). The courses in International Relations may include An Introduction to International Relations (offered twice) and American Foreign Policy. Further courses may include Contemporary Issues in World Politics and a Senior Seminar in Political Science.

For more information on the Department of Political Science, go to: <http://www.d.umn.edu/pol/main/index.php>

The University of Minnesota Duluth requires you to apply online for this position. For complete position description, requirements, and information on how to apply online, visit <http://employment.umn.edu/> and search for job requisition 322231. To ensure consideration, all required application materials must be received by April 1, 2018, and review of completed applications will begin on this date and continue until the positions are filled.

The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity educator and employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 4/1/2018

Date Posted: 2/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4077

Princeton University

Rank: PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Administration, Other, International Relations

PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellowship

Job Listing

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship program for the 2018-19 year. Up to three 3-year postdoctoral fellowships will be awarded to exceptional recent Ph.D. recipients who are researching issues of global importance in the sciences and engineering, arts, humanities, and social sciences. Fields of special interest include hydro-climate modeling and analysis of infectious diseases, other global challenges and large structural processes, systems thinking, and cross-regional interaction (Brazil-Africa, Brazil-China, China-India, China-Africa, India-Africa, Africa-Europe, Russia-China, etc.). Applicants must have already demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievement and excellence in teaching.

The fellowship's responsibilities include both teaching (one course or equivalent each semester for two years, one course in the third year) and research. The Fellow will either participate in a team-taught course or offer a self-designed course in an interdisciplinary program. In addition, the Fellow will do some advising in his/her specialty or related areas. When teaching, the successful candidate will carry a secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching is contingent on sufficient course enrollments and the prior approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

Appointments, to be made at the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate, will be annual with the expectation of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and continued funding. In addition to salary and benefits, the program will provide fellows a research account of $3,000 a year, an office, a personal computer and other resources. Fellows are expected to reside in or near Princeton during the year in order to attend related seminars and workshops and participate fully in the intellectual life of PIIRS and related units. A Ph.D. is required.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad/positions/position/5961>.

The following application items should be uploaded by the applicant:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Dissertation abstract
- Writing sample: one chapter of the dissertation or one published article related to the dissertation topic.
- Research proposal
- Two course proposals
- For ABD (All But Dissertation) candidates: letter of "Progress to Degree" from the director of graduate studies or department chair.
- For applicants with PhD degree: document confirming your completion of all requirements for the PhD degree.
- Names and email addresses for three references, who will be invited to upload their confidential letter of recommendation to the online portal once the application has been submitted.

For full consideration applicants should apply by Friday, March 23, 2018. Due to the anticipated volume of applications, only final candidates will be contacted. Further information about PIIRS can be found at: <http://piirs.princeton.edu/>.

For questions about this position, please contact Nicole Bergman at nbergman@princeton.edu.

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Winter 2018
Application Deadline: 3/26/2018
Date Posted: 2/26/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4074

College of New Jersey

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the International Studies Program at The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) invite applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor position in International Relations and Comparative Politics to begin August 2018. The successful candidate will have expertise in East and/or South Asian politics, and be prepared to teach introduction to international relations, a 200-level course on political development, and an upper-division course on the politics of East Asia. The successful candidate will also teach an introductory writing-intensive seminar in the College's interdisciplinary International Studies Program. The teaching load is four courses per semester. However, we anticipate no more than four different course preparations during the academic year. A PhD is preferred, but the College will consider ABDs. Applications received by March 16, 2018, will receive full consideration, but the position will remain open until filled.

Founded in 1855, TCNJ is a highly selective institution that has earned national recognition for its commitment to excellence. Emphasizing a residential experience for its nearly 7,000 undergraduates, TCNJ is one of Barron's 75 "Most Competitive" American colleges, and U.S. News & World Report's No. 1 public institution of its kind in the northern region of the country. The College also offers focused graduate programs in nursing, education and English. TCNJ was awarded, in 2006, a Phi Beta Kappa chapter—an honor shared by less than 10 percent of colleges and universities nationally. A strong liberal arts core forms the foundation for programs offered through TCNJ's seven schools—Arts & Communication; Business; Humanities and Social Sciences; Education; Science; Nursing, Health, and Exercise Science; and Engineering. TCNJ faculty members are teacher-scholars who share a commitment to liberal learning. TCNJ is located within an hour, by train, of NYC and Philadelphia. The College's campus is set on 289 tree-lined acres in suburban Ewing Township and is known for its natural beauty. TCNJ has 39 major buildings, including the 4th-best college library in the nation, according to the Princeton Review. The School of Humanities and Social Sciences enrolls over 2,000 majors in 14 academic programs. The Department of Political Science includes seven tenure-line faculty positions and supports approximately 160 political science majors, and the interdisciplinary International Studies Program boasts 140 majors. For more information, visit www.tcnj.edu.

Apply online at <https://chm.tbe.taleo.net/chm03/ats/careers/v2/viewRequisition?org=TCNJ&cws=37&rid=364>

Please submit the following materials:

- 1) Cover letter describing qualifications and research and teaching interests
- 2) Curriculum vitae (CV)
- 3) Unofficial graduate transcript
- 4) Scholarly writing sample
- 5) Evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi

6) Contact information for three references.

Applicants should also have at least three referees submit confidential letters of recommendation directly to Daniel Bowen at bowend@tcnj.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/23/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4068

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: East Asia, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Department of History and International Studies is seeking to hire an Assistant Professor of Political Science/International Studies starting fall 2018. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science, International Studies, International Relations, Security Studies or related field, OR hold a Master's degree in one of these fields combined with professional experience commensurate to a doctorate. Regional specialization is open, though with some preference for Asia-Pacific. The hire will teach eight courses over the course of the full academic year. The exact division of the courses and in which term will be negotiated between the candidate, the chair and the dean. The courses will include lower-division PSCI and INTR courses like PSCI 1400 American Politics and PSCI 2000 Introduction to Politics, and upper-division courses like PSCI 3412 US Foreign Policy, PSCI 3500 Comparative Politics, INTR 3000 International Relations, and INTR 3200 National and International Security. The hire will also be expected to offer graduate courses to support the MA program in Diplomacy and Military Studies, such as PSCI 6601 Diplomacy and International Relations and supporting electives in the hire's areas of specialization. Courses may include mixture of in-class and on-line offerings. Hawaii's Pacific University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

Qualifications:

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science, International Studies, Security Studies or related field from an accredited university OR Master's degree in Political Science, International Studies, or Security Studies from an accredited university combined with professional experience commensurate to a doctorate. ABD candidates will be considered. If the successful candidate is ABD, the appointment will be at the rank of instructor with the possibility of promotion to assistant professor with conferral of Ph.D. or terminal degree.

College-level teaching experience

Currently authorized to work in the United States

Desired Qualifications:

Two years or more of undergraduate college-level teaching experience

Graduate-level college teaching experience

Scholarly publications

Experience teaching university students in a diverse environment

Master's level thesis supervision experience

Online teaching experience

Other Qualifications:

Report to work obligations to support the department and may require work during HPU's winter break, if necessary.

Must meet training and background check qualifications and comply with the Protection of Minors policy.

Upon hire, candidate must have reliable personal transportation to facilitate travel between to all HPU worksites and other locations as required by the position. This includes a valid driver's license and a personal vehicle that is legally registered and insured.

Able to teach classes scheduled during days, evenings, and weekends. Able to teach classes at multiple locations on Oahu.

Successful candidate will be able to work in an environment that utilize excellent time and stress management skills.

Key Responsibilities/Essential Job Functions: Note: Percentages are estimates.

1. Teaching (75%)

Teaching is the primary responsibility of Regular Faculty and specific functions include, but are not limited to the following:

Develop a syllabus of course activities that meet the requirements of the course description or program chair, establishes appropriate student learning outcomes, and provides for appropriate class activities throughout the semester.

Plan and deliver individual classes that conform to the syllabus and other requirements of the University.

Demonstrate a command of the discipline and skill in presenting it effectively in the context of an integrated education.

Maintain accurate and complete records on student participation and performance, use appropriate measures and evaluate student performance on the basis of established student learning outcomes, provide timely feedback to students and assign grades that are an accurate and fair evaluation of student work.

Submit grades and any other required documentation in a timely manner.

Administer student evaluations of faculty at the end of each course, review evaluation summaries and meet with department chair and dean to review.

Post and maintain regular office hours at times reasonably convenient to students. Serve as an advisor to students to assist them in understanding the curriculum, especially within the major, and mentor them as they plan their degree programs and careers.

In addition to formal course loads, bear fair share of the faculty responsibility for supervising student research, professional internships, and independent study.

Meet deadlines and follow directions of the program/department chair, associate dean or dean of the college.

Evaluate the teaching of colleagues through the process of peer review as requested.

Prepare Professional Development Plans or Progress Briefs and reappointment/promotion applications according to established guidelines.

Promote student success by following requirements found in the Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Manual.

Faculty not assigned to College of Professional Services (CPS) may be required to teach up to two courses per academic year on a Military Program campus, but no more than one per semester.

2. Scholarship and Professional Development (10%)

Faculty members are expected to serve a professional role models to students and colleagues in scholarly activity and in critical investigation and experimentation for the purpose of increasing human knowledge. Keep abreast of the new knowledge in the field to ensure courses, syllabi, instructional materials and techniques, and teaching methods are current and appropriate, and to participate where appropriate, in school or university-sponsored curriculum development programs and projects.

Engage in distinctive course and academic program development efforts; to participate in professional colloquia, seminars, and workshops; and to share ideas and the results of scholarly and artistic endeavors with peers both at the university and in the larger academic/artistic community.

Examples of scholarly activities and professional development include but are not limited to the following:

Publication of research findings in peer-reviewed journal articles, academic papers, book chapters, books, or other writing normal to the discipline

Presentations at academic conferences

Obtaining internal or external research grants, fellowships, and other funding awards

Department, college, university, state, national, and international honors and awards

Invited evaluations and reviews of the work of other professionals

Participation on review panels for outside funding agencies

Service as either editor or referee for professional publications

Leadership of, committee work for, and participation in scholarly and professional organizations

Sustained activity in program development

3. University Service (10%) Engage in service to department, school or college, and the university in ways that extend and enrich the university's academic programs and its governance.

Attend orientation programs and Faculty Assembly meetings and participate in academic duties.

Participate in academic governance of department. Participate in committees; course, program and curriculum area coordination; curricular development and textbook selection; instructional workshops and activities within own curricular areas, policy and program review; or other learning assessments.

Serve as representatives on school or college level and university level committees of the Faculty Assembly, as well as on other task forces and committees that assist the chair of the Faculty Assembly and/or the deans in the formation of academic policies and related matters. Assist with co-curricular activities to include organization of, participation in, or presentation of faculty forums or workshops; advising and sponsorship of clubs and societies; participation in, organization of, providing guidance and assistance to extra-curricular or co-curricular university events such as banquets, the literary magazine, the athletic program, intercultural events, theatrical productions, guest speaker forums, or graduation ceremonies.

May include specific accomplishments as a voluntary or elected member of a Faculty Assembly or school or college level committee; curriculum area liaison; coordination of a course, program or discipline; mentoring other faculty; program review activities; coordinating training or other events; and recruitment activities.

Colleges will further determine and articulate specific expectations for university service.

4. Performs other related duties as appropriate (5%)

Actively participate as an effective member of team by completing assigned duties, accepting additional assignments or reassignments.

This description is not designed to list all activities, duties or responsibilities which may be required for this job.

Hawai'i Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawai'i Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Agency

Hawaii Pacific University

Phone

808-544-1188

Website

<http://www.hpu.edu/employment>

Address

1164 Bishop St

8th Floor

Honolulu, Hawaii, 96813.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4069

Case Western Reserve University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Case Western Reserve University seeks qualified candidates for a visiting position in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations, at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) or Visiting Instructor, for the academic year 2017-18. This is a one-year position with the possibility of an additional one-year period.

Upper-division courses are open, in terms of expertise and interest, although we are in particular need of courses in comparative and/or international environmental politics and policy, the politics of Africa, south central Asian politics, and international security. Candidates must be able to offer either Introduction to Comparative Politics or Introduction to International Relations; ability to offer a course in Research Methods preferred. Candidates should identify in the application letter the courses they are prepared to teach. The conventional teaching load for this position is two courses per semester. ABD required, PhD preferred.

Candidates should submit 1) a letter of application stating research and teaching interests, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) graduate transcript, and 4) relevant teaching evaluations to Ms. Jessica Jurcak, Comparative Politics /International Relations Search, Department of Political Science, Case Western Reserve University, Mather House 111, Cleveland Ohio, 44106; electronic submissions should be sent to Ms. Jessica Jurcak at jkj22@case.edu. Candidates should also arrange for three letters of reference to be sent by each referee to Ms. Jessica Jurcak at jkj22@case.edu.

In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Case Western Reserve University provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office for Inclusion, Diversity and Equal Opportunity at 216.368.8877 to request a reasonable accommodation. Determinations as to granting reasonable accommodations for any applicant will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 4/20/2018

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4059

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor and Counterterrorism Option Director, MPS-HLS

Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor and Counterterrorism Option Director, MPS-HLS

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a three-year, non-tenure track position as Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor in Political Science and Director for the Counterterrorism Option in the interdisciplinary Master of Professional Studies in Homeland Security (MPS-HLS) online degree program. The position entails teaching in residence and online classes in terrorism and security, including the design and teaching of Master's level online coursework on terrorism and counterterrorism, as well as management of and advising within the Counterterrorism Option.

Candidates should have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science or in another discipline related to Terrorism and Homeland Security, though qualified applicants at the ABD level will also be considered. Professional experience in counterterrorism fields and/or on-line teaching experience is preferred.

For a more detailed description of the Master of Professional Studies in Homeland Security (MPS-HLS) program in which the Counterterrorism Option will be located, please visit the website: <https://www.worldcampus.psu.edu/degrees-and-certificates/penn-state-online-homeland-security-counterterrorism-masters/overview> To learn more about the Political Science department, please visit our website at <http://polisci.la.psu.edu/>.

The start date for the position is July 1, 2018. Please include in your application the following: a letter of application detailing relevant qualifications for the position, a current CV, a writing sample, sample syllabi and teaching evaluations. All candidates should also request three letters of reference to be sent directly to the search committee at: <mailto:plscapplications@psu.edu>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Apply online at <http://apptrkr.com/1172266>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-34f384e1bc2d420b9adf701ee5cdb7dc

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4060

Pomona College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics at Pomona College invites applications for a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2018-19 academic year. The position requires regional expertise and strong teaching credentials in international relations and quantitative methods. The teaching load is 5 courses; among those, the candidate will be expected to teach an intermediate international relations seminar, a course in political statistics, and other courses in the candidate's regional area of expertise. This is a restricted local search; the college is unable to pay travel expenses. This position is not eligible for visa sponsorship.

Pomona College is a top-ten liberal arts institution founded in 1884 and located in Los Angeles County, Southern California. Its resources are enhanced by the adjacent Claremont Colleges, a consortium of seven institutions including Pitzer College, Scripps College, Claremont McKenna College, Harvey Mudd College, Keck Graduate Institute, and Claremont Graduate University.

The department is particularly interested in candidates who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds and a demonstrated commitment to improving access to and success in higher education for underrepresented students.

Review of applications will be on a rolling basis and will continue until finalists are identified. Pomona College encourages applications from women and minority candidates. Please submit to Academic Jobs Online a cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, written samples of your research, transcripts, and three letters of recommendation. Alternatively, hard copies of the same materials may be sent to: Susan McWilliams, Chair, Pomona College Politics Department, 425 N. College Avenue, Claremont, CA 91711; susan.mcwilliams@pomona.edu, (909) 607-0873 [phone]; (909) 607-1274 [fax].

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4064

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Post Doc Fellowship

Specializations: Western Europe, International Political Economy, International Security

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs at Georgia Tech invites applications for a post-doctoral fellowship to begin Fall 2018 to be associated with the Center for European and Transatlantic Studies, a Jean Monnet Center of Excellence.

The term of appointment will be two years. The salary is highly competitive ($50,000 – 55,000). The responsibilities include teaching one course per semester and supporting the activities of the Center.

The ideal candidate would have research and teaching interests in European politics broadly defined. A focus on comparative European foreign policy; justice and home affairs (including counterterrorism and asylum/migration); or privacy and the digital economy would be particularly welcome. Applicants should show promise of outstanding scholarly achievement.

The Sam Nunn School is a multidisciplinary school with a growing undergraduate, graduate, and overseas programs, including joint undergraduate degrees with Modern Languages and Economics. The School's programs focus on understanding the global context of advances in science and technology. The Sam Nunn School has 22 full-time faculty members; more than 200 undergraduate majors, 30 Master's and 10 Ph.D. degree students. Georgia Tech enrolls over 21,000 students and is consistently ranked as one of the top seven public universities in the United States. Georgia Tech is located in midtown Atlanta. A unit of the University System of Georgia, Georgia Tech is an AA/EQ employer. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.

To receive full consideration, application materials should be received by March 21 and should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and an example of scholarly work. Applicants should also arrange for a graduate transcript and three current letters of recommendation to be provided. Materials should be sent to: inta-postdoc@t-square.gatech.edu. Please direct enquiries to Alasdair Young (alasdair.young@gatech.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/21/2018

Date Posted: 2/21/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4057

Miller Center at the University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Practice

The Miller Center <http://millercenter.org> at the University of Virginia seeks to hire an ASSISTANT or ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF PRACTICE, General Faculty. The position is a 12-month position and is focused on integrating professional experience with the academic mission of the Miller Center and the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as on providing service to the University. The faculty member will split her/his time between 1) work and teaching in the Security and Justice track of the College's interdisciplinary Global Studies program <http://globalstudies.virginia.edu>; and 2) the development and implementation of a new teaching/research program on democratic statecraft that is being developed by the Miller Center with the College and other units of the University. The faculty member will report through the director of the statecraft program to the Miller Center Director and CEO, with an indirect reporting line to the Director of the Global Studies program.

This appointment is based on the availability of funding. The position is tenure-ineligible and is subject to the terms and conditions found in the University's policy on the employment of Academic General Faculty Members <http://uvapolicy.virginia.edu/policy/PROV-004>. The initial term is one-to-three years, and renewal is possible, based on performance, funding, and need. The preferred start date is on or before August 25, 2018. Salary is commensurate with experience. The position is open until filled.

Qualifications

- High-level experience in international policymaking in the U.S. government (deputy assistant secretary-equivalent or above), required
- Minimum of Master's degree in policy studies, history, political science, or a closely-related field, required; Doctoral degree, preferred
- Record of published academic scholarship analyzing security policy topics, required
- Ability to be in residence at the Miller Center for the term of the appointment, preferred
- Significant field experience in a foreign country, preferred
- Experience working in more than one agency of the U.S. government, preferred
- Experience working with university faculty and/or within a university environment, preferred

Organizational Background

Established in 1975 through a generous gift from entrepreneur and philanthropist Burkett Miller, the Miller Center is a nonpartisan affiliate of the University of Virginia that specializes in presidential scholarship, public policy and political history. It strives to apply the lessons of history to the nation's most pressing contemporary governance challenges. The Miller Center is committed to the examination of significant public policy issues in a manner that encourages civil debate and engagement.

The University of Virginia, founded by Thomas Jefferson in 1819, is one of the top public universities in the nation. It is located in Charlottesville, 120 miles from Washington, D.C. The University's Rotunda and "academical village" are a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The historic homes of three presidents are nearby: Jefferson's Monticello, James Madison's Montpelier, and James Monroe's Highland. Situated in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Charlottesville is frequently cited as one of the best places to live and work in the United States.

Application Instructions

To apply, visit jobs.virginia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=83766, complete a candidate profile and attach a cover letter, CV, contact information for three professional references, and writing samples (book chapter, article, op-ed, etc.).

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4051

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Full-Time Visiting Faculty

The Department of Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a one year visiting appointment to begin in August 2018. We are seeking a specialist in International Relations. The successful applicant will teach two sections of Introduction to International Relations each semester, one section of American Foreign Policy in the fall, and either a second section of American Foreign Policy in the spring or another upper-division course in the candidate's area of specialization.

Visiting full-time faculty teach 3 courses each semester and are eligible for travel support and reimbursement of relocation costs within the College's published policies. All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and include full benefits.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching at the introductory and advanced levels as well as scholarly achievement. Ph.D. in Political Science or imminent completion required.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please submit a cover letter addressing the position requirements listed above, curriculum vitae, statement on teaching, transcripts, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

In your cover letter, in addition to describing your research and teaching interests, please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or service might support the College's mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college (see <http://holycross.edu/mission>) and its core commitment to diversity and inclusion. For more information, please visit <http://holycross.edu/diversity>. Candidates are encouraged to learn more about faculty life at the College by visiting <http://holycross.edu/join>.

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to <https://apply.interfolio.com/48926>.

Review of applications will begin on March 9 and continue until the position has been filled. Questions about this search may be directed to Vickie Langohr, Chair, at vlangohr@holycross.edu.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 2,900 students and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community.

Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (<http://www.newenglandherc.org>). The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/9/2018

Date Posted: 2/18/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4049

Colgate University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Colgate University invites applications in International Relations for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning fall term 2018. Candidates should be able to teach introductory courses in International Relations as well as more advanced courses in the candidate's area of interest. Area of specialization is open. Evidence of teaching excellence is essential. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. Completion of Ph.D. is preferred prior to or shortly after the date of hire. Please submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and evidence of teaching effectiveness, and arrange for submission of three letters of recommendation. All materials must be submitted online at [<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10864>]. Colgate strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. All applications should speak directly to the candidate's ability to work effectively with students across a wide range of identities and backgrounds. Review of applications will begin March 15 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find postings of other employment opportunities at Colgate and at other institutions of higher education in upstate New York at www.upstatenyherc.org.

It is the policy of Colgate University not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of their race, color, creed, religion, age, sex, pregnancy, national origin, marital status, disability, protected veterans status, sexual orientation and gender identity and expression, genetic information, victims of domestic violence and stalking, familial status, and all other categories covered by law. Colgate University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, women, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Please contact committee chair Ed Fogarty at efogarty@colgate.edu for further information.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4039

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate

Post-Doctoral
 Subfields: Political behavior, institutions, and/or political economy.

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a postdoctoral position in political behavior, institutions and/or political economy. This is a full-time one-year position beginning in September, 2018. Salary will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. The post doc will be under the direction of Mathew D McCubbins, the Ruth F. De Varney Professor of Political Science and Professor of Law (www.mccubbins.us). The successful candidate must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. degree by August 30, 2018. Applicants who do not currently have their Ph.D. in hand must provide a statement from their committee attesting that all requirements will be completed by August 30, 2018.

Applications (including a statement of research interests, a curriculum vitae, a sample of research, and three letters of recommendation) should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10868>. Address correspondence to: Mat McCubbins, Department of Political Science, Duke University, Box 90204, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Durham NC 27708-0204 before April 15, 2018, or by email to Mathew.mccubbins@duke.edu. We will start evaluating applications on March 1, 2018 with decisions being made as early as March 15, 2018.

Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 4/15/2018
Date Posted: 2/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4037

University of Portland

Rank: 2-yr Visiting Professor

Specializations: East Asia, Southeast Asia, Western Europe

The University of Portland invites qualified candidates in the field of Comparative Politics to apply for a two-year Visiting position in the Department of Political Science beginning August 2018 and ending May 2020. In addition to teaching sections of our introductory Core course in World Politics, the successful candidate will also offer upper-division undergraduate courses in his or her areas of expertise. We are particularly interested in candidates who are able to teach courses related to South, Southeast, or East Asia, or Eastern and/or Western Europe. Candidates should identify in their cover letter the specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Qualified candidates must demonstrate teaching effectiveness, manifest a strong understanding of and commitment to a liberal arts education, and be dedicated to participating in a collegial and cooperative department. Support of the university's mission as a comprehensive, Catholic, teaching university is expected. Applicants with a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment are preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered. This is a teaching-focused position with a 4/4 load, and teaching experience is required.

To apply for this position, please go to the link HireTouch link below and submit the required materials for consideration: a cover letter stating teaching philosophy, competencies, and interests; a curriculum vitae; relevant teaching evaluations (past two years only); and two confidential letters of recommendation. Informal interviews will be offered at the Western Political Science Association Annual Meeting in San Francisco, March 28-31; please contact Dr. Anne Santiago at santiago@up.edu to schedule an interview at WPSA. The position is open until filled. A background investigation check is required before final hiring procedures can be completed for all faculty and staff positions.

<https://up.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=46243&job=full-time-two-year-visiting-assistant-professor-comparative-politics-august-2018-and-ending-may-2020>

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/13/2018
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 4041

University of Southern California

Rank: Teaching Postdoctoral Fellowship (Europe)

We seek applicants with expertise in the international relations of Europe. The successful candidate will join the Center for International Studies (CIS) at USC as a postdoctoral fellow, and is expected to teach one 15-week course per semester for two semesters. We also look for candidates with strong research profile with emphasis on academic publications, and interest in engaging in the vibrant research community of the School of International Relations and the CIS. A Ph.D. is required by time of appointment.

Required materials include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the three reference letters, and official graduate transcripts. Inquiries may be sent to sirsearch@dornsife.usc.edu

The School of International Relations in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC; Los Angeles, California) invites applications for a postdoctoral position with two-course teaching for AY2018-19. The fall semester starts in the third week of August 2018.

Applications should be complete by February 15, 2018 to receive fullest consideration. Applicants are required to complete the on-line application process (with few exceptions—such as published books—materials submitted by regular post will not be accepted). Follow this link or paste it in a browser: https://usc.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/ExternalUSCCareers/job/Los-Angeles-CA---University-Park-Campus/Postdoctoral-Scholar---Teaching-Fellow\_REQ20054238

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4042

Princeton University and Peking University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Within the framework of their Memorandum of Understanding, Peking University and Princeton University have established a Postdoctoral Fellowship Program: Peking-Princeton Postdoctoral Program (PPPP), aiming at training highly-qualified, early-career postdoctoral researchers in studies of contemporary China so that they are positioned to become leaders in their respective academic fields. Princeton University and Peking University invite applications for two postdoctoral research associates in studies of contemporary China for the 2018–19 academic year.

Each fellowship is expected to be awarded for up to two years: the first 12 consecutive months at Peking University with a visiting appointment at Princeton University and the next 12 consecutive months at Princeton University with a visiting appointment at Peking University, with renewal after the first year contingent on satisfactory performance. Preferred start date is September 1, 2018. The position is open to early-career scholars who would be in residence and participate in the host organization's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The position is also open to any discipline, as long as the fellow conducts research on contemporary China. The candidate's research must be supervised by a faculty member at each University and, as such, must receive the endorsement of a faculty member at each institution in order to apply.

Funding:

For the stay at Peking University:

During their stay at PKU, Postdoctoral Fellows will receive a monthly stipend of 15,000 RMB. They can receive an additional 3,500 RMB per month for self-organized accommodation or choose to live in a PKU postdoc flat. The fellows will further be eligible to apply for travel funding from external sources. During the appointment at Peking, the postdoctoral researcher will hold a visiting appointment at Princeton.

For the stay at Princeton University:

For the 12 months in residence at Princeton, each fellow will be appointed at the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior with a monthly salary of 5,000 (60,000/year) US dollars which will be provided by Princeton, including a one-time relocation allowance of 2,000 US dollars. Further, each fellow will be eligible to apply for travel funding, have access to resources at the Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China, and be eligible for employee benefits provided by Princeton. During the appointment at Princeton, the postdoctoral researcher will hold a visiting appointment at Peking University.

Eligibility and Evaluation Criteria:

The fellowship is open to highly qualified researchers of all nationalities who received their PhD no more than three years prior to the start of the appointment. The program is open to both internal and external candidates. Applicants holding tenure or tenure-track faculty positions are not eligible to apply.

Selection is based on the academic excellence of the applicant, the quality of the proposed research project, compelling demonstration of the anticipated synergy of the appointed postdoc, and the commitment of the respective hosts at both universities. The research proposal should include information on how the project will benefit from the research environments of both institutions.

Requirements and Opportunities:

Successful applicants must provide a 10-page report on their research and experience in the Postdoctoral Fellowship after completion of the two-year program.

Fellows are encouraged to publish together with their hosts at PKU and PU.

Applications:

To apply for a postdoctoral position, please link to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/5681> (link is external) (D-18-PII-00007). Simultaneously, you must submit a pdf application to PKU, as instructed below. This position is subject to the Universities' background check policy. All application documents must be prepared in English and include the following:

A research proposal and time plan (max. 10 pages in total, including tables/figures and references);

Concise Curriculum Vitae (max. 4 pages in total);

Two recommendation letters (including one from the applicant's doctoral supervisor);

Two explicit endorsement letters by the potential supervisors, one at each university; and
 One writing sample (not to exceed 10MB).
 Incomplete submissions will not be considered.

Application deadline: Application deadline: 3/1/18, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Submission to PKU:

The complete application should be saved as one file in pdf format. Please email it to: Mr. Fan Deshang, Postdoctoral Affairs Office, Peking University boguanban@pku.edu.cn.

Administrative Coordinators: Please see our FAQ before contacting the coordinators.

Mr. Fan Deshang
 Postdoctoral Affairs Office
 Peking University
 boguanban@pku.edu.cn

Ms. Yan Bennett
 Paul and Marcia Wythes
 Center on Contemporary China
 Princeton University

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/1/2018
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 4034

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – International Relations/Comparative Politics

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College, a highly selective, national liberal arts college located in Memphis, invites applications for an appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor beginning in August 2018. Rhodes College is especially interested in attracting candidates from historically underrepresented groups and/or those with a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse and historically underrepresented populations. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to teaching in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate will have classroom experience and is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either International Relations or Comparative Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach research methods and an upper-level course on international conflict or security. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. The successful candidate must earn their Ph.D. by August 2018. The teaching responsibility is 3 courses per semester, and the position offers the possibility for renewal up to a second year after the successful completion of the first year.

Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities. <http://www.rhodes.edu/content/our-city>.

Please apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu; only online applications will be accepted. Completed applications will include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, course syllabi, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are encouraged to address in their letter of application their interest in teaching at a liberal arts college, their teaching philosophy, their proposed teaching contributions to the department, and their research interests. The application must also include a separate statement that addresses how the applicant will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department and in interdisciplinary programs, and how their experiences with teaching, scholarship and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values.

Review of completed applications will begin March 15, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The online application system will solicit letters of recommendation electronically from the candidate's recommenders once their contact information has been entered by the candidate and the search committee requests them. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews. For further information, please contact Dr. Amy Risley, chair of the search committee, at risleya@rhodes.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4033

Thiel College

Rank: Teaching Fellowship

The Department of Political Science at Thiel College invites applications for a teaching fellowship in Political Science. This is a one year position. There is a possibility of a tenure-track position search in the near future. This opportunity has been developed to provide the successful candidate with quality teaching experience and mentoring in preparation for an academic career. Candidates must have a Masters in Political Science with preference given to candidates currently completing doctoral work. Areas of specialization are open, but teaching responsibilities will include: Introduction to International Relations, Introduction to Comparative Politics, and possibly upper-division courses in the IR/comparative subfields. Courses may include American Foreign Policy; International Law and Organizations; International Security; Politics of Industrial Societies; Nationalism; Politics of Developing Societies. Candidates should have an interest in joining an undergraduate department where teaching in a small classroom environment is emphasized. A two-course teaching load each semester and engagement on campus at least three days a week are expected. A stipend, campus housing and meal plan will be provided together with active mentorship by the department chair and Vice President for Academic Affairs/Dean of the College.

Email letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcripts, at least three letters of recommendation, sample syllabi and summaries of teaching evaluations if available to: employment@thiel.edu (preferred method), or mail application materials to: Jennifer Clark, Director of Human Resources, Thiel College, 75 College Avenue, Greenville, PA 16125. Review of materials will begin on March 1, 2018.

