

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

June 2019 | Volume 8, Issue 6

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4

American Government and Politics 6

Comparative Politics 25

International Relations 33

Methodology 46

Non-Academic 51

Other 51

Political Theory 62

Public Administration 68

Public Law 72

Public Policy 76

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

June 2019 | Volume 8, Issue 6

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4 (3 listings)

American Government and Politics 6 (46 listings)

Comparative Politics 25 (21 listings)

International Relations 33 (32 listings)

Methodology 46 (9 listings)

Non-Academic 51 (21 listings)

Other 51 (15 listings)

Political Theory 62 (8 listings)

Public Administration 68 (9 listings)

Public Law 72 (16 listings)

Public Policy 76 (listings)

Total listings this issue 180

Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for June

ADMINISTRATION

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Executive Director of Stavros Niarchos Foundation Paideia Program

The University of Pennsylvania, the largest private employer in Philadelphia, is a world-renowned leader in education, research, and innovation. This historic, Ivy League school consistently ranks among the top 10 universities in the annual U.S. News & World Report survey. Penn has 12 highly-regarded schools that provide opportunities for undergraduate, graduate and continuing education, all influenced by Penn's distinctive interdisciplinary approach to scholarship and learning.

Penn offers a unique working environment within the city of Philadelphia. The University is situated on a beautiful urban campus, with easy access to a range of educational, cultural, and recreational activities. With its historical significance and landmarks, lively cultural offerings, and wide variety of atmospheres, Philadelphia is the perfect place to call home for work and play.

The University offers a competitive benefits package that includes excellent healthcare and tuition benefits for employees and their families, generous retirement benefits, a wide variety of professional development opportunities, supportive work and family benefits, a wealth of health and wellness programs and resources, and much more.

School/Center Overview

The Office of the Provost provides direction on all facets of the University's academic mission, including education, faculty, research, online learning, global initiatives, admissions, athletics, student life, and arts and culture. The Provost's Center aggregates programs and offices designed to support University operations, including: the Office of the Provost, the Office of the Vice Provost for Research and its reporting departments (Penn Center for Innovation, Environmental Health and Radiation Safety, University Laboratory Animal Resources, and Regulatory Affairs), the Office of the Chaplain, the Graduate Student Center and Family Resource Center, the Division of Recreation and Intercollegiate Athletics, College Houses and Academic Services, New Student Orientation, the Office of Student Conduct, the Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, the University of Pennsylvania Press, and all of the University's arts organizations (Penn Museum, Institute of Contemporary Art, Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts, Arthur Ross Gallery, and University Art Collection). It also includes interdisciplinary academic centers and institutes that are more appropriately housed centrally than in an individual school, including the Laboratory for Research on the Structure of Matter, the Center for Cognitive Neuroscience, the Center for Neuroscience and Society, the Penn Institute for Urban Research, the Center for Teaching and Learning, Kelly Writers House, and Weiss Tech House. <http://provost.upenn.edu/>

Duties

The University of Pennsylvania seeks an innovative, collaborative and visionary leader to direct the Stavros Niarchos Foundation Paideia Program (Paideia). Paideia is an exciting new five-year pilot program envisioned to be Penn's central hub for educating undergraduates to be informed, engaged and effective citizens, civic leaders, and productive members of the local, national and global communities of which they are a part. From their first year on campus through their senior year, Penn students will actively engage in bridging social, cultural, economic and political divides through a combination of broad-based classroom education in civic discourse and deliberation, community-based research and engagement, and a wide array of additional co-curricular experiences. As currently conceived, Paideia would engage large numbers of Penn undergraduates (who total just over 10,000) in a robust civic education, while also providing a more structured experience for smaller cohorts of student leaders (Paideia Fellows). It will build on, collaborate with, and leverage existing programs and organizations at Penn to make the Paideia Program – and the Penn experience – far greater, and more meaningful, than the sum of its individual parts.

Working with Paideia's Faculty Director, the Executive Director would have primary responsibility for all aspects of the program's design and implementation, including, but not limited to, outreach to Penn students, faculty and staff, designed to integrate the ethic and practice of effective civic engagement across the University. Specific duties will include: identifying, networking, and coordinating with existing Penn programs and centers; forming an advisory board; developing and overseeing four new Paideia courses a year over three years and recruiting faculty to teach courses; identifying and shepherding cohorts of up to 20 students per class to serve as Paideia Fellows; management of the day-to-day operations, including hiring and supervising staff; oversee budget; oversee design and content of website; and teach up to two Paideia courses a year.

Qualifications

PhD in a field relevant to issues of civic engagement, civic education, and/or student development and wellness plus five or more years of related experience or equivalent combination of education & experience; demonstrated record of collaborative leadership, strategic thinking and program development in a university setting; experience as an effective teacher and student mentor; a commitment to the civic mission of higher education; experience advising undergraduates; previous experience supervisory experience; previous experience managing budgets.

Special Requirements

Background check required after a conditional job offer is made. Consideration of the background check will be tailored to the requirements of the job.

Please apply via this link: <http://jobs.hr.upenn.edu/postings/46568>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/21/2019

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 5646

Social Science Research Council

Rank: Program Officer, Anxieties of Democracy

Description

The Social Science Research Council (SSRC) is a Brooklyn, NY-based, independent, international, nonprofit organization devoted to the advancement of interdisciplinary research in the social sciences through a wide variety of workshops and conferences, fellowships and grants, summer training institutes, scholarly exchanges, research, and publications. For more information, please visit our website: www.ssrc.org.

The SSRC seeks to hire a Program Officer to support its work in understanding and addressing the contemporary challenges facing democracy in the United States and around the world. The principal responsibility of the position is to manage, in partnership with the Vice President of Programs, the Anxieties of Democracy (AOD) program, to contribute to the development of democracy-related programming at the SSRC, and to support other relevant aspects of the SSRC's work.

The AOD program is motivated by a concern about whether the core institutions of representative democracies can capably address large problems in the public interest. The program promotes research and dialogue on a range of topics related to democratic functioning—for example, asking how democracies can effectively respond to climate change, deal with challenges to national security, and address the political consequences of a changing economy. With the support of the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and others, the Anxieties of Democracy program aims to mobilize existing research; promote new research; publish and disseminate findings; forge pathways for bringing this knowledge to policy, media, and public audiences; and provide opportunities for new generations of social scientists to address how democracies could govern more effectively. It pursues these goals in consultation with the AOD advisory committee and through a set of activities that includes topically focused working groups, conferences and workshops, a book series in partnership with a major university press, the Democracy Papers blog, and a range of outreach and public engagement activities.

The Program Officer will oversee the day-to-day implementation of this work while participating in the design and development of new activities related to the state of contemporary democracy, including the preparation of new funding proposals. In addition, the Program Officer will collaborate with SSRC colleagues in related programs on the impact of media on politics (including the Media and Democracy program and the Disinformation Research Mapping Initiative) and other areas of work concerned with political participation and public policy.

This is a one-year position, with the potential of renewal based on availability of funding.

Responsibilities:

In partnership with the Vice President of Programs and other colleagues, the Program Officer will:

manage the implementation and further development of the Anxieties of Democracy program, including the development of funding proposals to support program activities;

with the program's advisory committee and SSRC leadership, develop new program directions and conduct oversight of program activities, engage with program funders, and produce reports on program progress;

oversee planning for upcoming events, including conferences, workshops, and working group meetings, as well as manage program budgets;

with the series editors, steer publications for the Anxieties of Democracy book series and serve as managing editor for the Democracy Papers essay series; oversee other program publications as well as the program's online and social media presence;

facilitate connections between scholars and relevant policy and media communities in order to shape broader public debate on how to improve the problem-solving capacities of representative democratic institutions; and liaise and coordinate with various organizational partners on aspects of program implementation.

Other responsibilities:

with the Vice President of Programs and other colleagues, collaborate in developing new projects and programs related to the Program Officer's areas of expertise and interest, supporting the development of new funding proposals in these areas as needed; and handle additional responsibilities and projects as directed, depending on interest and capacity.

Qualifications:

PhD in a social science or closely related field (including but not limited to sociology, political science, and history) required.

Research experience and knowledge of current academic research on challenges to democracy, in the United States and/or comparatively, required.

Excellent organizational skills, attention to detail, and a high degree of professionalism.

Excellent interpersonal skills; team player with demonstrated ability to take initiative, work independently, and respond flexibly to changing demands.

Strong writing skills for a range of audiences.

Interest in working in a professional role at the interface between different scholarly communities, and between the academic and philanthropic spheres.

Ability to travel several times a year for events.

Terms, Salary and Benefits

Annual salary will be commensurate with experience. Comprehensive benefits include health, dental, vision, disability, life, and gym reimbursement; outstanding pension plan and tax savings programs; generous vacation and sick leave; and more. Provisions are made for professional staff to continue their development as a scholar while at the Council.

This position is based out of the Brooklyn, NY offices and as such conforms to the general operating hours of the SSRC standard work week.

Application Information

Applications should be received by June 7, 2019, for priority consideration. Applications will be accepted until the position has been filled. Please copy and paste the following link to apply: <https://grnh.se/14b0777d2>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/2/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5627

Merrimack College

Rank: Lecturer/Director of Master of Public Affairs Program

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Administration

Merrimack College invites applications for a non tenure-track position as the Program Director for our Master of Public Affairs (MPA) Graduate Program. Program administration and teaching experience are preferred. Related professional experience will also be considered. Applications are welcomed from all related fields, including but not limited to the fields of Public Policy, Public Administration, Non-Profit Management, Political Science, or Economics. All specialized subfields will be considered. A Masters Degree is required by time of appointment, Ph.Ds preferred.

The Program Director will teach three graduate courses per calendar year in the program. The successful applicant will be also be responsible for the administration of the graduate program, which includes, but is not limited to:

- Promoting and marketing the MPA Program
- Recruitment and enrollment of students
- Scheduling classes
- Advising students
- Recruitment of adjunct faculty
- Identifying and securing internship placements
- Liaise with the Graduate & Professional Studies Office
- Teach three content-relevant courses per year spread across the fall, spring, and summer sessions

The Program Director will work with and report to the MPA Steering Committee and the Dean of Liberal Arts. This is a twelve month position with the possibility of renewal.

Merrimack College is a selective four-year Catholic college in the Augustinian tradition, offering programs in the liberal arts, business, the sciences, and engineering for its 3000+ students. The college is located in the Merrimack Valley, approximately 25 miles north of Boston.

Complete applications should include a letter of interest, resume, and three reference letters. Please apply online at Academic Jobs Online (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajof/jobs/12923>).

Review of applications will begin immediately and will remain open until the position is filled.

Merrimack College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5245

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Nebraska Wesleyan University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Nebraska Wesleyan University is seeking applications for a one-year, Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science for the 2019-2020 academic year (starting August 14, 2019 through May 15, 2020). NWU is interested in hiring a candidate with an expertise in American Politics who can add to the department's existing strengths in comparative politics and international relations. As a department, the Political Science faculty members are invested in mentoring faculty to become excellent teachers, as well as being deeply committed to diversity and inclusion, and welcome candidates from all backgrounds.

This is a full-time benefit eligible position, which includes a comprehensive package including health, vision and dental insurance benefits, retirement benefits, a generous holiday schedule, and undergraduate tuition remission for employee's dependents among other benefits.

Responsibilities:

Faculty responsibilities include teaching twelve credit hours per term, fall and spring semesters, including day and possible evening undergraduate classes. Political science courses are generally 4 credits, so the visiting faculty member would likely teach three 4-credit courses per semester. Preferred candidates will be able to teach widely across the subfield of American Politics, ideally with an emphasis in the politics of race and/or gender. Teaching assignments in the fall of 2019 may include first year writing instructive sections of Intro to US Government and Politics and a class on social movements and protest politics. In the spring, the candidate will have the opportunity to offer electives in their area of expertise as well as teaching the introductory course.

Qualifications and Attributes:

- A doctorate degree in Political Science is preferred, or master's degree plus 18 completed credit hours towards a doctoral degree required in a related field
- Experience with teaching various types of writing skills to students through assigned coursework
- Familiarity with Canvas course technology or similar LMS software is a plus
- Demonstrated interpersonal and innovative teaching skills are required
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively with faculty and students is essential
- Strong commitment to student-centered active learning and student engagement activities
- Experience, knowledge and appreciation for a liberal arts tradition

Commitment to Diversity:

Diversity is a core value of Nebraska Wesleyan University's mission and we embrace it as a source of strength. Applicants are encouraged to demonstrate how they are able to enhance and embrace this University core value in a diversity statement submitted as part of their application materials.

Nebraska Wesleyan University provides equal educational and employment opportunities to qualified persons in all areas of university operation without regard to religion or creed, age, genetic information, gender identity and expression, sexual identity and orientation, veteran status, disability, marital status, race, or national or ethnic origin, in compliance with state and federal laws, including but not limited to Title XII, Title IX, and the ADA. E-Verify, EOE.

How to Apply:

To apply, please submit a letter of application addressing qualifications, current curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness (such as a teaching philosophy statement, syllabi, and/or teaching evaluations), a statement of your commitment to diversity and inclusion, particularly addressing how this influences your teaching, the names of three professional references, and unofficial transcripts to the following URL: <https://nebrwesleyan.applicantpro.com/jobs/> Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Please visit the NWU website for more information about our institution: nebrwesleyan.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5663

Texas A&M University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University recruiting for one non-tenure track position for the 2019-2020 academic year to teach at the Higher Education Center at McAllen, located in McAllen, TX. We seek to hire a lecturer to teach introductory, survey courses in American government. The successful candidate will be expected to be able to teach introductory undergraduate courses in American government at both the national and state and local level. A completed Ph.D. is preferred in Political Science; A.B.D. status would be acceptable. The target start date for this position September 1, 2019. The teaching load would be four to five courses total for the academic year. This would be for a nine month appointment in a non-tenure track position. This position has the possibility of being renewed on an annual basis depending on performance, funding, and university needs.

Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Our review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

The Texas A&M System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Applicants should send letter of interest, contact information for three references, and a curriculum vitae. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor Guy D. Whitten, Acting Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5661

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Professors Justin Grimmer and Andrew Hall seek a postdoctoral fellow to assist with quantitative political science research and the building of the Democracy Policy Lab, which Grimmer and Hall co-direct. The lab is focused on studying policy-relevant questions about democratic elections, election administration, and online and offline polarization. Primary responsibilities will include collecting and analyzing large-scale quantitative datasets for co-authored research projects, organizing weekly lab meetings, helping to plan a small number of conferences and other events, and identifying and helping to pursue potential grant opportunities. The term is one year.

Candidates must have their Ph.D. completed before the start of the appointment. The strongest candidates will: have completed quantitative research on American politics or political economy; have deep experience collecting and maintaining datasets; have extensive programming experience in R and Stata; have expertise in applied econometrics and causal inference; and are organized, thorough, punctual, and highly responsive on email.

Applications must be submitted through Academic Jobs Online (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/13793>) and include the following information:

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Writing sample
3. Replication code from a completed project
4. Graduate Transcript showing that all the requirements for the Ph.D. have been completed, or a letter from the Ph.D. advisor stating they will do so by July 2019
5. Two Letters of Recommendation

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 5/23/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5647

California Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar in Election Integrity and Data Science

Specializations: American Politics, Electoral Systems, Electoral Behavior

A postdoctoral position is available in Caltech's Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences. Research will study the development, implementation, and use of data and quantitative methods to improve the administration and technology of elections. Focus will be on the development and application of machine learning and other quantitative methods. Candidates are expected to: help develop applications and tools for analysis of voter registration, voting by mail, social media, survey, and other forms of data; assist develop data management and storage procedures; plan, design, analyze, draft, and bring manuscripts to publication in leading journals in political science, computer science, or public administration; organize meetings. Candidates should be proficient in R; knowledge of python, database programming, and Stata is beneficial.

Appointment is contingent upon completion of a PhD and relevant research experience that includes the tools and topics listed above. Salary is commensurate with experience. This postdoc appointment will run for a period of one year with a start in June or July 2019; the postdoc could be renewable for a second year. Applications are accepted immediately, and will continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates should send a CV, 2-page statement of research interests, up to two papers, and two potential references to: eipds@caltech.edu or Search Chair, Postdoc in Election Integrity/Data Science, Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences, Caltech 228-77, Pasadena, CA 91125.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 5/17/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5640University of Central Florida*Rank: Lecturer

The University of Central Florida
School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs

Lecturer: American Politics

The School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs at the University of Central Florida invites applications for a lecturer position in American Politics, anticipated to start in August 2019. This position is contingent upon funding availability. Applicants must have the ability to teach the introductory-level course in American Government to support the university's Global Achievement Academy (GAA) program. The GAA enrolls international students to prepare them as they transition to join the UCF student body (<https://www.globalucf.com/>). The successful candidate may have the opportunity to teach upper-division courses in the candidate's area of expertise. The teaching load is eight (8) courses per academic year but could vary under the unit's workload policy.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field from an accredited institution by the time of appointment is required. Preferred applicants will have experience teaching American Politics and/or international students.

The School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs enrolls approximately 1,400 undergraduate majors in Political Science and International & Global Studies. The department offers an MA program in Political Science and a PhD program in Security Studies. It also houses several affiliated centers, institutes, and programs (for more information, visit <https://sciences.ucf.edu/politicalscience/>).

UCF is a Hispanic Serving Institution and one of the nation's largest universities with over 68,000 students. It has grown in size, quality, diversity, and reputation since it opened more than 50 years ago. The university is classified as a "Doctoral University: Highest Research Activity" and a "Community Engagement" institution by the Carnegie Foundation. Today the university offers over 200 degree programs, including more than 100 at the graduate level. UCF is an economic engine attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. For more information, visit <https://www.ucf.edu>.

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. In addition to the online application, interested candidate should upload the following: a letter of application, curriculum vitae (CV), graduate transcript, syllabi of any courses taught as instructor of record, student evaluations (where available), a statement of teaching philosophy discussing international student instruction, and the names of three references. Questions can be addressed to the Chair, Lecturer Search Committee, at the following email address: Barbara.kinsey@ucf.edu. Completed applications must be received by June 13, 2019.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eeo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: 6/13/2019Date Posted: 5/17/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5644Miami University*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor (two positions) open to subfields in American Politics, International Relations, or Comparative Politics*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor (two positions) open to subfields in American Politics, International Relations, or Comparative Politics; teach American Politics & Diversity (to international students); opportunity to teach constitutional law, and courses in area of subfield specialty; advise students. Appointment for the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field (for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor); ABD (for appointment as Instructor); teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught. Position not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research plans, transcripts, writing sample and evidence of teaching effectiveness, if available, <http://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/enus/job/495341>. Letters of reference will be requested by the department at a later date. Inquiries may be directed to Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 21, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 5/15/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5638University of Texas at Dallas*Rank: DeanSubfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Dean

School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences

The University of Texas at Dallas

The University of Texas at Dallas (UT Dallas) seeks applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the School of Economic,

Political and Policy Sciences. The Dean reports to the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost and is delegated primary responsibility of working with the faculty of the school in planning future initiatives, for administering the school's annual budget, for organizing the school's class offerings, and for hiring and evaluating the school's faculty and staff.

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS), one of the eight UT Dallas teaching units, is organized into seven academic programs: Criminology and Criminal Justice, Economics, Geospatial Information Sciences, Public and Nonprofit Management, Sociology, Political Science, Public Policy and Political Economy. These programs collectively offer a total of eight undergraduate majors, eleven undergraduate minors, ten masters, and six doctoral degree programs, which play an integral role towards the interdisciplinary mission of the University. The school's faculty include 58 appointments in the tenure system, 11 full-time faculty appointed outside the tenure system, and 13 part-time instructors. EPPS operates on an annual budget of approximately $11 million.

The University of Texas at Dallas, a component of The University of Texas System, is located at the confluence of the cities of Richardson, Dallas, and Plano. UT Dallas is one of the nation's 131 universities ranked as "R1 - Very High Research Activity" in the Carnegie Classification, and is one of the three Texas universities to have qualified for support from the state's National Research University Fund. Current direct research funding from federal agencies is greater than $50 million, and the university's endowment is valued at more than $700 million. Current enrollment exceeds 28,000, with undergraduates comprising 70% of this population. The UT Dallas freshman class has outstanding academic credentials, with the Fall 2018 class including 172 National Merit Scholars.

The individual appointed as dean must have a record of academic and scholarly achievements to qualify for appointment as a tenured professor in the school. Desired attributes include demonstrated ability to provide a distinguished faculty with administrative leadership, the ability to eloquently articulate the missions of higher education in general and of the social sciences in particular to prospective students and university supporters, and the collegiality to work constructively with staff, faculty, and university administration to advance the university's mission. The ideal candidate is sought who has experience building strong community connections and seeking resources to support the mission of EPPS with regards to fundraising to support faculty research, student scholarships, endowments and gifts, and employment opportunities for our students.

Benefits:

UT Dallas offers the UT System comprehensive benefits package. Through UT Benefits, benefits eligible employees and their dependents have access to comprehensive health insurance, financial protection through life and disability insurance, pension plan, tax-deferred and post-tax retirement savings options, paid-time off and wellness program and resources.

Applications, consisting of a detailed curriculum vitae and a letter of interest that addresses the applicant's ability to fulfill the requirements described above, should be received by June 10, 2019 in order to receive full consideration by the Search Committee. Please direct any questions to:

Jill Cohn, Assistant to the Provost
The University of Texas at Dallas

972-883-2272

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 6/10/2019

Date Posted: 5/14/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5637

Tulane University

Rank: Visiting Professor in American Politics

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Tulane University invites applications for a one-year position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor to begin in the fall 2019 semester. The Visiting Assistant Professor is a full-time, non-tenure track, teaching appointment. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Qualifications

The candidate's subfield should be in American Politics. A PhD is preferred; ABD is required by July 1, 2019.

Application Instructions

For full consideration, applicants should submit a letter of interest, syllabi for relevant classes, a graduate transcript, a curriculum vita, and three letters of reference. For additional information, applicants can contact Nancy Maveety, chair of Political Science, at nance@tulane.edu.

Application Link

<https://apply.interfolio.com/62980>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 5/20/2019

Date Posted: 5/10/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5634

BYU Political Science

Rank: Political Science Faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Brigham Young University seeks applications for a continuing faculty status (tenure) track position from highly qualified candidates with a completed Ph.D. in any area of political science. Successful candidates will have a strong research agenda, demonstrate potential for high-quality teaching, and be committed to giving the university's students a sound academic experience. Rank is open. Salary, teaching load, and research and travel support are competitive.

Although this announcement is for a CFS (tenure) -track position, it may be filled by a visitor.

BYU, an equal opportunity employer, requires all faculty to observe the university's honor code and dress and grooming standards. Preference is given to qualified candidate who are members in good standing of the affiliated church, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

To apply, go to <https://yjobs.byu.edu/> and search for Job ID 81551. Fill out the application and attach your updated Curriculum Vitae and cover letter. Please also list the individual contact information for each of your three recommenders so they may be contacted at some point during the selection process. Finally, send graduate transcript and at least two samples of scholarly work to Sven Wilson, Chair, Department of Political Science, Brigham Young University, 745 KMBL, Provo, UT 84602, Phone (801) 422-9018, Fax (801) 422-0580, sven_wilson@byu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: 8/15/2019
Date Posted: 5/9/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5633

Sam Houston State University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-track faculty member at the rank of visiting assistant professor beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will teach one online graduate overview seminar in American politics/government; one online graduate seminar in one of the following areas: Congress, American political parties, political attitudes and behavior, and media and politics; and two upper division courses in one of the following areas: Congress, political attitudes and behavior, media and politics, state political systems, or environmental. Preference will be given to candidates who have online and face-to-face teaching experience. The teaching load for the position is four courses in both the fall and spring semesters. Summer courses are not included in the teaching load.

Degree Requirements:

Applicants must have a PhD in political science from an accredited university or institution of higher learning.

Application Requirements:

- Cover Letter
- Current CV
- All graduate transcripts
- Two letters of recommendation from supervisors who are familiar with the applicant's teaching abilities and who have worked with the applicant in the past two years
- Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available
- Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy
- Diversity statement discussing how the applicant would engage a diverse student population such as Sam Houston State University that meets the College of Humanities and Social Sciences core goals: "The College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sam Houston State University is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the academic community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The college welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community."

Those interested should apply online at <https://shsu.peopleadmin.com/>. The search committee will begin reviewing materials immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/7/2019

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5631

Miami University Regionals

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor to begin in August of 2019 to teach undergraduate courses in the Nonprofit and Community Studies program, including courses on nonprofit organizations, democratic theory, civic engagement and state/local politics. Additional duties include the provision of general advising to undergraduates and support of co-curricular civic engagement programming. The position will serve the Regional locations.

Required: Master's degree (for appointment as Instructor) in political science, public administration, or a closely related field as well as a commitment to and evidence of excellence in the teaching of undergraduates. A Ph.D. (for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor) in political science, public administration or a closely related field. Position is not eligible for

H-1B sponsorship.

Desire: Earned Ph.D. in political science, public administration or closely related field.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <http://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/495216>. Inquiries may be directed to John Forren at forrenjp@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 15, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Miami University, an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, encourages applications from minorities, women, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. Miami University prohibits harassment, discrimination and retaliation on the basis of sex/gender (including sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking), race, color, religion, national origin (ancestry), disability, age (40 years or older), sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, status as a parent or foster parent, military status, or veteran status in its recruitment, selection, and employment practices. Requests for all reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

As part of the University's commitment to maintaining a healthy and safe living, learning, and working environment, we encourage you to read Miami University's Annual Security & Fire Safety Report at <http://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>, which contains information about campus safety, crime statistics, and our drug and alcohol abuse and prevention program designed to prevent the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol on campus and at university events and activities. This report also contains information on programs and policies designed to prevent and address sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is also provided to prospective students and employees. Hard copies of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report may be obtained from the Miami University Police Department at (513) 529-2225.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/2/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5628

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2019-20 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2020. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or experience in related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 1, 2019 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02067>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2019

Date Posted: 5/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5612

Texas Christian University

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a one-year lecturer position in American Politics for the 2019-20 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 4/4 teaching load, and the salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and sample syllabus in an upper level course in the field of American Politics), and a 1-page statement explaining how the applicant will contribute to diversity and inclusion. All materials are to be submitted online at https://tcu.igreentree.com/CSS_faculty. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked either to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during a campus interview.

We will review applications on receipt and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to search chair, Dr. Emily Farris.

A selective teaching and research university with 10,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 15th largest city in the United States and part of the nation's fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for eight consecutive years as one of the "Great Colleges to Work For" by The Chronicle of Higher Education. The TCU Political Science Department has sixteen full-time faculty with nearly 400 majors.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/29/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5618

Texas Christian University

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a one-year lecturer position in American Politics for the 2019-20 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 4/4 teaching load, and the salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and sample syllabus in an upper level course in the field of American Politics), and a 1-page statement explaining how the applicant will contribute to diversity and inclusion. All materials are to be submitted online at https://tcu.igreentree.com/CSS_faculty. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked either to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during a campus interview.

We will review applications on receipt and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to search chair, Dr. Emily Farris.

A selective teaching and research university with 10,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 15th largest city in the United States and part of the nation's fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for eight consecutive years as one of the "Great Colleges to Work For" by The Chronicle of Higher Education. The TCU Political Science Department has sixteen full-time faculty with nearly 400 majors.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/29/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5619

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for two or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2019-2020 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF02819>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 2, 2019, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 6/30/2019

Date Posted: 4/29/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5617

Merrimack College

Rank: Lecturer, Political Science

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, United States

Merrimack College invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure track position as Lecturer of Political Science with the possibility of renewal beginning in Fall 2019. Teaching load is four courses per semester total. The position involves the unique component of teaching two introductory level American Politics courses per semester to selected high school students from the Abbott Lawrence Academy on Merrimack's campus. Abbott Lawrence Academy is a public school with an entrance exam in Lawrence, Massachusetts that provides a high quality, rigorous, college preparatory education. You can find more information about the program at: <https://www.lawrence.k12.ma.us/index.php/ala-about>. The Lecturer position also involves a regular presence on the Abbott Lawrence Academy campus. In addition to the two courses per semester with Abbott Lawrence Academy, the successful candidate will also teach two courses per semester to Merrimack College students: our introductory level American Politics course and a course on Massachusetts State and Local Government. There is the possibility of teaching additional upper level American Politics courses upon successful renewal.

Qualifications: PhD is required at time of appointment.

Merrimack College seeks to nourish and sustain our five core values of leadership, community, awareness, scholarship, and service. The College is committed to building a culturally diverse faculty and strongly encourages applications from members of underrepresented groups. All candidates are encouraged to describe in their application previous activities or interest in building a culture committed to diversity and inclusive excellence, as well as how they will engage in fostering a culture that values diversity and inclusive excellence at Merrimack College.

Review of applications will begin on May 21 and will continue until position is filled.

To Apply: Interested applicants should apply online through Academic Jobs Online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/13633>. Application materials should include: a letter of interest, C.V., evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation.

About Merrimack: The only Catholic, Augustinian college in New England, Merrimack College is an independent, coeducational institution with more than 4,200 undergraduates and graduate students from 34 states and 36 countries, and comprises schools of liberal arts, science and engineering, health sciences, education and social policy, and business. The college's 220-acre campus is approximately 25 miles north of Boston in North Andover and Andover, Mass. Merrimack is a Master's Colleges & Universities/Medium Programs institution in the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. Merrimack recently placed 21st in the nation for "Colleges That Add the Most Value" in Money's special Best Colleges report and was ranked as one of the top 10 colleges in the northern United States for the fourth year in a row — and the only regional college judged “up and coming” by higher education leadership in the northern United States, according to U.S. News.

This position is subject to the successful completion of a criminal background check.

Merrimack College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/25/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5616

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Post-doctoral Research Fellow is a 12-month in-residence position support ongoing research at UNC Charlotte and to collaborate in areas related to public opinion, public policy, political psychology, and/or political communication. The research fellow will maintain their own research agenda and work on collaborative projects within one or more ongoing projects in the areas of: political emotions and collective behavior; measurement of political content in large volumes of text; exploring contagion processes in social media; and methodology issues in survey and experimental research. Opportunities for collaborative work within these broader areas will be determined based on the fellow's interests and skills.

In addition, the fellow will provide project management, mentoring, and training for doctoral students in two closely related research support labs: an established survey and experimental research lab housed in Political Science and Public Administration, and a newly formed Policy Research Support Lab associated with the Public Policy Program.

The position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related Social Science discipline (completed within the last three years) and strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata. Preference will be given to applicants with skills in one or more of the following areas: survey methodology, causal inference, natural language processing, network analysis, large scale text processing, or social media analytics.

The position reports to the Director of Public Policy. The fellow will participate in the broader intellectual life of the interdisciplinary Public Policy Program and the Department of Political Science and Public Administration. The position may be renewable for an additional year based on performance and availability of funding. Salary range for the position is $54,000-$56,000 with the possibility of research and travel support.

See the full position posting at: <https://jobs.uncc.edu/postings/26857>. Review of applications begins May 13, 2019. Applications must be submitted online to <https://jobs.uncc.edu/postings/26857>. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, Curriculum Vitae, writing sample, a copy of graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/25/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5615

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Professors Douglas Rivers, David Brady and Morris Fiorina seek a postdoctoral fellow for assistance and collaboration on a project analyzing recent trends in turnout, partisanship, and electoral behavior utilizing a unique dataset with tens of millions of survey interviews conducted since 2004. Primary responsibilities include management and analysis of large datasets as well as the design of new data collection. The term would be one year.

Strong candidates will have their Ph.D. completed prior to the start of the appointment; a thesis and/or research papers focusing on American elections; knowledge of survey statistics, multilevel modeling, and Bayesian inference; strong R programming skills, including Tidyverse packages; advanced R skills; experience managing datasets; writing robust, maintainable code (using Github); attention to detail.

Applications must be submitted through Academic Jobs Online (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/13604>) and include the following information:

1. Cover letter detailing the reasons for the applicant's interest
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Writing sample consisting of either a dissertation chapter or a recent published paper
4. R code sample
5. Graduate Transcript showing that all the requirements for the Ph.D. have been completed, or a letter from the Ph.D. advisor stating they will do so by July 2019
6. Two Letters of Recommendation

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5606

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics to teach courses in the Political Science Department's undergraduate program. The appointment is for academic year 2019-2020, with the possibility of renewal. The load is two courses each semester; one of the four courses taught during the year may be a topic course of the visitor's design and one will be the introductory course in American politics. The Department is open to applicants from any American subfield specialization. However, the department will place a priority on the ability to teach in the areas of the presidency and executive politics. The ability to teach racial or ethnic politics will also be considered a plus.

