

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

September 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 9

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4

American Government and Politics ..... 8

Comparative Politics ..... 64

International Relations ..... 117

Methodology ..... 173

Non-Academic ..... 187

Other ..... 188

Political Theory ..... 230

Public Administration ..... 252

Public Law ..... 264

Public Policy ..... 278

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

September 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 9

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4 (7 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 8 (118 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 64 (107 listings)

International Relations ..... 117 (121 listings)

Methodology ..... 173 (27 listings)

Non-Academic ..... 187 (2 listings)

Other ..... 188 (76 listings)

Political Theory ..... 230 (43 listings)

Public Administration ..... 252 (19 listings)

Public Law ..... 264 (20 listings)

Public Policy ..... 278 (57 listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 597

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for September

ADMINISTRATION

University of Georgia

Rank: IA Faculty and Director of the Center for International Trade & Security

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Administration

Specializations: International Security, Trade, Regulatory Policy

The University of Georgia's School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) seeks applications for the Director of the Center for International Trade and Security (CITS) and faculty member in the Department of International Affairs (DIA). The successful candidate must have a strong record of grant and contract acquisition and have a scholarly record appropriate for an academic appointment at a research university. The ideal candidate will also have policy relevant experience or expertise, fundraising experience, and previous management responsibilities. The Director of the Center reports to the Dean of SPIA. The position is open rank, tenured or tenure-track.

CITS was established in 1987 with the support of former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. It has a distinguished record of policy-relevant research, training, and public service, focusing primarily on security issues related to the trade, transfer, and use of materials and technology associated with weapons of mass destruction (WMD), nuclear security culture, and nonproliferation policy. CITS is fortifying its connections to DIA and to other UGA academic units by broadening its scope to include human security, counterterrorism, counterinsurgency, cybersecurity, and energy security. While strategic trade management and nonproliferation remain central to CITS' mission, outstanding candidates with research and policy experience outside this area are also encouraged to apply.

The Center's programs are sustained by corporate and government contracts, private foundation grants, and individual and corporate gifts. For more than three decades, these sources of support have enabled the Center to design and implement training and outreach programs to U.S. and foreign policymakers and industry representatives. The Center also engages these communities, educators, students, and the general public via international colloquia on emerging security issues. CITS's Security and Strategic Trade Management Academy alone has trained more than 1,000 government officials, academics and industry representatives from 70 countries on the establishment, implementation, and enforcement of export controls.

CITS contributes to SPIA's Master of International Policy (MIP) Program that prepares graduate students for careers in international security and nonproliferation. CITS experts serve as instructors in the MIP Program, whose graduates have been placed in prestigious educational and government institutions. In addition, CITS experts administer the year-long Richard B. Russell Security Leadership Program which prepares undergraduates for careers in nonproliferation and national security. SLP Fellows have earned distinguished national and international scholarships and have been hired by US government agencies, international organizations, corporations, and consulting firms. For more information, visit: <http://spia.uga.edu/departments-centers/center-for-international-trade-and-security-cits/>.

DIA is a vibrant and extremely research-active department of twenty-two faculty members that specialize in a wide array of topics, including international conflict, human rights, human security, political institutions, extremism, political economy, and environmental governance. The faculty are leading scholars in their fields, have earned distinguished national and international honors, oversee externally-funded research projects, and serve in editorial positions at top peer-reviewed journals. Members of the faculty have also won prestigious teaching awards at the school and university levels. The department has an undergraduate degree program and contributes to multiple graduate degree programs, including the Ph.D. program in Political Science and International Affairs. Both DIA and CITS are housed within SPIA, one of the fastest growing public affairs schools in the world. SPIA ranks sixth among graduate schools of public affairs, according to the most recent U.S. News and World Report rankings.

The University of Georgia, located in Athens, Georgia, approximately 75 miles northeast of Atlanta, is a Research I institution in the University System of Georgia. Founded in 1785, the University is the largest and most comprehensive educational institution in the state. UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution. Georgia is well known for its quality of life, with both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov).

Prospective candidates must apply for the position through the UGA Jobs site at: <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/30612>. To complete the application, candidates will need to submit a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vitae, and the contact information for three individuals who can provide reference letters. A Ph.D. is required. The position is open until filled. Applications received by November 1, 2018 will be assured full consideration. For questions concerning the position, please contact Amanda Murdie, Head, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 327, Athens, GA 30602 (telephone: 706-542-9659, email: murdie@uga.edu)

SPIA is committed to enhancing the diversity of the School and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (hrweb@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4747

Middle Tennessee State University

Rank: Department Chair - Global Studies & Human Geography

Chair – Global Studies & Human Geography

Middle Tennessee State University seeks applications for Chair of the Department of Global Studies & Human Geography (#818005). Must be eligible for rank of associate or professor. Start date for this position is August 1, 2019. Expedited tenure upon appointment possible. Terminal degree in Geography, Global Studies, or a closely related social science discipline.

The successful candidate must have demonstrated leadership experience, and a record of excellence in scholarship and teaching. Responsibilities of the chair will include staff and faculty development/mentoring, representing the Department within the University and broader communities, resource management, recruiting students, facilitating planning and assessment, teaching and mentoring students, and other duties.

The successful candidate will join a department with a commitment to international education, interdisciplinary initiatives, community engagement, and excellent instruction.

To apply or for more detailed information visit <http://mtsujobs.mtsu.edu>. MTSU is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that values diversity in all its forms. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4690

University of British Columbia

Rank: Director, UBC School of Public Policy and Global Affairs

Director, UBC School of Public Policy and Global Affairs

The Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia – Vancouver seeks an outstanding candidate for the position of Director of the UBC School of Public Policy and Global Affairs. The appointment as Director, anticipated to begin July 1, 2019, carries an initial five-year term, with the possibility of reappointment for a second term.

Formed in 2017, UBC's School of Public Policy and Global Affairs is a Professional School dedicated to global affairs and a broad approach to public policy issues. Bringing together scholars and practitioners across a wide range of research fields in the social, natural and applied sciences, as well as the humanities, the School fosters a deep interdisciplinary approach to complex local, national, and global problems, drawing upon its research expertise in the domains of sustainability, security and social justice, and its long-established strengths in Asia and democratic governance. The School is currently home to the Institute of Asian Research, the Liu Institute for Global Issues, the Centre for the Study of Democratic Institutions, and the Canadian International Resources and Development Institute and administers a graduate level professional program: the Master of Public Policy and Global Affairs (MPPGA). For information, visit: <https://policyschool.ubc.ca>.

UBC-Vancouver's Point Grey Campus is located on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territories of the Musqueam people, with whom UBC shares a framework Memorandum of Affiliation. For information relating to Aboriginal initiatives that are available at UBC, visit the UBC Vancouver Aboriginal portal at: <http://aboriginal.ubc.ca/>.

The position of Director provides an excellent opportunity for an outstanding scholar who will lead and shape a globally focused policy school for a new era, having primary responsibility for the management and operation of the School, with its world-class, professionally-oriented research and education programs geared toward building policy capacity for multiple sectors. The Director will be expected to maintain a leadership role in a variety of academic and professional settings by engaging stakeholders in business and government, enhancing and transforming public policy dialogue, and providing a global perspective on public policy research and education.

The Director will report to the Dean of the Faculty of Arts, chair the School's Partnership Council, and participate in the School's Advisory Council. Responsibilities will include: leading the School's visioning and planning processes; setting strategic directions for the School; maintaining the School as an interdisciplinary hub for research, scholarship, and knowledge exchange; fostering research excellence; developing scholarly initiatives; recruiting, mentoring, and evaluating faculty; supporting academic programs and initiatives to ensure a high quality learning environment; maintaining and enhancing community, alumni, and donor partnerships; overseeing the financial health of the School; developing the School's internal policies and procedures on governance and administrative matters; and continuing to build the profile of the School locally, nationally, and internationally.

We seek applicants who have a PhD, a distinguished record of research publications and scholarship activity commensurate with appointment at the rank of Full Professor (or senior Associate Professor may also be considered), a record of high quality undergraduate and graduate teaching, and graduate supervision, a record of policy engagement, which includes public scholarship and experience in engaging government, business, and not-for-profits in policy design, development, and implementation, and a record of leadership and administrative skills. The successful candidate will be expected to demonstrate vision and creativity, to foster a collaborative, respectful, and inclusive environment for students, staff, and faculty, to build relationships with policy leaders at all levels, and to liaise with granting agencies, industry partners, and other research sponsors.

How to apply:

Apply online by October 31, 2018 at: <https://ardo.air.arts.ubc.ca/sppga-application-form/>. Applicants must be prepared to upload a single bookmarked PDF file containing the following items, in the order listed: cover letter; curriculum vitae; and statements (no longer than 1 page each) summarizing their (a) research program, (b) policy engagement, (c) teaching philosophy/practice and ability to work with a diverse student body, and (d) experience in and approach to leadership and administrative roles. Applicants are also asked to provide the names and contact information for four referees who may be approached at a later date to provide confidential and objective assessment of the applicant's suitability for the SPPGA leadership position. Enquiries may be directed to: Marcia Lang via email at marcia.lang\(at\)ubc.caubc.ca) with "SPPGA Director" in the subject line.

Review of applications will begin in October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. At a later stage of the search process, long-listed applicants will be asked to provide evidence of teaching effectiveness.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/31/2018

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4656

Social Science Research Council

Rank: Program Officer, SSRC Africa Initiatives

The African Peacebuilding Network (APN) and the Next Generation Social Sciences in Africa program (NextGen) are funded by Carnegie Corporation of New York and support independent research by African scholars and practitioners in the fields of peacebuilding, security, development, and related areas through fellowships, grants, publications, and public engagement. The APN focuses on conflict-affected countries and neighboring regions of the continent and the integration of African peacebuilding knowledge into global policy communities. The APN facilitates research projects and networking activities involving African academics, policy analysts, and practitioners working on peacebuilding issues by offering competitive research grants and other forms of targeted support. The NextGen program offers fellowships to nurture the intellectual development of early-career faculty in Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, South Africa, Tanzania, and Uganda. The program assists fellows in developing research opportunities and skills, obtaining doctoral degrees, and participating in robust research communities.

Reporting to the Director of the two programs and helping to supervise staff members, the PO will be responsible for a range of programmatic activities. This includes participating in the oversight of the application, review, and selection processes of APN and NextGen competitions and design and implementation of workshops and other events. In addition, the PO will support networking and outreach activities of the cohorts of both programs including assisting with communications activities and playing a central editorial and managerial role in the programs' digital platforms (e.g., the APN's forum, Kujenga Amani).

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Working closely with the Program Director, the PO will:
- Manage the operations of annual fellowship and grants competitions, including wide dissemination of calls for applications and the selection process. Coordinate with selection committee members, and manage electronic applications portal, database, website, and social media related to the competitions.
- Liaise with the SSRC fellowships team to share and integrate best practices for program administration.
- Support planning, organization, and facilitation of upcoming events, including conferences, workshops, and other meetings.
- Facilitate communication and collaboration among a wide and interdisciplinary group of researchers and other members of the programs' networks.
- Manage program budgets.
- Conduct research related to the intellectual vision of the programs, and participate as an active member in relevant scholarly communities.
- Write proposals and grant reports for current and potential funders.
- Providing oversight of, and mentorship for, program staff.
- Serve as a leading editor of APN and NextGen online publications, working with the Program Director to establish and maintain editorial vision, tone, and direction.
- Craft communication and publicity strategies and develop media contacts.
- Oversee all social media efforts (Twitter, Facebook) carried out by program staff.

- Other duties and additional responsibilities and projects as directed, depending upon interest and capacity.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Recent PhD in social sciences, humanities, or a closely related field (within three to seven years).
- Knowledge of and interest in peace and security issues in Africa, and experience with or knowledge of educational institutions in the region.
- Considerable administrative experience in academic or nonprofit settings (minimum of three years). Experience planning and implementing academic fellowships programs and events is a plus.
- Familiarity with and a strong interest in programs designed to support and strengthen the work of young/early-career researchers.
- Demonstrated success in administering complex tasks in an office environment, and excellent organizational and budgeting skills.
- Ability to work collaboratively, to manage multiple priorities, grants, and projects effectively, and to communicate effectively with both researchers and nonacademic constituencies, including funders and practitioners.
- Demonstrated ability to supervise staff.
- Demonstrated achievement in communications-oriented work is strongly preferred.
- A high level of interest in and a strong commitment to the advancement of diversity in higher education.
- Excellent scholarly writing, research, proposal development, editorial, and organizational skills.
- Ability to travel 20–30 percent of the year.
- Proficiency in a language other than English, such as French, Arabic, or Portuguese, will be an added advantage.

TERMS, SALARY AND BENEFITS

Annual salary will be commensurate with experience. Comprehensive benefits include health, dental, vision, disability, life, and gym reimbursement; professional development funds; outstanding pension plan and tax savings programs; generous vacation and sick leave; and more.

APPLICATION INFORMATION

This position begins as soon as possible, preferably before December 2018. Applications should be received by August 31 for priority consideration. Applications will be reviewed until the position has been filled.

To apply, send a detailed letter of application, curriculum vitae, and writing sample to: <https://grnh.se/6e5816582>

The Social Science Research Council is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. We are dedicated to equal employment opportunity and to cultivating and sustaining a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workforce. SSRC maintains a policy of non-discrimination with all employees and applicants for employment. All aspects of employment with the Council are made on the basis of competence, skill and qualifications and will not be influenced in any manner by race, creed, color, religion, sex/gender, national origin/ancestry, ethnicity, age, political affiliation, sexual orientation, marital or domestic partner status, medical conditions (including pregnancy and/or genetic information) or physical or mental disability, citizenship status or any other categories prohibited by law.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4549

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Chair of The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs

CHAIR OF THE SAM NUNN SCHOOL OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Georgia Institute of Technology seeks a visionary leader to serve as Chair of the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs within the Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts. The School seeks an energetic, enterprising, and collaborative Chair to lead and manage the School, enhance its reputation nationally and internationally, expand its position within the Institute, cultivate collegiality, encourage professional development of faculty and staff, and direct development initiatives to elevate the School's stature and capacity. The Chair must be an effective advocate for the School to inspire and articulate our vision for continued growth and development. The successful candidate will be the inaugural holder of the Sam Nunn Chair.

Embedded within one of the world's leading technological research universities – the Sam Nunn School is not only a center of policy-relevant research and learning focused on the intertwined roles of technology, culture, and global politics – but also a “connector” across the campus and the world. Drawing on the insights and inspiration provided by the distinguished former Senator for which the School is named, the School's faculty and academic programs explore issues such as security, international technology policy, political economy, and the challenges of global development with focus on Europe, Asia, the Middle East, Latin America, and Africa. The School strives to connect learning and experience through its interdisciplinary degree programs, policy relevant research with a strong theoretical foundation, and regular interaction with practitioners.

The Sam Nunn School is one of six schools in the Georgia Tech's Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts. The School offers Bachelor of Science degrees in International Affairs, Economics and International Affairs, and International Affairs and Modern Languages; a Master of Science in International Affairs; and a Ph.D. in International Affairs, Science and Technology. A total of 22 tenured/tenure-track faculty members provide administrative and instructional support to over 170 undergraduate majors and 30 graduate students. As part of our commitment to broad-ranging public engagement and policy impact, the School also has six Professors of the Practice, who are drawn from the upper-reaches of the political, legal, defense, economic, and business worlds. Oversight of our academic programs requires a strong commitment to progressive undergraduate and graduate education, international programs, and multi-disciplinary collaboration in the College and the Institute.

The successful candidate must possess either a Ph.D., or another appropriate terminal degree, and a scholarly record that merits a tenured appointment at the rank of full professor or extensive professional experience that would warrant appointment as a distinguished professor of the practice in a suitable discipline of the Sam Nunn School. The individual should have significant managerial experience that reflects demonstrated leadership preferably in, or of relevance to, higher education; a proven aptitude for effective financial, academic, and personnel management; experience in strategic planning, development, securing external grants, and/or fund-raising abilities; a history of successful collaborative decision-making, and fostering an inclusive environment. In addition to substantive scholarly or professional depth in a field of international affairs, the successful candidate must have interest in research and policy analysis. An appreciation for, if not research focus on, the intersection of science, technology, and innovation with international affairs is strongly desired.

Located in midtown Atlanta, Georgia Tech enrolls over 25,000 students and is ranked as one of the top seven public universities in the country. The metro Atlanta area is home to more than 6 million people and is the fifth largest agglomeration of higher education in the United States. Among the fastest growing U.S. metropolitan regions, Atlanta hosts 25 consulates of foreign governments and has direct air service to 75 international destinations in 50 countries. C.A.R.E., Habitat for Humanity International, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, and the Carter Center are headquartered here, as are 18 Fortune 500 Corporations. Georgia Tech seeks to define the technological research university of the 21st Century in an interdisciplinary pursuit of the ways in which problems are identified and solved. Georgia Tech is a unit of the University System of Georgia and an AA/EO employer; women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. Additional information pertaining to the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs is available at <http://www.inta.gatech.edu>.

Applicant review will begin on October 8, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. To receive full consideration, application materials should include: (1) a letter of interest describing the candidate's relevant experience and vision for the position, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) examples of scholarly or policy-relevant writing, and (4) the names, positions, and contact information for five references, who will be contacted only with the candidate's approval. Please include a brief statement of your relationship to each reference. Materials should be sent electronically to: chairsearch@inta.gatech.edu. Applicant files will be treated confidentially.

Semi-finalist interviews are expected to be conducted virtually between November 5-7 and campus visits for finalists are expected to commence in early January. The appointment is anticipated to begin July 1, 2019, depending on the availability of the selected candidate.

For questions about the search, candidates should contact the chair of the search committee, Dr. Anna Westerstahl Stenport, at aws@gatech.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4531

University of Illinois at Chicago

Rank: Director/Professor/Associate Professor--Latin American and Latino Studies Program

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Other

The Program in Latin American and Latino Studies in the College of Liberal Arts and Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) invites applications and nominations for the position of Director. The successful candidate will provide leadership for the program and a vision for its continued excellence in research, teaching, service, and community engagement. The Director is the chief administrative officer of the program with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters.

UIC is a Carnegie Doctoral/Research-Extensive University located in the heart of one of the nation's largest metropolitan areas. It is a comprehensive public university with a diverse student body of more than 29,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. UIC is federally recognized as a Minority Serving Institution (MSI) through its status as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI) fully funded by the U.S. Department of Education

The Program in Latin American and Latino Studies is comprised of an interdisciplinary group of scholars dedicated to working in a wide range of areas in the Social Sciences and Humanities of Latin America and the Latino communities of the United States. The program's faculty offers a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses and serves a diverse student body of approximately fifty majors and minors and 12 M.A. students (<https://lals.uic.edu/lals>). Faculty have exceptional research opportunities as a result of collaborations and affiliations with other interdisciplinary units in the college, as well as with UIC research centers such as the Great Cities Institute, the Institute for the Humanities, and the Institute for Research on Race and Public Policy. The program has served as the headquarters of Inter-University Program for Latino Research and presently houses the IUPLR/Andrew Mellon Dissertation Completion Fellows Program in Latino Humanities Studies.

The Director is the chief administrative officer of the program with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters. Teach, do research in area of expertise, provide service to the university.

The successful candidate will have a PhD, a distinguished record of scholarship, evidence of excellent teaching, and appropriate academic administrative experience. Candidates with the rank of Full Professor preferred but advanced Associate Professors will be considered. A demonstrated ability to foster collaboration among a diverse group of scholars is desirable, as is a strong record of external funding and exemplary awards. The ideal Director will work with key units and communities at UIC and the Chicago metropolitan area to enhance the mission of the Program, the College, and the University.

For information about the application processes please contact Edward Drogos at edrogo2@uic.edu. For information about the Program please contact Prof. María de los Ángeles Torres at torresma@uic.edu. The desired appointment date is August 16, 2019. Salary is competitive based on qualifications. To apply complete an on-line application and upload a cover letter, full curriculum vitae and the names and full contact information of four references. Applications and nominations should be received by November 26, 2018 to receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4472

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Full-time Tenure Track Professor

The Management Department of the Wharton School is seeking applicants for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at any level: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in the areas of:

- Entrepreneurial Management
- Human Resource Management

- Multinational /Comparative Management
- Organizational Behavior
- Organizational Theory
- Strategy

Demonstrated ability or potential for high quality research and teaching are important. Applicants must have a Ph.D. (expected completion by June 30, 2020 is acceptable) from an accredited institution.

The appointment is expected to begin July 1, 2019.

Interested individuals should complete and submit our online application via our secure website, and must include:

- A cover letter (indicating the areas for which you wish to be considered)
- Curriculum vitae
- Names of three recommenders, including email addresses [junior-level candidates]
- Sample publications and abstracts

To apply please visit our website:

<https://mgmt.wharton.upenn.edu/faculty/management-faculty-positions/>

Recruitment Committee review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Candidates are strongly encouraged to have their completed applications submitted by that date for full consideration.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EOE. Minorities/Women/Individuals with disabilities/Protected Veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 7/16/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4390

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Louisiana State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Judicial Politics/ Public Law)

Job Posting Title:Assistant Professor of Political Science (Judicial Politics/Public Law)

Position Type: Faculty

Department: LSUAM HSS - School of Political Science

Work Location: LSU - Baton Rouge

Assistant Professor of Political Science (Judicial Politics / Public Law)

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a junior level, tenure-track, Assistant Professor position in judicial politics/public law to begin Fall 2019. Pending final approval, the position will be full-time, tenure-track, with a teaching load of two courses per semester. Salary for the position will be commensurate with educational preparation and experience. Initial review of applications will begin September 15 and will continue until a candidate is selected.

Job Responsibilities:

Candidates should be prepared to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses in Politics, conduct research and scholarship in the candidate's sub-specialty, and directing/supervising graduate and undergraduate student research activity.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the Fall of 2019.

Note: Ph.D. in hand are preferred, but we will consider those who are close to completion and will finish by the time of the appointment.

Special Instructions:

Application materials should be submitted online and should include a letter of application stating the candidate's research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and evidence of research and teaching effectiveness. In addition, three current letters of recommendation should be sent directly to Wayne Parent, Chair, Department of Political Science, 240 Stubbs, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, LA 70803-5433 or by email to polichair@lsu.edu.

Applicant Link:

https://lsu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/LSU/job/LSU---Baton-Rouge/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science--Judicial-Politics---Public-Law-\_R00027683

Additional Position Information:

Background Check - An offer of employment is contingent on a satisfactory pre-employment background check.

Benefits - LSU offers outstanding benefits to eligible employees and their dependents including health, life, dental, and vision insurance; flexible spending accounts; retirement options; various leave options; paid holidays; wellness benefits; tuition exemption for qualified positions; training and development opportunities.

EEO Statement:

LSU is committed to diversity and is an equal opportunity / equal access employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4748

American Association for the Advancement of Science

Rank: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellows

Call for Applications: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships

Applications are now being accepted for the AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships (STPF). This professional level fellowship is the premier opportunity for outstanding scientists to learn first-hand about policymaking, bring valuable expertise to policy, and enhance political science in the federal government.

Gain hands-on policy experience, help develop and execute solutions to address societal challenges, and join a strong corps of over 3,100 policy-savvy alumni fellows working across sectors to serve the nation and citizens around the world. Fellow contributions can include policy research, content analysis, and budgeting and research for interdisciplinary programs.

Fellows serve yearlong assignments in all three branches of the federal government in Washington D.C. and represent a broad range of backgrounds, disciplines and career stages. STPF is seeking candidates with strong social and/or behavioral science credentials, an interest in career transformation and a desire to enhance federal policy.

Application deadline for the 2019-20 fellowship year is November 1, 2018. Eligibility requirements include U.S. citizenship and a doctoral level degree.

Apply today! <http://go.stpf-aaas.org/socialscience.html>

QUALIFICATIONS

- Doctoral-level degree (PhD, MD, DVM, DSc, etc.) in any scientific, social science, or engineering discipline,
- U.S. citizenship.

STIPEND & BENEFITS

- $75,000–100,000.
- Health insurance
- Travel/training and relocation allowances.

ONLINE APPLICATIONS DUE: November 1, 2018 https://fellowshipapp.aaas.org/applications/?utm\_campaign=2018-Recruitment&utm\_medium=web&utm\_source=socialscience&utm\_content=jobpost

FELLOWSHIP YEAR: September 1, 2019 – August 31, 2020

For more information and to apply: <http://go.stpf-aaas.org/socialscience.html>

Questions? Email fellowships@aaas.org or call 202-326-6700

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4738

University of South Carolina

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics to begin August 16, 2019. The position is open with regard to substantive specialization. We seek candidates with well-conceived, theoretically-informed research agendas who have published in or demonstrate the promise of publishing in leading outlets. Successful candidates will be able to teach substantive courses in American Politics and contribute to the department's graduate and undergraduate programs in quantitative methods. A Ph.D. is required by the start date of appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, statements of research and teaching interests, graduate transcript, and contact information, including telephone number and email address, for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation. Applications received by September 30, 2018 are assured full consideration. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/>.

Please contact the search committee chair, David Darmofal (darmofal@mailbox.sc.edu), with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 “Best Colleges” according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4731

Baylor University

Rank: R.W. Morrison Professor of Political Science

Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For." The University is recruiting new faculty with a deep commitment to excellence in teaching, research and scholarship. Baylor seeks faculty who share in our aspiration to become a tier one research institution while strengthening our distinctive Christian mission as described in our strategic vision, Pro Futuris, (www.baylor.edu/profuturis/) and academic strategic plan, Illuminate (baylor.edu/illuminate). As the world's largest Baptist University, Baylor offers over 40 doctoral programs and has more than 17,000 students from all 50 states and more than 85 countries.

Baylor seeks to fill the following open rank faculty position within the College of Arts & Sciences:

Assistant to Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Baylor University invites applications for the position of R.W. Morrison Professor of Political Science. The accomplished scholar who fills this position is expected to have established research and teaching credentials in the field of constitutional law. The search is open in rank. Applicants will be expected to contribute immediately to the flourishing BA, MA, and PhD programs in the department. Review of applications will begin as they are received, and to assure full consideration applications should arrive by October 1, 2018.

Candidates should possess an earned doctorate in in Political Science in the field of American constitutional law. Please submit a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, official transcripts showing the highest degree conferred, three letters of recommendation (or, for applicants at a senior rank, the names of three references), evidence of teaching effectiveness, writing samples, and a statement of participation in a faith community in the Judeo-Christian tradition. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

To learn more about the above position, the College of Arts and Sciences, and Baylor University, please visit www.baylor.edu/political\_science; or www.baylor.edu/hr/facultypositions.

Please send application materials in one PDF file to: Jenice_Langston@baylor.edu or mail them to Professor James Curry, Chair, Search Committee, Department of Political Science, One Bear Place #97276, Waco, Tx 76798.

Baylor University is a private not-for-profit university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, Baylor is committed to compliance with all applicable anti-discrimination laws, including those regarding age, race, color, sex, national origin, marital status, pregnancy status, military service, genetic information, and disability. As a religious educational institution, Baylor is lawfully permitted to consider an applicant's religion as a selection criterion. Baylor encourages women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4705

North Dakota State University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice

The department of Criminal Justice & Political Science at NDSU is recruiting for a 9-month tenure-track position, at the rank of assistant professor, starting Fall 2019. We seek candidates with expertise in judicial politics and constitutional law, broadly construed. Successful applicants should be versed in American public law, but could conduct research in a broad variety of related areas, such as, but not limited to, the role of race, ethnicity, sexualities, and/or gender in justice systems, comparative judicial politics, international courts and legal structures, or the politics of policing in the US or abroad. This is a 45% research, 45% teaching, 10% service position. The teaching load is 2-2, with a course release in the first three years. Successful applicants will be prepared to teach core undergraduate pre-law courses on American judicial politics, such as judicial process and constitutional law, but will also have ample opportunity to teach specialized courses of their choosing. Tenure-track political science faculty advise undergraduate students and may have opportunities to contribute to the supervision of MA and PhD students in criminal justice. The department has minimal service expectations for pre-tenure faculty.

Minimum Qualifications

The minimum qualifications for the position are: 1) a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or a related discipline, conferred no later than August, 2019, 2) evidence of research productivity, or potential to publish scholarship in peer reviewed journals, presses, and other outlets appropriate to one's field, 3) competence to teach American judicial process and constitutional law, and 4) effective written and oral communication skills.

Preferred Qualifications

We will give priority to candidates who 1) can provide substantial evidence of (potential) research productivity and quality, 2) have experience teaching American judicial process and/or constitutional law, 3) can provide substantial evidence of teaching effectiveness, and/or 4) have experience pursuing or obtaining external funding.

The Department

The Department of Criminal Justice & Political Science has 11 tenure-track faculty members and serves roughly 100 undergraduate majors in political science, and 200 undergraduate and 20 graduate students in criminal justice. Faculty in the department teach four classes per year. The NDSU community and national organizations have regularly recognized department faculty for excellence in research, teaching, and mentorship. While faculty contribute primarily to teaching, curriculum development, and advising within their respective programs, the department provides opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration across fields, both in research and teaching. The college provides faculty with computing resources and tenure-track faculty within the department receive a yearly research and professionalization budget that covers travel to 1-2 conferences, and which faculty routinely supplement with College and University travel grants.

The University

North Dakota State University is a comprehensive, student-focused, land-grant, research university with more than 14,000 students from 47 states and 79 countries. NDSU was the first university in North Dakota to be named to the most research-intensive category by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education and is listed in the National Science Foundation's top 100 in several areas, including agricultural sciences, social sciences, physical sciences, chemistry, psychology, and computer sciences.

NDSU values faculty members' work-life balance and the needs of dual-career couples. The College of Arts, Humanities, & Social Sciences' guidelines on family-related reassignment of duties are available at <https://www.ndsu.edu/fileadmin/ahss/family2010.pdf> and University policy on extension of the probationary period for personal or family reasons is available at <https://www.ndsu.edu/fileadmin/policy/352.pdf>. NDSU is an ADVANCE institution and has an a Focus on Resources for Women's Advancement, Recruitment/Retention, and Development (FORWARD) program, that, as part of its efforts, has developed procedures and funding streams for dual career hiring at NDSU: <https://www.ndsu.edu/forward/>.

Applicants can find more information about NDSU at <http://www.ndsu.edu>.

The Community

NDSU is located in Fargo-Moorhead (F-M), a pleasant, safe, diversifying, and growing community of approximately 240,000 people. As the largest population center in the region, F-M is a hub of entertainment, finance, information technology, and medical services for a large geographic area including the state of North Dakota, and western Minnesota. Two universities (NDSU and Minnesota State University Moorhead) and one private liberal arts college (Concordia College) are located in F-M. The F-M area has a healthy economy: ND has one of the lowest unemployment rates in the U.S., good public schools, low crime rates, ample shopping, local theatre and music companies, several art galleries, semi-professional baseball and hockey, and Division I intercollegiate athletics. Hector International Airport in Fargo is convenient and is served by several major airlines. Sun, clear skies, and clean air predominate year round. Visiting nearby northern Minnesota lakes, canoeing, camping, cycling, softball, and soccer are popular in summer; winter pastimes include cross-country skiing, skating, and snowmobiling. The city has an excellent park system that includes several quality golf courses and bicycle/running/ski paths along the Red River, which divides Fargo-Moorhead. Fargo is an hour drive from a major resort area in the Minnesota "lakes country" and two hours from scenic Itasca State Park, where you will find the headwaters of the Mississippi river. Central and western North Dakota offer beautiful hiking, camping, fishing, hunting, and related opportunities in the Badlands, national grasslands, and numerous river valleys. Winnipeg, Manitoba is less than a four-hour drive to the north and Minneapolis-St. Paul is an equal distance to the south-east.

Application

Applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, writing sample, statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, course materials, evidence of participation in teaching professionalization activities, and, if available, evaluations by peers and/or mentors; please do not include student evaluations of teaching), and contact information for 3 professional references. All application materials must be submitted online at <https://jobs.ndsu.edu/postings/9576>.

NDSU especially encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups.

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, and will continue to accept and review applications until the position is filled. The department will provide search updates through APSA eJobs' update capability, and on Twitter, using the #PSJMInfo hashtag.

Potential applicants may direct questions about the search to Dan Pemstein, the search committee chair, at daniel.pemstein@ndsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4706

Stonehill College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Stonehill College invites applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin August 2019. This position involves teaching undergraduates with a 3/3 load as well as participating in programming activities in the Department. We value candidates who exemplify the teacher-scholar model with a clear understanding of how to engage students with vibrant teaching and cutting-edge research. This person would join a department of five full-time faculty with a wide range of disciplinary expertise and a commitment to fostering diversity among faculty and students.

The department seeks candidates with research and teaching interests in American politics with a specialization in political behavior, institutions, public policy, or minority politics. We seek enthusiastic applicants who are committed to excellence in teaching, advising, and mentoring undergraduates and who have a demonstrated awareness of the importance of diversity in education. Qualifications include a recent Ph.D. in political science, a demonstrated commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching, and a dynamic research agenda. Founded by the Congregation of Holy Cross in 1948, Stonehill is a private Catholic college located just 22-miles from downtown Boston on a beautiful 384-acre campus in Easton, Massachusetts. With a student to faculty ratio of 13:1, the College engages its 2,500+ students in 80+ rigorous academic programs in the liberal arts, sciences, and pre-professional fields. Stonehill College is an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity. Candidates who will enrich the diversity of the campus community are strongly encouraged to apply. Interested applicants should apply online with a letter of application, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, statements of research and teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. We encourage candidates to speak to how they aim to contribute to a diverse and inclusive classroom in their cover letters and teaching philosophies. Review of applications will begin on September 17, 2018. The URL link to submit applications is: <https://jobs.stonehill.edu>. Please email general inquiries to Robert Rodgers, Chair of the Department, at rrodders@stonehill.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/27/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4707

Stonehill College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Stonehill College invites applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin August 2019. This position involves teaching undergraduates with a 3/3 load as well as participating in programming activities in the Department. We value candidates who exemplify the teacher-scholar model with a clear understanding of how to engage students with vibrant teaching and cutting-edge research. This person would join a department of five full-time faculty with a wide range of disciplinary expertise and a commitment to fostering diversity among faculty and students.

The department seeks candidates with research and teaching interests in American politics with a specialization in political behavior, institutions, public policy, or minority politics. We seek enthusiastic applicants who are committed to excellence in teaching, advising, and mentoring undergraduates and who have a demonstrated awareness of the importance of diversity in education. Qualifications include a recent Ph.D. in political science, a demonstrated commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching, and a dynamic research agenda. Founded by the Congregation of Holy Cross in 1948, Stonehill is a private Catholic college located just 22-miles from downtown Boston on a beautiful 384-acre campus in Easton, Massachusetts. With a student to faculty ratio of 13:1, the College engages its 2,500+ students in 80+ rigorous academic programs in the liberal arts, sciences, and pre-professional fields. Stonehill College is an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity. Candidates who will enrich the diversity of the campus community are strongly encouraged to apply.

Interested applicants should apply online with a letter of application, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, statements of research and teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. We encourage candidates to speak to how they aim to contribute to a diverse and inclusive classroom in their cover letters and teaching philosophies. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018. The URL link to submit applications is: <https://jobs.stonehill.edu>. Please email general inquiries to Robert Rodgers, Chair of the Department, at rrodders@stonehill.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/27/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4708

U.S. Naval Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

The Political Science Department of the United States Naval Academy invites applications for tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in American Politics beginning August 2019. Application review will begin on 01 October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The U.S. Naval Academy is a service academy and top tier liberal arts college with a commitment to excellence in faculty teaching, research, and service. American Politics scholars with expertise in public policy; race, gender, and ethnicity; or political philosophy are encouraged to apply. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. Candidates should have a robust research agenda and demonstrate potential for research excellence, as well as a strong commitment to student advising and institutional service.

For more information about this position and how to apply please visit the USNA position announcement at <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/AsstProfessor-PolSciAY19.php>

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4715

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Political Psychology, Electoral Behavior

The University of Michigan's Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure-track position in American Politics and Public Policy, especially at the assistant professor rank. We are particularly interested in the following areas of specialization: political institutions/organizations, elections and political behavior, social policy, race and ethnic politics, politics of diverse communities, and political advocacy. Candidates should combine expertise in these areas with strong grounding in public policy. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required. This is a university-year appointment and begins on September 1, 2019. First consideration will be given to applications received by October 1, 2018, but applications will continue to be considered until the position is filled.

Interested applicants may upload their application materials to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53518>. The following application materials are required: a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample, statement of current and future research plans, statement of teaching philosophy and experience, teaching evaluations (if available), and a brief statement describing how your work would contribute to the Ford School's and University of Michigan's strategic commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion (fordschool.umich.edu/dei). Letters of reference from three individuals also need to be uploaded to the system.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4698

University of North Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor

University of North Florida: Assistant Professor-American Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of North Florida seeks candidates for a tenure-track appointment as an assistant professor in American politics and government beginning in August 2019. The field in American Politics is open, although the department does have curricular needs in research methods. There are also opportunities to teach in the Masters of Public Administration Program. The department welcomes the use of innovative teaching technologies including distance learning and hybrid classes. Candidates should demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research. The teaching load is three courses per semester. A Ph.D in Political Science, Government, or a related discipline is required by August 2019.

UNF enrolls about 17,000 students and is located in Jacksonville, Florida, a rapidly growing metropolitan area with a population of over one million. Jacksonville is part of northeastern Florida's historic &quot;First Coast&quot; and there are significant historical, cultural, and recreational resources in the immediate area including access to rivers and beaches. Further information is available at www.unf.edu/coas/pspa.

Applicants MUST complete an application ON LINE in OASys at <http://www.unfjobs.org> and must mail all required documents to be considered for this position. Please mail the following materials:

- (1) a letter of interest stating teaching interests and research plans
- (2) a complete curriculum vitae
- (3) graduate school transcripts*
- (4) three current professional letters of recommendation
- (5) one sample of research and writing
- (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness to:

American Politics Search Committee Chair

Position # 331500

Department of Political Science and Public Administration

University of North Florida

1 UNF Drive, Jacksonville, FL 32224-7699.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018. This position will be considered open until filled.

Representatives of the department will be available to meet with interested candidates at the APSA annual meeting in Boston. If you would like to meet at APSA to learn more about the position, please contact Dr. Michael Binder by email (m.binder@unf.edu) and attach a C.V.

For further information, please contact Dr. Michael Binder (m.binder@unf.edu).

*Official transcripts are required by the time of employment. The University of North Florida is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access/Affirmative Action Institution.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4704

Smith College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Government and Statistical & Data Sciences

The Department of Government (GOV) and the Program in Statistical & Data Sciences (SDS) at Smith College invite applications for a joint, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin July 1, 2019.

By time of appointment, the applicant must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely-related discipline (e.g., public policy) -- as well as advanced training in statistics, data science, or a closely-related field. We are particularly interested in candidates specializing in American politics whose research is interdisciplinary or who place American politics into cross-national comparative perspective. Statistical and Data Science specializations may include the public policy implications of data storage and mining, machine learning and public health, modeling of voting behavior, polling and election forecasting, data privacy policy, or computer algorithms for law enforcement and sentencing.

Faculty members at Smith teach four 4-credit courses per year. The position has a joint teaching commitment to GOV and SDS, split evenly. In GOV, we anticipate that the person would teach introduction to public policy, introduction to American government, and an upper-level course in which students analyze data. In SDS, we anticipate that the person would teach introductory statistics or data science, as well as intermediate and advanced-level courses, such as multiple regression, machine learning, data journalism, data visualization, and text mining. Candidates from groups underrepresented in STEM are encouraged to apply.

Located in Northampton, MA, Smith College is the largest women's college in the country and is dedicated to excellence in teaching and research across the liberal arts. A faculty of outstanding scholars interact with students in small classes. Tenure-track faculty members teach two courses each semester, mentor and advise undergraduates, and enjoy a generous sabbatical policy. The Five College Consortium -- comprising Smith, Amherst, Mount Holyoke and Hampshire Colleges, and the University of Massachusetts-Amherst -- provides a rich intellectual and cultural life. Details about GOV and SDS may be found at <https://www.smith.edu/gov/> and <https://www.smith.edu/sds/>.

Submit application at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53767> with a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, a research statement and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018.

Diversity and a culture of inclusion among students, faculty, administration, staff, and curriculum are crucial to the mission and values of Smith College. Smith welcomes applicants from a range of backgrounds including, but not limited to, those based on ability, age, ethnicity, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation and veteran status.

Smith is committed to providing an accessible application process for individuals with disabilities and encourages applicants to request any needed accommodation(s).

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 4686

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the assistant professor level with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y8kvqavd>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) writing sample; 4) brief teaching statement; 5) brief research statement; and 6) at least three letters of recommendation. Applicants also are encouraged to submit as optional documents up to three publications or unpublished manuscripts and evidence of teaching performance, such as teaching evaluations, if available. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4687

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the assistant professor level with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y8kvqavd>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) writing sample; 4) brief teaching statement; 5) brief research statement; and 6) at least three letters of recommendation. Applicants also are encouraged to submit as optional documents up to three publications or unpublished manuscripts and evidence of teaching performance, such as teaching evaluations, if available. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4688

University of Chicago

Rank: Associate or Full Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the levels of associate or full professor with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/ydar3r7k>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; and 2) a curriculum vitae. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4689

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2019 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American political behavior, broadly defined. The ideal candidate will make use of new and emerging "big data" sources and innovative data collection techniques and analysis. Such methods might include, but are not limited to, survey data, geo-spatial data, network data, text analysis, machine learning, statistical and computer programming, and data visualization.

Candidates who are proficient in statistical science operations research, who develop cutting-edge solutions, and who collaborate across disciplines are particularly desirable, as are candidates with proven track records of grant funding. Though not required, we seek a scholar who can contribute to the University's mission to address problems of underrepresented and/or urban communities.

Successful candidates will be required to teach undergraduate Research Methods, Introduction to American Politics, and/or the Political Science Senior Seminar capstone course.

It is preferred that candidates be able to contribute to the existing curriculum, or offer new courses, according to area of expertise. Potential course offerings may include: Media & Politics, Social Movements, Political Parties & Elections, Public Opinion, Urban Politics, Latino Politics, or Politics of Race, Ethnicity, Class & Gender.

Virginia Commonwealth University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action university providing access to education and employment without regard to age, race, color, national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, veteran's status, political affiliation or disability.

We will be at the APSA Annual Meeting; to schedule an interview please contact polistaff@vcu.edu

For more detailed information and to apply, please visit: www.vcujobs.com

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 4695

California Lutheran University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Assistant Professor - Political Science

Position Category: Faculty

FLSA: Exempt

Location: Thousand Oaks

Basic Function:

Political Science Department Job Description

The Department of Political Science at California Lutheran University is committed to a strong liberal arts tradition that links scholarship, teaching, and applied knowledge to the academic study of political science. The Department seeks an Assistant Professor of Political Science who is committed to teaching, research, and service at a Hispanic Serving and McNair institution.

The candidate must demonstrate teaching expertise (or potential) and research interest in U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and an ability to teach methods courses that incorporate both quantitative and qualitative approaches to the study of political science. A full-teaching load is usually 3 courses per academic semester and 6 per academic year. Primary teaching responsibilities will likely include the following undergraduate courses: Introduction to American Government or Public Policy, Constitutional Law, Congress, Judicial Politics, Presidency, Public Law, and/or Research Methods. Particular attention will be given to someone who is interested in serving as a Pre-Law Advisor. There may also be an opportunity to develop new courses based on the successful candidate's expertise/interest. It is essential that interested candidates possess the ability or potential to teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate students, particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds. Applicants with research interests utilizing diverse methodological approaches and interdisciplinary content are strongly encouraged to apply.

The mission of the Department of Political Science at California Lutheran University is to provide a personalized education of distinction that fosters students' intellectual and critical powers, and develop their capacities to understand various aspects of political life. Students are required to produce original, high quality senior capstone projects and engage in experiential learning, which may include internships, study abroad, travel courses, and other activities. The courses in Political Science challenge students to examine U.S. political institutions, public policy, global politics, and political theory/law. Embedded within many of the courses are the themes of diversity, identity, and global and civic engagement. The goal is to prepare Political Science graduates to be civically engaged members of global society, and to enter a number of educational and career tracks such as public service, law, public policy, research, diplomacy, non-profits, and teaching.

Eligibility Requirements:

Eligible applicants must have the PhD in political science, JD, or a related field officially conferred by an accredited degree-granting university. The degree must be completed by April 15, 2019 (including defense and revisions) and conferred by May 31, 2019. The application must be written (or translated) in English.

Eligible applicants for this position include: U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals, U.S. permanent residents (holders of a Permanent Resident Card) and individuals granted deferred action status under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals Program (depending on the status of this program at the time of application), political asylees, and refugees. The Department values diversity in all forms, including race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, gender, age, disability, and sexual orientation.

Applications will be evaluated by a committee of scholars selected by the University, in consultation with the Department faculty. The search committee will use academic records, essays, letters of recommendation, standardized application forms, and other appropriate materials as the basis for determining the extent to which candidates meet the eligibility requirements and serve the mission of the Department and University.

Stipends and Benefits: This is a full-time, benefits eligible position.

Evaluation Criteria:

Candidates will be assessed based on the following criteria:

1) Demonstrated experience in, or potential to effectively teach courses related to U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and knowledge of diverse methodological approaches;

- 2) Experience with, or knowledge/understanding of mentoring and engaging undergraduate students (inside and outside of the classroom), particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds;
- 3) Evidence of, or potential for both producing scholarship and sustaining an active research agenda; and
- 4) Commitment to a liberal arts education and in service to the missions of the Political Science Department and University.

Required Materials:

Cover Letter: A two-page (or fewer) letter that addresses why Cal Lutheran's Political Science Department is a good place for the candidate to pursue his/her teaching, research, and other professional aspirations.

Curriculum Vitae: A comprehensive resume of professional and educational qualifications.

Diversity Statement: A one-page statement of the candidate's experience with, or knowledge/understanding of mentoring and engaging students from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds.

Three Reference Letters (requested through application tool): Letters should address how the candidate has the experiences, dispositions, and/or ability to teach, advise, and mentor students, including those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds.

Under the direction of the Dean and Department Chair, the Assistant Professor is responsible for providing academic instruction to students for the assigned undergraduate courses. The Assistant Professor is to serve as an academic advisor to students; serve on faculty or university committees; and engage in scholarly activities, and/or creative endeavors which contribute to the academic mission of the University, as outlined in the faculty handbook.

Representative Duties:

- Provide academic instruction to students through lecture courses. Create assignments and activities in one-on-one, classroom, and distance mediated instructional settings for development of cognitive abilities, communication skills, and higher order thinking skills among students. E
- Observe and evaluate student performance in meeting course objectives and student learning outcomes through assignments, projects, discussions, and examinations; provide feedback in a timely manner to student inquiries in class, online, or during established consultation office hours. E
- Maintain current, accurate records of course enrollment, attendance, student academic progress, course curriculum; prepare and submit grades, data, and reports related to course and student progress in a timely manner. E
- Provide a course syllabus to students in each class within the first week of the class, as outlined in the faculty handbook. E
- Adhere to the responsibilities related to teaching, advising, service, and scholarly, professional and creative activities, as outlined in the faculty handbook. E
- Attend and participate on committees and in department, division, campus, and University meetings. E
- Performs related duties as assigned.

E=Essential Duties

Knowledge Of:

- Current theory and practice within the subject discipline

- Principles and best practices of effective teaching
- Student learning outcomes and methods of assessment
- University curricula
- Community and campus resources, services, programs, and professionals available to students
- Methods of gathering, analyzing, and preparing data
- Modern computing technology
- Record keeping techniques with regard to student enrollment, attendance, and progress

Ability To:

- Demonstrate a thorough and accurate knowledge in the subject field or discipline
- Deliver course curricula in various learning styles
- Exhibit sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, social, economic, cultural, and ethnic background of University students
- Exhibit sensitivity to and understanding of the needs of students with disabilities.
- Integrate current and emerging instructional delivery technologies into the learning process to enhance teaching and the educational experience
- Maintain professional standards that protect student confidentiality
- Communicate effectively, both orally and in writing using tact, patience, and courtesy
- Establish and maintain effective working relationships
- Analyze situations accurately and adopt effective courses of action
- Demonstrate commitment to professional excellence and continuous growth within subject field or discipline

Minimum Qualifications:

- Eligible applicants must have the PhD in political science, JD, or a related field officially conferred by an accredited degree-granting university. The application must be written (or translated) in English. ABD's will be considered for appointment at the instructor level.

Preferred Qualifications:

- 1) Demonstrated experience in, or potential to effectively teach courses related to U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and knowledge of diverse methodological approaches;
- 2) Experience with, or knowledge/ understanding of mentoring and engaging undergraduate students (inside and outside of the classroom), particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds;
- 3) Evidence of, or potential for both producing scholarship and sustaining an active research agenda; and
- 4) Commitment to a liberal arts education and in service to the missions of the Political Science Department and University.

Physical Abilities:

Manual dexterity of hands and fingers to operate office equipment; speaking to exchange information, provide instruction and make presentations; sitting or standing for extended periods of time; pushing, pulling or lifting light objects; bending and reaching to store and/or retrieve files.

Posting Number: Faculty000052018

Number of Vacancies: 1

Desired Start Date: 08/19/2019

Open Date: 08/10/2018

Close Date: 10/1/2018

Open Until Filled: No

Application Procedure/Special Instructions:

To apply, visit <http://apptrkr.com/1280562>

California Lutheran University is committed to providing equal opportunity in employment for all persons, regardless of race, religious creed, color, national origin, ancestry, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, marital status, sex, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender, gender identity or expression, or any other basis protected by applicable law. No person shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination in any program, activity or facility of the University on the basis of these factors in a manner consistent with applicable federal and state laws, regulations, ordinances, orders and rules, and University's policies, procedures, and processes.

Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process can be provided to individuals with qualifying disabilities. Please contact the Human Resources Department for further information or to request an accommodation.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-e46536a3c2bb1d4ea9eca0d687a4aeab>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4679

University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Psychology

Assistant Professor – Political Psychology

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. We invite applications from individuals with a strong program of research in the area of political psychology, broadly defined.

Minimum required qualifications include: a Ph.D. in political science, psychology, or related field or evidence the degree will be completed by August 2019. Preferred qualifications include: evidence of research agenda focused on political psychology; an active research program with strong potential for producing high impact publications and attracting external grant funding; strong interest in interdisciplinary research and collaboration; and ability to teach American politics at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Standard teaching load is four courses per year. Salary, start-up package, and fringe benefits are competitive.

Review of applications will begin October 5, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. To be considered for the position, please go to <http://employment.unl.edu>, requisition F_180112, and click "apply for this job." Candidates should submit a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and writing sample through this website (statements and writing sample will need to be combined into one document for submission). Three letters of recommendation should be emailed to ihaas2@unl.edu or mailed to: Dr. Ingrid Haas, Chair, Political Psychology Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, NE 68588-0328.

As an EO/AA employer, qualified applicants are considered for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation. See <http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4681

University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Psychology

Assistant Professor – Political Psychology

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. We invite applications from individuals with a strong program of research in the area of political psychology, broadly defined.

Minimum required qualifications include: a Ph.D. in political science, psychology, or related field or evidence the degree will be completed by August 2019. Preferred qualifications include: evidence of research agenda focused on political psychology; an active research program with strong potential for producing high impact publications and attracting external grant funding; strong interest in interdisciplinary research and collaboration; and ability to teach American politics at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Standard teaching load is four courses per year. Salary, start-up package, and fringe benefits are competitive.

Review of applications will begin October 5, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. To be considered for the position, please go to <http://employment.unl.edu>, requisition F_180112, and click "apply for this job." Candidates should submit a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and writing sample through this website (statements and writing sample will need to be combined into one document for submission). Three letters of recommendation should be emailed to ihaas2@unl.edu or mailed to: Dr. Ingrid Haas, Chair, Political Psychology Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, NE 68588-0328.

As an EO/AA employer, qualified applicants are considered for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation. See <http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4682

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4662

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4663

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4664

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track position as Assistant Professor, beginning September 16, 2019. Tenure-track faculty have an annual service period of nine months (Sept 16-June 15). The field of specialization is open but teaching responsibilities will include quantitative courses in the graduate methods track. All University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications

Candidates must demonstrate a strong record of quantitative empirical work in one or more substantive areas of political science. Applicants should have or expect to have their PhD by the appointment start date.

Application Instructions

Applications should include a cover letter, current CV, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests as well as how that research agenda integrates quantitative methods. The teaching statement should describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness. As a public institution, the University of Washington seeks candidates committed to working with diverse student and community populations. Therefore, applicants are encouraged to describe how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities. We strongly encourage applications from women and underrepresented minorities.

The review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018. Applications must be submitted at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53523>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4668

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polisci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2019. Candidates for this position should be focused on teaching and research in the area of Public Policy. In addition to having a productive research agenda dedicated to the area of Public Policy, candidates must demonstrate potential for teaching excellence at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching courses with significant real-world applicability and service-learning opportunities, in accordance with college and departmental strategic goals of designing undergraduate curricula that emphasize career paths and the knowledge and skills students need after graduation. Although the area of specialization within Public Policy is open, areas especially fitting with this strategic priority might include public policy analysis, program evaluation, and behavioral public policy. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of the appointment.

Oklahoma State University is one of the state's two comprehensive research universities with a Stillwater campus population of 23,000 students. The Department offers the following degrees in Political Science: B.S., B.A. and M.A. The teaching load is normally two courses per semester. Completed applications received by October 1, 2018 will be given full consideration. Applicants are asked to apply online at Publicpolicyad@okstate.edu and submit: a letter of application, vitae, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, evidence of successful teaching and scholarship, and statements of teaching and research interests.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and minorities. Currently, 37 percent of our undergraduate majors are minorities. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic minority groups and 55 percent are female. Oklahoma State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/E-verify employer committed to diversity and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against based on age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or other protected category. OSU is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and desires priority referrals of protected veterans for its openings. OSU will not discharge or in any other manner discriminate against employees or applicants because they have inquired about, discussed, or disclosed their own pay or the pay of another employee or applicant. However, employees who have access to the compensation information of other employees or applicants as a part of their essential job functions cannot disclose the pay of other employees or applicants to individuals who do not otherwise have access to compensation information, unless the disclosure is (a) in response to a formal complaint or charge, (b) in furtherance of an investigation, proceeding, hearing, or action, including an investigation conducted by the employer, or (c) consistent with the contractor's legal duty to furnish information. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4651

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Assistant Professor – Public Administration in Political Science

The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (Cal Poly Pomona) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2019. Candidates with specializations in public administration and public policy are especially welcome to apply.

At Cal Poly Pomona, we cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation. We demonstrate academic quality, relevance, and excellence through our teaching, learning, scholarship, and creative activities with student-centered faculty in an evidence-based culture. Cal Poly Pomona is committed to being the model for an inclusive polytechnic university that inspires creativity and innovation, embraces local and global challenges, and transforms lives.

The Position

The faculty member will be part of a small, collegial Political Science Department and will contribute to a Master's of Public Administration Program. The faculty member will teach and advise in both the graduate and undergraduate program. As part of the political science undergraduate program, the faculty member will be expected to teach courses in one or more of our subfields in accordance to the faculty member's expertise: American politics, public administration, international relations, comparative politics, public law, and/or political theory. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a commitment to diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution and the faculty member will be an advisor to many underrepresented minorities and first-generation college students.

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or related disciplines such as Public Policy from an accredited university by August 1, 2019
- University teaching experience
- Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)
- Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work as well as experience working in an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications

Preference will be given to those candidates who have the expertise to work with graduate students on a range of thesis projects in public administration, as well as the ability to teach political science undergraduates. Expertise and work experience in areas such as public policy/program evaluation, urban politics and administration, community development/sustainability, and qualitative methods will be given careful consideration. Preference will also be given to candidates with research interests related to social or racial justice and who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Application Procedure

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications submitted by November 16, 2018. Early response is encouraged. Electronic submissions of all application materials must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53291>

A completed application will consist of:

- A cover letter that describes the candidate's teaching performance, research experience and interests, and that addresses the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;
- A curriculum vitae comprising at least those elements specified on the application form and including the names, titles, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers of at least five individuals who can speak to the candidate's potential for success in this position;

- A ‘Student Success Statement’ about your teaching, or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced);
- Three recent letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and dated within the past two years). Applicants will provide contact information for recommenders during the application process and the system will contact recommenders and provide a method for uploading letters;
- A completed application form available on the application website;
- An unofficial transcript showing then highest degree earned from an accredited education institution. Finalists will be required to submit an official transcript; and
- Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available.
- Please submit all electronic documents in PDF format.

For further information or clarification, please contact:

Faculty Search Committee
 Dr. Mario Guerrero, Faculty Search Chair
 Political Science Department
 California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
 Phone: 909.869.3887
 Fax: 909.869.6995
 Email: kmalm@cpp.edu (Kim Alm, Administrative Coordinator)

APSA Interviews

Representatives of the department will be available to meet at APSA's Placement Services. Please send a CV to mag@cpp.edu if you are interested in meeting with department representatives at APSA.

The University: Cal Poly Pomona is one of two polytechnic universities in the 23-campus California State University system. Our ethnically diverse student population of approximately 22,000 enrolls in 52 baccalaureate, 26 master's degree programs, 11 credential and certificate programs, and a doctorate in Educational Leadership, presented by 1,200 faculty. We recruit students increasingly from throughout California and beyond. The students are success and career focused and extremely diverse. We are proud of our status as a Hispanic Serving Institution. We have a strong commitment to supporting scholarship, research, and student achievement. Our scenic and historic 1,400-acre campus, once the winter ranch of cereal magnate W. K. Kellogg, is located about 30 miles east of downtown Los Angeles in one of the most dynamic economic and cultural regions in the country, and within an hour's drive of beaches, mountains, and desert. The university is committed to diversifying its faculty and staff and has made educational equity one of its highest priorities. The mission of the university is to advance learning and knowledge by linking theory and practice in all disciplines, and to prepare students for lifelong learning, leadership, and careers in a changing, multicultural world.

The College: The College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences fosters intellectual and ethical development and helps students become individuals who value and apply critical thinking in our complex, diverse and technological world. The College offers introductory and advanced course work in numerous degree and certificate programs across the humanities, social sciences, and performing arts. The General Education program offered to all students enrolled in the University is also central to the mission of the College. The College embraces its role in providing courses and curricula in support of multiple and single-subject teaching credential students. The University's mission to “cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation” lies at the heart of the College's commitment to offer programs that educate the whole person. Additional information is available at: <http://www.cpp.edu/~class/>.

The Department: The Department of Political Science has over three hundred and fifty undergraduate political science majors and approximately fifty students in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program. We also offer a Political Science minor and participate significantly in the university's General Education offerings. The Department sponsors a Model United Nations program and a Mock Trial Team, both with a history of national recognition. Members of the Department have traditionally been actively involved across campus and in the community.

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. The University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. Cal Poly Pomona subscribes to all state and federal regulations and prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity/gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, genetic information, medical condition, and covered veteran status. The University hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. As required by the Clery Disclosure Act, the university's annual security report is available at <http://www.cpp.edu/annual-security-report.shtml>. The person holding this position is considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/16/2018

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4647

CUNY-Graduate Center

Rank: Associate, Full, or Distinguished Professor

The Graduate Center (GC) is the principal doctorate-granting institution of the City University of New York (CUNY). Offering thirty-four doctoral degrees from Anthropology to Urban Education, and fostering globally significant research in a wide variety of centers and institutes, the GC provides academic training in the humanities, sciences, and social sciences. The Graduate Center is also integral to the intellectual and cultural vitality of New York City. Through its extensive public programs, The Graduate Center hosts a wide range of events - lectures, conferences, book discussions, art exhibits, concerts, and dance and theater that enrich and inform. In the last several years, the Graduate Center has emphasized recruitment of underrepresented groups, and has achieved success in this area. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

The Ph.D. and M.A. Program in Political Science at the GC seeks an Associate, Full, or Distinguished Professor in American Politics, broadly defined. The Political Science Program provides a collegial and inclusive environment to a diverse group of students and faculty. This is a tenure track position reporting to the Executive Officer of the Program.

The successful candidate will have an active research agenda, a commitment to graduate teaching, and a genuine interest in serving the GC community. S/he will advise Master's and Ph.D. students, and have regular administrative responsibilities within the Program and University.

The position will begin in Fall 2019.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of experience or equivalent. Also required are evidence of successful teaching, distinguished scholarship, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

A preferred candidate should have:

- Ph.D. in Political Science.
- Extensive research experience in American Politics, as demonstrated by publications in books and peer-reviewed journals.
- Ability to teach graduate courses and supervise Master's theses and Ph.D. dissertations.
- Ability to work in collaboration with the GC and CUNY to create fellowship opportunities and employment pipelines for graduate students.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

https://home.cunyfirst.cuny.edu/psp/cnyepprd/GUEST/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM.HRS\_CE.GBL will bring you to the registration screen. If you are a new user, you must register to apply. If you already have a user ID, please use your existing ID to apply. The application must include a curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, a research statement including scholarly interests, a teaching statement including topics of seminars the candidate is prepared to offer, and four (4) references including one from a graduate student. Please upload all documents as one file.

CLOSING DATE

Open until filled with review of applications to begin on October 1, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4646

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor in Latino Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

The Program in American Studies seeks applications for a faculty position in the area of Latino Studies, at the rank of associate or full professor. We welcome applicants from all fields of specialization, though preference will be given to candidates whose work, while rooted in Latino Studies, engages meaningfully with American Studies.

We are particularly interested in scholars whose research takes a multi-method social science approach, emphasizing qualitative and/or interpretivist perspectives. The successful candidate will be appointed fully in American Studies. Interested candidates should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8061> with a brief statement of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for three references. Applications received by October 1, 2018 will receive priority review. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4636

Air War College

Rank: Professor of International Security Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, East Asia, Middle East

-The Air War College

-Professor of International Security Studies

-The Air War College invites candidates to apply for a faculty position in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, including the areas of Northeast Asia, Southeast Asia, Central Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, or possibly other regions (excluding Europe). The Air War College is also seeking candidates whose scholarly interests are in international political economy, comparative politics, and/or in American national security policy. The possible starting dates are between January and July 2019, or possibly earlier. The Air War College is located at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, AL.

-Academic rank is open but the focus is for appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor. A Ph.D. is required in Political Science, International Relations, History or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy. This position is an Administratively Determined (AD) civil service position, and requires academic teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and a suitable publication record. Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum: 1) National Security and Decision-Making; 2) Regional and Cultural Studies; 3) Global Security, electives in area(s) of specialization; advising student research; and service to the institution. The Air War College provides a dynamic academic environment for teaching and research. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Responsibilities also include curriculum development, and participation in a capstone political-military exercise. The academic program offers master's degrees and senior-level professional military education to U.S. military officers, and civilian government officials, and to military officers from more than 40 nations.

-The selected candidate will be offered an initial three year appointment with a probationary first year. This appointment is renewable. While open positions are advertised in various publications, including the American Political Science EJobs, applicants must submit their application through USAJobs. Applicants must hold U.S. citizenship. -Applicants can submit their application via USAJobs online by going to: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/507400900>

-If candidates prefer to not use the online feature, they can send their resume, or Optional Form 612, along with other required documents

to 42 FSS/FSMC, 50 Lemay Plaza South, Building 804, Attn: Air War College faculty position, Maxwell AFB AL 36112-6334

-The OF-612 can be accessed through the Office of personnel Management's web site at www.usajobs.opm.gov. Note: this is an academic position, the selection committee strongly encourages candidates to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references.

-For more information, contact Colonel Dewey Mosley, U.S. Army, Department of International Security Studies, Air War College, 325 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112-6427; dewey.mosley@us.af.mil, (334) 953-9683. Or contact Dr. Chris Hemmer, Dean, Air War College, 325 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112-6427. Phone 334-953-7099, email christopher.hemmer@us.af.mil.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4558

Syracuse University

Rank: American Politics

Syracuse University
American Politics

The Department of Political Science seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor in American Politics for a position beginning in Fall 2019. We welcome candidates whose teaching and research focus on political institutions, particularly Congress, among other substantive areas of interest within the field. Candidates with an interest in gender are also welcome.

The political science department is housed within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, which is committed to citizenship education at the undergraduate level and to graduate education in public affairs and the social sciences. We seek candidates who complement the broader Maxwell mission and have interdisciplinary interests. Successful candidates may be invited to affiliate with the Campbell Public Affairs Institute or one of Maxwell's other interdisciplinary centers (<http://www.maxwell.syr.edu/centers/>).

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field or a credible expectation of completing all requirements for the Ph.D. by August 2019.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

For consideration, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/>) and attach online the following: a letter of interest and a CV, a sample of professional writing, a statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of quality teaching. Files may be no larger than 5MB, but you may submit an external link to a larger file if needed.

In addition, applicants will be required to provide the full email addresses of three references.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by September 15, 2018. However, the department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4608

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, American Politics

Specializations: Political Behavior, Social Movements, African American Politics

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning June 24, 2019. Candidates with teaching and research interests in American politics are encouraged to apply. We are especially interested in scholars engaging generally with political behavior in the American political context. This could include research related to race and ethnicity, economic or educational inequality, or gender politics, but is not limited to these areas. We encourage scholars working on American political behavior including but not limited to the study of political parties, interest groups, and social groups and movements to apply. Responsibilities include teaching upper division American politics courses and taking a lead role in the USAFA American government core course; maintaining a strong record of teaching and research; academic advising; and service to the department and Academy.

The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to our nation. The initial appointment is for three years. Successive reappointments of up to four years will be based upon an assessment of performance, Air Force and departmental needs, and funding availability. The Academy faculty is an integrated group of military and civilian educators, with a record of offering continuing appointments to civilian faculty after demonstrated excellence in the initial three-year appointment. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy is committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will further this goal. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage is found at <https://www.usafa.edu/department/political-science/>.

To apply, go to www.usajobs.gov. Type in "United States Air Force Academy, CO" in the "Location" box, and scroll down until you find this position. The deadline for applications is Oct 15, 2018. A doctorate in Political Science or a related field by the start date and U.S. citizenship is required. Essential qualities expected of every faculty member include the personal attributes of integrity, industry, cooperation, initiative, and breadth of intellectual interests.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4623

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, American Politics

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning June 24, 2019. Candidates with teaching and research interests in American politics are encouraged to apply. We are especially interested in scholars engaging generally with political behavior in the American political context. This could include research related to race and ethnicity, economic or educational inequality, or gender politics, but is not limited to these areas. We encourage scholars working on American political behavior including but not limited to the study of political parties, interest groups, and social groups and movements to apply. Responsibilities include teaching upper division American politics courses and taking a lead role in the USAFA American government core course; maintaining a strong record of teaching and research; academic advising; and service to the department and Academy.

The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to our nation. The initial appointment is for three years. Successive reappointments of up to four years will be based upon an assessment of performance, Air Force and departmental needs, and funding availability. The Academy faculty is an integrated group of military and civilian educators, with a record of offering continuing appointments to civilian faculty after demonstrated excellence in the initial three-year appointment. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy is committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will further this goal. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage is found at <https://www.usafa.edu/department/political-science/>.

To apply, go to www.usajobs.gov. Type in "United States Air Force Academy, CO" in the "Location" box, and scroll down until you find this position. The deadline for applications is Oct 15, 2018. A doctorate in Political Science or a related field by the start date and U.S. citizenship is required. Essential qualities expected of every faculty member include the personal attributes of integrity, industry, cooperation, initiative, and breadth of intellectual interests.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/16/2018
Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 4624

University of Rochester

Rank: Assistant Professor

As part of a broad initiative in American Politics, the Department of Political Science at the University of Rochester invites applications for tenure-track positions starting July 1, 2019, from candidates working in any area of American Politics. We are particularly interested in candidates with strong methodological skills and those working in race and ethnic politics. The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education. We will consider all applications received by September 7, 2018, although we will continue to accept applications after that date. Candidates should submit c.v., research statement, teaching statement, letters of recommendation, samples of written work, and transcript. Materials should be submitted on-line: <https://www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting/login>. For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department: <http://www.sas.rochester.edu/psc/>

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 9/7/2018
Date Posted: 8/16/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4619

Hamilton College

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a two-year visiting position with possibility for renewal for an additional two years, at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. Teaching load is four courses per year for the first year and five courses per year after. This position covers American politics, public policy, and political theory. Candidates may be from any field but must be able to teach courses from at least two of the three areas listed. Applicants who research the impact of digital technologies or incorporate innovative digital technologies into their research and teaching are especially encouraged to apply. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address the ways in which you would further the College's goal of building a diverse educational environment.

Appointment begins July 1, 2019. ABD or Ph.D. required Please submit a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, a list of courses you are prepared to teach, evidence of teaching performance, and arrange for submission of three letters of recommendation to Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53422>. We will begin consideration of applications on December 1. Applicants with questions or wishing to be interviewed at the APSA should contact Philip Klinkner, Chair, Government Department, Hamilton College (govsrch@hamilton.edu).

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at www.higheredcareers.com, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/offices/dof/faculty-support-resources/resources-for-prospective-or-newfaculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications
 ABD or Ph.D. required.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 12/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/15/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4601

Cornell College

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Politics invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level, beginning Fall 2019. Candidates should be prepared to teach the introductory course in American politics as well as upper-division courses on Congress & the Presidency and Campaigns & Elections. Candidates should have expertise in American institutions, American public policy, and/or American constitutional law. Second subfield training in political philosophy will be especially welcome, but any second subfield might work. Additionally, ability to contribute to a sophomore-level research design class, a senior-level capstone class, or both, depending on interest and expertise, will be expected. The teaching load is six courses (typically five preparations) per year. A Ph.D. in Political Science and a commitment to undergraduate education of a diverse student population in a residential liberal arts college are required. A.B.D. candidates will be considered only if the Ph.D. is expected to have been defended prior to Fall 2019.

Cornell College is an undergraduate liberal arts college that has attracted national attention for its distinctive academic calendar under which faculty teach and students take one course at a time in month-long terms. Academic immersion and unparalleled flexibility attract an ambitious student body from 45 states and 18 foreign countries. External endorsements include selection as one of the Colleges That Change Lives, a U.S. News Top 100 liberal arts college, and a Fiske Guide to Colleges Best Buy. Founded in 1853, Cornell's picturesque hilltop campus contains a mix of historic and modern facilities, ranging from the majestic King Chapel to the newly renovated Thomas Commons. It is located in Mount Vernon, Iowa, an urban fringe community recognized by Frommer's as one of "America's Coolest Small Towns" and located in the heart of Iowa's Creative Corridor.

The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Submit letter of application, vita, statements of teaching approach and research interests, graduate transcript(s), research sample, and three letters of reference through Cornell's online employment application.

Sample teaching materials may also be included.

Full consideration will be given to applications received by November 1, 2018, but applications may be considered after that date until the position is filled.

For more information about the Politics program, please visit the website at <https://www.cornellcollege.edu/politics/index.shtml>

Cornell College is an AA/EO employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Cornell complies with Iowa's smoke free air act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4585

Cornell College

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Politics invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level, beginning Fall 2019. Candidates should be prepared to teach the introductory course in American politics as well as upper-division courses on Congress & the Presidency and Campaigns & Elections. Candidates should have expertise in American institutions, American public policy, and/or American constitutional law. Second subfield training in political philosophy will be especially welcome, but any second subfield might work. Additionally, ability to contribute to a sophomore-level research design class, a senior-level capstone class, or both, depending on interest and expertise, will be expected. The teaching load is six courses (typically five preparations) per year. A Ph.D. in Political Science and a commitment to undergraduate education of a diverse student population in a residential liberal arts college are required. A.B.D. candidates will be considered only if the Ph.D. is expected to have been defended prior to Fall 2019.

Cornell College is an undergraduate liberal arts college that has attracted national attention for its distinctive academic calendar under which faculty teach and students take one course at a time in month-long terms. Academic immersion and unparalleled flexibility attract an ambitious student body from 45 states and 18 foreign countries. External endorsements include selection as one of the Colleges That Change Lives, a U.S. News Top 100 liberal arts college, and a Fiske Guide to Colleges Best Buy. Founded in 1853, Cornell's picturesque hilltop campus contains a mix of historic and modern facilities, ranging from the majestic King Chapel to the newly renovated Thomas Commons. It is located in Mount Vernon, Iowa, an urban fringe community recognized by Frommer's as one of "America's Coolest Small Towns" and located in the heart of Iowa's Creative Corridor.

The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Submit letter of application, vita, statements of teaching approach and research interests, graduate transcript(s), research sample, and three letters of reference through Cornell's online employment application: <https://cornellcollege.applicantpro.com/jobs/845220.html>

Sample teaching materials may also be included.

Full consideration will be given to applications received by November 1, 2018, but applications may be considered after that date until the position is filled.

For more information about the Politics program, please visit the website at <https://www.cornellcollege.edu/politics/index.shtml>

Cornell College is an AA/EO employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Cornell complies with Iowa's smoke free air act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4587

Cornell College

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Politics invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level, beginning Fall 2019. Candidates should be prepared to teach the introductory course in American politics as well as upper-division courses on Congress & the Presidency and Campaigns & Elections. Candidates should have expertise in American institutions, American public policy, and/or American constitutional law. Second subfield training in political philosophy will be especially welcome, but any second subfield might work. Additionally, ability to contribute to a sophomore-level research design class, a senior-level capstone class, or both, depending on interest and expertise, will be expected. The teaching load is six courses (typically five preparations) per year. A Ph.D. in Political Science and a commitment to undergraduate education of a diverse student population in a residential liberal arts college are required. A.B.D. candidates will be considered only if the Ph.D. is expected to have been defended prior to Fall 2019.

Cornell College is an undergraduate liberal arts college that has attracted national attention for its distinctive academic calendar under which faculty teach and students take one course at a time in month-long terms. Academic immersion and unparalleled flexibility attract an ambitious student body from 45 states and 18 foreign countries. External endorsements include selection as one of the Colleges That Change Lives, a U.S. News Top 100 liberal arts college, and a Fiske Guide to Colleges Best Buy. Founded in 1853, Cornell's picturesque hilltop campus contains a mix of historic and modern facilities, ranging from the majestic King Chapel to the newly renovated Thomas Commons. It is located in Mount Vernon, Iowa, an urban fringe community recognized by Frommer's as one of "America's Coolest Small Towns" and located in the heart of Iowa's Creative Corridor.

The Department seeks individuals who are committed to building a creative, dynamic and diverse workplace that celebrates the uniqueness of our faculty, staff and students. The College is committed to excellence in teaching and encourages interdisciplinary interests among its faculty.

Submit letter of application, vita, statements of teaching approach and research interests, graduate transcript(s), research sample, and three letters of reference through Cornell's online employment application: <https://cornellcollege.applicantpro.com/jobs/845220.html>

Sample teaching materials may also be included.

Full consideration will be given to applications received by November 1, 2018, but applications may be considered after that date until the position is filled.

For more information about the Politics program, please visit the website at <https://www.cornellcollege.edu/politics/index.shtml>

Cornell College is an AA/EO employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Cornell complies with Iowa's smoke free air act. Cornell utilizes E-Verify and requires satisfactory completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4588

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Legislative Studies, Presidency

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in the field of political institutions to begin July 1, 2019. The position is open with respect to institutional focus, including in American and comparative politics. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work provides opportunities for productive synergies. We also value strong theoretical and empirical skills, including the ability to contribute to our graduate methods sequence. Candidates should have potential for excellence in teaching and research at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Successful candidates will be expected to have completed the Ph.D. no later than July 1, 2019.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11635>. Address correspondence to: Chair,

Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204.

Review of applications will begin on September 12, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4586

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for junior faculty positions in Political Science. The search is open with respect to subfield. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by July 31, 2019 and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career. Applicants are required to submit a CV, at least two letters of recommendation (three preferred), and up to two writing samples online at: <https://tinyurl.com/y7avs6af>. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2018. No applications will be accepted after May 15, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4592

University of North Carolina, Asheville

Rank: Lecturer/Visiting Professor in American Politics

The University of North Carolina Asheville Department of Political Science invites applications for an 18-month Lecturer or Visiting Assistant Professor position for Spring 2019 and the 2019-20 academic year. An earned M.A. in Political Science or closely related field is required. Political Science ABDs are particularly encouraged to apply; however, a Ph.D. is required for appointment at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. Candidates should be broadly trained in Political Science but specifically prepared to teach a variety of classes in American Politics, including Intro to American Politics and at least one course related to the politics of race and ethnicity.

The person selected for this position will be expected to teach 12 contact hours per semester. Individuals with a passion for undergraduate teaching and interest in a career at an institution focused on the liberal arts are strongly encouraged to apply. In addition to having a passion for undergraduate teaching, research and mentorship, the UNC Asheville faculty is committed to disciplinary teaching through an inter- and multi-disciplinary lens and providing a premier liberal arts education. Faculty members are expected to teach across the University's Liberal Arts Core (LAC) program, our required interdisciplinary liberal arts curriculum, in courses that include, but are not limited to: introductory (freshman) colloquia; diversity intensives; courses that satisfy the Scientific Perspectives, Social Science courses and Arts and Ideas requirements; courses within the Humanities Program; and LAC Senior Capstone courses.

UNC Asheville has been a national leader in undergraduate research for more than 30 years, and over 60% of our students graduate each year having been involved in this important learning experience. The University fully embraces the idea of mentored undergraduate research being one of the highest forms of teaching, and the institution values success in this facet of a faculty member's work.

The University of North Carolina at Asheville is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic and educational community, welcoming and supportive of faculty and staff from all racial, ethnic, economic, religious, gender, and gender-identity backgrounds. We encourage applications from individuals whose backgrounds and interests align with this commitment. The successful candidate will be expected to engage students from among under-represented groups and to assist in the development of pedagogies and experiences appropriate for diverse learning styles and perspectives. We expect applicants to each write a 1-2 page Diversity Statement describing: (a) their experience in advancing diversity in teaching, scholarship and/or service; (b) examples of demonstrated leadership potential in the area of equity and inclusion; and (c) their understanding of the importance of diversity and inclusion to the mission of a liberal art university.

Applications for this position should be submitted electronically at <https://jobs.unca.edu>. Complete applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy that addresses Political Science pedagogy in the context of the liberal arts, a diversity statement (described above), copies of syllabi and teaching evaluations (if available), and copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts. The applicant should provide names and contact information for three references from whom we will request letters of reference to be sent separately; these references should address the candidate's written, verbal and interpersonal skills; ability to teach and mentor undergraduate students; and potential to develop and maintain a successful research program. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Linda Cornett at lcornett@unca.edu.

More information about the position can be found here: <https://jobs.unca.edu/postings/3468>

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4595

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics, specifically in the areas of Public Administration/Public Policy and National Institutions. Strong preference will be given to candidates who can teach the Judiciary and/or Constitutional Law. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. The Winthrop Department of Political Science boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching, research, and service. The department also has three affiliated programs: (1) the 43-year old Model UN Program; (2) the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research, which is home to the nationally renowned Winthrop Poll; and (3) the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement. Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in American Politics, including Public Administration, Public Policy, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and/or Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching and/or research expertise in multiple areas of need, including Media and Politics and Women and US Politics.
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to conduct media interviews on commentary about campaigns and elections and analysis of American political institutions
- Ability to collaborate with the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement

- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Required Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring
- Specialization in areas among those listed above
- Evidence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above

Work Environment: This position requires regular contact with students, faculty, and staff on campus. Additionally, the successful candidate will be required to have the ability to work with the outside community, local public schools, the media, other universities, and international schools/companies/partners.

Background Check Statement: Winthrop University is committed to providing a safe campus community. Winthrop conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include reference checks, a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

Employment Conditions: A nine-month, full-time tenure track appointment with faculty rank. Salary is competitive and dependent on academic qualifications.

Position Availability: August 16, 2019

Application Timeline and Procedures:

- We will meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association Annual Meeting in Boston, MA late afternoon Thursday, August 30 and 10am-5pm Friday, August 31 and Saturday, September 1 at the APSA eJobs Interview Service located in the Gloucester Room in the Marriott Copley Place. Please send your CV and days/times of availability to Chair of the Search Committee, Dr. Scott Huffmon, huffmons@winthrop.edu, to request a meeting at APSA.

Our Interfolio Application Website is Forthcoming. Review of applicants will begin on September 28, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Required Materials for Online Application When Available:

- Application letter, with evidence of major responsibilities and required qualifications
- Curriculum vitae, including names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses, if available, of at least three persons who know the candidate professionally
- Sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length)

- Statement of “teaching philosophy, including evidence of excellence in teaching and commitment to student learning
- Three professional letters of reference
- All graduate transcripts and evidence of highest degree achieved (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment)

Founded in 1886, Winthrop University in Rock Hill, South Carolina, offers its 6,000-plus undergraduate and graduate students an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement. In its colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, and Visual and Performing Arts, Winthrop embraces only those programs and activities that can be delivered at an exemplary level. Winthrop is well known for its inclusive and supportive campus environment, with University College supporting programs in both academic and student affairs. Winthrop University is achieving national stature as a competitive and distinctive co-educational, public, residential, comprehensive, values-oriented institution. The values of service, excellence, diversity, community, and leadership provide the foundation for Winthrop’s continuing development and shape Winthrop’s continuing success. Numerous national accolades reflect the sustained high quality and value of the Winthrop Experience, including the most recent U.S. News & World Report’s ranking of Winthrop as one of the top-10 public comprehensive universities in the South. Winthrop is an active member of the Rock Hill community and recognized as a key component of the region’s economic resurgence. In addition, Winthrop is located just 30 minutes south of Charlotte, North Carolina, ranked by U.S. News & World Report in 2018 as one of the top 25 best places to live in the country. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4584

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (Cal Poly Pomona) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2019.

Candidates with specializations in public law are especially welcome to apply.

At Cal Poly Pomona, we cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation. We demonstrate academic quality, relevance, and excellence through our teaching, learning, scholarship, and creative activities with student-centered faculty in an evidence-based culture. Cal Poly Pomona is committed to being the model for an inclusive polytechnic university that inspires creativity and innovation, embraces local and global challenges, and transforms lives.

The Position

The faculty member will be part of a small, collegial Political Science Department, which also has a Master's in Public Administration. The faculty member will teach and advise in the undergraduate program and participate as appropriate in the master's program. The faculty member will be expected to teach courses in the public law subfield, including Introduction to Public Law, Constitutional Law: Rights and Liberties, Constitutional Law: Government Powers, and Contemporary Issues in Law. There will be opportunities to develop new courses in accordance to the faculty member's expertise. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a commitment to diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution and the faculty member will be an advisor to many under-represented minorities and first-generation college students.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science, or related disciplines such as Law and Society, Law and Philosophy from an accredited university by August 1, 2019
- University teaching experience
- Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)
- Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work as well as experience working in an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications

Preference will be given to those candidates who have the expertise to teach constitutional law classes and other topics related to public law, including social justice and the law, civil rights, contemporary policy issues and the courts, legal philosophy, courts and the democratic process, and comparative politics and courts. Preference will also be given to candidates who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Application Instructions

Application Procedure

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications submitted by September 14, 2018. Early response is encouraged. Electronic submissions of all application materials must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53294>

A completed application will consist of:

- A cover letter that describes the candidate's teaching performance, research experience and interests, and that addresses the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;
- A curriculum vitae comprising at least those elements specified on the application form and including the names, titles, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers of at least five individuals who can speak to the candidate's potential for success in this position;

- A 'Student Success Statement' about your teaching, or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced);
- Three recent letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and dated within the past two years). Applicants will provide contact information for recommenders during the application process and the system will contact recommenders and provide a method for uploading letters;
- A completed application form available on the application website: <https://apply.interfolio.com/53294>
- An unofficial transcript showing the highest degree earned from an accredited education institution. Finalists will be required to submit an official transcript; and
- Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available.
- Please submit all electronic documents in PDF format.

For further information or clarification, please contact:

Dr. Jill Hargis, Faculty Search Committee Chair
Political Science Department
California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
Phone: 909.869.3887
Fax: 909.869.6995
Email: kmalm@cpp.edu (Kim Alm, Administrative Coordinator)

APSA Interviews

Representatives of the department will be available to meet at APSA's Placement Services. Please send a CV to mag@cpp.edu if you are interested in meeting with department representatives at APSA.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. The University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. Cal Poly Pomona subscribes to all state and federal regulations and prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity/gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, genetic information, medical condition, and covered veteran status. The University hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. As required by the Clery Disclosure Act, the university's annual security report is available at <http://www.cpp.edu/~police/annual-security-report.shtml>. The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment. A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/14/2018
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4579

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor - Open Rank
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, American Government and Politics
Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, International Security

Political Science Professor - Open Rank
 NYU Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for full-time tenure/track appointments in Political Science. The open-rank search is open to all fields and methodologies. Applications from senior scholars (associate and full professor) are especially welcome. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 1, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples, to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52969>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4574

University of Utah

Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Criminal Justice

The Department of Political Science at the University of Utah seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics with a focus in public law and the courts. This appointment begins July 1, 2019. To be hired, candidates must have a PhD in political science or a related field in-hand by the time of appointment.

The teaching load is two courses per semester, typically a mixture of undergraduate and graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) offerings. Applicants should be prepared to teach Introduction to American Government, Introduction to Law and Politics, and courses in Constitutional Law and Jurisprudence. Candidates should provide evidence of a sustainable record of high quality research and demonstrate evidence of the ability or the potential to generate extramural funding. Experience contributing to interdisciplinary research teams is also desirable. Applications received by September 24, 2018, will receive full consideration.

Applications should be filed using the online system at <http://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/80776>

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, writing sample, a statement of teaching focus and effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. As part of the cover letter or teaching statement we invite you to describe how your work and other experience contribute to the success of underrepresented students.

The University of Utah is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and does not discriminate based upon race, national origin, color, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, status as a person with a disability, genetic information, or Protected Veteran status. Individuals from historically underrepresented groups, such as minorities, women, qualified persons with disabilities and protected veterans are encouraged to apply. Veterans' preference is extended to qualified applicants, upon request and consistent with University policy and Utah state law. Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process will be provided to individuals with disabilities. To inquire about the University's nondiscrimination or affirmative action policies or to request disability accommodation, please contact: Director, Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 201 S. Presidents Circle, Rm 135, (801) 581-8365.

The University of Utah values candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds, and possess a strong commitment to improving access to higher education for historically underrepresented students. The University of Utah offers unparalleled opportunities for interdisciplinary collaborative research. The university is home to the Scientific Computing and Imaging Institute (SCI), the Center for High Performance Computing (CHPC), the Global Change and Sustainability Center (GCSC), and a new “iNterdisciplinary EXchange for Utah Science” (NEXUS) research center housed within our new building.

The University is a participating employer with Utah Retirement Systems (“URS”). To be eligible for retirement contributions, you must be hired into a benefit-eligible position. Employees with prior URS service may elect to enroll in the URS within 30 days of hire. Regardless of whether they are hired into a benefit-eligible position or not, individuals who previously retired and are receiving monthly retirement benefits from URS must notify the Benefits Department upon hire. Please contact Utah Retirement Systems at (801)366-7770 or (800)695-4877 or the University’s Benefits Department at (801)581-7447 for information. This position may require the successful completion of a criminal background check and/or drug screen and immunizations.

Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Matthew Burbank: mburbank@poli-sci.utah.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4567

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for one or more tenure-track junior faculty positions. These positions are open with respect to subfield and involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8001> Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Teaching and research statements are optional. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00001

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4564

Princeton University

Rank: Senior Faculty in American Politics (joint with Woodrow Wilson School)

The Department of Politics is seeking applications from senior scholars in the field of American politics for one or more tenured faculty positions, which may be joint with the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. These positions involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8002> Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00002

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4566

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications from outstanding political scientists with a specialization in American political behavior for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor. The department is committed to building an intellectually vibrant, culturally inclusive, and academically diverse community of exceptional faculty. The appointment is open with respect to empirical approach. We will give priority to important research that builds synergies within the department. Candidates able to assist in graduate training in quantitative methods or formal theory should indicate those competencies. The appointment will begin Fall 2019. Salary and benefits are highly competitive. The Committee will begin reviewing files as early as September 1, 2018. To ensure full consideration, applicants should submit complete applications by September 15, 2018, but we welcome earlier applications and we may schedule formal interviews at any time. We will accept applications until we fill the position.

Application Instructions

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, teaching evaluations (if applicable), and three letters of reference electronically via Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53090>

Qualifications

Among the qualifications required for hire is the Ph.D. in hand or expected by August, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4563

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Open Rank Search in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications from outstanding political scientists specializing in the study of American Politics for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor or a tenured appointment at the Associate or Full Professor rank. The department is committed to building an intellectually vibrant, culturally inclusive, and academically diverse community of exceptional faculty. The appointment is open with respect to empirical approach and area of expertise. We will give priority to important research that builds synergies within the department. Candidates able to assist in graduate training in quantitative methods or formal theory should indicate those competencies. The appointment will begin Fall 2019. Salary and benefits are highly competitive. The Committee will begin reviewing files as early as September 1, 2018. To ensure full consideration, applicants should submit complete applications by September 15, 2018, but we welcome earlier applications and we may schedule formal interviews at any time. We will accept applications until we fill the position.

Application Instructions

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and teaching evaluations (if applicable). Applicants for a non-tenured position should submit three letters of reference electronically via Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53095>

Qualifications

Among the qualifications required for hire is the Ph.D. in hand or expected by August, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4562

American Association of State Colleges and Universities

Rank: Executive Director for the American Democracy Project (ADP)

The American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU), a Washington, D.C.-based higher education organization, is seeking an Executive Director for the American Democracy Project (ADP), a civic and political engagement project for undergraduates in the 400 public universities that are members of AASCU.

ADP, celebrating its 15th anniversary, develops and manages programs to prepare undergraduates as informed, engaged citizens. Much of the work involves collaborating with faculty and staff from member universities, as well as with other national organizations and groups. The Executive Director will lead development of new projects, coordinate activities, and design programming. This individual will have responsibility for leadership of a major national conference, coordination of several external projects, management of multiple budgets and communications with internal AASCU offices and external constituencies.

EXPECTATION FOR ALL EMPLOYEES

Support the organization's mission, vision and values by exhibiting the following behaviors: teamwork, collaboration, respect, innovation, excellence and competence, accountability, ownership, and adherence to policies and procedures.

POSITION PURPOSE

The Academic Leadership and Change (ALC) Division provides academic leadership for 400 AASCU member institutions through the creation and management of a variety of cohesive, integrated, quality programs.

The incumbent is responsible for providing strategic vision and leadership for all of AASCU's civic learning and engagement programs. The flagship civic program is the American Democracy Project, founded in 2003, with 261 AASCU member campuses participating. The leadership role involves working closely with individuals on AASCU member campuses, and being part of a team of highly skilled professionals who work closely together to serve our members. The position requires an individual who can envision, develop and implement a collection of new signature political engagement programs and projects, as well as reviewing and supporting existing and ongoing programs and initiatives.

The incumbent supervises and manages one program manager in the ADP initiative, and is responsible for all civic learning and engagement-related programs and initiatives. The incumbent reports directly to the Vice President for Academic Leadership and Change. This position is funded entirely by external donations and grants.

FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Strategy Development, Planning, Innovation and Partnerships

Leads development and planning of strategic and operational civic engagement efforts that are consistent with the mission of the organization and the interests of our constituents.

Works collaboratively with the Vice President of the ALC division, ALC Division members, and other Divisions at AASCU, as well as our campus members and external partners in order to:

- Identify opportunities and obtain funding for new signature programs, service opportunities, including pilot projects
- Review, strengthen and further institutionalize existing programs and services
- Identify and develop new strategic partnerships
- Develop and maintain a long-term plan for a center for civic learning and engagement
- Routinely communicate with presidents, provosts and senior leadership at AASU institutions.

Programmatic Management and Oversight

Provides leadership for the implementation, supervision and assessment of all civic engagement national meetings, initiatives and projects, including

• Civic Learning and Democratic Engagement Annual Conference (CLDE), a partnership with the Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education (NASPA)

• Civic elements of the two annual Academic Affairs Meetings of the Academic Leadership and Change Division

• Selection of three civic awards presented annually by the American Democracy Project: The William M. Plater Award for Leadership in Civic Engagement, The Barbara Burch Award for Faculty Leadership in Civic Engagement and the John Saltmarsh Award for Emerging Leaders in Civic Engagement.

• Oversight of the selection process for the AASCU Civic Learning and Community Engagement Award
Staff Supervision and Team-Building

- Recruits, trains and supervises diverse professional staff, including professional doctoral-level staff, to support program initiatives and goals
- Assigns and evaluates work of all full and part-time staff
- Conducts annual staff performance evaluations according to AASCU's policy
- Ensures positive, collaborative relationships between ADP program and partnership staff and the Academic Leadership and Change Division, other AASCU divisions, and our member institutions.

Fiscal Leadership and Budgetary Oversight

Provides fiscal leadership and oversight of project budgets in coordination with AASCU's Accounting Office

- Develops and monitors budgets for funded projects
- Provides regular budget oversight, ensuring that all program spending is in conformance with AASCU and/or funded project guidelines

Communications

In collaboration with AASCU's Communications Division, leads and directs design and development of all ADP-related products and materials, including webpage on AASCU website; social media (such as Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, and Wordpress); email listservs; online communications for focus/interest groups.

Research

Conducts research related to the design and development of funded projects. Undertakes research that supports other potential national projects, showing impact of projects and programming on civic engagement and democratic participation of students at AASCU institutions.

The ideal candidate will have:

- Deep knowledge of how to engage university students to advance their knowledge, skills, and commitment to civic and political learning and participation.
- Comprehensive understanding of how colleges work and the ability to interact with university presidents and provosts, faculty and staff.
- Prior or current work experience in an organization that supports and fosters greater civic and political engagement.
- Ability to imagine, design and conceptualize with others, national initiatives and projects.
- Record of success in managing complex national projects ideally in civic and political engagement.
- Skill in managing people and elements of diverse complex projects involving multiple players and sites.
- Ability to work with staff at AASCU and collaborate with other civic and political engagement organizations.
- Ability to engage and cultivate potential donors.
- Master's degree required; Ph.D. preferred

Review of applications begins on September 4, 2018. This position is open until filled.

AASCU is an equal opportunity employer. For detailed information about ADP, see the AASCU website at <http://www.aascu.org/ADP/>.

To apply, submit a cover letter, resume and references to the following:

<https://www.paycomonline.net/v4/ats/web.php/jobs/ViewJobDetails?job=6203&clientkey=47499A366122C4CB5AFA8EC75AC98A8B>

Applications are not accepted via email.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: $130,000 - $139,999

eJobs ID: 4551

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowship in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics (up to three posts)

Nuffield College and the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford intend to appoint jointly, with effect from 1 September 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter, up to three Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellows (PPRFs) in Politics, broadly construed to include political science, political behaviour, comparative politics, political economy, electoral studies, political theory, international relations, and political history.

The key responsibilities of the Research Fellows are to engage in advanced study and independent scholarly research in politics broadly construed (as above); to disseminate research findings through publication and participation in conferences and workshops; to take part in the intellectual life of the College and the Department by organising workshops, seminars or conferences; and to undertake teaching not expected to exceed 48 stint units per year (the equivalent to teaching an eight-week 2-hour seminar series per year), and to assist in examining for the Department.

To be eligible, candidates should have completed, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field. Candidates must be within three years of the defence date (viva voce examination date) of their doctorate at the time of application. Allowances will be made for career breaks (for example, family-related leave) and candidates are asked to provide relevant information. Preference will be given to candidates who have not previously held a research fellowship similar to that advertised for more than one year at the time of taking up the fellowship. Prospective candidates should also have experience of carrying out independent research and a track record of excellent quality papers appropriate for and commensurate with their career level. They should have the ability to provide excellent teaching to high-achieving students; the willingness to contribute to the intellectual life of the College and the Department; and excellent oral and written communication skills. Teaching experience in any area of Comparative Government, Political Theory, or International Relations would be desirable.

The posts are full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 September 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter. Shorter-term appointments are unlikely to be considered. The salary offered is GBP 30,963 per annum (salary for 2017/18; the salary will be adjusted with effect from August 2018 following the agreement of the 2018/19 pay award). Subject to availability, Research Fellows may opt to rent single accommodation in College. Further benefits include a research allowance and free lunch and dinner in College.

Further particulars, including information on how to apply, are available from the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/2610/polpprf\_jd2019.pdf

The deadline for applications is Wednesday 12 September 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 4543

University of Miami

Rank: Open Rank Search in American Politics or International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Miami invites applications for an associate professor or full professor. The proposed start date is August 15, 2019. This is an endowed position providing a competitive salary and annual research budget. We seek candidates in the subfields of American politics or international relations who have developed a national or international reputation for their scholarship.

All applications can be submitted online via the Faculty Career Opportunities website (<https://umiami.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UMFaculty>) and all documents (CV, letters of nomination, and a list of three references) can be uploaded via this site. Applications will be considered until the position is filled. For further information about the position, please contact the Department Chair (jwest@miami.edu). Additional information about the Department is available at www.as.miami.edu/politicalscience/.

The University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Protected Veterans/Individuals with Disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applicants and employees are protected from discrimination based on certain categories protected by Federal law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4542

Williams College

Rank: tenure-track, entry-level assistant professor position in the area of contemporary welfare states and/or comparative capitalisms

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track, entry-level assistant professor position in the area of contemporary welfare states and/or comparative capitalisms. Subfield is open. We seek a scholar with a particular interest in the advanced post-industrial economies and an ability to teach courses on the politics of public policy. Candidates will be expected to contribute both to the Political Science Department and to Williams College's Program in Political Economy, an academic unit and undergraduate major dedicated to cultivating in students an understanding of the intersection of politics and economics in the formation of public policy.

The position's start date is July 1, 2019, and candidates should have the Ph.D. in hand no later than September 2019. Please upload a cover letter detailing current research interests and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample (one article, book chapter, or conference paper), evidence of teaching success, and three letters of recommendation to apply.interfolio.com/53170.

Williams College is a coeducational liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams College website (<http://www.williams.edu>). Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams

College is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4544

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Assistant Professor of History

United States Army War College

Assistant Professor of History

The United States Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, seeks to fill the position of (Assistant) Professor of History in the Department of National Security and Strategy in the School of Strategic Landpower's residence program with an annual salary between $75,597 and $98,093. This is a fulltime, long-term, civilian faculty position at the US Army's most senior institution for professional military education. The Army War College educates the top echelon of US military officers of all services, US government civilians, and military officers from scores of foreign countries. It develops strategic leaders by providing a rigorous curriculum of theoretical and professional subjects, leading to a Master's of Strategic Studies accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. The person selected for this position will have a leading role in planning, administering, and teaching two primary core courses, Theory of War and Strategy and National Security Policy and Strategy; as well as other core and elective courses. Additionally, the selectee will engage in cutting-edge scholarship that advances knowledge in fields relevant to the curriculum and engage in service in support of USAWC missions. The position comes with a generous compensation package as well as with the many benefits of working at an innovative, vibrant, and collegial military educational institution.

For additional information, and to apply for the position, please visit our website at <http://www.carlisle.army.mil/>. On the menu bar, click "About Us" and then "Employment Opportunities" to find the "Assistant Professor of History" job announcement. Or, visit the USAJobs website <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/505987400>

Applications are due by 15 September 2018. Finalists for the position will be invited to the Army War College for a visit that includes an interview with the search committee, presentation to the faculty, meetings with faculty and administrators, and a tour of the campus. A talented, committed, and diverse faculty is our most important resource in educating the nation's future strategic leaders. We are fully committed to equal employment opportunity and compliance with the full range of fair employment practices and non-discrimination laws. Federal law dictates that the position may be offered to US citizens only.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/8/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 4503

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in Fall of 2019. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on American Politics, especially those interested in political behavior. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 700 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC000646. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Professor Brandon Rottinghaus, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at bjrottin@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4511

University of Miami

Rank: Tenure-track International Relations or American Politics

Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the field of international relations or American politics. Although the position is open as to these two subfields, preference will be given to international relations candidates who specialize in international security and preference will be given to American politics to candidates who complement our existing strengths. Candidates should have over their PhD by August 15, 2019 and show promise of high-quality research in top scholarly outlets as well as excellence in teaching. The expected teaching assignment is 2-2, and the position will involve teaching in the field of international relations or American politics, including an introductory course.

All application packages can be submitted online via the Faculty Career Opportunities website (<https://umiami.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UMFaculty>) and all documents (CV, letters of nomination, and a list of three references) can be uploaded via this site. Applicants applying for the rank of assistant professor should upload documents including a CV, a letter of interest, teaching evaluations if available, PhD transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), and a single-authored writing sample. More senior scholars applying for the rank of associate professor should upload documents including a CV, a letter of interest, and a list of three references. Applications received on or before Monday, October 15, 2018, will be given full consideration. For further information about the position, please contact the Department Chair (jwest@miami.edu). Additional information about the Department is available at www.as.miami.edu/politicalscience/. The University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity Employer — Females/Minorities/Protected Veterans/Individuals with Disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applicants and employees are protected from discrimination based on certain categories protected by Federal law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4532

Colorado State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics (racial and ethnic politics)

The Department of Political Science at Colorado State University invites applications for an entry-level tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics with a specialization in racial and ethnic politics. We are open with respect to theoretical orientation, substantive focus, and methodological approaches.

The Department values both strong teaching and research. Successful candidates will be expected to offer courses in the American politics curriculum at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, including an upper-division undergraduate course in US racial and ethnic politics. Additional teaching assignments will depend on the candidate's interests and expertise as well as departmental needs. The normal teaching load is 2-2. Faculty members are also expected to advise and mentor graduate and undergraduate students; develop an active research agenda; and provide service to the department, college, university, and community. The Department offers programs of study leading to the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees; the doctoral program emphasizes the study of environmental politics and policy. Approximately one-third of undergraduate political science majors at CSU are first-generation college students.

Required Job Qualifications: Primary teaching and scholarly emphasis in American politics; evidence of an active research agenda focused on racial and ethnic politics in the US; PhD in Political Science or related field by August 16, 2019; evidence of teaching effectiveness; ability to enhance the Department's commitment to diversity and inclusion reflecting Departmental and institutional values.

Preferred Job Qualifications: Candidates who complement the department's existing strengths in environmental politics or who can teach any of the department's methods courses (quantitative, qualitative, or research design) are encouraged to apply.

Application Procedure: Applications will be accepted until the position is filled; to ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by September 9, 2018. Applicants should submit: 1) a letter of application outlining teaching interests and research agenda as well as a brief statement on how your teaching, research and/or service demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) Graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts acceptable at the initial stage of the search), 4) Evidence of demonstrated or potential teaching effectiveness (syllabi, teaching evaluations, letters of observation), 5) One sample of published or presented work, and 6) The names and contact information of three professional referees who will be emailed immediately upon submission of an application with a request to submit a letter of reference. Please note that a complete application consists of the requested materials and three letters of references. Your referees will be emailed a request for a letter of reference immediately upon submission of your application. As such, applicants should allow sufficient time for their letters to be submitted by September 16, 2018 to ensure full consideration. Application materials of semi-finalist candidates, including letters of reference, will be made available for review by the entire faculty in the Department of Political Science. Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Courtenay Daum (Courtenay.Daum@colostate.edu). To apply, please visit: <http://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/59062>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4510

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Administration

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus and methodological approach. The position requires excellence in research and classroom teaching. We are especially interested in applicants with a record of successful teaching and mentoring of students from all backgrounds (including first-generation college students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.). Applicants are encouraged to state in their cover letter how they will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or be ABD with PhD expected by the time of appointment. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and letters of recommendation from at least three references. Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53055>. The review of applications will begin on September 17, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to: michael.herron@dartmouth.edu

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4512

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in American Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01845>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4518

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Formal Theory / Political Economy for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. The applicant should demonstrate advanced skills in analytical reasoning and formal modeling (including but not limited to game theory), as well as a strong applied focus in at least one subfield. The successful candidate will be able to convey their insights to an audience that does not necessarily have extensive formal training but that is interested in the ideas as applied to a well-defined substantive problem. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01847>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4521

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. Applicants should demonstrate strong skills in analytic reasoning, broadly defined, which may include one or more of the following: quantitative methods, formal theory, analytic political philosophy, or modelling. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01840> for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4523

Drexel University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor, Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Congress, Social Movements

The Department of Politics at Drexel University invites applications for a non-tenure-track, teaching faculty position in Political Science.

We are seeking a scholar in the field of American politics, especially one who can teach classes on national institutions and social movements.

Ph.D. requirements to be completed by September 1, 2018.

The successful applicant will begin in September 2018. The position is for one year with the potential for renewal for a second year. The workload is 36 credits of courses over the fall, winter and spring terms, and it includes a full benefits package. Teaching duties include undergraduate teaching in political science and may include online or hybrid courses.

Candidates should include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; and 3) the names and email addresses only of at least three references. Please do NOT submit reference letters at this time as such letters will be requested at a later date for short-listed applicants.

Only applications submitted via drexeljobs.com (req 9057) will be considered. The successful applicant must have completed all requirements for their PhD by September 1, 2018.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until filled. Please address all queries to Prof. Richardson Dilworth at rd43@drexel.edu.

Drexel University offers an attractive benefits package including tuition remission, a generous retirement package with matching funds (up to 11 percent) and an opportunity to join a talented team of professionals directly helping the University achieve its record growth and quality reputation.

Drexel University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, welcomes individuals from diverse backgrounds and perspectives, and believes that an inclusive and respectful environment enriches the University community and the educational and employment experience of its members. The University prohibits discrimination against individuals on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, disability, age, status as a veteran or special disabled veteran, gender identity or expression, genetic information, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions and any other prohibited characteristic. Please visit our website to view all University Policies and Workplace Postings.

Background investigations are required for all new hires as a condition of employment, after the job offer is made. Employment may not begin until the University accepts the results of the background investigation.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4493

George Washington University*Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of assistant professor. This position is pending final budgetary approval.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda as evidenced by working papers or publications, and be able to teach graduate and undergraduate courses as indicated by research presentations and/or teaching assessments. The Department expects applicants to have strong substantive and methodological training, as demonstrated by completed coursework, but has no preferred methodological approach. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs will be considered but must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the date of appointment.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/55187> and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching/research interest (including a summary of teaching evaluations, if available), and sample publications. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin on 9/17/2018, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/6/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4494University of California, Irvine*Rank: 2018-19 Political Science Lecturer Pool (American Focus)

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of American Political Institutions such as Congress, Judicial Behavior, and the Presidency. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2018-19 academic year and thus are based on departmental need.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in American Politics.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $54,738 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2018-2019 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/24/18 – 12/14/18

Winter Quarter: 1/2/19 - 3/22/19

Spring Quarter: 3/27/19 – 6/14/19

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04842>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by October 1st, 2018. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 3/17/2019Date Posted: 8/6/2018Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 4501Oberlin College*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics/ Quantitative Policy Analysis Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a post-doctoral faculty position in quantitative policy analysis in the College of Arts and Sciences. Appointment is for the 2019-20 academic year. This is a non-continuing position.

The incumbent will pursue teaching responsibilities for one class per semester in the quantitative analysis of public policy.

The incumbent will also engage in sustained scholarly research and/or other creative work appropriate to the position, help direct a series of guest scholars/policy practitioners, and participate in a range of mentoring responsibilities for students interested in policy analysis.

To apply, candidates should visit the online application site found at <https://jobs.oberlin.edu>. A complete application will be comprised of 1) a cover letter that includes an articulation of the applicant's teaching philosophy and scholarship / artistic interests; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) unofficial transcript; 4) evidence of teaching effectiveness; 5) a writing sample; and 6) letters of reference from three (3) recommenders.* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at: <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/>

*By providing three (3) Professional References (names and email addresses), you agree that we may contact them through our applicant web portal. Reference writers will be asked to submit an electronic letter of recommendation. Please note: at this time we are unable to accept letters of recommendation from an Interfolio email address. Completed applications received by the October 29, 2018 deadline will be guaranteed full consideration.

Questions about the position can be addressed to: Stephen Crowley, Professor and Chair of the Politics Department, at scrowley@oberlin.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/3/2018Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 4492Yale University*Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics*Specializations: American Politics, Political Psychology, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in American Politics. We are interested in candidates with expertise in legislatures, institutions, behavior, and political psychology. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/53018>.

Review of applications and nominations will begin September 15, 2018, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4488

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Race, Ethnicity and Migration

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for an Assistant Professor position in Race, Ethnicity, and Migration. We are particularly interested in outstanding candidates who work on American Politics, and also candidates who work on these issues in Comparative Politics and International Relations. This search is part of a cluster of hires, at multiple levels, the department is making over the next few years. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/53016>.

Review of applications and nominations will begin September 15, 2018, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4489

University of California, Merced

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Political Science Department at the University of California, Merced invites applications for an assistant professor (tenure-track) position in either Political Institutions or Political Behavior. The department is particularly interested in applicants who focus on international relations and/or comparative politics but will also consider applicants in American politics.

In order to be considered, candidates must have a PhD in political science (or a closely related field) by the position start date and evidence of excellence in research.

The anticipated start date for this position is July 1, 2019.