Thiel College is committed to attracting a culturally and professionally diverse faculty and staff who engage our students by providing a rich and fulfilling curricular and co-curricular experience. EOE

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/28/2018

Date Posted: 2/9/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4028

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Baker Center Post-doctoral Fellow

Baker Center Global Security Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy

The Baker Center's mission is to educate the public, conduct research to further the public's knowledge, and highlight the critical importance of public service. The Baker Center focuses on education, public policy, and research in the areas of Energy and the Environment, Global Security, and Leadership and Governance, along with academic courses and student engagement programs. The Center is a place for civil, bipartisan discussion of issues affecting us all.

Global Security Program

The Center's Global Security Program focuses primarily on conflict management, covering conflict resolution, civil wars, territorial and maritime disputes, piracy, terrorism and other political violence, foreign policy and US national security policy. The program hosts a bi-weekly research workshop, a series of visiting lectures on different aspects of global security and foreign policy, and a biannual conference on some aspect of prevention, management, and resolution of international conflicts, civil wars, and terrorism and other political violence.

Position Summary

Fellows will spend a year working full time at the Baker Center, starting in August 2018, with a potential extension for an additional year. During their time at the Center, Fellows will conduct independent and joint research primarily with Dr. Krista Wiegand, and potentially other faculty and graduate students on topics related to conflict processes issues, with an expectation of producing several journal article length manuscripts. Fellows will also be involved in applying for grants to fund data collection projects and Baker Center programming. In addition to academic research, Fellows will be expected to produce a small number of policy briefs and/or content for a non-academic audience. Fellows are expected to contribute to the activities of the Baker Center, supervise undergraduate researchers involved in research projects, mentor IR graduate students, present and participate in the research workshop, and participate in the lectures and meetings of visiting speakers. Equally, Fellows may be involved in managing a major international relations journal, which the Baker Center has an active bid to edit. Participants will receive an annual stipend of $50,000 and individual health insurance.

Eligibility and How to Apply:

Applicants must be recent Ph.D. recipients in Political Science (within the last 3 years), and specialize in conflict management. To apply, submit a cover letter outlining the planned research and expectations about a topic in the area of conflict management, how your research project fits with the work being done at the Baker Center and Dr. Krista Wiegand, and if you have any experience working on an academic journal. Also submit a CV and a list of 3 references to Dr. Krista Wiegand, Director of the Global Security Program, at kwiegand@utk.edu by March 15, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/8/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4023

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Baker Center Post-doctoral Fellow

Baker Center Global Security Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy

The Baker Center's mission is to educate the public, conduct research to further the public's knowledge, and highlight the critical importance of public service. The Baker Center focuses on education, public policy, and research in the areas of Energy and the Environment, Global Security, and Leadership and Governance, along with academic courses and student engagement programs. The Center is a place for civil, bipartisan discussion of issues affecting us all.

Global Security Program

The Center's Global Security Program focuses primarily on conflict management, covering conflict resolution, civil wars, territorial and maritime disputes, piracy, terrorism and other political violence, foreign policy and US national security policy. The program hosts a bi-weekly research workshop, a series of visiting lectures on different aspects of global security and foreign policy, and a biannual conference on some aspect of prevention, management, and resolution of international conflicts, civil wars, and terrorism and other political violence.

Position Summary

Fellows will spend a year working full time at the Baker Center, starting in August 2018, with a potential extension for an additional year. During their time at the Center, Fellows will conduct independent and joint research primarily with Dr. Krista Wiegand, and potentially other faculty and graduate students on topics related to conflict processes issues, with an expectation of producing several journal article length manuscripts. Fellows will also be involved in applying for grants to fund data collection projects and Baker Center programming. In addition to academic research, Fellows will be expected to produce a small number of policy briefs and/or content for a non-academic audience. Fellows are expected to contribute to the activities of the Baker Center, supervise undergraduate researchers involved in research projects, mentor IR graduate students, present and participate in the research workshop, and participate in the lectures and meetings of visiting speakers. Equally, Fellows may be involved in managing a major international relations journal, which the Baker Center has an active bid to edit. Participants will receive an annual stipend of $50,000 and individual health insurance.

Eligibility and How to Apply:

Applicants must be recent Ph.D. recipients in Political Science (within the last 3 years), and specialize in conflict management. To apply, submit a cover letter outlining the planned research and expectations about a topic in the area of conflict management, how your research project fits with the work being done at the Baker Center and Dr.

Krista Wiegand, and if you have any experience working on an academic journal. Also submit a CV and a list of 3 references to Dr. Krista Wiegand, Director of the Global Security Program, at kwiegand@utk.edu by March 15, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/15/2018
Date Posted: 2/8/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 4024

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Simons Research Fellow in International Law and Human Security

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University invites applications for the Simons Research Fellow in International Law and Human Security for the 2018-2019 academic year (September 1-August 30).

The Simons Research Fellow will be expected to participate in School activities during the term of their appointment, will deliver at least one presentation of their work to the School, and will undertake limited teaching responsibilities with the possibility that they might teach one undergraduate course in their area of expertise. The Fellow may also be asked to contribute to the organization of a workshop in the Spring 2019 term.

Compensation for the Simons Research Fellow is $40,000 CAD plus benefits, with an additional $2,000 CAD in research support. Selection will be based on the qualifications of applicants in the areas of International Law and Human Security and the nature of the work they propose to undertake during the duration of the award.

Application deadline is March 30, 2018. Applications should consist of a cover letter (including detailed research proposal), graduate transcripts, a CV, and three letters of recommendation. Referees should e-mail their letters directly to intst@sfu.ca. Please e-mail inquiries to the attention of Professor Tamir Moustafa at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Simon Fraser University is committed to employment equity and welcomes applications from all qualified women and men, including visible minorities, aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ communities. The position is subject to availability of funding.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the collection notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/30/2018
Date Posted: 2/6/2018
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 4022

Centro de Investigacion y Docencia Economicas

Rank: Visiting Professor

Visiting Professor in International Political Economy –Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas (CIDE, Mexico City)

The Department of International Studies at CIDE (Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas) offers a position as Visiting Professor (post-doc or senior academic) in International Political Economy at its Santa Fe campus (Mexico City). The research topic of the candidates should be related to trade, investment, global value chains, emerging economies, or related areas, and should focus on Latin America and/or North America. The duration of the appointment is for one year, renewable to a second year. The starting date is flexible during 2018.

The Visiting Professor is expected to contribute to the development of divisional initiatives and research, teaching and outreach projects. Candidates must have a doctoral degree at the time of hire. Spanish skills are required.

CIDE is a public social sciences research institute oriented towards high quality research and teaching at graduate and undergraduate level. Professors Mark Aspinwall (mark.aspinwall@cide.edu) and Lorena Ruano (lorena.ruano@cide.edu) will be available to answer questions.

Interested applicants should submit the following documents electronically to: contrataciones.dei@cide.edu

- Curriculum Vitae
- Statement of purpose including future teaching and research agenda
- Writing simple not exceeding 50 pages
- Three reference letters, sent directly by the referee

The deadline for submission April 1, 2018. Complete applications received by that date are guaranteed full consideration.

For more information, please visit the Department's website: <http://cide.edu/dei/>.

Start Date: 2018
Application Deadline: 3/2/2018
Date Posted: 2/2/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4010

Leiden University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

Assistant Professor of International Relations
 Vacancy number 4643
 Function type Academic staff
 Hours (in fte) 3 positions, 1.0 FTE
 External/ internal Externa l Location Leiden
 Placed on 23 January 2018
 Closing date 01 March 2018

The Institute of Political Science of the Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences invites applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of International Relations (3 positions, 1.0 FTE).

Key responsibilities

Due to growth in our programme, we are looking for candidates who are qualified to teach introductory and advanced courses in international relations at the BSc and MSc levels, including international relations theory, international security, international political economy, international environmental politics, international law, and other topics. Candidates also qualified to teach the politics of policy-making and policy evaluation should indicate this in their application.

The institute's academic staff are all expected to supervise undergraduate and graduate theses, to acquire external research funding, to contribute to the Institute's research output, and to participate in the intellectual and administrative life of the Institute.

- Applicants must hold (or be near to completing) a PhD in Political Science with a strong training in international relations;
- Applicants should have a promising research agenda and publications in one or more areas of international relations, plus relevant teaching experience and good teaching evaluations;
- Fluency in English is required; fluency in Dutch at the time of appointment is desirable but not required. Candidates are expected to be able to communicate with staff and students in Dutch within three years of appointment;
- Leiden University requires teaching staff to hold its Basic Teaching Qualification. If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, she/he must obtain it within two years.

Our Faculty/Institute

The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences comprises four institutes: Education and Child Studies, Political Science, Psychology and Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology. The Faculty also includes the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. The Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff. Our teaching and research programmes cover diverse topics varying from adoption to political behaviour.

The Institute of Political Science has a strong research tradition in various areas of comparative, Dutch and international politics, as well as political theory. Its research programme focuses on the design, workings and implications of political institutions, broadly defined, though individual members of staff pursue research projects within and beyond this theme. The Institute consistently receives high peer-reviewed ratings of its teaching and research programs. It has over 40 academic staff, including many non-Dutch scholars, and houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university's multi-disciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy. The Institute is based in Leiden but also teaches at the university's campus in The Hague (12 minutes away by train). The Institute offers a range of taught programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programmes include general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The MSc programme (taught mostly in English) includes four specialisations taught in Leiden (International Politics; Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict; Parties, Parliaments and Democracy; Political Legitimacy and Justice) and two specialisations taught in The Hague (International Organisation; Dutch Politics).

Terms and conditions

The position starts in September 2018, or as soon as possible thereafter. The appointment will be made on a temporary contract of up to 6 years, depending upon prior experience. A permanent appointment may be possible during or after the term of the initial contract, depending upon performance and the budgetary situation of the Institute. Salary range from 3,475 to 4,757 gross per month (pay scale 11 in accordance with the collective employment agreement of Dutch universities).

Leiden University offers an attractive benefits package with additional holiday (8%) and end-of-year bonuses (8.3%), training and career development. Our individual choices model gives you some freedom to assemble your own set of terms and conditions. Candidates from outside the Netherlands may be eligible for a substantial tax break.

Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the University Teaching Qualification (UTQ). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, he/ she must be willing to obtain this Qualification within two years.

Diversity

Leiden University is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from members of under-represented groups.

Information

Inquiries can be directed to Dr. Niels van Willigen, chair of the selection committee.

See also "Further information".

More vacancies via <https://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/vacancies>

Applications

Please submit online your application via the blue button of our application system. Applicants should submit online a letter of interest, a cv (with list of publications), a research statement covering current and future research agenda, a sample paper or article, and a statement of teaching interests and experience including sample syllabi or teaching evaluations. All documents, including recommendation letters, should be in English.

Applicants should also ask three people to submit recommendation letters commenting on their professional qualifications and suitability for the position directly (i.e. not via the applicant) by email with "IR applicant" in the subject line, to vacature\_powe@fsw.leidenuniv.nl. The selection procedure will take place in March/April/May. Selected candidates will first be invited for an online pre-interview; some will be invited for in person interview and job talk. You are kindly requested to be available in this period.

Inquiries from agencies are not appreciated.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/1/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4006

Warren Wilson College

Rank: Political Science: American Government Faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science: American Government

The Department of History and Political Science, Warren Wilson College, seeks candidates for an entry-level position in political science with a primary field in American government and a secondary field in international relations, political economy, or political theory. The successful candidate will teach a range of courses across American politics, as well as courses related to their secondary field. This is a full-time, continuing position beginning July 1, 2018 and requires a Ph.D. in political science (in hand by August 1, 2018.)

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation through our online application. Letters of recommendation can be submitted with the application or sent via email with a subject line including "Letter of recommendation for (candidate's name)". Please see application for more details about submissions. Priority will be given to applications received by 5PM EST on Monday, February 19, 2018. All applications must be received by no later than 5PM EST Friday, March 2, 2018 to be considered. To apply, visit our website: <https://warren-wilson.breezy.hr/p/8d0b6601cef8-political-science-american-government-faculty>

Warren Wilson College does not offer tenure. Full time faculty are hired under extended contract eligibility. Contracts are awarded annually for a period of three years at which time a faculty is reviewed for a three-year contract. After completing these three years, the faculty is then reviewed for a seven-year contract and for successive seven-year contracts thereafter. This full-time, extended-contract-eligible faculty position begins July 1, 2018.

Warren Wilson College (www.warren-wilson.edu) is a vibrant, nationally recognized liberal arts college with an enrollment of approximately 600 undergraduates located on a 1,135-acre campus in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Asheville, North Carolina. The education program incorporates experiential learning, challenging work experiences, and deliberate community engagement, with a commitment to sustainable practices.

We desire a diverse faculty and a community that reflects a global outlook. Warren Wilson College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, or sexual orientation.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/1/2018

Date Posted: 2/1/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4008

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Khaled Chair in Political Science and International Policy

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for the endowed Khaled Chair in Political Science and International Policy starting August 2018. The Khaled Chair is for a three-year term (renewable, upon a satisfactory review) and comes with a stipend, research support, and a reduction in teaching load. The successful candidate will have the credentials to be appointed at the rank of associate or full professor with tenure in the department, and must be a specialist in international relations with a Ph.D. in political science, international affairs, international relations, or public policy.

The successful candidate will teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels, including at least one course in the master's degree program in public administration, and supervise students in the doctoral program.

Review of applications will begin March 9, 2018. To apply, complete an online application at <http://www.jobs.aum.edu/postings/3034> and upload the following materials: 1) a letter of application to include specification of training, current and future research agenda, teaching areas and teaching philosophy, and most significant professional service; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) one recent writing sample; 4) graduate transcript (official transcript will be needed at time of hire); and 5) contact information for three professional references. Three confidential letters of reference are required and must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu by the application deadline.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate degree in political science and a nationally ranked, NASPAA-accredited master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) is the metropolitan campus of Auburn University. Located in the state capital, AUM enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. Montgomery offers diverse cultural and recreational opportunities including the Alabama Shakespeare Festival, world-class museums and memorials, a ballet company, a natural habitat zoo, a chamber music society, an independent film theater, and the Montgomery Biscuits Double-A baseball team; it is home to Maxwell-Gunter Air Force Base and Air University, Hyundai Motor's first U.S. production facility, and the headquarters of leading non-profits including Equal Justice Initiative and the Southern Poverty Law Center.

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is open until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/9/2018

Date Posted: 1/28/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3997

Bucknell University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Start Date: Fall 2018

Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until filled

Subfield: International Relations

Rank: Visiting Assistant

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position in International Relations beginning in the fall semester of 2018. The teaching load is three courses per semester, and the successful candidate will be prepared to teach multiple sections of a core course in international relations, a course in international security, and a course in the candidate's field of specialization. We will not be hiring in the area of international political economy.

The Department of Political Science has a strong record of hiring diverse faculty whose courses expose students to a variety of racial, ethnic, and cultural perspectives, and we are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience, potential teaching excellence, and the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D.

or be ABD in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in International Relations.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <http://www.careers.bucknell.edu>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, syllabi, and teaching evaluations, along with any other relevant materials. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Scott Meinke at smeinke@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on February 26, 2018, and applications received by that date will be guaranteed full consideration.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a highly selective, predominately undergraduate, private university with approximately 3600 students. Apart from its excellent academic departments and programs, it boasts the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender, which supports faculty teaching and scholarship in these areas; the Griot Institute for Africana Studies, which provides faculty and student intellectual and creative engagement with the cultures, histories, narratives, peoples, geographies, and arts of Africa and the African diaspora; and the Bucknell Institute for Public Policy, which supports faculty research and teaching on issues of domestic, international, and comparative public policy. Bucknell also has a small but growing community of Asia scholars. In the spring of 2014, Bucknell introduced a 5-Year Diversity Plan aimed at enhancing the diversity of the faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum of the university.

Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. For those who crave the city, Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3996

Luther College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Luther College is an undergraduate liberal arts college with a population of two thousand students located in Decorah, IA. Our faculty and students are highly engaged in academics and research, music programs, athletics, sustainability, and service. Founded in 1861 by Norwegian immigrants, Luther values its heritage, just as it values the diversity of its students, staff, and faculty, who hail from many faith backgrounds and heritages. Coming from 39 states and 74 countries, 11% of our students are domestic students of color and 8% are international students.

Our location in the beautiful driftless region of northeast Iowa offers a wealth of opportunities not often found in small towns. The economic vitality of the Decorah area is attributable to being a regional hub for outdoor recreation, two nationally recognized healthcare systems, top ranked schools, business, agriculture, specialty retail, dining, and tourism. In a scenic rural setting, we are an easy 70 mile drive to three urban cities including Rochester, MN, home of Mayo Clinic and an IBM major campus.

Position and Qualifications: Luther College seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, with expertise in the field of Comparative Politics. This is a one-year, non-tenure track position to begin late August 2018. Ph.D. preferred; candidates who are advanced ABD will be considered. Teaching responsibilities will include Global Politics, Comparative Politics, and courses in the candidate's geographic (outside the US) or thematic area of expertise: for example Latin American politics, or the politics of development. The teaching load is 7 courses, spread over the Fall, January, and Spring terms.

Apply: Review of applications begins February 22, 2018 and continues until the position is filled. Apply at <https://luthercollege.hiretouch.com>. Applicant's dossier will include:

- letter of application (outline your qualifications, summarize your teaching and research interests, and briefly highlight strengths that align with strengths of Luther College)
- curriculum vitae
- unofficial graduate and undergraduate transcripts
- three letters of recommendation from those familiar with the candidate's teaching and scholarship (the college will send an email link to each letter writer identified in application process to upload their letter)

Inquiries about the position may be directed to Dr. Carly Hayden Foster, Political Science Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, Luther College; email: fosterc@luther.edu. Additional information about the college is available by visiting the college website, www.luther.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to facultysearch@luther.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/26/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3994

Shepherd University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies at Shepherd University invites applicants for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Political Science with specialization in global security/peace or global political economy. Regional specialization is open but preference for specialization in Latin America or Asia. Candidates with ability to teach either research methods or American political institution will receive preference.

Responsibilities include teaching 12 hours per semester (which could include 2 sections of either Introduction to American Government or an Introduction to Political Science course), scholarship, participation in Shepherd's Global Studies Program, student advisement and supervision of research projects, and participation in service activities. Candidates with a Ph.D in Political Science (or related field) in hand are preferred but candidates who are ABD with substantial evidence of nearing completion will be considered. Candidates should have demonstrated teaching ability and potential as a researcher. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. AA/EOE. Salary is commensurate with experience.

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies is a vibrant department which offers Bachelors Degrees in Political Science and in Global Studies. Within Political Science students have the opportunity to concentrate in legal studies. The Global Studies Program, an interdisciplinary program, offers concentrations in Global Governance and Peace, Global Economics and Development, Global Environments, and Global Culture and History. At the moment the Department has four full-time faculty members and between 80 and 100 majors.

Founded in 1871, Shepherd, a public liberal arts University, is located in Shepherdstown, a historic town on the Potomac River about 75 miles west of Washington, DC. Review of applications will begin immediately; applications received by March 5, 2018 will receive priority consideration. Submit a cover letter, CV, unofficial transcripts, list of references, and statement of teaching philosophy and research interests to <https://jobs.shepherd.edu>. Only electronic applications will be accepted. For more information, please contact Dr. Aart Holtslag, Search Committee Chair, at aholtsla@shepherd.edu.

Minimum Qualifications:

ABD in Political Science and primary area of competence in International Relations/Comparative Politics (area specialty other than Europe) with an ability to teach Political Philosophy, Public Policy, or Research Methods as a secondary competency.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3989

Kalamazoo College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science - International Relations

Kalamazoo College invites applications for a one-year sabbatical replacement for 2018-2019 in international relations beginning in September 2018. Preference will be given to candidates with Ph.D. at time of appointment. Salary is competitive and consistent with level of experience. Teaching responsibilities will consist of six courses over three terms, including Introduction to International Relations (twice), U.S. Foreign Policy, and at least two other I.R. courses. The ability to teach a course in Latin American Politics or East Asian Politics would be a plus, but is not a prerequisite. Candidates are expected to have high aptitude and interest in undergraduate teaching, a commitment to the liberal arts, and a desire to involve undergraduates in scholarship both inside and outside the classroom. Kalamazoo College is a highly selective, nationally known liberal arts college offering an integrated undergraduate experience that weaves a traditional liberal arts curriculum into educational experiences in both domestic and international settings. Review of applications will begin April 1, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. Upload cover letter, curriculum vitae (including a description of scholarly interests), graduate transcript (unofficial acceptable), a detailed statement of teaching philosophy and goals, and teaching evaluations if available below. Have three confidential letters of recommendation sent to PolSciSearch@kzoo.edu. Kalamazoo College especially encourages candidates who will contribute to the cultural diversity of the College to apply and to identify themselves if they wish. Equal Opportunity Employer.

<https://www.kzoo.edu/search/polsci/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 4/1/2018

Date Posted: 1/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3979

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professors in International Affairs/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (National University of Singapore), a premier public policy institution in Asia, invites applications for full-time tenure track positions at the Assistant and Associate Professor level in International Relations/Comparative Politics. Candidates are expected to demonstrate evidence of a high level of competence in theoretically sound, empirically grounded policy-relevant research in International Relations/Comparative Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who work on (A) International Political Economy; (B) Global Governance; and (C) The International Relations of ASEAN/Southeast Asia. For positions (A) and (B), applicants whose research and writing focus on Asia will have an advantage. The School is interested in candidates with a strong commitment to publishing at the highest level and would particularly welcome applications with a demonstrated record of research excellence. The School has just launched a new 2-year Master in International Affairs (MIA) and it is keen to hire faculty who will contribute energetically to the new programme.

Candidates should possess the following: a PhD degree in the relevant discipline; have a commitment to research and teaching excellence; and an ability to engage with policy and research communities in Asia and around the world.

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit, in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file), the following:

- Cover note
- Detailed curriculum vitae
- Names of three references
- Brief statement of past and current research
- Top 5 publications
- Three courses that you would be interested in teaching (please refer to <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/admissions/> for the list of courses)

Those who have a teaching record should submit the following as well:

- Teaching dossier including teaching evaluations (for those who have a teaching record)
- Representative samples of course outlines (for those who have a teaching record)

Please send the electronic submission to Ms Laura Lim, lkysppjoinus@nus.edu.sg.

Applicants may submit hard copies to the following address:

Ms Laura Lim

Senior Associate Director, Human Resources

Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy
National University of Singapore
469C Bukit Timah Road
Singapore 259772

The deadline for applications is open until filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified and it is possible that interviews will be held at the International Studies Association Annual Meeting in San Francisco in April. Interested candidates are encouraged to find out more about the National University of Singapore and the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3969

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Postdoctoral Fellowship – Christopher H. Browne Center for International Politics

The Christopher H. Browne Center for International Politics at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship during the 2018-2019 academic year. The Browne Center supports research on all aspects of international politics. Applications are welcomed from political scientists who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2018.

Fellows at the Browne Center will pursue their own research as well as teaching one course in Penn's Political Science Department. The position pays a stipend of $49,000.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AA employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. Applications will be reviewed starting February 15, 2018. To receive full consideration, applications should be received by that date. To apply, send a c.v., a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to either browne-center@sas.upenn.edu or:

Postdoctoral Program
Browne Center for International Politics
University of Pennsylvania
Political Science Department
223 Stiteler Hall
208 S. 37th Street
Philadelphia, PA 19104-6215

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/16/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3955

Barry University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Department of History and Political Science at Barry University in Miami Shores, Florida invites applications for a full-time, continuing track position of Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in August, 2018.

The Department offers bachelor's degrees in Political Science, International Studies, History and Pre-law and is housed in the College of Arts & Sciences.

This full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science teaches undergraduate courses; provides academic advising and mentoring to undergraduate students; contributes departmental, college, university, community, and professional service; and engages in sustained scholarship.

Applications should be submitted by March 1, 2018.

Essential Functions

- The applicant must be able to teach courses on American politics and institutions, or on international relations, international organizations, and international political economy.
- The ideal candidate would also be able to teach research methods and/or political theory to undergraduates. In addition, the applicant should be able to teach Introduction to American Government.
- The course load is 12 credits per semester. Experience with developing and teaching distance courses is desirable.
- Additional duties include academic advising, professional service within the university and the community, and ongoing scholarship.

Qualifications/Requirements

- The position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialization in American Government and/or International Relations and with a secondary area in research methods.
- Experience with developing and teaching distance courses is desirable.
- The applicant should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vita, an official transcript, and three letters of professional reference.

Benefits: Barry University offers a comprehensive benefits package to full-time employees that includes health, dental, vision, life insurance, retirement, tuition assistance, paid time off and work/life balance initiatives such as wellness programs, spirituality in the workplace, and training and development.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/1/2018

Date Posted: 1/12/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3953

Centenary College of Louisiana

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Centenary College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the Assistant Professor level in the Department of History and Political Science, starting 1 August 2018. Candidates should be broadly trained in Comparative Politics and International Relations, and prepared to teach a range of introductory, upper division, and core departmental classes such as Research Methods and the capstone Senior Seminar. The Ph.D. in hand by time of start date, strong teaching skills, and a commitment to scholarship are required. The standard teaching load is six courses per year, with some opportunity to teach in immersive May and August terms, and to participate in college-wide programs such as the first year experience (TREK) and Centenary in Paris.

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective, residential, national liberal arts college affiliated with the United Methodist Church. Founded in 1825, it is the oldest chartered liberal arts college west of the Mississippi river and is a member of the Associated Colleges of the South.

To apply, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts from all institutions of higher learning, sample course syllabi, and three letters of recommendation to hr@centenary.edu or to:

Political Science Search Committee
c/o Director of Human Resources
Centenary College of Louisiana
2911 Centenary Boulevard
Shreveport, LA 71104

Review of applications will begin on February 5 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3947

Lund University

Rank: One Postdoctoral Position in Political Science with a Specialization in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations

Online listing: <https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what/job/jobID:182617/type/job/where:4/apply:1>

The holder of this post will be expected to conduct research (about 90 percent) and to teach (about 10 percent).

This position is associated with the research program State-Making and the Origins of Global Order in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond (STANCE), led by Professor Jan Teorell at the Department of Political Science in Lund, and funded by Riksbankens Jubileumsfond (www.stanceatlund.org). The project started in 2015 and will end in 2020. Overall, the project aims to bridge the gaps between comparative politics and international relations, and between the study of political thought and positive empirical political science. Three overall research themes form the core of this research program: (1) How did the different dimensions of state-making, including internal and external sovereignty, revenue extraction, professionalization of the bureaucracy and the development of infrastructural capacity, evolve and interact during this time period? What actors and organized interests supported or put up resistance to these processes? (2) How were these dimensions of state-making affected by geopolitical competition, warfare and the diffusion of novel political technologies? (3) What were the consequences for the international system, both with respect to the type of state that emerged and what entities were granted membership in the states system?

Each post-doctoral fellow will be expected to carry out research that contributes to the fulfilment of at least one of these overall research objectives. However, each member of the project conducts independent research and enjoys the freedom to choose his or her own research questions, to develop his or her own theoretical ideas, and to choose the methods he or she finds most appropriate. Since the program methodologically aims for a mixed-methods approach ranging from quantitative methods to single case studies, textual interpretation and archival studies, we expect candidates with broad methodological training and an open mind to take on novel approaches.

In order to allow the research group to function as a team, all participants will be expected to have the Department of Political Science in Lund as their main place of work.

Qualifications:

Eligibility for employment as a postdoctoral researcher is restricted to applicants with a PhD degree in a relevant subject. Priority is given to applicants who have completed their PhD less than three years prior to the deadline for applying to the post. The three-year limit can be extended in cases of parental leave, sickness leave or similar circumstances occurring after the PhD defense. Applicants who have yet to complete their PhDs are welcome to apply but should demonstrate that they will receive their PhD degree before 1 September 2018.

Research skills and academic promise will be the main selection criteria, but teaching skills will also be considered. Proficiency in spoken and written English and the ability to teach in English is a requirement. The ability to conduct research independently and the ability to participate in international research collaboration are very important considerations.

The most important qualification for the positions is the capacity to contribute to the research program's overall goals, as expressed in the project proposal (see below).

Appointment Procedure:

The Lund University job application portal should be used when applying. Complementary documents should be sent to: Registry office, Lund University, P.O. Box 117, SE-221 00 LUND, SWEDEN (Address for delivery of packages: Byrålogen 5C). The official record number should be clearly stated when sending complementary documents.

Your application must contain (a) a cover letter, (b) a CV, (c) one or two article-length writing samples (approximately 10,000 words), at least one of which should be single-authored, (d) a research proposal for your contribution to the STANCE research program (approx. 3-5 pages), and (e) two letters of recommendation.

Salary is determined on an individual basis, within certain guidelines for this type of position. If you wish, please state the requested salary in your application.

The employment is limited for two years.

Lund University welcomes applicants with diverse backgrounds and experiences. We regard gender equality and diversity as a strength and an asset.

We kindly decline all sales and marketing contacts.

Type of employment: Temporary position longer than 6 months

Contract type: Full time

First day of employment: According to agreement but preferably on 2018-09-01

Salary: Monthly salary

Number of positions: 1

Working hours: 100 %

City: Lund

County: Skåne län

Country: Sweden

Reference number PA2017/3989

Contact

Jan Teorell, Principal investigator, +46-46-222 80 93, jan.teorell@svet.lu.se
 Björn Badersten, Head of the department, +46-46-222 01 59, bjorn.-badersten@svet.lu.se

Online listing: <https://lu.mynetworkglobal.com/en/what:job/jobID:182617/type:job/where:4/apply:1>

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 2/28/2018
Date Posted: 1/10/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 3935

Gallaudet University

Rank: Lecturer In International Relations or Comparative Government

Gallaudet University
 Department of Government and Public Affairs
 Non- Tenure Track Position
 Lecturer, Government, specializing in International Relations or Comparative Politics (Europe, Russia, Asia, Middle East).
 Gallaudet University serves Deaf, Hard-of-Hearing, and hearing students from many different backgrounds and seeks to develop a workforce that reflects the diversity of its student body. Gallaudet is an equal employment opportunity/affirmative action employer and actively encourages deaf, hard-of-hearing, members of traditionally under-represented groups, people with disabilities, women, and veterans to apply for open positions.

General Information: The Department of Government and Public Affairs seeks candidates for a full-time 9-month non-tenure track position. Rank is dependent on qualifications. Appointment date: August 16, 2018. Position is contingent upon funding.

Qualifications: A M.A. in International Relations or Comparative Politics with specialization in any of the following fields: Western Europe, Eastern Europe and Russia, or Asia and the Middle East. College undergraduate teaching experience required; candidates should show a strong commitment to students and the department through quality teaching and service. The candidate should be fluent in American Sign Language or be willing to become fluent in American Sign Language.

Responsibilities: The candidate is expected to teach within the interdisciplinary general education curriculum and within the major. The candidate is expected to teach upper division courses within their specialization and international relations, a comparative government course, European Union course, American foreign policy, and a graduate course in international relations and development. The successful candidate will be expected to engage in in service activities for the Department, University and Community including advising and mentoring majors, participation in Department meetings and events, recruitment of students and open houses, assessment of students and other appropriate activities.

Application: Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until filled. Send a letter of application clearly outlining your qualifications and fit with the job description and requirements, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and research interests, and your personal and/or academic connection to diverse communities. In addition to this letter, please send your curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to:

Dr. Frances Marquez, Faculty Search Chair
 Department of Government & public Affairs
 Gallaudet University
 800 Florida Avenue, NE
 Washington, D.C. 20002

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/9/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3929

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Specializations: International Security, International Political Economy, Foreign Policy

<http://www.cmu.edu/ips/>

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for teaching postdoctoral fellowship positions in Comparative Politics, IPE, International Relations, and International Security.

