Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

ADMINISTRATION

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts

Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts

The Pennsylvania State University (Penn State) seeks candidates for the position of Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts (CLA). The Dean serves as the principal academic and administrative officer of CLA and reports to the Executive Vice President and Provost of the University. The Dean holds the Susan Welch Dean's Chair endowed in honor of the current Dean, who is retiring after 27 years in the position. The next Dean will have an unparalleled opportunity to lead a college integral to the mission of the University, develop innovative strategies to leverage the disciplinary diversity of the CLA, and promote and further develop the research strengths of its departments in the humanities and social sciences. CLA seeks a Dean who will be an unwavering advocate for the value of a liberal arts education and will build upon its current status as a premier public liberal arts college, leading the faculty, staff, and students toward a unifying vision for its future. With almost 7,000 undergraduate and graduate students in residence and 3,000 more online through Penn State World Campus, CLA is one of the largest academic colleges at Penn State. It has 21 departments and schools offering 47 undergraduate majors and 21 graduate programs. The Dean will foster a shared vision for the College that supports the University's commitment to research and teaching excellence, and to prepare students for life as knowledgeable and engaged citizens in a diverse and changing world. The College of the Liberal Arts seeks an accomplished scholar with a track record of transformative leadership and an understanding of and passionate commitment to both public higher education and the importance of the liberal arts. The Dean will be an architect of relationships, serving as an engaged and visible leader both on campus and beyond, with a transparent, approachable, and facilitative management style. Penn State has partnered with Isaacson, Miller, a national executive search firm, to help with this recruitment. Confidential inquiries, nominations, and applications should be directed to the firm as directed below. ELECTRONIC SUBMISSION IS STRONGLY PREFERRED. Michael Baer, Natalie Leonhard, or Sherlene Parsons Isaacson, Miller, 1300 19th Street, NW, Suite 700, Washington, D.C. 20036. <http://www.imsearch.com/6616>

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center: Director
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, American Government and Politics

The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center seeks a dynamic director who is passionate about the work of the Blanco Center to serve as Founding Director. The Director of the Blanco Center will lead the Center's efforts to provide policy expertise and data to elected officials and agencies, provide training to state and local officials, and host lectures, forums, and meetings on matters of public interest. The Director is a twelve-month administrative position. Potential for faculty status and tenure in an academic department dependent on qualifications.

Inspired by the leadership and vision of Kathleen Babineaux Blanco, Governor of Louisiana (2004-2008), the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has created the Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center (Blanco Center). The Blanco Center is an independent, interdisciplinary research center, bringing together experts from different academic departments to conduct research, analyze data, create white papers and write grants. The Blanco Center, which is a partnership between the College of Liberal Arts and the Edith Garland Dupre Library, will work primarily in the public policy areas emphasized by Governor Blanco during her long and distinguished career in state government. These include governmental ethics, criminal justice reform, poverty and economic opportunity, and education. The Blanco Center aims to provide policymakers and the public with the information necessary to improve lives and communities all across Louisiana. With this in mind, a special interest of the Center is promoting and expanding the role of women in politics and providing training for community leaders and elected officials. The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center serves the public interest through leadership in state and local policy.

The Center is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and reports to the Dean of that College. The Director is responsible for all activities and personnel working in the Center as well as superintending the Center's archives which includes Governor Blanco's records and papers.

For a full description and to apply, please visit <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=348> and upload Letter of Interest, Curriculum Vitae, and three references with contact information.

The review process will continue until the position is filled. For initial consideration please submit your application by July 15, 2018.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. ## AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Barnard College-Columbia University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

Barnard College is a highly selective liberal arts college for women, affiliated with Columbia University. The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the field of American Politics. We are open to exact area of specialization, but are particularly interested in a candidate with expertise in the politics of race and ethnicity, gender, or institutions, broadly defined. We are especially interested in applicants who can make connections to at least one of Barnard's many interdisciplinary programs and establish professional networks in the broader New York and/or Washington DC policy communities that might benefit our students.

Applicants must have completed the PhD, show promise in their scholarship (hold the prospect of publication in major refereed journals and as a university press book in political science), and have demonstrated excellence in teaching at or beyond the level of teaching assistant.

Barnard College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is actively committed to creating a diverse and inclusive community. We especially encourage applications from women, people of color, persons with disabilities, LGBT people, people from diverse economic backgrounds, and individuals from other underrepresented groups.

Applications should include a cover letter describing research and teaching interests; a curriculum vitae; one dissertation chapter or published writing sample; and an unofficial graduate transcript; and the contact information for three letters of recommendation. Recommended additional documents include teaching evaluations and syllabi for courses taught independently (or potential courses the applicant would like to teach). Please submit these under the optional "other document" upload field.

Please apply online to: <http://careers.barnard.edu/postings/3505>.

Applications must be received by September 15, 2018 to receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Wesleyan University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

AMERICAN POLITICS / PUBLIC LAW

Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Politics (Public Law)

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics with a specialty in public law. The appointment begins July 1, 2019. To be hired as an Assistant Professor candidates must have in hand by the time of appointment a PhD in political science or a related field. A successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not yet have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment, but must complete the PhD in political science or a related field within one year of hire. Applicants should be prepared to teach the introductory American government course, a course in American Constitutional Law, and other courses in public law. The teaching load is two courses per semester. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, carrying on a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the department and university levels.

Applications received by September 17, 2018, will receive full consideration. To apply, please go to <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/6414>. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (7) sample syllabi if available.

As part of the cover letter or teaching statement we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body. You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (please double-check the accuracy of the email addresses of the referees you name to be sure that you have the most up-to-date email addresses for each one).

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Deborah Colucci, Equity Compliance Director & Deputy Title IX Coordinator, 860-685-2456, dcolucci@wesleyan.edu.

Please contact Ms. Kristin McQueeney (kmcqueeney@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department administrative assistant, if you have questions about the application process.

Santa Clara University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: State Politics, Political Behavior, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Santa Clara University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in U.S. Politics, to begin fall 2019, with a specialization in either public policy, state and local politics, or political behavior. Applicants must have a PhD at the time of appointment, experience teaching at the university level, and a clear research trajectory, with a record of publication strongly preferred. To support SCU's strategic priority of engagement with Silicon Valley, we are especially interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching will promote student engagement with the local community, e.g. by involving students in a locally-focused research project or by integrating an experiential-learning component into a course. The person we hire will contribute to the Department's offerings in public-sector studies by teaching upper-division courses in her/his area of specialty, will contribute to the University's core curriculum by teaching Introduction to U.S. Politics, and may occasionally be called upon to teach Introduction to Political Science Research.

The application deadline is August 24, 2018. Applicants should submit: (1) a CV, (2) a letter articulating teaching areas and philosophy, research plans, as well as experiences working with people of diverse cultures and identities, (3) teaching evaluations, (4) sample syllabi, (5) a writing sample (no more than 40 pages), and (6) unofficial graduate transcripts. Three letters of reference will be automatically solicited through the applicant portal system upon submission of the application. The application portal can be found at <https://jobs.scu.edu/postings/7369>.