Applications must be submitted online. Completed applications must be received no later than September 14, 2018, in order to be considered. Interested applicants are required to submit 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statement of research; 4) statement of teaching; 5) two writing samples; 6) a contributions to diversity statement; and, 7) a list of three references with contact information including mailing address, phone number and e-mail address.

The contributions to diversity statement should describe your past experience, activities and future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion, in alignment with UC Merced's mission to reflect the diversity of California and to meet the educational needs and interests of its diverse population. Some faculty candidates may not have substantial past activities. If that is the case, we recommend focusing on future plans in your statement. For additional information on what should be included on your Diversity Statement, please visit <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html#Are-there-any-guide-lines-for-wr>.

Applicants should arrange to have three letters of reference submitted online. After an application is submitted, the letters of reference should be electronically uploaded by the letter writers (instructions will be provided by the application system). Letters of reference should be received no later than September 14, 2018.

The University of California, Merced is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty, students and staff. The majority of students at UC Merced are members of under-represented minority groups and we encourage applications from candidates dedicated to working in a multicultural environment.

Salary is commensurate with education, experience, and UC academic salary scales.

For additional information, please contact Tom Hansford at thansford@ucmerced.edu.

Applicants will be notified when the final candidate has been selected.

To apply, please visit our UC Merced job posting at: <https://aprecruit.ucmerced.edu/apply/JPF00688>.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 8/2/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4483

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track assistant professor starting August 2019. This position is part of the Department's continuing investment in its American Political Behavior hiring initiative. Candidates' research interests can be from any area of American Political Behavior (as opposed to institutions), and we view the subfield broadly. Duties include teaching and mentoring at the graduate and undergraduate levels and the publishing of original research in professional outlets.

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or be ABD with a terminal degree transcript on file no later than nine months from appointment date.

Preferred Qualifications:

Candidates should have a demonstrated potential for excellence in scholarship. Strong quantitative skills are encouraged but not required.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a recent publication or research-related writing sample, teaching evaluations (if available), original transcripts, and a list of three letter writers, who will separately provide letters of recommendation (in electronic form) to the UGA Job site at <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/29263>. Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Applications received by September 28th, 2018 will receive full consideration, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

For more information about the department, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>.

Athens is well known for its quality of life including both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The Department of Political Science is committed to enhancing the diversity of the department and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area, in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR. Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Contact:

Wendi Finch

Email:

wendif@uga.edu

Phone:

706-542-2057

Fax:

706-542-4421

Address:

180 Baldwin Hall

Athens GA, 30602-1615

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4479

University of North Carolina, Asheville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of North Carolina Asheville Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin Fall 2019. An earned Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for a tenure-track position; however, candidates nearing completion of their doctorate (ABD) with a defense expected prior to August 2019 may be considered. Candidates should be broadly trained in Political Science but specifically prepared to teach a variety of classes in American Politics, while also sharing teaching responsibilities in the department's research methods and/or undergraduate research sequence. Priority will be given to candidates with expertise or teaching experience in the politics of race and ethnicity or in state, local, or urban politics. Candidates whose teaching, scholarship, and service contribute to the department's human rights and civil rights emphases are especially welcome, and the successful candidate will have the opportunity to contribute to related university programs such as Africana Studies; U.S. Ethnic Studies; American Indian and Indigenous Studies; Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and Human Rights Studies.

The person selected for this position will be expected to teach 12 contact hours per semester, establish a research program that involves undergraduates, and engage in service to the institution, the community and the profession. Individuals with a passion for undergraduate teaching and interest in a career at an institution focused on the liberal arts are strongly encouraged to apply. In addition to having a passion for undergraduate teaching, research and mentorship, the UNC Asheville faculty is committed to disciplinary teaching through an inter- and multi-disciplinary lens and providing a premier liberal arts education. Faculty members are expected to teach across the University's Liberal Arts Core (LAC) program, our required interdisciplinary liberal arts curriculum, in courses that include, but are not limited to: introductory (freshman) colloquia; diversity intensives; courses that satisfy the Scientific Perspectives, Social Science courses, and Arts and Ideas requirements; courses within the Humanities Program; and LAC Senior Capstone courses.

UNC Asheville has been a national leader in undergraduate research for more than 30 years, and over 60% of our students graduate each year having been involved in this important learning experience. The University fully embraces the idea of mentored undergraduate research being one of the highest forms of teaching, and the institution values success in this facet of a faculty member's work.

The University of North Carolina at Asheville is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic and educational community, welcoming and supportive of faculty and staff from all racial, ethnic, economic, religious, gender, and gender-identity backgrounds. We encourage applications from individuals whose backgrounds and interests align with this commitment. The successful candidate will be expected to engage students from among under-represented groups and to assist in the development of pedagogies and experiences appropriate for diverse learning styles and perspectives. We expect applicants to each write a 1-2 page Diversity Statement describing: (a) their experience in advancing diversity in teaching, scholarship and/or service; (b) examples of demonstrated leadership potential in the area of equity and inclusion; and (c) their understanding of the importance of diversity and inclusion to the mission of a liberal art university.

Applications for this position should be submitted electronically at <https://jobs.unca.edu>. Complete applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy that addresses Political Science pedagogy in the context of the liberal arts, a diversity statement (described above), copies of teaching evaluations, a scholarly writing sample, statement of research interest and plans, and copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts. The applicant should provide names and contact information for three references from whom we will request letters of reference to be sent separately; these references should address the candidate's written, verbal and interpersonal skills; ability to teach and mentor undergraduate students; and potential to develop and maintain a successful research program.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Linda Cornett at lcornett@unca.edu.

For more information, see: <https://jobs.unca.edu/postings/3430>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4480

Saint Mary's College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor — Research Methods and American Politics

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Visiting Assistant Professor – Political Science

The Program in Political Science invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor beginning August 2019. The position is for one year; there is a possibility of conversion to a tenure-track position if circumstances and funding permit. The Department seeks a scholar in Research Methods and American Politics who has a strong commitment to teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment. The candidate's primary responsibility will be to teach a 3-3 load, which in addition to the Research Methods course required of all Political Science majors may include such courses as Public Opinion, Political Parties and Interest Groups, and Gender and Politics. Ability to teach Foreign Policy and/or Security Studies is a plus. A strong commitment to diversity and inclusion, undergraduate education of women, liberal arts education, and service to the department and the College is expected.

PhD required. ABD considered if PhD to be completed within one year. Teaching experience required. Starting date is August 19, 2019. Classes begin on August 26, 2019.

Please send the following to Dr. Amy Cavender, chair, at posc+search@saintmarys.edu (PDF format preferred):

Letter of application
Curriculum vitae
Statement of teaching philosophy/research activity
Statement on diversity
Evidence of teaching excellence
Three letters of reference

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants invited to progress to the next round will also be asked to provide all official transcripts of undergraduate and graduate work.

Established in 1844, Saint Mary's College, the nation's premier Catholic Women's college, was founded and is sponsored by the Sisters of the Holy Cross. As a Catholic institution of higher learning, Saint Mary's College has a mission-driven responsibility to be diverse, inclusive, and equitable. The College encourages candidates from underrepresented backgrounds to apply. (See our full value statement on diversity and inclusion: <https://www.saintmarys.edu/about/president/presidents-council-inclusivity-multicultural-diversity>.) Saint Mary's College is a liberal arts college for women with a strong commitment to education of undergraduate women and graduate women and men. All faith traditions are welcome among our administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Saint Mary's College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. In keeping with the College's mission, Saint Mary's is committed to increasing its diversity at all levels — students, faculty, and staff — and seeks applications from candidates who share this commitment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4471

College of William & Mary

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (American politics, political behavior)

Position summary: The Department of Government at William & Mary seeks applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level in American politics with specialty in political behavior. We are especially interested in candidates with interests in racial or ethnic politics, or the politics of inclusion. The successful candidate will have excellent preparation; will possess a demonstrated commitment to producing high-level scholarship and outstanding classroom teaching; will help the Department bring new perspectives to its research profile and curricular offerings; and will be interested in mentoring student research or conducting collaborative research with students. Teaching will include a mix of lecture and seminar courses at the undergraduate level.

Required qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science or a cognate discipline at the time of appointment (August 10, 2019).

Preferred qualifications: Demonstrated interest or previous experience teaching racial or ethnic politics, the politics of inclusion, or research methods (qualitative or quantitative methods, including political polling and survey methods) is preferred.

Application instructions: Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), a writing sample, and a statement describing previous professional experiences or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference. For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, September 17, 2018. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

Additional information: Information on the Department of Government is at <http://www.wm.edu/as/government/>. We are one of the largest majors on campus and our faculty participate in and receive support from various research centers on campus as well. Our faculty also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Africana Studies, Data Science, Environmental Science and Policy, Gender Sexuality and Women's Studies, Global Studies, International Relations, Public Health, and Public Policy. William & Mary is located in Williamsburg, Virginia, convenient to Richmond (the state capital) and Washington, DC. William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities. The College conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4459

Georgetown University

Rank: Senior Tenured Scholar - McDonough School of Business and the Walsh School of Foreign Service

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business (MSB) and the Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS) invite applications and nominations for a senior tenured scholar to hold a joint appointment in both schools. We seek scholars who work at the intersection of business and international affairs in fields such as international political economy, international trade, and international business and public policy. We expect to make this appointment at the level of Full Professor, though we welcome applications from accomplished associate professors. We also welcome applications from and nominations of senior scholars with extensive policymaking experience.

This joint position is one of a number of new interdisciplinary positions at Georgetown intended to foster scholarship and teaching on some of the important problems of our times. Because of our location in Washington, DC, extensive linkages to the international policy and business communities, and strong tradition of scholarship and teaching in business, international affairs, and political economy, Georgetown has a unique opportunity to pursue integrative opportunities in scholarship and educational programs at the intersection of these fields, and the person appointed to the joint position will play an important role in these initiatives.

The MSB and SFS are currently undertaking a transformative cooperation to create a new joint undergraduate degree, the first in Georgetown's history, and plans are also underway for joint centers and research initiatives. This cooperation builds on the success of several joint graduate degrees, as well as a jointly administered Global Business Fellows program for undergraduates. The successful candidate will help provide leadership in deepening and broadening the linkages between the schools.

The SFS is a preeminent international affairs school with deep expertise in international political economy, regional studies, and security studies. The MSB has strengths in core business disciplines as well as international business, public policy, and international political economy. Both the MSB and the SFS are collegial and multi-disciplinary.

ABOUT GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY: Georgetown University is one of the world's leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs. More information can be found here: <https://www.georgetown.edu/>.

ABOUT THE MCDONOUGH SCHOOL OF BUSINESS: Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business attracts faculty and students from around the world. We are committed to developing principled leaders capable of making complex business decisions in a global environment and who are dedicated to serving both business and society. Georgetown McDonough offers undergraduate, MBA, Executive MBA, and specialized programs. More information can be found here: <https://msb.georgetown.edu/>

ABOUT THE WALSH SCHOOL OF FOREIGN SERVICE: The Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS), founded in 1919, is a premier school of international affairs. At Georgetown's Washington, D.C., and Qatar campuses, SFS provides a rigorous education grounded in both theory and practice while instilling the Jesuit values of service. SFS hosts top-ranked undergraduate and graduate studies which feature an interdisciplinary core curriculum that focuses on international affairs, government, economics, history, theology, philosophy, geography, and language. SFS faculty are scholars in political science, economics, history, and cultural studies, as well as professionals with backgrounds in business, government, and the nonprofit sector.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to apply.interfolio.com/52848. Please send nominations to the same address. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on 1 November 2018, but will accept applications and nominations until the position is filled. Professors Dennis P. Quinn of MSB and Erik Voeten of SFS will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4455

Muhlenberg College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

The Department of Political Science at Muhlenberg College invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will be broadly trained in political science with a primary interest in American public law. We are open to candidates with a variety of substantive teaching and research interests, for example, constitutional law and theory; judicial politics; urban politics, civil rights; law and society; criminal justice politics; democracy, law, and race; feminist legal studies; global legal studies; immigration. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries and welcome a variety of methodological approaches. Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester to include one or two classes in American constitutional law or constitutional theory.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science by August 2019. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in liberal arts undergraduate teaching and mentoring students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.), the potential for scholarly publications, and effective written and oral communication. We are especially interested in candidates who have a long-term interest in helping to develop and advise students in Muhlenberg's pre-law program.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter describing their teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g. sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy), graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references. Candidates should also submit a separate statement describing how they will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College's efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. For additional information about Muhlenberg's commitment to diversity and inclusion, applicants can find the latest updates to the College's Diversity Strategic Plan at: <http://www.muhlenberg.edu/main/aboutus/president/initiatives/diversityatmuhlenberg/>.

Complete applications should be sent via email as a single PDF document, addressed to Lanethea Mathews-Schultz, Political Science Department Chair to: pscsearch@muhlenberg.edu. In order to receive full consideration, applications must be received by September 17, 2018.

Founded in 1848, Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in eastern Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley. Allentown is a diverse city of 116,000, and along with Bethlehem and Easton, anchors the third-largest metropolitan area in Pennsylvania. The region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants. In addition, Allentown is within close proximity to both New York City and Philadelphia.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4457

University of Cincinnati

Rank: Islamic Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The University of Cincinnati invites applications by advanced assistant and associate professors to fill the Inayat and Ishrat Malik Professorship in Islamic Studies. The position will begin in the fall of 2019. The search committee welcomes applications from scholars in the field of Islamic Studies, with research and teaching interests in such areas as Anthropology, Comparative Religion, Arabic, Ethics, Gender Studies, History, Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, and Theology.

Minimum Qualifications: A Ph.D. is required, as well as prior teaching experience and evidence of scholarly excellence.

The successful candidate is expected to engage in research, to teach on the graduate and undergraduate levels in their area, and to contribute, via interdisciplinary education and as appropriate, to undergraduate certificate programs in such areas as Religious Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, Arabic Studies, Asian Studies, Security Studies, and Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies. The successful candidate should be thoroughly knowledgeable in the Islamic intellectual tradition and in Qur'anic Studies. Enthusiasm to present Islamic teachings in multiple areas of thought and experience and in a style accessible to diverse student audiences is essential. This effort will include the presentation of at least one public lecture in Islamic Studies each academic year. The candidate should also have a track-record of engagement with the Islamic community, demonstrate a willingness to contribute to the Islamic Center of Greater Cincinnati, and be able to build productive relationships with academic partners across campus and with interfaith and cultural groups in the Cincinnati area.

The tenure-track position will be housed in the department in the College of Arts & Sciences most appropriate to the candidate's degree. Joint appointments are possible.

The successful candidate will be expected to make service contributions to the mission of that department and commensurate with the position of Professorship in Islamic Studies. The teaching load will accord with that of research-active faculty. The University of Cincinnati is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity. The University is interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community, and we hope to attract applicants who have experience in promoting the success of students from diverse backgrounds. We encourage women, members of racial/ethnic/gender groups underrepresented in higher education, persons with disabilities, and veterans to apply.

For full consideration, interested and qualified apply online at <https://jobs.uc.edu> (Search Requisition #31164). A complete application will include a letter of interest, a CV, an article-length writing sample, and a one-page statement summarizing your contributions or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion as they relate to teaching, research and/or mentoring. Please use the Additional Documents function to submit the required documents. Three letters of reference must be directly submitted by recommenders to history@ucmail.uc.edu.

For questions or additional information, please contact Professor Jeff Zalar, Chair of the Search Committee, at zalarjy@ucmail.uc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4456

School of Advanced Air and Space Studies

Rank: Asst/Assoc Professor of Strategy and Security Studies
Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Defense, History & Politics, International Security

The School of Advanced Air and Space Studies (SAASS) is seeking a scholar of strategic or security studies to join our faculty beginning summer, 2019. Applicants with a specialization in space policy, space law, space history, or technology and innovation are of particular interest.

SAASS educates strategists for the US Air Force and the nation. The faculty develops and presents a yearlong graduate curriculum designed to educate students in the art of strategy and strategic studies, enhancing the Air Force's capacity to defend the United States through the control and exploitation of air, space, and cyberspace. Graduates receive a Master of Philosophy in Military Strategy degree with the possibility to continue toward a PhD in Military Strategy. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Colleges accredits both programs through The Air University.

Successful applicants will support the Air University and SAASS missions and have experience in the development, study, evaluation, or implementation of strategy, in terms of policy, history or practice. Applicants must have a completed PhD or JD, in an area relevant to strategic studies, with the ability to teach in a relevant field such as history, political science, and technology. Emphasis on the control and exploitation of space, air, and cyberspace and extensive professional experience in these areas is highly desired. The selection committee will consider applicants at the assistant and associate levels.

Primary duties include teaching graduate-level courses across the breadth of the school's curriculum, advising thesis and dissertation students, curriculum development, course direction, scholarly research and publication, and service to the school and university commensurate with individual experience.

Applicants will be required to submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation and samples of research, course syllabi and teaching evaluations to the chair of the search committee (via email or regular mail). Additionally, candidates will need to formally apply for the position using the USAJobs site, which will begin accepting applications on 1 September 2018. Review of applications will begin 1 October and continue until the position is filled.

Preliminary interviews will be conducted at the APSA annual meeting in Boston from August 30-Sep 1, 2018.

To schedule a meeting at APSA or for further information, please direct inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Derrick Frazier (derrick.frazier@us.af.mil; SAASS, 125 Chennault Circle, Room 2222A, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112).

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4446

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: American Politics, Comparative Politics and Political Theory Junior Faculty Position
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The UCLA Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a junior faculty position, to begin July 1, 2019. We are particularly interested in applicants who specialize in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or Comparative Political Theory/Political Theory & Race and Ethnicity, although we will also consider especially strong applications from candidates working in other fields and (pending administrative approval) at senior ranks. Given its commitment to equity, diversity, and inclusion, UCLA asks that candidates include with their application a statement that addresses past efforts, as well as future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion.

Candidates should apply online at: <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply>. The job tracking number is (JPF03889). The online application should include: a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, the aforementioned diversity statement, evidence of teaching excellence in related courses, at least one writing sample, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation. The letters of recommendation should be uploaded directly by the referees. Appointments will be effective July 1, 2019. PhD in Political Science or related field in hand prior to the appointment. To ensure full consideration, the online application should be completed by September 15, 2018. Applications will be accepted, however, until the position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/27/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4447

Utah Valley University

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Science
Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

The Department of History and Political Science at Utah Valley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics to begin in the academic year 2019-2020. We are seeking candidates with expertise in the politics of race and ethnicity, minority politics, immigration politics, media and politics, and public opinion in the United States. We are also interested in candidates who are able to teach survey and experimental methods courses within the department. The person hired will also be expected to teach our large-section introductory course in American politics.

As an Elective Community Engagement designated university by the Carnegie Foundation, Utah Valley University is committed to making teaching excellence inclusive in every aspect of the institution. Diversity, inclusion and equity are prioritized learning resources for all UVU community members. Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an engaged learning environment.

Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science prior to August 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate a potential for outstanding teaching and excellence in scholarship.

Interested applicants must apply for this position via the Utah Valley University job page. Please access the posting at <https://www.uvu.edu/jobs/postings/7932>. All applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a sample of your research, teaching materials (for example student evaluations or sample syllabi), your graduate transcript, and three letters of reference. All materials are due by October 1, 2018.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association conference, please email your curriculum vitae and cover letter by August 15 to Dr. Steven Sylvester, Search Committee Chair at ssylvester@uvu.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance

Employment decisions are made on the basis of an applicant's qualifications and ability to perform the job without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, genetic information, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 7/26/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4437

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgencut.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencect.uconn.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (<http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/> academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 7/25/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4428

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Select "Apply" to be redirected to Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4429

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Please navigate to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11482> to apply via Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4430

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Please navigate to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11482> to apply via Academic Jobs Online. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4431

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, Politics and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in politics and public policy to begin July 1, 2019.

Applicants at the assistant level should be new or recent PhD graduates in political science, public policy, or a relevant policy discipline with a PhD conferred by 07/01/2019. While we encourage applications from scholars studying all areas of public policy, GPS has particular interest in scholars of regional or urban politics and policy-making. Examples include comparative regional or urban politics, regional inequalities, land use, regional planning, sustainable development, political and economic geography, and smart cities. We welcome applications regardless of regional or comparative focus. Junior applicants must have a PhD conferred by July 1, 2019.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01814>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 7/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4421

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate Professor, Politics and Public Policy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenured Associate Professor position in politics and public policy to begin July 1, 2019.

Applicants should have a PhD in political science, public policy, or a relevant policy discipline. Applicants at the associate level should show a record of outstanding research and teaching in the same fields, as well as evidence of policy engagement, broadly construed. While we encourage applications from scholars studying all areas of public policy, GPS has particular interest in scholars of regional or urban politics and policy-making. Examples include comparative regional or urban politics, regional inequalities, land use, regional planning, sustainable development, political and economic geography, and smart cities. We welcome applications regardless of regional or comparative focus.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01815>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 7/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4425

Whittier College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

Assistant Professor of Political Science

Whittier College

Whittier College announces a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates specializing in Public Policy and American Politics, and capable of teaching a core course in Public Administration. We would be particularly interested in candidates who might also be able to contribute to any of the following additional areas: race and politics, minority politics, environmental politics, state and local politics with an emphasis on California, and/or political theory.

Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science prior to September 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate potential for outstanding teaching and excellence in scholarship. The Political Science Department has five full-time faculty and approximately 90 majors. Faculty members teach 20 units each year and are expected to teach college-wide courses such as First-year Writing Seminars and/or courses paired with faculty in other disciplines as part of our general education program. In addition, all faculty must be fully engaged in committee service and advisement of students.

Preliminary review of materials will begin September 10, and will continue until the appointment is made. If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association conference, please let us know, and send your c.v. and letter of application by August 1. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance. Full applications should include: a letter of application, including discussion of teaching philosophy and research interests; a curriculum vitae; a summary of course evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness; unofficial transcripts; and at least three confidential letters of recommendation, sent by your references. Please email (PDFs preferred) materials to Prof. Deborah Norden, Department Chair, at <mailto:dnorden@whittier.edu>. Paper application and reference letters can be sent to Prof. Deborah Norden, Political Science Department; Whittier College; 13406 Philadelphia St.; Whittier, CA 90601.

Whittier College is committed to attracting and retaining a high quality, diverse faculty with a shared passion for student-centered teaching and mentoring. It is distinguished by its small class sizes, high-impact pedagogies, and innovative liberal arts curriculum blended with professional and pre-professional programs. It is a nationally recognized model for diversity and has no racial majority among its student body. With over 60% students of color, Whittier is designated as both a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and Asian American Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution (AANAPISI). Founded in 1887, it is an independent, four-year liberal arts college with about 1,650 undergraduates and is ideally situated in the scenic hills 18 miles east of downtown Los Angeles. It is an AA/EOE employer. More information on the position is available at www.whittier.edu/jobs.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jobid-4289f6e1d352e841a207bc2342f12ec7>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4413

Appalachian State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in American political behavior with a focus on political psychology. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: public opinion, voting/electoral politics, political psychology, and political communication. The ability to offer courses on gender, race, and/or ethnicity is a plus. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. The department is committed to promoting a community that celebrates and models the principles of diversity and inclusivity. Candidates should be on track to earn a Ph.D. prior to September 2019.

Appalachian State University is a member of the sixteen-campus University of North Carolina System, consistently ranking among the top regional universities in the South. Located in Boone, North Carolina, the University has nearly 19,000 students, primarily in bachelors and masters programs in both liberal arts and applied fields. The Department with 30 tenure-track faculty has undergraduate programs in political science, public administration and criminal justice and graduate programs in political science and public administration. Additional information about the Department of Government and Justice Studies can be found at <http://gjs.appstate.edu>. Additional information about the University and surrounding area can be found at www.appstate.edu.

Applicants must send a completed application consisting of a letter outlining teaching and research interests, a current vita, and three letters of recommendation. Inquiries and applications should be sent to Dr. Ellen Key, Department of Government and Justice Studies, at PSFaculty@appstate.edu. Appalachian State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Individuals with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact Dr. Ellen Key at the email listed. Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University's receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report. Proper documentation of identity and employability will be required before the hiring process can be finalized. Review of applications will begin on September 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/10/2018

Date Posted: 7/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4405

Boston University

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to hire a tenure-track Assistant Professor specializing in American Politics. The position is open with respect to substantive focus within American Politics. The start day is 1 July 2019, pending final budgetary approval. The successful candidate will teach four courses a year, variously geared to undergraduates and Ph.D. students.

Please submit a letter of application including research and teaching statements, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and three references to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11463>.

Completed applications are due on 15 September 2018. We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

The Department of Political Science at Boston University will be holding an informational session at APSA on Friday, August 31st from 1:00 to 4:00 pm. Candidates who are attending the conference and are interested in the position are welcome to stop by.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4407

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor effective July 1st, 2019. Responsibilities include graduate and undergraduate teaching and research supervision. Applicants should have, or be near completion of, a PhD degree in Political Science at start of employment. MIT is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and strongly encourages applications from women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities. MIT, located in Cambridge Massachusetts, is interested in applicants with experience and interest in communities of color, cultures other than their own, culturally diverse groups and developing and implementing curricula that address multicultural perspectives. Applications should include a cover letter, C.V., sample dissertation chapter(s), and three recommendations.

Please submit your materials online to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11465>. Completed applications must be submitted by September 15, 2018.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4406

DePaul University

Rank: Latinx Politics and Urban Politics

Latinx Politics and Urban Politics
DePaul University

The Department of Political Science (PSC) at DePaul University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019 (6 courses in three academic quarters — 2-2-2). The Department seeks candidates with expertise and preparation in American Politics, specializing in Latinx Politics and Urban Politics.

Applicants who are qualified to teach in both fields will receive preference, although applicants who teach in one of two fields will receive full consideration. The successful candidate will also have opportunities to teach courses in the University's general education program and various interdisciplinary programs. DePaul University is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body and Chicago area communities.

Candidates should submit a letter of application [cover letter], CV, sample syllabus, course evaluations, and reference contact information online to our Faculty Recruiting site-- <http://facultyopportunities.depaul.edu/postings/2042> . For more information, email polisci@depaul.edu or visit the department's web site at <http://lls.depaul.edu/psc>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4401

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in the Field of Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor in the field of public policy.

The McCourt School has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching expertise focus on applying innovative research to find solutions to important public policy problems. Environmental policy (domestic or comparative) and comparative policymaking are two areas where we have especially strong needs.

We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start; the Ph.D. could be in political science, policy, sociology, economics or related fields.

Applications can be submitted at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11436>. The committee will begin considering applications on September 15th and will continue to do so until the position is filled.

A small number of candidates may be interviewed at the American Political Science Association meeting in Boston. Applicants who submit their applications by August 25th who wish to be considered for APSA interviews should indicate their availability in their cover letter.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4403

University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Professor/Chair Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Given multiple expected retirements and the demographics of departmental faculty, the Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Reno invites applications for Department Chair. This is an exciting opportunity for a senior scholar to aid in the mentoring of rising junior scholars, to continue hiring of diverse and productive faculty, and promote one the largest majors in the college and University. Appointment to the position will begin July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be named the "Vail Pittman Professor of Political Science" and have access to an endowment that comes with the Pittman Professorship.

The department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. The position is open to all research areas in political science. The department chair is expected to provide academic and administrative leadership to 19 faculty members and staff, teach two courses a year, and oversee departmental operations that include budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. The chair will work closely with the Directors of Undergraduate Studies and Graduate Studies to provide teaching support for the department's 500 undergraduate majors and 60 graduate students. While the position can be from any research area within Political Science, the chair should have familiarity with standards and practices in support of specific degrees offered by the Department which include an undergraduate interdisciplinary International Affairs BA, traditional Political Science BA, MA and PhD degrees, and a thriving Masters of Public Administration (MPA). The chair is also expected to build a strong relationship with college administration to further strengthen the department's research and teaching agenda. Finally, the chair should be prepared to continue advancing our commitment to increasing the diversity of our department community, research expertise, and curriculum.

Required Qualifications

Qualifications for the position include a PhD in political science, public policy, public administration or related field; an established record of research and teaching excellence; and previous administrative experience that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Department Information

The Department of Political Science is housed in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Nevada, Reno, and a Tier One university. The College of Liberal Arts administers more than 20 majors and minors, and is the largest college at the university (<http://www.unr.edu/liberalarts>). The department administers two undergraduate degree programs in political science and international affairs, and two accelerated BA/MA and BA/MPA degrees for 500 undergraduate majors. There are an additional 120 plus minors in Political Science, Renewable Energy, Asian Studies, and Latin American Studies (all administered by the Department).

The department is home to three graduate programs that confer MA, MPA, and PhD degrees. Additional information about the department can be found on its website: <https://www.unr.edu/political-science>. In recent years, the department has experienced substantial growth in the number of faculty, research productivity, and external funding awards. The department expects to play a significant role in the university's long-term expansion plans and its movement toward R1 research status.

For more information and to apply, please visit: https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNR-external/job/University-of-Nevada-Reno---Main-Campus/Professor-Chair-Political-Science\_R0110642

Total Compensation

The total compensation package includes a negotiable competitive salary, moving expenses (if applicable), a rich retirement plan, health insurance options that include dental and vision, life insurance, long-term disability, annual and sick leave, along with many other benefits. Additionally, there is a grant-in-aid educational benefit for faculty and dependents.

Contact Information for this position

Eric Herzik, herzik@unr.edu

For full consideration please apply by October 8, 2018. This search will close without notice when a sufficient number of applications are received or a hiring decision has been made.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4397

University of Oregon

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Congress, Electoral Systems, Quantitative Methods

The University of Oregon's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position of Assistant Professor in Political Science, to begin in fall 2019. We seek candidates specializing in U.S. Congress, parties, political participation and elections, interest groups and/or public opinion with demonstrated sophistication in quantitative methods. Competitive applicants will be capable of outstanding research and teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Our faculty employ diverse theoretical and methodological approaches but share the pursuit of meaningful answers to big questions with real-world implications. The department features a strong pole of research and teaching about American politics, with particular strengths in institutions, American political development, and the politics of race, gender and sexuality. We particularly welcome applications from scholars who are from populations historically underrepresented in the academy, and/or who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds.

UO is committed to recruiting and retaining a culturally diverse and pluralistic faculty. We encourage applications from all qualified candidates, and strongly encourage women faculty, faculty of color and faculty with disabilities to apply. We are especially interested in candidates who can support our work in mentoring, research, teaching, and outreach with women, first-generation students, communities of color, and other underrepresented groups. All applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will contribute to this work.

For complete details and to apply, go to academicjobsonline.org/ajojobs/11442.

Materials must be received by September 15, 2018 to ensure committee review.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4398

Brandeis University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics at Brandeis University invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the assistant professor level in American Politics. The successful candidate's term will begin in the Fall of 2019. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on American Politics, open as to subfield. We are especially interested in candidates working on campaigns and elections, state and local politics, or public policy, particularly as these areas intersect with race, ethnicity, and gender. We prefer candidates who will have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August of 2019. Candidates should show evidence of teaching and research excellence to qualify for consideration. The course load is 2/2, and candidates will have the opportunity to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement of research and teaching interests that includes potential course offerings, a chapter or article length writing sample, and three letters of reference. Brandeis University is committed to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in faculty scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants are encouraged to address these goals in their cover letter or in their teaching and research statement. These materials can be submitted electronically at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11383>. First consideration will be given to applications received by October 1, 2018. Questions about the position can be directed to: Jill Greenlee (greenlee@brandeis.edu) and Daniel Kryder (kryder@brandeis.edu), Co-Chairs, Search Committee on American Politics. Brandeis University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer that is committed to creating equitable access and opportunities for applicants for all employment positions. We value and are seeking candidates that represent a variety of social identities, including those that have been underrepresented in higher education. Diversity in its student body, staff and faculty is important to Brandeis' primary mission. The search committee is therefore particularly interested in candidates who, through their creative endeavors, teaching and/or service experiences, will increase Brandeis' reputation for academic excellence and better prepare its students to participate within a pluralistic society.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/16/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4391

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis seeks candidates for one position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the area of American politics to begin Fall 2019 or later. Duties include research and publication, course teaching, student advising, and department and university service. Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field is required at the assistant or associate level. In addition, candidates at the associate professor rank must, through research and publication, have made a significant contribution to one or more subfields in Political Science. Washington University in St. Louis is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status.

We will begin reviewing files on September 15 and will continue doing so until the search is concluded. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through the Washington University HR system (<http://hr.wustl.edu/opportunities/Pages/default.aspx>).

Candidates should create an account, search for job requisition number 40939, complete the application form and upload a CV and supporting materials. Letters of reference can be e-mailed to artsci-pschair@email.wustl.edu.

If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email artsci-pschair@email.wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at (314) 935-5852.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4392

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics)

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professorship in American politics. The position is open as to research and teaching specialization, including both political institutions and behavior. Candidates with a focus on the presidency/executive branch are especially welcome.

A Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester, typically a mixture of undergraduate and graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) offerings. The department offers a nationally competitive doctoral program in political science as well as an innovative master's degree in American politics that takes advantage of Georgetown's location in Washington, DC.

The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11417>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Michele Swers, mls47@georgetown.edu. For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive by September 21, 2018, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 7/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4380

University of Delaware

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Political Psychology

THE UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF AMERICAN POLITICS

The University of Delaware's academic leadership has identified the Department Political Science and International Relations (<http://www.poscir.udel.edu/>) (POSCIR) as a priority for academic growth and prominence. We invite applications for a position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor (tenure track) beginning September 1, 2019. We seek a scholar studying American politics who has strong methodological skills and exhibits exemplary potential. Ideal candidates will have a record of publishing, evident interest in securing research funding, and experience teaching courses in American politics. The successful applicant must have a Ph.D. in hand by August 31, 2019.

We are especially interested in scholars engaging generally with inequality in the American political context. This could include research related to race and ethnicity, economic or educational inequality, or gender politics, but is not limited to these areas. We encourage scholars working on inequality from either institutional or behavioral perspectives including but not limited to the study of political parties, interest groups, social groups and movements, to apply.

The Department has 26 faculty, nearly 1,000 undergraduate majors and minors, and 45 graduate (mostly doctoral) students. We offer two undergraduate majors (Political Science and International Relations) and two undergraduate minors (Political Science and Political Communication) as well as a Ph.D. in Political Science. The department faculty covers four subfields of political science: American politics (including public law), comparative politics, international relations, and political theory. The faculty is a methodologically diverse and collegial group of research-intensive and nationally and internationally known scholars. They are outstanding teachers, mentors, advisers and public servants.

Using the Interfolio® online system at UD, <http://apply.interfolio.com/52194> applicants should submit a cover letter outlining interest in the position, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, teaching evaluations, one article-length writing sample, and three letters of reference. Questions, but not application materials, should be e-mailed to Professor Jason Mycoff (mycoff@udel.edu), Chair, American Politics Search Committee. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1743, the University of Delaware (www.udel.edu) combines tradition and innovation, offering students a rich heritage along with the latest in instructional and research technology. Located in scenic Newark, Delaware, within 2 hours of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C., the University is one of the oldest land-grant institutions in the nation, one of 19 sea-grant institutions, and one of only 13 space-grant institutions. With external funding exceeding $200 million, the University ranks among the top 100 universities in federal R&D support for science and engineering and has nationally recognized research (Carnegie rated, very high research activity). With 23 academic departments, 27 interdisciplinary programs and centers, and more than 10,000 students, the College of Arts and Sciences is the largest college on campus (www.cas.udel.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4382

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics: Citizen Politics--Political Behavior/Political Psychology

The Department of Political Science at Boston College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position, beginning late-August 2019, to teach courses in citizen politics, political behavior and/or political psychology (for example, public opinion, political attitude formation, voting, political participation, or the media and politics) as well as courses appropriate for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students in the logic and methods of political inquiry. Applicants should have completed the PhD or be very near to finishing. Rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor, depending upon degree status. Interested candidates should send a letter of introduction, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, and writing sample to APPLY-INTERFOLIO.COM/52316. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual writers. Applications must be received by October 1, 2018. No email applications or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4376

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics at Rowan University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning in Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and American politics, including judicial and/or state and local politics. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their ability to contribute to the Department's emphasis in Race, Class, and Gender. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship. Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association (APSA) conference in Boston and would like to meet, please send your CV and a letter of application by August 1 to pluta@rowan.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance at APSA. Full applications should be submitted through the online applicant tracking system as discussed below.

Rowan University is a Carnegie-classified Doctoral University (Moderate Research Activity) with approximately 17,300 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20 miles southeast of Philadelphia, with additional campuses in Camden and Stratford. The University comprises seven academic colleges and five schools—the William G. Rohrer College of Business; the Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering; the Colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics; the Cooper Medical School of Rowan University; the Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine; the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences; the School of Health Professions; and the School of Earth and Environment—with an Honors College that spans across disciplines. Rowan is one of two public universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical degree programs. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. Rowan has been recognized as one of the top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked third among public institutions in the North by U.S. News & World Report.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2019. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 12, 2018. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/492980/assistant-professor-of-political-science>. Submit a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US, and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4356

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics at Rowan University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning in Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and American politics, including judicial and/or state and local politics. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their ability to contribute to the Department's emphasis in Race, Class, and Gender. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship. Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association (APSA) conference in Boston and would like to meet, please send your CV and a letter of application by August 1 to pluta@rowan.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance at APSA. Full applications should be submitted through the online applicant tracking system as discussed below.

Rowan University is a Carnegie-classified Doctoral University (Moderate Research Activity) with approximately 17,300 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20 miles southeast of Philadelphia, with additional campuses in Camden and Stratford. The University comprises seven academic colleges and five schools—the William G. Rohrer College of Business; the Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering; the Colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics; the Cooper Medical School of Rowan University; the Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine; the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences; the School of Health Professions; and the School of Earth and Environment—with an Honors College that spans across disciplines. Rowan is one of two public universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical degree programs. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. Rowan has been recognized as one of the top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked third among public institutions in the North by U.S. News & World Report.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2019. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 12, 2018. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/492980/assistant-professor-of-political-science>. Submit a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US, and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4357

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics at Rowan University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning in Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and American politics, including judicial and/or state and local politics. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their ability to contribute to the Department's emphasis in Race, Class, and Gender. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship. Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association (APSA) conference in Boston and would like to meet, please send your CV and a letter of application by August 1 to pluta@rowan.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance at APSA. Full applications should be submitted through the online applicant tracking system as discussed below.

Rowan University is a Carnegie-classified Doctoral University (Moderate Research Activity) with approximately 17,300 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20 miles southeast of Philadelphia, with additional campuses in Camden and Stratford. The University comprises seven academic colleges and five schools—the William G. Rohrer College of Business; the Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering; the Colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics; the Cooper Medical School of Rowan University; the Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine; the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences; the School of Health Professions; and the School of Earth and Environment—with an Honors College that spans across disciplines. Rowan is one of two public universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical degree programs. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. Rowan has been recognized as one of the top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked third among public institutions in the North by U.S. News & World Report.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2019. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 12, 2018. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/492980/assistant-professor-of-political-science>. Submit a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US, and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4358

Michigan State University

Rank: Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a 9-month academic year, tenure system position in American Politics, with a Minority Politics emphasis. We are looking to hire an advanced Assistant or Associate Professor. Position begins August 16, 2019. Special consideration will be given to those with research and teaching interests in race, ethnicity, gender, inequality or minority politics in the U.S. context. The hire is part of a new initiative in Minority Politics in the College of Social Science.

A successful candidate will have evidence of publishing high quality research, a documented commitment to teaching, and a record of efforts to secure external research funding. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or have completed the Ph.D. by the date of hire.

The closing date for applications is September 15, 2018.

Interested candidates must apply for this position via the Michigan State University Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu>, posting number 515751. Please submit your curriculum vitae, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, diversity and inclusion statement (which should discuss the applicant's ability and experience working with underrepresented student populations).

Assistant Professor applicants should arrange for at least three reference letters to be submitted. Associate Professor applicants should supply the names of at least five references that we may contact.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer, committed to achieving excellence through a diverse workforce and inclusive culture that encourages all people to reach their full potential. The University actively encourages applicants and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities. Please contact Eric Juenke (juenke@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4346

Barnard College-Columbia University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

Barnard College is a highly selective liberal arts college for women, affiliated with Columbia University. The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the field of American Politics. We are open to exact area of specialization, but are particularly interested in a candidate with expertise in the politics of race and ethnicity, gender, or institutions, broadly defined. We are especially interested in applicants who can make connections to at least one of Barnard's many interdisciplinary programs and establish professional networks in the broader New York and/or Washington DC policy communities that might benefit our students.

Applicants must have completed the PhD, show promise in their scholarship (hold the prospect of publication in major refereed journals and as a university press book in political science), and have demonstrated excellence in teaching at or beyond the level of teaching assistant.

Barnard College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is actively committed to creating a diverse and inclusive community. We especially encourage applications from women, people of color, persons with disabilities, LGBT people, people from diverse economic backgrounds, and individuals from other underrepresented groups.

Applications should include a cover letter describing research and teaching interests; a curriculum vitae; one dissertation chapter or published writing sample; and an unofficial graduate transcript; and the contact information for three letters of recommendation.

Recommended additional documents include teaching evaluations and syllabi for courses taught independently (or potential courses the applicant would like to teach). Please submit these under the optional "other document" upload field.

Please apply online to: <http://careers.barnard.edu/postings/3505>.

Applications must be received by September 15, 2018 to receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 7/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4340

Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

AMERICAN POLITICS / PUBLIC LAW
 Wesleyan University
 Rank: Assistant Professor
 Subfield(s): American Politics (Public Law)

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics with a specialty in public law. The appointment begins July 1, 2019. To be hired as an Assistant Professor candidates must have in hand by the time of appointment a PhD in political science or a related field. A successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not yet have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment, but must complete the PhD in political science or a related field within one year of hire. Applicants should be prepared to teach the introductory American government course, a course in American Constitutional Law, and other courses in public law. The teaching load is two courses per semester. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, carrying on a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the department and university levels.

Applications received by September 17, 2018, will receive full consideration. To apply, please go to <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/6414>. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (7) sample syllabi if available.

As part of the cover letter or teaching statement we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body. You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (please double-check the accuracy of the email addresses of the referees you name to be sure that you have the most up-to-date email addresses for each one).

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Deborah Colucci, Equity Compliance Director & Deputy Title IX Coordinator, 860-685-2456, dcolucci@wesleyan.edu.

Please contact Mr. Donald Moon (dmoon@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department Chair if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 6/28/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4336

Towson University

Rank: Assistant Professor of State and Local Government and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, American Government and Politics
Specializations: State Politics, Urban Politics, Housing

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR TENURE TRACK SEARCH
 DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY
 ACADEMIC YEAR 2019-2020

Areas of Specialization: State and Local Government and Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level. The position entails teaching general survey courses in metropolitan studies and state and local government and upper-level courses focusing on state governance and metropolitan development. Background in public policy preferred. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference, although ABDs may be considered if the degree will be completed by the spring of 2019. Applicants must possess a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and show a solid potential for a productive scholarly program. Interest in pursuing external funding is desirable. The teaching load is six courses during the first year, but will rise to seven courses thereafter. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; syllabi of any courses taught; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Donn Worgs, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252. Please reference search: CLA-N-3203.

Application review will begin in October. Initial committee review will end on December 15, 2018.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 12/15/2018
Date Posted: 6/27/2018
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 4335

Western Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

The Political Science Department at Western Washington University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in September 2019. The department welcomes applications from all areas of the subfield and all policy areas.

Minimum requirements include: Doctorate or ABD in Political Science with expected completion by June 15, 2019; specialization in one or both of the following: American Political Institutions or Political Behavior, ability to effectively teach introductory and upper division courses in American Politics; ability to develop and sustain high quality research program; ability to work effectively within a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff. Preferred qualifications include: ability to teach introductory research methods, ability and commitment to cultivating learning environments that are equitable and inclusive of students with diverse social identities and backgrounds.

The Department of Political Science has 15 full-time tenured and tenure-track faculty members and approximately 350 majors and minors. Our work bridges American and comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and political theory. Tenure-track and tenured faculty teach two courses per term. Western Washington University, with over 15,000 students in seven colleges and the graduate school, is the highest-ranking public, master's-granting university in the Pacific Northwest, according to the 2017 U.S. News & World Report rankings. Criteria for tenure and promotion are described in the Political Science Department Unit Evaluation Plan, available on request. <https://chss.wwu.edu>.

Interested candidates should submit: letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications, curriculum vitae, syllabi and related teaching material, teaching evaluations (if available), example(s) of scholarly writing, transcript, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials must be submitted through Western's PAGE UP system at <https://careers.wwu.edu/westernpageup.html>. Salary: Commensurate with experience and qualifications. Bargaining Union: United Faculty of Western Washington

Application review begins September 25, 2018; position closes October 15, 2018. Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair, Todd Donovan, at Todd.Donovan@wwu.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 6/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4339

University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Assistant Professor (American Political Behavior)

The Political Science Department at the University of Nevada, Reno is soliciting applications for a tenure-track, full time appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science to begin in the fall semester of 2019. The primary focus of our search is American Political Behavior. Duties include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the University. The normal teaching load is 2 courses per semester, but may be subject to change. Candidates are expected to teach at all levels of the curriculum (lower division undergraduate, upper division undergraduate, and graduate MA/PhD). Candidates must be able to teach an introduction to American Politics course.

Required Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by August 15th, 2019. Applicants should demonstrate a strong potential for research publication.

Preferred Qualifications

Preference will be given to candidates conducting quantitative research in public opinion, voting behavior, political parties, and/or media, though candidates with a comparative perspective will be given consideration.

Preference will also be given to candidates whose research demonstrates methodological sophistication and who have the ability to teach research methodology at the graduate, MA/Ph.D. level.

Experience with external grant funding is a plus.

Department Information

The department is home to three graduate programs that confer MA, MPA, and PhD degrees. Additional information about the department can be found on its website: <https://www.unr.edu/political-science>. In recent years, the department has experienced substantial growth in the number of faculty, research productivity, and external funding awards. The department expects to play a significant role in the university's long-term expansion plans and its movement toward R1 research status.

Total Compensation

The total compensation package includes a negotiable competitive salary, moving expenses (if applicable), a rich retirement plan, health insurance options that include dental and vision, life insurance, long-term disability, annual and sick leave, along with many other benefits. Additionally, there is a grant-in-aid educational benefit for faculty and dependents.

Contact Information for this position

William Eubank, bille@unr.edu

This posting is open until filled. For full consideration please apply by September 14, 2018. This search will close without notice when a sufficient number of applications are received or a hiring decision has been made.

Link to apply:

https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNR-external/job/University-of-Nevada-Reno---Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor--Political-Science\_R0110278

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/26/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4330

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in National Security & Diplomacy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the broad area of National Security and Diplomacy. The Bush School of Government and Public Service has built an outstanding faculty who are looking to hire a collegial Assistant Professor. We are broadly open to a candidate's regional/topical area of international affairs specialization. Bush School faculty exclusively teach master's degree graduate students in international affairs in a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the required course in introductory-level empirical methods. We have a preference for candidates who would also be able to teach U.S. foreign policy. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics or a related discipline by September 2019. The individual selected will have demonstrated a strong commitment to teaching and research in the context of a public policy graduate school environment. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2019.

Applications must be made through the Texas A&M Workday website. The job number for this position is R-008268.

Applicants who currently are not a Texas A&M System employee please go to our external career site at https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU\_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Tenure-Track--Assistant-Professor-in-National-Security---Diplomacy---International-Affairs\_R-008268

Applicants who currently are a Texas A&M System employee please go to our internal career site at https://www.myworkday.com/tamus/d/inst/15\$158872/9925\$10485.html

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae and a sample of written work.

Additionally, please have three letters of recommendation sent to:

Professor Gregory Gause
c/o Ms. Janeen Wood (preferably as electronic attachments to bushschoolinta-facultysearch@tamu.edu)
The Bush School of Government & Public Service
Texas A&M University
4220 TAMU
College Station, TX 77843-4220

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4323

Western Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Latinx Politics

The Political Science Department at Western Washington University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics with a focus on Latinx Politics. The position is open to all areas of teaching and research within Latinx Politics. Position starts at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in September 2019.

Minimum requirements include: Doctorate or ABD in Political Science or related field with expected completion by June 15, 2019; specialization in Latinx Politics; ability to teach introductory and upper division courses in Latinx and American Politics; ability to develop and sustain high quality research program; ability to work effectively within a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff.

Preferred qualifications include: ability and commitment to cultivating learning environments that are equitable and inclusive of students with diverse social identities and backgrounds; record of supporting the success of traditionally underrepresented students.

The Department of Political Science has 15 full-time tenured and tenure-track faculty members and approximately 350 majors and minors. Our work bridges American and comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and political theory. Tenure-track and tenured faculty teach two courses per term. Western Washington University, with over 15,000 students in seven colleges and the graduate school, is the highest-ranking public, master's-granting university in the Pacific Northwest, according to the 2017 U.S. News & World Report rankings. Criteria for tenure and promotion are described in the Political Science Department Unit Evaluation Plan, available on request. <https://chss.wwu.edu>.

Interested candidates should submit: letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications, curriculum vitae, syllabi and related teaching material, teaching evaluations (if available), example(s) of scholarly writing, transcript, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials must be submitted through Western's PAGE UP system at <https://careers.wwu.edu/westernpageup.html>. Salary: Commensurate with experience and qualifications. Bargaining Union: United Faculty of Western Washington

Application review begins September 14, 2018; position closes October 1, 2018. Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair, Vicki Hsueh, at Vicki.Hsueh@wwu.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 6/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4319

American University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, American Politics

The Department of Government in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a tenure-line position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in American Politics beginning August 1, 2019. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion by August 2019. The Department is particularly interested in individuals who study the intersection of women and politics, and would contribute to the work of the School of Public Affairs Women & Politics Institute.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 24, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/51261>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement of research interests. Applicants at the rank of Assistant Professor should include three letters of recommendation and Associate Professor faculty candidates should include a list of three references. Please email govsearch@american.edu if you have any questions.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4306

American University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, American Politics

The Department of Government in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a tenure-line position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in American Politics beginning August 1, 2019. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion by August 2019. The Department is particularly interested in individuals who study the intersection of women and politics, and would contribute to the work of the School of Public Affairs Women & Politics Institute.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 24, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/51261>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement of research interests. Applicants at the rank of Assistant Professor should include three letters of recommendation and Associate Professor faculty candidates should include a list of three references. Please email govsearch@american.edu if you have any questions.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4307

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant professor

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/home>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2019. We seek candidates whose research focuses on American politics and policy. We are especially interested in candidates with interests in political institutions. Priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department's strengths in rigorous empirical, formal, and/or experimental analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate teaching.

Florida State University is committed to broadening the gender, racial, and ethnic diversity of its faculty, and the Department of Political Science shares that goal. The university statement of commitment to increasing the diversity of the faculty and students can be found at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity\_home.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 7,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdf's are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Florida State University is an EO employer. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply (http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=eoc/eo/eo\_home).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 6/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4308

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/home>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2019. We seek candidates whose research focuses on institutions and political economy. The search is open with respect to the substantive subfield, and priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department's strength in formal theory and rigorous empirical analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and to contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate game theory sequences.

Florida State University is committed to broadening the gender, racial and ethnic diversity of its faculty, and the Department of Political Science shares that goal. The university statement of commitment to increasing the diversity of the faculty and students can be found at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity\_home.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 7,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdfs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Florida State University is an EO employer. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply (http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=eoc/eo/eo\_home).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 6/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4304

Wellesley College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wellesley College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics to begin in the academic year 2019-2020.

We are seeking candidates with expertise in a wide range of fields; the only exception is law, in which we are already well-staffed. We are particularly interested in the politics of race and ethnicity, minority politics, immigration politics, urban politics, media and politics, and public opinion in the United States. We are also interested in candidates who can teach an introductory methods course, whether qualitative, quantitative, or some combination. The person hired will also be expected to teach our introductory course in American politics.

Wellesley is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, research, and service that they can contribute to this goal. Familiarity with, and experience using, pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, and socio-economic groups to reach their maximum potential will be considered a valuable additional qualification.

Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in a liberal arts environment. Faculty members teach two courses per semester.

Ph.D. completed or near completed preferred, ABD considered. All applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vita, a sample of your research, teaching materials (for example student evaluations or sample syllabi), your graduate transcript, and three letters of reference.

All materials should be submitted online by visiting our application website at <https://career.wellesley.edu>. The deadline for receipt of all application materials is September 17, 2018. If circumstances do not allow you to submit materials through our on-line application system please email us at working@wellesley.edu. Wellesley College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Inquiries should be addressed to Prof. Tom Burke, chair of the search committee (tburke@wellesley.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 6/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4300

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate (Postdoc)- Fixed Term

Minority Politics – Research Associate/Post-Doc

- Rank: Post-Doc
- Start: August 16, 2018 or January 1, 2019
- Salary: $60,000
- Research Support: $10,000

Michigan State University (MSU) invites outstanding candidates from political science disciplines to apply to a Research Associate/Postdoctoral Fellowship. The initial appointment will be for one year, with an option for reappointment for another year. The purpose of this postdoc is to support promising scholars who are committed to diversity in the academy.

The position begins on August 16, 2018 or January 1, 2019 and all applicants must have received a Ph.D. within the last five years and by the position's start date.

Special consideration will be given to those with research interests in race, ethnicity or minority politics, inequality or the intersection of gender with minority politics in the United States. The successful applicant will be housed in the Department of Political Science. They must be in residence at Michigan State University during the academic terms and are expected to participate in their host department's seminars and research seminars, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Successful candidates should also demonstrate evidence of securing external research funding, a record of publishing high quality research, and a strong future research agenda.

There is no teaching requirement for this position.

The closing date for applications is June 30, 2018. Applicants must apply for this position via the Michigan State University Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu>, Job number 508508. Please submit cover letter, CV, research statement, two samples of written work, diversity and inclusion statement (which should discuss the applicant's ability and experience working with underrepresented student populations), and three letters of recommendations sent directly from referees.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, committed to achieving excellence through a diverse workforce and inclusive culture that encourages all people to reach their full potential. The University actively encourages applicants and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities. Please contact Eric Juenke (juenke@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4290

Mount Holyoke College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics - American Politics

We invite applications for a position in American politics. We envision hiring a new scholar and teacher of American politics whose research and teaching would engage the role of national institutions and/or public policy in creating and responding to class, race, and/or gender inequality. The new hire will teach classes that complement and strengthen current offerings in the American politics subfield. The ideal candidate would be able to teach courses that contribute to the college's interdisciplinary programs. The position will be filled at the assistant professor level beginning in Fall 2019. Mount Holyoke supports faculty scholarship through research funds, travel support, and sabbaticals, and a 2-2 teaching load. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the time of appointment.

We will begin accepting applications on July 1, 2018. Please submit a letter of application, C.V., graduate transcripts, sample syllabi of an Introduction to American Politics course and a course in your field of specialization, a short writing sample, and statements covering (1) research interests, (2) teaching philosophy, (3) the mentoring of a diverse student body. The successful candidate should be able to demonstrate excellence at teaching and mentoring students who are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Deadline for applications is September 15, 2018. Applicants should also arrange to have three letters of reference submitted on their behalf. Electronic prompts to referees will be generated automatically after the completed application has been submitted. Applications must be made online at <https://jobs.mtholyoke.edu/>. For further information, please contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Prof. Preston Smith, at: psmith@mtholyoke.edu.

Mount Holyoke is an undergraduate liberal arts college for women with 2,200 students and 220 faculty. Over half the faculty are women; one-fourth are persons of color. Mount Holyoke College is located about 90 miles west of Boston in the Connecticut River Valley, and is a member of the Five College Consortium consisting of Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts.

Mount Holyoke College is committed to enriching the educational experience it offers through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff members. Mount Holyoke seeks to recruit and support a broadly diverse faculty who will contribute to the college's academic excellence, diversity of viewpoints and experiences, and relevance in a global society. In furtherance of academic excellence, the College encourages applications from individuals from underrepresented groups in the professoriate, and individuals with a demonstrated commitment to applying and including diverse perspectives to learning, scholarship, service, and leadership in the academy.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 6/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4285

Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: American Politics, Political Development, Presidency

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2019. Ph.D. preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in American political thought and American political development. Additional teaching and research areas might include power and the American presidency; religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; and rural and/or labor politics. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique. The department seeks candidates that have demonstrated a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applications received by September 15, 2018, will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a statement explaining how your skills and experience support the campus' commitment to diversity. Please arrange to have three letters of reference sent via Interfolio. Additional inquiries can be directed to Professor Jodi Dean, Search Chair, at jdean@hws.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4266

Trinity University

Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Urban Politics, Congress, American Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. Candidates should have the PhD completed by summer 2019.

Trinity University values both strong teaching and research. The successful candidate is expected to maintain a strong research agenda, supported by biennial summer research stipends and pre-tenure academic leave. The candidate will teach the lower division survey course in American politics and upper division courses in urban politics, public policy, and legislative politics. The candidate will also be expected to contribute to the university's general education curriculum and strategic plan. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. The teaching load consists of five courses per academic year.

Trinity University is an equal opportunity employer and as such provides equal opportunity for employment and advancement of all employees without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, military/veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any status protected by federal, state, or local laws.

Applicants must submit a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching effectiveness, writing sample, and transcripts to David Crockett, Department of Political Science, Trinity University, One Trinity Place, San Antonio, TX 78212. Phone: (210) 999-8344. Email: dcrocket@trinity.edu.

The position will remain open until filled. Deadline for receipt of applications is September 21, 2018. The department will be interviewing at the APSA annual conference in Boston, and strongly urges applicants to participate in that process.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/23/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4265

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy
Specializations: Research Methods, Women & Politics, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a one-year only visiting assistant professor for the 2018-19 academic year. The successful candidate will teach three courses each semester in his or her area of expertise. We are interested in candidates who can teach Undergraduate Research Methods; Women, Politics, and Public Policy; Environmental Policy; and/or International Relations but will consider all applicants carefully for the position. A PhD in political science, international affairs, or a related discipline is required.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public, land-grant University. The Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the C-SPAN Center for Scholarship and Engagement, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon at polisci@purdue.edu. Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's qualifications for the position.

Review of applications will begin May 31, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Dr. Eric Waltenburg, ewaltenb@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EEO/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/22/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4258

Bradley University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Bradley University
 Assistant professor
 Start Date: August 15, 2019
 Application deadline: September 15, 2018
 Salary: Competitive
 Specialization: American Politics/Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Bradley University is seeking candidates for a tenure track position in American government at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses in American politics and political behavior; publish scholarly research; and engage in service to the institution. Continued professional development is expected and will be supported, but a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence is essential. Candidates able to teach in a second (open) field are preferred. Opportunities to teach online or hybrid courses are available. Applicants must have Ph.D. in hand by August 2019. The successful candidate must be eligible to work in the United States.

More information about the Department of Political Science can be found at <https://www.bradley.edu/academic/departments/polisci/>.

Applicants should submit via email a letter of interest, a current vita, three letters of recommendation, sample course syllabi, teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and one sample of professional writing (published work preferred). Information regarding how the candidate can contribute to diversity in teaching, research, or service should be provided either within the teaching and/or research statements or in a stand-alone diversity statement. Submissions should be made to Professor Craig Curtis, the chair of the search committee, at plsamerpol@fsmail.bradley.edu.

Preference will be given to applications received by September 15, 2018; review will continue until the position is filled. Salary is competitive.

Employment with Bradley University is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of a criminal background check.

Bradley University is a top-ranked, private university in Peoria, Illinois, offering 5,400 undergraduate and graduate students the opportunities, choices and resources of a larger university and the personal attention and exceptional learning experience of a smaller university. Bradley offers a comprehensive array of undergraduate and graduate academic programs in business, communications, education, engineering, fine arts, health sciences, liberal arts and sciences, and technology. The University is located on an 85-acre campus in the largest metropolitan area in central Illinois.

Bradley University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative action employer. The administration, faculty, and staff are committed to attracting qualified candidates from underrepresented groups.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4224

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohns.edu/silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osullivan@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Stanford Center on Global Poverty and Development Postdoctoral Fellows program offers one-year (and will consider two-year) fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development and poverty alleviation. The multi-disciplinary program offers a competitive stipend, as well as support for travel and research expenses. Postdoctoral Fellows have no teaching responsibilities and minimal administrative duties.

Application Details

The Stanford Center on Global Poverty and Development invites applications for multi-disciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2019 for one year (and will consider two years). The Center's postdoctoral fellows program is intended for promising new and recent PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to critical issues for international development and poverty alleviation.

The Center's postdoctoral fellows will be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University. The Center provides a competitive salary plus support for travel and research expenses.

For information, please visit <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/research/postdoctoral-fellows-program>

For full consideration, please submit all materials by December 1, 2018 via the online application form here: <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/postdoctoral-fellow-application-form>

Application Instructions:

Please apply online with the following materials: (1) Cover Letter, (2) Curriculum Vitae, (3) Job Market Paper or Writing Sample, and (4) Three Letters of Recommendation. Please submit items 1-3 in one PDF document through the online application form here: <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/postdoctoral-fellow-application-form>

Recommenders can submit letters directly to globalpoverty@stanford.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 12/1/2018

Date Posted: 9/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4639

University of Georgia

Rank: IA Faculty and Director of the Center for International Trade & Security

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Administration

Specializations: International Security, Trade, Regulatory Policy

The University of Georgia's School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) seeks applications for the Director of the Center for International Trade and Security (CITS) and faculty member in the Department of International Affairs (DIA). The successful candidate must have a strong record of grant and contract acquisition and have a scholarly record appropriate for an academic appointment at a research university. The ideal candidate will also have policy relevant experience or expertise, fundraising experience, and previous management responsibilities. The Director of the Center reports to the Dean of SPIA. The position is open rank, tenured or tenure-track.

CITS was established in 1987 with the support of former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. It has a distinguished record of policy-relevant research, training, and public service, focusing primarily on security issues related to the trade, transfer, and use of materials and technology associated with weapons of mass destruction (WMD), nuclear security culture, and nonproliferation policy. CITS is fortifying its connections to DIA and to other UGA academic units by broadening its scope to include human security, counterterrorism, counterinsurgency, cybersecurity, and energy security. While strategic trade management and nonproliferation remain central to CITS' mission, outstanding candidates with research and policy experience outside this area are also encouraged to apply.

The Center's programs are sustained by corporate and government contracts, private foundation grants, and individual and corporate gifts. For more than three decades, these sources of support have enabled the Center to design and implement training and outreach programs to U.S. and foreign policymakers and industry representatives. The Center also engages these communities, educators, students, and the general public via international colloquia on emerging security issues. CITS's Security and Strategic Trade Management Academy alone has trained more than 1,000 government officials, academics and industry representatives from 70 countries on the establishment, implementation, and enforcement of export controls.

CITS contributes to SPIA's Master of International Policy (MIP) Program that prepares graduate students for careers in international security and nonproliferation. CITS experts serve as instructors in the MIP Program, whose graduates have been placed in prestigious educational and government institutions. In addition, CITS experts administer the year-long Richard B. Russell Security Leadership Program which prepares undergraduates for careers in nonproliferation and national security. SLP Fellows have earned distinguished national and international scholarships and have been hired by US government agencies, international organizations, corporations, and consulting firms. For more information, visit: <http://spia.uga.edu/departments-centers/center-for-international-trade-and-security-cits/>.

DIA is a vibrant and extremely research-active department of twenty-two faculty members that specialize in a wide array of topics, including international conflict, human rights, human security, political institutions, extremism, political economy, and environmental governance. The faculty are leading scholars in their fields, have earned distinguished national and international honors, oversee externally-funded research projects, and serve in editorial positions at top peer-reviewed journals. Members of the faculty have also won prestigious teaching awards at the school and university levels. The department has an undergraduate degree program and contributes to multiple graduate degree programs, including the Ph.D. program in Political Science and International Affairs. Both DIA and CITS are housed within SPIA, one of the fastest growing public affairs schools in the world. SPIA ranks sixth among graduate schools of public affairs, according to the most recent U.S. News and World Report rankings.

The University of Georgia, located in Athens, Georgia, approximately 75 miles northeast of Atlanta, is a Research I institution in the University System of Georgia. Founded in 1785, the University is the largest and most comprehensive educational institution in the state. UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution. Georgia is well known for its quality of life, with both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov).

Prospective candidates must apply for the position through the UGA Jobs site at: <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/30612>. To complete the application, candidates will need to submit a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vitae, and the contact information for three individuals who can provide reference letters. A Ph.D. is required. The position is open until filled. Applications received by November 1, 2018 will be assured full consideration. For questions concerning the position, please contact Amanda Murdie, Head, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 327, Athens, GA 30602 (telephone: 706-542-9659, email: murdie@uga.edu)

SPIA is committed to enhancing the diversity of the School and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (hrweb@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4747

Harvard University

Rank: China Public Policy Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: China, Political Economy, History & Politics

Harvard Kennedy School China Public Policy Postdoctoral Fellowships AY 2019-21

The Ash Center for Democratic Governance and Innovation at the Harvard Kennedy School will offer two postdoctoral fellowships in the field of contemporary Chinese public policy to recent Ph.D.s of exceptional promise.

Applicants must have received their Ph.D. within five years of the start of the fellowship in a relevant discipline in the social sciences or history. Preference will be given to those working in the areas of domestic politics, political economy, business-government relations, state-society relations, environmental/energy governance, and social development in China, with a focus on public policy challenges. Knowledge of Chinese is required, specifically the ability to work with original Chinese language sources.

Residence in the Cambridge area and participation in the activities of the Center (such as our biweekly doctoral fellows workshop series) is required. It is expected that the successful applicant will give at least one research presentation or public talk during the fellowship period. Foreign nationals must be eligible for J-1 visa sponsorship.

Knowledge of Chinese is required, as well as the ability to work with original sources.

Those who are chosen to receive fellowships must have completed ALL requirements for the Ph.D. degree (including the dissertation defense) by June 1, 2019. Preference will be given to applicants with no previous postdoctoral fellowships.

Each fellowship will run for a period of up to two years. The recipient will receive an annual stipend of $60,000, health insurance, and a work space. Some research/travel funds may also be available.

The next fellowship will begin August 1, 2019. To submit an application for the AY 2019-21 fellowship, please refer to <https://ash.harvard.edu/china-public-policy-postdoctoral-fellowships>. Email the completed application form, research proposal, current CV, 2 writing samples, and 2 letters of recommendation by December 3, 2018 (Monday) at 11:59PM EST to Ash\_Fellowships@hks.harvard.edu with "Postdoctoral Fellowships in China Public Policy" in the SUBJECT line. Recommendation letters should be emailed directly to the Ash Center from the referees.

Further inquiries should be directed to: Dr. Kaori Urayama
Ash Center Fellows Program Manager
Harvard Kennedy School
E-mail: Kaori\_Urayama@hks.harvard.edu

Please note that we do not provide critique/feedback on unsuccessful applications.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 12/3/2018
Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 4744

Temple University

Rank: Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies

Specializations: Russia, History & Politics, Post Soviet Region

The Departments of Political Science and History at Temple University invite applications for the position of Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies. We seek an established interdisciplinary scholar whose research and teaching address both Russian and/or Soviet history as well as the legacies of these earlier eras in the post-Soviet era, including topics such as the persistence of authoritarian rule as well as the important roles of the Soviet Union and Russia in world politics. This joint appointment in the Departments of History and Political Science is part of a broader initiative in the College of Liberal Arts to recruit senior faculty studying important questions across disciplinary boundaries. We seek someone who can be tenured at the level of either Associate or Full Professor in either (or both) Political Science and History.

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (highest research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home of 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays, and its missions mirrors, both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded.

Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to <http://apply.interfolio.com/53872>. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on October 15th. Professors Mark Pollack of Political Science and Alan McPherson of History will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/30/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4736

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science - College of Letters and Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, China, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science - College of Letters and Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (<http://polisci.berkeley.edu>) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position with an expected start date of July 1, 2019. We are open to outstanding candidates in any field, but we are particularly interested in candidates whose work is in the areas of: race & ethnic politics, data science, law and politics, international political economy, or Chinese politics, political science.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty>.

[Basic qualifications]: PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree-granting program at the time of application.

To apply, please go to the following link: <http://apptrkr.com/1282260>

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, one to three samples of significant written scholarship, and a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service (further information is available at: <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity/support-faculty-candidates>).

Applicants should also arrange to have three to five letters of reference submitted via this web portal. It is preferred that letters of reference be uploaded by referees no later than the final date to apply (September 24, 2018). All letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality found at: <http://apo.berkeley.edu/evalltr.html> prior to submitting their letters.

Applications must be received by Monday, September 24, 2018 to be eligible for consideration.

Please direct questions to Serena Groen, Director of Administration, at serena\_groen@berkeley.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/24/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4734

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is recruiting five tenure-track faculty at the assistant or associate professor rank. We seek scholars who will make transformative contributions to Carolina's new Environment, Ecology and Energy Program (E3P). Candidates from the social and natural sciences are encouraged to apply. Faculty will hold an appointment in an appropriate home academic department. Candidates must have a demonstrated capacity and interest to stimulate interdisciplinary collaborations.

These cluster positions include:

Cities and Critical Infrastructure: sustainable cities and infrastructure needs for cities of the future.

Energy and Energy Analytics: emergent renewable energy resources or technologies, including modeling and data analytics.

Environment, Development and Economics: public policy and/or applied economics of environment and development or environment and inequality, especially related to energy, environment or water.

Inequality and the Environment: social and environmental issues related to inequality, vulnerability, and the growing need to address gaps in knowledge and uneven access to resources or services.

Water Resources and Hydrology: the impacts of climate, pollution, and land use to the hydrologic cycle.

For more information and application instructions, see <http://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/143098>. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4729

University of South Carolina

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin August 16, 2019. The substantive specialization is open to any research area of broad interest. We seek candidates with rigorous research agendas who have published in or demonstrate the promise of publishing in leading outlets. Successful candidates will demonstrate the ability to teach substantive courses in Comparative Politics and contribute to methods teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Applicants should submit a letter describing their interests and credentials, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, statements of research and teaching interests, samples of published and unpublished research, and contact information, including telephone number and email address, for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/>. Applications received by September 30, 2018 are assured full consideration. A Ph.D. is required by the start date of appointment.

Please contact the search committee chair, John Hsieh (Hsieh@sc.edu), with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 "Best Colleges" according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4733

San Francisco State University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

San Francisco State University's Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in comparative politics beginning August 2019. The department seeks a colleague whose teaching and research interests focus on comparative judicial politics/law and society. Regional emphasis is open, but we are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in the politics of Central or South America, Africa, or South or South-East Asia. We seek qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

The Department of Political Science at SFSU was founded in the mid 1960s during a period of intense political activism, and it carries on this legacy through rigorous and interdisciplinary research and engaged pedagogy. Our students reflect the racial, ethnic, and class diversity of the San Francisco Bay Area and bring their experiences, insights, and knowledge to the classroom. We teach BA and MA courses in American politics, comparative politics, political theory, and public law, plus required courses in research methods. Our program is particularly strong in comparative/non-Western political theory, with a regional focus on Latin America, the Caribbean and China; in the politics and electoral behavior of traditionally under-represented groups, especially Latino/Latina communities; and in contentious politics and social movements. Our public law program is vigorous and growing; around a quarter of our students plan to go to law school, and we have a young but highly competitive Moot Court team along with much-valued judicial internships and an array of Americanist public law courses.

Responsibilities: The position requires teaching undergraduate courses in comparative judicial politics and the politics of the candidate's regional expertise, along with introductory and graduate courses on comparative politics. In addition, the position requires mentoring and advising undergraduate and graduate students, developing an active ongoing program of scholarship in your area of specialty, and ongoing committee and service assignments. A detailed position description is available at <https://politicalscience.sfsu.edu/https://politicalscience.sfsu.edu/>

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field. Ph.D. must be completed by August 1, 2019
- Ability and experience teaching courses in the areas of comparative politics and judicial politics
- Expertise in comparative politics and particularly comparative judicial law, politics and society
- Active record of scholarship related to their specialty area
- Experience teaching and working closely with students from historically under-represented communities will be considered a plus
- Ability to demonstrate how they will incorporate inclusion, diversity, and educational equity in their courses and scholarship

Rank and salary: Assistant Professor. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience. The California State University (CSU) provides generous health, retirement and other benefits.

Application process:

- Submit (1) a letter of application, (2) current CV, (3) a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests, (4) three letters of recommendation, (5) a writing sample, (6) academic transcripts, and (7) your course syllabi and teaching evaluations, if available. If files are submitted separately, then please clearly label each with last name and document title.

Submit materials as email attachments to <mailto:plssearch@sfsu.edu> by October 1, 2018. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the position should be sent to Jason McDaniel, co-chair of the search committee, at <mailto:mcdaniel@sfsu.edu>

The mission of San Francisco State University is to create and maintain an environment for learning that promotes respect for and appreciation of scholarship, freedom, human diversity, and the cultural mosaic of the City of San Francisco and the Bay Area; to promote excellence in instruction and intellectual accomplishment; and to provide broadly accessible higher education for residents of the region and state, as well as the nation and world. To fulfill its mission, the University is committed to the following goals:

- Attracting, retaining and graduating a highly diverse student body
- Providing disciplinary and interdisciplinary liberal arts and professional education that is academically rigorous and intellectually challenging
- Providing curricula that reflect all dimensions of human diversity, and that encourage critical thinking and a commitment to social justice
- Recruiting, retaining and supporting a diverse faculty whose teaching demonstrates an active engagement with their individual fields of study and whose creative and scholarly work is an extension of the classroom, laboratory or studio
- Employing a staff and administration reflecting the diversity of our student community and the values of the campus
- Fostering a collegial and cooperative intellectual environment that includes recognition and appreciation of differing viewpoints and promotes academic freedom within the University community
- Serving the communities with which its students and faculty are engaged

San Francisco State is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, color, ancestry, age, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, medical condition, National origin, sex, sexual orientation, covered veteran status, or any other protected status. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for qualified applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Senior Human Resources Manager.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any employment with the CSU.

PI104042352

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/28/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4724

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Politics

Assistant Professorship in Good Government
University of Virginia

The University of Virginia was founded in order to prepare citizens for participation in representative government. Building upon this unique inheritance, the University's College of Arts & Sciences recently launched the Democracy Initiative, an interdisciplinary research and teaching enterprise designed to enhance understanding of the challenges faced by democracies around the world. The Initiative is composed of a series of laboratories, one of which focuses on corruption and governance. For more details on the Initiative, please see <http://as.virginia.edu/democracy-initiative>.

To help catalyze the activities of the Democracy Initiative, we are seeking candidates for a tenure track faculty position at the level of Assistant Professor specializing in the political economy of good government. The position is open to candidates with a PhD in either Political Science or Economics. The search will be jointly conducted by faculty in the Departments of Politics and Economics, with the tenure home of the successful candidate located in one of these Departments. This position is part of series of cluster hires the University of Virginia has embarked on to enhance interdisciplinary scholarship.

We seek candidates with a strong research and publication record in the politics and economics of corruption, or in related areas such as the study of clientelism and the rule of law. Broader fields of specialization might include development, public choice, or institutional design. Candidates with experience conducting experiments and/or observational research based on best practices in program evaluation are particularly encouraged to apply. We will consider candidates with a geographical focus in any area of the world. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the teaching, research, and public engagement missions of the Democracy Initiative.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018. This posting will remain open until filled.

The anticipated appointment start date will begin August 25, 2019. Applicants must hold a PhD at the time of appointment.

To apply, visit Jobs@UVa (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>) and search on posting number 0623821. Complete a candidate profile online that includes a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and contact information for three references.

For questions about the application process, please contact Savanna Galambos at skh7b@virginia.edu.

The University of Virginia assists UVA faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more about these services, please see <http://provost.virginia.edu/dual-career>.

Applicants may also wish to consult the Faculty & Candidate Guide to UVA & Charlottesville <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>, which offers a wide range of resources on working at UVA and living in and near Charlottesville.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4725

Australian National University

Rank: Academic Level B-C (Lecturer/Senior Lecturer)

Specializations: Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Quantitative Methods, Australia

We welcome applications from candidates with expertise in the area of Public Policy.

Successful candidates will have outstanding records of demonstrated excellence in research, publications, and education. As well as teaching, the appointee will be expected to have an active research agenda, supervise Honours and PhD students and work collegially with other members of the Schools.

The standard teaching load is three courses per year, plus work with honours and graduate students.

The School of Politics and International Relations is based in the nation's capital, Canberra, and ranked as the leading international relations department in the country as well as one of the top 10 in the world for political science and international relations.

This positions are based in Canberra.

ANU provides attractive benefits and excellent support to maintain a healthy work/life balance and offers generous remuneration benefits, including four weeks paid vacation per year, assistance with relocation expenses, 17% employer contribution to superannuation and eligibility to apply for 6-month research leave every three years.

For more information on working at ANU please visit <http://hr.anu.edu.au/employment-at-anu>

For more information, please contact Dr Andrew Banfield,
E: Andrew.banfield@anu.edu.au

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4718

Duke University

Rank: Associate Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

DevLab@Duke connects social scientists at Duke University who work in international development with the community of development practitioners. The Lab works directly with donors such as USAID and the World Bank on research opportunities, the promotion of evaluable programming, and on impact evaluations themselves. The Lab also works with implementers, such as RTI, DAI and others at the project proposal stage as well as the implementation and monitoring/evaluation stages. We are cross-sectoral, interdisciplinary, and interested in pushing the boundary between the academic and policy worlds with a permanent eye toward improving the lives of the poor.

DevLab@Duke seeks an Associate Director to work with our team of scholars and graduate students focused on applied international development. Primary responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Maintaining and expanding our relationships with the international development industry, including donors and implementers.
- Grant conceptualization, proposal preparation, grants management and report writing. Above and beyond proposal preparation, the Associate Director will play a key intellectual role in helping to design research for funding proposals.
- Oversight of data efforts bearing on impact evaluations and other research, including an innovative project that combines machine learning and forecasting with coordinated, cross-country field experiments aimed at defending civil society in repressive environments.
- Coordination and facilitation of regular DevLab meetings.
- Research support to academic publications; we also welcome candidates with independent research agendas as there will be many opportunities to help design large field experiments, develop original surveys, etc.
- Engage closely with multiple interdisciplinary research teams working across a broad swath of development sectors.

The ideal candidate is a self-starter, has a PhD in a social science discipline (MAs with considerable experience are welcome to apply) and experience with both the academic and policy sides of impact evaluations in developing countries. Though the position is based in Durham, NC it will involve modest domestic and international travel.

Required Qualifications:

- 3+ years of field experience on impact evaluations and related research.
- Experience coordinating research in developing countries.
- Experience with budgeting and administration in the international development industry.
- Demonstrated success writing research proposals and interacting with private and public donors.
- Data analysis skills.
- Strong interpersonal skills and eagerness to work in a lab-like setting.

Desired Qualifications:

- Experience with IRB procedures.
- Experience developing survey instruments.
- Advanced data analysis skills.

There is no deadline for applying to the opening; applications will be considered on a rolling basis starting immediately. The position comes with competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for one year with possibility of renewal for up to three years.

Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina. Durham and the surrounding Research Triangle are home to several major universities and a booming cultural life. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status. For questions, please contact David Dow at david.dow@duke.edu. Those interested should access the following link: <https://forms.hr.duke.edu/careers/external.php?reqid=104447BR>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4700

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, Trade, International Political Economy

The Department of National Security Affairs at the Naval Postgraduate School seeks applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant/Associate professor interested in research and teaching in the fields of either international or comparative political economy. Specialists with regional expertise in Europe or the Middle East and/or with a relevance to national security affairs, defense policy, or maritime policy are especially encouraged to apply. Relevant expertise might include international economic negotiations, global/regional economic regimes, comparative economic policies, trade sanctions, and the political economy of violence. Candidates should demonstrate a strong potential for teaching excellence and scholarly research. The successful candidate must also be prepared to teach an introductory Masters-level course on the politics of global economic relations or comparative economic systems, as well as courses in his/her specific research specialty.

The Naval Postgraduate School is a fully accredited graduate school the students of which are drawn from the armed forces and civilian agencies of the United States and other countries. The Department of National Security Affairs is multi-disciplinary, with curricula based on Political Science, History, and Economics. Tenure-track professors typically teach a 2-2 load on a quarter system and are expected to maintain an active portfolio of academic research, publishing, and institutional service.

Minimum qualifications:

- An earned doctoral degree from an accredited institution
- Evidence of teaching aptitude
- Evidence of potential to advise student theses and dissertations
- Evidence of strong potential for scholarship leading to scholarly publications

Employment requirements:

- U.S. citizenship is required
- Background check and eligibility for a Secret-level clearance

Applications should include a CV, cover letter (including teaching and research interests), official graduate transcripts, and syllabi of relevant courses taught, preferably at the graduate level. Candidates should also submit up to three writing samples and three letters of recommendation. These confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted separately. ABDs are welcome to apply with the understanding that the award of a Ph.D. degree is a condition of employment. Applications will be accepted until October 15, 2018. Expected start date is in the fall of 2019.

Address applications and supporting materials electronically to the National Security Affairs Department at nsadept@nps.edu.

Questions and any other inquiries may be directed to:

Prof. Anne Clunan
Chair, Political Economy Search Committee
Department of National Security Affairs
Naval Postgraduate School

Monterey, CA 93943
alclunan@nps.edu

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Relocation package, including recruitment/relocation incentive may be authorized.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>

NOTE: IF YOU ARE A VETERAN, you are strongly encouraged to identify your Veterans' Preference on your resume or elsewhere in your application package (type of preference, dates of service, date of VA letter, character of service, etc.).

Additional Veterans' Information: if you are not sure of your preference eligibility, visit the Department of Labor's website: <http://dol.gov/elaws/vets/vetpref/mservice.htm>

For more veterans' preference information, visit: <http://www.fedshirevets.gov/job/vetpref/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4711

North Dakota State University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice

The department of Criminal Justice & Political Science at NDSU is recruiting for a 9-month tenure-track position, at the rank of assistant professor, starting Fall 2019. We seek candidates with expertise in judicial politics and constitutional law, broadly construed. Successful applicants should be versed in American public law, but could conduct research in a broad variety of related areas, such as, but not limited to, the role of race, ethnicity, sexualities, and/or gender in justice systems, comparative judicial politics, international courts and legal structures, or the politics of policing in the US or abroad. This is a 45% research, 45% teaching, 10% service position. The teaching load is 2-2, with a course release in the first three years. Successful applicants will be prepared to teach core undergraduate pre-law courses on American judicial politics, such as judicial process and constitutional law, but will also have ample opportunity to teach specialized courses of their choosing. Tenure-track political science faculty advise undergraduate students and may have opportunities to contribute to the supervision of MA and PhD students in criminal justice. The department has minimal service expectations for pre-tenure faculty.

Minimum Qualifications

The minimum qualifications for the position are: 1) a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or a related discipline, conferred no later than August, 2019, 2) evidence of research productivity, or potential to publish scholarship in peer reviewed journals, presses, and other outlets appropriate to one's field, 3) competence to teach American judicial process and constitutional law, and 4) effective written and oral communication skills.

Preferred Qualifications

We will give priority to candidates who 1) can provide substantial evidence of (potential) research productivity and quality, 2) have experience teaching American judicial process and/or constitutional law, 3) can provide substantial evidence of teaching effectiveness, and/or 4) have experience pursuing or obtaining external funding.

The Department

The Department of Criminal Justice & Political Science has 11 tenure-track faculty members and serves roughly 100 undergraduate majors in political science, and 200 undergraduate and 20 graduate students in criminal justice. Faculty in the department teach four classes per year. The NDSU community and national organizations have regularly recognized department faculty for excellence in research, teaching, and mentorship. While faculty contribute primarily to teaching, curriculum development, and advising within their respective programs, the department provides opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration across fields, both in research and teaching. The college provides faculty with computing resources and tenure-track faculty within the department receive a yearly research and professionalization budget that covers travel to 1-2 conferences, and which faculty routinely supplement with College and University travel grants.

The University

North Dakota State University is a comprehensive, student-focused, land-grant, research university with more than 14,000 students from 47 states and 79 countries. NDSU was the first university in North Dakota to be named to the most research-intensive category by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education and is listed in the National Science Foundation's top 100 in several areas, including agricultural sciences, social sciences, physical sciences, chemistry, psychology, and computer sciences.

NDSU values faculty members' work-life balance and the needs of dual-career couples. The College of Arts, Humanities, & Social Sciences' guidelines on family-related reassignment of duties are available at <https://www.ndsu.edu/fileadmin/ahss/family2010.pdf> and University policy on extension of the probationary period for personal or family reasons is available at <https://www.ndsu.edu/fileadmin/policy/352.pdf>. NDSU is an ADVANCE institution and has an a Focus on Resources for Women's Advancement, Recruitment/Retention, and Development (FORWARD) program, that, as part of its efforts, has developed procedures and funding streams for dual career hiring at NDSU: <https://www.ndsu.edu/forward/>.

Applicants can find more information about NDSU at <http://www.ndsu.edu>.

The Community

NDSU is located in Fargo-Moorhead (F-M), a pleasant, safe, diversifying, and growing community of approximately 240,000 people. As the largest population center in the region, F-M is a hub of entertainment, finance, information technology, and medical services for a large geographic area including the state of North Dakota, and western Minnesota. Two universities (NDSU and Minnesota State University Moorhead) and one private liberal arts college (Concordia College) are located in F-M. The F-M area has a healthy economy: ND has one of the lowest unemployment rates in the U.S., good public schools, low crime rates, ample shopping, local theatre and music companies, several art galleries, semi-professional baseball and hockey, and Division I intercollegiate athletics. Hector International Airport in Fargo is convenient and is served by several major airlines. Sun, clear skies, and clean air predominate year round. Visiting nearby northern Minnesota lakes, canoeing, camping, cycling, softball, and soccer are popular in summer; winter pastimes include cross-country skiing, skating, and snowmobiling. The city has an excellent park system that includes several quality golf courses and bicycle/running/ski paths along the Red River, which divides Fargo-Moorhead. Fargo is an hour drive from a major resort area in the Minnesota "lakes country" and two hours from scenic Itasca State Park, where you will find the headwaters of the Mississippi river. Central and western North Dakota offer beautiful hiking, camping, fishing, hunting, and related opportunities in the Badlands, national grasslands, and numerous river valleys. Winnipeg, Manitoba is less than a four-hour drive to the north and Minneapolis-St. Paul is an equal distance to the south-east.

Application

Applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, writing sample, statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, course materials, evidence of participation in teaching professionalization activities, and, if available, evaluations by peers and/or mentors; please do not include student evaluations of teaching), and contact information for 3 professional references. All application materials must be submitted online at <https://jobs.ndsu.edu/postings/9576>.

NDSU especially encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups.

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, and will continue to accept and review applications until the position is filled. The department will provide search updates through APSA eJobs' update capability, and on Twitter, using the #PSJInfo hashtag.

Potential applicants may direct questions about the search to Dan Pemstein, the search committee chair, at daniel.pemstein@ndsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4706

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Electoral Behavior, Gender Politics & Policy

The University of Michigan's Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics and Public Policy, especially at the assistant professor rank. We are particularly interested in the following areas of specialization: development, political institutions/organizations, elections and political behavior, race and ethnic politics, democratic governance, and the politics of diverse societies. Candidates should combine expertise in these areas with strong grounding in public policy. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required. This is a university-year appointment and begins on September 1, 2019. First consideration will be given to applications received by October 1, 2018, but applications will continue to be considered until the position is filled.

Interested applicants may upload their application materials to: apply-interfolio.com/53515. The following application materials are required: a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample, statement of current and future research plans, statement of teaching philosophy and experience, teaching evaluations (if available), and a brief statement describing how your work would contribute to the Ford School's and University of Michigan's strategic commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion (fordschool.umich.edu/dei). Letters of reference from three individuals also need to be uploaded to the system.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4699

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the assistant professor level with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y8kvqvqd>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) writing sample; 4) brief teaching statement; 5) brief research statement; and 6) at least three letters of recommendation. Applicants also are encouraged to submit as optional documents up to three publications or unpublished manuscripts and evidence of teaching performance, such as teaching evaluations, if available. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4687

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the assistant professor level with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y8kvqavd>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) writing sample; 4) brief teaching statement; 5) brief research statement; and 6) at least three letters of recommendation. Applicants also are encouraged to submit as optional documents up to three publications or unpublished manuscripts and evidence of teaching performance, such as teaching evaluations, if available. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4688

University of Chicago

Rank: Associate or Full Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the levels of associate or full professor with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/ydar3r7k>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; and 2) a curriculum vitae. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4689

Harvard University

Rank: Weatherhead Scholars Program

The Weatherhead Scholars Program, a new program at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs (WCFA), welcomed its first class of participants in 2017–2018. Established in 1958, the WCFA is the largest international social science research center within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. We support international, transnational, global, and comparative research, whether historical or contemporary, including policy analysis.

The Weatherhead Scholars Program offers visiting faculty, postdoctoral researchers, and experienced practitioners the opportunity to spend up to one year at Harvard conducting research. During their time in residence, Scholars are expected to participate in the biweekly Weatherhead Forum; contribute to some of the Center's many other intellectual activities, including our research clusters; and to engage with the undergraduate and graduate student communities.

As participants in the Weatherhead Scholars Program, postdoctoral researchers and visiting scholars receive a one-year formal appointment from Harvard University granting them important privileges. These include access to the Harvard library system, computer labs, and Harvard University faculty club. Our scholars are an integral part of the more than 300 faculty, fellows, students, and staff in residence at the Center.

To be eligible for a postdoctoral position, scholars must have completed their PhD after August 1, 2016 (admitted postdoctoral fellows will provide proof before enrollment that they have received their PhD). There are a limited number of $50,000 stipends for postdoctoral fellows (health insurance is also available to stipendiary postdocs). Visiting scholars – established faculty from other universities – are not eligible for funding support from the Weatherhead Center.

More information is available at <https://scholarsprogram.wcfia.harvard.edu>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4626

University of Chicago

Rank: Lecturer in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

Posting Number: 03851

The University of Chicago invites applications for a Lecturer in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, temporary position in CIR's one-year MA program in international relations. The appointment is for a non-renewable, two-year term, preferably beginning October 2018.

CIR is the nation's oldest graduate program in international relations, awarding the Master of Arts degree in International Relations to approximately 60-70 students per year.

The successful applicant will teach four graduate courses in the first year and five in the second year; advise MA student theses; and participate in admissions, student mentoring, and student recruitment. Specific course assignments will be determined by the faculty chair, and will include a mix of survey and specialized courses. We welcome candidates who can offer diverse methodological and substantive courses in international relations.

To be eligible, candidates must have defended the PhD by September 30, 2018 and have the PhD in-hand by December 2018. Applicants must also have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring students. This is a union position covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union, Local 73.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/ybh2p3hx>. The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) Syllabi for two proposed courses, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin September 23, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Paul Staniland, at paul@uchicago.edu for updates on the status of the search.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

<https://tinyurl.com/ybh2p3hx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4669

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track position as Assistant Professor, beginning September 16, 2019. Tenure-track faculty have an annual service period of nine months (Sept 16-June 15). The field of specialization is open but teaching responsibilities will include quantitative courses in the graduate methods track. All University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications

Candidates must demonstrate a strong record of quantitative empirical work in one or more substantive areas of political science. Applicants should have or expect to have their PhD by the appointment start date.

Application Instructions

Applications should include a cover letter, current CV, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests as well as how that research agenda integrates quantitative methods. The teaching statement should describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness. As a public institution, the University of Washington seeks candidates committed to working with diverse student and community populations. Therefore, applicants are encouraged to describe how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities. We strongly encourage applications from women and underrepresented minorities.

The review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018. Applications must be submitted at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53523>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4668

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polsci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2019. Candidates for this position should be focused on teaching and research in the area of Public Policy. In addition to having a productive research agenda dedicated to the area of Public Policy, candidates must demonstrate potential for teaching excellence at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching courses with significant real-world applicability and service-learning opportunities, in accordance with college and departmental strategic goals of designing undergraduate curricula that emphasize career paths and the knowledge and skills students need after graduation. Although the area of specialization within Public Policy is open, areas especially fitting with this strategic priority might include public policy analysis, program evaluation, and behavioral public policy. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of the appointment.

Oklahoma State University is one of the state's two comprehensive research universities with a Stillwater campus population of 23,000 students. The Department offers the following degrees in Political Science: B.S., B.A. and M.A. The teaching load is normally two courses per semester. Completed applications received by October 1, 2018 will be given full consideration. Applicants are asked to apply online at Publicpolicyad@okstate.edu and submit: a letter of application, vitae, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, evidence of successful teaching and scholarship, and statements of teaching and research interests.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and minorities. Currently,

37 percent of our undergraduate majors are minorities. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic minority groups and 55 percent are female. Oklahoma State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/E-verify employer committed to diversity and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against based on age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or other protected category. OSU is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and desires priority referrals of protected veterans for its openings. OSU will not discharge or in any other manner discriminate against employees or applicants because they have inquired about, discussed, or disclosed their own pay or the pay of another employee or applicant. However, employees who have access to the compensation information of other employees or applicants as a part of their essential job functions cannot disclose the pay of other employees or applicants to individuals who do not otherwise have access to compensation information, unless the disclosure is (a) in response to a formal complaint or charge, (b) in furtherance of an investigation, proceeding, hearing, or action, including an investigation conducted by the employer, or (c) consistent with the contractor's legal duty to furnish information. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/21/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4651

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: GENDER AND COMPARATIVE POLITICS/INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University New Brunswick seeks applicants for a Tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin September 1, 2019, in the broad area of Gender and Comparative Politics/International Relations. Responsibilities include teaching and advising graduate students, including those in our PhD subfield of Women and Politics whose research interests span a broad range of subjects, approaches, and geographic areas. Candidate must be able to teach standard undergraduate survey courses in comparative politics or IR. Strong familiarity with interdisciplinary feminist scholarship is preferred. PhD required in Political Science or related field.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and a list of three references to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/73156> Review of applicants will begin on October 1 and continue until the job is filled.

Confidential letters of recommendation should be emailed directly by the referee to wsilverman@polisci.rutgers.edu – the applicant's name should appear in the subject line.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/21/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4658

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics
Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Canadian Politics at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in Canadian politics. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-posting-assistant-professor-in-canadian-politics/> Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 30, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4654

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Comparative Politics of the Developing World at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in Comparative Politics with a focus on the developing world and/or global south. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-assistant-professor-in-comparative-politics/>. Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/21/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4652

Naval War College

Rank: Associate Professor of National Security Affairs (Professional Practice)

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Political Psychology, Defense

Join the faculty of one of the nation's largest and most vibrant graduate teaching departments in the interdisciplinary field of national and international security studies. The Department of National Security Affairs at the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island seeks to fill one vacancy beginning no later than July 2019. We invite applications from exceptionally qualified practitioners who are highly motivated to teach security studies courses within the resident master degree programs of the world's oldest graduate institution of professional military education.

About the Institution: The U.S. Naval War College (NWC) is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense and the U.S. Navy. It is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges to grant master's degrees in National Security and Strategic Studies and Defense and Strategic Studies. The College's core missions are: to educate and develop future leaders; help define the future Navy and its roles and responsibilities; support combat readiness; strengthen global maritime partnerships; promote ethics and leadership throughout the force; contribute knowledge to shape effective decisions through our Hatendorf Historical Center; and provide expertise and advice to the international community through the Stockton Center for the Study of International Law. In the words of founder Admiral Stephen B. Luce, the College is "a place of original research on all questions relating to war and to statesmanship connected with war, or the prevention of war."

National Security Affairs: The National Security Affairs Department is one of the college's three core academic teaching departments and is composed of tenured/tenure track, military, and professors of practice engaged in a wide range of teaching, research, and outreach. We are a blended faculty of tenured/tenure track, military, and practitioners providing professional education to mid-career students who are military and civilian national security professionals from the United States and more than sixty partner countries. You can learn more about the NSA Department at our webpage: <https://usnwc.edu/National-Security-Affairs>

Duties and Responsibilities: Specific responsibilities include teaching within two distinctive common core graduate-level security studies courses, collaborating in the development of common core curricula, developing and teaching elective courses, research and publication, and college service. There is no requirement or expectation to attract external funding. Maximum teaching load excluding optional elective classes is 2/2/0 based on a ten-month trimester system. This involves teaching up to two seminar sections (single preparation) for no more than 16 students in the fall and winter trimesters. The spring trimester and summer inter-session period are devoted primarily to research, curriculum development, and service. All positions are year-round (12-month). Initial appointment is for a multi-year contract that is renewable on an ongoing basis provided that performance expectations are met. This position is eligible for an indefinite appointment after a probationary period.

Qualifications: Associate Professor of National Security Affairs candidates must have extensive experience as a national security professional working at the strategic or theater-strategic levels including at senior ranks (minimum O-6 or civilian equivalent). Candidates must possess a master's degree or other terminal degree in a field that is directly related to at least one of the following: foreign policy analysis, U.S. foreign policy, decision making, or applied social science. Strongest consideration will be given to candidates with expertise and field experience in Europe, Asia, or the Middle East. Highly desirable qualifications include: a record of policy presentations and publication, demonstrated teaching excellence at the graduate level, international experience, force planning, exercise/simulation development, and a record of leading organizations.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens and be capable of obtaining a Department of Defense SECRET security clearance.

Salary Considerations: Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plans (with employer matching contributions), paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and Salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Application Process: Applications will be accepted through October 1, 2018. The application package must include the following: cover letter, Curriculum Vitae, and contact information for three professional references. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-18-12 and forward their application package to: nwc-18-12@usnwc.edu.

Active duty members may apply under this announcement but are subject to eligibility requirements of the Veterans Opportunity to Work Act (VOW). Active duty members must submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide branch, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.) Please note: you will be ineligible for consideration if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days after being submitted with your application.

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Please direct any questions about the position or the institution to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Terry Roehrig at terence.roehrig@usnwc.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4616

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Associate Research Scholar

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year's visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Appointments can be from 15 days to one-month during the 2019-2020 academic year (September 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020). The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of seniority and current institutional affiliation.

Visiting Associate Research Scholars will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 21, 2018. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8142>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay, 15 days to one-month during the academic year (September 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
- 2) Curriculum vitae;
- 3) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
- 4) The names and contact information of three referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/21/2018

Date Posted: 8/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4611

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of a Princeton department and the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are for one or two semesters, during the 2019-2020 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2019-January 31, 2020; spring semester: February 1-June 30, 2020). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 21, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials and apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8141>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae (in English);
- 3) One undergraduate seminar proposal (or syllabus) for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how this course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;
- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (2,000 – 3,000 words);
- 5) The names and contact information of three referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Required Qualifications: Advanced degree preferred.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/21/2018

Date Posted: 8/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4612

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

J-PAL's research group is looking to hire one or more Postdoctoral Associates who are interested in research around how best to conduct randomized trials, and how to provide resources to others to help them conduct randomized trials more effectively.

The J-PAL Postdoctoral Associate will be tasked with developing one or more projects that help support researchers globally who are implementing RCTs. This can involve reading the current scientific literature, liaising with active researchers in this area, mapping out gaps in the available techniques, and developing new useful tools.

The post-doc will work with the Director of Research and other J-PAL academic affiliates in the areas above, as well as develop and carry out their own RCT projects, and publish the results in academic journals.

Approximately an equal share of the post-doc's research efforts will be devoted to J-PAL-related trial innovation projects (of the sort described here) and to independent research projects.

This position is based at J-PAL's Global headquarters at MIT in Cambridge, MA, U.S.A.

To apply complete the J-PAL/IPA Common Application at <https://apply.povertyactionlab.org/>. After completing a brief registration, choose the Research job category, then select "Postdoctoral Associate - J-PAL Global".

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4634

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor in Latino Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

The Program in American Studies seeks applications for a faculty position in the area of Latino Studies, at the rank of associate or full professor. We welcome applicants from all fields of specialization, though preference will be given to candidates whose work, while rooted in Latino Studies, engages meaningfully with American Studies. We are particularly interested in scholars whose research takes a multi-method social science approach, emphasizing qualitative and/or interpretivist perspectives. The successful candidate will be appointed fully in American Studies. Interested candidates should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8061> with a brief statement of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for three references. Applications received by October 1, 2018 will receive priority review. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4636

Air War College

Rank: Professor of International Security Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, East Asia, Middle East

-The Air War College

-Professor of International Security Studies

-The Air War College invites candidates to apply for a faculty position in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, including the areas of Northeast Asia, Southeast Asia, Central Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, or possibly other regions (excluding Europe). The Air War College is also seeking candidates whose scholarly interests are in international political economy, comparative politics, and/or in American national security policy. The possible starting dates are between January and July 2019, or possibly earlier. The Air War College is located at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, AL.

-Academic rank is open but the focus is for appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor. A Ph.D. is required in Political Science, International Relations, History or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy. This position is an Administratively Determined (AD) civil service position, and requires academic teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and a suitable publication record. Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum: 1) National Security and Decision-Making; 2) Regional and Cultural Studies; 3) Global Security, electives in area(s) of specialization; advising student research; and service to the institution. The Air War College provides a dynamic academic environment for teaching and research. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Responsibilities also include curriculum development, and participation in a capstone political-military exercise. The academic program offers master's degrees and senior-level professional military education to U.S. military officers, and civilian government officials, and to military officers from more than 40 nations.

-The selected candidate will be offered an initial three year appointment with a probationary first year. This appointment is renewable. While open positions are advertised in various publications, including the American Political Science EJobs, applicants must submit their application through USAJobs. Applicants must hold U.S. citizenship. -Applicants can submit their application via USAJobs online by going to: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/507400900>

-If candidates prefer to not use the online feature, they can send their resume, or Optional Form 612, along with other required documents to 42 FSS/FSMC, 50 Lemay Plaza South, Building 804, Attn: Air War College faculty position, Maxwell AFB AL 36112-6334

-The OF-612 can be accessed through the Office of personnel Management's web site at www.usajobs.opm.gov. Note: this is an academic position, the selection committee strongly encourages candidates to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references.

-For more information, contact Colonel Dewey Mosley, U.S. Army, Department of International Security Studies, Air War College, 325 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112-6427; dewey.mosley@us.af.mil, (334) 953-9683. Or contact Dr. Chris Hemmer, Dean, Air War College, 325 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112-6427. Phone 334-953-7099, email christopher.hemmer@us.af.mil.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4558

Syracuse University

Rank: Comparative Politics

Syracuse University
Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science seeks to hire an Assistant or Associate Professor in Comparative Politics for a tenure-track or tenured position beginning in Fall 2019. We seek candidates whose teaching and research focus on political development and political economy, especially with regards to developing countries. Particular areas of interest include human security, health and well-being, global cities and urban politics, environment, and other public policy issues related to citizenship and governance in the Global South.

The political science department is housed within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, which is committed to citizenship education at the undergraduate level and to graduate education in public affairs and the social sciences. We seek candidates who complement the broader Maxwell mission and have interdisciplinary interests. Successful candidates also may be invited to affiliate with the Moynihan Institute of Global Affairs or one of Maxwell's other interdisciplinary centers (<http://www.maxwell.syr.edu/centers/>), and contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs in International Relations. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field. Rank and salary commensurate with experience and professional accomplishments.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

For consideration, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/>) and attach online the following: a letter of interest and a CV, a sample of professional writing, a statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of quality teaching. Files may be no larger than 5MB, but you may submit an external link to a larger file if needed.

In addition, applicants will be required to provide the full email addresses of three references.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by September 15, 2018. However, the department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4609

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning June 24, 2019. Candidates with teaching and research interests in comparative politics are encouraged to apply. Preference will be given to applicants whose main area of study is Latin America and also have expertise in political economy. Responsibilities include teaching Latin American politics, comparative politics, political economy, the USAFA core courses of American government or security studies, and other lower or upper division political science courses; maintaining a strong record of teaching and research; academic advising; and service to the department and Academy.

The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to our nation. The initial appointment is for three years. Successive reappointments of up to four years will be based upon an assessment of performance, Air Force and departmental needs, and funding availability. The Academy faculty is an integrated group of military and civilian educators, with a record of offering continuing appointments to civilian faculty after demonstrated excellence in the initial three-year appointment. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy is committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will further this goal. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage is found at <https://www.usafa.edu/department/political-science/>.

To apply, go to www.usajobs.gov. Type in "United States Air Force Academy, CO" in the "Location" box, and scroll down until you find this position. The deadline for applications is Oct 15, 2018. A doctorate in Political Science or a related field by the start date and U.S. citizenship is required. Essential qualities expected of every faculty member include the personal attributes of integrity, industry, cooperation, initiative, and breadth of intellectual interests.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4622

University of Essex

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Professor of Comparative Politics

Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Professor of Comparative Politics

Department of Government

The Department of Government at Essex are world leaders in political science, ranked top in the UK for research excellence (REF2014), 5th for politics in the UK (The Times Good University Guide 2018), top 10 in the world for political science and international relations according to the Centre for World University Rankings (2018), among the top 50 departments on the planet according to the QS World University Rankings. With 92% student satisfaction (NSS 2017) and having been awarded Q-Step Affiliate Status, we are committed to excellence in education and research.

The Department is looking to make an additional academic appointment at any level.

Please note that the appointment will be made at the UK equivalent of Lecturer level (Assistant Professor), Senior Lecturer level (Associate Professor), Reader level (Associate Professor) or Professor and will be referred to by these titles throughout the advertisement and University documentation.

Duties of the Role

The post-holder is expected to conduct research and teaching in Comparative Politics.

Applicants at Lecturer level will (co-)supervise undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations. You will contribute to excellence in education by designing and delivering substantive and effective teaching and learning support as agreed with the Head of Department, and to develop a research agenda which pursues individual and/or collaborative research objectives and proposals of high quality that will as a minimum meet the University's expectations for future Research Exercise Framework (REF) exercises.

Applicants at Senior Lecturer or Reader level will supervise undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations. You will engage in curriculum development, undergraduate and postgraduate teaching, and research supervision at both an individual and a strategic level; and provide research leadership and engage in activities that will enhance the research profile of the Department.

At the above levels you will also engage in individual and/or collaborative research activity that is in keeping with REF criteria; and generate external research income appropriate in scale to career stage and subject area norms.

Applicants at Professor level will supervise undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations. You will build up a sustained and effective record of impact at a strategic level in relation to teaching and learning, as part of a wider commitment to academic practice; and pursue research that is world leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour, in keeping with the REF criteria. In addition, you will generate substantial research income commensurate with subject area norms.

At all levels you will also contribute to the administration and management of the Department, and to the local, regional and international profile of the Department.

A full list of key responsibilities and main duties (Education, Research and Leadership and Citizenship) can be found within the respective job packs below.

Qualifications and Skills required

Applicants will hold a relevant doctoral level degree in Political Science or allied field, or equivalent professional experience or practice (or be close to completion of PhD if applying for Lecturer).

Applicants at the Lecturer level will be required to provide evidence of a research agenda in political science; have proven experience in teaching at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels, or demonstrable potential to achieve this; and possess evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes.

Applicants at the Senior Lecturer or Reader level will be required to provide evidence of an established and internationally recognised research profile, with a well-developed future research agenda in political science; a sustained record of effectiveness in education at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels; a record of success in generating external research income; and a strong track record of published academic output at international levels of recognition with evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes.

Applicants at the Professor level will be required to demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels appropriate to the discipline; a strong, sustained record of academic publication at international or world-leading levels of recognition in political science, with evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes; and an established record of success in securing and managing substantial research grants (appropriate to the discipline).

This is a permanent, full-time post on an ASER (teaching and research) contract. Please state clearly on your application form which level you are applying for.

We particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the Department.

At the University of Essex internationalism is central to who we are and what we do. We are committed to being a cosmopolitan, internationally-oriented university that is welcoming to staff and students from all countries and a university where you can find the world in one place.

Please visit our website (<http://www.essex.ac.uk/vacancies/>) for a full job description, person specification and more information relating to this post. We recommend you read this information carefully before making an application. Applications should be made on-line, but if you would like advice or help in making an application, or need information in a different format, please telephone the Resourcing Team (01206 874588 / 873521 / 873461).

Closing date: 13 September 2018

Interviews are planned for: 24 October 2018 (Professor interviews),

25 October 2018 (Lecturer, Senior Lecturer and Reader interviews)

Salary: Lecturer £40,793 - £48,676 per annum; Senior Lecturer/

Reader £51,630 - £58,090 per annum; Professor on the Professorial scale, commensurate with experience and achievements.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 9/13/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4610

University of Essex

Rank: Professor of Comparative Government (Anthony King Chair)

Professor of Comparative Government (Anthony King Chair)

Department of Government

The Department of Government at Essex are world leaders in political science, ranked top in the UK for research excellence (REF2014), 5th for politics in the UK (The Times Good University Guide 2018), top 10 in the world for political science and international relations according to the Centre for World University Rankings (2018), among the top 50 departments on the planet according to the QS World University Rankings. With 92% student satisfaction (NSS 2017) and having been awarded Q-Step Affiliate Status, we are committed to excellence in education and research.

The Department is seeking to appoint an academic at the Professorial level in Comparative Government.

This Professorship is named in honour of Anthony King, who passed away in 2017. Professor King was recognised as a distinguished political scientist by the academic community as well as by the wider public. He was one of the longest serving members of staff at the University of Essex.