The postdoctoral fellow will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2018, to July 31, 2020. The salary for this position is $45,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2015, and August 31, 2018. The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on February 8, 2018.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Please e-mail your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 2/8/2018
Date Posted: 1/8/2018
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 3924

Georgetown University

Rank: Professor in the Practice of International Affairs and Concentration Co-Chair for Global Politics and Security

Georgetown University Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service, Master of Science in Foreign Service Program, Professor in the Practice of International Affairs and Concentration Co-Chair for Global Politics and Security

The Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service of Georgetown University invites applications for a three-year, non-tenure-track position as a Professor in the Practice of International Affairs and Concentration Co-Chair for Global Politics and Security beginning in August, 2018. This position will have teaching and administrative responsibilities in the Master of Science in Foreign Service (MSFS) Program.

The Concentration Co-Chair will have an academic background in the field of international relations, broadly defined, and will teach three courses per year in his/her area of specialization. Ideally, the Co-Chair will teach one or more sections of the required course for all students in the Concentration. The Co-Chair will be responsible for assisting with the selection and preparation of faculty for the concentration. The Co-Chair serves as an academic and career advisor to students in the concentration.

The successful candidate will have a record of professional experience in international affairs, working in or with national governments, international organizations, and/or relevant non-profit institutions. Applicants should submit a cover letter outlining professional background and teaching experience, curriculum vitae and at least three letters of recommendation.

Applications for this position should be submitted online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10672>. Questions about the online application system should be directed to Sarah Nebbeling at ska60@georgetown.edu. Faxed, mailed, or emailed applications will not be accepted.

Review of applications will begin February 15 and will continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 1/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3910

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Center for the Study of Contemporary China (<http://cscs.sas.upenn.edu/>) at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications to fill two postdoctoral fellowship positions for the 2018-2019 academic year. Applications are welcomed from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 30, 2018.

The CSCC postdoctoral fellowships support research on all aspects of contemporary China that fall within the broad mission of the CSCC -- to advance Penn's leadership in programs, research, and scholarship about the political, legal, economic, and social factors shaping China and its role in the world today. The Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at Penn engaged in work pertaining to contemporary China. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and a speaker series.

Fellows at the CSCC will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because fellows are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of the University of Pennsylvania. Each fellow receives a stipend of $48,000, a $2500 research fund, and health insurance.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AA employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. CSCC starts to accept application on December 1, 2017. Applications will be reviewed starting March 1, 2018. To receive full consideration, your application should be received by that date. Applicants will be notified of the outcome in early April, 2018. To apply, please send a C.V., a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to cscs-contact@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3896

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate - Fixed Term

The Department of Political Science is seeking to hire a full time Research Associate in the broad areas of International and Comparative Political Economy. The successful candidate will be expected to work with Professor Cristina Bodea to enhance the department's research agenda in Political Economy, through the publication of co-authored work with the Political Economy faculty and graduate students.

The requirements include: 1) A PhD in Political Science; 2) advanced training in Statistics and Econometrics. The teaching obligations for this position include one undergraduate course and several lab sessions for graduate students in the candidate's area of expertise. The initial appointment will be for one year, with an option for reappointment for another year.

Review of applications will begin February 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is August 15, 2018.

Interested applicants should apply via Michigan State University's Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu/>. Please submit cover letter, CV, copy of graduate transcripts, one research paper, statement of proposed research ideas (2-3 pages) and two letters of reference. For further questions please contact Professor Cristina Bodea at bodeaana@msu.edu. MSU is an Affirmative-Action equal-opportunity employer and is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3852

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Politics and Fellow, Center for the Study of Statesmanship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Defense, Religion & Politics

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall of 2018. This appointment is to be combined with a research appointment at the Center for the Study of Statesmanship (CSS). As a CSS Fellow the appointee will have a reduced teaching load. Although the appointment is likely to be made at a junior rank, more senior applicants will be considered.

The search is not confined to a particular field, but we are especially interested in scholars in foreign policy, international relations, or national security, or some combination thereof, who are able to place world politics in a philosophical, historical or cultural context. A background in political theory, the history of ideas or American constitutionalism is desirable. Candidates who are alert to the moral and religious dimensions of their areas of expertise are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major with many distinguished alumni and a strong MA and PhD program with graduates on numerous college and university faculties in America and abroad.

Established in the spring of 2017, CSS explores the meaning of statesmanship and how it can defuse conflict and foster respectful foreign and domestic relations. Administratively, CSS is independent of the Department of Politics and under the University Provost. To learn more about the Center and its research orientation candidates may go to the CSS website: <https://css.cua.edu>

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, departmental chair, at coyle@cua.edu and/or Dr. William S. Smith, managing director of CSS, at smithws@cua.edu. Review of applications will begin January 10 and continue until the position is filled.

Catholic University seeks candidates who are supportive of the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a CV, and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one-to-two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will contribute to the University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found at: <http://w2.vatican>.

va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html.

Official transcripts or verification of degrees will be required before any offer is made. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3843

University of Southern California

Rank: Teaching Postdoctoral Fellowship (Asia and China)

The School of International Relations in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC; Los Angeles, California) invites applications for a postdoctoral position with two-course teaching for AY2018-19. The fall semester starts in the third week of August 2018. We seek applicants with expertise in the international relations of Asia and China. The successful candidate will join the Center for International Studies (CIS) at USC as a postdoctoral fellow, and is expected to teach one 15-week course per semester for two semesters. We also look for candidates with strong research profile with emphasis on academic publications, and interest in engaging in the vibrant research community of the School of International Relations and the CIS. A Ph.D. is required by time of appointment.

Applications should be complete by February 15, 2018 to receive fullest consideration. Applicants are required to complete the on-line application process (with few exceptions—such as published books—materials submitted by regular post will not be accepted). Follow this link or paste it in a browser: https://usc.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/ExternalUSCCareers/job/Los-Angeles-CA---University-Park-Campus/Postdoctoral-Scholar---Teaching-Fellow\_REQ20053068

Required materials include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the three reference letters, and official graduate transcripts. Inquiries may be sent to sirsearch@dornsife.usc.edu.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3846

Cornell University*Rank: Visiting Associate Professor

Cornell University's Department of Government seeks to fill a three-year visiting position, beginning July 1, 2018, in International Relations and Comparative Politics, with a focus on the politics and foreign policies of the Middle East. The ideal candidate will be able to teach courses on Israeli politics in comparative perspective (Middle East and cross-regional), the politics of nationalism and separatist movements, and international politics more broadly. The Department welcomes applicants who cross subfield boundaries (e.g., with connections to political theory) and would interact with other departments and programs, such as Near East Studies and the Judith Reppy Institute for Peace and Conflict Studies. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and a list of three references. Electronic application materials should be sent to: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10478>. We will begin to review applications starting December 1, 2017, and will continue until the search is completed.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/15/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3789Dickinson College*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Studies

The departments of International Studies and Political Science at Dickinson College are seeking qualified candidates for a two-year replacement position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor, beginning in academic year 2018-19 and continuing through the end of academic year 2019-20.

The teaching load for this position is five courses per year, to include introductory International Relations, upper-level American Foreign Policy, American National Security, and other courses related to international relations and security studies. Candidates should identify in the application letter the courses they are prepared to teach. Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an interdisciplinary liberal arts environment, and the successful candidate is expected to participate fully in the intellectual life of the departments, including serving as oral examiner for the International Studies exams at the end of the academic year. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate. A completed or nearly-completed Ph.D. is required.

Dickinson College is a highly selective, private, four-year liberal arts college with 2,400 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC, and Philadelphia.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically, via QUEST (online application system) at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>. Please submit the following materials: a letter of application; curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; three letters of recommendation; teaching statement; sample syllabi (preferably for one or more of the above listed courses); and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Review of applications will begin January 15. The College is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/13/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3774Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for the 2018-19 academic year for a 12-month appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2018. The position is open to a scholar who would be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The ideal applicant will have received a Ph.D. within the past three years and studies aspects of contemporary Chinese society from a social science disciplinary perspective. He/she will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. Applicants must apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/4781> (D-18-PII-00004)

Applications should include:

1. A cover letter
2. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. Contact information for two references
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 2/2/2018Date Posted: 11/10/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3765American University in Cairo*Rank: International Relations/ Middle East Politics

International Relations/ Middle East Politics

Job Description

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in International Relations emphasis on the Middle East at the Assistant Level Professor beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on International Politics in the Middle East, International organization, Contemporary Foreign Policy. Candidates who can teach Issues in Middle East Politics, Contemporary Egypt and Egyptian Foreign Policy are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3745

American University in Cairo

Rank: International Relations/IR Theory

International Relations/IR Theory

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in international relations at the Assistant Professor level beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on theories of international relations, contemporary foreign policies, international organization. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3746

Saint Lawrence University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professors in International Relations (3 openings)

Specializations: Middle East, International Security, Foreign Policy

Due to administrative appointments, retirements, and sabbatical leaves, the Government Department at St. Lawrence University invites applications for three Visiting Assistant Professor (VAP) positions in International Relations. These positions begin August 2018. Successful candidates will teach three courses per semester, including introductory courses in international relations and upper-level courses within their fields of expertise. Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2018.

- 1) The first position seeks expertise in the Middle East and is renewable for up to one additional year.
- 2) The second position seeks expertise in security studies or American foreign policy and is renewable for up to one additional year.
- 3) The third position is open regarding expertise, except that it will not duplicate the other searches in the Middle East, security studies, and American foreign policy.

Additionally, the department expects to conduct one international relations tenure-track search in the fall of 2018.

We welcome applications from candidates who bring diverse cultural, ethnic and national perspectives to their scholarship and teaching.

Minimum Qualifications: Candidates with Ph.D. in hand preferred, though ABD candidates may be considered.

To apply, please visit: <https://employment.stlawu.edu/postings/1288>

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter indicating teaching and research interests, curriculum vita, graduate school transcript, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate document with a statement indicating how they can contribute in tangible ways to St. Lawrence University's commitment to cultivating a diverse and inclusive community and classrooms. These documents can be uploaded in the "Applicant Documents" section of your application.

Additionally, three confidential references are required [the required information input in the reference contact information section of your application will be utilized to send a system-derived email requesting a recommendation letter from each reference].

Questions about the position may be sent to Dr. Ronnie Olesker (rolesker@stlawu.edu), Search Chair, International Relations Searches.

All offers of employment are contingent upon the finalist successfully passing a background (including criminal records) check.

Located at 23 Romoda Drive in Canton, NY, St. Lawrence University is a coeducational, private, independent liberal arts institution of about 2,400 students from more than 40 states and 40 nations. The educational opportunities at St. Lawrence inspire students and prepare them to be critical and creative thinkers, to find a compass for their lives and careers, and to pursue knowledge and understanding for the benefit of themselves, humanity and the planet. Through its focus on active engagement with ideas in and beyond the classroom, a St. Lawrence education leads students to make connections that transform lives and communities, from the local to the global.

For additional information about St. Lawrence, please visit <http://www.stlawu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3743

University of Iowa

Rank: Lecturer - East Asian Security and/or Political Economy

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Foreign Policy, International Security

Lecturer in East Asian Security and/or Political Economy

The University of Iowa's Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Instructional Faculty (Lecturer) position in international security and/or political economy in East Asia, beginning August 15, 2018 renewable for an additional two years (2019-2021 and renewable thereafter in three year increments pending positive reviews). Duties of this position include teaching 18-24 semester hours per academic year, professional development and departmental service.

A Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 1, 2018, and must be free to assume the duties of this position on that date. Candidates must demonstrate the potential for outstanding teaching

Review of applications will begin on January 20, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, three recommendation letters, a statement on teaching, a statement on research, publications, and manuscripts in progress.

JOB Requisition number: 71355

<https://jobs.uiowa.edu/faculty/view/71355>

University of Iowa | Department of Political Science

<https://clas.uiowa.edu/polisci>

<https://clas.uiowa.edu/polisci/about-us/open-faculty-staff-positions>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3722

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics that focuses on Latin America beginning on August 1, 2018. This is a twelve-month tenure-track position at our Ft. Benning/Columbus, Georgia/ Phoenix City, Alabama location.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018 with a research specialization in Latin America. The preferred qualifications are a focus in Latin American Security and/or intelligence and the teaching will primarily be in our master's degree (MSIR) in international relations. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Candidates should have experience working with the military and be prepared to act as the local university representative to Fort Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Faculty duties include advising students, submitting academic discipline-related articles for publication, attending departmental meetings, and serving on departmental committees.

Administrative duties include acting as the local university representative to Ft. Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community, acting as the main liaison with the Political Science Department at Troy, serving as a common point of contact, helping with scheduling, and reviewing projected schedules.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and provide three reference providers. Please combine the writing sample and research statement into one document and upload it under the "Other Document" section. Please direct all questions to Dr G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3589

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations (MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

The Citadel

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: China, Southeast Asia, Latin American

The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina, is currently seeking to fill a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in International Relations or Comparative Politics in the Department of Political Science.

The Citadel is a state-supported coeducational military college in historic downtown Charleston, South Carolina. We are committed to excellence in teaching with the expectation that faculty engage in consistent research and publication. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science with three subfields: American Government, International Politics and Military Affairs, and pre-Law and Legal Studies. The Department is home to approximately 250 undergraduate majors. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a Master of Arts program in International Politics & Military Affairs and graduate courses related to a Master of Arts program in Social Science.

A Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD eligible candidates who will finish their dissertation by August 2018 will be considered. Expertise in China and Asian area studies is required with a preference for those with professional experience in a US government agency. Ability to teach courses in Latin American Affairs and International/Domestic Terrorism is an added asset. Undergraduate teaching responsibilities include: Introduction to International Politics, Comparative Politics, Southeast Asian Affairs, East Asian Affairs, and South Asian Affairs.

Successful candidates will also be expected to teach both evening and online courses related to the two Master of Arts Programs.

To learn more about The Citadel and its programs please visit our website at www.citadel.edu. To find more information on the Department of Political Science, you can visit us at <http://www.citadel.edu/root/politicalscience>.

Please include the following in your application materials:

- (1) A letter of application addressing the qualifications listed above
- (2) Official transcripts
- (3) A curriculum vita
- (4) Three letters of recommendation sent independently to the address below
- (5) A writing sample
- (6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Application materials should be sent to: Jack J. Porter, Dept. of Political Science, The Citadel, 171 Moultrie St., Charleston, SC, 29409.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3537

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Politics

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure track position in International Politics at the Assistant Professor level, beginning August 2018. The position is located at Fordham's Rose Hill (Bronx) campus.

We are particularly interested in candidates who possess research and teaching expertise in the areas of international security, U.S. foreign policy, and international diplomacy. Alternatively, the candidate may specialize in international organizations, law, and cooperation. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to undergraduate and graduate curricular needs in political science and the Master's Program in International Political Economy and Development. Additional expertise in a particular region of the world, including East or South Asia, Africa, or Europe would be welcome. We seek candidates whose work is theoretically sophisticated and methodologically rigorous.

We invite candidates with an ability to make a positive contribution to the department's climate fostering inclusiveness and diversity. We believe that cultural and intellectual pluralism is essential to the excellence of our academic programs, and we strive to foster an academic culture and campus community that attracts and supports the development of a diverse faculty reflecting the global environment in which we live and work. As our student body grows increasingly diverse, experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students from a range of economic, social, and cultural backgrounds is preferred and welcomed.

Review of applications will begin on October 25. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor José Alemán, Committee Chair, via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/45328>: cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, course syllabi, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of reference. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition that welcomes applications from all backgrounds. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3483

Troy University

Rank: Adjunct Professor

Adjunct faculty members are employed to provide specific courses on an as-needed basis. Contracts for adjunct faculty members are issued on a semester/term basis. Adjunct Instructors hold the responsibility for the courses taught. Adjunct Instructors are expected to be available for a reasonable amount of time for each course taught to counsel students regarding course work.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3449

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specializations: Asia, International Relations

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach comparative politics with a regional specialization in Asia/Pacific Rim. Expertise in international relations also highly desirable. Possible areas of specialty can include, but need not be limited to, terrorism, revolutions, international politics, international economic relations, international conflict. Ability to teach a basic methods course also desirable, though not required. Responsibilities include teaching introductory courses, including Introduction to World Politics, and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of international experiential activities (e.g. study abroad, internships, civic engagement, Model UN). College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Expertise in international relations and ability to teach basic methods course highly desirable.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts; a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3412

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in international relations. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3362

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - multiple positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics, international relations, political theory and quantitative methods. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3360

SUNY, College at Oneonta

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations and Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the State University of New York College at Oneonta invites applications for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in International Relations / Comparative Government beginning Fall 2018. The initial appointment will be for two years. Expectations include teaching, research, student advisement, college service, and continuing professional development. SUNY Oneonta is a comprehensive, public, liberal arts and sciences college. The College sits at #9 on the 2016 list of "Top Public Regional Universities" in the North published by U.S. News & World Report, and is ranked #175 in the Northeast on the Forbes magazine list of "America's Top Colleges." The Political Science Department is an expanding part of the College's School of Social Sciences, whose faculty are highly collegial and engaged as teachers, scholars, and mentors. They actively pursue the development of a dynamic learning environment for students in which research and applied learning opportunities are available. To learn more about the College or the Department, please visit www.oneonta.edu or www.oneonta.edu/academics/polsci/. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with diverse populations and/or teaching pedagogies and/or multicultural teaching experience.

For a complete description of this position go to: <https://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=87620>

To apply online go to: <http://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=87620>

For other employment and regional opportunities, please visit our website at: www.oneonta.edu/employment.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3351

Ohio State University

Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3337

Le Moyne College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Le Moyne College invites applications from qualified candidates for a faculty opening for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor of International Relations or Comparative Politics, beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will offer traditional introductory IR or CP courses at the undergraduate level; upper-division courses are open in terms of expertise and interest in world politics, although interest in human rights issues, or in an area such as Africa or the Middle East would be welcome. Candidates should identify in the application letter the specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Qualified candidates must demonstrate teaching effectiveness, manifest a strong understanding of and commitment to a liberal arts education, and be dedicated to maintaining an active research agenda. Qualified candidates must be ABD; preference given to a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment.

To apply for this position, please go to <http://www.lemoyne.edu/employment> and submit the required materials for consideration: a letter of application stating research and teaching interests; a curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; relevant teaching evaluations; and three confidential letters of recommendation - all sent electronically to lemoynehr@lemoyne.edu with the subject line of "Visiting International Relations." Application materials and supporting documentation may also be submitted by mail to: Amy Zubieta, Le Moyne College, 1419 Salt Springs Road, Grewen Hall, 2nd Floor (Human Resources), Attn: International Relations Search, Syracuse, New York 13214.

Review of completed applications will begin January 31, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3320

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration seeks applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2018. Candidates should have a primary research and teaching interest in International Relations with a principal focus on security studies. A Ph.D. degree is required. Candidates with ABD status will be considered but they must possess a Ph.D. degree by the time of appointment. Applicants should demonstrate a strong research capability, a commitment to effective teaching, and a willingness to work with colleagues in professional service responsibilities. The teaching load is four classes per year, a 2-2 load.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of approximately 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 16 faculty members, 200 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 Ph.D. students. The department has strong ties to several research centers within the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information is available on the department at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Brian Shoup, at bds223@msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://explore.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF#496143) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, a vita, and the names and contact information of three references. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to the following: Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin on or around September 25th, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3260

New College of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - International Political Economy/Latin America

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in International Political Economy and Comparative Political Economy with a substantive focus on Latin America. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, teaching experience and career interest in liberal arts teaching, and a vibrant research agenda. In addition to anchoring the general IPE field and teaching courses in Latin American IPE/CPE, the candidate will offer an upper-level undergraduate course in the comparative politics of Latin America and join in the rotation(s) of at least one of the following disciplinary service courses: Intro to World Politics, Research Design (multiple approaches and methods), or Quantitative Analysis. Given the IPE/CPE emphasis of this position, we expect that the candidate hired would have advanced quantitative skills and be able to guide both qualitative and quantitative undergraduate research. While this position is open with regard to research interests, we would look especially favorably on someone who can teach about and supervise research on the large states and economies of South America. The candidate must have completed the Ph.D. by the start of employment in August 2018.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis or project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. We are committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourage collaborative student-faculty scholarship. The teaching load is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. Faculty members also provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior theses, and serve on baccalaureate committees. Professors are expected to maintain a program of research or creative work. We are particularly interested in candidates with a commitment to innovative undergraduate liberal arts teaching.

Candidates should apply on-line at <https://www.ncf.edu/employment> and upload the following: a cover letter; c.v.; statements of no more than a page each regarding teaching philosophy, the candidate's contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment, and research interests; syllabi; teaching evaluations; one writing sample (article or chapter length); and unofficial graduate transcript(s). In addition, please ask at least three references to send signed letters on letterhead electronically to ssc@ncf.edu or in hard copy to: IPE Search, Division of Social Sciences, New College of Florida, 5800 Bay Shore Rd, Sarasota, FL 34243. According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. For questions about the application process, please contact Ms. Kristi Fecteau at kfecteau@ncf.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. We will be at the APSA convention for preliminary interviews and more information. If you are interested in meeting at APSA, please send an e-mail to Prof. Barbara Hicks at bhicks@ncf.edu with APSA-IPE in the subject line.

New College of Florida is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty. Women and candidates from underrepresented groups or whose knowledge or skills can support an inclusive learning environment are especially encouraged to apply. Consistent with law and its respect for personal dignity, the college does not discriminate against applicants for employment based on race, color, sex, age, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. In accordance with state law, all employees are subject to a background check at the time of hiring. EOE/AA/ADA/WMA.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/1/2017
Date Posted: 8/9/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3156

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level with research and teaching in the field of International Relations with specialization in International Organizations to begin the fall semester of 2018.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate political science courses in the area of international politics that serve as requirements for both the Political Science and the new International Studies & Diplomacy undergraduate degrees as well as teach other courses in the International Relations graduate program. Candidates will also be expected to publish original research in the field of international politics, advise undergraduate students, and provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2018, in Political Science, International Relations, or related field
- 2) Primary or secondary field in the area of International Organizations

- 3) Evidence of college-level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience
- 4) Demonstrated ability to teach introductory political science courses in the area of international politics
- 5) Demonstrated evidence of research in the field of international politics with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience
- 6) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: diplomacy, human rights, international law, environmental justice, food security, international migration, political asylum, or refugee flows
- 2) Internationally relevant experience working with international organizations, conducting international fieldwork, or strong foreign language skills

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

The application deadline is October 1, 2017.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/2628>

Please attach (PDF) the following documents to your online application:

- 1) Cover letter that describes your interest in this position
- 2) Curriculum vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document)
- 3) Brief research and teaching statement
- 4) If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/1/2017
Date Posted: 8/8/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3144

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Defense, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of several interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire one tenure-track assistant or associate professor for the UCF cyber security and privacy cluster. This position has a start date of August 8, 2018.

This will be an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department, as well as a possible combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved.) Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. All relevant technical areas will be considered. We are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) hardware and IoT security, (b) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (c) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster at the time of appointment, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The position will carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 64,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about UCF at <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty>.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/50404> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter, candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmittal to update applications.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eeo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about this position, please contact the Cluster's Search Committee Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3019

Harvard University

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor in International Relations and Transnational Politics

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in International Relations and Transnational Politics. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2018. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Demonstrated excellence in teaching is desired.

Please submit the following materials through the ARIES portal (<http://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 15, 2017.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement
5. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received.
6. Writing samples and publications, if applicable.

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Contact Information: Natasha Khristalova, Department of Government, Harvard University, 1737 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, MA 02138.

nkhrystalova@fas.harvard.edu

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2994

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, Latin American, Mexico

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2017-18 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2018.

Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2017 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01465>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3001

METHODOLOGY

Copenhagen Business School

Rank: Associate Professorship in Business and Politics

Copenhagen Business School invites applications for a vacant Associate Professorship in Business and Politics, with a focus on quantitative methods at the Department of Business and Politics (DBP). DBP is a leading international department that is at the forefront of research at the interface between business and politics in Denmark, the European Union and beyond. DBP scholars set research agendas in issues related to global challenges that affect business and politics, such as technological disruption, inequality and sustainability. Research topics include business studies, global value chains and global wealth chains, innovation, economic development, comparative political economy, European Union, public policy, philanthropy and civil society. DBP's research work often serves as a point of reference for think-tanks, policymakers, business organizations and the media. The applicants' profile must fit with one of the core research themes of the department: political economy, comparative and European public policy, business and civil society. Read more about the research themes here: <https://www.cbs.dk/en/research/departments-and-centres/department-of-business-and-politics/research/research-themes>.

Teaching responsibilities of the Department comprise undergraduate, graduate and doctoral teaching. DBP teaches, for example, in the International Business and Politics (BSc and MSc), European Business (BSC), and Business Administration and Sociology (BSC) programmes.

Successful applicants must have an international profile, a strong record of research publications, and relevant teaching experience. They must be capable of providing dynamic leadership in the development of research and teaching, in securing external research funding, and in establishing strong ties with industry.

The Associate Professorship is a permanent position with research and teaching obligations.

To fulfill the research requirements of the position, the applicant chosen is expected to be physically present on a regular basis and actively participate in the teaching and research activities of the Department.

Responsibilities

- Teaching and associated examination in existing CBS programs, including Executive Education.
- Individual and group based research meeting high international standards.
- Promoting CBS's academic reputation.
- Initiating, fund raising and coordinating research projects.
- Promoting the teaching and research capabilities of Copenhagen Business School and other relevant assignments at Copenhagen Business School.
- Contributing to the administrative responsibilities of the Department and to CBS-wide tasks.
- Communicating findings to the public in general and to CBS's stakeholders in particular, including participating in the public debate.
- Research meeting high international standards, including responsibility for the academic development of the relevant discipline.
- Responsibility for publishing, scientific communication and research-based teaching.
- Active participation in the regular research activities, such as research seminars, workshops and conferences.

The associate professor is expected to contribute to the development and application of the department's research areas and to maintain and strengthen CBS's international research position.

Qualifications

- Advanced degree in an appropriate field
- Documented teaching qualifications or other material for the evaluation of his/her pedagogical level. Please see guidelines for teaching portfolios.

- Documented research production at an international level, including publications in the field's internationally recognized journals.
- Professional proficiency in English (written and spoken).

Copenhagen Business School has a broad commitment to the excellence, distinctiveness and relevance of its teaching and research programmes. Candidates who wish to join us should demonstrate enthusiasm for working in an organisation of this type (highlighting, for example, relevant business, educational and dissemination activities).

For further information please contact: Head of Department Caroline de la Porte, tel.: +45 3815 3550, e-mail cdlp.dbp@cbs.dk or Head of Secretariat Anne Suhr, tel.: +45 3814 5812, e-mail aws.dbp@cbs.dk. Information about the department may be found here: <https://www.cbs.dk/en/research/departments-and-centres/departments-of-business-and-politics>.

Appointment and salary will be in accordance with the Ministry of Finance's agreement with the Central Academic Organisation.

Application

Application must be sent via the electronic recruitment system, using the link below.

Application must include:

1. A statement of application.
2. Proof of qualifications and a full CV.
3. Documentation of relevant, significant, original research at an international level, including publications in the field's internationally recognized journals and citations in the Social Science Citation Index and/or Google Scholar.
4. Documentation of teaching qualifications or other material for the evaluation of his/her pedagogical level.
5. Information indicating experience in research management, industry co-operation and international co-operation.
6. A complete, numbered list of publications (indicating titles, co-authors, page numbers and year) with an * marking of the academic productions to be considered during the review. A maximum of 5 publications for review are allowed. Applicants are requested to prioritise their publications in relation to the field of this job advertisement.
7. Copies of the publications marked with an *. Only publications written in English (or another specified principal language, according to research tradition) or one of the Scandinavian languages will be taken into consideration).

Recruitment procedure

The Recruitment Committee will shortlist minimum two applicants; when possible five or more applicants will be shortlisted. The shortlisted applicants will be assessed by an Assessment Committee. All applicants will be notified of their status in the recruitment process shortly after the application deadline.

The applicants selected for assessment will be notified about the composition of the Assessment Committee and later in the process about the result of the assessment. Following the assessment, candidates will be notified about whether they will be invited for interview.

Once the recruitment process is completed each applicant will be notified of the outcome of their application.

Copenhagen Business School must receive all application material, including all appendices (see items above), by the application deadline.

Details about Copenhagen Business School and the department are available at www.cbs.dk

Apply via link: <https://candidate.hr-manager.net/ApplicationForm/SinglePageApplicationForm.aspx?cid=1309&departmentId=18991&ProjectId=144874&MediaId=5>

Closing date: 15 April 2018.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 4/15/2018

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 4065

Hawaii Pacific University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subject(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: East Asia, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Department of History and International Studies is seeking to hire an Assistant Professor of Political Science/International Studies starting fall 2018. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or be working towards completion of a doctoral degree in Political Science, International Studies, International Relations, Security Studies or related field, OR hold a Master's degree in one of these fields combined with professional experience commensurate to a doctorate. Regional specialization is open, though with some preference for Asia-Pacific. The hire will teach eight courses over the course of the full academic year. The exact division of the courses and in which term will be negotiated between the candidate, the chair and the dean. The courses will include lower-division PSCI and INTR courses like PSCI 1400 American Politics and PSCI 2000 Introduction to Politics, and upper-division courses like PSCI 3412 US Foreign Policy, PSCI 3500 Comparative Politics, INTR 3000 International Relations, and INTR 3200 National and International Security. The hire will also be expected to offer graduate courses to support the MA program in Diplomacy and Military Studies, such as PSCI 6601 Diplomacy and International Relations and supporting electives in the hire's areas of specialization. Courses may include mixture of in-class and on-line offerings. Hawaii Pacific University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

Qualifications:

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science, International Studies, Security Studies or related field from an accredited university OR Master's degree in Political Science, International Studies, or Security Studies from an accredited university combined with professional experience commensurate to a doctorate. ABD candidates will be considered. If the successful candidate is ABD, the appointment will be at the rank of instructor with the possibility of promotion to assistant professor with conferral of Ph.D. or terminal degree.

College-level teaching experience

Currently authorized to work in the United States

Desired Qualifications:

Two years or more of undergraduate college-level teaching experience

Graduate-level college teaching experience

Scholarly publications

Experience teaching university students in a diverse environment

Master's level thesis supervision experience

Online teaching experience

Other Qualifications:

Report to work obligations to support the department and may require work during HPU's winter break, if necessary.

Must meet training and background check qualifications and comply with the Protection of Minors policy.

Upon hire, candidate must have reliable personal transportation to facilitate travel between to all HPU worksites and other locations as required by the position. This includes a valid driver's license and a personal vehicle that is legally registered and insured.

Able to teach classes scheduled during days, evenings, and weekends.

Able to teach classes at multiple locations on Oahu.

Successful candidate will be able to work in an environment that utilize excellent time and stress management skills.

Key Responsibilities/Essential Job Functions: Note: Percentages are estimates.

1. Teaching (75%)

Teaching is the primary responsibility of Regular Faculty and specific functions include, but are not limited to the following:

Develop a syllabus of course activities that meet the requirements of the course description or program chair, establishes appropriate student learning outcomes, and provides for appropriate class activities throughout the semester.

Plan and deliver individual classes that conform to the syllabus and other requirements of the University.

Demonstrate a command of the discipline and skill in presenting it effectively in the context of an integrated education.

Maintain accurate and complete records on student participation and performance, use appropriate measures and evaluate student performance on the basis of established student learning outcomes, provide timely feedback to students and assign grades that are an accurate and fair evaluation of student work.

Submit grades and any other required documentation in a timely manner.

Administer student evaluations of faculty at the end of each course, review evaluation summaries and meet with department chair and dean to review.

Post and maintain regular office hours at times reasonably convenient to students. Serve as an advisor to students to assist them in understanding the curriculum, especially within the major, and mentor them as they plan their degree programs and careers.

In addition to formal course loads, bear fair share of the faculty responsibility for supervising student research, professional internships, and independent study.

Meet deadlines and follow directions of the program/department chair, associate dean or dean of the college.

Evaluate the teaching of colleagues through the process of peer review as requested.

Prepare Professional Development Plans or Progress Briefs and reappointment/promotion applications according to established guidelines.