Located in a major governmental center, the department has 23 full-time members and offers degrees at the Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctoral levels. Salary and benefits are competitive. The University at Albany (www.albany.edu) is one of four designated University Centers in the SUNY system.

Requirements:

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in hand by September 2019 from a college or university accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization.

Candidates should have demonstrated the ability to work with and instruct culturally diverse groups of people.

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

CV

Cover letter stating all the required minimum qualifications and any of the applicable preferred qualifications

Statement of interest

A writing sample or publications and any available evidence of teaching effectiveness (such as syllabi and student evaluations and/or a teaching statement) through Interview Exchange

Graduate transcripts

Applicants will be asked to provide names and contact information for three references.*

*Special Note: Once applications have been initially screened, candidates will receive notification of how to submit three letters of reference through Interview Exchange.

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=109624>

All applications received by May 6 will be reviewed. Later applications will be considered as needed

For additional information, please go to: <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp;jsessionid=80A08F4149C73B3D494B33FD849095EB?JOBID=109624>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 5/6/2019

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5605

University of Alabama in Huntsville

Rank: Full - Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

JOB DESCRIPTION/REQUIREMENTS: The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama in Huntsville invites applications for a full-time lecturer position in politics and public policy to begin on August 14, 2019. A full-time lecturer position at UAH is a teaching position with a 4/4 teaching load, both undergraduate and graduate courses, but no research responsibilities.

Candidates for the position must have a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a Ph.D. degree in a related discipline with at least 18 hours of graduate coursework in Political Science. We are seeking a candidate with a concentration in domestic or international public policy. In addition, candidates must be able to teach courses in national and international intelligence and security to contribute to a planned program in criminal justice and intelligence studies. Salary is commensurate with experience. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: The University of Alabama in Huntsville, classified as a High Research Activity institution, offers academic and research programs in the Colleges of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education, Engineering, Nursing, Professional and Continuing Studies, and Science. Huntsville maintains one of the highest per capita incomes and standards of living in the Southeast. It is a national center of aerospace and high technology research and is home to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center. A vibrant downtown entertainment district, including Broadway and symphony performances, contribute to Huntsville's cultural life. For more information about Huntsville and its convenient location to Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, please visit <http://www.huntsville.org>.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE: The College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Alabama in Huntsville comprises 10 departments and 94 full-time faculty. We offer a wide array of programs in the arts, humanities, and social sciences including 25 B.A. programs, five M.A. programs, and six certificate programs. We recently added a BFA with a Gaming and Animation track. The college has also led the way in creating several interdisciplinary minors, such as Women's and Gender Studies, Global Studies, and Science, Technology, and Society. Our class sizes are relatively small and our collegial faculty are committed to our students' successes.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Political Science offers a BA major and minor in Political Science, an MA in Public Affairs & Policy, a Pre-Law Certificate Program (undergraduate, with the Department of Philosophy), and an International Security Policy Certificate Program (graduate). The undergraduate curriculum provides a major and a minor in political science with courses offered in American government, comparative politics, international relations, political philosophy, public law, public policy, and methodology. The graduate program focuses on domestic and international public policy, including policy formation, implementation, and evaluation, with special emphasis in intelligence and security studies. For more information about the Department, please visit <http://www.uah.edu/ahs/departments/political-science>.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Application review will begin May 1, 2019 and continue until the position is filled

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: A complete application must include a letter of application, a detailed curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, graduate transcripts, and contact information for at least three professional references. Review of application materials will begin as soon as possible and materials will be accepted until the position is filled. Interviews will be conducted via Skype. Application material should be sent to: Dr. John Pottenger, Chair; Department of Political Science; Conference Training Center, Room 106; University of Alabama in Huntsville; Huntsville, AL 35899 or polsci@uah.edu.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities/ females/ veterans/ disabled. Please refer to log number: 19/20-353

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5608

University Of Texas At Dallas

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science
The University of Texas at Dallas

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at the University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning in August of 2019 in the Political Science Program. UTD is a fast-growing, suburban research university with undergraduate, Master's, and PhD programs in Political Science. We currently have approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 31st among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Highest Research Activity."

The teaching load for this position is 3 courses per long semester and the standard pay rate is $20,000 per long semester. The position is renewable for up to 4 long semesters. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in teaching excellence. Topics of interest include American politics, international relations, or comparative politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory state politics course and the introductory American national government course, as well as more specialized upper-level undergraduate courses. PhD by time of employment is expected.

Applicants should submit letter of application, current curriculum vitae and three letters of recommendation to the Program Head, Banks Miller (millerbp@utdallas.edu). Review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an Equal Opportunity / Equal Access / Affirmative Action Employer and strongly encourages applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the University's faculty and administration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/17/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5602

SUNY, Potsdam

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics, State University of New York at Potsdam, seeks a one-year visiting assistant professor in political theory.

The faculty member in this position will teach courses required for the political science major/minor and one or more courses for the general education program. Fall 2019 courses will include introduction to political theory and a general education politics course for non-majors. The third course will be either introduction to U.S. politics or introduction to international relations. Spring 2020 courses will include two required political science courses and one elective course.

Required qualifications:

Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. In addition, we are seeking candidates who possess communication and interpersonal skills sufficient to work effectively with an increasingly diverse array of students and colleagues and who have demonstrated a commitment to creating, fostering and sustaining an inclusive environment in and out of the classroom. A master's degree in political science is also required.

Preferred qualifications:

A Ph.D. in political science is preferred. In addition to political theory, research or teaching experience in the areas of public law, public policy or international relations (other than international political economy) would be welcomed. More broadly, we are seeking candidates who have worked with, done research with, or taught underrepresented groups and have worked collaboratively across various departments in fostering success of underrepresented groups.

Applicants should e-mail a cover letter, curriculum vitae, the names and contact information of three references and evidence of teaching effectiveness directly to Dr. Robert Hinckley, Chair & Associate Professor, at hincklra@potdams.edu.

The position will remain open until filled but full consideration will be granted to those who submit all materials by April 19, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/5/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5591

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics, Pub Policy)

The Department of Government at William & Mary invites applications for a one year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin August 10, 2019. We seek an individual with expertise in American politics / public policy. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load (2 preps per semester). Courses will consist of introductory sections of American government, public policy, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates who can draw on their expertise or examples in racial or ethnic politics, or the politics of inclusion as they teach these courses.

Information on the degree programs in the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.wm.edu/as/government/>. The Department provides visiting faculty with support for conference travel, and also offers mentoring and access to campus opportunities to help our visitors become more effective researchers and teachers.

To apply, go to <https://jobs.wm.edu/>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), a writing sample, and a statement describing previous professional experiences or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, May 3, 2019. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 5/3/2019
Date Posted: 4/3/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5587

Lycoming College

Rank: Visiting Professor of Political Science

VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Lycoming College invites applications for a one year visiting position in American politics for the 2019-2020 academic year. The successful candidate will teach three courses per semester and will be broadly trained to teach both introductory and advanced courses in American politics. Specialization within subfield is open. Candidates should demonstrate a strong promise of teaching effectiveness and a strong commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment. Master's degree required; ABD or Ph.D. preferred.

Lycoming College is a National Liberal Arts College of about 1,200 students located in Williamsport, PA, a city of 30,000 serving as a regional hub for the county. Nestled in the mountains of central Pennsylvania, Williamsport is centrally located about three hours from New York City, Washington DC, and Philadelphia. The area offers ample opportunities for cultural entertainment and outdoor recreation. More information can be obtained by visiting the following web site: www.lycoming.edu.

To apply: Applicants should send a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment and names and telephone numbers of three professional references. Electronic submission of application materials is required to jobs@lycoming.edu. Please reference "Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science" in the subject line of the email. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Post-offer, pre-employment drug screen conducted. EOE

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/26/2019
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 5554

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – American Politics, Public Law, or Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) invites applications for one full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning August 2019, with the possibility for a second year renewal. We seek candidates with demonstrated excellence in teaching and strong research potential. The successful candidate will help to continue UTEP's strong tradition of providing under-represented students with access to a quality education and facilitating their success in professional careers. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate courses in American Behavioral Politics, Public Law, and/or Public Policy. The ability to teach courses in Research Methods, Introduction to Politics, and Introduction to American Government and Politics is desirable.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field. ABD applicants will be considered. Candidates must show evidence or promise of teaching experience to be considered.

Salary: Competitive and commensurate with experience.

About UTEP and El Paso: Located in one of the largest binational communities in the world, The University of Texas at El Paso is unique among research institutions. UTEP is an R1 Carnegie classified national research University and ranks third among all U.S. colleges and universities in awarding bachelor's degrees to Hispanics. UTEP enrolls more than 25,000 students. The Brookings Institution in 2017 ranked UTEP as the leading university in equal access to higher education, based on a combination of research productivity and student social mobility. The University has annual research expenditures of $95 million, an operating budget of $500 million and employs approximately 4,000 people. With 172 bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs available in eight colleges and schools, UTEP is the first national research university serving a 21st century student demographic.

Application Procedure: Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled. Interested individuals must submit a curriculum vita, letter of interest, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching quality, evidence of research, and current contact information for three professional references. Please contact Dr. José D. Villalobos by email (jdvillalobos2@utep.edu) for questions about the position.

To apply, please visit <https://www.utep.edu/employment>

In keeping with its Access and Excellence mission, the University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/26/2019
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 5559

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Institutions, Behavior and Policy

POSITION: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Institutions, Behavior and Policy

RESPONSIBILITIES: The Department of Political Science at the University of Louisiana-Lafayette seeks applications for a one-year appointment at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor beginning August 2019, pending administrative approval. If the position is administratively approved, it might possibly be renewable for a single additional year. Successful candidates must demonstrate a robust academic record with a teaching specialization in American Institutions, Behavior, and Policy along with a commitment to teaching excellence. Ability and willingness to teach research design/methods is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will fulfill a standard teaching load of three courses per semester. Ability and willingness to teach online courses in addition to face-to-face courses is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will teach sections of our introductory American Institutions course (American National Government) either face-to-face or online. The successful candidate will also teach upper-level courses either face-to-face or online. Current upper-level American Institutions, Behavior and Policy courses include State and Local Government, Congress, Presidency, Campaigns and Elections, Political Parties, Research Methods and Public Policy.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. or ABD in Political Science or related field. Experience in teaching introductory and upper-level American Institutions, Behavior and Policy courses is strongly preferred. Online teaching experience is strongly preferred. Successful candidates must be committed to working effectively with diverse student populations.

ADMINISTRATIVE UNIT: Information about the University is available at <https://louisiana.edu>, the College at <https://liberalarts.louisiana.edu>, and the Department at <https://politicalscience.louisiana.edu>.

SALARY: Commensurate with experience.

STARTING DATE: August 1, 2019 pending administrative approval

APPLICATIONS: To apply, please send a letter of application, a vita, unofficial transcripts, sample syllabuses, and student evaluation of instruction scores or other evidence of teaching effectiveness, all together as a single PDF file to pols@louisiana.edu. In addition, three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent separately to pols@louisiana.edu. All confidential recommendation letters must address teaching competence or potential, as well as ability or potential to be a collegial and contributing departmental citizen.

Inquiries about the status of the application should be directed to:

Ponchella Kelly-Boutte, Administrative Assistant
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: pols@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6171
Fax: 337-482-6170

Inquiries about the substance of the position should be directed to:

Dr. Rick Swanson, Professor and Department Chair
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: swanson@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6164
Fax: 337-482-6170

The review process will continue until the position is filled. We will only contact applicants who are being considered for possible interviews.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply. The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. - See more at: <http://personnel.louisiana.edu/employment-opportunities/policy-nondiscrimination>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/19/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5541

Butler University

Rank: Instructor

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Immigration Policy

Political Science Instructor Announcement

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a one-year full-time political science instructor which may be renewable.

We seek an individual with expertise in U.S. Politics and with a demonstrated commitment and ability in teaching. The candidate should be able to offer an upper-division course in immigration politics and policy, racial and ethnic politics or urban politics. Additional areas of expertise in Latin American Politics or US-Latin American Politics are preferred. The instructor will teach four course sections each semester: two Introduction to (U.S.) American politics course sections and two upper-division courses that draw on the connection between U.S. politics and the candidate's area(s) of expertise. Candidates for this position should have earned a doctoral degree in political science or have advanced to candidacy with evidence of substantial progress toward degree completion.

To apply for this position, candidates should email the Political Science Department Administrative Specialist, Linda Cooley (lcooley@butler.edu), with an application letter, evidence of teaching excellence, a curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin March 25, 2019, and continue until the position is filled.

More information about the Department of Political Science is available at <https://www.butler.edu/political-science>. The Department also administers the interdisciplinary Peace and Conflict Studies Program (<https://www.butler.edu/peace-conflict>).

About Butler: Butler University, one of the nation's leading master's comprehensive universities, was founded in 1855 on the principle of equal access to higher education for both genders and all races. Butler encompasses six colleges with an enrollment of 4000 undergraduates and 500 graduate students, and emphasizes a liberal arts education with more than 60 majors. Butler University is committed to enhancing the diversity of the student body and our faculty and staff. In addition hiring decisions are made on the basis of an individual's qualifications, past experience, overall performance, and other employment-related criteria.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/14/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5525

Dartmouth College

Rank: POST-DOC: PUBLIC POLICY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for Public Policy and the Social Sciences at Dartmouth College is seeking to fill at least one post-doctoral research associate position in the Center for the 2019-2020 academic year.

In addition to having time for one's own individual research projects, the successful candidate will manage the day-to-day operations of the Rockefeller Center's Class of 1964 Policy Research Shop (PRS), a student-staffed, faculty-mentored policy research enterprise that serves elected officials in the Vermont and New Hampshire legislatures, statewide commissions and local government entities. Management duties include mentoring PRS students on specific projects, traveling with students to testify before state legislative committees, commissions, and councils, and soliciting projects from state and local government officials. For more information about the PRS, please visit our website at <http://rockefeller.dartmouth.edu/shop/>.

The position may be renewed for a second year. The position includes a competitive post-doctoral salary and health benefits with faculty status as a visiting assistant professor of public policy (Ph.D. in hand is required at the time of appointment). We anticipate a start date of no later than September 1, 2019.

Interested candidates should send a letter of inquiry that discusses the substantive policy interests of the applicant. In addition, we would like to receive a curriculum vitae and a list of three references with contact information from each candidate.

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2019. The search will remain open until the position is filled.

Please send application materials to:

Professor Ronald G. Shaiko, Senior Fellow and Associate Director
The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for Public Policy and the Social Sciences
Dartmouth College
6082 Rockefeller Center, Room 204
Hanover, NH 03755-3154

For more information about the Rockefeller Center, please access our website at: <http://rockefeller.dartmouth.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/12/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5516

UNLV

Rank: Assistant Professor-in-Residence

https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UNLV-External/job/UNLV1-Maryland-Campus/Assistant-Professor--UNLV-Department-of-Political-Science--R0114822-_R0114822

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5509

Beloit College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Theory and Public Law: Beloit College, a selective liberal arts college with a proud tradition of innovation, seeks an energetic teacher-scholar for a replacement position of four courses per academic year. The successful candidate will be responsible for introductory and upper-level courses in political theory. An ability to teach these courses from a critical perspective is a plus. Candidates able to teach courses on American political thought, constitutional law, comparative political theory, and/or contribute to one of our many interdisciplinary programs are strongly preferred. We prefer candidates with a desire to collaborate with colleagues from other disciplines, and who develop pedagogical approaches that foster creativity and apply theoretical knowledge to address real problems such as institutionalized racism. Our friendly department offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2019-2020 academic year with a possibility of renewal.

Because equity and inclusion are central to our students' liberal arts education and vital to the thriving of all members of our residential learning community, Beloit College aspires to be an actively anti-racist institution. We recognize our aspiration as ongoing and institution-wide, involving collective commitment and accountability. We seek employees who are committed to and will actively contribute to our efforts to celebrate our cultural and intellectual richness and be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity.

Located in a diverse community close to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago, Beloit attracts students from across the United States and the world. The college emphasizes excellence in teaching, learning beyond the traditional classroom, international perspectives, and collaborative research among students and faculty. It is recognized as one of the Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should email a cover letter, c.v., three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, writing sample, summary of teaching evaluations and sample syllabi to pols2019@beloit.edu. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Phil Chen, chair of the search committee, at: chenp@beloit.edu Review of applications begins immediately and all applications received by March 25, 2019 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/27/2019

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 5485

Samford University

Rank: Chair, Department of Political Science

CHAIR, DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

REVISED 2/25/2019

Samford University's Howard College of Arts and Sciences invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for the position of chair of the Department of Political Science beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will demonstrate a record of publication and achievement commensurate with full professor rank in the Department of Political Science at Samford University. This full-time tenure-track faculty position is a 9 month appointment. Qualified candidates will hold a Ph.D. in the field of American Politics. Prior university administrative experience is preferred. A commitment to academic excellence and the ability to work effectively with faculty, students and colleagues is expected. Candidates should be published scholars with successful records in academic and administrative leadership. Candidates must have a demonstrated history of effective collaborative and collegial leadership with evidence of judicious use of fiscal and spatial resources, and of active scholarship that incorporates into research activities, presentations and publications. Preference will be given to candidates prepared to guide the department in the possible development of an interdisciplinary master's program in Public Policy in 3-5 years.

The chair will oversee the department's mission, assist with faculty and curriculum development, faculty recruitment, and recruit prospective students. The department chair will receive one course release per semester to facilitate the duties and responsibilities of the position. The chair plays a pivotal role in representing the department to the faculty and to the administration of the university.

The Department of Political Science has 4 full-time faculty positions and over 100 majors, with a Political Science major and interdisciplinary majors in International Relations, Public Administration and Law, Politics and Society.

Samford University (www.samford.edu) is the largest privately supported and fully accredited institution for higher learning in Alabama. Located in suburban Birmingham, the university was founded in 1841 and has 366 full time faculty and more than 5,500 students. Samford is ranked 3rd in the South among regional universities by U.S. News & World Report and has been nationally recognized for academics, affordability and value by a number of prestigious publications and rankings. The university is dedicated to the promotion of rigorous academic inquiry in a Christian setting. The university offers competitive salaries with a generous benefits package.

Review of applications began December 1, 2018 and will continue until May 6, 2019. Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vita with names and contact information of three references, evidence of teaching effectiveness, description of leadership experience, and research interests and activities.

Applicants must complete an "Application for Faculty Position" (https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/Human_Resources/application-for-faculty-employment.pdf) and the Faculty Applicant Christian Mission Statement (<https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/academic-affairs/FacultyApplicant-Christian-Mission-Statement.docx>).

Please submit all materials in a PDF format to:
FACAPP@samford.edu

ATTN: Chair of Political Science Chair Search
Samford University

Samford University is an Equal Opportunity Institution that complies with applicable law prohibiting discrimination in its educational and employment policies and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information or national or ethnic origin.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/27/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5483

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Rod and Nancy Sanders Chair in Law and Liberty

Rod and Nancy Sanders Chair in Law and Liberty

The Institute for the American Constitutional Heritage (IACH) at the University of Oklahoma (OU) seeks an established and nationally recognized scholar to hold the newly established Sanders Family Chair in Law and Liberty. The position is at the associate or full professor level and will be jointly appointed in the Department of Classics & Letters and the successful candidate's home disciplinary department or College, e.g., History or Political Science (both in the College of Arts and Sciences), or the College of Law.

The successful candidate will contribute to the core mission of the IACH, a vibrant interdisciplinary center for the study of American constitutionalism housed in Classics & Letters. The IACH has four faculty lines and over 30 affiliated faculty across the university who offer courses to over 100 undergraduates majoring or minoring in Constitutional Studies.

We seek a candidate with a teaching and research profile that would include, but not be limited to, the ancient roots of law, liberty, and self-governance; the development of republican thought and ideas of liberty and the rule of law in the modern world; and the historical and ideological background of the American founding.

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. (or a J.D. for exceptional candidates with established records of scholarly excellence) and a substantial scholarly record in a discipline related to the core mission of the IACH. The successful candidate should also have an established commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students, as well as experience in graduate teaching and mentoring, or clear potential for excellence in this area. The teaching load will be three courses a year (2-1).

Application Instructions

Interested applicants should initially submit a letter of interest, a current C.V., and three letters of reference to. Applicants should go to <http://apply.interfolio.com/59901>.

to submit their application. The position will begin in August 2019 or August 2020. The position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/25/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5469

James Madison University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science

GENERAL INFO:

The JMU Department of Political Science is seeking to appoint someone to a visiting, academic-year post as a faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning with the fall 2019 semester. Candidates at the ABD level can be hired at the rank of Lecturer. Review of applications will begin March 18, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at Joblink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {#F1280}. On that website, candidates will post an application letter, vita, relevant teaching evaluations, unofficial graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, course syllabi and an example of research. Salary shall be commensurate with experience.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government and a research methods course required for all political science and public policy & administration majors. The ability to offer an upper-level course in an area that complements departmental faculty expertise and current course offerings is strongly encouraged.

This is a full-time post for the 2019-2020 academic year. For more information about the Department of Political Science, visit the website (<http://www.jmu.edu/polisci/>).

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. is required by the starting date for appointment as an Assistant Professor; ABD candidates and those with an appropriate master's degree and experience can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. Applicants must demonstrate an ability to teach the required courses. The department seeks candidates with strong teaching skills.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/22/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5465

CUNY-City College of New York

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow -- Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, American Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science in the Colin L. Powell School at the City College of New York-CUNY invites applications for two post-doctoral visiting assistant professor positions in Political Theory, beginning the Fall of 2019. While the positions are open with respect to research areas, we are particularly interested in candidates able to teach courses in the Western canon of political thought and/or the American political tradition. Successful candidates will be required to teach one course per semester and to pursue an active research and publication agenda, while at the same time collaborating in organizing a speakers series. The positions are for a duration of one year, renewable for one more year. Salaries are competitive and commensurate to living costs in New York City. Applicants must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the start date. We will review applications starting March 1, 2019 and proceed on a rolling basis.

To apply, candidates should send the following materials to jwilliams@ccny.cuny.edu (1) a cover letter describing your academic background and teaching experience, (2) a CV; (3) one writing sample of no more than 40 pages, (4) a sample syllabus for an undergraduate level course, (5) three letters of recommendation, and (6) a graduate transcript.

City College-CUNY is located in the Hamilton Heights section of Harlem in New York City.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/14/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5443

Augustana University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Augustana University invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2019-20 academic year. The position will begin in August 2019.

Responsibilities: The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. Courses to be taught include Introduction to Government, Introduction to American Government, and The American Presidency. The ideal candidate will be able to offer additional courses in American politics, comparative politics, and/or international relations. The total course load is three courses per semester, plus a three-week January term course.

Qualifications: Completed Ph.D. by August 1, 2019 strongly preferred. Evidence of teaching excellence expected.

Application Procedure: Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, copies of graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations), statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, statement of commitment to diversity, a writing sample, a completed Augustana University employment application (available at <http://www.augie.edu/prospective-employees>) and three letters of recommendation to humanresources@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Official web site: www.augie.edu.

Contact Department Chair with questions: Dr. Joel Johnson, Professor of Government and International Affairs, joel.johnson@augie.edu, 605.274.5319.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/12/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5435

University of Redlands

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: African American Politics, Latino Politics, Urban Politics

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FACULTY POSITION OPENING
POSITION: Visiting Assistant Professor, Non-Tenure Track
DEPARTMENT: Political Science, College of Arts & Sciences

AVAILABLE: September 2019

POSTING DATE: February 11, 2019

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications will begin February 28, 2019. The search will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Candidates with teaching and research interests in American politics, the politics of race, and public policy are especially encouraged to apply. The standard six-course load for the position will be distributed across the fall and spring semesters according to the candidate's interests and departmental needs. This is a one-year appointment.

The department especially welcomes applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position. Candidates who apply are asked to identify their strengths and experiences in assisting undergraduate students to achieve their curricular goals.

The University of Redlands is a private, comprehensive liberal arts institution located 60 miles east of Los Angeles in a town of 70,000. The campus is surrounded by orange groves and sits at the base of the San Bernardino Mountains, one hour from the coast, and 40 miles west of Palm Springs. Information about the University and its mission and facilities is available at www.redlands.edu.

Required and Desired Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Evidence of success at college teaching and an ability to work in a collaborative, team-based environment are desired.

INQUIRIES: Candidates may contact search committee chair Steve Wuhs at steve_wuhs@redlands.edu with additional questions or concerns.

TO APPLY: Please submit the following to apply@redlands.edu: a cover letter, current CV, evidence of teaching and research excellence, and three letters of reference.

Applications packets must be received by March 15, 2019 to ensure consideration for the position.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 3/15/2019

Date Posted: 2/11/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5430

Augustana College

Rank: Open Rank Visiting Professor

Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, invites applications for an open rank visiting position in Political Science (American Politics) beginning in August of the 2019-2020 academic year, with possible renewal for the 2020-2021 academic year.

Augustana College is a selective liberal arts college of approximately 2,500 students, including 29 percent first-generation college students, 23 percent Pell Grant students, 21 percent students of color, and 9 percent international students.

Our beautifully wooded and largely residential 115-acre campus is located in Rock Island, Illinois, a diverse Illinois-Iowa Quad Cities metropolitan area along the Mississippi River with 400,000 residents about three hours west of Chicago and 45 minutes east of Iowa City, home of the University of Iowa.

Strengthening our diverse and inclusive community is central to the college's mission and strategic plan. We seek applicants with an interest in fostering rigorous, inclusive, and high-impact learning environments for a diverse student body. The successful candidate will teach American National Government and upper division courses in American Politics. These include our current American politics courses such as American Political Participation and American Presidency, and the opportunity to teach a course in a specific area of interest. We are particularly interested in candidates with a focus on identity politics in the United States.

All faculty contribute to the first-year experience through a combination of teaching in the college's first-year inquiry program and/or offering January-term courses aimed at first-year students.

The successful candidate will join a diverse and active, five-member department. Each faculty colleague has interdisciplinary interests beyond political science that complement the political science curriculum such as Africana Studies, Environmental Studies, Latin American Studies, Asian Studies and more. Successful candidates will be able to demonstrate teaching effectiveness and an understanding of and/or willingness to embrace the nature of a liberal arts education. Experience and interest in working with students and community members of many backgrounds will be an asset for applicants. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment, although ABD candidates also will be considered.

Augustana College is an equal opportunity employer and actively encourages applications from women and persons of diverse ethnic backgrounds. We do not discriminate based on age, race, color, ethnic origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability or creed and strongly encourage applicants from diverse backgrounds to apply for this position. Details about Augustana College, our expectations of the faculty, the selection process, and the Quad Cities all are available at Teaching at Augustana. Questions may be directed to the chair of the department, Xiaowen Zhang. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled.

A complete application includes: a cover letter indicating an interest in and understanding of teaching in a liberal arts setting, curriculum vitae, copy of graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation (including contact information), a statement of teaching philosophy, and writing sample.

To apply, please email application materials to SherryDocherty@augustana.edu using the subject line: Search #115-19 Pol. Sci. – American Pol., and directed to Jessica Schultz, Associate Dean of the College. Alternatively, application materials can be mailed to: Search #115-19 Pol. Sci. – American Pol., C/O Jessica Schultz, associate dean of the college, Augustana College, 639 38th St., Rock Island, Ill., 61201.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/5/2019

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5417

Eastern Kentucky University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Master of Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The Department of Government at Eastern Kentucky University invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track assistant professor position to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will teach classes in the department's Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program and undergraduate political science programs. Departmental teaching needs include courses related to public policy, state and local government, community development/non-profit, Appalachian/rural development studies, and American government. Candidates must be able to develop and/or teach fully online courses.

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Affairs, or Public Policy is required at the time of appointment. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester. Successful candidates should be, or have the potential to be, an active scholar and a high quality teacher.

To ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by February 18, 2019.

Applicants should submit: 1) Cover Letter, 2) Curriculum Vitae, 3) Teaching philosophy statement, 4) Contact information for at least three professional references, 5) Copies of unofficial transcripts and 6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.eku.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/4/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5409

Lincoln University of Missouri

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Lincoln University of Missouri invites applicants for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science beginning August 2019. Areas of specialization include Comparative Politics and International Relations. Teaching responsibilities will also include the Introduction to American Government course.

Lincoln's political science program is part of an interdisciplinary department that includes social & behavioral sciences. The successful candidate will be a passionate teacher, mentor, and developer of innovative curriculum. Other job responsibilities include Model UN faculty advisor and Study Abroad participant.

Ph.D. preferred; ABD considered with college level teaching experience.

Application materials should be submitted electronically to gossetta@lincolnu.edu and include: letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcripts, evidence of previous teaching experience and three letters of reference. Unofficial transcripts are acceptable during screening. Official transcripts are required prior to employment.

Will review applications as they are submitted.

If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Amy Gossett at gossetta@lincolnu.edu.

Lincoln University is a HBCU, land-grant, public university with enrollment of 2800 students and an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/4/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5412

University of Hawaii, Hilo

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and Administration of Justice

The Department of Political Science and Administration of Justice at University of Hawaii at Hilo invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Criminal Justice/American Politics, to begin on August 1, 2019. Ph.D. in Political Science in hand from an accredited college or university is required at the time of appointment. The successful candidate will be able to teach Intro to American Politics, Intro to Administration of Justice, Criminal Justice, Criminal Law and Procedure, Criminology, Research Methodology, Capstone Seminar in Administration of Justice, and other upper division American politics courses contributing to the Administration of Justice Major. Experience teaching distance learning courses desired. Deadline for application is March 8, 2019. For a complete description, application instructions and to submit an application, please visit <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/hawaiiedu> and search for position number 82352. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Failure to submit all required documents shall deem an application to be incomplete. Note: If you have not applied for a position before using NEOGOV, you will need to create an account.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 3/8/2019

Date Posted: 1/31/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5395

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Missouri Southern State University in Joplin, Missouri invites applications for a Master Instructor of Political Science position beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory American Government; areas of specialization include public law and the courts. Master Instructors are responsible for 15 credit hours per semester, with 3 credit hours dedicated to supervising the Mock Trial program. Experience with coaching Mock Trial within the American Mock Trial Association Collegiate Mock Trial System, is required. Applicants with the ability to teach undergraduate research methods or statistics are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in political science is preferred at time of appointment (ABD and candidates with a master's degree in political science will be considered.) Ideal candidates will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science and a JD. The position requires a commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level.

Applicants should submit a detailed letter of application, curriculum vitae (with the names, addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers of three references), and copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts. (Official transcripts are required 45 days after contract is issued.) Submit documents to FacultyVitae@mssu.edu; include: "Political Science – Master Instructor" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Employment will require a background check. MSSU is an EOE employer with a strong institutional commitment to achievement of excellent and diversity among faculty and staff. MSSU is an E-verify participating employer.

Missouri Southern State University (MSSU) is a four year liberal arts institution serving nearly 6,000 students. Expanding graduate and undergraduate programs provide faculty with rich opportunities for service and scholarship. Internationally-focused semesters and enriching cultural events in theater, art, music and film create an engaging learning environment for students and citizens of the region. MSSU is located in Joplin, MO, which is considered to be the Crossroads of America, and serves as the commercial hub for the four states area. Joplin is a resilient and vibrant city with a population of over 50,000 serving a metropolitan statistical area of 208,000. There is quick and easy access to Northwest Arkansas, Kansas City, and Tulsa, as well as numerous outdoor activities and attractions throughout the Ozarks.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5316

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor Race and U.S. Politics

Specializations: American Politics, United States, Religion & Politics

The Department of Political Science at Amherst College invites applications for a full-time, one-year position at the rank of visiting assistant professor in the area of race and U.S. politics. Within the last decade, Amherst College has profoundly transformed its student body in terms of socioeconomic status, ethnicity, race, and nationality. Today, nearly one-quarter of Amherst's students are Pell grant recipients; 45 percent of our students identify as domestic students of color; and 10 percent of our students are international students. Our expectation is that the successful candidate will excel at teaching and mentoring students who are broadly diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Candidates may focus on issues such as voting and political participation; African-American religion and racial politics; party development; civil society and racial cleavages; elections, civil rights, and voter suppression; and urban and local politics in the U.S. more generally. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The appointment will begin in July 2019.