Duties of the Role

The post-holder is expected to conduct research and teaching in Comparative Government. They will supervise undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations. In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to generate research income, to contribute to the administration and leadership responsibilities within the Department, and to the local, regional and international profile of the Department.

Key responsibilities include building up a sustained and effective record of impact at a strategic level in relation to teaching and learning, as part of a wider commitment to academic practice and pursuing research that is world leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour, in keeping with the REF criteria.

The post-holder will undertake a full range of Education, Research and Leadership and Citizenship responsibilities as detailed in the Professor (ASER) job pack.

Qualifications and Skills required

The successful candidate will hold a relevant doctoral-level research degree in Political Science or allied field, or have equivalent professional experience / practice. They will be expected to have a distinguished academic record, including internationally excellent research in the field of Political Science and be a member of the Fellowship of the Higher Education Academy or possess the ability to gain this at an appropriate level within a defined period of appointment.

Candidates will be required to demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels appropriate to the discipline; a strong, sustained record of academic publication at international or world-leading levels of recognition, with evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes; and an established record of success in securing and managing substantial research grants (appropriate to the discipline).

We particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the Department.

Appointment to this post will be made as Professor (R) on a Teaching and Research (ASER) contract.

At the University of Essex internationalism is central to who we are and what we do. We are committed to being a cosmopolitan, internationally-oriented university that is welcoming to staff and students from all countries and a university where you can find the world in one place.

Please visit our website (<http://www.essex.ac.uk/vacancies/>) for a full job description, person specification and more information relating to this post. We recommend you read this information carefully before making an application. Applications should be made on-line, but if you would like advice or help in making an application, or need information in a different format, please telephone the Resourcing Team (01206 874588 / 873521 / 873461).

Closing date: 13 September 2018

Interviews are planned for: 24 October 2018

Salary: On the Professorial scale, commensurate with experience and achievements

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 9/13/2018

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4596

University of Hartford

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Politics, Economics, and International Studies at the University of Hartford invites applicants for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to teach undergraduate courses in Comparative Politics and International Studies.

Responsibilities

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate courses, both introductory and advanced, in Politics and International Studies with a teaching load of 3 courses per semester. Specialty within Comparative Politics is open but we are especially interested candidates with expertise in the Global South. The successful applicant will also contribute to the interdisciplinary program in International Studies. In addition, all members of the department share in the teaching of department and college service courses. There will be also be opportunities to teach in our innovative University Interdisciplinary Studies program. Candidates should show a willingness and ability to employ technology in teaching. Additionally, candidates will be expected to possess an active research agenda that will result in peer-reviewed publications. Successful applicants will be expected to participate in departmental and school committees, advise students, and contribute to student recruitment and retention.

Required Qualifications

Preference will be given to those with a Ph.D. in political science or related field in hand but ABD candidates will be considered. Candidates must demonstrate excellent teaching, organizational, communication and interpersonal skills. Prior teaching experience is highly desirable. Ability to teach an undergraduate course in methods is a plus. Candidates must also be able to show evidence of scholarly achievement and promise.

University Information

The University of Hartford offers personal attention associated with a small college, enhanced by expertise, breadth and intellectual excitement of a university. Our academic mission is to engage students in acquiring knowledge, skills and values necessary to thrive in and contribute to a pluralistic, complex world.

College Information

The College of Arts and Sciences is University's largest college with 23 undergraduate majors, 24 minors, 7 graduate programs and many interdisciplinary offerings. The College includes a faculty of 115 teachers and scholars, 24 staff, and a student body of 1,300 undergraduate and 300 graduate students.

The University of Hartford is located within the greater Hartford area rich in cultural and recreational activities, and is within driving distance from metropolitan Boston and New York.

Posting Detail Information
Posting Number F033P
Open Date 08/15/2018
Close Date 10/15/2018
Open Until Filled Yes

Special Instructions to Applicants

Interested applicants should apply online at <http://hartford.peopleadmin.com/postings/2134>. Dossiers must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcript, statement of teaching philosophy, teaching portfolio (sample syllabi, evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness), and scholarly writing sample. In addition, candidates should submit a short discussion (1-2 pages) summarizing their commitment to working with diverse populations. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2018 but applications received after that date will be considered until the position is filled. Inquiries should go to Michael Clancy at clancy@hartford.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4599

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Legislative Studies, Presidency

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in the field of political institutions to begin July 1, 2019. The position is open with respect to institutional focus, including in American and comparative politics. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work provides opportunities for productive synergies. We also value strong theoretical and empirical skills, including the ability to contribute to our graduate methods sequence. Candidates should have potential for excellence in teaching and research at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Successful candidates will be expected to have completed the Ph.D. no later than July 1, 2019.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11635>. Address correspondence to: Chair,

Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204.

Review of applications will begin on September 12, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4586

ITAM

Rank: Professor (tenure-track or tenured), open rank

The Department of Political Science at ITAM invites applications for a full-time faculty position in Political Economy / Comparative Politics, to begin in the Fall of 2019. Candidates of all ranks are welcome to apply. The Department is especially interested in candidates whose research focuses on issues of direct relevance to middle- and low-income countries.

ITAM is an academic institution in Mexico City committed to scientific excellence and oriented to the international academic community. Salary, teaching load, and publication expectations are in line with US research universities. All classes can be taught in English or Spanish.

All candidates should submit: (1) A brief cover letter describing research completed and planned, (2) a writing sample such as an article or dissertation chapter, (3) a CV, and (4) a one-page summary of teaching experience. Senior candidates should provide the names of four references whom the hiring committee might contact. Junior candidates should provide three confidential letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted via email to marta-cebollada@itam.mx. Letters of recommendation should be emailed directly to this address by the referees. Applications will be accepted until October 1 2018.

Applicants are encouraged, but not required, to interview at the 2018 APSA Meeting in Boston. Selected applicants will be flown out for a formal job talk. If you have any questions, or to schedule an interview during the APSA Meeting, please contact: Marta Cebollada, Academic Coordinator, email: marta.cebollada@itam.mx, phone: +52(55)5628-4000 ext. 3788.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4576

Waseda University

Rank: Assistant Professor (without tenure)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Waseda University, a long-established private university located in central Tokyo, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor (full time, without tenure) (in Japanese, "Koushi-Ninkitsuki") in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics. We seek individuals who wish to participate actively in education and research at the Faculty.

- Number of positions

Several positions across Political Science, Economics, and Journalism in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University

- Expected starting date

April 1, 2019

Duration: Two years from the starting date of employment

At the end of this two-year period, taking into account such factors as education, research and work performance, Assistant Professor (without tenure) may be reappointed for another year. However, the combined period of employment must be completed by March 31, 2022.

- Duties and Responsibilities

(1) To teach three or four courses per year.

A course per year breaks down to 30 lecture / seminar sessions, each lasting for 90 minutes. At Waseda University, the academic calendar consists of two 15-week semesters.

(2) To engage in collaborative and individual research activities at the Faculty.

(3) To undertake other duties assigned by the Faculty.

- Requirements

(1) Hold a doctoral degree or expect to obtain a doctoral degree before February 28, 2019.

Each successful applicant must submit either a photocopy of the original degree certificate or a document/letter issued by the academic institution confirming the degree awarded. Failure to do so by February 28, 2019, will result in the applicant being disqualified.

(2) Be able to give lectures and conduct seminars in either Japanese or English.

- Application Deadline

September 14, 2018 (application materials must be submitted by 13:00 Japan Standard Time, or UTC +09:00)

For detailed information of this posting including the application procedure, please refer to the following website.

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/08/09/9163/>

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 9/11/2017

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4541

American University-School of International Service

Rank: New Technology & Security, Tenure-track, Assistant Professor (beginning AY 2019-20)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Science & Technology, Foreign Policy, Intelligence

Assistant Professor

Tenure Track

NEW TECHNOLOGY AND SECURITY

School of International Service

American University

The School of International Service (SIS) at American University (AU) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-line position in New

Technology and Security at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2019.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. or the highest equivalent degree by August 2019. We seek scholar-teachers whose research focuses on new technologies and emerging security threats, especially the strategic, ethical, legal, and governance concerns related to their past and future evolution. These include (but are not limited to) artificial intelligence, autonomy, social media, cyber security, robotics, additive manufacturing (or “3-D printing”), unmanned aerial vehicles (“drones”), gene alteration, human enhancement, and other technologies or initiatives associated with what’s known as the Fourth Industrial Revolution. The focus of his or her research will be on the advantages and disadvantages of new technological innovations as they relate to the past, present and future security of human beings. Scholars who come from a wide range of disciplines are especially welcome to apply.

The successful candidate will be enthusiastic about working in a multidisciplinary environment that includes social scientists and natural scientists, as well as experts in the humanities. Being knowledgeable about both the technical aspects of these technologies and the human context in which they are used is highly desirable. The University has faculty who address a wide array of security policy, strategic studies, information security, and national defense issues; but we have particular strengths in the areas of cyber security, risk assessment, asymmetrical conflict, non-traditional security threats, conflict analysis, data analytics, and technological innovation.

As a school that includes a variety of scholarly disciplines and approaches, we seek the best candidates without respect to a particular discipline. We seek scholar-teachers whose work is theoretically grounded, empirically tested, and policy relevant. Candidates may hold terminal degrees in physics, computer science, biotechnology, mathematics, political science, history, international relations, anthropology, economics, or a range of other fields. Candidates should demonstrate excellence in research and teaching and a commitment to school and university service. Candidates should also share the School’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. A desire to mentor PhD candidates in our vibrant PhD program is also desirable.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin late August and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit applications via: <https://apply.interfolio.com/49810>. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, recent teaching evaluations, and recent published papers as well as a statement of past and/or future contributions to diversity and inclusion through teaching, research, and/or service.

You also need to submit via Interfolio the names and email addresses of three references and request that Interfolio contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation. Queries about the search should be sent to sisfacultyaffairs@american.edu. Queries about the online application system should be sent to help@interfolio.com.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation’s capital. For more information about American University, visit <http://www.american.edu/>.

Established in 1957, American University’s School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs located in Washington, D.C. SIS faculty produce transformational research and prepare our students for global careers in government, nonprofits, and business. SIS’s prime location provides opportunities for research, professional training, public service, and internships in the nation’s capital and around the world.

Housed in a beautiful LEED-Gold certified building which reflects our commitment to sustainability and ecological stewardship, SIS is a diverse and inclusive community of 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. Our offerings feature a comprehensive liberal arts program for undergraduates, professional education in international affairs for Master's students, and a multidisciplinary program for Doctoral students. Learn more about SIS at <http://www.american.edu/sis>.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4354

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (Cal Poly Pomona) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2019.

Candidates with specializations in public law are especially welcome to apply.

At Cal Poly Pomona, we cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation. We demonstrate academic quality, relevance, and excellence through our teaching, learning, scholarship, and creative activities with student-centered faculty in an evidence-based culture. Cal Poly Pomona is committed to being the model for an inclusive polytechnic university that inspires creativity and innovation, embraces local and global challenges, and transforms lives.

The Position

The faculty member will be part of a small, collegial Political Science Department, which also has a Master's in Public Administration. The faculty member will teach and advise in the undergraduate program and participate as appropriate in the master's program. The faculty member will be expected to teach courses in the public law subfield, including Introduction to Public Law, Constitutional Law: Rights and Liberties, Constitutional Law: Government Powers, and Contemporary Issues in Law. There will be opportunities to develop new courses in accordance to the faculty member's expertise. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a commitment to diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution and the faculty member will be an advisor to many under-represented minorities and first-generation college students.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science, or related disciplines such as Law and Society, Law and Philosophy from an accredited university by August 1, 2019
- University teaching experience
- Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)
- Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work as well as experience working in an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications

Preference will be given to those candidates who have the expertise to teach constitutional law classes and other topics related to public law, including social justice and the law, civil rights, contemporary policy issues and the courts, legal philosophy, courts and the democratic process, and comparative politics and courts. Preference will also be given to candidates who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Application Instructions

Application Procedure

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications submitted by September 14, 2018. Early response is encouraged. Electronic submissions of all application materials must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53294>

A completed application will consist of:

- A cover letter that describes the candidate's teaching performance, research experience and interests, and that addresses the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;
- A curriculum vitae comprising at least those elements specified on the application form and including the names, titles, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers of at least five individuals who can speak to the candidate's potential for success in this position;
- A 'Student Success Statement' about your teaching, or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced);
- Three recent letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and dated within the past two years). Applicants will provide contact information for recommenders during the application process and the system will contact recommenders and provide a method for uploading letters;
- A completed application form available on the application website: <https://apply.interfolio.com/53294>
- An unofficial transcript showing the highest degree earned from an accredited education institution. Finalists will be required to submit an official transcript; and
- Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available.
- Please submit all electronic documents in PDF format.

For further information or clarification, please contact:

Dr. Jill Hargis, Faculty Search Committee Chair
 Political Science Department
 California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
 Phone: 909.869.3887
 Fax: 909.869.6995
 Email: kmalm@cpp.edu (Kim Alm, Administrative Coordinator)

APSA Interviews

Representatives of the department will be available to meet at APSA's Placement Services. Please send a CV to mag@cpp.edu if you are interested in meeting with department representatives at APSA.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. The University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. Cal Poly Pomona subscribes to all state and federal regulations and prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity/gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, genetic information, medical condition, and covered veteran status. The University hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. As required by the Clery Disclosure Act, the university's annual security report is available at <http://www.cpp.edu/~police/annual-security-report.shtml>. The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment. A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/14/2018

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4579

Harvard University

Rank: William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellow

WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE KING POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

The Canada Program at Harvard University's Weatherhead Center for International Affairs invites applications for the William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellowships. Two fellows will be appointed for the 2019–2020 academic year, with the possibility of extending for one additional year—conditional on the approval of the dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, WCFIA associated faculty, and the co-hosting academic department.

The fellowships are open to scholars in all disciplines who are engaged in US-Canada comparative research and teaching, with preference given to individuals working within the social sciences and humanities. For postdoctoral candidates who will have completed the PhD within twelve months of the August 1, 2019 start date, verification of completion of the degree will be required prior to the appointment. Those in possession of a PhD for more than five years are ineligible.

The fellowships provide an annual stipend of $68,000, which is supplemented by funding for research and for individual health insurance coverage. The fellows will be required to teach one course during the year, and will be expected to engage with the Canada Program and with the University's wider community. Fellows receive shared office space at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs, and enjoy full access to the University's library, archival, and computing resources.

TO APPLY:

Candidates should submit: a letter of application describing their suitability for the fellowship; a curriculum vitae with a list of publications; a sample of their written work; a teaching portfolio, containing a statement on teaching experience and syllabi; and three letters of recommendation.

TO SUBMIT: <https://academicpositions.harvard.edu/postings/8365>

DEADLINE:

All application materials must be received no later than Thursday, November 1, 2018.

For more information about the WCFIA Canada Program, please visit: http://programs.wcfia.harvard.edu/canada\_program

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4569

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor - Armed Conflict and Violence - Open Rank

Political Science Professor - Armed Conflict and Violence - Open Rank

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications from scholars of armed conflict and violence for full-time open-rank appointments. The search is open as to substantive area—scholars working on civil conflict, micro dynamics of conflict, and inter-state conflict are all encouraged to apply. The search is also open with regards to disciplinary and methodological approaches. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment on September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 8, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples, to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52967>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4577

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor - Middle East/Asia - Open Rank

Political Science Professor - Middle East/Asia - Open Rank
NYU Abu Dhabi

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications from scholars working on politics in the Middle East or Asia for full-time open-rank appointments. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment on September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 8, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52973>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4578

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor - Open Rank

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, International Security

Political Science Professor - Open Rank
NYU Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for full-time tenure/track appointments in Political Science. The open-rank search is open to all fields and methodologies. Applications from senior scholars (associate and full professor) are especially welcome. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 1, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples, to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52969>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4574

University of Toronto

Rank: Indigenous Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a tenure stream position in Indigenous Politics, at the rank of Assistant Professor. This position will be held on the St. George campus and will begin on July 1, 2019.

Candidates must have a PhD or be near completing a PhD in Political Science or a related social sciences or humanities discipline, with a focus on Indigenous politics, and with demonstrated excellence in teaching, research, and Indigenous community engagement. We are seeking a scholar with a strong record in Indigenous research methodologies and ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, whose work focuses on Indigenous feminist research, Indigenous governance and practices, related policies, and/or colonialism and decolonization. Long term ethical engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, and competence to instruct and engage in research from an Indigenous perspective, using Indigenous methodologies, knowledge systems, and epistemologies is required. Preference will be given to Indigenous Peoples of North America or Peoples of Turtle Island, including those who identify as First Nations (status, non-status, treaty or non-treaty), Metis, Inuit, Alaskan Native, Native American, and Native Hawaiian Peoples.

The Department of Political Science is a leading research-intensive department with large undergraduate and graduate programs. Responsibilities of the position include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses (specific assignments to be negotiated), regular participation in departmental and university activities, maintaining a productive research agenda, supervising students at the undergraduate, MA and PhD levels, and student mentoring.

Excellence in research should be demonstrated through publications in high quality field relevant peer reviewed journals or forthcoming high quality publications, awards and accolades, presentations at significant conferences, and strong endorsements by referees of high standing, including a letter of support commenting on Indigenous community engagement. Excellence in teaching should be demonstrated by the teaching dossier outlining experience and accomplishments, the teaching statement, demonstrated knowledge and experience in Indigenous-based teaching methods, and strong letters of reference. The successful candidate will play an important role in growing and shaping the Political Science department's commitment to Indigenous Studies in the next few years.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 25 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the world's most diverse cities, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is enhanced by the cultural diversity in its community. In response to the Final Report of the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation Commission, U of T established a TRC Steering Committee to guide the University's response to the 94 Calls to Action. The University recently established an office of Indigenous Initiatives that works in close collaboration with the Centre for Indigenous Studies, First Nations House and other Indigenous facets of the University of Toronto (such as Indigenous Medical Education, Waakebiness-Bryce, and the Indigenous Education Network) to motivate initiatives designed to recruit and retain Indigenous students. This office supports the intellectual and communal life of Indigenous students and scholars on campus, including Indigenous Staff and Faculty Gatherings, an Elders Symposium, organizing and hosting Indigenous Education Week, and various conference initiatives (such as sending individuals to the World Indigenous Peoples Conference on Education (WIPCE) and hosting the Native American and Indigenous Studies Association (NAISA) meetings in 2020). The office includes a large staff and Faculty advisory and collaboration committee. The University has also earmarked funding to host Indigenous scholars and Distinguished Visiting Faculty Fellows. This work complements a major recruitment drive to hire Indigenous faculty across the University.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. Candidates must also arrange to have three confidential academic reference letters signed and on letterhead sent directly to the Chair of the Political Science department, Antoinette Handley, via email to chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. Candidates should also arrange to have a letter of support commenting on their Indigenous community engagement sent to the same address. All application materials must be submitted through the University of Toronto's online application system by the closing date. Please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF or MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

The closing date for applications is October 15, 2018. If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Antoinette Handley at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4571

University of Toronto

Rank: Indigenous Politics at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a tenure stream position in Indigenous Politics, at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. This position will be held on the St. George campus and will begin on July 1, 2019.

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or a related social sciences or humanities discipline, with a focus on Indigenous politics, and with demonstrated excellence in teaching, research, and Indigenous community engagement. We are seeking a scholar with a strong record in Indigenous research methodologies and ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, whose work focuses on Indigenous feminist research, Indigenous governance and practices, related policies, and/or colonialism and decolonization. Long term ethical engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, and competence to instruct and engage in research from an Indigenous perspective, using Indigenous methodologies, knowledge systems, and epistemologies is required. Preference will be given to Indigenous Peoples of North America or Peoples of Turtle Island, including those who identify as First Nations (status, non-status, treaty or non-treaty), Metis, Inuit, Alaskan Native, Native American, and Native Hawaiian Peoples.

The Department of Political Science is a leading research-intensive department with large undergraduate and graduate programs. Responsibilities of the position include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses (specific assignments to be negotiated), regular participation in departmental and university activities, maintaining a productive research agenda, supervising students at the undergraduate, MA and PhD levels, and student mentoring.

Excellence in research should be evidenced through a demonstrated ability to attract external research funding; a record of sustained impactful publications in top-ranked field relevant peer reviewed academic journals; presentations at significant conferences; distinguished awards and accolades; and strong endorsements by referees of high standing, including a letter of support commenting on Indigenous community engagement. Excellence in teaching should be demonstrated by the teaching dossier outlining experience and accomplishments, the teaching statement, demonstrated knowledge and experience in Indigenous-based teaching methods, and strong letters of reference. The successful candidate will play an important role in growing and shaping the Political Science department's commitment to Indigenous Studies in the next few years.

The appointment will be contingent upon a successful tenure review. Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 25 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the world's most diverse cities, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is enhanced by the cultural diversity in its community. In response to the Final Report of the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation Commission, U of T established a TRC Steering Committee to guide the University's response to the 94 Calls to Action. The University recently established an office of Indigenous Initiatives that works in close collaboration with the Centre for Indigenous Studies, First Nations House and other Indigenous facets of the University of Toronto (such as Indigenous Medical Education, Waakebiness-Bryce, and the Indigenous Education Network) to motivate initiatives designed to recruit and retain Indigenous students. This office supports the intellectual and communal life of Indigenous students and scholars on campus, including Indigenous Staff and Faculty Gatherings, an Elders Symposium, organizing and hosting Indigenous Education Week, and various conference initiatives (such as sending individuals to the World Indigenous Peoples Conference on Education (WIPCE) and hosting the Native American and Indigenous Studies Association (NAISA) meetings in 2020). The office includes a large staff and Faculty advisory and collaboration committee. The University has also earmarked funding to host Indigenous scholars and Distinguished Visiting Faculty Fellows. This work complements a major recruitment drive to hire Indigenous faculty across the University.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. Candidates must also arrange to have three confidential academic reference letters signed and on letterhead sent directly to the Chair of the Political Science department, Antoinette Handley, via email to chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. Candidates should also arrange to have a letter of support commenting on their Indigenous community engagement sent to the same address. All application materials must be submitted through the University of Toronto's online application system by the closing date. Please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF or MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

The closing date for applications is October 15, 2018. If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Antoinette Handley at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4570

Albion College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Politics, tenure track)

The Political Science Department of Albion College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty member who is broadly trained in comparative politics and is excited about teaching a diverse student body. The successful candidate will be required to teach both introductory and upper level courses in comparative politics as well as contribute to the broader political science curriculum in either a) American politics and policy or b) comparative law and/or political theory (preferably non-western). While the specific area of specialization is open, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative) at both an introductory and intermediate level. Successful applicants will have demonstrated excellence in teaching, a commitment to undergraduate research and student mentoring, and an active research agenda. The successful candidate will have a 3/3 teaching load, is expected to participate in co-curricular departmental activities, and contribute to interdisciplinary programs in the college community.

Qualifications:

- PhD in Political Science or related field by August 2019
- Specialization in Comparative Politics
- Demonstrated teaching effectiveness

Applicants should apply online : <https://apply.interfolio.com/52567>

- Cover letter
- CV
- Teaching Statement and Evaluations
- Research Statement
- Sample Syllabus for an Introduction to Comparative Politics course
- Writing Sample (publication or dissertation chapter)
- Graduate Transcripts
- Three Letters of Recommendation

Review of applications will begin September 21, and continue until the position is filled. Please contact Dr. Carrie Walling (cwalling@albion.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science for questions about the position or search.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/21/2018
Date Posted: 8/10/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4559

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for one or more tenure-track junior faculty positions. These positions are open with respect to subfield and involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8001> Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Teaching and research statements are optional. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00001

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4564

McGill University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Political Behaviour / Professeur adjoint, Approches de la politique comparée

McGill University
 Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor, Comparative Political Behaviour
 The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Political Behaviour. The position requires excellent skills and demonstrated training in methods such as advanced quantitative analysis, formal modelling, survey research methods, experimentation, or computational modelling. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to teaching in our sequence of methods courses, particularly at the graduate level.

An applicant's record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as the ability to provide supervision for graduate students. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank is possible under exceptional circumstances. Candidates should have completed their PhD or be very near completion. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, a sample of written work and material pertinent to teaching skills. The position start date is August 1, 2019.

For more information about the Department and University, please visit our website at: www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/. Inquiries may be sent to the Chair of the Department, Juliet Johnson, at juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

PLEASE APPLY ONLINE AT: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11565>

If the successful candidate satisfies the specific eligibility conditions of the program, the candidate may be supported by the University for nomination to a Tier 2 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Canadian Politics, which provides protected time for research within a full-time academic appointment. Tier 2 Chairs are for emerging researchers (individuals who are no more than 10 years from having earned their highest degree). However, career interruptions (e.g. maternity or parental leave, extended sick leave, clinical training, family care, etc.) may be taken into consideration using the Tier 2 justification process to review the candidate's eligibility. Potential applicants who are more than 10 years from their highest degree with career interruptions may contact the institution to have their eligibility reviewed through the Tier 2 justification process. The eligibility conditions for the CRC chairs are found at http://www.chairs-chaire.gc.ca/program-programme/nomination-mise\_en\_candidature-eng.aspx#s3.

Candidates who do not satisfy the CRC eligibility criteria for a Tier 2 chair are nonetheless encouraged to apply. All Faculty of Arts positions at McGill are being advertised as potential CRCs.

McGill University hires on the basis of merit and is strongly committed to equity and diversity within its community. We especially welcome applications from visible minority group members, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and others with the skills and knowledge to productively engage with diverse communities. We encourage members of equity-seeking groups to self-identify within their letter of intent in their application. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application and hiring process may contact, in confidence, Professor Angela Campbell, Associate Provost (Equity and Academic Policies) at (514) 398-1660 or at Angela.Campbell@mcgill.ca. Associate Provost Campbell can also answer questions related to equity, diversity and inclusion, or privacy concerns the candidate may have related to self-identifying.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Université McGill
Département de science politique

Professeur adjoint, Approches de la politique comparée
Le Département de sciences politiques sollicite des candidatures en vue de pourvoir un poste de professeur adjoint menant à la permanence en approches de la politique comparée. Le titulaire de ce poste doit posséder d'excellentes habiletés et une formation éprouvée en lien avec différentes méthodes, dont l'analyse quantitative, la modélisation formelle, les méthodes de recherche d'enquêtes, l'expérimentation et la modélisation informatique. Le candidat retenu sera appelé à prendre part aux activités d'enseignement, précisément sur la formation entourant les méthodes, et ce, particulièrement aux cycles supérieurs.

La feuille de route du candidat retenu devra inclure un potentiel éprouvé de qualités exceptionnelles dans le domaine de la recherche, les habiletés permettant d'enseigner de manière efficace aux 1er, 2e et 3e cycles et la compétence nécessaire afin d'exercer un rôle de supervision auprès d'étudiants aux cycles supérieurs. Le niveau du poste à pourvoir est celui de professeur adjoint. Il est néanmoins possible, dans certaines conditions exceptionnelles, que le niveau déterminé soit supérieur. Le candidat retenu doit posséder un diplôme d'études doctorales ou être sur le point de l'obtenir. La langue d'enseignement de l'Université McGill est l'anglais, mais la connaissance du français est un atout.

Les candidatures doivent comprendre un curriculum vitae détaillé, le nom de trois personnes pouvant fournir des références, un exemple de travaux écrits ainsi que des documents attestant de compétences en enseignement. La date d'entrée en fonction est le 1er août 2019.

Pour obtenir de plus amples renseignements sur le Département et sur l'Université McGill, veuillez vous rendre à www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/. Les demandes de renseignements au sujet de ce poste doivent être envoyées à la directrice du département, Juliet Johnson, à l'adresse suivante : juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

L'examen des candidatures commencera le 1er octobre 2018 et se poursuivra jusqu'à ce que le poste soit pourvu.

VEUILLEZ SOUMETTRE VOTRE CANDIDATURE EN LIGNE?ICI: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11565>

Si le candidat retenu répond aux critères d'admissibilité du programme, l'Université pourrait appuyer sa candidature pour l'attribution d'une chaire de recherche du Canada de niveau 2 en politique canadienne. Le titulaire d'une chaire a droit à du temps réservé à la recherche dans le cadre de son poste de professeur à temps plein. Les chaires de niveau 2 sont destinées aux jeunes chercheurs, c'est-à-dire à ceux qui ont obtenu leur diplôme le plus avancé il y a au plus 10 ans. Toutefois, une interruption de carrière (congé de maternité, congé parental, congé de maladie de longue durée, formation clinique, soins à un membre de la famille, etc.) peut être jugée légitime (voir les justifications acceptables). Les personnes qui ont obtenu leur diplôme le plus avancé il y a au-delà de 10 ans, mais qui ont dû interrompre leur carrière, peuvent donc communiquer avec l'établissement, qui déterminera si elles sont admissibles à une chaire de niveau 2. Pour connaître les critères d'admissibilité aux chaires de recherche du Canada, consulter le http://www.chairs-chaire.gc.ca/program-programme/nomination-mise\_en\_candidature-eng.aspx#s3.

Les personnes ne répondant pas aux critères d'admissibilité des chaires de recherche du Canada de niveau 2 sont néanmoins invitées à soumettre leur candidature. À l'Université McGill, tout poste affiché rattaché à la Faculté des arts peut s'inscrire dans le cadre du programme des chaires de recherche du Canada.

L'Université McGill recrute en fonction du mérite et s'est fermement engagée à promouvoir et à instaurer l'équité et la diversité au sein de sa communauté. Nous accueillons favorablement les demandes d'emploi des personnes racisées et des minorités visibles, des femmes, des personnes autochtones, des personnes handicapées, des minorités ethniques, des personnes de toute orientation et identité de genre, ainsi que de toute personne possédant les aptitudes et les connaissances lui permettant de travailler en collaboration avec diverses communautés. L'Université McGill met en œuvre un programme d'équité en matière d'emploi et invite les membres des groupes visés à indiquer leur appartenance à ces derniers dans leur dossier de candidature. Les personnes handicapées qui pourraient avoir besoin d'accommodements à n'importe quelle étape du processus de candidature sont invitées à communiquer en toute confidentialité avec la professeure Angela Campbell, vice-principale exécutive adjointe (équité et politiques académiques), par courriel Angela.Campbell@mcgill.ca ou par téléphone, au 514 398-1660. La vice-principale exécutive adjointe peut également répondre aux questions liées à l'équité, à la diversité et à l'inclusion et à toute donnée de nature confidentielle ayant trait à l'auto-identification. On encourage tous les candidats qualifiés à postuler; veuillez noter que conformément aux exigences de l'immigration canadienne, la priorité sera toutefois accordée aux Canadiens ainsi qu'aux résidents permanents.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4552

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowship in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics (up to three posts)

Nuffield College and the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford intend to appoint jointly, with effect from 1 September 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter, up to three Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellows (PPRFs) in Politics, broadly construed to include political science, political behaviour, comparative politics, political economy, electoral studies, political theory, international relations, and political history.

The key responsibilities of the Research Fellows are to engage in advanced study and independent scholarly research in politics broadly construed (as above); to disseminate research findings through publication and participation in conferences and workshops; to take part in the intellectual life of the College and the Department by organising workshops, seminars or conferences; and to undertake teaching not expected to exceed 48 stint units per year (the equivalent to teaching an eight-week 2-hour seminar series per year), and to assist in examining for the Department.

To be eligible, candidates should have completed, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field. Candidates must be within three years of the defence date (viva voce examination date) of their doctorate at the time of application. Allowances will be made for career breaks (for example, family-related leave) and candidates are asked to provide relevant information. Preference will be given to candidates who have not previously held a research fellowship similar to that advertised for more than one year at the time of taking up the fellowship. Prospective candidates should also have experience of carrying out independent research and a track record of excellent quality papers appropriate for and commensurate with their career level. They should have the ability to provide excellent teaching to high-achieving students; the willingness to contribute to the intellectual life of the College and the Department; and excellent oral and written communication skills. Teaching experience in any area of Comparative Government, Political Theory, or International Relations would be desirable.

The posts are full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 September 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter. Shorter-term appointments are unlikely to be considered. The salary offered is GBP 30,963 per annum (salary for 2017/18; the salary will be adjusted with effect from August 2018 following the agreement of the 2018/19 pay award). Subject to availability, Research Fellows may opt to rent single accommodation in College. Further benefits include a research allowance and free lunch and dinner in College.

Further particulars, including information on how to apply, are available from the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/2610/polpprf\_jd2019.pdf

The deadline for applications is Wednesday 12 September 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 4543

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor / Provost's Postdoctoral Fellow, Race and Politics

The Political Science Department at the University of Chicago invites applications from scholars working on Race and Politics. While we encourage applications from all scholars working in this area, we are particularly interested in applications that demonstrate expertise in Latino politics and comparative studies of race and ethnicity. A goal of this search is to increase the diversity of the faculty in the Department, and we therefore welcome applicants who come from groups historically underrepresented in the discipline, such as Black/African American, Hispanic/Latino, American Indian, or Alaskan Native.

The successful candidate will be appointed as either an Assistant Professor, or as a Provost Postdoctoral Fellow with an initial one or two-year appointment at the faculty rank of instructor. The appointment as a Provost Postdoctoral Fellow is intended to provide some relief from teaching in lieu of a postdoctoral appointment for the same period outside of the University. During the term as a Provost Postdoctoral Fellow, the successful candidate will teach only one course per year. At the end of the initial term, Provost Postdoctoral Fellows will ordinarily be promoted to Assistant Professor.

Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed; early submission is encouraged. Candidates are expected to have the PH.D and no more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the start of the appointment. Applications must be submitted through the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website: <https://tinyurl.com/yxcdl75p>.

Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant's prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing; and 6) three letters of reference.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4555

Williams College

Rank: tenure-track, entry-level assistant professor position in the area of contemporary welfare states and/or comparative capitalisms

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track, entry-level assistant professor position in the area of contemporary welfare states and/or comparative capitalisms. Subfield is open. We seek a scholar with a particular interest in the advanced post-industrial economies and an ability to teach courses on the politics of public policy. Candidates will be expected to contribute both to the Political Science Department and to Williams College's Program in Political Economy, an academic unit and undergraduate major dedicated to cultivating in students an understanding of the intersection of politics and economics in the formation of public policy.

The position's start date is July 1, 2019, and candidates should have the Ph.D. in hand no later than September 2019. Please upload a cover letter detailing current research interests and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample (one article, book chapter, or conference paper), evidence of teaching success, and three letters of recommendation to apply.interfolio.com/53170 and apply.interfolio.com/53170.

Williams College is a coeducational liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams College website (<http://www.williams.edu>). Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams College is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4544

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a Department of Defense executive education institution that educates, empowers, and connects current and future leaders from the Indo-Pacific region. The Center offers in-resident courses, workshops and dialogues in Honolulu and the Indo-Pacific region, and conducts policy-relevant research to build security capacity and collaboration. DKI APCSS addresses traditional and non-traditional security issues, including the relationship between governance and the security sector; transnational threats such as organized crime, terrorism, violent extremism, trafficking; maritime security; crises; analytical security assessments; and whole-of-society collaboration to include the role of women, peace and security. The audience of Fellows are mid- to senior-level civilian and military officials from all over the world. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Center invites applications for:

ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR FACULTY MEMBERS

For

Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief (HADR)

And

Security Sector Reform/Development (SSR/SSD)

The Center seeks world-class educators to teach, facilitate, research, and build capacity of security professionals in the Indo-Pacific Region. Responsibilities for associate/full professor faculty members

- Teaching executive education courses in a participant-centered, activity-based context
- Facilitating seminars, workshops, dialogues and visits
- Contributing to capacity building endeavors and security cooperation projects in the region
- Analyzing security-related trends in the Indo-Pacific region
- Contributing to curriculum development
- Performing administrative and staff duties to support the Center's academic functions

Desirable selection criteria for associate/full professor faculty members

- Knowledge of defense institution building including, civil-military, interagency and cross-sector coordination, strategic planning and information sharing
- Expertise in crisis and disaster management in one or more Indo-Pacific countries
- Familiarity with facilitation-based teaching and state-of-the-art educational technology
- Experience in development, capacity building, and national security consultations as related to the evolution and transformation of roles and responsibilities of security agencies
- Experience working with U.S. embassies in region, including familiarity with a country team, office of defense cooperation, U.S. State Department and USAID policies
- Experience with exercises and wargames
- Demonstrable skill in at least one regional language

Essential selection criteria for HADR associate/full professor faculty members

- High level of experience in crisis and disaster management
- Understanding of HADR at operational and strategic levels
- Knowledge of the disaster management phases including risk reduction and resilience

- Awareness of national, regional and international crisis response management frameworks, strategies and mechanisms
- Professional expertise at the operational, strategic or policy level in a multilateral setting

Essential selection criteria for SSR/SSD associate/full professor faculty members

- High level of experience in security and defense sector governance, development, and institutional capacity building of Indo-Pacific partner governments to increase capacity within their security institutions
- Experience in national security consultations, sector-wide coordination, and/or strategic planning as related to the evolution and transformation of roles and responsibilities of security agencies
- Demonstrable familiarity with U.S. Government legislation, policies, processes, and officials

Qualifications and attributes for associate/full professor faculty members

- Master's or doctoral degree
- Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation
- Proven ability to function as a team member

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $90,789 - $120,157 excludes locality pay (18.43%) and cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 10.99% but subject to change. All faculty at the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies are employed on limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years, with the possibility of renewal. Relocation expenses may be authorized.

Application Procedure

Interested candidates must submit the following items by email to hrapplications@dkiapcss.net

1. Letter of Interest. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year, and explain your interest in future career considerations with the Department of Defense
2. Curriculum Vitae. Should reflect the following: educational background, work experience, publications and salary history
3. Two Letters of Reference

Additional information

- Application deadline: Open until filled; 31 August 2018
- Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements
- Application packages will be retained for one year
- Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned
- Individuals selected for interviews will be asked to provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting their advanced degree(s) and two samples of their publications
- The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer
- All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor
- U.S. Citizenship is not required but applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.
- The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplications@dkiapcss.net to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis

Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 8/31/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4530

Saint Louis University

Rank: Assistant Professor In Comparative Politics or International Relations

Saint Louis University, a Catholic, Jesuit institution dedicated to student learning, research, health care, and service, seeks applicants for a tenure track position in international relations or comparative politics starting in August 2019. Previous teaching experience, evidence of research capacity, and a PhD in Political Science in hand by August 2019 are required. ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. The department has a preference for candidates able to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in European politics and policy and contribute classes to the department's International Studies program. The appointment will be at the level of Assistant Professor. The normal teaching assignment for this position is 2/2. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science, a B.A. in International Studies, an M.A. in Political Science and, in conjunction with the Sociology and Anthropology department, a Ph.D. in Public and Social Policy.

The department will conduct interviews at the APSA annual meeting. If you would like to be considered for an interview, please send a CV and a letter that explains your interest in and qualifications for the position and clearly states the days you will be available to meet at the APSA meeting to Ms. Sharilyn Bazile at sharilyn.bazile@slu.edu as soon as possible. In the body of your e-mail, please indicate that you are interested in the Comparative/IR position.

Saint Louis University is in the process of posting the online application. Once posted, all applications must be made online at <http://jobs.slu.edu> and include the applicant's curriculum vitae; a cover letter that includes research plans and teaching interests; at least one single-authored writing sample; research and teaching statements; a summary of recent teaching evaluations (if possible, officially produced); and syllabi of classes taught (if available). Please have three current letters of recommendation and official graduate transcripts sent to Ms. Sharilyn Bazile at sharilyn.bazile@slu.edu or Department of Political Science, Saint Louis University, 3750 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis, MO 63108. For questions about the position, please contact Ms. Bazile or call the department office, 314-977-3035. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications or applications received after October 15, 2018 cannot be assured full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4535

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

The Department of International Affairs (DIA) at the University of Georgia invites applications for a tenure track position in comparative politics at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall of 2019. While we seek a scholar who is broadly trained in the concepts, methods, and approaches used in the study of comparative politics, we are particularly interested in candidates with teaching and research interests in comparative political economy. Candidates are expected to have a demonstrated ability to produce high quality research, show promise of attracting external funding and teaching effectiveness, and be well trained in research methods, broadly defined.

The School of Public and International Affairs, of which the DIA is one of three Departments, has two state of the art experimental research labs -- one for group surveys and experiments; the other for one or two-person observations (with technology to record skin conductance, heart rate variability, and electromyography). Candidates who can make use of our experimental laboratories are particularly encouraged to apply.

Prospective candidates should upload a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vita, teaching evaluations demonstrating excellence in instruction, original transcripts, and three letters of recommendation in electronic form to the UGA Jobs site at <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/29402>. Questions or hard copies of letters of recommendation can be sent to Bill Zachmann, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 309, Athens, GA 30602 (zachmann@uga.edu). A Ph.D. degree in political science or a related discipline or near completion of dissertation is required. For ABD applicants, the degree must be completed by August 1, 2019. Applications received by September 15, 2018 will be assured full consideration.

Georgia is well known for its quality of life both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 75 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The Department of International Affairs is committed to enhancing the diversity of the department and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (employ@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4527

The College of New Jersey

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and the International Studies Program at The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) invite applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in International Relations with a regional focus on East or South Asia to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate expertise in one region as well as an exceptional record or promise as a teacher-scholar of East or South Asian politics, society, and international relations. Candidates should identify in which subfields of international relations they hold expertise. Applicants must demonstrate the ability or potential to work effectively with a diverse student body. The typical teaching load is three courses per semester. During the faculty member's first year, s/he may apply for a competitive course reduction of one course for the following academic year. A Ph.D. is preferred, but the College will consider ABDs if the degree will be granted by time of appointment.

Completed applications received by September 21, 2018 will receive full consideration, but the position will remain open until filled. Submissions must be emailed to jobs@tcnj.edu, and must include:

- 1) Cover letter describing qualifications and research and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae (CV);
- 3) Unofficial or official graduate transcript;
- 4) Scholarly writing sample;
- 5) Evidence of teaching effectiveness including teaching evaluations and sample syllabi;
- 6) Contact information for three references.

In addition, applicants should also have three referees email confidential letters of recommendation directly to irasiapoliticsearch-group@tcnj.edu. Questions can be directed to Brian Potter (potter@tcnj.edu) with "IR and East/South Asia politics recommendation" in the subject line.

Teaching and research are mutually supportive activities at TCNJ. Candidates should be strongly committed to the teacher-scholar model in a primarily undergraduate, residential institution, to maintaining both high quality teaching and an active and productive research program, and to encouraging and engaging highly motivated undergraduates in intensive, individual work both inside and outside the classroom (e.g., undergraduate research, independent study). Faculty members also have service responsibilities within the College.

Founded in 1855, TCNJ has earned national recognition for its commitment to excellence. Emphasizing a residential experience for its approximately 6,500 undergraduates, TCNJ is one of Barron's 75 "Most Competitive" American colleges, and U.S. News & World Report's No. 1 public institution of its kind in the northern region of the country. The College also offers focused graduate programs in Nursing, Education, and English. TCNJ was awarded, in 2006, a Phi Beta Kappa chapter—an honor shared by less than 10 percent of colleges and universities nationally. A strong liberal arts core forms the foundation for programs offered through TCNJ's seven schools—Arts and Communication; Business; Education; Engineering; Humanities and Social Sciences; Nursing, Health, and Exercise Science; and Science. TCNJ faculty members are teacher-scholars who share a commitment to liberal learning. TCNJ is located within an hour, by train, of New York City and Philadelphia. The College's campus is set on 289 tree-lined acres in suburban Ewing Township and is known for its natural beauty. TCNJ has 39 major buildings, including the 4th-best college library in the nation, according to the Princeton Review. For more information, visit www.tcnj.edu.

Employment is contingent upon completion of a successful background check. The successful applicant must present proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/21/2018

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4514

University of California, Irvine

Rank: 2018-19 Political Science Lecturer Pool (Comparative Politics Focus)

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of Comparative Politics contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2018-19 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in Comparative Politics. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $54,738 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2018-2019 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/24/18 – 12/14/18

Winter Quarter: 1/2/19 - 3/22/19

Spring Quarter: 3/27/19 – 6/14/19

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04847>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by October 1st, 2018. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 3/17/2019
Date Posted: 8/7/2018
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 4517

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Politics)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Comparative Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. The position is open with respect to substantive and regional focus. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01839>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Politics).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/7/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4519

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Formal Theory / Political Economy for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. The applicant should demonstrate advanced skills in analytical reasoning and formal modeling (including but not limited to game theory), as well as a strong applied focus in at least one subfield. The successful candidate will be able to convey their insights to an audience that does not necessarily have extensive formal training but that is interested in the ideas as applied to a well-defined substantive problem. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01847>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/7/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4521

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. Applicants should demonstrate strong skills in analytic reasoning, broadly defined, which may include one or more of the following: quantitative methods, formal theory, analytic political philosophy, or modelling. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applciant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01840> for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4524

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of assistant professor. This position is pending final budgetary approval.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda as evidenced by working papers or publications, and be able to teach graduate and undergraduate courses as indicated by research presentations and/or teaching assessments. The Department expects applicants to have strong substantive and methodological training, as demonstrated by completed coursework, but has no preferred methodological approach. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs will be considered but must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the date of appointment.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/55192> and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching/research interest (including a summary of teaching evaluations, if available), and sample publications. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin on 9/17/2018, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4495

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Associate Professorship(s)

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

We invite applications for one or more positions as Associate Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Associate Professor are:

- Research within the field of politics and international relations
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate, graduate and PhD students
- Administrative tasks related to the position
- Research and teaching management
- Project management and external fundraising
- Knowledge sharing with the rest of the society

Emphasis will be put on the applicant's ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the Department through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching, disseminate knowledge and make a knowledge-based societal impact. An associate professor is expected to develop competences and experience within research, teaching and dissemination. Furthermore, the associate professor should have well-developed competences to attract funding within his or her specialist area.

Qualifications

To be qualified for the position the applicant must have research qualifications within the field of Political Science at the level that can be achieved by satisfactorily completing a period of employment at the level of assistant professor or equivalent as well as:

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced in a growing and ambitious publication profile that complements the existing research strengths of the Department and evidence of, or clear plans for attracting, external research funding
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery of an excellent student experience based on a sizable track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.

- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

We will expect candidates to present a clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications, external research funding as well as a commitment to innovate teaching

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Professor Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Phone: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048] , email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4452

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Professorships in Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

We invite applications for one or more positions as Full Professor or fixed-termed Professor with Special Responsibilities at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of the Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Professor or Professor with Special Responsibilities (MSO) are:

- Research within the field of Political Science
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate, post-graduate and PhD students
- Administrative tasks related to the position as Professor or Professor with Special Responsibilities
- Knowledge sharing with wider society
- Research and teaching management
- Fundraising

Applicants for a full professorship must be able to document a very high degree of original scholarly production at international level and have a highly recognised international reputation. Applicants for a MSO professorship must have the potential to make progress in the subject area and being able to document original scholarly production at an international level. The position is established to appoint particular talent, preferable younger researcher to develop a subject area full of perspectives at an international level.

In addition to the general professorial duties, the position as Professor with Special Responsibilities includes special responsibilities to make a specific contribution to realising the Department's strategic goals by either increasing societal impact or innovation in teaching by including problem-solving competences or internationalization.

Qualifications

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced by a recognized international reputation in Political Science or a relevant subfield and demonstrated by a considerable number of existing high-quality publications, which constitute a significant contribution to the field and complements the existing research strengths of the Department. Publications should be published on a continuous basis in top-ranked journals and/or a highly influential publication record with leading book publishers.
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery and further development of an excellent student experience based on a significant track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates, who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Proven ability to provide leadership of research groups as well as an ability to operate in leadership roles at the Departmental, Faculty and University levels.
- The ability and willingness to attract external funding on a larger scale and to lead research projects.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Tel: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048] , email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk.

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/4/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4451

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2019. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses and perform research in their specialized area. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the areas of political violence, civil war, ethnic conflict, terrorism, and/or human rights. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2019.

The application deadline is September 15, 2018. A complete application must include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, two writing samples, and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://jobs.rice.edu/postings/16200>.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/3/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4485

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Race, Ethnicity and Migration

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for an Assistant Professor position in Race, Ethnicity, and Migration. We are particularly interested in outstanding candidates who work on American Politics, and also candidates who work on these issues in Comparative Politics and International Relations. This search is part of a cluster of hires, at multiple levels, the department is making over the next few years. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/53016>.

Review of applications and nominations will begin September 15, 2018, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Date Posted: 8/3/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4489

Yale University

Rank: Open Rank Search in Comparative Political Economy/Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for an open rank search in Comparative Political Economy and Comparative Politics. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation (if untenured), and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/53011>.

Review of applications and nominations will begin September 15, 2018, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/3/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4491

University of California, Merced

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Political Science Department at the University of California, Merced invites applications for an assistant professor (tenure-track) position in either Political Institutions or Political Behavior. The department is particularly interested in applicants who focus on international relations and/or comparative politics but will also consider applicants in American politics.

In order to be considered, candidates must have a PhD in political science (or a closely related field) by the position start date and evidence of excellence in research.

The anticipated start date for this position is July 1, 2019.

Applications must be submitted online. Completed applications must be received no later than September 14, 2018, in order to be considered. Interested applicants are required to submit 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statement of research; 4) statement of teaching; 5) two writing samples; 6) a contributions to diversity statement; and, 7) a list of three references with contact information including mailing address, phone number and e-mail address.

The contributions to diversity statement should describe your past experience, activities and future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion, in alignment with UC Merced's mission to reflect the diversity of California and to meet the educational needs and interests of its diverse population. Some faculty candidates may not have substantial past activities. If that is the case, we recommend focusing on future plans in your statement. For additional information on what should be included on your Diversity Statement, please visit <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html#Are-there-any-guide-lines-for-wr>.

Applicants should arrange to have three letters of reference submitted online. After an application is submitted, the letters of reference should be electronically uploaded by the letter writers (instructions will be provided by the application system). Letters of reference should be received no later than September 14, 2018.

The University of California, Merced is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty, students and staff. The majority of students at UC Merced are members of under-represented minority groups and we encourage applications from candidates dedicated to working in a multicultural environment.

Salary is commensurate with education, experience, and UC academic salary scales.

For additional information, please contact Tom Hansford at thansford@ucmerced.edu.

Applicants will be notified when the final candidate has been selected.

To apply, please visit our UC Merced job posting at: <https://aprecruit.ucmerced.edu/apply/JPF00688>.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Date Posted: 8/2/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4483

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Asian Politics

The Department of Political Science in the School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Richmond invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in comparative politics, to begin in August 2019. The department seeks to hire a teacher-scholar with expertise in Asian politics, broadly defined, who will meet and expand curricular goals within the major and broaden the department's research expertise. We welcome applicants to join an interdisciplinary community of scholars with interests in Asia. The position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on Asian politics, an upper-division course in the candidate's area of research interest, courses contributing to the department's ongoing offerings of introductory-level comparative politics and research methods courses, and possibly other service courses related to the individual's areas of expertise.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August 1, 2019. Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu>. The application should include the following: a cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate's research and teaching interests; separate statements on research interests/plans and on teaching philosophy/experience; current curriculum vitae; copies of graduate transcripts; and three letters of recommendation, at least one of which should also speak to the candidate's record of or potential for excellence in teaching. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and goals as well as involvement and commitment to inclusive pedagogy.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Richard Dagger rdagger@richmond.edu, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018.

The School of Arts and Sciences, the liberal arts core of the University, is a thriving and inclusive community of 230 faculty, twenty-two departments, and ten interdisciplinary programs. We offer distinctive and engaging learning opportunities to students and outstanding resources to support the scholarly, creative, and pedagogical activities of the faculty. For information about the foundations, goals, and initiatives of the School of Arts and Sciences, see the Concept 30 Strategic Plan at: <https://as.richmond.edu/concept30/index.html>

The University of Richmond is a private, highly selective, predominantly liberal arts institution. The University is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community that values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department, see <http://polisci.richmond.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/2/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4478

Bogazici University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

New: Open Faculty Positions

The Political Science and International Relations Department at Bogazici University in Istanbul Turkey is seeking highly qualified applicants for two tenure-track assistant professor positions. One position is for International Relations and the other is an open call.

Interested applicants should submit all the relevant materials in electronic form, including a CV, a statement of research agenda, a sample of their scholarly work and teaching records to: BUPolsjobapp@boun.edu.tr

Candidates can consult our website (www.pols.boun.edu.tr) for more information about the department.

Start Date: Spring

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 4213

Occidental College

Rank: Associate Professor in Global Political Economy/Development Practice

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

A search at the Associate Professor level in Global Political Economy/Development Practice. The expectation is that after a transitional period (commensurate with experience) this hire will serve as the Young Initiative Chair on the Global Political Economy, directing the use of its generously endowed fund.

We are looking for applicants who have powerfully demonstrated an ambitious research and practice agenda that can be translated into innovative Young Initiative programming (current Young programming includes both working with the Los Angeles mayor's office to integrate the Sustainable Development Goals into city-wide policies and initiatives in the field of Social Entrepreneurship). We are particularly interested in applicants whose research and practice agenda focuses on areas such as the Sustainable Development Goals; Human Rights-based Approaches to Economic Development; and/or Equity/Equality in Economic Development (with reference to race, class, identity, and/or gender). Priority will be given to applicants who have demonstrated a research and practice that leverages substantial fieldwork with international or regional organizations, transnational NGOs, and/or entities working in major urban cities or in a regional context. The eventual hire will be expected to teach at least one class that will be cross-listed with the Economics Department, and thus will need to demonstrate sufficient training in economics to teach such a course with attention to requisite mixed quantitative/qualitative methods. An expectation will be that an eventual hire will immediately catalyze Occidental College's continued engagement with on-the-ground work in international affairs, at the local/Los Angeles, transnational, and/or global levels. An additional priority is the ability to advance the College's mission, past evidence of and future plans for creating equitable opportunities in learning and mentoring for underrepresented students, an understanding of the distinctiveness of the Liberal Arts culture, and a commitment to constructively engage with faculty from other disciplines, e.g. (but not exclusively) Economics, Politics, Urban and Environmental Studies. Further, we expect the new faculty member will augment and invigorate the DWA department by collaborating with its existing faculty, ongoing initiatives, and continued curricular innovations.

The John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy is funded through a bequest from John Parke Young '17, a distinguished international economist, former chair of the college's Economics Department, and a 50-year member of the Occidental board of trustees. The Young Initiative has enabled faculty and student research and international opportunities at Occidental with the aim to promote national policies and actions of public and social benefit.

Occidental College is a highly selective, urban liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, the College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in Northeast Los Angeles. As one of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental affords students and faculty unique engagement with communities, cultural institutions, and academic resources throughout Los Angeles.

Candidates should send their application as an electronic file to Ms. Chamnan Lim at youngsearch@oxy.edu. A complete application will include the following materials: (1) a cover letter that details the interest in teaching at Occidental and the goals of the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy; (2) potential initiatives as part of the Young Initiative committee and as its eventual Chair; (3) a discussion of the applicant's academic research, field practice, teaching experience, and program development; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) a list and brief descriptions of courses the applicant could teach at Oxy; (6) scholarly work sample; (7) Curriculum Vitae; and (8) three confidential letters of recommendation, with at least one attesting to your teaching; letters must be sent by recommenders.

All materials are due no later than October 1, 2018; applications received after the deadline will not be reviewed. Interviews of semifinalists will be held via videoconference.

For information on the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, including current course offerings, please visit our website at: <http://www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs>. For information on the John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, please visit our website at: <https://www.oxy.edu/john-parke-young-initiative-global-political-economy>. Inquiries about the position, the DWA department, and/or the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy can be directed to the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy Interim Chair, Professor Anthony Tirado Chase: achase@oxy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4470

University of Cincinnati

Rank: Islamic Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The University of Cincinnati invites applications by advanced assistant and associate professors to fill the Inayat and Ishrat Malik Professorship in Islamic Studies. The position will begin in the fall of 2019. The search committee welcomes applications from scholars in the field of Islamic Studies, with research and teaching interests in such areas as Anthropology, Comparative Religion, Arabic, Ethics, Gender Studies, History, Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, and Theology.

Minimum Qualifications: A Ph.D. is required, as well as prior teaching experience and evidence of scholarly excellence.

The successful candidate is expected to engage in research, to teach on the graduate and undergraduate levels in their area, and to contribute, via interdisciplinary education and as appropriate, to undergraduate certificate programs in such areas as Religious Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, Arabic Studies, Asian Studies, Security Studies, and Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies. The successful candidate should be thoroughly knowledgeable in the Islamic intellectual tradition and in Qur'anic Studies. Enthusiasm to present Islamic teachings in multiple areas of thought and experience and in a style accessible to diverse student audiences is essential. This effort will include the presentation of at least one public lecture in Islamic Studies each academic year. The candidate should also have a track-record of engagement with the Islamic community, demonstrate a willingness to contribute to the Islamic Center of Greater Cincinnati, and be able to build productive relationships with academic partners across campus and with interfaith and cultural groups in the Cincinnati area.

The tenure-track position will be housed in the department in the College of Arts & Sciences most appropriate to the candidate's degree. Joint appointments are possible.

The successful candidate will be expected to make service contributions to the mission of that department and commensurate with the position of Professorship in Islamic Studies. The teaching load will accord with that of research-active faculty. The University of Cincinnati is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity. The University is interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community, and we hope to attract applicants who have experience in promoting the success of students from diverse backgrounds. We encourage women, members of racial/ethnic/gender groups underrepresented in higher education, persons with disabilities, and veterans to apply.

For full consideration, interested and qualified apply online at <https://jobs.uc.edu> (Search Requisition #31164). A complete application will include a letter of interest, a CV, an article-length writing sample, and a one-page statement summarizing your contributions or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion as they relate to teaching, research and/or mentoring. Please use the Additional Documents function to submit the required documents. Three letters of reference must be directly submitted by recommenders to history@ucmail.uc.edu.

For questions or additional information, please contact Professor Jeff Zalar, Chair of the Search Committee, at zalarjy@ucmail.uc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4456

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track position in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University
Faculty Recruitment Information (Tenure-track position)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics at Waseda University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in political science to begin as early as April 1, 2019. The position is open with respect to the field of specialization. The Faculty seeks to appoint a promising junior scholar who demonstrates potential for making significant contribution to the profession in his or her field of expertise with theoretically innovative and methodologically sound research, and excellence in teaching. A successful candidate will have a rigorous training in formal, empirical, or normative methods.

Successful applicant must have a Ph.D. in political science or a cognate discipline by the date of appointment. Proficiency in Japanese is desired but not required. The initial term for the tenure-track appointment is three years, with a possible extension of two years, contingent on an interim review during the second or third year. Tenure may be granted at any time during the probationary period upon a successful tenure review.

Waseda University, founded in 1882, is a leading private research university located in central Tokyo. As part of the University's internationalization initiative, the Faculty of Political Science and Economics has offered English-based degree programs both at the undergraduate and graduate levels since 2010. The programs offer a diverse and dynamic academic community to talented students from all around the world.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, and up to three samples of significant written scholarship electronically via:

https://www.wasedapse.jp/en/fpse1/eng\_input.php

1. Submit your cover letter (use Template Form A) in the "(1) Application Form / Cover Letter" field
2. Submit your professional cv (use Template Form B) to the "(2) Curriculum Vitae with a list of academic/professional accomplishments" field
3. Submit your research statement in the "(3) Additional application material 1" field
4. Submit up to three written works in the "(3) Additional application material 2-4" fields

The application deadline is Friday, September 28, 2018 at 1:00 p.m. (JST). Should you wish to submit a hard copy of your work or any other application materials, please send us two copies by registered mail on or before the application deadline. Receipt of applications will be acknowledged by email within 10 days after the deadline.

Candidates should also arrange to have two letters of reference submitted via email, or standard mail to the address indicated below on or before the application deadline. Should your reference send a letter via email, we ask that the letter be emailed from his or her professional affiliation. Reference letters should be sent to:
pse-hr-PolSciTT@list.waseda.jp

Prof. Koichi Suga, Dean
Attn: Application for Tenure-Track positions for Political Science
Faculty of Political Science and Economics
Waseda University
1-6-1 Nishi Waseda, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-8050
Japan

For full information of this posting, please see the link below.
<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/07/27/9113/>

Any questions regarding the position or the application procedure should be directed to pse-hr-PolSciTT@list.waseda.jp.

Please note that the recruitment process involves three stages: 1) document screening; 2) campus visit including research presentation and an interview with the search committee; and 3) interview with the dean.

Start Date: Spring 2019
Application Deadline: 9/28/2018
Date Posted: 7/28/2018
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 4443

Singapore Management University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Singapore Management University, School of Social Sciences
Assistant Professor in Political Science Positions –
(1) International Relations (IR)
(2) Comparative Politics & Public Policy (CP)

The School of Social Sciences (SOSS), Singapore Management University, invites applications for two tenure-track positions in (1) International Relations (IR), and (2) Comparative Politics and Public Policy (CP), at the rank of Assistant Professor.

(1) International Relations (IR)

We are seeking candidates who are well rounded in International Relations and especially those with expertise in international organizations, regionalism, migration, or human security. The successful candidate will display a record of, or high potential for, scholarly research, as well as demonstrated teaching aptitude. The position requires a doctorate in Political Science, International Relations, or a closely related field. Successful candidates should be prepared to teach both introductory courses and advanced electives in international relations.

(2) Comparative Politics and Public Policy (CP)

The ideal candidate is one who conducts innovative research in Comparative Politics who can also teach Public Policy courses. We are open to research focus, although interest in Asia is a plus. The successful candidate will display a record of, or high potential for, scholarly research, as well as demonstrated teaching aptitude. The position requires a doctorate in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field. Successful candidates should be prepared to teach courses in both the Political Science major field as well as in the Public Policy and Public Management second major.

Singapore Management University is a research university committed to an interdisciplinary and integrated curriculum, providing opportunities to work with faculty across the social sciences. The research support is excellent, and salary and benefits are highly competitive. The teaching load is comparable to other research universities, and typically, junior faculty receive a 3-course per year teaching load for their first contract.

Full evaluation of applications will start 15 September 2018. To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by 11:59pm (GMT) on 14 September 2018. Interviews for shortlisted candidates will begin in October 2018. The successful candidate will be expected to start at Singapore Management University in July 2019.

The application package should be in electronic form (Word or PDF file) and include: (1) a cover letter (including a summary of research and teaching interests), (2) an up-to-date curriculum vitae (including a list of three referees), (3) a 1-2 page research statement, (4) a 1-2 page teaching statement, (5) up to three writing samples, and (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness. The applications should be e-mailed to socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg. Please identify in the e-mail which of the positions you are applying for, with "Asst Prof in IR" or "Asst Prof in CP" as subject.

Applicants should also arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent directly to: The Dean's Office, School of Social Sciences, Singapore Management University, 90 Stamford Road, Level 4, Singapore 178903, or e-mailed to: socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg.

Information about SMU and the School of Social Sciences can be found at www.socsc.smu.edu.sg

Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 9/14/2018
Date Posted: 7/27/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4440

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: American Politics, Comparative Politics and Political Theory Junior Faculty Position

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The UCLA Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a junior faculty position, to begin July 1, 2019. We are particularly interested in applicants who specialize in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or Comparative Political Theory/Political Theory & Race and Ethnicity, although we will also consider especially strong applications from candidates working in other fields and (pending administrative approval) at senior ranks. Given its commitment to equity, diversity, and inclusion, UCLA asks that candidates include with their application a statement that addresses past efforts, as well as future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion.

Candidates should apply online at: <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply>. The job tracking number is (JPF03889). The online application should include: a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, the aforementioned diversity statement, evidence of teaching excellence in related courses, at least one writing sample, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation. The letters of recommendation should be uploaded directly by the referees. Appointments will be effective July 1, 2019. PhD in Political Science or related field in hand prior to the appointment. To ensure full consideration, the online application should be completed by September 15, 2018. Applications will be accepted, however, until the position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4447

Cornell University

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Government at Cornell University welcomes applications for two full-time, tenure-track positions in Comparative Politics at the rank of assistant professor. The department has special interest in candidates whose research and teaching interests include the Middle East, South Asia, Eastern Europe/Russia, and/or big data topics, but the search is not limited to these areas, and candidates in all areas of Comparative Politics are encouraged to apply. A PhD is required no later than July 1, 2019.

Applicants should apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11491>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, and three letters of recommendation, as well as teaching evaluations and materials if available. We will begin to review applications starting September 15, 2018, and will continue until the search is complete. Diversity and inclusion have been and continue to be a part of our heritage. The Department of Government, and the College of Arts and Sciences at Cornell embrace diversity and seek candidates who will create a climate that attracts students and faculty of all races, nationalities, and genders. We strongly encourage women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Cornell University is a recognized EEO/AA employer and educator, valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans, and Individuals with Disabilities.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/24/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4424

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, Politics and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in politics and public policy to begin July 1, 2019.

Applicants at the assistant level should be new or recent PhD graduates in political science, public policy, or a relevant policy discipline with a PhD conferred by 07/01/2019. While we encourage applications from scholars studying all areas of public policy, GPS has particular interest in scholars of regional or urban politics and policy-making. Examples include comparative regional or urban politics, regional inequalities, land use, regional planning, sustainable development, political and economic geography, and smart cities. We welcome applications regardless of regional or comparative focus. Junior applicants must have a PhD conferred by July 1, 2019.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01814>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4421

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate Professor, Politics and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenured Associate Professor position in politics and public policy to begin July 1, 2019.

Applicants should have a PhD in political science, public policy, or a relevant policy discipline. Applicants at the associate level should show a record of outstanding research and teaching in the same fields, as well as evidence of policy engagement, broadly construed. While we encourage applications from scholars studying all areas of public policy, GPS has particular interest in scholars of regional or urban politics and policy-making. Examples include comparative regional or urban politics, regional inequalities, land use, regional planning, sustainable development, political and economic geography, and smart cities. We welcome applications regardless of regional or comparative focus.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01815>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 7/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4425

Franklin & Marshall College

Rank: Comparative Politics, Assistant Professor

POSITION: Comparative Politics, Assistant Professor

Franklin & Marshall College invites applications for a tenure-track position for Comparative Politics in the Department of Government beginning Fall 2019. The rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor depending on qualifications. Applicants must possess or be close to completing a doctorate (or terminal degree) in political science. Responsibilities include teaching introductory, intermediate and advanced courses in comparative politics with a preference for expertise in either Asia or the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region.

Teaching experience is preferred. Teaching load is 3/2 and includes participation in the College's general education requirement, "Connections". Candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s), teaching and research statement, diversity statement, a writing sample, and teaching evaluation forms to <https://apply.interfolio.com/52454>. Applicants must arrange for three letters of support to be submitted by recommenders directly to Interfolio.

For full consideration applications must be completed by October 1, 2018.

Pursuant to cultivating an inclusive college community, the search committee will holistically assess the qualifications of each applicant. We will consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds. We will also consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to academic success.

The person selected for this tenure-track position may also be considered for a supplemental appointment as a Franklin & Marshall (Mellon) High Impact Emerging Scholar. These are scholars who possess outstanding promise for inspiring and supporting the educational development of underrepresented minority students in a higher educational setting such as F&M. Selected finalists who meet these additional qualifications, in addition to those outlined by this ad, may be nominated by the department as an F&M (Mellon) High Impact Emerging Scholar. If selected as a M/HIES, the person will receive a two-year appointment (additional to the tenure-track appointment) that begins as soon as the person joins the campus on the tenure-track. The M/HIES program supports the acceleration of one's research trajectory with a significantly reduced teaching load for two years along with supportive mentoring to advance the scholar's research and professional development. Candidates interested in being considered for nomination should indicate their interest in their cover letter and highlight any previous work in this area in their diversity statement.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 7/18/2018
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 4400

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in the Field of Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor in the field of public policy.

The McCourt School has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching expertise focus on applying innovative research to find solutions to important public policy problems. Environmental policy (domestic or comparative) and comparative policymaking are two areas where we have especially strong needs.

We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start; the Ph.D. could be in political science, policy, sociology, economics or related fields.

Applications can be submitted at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11436>. The committee will begin considering applications on September 15th and will continue to do so until the position is filled.

A small number of candidates may be interviewed at the American Political Science Association meeting in Boston. Applicants who submit their applications by August 25th who wish to be considered for APSA interviews should indicate their availability in their cover letter.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4403

Harvard Business School

Rank: Tenure-Track Position: Political Science

Harvard Business School is seeking candidates for a tenure-track position in the Business, Government, and the International Economy (BGIE) unit. We will consider candidates whose research interests include international political economy or comparative political economy. The search is open with regard to methodological approach. Candidates may come directly from Ph.D. programs or from the faculties of other universities. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

All applicants should have excellent academic credentials and a demonstrated potential for conducting outstanding research. The School is particularly interested in applicants with interdisciplinary interests and strong records of, or potential for, excellence in teaching.

Successful candidates will, at the outset, teach a required first-year MBA course on the economic, political, and social environment of global business. Starting salaries will be highly competitive.

Applications must be received no later than September 27th, 2018 and should include: curriculum vitae, description of research, and writing sample (preferably dissertation chapters). Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted through the online portal by the referees.

To apply please go to this website and select "Tenure-Track Position: Political Science" when choosing a position on the application:

<http://www.hbs.edu/research/faculty-recruiting>

Material that can only be sent in hard copy can be sent to: Harvard Business School, Faculty Administration, Attn: BGIE Unit Application, Morgan Hall T25, Soldiers Field Road, Boston, MA 02163.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/27/2018

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4385

Indiana University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Chinese Economics and Trade

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Asian American Politics, East Asia, Political Theory

Indiana University's School of Global and International Studies seeks a full-time tenure-track assistant professor in Chinese Economics and Trade to begin fall 2019. The position is in the School's renowned multidisciplinary Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures. We welcome candidates who hold a Ph.D. in economics, international studies, law, political science, or sociology. Candidates must have active research agendas involving Chinese-language sources and field-work experience in China.

The successful candidate will hold the endowed GLP-Ming Z. Mei Chair of Chinese Economics and Trade. The teaching load is two courses per semester, and position responsibilities include teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels. This is an exciting moment to join the new and expanding School of Global and International Studies as it leads Indiana University's international research and teaching missions. The East Asian Languages and Cultures Department is over fifty years old and has a long history of teaching across many disciplines, including such social science fields as political economy and sociology. EALC's teaching and research missions have also benefitted since the founding of the School of Global and International Studies from increasing synergies with our allied Department of International Studies and other area studies units.

Candidates must have a doctoral degree or clear indication that the degree will be in hand by July 31, 2019. All applications received by October 5, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application; CV; three letters of recommendation; official transcripts of graduate studies; a 25-30 page writing sample at: <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com>. Questions regarding the position or application process may be directed to Prof. Gardner Bovingdon, Chair, Search Committee for the GLP-Ming Z. Mei Chair in Chinese Economics and Trade, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Global and International Studies Building 2035, 355 N. Jordan Ave., Bloomington, IN 47405-1105, or via e-mail at: gbovingd@indiana.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/5/2018

Date Posted: 7/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4396

University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Professor/Chair Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Given multiple expected retirements and the demographics of departmental faculty, the Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Reno invites applications for Department Chair. This is an exciting opportunity for a senior scholar to aid in the mentoring of rising junior scholars, to continue hiring of diverse and productive faculty, and promote one the largest majors in the college and University. Appointment to the position will begin July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be named the "Vail Pittman Professor of Political Science" and have access to an endowment that comes with the Pittman Professorship.

The department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. The position is open to all research areas in political science. The department chair is expected to provide academic and administrative leadership to 19 faculty members and staff, teach two courses a year, and oversee departmental operations that include budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. The chair will work closely with the Directors of Undergraduate Studies and Graduate Studies to provide teaching support for the department's 500 undergraduate majors and 60 graduate students. While the position can be from any research area within Political Science, the chair should have familiarity with standards and practices in support of specific degrees offered by the Department which include an undergraduate interdisciplinary International Affairs BA, traditional Political Science BA, MA and PhD degrees, and a thriving Masters of Public Administration (MPA). The chair is also expected to build a strong relationship with college administration to further strengthen the department's research and teaching agenda. Finally, the chair should be prepared to continue advancing our commitment to increasing the diversity of our department community, research expertise, and curriculum.

Required Qualifications

Qualifications for the position include a PhD in political science, public policy, public administration or related field; an established record of research and teaching excellence; and previous administrative experience that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Department Information

The Department of Political Science is housed in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Nevada, Reno, and a Tier One university. The College of Liberal Arts administers more than 20 majors and minors, and is the largest college at the university (<http://www.unr.edu/liberalarts>). The department administers two undergraduate degree programs in political science and international affairs, and two accelerated BA/MA and BA/MPA degrees for 500 undergraduate majors. There are an additional 120 plus minors in Political Science, Renewable Energy, Asian Studies, and Latin American Studies (all administered by the Department).

The department is home to three graduate programs that confer MA, MPA, and PhD degrees. Additional information about the department can be found on its website: <https://www.unr.edu/political-science>. In recent years, the department has experienced substantial growth in the number of faculty, research productivity, and external funding awards. The department expects to play a significant role in the university's long-term expansion plans and its movement toward R1 research status.

For more information and to apply, please visit: https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNR-external/job/University-of-Nevada-Reno---Main-Campus/Professor-Chair-Political-Science\_R0110642

Total Compensation

The total compensation package includes a negotiable competitive salary, moving expenses (if applicable), a rich retirement plan, health insurance options that include dental and vision, life insurance, long-term disability, annual and sick leave, along with many other benefits. Additionally, there is a grant-in-aid educational benefit for faculty and dependents.

Contact Information for this position

Eric Herzik, herzik@unr.edu

For full consideration please apply by October 8, 2018. This search will close without notice when a sufficient number of applications are received or a hiring decision has been made.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4397

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Irvine seeks a one year Visiting Lecturer to teach up to five undergraduate courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. This part-time position will replace faculty on leave during the 2018-19 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in these fields. Candidates should have a Ph.D. and be prepared to teach a mix of lower and upper division courses. This part-time position is based on an annual salary range beginning at $53,402.

Service Period Dates for 2018-2019 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/24/18 – 12/14/18

Winter Quarter: 1/2/19 - 3/22/19

Spring Quarter: 3/27/19 – 6/14/19

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04773>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2018. The application will close officially on September 17th, 2018.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 7/16/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4394

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Rank: Class of 1965 Arctic Scholar

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

The Department of Humanities at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy seeks an emerging scholar to fill the Class of 1965 Arctic Scholar position in the Center for Arctic Study and Policy (CASP). Housed in the Department of Humanities, CASP is a policy-focused academic research institution that supports Coast Guard-wide Arctic and polar strategy and policy, while advancing cadet knowledge of the subject areas. The Class of '65 Arctic Scholar will teach 3-6 credit hours per semester, and serve as a principal investigator on research projects in support of CASP. The position offers a competitive salary and generous travel support. In addition, the successful candidate will:

- Assist with grant writing for funding opportunities as determined with the Director.
- Conduct research on policy and strategy in the polar regions consistent with CASP objectives to advance this area of expertise.
- Publish articles, book chapters and other relevant work in scholarly and trade journals, editing volumes and other venues related to Arctic and maritime policy.
- Facilitate learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and personal contacts.
- Plan and coordinate academic conferences, workshops, and symposia pertinent to advancing CASP's strategic objectives.
- Contribute as a faculty co-advisor to undergraduate advanced research projects.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/16/2018

Date Posted: 7/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4350

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an international or comparative political economy position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in the Fall of 2019. This is a new position to support our growing undergraduate major in International Relations. The regular teaching load for this position must include Politics of the Global Economy and either introduction to international relations or comparative politics. The Department is open with regard to additional regional or thematic areas of expertise. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department's mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens.

Loyola Marymount, a comprehensive Catholic university in the mainstream of American higher education, seeks professionally outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to academic excellence, the education of the whole person, the service of faith and the promotion of justice. LMU is an equal opportunity institution actively working to promote an intercultural learning community. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. (Visit www.lmu.edu for more information.)

The application requires:

- 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU's mission);
- 2) a curriculum vitae;
- 3) a writing sample;
- 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and, if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi;
- 5) three letters of recommendation.

Candidate materials should be emailed together as a complete package to: Alfred Kandlbauer at POLJobs@lmu.edu. Three letters of recommendation should be scanned and signed by the recommenders and emailed by the recommender directly to Alfred Kandlbauer: POLJobs@lmu.edu. Please direct questions to Alfred Kandlbauer at the above address. Only electronic applications will be considered. The deadline for applications is September 14. The committee may conduct some preliminary interviews at APSA. To be considered for a preliminary interview, please submit application materials by August 20th.

Candidates with a Ph.D. are preferred; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2019 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4387

Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Specializations: International Political Economy, Foreign Policy, International Security

APPLY ONLINE AT: <http://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/2423>

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Relations to begin in the Fall of 2019. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations, as well as to extend departmental coverage in Comparative Politics in regions including South Asian, South-East Asian, East Asian, or Central and Eastern European (including Russia) politics. The Political Science Department is home to both a political science major and an interdisciplinary international relations major, and the successful candidate will collaborate with colleagues in the management of the international relations major program.

All International Relations subfield specializations will be considered, including, but not limited to, the following areas:

- international political economy
- comparative foreign policy
- security studies
- intra or inter-state conflict
- peace studies
- conflict resolution.

We are especially interested in the ability to develop and teach courses at the intersections of traditional discipline and subfield specializations. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- A PhD at the onset of the appointment (August 2019) is required.
- A commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarship.
- For full consideration, the following are to be submitted via Wheaton's online application system: letter of application; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching philosophy; statement of research philosophy; evidence of teaching effectiveness (materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi and course evaluations); and at least one scholarly writing sample.

- Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their letter of application how their teaching and scholarship might support the College's commitment to diversity and inclusion. In addition, the letter of application should also include areas of specialty, as well as explain the candidate's interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment.
- Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Prior teaching experience; classroom experience is highly desirable.
- Dedication to scholarly achievement.
- Commitment to the liberal arts environment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4388

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Japan, China, East Asia

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a US Department of Defense regional center that functions as a forum where current and future military and civilian leaders from 45 Asia-Pacific nations gather to engage in capacity building activities and improved multinational and interagency security cooperation in the Indo-Pacific region. This Mission is accomplished through focused executive education, leader development, regional outreach engagement, strategic dialogues, professional exchanges, and policy-relevant research. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Center invites applications for a:

FACULTY MEMBER

The College of Security Studies is searching for a world-class educator to teach, facilitate, and conduct research. Responsibilities include:

Teaching plenary and elective topics to include lecturing on selected regional security topics within executive education courses; Facilitating seminars and conducting workshops locally and throughout the Indo-Pacific region; Performing various administrative and institutional duties to support the executive education functions of the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center.

Particular expertise is sought in the following areas:

Regional expertise in Northeast Asia that includes in-depth knowledge of regional security dynamics. With:
Expertise in China and US security relations and Chinese strategic policy in the Indo-Pacific
OR

Expertise Japan and US security relations and Japanese strategic policy in the Indo-Pacific

OR

Expertise in ROK-DPRK and US security relations and ROK-DPRK strategic policy in the Indo-Pacific.

***In addition, for any of the three focal areas (China, Japan, Korean Peninsula), knowledge of the relationship between regional economic trends and regional security trends will be considered an asset.

Required minimum qualifications include:

Masters Degree in Security Studies, Political Science, International Relations,

Economics, Anthropology, History, or a related discipline with practitioner experience in the region. A Ph.D. is desirable.

Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation.

The following is "preferred" for ALL Faculty positions:

Expertise in security, defense, and/or political-economic issues in one or more countries in the Indo-Pacific region.

Living or working experience in the Indo-Pacific region.

Ability to converse in an Asian language.

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $87,122 - $136,893 (includes HI Locality pay but excludes cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 10.99% but subject to change). These are limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years (with the possibility of renewal). Relocation expenses may be authorized.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. Interested candidates should submit the following items:

a. LETTER OF INTEREST. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year.

b. CURRICULUM VITAE. Should reflect the following: educational background, teaching experience, work experience, publications, and salary history.

c. TWO ORIGINAL LETTERS OF REFERENCE.

2. Submit all required documents to physical address:

Chief, Human Resources Department
Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
2058 Maluhia Road
Honolulu, Hawaii 96815-1949

or email to:

at hrapplications@dkiapcss.net

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. Application deadline: Open until filled. Cut off: 31 August 2018 from publication of solicitation.

2. Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements. Application packages will be retained for one year.

3. Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned.

4. Individuals selected for interviews will be asked to provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting their advanced degree(s) and two samples of their own publications.

5. The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor. U.S. Citizenship is not required however applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.

6. The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplications@dkiapccs.net to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

7. Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 8/31/2018

Date Posted: 7/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4383

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics/South Asia Politics

The Department of Political Science of Boston College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor rank in Comparative Politics/South Asia Politics. The position is open in regard to research focus and methods. Preference will be given to candidates with substantive fieldwork and demonstrated teaching excellence. The appointment begins late-August 2019. Candidates are expected to have PhD in hand by the start date. Interested candidates should upload a letter of interest, stating research and teaching interests; curriculum vitae and a writing sample; and evidence of teaching quality to Interfolio at APPLY.INTERFOLIO.COM/52335. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual writers. Applications must be received by October 1, 2018. No email applications or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4377

Brown University

Rank: Assistant Professor in the field of International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position at the level of assistant professor in the field of International Political Economy to begin July 2019. Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2019. Review of applications will begin

September 21, 2018. Candidates should submit a cover letter identifying their primary interests as well as a current CV, writing sample, graduate transcript, teaching evaluations, and three letters of reference. Brown is an EEO/AA employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply.

apply.interfolio.com/51713

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4368

Brown University

Rank: Professor

As part of a major new hiring initiative, the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science at Brown University invite applications for faculty positions in the field of international security to begin July 2019. We hope to hire multiple faculty through this search. We are seeking applicants whose research focuses on various aspects of international security broadly defined, including but not limited to grand strategy and geopolitical rivalry, civil war and post-war reconstruction, defense policy and military intervention, nuclear proliferation and deterrence, terrorism and counterterrorism, cybersecurity and surveillance, and resource conflicts and the security implications of climate change.

Candidates at all ranks are welcome. The successful senior candidate must have an outstanding record of national and international scholarly achievement, a proven record of successful research funding, and a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. The successful junior candidate must be engaged in a research program with the potential to influence his/her field, and a strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. The new faculty member(s) will hold a joint appointment in the Watson Institute and Department of Political Science. Junior candidates must have completed the PhD by the time of appointment. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

All candidates should submit: 1) a cover letter describing research completed and planned, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a short writing sample, and 4) a teaching statement.

Senior candidates should include the names of five references whom the search committee can contact at an appropriate time. Senior candidates should submit their list of referees using the "additional documents" field.

Junior candidates should have three letters of reference and their official graduate transcript uploaded to Interfolio at the time of the application. The confidential recommendation letters should be uploaded to Interfolio by the referee.

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of, gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

Apply at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/51745>

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4369

Bucknell University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in the comparative politics of Europe beginning in the fall semester of 2019. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in comparative politics, a course in European politics, a course in either quantitative or qualitative research methods, and other courses in the candidate's field of specialization.

The Department of Political Science has a strong record of hiring diverse faculty whose courses expose students to a variety of racial, ethnic, and cultural perspectives, and we are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence, as well as the promise of being a productive scholar, are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in Comparative Politics, but ABD candidates will also be considered with the understanding that the Ph.D. must be completed before the beginning of the second year.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, syllabi, and teaching evaluations (if available), along with any other relevant materials. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Scott Meinke at smeinke@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on September 24, 2018.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a highly selective, predominately undergraduate, private university with approximately 3600 students. Along with its excellent academic departments and programs, it boasts the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender, which supports faculty teaching and scholarship in these areas, and the Griot Institute for Africana Studies, which provides faculty and student intellectual and creative engagement with the interdisciplinary investigation of the cultures, histories, narratives, peoples, geographies and arts of Africa and the African diaspora; and the Bucknell Institute for Public Policy, which supports faculty research and teaching on issues of domestic, international, and comparative public policy. In 2014, Bucknell introduced a 5-Year Diversity Plan aimed at enhancing the diversity of the faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum of the university.

Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4364

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR or ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

The Political Science department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison seeks to hire a faculty member to conduct research and teach courses in the contemporary Middle East and North Africa, with a preference for the Arab Middle East. Preference will be given to applicants with area expertise who conduct research using Middle East languages, particularly Arabic, and to applicants that contribute to fostering the diversity of the campus or discipline. Faculty positions include a commitment to the important functions of research, instruction, and outreach, as well as professional and university service as appropriate to faculty rank.

The faculty member will be part of an interdisciplinary group affiliated with the Arab Politics and Society cluster hiring initiative (<https://facstaff.provost.wisc.edu/cluster-hiring-initiative/>), and is expected to participate in the development of the cluster and its activities including collaborating with the other cluster faculty and with colleagues in the Middle East Study Program. The Arab Politics and Society cluster includes positions in Political Science, Gender & Women's Studies, and History. UW's Cluster Hiring Initiative is designed to foster innovative, outstanding research programs that will stimulate productive interactions among faculty and students interested in research across the campus and to expand interdisciplinary research.

To apply please go to <http://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/cw/en-us/job/498355/professor-in-political-science-cluster-hire><http://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/cw/en-us/job/498355/professor-in-political-science-cluster-hire>&lt;/a>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4362

Texas Woman's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, International Law & Organizations

The Department of History and Government at Texas Woman's University invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2019. The successful applicant will be broadly trained in Political Science with a primary field of International Relations and a secondary field in Comparative Politics. A geographical expertise in Asia or the Middle East in the secondary field is highly desirable. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field at the time of appointment and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching and an active record of research. The successful candidate will teach the introductory International Relations course and alternate teaching the introductory Comparative Politics course, as well as teaching advanced undergraduate courses and Master's level courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Candidates will also advise students and serve the department, university, and profession.

Required qualifications:

- Earned doctorate in Political Science or related field at the time of appointment
- Demonstrated potential for teaching excellence
- Demonstrated potential for research and publication

Preferred qualifications:

- Prior teaching experience

The History and Government Department offers a Bachelor and Masters as well as the Bachelors in Criminal Justice (co-administered with the Department of Sociology and Social Work). The department has 5 full-time Political Science faculty members (plus 5 full-time History faculty) offering degrees to approximately 100 undergraduate Political Science majors and 20 Master's students.

Send a cover letter, graduate transcripts, CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a sample of scholarly work, and three letters of reference to facultyjobs@twu.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 8, 2018.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/5/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4349

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies

The departments of International Studies and Political Science at Dickinson College are seeking qualified applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position beginning in academic year 2019-20. A completed or nearly-completed Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or related discipline is required.

Applicants should have a research and teaching focus on Africa, South Asia, or Southeast Asia. The specific sub-field of research can be comparative politics, international relations, security studies (including human security), or other related fields. In addition to teaching upper-level courses in that research area, the successful candidate must demonstrate ability and interest in teaching introductory International Relations and upper-level American Foreign Policy on a regular basis. Candidates should identify in their application letter courses they are prepared to teach and should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an interdisciplinary liberal arts environment. The yearly teaching load is five courses. The successful candidate is expected to participate fully in the intellectual life of the departments, including serving as one of the oral examiners for the International Studies exams at the end of the academic year. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate.

Dickinson College is a private, four-year liberal arts college with 2,400 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC, and Philadelphia.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically, online application system at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>.

Please submit the following materials:

- * a letter of application;
- * curriculum vitae;
- * graduate transcript;
- * names and email addresses for three letters of recommendation;
- * writing sample;
- * teaching statement;
- * sample syllabi – preferably for one or more of the above listed courses.
- * teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness

Review of applications will begin October 1 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4347

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Comparative Politics of Identity and Representation

The College of Social Science at Michigan State University seeks candidates for a 9-month academic year, tenure system position in Comparative Politics. We are looking to hire an Assistant Professor, preferably at a more advanced level. As part of a new initiative on Minority Politics, we seek applicants whose research and teaching (graduate and undergraduate) falls in the politics of identity and representation (related to ethnicity, race, religion, caste, tribe, region, gender, sexual orientation, and/or class) in a comparative context. The position is open with regard to regional specialization, social scientific disciplinary training, and tenure home within the College of Social Science. A successful candidate will have evidence of securing external funding, a record of publishing high quality research, a strong future research agenda, and a documented commitment to teaching. The position begins August 16, 2019.

The closing date for applications is September 30, 2018, though later applications may be accepted if the search remains open.

Interested candidates must apply for this position via the Michigan State University Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu>, Job Posting number 515382. Please submit your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, research statement, one sample of your written work, a teaching statement, and a diversity and inclusion statement. Applicants should arrange for at least three reference letters to be submitted.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, committed to achieving excellence through a diverse workforce and inclusive culture that encourages all people to reach their full potential. The University actively encourages applicants and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities. Please contact Ani Sarkissian (asarkiss@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/2/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4341

Tulane University

Rank: The Scott and Marjorie Cowen Chair in Latin American Social Sciences based in the Political Science Department, Tulane University

The Political Science Department at Tulane University invites applications for the Scott and Marjorie Cowen Chair in Latin American Social Sciences. We seek an accomplished full professor with an international reputation who has helped to shape the contemporary understanding of Latin American politics through research that has been published in university press books and peer-reviewed journals. The candidate's work should be empirically grounded, sensitive to context, and primarily focused on Latin America. It should contribute to new forms of description, concept formation, causal inference, and theoretical innovations on socially relevant phenomena in the region. Methods of research and analysis should be a function of the problem to be studied rather than the reverse. Preferred areas of specialization include state-society relations, political regimes, state building, state erosion, and citizen rights; institutional analysis, change, and development, including questions of political representation and the politics of social and economic development and economic inequality; and policy making, including both general policy-making processes and particular policy areas crucial to economic development and sustainability, such as environmental, economic, and social policy.

Applications received by November 1, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration; however, the position will remain open until filled. The appointment will begin July 2019.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, describing research and teaching strengths, current Curriculum Vitae and three letters of recommendation online at apply.interfolio.com/52071. Queries may be addressed to Professor Eduardo Silva, Friezo Family Foundation Chair in Political Science (gesilva@tulane.edu) or to Professor Nancy Maveety (nance@tulane.edu), Political Science Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 11/1/2018
Date Posted: 7/2/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4342

Trinity College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies

The Department of Political Science and the International Studies Program at Trinity College invite applications for a joint, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Comparative Politics of the Global South commencing with the 2019-2020 academic year. We especially welcome applications from candidates whose research intersects the subjects of comparative urban politics, ethnic politics, and/or contentious politics. The successful applicant will be expected to design courses that contribute to both Political Science and International Studies. The candidate should demonstrate the potential for becoming an outstanding scholar and teacher. The Ph.D. should be in hand or expected by the end of August, 2019.

To ensure full consideration please submit a letter of application (including statement of research and teaching interests), CV, graduate transcript, sample of scholarly writing, course syllabi and evaluations (if available) and at least three letters of reference on <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com> <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com> &lt;a> by October 1, 2018.

Trinity College is coeducational independent, nonsectarian liberal arts college with approximately 2,200 undergraduate students and 200 faculty members, located in Hartford, Connecticut. Candidates should have a strong commitment to undergraduate and interdisciplinary teaching in a liberal arts context, and a well-articulated plan for sustained research. The College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to attracting and supporting a faculty of women and men who fully represent the racial, ethnic, and cultural diversity of the United States. We seek applications from minorities, women, and other under-represented groups.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4327

Lake Forest College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in comparative politics, to begin August 2019. The Department is open to regions of expertise but will seek applicants who can address global, transnational issues such as environmentalism, human rights, migration, political and economic development, or others.

The College has a significant program in International Relations which is interdisciplinary but relies heavily on the Department of Politics for courses and advisors; the successful candidate will contribute to IR. The College also has programs in Asian Studies, Gender and Women's Studies, Islamic World Studies, Latin American Studies, Legal Studies, and Social Justice; contribution to any of those is a plus. We seek an instructor to teach multiple sections of Introduction to Global Politics in addition to offering other courses in comparative and global politics. Candidates must be able to teach a research methods course, required of students majoring in politics or international relations, that includes quantitative methods.

Candidates will be expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and evidence of scholarly productivity, commensurate with experience. A Ph.D. in political science must be completed by the time of appointment. Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through provision of student research assistants and summer research funds; successful passage of the third-year review earns a half-year sabbatical at full pay, in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year.

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago's North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,600 students from more than 40 states and from more than 70 countries. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member's teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. The College also expects peer-reviewed publications and active participation in the College community. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

All application materials must be submitted electronically. Applicants should send a letter of application, CV, sample syllabi for no more than two courses, an unofficial transcript (we will ask for official transcripts only of candidates invited for on campus interviews), evidence of teaching effectiveness (in the form of student evaluations), and a brief writing sample (no more than ten pages; it may be an excerpt from a longer work) to Polsearch2018@lakeforest.edu. Please arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent to Polsearch2018@lakeforest.edu. Review of completed applications will begin as early as October 1, 2018. Questions about the position should be addressed to the department chair, Professor Siobhan Moroney, moroney@lakeforest.edu.

The Department will conduct a few interviews at the APSA meeting in Boston. If you are interested in scheduling one, send only a cover letter and CV to Siobhan Moroney, moroney@lakeforest.edu. We will give full consideration to applicants not attending the APSA conference.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 6/25/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4325

Allegheny College

Rank: Assistant Professor Tenure Track of Political Science
Specializations: Western Europe, Political Theory, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Allegheny College invites applicants for a tenure track position beginning August 2019. The Department seeks a dynamic teacher and scholar focused on Comparative Politics/Europe who is interested in contributing to the College's International Studies Program (see: <https://sites.allegheny.edu/intstudies/>) Ability to teach additional courses in Political Theory or Political Economy is especially welcome.

Ph.D. at the time of appointment is preferred. Teaching load is six courses per year and all faculty are expected to participate in delivering college-wide first-year/sophomore seminars as part of their teaching load. A successful candidate will provide evidence of excellence in teaching, ongoing scholarship and professional development. Allegheny College is a highly selective private liberal arts college in NW Pennsylvania with an increasingly diverse student body and a dedicated faculty of teacher-scholars.

Dossiers (electronic preferred) should include a letter of application, c.v., three current letters of recommendation, teaching evaluations or other indicators of effective teaching, and a writing sample. Materials may be sent to Professor Shanna Kirschner, Chair, Department of Political Science, Sarah Holt, Allegheny College, Box 55, 520 North Main Street, Meadville, PA 16335 (poliscisearch@allegheny.edu). The Department will begin reviewing files October 15, 2018. We encourage interested candidates attending APSA in September to email Sarah Holt (sholt@allegheny.edu) to schedule a personal interview.

Allegheny College is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, inclusion, and equity. Members of underrepresented groups are highly encouraged to apply. Allegheny does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, or national origin.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/18/2018
Date Posted: 6/18/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4313

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/home>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2019. We seek candidates whose research focuses on institutions and political economy. The search is open with respect to the substantive subfield, and priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department's strength in formal theory and rigorous empirical analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and to contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate game theory sequences.

Florida State University is committed to broadening the gender, racial and ethnic diversity of its faculty, and the Department of Political Science shares that goal. The university statement of commitment to increasing the diversity of the faculty and students can be found at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity\_home.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 7,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdf's are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Florida State University is an EO employer. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply (http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=eoc/eo/eco\_home).

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/17/2018
Date Posted: 6/14/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4304

Augustana University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government and International Affairs

Augustana University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in the Department of Government and International Affairs beginning in Fall 2019.

Responsibilities: This is an international relations and comparative politics position. The successful applicant must demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. Courses to be taught depend primarily on departmental needs in both areas of international and comparative, with some flexibility for the candidate's training and interests.

The typical load for members of the department is three courses per semester plus a course in two out of every three January terms.

Qualifications: Completed Ph.D. required. Evidence of teaching excellence and scholarly productivity is expected, as is an ability to contribute courses to Augustana's Civitas honors program and/or First Year Seminar program.

Application Procedure: Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a completed Augustana University employment application (http://augie.edu/sites/default/files/u75/Employment%20Application%20fillable\_4.pdf), copies of graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations), statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, statement of commitment to diversity, a writing sample, and three recommendation letters electronically to humanresources@augie.edu. Review of applications begins on September 14, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Preliminary interviews will take place at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Boston (August 30-September 2, 2018).

Contact Search Committee Chair with questions: Dr. Joel Johnson, Professor of Government and International Affairs, joel.johnson@augie.edu, 605.274.5319.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/14/2018
Date Posted: 6/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4303

Texas State University, San Marcos

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: East Asia, Western Europe, Africa

Job Posting Number: 20190004FAC

Position Description: The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the assistant professor level to teach required and elective graduate and undergraduate courses. The department awards the Bachelor's Degree and the Master of Arts Degree.

Required Qualifications: 1) Earned Ph.D. in political science, or ABD in political science (degree must be earned by the beginning of the Fall 2019 semester); 2) Research agenda focusing on a regional specialization or a cross-regional approach; and 3) Ability to teach introductory international relations classes as well as advanced classes in the area of comparative politics.

Preferred Qualifications: 1) Ability to teach courses on a variety of aspects of comparative politics; 2) Ability to teach in area that addresses departmental needs which include (but are not limited to) Asian, European and African politics; 3) Demonstrated potential for exceptional scholarly research and publication in area of specialization; 4) Demonstrated potential for exceptional teaching in relevant areas; and 5) Effective interpersonal skills.

Application Procedures: Only applications submitted through the Texas State University website will be accepted and considered, <https://jobs.hr.txstate.edu/postings/22484>. To assure full consideration, please submit the following before September 15, 2018: A letter of intent addressing required and preferred qualifications, current curriculum vita, college transcript(s), samples of scholarly work (presentations and/or publications), syllabi (if available), and three letters of recommendation.

Note that as part of our application process, we are requesting 3 letters of reference. Please provide the names and email addresses for your references in the Reference Letter section of the employment application. Upon submission of your application, an automated email will be generated and sent to your references with instructions on how to attach the reference letter to your application through a confidential online portal.

Candidates selected for interviews will be required to provide official transcripts from all degree granting universities.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 6/7/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4296

South Dakota State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of History, Political Science, Philosophy and Religion at South Dakota State University in Brookings is seeking a dynamic teacher and scholar for a full-time, 9-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The primary fields are Comparative Politics and International Relations; secondary area(s) of expertise are open with the exception of Political Theory/Philosophy and Latin America. The appointment will begin no later than August 22, 2019. The curriculum in this area is not set so there is opportunity to develop new courses in the applicant's area of expertise. The successful candidate should understand the land-grant mission of SDSU.

SDSU is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to and/or coordinate course offerings that address the experiences of underrepresented minorities in organizations. Women, minorities, veterans, and people with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply.

This position is open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by August 15, 2018. We will be conducting preliminary interviews at the APSA in Boston.

Responsibilities include:

- A teaching load of 9 credits per semester;
- Research in your area of expertise;
- Service to the Department and University, including advising.

Minimum qualifications include:

- A PhD in Political Science in hand or near completion at the time of application (ABD can be considered);

- Expertise on strategic global issues or regions of the world;
- The ability to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations;
- Experience or willingness to teach online;
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness and dynamism;
- Effective written and verbal communication skills;
- Effective interpersonal skills;
- Strong research agenda and scholarly potential.

Preferred qualifications include:

- Willingness to collaborate with students;
- Ability to teach American Foreign Policy, Political Economy and/or the Political Science capstone.

SALARY:

Commensurate with qualifications.

UNIVERSITY/COMMUNITY:

SDSU is a land grant institution and the state's largest institution of higher education with an enrollment of approximately 13,000. The Department is located in the College of Arts and Sciences and provides majors in History and Political Science along with minors in Philosophy, Religion and Legal Studies. Various members of the department contribute courses to the Global Studies Program, the American Indian Program, and the Teacher Education Program.

Brookings, South Dakota is a community of 22,000 on the eastern border of the state. It is located 50 miles north of the city of Sioux Falls, a city of approximately 150,000. The drive to Sioux Falls takes approximately 40 minutes, as the north-south interstate runs alongside the town. Brookings has an eclectic mix of fine restaurants and shops and an excellent K-12 educational system. The city is also accessible to major medical facilities, has an active social and cultural environment, and has numerous lakes and parks within easy distance. The state arboretum is part of the SDSU campus. Brookings is also located about 200 miles west of the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, a metropolitan area with major design and art centers.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

The position will be open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by August 15, 2018.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

SDSU accepts applications through an online employment site. To apply, visit: <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu>, search for the position by title, view the job announcement, and click on "apply for this job." The system will guide you through the electronic application form. The employment site will also require the attachment of a cover letter, which should specifically address how the candidate meets the qualifications as outlined in the advertisement indicating the courses you are qualified to teach based on the list above; Curriculum Vitae; evidence of teaching effectiveness, particularly recent IDEA scores (attached as 'other document'); and reference page with the contact information for three professional references. Email applications will not be accepted. Please contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128 if you require assistance with the electronic application process.

Any offer of employment is contingent upon the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to, a criminal background check.

South Dakota State University is a tobacco free environment.

For questions on the position, contact Dr. Evren Çelik Wiltse, Search Chair at evren.wiltse@sdstate.edu or (605) 688-4311.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4260

Illinois State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and Government seeks applications for a nine month, tenure-track faculty position in Comparative Politics with a research focus on development, especially community development. Applicants must have a regional focus in Africa or Latin America. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Comparative Politics, Community Development, Project Management, and either African Politics or Latin American Politics. The teaching assignment for the position is anticipated to be three courses per semester, with a one-course reduction in this assignment in one semester of the first year. Candidates must have their Ph.D. in political science, or a closely related field completed by May 15, 2020. State law mandates demonstrable oral proficiency in the English language as a requirement for this position. The appointment will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor and will start on August 16, 2019.

Initial review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. To assure full consideration, please submit an application to posting number 0710660 at www.jobsilstu.edu. Candidates should submit: 1) a letter of application that includes a statement of teaching interests and experiences and a statement of research interests and future plans; 2) a current CV; 3) a sample of research; 4) graduate school transcripts; and 5) student evaluations of teaching (if available).

In addition, three letters of reference must be submitted on your behalf electronically to polsearch2018@ilstu.edu. Letters should be addressed to T.Y. Wang, Chair, Department of Politics & Government, Illinois State University, Campus Box 4600, Normal, IL 61790-4600.

Illinois State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

If you are having difficulty accessing the system, please call Human Resources at 309-438-8311.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4251

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The School of Political Science of the Higher School of Economics in Moscow*, Russia invites applications for multiple full-time, tenure track position in political science. The search is open with respect to subfield and topic of specialization, but we are particularly interested in candidates specializing in one or more of the following areas: political theory, comparative politics, international politics, global political economy, qualitative methodology, or data analysis and quantitative methods. Knowledge of Russian is not required as teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Requirements

Doctorate or terminal degree in political science or related fields by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2019 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Tenure review will be in the sixth year (or earlier at the discretion of the applicant).

Knowledge of Russian is not required; teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Benefits

The salary is internationally competitive, indexed to inflation annually, and subject to a 13% flat income tax. The university offers health insurance (free of charge), language assistance, and other social benefits; travel support and other research assistance are generous. Since we place a heavy emphasis on high quality research, the teaching load of newly hired faculty is relatively low and service is minimal.

Job Location

Moscow, Russia

Application

Position announcements are posted on the HSE International Faculty Recruitment portal.

Interested candidates should post a letter detailing the direction of research and teaching objectives, a CV, a recent research paper, and 2 letters of recommendation via online application form at <https://iri.hse.ru/>

Application deadline is September 1, 2018.

Late applications can be also considered if the position is not filled.

Learn More

More information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en>
 More information about the School of Political Science: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps>
 More information about recruitment procedures: <https://iri.hse.ru/>
 International Faculty Support portal with detailed information on various issues concerning move to Russia and work at HSE: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru>

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities in the fields of economics, social sciences and humanities, and has emerged as a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was ranked 48th in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and is among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

One of its unique features has been its direct involvement in socioeconomic reforms in Russia, which has allowed HSE to develop as a "project and research university" where education, fundamental and applied research, and "think tank" activities are combined for the comprehensive development of society. Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has more than 30 international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world.

Since 2006 the HSE has been recruiting professional academics from international research universities in order to raise the standards of research at the University. HSE now employs more than 100 international tenure-track and postdoctoral fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and centers in Moscow and at HSE's campuses in St. Petersburg and Perm.

School of Political Science

The School of Political Science offers an array of educational options for students from Russia and abroad. We teach a full range of subjects based on the latest developments in academic research in political science. From comparative politics to political theory and quantitative and qualitative approaches, the professors of the School pursue research across the entire spectrum of modern political science.

Not only is there methodological diversity; there is considerable breadth in terms of substantive and geographic specializations. Among the School's academic "trademarks" are comparative politics and Russian politics, including politics in the Russian regions.

The quality of research at Higher School of Economics has already been widely recognized, and HSE counts among the top-100 universities in the world according to the QS ranking in this subject field.

Contact Information

Address: 20 Myasnitskaya ulitsa, Moscow, 101000

Phones:

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22535

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22428

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22834

E-mail: socscience@hse.ru

Website: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2018

Date Posted: 5/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4225

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics that focuses on Latin America beginning on August 1, 2018. This is a twelve-month tenure-track position at our Ft. Benning/Columbus, Georgia/ Phoenix City, Alabama location.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018 with a research specialization in Latin America. The preferred qualifications are a focus in Latin American Security and/or intelligence and the teaching will primarily be in our master's degree (MSIR) in international relations. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Candidates should have experience working with the military and be prepared to act as the local university representative to Fort Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Faculty duties include advising students, submitting academic discipline-related articles for publication, attending departmental meetings, and serving on departmental committees.

Administrative duties include acting as the local university representative to Ft. Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community, acting as the main liaison with the Political Science Department at Troy, serving as a common point of contact, helping with scheduling, and reviewing projected schedules.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and provide three reference providers. Please combine the writing sample and research statement into one document and upload it under the "Other Document" section. Please direct all questions to Dr G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3589

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations (MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Stanford Center on Global Poverty and Development Postdoctoral Fellows program offers one-year (and will consider two-year) fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development and poverty alleviation. The multi-disciplinary program offers a competitive stipend, as well as support for travel and research expenses. Postdoctoral Fellows have no teaching responsibilities and minimal administrative duties.

Application Details

The Stanford Center on Global Poverty and Development invites applications for multi-disciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2019 for one year (and will consider two years). The Center's postdoctoral fellows program is intended for promising new and recent PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to critical issues for international development and poverty alleviation.

The Center's postdoctoral fellows will be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University. The Center provides a competitive salary plus support for travel and research expenses.

For information, please visit <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/research/postdoctoral-fellows-program>

For full consideration, please submit all materials by December 1, 2018 via the online application form here: <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/postdoctoral-fellow-application-form>

Application Instructions:

Please apply online with the following materials: (1) Cover Letter, (2) Curriculum Vitae, (3) Job Market Paper or Writing Sample, and (4) Three Letters of Recommendation. Please submit items 1-3 in one PDF document through the online application form here: <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/postdoctoral-fellow-application-form>
 Recommenders can submit letters directly to globalpoverty@stanford.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 12/1/2018
Date Posted: 9/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4639

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, and Endowed Chair Innovation, Science, Technology, and Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego invites applications for a tenured Endowed Chair of Innovation, Science, Technology, and Policy at the rank of Associate or Full Professor, to begin July 1st, 2019.

The faculty at the School of Global Policy and Strategy (gps.ucsd.edu) represents a broad range of academic backgrounds, including both social and physical sciences. We are united by a desire to understand, design, and rigorously test solutions to promote human advancement and mitigate against pressing challenges to human welfare and global issues.

We anticipate that the Endowed Chair of Innovation, Science, Technology, and Policy will expand our leadership at the interface of STEM fields and policy. We are looking for candidates with an outstanding record of research and leadership both within their field of training, and in the intersection of that field with questions of policy, welfare, or justice. Domains of interest include, but are not limited to: climate and the environment, critical infrastructure, cybersecurity, data and privacy, development engineering, digital technology and automation, energy, health, and technological innovation.

Applicants should be PhD graduates (or equivalent terminal degree in a research discipline) with proven leadership and scholarship records. The School of Global Policy and Strategy is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service, and contribute to -- and participate in -- our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in higher education. We welcome applications from both STEM and social science scholars who can develop rich links to other UC San Diego units, including the Jacobs School of Engineering, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, Health Sciences, and the Halicioglu Data Science Institute.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

Application review will begin on November 25, 2018.

To apply:

Candidates should submit the following materials to UC San Diego Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01863>:

Curriculum Vitae
 Two writing samples
 A personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching
 Three (3) contacts for reference
 A summary of past and potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>).

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4743

John Cabot University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Affairs

Visiting Assistant Professor of International Affairs
 John Cabot University, a four year, fully-accredited American liberal arts college in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a visiting faculty position in political science and international affairs at the assistant professor rank. We seek candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, and commitment to academic service. The candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses in international relations. The ideal candidate should be a graduate of an American university or have experience in the American liberal arts educational tradition. The appointment is for one year, beginning January 1st, 2019, and with possibility of renewal. Candidates are expected to be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction, and have permission to work in the EU. Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, letters of recommendation, one or two research papers or journal publications, and evidence of teaching excellence to: plsearch-visiting@johncabot.edu. Review of applications will begin September 15th, 2018 and remain open until filled. Only short-listed applicants will be notified.

