

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

June 2024 | Volume 13, Issue 06

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4

American Government and Politics 5

Comparative Politics 22

International Relations 35

Methodology 48

Non-Academic 54

Open 55

Other 63

Political Theory 70

Public Administration 80

Public Law 82

Public Policy 87

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

June 2024 | Volume 13, Issue 06

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4 (1 listings)

American Government and Politics 5 (33 listings)

Comparative Politics 22 (28 listings)

International Relations 35 (27 listings)

Methodology 48 (9 listings)

Non-Academic 54 (1 listings)

Open 55 (13 listings)

Other 63 (9 listings)

Political Theory 70 (13 listings)

Public Administration 80 (5 listings)

Public Law 82 (9 listings)

Public Policy 87 (18 listings)

Total listings this issue 166

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for June

ADMINISTRATION

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Dean of the School of Arts and Letters

The Dean of the School of Arts and Letters (SoAL) at Middle Georgia State University (MGA) serves as the chief academic and administrative officer of the School. The Dean provides vision and leadership to the academic units within SoAL across all five MGA campuses and online. This position reports to the Provost.

Responsibilities

The Areas of responsibility in this position include articulating strategic vision and planning; ensuring academic integrity in school programs; overseeing faculty and staff selection, retention, promotion and evaluation processes; encouraging and supporting excellence in teaching, research/scholarly activity, service and student success commensurate with a state university within the University System of Georgia; promoting collegiality and collaborative relationships internally and externally; and promoting alumni and donor relations.

Essential Duties

Educational Leadership and Academic Integrity (40%)

- Articulate strategic vision and planning for SoAL.
- Provide leadership for all educational activities of the School.
- Ensure academic integrity and high-quality instruction.
- Plan, implement, and maintain accreditation standards.
- Support and advance college and university assessment efforts and strategies.
- Assure ongoing quality and continuous improvement in SoAL's academic programming at the undergraduate and graduate level, and in traditional and online programs.
- Develop and implement student success initiatives.

Personnel Management and Development (10%)

- Manage personnel recruitment and professional development.
- Supervise and evaluate faculty for tenure and promotion.
- Coordinate and schedule faculty teaching assignments.
- Supervise the day-to-day activities of SoAL staff and conduct staff evaluations.
- Promote collegiality and collaboration within and across schools and departments.

External Relations and Community Engagement (10%)

- Establish and maintain external relationships between SoAL and the community/region.
- Work with MGA Advancement to maintain and cultivate relationships with the alumni and friends of the University to secure financial resources through development efforts and initiatives.

Curriculum Planning and Management (10%)

- Manage curriculum planning, curriculum development, and course scheduling.
- Meet with students to resolve issues with course, curriculum, and degree completion.

Administrative Compliance and Budget Management (10%)

- Serve the mission of the University, Board of Regents, and the University strategic initiatives.
- Develop budget proposals and manage assigned budgetary funds appropriately.
- Attend administrative team meetings and work with the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs to comply with institutional and Board of Regents policies.

Organizational Culture and Support (10%)

- Foster an environment of innovation, collegiality, collaboration, inclusivity, and support where faculty, staff, and students thrive.

General Duties (10%)

- Perform other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

- An earned doctorate aligned to disciplines within MGA's School of Arts and Letters
- Evidence of strong leadership, interpersonal, and communication skills
- A distinguished record of accomplishment in teaching, scholarship, and service
- A strong record of commitment to academic excellence and student success
- Three to five years of related experience
- Must have a working knowledge with the following:
 - Arts and letters disciplines and USG core curriculum
 - SACSCOC accreditation standards and requirements
 - University program requirements
 - Effective program assessment and strategic planning strategies
 - Effective budget development and management principles
 - Effective classroom practices, teaching methodologies, assessment systems, and educational technology
- Must be skilled in the following:
 - Delegating responsibility and authority appropriately
 - Making timely decisions
 - Evaluating and promoting teaching, research, service, and student success
 - Operating computers and job-related software programs
 - Decision making and problem solving
 - Interpersonal relations and in engaging with the public
 - Oral and written communication

Preferred Qualifications

- A record of progressively responsible administrative experience for a minimum of five years at the chair level or higher.

Complexity/Scope of Work

- The work consists of varied management duties.
- The variety of tasks to be managed contributes to the complexity of the position.
- Direct the operations of the School of Arts and Letters.

Contacts

- Contacts are typically with co-workers, other University personnel, faculty, staff, students, representatives of other colleges and universities, alumni, business leaders, representatives of the Board of Regents, and members of the public.

- Contacts are typically to give or exchange information, to resolve problems, to motivate or influence people, or to justify or settle matters.

Physical Demands / Work Environment

- The work is typically performed while sitting at a desk or table.
- The work is typically performed in an office
- The work requires intercampus travel and occasional in-state travel.
- The work hours are divided 50/50 between Macon and Cochran campuses.
- The work requires evening/weekend activities as needed.

Supervisory and Management Responsibility

- This position has direct supervision over the Department of History and Political Science, Department of English, Department of Media, Culture, and the Arts, and Administrative Staff.

Applications

- 1) All application packets must include the following:
 - a. A letter of application that addresses the responsibilities and qualifications of the position
 - b. Current curriculum vitae or résumé
 - c. At least five references with full contact information including e-mail (References will not be contacted without consent from applicant.)
- 2) Submit application packet (preferably as PDFs) to MGA Dean-SoAL@myersmrae.com. Additional information will be requested upon receipt of application. Review of applications begins immediately. For best consideration, submit applications by May 16, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Nominations

Submit nominations to MGA-DeanSoAL-nominate@myersmrae.com with complete contact and e-mail information for the individual being nominated.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/1/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14345

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Native American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

James Madison College at Michigan State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Theory and Constitutional Democracy (PTCD). James Madison College engages undergraduates in a liberal arts education in public affairs in a residential college setting within a broader research-intensive university. The Political Theory and Constitutional Democracy major is an interdisciplinary field of public affairs. It focuses on liberal constitutional democracy (its origins, practice, critics, and defenders) from the perspective of political philosophy.

We seek a teacher-scholar broadly trained in the history of political theory that supports curriculum in Black political thought (American and comparative), as well as radical perspectives on modern constitutional democracy. Areas of research and teaching focus include African-American politics, comparative Black political thought, and radical political theory. In addition to these requirements, preferred areas of interest include: colonialism studies, Native-American studies, Indigenous studies, American constitutional politics, or modern political theory. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach elective courses cross-listed between PTCD and Social Relations and Policy majors.

Successful candidates will have demonstrated ability to teach core courses in the history of political thought combining serious study of canonical texts as well as authors/voices from outside the canon, with a view to the present and future of constitutional democracy. Applicants should also be able to contribute to the broader interdisciplinary curriculum of the major and the college, including the first-year sequence. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain an active scholarly agenda in their respective field(s). The College is especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their teaching, research and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

For more information, please see the college website: <https://jmc.msu.edu> and the full position description at <https://careers.msu.edu>.

Ph.D. in a related field is required by August 16th, 2025.

Applications must be submitted electronically to the Michigan State University Human Resources web site: <https://careers.msu.edu>. Please see posting number 955409 for complete instructions on how to apply. Review of applications will begin on September 20th, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Katie Dyjach (dyjachk@msu.edu) with any questions.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Michigan State University occupies the ancestral, traditional, and contemporary Lands of the Anishinaabeg-Three Fires Confederacy of Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi peoples. The University resides on Land ceded in the 1819 Treaty of Saginaw.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14388

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Science in Any Subfields

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Science in Any Subfields

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the "FPSE") at Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in any of the following subfields of political science: Japanese Politics, Political Economy, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Formal and Quantitative Methods. We seek candidates who advance theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. Candidates should have strong methodological training and be able to advise graduate students on both substantive and methodological issues.

The primary teaching responsibility of this position is "Introduction to Political Analysis," one of the foundational courses offered at the FPSE, which is required for all the first-year undergraduate students majoring in political science, economics, or global political economy. This course introduces the most important questions in politics and how political scientists use analytical and scientific methods to answer those questions. In addition, the successful candidate will teach other undergraduate and graduate-level seminars. Applicants must have the ability to teach fluently both in Japanese and English.

The position will begin as early as April 1, 2025.

For more details and instructions for application, please go to the website at https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/assets/uploads/2024/05/RecruitmentInfo_PoliSci24_ENG.pdf

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 9/3/2024

Date Posted: 5/30/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14381

University College Dublin

Rank: ERC Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

A senior post-PhD ERC research fellow with training in political and social science is being recruited to join an ERC-funded project at UCD's School of Politics and international Relations: Democracy Challenged. You will be tasked with supporting the quantitative and experimental survey aspects of the project. You will work directly with the Principal Investigator/research team on the work package that analyses the relationship between the media, democracy and inequality. More specifically, you will support the PI in implementing cross-national survey experiments on public opinion, democracy and inequality in the USA, UK, France and Germany.

You can read more details about the Democracy Challenged project here: <https://cordis.europa.eu/project/id/101125672> (opens in a new window)

To apply, please go to: https://my.corehr.com/pls/coreportal_ucdp/apply?id=017343 (opens in a new window)

Applications due by Thursday, 27th June 2024, at 12pm.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 6/27/2024

Date Posted: 5/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14375

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in American public law with a focus on constitutional law; the ability to offer courses in international or comparative law is a plus. The successful applicant will serve as faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society and Moot Court team and may teach, as needed, introductory courses in American Politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs near completion may also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14370

College of Wooster

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor U.S. Politics

The Department of Political Science at The College of Wooster invites applications for a two-year position in U.S. Politics at the level of Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor beginning August 2024. We are looking for a broadly trained specialist in U.S. Politics. We are especially interested in scholars whose work critically examines campaigns and elections, the U.S. legal system, voting rights, state and local politics, and/or race and ethnicity in U.S. politics. The successful candidate should have a demonstrated ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in their area of specialty and supervise independent research projects in U.S. Politics as part of the College's Senior Independent Study (I.S.) requirement. In addition, we are interested in candidates whose research and teaching connect with: College curricular initiatives such as Social Justice and/or Power, Privilege, Race, and Ethnicity; and/or interdisciplinary programs or majors at the College, such as our Activism & Social Justice Pathway and/or Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies, Urban Studies, or Africana Studies majors. The teaching load is 6 courses per year, which includes credited mentoring for student I.S. projects.

The department has eight full-time faculty members and graduates approximately 35-40 majors annually, many of whom pursue advanced study or careers in public policy, law, research, political campaigns and public service, or a wide variety of social justice and community organizing initiatives. Current faculty research areas include: administrative processes for disaster, healthcare, nuclear energy, and foreign policy decision-making; environmental policy and public goods provision; gender and politics; political leadership within international organizations; political violence and human rights; and political theory and analysis of political concepts. For more information, please see: <https://wooster.edu/area/political-science/>.

We prefer candidates who have had previous independent teaching experience and will have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment, or are advanced graduate students or instructors. Applicants should submit a letter of application (which addresses their teaching and research expertise and ability to teach diverse students at a liberal arts college), curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching (including syllabi and summaries of student evaluations) at latest by the posted deadline. Additional materials including unofficial graduate transcripts, and two letters of recommendation will be required if a candidate proceeds to a final round interview and before a hire offer can be made. We will begin reviewing applications on a rolling basis and applications received at <http://apply.interfolio.com/146695> by June 25, 2024, will receive full consideration. Please contact Désirée Weber (dweber@wooster.edu), Chair and Associate Professor of Political Science, with any questions.

The College of Wooster is an independent college of the liberal arts and sciences with a commitment to excellence in undergraduate education. We enroll a racially, socioeconomically, and culturally diverse student population of approximately 2,000 undergraduate students, of which 6% identify as Latinx; 9%, as Black/African American; 4%, as Asian; 4%, as multiracial; and 61%, as white. Fifteen percent (15%) of our students are studying on international visas. Twenty-five percent (25%) are Pell-eligible and 11% are first-generation college students. We are interested in hiring faculty who can contribute to the intellectual vibrancy of the community through culturally relevant pedagogy, curricular diversity, intercultural fluency, and a commitment to ensuring equitable outcomes for racially and ethnically minoritized and marginalized student groups.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 6/25/2024

Date Posted: 5/22/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14367

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics,

American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2024-2025 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF06488>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 5, 2024, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14360

Texas National Security Review

Rank: Executive Editor for Scholarly Journal on National Security

The Texas National Security Review (TNSR,) is seeking a motivated, detail-oriented, and energetic executive editor. We are looking for candidates eager to lead what has become one of the world's premier journals on international security. This is a full-time role.

This is not a remote position. We are on a hybrid schedule of three days a week in the office (T, W, Th) in Washington, DC. We will therefore only consider candidates who live in the Washington metro area or who are willing to relocate there. This role also requires travel to major academic conferences relevant to the journal's mission.

The executive editor reports directly to Ryan Evans, the journal's publisher. The executive editor also coordinates closely with editorial board chair, as well as the leadership staff at the Clements Center for National Security and the Strauss Center for International Security and Law -- both at the University of Texas, Austin. The executive editor also supervises our managing editor and production editor, as well as our part-time associate editors, who play a key role in shepherding manuscripts through the editorial process.

The executive editor will be primarily responsible for the following:

- Soliciting excellent manuscripts from both emerging and top scholars and key policymakers, and making timely and constructive decisions on suitability and peer review

- Ensuring and improving TNSR's "best in field" reputation for constructive and timely peer review and time from submission to publication

- Serving as an intellectual spokesperson and evangelizer for TNSR, especially to academic audiences

Creating day-to-day editorial, production, communication, and management processes to maintain and build upon TNSR's intellectual vision and reputation for excellence
Tracking submissions, as well as demographic data, and producing regular data-informed reports on performance

This job requires intellectual curiosity as well as stellar management and communication skills. The ideal candidate will be curious to identify and explore the world's biggest questions, enjoy working with the world's best scholars and practitioners, be committed to building TNSR's brand and audience, and have a desire to challenge the stale customs of academic publishing.

About the Publication:

TNSR is a print and online journal is dedicated to publishing accessible, rigorous, peer-reviewed scholarship relevant to international and national security policy from a broad range of disciplinary perspectives, as well as insightful articles from leading policy professionals. TNSR is dedicated to providing an influential, widely read platform for thoughtful decision-makers, national security professionals, and scholars. TNSR is produced by War on the Rocks in partnership with the University of Texas at Austin. War on the Rocks is the flagship publication of , a D.C.-based media company.

A cover letter is required, along with your CV. In your cover letter, please include an amusing story about yourself. If the job website you see this on does not allow you to submit a cover letter, . Before applying, please read "" from our first issue.

Metamorphic Media is an equal opportunity employer and will not discriminate against any employee or applicant on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any classification protected by federal, state, or local law.

Requirements:

Three years of editorial experience. This does not mean you need to have been employed as an editor, but you should be able to demonstrate that a past position has involved serious and sustained word-smithing

Strong background in history, international relations, security studies, and/or strategic studies. This must include familiarity with the relevant academic literature

A Ph.D. in one of these fields, or a closely related one

Exceptional and obsessive attention to detail

Cross-disciplinary credentials and familiarity with historical and ongoing strategic debates in the United States

Exceptional and elegant written English

Patience and rigor

Ability to work collegially with others and flexibly as part of a small team

Right to work in the United States

Preferred:

A record of practitioner experience — in civilian government service, as a Congressional staff member, as a policymaker, in the armed services, or a combination of these

Experience managing non-academic projects, processes, and people

Benefits:

Fully covered medical, dental, and vision insurance premiums

Competitive salary

Annual bonuses

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/17/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14358

Library of Congress

Rank: Research Manager - Executive Branch

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Regulatory Policy, Economic Policy, Congress

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is seeking a Section Research Manager (SRM) for the Executive Branch Section within the Government and Finance Division. The Research Manager leads the Section's public policy research and analysis of issues related to congressional oversight of the federal government. This includes the policies, procedures, management, and organization of the executive branch in both government-wide and agency-specific contexts.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 6/10/2024

Date Posted: 5/15/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14357

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Postdoc, Impact Data and Evidence Aggregation Library

Description:

The Center for Effective Global Action (CEGA), headquartered at the University of California, Berkeley, seeks an outstanding Postdoctoral Scholar (postdoc) to support the creation of the Impact Data and Evidence Aggregation Library (IDEAL)—a fully open-access library where users can search, compare, and visualize relative effect sizes from randomized controlled trials (RCTs) on a range of outcomes and for many different policy interventions across countries and contexts. The postdoc will report to CEGA's co-Faculty Director Edward Miguel, collaborate closely with CEGA affiliate Graeme Blair, and manage a large team of researchers for pilot data extraction.

Key Responsibilities:

The postdoc will collaborate with Professor Miguel, Professor Graeme Blair (UCLA), and co-investigators in economics and political science from CEGA's academic network to develop IDEAL. The work will begin with a pilot in which the candidate will oversee the extraction of a minimum set of fields for a curated initial set of 1,000 studies, and develop protocols for the library's ongoing growth and maintenance. The postdoc will oversee a team of 5-10 research associates, providing them with regular technical input and managing their workflow. The postdoc will also coordinate with the other engaged research teams at the World Bank, University of Toronto, and Northwestern's Global Poverty Research Lab (GPRL). In addition, the postdoc will help design the platform that researchers and policymakers will use to query the resulting data and support the identification of (and engagement with) potential policy partners. The postdoc would be encouraged to spend 33% of their time on individual research pursuits.

Required Qualification:

A PhD in Political Science, Economics, Statistics, or a related field at the time of starting the position.

Preferred Qualifications:

Existing research agenda, with record of academic publication, related to international development, evidence aggregation, and/or the design of randomized experiments.

1-3 years experience conducting empirical research on development topics, with an in-depth understanding of experimental design and analysis;

1-3 years experience and competency with statistical software packages (Stata, R, and/or Python) and data collection platforms (e.g., SurveyCTO), and ability to render accurate statistical analysis;

1-3 years experience translating complex material/research to broad, non-technical audiences;

1-3 years experience managing large research teams;

Ability to independently investigate solutions to technical problems; Outstanding written and oral communication skills, with the ability to translate complex scientific findings into accessible, non-technical language (via publications or professional presentations);

Ability to work well with teams, and communicate effectively with colleagues and faculty.

Ability to interact with individuals at all levels in a fast-paced environment, sometimes under pressure, while remaining flexible, proactive, tactful, resourceful, and efficient, and with a high level of professionalism and confidentiality.

Salary and Benefits:

This is a two-year full-time position with possibility for extension pending funding. Starting annual salary for this position is set at $90,000 and standard UC Berkeley postdoc benefits will be provided.

Start Date:

ASAP!

To Apply:

Please submit the following documents through the link below:

CV

Cover letter

Writing Sample (length doesn't matter, must demonstrate expertise in social science experimental research)

PhD Transcript

Deadline:

Rolling, open until filled.

Apply now to the submission link:

<https://cega.submittable.com/submit/294705/postdoc-impact-data-and-evidence-aggregation-library>

Help Contact: cega@berkeley.edu

Start Date: Spring 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/1/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14346

American University

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Applicants should hold a PhD or other terminal degree. Highly qualified applicants with a master's degree related to political science will be considered at the rank of instructor. The position will require the incumbent to teach three undergraduate or M.A. courses per semester in political science with a primary focus on American Politics and

Public Policy. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach GOVT 443/643 (Applied Political Writing), GOVT 210 (Political Power and American Public Policy), and GOVT 620 (Applied Politics and American Public Policy). All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three professional recommendations, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers.

Please contact Rachel Whelan, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or spa_academicaffairs@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

American University is a student-centered research institution located in Washington, DC, with highly ranked schools and colleges, internationally renowned faculty, and a reputation for creating meaningful change in the world.

Learn more about American University. <https://www.american.edu/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14334

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Full Time Instructor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a full-time instructor. The appointment will be for a one-year term. We invite applications from all specialists in all subfields of political science. Minimum qualifications: MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level. Preferred qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university. For more information about the department, see <https://psc.ua.edu/>. Please direct questions to Professor Daniel Levine, daniel.j.levine@ua.edu.

Position begins August 16, 2024.

Applicants should submit a cover letter summarizing their teaching qualifications and experience, courses prepared to offer, and reasons for interest in the position, a cv, evidence of teaching effectiveness, syllabi (if available), and the names and contact information of 3 references (ideally with knowledge of candidate’s teaching experience). Letters will only be required for short-listed candidates..

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/522456>.

Deadline: Submit applications by May 20, 2024 for best consideration; screening of applications will continue until the positions are filled.

Minimum Qualifications

MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level.

Preferred Qualifications

PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/22/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 13332

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow 2024-2025

The Center for American Political Studies at Harvard University seeks applications for a Postdoctoral Fellow for the 2024-2025 academic year. This is a 1-year position. The preferred start date is 7/1/2024. The salary is $68,500, with up to an additional $2500 in research funding available. This position is benefits eligible.