Located in the heart of northern California's Silicon Valley, Santa Clara is a private, Jesuit, Catholic university committed to promoting social justice in a comprehensive educational setting. It is an AA/EOE employer. Faculty are teaching-scholars who balance a commitment to quality teaching with active programs of research. A full-time teaching load is 7 courses over three 10-week quarters, with a 1-course reduction for research. Faculty receive scholarship support through sabbaticals and travel funds. Housing assistance is available.

Wellesley College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wellesley College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics to begin in the academic year 2019-2020.

We are seeking candidates with expertise in a wide range of fields; the only exception is law, in which we are already well-staffed. We are particularly interested in the politics of race and ethnicity, minority politics, immigration politics, urban politics, media and politics, and public opinion in the United States. We are also interested in candidates who can teach an introductory methods course, whether qualitative, quantitative, or some combination. The person hired will also be expected to teach our introductory course in American politics.

Wellesley is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, research, and service that they can contribute to this goal. Familiarity with, and experience using, pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, and socio-economic groups to reach their maximum potential will be considered a valuable additional qualification.

Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in a liberal arts environment. Faculty members teach two courses per semester.

Ph.D. completed or near completed preferred, ABD considered. All applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vita, a sample of your research, teaching materials (for example student evaluations or sample syllabi), your graduate transcript, and three letters of reference.

All materials should be submitted online by visiting our application website at <https://career.wellesley.edu>. The deadline for receipt of all application materials is September 17, 2018. ## University of Chicago

Rank: Lecturer in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

Req # 03759

The University of Chicago invites applications for a Lecturer in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a new, full-time position in CIR's one-year MA program in international relations. The initial appointment is for a two-year term, preferably beginning September 2018.

CIR is the nation's oldest graduate program in international relations, awarding the Master of Arts degree in International Relations to approximately 60-70 students per year.

The successful applicant will teach four graduate courses in the first year and five in the second year; advise MA student theses; and participate in admissions, student mentoring, and student recruitment. Specific course assignments will be determined in consultation with the Faculty Chair and Senior Lecturers, and will include a mix survey and specialized courses.

The ideal candidate is expected to maintain a high level of active engagement with the field at large in order to ensure the UChicago curriculum reflects the state of research. Diverse methodological and substantive research agendas are welcome. To be eligible, candidates must have defended the PhD by September 1, 2018. Applicants must also have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring students.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/yaxm3opv>. The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) Syllabi for two proposed courses, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin July 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Paul Staniland, at paul@uchicago.edu for updates on the status of the search.

University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. ### Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: American Politics, Political Development, Presidency

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2019. Ph.D. preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in American political thought and American political development. Additional teaching and research areas might include power and the American presidency; religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; and rural and/or labor politics. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique. The department seeks candidates that have demonstrated a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Applications received by September 15, 2018, will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center: Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, American Government and Politics

The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center seeks a dynamic director who is passionate about the work of the Blanco Center to serve as Founding Director. The Director of the Blanco Center will lead the Center's efforts to provide policy expertise and data to elected officials and agencies, provide training to state and local officials, and host lectures, forums, and meetings on matters of public interest. The Director is a twelve-month administrative position. Potential for faculty status and tenure in an academic department dependent on qualifications.

Inspired by the leadership and vision of Kathleen Babineaux Blanco, Governor of Louisiana (2004-2008), the University of Louisiana at Lafayette has created the Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center (Blanco Center). The Blanco Center is an independent, interdisciplinary research center, bringing together experts from different academic departments to conduct research, analyze data, create white papers and write grants. The Blanco Center, which is a partnership between the College of Liberal Arts and the Edith Garland Dupre Library, will work primarily in the public policy areas emphasized by Governor Blanco during her long and distinguished career in state government. These include governmental ethics, criminal justice reform, poverty and economic opportunity, and education. The Blanco Center aims to provide policymakers and the public with the information necessary to improve lives and communities all across Louisiana. With this in mind, a special interest of the Center is promoting and expanding the role of women in politics and providing training for community leaders and elected officials. The Kathleen Babineaux Blanco Public Policy Center serves the public interest through leadership in state and local policy.

The Center is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and reports to the Dean of that College. The Director is responsible for all activities and personnel working in the Center as well as superintending the Center's archives which includes Governor Blanco's records and papers.

For a full description and to apply, please visit <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=348> and upload Letter of Interest, Curriculum Vitae, and three references with contact information.

The review process will continue until the position is filled. For initial consideration please submit your application by July 15, 2018.

Bradley University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Bradley University
Assistant professor
Start Date: August 15, 2019
Application deadline: September 15, 2018
Salary: Competitive
Specialization: American Politics/Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Bradley University is seeking candidates for a tenure track position in American government at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in American politics and political behavior; publish scholarly research; and engage in service to the institution. Continued professional development is expected and will be supported, but a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence is essential. Candidates able to teach in a second (open) field are preferred. Opportunities to teach online or hybrid courses are available. Applicants must have Ph.D. in hand by August 2019. The successful candidate must be eligible to work in the United States.

More information about the Department of Political Science can be found at <https://www.bradley.edu/academic/departments/polisci/>.

Applicants should submit via email a letter of interest, a current vita, three letters of recommendation, sample course syllabi, teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and one sample of professional writing (published work preferred). Information regarding how the candidate can contribute to diversity in teaching, research, or service should be provided either within the teaching and/or research statements or in a stand-alone diversity statement. Submissions should be made to Professor Craig Curtis, the chair of the search committee, at plsamerpol@fsmail.bradley.edu.

Preference will be given to applications received by September 15, 2018; review will continue until the position is filled. Salary is competitive.

Employment with Bradley University is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of a criminal background check.

Bradley University is a top-ranked, private university in Peoria, Illinois, offering 5,400 undergraduate and graduate students the opportunities, choices and resources of a larger university and the personal attention and exceptional learning experience of a smaller university. Bradley offers a comprehensive array of undergraduate and graduate academic programs in business, communications, education, engineering, fine arts, health sciences, liberal arts and sciences, and technology. The University is located on an 85-acre campus in the largest metropolitan area in central Illinois.

Bradley University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative action employer. The administration, faculty, and staff are committed to attracting qualified candidates from underrepresented groups.

East Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

The Department of Political Science is one of sixteen departments in the Thomas Harriot College of Arts and Sciences at East Carolina University. ECU is located in Greenville, North Carolina, a rapidly growing city of approximately 90,000. Greenville is located about 80 miles east of Raleigh and is within a short drive to the Outer Banks and other Atlantic Ocean beaches. In 2012, Greenville was ranked in the top ten of Forbes Magazine's "Best Small Places for Business and Careers."

Greenville is known as the health, entertainment and educational hub of eastern North Carolina.