Promote student success by following requirements found in the Academic Affairs Policies and Procedures Manual.

Faculty not assigned to College of Professional Services (CPS) may be required to teach up to two courses per academic year on a Military Program campus, but no more than one per semester.

2. Scholarship and Professional Development (10%)

Faculty members are expected to serve a professional role models to students and colleagues in scholarly activity and in critical investigation and experimentation for the purpose of increasing human knowledge.

Keep abreast of the new knowledge in the field to ensure courses, syllabi, instructional materials and techniques, and teaching methods are current and appropriate, and to participate where appropriate, in school or university-sponsored curriculum development programs and projects.

Engage in distinctive course and academic program development efforts; to participate in professional colloquia, seminars, and workshops; and to share ideas and the results of scholarly and artistic endeavors with peers both at the university and in the larger academic/ artistic community.

Examples of scholarly activities and professional development include but are not limited to the following:

Publication of research findings in peer-reviewed journal articles, academic papers, book chapters, books, or other writing normal to the discipline

Presentations at academic conferences

Obtaining internal or external research grants, fellowships, and other funding awards

Department, college, university, state, national, and international honors and awards

Invited evaluations and reviews of the work of other professionals

Participation on review panels for outside funding agencies

Service as either editor or referee for professional publications

Leadership of, committee work for, and participation in scholarly and professional organizations

Sustained activity in program development

3. University Service (10%) Engage in service to department, school or college, and the university in ways that extend and enrich the university's academic programs and its governance.

Attend orientation programs and Faculty Assembly meetings and participate in academic duties.

Participate in academic governance of department. Participate in committees; course, program and curriculum area coordination; curricular development and textbook selection; instructional workshops and activities within own curricular areas, policy and program review; or other learning assessments.

Serve as representatives on school or college level and university level committees of the Faculty Assembly, as well as on other task forces and committees that assist the chair of the Faculty Assembly and/or the deans in the formation of academic policies and related matters.

Assist with co-curricular activities to include organization of, participation in, or presentation of faculty forums or workshops; advising and sponsorship of clubs and societies; participation in, organization of, providing guidance and assistance to extra-curricular or co-curricular university events such as banquets, the literary magazine, the athletic program, intercultural events, theatrical productions, guest speaker forums, or graduation ceremonies.

May include specific accomplishments as a voluntary or elected member of a Faculty Assembly or school or college level committee; curriculum area liaison; coordination of a course, program or discipline; mentoring other faculty; program review activities; coordinating training or other events; and recruitment activities.

Colleges will further determine and articulate specific expectations for university service.

4. Performs other related duties as appropriate (5%)

Actively participate as an effective member of team by completing assigned duties, accepting additional assignments or reassignments.

This description is not designed to list all activities, duties or responsibilities which may be required for this job.

Hawai'i Pacific University is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to fostering a diverse, equitable environment in which faculty and staff can excel irrespective of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, marital status, or any other protected class covered by state and federal law. Hawai'i Pacific University encourages applications from veterans and individuals with disabilities. A pre-employment background investigation is performed on candidates selected for employment.

Agency

Hawaii Pacific University

Phone

808-544-1188

Website

<http://www.hpu.edu/employment>

Address

1164 Bishop St

8th Floor

Honolulu, Hawaii, 96813.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4069

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Qualitative Research Methodology

LSE values diversity and strives to promote equality at all levels.

For this post, we particularly welcome applications by ethnic minorities.

Department of Methodology

Assistant Professor in Qualitative Research Methodology

Salary is competitive with Departments at our peer institutions worldwide and not less than £53,905 pa inclusive

The Department of Methodology is a leading centre for research and education in social science research methods. The Department has a thriving research culture, with its members advancing research in core social science disciplines as well as in research methodology. It leads the provision of research methods education to students across the range of disciplines at LSE. The Department is recruiting an Assistant Professor with expertise in Qualitative Research Methodology with a specialization in qualitative text analysis.

Candidates should have completed a PhD and have research expertise in a relevant social science discipline and in qualitative research methodology. They should have a track record or trajectory of internationally excellent publications and a clear, well developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that has the potential to result in world-leading publications. They should have the ability to teach a range of qualitative research methods to multi-disciplinary groups of students, but especially postgraduate modules in the methodology and applications of qualitative text analysis. They should have excellent written and oral communication skills, including an ability to place one's specialist work within a broader social science context.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email G.Urquhart@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is Monday 19 March 2018 (23.59 UK time). We are unable to accept any late applications.

Interviews are expected to be held in the weeks commencing 23 April and 30 April 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 2/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4056

New York University

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Public Service

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Education Policy, Economic Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service invites applications for a clinical faculty member with expertise in quantitative methods applied to policy-relevant research. We are seeking applicants interested in teaching core quantitative methods and reasoning to our Masters in Public Administration students and engaging in our curriculum needs in this and related Masters programs. Knowledge and experience in the use of advanced methods such as machine learning and survey methods would be an advantage. Candidates should describe how they have addressed (or would address) issues around diversity, equity, and inclusion in their teaching. A PhD in public administration, economics, education, political science, sociology, statistics, or related fields is required, with a degree conferred by August 31, 2018. Prior teaching experience is required.

Applications will be considered on a rolling basis and the successful candidate will begin September 1, 2018. Please submit a cover letter, resume/curriculum vitae, research publications (if available), teaching evaluations, and contact information for at least three professional references using the following link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/48224>.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: 3/30/2018
Date Posted: 2/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4038

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology
Specializations: African American Politics, Latino Politics, Research Methods

Visiting Assistant Professor Position in American Politics
 The Department of Political Science at Rhodes College, a highly selective, national liberal arts college located in Memphis, TN, invites applications for a one-year appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics, beginning in August 2018. Rhodes College is especially interested in attracting candidates from historically underrepresented groups and/or those with a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse and historically underrepresented populations. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to teaching in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate must have classroom experience and must be able to teach the introductory survey course in U.S. Politics and the research methods course. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. We particularly encourage candidates to apply who could teach in the areas of race, ethnicity, and politics; or public policy. Preference will be given to candidates whose courses can contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Africana Studies, Educational Studies, Environmental Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latin American and Latinx Studies, or Urban Studies. The Ph. D. in political science is preferred. Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities. <http://www.rhodes.edu/content/our-city>.

Please apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu; only online applications will be accepted. Completed applications will include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, syllabi for the course in US Politics and the course in research methods, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are encouraged to address in their letter of application their interest in teaching at a liberal arts college, their teaching philosophy, and their proposed teaching contributions to the department. The application must also include a separate statement that addresses how the applicant will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department and in interdisciplinary programs, and how their experiences with teaching, scholarship and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values.

Review of completed applications will begin March 19, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The online application system will solicit letters of recommendation electronically from the candidate's recommenders, once their contact information has been entered by the candidate and all other required application materials have been submitted. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews. For further information, please contact Dr. Amy Jasperson, chair of the search committee, at jaspersona@rhodes.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4036

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods
Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate or more senior research position in the fields of Formal Theory or Quantitative Analysis. This position involves a year of research at Princeton with the possibility of renewal for another year based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars and to increase the critical mass of scholars with interests in formal theory and quantitative methods at Princeton.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=2885> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. Ph.D. is required. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton Politics faculty members.

Transcripts should be sent directly to F/Q Postdoctoral Fellowship Search, Department of Politics, 007 Fisher Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08544. We will begin reviewing applications on February 15, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-18-POL-00006

Start Date: Fall 2018
Date Posted: 2/9/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4029

Duke University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow
Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Political Development

The DevLab@Duke has one opening for a Post-Doctoral fellow working to develop rigorous programming, collect monitoring and evaluation data, and conduct impact evaluations of development projects. Prospective candidates are expected to have done graduate work in one or more of these areas:

- International Development

- Economics
- Political Science

Successful candidates will collaborate with Professors Erica Field, Erik Wibbels, Pablo Beramendi, Edmund Malesky, Manoj Mohanan, Marc Jeuland, Robert Garlick and other members of the lab in an interdisciplinary environment. They will be expected to work with lab associates to provide timely input to development practitioners affiliated with the DevLab—including donors, implementers and evaluators—at all stages of project conceptualization, design, implementation and evaluation. Lab activities will leave considerable time for independent research, and the position offers ample opportunity for developing new research projects in conjunction with DevLab members.

There is no deadline for applying to the opening, but applications will be considered on a rolling basis starting immediately. The start date is July 1, 2018. The position comes with competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for one year, with the possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10802>. Address correspondence to: Professor Elaine Denny, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204; or email: elaine.denny@duke.edu.

Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Date Posted: 1/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4002

Bucknell University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics beginning in the fall semester of 2018. The teaching load is three courses per semester, and the successful candidate will be prepared to teach European politics, a core course in comparative politics, and quantitative or qualitative research methods, as well as other courses in the candidate's area of specialization.

The Department of Political Science has a strong record of hiring diverse faculty whose courses expose students to a variety of racial, ethnic, and cultural perspectives, and we are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience, potential teaching excellence, and the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. or be ABD in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in comparative politics.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <http://www.careers.bucknell.edu>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, syllabi, and teaching evaluations, along with any other relevant materials. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Scott Meinke at smeinke@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on February 26, 2018, and applications received by that date will be guaranteed full consideration.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a highly selective, predominately undergraduate, private university with approximately 3600 students. Apart from its excellent academic departments and programs, it boasts the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender, which supports faculty teaching and scholarship in these areas; the Griot Institute for Africana Studies, which provides faculty and student intellectual and creative engagement with the cultures, histories, narratives, peoples, geographies, and arts of Africa and the African diaspora; and the Bucknell Institute for Public Policy, which supports faculty research and teaching on issues of domestic, international, and comparative public policy. Bucknell also has a small but growing community of Asia scholars. In the spring of 2014, Bucknell introduced a 5-Year Diversity Plan aimed at enhancing the diversity of the faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum of the university.

Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. For those who crave the city, Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3995

Shepherd University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies at Shepherd University invites applicants for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Political Science with specialization in global security/peace or global political economy. Regional specialization is open but preference for specialization in Latin America or Asia. Candidates with ability to teach either research methods or American political institution will receive preference.

Responsibilities include teaching 12 hours per semester (which could include 2 sections of either Introduction to American Government or an Introduction to Political Science course), scholarship, participation in Shepherd's Global Studies Program, student advisement and supervision of research projects, and participation in service activities. Candidates with a Ph.D in Political Science (or related field) in hand are preferred but candidates who are ABD with substantial evidence of nearing completion will be considered. Candidates should have demonstrated teaching ability and potential as a researcher. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. AA/EOE. Salary is commensurate with experience.

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies is a vibrant department which offers Bachelors Degrees in Political Science and in Global Studies. Within Political Science students have the opportunity to concentrate in legal studies. The Global Studies Program, an interdisciplinary program, offers concentrations in Global Governance and Peace, Global Economics and Development, Global Environments, and Global Culture and History. At the moment the Department has four full-time faculty members and between 80 and 100 majors.

Founded in 1871, Shepherd, a public liberal arts University, is located in Shepherdstown, a historic town on the Potomac River about 75 miles west of Washington, DC. Review of applications will begin immediately; applications received by March 5, 2018 will receive priority consideration. Submit a cover letter, CV, unofficial transcripts, list of references, and statement of teaching philosophy and research interests to <https://jobs.shepherd.edu>. Only electronic applications will be accepted. For more information, please contact Dr. Aart Holtslag, Search Committee Chair, at aholtsla@shepherd.edu.

Minimum Qualifications:

ABD in Political Science and primary area of competence in International Relations/Comparative Politics (area specialty other than Europe) with an ability to teach Political Philosophy, Public Policy, or Research Methods as a secondary competency.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3989

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Summary:

The Institute of Political Science (IPS) in The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFU) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts as early as Fall 2018. The opening is in the field of comparative politics (with or without a focus on China), research methodology, and political theory (order is by preference). A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years. The tenure-track faculty members are expected to publish research on major journals of international reputation, offer high quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFU. Although the working environment is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background:

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas.

The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five Year Plan. SUFU is the only institution in the Mainland China that adopts tenure-track system and offers globally competitive salaries for entry-level faculty in the discipline of political science. The newly established Institute of Political Science has nine members. Seven of them hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents:

Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

Procedures:

The deadline for accepting applications is March 20, 2018, for this round of recruitment. We plan to interview a shortlist of applicants at 2018 Midwest Political Science Association conference in Chicago. In your cover letter, please state whether you will attend the meeting and be available for an interview. We also can arrange on-site interviews at SUFU or other forms of interviews such as Skype.

Contact:

Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/20/2018

Date Posted: 1/20/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3968

Barry University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Department of History and Political Science at Barry University in Miami Shores, Florida invites applications for a full-time, continuing track position of Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in August, 2018.

The Department offers bachelor's degrees in Political Science, International Studies, History and Pre-law and is housed in the College of Arts & Sciences.

This full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science teaches undergraduate courses; provides academic advising and mentoring to undergraduate students; contributes departmental, college, university, community, and professional service; and engages in sustained scholarship.

Applications should be submitted by March 1, 2018.

Essential Functions

- The applicant must be able to teach courses on American politics and institutions, or on international relations, international organizations, and international political economy.
- The ideal candidate would also be able to teach research methods and/or political theory to undergraduates. In addition, the applicant should be able to teach Introduction to American Government.
- The course load is 12 credits per semester. Experience with developing and teaching distance courses is desirable.
- Additional duties include academic advising, professional service within the university and the community, and ongoing scholarship.

Qualifications/Requirements

- The position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialization in American Government and/or International Relations and with a secondary area in research methods.
- Experience with developing and teaching distance courses is desirable.
- The applicant should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vita, an official transcript, and three letters of professional reference.

Benefits: Barry University offers a comprehensive benefits package to full-time employees that includes health, dental, vision, life insurance, retirement, tuition assistance, paid time off and work/life balance initiatives such as wellness programs, spirituality in the workplace, and training and development.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/1/2018

Date Posted: 1/12/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3953

Lee University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Department of History, Political Science, and Humanities at Lee University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position of Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in the fall of 2018.

Duties

The successful candidate will have a concentration in American Politics and will be expected to teach courses in American Politics, the university core course in American Government, and a two-course sequence in Research Methods. Secondary specialization is open. An ability and willingness to teach courses in Public Administration would be an asset. Additional duties will include mentoring undergraduate research, advising students in the department's majors, developing curriculum, serving on university committees, seeking ways to serve the greater community, and working cooperatively with the Department Chair and departmental faculty.

Required Qualifications

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialty in American Politics. (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date.) The candidate will express a strong commitment to faith in Jesus Christ and Christian lifestyle expectations, indicate a commitment to undergraduate education, passionately support the Christian liberal arts, demonstrate college teaching ability, and, effectively integrate Christian faith into the academic discipline and the classroom.

Lee University is a Christ-centered, comprehensive university that is recognized as an emerging leader in higher education in the southeastern region. To apply please send a completed application form (available at the website listed below), curriculum vitae, statement of Christian faith, and statement describing the integration of Christian faith with discipline of expertise, transcripts, three letters of reference, and student evaluations (if available) to Dr. Randy Wood, Chair of the Department of History, Political Science and Humanities, Lee University, P.O. Box 3450, Cleveland, TN 37320-3450 or by email to rwood@leeuniversity.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information contact Dr. Randy Wood at rwood@leeuniversity.edu or (423) 614-8137. The application form is available at: <http://www.leeuniversity.edu/uploadedFiles/Content/human-resources/faculty-application%281%29.pdf>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/27/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3828

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or More Senior Research Scholar

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a full time Associate or more senior Research Scholar with a preferred start date of September 1, 2018.

The Center conducts research that advances the study of contemporary China at Princeton University and provides substantive analysis from social science perspectives of the dramatic sociological shifts taking place in China today. The Research Scholar's duties include: working collaboratively with the Director to analyze multiple large datasets; coordinating, designing, implementing, and reporting on the results of such analyses; interfacing with collaborators or potential collaborators in research; potential course instruction pending departmental need, sufficient course enrollments and with the approval of the Office of the Dean of the Faculty; offering of workshops; preparing manuscripts for publication; training junior scholars and graduate students on research study design, methodology, and theory; guiding junior scholars and students in research projects; being familiar with quantitative data sources on China; providing data resource services on China to Princeton's scholars and students; and managing and participating in research conferences, seminars, and lecture series. The successful applicant will also contribute to the overall research agenda of the Center. There will be opportunities for authorship on publications, including first authorship, and preparing applications for external funding. The appointment is for three years with reappointment contingent upon successful department and University committee review.

Required Qualifications: Qualified individuals will have a Ph.D. in the social sciences and have: strong data management skills, ability to interpret data with coherent theory, strong methodological skills and interests, an interest in quantitative research methods and theory, strongly motivated, and work well in a team setting. Excellent written and oral communication skills in English and Chinese are required. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated productivity in terms of published journal articles and scientific conference presentations. Preference will be given to candidates who are interested in contemporary China.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. Applicants must apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/4941> by the application deadline of February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST and submit the following:

1. A cover letter
2. A current curriculum vitae
3. Contact information for two references
4. Two writing samples

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3764

American University in Cairo

Rank: Comparative Politics/Methods

Comparative Politics/ Methods

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in Comparative Politics with emphasis on methods at the Assistant or Associate Level Professor beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in comparative politics, using examples outside as well as inside the Middle East and North Africa. Candidates who can teach quantitative & qualitative methods and apply them to studies of surveys and elections in the Arab region are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu); Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3744

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Open Rank Faculty in Social Data Analytics and Research (SDAR)

The University of Texas at Dallas seeks a quantitatively oriented social scientist to become an integral member of our new Social Data Analytics and Research (SDAR) master's program within the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (<http://www.utdallas.edu/epps/>). The ideal candidate will have strengths in big data analytics, knowledge discovery/mining, data management, data visualization, research design, qualitative data analysis and multivariate statistics. In addition, this individual will have substantive interests in some area of the social sciences, including criminology, economics, geography/geospatial science, political science, public affairs, public policy, international political economy, and/or sociology. While individuals of all ranks will be considered, preference will be given to senior scholars who can immediately assume a leadership role in the SDAR program.

For information on the SDAR master's program, see: <http://www.utdallas.edu/epps/sdar/>

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Apply online at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/9031>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3742

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Quantitative Methods

Seeking an Master Instructor to teach on campus in the area(s) of introductory American Government, public law, as well as supervise the MSSU Mock Trial program. Must have a Master's degree in the related discipline area, (PhD preferred). Certification in certain fields may also be accepted depending on subject matter. Employment will require a background check. E-verify participating employer.

Applicant materials include a letter of application, curriculum vitae with the names, addresses, email and phone numbers of three references, and unofficial transcripts. Submit materials at www.mssu.edu/jobs. Official transcripts are required within 45 days of hire. Review of applicant materials begins immediately and will continue until the position(s) has been filled. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3721

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment

- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations (MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenure Track Business and Public Policy Position

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Administration

The Business, Government & Society (BGS) Department in the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin teaches future leaders how to recognize and respond to the legal, ethical, social, and regulatory expectations that businesses face and contributes to important public policy debates through research that rigorously applies social science research methods to relevant questions at the intersection of business activity and government regulation.

BGS now invites applications for a tenure-track position starting in the 2018-2019 school year. The ideal candidate will possess a Ph.D. in political science or economics and have core research interest in areas such as political economy, CSR, business and public policy, and ethical decision making. Research interests in international political economy, sustainability, health care and technological innovation and regulation are a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrable methodological skill set, a rigorous research agenda relevant to business and its non-market environment, and the potential to publish in top journals in these areas.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/45561>

Additional information here: <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/28188>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3560

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - Methodology

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in quantitative methodology. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3364

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Research Methods

The Government Department at the University of Texas at Austin is hoping to hire two distinguished methodologists (including statistical methodologists and formal theorists) at the rank of full Professor to begin in Fall 2018. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of political science research methods and formal theory, broadly defined.

Duties will include both undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The successful candidates will have a highly distinguished scholarly record of publication, a record of teaching excellence, and demonstrated excellence in intellectual and institutional leadership. Applicants must have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. Salary is highly competitive and commensurate with rank, experience, and qualifications.

Applicants should upload a vitae, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials. The department will begin reviewing applications immediately and continue receiving applications until the positions are filled. Applicants should apply online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/44115>. Position funding is pending budgetary approval. A background check will be conducted for successful applicants. AA/EEO employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3269

Rice University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

Rice University, as part of its $150 million investment in research excellence, intends to hire multiple tenure-track faculty members whose research focus is in data science. These new hires will join the four faculty members hired in the 2016-2017 academic year, along with the community of scholars at Rice who focus on data-driven research. We seek to hire two distinct kinds of specialists: (1) data scientists who can make fundamental contributions to the theory, algorithms, and systems aspects of data science, and (2) scholars who work on emerging applications of data science to problems in health and medicine, urban analytics, and high-volume or high-velocity data-intensive science. The candidate's cover letter or research statement should make clear how their research relates to one of these three problem areas.

The Data Science initiative seeks candidates at all ranks, for employment as early as July 1, 2018. All new hires will have an appointment in one or more relevant department. Assistant Professors will have a single primary department that will be responsible for their mentoring and promotion. At higher ranks, appointments across multiple departments are desirable. Individual departments at Rice also have active faculty searches this year. Those searches are distinct from the Data Science search and may include research areas beyond those included in the Data Science search. Interested candidates should consider applying to both the Data Science search and any appropriate departmental search.

Applicants to the Data Science search should submit the following: (1) cover letter; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) research statement which describes how the candidate's work fits with Rice's data science initiative and in one or more of the three problem areas (not to exceed three pages including figures); (4) teaching statement; and (5) the names, professional affiliations, and email addresses of three references. For full details, please visit: <http://datascience.rice.edu>, and to apply, please visit: <https://jobs.rice.edu/postings/11380>. These positions require a PhD, or PhD requirements fulfilled by November 1 of the year employment commences. Applications will be evaluated beginning on September 15, 2017 and will continue to be accepted until all positions are filled. Recommendation of candidates or questions regarding this opportunity can be directed to the committee at datascience@rice.edu.

Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, is a private, coeducational, nonsectarian university that aspires to path-breaking research, unsurpassed teaching, and contributions to the betterment of our world. Rice fulfills this mission by cultivating a diverse community of learning and discovery that produces leaders across the spectrum of human endeavor. From its beginning in 1912, Rice has been dedicated to excellence in all regards.

Rice University is an Equal Opportunity Employer with commitment to diversity at all levels, and considers for employment qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3103

NON-ACADEMIC

OTHER

Princeton University

Rank: PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Administration, Other, International Relations

PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellowship

Job Listing

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship program for the 2018-19 year. Up to three 3-year postdoctoral fellowships will be awarded to exceptional recent Ph.D. recipients who are researching issues of global importance in the sciences and engineering, arts, humanities, and social sciences. Fields of special interest include hydro-climate modeling and analysis of infectious diseases, other global challenges and large structural processes, systems thinking, and cross-regional interaction (Brazil-Africa, Brazil-China, China-India, China-Africa, India-Africa, Africa-Europe, Russia-China, etc.). Applicants must have already demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievement and excellence in teaching.

The fellowship's responsibilities include both teaching (one course or equivalent each semester for two years, one course in the third year) and research. The Fellow will either participate in a team-taught course or offer a self-designed course in an interdisciplinary program. In addition, the Fellow will do some advising in his/her specialty or related areas. When teaching, the successful candidate will carry a secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching is contingent on sufficient course enrollments and the prior approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

Appointments, to be made at the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate, will be annual with the expectation of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and continued funding. In addition to salary and benefits, the program will provide fellows a research account of $3,000 a year, an office, a personal computer and other resources. Fellows are expected to reside in or near Princeton during the year in order to attend related seminars and workshops and participate fully in the intellectual life of PIIRS and related units. A Ph.D. is required.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad/positions/position/5961>.

The following application items should be uploaded by the applicant:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae

- Dissertation abstract
- Writing sample: one chapter of the dissertation or one published article related to the dissertation topic.
- Research proposal
- Two course proposals
- For ABD (All But Dissertation) candidates: letter of "Progress to Degree" from the director of graduate studies or department chair.
- For applicants with PhD degree: document confirming your completion of all requirements for the PhD degree.
- Names and email addresses for three references, who will be invited to upload their confidential letter of recommendation to the online portal once the application has been submitted.

For full consideration applicants should apply by Friday, March 23, 2018. Due to the anticipated volume of applications, only final candidates will be contacted. Further information about PIIRS can be found at: <http://piirs.princeton.edu/>.

For questions about this position, please contact Nicole Bergman at nbergman@princeton.edu.

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Winter 2018

Application Deadline: 3/26/2018

Date Posted: 2/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4074

University of Virginia

Rank: DeOlazarra Research Associates

The University of Virginia's program in Political Philosophy, Policy & Law (PPL) invites applications for possibly two full-time DeOlazarra Research Associates for the academic year beginning August 25, 2018, renewable for a second academic year. Renewals are subject to availability of funding and performance. Compensation will take the form of salary and benefits. Applicants must specialize in contemporary political theory/philosophy, particularly as it applies to the evaluation of important issues in public policy. A background in jurisprudence or legal theory is also desirable. PPL is a selective interdisciplinary undergraduate major in which fourth year students develop substantial research projects in the context of a capstone seminar. The research associate will preside over this seminar during the spring semester as well as teach one fall semester course in his or her area of interest. Applicants for this position must be on track to complete their PhD degree by May 31, 2018, and candidates are required to have earned their degrees by August 1, 2018. Candidates must combine strong research potential with commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching.

To apply, please complete a Candidate Profile online through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>), and electronically attach the following: a current CV, cover letter, statement of teaching, unofficial transcript, writing sample, and provide contact information for three (3) references. Search on posting 0622576.

Priority consideration will be given to applications received by April 15, 2018; however, the position will remain open until filled.

Questions regarding the position should be directed to:

Dr. Colin Bird
434-924-3615
colinbird@virginia.edu

Questions regarding the application process or Jobs@UVA should be directed to:

Bonnie Bragg
434-924-3603
bb6a@virginia.edu

U.Va. will perform background checks including receipt of official transcripts from the institution granting the highest degree for all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4067

Iowa State University

Rank: Professor and Director of Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Iowa State University invites applicants with academic administrative and fundraising experience and expertise in American women and politics to apply for the position of professor and director of the Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics. The director will continue to enhance the state, national and international reputation of the center.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the overall administration of this college center including fund-raising; donor relations; oversight of a budget consisting of multiple general fund and foundation accounts; strategic planning; program development, implementation and evaluation; management of high-profile lecture series; and hiring, supervision and evaluation of center support staff. Other duties include media relations (interviews with print, radio, and television media); collaboration with other university, local, state and national organizations focused on women, politics and civic engagement; and presentations to local, state and national groups about women and politics, leadership, and other related topics.

Founded in 1992, the Carrie Chapman Catt Center is the second oldest university-based center focusing on women and politics in the United States. Its nationally recognized programs are designed to interest, educate, and engage citizens in the political process. The Catt Center's research activities include the web-based Archives of Women's Political Communication, Carrie Chapman Catt Prize for Research on Women and Politics, Women in Iowa Politics database of original research reports; and Gender Balance Project. Its outreach programs include the Mary Louise Smith Chair in Women and Politics lecture series and Ready to Run Iowa: Campaign Training for Women. Other Catt Center programs include the Legacy of Heroines and Stanley Global Leaders scholarships; Women Impacting ISU annual calendar; and Plaza of Heroines.

The Catt Center is located administratively in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Iowa State's core and academically most diverse college with programs in the sciences, humanities and social sciences. The college is committed to student success, helping students acquire the intellectual depth and breadth to become knowledgeable, inquisitive and creative citizens and leaders, ready to address the challenges of the 21st century. College faculty lead internationally renowned research programs and teach approximately 50 percent of all undergraduate student credit hours at Iowa State University. The college offers nearly 50 baccalaureate degrees in addition to master's and Ph.D. degrees.

Iowa State University is classified as a Carnegie Foundation Doctoral/Research University-Extensive, a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), and ranked by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top public universities in the nation. More than 36,000 students are enrolled and are served by over 6,200 faculty and staff.

Iowa State University is a global and culturally diverse university committed to providing an inclusive, equitable, and diverse environment for both learning and employment. We know that diversity in experience and perspective is vital to advancing innovation, critical thinking, solving complex problems, and building an inclusive academic community. At Iowa State, we translate these values into action by seeking individuals who have experience working with diverse students, colleagues, and constituents. The university has an expectation that all employees will demonstrate a contribution to diversity and inclusion as embodied in Iowa State University's Principles of Community.

Ames, Iowa is a progressive community of 60,000, located approximately 30 minutes north of Des Moines, and recently voted one of the best college towns in the nation.

Iowa State University is an equal opportunity employer committed to excellence through diversity and strongly encourages applications from all qualified applicants, including women, underrepresented populations, and veterans. ISU is responsive to the needs of dual career couples, is dedicated to work-life balance through an array of policies, and is an NSF ADVANCE institution.

All employees are expected to exhibit and convey good citizenship within the program, the department, college, university activities, collegial interactions, and maintain the highest standards of integrity and ethical behavior.

To apply for this position, please click on "Apply for this Job" and complete the Employment Application. Please be prepared to enter or attach the following:

- 1) Resume/Curriculum Vitae
- 2) Letter of Application/Cover Letter – include a statement of the candidate's administrative philosophy and experience
- 3) Contact Information for Three Professional References

If you have questions regarding this application process, please email employment@iastate.edu or call 515-294-4800 or Toll Free: 1-877-477-7485.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4062

Iowa State University

Rank: Professor and Director of Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Iowa State University invites applicants with academic administrative and fundraising experience and expertise in American women and politics to apply for the position of professor and director of the Carrie Chapman Catt Center for Women and Politics. The director will continue to enhance the state, national and international reputation of the center.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the overall administration of this college center including fund-raising; donor relations; oversight of a budget consisting of multiple general fund and foundation accounts; strategic planning; program development, implementation and evaluation; management of high-profile lecture series; and hiring, supervision and evaluation of center support staff. Other duties include media relations (interviews with print, radio, and television media); collaboration with other university, local, state and national organizations focused on women, politics and civic engagement; and presentations to local, state and national groups about women and politics, leadership, and other related topics.

Founded in 1992, the Carrie Chapman Catt Center is the second oldest university-based center focusing on women and politics in the United States. Its nationally recognized programs are designed to interest, educate, and engage citizens in the political process. The Catt Center's research activities include the web-based Archives of Women's Political Communication, Carrie Chapman Catt Prize for Research on Women and Politics, Women in Iowa Politics database of original research reports; and Gender Balance Project. Its outreach programs include the Mary Louise Smith Chair in Women and Politics lecture series and Ready to Run Iowa: Campaign Training for Women. Other Catt Center programs include the Legacy of Heroines and Stanley Global Leaders scholarships; Women Impacting ISU annual calendar; and Plaza of Heroines.

The Catt Center is located administratively in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Iowa State's core and academically most diverse college with programs in the sciences, humanities and social sciences. The college is committed to student success, helping students acquire the intellectual depth and breadth to become knowledgeable, inquisitive and creative citizens and leaders, ready to address the challenges of the 21st century. College faculty lead internationally renowned research programs and teach approximately 50 percent of all undergraduate student credit hours at Iowa State University. The college offers nearly 50 baccalaureate degrees in addition to master's and Ph.D. degrees.

Iowa State University is classified as a Carnegie Foundation Doctoral/Research University-Extensive, a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), and ranked by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top public universities in the nation. More than 36,000 students are enrolled and are served by over 6,200 faculty and staff.

Iowa State University is a global and culturally diverse university committed to providing an inclusive, equitable, and diverse environment for both learning and employment. We know that diversity in experience and perspective is vital to advancing innovation, critical thinking, solving complex problems, and building an inclusive academic community. At Iowa State, we translate these values into action by seeking individuals who have experience working with diverse students, colleagues, and constituents. The university has an expectation that all employees will demonstrate a contribution to diversity and inclusion as embodied in Iowa State University's Principles of Community.

