

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

June 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 6

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4

American Government and Politics 5

Comparative Politics

International Relations

Methodology

Non-Academic

Other

Political Theory

Public Administration

Public Law

Public Policy

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

June 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 6

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4 (3 listings)

American Government and Politics 5 (35 listings)

Comparative Politics (23 listings)

International Relations (31 listings)

Methodology (11 listings)

Non-Academic (14 listings)

Other (14 listings)

Political Theory (6 listings)

Public Administration (6 listings)

Public Law (25 listings)

Public Policy (listings)

Total listings this issue 168

Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for June

ADMINISTRATION

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center: Director
Subfield(s): Public Policy , Administration , American Government and Politics

The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center seeks a dynamic director who is passionate about the work of the Blanco Center to serve as Founding Director. The Director of the Blanco Center will lead the Center's efforts to provide policy expertise and data to elected officials and agencies, provide training to state and local officials, and host lectures, forums, and meetings on matters of public interest. The Director is a twelve-month administrative position. Potential for faculty status and tenure in an academic department dependent on qualifications.

Inspired by the leadership and vision of Kathleen Babineaux Blanco, Governor of Louisiana (2004-2008), the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has created the Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center (Blanco Center). The Blanco Center is an independent, interdisciplinary research center, bringing together experts from different academic departments to conduct research, analyze data, create white papers and write grants. The Blanco Center, which is a partnership between the College of Liberal Arts and the Edith Garland Dupre Library, will work primarily in the public policy areas emphasized by Governor Blanco during her long and distinguished career in state government. These include governmental ethics, criminal justice reform, poverty and economic opportunity, and education. The Blanco Center aims to provide policymakers and the public with the information necessary to improve lives and communities all across Louisiana. With this in mind, a special interest of the Center is promoting and expanding the role of women in politics and providing training for community leaders and elected officials. The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center serves the public interest through leadership in state and local policy.

The Center is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and reports to the Dean of that College. The Director is responsible for all activities and personnel working in the Center as well as superintending the Center's archives which includes Governor Blanco's records and papers.

For a full description and to apply, please visit <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=348> and upload Letter of Interest, Curriculum Vitae, and three references with contact information.

The review process will continue until the position is filled. For initial consideration please submit your application by July 15, 2018.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. The University of Louisiana, Lafayette is committed to the full inclusion of all qualified individuals.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4248

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center: Director
Subfield(s): Public Policy , Administration , American Government and Politics

The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center seeks a dynamic director who is passionate about the work of the Blanco Center to serve as Founding Director. The Director of the Blanco Center will lead the Center's efforts to provide policy expertise and data to elected officials and agencies, provide training to state and local officials, and host lectures, forums, and meetings on matters of public interest. The Director is a twelve-month administrative position. Potential for faculty status and tenure in an academic department dependent on qualifications.

Inspired by the leadership and vision of Kathleen Babineaux Blanco, Governor of Louisiana (2004-2008), the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has created the Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center (Blanco Center). The Blanco Center is an independent, interdisciplinary research center, bringing together experts from different academic departments to conduct research, analyze data, create white papers and write grants. The Blanco Center, which is a partnership between the College of Liberal Arts and the Edith Garland Dupre Library, will work primarily in the public policy areas emphasized by Governor Blanco during her long and distinguished career in state government. These include governmental ethics, criminal justice reform, poverty and economic opportunity, and education. The Blanco Center aims to provide policymakers and the public with the information necessary to improve lives and communities all across Louisiana. With this in mind, a special interest of the Center is promoting and expanding the role of women in politics and providing training for community leaders and elected officials. The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center serves the public interest through leadership in state and local policy.

The Center is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and reports to the Dean of that College. The Director is responsible for all activities and personnel working in the Center as well as superintending the Center's archives which includes Governor Blanco's records and papers.

For a full description and to apply, please visit <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=348>

and upload Letter of Interest, Curriculum Vitae, and three references with contact information.