The Department is composed of 14 full-time faculty. It offers BS and BA degrees in political science and minors in public administration, comparative politics/international relations, leadership studies, and security studies at the undergraduate level. It is also home to the multidisciplinary studies majors in security studies and international studies. At the graduate level, it offers a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration degree, a Master of Science in Security Studies and certificates in public management and security studies. It emphasizes excellent teaching, quality research, and a tradition of service to the community, the university, and the discipline. More information about the department can be found at its home page: <http://www.ecu.edu/polsci>.

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, fixed-term position at the title of Teaching Assistant Professor to begin August 13, 2018. The successful candidate will become one of the faculty members in the Department of Political Science with primary teaching responsibilities in the Security Studies program and will be expected to teach at both the graduate and undergraduate levels in the classroom and online. Teaching load will be a 4:4. Service to the university, community and profession is expected. Salary is competitive.

A PhD in Political Science or a related field, such as International Relations or National Security Studies. The position is open in terms of regional or issue-area specialization within the broader security-related context. Qualifying degrees must be received from appropriately accredited institutions. Teaching experience at the graduate and undergraduate levels is required.

Given the department's current needs, preference will be given to candidates who have experience (studies, teaching, and/or research) in Middle East and/or Homeland Security. Distance education teaching experience is strongly preferred.

To apply, complete a candidate profile and submit a letter of interest, curriculum vita and statement of research interests and teaching experience/philosophy online at www.jobs.ecu.edu. Arrange for three current, signed, original letters of reference to be sent to: Dr. Armin Krishnan, Chair, Security Studies Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Mail Stop 564, East Carolina University, Greenville, NC 27858-4353 (krishnana@ecu.edu). Official transcripts are required upon employment. Review of applications will begin on 04/18/2018 and continue until the position is filled

In order to be considered for this position, applicants must complete a candidate profile online via the PeopleAdmin system and submit any requested documents. Additionally, applicants that possess the preferred education and experience must also possess the minimum education/experience, if applicable.

Applications will be considered until position is filled. Please submit an online ECU application for vacancy # 939002 to ECU Human Resources at <http://jobs.ecu.edu>.

Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: VAP American Politics and American Political Thought

Visiting Assistant Professor (One Year)

Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a one year visiting position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning Fall 2018. Ph.D preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper level courses in American political thought and American political development. Other teaching and research areas might include religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; rural and/or labor politics; and power and the American presidency. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Applications received by March 16, 2018 will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled. The department will conduct preliminary reviews at this year's WPSA meeting in San Francisco. Applicants should indicate whether they will be attending the meeting.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and arrange to have three letters of reference sent. Applicants should submit all materials through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/48507>. The Department of Political Science at the University of Maine invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track academic-year faculty position in Political Theory and U.S. Constitutional Law at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2018.

Responsibilities and Duties: This position includes teaching, research, and service. The faculty member will maintain a productive research program. The standard teaching load is 2/3, with a mix of introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses. Teaching and service responsibilities include holding regular office hours, advising students on their course of study, aiding them in the registration process, advising students in pre-law and the interdisciplinary minor in Legal Studies, developing relationships with the Maine legal community, and participating actively in the internal governance of the department and representing it in interactions with the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and university communities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected.

Qualifications: We are interested in hiring a broadly trained political theorist who can teach courses in the history of political thought and contemporary political theory as well as on U.S. constitutional law and related topics. Additional requirements include evidence of ability for success in university-level teaching and evidence of ability to develop and pursue a research agenda, including peer-reviewed publications, in the candidate's area of expertise. ABDs may apply but a Ph.D. in Political Science or equivalent field is required by the start of the position.

Application: Applicants should submit a letter of application describing their credentials and experience relative to the qualifications above, a current C.V., official or unofficial graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations, a one page teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. Additional information, such as official transcripts, course syllabi, and writing samples may be requested at a later time. Review of applications will begin immediately, and continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by February 10, 2018 will be assured full consideration.

Incomplete applications cannot be considered. Appropriate background checks will be required. Applicants should submit applications electronically to: <https://umaine.hiretouch.com>. Letters of Reference should be emailed to polisci@maine.edu. Specific questions may be addressed to Amy Fried, Professor and Chair, Department of Political Science, amyfried@maine.edu, 207-581-1797.

We are a faculty that values work-life balance and particularly maintaining a productively collegial workplace. ## SUNY, University at Buffalo

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University at Buffalo (SUNY) seeks well-qualified candidates for a Clinical Assistant Professor/Instructor position in Political Science, starting in August 2018. This is a 3-year appointment with the possibility of renewal. Candidates must be minimally ABD in political science or a related field; a Ph.D. is preferred.

The standard teaching load for this position is four courses per semester, but a course release will be granted for serving as the pre-Law advisor. Candidates must be able to offer courses in public law and an introductory (100-level) course in either International Relations, Comparative Politics, or American Politics. Preference will be given to candidates who are capable of teaching upper-division courses in a second field in addition to public law.

Female and minority candidates are especially sought for this position. The University at Buffalo is an EO/AA employer. Candidates must submit the following materials electronically at <http://www.ubjobs.buffalo.edu/postings/14896> or <https://www.ubjobs.buffalo.edu/> by referencing posting number F1800076: a letter of application stating what courses they are prepared to teach, a teaching statement, CV, and a list of three professional references. Finalists may be asked for teaching evaluations and graduate transcripts.

Review of applications will begin on July 10, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about the position can be directed to Professor Harvey Palmer, Department Chair, by email at hpalmer@buffalo.edu or by regular mail at: Department of Political Science, 520 Park Hall, University at Buffalo, State University of New York, Buffalo, NY 14260.

Lake Forest College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in comparative politics, to begin August 2019. The Department is open to regions of expertise but will seek applicants who can address global, transnational issues such as environmentalism, human rights, migration, political and economic development, or others.

The College has a significant program in International Relations which is interdisciplinary but relies heavily on the Department of Politics for courses and advisors; the successful candidate will contribute to IR. The College also has programs in Asian Studies, Gender and Women's Studies, Islamic World Studies, Latin American Studies, Legal Studies, and Social Justice; contribution to any of those is a plus. We seek an instructor to teach multiple sections of Introduction to Global Politics in addition to offering other courses in comparative and global politics. Candidates must be able to teach a research methods course, required of students majoring in politics or international relations, that includes quantitative methods.

Candidates will be expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and evidence of scholarly productivity, commensurate with experience. A Ph.D. in political science must be completed by the time of appointment. Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through provision of student research assistants and summer research funds; successful passage of the third-year review earns a half-year sabbatical at full pay, in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year.

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago's North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,600 students from more than 40 states and from more than 70 countries. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member's teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. The College also expects peer-reviewed publications and active participation in the College community. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

All application materials must be submitted electronically. Applicants should send a letter of application, CV, sample syllabi for no more than two courses, an unofficial transcript (we will ask for official transcripts only of candidates invited for on campus interviews), evidence of teaching effectiveness (in the form of student evaluations), and a brief writing sample (no more than ten pages; it may be an excerpt from a longer work) to Polsearch2018@lakeforest.edu. Please arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent to Polsearch2018@lakeforest.edu. Review of completed applications will begin as early as October 1, 2018. Questions about the position should be addressed to the department chair, Professor Siobhan Moroney, moroney@lakeforest.edu.