The postdoctoral fellow will work under the supervision of Professors Ryan Enos and Stephen Ansolabehere and will devote 25% of their time to helping to manage the Harvard CAPS/Harris Poll, a weekly nationally representative survey, and other CAPS research initiatives. They will also spend 25% of their time on joint projects with Professors Enos and Ansolabehere. The remainder of the fellow’s time will be devoted to their own research.??

Basic qualifications:

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or related fields and a strong background in the study of public opinion and survey methodology.??

Special Instructions:

Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The application review process will begin on May 1st, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.?

Required documents:

Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter

Statement of Research Interests

Two Letters of Recommendation

Please note: a finalist will also be asked to provide a Ph.D. Certificate of Completion

Contact: Laura Donaldson

Contact email: ldonaldson@fas.harvard.edu

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/16/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13323

University of Southern California

Rank: (Open Rank) Teaching Track or Practice Track

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste

in a browser: <https://usc Careers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications will begin April 29, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies
Department of Political Science and International Relations
Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352
University of Southern California
Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044
morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13324

Radford University

Rank: Instructor/Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Radford University is seeking a one-year non-tenure-track faculty member with an emphasis on law and legal studies, beginning in the Fall of 2024. Candidates with any legal specialty are welcome to apply. Candidates with additional expertise in Public Administration or political theory are particularly invited to apply. We seek a vibrant scholar who will add to the strengths in our department.

The faculty member will teach four classes per semester in consultation with the department chair based on student needs and departmental strategic priorities. This faculty member will mentor and advise students in the Legal Studies minor and coordinate with the Criminal Justice Department on the Mock Trial program. The new member of the Radford faculty will conduct scholarly research consistent with their field. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom instructors with an active research agenda.

Radford University is a comprehensive public university of over 7,700 students that has received national recognition for many of its undergraduate and graduate academic programs, as well as its sustainability initiatives. Radford University serves the Commonwealth of Virginia and the nation through a wide range of academic, cultural, human service and research programs. Well known for its strong faculty/student bonds, innovative use of technology in the learning environment and vibrant student life on a beautiful 211-acre American classical campus, Radford University offers students many opportunities to get involved and succeed in and out of the classroom. The University offers 76 bachelor's degree programs in 47 disciplines, and six certificates at the undergraduate level; 28 master's programs in 23 disciplines and six doctoral programs at the graduate level; and 17 post-baccalaureate certificates and one post-master's certificate. A Division I member of the NCAA and Big South Conference, Radford University competes in 16 men's and women's varsity athletics. With over 200 clubs and organizations, Radford University offers many opportunities for student engagement, leadership development and community service. In addition to robust academic offerings and engaging student experiences on the main campus located in Radford, Virginia, Radford University also offers a clinical-based educational experience for more than 1,100 students living and learning in Roanoke, Virginia as part of Radford University Carilion, a public-private partnership focused on the cutting-edge delivery of health sciences programming, outreach and service.

Candidates can apply at <https://jobs.radford.edu/postings/14219>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13316

Framingham State University

Rank: Full-time position (one year) in American Politics and Public Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science, Law, and Global Studies at Framingham State University invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure-track, full-time position in American politics and Public Law, beginning in the 2024-2025 academic year.

We are seeking candidates deeply committed to teaching in a liberal arts environment. Full-time faculty members at Framingham State teach three 4-credit courses per semester.

Duties include undergraduate teaching, research and scholarship, and service to the department and Framingham State University. The successful candidate will teach introductory and advanced courses in American government, constitutional and public law, and judicial politics to undergraduate prelaw students. Interest in teaching courses on racial and gender diversity in American politics and law, and/or the intersection of law and technology, is a plus. Responsibilities will also include serving as the prelaw advisor to students interested in applying to law school. The successful candidate will also demonstrate an active interest in mentoring and inspiring students who are traditionally underrepresented in the field of law and legal careers.

Requirements

Minimum Qualifications:

- J.D. or a Ph.D. in Political Science in a law-related field.
- ABD's will also be considered (PhD must be completed by August 31, 2024).
- Experience teaching relevant undergraduate courses.
- Experience with or a demonstrated willingness to participate in teaching, mentoring, research, or service activities that promote the growth of an equitable, diverse, and inclusive academic environment.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, or a related discipline.
- Experience teaching introductory and advanced-level courses in American politics and public law.

Additional Information

This is a full-time, exempt, benefits-eligible position in the Massachusetts State College Association (MSCA) bargaining unit at an open rank consistent with credentials and experience. Salary commensurate with experience per Appendix O of the MSCA contract (<http://mscaunion.org/day-and-dgce-contracts/>).

Framingham State University conducts criminal history and sexual offender record checks on recommended finalists prior to final employment for all positions.

Framingham State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Members of underrepresented groups, minorities, women, veterans, persons with disabilities, and all persons committed to diversity and inclusive excellence are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

Candidates must apply online by submitting:

- Cover letter addressing teaching philosophy and any areas of specialization/expertise,
- CV/Resume,
- Equity and inclusion statement*, and
- The names and contact information for three professional references (references are not automatically contacted at the time of application).

*An Equity and Inclusion Statement is a personal statement on a candidate's past efforts, as well as future plans, to enhance diversity, equity, and inclusion. Regardless of personal demographic characteristics, FSU has a commitment to hiring candidates who share our commitment to the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AAC&U) Inclusive Excellence Model. The equity and inclusion statement is an opportunity for candidates to discuss scholarship, professional skills, experience, and/or willingness to engage in activities that would enhance the university's efforts to promote a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Equity and inclusion statements will be considered as part of a transparent and comprehensive review of candidates' application materials.

Official transcripts must be submitted upon appointment.

Candidates must apply by May 15, 2024, for full consideration though the position will remain open until filled.

Specific inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Joseph Coelho, chairperson of the department at jcoelho2@framingham.edu

Framingham State University only accepts application materials through our online application system. We are unable to accept application materials through mail, email, fax, or hand delivery. If you experience technical issues with the online application process, please submit a helpdesk ticket.

Framingham State University understands that persons with specific disabilities may need assistance with the job application process and/or with the interview process. For confidential assistance, please contact the Human Resources Office at 508-626-4530 or humanresources@framingham.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/10/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13313

Florida International University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor (American Politics; Political Theory)

The Department of Politics and International Relations (PIR), in the Steven J. Green School of International & Public Affairs at Florida International University in Miami, FL, invites applications for a Teaching Assistant Professor (non-tenure track) position in American Politics and Political Theory, with a focus on online teaching and learning. Ability to teach online courses in American Politics and Political Theory (especially the introductory courses in these fields) is a must. A successful candidate will have significant experience with, and demonstrated effectiveness in, fully online teaching modalities. This faculty member will support online teaching in PIR and will assist the Director of Online Learning in this role. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline is required. The anticipated starting date is August 13, 2024.

The Department, situated in the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (<https://sipa.fiu.edu>), is home to more than 1,700 undergraduate majors, almost 100 graduate students, and 38 faculty (<https://pir.fiu.edu>). The university and the department value the diversity and inclusivity of our campus community and the curriculum. Faculty enjoy opportunities to work with colleagues in FIU's centers and institutes: the African and African Diaspora Studies program, the Center for the Administration of Justice, the Center for Women's and Gender Studies, the Cuban Research Institute, the Global Energy Security Forum, the Jack D. Gordon Institute for Public Policy and Citizenship Studies, the Jewish Studies Program, the Latin American and Caribbean Center, the Miami-Florida Jean Monnet European Studies Program, the Jaffer Center for Muslim World Studies, and more.

In September 2021, the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (Green School) received full membership in the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA). This prestigious organization includes the top 40 schools of international affairs in the world. The SIPA is among 25 in the US with this designation, 5th in the Southeastern United States, and the 1st and only in the State of Florida.

Florida International University is a top public university that drives real talent and innovation in Miami and globally. Very high research (R1) activity and high social mobility come together at FIU to uplift and accelerate learner success in a global city by focusing in the areas of environment, health, innovation, and justice. Today, FIU has two campuses and multiple centers. FIU serves a diverse student body of more than 56,000 and 290,000 Panther alumni. U.S. News and World Report places dozens of FIU programs among the best in the nation, including international business at No. 2. Washington Monthly Magazine ranks FIU among the top 20 public universities contributing to the public good.

Qualified candidates are encouraged to apply to Job Opening ID 531925 at <https://facultycareers.fiu.edu> and include the following as part of their application: (1) a curriculum vitae, (2) a cover letter, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a recent writing sample, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy and teaching interests, and (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates will be requested to provide names and contact information for at least three references who will be contacted as determined by the search committee. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

If you have any questions, please contact the Department of Politics and International Relations at pir@fiu.edu.

FIU is a member of the State University System of Florida and an Equal Opportunity, Equal Access Affirmative Action Employer all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13298

University of Houston

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor – American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor for the academic year Fall 2024-Spring 2025. We seek applicants who have research and teaching interests in American politics. Special consideration will be given to those whose research agendas will add to the department's existing strengths in this subfield and have potential for collaboration with a variety of current faculty. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate teaching. Review of applications will begin April 8 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence and cultural diversity in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003358. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation.

For further information please contact Professor Jeffrey Church, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at jchurch@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13269

Butler University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time renewable Lecturer in Political Science. Applicants should have a strong commitment to inclusive undergraduate teaching, and their expertise should complement the department's present strengths. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship focuses on politics in Central, East, or West Africa, Central, South, or Southeast Asia, Europe, or Russia, or among Asian Americans, Pacific Islanders, or Latinx/e/o people and equips them to offer Global and Historical Studies core curriculum courses (See <https://www.butler.edu/academics/core/components/global-historical-studies/>).

The successful candidate will teach three Global and Historical Studies course sections and one undergraduate political science course each semester and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 9, 2024, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field before August 1, 2024.

Applications

Applicants should submit the following at this link: <https://careers.butler.edu/en-us/job/494973/lecturer-in-political-science>

- a cover letter that highlights the applicant's teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive teaching and summarizes their research interests;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a statement of teaching philosophy,
- a sample syllabus; and
- a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information.

Writing samples or publications are welcome but not required.

Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive, evidence-based teaching including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2024, subject to final budgetary approval. Please contact Robin L. Turner for questions related to this position at rlturne1@butler.edu.

About Butler and the Political Science Department

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Our alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields. The Butler Political Science Department values its cultural, racial, ethnic, and gender diversity, and strongly encourages applications from historically marginalized groups. For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit our website at <https://www.butler.edu/arts-sciences/political-science/>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13244

Connecticut College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of American Environmental Politics and Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor of American Environmental Politics and Policy

The Environmental Studies Program and the Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a one-year joint position as a visiting assistant professor in Environmental Studies and the U.S. politics subfield, whose focus is on U.S. environmental politics and policy, and who can teach a range of courses on U.S. environmental politics, policy, law and institutions. In addition to an introductory US Politics and Government course and an introductory environmental studies course, the successful candidate must be able to teach three intermediate courses in some aspect of U.S. environmental politics and policy, one of which will be a senior seminar in the field of environmental politics and policy (for a total of five courses). These politics and policy courses could, for example, focus on environmental institutions, law and courts, public policy, environmental justice, or environmental policy history.

A PhD or ABD in political science, government, public policy environmental studies, or a closely related field is required. The projected start date is July 1, 2024.

As a joint appointment between the Environmental Studies Program and the Department of Government and International Relations, the successful candidate will have the opportunity to participate in the collegial work of both academic disciplines. There are also opportunities to become involved in the College's interdisciplinary environmental sustainability certificate program or the work of the Office of Sustainability.

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts (can be unofficial), and at least three letters of recommendation to <http://apply.interfolio.com/140887>

E-mail inquiries should be sent to Doug Thompson, Director of the Environmental Studies Program at dmtho@conncoll.edu. Applications should be submitted by March 6, 2024 for full consideration.

The teaching load for a full-time visitor is five courses per academic year. We value the contributions visitors bring to our community and encourage their active engagement with their departments and all aspects of campus life during the course of their appointment. Visiting faculty are initially participating members of the faculty and voting members in their second and subsequent years; their presence is welcome at all faculty meetings.

Connecticut College is a private, highly selective institution with a demonstrated commitment to outstanding faculty teaching and research. We recognize that intellectual vitality and diversity are inseparable. The College seeks creative scholars excited about working in a liberal arts setting, with its strong focus on engaged teaching, participation in shared governance, and active involvement in an institution-wide advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion. AA/EOE

Effective June 8, 2023 Connecticut College no longer mandates the COVID-19 vaccine or boosters. The College strongly recommends that all students and employees be vaccinated and remain updated with their COVID-19 boosters.

Currently, the College is not sponsoring visas for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 3/6/2024

Date Posted: 2/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13185

University of South Carolina

Rank: Fulltime Professional Track Instructor in American Politics

Full-Time Instructor in American Politics

University of South Carolina

Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a full-time instructor position in American Politics to begin August 16, 2024. We seek candidates who have experience teaching a wide range of classes in American Politics, including American National Government and other courses focused on the Founding Documents of the United States. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the start date of appointment.

From the Upstate to the Lowcountry, the University of South Carolina system is transforming the lives of South Carolinians through the impact of our eight institutions and 20 locations throughout the state. More than 50,000 students are enrolled at one of eight institutions, including the research campus in Columbia and comprehensive four-year universities in Aiken, Upstate and Beaufort. In addition, our Palmetto College campuses in Salkehatchie, Union, Lancaster, and Sumter enable students to earn associate or bachelor's degrees through a combination of in-person, online or blended learning. All of our system institutions place strong emphasis on service — helping to build healthier, more educated communities in South Carolina and beyond.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

How to Apply

Applicants must submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; two writing samples that demonstrate a significant ongoing research agenda; statements of research and teaching interests; graduate transcript; and contact information (including telephone number and email address) for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation (which must be submitted on appropriate letterhead). The position will remain open until filled, and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on March 15, 2024. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/163205>

Please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Darmofal (darmofal@mailbox.sc.edu) with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 2/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13155

University of South Carolina

Rank: Fulltime Professional Track Instructor in Public Law or American Politics

Full-Time Instructor in Public Law or American Politics
University of South Carolina
Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a full-time instructor position in Public

Law or American Politics to begin August 16, 2024. We seek candidates who have experience teaching a wide range of classes including Constitutional Law, Civil Liberties, Judicial Process, American National Government, and other courses focused on the Founding Documents of the United States. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the start date of appointment.

From the Upstate to the Lowcountry, the University of South Carolina system is transforming the lives of South Carolinians through the impact of our eight institutions and 20 locations throughout the state. More than 50,000 students are enrolled at one of eight institutions, including the research campus in Columbia and comprehensive four-year universities in Aiken, Upstate and Beaufort. In addition, our Palmetto College campuses in Salkehatchie, Union, Lancaster, and Sumter enable students to earn associate or bachelor's degrees through a combination of in-person, online or blended learning. All of our system institutions place strong emphasis on service — helping to build healthier, more educated communities in South Carolina and beyond.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

How to Apply

Applicants must submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; two writing samples that demonstrate a significant ongoing research agenda; statements of research and teaching interests; graduate transcript; and contact information (including telephone number and email address) for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation (which must be submitted on appropriate letterhead). The position will remain open until filled, and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on March 15, 2024. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/163210>

Please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Darmofal (darmofal@mailbox.sc.edu) with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 2/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13154

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Associate Professor

Specializations: American Politics, Electoral Behavior, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a full-time, tenured associate professor to begin in August 2024. The successful applicant will conduct research and teach in the area of American Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach and expand our current offerings in public opinion, elections, or public policy (e.g., health, social, and energy/environmental policy, or policy process theory).

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-division undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. Candidates should demonstrate a record of excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured professor. The faculty member may assist the department in efforts to recruit, advise, and engage students and develop and refine the department's curriculum.

To apply, applicants should go to <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/26907> and submit the following materials: a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a published writing sample (article or book chapter), a research statement, a teaching statement, and evidence of teaching ability (2-3 course evaluations and/or syllabi). Applicants should also provide the names and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Brent Boyea at boyea@uta.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 2/15/2024

Date Posted: 12/22/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13065

Rowan University

Rank: Open Rank Tenure/Track Faculty Position, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Open

The Department of Political Science & Economics at Rowan University invites applications for one or more tenure-track positions in Political Science beginning in Fall 2024. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and the politics of health equity broadly constructed. Areas of research interest may include but are not limited to: welfare or social policies that relate to health including housing policy, food insecurity, Medicare and/or Medicaid expansion, the politics of the ACA, reproductive rights, LGBTQ+ rights, and other gender issues associated with health, and equal access to healthcare. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory, advanced courses and graduate courses in American politics, methodology, and/or public policy.

A top 100 national public research institution, Rowan University offers bachelor's through doctoral and professional programs in person and online to 22,000 students through its main campus in Glassboro, N.J., its medical school campuses in Camden and Stratford, and five others. The University has earned national recognition for innovation, commitment to high-quality, affordable education, and developing public-private partnerships. A Carnegie-classified R2 (high research activity) institution, Rowan has been recognized as the fourth fastest-growing public research university, as reported by The Chronicle of Higher Education. For more information on Rowan University, click here.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants at the assistant professor level must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy (or related field) or ABD with a firm date of completion no later than July 1, 2024, a strong research agenda, and a commitment to quality teaching and active service. Associate or full professor applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy (or related field), a strong record of publications and external grant activity, and a commitment to quality teaching and active service.

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the position is filled. The first full review of applications will be on January 19, 2024. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <https://jobs.rowan.edu/en-us/job/499103/open-rank-tenure-track-faculty-position-political-science-department-of-political-science-and-economics>.

Applications must include a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and a teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.

All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12902

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer in American Politics

Full-Time Teaching Track Lecturer (Promotion Eligible) in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position in American Politics to begin Fall 2024. Lecturers at Georgia State are full-time faculty who are eligible for promotion to Senior Lecturer and Principal Lecturer.

Lecturers at Georgia State have both teaching and service requirements and are full members of the department's intellectual community and leadership team. In addition to helping the university achieve excellence in undergraduate and master's level education, Lecturers meet a broad array of vital service needs, such as coordinating our core courses, directing undergraduate programs, leading study abroad trips, coaching academic teams, and developing innovative experiential learning courses. Georgia State is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity, and the College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks (including Lecturers) in college-level program development.

GSU is an urban research university located in downtown Atlanta. Designated as a minority-serving institution, and the only comprehensive Predominantly Black Institution with a R1 Carnegie Research Classification in the nation, GSU has one of the most diverse study bodies in the country and is nationally recognized for its record in student success regardless of race, ethnicity, and income level. The Department of Political Science prides itself on serving this student body and advancing innovative teaching and research. More information about the department is available here: <https://politicalscience.gsu.edu>.

Required Qualifications:

- Ability to effectively teach Introduction to American Government, as well as other political science courses in the major of interest to the candidate, both online and in-person.
- Ability to deliver effective, high-impact instruction across all modalities.
- Interest in teaching and mentoring students from all backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning.
- A Ph.D. in hand, or with evidence that a Ph.D. will be awarded by Summer 2024, in Political Science or related field.

Preferred Qualifications:

- An interest in online educational innovation.

Applicants should send a letter of application that details how the essential and (if applicable) preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also provide a list of at least three professional references (name, title, email address and telephone number) who are willing to provide letters of reference. Please submit all materials electronically to polsearchap@gsu.edu.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or status as a protected veteran. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12790

Morningside University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: State Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Research Methods

Applications are invited for a tenure-track position in American Politics in the Department of Social Science with specialization in such areas as U.S. political institutions, public law, state and local politics, public policy, and/or research methods. The successful candidate will bring a quantitative approach that complements the department's commitment to methodological diversity and innovative approaches to teaching and research. Teaching responsibilities may include Introduction to U.S. Government, U.S. Law, US Constitution, State and Local Government, Research Methods in Political Science, Congress & Presidency, courses in general education (including a course in introductory statistics and first-year writing), and other courses in the applicant's area(s) of expertise. Ideal candidates will have an active scholarly agenda that may include collaborating with students.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related discipline; ABD will be considered. This position is a nine-month appointment beginning August 12, 2024. The teaching load is 20 credits per academic year plus a May term course once every three years.

Morningside, a private university located in Sioux City, Iowa, is admired for both its rich, connected campus community and exceptional active learning experiences. Established in 1894, the university has been led by its 13th president Dr. Albert Mosley since 2022 and is nestled within a serene 69-acre park-like campus in the heart of Iowa's fourth largest city. Morningside also offers academic environments at its 77-acre learning farm and at the Sioux Gateway Airport for its School of Aviation. The institution serves a community of approximately 2,300 students from almost all 50 states and more than 30 countries.

As a testament to its learning outcomes, more than 80% of undergraduate students have engaged in an internship, externship, student teaching, or preceptorship upon graduation, and for more than a decade 99% of students have gone on to a job or graduate school in their field of study within six months of graduation.

Residential undergraduate students can expect a tranquil and secure campus environment, propelling personal and professional growth. Student life includes around 50 student-led clubs and organizations, a wide array of visual and performing arts opportunities, and 28 varsity sports that regularly receive conference and national recognition. Morningside is also proud to serve as a regional resource for the Siouxland area, offering a variety of on-campus events and activities for students, alumni, and the community at large. Learn more at morningside.edu.