The review process will continue until the position is filled. For initial consideration please submit your application by July 15, 2018.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. The University of Louisiana, Lafayette is committed to the full inclusion of all qualified individuals.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/16/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4249

Northwestern University in Qatar
Rank: Director of the Liberal Arts Program

Northwestern University in Qatar (NU-Q) seeks nominations and applications for the position of Director of its highly-regarded, undergraduate Liberal Arts Program. The next program director will oversee a program designed to broaden and enrich the study and understanding of human expression and interaction, taking full advantage of Northwestern's world-class reputation in media education and NU-Q's new, 515,000-square-foot, leading-edge media education center.

NU-Q is Northwestern University's first international campus and is located in Education City, Doha, which was established in partnership with Qatar Foundation in 2008 along with six leading American universities. The director will work with a creative and committed team of administrative and faculty colleagues to realize a unique program, built upon the proven curriculum at Northwestern's home campus as well as the special talent and resources available at the Qatar campus.

The ideal candidate will be a senior or midcareer scholar in the humanities, with preference given to those from English or American literature, and literary scholarship in area studies. An earned PhD is required. Candidates should have a record of publication and scholarly accomplishment commensurate with rank and position. A record of successful administrative leadership at the level of department or program chair or equivalent is also required. This experience should include planning, budgeting, program development, assessment, recruitment and support of faculty, curriculum development and planning, and the ability to work with strong and dedicated staff to realize the highest quality academic offerings. The Director of the Liberal Arts Program will lead a faculty of fourteen and teach undergraduate courses on topics related to his or her area of expertise. Additional information about the position can be found at www.wittkieffer.com.

The successful candidate will appreciate a culturally diverse community of students, faculty, and staff comprised of women and men from Qatar and around the world and join faculty colleagues whose teaching experience is drawn from many of the world's top academic institutions. In addition, the Director will work in collaboration with sister institutions in Education City that include Carnegie Mellon, Cornell, Georgetown, Texas A&M, and Virginia Commonwealth to expand the depth and reach of program offerings.

NU-Q faculty-in-residence receive generous support for research and faculty development as well a highly competitive salary and a package of benefits and overseas allowances. Rank for these non-tenured positions is based upon qualifications and experience.

Inquiries, nominations and applications are invited. For fullest consideration, applicant materials should be received by August 31. Applicants should provide a professional resume, a letter of application, a statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the names and contact information of five references. References will not be contacted without prior knowledge and approval of candidates. These materials should be submitted electronically via email to NU-Q's consultants Concetta M. Stewart, Ph.D., and Christine Pendleton at: NUQDirector-LA@wittkieffer.com. The consultants can be reached through the desk of Megan Shimkus at 630-575-6725.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 5/14/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4244

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Whittier College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science

Whittier College

Whittier College announces a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates specializing in Public Policy and American Politics, and capable of teaching a core course in Public Administration. We would be particularly interested in candidates who might also be able to contribute to any of the following additional areas: race and politics, minority politics, environmental politics, state and local politics with an emphasis on California, and/or political theory.

Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science prior to September 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate potential for outstanding teaching and excellence in scholarship. The Political Science Department has five full-time faculty and approximately 90 majors. Faculty members teach 20 units each year and are expected to teach college-wide courses such as First-year Writing Seminars and/or courses paired with faculty in other disciplines as part of our general education program. In addition, all faculty must be fully engaged in committee service and advisement of students.

Preliminary review of materials will begin September 10, and will continue until the appointment is made. If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association conference, please let us know, and send your c.v. and letter of application by August 1. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance. Full applications should include: a letter of application, including discussion of teaching philosophy and research interests; a curriculum vitae; a summary of course evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness; unofficial transcripts; and at least three confidential letters of recommendation, sent by your references. Please email (PDFs preferred) materials to Prof. Deborah Norden, Department Chair, at <mailto:dnorden@whittier.edu>. Paper application and reference letters can be sent to Prof. Deborah Norden, Political Science Department; Whittier College; 13406 Philadelphia St.; Whittier, CA 90601.