Start Date: Spring 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2018
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 4746

University of Georgia

Rank: IA Faculty and Director of the Center for International Trade & Security

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Administration

Specializations: International Security, Trade, Regulatory Policy

The University of Georgia's School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) seeks applications for the Director of the Center for International Trade and Security (CITS) and faculty member in the Department of International Affairs (DIA). The successful candidate must have a strong record of grant and contract acquisition and have a scholarly record appropriate for an academic appointment at a research university. The ideal candidate will also have policy relevant experience or expertise, fundraising experience, and previous management responsibilities. The Director of the Center reports to the Dean of SPIA. The position is open rank, tenured or tenure-track.

CITS was established in 1987 with the support of former U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. It has a distinguished record of policy-relevant research, training, and public service, focusing primarily on security issues related to the trade, transfer, and use of materials and technology associated with weapons of mass destruction (WMD), nuclear security culture, and nonproliferation policy. CITS is fortifying its connections to DIA and to other UGA academic units by broadening its scope to include human security, counterterrorism, counterinsurgency, cybersecurity, and energy security. While strategic trade management and nonproliferation remain central to CITS' mission, outstanding candidates with research and policy experience outside this area are also encouraged to apply.

The Center's programs are sustained by corporate and government contracts, private foundation grants, and individual and corporate gifts. For more than three decades, these sources of support have enabled the Center to design and implement training and outreach programs to U.S. and foreign policymakers and industry representatives. The Center also engages these communities, educators, students, and the general public via international colloquia on emerging security issues. CITS's Security and Strategic Trade Management Academy alone has trained more than 1,000 government officials, academics and industry representatives from 70 countries on the establishment, implementation, and enforcement of export controls.

CITS contributes to SPIA's Master of International Policy (MIP) Program that prepares graduate students for careers in international security and nonproliferation. CITS experts serve as instructors in the MIP Program, whose graduates have been placed in prestigious educational and government institutions. In addition, CITS experts administer the year-long Richard B. Russell Security Leadership Program which prepares undergraduates for careers in nonproliferation and national security. SLP Fellows have earned distinguished national and international scholarships and have been hired by US government agencies, international organizations, corporations, and consulting firms. For more information, visit: <http://spia.uga.edu/departments-centers/center-for-international-trade-and-security-cits/>.

DIA is a vibrant and extremely research-active department of twenty-two faculty members that specialize in a wide array of topics, including international conflict, human rights, human security, political institutions, extremism, political economy, and environmental governance. The faculty are leading scholars in their fields, have earned distinguished national and international honors, oversee externally-funded research projects, and serve in editorial positions at top peer-reviewed journals. Members of the faculty have also won prestigious teaching awards at the school and university levels. The department has an undergraduate degree program and contributes to multiple graduate degree programs, including the Ph.D. program in Political Science and International Affairs. Both DIA and CITS are housed within SPIA, one of the fastest growing public affairs schools in the world. SPIA ranks sixth among graduate schools of public affairs, according to the most recent U.S. News and World Report rankings.

The University of Georgia, located in Athens, Georgia, approximately 75 miles northeast of Atlanta, is a Research I institution in the University System of Georgia. Founded in 1785, the University is the largest and most comprehensive educational institution in the state. UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution. Georgia is well known for its quality of life, with both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov).

Prospective candidates must apply for the position through the UGA Jobs site at: <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/30612>. To complete the application, candidates will need to submit a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vitae, and the contact information for three individuals who can provide reference letters. A Ph.D. is required. The position is open until filled. Applications received by November 1, 2018 will be assured full consideration. For questions concerning the position, please contact Amanda Murdie, Head, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 327, Athens, GA 30602 (telephone: 706-542-9659, email: murdie@uga.edu)

SPIA is committed to enhancing the diversity of the School and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (hrweb@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4747

Temple University

Rank: Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies

Specializations: Russia, History & Politics, Post Soviet Region

The Departments of Political Science and History at Temple University invite applications for the position of Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies. We seek an established interdisciplinary scholar whose research and teaching address both Russian and/or Soviet history as well as the legacies of these earlier eras in the post-Soviet era, including topics such as the persistence of authoritarian rule as well as the important roles of the Soviet Union and Russia in world politics. This joint appointment in the Departments of History and Political Science is part of a broader initiative in the College of Liberal Arts to recruit senior faculty studying important questions across disciplinary boundaries. We seek someone who can be tenured at the level of either Associate or Full Professor in either (or both) Political Science and History.

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (highest research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home of 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays, and its missions mirrors, both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded.

Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to <http://apply.interfolio.com/53872>. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on October 15th. Professors Mark Pollack of Political Science and Alan McPherson of History will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4736

University of New England

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations and Global Studies

The Department of Political Science at the University of New England is searching for tenure-track Assistant Professor in International Relations and Global Studies beginning in the 2019-2020 academic year.

The ideal candidate will offer a range of introductory and advanced level courses in international relations, depending on the candidate's interest and expertise. The candidate will also teach Introduction to Global Studies and help guide students interested in the Global Studies major. The ability to teach in another sub-field, especially American or Comparative Politics, would be of additional value to the department. Political science courses at UNE are generally taught in a seminar style, with an emphasis on high-engagement with students.

We seek a well-rounded teacher-scholar with a promising research agenda. The department values research that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to address original and important questions. Service to the University and a strong commitment to academic advising and student mentorship is expected.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Sciences or related field at the time of appointment.

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please visit <https://une.peopleadmin.com/postings/4912>

UNE has a beautiful campus ocean-side in Biddeford, Maine. It is 20 minutes away from Portland, one of the country's most livable cities. The political science department is small, but vibrant. We value great teachers and scholars.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/25/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4737

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Africa, Middle East

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University (Vancouver, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019. We invite applicants from any social science discipline with research on post-conflict dynamics and processes of reconstruction (e.g., transitional justice, peace-keeping/peace-building, social integration and reconciliation, state building, economic development in post-conflict contexts).

We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Africa, the Middle East, and South or Southeast Asia.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree by the time of appointment, demonstrated excellence in research, and strong teaching potential. Professional experience in applied research, practice, or policy will be considered an asset.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public research university (ranked #1 by Maclean's Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada for 2016, 2017, and 2018). We earn top marks for our world-class social science research, award-winning students and faculty, and new library acquisitions. The normal teaching load for this full-time position is four courses per year, taught in two of three terms, with the third for research.

Applications will be treated in confidence and should include: a letter of application, statements of research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, until the position is filled. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Materials should be sent in a single pdf file via email only to intst@sfu.ca (letters of reference should be sent directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: "2018 Assistant Professor Application, (Applicant Name)." Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Tamir Moustafa, at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the university for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4726

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Africa, Middle East

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University (Vancouver, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019. We invite applicants from any social science discipline with research on post-conflict dynamics and processes of reconstruction (e.g., transitional justice, peace-keeping/peace-building, social integration and reconciliation, state building, economic development in post-conflict contexts). We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Africa, the Middle East, and South or Southeast Asia.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree by the time of appointment, demonstrated excellence in research, and strong teaching potential.

Professional experience in applied research, practice, or policy will be considered an asset.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public research university (ranked #1 by Maclean's Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada for 2016, 2017, and 2018). We earn top marks for our world-class social science research, award-winning students and faculty, and new library acquisitions. The normal teaching load for this full-time position is four courses per year, taught in two of three terms, with the third for research.

Applications will be treated in confidence and should include: a letter of application, statements of research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, until the position is filled. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Materials should be sent in a single pdf file via email only to intst@sfu.ca (letters of reference should be sent directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: "2018 Assistant Professor Application, (Applicant Name)." Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Tamir Moustafa, at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the university for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4727

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science - College of Letters and Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, China, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science - College of Letters and Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (<http://polisci.berkeley.edu>) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position with an expected start date of July 1, 2019. We are open to outstanding candidates in any field, but we are particularly interested in candidates whose work is in the areas of: race & ethnic politics, data science, law and politics, international political economy, or Chinese politics, political science.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty>.

[Basic qualifications]: PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree-granting program at the time of application.

To apply, please go to the following link: <http://apptrkr.com/1282260>

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, one to three samples of significant written scholarship, and a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service (further information is available at: <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity/support-faculty-candidates>).

Applicants should also arrange to have three to five letters of reference submitted via this web portal. It is preferred that letters of reference be uploaded by referees no later than the final date to apply (September 24, 2018). All letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality found at: <http://apo.berkeley.edu/evaltr.html> prior to submitting their letters.

Applications must be received by Monday, September 24, 2018 to be eligible for consideration.

Please direct questions to Serena Groen, Director of Administration, at serena\_groen@berkeley.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/24/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4734

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is recruiting five tenure-track faculty at the assistant or associate professor rank. We seek scholars who will make transformative contributions to Carolina's new Environment, Ecology and Energy Program (E3P). Candidates from the social and natural sciences are encouraged to apply. Faculty will hold an appointment in an appropriate home academic department. Candidates must have a demonstrated capacity and interest to stimulate interdisciplinary collaborations.

These cluster positions include:

Cities and Critical Infrastructure: sustainable cities and infrastructure needs for cities of the future.

Energy and Energy Analytics: emergent renewable energy resources or technologies, including modeling and data analytics.

Environment, Development and Economics: public policy and/or applied economics of environment and development or environment and inequality, especially related to energy, environment or water.

Inequality and the Environment: social and environmental issues related to inequality, vulnerability, and the growing need to address gaps in knowledge and uneven access to resources or services.

Water Resources and Hydrology: the impacts of climate, pollution, and land use to the hydrologic cycle.

For more information and application instructions, see <http://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/143098>. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4729

Trinity University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a visiting assistant professor position beginning January 2019. Candidates should be ABD or have PhD completed.

The successful candidate is expected to teach three courses per semester: the lower division introductory course in international politics, and upper division courses in any subfield other than human rights and international law, with a preference for those who can focus on international politics in Asia.

Trinity University is an equal opportunity employer and as such provides equal opportunity for employment and advancement of all employees without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, military/veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any status protected by federal, state, or local laws.

Applicants must submit a letter of application, CV, three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and transcripts to David Crockett, Department of Political Science, Trinity University, One Trinity Place, San Antonio, TX 78212. Phone: (210) 999-8344. Email: dcrocket@trinity.edu.

The position will remain open until filled. Deadline for receipt of applications is October 11, 2018.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4721

Australian National University

Rank: Academic Level B-D (Lecturer/Senior Lecturer/Associate Professor)

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, Quantitative Methods

We welcome applications from candidates with expertise in the following areas: International Relations, International Political Economy and Political Economy.

Successful candidates will have outstanding records of demonstrated excellence in research, publications, and education. As well as teaching, the appointee will be expected to have an active research agenda, supervise Honours and PhD students and work collegially with other members of the School.

The standard teaching load is three courses per year, plus work with honours and graduate students.

The School of Politics and International Relations is based in the nation's capital, Canberra, and ranked as the leading international relations department in Australia as well as one of the top 10 in the world for political science and international relations.

These positions are based in Canberra.

ANU provides attractive benefits and excellent support to maintain a healthy work/life balance and offers generous remuneration benefits, including four weeks paid vacation per year, assistance with relocation expenses, 17% employer contribution to superannuation and eligibility to apply for 6-month research leave every three years. For more information on working at ANU please visit <http://hr.anu.edu.au/employment-at-anu>

For more information about these positions including how to apply please go to:

<http://www.anu.edu.au/jobs>

Lecturer B – D International Relations:

<http://jobs.anu.edu.au/cw/en/job/526171/lecturer-international-relations>

Lecturer B – D International Political Economy: <http://jobs.anu.edu.au/cw/en/job/526164/lecturer-international-political-economy>

Lecturer B – D Political Economy:

<http://jobs.anu.edu.au/cw/en/job/526172/lecture-political-economy>

Enquiries: Dr Andrew Banfield, E: Andrew.banfield@anu.edu.au

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4716

Duke University

Rank: Associate Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

DevLab@Duke connects social scientists at Duke University who work in international development with the community of development practitioners. The Lab works directly with donors such as USAID and the World Bank on research opportunities, the promotion of evaluable programming, and on impact evaluations themselves. The Lab also works with implementers, such as RTI, DAI and others at the project proposal stage as well as the implementation and monitoring/evaluation stages. We are cross-sectoral, interdisciplinary, and interested in pushing the boundary between the academic and policy worlds with a permanent eye toward improving the lives of the poor.

DevLab@Duke seeks an Associate Director to work with our team of scholars and graduate students focused on applied international development. Primary responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Maintaining and expanding our relationships with the international development industry, including donors and implementers.
- Grant conceptualization, proposal preparation, grants management and report writing. Above and beyond proposal preparation, the Associate Director will play a key intellectual role in helping to design research for funding proposals.
- Oversight of data efforts bearing on impact evaluations and other research, including an innovative project that combines machine learning and forecasting with coordinated, cross-country field experiments aimed at defending civil society in repressive environments.
- Coordination and facilitation of regular DevLab meetings.
- Research support to academic publications; we also welcome candidates with independent research agendas as there will be many opportunities to help design large field experiments, develop original surveys, etc.
- Engage closely with multiple interdisciplinary research teams working across a broad swath of development sectors.

The ideal candidate is a self-starter, has a PhD in a social science discipline (MAs with considerable experience are welcome to apply) and experience with both the academic and policy sides of impact evaluations in developing countries. Though the position is based in Durham, NC it will involve modest domestic and international travel.

Required Qualifications:

- 3+ years of field experience on impact evaluations and related research.
- Experience coordinating research in developing countries.
- Experience with budgeting and administration in the international development industry.
- Demonstrated success writing research proposals and interacting with private and public donors.
- Data analysis skills.
- Strong interpersonal skills and eagerness to work in a lab-like setting.

Desired Qualifications:

- Experience with IRB procedures.
- Experience developing survey instruments.
- Advanced data analysis skills.

There is no deadline for applying to the opening; applications will be considered on a rolling basis starting immediately. The position comes with competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for one year with possibility of renewal for up to three years.

Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina. Durham and the surrounding Research Triangle are home to several major universities and a booming cultural life. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status. For questions, please contact David Dow at david.dow@duke.edu. Those interested should access the following link: <https://forms.hr.duke.edu/careers/external.php?reqid=104447BR>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4700

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, Trade, International Political Economy

The Department of National Security Affairs at the Naval Postgraduate School seeks applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant/Associate professor interested in research and teaching in the fields of either international or comparative political economy. Specialists with regional expertise in Europe or the Middle East and/or with a relevance to national security affairs, defense policy, or maritime policy are especially encouraged to apply. Relevant expertise might include international economic negotiations, global/regional economic regimes, comparative economic policies, trade sanctions, and the political economy of violence. Candidates should demonstrate a strong potential for teaching excellence and scholarly research. The successful candidate must also be prepared to teach an introductory Masters-level course on the politics of global economic relations or comparative economic systems, as well as courses in his/her specific research specialty.

The Naval Postgraduate School is a fully accredited graduate school the students of which are drawn from the armed forces and civilian agencies of the United States and other countries. The Department of National Security Affairs is multi-disciplinary, with curricula based on Political Science, History, and Economics. Tenure-track professors typically teach a 2-2 load on a quarter system and are expected to maintain an active portfolio of academic research, publishing, and institutional service.

Minimum qualifications:

- An earned doctoral degree from an accredited institution
- Evidence of teaching aptitude
- Evidence of potential to advise student theses and dissertations
- Evidence of strong potential for scholarship leading to scholarly publications

Employment requirements:

- U.S. citizenship is required
- Background check and eligibility for a Secret-level clearance

Applications should include a CV, cover letter (including teaching and research interests), official graduate transcripts, and syllabi of relevant courses taught, preferably at the graduate level. Candidates should also submit up to three writing samples and three letters of recommendation. These confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted separately. ABDs are welcome to apply with the understanding that the award of a Ph.D. degree is a condition of employment. Applications will be accepted until October 15, 2018. Expected start date is in the fall of 2019.

Address applications and supporting materials electronically to the National Security Affairs Department at nsadept@nps.edu.

Questions and any other inquiries may be directed to:

Prof. Anne Clunan
 Chair, Political Economy Search Committee
 Department of National Security Affairs
 Naval Postgraduate School
 Monterey, CA 93943
 alclunan@nps.edu

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Relocation package, including recruitment/relocation incentive may be authorized.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>

NOTE: IF YOU ARE A VETERAN, you are strongly encouraged to identify your Veterans' Preference on your resume or elsewhere in your application package (type of preference, dates of service, date of VA letter, character of service, etc.).

Additional Veterans' Information: if you are not sure of your preference eligibility, visit the Department of Labor's website: <http://dol.gov/elaws/vets/vetpref/mservice.htm>

For more veterans' preference information, visit: <http://www.fedshirevets.gov/job/vetpref/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4711

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applications and nominations for a full-time tenure-track faculty position in International Relations at the rank of assistant professor. Specialization is open, but we will have particular substantive interests in conflict studies or international political economy. We expect candidates to have strong methodological skills, and to be able to teach at least one undergraduate methods course, open to area. Candidates must possess strong theoretical, analytical, and empirical skills.

The successful candidate will show potential to publish in the top disciplinary journals, and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching. Successful candidates are expected to teach effectively at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, establish and maintain an active and independent research program, and provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or related social science discipline in hand or show clear evidence of completion before the start of appointment. The anticipated starting date is August 16, 2019; the starting salary is competitive.

Candidates with superior qualifications who will complete all the Ph.D. requirements within the first appointment year may be appointed at the rank of Instructor. After the Ph.D. requirement is met, the appointment will be changed to Assistant Professor.

To apply, create your candidate profile through <https://jobs.illinois.edu> and upload your application materials: letter of application, CV, up to three representative publications or working papers, a statement of teaching philosophy, a statement of research interests, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The online application will require the contact information or Interfolio ID for three professional references. Referees will be contacted electronically by the Department within 1-2 business days after submission of the application. Only applications submitted through the University of Illinois Job Board will be considered.

To ensure full consideration, all required application materials must be submitted by September 24, 2018; letters of reference must be received no later than October 1, 2018. Early application submission is encouraged to allow time for referees to submit letters of recommendation. For further information regarding application procedures or to submit nominations, you may contact Brenda Stamm at stamm@illinois.edu.

The University of Illinois conducts criminal background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer.

The University of Illinois is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. For more information, visit <http://go.illinois.edu/EEO>. To learn more about the University's commitment to diversity, please visit <http://www.inclusiveillinois.illinois.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/24/2018

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4678

Westminster College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Westminster College in Salt Lake City, UT invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning August 2019. Primary teaching responsibilities include an introductory Political Science course, as well as upper division undergraduate courses in global politics and political theory. The ability to teach either comparative politics and/or research methods is also highly desirable. Westminster's normal teaching load is 24 semester hours per year – typically three courses per semester.

The Department of Politics and Justice Studies at Westminster has a strong commitment to undergraduate education that emphasizes high-impact teaching practices, an interdisciplinary curriculum, and a student-centered learning environment. Students majoring in Political Science or Justice Studies cultivate strong writing and critical thinking skills that support their future goals to enter graduate school or the workforce.

Westminster College's commitment to diversity and global learning is revealed in its core values, mission and vision statements, and learning goals. We seek colleagues who are prepared to facilitate the learning of all students, including those from groups historically underrepresented in higher education, such as students of color, LGBTQ+ students, students with disabilities, and first-generation college students.

Required Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in Political Science completed no later than August, 2019

- Demonstrated excellence in teaching. The successful applicant will have served as the instructor of record for multiple courses and be able to demonstrate the ability to employ pedagogical practices that generate active and engaged learning
- An active intellectual life that includes regular presentations at academic conference and the occasional publication of scholarly and/or pedagogy-related articles.

Application Instructions:

For application instructions, please consult the online job board (<http://jobs.westminstercollege.edu>). Review of applications will begin on November 26, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. A complete application that demonstrates competencies in the above qualifications will include:

1. Curriculum Vita
2. A letter of application that highlights your specific qualifications for the position, including a discussion of your past teaching experiences and your preparation to teach and mentor students from groups historically underrepresented in higher education.
3. Sample syllabi and sample assignments that demonstrate your approach to teaching/learning issues
4. Scholarly writing sample
5. Contact information for three professional references

About Westminster:

Westminster College is a place for self-reliant students of all backgrounds who seek lives of consequence. We are a private, independent college that has been advancing the liberal arts tradition in Utah since 1875. Our historic campus is the center of Salt Lake City's Sugar House neighborhood. Our mountain vistas inspire exploration, our urban surroundings provide endless opportunities, and our small classes promote inclusive dialogue. We offer undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees. Our devoted faculty challenge students to engage their curiosity and pursue their passions through purpose-driven academic programs. Westminster is a place for expanding your worldview, innovating for the future, and launching a meaningful life. For more information visit www.westminstercollege.edu.

Westminster College is committed to a diversified workforce, equal opportunity, and nondiscrimination. To this end, Westminster prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment based on race or ethnicity, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identification, disabilities, genetic information, status as a veteran, or any other category or classification protected by applicable federal, state, or city laws.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4670

Harvard University

Rank: Weatherhead Scholars Program

The Weatherhead Scholars Program, a new program at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs (WCFIA), welcomed its first class of participants in 2017–2018. Established in 1958, the WCFIA is the largest international social science research center within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. We support international, transnational, global, and comparative research, whether historical or contemporary, including policy analysis.

The Weatherhead Scholars Program offers visiting faculty, postdoctoral researchers, and experienced practitioners the opportunity to spend up to one year at Harvard conducting research. During their time in residence, Scholars are expected to participate in the biweekly Weatherhead Forum; contribute to some of the Center's many other intellectual activities, including our research clusters; and to engage with the undergraduate and graduate student communities.

As participants in the Weatherhead Scholars Program, postdoctoral researchers and visiting scholars receive a one-year formal appointment from Harvard University granting them important privileges. These include access to the Harvard library system, computer labs, and Harvard University faculty club. Our scholars are an integral part of the more than 300 faculty, fellows, students, and staff in residence at the Center.

To be eligible for a postdoctoral position, scholars must have completed their PhD after August 1, 2016 (admitted postdoctoral fellows will provide proof before enrollment that they have received their PhD). There are a limited number of $50,000 stipends for postdoctoral fellows (health insurance is also available to stipendiary postdocs). Visiting scholars – established faculty from other universities – are not eligible for funding support from the Weatherhead Center.

More information is available at <https://scholarsprogram.wcfia.harvard.edu>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4626

Saint Lawrence University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Government Department at St. Lawrence University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in international relations, pending budget approval. The successful candidate will teach introductory courses in international relations and upper-level courses that do not overlap with the department's existing strengths in the subfield, which are foreign policy, international conflict, and international security. The teaching load is three courses per semester. Ph.D. in Political Science or related field must be completed before the appointment begins in August 2019.

We welcome applications from candidates who bring diverse cultural, ethnic and national perspectives to their scholarship and teaching.

Minimum Qualifications: Candidates with Ph.D. in hand preferred, though ABD candidates may be considered.

To apply, please visit: <https://employment.stlawu.edu/postings/1614>

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter indicating teaching and research interests, curriculum vita, graduate school transcript, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate document with a statement indicating how they can contribute in tangible ways to St. Lawrence University's commitment to cultivating a diverse and inclusive community and classrooms. These documents can be uploaded in the "Applicant Documents" section of your application.

Additionally, three confidential references are required [the required information input in the reference contact information section of your application will be utilized to send a system-derived email requesting a recommendation letter from each reference].

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2018. Questions about the position may be sent to Dr. Grace Huang (ghuang@stlawu.edu), Search Chair, International Relations Search.

All offers of employment are contingent upon the finalist successfully passing a background (including criminal records) check.

Located at 23 Romoda Drive in Canton, NY, St. Lawrence University is a coeducational, private, independent liberal arts institution of about 2,400 students from more than 40 states and 40 nations. The educational opportunities at St. Lawrence inspire students and prepare them to be critical and creative thinkers, to find a compass for their lives and careers, and to pursue knowledge and understanding for the benefit of themselves, humanity and the planet. Through its focus on active engagement with ideas in and beyond the classroom, a St. Lawrence education leads students to make connections that transform lives and communities, from the local to the global.

For additional information about St. Lawrence, please visit <http://www.stlawu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4666

University of Chicago

Rank: Lecturer in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

Posting Number: 03851

The University of Chicago invites applications for a Lecturer in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, temporary position in CIR's one-year MA program in international relations. The appointment is for a non-renewable, two-year term, preferably beginning October 2018.

CIR is the nation's oldest graduate program in international relations, awarding the Master of Arts degree in International Relations to approximately 60-70 students per year.

The successful applicant will teach four graduate courses in the first year and five in the second year; advise MA student theses; and participate in admissions, student mentoring, and student recruitment. Specific course assignments will be determined by the faculty chair, and will include a mix of survey and specialized courses. We welcome candidates who can offer diverse methodological and substantive courses in international relations.

To be eligible, candidates must have defended the PhD by September 30, 2018 and have the PhD in-hand by December 2018. Applicants must also have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring students. This is a union position covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union, Local 73.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/ybh2p3hx>. The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) Syllabi for two proposed courses, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin September 23, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Paul Staniland, at paul@uchicago.edu for updates on the status of the search.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

<https://tinyurl.com/ybh2p3hx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4669

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track position as Assistant Professor, beginning September 16, 2019. Tenure-track faculty have an annual service period of nine months (Sept 16-June 15). The field of specialization is open but teaching responsibilities will include quantitative courses in the graduate methods track. All University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications

Candidates must demonstrate a strong record of quantitative empirical work in one or more substantive areas of political science. Applicants should have or expect to have their PhD by the appointment start date.

Application Instructions

Applications should include a cover letter, current CV, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests as well as how that research agenda integrates quantitative methods. The teaching statement should describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness. As a public institution, the University of Washington seeks candidates committed to working with diverse student and community populations. Therefore, applicants are encouraged to describe how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities. We strongly encourage applications from women and underrepresented minorities.

The review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018. Applications must be submitted at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53523>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4668

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Full Time Coordinator/Lecturer

Subfield(s): Methodology, International Relations, Public Policy

The Center for Advanced Governmental Studies of the Advanced Academic Programs of Johns Hopkins University, based in Washington, D.C., is seeking a full-time, non-tenure track faculty member. The Center houses six master's degree and five graduate certificate programs. This includes the following programs: MA in Government, MS in Government Analytics, MA in Public Management, MA in Global Security Studies; Certificate in Intelligence; Certificate in Science, Technology, and International Security; and the Certificate in Nonprofit Management. These programs educate students who wish to apply rigorous academic concepts to policy-related careers.

The person hired for this new faculty position will be an academic coordinator for the Center and will teach 5 courses per year including courses in quantitative and qualitative research methods. The candidate must have proficiency in R and online teaching experience is preferred. Other responsibilities of this position include speaking with prospective students, serving on admissions committees, advising students, reviewing capstone or thesis papers prior to defense, assisting with the recruitment of adjunct faculty, and supporting outreach efforts on social media and at information sessions.

The ideal candidate will have a Ph.D. and teaching experience in any of the following subfields, the study of political institutions, survey methods and public opinions, parties and elections, democracy studies, international development, security studies, cyber policy, or public policy analysis. Practitioner experience in government, government consulting, or politics is especially desirable.

This position has a 12-month renewable contract. Review of applications for the position will begin immediately for a start date of January 15, 2018.

To apply please send a cover letter which details previous teaching and professional experience, a CV and two current letters of reference to:

Dr. Kathryn Wagner Hill
Director, Center for Advanced Governmental Studies
Advanced Academic Programs, Johns Hopkins University
1717 Massachusetts Ave, NW, Suite 104
Washington, DC 20036

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4650

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: GENDER AND COMPARATIVE POLITICS/INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University New Brunswick seeks applicants for a Tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin September 1, 2019, in the broad area of Gender and Comparative Politics/International Relations. Responsibilities include teaching and advising graduate students, including those in our PhD subfield of Women and Politics whose research interests span a broad range of subjects, approaches, and geographic areas. Candidate must be able to teach standard undergraduate survey courses in comparative politics or IR. Strong familiarity with interdisciplinary feminist scholarship is preferred. PhD required in Political Science or related field.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and a list of three references to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/73156> Review of applicants will begin on October 1 and continue until the job is filled.

Confidential letters of recommendation should be emailed directly by the referee to wsilverman@polisci.rutgers.edu – the applicant's name should appear in the subject line.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4658

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: International Relations

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University New Brunswick seeks applicants for a fulltime, tenure track position in International Relations, beginning September 1, 2019, at the Assistant Professor level. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on Civil War, International Security/Terrorism, and/or American Foreign Policy, although other substantive interests in IR will also be considered. Strong preference for statistical, formal, and/or experimental methods. Candidate must be able to teach standard undergraduate survey courses in IR. PhD required in Political Science or related field.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and a list of three references to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/73157> Review of applicants will begin on October 1 and continue until the job is filled.

Confidential letters of recommendation should be emailed directly by the referee to wsilverman@polisci.rutgers.edu – the applicant's name should appear in the subject line.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4657

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Canadian Politics at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in Canadian politics. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-posting-assistant-professor-in-canadian-politics/> Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 30, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4654

Naval War College

Rank: Associate Professor of National Security Affairs (Professional Practice)

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Political Psychology, Defense

Join the faculty of one of the nation's largest and most vibrant graduate teaching departments in the interdisciplinary field of national and international security studies. The Department of National Security Affairs at the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island seeks to fill one vacancy beginning no later than July 2019. We invite applications from exceptionally qualified practitioners who are highly motivated to teach security studies courses within the resident master degree programs of the world's oldest graduate institution of professional military education.

About the Institution: The U.S. Naval War College (NWC) is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense and the U.S. Navy. It is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges to grant master's degrees in National Security and Strategic Studies and Defense and Strategic Studies. The College's core missions are: to educate and develop future leaders; help define the future Navy and its roles and responsibilities; support combat readiness; strengthen global maritime partnerships; promote ethics and leadership throughout the force; contribute knowledge to shape effective decisions through our Hat-tendorf Historical Center; and provide expertise and advice to the international community through the Stockton Center for the Study of International Law. In the words of founder Admiral Stephen B. Luce, the College is "a place of original research on all questions relating to war and to statesmanship connected with war, or the prevention of war."

National Security Affairs: The National Security Affairs Department is one of the college's three core academic teaching departments and is composed of tenured/tenure track, military, and professors of practice engaged in a wide range of teaching, research, and outreach. We are a blended faculty of tenured/tenure track, military, and practitioners providing professional education to mid-career students who are military and civilian national security professionals from the United States and more than sixty partner countries. You can learn more about the NSA Department at our webpage: <https://usnwc.edu/National-Security-Affairs> and college service. There is no requirement or expectation to attract external funding. Maximum teaching load excluding optional elective classes is 2/2/0 based on a ten-month trimester system. This involves teaching up to two seminar sections (single preparation) for no more than 16 students in the fall and winter trimesters. The spring trimester and summer inter-session period are devoted primarily to research, curriculum development, and service. All positions are year-round (12-month). Initial appointment is for a multi-year contract that is renewable on an ongoing basis provided that performance expectations are met. This position is eligible for an indefinite appointment after a probationary period.

Duties and Responsibilities: Specific responsibilities include teaching within two distinctive common core graduate-level security studies courses, collaborating in the development of common core curricula, developing and teaching elective courses, research and publication,

Qualifications: Associate Professor of National Security Affairs candidates must have extensive experience as a national security professional working at the strategic or theater-strategic levels including at senior ranks (minimum O-6 or civilian equivalent). Candidates must possess a master's degree or other terminal degree in a field that is directly related to at least one of the following: foreign policy analysis, U.S. foreign policy, decision making, or applied social science. Strongest consideration will be given to candidates with expertise and field experience in Europe, Asia, or the Middle East. Highly desirable qualifications include: a record of policy presentations and publication, demonstrated teaching excellence at the graduate level, international experience, force planning, exercise/simulation development, and a record of leading organizations. Candidates must be U.S. citizens and be capable of obtaining a Department of Defense SECRET security clearance.

Salary Considerations: Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plans (with employer matching contributions), paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and Salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Application Process: Applications will be accepted through October 1, 2018. The application package must include the following: cover letter, Curriculum Vitae, and contact information for three professional references. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-18-12 and forward their application package to: nwc-18-12@usnwc.edu.

Active duty members may apply under this announcement but are subject to eligibility requirements of the Veterans Opportunity to Work Act (VOW). Active duty members must submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide branch, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.) Please note: you will be ineligible for consideration if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days after being submitted with your application.

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Please direct any questions about the position or the institution to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Terry Roehrig at terence.roehrig@usnwc.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4616

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - International Relations

Assistant Professor of Political Science – International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Purdue University is seeking applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in International Relations starting in August 2019. The area of specialization is open, and candidates may take any methodological or theoretical approach. The successful candidate will have an active research agenda and be able to teach the introductory undergraduate class in international relations, the graduate level survey of the field, courses in his or her area of expertise, and courses that are part of the College of Liberal Arts' Integrated Cornerstone first-year curriculum. Required qualifications include an active research agenda, the ability to attract external funding, interest in contributing to university-wide initiatives to tackle grand challenges, the potential for teaching excellence, and a commitment to diversity and inclusion. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline is required.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive institution and a public land-grant university. Purdue is a member of the American Association of Universities and a top five public research university according to the Wall Street Journal. Faculty members in Political Science are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methodology cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Peace Studies, the Human Rights Program, Asian Studies, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship & Engagement, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. The department is also home to Politics, Groups, and Identities, an official journal of the Western Political Science Association. The department offers graduate certificates in Social Policy and Environmental Policy to students across campus.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon at polisci@purdue.edu. Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, a sample of written work, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's qualifications for the position. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled. Interviews will begin in January 2019. Questions should be addressed to search committee chair Professor Keith Shimko (kshimko@purdue.edu). A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Applicants should share Purdue University's commitment to principles of diversity and inclusion and the department's commitment to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and identify their strengths and experiences in these areas.

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in their cover letter, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4641

Syracuse University

Rank: Associate Professor, International Relations/International Affairs

Associate Professor with Tenure Position

International Relations/International Affairs

Department of Public Administration and International Affairs

Maxwell School of Citizenship

Syracuse University

The Department of Public Administration and International Affairs (PAIA) seeks to hire an Associate Professor (with tenure) in International Relations/International Affairs beginning in fall 2019.

We are interested in attracting a leading scholar in the areas of international political economy, development or security studies. The successful candidate will primarily support our professional Master of Arts in International Relations (MAIR) program. This individual would hold a joint appointment with the department of Political Science. Successful candidates also may affiliate with one of Maxwell's Centers. .

The PAIA and Political Science departments are located within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs. We are committed to citizenship education at the undergraduate level and to graduate education in public affairs and the social sciences. The MAIR program seeks candidates who complement the broader Maxwell mission, have interdisciplinary interests and are interested in training future leaders in international affairs.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field. Rank and salary commensurate with experience and professional accomplishments.

For consideration, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/>) and attach: a letter of interest, a CV, a sample of professional writing, a statement of teaching philosophy, names and complete contact information for 3 references and evidence of quality teaching. Files may be no larger than 5MB, but you may submit an external link to a larger file if needed.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by October 1. However, applications will be considered until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4643

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Associate Research Scholar

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year's visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Appointments can be from 15 days to one-month during the 2019-2020 academic year (September 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020). The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of seniority and current institutional affiliation.

Visiting Associate Research Scholars will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 21, 2018. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8142>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay, 15 days to one-month during the academic year (September 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
- 2) Curriculum vitae;
- 3) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
- 4) The names and contact information of three referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/21/2018

Date Posted: 8/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4611

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of a Princeton department and the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are for one or two semesters, during the 2019-2020 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2019-January 31, 2020; spring semester: February 1-June 30, 2020). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 21, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials and apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8141>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae (in English);
- 3) One undergraduate seminar proposal (or syllabus) for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how this course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;
- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (2,000 – 3,000 words);
- 5) The names and contact information of three referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Required Qualifications: Advanced degree preferred.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/21/2018

Date Posted: 8/19/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4612

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Associate/Full Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a tenured position in international relations starting in January or August 2019. The position is open with respect to expertise in international relations; teaching expectations include undergraduate and graduate courses in international relations, and at least one course in the master's degree program in public administration in a relevant area of international policy. Supervision of students in the doctoral program is expected.

The successful candidate will hold the endowed Khaled Chair in Political Science and International Policy, which comes with a stipend, research support, and a reduction in teaching load for a three-year term (renewable upon a satisfactory review). We welcome applications from candidates at any rank. Appointment will be made at the associate or full professor level depending on the applicant's credentials. Applicants must be a specialist in international relations or international affairs with a Ph.D. in political science, international affairs, international relations, or public policy.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2018. To apply, complete an online application at <http://www.jobs.aum.edu/postings/3034> and upload the following materials: 1) a letter of application to include specification of training, current and future research agenda, teaching areas and teaching philosophy, and most significant professional service; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) one recent writing sample; 4) graduate transcript (official transcript will be needed at time of hire); and 5) contact information for three professional references. Three confidential letters of reference are required and must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu by the application deadline.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration includes nine tenure-track faculty and offers an undergraduate and master's degree in political science and a nationally ranked, NASPAA-accredited master's degree in public administration. It also offers a Ph.D. in Public Administration and Public Policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Auburn University at Montgomery (AUM) is the metropolitan campus of Auburn University. Located in the state capital, AUM enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. AUM is ranked by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top Comprehensive Regional Universities in the South. Montgomery offers diverse cultural and recreational opportunities including the Alabama Shakespeare Festival, world-class museums and memorials including the new Legacy Museum and the National Memorial for Peace and Justice, a ballet company, a natural habitat zoo, a chamber music society, an independent film theater, and the Montgomery Biscuits Double-A baseball team; it is home to Maxwell-Gunter Air Force Base and Air University, Hyundai Motor's first U.S. production facility, and the headquarters of leading non-profits including Equal Justice Initiative and the Southern Poverty Law Center.

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is open until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

If you have questions or want to talk with someone about the position at the APSA meeting, please contact Prof. Andrew Cortell, Department Head, at acortell@aum.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4640

George Washington University

Rank: Open rank

The George Washington University's Elliott School of International Affairs invites applications for two tenure track faculty positions in the field of U.S. National Security Policy. Security studies is defined broadly to include U.S. grand strategy, defense analysis, weapons proliferation and arms control, the use of force, cybersecurity, intrastate war, terrorism and counterterrorism, and other contemporary policy issues; and international relations theories that are relevant to assessing these issue areas. One position will be made at the Professor, Associate, or Assistant rank; the other is at the rank of Assistant Professor. The positions will be based in the Elliott School's Institute for Security and Conflict Studies and affiliated with the M.A. program in Security Policy Studies, beginning in academic year 2019-2020. Successful candidates will also have an appointment in the GWU Political Science Department. Teaching responsibilities would include undergraduate and graduate students in the Elliott School and other students at the University.

Minimum qualifications for Professor/Associate/Assistant Professor: A Ph.D. in Political Science or other relevant social science discipline or inter-disciplinary field at time of application. Applicants must have a record of sustained and continuing high-quality research and substantial teaching experience.

Minimum qualification for Assistant Professor: A Ph.D. in Political Science or other relevant social science discipline or inter-disciplinary field at time of appointment. Applicants should have demonstrated significant research promise and teaching competence.

Application procedure for Professor/Associate/Assistant Professor: Please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/55499>. Applicants should upload a letter of interest detailing research and teaching interests and qualifications, a current curriculum vita, course syllabi and evaluations, a writing sample, and include the names and contact information of three referees. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Application procedure for Assistant Professor: Please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/55498>. Applicants should upload a research and teaching statement, a current curriculum vita, a writing sample, and send three letters of recommendation to esiafac@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4637

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Full Time Lecturer in International Studies

Position Description: The Lauder Institute invites applications for the position of full-time lecturer or senior lecturer. This position will support our International Studies Program in two academic areas. Primary responsibility is to oversee all aspects of the Lauder core course "Global and Regional Analysis," inclusive of lectures in one of its three modules, outreach to module-specific faculty, grading, student advising, and leadership of module wrap discussion sessions. The three course modules are: (1) Historical Drivers of Global Change; (2) Comparative Politics and Regional Political Economy, and (3) Global Governance, International Trade, and Law. In addition, the right candidate will support the Lauder Institute's Global Knowledge Lab through student advising and some administrative support of its M.A. thesis research and writing program, especially as it relates to M.A. thesis advisor outreach and support, and student on-boarding, advising, and milestone tracking. This full-time position also requires participation in curriculum development and internal meetings, plus attendance at events organized by the Institute on and off campus.

The right candidate will have the following minimum requirements: (a) PhD in History (any sub-field) or Political Science (comparative and/or international politics or political economy); (b) expertise to teach in one of the above three modules as demonstrated through research and/or existing syllabi. For module 2 above, regional area of expertise may include Africa, East and/or Southeast Asia; Europe, Latin America, MENA, or South Asia; © experience advising undergraduate and/or graduate students in field research and/or academic writing; (d) indication of administrative abilities; and (e) excellent teaching ratings.

The strongest candidate additionally has no less than three of the following qualifications: (a) prior experience working with Masters' level students in a professional degree program (e.g. Business, International Affairs, Law, Public Policy); (b) prior experience working with an international student body; © indication of teaching experience in a highly diverse, possibly interdisciplinary environment; (d) advanced proficiency in languages other than English; (e) field research experience; (f) demonstrated ability to convey complex theoretical concepts to non-specialists and (g) familiarity with Canvas or other course management software.

Interested candidates should submit a resume, cover letter, teaching evaluations, and a sample of possible lectures relevant to one of the three modules indicated above. A list of references is required of final round candidates. Application materials should be addressed to Ms. Jenny Seng-Russo, Program Manager, International Studies Program and submitted online at <http://facultysearches.provost.upenn.edu/postings/1420>. We will begin reviewing applications Monday, September 24, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

The Lauder Institute is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to creating a more diverse faculty (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>). The University of Pennsylvania is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Affirmative Action Statement: The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4632

Air War College

Rank: Professor of International Security Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, East Asia, Middle East

-The Air War College

-Professor of International Security Studies

-The Air War College invites candidates to apply for a faculty position in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, including the areas of Northeast Asia, Southeast Asia, Central Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, or possibly other regions (excluding Europe). The Air War College is also seeking candidates whose scholarly interests are in international political economy, comparative politics, and/or in American national security policy. The possible starting dates are between January and

July 2019, or possibly earlier. The Air War College is located at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, AL.

-Academic rank is open but the focus is for appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor. A Ph.D. is required in Political Science, International Relations, History or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy. This position is an Administratively Determined (AD) civil service position, and requires academic teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and a suitable publication record. Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum: 1) National Security and Decision-Making; 2) Regional and Cultural Studies; 3) Global Security, electives in area(s) of specialization; advising student research; and service to the institution. The Air War College provides a dynamic academic environment for teaching and research. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Responsibilities also include curriculum development, and participation in a capstone political-military exercise. The academic program offers master's degrees and senior-level professional military education to U.S. military officers, and civilian government officials, and to military officers from more than 40 nations.

-The selected candidate will be offered an initial three year appointment with a probationary first year. This appointment is renewable. While open positions are advertised in various publications, including the American Political Science EJobs, applicants must submit their application through USAJobs. Applicants must hold U.S. citizenship.

-Applicants can submit their application via USAJobs online by going to: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/507400900>

-If candidates prefer to not use the online feature, they can send their resume, or Optional Form 612, along with other required documents to 42 FSS/FSMC, 50 Lemay Plaza South, Building 804, Attn: Air War College faculty position, Maxwell AFB AL 36112-6334

-The OF-612 can be accessed through the Office of personnel Management's web site at www.usajobs.opm.gov. Note: this is an academic position, the selection committee strongly encourages candidates to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references.

-For more information, contact Colonel Dewey Mosley, U.S. Army, Department of International Security Studies, Air War College, 325 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112-6427; dewey.mosley@us.af.mil, (334) 953-9683. Or contact Dr. Chris Hemmer, Dean, Air War College, 325 Chennault Circle, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112-6427. Phone 334-953-7099, email christopher.hemmer@us.af.mil.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4558

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations, Security/Cybersecurity

Assistant Professor in International Relations, Security/Cybersecurity for an appointment as a tenure-track Assistant Professor to teach undergraduate courses in international relations, advanced courses in cybersecurity and/or national cyber policy or cyber-law, and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service. The position will begin in the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD in political science, public policy, or related field by the date of appointment.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of cybersecurity and/or national cyber policy.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=6188>. The department will solicit reference letters from references provided in application. For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Patrick Haney at haneypj@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4617

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations, Security/Cybersecurity

Assistant Professor in International Relations, Security/Cybersecurity for an appointment as a tenure-track Assistant Professor to teach undergraduate courses in international relations, advanced courses in cybersecurity and/or national cyber policy or cyber-law, and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service. The position will begin in the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD in political science, public policy, or related field by the date of appointment.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of cybersecurity and/or national cyber policy.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=6188>. The department will solicit reference letters from references provided in application. For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Patrick Haney at haneypj@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4618

Temple University

Rank: Associate or Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Temple University invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position at the level of Associate or Assistant Professor in international relations. The search is open to all sub-fields, but we are especially interested in candidates whose research focuses on Environmental Policy, Human Rights/Human Security, Non-State Actors, or Cyber Security/Terrorism. Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in both research and teaching. Evidence of external grant/fellowship support is desirable. Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (highest research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home to 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays a tremendous role in Temple University's academic success and its mission mirrors both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded. Candidates are expected to have completed a Ph.D. by the beginning of their appointment. Please send a cover letter; curriculum vitae; a sample of written or published scholarly work; teaching portfolio (e.g., sample syllabi, student and/or peer evaluations); graduate school transcript; and three letters of reference to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53465>. Applications received by October 1, 2018 will receive best consideration. Temple University is an Affirmative Action equal opportunity employer and particularly encourages applications from women and persons of color.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4613

University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire is currently searching for a full-time, tenure track faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 26, 2019. The department seeks a dynamic candidate with expertise in the field of international relations who is committed to teaching excellence and to maintaining an active program involving undergraduates. This appointment carries an initial two-year probationary appointment beginning with the 2019/2020 academic year.

Responsibilities:

- Teach courses in the Department of Political Science based on program needs and in accordance with specialization;
- Participate in research and scholarly activities;
- Develop and/or maintain a scholarly research agenda;
- Provide academic advising to students as assigned;
- Engage in service to the department, University and profession.

Minimum qualifications:

- Earned doctorate in the field of political science by August 26, 2019. (ABD applicants may be considered but must complete the terminal degree by March 15, 2020.)
- We seek candidates with ability to teach courses in Theories of International Relations, US Foreign Policy, as well as courses within the candidate's area of specialization.

Preferred qualifications:

- Preference will be given to candidates that can teach in the areas of international law and international organizations.
- Evidence of successful university teaching, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusiveness is also preferred

Department Information: The Department of Political Science consists of 13 full-time faculty in the fields of political science and criminal justice. With over 425 majors and 100 minors, the department is one of the largest within the college. Our award-winning program faculty work collaboratively with students on research, oversee Service Learning and internship projects, and have the opportunity to teach abroad. Many of our students take jobs with local and regional agencies upon graduation, while others attend top law schools and graduate programs.

To apply, please visit the link below and follow the instructions; All applicants must provide the following in PDF format:

- Letter of application
- Curriculum vita
- Unofficial graduate school transcript
- Statement of teaching philosophy
- Names and contact information for three references

<https://www.uwec.edu/human-resources/employment-opportunities/job-openings/>

Please direct requests for additional information to Dr. Geoffrey Peterson, Department Chair, petersgd@uwec.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4625

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies Academy Scholars Program, 2019-2020

The Academy Scholars Program identifies and supports outstanding scholars at the start of their careers whose work combines disciplinary excellence in the social sciences or law with a command of the language and history or culture of countries or regions outside of the United States or Canada. Their scholarship may elucidate domestic, comparative, or transnational issues, past or present.

The Academy Scholars are a select community of individuals with resourcefulness, initiative, curiosity, and originality, whose work in cultures or regions outside of the US or Canada shows promise as a foundation for exceptional careers in major universities or international institutions. Harvard Academy Scholarships are open only to recent PhD (or comparable professional school degree) recipients and doctoral candidates. Scholars applying by the October 1, 2018 deadline for the August 2019 postdoctoral fellowships must have completed the PhD or equivalent after September 30, 2015.

Academy Scholars are appointed for a two-year, in-residence, postdoctoral fellowship at The Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA. They receive substantial financial and research assistance to undertake sustained projects of research and/or acquire accessory training in their chosen fields and areas. Some teaching is permitted but not required. The Senior Scholars, a distinguished group of Harvard University faculty members, act as mentors to the Academy Scholars to help them achieve their intellectual potential.

Postdoctoral Academy Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $67,000. Predoctoral Academy Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $31,000 until they are awarded the PhD or equivalent degree. The online application for the postdoctoral fellowships beginning in August 2019 is due by October 1, 2018. Finalist interviews will take place in Cambridge in early December 2018. Notification of scholarships will be made in late December 2018. For complete information on how to apply and for access to the online application, please visit: <https://academy.wcfia.harvard.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/15/2018
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 4602

CUNY Queens College

Rank: Assistant Professor – International Relations

Assistant Professor – International Relations
 Job ID: 19166

The Department of Political Science at Queens College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the level of Assistant Professor in the field of International Relations, to begin in the Fall 2019 semester. We are looking for individuals who combine a strong record of scholarship with a commitment to excellence in teaching in an extraordinarily diverse environment. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach courses in International Political Economy and Europe. The successful applicant is also expected to participate actively in the department's advisement and service responsibilities. The Ph.D. is required by the date of appointment.

Candidates should send a letter of interest, a writing sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a graduate school transcript, three letters of recommendation, and curriculum vitae to: Professor John Bowman, Department of Political Science, Queens College, 65-30 Kissena Blvd., Flushing, NY 11367. Applications must be received by October 15, 2018. In addition, in order for their application to be considered complete, applicants must upload a CV to CUNYFirst, the City University's resources and service system. To do so, go to www.cuny.edu and click on "Employment;" click on "Search job postings;" then, in the box under "What," enter "19166"; click on "Assistant Professor—International Relations;" click on "Apply Now," and follow instructions.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/14/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4590

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Professor-International Relations

The Government Department at the University of Texas at Austin is seeking to hire leading scholars in international relations for two tenured positions at the rank of Full Professor to begin in Fall 2019. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of international relations, broadly defined.

Duties will include both undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The successful candidates will have a highly distinguished scholarly record of publication, a record of teaching excellence, and demonstrated excellence in intellectual and institutional leadership. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment. Salary is highly competitive and commensurate with rank, experience, and qualifications.

Applicants should upload a vitae, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials. The department will begin reviewing applications immediately and continue receiving applications until the positions are filled. Applicants should apply online at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/53197>.

Position funding is pending budgetary approval. A background check will be conducted for successful applicants. AA/EEO employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/14/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4594

Waseda University

Rank: Assistant Professor (without tenure)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Waseda University, a long-established private university located in central Tokyo, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor (full time, without tenure) (in Japanese, "Koushi-Ninkitsuki") in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics. We seek individuals who wish to participate actively in education and research at the Faculty.

- Number of positions
 Several positions across Political Science, Economics, and Journalism in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University

- Expected starting date
 April 1, 2019
 Duration: Two years from the starting date of employment
 At the end of this two-year period, taking into account such factors as education, research and work performance, Assistant Professor (without tenure) may be reappointed for another year. However, the combined period of employment must be completed by March 31, 2022.

- Duties and Responsibilities
 (1) To teach three or four courses per year.
 A course per year breaks down to 30 lecture / seminar sessions, each lasting for 90 minutes. At Waseda University, the academic calendar consists of two 15-week semesters.
 (2) To engage in collaborative and individual research activities at the Faculty.
 (3) To undertake other duties assigned by the Faculty.

- Requirements
 (1) Hold a doctoral degree or expect to obtain a doctoral degree before February 28, 2019.
 Each successful applicant must submit either a photocopy of the original degree certificate or a document/letter issued by the academic institution confirming the degree awarded. Failure to do so by February 28, 2019, will result in the applicant being disqualified.
 (2) Be able to give lectures and conduct seminars in either Japanese or English.

- Application Deadline
 September 14, 2018 (application materials must be submitted by 13:00 Japan Standard Time, or UTC +09:00)

For detailed information of this posting including the application procedure, please refer to the following website.

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/08/09/9163/>

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 9/11/2017

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4541

American University-School of International Service

Rank: New Technology & Security, Tenure-track, Assistant Professor (beginning AY 2019-20)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Science & Technology, Foreign Policy, Intelligence

Assistant Professor

Tenure Track

NEW TECHNOLOGY AND SECURITY

School of International Service

American University

The School of International Service (SIS) at American University (AU) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-line position in New Technology and Security at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2019.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. or the highest equivalent degree by August 2019. We seek scholar-teachers whose research focuses on new technologies and emerging security threats, especially the strategic, ethical, legal, and governance concerns related to their past and future evolution. These include (but are not limited to) artificial intelligence, autonomy, social media, cyber security, robotics, additive manufacturing (or “3-D printing”), unmanned aerial vehicles (“drones”), gene alteration, human enhancement, and other technologies or initiatives associated with what’s known as the Fourth Industrial Revolution. The focus of his or her research will be on the advantages and disadvantages of new technological innovations as they relate to the past, present and future security of human beings. Scholars who come from a wide range of disciplines are especially welcome to apply.

The successful candidate will be enthusiastic about working in a multidisciplinary environment that includes social scientists and natural scientists, as well as experts in the humanities. Being knowledgeable about both the technical aspects of these technologies and the human context in which they are used is highly desirable. The University has faculty who address a wide array of security policy, strategic studies, information security, and national defense issues; but we have particular strengths in the areas of cyber security, risk assessment, asymmetrical conflict, non-traditional security threats, conflict analysis, data analytics, and technological innovation.

As a school that includes a variety of scholarly disciplines and approaches, we seek the best candidates without respect to a particular discipline. We seek scholar-teachers whose work is theoretically grounded, empirically tested, and policy relevant. Candidates may hold terminal degrees in physics, computer science, biotechnology, mathematics, political science, history, international relations, anthropology, economics, or a range of other fields. Candidates should demonstrate excellence in research and teaching and a commitment to school and university service. Candidates should also share the School’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. A desire to mentor PhD candidates in our vibrant PhD program is also desirable.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin late August and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit applications via: <https://apply.interfolio.com/49810>. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, recent teaching evaluations, and recent published papers as well as a statement of past and/or future contributions to diversity and inclusion through teaching, research, and/or service.

You also need to submit via Interfolio the names and email addresses of three references and request that Interfolio contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation. Queries about the search should be sent to sisfacultyaffairs@american.edu. Queries about the online application system should be sent to help@interfolio.com.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation’s capital. For more information about American University, visit <http://www.american.edu/>.

Established in 1957, American University’s School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs located in Washington, D.C. SIS faculty produce transformational research and prepare our students for global careers in government, nonprofits, and business. SIS’s prime location provides opportunities for research, professional training, public service, and internships in the nation’s capital and around the world.

Housed in a beautiful LEED-Gold certified building which reflects our commitment to sustainability and ecological stewardship, SIS is a diverse and inclusive community of 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. Our offerings feature a comprehensive liberal arts program for undergraduates, professional education in international affairs for Master’s students, and a multidisciplinary program for Doctoral students. Learn more about SIS at <http://www.american.edu/sis>.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual’s genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively “Protected Bases”) in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4354

Harvard University

Rank: William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellow

WILLIAM LYON MACKENZIE KING POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

The Canada Program at Harvard University’s Weatherhead Center for International Affairs invites applications for the William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellowships. Two fellows will be appointed for the 2019–2020 academic year, with the possibility of extending for one additional year—conditional on the approval of the dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, WCFIA associated faculty, and the co-hosting academic department.

The fellowships are open to scholars in all disciplines who are engaged in US-Canada comparative research and teaching, with preference given to individuals working within the social sciences and humanities. For postdoctoral candidates who will have completed the PhD within twelve months of the August 1, 2019 start date, verification of completion of the degree will be required prior to the appointment. Those in possession of a PhD for more than five years are ineligible.

The fellowships provide an annual stipend of $68,000, which is supplemented by funding for research and for individual health insurance coverage. The fellows will be required to teach one course during the year, and will be expected to engage with the Canada Program and with the University's wider community. Fellows receive shared office space at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs, and enjoy full access to the University's library, archival, and computing resources.

TO APPLY:

Candidates should submit: a letter of application describing their suitability for the fellowship; a curriculum vitae with a list of publications; a sample of their written work; a teaching portfolio, containing a statement on teaching experience and syllabi; and three letters of recommendation.

TO SUBMIT: <https://academicpositions.harvard.edu/postings/8365>

DEADLINE:

All application materials must be received no later than Thursday, November 1, 2018.

For more information about the WCFA Canada Program, please visit: http://programs.wcfa.harvard.edu/canada\_program

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4569

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor - Armed Conflict and Violence - Open Rank

Political Science Professor - Armed Conflict and Violence - Open Rank
NYU Abu Dhabi

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications from scholars of armed conflict and violence for full-time open-rank appointments. The search is open as to substantive area—scholars working on civil conflict, micro dynamics of conflict, and inter-state conflict are all encouraged to apply. The search is also open with regards to disciplinary and methodological approaches. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment on September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 8, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples, to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52967>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4577

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor - Middle East/Asia - Open Rank

Political Science Professor - Middle East/Asia - Open Rank
NYU Abu Dhabi

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications from scholars working on politics in the Middle East or Asia for full-time open-rank appointments. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment on September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 8, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52973>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4578

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations (Tenure Track)

Assistant Professor of International Relations (Tenure Track)

The School of International Relations at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California seeks to hire a tenure-track assistant professor to begin in August 2019. We are especially interested in candidates with training in advanced methods, such as formal modeling. The successful candidate should also have the interest and capacity to teach PhD level methods courses. The successful applicant will teach at both the graduate and undergraduate levels depending on substantive or regional specialization. The Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

The School of International Relations is a department in USC Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences. It offers the B.A. in International Relations and the Ph.D. in Political Science and International Relations jointly with the Department of Political Science. Please see www.usc.edu/sir and www.usc.edu/poir for more information.

The applicant should send a CV, a sample research paper, a statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, three letters of recommendation, and official graduate transcripts to sirsearch@dornsife.usc.edu, or

SIR Junior Search Committee
USC School of International Relations
3518 Trousdale Parkway, VKC 330
Los Angeles, CA 90089-0043

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are also required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-of-international-relations/1209/8973703>.

Review of applications will begin starting September 15, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4575

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for one or more tenure-track junior faculty positions. These positions are open with respect to subfield and involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8001>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Teaching and research statements are optional. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00001

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4564

CUNY-Queens College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Queens College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the level of Assistant Professor in the field of International Relations, to begin in the Fall 2019 semester. We are looking for individuals who combine a strong record of scholarship with a commitment to excellence in teaching in an extraordinarily diverse environment. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach courses in International Political Economy and Europe. The successful applicant is also expected to participate actively in the department's advisement and service responsibilities. The Ph.D. is required by the date of appointment. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a writing sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a graduate school transcript, three letters of recommendation, and curriculum vitae to: Professor John Bowman, Department of Political Science, Queens College, 65-30 Kissena Blvd., Flushing, NY 11367. Applications must be received by October 1, 2018. In addition, in order for their application to be considered complete, applicants must upload a CV to CUNYfirst, the City University's human resources and service system. To do so, go to www.cuny.edu and place your cursor on "About;" click on "Employment;" scroll down and click on "Browse Job Openings;" in the job title box, enter 19166 and click on "Find Jobs;" click on "Assistant Professor—International Relations;" click on "Apply Now," and follow instructions.

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian-Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4547

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowship in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics (up to three posts)

Nuffield College and the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford intend to appoint jointly, with effect from 1 September 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter, up to three Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellows (PPRFs) in Politics, broadly construed to include political science, political behaviour, comparative politics, political economy, electoral studies, political theory, international relations, and political history.

The key responsibilities of the Research Fellows are to engage in advanced study and independent scholarly research in politics broadly construed (as above); to disseminate research findings through publication and participation in conferences and workshops; to take part in the intellectual life of the College and the Department by organising workshops, seminars or conferences; and to undertake teaching not expected to exceed 48 stint units per year (the equivalent to teaching an eight-week 2-hour seminar series per year), and to assist in examining for the Department.

To be eligible, candidates should have completed, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field. Candidates must be within three years of the defence date (viva voce examination date) of their doctorate at the time of application. Allowances will be made for career breaks (for example, family-related leave) and candidates are asked to provide relevant information. Preference will be given to candidates who have not previously held a research fellowship similar to that advertised for more than one year at the time of taking up the fellowship. Prospective candidates should also have experience of carrying out independent research and a track record of excellent quality papers appropriate for and commensurate with their career level. They should have the ability to provide excellent teaching to high-achieving students; the willingness to contribute to the intellectual life of the College and the Department; and excellent oral and written communication skills. Teaching experience in any area of Comparative Government, Political Theory, or International Relations would be desirable.

The posts are full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 September 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter. Shorter-term appointments are unlikely to be considered. The salary offered is GBP 30,963 per annum (salary for 2017/18; the salary will be adjusted with effect from August 2018 following the agreement of the 2018/19 pay award). Subject to availability, Research Fellows may opt to rent single accommodation in College. Further benefits include a research allowance and free lunch and dinner in College.

Further particulars, including information on how to apply, are available from the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/2610/polpprf\_jd2019.pdf

The deadline for applications is Wednesday 12 September 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 4543

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor / Provost's Postdoctoral Fellow, Race and Politics

The Political Science Department at the University of Chicago invites applications from scholars working on Race and Politics. While we encourage applications from all scholars working in this area, we are particularly interested in applications that demonstrate expertise in Latino politics and comparative studies of race and ethnicity. A goal of this search is to increase the diversity of the faculty in the Department, and we therefore welcome applicants who come from groups historically underrepresented in the discipline, such as Black/African American, Hispanic/Latino, American Indian, or Alaskan Native.

The successful candidate will be appointed as either an Assistant Professor, or as a Provost Postdoctoral Fellow with an initial one or two-year appointment at the faculty rank of instructor. The appointment as a Provost Postdoctoral Fellow is intended to provide some relief from teaching in lieu of a postdoctoral appointment for the same period outside of the University. During the term as a Provost Postdoctoral Fellow, the successful candidate will teach only one course per year. At the end of the initial term, Provost Postdoctoral Fellows will ordinarily be promoted to Assistant Professor.

Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed; early submission is encouraged. Candidates are expected to have the PH.D and no more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the start of the appointment. Applications must be submitted through the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website: <https://tinyurl.com/yxdl75p>.

Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant's prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing; and 6) three letters of reference.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4555

University of Miami

Rank: Open Rank Search in American Politics or International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Miami invites applications for an associate professor or full professor. The proposed start date is August 15, 2019. This is an endowed position providing a competitive salary and annual research budget. We seek candidates in the subfields of American politics or international relations who have developed a national or international reputation for their scholarship.

All applications can be submitted online via the Faculty Career Opportunities website (<https://umiami.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UMFaculty>) and all documents (CV, letters of nomination, and a list of three references) can be uploaded via this site. Applications will be considered until the position is filled. For further information about the position, please contact the Department Chair (jwest@miami.edu). Additional information about the Department is available at www.as.miami.edu/politicalscience/.

The University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Protected Veterans/Individuals with Disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applicants and employees are protected from discrimination based on certain categories protected by Federal law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4542

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a Department of Defense executive education institution that educates, empowers, and connects current and future leaders from the Indo-Pacific region. The Center offers in-resident courses, workshops and dialogues in Honolulu and the Indo-Pacific region, and conducts policy-relevant research to build security capacity and collaboration. DKI APCSS addresses traditional and non-traditional security issues, including the relationship between governance and the security sector; transnational threats such as organized crime, terrorism, violent extremism, trafficking; maritime security; crises; analytical security assessments; and whole-of-society collaboration to include the role of women, peace and security. The audience of Fellows are mid- to senior-level civilian and military officials from all over the world. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Center invites applications for:

ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR FACULTY MEMBERS

For

Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief (HADR)

And

Security Sector Reform/Development (SSR/SSD)

The Center seeks world-class educators to teach, facilitate, research, and build capacity of security professionals in the Indo-Pacific Region. Responsibilities for associate/full professor faculty members

- Teaching executive education courses in a participant-centered, activity-based context
- Facilitating seminars, workshops, dialogues and visits
- Contributing to capacity building endeavors and security cooperation projects in the region
- Analyzing security-related trends in the Indo-Pacific region
- Contributing to curriculum development
- Performing administrative and staff duties to support the Center's academic functions

Desirable selection criteria for associate/full professor faculty members

- Knowledge of defense institution building including, civil-military, interagency and cross-sector coordination, strategic planning and information sharing
- Expertise in crisis and disaster management in one or more Indo-Pacific countries
- Familiarity with facilitation-based teaching and state-of-the-art educational technology
- Experience in development, capacity building, and national security consultations as related to the evolution and transformation of roles and responsibilities of security agencies
- Experience working with U.S. embassies in region, including familiarity with a country team, office of defense cooperation, U.S. State Department and USAID policies
- Experience with exercises and wargames
- Demonstrable skill in at least one regional language

Essential selection criteria for HADR associate/full professor faculty members

- High level of experience in crisis and disaster management
- Understanding of HADR at operational and strategic levels
- Knowledge of the disaster management phases including risk reduction and resilience

- Awareness of national, regional and international crisis response management frameworks, strategies and mechanisms
- Professional expertise at the operational, strategic or policy level in a multilateral setting

Essential selection criteria for SSR/SSD associate/full professor faculty members

- High level of experience in security and defense sector governance, development, and institutional capacity building of Indo-Pacific partner governments to increase capacity within their security institutions
- Experience in national security consultations, sector-wide coordination, and/or strategic planning as related to the evolution and transformation of roles and responsibilities of security agencies
- Demonstrable familiarity with U.S. Government legislation, policies, processes, and officials

Qualifications and attributes for associate/full professor faculty members

- Master's or doctoral degree
- Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation
- Proven ability to function as a team member

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $90,789 - $120,157 excludes locality pay (18.43%) and cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 10.99% but subject to change. All faculty at the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies are employed on limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years, with the possibility of renewal. Relocation expenses may be authorized.

Application Procedure

Interested candidates must submit the following items by email to happlications@dkiacps.net

1. Letter of Interest. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year, and explain your interest in future career considerations with the Department of Defense
2. Curriculum Vitae. Should reflect the following: educational background, work experience, publications and salary history
3. Two Letters of Reference

Additional information

- Application deadline: Open until filled; 31 August 2018
- Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements
- Application packages will be retained for one year
- Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned
- Individuals selected for interviews will be asked to provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting their advanced degree(s) and two samples of their publications
- The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer
- All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor
- U.S. Citizenship is not required but applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.
- The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at happlications@dkiacps.net to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis

Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 8/31/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4530

Gettysburg College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Summary: The Department of Political Science at Gettysburg College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level to begin August 2019. Responsibilities include teaching five courses per year, maintaining an active research agenda, advising undergraduate students, and participating in governance at the departmental and College levels. The department encourages applications from candidates whose teaching, scholarship, or governance will contribute to the diversity of the campus curriculum and community. Additional information about the Political Science Department is available at http://www.gettysburg.edu/academics/political\_science/

Qualifications: The successful candidate should have a commitment to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, be able to teach all levels of international relations courses, and show clear potential for scholarly engagement and student advising. Specialization can be in one or more of the following subfields: international conflict; international organizations; and human rights. The ability to teach the department's research methods course is a plus.

Ph.D. preferred; ABD considered.

Application Details: Visit our website to submit your electronic application: <http://gettysburg.peopleadmin.com/postings/2702>. Please include a curriculum vitae; a cover letter, addressed to Professor Roy Dawes, Chair, Department of Political Science; a separate statement of teaching philosophy; a separate statement of current and future research plans; and contact information for three professional references. References will be contacted by Gettysburg College via email to submit letters of recommendation electronically. At least one of the letters of recommendation must address the applicant's teaching effectiveness. Applications and letters of recommendation received by October 1, 2018, will receive fullest consideration. Inquiries can be addressed to Professor Dawes: rdawes@gettysburg.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4529

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: Tenure-Track Position(s) in International Relations

The Department of International Relations at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem seeks to fill one or more tenure-track positions beginning fall 2018.

We seek excellent candidates that can complement the strengths of our department. The call is open to candidates in all areas and subfields of International Relations. Candidates should be able to demonstrate strong command of international relations theory, broadly construed, conduct research and teach undergraduate and graduate level classes as well as mentor students.

Junior and senior scholars are encouraged to apply. Advanced doctoral candidates are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than October 1st 2019.

The language of teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years after their arrival.

The deadline for applications is October 2nd, 2018. Candidates selected by the Department of International Relations will have to compete with candidates from other departments in the Faculty of Social Sciences.

Please submit all application materials electronically at: <https://ftp.ekmd.huji.ac.il>

The applicants will be asked to upload:

- A letter of intent stating willingness to begin teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem in the fall of 2019;
- A list of required and elective courses that can be taught at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem;
- A scientific biography outlining research orientation and plans for the coming years;
- A Curriculum Vitae, including teaching experience;
- Copies of up to 3 recent publications (or conference papers);

Three letters of recommendations should be sent directly by the letter writers.

Questions about the search can be addressed to Prof. Dan Miodownik, dan.miodownik@mail.huji.ac.il

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/2/2018
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4508

Saint Louis University

Rank: Assistant Professor In Comparative Politics or International Relations

Saint Louis University, a Catholic, Jesuit institution dedicated to student learning, research, health care, and service, seeks applicants for a tenure track position in international relations or comparative politics starting in August 2019. Previous teaching experience, evidence of research capacity, and a PhD in Political Science in hand by August 2019 are required. ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. The department has a preference for candidates able to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in European politics and policy and contribute classes to the department's International Studies program. The appointment will be at the level of Assistant Professor. The normal teaching assignment for this position is 2/2. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science, a B.A. in International Studies, an M.A. in Political Science and, in conjunction with the Sociology and Anthropology department, a Ph.D. in Public and Social Policy.

The department will conduct interviews at the APSA annual meeting. If you would like to be considered for an interview, please send a CV and a letter that explains your interest in and qualifications for the position and clearly states the days you will be available to meet at the APSA meeting to Ms. Sharilyn Bazile at sharilyn.bazile@slu.edu as soon as possible. In the body of your e-mail, please indicate that you are interested in the Comparative/IR position.

Saint Louis University is in the process of posting the online application. Once posted, all applications must be made online at <http://jobs.slu.edu> and include the applicant's curriculum vitae; a cover letter that includes research plans and teaching interests; at least one single-authored writing sample; research and teaching statements; a summary of recent teaching evaluations (if possible, officially produced); and syllabi of classes taught (if available). Please have three current letters of recommendation and official graduate transcripts sent to Ms. Sharilyn Bazile at sharilyn.bazile@slu.edu or Department of Political Science, Saint Louis University, 3750 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis, MO 63108. For questions about the position, please contact Ms. Bazile or call the department office, 314-977-3035. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications or applications received after October 15, 2018 cannot be assured full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4535

Saint Louis University

Rank: Assistant Professor In International Political Economy

Saint Louis University, a Catholic, Jesuit institution dedicated to student learning, research, health care, and service, seeks applicants for a tenure track position in international relations starting in August 2019. Previous teaching experience, evidence of research capacity, and a PhD in Political Science in hand by August 2019 are required. ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. The candidate must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in International Political Economy, an undergraduate Introduction to International Relations class, and classes in the department's International Studies program. The appointment will be at the level of Assistant Professor. The normal teaching assignment for this position is 2/2. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science, a B.A. in International Studies, an M.A. in Political Science and, in conjunction with the Sociology and Anthropology department, a Ph.D. in Public and Social Policy.

The department will conduct interviews at the APSA annual meeting. If you would like to be considered for an interview, please send a CV and a letter that explains your interest in and qualifications for the position and clearly states the days you will be available to meet at the APSA meeting to Ms. Sharilyn Bazile at sharilyn.bazile@slu.edu as soon as possible. In the body of your e-mail, please indicate that you are interested in the International Political Economy position.

Saint Louis University is in the process of posting the online application. Once posted, all applications must be made online at <http://jobs.slu.edu> and include the applicant's curriculum vitae; a cover letter that includes research plans and teaching interests; at least one single-authored writing sample; research and teaching statements; a summary of recent teaching evaluations (if possible, officially produced); and syllabi of classes taught (if available). Please have three current letters of recommendation and official graduate transcripts sent to Ms. Sharilyn Bazile at sharilyn.bazile@slu.edu or Department of Political Science, Saint Louis University, 3750 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis, MO 63108. For questions about the position, please contact Ms. Bazile or call the department office, 314-977-3035. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications or applications received after September 15, 2018 cannot be assured full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4534

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of International Affairs (DIA) at the University of Georgia invites applications for a tenure track position in international relations at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall of 2019. While we seek a scholar who is broadly trained in the concepts, methods, and approaches used in the study of international relations, we are particularly interested in candidates with teaching and research interests in foreign policy and security. Candidates are expected to have a demonstrated ability to produce high quality research, show promise of attracting external funding and teaching effectiveness, and be well trained in research methods, broadly defined.

The School of Public and International Affairs, within which DIA is one of three Departments, has two state-of-the-art experimental research labs -- one for group surveys and experiments and the other for one or two-person observations (with technology to record skin conductance, heart rate variability, and electromyography). Candidates who can make use of our state-of-the-art experimental political psychology research laboratory are particularly encouraged to apply.

Prospective candidates must apply for the position through the UGA Jobs site at <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/29520>. To complete the application, candidates will need to submit a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vita, teaching evaluations demonstrating excellence in instruction, transcripts, and three letters of recommendation. Questions or hard copies of letters of recommendation can be sent to Bill Zachmann, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 309, Athens, GA 30602 (zachmann@uga.edu). The Ph.D. degree in political science or near completion of dissertation is required. For ABD applicants, the degree must be completed by August 1, 2019. Applications received by September 15, 2018 will be assured full consideration.

Georgia is well known for its quality of life both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 75 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The Department of International Affairs is committed to enhancing the diversity of the department and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (employ@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4528

University of Miami

Rank: Tenure-track International Relations or American Politics

Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the field of international relations or American politics. Although the position is open as to these two subfields, preference will be given to international relations candidates who specialize in international security and preference will be given to American politics to candidates who complement our existing strengths. Candidates should have over their PhD by August 15, 2019 and show promise of high-quality research in top scholarly outlets as well as excellence in teaching. The expected teaching assignment is 2-2, and the position will involve teaching in the field of international relations or American politics, including an introductory course.

All application packages can be submitted online via the Faculty Career Opportunities website (<https://umiami.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UMFaculty>) and all documents (CV, letters of nomination, and a list of three references) can be uploaded via this site. Applicants applying for the rank of assistant professor should upload documents including a CV, a letter of interest, teaching evaluations if available, PhD transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), and a single-authored writing sample. More senior scholars applying for the rank of associate professor should upload documents including a CV, a letter of interest, and a list of three references. Applications received on or before Monday, October 15, 2018, will be given full consideration. For further information about the position, please contact the Department Chair (jwest@miami.edu). Additional information about the Department is available at www.as.miami.edu/politicalscience/. The University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity Employer — Females/Minorities/Protected Veterans/Individuals with Disabilities are encouraged to apply. Applicants and employees are protected from discrimination based on certain categories protected by Federal law.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4532

The College of New Jersey

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and the International Studies Program at The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) invite applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in International Relations with a regional focus on East or South Asia to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate expertise in one region as well as an exceptional record or promise as a teacher-scholar of East or South Asian politics, society, and international relations. Candidates should identify in which subfields of international relations they hold expertise. Applicants must demonstrate the ability or potential to work effectively with a diverse student body. The typical teaching load is three courses per semester. During the faculty member's first year, s/he may apply for a competitive course reduction of one course for the following academic year. A Ph.D. is preferred, but the College will consider ABDs if the degree will be granted by time of appointment.

Completed applications received by September 21, 2018 will receive full consideration, but the position will remain open until filled. Submissions must be emailed to jobs@tcnj.edu, and must include:

- 1) Cover letter describing qualifications and research and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae (CV);
- 3) Unofficial or official graduate transcript;
- 4) Scholarly writing sample;
- 5) Evidence of teaching effectiveness including teaching evaluations and sample syllabi;
- 6) Contact information for three references.

In addition, applicants should also have three referees email confidential letters of recommendation directly to irasiapoliticssearch-group@tcnj.edu. Questions can be directed to Brian Potter (potter@tcnj.edu) with "IR and East/South Asia politics recommendation" in the subject line.

Teaching and research are mutually supportive activities at TCNJ. Candidates should be strongly committed to the teacher-scholar model in a primarily undergraduate, residential institution, to maintaining both high quality teaching and an active and productive research program, and to encouraging and engaging highly motivated undergraduates in intensive, individual work both inside and outside the classroom (e.g., undergraduate research, independent study). Faculty members also have service responsibilities within the College.

Founded in 1855, TCNJ has earned national recognition for its commitment to excellence. Emphasizing a residential experience for its approximately 6,500 undergraduates, TCNJ is one of Barron's 75 "Most Competitive" American colleges, and U.S. News & World Report's No. 1 public institution of its kind in the northern region of the country. The College also offers focused graduate programs in Nursing, Education, and English. TCNJ was awarded, in 2006, a Phi Beta Kappa chapter—an honor shared by less than 10 percent of colleges and universities nationally. A strong liberal arts core forms the foundation for programs offered through TCNJ's seven schools—Arts and Communication; Business; Education; Engineering; Humanities and Social Sciences; Nursing, Health, and Exercise Science; and Science. TCNJ faculty members are teacher-scholars who share a commitment to liberal learning. TCNJ is located within an hour, by train, of New York City and Philadelphia. The College's campus is set on 289 tree-lined acres in suburban Ewing Township and is known for its natural beauty. TCNJ has 39 major buildings, including the 4th-best college library in the nation, according to the Princeton Review. For more information, visit www.tcnj.edu.

Employment is contingent upon completion of a successful background check. The successful applicant must present proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/21/2018
Date Posted: 8/7/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4514

University of California, Irvine

Rank: 2018-19 Political Science Lecturer Pool (International Relations Focus)

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of International Relations contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2018-19 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in International Relations. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $54,738 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2018-2019 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/24/18 – 12/14/18

Winter Quarter: 1/2/19 - 3/22/19

Spring Quarter: 3/27/19 – 6/14/19

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04844>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by October 1st, 2018. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/17/2019

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4515

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Formal Theory / Political Economy for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. The applicant should demonstrate advanced skills in analytical reasoning and formal modeling (including but not limited to game theory), as well as a strong applied focus in at least one subfield. The successful candidate will be able to convey their insights to an audience that does not necessarily have extensive formal training but that is interested in the ideas as applied to a well-defined substantive problem. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01847>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4521

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in International Relations for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01838>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4520

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. Applicants should demonstrate strong skills in analytic reasoning, broadly defined, which may include one or more of the following: quantitative methods, formal theory, analytic political philosophy, or modelling. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01840> for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4524

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of assistant professor. This position is pending final budgetary approval.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda as evidenced by working papers or publications, and be able to teach graduate and undergraduate courses as indicated by research presentations and/or teaching assessments. The Department expects applicants to have strong substantive and methodological training, as demonstrated by completed coursework, but has no preferred methodological approach. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs will be considered but must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the date of appointment.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/55199> and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching/research interest (including a summary of teaching evaluations, if available), and sample publications. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin on 9/17/2018, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4496

Tecnológico de Monterrey

Rank: Faculty positions at the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey

Subfield(s): Public Law, Public Administration, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Law & Organizations, Political Development

Faculty positions at the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey

Tecnológico de Monterrey invites applications for full-time assistant professors and visiting professors in:

- International Relations
- Economics
- Political Science
- Law

Full-time assistant professors are expected to take a leadership role in their field of expertise, conducting world class state of the art research leading to publications in top scientific and academic journals, developing and teaching courses, and actively participating in the life of the school. Research is highly valued and strongly supported through access to internal and external research funds, top of the line facilities, a collaborative and research-oriented environment, and a reduced teaching load.

Visiting professors are expected to take a leadership role in their field of expertise, developing and teaching courses, and conducting academic activities in one of our 4 academic development tracks: Consulting, Entrepreneurship, Educational Innovation or Research. In the research track, candidates are encouraged to conduct high quality research leading to publications in top academic journals, and actively participating in the life of the school. Open positions in six different cities: Guadalajara, Mexico City, Monterrey, Puebla, Querétaro, and Toluca.

Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Economics, International Relations, Political Science, Law and Public Policy
- Professional work experience in organizations related to discipline is highly desirable.
- Commitment to high quality teaching as evidenced by student evaluations.
- Use of experiential learning techniques.

The annual total remuneration package is assigned according to candidate's experience and credentials starting from 61,000 USD.

About the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey, we believe in the creation of public value and in developing solutions to the most pressing public problems. We are committed to attract the best faculty and students to research, evaluate and design public policies and legislative proposals to support government's best practices at its different levels. Our faculty members have work experience in the public, social, and private sectors. They are recognized leaders in their field of expertise and are continuously quoted and interviewed in national and international media. We have an academic environment that promotes discussion and raises the public debate with innovative teaching techniques. Our school offers graduate and undergraduate programs in its various campuses. For more information about the School, please visit: <http://escueladegobierno.itesm.mx/>

Tecnológico de Monterrey is one of the Top 10 universities in LATAM and Top 50 of the private universities in the world, according to the QS World University Ranking. The Times Higher Education World University Ranking considers it #1 in Mexico and #5 in LATAM. In addition, Tecnológico de Monterrey is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools of the United States. For more information about our university, please visit: <https://www.tec.mx/en>

Appointment date: January or August 2019

Application procedure:

Interested candidates should submit an application package including the following: curriculum vitae, cover letter, evidence of academic credentials that might include student evaluations, publication in academic journals, etc. and contact information of three references. Please send application package by email to: marian.burillo@itesm.mx and martha.mancilla@itesm.mx

Review will begin immediately and will continue until positions are filled.

Application information: Contact person: Marian Burillo e-mail: marian.burillo@itesm.mx and martha.mancilla@itesm.mx

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4500

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Professorships in Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

We invite applications for one or more positions as Full Professor or fixed-termed Professor with Special Responsibilities at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of the Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Professor or Professor with Special Responsibilities (MSO) are:

- Research within the field of Political Science
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate, post-graduate and PhD students
- Administrative tasks related to the position as Professor or Professor with Special Responsibilities

- Knowledge sharing with wider society
- Research and teaching management
- Fundraising

Applicants for a full professorship must be able to document a very high degree of original scholarly production at international level and have a highly recognised international reputation. Applicants for a MSO professorship must have the potential to make progress in the subject area and being able to document original scholarly production at an international level. The position is established to appoint particular talent, preferable younger researcher to develop a subject area full of perspectives at an international level.

In addition to the general professorial duties, the position as Professor with Special Responsibilities includes special responsibilities to make a specific contribution to realising the Department's strategic goals by either increasing societal impact or innovation in teaching by including problem-solving competences or internationalization.

Qualifications

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced by a recognized international reputation in Political Science or a relevant subfield and demonstrated by a considerable number of existing high-quality publications, which constitute a significant contribution to the field and complements the existing research strengths of the Department. Publications should be published on a continuous basis in top-ranked journals and/or a highly influential publication record with leading book publishers.
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery and further development of an excellent student experience based on a significant track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates, who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Proven ability to provide leadership of research groups as well as an ability to operate in leadership roles at the Departmental, Faculty and University levels.
- The ability and willingness to attract external funding on a larger scale and to lead research projects.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Tel: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048] , email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk.

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4451

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2019. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses and perform research in their specialized area. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the areas of political violence, civil war, ethnic conflict, terrorism, and/or human rights. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2019.

The application deadline is September 15, 2018. A complete application must include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, two writing samples, and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://jobs.rice.edu/postings/16200>.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4485

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Race, Ethnicity and Migration

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Yale University invites applications for an Assistant Professor position in Race, Ethnicity, and Migration. We are particularly interested in outstanding candidates who work on American Politics, and also candidates who work on these issues in Comparative Politics and International Relations. This search is part of a cluster of hires, at multiple levels, the department is making over the next few years. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/53016>.

Review of applications and nominations will begin September 15, 2018, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4489

Yale University

Rank: Open Rank Position in International Relations

Yale University's Department of Political Science invites applications for an open rank search in International Relations. We are interested in candidates from all areas of International Relations, though we have a particular interest in those with expertise in International Political Economy and International Organization. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2019.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at the time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation (if untenured), and a writing sample should be uploaded to <https://apply.interfolio.com/53014>.

Review of applications and nominations will begin September 15, 2018, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna (lani.colianna@yale.edu or 203-432-5238), Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, if you have questions about the application process.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Yale University values diversity among its staff, students, and faculty and strongly encourages applications from and nominations for women and under-represented minorities, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4490

University of California, Merced

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Political Science Department at the University of California, Merced invites applications for an assistant professor (tenure-track) position in either Political Institutions or Political Behavior. The department is particularly interested in applicants who focus on international relations and/or comparative politics but will also consider applicants in American politics.

In order to be considered, candidates must have a PhD in political science (or a closely related field) by the position start date and evidence of excellence in research.

The anticipated start date for this position is July 1, 2019.

Applications must be submitted online. Completed applications must be received no later than September 14, 2018, in order to be considered. Interested applicants are required to submit 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statement of research; 4) statement of teaching; 5) two writing samples; 6) a contributions to diversity statement; and, 7) a list of three references with contact information including mailing address, phone number and e-mail address.

The contributions to diversity statement should describe your past experience, activities and future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion, in alignment with UC Merced's mission to reflect the diversity of California and to meet the educational needs and interests of its diverse population. Some faculty candidates may not have substantial past activities. If that is the case, we recommend focusing on future plans in your statement. For additional information on what should be included on your Diversity Statement, please visit <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html#Are-there-any-guide-lines-for-wr>.

Applicants should arrange to have three letters of reference submitted online. After an application is submitted, the letters of reference should be electronically uploaded by the letter writers (instructions will be provided by the application system). Letters of reference should be received no later than September 14, 2018.

The University of California, Merced is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty, students and staff. The majority of students at UC Merced are members of under-represented minority groups and we encourage applications from candidates dedicated to working in a multicultural environment.

Salary is commensurate with education, experience, and UC academic salary scales.

For additional information, please contact Tom Hansford at thansford@ucmerced.edu.

Applicants will be notified when the final candidate has been selected.

To apply, please visit our UC Merced job posting at: <https://aprecruit.ucmerced.edu/apply/JPF00688>.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 8/2/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4483

Bogazici University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

New: Open Faculty Positions

The Political Science and International Relations Department at Bogazici University in Istanbul Turkey is seeking highly qualified applicants for two tenure-track assistant professor positions. One position is for International Relations and the other is an open call.

Interested applicants should submit all the relevant materials in electronic form, including a CV, a statement of research agenda, a sample of their scholarly work and teaching records to: BUPolsjobapp@boun.edu.tr

Candidates can consult our website (www.pols.boun.edu.tr) for more information about the department.

Start Date: Spring

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 4213

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Institutions

Department of International Relations

Assistant Professor in International Institutions

Salary is competitive with Departments at our peer institutions worldwide and not less than £53,905pa inclusive of London allowance

We are looking to recruit an Assistant Professor in International Institutions.

Based in the Department of International Relations, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

All candidates must have a research interest in international institutions and must also show a clear and viable strategy for future top quality research. We are open with respect to methodological and theoretical approaches.

Candidates will need a completed PhD, or be close to obtaining one, in International Relations or a related field by 1 September 2019. Candidates should also have a proven or developing record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers based on research that is, or has the potential to be, internationally excellent and, ideally, world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour. Some experience of teaching International Institutions at undergraduate or postgraduate level is desirable.

Successful candidates should have excellent communication skills and an ability to work as part of a team with colleagues across the School.

The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification, which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start on 1 September 2019.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification.

To apply for this post, please go to www.lse.ac.uk/LSEJobs. If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email R.Mokogwu@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 23 September 2018 (23.59 UK time). We are unable to accept any late applications.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/23/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4469

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations Theory

Department of International Relations

Assistant Professor in International Relations Theory

Salary is competitive with Departments at our peer institutions worldwide and not less than £53,905pa inclusive of London allowance

We are looking to recruit an Assistant Professor in International Relations Theory.

Based in the Department of International Relations, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

All candidates must have a research interest in international relations theory and must also show a clear and viable strategy for future top quality research. We are open with respect to theoretical and methodological approaches.

Candidates will need a completed PhD, or be close to obtaining one, in International Relations or a related field by 1 September 2019. Candidates should also have a proven or developing record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers based on research that is, or has the potential to be, internationally excellent and, ideally, world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour. Some experience of teaching International Relations Theory at undergraduate or postgraduate level is desirable.

Successful candidates should have excellent communication skills and an ability to work as part of a team with colleagues across the School. The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification, which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start on 1 September 2019.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification.

To apply for this post, please go to www.lse.ac.uk/LSEJobs. If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email R.Mokogwu@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 23 September 2018 (23.59 UK time). We are unable to accept any late applications.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/23/2018
Date Posted: 8/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4468

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks qualified candidates for two tenure-track Assistant Professor positions. We welcome applications in all sub-fields; however, we expect to hire one Assistant Professor in International Relations. The department seeks excellent scholars with a rigorous theoretical and empirical approach to the study of politics. The positions are to begin September 1, 2019, pending budgetary and administrative approval.

Candidates must possess a PhD by September 2019, in political science or a cognate discipline. They will have a record of excellent research that has been published or otherwise disseminated in a manner appropriate to career stage, and have the potential to be a future leader of the profession in their field of expertise. Candidates should also have proven ability as excellent teachers at undergraduate and/or graduate level.

Please apply online at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52766> with a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, three references, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching and research statements. Applications should be received by October 1, 2018. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply a link to their professional website; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4448

Occidental College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Global Political Economy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

A search at the Assistant Professor level in Global Political Economy. We are particularly interested in applicants whose research explicitly connects the study of Global Political Economy to other major sub-fields in International Relations, such as security, transnationalism/migration, international organizations and/or human rights. The successful candidate will be expected to teach Introduction to Global Political Economy (DWA103) and at least one other DWA core course, which includes Introduction to International Relations and/or International Organizations. Priority will be given to applicants who are developing a research agenda that shows promise in terms of leveraging substantial field work with international or regional organizations, transnational NGOs, and/or entities working on challenges that face major urban centers or particular regions. Consideration will be given to a candidate whose teaching and research are interdisciplinary, can contribute to the College's Core / Cultural Studies Programs, and advance the College's Mission and its commitment to the Liberal Arts. An expectation will be that an eventual hire will continue the DWA department, Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, and Occidental College's engagement with on-the-ground work in international affairs, at the local/Los Angeles, transnational, and/or global levels. An additional priority is the ability to advance the College's mission, past evidence of and future plans for creating equitable opportunities in learning and mentoring for underrepresented students, and an understanding of the distinctiveness of the Liberal Arts culture. Further, we expect the new faculty member will augment and invigorate the DWA department by collaborating with its existing faculty, ongoing initiatives, and continued curricular innovations.

Occidental College is a highly-selective, urban liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, the College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in Northeast Los Angeles. As one of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental affords students and faculty unique engagement with communities, cultural institutions, and academic resources throughout Los Angeles.

Candidates should send their application as an electronic file to Ms. Romy Corona at oxysearches@oxy.edu. A complete application will include the following materials: (1) a cover letter that details the candidate's interest in teaching at Occidental, the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, and the goals of the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy; (2) potential initiatives as part of the Young Initiative committee; (3) a discussion of the applicant's academic research, field practice, teaching experience, and program development; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) a list and brief descriptions of courses the applicant could teach at Oxy; (6) scholarly work sample; (7) Curriculum Vitae; and (8) three confidential letters of recommendation, with at least one attesting to your teaching; letters must be sent by recommenders. All materials are due no later than October 19, 2018; applications received after the deadline will not be reviewed. Interviews of semi-finalists will be held via videoconference.

For information on the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, including current course offerings, please visit our website at: <http://www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs>. For information on the John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, please visit our website at: <https://www.oxy.edu/john-parke-young-initiative-global-political-economy>. For inquiries about the position, the DWA department, and/or the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy please direct questions to Sophal Ear, Associate Professor of Diplomacy & World Affairs: ear@oxy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/19/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4474

Occidental College

Rank: Associate Professor in Global Political Economy/Development Practice

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

A search at the Associate Professor level in Global Political Economy/Development Practice. The expectation is that after a transitional period (commensurate with experience) this hire will serve as the Young Initiative Chair on the Global Political Economy, directing the use of its generously endowed fund.

We are looking for applicants who have powerfully demonstrated an ambitious research and practice agenda that can be translated into innovative Young Initiative programming (current Young programming includes both working with the Los Angeles mayor's office to integrate the Sustainable Development Goals into city-wide policies and initiatives in the field of Social Entrepreneurship). We are particularly interested in applicants whose research and practice agenda focuses on areas such as the Sustainable Development Goals; Human Rights-based Approaches to Economic Development; and/or Equity/Equality in Economic Development (with reference to race, class, identity, and/or gender). Priority will be given to applicants who have demonstrated a research and practice that leverages substantial fieldwork with international or regional organizations, transnational NGOs, and/or entities working in major urban cities or in a regional context. The eventual hire will be expected to teach at least one class that will be cross-listed with the Economics Department, and thus will need to demonstrate sufficient training in economics to teach such a course with attention to requisite mixed quantitative/qualitative methods. An expectation will be that an eventual hire will immediately catalyze Occidental College's continued engagement with on-the-ground work in international affairs, at the local/Los Angeles, transnational, and/or global levels. An additional priority is the ability to advance the College's mission, past evidence of and future plans for creating equitable opportunities in learning and mentoring for underrepresented students, an understanding of the distinctiveness of the Liberal Arts culture, and a commitment to constructively engage with faculty from other disciplines, e.g. (but not exclusively) Economics, Politics, Urban and Environmental Studies. Further, we expect the new faculty member will augment and invigorate the DWA department by collaborating with its existing faculty, ongoing initiatives, and continued curricular innovations.

The John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy is funded through a bequest from John Parke Young '17, a distinguished international economist, former chair of the college's Economics Department, and a 50-year member of the Occidental board of trustees. The Young Initiative has enabled faculty and student research and international opportunities at Occidental with the aim to promote national policies and actions of public and social benefit.

Occidental College is a highly selective, urban liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, the College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in Northeast Los Angeles. As one of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental affords students and faculty unique engagement with communities, cultural institutions, and academic resources throughout Los Angeles.

Candidates should send their application as an electronic file to Ms. Chamnan Lim at youngsearch@oxy.edu. A complete application will include the following materials: (1) a cover letter that details the interest in teaching at Occidental and the goals of the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy; (2) potential initiatives as part of the Young Initiative committee and as its eventual Chair; (3) a discussion of the applicant's academic research, field practice, teaching experience, and program development; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) a list and brief descriptions of courses the applicant could teach at Oxy; (6) scholarly work sample; (7) Curriculum Vitae; and (8) three confidential letters of recommendation, with at least one attesting to your teaching; letters must be sent by recommenders.

All materials are due no later than October 1, 2018; applications received after the deadline will not be reviewed. Interviews of semi-finalists will be held via videoconference.

For information on the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, including current course offerings, please visit our website at: <http://www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs>

www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs. For information on the John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, please visit our website at: <https://www.oxy.edu/john-parke-young-initiative-global-political-economy>. Inquiries about the position, the DWA department, and/or the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy can be directed to the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy Interim Chair, Professor Anthony Tirado Chase: achase@oxy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4470

Princeton University

Rank: Fellowship

Fung Global Fellows Program

Princeton University is pleased to announce the call for applications to the Fung Global Fellows Program at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS). Each year the program selects six scholars from around the world to be in residence at Princeton for an academic year and to engage in research and discussion around a common theme. Candidates will be considered in three categories: (1) Four of the fellowships will be awarded to early-career scholars employed in the equivalent of tenure-track positions who are expected to return to their position. (2) One fellowship is set aside for a postdoctoral research associate who at the time of application does not have a tenure-track faculty appointment. (3) In addition, one fellowship will be awarded to a senior scholar. All candidates must be based outside the United States.

During the academic year 2019-20, the Fung Global Fellows Program theme will be "Thinking Globally." How people have thought about the planet has informed the institutions, norms, and policies that have pulled it together and torn it apart. For centuries, ideas of free trade, human rights or global governance have framed cooperation and competition, order and disorder. Such ideas have also spawned border-crossing movements, from campaigns to end slavery to commitments to reduce carbon emissions. In turn, global thinking and action have often reinforced commitments to national ideas and efforts to curb global exchange. The goal of this research theme is to explore how ideas framed the understanding of interests and the making of institutions that have yielded commonness and conflict across and within borders. We also want to understand how these ideas and practices came into being through scientific networks, foundations, and think tanks. The Program will also examine rival world ideas that have challenged prevailing orthodoxies. Nowadays, with cooperative norms under challenge, global institutions under stress, and a century of guiding ideas about global convergence in doubt, we want to take a broad look at where these ideas came from, their effects, and the prospects for intellectual renewal or rethinking. The goal of the 2019-20 Fung Global Fellows cohort will be to explore the ways people learned to rely on or to reject strangers far away, as well as to imagine how global relationships came to be and could be different. We welcome applicants from all disciplinary and inter-disciplinary fields from the sciences to the humanities whose work addresses this set of themes in any historical period or world region.

Applications are due on November 9, 2018. All candidates must reside outside the United States. To be eligible, postdoctoral applicants must have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. before August 1, 2019 but cannot have received their degrees more than three years prior to the start of the appointment on September 1, 2019. Early-career fellows must have received their Ph.D. or equivalent no earlier than September 1, 2009. Senior scholars, who have received their doctorates before 2009, must have faculty appointments and a record of scholarly accomplishment in the designated theme of the program. Fellowships will be awarded on the strength of a candidate's proposed research project, the relationship of the project to the program theme, the candidate's scholarly record, and the ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the program.

Start Date: Summer 2018
Application Deadline: 11/8/2019
Date Posted: 8/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4322

University of Illinois at Chicago

Rank: Director/Professor/Associate Professor--Latin American and Latino Studies Program

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Other

The Program in Latin American and Latino Studies in the College of Liberal Arts and Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) invites applications and nominations for the position of Director. The successful candidate will provide leadership for the program and a vision for its continued excellence in research, teaching, service, and community engagement. The Director is the chief administrative officer of the program with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters.

UIC is a Carnegie Doctoral/Research-Extensive University located in the heart of one of the nation's largest metropolitan areas. It is a comprehensive public university with a diverse student body of more than 29,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. UIC is federally recognized as a Minority Serving Institution (MSI) through its status as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI) fully funded by the U.S. Department of Education

The Program in Latin American and Latino Studies is comprised of an interdisciplinary group of scholars dedicated to working in a wide range of areas in the Social Sciences and Humanities of Latin America and the Latino communities of the United States. The program's faculty offers a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses and serves a diverse student body of approximately fifty majors and minors and 12 M.A. students (<https://lals.uic.edu/lals>). Faculty have exceptional research opportunities as a result of collaborations and affiliations with other interdisciplinary units in the college, as well as with UIC research centers such as the Great Cities Institute, the Institute for the Humanities, and the Institute for Research on Race and Public Policy. The program has served as the headquarters of Inter-University Program for Latino Research and presently houses the IUPLR/Andrew Mellon Dissertation Completion Fellows Program in Latino Humanities Studies.

The Director is the chief administrative officer of the program with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters. Teach, do research in area of expertise, provide service to the university.

The successful candidate will have a PhD, a distinguished record of scholarship, evidence of excellent teaching, and appropriate academic administrative experience. Candidates with the rank of Full Professor preferred but advanced Associate Professors will be considered. A demonstrated ability to foster collaboration among a diverse group of scholars is desirable, as is a strong record of external funding and exemplary awards. The ideal Director will work with key units and communities at UIC and the Chicago metropolitan area to enhance the mission of the Program, the College, and the University.

For information about the application processes please contact Edward Drogos at edrogo2@uic.edu. For information about the Program please contact Prof. María de los Ángeles Torres at torresma@uic.edu. The desired appointment date is August 16, 2019. Salary is competitive based on qualifications. To apply complete an on-line application and upload a cover letter, full curriculum vitae and the names and full contact information of four references. Applications and nominations should be received by November 26, 2018 to receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4472

University of San Francisco

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track, International Studies

Assistant Professor, Tenure-Track, International Studies

University of San Francisco

Job Summary:

The International Studies Department at the University of San Francisco invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2019. The International Studies Department is a dynamic, interdisciplinary department that houses two programs: the Bachelor of Arts in International Studies (BAIS) and the Master of Arts in International Studies (MAIS). Our mission is to provide students with the theoretical and analytical tools needed to engage in a critical examination of issues facing our world within an interactive learning environment centered on holistic education for the whole person to educate global citizens.

We are seeking applications from candidates with a Ph.D. in International Studies or related field. Preference will be given to applicants whose work centers on one or more of the following areas: diplomacy, human rights, indigeneity and race/intersectionality in a global perspective. We especially welcome applications from scholars with an activist perspective, who use mixed research methods and we are interested in candidates who can articulate a global-local connection with their scholarly work and are able to bring community-engaged learning into their teaching. Though all geographical areas of expertise are welcome, we are particularly interested in applicants with a regional expertise in the Middle East or Latin America.

Job Responsibilities:

The successful candidate must be able to teach Introduction to International Studies, Research Methods at the graduate and undergraduate levels, and Critical Social Theory at the graduate level, as well as undergraduate and graduate elective courses in their area of expertise.

The standard teaching load for this position at USF is two 4-unit courses per semester with an additional third course every fourth semester (2-2-2-3 over two years). In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to engage in service to the department, college, and university, as well as maintain an active research program that engages both undergraduate and graduate students when possible.

Minimum Requirements:

Applicants must have earned their doctorate by August 31, 2018 and have prior university teaching experience beyond serving as a teaching assistant. Applicants should articulate a commitment to interdisciplinary exploration and applied research with a demonstrated ability to work across disciplines and a collaborative orientation. Candidates must have a strong record of teaching at the university level, evidence of research scholarship and an active research agenda, administrative experience, dedication to service, and an understanding of, and commitment to, supporting the mission of USF.

Additional Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities:

For information on how to apply, please visit the following link: <http://apptrkr.com/1268250>

EEO Policy

The University of San Francisco is an equal opportunity institution of higher education. As a matter of policy, the University does not discriminate in employment, educational services and academic programs on the basis of an individual's race, color, religion, religious creed, ancestry, national origin, age (except minors), sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, medical condition (cancer-related and genetic-related) and disability, and the other bases prohibited by law. The University reasonably accommodates qualified individuals with disabilities under the law.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-5209979da93ad847a0ec3406d9374d60>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4473

Georgetown University

Rank: Senior Tenured Scholar - McDonough School of Business and the Walsh School of Foreign Service

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business (MSB) and the Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS) invite applications and nominations for a senior tenured scholar to hold a joint appointment in both schools. We seek scholars who work at the intersection of business and international affairs in fields such as international political economy, international trade, and international business and public policy. We expect to make this appointment at the level of Full Professor, though we welcome applications from accomplished associate professors. We also welcome applications from and nominations of senior scholars with extensive policymaking experience.

This joint position is one of a number of new interdisciplinary positions at Georgetown intended to foster scholarship and teaching on some of the important problems of our times. Because of our location in Washington, DC, extensive linkages to the international policy and business communities, and strong tradition of scholarship and teaching in business, international affairs, and political economy, Georgetown has a unique opportunity to pursue integrative opportunities in scholarship and educational programs at the intersection of these fields, and the person appointed to the joint position will play an important role in these initiatives.

The MSB and SFS are currently undertaking a transformative cooperation to create a new joint undergraduate degree, the first in Georgetown's history, and plans are also underway for joint centers and research initiatives. This cooperation builds on the success of several joint graduate degrees, as well as a jointly administered Global Business Fellows program for undergraduates. The successful candidate will help provide leadership in deepening and broadening the linkages between the schools.

The SFS is a preeminent international affairs school with deep expertise in international political economy, regional studies, and security studies. The MSB has strengths in core business disciplines as well as international business, public policy, and international political economy. Both the MSB and the SFS are collegial and multi-disciplinary.

ABOUT GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY: Georgetown University is one of the world's leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs. More information can be found here: <https://www.georgetown.edu/>.

ABOUT THE MCDONOUGH SCHOOL OF BUSINESS: Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business attracts faculty and students from around the world. We are committed to developing principled leaders capable of making complex business decisions in a global environment and who are dedicated to serving both business and society. Georgetown McDonough offers undergraduate, MBA, Executive MBA, and specialized programs. More information can be found here: <https://msb.georgetown.edu/>.

ABOUT THE WALSH SCHOOL OF FOREIGN SERVICE: The Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS), founded in 1919, is a premier school of international affairs. At Georgetown's Washington, D.C., and Qatar campuses, SFS provides a rigorous education grounded in both theory and practice while instilling the Jesuit values of service. SFS hosts top-ranked undergraduate and graduate studies which feature an interdisciplinary core curriculum that focuses on international affairs, government, economics, history, theology, philosophy, geography, and language. SFS faculty are scholars in political science, economics, history, and cultural studies, as well as professionals with backgrounds in business, government, and the nonprofit sector.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to apply.interfolio.com/52848. Please send nominations to the same address. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on 1 November 2018, but will accept applications and nominations until the position is filled. Professors Dennis P. Quinn of MSB and Erik Voeten of SFS will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4455

University of Cincinnati

Rank: Islamic Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The University of Cincinnati invites applications by advanced assistant and associate professors to fill the Inayat and Ishrat Malik Professorship in Islamic Studies. The position will begin in the fall of 2019. The search committee welcomes applications from scholars in the field of Islamic Studies, with research and teaching interests in such areas as Anthropology, Comparative Religion, Arabic, Ethics, Gender Studies, History, Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, and Theology.

Minimum Qualifications: A Ph.D. is required, as well as prior teaching experience and evidence of scholarly excellence.

The successful candidate is expected to engage in research, to teach on the graduate and undergraduate levels in their area, and to contribute, via interdisciplinary education and as appropriate, to undergraduate certificate programs in such areas as Religious Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, Arabic Studies, Asian Studies, Security Studies, and Women's, Gender and Sexuality Studies. The successful candidate should be thoroughly knowledgeable in the Islamic intellectual tradition and in Qur'anic Studies. Enthusiasm to present Islamic teachings in multiple areas of thought and experience and in a style accessible to diverse student audiences is essential. This effort will include the presentation of at least one public lecture in Islamic Studies each academic year. The candidate should also have a track-record of engagement with the Islamic community, demonstrate a willingness to contribute to the Islamic Center of Greater Cincinnati, and be able to build productive relationships with academic partners across campus and with interfaith and cultural groups in the Cincinnati area.

The tenure-track position will be housed in the department in the College of Arts & Sciences most appropriate to the candidate's degree. Joint appointments are possible.

The successful candidate will be expected to make service contributions to the mission of that department and commensurate with the position of Professorship in Islamic Studies. The teaching load will accord with that of research-active faculty. The University of Cincinnati is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity. The University is interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community, and we hope to attract applicants who have experience in promoting the success of students from diverse backgrounds. We encourage women, members of racial/ethnic/gender groups underrepresented in higher education, persons with disabilities, and veterans to apply.

For full consideration, interested and qualified apply online at <https://jobs.uc.edu> (Search Requisition #31164). A complete application will include a letter of interest, a CV, an article-length writing sample, and a one-page statement summarizing your contributions or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion as they relate to teaching, research and/or mentoring. Please use the Additional Documents function to submit the required documents. Three letters of reference must be directly submitted by recommenders to history@ucmail.uc.edu.

For questions or additional information, please contact Professor Jeff Zalar, Chair of the Search Committee, at zalarjy@ucmail.uc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4456

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track position in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University
Faculty Recruitment Information (Tenure-track position)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics at Waseda University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in political science to begin as early as April 1, 2019. The position is open with respect to the field of specialization. The Faculty seeks to appoint a promising junior scholar who demonstrates potential for making significant contribution to the profession in his or her field of expertise with theoretically innovative and methodologically sound research, and excellence in teaching. A successful candidate will have a rigorous training in formal, empirical, or normative methods.

Successful applicant must have a Ph.D. in political science or a cognate discipline by the date of appointment. Proficiency in Japanese is desired but not required. The initial term for the tenure-track appointment is three years, with a possible extension of two years, contingent on an interim review during the second or third year. Tenure may be granted at any time during the probationary period upon a successful tenure review.