Review of applications for the position will begin immediately and will continue until filled. For fullest consideration, applicant materials should be received by Oct 31, 2023. Candidates for searches must have current authorization to be employed in the U.S. without employer sponsorship. Successful completion of a background check and education verification are required. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, sex, religion, creed, race, color, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, genetic information, national origin, or other characteristics protected by state and federal law. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact the Director of Human Resources at welp@morningside.edu. Apply on-line only by submitting an email to facultysearch@morningside.edu entering Political Science Search in the subject line and attaching a PDF or Microsoft Word files for the following documents: A cover letter, current curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, a brief statement of research interests, and three letters of recommendation. If the letters of recommendation are not included in the application, they must be submitted electronically to the "facultysearch" email address provided above. Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Brian McFarland, mcfarlandb@morningside.edu.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/4/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12663

University of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics (Judicial)

The Department of Political Science at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor in American Politics (Judicial) to begin August 16, 2024. The Department is open to all fields of specialization, including but not limited to the carceral state, citizenship and immigration, digital technology, and more generally on judicial decision-making and the evolution of civil and criminal law in the United States.

The Department seeks to hire faculty broadly engaged in research that is field-bridging, adding to our Department's long tradition of intellectual diversity and pluralism in keeping with the themes of our recent cluster hires. While we are open to fields of study, we are particularly interested in candidates who combine rigorous and original scholarship and evidence of grant activity.

Successful applicants are expected to teach two courses per fall and two courses per spring semester, with a mix of introductory and advanced undergraduate courses and graduate seminars. Of particular interest are course offerings on the courts, constitutional law, or the judicial process at the upper division undergraduate and graduate levels. The ability to develop experiential learning opportunities for undergraduates and excel in mentoring undergraduate research in the Department's Honors and Junior Fellows programs is a plus.

More information about the Department of Political Science can be found at: <http://www.polisci.ufl.edu>.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked the Number 1 public university in the United States by Wall Street Journal in its "2024 Best Colleges in the U.S." report. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville). The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF's large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12574

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Politics (American Politics)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in American politics, to begin in the fall of 2024. We are interested in a candidate with a range of interests, including but not limited to public opinion, ideology, political parties, elections, and the presidency. The successful candidate could also play an important advisory role for our Washington, D.C. internship programs. The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, and institutional perspectives. Situated on a large and beautiful campus, Catholic University is only three metro stops from the Capitol. Politics is one of the largest majors on campus, attracting many students who value the community of a Catholic university while pursuing careers related to politics and law in the nation's capital. The department's Ph.D program has a long and distinguished history, and the development of professionally minded M.A. programs is a university priority.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12478

Catholic University of America

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Political Theory

Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a clinical (non-tenure track, two-year renewable contract) faculty appointment, to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should have expertise in public policy (American and/or comparative, as well as familiarity with the principles of Catholic social teaching).

The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, ethical and institutional perspectives. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to teach both undergraduates and graduates, including students in a new MA in Public Policy program currently under development.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12475

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Assistant Professor – American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a tenure-stream position at the level of Assistant Professor of American Politics, with a focus on partisanship, polarization, representation, and challenges to democracy. We are particularly interested in candidates working in areas including (but not limited to) group identity and bias, media consumption, public-elite interactions, and policy responsiveness. Preferred candidates would also complement the Department's current strengths, which include state politics, identity politics, structural racism, and community-engaged research. In addition, while it is not required for this position, we also value the ability of an applicant to augment the Department's and the University of Pittsburgh's training and reputation in computational social science and methodology. Applicants are required to have or expect to have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field before the appointment begins. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and a minimum of three letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by September 22, 2023, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and a minimum of three letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets. The University of Pittsburgh requires all Pitt constituents (employees and students) on all campuses to be vaccinated against COVID-19 or have an approved exemption. Visit coronavirus.pitt.edu to learn more about this requirement.

Applicants should be submitted at the following site:

https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=23006664&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York

The political science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is nek89@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/23/2023

Date Posted: 8/29/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12396

Salem State University

Rank: Faculty - Public Policy - Full Time, Temporary

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Housing, American Politics

The politics, policy and international relations department at Salem State University invites a full-time, temporary faculty position for the 2024-2025 academic year. We are seeking a public policy specialist with familiarity with policies in an urban context such as housing, education, transportation, policing, poverty, and/or immigration. This position is part of a Salem State initiative to help establish and advance our proposed North Shore Policy Lab and may be reappointed for up to two additional years subject to available funding. With continued growth of the program, there may be additional tenure track lines in the department.

Housed in the department's Bates Center for Public and Global Affairs, the North Shore Policy Lab will involve students in research conducted on behalf of local and state government and non-governmental organizations in order to prepare them for jobs in the public, non-profit and/or private sectors.

The candidate should be well-versed in both quantitative and qualitative research methods and be able to teach our current Research Methods course as well as a new, advanced multi-methods class that will serve as the foundation for student work on applied policy research projects as a part of the policy lab. The ideal candidate will have a demonstrated record of community-based research and community partnerships with a focus on equity issues in the context of urban areas like those served by Salem State.

Salem State University is committed to excellence in teaching. We pride ourselves in providing first-rate classroom experiences and supervising intensive learning opportunities such as research and internships. Many of our students are first generation, racial/ethnic minorities, veterans, and adult learners. Salem State University is located in the Greater Boston area in the historic city of Salem, Massachusetts. The Greater Boston region is famous for its world-class education, healthcare, and business enterprises and the area offers numerous opportunities for professional and personal enrichment.

Duties and Responsibilities

Candidates are required to perform duties in accordance with the MSCA contract. Duties include teaching, advising, scholarship and contributions to continuously improve the department and university. The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester. The position is subject to available funding.

Required Qualifications:

Earned PhD in public policy or a related field from an accredited institution (ABD considered if degree will be conferred by September 2024)

Advising and/or mentoring experience

Preferred Qualifications:

Commitment to anti-racist, culturally responsive teaching
 Demonstrated expertise in community-based research
 Active publication record and/or exemplary scholarly potential (e.g., ABD candidates with strong pipeline of research)
 Prior applied experience in non-profit or public sector settings
 Demonstrated excellence in teaching

As an emerging Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), Salem State University seeks to enrich the faculty/librarian ranks by actively encouraging candidates whose lived and scholarly experiences directly address issues regarding the health, welfare, and representation of Latinx populations in the United States. Candidates who meet this strongly desired qualification should present documented activities in Latinx-related teaching, scholarship/research, and service, including community-based endeavors in each of these three areas.

Working Conditions:

This is an on-site, in-person position.

Salem State University complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) to provide reasonable accommodation to qualified applicants and employees with disabilities. For accommodation information or requests please email eo-hr@salemstate.edu.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Please apply online and attach curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching philosophy, and a diversity statement (please read our institutional diversity statement and describe how you would contribute to our mission in your teaching, research, mentoring/advising, and service).

The online portal can be found at: <https://internal-salemstate.icims.com/jobs/2894/faculty%2c-political-science-%28public-policy%29%2c-full-time%2c-temporary%2c-fall-2024/job>

Employment is contingent upon a completed background and CORI check satisfactory to the university.

This position is not eligible for H1B visa sponsorship.

Please Note: If there is no application deadline associated with a position, it may be removed at any time and additional applications will not be accepted.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12351

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: American Politics, Political Economy, International Law & Organizations

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2024. The successful applicant will be expected to teach courses in their substantive area of expertise in political science.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129113>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12216

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Quantitative Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, American Politics

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Quantitative Political Science at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with substantive expertise in American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, International Relations, or the intersection of these fields, beginning July 1, 2024. This is not a position solely in quantitative methodology; we instead seek a scholar who would be comfortable teaching courses in quantitative research methods and who applies methods of quantitative political science to applied questions in their area of expertise.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129106>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/31/2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12215

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101:

Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government.

A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University

<https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog->

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations.

Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024

(to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee

Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 4/30/2024

Date Posted: 4/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8844

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Native American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

James Madison College at Michigan State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Theory and Constitutional Democracy (PTCD). James Madison College engages undergraduates in a liberal arts education in public affairs in a residential college setting within a broader research-intensive university. The Political Theory and Constitutional Democracy major is an interdisciplinary field of public affairs. It focuses on liberal constitutional democracy (its origins, practice, critics, and defenders) from the perspective of political philosophy.

We seek a teacher-scholar broadly trained in the history of political theory that supports curriculum in Black political thought (American and comparative), as well as radical perspectives on modern constitutional democracy. Areas of research and teaching focus include African-American politics, comparative Black political thought, and radical political theory. In addition to these requirements, preferred areas of interest include: colonialism studies, Native-American studies, Indigenous studies, American constitutional politics, or modern political theory. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach elective courses cross-listed between PTCD and Social Relations and Policy majors.

Successful candidates will have demonstrated ability to teach core courses in the history of political thought combining serious study of canonical texts as well as authors/voices from outside the canon, with a view to the present and future of constitutional democracy. Applicants should also be able to contribute to the broader interdisciplinary curriculum of the major and the college, including the first-year sequence. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain an active scholarly agenda in their respective field(s). The College is especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their teaching, research and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

For more information, please see the college website: <https://jmc.msu.edu> and the full position description at <https://careers.msu.edu>.

Ph.D. in a related field is required by August 16th, 2025.

Applications must be submitted electronically to the Michigan State University Human Resources web site: <https://careers.msu.edu>. Please see posting number 955409 for complete instructions on how to apply. Review of applications will begin on September 20th, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Katie Dyjach (dyjachk@msu.edu) with any questions.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Michigan State University occupies the ancestral, traditional, and contemporary Lands of the Anishinaabeg-Three Fires Confederacy of Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi peoples. The University resides on Land ceded in the 1819 Treaty of Saginaw.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14388

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Science in Any Subfields

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Science in Any Subfields

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the "FPSE") at Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in any of the following subfields of political science: Japanese Politics, Political Economy, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Formal and Quantitative Methods. We seek candidates who advance theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. Candidates should have strong methodological training and be able to advise graduate students on both substantive and methodological issues.

The primary teaching responsibility of this position is "Introduction to Political Analysis," one of the foundational courses offered at the FPSE, which is required for all the first-year undergraduate students majoring in political science, economics, or global political economy. This course introduces the most important questions in politics and how political scientists use analytical and scientific methods to answer those questions. In addition, the successful candidate will teach other undergraduate and graduate-level seminars. Applicants must have the ability to teach fluently both in Japanese and English.

The position will begin as early as April 1, 2025.

For more details and instructions for application, please go to the website at https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/assets/uploads/2024/05/RecruitmentInfo_PoliSci24_ENG.pdf

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 9/3/2024

Date Posted: 5/30/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14381

University College Dublin

Rank: ERC Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

A senior post-PhD ERC research fellow with training in political and social science is being recruited to join an ERC-funded project at UCD's School of Politics and international Relations: Democracy Challenged. You will be tasked with supporting the quantitative and experimental survey aspects of the project. You will work directly with the Principal Investigator/research team on the work package that analyses the relationship between the media, democracy and inequality. More specifically, you will support the PI in implementing cross-national survey experiments on public opinion, democracy and inequality in the USA, UK, France and Germany.

You can read more details about the Democracy Challenged project here: <https://cordis.europa.eu/project/id/101125672> (opens in a new window)

To apply, please go to: https://my.corehr.com/pls/coreportal_ucdp/apply?id=017343 (opens in a new window)

Applications due by Thursday, 27th June 2024, at 12pm.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 6/27/2024

Date Posted: 5/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14375

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: Western Europe, Post Communist Europe, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor to begin August 2024. Candidates should have research and teaching interests in European politics (region open) and the ability to offer introductory and intermediate courses in comparative politics and international relations.

Successful applicants should have a record of effective classroom teaching and must have their Ph.D. in political science or be ABD near completion by the time of appointment. The teaching load is seven courses over the 2024-2025 academic year.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/146717>) Review of applications will begin immediately.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States and one of four liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14363

University of Toronto

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Area of Research: Chinese Politics or Chinese Political Economy

Description of Duties: To conduct research related to Chinese politics and/or political economy. To take charge of research projects, including leading a team of student researchers. Opportunities for collaboration with supervisor. Possible areas of specialization: conflict studies, governance, state-business relations, public opinion.

Salary: $65,000 per year, plus standard benefits

Closing Date: Review of applications will commence on June 30, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. All applicants who apply will be advised by email of the outcome of their application within 10 days of the acceptance of the position by the successful applicant.

Supervisor: Professor Lynette Ong

Expected Start Date: September 1, 2024

Required Qualifications: Candidates must have a PhD, with a strong background in quantitative methods. Knowledge of Chinese politics, and proficiency in Mandarin Chinese are also required.

Application Instructions: All individuals interested in the position must submit the following documents by the closing date to Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca using the subject line "Post-doc – [Your Name]":

- a. A cover letter outlining how you meet the qualifications for the position
- b. Your academic CV
- c. A research sample that showcases your research ability (e.g., a dissertation chapter, a conference paper, or a published article)
- d. The names and contact information for THREE academic referees (Your referees will only be contacted once you've advanced to the interview round)

Term: 1 year with a renewal opportunity for a second year

FTE: This is a full-time position. The normal hours of work are 40 hours per week for a full-time postdoctoral fellow, recognizing that the needs of the employee's research and training and the needs of the supervisor's research program may require flexibility in the performance of the employee's duties and hours of work.

If you have any questions about this opportunity, please connect with Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca

Employment as a Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Toronto is covered by the terms of the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

This job is posted in accordance with the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons, persons of colour, women, Indigenous Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14361

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2024-2025 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF06488>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 5, 2024, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14360

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

We invite applications for a postdoctoral research position in migration with strong data analysis and management skills to work on a multi-year project on "Collective Shocks and Social Preferences" led by Professors James Walsh and Alexander Kustov in collaboration with Professors Michael Ewers and Beth Whitaker, and hosted by the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

The project aims to examine how people's social preferences such as altruism and trust can be affected by negative collective shocks such as wars, natural disasters, or economist disruptions. To address this question, the project aims to create a comprehensive cross-national time-series dataset on various shocks and preferences at the subnational level.

The postdoc would directly support expanding this research agenda by collecting data and investigating how negative collective shocks influence migration and how migration shocks influence social preferences.

The postdoctoral position is a full-time research-focused role to lead the construction of the migration dataset for the project. The role includes:

? Leading the efforts to construct the original dataset, including cross-national surveys on migration preferences and administrative data on migration flows.

? Supporting the new Center for Migration and Diaspora Studies.

? Dedicating time to personal research as part of the position.
 ? Conducting and publishing high-quality research and preparing grant proposals in close collaboration with and under the guidance of project leaders.
 ? Participating in the broader intellectual life of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Department of Earth, Environmental and Geographical Sciences, and the interdisciplinary Public Policy and Data Science programs.

The Postdoctoral appointee must have recently (within the last eight years) been awarded a Ph.D. or equivalent doctorate (e.g., Sc.D., M.D.)

Strong research interest in migration and skills in quantitative data analysis in R are required. Preference is given to applicants with demonstrated skills in one or more of the following areas: data management, survey methodology, multilevel regression, causal inference, machine learning, geospatial analysis.

Preference is also given to applicants with research interests in one or more of the following areas related to the project: conflict and cooperation, political economy, political psychology, state capacity, social preferences.

Strong research interest in migration and skills in quantitative data analysis in R are required.

Preference is given to applicants with demonstrated skills in one or more of the following areas: data management, survey methodology, multilevel regression, causal inference, machine learning, geospatial analysis.

Preference is also given to applicants with research interests in one or more of the following areas related to the project: conflict and cooperation, political economy, political psychology, state capacity, social preferences.

Screening of applicants will begin on June 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. The position is renewable for another year based on performance.

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://jobs.charlotte.edu/postings/56400>.

Please upload the following documents with your electronic submission:

1) curriculum vitae (this should include contact information for two references); 2) cover letter (this should describe your motivation, relevant research interests and qualifications); 3) short writing sample (this should include an original piece of research most relevant to the position).

The candidate chosen for this position will be required to provide an official transcript of their highest earned degree.

The candidate chosen for this position will be subject to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14356

Rice University

Rank: Lecturer in Political Science

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure track Lecturer position. The start date of the position is July 1, 2024. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2024.

Lecturers are expected to teach undergraduate courses, be available to meet with students during office hours, and contribute to a positive department culture. The teaching load is 3-3 and the initial contract is for two years. Applicants should be prepared to teach courses in applied research methods plus courses in one or more of these substantive areas—comparative politics, international relations, American politics, or social policy analysis. Successful candidates will be committed and skilled teachers who seek to meet the highest standards of pedagogy.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is May 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a teaching statement that addresses teaching experience and approach and discusses issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion; graduate school transcripts; one or more course syllabi; evidence of quality of past teaching; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at apply.interfolio.com/145557.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14347

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Visiting Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a 1-year visiting position in Comparative Politics or International Relations beginning July 1, 2024. This is a non-tenure-track appointment with a teaching load of 6 courses per year (2-3-1). The school calendar consists of two 13-week terms (fall and winter) and our unique 4-week spring term.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory course in Global Politics, 2 sections of introduction to statistics, and upper level courses related to the candidate's field of expertise. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is highly desirable.

Washington and Lee is a top-ranked, highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,860 undergraduates and 380 law students.

A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

Submit all application materials electronically using Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/145303>.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Your letter of application should explain why you wish to teach in a liberal arts setting and how your training and research/teaching interests align with this position. Include a curriculum vitae, graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation that speak to your teaching and research abilities.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Washington and Lee is an Equal Opportunity Employer. As such, we are interested in candidates who are committed to high standards of scholarship, performance and professionalism and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity in our faculty, staff and student body. Job description requirements are representative, but not all-inclusive of the knowledge, skill, and abilities needed to successfully perform this job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable qualified individuals with disabilities to perform essential functions.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14342

SOAS University of London

Rank: Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Politics and/or International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Job title: Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Politics and/or International Relations X2

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 & Grade 9 - £60,239 - £69,132 p/a incl. London Allowance

Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Near and Middle East. SOAS University of London is positioned to play a leading role in reimagining higher education globally, with a new strategic plan in place as the basis for the renewal and revitalisation of the School which commits SOAS to both student responsiveness and research intensity. SOAS is moving towards a new model of international partnerships which is responsive to the transnational character of our global challenges

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading, research-led department, ranked 5th in the UK and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The Department is known for its combination of both academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on the politics and international relations of the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East).

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for two Lecturer / Senior (T&R) Lecturer positions in Politics and/or International Relations starting in the Autumn of 2024.

The role holder will be expected to contribute to—and shape—the Department's research profile as well as the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Apart from the publication of outstanding academic research, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise both undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations, supervise PhD theses (pending completion of a probationary period), and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

Within the discipline of Politics and International Relations, the search is open as to disciplinary subfield and research specialism. Regional expertise is valued, and some experience running both on-campus and online modules, including Executive Education modules, will be beneficial.

Further information on key criteria for the role can be found in the Job Description and the Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities.

How to Apply: Please kindly visit the link below to submit an application.

<https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/job/540482&t#160>;

Closing date: 15th June 2024

Interviews: TBC

For more information on the role, including a full list of its duties and responsibilities please consult the Job Description and Person Specification found in the job pack attached.

For informal inquiries please contact the Head of Department, Professor Matthew J. Nelson, at mn6@soas.ac.uk.

Further information:

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact hr-recruitment@soas.ac.uk 'Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006' for the duration of their contract. SOAS will support visa applications for this role where possible.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

Start Date: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 6/15/2024
Date Posted: 4/12/2024
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 13319

University College Dublin

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

University College Dublin is currently recruiting a post-doctoral researcher to implement natural language processing (NLP) tools to analyse interview data.

Fixed term contract for 2 years with a proposed start date of 1 September 2024. Application deadline: 13 May, 12:00 noon (Irish time).

The postdoc will work with the Principal Investigator, Dr Stephanie Dornschneider-Elkink, to deliver the research objectives of an Irish Research Council-funded project. The project combines quantitative text analysis/NLP with cognitive mapping (Axelrod 1976) to examine interviews with participants in Muslim resistance movements.

You will support the development and subsequent publication of new tools to convert text into cognitive maps. Tasks will include but are not limited to POS-tagging, sequence analysis, word embeddings, and visualization. You will have the chance to give substantial input to the analysis and to co-author papers with the PI.

Knowledge of Arabic is not necessary, but a plus. Strong knowledge of R and/or Python is essential. One aim of the work package is to develop new R packages for the translation of natural language into cognitive maps.

More information: https://my.corehr.com/pls/coreportal_ucdp/apply?id=017201

Start Date: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 5/13/2024
Date Posted: 4/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 13310

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Adjunct Professor, Notre Dame Washington Program
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The University of Notre Dame's Washington Program seeks an adjunct professor to teach one class in Washington D.C. in Fall 2024 and Spring 2025.

The course should be in comparative politics or international relations fields in political science, policy, economics, or other related disciplines. The ideal candidate will be able to offer a course that takes advantage of the unique opportunity for students to learn in our nation's capital.