We seek a colleague with a record that demonstrates high-quality teaching and research, and who is committed to excellence in education at the undergraduate level. Candidates should be comfortable teaching courses both within and outside their specialty and be able to direct undergraduate research projects. The successful candidate must have the Ph.D. in hand or have fulfilled all requirements for the degree by the start of the appointment.

Candidates are asked to submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/58919>, a letter of application, a CV, three confidential letters of recommendation, and a single-authored writing sample (e.g., article or dissertation/book chapter.) Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2019, and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by this date will be assured full consideration.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5298

Tufts University

Rank: Cooperative Congressional Election Study and Tisch College of Civic Life: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Postdoctoral Fellow (non-tenure-track)

Tufts University will award a Post-Doctoral Fellowship to a scholar with expertise in American political behavior and survey data analysis for the 2019-20 academic year. The Fellowship is partly funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation and will be awarded to a scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline with research interests that intersect with the Cooperative Congressional Election Study (CCES). Applicants should have completed the requirements for their Ph.D. by the time of appointment, which is planned for August 1st, 2019.

The post-doc will be located at Tufts University in the Department of Political Science and in the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life. The primary responsibilities for the successful candidate will be to assist with the release and analysis of the 2018 CCES. The post-doc will work directly with Professor Brian Schaffner and will help prepare technical materials related to the CCES, in addition to being involved in planning for the 2020 CCES. In addition to working on their own research, the post-doc will also be expected to collaborate on CCES-related research papers with Schaffner and the other CCES co-PIs, with the aim of producing several publications in peer-reviewed outlets. The post-doc will also have the opportunity to work on research for other projects in Tisch College, including the Center for Information & Research on Civic Learning and Engagement (CIRCLE) and the Institute for Democracy & Higher Education (IDHE). The post-doc will have the opportunity to participate in the Summer Institute of Civic Studies (a seminar for faculty, advanced graduate students, and practitioners) at Tisch College from June 20-28, 2019 and will be expected to be part of the Tisch College community, attending talks and events.

Qualifications

Scholar with a Ph.D. in the field of Political Science or in a related discipline who is not yet tenured. Proficiency in Stata or R statistical programs.

Application Instructions

All applications must be submitted via <http://apply.interfolio.com/58630> Applications should include: (1) a cover letter which includes a description of your research plans, particularly as they relate to the CCES; (2) your CV; (3) one writing sample; and (4) three letters of recommendation which should be uploaded by your recommenders to Interfolio directly.

Review of applications will begin February 1, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Schaffner at brian.schaffner@tufts.edu.

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/10/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5268Xavier University of Louisiana*Rank: Faculty Position

Tenure Track Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science in the Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences at Xavier University of Louisiana (XULA) invites applications for a full-time nine-month tenure-track entry-level Assistant Professor position beginning Fall 2019.

Founded in 1925 by Saint Katharine Drexel and the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, XULA is Catholic and historically Black. Located in New Orleans, the mission of the University is to contribute to the promotion of a more just and humane society by preparing its students to assume roles of leadership and service in a global society.

Applicants will be expected to contribute immediately to the department's flourishing and multifaceted BA program. Candidates should demonstrate a strong research agenda and experience, and interest in faculty development and mentoring. Additionally, applicants must demonstrate a commitment to working with a diverse student population.

Candidates should possess an earned doctorate in Political Science with a specialization in minority politics. It is highly desirable that the successful candidate be able to teach courses related to Black politics, African diaspora, politics of gender and sexuality, and feminist political thought. Other teaching areas will be determined by program need. The successful candidate is expected to teach effectively at the undergraduate level; advise undergraduate students; conduct and publish independent and collaborative research; develop proposals for extramural funding; and serve on department, division, college, and university committees.

Application procedures: Log in to our online system at: <https://jobs.xula.edu>. Attach a letter of application (addressed to Dr. Russell Frazier, Search Committee Chair), statement of teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, research interest (no more than 4 pages), and a separate document containing the names, titles, mailing addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses for all three individuals providing letters of recommendation. Letters of recommendation must speak to the applicant's academic training and suitability for this position; teaching experiences; area of scholarship; and ability to work with undergraduate students from diverse racial and cultural backgrounds. Review of applications will begin on January 7, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled. Salary will be commensurate with applicant's credentials and qualifications.

Xavier University of Louisiana is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and women and U.S. racial and ethnic minorities are encouraged to apply. EOE/AA.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/15/2018Salary: AnyeJobs ID: 5151U.S. Naval Academy*Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

The Political Science Department of the United States Naval Academy invites applications for tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in American Politics beginning August 2019. Application review will begin on 01 October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The U.S. Naval Academy is a service academy and top tier liberal arts college with a commitment to excellence in faculty teaching, research, and service. American Politics scholars with expertise in public policy; race, gender, and ethnicity; or political philosophy are encouraged to apply. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. Candidates should have a robust research agenda and demonstrate potential for research excellence, as well as a strong commitment to student advising and institutional service.

For more information about this position and how to apply please visit the USNA position announcement at <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/AsstProfessor-PolSciAY19.php>

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/27/2018Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 4715DePaul University*Rank: Latinx Politics and Urban Politics

Latinx Politics and Urban Politics

DePaul University

The Department of Political Science (PSC) at DePaul University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 2019 (6 courses in three academic quarters — 2-2-2). The Department seeks candidates with expertise and preparation in American Politics, specializing in Latinx Politics and Urban Politics.

Applicants who are qualified to teach in both fields will receive preference, although applicants who teach in one of two fields will receive full consideration. The successful candidate will also have opportunities to teach courses in the University's general education program and various interdisciplinary programs. DePaul University is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body and Chicago area communities.

Candidates should submit a letter of application [cover letter], CV, sample syllabus, course evaluations, and reference contact information online to our Faculty Recruiting site-- <http://facultyopportunities.depaul.edu/postings/2042> . For more information, email polisci@depaul.edu or visit the department's web site at <http://las.depaul.edu/psc>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2018

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 4401

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Occidental College

Rank: Associate Professor in Global Political Economy/Development Practice

A search in Global Political Economy at the Associate Professor with tenure or at the Advanced Assistant levels. We are looking for applicants who have demonstrated an ambitious research and practice agenda with a particular interest in applicants whose work focuses on areas such as the Sustainable Development Goals; Human Rights-based Approaches to Economic Development; Equity/Equality in economic structures (with reference to race, class, identity, and/or gender and the imperative of democratic inclusion); or alternative approaches to studying dominant approaches to international trade, globalization and other topic areas in Global Political Economy. More information on the Young Initiative is here: <https://www.oxy.edu/academics/global-engagement/young-initiative>. The hire will eventually be expected to play a leadership role in the Young Initiative Committee, including its rotating chair-ship.

Priority will be given to applicants who have demonstrated a research agenda that leverages substantial fieldwork with international or regional organizations and/or transnational NGOs. An expectation will be that the hire will continue Occidental College's engagement with on-the-ground work in international affairs, at the local/Los Angeles, transnational, and/or global levels. A priority is the ability to advance the College's mission and an understanding of the distinctiveness of the Liberal Arts culture.

Occidental College is a highly-selective, urban liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, the College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in Northeast Los Angeles. As one of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental affords students and faculty unique engagement with communities, cultural institutions, and academic resources throughout Los Angeles. Occidental College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, sexual orientation, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. We strongly encourage all underrepresented candidates, especially women and persons of color, to apply.

Candidates should send their application as an electronic file to Ms. Chamnan Lim at youngsearch@oxy.edu. A complete application will include the following materials: (1) a cover letter that details the interest in teaching at Occidental and potential linkages to priorities of the Young Initiative in Global Political Economy; (2) a discussion of the applicant's academic research and field practice; (3) a statement of teaching experience and philosophy; (4) a scholarly work sample; (5) Curriculum Vitae; and (6) a list of referees.

All materials are due no later than October 1, 2019; applications received after the deadline will not be reviewed. Interviews of semi-finalists will be held via videoconference.

For information on the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, including current course offerings, please visit our website at: <http://www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs> . For information on the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, please visit our website at the address noted above. Inquiries about the position, the DWA department, or the Young Initiative can be directed to the Interim Young Initiative in the Global Political Economy Chair, Professor Anthony Tirado Chase: achase@oxy.edu.

We will consider for employment all qualified Applicants, including those with Criminal Histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles' Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: 10/1/2019

Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5660

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a 1-year, visiting position in Comparative Politics or International Relations. The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory courses in Global Politics and American National Government, and an introductory course in statistics, as well as an upper level course related to the candidate's field of expertise. Area of specialization is open.

Washington and Lee is a highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,800 undergraduates and 315 law students.

Women and minority candidates are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment, which begins July 1, 2019.

Application Instructions

Applicants should provide: (1) a letter of application; (2) current CV; (3) three letters of recommendation; and (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness, including but not limited to peer or supervisor observation letters and student course evaluations, if available.

Address letters of application to Politics Search Committee Head. Please apply online using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/63652>.

Application review will begin immediately and continue on a rolling basis until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5653

Westmont College

Rank: Assistant / Associate Professor of Political Science--International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Westmont College, Santa Barbara, CA invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of associate or assistant professor in International Relations. The appointment will begin in August 2020. Candidates should be able to teach broadly in international relations, with preference given to those who can also offer courses in comparative politics and introductory research methods. Applicants must have a Ph.D., evidence of excellence in scholarship and teaching, and a commitment to mentoring undergraduate students. A normal teaching load includes three 4-unit courses per semester, committee assignments, and academic advising.

Westmont College is a nationally ranked, selective liberal arts college in the evangelical Protestant tradition. We desire faculty who are animated by a serious Christian faith, are able to engage in interdisciplinary dialogue and pedagogy, and who share a commitment to justice, citizenship, and service. Westmont has a strong commitment to cultural and academic diversity that is increasingly reflected in its student body, curriculum, and faculty. We seek a colleague who shares these commitments and will contribute to their rich applications in political science.

Please visit <https://www.westmont.edu/office-provost/open-positions> for application instructions and to submit relevant documents.

Questions may be addressed to Dr. Jesse Covington, chair of Political Science via e-mail: jcovington@westmont.edu. Review of applications will begin in June 2019, and will continue until the position is filled.

For priority interview consideration, applications should be received by August 1, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5651

Fairfield University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Fairfield University is a co-educational, comprehensive Jesuit university with a 200-acre campus located along the scenic shoreline community of Fairfield, CT. The University is comprised of approximately 3,500 undergraduate and 1,200 graduate students pursuing degrees within 5 schools: The College of Arts and Sciences, The Charles F.

Dolan School of Business, The School of Engineering, The Marion Peckham Egan School of Nursing and Health Studies, and The Graduate School of Education and Allied Professions. As an expression of our Jesuit, Catholic mission and identity, Fairfield embraces a liberal humanistic approach to education, encouraging critical thinking, cultivating free and open inquiry, and fostering ethical and religious values.

The Politics Department at Fairfield University invites applications for a one-year full time visiting assistant professor position beginning Fall 2019. The position is for instruction in comparative politics. The instructor will offer an introductory course in comparative politics, and courses in Asian politics, development in the global south, and related courses, such as Islamic politics. The teaching load is four undergraduate courses each semester, and may include a topics course related to the candidate's area of specialization.

Applicants are expected to have completed a MA or Ph.D. in Politics, or to be ABD. Applicants must have a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Teaching experience in comparative politics is preferred.

The department consists of eight faculty members representing a range of specialties in Political Science and related programs at Fairfield University, including International Studies, Environmental Studies, Humanitarian Action, and the Master's Program in Public Administration. The Department has a vibrant culture of undergraduate student-faculty collaboration in research, several departmental events and guest lecturers annually, and a large student interest in area and interdisciplinary studies. The salary and benefits for the position are highly competitive.

Fairfield University is a Jesuit institution, consistently ranked as a top comprehensive university in New England, located in the scenic shoreline community of Fairfield, CT, one hour from New York City along Long Island Sound. Our five Colleges and Professional Schools enroll approximately 3,500 undergraduate and 1,200 graduate students.

Application Instructions:

The search committee will begin reviewing materials immediately and continue until the position is filled.

For full consideration, please click https://ffd.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/EmploymentOpportunities/job/Fairfield-CT/Visiting-Assistant-Professor--Politics_JR0000422 and upload the following materials:

- a curriculum vitae
- a letter of application
- statement of teaching philosophy
- examples of syllabi and teaching evaluations if applicable
- unofficial graduate transcript
- contact information for three references

Please ask your references to send letters of recommendation to the following email address:

VAPPoliticssearch@fairfield.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/23/2019

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5648

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor (two positions) open to subfields in American Politics, International Relations, or Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor (two positions) open to subfields in American Politics, International Relations, or Comparative Politics; teach American Politics & Diversity (to international students); opportunity to teach constitutional law, and courses in area of subfield specialty; advise students. Appointment for the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field (for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor); ABD (for appointment as Instructor); teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught. Position not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research plans, transcripts, writing sample and evidence of teaching effectiveness, if available, <http://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/enus/job/495341>. Letters of reference will be requested by the department at a later date. Inquiries may be directed to Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 21, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5638

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Dean

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Dean

School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences

The University of Texas at Dallas

The University of Texas at Dallas (UT Dallas) seeks applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences. The Dean reports to the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost and is delegated primary responsibility of working with the faculty of the school in planning future initiatives, for administering the school's annual budget, for organizing the school's class offerings, and for hiring and evaluating the school's faculty and staff.

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS), one of the eight UT Dallas teaching units, is organized into seven academic programs: Criminology and Criminal Justice, Economics, Geospatial Information Sciences, Public and Nonprofit Management, Sociology, Political Science, Public Policy and Political Economy. These programs collectively offer a total of eight undergraduate majors, eleven undergraduate minors, ten masters, and six doctoral degree programs, which play an integral role towards the interdisciplinary mission of the University. The school's faculty include 58 appointments in the tenure system, 11 full-time faculty appointed outside the tenure system, and 13 part-time instructors. EPPS operates on an annual budget of approximately $11 million.

The University of Texas at Dallas, a component of The University of Texas System, is located at the confluence of the cities of Richardson, Dallas, and Plano. UT Dallas is one of the nation's 131 universities ranked as "R1 - Very High Research Activity" in the Carnegie Classification, and is one of the three Texas universities to have qualified for support from the state's National Research University Fund. Current direct research funding from federal agencies is greater than $50 million, and the university's endowment is valued at more than $700 million. Current enrollment exceeds 28,000, with undergraduates comprising 70% of this population. The UT Dallas freshman class has outstanding academic credentials, with the Fall 2018 class including 172 National Merit Scholars.

The individual appointed as dean must have a record of academic and scholarly achievements to qualify for appointment as a tenured professor in the school. Desired attributes include demonstrated ability to provide a distinguished faculty with administrative leadership, the ability to eloquently articulate the missions of higher education in general and of the social sciences in particular to prospective students and university supporters, and the collegiality to work constructively with staff, faculty, and university administration to advance the university's mission. The ideal candidate is sought who has experience building strong community connections and seeking resources to support the mission of EPPS with regards to fundraising to support faculty research, student scholarships, endowments and gifts, and employment opportunities for our students.

Benefits:

UT Dallas offers the UT System comprehensive benefits package. Through UT Benefits, benefits eligible employees and their dependents have access to comprehensive health insurance, financial protection through life and disability insurance, pension plan, tax-deferred and post-tax retirement savings options, paid-time off and wellness program and resources.

Applications, consisting of a detailed curriculum vitae and a letter of interest that addresses the applicant's ability to fulfill the requirements described above, should be received by June 10, 2019 in order to receive full consideration by the Search Committee. Please direct any questions to:

Jill Cohn, Assistant to the Provost
 The University of Texas at Dallas
 972-883-2272

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 6/10/2019

Date Posted: 5/14/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5637

BYU Political Science

Rank: Political Science Faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Brigham Young University seeks applications for a continuing faculty status (tenure) track position from highly qualified candidates with a completed Ph.D. in any area of political science. Successful candidates will have a strong research agenda, demonstrate potential for high-quality teaching, and be committed to giving the university's students a sound academic experience. Rank is open. Salary, teaching load, and research and travel support are competitive.

Although this announcement is for a CFS (tenure) -track position, it may be filled by a visitor.

BYU, an equal opportunity employer, requires all faculty to observe the university's honor code and dress and grooming standards. Preference is given to qualified candidate who are members in good standing of the affiliated church, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

To apply, go to <https://yjobs.byu.edu/> and search for Job ID 81551. Fill out the application and attach your updated Curriculum Vitae and cover letter. Please also list the individual contact information for each of your three recommenders so they may be contacted at some point during the selection process. Finally, send graduate transcript and at least two samples of scholarly work to Sven Wilson, Chair, Department of Political Science, Brigham Young University, 745 KMBL, Provo, UT 84602, Phone (801) 422-9018, Fax (801) 422-0580, sven_wilson@byu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: 8/15/2019
Date Posted: 5/9/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5633

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for two or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2019-2020 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF02819>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 2, 2019, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: 6/30/2019
Date Posted: 4/29/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5617

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Irvine seeks a one year Visiting Lecturer to teach five undergraduate courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. This part-time position will replace faculty on leave during the 2019-20 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in these fields. Candidates should have a Ph.D. and be prepared to teach a mix of lower and upper division courses. These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $54,738.

Service Period Dates for 2019-2020 Academic Year:
 Fall Quarter: 9/23/19 – 12/13/19
 Winter Quarter: 1/6/20 - 3/20/20
 Spring Quarter: 3/30/20 – 6/11/20

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF05284>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by July 1st, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 9/16/2019
Date Posted: 4/29/2019
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 5624

Dartmouth College

Rank: Lecturer in Introductory Statistics and/or Introductory Comparative Politics

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applications for multiple visiting instructor appointments for part or all of the 2019-2020 academic year. Dartmouth terms run fall (September to November), winter (January through mid-March), and spring (late March through May). (See <https://www.dartmouth.edu/-reg/calendar/academic/19-20.html>.) We have a particular need for candidates who can teach an introductory statistics course, an introductory comparative politics course, or both. Applicants must demonstrate excellence or promise of excellence in teaching. A Ph.D. is preferred, but A.B.D. candidates will be considered.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references who can speak to teaching potential via the application portal at <https://apply.interfolio.com/62410>. Reviewing of applications will begin immediately. Those interested are encouraged to contact Yusaku Horiuchi, Professor of Government, at yusaku.horiuchi@dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/18/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5603

New York University Abu Dhabi Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher in Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint several Post-Doctoral Researchers starting September 2019. Later start dates are also possible. Applicants must have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in the fields of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Public Policy. Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Applications are now open and we will consider candidates on a rolling basis. To be considered, all applicants need to submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, and a research sample. To complete the online process, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

Please visit our website at <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/postdoctoral-and-research.html> for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad-socialscience@nyu.edu.

Note: We are considering candidates as applications are submitted. We will continue to consider applicants until all positions are filled.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complimented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its tenth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/18/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5607

University Of Texas At Dallas Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science
 The University of Texas at Dallas

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at the University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning in August of 2019 in the Political Science Program. UTD is a fast-growing, suburban research university with undergraduate, Master's, and PhD programs in Political Science. We currently have approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 31st among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Highest Research Activity."

The teaching load for this position is 3 courses per long semester and the standard pay rate is $20,000 per long semester. The position is renewable for up to 4 long semesters. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in teaching excellence. Topics of interest include American politics, international relations, or comparative politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory state politics course and the introductory American national government course, as well as more specialized upper-level undergraduate courses. PhD by time of employment is expected.

Applicants should submit letter of application, current curriculum vitae and three letters of recommendation to the Program Head, Banks Miller (millerbp@utdallas.edu). Review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an Equal Opportunity / Equal Access / Affirmative Action Employer and strongly encourages applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the University's faculty and administration.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/17/2019
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 5602

University of Louisiana at Lafayette Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science: International Relations/Comparative Politics

POSITION: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science: International Relations/Comparative Politics

RESPONSIBILITIES: The Department of Political Science at the University of Louisiana-Lafayette seeks applications for a one-year

appointment at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor beginning August 2019, pending administrative approval. If the position is administratively approved, it might possibly be renewable for a single additional year. A robust academic record with a teaching specialization in International Relations/Comparative Politics is necessary with preferred specialization(s) in Middle East and North Africa, Sub-Saharan Africa, East Asia, or Latin America. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence, and will fulfill a standard teaching load of three courses per semester in support of the International Relations Concentration within the Department of Political Science. Ability and willingness to teach online courses in addition to face-to-face courses is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will teach sections of our introductory IR and Comparative courses (World Politics as well as International Relations) either face-to-face or online. The successful candidate will also teach upper-level courses either face-to-face or online. Current upper-level IR/Comparative courses include Global Security and Conflict, U.S. Foreign Policy, Middle Eastern Politics, Global Political Economy, Global Political Institutions, and International Ethics and Law.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. or ABD in Political Science, International Relations, Diplomacy, or related field. Experience in teaching introductory and upper-level International Relations/Comparative Politics courses is strongly preferred. Online teaching experience is strongly preferred. Successful candidates must be committed to working effectively with diverse student populations.

ADMINISTRATIVE UNIT: Information about the University is available at <https://louisiana.edu>, the College at <https://liberalarts.louisiana.edu>, and the Department at <https://politicalscience.louisiana.edu>.

SALARY: Commensurate with experience.

STARTING DATE: August 1, 2019 pending administrative approval

APPLICATIONS: To apply, please send a letter of application, a vita, unofficial transcripts, sample syllabuses, and student evaluation of instruction scores or other evidence of teaching effectiveness, all together as a single PDF file to pols@louisiana.edu. In addition, three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent separately to pols@louisiana.edu. All confidential recommendation letters must address teaching competence or potential, as well as ability or potential to be a collegial and contributing departmental citizen.

Inquiries about the status of the application should be directed to:

Ponchella Kelly-Boutte, Administrative Assistant
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: pols@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6171
Fax: 337-482-6170

Inquiries about the substance of the position should be directed to:

Dr. Rick Swanson, Professor and Department Chair
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: swanson@louisiana.edu

Phone: 337-482-6164

Fax: 337-482-6170

The review process will continue until the position is filled. We will only contact applicants who are being considered for possible interviews.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply. The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. - See more at: <http://personnel.louisiana.edu/employment-opportunities/policy-nondiscrimination>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/19/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5540

University of Virginia

Rank: Research Associate in the Political Economy of Good Government

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The University of Virginia was founded in order to prepare citizens for participation in representative government. Building upon this unique inheritance, the University's College of Arts & Sciences recently launched the Democracy Initiative, an interdisciplinary research and teaching enterprise designed to enhance understanding of the challenges faced by democracies around the world. The Initiative is composed of a series of laboratories, one of which focuses on corruption and governance.

To help catalyze the activities of the Democracy Initiative, we are seeking candidates for a postdoctoral research associate in the political economy of good government. The successful candidate will be expected to teach one course per semester. Additionally, the holder of the fellowship will contribute to the research and public engagement missions of the Democracy Initiative, including organizing speakers' series and events.

The anticipated start date for the position is August 25, 2019. The annual salary for the position is $60,000 plus benefits. For more information on the benefits available to postdoctoral associates at UVA, visit postdoc.virginia.edu and hr.virginia.edu/benefits.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS: Although we anticipate hiring a candidate with a PhD in Political Science, we will also consider candidates with PhDs in related fields such as Economics or Public Policy. We seek candidates with a strong research record in the politics or economics of corruption, or in related areas such as the study of clientelism and the rule of law. Candidates with experience conducting experiments and/or observational research based on best practices in program evaluation are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates must hold a PhD at the time of appointment.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Research-Associate-in-Politics_R0003184 and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and contact information for three references.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications will begin February 25, 2019; however, the position will remain open until filled.

The initial appointment is for one year, renewable for a second year based upon availability of funding and performance.

For questions about the position, please contact Daniel Gingerich at dwg4c@virginia.edu

For questions about the application process, please contact Rich Havestrom at rkh6j@virginia.edu

For more details on the Initiative, please see <http://as.virginia.edu/democracy-initiative>

The University of Virginia assists UVA faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more about these services, please see <http://provost.virginia.edu/dual-career>.

Applicants may also wish to consult the Faculty & Candidate Guide to UVa & Charlottesville <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>, which offers a wide range of resources on working at UVa and living in and near Charlottesville

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System and the University Physician's Group are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/18/2019

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 5537

Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: Conflict Processes, International Security, Political Development

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for two full-time, non-tenure-track positions of Visiting Assistant Professor for the academic year 2019-2020. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand are preferred, although applications from advanced graduate students are welcome (candidates without doctoral degree at time of hire are issued contract for Visiting Instructor).

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. The teaching load for each position is six courses per year.

In addition to ability to teach introductory courses in international relations and comparative politics, we are particularly interested in candidates with experience in teaching conflict and peace studies as well development and political economy. We are open to applicants of any regional specialization.

The University of the South comprises a nationally-ranked College of the Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. It is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background screening. The University of the South is committed to creating and maintaining a diverse campus environment. We are proud to be an equal opportunity educational institution and welcome all qualified applicants without regard to their race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, age, or veteran status.

Applicants must submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, a sample syllabus, and contact information for a reference who can speak to teaching potential. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at <https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/3296>. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. Reviewing of applications will begin immediately, but best consideration will be given to applications submitted by April 1, 2019.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5478

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Visiting Lecturer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a one-year, full-time position as Visiting Lecturer in Global Studies for the 2019-2020 academic year, with a possibility of renewal. Teaching obligations involve 18 credit hours (6 courses) and will include several sections of PS 550, Introduction to Global Studies, a course the Department offers in close coordination with Pitt's Global Studies Center. Additional teaching will depend on the interests of the successful candidate (e.g., courses in comparative politics, international relations, or political theory). We are particularly interested in candidates who could offer upper-level courses in political theory that complement our existing offerings (e.g., courses in non-western or comparative political theory, post-colonial theory, etc.) as well as in comparative politics or international relations. All applicants should explain their qualifications to teach Intro to Global Studies (a large-format lecture course) and describe what additional courses they might offer.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand or expected by August 31, 2019. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, teaching portfolio, and two letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. Please apply online at: <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MjYx>.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/26/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5477

Augustana University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Augustana University invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2019-20 academic year. The position will begin in August 2019.

Responsibilities: The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. Courses to be taught include Introduction to Government, Introduction to American Government, and The American Presidency. The ideal candidate will be able to offer additional courses in American politics, comparative politics, and/or international relations. The total course load is three courses per semester, plus a three-week January term course.

Qualifications: Completed Ph.D. by August 1, 2019 strongly preferred. Evidence of teaching excellence expected.

Application Procedure: Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, copies of graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations), statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, statement of commitment to diversity, a writing sample, a completed Augustana University employment application (available at <http://www.augie.edu/prospective-employees>) and three letters of recommendation to humanresources@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Official web site: www.augie.edu.

Contact Department Chair with questions: Dr. Joel Johnson, Professor of Government and International Affairs, joel.johnson@augie.edu, 605.274.5319.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/12/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5435

Lincoln University of Missouri

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Lincoln University of Missouri invites applicants for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science beginning August 2019. Areas of specialization include Comparative Politics and International Relations. Teaching responsibilities will also include the Introduction to American Government course.

Lincoln's political science program is part of an interdisciplinary department that includes social & behavioral sciences. The successful candidate will be a passionate teacher, mentor, and developer of innovative curriculum. Other job responsibilities include Model UN faculty advisor and Study Abroad participant.

Ph.D. preferred; ABD considered with college level teaching experience.

Application materials should be submitted electronically to gossetta@lincolnu.edu and include: letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcripts, evidence of previous teaching experience and three letters of reference. Unofficial transcripts are acceptable during screening. Official transcripts are required prior to employment. Will review applications as they are submitted.

If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Amy Gossett at gossetta@lincolnu.edu.

Lincoln University is a HBCU, land-grant, public university with enrollment of 2800 students and an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/4/2019
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 5412

University of New Orleans

Rank: Doris Zemurray Stone Chair in Latin American Studies

POSITION SUMMARY: The University of New Orleans invites applications and nominations for the endowed Doris Zemurray Stone Chair in Latin American Studies. The University of New Orleans has expanded its work in Latin America to include faculty research in Latin America and a Latin American student outreach program. The endowment includes support for the Chair, for an annual conference, for a Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, and for the expansion of summer and other programs in Latin America.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Responsibilities of the chair-holder include: 1) pursuit of chair-holder's research interest; 2) teaching in the chair-holder's area of expertise; 3) development and oversight of a center for Latin American studies; 4) curriculum development and coordination of existing course offerings in the study of Latin America, broadly defined; 5) participation in the existing Latin American Outreach Program, which includes recruitment of students in Latin America; 6) service as a University liaison to the local Latin American community; 7) organizing an annual academic conference, and 8) involvement in fundraising, including student scholarship from the endowment.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: PhD in a social science or humanities academic discipline as an advanced assistant professor or higher, with a clear track towards tenure; teaching, research, and administrative experience in Latin American and Caribbean studies sufficient to meet the expectations for an endowed chair-holder.

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Experience in administrative and fund-raising activities towards program development and a record of teaching and research consistent with broadly conceived sympathies to interdisciplinary, cross-cultural, and comparative approaches to Latin American, Caribbean, and Circum-Caribbean studies, as well as broadly defined research, teaching and regional geographic interests. APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Application materials, including a letter of interest, a cv, a sample of published writing, and the names and contact information of three professional references, should be sent to Dr. Jeffrey David Ehrenreich, Zemurray Stone Chair Selection Committee, University of New Orleans, New Orleans, LA 70148 (jehrenre@uno.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/16/2018
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 5159

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in comparative public administration beginning on August 1, 2019. This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in Public Administration/International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2019 with a research specialization in comparative public administration. The teaching will be in our master's degree (MPA) in public administration as well as undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as research methods, or a regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2019. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and arrange to have three reference letters uploaded. Please direct all questions to Dr Terry Anderson at tanderson@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/5/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4971

Temple University

Rank: Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies

Specializations: Russia, History & Politics, Post Soviet Region

The Departments of Political Science and History at Temple University invite applications for the position of Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies. We seek an established interdisciplinary scholar whose research and teaching address both Russian and/or Soviet history as well as the legacies of these earlier eras in the post-Soviet era, including topics such as the persistence of authoritarian rule as well as the important roles of the Soviet Union and Russia in world politics. This joint appointment in the Departments of History and Political Science is part of a broader initiative in the College of Liberal Arts to recruit senior faculty studying important questions across disciplinary boundaries. We seek someone who can be tenured at the level of either Associate or Full Professor in either (or both) Political Science and History.

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (highest research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home of 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays, and its missions mirrors, both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded.

Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to <http://apply.interfolio.com/53872>. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on October 15th. Professors Mark Pollack of Political Science and Alan McPherson of History will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 10/15/2018
Date Posted: 8/30/2018
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 4736

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Occidental College

Rank: Associate Professor in Global Political Economy/Development Practice

A search in Global Political Economy at the Associate Professor with tenure or at the Advanced Assistant levels. We are looking for applicants who have demonstrated an ambitious research and practice agenda with a particular interest in applicants whose work focuses on areas such as the Sustainable Development Goals; Human Rights-based Approaches to Economic Development; Equity/Equality in economic structures (with reference to race, class, identity, and/or gender and the imperative of democratic inclusion); or alternative approaches to studying dominant approaches to international trade, globalization and other topic areas in Global Political Economy. More information on the Young Initiative is here: <https://www.oxy.edu/academics/global-engagement/young-initiative>. The hire will eventually be expected to play a leadership role in the Young Initiative Committee, including its rotating chair-ship.

Priority will be given to applicants who have demonstrated a research agenda that leverages substantial fieldwork with international or regional organizations and/or transnational NGOs. An expectation will be that the hire will continue Occidental College's engagement with on-the-ground work in international affairs, at the local/Los Angeles, transnational, and/or global levels. A priority is the ability to advance the College's mission and an understanding of the distinctiveness of the Liberal Arts culture.

Occidental College is a highly-selective, urban liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body, its commitment to academic excellence and equity, and its undergraduate research programs. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, the College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in Northeast Los Angeles. As one of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental affords students and faculty unique engagement with communities, cultural institutions, and academic resources throughout Los Angeles. Occidental College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, sexual orientation, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. We strongly encourage all underrepresented candidates, especially women and persons of color, to apply.