The Department will conduct a few interviews at the APSA meeting in Boston. If you are interested in scheduling one, send only a cover letter and CV to Siobhan Moroney, moroney@lakeforest.edu. We will give full consideration to applicants not attending the APSA conference.

The primary fields are Comparative Politics and International Relations; secondary area(s) of expertise are open with the exception of Political Theory/Philosophy and Latin America. The appointment will begin no later than August 22, 2019. The curriculum in this area is not set so there is opportunity to develop new courses in the applicant's area of expertise. The successful candidate should understand the land-grant mission of SDSU.

SDSU is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to and/or coordinate course offerings that address the experiences of underrepresented minorities in organizations. Women, minorities, veterans, and people with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply.

This position is open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by August 15, 2018. We will be conducting preliminary interviews at the APSA in Boston.

Responsibilities include:

- A teaching load of 9 credits per semester;
- Research in your area of expertise;
- Service to the Department and University, including advising.

Minimum qualifications include:

- A PhD in Political Science in hand or near completion at the time of application (ABD can be considered);
- Expertise on strategic global issues or regions of the world;
- The ability to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations;
- Experience or willingness to teach online;
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness and dynamism;
- Effective written and verbal communication skills;
- Effective interpersonal skills;
- Strong research agenda and scholarly potential.

Preferred qualifications include:

- Willingness to collaborate with students;
- Ability to teach American Foreign Policy, Political Economy and/or the Political Science capstone.

SALARY:

Commensurate with qualifications.

UNIVERSITY/COMMUNITY:

SDSU is a land grant institution and the state's largest institution of higher education with an enrollment of approximately 13,000. The Department is located in the College of Arts and Sciences and provides majors in History and Political Science along with minors in Philosophy, Religion and Legal Studies. Various members of the department contribute courses to the Global Studies Program, the American Indian Program, and the Teacher Education Program.

Brookings, South Dakota is a community of 22,000 on the eastern border of the state. It is located 50 miles north of the city of Sioux Falls, a city of approximately 150,000. The drive to Sioux Falls takes approximately 40 minutes, as the north-south interstate runs alongside the town. Brookings has an eclectic mix of fine restaurants and shops and an excellent K-12 educational system. The city is also accessible to major medical facilities, has an active social and cultural environment, and has numerous lakes and parks within easy distance. The state arboretum is part of the SDSU campus. Brookings is also located about 200 miles west of the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, a metropolitan area with major design and art centers.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

The position will be open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by August 15, 2018.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

SDSU accepts applications through an online employment site. To apply, visit: <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu>, search for the position by title, view the job announcement, and click on "apply for this job." The system will guide you through the electronic application form. The employment site will also require the attachment of a cover letter, which should specifically address how the candidate meets the qualifications as outlined in the advertisement indicating the courses you are qualified to teach based on the list above; Curriculum Vitae; evidence of teaching effectiveness, particularly recent IDEA scores (attached as 'other document'); and reference page with the contact information for three professional references. Email applications will not be accepted. Please contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128 if you require assistance with the electronic application process.

Any offer of employment is contingent upon the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to, a criminal background check.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities in the fields of economics, social sciences and humanities, and has emerged as a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was ranked 48th in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and is among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

One of its unique features has been its direct involvement in socioeconomic reforms in Russia, which has allowed HSE to develop as a "project and research university" where education, fundamental and applied research, and "think tank" activities are combined for the comprehensive development of society. Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has more than 30 international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world.

Since 2006 the HSE has been recruiting professional academics from international research universities in order to raise the standards of research at the University. HSE now employs more than 100 international tenure-track and postdoctoral fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and centers in Moscow and at HSE's campuses in St. Petersburg and Perm.

School of Political Science

The School of Political Science offers an array of educational options for students from Russia and abroad. We teach a full range of subjects based on the latest developments in academic research in political science. From comparative politics to political theory and quantitative and qualitative approaches, the professors of the School pursue research across the entire spectrum of modern political science.

Not only is there methodological diversity; there is considerable breadth in terms of substantive and geographic specializations. Among the School's academic "trademarks" are comparative politics and Russian politics, including politics in the Russian regions.

The quality of research at Higher School of Economics has already been widely recognized, and HSE counts among the top-100 universities in the world according to the QS ranking in this subject field.

University of Denver

Rank: Dean, Josef Korbel School of International Studies

The University of Denver invites nominations and applications for the position of Dean of the Josef Korbel School of International Studies.

Founded in 1864, the University of Denver is an independent, doctoral granting university with high research activity. The University has become increasingly known nationally and internationally for its creative, 21st-century approaches to problem-based scholarship, a holistic, student-centered approach to learning, and a dedication to the public good through local, national and international partnerships. It plays an integral role in the cultural, social, economic and educational life of the vibrant and fast-growing city and region it calls home. The University enrolls about 12,000 students from all regions of the United States and 83 foreign countries in its distinguished undergraduate liberal arts and sciences, graduate and professional programs. The 11:1 student-to-faculty ratio and small class sizes allow personalized instruction as well as multiple opportunities for research, exploration, and holistic student development.

The Josef Korbel School of International Studies is one of the world's leading schools for the study of international relations. The School's innovative programs provide students the skills, knowledge and expertise needed to become global leaders in the public, private and non-profit sectors. Since its founding in 1964, the Josef Korbel School has challenged students to think independently and innovatively to create change.

The School offers a growing Bachelor of Arts degree program in International Studies; a Dual BA/MA program; 7 Master of Arts degree programs, as well as several dual or joint Master's programs and a growing number of certificate programs; a Master of Public Policy degree; and a PhD degree program in International Studies.

The new Dean will be a person of academic and professional accomplishment, distinguished by a record of leadership, innovation, and success in the international arena. An earned doctorate or terminal degree in a social science discipline, international studies, or a related field is strongly preferred. Candidates should have a record of scholarship, teaching, and/or professional achievement that would qualify him or her to hold a faculty position at Korbel (e.g., in the tenure series or in the professor of the practice series).

Whether or not s/he is currently affiliated with an academic institution, the incoming Dean must have experience working with and a deep understanding of the complexities and nuances of the academic environment. At the same time, in keeping with Korbel's emphasis on both theory and practice, the incoming Dean ideally would also have meaningful experience in international affairs in which both administrative and policy formation skills were critical.

The University of Denver is fully committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse community and promotes the full participation and prosperity of all of its members. The University embraces a distinctive philosophy that employs senior leaders as catalysts in a concerted effort to recruit all members of the University community—students, staff, faculty and administrators—in the implementation of comprehensive plans for diversity and inclusion.