Whittier College is committed to attracting and retaining a high quality, diverse faculty with a shared passion for student-centered teaching and mentoring. It is distinguished by its small class sizes, high-impact pedagogies, and innovative liberal arts curriculum blended with professional and pre-professional programs. It is a nationally recognized model for diversity and has no racial majority among its student body. With over 60% students of color, Whittier is designated as both a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and Asian American Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution (AANAPISI). Founded in 1887, it is an independent, four-year liberal arts college with about 1,650 undergraduates and is ideally situated in the scenic hills 18 miles east of downtown Los Angeles. It is an AA/EOE employer. More information on the position is available at www.whittier.edu/jobs.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-4289f6e1d352e841a207bc2342f12ec7>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4275

University of Oxford

Rank: Departmental Lecturer in Comparative Politics in association with Magdalen College

Specializations: American Politics , African American Politics , Great Britain

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Oxford is seeking to appoint a full-time fixed-term Departmental Lecturer in Comparative Politics in association with Magdalen College from 1 September 2018 (or as soon as possible thereafter) until 31 August 2022 to provide cover for Professor Jane Gingrich, during her leadership of a European Research Council funded project.

The role will provide teaching and supervision for the Department of Politics and International Relations at the undergraduate and graduate level, while contributing to the Departmental examining and admissions processes and undertaking independent research in Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduates and contribute to course administration in Politics in Magdalen College.

The ideal candidate will hold a relevant PhD/DPhil by September 2018 (or be close to completion). He/she will be able to provide excellent class and tutorial teaching to high-achieving students at both the undergraduate and graduate level in the field of comparative politics, and to advise MPhil and DPhil students on their research projects.

Essential criteria also include a strong record of independent research and publication in highly-ranked, peer-reviewed journals or major presses, as well as an ability to commit to the full range of academic duties, including engaging in assessment along with a demonstrated willingness to contributing to the pastoral care of students alongside the progression of their own professional development.

Previous experience in teaching across a wide range of Politics courses, including Comparative Politics, and a regional specialism in European politics are desirable, but the search is open to all regional or other areas of specialisation.

Previous experience in teaching across a wide range of politics courses, including comparative politics, and a regional specialism European politics are desirable, but the search is open to all regional or other areas of specialisation.

The duties, responsibilities and skills required are described in more detail in the further particulars, (Vacancy ID: 134953) which also contains details on how to apply. These are available from: <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancies-and-jobs.html>. If you have any questions regarding the vacancy please contact vacancies@politics.ox.ac.uk.

The closing date for applications is 12.00 noon (UK time) on Wednesday 13th June 2018

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 6/13/2018

Date Posted: 5/29/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4268

Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: American Politics , Political Development , Presidency

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2019. Ph.D. preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in American political thought and American political development. Additional teaching and research areas might include power and the American presidency; religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; and rural and/or labor politics. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique. The department seeks candidates that have demonstrated a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS?

Applications received by September 15, 2018, will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a statement explaining how your skills and experience support the campus' commitment to diversity. Please arrange to have three letters of reference sent via Interfolio. Additional inquiries can be directed to Professor Jodi Dean, Search Chair, at jdean@hws.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4266

Barnard CollegeRank: Term Assistant Professors, Urban Studies Program

Posting Details

Position Information

Position Title

Term Assistant Professors, Urban Studies Program

Job Description Summary

The Barnard Urban Studies program is seeking applicants for two, full-time, one-year term teaching positions for academic year 2018-19. Both positions require teaching a total of five undergraduate courses. Salary is competitive and benefits are included.

1) Urban anthropologist interested in leading a yearlong senior thesis seminar using ethnographic field methods in New York City, teaching Introduction to Urban Ethnography, and two additional urban electives.