The course will be taught in person one night per week (preferably Monday) from 6:30 pm to 9:30 pm, for 14 sessions per semester. Enrollment in the course may range from 10-15 students. The position may be renewable.

The pay is $8,500 per class per semester.

Applicants should hold a PhD, or be nearly finished with their degree, in Political Science or a related discipline, or should have sufficient professional experience and accomplishment in related fields to offer a rigorous course as a practitioner.

Applications should include a letter of interest, a CV or resume, and a one page outline of course you would be prepared to teach highlighting the basic structure and content, a full syllabus is not necessary at this time.

Apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/143946>

Start Date: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 5/15/2024
Date Posted: 4/3/2024
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 13295

American University of Sharjah

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate
Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Open
Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Behavior, Middle East

The Department of International Studies at the American University of Sharjah (AUS), United Arab Emirates, is seeking a highly motivated and enthusiastic Postdoctoral Associate to work with Dr. Bethany Shockley and her US-based collaborator, Dr. Yuree Noh on an experimental study of egalitarianism in the UAE and Tunisia. The anticipated appointment is expected to start on September 1, 2024 and end on May 30, 2025.

The ideal candidate will play an integral role in supporting the collection and analysis of experimental data on the opinions of nationals and non-national residents in the UAE. Specifically, the individual will work with the AUS-based team of graduate and undergraduate assistants to conduct lab and survey experiments under the direction of Dr. Bethany Shockley and Dr. Yuree Noh. It is expected that the postdoctoral scholar will join the team in actively publishing research findings and presenting research.

Qualifications and Skills Required:

The applicant needs to have obtained a PhD in political science or related fields such as economics, psychology, or sociology with research experience. The successful applicant will have excellent quantitative methods skills with an emphasis on lab and/or survey experiments. The position is open to applicants with topical knowledge in areas such as public opinion, populism, migration studies, gender & politics, authoritarianism, and state-society relations. Prior experience in the Arab Gulf region and knowledge of Arabic will also be considered favorably but are not required.

This position is based in Sharjah, UAE, and the selected candidate must be willing to relocate. Sharjah is a diverse and multicultural city, only 25 minutes from Dubai. The terms of employment are competitive. Applications will be reviewed immediately, and candidates will be considered until the position is filled. You are welcome to contact Dr. Bethany Shockley bshockley@aus.edu or Dr. Yuree Noh yuree.noh@gmail.com at with any questions about the position.

The application is to include the following:

- A curriculum vitae with a full publication list.
- A cover letter with a statement of research interests, a writing sample and 2 letters of references.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.aus.edu/employment/postdoctoral-research-assistant-college-of-arts-and-sciences>

AUS is an equal opportunity employer. We adhere to a policy of making employment decisions without regard to race, color, age, gender, religion, national origin, disability or marital status. Opportunities for employment are based solely upon one's qualifications.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13294

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Instructor or Assistant Professor

Specializations: Russia, Middle East, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time visiting position in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor, to begin August 2024. The successful candidate will be able to teach an introductory course in international relations and upper-level courses relating to the candidate's interests. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach courses that relate to Russian and Eurasian Politics, Middle Eastern Politics, or Environmental Politics.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science or a related field preferred, but candidates who are ABD will also be considered.

About the Department

For more information about the department, visit <https://wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/>

How to Apply

(Submit materials through this portal: https://fa-ewur-saasafprod1.fas.ocs.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX_3/job/581)

A complete application includes:

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Evidence of teaching excellence
4. The contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to the Department Chair, Douglas Casson, at casson@stolaf.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13252

Butler University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time renewable Lecturer in Political Science. Applicants should have a strong commitment to inclusive undergraduate teaching, and their expertise should complement the department's present strengths. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship focuses on politics in Central, East, or West Africa, Central, South, or Southeast Asia, Europe, or Russia, or among Asian Americans, Pacific Islanders, or Latinx/e/o people and equips them to offer Global and Historical Studies core curriculum courses (See <https://www.butler.edu/academics/core/components/global-historical-studies/>).

The successful candidate will teach three Global and Historical Studies course sections and one undergraduate political science course each semester and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 9, 2024, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field before August 1, 2024.

Applications

Applicants should submit the following at this link: <https://careers.butler.edu/en-us/job/494973/lecturer-in-political-science>

- a cover letter that highlights the applicant's teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive teaching and summarizes their research interests;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a statement of teaching philosophy,
- a sample syllabus; and
- a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information. Writing samples or publications are welcome but not required.

Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive, evidence-based teaching including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2024, subject to final budgetary approval. Please contact Robin L. Turner for questions related to this position at rturne1@butler.edu.

About Butler and the Political Science Department

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Our alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields. The Butler Political Science Department values its cultural, racial, ethnic, and gender diversity, and strongly encourages applications from historically marginalized groups. For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit our website at <https://www.butler.edu/arts-sciences/political-science/>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13244

Morehouse College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: Africa, Developing Nations, Social Movements

The Department of Political Science at Morehouse College invites applications for a visiting assistant professor. Candidates should specialize in comparative politics with a regional focus on Africa. A successful applicant will be able to teach courses in comparative politics, African politics, and the politics of developing countries. Applicants who can demonstrate a versatile teaching profile – an ability to teach across subfields – will be preferred. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach a first-year experience (FYE) course on protest and politics for our general education program. The candidate is also expected to maintain an appropriate level of scholarly activity/research and service for Visiting Professor status.

We are looking for someone who thinks creatively about their teaching, engages in scholarship, and can be committed to the mission of Morehouse College—to develop men with disciplined minds who lead lives of leadership and service by emphasizing the intellectual and character development of its students and by assuming a special responsibility for teaching the history and culture of black people.

The Political Science department offers a broad range of courses, including majors in Urban Studies and International Relations. Applicants should have experience teaching Political Science concepts to a diverse group of students including non-majors.

This appointment is for one academic year. The start date is August 1, 2024.

The teaching load for this position is 7 courses per year (or 21 credit hour teaching load). Specific course assignments and scheduling for each faculty member is determined in consultation with the Department Chair and Division Dean. Candidates who apply are asked to identify their strengths and experiences in assisting Black men and men of color from diverse cultural and socio-economic backgrounds to accomplish curricular goals.

The review of applications will begin on April 1, 2024

Use the following link to apply: <https://morehouse.peopleadmin.com/postings/9307>

Applicants should provide the following documents:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Statement of Teaching Philosophy
- Statement of Research Agenda
- Statement identifying strengths, experiences, and philosophical approach in assisting Black men and men of color from diverse cultural and socio-economic backgrounds to accomplish academic goals
- Contact information for (or letters from) three (3) professional references

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13231

New School for Social Research

Rank: Professor, Comparative Politics (one semester, fixed-term)

PRIORITY APPLICATION DEADLINE: April 1, 2024

To apply, visit this link: <https://shorturl.at/nzIS1>

The Department of Politics at The New School seeks applicants for a one-semester professorship in comparative politics. The Professor will offer two courses during the spring 2025 semester (which runs January 21-May 14, 2025). While research and teaching can cover any themes or regions, the department prefers applicants with a demonstrated record of university teaching experience.

The Department of Politics specializes in critical, historical, grounded, and interdisciplinary approaches to the study of politics. Faculty and students bring the leading edge of scholarly debate and analysis into conversation with pressing issues of our time. We engage in political and intellectual life at the university, in New York City, and as a part of extensive global research networks. The Department offers Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and PhD degrees.

The New School is strongly committed to diversity and inclusion in the workplace and particularly seeks applications from members of underrepresented groups, as well as candidates who share this commitment.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The term Professor will be expected to teach two courses (likely one graduate seminar and one undergraduate seminar) in spring 2025. In addition to holding regular office hours, the Faculty will be expected to take part in the curricular and intellectual life of the department, by giving one research presentation, sitting on a field examination committee, and attending department events.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

The selection among eligible candidates will be based on:

A PhD in Political Science or cognate discipline or program

Evidence of progress toward research publications

Evidence of instructional experience (teaching assistant, instructor)

WORK MODALITY

On-Campus Position: Faculty are expected to work on-campus due to the nature of the work in accordance with the University policies as set forth in the Full-Time Faculty Handbook.

SALARY RANGE

$50,000 - $55,000

SPECIAL INSTRUCTION TO APPLICANTS

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates should submit:

Cover letter outlining research and teaching interests and relevant experience

Curriculum Vitae

Names and contact information of three references

Applicants may be contacted at the discretion of the department faculty for additional materials.

For information on the University benefits package including health and retirement plans, please visit <http://www.newschool.edu/human-resources/benefits/>.

To apply, please visit this link: <https://shorturl.at/nzIS1>

We look forward to receiving your application!

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13222

Valparaiso University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Valparaiso University invites applications for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor, in the Department of Political Science and International Relations (<https://www.valpo.edu/political-science>). Valparaiso University ("Valpo"), a community of learning grounded in the Lutheran tradition of scholarship, freedom, and faith, prepares students to lead and serve both church and society. Located one hour southeast of Chicago on a 310-acre campus, Valpo is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of just under 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students. Valpo is consistently recognized as one of the best private universities in the Midwest and is located in Valparaiso Indiana, a county seat of 35,000 residents with high quality schools and an active social community.

The successful candidate will teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations with a 24-credit teaching load over two semesters. The successful candidate will be required to teach an introductory course in undergraduate Research Methods and a course on the Politics of Developing States. The ability to offer additional courses in regional studies—especially Latin America, East Asia, or Industrialized States—and courses in Public Policy and/or Public Administration will also be beneficial. Teaching responsibilities may also include teaching in our interdisciplinary seminar for first-year students. This position is currently approved for one year, beginning August 2024.

Candidate should have a Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations by the position start date, but we will consider ABD applicants who will have completed all degree requirements prior to the start date. The ideal candidate will specialize in Comparative Politics with International Relations as a secondary field. Please direct inquiries about this position to Dr. James Old, Chair, at James.Old@valpo.edu.

As a campus with an increasingly diverse student body, we encourage applications from individuals with a commitment to mentoring students from underrepresented communities. Please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of recommendation to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/141703>. In your cover letter, please include brief statements of (a) how you might contribute to the university's distinctive mission, and (b) what experiences you have had that will enable you to mentor a diverse student body. Candidates who submit references should expect that the search committee will contact these references, in confidence, and that credentials will be confirmed prior to hire. Employment will require a satisfactory criminal background check. Applications will be considered until the position is filled; however, applicants are encouraged to apply by April 1, 2024 for timely consideration.

Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support its diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at <http://www.valpo.edu/general-counsel/policies/equal-opportunity-policy>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13216

George Washington University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

The George Washington University Political Science Department is seeking an exceptional candidate for a full-time, academic research position at the rank of postdoctoral associate. The term of this position is two years beginning in September 2024. The researcher will work on topics broadly related to international cooperation on emerging technologies, using social scientific methods. Substantive interest in China's international engagement with safety and security issues linked to hazardous technologies is especially welcome.

The postdoctoral associate will work closely with Assistant Professor Jeffrey Ding. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to all parts of the research process, including design, implementation, manuscript preparation, and presentation of results.

The postdoctoral associate will also have the opportunity to affiliate with George Washington University's Institute of Security and Conflict Studies (ISCS) and present work at research-in-progress seminars at the ISCS, which has a vibrant community of predoctoral fellows, visiting scholars, and PhDs in residence.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/109125>. A complete application package will include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interest, samples of written work, and names and contact information of three professional references. Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Please direct all questions to Prof. Jeffrey Ding at jeffreyding@gwu.edu.

Qualified candidates will hold a Doctoral degree or comparable doctoral degree in a related discipline. Degree must be conferred by the start date of the position.

Minimum Qualifications: Qualified candidates will hold a Doctoral degree. Degree must be conferred by the start date of the position.
Preferred Qualifications:

Desired Qualifications:

PhD in fields including political science, international relations, area studies, safety sciences, or other related fields

Proficiency in Mandarin Chinese or demonstrated expertise on China

Strong communication skills

The ability to work in a highly collaborative and interdisciplinary environment

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13204

George Washington University

Rank: Professor and Director, M.A. Program in International Affairs

The George Washington University's Elliott School of International Affairs invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-accruing, faculty position to serve as Director of the school's M.A. program in International Affairs. We invite applications from individuals who have substantial academic or professional experience in International Affairs. The successful candidate will be appointed as the John O. Rankin Professor of International Affairs (or Associate Professor) or the John O. Rankin Professor of Practice of International Affairs (or Associate Professor), depending on qualifications. This appointment will begin in academic year 2024-25 for an initial term of three years, and may be renewed thereafter on a term basis. Salary is commensurate with experience, and will reflect a nine-month academic year appointment, leaving summers for individual research. The successful candidate will be expected to carry out occasional duties during the summer months, as needed, to ensure the effectiveness and quality of the MAIA program. There will be a separate stipend for administrative responsibilities.

As a member of the Elliott School's faculty, the Rankin Professor will teach courses, conduct research, and publish in scholarly or policy-related venues on international affairs. As Director of the M.A. program in International Affairs, this person will be responsible for the administration of one of the Elliott School's two largest graduate programs, with an enrollment of approximately 200 students. This will entail working with the deans, departments, and faculty to design and deliver a curriculum that is challenging and current; recruiting and admitting students; advising students; organizing extracurricular events; engaging in outreach (including with program alumni) and fundraising activities; and other aspects of program leadership. The successful candidate will be responsible for the delivery of the program's capstone course.

Minimum qualifications: A graduate degree (such as a Ph.D. or M.A. in a relevant social science or humanities discipline, or a J.D. or M.D. in a relevant field) and broad experience in international affairs and contemporary policy issues as evidenced by a record of college-level teaching, published research, or lengthy professional employment in international affairs.

Application Procedure: Applicants must complete an online faculty application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/108672> and upload a cover letter that explains how their qualifications and experiences satisfy the basic qualifications for this position, a CV, and (where available) a writing sample, a sample course syllabus, and sample teaching evaluations or assessments. Please provide names and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin on March 18 and will continue until the position is filled. Only completed applications will be considered.

The George Washington University seeks to attract a diverse faculty of the highest caliber; women and people of color are particularly encouraged to apply. The University is an equal opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13203

National Tsing Hua University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: East Asia, Political Economy, International Political Economy

National Tsing Hua University
Taipei School of Economics and Political Science (TSE)
Job Opening

Position: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor
Job Description: Full Time, Tenured Track

Location of Work: Hsinchu, Taiwan

Language of Instruction: English

Start of Employment: February 2024, or August 2024 onwards

Qualification: Applicants must have or expect a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or related fields

Economics, or related fields

Fields of Specialty: All fields are welcome, but priority will be given to

Political Economy, International Political Economy, Geopolitics, China Studies;
Economic Development, Growth Theory, International Trade, Industrial Organization, Public Policy or Public Economics.

*Prospective applicants please submit the following documents to the TSE office (tse@my.nthu.edu.tw) by Dec 29 2023 (Taiwan time). Please specify your field and field of specialty in the email.

Curriculum Vitae

Statement of Research Interests

Representative Publications

For new Ph.Ds, three recommendation letters and a copy of dissertation draft.

TSE is dedicated to high-quality post-graduate education in Political Economy. We currently offer Master Degree programs in Asian Political Economy, Global Political Economy, and Economic Development. We emphasize interdisciplinary study and intercultural exposure. International students comprise over 80 percent of our student body. We look for economists and political scientists with strong training in theory and research methodology, and with a keen interest in policy research.

To see a full description of our program, please visit the following website: www.tse.nthu.edu.tw

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12999

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics and Political Economy

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University and the Jackson School of Global Affairs are seeking to jointly hire several faculty members at the rank of Associate or Full Professor with tenure with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Comparative Political Economy, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2024. Faculty are expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and a CV. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/131556>. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2023 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 9/21/2024

Date Posted: 9/21/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12585

Catholic University of America

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Political Theory

Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a clinical (non-tenure track, two-year renewable contract) faculty appointment, to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should have expertise in public policy (American and/or comparative, as well as familiarity with the principles of Catholic social teaching). The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, ethical and institutional perspectives. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to teach both undergraduates and graduates, including students in a new MA in Public Policy program currently under development.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/7/2023
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 12475

Rhodes College

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations/Comparative Politics

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor to begin Fall of 2024. Rhodes College believes that diversity and inclusion are critical to our success as an institution, and we seek to recruit, develop, and retain the most talented people from a diverse candidate pool. Furthermore, Rhodes College is committed to supporting the work-life alignment of its faculty. We encourage applications from candidates who have expertise in security, peace, and conflict. The search is open in terms of regional or area studies expertise. This position has a 3:2 teaching load, and applicants should demonstrate a firm commitment to teaching and research in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate will have classroom experience and is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either International Relations or Comparative Politics. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach an upper-level course on international conflict or security and those who can contribute to an interdisciplinary atmosphere. The successful candidate is expected to earn their Ph.D. by July 2024.

Rhodes is a nationally ranked residential college committed to the liberal arts and sciences. Our highest priorities are intellectual engagement, service to others, commitment to diversity and inclusion, and honor among ourselves. Our students live and learn on one of the country's most beautiful campuses, located in the heart of Memphis, an economic, medical, and culturally diverse center, making Rhodes one of a handful of prominent liberal arts colleges in a major metropolitan area.

Rhodes College prides itself on being a diverse, inclusive, and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity and anti-discrimination.

A complete application will include 1) a cover letter that addresses the strengths the candidate will bring as a teacher and scholar to a liberal arts college environment; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a separate statement that addresses how the candidate's experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service will contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values; 4) a writing sample; 5) an unofficial graduate transcript; and 6) evidence of teaching performance (if applicable). Review of completed applications will begin on October 1, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled. Candidates from backgrounds typically underrepresented in higher education are strongly encouraged to apply. Letters of recommendation will only be solicited for short-listed applicants, at which time you will be prompted for the names and contact information for three (3) references. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews.

For further information, please contact Dr. Chien-Kai Chen, chair of the search committee, at [chenc@rhodes.edu].

Please apply here: [https://rhodes.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Rhodes_Careers/job/Memphis-Tennessee/Assistant-Professor-of-International-Relations-Comparative-Politics_JR-471].

Start Date: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2023
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 12427

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: American Politics, Political Economy, International Law & Organizations

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2024. The successful applicant will be expected to teach courses in their substantive area of expertise in political science.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129113>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024
Date Posted: 8/7/2023
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 12216

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Quantitative Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, American Politics

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Quantitative Political Science at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with substantive expertise in American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, International Relations, or the intersection of these fields, beginning July 1, 2024. This is not a position solely in quantitative methodology; we instead seek a scholar who would be comfortable teaching courses in quantitative research methods and who applies methods of quantitative political science to applied questions in their area of expertise.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129106>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/31/2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12215

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Latin American Politics)

The Political Science Department at Dickinson College seeks applications for a tenure-track position in comparative politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. The position is broadly defined, but a successful applicant will have research and teaching interests in Latin American politics. This position has a five-course teaching load. The department expects the successful candidate to be a committed, collaborative, and imaginative scholar with a Ph.D. in hand by September 2024.

Dickinson College values interdisciplinary teaching and learning, and many in the Department teach and research outside traditional disciplinary boundaries. The successful candidate will be expected to support the College's interdisciplinary program in Latin American, Latin & Caribbean Studies. Spanish fluency is highly desirable.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia. Students, faculty, and staff often enjoy the food, art, entertainment, and cultural enrichment of these major hubs and/or New York City.

The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate. Applicants may highlight their ongoing or anticipated contributions to promoting equity and inclusion in their materials.

Candidates should submit via QUEST (online application system) at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>

Please include a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample, three letters of recommendation, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2023. Any job offer will be contingent on available funding. Please address questions to the department chair, David O'Connell, at oconneld@dickinson.edu.

Dickinson College is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We strive to foster an inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive together. Accordingly, we encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 7/21/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12127

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, Latin American

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should be broadly trained in the foundations of political thought and have teaching interests in comparative politics and institutions. An ability to teach in at least one regional area--Middle East, East Asia, Latin America, etc.--is expected. The willingness to offer courses on global or regional policymaking in a specialized area is also welcomed. The successful applicant may participate in the college-wide Core Cultures program and teach, as needed, introductory courses in world politics. Faculty teach on a three-year course load rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/122859>. Review of applications will begin in October 2023 and continue until the position is filled. Application Deadline: September 30, 2023.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate “good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning.”

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 1/7/2024

Date Posted: 6/15/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 11861

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

All applications must be submitted electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/147035>

The University of Michigan’s Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position for a scholar who studies World Politics/International Relations.

This position is at the assistant professor rank and is a university year appointment. It is anticipated to begin August 25, 2025. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required.

Applicants should include the following applications materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts, and a statement that demonstrates your commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation. Information on our research initiatives and scholarly interest of current faculty can be found on the Department’s website: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci>. All applications must be submitted electronically to: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/current-job-postings.html>.

For full consideration, complete applications should be submitted by August 19, 2024.

Employment will require a criminal background check and candidates must meet all degree requirements prior to the start date of the position.