Waseda University, founded in 1882, is a leading private research university located in central Tokyo. As part of the University's internationalization initiative, the Faculty of Political Science and Economics has offered English-based degree programs both at the undergraduate and graduate levels since 2010. The programs offer a diverse and dynamic academic community to talented students from all around the world.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, and up to three samples of significant written scholarship electronically via:

https://www.wasedapse.jp/en/fpse1/eng\_input.php

1. Submit your cover letter (use Template Form A) in the "(1) Application Form / Cover Letter" field
2. Submit your professional cv (use Template Form B) to the "(2) Curriculum Vitae with a list of academic/professional accomplishments" field
3. Submit your research statement in the "(3) Additional application material 1" field

4. Submit up to three written works in the "(3) Additional application material 2-4" fields

The application deadline is Friday, September 28, 2018 at 1:00 p.m. (JST). Should you wish to submit a hard copy of your work or any other application materials, please send us two copies by registered mail on or before the application deadline. Receipt of applications will be acknowledged by email within 10 days after the deadline.

Candidates should also arrange to have two letters of reference submitted via email, or standard mail to the address indicated below on or before the application deadline. Should your reference send a letter via email, we ask that the letter be emailed from his or her professional affiliation. Reference letters should be sent to:

pse-hr-PolSciTT@list.waseda.jp

Prof. Koichi Suga, Dean

Attn: Application for Tenure-Track positions for Political Science

Faculty of Political Science and Economics

Waseda University

1-6-1 Nishi Waseda, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-8050

Japan

For full information of this posting, please see the link below.

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/07/27/9113/>

Any questions regarding the position or the application procedure should be directed to pse-hr-PolSciTT@list.waseda.jp.

Please note that the recruitment process involves three stages: 1) document screening; 2) campus visit including research presentation and an interview with the search committee; and 3) interview with the dean.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 9/28/2018

Date Posted: 7/28/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4443

School of Advanced Air and Space Studies

Rank: Asst/Assoc Professor of Strategy and Security Studies

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Defense, History & Politics, International Security

The School of Advanced Air and Space Studies (SAASS) is seeking a scholar of strategic or security studies to join our faculty beginning summer, 2019. Applicants with a specialization in space policy, space law, space history, or technology and innovation are of particular interest.

SAASS educates strategists for the US Air Force and the nation. The faculty develops and presents a yearlong graduate curriculum designed to educate students in the art of strategy and strategic studies, enhancing the Air Force's capacity to defend the United States through the control and exploitation of air, space, and cyberspace. Graduates receive a Master of Philosophy in Military Strategy degree with the possibility to continue toward a PhD in Military Strategy. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Colleges accredits both programs through The Air University.

Successful applicants will support the Air University and SAASS missions and have experience in the development, study, evaluation, or implementation of strategy, in terms of policy, history or practice. Applicants must have a completed PhD or JD, in an area relevant to strategic studies, with the ability to teach in a relevant field such as history, political science, and technology. Emphasis on the control and exploitation of space, air, and cyberspace and extensive professional experience in these areas is highly desired. The selection committee will consider applicants at the assistant and associate levels.

Primary duties include teaching graduate-level courses across the breadth of the school's curriculum, advising thesis and dissertation students, curriculum development, course direction, scholarly research and publication, and service to the school and university commensurate with individual experience.

Applicants will be required to submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation and samples of research, course syllabi and teaching evaluations to the chair of the search committee (via email or regular mail). Additionally, candidates will need to formally apply for the position using the USAJobs site, which will begin accepting applications on 1 September 2018. Review of applications will begin 1 October and continue until the position is filled.

Preliminary interviews will be conducted at the APSA annual meeting in Boston from August 30-Sep 1, 2018.

To schedule a meeting at APSA or for further information, please direct inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Derrick Frazier (derrick.frazier@us.af.mil); SAASS, 125 Chennault Circle, Room 2222A, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4446

Singapore Management University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Singapore Management University, School of Social Sciences

Assistant Professor in Political Science Positions –

(1) International Relations (IR)

(2) Comparative Politics & Public Policy (CP)

The School of Social Sciences (SOSS), Singapore Management University, invites applications for two tenure-track positions in (1) International Relations (IR), and (2) Comparative Politics and Public Policy (CP), at the rank of Assistant Professor.

(1) International Relations (IR)

We are seeking candidates who are well rounded in International Relations and especially those with expertise in international organizations, regionalism, migration, or human security. The successful candidate will display a record of, or high potential for, scholarly research, as well as demonstrated teaching aptitude. The position requires a doctorate in Political Science, International Relations, or a closely related field. Successful candidates should be prepared to teach both introductory courses and advanced electives in international relations.

(2) Comparative Politics and Public Policy (CP)

The ideal candidate is one who conducts innovative research in Comparative Politics who can also teach Public Policy courses. We are open to research focus, although interest in Asia is a plus. The successful candidate will display a record of, or high potential for, scholarly research, as well as demonstrated teaching aptitude. The position requires a doctorate in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field. Successful candidates should be prepared to teach courses in both the Political Science major field as well as in the Public Policy and Public Management second major.

Singapore Management University is a research university committed to an interdisciplinary and integrated curriculum, providing opportunities to work with faculty across the social sciences. The research support is excellent, and salary and benefits are highly competitive. The teaching load is comparable to other research universities, and typically, junior faculty receive a 3-course per year teaching load for their first contract.

Full evaluation of applications will start 15 September 2018. To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by 11:59pm (GMT) on 14 September 2018. Interviews for shortlisted candidates will begin in October 2018. The successful candidate will be expected to start at Singapore Management University in July 2019.

The application package should be in electronic form (Word or PDF file) and include: (1) a cover letter (including a summary of research and teaching interests), (2) an up-to-date curriculum vitae (including a list of three referees), (3) a 1-2 page research statement, (4) a 1-2 page teaching statement, (5) up to three writing samples, and (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness. The applications should be e-mailed to socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg. Please identify in the e-mail which of the positions you are applying for, with "Asst Prof in IR" or "Asst Prof in CP" as subject.

Applicants should also arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent directly to: The Dean's Office, School of Social Sciences, Singapore Management University, 90 Stamford Road, Level 4, Singapore 178903, or e-mailed to: socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg.

Information about SMU and the School of Social Sciences can be found at www.socsc.smu.edu.sg

Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 9/14/2018

Date Posted: 7/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4440

Cornell University - ILR School

Rank: Tenure-Track Position - International and Comparative Labor

Tenure-Track Position

International and Comparative Labor

ILR School, Cornell University

The Department of International and Comparative Labor at Cornell University's School of Industrial and Labor Relations (ILR) invites applications to fill a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level to begin August 2019. Applicants should have research and teaching interests related to international labor, work, and employment, either focused on particular regions of the world or on a theme studied across countries and regions. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in a relevant field such as industrial relations, sociology, political science, anthropology, economics, organization studies, management, or other related disciplines. A demonstrated potential for high quality teaching and research leading to publication in top-tier journals is essential.

General information on the ILR School can be obtained at our web site: www.ilr.cornell.edu. Our faculty includes scholars from a number of disciplinary backgrounds who study a broad range of issues related to work, labor, and employment.

Cornell University is an equal opportunity employer, and women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.

To be considered, please apply via Academic Jobs Online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11374>. Interested candidates should submit a cover letter describing their research and teaching interests, a vita, a writing sample, and three references.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018. Inquiries about this position should be directed to Prof. Virginia Doellgast (vld7@cornell.edu), Prof. Alex Colvin (ajc22@cornell.edu), Prof. Eli Friedman (edf48@cornell.edu), or Prof. Emily Zitek (emz34@cornell.edu).

Diversity and Inclusion are a part of Cornell University's heritage. We are a recognized employer and educator valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans, and Individuals with Disabilities.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2apply.net/xhqrcrd6tkxrt4bd>

PI103515317

Start Date:
Date Posted: 7/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4420

Emory University

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

Assistant Professor – International Relations
Department of Political Science
Emory University
Atlanta, GA

The Department of Political Science at Emory University invites applications for a tenure track position in international relations, to begin in the fall semester 2019. The position is at the level of Assistant Professor.

Applicants must demonstrate excellence or the promise of excellence in both research and teaching. A complete application will include the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future research, writing sample, teaching portfolio, graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation, and a diversity statement. Emory University is committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. In the diversity statement, applicants should reflect upon their experience and vision regarding the teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds. Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. or be on track to complete a Ph.D. prior to September 2019. The teaching load and benefits are competitive. Application review will begin on September 2, 2018. Applications received up to 30 days after review begins will be given full consideration.

To apply for this position, please submit your materials free of charge through Interfolio by visiting <https://apply.interfolio.com/52622>

Emory University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/2/2018
Date Posted: 7/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4423

Indiana University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Chinese Economics and Trade

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Asian American Politics, East Asia, Political Theory

Indiana University's School of Global and International Studies seeks a full-time tenure-track assistant professor in Chinese Economics and Trade to begin fall 2019. The position is in the School's renowned multidisciplinary Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures. We welcome candidates who hold a Ph.D. in economics, international studies, law, political science, or sociology. Candidates must have active research agendas involving Chinese-language sources and field-work experience in China.

The successful candidate will hold the endowed GLP-Ming Z. Mei Chair of Chinese Economics and Trade. The teaching load is two courses per semester, and position responsibilities include teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels. This is an exciting moment to join the new and expanding School of Global and International Studies as it leads Indiana University's international research and teaching missions. The East Asian Languages and Cultures Department is over fifty years old and has a long history of teaching across many disciplines, including such social science fields as political economy and sociology. EALC's teaching and research missions have also benefitted since the founding of the School of Global and International Studies from increasing synergies with our allied Department of International Studies and other area studies units.

Candidates must have a doctoral degree or clear indication that the degree will be in hand by July 31, 2019. All applications received by October 5, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application; CV; three letters of recommendation; official transcripts of graduate studies; a 25-30 page writing sample at: <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com>. Questions regarding the position or application process may be directed to Prof. Gardner Bovington, Chair, Search Committee for the GLP-Ming Z. Mei Chair in Chinese Economics and Trade, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Global and International Studies Building 2035, 355 N. Jordan Ave., Bloomington, IN 47405-1105, or via e-mail at: gbovingd@indiana.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/5/2018
Date Posted: 7/17/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4396

University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Professor/Chair Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Given multiple expected retirements and the demographics of departmental faculty, the Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Reno invites applications for Department Chair. This is an exciting opportunity for a senior scholar to aid in the mentoring of rising junior scholars, to continue hiring of diverse and productive faculty, and promote one of the largest majors in the college and University. Appointment to the position will begin July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be named the "Vail Pittman Professor of Political Science" and have access to an endowment that comes with the Pittman Professorship.

The department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. The position is open to all research areas in political science. The department chair is expected to provide academic and administrative leadership to 19 faculty members and staff, teach two courses a year, and oversee departmental operations that include budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. The chair will work closely with the Directors of Undergraduate Studies and Graduate Studies to provide teaching support for the department's 500 undergraduate majors and 60 graduate students. While the position can be from any research area within Political Science, the chair should have familiarity with standards and practices in support of specific degrees offered by the Department which include an undergraduate interdisciplinary International Affairs BA, traditional Political Science BA, MA and PhD degrees, and a thriving Masters of Public Administration (MPA). The chair is also expected to build a strong relationship with college administration to further strengthen the department's research and teaching agenda. Finally, the chair should be prepared to continue advancing our commitment to increasing the diversity of our department community, research expertise, and curriculum.

Required Qualifications

Qualifications for the position include a PhD in political science, public policy, public administration or related field; an established record of research and teaching excellence; and previous administrative experience that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Department Information

The Department of Political Science is housed in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Nevada, Reno, and a Tier One university. The College of Liberal Arts administers more than 20 majors and minors, and is the largest college at the university (<http://www.unr.edu/liberalarts>). The department administers two undergraduate degree programs in political science and international affairs, and two accelerated BA/MA and BA/MPA degrees for 500 undergraduate majors. There are an additional 120 plus minors in Political Science, Renewable Energy, Asian Studies, and Latin American Studies (all administered by the Department).

The department is home to three graduate programs that confer MA, MPA, and PhD degrees. Additional information about the department can be found on its website: <https://www.unr.edu/political-science>. In recent years, the department has experienced substantial growth in the number of faculty, research productivity, and external funding awards. The department expects to play a significant role in the university's long-term expansion plans and its movement toward R1 research status.

For more information and to apply, please visit: https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNR-external/job/University-of-Nevada-Reno---Main-Campus/Professor-Chair-Political-Science\_R0110642

Total Compensation

The total compensation package includes a negotiable competitive salary, moving expenses (if applicable), a rich retirement plan, health insurance options that include dental and vision, life insurance, long-term disability, annual and sick leave, along with many other benefits. Additionally, there is a grant-in-aid educational benefit for faculty and dependents.

Contact Information for this position

Eric Herzik, herzik@unr.edu

For full consideration please apply by October 8, 2018. This search will close without notice when a sufficient number of applications are received or a hiring decision has been made.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4397

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Irvine seeks a one year Visiting Lecturer to teach up to five undergraduate courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. This part-time position will replace faculty on leave during the 2018-19 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in these fields. Candidates should have a Ph.D. and be prepared to teach a mix of lower and upper division courses. This part-time position is based on an annual salary range beginning at $53,402.

Service Period Dates for 2018-2019 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/24/18 – 12/14/18

Winter Quarter: 1/2/19 - 3/22/19

Spring Quarter: 3/27/19 – 6/14/19

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04773>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2018. The application will close officially on September 17th, 2018.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 7/16/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4394

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis seeks candidates for one position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the area of international relations to begin Fall 2019 or later. Duties include research and publication, course teaching, student advising, and department and university service. Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field is required at the assistant or associate level. In addition, candidates at the associate professor rank must, through research and publication, have made a significant contribution to one or more subfields in Political Science. Washington University in St. Louis is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, genetic information, disability, or protected veteran status.

We will begin reviewing files on September 15 and will continue doing so until the search is concluded. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through the Washington University HR system (<http://hr.wustl.edu/opportunities/Pages/default.aspx>). Candidates should create an account, search for job requisition number 40934, complete the application form and upload a CV and supporting materials. Letters of reference can be e-mailed to artsci-pschair@email.wustl.edu.

If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email artsci-pschair@email.wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at (314) 935-5852.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Date Posted: 7/16/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4393

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Rank: Class of 1965 Arctic Scholar

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

The Department of Humanities at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy seeks an emerging scholar to fill the Class of 1965 Arctic Scholar position in the Center for Arctic Study and Policy (CASP). Housed in the Department of Humanities, CASP is a policy-focused academic research institution that supports Coast Guard-wide Arctic and polar strategy and policy, while advancing cadet knowledge of the subject areas. The Class of '65 Arctic Scholar will teach 3-6 credit hours per semester, and serve as a principal investigator on research projects in support of CASP. The position offers a competitive salary and generous travel support. In addition, the successful candidate will:

- Assist with grant writing for funding opportunities as determined with the Director.
- Conduct research on policy and strategy in the polar regions consistent with CASP objectives to advance this area of expertise.
- Publish articles, book chapters and other relevant work in scholarly and trade journals, editing volumes and other venues related to Arctic and maritime policy.

- Facilitate learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and personal contacts.
- Plan and coordinate academic conferences, workshops, and symposia pertinent to advancing CASP's strategic objectives.
- Contribute as a faculty co-advisor to undergraduate advanced research projects.

Start Date: Winter 2019
Application Deadline: 9/16/2018
Date Posted: 7/15/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4350

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an international or comparative political economy position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in the Fall of 2019. This is a new position to support our growing undergraduate major in International Relations. The regular teaching load for this position must include Politics of the Global Economy and either introduction to international relations or comparative politics. The Department is open with regard to additional regional or thematic areas of expertise. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department's mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens.

Loyola Marymount, a comprehensive Catholic university in the mainstream of American higher education, seeks professionally outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to academic excellence, the education of the whole person, the service of faith and the promotion of justice. LMU is an equal opportunity institution actively working to promote an intercultural learning community. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. (Visit www.lmu.edu for more information.)

The application requires:

- 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU's mission);
- 2) a curriculum vitae;
- 3) a writing sample;
- 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and, if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi;
- 5) three letters of recommendation.

Candidate materials should be emailed together as a complete package to: Alfred Kandlbauer at POLSJobs@lmu.edu. Three letters of recommendation should be scanned and signed by the recommenders and emailed by the recommender directly to Alfred Kandlbauer: POLSJobs@lmu.edu. Please direct questions to Alfred Kandlbauer at the above address. Only electronic applications will be considered. The deadline for applications is September 14. The committee may conduct some preliminary interviews at APSA. To be considered for a preliminary interview, please submit application materials by August 20th.

Candidates with a Ph.D. are preferred; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2019 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4387

Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Specializations: International Political Economy, Foreign Policy, International Security

APPLY ONLINE AT: <http://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/2423>

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Relations to begin in the Fall of 2019. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations, as well as to extend departmental coverage in Comparative Politics in regions including South Asian, South-East Asian, East Asian, or Central and Eastern European (including Russia) politics. The Political Science Department is home to both a political science major and an interdisciplinary international relations major, and the successful candidate will collaborate with colleagues in the management of the international relations major program.

All International Relations subfield specializations will be considered, including, but not limited to, the following areas:

- international political economy
- comparative foreign policy
- security studies
- intra or inter-state conflict
- peace studies
- conflict resolution.

We are especially interested in the ability to develop and teach courses at the intersections of traditional discipline and subfield specializations. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- A PhD at the onset of the appointment (August 2019) is required.
- A commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarship.
- For full consideration, the following are to be submitted via Wheaton's online application system: letter of application; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching philosophy; statement of research philosophy; evidence of teaching effectiveness (materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi and course evaluations); and at least one scholarly writing sample.
- Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their letter of application how their teaching and scholarship might support the College's commitment to diversity and inclusion. In addition, the letter of application should also include areas of specialty, as well as explain the candidate's interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment.

• Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Prior teaching experience; classroom experience is highly desirable.
- Dedication to scholarly achievement.
- Commitment to the liberal arts environment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4388

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Japan, China, East Asia

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a US Department of Defense regional center that functions as a forum where current and future military and civilian leaders from 45 Asia-Pacific nations gather to engage in capacity building activities and improved multinational and interagency security cooperation in the Indo-Pacific region. This Mission is accomplished through focused executive education, leader development, regional outreach engagement, strategic dialogues, professional exchanges, and policy-relevant research. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Center invites applications for a:

FACULTY MEMBER

The College of Security Studies is searching for a world-class educator to teach, facilitate, and conduct research. Responsibilities include:

Teaching plenary and elective topics to include lecturing on selected regional security topics within executive education courses; Facilitating seminars and conducting workshops locally and throughout the Indo-Pacific region; Performing various administrative and institutional duties to support the executive education functions of the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center.

Particular expertise is sought in the following areas:

Regional expertise in Northeast Asia that includes in-depth knowledge of regional security dynamics. With:

Expertise in China and US security relations and Chinese strategic policy in the Indo-Pacific

OR

Expertise Japan and US security relations and Japanese strategic policy in the Indo-Pacific

OR

Expertise in ROK-DPRK and US security relations and ROK-DPRK strategic policy in the Indo-Pacific.

***In addition, for any of the three focal areas (China, Japan, Korean Peninsula), knowledge of the relationship between regional economic trends and regional security trends will be considered an asset.

Required minimum qualifications include:

Masters Degree in Security Studies, Political Science, International Relations,

Economics, Anthropology, History, or a related discipline with practitioner experience in the region. A Ph.D. is desirable.

Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation.

The following is "preferred" for ALL Faculty positions:

Expertise in security, defense, and/or political-economic issues in one or more countries in the Indo-Pacific region.

Living or working experience in the Indo-Pacific region.

Ability to converse in an Asian language.

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $87,122 - $136,893 (includes HI Locality pay but excludes cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 10.99% but subject to change). These are limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years (with the possibility of renewal). Relocation expenses may be authorized.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. Interested candidates should submit the following items:

a. LETTER OF INTEREST. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year.

b. CURRICULUM VITAE. Should reflect the following: educational background, teaching experience, work experience, publications, and salary history.

c. TWO ORIGINAL LETTERS OF REFERENCE.

2. Submit all required documents to physical address:

Chief, Human Resources Department
Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
2058 Maluhia Road
Honolulu, Hawaii 96815-1949

or email to:

at hrapplcations@dkiapcss.net

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. Application deadline: Open until filled. Cut off: 31 August 2018 from publication of solicitation.

2. Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements. Application packages will be retained for one year.

3. Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned.

4. Individuals selected for interviews will be asked to provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting their advanced degree(s) and two samples of their own publications.

5. The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor.

U.S. Citizenship is not required however applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.

6. The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplcations@dkiapcss.net to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

7. Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 8/31/2018

Date Posted: 7/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4383

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Michael A. and Laurie Burns McRobbie Bicentennial Professorship in Global Strategic Studies

Specializations: International Security, Science & Technology, International Law & Organizations

The Department of International Studies in the School of Global and International Studies at Indiana University seeks a scholar specializing in nuclear security, emerging technologies, and strategic studies to begin August 1, 2019. The holder of the position will occupy the &lt;B&gt;Michael A. and Laurie Burns McRobbie Bicentennial Professorship in Global Strategic Studies&lt;/B&gt;, and will be hired at the rank of associate or full professor. Applicants of all disciplines are welcome. Qualified candidates are expected to have a Ph.D.

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status. Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vita, three letters of recommendation from colleagues at different institutions, research publications, course syllabi, and, if available, teaching evaluations online at: &lt;U&gt;<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/6242&lt;/U&gt;>. Please direct inquiries to the chair of the search committee, David Bosco (dbosco@indiana.edu; Indiana University, Bloomington; Global and International Studies Building, Room 1010; 355 N. Jordan Ave.; Bloomington, IN 47405-1105). &lt;B&gt;Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018.&lt;/B&gt; Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4381

Brown University

Rank: Assistant Professor in the field of International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position at the level of assistant professor in the field of International Political Economy to begin July 2019. Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2019. Review of applications will begin

September 21, 2018. Candidates should submit a cover letter identifying their primary interests as well as a current CV, writing sample, graduate transcript, teaching evaluations, and three letters of reference. Brown is an EEO/AA employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply.

apply.interfolio.com/51713

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4368

University of Toronto

Rank: Endowed Chair, Japanese Politics and Global Affairs

The University of Toronto invites applications for a joint tenure-stream, endowed chair appointment in the Department of Political Science (51%) and the Munk School of Global Affairs and Public Policy (49%) in the area of Japanese Politics and Global Affairs. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate or Full Professor and will commence July 1, 2019.

The successful candidate must have a PhD in politics, government, international relations, or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment and be able to provide evidence of innovative research excellence of an internationally competitive calibre, as evidenced by a record of publications in leading outlets in the field, presentations at significant conferences, accolades or awards, and strong endorsements by referees of high standing.

Candidates should have an established international reputation based on a scholarly record of excellence appropriate to their career stage. Evidence of excellence in teaching and a demonstrated commitment to graduate education and mentorship are required. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated by strong letters of reference, teaching evaluations, graduate supervision, dossier and/or syllabi submitted as part of the application. The ideal candidate will focus on Japanese politics (including political history) in comparative and international perspective, Japanese policy in global and regional context, or international relations and contemporary Japan.

The appointment will be contingent upon a successful tenure review. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

We seek applications from candidates whose research program fits well with the Department and with the global focus of the Munk School. The appointee will contribute to the education and training of undergraduate and graduate students in both the Department and the School. The opportunity is also available to direct a new Centre for the Study of Global Japan established in the School to stimulate collaborative scholarship and public outreach.

We encourage applicants to review both academic units' research and teaching profiles prior to applying. Please visit our home pages: Department of Political Science <http://politics.utoronto.ca/>; Munk School of Global Affairs and Public Policy <http://www.munkschool.utoronto.ca/>.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

If you have questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. All application materials should be submitted through the University of Toronto's online application system. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, signed and scanned) directly to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Antoinette Handley, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, October 9, 2018.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/9/2018

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4373

Utah State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Utah State University
Department of Political Science
Assistant Professor of International Relations

Position: The Department of Political Science at Utah State University invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2019. We seek to fill a position in international relations. While the area of specialization in international relations is open, topical expertise in interstate conflict, subnational conflict, and/or emerging security threats is welcome. An ability to offer a course in Middle Eastern, African, or South-Asian security is a plus. The salary is competitive.

The position is available beginning August 1, 2019. Application review will begin September 28, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will conduct research and teach courses in International Relations. Teaching responsibilities will include master's and upper and lower division undergraduate courses in their areas of specialization. Responsibilities will include a primary role in research along with strong undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service. Performance will be consistent with a faculty role in a Carnegie Doctoral/Research Extensive University.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a strong research profile in international relations. Candidates must have a doctoral degree in Political Science or a comparable field of study as of employment date, and demonstrated accomplishment and/or clear potential for success in research as well as undergraduate and graduate teaching in these specialties. They must also generate a satisfactory outcome on a background check.

Preferred Qualifications:

Preference will be given to those with a strong research trajectory and demonstrated interest in teaching courses of need to the department.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience, plus excellent benefits.

Academic Setting:

The Political Science Department at USU is housed within the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. The Department offers three undergraduate majors: Political Science, Law and Constitutional Studies, and International Studies. It also offers a political science Master's degree. Additionally, the department provides service courses or general education to students throughout the broader university community. Utah State University is a land-grant university founded in 1888. The university is a Carnegie Doctoral land-grant university with approximately 27,000 students (24,000 undergraduates and 3,000 graduate students) from all 50 states and 80 foreign countries. The USU campus is located in Logan, Utah. Logan is located in a picturesque mountain valley with a population of over 100,000, about 80 miles north of Salt Lake City. Ski resorts, lakes, rivers, and mountains in the area make it one of the finest outdoor recreation environments in the nation. Visit <http://www.usu.edu> for more information about the University, College, and Department.

Applications should be submitted through the online application link: <http://jobs.usu.edu>.

Please attach:

- 1) a cover letter;
- 2) curriculum vitae;
- 3) The names and email addresses of three references (your references will be sent an email from USU asking them to upload a letter of recommendation on your behalf).
- 4) a professional writing sample;
- 5) a statement of teaching philosophy and, if available, evidence of teaching performance.
- 6) recent transcripts.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4375

Brown University

Rank: Professor

As part of a major new hiring initiative, the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science at Brown University invite applications for faculty positions in the field of international security to begin July 2019. We hope to hire multiple faculty through this search. We are seeking applicants whose research focuses on various aspects of international security broadly defined, including but not limited to grand strategy and geopolitical rivalry, civil war and post-war reconstruction, defense policy and military intervention, nuclear proliferation and deterrence, terrorism and counterterrorism, cybersecurity and surveillance, and resource conflicts and the security implications of climate change.

Candidates at all ranks are welcome. The successful senior candidate must have an outstanding record of national and international scholarly achievement, a proven record of successful research funding, and a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. The successful junior candidate must be engaged in a research program with the potential to influence his/her field, and a strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. The new faculty member(s) will hold a joint appointment in the Watson Institute and Department of Political Science. Junior candidates must have completed the PhD by the time of appointment. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

All candidates should submit: 1) a cover letter describing research completed and planned, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a short writing sample, and 4) a teaching statement.

Senior candidates should include the names of five references whom the search committee can contact at an appropriate time. Senior candidates should submit their list of referees using the "additional documents" field.

Junior candidates should have three letters of reference and their official graduate transcript uploaded to Interfolio at the time of the application. The confidential recommendation letters should be uploaded to Interfolio by the referee.

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of, gender, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

Apply at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/51745>

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4369

Bucknell University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Politics)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in international relations beginning in the fall semester of 2019. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach the core course in international relations, courses in global security and/or conflict resolution, a course in either quantitative or qualitative research methods, and other courses in the candidate's field of specialization. We welcome applications from qualified candidates who approach international relations from a variety of theoretical perspectives.

The Department of Political Science has a strong record of hiring diverse faculty whose courses expose students to a variety of racial, ethnic, and cultural perspectives, and we are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence, as well as the promise of being a productive scholar, are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in international relations, but ABD candidates will also be considered with the understanding that the Ph.D. must be completed before the beginning of the second year.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, syllabi, and teaching evaluations (if available). Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Scott Meinke at smeinke@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on September 24, 2018.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a highly selective, predominately undergraduate, private university with approximately 3600 students. Along with its excellent academic departments and programs, it boasts the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity, and Gender, which supports faculty teaching and scholarship in these areas, and the Griot Institute for Africana Studies, which provides faculty and student intellectual and creative engagement with the interdisciplinary investigation of the cultures, histories, narratives, peoples, geographies and arts of Africa and the African diaspora; and the Bucknell Institute for Public Policy, which supports faculty research and teaching on issues of domestic, international, and comparative public policy. In 2014, Bucknell introduced a 5-Year Diversity Plan aimed at enhancing the diversity of the faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum of the university.

Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4365

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Tenure-Track Faculty Position in European Politics and International Relations

COLLEGE OF THE Office of the Provost and Dean of the College

College of the Holy Cross: Department of Political Science Tenure-Track Faculty Position in European Politics and International Relations

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment to begin in August 2019. We are seeking a specialist in European politics who is also well-trained in international relations. The successful applicant will teach Introduction to International Relations and a survey course on European politics, as well as additional European politics courses reflecting the candidate's particular interests and expertise.

This position carries a 3-2 teaching load with a full-salary one-semester research leave prior to tenure review, and generous sabbatical and fellowship leaves for tenured faculty. Tenure track faculty are eligible for travel support and reimbursement of relocation costs within the College's published policies. All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and include full benefits. To learn more about faculty life at the College and in the Worcester area, candidates are encouraged to visit <http://holycross.edu/join>.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching at the introductory and advanced levels as well as scholarly achievement. Ph.D. in hand or imminent completion required.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please submit a cover letter addressing the position requirements listed above, curriculum vitae, statement on teaching, transcripts, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

As a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college, the College values dialogue among people from diverse perspectives as integral to the mission and essential to the excellence of our academic program (see <http://hoir.cross.edu/mission>). In your application please highlight how your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and/or service might support the College's mission and its commitment to diversity and inclusion. For more information, please visit <http://holycross.edu/diversity>.

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to <https://apply.interfolio.com/52306>.

Review of applications will begin on September 10, 2018, and continue until the position has been filled. We will conduct preliminary interviews with selected applicants via Skype. Questions about this search may be directed to Maria G. Rodrigues, Chair, at mrodrigu@holycross.edu.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,000 students and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community.

Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (<http://www.newenglandherc.org>). The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/10/2018

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4415

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR or ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR

The Political Science department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison seeks to hire a faculty member to conduct research and teach courses in the contemporary Middle East and North Africa, with a preference for the Arab Middle East. Preference will be given to applicants with area expertise who conduct research using Middle East languages, particularly Arabic, and to applicants that contribute to fostering the diversity of the campus or discipline. Faculty positions include a commitment to the important functions of research, instruction, and outreach, as well as professional and university service as appropriate to faculty rank.

The faculty member will be part of an interdisciplinary group affiliated with the Arab Politics and Society cluster hiring initiative (<https://facstaff.provost.wisc.edu/cluster-hiring-initiative/>), and is expected to participate in the development of the cluster and its activities including collaborating with the other cluster faculty and with colleagues in the Middle East Study Program. The Arab Politics and Society cluster includes positions in Political Science, Gender & Women's Studies, and History. UW's Cluster Hiring Initiative is designed to foster innovative, outstanding research programs that will stimulate productive interactions among faculty and students interested in research across the campus and to expand interdisciplinary research.

To apply please go to <http://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/cw/en-us/job/498355/professor-in-political-science-cluster-hire><http://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/cw/en-us/job/498355/professor-in-political-science-cluster-hire&lt;/a&gt;>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4362

Texas Woman's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, International Law & Organizations

The Department of History and Government at Texas Woman's University invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning fall 2019. The successful applicant will be broadly trained in Political Science with a primary field of International Relations and a secondary field in Comparative Politics. A geographical expertise in Asia or the Middle East in the secondary field is highly desirable. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field at the time of appointment and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching and an active record of research. The successful candidate will teach the introductory International Relations course and alternate teaching the introductory Comparative Politics course, as well as teaching advanced undergraduate courses and Master's level courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Candidates will also advise students and serve the department, university, and profession.

Required qualifications:

- Earned doctorate in Political Science or related field at the time of appointment
- Demonstrated potential for teaching excellence
- Demonstrated potential for research and publication

Preferred qualifications:

- Prior teaching experience

The History and Government Department offers a Bachelor and Masters as well as the Bachelors in Criminal Justice (co-administered with the Department of Sociology and Social Work). The department has 5 full-time Political Science faculty members (plus 5 full-time History faculty) offering degrees to approximately 100 undergraduate Political Science majors and 20 Master's students.

Send a cover letter, graduate transcripts, CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a sample of scholarly work, and three letters of reference to facultyjobs@twu.edu. Review of applications will begin on October 8, 2018.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/5/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4349

Claremont McKenna College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

The Department of Government of Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for an entry-level tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor, in the areas of international law and/or human rights, beginning July 1, 2019. A qualified candidate, with PhD in political science in hand or a nearly completed doctoral dissertation, would have research experience in one or more of these areas, and the capacity to teach core courses in international relations as well as courses of his or her specialization(s).

The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and the highest standards of excellence in teaching. The teaching load at CMC is two courses per semester.

CMC is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. Combined, the members of The Claremont Colleges have more than 6,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Given our commitment to cultivating a challenging and inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinion, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions.

Claremont McKenna College is an Equal Opportunity Employer, strongly committed to diversity, and encourages applications from the broadest range of individuals.

All applications must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, detailed research statement, and a statement regarding teaching philosophy. Letters of recommendation are required from three or more references and should evaluate the candidate's research and teaching. Applications must be submitted electronically at https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty\_opening.php

The review of applications will begin August 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4348

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies

The departments of International Studies and Political Science at Dickinson College are seeking qualified applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position beginning in academic year 2019-20. A completed or nearly-completed Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or related discipline is required.

Applicants should have a research and teaching focus on Africa, South Asia, or Southeast Asia. The specific sub-field of research can be comparative politics, international relations, security studies (including human security), or other related fields. In addition to teaching upper-level courses in that research area, the successful candidate must demonstrate ability and interest in teaching introductory International Relations and upper-level American Foreign Policy on a regular basis. Candidates should identify in their application letter courses they are prepared to teach and should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an interdisciplinary liberal arts environment. The yearly teaching load is five courses. The successful candidate is expected to participate fully in the intellectual life of the departments, including serving as one of the oral examiners for the International Studies exams at the end of the academic year. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate.

Dickinson College is a private, four-year liberal arts college with 2,400 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC, and Philadelphia.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically, online application system at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>.

Please submit the following materials:

* a letter of application;

* curriculum vitae;

* graduate transcript;

* names and email addresses for three letters of recommendation;

* writing sample;

* teaching statement;

* sample syllabi – preferably for one or more of the above listed courses.

* teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness

Review of applications will begin October 1 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4347

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Formal Theory

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, International Relations

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position in the field of Formal Theory to begin September 1, 2019. We are especially interested in candidates with substantive interests in International Relations and/or Public Law, at the assistant professor rank. This is a university year appointment. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required. Application submission information available at <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/faculty-hiring.html>. Review of applications will begin September 1, 2018. Applicants should include the following application materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts (for entry-level candidates), and a statement of activities contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applicants should also submit three letters of recommendation. The University of Michigan is an AA/EO employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. The University is supportive of the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4345

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in National Security & Diplomacy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the broad area of National Security and Diplomacy. The Bush School of Government and Public Service has built an outstanding faculty who are looking to hire a collegial Assistant Professor. We are broadly open to a candidate's regional/topical area of international affairs specialization. Bush School faculty exclusively teach master's degree graduate students in international affairs in a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the required course in introductory-level empirical methods. We have a preference for candidates who would also be able to teach U.S. foreign policy. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics or a related discipline by September 2019. The individual selected will have demonstrated a strong commitment to teaching and research in the context of a public policy graduate school environment. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2019.

Applications must be made through the Texas A&M Workday website. The job number for this position is R-008268.

Applicants who currently are not a Texas A&M System employee please go to our external career site at https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU\_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Tenure-Track--Assistant-Professor-in-National-Security---Diplomacy---International-Affairs\_R-008268

Applicants who currently are a Texas A&M System employee please go to our internal career site at https://www.myworkday.com/tamus/d/inst/15\$158872/9925\$10485.html

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae and a sample of written work.

Additionally, please have three letters of recommendation sent to:

Professor Gregory Gause
c/o Ms. Janeen Wood (preferably as electronic attachments to bushschoolinta-facultysearch@tamu.edu)
The Bush School of Government & Public Service
Texas A&M University
4220 TAMU
College Station, TX 77843-4220

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4323

Connecticut College

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations with a focus on US Foreign Policy

International Relations with a focus on US Foreign Policy
The Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in the subfield of International Relations with a specialization in U.S. Foreign Policy. The ability to teach Comparative Foreign Policy and the ability to offer courses in a region of global interest would be an asset. The department already has strengths in Europe, the Middle East and East Asia. The successful candidate must demonstrate an ability to teach an introductory International Politics course and intermediate- and advanced-level courses on foreign policy, at least one of which would be on US Foreign Policy. Required: ABD in Political Science or International Relations with a Foreign Policy focus. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. within one year of hire.

Salary is competitive. In addition to providing ongoing support for teaching and research, the College offers the following resources for pre-tenured faculty: a 2-2 teaching load in the first year, a research fund in the first two years, and a semester's sabbatical (at full salary) after a successful third-year review.

The College's Board of Trustees, President, administration, faculty and staff share a commitment to diversity. To this end, the College, located in New London, CT is continuing what has been a very successful initiative to diversify its faculty, staff, and student body. We encourage applications from candidates who share this understanding and will contribute to the diversity of our college community, including members of historically underrepresented groups. The College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Please visit our website, <http://www.conncoll.edu>, for more information about the College and our faculty searches.

Offering two popular majors (a government major and an interdisciplinary international relations major), Government and International Relations is a collegial department with 11 full-time faculty members. There are also opportunities for collaboration with interdisciplinary programs on campus. Moreover, the College's general education program, Connections, provides ample opportunity for collaborative and interdisciplinary teaching. For an overview of this innovative curriculum, please visit <http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/>

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts, and at least three letters of recommendation to <https://apply.interfolio.com/51489>. E-mail inquiries should be sent to Tristan Anne Borer, Chair of the Department of Government and International Relations, at tabor@conncoll.edu. Applications received by October 5th will receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4309

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/home>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2019. We seek candidates whose research focuses on institutions and political economy. The search is open with respect to the substantive subfield, and priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department's strength in formal theory and rigorous empirical analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and to contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate game theory sequences.

Florida State University is committed to broadening the gender, racial and ethnic diversity of its faculty, and the Department of Political Science shares that goal. The university statement of commitment to increasing the diversity of the faculty and students can be found at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity\_home.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 7,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdf's are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Florida State University is an EO employer. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply (http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=eoc/eo/eco\_home).

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/17/2018
Date Posted: 6/14/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4304

Augustana University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government and International Affairs

Augustana University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in the Department of Government and International Affairs beginning in Fall 2019.

Responsibilities: This is an international relations and comparative politics position. The successful applicant must demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. Courses to be taught depend primarily on departmental needs in both areas of international and comparative, with some flexibility for the candidate's training and interests.

The typical load for members of the department is three courses per semester plus a course in two out of every three January terms.

Qualifications: Completed Ph.D. required. Evidence of teaching excellence and scholarly productivity is expected, as is an ability to contribute courses to Augustana's Civitas honors program and/or First Year Seminar program.

Application Procedure: Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a completed Augustana University employment application (http://augie.edu/sites/default/files/u75/Employment%20Application%20fillable\_4.pdf), copies of graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations), statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, statement of commitment to diversity, a writing sample, and three recommendation letters electronically to humanresources@augie.edu. Review of applications begins on September 14, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Preliminary interviews will take place at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Boston (August 30-September 2, 2018).

Contact Search Committee Chair with questions: Dr. Joel Johnson, Professor of Government and International Affairs, joel.johnson@augie.edu, 605.274.5319.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/14/2018
Date Posted: 6/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4303

Texas State University, San Marcos

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: East Asia, Western Europe, Africa

Job Posting Number: 20190004FAC

Position Description: The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the assistant professor level to teach required and elective graduate and undergraduate courses. The department awards the Bachelor's Degree and the Master of Arts Degree.

Required Qualifications: 1) Earned Ph.D. in political science, or ABD in political science (degree must be earned by the beginning of the Fall 2019 semester); 2) Research agenda focusing on a regional specialization or a cross-regional approach; and 3) Ability to teach introductory international relations classes as well as advanced classes in the area of comparative politics.

Preferred Qualifications: 1) Ability to teach courses on a variety of aspects of comparative politics; 2) Ability to teach in area that addresses departmental needs which include (but are not limited to) Asian, European and African politics; 3) Demonstrated potential for exceptional scholarly research and publication in area of specialization; 4) Demonstrated potential for exceptional teaching in relevant areas; and 5) Effective interpersonal skills.

Application Procedures: Only applications submitted through the Texas State University website will be accepted and considered, <https://jobs.hr.txstate.edu/postings/22484>. To assure full consideration, please submit the following before September 15, 2018: A letter of intent addressing required and preferred qualifications, current curriculum vita, college transcript(s), samples of scholarly work (presentations and/or publications), syllabi (if available), and three letters of recommendation.

Note that as part of our application process, we are requesting 3 letters of reference. Please provide the names and email addresses for your references in the Reference Letter section of the employment application. Upon submission of your application, an automated email will be generated and sent to your references with instructions on how to attach the reference letter to your application through a confidential online portal.

Candidates selected for interviews will be required to provide official transcripts from all degree granting universities.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/15/2018
Date Posted: 6/7/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4296

Texas State University, San Marcos

Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Posting Number: 20190009FAC

Position Description: The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the assistant professor level to teach required and elective graduate and undergraduate courses. The department awards the Bachelor's Degree and the Master of Arts Degree.

Required Qualifications: 1) Earned Ph.D. in political science by May 2019; 2) Research agenda focusing on international law and/or international organizations; and 3) Ability to teach introductory international relations classes as well as advanced classes in international law and international organizations.

Preferred Qualifications: 1) Ability to teach courses on international law and international organizations, as well as introductory courses in international relations; 2) Ability to teach in area that addresses departmental needs; 3) Demonstrated potential for exceptional scholarly research and publication in area of specialization; 4) Demonstrated potential for exceptional teaching in relevant areas; and 5) Effective interpersonal skills.

Application Procedures: Only applications submitted through the Texas State University website will be accepted and considered, <https://jobs.hr.txstate.edu/postings/22512>. To assure full consideration, please submit the following before September 15, 2018:

A letter of intent addressing required and preferred qualifications, current curriculum vita, college transcript(s), samples of scholarly work (presentations and/or publications), syllabi (if available), and three letters of recommendation.

Note that as part of our application process, we are requesting 3 letters of reference. Please provide the names and email addresses for your references in the Reference Letter section of the employment application. Upon submission of your application, an automated email will be generated and sent to your references with instructions on how to attach the reference letter to your application through a confidential online portal.

Candidates selected for interviews will be required to provide official transcripts from all degree granting universities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 6/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4297

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: International Security, Middle East, Africa

The Department of Political Science at Carleton College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professorship in International Relations with expertise in security and with significant research interest or field experience in the Middle East and North Africa. Candidates with a scholarly focus on Sub-Saharan Africa will also be considered. The department defines security broadly to include the traditional issues of peace and violent inter-state conflict as well as human security concepts such as human and gender rights; resource, water and food security; and refugees, diasporas and displaced persons. Successful candidates will be able to teach the introductory course in international relations as well as courses in security and regional politics. Candidates whose interests speak to dominant paradigms of security and engage the debate with non-traditional approaches in the field are especially welcomed. The promise of excellence in scholarship and teaching is required. Teaching duties are five courses per year on a trimester schedule. PhD or its imminent completion is required. The appointment will begin September 1, 2019.

The following materials are required: letter of application; curriculum vitae; contact information for three letters of reference; statements addressing the candidate's teaching experience and interests and scholarly agenda; graduate school transcript; teaching evaluations or other evidence of demonstrated or potential excellence in undergraduate instruction; sample syllabi; and at least one scholarly writing sample. Early applicants should indicate whether they will be available for interview at the APSA meetings in Boston in September, 2018. Interviews will also be scheduled and conducted online. To ensure full consideration we request that applications be filed by Friday September 14. All application materials can be submitted at jobs.carleton.edu.

We are particularly interested in candidates who are enthusiastic about teaching a diverse student body. Carleton is committed to developing its faculty to better reflect the diversity of our students and American society. Women and members of traditionally underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Carleton College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, sex, national origin, marital status, veteran status, actual or perceived sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, status with regard to public assistance, disability, or age in providing employment or access to its educational facilities or activities. Carleton College is a small, highly selective, residential liberal arts college located 45 minutes away from the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul. We are consistently ranked among the best undergraduate teaching institutions in the country. Our mission is to provide excellent educational opportunities for students. The College provides generous professional development support for both research and teaching.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 9/14/2018

Date Posted: 6/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4291

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2018-19 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2019. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2018 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01751>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 5/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4277

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Research Methods, Women & Politics, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a one-year only visiting assistant professor for the 2018-19 academic year. The successful candidate will teach three courses each semester in his or her area of expertise. We are interested in candidates who can teach Undergraduate Research Methods; Women, Politics, and Public Policy; Environmental Policy; and/or International Relations but will consider all applicants carefully for the position. A PhD in political science, international affairs, or a related discipline is required.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public, land-grant University. The Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the C-SPAN Center for Scholarship and Engagement, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon at polisci@purdue.edu. Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's qualifications for the position.

Review of applications will begin May 31, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Dr. Eric Waltenburg, ewaltenb@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EEO/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4258

South Dakota State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of History, Political Science, Philosophy and Religion at South Dakota State University in Brookings is seeking a dynamic teacher and scholar for a full-time, 9-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The primary fields are Comparative Politics and International Relations; secondary area(s) of expertise are open with the exception of Political Theory/Philosophy and Latin America. The appointment will begin no later than August 22, 2019. The curriculum in this area is not set so there is opportunity to develop new courses in the applicant's area of expertise. The successful candidate should understand the land-grant mission of SDSU.

SDSU is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to and/or coordinate course offerings that address the experiences of underrepresented minorities in organizations. Women, minorities, veterans, and people with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply.

This position is open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by August 15, 2018. We will be conducting preliminary interviews at the APSA in Boston.

Responsibilities include:

- A teaching load of 9 credits per semester;
- Research in your area of expertise;
- Service to the Department and University, including advising.

Minimum qualifications include:

- A PhD in Political Science in hand or near completion at the time of application (ABD can be considered);
- Expertise on strategic global issues or regions of the world;
- The ability to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations;
- Experience or willingness to teach online;
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness and dynamism;
- Effective written and verbal communication skills;
- Effective interpersonal skills;
- Strong research agenda and scholarly potential.

Preferred qualifications include:

- Willingness to collaborate with students;
- Ability to teach American Foreign Policy, Political Economy and/or the Political Science capstone.

SALARY:

Commensurate with qualifications.

UNIVERSITY/COMMUNITY:

SDSU is a land grant institution and the state's largest institution of higher education with an enrollment of approximately 13,000. The Department is located in the College of Arts and Sciences and provides majors in History and Political Science along with minors in Philosophy, Religion and Legal Studies. Various members of the department contribute courses to the Global Studies Program, the American Indian Program, and the Teacher Education Program.

Brookings, South Dakota is a community of 22,000 on the eastern border of the state. It is located 50 miles north of the city of Sioux Falls, a city of approximately 150,000. The drive to Sioux Falls takes approximately 40 minutes, as the north-south interstate runs alongside the town. Brookings has an eclectic mix of fine restaurants and shops and an excellent K-12 educational system. The city is also accessible to major medical facilities, has an active social and cultural environment, and has numerous lakes and parks within easy distance. The state arboretum is part of the SDSU campus. Brookings is also located about 200 miles west of the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, a metropolitan area with major design and art centers.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

The position will be open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by August 15, 2018.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

SDSU accepts applications through an online employment site. To apply, visit: <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu>, search for the position by title, view the job announcement, and click on "apply for this job." The system will guide you through the electronic application form. The employment site will also require the attachment of a cover letter, which should specifically address how the candidate meets the qualifications as outlined in the advertisement indicating the courses you are qualified to teach based on the list above; Curriculum Vitae; evidence of teaching effectiveness, particularly recent IDEA scores (attached as 'other document'); and reference page with the contact information for three professional references. Email applications will not be accepted. Please contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128 if you require assistance with the electronic application process.

Any offer of employment is contingent upon the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to, a criminal background check.

South Dakota State University is a tobacco free environment.

For questions on the position, contact Dr. Evren Çelik Wiltse, Search Chair at evren.wiltse@sdstate.edu or (605) 688-4311.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4260

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS - <http://cpass.ucsd.edu/>) has two postdoctoral positions available for the 2018-2019 academic year. Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director. Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4173

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Baker Center Post-doctoral Fellow

Baker Center Global Security Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Howard H. Baker Jr. Center for Public Policy

The Baker Center's mission is to educate the public, conduct research to further the public's knowledge, and highlight the critical importance of public service. The Baker Center focuses on education, public policy, and research in the areas of Energy and the Environment, Global Security, and Leadership and Governance, along with academic courses and student engagement programs. The Center is a place for civil, bipartisan discussion of issues affecting us all.

Global Security Program

The Center's Global Security Program focuses primarily on conflict management, covering conflict resolution, civil wars, territorial and maritime disputes, piracy, terrorism and other political violence, foreign policy and US national security policy. The program hosts a bi-weekly research workshop, a series of visiting lectures on different aspects of global security and foreign policy, and a biannual conference on some aspect of prevention, management, and resolution of international conflicts, civil wars, and terrorism and other political violence.

Position Summary

Fellows will spend a year working full time at the Baker Center, starting in August 2018, with a potential extension for an additional year. During their time at the Center, Fellows will conduct independent and joint research primarily with Dr. Krista Wiegand, and potentially other faculty and graduate students on topics related to conflict processes issues, with an expectation of producing several journal article length manuscripts. Fellows will also be involved in applying for grants to fund data collection projects and Baker Center programming. In addition to academic research, Fellows will be expected to produce a small number of policy briefs and/or content for a non-academic audience. Fellows are expected to contribute to the activities of the Baker Center, supervise undergraduate researchers involved in research projects, mentor IR graduate students, present and participate in the research workshop, and participate in the lectures and meetings of visiting speakers. Equally, Fellows may be involved in managing a major international relations journal, which the Baker Center has an active bid to edit. Participants will receive an annual stipend of $50,000 and individual health insurance.

Eligibility and How to Apply:

Applicants must be recent Ph.D. recipients in Political Science (within the last 3 years), and specialize in conflict management. To apply, submit a cover letter outlining the planned research and expectations about a topic in the area of conflict management, how your research project fits with the work being done at the Baker Center and Dr. Krista Wiegand, and if you have any experience working on an academic journal. Also submit a CV and a list of 3 references to Dr. Krista Wiegand, Director of the Global Security Program, at kwiegand@utk.edu by March 15, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/15/2018

Date Posted: 2/8/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4024

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics that focuses on Latin America beginning on August 1, 2018. This is a twelve-month tenure-track position at our Ft. Benning/Columbus, Georgia/ Phoenix City, Alabama location.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018 with a research specialization in Latin America. The preferred qualifications are a focus in Latin American Security and/or intelligence and the teaching will primarily be in our master's degree (MSIR) in international relations. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Candidates should have experience working with the military and be prepared to act as the local university representative to Fort Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Faculty duties include advising students, submitting academic discipline-related articles for publication, attending departmental meetings, and serving on departmental committees.

Administrative duties include acting as the local university representative to Ft. Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community, acting as the main liaison with the Political Science Department at Troy, serving as a common point of contact, helping with scheduling, and reviewing projected schedules.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and provide three reference providers. Please combine the writing sample and research statement into one document and upload it under the "Other Document" section. Please direct all questions to Dr G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3589

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations (MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs:

undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

Troy University

Rank: Adjunct Professor

Adjunct faculty members are employed to provide specific courses on an as-needed basis. Contracts for adjunct faculty members are issued on a semester/term basis. Adjunct Instructors hold the responsibility for the courses taught. Adjunct Instructors are expected to be available for a reasonable amount of time for each course taught to counsel students regarding course work.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3449

METHODOLOGY

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Methodology

Political Methodology. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning July 1, 2019. We seek a scholar doing innovative research in any area of quantitative political methodology, broadly defined. We welcome applications from scholars whose work crosses traditional subfield or disciplinary boundaries. Please submit a letter of application describing research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, a sample of current research, and four letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications from women and minorities are particularly welcome. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer that welcomes all to apply, including protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <http://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/147151>.

Please attach your cover letter, curriculum vitae, and sample of current research on this site. At the time of application, candidates will be required to identify the names, titles, and email addresses of professional references (four are required). References must be at level of tenure-track assistant professor or higher. Recommenders identified by the applicant will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference and the application system will solicit recommendations directly from Interfolio. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references instead of the referring faculty. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; the department address is Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265; and the web address is <http://politicalscience.unc.edu>.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4730

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the assistant professor level with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y8kvqavd>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) writing sample; 4) brief teaching statement; 5) brief research statement; and 6) at least three letters of recommendation. Applicants also are encouraged to submit as optional documents up to three publications or unpublished manuscripts and evidence of teaching performance, such as teaching evaluations, if available. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4687

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the assistant professor level with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y8kvqavd>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) writing sample; 4) brief teaching statement; 5) brief research statement; and 6) at least three letters of recommendation. Applicants also are encouraged to submit as optional documents up to three publications or unpublished manuscripts and evidence of teaching performance, such as teaching evaluations, if available. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4688

University of Chicago

Rank: Associate or Full Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago is building in political methodology and political economy. We invite applications for multiple positions at the levels of associate or full professor with substantive interests in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates must be able to contribute to the department's graduate curriculum with courses in formal or quantitative methods.

Applicants are required to apply online at the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/ydar3r7k>. Applicants are required to include: 1) a cover letter; and 2) a curriculum vitae. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2018. Applications will be accepted until the deadline of January 15, 2019, or until the position is filled. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted. Appointments may begin as early as July 1, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4689

California Lutheran University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Assistant Professor - Political Science

Position Category: Faculty

FLSA: Exempt

Location: Thousand Oaks

Basic Function:

Political Science Department Job Description

The Department of Political Science at California Lutheran University is committed to a strong liberal arts tradition that links scholarship, teaching, and applied knowledge to the academic study of political science. The Department seeks an Assistant Professor of Political Science who is committed to teaching, research, and service at a Hispanic Serving and McNair institution.

The candidate must demonstrate teaching expertise (or potential) and research interest in U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and an ability to teach methods courses that incorporate both quantitative and qualitative approaches to the study of political science. A full-teaching load is usually 3 courses per academic semester and 6 per academic year. Primary teaching responsibilities will likely include the following undergraduate courses: Introduction to American Government or Public Policy, Constitutional Law, Congress, Judicial Politics, Presidency, Public Law, and/or Research Methods. Particular attention will be given to someone who is interested in serving as a Pre-Law Advisor. There may also be an opportunity to develop new courses based on the successful candidate's expertise/interest. It is essential that interested candidates possess the ability or potential to teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate students, particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds. Applicants with research interests utilizing diverse methodological approaches and interdisciplinary content are strongly encouraged to apply.

The mission of the Department of Political Science at California Lutheran University is to provide a personalized education of distinction that fosters students' intellectual and critical powers, and develop their capacities to understand various aspects of political life. Students are required to produce original, high quality senior capstone projects and engage in experiential learning, which may include internships, study abroad, travel courses, and other activities. The courses in Political Science challenge students to examine U.S. political institutions, public policy, global politics, and political theory/law. Embedded within many of the courses are the themes of diversity, identity, and global and civic engagement. The goal is to prepare Political Science graduates to be civically engaged members of global society, and to enter a number of educational and career tracks such as public service, law, public policy, research, diplomacy, non-profits, and teaching.

Eligibility Requirements:

Eligible applicants must have the PhD in political science, JD, or a related field officially conferred by an accredited degree-granting university. The degree must be completed by April 15, 2019 (including defense and revisions) and conferred by May 31, 2019. The application must be written (or translated) in English.

Eligible applicants for this position include: U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals, U.S. permanent residents (holders of a Permanent Resident Card) and individuals granted deferred action status under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals Program (depending on the status of this program at the time of application), political asylees, and refugees. The Department values diversity in all forms, including race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, gender, age, disability, and sexual orientation.

Applications will be evaluated by a committee of scholars selected by the University, in consultation with the Department faculty. The search committee will use academic records, essays, letters of recommendation, standardized application forms, and other appropriate materials as the basis for determining the extent to which candidates meet the eligibility requirements and serve the mission of the Department and University.

Stipends and Benefits: This is a full-time, benefits eligible position.

Evaluation Criteria:

Candidates will be assessed based on the following criteria:

- 1) Demonstrated experience in, or potential to effectively teach courses related to U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and knowledge of diverse methodological approaches;
- 2) Experience with, or knowledge/understanding of mentoring and engaging undergraduate students (inside and outside of the classroom), particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds;
- 3) Evidence of, or potential for both producing scholarship and sustaining an active research agenda; and
- 4) Commitment to a liberal arts education and in service to the missions of the Political Science Department and University.

Required Materials:

Cover Letter: A two-page (or fewer) letter that addresses why Cal Lutheran's Political Science Department is a good place for the candidate to pursue his/her teaching, research, and other professional aspirations.

Curriculum Vitae: A comprehensive resume of professional and educational qualifications.

Diversity Statement: A one-page statement of the candidate's experience with, or knowledge/understanding of mentoring and engaging students from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds.

Three Reference Letters (requested through application tool): Letters should address how the candidate has the experiences, dispositions, and/or ability to teach, advise, and mentor students, including those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds.

Under the direction of the Dean and Department Chair, the Assistant Professor is responsible for providing academic instruction to students for the assigned undergraduate courses. The Assistant Professor is to serve as an academic advisor to students; serve on faculty or university committees; and engage in scholarly activities, and/or creative endeavors which contribute to the academic mission of the University, as outlined in the faculty handbook.

Representative Duties:

- Provide academic instruction to students through lecture courses. Create assignments and activities in one-on-one, classroom, and distance mediated instructional settings for development of cognitive abilities, communication skills, and higher order thinking skills among students. E
- Observe and evaluate student performance in meeting course objectives and student learning outcomes through assignments, projects, discussions, and examinations; provide feedback in a timely manner to student inquiries in class, online, or during established consultation office hours. E
- Maintain current, accurate records of course enrollment, attendance, student academic progress, course curriculum; prepare and submit grades, data, and reports related to course and student progress in a timely manner. E
- Provide a course syllabus to students in each class within the first week of the class, as outlined in the faculty handbook. E
- Adhere to the responsibilities related to teaching, advising, service, and scholarly, professional and creative activities, as outlined in the faculty handbook. E
- Attend and participate on committees and in department, division, campus, and University meetings. E
- Performs related duties as assigned.

E=Essential Duties

Knowledge Of:

- Current theory and practice within the subject discipline
- Principles and best practices of effective teaching
- Student learning outcomes and methods of assessment
- University curricula
- Community and campus resources, services, programs, and professionals available to students
- Methods of gathering, analyzing, and preparing data
- Modern computing technology
- Record keeping techniques with regard to student enrollment, attendance, and progress

Ability To:

- Demonstrate a thorough and accurate knowledge in the subject field or discipline
- Deliver course curricula in various learning styles
- Exhibit sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, social, economic, cultural, and ethnic background of University students
- Exhibit sensitivity to and understanding of the needs of students with disabilities.
- Integrate current and emerging instructional delivery technologies into the learning process to enhance teaching and the educational experience
- Maintain professional standards that protect student confidentiality
- Communicate effectively, both orally and in writing using tact, patience, and courtesy
- Establish and maintain effective working relationships
- Analyze situations accurately and adopt effective courses of action

- Demonstrate commitment to professional excellence and continuous growth within subject field or discipline

Minimum Qualifications:

- Eligible applicants must have the PhD in political science, JD, or a related field officially conferred by an accredited degree-granting university. The application must be written (or translated) in English. ABD's will be considered for appointment at the instructor level.

Preferred Qualifications:

- 1) Demonstrated experience in, or potential to effectively teach courses related to U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and knowledge of diverse methodological approaches;
- 2) Experience with, or knowledge/ understanding of mentoring and engaging undergraduate students (inside and outside of the classroom), particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds;
- 3) Evidence of, or potential for both producing scholarship and sustaining an active research agenda; and
- 4) Commitment to a liberal arts education and in service to the missions of the Political Science Department and University.

Physical Abilities:

Manual dexterity of hands and fingers to operate office equipment; speaking to exchange information, provide instruction and make presentations; sitting or standing for extended periods of time; pushing, pulling or lifting light objects; bending and reaching to store and/or retrieve files.

Posting Number: Faculty000052018

Number of Vacancies: 1

Desired Start Date: 08/19/2019

Open Date: 08/10/2018

Close Date: 10/1/2018

Open Until Filled: No

Application Procedure/Special Instructions:

To apply, visit <http://apptrkr.com/1280562>

California Lutheran University is committed to providing equal opportunity in employment for all persons, regardless of race, religious creed, color, national origin, ancestry, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, marital status, sex, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender, gender identity or expression, or any other basis protected by applicable law. No person shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination in any program, activity or facility of the University on the basis of these factors in a manner consistent with applicable federal and state laws, regulations, ordinances, orders and rules, and University's policies, procedures, and processes.

Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process can be provided to individuals with qualifying disabilities. Please contact the Human Resources Department for further information or to request an accommodation.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-e46536a3c2bb1d4ea9eca0d687a4aeab>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4679

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Full Time Coordinator/Lecturer

Subfield(s): Methodology, International Relations, Public Policy

The Center for Advanced Governmental Studies of the Advanced Academic Programs of Johns Hopkins University, based in Washington, D.C., is seeking a full-time, non-tenure track faculty member. The Center houses six master's degree and five graduate certificate programs. This includes the following programs: MA in Government, MS in Government Analytics, MA in Public Management, MA in Global Security Studies; Certificate in Intelligence; Certificate in Science, Technology, and International Security; and the Certificate in Nonprofit Management. These programs educate students who wish to apply rigorous academic concepts to policy-related careers.

The person hired for this new faculty position will be an academic coordinator for the Center and will teach 5 courses per year including courses in quantitative and qualitative research methods. The candidate must have proficiency in R and online teaching experience is preferred. Other responsibilities of this position include speaking with prospective students, serving on admissions committees, advising students, reviewing capstone or thesis papers prior to defense, assisting with the recruitment of adjunct faculty, and supporting outreach efforts on social media and at information sessions.

The ideal candidate will have a Ph.D. and teaching experience in any of the following subfields, the study of political institutions, survey methods and public opinions, parties and elections, democracy studies, international development, security studies, cyber policy, or public policy analysis. Practitioner experience in government, government consulting, or politics is especially desirable.

This position has a 12-month renewable contract. Review of applications for the position will begin immediately for a start date of January 15, 2018.

To apply please send a cover letter which details previous teaching and professional experience, a CV and two current letters of reference to:

Dr. Kathryn Wagner Hill
 Director, Center for Advanced Governmental Studies
 Advanced Academic Programs, Johns Hopkins University
 1717 Massachusetts Ave, NW, Suite 104
 Washington, DC 20036

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4650

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polsci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2019. The successful candidate should demonstrate strong skills in quantitative methodology; in addition, preference will be given to applicants with specialties in one or more of the following: data visualization, data science and analytics, survey methodology, or experimental methodology. In addition to having a productive research agenda, we seek a candidate that has the potential for effective teaching; of particular importance is the ability to relate the real-world applications of methodology and data analysis to students. The candidate is expected to teach courses in both our undergraduate and graduate research methods sequences in addition to elective courses in their substantive area of interest. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of appointment.

Oklahoma State University is one of the state's two comprehensive research universities with a Stillwater campus population of 23,000 students. The Department offers the following degrees in Political Science: B.S., B.A. and M.A. The teaching load is normally two courses per semester. Completed applications received by October 01, 2018 will be given full consideration. Applicants are asked to apply online at Methodsad@okstate.edu and submit: a letter of application, vitae, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, evidence of successful teaching and scholarship, and statements of teaching and research interests.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and minorities. Currently, 37 percent of our undergraduate majors are minorities. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic minority groups and 55 percent are female. Oklahoma State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/E-verify employer committed to diversity and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against based on age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or other protected category. OSU is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and desires priority referrals of protected veterans for its openings. OSU will not discharge or in any other manner discriminate against employees or applicants because they have inquired about, discussed, or disclosed their own pay or the pay of another employee or applicant. However, employees who have access to the compensation information of other employees or applicants as a part of their essential job functions cannot disclose the pay of other employees or applicants to individuals who do not otherwise have access to compensation information, unless the disclosure is (a) in response to a formal complaint or charge, (b) in furtherance of an investigation, proceeding, hearing, or action, including an investigation conducted by the employer, or (c) consistent with the contractor's legal duty to furnish information. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4649

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Behaviour

Subfield(s): Other, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Behavior at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in political behavior within one of the subfields of political science. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019). The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-assistant-professor-in-political-behaviour/>. Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4653

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

J-PAL's research group is looking to hire one or more Postdoctoral Associates who are interested in research around how best to conduct randomized trials, and how to provide resources to others to help them conduct randomized trials more effectively.

The J-PAL Postdoctoral Associate will be tasked with developing one or more projects that help support researchers globally who are implementing RCTs. This can involve reading the current scientific literature, liaising with active researchers in this area, mapping out gaps in the available techniques, and developing new useful tools.

The post-doc will work with the Director of Research and other J-PAL academic affiliates in the areas above, as well as develop and carry out their own RCT projects, and publish the results in academic journals.

Approximately an equal share of the post-doc's research efforts will be devoted to J-PAL-related trial innovation projects (of the sort described here) and to independent research projects.

This position is based at J-PAL's Global headquarters at MIT in Cambridge, MA, U.S.A.

To apply complete the J-PAL/IPA Common Application at <https://apply.povertyactionlab.org/>. After completing a brief registration, choose the Research job category, then select "Postdoctoral Associate - J-PAL Global".

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4634

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

The Political Science department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison seeks to hire a faculty member who will publish original quantitative methods research. The successful candidate will teach advanced quantitative research methods at the graduate level and substantive classes in American Politics, Comparative Politics or International Relations.

Faculty positions include a commitment to the important functions of research, instruction, and outreach, as well as professional and university service as appropriate to faculty rank.

To apply please go to <http://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/cw/en-us/job/498934/assistant-professor-in-political-science><http://jobs.hr.wisc.edu/cw/en-us/job/498934/assistant-professor-in-political-science&lt;/a&gt;>

UW-Madison is seeking a diverse set of faculty candidates who will approach their work in a manner that advances our commitment to excellence in research, teaching and service. Candidates from under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/25/2018

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4614

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Computational Social Science Professor - Open Rank

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is inviting applications for full time faculty positions in Computational Social Sciences, from senior scholars – at the rank of associate and full professors - and exceptional early career scholars.

We encourage applications from all excellent candidates in any field answering social-science questions, as long as they have a strong focus on (big) data collection and visualization; data management and analysis techniques such as machine learning, text analysis, network science/analysis, spatial data analysis/GIS.

All candidates should demonstrate important contributions to their area of research as evidenced e.g. by significant publications in top international academic journals and a history of acquiring third party funding, as well as the ability to mentor and collaborate with a group of junior social scientists.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to continue to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The position features a standard teaching load of three courses per year. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the Global Network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

The review of applications will occur on a rolling basis. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi throughout the 18/19 Academic Year. We anticipate that successful candidates will start employment on August 15, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

You may start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52984>

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4606

New York University Abu Dhabi*Rank: Social Neuroscience Professor - Open Rank

The Division of Social Science at NYUAD is seeking to hire a faculty member in the area of Social Neuroscience. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. Although the specific area of research is open, the focus should be human research explicitly linked to social processes. Individuals from all academic backgrounds are encouraged to apply (e.g., biology, psychology, economics, political science or sociology). Preference will be given to applicants who use fMRI, EEG, or process tracing methods, whose research reflects the interdisciplinary nature of social science and who can forge linkages to other areas of study both within the Division (i.e., with economists, political scientists and sociologists) and outside the Division.

The facilities available include a state-of-the-art brain- imaging center housing a Siemens Prisma 3T MRI, MEG, EEG, eye tracking and behavioral testing facilities. The successful candidates will also have access to state of the art core facilities that include High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6,400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. We will begin consideration of applications October 1st, although review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

You can start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52983>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4603

New York University Abu Dhabi*Rank: Social Neuroscience Professor - Open Rank

The Division of Social Science at NYUAD is seeking to hire a faculty member in the area of Social Neuroscience. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. Although the specific area of research is open, the focus should be human research explicitly linked to social processes. Individuals from all academic backgrounds are encouraged to apply (e.g., biology, psychology, economics, political science or sociology). Preference will be given to applicants who use fMRI, EEG, or process tracing methods, whose research reflects the interdisciplinary nature of social science and who can forge linkages to other areas of study both within the Division (i.e., with economists, political scientists and sociologists) and outside the Division.

The facilities available include a state-of-the-art brain- imaging center housing a Siemens Prisma 3T MRI, MEG, EEG, eye tracking and behavioral testing facilities. The successful candidates will also have access to state of the art core facilities that include High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6,400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. We will begin consideration of applications October 1st, although review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

You can start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52983>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4604

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Science and Genetics Professor - Open Rank

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) invites applications for full time faculty positions in New York University Abu Dhabi from scholars working at the intersection of genetics and social sciences. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. We will consider applicants from across social science or social science related disciplines (e.g. sociology, economics, political science, psychology, biological anthropology, psychology and human genetics) with active and cutting-edge research agendas that include, but are not limited to, population genetics and social identity, genetics and human behaviour, critical and historical approaches to the use of genetics in social science and public policy, and bioethics in relation to human genetics.

Successful candidates will benefit from resources at NYUAD that support work at the intersection of genetics and the social sciences by providing access to cohorts, populations, collaborations and research programs. These include the Center for Genomics and Systems Biology (<http://as.nyu.edu/biology/research/gsb/cgsb.html>), the Public Health Research Center (<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/research/centers-labs-and-projects/public-health-research-center.html>), and seminars and colloquia that bring together faculty from biology and the social sciences.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals or books. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

The review of applications will begin on October 15 and continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi throughout the 18/19 Academic Year. We anticipate that successful candidates will start employment on August 15, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

You may start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52985>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/15/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4605

University of Southern California
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations (Tenure Track)

Assistant Professor of International Relations (Tenure Track)

The School of International Relations at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California seeks to hire a tenure-track assistant professor to begin in August 2019. We are especially interested in candidates with training in advanced methods, such as formal modeling. The successful candidate should also have the interest and capacity to teach PhD level methods courses. The successful applicant will teach at both the graduate and undergraduate levels depending on substantive or regional specialization. The Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

The School of International Relations is a department in USC Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences. It offers the B.A. in International Relations and the Ph.D. in Political Science and International Relations jointly with the Department of Political Science. Please see www.usc.edu/sir and www.usc.edu/poir for more information.

The applicant should send a CV, a sample research paper, a statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, three letters of recommendation, and official graduate transcripts to sirsearch@dornsife.usc.edu, or

SIR Junior Search Committee
 USC School of International Relations
 3518 Trousdale Parkway, VKC 330
 Los Angeles, CA 90089-0043

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are also required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-of-international-relations/1209/8973703>.

Review of applications will begin starting September 15, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4575

University of Toronto
Rank: Indigenous Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a tenure stream position in Indigenous Politics, at the rank of Assistant Professor. This position will be held on the St. George campus and will begin on July 1, 2019.

Candidates must have a PhD or be near completing a PhD in Political Science or a related social sciences or humanities discipline, with a focus on Indigenous politics, and with demonstrated excellence in teaching, research, and Indigenous community engagement. We are seeking a scholar with a strong record in Indigenous research methodologies and ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, whose work focuses on Indigenous feminist research, Indigenous governance and practices, related policies, and/or colonialism and decolonization. Long term ethical engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, and competence to instruct and engage in research from an Indigenous perspective, using Indigenous methodologies, knowledge systems, and epistemologies is required. Preference will be given to Indigenous Peoples of North America or Peoples of Turtle Island, including those who identify as First Nations (status, non-status, treaty or non-treaty), Metis, Inuit, Alaskan Native, Native American, and Native Hawaiian Peoples.

The Department of Political Science is a leading research-intensive department with large undergraduate and graduate programs. Responsibilities of the position include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses (specific assignments to be negotiated), regular participation in departmental and university activities, maintaining a productive research agenda, supervising students at the undergraduate, MA and PhD levels, and student mentoring.

Excellence in research should be demonstrated through publications in high quality field relevant peer reviewed journals or forthcoming high quality publications, awards and accolades, presentations at significant conferences, and strong endorsements by referees of high standing, including a letter of support commenting on Indigenous community engagement. Excellence in teaching should be demonstrated by the teaching dossier outlining experience and accomplishments, the teaching statement, demonstrated knowledge and experience in Indigenous-based teaching methods, and strong letters of reference. The successful candidate will play an important role in growing and shaping the Political Science department's commitment to Indigenous Studies in the next few years.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 25 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the world's most diverse cities, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is enhanced by the cultural diversity in its community. In response to the Final Report of the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation Commission, U of T established a TRC Steering Committee to guide the University's response to the 94 Calls to Action. The University recently established an office of Indigenous Initiatives that works in close collaboration with the Centre for Indigenous Studies, First Nations House and other Indigenous facets of the University of Toronto (such as Indigenous Medical Education, Waakebiness-Bryce, and the Indigenous Education Network) to motivate initiatives designed to recruit and retain Indigenous students. This office supports the intellectual and communal life of Indigenous students and scholars on campus, including Indigenous Staff and Faculty Gatherings, an Elders Symposium, organizing and hosting Indigenous Education Week, and various conference initiatives (such as sending individuals to the World Indigenous Peoples Conference on Education (WIPCE) and hosting the Native American and Indigenous Studies Association (NAISA) meetings in 2020). The office includes a large staff and Faculty advisory and collaboration committee. The University has also earmarked funding to host Indigenous scholars and Distinguished Visiting Faculty Fellows. This work complements a major recruitment drive to hire Indigenous faculty across the University.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. Candidates must also arrange to have three confidential academic reference letters signed and on letterhead sent directly to the Chair of the Political Science department, Antoinette Handley, via email to chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. Candidates should also arrange to have a letter of support commenting on their Indigenous community engagement sent to the same address. All application materials must be submitted through the University of Toronto's online application system by the closing date. Please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF or MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

The closing date for applications is October 15, 2018. If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Antoinette Handley at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4571

University of Toronto

Rank: Indigenous Politics at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a tenure stream position in Indigenous Politics, at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. This position will be held on the St. George campus and will begin on July 1, 2019.

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or a related social sciences or humanities discipline, with a focus on Indigenous politics, and with demonstrated excellence in teaching, research, and Indigenous community engagement. We are seeking a scholar with a strong record in Indigenous research methodologies and ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, whose work focuses on Indigenous feminist research, Indigenous governance and practices, related policies, and/or colonialism and decolonization. Long term ethical engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, and competence to instruct and engage in research from an Indigenous perspective, using Indigenous methodologies, knowledge systems, and epistemologies is required. Preference will be given to Indigenous Peoples of North America or Peoples of Turtle Island, including those who identify as First Nations (status, non-status, treaty or non-treaty), Metis, Inuit, Alaskan Native, Native American, and Native Hawaiian Peoples.

The Department of Political Science is a leading research-intensive department with large undergraduate and graduate programs. Responsibilities of the position include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses (specific assignments to be negotiated), regular participation in departmental and university activities, maintaining a productive research agenda, supervising students at the undergraduate, MA and PhD levels, and student mentoring.

Excellence in research should be evidenced through a demonstrated ability to attract external research funding; a record of sustained impactful publications in top-ranked field relevant peer reviewed academic journals; presentations at significant conferences; distinguished awards and accolades; and strong endorsements by referees of high standing, including a letter of support commenting on Indigenous community engagement. Excellence in teaching should be demonstrated by the teaching dossier outlining experience and accomplishments, the teaching statement, demonstrated knowledge and experience in Indigenous-based teaching methods, and strong letters of reference. The successful candidate will play an important role in growing and shaping the Political Science department's commitment to Indigenous Studies in the next few years.

The appointment will be contingent upon a successful tenure review. Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 25 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the world's most diverse cities, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is enhanced by the cultural diversity in its community. In response to the Final Report of the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation Commission, U of T established a TRC Steering Committee to guide the University's response to the 94 Calls to Action. The University recently established an office of Indigenous Initiatives that works in close collaboration with the Centre for Indigenous Studies, First Nations House and other Indigenous facets of the University of Toronto (such as Indigenous Medical Education, Waakebiness-Bryce, and the Indigenous Education Network) to motivate initiatives designed to recruit and retain Indigenous students. This office supports the intellectual and communal life of Indigenous students and scholars on campus, including Indigenous Staff and Faculty Gatherings, an Elders Symposium, organizing and hosting Indigenous Education Week, and various conference initiatives (such as sending individuals to the World Indigenous Peoples Conference on Education (WIPCE) and hosting the Native American and Indigenous Studies Association (NAISA) meetings in 2020). The office includes a large staff and Faculty advisory and collaboration committee. The University has also earmarked funding to host Indigenous scholars and Distinguished Visiting Faculty Fellows. This work complements a major recruitment drive to hire Indigenous faculty across the University.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. Candidates must also arrange to have three confidential academic reference letters signed and on letterhead sent directly to the Chair of the Political Science department, Antoinette Handley, via email to chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. Candidates should also arrange to have a letter of support commenting on their Indigenous community engagement sent to the same address. All application materials must be submitted through the University of Toronto's online application system by the closing date. Please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF or MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

The closing date for applications is October 15, 2018. If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Antoinette Handley at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4570

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Policy

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for one or more tenure-track junior faculty positions. These positions are open with respect to subfield and involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8001>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Teaching and research statements are optional. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00001

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4565

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Administration

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus and methodological approach. The position requires excellence in research and classroom teaching. We are especially interested in applicants with a record of successful teaching and mentoring of students from all backgrounds (including first-generation college students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.). Applicants are encouraged to state in their cover letter how they will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or be ABD with PhD expected by the time of appointment. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and letters of recommendation from at least three references. Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53055>. The review of applications will begin on September 17, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to: michael.herron@dartmouth.edu

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Spring 2019
Application Deadline: 9/17/2018
Date Posted: 8/7/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4512

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Formal Theory / Political Economy for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. The applicant should demonstrate advanced skills in analytical reasoning and formal modeling (including but not limited to game theory), as well as a strong applied focus in at least one subfield. The successful candidate will be able to convey their insights to an audience that does not necessarily have extensive formal training but that is interested in the ideas as applied to a well-defined substantive problem. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apolrecruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01847>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4522

Saint Mary's College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor — Research Methods and American Politics

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE

Visiting Assistant Professor – Political Science

The Program in Political Science invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor beginning August 2019. The position is for one year; there is a possibility of conversion to a tenure-track position if circumstances and funding permit. The Department seeks a scholar in Research Methods and American Politics who has a strong commitment to teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment. The candidate's primary responsibility will be to teach a 3-3 load, which in addition to the Research Methods course required of all Political Science majors may include such courses as Public Opinion, Political Parties and Interest Groups, and Gender and Politics. Ability to teach Foreign Policy and/or Security Studies is a plus. A strong commitment to diversity and inclusion, undergraduate education of women, liberal arts education, and service to the department and the College is expected.

PhD required. ABD considered if PhD to be completed within one year. Teaching experience required. Starting date is August 19, 2019. Classes begin on August 26, 2019.

Please send the following to Dr. Amy Cavender, chair, at posc+search@saintmarys.edu (PDF format preferred):

Letter of application

Curriculum vitae

Statement of teaching philosophy/research activity

Statement on diversity

Evidence of teaching excellence

Three letters of reference

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants invited to progress to the next round will also be asked to provide all official transcripts of undergraduate and graduate work.

Established in 1844, Saint Mary's College, the nation's premier Catholic Women's college, was founded and is sponsored by the Sisters of the Holy Cross. As a Catholic institution of higher learning, Saint Mary's College has a mission-driven responsibility to be diverse, inclusive, and equitable. The College encourages candidates from underrepresented backgrounds to apply. (See our full value statement on diversity and inclusion: <https://www.saintmarys.edu/about/president/presidents-council-inclusivity-multicultural-diversity>.) Saint Mary's College is a liberal arts college for women with a strong commitment to education of undergraduate women and graduate women and men. All faith traditions are welcome among our administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Saint Mary's College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. In keeping with the College's mission, Saint Mary's is committed to increasing its diversity at all levels — students, faculty, and staff — and seeks applications from candidates who share this commitment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4471

Columbia University

Rank: Adjunct Professor (open rank)

The Department of Political Science at Columbia University invites applications for adjunct professor positions for the following courses in the 2018-19 academic year.

Course Descriptions:

Quantitative Political Research (Fall). Introduction to the use of quantitative techniques in political science and public policy. Topics include descriptive statistics and principles of statistical inference and probability through analysis of variance and ordinary least-squares regression. Computer applications are emphasized.

Analysis of Political Data (Spring). Prerequisites: Quantitative Political Research or the equivalent. Multivariate and time-series analysis of political data. Topics include time-series regression, structural equation models, factor analysis, and other special topics. Computer applications are emphasized.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in a social science or a related field is required. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. A CV, cover letter, list of professional references and teaching evaluations (if available) should be sent to Kay Achar (kea6@columbia.edu) with the subject line "Adjunct Instructor Application."

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/10/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4366

Columbia University

Rank: Lecturer

The Quantitative Methods in the Social Sciences (QMSS) MA Program at Columbia University invites applications for part-time lecturer positions for a number of courses in the Fall of 2018. Positive performance may lead to further teaching opportunities. Part-time faculty usually have a very positive experience teaching for us and usually work with us over and over again. Our courses in need of instructors are:

* Theory and Methodology for the Social Sciences: This course focuses on foundational ideas of social science research, including strengths and weaknesses of different research designs, interpretation of data drawn from various sources, and strategies for evaluating evidence. Students write memos, make presentations and write a final research proposal.

* Practicum on Large-Scale Data Analysis and Processing: This course is a “hands-on” training seminar dealing with organizing large, data-intensive projects. Students will practice accessing a variety of large-scale data sources and formats; conducting advanced analysis of big data; and “productizing” their results and findings via dashboards, reports, interactive graphics, and apps. An instructor with experience in industry would be particularly valuable for this course.

* Introduction to Data Science Algorithms: This course introduces the logic, basic design and analysis of algorithms relevant to data science, machine learning and data analysis. Topics include algorithms for: sorting, searching, graph processing, string processing, SVD and PCA, hashing, count-min sketch, nearest neighbors, network flows, and data compression.

* Natural Language Processing for Social Science: This course introduces students to the key concepts and theories behind natural language processing, or understanding how to analyze and reproduce human speech. Topics include language modeling; part of speech tagging; parsing; information extraction; tokenizing; topic modeling; machine translation; automatic summarization; supervised machine learning; and hidden Markov models.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in a social science or a related field is required. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until positions are filled. A CV, cover letter, list of professional references and teaching evaluations (if available) should be sent as PDF files to qmss@columbia.edu with the subject line “Fall 2018 Part-Time Lecturer Application.” Let us know which courses you might be interested in teaching. An optional writing sample and statement of teaching philosophy may also be included.

About QMSS

QMSS of Columbia University is one of the oldest interdisciplinary applied statistics MA programs of its kind, with more than 17 years of training graduate students. We count hundreds of data scientists, senior analysts and academic researchers among our alumni. We are constantly striving to develop new ways to push the boundaries of where social science and data science meet at Columbia. Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/12/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4301

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The School of Political Science of the Higher School of Economics in Moscow*, Russia invites applications for multiple full-time, tenure track position in political science. The search is open with respect to subfield and topic of specialization, but we are particularly interested in candidates specializing in one or more of the following areas: political theory, comparative politics, international politics, global political economy, qualitative methodology, or data analysis and quantitative methods. Knowledge of Russian is not required as teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Requirements

Doctorate or terminal degree in political science or related fields by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2019 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Tenure review will be in the sixth year (or earlier at the discretion of the applicant).

Knowledge of Russian is not required; teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Benefits

The salary is internationally competitive, indexed to inflation annually, and subject to a 13% flat income tax. The university offers health insurance (free of charge), language assistance, and other social benefits; travel support and other research assistance are generous. Since we place a heavy emphasis on high quality research, the teaching load of newly hired faculty is relatively low and service is minimal.

Job Location

Moscow, Russia

Application

Position announcements are posted on the HSE International Faculty Recruitment portal.

Interested candidates should post a letter detailing the direction of research and teaching objectives, a CV, a recent research paper, and 2 letters of recommendation via online application form at <https://iri.hse.ru/>

Application deadline is September 1, 2018.

Late applications can be also considered if the position is not filled.

Learn More

More information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en>
 More information about the School of Political Science: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps>

More information about recruitment procedures: <https://iri.hse.ru/>
International Faculty Support portal with detailed information on various issues concerning move to Russia and work at HSE: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru>

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities in the fields of economics, social sciences and humanities, and has emerged as a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was ranked 48th in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and is among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

One of its unique features has been its direct involvement in socioeconomic reforms in Russia, which has allowed HSE to develop as a "project and research university" where education, fundamental and applied research, and "think tank" activities are combined for the comprehensive development of society. Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has more than 30 international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world.

Since 2006 the HSE has been recruiting professional academics from international research universities in order to raise the standards of research at the University. HSE now employs more than 100 international tenure-track and postdoctoral fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and centers in Moscow and at HSE's campuses in St. Petersburg and Perm.

School of Political Science

The School of Political Science offers an array of educational options for students from Russia and abroad. We teach a full range of subjects based on the latest developments in academic research in political science. From comparative politics to political theory and quantitative and qualitative approaches, the professors of the School pursue research across the entire spectrum of modern political science.

Not only is there methodological diversity; there is considerable breadth in terms of substantive and geographic specializations. Among the School's academic "trademarks" are comparative politics and Russian politics, including politics in the Russian regions.

The quality of research at Higher School of Economics has already been widely recognized, and HSE counts among the top-100 universities in the world according to the QS ranking in this subject field.

Contact Information

Address: 20 Myasnitskaya ulitsa, Moscow, 101000

Phones:

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22535

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22428

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22834

E-mail: socscience@hse.ru

Website: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2018

Date Posted: 5/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4225

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS - <http://cpass.ucsd.edu/>) has two postdoctoral positions available for the 2018-2019 academic year. Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director. Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4173

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations (MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

NON-ACADEMIC

RAND Corporation

Rank: PhD Researcher in International/Security Policy

Subfield(s): Non-Academic, Public Policy, Other

RAND advises a variety of defense clients on policy-level decisions relating to defense programs, military systems, future force structure and doctrine, and national military strategy. Working with multi-disciplinary teams, national security researchers apply quantitative and qualitative skills to analyze policy problems of national and international importance, and communicate the results of these analyses to decision-makers.

Qualifications

National security researchers should have demonstrable ability to research and analyze intelligence or defense policy issues. All research positions at RAND require excellent analytic skills; the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in English, both orally and in writing; the ability to work effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team; and a strong commitment to RAND's core values of quality and objectivity.

In connection with national security or defense projects, many positions require that applicants be eligible to receive, or currently hold, a security clearance from the United States government.

Education Requirements

PhD in international relations, area studies, political science, public policy, public administration, or a closely related discipline.

Experience

Applicants may be considered for associate, full, or senior researcher positions commensurate with their experience.

Security Clearance

Some research may require a security clearance. In order to obtain a security clearance, one of the requirements includes U.S. citizenship.

Location

Santa Monica, CA; Boston, MA; Pittsburgh, PA; Washington, DC; (CA, MA, PA preferred office locations)

Writing Sample Required

Two writing samples are required for this position. Pieces that show rigorous use of evidence and logic which are either solo or lead authored are preferred.

How to apply: www.rand.org/jobs/id5011

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer Minorities/Females/Vets/Disabled

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4556

RAND Corporation

Rank: Senior Homeland Security Policy Researcher

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Non-Academic, Other

RAND advises a variety of homeland clients on policy-level decisions relating to homeland security, including: preparedness, resiliency, and emergency response; immigration policy and border control; critical infrastructure protection; cyber security; terrorism and counterterrorism. Working in multi-disciplinary teams, Homeland Security Policy Researchers apply quantitative and qualitative skills to analyze policy problems of national and international importance, and communicate the results of these analyses to decision-makers.

Qualifications

Homeland Security Policy researchers should have extensive knowledge and demonstrable ability to analyze or implement policies involving strategy, doctrine, operations, tactics, systems or organization. All research positions at RAND require excellent analytic skills, and the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in English, both orally and in writing; the ability to work effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team; and a strong commitment to RAND's core values of quality and objectivity. Senior positions require the ability to mentor and develop junior staff members, lead and direct multi-disciplinary teams, set project standards and monitor progress, and communicate interim and final results to the RAND community and to policy-making audiences.

In connection with homeland security projects, many positions require that applicants be eligible to receive, or currently hold, a security clearance from the United States government.

Education Requirements

Ph.D. in American government/politics, public policy, public administration, policy analysis, or other discipline closely related to the topics outlined in the Position Description above. Applicants with a Master's degree or a JD degree and substantial research experience will also be considered.

Experience

Applicants should have at least ten years of relevant policy experience in homeland security policy planning and analysis with a record of progressively increasing responsibility. Substantive areas of analysis include: security, threat, and risk assessment; policy analysis; acquisition planning and development; and regulatory assessment.

Security Clearance

U.S. Citizenship is required to obtain a security clearance. An active Secret or interim Secret clearance is preferred.

Location

Santa Monica, CA; Boston, MA; Pittsburgh, PA; Washington, DC (CA, PA preferred office locations)

Writing Sample Required

Two writing samples are required for this position. Pieces that show rigorous use of evidence and logic which are either solo or lead authored are preferred.

How to apply: www.rand.org/jobs/id5003

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer Minorities/Females/Vets/Disabled

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4557

OTHER

University of Michigan

Rank: Emerging Democracies Postdoctoral Fellow

Fellowship period: September 2019 - August 2021

Application deadline: January 15, 2019

The Weiser Center for Emerging Democracies (WCED) at the University of Michigan invites postdoctoral scholars to apply for the Emerging Democracies Postdoctoral Fellowship. The two-year fellowship supports research on the broad historical, political, economic, and societal conditions under which democracies emerge—and autocracies endure.

Up to two awards are available for the 2019-21 fellowship. Emerging Democracies Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in WCED workshops and events, and present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, while in residence at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. A teaching opportunity may be possible during the second year of the fellowship, if desired.

We welcome excellent applicants from all disciplines. Fellows must have successfully defended and filed their dissertation before beginning the fellowship. Eligibility is restricted to those who have received their PhD after January 1, 2017.

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $50,000 and up to $7,000 in research funds during the post-doctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning September 1, 2019 through August 31, 2021). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Candidates will be required to submit:

- A two-page research plan that outlines the research project and how the fellow will spend his/her time during the fellowship year.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter, conference paper, or journal article.
- Two letters of recommendation.

Fellowship applications must be received by January 15, 2019, 11:59 pm EST. Applicants will be notified in March 2019.

Application link available at <https://www.ii.umich.edu/wced/postdoctoral-fellows.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 9/1/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4677

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Local Governance and Management Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty Position

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS
INDIANA UNIVERSITY-BLOOMINGTON CAMPUS

LOCAL GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT
Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty Position

The School of Public and Environmental Affairs at Indiana University is searching for an Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor with specialties in local governance and management. Research focuses can be domestic, international, or comparative and may include (but are not limited to) collaborative governance, participatory democracy, community development, network modeling, local solutions to compelling problems, urban planning, local or regional economic development, performance of local government services, management of local government, and information technology for local governance. Appointment at the full professor level may be possible for a candidate with an exceptional research record in the specified areas of expertise.

Minimum educational qualifications include a Ph.D. in a related field (e.g., political science, public affairs, public management, public administration, public policy, sociology, urban planning, economics) and evidence of a developed research program. The successful candidates will be expected to develop and maintain an extramurally supported research program. The expected start date is August 1, 2019 and Ph.D. must be completed by that date.

We are especially interested in applicants with a record of successful teaching and mentoring of students from all backgrounds (including first-generation college students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.) and an interest in contributing to SPEA's programs, curricular offerings, and research portfolio in ways that enhance diversity, equity, and inclusion; applicants are encouraged to address these topics in the letter of application.

SPEA-Bloomington is a world leader in public affairs education, and is among the largest schools of public administration and public policy in the United States with 34,000 alumni around the world. In the 2018 "Best Graduate Schools" reported by U.S. News & World Report, SPEA-Bloomington ranks first, making it the nation's highest-ranked professional graduate program in public affairs. Five of its specialty programs are ranked in the top-five listings.

To ensure consideration, application materials must be received by September 30 2018; however, the search will continue until the position is filled. Please submit a letter of application, current vitae, sample publication, and contact information for three references to <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/>

Inquiries regarding the position should be sent to Claudia N. Avelaneda, Search Chair, at cavellan@indiana.edu

For more information see: <http://www.indiana.edu/~spea>

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/q9xsqrykj2w2w5yb>

PI104093464

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4751

University of New England

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations and Global Studies

The Department of Political Science at the University of New England is searching for tenure-track Assistant Professor in International Relations and Global Studies beginning in the 2019-2020 academic year.

The ideal candidate will offer a range of introductory and advanced level courses in international relations, depending on the candidate's interest and expertise. The candidate will also teach Introduction to Global Studies and help guide students interested in the Global Studies major. The ability to teach in another sub-field, especially American or Comparative Politics, would be of additional value to the department. Political science courses at UNE are generally taught in a seminar style, with an emphasis on high-engagement with students.

We seek a well-rounded teacher-scholar with a promising research agenda. The department values research that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to address original and important questions. Service to the University and a strong commitment to academic advising and student mentorship is expected.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Sciences or related field at the time of appointment.

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please visit <https://une.peopleadmin.com/postings/4912>

UNE has a beautiful campus ocean-side in Biddeford, Maine. It is 20 minutes away from Portland, one of the country's most livable cities. The political science department is small, but vibrant. We value great teachers and scholars.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/25/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4737

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Africa, Middle East

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University (Vancouver, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019. We invite applicants from any social science discipline with research on post-conflict dynamics and processes of reconstruction (e.g., transitional justice, peace-keeping/peace-building, social integration and reconciliation, state building, economic development in post-conflict contexts). We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Africa, the Middle East, and South or Southeast Asia.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree by the time of appointment, demonstrated excellence in research, and strong teaching potential. Professional experience in applied research, practice, or policy will be considered an asset.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public research university (ranked #1 by Maclean's Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada for 2016, 2017, and 2018). We earn top marks for our world-class social science research, award-winning students and faculty, and new library acquisitions. The normal teaching load for this full-time position is four courses per year, taught in two of three terms, with the third for research.

Applications will be treated in confidence and should include: a letter of application, statements of research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, until the position is filled. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Materials should be sent in a single pdf file via email only to intst@sfu.ca (letters of reference should be sent directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: "2018 Assistant Professor Application, (Applicant Name)." Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Tamir Moustafa, at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the university for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4726

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Africa, Middle East

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University (Vancouver, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019. We invite applicants from any social science discipline with research on post-conflict dynamics and processes of reconstruction (e.g., transitional justice, peace-keeping/peace-building, social integration and reconciliation, state building, economic development in post-conflict contexts). We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Africa, the Middle East, and South or Southeast Asia.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree by the time of appointment, demonstrated excellence in research, and strong teaching potential. Professional experience in applied research, practice, or policy will be considered an asset.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public research university (ranked #1 by Maclean's Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada for 2016, 2017, and 2018). We earn top marks for our world-class social science research, award-winning students and faculty, and new library acquisitions. The normal teaching load for this full-time position is four courses per year, taught in two of three terms, with the third for research.

Applications will be treated in confidence and should include: a letter of application, statements of research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, until the position is filled. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Materials should be sent in a single pdf file via email only to intst@sfu.ca (letters of reference should be sent directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: "2018 Assistant Professor Application, (Applicant Name)." Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Tamir Moustafa, at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the university for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4727

Australian National University

Rank: Academic Level B-D (Lecturer/Senior Lecturer/Associate Professor)

Specializations: Political Economy, Quantitative Methods, Political Theory

We welcome applications from candidates with expertise in the following areas: International Relations, International Political Economy and Political Economy.

Successful candidates will have outstanding records of demonstrated excellence in research, publications, and education. As well as teaching, the appointee will be expected to have an active research agenda, supervise Honours and PhD students and work collegially with other members of the School.

The standard teaching load is three courses per year, plus work with honours and graduate students.

The School of Politics and International Relations is based in the nation's capital, Canberra, and ranked as the leading international relations department in Australia as well as one of the top 10 in the world for political science and international relations.

ANU provides attractive benefits and excellent support to maintain a healthy work/life balance and offers generous remuneration benefits, including four weeks paid vacation per year, assistance with relocation expenses, 17% employer contribution to superannuation and eligibility to apply for 6-month research leave every three years. For more information on working at ANU please visit <http://hr.anu.edu.au/employment-at-anu>

For more information about these positions including how to apply please go to:

<http://www.anu.edu.au/jobs>

Lecturer B – D International Relations:

<http://jobs.anu.edu.au/cw/en/job/526171/lecturer-international-relations>

Lecturer B – D International Political Economy: <http://jobs.anu.edu.au/cw/en/job/526164/lecturer-international-political-economy>

Lecturer B – D Political Economy:

<http://jobs.anu.edu.au/cw/en/job/526172/lecture-political-economy>

Enquiries: Dr Andrew Banfield, E: Andrew.banfield@anu.edu.au

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4717

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Lecturer in Quantitative Research Methods

The Division of Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for a position as Senior Lecturer in a new Committee on Quantitative Methods in Social, Behavioral, and Health Sciences. This is a full-time teaching position beginning September 2019 with a renewable three-year term contingent upon satisfactory performance review. The salary (nine months) and benefits are competitive commensurate with experience.

To be eligible, candidates must have a PhD in a social, behavioral, or health science field with a strong focus on the application of quantitative research methods and a record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring students.

The Senior Lecturer will teach four courses per year in quantitative research methods (at least one course per quarter during the three-quarter academic year). One course will be a discussion session prior to each biweekly Quantitative Research Methods (QRM) Workshop; the discussion session is designed to engage students in technical writings that each workshop speaker will distribute ahead of time, provide scaffolding in content knowledge, and facilitate student participation in intellectual exchanges. For the remaining three courses, the ideal candidate would be able to teach one or two courses on psychometrics and multivariate statistics, and one or two courses to be determined on a yearly basis according to individual expertise and program needs. The courses will be open to undergraduate, master's, and doctoral students. Additional responsibilities will include the following:

Program Development and Management

- participate in applicant evaluation, admissions decisions, and recruitment for the Master of Arts Program in Social Sciences (MAPSS) section for Quantitative Methods and Social Analysis (QMSA); advise individual M.A. theses as needed; participate in hiring decisions, training, supervision, and evaluation of an advanced doctoral student Preceptor in MAPSS for the QMSA section;

- co-author doctoral training grant applications and manage or participate in managing training grant awards;

- work with the faculty director of QRM and the Curriculum Subcommittee to lead ongoing development and review of the curriculum for a new certificate in Advanced Quantitative Methods for students enrolled in graduate degree programs and ensure that the curriculum reflects the latest methodological developments; define and evaluate learning objectives across curricular and co-curricular initiatives; implement faculty-approved changes across the curriculum; coordinate QRM course offerings across departments for each following academic year;

- lead ongoing development and review of the curriculum for a college minor in Quantitative Social Analysis;

-organize the biweekly Quantitative Research Methods (QRM) Workshop; participate in selecting, orientating, and hosting external speakers (including engaging intellectually with scholarship in various fields);

-oversee regular updating of academic information on the QRM website;

Academic Advising

-organize quarterly information sessions and advise students on course opportunities in quantitative methods;

-advise MAPSS QMSA students who are applying to PhD programs or are seeking other professional placement, write letters of recommendation.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/y9agxd7k>. The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter describing academic specialty, teaching interests, and qualifications for teaching, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) Syllabi for two proposed courses, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin September 22, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Aasha Francis, afrancis1@uchicago.edu, for updates on the status of the search.

Required Application Documents:

? Cover Letter

? Curriculum Vitae

? Writing Sample

? Syllabi

? Teaching Evaluations

? Three letters of reference

Posting Link: <https://tinyurl.com/y9agxd7k>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/22/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4709

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Salary is competitive with Departments at our peer institutions worldwide and not less than £54,984 per annum inclusive

We are recruiting a new career-track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics. Based in the Department of Government, the successful candidate will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities. Candidates must have strong research and teaching interests in comparative politics. We are open to all country/regional specialisms, and all methodological approaches.

The successful candidate must have, or be close to obtaining (by 2 September 2019), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. Candidates must have excellent written and oral communication skills and the ability to teach comparative politics at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Candidates must also have an outstanding research track record or trajectory, as evidenced by existing publications or potential to publish in top journals or with leading book publishers in comparative politics and a clear, well developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that has the potential to result in world-leading publications.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification. <https://info.lse.ac.uk/LSE-jobs/Current-academic-vacancies>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.faculty@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for the receipt of applications is 13 September 2018 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will be invited to visit the Department and present their research on 29 October – 01 November 2018

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/13/2018

Date Posted: 8/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4696

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Empirical Political Economy

Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Empirical Political Economy

Salary is competitive with Departments at our peer institutions worldwide and not less than £54,984 per annum inclusive

We are looking to recruit a new career-track Assistant Professor in Empirical Political Economy. This post is to add to our existing strengths in this area. Based in the Department of Government, the successful candidate will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities. Candidates must have advanced training in quantitative methods combined with a strong research and teaching interest in empirical political science and/or political economy. We welcome candidates with expertise in any region, country or set of issues.

The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to teaching by the Department of Government in the LSE School of Public Policy.

The successful candidate must have, or be close to obtaining (by 2 September 2019), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. Candidates must have excellent written and oral communication skills, and the ability to teach empirical political economy at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Candidates must also have an outstanding research track record or trajectory, as evidenced by existing publications or potential to publish in top journals or with leading book publishers in political science and a clear, well developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that has the potential to result in world-leading publications.

The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification. <https://info.lse.ac.uk/LSE-jobs/Current-academic-vacancies>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.faculty@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for the receipt of applications is 13 September 2018 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will be invited to visit the Department and present their research on 22 - 25 October 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/13/2018
Date Posted: 8/25/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4697

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Behavior

Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Political Behaviour

Salary is competitive with Departments at our peer institutions worldwide and not less than £54,984 per annum inclusive

We are looking to recruit a new career-track Assistant Professor in Political Behaviour. This post is to add to our existing strengths in political behaviour. Based in the Department of Government, the successful candidate will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities. Candidates must have advanced training in quantitative methods combined with a strong research and teaching interest in political behaviour, elections, public opinion and/or political psychology.

The successful candidate should expect to develop and deliver an undergraduate course in research design and methods in political science. The successful candidate must have, or be close to obtaining (by 2 September 2019), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. Candidates must have excellent written and oral communication skills, and the ability to teach political behaviour at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Candidates must also have an outstanding research track record or trajectory, as evidenced by existing publications in top journals in political science and/or books with leading book publishers and a clear, well developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that has the potential to result in world-leading publications.

The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification. <https://info.lse.ac.uk/LSE-jobs/Current-academic-vacancies>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.faculty@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for the receipt of applications is 13 September 2018 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will be invited to visit the Department and present their research on 12-15 November 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/13/2018
Date Posted: 8/24/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4685

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Communication

Assistant Professor – Political Communications

The Department of Political Science and the Jack J. Valenti School of Communication, both housed in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences at the University of Houston invite applications for a dual-appointment tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Communication to begin in Fall of 2019. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate teaching. Applicants with doctoral training in political science or communication are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in the field of political communications, equally dividing their teaching between the two units. Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

Both the Department of Political Science, with over 700 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students, and the Valenti School of Communication, with over 1,800 majors and over 50 M.A. students, provide high-quality undergraduate and graduate education. We capitalize on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC000645. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Associate Professor Jason Casellas, Department of Political Science, at jcasella@central.uh.edu, or Associate Professor Dr. Lindita Camaj, Valenti School of Communication, at lcamaj@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4692

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Communication

Assistant Professor – Political Communication

The Department of Political Science and the Jack J. Valenti School of Communication, both housed in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences at the University of Houston invite applications for a dual-appointment tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Communication to begin in Fall of 2019. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate teaching. Applicants with doctoral training in political science or communication are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in the field of political communications, equally dividing their teaching between the two units. Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

Both the Department of Political Science, with over 700 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students, and the Valenti School of Communication, with over 1,800 majors and over 50 M.A. students, provide high-quality undergraduate and graduate education. We capitalize on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC000645. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Associate Professor Jason Casellas, Department of Political Science, at jcasella@central.uh.edu, or Associate Professor Dr. Lindita Camaj, Valenti School of Communication, at lcamaj@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4693

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Communications

Assistant Professor – Political Communications

The Department of Political Science and the Jack J. Valenti School of Communication, both housed in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences at the University of Houston invite applications for a dual-appointment tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Communication to begin in Fall of 2019. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate teaching. Applicants with doctoral training in political science or communication are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in the field of political communications, equally dividing their teaching between the two units. Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

Both the Department of Political Science, with over 700 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students, and the Valenti School of Communication, with over 1,800 majors and over 50 M.A. students, provide high-quality undergraduate and graduate education. We capitalize on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC000645. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Associate Professor Jason Casellas, Department of Political Science, at jcasella@central.uh.edu, or Associate Professor Dr. Lindita Camaj, Valenti School of Communication, at lcamaj@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4691

Colorado College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Law & Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Other

Colorado College is hiring a tenure track assistant professor in environmental law and policy to join the college's interdisciplinary environmental studies program beginning in August 2019. The position requires expertise in environmental law and policy as well as an ability to engage in interdisciplinary approaches to environmental questions. The successful candidate will be able to teach courses including Environment & Society (an interdisciplinary introductory environmental studies course), U.S. Environmental Law & Policy, International Environmental Law & Policy, and electives in their field of expertise. The ideal candidate will be a JD/PhD who has worked in the field of environmental law and can teach courses that incorporate environmental case law. Yet they will also be able to situate the law within broader political and social questions of the relationship between humans and the environment.

The College actively promotes a dynamic and inclusive environment in which students and employees of diverse backgrounds, cultures, and perspectives can learn and work. Applicants should describe the ways in which they can contribute to this goal in their cover letter.

One distinguishing feature of Colorado College is its Block plan, in which professors teach, and students take, one course at a time. Each block is three and a half weeks long, and professors teach six of the eight blocks in an academic year. Applicants must be committed to high quality, innovative undergraduate teaching. Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if available. The block plan lends itself to field and project based teaching. Funds and logistical support for field trips and community based learning projects are available through the college and through the environmental studies program.

Preferred Qualifications: J.D. and Ph.D.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. is required by the start of employment; expertise in environmental law

Applications should include: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) a writing sample, and (6) a graduate school transcript. Optional documents: Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness (e.g. syllabi, course evaluations, etc.).

Applications must be submitted through <https://employment.coloradocollege.edu/postings/3477>

All applicants will need to list at least three references to submit a letter of recommendation. The application site will send emails to references with instructions for electronic submission.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4680

University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Psychology

Assistant Professor – Political Psychology

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. We invite applications from individuals with a strong program of research in the area of political psychology, broadly defined.

Minimum required qualifications include: a Ph.D. in political science, psychology, or related field or evidence the degree will be completed by August 2019. Preferred qualifications include: evidence of research agenda focused on political psychology; an active research program with strong potential for producing high impact publications and attracting external grant funding; strong interest in interdisciplinary research and collaboration; and ability to teach American politics at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Standard teaching load is four courses per year. Salary, start-up package, and fringe benefits are competitive.

Review of applications will begin October 5, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. To be considered for the position, please go to <http://employment.unl.edu>, requisition F_180112, and click "apply for this job." Candidates should submit a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and writing sample through this website (statements and writing sample will need to be combined into one document for submission). Three letters of recommendation should be emailed to ihaas2@unl.edu or mailed to: Dr. Ingrid Haas, Chair, Political Psychology Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, NE 68588-0328.

As an EO/AA employer, qualified applicants are considered for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation. See <http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4681

University of Nebraska, Lincoln
Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Psychology

Assistant Professor – Political Psychology

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. We invite applications from individuals with a strong program of research in the area of political psychology, broadly defined.

Minimum required qualifications include: a Ph.D. in political science, psychology, or related field or evidence the degree will be completed by August 2019. Preferred qualifications include: evidence of research agenda focused on political psychology; an active research program with strong potential for producing high impact publications and attracting external grant funding; strong interest in interdisciplinary research and collaboration; and ability to teach American politics at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Standard teaching load is four courses per year. Salary, start-up package, and fringe benefits are competitive.

Review of applications will begin October 5, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. To be considered for the position, please go to <http://employment.unl.edu>, requisition F_180112, and click “apply for this job.” Candidates should submit a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and writing sample through this website (statements and writing sample will need to be combined into one document for submission). Three letters of recommendation should be emailed to ihaas2@unl.edu or mailed to: Dr. Ingrid Haas, Chair, Political Psychology Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Lincoln, NE 68588-0328.