2) Urban political scientist, geographer, or economist who could teach our Junior Seminar (a research-skills oriented course in the area of instructor's interest) and four additional urban electives, preferably including American Urban Politics. Region is open and scholars with both North American and global research will be considered.

Undergraduate teaching experience is an important qualification for both positions.

The Barnard Urban Studies program serves Barnard College, Columbia College, and the College of General Studies at Columbia University. We offer an interdisciplinary undergraduate degree that balances breadth and depth and emphasizes student research and engagement. If you have questions about the program or positions, please contact Aaron Passell, Co-Director, at apassell@barnard.edu.

To apply: please provide cv, cover letter, sample syllabuses for urban studies courses, and the contact information for 2 references to: <http://careers.barnard.edu/postings/3452>. Review of the applications will begin immediately and will continue until the positions are filled.

Type of Position

Faculty

Department

Urban Studies

Full or Part Time

Full Time

Position End Date (if temporary)

06/30/2019

Position Summary Information

Essential Duties Summary

Please see Job Description Summary above

Required Qualification Summary

Undergraduate teaching experience is an important qualification for both positions.

Posting Detail Information

EEO Statement

Barnard College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Barnard does not discriminate due to race, color, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender and/or gender identity or expression, marital or parental status, national origin, ethnicity, citizenship status, veteran or military status, age, disability, or any other legally protected basis, and to the extent permitted by law. Qualified candidates of diverse ethnic and racial backgrounds are encouraged to apply for vacant positions at all levels.

Open Date

04/23/2018

Open Until Filled

Yes

Additional Information

CV, Cover Letter

Supplemental Questions

Required fields are indicated with an asterisk (*).

Applicant Documents

Required Documents

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Cover Letter/Letter of Application

Optional Documents

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/9brzcgbtfw7rwy>

PI102562194

Start Date:Application Deadline: 6/22/2018Date Posted: 5/23/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4264Trinity University*Rank: Assistant Professor*Specializations: Urban Politics , Congress , American Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. Candidates should have the PhD completed by summer 2019.

Trinity University values both strong teaching and research. The successful candidate is expected to maintain a strong research agenda, supported by biennial summer research stipends and pre-tenure academic leave. The candidate will teach the lower division survey course in American politics and upper division courses in urban politics, public policy, and legislative politics. The candidate will also be expected to contribute to the university's general education curriculum and strategic plan. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. The teaching load consists of five courses per academic year.

Trinity University is an equal opportunity employer and as such provides equal opportunity for employment and advancement of all employees without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, military/veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any status protected by federal, state, or local laws.

Applicants must submit a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching effectiveness, writing sample, and transcripts to David Crockett, Department of Political Science, Trinity University, One Trinity Place, San Antonio, TX 78212. Phone: (210) 999-8344. Email: dcrocket@trinity.edu.

The position will remain open until filled. Deadline for receipt of applications is September 21, 2018. The department will be interviewing at the APSA annual conference in Boston, and strongly urges applicants to participate in that process.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/23/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4265

University of Chicago

Rank: Lecturer in the European Civilization Core and the Program in Law, Letters & Society

The Social Sciences Collegiate Division at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for a full-time Lecturer to contribute to both the undergraduate European Civilizations Core and the program in Law, Letters and Society. The term is for two years, renewable after review, beginning September 1, 2018. The salary is $65,000 plus applicable University benefits.

Duties include teaching a maximum of six courses, divided between European Civilizations and courses in support of Law, Letters, and Society. The Lecturer will teach a minimum of two courses per quarter. The Lecturer is required to participate in weekly staff meetings, attend other course-related events, and hold regular office hours for European Civilizations while advising individual students and contributing to program development for Law, Letters, and Society.

To learn more about these two programs please see <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/civilizationstudies/> and <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/lawlettersandsociety/>.

The position requires a J.D., and a record of teaching at the college level. Graduate training in history or related discipline a plus.