The University of Michigan is committed to fostering and maintaining a diverse work culture that respects the rights of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, gender expression, height, weight, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, or veteran status. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/19/2024

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14383

Mount Holyoke College

Rank: Tenure-track faculty position

Open Rank Professor of Politics

Department of Politics

The Department of Politics at Mount Holyoke College invites applications for an open rank tenure-track faculty position in international relations with specialization in U.S. foreign policy, to begin July 1, 2025. Ph.D. or A.B.D. in political science required.

Candidates should be prepared to teach a range of introductory through advanced undergraduate courses on both the process and substance of U.S. foreign policy since World War II. They may also expect to teach an introductory course in international relations on a rotating basis. The successful candidate will teach and mentor students in both Politics and the multidisciplinary International Relations Program. Teaching load is 2-2. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of strong teaching at the undergraduate level and experience mentoring students who are broadly diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, C.V., and statements concerning (1) research interests, (2) teaching philosophy, and (3) mentoring of a diverse student body. In addition, they should provide graduate transcripts, a sample syllabus of an introductory course in international relations, a sample syllabus of a course on U.S. foreign policy, and a short writing sample in their field of specialization. Please upload these additional documents in the Please upload other documents in support of your application section of the application. The application website is:

https://mtholyoke.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/External/job/Mount-Holyoke-College---Main-Campus/Open-Rank-Professor-of-Politics_R-0000000969.

Deadline for receipt of complete applications is September 15, 2024. Reference letters will be requested at a later date in the process. Questions regarding the position should be directed to the chair of the search committee, Sohail Hashmi.

Mount Holyoke is an undergraduate liberal arts college with 2,200 students and 220 faculty. Mount Holyoke College is located about 90 miles west of Boston in the Connecticut River valley, and is a member of the Five College Consortium consisting of Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts.

Background Checks:

Mount Holyoke College is committed to providing a safe and secure environment, supported by qualified employees that will allow all of its students, faculty, staff and those associated with them to successfully carry out the mission of the college. As a condition of employment, the College will conduct appropriate background checks for all new hires. Mount Holyoke has designated the Office of Human Resources as the office responsible for ensuring that background checks (CORI, SORI, Credit History, & Driver Credential) are completed and utilized in the hiring process and Five College Office of Compliance and Risk Management as the office responsible for facilitating background checks as articulated in this policy.

Special Instructions for Applicants:

Apply online; application materials must include:

- A cover letter summarizing interests and qualifications
- A complete resume or curriculum vitae
- For faculty positions, statements on mentoring, teaching, and research will also be required.

Mount Holyoke College is an Equal Opportunity Employer (EOE)

Mount Holyoke College, the leading gender-diverse women's college, is dedicated to providing equal employment opportunities for all individuals regardless of their race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, or any other legally protected status. We are a diverse community of staff, faculty, and students, united in our mission to offer an intellectually adventurous education in the liberal arts through academic programs that are renowned internationally for their cross-disciplinary excellence, experiential approach, and commitment to diversity.

Mount Holyoke College is a welcoming and inclusive environment that values and respects individuals of all backgrounds. As an EOE, we encourage members of historically underrepresented groups or nontraditional backgrounds to apply for open positions at our institution. The College has a long-standing tradition of providing women and other historically underrepresented groups with access to an innovative educational experience that prepares students for purposeful leadership by integrating hands-on opportunities into the curriculum. We firmly believe that diversity enriches our community and enhances our ability to prepare students for success in an increasingly globalized world.

We are dedicated to providing equal opportunities for all qualified applicants and to building an exemplary workforce that reflects the diversity of our student body and the communities we serve. Our ultimate goal is to produce graduates who are capable of engaging thoughtfully, effectively, and boldly with the world.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 5/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14386

American Enterprise Institute

Rank: Jeane Kirkpatrick Fellowship Program

Overview

The American Enterprise Institute is inviting candidates to apply for an open scholar position in the Jeane Kirkpatrick Fellowship Program in Foreign and Defense Policy Studies. The program is open to mid-career academics, government, and civilian professionals in foreign policy and security studies who are looking for an opportunity to deepen their work.

The application period commences on May 1, 2024. The program begins in September 2024, although the starting date for new Jeane Kirkpatrick scholars is negotiable to accommodate existing personal and professional obligations. The program's duration is one year from the start date, with the possibility of a one-year extension.

Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis.

Fellowship Benefits:

Guided by the belief that American liberties are best preserved by a robust national defense and US global leadership, senior research fellows will conduct in-depth research to produce policy recommendations intended to enhance American security and interests. AEI will assist fellows in developing and disseminating their research by providing the support and training needed to publish serious longer works, place their work in the nation's most-read publications, brief policy-makers, and host public and private events at the Institute.

Application Process:

Qualified applicants should apply at www.aei.org/jobs and submit a resume and a 1,000-word statement addressing academic interests, how this fellowship will enhance their professional goals, and which scholars they would like to work with in AEI's foreign and defense policy department.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14376

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: Western Europe, Post Communist Europe, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor to begin August 2024. Candidates should have research and teaching interests in European politics (region open) and the ability to offer introductory and intermediate courses in comparative politics and international relations.

Successful applicants should have a record of effective classroom teaching and must have their Ph.D. in political science or be ABD near completion by the time of appointment. The teaching load is seven courses over the 2024-2025 academic year.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/146717>) Review of applications will begin immediately.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States and one of four liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14363

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

We invite applications for a postdoctoral research position in migration with strong data analysis and management skills to work on a multi-year project on "Collective Shocks and Social Preferences" led by Professors James Walsh and Alexander Kustov in collaboration with Professors Michael Ewers and Beth Whitaker, and hosted by the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

The project aims to examine how people's social preferences such as altruism and trust can be affected by negative collective shocks such as wars, natural disasters, or economist disruptions. To address this question, the project aims to create a comprehensive cross-national time-series dataset on various shocks and preferences at the subnational level.

The postdoc would directly support expanding this research agenda by collecting data and investigating how negative collective shocks influence migration and how migration shocks influence social preferences.

The postdoctoral position is a full-time research-focused role to lead the construction of the migration dataset for the project. The role includes:

 ? Leading the efforts to construct the original dataset, including cross-national surveys on migration preferences and administrative data on migration flows.

? Supporting the new Center for Migration and Diaspora Studies.

? Dedicating time to personal research as part of the position.

? Conducting and publishing high-quality research and preparing grant proposals in close collaboration with and under the guidance of project leaders.

? Participating in the broader intellectual life of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Department of Earth, Environmental and Geographical Sciences, and the interdisciplinary Public Policy and Data Science programs.

The Postdoctoral appointee must have recently (within the last eight years) been awarded a Ph.D. or equivalent doctorate (e.g., Sc.D., M.D.)

Strong research interest in migration and skills in quantitative data analysis in R are required. Preference is given to applicants with demonstrated skills in one or more of the following areas: data management, survey methodology, multilevel regression, causal inference, machine learning, geospatial analysis.

Preference is also given to applicants with research interests in one or more of the following areas related to the project: conflict and cooperation, political economy, political psychology, state capacity, social preferences.

Strong research interest in migration and skills in quantitative data analysis in R are required.

Preference is given to applicants with demonstrated skills in one or more of the following areas: data management, survey methodology, multilevel regression, causal inference, machine learning, geospatial analysis.

Preference is also given to applicants with research interests in one or more of the following areas related to the project: conflict and cooperation, political economy, political psychology, state capacity, social preferences.

Screening of applicants will begin on June 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. The position is renewable for another year based on performance.

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://jobs.charlotte.edu/postings/56400>.

Please upload the following documents with your electronic submission:

1) curriculum vitae (this should include contact information for two references); 2) cover letter (this should describe your motivation, relevant research interests and qualifications); 3) short writing sample (this should include an original piece of research most relevant to the position).

The candidate chosen for this position will be required to provide an official transcript of their highest earned degree.

The candidate chosen for this position will be subject to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14356

Scripps College

Rank: Tenure Track Position in Global Politics

SCRIPPS COLLEGE

CLAREMONT, CALIFORNIA 91711

TENURE TRACK POSITION IN GLOBAL POLITICS

Scripps College, a women's liberal arts college with a strong interdisciplinary tradition, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Global Politics starting July 1, 2025.

The department seeks scholarly and teaching expertise in global politics broadly defined. We are particularly interested in topics including, but not limited to, the transnational politics of climate, migration, gender, human rights, international development, social movements, and settler colonialism, with a preference for expertise in the Global South. We value interdisciplinary approaches to, and breadth in, teaching and research, and are interested in candidates who show potential for engaging, research-informed teaching in small classroom settings, and who can supervise undergraduate research effectively. Participation in the Core Curriculum in Interdisciplinary Studies [about to be changed from Interdisciplinary Humanities] is expected.

The position entails a 2-2 teaching load, including the introductory survey course in Global Politics, as well as supervision (shared with other department faculty) of required one-semester senior theses. The candidate should have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2025, either in political science or in adjacent fields, such as geography, sociology, and anthropology.

Candidates should submit the following materials online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/145103>: a CV, a cover letter, a statement of teaching philosophy that also discusses how the candidate could contribute to the College's mission of inclusive and equitable education, an article-length writing sample, and names and contact information for three references.

Semi-finalists will be asked to submit evidence of effective and inclusive teaching, three letters of recommendation, and, potentially, additional research materials.

The salary for this position will range from $81,000 to $90,000 and will be set based on a variety of factors, including but not limited to internal equity, experience, education, specialty, and training.

Review of materials will begin on September 16, 2024. For more information, please contact Nancy Neiman, search committee chair at nneiman@scrippscollege.edu.

Scripps College is one of the seven members of The Claremont Colleges consortium located 35 miles east of Los Angeles. In keeping with its ongoing commitment to build and support a diverse and equitable academic community, Scripps College actively encourages applications from women and members of historically underrepresented groups. Preference will be given to applicants committed to improving higher education for underrepresented students.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/13/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14355

Berry College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Affairs

VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

JOB DESCRIPTION

The Department of Political Science and International Affairs at Berry College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor in international affairs, starting in August 2024. We seek candidates with expertise in international relations in addition to the specialty areas the candidate brings to the job.

The successful candidate will teach seven courses annually. Teaching responsibilities will include courses on contemporary world issues for Berry's Foundations general education program as well as upper-level courses related to the candidate's expertise.

We seek candidates who demonstrate aptitude and enthusiasm for teaching in a liberal arts environment, and a commitment to mentoring and guiding students. We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship are aligned with and will advance Berry's culture of diversity and belonging. There are multiple opportunities in and out of the classroom for our faculty to develop meaningful mentoring relationships with our students while fostering their development as student assistants through the college's LifeWorks program, and guiding them in undergraduate research projects and Honors theses. Faculty at Berry have access to a wide range of professional development opportunities, including summer research/writing grants and generous support for conference travel as well as for teaching workshops and seminars.

REQUIREMENTS

Applicants should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science. ABD candidates near completion will be considered.

ABOUT BERRY COLLEGE

Berry is a selective independent college of 2,200 students located adjacent to Rome, GA, midway between Atlanta, GA, and Chattanooga, TN. Berry's educational approach deliberately unites challenging academic programs with practical work experience in a residential campus community that encourages faith and emphasizes caring for the needs of others above self. This commitment to an "education of the head, heart and hands" remains as relevant today as when our founder instilled this ethic more than a century ago. Nationally recognized for quality of learning and quality of life, Berry offers first-rate undergraduate degree programs in the sciences, humanities, arts and human sciences, as well as undergraduate and master's level opportunities in business and teacher education. The College's stunning 27,000-acre campus affords opportunities that cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Berry's ongoing commitment is to provide exceptional educational experiences to talented students from a wide range of social, racial, and economic backgrounds.?

COLLEGE COMMITMENTS

Berry College is committed to recruiting and supporting a diverse faculty and staff. An Equal Opportunity Institution, Berry complies with all applicable laws and provisions prohibiting discrimination in its educational and employment policies. Berry respects the essential dignity of all individuals and accordingly hires and promotes employees without regard to matters of personal identity such as ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation, and political affiliation. Berry College is committed to ensuring facilities, programs, services, and activities are accessible to everyone, including those seeking employment at Berry College. Inquiries about interview or workplace accommodations are welcomed and can be directed to Wayne Phipps, Director of Human Resources, at (706) 290-2698.?

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Submit application via <https://berry.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=175611>.

Applicants should submit the following:

- a letter of application describing the candidate's interest in this position, commitment to the Berry mission and to inclusive teaching and learning
- a curriculum vitae

- a teaching statement that should articulate the candidate's teaching approach, experience, and goals
- a statement of research plans
- unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts
- the names and contact information of three references

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Specific questions about the position may be sent directly to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Eric Sands (esands@berry.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14354

Rice University

Rank: Lecturer in Political Science

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure track Lecturer position. The start date of the position is July 1, 2024. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2024.

Lecturers are expected to teach undergraduate courses, be available to meet with students during office hours, and contribute to a positive department culture. The teaching load is 3-3 and the initial contract is for two years. Applicants should be prepared to teach courses in applied research methods plus courses in one or more of these substantive areas—comparative politics, international relations, American politics, or social policy analysis. Successful candidates will be committed and skilled teachers who seek to meet the highest standards of pedagogy.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is May 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a teaching statement that addresses teaching experience and approach and discusses issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion; graduate school transcripts; one or more course syllabi; evidence of quality of past teaching; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at apply.interfolio.com/145557.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14347

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Visiting Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a 1-year visiting position in Comparative Politics or International Relations beginning July 1, 2024. This is a non-tenure-track appointment with a teaching load of 6 courses per year (2-3-1). The school calendar consists of two 13-week terms (fall and winter) and our unique 4-week spring term.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory course in Global Politics, 2 sections of introduction to statistics, and upper level courses related to the candidate's field of expertise. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is highly desirable.

Washington and Lee is a top-ranked, highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,860 undergraduates and 380 law students.

A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

Submit all application materials electronically using Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/145303>.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Your letter of application should explain why you wish to teach in a liberal arts setting and how your training and research/teaching interests align with this position. Include a curriculum vitae, graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation that speak to your teaching and research abilities.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Washington and Lee is an Equal Opportunity Employer. As such, we are interested in candidates who are committed to high standards of scholarship, performance and professionalism and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity in our faculty, staff and student body. Job description requirements are representative, but not all-inclusive of the knowledge, skill, and abilities needed to successfully perform this job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable qualified individuals with disabilities to perform essential functions.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14342

University of Alabama, TuscaloosaRank: Full Time Instructor*Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a full-time instructor. The appointment will be for a one-year term. We invite applications from all specialists in all subfields of political science. Minimum qualifications: MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level. Preferred qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university. For more information about the department, see <https://psc.ua.edu/>. Please direct questions to Professor Daniel Levine, daniel.j.levine@ua.edu.

Position begins August 16, 2024.

Applicants should submit a cover letter summarizing their teaching qualifications and experience, courses prepared to offer, and reasons for interest in the position, a cv, evidence of teaching effectiveness, syllabi (if available), and the names and contact information of 3 references (ideally with knowledge of candidate's teaching experience). Letters will only be required for short-listed candidates..

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/522456>.

Deadline: Submit applications by May 20, 2024 for best consideration; screening of applications will continue until the positions are filled.

Minimum Qualifications

MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level.

Preferred Qualifications

PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university

Start Date: Fall 2024Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 4/22/2024Salary: $40,000 - $49,999eJobs ID: 13332University of Michigan, Ann Arbor*Rank: LEO Lecturer 1*Specializations: International Security, International Law & Organizations, International Political EconomyJob Summary:

The Department of Political Science in the College of Literature, Science and Arts at the University of Michigan is a LEO Lecturer I lecturer to teach up to three courses during the Fall 2024 and Winter 2025 Semesters. An applicant can apply to teach up to three courses maximum. The duration of this appointment would be from September 1, 2024 -- May 31, 2025. The appointment effort would be 33% for one course (not benefits eligible), 67% for two courses (benefits eligible), and 100% for three courses (benefits eligible).

Responsibilities:

Responsibilities for each position include course coordination and teaching upper-level, undergraduate courses. In addition to classroom-teaching responsibilities, the instructor will hold office hours for students, provide appropriate syllabus and course materials electronically, attend regular course meetings, and handle routine course-related administrative matters.

Applicants should send a cover letter that describes their proposed course(s), as well as a draft syllabus for each proposed course. Applicants proposing courses in the following subject areas will be favored: International Security Affairs (POLSCI 372), The American Foreign Policy Process (POLSCI 371), International Organizations and Law (POLSCI 363), Politics of International Economic Relations (POLSCI 369). Applicants may likewise propose one or more courses of their own chosen heading using the POLSCI 389/489 description below.

The search committee will favor applicants conducting independent research who are interested in participating in ongoing workshops on political economy and conflict and peace. Please address this interest in your cover letter, with some discussion of the independent research you are currently conducting. Likewise, applicants able to teach courses from a perspective informed by political science scholarship will be favored. Please indicate in your cover letter the range of political science literatures on which your courses draw.

POLSCI 389. An upper-level lecture-discussion course on a topic in contemporary world politics. Area of focus is contingent on instructor's expertise; the course should employ political science concepts and analysis rather than just survey recent developments. Examples of recent courses taught under this designation include The United Nations, The Political Economy of Conflict: Terrorism and Civil War, Global Society, Third-Party Conflict and Post-Conflict Intervention, Human Rights in Global Politics, and Sexual Violence in Wartime.

POLSCI 489. A senior-level seminar on a topic in contemporary world politics. Area of focus is contingent on instructor's expertise; the course should employ political science concepts and analysis rather than just survey recent developments. Examples of recent seminars taught include Human Rights, The Historical Evolution of the Sovereign State

System, The Politics of Sovereign Debt, Politics of International Finance, and Norm

Diffusion.

Qualifications: Candidates must have a Ph.D. or advanced graduate training in political science.

TO APPLY GO HERE:

https://careers.umich.edu/job_detail/247760/leo-lecturer-i-fall-2024

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 5/31/2024

Date Posted: 4/16/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 13325

University of Southern California

Rank: (Open Rank) Teaching Track or Practice Track

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications will begin April 29, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies

Department of Political Science and International Relations

Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352

University of Southern California

Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044

morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13324

SOAS University of London

Rank: Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Politics and/or International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Job title: Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Politics and/or International Relations X2

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 & Grade 9 - £60,239 - £69,132 p/a incl. London Allowance

Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Near and Middle East. SOAS University of London is positioned to play a leading role in reimagining higher education globally, with a new strategic plan in place as the basis for the renewal and revitalisation of the School which commits SOAS to both student responsiveness and research intensity. SOAS is moving towards a new model of international partnerships which is responsive to the transnational character of our global challenges

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading, research-led department, ranked 5th in the UK and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The Department is known for its combination of both academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on the politics and international relations of the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East).

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for two Lecturer / Senior (T&R) Lecturer positions in Politics and/or International Relations starting in the Autumn of 2024.

The role holder will be expected to contribute to—and shape—the Department's research profile as well as the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Apart from the publication of outstanding academic research, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise both undergraduate and post-graduate dissertations, supervise PhD theses (pending completion of a probationary period), and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

Within the discipline of Politics and International Relations, the search is open as to disciplinary subfield and research specialism. Regional expertise is valued, and some experience running both on-campus and online modules, including Executive Education modules, will be beneficial.

Further information on key criteria for the role can be found in the Job Description and the Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities.

How to Apply: Please kindly visit the link below to submit an application.

<https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/job/540482 >

Closing date: 15th June 2024

Interviews: TBC

For more information on the role, including a full list of its duties and responsibilities please consult the Job Description and Person Specification found in the job pack attached.

For informal inquiries please contact the Head of Department, Professor Matthew J. Nelson, at mn6@soas.ac.uk.

Further information:

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact hr-recruitment@soas.ac.uk. Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 for the duration of their contract. SOAS will support visa applications for this role where possible.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 6/15/2024

Date Posted: 4/12/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13319

University College Dublin

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

University College Dublin is currently recruiting a post-doctoral researcher to implement natural language processing (NLP) tools to analyse interview data.

Fixed term contract for 2 years with a proposed start date of 1 September 2024. Application deadline: 13 May, 12:00 noon (Irish time).

The postdoc will work with the Principal Investigator, Dr Stephanie Dornschneider-Elkink, to deliver the research objectives of an Irish Research Council-funded project. The project combines quantitative text analysis/NLP with cognitive mapping (Axelrod 1976) to examine interviews with participants in Muslim resistance movements.

You will support the development and subsequent publication of new tools to convert text into cognitive maps. Tasks will include but are not limited to POS-tagging, sequence analysis, word embeddings, and visualization. You will have the chance to give substantial input to the analysis and to co-author papers with the PI.

Knowledge of Arabic is not necessary, but a plus. Strong knowledge of R and/or Python is essential. One aim of the work package is to develop new R packages for the translation of natural language into cognitive maps.

More information: https://my.corehr.com/pls/coreportal_ucdp/apply?id=017201

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 5/13/2024

Date Posted: 4/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13310

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Adjunct Professor, Notre Dame Washington Program

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The University of Notre Dame's Washington Program seeks an adjunct professor to teach one class in Washington D.C. in Fall 2024 and Spring 2025.