For more information on the Korbel School: <https://www.du.edu/korbel/>.

To view the full position profile, please visit: DU Korbel Dean, Position Profile.

The start date is negotiable with the expectation that the Dean will begin by summer of 2019. Please send all nominations, inquiries, and expressions of interest, in confidence and electronically, to:

University of Chicago

Rank: Lecturer in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

Req # 03759

The University of Chicago invites applications for a Lecturer in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a new, full-time position in CIR's one-year MA program in international relations. The initial appointment is for a two-year term, preferably beginning September 2018.

CIR is the nation's oldest graduate program in international relations, awarding the Master of Arts degree in International Relations to approximately 60-70 students per year.

The successful applicant will teach four graduate courses in the first year and five in the second year; advise MA student theses; and participate in admissions, student mentoring, and student recruitment. Specific course assignments will be determined in consultation with the Faculty Chair and Senior Lecturers, and will include a mix survey and specialized courses.

The ideal candidate is expected to maintain a high level of active engagement with the field at large in order to ensure the UChicago curriculum reflects the state of research. Diverse methodological and substantive research agendas are welcome. To be eligible, candidates must have defended the PhD by September 1, 2018. Applicants must also have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring students.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/yaxm3opv>. The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) Syllabi for two proposed courses, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin July 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Paul Staniland, at paul@uchicago.edu for updates on the status of the search.

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: International Security, Middle East, Africa

The Department of Political Science at Carleton College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship in International Relations with expertise in security and with significant research interest or field experience in the Middle East and North Africa. Candidates with a scholarly focus on Sub-Saharan Africa will also be considered. The department defines security broadly to include the traditional issues of peace and violent inter-state conflict as well as human security concepts such as human and gender rights; resource, water and food security; and refugees, diasporas and displaced persons. Successful candidates will be able to teach the introductory course in international relations as well as courses in security and regional politics. Candidates whose interests speak to dominant paradigms of security and engage the debate with non-traditional approaches in the field are especially welcomed. The promise of excellence in scholarship and teaching is required. Teaching duties are five courses per year on a trimester schedule. PhD or its imminent completion is required. The appointment will begin September 1, 2019.

The following materials are required: letter of application; curriculum vitae; contact information for three letters of reference; statements addressing the candidate's teaching experience and interests and scholarly agenda; graduate school transcript; teaching evaluations or other evidence of demonstrated or potential excellence in undergraduate instruction; sample syllabi; and at least one scholarly writing sample. Early applicants should indicate whether they will be available for interview at the APSA meetings in Boston in September, 2018. Interviews will also be scheduled and conducted online. To ensure full consideration we request that applications be filed by Friday September 14. All application materials can be submitted at jobs.carleton.edu.

We are particularly interested in candidates who are enthusiastic about teaching a diverse student body. Carleton is committed to developing its faculty to better reflect the diversity of our students and American society. Women and members of traditionally underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Carleton College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, sex, national origin, marital status, veteran status, actual or perceived sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, status with regard to public assistance, disability, or age in providing employment or access to its educational facilities or activities. Carleton College is a small, highly selective, residential liberal arts college located 45 minutes away from the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. We are consistently ranked among the best undergraduate teaching institutions in the country. Our mission is to provide excellent educational opportunities for students. The College provides generous professional development support for both research and teaching.

East Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

The Department of Political Science is one of sixteen departments in the Thomas Harriot College of Arts and Sciences at East Carolina University. ECU is located in Greenville, North Carolina, a rapidly growing city of approximately 90,000. Greenville is located about 80 miles east of Raleigh and is within a short drive to the Outer Banks and other Atlantic Ocean beaches. In 2012, Greenville was ranked in the top ten of Forbes Magazine's "Best Small Places for Business and Careers." Greenville is known as the health, entertainment and educational hub of eastern North Carolina. The Department is composed of 14 full-time faculty. It offers BS and BA degrees in political science and minors in public administration, comparative politics/international relations, leadership studies, and security studies at the undergraduate level. It is also home to the multidisciplinary studies majors in security studies and international studies. At the graduate level, it offers a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration degree, a Master of Science in Security Studies and certificates in public management and security studies. It emphasizes excellent teaching, quality research, and a tradition of service to the community, the university, and the discipline. More information about the department can be found at its home page: <http://www.ecu.edu/polsci>.

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, fixed-term position at the title of Teaching Assistant Professor to begin August 13, 2018. The successful candidate will become one of the faculty members in the Department of Political Science with primary teaching responsibilities in the Security Studies program and will be expected to teach at both the graduate and undergraduate levels in the classroom and online. Teaching load will be a 4:4. Service to the university, community and profession is expected. Salary is competitive.

A PhD in Political Science or a related field, such as International Relations or National Security Studies. The position is open in terms of regional or issue-area specialization within the broader security-related context. Qualifying degrees must be received from appropriately accredited institutions. Teaching experience at the graduate and undergraduate levels is required.

Given the department's current needs, preference will be given to candidates who have experience (studies, teaching, and/or research) in Middle East and/or Homeland Security. Distance education teaching experience is strongly preferred.

To apply, complete a candidate profile and submit a letter of interest, curriculum vita and statement of research interests and teaching experience/philosophy online at www.jobs.ecu.edu. Arrange for three current, signed, original letters of reference to be sent to: Dr. Armin Krishnan, Chair, Security Studies Search Committee, Department of Political Science, Mail Stop 564, East Carolina University, Greenville, NC 27858-4353 (krishnana@ecu.edu). Official transcripts are required upon employment. Review of applications will begin on 04/18/2018 and continue until the position is filled

In order to be considered for this position, applicants must complete a candidate profile online via the PeopleAdmin system and submit any requested documents. Additionally, applicants that possess the preferred education and experience must also possess the minimum education/experience, if applicable.

Applications will be considered until position is filled. Please submit an online ECU application for vacancy # 939002 to ECU Human Resources at <http://jobs.ecu.edu>.

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS - <http://cpass.ucsd.edu/>) has two postdoctoral positions available for the 2018-2019 academic year. Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director. Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor (International Relations)

The Department of Government at William & Mary invites applications for a one year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin August 10, 2018. We seek an individual with expertise in international relations. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load (2 preps per semester). Courses will consist of introduction to international politics, intermediate-level international security, and a senior seminar of the candidate's choosing. We are especially interested in candidates who can draw on their expertise or examples in racial or ethnic politics, or the politics of inclusion as they teach these subjects.

Required: ABD status is required. Applicants must be able to teach introductory international politics and intermediate-level international security.

Preferred: A Ph.D. is preferred at the time appointment begins (August 10, 2018).

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), a writing sample, and a statement describing previous professional experiences or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, April 15, 2018. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed and the position will remain open until filled.