To be considered for this position you must submit your application through the University of Chicago Academic Career Opportunities website, <https://academiccareers.uchicago.edu>, select requisition #03743, and upload the following: 1) cover letter describing your academic specialty and teaching interests; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) teaching statement that describes prior teaching experience and pedagogical approaches; 4) recent teaching evaluations (no more than three years old); 5) proof of J.D. (copy of diploma or official transcript); 6) the names and contact information for three references.

This position is included in a bargaining unit represented by Local 73 of the Service Employees International Union.

Applications must be completed by June 23, 2018. Only applications with all required materials and reference letters uploaded will be considered.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non_discrimination_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 6/23/2018

Date Posted: 5/23/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4263

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Research Methods, Women & Politics, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a one-year only visiting assistant professor for the 2018-19 academic year. The successful candidate will teach three courses each semester in his or her area of expertise. We are interested in candidates who can teach Undergraduate Research Methods; Women, Politics, and Public Policy; Environmental Policy; and/or International Relations but will consider all applicants carefully for the position. A PhD in political science, international affairs, or a related discipline is required.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public, land-grant University. The Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the C-SPAN Center for Scholarship and Engagement, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon at polisci@purdue.edu. Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's qualifications for the position.

Review of applications will begin May 31, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Dr. Eric Waltenburg, ewaltenb@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EEO/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4258

University of Southern Mississippi

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The School of Social Science and Global Studies at The University of Southern Mississippi invites applications for a full-time Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science for the 2018-19 academic year. The position is open with respect to subfield, but requires strong teaching credentials. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to our introductory American Politics course, as well as those with experience teaching Race and Politics or American Political Institutions. An ability to teach Comparative Politics, or other subfield, is also preferred. The School strongly values and encourages interdisciplinary collaboration in teaching and scholarship. Our School offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2018-2019 academic year. Applicants should apply at jobs.usm.edu.

Founded in 1910, The University of Southern Mississippi is a comprehensive doctoral and research-driven university with a proud history and an eye on the future. A dual-campus university, Southern Miss serves students on campuses in Hattiesburg and Long Beach, in addition to five teaching and research sites in Mississippi and through Online at Southern Miss. Since 2006, Southern Miss students have collected seven Goldwater Scholarships, three Truman Scholarships and 16 National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships. Our Drapeau Center for Undergraduate Research affords our students meaningful research opportunities, and as a proven leader in innovation, we conduct transformative research that translates into real-world solutions. As one of only 36 institutions in the nation accredited in art, dance, music and theatre, we are a haven for creativity and artistic expression. In the classroom or lab, on the playing field, or in the performance hall, we strive to have a positive impact not only on our students, but also the world around us. Further information is found at www.usm.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4247

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center: Director
Subfield(s): Public Policy , Administration , American Government and Politics

The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center seeks a dynamic director who is passionate about the work of the Blanco Center to serve as Founding Director. The Director of the Blanco Center will lead the Center's efforts to provide policy expertise and data to elected officials and agencies, provide training to state and local officials, and host lectures, forums, and meetings on matters of public interest. The Director is a twelve-month administrative position. Potential for faculty status and tenure in an academic department dependent on qualifications.

Inspired by the leadership and vision of Kathleen Babineaux Blanco, Governor of Louisiana (2004-2008), the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has created the Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center (Blanco Center). The Blanco Center is an independent, interdisciplinary research center, bringing together experts from different academic departments to conduct research, analyze data, create white papers and write grants. The Blanco Center, which is a partnership between the College of Liberal Arts and the Edith Garland Dupre

Library, will work primarily in the public policy areas emphasized by Governor Blanco during her long and distinguished career in state government. These include governmental ethics, criminal justice reform, poverty and economic opportunity, and education. The Blanco Center aims to provide policymakers and the public with the information necessary to improve lives and communities all across Louisiana. With this in mind, a special interest of the Center is promoting and expanding the role of women in politics and providing training for community leaders and elected officials. The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center serves the public interest through leadership in state and local policy.