The course should be in comparative politics or international relations fields in political science, policy, economics, or other related disciplines. The ideal candidate will be able to offer a course that takes advantage of the unique opportunity for students to learn in our nation's capital.

The course will be taught in person one night per week (preferably Monday) from 6:30 pm to 9:30 pm, for 14 sessions per semester. Enrollment in the course may range from 10-15 students. The position may be renewable.

The pay is $8,500 per class per semester.

Applicants should hold a PhD, or be nearly finished with their degree, in Political Science or a related discipline, or should have sufficient professional experience and accomplishment in related fields to offer a rigorous course as a practitioner.

Applications should include a letter of interest, a CV or resume, and a one page outline of course you would be prepared to teach highlighting the basic structure and content, a full syllabus is not necessary at this time.

Apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/143946>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 5/15/2024

Date Posted: 4/3/2024

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 13295

Tulane University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Position Description: The Department of Political Science at Tulane University invites applications for a one-year position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor to begin in the fall 2024 semester in international politics. The Visiting Assistant Professor is a full-time, non-tenure track, teaching appointment. The teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will be able to teach introduction to international relations as well as upper-level classes in transnational issues, such as (but not exclusive to) environmental politics, migration, and conflict. The position has the possibility of renewal for a second and third year.

Qualifications

A PhD is preferred; ABD is required by July 1, 2024

Application Instructions

For full consideration, applicants should submit by April 1, 2024 a letter of interest, copies of all recent teaching evaluations, syllabi for relevant classes, a graduate transcript, a curriculum vita, and three letters of reference to apply.interfolio.com/142506

For additional information, applicants can contact Chris Fettweis, Professor and Chair of Search Committee, fettweis@tulane.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/1/2024

Date Posted: 3/13/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 13257

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Instructor or Assistant Professor

Specializations: Russia, Middle East, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time visiting position in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor, to begin August 2024. The successful candidate will be able to teach an introductory course in international relations and upper-level courses relating to the candidate's interests. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach courses that relate to Russian and Eurasian Politics, Middle Eastern Politics, or Environmental Politics.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science or a related field preferred, but candidates who are ABD will also be considered.

About the Department

For more information about the department, visit <https://wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/>

How to Apply

(Submit materials through this portal: https://fa-ewur-saasfaprod1.fa.ocs.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX_3/job/581)

A complete application includes:

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Evidence of teaching excellence
4. The contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to the Department Chair, Douglas Casson, at casson@stolaf.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13252

Butler University

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time renewable Lecturer in Political Science. Applicants should have a strong commitment to inclusive undergraduate teaching, and their expertise should complement the department's present strengths. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship focuses on politics in Central, East, or West Africa, Central, South, or Southeast Asia, Europe, or Russia, or among Asian Americans, Pacific Islanders, or Latinx/e/o people and equips them to offer Global and Historical Studies core curriculum courses (See <https://www.butler.edu/academics/core/components/global-historical-studies/>).

The successful candidate will teach three Global and Historical Studies course sections and one undergraduate political science course each semester and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 9, 2024, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field before August 1, 2024.

Applications

Applicants should submit the following at this link: <https://careers.butler.edu/en-us/job/494973/lecturer-in-political-science>

- a cover letter that highlights the applicant's teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive teaching and summarizes their research interests;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a statement of teaching philosophy,
- a sample syllabus; and
- a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information. Writing samples or publications are welcome but not required.

Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive, evidence-based teaching including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2024, subject to final budgetary approval. Please contact Robin L. Turner for questions related to this position at rturne1@butler.edu.

About Butler and the Political Science Department

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Our alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields. The Butler Political Science Department values its cultural, racial, ethnic, and gender diversity, and strongly encourages applications from historically marginalized groups. For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit our website at <https://www.butler.edu/arts-sciences/political-science/>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13244

George Washington University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

The George Washington University Political Science Department is seeking an exceptional candidate for a full-time, academic research position at the rank of postdoctoral associate. The term of this position is two years beginning in September 2024. The researcher will work on topics broadly related to international cooperation on emerging technologies, using social scientific methods. Substantive interest in China's international engagement with safety and security issues linked to hazardous technologies is especially welcome.

The postdoctoral associate will work closely with Assistant Professor Jeffrey Ding. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to all parts of the research process, including design, implementation, manuscript preparation, and presentation of results.

The postdoctoral associate will also have the opportunity to affiliate with George Washington University's Institute of Security and Conflict Studies (ISCS) and present work at research-in-progress seminars at the ISCS, which has a vibrant community of predoctoral fellows, visiting scholars, and PhDs in residence.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/109125>. A complete application package will include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interest, samples of written work, and names and contact information of three professional references. Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

Please direct all questions to Prof. Jeffrey Ding at jeffreyding@gwu.edu.

Qualified candidates will hold a Doctoral degree or comparable doctoral degree in a related discipline. Degree must be conferred by the start date of the position.

Minimum Qualifications: Qualified candidates will hold a Doctoral degree. Degree must be conferred by the start date of the position.
Preferred Qualifications:

Desired Qualifications:

PhD in fields including political science, international relations, area studies, safety sciences, or other related fields

Proficiency in Mandarin Chinese or demonstrated expertise on China

Strong communication skills

The ability to work in a highly collaborative and interdisciplinary environment

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13204

George Washington University

Rank: Professor and Director, M.A. Program in International Affairs

The George Washington University's Elliott School of International Affairs invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-accruing, faculty position to serve as Director of the school's M.A. program in International Affairs. We invite applications from individuals who have substantial academic or professional experience in International Affairs. The successful candidate will be appointed as the John O. Rankin Professor of International Affairs (or Associate Professor) or the John O. Rankin Professor of Practice of International Affairs (or Associate Professor), depending on qualifications. This appointment will begin in academic year 2024-25 for an initial term of three years, and may be renewed thereafter on a term basis. Salary is commensurate with experience, and will reflect a nine-month academic year appointment, leaving summers for individual research. The successful candidate will be expected to carry out occasional duties during the summer months, as needed, to ensure the effectiveness and quality of the MAIA program. There will be a separate stipend for administrative responsibilities.

As a member of the Elliott School's faculty, the Rankin Professor will teach courses, conduct research, and publish in scholarly or policy-related venues on international affairs. As Director of the M.A. program in International Affairs, this person will be responsible for the administration of one of the Elliott School's two largest graduate programs, with an enrollment of approximately 200 students. This will entail working with the deans, departments, and faculty to design and deliver a curriculum that is challenging and current; recruiting and admitting students; advising students; organizing extracurricular events; engaging in outreach (including with program alumni) and fundraising activities; and other aspects of program leadership. The successful candidate will be responsible for the delivery of the program's capstone course.

Minimum qualifications: A graduate degree (such as a Ph.D. or M.A. in a relevant social science or humanities discipline, or a J.D. or M.D. in a relevant field) and broad experience in international affairs and contemporary policy issues as evidenced by a record of college-level teaching, published research, or lengthy professional employment in international affairs.

Application Procedure: Applicants must complete an online faculty application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/108672> and upload a cover letter that explains how their qualifications and experiences satisfy the basic qualifications for this position, a CV, and (where available) a writing sample, a sample course syllabus, and sample teaching evaluations or assessments. Please provide names and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin on March 18 and will continue until the position is filled. Only completed applications will be considered.

The George Washington University seeks to attract a diverse faculty of the highest caliber; women and people of color are particularly encouraged to apply. The University is an equal opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13203

National Tsing Hua University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: East Asia, Political Economy, International Political Economy

National Tsing Hua University

Taipei School of Economics and Political Science (TSE)

Job Opening

Position: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor

Job Description: Full Time, Tenured Track

Location of Work: Hsinchu, Taiwan

Language of Instruction: English

Start of Employment: February 2024, or August 2024 onwards

Qualification: Applicants must have or expect a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or related fields

Economics, or related fields

Fields of Specialty: All fields are welcome, but priority will be given to

Political Economy, International Political Economy, Geopolitics, China Studies;

Economic Development, Growth Theory, International Trade, Industrial Organization, Public Policy or Public Economics.

*Prospective applicants please submit the following documents to the TSE office (tse@my.nthu.edu.tw) by Dec 29 2023 (Taiwan time). Please specify your field and field of specialty in the email.

Curriculum Vitae

Statement of Research Interests

Representative Publications

For new Ph.D.s, three recommendation letters and a copy of dissertation draft.

TSE is dedicated to high-quality post-graduate education in Political Economy. We currently offer Master Degree programs in Asian Political Economy, Global Political Economy, and Economic Development. We emphasize interdisciplinary study and intercultural exposure. International students comprise over 80 percent of our student body. We look for economists and political scientists with strong training in theory and research methodology, and with a keen interest in policy research.

To see a full description of our program, please visit the following website: www.tse.nthu.edu.tw

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12999

Yale University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowships with the Identity & Conflict Lab

Specializations: Germany, China, United States

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2024-2025 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The ICL has several ongoing projects in four thematic areas:

(1) native-immigrant conflict and the politics of immigrant integration across countries, with a focus on Greece, Cyprus, Turkey, Germany, Denmark, and Qatar; (2) effects of national identification (patriotism; nationalism) on foreign policy preferences with case applications in Greece, South Korea, China, and the United States; (3) strategies to reduce majority-minority group conflicts in India and Pakistan; and (4) collection and analysis of new data on separatist conflicts worldwide, and prediction of new conflict outbreaks of separatist violence. A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and quantitative analysis of observational data. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by associates can also be considered for funding by the ICL.

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Associates will be expected to collect and clean data; review reports on ongoing projects; prepare visualizations and reports of quantitative analysis of new data collected in the lab; assist with drafting grant proposals; program surveys; prepare IRB applications; conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing Lab projects; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Additionally, associates will be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders, prepare presentations of lab reports/papers, prepare replication files for published studies, help manage the ICL website and seminar series, and provide summaries of ongoing ICL work for public outreach.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be expected to help organize the ICL's annual conference as well as the workshop, which will hold occasional meetings throughout the year. Associates will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop or a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director and would be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary is competitive and comes with a benefits package. Information regarding benefits associated with the position can be found here: <https://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/benefits-enrollment-2023/postdoctoral-associates-benefits-2023>

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2022, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2024. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 10, 2023. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is extensive experience programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

Link to apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/135524>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12883

Rhodes College

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations/Comparative Politics

The Department of International Studies at Rhodes College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor to begin Fall of 2024. Rhodes College believes that diversity and inclusion are critical to our success as an institution, and we seek to recruit, develop, and retain the most talented people from a diverse candidate pool. Furthermore, Rhodes College is committed to supporting the work-life alignment of its faculty. We encourage applications from candidates who have expertise in security, peace, and conflict. The search is open in terms of regional or area studies expertise. This position has a 3:2 teaching load, and applicants should demonstrate a firm commitment to teaching and research in an undergraduate, liberal arts environment. The successful candidate will have classroom experience and is expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in either International Relations or Comparative Politics. Additional courses will be based on the candidate's area of specialization. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach an upper-level course on international conflict or security and those who can contribute to an interdisciplinary atmosphere. The successful candidate is expected to earn their Ph.D. by July 2024.

Rhodes is a nationally ranked residential college committed to the liberal arts and sciences. Our highest priorities are intellectual engagement, service to others, commitment to diversity and inclusion, and honor among ourselves. Our students live and learn on one of the country's most beautiful campuses, located in the heart of Memphis, an economic, medical, and culturally diverse center, making Rhodes one of a handful of prominent liberal arts colleges in a major metropolitan area.

Rhodes College prides itself on being a diverse, inclusive, and welcoming environment. We are an equal opportunity employer committed to diversity and anti-discrimination.

A complete application will include 1) a cover letter that addresses the strengths the candidate will bring as a teacher and scholar to a liberal arts college environment; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a separate statement that addresses how the candidate's experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service will contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values; 4) a writing sample; 5) an unofficial graduate transcript; and 6) evidence of teaching performance (if applicable). Review of completed applications will begin on October 1, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled. Candidates from backgrounds typically underrepresented in higher education are strongly encouraged to apply. Letters of recommendation will only be solicited for short-listed applicants, at which time you will be prompted for the names and contact information for three (3) references. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews.

For further information, please contact Dr. Chien-Kai Chen, chair of the search committee, at [chenc@rhodes.edu].

Please apply here: [https://rhodes.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Rhodes_Careers/job/Memphis-Tennessee/Assistant-Professor-of-International-Relations-Comparative-Politics_JR-471].

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12427

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

Assistant Professor – International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a tenure-stream position at the level of Assistant Professor in International Relations. We welcome applications from all areas of international relations but are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to teaching and research in international organizations, international cooperation, foreign policy, the international dimensions of digital technology or international political economy. In addition, while it is not required for this position, we also value the ability of an applicant to augment the departments and the University of Pittsburgh's training and reputation in computational social science and methodology. Applicants are required to have or expect to have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field before the appointment begins.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and a minimum of three letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by September 22, 2023, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets. The University of Pittsburgh requires all Pitt constituents (employees and students) on all campuses to be vaccinated against COVID-19 or have an approved exemption. Visit coronavirus.pitt.edu to learn more about this requirement.

Applicants should be submitted at the following site:

https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=23006603&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York

The political science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is nek89@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/23/2023

Date Posted: 8/29/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12394

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: American Politics, Political Economy, International Law & Organizations

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2024. The successful applicant will be expected to teach courses in their substantive area of expertise in political science.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129113>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12216

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, South Asian Politics

Specializations: India, International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in South Asian Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2024. A successful applicant will be expected to teach courses in their substantive area of expertise in political science and courses with a regional focus on South Asia.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129098>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/31/2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12214

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, Latin American

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should be broadly trained in the foundations of political thought and have teaching interests in comparative politics and institutions. An ability to teach in at least one regional area--Middle East, East Asia, Latin America, etc.--is expected. The willingness to offer courses on global or regional policymaking in a specialized area is also welcomed. The successful applicant may participate in the college-wide Core Cultures program and teach, as needed, introductory courses in world politics. Faculty teach on a three-year course load rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/122859>. Review of applications will begin in October 2023 and continue until the position is filled. Application Deadline: September 30, 2023.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 1/7/2024

Date Posted: 6/15/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 11861

METHODOLOGY

Dartmouth College

Rank: Data Scientist

These positions will be shared with the Economics and QSS departments and will serve all the social sciences. The new staff members will help students and faculty with computational and statistical research. Among the tasks they will likely perform are:

- Hosting quarterly tutorials in Stata and R for students
- Working with faculty in classes using quantitative methods (e.g., Gov 12, Data Visualization, Experiments in Politics, etc.)
- Helping honors students with data analysis and visualization
- Helping faculty scrape, clean, prepare and analyze data
- Helping faculty with data visualizations and slides

More details here: <https://searchjobs.dartmouth.edu/postings/73875/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14364

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

We invite applications for a postdoctoral research position in migration with strong data analysis and management skills to work on a multi-year project on "Collective Shocks and Social Preferences" led by Professors James Walsh and Alexander Kustov in collaboration with Professors Michael Ewers and Beth Whitaker, and hosted by the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

The project aims to examine how people's social preferences such as altruism and trust can be affected by negative collective shocks such as wars, natural disasters, or economist disruptions. To address this question, the project aims to create a comprehensive cross-national time-series dataset on various shocks and preferences at the subnational level.

The postdoc would directly support expanding this research agenda by collecting data and investigating how negative collective shocks influence migration and how migration shocks influence social preferences.

The postdoctoral position is a full-time research-focused role to lead the construction of the migration dataset for the project. The role includes:

- ? Leading the efforts to construct the original dataset, including cross-national surveys on migration preferences and administrative data on migration flows.
- ? Supporting the new Center for Migration and Diaspora Studies.
- ? Dedicating time to personal research as part of the position.
- ? Conducting and publishing high-quality research and preparing grant proposals in close collaboration with and under the guidance of project leaders.
- ? Participating in the broader intellectual life of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Department of Earth, Environmental and Geographical Sciences, and the interdisciplinary Public Policy and Data Science programs.

The Postdoctoral appointee must have recently (within the last eight years) been awarded a Ph.D. or equivalent doctorate (e.g., Sc.D., M.D.).

Strong research interest in migration and skills in quantitative data analysis in R are required. Preference is given to applicants with demonstrated skills in one or more of the following areas: data management, survey methodology, multilevel regression, causal inference, machine learning, geospatial analysis.

Preference is also given to applicants with research interests in one or more of the following areas related to the project: conflict and cooperation, political economy, political psychology, state capacity, social preferences.

Strong research interest in migration and skills in quantitative data analysis in R are required.

Preference is given to applicants with demonstrated skills in one or more of the following areas: data management, survey methodology, multilevel regression, causal inference, machine learning, geospatial analysis.

Preference is also given to applicants with research interests in one or more of the following areas related to the project: conflict and cooperation, political economy, political psychology, state capacity, social preferences.

Screening of applicants will begin on June 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. The position is renewable for another year based on performance.

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://jobs.charlotte.edu/postings/56400>.

Please upload the following documents with your electronic submission:

1) curriculum vitae (this should include contact information for two references); 2) cover letter (this should describe your motivation, relevant research interests and qualifications); 3) short writing sample (this should include an original piece of research most relevant to the position).

The candidate chosen for this position will be required to provide an official transcript of their highest earned degree.

The candidate chosen for this position will be subject to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/15/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14356

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Princeton University's Initiative for Data-Driven Social Science (DDSS) invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate. DDSS supports technical and methodological innovation in quantitative and computational social science, addressing a diverse array of new data and analytic challenges, facilitating impactful multidisciplinary collaboration, scholarly advancement, and the creation of tools and public goods.

Requirements

Applicants must have (or expect to have) a PhD in the social sciences, statistics, computer science, or related fields, and their interests must fall at the technical forefront of quantitative social science. Candidates should offer state-of-the-art technical or methodological skills, applying innovative techniques in the examination of substantive social science research questions. In addition to innovation, candidates will be evaluated on their potential to create public goods and their capacity for interdisciplinary engagement.

Responsibilities

This role's emphasis is on making substantive technical and methodological contributions that either directly or indirectly support DDSS-supported projects or its mission. Candidates will be able to apply and further develop their technical skills in a dynamic research environment. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to work closely with our research software engineers and other research staff. Projects may include software package creation and maintenance, data engineering, development and/or implementation of advanced statistical methodologies, and supporting research on high performance and cloud computing.

The successful candidate will also be expected to offer 2-3 advanced technical or methodological workshops each semester, assist in organizing research-based events (e.g., speaker series, symposia, or reading groups), present their work at research methods and field-specific seminars, and offer consultation to faculty, graduate students, and postdoctoral researchers from the social sciences on topics related to the candidate's area of expertise. One day per week can be dedicated to independent research. Postdoctoral research associates work under the direct supervision of the DDSS Director and Director for Research and Strategy.

Candidates must have experience with software package development and maintenance in R. Additional experience in the following are particularly welcome: record linkage/entity resolution; data privacy techniques; package development and maintenance; large data processing and high performance computing.

Advanced knowledge of R is required. Intermediate knowledge in Python and/or at least one SQL dialect and/or C/C++ is strongly preferred.

Please apply via: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34521>

Application Requirements

1. Cover letter
2. C.V.
3. 1-2 research papers
4. 1-2 page research statement, specifying research interests and example training workshops candidate could offer
5. Names of two persons who can provide letters of reference upon request

Appointments are for one year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. The appointment will be through the Department of Politics. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Requisition No: D-24-POL-00014

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14351

Rice University

Rank: Lecturer in Political Science

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure track Lecturer position. The start date of the position is

July 1, 2024. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2024.

Lecturers are expected to teach undergraduate courses, be available to meet with students during office hours, and contribute to a positive department culture. The teaching load is 3-3 and the initial contract is for two years. Applicants should be prepared to teach courses in applied research methods plus courses in one or more of these substantive areas—comparative politics, international relations, American politics, or social policy analysis. Successful candidates will be committed and skilled teachers who seek to meet the highest standards of pedagogy.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is May 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a teaching statement that addresses teaching experience and approach and discusses issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion; graduate school transcripts; one or more course syllabi; evidence of quality of past teaching; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at apply.interfolio.com/145557.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14347

American University of Sharjah

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Open

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Behavior, Middle East

The Department of International Studies at the American University of Sharjah (AUS), United Arab Emirates, is seeking a highly motivated and enthusiastic Postdoctoral Associate to work with Dr. Bethany Shockley and her US-based collaborator, Dr. Yuree Noh on an experimental study of egalitarianism in the UAE and Tunisia. The anticipated appointment is expected to start on September 1, 2024 and end on May 30, 2025.

The ideal candidate will play an integral role in supporting the collection and analysis of experimental data on the opinions of nationals and non-national residents in the UAE. Specifically, the individual will work with the AUS-based team of graduate and undergraduate assistants to conduct lab and survey experiments under the direction of Dr. Bethany Shockley and Dr. Yuree Noh. It is expected that the postdoctoral scholar will join the team in actively publishing research findings and presenting research.