As an EO/AA employer, qualified applicants are considered for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation. See <http://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4682

Leiden University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Institute of Political Science of the Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences invites applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science (1.0 FTE)
 Vacancy number 5861
 Key responsibilities

Building upon our institute’s historic strength in the area of Dutch politics, we are looking for candidates qualified to conduct research on Dutch politics and to teach introductory and advanced courses in Dutch politics at the national and local levels within our bachelors and masters programmes. The appointment may also include teaching general introductory courses in political science or advanced courses on other topics reflecting the candidate’s expertise. Candidates are also expected to supervise undergraduate and graduate theses, to acquire external research funding, to contribute to the Institute’s research agenda, and to participate in the intellectual and administrative life of the Institute.

Selection criteria

- Applicants must hold (or be near to completing) a PhD in Political Science or a cognate discipline;
- Applicants must have a promising research agenda and publications focused on Dutch politics, plus relevant teaching experience and good teaching evaluations;
- Applicants must be able to teach in both Dutch and English;
- Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the University Teaching Qualification (BKO). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, s/he must obtain this qualification within two years.

Research at our Faculty/Institute

The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences comprises four institutes: Education and Child Studies, Political Science, Psychology and Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology. The Faculty also includes the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. The Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff. Our teaching and research programmes cover diverse topics varying from adoption to political behaviour. For more information, see <http://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/social-behavioural-sciences>.

The Institute of Political Science has a strong research tradition in various areas of comparative, Dutch and international politics, as well as political theory. Its research programme focuses on the design, workings and implications of political institutions, broadly defined, though individual members of staff pursue research projects within and beyond this theme. The Institute consistently receives high peer-reviewed ratings of its teaching and research programs. It has around 70 faculty members, including many non-Dutch scholars, and houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university’s multi-disciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy. The Institute is based in Leiden but some teaching is done in The Hague.

The Institute offers a range of taught programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programmes include general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The Master programmes (taught in Dutch and English) include a one-year MSc with four specialisations in Leiden and two in The Hague, including Nederlandse Politiek.

Terms and conditions

The position starts as soon as possible: preferably in January 2019 and in any case no later than March 2019. The appointment will be made on a temporary contract of up to 3 years depending upon prior experience. A permanent appointment may be possible during or after the term of the initial contract, depending upon performance and the budgetary situation of the Institute. Salary range from 3,545 to 4,852 gross per month (pay scale 11 in accordance with the Collective Labour Agreement for Dutch Universities).

Leiden University offers an attractive benefits package with additional holiday (8%) and end-of-year bonuses (8.3 %), training and career development. Our individual choices model gives you some freedom to assemble your own set of terms and conditions. Candidates from outside the Netherlands may be eligible for a substantial tax break.

More at <https://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/working-at/job-application-procedure-and-employment-conditions>.

Diversity

Leiden University is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from members of under-represented groups.

Information

Further enquiries can be directed to Professor Ruud Koole, chair of the selection committee, email koole@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Applications

Please submit online your application no later than 30 September 2018 via the blue button of <https://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/vacancies/2018/wk31-40/18-336-5861-assistant-professor-of-political-sciences>.

Applicants should submit online a letter of interest, a CV (with list of publications), a research statement covering current and future research agenda, a sample paper or article, and a statement of teaching interests and experience including sample syllabi or teaching evaluations.

Applicants should also ask three people to submit recommendation letters commenting on their professional qualifications and suitability for the position directly (i.e. not through the applicant) to vacature\_powe@fsw.leidenuniv.nl. Documents submitted for this application may be in Dutch or English.

The selection procedure will take place in October–November 2018. Selected candidates will first be invited for an online pre-interview; some will then be invited for in-person interview and research talk. You are kindly requested to be available in this period. Enquiries from agencies are not appreciated.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4660

Leiden University

Rank: PhD researcher position (3 positions of 1.0 FTE)

The Institute of Political Science of the Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences invites applicants (starting in January 2019) for PhD researcher positions (3 positions of 1.0 FTE)

Vacancy number 5862

Key responsibilities

Leiden University's Institute of Political Science has a strong research tradition in various areas of comparative, Dutch and international politics, as well as political theory. Its research programme focuses on the design, workings and implications of political institutions, broadly defined, though individual members of staff pursue research projects within and beyond this theme.

Positions 1 & 2: European economic governance / European political economy

These two PhD positions should focus on an aspect of European economic governance / European political economy related to European Union (EU) governance, the relations between the EU and its member states, the impact of aspects of European integration in the member states or relations between (a selection of) EU member states in particular in the field of European political economy. Both positions are linked to the institute's new Chair in European Politics and Political Economy held by Prof. Amy Verdun. The PhD candidate joins a team of researchers committed to learning about European economic governance in areas such as the European Semester with particular interest in the interactions between the EU institutions and the member states. Candidates with an interest in these specific issues are particularly encouraged to apply. The goal is to advance knowledge about governance and democracy in Europe including a better understanding of recent institutional developments in EU architecture, governance, and (dis)integration.

Candidates for these positions should have a strong understanding of the governance of the European Union, in particular in the area of EU economic governance, and solid training in qualitative and/or quantitative methods.

Position 3: Open

Applicants for this position should propose a research project in any area of political science including comparative politics, Dutch politics, international relations or political theory/philosophy. All topics will be considered but projects linked to specific expertise within the institute's staff are most likely to succeed. Applicants for this position should therefore indicate in their motivation letter which member(s) of the institute's staff they would like to supervise the proposed project. Applicants for this position should have a strong understanding of the issues and scholarly literature related to their proposed area of study, plus solid training in qualitative or quantitative empirical methods or philosophical methods appropriate to the proposed project.

Candidates are expected to have:

- Conduct research and write a PhD dissertation;
- Undertake relevant coursework and other training;
- Assist in teaching of 2 courses a year on average;
- Participate in PhD program activities and the general intellectual life of the Institute.

Selection criteria

- A master's degree in Political Science or in a cognate discipline with an evident interest in political science;
- An excellent command of English plus any other language skills appropriate to the project;
- Excellent study results and academic skills, visible in the bachelors and masters course transcripts;
- Strong writing skills, visible in the research proposal;
- The ability to work independently, and as part of a team.

Our Faculty/Institute

The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences comprises four institutes: Education and Child Studies, Political Science, Psychology and Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology. The Faculty also includes the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. The Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff. Our teaching and research programmes cover diverse topics varying from adoption to political behaviour. For more information, see <http://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/social-behavioural-sciences>.

The Institute of Political Science is consistently one of the top-ranked departments of its kind in Europe. It has over 50 academic staff, including many non-Dutch scholars, and houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university's multi-disciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy. The Institute is based in Leiden but also teaches at the university's campus in The Hague (12 minutes away by train). The Institute offers a range of programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programmes include general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The MSc programme (taught mostly in English) includes four specialisations taught in Leiden (International Politics; Nationalism and Ethnic Conflict; Parties, Parliaments and Democracy; Political Legitimacy and Justice) and two specialisations taught in The Hague (International Organisation; Dutch Politics).

Terms and conditions

The position starts in January 2019, or as soon as possible thereafter. If accepted, the candidates will initially be appointed for a probationary period of one year, with the prospect of a prolongation subject to satisfactory performance. The contract may be prolonged with an additional two years. Salary range from 2,266 to 2,897 gross per month (pay scale P in accordance with the collective employment agreement of Dutch universities). No tuition fees are required.

Leiden University offers an attractive benefits package with additional holiday (8%) and end-of-year bonuses (8.3 %), training and career development. Our individual choices model gives you some freedom to assemble your own set of terms and conditions. For international spouses we have set up a dual career programme. Candidates from outside the Netherlands may be eligible for a substantial tax break. More at <https://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/working-at/job-application-procedure-and-employment-conditions>.

Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the University Teaching Qualification (UTQ). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, he/ she must be willing to obtain this Qualification within two years.

Diversity

Leiden University is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from members of under-represented groups.

Information

Inquiries about positions 1 & 2 can be directed to Professor Amy Verdun, email a.c.verdun@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Inquiries about position 3 can be directed to Professor Joop van Holsteyn, email holsteyn@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Applications

Please submit online your application no later than 30 September 2018 via the blue button of our application system <https://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/vacancies/2018/wk31-40/18-335-5862-phd-researcher-positions>.

Applicants should submit online:

- A letter of interest expressing the motivation for the application;
- A CV;
- Copies of final academic transcripts from prior study at Bachelors and Masters levels;
- A research proposal (max. 2,500 words) addressing the research question, methodology, theoretical approach or research tradition, academic and societal relevance of the subject;
- An abstract of the proposal (max. 100 words);
- A writing sample: the applicant's master's thesis or another academic paper
- Two recommendation letters submitted by email (directly by the letter writers, not by the applicant) with "PhD applicant" in the subject line to vacature\_powe@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Incomplete applications will not be taken into consideration.

The selection procedure will take place in October/November. Selected candidates will first be invited for an online pre-interview; some will be invited to Leiden for an in-person interview. You are kindly requested to be available in this period.

Enquiries from agencies are not appreciated.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4661

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4662

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4663

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4664

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Senior Faculty Position in African American Studies

Specializations: African American Politics, Africa, Immigration Policy

Senior Faculty Position in African American Studies

The Department of African American Studies at The Pennsylvania State University invites applications for two outstanding Associate Professors or Professors in African American Studies. AOS: Senior Searches in African American Studies. AOC: Associate Professor or Professor. These hires are part of a cluster hire initiative at The Pennsylvania State University in African American Studies across several departments including English and Philosophy. For more information, please visit <http://la.psu.edu/about/diversity-and-inclusion/faculty>. We are looking for excellent applicants in all disciplines and fields, but especially welcome those working in areas of the diaspora outside of the U.S., in earlier time periods, comparatists, and social scientists. The successful candidate will join a thriving African American Studies department with faculty from the humanities and social sciences, an undergraduate major and minor, a growing dual-title Ph.D. program, and significant grant activity. We have strengths in 20th and 21st century U.S. history, gender studies, African religions, racial formation, and cultural theory. We want to enhance our diasporic orientation, so we are especially interested in candidates who specialize in one of the following areas: cultures of the African diaspora; immigration, migration and the global black experience; and urban black life. Applicants will have a Ph.D. in a relevant discipline or field, and a strong research and teaching portfolio. The majority of the appointment (the tenure home) will be in African American Studies with the possibility of a joint appointment in a cooperating department or unit. The teaching load is 2 courses per semester. Applications must be submitted electronically. All applications should include a cv (with the names of at least three referees), letter of application, and statement of current research. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2018, but the position will remain open until filled. The start date for the position is August 2019. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Nan Woodruff, Chair of the Search Committee, at new7@psu.edu. We encourage applications from individuals of diverse backgrounds.

Apply online at <http://apptrkr.com/1278852>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>
jeid-5eaa88986c55b248ac7844215f226099

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4665

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Canadian Politics at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in Canadian politics. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-posting-assistant-professor-in-canadian-politics/> Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 30, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4654

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Behaviour

Subfield(s): Other, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Behavior at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in political behavior within one of the subfields of political science. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019). The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-assistant-professor-in-political-behaviour/>. Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4653

Purdue University

Rank: Head of the Department of Political Science

Search for the Head of the Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University seeks applicants for the position of Head. The position will be available July 1, 2019, with a five-year renewable term reporting to the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Applicants must have a PhD in Political Science or a related field and scholarly credentials commensurate with the rank of Professor. The field of specialization is open. The successful applicant will have an excellent record of research and teaching, experience attracting external support, and a commitment to diversity and inclusion. Candidates must also have demonstrated abilities in leadership and administration.

Duties include providing vision and leadership in discovery, learning, and engagement; managing and generating departmental resources; recruiting and retaining faculty, staff, and students; fostering excellence in teaching; mentoring faculty who are working toward tenure and/or promotion; advocating on behalf of the department's mission; interacting with alumni and fundraising; and representing the department to administrative offices and on the Council of Department Heads.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive institution and a public land-grant university. Purdue is a member of the American Association of Universities and a top five public research university according to the Wall Street Journal. Faculty members in Political Science are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methodology cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Peace Studies, the Human Rights Program, Asian Studies, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship & Engagement, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. The department is also home to Politics, Groups, and Identities, an official journal of the Western Political Science Association. The department offers graduate certificates in Social Policy and Environmental Policy to students across campus.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to PolSciHeadSearch@purdue.edu. Applications should include a curriculum vitae and a letter of interest. This letter should outline approaches to departmental leadership, a vision for advancement of the department, as well as the candidate's scholarly interests. Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in their letter of interest, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018, but applications received after this date will be accepted until the position is filled. Names of references will be requested from finalists. Please address questions to search committee chair Dr. Linda Renzulli, renzulli@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4642

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: Visiting Scholar

The Center for the Study of Liberal Democracy at the University of Wisconsin invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Scholars for the academic year running from August 20, 2019 to June 30, 2020.

All Visiting Scholars will spend an academic year in residence at UW-Madison. They enjoy access to the Memorial Union and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Visiting Scholars are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, expected to attend or to participate in various activities of the Center, including faculty-graduate student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures. All CSLD Visiting Scholars must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Fellowships are open to all regardless of citizenship. Visiting Scholars normally receive a stipend of up to one-half their academic-year salary. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries in addition to all benefits.

To apply please go to <https://csl.d.wisc.edu/visiting-fellows/>

Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; (3) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education in the future; and (4) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to intellectual life of the Center.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 1/15/2019

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4644

Cornell University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor - Social & Behavioral Science in Nutrition

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor
Social & Behavioral Science in Nutrition
Division of Nutritional Sciences

The Division of Nutritional Sciences (DNS) at Cornell University is seeking candidates for two 9-month, full-salaried, tenure-track positions. We seek candidates with demonstrated research excellence in areas including, but not limited to, maternal and child nutrition, obesity and chronic disease prevention, application of behavioral theory in nutrition interventions and evaluation, food insecurity, and nutrition disparities in the U.S. Candidates may have disciplinary expertise in public health nutrition, community nutrition, nutrition intervention and policy, sociology, social psychology, cultural anthropology or a related field. Scholarship related to nutrition and human health, in the broadest sense, in the context of U.S. community or public health settings should be central to the candidate's research interests.

The qualifications of the candidate will determine the rank of the tenured/tenure-track appointment at the level of an Assistant, Associate or Full Professor. Candidates are expected to be leaders in their discipline and interested in advancing the understanding of the connection between nutrition and health. Commensurate with rank, research excellence should be demonstrated by an active, externally-funded research program as well as by a substantial record of publication in recognized peer-reviewed journals and books.

The successful candidate will teach in the Division's undergraduate and/or graduate program, bring unique expertise and perspectives to the Cornell curriculum, and mentor graduate students within and outside of the Division of Nutritional Sciences.

Responsibilities

The primary responsibility is to establish and maintain an independent and extramurally funded research program. Distribution of professional effort will be approximately 50% research, 50% instruction.

Please visit <http://www.human.cornell.edu/dns> for more information on the Division of Nutritional Sciences and to review the full position description.

Applicants must apply through Academic Jobs Online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11566> and upload a cover letter, CV, research statement and a teaching statement. Applicants must also arrange to have three confidential letters of recommendation submitted through Academic Jobs Online.

Review of applications will begin in September 15, 2018 and will continue until these positions have been filled.

Cornell University is an innovative Ivy League university and a great place to work. Our inclusive community of scholars, students and staff impart an uncommon sense of larger purpose and contribute creative ideas to further the university's mission of teaching, discovery and engagement. With our main campus located in Ithaca, NY Cornell's far-flung global presence includes the medical college's campuses in Manhattan and Doha, Qatar, as well as the new Cornell Tech campus located on Roosevelt Island in the heart of New York City. Diversity and Inclusion are a part of Cornell University's heritage. We are a recognized employer and educator valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans, and Individuals with Disabilities.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2apply.net/fjh3n2xhx62c4t5h>

PI103920302

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4633

Massachusetts Teachers Association

Rank: Director of Government Relations

The Massachusetts Teachers Association (MTA) is a union, dedicated to improving the workplace and the quality of life for all education employees and to protecting their hard-won rights. Equally important, we are an association of highly qualified professionals, committed to establishing and maintaining optimal conditions for student learning from preschool through graduate school.

The MTA is looking for a Director of Government Relations who will develop and administer programs to carry out the goals of the Massachusetts Teachers Association through the political, electoral, and legislative process, as well as direct the activities of the Government Relations Division, managing the Division staff to achieve the goals of MTA by implementing MTA's legislative and lobbying program. This position will report to the Executive Director of MTA and is conveniently located in our Boston Office.

Job Details

- Develop, direct, and promote MTA's lobby strategy to achieve goals of the legislative program and to defend against attempts to undermine the legal rights of MTA members and locals and MTA's policy positions.

- Work closely with the Director of Grassroots Campaigns to develop strategies for grassroots engagement to achieve MTA's legislative and electoral goals.
- Work with other divisions - particularly Communications, Legal, and Affiliate Services, as appropriate, to accomplish the legislative goals of MTA.
- Develop/maintain working relationships with key leadership in the Legislative and Executive branches.
- Report regularly to the Executive Director on MTA's legislative program, legislative issues and developments.
- Coordinate and provide political training to members and staff, as well as provide regular written communication on legislative issues and developments, including a weekly update and prompt analysis of the annual state budget bills and other legislation.
- Understand polling and direct its use when necessary to further the legislative and political goals of MTA.
- Monitor Congressional actions and work with NEA to lobby Congressional delegation and accomplish the electoral goals of NEA.
- Maintain data systems for tracking legislative activity, staff assignments, and support for MTA's legislative program.
- Staff the Candidate Recommendation Committee, which is responsible for recommending candidates for state and Congressional elections.
- Staff the VOTE Committee and develop a program for MTA's political action committee.
- Propose an annual budget for the Division and administer the Division budget as adopted.
- Serve as consultant to member and staff committees and represent the MTA as assigned.
- Effectively manage all staff, ensuring a diverse, collaborative, and high functioning team.
- Carry out MTA policies and personnel procedures, and evaluate Division staff.

To be successful in this role you will need:

- Bachelor's Degree, Master's Degree preferred.
- Management experience.
- Ten years of experience working in the legislative and political arena.
- A record of professional accomplishment.
- Excellent interpersonal, verbal and writing skills.
- Ability and willingness to work evenings and weekends.
- Ability to travel statewide.
- Ability to lift 20 lbs.

MTA has a competitive compensation program with a robust benefits package that includes: a defined benefit plan, 401k, medical, dental, STD, LTD, paid holidays and a generous time off program.

MTA is an equal opportunity employer who is committed to diversity. We strongly encourage applicants from diverse backgrounds to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: $150,000 - $159,999

eJobs ID: 4638

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor in Latino Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

The Program in American Studies seeks applications for a faculty position in the area of Latino Studies, at the rank of associate or full professor. We welcome applicants from all fields of specialization, though preference will be given to candidates whose work, while rooted in Latino Studies, engages meaningfully with American Studies. We are particularly interested in scholars whose research takes a multi-method social science approach, emphasizing qualitative and/or interpretivist perspectives. The successful candidate will be appointed fully in American Studies. Interested candidates should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8061> with a brief statement of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for three references. Applications received by October 1, 2018 will receive priority review. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4636

Wellesley College

Rank: Africana Studies, Tenure-Track

The Africana Studies Department at Wellesley College invites applications for a specialist in Africa in a tenure-eligible position in the Social Sciences to start in the fall of 2019. Specialization in the political, economic, social and cultural development of Africa is strongly preferred. The ability to link these developments to the Black Atlantic, especially the Caribbean, is an advantage.

Rank open; Ph.D. preferred. The successful candidate will be grounded in Africana-centered theoretical and methodological approaches and perspectives. Full time teaching load of two courses per semester will be required. Candidates should be able to teach both introductory and advanced courses that cover trends in the African political economy and/or post-colonial social and cultural development in the context of globalization. The ability to interrogate the intersectional dimensions of race, gender and class in Africa and the Diaspora is desirable. Candidates should have a proven and/or potential capability for an active, multidisciplinary and innovative research agenda for a strong publication record and research trajectory and for superior performance in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts college. Wellesley College is an EO/AA educational institution and employer. The College is committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and the curriculum. Candidates who believe they will contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply. Applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vita, a description of research and teaching interests, and three letters of reference. Applications should be submitted to <http://career.wellesley.edu/postings/2280> by September 15th 2018.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4635

McGill University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Canadian Politics / Professeur adjoint, politique canadienne

McGill University
Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor, Canadian Politics

The Department of Political Science, McGill University, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Canadian Politics. An applicant's record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as the ability to provide supervision for graduate students. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank is possible under exceptional circumstances. Candidates should have completed their PhD or be very near completion. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, a sample of written work and material pertinent to teaching skills. The position start date is August 1, 2019.

For more information about the Department and University, please visit our website at: www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/. Inquiries may be sent to the Chair of the Department, Juliet Johnson, at juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

PLEASE APPLY ONLINE AT: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11646>

If the successful candidate satisfies the specific eligibility conditions of the program, the candidate may be supported by the University for nomination to a Tier 2 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Canadian Politics, which provides protected time for research within a full-time academic appointment. Tier 2 Chairs are for emerging researchers (individuals who are no more than 10 years from having earned their highest degree). However, career interruptions (e.g. maternity or parental leave, extended sick leave, clinical training, family care, etc.) may be taken into consideration using the Tier 2 justification process to review the candidate's eligibility. Potential applicants who are more than 10 years from their highest degree with career interruptions may contact the institution to have their eligibility reviewed through the Tier 2 justification process. The eligibility conditions for the CRC chairs are found at http://www.chairs-chaires.gc.ca/programme/nomination-mise\_en\_candidature-eng.aspx#s3.

Candidates who do not satisfy the CRC eligibility criteria for a Tier 2 chair are nonetheless encouraged to apply. All Faculty of Arts positions at McGill are now being advertised as potential CRCs.

McGill University hires on the basis of merit and is strongly committed to equity and diversity within its community. We especially welcome applications from visible minority group members, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and others with the skills and knowledge to productively engage with diverse communities. We encourage members of equity-seeking groups to self-identify within their letter of intent in their application. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application and hiring process may contact, in confidence, Professor Angela Campbell, Associate Provost (Equity and Academic Policies) at (514) 398-1660 or at Angela.Campbell@mcgill.ca. Associate Provost Campbell can also answer questions related to equity, diversity and inclusion, or privacy concerns the candidate may have related to self-identifying. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Université McGill
Département de science politique

Professeur adjoint, politique canadienne

Le Département de sciences politiques sollicite des candidatures en vue de pourvoir un poste de professeur adjoint menant à la permanence en politique canadienne. La feuille de route du candidat retenu devra inclure un potentiel éprouvé de qualités exceptionnelles dans le domaine de la recherche, les habiletés permettant d'enseigner de manière efficace aux 1er, 2e et 3e cycles et la compétence nécessaire afin d'exercer un rôle de supervision auprès d'étudiants aux cycles supérieurs. Le niveau du poste à pourvoir est celui de professeur adjoint. Il est néanmoins possible, dans certaines conditions exceptionnelles, que le niveau déterminé soit supérieur. Le candidat retenu doit posséder un diplôme d'études doctorales ou être sur le point de l'obtenir. La langue d'enseignement de l'Université McGill est l'anglais, mais la connaissance du français est un atout.

Les candidatures doivent comprendre un curriculum vitae détaillé, le nom de trois personnes pouvant fournir des références, un exemple de travaux écrits ainsi que des documents attestant de compétences en enseignement. La date d'entrée en fonction est le 1er août 2019.

Pour obtenir de plus amples renseignements sur le Département et sur l'Université McGill, veuillez vous rendre à www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/. Les demandes de renseignements au sujet de ce poste doivent être envoyées à la directrice du département, Juliet Johnson, à l'adresse suivante : juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

L'examen des candidatures commencera le 1er octobre 2018 et se poursuivra jusqu'à ce que le poste soit pourvu.

VEUILLEZ SOUMETTRE VOTRE CANDIDATURE EN LIGNE ICI: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11646>

Si le candidat retenu répond aux critères d'admissibilité du programme, l'Université pourrait appuyer sa candidature pour l'attribution d'une chaire de recherche du Canada de niveau 2 en politique canadienne. Le titulaire d'une chaire a droit à du temps réservé à la recherche dans le cadre de son poste de professeur à temps plein. Les chaires de niveau 2 sont destinées aux jeunes chercheurs, c'est-à-dire à ceux qui ont obtenu leur diplôme le plus avancé il y a au plus 10 ans. Toutefois, une interruption de carrière (congé de maternité, congé parental, congé de maladie de longue durée, formation clinique, soins à un membre de la famille, etc.) peut être jugée légitime (voir les justifications acceptables). Les personnes qui ont obtenu leur diplôme le plus avancé il y a au-delà de 10 ans, mais qui ont dû interrompre leur carrière, peuvent donc communiquer avec l'établissement, qui déterminera si elles sont admissibles à une chaire de niveau 2. Pour connaître les critères d'admissibilité aux chaires de recherche du Canada, consulter le http://www.chairs-chaires.gc.ca/programme/nomination-mise\_en\_candidature-eng.aspx#s3.

Les personnes ne répondant pas aux critères d'admissibilité des chaires de recherche du Canada de niveau 2 sont néanmoins invitées à soumettre leur candidature. À l'Université McGill, tout poste affiché rattaché à la Faculté des arts peut s'inscrire dans le cadre du programme des chaires de recherche du Canada.

L'Université McGill recrute en fonction du mérite et s'est fermement engagée à promouvoir et à instaurer l'équité et la diversité au sein de sa communauté. Nous accueillons favorablement les demandes d'emploi des personnes racisées et des minorités visibles, des femmes, des personnes autochtones, des personnes handicapées, des minorités éthniques, des personnes de toute orientation et identité de genre, ainsi que de toute personne possédant les aptitudes et les connaissances lui permettant de travailler en collaboration avec diverses communautés. L'Université McGill met en œuvre un programme d'équité en matière d'emploi et invite les membres des groupes visés à indiquer leur appartenance à ces derniers dans leur dossier de candidature. Les personnes handicapées qui pourraient avoir besoin d'accommodements à n'importe quelle étape du processus de candidature sont invitées à communiquer en toute confidentialité avec la professeure Angela Campbell, vice-principale exécutive adjointe (équité et politiques académiques), par courriel Angela.Campbell@mcgill.ca ou par téléphone, au 514 398-1660. La vice-principale exécutive adjointe peut également répondre aux questions liées à l'équité, à la diversité et à l'inclusion et à toute donnée de nature confidentielle ayant trait à l'auto-identification. On encourage tous les candidats qualifiés à postuler; veuillez noter que conformément aux exigences de l'immigration canadienne, la priorité sera toutefois accordée aux Canadiens ainsi qu'aux résidents permanents.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4597

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Computational Social Science Professor - Open Rank

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is inviting applications for full time faculty positions in Computational Social Sciences, from senior scholars – at the rank of associate and full professors - and exceptional early career scholars.

We encourage applications from all excellent candidates in any field answering social-science questions, as long as they have a strong focus on (big) data collection and visualization; data management and analysis techniques such as machine learning, text analysis, network science/analysis, spatial data analysis/GIS.

All candidates should demonstrate important contributions to their area of research as evidenced e.g. by significant publications in top international academic journals and a history of acquiring third party funding, as well as the ability to mentor and collaborate with a group of junior social scientists.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to continue to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The position features a standard teaching load of three courses per year. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the Global Network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

The review of applications will occur on a rolling basis. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi throughout the 18/19 Academic Year. We anticipate that successful candidates will start employment on August 15, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

You may start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52984>

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4606

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher - Division of Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint several Post-Doctoral Researchers starting September 2019. Applicants must have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in the fields of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Public Policy. Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Applications are now open and we will consider candidates on a rolling basis. To be considered, all applicants need to submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, and a research sample. To complete the online process, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Please visit our website at <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/postdoctoral-and-research.html> for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad-socialscience@nyu.edu.

Note: We will begin considering applicants from political science from September 15, 2018, sociology applicants from October 15, 2018, and economics applicants from December 1, 2018. However, we will continue to consider applicants until all positions are filled.

You may start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/51369>

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complimented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4607

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Neuroscience Professor - Open Rank

The Division of Social Science at NYUAD is seeking to hire a faculty member in the area of Social Neuroscience. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. Although the specific area of research is open, the focus should be human research explicitly linked to social processes. Individuals from all academic backgrounds are encouraged to apply (e.g., biology, psychology, economics, political science or sociology). Preference will be given to applicants who use fMRI, EEG, or process tracing methods, whose research reflects the interdisciplinary nature of social science and who can forge linkages to other areas of study both within the Division (i.e., with economists, political scientists and sociologists) and outside the Division.

The facilities available include a state-of-the-art brain-imaging center housing a Siemens Prisma 3T MRI, MEG, EEG, eye tracking and behavioral testing facilities. The successful candidates will also have access to state of the art core facilities that include High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6,400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. We will begin consideration of applications October 1st, although review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

You can start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52983>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4603

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Neuroscience Professor - Open Rank

The Division of Social Science at NYUAD is seeking to hire a faculty member in the area of Social Neuroscience. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. Although the specific area of research is open, the focus should be human research explicitly linked to social processes. Individuals from all academic backgrounds are encouraged to apply (e.g., biology, psychology, economics, political science or sociology). Preference will be given to applicants who use fMRI, EEG, or process tracing methods, whose research reflects the interdisciplinary nature of social science and who can forge linkages to other areas of study both within the Division (i.e., with economists, political scientists and sociologists) and outside the Division.

The facilities available include a state-of-the-art brain- imaging center housing a Siemens Prisma 3T MRI, MEG, EEG, eye tracking and behavioral testing facilities. The successful candidates will also have access to state of the art core facilities that include High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6,400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. We will begin consideration of applications October 1st, although review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

You can start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52983>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4604

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Science and Genetics Professor - Open Rank

The Social Science Division at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) invites applications for full time faculty positions in New York University Abu Dhabi from scholars working at the intersection of genetics and social sciences. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. We will consider applicants from across social science or social science related disciplines (e.g. sociology, economics, political science, psychology, biological anthropology, psychology and human genetics) with active and cutting-edge research agendas that include, but are not limited to, population genetics and social identity, genetics and human behaviour, critical and historical approaches to the use of genetics in social science and public policy, and bioethics in relation to human genetics.

Successful candidates will benefit from resources at NYUAD that support work at the intersection of genetics and the social sciences by providing access to cohorts, populations, collaborations and research programs. These include the Center for Genomics and Systems Biology (<http://as.nyu.edu/biology/research/gsb/cgsb.html>), the Public Health Research Center (<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/research/centers-labs-and-projects/public-health-research-center.html>), and seminars and colloquia that bring together faculty from biology and the social sciences.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals or books. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

The review of applications will begin on October 15 and continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi throughout the 18/19 Academic Year. We anticipate that successful candidates will start employment on August 15, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications.

To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

You may start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52985>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4605

American University-School of International Service

Rank: New Technology & Security, Tenure-track, Assistant Professor (beginning AY 2019-20)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Science & Technology, Foreign Policy, Intelligence

Assistant Professor

Tenure Track

NEW TECHNOLOGY AND SECURITY

School of International Service

American University

The School of International Service (SIS) at American University (AU) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-line position in New

Technology and Security at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2019.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. or the highest equivalent degree by August 2019. We seek scholar-teachers whose research focuses on new technologies and emerging security threats, especially the strategic, ethical, legal, and governance concerns related to their past and future evolution. These include (but are not limited to) artificial intelligence, autonomy, social media, cyber security, robotics, additive manufacturing (or "3-D printing"), unmanned aerial vehicles ("drones"), gene alteration, human enhancement, and other technologies or initiatives associated with what's known as the Fourth Industrial Revolution. The focus of his or her research will be on the advantages and disadvantages of new technological innovations as they relate to the past, present and future security of human beings. Scholars who come from a wide range of disciplines are especially welcome to apply.

The successful candidate will be enthusiastic about working in a multidisciplinary environment that includes social scientists and natural scientists, as well as experts in the humanities. Being knowledgeable about both the technical aspects of these technologies and the human context in which they are used is highly desirable. The University has faculty who address a wide array of security policy, strategic studies, information security, and national defense issues; but we have particular strengths in the areas of cyber security, risk assessment, asymmetrical conflict, non-traditional security threats, conflict analysis, data analytics, and technological innovation.

As a school that includes a variety of scholarly disciplines and approaches, we seek the best candidates without respect to a particular discipline. We seek scholar-teachers whose work is theoretically grounded, empirically tested, and policy relevant. Candidates may hold terminal degrees in physics, computer science, biotechnology, mathematics, political science, history, international relations, anthropology, economics, or a range of other fields. Candidates should demonstrate excellence in research and teaching and a commitment to school and university service. Candidates should also share the School's commitment to diversity and inclusion. A desire to mentor PhD candidates in our vibrant PhD program is also desirable.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin late August and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit applications via: <https://apply.interfolio.com/49810>. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, recent teaching evaluations, and recent published papers as well as a statement of past and/or future contributions to diversity and inclusion through teaching, research, and/or service.

You also need to submit via Interfolio the names and email addresses of three references and request that Interfolio contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation. Queries about the search should be sent to sisfacultyaffairs@american.edu. Queries about the online application system should be sent to help@interfolio.com. American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit <http://www.american.edu/>.

Established in 1957, American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs located in Washington, D.C. SIS faculty produce transformational research and prepare our students for global careers in government, nonprofits, and business. SIS's prime location provides opportunities for research, professional training, public service, and internships in the nation's capital and around the world.

Housed in a beautiful LEED-Gold certified building which reflects our commitment to sustainability and ecological stewardship, SIS is a diverse and inclusive community of 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. Our offerings feature a comprehensive liberal arts program for undergraduates, professional education in international affairs for Master's students, and a multidisciplinary program for Doctoral students. Learn more about SIS at <http://www.american.edu/sis>.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4354

University of Chicago

Rank: Collegiate Assistant Professor

The College at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. Collegiate Assistant Professors are members of the College Faculty whose primary responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program.

Core courses in the Humanities typically deal with fundamental issues and texts in history, philosophy, and literature. Currently, the Core is organized into eight year-long sequences: Readings in World Literature; Human Being and Citizen; Greece and Rome: Texts, Traditions, Transformations; Philosophical Perspectives on the Humanities; Media Aesthetics; Reading Cultures; Poetry and the Human; and Language and the Human. For a description of these sequences see: <https://societyoffellows.uchicago.edu/page/humanities-course-descriptions>

Core courses in the Social Sciences explore, on the basis of significant works, the fundamental concepts and the different modes of inquiry that have defined the social sciences in the modern period. Currently, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach in five of the year-long sequences into which the Core is organized: Self, Culture and Society; Classics of Social and Political Thought; Power, Identity, and Resistance; Global Society; and Social Science Inquiry. Some Collegiate Assistant Professors also teach in the History of European Civilization Core sequence. European Civilization is taught on the basis of intensive readings of significant primary source documents.

For a description of these sequences see: <https://societyoffellows.uchicago.edu/page/social-sciences-course-descriptions>

The positions are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2019. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in their original scholarship as well as in teaching.

In most years, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. Each Collegiate Assistant Professor also has the opportunity to design an independent course and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical in the third year of residence. The position comes with an annual salary for 2019-20, of $70,890, carries full benefits, and an annual professional development fund of $5,000. The effective date for these teaching appointments is September 1, 2019.

To apply for these positions, please see our web site at <http://fellows.uchicago.edu>. The web site will be available to accept applications beginning August 31, 2018.

These positions are part of the Service Employees International Union.

Important deadlines:

On line application deadline: 11:59:59 PM CDT, Friday, October 12, 2018.

Deadline for receipt of letters of recommendations: 11:59:59 PM CDT, Friday, October 26, 2018. This includes letters of recommendation from your three recommenders or those received from a dossier service.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-0681 or email dneibel@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 4568

RAND Corporation

Rank: PhD Researcher in International/Security Policy

Subfield(s): Non-Academic, Public Policy, Other

RAND advises a variety of defense clients on policy-level decisions relating to defense programs, military systems, future force structure and doctrine, and national military strategy. Working with multidisciplinary teams, national security researchers apply quantitative and qualitative skills to analyze policy problems of national and international importance, and communicate the results of these analyses to decision-makers.

Qualifications

National security researchers should have demonstrable ability to research and analyze intelligence or defense policy issues. All research positions at RAND require excellent analytic skills; the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in English, both orally and in writing; the ability to work effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team; and a strong commitment to RAND's core values of quality and objectivity.

In connection with national security or defense projects, many positions require that applicants be eligible to receive, or currently hold, a security clearance from the United States government.

Education Requirements

PhD in international relations, area studies, political science, public policy, public administration, or a closely related discipline.

Experience

Applicants may be considered for associate, full, or senior researcher positions commensurate with their experience.

Security Clearance

Some research may require a security clearance. In order to obtain a security clearance, one of the requirements includes U.S. citizenship.

Location

Santa Monica, CA; Boston, MA; Pittsburgh, PA; Washington, DC; (CA, MA, PA preferred office locations)

Writing Sample Required

Two writing samples are required for this position. Pieces that show rigorous use of evidence and logic which are either solo or lead authored are preferred.

How to apply: www.rand.org/jobs/id5011

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer Minorities/Females/Vets/Disabled

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4556

RAND Corporation

Rank: Senior Homeland Security Policy Researcher

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Non-Academic, Other

RAND advises a variety of homeland clients on policy-level decisions relating to homeland security, including: preparedness, resiliency, and emergency response; immigration policy and border control; critical infrastructure protection; cyber security; terrorism and counterterrorism. Working in multi-disciplinary teams, Homeland Security Policy Researchers apply quantitative and qualitative skills to analyze policy problems of national and international importance, and communicate the results of these analyses to decision-makers.

Qualifications

Homeland Security Policy researchers should have extensive knowledge and demonstrable ability to analyze or implement policies involving strategy, doctrine, operations, tactics, systems or organization. All research positions at RAND require excellent analytic skills, and the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in English, both orally and in writing; the ability to work effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team; and a strong commitment to RAND's core values of quality and objectivity. Senior positions require the ability to mentor and develop junior staff members, lead and direct multi-disciplinary teams, set project standards and monitor progress, and communicate interim and final results to the RAND community and to policy-making audiences.

In connection with homeland security projects, many positions require that applicants be eligible to receive, or currently hold, a security clearance from the United States government.

Education Requirements

Ph.D. in American government/politics, public policy, public administration, policy analysis, or other discipline closely related to the topics outlined in the Position Description above. Applicants with a Master's degree or a JD degree and substantial research experience will also be considered.

Experience

Applicants should have at least ten years of relevant policy experience in homeland security policy planning and analysis with a record of progressively increasing responsibility. Substantive areas of analysis include: security, threat, and risk assessment; policy analysis; acquisition planning and development; and regulatory assessment.

Security Clearance

U.S. Citizenship is required to obtain a security clearance. An active Secret or interim Secret clearance is preferred.

Location

Santa Monica, CA; Boston, MA; Pittsburgh, PA; Washington, DC (CA, PA preferred office locations)

Writing Sample Required

Two writing samples are required for this position. Pieces that show rigorous use of evidence and logic which are either solo or lead authored are preferred.

How to apply: www.rand.org/jobs/id5003

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer Minorities/Females/Vets/Disabled

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4557

University of Toronto, Mississauga

Rank: Associate Professor/Professor - Urban Innovation

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Urban Politics, Housing, Environmental Policy

The University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM) and the Institute of Management and Innovation (IMI) invites applications for a tenure-stream appointment in urban innovation and governance. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with a projected start date of July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will hold a 49% appointment in the Institute for Management and Innovation and in a relevant cognate discipline at UTM (51%) depending on their area of expertise. The successful candidate may also be appointed as the Director of MUI for an initial term of five years, renewable once.

The successful candidate must have a PhD in political science, human geography, planning or economics and an established and exceptional record of research excellence with an active and creative research program that focuses on urban innovation, a distinguished record of internationally recognized scholarship (which includes evidence provided in the research statement, a record of sustained and impactful publications in premier journals in their field, presentations at national and international conferences, accolades for innovative work and strong endorsements from referees of high international standing). Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, strong letters of reference and the teaching statement, including selected course materials that directly support and illustrate the teaching statement, submitted as part of the application. S/he will also demonstrate a commitment to experiential learning.

The Institute for Management & Innovation (IMI) is planning to start accepting students into its newest program, the Master of Urban Innovation (MUI) in September of 2019. MUI is a new degree professional program that focuses on urban economic development, community capacity building, innovation management, local and regional governance, urban sustainability and real estate development. This degree program aligns with the current programs offered at IMI, maintaining a focus on management, innovation and sustainability, and incorporates the research and teaching strengths from UTM Departments of Geography, Economics, Political Science and the Institute of Communication, Culture, Information and Technology (ICCIIT).

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one of the following courses: the core course that focuses on how knowledge generation, learning and proximity interact to support the process of urban innovation and the role that economic governance plays in supporting that process, or a course on the theory, practice and policy of socially sustainable cities. Experience in managing a teaching program in urban economic development and innovation, or experience running a large research or policy-related urban network is considered an asset.

The Director of MUI will be responsible for building the new program, working from the initial curriculum developed by IMI and approved by the Governing Council of the University of Toronto. The successful candidate will inspire and engage UTM faculty and staff to work collaboratively to implement the new Master's program and achieve its successful launch. The successful candidate will have demonstrated ability to work effectively with colleagues from a wide breath of academic disciplines and the ability to inspire both a wide range of academic colleagues, administrative staff, and the initial cohort of students enrolled in the program. Strong leadership and people skills, demonstrated administrative ability, an effective management style, the capacity to integrate diverse interests, and forge a common vision for the MUI program are also required. Additionally, the successful candidate will ensure strong, two-way communications on an ongoing basis to sustain the enthusiasm, engagement and support of all stakeholders across the UTM community.

Salary and academic rank will be commensurate with experience.

All qualified applicants are invited to apply online by clicking on the link below. Applications must be submitted by September 24, 2018 and include a letter of application, an up-to-date curriculum vitae, a research statement with representative publications and a teaching statement including course evaluations and selected course materials supporting teaching quality and experience. The letter of application should also highlight any experience as an academic director or manager. If you have any questions about the position, please contact Professor Soo Min Toh, Director of the Institute for Management Innovation at imi@utoronto.ca. The UofT application system can accommodate up to fifteen attachments per candidate profile (8MB size limit per attachment); please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) directly to Sue Thomson at sue.thomson@utoronto.ca by the application date, Monday September 24, 2018. Referees should include the candidate's name and "MUI Director Search" in the subject line.

Equity and diversity are among UTM's core values and are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2-page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Housed in a newly expanded building and combining traditional teaching methods with a strong emphasis on experiential education, IMI represents a new approach to management education. IMI takes advantage of the full facilities of UTM as well as participating faculty from other divisions of the University of Toronto to offer multidisciplinary programs that combine the teaching of management with that of specific discipline, technologies, industry sectors or professions. Its graduate programs currently address management and biotechnology, professional accounting, innovation, and sustainability.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 20 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the most diverse regions, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is defined by the cultural diversity in its community. The University of Toronto Mississauga has a strong interdisciplinary commitment to teaching and research, a multicultural student body of more than 15,000 students, and a modern, spacious campus. For more information about the Institute for Management and Innovation, and University of Toronto Mississauga, please visit <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/imi/> and <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/>.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4554

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a Department of Defense executive education institution that educates, empowers, and connects current and future leaders from the Indo-Pacific region. The Center offers in-resident courses, workshops and dialogues in Honolulu and the Indo-Pacific region, and conducts policy-relevant research to build security capacity and collaboration. DKI APCSS addresses traditional and non-traditional security issues, including the relationship between governance and the security sector; transnational threats such as organized crime, terrorism, violent extremism; trafficking; maritime security; crises; analytical security assessments; and whole-of-society collaboration to include the role of women, peace and security. The audience of Fellows are mid- to senior-level civilian and military officials from all over the world. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

The Center invites applications for:

ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR FACULTY MEMBERS

For

Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief (HADR)

And

Security Sector Reform/Development (SSR/SSD)

The Center seeks world-class educators to teach, facilitate, research, and build capacity of security professionals in the Indo-Pacific Region. Responsibilities for associate/full professor faculty members

- Teaching executive education courses in a participant-centered, activity-based context
- Facilitating seminars, workshops, dialogues and visits
- Contributing to capacity building endeavors and security cooperation projects in the region
- Analyzing security-related trends in the Indo-Pacific region
- Contributing to curriculum development
- Performing administrative and staff duties to support the Center's academic functions

Desirable selection criteria for associate/full professor faculty members

- Knowledge of defense institution building including, civil-military, interagency and cross-sector coordination, strategic planning and information sharing
- Expertise in crisis and disaster management in one or more Indo-Pacific countries
- Familiarity with facilitation-based teaching and state-of-the-art educational technology
- Experience in development, capacity building, and national security consultations as related to the evolution and transformation of roles and responsibilities of security agencies
- Experience working with U.S. embassies in region, including familiarity with a country team, office of defense cooperation, U.S. State Department and USAID policies
- Experience with exercises and wargames
- Demonstrable skill in at least one regional language

Essential selection criteria for HADR associate/full professor faculty members

- High level of experience in crisis and disaster management
- Understanding of HADR at operational and strategic levels
- Knowledge of the disaster management phases including risk reduction and resilience

- Awareness of national, regional and international crisis response management frameworks, strategies and mechanisms
- Professional expertise at the operational, strategic or policy level in a multilateral setting

Essential selection criteria for SSR/SSD associate/full professor faculty members

- High level of experience in security and defense sector governance, development, and institutional capacity building of Indo-Pacific partner governments to increase capacity within their security institutions
- Experience in national security consultations, sector-wide coordination, and/or strategic planning as related to the evolution and transformation of roles and responsibilities of security agencies
- Demonstrable familiarity with U.S. Government legislation, policies, processes, and officials

Qualifications and attributes for associate/full professor faculty members

- Master's or doctoral degree
- Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation
- Proven ability to function as a team member

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $90,789 - $120,157 excludes locality pay (18.43%) and cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 10.99% but subject to change. All faculty at the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies are employed on limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years, with the possibility of renewal. Relocation expenses may be authorized.

Application Procedure

Interested candidates must submit the following items by email to hrapplications@dkiapcss.net

1. Letter of Interest. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year, and explain your interest in future career considerations with the Department of Defense
2. Curriculum Vitae. Should reflect the following: educational background, work experience, publications and salary history
3. Two Letters of Reference

Additional information

- Application deadline: Open until filled; 31 August 2018
- Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements
- Application packages will be retained for one year
- Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned
- Individuals selected for interviews will be asked to provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting their advanced degree(s) and two samples of their publications
- The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer
- All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor
- U.S. Citizenship is not required but applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.
- The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplications@dkiapcss.net to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis

Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org

Start Date: Summer 2018
Application Deadline: 8/31/2018
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4530

Queen's University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor with a specialization in Indigenous Politics

Department of Political Studies
 Mackintosh-Corry Hall, Room C321
 Queen's University
 Kingston, ON Canada K7L 3N6
 Tel 613-533-6230
 Fax 613-533-6848
<http://www.queensu.ca/politics>

The Department of Political Studies in the Faculty of Arts and Science at Queen's University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor with a specialization in Indigenous Politics, with a preferred starting date of July 1, 2019.

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Studies or an equivalent degree completed at the start date of the appointment. The main criteria for selection are academic and teaching excellence. The successful candidate will provide evidence of high-quality scholarly output that demonstrates potential for independent research leading to peer-assessed publications and the securing of external research funding, as well as strong potential for outstanding teaching contributions at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and an ongoing commitment to academic and pedagogical excellence in support of the department's programs. The successful candidate will be required to make substantive contributions through service to the department, the Faculty, the University, and/or the broader community. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. This position is subject to final budgetary approval by the University.

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Queen's is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, and LGBTQ persons. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

To comply with federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information as to how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements: "I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada"; OR, "I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada." Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete.

A complete application consists of:

- ? a cover letter (including one of the two statements regarding Canadian citizenship / permanent resident status specified in the previous paragraph);
- ? a current Curriculum Vitae (including a list of publications);
- ? a statement of research interests;

- ? a statement of teaching interests and experience (including teaching outlines and evaluations, if available);
  - ? a writing sample; and
  - ? three letters of reference to be sent to directly to Dr. Zsuzsa Csergo, Department Head at polshead@queensu.ca
- The deadline for applications is September 30, 2018. Applicants are encouraged to send all documents in their application packages electronically as PDFs to Michelle Knapp-Hermer at knappm@queensu.ca, although hard copy applications may be submitted to:

Michelle Knapp-Hermer
 Departmental Manager
 Department of Political Studies
 Room C316, Mackintosh-Corry Hall
 68 University Avenue
 Queen's University
 Kingston, Ontario
 CANADA K7L 3N6

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact Michelle Knapp-Hermer in the Department of Political Studies, at knappm@queensu.ca, phone number 613-533-6226.

Academic staff at Queen's University are governed by a Collective Agreement between the University and the Queen's University Faculty Association (QUFA), which is posted at <http://queensu.ca/facultyrelations/faculty-librarians-and-archivists/collective-agreement> and at <http://www.qufa.ca>.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/30/2018
Date Posted: 8/8/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4526

The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

Rank: Head of the Division of Social Science

The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

Head of the Division of Social Science

The Division of Social Science under the School of Humanities and Social Science of The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology (HKUST) invites applications and nominations for its headship position.

The Division

The Division is multi-disciplinary, with an academic diversity of six disciplines, including faculty in economics, geography, political science, psychology, science, technology & society (STS) as well as sociology. The Division has a highly successful research postgraduate training program which has a strong record of placement at top institutions in Asia and more recently overseas. The Division has an undergraduate program of Quantitative Social Analysis, and offers an interdisciplinary undergraduate program of Global China Studies, jointly with the Division of Humanities.

The Role

Reporting to the Dean of Humanities and Social Science, the Head is the chief executive of the Division and is responsible for curriculum planning and development, steering research direction and enhancing research performance, recruiting faculty, promoting programs, and managing resources.

The Candidate

Applicants should be accomplished scholars. In addition to extensive teaching and research experience, the successful candidate should have demonstrated capability to provide academic leadership, with proven academic administrative experience at tertiary level.

Terms & Applications/Nominations

Concurrent with a professorial appointment, the appointment as Head will normally be for an initial term of 3 years which may be renewed for a second term. Competitive remuneration and generous fringe benefits, including housing where appropriate, will be provided.

Applications/nominations, together with a full curriculum vitae and the names and addresses of three referees should be sent to the Chair of the Search Committee for Head of the Division of Social Science by email to soschead2018@ust.hk. All applications/nominations received will be treated in strict confidence. Review of candidates will start from 1 September 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and has a range of family-friendly policies in place.

For more information about the University, the School of Humanities and Social Science and the Division of Social Science, please visit <http://www.ust.hk/>, <http://www.shss.ust.hk/>, and <http://www.sosc.ust.hk/> respectively.

(Information provided by applicants will only be used for recruitment and other employment-related purposes.)

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4525

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Hebrew University of Jerusalem seeks fill a tenure-track position (ranks: Lecturer, Senior Lecturer, or Associate Professor), beginning fall 2019. This is a research and teaching position.

We seek outstanding candidates with a record of excellence in research in all areas of political science. Junior and senior scholars with a PhD in political science are encouraged to apply. ABD's are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than October 1st 2019.

The language of teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years after their arrival.

For further information please see the full call on our website: https://en.politics.huji.ac.il/sites/default/files/politics-en/files/candidates-poli-sci2018job-call\_final1.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4486

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor(s)

We invite applications for one or more positions as Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are offered as tenure-track Assistant Professorships. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Assistant Professor are:

- Research within the field of politics and international relations
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate and post-graduate students
- Administrative tasks
- Knowledge sharing with the rest of the society

An assistant professorship is a further-education post. Supervision as well as pedagogical training is provided. The position(s) will be covered by the tenure track programme at the University of Copenhagen. The programme offers tenure-track candidates a contract of six years that can result in a tenured associate professorship. For additional information about assistant professorships, tenure-track assistant professorships and the Job Structure for Academic Staff at the University, see: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/career-at-upch/> and: <http://employment.ku.dk/tenure-track/tenure-track-at-upch/>

Emphasis will be put on the applicant's ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the Department through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching, disseminate knowledge and make a knowledge-based societal impact. An assistant professor is expected to develop competences and experience within research, teaching and dissemination. In time, the assistant professor should develop competences to attract funding within his or her specialist area.

Qualifications

To be qualified for the position the applicant must have a PhD in Political Science or equivalent academic qualifications as well as:

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced primarily by a well-received PhD dissertation and an emerging international reputation based on a publication profile that complements the existing research strengths of the Department

- A commitment to contribute to the delivery of an excellent student experience based on a track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates, who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

We will expect candidates to present a clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications, external research funding as well as a commitment to innovate teaching

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Professor Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Phone: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048] , email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4453

University of Colorado-Denver

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Social Welfare, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Research Methods

The School of Public Affairs (SPA) at the University of Colorado Denver (CU Denver) seeks to fill a tenure-track position in public affairs, to start in August 2019. The position will be at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. We are looking for a candidate with expertise in public administration/management, and we are open to various sub-field areas of expertise. Interest in social equity, civil society, social vulnerabilities, nonprofit management, collaborative governance, emergency management, and/or performance management would be particularly valuable.

At the Assistant Professor level, we seek candidates who have completed PhDs, with evidence of excellence in teaching, publishing, and demonstrated efforts at attaining external grant funding. For consideration at the Associate Professor level, candidates are expected to be an emerging leader in their field, with an excellent record in research, demonstrated through both externally funded awards and publications, as well as excellence in teaching, mentoring, and funding graduate and/or undergraduate students.

We encourage applicants with diverse backgrounds and/or candidates whose research itself focuses on issues related to diversity and/or social equity. We are also open to candidates with a range of different methodological approaches and backgrounds.

The normal class teaching load is 2:2 and can involve teaching opportunities in our PhD in Public Affairs, MPA, and BA in Public Service programs. Applicants should be willing to teach in both face-to-face and online formats. The salary is competitive.

SPA has 28 full-time faculty and is currently ranked #29 in the country by US News and World Report in public management and leadership, and we are ranked in the top 75 programs in the world for public administration by Shanghai Academic rankings. SPA is a NASPAA-accredited MPA program ranked nationally at #34 overall by US News and World Report. In addition to the degree programs mentioned above, we also offer Master's and Bachelor's degrees in Criminal Justice. All programs except the PhD are available fully online, as well as in-person.

Our downtown Denver location provides unprecedented access to a diverse urban environment where policy becomes practice. SPA is a diverse learning community and one of the most culturally inclusive schools on campus, allowing our students to interact with people who reflect their own identity and with others who broaden their horizons. More than one-third of SPA students are students of color. CU Denver students come from all 50 states and 67 countries.

Denver is one of the fastest growing and most economically vibrant cities in America. Denver's Mayor, along with many other community leaders, are alums of our School. Our city and state are microcosms for research and teaching in public management, environmental policy, local government, nonprofits, emergency management, public health, and public finance.

Our faculty have grown their external funding by 200% over the past 5 years. Faculty currently have grants from NSF, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Rockefeller Foundation, Ford Foundation, Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, St. Louis Community Foundation, the Colorado Trust, the Community First Foundation, the Colorado Department of Public Health and the Environment, the US Department of Health and Human Services, the Annie E. Casey Foundation, and others. SPA faculty routinely attend and present at conferences around the world and are often invited to speak to both academic and practitioner communities on their areas of expertise. SPA faculty are nationally recognized leaders, currently or recently holding positions like NAPA members, PAR editor, PSJ editor, NASPAA Executive Council, ARNOVA board, NVSQ editorial board, and many others.

Many faculty are involved with SPA's Institute for Governance, the applied arm of the school, either through research, training, evaluation, or service. The Institute focuses on translational research, including but not limited to applied research in Colorado, through the work of Centers focused on local government, network sciences and collaborative governance, education policy, criminal justice, and policy process research. The Institute also runs a Certified Public Management (CPM) program and several other leadership development programs. We seek candidates who demonstrate interest in contributing to this mission in some manner.

Generally, SPA is seeking candidates who want to contribute to the dynamic efforts among faculty to support and expand our research and impact, as we continue to be recognized as a top public affairs school. Faculty are committed to working collaboratively and in support of making an impact on the field of public affairs and more broadly, the public sector. We are also committed to graduating high quality students who have the best experiences in the classroom, working alongside faculty in research, and making an impact as graduates who employers seek to hire. We expect that this candidate will quickly become part of an energetic effort to produce the best research and teaching in the field.

Application materials will ONLY be accepted online via the CU Careers job portal.

To apply, please visit <https://www.cu.edu/cu-careers> (Job ID#14311) and submit your curriculum vitae, letter of application summarizing qualifications, and contact information for three professional references. Finalists for the position should be prepared to provide letters of recommendation and evidence of research and teaching proficiency upon request.

Review of applications will continue until the positions are filled with full consideration given to those who apply by October 1, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4487

George Mason University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Conflict Resolution (Tenure-Track)

The George Mason University School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution (S-CAR) invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor of Conflict Resolution. The position begins in August 2019. George Mason University, a doctoral research university recently designated as "highest research activity," has a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of excellence and diversity among its faculty and staff and strongly encourages candidates to apply who will enrich Mason's academic and culturally inclusive environment.

The School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution is committed to the development of theory, research and practice that interrupt cycles of violence. Having established the world's first M.S. program in conflict resolution in 1983, S-CAR is home to degree programs at the B.A./B.S., M.S., Ph.D., and Certificate levels and has an affiliate M.S. program in Malta and an undergraduate degree program in Incheon, South Korea. With four vibrant centers and multiple projects and programs, S-CAR faculty and students are engaged in significant research and practice worldwide; nationally; and locally, in the Washington, D.C., metro area. S-CAR is a Commonwealth Center for Excellence, recognized for its leadership in the field and its world-renowned faculty. For more information about the School, go to: <http://scar.gmu.edu/>.

Responsibilities:

The responsibilities for this position include:

- Teaching two courses per semester (including undergraduate and graduate instruction);
- Maintaining an active research and/or practice agenda;
- Participating in curricular development, student advising, and other service activities; and
- Contributing to the School's intellectual life.

Qualifications:

The School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution seeks highly qualified applicants whose work strengthens or complements the School's current offerings. Candidates with expertise in any area will be considered, but particular attention will be given to scholars with a demonstrated ability to develop new and innovative pathways for conflict analysis, resolution and transformation, especially those who are able to build on, expand, or reform the existing areas of focus at the School as represented by the curriculum concentrations at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and the four research centers. Candidates having a familiarity with any aspect of Conflict Analysis and Resolution are encouraged to apply. The School is interested in candidates who engage directly with today's real-world conflicts through intervention, advocacy, public scholarship, consultation, action research, evaluation and other forms of practice. There is no restriction on disciplinary affiliation or methodological expertise for this position. S-CAR invites applicants from any academic discipline or interdisciplinary background who can contribute to the vision for the School to promote and build on its characteristic approach to peace and conflict studies. Central to our approach is wide diversity in scholarly standpoint, the recognition of multiple and antithetical points of view, and the inclusion of once marginalized perspectives. Therefore, we encourage candidates of all backgrounds to apply. Applicants should have completed their doctoral degree or plan to defend their dissertation by August 1, 2019.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

For full consideration, applicants must apply for position number F7274Z at <http://jobs.gmu.edu/>; complete and submit the online application; and upload a CV, two writing samples (second writing sample may be uploaded into field marked "Other Doc" in the Additional Documents section), a cover letter that includes a statement of interest, and a list of the names and e-mails of three referees who have agreed to write letters of recommendation upon request. For additional information, please contact Jay Moon, Search Administrative Coordinator at jmoon6@gmu.edu or Dr. Solon Simmons, Search Committee Chair.

George Mason University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, committed to promoting inclusion and equity in its community. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, or protected veteran status.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/8qk9jbfgrn3dxjb9>

PI103643718

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/2/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4482

Midwest Political Science Association

Rank: Editorial Search, American Journal of Political Science, (2019 - 2022)

MPSA invites proposals from editorial teams to lead and manage the American Journal of Political Science (AJPS). The AJPS is one of the leading general research journals in Political Science. It strives to publish manuscripts that make outstanding contributions to scholarly knowledge about notable theoretical concerns, empirical issues or methodological strategies in any subfield. The editorial team will serve a four-year term beginning in June, 2019.

The editorial team has primary responsibility for the integrity, high standards, and ethics of the review process and the publication of articles dedicated to the scientific and public value of Political Science research. We seek proposals that offer a vision and plan for the AJPS to continue to be on the cutting-edge of innovation, excellence and rigor in the discipline specifically, and in the broader social sciences and inter-disciplinary communities as well.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

The AJPS is one of the top journals in the discipline. It receives about 1,000 submissions each year and maintains a database of over 7,000 qualified reviewers. Serving as an editor of the AJPS requires substantial commitments of time, intellectual effort, and management skill. The MPSA believes that this can be best achieved with an editorial team. This team could be configured in different ways, including having two or more Co-Editors, a Lead Editor with several Associate Editors, etc. There is no need for the editorial team to be from the same institution. Candidates for Co-Editor or Lead Editor should be full professors in Political Science doctoral degree-granting programs. Applicants are expected to have records of significant research accomplishment, intellectual breadth and depth, and administrative, organizational, and interpersonal skills.

The AJPS editorial team reports directly to the MPSA Executive Council, primarily through the MPSA Executive Director and the MPSA President. They will also need to appoint and manage the AJPS Editorial Board, as well as interact with the Publisher (Wiley) and the broader Political Science research communities. The AJPS uses an online manuscript-processing system called Editorial Manager to manage the flow of manuscripts. The editorial team will need to hire and supervise staff including a Managing Editor and graduate assistants.

The AJPS has historically benefited from a cooperative arrangement between the MPSA and the Editors' home institutions, with both providing support for the Editors. Typically, the host institution will provide office space, IT support, course reductions, summer salary for the Editors, and some support for the graduate assistants and Managing Editor. The MPSA provides travel funding, an honorarium for the editors, funds for staffing, office expenses, and other monies that are needed. The MPSA also manages the technical aspects of the AJPS website, pays for the cost of the Editorial Manager software as well fees to have accepted manuscripts replicated and verified. Different host institutions have provided different types of support in the past, and the MPSA has flexibility in terms of what it can fund. Potential editorial teams are encouraged to discuss their proposed budgets with the Executive Director of the MPSA, William Morgan (morgan@mpsnet.org).

The new editorial team is expected to continue two current policies. First, all manuscripts that are accepted must comply with the Replication and Verification Policy which includes archiving any data used in the manuscript in the AJPS Dataverse. Second, the AJPS is currently implementing an Editorial Conflict of Interest (COI) policy, where any potential conflicts are to be disclosed and, if required, a different member of the editorial team will serve as Lead Editor for that manuscript.

TO APPLY

The search process will consist of two stages, the first of which is optional. First, by Friday, August 17, 2018, candidates should e-mail full curriculum vitae for each member of the editorial team and a letter of intent as PDF attachments to: rkw@rice.edu and morgan@mpsnet.org. The letter of intent should be no longer than four single-spaced and should address: the structure of the editorial team, the staff structure, and their vision for the AJPS if they become editors. The MPSA will talk with each team regarding how they might develop more detailed proposals.

Second, by Monday, October 1, 2018, editorial teams should e-mail a full c.v. for each member of the editorial team and a complete proposal to: rkw@rice.edu and morgan@mpsnet.org. This proposal should discuss: structure of the editorial team, staff structure, previous management and editorial expertise of the editorial team, vision for the AJPS, detailed budget and statements of financial support from host universities. All applicants will receive an e-mail confirmation that the proposal has been received.

NOMINATIONS AND QUESTIONS

Professor Rick Wilson of Rice University has agreed to chair the search committee for the new editorial team. Wilson will be joined by John Ishiyama of North Texas University, Sara Mitchell of University of Iowa, Kathy Cramer of University of Wisconsin, and Tasha Philpot of the University of Texas, Austin. If you wish to nominate a person to serve as Editor, please contact the Chair of the AJPS Search Committee, Rick Wilson (rkw@rice.edu).

If you have questions about the budget, please contact the Executive Director of the MPSA, William Morgan (morgan@mpsnet.org). If you have questions about the responsibilities of serving as an Editor of the AJPS, please contact the Chair of the AJPS Search Committee, Rick Wilson (rkw@rice.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4476

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks qualified candidates for two tenure-track Assistant Professor positions. We welcome applications in all sub-fields; however, we expect to hire one Assistant Professor in International Relations. The department seeks excellent scholars with a rigorous theoretical and empirical approach to the study of politics. The positions are to begin September 1, 2019, pending budgetary and administrative approval.

Candidates must possess a PhD by September 2019, in political science or a cognate discipline. They will have a record of excellent research that has been published or otherwise disseminated in a manner appropriate to career stage, and have the potential to be a future leader of the profession in their field of expertise. Candidates should also have proven ability as excellent teachers at undergraduate and/or graduate level.

Please apply online at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52766> with a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, three references, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching and research statements. Applications should be received by October 1, 2018. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply a link to their professional website; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4448

Princeton University

Rank: Fellowship

Fung Global Fellows Program

Princeton University is pleased to announce the call for applications to the Fung Global Fellows Program at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS). Each year the program selects six scholars from around the world to be in residence at Princeton for an academic year and to engage in research and discussion around a common theme. Candidates will be considered in three categories: (1) Four of the fellowships will be awarded to early-career scholars employed in the equivalent of tenure-track positions who are expected to return to their position. (2) One fellowship is set aside for a postdoctoral research associate who at the time of application does not have a tenure-track faculty appointment. (3) In addition, one fellowship will be awarded to a senior scholar. All candidates must be based outside the United States.

During the academic year 2019-20, the Fung Global Fellows Program theme will be "Thinking Globally." How people have thought about the planet has informed the institutions, norms, and policies that have pulled it together and torn it apart. For centuries, ideas of free trade, human rights or global governance have framed cooperation and competition, order and disorder. Such ideas have also spawned border-crossing movements, from campaigns to end slavery to commitments to reduce carbon emissions. In turn, global thinking and action have often reinforced commitments to national ideas and efforts to curb global exchange. The goal of this research theme is to explore how ideas framed the understanding of interests and the making of institutions that have yielded commonness and conflict across and within borders. We also want to understand how these ideas and practices came into being through scientific networks, foundations, and think tanks. The Program will also examine rival world ideas that have challenged prevailing orthodoxies. Nowadays, with cooperative norms under challenge, global institutions under stress, and a century of guiding ideas about global convergence in doubt, we want to take a broad look at where these ideas came from, their effects, and the prospects for intellectual renewal or rethinking. The goal of the 2019-20 Fung Global Fellows cohort will be to explore the ways people learned to rely on or to reject strangers far away, as well as to imagine how global relationships came to be and could be different. We welcome applicants from all disciplinary and inter-disciplinary fields from the sciences to the humanities whose work addresses this set of themes in any historical period or world region.

Applications are due on November 9, 2018. All candidates must reside outside the United States. To be eligible, postdoctoral applicants must have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. before August 1, 2019 but cannot have received their degrees more than three years prior to the start of the appointment on September 1, 2019. Early-career fellows must have received their Ph.D. or equivalent no earlier than September 1, 2009. Senior scholars, who have received their doctorates before 2009, must have faculty appointments and a record of scholarly accomplishment in the designated theme of the program. Fellowships will be awarded on the strength of a candidate's proposed research project, the relationship of the project to the program theme, the candidate's scholarly record, and the ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the program.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 11/8/2019

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4322

University of Illinois at Chicago

Rank: Director/Professor/Associate Professor--Latin American and Latino Studies Program

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Other

The Program in Latin American and Latino Studies in the College of Liberal Arts and Science at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) invites applications and nominations for the position of Director. The successful candidate will provide leadership for the program and a vision for its continued excellence in research, teaching, service, and community engagement. The Director is the chief administrative officer of the program with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters.

UIC is a Carnegie Doctoral/Research-Extensive University located in the heart of one of the nation's largest metropolitan areas. It is a comprehensive public university with a diverse student body of more than 29,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. UIC is federally recognized as a Minority Serving Institution (MSI) through its status as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI) fully funded by the U.S. Department of Education

The Program in Latin American and Latino Studies is comprised of an interdisciplinary group of scholars dedicated to working in a wide range of areas in the Social Sciences and Humanities of Latin America and the Latino communities of the United States. The program's faculty offers a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses and serves a diverse student body of approximately fifty majors and minors and 12 M.A. students (<https://lals.uic.edu/lals>). Faculty have exceptional research opportunities as a result of collaborations and affiliations with other interdisciplinary units in the college, as well as with UIC research centers such as the Great Cities Institute, the Institute for the Humanities, and the Institute for Research on Race and Public Policy. The program has served as the headquarters of Inter-University Program for Latino Research and presently houses the IUPLR/Andrew Mellon Dissertation Completion Fellows Program in Latino Humanities Studies.

The Director is the chief administrative officer of the program with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters. Teach, do research in area of expertise, provide service to the university.

The successful candidate will have a PhD, a distinguished record of scholarship, evidence of excellent teaching, and appropriate academic administrative experience. Candidates with the rank of Full Professor preferred but advanced Associate Professors will be considered. A demonstrated ability to foster collaboration among a diverse group of scholars is desirable, as is a strong record of external funding and exemplary awards. The ideal Director will work with key units and communities at UIC and the Chicago metropolitan area to enhance the mission of the Program, the College, and the University.

For information about the application processes please contact Edward Drogos at edrogo2@uic.edu. For information about the Program please contact Prof. María de los Ángeles Torres at torresma@uic.edu. The desired appointment date is August 16, 2019. Salary is competitive based on qualifications. To apply complete an on-line application and upload a cover letter, full curriculum vitae and the names and full contact information of four references. Applications and nominations should be received by November 26, 2018 to receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4472

Princeton University

Rank: Professor, Contemporary East Asia

Princeton University seeks qualified candidates for a tenured full professorship in any discipline in the humanities, social sciences, engineering and the natural sciences. In addition to their core disciplinary specialization, candidates are required to have regional competence on China, Japan, or Korea, and knowledge of relevant foreign languages. Field of specialization is open.

Applicants should apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/7781>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree. Senior scholars should submit a brief letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae and a list of references. No publications, letters of recommendation or writing samples are required at this time. For fullest consideration, please apply by October 3, 2018.

Essential Qualifications: Excellence in a recognized discipline. Regional expertise and linguistic competence in Contemporary East Asia.

Further questions about this position may be directed to Nicole Bergman at nbergman@princeton.edu.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4462

Princeton University

Rank: Professor, Contemporary India

Princeton University seeks qualified candidates for a tenured professorship in any discipline, including the arts, the humanities, the social sciences, engineering and the natural sciences. Candidates are required to have regional expertise on India, knowledge of relevant foreign languages, and significant experience managing a center or program. In addition to contributing to their respective disciplinary department and to the wider research community of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS, <http://piirs.princeton.edu>), they are expected to strengthen regional course offerings at the University and, vitally, to broaden Princeton's international networks. Field of specialization is open.

Applicants should apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/7801>

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree. Senior scholars should submit a brief letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae and a list of references, but no publications, letters of recommendation or writing samples at this time. For fullest consideration, please apply by October 15, 2018.

Essential Qualifications: Excellence in a recognized field or discipline. Regional expertise on India.

Further questions about this position may be directed to Nicole Bergman at nbergman@princeton.edu.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4461

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: LSA Collegiate Fellow - University of Michigan

University of Michigan

LSA Collegiate Fellows

Fellowship Period: September 1, 2019 – August 31, 2021

Application Deadline: Monday, October 1, 2018

The College of Literature Science and the Arts (LSA) at the University of Michigan seeks outstanding scholars in all liberal arts fields whose research/scholarship and/or teaching/mentoring and/or service/engagement will contribute to the diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) goals of our institution.

The two-year fellowship provides early career natural scientists, humanists, and social scientists with dedicated research time, mentorship, teaching experience, travel funding, and professional development opportunities to prepare them for possible tenure-track appointments in LSA.

The LSA Collegiate Fellows program was launched in 2016 as a major college initiative aimed at recruiting and retaining exceptional early career scholars with demonstrated commitments to building a diverse, equitable, and inclusive academic community. The program is administered by U-M's National Center for Institutional Diversity (NCID) in conjunction with LSA academic departments.

Eligibility:

Applications are welcome from any humanities, social science, or natural science field represented in LSA academic departments. Please see website listed below for list of departments/units and other eligibility descriptions.

Appointment:

LSA Collegiate Fellows will receive a starting salary of $60,000 plus benefits. During the two-year term of appointment, the Fellow will participate in the LSA Teaching Academy during their first year, and teach one course a year in their host department. The remainder of the Fellows' time will be devoted to pursuing research. Each Fellow will also receive career advising from faculty mentor(s) during the fellowship.

*Predoctoral fellowships may be available in economics and political science; doctoral degree must be completed by July 1, 2020. If approved, predoctoral fellows will receive a starting salary of $50,000 plus benefits.

Program, eligibility, and application information can be found at <https://lsa.umich.edu/ncid/fellowships-awards/lsa-collegiate-postdoctoral-fellowship.html>. Inquiries may be directed to lsacollegiate@umich.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/31/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4463

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Law, Gender, and Health

The University of Michigan, Institute for Research on Women and Gender (IRWG), seeks applications for a Postdoctoral Fellowship position in Law, Gender, and Health funded by the National Science Foundation (Law and Social Sciences). The fellow will be appointed for two years at a salary of $48,000. Information about available benefits can be found at <https://hr.umich.edu/working-u-m/my-employment/academic-human-resources/benefits-postdoctoral-research-fellows>. Funding to attend two conferences per year and support for a research assistant is also included. Professors Anna Kirkland (Women's Studies) and Sandra Levitsky (Sociology) will serve as the primary mentors. The ideal candidate will propose a research project in law, gender, and health that demonstrates originality, creativity, strong research and writing skills, and the potential to bring diversity and excellence to the academic profession. Additional faculty mentors may be available from across the University of Michigan according to the fellow's interests, particularly in civil rights and discrimination, transgender studies, criminal law, opioids, queer studies, and women's health and reproductive rights (but these topics are not an exclusive list). The faculty mentors will support the fellow's professional development as well as offer opportunities to develop new collaborations, access additional data sources or sites, expand dissertation research into publications, and write grant proposals. The Institute for Research on Women and Gender (IRWG) will also commit matching funds to host a research symposium organized around the fellow's research during the second postdoctoral year. The postdoctoral fellow will have an office in Lane Hall on the Ann Arbor campus at the Institute for Research on Women and Gender (IRWG) and will be expected to be in residence during the entire two year fellowship period. There is no teaching required in this position. Founded in 1995, the Institute for Research on Women and Gender at Michigan promotes faculty research on women, gender, and sexuality and is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Applicants who will have completed the doctoral degree by September 1, 2019 are eligible to apply. Individuals awarded a Ph.D. from the University of Michigan or currently holding a postdoctoral or faculty position at UM are not eligible. Those holding only professional terminal degrees such as a J.D. or M.P.H. are not eligible.

Applications will be evaluated based on the quality, feasibility, and originality of the proposed research agenda; the potential for successful mentoring in the topic, methods, and approaches of the proposed research by the faculty mentors; and the ability of the postdoctoral fellow to contribute to diversity and excellence in the area of law, gender, and health.

Application deadline is Monday, September 17, 2018. We will conduct virtual interviews with finalists (i.e., no fly out) and plan to make a final decision by November 1, 2018. Alternates will be selected. The position would begin on September 1, 2019.

Applications should be submitted through the University of Michigan's job portal at (www.umjobs.org), keyword/job ID: 160755 and must include:

1. The names and contact information (phone and email) for two faculty references. (Letters are not required at the time of application.)
2. Research proposal that outlines your scholarly work and includes your research plan for the fellowship period. (Two to three pages. References, citations, formulas, and graphics do not count toward the page limit.)
3. Personal statement of diversity commitment that includes your demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion through scholarship/research, teaching/mentoring, or service/engagement. There may be some overlap with your research proposal and teaching statements. (No more than two pages.)
4. Dissertation Abstract. (One page.)
5. Writing Sample. (One to two samples; 35 pages maximum. Examples include sample publication or unpublished research paper, journal article, dissertation chapter. References, citations, formulas, and graphics do not count toward the page limit.)
6. Curriculum Vitae.

The University is responsive to the needs of dual career couples. Trans and cisgender women and men, gender non-conforming people, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 7/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4466

Muhlenberg College*Rank: Assistant ProfessorSubfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

The Department of Political Science at Muhlenberg College invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will be broadly trained in political science with a primary interest in American public law. We are open to candidates with a variety of substantive teaching and research interests, for example, constitutional law and theory; judicial politics; urban politics, civil rights; law and society; criminal justice politics; democracy, law, and race; feminist legal studies; global legal studies; immigration. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries and welcome a variety of methodological approaches. Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester to include one or two classes in American constitutional law or constitutional theory.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science by August 2019. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in liberal arts undergraduate teaching and mentoring students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.), the potential for scholarly publications, and effective written and oral communication. We are especially interested in candidates who have a long-term interest in helping to develop and advise students in Muhlenberg's pre-law program.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter describing their teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g. sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy), graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references. Candidates should also submit a separate statement describing how they will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College's efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. For additional information about Muhlenberg's commitment to diversity and inclusion, applicants can find the latest updates to the College's Diversity Strategic Plan at: <http://www.muhlenberg.edu/main/aboutus/president/initiatives/diversityatmuhlenberg/>.

Complete applications should be sent via email as a single PDF document, addressed to Lanethea Mathews-Schultz, Political Science Department Chair to: pscsearch@muhlenberg.edu. In order to receive full consideration, applications must be received by September 17, 2018.

Founded in 1848, Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in eastern Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley. Allentown is a diverse city of 116,000, and along with Bethlehem and Easton, anchors the third-largest metropolitan area in Pennsylvania. The region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants. In addition, Allentown is within close proximity to both New York City and Philadelphia.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 7/30/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4457University of Michigan*Rank: Contemporary Jewish Life

The Frankel Center for Judaic Studies at the University of Michigan invites applications for a tenured appointment at the Associate or Professor rank in the field of contemporary Jewish life. This is a university-year appointment with an expected start date of September 1, 2019. Specialization within the field is open. The successful candidate will be able to contribute to the Frankel Center's strengths in graduate training, and offer undergraduate courses that contribute to the curriculum of Judaic Studies. Applicants should submit a letter of application, which includes a statement of current and future research plans and teaching philosophy and experience, a curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching excellence, a writing sample, and the names of three references. Note that references will be contacted for finalists only. Review of applications will begin November 5, and will continue until an appointment is made.

Women and Minorities are encouraged to apply. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples, and is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Application materials must be submitted electronically. Please go to <https://webapps.lsa.umich.edu/Apply/1134> to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: 11/5/2018Date Posted: 7/30/2018Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 4454School of Advanced Air and Space Studies*Rank: Asst/Assoc Professor of Strategy and Security StudiesSubfield(s): Other, International Relations, American Government and PoliticsSpecializations: Defense, History & Politics, International Security

The School of Advanced Air and Space Studies (SAASS) is seeking a scholar of strategic or security studies to join our faculty beginning summer, 2019. Applicants with a specialization in space policy, space law, space history, or technology and innovation are of particular interest.

SAASS educates strategists for the US Air Force and the nation. The faculty develops and presents a yearlong graduate curriculum designed to educate students in the art of strategy and strategic studies, enhancing the Air Force's capacity to defend the United States through the control and exploitation of air, space, and cyberspace. Graduates receive a Master of Philosophy in Military Strategy degree with the possibility to continue toward a PhD in Military Strategy. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Colleges accredits both programs through The Air University.

Successful applicants will support the Air University and SAASS missions and have experience in the development, study, evaluation, or implementation of strategy, in terms of policy, history or practice. Applicants must have a completed PhD or JD, in an area relevant to strategic studies, with the ability to teach in a relevant field such as history, political science, and technology. Emphasis on the control and exploitation of space, air, and cyberspace and extensive professional experience in these areas is highly desired. The selection committee will consider applicants at the assistant and associate levels.

Primary duties include teaching graduate-level courses across the breadth of the school's curriculum, advising thesis and dissertation students, curriculum development, course direction, scholarly research and publication, and service to the school and university commensurate with individual experience.

Applicants will be required to submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation and samples of research, course syllabi and teaching evaluations to the chair of the search committee (via email or regular mail). Additionally, candidates will need to formally apply for the position using the USAJobs site, which will begin accepting applications on 1 September 2018. Review of applications will begin 1 October and continue until the position is filled.

Preliminary interviews will be conducted at the APSA annual meeting in Boston from August 30-Sep 1, 2018.

To schedule a meeting at APSA or for further information, please direct inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Derrick Frazier (derrick.frazier@us.af.mil); SAASS, 125 Chennault Circle, Room 2222A, Maxwell AFB, AL, 36112).

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4446

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Psychology

The Department of Psychology at Michigan State University seeks candidates for a 9-month academic year, tenure-system position. We are looking to hire at the assistant professor level in the area of political psychology, with a focus on minority politics. Position begins August 16, 2019.

Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda, strong analytical skills and commitment to open science, and potential/record for securing extramural funding. We are particularly interested in researchers studying political psychology in a way that connects both with the multicultural initiative in the Psychology Department as well as with hires in minority politics in the Political Science Department. The hire will be part of a batch hire on minority politics with MSU's Department of Political Science and collaborations are expected. Candidates will also contribute to undergraduate and graduate training in political psychology.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, committed to achieving excellence through a diverse workforce and inclusive culture that encourages all people to reach their full potential. The University actively encourages applicants and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities; applicants with diverse ideological views are encouraged to apply.

Interested applicants must apply for this position via Michigan State University Applicant Page (MAP). Please access the MAP system at <https://careers.msu.edu>, posting number 518700. Please submit your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a research statement, three sample of your written work, a teaching statement, and a diversity and inclusion statement, which should address your ability and experience working with underrepresented student populations. Applicants should arrange for at least three reference letters to be submitted.

Contact Joseph Cesario (cesario@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions. The closing date for applications is October 1, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4434

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgencnt.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencect.uhc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4428

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgencut.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Select "Apply" to be redirected to Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4429

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgencut.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Please navigate to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11482> to apply via Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4430

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencect.uconn.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Please navigate to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11482> to apply via Academic Jobs Online. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4431

Denison University

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty Position in Global Commerce

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, Trade

The Global Commerce program at Denison University invites applications for a tenure track position at the assistant professor or senior level beginning in Fall 2019. Global Commerce is a new interdisciplinary major (started in 2016) that trains students to think critically and creatively, in the liberal arts tradition, about global processes and structures of exchange by examining how factors including culture, history, politics, financial practices, and social structures shape both for-profit and non-profit activity in different contexts around the globe. Field of specialization for this position is open, but research and teaching experience must be related to international business, international financial institutions, global political economy, institutions of commerce (including non-profits or NGOs), or liberal market economies. Teaching responsibilities will include some combination of the core Global Commerce courses (Commerce and Society; Elements of Commerce; Global Financial Markets; and possibly a future applied statistics course for Global Commerce majors), as well as rotating responsibilities for the senior capstone course. (For details on our Global Commerce curriculum and course descriptions, please see: <https://denison.edu/academics/global-commerce>.) The successful candidate will also have regular opportunities to teach topical seminars investigating the structures, strategies, cultures, and contexts of global business and non-profit organizations and must be prepared to mentor undergraduate scholarship and research. The teaching load is 5 courses per year, including both introductory and upper-level courses, the largest of which is capped at 28 students.

Possible disciplinary backgrounds include political science, economic history, sociology, economics, industrial and organizational psychology, or international management. Regardless of discipline, applicants must have superior teaching skills, a commitment to a liberal arts approach to education, and the clearly articulated desire to contribute to the development of this innovative program, as well as an active research agenda related to some aspect of global commerce. Additional work experience in the business or non-profit sectors, as well as a willingness to help foster connections between our Global Commerce program and outside practitioners, are preferred.

Denison University is located just 25 miles east of Columbus, OH, the state capital. We are an increasingly diverse, highly-selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2200 students from across the nation and around the world. Our college and the Global Commerce program are committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty who are successful and effective teachers, who develop active and productive research programs, and who are involved in the life of the college.

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2018, and will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. We will conduct Skype interviews with prospective candidates in early November 2018. We will consider both ABD and Ph.D.-in-hand candidates, but degree must be conferred within a year of appointment at Denison in order for contract to be renewed.

Applicants should submit the following electronic application materials on-line at employment.denison.edu: a cover letter that includes discussion of commitment to liberal arts teaching, a brief description of the candidate's research agenda, mention of relevant non-academic work experience in the business or non-profit sectors, and a statement addressing the potential to foster and support diversity among our students, faculty, and community; curriculum vitae; two proposed syllabi for Global Commerce courses that reflect the candidate's area of expertise and interests; three letters of recommendation from academic references; and other supporting documents.

Denison University is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer. To achieve our mission as a liberal arts college, we continually strive to foster a diverse campus community, which recognizes the value of all persons regardless of religion, race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, disability, or socioeconomic background. For additional information and resources about diversity at Denison please see our Diversity Guide at www.denison.edu/forms/diversity-guide.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4422

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Conflict Resolution)

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professorship in any field of political science, with a research and teaching profile that will contribute to the department's Master of Arts Program in Conflict Resolution. The Conflict Resolution Program offers an innovative and rigorous curriculum encompassing the core skills and multidisciplinary knowledge needed to pursue diverse careers, both in the U.S. and abroad, related to conflict management and conflict resolution.

Applicants should have the ability to field core courses in conflict resolution theory and research methodology, and to contribute to other departmental needs at the undergraduate and doctoral levels. A Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester.

The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11484>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Desha Girod (desha.girod@georgetown.edu). For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive before September 21, 2018, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/21/2018

Date Posted: 7/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4419

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in International Development and Economic Policy

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the broad area of International Development and Economic Policy. We are open to the candidate's area of expertise, which may include development economics, politics and institutions of developing countries, international political economy, comparative political economy, and other relevant areas. We welcome applicants with different regional expertise, with a preference for those focusing on Latin America. The successful candidate is expected to have a strong research portfolio commensurate with their academic trajectory, and teach at least one section of the required course in introductory-level quantitative methods and an intermediate quantitative methods course. Bush School faculty exclusively teach master's degree graduate students in international affairs in a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Economics, or Public Policy by September 2019. The individual selected will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research in the context of a public policy graduate school environment. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2019.

Applications must be made through the Texas A&M Workday website. Applicants who currently are not a Texas A&M System employee please go to our external career site at https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/TAMU\_External.

Applicants who currently are a Texas A&M System employee please go to our internal career site at <https://jobs.tamu.edu/internal-applicants/>.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae and a sample of written work. Additionally, please have three letters of recommendation sent to:

Professor Gregory Gause

c/o Ms. Janeen Wood (preferably as electronic attachments to bushschoolinta-facultysearch@tamu.edu)

The Bush School of Government & Public Service

Texas A&M University

4220 TAMU

College Station, TX 77843-4220

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4412

University of Texas, San Antonio

Rank: Department Chair: Political Science and Geography

University of Texas at San Antonio

Department Chair: Political Science and Geography

The Department of Political Science and Geography at the University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) invites applications for Department Chair at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. Teaching and research specialization are open. The department is home to 17 tenured and tenure-track faculty members, NTT faculty and administrative staff, and 530 majors pursuing B.A. and M.A. degrees in Political Science, Global Affairs, Politics and Law, and Geography and Environmental Sustainability. Faculty members engage in individual and collaborative research around the world in such areas as global governance, comparative politics, security regimes, national security and intelligence, cyber security strategy and politics, political communications and institutions, federal justice policies, race and gender issues, social policy, human rights issues, constitutional development and judicial institutions, human migration patterns, geospatial information systems, and political economy.

The chair provides leadership in academic program development, faculty and staff development, and research collaborations and pursuit of grant opportunities. S/he also administers the department's budget and course offerings, and oversees faculty and student conflict resolution, department outreach and development activities, and communication with internal and external constituents. As a faculty member, s/he also contributes to the department's teaching and research missions. The appointment begins August 15, 2019.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely-related field. The successful candidate will demonstrate sustained excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service. S/he should have strong interpersonal, written, and oral communication skills. Of paramount importance is a track record of academic administration and leadership.

For consideration as Associate Professor, candidates must have a strong record of publication, evidence of effective teaching, and substantial experience in department, university, and professional service. For consideration as full Professor, candidates must have a superior record of publication, evidence of effective teaching, and substantial experience in department, university, and professional service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications: Applicants should demonstrate an ability to successfully pursue and manage external funding opportunities.

The University of Texas at San Antonio is a dynamic institution with a diverse and growing student population of approximately 31,000. San Antonio is the third largest metropolitan area in Texas, with a cosmopolitan, thriving urban culture, and attractive neighborhoods and extensive recreational opportunities. These qualities, coupled with the low cost-of-living and mild winters, make it a highly desirable place to live.

All information and materials associated with an application for this position must be submitted electronically through <https://jobs.utsa.edu/>. Applicants should submit the following items electronically:

1. Letter of application that states the rank for which the candidate is applying, teaching experiences, research interests, and focus on position qualifications;
2. Current curriculum vita;
3. Separate statements of research, teaching, and administrative leadership experience and vision;
4. Copy of all graduate transcripts;
5. Representative samples of scholarly work (no more than three);
6. Two syllabi of courses taught by the applicant;
7. Teaching evaluations and/or other evidence of course instruction evaluation;
8. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three references who can be contacted to provide letters of reference regarding the applicant's administrative experiences, scholarship, and teaching.

Deadline: October 15, 2018.

Applicants selected for interviews must be able to show proof that they will be eligible and qualified to work in the United States by time of hire.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4402

Bates College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

The Department of Politics at Bates College invites applications for a tenure-track position focusing on gender politics in the global South starting in the fall of 2019. We are particularly interested in candidates who have regional expertise in sub-Saharan Africa. Candidates should have a Ph.D. completed, or nearly complete. Applicants should show a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching, to scholarly research, and to the adoption of inclusive pedagogies. We are open to and encourage a variety of methodological approaches and paths to scholarly excellence. Responsibilities include teaching five courses per year (usually two courses per semester and one course during a five-week spring "short term") as well as advisement of individual senior theses. The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to apply and identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Consideration of applications will begin October 1, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

QUALIFICATIONS

ABD will be considered, Ph.D., preferred.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Review of applications begins October 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following: (1) a letter of application, (2) curriculum vita, (3) pedagogy statement, (4) research statement, (5) statement on how attention to inclusion and equity informs your teaching and research, (6) writing sample, (7) graduate transcripts, and (8) three confidential letters of recommendation.

Employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background check

APPLY HERE: <https://apply.interfolio.com/51898>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4395

Harvard University

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor of Government - Open Field

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor. The position is open with respect to subfields of political science, with special interest in research focusing on democratic dysfunction, international insecurity, unequal development, or collective action problems in any area of the world or without a specific area focus. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2019. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Demonstrated excellence in teaching is desired.

Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 15, 2018.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement
5. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received.
6. Writing samples and publications, if applicable.

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4370

University of Toronto

Rank: Endowed Chair, Japanese Politics and Global Affairs

The University of Toronto invites applications for a joint tenure-stream, endowed chair appointment in the Department of Political Science (51%) and the Munk School of Global Affairs and Public Policy (49%) in the area of Japanese Politics and Global Affairs. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate or Full Professor and will commence July 1, 2019.

The successful candidate must have a PhD in politics, government, international relations, or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment and be able to provide evidence of innovative research excellence of an internationally competitive calibre, as evidenced by a record of publications in leading outlets in the field, presentations at significant conferences, accolades or awards, and strong endorsements by referees of high standing.

Candidates should have an established international reputation based on a scholarly record of excellence appropriate to their career stage. Evidence of excellence in teaching and a demonstrated commitment to graduate education and mentorship are required. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated by strong letters of reference, teaching evaluations, graduate supervision, dossier and/or syllabi submitted as part of the application. The ideal candidate will focus on Japanese politics (including political history) in comparative and international perspective, Japanese policy in global and regional context, or international relations and contemporary Japan.

The appointment will be contingent upon a successful tenure review. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

We seek applications from candidates whose research program fits well with the Department and with the global focus of the Munk School. The appointee will contribute to the education and training of undergraduate and graduate students in both the Department and the School. The opportunity is also available to direct a new Centre for the Study of Global Japan established in the School to stimulate collaborative scholarship and public outreach.

We encourage applicants to review both academic units' research and teaching profiles prior to applying. Please visit our home pages: Department of Political Science <http://politics.utoronto.ca/>; Munk School of Global Affairs and Public Policy <http://www.munkschool.utoronto.ca/>.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply by clicking on the link below. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, teaching dossier (including a statement of teaching philosophy), and a statement outlining current and future research interests. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

If you have questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. All application materials should be submitted through the University of Toronto's online application system. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, signed and scanned) directly to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Antoinette Handley, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, October 9, 2018.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/9/2018

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4373

Tulane University

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Politics of Development

The Department of Political Science at Tulane University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the politics of development from a comparative politics, international relations, or public policy perspective beginning July 1, 2019. The ideal candidate will demonstrate excellence in the design and implementation of substantively and theoretically significant empirical research as well as a strong commitment to and capacity for excellence in teaching a variety of development-related courses in our undergraduate and graduate curricula. We are especially interested in candidates with extensive field research experience, employing qualitative, quantitative, or experimental methods. Candidates should have the PhD in hand by time of appointment. To ensure full consideration, please apply no later than September 1, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research and teaching, a current curriculum vitae, a writing sample of between 15 and 30 pages, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation online at apply.interfolio.com/52074. Queries may be addressed to Professor Thomas Oatley (toatley@tulane.edu), search committee chair. The Political Science Department will conduct initial interviews at APSA.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/2/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4343

Furman University*Rank: Professor in American Politics*Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics, Judicial Politics

The Department of Politics and International Affairs at Furman University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant, Associate, or Full rank in American politics to begin August 1, 2019. The candidate's teaching responsibilities will include introductory courses in American government and upper level courses in the area of constitutional law. The ability to offer classes in policy, jurisprudence, legal theory, criminology, and other related areas would be particularly welcome. S/he must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching and excellence in scholarship. The teaching load is typically five courses in a semester system. A Ph.D. is required by August 1, 2019. The department has a preference for a person who possesses or is a candidate for a Ph.D./J.D. and those licensed in the practice of law from any of the 50 states in the United States of America

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. We will also meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association convention in Boston, MA. To apply please go to <https://jobs.furman.edu/postings/5738>. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, CV, three letters of recommendation, sample course syllabi, teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and a sample(s) of professional writing (published work preferred). Candidates should also include a statement describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service might contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. For any questions please contact the chairperson of the search committee Teresa Cosby at Teresa.cosby@furman.edu.

Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly-changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently-launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences.

Furman is located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is one of the fastest growing cities in the Southeast and is ranked among "America's Ten Best" by Forbes Magazine. The charming downtown features excellent restaurants, in-town parks, shops, museums, galleries, music venues, and theaters. The city also has excellent public and private schools and a vibrant international community. A 20-mile bike and running trail connects the university to Greenville and to Travelers Rest, which was named "one of America's coolest small towns." The surrounding area abounds with outdoor recreational activities and has some of the most beautiful lakes, rivers, and mountains in the country. Greenville is within easy reach of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Atlantic Beaches. The newly renovated Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, located just 25 minutes from downtown, runs daily flights to major cities and airline hubs. Greenville is 2 1/2 hours from Atlanta and only one hour from Asheville, North Carolina. It is an ideal place to live and work.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 6/1/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4280Furman University*Rank: Professor in American Politics*Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics

The Department of Politics and International Affairs at Furman University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant, Associate, or Full rank in American politics to begin August 1, 2019. The candidate's teaching responsibilities will include introductory courses in American government and upper level courses in the area of constitutional law. The ability to offer classes in policy, jurisprudence, legal theory, criminology, and other related areas would be particularly welcome. S/he must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching and excellence in scholarship. The teaching load is typically five courses in a semester system. A Ph.D. is required by August 1, 2019. The department has a preference for a person who possesses or is a candidate for a Ph.D./J.D. and those licensed in the practice of law from any of the 50 states in the United States of America

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. We will also meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association convention in Boston, MA. To apply please go to <https://jobs.furman.edu/postings/5738>. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, CV, three letters of recommendation, sample course syllabi, teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and a sample(s) of professional writing (published work preferred). Candidates should also include a statement describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service might contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values. For any questions please contact the chairperson of the search committee Teresa Cosby at Teresa.cosby@furman.edu.

Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly-changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently-launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences.

Furman is located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is one of the fastest growing cities in the Southeast and is ranked among "America's Ten Best" by Forbes Magazine. The charming downtown features excellent restaurants, in-town parks, shops, museums, galleries, music venues, and theaters. The city also has excellent public and private schools and a vibrant international community. A 20-mile bike and running trail connects the university to Greenville and to Travelers Rest, which was named "one of America's coolest small towns." The surrounding area abounds with outdoor recreational activities and has some of the most beautiful lakes, rivers, and mountains in the country. Greenville is within easy reach of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Atlantic Beaches. The newly renovated Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, located just 25 minutes from downtown, runs daily flights to major cities and airline hubs. Greenville is 2 1/2 hours from Atlanta and only one hour from Asheville, North Carolina. It is an ideal place to live and work.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4281

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS - <http://cpass.ucsd.edu/>) has two postdoctoral positions available for the 2018-2019 academic year. Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director. Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4173

Yale University

Rank: Mars Fellow in Business Ethics

Yale University's Mars Brothers Interdisciplinary Program on Business Ethics seeks postdoctoral fellows for 2018-2019 from relevant disciplines (philosophy, business, economics, political science, sociology, psychology). Fellowships are for one year, renewable to two at a salary of $60,000 with health benefits. In addition to performing research under the supervision of Program faculty, Fellows will teach one seminar, be available to meet undergraduates of the Ethics, Politics, and Economics major, assist with senior essays, and help to organize and run a workshop series of 4-6 visitors a year. Applicants should have completed PhD requirements by September 2018. Mentoring of the fellows will draw on the established strengths of Yale's interdisciplinary faculty, beginning with the faculty of the Ethics, Politics, and Economics interdisciplinary undergraduate major.

Please submit a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, draft syllabus, and the names of two recommenders whom we will contact separately, online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47996>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2018. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications until the position has been filled. Please direct inquiries to Frances Rosenbluth, Director of Ethics, Politics and Economics, frances.rosenbluth@yale.edu.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and under-represented minorities are particularly welcome.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3897

POLITICAL THEORY

University of Western Ontario

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Department of Political Science

Faculty of Social Science

Western University, London, Ontario, Canada

Political Theory

The Department of Political Science (www.politicalscience.uwo.ca), Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for a probationary tenure-track position in the field of Political Theory with a starting date of July 1, 2019 (or as negotiated). We expect to hire at the rank of Assistant Professor, but applications from exceptional, experienced candidates at higher academic ranks will be considered.

We seek a candidate with substantive research interests in Global Justice or Democratic Engagement who is building an international research profile that will contribute to our existing strengths in these areas. The successful candidate must have completed their PhD in Political Science or a related field.

The successful candidate must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. The candidate should be capable of supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants.

All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

Western University is a top-ranked research-intensive university. Situated in the Faculty of Social Science, the Department of Political Science offers full programs for undergraduate, MA, MPA, and PhD students. The Faculty of Social Science at Western is experiencing a period of significant faculty renewal having made over 35 hires over the last few years, with approximately 20 more hires anticipated. Since 1878, the Western experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth in order to serve our communities. Western University delivers an academic experience second to none.

Applications should include the following:

- 1) application form (<http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf>),
- 2) cover letter,
- 3) curriculum vitae,
- 4) statement of teaching and research interests,
- 5) copies of publications,
- 6) transcript,
- 7) the names and contact information for three referees,
- 8) employment authorization, if applicable.

This material should be sent to:

Professor Charles Jones, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca
FAX: (519) 661-3904

Review of applications will commence on September 30, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle at sdoyle3@uwo.ca or 519-661-2111, extension 85158.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 9/30/2018
Date Posted: 9/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4723

John Cabot University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Affairs

Visiting Assistant Professor of International Affairs

John Cabot University, a four year, fully-accredited American liberal arts college in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a visiting faculty position in political science and international affairs at the assistant professor rank. We seek candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, and commitment to academic service. The candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses in international relations. The ideal candidate should be a graduate of an American university or have experience in the American liberal arts educational tradition. The appointment is for one year, beginning January 1st, 2019, and with possibility of renewal. Candidates are expected to be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction, and have permission to work in the EU. Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, letters of recommendation, one or two research papers or journal publications, and evidence of teaching excellence to: plsearch-visiting@johncabot.edu. Review of applications will begin September 15th, 2018 and remain open until filled. Only short-listed applicants will be notified.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4746

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Africa, Middle East

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University (Vancouver, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019. We invite applicants from any social science discipline with research on post-conflict dynamics and processes of reconstruction (e.g., transitional justice, peace-keeping/peace-building, social integration and reconciliation, state building, economic development in post-conflict contexts). We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Africa, the Middle East, and South or Southeast Asia.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree by the time of appointment, demonstrated excellence in research, and strong teaching potential. Professional experience in applied research, practice, or policy will be considered an asset.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public research university (ranked #1 by Maclean's Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada for 2016, 2017, and 2018). We earn top marks for our world-class social science research, award-winning students and faculty, and new library acquisitions. The normal teaching load for this full-time position is four courses per year, taught in two of three terms, with the third for research.

Applications will be treated in confidence and should include: a letter of application, statements of research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, until the position is filled. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Materials should be sent in a single pdf file via email only to intst@sfu.ca (letters of reference should be sent directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: "2018 Assistant Professor Application, (Applicant Name)." Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Tamir Moustafa, at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the university for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4726

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track, International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Africa, Middle East

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University (Vancouver, Canada) invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019. We invite applicants from any social science discipline with research on post-conflict dynamics and processes of reconstruction (e.g., transitional justice, peace-keeping/peace-building, social integration and reconciliation, state building, economic development in post-conflict contexts). We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Africa, the Middle East, and South or Southeast Asia.

Applicants should have a doctoral degree by the time of appointment, demonstrated excellence in research, and strong teaching potential. Professional experience in applied research, practice, or policy will be considered an asset.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public research university (ranked #1 by Maclean's Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada for 2016, 2017, and 2018). We earn top marks for our world-class social science research, award-winning students and faculty, and new library acquisitions. The normal teaching load for this full-time position is four courses per year, taught in two of three terms, with the third for research.

Applications will be treated in confidence and should include: a letter of application, statements of research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of reference. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1, until the position is filled. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Materials should be sent in a single pdf file via email only to intst@sfu.ca (letters of reference should be sent directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: "2018 Assistant Professor Application, (Applicant Name)." Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Tamir Moustafa, at tmoustafa@sfu.ca.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the university for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see: http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty\_Openings/Collection\_Notice.html.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4727

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Faculty Position in Metropolitan and Urban Studies in the Global South

Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

University of California, Los Angeles

Department of Urban Planning

Faculty Position in Metropolitan and Urban Studies in the Global South

UCLA's Department of Urban Planning invites applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in Metropolitan and Urban Studies in the Global South, which we consider to include Asia, Africa, and Latin America. We encourage applicants with a broad range of research topics, which might include urban and peri-urban politics and governance, corruption and state capacity, city building and land development, the development industry, global capital flows and urban transformations, violence and policing, displacement and refugee populations, metropolitan infrastructure development and management, urban social movements, and comparative work, especially South-South comparison. We not only welcome scholars from urban studies and planning, but also those trained in other theoretical and methodological approaches, and from multidisciplinary backgrounds.

We expect our new colleague to take the lead in advancing collaborative and interdisciplinary research on cities and metropolitan regions in the Global South with colleagues at UCLA and beyond, in addition to teaching courses in our professional Masters in Urban and Regional Planning program and our new undergraduate major in Public Affairs.

To apply, please submit a brief cover letter, a research statement of less than 500 words highlighting scholarly contributions of recent research and plans for the near future, at least one publication or writing sample, a teaching statement of less than 300 words outlining the content of a class you would like to teach, and three letters of recommendation.

The Department of Urban Planning, in the Luskin School of Public Affairs, currently hosts 16 tenured/tenure-track planning faculty, seven affiliated tenured/tenure-track faculty, four visiting practice faculty, five active professors emeriti, 38 Ph.D. students, 148 master's students, and 60 undergraduate minors across its large, diverse, and highly selective Ph.D., master's, and undergraduate programs. We have a tradition of intellectual leadership in urban and regional studies and design, and our faculty, students, and alumni are committed to social justice and progressive planning ideals.

Los Angeles is a global city renowned for its dynamism, robust economy, rich cultural diversity, spectacular climate, as well as high levels of inequality, poverty and homelessness, residential segregation, and traffic. The UCLA Luskin School of Public Affairs is an interdisciplinary school with highly ranked departments of Social Welfare and Public Policy. All faculty in the Luskin School of Public Affairs (including the departments of Social Welfare, Urban Planning, and Public Policy) have opportunities to participate in current school initiatives in global affairs, digital technologies, the environment, democracy and inequality, global development, Latin American cities, and social justice, equity, and opportunity.

UCLA offers competitive salary and attractive benefits packages, including a housing assistance program for new faculty members. The University of California seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. The Department of Urban Planning in particular is committed to diversity and excellence in our faculty, students, and scholarship, and we especially encourage candidates who share and can contribute to this commitment. A separate statement that addresses past and/or potential contributions to equity, diversity, and inclusion must also be included in the application materials.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

While we expect to appoint at the rank of Assistant Professor, we will consider applicants and appointments at all levels. We expect candidates to hold a Ph.D. in urban planning or a related discipline. The expected start date is July 1, 2019. All materials must be submitted via UCLA Academic Recruit by Thursday, November 1, 2018, to be guaranteed full consideration.

To Apply, visit:
<http://apptrkr.com/1283025>

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 11/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/28/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4719

University of Virginia

Rank: Political Theory (Open Rank)

Political Theory (Open Rank)
University of Virginia

The University of Virginia's Department of Politics invites applications for an open-rank, tenure-track position in Political Theory. Candidates will be expected to teach at the graduate and undergraduate levels and provide service to the University, Department and professional organizations. The anticipated appointment start date will be August 25, 2019.

Applicants at the assistant professor rank must be on track to defend their dissertation by January 2019 and must hold a PhD in politics or a comparable field at the time of appointment. Applicants at the associate or full professor rank must hold a PhD at the time of application and must have an outstanding publication and teaching record. We are especially interested in candidates who have an interest in, or demonstrated capacity for, mentoring diverse students and colleagues.

Review of applications will begin on September 18, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

To apply, visit Jobs@UVa (<https://jobs.virginia.edu>) and search on posting number 0623822. Complete a candidate profile online that includes a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and contact information for three references.

For questions about the application process, please contact Savanna Galambos at skh7b@virginia.edu.

The University of Virginia assists UVA faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more about these services, please see <http://provost.virginia.edu/dual-career>.

Applicants may also wish to consult the Faculty & Candidate Guide to UVa & Charlottesville <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>, which offers a wide range of resources on working at UVa and living in and near Charlottesville.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/28/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4720

U.S. Naval Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

The Political Science Department of the United States Naval Academy invites applications for tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in American Politics beginning August 2019. Application review will begin on 01 October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The U.S. Naval Academy is a service academy and top tier liberal arts college with a commitment to excellence in faculty teaching, research, and service. American Politics scholars with expertise in public policy; race, gender, and ethnicity; or political philosophy are encouraged to apply. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. Candidates should have a robust research agenda and demonstrate potential for research excellence, as well as a strong commitment to student advising and institutional service.

For more information about this position and how to apply please visit the USNA position announcement at <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/AsstProfessor-PolSciAY19.php>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4715

Westminster College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Westminster College in Salt Lake City, UT invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning August 2019. Primary teaching responsibilities include an introductory Political Science course, as well as upper division undergraduate courses in global politics and political theory. The ability to teach either comparative politics and/or research methods is also highly desirable. Westminster's normal teaching load is 24 semester hours per year – typically three courses per semester.

The Department of Politics and Justice Studies at Westminster has a strong commitment to undergraduate education that emphasizes high-impact teaching practices, an interdisciplinary curriculum, and a student-centered learning environment. Students majoring in Political Science or Justice Studies cultivate strong writing and critical thinking skills that support their future goals to enter graduate school or the workforce.

Westminster College's commitment to diversity and global learning is revealed in its core values, mission and vision statements, and learning goals. We seek colleagues who are prepared to facilitate the learning of all students, including those from groups historically underrepresented in higher education, such as students of color, LGBTQ+ students, students with disabilities, and first-generation college students.

Required Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in Political Science completed no later than August, 2019
- Demonstrated excellence in teaching. The successful applicant will have served as the instructor of record for multiple courses and be able to demonstrate the ability to employ pedagogical practices that generate active and engaged learning
- An active intellectual life that includes regular presentations at academic conference and the occasional publication of scholarly and/or pedagogy-related articles.