Information on the Department of Government may be found at <http://www.wm.edu/as/government/>. Visiting faculty in the department enjoy opportunities for mentoring to help them become better scholars and teachers, and they also receive support for conference travel. We are one of the largest majors on campus and our faculty participate in and receive support from various research centers on campus as well. Our faculty also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Africana Studies, Data Science, Environmental Science and Policy, Gender Sexuality and Women's Studies, Global Studies, International Relations, and Public Policy. William & Mary is located in Williamsburg, Virginia, convenient to Richmond (the state capital) and Washington, DC.

William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from under-represented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. William & Mary conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Baker Center Post-doctoral Fellow

Baker Center Global Security Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy

The Baker Center's mission is to educate the public, conduct research to further the public's knowledge, and highlight the critical importance of public service. The Baker Center focuses on education, public policy, and research in the areas of Energy and the Environment, Global Security, and Leadership and Governance, along with academic courses and student engagement programs. The Center is a place for civil, bipartisan discussion of issues affecting us all.

Global Security Program

The Center's Global Security Program focuses primarily on conflict management, covering conflict resolution, civil wars, territorial and maritime disputes, piracy, terrorism and other political violence, foreign policy and US national security policy. The program hosts a bi-weekly research workshop, a series of visiting lectures on different aspects of global security and foreign policy, and a biannual conference on some aspect of prevention, management, and resolution of international conflicts, civil wars, and terrorism and other political violence.

Position Summary

Fellows will spend a year working full time at the Baker Center, starting in August 2018, with a potential extension for an additional year. During their time at the Center, Fellows will conduct independent and joint research primarily with Dr. Krista Wiegand, and potentially other faculty and graduate students on topics related to conflict processes issues, with an expectation of producing several journal article length manuscripts. Fellows will also be involved in applying for grants to fund data collection projects and Baker Center programming. In addition to academic research, Fellows will be expected to produce a small number of policy briefs and/or content for a non-academic audience. Fellows are expected to contribute to the activities of the Baker Center, supervise undergraduate researchers involved in research projects, mentor IR graduate students, present and participate in the research workshop, and participate in the lectures and meetings of visiting speakers. Equally, Fellows may be involved in managing a major international relations journal, which the Baker Center has an active bid to edit. Participants will receive an annual stipend of $50,000 and individual health insurance.

Eligibility and How to Apply:

Applicants must be recent Ph.D. recipients in Political Science (within the last 3 years), and specialize in conflict management. To apply, submit a cover letter outlining the planned research and expectations about a topic in the area of conflict management, how your research project fits with the work being done at the Baker Center and Dr. Krista Wiegand, and if you have any experience working on an academic journal. Also submit a CV and a list of 3 references to Dr. Krista Wiegand, Director of the Global Security Program, at kwiegand@utk.edu by March 15, 2018.

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Adjunct Lecturer

Specializations: International Security, Intelligence, Research Methods

About the Job

Johns Hopkins Advanced Academic Programs invites applicants for a non-tenure-track, part time adjunct position to develop and teach "Introduction to Social Science Research," a core class for the Master of Arts in Global Security Studies Program, as well as an elective for a number of other Governmental Studies programs. A Ph.D. in a field relevant to security studies and some professional experience is preferred. Will consider ABD candidates with relevant experience.

Course Description

This course is an introduction to qualitative methods in social science research. It will help students be producers of scholarly knowledge and set them up for later parts of the research process. The first part of the course will address fundamental issues, like concepts and measurement, as well as causation and inference. The second part of the course deals with research design and specific methodological tools including interviews, survey research, content analysis, case study analysis etc.

Course Schedule

The course will be taught alternately in both online and on-site formats every semester. On-site classes meet once a week over a semester of 14 weeks.

Application Details

Applications should be sent to the Program Director, Mark Stout at: mstout4@jhu.edu and Program Coordinator, Sarah O'Byrne at: obyernes@jhu.edu Candidates must provide a cover letter, curriculum vita, contact information for two references, teaching evaluations, and copies of any syllabi relevant to this graduate-level course. Review of applications will start July 16th and continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Columbia University

Rank: Lecturer

The Quantitative Methods in the Social Sciences (QMSS) MA Program at Columbia University invites applications for part-time lecturer positions for a number of courses in the Fall of 2018. Positive performance may lead to further teaching opportunities. Part-time faculty usually have a very positive experience teaching for us and usually work with us over and over again. Our courses in need of instructors are:

* Theory and Methodology for the Social Sciences: This course focuses on foundational ideas of social science research, including strengths and weaknesses of different research designs, interpretation of data drawn from various sources, and strategies for evaluating evidence. Students write memos, make presentations and write a final research proposal.

* Practicum on Large-Scale Data Analysis and Processing: This course is a “hands-on” training seminar dealing with organizing large, data-intense projects. Students will practice accessing a variety of large-scale data sources and formats; conducting advanced analysis of big data; and “productizing” their results and findings via dashboards, reports, interactive graphics, and apps. An instructor with experience in industry would be particularly valuable for this course.

* Introduction to Data Science Algorithms: This course introduces the logic, basic design and analysis of algorithms relevant to data science, machine learning and data analysis. Topics include algorithms for: sorting, searching, graph processing, string processing, SVD and PCA, hashing, count-min sketch, nearest neighbors, network flows, and data compression.

* Natural Language Processing for Social Science: This course introduces students to the key concepts and theories behind natural language processing, or understanding how to analyze and reproduce human speech. Topics include language modeling; part of speech tagging; parsing; information extraction; tokenizing; topic modeling; machine translation; automatic summarization; supervised machine learning; and hidden Markov models.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in a social science or a related field is required. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until positions are filled. A CV, cover letter, list of professional references and teaching evaluations (if available) should be sent as PDF files to qmss@columbia.edu with the subject line “Fall 2018 Part-Time Lecturer Application.” Let us know which courses you might be interested in teaching. An optional writing sample and statement of teaching philosophy may also be included.

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowships in Inequality and Political Development in Latin America

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Methodology

Specializations: Political Development, Political Economy, Research Methods

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at the Universidad Católica del Uruguay is pleased to offer up to 3 two-year post-doctoral fellowship opportunities for 2018-20. Applicants should have obtained their PhDs between July 1, 2012 and July 1, 2018; and need to demonstrate residence outside Uruguay during the last 3 years. Successful candidates should focus their research on one of two broad topics: stratification, inequality and social mobility, or political and social development.

The two-year fellowship will commence March 1, 2019 and conclude February 28, 2021. The Fellow will receive an annual salary of up to USD 26,317 and benefits depending on applicant's qualifications (calculated at current exchange rate of USD 1 = UYU 30); one round trip in economy class (up to USD 4,000), will have work space at the Department of Social and Political Sciences and access to facilities at Universidad Católica del Uruguay.

The position requires residency in Montevideo with a possibility of being a semester abroad for fieldwork if properly justified in the research proposal. There is a teaching requirement of 84 hours per year, in Spanish. The successful candidate is expected to teach 1 undergraduate course (42h), 1 course at the master level (21h) and 1 course at the Methods Winter School (20h) each year.