Ames, Iowa is a progressive community of 60,000, located approximately 30 minutes north of Des Moines, and recently voted one of the best college towns in the nation.

Iowa State University is an equal opportunity employer committed to excellence through diversity and strongly encourages applications from all qualified applicants, including women, underrepresented populations, and veterans. ISU is responsive to the needs of dual career couples, is dedicated to work-life balance through an array of policies, and is an NSF ADVANCE institution.

All employees are expected to exhibit and convey good citizenship within the program, the department, college, university activities, collegial interactions, and maintain the highest standards of integrity and ethical behavior.

Required Education and Experience

- PhD from a reputable, accredited institution.
- A distinguishing record in research, teaching, and service that qualifies the candidate for tenure at the rank of full professor in one of the academic departments in the college.
- Demonstrated knowledge/expertise in American women and politics.
- Administrative experience directing an academic center or program.

Preferred Education and Experience

- Record of publications and presentations in the field of American women and politics.
- Regional or national professional organization experience/leadership.
- Demonstrated success in fundraising.
- Experience in budget management.
- Experience in public/media relations.
- Experience supervising staff and/or mentoring students.

Iowa State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, marital status, disability, or protected veteran status and will not be discriminated against. Inquiries can be directed to the Office of Equal Opportunity, 3410 Beardshear Hall, 515 Morrill Road, 515 294-7612, email eooffice@iastate.edu.

To apply for this position, please click on "Apply for this Job" and complete the Employment Application. Please be prepared to enter or attach the following:

- 1) Resume/Curriculum Vitae
- 2) Letter of Application/Cover Letter – include a statement of the candidate's administrative philosophy and experience
- 3) Contact Information for Three Professional References

If you have questions regarding this application process, please email employment@iastate.edu or call 515-294-4800 or Toll Free: 1-877-477-7485.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4063

Harvard University

Rank: Senior Lecturer and Director of Undergraduate Studies

The Department of Government seeks to fill a full-time position as Senior Lecturer and Director of Undergraduate Studies beginning in academic year 2018-2019. We seek candidates with demonstrated excellence in and commitment to undergraduate teaching; a strong record of achievement in academic research; and relevant academic administrative experience. The position requires a strong record of academic achievement, excellent organizational, interpersonal, and communication skills. Substantive areas of research and teaching are open.

Applicants for the position will ordinarily have taught within the ladder ranks at a university or peer undergraduate institution, and have had some academic administrative experience.

Duties include part-time teaching of undergraduate courses; overseeing the Department's undergraduate program, conducting and coordinating undergraduate advising; overseeing undergraduate staff, concentration advisors, lecturers, and teaching fellows; and serving as liaison with the College on all undergraduate matters, including responding to new FAS-wide teaching initiatives or other projects. Working with the Chair and the departmental curriculum committee, the Director of Undergraduate Studies is also responsible for arranging the departmental program of undergraduate course offerings for the coming academic year and for helping to coordinate long-range curricular planning.

The appointment is renewable every five years based on performance and curricular needs.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. in political science or related field. Please submit the following materials through the ARIES portal (<http://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on 02/15/18.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement (current research and future research agenda)
5. Syllabi from at least two previously-taught undergraduate courses
5. Names and contact information of 3 referees (please do not ask them to forward letters until requested by the search committee)

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/9/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4026

Harvard University

Rank: Senior Lecturer and Director of Undergraduate Studies

The Department of Government seeks to fill a full-time position as Senior Lecturer and Director of Undergraduate Studies beginning in academic year 2018-2019. We seek candidates with demonstrated excellence in and commitment to undergraduate teaching; a strong record of achievement in academic research; and relevant academic administrative experience. The position requires a strong record of academic achievement, excellent organizational, interpersonal, and communication skills. Substantive areas of research and teaching are open.

Applicants for the position will ordinarily have taught within the ladder ranks at a university or peer undergraduate institution, and have had some academic administrative experience.

Duties include part-time teaching of undergraduate courses; overseeing the Department's undergraduate program, conducting and coordinating undergraduate advising; overseeing undergraduate staff, concentration advisors, lecturers, and teaching fellows; and serving as liaison with the College on all undergraduate matters, including responding to new FAS-wide teaching initiatives or other projects. Working with the Chair and the departmental curriculum committee, the Director of Undergraduate Studies is also responsible for arranging the departmental program of undergraduate course offerings for the coming academic year and for helping to coordinate long-range curricular planning.

The appointment is renewable every five years based on performance and curricular needs.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. in political science or related field.

Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<http://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on 02/15/18.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement (current research and future research agenda)
5. Syllabi from at least two previously-taught undergraduate courses
5. Names and contact information of 3 referees (please do not ask them to forward letters until requested by the search committee)

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/9/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4027

City University of Hong Kong

Rank: Associate Professor/Assistant Professor

Worldwide Search for Talent

City University of Hong Kong is a dynamic, fast-growing university that is pursuing excellence in research and professional education. As a publicly-funded institution, the University is committed to nurturing and developing students' talents and creating applicable knowledge to support social and economic advancement. The University has seven Colleges/Schools. As part of its pursuit of excellence, the University aims to recruit outstanding scholars from all over the world in various disciplines, including business, creative media, energy and environment, science and engineering, humanities and social sciences, law, veterinary medicine and life sciences.

Applications with a strong record in research and education are invited for :

Associate Professor/Assistant Professor (Politics/Political Sciences/Political Philosophy)
Department of Public Policy [Ref. C/457/49]

Duties : Contribute to research, service, teaching and teaching-related activities at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. The appointee is also expected to be an active researcher and contribute to the broader intellectual project of the Department in terms of publications, seminars, workshops and research proposals.

Requirements : A PhD in Political Sciences or related disciplines with ability to teach general politics courses (such as Political Theories or Political Philosophy), with research specialization in one or more sub-fields (such as political analysis, Chinese politics, political ethics, Chinese/comparative philosophy, or political theories). Candidates are expected to have an active research agenda that leads to external funding, provide evidence of teaching ability (including student evaluations) and proven ability to produce high quality publications. Candidates for Associate Professor should have a substantial record of research publications, and are expected to take a leadership role in the Department's politics programs. Those who can offer general education courses (GE courses) in critical thinking, ethics and politics, and bioethics are welcome to apply.

(For enquiries, please contact Professor Xiaohu Wang, Acting Head of Department via email at xwang65@cityu.edu.hk)

Salary and Conditions of Service

Remuneration package will be driven by market competitiveness and individual performance. Excellent fringe benefits include gratuity, leave, medical and dental schemes, and relocation assistance (where applicable). Initial appointment will be made on a fixed-term contract.

Information and Application

Further information on the posts and the University is available at <http://www.cityu.edu.hk>, or from the Human Resources Office, City University of Hong Kong, Tat Chee Avenue, Kowloon Tong, Hong Kong Email : [hrojjob@cityu.edu.hk/Fax : (852) 2788 1154 or (852) 3442 0311].

To apply, please submit an online application at <http://jobs.cityu.edu.hk>, and include a current curriculum vitae. Applications received by 15 April 2018 will receive full consideration. Only shortlisted applicants will be contacted; and those shortlisted for the post of Assistant Professor will be requested to arrange for at least 3 reference reports sent directly by the referees to the Department, specifying the position applied for. The University's privacy policy is available on the homepage.

City University of Hong Kong is an equal opportunity employer and we are committed to the principle of diversity. Personal data provided by applicants will be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes.

Worldwide recognition ranking 49th, and 4th among top 50 universities under age 50 (QS survey 2018); 1st in Engineering/Technology/Computer Sciences in Hong Kong (ARWU survey 2016); and 2nd Business School in Asia-Pacific region (UT Dallas survey 2016).

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 4/15/2018

Date Posted: 2/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4025

Ohio State University

Rank: Postdoc Position at The Ohio State University, Department of Sociology, Columbus, Ohio USA

Date Available: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: March 4, 2018

Application Listing Active: Until March 4, 2018

Company: The Ohio State University

Department: Dept. of Sociology

Region: Mid-West

Title: Postdoctoral Researcher

Job Position/Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher

Tenure/Tenure Track: Not Tenure Track

Areas of Faculty Expertise: Social Science Methodology; Quantitative Methodology

Salary Range: $47,500-$50,000

Application Submission: <https://www.jobsatosu.com/postings/84369>

The Department of Sociology, within the College of Arts and Sciences, seeks a Postdoctoral Researcher to join our team. The College of Arts and Sciences is the largest college and the academic heart of the university. The College hosts 81 majors. With 38 departments, 20+ world-class research centers, and more than 2,000 faculty and staff members, students have the unique opportunity to study with the best artists, scholars, and scientists in their field. The College values diversity and offers a supportive, open, and inclusive community.

This position is centered on the collaborative research project &quot;Survey Data Recycling: New Analytic Framework, Integrated Database, and Tools for Cross-national Social, Behavioral and Economic Research.&quot; The SDR Project is funded by the National Science Foundation to develop theory-informed 'big data' for the social sciences containing information from harmonized extent survey and non-survey sources, metadata for survey quality, and harmonization process metadata for comparative cross-national research (see <https://dataharmonization.org/> and <https://dataverse.harvard.edu/dataverse/sdr>). SDR is a collaboration between the Department of Sociology and the Merston Center for International Security Studies at The Ohio State University and the Institute of Philosophy and Sociology at the Polish Academy of Sciences (IFiS PAN) in Warsaw, Poland.

We seek a postdoctoral researcher with a PhD in sociology, political science, psychology, economics, public policy or another social science with strong quantitative methodological training and interests. The researcher will work with the three PIs (Craig Jenkins, Irina Tomescu-Dubrow and Kazimierz M. Slomczynski) and other members of the SDR team to develop research, publications and publicity for the project's products.

Specific duties will include:

- advanced statistical analyses of the SDR database addressing both substantive and methodological research questions;
- developing the methodology for measuring source survey quality and harmonization quality; coordinating with PIs and SDR Research Assistants;
- participation the project's international workshop (Year 2, Warsaw Poland); and
- publishing in international peer-reviewed outlets; and disseminating research at scientific meetings and social media outreach (including the Harmonization Newsletter).

Position available beginning Fall 2018 for one year with the possibility of renewal for a second year dependent upon satisfactory performance and availability of funding. In addition to salary, the position includes a $2,000 professional travel allowance. US citizens and non-US citizens may apply.

We offer an opportunity to work on a highly innovative international, interdisciplinary research project with considerable collaboration and joint publication. If desired, limited teaching through guest lectures on suitable courses can be arranged. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

Qualifications:

Candidates must have completed a PhD in Sociology, Political Science or a related field required by fall 2018 and experience conducting, analyzing, writing up, and presenting research in Sociology, Political Science, Psychology, Economics, Public Policy or another social science field with strong quantitative methodological training. Candidates should have experience with statistical methods for cross-national survey research, including multi-level modeling and structural equation modeling; fluency in Stata or R, interest and willingness to engage in interdisciplinary research and flexibility to work well independently and in an international team.

Application Instructions:

Applications should be submitted via <https://www.jobsatosu.com/postings/84369>. They should include: an interest letter describing the applicant's own research interests and how they relate to the SDR project (max. 6000 characters); a CV including a list of publications and manuscripts under review; a scientific publication (either an article in peer-reviewed journal or a chapter in a monograph released by prestigious publishing house; if the publication is co-authored, the applicant should be the lead author); and a transcript showing that all requirements for the PhD have been completed or a letter from the adviser as to the schedule for completion. In addition, two letters of reference should be submitted to sociology@osu.edu by March 4, 2018.

Questions about this position should be directed to Craig Jenkins (jenkins.12@osu.edu), Irina Tomescu-Dubrow (tomescu.1@osu.edu), and Kazimierz M. Slomczynski (slomczynski.1@osu.edu).

Applications must be submitted by March 4, 2018.

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status. This is a benefits eligible position.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/4/2018

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4020

Colgate University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor (2 positions)

The Peace and Conflict Studies Program at Colgate University (PCON) seeks two visiting assistant professors for one-year appointments, beginning fall semester 2018. The successful candidates will have expertise in issues of broad concern to the field of peace and conflict studies, including but not limited to regional or transnational conflict, gendered, ethnic or religious conflict, conflict over resources, post-conflict societies, cybersecurity, Artificial Intelligence, terrorism, or human rights. Candidates may have expertise, including fieldwork, in any geographical area. We welcome applicants with disciplinary training in sociology, anthropology, political science, international relations, international studies, history, or geography. Completion of Ph.D. is expected prior to or shortly after July 1, 2018.

Successful candidates will teach at all levels of the program and should possess a demonstrated ability to teach the Introduction to Peace and Conflict Studies (PCON 111), as well as one of the following: Practices of Peace and Conflict (PCON 218) or Theories of Peace and Conflict (PCON 225). Candidates, in their cover letters, should also indicate which of the current PCON elective courses they are prepared to offer. Please consult the PCON website at <http://colgate.edu/academics/departments-and-programs/peace-and-conflict-studies> for more information on the program and its course offerings. Successful candidates will have the opportunity to contribute to program activities, including lectures, workshops, and events that support faculty scholarship. They may also be asked to contribute courses to the university's Liberal Arts Core Curriculum.

A letter of application, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample of less than thirty pages should be submitted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10817>. Review of applications will begin on February 28, 2018 and continue until both positions are filled.

Colgate strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their approach to teaching might support the university's commitment to diversity and inclusion.

It is the policy of Colgate University not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment on the basis of their race, color, creed, religion, age, sex, pregnancy, national origin, marital status, disability, protected Veteran status, sexual orientation and gender identity and expression, genetic information, victims of domestic violence and stalking, familial status, and all other categories covered by law. Colgate University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, women, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Founded in 1970, the PCON program is among the most dynamic at Colgate, attracting excellent students who are interested in the wider world and the program's emphasis on theory and practice. The program is explicitly inter-disciplinary, drawing on faculty from departments across the university. Visiting Assistant Professors will be housed within the PCON program itself. Colgate University is a highly selective, residential liberal arts university situated in central New York State. Its faculty practice excellence in teaching and scholarship.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/5/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4014

Rice University

Rank: Zwan Postdoctoral Fellow

Rice University's Baker Institute for Public Policy and Boniuk Institute for Religious Tolerance invites applications for the Zwan postdoctoral fellowship beginning fall 2018. The successful candidate will hold a joint appointment with both institutes, and work closely with scholars from the two Institutes, Rice departments, and other research units on campus to pursue his/her research agenda and support research on religion and politics.

The Zwan Fellow will provide specialized knowledge, research support and management needed to oversee research projects conducted by the Baker Institute's Center for the Middle East and Boniuk Institute for Religious Tolerance. This position will be responsible for creating original substantive research and coordinating researchers, staff and programs for a two-year project on religion and politics in the Middle East.

All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://jobs.rice.edu/postings/12699>

Equal Opportunity Employer – Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/5/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4016

Centenary College of Louisiana

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Centenary College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the Assistant Professor level in the Department of History and Political Science, starting 1 August 2018. Candidates should be broadly trained in Comparative Politics and International Relations, and prepared to teach a range of introductory, upper division, and core departmental classes such as Research Methods and the capstone Senior Seminar. The Ph.D. in hand by time of start date, strong teaching skills, and a commitment to scholarship are required. The standard teaching load is six courses per year, with some opportunity to teach in immersive May and August terms, and to participate in college-wide programs such as the first year experience (TREK) and Centenary in Paris.

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective, residential, national liberal arts college affiliated with the United Methodist Church. Founded in 1825, it is the oldest chartered liberal arts college west of the Mississippi river and is a member of the Associated Colleges of the South.

To apply, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts from all institutions of higher learning, sample course syllabi, and three letters of recommendation to hr@centenary.edu or to:

Political Science Search Committee
c/o Director of Human Resources
Centenary College of Louisiana
2911 Centenary Boulevard
Shreveport, LA 71104

Review of applications will begin on February 5 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3947

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Diversity Predoctoral Fellowship

2018-2019 Diversity Predoctoral Fellowships

The School of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences, Massachusetts Institute of Technology invites applications for the 2018-2019 Diversity Predoctoral Fellowships.

The purpose of the Diversity Predoctoral Fellowships program is to enhance diversity in the School and to provide the Fellow with additional professional support and mentoring as they enter the field.

The fellowships are intended to support scholars from a wide range of backgrounds, who can contribute to the diversity of SHASS and the higher education community. Applicants from members of racial and ethnic groups that have historically been underrepresented in the humanities and social sciences and from disadvantaged backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

These Fellowships support graduate scholars for a 9-month appointment at MIT that generally runs from September through May. They offer an opportunity for scholars who plan a career in higher education and have completed all other PhD requirements to finish their dissertations with access to libraries and faculty of the School. Fellows may be pursuing the PhD degree in any discipline or area taught in the School of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences. Current fields of study can be viewed on the MIT SHASS website <http://shass.mit.edu/fields>. Each Fellow will be affiliated with a department or program in the School. Fellows will not be required to teach while at MIT.

This year up to ten Fellowships will be awarded. Each Fellowship provides a stipend of $37,500, office area, and library privileges.

In order to qualify for this Fellowship candidates must be:

- Authorized to work in the United States.
- Enrolled in a PhD program in the humanities or social sciences at an accredited institution other than MIT.
- o Have passed their PhD qualifying examinations
- o Have an approved dissertation proposal
- Be a student of exceptional academic merit who belongs to a group underrepresented in higher education or who comes from a disadvantaged background.

Applications consist of:

- A personal statement of no more than 1,000 words, which mentions:
  - o The academic unit (or units) within SHASS that the student wishes to be affiliated with.
  - o A description of the student's dissertation, which addresses the dissertation's aim, methodologies (how the student will conduct the research), originality, and contribution to its field.
  - o Any additional information that the student would like to present to the selection committee.

- Current curriculum vitae.
- Transcript.
- Three letters of recommendation.
- One chapter of the dissertation.

All applications and attached materials are due no later than Thursday, February 15, 2018, at 11:59 p.m. EST. Late applications will not be considered.

These materials should be sent to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajol/jobs/10722>.

Questions can be addressed to the SHASS Dean's office at predocshass@mit.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/15/2018

Date Posted: 1/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3946

Brigham Young University

Rank: Political Science Adjunct Faculty

The Brigham Young University Political Science Department seeks applications from well-qualified candidates to teach one political science course in spring and/or summer term, 2018.

To apply, please visit yjobs.byu.edu and search for "Political Science - Adjunct Faculty" (Job ID 68826).

BYU is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 3/31/2018

Date Posted: 1/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3919

Brigham Young University

Rank: Visiting Faculty

The Department of Political Science seeks applications from well-qualified candidates for a full-time visiting faculty position. Candidates should have a completed Ph.D. in any area of political science by the time the appointment begins in Fall 2018.

The visiting appointment will begin in Fall 2018.

Successful candidates will have a strong research agenda, demonstrate potential for high-quality teaching, and be committed to giving the university's students a sound academic experience.

Rank is open. Salary, teaching load, and research and travel support are competitive.

BYU, an equal opportunity employer, requires all faculty to observe the university's Honor Code and Dress & Grooming Standards.

To apply, please go to yjobs.byu.edu and search for Political Science Visiting Faculty (Job ID 68890). Review of applicants will begin immediately.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/15/2018

Date Posted: 1/4/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3918

University of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor – Human Rights, Peace, and Justice in Latin America

The Center for Latin American Studies at the University of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with a teaching and research focus on questions of human rights, transitional justice, peace and conflict/post-conflict, and related fields. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work addresses how these areas are interconnected. We seek applicants with superior promise who combine rigorous scholarship with excellence in teaching, and who can contribute to one or more of the Center's interdisciplinary research and training initiatives. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to work collaboratively across disciplinary boundaries with faculty and students from diverse backgrounds and perspectives. We strongly encourage applicants from historically underrepresented groups in the profession. Candidates should have their Ph.D. in hand or near completion at the time of hiring. The successful candidate will hold a full-time appointment in the Center and will report to the Director of the Center for Latin American Studies.

The UF Center for Latin American Studies is the oldest and one of the largest Latin American Studies programs in the United States. The Latin American program was formed in the 1930s and renamed the Center for Latin American Studies in 1963. It was among the first institutions in the country to be designated a National Resource Center by the U.S. Department of Education (USDE) and to receive assistance through fellowships and the USDE's Title VI program. Today, the Center is ranked among the best in the world, and UF libraries host a world-class collection of Latin American and Caribbean materials. Students can choose from among 350 Latin American and Caribbean area and language courses routinely offered by 50 departments at UF.

The Center offers a Masters of Arts in Latin American Studies (MALAS), a Masters of Arts in Sustainable Development Practice (MDP), graduate and undergraduate certificates, an undergraduate minor, and a joint law degree. The Center is linked to departments with strong PhD programs across campus. More information about the Center can be found at: <http://www.latam.ufl.edu/>.

Applications must be submitted on-line at <http://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/cw/en-us/job/505836/assistant-professor-human-rights-peace-and-justice-in-latin-america> and must include a letter of application, CV, a writing sample, a research statement, evidence of teaching excellence and accomplishments, and samples of peer or student teaching evaluations (as available). In addition, names and email address for three references must be provided on the application. An email will be sent automatically to your references, requesting them to upload their letter. The committee will begin reviewing applications February 15, 2018. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the Committee and/or hiring authority.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

The final candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an education institution outside of the United States are required to be evaluated by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at <http://www.naces.org/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3916

University of Alabama, Huntsville

Rank: Dean

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA IN HUNTSVILLE

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS, HUMANITIES, AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

The University of Alabama in Huntsville invites applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences (CAHS). The Dean serves as the chief academic, administrative, and fiscal officer for the College and reports to the Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Dean provides leadership to advance the College's mission and realize its strategic plan. He or she fosters outstanding teaching, student learning, and persistence to graduation; scholarly and creative works; and service to the university, the community, and the profession. The Dean is responsible for all day-to-day activities of the College, including curriculum development, faculty recruitment and evaluation, planning, and budget.

Qualifications: Candidates for the position of CAHS Dean must hold a Ph.D. or appropriate terminal degree from an accredited institution, as well as academic and scholarly accomplishments meriting appointment to the rank of professor with tenure in an academic department within the College.

The CAHS Dean shall nurture a vibrant intellectual environment that encourages student and faculty success, research and creative achievement, community engagement, and collaboration. The ideal candidate will be able to

- advance enrollment, student retention, and persistence to graduation
- build working relationships between students, faculty, staff, alumni and other UAH colleges and divisions
- promote excellence in teaching, learning, and student success
- demonstrate a record of successful administrative experience and leadership in higher education that includes collaborative leadership, effective fiscal management, and development
- display excellent communication and interpersonal skills
- champion diversity among faculty and students

College: The College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences (CAHS) at UAH comprises 10 departments and 75 full-time faculty. It offers undergraduate degrees in Art History, Art Studio, Communications Arts, English, History, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, Theatre, World Languages and Cultures, and Writing, along with graduate programs in English, History, Psychology, Professional Communications, and Public Affairs. CAHS plays a key role in Charger Foundations, the University's general education curriculum, and participates in multiple interdisciplinary minors or programs, including Ancient and Medieval Studies, Game Production, Global Studies, Latin American Studies, Public History, Web Communications, and Women's and Gender Studies. CAHS houses the Humanities Center, an NEH-funded endowment that promotes research and public discussions by funding eminent scholars, scholarly presentations, library enhancement, workshops, and faculty research and travel.

The University: UAH offers 85 degree-granting programs that meet the highest standards of excellence, including 41 bachelor's, 29 master's, and 15 doctoral degree programs through its seven Academic Colleges -- Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences; Business; Education; Engineering; Nursing; Professional and Continuing Studies; and Science as well as the Graduate School. The UAH Honors College blends traditional emphasis on arts and sciences and critical thinking with a practical, career-oriented education. Since 2008, the University has undertaken more than $160 million in new construction. The University is implementing new strategic and campus master plans that plot a clear vision for our future. For more information on the strategic plan, visit <http://www.uah.edu/president/strategic-plan>. Total UAH enrollment is approximately 9,100, including approximately 2,000 graduate students. The undergraduate class is made up of 42% women and 58% men. The UAH 2017 freshman class scored an average of 27.9 on the ACT examination, the best of Alabama's public universities. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching rates UAH as a "high" research activity institution.

UAH tops many lists. It is number one in Alabama both for early career pay after graduation and for the economic outcome of its graduates. U.S. News and World Report ranks UAH as a Tier 1 university where students are "eager to enroll" and touts UAH as the number one return on investment in Alabama for both in-state and out-of-state students. UAH is ranked Alabama's second most affordable college for incoming freshmen with financial need.

UAH is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. Numerous departments and programs also hold accreditation or certification from professional associations, including the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, the National Association of Schools of Art and Design, and the National Association of Schools of Music.

The Greater Huntsville Community: Located in the Tennessee Valley of Northern Alabama, Huntsville is the home of NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center where the first rockets to take Americans to the moon were designed and built. Huntsville has an international reputation as a high tech center with ties to NASA, the Army's Redstone Arsenal, and major government and private research organizations. UAH is the anchor tenant of Cummings Research Park, the second largest university-related research park in the United States, and home to approximately 300 companies.

The population of the Huntsville metropolitan area is over 400,000 and is the fastest growing area in the state. The Huntsville community is recognized nationally for its strong economy and high levels of educational attainment, with public schools that are among the best in the nation. The Wall Street Journal named it among the nation's "New Silicon Cities" and Southern Living referred to Huntsville as among the best college towns in the South. MoveHub recently described Huntsville as one of the 20 most "hip" cities in the U.S. We are number four on the list of cities with the lowest cost of living, one of the top seventeen most affordable U.S. cities, number twenty-seven on the list of most educated cities in America, and number three on the list of best mid-size cities to make a living in the U.S.

In addition to its diversified high-tech economy, Huntsville offers abundant outdoor activities, is rich in cultural and recreational activities and has a thriving music and arts scene. The College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences plays an integral role in this cultural fabric. There are collaborative efforts with the professional symphony orchestra, a renowned community chorus, a world-class community concerts series, and several theatre and arts organizations. Within the college, there is a strong commitment to community service. Huntsville is also the home to America's largest independent center for the arts, housed in the historic Lowe Mill. For more information on the Greater Huntsville Community, visit <http://www.huntsvillealabamusa.com>.

Applicants should submit a cover letter describing professional experience as it relates to the requirements of the position; a current resume/curriculum vita; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers and email addresses of five references. Please send the application to search.cahsdean@uah.edu. For additional information or questions please contact William Wilkerson, Dean of the Honors College and Chair of the Search Committee at William.wilkerson@uah.edu or Peggy Bower, Search Committee Support at bowerp@uah.edu. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by January 31, 2018, although applications will be received until the position is filled.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities, females, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Please refer to log number: 18/19-349

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/3/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3914

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Center for the Study of Contemporary China (<http://cscs.sas.upenn.edu/>) at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications to fill two postdoctoral fellowship positions for the 2018-2019 academic year. Applications are welcomed from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 30, 2018.

The CSCC postdoctoral fellowships support research on all aspects of contemporary China that fall within the broad mission of the CSCC -- to advance Penn's leadership in programs, research, and scholarship about the political, legal, economic, and social factors shaping China and its role in the world today. The Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at Penn engaged in work pertaining to contemporary China. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and a speaker series.

Fellows at the CSCC will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because fellows are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of the University of Pennsylvania. Each fellow receives a stipend of $48,000, a $2500 research fund, and health insurance.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AA employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. CSCC starts to accept application on December 1, 2017. Applications will be reviewed starting March 1, 2018. To receive full consideration, your application should be received by that date. Applicants will be notified of the outcome in early April, 2018. To apply, please send a C.V., a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to cscc-contact@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3896

Yale University

Rank: Mars Fellow in Business Ethics

Yale University's Mars Brothers Interdisciplinary Program on Business Ethics seeks postdoctoral fellows for 2018-2019 from relevant disciplines (philosophy, business, economics, political science, sociology, psychology). Fellowships are for one year, renewable to two at a salary of $60,000 with health benefits. In addition to performing research under the supervision of Program faculty, Fellows will teach one seminar, be available to meet undergraduates of the Ethics, Politics, and Economics major, assist with senior essays, and help to organize and run a workshop series of 4-6 visitors a year. Applicants should have completed PhD requirements by September 2018. Mentoring of the fellows will draw on the established strengths of Yale's interdisciplinary faculty, beginning with the faculty of the Ethics, Politics, and Economics interdisciplinary undergraduate major.

Please submit a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, draft syllabus, and the names of two recommenders whom we will contact separately, online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47996>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2018. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications until the position has been filled. Please direct inquiries to Frances Rosenbluth, Director of Ethics, Politics and Economics, frances.rosenbluth@yale.edu.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and under-represented minorities are particularly welcome.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3897

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Lecturer

University of North Carolina at Charlotte
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Permanent Lecturer Position

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte Department of Political Science and Public Administration invites applications for an open-field permanent Lecturer position in Political Science. Required qualifications include: Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; excellent teaching ability; and a commitment to teaching in a diverse environment. Candidates with prior teaching experience and the ability to teach a broad array of introductory classes are preferred, as is the ability to teach undergraduate research methods. The nine-month non-tenure track position begins Fall 2018.

The 4-4 load will include teaching two sections per year of LBST 2301 Critical Thinking and Communication, a new general education requirement, in addition to courses in the major. The Critical Thinking course topic is at the discretion of the instructor, though the small classes will emphasize communicating in the political science discipline.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers an M.P.A., B.A., and a minor. It has 26 full-time faculty members. Many participate in one or more interdisciplinary programs, including the Public Policy Ph.D. program, Latin American Studies, Women's and Gender Studies, and Africana Studies.

Review of applications will begin January 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications must be submitted electronically to <https://jobs.uncc.edu>. Please attach the following documents with your electronic application: (1) letter of application outlining your teaching philosophy, including teaching experience, related to the qualifications outlined above; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) a copy of graduate transcript; and (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness. In addition, three letters of recommendation should be sent either electronically in PDF format or by regular mail. All letters must be addressed to John Szmer, Lecturer Search Committee Chair, Political Science & Public Administration, UNC Charlotte, 9201 University City Blvd, Charlotte, NC 28223 or jjszmer@uncc.edu. Any questions should be directed to Dr. Szmer.

Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching.

UNC Charlotte is a rapidly growing doctoral-granting urban university located in the largest metropolitan area between Washington DC, and Atlanta. The University is a Carnegie Foundation Community Engagement campus. Close to 29,000 culturally diverse students currently are enrolled at the University. As the largest college at UNC Charlotte, the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences houses 20 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, and natural sciences, as well as 25 applied research centers and interdisciplinary programs. It offers eight doctoral degrees, 36 master's degrees and graduate certificates, and 32 undergraduate degrees.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is an AA/EOE and an ADVANCE Institution that strives to create an academic climate in which the dignity of all individuals is respected and maintained. It values diversity that includes, but is not limited to ability/disability, age, culture, ethnicity, gender, language, race, religion, sexual orientation, and socio-economic status. Applicants will be subject to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3885

American University in Cairo

Rank: Political Economy

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a five-year fixed term contract position in Political Economy with emphasis on the International Political Economy and Political Economy of MENA region, at the Assistant or Associate Professor level beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on Introduction to Political Economy, Theory and History of Political Economy, Political Economy in the Middle East and North Africa and International Political Economy & Political Economy of Egypt. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by February 1st, 2018. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V.; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu); Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3866

Yale University

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship in Political Economy, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The MacMillan Center, Yale University

The Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy at Yale invites applications for a post-doctoral position for AY 2018-2019. Candidates must have a robust research program in political economy, broadly construed, and must have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

The post-doctoral fellow will teach one course during the year, either in the Fall or the Spring semester, pursue his/her own research, and participate in the activities of the Leitner program. Fellows are expected to be in residence from August 2018 to May 2019.