Application Instructions:

For application instructions, please consult the online job board (<http://jobs.westminstercollege.edu>). Review of applications will begin on November 26, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. A complete application that demonstrates competencies in the above qualifications will include:

1. Curriculum Vita
2. A letter of application that highlights your specific qualifications for the position, including a discussion of your past teaching experiences and your preparation to teach and mentor students from groups historically underrepresented in higher education.
3. Sample syllabi and sample assignments that demonstrate your approach to teaching/learning issues
4. Scholarly writing sample
5. Contact information for three professional references

About Westminster:

Westminster College is a place for self-reliant students of all backgrounds who seek lives of consequence. We are a private, independent college that has been advancing the liberal arts tradition in Utah since 1875. Our historic campus is the center of Salt Lake City's Sugar House neighborhood. Our mountain vistas inspire exploration, our urban surroundings provide endless opportunities, and our small classes promote inclusive dialogue. We offer undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees. Our devoted faculty challenge students to engage their curiosity and pursue their passions through purpose-driven academic programs. Westminster is a place for expanding your worldview, innovating for the future, and launching a meaningful life. For more information visit www.westminstercollege.edu.

Westminster College is committed to a diversified workforce, equal opportunity, and nondiscrimination. To this end, Westminster prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment based on race or ethnicity, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identification, disabilities, genetic information, status as a veteran, or any other category or classification protected by applicable federal, state, or city laws.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4670

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://> www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4662

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4663

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: African American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Behavior

The Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science at Northern Illinois University anticipate hiring a tenure-track assistant professor in political science. Employment will begin August 2019. The position is open to applicants from any subfield of political science. Political Theory scholars, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Reflecting NIU's commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration in education and scholarship, the position will hold joint appointment status, but the tenure home will be the Department of Political Science.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong record of, or potential for, scholarly research and teaching excellence at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses that will contribute to the Black Studies Minor. An earned PhD in political science is required by the start date of the appointment. A demonstrated ability to serve a diverse student population is strongly preferred.

In particular, we seek faculty and staff who embrace NIU's mission of providing opportunity to a diverse student body by providing them with access to high quality education and hands-on involvement in research and community engagement. Experience teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds is highly preferred.

The Department of Political Science has 12 faculty members and offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Center has 13 faculty associates and faculty affiliates that work with the Black Studies Minor. For more information, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and <https://www.cbs.niu.edu/blackstudies/>. NIU is located in DeKalb, a welcoming and growing city 65 miles west of downtown Chicago. It has an enrollment of more than 18,000 students, including a graduate student body of over 4,000.

Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Applicants must send a cover letter, which describes how their scholarship will contribute to the missions of both the Center for Black Studies and the Department of Political Science. In addition, a curriculum vitae, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, appropriate transcripts, and list of references should be submitted online at <http://employment.niu.edu/postings/36965>.

NIU is an AA/EEO institution and strongly encourages applications from women and minority candidates. A pre-employment criminal background check is required.

Review of completed applications will begin on November 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4664

University of Chicago

Rank: Lecturer in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

Posting Number: 03851

The University of Chicago invites applications for a Lecturer in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, temporary position in CIR's one-year MA program in international relations. The appointment is for a non-renewable, two-year term, preferably beginning October 2018.

CIR is the nation's oldest graduate program in international relations, awarding the Master of Arts degree in International Relations to approximately 60-70 students per year.

The successful applicant will teach four graduate courses in the first year and five in the second year; advise MA student theses; and participate in admissions, student mentoring, and student recruitment. Specific course assignments will be determined by the faculty chair, and will include a mix of survey and specialized courses. We welcome candidates who can offer diverse methodological and substantive courses in international relations.

To be eligible, candidates must have defended the PhD by September 30, 2018 and have the PhD in-hand by December 2018. Applicants must also have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and advising/mentoring students. This is a union position covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union, Local 73.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website at <https://tinyurl.com/ybh2p3hx>. The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) Syllabi for two proposed courses, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin September 23, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Paul Staniland, at paul@uchicago.edu for updates on the status of the search.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

<https://tinyurl.com/ybh2p3hx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4669

University of British Columbia

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Behaviour

Subfield(s): Other, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science, University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Behavior at the level of Assistant Professor, effective 1 July 2019.

We are seeking applicants with strong research records appropriate to a research-oriented doctoral program and demonstrated ability and interest in high quality, innovative teaching. Applicants should have research interests that complement existing strengths in the department. The successful candidate will be expected to teach and supervise at the graduate and undergraduate levels in political behavior within one of the subfields of political science. Candidates must have a PhD or will have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2019). The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a program of scholarly research leading to publication, effective teaching, graduate supervision, and service.

The programs, faculty research interests and general activities of the Department of Political Science are found at www.politics.ubc.ca. The University of British Columbia's main campus is located in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Applications must be submitted to <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-assistant-professor-in-political-behaviour/>. Required documents include a c.v., a description of current and future research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a sample of their ongoing research preferably in the form of published material. Applicants must also arrange to have three signed and confidential letters of reference sent by email to poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4653

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Center for the Study of Liberal Democracy at the University of Wisconsin-Madison invites applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in political theory for the academic year running from August 20, 2019 to June 30, 2020. Housed in the Department of Political Science, the Center for the Study of Liberal Democracy promotes the study and critical appreciation of the cardinal principles and institutions of liberal democracy, including, but not limited to, constitutionalism and rule of law, the meaning and scope of freedom and free markets in a democratic order, the place and role of religion in liberal democracies, and the relationship between liberty and equality.

Eligible applicants must have completed all requirements for a Ph.D. by the date of application, and no earlier than August 15, 2016. The fellow will receive a stipend of $48,000 per year as well as research funds and benefits. The fellow will teach one course per semester in either the Department of Political Science or the Integrated Liberal Studies program, will assist with the CSLD's programming, and will take an active part in the workshops, conferences, and intellectual life of the Center and the political theory field. The fellowship can be extended for the 2020-2021 academic year, and the appointment will begin in August 2019.

To apply please go to <https://csld.wisc.edu/postdoctoral-fellowship/>

Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; (3) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education in the future; and (4) the contribution the applicant is likely to make to intellectual life of the Center.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 1/15/2019

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 4645

Loyola University, Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Theory, Helen Houlahan Rigali Endowed Assistant Professorship

Helen Houlahan Rigali Endowed Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Political Theory

Department of Political Science, Loyola University Chicago

Job Title: Assistant Professor of Political Theory, Helen Houlahan Rigali Endowed Assistant Professorship

Background: Loyola University Chicago (LUC), College of Arts and Sciences, Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, entry-level, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning fall 2019. The department seeks candidates with expertise in Political Theory. The Helen Houlahan Rigali endowed position provides $5,000 annually in research funds for a maximum of six years. The successful candidate will be joining a department with more than 20 faculty members and more than 500 majors and minors. For information about the department, please visit <http://www.luc.edu/politicalscience/index.shtml>.

Duties and Responsibilities: In addition to publishing quality scholarship, the Helen Houlahan Rigali Endowed Assistant Professor position involves teaching undergraduate courses as well as an occasional graduate course in our M.A. and Ph.D. programs. The candidate will be expected to teach courses in the subfield of Political Theory, including an introductory Political Theory course.

Qualifications: The successful candidate is expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of the appointment. Candidates for the position must clearly demonstrate the potential for excellence in research and teaching and have a record of (or clear potential for) distinguished scholarship, grant-funded research, and student mentorship. Candidates should be willing to support the mission of Loyola University Chicago and the goals of a Jesuit Catholic education.

Special Instructions to Applicants: Applicants should submit a current Curriculum Vitae, a statement outlining the applicant's research agenda, a statement on teaching experience, and a letter of interest outlining the applicant's qualifications to www.careers.luc.edu. They also should arrange for three recommendations or evaluations from individuals prepared to speak to their professional qualifications for this position, to be submitted electronically to the above website. Samples of scholarly publications and additional materials related to teaching excellence can also be uploaded to this site or mailed to:

Claudio Katz, Professor and Search Committee Co-Chair
Department of Political Science
Loyola University Chicago
1032 W. Sheridan Road
Chicago, Illinois 60660

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. For full consideration, applications should be received by September 30, 2018.

Loyola University Chicago is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer with a strong commitment to hiring for our mission and diversifying our faculty. The University seeks to increase the diversity of its professoriate, workforce and undergraduate and graduate student populations because broad diversity - including a wide range of individuals who contribute to a robust academic environment - is critical to achieving the University's mission of excellence in education, research, educational access and services in an increasingly diverse society. Therefore, in holistically accessing the many qualifications of each applicant, we would factor favorably an individual's record of conduct that includes experience with an array of diverse perspectives, as well as a wide variety of different educational, research or other work activities. Among other qualifications, we would also factor favorably experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to an academic career or degrees.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4600

Hamilton College*Rank: Visiting ProfessorSubfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a two-year visiting position with possibility for renewal for an additional two years, at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. Teaching load is four courses per year for the first year and five courses per year after. This position covers American politics, public policy, and political theory. Candidates may be from any field but must be able to teach courses from at least two of the three areas listed. Applicants who research the impact of digital technologies or incorporate innovative digital technologies into their research and teaching are especially encouraged to apply. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address the ways in which you would further the College's goal of building a diverse educational environment.

Appointment begins July 1, 2019. ABD or Ph.D. required. Please submit a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, a list of courses you are prepared to teach, evidence of teaching performance, and arrange for submission of three letters of recommendation to Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53422>. We will begin consideration of applications on December 1. Applicants with questions or wishing to be interviewed at the APSA should contact Philip Klinkner, Chair, Government Department, Hamilton College (govsrch@hamilton.edu).

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at www.higheredcareers.com, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/offices/dof/faculty-support-resources/resources-for-prospective-or-newfaculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

ABD or Ph.D. required.

Start Date: Summer 2019Application Deadline: 12/1/2018Date Posted: 8/15/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4601Waseda University*Rank: Assistant Professor (without tenure)Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Waseda University, a long-established private university located in central Tokyo, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor (full time, without tenure) (in Japanese, "Koushi-Ninkitsuki") in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics. We seek individuals who wish to participate actively in education and research at the Faculty.

- Number of positions

Several positions across Political Science, Economics, and Journalism in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University

- Expected starting date

April 1, 2019

Duration: Two years from the starting date of employment

At the end of this two-year period, taking into account such factors as education, research and work performance, Assistant Professor (without tenure) may be reappointed for another year. However, the combined period of employment must be completed by March 31, 2022.

- Duties and Responsibilities

(1) To teach three or four courses per year.

A course per year breaks down to 30 lecture / seminar sessions, each lasting for 90 minutes. At Waseda University, the academic calendar consists of two 15-week semesters.

(2) To engage in collaborative and individual research activities at the Faculty.

(3) To undertake other duties assigned by the Faculty.

- Requirements

(1) Hold a doctoral degree or expect to obtain a doctoral degree before February 28, 2019.

Each successful applicant must submit either a photocopy of the original degree certificate or a document/letter issued by the academic institution confirming the degree awarded. Failure to do so by February 28, 2019, will result in the applicant being disqualified.

(2) Be able to give lectures and conduct seminars in either Japanese or English.

- Application Deadline

September 14, 2018 (application materials must be submitted by 13:00 Japan Standard Time, or UTC +09:00)

For detailed information of this posting including the application procedure, please refer to the following website.

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/08/09/9163/>Start Date: Spring 2019Application Deadline: 9/11/2017Date Posted: 8/14/2018Salary: AnyeJobs ID: 4541New York University Abu Dhabi*Rank: Political Science Professor - Open RankSubfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, American Government and PoliticsSpecializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, International Security

Political Science Professor - Open Rank

NYU Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for full-time tenure/track appointments in Political Science. The open-rank search is open to all fields and methodologies. Applications from senior scholars (associate and full professor) are especially welcome. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2019, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

The review of applications will begin September 1, and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative writing samples, to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52969>. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format.

Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its ninth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4574

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Policy

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for one or more tenure-track junior faculty positions. These positions are open with respect to subfield and involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8001>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Teaching and research statements are optional. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00001

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4565

University of California, Irvine

Rank: 2018-19 Political Science Lecturer Pool (Theory Focus)

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of Political Theory contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2018-19 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in Political Theory. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $54,738 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2018-2019 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/24/18 – 12/14/18

Winter Quarter: 1/2/19 - 3/22/19

Spring Quarter: 3/27/19 – 6/14/19

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04846>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by October 1st, 2018. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 3/17/2019

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4516

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Formal Theory / Political Economy for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. The applicant should demonstrate advanced skills in analytical reasoning and formal modeling (including but not limited to game theory), as well as a strong applied focus in at least one subfield. The successful candidate will be able to convey their insights to an audience that does not necessarily have extensive formal training but that is interested in the ideas as applied to a well-defined substantive problem. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT (<https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01847>) for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Formal Theory / Political Economy).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4522

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics)

The Department of Political Science within the Division of Social Sciences at the University of California, San Diego (<http://polisci.ucsd.edu>) invites applications in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin July 1, 2019. Applicants should demonstrate strong skills in analytic reasoning, broadly defined, which may include one or more of the following: quantitative methods, formal theory, analytic political philosophy, or modelling. Successful candidates should hold a PhD by start date of appointment.

Our department is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Successful candidates will share this commitment and be prepared to teach graduate and undergraduate students, demonstrate the highest standards of scholarship and professional activity, and contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. Appointment level and salary will be commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

To apply, candidates must provide a cover letter, vita, samples of written research, three letters of reference, and a statement summarizing contributions, and/or potential for contribution, to diversity and leadership (further information this statement can be found at <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-info.asp>).

All materials should be submitted via UCSD RECRUIT at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01840> for position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Race, Ethnicity, and Politics).

Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4523

University of Minnesota, Twin Cities

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Theory

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities invites applications for two full-time, tenure-track faculty positions in Political Theory beginning fall semester 2019 (08/26/19). We seek outstanding colleagues committed to scholarly research and teaching at the highest level, and we especially welcome applications from underrepresented groups.

We seek candidates who are deeply conversant in the history of Western political theory, and can teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels that draw upon this canon.

Further, we seek candidates who will advance the substantive commitment of the department's strategic plan: to investigate "democracy under threat" across its multiple dimensions (please see below). We are most interested in work that, in a sustained manner, draws upon global historical knowledge to understand contemporary threats to democracy (such as resurgent authoritarianism, legitimization crises of contemporary liberal democratic institutions, crises of political economy and/or late capitalism, racialized politics and inequalities, etc.). Such candidates will also be committed to addressing issues of political theory as they present themselves as problems that arise in contemporary global settings. Scholars using approaches such as feminist theory, queer theory, critical race theory, and/or who focus on such issues as justice and injustice, inequality, or global migration are of special interest.

We also seek candidates who share the department's ongoing commitment to study the intersection of power, equity, and diversity and its effect on social science inquiry. Finally, we value candidates who actively place their research in dialogue with other subfields in political science, the social sciences and humanities, and with the broader university community and public.

More information regarding the department's strategic plan can be found at <https://cla.umn.edu/polisci/news-events>, under the announcement for this search.

Appointments will be 100% time over the nine-month academic year (late-August to late-May), and will be made at the rank of tenure-track assistant professor, consistent with collegiate and university policy. Salary is competitive, and dependent on qualifications and experience.

Qualifications:

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in political science or related field is required. Advanced ABD's may be considered for appointment at the rank of tenure-track instructor, with the stipulation that the Ph.D. is conferred in the first year of the appointment.

Preferred Qualifications:

College/university-level teaching experience is preferred.

Candidates will be evaluated according to (a) overall quality of their academic preparation and scholarly work, (b) contribution of their scholarly research to the department's academic priorities and fields of inquiry, (c) evidence of commitment to teaching and skills as a teacher, and (d) strength of recommendations.

Duties / Responsibilities:

Faculty in the Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts are expected to maintain an active research program, teach and advise undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute service appropriate for the rank of appointment to the department, college, University, and profession.

The Standards for Promotion and Tenure in the Department of Political Science are available at: <https://faculty.umn.edu/sites/faculty.umn.edu/files/polsci.pdf>

For information on faculty workload guidelines and principles in the College of Liberal Arts, visit: <https://sites.google.com/a/umn.edu/cla-intranet/ofaa/resources/workload-principles--guidelines>

About the Department / College / University:

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in graduate and undergraduate education and to the conduct of leading social science research. For further information, please visit the department website, <http://cla.umn.edu/polisci>.

Established in 1868, the College of Liberal Arts supports the University of Minnesota's land-grant mission as home to disciplines in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. The College of Liberal Arts is committed to intellectual freedom, the pursuit of new knowledge, and the belief that the liberal arts are the foundation of academic learning. CLA prepares students to be independent and original thinkers, innovators in their chosen fields; to create meaning in their lives and in their life's work; and to become productive citizens and leaders in their communities and the world. The College of Liberal Arts values diverse cultures, experiences, and perspectives as key to innovation and excellent education. www.cla.umn.edu

Founded in 1851, the University of Minnesota, with its five campuses and more than 65,000 students, is one of the largest, most comprehensive universities in the United States, and ranks among the most prestigious research universities in the world. It is both a major research institution, with scholars of national and international reputation, and a state land-grant university, with a strong tradition of education and public engagement.

The University recognizes and values the importance of diversity and inclusion in enriching the employment experience of its employees and in supporting the academic mission. The University is committed to attracting and retaining employees with varying identities and backgrounds.

The University of Minnesota provides equal access to and opportunity in its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. To learn more about diversity at the U: <http://diversity.umn.edu>.

Application Instructions:

Apply online through the University of Minnesota's Job Center: <http://www1.umn.edu/ohr/employment/index.html>

- Job Opening ID: 325614
- Job Posting Title: Assistant Professor (Political Science: Political Theory)
- Job Code: 9403
- Jobs Posted Within: Last Three Months (or greater)
- Keyword(s): Political Science

Applications must be submitted online. To be considered for this position, please click the APPLY button and follow the instructions. You will have the opportunity to complete an online application for the position, and attach a cover letter and C.V. Additional documents must be attached to your "My Activities" page, and can be attached after submission of the application by exiting and re-entering the Job Center, accessing your "My Activities" page (in the top list of hyperlinks), and uploading documents there.

The following required materials must be attached to your online application:

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Writing sample (in the candidate's central area of research)
4. Brief statement of research interests
5. Brief statement of teaching philosophy and interests

Additional materials may be requested from candidates at a future date.

In addition to the electronically-submitted materials, candidates are asked to arrange for at least THREE letters of recommendation to be sent directly to the department.

The letters of recommendation may be emailed to psearch@umn.edu, or mailed to:

Political Theory Search Committee
Attn: Alexis Cuttance
Department of Political Science
University of Minnesota-Twin Cities
267 19th Avenue South, Room 1414
Minneapolis, MN 55455

Applications will be reviewed beginning October 1st, 2018. However, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

For questions about the position, please contact the Department of Political Science, at (612) 624-4144.

For questions about the application process, or to request an accommodation during the application process, please e-mail employ@umn.edu or call (612) 624-UOHR (8647).

Any offer of employment is contingent upon the successful completion of a background check. Our presumption is that prospective employees are eligible to work here. Criminal convictions do not automatically disqualify finalists from employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4502

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado at Boulder invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level in Political Theory. The appointment begins in August 2019. Successful candidates must demonstrate a research focus in contemporary political theory. We are particularly interested in candidates with specialization in one of the following areas: race and inequality, non-Western or indigenous political thought, post-colonial theory, or democratization. Priority will be given to candidates whose research and teaching interests complement those of our existing political science faculty without duplicating those of our political theory faculty. The position requires teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels, including contributing to the teaching of our large, introductory lecture course in political theory and advising PhD students.

Applications received by October 1, 2018 will receive priority consideration. We will continue screening applications until the position is filled. The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. Members of underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. Applications are accepted electronically at <https://jobs.colorado.edu/jobs/JobDetail?jobId=12292>, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of reference. Candidates who have completed a PhD in political science and those who are ABD may apply. ABDs will be hired at the instructor level and will be allowed up to two years to complete the PhD. PhDs will be hired at the Assistant Professor level. Please direct inquiries to the Political Theory Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309-0333. See <https://jobs.colorado.edu/jobs/JobDetail/Assistant-Professor-Political-Theory/12292> and <https://jobs.colorado.edu/jobs/JobDetail/Assistant-Professor-Political-Theory/12292> for full job description.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4499

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professorship(s)

We invite applications for one or more positions as Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are offered as tenure-track Assistant Professorships. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Assistant Professor are:

- Research within the field of politics and international relations
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate and post-graduate students
- Administrative tasks
- Knowledge sharing with the rest of the society

An assistant professorship is a further-education post. Supervision as well as pedagogical training is provided. The position(s) will be covered by the tenure track programme at the University of Copenhagen. The programme offers tenure-track candidates a contract of six years that can result in a tenured associate professorship. For additional information about assistant professorships, tenure-track assistant professorships and the Job Structure for Academic Staff at the University, see: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/career-at-upch/> and: <http://employment.ku.dk/tenure-track/tenure-track-at-ucph/>

Emphasis will be put on the applicant's ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the Department through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching, disseminate knowledge and make a knowledge-based societal impact. An assistant professor is expected to develop competences and experience within research, teaching and dissemination. In time, the assistant professor should develop competences to attract funding within his or her specialist area.

Qualifications

To be qualified for the position the applicant must have a PhD in Political Science or equivalent academic qualifications as well as:

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced primarily by a well-received PhD dissertation and an emerging international reputation based on a publication profile that complements the existing research strengths of the Department
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery of an excellent student experience based on a track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates, who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

We will expect candidates to present a clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications, external research funding as well as a commitment to innovate teaching

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Professor Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Phone: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048], email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4453

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Professorships in Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

We invite applications for one or more positions as Full Professor or fixed-termed Professor with Special Responsibilities at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of the Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Professor or Professor with Special Responsibilities (MSO) are:

- Research within the field of Political Science
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate, post-graduate and PhD students
- Administrative tasks related to the position as Professor or Professor with Special Responsibilities
- Knowledge sharing with wider society
- Research and teaching management
- Fundraising

Applicants for a full professorship must be able to document a very high degree of original scholarly production at international level and have a highly recognised international reputation. Applicants for a MSO professorship must have the potential to make progress in the subject area and being able to document original scholarly production at an international level. The position is established to appoint particular talent, preferable younger researcher to develop a subject area full of perspectives at an international level.

In addition to the general professorial duties, the position as Professor with Special Responsibilities includes special responsibilities to make a specific contribution to realising the Department's strategic goals by either increasing societal impact or innovation in teaching by including problem-solving competences or internationalization.

Qualifications

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced by a recognized international reputation in Political Science or a relevant subfield and demonstrated by a considerable number of existing high-quality publications, which constitute a significant contribution to the field and complements the existing research strengths of the Department. Publications should be published on a continuous basis in top-ranked journals and/or a highly influential publication record with leading book publishers.
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery and further development of an excellent student experience based on a significant track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates, who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Proven ability to provide leadership of research groups as well as an ability to operate in leadership roles at the Departmental, Faculty and University levels.
- The ability and willingness to attract external funding on a larger scale and to lead research projects.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Tel: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048], email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk.

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/4/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4451

Portland State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science in the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government at Portland State University seeks applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Theory beginning Fall 2019. A Ph.D. in political science or a related field must be completed by September 1, 2019.

The position is open with regard to subfield specialization within Political Theory, although we are particularly interested in candidates whose expertise complements existing strengths within the department, school, and university. Teaching responsibilities will include a broad range of topics in political theory, including the normative foundations of governance and ethics in public policy, with specific courses to reflect the candidate's strengths.

The position includes teaching and advising responsibilities in the undergraduate and master's degree programs in Political Science as well as the Master's of Public Policy and interdisciplinary doctoral program in Public Affairs and Policy.

Portland State's 49-acre downtown campus is located in the heart of one of America's most vibrant centers of culture, business and technology. We are recognized throughout the world for programs like Urban Planning, Social Work, and Environmental Studies that directly engage the community, and aim our students towards the creation of a better, more sustainable world.

The Mark O. Hatfield School of Government is part of the College of Urban and Public Affairs, and faculty members are encouraged to participate in inter-disciplinary scholarship within the college.

Please submit:

letter of application(cover letter),
curriculum vitae,
graduate transcripts (upload under "Other-2"), writing sample (e.g. article, book chapter, conference paper, etc) and, teaching evaluations (upload under 'Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness') .

Please list the names, telephone numbers and email addresses for three professional references. As soon as you submit your application, your references will be emailed a link to upload their letters of recommendation.

For more details, and to submit your application, please visit <https://jobs.hrc.pdx.edu/postings/27332>

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. If you have questions, please contact the Political Science department at politicalscience@pdx.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4484

Bogazici University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

New: Open Faculty Positions

The Political Science and International Relations Department at Bogazici University in Istanbul Turkey is seeking highly qualified applicants for two tenure-track assistant professor positions. One position is for International Relations and the other is an open call.

Interested applicants should submit all the relevant materials in electronic form, including a CV, a statement of research agenda, a sample of their scholarly work and teaching records to: BUPOlsjobapp@boun.edu.tr

Candidates can consult our website (www.pols.boun.edu.tr) for more information about the department.

Start Date: Spring

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2018

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 4213

Occidental College

Rank: Associate Professor in Global Political Economy/Development Practice

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

A search at the Associate Professor level in Global Political Economy/Development Practice. The expectation is that after a transitional period (commensurate with experience) this hire will serve as the Young Initiative Chair on the Global Political Economy, directing the use of its generously endowed fund.

We are looking for applicants who have powerfully demonstrated an ambitious research and practice agenda that can be translated into innovative Young Initiative programming (current Young programming includes both working with the Los Angeles mayor's office to integrate the Sustainable Development Goals into city-wide policies and initiatives in the field of Social Entrepreneurship). We are particularly interested in applicants whose research and practice agenda focuses on areas such as the Sustainable Development Goals; Human Rights-based Approaches to Economic Development; and/or Equity/Equality in Economic Development (with reference to race, class, identity, and/or gender). Priority will be given to applicants who have demonstrated a research and practice that leverages substantial fieldwork with international or regional organizations, transnational NGOs, and/or entities working in major urban cities or in a regional context. The eventual hire will be expected to teach at least one class that will be cross-listed with the Economics Department, and thus will need to demonstrate sufficient training in economics to teach such a course with attention to requisite mixed quantitative/qualitative methods. An expectation will be that an eventual hire will immediately catalyze Occidental College's continued engagement with on-the-ground work in international affairs, at the local/Los Angeles, transnational, and/or global levels. An additional priority is the ability to advance the College's mission, past evidence of and future plans for creating equitable opportunities in learning and mentoring for underrepresented students, an understanding of the distinctiveness of the Liberal Arts culture, and a commitment to constructively engage with faculty from other disciplines, e.g. (but not exclusively) Economics, Politics, Urban and Environmental Studies. Further, we expect the new faculty member will augment and invigorate the DWA department by collaborating with its existing faculty, ongoing initiatives, and continued curricular innovations.

The John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy is funded through a bequest from John Parke Young '17, a distinguished international economist, former chair of the college's Economics Department, and a 50-year member of the Occidental board of trustees. The Young Initiative has enabled faculty and student research and international opportunities at Occidental with the aim to promote national policies and actions of public and social benefit.

Occidental College is a highly selective, urban liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, the College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in Northeast Los Angeles. As one of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental affords students and faculty unique engagement with communities, cultural institutions, and academic resources throughout Los Angeles.

Candidates should send their application as an electronic file to Ms. Chamnan Lim at youngsearch@oxy.edu. A complete application will include the following materials: (1) a cover letter that details the interest in teaching at Occidental and the goals of the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy; (2) potential initiatives as part of the Young Initiative committee and as its eventual Chair; (3) a discussion of the applicant's academic research, field practice, teaching experience, and program development; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) a list and brief descriptions of courses the applicant could teach at Oxy; (6) scholarly work sample; (7) Curriculum Vitae; and (8) three confidential letters of recommendation, with at least one attesting to your teaching; letters must be sent by recommenders.

All materials are due no later than October 1, 2018; applications received after the deadline will not be reviewed. Interviews of semi-finalists will be held via videoconference.

For information on the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, including current course offerings, please visit our website at: <http://www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs>. For information on the John Parke Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, please visit our website at: <https://www.oxy.edu/john-parke-young-initiative-global-political-economy>. Inquiries about the position, the DWA department, and/or the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy can be directed to the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy Interim Chair, Professor Anthony Tirado Chase: achase@oxy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/1/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4470

The New School

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

The Politics Department at The New School for Social Research and Eugene Lang College seeks to appoint a political theorist, for a tenure track position at the assistant professor level, subject to budgetary approval.

We seek candidates with a strong background in the history of political thought and with promise of excellence in research as well as teaching.

We seek candidates whose work is theoretically sophisticated, historically sensitive, and politically critical and who are committed to engaging with colleagues outside the theory subfield.

We aim to appoint someone with broad interests and a lively mind, who can contribute to cross-field discussions in a politics department committed to blurring subfield divisions; to interdisciplinary debate in a graduate division dedicated to critically-oriented social science, philosophy and history; and to collegial life in an innovative liberal arts college dedicated to seminar teaching.

While we expect a strong background in the history of political thought, we are especially interested in candidates whose primary focus is on theoretical approaches and questions linked to contemporary political problems—for example, race, indigeneity, colonialism, imperialism/capitalism, domination, intersectionality, borders, globalization, transnationalism, international law; and environmental issues.

The review of applications will begin on September 15, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is July 1, 2019. Applicants apply on-line using the faculty application on The New School human resources website <http://careers.newschooledu/postings/16212/>. Using this online system, applicants should submit 1) a letter of intent, 2) a CV, 3) a list of references, and 4) a piece of recent research. Applicants should have the PhD completed by the time of their contract start date.

Information about The New School for Social Research, Eugene Lang College, and the Politics Department can be found at: <http://www.newschooledu/nsst/>, <http://www.newschooledu/lang/>, and <http://www.newschooledu/nsst/politics/>.

Benefits: Comprehensive university benefits package including health and retirement plans, tuition remission. Visit <http://www.newschooledu/admin/hr/benefits/index.html>

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/31/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4460

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track position in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University
 Faculty Recruitment Information (Tenure-track position)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics at Waseda University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in political science to begin as early as April 1, 2019. The position is open with respect to the field of specialization. The Faculty seeks to appoint a promising junior scholar who demonstrates potential for making significant contribution to the profession in his or her field of expertise with theoretically innovative and methodologically sound research, and excellence in teaching. A successful candidate will have a rigorous training in formal, empirical, or normative methods.

Successful applicant must have a Ph.D. in political science or a cognate discipline by the date of appointment. Proficiency in Japanese is desired but not required. The initial term for the tenure-track appointment is three years, with a possible extension of two years, contingent on an interim review during the second or third year. Tenure may be granted at any time during the probationary period upon a successful tenure review.

Waseda University, founded in 1882, is a leading private research university located in central Tokyo. As part of the University's internationalization initiative, the Faculty of Political Science and Economics has offered English-based degree programs both at the undergraduate and graduate levels since 2010. The programs offer a diverse and dynamic academic community to talented students from all around the world.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, and up to three samples of significant written scholarship electronically via:

https://www.wasedapse.jp/en/fpse1/eng\_input.php

1. Submit your cover letter (use Template Form A) in the "(1) Application Form / Cover Letter" field
2. Submit your professional cv (use Template Form B) to the "(2) Curriculum Vitae with a list of academic/professional accomplishments" field
3. Submit your research statement in the "(3) Additional application material 1" field
4. Submit up to three written works in the "(3) Additional application material 2-4" fields

The application deadline is Friday, September 28, 2018 at 1:00 p.m. (JST). Should you wish to submit a hard copy of your work or any other application materials, please send us two copies by registered mail on or before the application deadline. Receipt of applications will be acknowledged by email within 10 days after the deadline.

Candidates should also arrange to have two letters of reference submitted via email, or standard mail to the address indicated below on or before the application deadline. Should your reference send a letter via email, we ask that the letter be emailed from his or her professional affiliation. Reference letters should be sent to:
pse-hr-PolSciTT@list.waseda.jp

Prof. Koichi Suga, Dean
Attn: Application for Tenure-Track positions for Political Science
Faculty of Political Science and Economics
Waseda University
1-6-1 Nishi Waseda, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-8050
Japan

For full information of this posting, please see the link below.
<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/07/27/9113/>

Any questions regarding the position or the application procedure should be directed to pse-hr-PolSciTT@list.waseda.jp.

Please note that the recruitment process involves three stages: 1) document screening; 2) campus visit including research presentation and an interview with the search committee; and 3) interview with the dean.

Start Date: Spring 2019
Application Deadline: 9/28/2018
Date Posted: 7/28/2018
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 4443

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: American Politics, Comparative Politics and Political Theory Junior Faculty Position

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The UCLA Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a junior faculty position, to begin July 1, 2019. We are particularly interested in applicants who specialize in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or Comparative Political Theory/Political Theory & Race and Ethnicity, although we will also consider especially strong applications from candidates working in other fields and (pending administrative approval) at senior ranks. Given its commitment to equity, diversity, and inclusion, UCLA asks that candidates include with their application a statement that addresses past efforts, as well as future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion.

Candidates should apply online at: <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply>. The job tracking number is (JPF03889). The online application should include: a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, the aforementioned diversity statement, evidence of teaching excellence in related courses, at least one writing sample, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation. The letters of recommendation should be uploaded directly by the referees. Appointments will be effective July 1, 2019. PhD in Political Science or related field in hand prior to the appointment. To ensure full consideration, the online application should be completed by September 15, 2018. Applications will be accepted, however, until the position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/27/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4447

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track assistant professor in Political Theory starting August 2019. Duties include teaching and mentoring at the graduate and undergraduate levels and the publishing of original research in professional outlets.

Minimum Qualifications:
A Ph.D. in Political Science or be ABD with a terminal degree transcript on file no later than nine months from appointment date.

Preferred Qualifications:
Candidates should have a demonstrated potential for excellence in scholarship and teaching.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a recent publication or research-related writing sample, teaching evaluations (if available), original transcripts, and a list of three letter writers, who will separately provide letters of recommendation (in electronic form) to the UGA Job site at <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/27800>. Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Applications received by September 28th, 2018 will receive full consideration, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

For more information about the department, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>.

Athens is well known for its quality of life including both outdoor and urban activities (www.georgia.gov). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The Department of Political Science is committed to enhancing the diversity of the department and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths and experiences in this area, in their cover letter. The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR. Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Contact:

Wendi Finch

Email:

wendif@uga.edu

Phone:

706-542-2057

Fax:

706-542-4421

Address:

180 Baldwin Hall

Athens GA, 30602-1615

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4427

University of South Carolina, Aiken

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Specializations: American Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, African American Politics

The Department of History, Political Science, and Philosophy at University of South Carolina Aiken invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in political theory, beginning August 2019. Responsibilities include teaching ten to twelve credit hours a semester (typically two or three sections of an undergraduate introductory American government survey and one or two undergraduate upper level courses per semester), research and productive scholarship, and after the first year, student advisement, as well as service to the department, university, profession, and community. While subfield specialization is open within political theory, we would particularly welcome candidates who could teach courses in African-American political theory, gender and political theory and/or constitutional law. Evidence of productive scholarship or research potential is necessary. Successful candidates will demonstrate teaching excellence as instructor of record.

Ph.D. in Political Science is required; advanced ABD will be considered with evidence of degree completion by start date. Experience teaching an introductory American Government survey will be preferred.

The University of South Carolina Aiken (USC Aiken) is a comprehensive university within the University of South Carolina system. As a comprehensive institution with a focus on the liberal arts and sciences, it offers undergraduate and master's degrees in 47 programs of study. With a 15:1 student/faculty ratio, USC Aiken is committed to active learning through excellence in teaching, undergraduate research, scholarship, and civic engagement. As a result, USC Aiken is ranked the #1 public regional college in the South by U.S. News & World Report's guide "America's Best Colleges." 2018 marks USC Aiken's 20th consecutive ranking among the top three colleges in this category and its 13th time in first place. USCA is also a recipient of The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Best Place to Work" designation, with special recognition for collaborative governance, and has also been designated a Military-Friendly School by Victory Media, Best for Vets by the Military Times, and a Top School in Military Advanced Education & Transition's 2016 Guide to Colleges & Universities.

Founded in 1961, USC Aiken is situated on 453 acres, with an enrollment of approximately 3,500 students from 29 states and 23 countries. The campus is located one hour from Columbia (SC), thirty minutes from Augusta (GA) and within three hours of Charleston (SC), Atlanta (GA), Charlotte (NC), Hilton Head (SC), and the Appalachian Mountains. Learn more about USC Aiken at www.usca.edu.

Applicants must complete the online application and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial graduate transcripts, and a statement of teaching philosophy. Applicants will be asked to provide contact information for three professional references.

Please direct questions to Matthew Thornburg or David Dillard-Wright, search committee co-chairs, at matthewth@usca.edu or davididd@usca.edu. Additional materials may be sought from some candidates as the search progresses.

APPLY AT: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/34044>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4432

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Economy, Political Thought: Historical

James Madison College at Michigan State University seeks to fill an Assistant Professor Tenure-Stream position in political economy and political theory with a focus on state and marketplace interaction and the history of modern commercial democracy. The position fills a commitment to infuse economics training with a major that focuses on modern constitutional democracy (its origins, practice, critics, and defenders) from the perspective of political philosophy. It also contributes to our Political Economy minor. Potential areas of research and teaching focus include feminist theory, religion and economics, family and gender issues in the workplace, and federalism, as such issues complement the study of constitutional structure and modern capitalism.

Successful candidates will have demonstrated ability to teach courses on state and market interaction as well as core courses in the history of political thought. Applicants should demonstrate commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching in an interdisciplinary program and to achieving a substantial record of scholarship. Ph.D. in a related field is required by time of appointment.

Interested candidates must apply for this position via the Michigan State University Applicant Tracking System at: <https://careers.msu.edu>. Please see posting number 518407 for complete instructions on how to apply. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2018. Please contact Lynn Lee (leely@msu.edu) with any questions.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4414

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Political Theory)

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in political theory, with a broad interest in candidates working in the periods of medieval, Renaissance, and early modern thought, as well as in the areas of state theory, religion and politics, and the history of Continental political thought. The department has a strong record of research and teaching in the history of political thought, broadly conceived, and applications are encouraged from scholars whose work speaks to this tradition.

A Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment is required, as is evidence of excellence, or potential for excellence, in research and publication. The teaching load is two courses per semester, typically a mixture of undergraduate and Ph.D.-level offerings.

The department values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open discipline that seeks excellence wherever it may lie. Applications should be filed using the online system at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11429>. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Shannon Stimson (ss3491@georgetown.edu). For full consideration, applications should aim to arrive by September 21, 2018, but review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/21/2018

Date Posted: 7/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4389

Utah State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Utah State University
Department of Political Science
Assistant Professor of Political Theory

Position: The Department of Political Science at Utah State University invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2019. We seek to fill a position in political theory. While the area of specialization is open, expertise in the study of the leading texts of Western political thought in addition to an emphasis on early modern and American political thought would be welcome. The salary is competitive.

The position is available beginning August 1, 2019. Application review will begin September 28, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will conduct research and teach courses in political theory. Teaching responsibilities will include Master's and lower and upper division undergraduate courses in their areas of specialization. Responsibilities will include a primary role in research along with strong undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service. Performance will be consistent with a faculty role in a Carnegie Doctoral/Research Extensive University.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a strong research profile in political theory. Candidates must have a doctoral degree in Political Science or a comparable field of study as of employment date, and demonstrated accomplishment and/or clear potential for success in research as well as undergraduate and graduate teaching in these specialties. They must also generate a satisfactory outcome on a background check.

Preferred Qualifications:

Preference will be given to those with a strong research trajectory and demonstrated interest in teaching courses of need to the department.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience, plus excellent benefits.

Academic Setting:

The Political Science Department at USU is housed within the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. The Department offers three undergraduate majors: Political Science, Law and Constitutional Studies, and International Studies. It also offers a political science Master's degree. Additionally, the department provides service courses or general education to students throughout the broader university community.

Utah State University is a land-grant university founded in 1888. The university is a Carnegie Doctoral land-grant university of higher research activity with approximately 27,000 students (24,000 undergraduates and 3,000 graduate students) from all 50 states and 80 foreign countries. The USU campus is located in Logan, Utah. Logan is located in a picturesque mountain valley with a population of over 100,000, about 80 miles north of Salt Lake City. Ski resorts, lakes, rivers, and mountains in the area make it one of the finest outdoor recreation environments in the nation. Visit <http://www.usu.edu> for more information about the University, College, and Department.

Applications should be submitted through the online application link: <http://jobs.usu.edu>.

Please attach:

- 1) a cover letter;
- 2) curriculum vitae;
- 3) The names and email addresses of three references (your references will be sent an email from USU asking them to upload a letter of recommendation on your behalf).
- 4) a professional writing sample;
- 5) a statement of teaching philosophy and, if available, evidence of teaching performance.
- 6) recent transcripts.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4374

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Formal Theory

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, International Relations

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position in the field of Formal Theory to begin September 1, 2019. We are especially interested in candidates with substantive interests in International Relations and/or Public Law, at the assistant professor rank. This is a university year appointment. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required. Application submission information available at <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/faculty-hiring.html>. Review of applications will begin September 1, 2018. Applicants should include the following application materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts (for entry-level candidates), and a statement of activities contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation. The University of Michigan is an AA/EO employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. The University is supportive of the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4345

Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

POLITICAL THEORY

Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in political theory. The appointment begins July 1, 2019. To be hired as an Assistant Professor candidates must have in hand by the time of appointment a PhD in political science or a related field. A successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not yet have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment, but must complete the PhD in political science or a related field within one year of hire. Applicants should be prepared to teach the introductory political theory course and other courses in political theory. The teaching load is two courses per semester. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, carrying on a program of research, participating in faculty governance at the department and university levels, and regularly teaching relevant classes in the College of Social Studies.

Applications received by September 17, 2018, will receive full consideration. To apply, please go to <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/6416>. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (7) sample syllabi if available.

As part of the cover letter or teaching statement we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body. You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (please double-check the accuracy of the email addresses of the referees you name to be sure that you have the most up-to-date email addresses for each one).

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Deborah Colucci, Equity Compliance Director & Deputy Title IX Coordinator, 860-685-2456, dcolucci@wesleyan.edu.

Please contact Mr. Donald Moon (dmoon@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department Chair, if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 6/28/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4337

Hobart & William Smith Colleges

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: American Politics, Political Development, Presidency

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics and American political thought at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2019. Ph.D. preferred, advanced ABD considered. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters.

The ideal candidate will be able to teach introductory classes in both American politics and political theory. We are interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in American political thought and American political development. Additional teaching and research areas might include power and the American presidency; religion and religious movements in US politics; fear and authoritarianism in US politics; and rural and/or labor politics. The successful candidate's work will be informed by theoretical and historical perspectives on questions important to the understanding of power and politics in the United States.

Research and teaching in our department is not confined within the conventional subfields. The department values intellectual diversity and supports a wide range of critical and theoretical approaches that help bring people together across subfields as they address questions of power of ever-pressing importance. The department also supports interdisciplinarity in teaching and research in keeping with the Colleges' longstanding emphasis on interdisciplinary liberal arts education. We encourage the creative development of new questions, lines of inquiry, and vectors of critique. The department seeks candidates that have demonstrated a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applications received by September 15, 2018, will be given first consideration, but we will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a statement explaining how your skills and experience support the campus' commitment to diversity. Please arrange to have three letters of reference sent via Interfolio. Additional inquiries can be directed to Professor Jodi Dean, Search Chair, at jdean@hws.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4266

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The School of Political Science of the Higher School of Economics in Moscow*, Russia invites applications for multiple full-time, tenure track position in political science. The search is open with respect to subfield and topic of specialization, but we are particularly interested in candidates specializing in one or more of the following areas: political theory, comparative politics, international politics, global political economy, qualitative methodology, or data analysis and quantitative methods. Knowledge of Russian is not required as teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Requirements

Doctorate or terminal degree in political science or related fields by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2019 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Tenure review will be in the sixth year (or earlier at the discretion of the applicant).

Knowledge of Russian is not required; teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Benefits

The salary is internationally competitive, indexed to inflation annually, and subject to a 13% flat income tax. The university offers health insurance (free of charge), language assistance, and other social benefits; travel support and other research assistance are generous. Since we place a heavy emphasis on high quality research, the teaching load of newly hired faculty is relatively low and service is minimal.

Job Location

Moscow, Russia

Application

Position announcements are posted on the HSE International Faculty Recruitment portal.

Interested candidates should post a letter detailing the direction of research and teaching objectives, a CV, a recent research paper, and 2 letters of recommendation via online application form at <https://iri.hse.ru/>

Application deadline is September 1, 2018.

Late applications can be also considered if the position is not filled.

Learn More

More information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en>

More information about the School of Political Science: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps>

More information about recruitment procedures: <https://iri.hse.ru/> International Faculty Support portal with detailed information on various issues concerning move to Russia and work at HSE: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru>

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities in the fields of economics, social sciences and humanities, and has emerged as a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was ranked 48th in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and is among the world's Top 100 universities

in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

One of its unique features has been its direct involvement in socioeconomic reforms in Russia, which has allowed HSE to develop as a “project and research university” where education, fundamental and applied research, and “think tank” activities are combined for the comprehensive development of society. Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has more than 30 international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world.

Since 2006 the HSE has been recruiting professional academics from international research universities in order to raise the standards of research at the University. HSE now employs more than 100 international tenure-track and postdoctoral fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and centers in Moscow and at HSE’s campuses in St. Petersburg and Perm.

School of Political Science

The School of Political Science offers an array of educational options for students from Russia and abroad. We teach a full range of subjects based on the latest developments in academic research in political science. From comparative politics to political theory and quantitative and qualitative approaches, the professors of the School pursue research across the entire spectrum of modern political science.

Not only is there methodological diversity; there is considerable breadth in terms of substantive and geographic specializations. Among the School’s academic “trademarks” are comparative politics and Russian politics, including politics in the Russian regions.

The quality of research at Higher School of Economics has already been widely recognized, and HSE counts among the top-100 universities in the world according to the QS ranking in this subject field.

Contact Information

Address: 20 Myasnitskaya ulitsa, Moscow, 101000

Phones:

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22535

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22428

+7.495.772.95.90 * 22834

E-mail: socscience@hse.ru

Website: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2018

Date Posted: 5/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4225

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department’s teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department’s concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member’s research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department’s core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

University of North Texas

Rank: Open Rank Search in Political Theory

We invite applications for an open-rank position beginning fall 2018 in the broadly defined field of the history of political theory. We are interested in prospective candidates who specialize in Medieval, early modern/Enlightenment, or 19th/20th century German (post-rationalist) thought. An additional strength in non-Western thought, such as Islamic or Chinese political thought, is considered an advantage.

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science, (2) evidence of excellence in scholarly productivity, and (3) evidence of demonstrated excellence in teaching and mentoring students in independent activities. Preference will be given to candidates who have published books and/or articles in top-tier journals.

The successful candidate will have responsibilities that may include but are not limited to teaching core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continuing a record of robust scholarly research, directing graduate research in the Theory field, and providing service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 25 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly, and Journal of Political Science Education, and is the current home of Religion and Politics. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site is: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With 37,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) two published writing samples, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy, and (6) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquires to Richard Ruderman, search committee chair (Richard.Ruderman@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2017 and will remain open until the position is closed. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3400

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

University of Arizona

Rank: Assistant Professor

The School of Government and Public Policy at the University of Arizona invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in public management beginning in fall 2019. The School of Government and Public Policy is housed within the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, and is home to an interdisciplinary faculty. This position is intended to contribute to one or more unit strengths at the intersection of public management, criminal justice, network science, collaborative governance, nonprofit management, environmental management and policy, and political science. Additional information on the School of Government and Public Policy is available at <http://sgpp.arizona.edu/>

As an assistant professor at the University of Arizona, School of Government & Public Policy, the successful candidate will have a PhD in publicmanagement, public administration, political science, or a related field. Candidates will contribute to teaching in the School's undergraduate, masters (MPP and MPA), and PhD programs, and contribute to mentoring students, including those from underrepresented backgrounds. The candidate will be expected to have a strong and active research program that is reflected in an excellent publication record, and that will support the mentoring of PhD students and the teaching of PhD seminars. Faculty in our department also participate in outreach and contribute to departmental, college, and university service. Our faculty also help to develop innovative approaches to enhancing student engagement, increasing diversity, and expanding collaborations with community and business partners. Under-represented minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Review begins October 1, 2018.

University of Arizona Job Posting Link: <https://uacareers.com/postings/32053>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4739

University of Arizona

Rank: Assistant Professor

The School of Government and Public Policy at the University of Arizona invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in public management beginning in fall 2019. The School of Government and Public Policy is housed within the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences, and is home to an interdisciplinary faculty. This position is intended to contribute to one or more unit strengths at the intersection of public management, criminal justice, network science, collaborative governance, nonprofit management, environmental management and policy, and political science. Additional information on the School of Government and Public Policy is available at <http://sgpp.arizona.edu/>

As an assistant professor at the University of Arizona, School of Government & Public Policy, the successful candidate will have a PhD in publicmanagement, public administration, political science, or a related field. Candidates will contribute to teaching in the School's undergraduate, masters (MPP and MPA), and PhD programs, and contribute to mentoring students, including those from underrepresented backgrounds. The candidate will be expected to have a strong and active research program that is reflected in an excellent publication record, and that will support the mentoring of PhD students and the teaching of PhD seminars. Faculty in our department also participate in outreach and contribute to departmental, college, and university service. Our faculty also help to develop innovative approaches to enhancing student engagement, increasing diversity, and expanding collaborations with community and business partners. Under-represented minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Review begins October 1, 2018.

University of Arizona Job Posting Link: <https://uacareers.com/postings/32053>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4740

University of South Carolina

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in public administration/public policy to begin August 16, 2019. The positions are open with regard to substantive specialization. We seek candidates with rigorous, theoretically-informed research agendas who have published in or demonstrate the promise of publishing in leading public administration and/or political science outlets. Successful candidates will be able to contribute to the department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration program, with the ability to teach core and elective classes in this program. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or a closely related field of study is required by the start date of appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, statements of research and teaching interests, graduate transcript, and contact information, including telephone number and email address, for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation. Applications received by September 30, 2018 are assured full consideration. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/>.

Please contact the search committee chair, Susan Miller (sumiller@mailbox.sc.edu), with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 "Best Colleges" according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4732

Kansas State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Position Summary

The Department of Political Science at Kansas State University invites applicants for a tenure-track position in public administration beginning fall semester 2019.

Kansas State University is located in Manhattan, KS in the Flint Hills region. KSU is a land-grant institution and classified as Carnegie R1 university. The Department of Political Science is committed to the goals of providing quality instruction for our undergraduate and graduate programs and a vibrant environment for its faculty to develop and maintain their research agendas. The Political Science department houses three graduate programs, a Masters in Public Administration, an M.A. in Political Science, and a Ph.D. in Security Studies.

Duties and Responsibilities

Candidates should be able to contribute to the department's nationally accredited MPA program by offering graduate courses in public administration/management. We are open to various sub-field areas of expertise, with the exception of budget/finance. Candidates should also be able contribute to the undergraduate curriculum in political science by offering a course such as introduction to public policy. Faculty teach a mix of graduate and undergraduate courses and typically offer a 2-2 teaching load.

Applicants must present evidence of: a vibrant and well developed research agenda, high quality teaching, and a commitment to working with diverse students and colleagues and to the value of diverse ideas.

Minimum Requirements

Candidates are expected to have a PhD in Public Administration or Political Science completed by August of 2019. Exceptional candidates who are ABD may be considered at the rank of instructor.

Preferred Qualifications

Candidates should be comfortable with online and distance education instruction.

Application Instructions

Applications are to be submitted at the following link: <http://careers.k-state.edu/cw/en-us/job/504555/assistant-professor-political-science>

The application should include:

- cover letter
- curriculum vitae
- writing sample
- research statement

- teaching portfolio
- three letters of reference
- diversity and inclusion statement*

* The contributions to diversity and inclusion statement should describe your past experiences, activities and future plans to advance diversity, equity and inclusion, in alignment with Kansas State University's "Principles of Community," and to contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning environment.

Review of applications will begin on September 26, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

In connection with your application for employment, Kansas State University will procure a background screen on you as part of the process of considering your candidacy as an employee.

Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Brianne Heidbreder at heidbr@ksu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4671

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Assistant Professor – Public Administration in Political Science

The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (Cal Poly Pomona) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2019. Candidates with specializations in public administration and public policy are especially welcome to apply.

At Cal Poly Pomona, we cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation. We demonstrate academic quality, relevance, and excellence through our teaching, learning, scholarship, and creative activities with student-centered faculty in an evidence-based culture. Cal Poly Pomona is committed to being the model for an inclusive polytechnic university that inspires creativity and innovation, embraces local and global challenges, and transforms lives.

The Position

The faculty member will be part of a small, collegial Political Science Department and will contribute to a Master's of Public Administration Program. The faculty member will teach and advise in both the graduate and undergraduate program. As part of the political science undergraduate program, the faculty member will be expected to teach courses in one or more of our subfields in accordance to the faculty member's expertise: American politics, public administration, international relations, comparative politics, public law, and/or political theory. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a commitment to diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution and the faculty member will be an advisor to many under-represented minorities and first-generation college students.

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or related disciplines such as Public Policy from an accredited university by August 1, 2019
- University teaching experience
- Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)
- Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work as well as experience working in an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications

Preference will be given to those candidates who have the expertise to work with graduate students on a range of thesis projects in public administration, as well as the ability to teach political science undergraduates. Expertise and work experience in areas such as public policy/program evaluation, urban politics and administration, community development/sustainability, and qualitative methods will be given careful consideration. Preference will also be given to candidates with research interests related to social or racial justice and who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Application Procedure

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications submitted by November 16, 2018. Early response is encouraged. Electronic submissions of all application materials must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53291>

A completed application will consist of:

- A cover letter that describes the candidate's teaching performance, research experience and interests, and that addresses the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;
- A curriculum vitae comprising at least those elements specified on the application form and including the names, titles, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers of at least five individuals who can speak to the candidate's potential for success in this position;
- A 'Student Success Statement' about your teaching, or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced);
- Three recent letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and dated within the past two years). Applicants will provide contact information for recommenders during the application process and the system will contact recommenders and provide a method for uploading letters;
- A completed application form available on the application website;
- An unofficial transcript showing then highest degree earned from an accredited education institution. Finalists will be required to submit an official transcript; and
- Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available.
- Please submit all electronic documents in PDF format.

For further information or clarification, please contact:

Faculty Search Committee

Dr. Mario Guerrero, Faculty Search Chair
 Political Science Department
 California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
 Phone: 909.869.3887
 Fax: 909.869.6995
 Email: kmalm@cpp.edu (Kim Alm, Administrative Coordinator)

APSA Interviews

Representatives of the department will be available to meet at APSA's Placement Services. Please send a CV to mag@cpp.edu if you are interested in meeting with department representatives at APSA.

The University: Cal Poly Pomona is one of two polytechnic universities in the 23-campus California State University system. Our ethnically diverse student population of approximately 22,000 enrolls in 52 baccalaureate, 26 master's degree programs, 11 credential and certificate programs, and a doctorate in Educational Leadership, presented by 1,200 faculty. We recruit students increasingly from throughout California and beyond. The students are success and career focused and extremely diverse. We are proud of our status as a Hispanic Serving Institution. We have a strong commitment to supporting scholarship, research, and student achievement. Our scenic and historic 1,400-acre campus, once the winter ranch of cereal magnate W. K. Kellogg, is located about 30 miles east of downtown Los Angeles in one of the most dynamic economic and cultural regions in the country, and within an hour's drive of beaches, mountains, and desert. The university is committed to diversifying its faculty and staff and has made educational equity one of its highest priorities. The mission of the university is to advance learning and knowledge by linking theory and practice in all disciplines, and to prepare students for lifelong learning, leadership, and careers in a changing, multicultural world.

The College: The College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences fosters intellectual and ethical development and helps students become individuals who value and apply critical thinking in our complex, diverse and technological world. The College offers introductory and advanced course work in numerous degree and certificate programs across the humanities, social sciences, and performing arts. The General Education program offered to all students enrolled in the University is also central to the mission of the College. The College embraces its role in providing courses and curricula in support of multiple and single-subject teaching credential students. The University's mission to "cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation" lies at the heart of the College's commitment to offer programs that educate the whole person. Additional information is available at: <http://www.cpp.edu/~class/>.

The Department: The Department of Political Science has over three hundred and fifty undergraduate political science majors and approximately fifty students in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program. We also offer a Political Science minor and participate significantly in the university's General Education offerings. The Department sponsors a Model United Nations program and a Mock Trial Team, both with a history of national recognition. Members of the Department have traditionally been actively involved across campus and in the community.

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. The University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. Cal Poly Pomona subscribes to all state and federal regulations and prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity/gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, genetic information, medical condition, and covered veteran status. The University hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. As required by the Clery Disclosure Act, the university's annual security report is available at <http://www.cpp.edu/annual-security-report.shtml>. The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/16/2018

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4647

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Administration-Public Policy Associate Director

Preliminary announcement pending campus central administrative approval

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for an associate level professor in Public Policy and/or Public Administration to begin Fall 2019. The successful applicant will be Associate Director of the Masters of Public Policy and Administration program and will contribute to the Department's Ph.D. program. Preference for candidates with primary research and teaching interests in Public Policy, including but not limited to public budgeting and finance, energy policy, environmental policy, health care policy, policy process and program evaluation or Non-Profit Management, but all areas will be considered. The successful candidate must have a clear research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed journals. We are particularly interested in applicants who address substantively important questions using rigorous analytical approaches. Preference will be shown for applicants with teaching and research interests that complement existing departmental interests, have a record of extramural funding commensurate with experience, and demonstrate evidence of college/university teaching excellence. The position is a 9-month (maybe 12-month), faculty appointment and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: <http://web.utk.edu/~polisci>. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title

VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Instructions for applying will be released once the position is officially approved. If you have any questions or want to talk with someone about the position at the APSA, please contact Prof. Richard Pacelle, Department Head, at rpacelle@utk.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4628

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration

Assistant Professor in public administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor to teach courses across the public administration core curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD by date of appointment in public policy, political science or a related field.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=6187>. The department will solicit reference letters from references provided in application. For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4615

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics, specifically in the areas of Public Administration/Public Policy and National Institutions. Strong preference will be given to candidates who can teach the Judiciary and/or Constitutional Law. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. The Winthrop Department of Political Science boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching, research, and service. The department also has three affiliated programs: (1) the 43-year old Model UN Program; (2) the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research, which is home to the nationally renowned Winthrop Poll; and (3) the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement. Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in American Politics, including Public Administration, Public Policy, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and/or Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching and/or research expertise in multiple areas of need, including Media and Politics and Women and US Politics.
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program
- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to conduct media interviews on commentary about campaigns and elections and analysis of American political institutions
- Ability to collaborate with the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement
- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Required Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring
- Specialization in areas among those listed above

- Evidence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above

Work Environment: This position requires regular contact with students, faculty, and staff on campus. Additionally, the successful candidate will be required to have the ability to work with the outside community, local public schools, the media, other universities, and international schools/companies/partners.

Background Check Statement: Winthrop University is committed to providing a safe campus community. Winthrop conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include reference checks, a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

Employment Conditions: A nine-month, full-time tenure track appointment with faculty rank. Salary is competitive and dependent on academic qualifications.

Position Availability: August 16, 2019

Application Timeline and Procedures:

- We will meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association Annual Meeting in Boston, MA late afternoon Thursday, August 30 and 10am-5pm Friday, August 31 and Saturday, September 1 at the APSA eJobs Interview Service located in the Gloucester Room in the Marriott Copley Place. Please send your CV and days/times of availability to Chair of the Search Committee, Dr. Scott Huffmon, huffmons@winthrop.edu, to request a meeting at APSA.

Our Interfolio Application Website is Forthcoming. Review of applicants will begin on September 28, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Required Materials for Online Application When Available:

- Application letter, with evidence of major responsibilities and required qualifications
- Curriculum vitae, including names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses, if available, of at least three persons who know the candidate professionally
- Sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length)
- Statement of "teaching philosophy, including evidence of excellence in teaching and commitment to student learning
- Three professional letters of reference
- All graduate transcripts and evidence of highest degree achieved (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment)

Founded in 1886, Winthrop University in Rock Hill, South Carolina, offers its 6,000-plus undergraduate and graduate students an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement. In its colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, and Visual and Performing Arts, Winthrop embraces only those programs and activities that can be delivered at an exemplary level. Winthrop is well known for its inclusive and supportive campus environment, with University College supporting programs in both academic and student affairs. Winthrop University is achieving national stature as a competitive and distinctive co-educational, public, residential, comprehensive, values-oriented institution. The values of service, excellence, diversity, community, and leadership provide the foundation for Winthrop's continuing development and shape Winthrop's continuing success. Numerous national accolades reflect the sustained high quality and value of the Winthrop Experience, including the most recent U.S. News & World Report's ranking of Winthrop as one of the top-10 public comprehensive universities in the South. Winthrop is an active member of the Rock Hill community and recognized as a key component of the region's economic resurgence. In addition, Winthrop is located just 30 minutes south of Charlotte, North Carolina, ranked by U.S. News & World Report in 2018 as one of the top 25 best places to live in the country. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4584

University of Wisconsin, La Crosse

Rank: Assistant Professor, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse seeks a tenure track Assistant Professor beginning August 2019 who is a dynamic and skilled teacher and researcher in the field of Public Administration & Policy. Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence, student success, and inclusive and engaging classroom practices. The position will also include advising responsibilities, and the potential for teaching the capstone seminar and directing undergraduate research projects. In addition to teaching excellence and scholarly productivity, the Department also places a high value on service to the University and wider community.

Candidates for the appointment should have or be near to completing a doctorate in Public Administration or a related field by the start date. If a doctorate is not yet earned, it must be earned by the first personnel review, no later than May 15, 2020.

The 11-member department offers undergraduate majors and minors in both Political Science and Public Administration and offers courses that serve interdisciplinary minors in Legal Studies; Ethnic and Racial Studies; International Studies; International Business; Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies; Criminal Justice; and Environmental Studies. The Department's vibrant and growing Public Administration major is one of the few such undergraduate programs in the Upper Midwest. The usual teaching load is three preparations and four (3 credit) courses per semester, which may include American National Government, Women and Politics, or other General Education courses.

Required Application Submissions:

1. Cover letter, with a description about how you envision yourself contributing to the department's public administration curriculum
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Names, email addresses and phone numbers for three academic/professional references

Only those applications received by October 1, 2018 are guaranteed to receive full consideration.

Note: Electronic submission of application materials is required. For additional information about this position and to apply, please visit <https://employment.uwlax.edu>

Please contact the Search and Screen Chair if you have a special need/accommodation to aid your participation in our hiring process.

UW-La Crosse has appeared prominently on the U.S. News & World Report list of "America's Best Colleges" for more than a decade and is ranked consistently as one of the top institutions in the Midwest. With a student population of roughly 10,500, the university offers 94 undergraduate programs in at least 30 disciplines and 21 graduate programs in the following colleges: Liberal Studies, Science and Health, and Business Administration, including the School of Arts & Communication and the School of Education, Professional and Continuing Education. There are 520 full-time faculty and instructional academic staff, 76 percent of whom hold terminal degrees. UW-La Crosse boasts a retention rate (freshmen returning as sophomores) of 85 percent, graduation rate (degree within six years) of 70 percent, and is among only 12 institutions cited nationally by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities for its success in linking campus culture and university leadership to outstanding graduation rates.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4573

Auburn University Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Auburn University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor beginning August 16, 2019. We seek excellent candidates that can complement the strengths of our department. The call is open to candidates in all areas of Public Administration; however, candidates must be able to teach some combination of public budgeting, program evaluation, and nonprofit/public management courses. Candidates should have strong research and instructional skills, and complement the existing teaching strengths in the program. Primary teaching responsibilities are in the Master of Public Administration and undergraduate Public Administration programs.

Required qualifications include an earned doctorate in Public Administration or Political Science by the start date for the rank of Assistant Professor. However, ABDs will be considered for the appointment at the rank of Instructor. The candidate selected for this position must be able to meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States at the time of appointment and to continue working legally during employment; excellent communication skills required.

Review of applications will begin Oct 1, 2018. To apply, visit <https://aufacultypositions.peopleadmin.com>. Candidates are required to include a cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position and courses they are able to teach, a current curriculum vita, an official transcript of all graduate work, contact information for three letters of recommendation, teaching evaluations (if available), a one-page statement of teaching philosophy, and a one-page research statement.

Auburn University is Alabama's largest land grant university, enrolling over 25,000 students. The Political Science Department maintains a diverse faculty of 26 tenured and tenure-track members and offers undergraduate degrees in political science, health services administration, and public administration; a Master's degree program in Public Administration (MPA) with graduate certificates in Election Administration, Nonprofit Organizations and Community Governance; a Master's degree program in Community Planning (MCP), and a Ph.D. program in public administration and public policy.

Direct questions to Dr. Kelly Ann Krawczyk, Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University AL, 36849 Fax: 334-844-5348. Email: kak0037@auburn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/9/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4550

University of Toronto, Mississauga Rank: Associate Professor/Professor - Urban Innovation Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Other Specializations: Urban Politics, Housing, Environmental Policy

The University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM) and the Institute of Management and Innovation (IMI) invites applications for a tenure-stream appointment in urban innovation and governance. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with a projected start date of July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will hold a 49% appointment in the Institute for Management and Innovation and in a relevant cognate discipline at UTM (51%) depending on their area of expertise. The successful candidate may also be appointed as the Director of MUI for an initial term of five years, renewable once.

The successful candidate must have a PhD in political science, human geography, planning or economics and an established and exceptional record of research excellence with an active and creative research program that focuses on urban innovation, a distinguished record of internationally recognized scholarship (which includes evidence provided in the research statement, a record of sustained and impactful publications in premier journals in their field, presentations at national and international conferences, accolades for innovative work and strong endorsements from referees of high international standing). Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, strong letters of reference and the teaching statement, including selected course materials that directly support and illustrate the teaching statement, submitted as part of the application. S/he will also demonstrate a commitment to experiential learning.

The Institute for Management & Innovation (IMI) is planning to start accepting students into its newest program, the Master of Urban Innovation (MUI) in September of 2019. MUI is a new degree professional program that focuses on urban economic development, community capacity building, innovation management, local and regional governance, urban sustainability and real estate development. This degree program aligns with the current programs offered at IMI, maintaining a focus on management, innovation and sustainability, and incorporates the research and teaching strengths from UTM Departments of Geography, Economics, Political Science and the Institute of Communication, Culture, Information and Technology (ICCI).

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one of the following courses: the core course that focuses on how knowledge generation, learning and proximity interact to support the process of urban innovation and the role that economic governance plays in supporting that process, or a course on the theory, practice and policy of socially sustainable cities. Experience in managing a teaching program in urban economic development and innovation, or experience running a large research or policy-related urban network is considered an asset.

The Director of MUI will be responsible for building the new program, working from the initial curriculum developed by IMI and approved by the Governing Council of the University of Toronto. The successful candidate will inspire and engage UTM faculty and staff to work collaboratively to implement the new Master's program and achieve its successful launch. The successful candidate will have demonstrated ability to work effectively with colleagues from a wide breath of academic disciplines and the ability to inspire both a wide range of academic colleagues, administrative staff, and the initial cohort of students enrolled in the program. Strong leadership and people skills, demonstrated administrative ability, an effective management style, the capacity to integrate diverse interests, and forge a common vision for the MUI program are also required. Additionally, the successful candidate will ensure strong, two-way communications on an ongoing basis to sustain the enthusiasm, engagement and support of all stakeholders across the UTM community.

Salary and academic rank will be commensurate with experience.

All qualified applicants are invited to apply online by clicking on the link below. Applications must be submitted by September 24, 2018 and include a letter of application, an up-to-date curriculum vitae, a research statement with representative publications and a teaching statement including course evaluations and selected course materials supporting teaching quality and experience. The letter of application should also highlight any experience as an academic director or manager. If you have any questions about the position, please contact Professor Soo Min Toh, Director of the Institute for Management Innovation at imi@utoronto.ca. The UofT application system can accommodate up to fifteen attachments per candidate profile (8MB size limit per attachment); please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) directly to Sue Thomson at sue.thomson@utoronto.ca by the application date, Monday September 24, 2018. Referees should include the candidate's name and "MUI Director Search" in the subject line.

Equity and diversity are among UTM's core values and are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2-page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Housed in a newly expanded building and combining traditional teaching methods with a strong emphasis on experiential education, IMI represents a new approach to management education. IMI takes advantage of the full facilities of UTM as well as participating faculty from other divisions of the University of Toronto to offer multidisciplinary programs that combine the teaching of management with that of specific discipline, technologies, industry sectors or professions. Its graduate programs currently address management and biotechnology, professional accounting, innovation, and sustainability.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 20 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the most diverse regions, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is defined by the cultural diversity in its community. The University of Toronto Mississauga has a strong interdisciplinary commitment to teaching and research, a multicultural student body of more than 15,000 students, and a modern, spacious campus. For more information about the Institute for Management and Innovation, and University of Toronto Mississauga, please visit <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/imi/> and <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/>.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4554

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Administration

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor. The position is open with respect to substantive research focus and methodological approach. The position requires excellence in research and classroom teaching. We are especially interested in applicants with a record of successful teaching and mentoring of students from all backgrounds (including first-generation college students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.). Applicants are encouraged to state in their cover letter how they will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in the department.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. or be ABD with PhD expected by the time of appointment. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and letters of recommendation from at least three references. Application materials should be submitted electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/53055>. The review of applications will begin on September 17, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to: michael.herron@dartmouth.edu

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 9/17/2018

Date Posted: 8/7/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4512

Tecnológico de Monterrey

Rank: Faculty positions at the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey

Subfield(s): Public Law, Public Administration, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Law & Organizations, Political Development

Faculty positions at the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey

Tecnológico de Monterrey invites applications for full-time assistant professors and visiting professors in:

- International Relations
- Economics
- Political Science
- Law

Full-time assistant professors are expected to take a leadership role in their field of expertise, conducting world class state of the art research leading to publications in top scientific and academic journals, developing and teaching courses, and actively participating in the life of the school. Research is highly valued and strongly supported through access to internal and external research funds, top of the line facilities, a collaborative and research-oriented environment, and a reduced teaching load.

Visiting professors are expected to take a leadership role in their field of expertise, developing and teaching courses, and conducting academic activities in one of our 4 academic development tracks: Consulting, Entrepreneurship, Educational Innovation or Research. In the research track, candidates are encouraged to conduct high quality research leading to publications in top academic journals, and actively participating in the life of the school. Open positions in six different cities: Guadalajara, Mexico City, Monterrey, Puebla, Querétaro, and Toluca.

Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Economics, International Relations, Political Science, Law and Public Policy
- Professional work experience in organizations related to discipline is highly desirable.
- Commitment to high quality teaching as evidenced by student evaluations.
- Use of experiential learning techniques.

The annual total remuneration package is assigned according to candidate's experience and credentials starting from 61,000 USD.

About the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey, we believe in the creation of public value and in developing solutions to the most pressing public problems. We are committed to attract the best faculty and students to research, evaluate and design public policies and legislative proposals to support government's best practices at its different levels. Our faculty members have work experience in the public, social, and private sectors. They are recognized leaders in their field of expertise and are continuously quoted and interviewed in national and international media. We have an academic environment that promotes discussion and raises the public debate with innovative teaching techniques. Our school offers graduate and undergraduate programs in its various campuses. For more information about the School, please visit: <http://escueladegobierno.itesm.mx/>

Tecnológico de Monterrey is one of the Top 10 universities in LATAM and Top 50 of the private universities in the world, according to the QS World University Ranking. The Times Higher Education World University Ranking considers it #1 in Mexico and #5 in LATAM. In addition, Tecnológico de Monterrey is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools of the United States. For more information about our university, please visit: <https://www.tec.mx/en>

Appointment date: January or August 2019

Application procedure:

Interested candidates should submit an application package including the following: curriculum vitae, cover letter, evidence of academic credentials that might include student evaluations, publication in academic journals, etc. and contact information of three references. Please send application package by email to: marian.burillo@itesm.mx and martha.mancilla@itesm.mx

Review will begin immediately and will continue until positions are filled.

Application information: Contact person: Marian Burillo e-mail: marian.burillo@itesm.mx and martha.mancilla@itesm.mx

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4500

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Associate Professorship(s)

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

We invite applications for one or more positions as Associate Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Associate Professor are:

- Research within the field of politics and international relations
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate, graduate and PhD students
- Administrative tasks related to the position
- Research and teaching management
- Project management and external fundraising
- Knowledge sharing with the rest of the society

Emphasis will be put on the applicant's ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the Department through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching, disseminate knowledge and make a knowledge-based societal impact. An associate professor is expected to develop competences and experience within research, teaching and dissemination. Furthermore, the associate professor should have well-developed competences to attract funding within his or her specialist area.

Qualifications

To be qualified for the position the applicant must have research qualifications within the field of Political Science at the level that can be achieved by satisfactorily completing a period of employment at the level of assistant professor or equivalent as well as:

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced in a growing and ambitious publication profile that complements the existing research strengths of the Department and evidence of, or clear plans for attracting, external research funding
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery of an excellent student experience based on a sizable track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

We will expect candidates to present a clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications, external research funding as well as a commitment to innovate teaching

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Professor Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Phone: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048] , email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4452

University of Colorado-Denver

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Social Welfare, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Research Methods

The School of Public Affairs (SPA) at the University of Colorado Denver (CU Denver) seeks to fill a tenure-track position in public affairs, to start in August 2019. The position will be at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. We are looking for a candidate with expertise in public administration/management, and we are open to various sub-field areas of expertise. Interest in social equity, civil society, social vulnerabilities, nonprofit management, collaborative governance, emergency management, and/or performance management would be particularly valuable.

At the Assistant Professor level, we seek candidates who have completed PhDs, with evidence of excellence in teaching, publishing, and demonstrated efforts at attaining external grant funding. For consideration at the Associate Professor level, candidates are expected to be an emerging leader in their field, with an excellent record in research, demonstrated through both externally funded awards and publications, as well as excellence in teaching, mentoring, and funding graduate and/or undergraduate students.

We encourage applicants with diverse backgrounds and/or candidates whose research itself focuses on issues related to diversity and/or social equity. We are also open to candidates with a range of different methodological approaches and backgrounds.

The normal class teaching load is 2:2 and can involve teaching opportunities in our PhD in Public Affairs, MPA, and BA in Public Service programs. Applicants should be willing to teach in both face-to-face and online formats. The salary is competitive.

SPA has 28 full-time faculty and is currently ranked #29 in the country by US News and World Report in public management and leadership, and we are ranked in the top 75 programs in the world for public administration by Shanghai Academic rankings. SPA is a NASPAA-accredited MPA program ranked nationally at #34 overall by US News and World Report. In addition to the degree programs mentioned above, we also offer Master's and Bachelor's degrees in Criminal Justice. All programs except the PhD are available fully online, as well as in-person.

Our downtown Denver location provides unprecedented access to a diverse urban environment where policy becomes practice. SPA is a diverse learning community and one of the most culturally inclusive schools on campus, allowing our students to interact with people who reflect their own identity and with others who broaden their horizons. More than one-third of SPA students are students of color. CU Denver students come from all 50 states and 67 countries.

Denver is one of the fastest growing and most economically vibrant cities in America. Denver's Mayor, along with many other community leaders, are alums of our School. Our city and state are microcosms for research and teaching in public management, environmental policy, local government, nonprofits, emergency management, public health, and public finance.

Our faculty have grown their external funding by 200% over the past 5 years. Faculty currently have grants from NSF, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Rockefeller Foundation, Ford Foundation, Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, St. Louis Community Foundation, the Colorado Trust, the Community First Foundation, the Colorado Department of Public Health and the Environment, the US Department of Health and Human Services, the Annie E. Casey Foundation, and others. SPA faculty routinely attend and present at conferences around the world and are often invited to speak to both academic and practitioner communities on their areas of expertise. SPA faculty are nationally recognized leaders, currently or recently holding positions like NAPA members, PAR editor, PSJ editor, NASPAA Executive Council, ARNOVA board, NVSQ editorial board, and many others.

Many faculty are involved with SPA's Institute for Governance, the applied arm of the school, either through research, training, evaluation, or service. The Institute focuses on translational research, including but not limited to applied research in Colorado, through the work of Centers focused on local government, network sciences and collaborative governance, education policy, criminal justice, and policy process research. The Institute also runs a Certified Public Management (CPM) program and several other leadership development programs. We seek candidates who demonstrate interest in contributing to this mission in some manner.

Generally, SPA is seeking candidates who want to contribute to the dynamic efforts among faculty to support and expand our research and impact, as we continue to be recognized as a top public affairs school. Faculty are committed to working collaboratively and in support of making an impact on the field of public affairs and more broadly, the public sector. We are also committed to graduating high quality students who have the best experiences in the classroom, working alongside faculty in research, and making an impact as graduates who employers seek to hire. We expect that this candidate will quickly become part of an energetic effort to produce the best research and teaching in the field.

Application materials will ONLY be accepted online via the CU Careers job portal.

To apply, please visit <https://www.cu.edu/cu-careers> (Job ID#14311) and submit your curriculum vitae, letter of application summarizing qualifications, and contact information for three professional references. Finalists for the position should be prepared to provide letters of recommendation and evidence of research and teaching proficiency upon request.

Review of applications will continue until the positions are filled with full consideration given to those who apply by October 1, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4487

Whittier College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

Assistant Professor of Political Science

Whittier College

Whittier College announces a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates specializing in Public Policy and American Politics, and capable of teaching a core course in Public Administration. We would be particularly interested in candidates who might also be able to contribute to any of the following additional areas: race and politics, minority politics, environmental politics, state and local politics with an emphasis on California, and/or political theory.

Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science prior to September 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate potential for outstanding teaching and excellence in scholarship. The Political Science Department has five full-time faculty and approximately 90 majors. Faculty members teach 20 units each year and are expected to teach college-wide courses such as First-year Writing Seminars and/or courses paired with faculty in other disciplines as part of our general education program. In addition, all faculty must be fully engaged in committee service and advisement of students.

Preliminary review of materials will begin September 10, and will continue until the appointment is made. If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association conference, please let us know, and send your c.v. and letter of application by August 1. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance. Full applications should include: a letter of application, including discussion of teaching philosophy and research interests; a curriculum vitae; a summary of course evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness; unofficial transcripts; and at least three confidential letters of recommendation, sent by your references. Please email (PDFs preferred) materials to Prof. Deborah Norden, Department Chair, at <mailto:dnorden@whittier.edu>. Paper application and reference letters can be sent to Prof. Deborah Norden, Political Science Department; Whittier College; 13406 Philadelphia St.; Whittier, CA 90601.

Whittier College is committed to attracting and retaining a high quality, diverse faculty with a shared passion for student-centered teaching and mentoring. It is distinguished by its small class sizes, high-impact pedagogies, and innovative liberal arts curriculum blended with professional and pre-professional programs. It is a nationally recognized model for diversity and has no racial majority among its student body. With over 60% students of color, Whittier is designated as both a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and Asian American Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution (AANAPISI). Founded in 1887, it is an independent, four-year liberal arts college with about 1,650 undergraduates and is ideally situated in the scenic hills 18 miles east of downtown Los Angeles. It is an AA/EOE employer. More information on the position is available at www.whittier.edu/jobs.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-4289f6e1d352e841a207bc2342f12ec7>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4413

Bocconi University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at Bocconi University is inviting applications for a junior faculty position in public administration with an appointment beginning on September 1, 2019. The position is at assistant professor level and the area of specialization is open.

Bocconi University is a leading research and teaching institution in economics, management and related disciplines in Europe. The Department of Social and Political Sciences has a major role in staffing an undergraduate program in International Politics and Government, and master's programs in Government and International Organizations and Politics and Public Policy. Public Administration is also a major field in the Ph.D. Program in Public Policy and Administration, launched in 2014. The successful candidate is expected to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate level.

Bocconi provides an ideal interdisciplinary research environment. The Department of Social and Political Sciences combines faculty from several allied disciplines and fields of study—public administration, political science, sociology, economics, history, public health, demography—who share an interest policy-relevant research. The Department counts 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members. Bocconi is located in Italy's most vibrant center, Milan, a historic, cosmopolitan and international city in a metropolitan area of 3 million that is well connected to the rest of Europe and the world.

Knowledge of Italian is not required. Applicants should hold or expect a PhD in public administration or a related field before September 1, 2019. The successful applicant will have demonstrated strong potential in research. Terms of employment are competitive.

Our review of applications will begin on October 2, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Applications received by October 1, 2018 will receive full consideration. Applicants must submit (1) a current curriculum vitae, (2) two working papers or published articles (3) a cover letter, (4) teaching and research statements, via the on-line form using PDF attachments at www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket.

Additionally, at least three academic letters of reference must also be submitted by the referees via www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4363

Appalachian State University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Public Administration

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a 1-2 year faculty position in Public Administration. Areas of interest are open, however, successful candidates must contribute to the core curriculum of the Master of Public Administration program. A Ph.D. in Public Administration or a related discipline is preferred at the time of appointment, but ABDs will also be considered. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. The committee will begin reviewing applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Applicants must send a completed application consisting of a letter outlining teaching and research interests, a current vita, and names of three references. Inquiries and applications should be sent to Dr. Phillip J. Ardoin, Department of Government and Justice Studies, at gjs@appstate.edu.

Appalachian State University is a member of the sixteen-campus University of North Carolina System, consistently ranking among the top regional universities in the South. Located in Boone, North Carolina, the University has approximately 18,000 students, primarily in bachelors and masters programs in both liberal arts and applied fields. The Department houses undergraduate programs in political science, public administration and criminal justice and graduate programs in political science and public administration. The Master of Public Administration program is NASPAA-accredited and has over 60 Students. Additional information about the MPA Program can be found at <http://mpa.appstate.edu>. Additional information about the Department of Government and Justice Studies can be found at <https://gjs.appstate.edu/>.

Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University's receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report. Proper documentation of identity and employability will be required before the hiring process can be finalized. A review of complete applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4344

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osulivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

PUBLIC LAW

Louisiana State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Judicial Politics/ Public Law)

Job Posting Title: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Judicial Politics/Public Law)

Position Type: Faculty

Department: LSUAM HSS - School of Political Science

Work Location: LSU - Baton Rouge

Assistant Professor of Political Science (Judicial Politics / Public Law)

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a junior level, tenure-track, Assistant Professor position in judicial politics/public law to begin Fall 2019. Pending final approval, the position will be full-time, tenure-track, with a teaching load of two courses per semester. Salary for the position will be commensurate with educational preparation and experience. Initial review of applications will begin September 15 and will continue until a candidate is selected.

Job Responsibilities:

Candidates should be prepared to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses in Politics, conduct research and scholarship in the candidate's sub-specialty, and directing/supervising graduate and undergraduate student research activity.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the Fall of 2019.

Note: Ph.D. in hand are preferred, but we will consider those who are close to completion and will finish by the time of the appointment.

Special Instructions:

Application materials should be submitted online and should include a letter of application stating the candidate's research and teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, and evidence of research and teaching effectiveness. In addition, three current letters of recommendation should be sent directly to Wayne Parent, Chair, Department of Political Science, 240 Stubbs, Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, LA 70803-5433 or by email to polichair@lsu.edu.

Applicant Link:

https://lsu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/LSU/job/LSU---Baton-Rouge/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science--Judicial-Politics---Public-Law-\_R00027683

Additional Position Information:

Background Check - An offer of employment is contingent on a satisfactory pre-employment background check.

Benefits - LSU offers outstanding benefits to eligible employees and their dependents including health, life, dental, and vision insurance; flexible spending accounts; retirement options; various leave options; paid holidays; wellness benefits; tuition exemption for qualified positions; training and development opportunities.

EEO Statement:

LSU is committed to diversity and is an equal opportunity / equal access employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4748

Bowling Green State University

Rank: Assistant professor

Department of Political Science: Assistant Professor, Bowling Green State University. Tenure-track faculty position available August 2019. Responsibilities: The successful applicant will maintain an active research program and pursue external funding as appropriate. Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate Political Science courses and graduate courses in the department's MPA program. Minimum Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Political Science or another related social science field (e.g. Public Policy or Public Law); advanced ABD candidates will be considered but must complete requirements for the Ph.D. prior to employment. Primary area of specialization in Judicial Process or Public Law. Previous college level teaching is required.

For an application to be considered complete, submit a cover letter describing teaching and research interests; a curriculum vitae; a writing sample (e.g., a dissertation proposal or chapter, academic journal article, working paper to be submitted to a journal); a statement of commitment to diversity in higher education; a portfolio of teaching effectiveness (must include a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabus, and quantitative teaching evaluations, if available); three professional references dated within the past year; and copies of graduate transcripts.

For a complete job description & instructions on how to apply for this position visit <https://bgsu.hiretouch.com/> or contact the Office of Human Resources, BGSU. Application deadline is September 30, 2018. Background check is required for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 4735

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science - College of Letters and Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, China, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science - College of Letters and Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (<http://polisci.berkeley.edu>) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position with an expected start date of July 1, 2019. We are open to outstanding candidates in any field, but we are particularly interested in candidates whose work is in the areas of: race & ethnic politics, data science, law and politics, international political economy, or Chinese politics, political science.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty>.

[Basic qualifications]: PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree-granting program at the time of application.

To apply, please go to the following link: <http://apptkr.com/1282260>

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, one to three samples of significant written scholarship, and a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service (further information is available at: <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity/support-faculty-candidates>).

Applicants should also arrange to have three to five letters of reference submitted via this web portal. It is preferred that letters of reference be uploaded by referees no later than the final date to apply (September 24, 2018). All letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality found at: <http://apo.berkeley.edu/evalltr.html> prior to submitting their letters.

Applications must be received by Monday, September 24, 2018 to be eligible for consideration.

Please direct questions to Serena Groen, Director of Administration, at serena.groen@berkeley.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see:

<http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 9/24/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4734

North Dakota State University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice

The department of Criminal Justice & Political Science at NDSU is recruiting for a 9-month tenure-track position, at the rank of assistant professor, starting Fall 2019. We seek candidates with expertise in judicial politics and constitutional law, broadly construed. Successful applicants should be versed in American public law, but could conduct research in a broad variety of related areas, such as, but not limited to, the role of race, ethnicity, sexualities, and/or gender in justice systems, comparative judicial politics, international courts and legal structures, or the politics of policing in the US or abroad. This is a 45% research, 45% teaching, 10% service position. The teaching load is 2-2, with a course release in the first three years. Successful applicants will be prepared to teach core undergraduate pre-law courses on American judicial politics, such as judicial process and constitutional law, but will also have ample opportunity to teach specialized courses of their choosing. Tenure-track political science faculty advise undergraduate students and may have opportunities to contribute to the supervision of MA and PhD students in criminal justice. The department has minimal service expectations for pre-tenure faculty.

Minimum Qualifications

The minimum qualifications for the position are: 1) a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or a related discipline, conferred no later than August, 2019, 2) evidence of research productivity, or potential to publish scholarship in peer reviewed journals, presses, and other outlets appropriate to one's field, 3) competence to teach American judicial process and constitutional law, and 4) effective written and oral communication skills.

Preferred Qualifications

We will give priority to candidates who 1) can provide substantial evidence of (potential) research productivity and quality, 2) have experience teaching American judicial process and/or constitutional law, 3) can provide substantial evidence of teaching effectiveness, and/or 4) have experience pursuing or obtaining external funding.

The Department

The Department of Criminal Justice & Political Science has 11 tenure-track faculty members and serves roughly 100 undergraduate majors in political science, and 200 undergraduate and 20 graduate students in criminal justice. Faculty in the department teach four classes per year. The NDSU community and national organizations have regularly recognized department faculty for excellence in research, teaching, and mentorship. While faculty contribute primarily to teaching, curriculum development, and advising within their respective programs, the department provides opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration across fields, both in research and teaching. The college provides faculty with computing resources and tenure-track faculty within the department receive a yearly research and professionalization budget that covers travel to 1-2 conferences, and which faculty routinely supplement with College and University travel grants.

The University

North Dakota State University is a comprehensive, student-focused, land-grant, research university with more than 14,000 students from 47 states and 79 countries. NDSU was the first university in North Dakota to be named to the most research-intensive category by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education and is listed in the National Science Foundation's top 100 in several areas, including agricultural sciences, social sciences, physical sciences, chemistry, psychology, and computer sciences.

NDSU values faculty members' work-life balance and the needs of dual-career couples. The College of Arts, Humanities, & Social Sciences' guidelines on family-related reassignment of duties are available at <https://www.ndsu.edu/fileadmin/ahss/family2010.pdf> and University policy on extension of the probationary period for personal or family reasons is available at <https://www.ndsu.edu/fileadmin/policy/352.pdf>. NDSU is an ADVANCE institution and has an a Focus on Resources for Women's Advancement, Recruitment/Retention, and Development (FORWARD) program, that, as part of its efforts, has developed procedures and funding streams for dual career hiring at NDSU: <https://www.ndsu.edu/forward/>.

Applicants can find more information about NDSU at <http://www.ndsu.edu>.

The Community

NDSU is located in Fargo-Moorhead (F-M), a pleasant, safe, diversifying, and growing community of approximately 240,000 people. As the largest population center in the region, F-M is a hub of entertainment, finance, information technology, and medical services for a large geographic area including the state of North Dakota, and western Minnesota. Two universities (NDSU and Minnesota State University Moorhead) and one private liberal arts college (Concordia College) are located in F-M. The F-M area has a healthy economy: ND has one of the lowest unemployment rates in the U.S., good public schools, low crime rates, ample shopping, local theatre and music companies, several art galleries, semi-professional baseball and hockey, and Division I intercollegiate athletics. Hector International Airport in Fargo is convenient and is served by several major airlines. Sun, clear skies, and clean air predominate year round. Visiting nearby northern Minnesota lakes, canoeing, camping, cycling, softball, and soccer are popular in summer; winter pastimes include cross-country skiing, skating, and snowmobiling. The city has an excellent park system that includes several quality golf courses and bicycle/running/ski paths along the Red River, which divides Fargo-Moorhead. Fargo is an hour drive from a major resort area in the Minnesota "lakes country" and two hours from scenic Itasca State Park, where you will find the headwaters of the Mississippi river. Central and western North Dakota offer beautiful hiking, camping, fishing, hunting, and related opportunities in the Badlands, national grasslands, and numerous river valleys. Winnipeg, Manitoba is less than a four-hour drive to the north and Minneapolis-St. Paul is an equal distance to the south-east.

Application

Applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, writing sample, statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, course materials, evidence of participation in teaching professionalization activities, and, if available, evaluations by peers and/or mentors; please do not include student evaluations of teaching), and contact information for 3 professional references. All application materials must be submitted online at <https://jobs.ndsu.edu/postings/9576>.

NDSU especially encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups.

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, and will continue to accept and review applications until the position is filled. The department will provide search updates through APSA eJobs' update capability, and on Twitter, using the #PSJInfo hashtag.

Potential applicants may direct questions about the search to Dan Pemstein, the search committee chair, at daniel.pemstein@ndsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4706

California Lutheran University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Assistant Professor - Political Science

Position Category: Faculty

FLSA: Exempt

Location: Thousand Oaks

Basic Function:

Political Science Department Job Description

The Department of Political Science at California Lutheran University is committed to a strong liberal arts tradition that links scholarship, teaching, and applied knowledge to the academic study of political science. The Department seeks an Assistant Professor of Political Science who is committed to teaching, research, and service at a Hispanic Serving and McNair institution.

The candidate must demonstrate teaching expertise (or potential) and research interest in U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and an ability to teach methods courses that incorporate both quantitative and qualitative approaches to the study of political science. A full-teaching load is usually 3 courses per academic semester and 6 per academic year. Primary teaching responsibilities will likely include the following undergraduate courses: Introduction to American Government or Public Policy, Constitutional Law, Congress, Judicial Politics, Presidency, Public Law, and/or Research Methods. Particular attention will be given to someone who is interested in serving as a Pre-Law Advisor. There may also be an opportunity to develop new courses based on the successful candidate's expertise/interest. It is essential that interested candidates possess the ability or potential to teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate students, particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds. Applicants with research interests utilizing diverse methodological approaches and interdisciplinary content are strongly encouraged to apply.

The mission of the Department of Political Science at California Lutheran University is to provide a personalized education of distinction that fosters students' intellectual and critical powers, and develop their capacities to understand various aspects of political life. Students are required to produce original, high quality senior capstone projects and engage in experiential learning, which may include internships, study abroad, travel courses, and other activities. The courses in Political Science challenge students to examine U.S. political institutions, public policy, global politics, and political theory/law. Embedded within many of the courses are the themes of diversity, identity, and global and civic engagement. The goal is to prepare Political Science graduates to be civically engaged members of global society, and to enter a number of educational and career tracks such as public service, law, public policy, research, diplomacy, non-profits, and teaching.

Eligibility Requirements:

Eligible applicants must have the PhD in political science, JD, or a related field officially conferred by an accredited degree-granting university. The degree must be completed by April 15, 2019 (including defense and revisions) and conferred by May 31, 2019. The application must be written (or translated) in English.

Eligible applicants for this position include: U.S. citizens, U.S. nationals, U.S. permanent residents (holders of a Permanent Resident Card) and individuals granted deferred action status under the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals Program (depending on the status of this program at the time of application), political asylees, and refugees. The Department values diversity in all forms, including race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, gender, age, disability, and sexual orientation.

Applications will be evaluated by a committee of scholars selected by the University, in consultation with the Department faculty. The search committee will use academic records, essays, letters of recommendation, standardized application forms, and other appropriate materials as the basis for determining the extent to which candidates meet the eligibility requirements and serve the mission of the Department and University.

Stipends and Benefits: This is a full-time, benefits eligible position.

Evaluation Criteria:

Candidates will be assessed based on the following criteria:

- 1) Demonstrated experience in, or potential to effectively teach courses related to U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and knowledge of diverse methodological approaches;
- 2) Experience with, or knowledge/understanding of mentoring and engaging undergraduate students (inside and outside of the classroom), particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds;
- 3) Evidence of, or potential for both producing scholarship and sustaining an active research agenda; and
- 4) Commitment to a liberal arts education and in service to the missions of the Political Science Department and University.

Required Materials:

Cover Letter: A two-page (or fewer) letter that addresses why Cal Lutheran's Political Science Department is a good place for the candidate to pursue his/her teaching, research, and other professional aspirations.

Curriculum Vitae: A comprehensive resume of professional and educational qualifications.

Diversity Statement: A one-page statement of the candidate's experience with, or knowledge/understanding of mentoring and engaging students from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds.

Three Reference Letters (requested through application tool): Letters should address how the candidate has the experiences, dispositions, and/or ability to teach, advise, and mentor students, including those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds.

Under the direction of the Dean and Department Chair, the Assistant Professor is responsible for providing academic instruction to students for the assigned undergraduate courses. The Assistant Professor is to serve as an academic advisor to students; serve on faculty or university committees; and engage in scholarly activities, and/or creative endeavors which contribute to the academic mission of the University, as outlined in the faculty handbook.

Representative Duties:

- Provide academic instruction to students through lecture courses. Create assignments and activities in one-on-one, classroom, and distance mediated instructional settings for development of cognitive abilities, communication skills, and higher order thinking skills among students. E
- Observe and evaluate student performance in meeting course objectives and student learning outcomes through assignments, projects, discussions, and examinations; provide feedback in a timely manner to student inquiries in class, online, or during established consultation office hours. E
- Maintain current, accurate records of course enrollment, attendance, student academic progress, course curriculum; prepare and submit grades, data, and reports related to course and student progress in a timely manner. E
- Provide a course syllabus to students in each class within the first week of the class, as outlined in the faculty handbook. E
- Adhere to the responsibilities related to teaching, advising, service, and scholarly, professional and creative activities, as outlined in the faculty handbook. E
- Attend and participate on committees and in department, division, campus, and University meetings. E
- Performs related duties as assigned.

E=Essential Duties

Knowledge Of:

- Current theory and practice within the subject discipline
- Principles and best practices of effective teaching
- Student learning outcomes and methods of assessment
- University curricula
- Community and campus resources, services, programs, and professionals available to students
- Methods of gathering, analyzing, and preparing data
- Modern computing technology

- Record keeping techniques with regard to student enrollment, attendance, and progress

Ability To:

- Demonstrate a thorough and accurate knowledge in the subject field or discipline
- Deliver course curricula in various learning styles
- Exhibit sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, social, economic, cultural, and ethnic background of University students
- Exhibit sensitivity to and understanding of the needs of students with disabilities.
- Integrate current and emerging instructional delivery technologies into the learning process to enhance teaching and the educational experience
- Maintain professional standards that protect student confidentiality
- Communicate effectively, both orally and in writing using tact, patience, and courtesy
- Establish and maintain effective working relationships
- Analyze situations accurately and adopt effective courses of action
- Demonstrate commitment to professional excellence and continuous growth within subject field or discipline

Minimum Qualifications:

- Eligible applicants must have the PhD in political science, JD, or a related field officially conferred by an accredited degree-granting university. The application must be written (or translated) in English. ABD's will be considered for appointment at the instructor level.

Preferred Qualifications:

- 1) Demonstrated experience in, or potential to effectively teach courses related to U.S. political institutions and/or public law, and knowledge of diverse methodological approaches;
- 2) Experience with, or knowledge/ understanding of mentoring and engaging undergraduate students (inside and outside of the classroom), particularly those from diverse and underrepresented backgrounds;
- 3) Evidence of, or potential for both producing scholarship and sustaining an active research agenda; and
- 4) Commitment to a liberal arts education and in service to the missions of the Political Science Department and University.

Physical Abilities:

Manual dexterity of hands and fingers to operate office equipment; speaking to exchange information, provide instruction and make presentations; sitting or standing for extended periods of time; pushing, pulling or lifting light objects; bending and reaching to store and/or retrieve files.

Posting Number: Faculty000052018

Number of Vacancies: 1

Desired Start Date: 08/19/2019

Open Date: 08/10/2018

Close Date: 10/1/2018

Open Until Filled: No

Application Procedure/Special Instructions:

To apply, visit <http://apptrkr.com/1280562>

California Lutheran University is committed to providing equal opportunity in employment for all persons, regardless of race, religious creed, color, national origin, ancestry, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, marital status, sex, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender, gender identity or expression, or any other basis protected by applicable law. No person shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination in any program, activity or facility of the University on the basis of these factors in a manner consistent with applicable federal and state laws, regulations, ordinances, orders and rules, and University's policies, procedures, and processes.

Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process can be provided to individuals with qualifying disabilities. Please contact the Human Resources Department for further information or to request an accommodation.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-e46536a3c2bb1d4ea9eca0d687a4aeab>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4679

Colorado College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Law & Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Other

Colorado College is hiring a tenure track assistant professor in environmental law and policy to join the college's interdisciplinary environmental studies program beginning in August 2019. The position requires expertise in environmental law and policy as well as an ability to engage in interdisciplinary approaches to environmental questions. The successful candidate will be able to teach courses including Environment & Society (an interdisciplinary introductory environmental studies course), U.S. Environmental Law & Policy, International Environmental Law & Policy, and electives in their field of expertise. The ideal candidate will be a JD/PhD who has worked in the field of environmental law and can teach courses that incorporate environmental case law. Yet they will also be able to situate the law within broader political and social questions of the relationship between humans and the environment.

The College actively promotes a dynamic and inclusive environment in which students and employees of diverse backgrounds, cultures, and perspectives can learn and work. Applicants should describe the ways in which they can contribute to this goal in their cover letter.

One distinguishing feature of Colorado College is its Block plan, in which professors teach, and students take, one course at a time. Each block is three and a half weeks long, and professors teach six of the eight blocks in an academic year. Applicants must be committed to high quality, innovative undergraduate teaching. Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if available. The block plan lends itself to field and project based teaching. Funds and logistical support for field trips and community based learning projects are available through the college and through the environmental studies program.

Preferred Qualifications: J.D. and Ph.D.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. is required by the start of employment; expertise in environmental law

Applications should include: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) a writing sample, and (6) a graduate school transcript. Optional documents: Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness (e.g. syllabi, course evaluations, etc.).

Applications must be submitted through <https://employment.coloradocollege.edu/postings/3477>

All applicants will need to list at least three references to submit a letter of recommendation. The application site will send emails to references with instructions for electronic submission.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4680

Winthrop University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory

The Department of Political Science is seeking engaging teachers and active scholars to join our diverse scholarly community by applying for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics, specifically in the areas of Public Administration/Public Policy and National Institutions. Strong preference will be given to candidates who can teach the Judiciary and/or Constitutional Law. We are seeking a dedicated and experienced teacher with demonstrated scholarly achievement to join our distinguished department. The Winthrop Department of Political Science boasts award-winning faculty who are recognized for the quality of their teaching, research, and service. The department also has three affiliated programs: (1) the 43-year old Model UN Program; (2) the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research, which is home to the nationally renowned Winthrop Poll; and (3) the John C. West Forum on Politics and Policy, a major civic engagement initiative at the University. The department also collaborates with the Master of Liberal Arts program to provide a graduate Concentration in Political and Civic Engagement. Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Major Responsibilities:

- Teach a variety of courses in American Politics, including Public Administration, Public Policy, The Judiciary, Constitutional Law: Federalism, and/or Constitutional Law: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties. Strong preference will be given to candidates with teaching and/or research expertise in multiple areas of need, including Media and Politics and Women and US Politics.
- Teach both introductory and advanced courses in your areas of specialization, including graduate courses in our Political and Civic Engagement Concentration within the Master of Liberal Arts Program

- Teach a team-taught senior capstone course in Political Science
- Ability to conduct media interviews on commentary about campaigns and elections and analysis of American political institutions
- Ability to collaborate with the Center for Public Opinion and Policy Research a plus
- Teach courses in Winthrop University's innovative General Education Program, including American Government, which fulfills the Constitution Requirement
- Participate in departmental, college, and university service, including student advising
- Undertake research in the discipline and promote undergraduate research
- Be an interested and energetic participant in an active department
- Other duties as assigned

Required Qualifications:

- The Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or a related field is required for appointment at the assistant professor level. A successful candidate who is ABD at the time of employment will be appointed to a non-tenure track position as an instructor. The successful candidate will also be required to undergo a background check prior to hiring
- Specialization in areas among those listed above
- Evidence in the area of Student Intellectual Development, including teaching excellence and commitment to student learning
- Evidence in the area of Scholarly Activity, including an ongoing program of research and publication
- Evidence in the area of Professional Stewardship, including engagement with the discipline, profession, campus, and community
- Preference is given to candidates with experience teaching the courses listed above

Work Environment: This position requires regular contact with students, faculty, and staff on campus. Additionally, the successful candidate will be required to have the ability to work with the outside community, local public schools, the media, other universities, and international schools/companies/partners.

Background Check Statement: Winthrop University is committed to providing a safe campus community. Winthrop conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include reference checks, a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

Employment Conditions: A nine-month, full-time tenure track appointment with faculty rank. Salary is competitive and dependent on academic qualifications.

Position Availability: August 16, 2019

Application Timeline and Procedures:

- We will meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association Annual Meeting in Boston, MA late afternoon Thursday, August 30 and 10am-5pm Friday, August 31 and Saturday, September 1 at the APSA eJobs Interview Service located in the Gloucester Room in the Marriott Copley Place. Please send your CV and days/times of availability to Chair of the Search Committee, Dr. Scott Huffmon, huffmons@winthrop.edu, to request a meeting at APSA.

Our Interfolio Application Website is Forthcoming. Review of applicants will begin on September 28, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Required Materials for Online Application When Available:

- Application letter, with evidence of major responsibilities and required qualifications
- Curriculum vitae, including names, titles, addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses, if available, of at least three persons who know the candidate professionally
- Sample of representative written work (article- or chapter- length)
- Statement of "teaching philosophy, including evidence of excellence in teaching and commitment to student learning
- Three professional letters of reference
- All graduate transcripts and evidence of highest degree achieved (unofficial transcripts are acceptable for initial review; official transcripts are required prior to final appointment)

Founded in 1886, Winthrop University in Rock Hill, South Carolina, offers its 6,000-plus undergraduate and graduate students an educational experience that blends liberal arts, professional programs, global awareness, and civic engagement. In its colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, and Visual and Performing Arts, Winthrop embraces only those programs and activities that can be delivered at an exemplary level. Winthrop is well known for its inclusive and supportive campus environment, with University College supporting programs in both academic and student affairs. Winthrop University is achieving national stature as a competitive and distinctive co-educational, public, residential, comprehensive, values-oriented institution. The values of service, excellence, diversity, community, and leadership provide the foundation for Winthrop's continuing development and shape Winthrop's continuing success. Numerous national accolades reflect the sustained high quality and value of the Winthrop Experience, including the most recent U.S. News & World Report's ranking of Winthrop as one of the top-10 public comprehensive universities in the South. Winthrop is an active member of the Rock Hill community and recognized as a key component of the region's economic resurgence. In addition, Winthrop is located just 30 minutes south of Charlotte, North Carolina, ranked by U.S. News & World Report in 2018 as one of the top 25 best places to live in the country. For more information, visit us at www.winthrop.edu.

Winthrop University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group of individuals on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or veteran status. Women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4584

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (Cal Poly Pomona) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2019.

Candidates with specializations in public law are especially welcome to apply.

At Cal Poly Pomona, we cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation. We demonstrate academic quality, relevance, and excellence through our teaching, learning, scholarship, and creative activities with student-centered faculty in an evidence-based culture. Cal Poly Pomona is committed to being the model for an inclusive polytechnic university that inspires creativity and innovation, embraces local and global challenges, and transforms lives.

The Position

The faculty member will be part of a small, collegial Political Science Department, which also has a Master's in Public Administration. The faculty member will teach and advise in the undergraduate program and participate as appropriate in the master's program. The faculty member will be expected to teach courses in the public law subfield, including Introduction to Public Law, Constitutional Law: Rights and Liberties, Constitutional Law: Government Powers, and Contemporary Issues in Law. There will be opportunities to develop new courses in accordance to the faculty member's expertise. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a commitment to diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution and the faculty member will be an advisor to many under-represented minorities and first-generation college students.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science, or related disciplines such as Law and Society, Law and Philosophy from an accredited university by August 1, 2019
- University teaching experience
- Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)
- Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work as well as experience working in an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications

Preference will be given to those candidates who have the expertise to teach constitutional law classes and other topics related to public law, including social justice and the law, civil rights, contemporary policy issues and the courts, legal philosophy, courts and the democratic process, and comparative politics and courts. Preference will also be given to candidates who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Application Instructions

Application Procedure

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications submitted by September 14, 2018. Early response is encouraged. Electronic submissions of all application materials must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53294>

A completed application will consist of:

- A cover letter that describes the candidate's teaching performance, research experience and interests, and that addresses the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;
- A curriculum vitae comprising at least those elements specified on the application form and including the names, titles, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers of at least five individuals who can speak to the candidate's potential for success in this position;
- A 'Student Success Statement' about your teaching, or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced);
- Three recent letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and dated within the past two years). Applicants will provide contact information for recommenders during the application process and the system will contact recommenders and provide a method for uploading letters;
- A completed application form available on the application website: <https://apply.interfolio.com/53294>
- An unofficial transcript showing the highest degree earned from an accredited education institution. Finalists will be required to submit an official transcript; and
- Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available.
- Please submit all electronic documents in PDF format.

For further information or clarification, please contact:

Dr. Jill Hargis, Faculty Search Committee Chair
Political Science Department
California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
Phone: 909.869.3887
Fax: 909.869.6995
Email: kmalm@cpp.edu (Kim Alm, Administrative Coordinator)

APSA Interviews

Representatives of the department will be available to meet at APSA's Placement Services. Please send a CV to mag@cpp.edu if you are interested in meeting with department representatives at APSA.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. The University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. Cal Poly Pomona subscribes to all state and federal regulations and prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity/gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, genetic information, medical condition, and covered veteran status. The University hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. As required by the Clery Disclosure Act, the university's annual security report is available at <http://www.cpp.edu/~police/annual-security-report.shtml>. The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment. A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/14/2018
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4579

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor/Professor - Lateral - Jurisprudence and Social Policy Program - School of Law

Jurisprudence and Social Policy Program
 School of Law
 University of California, Berkeley

Position Announcement

The Jurisprudence and Social Policy (JSP) Ph.D. Program in the School of Law at the University of California, Berkeley invites entry-level and lateral applicants for one or more full-time, tenured and tenure-track faculty positions. We are open to outstanding candidates in any area related to the study of law and legal institutions, but we are particularly interested for this search in candidates in the following fields and areas: law and political science (including public law), law and political economy, law and economics, law and inequality, law and psychology, or punishment and society/criminology. JSP embraces methodological pluralism, but has an acute current need for scholars who use statistical methods in their research targeted on the study of law and can/will teach statistical methods at the doctoral-level (which could include data science).