The post-doc is co-funded by the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII) under its "Fondo Profesor Dr. Roberto Caldeyro Barcia" initiative. The Department of Social and Political Sciences promotes scholarly, interdisciplinary research by faculty and students, advancing relevant knowledge about political, social, and economic issues, and generating communities of research and practice on key Latin American concerns.

The application process has two stages. Candidates should apply directly to the Department of Social and Political Sciences (DCSP), submitting a CV, a detailed research proposal, a cover letter, and 2 recommendation letters, by email to Dr. Juan Bogliaccini (juan.bogliaccini@ucu.edu.uy). Recommendation letters should be sent directly to juan.bogliaccini@ucu.edu.uy. Applications for this stage are due by Tuesday, June 12, 2018.

Please direct any inquiries prior to the first stage deadline to Dr. Bogliaccini, Department of Social and Political Sciences, Universidad Católica del Uruguay (juan.bogliaccini@ucu.edu.uy). For more information about the Department, visit our webpage (<http://ucu.edu.uy/dcsp>). Candidates are strongly advised to prepare documents according to the requirements established by ANII. Complete information can be found at <http://www.anii.org.uy/apoyos/formacion/6/posdoctorados-uruguay/>

A short-list of candidates would be invited to complete the second stage of the application process by June 26. During this second stage, candidates jointly apply with the Department of Social and Political Sciences to the National Agency for Research and Innovation (ANII). Applications for this stage are due by Thursday, July 12, 2018 (14:00, GMT-3).

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities in the fields of economics, social sciences and humanities, and has emerged as a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was ranked 48th in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and is among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

One of its unique features has been its direct involvement in socioeconomic reforms in Russia, which has allowed HSE to develop as a "project and research university" where education, fundamental and applied research, and "think tank" activities are combined for the comprehensive development of society. Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has more than 30 international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world.

Since 2006 the HSE has been recruiting professional academics from international research universities in order to raise the standards of research at the University. HSE now employs more than 100 international tenure-track and postdoctoral fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and centers in Moscow and at HSE's campuses in St. Petersburg and Perm.

School of Political Science

The School of Political Science offers an array of educational options for students from Russia and abroad. We teach a full range of subjects based on the latest developments in academic research in political science. From comparative politics to political theory and quantitative and qualitative approaches, the professors of the School pursue research across the entire spectrum of modern political science. Not only is there methodological diversity; there is considerable breadth in terms of substantive and geographic specializations. Among the School's academic "trademarks" are comparative politics and Russian politics, including politics in the Russian regions.

The quality of research at Higher School of Economics has already been widely recognized, and HSE counts among the top-100 universities in the world according to the QS ranking in this subject field.

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS - <http://cpass.ucsd.edu/>) has two postdoctoral positions available for the 2018-2019 academic year. Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director. Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Experimental Political Economy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Postdoctoral Research Associate in Experimental Political Economy

The Department of Political Science seeks a Postdoctoral Research Associate in Experimental Political Economy to work on a variety of projects related to voting, elections, information, strategic sophistication, and fairness.

We seek applicants with a PhD in Economics, Political Science, or a related social science discipline. Required qualifications include: 1) experience running lab experiments, 2) programming skills in an experimental platform (z-tree or o-tree), 3) PhD completed by July 31, 2018. Experience with Qualtrics and Mechanical Turk is desirable, but not required.

The successful candidate will work under the supervision of Professor Jonathan Woon, including collaboration on joint projects with the aim of producing coauthored publications as well as the candidate's own research, and will be expected to participate in the intellectual life of the Department and the Pittsburgh Experimental Economics Laboratory. The behavioral and experimental economics community in Pittsburgh offers a vibrant, stimulating intellectual environment. The position carries no teaching or service responsibilities and provides a research allocation for travel and research expenses (including subject payments). The initial appointment is for one year, with the potential for multiple renewals based on performance. The start date is September 1, 2017.

To apply for the position, please submit a letter of interest, CV, example of relevant research, graduate transcript(s), and 2 letters of recommendation to <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/Mj12>. - New Zealand's first ranked university for research quality (PBRF 2012)

Victoria University of Wellington (VUW) is New Zealand's globally ranked capital city university, located in the vibrant cultural centre of the country. The University draws on the distinctive nature of Wellington as the seat of government, and the financial centre of New Zealand. Situated directly opposite the Parliament of New Zealand, the Victoria Business School holds the 'triple crown' (AACSB, EQUIS and AMBA) of international accreditations and is seeking to appoint an outstanding candidate to the Roy McKenzie Centre for the Study of Families and Children.

The fundamental purpose of the Centre is to undertake and publish cutting-edge, multidisciplinary, policy-relevant research on families and children, and on issues affecting families and children, in New Zealand in order to support policy and practice aimed at improving outcomes for New Zealand families and their children.

This purpose will be pursued by the Director and Centre undertaking and promoting: policy-relevant multidisciplinary research; contributions to public sector policy development; debate and dialogue between the academic community, public sector agencies, and civil society; seminars, conferences, symposia, and professional development opportunities; visiting fellowship programmes; teaching to domestic and international post-graduate students; and local, national, and international networks and collaboration.

The ideal candidate will demonstrate an international record of scholarly achievement with a multidisciplinary approach and will preferably hold a PhD in a relevant field such as economics, law, political science, psychology, sociology, or government. As this role requires a blend of academic and practitioner expertise, strong personal and professional credibility in the broad field of social policy, gained either through international academic research and engagement, and/or experience as a senior leader in the sector, will be essential. The appointment will be at either Professorial or Associate Professorial level, with the successful candidate displaying advanced experience in research, teaching, and graduate research supervision, combined with a record of work in quality peer reviewed publications.

The person appointed to this role will have a strong practical application with an outward focus, able to provide a sustained and critical mass of expertise through drawing on international research and applying it to the New Zealand context. Bold in thinking and innovative in approach, this role will suit an academic with a track record and enthusiasm for successfully developing external relationships with stakeholders, particularly social agencies and their related communities.

This is a three-year fixed term appointment, but the term is renewable subject to the availability of funding.

University of Arkansas, Little Rock

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Nonprofit Leadership Studies

UA Little Rock's School of Public Affairs invites applications for a 9-month Visiting Assistant Professor position to oversee the undergraduate Nonprofit Leadership Studies program (position #T99896) beginning August 16, 2018. This position will carry both teaching and administrative responsibilities and the individual will also have the opportunity to teach graduate courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program. A Ph.D. or DPA in Public Administration or a related field is required. ABD's will be considered if degree will be completed by the time of employment, August 16, 2018. UA Little Rock offers a competitive salary and attractive fringe benefits.

The successful candidate will be joining a collegial and active faculty in the School of Public Affairs. Applicants with an active research agenda or direct experience in the nonprofit sector are especially encouraged to apply.

The School of Public Affairs is part of the College of Social Sciences & Communication (CSSC), a community of teacher-scholars and professionals whose mission is to apply theory and research to drive social change and inspire human expression, reflection, and interconnection (see ualr.edu/cssc).