Qualifications and Skills Required:

The applicant needs to have obtained a PhD in political science or related fields such as economics, psychology, or sociology with research experience. The successful applicant will have excellent quantitative methods skills with an emphasis on lab and/or survey experiments. The position is open to applicants with topical knowledge in areas such as public opinion, populism, migration studies, gender & politics, authoritarianism, and state-society relations. Prior experience in the Arab Gulf region and knowledge of Arabic will also be considered favorably but are not required.

This position is based in Sharjah, UAE, and the selected candidate must be willing to relocate. Sharjah is a diverse and multicultural city, only 25 minutes from Dubai. The terms of employment are competitive. Applications will be reviewed immediately, and candidates will be considered until the position is filled. You are welcome to contact Dr. Bethany Shockley bshockley@aus.edu or Dr. Yuree Noh yuree.noh@gmail.com at with any questions about the position.

The application is to include the following:

- A curriculum vitae with a full publication list.
- A cover letter with a statement of research interests, a writing sample and 2 letters of references.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.aus.edu/employment/postdoctoral-research-assistant-college-of-arts-and-sciences>

AUS is an equal opportunity employer. We adhere to a policy of making employment decisions without regard to race, color, age, gender, religion, national origin, disability or marital status. Opportunities for employment are based solely upon one's qualifications.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13294

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director, Data Analytics and Policy

Johns Hopkins University: Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences: Advanced Academic Programs

Application link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/139965>

Location: Washington, DC, 20001

Description

Position Description

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of assistant program director. This position will support the MS in Data Analytics and Policy program in the Center for Data Analytics, Policy, and Government within the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs division. Reporting to the director of the Data Analytics and Policy program and associate dean for graduate and professional programs, the assistant program director will contribute to the program's academic excellence and support ongoing innovation in the curriculum. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs

Advanced Academic Programs is a Krieger School of Arts and Sciences division at Johns Hopkins University. As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online in Washington, D.C., and on the Homewood campus in Baltimore, Maryland. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 30 degree programs.

AAP was launched in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of more than 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as program chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the Krieger School dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position

The Advanced Academic Programs division seeks an assistant program director to teach in and provide administrative support to the Data Analytics and Policy program. The Master of Science in Data Analytics and Policy prepares students to be data-driven leaders and decision-makers, with a curriculum that blends data science training with substantive expertise in politics and policy. The assistant program director has academic and administrative duties supporting the curriculum, students, adjunct faculty, and the program's public presence. The assistant program director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the program director and other faculty within the Center for Data Analytics, Policy, and Government, as well as across other AAP programs.

The assistant program director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of lecturer or senior lecturer, commensurate with experience. The assistant program director reports to the director of the data analytics and policy program, who consults with the center director and program chair on academic matters, and to the associate dean for graduate and professional programs, who leads AAP and reports to the Krieger School dean.

The assistant program director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities

- Teach five graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both onsite at the Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg Center in Washington, D.C., and online), using best practices for teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds
- Develop new courses, both in-person and online
- Coordinate with adjunct faculty in the delivery of multi-section courses
- Advise students, including both program and research advising
- Provide input on the curriculum to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs
- Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, and contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities

- Assist the program director with program administration, such as reviewing admission materials, developing program materials, and maintaining program communications
- Assist with the management of degree concentrations
- Organize professionally and academically enriching co-curricular programming that engages students and external audiences, such as skills workshops, networking opportunities, and public-facing events
- Participate in adjunct faculty hiring and development
- Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications

The assistant program director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The assistant program director must have a passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for part-time and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in political science, public policy, statistics, or other relevant field
- One to three years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- Expertise required to teach a variety of courses at the confluence of data analytics and policy, such as statistics, programming in R and Python, data visualization, research design, and political and public policy analysis
- Interest in leading and engaging with co-curricular programming and public-facing initiatives related to data analytics and public policy
- Strong organizational and problem-solving skills
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Ability to work collaboratively, iteratively, and creatively on program development

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level?
- 1-3 years of related professional work experience outside of academia, including but not limited to, government service, outside consulting, or collaborative work within fields related to politics, governance, and/or policy
- Professional interests in artificial intelligence, machine learning, and the application of these technologies to political and governmental processes
- Experience managing a degree or certificate program
- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design
- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions

For consideration interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials:

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position
- CV?
- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters
- Transcripts for every degree awarded

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check, provide three references, and submit proof of educational attainment.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/139965>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13130

National Tsing Hua University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: East Asia, Political Economy, International Political Economy

National Tsing Hua University

Taipei School of Economics and Political Science (TSE)

Job Opening

Position: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor

Job Description: Full Time, Tenured Track

Location of Work: Hsinchu, Taiwan

Language of Instruction: English

Start of Employment: February 2024, or August 2024 onwards

Qualification: Applicants must have or expect a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or related fields

Economics, or related fields

Fields of Specialty: All fields are welcome, but priority will be given to

Political Economy, International Political Economy, Geopolitics, China Studies;

Economic Development, Growth Theory, International Trade, Industrial Organization, Public Policy or Public Economics.

*Prospective applicants please submit the following documents to the TSE office (tse@my.nthu.edu.tw) by Dec 29 2023 (Taiwan time). Please specify your field and field of specialty in the email.

Curriculum Vitae

Statement of Research Interests

Representative Publications

For new Ph.Ds, three recommendation letters and a copy of dissertation draft.

TSE is dedicated to high-quality post-graduate education in Political Economy. We currently offer Master Degree programs in Asian Political Economy, Global Political Economy, and Economic Development. We emphasize interdisciplinary study and intercultural exposure. International students comprise over 80 percent of our student body. We look for economists and political scientists with strong training in theory and research methodology, and with a keen interest in policy research.

To see a full description of our program, please visit the following website: www.tse.nthu.edu.tw

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12999

Salem State University

Rank: Faculty - Public Policy - Full Time, Temporary

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Housing, American Politics

The politics, policy and international relations department at Salem State University invites a full-time, temporary faculty position for the 2024-2025 academic year. We are seeking a public policy specialist with familiarity with policies in an urban context such as housing, education, transportation, policing, poverty, and/or immigration. This position is part of a Salem State initiative to help establish and advance our proposed North Shore Policy Lab and may be reappointed for up to two additional years subject to available funding. With continued growth of the program, there may be additional tenure track lines in the department.

Housed in the department's Bates Center for Public and Global Affairs, the North Shore Policy Lab will involve students in research conducted on behalf of local and state government and non-governmental organizations in order to prepare them for jobs in the public, non-profit and/or private sectors.

The candidate should be well-versed in both quantitative and qualitative research methods and be able to teach our current Research Methods course as well as a new, advanced multi-methods class that will serve as the foundation for student work on applied policy research projects as a part of the policy lab. The ideal candidate will have a demonstrated record of community-based research and community partnerships with a focus on equity issues in the context of urban areas like those served by Salem State.

Salem State University is committed to excellence in teaching. We pride ourselves in providing first-rate classroom experiences and supervising intensive learning opportunities such as research and internships. Many of our students are first generation, racial/ethnic minorities, veterans, and adult learners. Salem State University is located in the Greater Boston area in the historic city of Salem, Massachusetts. The Greater Boston region is famous for its world-class education, healthcare, and business enterprises and the area offers numerous opportunities for professional and personal enrichment.

Duties and Responsibilities

Candidates are required to perform duties in accordance with the MSCA contract. Duties include teaching, advising, scholarship and contributions to continuously improve the department and university. The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester. The position is subject to available funding.

Required Qualifications:

Earned PhD in public policy or a related field from an accredited institution (ABD considered if degree will be conferred by September 2024)

Advising and/or mentoring experience

Preferred Qualifications:

Commitment to anti-racist, culturally responsive teaching

Demonstrated expertise in community-based research

Active publication record and/or exemplary scholarly potential (e.g., ABD candidates with strong pipeline of research)

Prior applied experience in non-profit or public sector settings

Demonstrated excellence in teaching

As an emerging Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), Salem State University seeks to enrich the faculty/librarian ranks by actively encouraging candidates whose lived and scholarly experiences directly address issues regarding the health, welfare, and representation of Latinx populations in the United States. Candidates who meet this strongly desired qualification should present documented activities in Latinx-related teaching, scholarship/research, and service, including community-based endeavors in each of these three areas.

Working Conditions:

This is an on-site, in-person position.

Salem State University complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) to provide reasonable accommodation to qualified applicants and employees with disabilities. For accommodation information or requests please email eo-hr@salemstate.edu.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Please apply online and attach curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching philosophy, and a diversity statement (please read our institutional diversity statement and describe how you would contribute to our mission in your teaching, research, mentoring/advising, and service).

The online portal can be found at: <https://internal-salemstate.icims.com/jobs/2894/faculty%2c-political-science-%28public-policy%29%2c-full-time%2c-temporary%2c-fall-2024/job>

Employment is contingent upon a completed background and CORI check satisfactory to the university.

This position is not eligible for H1B visa sponsorship.

Please Note: If there is no application deadline associated with a position, it may be removed at any time and additional applications will not be accepted.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12351

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Quantitative Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, American Politics

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Quantitative Political Science at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with substantive expertise in American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, International Relations, or the intersection of these fields, beginning July 1, 2024. This is not a position solely in quantitative methodology; we instead seek a scholar who would be comfortable teaching courses in quantitative research methods and who applies methods of quantitative political science to applied questions in their area of expertise.

Qualifications

If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a list of 3 references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/129106>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2023, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/31/2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12215

NON-ACADEMIC

National Center for State Courts

Rank: Director, Innovation & Evidenced-Based Research

Subfield(s): Open, Non-Academic, Other

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Leadership Studies

Director, Innovation & Evidenced-Based Research

SALARY: $145,600.00 - $180,000.00 Annually

LOCATION: Remote Work Eligible

JOB TYPE: Full Time Regular

JOB NUMBER: 201300299

GROUP: Research & Design Group

DEPARTMENT

Innovation & Evidence Based Research

Job Summary

The National Center for State Courts (NCSC) is an independent, non-profit court improvement organization. NCSC's services--research, information services, education, consulting, association management and technical assistance--are focused on helping courts plan, make decisions, and implement improvements that save time and money, while ensuring judicial administration that supports fair and impartial decision-making. For additional information, visit NCSC.org

NCSC is looking for an experienced Director of Innovation and Evidence-Based Research to join our Research & Design Group.

The Director of Innovation and Evidence-Based Research is a strategic leadership role responsible for developing and overseeing research initiatives to enhance the delivery of justice by state courts in a dynamic and rapidly changing world. The Director is responsible for ensuring an assigned research team's successful performance, including the negotiation and procurement of grants and contracts, the delivery of high-quality work products on time and within budget, compliance with funder requirements, and promotion of work products to various court audiences and others interested in state court research. The Director contributes to the development of a comprehensive research strategy aligned with the NCSC's vision and business goals and the preparation of Research & Design's annual budget. The Director leads and/or provides expertise on high-profile projects, and routinely interacts with all levels of NCSC staff, as well as Chief Justices, State Court Administrators, other members of the court community, and national policy-making bodies. The position also has frequent interaction with existing and potential funders at government agencies and foundations.

Trusted Leadership. Proven Solutions. Better Courts.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Demonstrates conduct that upholds the basic Core Values of NCSC
- Leads a team of staff focused on innovation and evidence-based research
- Supervisory responsibilities include interviewing, onboarding, training, timesheet approval, time off approval, workflow oversight, establishing goals, performance management and managing performance improvement plans if needed
- In conjunction with Vice President, provides overall leadership to the assigned research team by setting goals and objectives, providing support for reaching goals, monitoring progress, and discussing progress with team members
- Ensures a focus on innovation and the development of new resources and tools for courts
- Promotes a collaborative culture within the Research & Design (R&D) Group and across other NCSC departments and groups to ensure effective workflow processes and open communications
- Works with R&D leadership to develop, implement, and monitor the division budget
- Ensures review of the Innovation and Evidence-Based Research team's work products for quality, consistency, and relevance
- Builds and maintains relationships with existing and potential funders
- Provides guidance to staff in developing research projects including grant and proposal writing and submissions
- Participates in projects that generate revenue and further the strategic initiatives of NCSC

- Develops and plans for the dissemination of research findings through various resources including scholarly journals, electronic media, educational programs, consulting services
- Builds R&D's visibility and prestige as a primary provider of innovative court tools and applied research among constituents, policy makers, and public and academic audiences

Qualifications

- Advanced degree in social science, public policy, law, or related discipline
- 10+ years conducting applied social science research
- 5+ years' experience in a leadership role managing staff
- 5+ years' experience in managing projects and/or programs, and budgets
- Demonstrated competency in research design, approaches, and techniques
- Ability to travel several times a year

Additional Skills and Abilities

- Proficiency in MS Office: Word, Excel, Outlook, Teams, and PowerPoint
- Excellent communication skills - written, verbal, interpersonal, presentation, and facilitation; and the ability to communicate complex ideas effectively both orally and written to a variety of audiences.
- Leadership, communications, and inter-personal skills that successfully bring people of diverse background and experience together to create change through teamwork and cooperation
- Knowledge of advanced research methods and data analysis skills
- Working knowledge in both quantitative and qualitative methodologies
- Considerable experience writing for different audiences
- Knowledge of the issues, complexities and challenges facing the justice system
- Policy development, marketing, and fund-raising skills that lead to successful business and professional relationships with private, governmental, and other organizations, generating financial support at both the state and national level
- Strategic thinker with the ability to translate ideas into actionable plans
- Exceptional project and portfolio management skills

Additional Information

Benefits

NCSC is proud to provide a comprehensive benefits package for our regular full-time and regular part-time employees consisting of:

Insurance

- Medical Insurance: PPO, HDHP options (HMO option for VA residents)
- Dental Insurance
- Vision Insurance
- Employer Paid Life Insurance for Employee + Family
- Employer Paid Accidental Death Insurance
- Employer Paid Short-Term & Long-Term Disability
- 125 Plan
- Employee Assistance Program

Retirement

- Retirement: Money Purchase Plan Pension account (9% of salary)
- Retirement Option: 403B

Paid Time Off

- All Purpose Leave (APL)
- Paid Holidays (10)

Other Benefits

- Annual Performance Review
- Education Assistance

- Paid Training and Development
- Qualifying Employer for the Public Service Loan Forgiveness under 501(c)(3)

The annual starting salary for this role is between $145,600 - $180,000, factors which affect starting pay within the range include skills, education and experience and other qualifications as it relates to the position.

Join our Team!

This position is open until filled and we will be recruiting on a rolling basis. Please submit your resume and cover letter in addition to your completed NCSC application. For the reference section, include professional references only with at least one previous or current supervisor.

To register and apply, go to: <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/ncsc>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14362

OPEN

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

All applications must be submitted electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/147036>

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position for a scholar who studies Race and Ethnic Politics, open with respect to subfield.

This position is at the assistant professor rank and is a university year appointment. It is anticipated to begin August 25, 2025. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required.

Applicants should include the following applications materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts, and a statement that demonstrates your commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation. Information on our research initiatives and scholarly interest of current faculty can be found on the Department's website: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci>. All applications must be submitted electronically to: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/current-job-postings.html>.

For full consideration, complete applications should be submitted by August 19, 2024.

Employment will require both a criminal background and candidates must meet all degree requirements prior to the start date of the position.

The University of Michigan is committed to fostering and maintaining a diverse work culture that respects the rights of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, gender expression, height, weight, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, or veteran status. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 8/19/2024
Date Posted: 5/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14382

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Science in Any Subfields

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Science in Any Subfields

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the "FPSE") at Waseda University in Tokyo, Japan invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in any of the following subfields of political science: Japanese Politics, Political Economy, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Formal and Quantitative Methods. We seek candidates who advance theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. Candidates should have strong methodological training and be able to advise graduate students on both substantive and methodological issues.

The primary teaching responsibility of this position is "Introduction to Political Analysis," one of the foundational courses offered at the FPSE, which is required for all the first-year undergraduate students majoring in political science, economics, or global political economy. This course introduces the most important questions in politics and how political scientists use analytical and scientific methods to answer those questions. In addition, the successful candidate will teach other undergraduate and graduate-level seminars. Applicants must have the ability to teach fluently both in Japanese and English.

The position will begin as early as April 1, 2025.

For more details and instructions for application, please go to the website at https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/assets/uploads/2024/05/RecruitmentInfo_PoliSci24_ENG.pdf

Start Date: Spring 2025
Application Deadline: 9/3/2024
Date Posted: 5/30/2024
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 14381

National Center for State Courts

Rank: Director, Innovation & Evidenced-Based Research

Subfield(s): Open, Non-Academic, Other

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Leadership Studies

Director, Innovation & Evidenced-Based Research
 SALARY: $145,600.00 - $180,000.00 Annually
 LOCATION: Remote Work Eligible
 JOB TYPE: Full Time Regular

JOB NUMBER: 201300299
GROUP: Research & Design Group
DEPARTMENT:
 Innovation & Evidence Based Research

Job Summary

The National Center for State Courts (NCSC) is an independent, non-profit court improvement organization. NCSC's services--research, information services, education, consulting, association management and technical assistance--are focused on helping courts plan, make decisions, and implement improvements that save time and money, while ensuring judicial administration that supports fair and impartial decision-making. For additional information, visit NCSC.org

NCSC is looking for an experienced Director of Innovation and Evidence-Based Research to join our Research & Design Group.

The Director of Innovation and Evidence-Based Research is a strategic leadership role responsible for developing and overseeing research initiatives to enhance the delivery of justice by state courts in a dynamic and rapidly changing world. The Director is responsible for ensuring an assigned research team's successful performance, including the negotiation and procurement of grants and contracts, the delivery of high-quality work products on time and within budget, compliance with funder requirements, and promotion of work products to various court audiences and others interested in state court research. The Director contributes to the development of a comprehensive research strategy aligned with the NCSC's vision and business goals and the preparation of Research & Design's annual budget. The Director leads and/or provides expertise on high-profile projects, and routinely interacts with all levels of NCSC staff, as well as Chief Justices, State Court Administrators, other members of the court community, and national policy-making bodies. The position also has frequent interaction with existing and potential funders at government agencies and foundations.

Trusted Leadership. Proven Solutions. Better Courts.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Demonstrates conduct that upholds the basic Core Values of NCSC
- Leads a team of staff focused on innovation and evidence-based research
- Supervisory responsibilities include interviewing, onboarding, training, timesheet approval, time off approval, workflow oversight, establishing goals, performance management and managing performance improvement plans if needed
- In conjunction with Vice President, provides overall leadership to the assigned research team by setting goals and objectives, providing support for reaching goals, monitoring progress, and discussing progress with team members
- Ensures a focus on innovation and the development of new resources and tools for courts
- Promotes a collaborative culture within the Research & Design (R&D) Group and across other NCSC departments and groups to ensure effective workflow processes and open communications
- Works with R&D leadership to develop, implement, and monitor the division budget
- Ensures review of the Innovation and Evidence-Based Research team's work products for quality, consistency, and relevance
- Builds and maintains relationships with existing and potential funders
- Provides guidance to staff in developing research projects including grant and proposal writing and submissions

- Participates in projects that generate revenue and further the strategic initiatives of NCSC
- Develops and plans for the dissemination of research findings through various resources including scholarly journals, electronic media, educational programs, consulting services
- Builds R&D's visibility and prestige as a primary provider of innovative court tools and applied research among constituents, policy makers, and public and academic audiences

Qualifications

- Advanced degree in social science, public policy, law, or related discipline
- 10+ years conducting applied social science research
- 5+ years' experience in a leadership role managing staff
- 5+ years' experience in managing projects and/or programs, and budgets
- Demonstrated competency in research design, approaches, and techniques
- Ability to travel several times a year

Additional Skills and Abilities

- Proficiency in MS Office: Word, Excel, Outlook, Teams, and PowerPoint
- Excellent communication skills - written, verbal, interpersonal, presentation, and facilitation; and the ability to communicate complex ideas effectively both orally and written to a variety of audiences.
- Leadership, communications, and inter-personal skills that successfully bring people of diverse background and experience together to create change through teamwork and cooperation
- Knowledge of advanced research methods and data analysis skills
- Working knowledge in both quantitative and qualitative methodologies
- Considerable experience writing for different audiences
- Knowledge of the issues, complexities and challenges facing the justice system
- Policy development, marketing, and fund-raising skills that lead to successful business and professional relationships with private, governmental, and other organizations, generating financial support at both the state and national level
- Strategic thinker with the ability to translate ideas into actionable plans
- Exceptional project and portfolio management skills

Additional Information

Benefits

NCSC is proud to provides a comprehensive benefits package for our regular full-time and regular part-time employees consisting of:

Insurance

- Medical Insurance: PPO, HDHP options (HMO option for VA residents)
- Dental Insurance
- Vision Insurance
- Employer Paid Life Insurance for Employee + Family
- Employer Paid Accidental Death Insurance
- Employer Paid Short-Term & Long-Term Disability
- 125 Plan
- Employee Assistance Program

Retirement

- Retirement: Money Purchase Plan Pension account (9% of salary)
- Retirement Option: 403B

Paid Time Off

- All Purpose Leave (APL)
- Paid Holidays (10)

Other Benefits

- Annual Performance Review
- Education Assistance
- Paid Training and Development
- Qualifying Employer for the Public Service Loan Forgiveness under 501(c)(3)

The annual starting salary for this role is between $145,600 - $180,000, factors which affect starting pay within the range include skills, education and experience and other qualifications as it relates to the position.