Entry-level applicants must either: a) hold a Ph.D. or equivalent international degree by date of application, or b) have advanced to candidacy status for a Ph.D., or equivalent international degree, in political science, economics, or another social science field at the time of application. Lateral applicants must hold a Ph.D., or equivalent international degree in political science, economics, or another social science field at the time of application. Given the multidisciplinary character of the JSP Program, faculty members are expected to teach both graduate and undergraduate courses within their own expertise, and help mentor doctoral students within their own area of disciplinary training as well as across a range of fields. They also are expected to teach in the interdisciplinary undergraduate major, Legal Studies, which operates under the auspices of JSP. A J.D. degree is not required, though we welcome candidates who could contribute to teaching within the broader community at Berkeley Law, including the J.D. program.

We are interested in candidates who have demonstrated excellence in research, teaching and service, and a commitment to building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment. Candidates may be appointed at the tenure-track or tenured level, depending upon their qualifications and experience. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2019. For further details about the JSP and Legal Studies Programs, see <http://www.law.berkeley.edu/jsp/> and <http://legalstudies.berkeley.edu/>. If you have questions about the position, contact Taeku Lee, Search Chair and Professor of Law and Political Science (taekulee@berkeley.edu) and/or Calvin Morrill, Associate Dean for JSP / Legal Studies (cmorrill@law.berkeley.edu).

Early applications are encouraged. The final deadline for applications is October 1, 2018.

Entry-level candidates must complete an online application with Berkeley Law via the following link: <https://aprecruit.berkeley.edu/apply/JPF01836>.

Lateral candidates who already hold tenured or tenure-track positions at other institutions are encouraged to apply online for consideration via the following link: <http://apptrkr.com/1272224>

All applications should include in pdf format a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a description of current research and teaching interests, a diversity statement describing past and proposed contributions to advancing diversity, equity and inclusion (further information about the diversity statement is available at: <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity/support-faculty-candidates>), and copies of or electronic links to representative and recent scholarship. Entry-level candidates must supply three letters of reference. Lateral candidates should not send letters of reference, but must enter three references with contact information who may be contacted for letters at a later time. Other materials, such as teaching evaluations, may be requested of top candidates for entry-level or lateral positions. All letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a dossier service or career center, to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (<http://apo.berkeley.edu/evaltr.html>) prior to submitting their letters.

The University is responsive to the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. For information about family friendly resources, potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 10/1/2018
Date Posted: 8/13/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4581

University of Utah

Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Criminal Justice

The Department of Political Science at the University of Utah seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics with a focus in public law and the courts. This appointment begins July 1, 2019. To be hired, candidates must have a PhD in political science or a related field in-hand by the time of appointment.

The teaching load is two courses per semester, typically a mixture of undergraduate and graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) offerings. Applicants should be prepared to teach Introduction to American Government, Introduction to Law and Politics, and courses in Constitutional Law and Jurisprudence. Candidates should provide evidence of a sustainable record of high quality research and demonstrate evidence of the ability or the potential to generate extramural funding. Experience contributing to interdisciplinary research teams is also desirable. Applications received by September 24, 2018, will receive full consideration.

Applications should be filed using the online system at <http://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/80776>

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, writing sample, a statement of teaching focus and effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. As part of the cover letter or teaching statement we invite you to describe how your work and other experience contribute to the success of underrepresented students.

The University of Utah is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and does not discriminate based upon race, national origin, color, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, status as a person with a disability, genetic information, or Protected Veteran status. Individuals from historically underrepresented groups, such as minorities, women, qualified persons with disabilities and protected veterans are encouraged to apply. Veterans' preference is extended to qualified applicants, upon request and consistent with University policy and Utah state law. Upon request, reasonable accommodations in the application process will be provided to individuals with disabilities. To inquire about the University's nondiscrimination or affirmative action policies or to request disability accommodation, please contact: Director, Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 201 S. Presidents Circle, Rm 135, (801) 581-8365.

The University of Utah values candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds, and possess a strong commitment to improving access to higher education for historically underrepresented students. The University of Utah offers unparalleled opportunities for interdisciplinary collaborative research. The university is home to the Scientific Computing and Imaging Institute (SCI), the Center for High Performance Computing (CHPC), the Global Change and Sustainability Center (GCSC), and a new "iNterdisciplinary EXchange for Utah Science" (NEXUS) research center housed within our new building.

The University is a participating employer with Utah Retirement Systems ("URS"). To be eligible for retirement contributions, you must be hired into a benefit-eligible position. Employees with prior URS service may elect to enroll in the URS within 30 days of hire. Regardless of whether they are hired into a benefit-eligible position or not, individuals who previously retired and are receiving monthly retirement benefits from URS must notify the Benefits Department upon hire. Please contact Utah Retirement Systems at (801)366-7770 or (800)695-4877 or the University's Benefits Department at (801)581-7447 for information. This position may require the successful completion of a criminal background check and/or drug screen and immunizations.

Please email all inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Matthew Burbank: mburbank@poli-sci.utah.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4567

Tecnológico de Monterrey

Rank: Faculty positions at the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey

Subfield(s): Public Law, Public Administration, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Law & Organizations, Political Development

Faculty positions at the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey

Tecnológico de Monterrey invites applications for full-time assistant professors and visiting professors in:

- International Relations
- Economics
- Political Science
- Law

Full-time assistant professors are expected to take a leadership role in their field of expertise, conducting world class state of the art research leading to publications in top scientific and academic journals, developing and teaching courses, and actively participating in the life of the school. Research is highly valued and strongly supported through access to internal and external research funds, top of the line facilities, a collaborative and research-oriented environment, and a reduced teaching load.

Visiting professors are expected to take a leadership role in their field of expertise, developing and teaching courses, and conducting academic activities in one of our 4 academic development tracks: Consulting, Entrepreneurship, Educational Innovation or Research. In the research track, candidates are encouraged to conduct high quality research leading to publications in top academic journals, and actively participating in the life of the school. Open positions in six different cities: Guadalajara, Mexico City, Monterrey, Puebla, Querétaro, and Toluca.

Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Economics, International Relations, Political Science, Law and Public Policy
- Professional work experience in organizations related to discipline is highly desirable.
- Commitment to high quality teaching as evidenced by student evaluations.
- Use of experiential learning techniques.

The annual total remuneration package is assigned according to candidate's experience and credentials starting from 61,000 USD.

About the School of Social Sciences and Government at Tecnológico de Monterrey, we believe in the creation of public value and in developing solutions to the most pressing public problems. We are committed to attract the best faculty and students to research, evaluate and design public policies and legislative proposals to support government's best practices at its different levels. Our faculty members have work experience in the public, social, and private sectors. They are recognized leaders in their field of expertise and are continuously quoted and interviewed in national and international media. We have an academic environment that promotes discussion and raises the public debate with innovative teaching techniques. Our school offers graduate and undergraduate programs in its various campuses. For more information about the School, please visit: <http://escueladegobierno.itesm.mx/>

Tecnológico de Monterrey is one of the Top 10 universities in LATAM and Top 50 of the private universities in the world, according to the QS World University Ranking. The Times Higher Education World University Ranking considers it #1 in Mexico and #5 in LATAM. In addition, Tecnológico de Monterrey is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools of the United States. For more information about our university, please visit: <https://www.tec.mx/en>

Appointment date: January or August 2019

Application procedure:

Interested candidates should submit an application package including the following: curriculum vitae, cover letter, evidence of academic credentials that might include student evaluations, publication in academic journals, etc. and contact information of three references. Please send application package by email to: marian.burillo@itesm.mx and martha.mancilla@itesm.mx

Review will begin immediately and will continue until positions are filled.

Application information: Contact person: Marian Burillo e-mail: marian.burillo@itesm.mx and martha.mancilla@itesm.mx

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4500

Muhlenberg College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

The Department of Political Science at Muhlenberg College invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will be broadly trained in political science with a primary interest in American public law. We are open to candidates with a variety of substantive teaching and research interests, for example, constitutional law and theory; judicial politics; urban politics, civil rights; law and society; criminal justice politics; democracy, law, and race; feminist legal studies; global legal studies; immigration. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries and welcome a variety of methodological approaches. Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester to include one or two classes in American constitutional law or constitutional theory.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science by August 2019. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in liberal arts undergraduate teaching and mentoring students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ, etc.), the potential for scholarly publications, and effective written and oral communication. We are especially interested in candidates who have a long-term interest in helping to develop and advise students in Muhlenberg's pre-law program.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter describing their teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g. sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy), graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references. Candidates should also submit a separate statement describing how they will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College's efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. For additional information about Muhlenberg's commitment to diversity and inclusion, applicants can find the latest updates to the College's Diversity Strategic Plan at: <http://www.muhlenberg.edu/main/aboutus/president/initiatives/diversityatmuhlenberg/>.

Complete applications should be sent via email as a single PDF document, addressed to Lanethea Mathews-Schultz, Political Science Department Chair to: pscsearch@muhlenberg.edu. In order to receive full consideration, applications must be received by September 17, 2018.

Founded in 1848, Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in eastern Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley. Allentown is a diverse city of 116,000, and along with Bethlehem and Easton, anchors the third-largest metropolitan area in Pennsylvania. The region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants. In addition, Allentown is within close proximity to both New York City and Philadelphia.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4457

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4428

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencet.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Select "Apply" to be redirected to Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4429

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencect.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Please navigate to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11482> to apply via Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 7/25/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4430

University of Connecticut

Rank: Assistant Professor in Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of Connecticut invites applications for a position as Assistant Professor in Residence at its Avery Point Campus with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (<http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/>) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (<http://biosciencect.uchc.edu/>) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized\_1). We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for a position at the Avery Point campus.

We seek an engaging and excellent instructor of Political Science in the area of American Politics, with a preference for candidates who also can teach courses in Public Law, Maritime Law and/or Marine Policy. This position is intended to contribute to the American Studies and the Maritime Studies programs.

Avery Point contributes to the understanding – and solution – of problems relating to the intersection of oceans and people, both through the expertise of the faculty and the education of its students who will help ensure sustainable uses of marine resources and coastal regions and cities. The Avery Point campus places special emphasis on marine and maritime-oriented undergraduate curricula, as well as programs responsive to the needs of its significant corporate and industrial constituencies, and its unique regional economic and cultural characteristics. Assistant Professors in Residence carry a course load of 21 credits per academic year (or equivalent).

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field completed by start date; evidence or promise of a strong teaching record; and a deep commitment to promoting diversity through their academic and research programs. All candidates must also demonstrate promise in their research program. Equivalent foreign degrees are acceptable.

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants who can teach courses in a broad range of subfields are preferred. Preferred qualifications also include an outstanding record of research and scholarship excellence; commitment to effective teaching, integrating technology into instruction, on-line instruction; and the ability to contribute through research and research, teaching, and/or public engagement to the diversity and excellence of the learning experience.

Appointment Terms

This is a full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2019. Position may be renewed annually. The successful candidate's academic appointment will be at the Avery Point campus.

TO APPLY

Please navigate to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11482> to apply via Academic Jobs Online. Please submit the following: a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, a statement describing teaching and research interests, writing samples, and (if available) course syllabi and teaching evaluations. Your letter of application should include a statement indicating your commitment to diversity (including broadening participation, integrating multicultural experiences in instruction and research and pedagogical techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles, etc.). Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. For full consideration, online applications should be received no later than October 1, 2018.

Questions about the position may be sent to Lindsay Halle, Administrative Coordinator (Lindsay.halle@uconn.edu)

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check (Search #2019011).

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at: <http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp>.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Date Posted: 7/25/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4431

Indiana University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Chinese Economics and Trade
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Law
Specializations: Asian American Politics, East Asia, Political Theory

Indiana University's School of Global and International Studies seeks a full-time tenure-track assistant professor in Chinese Economics and Trade to begin fall 2019. The position is in the School's renowned multidisciplinary Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures. We welcome candidates who hold a Ph.D. in economics, international studies, law, political science, or sociology. Candidates must have active research agendas involving Chinese-language sources and fieldwork experience in China.

The successful candidate will hold the endowed GLP-Ming Z. Mei Chair of Chinese Economics and Trade. The teaching load is two courses per semester, and position responsibilities include teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels. This is an exciting moment to join the new and expanding School of Global and International Studies as it leads Indiana University's international research and teaching missions. The East Asian Languages and Cultures Department is over fifty years old and has a long history of teaching across many disciplines, including such social science fields as political economy and sociology. EALC's teaching and research missions have also benefitted since the founding of the School of Global and International Studies from increasing synergies with our allied Department of International Studies and other area studies units.

Candidates must have a doctoral degree or clear indication that the degree will be in hand by July 31, 2019. All applications received by October 5, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application; CV; three letters of recommendation; official transcripts of graduate studies; a 25-30 page writing sample at: <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com>. Questions regarding the position or application process may be directed to Prof. Gardner Bovington, Chair, Search Committee for the GLP-Ming Z. Mei Chair in Chinese Economics and Trade, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures, Global and International Studies Building 2035, 355 N. Jordan Ave., Bloomington, IN 47405-1105, or via e-mail at: gbovingd@indiana.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/5/2018
Date Posted: 7/17/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4396

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Formal Theory
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, International Relations

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position in the field of Formal Theory to begin September 1, 2019. We are especially interested in candidates with substantive interests in International Relations and/or Public Law, at the assistant professor rank. This is a university year appointment. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required. Application submission information available at <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/faculty-hiring.html>. Review of applications will begin September 1, 2018. Applicants should include the following application materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts (for entry-level candidates), and a statement of activities contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation. The University of Michigan is an AA/EO employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. The University is supportive of the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/1/2018
Date Posted: 7/2/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4345

Wesleyan University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

AMERICAN POLITICS / PUBLIC LAW

Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Politics (Public Law)

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in American politics with a specialty in public law. The appointment begins July 1, 2019. To be hired as an Assistant Professor candidates must have in hand by the time of appointment a PhD in political science or a related field. A successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not yet have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment, but must complete the PhD in political science or a related field within one year of hire. Applicants should be prepared to teach the introductory American government course, a course in American Constitutional Law, and other courses in public law. The teaching load is two courses per semester. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, carrying on a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the department and university levels.

Applications received by September 17, 2018, will receive full consideration. To apply, please go to <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/6414>. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (7) sample syllabi if available.

As part of the cover letter or teaching statement we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body. You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (please double-check the accuracy of the email addresses of the referees you name to be sure that you have the most up-to-date email addresses for each one).

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Deborah Colucci, Equity Compliance Director & Deputy Title IX Coordinator, 860-685-2456, dcolucci@wesleyan.edu.

Please contact Mr. Donald Moon (dmoon@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department Chair if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: 9/17/2018Date Posted: 6/28/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4336Towson University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Constitutional Law and Legal Philosophy

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC YEAR 2019-2020

Areas of Specialization: Constitutional Law, Legal Philosophy

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level. The position entails teaching general survey courses in law and upper-level courses focused on constitutional case law and jurisprudence. Within two years, the successful candidate will be expected to assume the directorship of the Law and American Civilization (LWAC) program, an interdisciplinary program housed within the department. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference, although ABDs may be considered if the degree will be completed by the spring of 2019. Applicants must possess a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and show a solid potential for a productive scholarly program. Interest in pursuing external funding is desirable. The teaching load is six courses during the first year, but will rise to seven courses thereafter. Directorship of LWAC will count as a course. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; syllabi of any courses taught; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Cindy Cates, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252. Please reference search: CLA-N-3202.

Application review will begin in October. Initial committee review will end on December 15, 2018.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: 12/15/2018Date Posted: 6/27/2018Salary: $60,000 - $69,999eJobs ID: 4333PUBLIC POLICY*Stanford University*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Stanford Center on Global Poverty and Development Postdoctoral Fellows program offers one-year (and will consider two-year) fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development and poverty alleviation. The multidisciplinary program offers a competitive stipend, as well as support for travel and research expenses. Postdoctoral Fellows have no teaching responsibilities and minimal administrative duties.

Application Details

The Stanford Center on Global Poverty and Development invites applications for multi-disciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2019 for one year (and will consider two years). The Center's postdoctoral fellows program is intended for promising new and recent PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to critical issues for international development and poverty alleviation.

The Center's postdoctoral fellows will be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University. The Center provides a competitive salary plus support for travel and research expenses.

For information, please visit <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/research/postdoctoral-fellows-program>

For full consideration, please submit all materials by December 1, 2018 via the online application form here: <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/postdoctoral-fellow-application-form>

Application Instructions:

Please apply online with the following materials: (1) Cover Letter, (2) Curriculum Vitae, (3) Job Market Paper or Writing Sample, and (4) Three Letters of Recommendation. Please submit items 1-3 in one PDF document through the online application form here: <https://globalpoverty.stanford.edu/postdoctoral-fellow-application-form> Recommenders can submit letters directly to globalpoverty@stanford.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 12/1/2018

Date Posted: 9/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4639

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, and Endowed Chair Innovation, Science, Technology, and Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego invites applications for a tenured Endowed Chair of Innovation, Science, Technology, and Policy at the rank of Associate or Full Professor, to begin July 1st, 2019.

The faculty at the School of Global Policy and Strategy (gps.ucsd.edu) represents a broad range of academic backgrounds, including both social and physical sciences. We are united by a desire to understand, design, and rigorously test solutions to promote human advancement and mitigate against pressing challenges to human welfare and global issues.

We anticipate that the Endowed Chair of Innovation, Science, Technology, and Policy will expand our leadership at the interface of STEM fields and policy. We are looking for candidates with an outstanding record of research and leadership both within their field of training, and in the intersection of that field with questions of policy, welfare, or justice. Domains of interest include, but are not limited to: climate and the environment, critical infrastructure, cybersecurity, data and privacy, development engineering, digital technology and automation, energy, health, and technological innovation.

Applicants should be PhD graduates (or equivalent terminal degree in a research discipline) with proven leadership and scholarship records. The School of Global Policy and Strategy is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service, and contribute to -- and participate in -- our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in higher education. We welcome applications from both STEM and social science scholars who can develop rich links to other UC San Diego units, including the Jacobs School of Engineering, Scripps Institution of Oceanography, Health Sciences, and the Halicioglu Data Science Institute.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales.

Application review will begin on November 25, 2018.

To apply:

Candidates should submit the following materials to UC San Diego Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01863>:

Curriculum Vitae

Two writing samples

A personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching

Three (3) contacts for reference

A summary of past and potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>).

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4743

American Association for the Advancement of Science

Rank: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellows

Call for Applications: AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships

Applications are now being accepted for the AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships (STPF). This professional level fellowship is the premier opportunity for outstanding scientists to learn first-hand about policymaking, bring valuable expertise to policy, and enhance political science in the federal government.

Gain hands-on policy experience, help develop and execute solutions to address societal challenges, and join a strong corps of over 3,100 policy-savvy alumni fellows working across sectors to serve the nation and citizens around the world. Fellow contributions can include policy research, content analysis, and budgeting and research for interdisciplinary programs.

Fellows serve yearlong assignments in all three branches of the federal government in Washington D.C. and represent a broad range of backgrounds, disciplines and career stages. STPF is seeking candidates with strong social and/or behavioral science credentials, an interest in career transformation and a desire to enhance federal policy.

Application deadline for the 2019-20 fellowship year is November 1, 2018. Eligibility requirements include U.S. citizenship and a doctoral level degree.

Apply today! <http://go.stpf-aaas.org/socialscience.html>

QUALIFICATIONS

- Doctoral-level degree (PhD, MD, DVM, DSc, etc.) in any scientific, social science, or engineering discipline,
- U.S. citizenship.

STIPEND & BENEFITS

- $75,000–100,000.
- Health insurance
- Travel/training and relocation allowances.

ONLINE APPLICATIONS DUE: November 1, 2018 https://fellowshipapp.aaas.org/applications/?utm\_campaign=2018-Recruitment&utm\_medium=web&utm\_source=socialscience&utm\_content=jobpost

FELLOWSHIP YEAR: September 1, 2019 – August 31, 2020

For more information and to apply: <http://go.stpf-aaas.org/socialscience.html>

Questions? Email fellowships@aaas.org or call 202-326-6700

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4738

University of Illinois at Chicago

Rank: OPEN RANK PUBLIC HEALTH POLICY FACULTY POSITION

OPEN RANK PUBLIC HEALTH POLICY FACULTY POSITION

Division of Health Policy and Administration (HPA) School of Public Health University of Illinois at Chicago

The Division of Health Policy and Administration (HPA) in the School of Public Health at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) invites applications for up to two tenure-track or tenured faculty positions in public health policy at the Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor level beginning Fall 2019.

Candidates for these positions must have a doctorate/terminal degree in health policy, public policy, social policy, political science, law or a related discipline or expect one by August 2019. Ideal candidates will have strong empirical skills (quantitative, qualitative, or mixed methods) and will focus on chronic disease-related or health behavior-related public health policy issues. A strong record of teaching, publications and experience with extramurally funded research grants is expected commensurate with stage of career.

HPA offers MPH, MHA, and PhD degrees as well as several certificate programs. Evaluation of applications and nominations will be ongoing until the position is filled, but preference will be given to those received before October 26, 2018.

UIC is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Illinois conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of contingent offer of employment. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

To apply please provide a cover letter, CV, research papers, and three letters of recommendation as directed through <https://jobs.uic.edu/jobs.uic.edu>. Search committee members will be interviewing prospective candidates at the APPAM and APHA meetings in November 2018, though other interview arrangements will be made for promising candidates not attending these meetings. For questions regarding the position contact search committee chair, Dr. Jamie Chriqui at <mailto:jchriqui@uic.edu>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/26/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4728

University of South Carolina

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in public administration/public policy to begin August 16, 2019. The positions are open with regard to substantive specialization. We seek candidates with rigorous, theoretically-informed research agendas who have published in or demonstrate the promise of publishing in leading public administration and/or political science outlets. Successful candidates will be able to contribute to the department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration program, with the ability to teach core and elective classes in this program. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or a closely related field of study is required by the start date of appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, statements of research and teaching interests, graduate transcript, and contact information, including telephone number and email address, for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation. Applications received by September 30, 2018 are assured full consideration. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/>.

Please contact the search committee chair, Susan Miller (sumiller@mailbox.sc.edu), with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 "Best Colleges" according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/30/2018

Date Posted: 8/29/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4732

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor - Infrastructure and Data Science - Goldman School of Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Economic Policy, Housing

Recruitment Period

Open August 25th, 2018 through October 15th, 2018

Description

TENURE-TRACK FACULTY POSITION

GOLDMAN SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY AT UC BERKELEY

The Goldman School of Public Policy at the University of California, Berkeley, invites applications for a tenure-track appointment to the faculty at the Assistant Professor rank, with an expected start date of July 1, 2019.

We seek applications from intellectually rigorous and exciting scholars who focus on public policy and who can teach innovative courses to our diverse student body. We are especially interested in candidates who are trying to address infrastructure-related policy problems (including transportation, housing, communications, energy, water, cities, and health care) and who will engage with University-wide data science efforts.

The Goldman School encourages applications from individuals of any scholarly discipline whose research focuses on these questions, including those in public policy, political science, economics, statistics, sociology, civil engineering, urban affairs, management, or demography, or data scientists with roots in computer science, schools of information, and other fields. The Goldman School is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their research, teaching, and service. Preference will be given to scholars who have demonstrated the potential to make significant research contributions and who have a clear interest in teaching in the core of the School's Masters in Public Policy professional program. Public-sector experience is also desirable.

Minimum Basic Qualifications: The minimum qualification required to be considered an applicant for the position is a Ph.D. or equivalent international degree, or the completion of all degree requirements (except the dissertation) at the time of application.

Applications: To apply, please go to the following link: <http://apptrk.com/1283038>

Candidates should submit the following materials for a complete application: a cover letter; a current curriculum vita; a statement of research; at least one sample of a significant research piece; a statement of contributions to diversity (a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service. For additional information go to <https://ofew.berkeley.edu> recruitment/contributions-diversity); and a minimum of 3 letters of recommendation. Teaching materials (a teaching statement and/or teaching evaluations) and are optional. The deadline to submit an application is October 15, 2018. Early applications are encouraged.

If you have any questions, please contact Assistant Dean for Administration & Operations Sandi Ketchpel, Goldman School of Public Policy, 2607 Hearst Ave., Berkeley, CA 94720-7320, or via email at gsppfacsearch@berkeley.edu.

Letters of Reference: Candidates must request a minimum of three confidential letters of reference through the online application system by October 15, 2018. Letter writers should submit all letters by November 1, 2018.

Confidentiality Policy: All letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality: <http://apo.berkeley.edu/evaltr.html> prior to submitting their letters.

Berkeley is committed to addressing the family needs of its faculty, including dual career couples, new parents, and single parents. Please visit the Office for Faculty Equity & Welfare home page at <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty> for more information.

The deadline to submit an application is October 15, 2018. New applications after that date cannot be considered. Early applications and letters of reference are encouraged, but all complete applications received by the final date will receive full consideration.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

Job location
Berkeley, CA

Requirements
Document requirements

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Statement of Research
- Significant Research Sample - At least one sample of a significant research piece, something which demonstrates the potential to make significant research contributions to the field.
- Statement of Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service. For additional information go to <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity>.
- Significant Research Sample - At least one sample of a significant research piece, something which demonstrates the potential to make significant research contributions to the field. (Optional)
- Teaching materials - A teaching statement and/or teaching evaluations (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 letters of reference required

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-5be5a6462ffb70479deae6771f9f21b6>

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4722

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Faculty Position in Metropolitan and Urban Studies in the Global South

Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

University of California, Los Angeles

Department of Urban Planning

Faculty Position in Metropolitan and Urban Studies in the Global South

UCLA's Department of Urban Planning invites applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in Metropolitan and Urban Studies in the Global South, which we consider to include Asia, Africa, and Latin America. We encourage applicants with a broad range of research topics, which might include urban and peri-urban politics and governance, corruption and state capacity, city building and land development, the development industry, global capital flows and urban transformations, violence and policing, displacement and refugee populations, metropolitan infrastructure development and management, urban social movements, and comparative work, especially South-South comparison. We not only welcome scholars from urban studies and planning, but also those trained in other theoretical and methodological approaches, and from multidisciplinary backgrounds.

We expect our new colleague to take the lead in advancing collaborative and interdisciplinary research on cities and metropolitan regions in the Global South with colleagues at UCLA and beyond, in addition to teaching courses in our professional Masters in Urban and Regional Planning program and our new undergraduate major in Public Affairs.

To apply, please submit a brief cover letter, a research statement of less than 500 words highlighting scholarly contributions of recent research and plans for the near future, at least one publication or writing sample, a teaching statement of less than 300 words outlining the content of a class you would like to teach, and three letters of recommendation.

The Department of Urban Planning, in the Luskin School of Public Affairs, currently hosts 16 tenured/tenure-track planning faculty, seven affiliated tenured/tenure-track faculty, four visiting practice faculty, five active professors emeriti, 38 Ph.D. students, 148 master's students, and 60 undergraduate minors across its large, diverse, and highly selective Ph.D., master's, and undergraduate programs. We have a tradition of intellectual leadership in urban and regional studies and design, and our faculty, students, and alumni are committed to social justice and progressive planning ideals.

Los Angeles is a global city renowned for its dynamism, robust economy, rich cultural diversity, spectacular climate, as well as high levels of inequality, poverty and homelessness, residential segregation, and traffic. The UCLA Luskin School of Public Affairs is an interdisciplinary school with highly ranked departments of Social Welfare and Public Policy. All faculty in the Luskin School of Public Affairs (including the departments of Social Welfare, Urban Planning, and Public Policy) have opportunities to participate in current school initiatives in global affairs, digital technologies, the environment, democracy and inequality, global development, Latin American cities, and social justice, equity, and opportunity.

UCLA offers competitive salary and attractive benefits packages, including a housing assistance program for new faculty members. The University of California seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. The Department of Urban Planning in particular is committed to diversity and excellence in our faculty, students, and scholarship, and we especially encourage candidates who share and can contribute to this commitment. A separate statement that addresses past and/or potential contributions to equity, diversity, and inclusion must also be included in the application materials.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

While we expect to appoint at the rank of Assistant Professor, we will consider applicants and appointments at all levels. We expect candidates to hold a Ph.D. in urban planning or a related discipline. The expected start date is July 1, 2019. All materials must be submitted via UCLA Academic Recruit by Thursday, November 1, 2018, to be guaranteed full consideration.

To Apply, visit:

<http://apptrkr.com/1283025>

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 11/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/28/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4719

Australian National University

Rank: Academic Level B-C (Lecturer/Senior Lecturer)

Specializations: Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Quantitative Methods, Australia

We welcome applications from candidates with expertise in the area of Public Policy.

Successful candidates will have outstanding records of demonstrated excellence in research, publications, and education. As well as teaching, the appointee will be expected to have an active research agenda, supervise Honours and PhD students and work collegially with other members of the Schools.

The standard teaching load is three courses per year, plus work with honours and graduate students.

The School of Politics and International Relations is based in the nation's capital, Canberra, and ranked as the leading international relations department in the country as well as one of the top 10 in the world for political science and international relations.

This positions are based in Canberra.

ANU provides attractive benefits and excellent support to maintain a healthy work/life balance and offers generous remuneration benefits, including four weeks paid vacation per year, assistance with relocation expenses, 17% employer contribution to superannuation and eligibility to apply for 6-month research leave every three years.

For more information on working at ANU please visit <http://hr.anu.edu.au/employment-at-anu>

For more information, please contact Dr Andrew Banfield,
E: Andrew.banfield@anu.edu.au

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 4718

Duke University

Rank: Associate Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

DevLab@Duke connects social scientists at Duke University who work in international development with the community of development practitioners. The Lab works directly with donors such as USAID and the World Bank on research opportunities, the promotion of evaluable programming, and on impact evaluations themselves. The Lab also works with implementers, such as RTI, DAI and others at the project proposal stage as well as the implementation and monitoring/evaluation stages. We are cross-sectoral, interdisciplinary, and interested in pushing the boundary between the academic and policy worlds with a permanent eye toward improving the lives of the poor.

DevLab@Duke seeks an Associate Director to work with our team of scholars and graduate students focused on applied international development. Primary responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Maintaining and expanding our relationships with the international development industry, including donors and implementers.
- Grant conceptualization, proposal preparation, grants management and report writing. Above and beyond proposal preparation, the Associate Director will play a key intellectual role in helping to design research for funding proposals.
- Oversight of data efforts bearing on impact evaluations and other research, including an innovative project that combines machine learning and forecasting with coordinated, cross-country field experiments aimed at defending civil society in repressive environments.
- Coordination and facilitation of regular DevLab meetings.
- Research support to academic publications; we also welcome candidates with independent research agendas as there will be many opportunities to help design large field experiments, develop original surveys, etc.
- Engage closely with multiple interdisciplinary research teams working across a broad swath of development sectors.

The ideal candidate is a self-starter, has a PhD in a social science discipline (MAs with considerable experience are welcome to apply) and experience with both the academic and policy sides of impact evaluations in developing countries. Though the position is based in Durham, NC it will involve modest domestic and international travel.

Required Qualifications:

- 3+ years of field experience on impact evaluations and related research.
- Experience coordinating research in developing countries.
- Experience with budgeting and administration in the international development industry.
- Demonstrated success writing research proposals and interacting with private and public donors.
- Data analysis skills.
- Strong interpersonal skills and eagerness to work in a lab-like setting.

Desired Qualifications:

- Experience with IRB procedures.
- Experience developing survey instruments.
- Advanced data analysis skills.

There is no deadline for applying to the opening; applications will be considered on a rolling basis starting immediately. The position comes with competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for one year with possibility of renewal for up to three years.

Duke University is located in Durham, North Carolina. Durham and the surrounding Research Triangle are home to several major universities and a booming cultural life. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status. For questions, please contact David Dow at david.dow@duke.edu. Those interested should access the following link: <https://forms.hr.duke.edu/careers/external.php?reqid=104447BR>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4700

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, Trade, International Political Economy

The Department of National Security Affairs at the Naval Postgraduate School seeks applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant/Associate professor interested in research and teaching in the fields of either international or comparative political economy. Specialists with regional expertise in Europe or the Middle East and/or with a relevance to national security affairs, defense policy, or maritime policy are especially encouraged to apply. Relevant expertise might include international economic negotiations, global/regional economic regimes, comparative economic policies, trade sanctions, and the political economy of violence. Candidates should demonstrate a strong potential for teaching excellence and scholarly research. The successful candidate must also be prepared to teach an introductory Masters-level course on the politics of global economic relations or comparative economic systems, as well as courses in his/her specific research specialty.

The Naval Postgraduate School is a fully accredited graduate school the students of which are drawn from the armed forces and civilian agencies of the United States and other countries. The Department of National Security Affairs is multi-disciplinary, with curricula based on Political Science, History, and Economics. Tenure-track professors typically teach a 2-2 load on a quarter system and are expected to maintain an active portfolio of academic research, publishing, and institutional service.

Minimum qualifications:

- An earned doctoral degree from an accredited institution
- Evidence of teaching aptitude
- Evidence of potential to advise student theses and dissertations
- Evidence of strong potential for scholarship leading to scholarly publications

Employment requirements:

- U.S. citizenship is required
- Background check and eligibility for a Secret-level clearance

Applications should include a CV, cover letter (including teaching and research interests), official graduate transcripts, and syllabi of relevant courses taught, preferably at the graduate level. Candidates should also submit up to three writing samples and three letters of recommendation. These confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted separately. ABDs are welcome to apply with the understanding that the award of a Ph.D. degree is a condition of employment. Applications will be accepted until October 15, 2018. Expected start date is in the fall of 2019.

Address applications and supporting materials electronically to the National Security Affairs Department at nsadept@nps.edu.

Questions and any other inquiries may be directed to:

Prof. Anne Clunan
Chair, Political Economy Search Committee
Department of National Security Affairs
Naval Postgraduate School
Monterey, CA 93943
alclunan@nps.edu

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Relocation package, including recruitment/relocation incentive may be authorized.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>

NOTE: IF YOU ARE A VETERAN, you are strongly encouraged to identify your Veterans' Preference on your resume or elsewhere in your application package (type of preference, dates of service, date of VA letter, character of service, etc.).

Additional Veterans' Information: if you are not sure of your preference eligibility, visit the Department of Labor's website: <http://dol.gov/elaws/vets/vetpref/mservice.htm>

For more veterans' preference information, visit: <http://www.fedshirevets.gov/job/vetpref/index.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4711

U.S. Naval Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

The Political Science Department of the United States Naval Academy invites applications for tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in American Politics beginning August 2019. Application review will begin on 01 October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The U.S. Naval Academy is a service academy and top tier liberal arts college with a commitment to excellence in faculty teaching, research, and service. American Politics scholars with expertise in public policy; race, gender, and ethnicity; or political philosophy are encouraged to apply. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. Candidates should have a robust research agenda and demonstrate potential for research excellence, as well as a strong commitment to student advising and institutional service.

For more information about this position and how to apply please visit the USNA position announcement at <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/AsstProfessor-PolSciAY19.php>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4715

Smith College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Government and Statistical & Data Sciences

The Department of Government (GOV) and the Program in Statistical & Data Sciences (SDS) at Smith College invite applications for a joint, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin July 1, 2019.

By time of appointment, the applicant must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely-related discipline (e.g., public policy) -- as well as advanced training in statistics, data science, or a closely-related field. We are particularly interested in candidates specializing in American politics whose research is interdisciplinary or who place American politics into cross-national comparative perspective. Statistical and Data Science specializations may include the public policy implications of data storage and mining, machine learning and public health, modeling of voting behavior, polling and election forecasting, data privacy policy, or computer algorithms for law enforcement and sentencing.

Faculty members at Smith teach four 4-credit courses per year. The position has a joint teaching commitment to GOV and SDS, split evenly. In GOV, we anticipate that the person would teach introduction to public policy, introduction to American government, and an upper-level course in which students analyze data. In SDS, we anticipate that the person would teach introductory statistics or data science, as well as intermediate and advanced-level courses, such as multiple regression, machine learning, data journalism, data visualization, and text mining. Candidates from groups underrepresented in STEM are encouraged to apply.

Located in Northampton, MA, Smith College is the largest women's college in the country and is dedicated to excellence in teaching and research across the liberal arts. A faculty of outstanding scholars interact with students in small classes. Tenure-track faculty members teach two courses each semester, mentor and advise undergraduates, and enjoy a generous sabbatical policy. The Five College Consortium -- comprising Smith, Amherst, Mount Holyoke and Hampshire Colleges, and the University of Massachusetts-Amherst -- provides a rich intellectual and cultural life. Details about GOV and SDS may be found at <https://www.smith.edu/gov/> and <https://www.smith.edu/sds/>.

Submit application at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53767> with a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, a research statement and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018.

Diversity and a culture of inclusion among students, faculty, administration, staff, and curriculum are crucial to the mission and values of Smith College. Smith welcomes applicants from a range of backgrounds including, but not limited to, those based on ability, age, ethnicity, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation and veteran status.

Smith is committed to providing an accessible application process for individuals with disabilities and encourages applicants to request any needed accommodation(s).

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4686

Colorado College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Law & Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Other

Colorado College is hiring a tenure track assistant professor in environmental law and policy to join the college's interdisciplinary environmental studies program beginning in August 2019. The position requires expertise in environmental law and policy as well as an ability to engage in interdisciplinary approaches to environmental questions. The successful candidate will be able to teach courses including Environment & Society (an interdisciplinary introductory environmental studies course), U.S. Environmental Law & Policy, International Environmental Law & Policy, and electives in their field of expertise. The ideal candidate will be a JD/PhD who has worked in the field of environmental law and can teach courses that incorporate environmental case law. Yet they will also be able to situate the law within broader political and social questions of the relationship between humans and the environment.

The College actively promotes a dynamic and inclusive environment in which students and employees of diverse backgrounds, cultures, and perspectives can learn and work. Applicants should describe the ways in which they can contribute to this goal in their cover letter.

One distinguishing feature of Colorado College is its Block plan, in which professors teach, and students take, one course at a time. Each block is three and a half weeks long, and professors teach six of the eight blocks in an academic year. Applicants must be committed to high quality, innovative undergraduate teaching. Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if available. The block plan lends itself to field and project based teaching. Funds and logistical support for field trips and community based learning projects are available through the college and through the environmental studies program.

Preferred Qualifications: J.D. and Ph.D.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. is required by the start of employment; expertise in environmental law

Applications should include: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) a writing sample, and (6) a graduate school transcript. Optional documents: Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness (e.g. syllabi, course evaluations, etc.).

Applications must be submitted through <https://employment.coloradocollege.edu/postings/3477>

All applicants will need to list at least three references to submit a letter of recommendation. The application site will send emails to references with instructions for electronic submission.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4680

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Full Time Coordinator/Lecturer

Subfield(s): Methodology, International Relations, Public Policy

The Center for Advanced Governmental Studies of the Advanced Academic Programs of Johns Hopkins University, based in Washington, D.C., is seeking a full-time, non-tenure track faculty member. The Center houses six master's degree and five graduate certificate programs. This includes the following programs: MA in Government, MS in Government Analytics, MA in Public Management, MA in Global Security Studies; Certificate in Intelligence; Certificate in Science, Technology, and International Security; and the Certificate in Nonprofit Management. These programs educate students who wish to apply rigorous academic concepts to policy-related careers.

The person hired for this new faculty position will be an academic coordinator for the Center and will teach 5 courses per year including courses in quantitative and qualitative research methods. The candidate must have proficiency in R and online teaching experience is preferred. Other responsibilities of this position include speaking with prospective students, serving on admissions committees, advising students, reviewing capstone or thesis papers prior to defense, assisting with the recruitment of adjunct faculty, and supporting outreach efforts on social media and at information sessions.

The ideal candidate will have a Ph.D. and teaching experience in any of the following subfields, the study of political institutions, survey methods and public opinions, parties and elections, democracy studies, international development, security studies, cyber policy, or public policy analysis. Practitioner experience in government, government consulting, or politics is especially desirable.

This position has a 12-month renewable contract. Review of applications for the position will begin immediately for a start date of January 15, 2018.

To apply please send a cover letter which details previous teaching and professional experience, a CV and two current letters of reference to:

Dr. Kathryn Wagner Hill
Director, Center for Advanced Governmental Studies
Advanced Academic Programs, Johns Hopkins University
1717 Massachusetts Ave, NW, Suite 104
Washington, DC 20036

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4650

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polsci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2019. Candidates for this position should be focused on teaching and research in the area of Public Policy. In addition to having a productive research agenda dedicated to the area of Public Policy, candidates must demonstrate potential for teaching excellence at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching courses with significant real-world applicability and service-learning opportunities, in accordance with college and departmental strategic goals of designing undergraduate curricula that emphasize career paths and the knowledge and skills students need after graduation. Although the area of specialization within Public Policy is open, areas especially fitting with this strategic priority might include public policy analysis, program evaluation, and behavioral public policy. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of the appointment.

Oklahoma State University is one of the state's two comprehensive research universities with a Stillwater campus population of 23,000 students. The Department offers the following degrees in Political Science: B.S., B.A. and M.A. The teaching load is normally two courses per semester. Completed applications received by October 1, 2018 will be given full consideration. Applicants are asked to apply online at Publicpolicyad@okstate.edu and submit: a letter of application, vitae, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, evidence of successful teaching and scholarship, and statements of teaching and research interests.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and minorities. Currently, 37 percent of our undergraduate majors are minorities. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic minority groups and 55 percent are female. Oklahoma State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/E-verify employer committed to diversity and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against based on age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or other protected category. OSU is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and desires priority referrals of protected veterans for its openings. OSU will not discharge or in any other manner discriminate against employees or applicants because they have inquired about, discussed, or disclosed their own pay or the pay of another employee or applicant. However, employees who have access to the compensation information of other employees or applicants as a part of their essential job functions cannot disclose the pay of other employees or applicants to individuals who do not otherwise have access to compensation information, unless the disclosure is (a) in response to a formal complaint or charge, (b) in furtherance of an investigation, proceeding, hearing, or action, including an investigation conducted by the employer, or (c) consistent with the contractor's legal duty to furnish information. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4651

University of British Columbia

Rank: Director, UBC School of Public Policy and Global Affairs

Director, UBC School of Public Policy and Global Affairs

The Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia – Vancouver seeks an outstanding candidate for the position of Director of the UBC School of Public Policy and Global Affairs. The appointment as Director, anticipated to begin July 1, 2019, carries an initial five-year term, with the possibility of reappointment for a second term.

Formed in 2017, UBC's School of Public Policy and Global Affairs is a Professional School dedicated to global affairs and a broad approach to public policy issues. Bringing together scholars and practitioners across a wide range of research fields in the social, natural and applied sciences, as well as the humanities, the School fosters a deep interdisciplinary approach to complex local, national, and global problems, drawing upon its research expertise in the domains of sustainability, security and social justice, and its long-established strengths in Asia and democratic governance. The School is currently home to the Institute of Asian Research, the Liu Institute for Global Issues, the Centre for the Study of Democratic Institutions, and the Canadian International Resources and Development Institute and administers a graduate level professional program: the Master of Public Policy and Global Affairs (MPPGA). For information, visit: <https://policyschool.ubc.ca>.

UBC-Vancouver's Point Grey Campus is located on the traditional, ancestral and unceded territories of the Musqueam people, with whom UBC shares a framework Memorandum of Affiliation. For information relating to Aboriginal initiatives that are available at UBC, visit the UBC Vancouver Aboriginal portal at: <http://aboriginal.ubc.ca/>.

The position of Director provides an excellent opportunity for an outstanding scholar who will lead and shape a globally focused policy school for a new era, having primary responsibility for the management and operation of the School, with its world-class, professionally-oriented research and education programs geared toward building policy capacity for multiple sectors. The Director will be expected to maintain a leadership role in a variety of academic and professional settings by engaging stakeholders in business and government, enhancing and transforming public policy dialogue, and providing a global perspective on public policy research and education.

The Director will report to the Dean of the Faculty of Arts, chair the School's Partnership Council, and participate in the School's Advisory Council. Responsibilities will include: leading the School's visioning and planning processes; setting strategic directions for the School; maintaining the School as an interdisciplinary hub for research, scholarship, and knowledge exchange; fostering research excellence; developing scholarly initiatives; recruiting, mentoring, and evaluating faculty; supporting academic programs and initiatives to ensure a high quality learning environment; maintaining and enhancing community, alumni, and donor partnerships; overseeing the financial health of the School; developing the School's internal policies and procedures on governance and administrative matters; and continuing to build the profile of the School locally, nationally, and internationally.

We seek applicants who have a PhD, a distinguished record of research publications and scholarship activity commensurate with appointment at the rank of Full Professor (or senior Associate Professor may also be considered), a record of high quality undergraduate and graduate teaching, and graduate supervision, a record of policy engagement, which includes public scholarship and experience in engaging government, business, and not-for-profits in policy design, development, and implementation, and a record of leadership and administrative skills. The successful candidate will be expected to demonstrate vision and creativity, to foster a collaborative, respectful, and inclusive environment for students, staff, and faculty, to build relationships with policy leaders at all levels, and to liaise with granting agencies, industry partners, and other research sponsors.

How to apply:

Apply online by October 31, 2018 at: <https://ardo.air.arts.ubc.ca/sppga-application-form/>. Applicants must be prepared to upload a single bookmarked PDF file containing the following items, in the order listed: cover letter; curriculum vitae; and statements (no longer than 1 page each) summarizing their (a) research program, (b) policy engagement, (c) teaching philosophy/practice and ability to work with a diverse student body, and (d) experience in and approach to leadership and administrative roles. Applicants are also asked to provide the names and contact information for four referees who may be approached at a later date to provide confidential and objective assessment of the applicant's suitability for the SPPGA leadership position. Enquiries may be directed to: Marcia Lang via email at marcia.lang\(at\)ubc.caubc.ca) with "SPPGA Director" in the subject line.

Review of applications will begin in October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. At a later stage of the search process, long-listed applicants will be asked to provide evidence of teaching effectiveness.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Métis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 10/31/2018

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 4656

University of Illinois, Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy/ Urban Governance

The Department of Public Administration (DPA) in the College of Urban Planning and Public Affairs (CUPPA) at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) (<http://cuppa.uic.edu/academics/pa>) plans to hire a tenure-track faculty member at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2019.

We seek candidates who bring a strong commitment to an active research program and excellence in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Engagement in service to the profession is also expected. Area of specialization is open, but preference will be given to candidates who can contribute to growing the department's public policy research and course offerings. Candidates should demonstrate their capacity to contribute to the themes embodied in CUPPA's research pillars (as outlined below), to the department's public policy and urban governance focus (US News and World Report recently ranked CUPPA #6 in the country in Urban Policy), and to one or more of the department's other core competencies: nonprofit management, financial management, public management, and survey research.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in public policy, public administration, political science, economics, or a related field by August 2019. Successful candidates will be required to teach a 2:2 load each academic year. Individuals who are members of a recognized underrepresented group are particularly encouraged to apply.

DPA offers two graduate degrees: the Master in Public Administration (MPA) and the Ph.D in Public Administration. The DPA also offers an undergraduate degree (B.A.) in Public Policy and is currently expanding its graduate program to include a Master in Public Policy and a Master of Science in Civic Analytics. The NASPAA-accredited MPA program is currently ranked 34th in the nation by US News and World Report. DPA faculty have been ranked in the top 10 in research productivity over the past ten years by Academic Analytics.

DPA is part of the College of Urban Planning and Public Affairs. CUPPA was created in 1995 as part of UIC's Great Cities Initiative and is now home to two academic departments and ten research centers. In addition to the DPA, the college also houses the Department of Urban Planning and Policy. The ten research centers within the college are: the Survey Research Laboratory, the Urban Transportation Center, the Institute for Research on Race and Public Policy, the Great Cities Institute, the Urban Data Visualization Lab, the Center for Urban Economic Development, the Institute for Policy and Civic Engagement, Center for Public Safety and Justice, the Voorhees Center for Neighborhood and Community Improvement, and the newly established Government Finance Research Center. Research in the college is organized around three pillars: disparities (economic, political, and social), finance (especially state and local government), and governance (urban and regional).

University of Illinois at Chicago is a Carnegie Doctoral Research – Extensive institution and serves as the city's only public research university. With an exceptionally diverse enrollment of over 30,000 students, UIC is one of the only universities in the nation that is designated as both Research-Extensive and Hispanic serving. Located in Chicago's thriving West Loop neighborhood, the DPA provides an opportunity to study public administration, public policy, and urban leadership in one of the world's great cities.

Application Procedure: For fullest consideration, please apply by October 3, 2018 via the UIC application system: <https://jobs.uic.edu/job-board/job-details?jobID=101347&job=assistant-professor-public-administration> (Job ID # 101347). A completed on-line application and the following attachments are required for consideration: a cover letter of interest, curriculum vitae, two sample publications (or other scholarly writing), a one-page statement of research interests, and a statement of teaching philosophy and experience. Please make sure to enter contact information, including email addresses, of three professional references in the application. For specific questions about the application, please send an email to Ms. Sari Buffill (buffill@uic.edu). For questions about the position, please contact Faculty Search Chair Michael Siciliano (siciliano@uic.edu). Active screening of applicants begins on October 4, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Illinois conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of contingent offer of employment. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

The University of Illinois is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of the University of Illinois at Chicago not to engage in discrimination or harassment against any person because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, disability, sexual orientation, unfavorable discharge from the military, or status as a disabled veteran or a veteran of the Vietnam era and to comply with all federal and state nondiscrimination, equal opportunity, and affirmative action laws, orders and regulations.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/3/2018

Date Posted: 8/21/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4655

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Assistant Professor – Public Administration in Political Science

The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona (Cal Poly Pomona) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2019. Candidates with specializations in public administration and public policy are especially welcome to apply.

At Cal Poly Pomona, we cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation. We demonstrate academic quality, relevance, and excellence through our teaching, learning, scholarship, and creative activities with student-centered faculty in an evidence-based culture. Cal Poly Pomona is committed to being the model for an inclusive polytechnic university that inspires creativity and innovation, embraces local and global challenges, and transforms lives.

The Position

The faculty member will be part of a small, collegial Political Science Department and will contribute to a Master's of Public Administration Program. The faculty member will teach and advise in both the graduate and undergraduate program. As part of the political science undergraduate program, the faculty member will be expected to teach courses in one or more of our subfields in accordance to the faculty member's expertise: American politics, public administration, international relations, comparative politics, public law, and/or political theory. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work incorporates a global perspective and a commitment to diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution and the faculty member will be an advisor to many underrepresented minorities and first-generation college students.

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or related disciplines such as Public Policy from an accredited university by August 1, 2019
- University teaching experience
- Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)
- Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work as well as experience working in an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications

Preference will be given to those candidates who have the expertise to work with graduate students on a range of thesis projects in public administration, as well as the ability to teach political science undergraduates. Expertise and work experience in areas such as public policy/program evaluation, urban politics and administration, community development/sustainability, and qualitative methods will be given careful consideration. Preference will also be given to candidates with research interests related to social or racial justice and who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Application Procedure

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications submitted by November 16, 2018. Early response is encouraged. Electronic submissions of all application materials must be submitted online via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53291>

A completed application will consist of:

- A cover letter that describes the candidate's teaching performance, research experience and interests, and that addresses the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;

- A curriculum vitae comprising at least those elements specified on the application form and including the names, titles, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers of at least five individuals who can speak to the candidate's potential for success in this position;
- A 'Student Success Statement' about your teaching, or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced);
- Three recent letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and dated within the past two years). Applicants will provide contact information for recommenders during the application process and the system will contact recommenders and provide a method for uploading letters;
- A completed application form available on the application website;
- An unofficial transcript showing then highest degree earned from an accredited education institution. Finalists will be required to submit an official transcript; and
- Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available.
- Please submit all electronic documents in PDF format.

For further information or clarification, please contact:

Faculty Search Committee
 Dr. Mario Guerrero, Faculty Search Chair
 Political Science Department
 California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
 Phone: 909.869.3887
 Fax: 909.869.6995
 Email: kmalm@cpp.edu (Kim Alm, Administrative Coordinator)

APSA Interviews

Representatives of the department will be available to meet at APSA's Placement Services. Please send a CV to mag@cpp.edu if you are interested in meeting with department representatives at APSA.

The University: Cal Poly Pomona is one of two polytechnic universities in the 23-campus California State University system. Our ethnically diverse student population of approximately 22,000 enrolls in 52 baccalaureate, 26 master's degree programs, 11 credential and certificate programs, and a doctorate in Educational Leadership, presented by 1,200 faculty. We recruit students increasingly from throughout California and beyond. The students are success and career focused and extremely diverse. We are proud of our status as a Hispanic Serving Institution. We have a strong commitment to supporting scholarship, research, and student achievement. Our scenic and historic 1,400-acre campus, once the winter ranch of cereal magnate W. K. Kellogg, is located about 30 miles east of downtown Los Angeles in one of the most dynamic economic and cultural regions in the country, and within an hour's drive of beaches, mountains, and desert. The university is committed to diversifying its faculty and staff and has made educational equity one of its highest priorities. The mission of the university is to advance learning and knowledge by linking theory and practice in all disciplines, and to prepare students for lifelong learning, leadership, and careers in a changing, multicultural world.

The College: The College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences fosters intellectual and ethical development and helps students become individuals who value and apply critical thinking in our complex, diverse and technological world. The College offers introductory and advanced course work in numerous degree and certificate programs across the humanities, social sciences, and performing arts. The General Education program offered to all students enrolled in the University is also central to the mission of the College. The College embraces its role in providing courses and curricula in support of multiple and single-subject teaching credential students. The University's mission to "cultivate success through a diverse culture of experiential learning, discovery, and innovation" lies at the heart of the College's commitment to offer programs that educate the whole person. Additional information is available at: <http://www.cpp.edu/~class/>.

The Department: The Department of Political Science has over three hundred and fifty undergraduate political science majors and approximately fifty students in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program. We also offer a Political Science minor and participate significantly in the university's General Education offerings. The Department sponsors a Model United Nations program and a Mock Trial Team, both with a history of national recognition. Members of the Department have traditionally been actively involved across campus and in the community.

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. The University seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the people of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. Cal Poly Pomona subscribes to all state and federal regulations and prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, sex, gender identity/gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, age, disability, genetic information, medical condition, and covered veteran status. The University hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. As required by the Clery Disclosure Act, the university's annual security report is available at <http://www.cpp.edu/annual-security-report.shtml>. The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 11/16/2018

Date Posted: 8/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4647

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Administration-Public Policy Associate Director

Preliminary announcement pending campus central administrative approval

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for an associate level professor in Public Policy and/or Public Administration to begin Fall 2019. The successful applicant will be Associate Director of the Masters of Public Policy and Administration program and will contribute to the Department's Ph.D. program. Preference for candidates with primary research and teaching interests in Public Policy, including but not limited to public budgeting and finance, energy policy, environmental policy, health care policy, policy process and program evaluation or Non-Profit Management, but all areas will be considered. The successful candidate must have a clear research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed journals. We are particularly interested in applicants who address substantively important questions using rigorous analytical approaches. Preference will be shown for applicants with teaching and research interests that complement existing departmental interests, have a record of extramural funding commensurate with experience, and demonstrate evidence of college/university teaching excellence. The position is a 9-month (maybe 12-month), faculty appointment and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: <http://web.utk.edu/~polisci>. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Instructions for applying will be released once the position is officially approved. If you have any questions or want to talk with someone about the position at the APSA, please contact Prof. Richard Pacelle, Department Head, at rpacelle@utk.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4628

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Policy-Public Administration

Preliminary announcement pending campus central administrative approval

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level in Public Policy to begin Fall 2019. We are looking for candidates who can support the Masters of Public Policy and Administration program as well as the Department's Ph.D. program. We seek candidates with primary research and teaching interests in Public Policy, including but not limited to public budgeting and finance, energy policy, environmental policy, health care policy, policy process and program evaluation. We are particularly interested in applicants who address substantively important questions using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and "big data" applied to public policy and/or administration. The successful candidate must have a clear research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed journals. Preference will be shown for applicants with teaching and research interests that complement existing departmental interests, have a record of extramural funding commensurate with experience, and demonstrate evidence of college/university teaching excellence. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: <http://web.utk.edu/~polisci>. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Instructions for applying will be released once the position is officially approved. If you have any questions or want to talk with someone about the position at the APSA, please contact Prof. Richard Pacelle, Department Head, at rpacelle@utk.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/17/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4627

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration

Assistant Professor in public administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor to teach courses across the public administration core curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD by date of appointment in public policy, political science or a related field.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=6187>. The department will solicit reference letters from references provided in application. For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4615

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant/ Associate/Full Professor

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for faculty positions in international development, politics, and public policy. We are interested in scholars whose research interests encompass the economics of development, the politics of development, international trade, conflict, and crime in international contexts.

The search is open with respect to field and rank. Applicants are invited at all levels (tenure track and tenured), and applicants at the junior and associate levels are encouraged to apply.

Candidates should submit a CV and any accompanying documents such as sample publications online at: <https://tinyurl.com/ycvluq7>. Applicants for the level of assistant professor should provide at least two (three preferred) letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2018. No applications will be accepted after May 15, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4620

University of Chicago

Rank: Associate - Professor

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for multiple senior positions in public policy, political science, economics, and related disciplines. Applicants should submit a CV and any accompanying documents, such as sample publications online at: <https://tinyurl.com/y8j2j5ou>. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018. Screening of applications will continue until the position is filled, however no applications will be accepted after June 30, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/16/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4621

Hamilton College

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a two-year visiting position with possibility for renewal for an additional two years, at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. Teaching load is four courses per year for the first year and five courses per year after. This position covers American politics, public policy, and political theory. Candidates may be from any field but must be able to teach courses from at least two of the three areas listed. Applicants who research the impact of digital technologies or incorporate innovative digital technologies into their research and teaching are especially encouraged to apply. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address the ways in which you would further the College's goal of building a diverse educational environment.

Appointment begins July 1, 2019. ABD or Ph.D. required Please submit a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, a list of courses you are prepared to teach, evidence of teaching performance, and arrange for submission of three letters of recommendation to Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/53422>. We will begin consideration of applications on December 1. Applicants with questions or wishing to be interviewed at the APSA should contact Philip Klinkner, Chair, Government Department, Hamilton College (govsrch@hamilton.edu).

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at www.higheredcareers.com, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/offices/dof/faculty-support-resources/resources-for-prospective-or-newfaculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

ABD or Ph.D. required.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 12/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4601

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for junior faculty positions in Political Science. The search is open with respect to subfield. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by July 31, 2019 and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career. Applicants are required to submit a CV, at least two letters of recommendation (three preferred), and up to two writing samples online at: <https://tinyurl.com/y7avs6af>. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2018. No applications will be accepted after May 15, 2019.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non\_discrimination\_statement/. Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-0287 or email ACOppAdministrator@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/14/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4592

Augustana College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor

The Environmental Studies Program at Augustana College invites applications for a full-time (10-month) Tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning in the 2019-2020 academic year. Augustana College is a selective liberal arts college of 2,500 students, most of whom live on a wooded 115-acre campus. Rock Island, Illinois is one of the Illinois-Iowa Quad Cities along the Mississippi River, a diverse metropolitan area with 400,000 residents approximately three hours west of Chicago.

Augustana College places a high priority on creating an environment supportive of the promotion of ethnic minorities, women, and persons with disabilities. The college is also committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Thus, we are particularly interested in candidates from underrepresented groups with a demonstrated passion for social/environmental justice and working with diverse student and community populations. We encourage applicants, in their letter of application, to address how they will further this goal in their teaching, scholarship, and/or service. Augustana does not discriminate based on age, race, color, ethnic origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability or creed. Details about Augustana, our expectation of the faculty, the selection process, and the Quad Cities all are available at the Faculty Search website: <http://www.augustanafaculty.org/>.

The candidate will play a critical role in teaching courses in the Environmental Studies curriculum, a rapidly growing interdisciplinary program with approximately 100 majors. Teaching responsibilities could include an introductory course on the social dimensions of sustainability, climate change, sustainable energy, upper level courses in their areas of expertise, and contribute to the capstone interdisciplinary sequence by guiding the stakeholder process. The signature sustainability pedagogy of the core curriculum combines team-based and project/problem-based learning. Faculty will be expected to contribute to Upper Mississippi Center for Sustainable Communities (UMC) Sustainable Working Landscapes Initiative (SWLI; matches city identified sustainability problems with courses to create real-world learning experiences for students) or other community-based sustainability projects through their teaching. We encourage applicants to address their experience and/or passion for teaching courses using these pedagogies in their letter of application.

Service as an academic advisor to Environmental Studies majors will begin in the second year of employment. The teaching and supervisory load for this position will total 24 credit hours (courses are typically 4 cr. hrs.). In addition to traditional sabbatical leaves available after earning tenure, a one-semester leave to pursue a scholarly agenda is typically available during the third year of pre-tenure employment. Preference will be given to interdisciplinary candidates and those with areas of specialization in the social sciences or humanities (see below) emphasizing the human dimensions of environmental problems. We encourage applications from those with interdisciplinary backgrounds in both the natural sciences and social sciences/humanities; however, applicants should explicitly demonstrate in their letter of application and teaching and scholarship statements their expertise in the human dimensions of sustainability problems.

Required Qualifications

- Earned Ph.D. (ABD considered) in a sustainability-related field including anthropology, geography, sociology, psychology, environmental or social justice, history, women and gender studies, political economy, political ecology, environmental policy and governance, sustainable development, religion (i.e., eco-theology, creation spirituality, environmental ethics), or a closely related field emphasizing the human dimensions of social-ecological systems.
- Demonstrated experience or willingness to teach project or problem-based courses.
- Demonstrated passion for teaching, integrating, and mentoring undergraduate students in their research.

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience of being the instructor of record for undergraduate level courses; demonstrating a connection to environmental studies a plus.
- Demonstrated expertise and experience in one or more of the following areas: ethnographic methods, conducting participatory (action-oriented) research, working in the decision-making processes, participating in sustainability policy or politics and engaging diverse communities in research and problem-solving.
- Demonstrated interdisciplinary expertise and experience in one or more of the following areas: qualitative methods, root causal analysis, social network analysis, participatory decision-making, institutional analysis, stakeholder engagement, adaptive governance and management, risk analysis, or back-casting and envisioning methods.

Questions may be directed to the co-chairs of the program, Dr. Michael Reisner (michaelreisner@augustana.edu) and Dr. Jason Koontz (jasonkoontz@augustana.edu). This position is contingent on final authorization from the Provost's office.

To apply, please email application materials to sherrydocherty@augustana.edu using the subject line: Search 103-19 Environmental Studies, and directed to Dr. Wendy Hilton-Morrow. Alternatively, application materials can be mailed to: Search #103-19, C/O Dr. Wendy Hilton-Morrow, Provost & Dean of the College, Augustana College, 639 – 38th Street, Rock Island, IL 61201. Application materials should include: a letter of application addressing each qualification, curriculum vitae, copy of graduate transcripts, statement of teaching interests and philosophy (2-page limit) that describes your qualifications to teach above-described courses, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a statement of research Interests and priorities (2-page limit) that describes undergraduate student involvement, a writing sample, and names and contact information for three references that can address your potential for teaching success.

Review of applications will begin September 10.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4580

University of Wisconsin, La Crosse

Rank: Assistant Professor, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse seeks a tenure track Assistant Professor beginning August 2019 who is a dynamic and skilled teacher and researcher in the field of Public Administration & Policy. Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence, student success, and inclusive and engaging classroom practices. The position will also include advising responsibilities, and the potential for teaching the capstone seminar and directing undergraduate research projects. In addition to teaching excellence and scholarly productivity, the Department also places a high value on service to the University and wider community.

Candidates for the appointment should have or be near to completing a doctorate in Public Administration or a related field by the start date. If a doctorate is not yet earned, it must be earned by the first personnel review, no later than May 15, 2020.

The 11-member department offers undergraduate majors and minors in both Political Science and Public Administration and offers courses that serve interdisciplinary minors in Legal Studies; Ethnic and Racial Studies; International Studies; International Business; Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies; Criminal Justice; and Environmental Studies. The Department's vibrant and growing Public Administration major is one of the few such undergraduate programs in the Upper Midwest. The usual teaching load is three preparations and four (3 credit) courses per semester, which may include American National Government, Women and Politics, or other General Education courses.

Required Application Submissions:

1. Cover letter, with a description about how you envision yourself contributing to the department's public administration curriculum
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Names, email addresses and phone numbers for three academic/professional references

Only those applications received by October 1, 2018 are guaranteed to receive full consideration.

Note: Electronic submission of application materials is required. For additional information about this position and to apply, please visit <https://employment.uwlax.edu>

Please contact the Search and Screen Chair if you have a special need/accommodation to aid your participation in our hiring process.

UW-La Crosse has appeared prominently on the U.S. News & World Report list of "America's Best Colleges" for more than a decade and is ranked consistently as one of the top institutions in the Midwest. With a student population of roughly 10,500, the university offers 94 undergraduate programs in at least 30 disciplines and 21 graduate programs in the following colleges: Liberal Studies, Science and Health, and Business Administration, including the School of Arts & Communication and the School of Education, Professional and Continuing Education. There are 520 full-time faculty and instructional academic staff, 76 percent of whom hold terminal degrees. UW-La Crosse boasts a retention rate (freshmen returning as sophomores) of 85 percent, graduation rate (degree within six years) of 70 percent, and is among only 12 institutions cited nationally by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities for its success in linking campus culture and university leadership to outstanding graduation rates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 8/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4573

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Policy

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for one or more tenure-track junior faculty positions. These positions are open with respect to subfield and involve teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/8001>. Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Teaching and research statements are optional. No transcripts are requested at this time. For best consideration apply by September 10, 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-19-POL-00001

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4565

Auburn University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Auburn University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor beginning August 16, 2019. We seek excellent candidates that can complement the strengths of our department. The call is open to candidates in all areas of Public Administration; however, candidates must be able to teach some combination of public budgeting, program evaluation, and nonprofit/public management courses. Candidates should have strong research and instructional skills, and complement the existing teaching strengths in the program. Primary teaching responsibilities are in the Master of Public Administration and undergraduate Public Administration programs.

Required qualifications include an earned doctorate in Public Administration or Political Science by the start date for the rank of Assistant Professor. However, ABDs will be considered for the appointment at the rank of Instructor. The candidate selected for this position must be able to meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States at the time of appointment and to continue working legally during employment; excellent communication skills required.

Review of applications will begin Oct 1, 2018. To apply, visit <https://aufacultypositions.peopleadmin.com>. Candidates are required to include a cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position and courses they are able to teach, a current curriculum vita, an official transcript of all graduate work, contact information for three letters of recommendation, teaching evaluations (if available), a one-page statement of teaching philosophy, and a one-page research statement.

Auburn University is Alabama's largest land grant university, enrolling over 25,000 students. The Political Science Department maintains a diverse faculty of 26 tenured and tenure-track members and offers undergraduate degrees in political science, health services administration, and public administration; a Master's degree program in Public Administration (MPA) with graduate certificates in Election Administration, Nonprofit Organizations and Community Governance; a Master's degree program in Community Planning (MCP), and a Ph.D. program in public administration and public policy.

Direct questions to Dr. Kelly Ann Krawczyk, Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University AL, 36849 Fax: 334-844-5348. Email: kak0037@auburn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4550

RAND Corporation

Rank: PhD Researcher in International/Security Policy

Subfield(s): Non-Academic, Public Policy, Other

RAND advises a variety of defense clients on policy-level decisions relating to defense programs, military systems, future force structure and doctrine, and national military strategy. Working with multi-disciplinary teams, national security researchers apply quantitative and qualitative skills to analyze policy problems of national and international importance, and communicate the results of these analyses to decision-makers.

Qualifications

National security researchers should have demonstrable ability to research and analyze intelligence or defense policy issues. All research positions at RAND require excellent analytic skills; the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in English, both orally and in writing; the ability to work effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team; and a strong commitment to RAND's core values of quality and objectivity.

In connection with national security or defense projects, many positions require that applicants be eligible to receive, or currently hold, a security clearance from the United States government.

Education Requirements

PhD in international relations, area studies, political science, public policy, public administration, or a closely related discipline.

Experience

Applicants may be considered for associate, full, or senior researcher positions commensurate with their experience.

Security Clearance

Some research may require a security clearance. In order to obtain a security clearance, one of the requirements includes U.S. citizenship.

Location

Santa Monica, CA; Boston, MA; Pittsburgh, PA; Washington, DC; (CA, MA, PA preferred office locations)

Writing Sample Required

Two writing samples are required for this position. Pieces that show rigorous use of evidence and logic which are either solo or lead authored are preferred.

How to apply: www.rand.org/jobs/id5011

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer Minorities/Females/Vets/Disabled

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4556

RAND Corporation

Rank: Senior Homeland Security Policy Researcher

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Non-Academic, Other

RAND advises a variety of homeland clients on policy-level decisions relating to homeland security, including: preparedness, resiliency, and emergency response; immigration policy and border control; critical infrastructure protection; cyber security; terrorism and counterterrorism. Working in multi-disciplinary teams, Homeland Security Policy Researchers apply quantitative and qualitative skills to analyze policy problems of national and international importance, and communicate the results of these analyses to decision-makers.

Qualifications

Homeland Security Policy researchers should have extensive knowledge and demonstrable ability to analyze or implement policies involving strategy, doctrine, operations, tactics, systems or organization. All research positions at RAND require excellent analytic skills, and the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in English, both orally and in writing; the ability to work effectively as a member of a multi-disciplinary team; and a strong commitment to RAND's core values of quality and objectivity. Senior positions require the ability to mentor and develop junior staff members, lead and direct multi-disciplinary teams, set project standards and monitor progress, and communicate interim and final results to the RAND community and to policy-making audiences.

In connection with homeland security projects, many positions require that applicants be eligible to receive, or currently hold, a security clearance from the United States government.

Education Requirements

Ph.D. in American government/politics, public policy, public administration, policy analysis, or other discipline closely related to the topics outlined in the Position Description above. Applicants with a Master's degree or a JD degree and substantial research experience will also be considered.

Experience

Applicants should have at least ten years of relevant policy experience in homeland security policy planning and analysis with a record of progressively increasing responsibility. Substantive areas of analysis include: security, threat, and risk assessment; policy analysis; acquisition planning and development; and regulatory assessment.

Security Clearance

U.S. Citizenship is required to obtain a security clearance. An active Secret or interim Secret clearance is preferred.

Location

Santa Monica, CA; Boston, MA; Pittsburgh, PA; Washington, DC (CA, PA preferred office locations)

Writing Sample Required

Two writing samples are required for this position. Pieces that show rigorous use of evidence and logic which are either solo or lead authored are preferred.

How to apply: www.rand.org/jobs/id5003

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer Minorities/Females/Vets/Disabled

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4557

University of Toronto, Mississauga

Rank: Associate Professor/Professor - Urban Innovation

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Urban Politics, Housing, Environmental Policy

The University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM) and the Institute of Management and Innovation (IMI) invites applications for a tenured appointment in urban innovation and governance. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with a projected start date of July 1, 2019. The successful candidate will hold a 49% appointment in the Institute for Management and Innovation and in a relevant cognate discipline at UTM (51%) depending on their area of expertise. The successful candidate may also be appointed as the Director of MUI for an initial term of five years, renewable once.

The successful candidate must have a PhD in political science, human geography, planning or economics and an established and exceptional record of research excellence with an active and creative research program that focuses on urban innovation, a distinguished record of internationally recognized scholarship (which includes evidence provided in the research statement, a record of sustained and impactful publications in premier journals in their field, presentations at national and international conferences, accolades for innovative work and strong endorsements from referees of high international standing). Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, strong letters of reference and the teaching statement, including selected course materials that directly support and illustrate the teaching statement, submitted as part of the application. S/he will also demonstrate a commitment to experiential learning.

The Institute for Management & Innovation (IMI) is planning to start accepting students into its newest program, the Master of Urban Innovation (MUI) in September of 2019. MUI is a new degree professional program that focuses on urban economic development, community capacity building, innovation management, local and regional governance, urban sustainability and real estate development. This degree program aligns with the current programs offered at IMI, maintaining a focus on management, innovation and sustainability, and incorporates the research and teaching strengths from UTM Departments of Geography, Economics, Political Science and the Institute of Communication, Culture, Information and Technology (ICCIT).

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one of the following courses: the core course that focuses on how knowledge generation, learning and proximity interact to support the process of urban innovation and the role that economic governance plays in supporting that process, or a course on the theory, practice and policy of socially sustainable cities. Experience in managing a teaching program in urban economic development and innovation, or experience running a large research or policy-related urban network is considered an asset.

The Director of MUI will be responsible for building the new program, working from the initial curriculum developed by IMI and approved by the Governing Council of the University of Toronto. The successful candidate will inspire and engage UTM faculty and staff to work collaboratively to implement the new Master's program and achieve its successful launch. The successful candidate will have demonstrated ability to work effectively with colleagues from a wide breath of academic disciplines and the ability to inspire both a wide range of academic colleagues, administrative staff, and the initial cohort of students enrolled in the program. Strong leadership and people skills, demonstrated administrative ability, an effective management style, the capacity to integrate diverse interests, and forge a common vision for the MUI program are also required. Additionally, the successful candidate will ensure strong, two-way communications on an ongoing basis to sustain the enthusiasm, engagement and support of all stakeholders across the UTM community.

Salary and academic rank will be commensurate with experience.

All qualified applicants are invited to apply online by clicking on the link below. Applications must be submitted by September 24, 2018 and include a letter of application, an up-to-date curriculum vitae, a research statement with representative publications and a teaching statement including course evaluations and selected course materials supporting teaching quality and experience. The letter of application should also highlight any experience as an academic director or manager. If you have any questions about the position, please contact Professor Soo Min Toh, Director of the Institute for Management Innovation at imi@utoronto.ca. The UofT application system can accommodate up to fifteen attachments per candidate profile

(8MB size limit per attachment); please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) directly to Sue Thomson at sue.thomson@utoronto.ca by the application date, Monday September 24, 2018. Referees should include the candidate's name and "MUI Director Search" in the subject line.

Equity and diversity are among UTM's core values and are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2-page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Housed in a newly expanded building and combining traditional teaching methods with a strong emphasis on experiential education, IMI represents a new approach to management education. IMI takes advantage of the full facilities of UTM as well as participating faculty from other divisions of the University of Toronto to offer multidisciplinary programs that combine the teaching of management with that of specific discipline, technologies, industry sectors or professions. Its graduate programs currently address management and biotechnology, professional accounting, innovation, and sustainability.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 20 in the Times Higher Education World University Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the most diverse regions, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is defined by the cultural diversity in its community. The University of Toronto Mississauga has a strong interdisciplinary commitment to teaching and research, a multicultural student body of more than 15,000 students, and a modern, spacious campus. For more information about the Institute for Management and Innovation, and University of Toronto Mississauga, please visit <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/imi/> and <http://www.utm.utoronto.ca/>.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4554

Williams College

Rank: tenure-track, entry-level assistant professor position in the area of contemporary welfare states and/or comparative capitalisms

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track, entry-level assistant professor position in the area of contemporary welfare states and/or comparative capitalisms. Subfield is open. We seek a scholar with a particular interest in the advanced post-industrial economies and an ability to teach courses on the politics of public policy. Candidates will be expected to contribute both to the Political Science Department and to Williams College's Program in Political Economy, an academic unit and undergraduate major dedicated to cultivating in students an understanding of the intersection of politics and economics in the formation of public policy.

The position's start date is July 1, 2019, and candidates should have the Ph.D. in hand no later than September 2019. Please upload a cover letter detailing current research interests and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample (one article, book chapter, or conference paper), evidence of teaching success, and three letters of recommendation to apply.interfolio.com/53170 and apply.interfolio.com/53170.

Williams College is a coeducational liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams College website (<http://www.williams.edu>). Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams College is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4544

University of Copenhagen

Rank: Associate Professorship(s)

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

We invite applications for one or more positions as Associate Professor at the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Copenhagen. The positions are available from 1 March 2019 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Applications are sought from eminent candidates, who can enhance the Department's research, education and societal impact in any field of specialization within the field of Political Science. In the context of the impact of new digital technologies on the politics and administration of welfare states, the Department seeks to strengthen its research in the fields of public administration, public policy and comparative politics and therefore especially welcome applications for candidates within those fields.

For more on the Department and its pluralistic academic environment, please consult our webpage: <http://politicalscience.ku.dk/about/>

Job Description

General duties attached to the position as Associate Professor are:

- Research within the field of politics and international relations
- Teaching, supervision and examination of undergraduate, graduate and PhD students
- Administrative tasks related to the position
- Research and teaching management
- Project management and external fundraising
- Knowledge sharing with the rest of the society

Emphasis will be put on the applicant's ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the Department through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching, disseminate knowledge and make a knowledge-based societal impact. An associate professor is expected to develop competences and experience within research, teaching and dissemination. Furthermore, the associate professor should have well-developed competences to attract funding within his or her specialist area.

Qualifications

To be qualified for the position the applicant must have research qualifications within the field of Political Science at the level that can be achieved by satisfactorily completing a period of employment at the level of assistant professor or equivalent as well as:

- An aspiration to increase our understanding of the world and its problems based on a proven record of outstanding research, as evidenced in a growing and ambitious publication profile that complements the existing research strengths of the Department and evidence of, or clear plans for attracting, external research funding
- A commitment to contribute to the delivery of an excellent student experience based on a sizable track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas covered by the Department. The Department prefers candidates who can cover more than one of the main courses taught at BSc level.
- An engagement in knowledge exchange and policy-impact in Denmark as well as in an international context. We encourage proactive engagement with government, business and community partners to enhance the impact of research and education and improve the employability of our students.
- Robust interpersonal skills which enables the candidate to be a constructive and empathic colleague in a diverse and vibrant working environment.

We will expect candidates to present a clear, well-developed and viable strategy for future outstanding research that will result in further world-leading publications, external research funding as well as a commitment to innovate teaching

Information

Additional information can be obtained from Head of Department, Professor Mikkel Vedby Rasmussen, Phone: +45 2118 1048 [Ring op: +45 2118 1048] , email: institutleder@ifs.ku.dk

The deadline for applications, including enclosures is 1 October 2018 (at Midnight 23.59 Danish Time)

Please note: Applications cannot be based on this extract. Click here for full announcement: <http://employment.ku.dk/faculty/>

Part of the International Alliance of Research Universities (IARU), and among Europe's top-ranking universities, the University of Copenhagen promotes research and teaching of the highest international standard. Rich in tradition and modern in outlook, the University gives students and staff the opportunity to cultivate their talent in an ambitious and informal environment. An effective organisation – with good working conditions and a collaborative work culture – creates the ideal framework for a successful academic career.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4452

University of Colorado-Denver

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Social Welfare, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Research Methods

The School of Public Affairs (SPA) at the University of Colorado Denver (CU Denver) seeks to fill a tenure-track position in public affairs, to start in August 2019. The position will be at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. We are looking for a candidate with expertise in public administration/management, and we are open to various sub-field areas of expertise. Interest in social equity, civil society, social vulnerabilities, nonprofit management, collaborative governance, emergency management, and/or performance management would be particularly valuable.

At the Assistant Professor level, we seek candidates who have completed PhDs, with evidence of excellence in teaching, publishing, and demonstrated efforts at attaining external grant funding. For consideration at the Associate Professor level, candidates are expected to be an emerging leader in their field, with an excellent record in research, demonstrated through both externally funded awards and publications, as well as excellence in teaching, mentoring, and funding graduate and/or undergraduate students.

We encourage applicants with diverse backgrounds and/or candidates whose research itself focuses on issues related to diversity and/or social equity. We are also open to candidates with a range of different methodological approaches and backgrounds.

The normal class teaching load is 2:2 and can involve teaching opportunities in our PhD in Public Affairs, MPA, and BA in Public Service programs. Applicants should be willing to teach in both face-to-face and online formats. The salary is competitive.

SPA has 28 full-time faculty and is currently ranked #29 in the country by US News and World Report in public management and leadership, and we are ranked in the top 75 programs in the world for public administration by Shanghai Academic rankings. SPA is a NASPAA-accredited MPA program ranked nationally at #34 overall by US News and World Report. In addition to the degree programs mentioned above, we also offer Master's and Bachelor's degrees in Criminal Justice. All programs except the PhD are available fully online, as well as in-person.

Our downtown Denver location provides unprecedented access to a diverse urban environment where policy becomes practice. SPA is a diverse learning community and one of the most culturally inclusive schools on campus, allowing our students to interact with people who reflect their own identity and with others who broaden their horizons.

More than one-third of SPA students are students of color. CU Denver students come from all 50 states and 67 countries.

Denver is one of the fastest growing and most economically vibrant cities in America. Denver's Mayor, along with many other community leaders, are alums of our School. Our city and state are microcosms for research and teaching in public management, environmental policy, local government, nonprofits, emergency management, public health, and public finance.

Our faculty have grown their external funding by 200% over the past 5 years. Faculty currently have grants from NSF, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Rockefeller Foundation, Ford Foundation, Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, St. Louis Community Foundation, the Colorado Trust, the Community First Foundation, the Colorado Department of Public Health and the Environment, the US Department of Health and Human Services, the Annie E. Casey Foundation, and others. SPA faculty routinely attend and present at conferences around the world and are often invited to speak to both academic and practitioner communities on their areas of expertise. SPA faculty are nationally recognized leaders, currently or recently holding positions like NAPA members, PAR editor, PSJ editor, NASPAA Executive Council, ARNOVA board, NVSQ editorial board, and many others.

Many faculty are involved with SPA's Institute for Governance, the applied arm of the school, either through research, training, evaluation, or service. The Institute focuses on translational research, including but not limited to applied research in Colorado, through the work of Centers focused on local government, network sciences and collaborative governance, education policy, criminal justice, and policy process research. The Institute also runs a Certified Public Management (CPM) program and several other leadership development programs. We seek candidates who demonstrate interest in contributing to this mission in some manner.

Generally, SPA is seeking candidates who want to contribute to the dynamic efforts among faculty to support and expand our research and impact, as we continue to be recognized as a top public affairs school. Faculty are committed to working collaboratively and in support of making an impact on the field of public affairs and more broadly, the public sector. We are also committed to graduating high quality students who have the best experiences in the classroom, working alongside faculty in research, and making an impact as graduates who employers seek to hire. We expect that this candidate will quickly become part of an energetic effort to produce the best research and teaching in the field.

Application materials will ONLY be accepted online via the CU Careers job portal.

To apply, please visit <https://www.cu.edu/cu-careers> (Job ID#14311) and submit your curriculum vitae, letter of application summarizing qualifications, and contact information for three professional references. Finalists for the position should be prepared to provide letters of recommendation and evidence of research and teaching proficiency upon request.

Review of applications will continue until the positions are filled with full consideration given to those who apply by October 1, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4487

Waseda University

Rank: Tenured position in Public Policy (Empirical Political Science)

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics at Waseda University invites applications for a tenured position in Public Policy with a focus in empirical analysis. The appointment will be made at the rank of either Professor or Associate Professor, beginning in April 1 or September 1 in 2019.

Waseda University, founded in 1882, is a leading private research university located in central Tokyo. As part of the University's internationalization initiative, the Faculty of Political Science and Economics has offered English-based degree programs both at the undergraduate and graduate levels since 2010. The programs offer a diverse and dynamic academic community to talented students from all around the world.

Candidates must meet the following requirements:

- (1) Have academic research background in Political Science (Public Administration/Public Policy) and be able to teach courses on Public Policy and seminars both in the public management major (Japanese based professional degree program) and the public policy major (English based professional master's degree program starting from September, 2019) and also teach related topics at both the undergraduate and postgraduate level in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics.
- (2) Excellent research achievement including empirical analysis on public policy.
- (3) Be able to conduct research and education on public policy from an international perspective including evaluation of institutional systems and policies in other countries and regions.
- (4) Have a Ph.D. degree, awarded by the start of the appointment
- (5) Experience in teaching courses related to Public Policy
- (6) Be able to conduct classes in both English and Japanese

The salary will be determined based on the University salary table.

Application Procedure

All applications must be submitted via the following website:
https://www.wasedapse.jp/en/fpse1/eng\_input.php.

On the website, choose "Public Policy (Empirical Political Science)" in "Application Category". In "References", provide the contact information of two reference persons whom we may contact to request your recommendation letters. Upload the following documents for the relevant sections of "Application Documents". All documents must be PDF files in English or Japanese.

1. Cover Letter with your contact information: Download the format from website: <https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/08/01/9123/>. And fill out. Upload it at "(1) Application Form/Cover Letter".
2. Curriculum Vitae with a list of academic/professional accomplishments: Upload it at "(2) Curriculum Vitae with a list of academic/professional accomplishments". Free format or format on the website.

3. Statement of Teaching in public policy (About 1000 words): Upload it at “(3) Additional application material 1”. Free format.
4. Three major academic works: Upload them at “(3) Additional application material 2,” “(3) Additional application material 3,” and “(3) Additional application material 4”.

Should you wish to submit a hard copy of your work, please send us a copy by registered mail on or before the application deadline.

Attn: Application for Empirical Political Science in Public Policy
Faculty of Political Science and Economics
Waseda University
1-6-1 Nishi Waseda, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-8050
Japan

Note: The documents submitted will not be returned.

5. Summary of your three major academic works [about 300 words for each work]: Upload it at “(3) Additional application material 5”. Free format.

6. Proof of award of a Ph.D. degree (Copy of a diploma or a transcript): Upload it at “(3) Additional application material 6”.

Deadline

1 p.m., September 21 (Friday), 2018 (JST)

The receipt of application will be confirmed by e-mail within roughly 10 days after the deadline.

There will be three stages in our recruitment process: 1) shortlisting; 2) an interview with the search committee including a mock lecture and a research presentation in English; and 3) an interview with the dean. The first-stage result is expected to be informed in the late October, 2018

Inquiries should be made only by email to:

Email: pse-hr-pubpol@list.waseda.jp

This document in its original form, prescribed forms, and instructions for applicants are available at: <https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news/2018/08/01/9123/>.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: 9/21/2018

Date Posted: 8/3/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4477

Georgetown University

Rank: Senior Tenured Scholar - McDonough School of Business and the Walsh School of Foreign Service

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business (MSB) and the Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS) invite applications and nominations for a senior tenured scholar to hold a joint appointment in both schools. We seek scholars who work at the intersection of business and international affairs in fields such as international political economy, international trade, and international business and public policy. We expect to make this appointment at the level of Full Professor, though we welcome applications from accomplished associate professors. We also welcome applications from and nominations of senior scholars with extensive policymaking experience.

This joint position is one of a number of new interdisciplinary positions at Georgetown intended to foster scholarship and teaching on some of the important problems of our times. Because of our location in Washington, DC, extensive linkages to the international policy and business communities, and strong tradition of scholarship and teaching in business, international affairs, and political economy, Georgetown has a unique opportunity to pursue integrative opportunities in scholarship and educational programs at the intersection of these fields, and the person appointed to the joint position will play an important role in these initiatives.

The MSB and SFS are currently undertaking a transformative cooperation to create a new joint undergraduate degree, the first in Georgetown's history, and plans are also underway for joint centers and research initiatives. This cooperation builds on the success of several joint graduate degrees, as well as a jointly administered Global Business Fellows program for undergraduates. The successful candidate will help provide leadership in deepening and broadening the linkages between the schools.

The SFS is a preeminent international affairs school with deep expertise in international political economy, regional studies, and security studies. The MSB has strengths in core business disciplines as well as international business, public policy, and international political economy. Both the MSB and the SFS are collegial and multi-disciplinary.

ABOUT GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY: Georgetown University is one of the world's leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs. More information can be found here: <https://www.georgetown.edu/>.

ABOUT THE MCDONOUGH SCHOOL OF BUSINESS: Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business attracts faculty and students from around the world. We are committed to developing principled leaders capable of making complex business decisions in a global environment and who are dedicated to serving both business and society. Georgetown McDonough offers undergraduate, MBA, Executive MBA, and specialized programs. More information can be found here: <https://msb.georgetown.edu/>

ABOUT THE WALSH SCHOOL OF FOREIGN SERVICE: The Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS), founded in 1919, is a premier school of international affairs. At Georgetown's Washington, D.C., and Qatar campuses, SFS provides a rigorous education grounded in both theory and practice while instilling the Jesuit values of service. SFS hosts top-ranked undergraduate and graduate studies which feature an interdisciplinary core curriculum that focuses on international affairs, government, economics, history, theology, philosophy, geography, and language. SFS faculty are scholars in political science, economics, history, and cultural studies, as well as professionals with backgrounds in business, government, and the nonprofit sector.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to apply.interfolio.com/52848.

Please send nominations to the same address. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on 1 November 2018, but will accept applications and nominations until the position is filled. Professors Dennis P. Quinn of MSB and Erik Voeten of SFS will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4455

Singapore Management University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Singapore Management University, School of Social Sciences
Assistant Professor in Political Science Positions –

(1) International Relations (IR)

(2) Comparative Politics & Public Policy (CP)

The School of Social Sciences (SOSS), Singapore Management University, invites applications for two tenure-track positions in (1) International Relations (IR), and (2) Comparative Politics and Public Policy (CP), at the rank of Assistant Professor.

(1) International Relations (IR)

We are seeking candidates who are well rounded in International Relations and especially those with expertise in international organizations, regionalism, migration, or human security. The successful candidate will display a record of, or high potential for, scholarly research, as well as demonstrated teaching aptitude. The position requires a doctorate in Political Science, International Relations, or a closely related field. Successful candidates should be prepared to teach both introductory courses and advanced electives in international relations.

(2) Comparative Politics and Public Policy (CP)

The ideal candidate is one who conducts innovative research in Comparative Politics who can also teach Public Policy courses. We are open to research focus, although interest in Asia is a plus. The successful candidate will display a record of, or high potential for, scholarly research, as well as demonstrated teaching aptitude. The position requires a doctorate in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field. Successful candidates should be prepared to teach courses in both the Political Science major field as well as in the Public Policy and Public Management second major.

Singapore Management University is a research university committed to an interdisciplinary and integrated curriculum, providing opportunities to work with faculty across the social sciences. The research support is excellent, and salary and benefits are highly competitive. The teaching load is comparable to other research universities, and typically, junior faculty receive a 3-course per year teaching load for their first contract.

Full evaluation of applications will start 15 September 2018. To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by 11:59pm (GMT) on 14 September 2018. Interviews for shortlisted candidates will begin in October 2018. The successful candidate will be expected to start at Singapore Management University in July 2019.

The application package should be in electronic form (Word or PDF file) and include: (1) a cover letter (including a summary of research and teaching interests), (2) an up-to-date curriculum vitae (including a list of three referees), (3) a 1-2 page research statement, (4) a 1-2 page teaching statement, (5) up to three writing samples, and (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness. The applications should be e-mailed to socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg. Please identify in the e-mail which of the positions you are applying for, with "Asst Prof in IR" or "Asst Prof in CP" as subject.

Applicants should also arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be sent directly to: The Dean's Office, School of Social Sciences, Singapore Management University, 90 Stamford Road, Level 4, Singapore 178903, or e-mailed to: socialsciencescv@smu.edu.sg.

Information about SMU and the School of Social Sciences can be found at www.socsc.smu.edu.sg

Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 9/14/2018

Date Posted: 7/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4440

Utah Valley University

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Science

Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

The Department of History and Political Science at Utah Valley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics to begin in the academic year 2019-2020. We are seeking candidates with expertise in the politics of race and ethnicity, minority politics, immigration politics, media and politics, and public opinion in the United States. We are also interested in candidates who are able to teach survey and experimental methods courses within the department. The person hired will also be expected to teach our large-section introductory course in American politics.

As an Elective Community Engagement designated university by the Carnegie Foundation, Utah Valley University is committed to making teaching excellence inclusive in every aspect of the institution. Diversity, inclusion and equity are prioritized learning resources for all UVU community members. Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an engaged learning environment.

Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science prior to August 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate a potential for outstanding teaching and excellence in scholarship.

Interested applicants must apply for this position via the Utah Valley University job page. Please access the posting at <https://www.uvu.edu/jobs/postings/7932>. All applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a sample of your research, teaching materials (for example student evaluations or sample syllabi), your graduate transcript, and three letters of reference. All materials are due by October 1, 2018.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association conference, please email your curriculum vitae and cover letter by August 15 to Dr. Steven Sylvester, Search Committee Chair at ssylvester@uvu.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance

Employment decisions are made on the basis of an applicant's qualifications and ability to perform the job without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, genetic information, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/1/2018

Date Posted: 7/26/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4437

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, Politics and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in politics and public policy to begin July 1, 2019.

Applicants at the assistant level should be new or recent PhD graduates in political science, public policy, or a relevant policy discipline with a PhD conferred by 07/01/2019. While we encourage applications from scholars studying all areas of public policy, GPS has particular interest in scholars of regional or urban politics and policy-making. Examples include comparative regional or urban politics, regional inequalities, land use, regional planning, sustainable development, political and economic geography, and smart cities. We welcome applications regardless of regional or comparative focus. Junior applicants must have a PhD conferred by July 1, 2019.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01814>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/24/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4421

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Associate Professor, Politics and Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenured Associate Professor position in politics and public policy to begin July 1, 2019.

Applicants should have a PhD in political science, public policy, or a relevant policy discipline. Applicants at the associate level should show a record of outstanding research and teaching in the same fields, as well as evidence of policy engagement, broadly construed. While we encourage applications from scholars studying all areas of public policy, GPS has particular interest in scholars of regional or urban politics and policy-making. Examples include comparative regional or urban politics, regional inequalities, land use, regional planning, sustainable development, political and economic geography, and smart cities. We welcome applications regardless of regional or comparative focus.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including reference information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01815>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/15/2018

Date Posted: 7/24/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4425

Whittier College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

Assistant Professor of Political Science

Whittier College

Whittier College announces a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates specializing in Public Policy and American Politics, and capable of teaching a core course in Public Administration. We would be particularly interested in candidates who might also be able to contribute to any of the following additional areas: race and politics, minority politics, environmental politics, state and local politics with an emphasis on California, and/or political theory.

Candidates should have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science prior to September 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate potential for outstanding teaching and excellence in scholarship. The Political Science Department has five full-time faculty and approximately 90 majors. Faculty members teach 20 units each year and are expected to teach college-wide courses such as First-year Writing Seminars and/or courses paired with faculty in other disciplines as part of our general education program. In addition, all faculty must be fully engaged in committee service and advisement of students.

Preliminary review of materials will begin September 10, and will continue until the appointment is made. If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association conference, please let us know, and send your c.v. and letter of application by August 1. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance. Full applications should include: a letter of application, including discussion of teaching philosophy and research interests; a curriculum vitae; a summary of course evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness; unofficial transcripts; and at least three confidential letters of recommendation, sent by your references. Please email (PDFs preferred) materials to Prof. Deborah Norden, Department Chair, at <mailto:dnorden@whittier.edu>. Paper application and reference letters can be sent to Prof. Deborah Norden, Political Science Department; Whittier College; 13406 Philadelphia St.; Whittier, CA 90601.

Whittier College is committed to attracting and retaining a high quality, diverse faculty with a shared passion for student-centered teaching and mentoring. It is distinguished by its small class sizes, high-impact pedagogies, and innovative liberal arts curriculum blended with professional and pre-professional programs. It is a nationally recognized model for diversity and has no racial majority among its student body. With over 60% students of color, Whittier is designated as both a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and Asian American Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution (AANAPISI). Founded in 1887, it is an independent, four-year liberal arts college with about 1,650 undergraduates and is ideally situated in the scenic hills 18 miles east of downtown Los Angeles. It is an AA/EOE employer. More information on the position is available at www.whittier.edu/jobs.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-4289f6e1d352e841a207bc2342f12ec7>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4413

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in the Field of Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor in the field of public policy.

The McCourt School has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching expertise focus on applying innovative research to find solutions to important public policy problems. Environmental policy (domestic or comparative) and comparative policymaking are two areas where we have especially strong needs.

We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start; the Ph.D. could be in political science, policy, sociology, economics or related fields.

Applications can be submitted at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/11436>. The committee will begin considering applications on September 15th and will continue to do so until the position is filled.

A small number of candidates may be interviewed at the American Political Science Association meeting in Boston. Applicants who submit their applications by August 25th who wish to be considered for APSA interviews should indicate their availability in their cover letter.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4403

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Rank: Class of 1965 Arctic Scholar

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

The Department of Humanities at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy seeks an emerging scholar to fill the Class of 1965 Arctic Scholar position in the Center for Arctic Study and Policy (CASP). Housed in the Department of Humanities, CASP is a policy-focused academic research institution that supports Coast Guard-wide Arctic and polar strategy and policy, while advancing cadet knowledge of the subject areas. The Class of '65 Arctic Scholar will teach 3-6 credit hours per semester, and serve as a principal investigator on research projects in support of CASP. The position offers a competitive salary and generous travel support. In addition, the successful candidate will:

- Assist with grant writing for funding opportunities as determined with the Director.
- Conduct research on policy and strategy in the polar regions consistent with CASP objectives to advance this area of expertise.
- Publish articles, book chapters and other relevant work in scholarly and trade journals, editing volumes and other venues related to Arctic and maritime policy.
- Facilitate learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and personal contacts.
- Plan and coordinate academic conferences, workshops, and symposia pertinent to advancing CASP's strategic objectives.
- Contribute as a faculty co-advisor to undergraduate advanced research projects.

Start Date: Winter 2019

Application Deadline: 9/16/2018

Date Posted: 7/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4350

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Michael A. and Laurie Burns McRobbie Bicentennial Professorship in Global Strategic Studies

Specializations: International Security, Science & Technology, International Law & Organizations

The Department of International Studies in the School of Global and International Studies at Indiana University seeks a scholar specializing in nuclear security, emerging technologies, and strategic studies to begin August 1, 2019. The holder of the position will occupy the &lt;B&gt;Michael A. and Laurie Burns McRobbie Bicentennial Professorship in Global Strategic Studies&lt;B&gt;, and will be hired at the rank of associate or full professor. Applicants of all disciplines are welcome. Qualified candidates are expected to have a Ph.D.

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status. Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vita, three letters of recommendation from colleagues at different institutions, research publications, course syllabi, and, if available, teaching evaluations online at: &lt;U&gt;<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/6242&lt;U&gt;>. Please direct inquiries to the chair of the search committee, David Bosco (dbosco@indiana.edu; Indiana University, Bloomington; Global and International Studies Building, Room 1010; 355 N. Jordan Ave.; Bloomington, IN 47405-1105). &lt;B&gt;Review of applications will begin October 1, 2018.&lt;B&gt; Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4381

Rice University

Rank: Lecturer

The School of Social Sciences at Rice University seeks applicants for a full-time Lecturer in Social Policy Analysis. This non-tenure track position has an initial two-year contract, renewable subject to performance, programmatic need, and budgeting. The Lecturer will teach a minimum of two courses per semester and assist with coordinating the Capstone program, internships, field research opportunities and outreach with faculty and other stakeholders affiliated with the Social Policy Analysis Program. Courses will include the core curriculum (Social Policy, Policy Analysis and the senior-level Capstone course) as well as electives in the the undergraduate Social Policy Analysis major. The position will start in August 2019.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, Public Policy, Sociology or a related Social Science discipline and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

Apply online via <https://jobs.rice.edu/postings/14883>

Submit:

- Cover letter
- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Letters of references (3)

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4355

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics at Rowan University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning in Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and American politics, including judicial and/or state and local politics. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their ability to contribute to the Department's emphasis in Race, Class, and Gender. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship. Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association (APSA) conference in Boston and would like to meet, please send your CV and a letter of application by August 1 to pluta@rowan.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance at APSA. Full applications should be submitted through the online applicant tracking system as discussed below.

Rowan University is a Carnegie-classified Doctoral University (Moderate Research Activity) with approximately 17,300 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20 miles southeast of Philadelphia, with additional campuses in Camden and Stratford. The University comprises seven academic colleges and five schools—the William G. Rohrer College of Business; the Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering; the Colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics; the Cooper Medical School of Rowan University; the Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine; the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences; the School of Health Professions; and the School of Earth and Environment—with an Honors College that spans across disciplines. Rowan is one of two public universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical degree programs. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. Rowan has been recognized as one of the top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked third among public institutions in the North by U.S. News & World Report.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2019. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 12, 2018. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/492980/assistant-professor-of-political-science>. Submit a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US, and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4356

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics at Rowan University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning in Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and American politics, including judicial and/or state and local politics. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their ability to contribute to the Department's emphasis in Race, Class, and Gender. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship. Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association (APSA) conference in Boston and would like to meet, please send your CV and a letter of application by August 1 to pluta@rowan.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance at APSA. Full applications should be submitted through the online applicant tracking system as discussed below.

Rowan University is a Carnegie-classified Doctoral University (Moderate Research Activity) with approximately 17,300 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20 miles southeast of Philadelphia, with additional campuses in Camden and Stratford. The University comprises seven academic colleges and five schools—the William G. Rohrer College of Business; the Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering; the Colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics; the Cooper Medical School of Rowan University; the Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine; the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences; the School of Health Professions; and the School of Earth and Environment—with an Honors College that spans across disciplines. Rowan is one of two public universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical degree programs. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. Rowan has been recognized as one of the top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked third among public institutions in the North by U.S. News & World Report.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2019. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 12, 2018. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/492980/assistant-professor-of-political-science>. Submit a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US, and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4357

Rowan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics at Rowan University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning in Fall 2019. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and American politics, including judicial and/or state and local politics. Applicants are encouraged to discuss their ability to contribute to the Department's emphasis in Race, Class, and Gender. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory and advanced courses in public policy and American politics, as well as a course in quantitative methods. A 3/3 teaching load is guaranteed for the first two years and can be renewed annually with evidence of continuing scholarship. Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer.

If you plan to attend the American Political Science Association (APSA) conference in Boston and would like to meet, please send your CV and a letter of application by August 1 to pluta@rowan.edu. We plan to meet with a limited number of applicants during the conference; however, all applicants will have equal consideration, regardless of attendance at APSA. Full applications should be submitted through the online applicant tracking system as discussed below.

Rowan University is a Carnegie-classified Doctoral University (Moderate Research Activity) with approximately 17,300 students. Its main campus is located in Glassboro, N.J., 20 miles southeast of Philadelphia, with additional campuses in Camden and Stratford. The University comprises seven academic colleges and five schools—the William G. Rohrer College of Business; the Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering; the Colleges of Communication and Creative Arts, Education, Humanities and Social Sciences, Performing Arts, and Science and Mathematics; the Cooper Medical School of Rowan University; the Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine; the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences; the School of Health Professions; and the School of Earth and Environment—with an Honors College that spans across disciplines. Rowan is one of two public universities in the country to offer M.D. and D.O. medical degree programs. The institution is also home to the South Jersey Technology Park, which fosters the translation of applied research into commercial products and processes. Rowan has been recognized as one of the top 100 public universities in the nation and is ranked third among public institutions in the North by U.S. News & World Report.

Candidates should have an earned doctorate in Political Science (or related field) by August 1, 2019. To assure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 12, 2018. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <http://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/492980/assistant-professor-of-political-science>. Submit a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Candidates must be legally authorized to work in the US, and the university will not sponsor an applicant for a work visa for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/12/2018

Date Posted: 7/9/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4358

Towson University

Rank: Assistant Professor of State and Local Government and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: State Politics, Urban Politics, Housing

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR TENURE TRACK SEARCH
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC YEAR 2019-2020

Areas of Specialization: State and Local Government and Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level. The position entails teaching general survey courses in metropolitan studies and state and local government and upper-level courses focusing on state governance and metropolitan development. Background in public policy preferred. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference, although ABDs may be considered if the degree will be completed by the spring of 2019. Applicants must possess a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and show a solid potential for a productive scholarly program. Interest in pursuing external funding is desirable. The teaching load is six courses during the first year, but will rise to seven courses thereafter. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; syllabi of any courses taught; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Donn Worgs, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252. Please reference search: CLA-N-3203.

Application review will begin in October. Initial committee review will end on December 15, 2018.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 12/15/2018

Date Posted: 6/27/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4335

Western Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

The Political Science Department at Western Washington University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in September 2019. The department welcomes applications from all areas of the subfield and all policy areas.

Minimum requirements include: Doctorate or ABD in Political Science with expected completion by June 15, 2019; specialization in one or both of the following: American Political Institutions or Political Behavior, ability to effectively teach introductory and upper division courses in American Politics; ability to develop and sustain high quality research program; ability to work effectively within a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff. Preferred qualifications include: ability to teach introductory research methods, ability and commitment to cultivating learning environments that are equitable and inclusive of students with diverse social identities and backgrounds.

The Department of Political Science has 15 full-time tenured and tenure-track faculty members and approximately 350 majors and minors. Our work bridges American and comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and political theory. Tenure-track and tenured faculty teach two courses per term. Western Washington University, with over 15,000 students in seven colleges and the graduate school, is the highest-ranking public, master's-granting university in the Pacific Northwest, according to the 2017 U.S. News & World Report rankings. Criteria for tenure and promotion are described in the Political Science Department Unit Evaluation Plan, available on request. <https://chss.wwu.edu>.

Interested candidates should submit: letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications, curriculum vitae, syllabi and related teaching material, teaching evaluations (if available), example(s) of scholarly writing, transcript, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials must be submitted through Western's PAGE UP system at <https://careers.wwu.edu/westernpageup.html>. Salary: Commensurate with experience and qualifications. Bargaining Union: United Faculty of Western Washington

Application review begins September 25, 2018; position closes October 15, 2018. Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair, Todd Donovan, at Todd.Donovan@wwu.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 6/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4339

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in National Security & Diplomacy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the broad area of National Security and Diplomacy. The Bush School of Government and Public Service has built an outstanding faculty who are looking to hire a collegial Assistant Professor. We are broadly open to a candidate's regional/topical area of international affairs specialization. Bush School faculty exclusively teach master's degree graduate students in international affairs in a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the required course in introductory-level empirical methods. We have a preference for candidates who would also be able to teach U.S. foreign policy. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics or a related discipline by September 2019. The individual selected will have demonstrated a strong commitment to teaching and research in the context of a public policy graduate school environment. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2019.

Applications must be made through the Texas A&M Workday website. The job number for this position is R-008268.

Applicants who currently are not a Texas A&M System employee please go to our external career site at https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU\_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Tenure-Track--Assistant-Professor-in-National-Security---Diplomacy---International-Affairs\_R-008268

Applicants who currently are a Texas A&M System employee please go to our internal career site at https://www.myworkday.com/tamus/d/inst/15\$158872/9925\$10485.html

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae and a sample of written work.

Additionally, please have three letters of recommendation sent to:

Professor Gregory Gause

c/o Ms. Janeen Wood (preferably as electronic attachments to bushschoolinta-facultysearch@tamu.edu)

The Bush School of Government & Public Service

Texas A&M University

4220 TAMU

College Station, TX 77843-4220

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4323

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant professor

The Department of Political Science (<http://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/home>) seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2019. We seek candidates whose research focuses on American politics and policy. We are especially interested in candidates with interests in political institutions. Priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department's strengths in rigorous empirical, formal, and/or experimental analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate teaching.

Florida State University is committed to broadening the gender, racial, and ethnic diversity of its faculty, and the Department of Political Science shares that goal. The university statement of commitment to increasing the diversity of the faculty and students can be found at http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=diversity/diversity\_home.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation-classified Research I institution. Among its 42,000 students are 7,500 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 375,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdfs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Florida State University is an EO employer. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

Florida State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and racial/ethnic minority applicants are particularly encouraged to apply (http://hr.fsu.edu/?page=eoc/eoo/eoo\_home).

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/17/2018
Date Posted: 6/15/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4308

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2018-19 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2019. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2018 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01751>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Date Posted: 5/30/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4277

Trinity University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Urban Politics, Congress, American Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position beginning August 2019. Candidates should have the PhD completed by summer 2019.

Trinity University values both strong teaching and research. The successful candidate is expected to maintain a strong research agenda, supported by biennial summer research stipends and pre-tenure academic leave. The candidate will teach the lower division survey course in American politics and upper division courses in urban politics, public policy, and legislative politics. The candidate will also be expected to contribute to the university's general education curriculum and strategic plan. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. The teaching load consists of five courses per academic year.

Trinity University is an equal opportunity employer and as such provides equal opportunity for employment and advancement of all employees without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, military/veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any status protected by federal, state, or local laws.

Applicants must submit a cover letter, CV, three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching effectiveness, writing sample, and transcripts to David Crockett, Department of Political Science, Trinity University, One Trinity Place, San Antonio, TX 78212. Phone: (210) 999-8344. Email: dcrocket@trinity.edu.

The position will remain open until filled. Deadline for receipt of applications is September 21, 2018. The department will be interviewing at the APSA annual conference in Boston, and strongly urges applicants to participate in that process.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/23/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 4265

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Research Methods, Women & Politics, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science is seeking applications for a one-year only visiting assistant professor for the 2018-19 academic year. The successful candidate will teach three courses each semester in his or her area of expertise. We are interested in candidates who can teach Undergraduate Research Methods; Women, Politics, and Public Policy; Environmental Policy; and/or International Relations but will consider all applicants carefully for the position. A PhD in political science, international affairs, or a related discipline is required.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public, land-grant University. The Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the C-SPAN Center for Scholarship and Engagement, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as pdf attachments to Annie Wheeldon at polisci@purdue.edu. Applications should include curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, three letters of reference, instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations, and a cover letter discussing the applicant's qualifications for the position.

Review of applications will begin May 31, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Dr. Eric Waltenburg, ewaltenb@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EEO/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4258

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osulivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/29/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3539