The Center is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and reports to the Dean of that College. The Director is responsible for all activities and personnel working in the Center as well as superintending the Center's archives which includes Governor Blanco's records and papers.

For a full description and to apply, please visit <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&cid=348> and upload Letter of Interest, Curriculum Vitae, and three references with contact information.

The review process will continue until the position is filled. For initial consideration please submit your application by July 15, 2018.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. The University of Louisiana, Lafayette is committed to the full inclusion of all qualified individuals.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4248

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center: Director
Subfield(s): Public Policy , Administration , American Government and Politics

The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center seeks a dynamic director who is passionate about the work of the Blanco Center to serve as Founding Director. The Director of the Blanco Center will lead the Center's efforts to provide policy expertise and data to elected officials and agencies, provide training to state and local officials, and host lectures, forums, and meetings on matters of public interest. The Director is a twelve-month administrative position. Potential for faculty status and tenure in an academic department dependent on qualifications.

Inspired by the leadership and vision of Kathleen Babineaux Blanco, Governor of Louisiana (2004-2008), the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has created the Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center (Blanco Center). The Blanco Center is an independent, interdisciplinary research center, bringing together experts from different academic departments to conduct research, analyze data, create white papers and write grants. The Blanco Center, which is a partnership between the College of Liberal Arts and the Edith Garland Dupre Library, will work primarily in the public policy areas emphasized by Governor Blanco during her long and distinguished career in state government. These include governmental ethics, criminal justice reform, poverty and economic opportunity, and education. The Blanco Center aims to provide policymakers and the public with the information necessary to improve lives and communities all across Louisiana. With this in mind, a special interest of the Center is promoting and expanding the role of women in politics and providing training for community leaders and elected officials. The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center serves the public interest through leadership in state and local policy.

The Center is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and reports to the Dean of that College. The Director is responsible for all activities and personnel working in the Center as well as superintending the Center's archives which includes Governor Blanco's records and papers.

For a full description and to apply, please visit <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&cid=348> and upload Letter of Interest, Curriculum Vitae, and three references with contact information.

The review process will continue until the position is filled. For initial consideration please submit your application by July 15, 2018.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. The University of Louisiana, Lafayette is committed to the full inclusion of all qualified individuals.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4249

Princeton University

Rank: Senior Research Scholar, James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics , Comparative Politics , Political Theory

Specializations: American Politics , Constitutional Law & Theory , Political Thought: Historical

The James Madison Program seeks candidates for a position as Senior Research Scholar, to begin February 1, 2019, or later.

Reporting to the Director of the James Madison Program, the successful candidate will:

*conduct research and publish in his or her field(s) of expertise

*be available to provide guidance on research and teaching to more junior scholars affiliated with the Madison Program, and to advise junior papers and senior theses with the approval of the Dean of the Faculty

*participate in the scholarly activities of the Madison Program

*offer Freshman Seminars when approved by the Dean of the College and Dean of the Faculty

*with approval of the Dean of the Faculty, and at the invitation of the Department of Politics, teach courses in Politics, including POL 332: Topics in American Statesmanship

QUALIFICATIONS

A distinguished record of scholarly accomplishment and intellectual leadership, with a commitment to the highest standards of excellence in research, in American statesmanship, the history of American politics, and American constitutional and political thought

Extensive teaching experience

PhD in a relevant field

This position is subject to the University's background check policy and review and approval by the Committee on Appointments and Advancements for the Professional Researchers and Professional Specialists.

How to apply: Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/6821>.

A complete application will include the following:

- * a cover letter;
- * a curriculum vitae;
- * contact information for three references.

The deadline for application materials is 11:59 p.m. EST on June 13, 2018.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.

Executive Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu

Web address: <http://web.princeton.edu/sites/jmadison/>