Candidates should send their application as an electronic file to Ms. Chamnan Lim at youngsearch@oxy.edu. A complete application will include the following materials: (1) a cover letter that details the interest in teaching at Occidental and potential linkages to priorities of the Young Initiative in Global Political Economy; (2) a discussion of the applicant's academic research and field practice; (3) a statement of teaching experience and philosophy; (4) a scholarly work sample; (5) Curriculum Vitae; and (6) a list of referees.

All materials are due no later than October 1, 2019; applications received after the deadline will not be reviewed. Interviews of semi-finalists will be held via videoconference.

For information on the Department of Diplomacy & World Affairs, including current course offerings, please visit our website at: <http://www.oxy.edu/diplomacy-world-affairs>. For information on the Young Initiative on the Global Political Economy, please visit our website at the address noted above. Inquiries about the position, the DWA department, or the Young Initiative can be directed to the Interim Young Initiative in the Global Political Economy Chair, Professor Anthony Tirado Chase: achase@oxy.edu.

We will consider for employment all qualified Applicants, including those with Criminal Histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles' Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: 10/1/2019
Date Posted: 5/30/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5660

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a 1-year, visiting position in Comparative Politics or International Relations. The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory courses in Global Politics and American National Government, and an introductory course in statistics, as well as an upper level course related to the candidate's field of expertise. Area of specialization is open.

Washington and Lee is a highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,800 undergraduates and 315 law students.

Women and minority candidates are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment, which begins July 1, 2019.

Application Instructions

Applicants should provide: (1) a letter of application; (2) current CV; (3) three letters of recommendation; and (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness, including but not limited to peer or supervisor observation letters and student course evaluations, if available.

Address letters of application to Politics Search Committee Head. Please apply online using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/63652>.

Application review will begin immediately and continue on a rolling basis until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/30/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5653

Westmont College

Rank: Assistant / Associate Professor of Political Science--International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Westmont College, Santa Barbara, CA invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of associate or assistant professor in International Relations. The appointment will begin in August 2020. Candidates should be able to teach broadly in international relations, with preference given to those who can also offer courses in comparative politics and introductory research methods. Applicants must have a Ph.D., evidence of excellence in scholarship and teaching, and a commitment to mentoring undergraduate students. A normal teaching load includes three 4-unit courses per semester, committee assignments, and academic advising.

Westmont College is a nationally ranked, selective liberal arts college in the evangelical Protestant tradition. We desire faculty who are animated by a serious Christian faith, are able to engage in interdisciplinary dialogue and pedagogy, and who share a commitment to justice, citizenship, and service. Westmont has a strong commitment to cultural and academic diversity that is increasingly reflected in its student body, curriculum, and faculty. We seek a colleague who shares these commitments and will contribute to their rich applications in political science.

Please visit <https://www.westmont.edu/office-provost/open-positions> for application instructions and to submit relevant documents.

Questions may be addressed to Dr. Jesse Covington, chair of Political Science via e-mail: jcovington@westmont.edu. Review of applications will begin in June 2019, and will continue until the position is filled.

For priority interview consideration, applications should be received by August 1, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5651

Columbia University

Rank: Research Scholar - Nuclear Energy

Research Scholar - Nuclear Energy
Columbia University, School of International and Public Affairs
Center on Global Energy Policy

The Center on Global Energy Policy at Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) seeks a Research Scholar for major research initiatives on nuclear energy. The Research Scholar, who will report to the Center's Director, will conduct original research (including management of external research projects), communicating research findings clearly and concisely to a range of audiences in a manner that maximizes policy impact, and contribute to the University's wider research and convening efforts.

Qualifications include advanced degree (MA, MBA, JD, PhD) focused on energy, economics, public policy, foreign policy, international affairs, national security or a directly related field; experience across energy policy, national security, power markets or a directly related field, and experience in policy analysis, development or advisory services and management of policy research.

For the full job description and to submit an application please visit:

<http://pa334.peopleadmin.com/postings/2661>

Screening of the candidates will begin immediately and the search will remain open no less than 30 days from the date of posting and continue until filled. For further information, please contact Jesse McCormick, CGEP Director of Strategy and Operations, at jmccormick@columbia.edu.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Applications from women and individuals from historically underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Summer 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/16/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5642

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor (two positions) open to subfields in American Politics, International Relations, or Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor (two positions) open to subfields in American Politics, International Relations, or Comparative Politics; teach American Politics & Diversity (to international students); opportunity to teach constitutional law, and courses in area of subfield specialty; advise students. Appointment for the 2019-20 academic year.

Require: PhD at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field (for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor); ABD (for appointment as Instructor); teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught. Position not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research plans, transcripts, writing sample and evidence of teaching effectiveness, if available, <http://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/enus/job/495341>. Letters of reference will be requested by the department at a later date. Inquiries may be directed to Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 21, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/15/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5638

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Dean

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Dean
School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences
The University of Texas at Dallas

The University of Texas at Dallas (UT Dallas) seeks applications and nominations for the position of Dean of the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences. The Dean reports to the Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost and is delegated primary responsibility of working with the faculty of the school in planning future initiatives, for administering the school's annual budget, for organizing the school's class offerings, and for hiring and evaluating the school's faculty and staff.

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS), one of the eight UT Dallas teaching units, is organized into seven academic programs: Criminology and Criminal Justice, Economics, Geospatial Information Sciences, Public and Nonprofit Management, Sociology, Political Science, Public Policy and Political Economy. These programs collectively offer a total of eight undergraduate majors, eleven undergraduate minors, ten masters, and six doctoral degree programs, which play an integral role towards the interdisciplinary mission of the University. The school's faculty include 58 appointments in the tenure system, 11 full-time faculty appointed outside the tenure system, and 13 part-time instructors. EPPS operates on an annual budget of approximately $11 million.

The University of Texas at Dallas, a component of The University of Texas System, is located at the confluence of the cities of Richardson, Dallas, and Plano. UT Dallas is one of the nation's 131 universities ranked as "R1 - Very High Research Activity" in the Carnegie Classification, and is one of the three Texas universities to have qualified for support from the state's National Research University Fund. Current direct research funding from federal agencies is greater than $50 million, and the university's endowment is valued at more than $700 million. Current enrollment exceeds 28,000, with undergraduates comprising 70% of this population. The UT Dallas freshman class has outstanding academic credentials, with the Fall 2018 class including 172 National Merit Scholars.

The individual appointed as dean must have a record of academic and scholarly achievements to qualify for appointment as a tenured professor in the school. Desired attributes include demonstrated ability to provide a distinguished faculty with administrative leadership, the ability to eloquently articulate the missions of higher education in general and of the social sciences in particular to prospective students and university supporters, and the collegiality to work constructively with staff, faculty, and university administration to advance the university's mission. The ideal candidate is sought who has experience building strong community connections and seeking resources to support the mission of EPPS with regards to fundraising to support faculty research, student scholarships, endowments and gifts, and employment opportunities for our students.

Benefits:

UT Dallas offers the UT System comprehensive benefits package. Through UT Benefits, benefits eligible employees and their dependents have access to comprehensive health insurance, financial protection through life and disability insurance, pension plan, tax-deferred and post-tax retirement savings options, paid-time off and wellness program and resources.

Applications, consisting of a detailed curriculum vitae and a letter of interest that addresses the applicant's ability to fulfill the requirements described above, should be received by June 10, 2019 in order to receive full consideration by the Search Committee. Please direct any questions to:

Jill Cohn, Assistant to the Provost
The University of Texas at Dallas
972-883-2272

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 6/10/2019
Date Posted: 5/14/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5637

Tulane University

Rank: Visiting Professor in International Relations

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Tulane University invites applications for a one-year position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor to begin in the fall 2019 semester. The Visiting Assistant Professor is a full-time, non-tenure track, teaching appointment. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Qualifications

The candidate's subfield should be in International Relations. A PhD is preferred; ABD is required by July 1, 2019.

Application Instructions

For full consideration, applicants should submit a letter of interest, syllabi for relevant classes, a graduate transcript, a curriculum vita, and three letters of reference. For additional information, applicants can contact Nancy Maveety, chair of Political Science, at nance@tulane.edu.

Application Link

apply.interfolio.com/62981

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: 5/20/2019

Date Posted: 5/10/2019
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 5635

BYU Political Science

Rank: Political Science Faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Brigham Young University seeks applications for a continuing faculty status (tenure) track position from highly qualified candidates with a completed Ph.D. in any area of political science. Successful candidates will have a strong research agenda, demonstrate potential for high-quality teaching, and be committed to giving the university's students a sound academic experience. Rank is open. Salary, teaching load, and research and travel support are competitive.

Although this announcement is for a CFS (tenure) -track position, it may be filled by a visitor.

BYU, an equal opportunity employer, requires all faculty to observe the university's honor code and dress and grooming standards. Preference is given to qualified candidate who are members in good standing of the affiliated church, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

To apply, go to <https://yjobs.byu.edu/> and search for Job ID 81551. Fill out the application and attach your updated Curriculum Vitae and cover letter. Please also list the individual contact information for each of your three recommenders so they may be contacted at some point during the selection process. Finally, send graduate transcript and at least two samples of scholarly work to Sven Wilson, Chair, Department of Political Science, Brigham Young University, 745 KMBL, Provo, UT 84602, Phone (801) 422-9018, Fax (801) 422-0580, sven_wilson@byu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: 8/15/2019
Date Posted: 5/9/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5633

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2019-20 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2020. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or experience in related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 1, 2019 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02067>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2019

Date Posted: 5/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5612

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for two or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2019-2020 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF02819>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 2, 2019, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The

University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: 6/30/2019

Date Posted: 4/29/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5617

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Irvine seeks a one year Visiting Lecturer to teach five undergraduate courses in International Relations and Comparative Politics. This part-time position will replace faculty on leave during the 2019-20 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in these fields. Candidates should have a Ph.D. and be prepared to teach a mix of lower and upper division courses. These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $54,738.

Service Period Dates for 2019-2020 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/23/19 – 12/13/19

Winter Quarter: 1/6/20 - 3/20/20

Spring Quarter: 3/30/20 – 6/11/20

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF05284>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by July 1st, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/16/2019

Date Posted: 4/29/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5624

Texas Christian University

Rank: Lecturer in International Politics and Managing Editor of ISP

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a lecturer for the 2019-20 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science, have a specialization in international relations, have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 3/3 teaching load and will serve as the managing editor (along with an editorial team) for International Studies Perspectives. Founded in 2000, ISP publishes articles four types of articles: Policy Research and Commentary, Pedagogical Analyses, Visions of the Discipline, and Pieces of Interest to the International Studies Profession. The successful candidate will work with a diverse editorial team, led by Dr. James Scott, the Herman Brown Chair and Professor of Political Science at TCU. The salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and sample syllabus in an upper level course in the field of International Relations), and a 1-page statement explaining how the applicant will contribute to diversity and inclusion. All materials are to be submitted online at https://tcu.igreentree.com/CSS_faculty. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked either to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during a campus interview.

We will review applications on receipt and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to search chair, Dr. James Riddlesperger (j.riddlesperger@tcu.edu).

A selective teaching and research university with 10,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 15th largest city in the United States and part of the nation's fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for eight consecutive years as one of the "Great Colleges to Work For" by The Chronicle of Higher Education. The TCU Political Science Department has sixteen full-time faculty with nearly 400 majors.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/25/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5620

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher in Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint several Post-Doctoral Researchers starting September 2019. Later start dates are also possible. Applicants must have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in the fields of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Public Policy. Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Applications are now open and we will consider candidates on a rolling basis. To be considered, all applicants need to submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, and a research sample. To complete the online process, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

Please visit our website at <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/postdoctoral-and-research.html>; for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad-socialscience@nyu.edu.

Note: We are considering candidates as applications are submitted. We will continue to consider applicants until all positions are filled.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complimented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its tenth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5607

University of Alabama in Huntsville

Rank: Full - Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

JOB DESCRIPTION/REQUIREMENTS: The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama in Huntsville invites applications for a full-time lecturer position in politics and public policy to begin on August 14, 2019. A full-time lecturer position at UAH is a teaching position with a 4/4 teaching load, both undergraduate and graduate courses, but no research responsibilities.

Candidates for the position must have a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a Ph.D. degree in a related discipline with at least 18 hours of graduate coursework in Political Science. We are seeking a candidate with a concentration in domestic or international public policy. In addition, candidates must be able to teach courses in national and international intelligence and security to contribute to a planned program in criminal justice and intelligence studies. Salary is commensurate with experience. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: The University of Alabama in Huntsville, classified as a High Research Activity institution, offers academic and research programs in the Colleges of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education, Engineering, Nursing, Professional and Continuing Studies, and Science. Huntsville maintains one of the highest per capita incomes and standards of living in the Southeast. It is a national center of aerospace and high technology research and is home to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center. A vibrant downtown entertainment district, including Broadway and symphony performances, contribute to Huntsville's cultural life. For more information about Huntsville and its convenient location to Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, please visit <http://www.huntsville.org>.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE: The College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Alabama in Huntsville comprises 10 departments and 94 full-time faculty. We offer a wide array of programs in the arts, humanities, and social sciences including 25 B.A. programs, five M.A. programs, and six certificate programs. We recently added a BFA with a Gaming and Animation track. The college has also led the way in creating several interdisciplinary minors, such as Women's and Gender Studies, Global Studies, and Science, Technology, and Society. Our class sizes are relatively small and our collegial faculty are committed to our students' successes.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Political Science offers a BA major and minor in Political Science, an MA in Public Affairs & Policy, a Pre-Law Certificate Program (undergraduate, with the Department of Philosophy), and an International Security Policy Certificate Program (graduate). The undergraduate curriculum provides a major and a minor in political science with courses offered in American government, comparative politics, international relations, political philosophy, public law, public policy, and methodology. The graduate program focuses on domestic and international public policy, including policy formation, implementation, and evaluation, with special emphasis in intelligence and security studies. For more information about the Department, please visit <http://www.uah.edu/ahs/departments/political-science>.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Application review will begin May 1, 2019 and continue until the position is filled

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: A complete application must include a letter of application, a detailed curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, graduate transcripts, and contact information for at least three professional references. Review of application materials will begin as soon as possible and materials will be accepted until the position is filled. Interviews will be conducted via Skype. Application material should be sent to: Dr. John Pottenger, Chair; Department of Political Science; Conference Training Center, Room 106; University of Alabama in Huntsville; Huntsville, AL 35899 or polsci@uah.edu.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities/ females/ veterans/ disabled. Please refer to log number: 19/20-353

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5608

University Of Texas At Dallas

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science

The University of Texas at Dallas

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at the University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning in August of 2019 in the Political Science Program. UTD is a fast-growing, suburban research university with undergraduate, Master's, and PhD programs in Political Science. We currently have approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 31st among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Highest Research Activity."

The teaching load for this position is 3 courses per long semester and the standard pay rate is $20,000 per long semester. The position is renewable for up to 4 long semesters. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in teaching excellence. Topics of interest include American politics, international relations, or comparative politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory state politics course and the introductory American national government course, as well as more specialized upper-level undergraduate courses. PhD by time of employment is expected.

Applicants should submit letter of application, current curriculum vitae and three letters of recommendation to the Program Head, Banks Miller (millerbp@utdallas.edu). Review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an Equal Opportunity / Equal Access / Affirmative Action Employer and strongly encourages applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the University's faculty and administration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/17/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5602

American University-SIS

Rank: Non-Tenure Track Research Professor

The Accountability Research Center (ARC) at the School of International Service (SIS) at American University (AU) invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track faculty research professor. This appointment is a renewable 12-month term position and will begin on July 1, 2019.

Applicants should hold a PhD in a social science discipline or equivalent (MA/MS and ten years of professional research experience). We are seeking researchers who study Transparency, Participation, and Accountability. Candidates should have substantial field experience in the global South, issue/sector expertise, experience with balanced researcher-practitioner partnerships, and a diverse publication track record.

The candidate who fills the position will engage in applied research full-time in the School of International Service's Accountability Research Center (ARC) (<https://www.accountabilityresearch.org/>). The candidate will co-design research agendas with ARC partners, develop proposals, expand ARC relationships, assist ARC partners on technical research and dissemination issues and publish in scholarly and/or practitioner journals. No teaching is required. Candidates must also share the University's commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Salary is competitive and external funding has been secured for three years. We will give first consideration to applications received by May 10, 2019. However, we will consider applications until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted electronically via <https://apply.interfolio.com/61877>. - Attach a letter of application that addresses affinities with ARC's mission, curriculum vitae, and a small portfolio of relevant work. - Please also attach a statement of your past or future contributions to diversity and inclusion in professional settings. - You will be asked to submit the names and email addresses of three references and request that Interfolio contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation. Queries about the search may be sent to arc@american.edu. Queries about the online application system may be sent to help@interfolio.com.

American University is a private institution of higher education in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu. American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs with 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. SIS faculty produce transformational research and our prime location provides opportunities for collaboration with professionals in government, the private sector, and think tanks and other non-profits. Learn more about SIS at www.american.edu/sis.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/10/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5599

Tokyo International University

Rank: Full-time Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations/International Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, International Relations, Other

[Outline]

Tokyo International University seeks applicants for an open rank faculty position (professor, associate professor or assistant professor) specializing in international law, international organizations, conflict resolution, and related areas to teach both undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in the university's English Track Degree Program, where all courses are taught in English.

[Content of work]

Responsibilities include teaching three courses per semester mainly in an English-medium undergraduate and/or graduate school program, advising and working with students from diverse backgrounds, and undertaking quality research. TIU's academic year consists of two 14-week semesters.

[Positions available]

1

[Address of work location]

Campus 1, 1-13-1 Matoba-kita, Kawagoe City, Saitama Pref. 350-1197

[Starting date]

April 1, 2020 (negotiable)

[Qualifications]

Successful candidates should already hold a Ph.D. or have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of employment, a strong publication record or potential for active scholarly engagement, and ability to teach students with diverse cultural backgrounds.

[Compensation]

Contract period: if hired as tenured, no-period (except age limits) / if hired as tenure-track, 5 years

A competitive salary is offered. Remuneration package includes health insurance, pension, commuting allowance, annual research fund and individual research office.

[Application method]

Please specify to which position you are applying and send an email to "saiyou@tiu.ac.jp" with the following materials attached:

- 1) In the subject of your email, please include this code: IR2019APSA
- 2) Cover letter of application
- 3) Curriculum vitae (please also include your complete contact details and contact information of three references)
- 4) List of classes taught (including title of class, brief description of contents, level)
- 5) Course syllabi of related fields that have been taught at any higher educational institution
- 6) Full text of three research achievements (e.g., Journal articles, publications, etc.)
- 7) Copy of diploma or transcript showing proof of Ph.D. or enrollment in a Ph.D. program

[Deadline]

May 31 (Friday), 2019

[Note]

- We request that all application documents be send via e-mail and not by postal mail. Items sent through postal mail cannot be returned.
- Please describe your contact details clearly (phone number, e-mail address, current location, Skype ID, etc.)
- E-mail accounts through @hotmail, @msn, @live and @outlook may experience difficulty in receiving e-mails from the University. Please provide an alternative e-mail address if possible.
- All the information collected will be used solely for its intended purpose of evaluating applicants. Information will not be used for any other purpose.

[Selection process]

First, a review of applications will be conducted, and only applicants deemed suitable will be contacted and invited for an interview (in person or via Skype). Those applicants who are invited to an interview may be requested to submit Letters of Recommendation from relevant institutions.

For the on-site final interview, reimbursement for round-trip airfare, domestic public transportation allowance, and hotel (one night) will be provided to overseas candidates.

[Contact details]

Global Talent Acquisition Department
Tokyo International University Foundation
4-23-23, Takadanobaba, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-0075
Email: saiyou@tiu.ac.jp

Start Date: Spring 2020
Application Deadline: 5/31/2019
Date Posted: 4/8/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5592

SUNY, Potsdam

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics, State University of New York at Potsdam, seeks a one-year visiting assistant professor in political theory.

The faculty member in this position will teach courses required for the political science major/minor and one or more courses for the general education program. Fall 2019 courses will include introduction to political theory and a general education politics course for non-majors. The third course will be either introduction to U.S. politics or introduction to international relations. Spring 2020 courses will include two required political science courses and one elective course.

Required qualifications:

Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. In addition, we are seeking candidates who possess communication and interpersonal skills sufficient to work effectively with an increasingly diverse array of students and colleagues and who have demonstrated a commitment to creating, fostering and sustaining an inclusive environment in and out of the classroom. A master's degree in political science is also required.

Preferred qualifications:

A Ph.D. in political science is preferred. In addition to political theory, research or teaching experience in the areas of public law, public policy or international relations (other than international political economy) would be welcomed. More broadly, we are seeking candidates who have worked with, done research with, or taught underrepresented groups and have worked collaboratively across various departments in fostering success of underrepresented groups.

Applicants should e-mail a cover letter, curriculum vitae, the names and contact information of three references and evidence of teaching effectiveness directly to Dr. Robert Hinckley, Chair & Associate Professor, at hincklra@potsdam.edu.

The position will remain open until filled but full consideration will be granted to those who submit all materials by April 19, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5591

Michigan State University

Rank: Instructor - Fixed Term

James Madison College, Michigan State University seeks candidates for a full-time fixed-term instructor position specializing in International Relations for a one-year position. Candidates should be able to teach International Relations I: World Politics and International Security, U.S. Foreign Policy, and other electives, as well contribute to the College's first year program (Introduction to Public Affairs). Security, U.S. Foreign Policy, and other electives, as well contribute to the College's first year program (Introduction to Public Affairs).

Applicants should demonstrate commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and supply a statement addressing how their teaching interests would contribute to the International Relations curriculum specifically and to Madison College's curriculum and mission more broadly. Completion of Ph.D. in a related field is preferred prior to the time of appointment.

Interested candidates must apply for this position via the Michigan State University Applicant Tracking System at: <https://careers.msu.edu>. Please see posting number 565371 for complete instructions on how to apply. Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019. Please contact Katie Dyjach (dyjachk@msu.edu) with any questions.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/25/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5545

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science: International Relations/Comparative Politics

POSITION: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science: International Relations/Comparative Politics

RESPONSIBILITIES: The Department of Political Science at the University of Louisiana-Lafayette seeks applications for a one-year appointment at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor beginning August 2019, pending administrative approval. If the position is administratively approved, it might possibly be renewable for a single additional year. A robust academic record with a teaching specialization in International Relations/Comparative Politics is necessary with preferred specialization(s) in Middle East and North Africa, Sub-Saharan Africa, East Asia, or Latin America. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence, and will fulfill a standard teaching load of three courses per semester in support of the International Relations Concentration within the Department of Political Science. Ability and willingness to teach online courses in addition to face-to-face courses is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will teach sections of our introductory IR and Comparative courses (World Politics as well as International Relations) either face-to-face or online. The successful candidate will also teach upper-level courses either face-to-face or online. Current upper-level IR/Comparative courses include Global Security and Conflict, U.S. Foreign Policy, Middle Eastern Politics, Global Political Economy, Global Political Institutions, and International Ethics and Law.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. or ABD in Political Science, International Relations, Diplomacy, or related field. Experience in teaching introductory and upper-level International Relations/Comparative Politics courses is strongly preferred. Online teaching experience is strongly preferred. Successful candidates must be committed to working effectively with diverse student populations.

ADMINISTRATIVE UNIT: Information about the University is available at <https://louisiana.edu>, the College at <https://liberalarts.louisiana.edu>, and the Department at <https://politicalscience.louisiana.edu>.

SALARY: Commensurate with experience.

STARTING DATE: August 1, 2019 pending administrative approval

APPLICATIONS: To apply, please send a letter of application, a vita, unofficial transcripts, sample syllabuses, and student evaluation of instruction scores or other evidence of teaching effectiveness, all together as a single PDF file to pols@louisiana.edu. In addition, three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent separately to pols@louisiana.edu. All confidential recommendation letters must address teaching competence or potential, as well as ability or potential to be a collegial and contributing departmental citizen.

Inquiries about the status of the application should be directed to:

Ponchella Kelly-Boutte, Administrative Assistant
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: pols@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6171
Fax: 337-482-6170

Inquiries about the substance of the position should be directed to:

Dr. Rick Swanson, Professor and Department Chair
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: swanson@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6164
Fax: 337-482-6170

The review process will continue until the position is filled. We will only contact applicants who are being considered for possible interviews.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply. The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. - See more at: <http://personnel.louisiana.edu/employment-opportunities/policy-nondiscrimination>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/19/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5540

University of Virginia

Rank: Research Associate in the Political Economy of Good Government

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The University of Virginia was founded in order to prepare citizens for participation in representative government. Building upon this unique inheritance, the University's College of Arts & Sciences recently launched the Democracy Initiative, an interdisciplinary research and teaching enterprise designed to enhance understanding of the challenges faced by democracies around the world. The Initiative is composed of a series of laboratories, one of which focuses on corruption and governance.

To help catalyze the activities of the Democracy Initiative, we are seeking candidates for a postdoctoral research associate in the political economy of good government. The successful candidate will be expected to teach one course per semester. Additionally, the holder of the fellowship will contribute to the research and public engagement missions of the Democracy Initiative, including organizing speakers' series and events.

The anticipated start date for the position is August 25, 2019. The annual salary for the position is $60,000 plus benefits. For more information on the benefits available to postdoctoral associates at UVA, visit postdoc.virginia.edu and hr.virginia.edu/benefits.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS: Although we anticipate hiring a candidate with a PhD in Political Science, we will also consider candidates with PhDs in related fields such as Economics or Public Policy. We seek candidates with a strong research record in the politics or economics of corruption, or in related areas such as the study of clientelism and the rule of law. Candidates with experience conducting experiments and/or observational research based on best practices in program evaluation are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates must hold a PhD at the time of appointment.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Research-Associate-in-Politics_R0003184 and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and contact information for three references.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications will begin February 25, 2019; however, the position will remain open until filled.

The initial appointment is for one year, renewable for a second year based upon availability of funding and performance.

For questions about the position, please contact Daniel Gingerich at dwg4c@virginia.edu

For questions about the application process, please contact Rich Haverstrom at rkh6j@virginia.edu

For more details on the Initiative, please see <http://as.virginia.edu/democracy-initiative>

The University of Virginia assists UVA faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more about these services, please see <http://provost.virginia.edu/dual-career>.

Applicants may also wish to consult the Faculty & Candidate Guide to UVa & Charlottesville <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>, which offers a wide range of resources on working at UVa and living in and near Charlottesville

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System and the University Physician's Group are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/18/2019

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 5537

Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: Conflict Processes, International Security, Political Development

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for two full-time, non-tenure-track positions of Visiting Assistant Professor for the academic year 2019-2020. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand are preferred, although applications from advanced graduate students are welcome (candidates without doctoral degree at time of hire are issued contract for Visiting Instructor).

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. The teaching load for each position is six courses per year. In addition to ability to teach introductory courses in international relations and comparative politics, we are particularly interested in candidates with experience in teaching conflict and peace studies as well development and political economy. We are open to applicants of any regional specialization.

The University of the South comprises a nationally-ranked College of the Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. It is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background screening. The University of the South is committed to creating and maintaining a diverse campus environment. We are proud to be an equal opportunity educational institution and welcome all qualified applicants without regard to their race, color, religion, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, disability, age, or veteran status.

Applicants must submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, a sample syllabus, and contact information for a reference who can speak to teaching potential. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at <https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/3296>. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. Reviewing of applications will begin immediately, but best consideration will be given to applications submitted by April 1, 2019.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5478

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Visiting Lecturer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a one-year, full-time position as Visiting Lecturer in Global Studies for the 2019-2020 academic year, with a possibility of renewal. Teaching obligations involve 18 credit hours (6 courses) and will include several sections of PS 550, Introduction to Global Studies, a course the Department offers in close coordination with Pitt's Global Studies Center. Additional teaching will depend on the interests of the successful candidate (e.g., courses in comparative politics, international relations, or political theory). We are particularly interested in candidates who could offer upper-level courses in political theory that complement our existing offerings (e.g., courses in non-western or comparative political theory, post-colonial theory, etc.) as well as in comparative politics or international relations. All applicants should explain their qualifications to teach Intro to Global Studies (a large-format lecture course) and describe what additional courses they might offer.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand or expected by August 31, 2019. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, teaching portfolio, and two letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. Please apply online at: <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MjYx>.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/26/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5477

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) has up to 3 postdoctoral positions available for the next four academic years (2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022, 2022-2023). Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director.

Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and “big data”) to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant’s interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase “cPASS Postdoc Fellow” in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/25/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5470

University of New England

Rank: Assistant Lecturer, International Relations and Global Studies

The Department of Political Science at the University of New England seeks applicants for a full-time, non-tenure track Assistant Lecturer in International Relations and Global Studies beginning in the 2019-2020 academic year.

The ideal candidate will offer a range of introductory and advanced level courses in international relations, depending on the candidate’s interest and expertise. The candidate will also teach Introduction to Global Studies and help guide students interested in the Global Studies major. The ability to teach in another sub-field, especially American or Comparative Politics, would be of additional value to the department. Political science courses at UNE are generally taught in a seminar style, with an emphasis on high-engagement with students.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Sciences or related field at the time of appointment. Candidates with teaching experience are preferred.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please visit the job advertisement at the UNE website:

<https://une.peopleadmin.com/postings/5435>

You will be asked submit the following materials:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Names and contact information for three professional references
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- Evidence of effective teaching

You may also submit supplementary materials about your research program if you choose.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2019

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 5437

Augustana University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Augustana University invites applications for a full-time, Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2019-20 academic year. The position will begin in August 2019.

Responsibilities: The successful applicant will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment. Courses to be taught include Introduction to Government, Introduction to American Government, and The American Presidency. The ideal candidate will be able to offer additional courses in American politics, comparative politics, and/or international relations. The total course load is three courses per semester, plus a three-week January term course.

Qualifications: Completed Ph.D. by August 1, 2019 strongly preferred. Evidence of teaching excellence expected.

Application Procedure: Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, copies of graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations), statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, statement of commitment to diversity, a writing sample, a completed Augustana University employment application (available at <http://www.augie.edu/prospective-employees>) and three letters of recommendation to humanresources@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Official web site: www.augie.edu.

Contact Department Chair with questions: Dr. Joel Johnson, Professor of Government and International Affairs, joel.johnson@augie.edu, 605.274.5319.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/12/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5435

Lincoln University of Missouri

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Lincoln University of Missouri invites applicants for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science beginning August 2019. Areas of specialization include Comparative Politics and International Relations. Teaching responsibilities will also include the Introduction to American Government course.

Lincoln's political science program is part of an interdisciplinary department that includes social & behavioral sciences. The successful candidate will be a passionate teacher, mentor, and developer of innovative curriculum. Other job responsibilities include Model UN faculty advisor and Study Abroad participant.

Ph.D. preferred; ABD considered with college level teaching experience.

Application materials should be submitted electronically to gossetta@lincolnu.edu and include: letter of interest, curriculum vitae, transcripts, evidence of previous teaching experience and three letters of reference. Unofficial transcripts are acceptable during screening. Official transcripts are required prior to employment. Will review applications as they are submitted.

If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Amy Gossett at gossetta@lincolnu.edu.

Lincoln University is a HBCU, land-grant, public university with enrollment of 2800 students and an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/4/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5412

Eastern Kentucky University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations

The Department of Government at Eastern Kentucky University invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in international relations and/or global politics, to begin August 15, 2019. The area of specialization is open. The successful candidate will be able to teach introductory and upper-division courses in international relations. The ability to teach terrorism, globalization, and Introduction to American Government is preferred. Candidates must also be able to develop and teach fully online courses.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is required at the time of appointment. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester. Successful candidates should be, or have the potential to be, a high quality teacher and an active scholar.

Review of applications will begin January 20 and continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit: 1) Cover letter, 2) Curriculum vitae, 3) Teaching philosophy statement, 4) Three letters of reference, 5) Copies of unofficial transcripts, and 6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness.

To apply, please visit <https://hr.eku.edu/employment>.

Questions about the position can be directed to Steve Barracca at steve.barracca@eku.edu.