UA Little Rock is a research intensive doctoral institution with an urban/metropolitan university mission. Founded in 1927 and part of the University of Arkansas system since 1969, UA Little Rock serves a diverse population of roughly 11,000 students. Little Rock is the capital city and the largest metropolitan area in Arkansas, boasting affordable housing, proximity to wilderness and recreational areas, and numerous cultural and civic attractions, including the William J. Clinton Presidential Library, the Arkansas Studies Institute, the Arkansas Arts Center, the Arkansas Repertory Theater, and the Arkansas Symphony Orchestra.

Application materials must be submitted through the online application system. Additional information about this position and application requirements are available under the Jobs link on the Human Resources' website at <http://ualr.edu/humanresources/>. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Submit a letter of application (referencing position #T99896), curriculum vitae, writing sample, and the names of three references whom we may contact for letters of recommendation. Incomplete applications cannot be considered; any materials not submitted as requested using the online application system renders an application incomplete. Applications will be accepted until June 15, 2018.

This position is subject to a pre-employment criminal and financial history background check. A criminal conviction or arrest pending adjudication and/or adverse financial history information alone shall not disqualify an applicant in the absence of a relationship to the requirements of the position. Criminal and financial background check information will be used in a confidential, non-discriminatory manner consistent with state and federal law.

UA Little Rock is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and actively seeks the candidacy of minorities, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities. Under Arkansas law, all applications are subject to disclosure. Persons hired must have proof of legal authority to work in the United States.

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS - <http://cpass.ucsd.edu/>) has two postdoctoral positions available for the 2018-2019 academic year. Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director. Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and “big data”) to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant’s interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase “cPASS Postdoc Fellow” in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities in the fields of economics, social sciences and humanities, and has emerged as a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was ranked 48th in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and is among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

One of its unique features has been its direct involvement in socio-economic reforms in Russia, which has allowed HSE to develop as a "project and research university" where education, fundamental and applied research, and "think tank" activities are combined for the comprehensive development of society. Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has more than 30 international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world.

Since 2006 the HSE has been recruiting professional academics from international research universities in order to raise the standards of research at the University. HSE now employs more than 100 international tenure-track and postdoctoral fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and centers in Moscow and at HSE's campuses in St. Petersburg and Perm.

School of Political Science

The School of Political Science offers an array of educational options for students from Russia and abroad. We teach a full range of subjects based on the latest developments in academic research in political science. From comparative politics to political theory and quantitative and qualitative approaches, the professors of the School pursue research across the entire spectrum of modern political science. Not only is there methodological diversity; there is considerable breadth in terms of substantive and geographic specializations. Among the School's academic "trademarks" are comparative politics and Russian politics, including politics in the Russian regions.

The quality of research at Higher School of Economics has already been widely recognized, and HSE counts among the top-100 universities in the world according to the QS ranking in this subject field.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

University of North Texas

Rank: Open Rank Search in Political Theory

We invite applications for an open-rank position beginning fall 2018 in the broadly defined field of the history of political theory. We are interested in prospective candidates who specialize in Medieval, early modern/Enlightenment, or 19th/20th century German (post-rationalist) thought. An additional strength in non-Western thought, such as Islamic or Chinese political thought, is considered an advantage.

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science, (2) evidence of excellence in scholarly productivity, and (3) evidence of demonstrated excellence in teaching and mentoring students in independent activities. Preference will be given to candidates who have published books and/or articles in top-tier journals.

The successful candidate will have responsibilities that may include but are not limited to teaching core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continuing a record of robust scholarly research, directing graduate research in the Theory field, and providing service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 25 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly, and Journal of Political Science Education, and is the current home of Religion and Politics. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site is: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With 37,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) two published writing samples, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy, and (6) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquiries to Richard Ruderman, search committee chair (Richard.Ruderman@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2017 and will remain open until the position is closed. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date.

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. ## Santa Clara University

Specializations: State Politics, Political Behavior, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Santa Clara University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in U.S. Politics, to begin fall 2019, with a specialization in either public policy, state and local politics, or political behavior. Applicants must have a PhD at the time of appointment, experience teaching at the university level, and a clear research trajectory, with a record of publication strongly preferred. To support SCU's strategic priority of engagement with Silicon Valley, we are especially interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching will promote student engagement with the local community, e.g. by involving students in a locally-focused research project or by integrating an experiential-learning component into a course. The person we hire will contribute to the Department's offerings in public-sector studies by teaching upper-division courses in her/his area of specialty, will contribute to the University's core curriculum by teaching Introduction to U.S. Politics, and may occasionally be called upon to teach Introduction to Political Science Research.

The application deadline is August 24, 2018. Applicants should submit: (1) a CV, (2) a letter articulating teaching areas and philosophy, research plans, as well as experiences working with people of diverse cultures and identities, (3) teaching evaluations, (4) sample syllabi, (5) a writing sample (no more than 40 pages), and (6) unofficial graduate transcripts. Three letters of reference will be automatically solicited through the applicant portal system upon submission of the application. The application portal can be found at <https://jobs.scu.edu/postings/7369>.

Located in the heart of northern California's Silicon Valley, Santa Clara is a private, Jesuit, Catholic university committed to promoting social justice in a comprehensive educational setting. It is an AA/EOE employer. Faculty are teaching-scholars who balance a commitment to quality teaching with active programs of research. A full-time teaching load is 7 courses over three 10-week quarters, with a 1-course reduction for research. Faculty receive scholarship support through sabbaticals and travel funds. Housing assistance is available.

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor (American Politics, Public Policy)

The Department of Government at William & Mary invites applications for a one year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin August 10, 2018. We seek an individual with expertise in American politics and public policy. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load (2 preps per semester). Courses will consist of introductory sections of American government, public policy, and research methods, and a senior seminar of the candidate's choosing. We are especially interested in candidates who can draw on their expertise or examples in racial or ethnic politics, or the politics of inclusion as they teach these subjects.

Required: ABD status is required. Applicants must be able to teach introductory sections of American government, public policy, and research methods.

Preferred: A Ph.D. is preferred at the time appointment begins (August 10, 2018).

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), a writing sample, and a statement describing previous professional experiences or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, April 15, 2018. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed and the position will remain open until filled.

Information on the Department of Government may be found at is at <http://www.wm.edu/as/government/>. Visiting faculty in the department enjoy opportunities for mentoring to help them become better scholars and teachers, and they also receive support for conference travel. We are one of the largest majors on campus and our faculty participate in and receive support from various research centers on campus as well. Our faculty also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Africana Studies, Data Science, Environmental Science and Policy, Gender Sexuality and Women's Studies, Global Studies, International Relations, and Public Policy. William & Mary is located in Williamsburg, Virginia, convenient to Richmond (the state capital) and Washington, DC.

William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from under-represented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. William & Mary conducts background checks on applicants for employment.