We will begin accepting applications immediately with review beginning on Friday, December 15, 2017 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Compensation is competitive, and includes benefits and health coverage. We expect to be able to cover a junior scholar's salary for the full academic year and up to half of a senior scholar's salary. Senior scholars who will be taking leave from their home institution to accept the fellowship should indicate salary requirements and whether they expect to receive salary support from their university or outside sources.

To apply, send a cover letter, CV, research statement and a draft of a syllabus of a course you propose to teach at Yale. You'll also need to have three letters of recommendation submitted on your behalf.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46617>

Ms. Hira Jafri, Program Manager, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: hira.jafri@yale.edu. For details on the Leitner program, please consult the website: <http://www.yale.edu/leitner>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3851

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Politics and Fellow, Center for the Study of Statesmanship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Defense, Religion & Politics

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall of 2018. This appointment is to be combined with a research appointment at the Center for the Study of Statesmanship (CSS). As a CSS Fellow the appointee will have a reduced teaching load. Although the appointment is likely to be made at a junior rank, more senior applicants will be considered.

The search is not confined to a particular field, but we are especially interested in scholars in foreign policy, international relations, or national security, or some combination thereof, who are able to place world politics in a philosophical, historical or cultural context. A background in political theory, the history of ideas or American constitutionalism is desirable. Candidates who are alert to the moral and religious dimensions of their areas of expertise are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major with many distinguished alumni and a strong MA and PhD program with graduates on numerous college and university faculties in America and abroad.

Established in the spring of 2017, CSS explores the meaning of statesmanship and how it can defuse conflict and foster respectful foreign and domestic relations. Administratively, CSS is independent of the Department of Politics and under the University Provost. To learn more about the Center and its research orientation candidates may go to the CSS website: <https://css.cua.edu>

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, departmental chair, at coyle@cua.edu and/or Dr. William S. Smith, managing director of CSS, at smithws@cua.edu. Review of applications will begin January 10 and continue until the position is filled.

Catholic University seeks candidates who are supportive of the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a CV, and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one-to-two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will contribute to the University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found at: http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html.

Official transcripts or verification of degrees will be required before any offer is made. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3843

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for the 2018-19 academic year for a 12-month appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2018. The position is open to a scholar who would be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The ideal applicant will have received a Ph.D. within the past three years and studies aspects of contemporary Chinese society from a social science disciplinary perspective. He/she will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Applicants must apply online at :<https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/4781> (D-18-PII-00004)

Applications should include:

1. A cover letter
2. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. Contact information for two references
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3765

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: RESEARCH PROFESSOR

http://careers.umich.edu/job\_detail/149488/research\_professor

Institute for Social Research Research Professor Track Social Science

The University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research (ISR) is seeking candidates for an open-rank appointment in the research professor track, with the potential for a joint appointment in a tenure-track position in another University of Michigan school or college. ISR seeks to recruit outstanding researchers with interests related to racial, ethnic, gender, and/or socioeconomic inequality.

The Institute for Social Research, founded in 1949, is one of the world's leading interdisciplinary social science research institutions. ISR's five research centers – Center for Political Studies, Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research, Population Studies Center, Research Center for Group Dynamics, and Survey Research Center – span a wide range of disciplines and methodological approaches. Research faculty positions in ISR include 100% ISR appointments as well as joint appointments with many departments and colleges across the university. For more information about ISR, please visit our web site: <http://home.isr.umich.edu/>

Potential units for joint appointments for this position include the School of Social Work, the School of Information, the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy, the School of Public Health, or social science departments within the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. Disciplinary background of applicants could be in any of several areas of relevance, including, for example, economics, education, political science, psychology, public health, social work, sociology, or statistics.

Required Qualifications*

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in a social science or related field by the time the position begins.

Senior candidates should demonstrate experience and success with externally-funded research, along with a national reputation and strong publication record.

How to Apply: Review of submitted credentials will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. All candidates should submit the following materials electronically to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/46573>

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Three representative research papers or publications

Statement of current and future research plans

Statement of teaching experience

Junior candidates (new and recent PhDs): Three letters of recommendation

Senior candidates: Names of three references (letters will be solicited separately)

Additional Information

The Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the diverse people of Michigan, to maintain the excellence of the university, and to ground our research in varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples and is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

U-M EEO/AA Statement

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/8/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3755

New College of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor (open field) in Migration Studies

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor focusing on Migration Studies. This position is open with regard to field of Ph.D, and the appointment will be in that field with the opportunity of a joint appointment in another field or interdisciplinary program. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in a relevant discipline, teaching experience, a career interest in liberal arts education, and a vibrant research agenda. The person filling this line will be expected to teach courses on migration and build and coordinate interdisciplinary initiatives related to this subject, as well as contribute to the curriculum in the field of appointment. Experience using and teaching GIS and a willingness to guide students in developing GIS research skills is highly valued. The candidate must have completed the Ph.D. by the start of employment in August 2018.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis or project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. We are committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourage collaborative student-faculty scholarship. The teaching load is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. Faculty members also provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior theses, and serve on baccalaureate committees. Professors are expected to maintain a program of research or creative work. We are particularly interested in candidates with a commitment to innovative undergraduate liberal arts teaching.

Candidates should apply on-line at <https://www.ncf.edu/employment> and upload the following: a cover letter; c.v.; statements regarding teaching philosophy, the candidate's contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment, and research interests; syllabi; teaching evaluations; one writing sample (article or chapter length); and unofficial graduate transcript(s). In addition, please ask at least three references to send signed letters on letterhead electronically to MigrationSearch@ncf.edu or in hard copy to: Migration Search, Division of Social Sciences, New College of Florida, 5800 Bay Shore Rd, Sarasota, FL 34243. According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. For questions about the application process, please contact Ms. Kristi Fecteau at kfecteau@ncf.edu. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/2/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3551

Purdue University

Rank: Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Purdue University seeks applications for a tenured full professor with the area of expertise open. The position will start in August 2018.

The successful candidate will have an excellent record of research and teaching in any subfield of political science. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to one or more of the department's cross-cutting research areas in the politics of groups and identities; environmental politics and policy; and human security and political violence. Desired qualifications include a record of attracting external funding; teaching excellence; and a commitment to diversity and inclusion. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a related discipline is required. Credentials commensurate with a full professor are required. A successful candidate is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate level courses.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive institution and a public land-grant university. The Political Science Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Peace Studies, Asian Studies, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Many faculty hold joint appointments or affiliations with other departments and programs, including Communication, African American Studies, Civil Engineering, Industrial Engineering, and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. The department offers graduate certificates in Social Policy and Environmental Policy to students across campus and anticipates developing a professional master's program in public policy. The department is also home to the director of the award-winning C-SPAN Archives, located at the Purdue Research Park.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to Ms. Annie Wheeldon at politicalscience@purdue.edu. Applications should include a letter discussing the applicant's interest in the position and a curriculum vitae. Letters of recommendation may be requested at a later date.

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these in their cover letter, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin November 1, 2017, and continue until the position is filled. Please address questions to search committee chair Dr. S. Laurel Weldon, weldons@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/7/2017

Date Posted: 9/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3460

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3313

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017

Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3314

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Defense, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of several interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire one tenure-track assistant or associate professor for the UCF cyber security and privacy cluster. This position has a start date of August 8, 2018.

This will be an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department, as well as a possible combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved.) Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. All relevant technical areas will be considered. We are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) hardware and IoT security, (b) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (c) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster at the time of appointment, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The position will carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 64,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about UCF at <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty>.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/50404> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter, candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmittal to update applications.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eeo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about this position, please contact the Cluster's Search Committee Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3019

POLITICAL THEORY

University of Virginia

Rank: DeOlazarra Research Associates

The University of Virginia's program in Political Philosophy, Policy & Law (PPL) invites applications for possibly two full-time DeOlazarra Research Associates for the academic year beginning August 25, 2018, renewable for a second academic year. Renewals are subject to availability of funding and performance. Compensation will take the form of salary and benefits. Applicants must specialize in contemporary political theory/philosophy, particularly as it applies to the evaluation of important issues in public policy. A background in jurisprudence or legal theory is also desirable. PPL is a selective interdisciplinary undergraduate major in which fourth year students develop substantial research projects in the context of a capstone seminar. The research associate will preside over this seminar during the spring semester as well as teach one fall semester course in his or her area of interest. Applicants for this position must be on track to complete their PhD degree by May 31, 2018, and candidates are required to have earned their degrees by August 1, 2018. Candidates must combine strong research potential with commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching.

To apply, please complete a Candidate Profile online through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>), and electronically attach the following: a current CV, cover letter, statement of teaching, unofficial transcript, writing sample, and provide contact information for three (3) references. Search on posting 0622576.

Priority consideration will be given to applications received by April 15, 2018; however, the position will remain open until filled.

Questions regarding the position should be directed to:

Dr. Colin Bird
434-924-3615
colinbird@virginia.edu

Questions regarding the application process or Jobs@UVA should be directed to:

Bonnie Bragg

434-924-3603
bb6a@virginia.edu

U.Va. will perform background checks including receipt of official transcripts from the institution granting the highest degree for all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4067

University of Redlands

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Theory, Latino Politics, African American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Candidates with interests in political theory, politics and race, and public policy (and especially those with an interest in bridging those fields in their teaching and research) are especially encouraged to apply. The standard six-course load for the position will be distributed across fall, spring and May terms according to the candidate's interests.

The department especially welcomes applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position. Candidates who apply are asked to identify their strengths and experiences in assisting diverse student populations to accomplish curricular goals.

The University of Redlands is a private, comprehensive liberal arts institution located 60 miles east of Los Angeles in a town of 70,000. The campus is surrounded by orange groves and sits at the base of the San Bernardino Mountains, one hour from the coast, and 40 miles west of Palm Springs. Information about the University and its mission and facilities is available at www.redlands.edu.

Required and Desired Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Evidence of success at college teaching and an ability to work in a collaborative, team-based environment are desired.

INQUIRIES: Candidates may contact search committee chair Steve Wuhs at steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu with additional questions or concerns.

TO APPLY : Please submit the following to apply@redlands.edu: a cover letter, current CV, evidence of teaching and research excellence, and three letters of reference. Applications packets must be received by March 15, 2018 to ensure consideration for the position.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN.

MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/15/2018
Date Posted: 2/22/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4061

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2018-2019

Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2018-2019. Offered by the Program on Constitutional Government, Harvard University - Harvey Mansfield, Director. The Program on Constitutional Government in the Center for American Political Studies and the FAS Department of Government at Harvard University will offer one postdoctoral fellowship for the 2018-2019 academic year. The stipend is $55,000. Applicants must have received their doctorates no earlier than spring 2015 and no later than June 2018. They should have a record of teaching and writing in the fields of political theory or American government and politics, with an emphasis on the theoretical foundations or institutional and political consequences of the American Constitution. A cover letter, resume, research proposal, and brief writing sample with names of two references should be sent in that order as one pdf document, labeled as such: Last Name, First Name – PCG Postdoc app 2018-19. Applications and any questions should be directed to Laura Donaldson at ldonaldson@fas.harvard.edu. The application review process will begin on May 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 5/1/2018
Date Posted: 2/15/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 4046

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Political Theory (open to all specializations) at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2018. The applicant will teach three undergraduate courses per semester (two course preparations per semester). The courses are expected to be two sections each semester of an introductory class in political theory (sophomore level, writing intensive), an upper-division theory course (typically ancient, modern, or contemporary theory; junior and senior level) in the fall semester, and an upper division elective on a topic of the applicant's choosing in the spring semester. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department's mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens.

Loyola Marymount, a comprehensive Catholic university in the mainstream of American higher education, seeks professionally outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to academic excellence, the education of the whole person, the service of faith and the promotion of justice. LMU is an equal opportunity institution actively working to promote an intercultural learning community. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. (Visit www.lmu.edu for more information.)

Loyola Marymount has a strong commitment to diversity, broadly defined, and therefore encourages applicants that enhance the racial diversity of the department; who are committed to working within a diverse campus community; and who are enthusiastic about working in an institution where minority and women faculty can thrive.

The application requires: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU's mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, sample syllabi, and evidence of teaching effectiveness; 4) a scholarly writing sample (article length, no more than 30 pages); and 5) three letters of recommendation. Candidate materials should be emailed together as a complete package (in PDF format) to: M.J. Cho at POLJobs@lmu.edu. Three letters of recommendation should be scanned and signed by the recommenders and emailed by the recommender directly to M.J. Cho: POLJobs@lmu.edu. Please direct questions to M.J. Cho at the above address. Only electronic applications will be considered. We will begin reviewing applications on March 1, 2018; the position will be open until filled.

Candidates with a Ph.D. are preferred; ABD applications who will have completed the doctorate by Fall 2018 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/14/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4045

Cornell College

Rank: Full-time Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics
Specializations: American Politics, Political Parties & Organizations, United States

The Department of Politics invites applications for a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position in American politics for the 2018-2019 academic year. This position may change to tenure-track in the following year.

Teaching load is 6 classes over the course of the year: three sections of introductory American Politics and one section each of Campaigns and Elections, Media and Politics, and Political Parties and Organized Interests. A candidate with appropriate training and/or experience could substitute a course in Constitutional Law for Political Parties and Organized Interests course.

Qualifications: MA in Political Science or a closely related discipline is required, Ph.D. or ABD preferred.

The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Cornell College is a selective liberal arts college distinguished by its One Course At A Time curriculum, which allows students to learn at the speed of life with more opportunities for off-campus study, full-time internships, and research blocks.

Academic immersion and unparalleled flexibility attract an ambitious student body from 45 states and 18 foreign countries. External endorsements include selection as one of the Colleges That Change Lives, a U.S. News Top 100 liberal arts college, and a Fiske Guide to Colleges Best Buy. Founded in 1853, Cornell's picturesque hilltop campus contains a mix of historic and modern facilities, ranging from the majestic King Chapel to the newly renovated Thomas Commons. It is located in Mount Vernon, Iowa, an urban fringe community recognized by Frommer's as one of "America's Coolest Small Towns" and located in the heart of Iowa's Creative Corridor.

All qualified and interested applicants must submit the following application material through Cornell's online application system (<https://cornellcollege.applicantpro.com/jobs/718039.html>).

- Letter of Application/Cover Letter
- Current Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- Sample Syllabus (if available) and evidence of teaching success
- Teaching Statement - describing teaching interests and methods, including examples of individual commitment to diversity in the classroom/campus community
- Research/Professional Interest Statement
- A list of three (3) Professional References (Letters of recommendation will be requested from selected candidates at a later date.)
- Undergraduate and Graduate Transcripts (Unofficial copies are acceptable. Official transcripts are needed prior to employment.)

Applications received by February 26, 2018 will receive full consideration, with later applications reviewed if necessary. Please direct any questions regarding the application or search process to Search Committee Chair, Dr. David Yamanishi at dyamanishi@cornellcollege.edu

For more information about the Politics program, please visit the website at

<https://www.cornellcollege.edu/politics/faculty/index.shtml>

Cornell is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from underrepresented groups. Cornell complies with Iowa's Smoke-Free Air Act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4032

Emory University

Rank: Marcus Foundation Post-Doctoral Fellow

Post-Doctoral Fellow – Program in Democracy & Citizenship
Department of Political Science
Emory University
Atlanta, GA 30322

The Program in Democracy and Citizenship and the Department of Political Science at Emory University invite applications for a Marcus

Foundation Post-Doctoral Fellowship for the 2018-2019 academic year. There is a possibility of renewal for 2019-2020. The Fellow will have three main responsibilities: 1. To teach two courses in political theory, including a course focusing on American Political Thought starting from the Founding. 2. To help administer a new interdisciplinary Great Books program for undergraduates. 3. To participate in the academic activity of the department and conduct his or her own research. Salary is competitive. Ph.D. must be in hand by August 2018. Please send a letter of interest, including a discussion of what courses you propose to teach; teaching evaluations, if they are available; curriculum vitae; and two letters of recommendation electronically to Professor Judd Owen, Department of Political Science, at polisci-theory@emory.edu. To ensure full consideration, please have all materials submitted by March 10, 2018.

Emory University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Disability/Veteran employer. The Department of Political Science, Emory College, and Emory University are all strongly committed to recruiting female and minority candidates. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/10/2018

Date Posted: 2/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4035

Beloit College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Beloit College, a selective liberal arts college with a proud tradition of innovation, seeks an energetic teacher-scholar for a replacement position of five courses per year. The successful candidate will be responsible for introductory courses in political theory and US government, and for upper-level courses in the history of political theory, American political thought, and constitutional law. Ability to approach these courses from critical perspectives is a plus. We prefer candidates with a desire to collaborate with colleagues from other disciplines, and who develop pedagogical approaches that foster creativity and apply theoretical knowledge to address real problems such as institutionalized racism. Our friendly department offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2018-2019 academic year with a strong possibility of renewal.

Because equity and inclusion are central to our students' liberal arts education and vital to the thriving of all members of our residential learning community, Beloit College aspires to be an actively anti-racist institution. We recognize our aspiration as ongoing and institution-wide, involving collective commitment and accountability. We seek employees who are committed to and will actively contribute to our efforts to celebrate our cultural and intellectual richness and be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity.

Located in a diverse community close to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago, Beloit attracts students from across the United States and the world. The college emphasizes excellence in teaching, learning beyond the traditional classroom, international perspectives, and collaborative research among students and faculty. It is recognized as one of the Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should email a cover letter, c.v., three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, writing sample, and sample syllabi polstheory2018@beloit.edu

Inquiries about the position can be sent to John Rapp, chair of the search committee, at: rappja@beloit.edu. Review of applications begins immediately and all applications received by March 1st 2018 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4021

Skidmore College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Skidmore College invites applicants for a full-time, one-year replacement position in Political Philosophy for the 2018-2019 academic year, at the rank of visiting assistant professor. We encourage applications from historically under-represented groups as well as individuals who have experience with diverse student populations. The College is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching, research, and/or service. The candidate should be able to teach Introduction to Political Philosophy as well as advanced courses in the history of political thought. The normal teaching load is 3-2. The Department is committed to limiting as much as possible the course preparations for new faculty.

Skidmore is a liberal arts institution of approximately 2,400 students, with 21% students of color, and 248 full-time faculty members, located in upstate New York. We seek to attract an academically and culturally diverse faculty, especially those who can contribute to the growing diversity and excellence of the community through their teaching, scholarship, and service. Enthusiasm for advising, teaching, and mentoring a diverse population of students is essential.

A Ph.D. in Political Science at time of appointment is strongly preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. The application deadline is March 7, 2018.

To learn more about and apply for this position please visit us online at: <http://careers.skidmore.edu/postings/1508>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4018

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Assistant or Early Associate Professor of Black Political and Social Theory

Specializations: Latin American, Caribbean, Canada

The Department of African and African Diaspora Studies at UT Austin invites applicants for a position in Black Political Thought in the Americas at the rank of assistant or early associate professor. We seek outstanding scholars whose scholarship focuses on Latin America, the Caribbean or Canada, with a background in transnational racial politics, Political Theory, Comparative Political Theory, or decoloniality and Black Politics. Candidates should demonstrate a background in and commitment to African Diaspora Studies. The ideal candidate will also demonstrate scholarship that is informed by the intersectionality of race, gender, class, and sexuality. Duties include teaching both undergraduate and graduate courses, developing a strong research program, demonstrating evidence of successful research productivity, directing graduate research and exhibiting a commitment to service to the department, college, and university. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Position funding is pending budgetary approval. We will begin considering applications on January 15, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. The position will begin in Fall 2018.

Qualifications

The selected candidate should have a Ph.D. in hand by the start of employment, demonstrate a promising publishing and research trajectory, and have a solid record as an effective classroom teacher or a teaching philosophy helping to ensure success in the classroom.

Application Instructions

Applications should be submitted via <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/30156> for consideration. Please include a cover letter, current curriculum vita, list of 3-4 referees, and one representative scholarly publication or writing sample.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4009

Warren Wilson College

Rank: Political Science: American Government Faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science: American Government

The Department of History and Political Science, Warren Wilson College, seeks candidates for an entry-level position in political science with a primary field in American government and a secondary field in international relations, political economy, or political theory. The successful candidate will teach a range of courses across American politics, as well as courses related to their secondary field. This is a full-time, continuing position beginning July 1, 2018 and requires a Ph.D. in political science (in hand by August 1, 2018.)

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation through our online application. Letters of recommendation can be submitted with the application or sent via email with a subject line including "Letter of recommendation for (candidate's name)". Please see application for more details about submissions. Priority will be given to applications received by 5PM EST on Monday, February 19, 2018. All applications must be received by no later than 5PM EST Friday, March 2, 2018 to be considered. To apply, visit our website: <https://warren-wilson.breezy.hr/p/8d0b6601cef8-political-science-american-government-faculty>

Warren Wilson College does not offer tenure. Full time faculty are hired under extended contract eligibility. Contracts are awarded annually for a period of three years at which time a faculty is reviewed for a three-year contract. After completing these three years, the faculty is then reviewed for a seven-year contract and for successive seven-year contracts thereafter. This full-time, extended-contract-eligible faculty position begins July 1, 2018.

Warren Wilson College (www.warren-wilson.edu) is a vibrant, nationally recognized liberal arts college with an enrollment of approximately 600 undergraduates located on a 1,135-acre campus in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Asheville, North Carolina. The education program incorporates experiential learning, challenging work experiences, and deliberate community engagement, with a commitment to sustainable practices.

We desire a diverse faculty and a community that reflects a global outlook. Warren Wilson College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, or sexual orientation.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/1/2018

Date Posted: 2/1/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4008

Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: VAP American Politics and American Political Thought

Visiting Assistant Professor (One Year)

Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a one year visiting position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning Fall 2018. Ph.D preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper level courses in American political thought and American political development. Other teaching and research areas might include religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; rural and/or labor politics; and power and the American presidency. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Applications received by March 16, 2018 will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled. The department will conduct preliminary reviews at this year's WPSA meeting in San Francisco. Applicants should indicate whether they will be attending the meeting.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and arrange to have three letters of reference sent. Applicants should submit all materials through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/48507>. Additional inquiries can be directed to Professor Jodi Dean, Search Chair, at jdean@hws.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4001

University of Virginia

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Program on Constitutionalism and Democracy (PCD) in the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for one-year Research Associate / Postdoc positions (with limited teaching), with an anticipated start date of August 25, 2018 and ending May 24, 2019. This research associate position is renewable, based on performance and continued availability of funding, for an additional academic year. Pay is competitive, and benefits are available. PCD is directed by Professors James W. Ceaser and Rita Koganzon. It promotes scholarship and undergraduate teaching that is informed by political theory and that focuses on the American political tradition.

Applicants for the research associate position must have achieved the status of ABD by February 10, 2018 and must be on track to complete a PhD by June 2018. All requirements for the Ph.D., including a successful defense, must be completed by June 20, 2018.

Research associates will conduct their own research and teach one undergraduate course per semester, either "The American Political Tradition" (PLAP 2250) or "American Political Economy" (PLAP 3500). Fellows at their discretion may request to teach a second course in one of the semesters.

To apply, please submit a Candidate Profile online through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>); search for Posting Number 0622244. Please attach: a curriculum vitae, cover letter, brief statement of research interest, contact information for three (3) references, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages), and an unofficial copy of your graduate transcript.

Review of applications will begin on or after Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2018, and the positions are open until filled.

Questions regarding the application process in JOBS@UVA should be directed to Ms. Bonnie Bragg at bb6a@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3988

University of Virginia

Rank: Predoctoral Research Specialist

University of Virginia invites applications for one-year predoctoral Research Specialist positions (with limited teaching), with an anticipated start date of August 25, 2018 and ending August 24, 2019. This end date may be extended, based on performance and continued availability of funding, through May 24, 2020. Pay is competitive, and benefits are available. PCD is directed by Professors James W. Ceaser and Rita Koganzon. It promotes scholarship and undergraduate teaching that is informed by political theory and that focuses on the American political tradition.

Applicants for the research specialist position must be on schedule to acquire the status of ABD by June 30, 2018 with a planned completion of PhD by May 24, 2019.

Research specialists will conduct their own research and teach one undergraduate course per semester, either "The American Political Tradition" (PLAP 2250) or "American Political Economy" (PLAP 3500). Research specialists at their discretion may request to teach a second course in one of the semesters.

Research specialists will be responsible for completing their dissertation, using the methods and techniques appropriate to their project. Research specialists will also be tasked with teaching one or both of the two courses mentioned, which will require as background a concentration in political theory and/or an approach to American politics focusing on American political thought and American political development.

To apply, please submit a staff application online through Jobs@UVA (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>); search for Posting Number 0622468. Please attach: a curriculum vitae, cover letter, brief statement of research interest, contact information for three (3) references, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages), and an unofficial copy of your graduate transcript (attach as Other 1).

Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2018, and the positions are open until filled.

Questions regarding the application process in JOBS@UVa should be directed to Ms. Bonnie Bragg at bb6a@virginia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/24/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3987

Wellesley College

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Wellesley College is seeking outstanding candidates for a one-year position as a Lecturer in Political Theory for the academic year 2018-2019. The full teaching load is five courses over two semesters. The successful candidate must have experience teaching introductory and advanced courses in the field, and areas of interest are open. The ability to teach one course in another subfield of political science is preferred but not required.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. and a strong commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment. Wellesley College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer, and we are committed to increasing diversity and equity in the college community and curriculum. In that spirit, we are particularly interested in receiving applications from a broad spectrum of people, including under-represented groups.

Applicants should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a one-page statement of teaching philosophy, graduate transcripts, sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, samples of research and three letters of reference. All materials should be submitted online by visiting our application website at <https://career.wellesley.edu>. Applications should be submitted as soon as possible. We will begin reviewing candidates on February 16, 2018, but will continue to accept applications until the position is filled.

If circumstances do not allow you to submit materials through our online application system, please email us at working@wellesley.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3981

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Summary:

The Institute of Political Science (IPS) in The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFU) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts as early as Fall 2018. The opening is in the field of comparative politics (with or without a focus on China), research methodology, and political theory (order is by preference). A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years. The tenure-track faculty members are expected to publish research on major journals of international reputation, offer high quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. Although the working environment is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background:

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas.

The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five Year Plan. SUFE is the only institution in the Mainland China that adopts tenure-track system and offers globally competitive salaries for entry-level faculty in the discipline of political science. The newly established Institute of Political Science has nine members. Seven of them hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents:

Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

Procedures:

The deadline for accepting applications is March 20, 2018, for this round of recruitment. We plan to interview a shortlist of applicants at 2018 Midwest Political Science Association conference in Chicago. In your cover letter, please state whether you will attend the meeting and be available for an interview. We also can arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype.

Contact:

Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/20/2018

Date Posted: 1/20/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3968

University of Maine

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Political Science at the University of Maine invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track academic-year faculty position in Political Theory and U.S. Constitutional Law at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2018.

Responsibilities and Duties: This position includes teaching, research, and service. The faculty member will maintain a productive research program. The standard teaching load is 2/3, with a mix of introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses. Teaching and service responsibilities include holding regular office hours, advising students on their course of study, aiding them in the registration process, advising students in pre-law and the interdisciplinary minor in Legal Studies, developing relationships with the Maine legal community, and participating actively in the internal governance of the department and representing it in interactions with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and university communities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected.

Qualifications: We are interested in hiring a broadly trained political theorist who can teach courses in the history of political thought and contemporary political theory as well as on U.S. constitutional law and related topics. Additional requirements include evidence of ability for success in university-level teaching and evidence of ability to develop and pursue a research agenda, including peer-reviewed publications, in the candidate's area of expertise. ABDs may apply but a Ph.D. in Political Science or equivalent field is required by the start of the position.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of application describing their credentials and experience relative to the qualifications above, a current C.V., official or unofficial graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations, a one page teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. Additional information, such as official transcripts, course syllabi, and writing samples may be requested at a later time. Review of applications will begin immediately, and continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by February 10, 2018 will be assured full consideration.

Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit applications electronically to: <https://umaine.hiretouch.com>. Letters of Reference should be emailed to polisci@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Amy Fried, Professor and Chair, Department of Political Science, amyfried@maine.edu, 207-581-1797.

We are a faculty that values work-life balance and particularly maintaining a productively collegial workplace. The greater Bangor-Orono area offers access to a wealth of outdoor activities, a thriving cultural scene, and is close to Bar Harbor, Acadia National Park, and Portland. The University of Maine is the flagship campus of the University of Maine System. It is the state's land grant and sea grant university, enrolling over 11,000 students. The Department offers a BA degree. Further information about the Department can be found at <https://umaine.edu/polisci/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. The Department of Political Science encourages applications from a diverse pool of applicants.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3958

University of Essex

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor in Political Theory

Assistant Professor or Associate Professor in Political Theory
Department of Government

The Department of Government at Essex are world leaders in Political Science, ranked top in the UK for research excellence (REF2014), among the top 10 Universities for Politics in the UK (The Times Good University Guide 2017), top 10 in the world for Political Science and International Relations according to the Centre for World University Rankings (2017), among the top 50 departments on the planet according to the QS World University Rankings. With 96% student satisfaction (NSS 2016) and having been awarded Q-Step Affiliate Status, we are committed to excellence in education and research.

The Department of Government is seeking to appoint an academic at Assistant or Associate Professor level in Political Theory with demonstrable excellence in research and teaching. An ability to connect with existing areas of strength in the Department is also an advantage.

Please note that the appointment will be made at the UK equivalent of Lecturer (Assistant Professor), Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor) or Reader (Associate Professor) level and will be referred to by these titles throughout this advertisement and University of Essex documentation.

The Role and Duties

The post holder is expected to conduct research and teaching in Political Theory at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. They will also (co-)supervise undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations, and assess students through coursework and examination as well as contribute to the successful administration and management of the Department.

In addition, at the level of Senior Lecturer, the post holder is expected to provide research support and leadership to junior colleagues in the group, take on senior administrative and management roles in the Department and be publishing high-quality research in top-ranked international peer-reviewed journals.

In addition to the above, at the level of Reader, the post holder is expected to be able to demonstrate a significant research portfolio to include a well-established track record of high quality (3* and 4* level) publications in leading refereed journals, research funding from a variety of sources and capability for dissemination to different audiences for research.

Qualifications and Skills

The successful candidate will have obtained a PhD in Political Science or an allied field by the time the appointment begins.

They should have academic expertise in the area of Political Theory; evidence of a sophisticated research agenda in Political Science; demonstrable potential of excellence in both research and teaching; and evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes. The potential to generate external funding is also essential for this post.

In addition, at the level of Senior Lecturer or Reader, they will have experience of PhD supervision; a proven track record of raising research funds and managing research projects; and proven experience in managing academic programmes. Demonstrable ability to support the teaching and learning experience of all academic colleagues in a higher education environment is also essential for this post.

We particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the Department.

At the University of Essex internationalism is central to who we are and what we do. We are committed to being a cosmopolitan, internationally-oriented university that is welcoming to staff and students from all countries and a university where you can find the world in one place.

Please visit our website (<http://www.essex.ac.uk/vacancies/>) for a full job description, person specification and more information relating to this post. We recommend you read this information carefully before making an application. Applications should be made on-line, but if you would like advice or help in making an application, or need information in a different format, please telephone the Resourcing Team (01206 874588/873521).

Closing date: 4 March 2018

Interviews are planned for: 1 May 2018

Salary: £39,993 - £47,722 per annum (Lecturer), £50,618 - £56,951 per annum (Senior Lecturer/Reader)

https://vacancies.essex.ac.uk/tlive\_webrecruitment/wrd/run/ETREC107GF.open?VACANCY\_ID=255917FgCx&WVID=9918109Nem&LANG=USA

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 3/4/2018

Date Posted: 1/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3928

University of Richmond

Rank: John Marshall Visiting Research Fellow for 2018-19

Specializations: Political Economy, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The John Marshall International Center for the Study of Statesmanship at the Jepson School of Leadership Studies at the University of Richmond is accepting applications for the position of John Marshall Visiting Research Fellow for 2018-19.