For additional information, see the Department web site at <http://www.government.eku.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/13/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5283

University of Southern California

Rank: Teaching Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: International Security, International Political Economy, East Asia

Teaching Postdoctoral Fellowship AY 19-20
School of International Relations Los Angeles, California
University of Southern California

The School of International Relations in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC; Los Angeles, California) invites applications for postdoctoral positions with two-course teaching for AY2019-20. The fall semester starts in the third week of August 2019. We seek applicants with expertise in quantitative methods, international security, international political economy and international relations of Asia with focus on China. The successful candidates will join the Center for International Studies (CIS) at USC as postdoctoral fellows and are expected to teach one 15-week course per semester for two semesters, with the possibility of renewal of the appointment. We also look for candidates with a strong research profile with emphasis on academic publications and an interest in engaging in the vibrant research community of the School of International Relations and the CIS. A PhD is required by time of the appointment.

Applications should be complete by January 31, 2019, to receive fullest consideration. Applicants are required to complete the online application process (with few exceptions—such as published books—materials submitted by regular post will not be accepted). Follow this link or paste it in a browser: <https://uscareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/postdoctoral-scholar-teaching-fellow/1209/9778991> Required materials include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research sample, a list of proposed courses to teach, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the three reference letters, and official graduate transcripts. Inquiries may be sent to cis@dornsife.usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2018

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5081

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in comparative public administration beginning on August 1, 2019. This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in Public Administration/International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2019 with a research specialization in comparative public administration. The teaching will be in our master's degree (MPA) in public administration as well as undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as research methods, or a regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2019. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and arrange to have three reference letters uploaded. Please direct all questions to Dr Terry Anderson at tanderson@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4971

Temple University

Rank: Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies

Specializations: Russia, History & Politics, Post Soviet Region

The Departments of Political Science and History at Temple University invite applications for the position of Professor of Integrative Knowledge in Russian, Soviet, and Post-Soviet Studies. We seek an established interdisciplinary scholar whose research and teaching address both Russian and/or Soviet history as well as the legacies of these earlier eras in the post-Soviet era, including topics such as the persistence of authoritarian rule as well as the important roles of the Soviet Union and Russia in world politics. This joint appointment in the Departments of History and Political Science is part of a broader initiative in the College of Liberal Arts to recruit senior faculty studying important questions across disciplinary boundaries. We seek someone who can be tenured at the level of either Associate or Full Professor in either (or both) Political Science and History.

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (highest research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home of 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays, and its missions mirrors, both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded.

Interested applicants should send a cover letter and curriculum vitae to <http://apply.interfolio.com/53872>. We will begin consideration of applications and nominations on October 15th. Professors Mark Pollack of Political Science and Alan McPherson of History will co-chair the search.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 10/15/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4736

University of New England

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations and Global Studies

Unfortunately, due to budgetary considerations, we have been forced to cancel the search.

Instead, we will be conducting a search on the lecturer track. That job is posted here at apsanet, and can be applied for at the following link:

<https://une.peopleadmin.com/postings/5435>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/25/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4737

METHODOLOGY

Westmont College

Rank: Assistant / Associate Professor of Political Science--International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Westmont College, Santa Barbara, CA invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of associate or assistant professor in International Relations. The appointment will begin in August 2020. Candidates should be able to teach broadly in international relations, with preference given to those who can also offer courses in comparative politics and introductory research methods. Applicants must have a Ph.D., evidence of excellence in scholarship and teaching, and a commitment to mentoring undergraduate students. A normal teaching load includes three 4-unit courses per semester, committee assignments, and academic advising.

Westmont College is a nationally ranked, selective liberal arts college in the evangelical Protestant tradition. We desire faculty who are animated by a serious Christian faith, are able to engage in interdisciplinary dialogue and pedagogy, and who share a commitment to justice, citizenship, and service. Westmont has a strong commitment to cultural and academic diversity that is increasingly reflected in its student body, curriculum, and faculty. We seek a colleague who shares these commitments and will contribute to their rich applications in political science.

Please visit <https://www.westmont.edu/office-provost/open-positions> for application instructions and to submit relevant documents.

Questions may be addressed to Dr. Jesse Covington, chair of Political Science via e-mail: jcovington@westmont.edu. Review of applications will begin in June 2019, and will continue until the position is filled.

For priority interview consideration, applications should be received by August 1, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5651

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor

The University of Virginia Arts & Sciences Department of Politics invites applicants for a one-year Open Rank Academic General Faculty Member (Tenure-Ineligible) appointment. The appointment begins with the fall term of 2019, with an anticipated start date of August 25, 2019. Candidates will be expected to teach courses in our graduate quantitative methodology sequence. The teaching schedule for the Fall 2019 semester would be one seminar in Maximum Likelihood Estimation and our math camp for first-year students. The teaching schedule for the Spring 2020 semester would be one seminar in Linear Models and one advanced elective of the selected candidate's choosing. Teaching responsibilities would also include a non-credit course each semester consisting of regular consultation with graduate students on the quantitative component of course papers, qualifying papers for the minor in methodology, and MA and Ph.D. theses. The candidate would have the opportunity to participate in the College's Quantitative Collaborative and its new Data Sciences Institute.

Applicants must have all requirements for their Ph.D completed in a relevant field by August 25, 2019. In addition, applicants must demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence and evidence of an explicit commitment to diversity and of advancing understanding and outcomes for underrepresented groups. The salary for entry-level candidates with limited experience is $53,000 plus benefits. Candidates for higher ranks will be given a salary commensurate with experience.

Applicant review begins June 4, 2019. The position will remain open until filled.

TO APPLY:

PROCESS FOR INTERNAL UVA APPLICANTS: Please apply through your Workday Home page, search "Find Jobs", and search for "R0006156". Complete an application online and see below for documents to attach.

PROCESS FOR EXTERNAL APPLICANTS: Please visit UVA job board <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>, (Requisition number R0006156) complete the application and see below for documents to attach. Please note that multiple documents can be uploaded in the box.

Complete an application online and attach:

- CV
- Cover Letter
- Brief (1-2 page statement) addressing the following:
 - ?Your philosophy and experience in teaching and mentoring
 - ?How you have worked to contribute to equity and inclusion in your research, teaching and/or service.
 - ?How your experience contributes to the department's core values of ethics, teaching, and collaboration.
 - ?Contact information for 3 references

Applications that do not contain all of the required documents will not receive full consideration.

For questions about the application process, please contact Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor, nr7f@virginia.edu.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu/>. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System and the University Physician's Group are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 5/16/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5643

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Post-doctoral Research Fellow is a 12-month in-residence position support ongoing research at UNC Charlotte and to collaborate in areas related to public opinion, public policy, political psychology, and/or political communication. The research fellow will maintain their own research agenda and work on collaborative projects within one or more ongoing projects in the areas of: political emotions and collective behavior; measurement of political content in large volumes of text; exploring contagion processes in social media; and methodology issues in survey and experimental research. Opportunities for collaborative work within these broader areas will be determined based on the fellow's interests and skills.

In addition, the fellow will provide project management, mentoring, and training for doctoral students in two closely related research support labs: an established survey and experimental research lab housed in Political Science and Public Administration, and a newly formed Policy Research Support Lab associated with the Public Policy Program.

The position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related Social Science discipline (completed within the last three years) and strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata. Preference will be given to applicants with skills in one or more of the following areas: survey methodology, causal inference, natural language processing, network analysis, large scale text processing, or social media analytics.

The position reports to the Director of Public Policy. The fellow will participate in the broader intellectual life of the interdisciplinary Public Policy Program and the Department of Political Science and Public Administration. The position may be renewable for an additional year based on performance and availability of funding. Salary range for the position is $54,000-$56,000 with the possibility of research and travel support.

See the full position posting at: <https://jobs.uncc.edu/postings/26857>. Review of applications begins May 13, 2019. Applications must be submitted online to <https://jobs.uncc.edu/postings/26857>. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, Curriculum Vitae, writing sample, a copy of graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/25/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5615

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Public Administration & Policy at the University at Albany's Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor in Public Policy beginning in Fall 2019 for one year with the possibility of a second. Candidates must be strongly committed to excellence in teaching, specifically in the areas of Microeconomics and Statistics.

We welcome applications from candidates interested in policy areas such as education, environment, health or economic affairs, as well as engagement in high-quality teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Other policy areas will also be considered. Applicants are expected to teach a 2-2 load: 2 sections of Master's-level Microeconomics, 1 section of Statistics (either Master's or undergraduate level), and an undergraduate Public Policy elective based on their teaching interests in agreement with the undergraduate program director.

Requirements

*Candidates must have a Ph.D. from a college or university accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or internationally recognized organization by the time of appointment. The successful candidate should have a doctorate in Public Administration, Public Policy, Public Affairs, or an allied field such as Economics.

Applicants must be willing to participate and collaborate in departmental activities involving graduate and undergraduate students.

Applicants must possess excellent communication skills, including the ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing.

Applicants must address in their application their ability to work with culturally diverse populations.

*Candidates who will have completed their Ph.D. by Spring 2019 will be considered.

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

CV

A cover letter addressed to Luis F. Luna-Reyes, Chair of the Search Committee

A writing sample

Teaching evaluations, if available

Graduate transcripts

Applicants will be asked to provide names and contact information for three references.*

*Special Note: Once applications have been initially screened, candidates will receive notification of how to submit three letters of reference through Interview Exchange.

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=109530>

A review of applications will start on May 31, 2019 and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

For details, please go to: <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=109530&CNTRNO=1&TSTMP=0>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/19/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5610

Dartmouth College

Rank: Lecturer in Introductory Statistics and/or Introductory Comparative Politics

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College seeks applications for multiple visiting instructor appointments for part or all of the 2019-2020 academic year. Dartmouth terms run fall (September to November), winter (January through mid-March), and spring (late March through May). (See <https://www.dartmouth.edu/~reg/calendar/academic/19-20.html>.) We have a particular need for candidates who can teach an introductory statistics course, an introductory comparative politics course, or both. Applicants must demonstrate excellence or promise of excellence in teaching. A Ph.D. is preferred, but A.B.D. candidates will be considered.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references who can speak to teaching potential via the application portal at <https://apply.interfolio.com/62410>. Reviewing of applications will begin immediately. Those interested are encouraged to contact Yusaku Horiuchi, Professor of Government, at yusaku.horiuchi@dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5603

University of Alabama in Huntsville

Rank: Full - Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

JOB DESCRIPTION/REQUIREMENTS: The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama in Huntsville invites

applications for a full-time lecturer position in politics and public policy to begin on August 14, 2019. A full-time lecturer position at UAH is a teaching position with a 4/4 teaching load, both undergraduate and graduate courses, but no research responsibilities.

Candidates for the position must have a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a Ph.D. degree in a related discipline with at least 18 hours of graduate coursework in Political Science. We are seeking a candidate with a concentration in domestic or international public policy. In addition, candidates must be able to teach courses in national and international intelligence and security to contribute to a planned program in criminal justice and intelligence studies. Salary is commensurate with experience. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: The University of Alabama in Huntsville, classified as a High Research Activity institution, offers academic and research programs in the Colleges of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education, Engineering, Nursing, Professional and Continuing Studies, and Science. Huntsville maintains one of the highest per capita incomes and standards of living in the Southeast. It is a national center of aerospace and high technology research and is home to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center. A vibrant downtown entertainment district, including Broadway and symphony performances, contribute to Huntsville's cultural life. For more information about Huntsville and its convenient location to Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, please visit <http://www.huntsville.org>.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE: The College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Alabama in Huntsville comprises 10 departments and 94 full-time faculty. We offer a wide array of programs in the arts, humanities, and social sciences including 25 B.A. programs, five M.A. programs, and six certificate programs. We recently added a BFA with a Gaming and Animation track. The college has also led the way in creating several interdisciplinary minors, such as Women's and Gender Studies, Global Studies, and Science, Technology, and Society. Our class sizes are relatively small and our collegial faculty are committed to our students' successes.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Political Science offers a BA major and minor in Political Science, an MA in Public Affairs & Policy, a Pre-Law Certificate Program (undergraduate, with the Department of Philosophy), and an International Security Policy Certificate Program (graduate). The undergraduate curriculum provides a major and a minor in political science with courses offered in American government, comparative politics, international relations, political philosophy, public law, public policy, and methodology. The graduate program focuses on domestic and international public policy, including policy formation, implementation, and evaluation, with special emphasis in intelligence and security studies. For more information about the Department, please visit <http://www.uah.edu/ahs/departments/political-science>.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Application review will begin May 1, 2019 and continue until the position is filled

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: A complete application must include a letter of application, a detailed curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, graduate transcripts, and contact information for at least three professional references. Review of application materials will begin as soon as possible and materials will be accepted until the position is filled. Interviews will be conducted via Skype. Application material should be sent to: Dr. John Pottenger, Chair; Department of Political Science; Conference Training Center, Room 106; University of Alabama in Huntsville; Huntsville, AL 35899 or polsci@uah.edu.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities/ females/ veterans/ disabled. Please refer to log number: 19/20-353

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5608

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) has up to 3 postdoctoral positions available for the next four academic years (2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022, 2022-2023). Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director.

Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/25/2019

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5470

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Missouri Southern State University in Joplin, Missouri invites applications for a Master Instructor of Political Science position beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory American Government; areas of specialization include public law and the courts. Master Instructors are responsible for 15 credit hours per semester, with 3 credit hours dedicated to supervising the Mock Trial program. Experience with coaching Mock Trial within the American Mock Trial Association Collegiate Mock Trial System, is required. Applicants with the ability to teach undergraduate research methods or statistics are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in political science is preferred at time of appointment (ABD and candidates with a master's degree in political science will be considered.) Ideal candidates will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science and a JD. The position requires a commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level.

Applicants should submit a detailed letter of application, curriculum vitae (with the names, addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers of three references), and copies of undergraduate and graduates transcripts. (Official transcripts are required 45 days after contract is issued.) Submit documents to FacultyVitae@mssu.edu; include: "Political Science – Master Instructor" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Employment will require a background check. MSSU is an EOE employer with a strong institutional commitment to achievement of excellent and diversity among faculty and staff. MSSU is an E-verify participating employer.

Missouri Southern State University (MSSU) is a four year liberal arts institution serving nearly 6,000 students. Expanding graduate and undergraduate programs provide faculty with rich opportunities for service and scholarship. Internationally-focused semesters and enriching cultural events in theater, art, music and film create an engaging learning environment for students and citizens of the region. MSSU is located in Joplin, MO, which is considered to be the Crossroads of America, and serves as the commercial hub for the four states area. Joplin is a resilient and vibrant city with a population of over 50,000 serving a metropolitan statistical area of 208,000. There is quick and easy access to Northwest Arkansas, Kansas City, and Tulsa, as well as numerous outdoor activities and attractions throughout the Ozarks.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5316

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Neuroscience Professor - Open Rank

The Division of Social Science at NYUAD is seeking to hire a faculty member in the area of Social Neuroscience. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. Although the specific area of research is open, the focus should be human research explicitly linked to social processes. Individuals from all academic backgrounds are encouraged to apply (e.g., biology, psychology, economics, political science or sociology). Preference will be given to applicants who use fMRI, EEG, or process tracing methods, whose research reflects the interdisciplinary nature of social science and who can forge linkages to other areas of study both within the Division (i.e., with economists, political scientists and sociologists) and outside the Division.

The facilities available include a state-of-the-art brain-imaging center housing a Siemens Prisma 3T MRI, MEG, EEG, eye tracking and behavioral testing facilities. The successful candidates will also have access to state of the art core facilities that include High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6,400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. We will begin consideration of applications October 1st, although review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

You can start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52983>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4603

NON-ACADEMIC

OTHER

Tulane University

Rank: Visiting Professor

Tulane University, Academic Centers, Stone Center for Latin American Studies

Visiting Professor, Stone Center for Latin American Studies

Location: Tulane University, New Orleans, LA

Tulane University invites applications from mid-career scholars in Latin American Studies conducting interdisciplinary research in the Arts, Humanities, or Social Sciences to spend one semester as a Richard E. Greenleaf Scholar-in-Residence at the Stone Center for Latin American Studies during the 2020-2021 academic year. Preference is for scholars of migration, particularly as it relates to environmental change, urbanism, or race and ethnicity, but promising candidates from any field or discipline are welcome to apply. The Greenleaf Scholar-in-Residence will teach one graduate-level seminar (in English, Spanish, or Portuguese) and pursue research while in residence on campus.

Qualifications:

At minimum Associate Professor status or its equivalent and distinguished record of publication.

Application Instructions: Applications may be submitted by visiting http:// apply.interfolio.com/63247

Please include a CV, with contact information for two professional references; a cover letter describing your credentials, preferred semester of appointment (fall 2020 or spring 2021), and how residence at Tulane will aid in advancing your research; and a title and brief description of a seminar you would be interested in offering. Application deadline: October 4, 2019.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Date Posted: 6/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5657

American University-SIS

Rank: Full-Time Non-Tenure Track

The School of International Service (SIS) at American University (AU) invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track faculty appointment for AY 19-20. Rank will be dependent on experience and stature in the field. The appointment is for one year, commencing on July 1, 2019, with the expectation that the appointment may be renewed for subsequent academic years subject to satisfactory performance and budgetary authorization.

The position is intended for a person who would serve as the Administrative Director for our professionally-oriented Masters programs in International Development; Global Environmental Policy; and International Economic Relations. These professional programs collectively train 150 students each academic year and prepare graduates for careers in the public, private, and non-profit sectors.

We are especially interested in candidates with administrative/management experience, who specialize in policy, practice, and/or scholarship at the intersection of sustainable development and international economics.

The Administrative Director provides leadership to their designated programs. By working closely with faculty, students, and staff, the director is well positioned to support community building and the distinct intellectual life of their respective programs. The successful candidate has responsibility for the design, delivery, and assessment of the curriculum; program-level recruitment and conversion strategies; and student professional and academic success.

In addition, the person selected would teach two courses per academic year in SIS at the graduate and/or undergrad level. All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

The candidate would ideally have a record of excellence in teaching and administration. Applicants should hold a PhD in a social science discipline or equivalent (MA/MS and ten years of professional experience).

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

? Applications must be submitted electronically via <http://apply.interfolio.com/63662> .

? Attach a letter of application that addresses affinities with relevant programs and management experience.

? Attach recent teaching evaluations (when possible).

? Please also attach a statement of your past or future contributions to diversity and inclusion in professional settings.

? You will be asked to submit the names and email addresses of three references and request that Interfolio contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation.

Queries about the search may be sent to schroede@american.edu.

Queries about the online application system may be sent to help@interfolio.com.

American University is a private institution of higher education in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu. American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs with 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. SIS faculty produce transformational research and our prime location provides opportunities for collaboration with professionals in government, the private sector, and think tanks and other non-profits. Learn more about SIS at www.american.edu/sis.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5658

University of Denver

Rank: Visiting Teaching Assistant Professor

Specializations: Normative Political Theory, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a non-tenure track, full-time Visiting Teaching Assistant Professor in the field of political theory for the 2019-20 academic year. Position may be extended for an additional year if continued need and funding exist. The candidate hired will teach the equivalent of eight courses over three quarters. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach Introduction to Political Thought (theory), a variety of upper-division courses in political theory (examples could include topics such as Contemporary Theory, American Political Thought, and Conservative or Feminist Political Theory), and at least one upper-division course in another sub-field of political science. Successful candidates will demonstrate a record of excellence in undergraduate teaching and a strong commitment to engaging students with diverse backgrounds and learning styles constructively. ABD in political science (or related theory or philosophy program) and experience as an instructor or graduate teaching assistant for undergraduate courses in political science required. PhD in political science (or related theory or philosophy program), experience as an instructor teaching Introduction to Political Thought (theory) and upper-division undergraduate courses in political theory, and expertise to teach in an additional sub-field of political science preferred.

The Department of Political Science consists of active scholars offering the Bachelors of arts degree in political science within the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Denver. We serve approximately 200 majors and students across campus in the common curriculum. Our faculty value inclusive excellence: a commitment by all constituents to create an academic experience that embraces and engages diverse perspectives and communities within an atmosphere of mutual respect. Our curriculum endeavors to develop students' ability to think critically, communicate clearly, write effectively, and develop compelling analytical argumentation based on justifiable sources of empirical evidence and analytical reasoning. Salary determined by qualifications of the selected candidate, balanced with departmental budget availability, internal salary equity considerations, and available market information.

For best consideration, please submit your application materials by May 28, 2019.

Candidates must apply online through www.du.edu/jobs to be considered. Only online applications will be accepted.

Please include the following documents (in PDF) with your application:

1. CV that indicates specialization and comprehensive exam fields.
2. Letter of interest that specifies courses you have taught and/or would like to teach at DU, articulates your teaching philosophy and methods to engage students, and explains how you foster inclusive excellence in your teaching.
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness such as syllabi, detailed descriptions of particular course assignments, grading rubrics for writing assignments, and other artifacts of teaching excellence, preferably combined into one pdf file.
4. Updated references list. These individuals will be contacted to provide letters of recommendation (3 required for best consideration).

For questions about this position, please contact Lisa Conant, Chair of Political Science at conant@du.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5641

INSTITUTE FOR WOMENS POLICY RESEARCH

Rank: PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT

THE INSTITUTE FOR WOMEN'S POLICY RESEARCH

WASHINGTON, D.C.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION

The Institute for Women's Policy Research (IWPR), a nonprofit Washington D.C. think tank created in 1987 to develop comprehensive, women-focused public policy research, seeks a new President. IWPR's mission is to advance the status of women of diverse backgrounds and experiences through social science research, policy analysis, and public education. IWPR reports those findings in reports, fact sheets, conference presentations, interviews with the news media, and in testimony before congressional committees and in state and local legislatures across the nation.

Named a top think tank in the United States, IWPR has a diverse and expert staff representing all the major social science disciplines, as well as statistical analysis and model design. IWPR has five key program areas: Employment, Education, and Economic Change, Democracy and Society, Poverty, Welfare, and Income Security, Work and Family, and Health and Safety.

For more information on IWPR, please visit iwpr.org.

THE OPPORTUNITY

IWPR's new President must have a vision for IWPR's future growth and success, a collaborative style, media savvy, thorough training and experience in how a wide range of policy initiatives affect women, and exceptional fundraising skills. IWPR's new President must be thoroughly versed in economic approaches to policy issues and able to explain and communicate economic analysis to diverse audiences. The successful candidate must be both visionary and pragmatic, have extensive experience in both research and management, and be capable of both inspiring staff to their best efforts and making tough decisions necessary to achieve the Institute's goals. This executive should have a track record of building lasting relationships with funders, adeptly cultivating donors to help sustain the work of IWPR for the long-term. Working with the Institute's Board of Directors, Management Team, and staff, the next President will be a highly visible leader of the research community, the public policy community, and the feminist community. This leader will have the capacity to communicate with a wide range of audiences – researchers, public policy makers, congressional staff, government staff at both the federal and state/local level, journalists, and the general public – on technical research issues, practical policy issues, and broader issues concerning the kind of society in which we all want to live.

Specifically, the new President will:

- Develop long-term strategies for achieving IWPR's mission.
- Develop short-term goals, plans, and policies to achieve the long-term strategies.
- Build a sustainable organization that provides critical research and analysis to the policymaking community.
- Secure the necessary funding for IWPR's work from foundations, corporations, unions, organizations, government agencies, and individual donors.
- Enhance IWPR as a productive and collaborative place to work that will both elicit the best work of IWPR's talented staff and attract new staff. Use an entrepreneurial mindset to solve problems in innovative ways and respond quickly to changes in the marketplace and the public policy community.
- Expand the reach, influence, and public recognition of IWPR as the primary source of credible research on policy issues relevant to women.
- Cultivate relationships with Congress, the Executive Branch, state and local policymakers, the media, and other stakeholders while serving as the primary spokesperson for IWPR before the research and public policy communities and the general public.

CANDIDATE PROFILE

The ideal candidate for this position will be an inspiring, pragmatic, resourceful, and flexible leader who has a strong commitment to improving the status of women; a deep understanding of public policy issues affecting women and of research techniques that can illuminate those issues; and the managerial acumen to build and sustain an organization that can achieve IWPR's mission. Top candidates will be able to demonstrate bold, visionary, and strategic thinking in order to lead the organization into its next exciting chapter.

The ideal candidate will possess the following professional experience and expertise, as well as personal competencies and characteristics: Leadership and External Relations

- 10 to 15 years of senior management experience in either a for-profit, non-profit, or government organization.
- Track record of serving or capacity to serve as a thought leader and media spokesperson to articulate how policy ideas can improve the status of women.
- Exceptional communications skills, including clear and persuasive writing and speaking in both “long-form” and “short-form” communications media.
- Extensive experience in developing and analyzing policy ideas and working with advocacy groups, thought leaders, and other stakeholders to ensure that this analysis informs public policies.
- Proven experience in building coalitions with external stakeholders, including funders, advocacy groups, and policymakers.
- Demonstrated experience and success securing financial resources from multiple funding sources, including foundations, individual donors, government organizations, and corporate partners.
- Ability to anticipate research topics and areas which will allow IWPR to identify and cultivate new sources of funding, and to remain at the forefront of informing public policies affecting the status of women of diverse backgrounds and experiences.

Public Policy/Research Expertise

- Deep knowledge of social science research, data sources, and analytical techniques.

- Extensive experience with how issues specific to women impact the broader U.S. and world economies.
- Respect for high ethical and intellectual standards in carrying out public policy research so as to ensure that IWPR's research maintains its reputation for accuracy and credibility.
- Political savvy and ability to maneuver through complex policy thickets effectively.

Organizational Management and Acumen

- Ability to work well with others, including staff, senior management, Board members, funders, policymakers, other researchers, media, and others who play critical roles in ensuring IWPR's success.
- Commitment to recruiting, retaining, and sustaining a diverse staff with regard to race, ethnicity, sexual and gender orientation, and relevant disciplinary training.
- Approachable and open-minded, with genuine interest in mentoring staff and building a collaborative and collegial organizational culture which brings out the best in all members of the team.
- Proven experience in overseeing budgeting, financial management, human resource management, and other managerial skills necessary to build and sustain a successful organization.
- A track record of innovation and entrepreneurial skill in devising creative solutions to challenging organizational and programmatic issues.

Other professional and personal qualities

- Intellectual curiosity, high emotional intelligence, and well-honed listening skills.
- A disinclination to take oneself too seriously; a healthy sense of humor.

EDUCATION

An advanced degree in a related field (e.g., economics, sociology, public policy, business, etc.) is required; a PhD or dual advanced degrees is desirable. IWPR's next President must have the professional and academic credibility to lead the team, which includes several senior staff members who are scholars in their respective fields.

SALARY

$210,000 - $240,000 and will be commensurate with experience.

CONTACT

The Institute for Women's Policy Research has engaged Koya Leadership Partners to help in this hire. This search is being led by Naree W.S. Viner and Turner Delano. Please submit a compelling cover letter and resume here(<https://ats.k2-app.com/jobPosting/apply/621>). The Institute for Women's Policy Research is an equal opportunity employer and strongly encourages applications from people of color, persons with disabilities, women, and LGBT applicants.

ABOUT KOYA LEADERSHIP PARTNERS

Koya Leadership Partners is a retained executive search and human capital consulting firm that partners exclusively with mission-driven clients, institutions of higher education and social enterprises. We deliver measurable results, finding exceptionally talented people who truly fit the unique culture of our clients and ensuring they have the strategies to support them. For more information about Koya Leadership Partners, visit www.koyapartners.com.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/5y8j4585n64py8jj>

PI109785983

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/7/2019

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5632

Social Science Research Council

Rank: Program Officer, Anxieties of Democracy

Description

The Social Science Research Council (SSRC) is a Brooklyn, NY–based, independent, international, nonprofit organization devoted to the advancement of interdisciplinary research in the social sciences through a wide variety of workshops and conferences, fellowships and grants, summer training institutes, scholarly exchanges, research, and publications. For more information, please visit our website: www.ssrc.org.

The SSRC seeks to hire a Program Officer to support its work in understanding and addressing the contemporary challenges facing democracy in the United States and around the world. The principal responsibility of the position is to manage, in partnership with the Vice President of Programs, the Anxieties of Democracy (AOD) program, to contribute to the development of democracy-related programming at the SSRC, and to support other relevant aspects of the SSRC's work.

The AOD program is motivated by a concern about whether the core institutions of representative democracies can capably address large problems in the public interest. The program promotes research and dialogue on a range of topics related to democratic functioning—for example, asking how democracies can effectively respond to climate change, deal with challenges to national security, and address the political consequences of a changing economy. With the support of the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation and others, the Anxieties of Democracy program aims to mobilize existing research; promote new research; publish and disseminate findings; forge pathways for bringing this knowledge to policy, media, and public audiences; and provide opportunities for new generations of social scientists to address how democracies could govern more effectively. It pursues these goals in consultation with the AOD advisory committee and through a set of activities that includes topically focused working groups, conferences and workshops, a book series in partnership with a major university press, the Democracy Papers blog, and a range of outreach and public engagement activities.

The Program Officer will oversee the day-to-day implementation of this work while participating in the design and development of new activities related to the state of contemporary democracy, including the preparation of new funding proposals. In addition, the Program Officer will collaborate with SSRC colleagues in related programs on the impact of media on politics (including the Media and Democracy program and the Disinformation Research Mapping Initiative) and other areas of work concerned with political participation and public policy.

This is a one-year position, with the potential of renewal based on availability of funding.

Responsibilities:

In partnership with the Vice President of Programs and other colleagues, the Program Officer will:

manage the implementation and further development of the Anxieties of Democracy program, including the development of funding proposals to support program activities;

with the program's advisory committee and SSRC leadership, develop new program directions and conduct oversight of program activities, engage with program funders, and produce reports on program progress;

oversee planning for upcoming events, including conferences, workshops, and working group meetings, as well as manage program budgets;

with the series editors, steer publications for the Anxieties of Democracy book series and serve as managing editor for the Democracy Papers essay series; oversee other program publications as well as the program's online and social media presence;

facilitate connections between scholars and relevant policy and media communities in order to shape broader public debate on how to improve the problem-solving capacities of representative democratic institutions; and

liaise and coordinate with various organizational partners on aspects of program implementation.

Other responsibilities:

with the Vice President of Programs and other colleagues, collaborate in developing new projects and programs related to the Program Officer's areas of expertise and interest, supporting the development of new funding proposals in these areas as needed; and handle additional responsibilities and projects as directed, depending on interest and capacity.

Qualifications:

PhD in a social science or closely related field (including but not limited to sociology, political science, and history) required.

Research experience and knowledge of current academic research on challenges to democracy, in the United States and/or comparatively, required.

Excellent organizational skills, attention to detail, and a high degree of professionalism.

Excellent interpersonal skills; team player with demonstrated ability to take initiative, work independently, and respond flexibly to changing demands.

Strong writing skills for a range of audiences.

Interest in working in a professional role at the interface between different scholarly communities, and between the academic and philanthropic spheres.

Ability to travel several times a year for events.

Terms, Salary and Benefits

Annual salary will be commensurate with experience. Comprehensive benefits include health, dental, vision, disability, life, and gym reimbursement; outstanding pension plan and tax savings programs; generous vacation and sick leave; and more. Provisions are made for professional staff to continue their development as a scholar while at the Council.

This position is based out of the Brooklyn, NY offices and as such conforms to the general operating hours of the SSRC standard work week.

Application Information

Applications should be received by June 7, 2019, for priority consideration. Applications will be accepted until the position has been filled. Please copy and paste the following link to apply: <https://grnh.se/14b0777d2>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/2/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5627

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Lecturer and Academic Administrator

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time Lecturer and Academic Administrator. Responsibilities include overseeing the undergraduate program, administering the Washington DC and other internship programs, and teaching one substantive undergraduate class per year in any subfield of political science. Applicants should have a PhD in political science or a related discipline and a minimum of three years of academic administration and teaching experience. MIT is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and strongly encourages applications from women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities. This is a three-year appointment beginning July 1, 2019, with possibility of renewal based on performance. MIT does not offer visa support for this position.

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, and teaching evaluations. Please submit online applications to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/13659><https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/13659.>

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5626

University of Essex

Rank: Professor and Assistant Professor of Data Science (Political Science)

Professor and Assistant Professor in Data Science, Political Science Department of Government

The Department of Government at Essex are world leaders in political science, ranked top in the UK for research excellence (REF2014), 5th for politics in the UK (The Times Good University Guide 2018), top 10 in the world for political science and international relations according to the Centre for World University Rankings (2018), among the top 50 departments on the planet according to the QS World University Rankings. With 92% student satisfaction (NSS 2017) and having been awarded Q-Step Affiliate Status, we are committed to excellence in education and research.

The Department of Government is working towards a Scientific Women's Academic Network (Athena SWAN) award and particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the Department.

The Department is now looking to recruit at Assistant Professorial and Professorial level, with a range of start dates commencing between 1 September 2019 and 30 June 2020. The start date for each specific role will be discussed with you at interview.

Please note that the appointment will be made at the UK equivalent of Lecturer level (Assistant Professor) or Professor and will be referred to by these titles throughout the advertisement and University documentation.

Duties of the Role

The post-holder is expected to conduct research and teaching in Data Science (Political Science) and will have a substantive interest within the field of Political Science. The substantive area of expertise can be in any subfield of political science and should be combined with data science approaches, including for example machine learning, automatic data collection, text analysis, network science and complexity, computational social science, analysis of big data, or other methodologies at the intersection of data science and politics. Applications from political scientists with a data science focus or from data scientists with a social science/policy focus are welcome. They will supervise (co-supervise at Lecturer level) undergraduate projects, MA, and PhD dissertations. In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to generate research income, to contribute to the administration and leadership responsibilities within the Department, and to the local, regional and international profile of the Department.

Key responsibilities for applicants at the Lecturer level will include contributing to excellence in education by designing and delivering substantive and effective teaching and learning support; and developing a research agenda which pursues individual and/or collaborative research objectives and proposals of high quality that will as a minimum meet the University's expectations for future Research Exercise Framework (REF) exercises.

Key responsibilities for applicants at the Professorial level will include building up a sustained and effective record of impact at a strategic level in relation to teaching and learning, as part of a wider commitment to academic practice; pursuing research that is world leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour, in keeping with the REF criteria; and undertaking senior leadership responsibilities as agreed with the Head of Department.

The post-holder will undertake a full range of Education, Research and Leadership and Citizenship responsibilities as detailed in the respective job packs.

Qualifications and Skills required

Applicants will hold a relevant doctoral-level research degree in Political Science or allied field, or equivalent professional experience or practice (or be close to completion of PhD if applying for Lecturer); and be a member of the Fellowship of the Higher Education Academy or possess the ability to gain this within a defined period of appointment..

Applicants at the Lecturer level will be required to provide evidence of a research agenda in political science; have proven experience in teaching at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels, or demonstrable potential to achieve this; and possess evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes.

Applicants at the Professor level will be expected to have a distinguished academic record, including internationally excellent research in the field of Political Science. In addition, you will be required to demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels appropriate to the discipline; a strong, sustained record of academic publication at international or world-leading levels of recognition, with evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes; and an established record of success in securing and managing substantial research grants (appropriate to the discipline).

These are permanent, full-time posts on ASER (teaching and research) contracts. Please state clearly on your application form the level for which you are applying.

At the University of Essex internationalism is central to who we are and what we do. We are committed to being a cosmopolitan, internationally-oriented university that is welcoming to staff and students from all countries and a university where you can find the world in one place.

Please visit our website (<http://www.essex.ac.uk/vacancies/>) for a full job description, person specification and more information relating to this post. We recommend you read this information carefully before making an application. Applications should be made on-line, but if you would like advice or help in making an application, or need information in a different format, please telephone the Resourcing Team (01206 876559).

Closing date: 30 May 2019

Interview: 3 July 2019 (Lecturer); 12 July 2019 (Professor)

Salary: Lecturer - £40,793 - £48,676 per annum; Professor - On the Professorial scale, commensurate with experience and achievements

To apply please visit: https://vacancies.essex.ac.uk/tlive_webrecruitment/wrd/run/ETREC107GF.open?VACANCY_ID=121770JkDD&WVID=9918109NEm&LANG=USA

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 5/30/2019

Date Posted: 5/1/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5622

Texas Christian University

Rank: Lecturer in International Politics and Managing Editor of ISP

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a lecturer for the 2019-20 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science, have a specialization in international relations, have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 3/3 teaching load and will serve as the managing editor (along with an editorial team) for International Studies Perspectives. Founded in 2000, ISP publishes articles four types of articles: Policy Research and Commentary, Pedagogical Analyses, Visions of the Discipline, and Pieces of Interest to the International Studies Profession. The successful candidate will work with a diverse editorial team, led by Dr. James Scott, the Herman Brown Chair and Professor of Political Science at TCU. The salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and sample syllabus in an upper level course in the field of International Relations), and a 1-page statement explaining how the applicant will contribute to diversity and inclusion. All materials are to be submitted online at https://tcu.igreentree.com/CSS_faculty. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked either to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during a campus interview.

We will review applications on receipt and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to search chair, Dr. James Riddlesperger (j.riddlesperger@tcu.edu).

A selective teaching and research university with 10,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 15th largest city in the United States and part of the nation's fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for eight consecutive years as one of the "Great Colleges to Work For" by The Chronicle of Higher Education. The TCU Political Science Department has sixteen full-time faculty with nearly 400 majors.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/25/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5620

Tokyo International University

Rank: Full-time Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations/International Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, International Relations, Other

[Outline]

Tokyo International University seeks applicants for an open rank faculty position (professor, associate professor or assistant professor) specializing in international law, international organizations, conflict resolution, and related areas to teach both undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in the university's English Track Degree Program, where all courses are taught in English.

[Content of work]

Responsibilities include teaching three courses per semester mainly in an English-medium undergraduate and/or graduate school program, advising and working with students from diverse backgrounds, and undertaking quality research. TIU's academic year consists of two 14-week semesters.

[Positions available]

1

[Address of work location]

Campus 1, 1-13-1 Matoba-kita, Kawagoe City, Saitama Pref. 350-1197

[Starting date]

April 1, 2020 (negotiable)

[Qualifications]

Successful candidates should already hold a Ph.D. or have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of employment, a strong publication record or potential for active scholarly engagement, and ability to teach students with diverse cultural backgrounds.

[Compensation]

Contract period: if hired as tenured, no-period (except age limits) / if hired as tenure-track, 5 years

A competitive salary is offered. Remuneration package includes health insurance, pension, commuting allowance, annual research fund and individual research office.

[Application method]

Please specify to which position you are applying and send an email to "saiyou@tiu.ac.jp" with the following materials attached:

- 1) In the subject of your email, please include this code: IR2019APSA
- 2) Cover letter of application
- 3) Curriculum vitae (please also include your complete contact details and contact information of three references)
- 4) List of classes taught (including title of class, brief description of contents, level)
- 5) Course syllabi of related fields that have been taught at any higher educational institution
- 6) Full text of three research achievements (e.g., Journal articles, publications, etc.)
- 7) Copy of diploma or transcript showing proof of Ph.D. or enrollment in a Ph.D. program

[Deadline]

May 31 (Friday), 2019

[Note]

- We request that all application documents be send via e-mail and not by postal mail. Items sent through postal mail cannot be returned.
- Please describe your contact details clearly (phone number, e-mail address, current location, Skype ID, etc.)
- E-mail accounts through @hotmail, @msn, @live and @outlook may experience difficulty in receiving e-mails from the University. Please provide an alternative e-mail address if possible.
- All the information collected will be used solely for its intended purpose of evaluating applicants. Information will not be used for any other purpose.

[Selection process]

First, a review of applications will be conducted, and only applicants deemed suitable will be contacted and invited for an interview (in person or via Skype). Those applicants who are invited to an interview may be requested to submit Letters of Recommendation from relevant institutions.

For the on-site final interview, reimbursement for round-trip airfare, domestic public transportation allowance, and hotel (one night) will be provided to overseas candidates.

[Contact details]

Global Talent Acquisition Department
Tokyo International University Foundation
4-23-23, Takadanobaba, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-0075
Email: saiyou@tiu.ac.jp

Start Date: Spring 2020

Application Deadline: 5/31/2019

Date Posted: 4/8/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5592

Miami University

Rank: Havighurst Teaching Fellow/Visiting Assistant Professor

Global & Intercultural Studies: Havighurst Teaching Fellow/Visiting Assistant Professor. The Havighurst Center for Russian and Post-Soviet Studies and the Department of Global and Intercultural Studies welcome applications for a joint Teaching Fellow / Visiting Assistant Professor in contemporary issues in Russia, Eastern Europe or Central Asia. Teaching responsibilities include Introduction to International Studies as well as upper-level courses in specialty. The teaching fellow will also be expected to participate in events and event planning for the Havighurst Center. The position is renewable for up to four years, dependent on performance and funding.

Require: Ph.D. in political science, geography, history, economics, anthropology, or post-Soviet studies by date of appointment (August, 2019). Position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae and a single page with short descriptions of four courses candidate would propose to teach (as "other" document) to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=6966>. Inquiries may be directed to Stephen Norris at norriss1@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin April 12, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/5/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5590

University of Western Ontario

Rank: Tier 1 Canada Research Chair in Inequality and Gender Policy

Tier 1 Canada Research Chair in Inequality and Gender Policy

The Faculty of Social Science at Western University, one of Canada's leading research-intensive universities, invites applications for a Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in the area of Inequality and Gender Policy at the rank of tenured Associate or Full Professor with a starting date of July 1, 2019, or as negotiated. Candidates must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent in a relevant discipline. Scholars working with mixed methods are welcome to apply, with the expectation the successful candidate will be a highly accomplished quantitative social scientist. The successful candidate will be appointed to one of the Departments of Sociology (<http://sociology.uwo.ca/>), Economics ([Current eJobs listings at \[www.apsanet.org/jobs\]\(http://www.apsanet.org/jobs\)](https:// economics.uwo.ca/) or Political Science (<http://politicalscience.uwo.ca/>). A joint appointment may also be considered. This academic appointment is conditional upon the successful award of the Tier 1 CRC.

<div data-bbox=)

Western University recognizes that our commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion is central to the University's mandate as a research intensive institution of higher learning and a community leader. Western understands that our pursuit of research excellence and our commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion are mutually supporting. As such, Western is committed to achieving and maintaining an equitable representation amongst our Canada Research Chair holders, as well as within Western's broader research enterprise.

In accordance with the criteria set for Tier 1 Canada Research Chairs (<http://www.chairs-chaire.gc.ca/>), the candidate must be an outstanding and innovative researcher whose accomplishments are recognized internationally as having a major impact on their field; have a record of excellence in attracting and supervising graduate students and in teaching; a record of success in attracting external funding, and demonstrated leadership experience in the field. The candidate must also propose an original and innovative research program that will attract external funding and excellent trainees, graduate students and future researchers.

The selected candidate will be nominated by Western University to apply for the Tier 1 CRC in Inequality and Gender Policy. The CRC application will demonstrate the exceptional quality of the candidate and their research program as well as the fit of the candidate with the institutional environment and the strategic research plans of the Department, Faculty and University: https://ssc.uwo.ca/about_us/officedean/annual_report.html; https://president.uwo.ca/strategic_planning/index.html.

Western University recognizes the potential impact that legitimate career interruptions can have on a candidate's record of research achievement. Potential candidates are encouraged to explain within their application the impact that career interruptions have had on their record, and to submit a full career or extended CV to a chairholder position in cases where they have had career interruptions.

With annual research funding exceeding $220 million, and an international reputation for success, Western ranks as one of Canada's top research-intensive universities. Our research excellence expands knowledge and drives discovery with real-world application. Western also provides an exceptional employment experience, offering competitive salaries, a wide range of employment opportunities, and one of Canada's most beautiful campuses. Since 1878 the Western experience has combined academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth in order to serve our communities. Western University delivers an academic experience second to none.

Situated in the Faculty of Social Science, the Departments of Sociology, Economics, and Political Science offer full programs for undergraduate, MA, and PhD students. The Faculty of Social Science at Western is experiencing a period of significant faculty renewal having made over 40 hires over the last few years, with at least 10 more hires anticipated. We have also recently opened NEST, the Network for Economic and Social Trends, which houses a number of research centres in the Faculty including the Centre for Research in Social Inequality, the Centre for Human Capital and Productivity, the Centre for Urban Policy and Local Governance, the Centre for Computational and Quantitative Social Science, and the Statistics Canada Research Data Centre: <http://nest.uwo.ca>.

Applications must include: the application for Full-Time Faculty Position form <http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/recruitment/full-time-application-form.pdf>; a letter of interest; a detailed C.V.; a research plan for the Chair; bibliographical information on 3 refereed publications or working papers most relevant to the area of the Chair; evidence of teaching success, and the names, addresses, and email addresses for 3 referees.

Review of applications will begin after May 6, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled. All PDF application materials should be emailed to the Search Committee, c/o Karen Foullong, Faculty Affairs Coordinator, Office of the Dean, Faculty of Social Science, Western University, kfoullon@uwo.ca.

Western University's Recruitment and Retention Office is available to assist in the transition of successful applicants and their families. This position includes a comprehensive benefits package. Further details can be accessed at: http://www.uwo.ca/hr/benefits/your_benefits/faculty.html

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Indigenous peoples/Aboriginal peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Karen Foullong at 519-661-2111 ext. 84958 or kfoullon@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/1/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5573

University of Virginia

Rank: Diversity Postdoctoral Fellow

The University of Virginia Department of Politics invites applications for its Diversity Postdoctoral Fellowship. We encourage applications from individuals who are members of groups that historically have been underrepresented in the American professoriate.

The fellowship is open with respect to substantive area of research and teaching. The research associate will conduct research, teach one course per semester, participate in department and university colloquia and other events, and receive mentoring on all aspects of academic career success. The position is for the academic year and the anticipated starting date for the position is August 25, 2019. The annual salary for the position is $47,500 plus benefits.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS: A Ph.D. in Political Science is required and the candidate must have the degree in hand by June 15, 2019. Preference will be given to individuals who are within three years of obtaining their degree and who are committed to an academic career.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Applicants should apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs> and attach a curriculum vitae; a writing sample; a statement outlining the course(s) the applicant could teach during each semester; a statement describing the applicant's research interests and goals; and an optional statement describing potential contributions to diversity (no more than one page). Applicants also should ask three people familiar with their academic work to submit letters of recommendation to politics-postdoc@virginia.edu.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications will begin on April 10, 2019, but the position will remain open until filled.

This is a one-year academic appointment; however, appointment may be renewed for an additional year, contingent upon available funding and satisfactory performance.

For questions about the position, please contact Professor John Owen at jmo4n@virginia.edu.

For questions about the application process, please contact Rich Havrestrom at rkh6j@virginia.edu.

For more information on the benefits available to postdoctoral associates at UVA, visit postdoc.virginia.edu and hr.virginia.edu/benefits.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System and the University Physician's Group are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/29/2019

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 5578

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate-Fixed Term

The Institute for Public Policy and Social Research seeks a full-time post-doctoral Research Associate to serve a fixed term position (one year renewable for a second year based on funding and performance) to oversee research on the Correlates of State Policy Project (ippsr.msu.edu/public-policy/correlates-state-policy). The Project aims to compile, disseminate, and encourage the use of data relevant to U.S. state policy research, tracking policy differences across and change over time in the 50 states as well as their causes and consequences. We have gathered more than 1,500 variables from various sources and assembled them into one large, useful dataset to serve as a "one-stop shop" for academics, policy analysts, students, and researchers. The Research Associate will be responsible for upkeep and expansion of the dataset, encouragement of its wide use, and use of these data to produce peer-reviewed academic research and policy-relevant public reports. Appropriate candidates will demonstrate their familiarity and use of these data and their success in using data for scholarly and public communication. We welcome applicants from political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/26/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5549

Butler University

Rank: Instructor

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Immigration Policy

Political Science Instructor Announcement

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a one-year full-time political science instructor which may be renewable.

We seek an individual with expertise in U.S. Politics and with a demonstrated commitment and ability in teaching. The candidate should be able to offer an upper-division course in immigration politics and policy, racial and ethnic politics or urban politics. Additional areas of expertise in Latin American Politics or US-Latin American Politics are preferred. The instructor will teach four course sections each semester: two Introduction to (U.S.) American politics course sections and two upper-division courses that draw on the connection between U.S. politics and the candidate's area(s) of expertise. Candidates for this position should have earned a doctoral degree in political science or have advanced to candidacy with evidence of substantial progress toward degree completion.

To apply for this position, candidates should email the Political Science Department Administrative Specialist, Linda Cooley (lcooley@butler.edu), with an application letter, evidence of teaching excellence, a curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin March 25, 2019, and continue until the position is filled.

More information about the Department of Political Science is available at <https://www.butler.edu/political-173/science>. The Department also administers the interdisciplinary Peace and Conflict Studies Program (<https://www.butler.edu/peace-conflict>).

About Butler: Butler University, one of the nation's leading master's comprehensive universities, was founded in 1855 on the principle of equal access to higher education for both genders and all races. Butler encompasses six colleges with an enrollment of 4000 undergraduates and 500 graduate students, and emphasizes a liberal arts education with more than 60 majors. Butler University is committed to enhancing the diversity of the student body and our faculty and staff. In addition hiring decisions are made on the basis of an individual's qualifications, past experience, overall performance, and other employment-related criteria.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/14/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5525

Dartmouth CollegeRank: POST-DOC: PUBLIC POLICY*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for Public Policy and the Social Sciences at Dartmouth College is seeking to fill at least one post-doctoral research associate position in the Center for the 2019-2020 academic year.

In addition to having time for one's own individual research projects, the successful candidate will manage the day-to-day operations of the Rockefeller Center's Class of 1964 Policy Research Shop (PRS), a student-staffed, faculty-mentored policy research enterprise that serves elected officials in the Vermont and New Hampshire legislatures, statewide commissions and local government entities. Management duties include mentoring PRS students on specific projects, traveling with students to testify before state legislative committees, commissions, and councils, and soliciting projects from state and local government officials. For more information about the PRS, please visit our website at <http://rockefeller.dartmouth.edu/shop/>.

The position may be renewed for a second year. The position includes a competitive post-doctoral salary and health benefits with faculty status as a visiting assistant professor of public policy (Ph.D. in hand is required at the time of appointment). We anticipate a start date of no later than September 1, 2019.

Interested candidates should send a letter of inquiry that discusses the substantive policy interests of the applicant. In addition, we would like to receive a curriculum vitae and a list of three references with contact information from each candidate.

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2019. The search will remain open until the position is filled.

Please send application materials to:

Professor Ronald G. Shaiko, Senior Fellow and Associate Director
The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for
Public Policy and the Social Sciences
Dartmouth College
6082 Rockefeller Center, Room 204
Hanover, NH 03755-3154

For more information about the Rockefeller Center, please access our website at: <http://rockefeller.dartmouth.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 3/12/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5516UNLV*Rank: Assistant Professor-in-Residence

https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UNLV-External/job/UNLV1-Maryland-Campus/Assistant-Professor--UNLV-Department-of-Political-Science--R0114822-_R0114822

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 3/7/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5509University of California, San Diego*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow*Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) has up to 3 postdoctoral positions available for the next four academic years (2019-2020, 2020-2021, 2021-2022, 2022-2023). Each position is also renewable at the discretion of the cPASS Director.

Research at cPASS targets new and emerging security issues such as emerging modes of conflict and new modes of deterrence. cPASS is devoted to applying innovative thinking and diverse methodologies (experiments, deductive modeling, statistical analysis, case studies, archival research and "big data") to traditional security issues made more dynamic and difficult by the increased complexity of interstate competition and conflict. We emphasize a team-based, multi-method approach to research that combines qualitative and quantitative perspectives.

Postdocs will work closely with the Center Director in conducting cPASS research activities such as data collection, analysis, preparing project reports and manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals, preparing and delivering oral presentations to diverse audiences, overseeing qualitative research or supervising project labs, and mentoring graduate and undergraduate research activities.

Applicants are required to have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. A degree in Political Science, History, International Relations, Economics, or allied field is anticipated but other specialties may be appropriate, depending on an applicant's interests and skills. Candidates will be assessed based on their expertise and knowledge of different key aspects of security studies and their ability to contribute to a diversified, integrated research team.

The initial period of appointment will be for 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible with the approval of the Center Director. Some flexibility exists as to start date, but candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego throughout the appointment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Interested applicants should provide a letter describing their qualifications and the reasons for interest in the position. A printed copy of a curriculum vitae is also required. Additional materials may be requested after initial review. Please send all materials to the following email address (jml110@ucsd.edu). Please ensure to include the phrase "cPASS Postdoc Fellow" in the subject heading. Review of applications will be ongoing.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 2/25/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5470

University of New England

Rank: Assistant Lecturer, International Relations and Global Studies

The Department of Political Science at the University of New England seeks applicants for a full-time, non-tenure track Assistant Lecturer in International Relations and Global Studies beginning in the 2019-2020 academic year.

The ideal candidate will offer a range of introductory and advanced level courses in international relations, depending on the candidate's interest and expertise. The candidate will also teach Introduction to Global Studies and help guide students interested in the Global Studies major. The ability to teach in another sub-field, especially American or Comparative Politics, would be of additional value to the department. Political science courses at UNE are generally taught in a seminar style, with an emphasis on high-engagement with students.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Sciences or related field at the time of appointment. Candidates with teaching experience are preferred.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please visit the job advertisement at the UNE website:

<https://une.peopleadmin.com/postings/5435>

You will be asked submit the following materials:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Names and contact information for three professional references
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- Evidence of effective teaching

You may also submit supplementary materials about your research program if you choose.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/13/2019

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 5437

Drexel University

Rank: Director, Center for Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

Drexel's Center for Public Policy (CPP), located in the Department of Politics of the College of Art and Sciences, is now accepting applications for a director.

The CPP Director is a full-time teaching faculty position with both administrative and teaching responsibilities. The CPP director would be overseen by both a graduate committee in the Department of Politics and by the head of the Department of Politics, who would also serve on the graduate committee.

This is a non-tenure track faculty appointment with a minimum of a two-year, and a maximum of a three-year, contract. Eligibility for reappointment in both cases will be based on performance during the initial contract.

The CPP is a think tank located within Drexel's College of Arts and Sciences. It serves as an interdisciplinary hub for Drexel faculty who conduct policy-oriented research, and as an interface between those faculty and relevant government agencies and nonprofit organizations, especially those in the Philadelphia region.

The CPP offers a Master of Science in Public Policy and a Master of Science in Environmental Policy. The MS in Public Policy is a professional master's degree designed for people who work, or would like to work, for government or nonprofit organizations. Through a flexible course schedule that includes evening and online classes, students have the option of completing the program at a pace that suits them. On average, students can complete the program in as little as 18 months to two years. The MS in Environmental Policy prepares students for careers as policy analysts who have a strong commitment to environmental values, are scientifically and methodologically competent, and can work effectively on policy with various groups and institutions engaged in environmental issues.

To be considered for the position, you must meet the following requirements:

1. Hold a J.D. or a Ph.D. in a policy-related discipline. Candidates with a masters-level policy-oriented degree may be considered if they have exceptional work experience.
2. Have significant policy-oriented work experience.
3. Be able to demonstrate knowledge of the theory and methods of public policy; active research or practice in a related area highly desirable.
4. Have a record of successful teaching.

In the first year of their appointment, the CPP director would be responsible for:

- Teaching 4 to 5 courses (on the quarter system), potentially both undergraduate and graduate.
- Advising MS students through the case study course sequence (a thesis program).
- Taking lead responsibility for developing an online version of the MS in Public Policy.
- Coordinating the course offerings across departments and colleges to maintain the MS in Public Policy and MS in Environmental Policy curricula.
- Identifying partner organizations in Washington, DC, who would supply students for our proposed DC-based certificate program, and otherwise helping to develop that certificate program.
- Developing partnerships with external policy-oriented groups in the Philadelphia region.
- Attending relevant conferences and other professional events to promote the MS degrees.
- Promoting the degrees through attendance at recruitment and through publication of Drexel Policy Notes.

In subsequent years the CPP director's responsibilities would shift to administering the programs developed in the first year.

Other duties as assigned.

Must apply on drexeljobs.com, Quick Link to posting: www.drexeljobs.com/applicants/Central?quickFind=83533

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5389

University of New England

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations and Global Studies

Unfortunately, due to budgetary considerations, we have been forced to cancel the search.

Instead, we will be conducting a search on the lecturer track. That job is posted here at apsanet, and can be applied for at the following link:

<https://une.peopleadmin.com/postings/5435>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/25/2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2018

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 4737

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Neuroscience Professor - Open Rank

The Division of Social Science at NYUAD is seeking to hire a faculty member in the area of Social Neuroscience. This tenure/tenure-track appointment is open rank. Although the specific area of research is open, the focus should be human research explicitly linked to social processes. Individuals from all academic backgrounds are encouraged to apply (e.g., biology, psychology, economics, political science or sociology). Preference will be given to applicants who use fMRI, EEG, or process tracing methods, whose research reflects the interdisciplinary nature of social science and who can forge linkages to other areas of study both within the Division (i.e., with economists, political scientists and sociologists) and outside the Division.

The facilities available include a state-of-the-art brain-imaging center housing a Siemens Prisma 3T MRI, MEG, EEG, eye tracking and behavioral testing facilities. The successful candidates will also have access to state-of-the-art core facilities that include High Performance Computing facilities with more than 6,400 computing cores and a peak performance of 70 TFLOPS.

NYUAD expects successful candidates to publish in high quality internationally refereed journals. The terms of employment are very competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching activities.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans, a statement of teaching interests and three representative publications. To complete the online process, early career applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter. Senior candidates should provide a list of three references in PDF format. We will begin consideration of applications October 1st, although review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

You can start an application here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/52983>

You may find further information about our group at: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html>

About NYUAD

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complemented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Our goal is to develop a cohort of international students attuned to and educated for an inclusive global society. Students and Faculty will circulate within the global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Since its inception, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering. The Institute will invest significant funds in creating a hub for research related to social, economic, and political development in the broader region; applications from candidates with an ambition to contribute to this agenda are especially welcome.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4603

POLITICAL THEORY

Clemson University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

Post-Doctoral Fellowship at Clemson University.

The Lyceum Program at Clemson University invites applications for two, 2-year Postdoctoral Fellowships in the Department of Political Science to begin in August 2019, pending finalization of funding. Housed in the Clemson Institute for the Study of Capitalism (CISC), the Lyceum Program exists to study the moral and political foundations of a free society through the study of classic texts of the Western (including ancient) and American political and philosophic tradition. We encourage applicants whose teaching philosophy and research agenda fit with this mission. The PhD degree (in hand or expected by the beginning of the 2019-2020 academic year) is a required qualification.

The teaching load for the Postdoctoral Fellow[s] will be three courses per academic year. The Fellow[s] will be expected to teach Introduction to Political Theory, and may also be asked to teach other upper-level courses in Political Theory or in a secondary field as needed by the Lyceum Program and the Department of Political Science. They will also be expected to pursue an active research, writing, and publishing agenda. The Fellow[s] will also be expected to participate in the Lyceum Program's Socratic Tutoring program by being a faculty mentor to a small number of Lyceum Scholar students each semester. Finally, the Postdoctoral Fellow[s] will also participate actively in the activities of the Lyceum Program and the CISC, and contribute to their administration as needed.

Applicants should submit: curriculum vitae; cover letter; three Letters of recommendation; a writing sample; and, evidence of teaching effectiveness, to include teaching evaluations and a teaching statement. Interested candidates should apply via Interfolio at the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/63428>. To ensure full consideration, please submit materials by June 7, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5645

University of Denver

Rank: Visiting Teaching Assistant Professor

Specializations: Normative Political Theory, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a non-tenure track, full-time Visiting Teaching Assistant Professor in the field of political theory for the 2019-20 academic year. Position may be extended for an additional year if continued need and funding exist. The candidate hired will teach the equivalent of eight courses over three quarters. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach Introduction to Political Thought (theory), a variety of upper-division courses in political theory (examples could include topics such as Contemporary Theory, American Political Thought, and Conservative or Feminist Political Theory), and at least one upper-division course in another sub-field of political science. Successful candidates will demonstrate a record of excellence in undergraduate teaching and a strong commitment to engaging students with diverse backgrounds and learning styles constructively. ABD in political science (or related theory or philosophy program) and experience as an instructor or graduate teaching assistant for undergraduate courses in political science required. PhD in political science (or related theory or philosophy program), experience as an instructor teaching Introduction to Political Thought (theory) and upper-division undergraduate courses in political theory, and expertise to teach in an additional sub-field of political science preferred.

The Department of Political Science consists of active scholars offering the Bachelors of arts degree in political science within the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Denver. We serve approximately 200 majors and students across campus in the common curriculum. Our faculty value inclusive excellence: a commitment by all constituents to create an academic experience that embraces and engages diverse perspectives and communities within an atmosphere of mutual respect. Our curriculum endeavors to develop students' ability to think critically, communicate clearly, write effectively, and develop compelling analytical argumentation based on justifiable sources of empirical evidence and analytical reasoning. Salary determined by qualifications of the selected candidate, balanced with departmental budget availability, internal salary equity considerations, and available market information.

For best consideration, please submit your application materials by May 28, 2019.

Candidates must apply online through www.du.edu/jobs to be considered. Only online applications will be accepted.

Please include the following documents (in PDF) with your application:

1. CV that indicates specialization and comprehensive exam fields.

2. Letter of interest that specifies courses you have taught and/or would like to teach at DU, articulates your teaching philosophy and methods to engage students, and explains how you foster inclusive excellence in your teaching.
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness such as syllabi, detailed descriptions of particular course assignments, grading rubrics for writing assignments, and other artifacts of teaching excellence, preferably combined into one pdf file.
4. Updated references list. These individuals will be contacted to provide letters of recommendation (3 required for best consideration).

For questions about this position, please contact Lisa Conant, Chair of Political Science at conant@du.edu

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5641

University of Virginia

Rank: DeOlazarra Research Associate

The University of Virginia's program in Political Philosophy, Policy & Law (PPL) invites applications for a DeOlazarra Fellow for the academic year beginning August 2019.

PPL is a selective interdisciplinary undergraduate major in which fourth year students develop substantial research projects in the context of a capstone seminar. The research associate will preside over this seminar during the spring semester as well as teach one fall semester undergraduate course in his or her area of interest.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS: Applicants must be on track to receive a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field by May 2019 and must hold a PhD by June 15, 2019. Candidates must specialize in contemporary political theory/philosophy, particularly as it applies to the evaluation of important issues in public policy. A background in jurisprudence or legal theory is also desirable. Candidates should combine strong research potential with commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/DeOlazarra-Fellow_R0002833 by attaching a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, unofficial transcript and writing sample.

Also, under separate cover by mail, please arrange for three (3) letters of recommendation to be sent to:

PPL Fellow Search c/o Colin Bird
Department of Politics
P.O. Box 400787

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Priority consideration will be given to applications received by April 27, 2019; however, the position will remain open until filled.

This is a one-year appointment; however, appointment may be renewed for an additional two, one-year increments, contingent upon available funding and satisfactory performance. Compensation will take the form of salary and benefits.

For questions about the position, please contact Colin Bird at cpb6f@virginia.edu.

For questions about the application process, please contact Rich Haverstrom at rkh6j@virginia.edu.

For more information on the benefits available to postdoctoral associates at UVA, visit postdoc.virginia.edu and hr.virginia.edu/benefits.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System and the University Physician's Group are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/18/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5604

McGill University

Rank: Visiting Fulbright Research Chair in Constitutional and Political Theory

Applications are invited for a one-semester or full-year Visiting Fulbright Research Chair in Constitutional and Political Theory in academic year 2020-21. This fellowship for US citizens includes a $US 25,000 stipend with no teaching responsibilities.

Hosted in the Research Group on Constitutional Studies (RGCS), a unit of the Yan P. Lin Centre for the Study of Freedom and Global Orders in the Ancient and Modern Worlds, this award is open to scholars in political theory and is open with respect to methodology and approach in that field. Applications are also invited from scholars in neighbouring areas of legal theory and jurisprudence, political philosophy and political science. The Chair will pursue research in political and constitutional theory broadly construed. The ability to engage with scholars and students across methodologies — normative, empirical, intellectual-historical, jurisprudential, and formal, for example — is more important than particular areas of emphasis.

While Ph.D. must be in hand, the fellowship is otherwise open as to seniority. Most applicants will be on sabbatical or other leave from an existing faculty position, but it is not a requirement that the applicant already hold a faculty appointment.

The Chair-holder will be in residence at RGCS for one semester, will deliver one public lecture, regularly attend and also present work at an RGCS workshop, and, if appropriate, guest-lecture or lead guest discussions in political science classes. The Chair will more generally take an active part in the intellectual life of McGill, RGCS, and the Groupe de Recherche Interuniversitaire en Philosophie Politique.