The Marshall Fellow will pursue his or her own advanced research in political economy as it relates to the theory and practice of statesmanship, and be in residence during academic terms at the Jepson School actively contributing to the intellectual life of the School and University through meaningful interactions with faculty and participation in Marshall Center programs. Educational requirements: Ph.D. program in economics, history, philosophy, or political science. Candidates who are ABD will be considered, but must have completed the Ph.D. in one of these fields by August 1, 2018. Applications for the fellowship are encouraged from those who have just finished or who are about to finish their doctoral dissertations.

The University of Richmond is a nationally ranked liberal arts university offering a unique combination of undergraduate and graduate degree programs in arts and sciences, business, leadership studies, law, and professional and continuing studies. The nation's first school of leadership studies, a top-ranked business school, and a nationally recognized international education program enhance a strong liberal arts curriculum.

Inaugurated in 1992, the Jepson School of Leadership Studies is an independent academic unit of the University and offers students the opportunity to major or minor in Leadership Studies. With the aim of educating students for and about leadership, the Jepson School offers an intellectually challenging liberal arts curriculum delivered by means of a rigorous and innovative pedagogy. Candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, one-page research plan, and writing sample; and provide the names and emails of three references to <http://jobs.richmond.edu>. Review of applications will begin on March 10, 2018. For questions contact Stephanie Trent, Jepson School of Leadership Studies, strent@richmond.edu. Additional information about the Marshall Center can be found at <http://jepson.richmond.edu/conferences/marshall/index.html>.

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body and to supporting an inclusive campus community. In keeping with this commitment, our academic community strongly encourages applications from candidates who will contribute to these goals. The University of Richmond has a generous family leave policy, offers employment benefits to same sex domestic partners, and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, status as a veteran or any classification protected by local, state or federal law.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 4/15/2018

Date Posted: 1/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3926

Catholic University of Chile

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

The Institute of Political Science (ICP) of the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position (Assistant Professor) in Political Theory, broadly defined.

The ICP is among the highest ranked political science departments in Latin America. Comprised of a highly international group of scholars, it is a hub of theoretical, empirical and applied research in the region. The ICP offers undergraduate, M.A. and Ph.D. programs. It admits the most talented Chilean students to its undergraduate and graduate programs, and hosts a large number of exchange students and a steady stream of visiting professors from all over the world. Santiago is a vibrant metropolitan area and a short drive from Chile's renowned pacific coast and spectacular Andean mountain range. The Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile is consistently ranked as one of the best universities in Latin America.

Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to high quality research, publication and teaching. Teaching obligations are limited to three courses per year. Fluency in Spanish is valued, but candidates who express the willingness to perfect basic proficiency are encouraged to apply. The ICP offers financial support for language classes and courses may initially be taught in English. The University strongly values diversity and we encourage members of all nationalities and backgrounds to apply.

Salary is competitive and complemented by research grants, travel stipends, and support for international exchanges. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs are welcome to apply as long as they obtain their degree by the position's starting date.

Applications should include a personal letter, curriculum vitae and a writing sample (journal article, book or dissertation chapter) that provides evidence of research performance. Applicants should also include teaching evaluations and course syllabi to assess teaching potential, graduate transcripts, an official copy of their B.A., M.A., and Ph. D. degrees, and three letters of recommendation.

Please direct informal inquiries or application packages (in either English or Spanish) via e-mail to Cristian Pérez Muñoz (searchicp@uc.cl), Chair of the Search Committee until February 15th, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/15/2018

Date Posted: 1/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3922

Furman University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Western and American Political Thought

The Tocqueville Program at Furman University invites applications for a 2-year Postdoctoral Fellowship in Western and American Political Thought to begin in August 2018. Housed in the Department of Politics and International Affairs, the Tocqueville Program exists to encourage serious and open engagement with the moral questions at the heart of political life through the study of classic texts of the Western and American political and philosophic tradition. We encourage applicants whose teaching philosophy and research agenda fit with this mission. The PhD degree (in hand or expected by the beginning of the 2018-2019 academic year) is a required qualification.

The teaching load for the Postdoctoral Fellow will be three courses per academic year; courses to be taught include American Political Thought, Introduction to Political Thought, and other upper-level Political Thought courses as needed by the Department of Politics and International Affairs. The Postdoctoral Fellow will also participate actively in the Tocqueville Program's activities and contribute to its administration as needed.

Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly-changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently-launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences.

Furman is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and staff. The University aspires to create a community of people representing a multiplicity of identities including gender, race, religion, spiritual belief, sexual orientation, geographic origin, socioeconomic background, ideology, world view, and varied abilities. Domestic partners of employees are eligible for comprehensive benefits.

The Furman student experience is supported by a rich network of centers and institutes that includes The Riley Institute, The David E. Shi Center for Sustainability, The Institute for the Advancement of Community Health, The Rinker Center for Study Away and International Education, The Cothran Center for Vocational Exploration, The Shucker Center for Leadership Development, The Malone Center for Career Engagement, and our newest addition, The Center for Inclusive Communities.

Furman is located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is one of the fastest growing cities in the Southeast and is ranked among "America's Ten Best" by Forbes Magazine. The charming downtown features excellent restaurants, in-town parks, shops, museums, galleries, music venues, and theaters. The city also has excellent public and private schools and a vibrant international community. A 20-mile bike and running trail connects the university to Greenville and to Travelers Rest, which was named "one of America's coolest small towns." The surrounding area abounds with outdoor recreational activities and has some of the most beautiful lakes, rivers, and mountains in the country. Greenville is within easy reach of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Atlantic Beaches. The newly renovated Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, located just 25 minutes from downtown, runs daily flights to major cities and airline hubs. Greenville is 2 1/2 hours from Atlanta and only one hour from Asheville, North Carolina. It is an ideal place to live and work.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/20/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 3900Vassar College*Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Vassar College invites applications for a tenure track position to teach Political Theory at the Assistant Professor rank beginning in the academic year 2018-19. Vassar College is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer with a strong commitment to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and promoting an environment of equality, inclusion, and respect for difference. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Candidates should have completed or be nearing completion of a Ph.D. at the time of appointment. We are seeking to fill a position in political theory with an emphasis on gender in western and/or non-western thought. We invite applicants in political theory with a range of diverse substantive areas or approaches. The successful candidate will teach Introductory Political Theory, as well as an advanced course in and/or cross-listed with Women's and Gender Studies and/or one or more of Vassar's Multidisciplinary Programs. Teaching load is five courses (four preparations) per year.

Candidates should submit a complete dossier including a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate school transcript, at least three letters of recommendation, a sample of professional writing, a diversity statement highlighting contributions to and/or future plans for promoting diversity and inclusion through teaching, research and/

or professional involvements, a statement of teaching approach and interests, and evidence of teaching potential such as teaching evaluations and syllabuses.

To apply, please visit <http://employment.vassar.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=52402>

Please direct any questions to Himadeep Muppidi, Chair, Department of Political Science, Vassar College, Box 632, 124 Raymond Avenue, Poughkeepsie NY 12604. Review of applications will begin February 1, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, email: himuppidi@vassar.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/13/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3877Bowdoin College*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government

The Department of Government and Legal Studies at Bowdoin College invites applications for a one-year full-time visiting assistant professor with a specialty in political theory for the 2018-19 academic year. A second year is possible pending administrative approval. Evidence of teaching excellence or promise, and scholarly engagement is expected; Ph.D. in hand by the date of appointment is preferred, though ABDs will be considered. Teaching load is two courses each semester. We seek candidates able to offer a broad range of courses in political theory, for example classical political philosophy, modern political philosophy, contemporary political philosophy, American political thought, or others in the applicant's area of research.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu> to submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Review of applications will begin on January 20, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded on the Maine coast in 1794, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, Maine, a 30-minute drive north of Portland, the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, its intimate size, its strong sense of community, and its commitment to diversity (31.5% students of color, 5% international students and approximately 15% first-generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3863

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Politics and Fellow, Center for the Study of Statesmanship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Defense, Religion & Politics

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall of 2018. This appointment is to be combined with a research appointment at the Center for the Study of Statesmanship (CSS). As a CSS Fellow the appointee will have a reduced teaching load. Although the appointment is likely to be made at a junior rank, more senior applicants will be considered.

The search is not confined to a particular field, but we are especially interested in scholars in foreign policy, international relations, or national security, or some combination thereof, who are able to place world politics in a philosophical, historical or cultural context. A background in political theory, the history of ideas or American constitutionalism is desirable. Candidates who are alert to the moral and religious dimensions of their areas of expertise are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major with many distinguished alumni and a strong MA and PhD program with graduates on numerous college and university faculties in America and abroad.

Established in the spring of 2017, CSS explores the meaning of statesmanship and how it can defuse conflict and foster respectful foreign and domestic relations. Administratively, CSS is independent of the Department of Politics and under the University Provost. To learn more about the Center and its research orientation candidates may go to the CSS website: <http://css.cua.edu>

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, departmental chair, at coyle@cua.edu and/or Dr. William S. Smith, managing director of CSS, at smithws@cua.edu. Review of applications will begin January 10 and continue until the position is filled.

Catholic University seeks candidates who are supportive of the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a CV, and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one-to-two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will contribute to the University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found at: <http://w2.vatican>.

va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html.

Official transcripts or verification of degrees will be required before any offer is made. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3843

College of Charleston

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for an assistant professor position in political theory and law beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level classes in political theory and public law and contribute to the department's Politics, Philosophy, and Law (PPLW) concentration. The PPLW concentration allows focused attention on theoretical issues related to the law, so the ability to offer classes in jurisprudence, legal theory, or constitutional law would be particularly welcome. A PhD in Political Science or a related field is required. Primary teaching and advising responsibilities will be in the undergraduate political science program, and the teaching load is six courses per academic year. The College of Charleston is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 1,100 graduate students. The Political Science Department has 21 fulltime faculty, approximately 320 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>), and a Geography Minor (<http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/>). The department also supports a Master of Public Administration (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>) and Master of Science in Environmental Studies (<http://mes.cofc.edu/>) program. The College is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 750,000. Additional information about the institution and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>. Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations), and contact information for three references. Questions about the search can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Claire Curtis (curtisc@cofc.edu). Review of applications will begin December 16, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EO employer and strongly encourages women and minority candidates to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3798

Radford University*Rank: Department Chair*Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/9/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3759Radford University*Rank: Department Chair*Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3760

American University in Cairo

Rank: Political Theory

Political Theory

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in political theory at the Assistant Professor level beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on classical and contemporary political theories. Candidates who can teach courses on issues of religion in politics are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3747

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter

2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specialization: Political Theory, Legal Theory, American Politics

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach political theory, legal theory, and American politics. Course responsibilities include Introduction to Political Theory, American Political Thought, Introduction to American Government. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to participate in the department's Law and Justice concentration. College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Teach possible upper level courses such as Legal Theory, Justice and Society, and/or other possible courses in the areas of theory and law in the undergraduate curriculum according to the instructor's expertise.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts from most recent degree; and a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3413

University of North Texas

Rank: Open Rank Search in Political Theory

We invite applications for an open-rank position beginning fall 2018 in the broadly defined field of the history of political theory. We are interested in prospective candidates who specialize in Medieval, early modern/Enlightenment, or 19th/20th century German (post-rationalist) thought. An additional strength in non-Western thought, such as Islamic or Chinese political thought, is considered an advantage.

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science, (2) evidence of excellence in scholarly productivity, and (3) evidence of demonstrated excellence in teaching and mentoring students in independent activities. Preference will be given to candidates who have published books and/or articles in top-tier journals.

The successful candidate will have responsibilities that may include but are not limited to teaching core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continuing a record of robust scholarly research, directing graduate research in the Theory field, and providing service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 25 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly, and Journal of Political Science Education, and is the current home of Religion and Politics. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site is: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With 37,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) two published writing samples, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy, and (6) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquires to Richard Ruderman, search committee chair (Richard.Ruderman@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2017 and will remain open until the position is closed. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3400

Ohio State University

Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3389

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - multiple positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics, international relations, political theory and quantitative methods. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3360

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in political theory. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3363

Ohio State University

Rank: The Health of Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position affiliated with the university's new Institute for Democratic Engagement and Accountability. In keeping with the university's motto, "Education for Citizenship," we welcome applications from scholars broadly interested in the health of democracy, especially the conditions for energetic democratic participation and effective governance. Successful candidates may specialize in one or more areas, including political behavior, political communication, political economy, political psychology, political theory, the policymaking process, race and ethnic politics, or others. Further, we are open with respect to subfield, though we are especially interested in applicants who focus on or include the American case. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by autumn 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9663>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at Neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3336

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/1/2017
Date Posted: 8/30/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3313

California State University, Long Beach
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferred qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017

Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3314

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

International University of Japan

Rank: Open Rank Faculty Position in Public Management and Policy Analysis

The Public Management and Policy Analysis Program (PMPP) in the Graduate School of International Relations (GSIR) at the International University of Japan (IUJ) seeks applications for an open rank tenure track position (Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor) specialized in the area of public administration, local government, and policy analysis and evaluation on September 1, 2018.

Established in 1982, the IUJ is a private graduate school and located in Minami Uonuma city, Niigata prefecture, Japan. The IUJ is Japan's first graduate school to provide all courses in English. The majority of students in the PMPP program are public officials from all over the world. For more information, please visit our website at <http://www.iuj.ac.jp>.

The successful candidate will teach three (or four) Master's level courses in the program in an academic year including Public Administration, Local Government, Policy Evaluation and Management or Research Method, and supervise students to complete their master's theses in three Advanced Seminar classes in three semesters.

The applicants for this position should have an earned doctorate degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or other related disciplines by the time of appointment (September 1, 2018) and provide evidence of or potential for a well-developed research agenda regarding the areas.

For this position, Japanese fluency in reading and writing could be a plus, but not required and a native English speaker is highly recommended to apply as well. At least, a business trip to developing countries is required in a year.

Applicants must submit the following documents to irappli@iuj.ac.jp:

- A cover letter
- A curriculum vitae
- A writing sample
- Graduate transcripts
- Three letters of recommendation
- Teaching evaluations if applicable

Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2018, but will be considered until the position is filled.

If applicants have further questions, please feel free to contact to:

Atsuko Sumiya (E-mail: irappli@iuj.ac.jp).

Administrative Assistant
Faculty Search Committee

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4058

Texas A&M University - Central Texas

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Texas A&M University-Central Texas was born in the spirit of community cooperation on May 27, 2009 as a member of The Texas A&M University System, one of the largest systems of higher education in the nation. A&M-Central Texas is a military friendly, upper-level institution offering bachelors and master's degrees for life's next chapter.

Job Summary:

Primarily responsible for the teaching/learning process and will also participate in the necessary operations of the institution. Other responsibilities include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in Public Administration or related area, conduct research, advise students, serve on departmental and university committees and perform other duties as assigned. The ability to teach courses in a new Master's of Public Administration program is essential. While subfields are open, a focus on American Politics would be ideal, along with sufficient training to teach introductory graduate courses in statistics and/or formal modeling.

Required Education/Experience/Skills:

Earned doctorate Political Science or Public Administration. Must possess the minimum credential standards of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) which normally include at least 18 graduate semester credit hours in the subject area or suitable approved justifications. Must exhibit the potential for a sustainable record of scholarly activity.

HOURS: Faculty Hours/TBD

SALARY: Commensurate with experience

Open Until Filled

Interested applicants MUST apply online at https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/TAMUCT\_External. The department requires a cover letter, vitae, three letters of reference, and teaching philosophy for this position. Official transcripts will be required upon hire.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4053

Auburn University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor (two positions), Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Auburn University invites applications for two Visiting Assistant Professor positions beginning August 16, 2018. We seek excellent candidates that can complement the strengths of our department. The call is open to candidates in all areas of Public Administration. Candidates should be able to demonstrate strong instructional skills and the ability to teach some combination of budgeting, nonprofit and/or public management, and program evaluation. Primary teaching responsibilities are in the Master of Public Administration and undergraduate Public Administration programs.

Required qualifications include an earned doctorate in Public Administration or Political Science by the start date, for the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. However, ABDs will be considered for the appointment at the rank of Instructor. The candidate selected for this position must be able to meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States at the time of appointment and to continue working legally during employment; excellent communication skills required.

Review of applications will begin March 1. To apply, visit <https://aufacultypositions.peopleadmin.com>. Candidates are required to include a cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position and courses they are able to teach, a current curriculum vita, an official transcript of all graduate work, contact information for three letters of recommendation, teaching evaluations (if available), and a one-page statement of teaching philosophy.

Auburn University is Alabama's largest land grant university, enrolling over 25,000 students. The Political Science Department maintains a diverse faculty of 26 tenured and tenure-track members and offers undergraduate degrees in political science, health services administration, and public administration; a Master's degree program in Public Administration (MPA) with graduate certificates in Election Administration, Nonprofit Organizations and Community Governance; a Master's degree program in Community Planning (MCP), and a Ph.D. program in public administration and public policy.

Direct questions to Dr. Kelly Ann Krawczyk, Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University AL, 36849 Fax: 334-844-5348. Email: kak0037@auburn.edu.

"Diversity among its administrators, faculty, staff, and students is an Auburn University commitment. Auburn University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. It is our policy to provide equal employment opportunities for all individuals without regard to race, sex, religion, color, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other classification protected by applicable law."

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4047

New York University

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Public Service

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Education Policy, Economic Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service invites applications for a clinical faculty member with expertise in quantitative methods applied to policy-relevant research. We are seeking applicants interested in teaching core quantitative methods and reasoning to our Masters in Public Administration students and engaging in our curriculum needs in this and related Masters programs. Knowledge and experience in the use of advanced methods such as machine learning and survey methods would be an advantage. Candidates should describe how they have addressed (or would address) issues around diversity, equity, and inclusion in their teaching. A PhD in public administration, economics, education, political science, sociology, statistics, or related fields is required, with a degree conferred by August 31, 2018. Prior teaching experience is required.

Applications will be considered on a rolling basis and the successful candidate will begin September 1, 2018. Please submit a cover letter, resume/curriculum vitae, research publications (if available), teaching evaluations, and contact information for at least three professional references using the following link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/48224>.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 3/30/2018

Date Posted: 2/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4038

Aarhus University

Rank: Full professorship in leadership in the healthcare sector

Full professorship in leadership in the healthcare sector 957037

Department of Political Science at Aarhus BSS, Aarhus University invites applications for a full professorship with special focus on research in leadership in healthcare organizations.

Job description

The professorship is part of a major investment in scholarship that is relevant for improvements in public leadership, and the new professor will be part of a team that aims to make the public sector better through excellent research, strong leader development and continuous dialogue with practitioners. We are dedicated to excellence in leadership education, application and scholarship, and we are improving public organizations both nationally and internationally through research, teaching and dissemination. We are looking for eminent candidates who can develop our research, education and societal impact.

The professorship has been made possible by a substantial donation from the novo Nordisk Foundation that will allow the professor to hire a research team focused on leadership in healthcare.

The professor will be part of the very strong Public Administration section at Department of Political Science, Aarhus University. We collaborate with other disciplines at Aarhus University (Management, Economics, Psychology etc.), with national and international scholars from other universities, and with our colleagues from other sections at the department (for example Comparative Politics, Public Policy and Political Sociology).

The position is permanent. Key tasks are research, dissemination and teaching focused on healthcare leadership and management. The professor is expected to participate in seminars, workshops, examination and supervision of students at the department in general and in the Public Administration section in particular.

The successful candidate is expected to take up appointment as soon as possible after assessment.

Your qualifications

Applicants should have a strong academic background and demonstrate significant contributions to developments in the field. The applicant's potential for undertaking research, teaching and dissemination related to leadership in healthcare is especially important, but we also welcome applicants with a general leadership/management profile combined with an interest in the healthcare sector. The essential qualifications are thus:

- A proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced by a strong international reputation and recognized articles in top international journals.
- A track record of excellence in teaching in leadership, public administration and/or management.
- A clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications as well as a commitment to innovate teaching and dissemination.
- A track record of good citizenship in the wider academic community combined with commitment to contribute to a vibrant work environment in the whole department.
- Commitment to share insights and knowledge in the public debate, take societal responsibility and prioritize dialogue with practitioners.
- Experience with or commitment to teaching that gives students real-life competences as well as the ability to reflect critically on the world and its problems.
- The ability and willingness to attract external research funding.

Non-Danish speakers are required to attain reasonable knowledge of the Danish language within max. three years. The department will grant time off from teaching to attend Danish courses during the first two years of employment.

Permanent employment as professor at Aarhus BSS requires completion of the supervision course and also the course Blended Learning – Go Online provided by Centre for Teaching and Learning at Aarhus BSS. If you have not completed the courses before commencement of employment, continued employment will be conditional on completion of the courses within a five year period.

Who we are

The Department of Political Science is one of the six departments at Aarhus BSS and one of the four faculties at Aarhus University. Aarhus BSS unites the business and social science-related research fields and brings them closer together to reflect the close relationship between society and the business community. As part of a Top 100 university Aarhus BSS has achieved the distinguished AACSB, AMBA and Equis accreditations.

At the Department of Political Science, we emphasise a dynamic and flexible research and teaching profile characterised by pluralism and openness. With around 90 academic staff members and 40 PhD students, we offer a lively and ambitious research and teaching environment.

The research carried out at the department not only covers a variety of political science disciplines, but also represents a variety of methodological approaches. This not only enables us to focus on new problem areas as they appear on the national and international political arenas, but also allows us to contribute actively to the development of the discipline. We also emphasise communicating our research results to the political-administrative system and to the public in general.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit: <http://ps.au.dk/en/>

Further information

For further information about the position, please contact: Head of department, Professor Peter Munk Christiansen, phone +45 30115340, email: pmc@ps.au.dk

If you need help uploading your application or have any questions about the recruitment process, please contact HR supporter Mette Fisker Præstegaard, Tel.: +45 871 52497, email: mfp@au.dk

International applicant? Aarhus University offers a broad variety of services for international researchers and accompanying families, including relocation service and career counselling to expat partners. Please find more information about entering and working in Denmark here and here.

Place of work

Department of Political Science, Aarhus BSS, Aarhus University, Bartholins Allé 7, 8000 Aarhus C

Terms of employment

The appointment is in accordance with the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities as well as the circular on the Collective Agreement for Academics Employed by the State.

The job content and qualification requirements are described in further detail in Circular on Terms of Employment for Academic Staff at Universities.

Application procedure

It is obligatory to attach the following when you apply for this position:

- Application
- Curriculum Vitae. You are encouraged to declare any periods of leave without research activity, including, for example, maternity leave, since your research activities are assessed in relation to your actual research time
- Education (diploma for master's, PhD and possibly higher doctoral degree)
- List of publications (the enclosed publications must be clearly marked on the list of publications)
- Publications. Up to 10 publications can be included in the application. In the event of several authors the publications must be accompanied by a co-author statement concerning the applicant's share of the collaborative work with the consent of the co-authors. This form can be used for the purpose
- Teaching portfolio. The specific requirements regarding the documentation can be found here

Materials which cannot be uploaded together with the application may be submitted in five copies to Aarhus BSS HR & PhD, Aarhus University, Tåsingevej 1, 2nd floor, DK-8000 Aarhus C.

Read more about how to apply for an academic post at Aarhus BSS here.

The evaluation process

After the application deadline, an assessment committee is appointed. Please note that the assessment of applicants is based solely on the material received prior to the application deadline. For further information, see Guidelines for Assessment Committee, Aarhus BSS.

Read more about Aarhus BSS' professorship policy here.

All interested candidates are encouraged to apply regardless of personal background.

Deadline

All applications must be made online and received by:
03/04/2018

Please apply online here:

<http://www.au.dk/en/about/vacant-positions/scientific-positions/stillinger/Vacancy/show/957037/5283/>

Top

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 4/3/2018

Date Posted: 1/19/2018

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 3960

Alma College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor in US Politics and History

Alma College in Alma, Michigan invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor position in U.S. political science and history, beginning in August 2018, with the possibility of renewal for a second year. The successful candidate will teach six courses in American politics and history, equally divided between the Departments of History and Political Science. We especially welcome candidates who can contribute to inter-disciplinary programs, such as Public Affairs and Policy, Environmental Studies, etc. A Ph.D. in U.S. political science or history (with the qualifications to teach the other field) is required by August 2018.

Review of applications will begin on March 5, 2018. Please e-mail all application materials to Barbara Tripp (tripp@alma.edu)

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Transcripts
- Teaching Statement
- Contact Information for three references

A Phi Beta Kappa institution, Alma is a selective, baccalaureate liberal arts college committed to academic excellence and an equal opportunity employer committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty, staff and student body. For more information about the College, visit www.alma.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3963

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED

Political Science: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED. The position will begin in the 2018-19 academic year.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses across the public administration core curriculum for the undergraduate major in Public Administration and courses for the MA program and have substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis; develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and master's level graduate teaching, including the introduction to Public Administration and other advanced courses that contribute to the public administration major; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; take part in the undergraduate major in public administration, teach related courses for the MA program, contribute to all aspects of the departmental mission; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs.

Required: PhD by date of appointment in public policy, political science or a related field.

Consideration will be given to those with a specialty and/or an active research agenda in nonprofit organizations and have a background in quantitative methodology and "big data."

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=4587>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin January 31, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3860

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osulivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

PUBLIC LAW

Trinity College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Public Policy Graduate Program

The Graduate Program in Public Policy at Trinity College invites applications for a new postdoctoral fellowship in Public Policy. This is a two-year appointment to teach and conduct research for the 2018-19 and 2019-20 academic years. The Fellow will be expected to be in residence in the Hartford area, and teach one graduate course and a graduate policy practicum each academic year (at the Master's Level). In addition to pursuing his/her own independent research agenda, the fellow will be expected to write a policy report for the think tank CT21@Trinity on an issue in his/her area of expertise, contribute to the advising of graduate students, and actively participate in the intellectual life of Trinity College.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or public policy or any other related discipline, earned in the past three years, or should have a reasonable expectation of completing the Ph.D. by August 2018.

Compensation: Competitive salary and benefits and includes a modest research stipend.

Instructions:

Candidates should submit a letter of interest (including discussion of specialized policy area), a current curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and evidence of quality teaching, and two letters of references.

Applicants will be asked to list contact information for reference providers, including email addresses. Once a completed dossier is submitted, automatic emails will be generated to each reference provider, directing each referee to a unique URL where he or she must go to upload a letter of recommendation. Applicants using Interfolio (or other dossier service) should provide the appropriate unique Interfolio email address for each reference letter writer.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by April 2, 2018. However, the program will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

To apply, please visit <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com>

Questions and inquiries about this position should be directed to kevin.mcmahon.1@trincoll.edu, director of the graduate program in Public Policy.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4066

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Politics at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position.

The individual, who will work with Professor Jonathan Kastellec, will be asked to participate in projects that examine American political institutions. The postdoc will work on a variety of projects, which may include research on judicial and legislative behavior, as well as broader questions surrounding the study of law and courts.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date. The successful candidate will have a strong background in quantitative research, and knowledge of research on political institutions. Strong data skills, including programming in statistical packages, and experience compiling and manipulating large data sets are highly desirable. The candidate should also be well organized, flexible, attend to detail, and respond to deadlines in a timely fashion.

Applicants must apply online here: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/5822> and submit a cover letter, CV and contact information for two recommendations, one of which should be from the principal advisor of the doctorate program. For best consideration please apply by March 15, 2018. The appointment is for one year with the possibility for extension pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. This position is subject to the university's background check policy.

Salary and benefits will be based on the University's post-doctoral research associate compensation package.

Requisition No: D-18-POL-00013

Start Date:

Date Posted: 2/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4052

Beloit College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Beloit College, a selective liberal arts college with a proud tradition of innovation, seeks an energetic teacher-scholar for a replacement position of five courses per year. The successful candidate will be responsible for introductory courses in political theory and US government, and for upper-level courses in the history of political theory, American political thought, and constitutional law. Ability to approach these courses from critical perspectives is a plus. We prefer candidates with a desire to collaborate with colleagues from other disciplines, and who develop pedagogical approaches that foster creativity and apply theoretical knowledge to address real problems such as institutionalized racism. Our friendly department offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2018-2019 academic year with a strong possibility of renewal.

Because equity and inclusion are central to our students' liberal arts education and vital to the thriving of all members of our residential learning community, Beloit College aspires to be an actively anti-racist institution. We recognize our aspiration as ongoing and institution-wide, involving collective commitment and accountability. We seek employees who are committed to and will actively contribute to our efforts to celebrate our cultural and intellectual richness and be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity.

Located in a diverse community close to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago, Beloit attracts students from across the United States and the world. The college emphasizes excellence in teaching, learning beyond the traditional classroom, international perspectives, and collaborative research among students and faculty. It is recognized as one of the Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should email a cover letter, c.v., three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, writing sample, and sample syllabi polstheory2018@beloit.edu

Inquiries about the position can be sent to John Rapp, chair of the search committee, at: rappja@beloit.edu. Review of applications begins immediately and all applications received by March 1st 2018 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4021

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Simons Research Fellow in International Law and Human Security

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University invites applications for the Simons Research Fellow in International Law and Human Security for the 2018-2019 academic year (September 1-August 30).

The Simons Research Fellow will be expected to participate in School activities during the term of their appointment, will deliver at least one presentation of their work to the School, and will undertake limited teaching responsibilities with the possibility that they might teach one undergraduate course in their area of expertise. The Fellow may also be asked to contribute to the organization of a workshop in the Spring 2019 term.

Compensation for the Simons Research Fellow is $40,000 CAD plus benefits, with an additional $2,000 CAD in research support. Selection will be based on the qualifications of applicants in the areas of International Law and Human Security and the nature of the work they propose to undertake during the duration of the award.

Application deadline is March 30, 2018. Applications should consist of a cover letter (including detailed research proposal), graduate transcripts, a CV, and three letters of recommendation. Referees should e-mail their letters directly to intst@sfu.ca. Please e-mail inquiries to the attention of Professor Tamir Moustafa at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Simon Fraser University is committed to employment equity and welcomes applications from all qualified women and men, including visible minorities, aboriginal people, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ communities. The position is subject to availability of funding.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the collection notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/30/2018

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4022

Skidmore College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Skidmore College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in American Government with a specialization in public law. The appointment will begin in fall 2018. We encourage applications from historically under-represented groups as well as individuals who have experience with diverse student populations. The College is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through their teaching, research, and/or service. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in public law and American politics that will include Introduction to American Politics, Constitutional Law, and Civil Liberties. The successful candidate will also have the option to teach special topics courses that coincide with his or her particular teaching or research interests. The normal teaching load is 3-2. The Department is committed to limiting as much as possible the course preparations of new faculty.

Skidmore is a liberal arts institution with 248 full-time faculty (including 11 faculty in the Political Science Department) and approximately 2,400 students, 21% of whom are of color. Enthusiasm for teaching a diverse population of students is essential.

A Ph.D. in Political Science at time of appointment is strongly preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. The application deadline is March 7, 2018.

To learn more about and apply for this position please visit us online at: <http://careers.skidmore.edu/postings/1509>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/7/2018

Date Posted: 2/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4019

University of Maine

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Political Science at the University of Maine invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track academic-year faculty position in Political Theory and U.S. Constitutional Law at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2018.

Responsibilities and Duties: This position includes teaching, research, and service. The faculty member will maintain a productive research program. The standard teaching load is 2/3, with a mix of introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses. Teaching and service responsibilities include holding regular office hours, advising students on their course of study, aiding them in the registration process, advising students in pre-law and the interdisciplinary minor in Legal Studies, developing relationships with the Maine legal community, and participating actively in the internal governance of the department and representing it in interactions with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and university communities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected.

Qualifications: We are interested in hiring a broadly trained political theorist who can teach courses in the history of political thought and contemporary political theory as well as on U.S. constitutional law and related topics. Additional requirements include evidence of ability for success in university-level teaching and evidence of ability to develop and pursue a research agenda, including peer-reviewed publications, in the candidate's area of expertise. ABDs may apply but a Ph.D. in Political Science or equivalent field is required by the start of the position.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of application describing their credentials and experience relative to the qualifications above, a current C.V., official or unofficial graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations, a one page teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. Additional information, such as official transcripts, course syllabi, and writing samples may be requested at a later time. Review of applications will begin immediately, and continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by February 10, 2018 will be assured full consideration.

Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit applications electronically to: <https://umaine.hiretouch.com>. Letters of Reference should be emailed to polisci@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Amy Fried, Professor and Chair, Department of Political Science, amyfried@maine.edu, 207-581-1797.

We are a faculty that values work-life balance and particularly maintaining a productively collegial workplace. The greater Bangor-Orono area offers access to a wealth of outdoor activities, a thriving cultural scene, and is close to Bar Harbor, Acadia National Park, and Portland. The University of Maine is the flagship campus of the University of Maine System. It is the state's land grant and sea grant university, enrolling over 11,000 students. The Department offers a BA degree. Further information about the Department can be found at <https://umaine.edu/polisci/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. The Department of Political Science encourages applications from a diverse pool of applicants.

On January 1, 2011, UMaine became a tobacco-free campus. Information regarding UMaine's tobacco-free policy is online at <http://umaine.edu/tobaccofree/>.

The University of Maine is an EEO/AA Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, sexual orientation, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3958

College of Charleston

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for an assistant professor position in political theory and law beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level classes in political theory and public law and contribute to the department's Politics, Philosophy, and Law (PPLW) concentration. The PPLW concentration allows focused attention on theoretical issues related to the law, so the ability to offer classes in jurisprudence, legal theory, or constitutional law would be particularly welcome. A PhD in Political Science or a related field is required. Primary teaching and advising responsibilities will be in the undergraduate political science program, and the teaching load is six courses per academic year. The College of Charleston is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 1,100 graduate students. The Political Science Department has 21 fulltime faculty, approximately 320 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>), and a Geography Minor (<http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/>). The department also supports a Master of Public Administration (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>) and Master of Science in Environmental Studies (<http://mes.cofc.edu/>) program. The College is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 750,000. Additional information about the institution and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>. Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations), and contact information for three references. Questions about the search can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Claire Curtis (curtisc@cofc.edu). Review of applications will begin December 16, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EO employer and strongly encourages women and minority candidates to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3798

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3759

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3760

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Quantitative Methods

Seeking an Master Instructor to teach on campus in the area(s) of introductory American Government, public law, as well as supervise the MSSU Mock Trial program. Must have a Master's degree in the related discipline area, (PhD preferred). Certification in certain fields may also be accepted depending on subject matter. Employment will require a background check. E-verify participating employer. Applicant materials include a letter of application, curriculum vitae with the names, addresses, email and phone numbers of three references, and unofficial transcripts. Submit materials at www.mssu.edu/jobs. Official transcripts are required within 45 days of hire. Review of applicant materials begins immediately and will continue until the position(s) has been filled. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3721

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Dickinson College seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position. Appointment begins in Fall 2018. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline (e.g. Government) is required; a Ph.D./J.D. is welcome.

Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in American politics and public policy as well as upper-level courses related to their research interests. The preferred candidate will be able to teach "The Judiciary" (federal and state) and topics covering a public policy issue area or areas. Dickinson College is located in a county seat and is immediately adjacent to the Penn State Dickinson Law school. As such, Dickinson has ready access to pedagogical, research, and internship resources for the study of law and public policy. The state capital Harrisburg is a 20-minute drive away and Washington DC two hours by car. The ability to create an inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse student body is vital. Dickinson is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students located approximately two-hour's drive from Washington, DC, Baltimore, MD, and Philadelphia, PA.

Review of applications will begin October 30 and will continue until the position is filled.

<https://jobs.dickinson.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3567

Towson University

Rank: Lecturer

LECTURER SEARCH

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC YEAR 2018-2019

Areas of Specialization: Law, Judicial Process

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a position at the Lecturer level. The position entails teaching courses including Introduction to Law and the Judicial Process.

Applicants with Ph.D. and/or J.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference. J.D. applicants must have political science background. The teaching load is four courses per semester. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Cindy Cates, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open until filled.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3436

PUBLIC POLICY

University of Redlands

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Theory, Latino Politics, African American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Candidates with interests in political theory, politics and race, and public policy (and especially those with an interest in bridging those fields in their teaching and research) are especially encouraged to apply. The standard six-course load for the position will be distributed across fall, spring and May terms according to the candidate's interests.

The department especially welcomes applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position. Candidates who apply are asked to identify their strengths and experiences in assisting diverse student populations to accomplish curricular goals.

The University of Redlands is a private, comprehensive liberal arts institution located 60 miles east of Los Angeles in a town of 70,000. The campus is surrounded by orange groves and sits at the base of the San Bernardino Mountains, one hour from the coast, and 40 miles west of Palm Springs. Information about the University and its mission and facilities is available at www.redlands.edu.

Required and Desired Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Evidence of success at college teaching and an ability to work in a collaborative, team-based environment are desired.

INQUIRIES: Candidates may contact search committee chair Steve Wuhs at steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu with additional questions or concerns.

TO APPLY : Please submit the following to apply@redlands.edu: a cover letter, current CV, evidence of teaching and research excellence, and three letters of reference. Applications packets must be received by March 15, 2018 to ensure consideration for the position.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

SUBMISSION OF A RESUME OR APPLICATION INDICATES AGREEMENT THAT THE UNIVERSITY MAY VERIFY ANY AND ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED THEREIN.

MEMBERS OF UNDERREPRESENTED GROUPS ARE ENCOURAGED TO APPLY

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/15/2018
Date Posted: 2/22/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4061

Miller Center at the University of Virginia Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Practice

The Miller Center <millercenter.org> at the University of Virginia seeks to hire an ASSISTANT or ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF PRACTICE, General Faculty. The position is a 12-month position and is focused on integrating professional experience with the academic mission of the Miller Center and the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as on providing service to the University. The faculty member will split her/his time between 1) work and teaching in the Security and Justice track of the College's interdisciplinary Global Studies program <globalstudies.virginia.edu> and 2) the development and implementation of a new teaching/research program on democratic statecraft that is being developed by the Miller Center with the College and other units of the University. The faculty member will report through the director of the statecraft program to the Miller Center Director and CEO, with an indirect reporting line to the Director of the Global Studies program.

This appointment is based on the availability of funding. The position is tenure-ineligible and is subject to the terms and conditions found in the University's policy on the employment of Academic General Faculty Members <uvapolicy.virginia.edu/policy/PROV-004>. The initial term is one-to-three years, and renewal is possible, based on performance, funding, and need. The preferred start date is on or before August 25, 2018. Salary is commensurate with experience. The position is open until filled.

Qualifications

- High-level experience in international policymaking in the U.S. government (deputy assistant secretary-equivalent or above), required
- Minimum of Master's degree in policy studies, history, political science, or a closely-related field, required; Doctoral degree, preferred
- Record of published academic scholarship analyzing security policy topics, required
- Ability to be in residence at the Miller Center for the term of the appointment, preferred
- Significant field experience in a foreign country, preferred
- Experience working in more than one agency of the U.S. government, preferred
- Experience working with university faculty and/or within a university environment, preferred

Organizational Background

Established in 1975 through a generous gift from entrepreneur and philanthropist Burkett Miller, the Miller Center is a nonpartisan affiliate of the University of Virginia that specializes in presidential scholarship, public policy and political history. It strives to apply the lessons of history to the nation's most pressing contemporary governance challenges. The Miller Center is committed to the examination of significant public policy issues in a manner that encourages civil debate and engagement.

The University of Virginia, founded by Thomas Jefferson in 1819, is one of the top public universities in the nation. It is located in Charlottesville, 120 miles from Washington, D.C. The University's Rotunda and "academical village" are a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The historic homes of three presidents are nearby: Jefferson's Monticello, James Madison's Montpelier, and James Monroe's Highland. Situated in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Charlottesville is frequently cited as one of the best places to live and work in the United States.

Application Instructions

To apply, visit jobs.virginia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=83766, complete a candidate profile and attach a cover letter, CV, contact information for three professional references, and writing samples (book chapter, article, op-ed, etc.).

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4051

Scripps College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Politics

SCRIPPS COLLEGE

CLAREMONT, CALIFORNIA 91711

VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN POLITICS

2018-19 Academic Year

Scripps College, a women's liberal arts college with a strong interdisciplinary tradition, invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor in Politics for the 2018-2019 academic year. This position is contingent upon Board of Trustees approval. The teaching load is five courses for the year, to include Introduction to Public Policy, Senior Seminar, and three elective courses in an area of the candidate's interest and expertise. Advising of senior theses is expected. Ph.D. preferred; ABD will be considered. Evidence of excellence as a teacher is required. Preference will be given to applicants with a commitment to the College's goal of improving higher education for underrepresented students. Applicants should submit the following materials online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo>: letter of application, CV, three letters of recommendation, and teaching portfolio (including sample syllabi and evidence of teaching experience and excellence). For matters other than the submission of material, contact Thomas Kim, Search Committee Chair, at tkim@scrippscollege.edu. Review of applications will begin March 1st and continue until the position is filled.

Scripps College is one of seven members of The Claremont Colleges Consortium located 35 miles east of Los Angeles. In a continuing effort to build a diverse academic community and to provide equal educational and employment opportunities, Scripps College actively encourages applications from women and members of historically under-represented groups.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4048

Bucknell University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies with a focus on Environmental Policy and Politics

The Environmental Studies Program at Bucknell University seeks to hire a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies with a focus on environmental policy and politics, to start in August 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, demonstrate potential for excellence in research, and expertise in North American and/or international environmental policy and politics. Teaching responsibilities will include sections of an introductory environmental studies course, a course in environmental policy and politics, as well as courses in the candidate's area of specialization. The teaching load for this position is three courses each semester. Ph.D. or ABD required by time of appointment in a field of study relevant to environmental politics and policy. We welcome applications from candidates from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds including but not limited to political ecology, political science, human geography, environmental history, environmental sociology or anthropology, policy studies, and international relations.

We seek candidates who are committed to Bucknell's efforts to create a climate that fosters the growth and development of a diverse student body and we encourage applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education. We invite candidates to explain how issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion are brought into their teaching, scholarship, and/or service in their application materials. Bucknell University, an Equal Opportunity Employer, believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students.

Application materials should include a cover letter, a CV, and the names and contact information for three referees. Finalists for the position will be asked to submit a statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness as available, and three confidential letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on March 5, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. All materials must be submitted through Bucknell's career site (careers.bucknell.edu).

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music. Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition to the many cultural and athletic events offered by the University and the Borough, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. For those who crave the city, Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2apply.net/nftyzhgwy3xz28k5>

PI101182427

Start Date:

Date Posted: 2/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4040

New York University

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Public Service

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Education Policy, Economic Policy, Quantitative Methods

The Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service invites applications for a clinical faculty member with expertise in quantitative methods applied to policy-relevant research. We are seeking applicants interested in teaching core quantitative methods and reasoning to our Masters in Public Administration students and engaging in our curriculum needs in this and related Masters programs. Knowledge and experience in the use of advanced methods such as machine learning and survey methods would be an advantage. Candidates should describe how they have addressed (or would address) issues around diversity, equity, and inclusion in their teaching. A PhD in public administration, economics, education, political science, sociology, statistics, or related fields is required, with a degree conferred by August 31, 2018. Prior teaching experience is required.

Applications will be considered on a rolling basis and the successful candidate will begin September 1, 2018. Please submit a cover letter, resume/curriculum vitae, research publications (if available), teaching evaluations, and contact information for at least three professional references using the following link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/48224>.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 3/30/2018

Date Posted: 2/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4038

Princeton University and Peking University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Within the framework of their Memorandum of Understanding, Peking University and Princeton University have established a Postdoctoral Fellowship Program: Peking-Princeton Postdoctoral Program (PPPP), aiming at training highly-qualified, early-career postdoctoral researchers in studies of contemporary China so that they are positioned to become leaders in their respective academic fields. Princeton University and Peking University invite applications for two postdoctoral research associates in studies of contemporary China for the 2018–19 academic year.

Each fellowship is expected to be awarded for up to two years: the first 12 consecutive months at Peking University with a visiting appointment at Princeton University and the next 12 consecutive months at Princeton University with a visiting appointment at Peking University, with renewal after the first year contingent on satisfactory performance. Preferred start date is September 1, 2018. The position is open to early-career scholars who would be in residence and participate in the host organization's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The position is also open to any discipline, as long as the fellow conducts research on contemporary China. The candidate's research must be supervised by a faculty member at each University and, as such, must receive the endorsement of a faculty member at each institution in order to apply.

Funding:

For the stay at Peking University:

During their stay at PKU, Postdoctoral Fellows will receive a monthly stipend of 15,000 RMB. They can receive an additional 3,500 RMB per month for self-organized accommodation or choose to live in a PKU postdoc flat. The fellows will further be eligible to apply for travel funding from external sources. During the appointment at Peking, the postdoctoral researcher will hold a visiting appointment at Princeton.

For the stay at Princeton University:

For the 12 months in residence at Princeton, each fellow will be appointed at the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior with a monthly salary of 5,000 (60,000/year) US dollars which will be provided by Princeton, including a one-time relocation allowance of 2,000 US dollars. Further, each fellow will be eligible to apply for travel funding, have access to resources at the Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China, and be eligible for employee benefits provided by Princeton. During the appointment at Princeton, the postdoctoral researcher will hold a visiting appointment at Peking University.

Eligibility and Evaluation Criteria:

The fellowship is open to highly qualified researchers of all nationalities who received their PhD no more than three years prior to the start of the appointment. The program is open to both internal and external candidates. Applicants holding tenure or tenure-track faculty positions are not eligible to apply.

Selection is based on the academic excellence of the applicant, the quality of the proposed research project, compelling demonstration of the anticipated synergy of the appointed postdoc, and the commitment of the respective hosts at both universities. The research proposal should include information on how the project will benefit from the research environments of both institutions.

Requirements and Opportunities:

Successful applicants must provide a 10-page report on their research and experience in the Postdoctoral Fellowship after completion of the two-year program.

Fellows are encouraged to publish together with their hosts at PKU and PU.

Applications:

To apply for a postdoctoral position, please link to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/5681> (link is external) (D-18-PII-00007). Simultaneously, you must submit a pdf application to PKU, as instructed below. This position is subject to the Universities' background check policy. All application documents must be prepared in English and include the following:

A research proposal and time plan (max. 10 pages in total, including tables/figures and references);

Concise Curriculum Vitae (max. 4 pages in total);

Two recommendation letters (including one from the applicant's doctoral supervisor);

Two explicit endorsement letters by the potential supervisors, one at each university; and

One writing sample (not to exceed 10MB).

Incomplete submissions will not be considered.

Application deadline: Application deadline: 3/1/18, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Submission to PKU:

The complete application should be saved as one file in pdf format. Please email it to: Mr. Fan Deshang, Postdoctoral Affairs Office, Peking University boguanban@pku.edu.cn.

Administrative Coordinators: Please see our FAQ before contacting the coordinators.

Mr. Fan Deshang

Postdoctoral Affairs Office
Peking University
boguanban@pku.edu.cn

Ms. Yan Bennett
Paul and Marcia Wythes
Center on Contemporary China
Princeton University

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/1/2018
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 4034

Rhodes College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Methodology
Specializations: African American Politics, Latino Politics, Research Methods

Visiting Assistant Professor Position in American Politics
The Department of Political Science at Rhodes College, a highly selective, national liberal arts college located in Memphis, TN, invites applications for a one-year appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics, beginning in August 2018. Rhodes College is especially interested in attracting candidates from historically underrepresented groups and/or those with a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse and historically underrepresented populations. Applicants should demonstrate a commitment to teaching in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate must have classroom experience and must be able to teach the introductory survey course in U.S. Politics and the research methods course. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. We particularly encourage candidates to apply who could teach in the areas of race, ethnicity, and politics; or public policy. Preference will be given to candidates whose courses can contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Africana Studies, Educational Studies, Environmental Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latin American and Latinx Studies, or Urban Studies. The teaching responsibility is 3 courses per semester. The Ph. D. in political science is preferred. Founded in 1848, Rhodes College is a highly selective, private, residential, undergraduate college, located in Memphis, Tennessee. We aspire to graduate students with a lifelong passion for learning, a compassion for others, and the ability to translate academic study and personal concern into effective leadership and action in their communities and the world. We encourage applications from candidates interested in helping us achieve this vision.

Rhodes College values an inclusive and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity in the workforce.

Memphis has a metropolitan population of over one million and provides multiple opportunities for research and for cultural and recreational activities. <http://www.rhodes.edu/content/our-city>. Please apply online at jobs.rhodes.edu; only online applications will be accepted. Completed applications will include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, syllabi for the course in US Politics and the course in research methods, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are encouraged to address in their letter of application their interest in teaching at a liberal arts college, their teaching philosophy, and their proposed teaching contributions to the department. The application must also include a separate statement that addresses how the applicant will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department and in interdisciplinary programs, and how their experiences with teaching, scholarship and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values.

Review of completed applications will begin March 19, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The online application system will solicit letters of recommendation electronically from the candidate's recommenders, once their contact information has been entered by the candidate and all other required application materials have been submitted. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews. For further information, please contact Dr. Amy Jasperson, chair of the search committee, at jaspersona@rhodes.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/12/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4036

Slippery Rock University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Slippery Rock University (SRU) of Pennsylvania's Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position to commence in August 2018.

The successful candidate will teach four courses/three preparations per semester, including two sections of one of our introductory courses (e.g., American National Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations) each semester. In addition, over a two-year period, the candidate would teach at least one section of Introduction to Public Policy, Policy Analysis and Evaluation, and Research Methods courses. The candidate will also have the opportunity to develop and teach courses tied to the candidate's area of expertise. In general, the candidate will support the department's new Public Policy concentration, including advising students, creating opportunities for students outside of class, and engaging our community. Furthermore, we seek a creative individual whose professional experience and/or training would enable the individual to use high-impact teaching practices to offer courses which apply and tie together concepts in an engaging way and include, but are not limited to, courses on survey design and polling, issue advocacy and policy change, and campaign management and strategy.

The successful candidate must hold a PhD in political science, public policy, or public administration by the start date, with specific research and teaching interests, knowledge, and skills to support the Public Policy concentration. Furthermore, the successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to community engagement and active learning pedagogies. Successful performance in an on campus interview and teaching demonstration is also required.

Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate an interest in and ability to teach undergraduate courses in public opinion polling, issue advocacy, and/or campaign management. In addition, we encourage applications from candidates who provide evidence of successful teaching, advising, and/or mentoring students beyond the classroom.

Graduate and undergraduate transcripts are required for this position. Transcripts may be uploaded using the online system or submitted to the search chair at the address below.

At least 3 letters of reference are also required, they may be submitted by (1) uploading using the online system, (2) providing contact information (specifically email addresses) for references using the online system when solicited to do so as part of the application process or (3) mailing the letters to the search chair at the address below.

Heather Rice, Search Chair
Political Science Department
203 Spotts
Slippery Rock University
Slippery Rock, PA 16057

Official transcripts are required prior to appointment. Also required prior to appointment are copies of successful clearance forms, including Act 34 Background Check and Act 151 (Child Abuse) Background Check and Federal Criminal (FBI) clearance.

Full consideration will be given to applications received by February 26, 2018.

Apply at the link found here: <https://careers.sru.edu/postings/4590>

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 2/26/2018
Date Posted: 2/3/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4013

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professors in International Affairs/
Comparative Politics
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (National University of Singapore), a premier public policy institution in Asia, invites applications for full-time tenure track positions at the Assistant and Associate Professor level in International Relations/Comparative Politics. Candidates are expected to demonstrate evidence of a high level of competence in theoretically sound, empirically grounded policy-relevant research in International Relations/Comparative Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who work on (A) International Political Economy; (B) Global Governance; and (C) The International Relations of ASEAN/Southeast Asia. For positions (A) and (B), applicants whose research and writing focus on Asia will have an advantage. The School is interested in candidates with a strong commitment to publishing at the highest level and would particularly welcome applications with a demonstrated record of research excellence. The School has just launched a new 2-year Master in International Affairs (MIA) and it is keen to hire faculty who will contribute energetically to the new programme.

Candidates should possess the following: a PhD degree in the relevant discipline; have a commitment to research and teaching excellence; and an ability to engage with policy and research communities in Asia and around the world.

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit, in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file), the following:

- Cover note
  - Detailed curriculum vitae
  - Names of three references
  - Brief statement of past and current research
  - Top 5 publications
  - Three courses that you would be interested in teaching (please refer to <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/admissions/> for the list of courses)
- Those who have a teaching record should submit the following as well:
- Teaching dossier including teaching evaluations (for those who have a teaching record)
  - Representative samples of course outlines (for those who have a teaching record)

Please send the electronic submission to Ms Laura Lim, lkysppjoi-nus@nus.edu.sg.

Applicants may submit hard copies to the following address:

Ms Laura Lim
Senior Associate Director, Human Resources
Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy
National University of Singapore
469C Bukit Timah Road
Singapore 259772

The deadline for applications is open until filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified and it is possible that interviews will be held at the International Studies Association Annual Meeting in San Francisco in April. Interested candidates are encouraged to find out more about the National University of Singapore and the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/>.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/21/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3969

Aarhus University

Rank: Full professorship in leadership in the healthcare sector

Full professorship in leadership in the healthcare sector 957037

Department of Political Science at Aarhus BSS, Aarhus University invites applications for a full professorship with special focus on research in leadership in healthcare organizations.

Job description

The professorship is part of a major investment in scholarship that is relevant for improvements in public leadership, and the new professor will be part of a team that aims to make the public sector better through excellent research, strong leader development and continuous dialogue with practitioners. We are dedicated to excellence in leadership education, application and scholarship, and we are improving public organizations both nationally and internationally through research, teaching and dissemination. We are looking for eminent candidates who can develop our research, education and societal impact.

The professorship has been made possible by a substantial donation from the novo Nordisk Foundation that will allow the professor to hire a research team focused on leadership in healthcare.

The professor will be part of the very strong Public Administration section at Department of Political Science, Aarhus University. We collaborate with other disciplines at Aarhus University (Management, Economics, Psychology etc.), with national and international scholars from other universities, and with our colleagues from other sections at the department (for example Comparative Politics, Public Policy and Political Sociology).

The position is permanent. Key tasks are research, dissemination and teaching focused on healthcare leadership and management. The professor is expected to participate in seminars, workshops, examination and supervision of students at the department in general and in the Public Administration section in particular.

The successful candidate is expected to take up appointment as soon as possible after assessment.

Your qualifications

Applicants should have a strong academic background and demonstrate significant contributions to developments in the field. The applicant's potential for undertaking research, teaching and dissemination related to leadership in healthcare is especially important, but we also welcome applicants with a general leadership/management profile combined with an interest in the healthcare sector. The essential qualifications are thus:

- A proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced by a strong international reputation and recognized articles in top international journals.
- A track record of excellence in teaching in leadership, public administration and/or management.
- A clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications as well as a commitment to innovate teaching and dissemination.
- A track record of good citizenship in the wider academic community combined with commitment to contribute to a vibrant work environment in the whole department.
- Commitment to share insights and knowledge in the public debate, take societal responsibility and prioritize dialogue with practitioners.
- Experience with or commitment to teaching that gives students real-life competences as well as the ability to reflect critically on the world and its problems.
- The ability and willingness to attract external research funding.

Non-Danish speakers are required to attain reasonable knowledge of the Danish language within max. three years. The department will grant time off from teaching to attend Danish courses during the first two years of employment.

Permanent employment as professor at Aarhus BSS requires completion of the supervision course and also the course Blended Learning – Go Online provided by Centre for Teaching and Learning at Aarhus BSS. If you have not completed the courses before commencement of employment, continued employment will be conditional on completion of the courses within a five year period.

Who we are

The Department of Political Science is one of the six departments at Aarhus BSS and one of the four faculties at Aarhus University. Aarhus BSS unites the business and social science-related research fields and brings them closer together to reflect the close relationship between society and the business community. As part of a Top 100 university Aarhus BSS has achieved the distinguished AACSB, AMBA and EQUIS accreditations.

At the Department of Political Science, we emphasise a dynamic and flexible research and teaching profile characterised by pluralism and openness. With around 90 academic staff members and 40 PhD students, we offer a lively and ambitious research and teaching environment.

The research carried out at the department not only covers a variety of political science disciplines, but also represents a variety of methodological approaches. This not only enables us to focus on new problem areas as they appear on the national and international political arenas, but also allows us to contribute actively to the development of the discipline. We also emphasise communicating our research results to the political-administrative system and to the public in general.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit: <http://ps.au.dk/en/>

Further information

For further information about the position, please contact: Head of department, Professor Peter Munk Christiansen, phone +45 30115340, email: pmc@ps.au.dk

If you need help uploading your application or have any questions about the recruitment process, please contact HR supporter Mette Fisker Præstegaard, Tel.: +45 871 52497, email: mfp@au.dk

International applicant? Aarhus University offers a broad variety of services for international researchers and accompanying families, including relocation service and career counselling to expat partners. Please find more information about entering and working in Denmark here and here.

Place of work

Department of Political Science, Aarhus BSS, Aarhus University, Bartholins Allé 7, 8000 Aarhus C

Terms of employment

The appointment is in accordance with the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities as well as the circular on the Collective Agreement for Academics Employed by the State.

The job content and qualification requirements are described in further detail in Circular on Terms of Employment for Academic Staff at Universities.

Application procedure

It is obligatory to attach the following when you apply for this position:

- Application
- Curriculum Vitae. You are encouraged to declare any periods of leave without research activity, including, for example, maternity leave, since your research activities are assessed in relation to your actual research time
- Education (diploma for master's, PhD and possibly higher doctoral degree)
- List of publications (the enclosed publications must be clearly marked on the list of publications)
- Publications. Up to 10 publications can be included in the application. In the event of several authors the publications must be accompanied by a co-author statement concerning the applicant's share of the collaborative work with the consent of the co-authors. This form can be used for the purpose

- Teaching portfolio. The specific requirements regarding the documentation can be found here

Materials which cannot be uploaded together with the application may be submitted in five copies to Aarhus BSS HR & PhD, Aarhus University, Tåsningegade 1, 2nd floor, DK-8000 Aarhus C.

Read more about how to apply for an academic post at Aarhus BSS here.

The evaluation process

After the application deadline, an assessment committee is appointed. Please note that the assessment of applicants is based solely on the material received prior to the application deadline. For further information, see Guidelines for Assessment Committee, Aarhus BSS.

Read more about Aarhus BSS' professorship policy here.

All interested candidates are encouraged to apply regardless of personal background.

Deadline

All applications must be made online and received by:
03/04/2018

Please apply online here:

<http://www.au.dk/en/about/vacant-positions/scientific-positions/stillinger/Vacancy/show/957037/5283/>

Top

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 4/3/2018

Date Posted: 1/19/2018

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 3960

Alma College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor in US Politics and History

Alma College in Alma, Michigan invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor position in U.S. political science and history, beginning in August 2018, with the possibility of renewal for a second year. The successful candidate will teach six courses in American politics and history, equally divided between the Departments of History and Political Science. We especially welcome candidates who can contribute to inter-disciplinary programs, such as Public Affairs and Policy, Environmental Studies, etc. A Ph.D. in U.S. political science or history (with the qualifications to teach the other field) is required by August 2018.

Review of applications will begin on March 5, 2018. Please e-mail all application materials to Barbara Tripp (tripp@alma.edu)

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Transcripts
- Teaching Statement
- Contact Information for three references

A Phi Beta Kappa institution, Alma is a selective, baccalaureate liberal arts college committed to academic excellence and an equal opportunity employer committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty, staff and student body. For more information about the College, visit www.alma.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3963

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED

Political Science: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED. The position will begin in the 2018-19 academic year.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses across the public administration core curriculum for the undergraduate major in Public Administration and courses for the MA program and have substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis; develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and master's level graduate teaching, including the introduction to Public Administration and other advanced courses that contribute to the public administration major; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; take part in the undergraduate major in public administration, teach related courses for the MA program, contribute to all aspects of the departmental mission; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs.

Required: PhD by date of appointment in public policy, political science or a related field.

Consideration will be given to those with a specialty and/or an active research agenda in nonprofit organizations and have a background in quantitative methodology and "big data."

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=4587>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin January 31, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3860

Western Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Urban Politics

Western Michigan University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in American Politics beginning Fall 2018 at the rank of Assistant Professor, pending budgetary approval. Preferred areas of specialization include subnational politics (State and Local Politics and/or Urban Politics) and public policy. The candidate should have experience with (or interest in) the operation and growth of internship programs and other professional field experiences for undergraduates. Administrative and teaching responsibilities related to our internship program will account for a substantial part of the instructional workload associated with this position. Successful candidates are expected to have a well-defined research agenda, to be prepared to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, and should have a completed PhD by August, 2018.

Western Michigan University (WMU), located in Southwest Michigan, is a vibrant, nationally recognized student-centered research institution with an enrollment of nearly 25,000. WMU delivers high-quality undergraduate instruction, has a strong graduate division, and fosters significant research activities. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has placed WMU among the 76 public institutions in the nation designated as research universities with high research activities.

The Political Science Department offers Bachelors, Masters, and Ph.D. degrees with a unique opportunity for individuals seeking a balanced research and teaching career. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package. Please visit wmich.edu/hr/jobs for detailed information and application procedures. For additional questions, please contact Dr. John Clark (john.clark@wmich.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5346. Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2018, and continue until position is filled.

WMU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Minorities, women, veterans, individuals with disabilities and all other qualified individuals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 1/8/2018
Date Posted: 12/6/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3857

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Dickinson College seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position. Appointment begins in Fall 2018. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline (e.g. Government) is required; a Ph.D./J.D. is welcome.

Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in American politics and public policy as well as upper-level courses related to their research interests. The preferred candidate will be able to teach "The Judiciary" (federal and state) and topics covering a public policy issue area or areas. Dickinson College is located in a county seat and is immediately adjacent to the Penn State Dickinson Law school. As such, Dickinson has ready access to pedagogical, research, and internship resources for the study of law and public policy. The state capital Harrisburg is a 20-minute drive away and Washington DC two hours by car. The ability to create an inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse student body is vital. Dickinson is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students located approximately two-hour's drive from Washington, DC, Baltimore, MD, and Philadelphia, PA.

Review of applications will begin October 30 and will continue until the position is filled.

<https://jobs.dickinson.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/5/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3567

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenure Track Business and Public Policy Position

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Administration

The Business, Government & Society (BGS) Department in the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin teaches future leaders how to recognize and respond to the legal, ethical, social, and regulatory expectations that businesses face and contributes to important public policy debates through research that rigorously applies social science research methods to relevant questions at the intersection of business activity and government regulation.

BGS now invites applications for a tenure-track position starting in the 2018-2019 school year. The ideal candidate will possess a Ph.D. in political science or economics and have core research interest in areas such as political economy, CSR, business and public policy, and ethical decision making. Research interests in international political economy, sustainability, health care and technological innovation and regulation are a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrable methodological skill set, a rigorous research agenda relevant to business and its non-market environment, and the potential to publish in top journals in these areas.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/45561>

Additional information here: <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/28188>

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/3/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3560

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osulivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Immigration/Migration Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latino Politics, International Political Economy

Immigration and/or Migration Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to understanding immigration and/or migration. We seek a scholar whose research advances our understanding of the causes and consequences of these population movements. He or she may also study the social, political, economic, and demographic realignments that migrants produce in their communities of destination or origin. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, History, Sociology, Psychology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03189>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3328

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Social Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Welfare, Labor Politics, Economic Policy

Social Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to social policy. We seek a scholar whose research advances our knowledge of policies that address the economic and social disparities—inclusive of differences in geography, race, and ethnicity. His or her research may deepen our understanding of the changing dynamics of labor-market opportunities or how employment contributes to the social welfare of individuals and families. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, Sociology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03183>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3329

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, Latin American, Mexico

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2017-18 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2018.

Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2017 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01465>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3001