Full eligibility information and the online application are available at <https://www.fulbright.ca/programs/american-scholars/primary-awards/policy.html>. Those interested are encouraged to contact Jacob Levy at rgcs.mcgill@gmail.com (especially for questions about thematic fit) and Bred Hector at bhector@fulbright.ca (especially for procedural questions) early in the application process. Applications must be fully complete by September 16.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: 9/16/2019

Date Posted: 4/9/2019

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 5596

SUNY, Potsdam

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics, State University of New York at Potsdam, seeks a one-year visiting assistant professor in political theory.

The faculty member in this position will teach courses required for the political science major/minor and one or more courses for the general education program. Fall 2019 courses will include introduction to political theory and a general education politics course for non-majors. The third course will be either introduction to U.S. politics or introduction to international relations. Spring 2020 courses will include two required political science courses and one elective course.

Required qualifications:

Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. In addition, we are seeking candidates who possess communication and interpersonal skills sufficient to work effectively with an increasingly diverse array of students and colleagues and who have demonstrated a commitment to creating, fostering and sustaining an inclusive environment in and out of the classroom. A master's degree in political science is also required.

Preferred qualifications:

A Ph.D. in political science is preferred. In addition to political theory, research or teaching experience in the areas of public law, public policy or international relations (other than international political economy) would be welcomed. More broadly, we are seeking candidates who have worked with, done research with, or taught underrepresented groups and have worked collaboratively across various departments in fostering success of underrepresented groups.

Applicants should e-mail a cover letter, curriculum vitae, the names and contact information of three references and evidence of teaching effectiveness directly to Dr. Robert Hinckley, Chair & Associate Professor, at hincklra@potsdam.edu.

The position will remain open until filled but full consideration will be granted to those who submit all materials by April 19, 2019.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/5/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5591

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government (Political Theory)

The Department of Government at William & Mary invites applications for a one year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin August 10, 2019. We seek an individual with expertise in political theory. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load (2 preps per semester). Courses will consist of introduction to political theory, an intermediate-level topics course, and a senior seminar. The candidate will work with the department chair to determine the topic for the intermediate-level and senior seminar courses in political theory. We are especially interested in candidates who can draw on their expertise or examples in racial or ethnic politics, or the politics of inclusion as they teach these courses.

Information on the degree programs in the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.wm.edu/as/government/>. The Department provides visiting faculty with support for conference travel, and also offers mentoring and access to campus opportunities to help our visitors become more effective researchers and teachers.

To apply, go to <https://jobs.wm.edu/>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), a writing sample, and a statement describing previous professional experiences or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, May 3, 2019. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 5/3/2019

Date Posted: 4/3/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5586

University of Nebraska, Kearney

Rank: Professor and Chair

The Department of Political Science is seeking an individual to fulfill a Visiting Assistant Professor position. This position is a 9-month academic, non-tenure track, position, beginning Fall 2019. The successful applicant will demonstrate teaching excellence in introductory and upper-level courses in Political Thought. The teaching assignments for the position will include courses in Political Thought and additional courses in subfield area (s) consistent with the successful applicant's preparation. The successful applicant is expected to teach introductory and upper division classes in Political Science each semester. In addition, they are expected to participate in departmental meetings and other departmental events and activities.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by start of appointment is required. ABD candidates will be conditionally considered. The search committee will begin reviewing applications on April 22, 2019.

The University of Nebraska at Kearney, serving over 6,500 students, is one of four University of Nebraska campuses. Established in 1905, the University has a tradition of emphasis in scholarly teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels in a variety of disciplines. Kearney, a progressive city of 31,000, is the educational, medical, cultural, commercial and agricultural center of a large mid-state area. <http://www.unk.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/27/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5569

Samford University

Rank: Political Theory - 1 to 2 year position

Samford University's Howard College of Arts and Sciences invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to submit applications for a position as Instructor (postdoctoral) in the Political Science Department, beginning August 2019. This non-tenure-track position carries a three courses-per-semester teaching load with two courses per semester in the interdisciplinary Core Curriculum, which cover speaking, writing and the history of ideas and one course per semester in the department. The position is a full-time, one-year appointment, renewable one time for a maximum of two years based on departmental needs, funding availability and meeting all departmental, college and university policies.

Qualified candidates will have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science within the past three years and be able to teach upper-level courses in Political Theory and possibly law related courses. The successful candidate should have a strong commitment to the classroom, will demonstrate excellence in student development and mentorship and collegial collaboration. The department also seeks to support the active research agendas of young scholars. Support for travel will be available and other research funding can be earned on a competitive basis. A tenured member of the Political Science faculty will provide supervision and mentorship for the Postdoc.

The Department of Political Science has 4 full-time faculty positions and over 100 majors, with a Political Science major and interdisciplinary majors in International Relations, Public Administration and Law, Politics and Society.

Samford University (www.samford.edu) is the largest privately supported and fully accredited institution for higher learning in Alabama. Located in suburban Birmingham, the university was founded in 1841 and has 366 full time faculty and more than 5,500 students. Samford is ranked 3rd in the South among regional universities by U.S. News & World Report, and has been nationally recognized for academics, affordability and value by a number of prestigious publications and rankings. The university is dedicated to the promotion of rigorous academic inquiry in a Christian setting. The university offers competitive salaries with a generous benefits package.

Review of applications will begin April 1 and applications will be accepted through at least April 30, 2019. Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vita with names and contact information of three references, evidence of teaching effectiveness, description of leadership experience, research interests and activities, a philosophy of teaching in a Christian University, Application for Faculty Position, and Faculty Applicant Christian Mission Statement. "Application for Faculty Position" can be found at:

(https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/Human_Resources/application-for-faculty-employment.pdf) and the “Faculty Applicant Christian Mission Statement” can be found at: (<https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/academic-affairs/Faculty-Applicant-Christian-MissionStatement.docx>).

Please submit all materials in a PDF format to:
FACAPP@samford.edu
ATTN: Postdoc – Political Science

Samford University is an Equal Opportunity Institution that complies with applicable law prohibiting discrimination in its educational and employment policies and does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information or national or ethnic origin.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/8/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5511

Beloit College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Theory and Public Law: Beloit College, a selective liberal arts college with a proud tradition of innovation, seeks an energetic teacher-scholar for a replacement position of four courses per academic year. The successful candidate will be responsible for introductory and upper-level courses in political theory. An ability to teach these courses from a critical perspective is a plus. Candidates able to teach courses on American political thought, constitutional law, comparative political theory, and/or contribute to one of our many interdisciplinary programs are strongly preferred. We prefer candidates with a desire to collaborate with colleagues from other disciplines, and who develop pedagogical approaches that foster creativity and apply theoretical knowledge to address real problems such as institutionalized racism. Our friendly department offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2019-2020 academic year with a possibility of renewal.

Because equity and inclusion are central to our students’ liberal arts education and vital to the thriving of all members of our residential learning community, Beloit College aspires to be an actively anti-racist institution. We recognize our aspiration as ongoing and institution-wide, involving collective commitment and accountability. We seek employees who are committed to and will actively contribute to our efforts to celebrate our cultural and intellectual richness and be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity.

Located in a diverse community close to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago, Beloit attracts students from across the United States and the world. The college emphasizes excellence in teaching, learning beyond the traditional classroom, international perspectives, and collaborative research among students and faculty. It is recognized as one of the Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should email a cover letter, c.v., three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, writing sample, summary of teaching evaluations and sample syllabi to pols2019@beloit.edu. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Phil Chen, chair of the search committee, at: chenp@beloit.edu Review of applications begins immediately and all applications received by March 25, 2019 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/27/2019
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 5485

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Visiting Lecturer
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a one-year, full-time position as Visiting Lecturer in Global Studies for the 2019-2020 academic year, with a possibility of renewal. Teaching obligations involve 18 credit hours (6 courses) and will include several sections of PS 550, Introduction to Global Studies, a course the Department offers in close coordination with Pitt’s Global Studies Center. Additional teaching will depend on the interests of the successful candidate (e.g., courses in comparative politics, international relations, or political theory). We are particularly interested in candidates who could offer upper-level courses in political theory that complement our existing offerings (e.g., courses in non-western or comparative political theory, post-colonial theory, etc.) as well as in comparative politics or international relations. All applicants should explain their qualifications to teach Intro to Global Studies (a large-format lecture course) and describe what additional courses they might offer.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand or expected by August 31, 2019. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, teaching portfolio, and two letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. Please apply online at: <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/MjYx>.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EEO/AA/M/F/Vets/Disabled.

Start Date: Fall 2019
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/26/2019
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 5477

CUNY-City College of New York

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow -- Visiting Assistant Professor
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, American Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science in the Colin L. Powell School at the City College of New York-CUNY invites applications for two post-doctoral visiting assistant professor positions in Political Theory, beginning the Fall of 2019. While the positions are open with respect to research areas, we are particularly interested in candidates able to teach courses in the Western canon of political thought and/or the American political tradition. Successful candidates will be required to teach one course per semester and to pursue an active research and publication agenda, while at the same time collaborating in organizing a speakers series. The positions are for a duration of one year, renewable for one more year. Salaries are competitive and commensurate to living costs in New York City. Applicants must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the start date. We will review applications starting March 1, 2019 and proceed on a rolling basis.

To apply, candidates should send the following materials to jwilliams@ccny.cuny.edu (1) a cover letter describing your academic background and teaching experience, (2) a CV; (3) one writing sample of no more than 40 pages, (4) a sample syllabus for an undergraduate level course, (5) three letters of recommendation, and (6) a graduate transcript.

City College-CUNY is located in the Hamilton Heights section of Harlem in New York City.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/14/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5443

University of Richmond

Rank: Visiting Faculty in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Public Law

The program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL) at the University of Richmond invites applications for a one-year visiting lecturer in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law, to begin August 2019. The successful candidate for this non-tenure track position will teach core PPEL courses that are required of all majors, such as: Theory and Public Policy; Law and Social Order; and Rational Choice and Political Theory. The teaching load is seven courses for the academic year. Completion of PhD (in Philosophy, Political Science, or Economics, or in an interdisciplinary field involving those subjects) is expected prior to appointment.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and 92% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law, see <https://ppep.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit the following materials: a brief cover letter; a statement of teaching interests, experience, and philosophy, as well as evidence of commitment to inclusive pedagogy; a current curriculum vitae; copies of graduate transcripts. Please provide the names and contact information for three references who will receive an email requesting them to submit their recommendation letters to the University's Human Resources department at URHR@richmond.edu. One of these references must be able to speak to the candidate's record of or potential for excellence in teaching.

Please address any questions about the application to Stephen Simon (ssimon@richmond.edu). Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/11/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5429

Augustana College

Rank: Open Rank Visiting Professor

Augustana College, Rock Island, Illinois, invites applications for an open rank visiting position in Political Science (Political Theory/Political Thought) beginning in August of the 2019-2020 academic year, with possible renewal for the 2020-2021 academic year.

Augustana College is a selective liberal arts college of approximately 2,500 students, including 29 percent first-generation college students, 23 percent Pell Grant students, 21 percent students of color, and 9 percent international students.

Our beautifully wooded and largely residential 115-acre campus is located in Rock Island, Illinois, a diverse Illinois-Iowa Quad Cities metropolitan area along the Mississippi River with 400,000 residents about three hours west of Chicago and 45 minutes east of Iowa City, home of the University of Iowa.

Strengthening our diverse and inclusive community is central to the college's mission and strategic plan. We seek applicants with an interest in fostering rigorous, inclusive, and high-impact learning environments for a diverse student body.

The successful candidate will be able to teach modern and contemporary political theory courses, while specializations within political theory will be open. Candidates with interests and expertise in perspectives such as a feminist political thought, black political thought, LGBT political thought, and/or other perspectives of political theory that may have been historically marginalized are encouraged to apply. The department is open to candidates bringing new ideas for political theory courses. Additionally, the successful candidate will teach American National Government. All faculty contribute to the first-year experience through a combination of teaching in the college's first-year inquiry program and/or offering January-term courses aimed at first-year students.

The successful candidate will join a diverse and active, five-member department. Each faculty colleague has interdisciplinary interests beyond political science that complement the political science curriculum, such as Africana Studies, Environmental Studies, Latin American Studies, Asian Studies and more. Successful candidates will be able to demonstrate teaching effectiveness and an understanding of and/or willingness to embrace the nature of a liberal arts education. Experience and interest in working with students and community members of many backgrounds will be an asset for applicants. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment, although ABD candidates also will be considered.

Augustana College is an equal opportunity employer and actively encourages applications from women and persons of diverse ethnic backgrounds. We do not discriminate based on age, race, color, ethnic origin, gender, sexual orientation, disability or creed and strongly encourage applicants from diverse backgrounds to apply for this position.

Details about Augustana College, our expectations of the faculty, the selection process, and the Quad Cities all are available at Teaching at Augustana. Questions may be directed to the chair of the department, Xiaowen Zhang. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2019, and will continue until the position is filled.

A complete application includes: a cover letter indicating an interest in and understanding of teaching in a liberal arts setting, curriculum vitae, copy of graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation (including contact information), a statement of teaching philosophy, and writing sample.

To apply, please email application materials to sherrydocherty@augustana.edu using the subject line: Search #114-19 Pol. Sci. – Theory/Thoughts, and directed to Jessica Schultz, Associate Dean of the College. Alternatively, application materials can be mailed to: Search #114-19 Pol. Sci. – Theory/Thoughts, C/O Jessica Schultz, Associate Dean of the College, Augustana College, 639 – 38th Street, Rock Island, IL 61201.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/4/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5413

U.S. Naval Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

The Political Science Department of the United States Naval Academy invites applications for tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in American Politics beginning August 2019. Application review will begin on 01 October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The U.S. Naval Academy is a service academy and top tier liberal arts college with a commitment to excellence in faculty teaching, research, and service. American Politics scholars with expertise in public policy; race, gender, and ethnicity; or political philosophy are encouraged to apply. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. Candidates should have a robust research agenda and demonstrate potential for research excellence, as well as a strong commitment to student advising and institutional service.

For more information about this position and how to apply please visit the USNA position announcement at <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/AsstProfessor-PolSciAY19.php>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4715

The New School

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

The Politics Department at The New School for Social Research and Eugene Lang College seeks to appoint a political theorist, for a tenure track position at the assistant professor level, subject to budgetary approval.

We seek candidates with a strong background in the history of political thought and with promise of excellence in research as well as teaching.

We seek candidates whose work is theoretically sophisticated, historically sensitive, and politically critical and who are committed to engaging with colleagues outside the theory subfield.

We aim to appoint someone with broad interests and a lively mind, who can contribute to cross-field discussions in a politics department committed to blurring subfield divisions; to interdisciplinary debate in a graduate division dedicated to critically-oriented social science, philosophy and history; and to collegial life in an innovative liberal arts college dedicated to seminar teaching.

While we expect a strong background in the history of political thought, we are especially interested in candidates whose primary focus is on theoretical approaches and questions linked to contemporary political problems—for example, race, indigeneity, colonialism, imperialism/capitalism, domination, intersectionality, borders, globalization, transnationalism, international law; and environmental issues.

The review of applications will begin on September 15, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is July 1, 2019. Applicants apply on-line using the faculty application on The New School human resources website <http://careers.newschool.edu/postings/16212/>. Using this online system, applicants should submit 1) a letter of intent, 2) a CV, 3) a list of references, and 4) a piece of recent research. Applicants should have the PhD completed by the time of their contract start date.

Information about The New School for Social Research, Eugene Lang College, and the Politics Department can be found at: <http://www.newschool.edu/nsnr/>, <http://www.newschool.edu/lang/>, and <http://www.newschool.edu/nsnr/politics/>.

Benefits: Comprehensive university benefits package including health and retirement plans, tuition remission. Visit <http://www.newschool.edu/admin/hr/benefits/index.html>

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/31/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4460

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Texas A&M University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University recruiting for one non-tenure track position for the 2019-2020 academic year to teach at the Higher Education Center at McAllen, located in McAllen, TX. We seek to hire a lecturer to teach introductory, survey courses in American government. The successful candidate will be expected to be able to teach introductory undergraduate courses in American government at both the national and state and local level. A completed Ph.D. is preferred in Political Science; A.B.D. status would be acceptable. The target start date for this position September 1, 2019. The teaching load would be four to five courses total for the academic year. This would be for a nine month appointment in a non-tenure track position. This position has the possibility of being renewed on an annual basis depending on performance, funding, and university needs.

Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Our review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

The Texas A&M System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Applicants should send letter of interest, contact information for three references, and a curriculum vitae. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor Guy D. Whitten, Acting Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5661

Penn State Harrisburg

Rank: Associate/Full Professor and Director of the Institute of State and Regional Affairs

Associate/Full Professor and Director of the Institute of State and Regional Affairs

Penn State Harrisburg, a comprehensive college of The Pennsylvania State University, one of the largest and most widely recognized institutions in the nation, invites applications for a 48-week faculty position at the rank of Associate or Full Professor that will oversee and direct the Institute of State and Regional Affairs (ISRA). The candidates must possess an earned doctorate and have a record of teaching and research achievements that qualify them for tenure in one of the five academic schools within the college. The individual serving in such a position will also possess strong skills in interpersonal communication and relationship building; experience finding external funding to support research and ISRA staff, operations, and activities; grant and technical writing expertise; experience in research, public policy, public administration, sociology, data sciences or other related fields; and supervisory experience of staff at different levels. Preference will be given to candidates with a proven record of interdisciplinary collaboration, experience working with academic units, and experience managing institutes and centers. The preferred starting date is August 15, 2019. ISRA is comprised of the Pennsylvania State Data Center, the Center for Survey Research, the Economic Development Course in Pennsylvania, and the ISRA Integrated Technology Center. It is 100 percent externally funded and conducts approximately $2 million in sponsored research activities each year. The Institute focuses on data collection, organization, management, and analysis; spatial analysis and mapping; and training and technology utilization. The mission of the Institute is to leverage unbiased data expertise and the resources of the Pennsylvania State University to provide multifaceted data and research support services. ISRA also strives to enrich the teaching and educational experience of engaged students and faculty through its activities. There are fifteen staff members in the Institute. To find out more about the Institute, visit: <https://isra.hbg.psu.edu>. The selected individual's duties will be split 50-50 between his/her faculty activities and those for directing ISRA. As a faculty member, the individual is expected to perform well in his/her responsibilities in scholarship of teaching, scholarship of research, and scholarship of service. As Director of ISRA, the individual's duties include: building relationships and securing external funding; influencing organizational and community relations to develop and achieve strategic goals and manage customer relations; working with staff to build interdisciplinary teams for internal and external funding opportunities and pursuing, negotiating and administering project activity. Additional duties include: preparing and presenting reports; providing policy recommendations; linking unit operations to strategic objectives of the University; defining goals for future organizational performance and deciding on the tasks and use of resources needed to attain them; communicating goals to employees throughout the unit or organization and using influence to motivate employees to achieve organizational goals; ensuring operational and strategic direction and accountability; and exercising authority for unit policy and procedures and operational decisions for departments. Penn State Harrisburg is located in Middletown, near the city of Harrisburg, the state capital of Pennsylvania. The College is easily accessible via interstate and rail routes from Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington DC, and New York. Penn State Harrisburg has an enrollment of more than 5000 resident instruction students, including a broad, diverse and non-traditional population and brings nationally accredited academic programs, award-winning faculty, and the resources of a world-class research university to Pennsylvania's Capital Region. The College offers students the opportunity to earn baccalaureate degrees in 37 academic majors. As a graduate center, the College offers 27 master's degrees and 3 doctoral degree programs. To learn more about the college, visit <http://harrisburg.psu.edu>. To apply, applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for five references. Penn State Harrisburg is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. We encourage applications from women and minority candidates.

Apply online at <https://apptrkr.com/1470875>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-50e657092c4bf9499d62317bbac6f10c

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 5/30/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5652Sam Houston State University*Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University invites applications for a one-year renewable, full-time, non-tenure-track faculty position at the rank of lecturer beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will teach online and face-to-face courses in the Political Science Department's newly established Public Administration/Public Policy minor. The position requires teaching Introduction to Public Policy and one or more of the following policy courses: Environmental Policy, Social Policy and Economic Policy. Applicants who are willing to develop and offer courses in other policy areas are encouraged to apply. The teaching load for the position is four courses in both the fall and spring semesters. Summer courses are not included in the teaching load.

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sam Houston State University is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the academic community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The college welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community

Degree Requirements:

Applicants must have a master's degree in Public Policy or Public Administration or a PhD in public policy, public administration, public affairs, or political science. Preference will be given to candidates who have a PhD. Candidates are expected to have degrees from an accredited university or institution of higher learning and have their degrees in at hand at the time of hire.

Application Requirements:

- Cover Letter
- Current CV
- All graduate transcripts
- Two letters of recommendation from supervisors who are familiar with the applicant's teaching abilities and who have worked with the applicant in the past two years
- Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available
- Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy
- If available, sample syllabi for relevant courses
- Diversity statement discussing how the applicant would engage a diverse student population such as Sam Houston State University that meets the College of Humanities and Social Sciences core goals.

Please direct your questions regarding this position to Dr. Fatih Demiroz (demiroz@shsu.edu).

Those interested should apply online at <https://shsu.peopleadmin.com/>. The search committee will begin reviewing materials immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 5/7/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5630Miami University Regionals*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor to begin in August of 2019 to teach undergraduate courses in the Nonprofit and Community Studies program, including courses on nonprofit organizations, democratic theory, civic engagement and state/local politics. Additional duties include the provision of general advising to undergraduates and support of co-curricular civic engagement programming. The position will serve the Regional locations.

Required: Master's degree (for appointment as Instructor) in political science, public administration, or a closely related field as well as a commitment to and evidence of excellence in the teaching of undergraduates. A Ph.D. (for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor) in political science, public administration or a closely related field. Position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Desire: Earned Ph.D. in political science, public administration or closely related field.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <http://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/495216>. Inquiries may be directed to John Forren at forrenjp@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 15, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Miami University, an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, encourages applications from minorities, women, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. Miami University prohibits harassment, discrimination and retaliation on the basis of sex/gender (including sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual misconduct, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking), race, color, religion, national origin (ancestry), disability, age (40 years or older), sexual orientation, gender identity, pregnancy, status as a parent or foster parent, military status, or veteran status in its recruitment, selection, and employment practices. Requests for all reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

As part of the University's commitment to maintaining a healthy and safe living, learning, and working environment, we encourage you to read Miami University's Annual Security & Fire Safety Report at <http://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>, which contains information about campus safety, crime statistics, and our drug and alcohol abuse and prevention program designed to prevent the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol on campus and at university events and activities. This report also contains information on programs and policies designed to prevent and address sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is also provided to prospective students and employees. Hard copies of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report may be obtained from the Miami University Police Department at (513) 529-2225.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/2/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5628

Eastern Kentucky University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Master of Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The Department of Government at Eastern Kentucky University invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track assistant professor position to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will teach classes in the department's Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program and undergraduate political science programs. Departmental teaching needs include courses related to public policy, state and local government, community development/non-profit, Appalachian/rural development studies, and American government. Candidates must be able to develop and/or teach fully online courses.

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Affairs, or Public Policy is required at the time of appointment. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester. Successful candidates should be, or have the potential to be, an active scholar and a high quality teacher.

To ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by February 18, 2019.

Applicants should submit: 1) Cover Letter, 2) Curriculum Vitae, 3) Teaching philosophy statement, 4) Contact information for at least three professional references, 5) Copies of unofficial transcripts and 6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.eku.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/4/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5409

Drexel University

Rank: Director, Center for Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

Drexel's Center for Public Policy (CPP), located in the Department of Politics of the College of Art and Sciences, is now accepting applications for a director.

The CPP Director is a full-time teaching faculty position with both administrative and teaching responsibilities. The CPP director would be overseen by both a graduate committee in the Department of Politics and by the head of the Department of Politics, who would also serve on the graduate committee.

This is a non-tenure track faculty appointment with a minimum of a two-year, and a maximum of a three-year, contract. Eligibility for reappointment in both cases will be based on performance during the initial contract.

The CPP is a think tank located within Drexel's College of Arts and Sciences. It serves as an interdisciplinary hub for Drexel faculty who conduct policy-oriented research, and as an interface between those faculty and relevant government agencies and nonprofit organizations, especially those in the Philadelphia region.

The CPP offers a Master of Science in Public Policy and a Master of Science in Environmental Policy. The MS in Public Policy is a professional master's degree designed for people who work, or would like to work, for government or nonprofit organizations. Through a flexible course schedule that includes evening and online classes, students have the option of completing the program at a pace that suits them. On average, students can complete the program in as little as 18 months to two years. The MS in Environmental Policy prepares students for careers as policy analysts who have a strong commitment to environmental values, are scientifically and methodologically competent, and can work effectively on policy with various groups and institutions engaged in environmental issues.

To be considered for the position, you must meet the following requirements:

1. Hold a J.D. or a Ph.D. in a policy-related discipline. Candidates with a masters-level policy-oriented degree may be considered if they have exceptional work experience.
2. Have significant policy-oriented work experience.
3. Be able to demonstrate knowledge of the theory and methods of public policy; active research or practice in a related area highly desirable.
4. Have a record of successful teaching.

In the first year of their appointment, the CPP director would be responsible for:

- Teaching 4 to 5 courses (on the quarter system), potentially both undergraduate and graduate.
- Advising MS students through the case study course sequence (a thesis program).
- Taking lead responsibility for developing an online version of the MS in Public Policy.
- Coordinating the course offerings across departments and colleges to maintain the MS in Public Policy and MS in Environmental Policy curricula.
- Identifying partner organizations in Washington, DC, who would supply students for our proposed DC-based certificate program, and otherwise helping to develop that certificate program.
- Developing partnerships with external policy-oriented groups in the Philadelphia region.
- Attending relevant conferences and other professional events to promote the MS degrees.
- Promoting the degrees through attendance at recruitment and through publication of Drexel Policy Notes.

In subsequent years the CPP director's responsibilities would shift to administering the programs developed in the first year.

Other duties as assigned.

Must apply on drexeljobs.com, Quick Link to posting: www.drexeljobs.com/applicants/Central?quickFind=83533

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5389

Merrimack College

Rank: Lecturer/Director of Master of Public Affairs Program

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Administration

Merrimack College invites applications for a non tenure-track position as the Program Director for our Master of Public Affairs (MPA) Graduate Program. Program administration and teaching experience are preferred. Related professional experience will also be considered. Applications are welcomed from all related fields, including but not limited to the fields of Public Policy, Public Administration, Non-Profit Management, Political Science, or Economics. All specialized subfields will be considered. A Masters Degree is required by time of appointment, Ph.Ds preferred.

The Program Director will teach three graduate courses per calendar year in the program. The successful applicant will be also be responsible for the administration of the graduate program, which includes, but is not limited to:

- Promoting and marketing the MPA Program
- Recruitment and enrollment of students
- Scheduling classes
- Advising students
- Recruitment of adjunct faculty
- Identifying and securing internship placements
- Liaise with the Graduate & Professional Studies Office
- Teach three content-relevant courses per year spread across the fall, spring, and summer sessions

The Program Director will work with and report to the MPA Steering Committee and the Dean of Liberal Arts. This is a twelve month position with the possibility of renewal.

Merrimack College is a selective four-year Catholic college in the Augustinian tradition, offering programs in the liberal arts, business, the sciences, and engineering for its 3000+ students. The college is located in the Merrimack Valley, approximately 25 miles north of Boston.

Complete applications should include a letter of interest, resume, and three reference letters. Please apply online at Academic Jobs Online (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/12923>).

Review of applications will begin immediately and will remain open until the position is filled.

Merrimack College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5245

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in comparative public administration beginning on August 1, 2019. This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in Public Administration/

International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2019 with a research specialization in comparative public administration. The teaching will be in our master's degree (MPA) in public administration as well as undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as research methods, or a regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2019. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and arrange to have three reference letters uploaded. Please direct all questions to Dr Terry Anderson at tanderson@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4971

PUBLIC LAW

SUNY, University at Buffalo

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites nominations and applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law. The Department is looking for individuals with a demonstrated potential for significant scholarly achievement, teaching excellence and service to the department, University and/or community. Preference will be given to candidates who have a clear theoretical orientation and have demonstrable skills in quantitative analysis and/or formal models. We particularly welcome applications from those with a focus on comparative judicial politics or candidates who would supplement existing departmental strengths in state politics, election law, or quantitative methodology.

Candidates must submit the following materials electronically at <https://www.ubjobs.buffalo.edu/postings/19994> or <https://www.ubjobs.buffalo.edu/> by referencing posting F1900057: a cover letter, CV, and contact information for three professional references. Candidates are encouraged to complete their applications by September 15, 2019

University at Buffalo is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and, in keeping with our commitment, welcomes all to apply including veterans and individuals with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5662

Occidental College

Rank: Full time NTT Track Position - American Politics and Public Law

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a one-year non-tenure track faculty appointment to begin in fall 2019. The teaching load for this full-time hire is six courses (3-3). We seek a candidate to teach two sections of Introduction to American Politics and Policy, one section of Law and Society, one section of our Cultural Studies first year writing seminar on a topic of the candidate's choice, and two upper division seminars in American Politics or Public Law, in the candidate's areas of specialization. We especially welcome candidates who could offer Constitutional Law as one of two upper division seminars.

A Ph.D. in political science is preferred at the time of appointment but we will consider candidates who are ABD.

Occidental College is a nationally ranked small liberal arts college recognized for its diverse student body. Named one of America's most beautiful campuses, Occidental College is situated in the vibrant neighborhoods of Eagle Rock and Highland Park in the City of Los Angeles, allowing access to major cultural and natural attractions in the nation's second largest city. One of the few urban liberal arts colleges in the country, Occidental College affords students and faculty a unique pedagogical engagement with vast resources outside of the classroom. Occidental College has a strong commitment to community based learning and research and internships. The Politics Department has helped lead efforts on campus along with the Center for Community Based Learning and the Office of Community Engagement, to link the college's academic program with community involvement, including expanding community internships and community-oriented research projects for students.

Full applications should be sent to Ms. Romy Corona, Politics Department Assistant, rcorona@oxy.edu. Review of materials will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Please submit the following items in one single pdf in the order listed:

- 1) cover letter detailing your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment
- 2) current curriculum vitae
- 3) statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students.
- 4) evidence of teaching effectiveness (teaching evaluations or other materials and syllabi)
- 5) the name and contact information for three references who will submit letters including at least one that attests to your teaching abilities or performance. At least one letter must be submitted for file to be reviewed.

Letters from references should be sent directly to Romy Corona (rcorona@oxy.edu)

Start Date: Fall 2019

Date Posted: 5/13/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5636

McGill University

Rank: Visiting Fulbright Research Chair in Constitutional and Political Theory

Applications are invited for a one-semester or full-year Visiting Fulbright Research Chair in Constitutional and Political Theory in academic year 2020-21. This fellowship for US citizens includes a $US 25,000 stipend with no teaching responsibilities.

Hosted in the Research Group on Constitutional Studies (RGCS), a unit of the Yan P. Lin Centre for the Study of Freedom and Global Orders in the Ancient and Modern Worlds, this award is open to scholars in political theory and is open with respect to methodology and approach in that field. Applications are also invited from scholars in neighbouring areas of legal theory and jurisprudence, political philosophy and political science. The Chair will pursue research in political and constitutional theory broadly construed. The ability to engage with scholars and students across methodologies — normative, empirical, intellectual-historical, jurisprudential, and formal, for example — is more important than particular areas of emphasis.

While Ph.D. must be in hand, the fellowship is otherwise open as to seniority. Most applicants will be on sabbatical or other leave from an existing faculty position, but it is not a requirement that the applicant already hold a faculty appointment.

The Chair-holder will be in residence at RGCS for one semester, will deliver one public lecture, regularly attend and also present work at an RGCS workshop, and, if appropriate, guest-lecture or lead guest discussions in political science classes. The Chair will more generally take an active part in the intellectual life of McGill, RGCS, and the Groupe de Recherche Interuniversitaire en Philosophie Politique.

Full eligibility information and the online application are available at <https://www.fulbright.ca/programs/american-scholars/primary-awards/policy.html>. Those interested are encouraged to contact Jacob Levy at rgcs.mcgill@gmail.com (especially for questions about thematic fit) and Bred Hector at bhector@fulbright.ca (especially for procedural questions) early in the application process. Applications must be fully complete by September 16.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: 9/16/2019

Date Posted: 4/9/2019

Salary: $20,000 - $29,999

eJobs ID: 5596

Tokyo International University

Rank: Full-time Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations/International Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, International Relations, Other

[Outline]

Tokyo International University seeks applicants for an open rank faculty position (professor, associate professor or assistant professor) specializing in international law, international organizations, conflict resolution, and related areas to teach both undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in the university's English Track Degree Program, where all courses are taught in English.

[Content of work]

Responsibilities include teaching three courses per semester mainly in an English-medium undergraduate and/or graduate school program, advising and working with students from diverse backgrounds, and undertaking quality research. TIU's academic year consists of two 14-week semesters.

[Positions available]

1

[Address of work location]

Campus 1, 1-13-1 Matoba-kita, Kawagoe City, Saitama Pref. 350-1197

[Starting date]

April 1, 2020 (negotiable)

[Qualifications]

Successful candidates should already hold a Ph.D. or have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of employment, a strong publication record or potential for active scholarly engagement, and ability to teach students with diverse cultural backgrounds.

[Compensation]

Contract period: if hired as tenured, no-period (except age limits) / if hired as tenure-track, 5 years

A competitive salary is offered. Remuneration package includes health insurance, pension, commuting allowance, annual research fund and individual research office.

[Application method]

Please specify to which position you are applying and send an email to "saiyou@tiu.ac.jp" with the following materials attached:

- 1) In the subject of your email, please include this code: IR2019APSA
- 2) Cover letter of application
- 3) Curriculum vitae (please also include your complete contact details and contact information of three references)
- 4) List of classes taught (including title of class, brief description of contents, level)
- 5) Course syllabi of related fields that have been taught at any higher educational institution
- 6) Full text of three research achievements (e.g., Journal articles, publications, etc.)
- 7) Copy of diploma or transcript showing proof of Ph.D. or enrollment in a Ph.D. program

[Deadline]

May 31 (Friday), 2019

[Note]

- We request that all application documents be send via e-mail and not by postal mail. Items sent through postal mail cannot be returned.
- Please describe your contact details clearly (phone number, e-mail address, current location, Skype ID, etc.)
- E-mail accounts through @hotmail, @msn, @live and @outlook may experience difficulty in receiving e-mails from the University. Please provide an alternative e-mail address if possible.
- All the information collected will be used solely for its intended purpose of evaluating applicants. Information will not be used for any other purpose.

[Selection process]

First, a review of applications will be conducted, and only applicants deemed suitable will be contacted and invited for an interview (in person or via Skype). Those applicants who are invited to an interview may be requested to submit Letters of Recommendation from relevant institutions.

For the on-site final interview, reimbursement for round-trip airfare, domestic public transportation allowance, and hotel (one night) will be provided to overseas candidates.

[Contact details]

Global Talent Acquisition Department
Tokyo International University Foundation
4-23-23, Takadanobaba, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-0075
Email: saiyou@tiu.ac.jp

Start Date: Spring 2020

Application Deadline: 5/31/2019

Date Posted: 4/8/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5592

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – American Politics, Public Law, or Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) invites applications for one full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning August 2019, with the possibility for a second year renewal. We seek candidates with demonstrated excellence in teaching and strong research potential. The successful candidate will help to continue UTEP's strong tradition of providing under-represented students with access to a quality education and facilitating their success in professional careers. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate courses in American Behavioral Politics, Public Law, and/or Public Policy. The ability to teach courses in Research Methods, Introduction to Politics, and Introduction to American Government and Politics is desirable.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field. ABD applicants will be considered. Candidates must show evidence or promise of teaching experience to be considered.

Salary: Competitive and commensurate with experience.

About UTEP and El Paso: Located in one of the largest binational communities in the world, The University of Texas at El Paso is unique among research institutions. UTEP is an R1 Carnegie classified national research University and ranks third among all U.S. colleges and universities in awarding bachelor's degrees to Hispanics. UTEP enrolls more than 25,000 students. The Brookings Institution in 2017 ranked UTEP as the leading university in equal access to higher education, based on a combination of research productivity and student social mobility. The University has annual research expenditures of $95 million, an operating budget of $500 million and employs approximately 4,000 people. With 172 bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs available in eight colleges and schools, UTEP is the first national research university serving a 21st century student demographic.

Application Procedure: Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled. Interested individuals must submit a curriculum vita, letter of interest, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching quality, evidence of research, and current contact information for three professional references. Please contact Dr. José D. Villalobos by email (jdvillalobos2@utep.edu) for questions about the position.

To apply, please visit <https://www.utep.edu/employment>
In keeping with its Access and Excellence mission, the University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/26/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5559

Beloit College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Theory and Public Law: Beloit College, a selective liberal arts college with a proud tradition of innovation, seeks an energetic teacher-scholar for a replacement position of four courses per academic year. The successful candidate will be responsible for introductory and upper-level courses in political theory. An ability to teach these courses from a critical perspective is a plus. Candidates able to teach courses on American political thought, constitutional law, comparative political theory, and/or contribute to one of our many interdisciplinary programs are strongly preferred. We prefer candidates with a desire to collaborate with colleagues from other disciplines, and who develop pedagogical approaches that foster creativity and apply theoretical knowledge to address real problems such as institutionalized racism. Our friendly department offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues. This position is for the 2019-2020 academic year with a possibility of renewal.

Because equity and inclusion are central to our students' liberal arts education and vital to the thriving of all members of our residential learning community, Beloit College aspires to be an actively anti-racist institution. We recognize our aspiration as ongoing and institution-wide, involving collective commitment and accountability. We seek employees who are committed to and will actively contribute to our efforts to celebrate our cultural and intellectual richness and be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity.

Located in a diverse community close to Madison, Milwaukee, and Chicago, Beloit attracts students from across the United States and the world. The college emphasizes excellence in teaching, learning beyond the traditional classroom, international perspectives, and collaborative research among students and faculty. It is recognized as one of the Colleges That Change Lives.

Candidates should email a cover letter, c.v., three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, writing sample, summary of teaching evaluations and sample syllabi to pols2019@beloit.edu. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Phil Chen, chair of the search committee, at: chenp@beloit.edu Review of applications begins immediately and all applications received by March 25, 2019 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/27/2019

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 5485

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Rod and Nancy Sanders Chair in Law and Liberty

Rod and Nancy Sanders Chair in Law and Liberty

The Institute for the American Constitutional Heritage (IACH) at the University of Oklahoma (OU) seeks an established and nationally recognized scholar to hold the newly established Sanders Family Chair in Law and Liberty. The position is at the associate or full professor level and will be jointly appointed in the Department of Classics & Letters and the successful candidate's home disciplinary department or College, e.g., History or Political Science (both in the College of Arts and Sciences), or the College of Law.

The successful candidate will contribute to the core mission of the IACH, a vibrant interdisciplinary center for the study of American constitutionalism housed in Classics & Letters. The IACH has four faculty lines and over 30 affiliated faculty across the university who offer courses to over 100 undergraduates majoring or minoring in Constitutional Studies.

We seek a candidate with a teaching and research profile that would include, but not be limited to, the ancient roots of law, liberty, and self-governance; the development of republican thought and ideas of liberty and the rule of law in the modern world; and the historical and ideological background of the American founding.

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. (or a J.D. for exceptional candidates with established records of scholarly excellence) and a substantial scholarly record in a discipline related to the core mission of the IACH. The successful candidate should also have an established commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students, as well as experience in graduate teaching and mentoring, or clear potential for excellence in this area. The teaching load will be three courses a year (2-1).

Application Instructions

Interested applicants should initially submit a letter of interest, a current C.V., and three letters of reference to. Applicants should go to <http://apply.interfolio.com/59901>.

to submit their application. The position will begin in August 2019 or August 2020. The position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/25/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5469

University of Richmond

Rank: Visiting Faculty in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Public Law

The program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL) at the University of Richmond invites applications for a one-year visiting lecturer in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law, to begin August 2019. The successful candidate for this non-tenure track position will teach core PPEL courses that are required of all majors, such as: Theory and Public Policy; Law and Social Order; and Rational Choice and Political Theory. The teaching load is seven courses for the academic year. Completion of PhD (in Philosophy, Political Science, or Economics, or in an interdisciplinary field involving those subjects) is expected prior to appointment.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and 92% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law, see <https://ppel.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit the following materials: a brief cover letter; a statement of teaching interests, experience, and philosophy, as well as evidence of commitment to inclusive pedagogy; a current curriculum vitae; copies of graduate transcripts. Please provide the names and contact information for three references who will receive an email requesting them to submit their recommendation letters to the University’s Human Resources department at URHR@richmond.edu. One of these references must be able to speak to the candidate’s record of or potential for excellence in teaching.

Please address any questions about the application to Stephen Simon (ssimon@richmond.edu). Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/11/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5429

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences at Missouri Southern State University in Joplin, Missouri invites applications for a Master Instructor of Political Science position beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory American Government; areas of specialization include public law and the courts. Master Instructors are responsible for 15 credit hours per semester, with 3 credit hours dedicated to supervising the Mock Trial program. Experience with coaching Mock Trial within the American Mock Trial Association Collegiate Mock Trial System, is required. Applicants with the ability to teach undergraduate research methods or statistics are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in political science is preferred at time of appointment (ABD and candidates with a master’s degree in political science will be considered.) Ideal candidates will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science and a JD. The position requires a commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level.

Applicants should submit a detailed letter of application, curriculum vitae (with the names, addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers of three references), and copies of undergraduate and graduates transcripts. (Official transcripts are required 45 days after contract is issued.) Submit documents to FacultyVitae@mssu.edu; include: “Political Science – Master Instructor” in the subject line. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Employment will require a background check. MSSU is an EOE employer with a strong institutional commitment to achievement of excellent and diversity among faculty and staff. MSSU is an E-verify participating employer.

Missouri Southern State University (MSSU) is a four year liberal arts institution serving nearly 6,000 students. Expanding graduate and undergraduate programs provide faculty with rich opportunities for service and scholarship. Internationally-focused semesters and enriching cultural events in theater, art, music and film create an engaging learning environment for students and citizens of the region. MSSU is located in Joplin, MO, which is considered to be the Crossroads of America, and serves as the commercial hub for the four states area. Joplin is a resilient and vibrant city with a population of over 50,000 serving a metropolitan statistical area of 208,000. There is quick and easy access to Northwest Arkansas, Kansas City, and Tulsa, as well as numerous outdoor activities and attractions throughout the Ozarks.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2018

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5316

PUBLIC POLICY

Texas A&M University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University recruiting for one non-tenure track position for the 2019-2020 academic year to teach at the Higher Education Center at McAllen, located in McAllen, TX. We seek to hire a lecturer to teach introductory, survey courses in American government. The successful candidate will be expected to be able to teach introductory undergraduate courses in American government at both the national and state and local level. A completed Ph.D. is preferred in Political Science; A.B.D. status would be acceptable. The target start date for this position September 1, 2019. The teaching load would be four to five courses total for the academic year. This would be for a nine month appointment in a non-tenure track position. This position has the possibility of being renewed on an annual basis depending on performance, funding, and university needs.

Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Our review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

The Texas A&M System is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Applicants should send letter of interest, contact information for three references, and a curriculum vitae. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor Guy D. Whitten, Acting Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5661

Penn State Harrisburg

Rank: Associate/Full Professor and Director of the Institute of State and Regional Affairs

Associate/Full Professor and Director of the Institute of State and Regional Affairs

Penn State Harrisburg, a comprehensive college of The Pennsylvania State University, one of the largest and most widely recognized institutions in the nation, invites applications for a 48-week faculty position at the rank of Associate or Full Professor that will oversee and direct the Institute of State and Regional Affairs (ISRA). The candidates must possess an earned doctorate and have a record of teaching and research achievements that qualify them for tenure in one of the five academic schools within the college. The individual serving in such a position will also possess strong skills in interpersonal communication and relationship building; experience finding external funding to support research and ISRA staff, operations, and activities; grant and technical writing expertise; experience in research, public policy, public administration, sociology, data sciences or other related fields; and supervisory experience of staff at different levels. Preference will be given to candidates with a proven record of interdisciplinary collaboration, experience working with academic units, and experience managing institutes and centers. The preferred starting date is August 15, 2019. ISRA is comprised of the Pennsylvania State Data Center, the Center for Survey Research, the Economic Development Course in Pennsylvania, and the ISRA Integrated Technology Center. It is 100 percent externally funded and conducts approximately $2 million in sponsored research activities each year. The Institute focuses on data collection, organization, management, and analysis; spatial analysis and mapping; and training and technology utilization. The mission of the Institute is to leverage unbiased data expertise and the resources of the Pennsylvania State University to provide multifaceted data and research support services. ISRA also strives to enrich the teaching and educational experience of engaged students and faculty through its activities. There are fifteen staff members in the Institute. To find out more about the Institute, visit: <https://isra.hbg.psu.edu>. The selected individual's duties will be split 50-50 between his/her faculty activities and those for directing ISRA. As a faculty member, the individual is expected to perform well in his/her responsibilities in scholarship of teaching, scholarship of research, and scholarship of service. As Director of ISRA, the individual's duties include: building relationships and securing external funding; influencing organizational and community relations to develop and achieve strategic goals and manage customer relations; working with staff to build interdisciplinary teams for internal and external funding opportunities and pursuing, negotiating and administering project activity. Additional duties include: preparing and presenting reports; providing policy recommendations; linking unit operations to strategic objectives of the University; defining goals for future organizational performance and deciding on the tasks and use of resources needed to attain them; communicating goals to employees throughout the unit or organization and using influence to motivate employees to achieve organizational goals; ensuring operational and strategic direction and accountability; and exercising authority for unit policy and procedures and operational decisions for departments. Penn State Harrisburg is located in Middletown, near the city of Harrisburg, the state capital of Pennsylvania. The College is easily accessible via interstate and rail routes from Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington DC, and New York. Penn State Harrisburg has an enrollment of more than 5000 resident instruction students, including a broad, diverse and non-traditional population and brings nationally accredited academic programs, award-winning faculty, and the resources of a world-class research university to Pennsylvania's Capital Region. The College offers students the opportunity to earn baccalaureate degrees in 37 academic majors. As a graduate center, the College offers 27 master's degrees and 3 doctoral degree programs. To learn more about the college, visit <http://harrisburg.psu.edu>. To apply, applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and contact information for five references. Penn State Harrisburg is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. We encourage applications from women and minority candidates.

Apply online at <https://apptrkr.com/1470875>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-50e657092c4bf9499d62317bbac6f10c>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5652

Columbia University

Rank: Research Scholar - Nuclear Energy

Research Scholar - Nuclear Energy
Columbia University, School of International and Public Affairs
Center on Global Energy Policy

The Center on Global Energy Policy at Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) seeks a Research Scholar for major research initiatives on nuclear energy. The Research Scholar, who will report to the Center's Director, will conduct original research (including management of external research projects), communicating research findings clearly and concisely to a range of audiences in a manner that maximizes policy impact, and contribute to the University's wider research and convening efforts.

Qualifications include advanced degree (MA, MBA, JD, PhD) focused on energy, economics, public policy, foreign policy, international affairs, national security or a directly related field; experience across energy policy, national security, power markets or a directly related field, and experience in policy analysis, development or advisory services and management of policy research.

For the full job description and to submit an application please visit:

<http://pa334.peopleadmin.com/postings/2661>

Screening of the candidates will begin immediately and the search will remain open no less than 30 days from the date of posting and continue until filled. For further information, please contact Jesse McCormick, CGEP Director of Strategy and Operations, at jmccormick@columbia.edu.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Applications from women and individuals from historically underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/16/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5642

Sam Houston State University

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University invites applications for a one-year renewable, full-time, non-tenure-track faculty position at the rank of lecturer beginning August 2019. The successful candidate will teach online and face-to-face courses in the Political Science Department's newly established Public Administration/Public Policy minor. The position requires teaching Introduction to Public Policy and one or more of the following policy courses: Environmental Policy, Social Policy and Economic Policy. Applicants who are willing to develop and offer courses in other policy areas are encouraged to apply. The teaching load for the position is four courses in both the fall and spring semesters. Summer courses are not included in the teaching load.

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sam Houston State University is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the academic community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The college welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community

Degree Requirements:

Applicants must have a master's degree in Public Policy or Public Administration or a PhD in public policy, public administration, public affairs, or political science. Preference will be given to candidates who have a PhD. Candidates are expected to have degrees from an accredited university or institution of higher learning and have their degrees in at hand at the time of hire.

Application Requirements:

- Cover Letter
- Current CV
- All graduate transcripts
- Two letters of recommendation from supervisors who are familiar with the applicant's teaching abilities and who have worked with the applicant in the past two years
- Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available
- Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy
- If available, sample syllabi for relevant courses
- Diversity statement discussing how the applicant would engage a diverse student population such as Sam Houston State University that meets the College of Humanities and Social Sciences core goals.

Please direct your questions regarding this position to Dr. Fatih Demiroz (demiroz@shsu.edu).

Those interested should apply online at <https://shsu.peopleadmin.com/>. The search committee will begin reviewing materials immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/7/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5630

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2019-20 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2020. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or experience in related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 1, 2019 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02067>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 9/1/2019

Date Posted: 5/1/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5612

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Post-doctoral Research Fellow is a 12-month in-residence position support ongoing research at UNC Charlotte and to collaborate in areas related to public opinion, public policy, political psychology, and/or political communication. The research fellow will maintain their own research agenda and work on collaborative projects within one or more ongoing projects in the areas of: political emotions and collective behavior; measurement of political content in large volumes of text; exploring contagion processes in social media; and methodology issues in survey and experimental research. Opportunities for collaborative work within these broader areas will be determined based on the fellow's interests and skills.

In addition, the fellow will provide project management, mentoring, and training for doctoral students in two closely related research support labs: an established survey and experimental research lab housed in Political Science and Public Administration, and a newly formed Policy Research Support Lab associated with the Public Policy Program.

The position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related Social Science discipline (completed within the last three years) and strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata. Preference will be given to applicants with skills in one or more of the following areas: survey methodology, causal inference, natural language processing, network analysis, large scale text processing, or social media analytics.

The position reports to the Director of Public Policy. The fellow will participate in the broader intellectual life of the interdisciplinary Public Policy Program and the Department of Political Science and Public Administration. The position may be renewable for an additional year based on performance and availability of funding. Salary range for the position is $54,000-$56,000 with the possibility of research and travel support.

See the full position posting at: <https://jobs.unc.edu/postings/26857>. Review of applications begins May 13, 2019. Applications must be submitted online to <https://jobs.unc.edu/postings/26857>. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, Curriculum Vitae, writing sample, a copy of graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation.

Start Date: Summer 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/25/2019

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 5615

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Public Administration & Policy at the University at Albany's Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor in Public Policy beginning in Fall 2019 for one year with the possibility of a second. Candidates must be strongly committed to excellence in teaching, specifically in the areas of Microeconomics and Statistics.

We welcome applications from candidates interested in policy areas such as education, environment, health or economic affairs, as well as engagement in high-quality teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Other policy areas will also be considered. Applicants are expected to teach a 2-2 load: 2 sections of Master's-level Microeconomics, 1 section of Statistics (either Master's or undergraduate level), and an undergraduate Public Policy elective based on their teaching interests in agreement with the undergraduate program director.

Requirements

*Candidates must have a Ph.D. from a college or university accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or internationally recognized organization by the time of appointment. The successful candidate should have a doctorate in Public Administration, Public Policy, Public Affairs, or an allied field such as Economics.

Applicants must be willing to participate and collaborate in departmental activities involving graduate and undergraduate students.

Applicants must possess excellent communication skills, including the ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing.

Applicants must address in their application their ability to work with culturally diverse populations.

*Candidates who will have completed their Ph.D. by Spring 2019 will be considered.

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

CV

A cover letter addressed to Luis F. Luna-Reyes, Chair of the Search Committee

A writing sample

Teaching evaluations, if available

Graduate transcripts

Applicants will be asked to provide names and contact information for three references.*

*Special Note: Once applications have been initially screened, candidates will receive notification of how to submit three letters of reference through Interview Exchange.

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=109530>

A review of applications will start on May 31, 2019 and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

For details, please go to: <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=109530&CNTRNO=1&TSTMP=0>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/19/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5610

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics, Pub Policy)

The Department of Government at William & Mary invites applications for a one year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin August 10, 2019. We seek an individual with expertise in American politics / public policy. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load (2 preps per semester). Courses will consist of introductory sections of American government, public policy, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates who can draw on their expertise or examples in racial or ethnic politics, or the politics of inclusion as they teach these courses.

Information on the degree programs in the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.wm.edu/as/government/>. The Department provides visiting faculty with support for conference travel, and also offers mentoring and access to campus opportunities to help our visitors become more effective researchers and teachers.

To apply, go to <https://jobs.wm.edu/>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), a writing sample, and a statement describing previous professional experiences or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, May 3, 2019. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: 5/3/2019

Date Posted: 4/3/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5587

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – American Politics, Public Law, or Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) invites applications for one full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning August 2019, with the possibility for a second year renewal. We seek candidates with demonstrated excellence in teaching and strong research potential. The successful candidate will help to continue UTEP's strong tradition of providing under-represented students with access to a quality education and facilitating their success in professional careers. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate courses in American Behavioral Politics, Public Law, and/or Public Policy. The ability to teach courses in Research Methods, Introduction to Politics, and Introduction to American Government and Politics is desirable.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field. ABD applicants will be considered. Candidates must show evidence or promise of teaching experience to be considered.

Salary: Competitive and commensurate with experience.

About UTEP and El Paso: Located in one of the largest binational communities in the world, The University of Texas at El Paso is unique among research institutions. UTEP is an R1 Carnegie classified national research University and ranks third among all U.S. colleges and universities in awarding bachelor's degrees to Hispanics. UTEP enrolls more than 25,000 students. The Brookings Institution in 2017 ranked UTEP as the leading university in equal access to higher education, based on a combination of research productivity and student social mobility. The University has annual research expenditures of $95 million, an operating budget of $500 million and employs approximately 4,000 people. With 172 bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs available in eight colleges and schools, UTEP is the first national research university serving a 21st century student demographic.

Application Procedure: Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019 and will continue until the position is filled. Interested individuals must submit a curriculum vita, letter of interest, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching quality, evidence of research, and current contact information for three professional references. Please contact Dr. José D. Villalobos by email (jdovillalobos2@utep.edu) for questions about the position.

To apply, please visit <https://www.utep.edu/employment>

In keeping with its Access and Excellence mission, the University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/26/2019

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 5559

Dartmouth CollegeRank: POST-DOC: PUBLIC POLICY*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for Public Policy and the Social Sciences at Dartmouth College is seeking to fill at least one post-doctoral research associate position in the Center for the 2019-2020 academic year.

In addition to having time for one's own individual research projects, the successful candidate will manage the day-to-day operations of the Rockefeller Center's Class of 1964 Policy Research Shop (PRS), a student-staffed, faculty-mentored policy research enterprise that serves elected officials in the Vermont and New Hampshire legislatures, statewide commissions and local government entities. Management duties include mentoring PRS students on specific projects, traveling with students to testify before state legislative committees, commissions, and councils, and soliciting projects from state and local government officials. For more information about the PRS, please visit our website at <http://rockefeller.dartmouth.edu/shop/>.

The position may be renewed for a second year. The position includes a competitive post-doctoral salary and health benefits with faculty status as a visiting assistant professor of public policy (Ph.D. in hand is required at the time of appointment). We anticipate a start date of no later than September 1, 2019.

Interested candidates should send a letter of inquiry that discusses the substantive policy interests of the applicant. In addition, we would like to receive a curriculum vitae and a list of three references with contact information from each candidate.

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2019. The search will remain open until the position is filled.

Please send application materials to:

Professor Ronald G. Shaiko, Senior Fellow and Associate Director
The Nelson A. Rockefeller Center for
Public Policy and the Social Sciences
Dartmouth College
6082 Rockefeller Center, Room 204
Hanover, NH 03755-3154

For more information about the Rockefeller Center, please access our website at: <http://rockefeller.dartmouth.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 3/12/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5516University of Redlands*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science*Specializations: African American Politics, Latino Politics, Urban Politics

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FACULTY POSITION OPENING
POSITION: Visiting Assistant Professor, Non-Tenure Track
DEPARTMENT: Political Science, College of Arts & Sciences
AVAILABLE: September 2019
POSTING DATE: February 11, 2019

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Review of applications will begin February 28, 2019. The search will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Candidates with teaching and research interests in American politics, the politics of race, and public policy are especially encouraged to apply. The standard six-course load for the position will be distributed across the fall and spring semesters according to the candidate's interests and departmental needs. This is a one-year appointment.

The department especially welcomes applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position. Candidates who apply are asked to identify their strengths and experiences in assisting undergraduate students to achieve their curricular goals.

The University of Redlands is a private, comprehensive liberal arts institution located 60 miles east of Los Angeles in a town of 70,000. The campus is surrounded by orange groves and sits at the base of the San Bernardino Mountains, one hour from the coast, and 40 miles west of Palm Springs. Information about the University and its mission and facilities is available at www.redlands.edu.

Required and Desired Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Evidence of success at college teaching and an ability to work in a collaborative, team-based environment are desired.

INQUIRIES: Candidates may contact search committee chair Steve Wuhs at steve_wuhs@redlands.edu with additional questions or concerns.

TO APPLY: Please submit the following to apply@redlands.edu: a cover letter, current CV, evidence of teaching and research excellence, and three letters of reference.

Applications packets must be received by March 15, 2019 to ensure consideration for the position.

In compliance with The Americans with Disability Act, if selected for the interview process and accommodations are needed please call (909) 748-8040.

Start Date: Fall 2019Application Deadline: 3/15/2019Date Posted: 2/11/2019Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 5430University of Richmond*Rank: Visiting Faculty in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL)*Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Public Law

The program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law (PPEL) at the University of Richmond invites applications for a one-year visiting lecturer in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law, to begin August 2019. The successful candidate for this non-tenure track position will teach core PPEL courses that are required of all majors, such as: Theory and Public Policy; Law and Social Order; and Rational Choice and Political Theory. The teaching load is seven courses for the academic year. Completion of PhD (in Philosophy, Political Science, or Economics, or in an interdisciplinary field involving those subjects) is expected prior to appointment.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and 92% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the program in Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law, see <https://ppel.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit the following materials: a brief cover letter; a statement of teaching interests, experience, and philosophy, as well as evidence of commitment to inclusive pedagogy; a current curriculum vitae; copies of graduate transcripts. Please provide the names and contact information for three references who will receive an email requesting them to submit their recommendation letters to the University's Human Resources department at URHR@richmond.edu. One of these references must be able to speak to the candidate's record of or potential for excellence in teaching.

Please address any questions about the application to Stephen Simon (ssimon@richmond.edu). Review of applications will begin on April 15, 2019 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/11/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5429

Eastern Kentucky University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Master of Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The Department of Government at Eastern Kentucky University invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track assistant professor position to begin August 2019. The successful candidate will teach classes in the department's Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program and undergraduate political science programs. Departmental teaching needs include courses related to public policy, state and local government, community development/non-profit, Appalachian/rural development studies, and American government. Candidates must be able to develop and/or teach fully online courses.

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Affairs, or Public Policy is required at the time of appointment. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester. Successful candidates should be, or have the potential to be, an active scholar and a high quality teacher.

To ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by February 18, 2019.

Applicants should submit: 1) Cover Letter, 2) Curriculum Vitae, 3) Teaching philosophy statement, 4) Contact information for at least three professional references, 5) Copies of unofficial transcripts and 6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.eku.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/4/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5409

Drexel University

Rank: Director, Center for Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

Drexel's Center for Public Policy (CPP), located in the Department of Politics of the College of Art and Sciences, is now accepting applications for a director.

The CPP Director is a full-time teaching faculty position with both administrative and teaching responsibilities. The CPP director would be overseen by both a graduate committee in the Department of Politics and by the head of the Department of Politics, who would also serve on the graduate committee.

This is a non-tenure track faculty appointment with a minimum of a two-year, and a maximum of a three-year, contract. Eligibility for reappointment in both cases will be based on performance during the initial contract.

The CPP is a think tank located within Drexel's College of Arts and Sciences. It serves as an interdisciplinary hub for Drexel faculty who conduct policy-oriented research, and as an interface between those faculty and relevant government agencies and nonprofit organizations, especially those in the Philadelphia region.

The CPP offers a Master of Science in Public Policy and a Master of Science in Environmental Policy. The MS in Public Policy is a professional master's degree designed for people who work, or would like to work, for government or nonprofit organizations. Through a flexible course schedule that includes evening and online classes, students have the option of completing the program at a pace that suits them. On average, students can complete the program in as little as 18 months to two years. The MS in Environmental Policy prepares students for careers as policy analysts who have a strong commitment to environmental values, are scientifically and methodologically competent, and can work effectively on policy with various groups and institutions engaged in environmental issues.

To be considered for the position, you must meet the following requirements:

1. Hold a J.D. or a Ph.D. in a policy-related discipline. Candidates with a masters-level policy-oriented degree may be considered if they have exceptional work experience.
2. Have significant policy-oriented work experience.
3. Be able to demonstrate knowledge of the theory and methods of public policy; active research or practice in a related area highly desirable.

4. Have a record of successful teaching.

In the first year of their appointment, the CPP director would be responsible for:

- Teaching 4 to 5 courses (on the quarter system), potentially both undergraduate and graduate.
- Advising MS students through the case study course sequence (a thesis program).
- Taking lead responsibility for developing an online version of the MS in Public Policy.
- Coordinating the course offerings across departments and colleges to maintain the MS in Public Policy and MS in Environmental Policy curricula.
- Identifying partner organizations in Washington, DC, who would supply students for our proposed DC-based certificate program, and otherwise helping to develop that certificate program.
- Developing partnerships with external policy-oriented groups in the Philadelphia region.
- Attending relevant conferences and other professional events to promote the MS degrees.
- Promoting the degrees through attendance at recruitment and through publication of Drexel Policy Notes.

In subsequent years the CPP director's responsibilities would shift to administering the programs developed in the first year.

Other duties as assigned.

Must apply on drexeljobs.com, Quick Link to posting: www.drexeljobs.com/applicants/Central?quickFind=83533

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/30/2019

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5389

Merrimack College

Rank: Lecturer/Director of Master of Public Affairs Program

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Administration

Merrimack College invites applications for a non tenure-track position as the Program Director for our Master of Public Affairs (MPA) Graduate Program. Program administration and teaching experience are preferred. Related professional experience will also be considered. Applications are welcomed from all related fields, including but not limited to the fields of Public Policy, Public Administration, Non-Profit Management, Political Science, or Economics. All specialized subfields will be considered. A Masters Degree is required by time of appointment, Ph.Ds preferred.

The Program Director will teach three graduate courses per calendar year in the program. The successful applicant will be also be responsible for the administration of the graduate program, which includes, but is not limited to:

- Promoting and marketing the MPA Program
- Recruitment and enrollment of students
- Scheduling classes
- Advising students
- Recruitment of adjunct faculty
- Identifying and securing internship placements

- Liaise with the Graduate & Professional Studies Office
- Teach three content-relevant courses per year spread across the fall, spring, and summer sessions

The Program Director will work with and report to the MPA Steering Committee and the Dean of Liberal Arts. This is a twelve month position with the possibility of renewal.

Merrimack College is a selective four-year Catholic college in the Augustinian tradition, offering programs in the liberal arts, business, the sciences, and engineering for its 3000+ students. The college is located in the Merrimack Valley, approximately 25 miles north of Boston.

Complete applications should include a letter of interest, resume, and three reference letters. Please apply online at Academic Jobs Online (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/12923>).

Review of applications will begin immediately and will remain open until the position is filled.

Merrimack College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 5245

U.S. Naval Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

The Political Science Department of the United States Naval Academy invites applications for tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in American Politics beginning August 2019. Application review will begin on 01 October 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

The U.S. Naval Academy is a service academy and top tier liberal arts college with a commitment to excellence in faculty teaching, research, and service. American Politics scholars with expertise in public policy; race, gender, and ethnicity; or political philosophy are encouraged to apply. A strong commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential. Candidates should have a robust research agenda and demonstrate potential for research excellence, as well as a strong commitment to student advising and institutional service.

For more information about this position and how to apply please visit the USNA position announcement at <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/AsstProfessor-PolSciAY19.php>

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 4715