Join our Team!

This position is open until filled and we will be recruiting on a rolling basis. Please submit your resume and cover letter in addition to your completed NCSC application. For the reference section, include professional references only with at least one previous or current supervisor.

To register and apply, go to: <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/ncsc>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14362

Alma College

Rank: Visiting Lecturer or Instructor

The Political Science Department at Alma College in Alma, Michigan invites applicants for a one-year, full-time Instructor (MA completed) or Lecturer (PhD completed) of Political Science position beginning August 2024 for the 2024-2025 academic year. ? ?

Alma College is a small, rural, residential liberal arts college known for engaged learning experiences, particularly in the Political Science department.? For this position, the department seeks applicants with a demonstrated commitment to exciting, engaging pedagogies and topics that take full advantage of our setting and format.? The teaching load is six courses throughout the academic year. The specific courses to be taught will be determined in consultation with the successful candidate and based on their strengths and interests, but preference will be given to candidates that can teach an applied statistics course and those that complement existing departmental strengths in International Relations and American Politics.??

The Political Science Department at Alma College is committed to the preparation of knowledgeable, competent, and well-rounded graduates who reflect critically, serve ethically, and lead intentionally in a diverse world. This is a small department that works collaboratively to provide rigorous student-centered education in a residential setting with a deep commitment to quality liberal arts education. Salary, benefits, and support for professional development are competitive. ?

Review of applications will begin on May 20, 2024, and continue until filled. Please send an e-mail to Alma College Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs (provost@alma.edu) with the following documents attached in Microsoft Word or PDF format: your C.V., a cover letter, and contact information for three professional references.

Alma College is a selective, baccalaureate Liberal Arts College committed to academic excellence and development of responsible leaders. Alma's undergraduates thrive on challenging academic programs in a supportive, small-college environment emphasizing active, collaborative learning and close student-faculty interaction. Alma is a private Phi Beta Kappa institution located in the center of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.???

Alma College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty, staff and student body.

Alma College recognizes that we are all transformed when we celebrate and value the varied identities backgrounds, experiences, and perspectives in our campus community. We are committed to recognizing and removing barriers to success and providing equitable access to opportunities through education and advocacy. In our increasingly diverse campus and world, we pledge to create a climate where everyone is safe and free to grow intellectually, spiritually, and emotionally. For more information about the College and the Program, visit www.alma.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14348

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Dean of the School of Arts and Letters

The Dean of the School of Arts and Letters (SoAL) at Middle Georgia State University (MGA) serves as the chief academic and administrative officer of the School. The Dean provides vision and leadership to the academic units within SoAL across all five MGA campuses and online. This position reports to the Provost.

Responsibilities

The Areas of responsibility in this position include articulating strategic vision and planning; ensuring academic integrity in school programs; overseeing faculty and staff selection, retention, promotion and evaluation processes; encouraging and supporting excellence in teaching, research/scholarly activity, service and student success commensurate with a state university within the University System of Georgia; promoting collegiality and collaborative relationships internally and externally; and promoting alumni and donor relations.

Essential Duties

Educational Leadership and Academic Integrity (40%)

- Articulate strategic vision and planning for SoAL.
- Provide leadership for all educational activities of the School.
- Ensure academic integrity and high-quality instruction.
- Plan, implement, and maintain accreditation standards.
- Support and advance college and university assessment efforts and strategies.
- Assure ongoing quality and continuous improvement in SoAL's academic programming at the undergraduate and graduate level, and in traditional and online programs.
- Develop and implement student success initiatives.

Personnel Management and Development (10%)

- Manage personnel recruitment and professional development.
- Supervise and evaluate faculty for tenure and promotion.

- Coordinate and schedule faculty teaching assignments.
- Supervise the day-to-day activities of SoAL staff and conduct staff evaluations.
- Promote collegiality and collaboration within and across schools and departments.

External Relations and Community Engagement (10%)

- Establish and maintain external relationships between SoAL and the community/region.
- Work with MGA Advancement to maintain and cultivate relationships with the alumni and friends of the University to secure financial resources through development efforts and initiatives.

Curriculum Planning and Management (10%)

- Manage curriculum planning, curriculum development, and course scheduling.
- Meet with students to resolve issues with course, curriculum, and degree completion.

Administrative Compliance and Budget Management (10%)

- Serve the mission of the University, Board of Regents, and the University strategic initiatives.
- Develop budget proposals and manage assigned budgetary funds appropriately.
- Attend administrative team meetings and work with the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs to comply with institutional and Board of Regents policies.

Organizational Culture and Support (10%)

- Foster an environment of innovation, collegiality, collaboration, inclusivity, and support where faculty, staff, and students thrive.

General Duties (10%)

- Perform other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

- An earned doctorate aligned to disciplines within MGA's School of Arts and Letters
- Evidence of strong leadership, interpersonal, and communication skills
- A distinguished record of accomplishment in teaching, scholarship, and service
- A strong record of commitment to academic excellence and student success
- Three to five years of related experience
- Must have a working knowledge with the following:
 - Arts and letters disciplines and USG core curriculum
 - SACSCOC accreditation standards and requirements
 - University program requirements
 - Effective program assessment and strategic planning strategies
 - Effective budget development and management principles
 - Effective classroom practices, teaching methodologies, assessment systems, and educational technology
- Must be skilled in the following:
 - Delegating responsibility and authority appropriately
 - Making timely decisions
 - Evaluating and promoting teaching, research, service, and student success

- Operating computers and job-related software programs
- Decision making and problem solving
- Interpersonal relations and in engaging with the public
- Oral and written communication

Preferred Qualifications

- A record of progressively responsible administrative experience for a minimum of five years at the chair level or higher.

Complexity/Scope of Work

- The work consists of varied management duties.
- The variety of tasks to be managed contributes to the complexity of the position.
- Direct the operations of the School of Arts and Letters.

Contacts

- Contacts are typically with co-workers, other University personnel, faculty, staff, students, representatives of other colleges and universities, alumni, business leaders, representatives of the Board of Regents, and members of the public.
- Contacts are typically to give or exchange information, to resolve problems, to motivate or influence people, or to justify or settle matters.

Physical Demands / Work Environment

- The work is typically performed while sitting at a desk or table.
- The work is typically performed in an office
- The work requires intercampus travel and occasional in-state travel.
- The work hours are divided 50/50 between Macon and Cochran campuses.
- The work requires evening/weekend activities as needed.

Supervisory and Management Responsibility

- This position has direct supervision over the Department of History and Political Science, Department of English, Department of Media, Culture, and the Arts, and Administrative Staff.

Applications

- 1) All application packets must include the following:
 - a. A letter of application that addresses the responsibilities and qualifications of the position
 - b. Current curriculum vitae or résumé
 - c. At least five references with full contact information including e-mail (References will not be contacted without consent from applicant.)
- 2) Submit application packet (preferably as PDFs) to MGA Dean-SoAL@myersmrae.com. Additional information will be requested upon receipt of application. Review of applications begins immediately. For best consideration, submit applications by May 16, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Nominations

Submit nominations to MGA-DeanSoAL-nominate@myersmrae.com with complete contact and e-mail information for the individual being nominated.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/1/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14345

American University of Sharjah

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Open

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Behavior, Middle East

The Department of International Studies at the American University of Sharjah (AUS), United Arab Emirates, is seeking a highly motivated and enthusiastic Postdoctoral Associate to work with Dr. Bethany Shockley and her US-based collaborator, Dr. Yuree Noh on an experimental study of egalitarianism in the UAE and Tunisia. The anticipated appointment is expected to start on September 1, 2024 and end on May 30, 2025.

The ideal candidate will play an integral role in supporting the collection and analysis of experimental data on the opinions of nationals and non-national residents in the UAE. Specifically, the individual will work with the AUS-based team of graduate and undergraduate assistants to conduct lab and survey experiments under the direction of Dr. Bethany Shockley and Dr. Yuree Noh. It is expected that the postdoctoral scholar will join the team in actively publishing research findings and presenting research.

Qualifications and Skills Required:

The applicant needs to have obtained a PhD in political science or related fields such as economics, psychology, or sociology with research experience. The successful applicant will have excellent quantitative methods skills with an emphasis on lab and/or survey experiments. The position is open to applicants with topical knowledge in areas such as public opinion, populism, migration studies, gender & politics, authoritarianism, and state-society relations. Prior experience in the Arab Gulf region and knowledge of Arabic will also be considered favorably but are not required.

This position is based in Sharjah, UAE, and the selected candidate must be willing to relocate. Sharjah is a diverse and multicultural city, only 25 minutes from Dubai. The terms of employment are competitive. Applications will be reviewed immediately, and candidates will be considered until the position is filled. You are welcome to contact Dr. Bethany Shockley bshockley@aus.edu or Dr. Yuree Noh yuree.noh@gmail.com at with any questions about the position.

The application is to include the following:

- A curriculum vitae with a full publication list.
- A cover letter with a statement of research interests, a writing sample and 2 letters of references.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.aus.edu/employment/postdoctoral-research-assistant-college-of-arts-and-sciences>

AUS is an equal opportunity employer. We adhere to a policy of making employment decisions without regard to race, color, age, gender, religion, national origin, disability or marital status. Opportunities for employment are based solely upon one's qualifications.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13294

Louisiana State University

Rank: Instructor

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science of Louisiana State University invites applicants for a position of Instructor beginning in the Fall of 2024. Field specialization is open. Pending final approval, the position will be full-time, non-tenure-track, with a 4-4 teaching load (undergraduate courses) that is renewable on an annual basis.

Required Qualifications: A strong commitment to teaching undergraduates is critical, including a willingness to develop new courses and offer classes through the LSU Online Program. Experience working in and an ability to contribute to a multicultural setting is essential.

Salary for the appointment will be commensurate with educational preparation and experience. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. LSU is an equal access/equal opportunity employer.

Job Summary:

Non-tenure-track position that teaches undergraduate students, and participates in departmental, college, and university service activities commensurate with rank.

Job Responsibilities:

Teach undergraduate courses and hold regular office hours. - 100%

Minimum Qualifications:

Master's degree in Political Science or related field.

Preferred Qualifications:

PhD in Political Science or related or field.

Additional Job Description:

Special Instructions:

Application materials should include a letter of application stating the candidate's teaching interests, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, a teaching statement, and any teaching materials (e.g., course evaluations and syllabi). In addition, three current letters of recommendation should be sent directly via email to Robert Hogan, Chair, Department of Political Science at polisci@lsu.edu. Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2024.

Please attach all documents under the "Resume/CV" section of your application. Attachments are limited to five.

For questions or concerns regarding the status of your application or salary ranges, please contact Robert Hogan at polisci@lsu.edu.

Posting Date:

March 21, 2024

Closing Date (Open Until Filled if No Date Specified):

Additional Position Information:

Background Check - An offer of employment is contingent on a satisfactory pre-employment background check.

Benefits - LSU offers outstanding benefits to eligible employees and their dependents including health, life, dental, and vision insurance; flexible spending accounts; retirement options; various leave options; paid holidays; wellness benefits; tuition exemption for qualified positions; training and development opportunities; employee discounts; and more!

Positions approved to work outside the State of Louisiana shall be employed through Louisiana State University's partner, nextSource Workforce Solutions, for Employer of Record Services including but not limited to employment, benefits, payroll, and tax compliance. Positions employed through Employer of Record Services will be offered benefits and retirement as applicable through their provider and will not be eligible for State of Louisiana benefits and retirement.

Essential Position (Y/N):

LSU is an Equal Opportunity Employer and SAME Agency:

LSU is designated as a State As a Model Employer (SAME) agency and provides assistance to persons needing accommodations or with the accessibility of materials. For those seeking such accommodations or assistance related to this search, we encourage you to contact the Office of Human Resource Management (hr@lsu.edu).

HCM Contact Information:

For questions or concerns related to updating your application with attachments (e.g., resumes, RS:17 documents), date of birth, or reactivating applications, please contact the LSU Human Resources Management Office at 225-578-8200 or email HR@lsu.edu. For questions or concerns regarding the status of your application or salary ranges, please contact the department using the information provided in the Special Instructions section of this job posting.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 3/22/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13276

Clemson University

Rank: Lecturer - Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University is conducting a search for a Lecturer with teaching expertise in research methods and data analysis to join our faculty in August 2024. Clemson Interfolio link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/142235>

This is a full-time, nine-month position, and the successful candidate will be eligible for annual reappointment. Lecturers at Clemson cannot advance to tenure, but they are full, voting members of the university's faculty who can pursue promotion along an academic professional track leading to the rank of Senior Lecturer and Principal Lecturer.

The selected candidate will offer instruction in:

- public data analysis serving the department's MPA program,
- political science research methods for undergraduate students, and
- additional courses in their area of expertise.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, a master's degree in public administration, and a Ph.D. in policy studies. The department has twenty-six full-time faculty and four full-time staff. Clemson University is a public, land-grant institution located in western South Carolina near the Greenville metropolitan area. The university's campus sits on the shores of Lake Hartwell in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Qualifications:

The position is open with respect to candidates' additional teaching field. Prior experience working with public administration professionals or teaching in a professional master's degree program is desirable. The expected teaching load is four courses each semester (4-4).

A Ph.D. in political science, public administration, or a related field, completed by August 15, 2024, is required.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13237

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Subfield(s): Open, Open, Open

Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS)

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Areas Expertise: Region Open

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time "Post-doc fellows" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCL, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13000

Rowan University

Rank: Open Rank Tenure/Track Faculty Position, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Open

The Department of Political Science & Economics at Rowan University invites applications for one or more tenure-track positions in Political Science beginning in Fall 2024. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and the politics of health equity broadly constructed. Areas of research interest may include but are not limited to: welfare or social policies that relate to health including housing policy, food insecurity, Medicare and/or Medicaid expansion, the politics of the ACA, reproductive rights, LGBTQ+ rights, and other gender issues associated with health, and equal access to healthcare. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory, advanced courses and graduate courses in American politics, methodology, and/or public policy.

A top 100 national public research institution, Rowan University offers bachelor's through doctoral and professional programs in person and online to 22,000 students through its main campus in Glassboro, N.J., its medical school campuses in Camden and Stratford, and five others. The University has earned national recognition for innovation, commitment to high-quality, affordable education, and developing public-private partnerships. A Carnegie-classified R2 (high research activity) institution, Rowan has been recognized as the fourth fastest-growing public research university, as reported by The Chronicle of Higher Education. For more information on Rowan University, click here.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants at the assistant professor level must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy (or related field) or ABD with a firm date of completion no later than July 1, 2024, a strong research agenda, and a commitment to quality teaching and active service. Associate or full professor applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy (or related field), a strong record of publications and external grant activity, and a commitment to quality teaching and active service.

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the position is filled. The first full review of applications will be on January 19, 2024. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <https://jobs.rowan.edu/en-us/job/499103/open-rank-tenure-track-faculty-position-political-science-department-of-political-science-and-economics>.

Applications must include a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and a teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.

All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12902

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer in Interdisciplinary Studies

Full-Time Teaching Track Lecturer in the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies (BIS) Concentration in Arts and Sciences degree program (Promotion Eligible)

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position providing instruction in an interdisciplinary studies degree program to begin Fall 2024. Lecturers at GSU are full-time faculty who are eligible for promotion to Senior Lecturer and Principal Lecturer.

The Department of Political Science hosts the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies (BIS) with a concentration in Arts and Sciences. This new program enables nontraditional students as well as students who must transition out of their major of choice to continue making progress towards a degree and to build connections among related disciplines. Students pick three fields of study in the College of Arts and Sciences in the humanities, social sciences, and/or stem fields. The position will teach interdisciplinary research methods, a capstone seminar, and an internship course. While primary responsibility is to teach these three required courses, the candidate may have the opportunity to teach other courses of interest in Political Science.

Lecturers at GSU have both teaching and service requirements and are full members of the department's intellectual community and leadership team. In addition to helping the university achieve excellence in undergraduate teaching and serving on MA thesis committees, Lecturers meet a broad array of vital service needs, such as coordinating our core courses, directing undergraduate programs, leading study abroad trips, coaching academic teams, and developing innovative experiential learning courses. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity, and the College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks (including Lecturers) in college-level program development.

GSU is an urban research university located in downtown Atlanta. Designated as a minority-serving institution, and the only comprehensive Predominantly Black Institution with a R1 Carnegie Research Classification in the nation, GSU has one of the most diverse student bodies in the country and is nationally recognized for its record in student success regardless of race, ethnicity, and income level. The Department of Political Science prides itself on serving this student body and advancing innovative teaching and research. More information about the department is available here: <https://politicalscience.gsu.edu>.

Required Qualifications:

- Ability to teach an undergraduate Research Methods course from an interdisciplinary perspective.

- Ability to teach a Capstone Seminar with a focus on career preparation.
- Ability to deliver effective, high-impact instruction across all modalities.
- Interest in teaching and mentoring students from all backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning.
- A Ph.D. in hand, or evidence that a PhD will be awarded by Summer 2024, in a social sciences field.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated interest in pedagogical innovation.
- Ability to contribute to Political Science course offerings.

Applicants should send a letter of application that details how the essential and (if applicable) preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Applicants should also provide a list of at least three professional references (name, title, email address, and telephone number) who are willing to provide letters of reference in the future. Please submit all materials electronically to polssearchbis@gsu.edu

Review of applications will begin on November 27, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or status as a protected veteran. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12795

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor
Truman School of Government and Public Affairs, University of Missouri

Job Description:

The University of Missouri has launched an ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, that is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world's most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we're looking to recruit possess:

- A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward

- A robust publication and citation record
- National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- An interdisciplinary scope of work

Although all research areas will be considered, the University of Missouri is particularly interested in recruiting scholars focused on artificial intelligence, economic development, disparities in science, health, and education, as well as energy and technology policy.

To apply go to Mizzou Forward (<https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward>) and submit materials through the priority area that best matches your expertise. For questions about the Truman School or potential priority areas through which to apply, contact Lael Keiser, Truman School Director, at keiserl@missouri.edu.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs: Almost 1,000 students and 10,000 alumni strong, the Truman School of Government and Public Affairs provides an interdisciplinary educational environment for our undergraduate and graduate students. Through our research and teaching, we inform public policy, educate for ethical leadership in public service, and foster democratic discourse among citizens, policymakers, and scholars. We offer degrees in Political Science (BA, PhD), Public Administration and Policy (BA), Public Affairs (MPA, PhD), and Defense and Strategic Studies (MA).

About the University of Missouri: The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri's largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation's top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City.

Columbia, MO., consistently rated as one of the best communities to live, is an ideal college town, combining small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2023

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 12662

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, Latin American

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs to begin in the fall of 2024.

Candidates should be broadly trained in the foundations of political thought and have teaching interests in comparative politics and institutions. An ability to teach in at least one regional area—Middle East, East Asia, Latin America, etc.—is expected. The willingness to offer courses on global or regional policymaking in a specialized area is also welcomed. The successful applicant may participate in the college-wide Core Cultures program and teach, as needed, introductory courses in world politics. Faculty teach on a three-year course load rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/122859>. Review of applications will begin in October 2023 and continue until the position is filled. Application Deadline: September 30, 2023.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 1/7/2024

Date Posted: 6/15/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 11861

OTHER

Sarah Lawrence College

Rank: Environmental Social Science Half-Time Guest Faculty Position 2024-2025

Environmental Social Science Half-Time Guest Faculty Position 2024-2025

Rank: Guest Faculty

Tenure Information: Non-Tenure Track

Job Description

Sarah Lawrence College invites applications for a guest faculty position in the environmental social sciences to begin in either Fall 2024 or Spring 2025. The position is a half-time guest appointment, requiring four full days of presence on campus in a single semester or two days per semester over the course of the academic year. If teaching seminar courses (maximum 18 students), the faculty member will meet one-on-one with each student every other week to assist them in the conception, design, and execution of an individualized project related to the courses and their interests.

Candidates from all fields of environmental social sciences will be considered, although preference will be given to candidates who can teach Environmental Studies in conjunction with one or more of the disciplines of Anthropology, Geography, Public Policy, Political Science, Science, Society and Technology, or Sociology. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching interests reflect an interdisciplinary social science approach to historical or contemporary global, national and/or local environmental issues, including but not limited to environmental justice, energy transition, urban sustainability, sustainable agriculture, climate change mitigation and adaptation, environmental activism, comparative environmental law and politics, political ecology, environmental or resource conflicts, indigenous environmental rights and sovereignty, and grassroots environmental politics.

Application materials must include a cover letter; a statement of teaching philosophy; a resume; and three letters of recommendation.

Applicants must be authorized to work in the United States. We are unable to sponsor or take over sponsorship of an employment Visa at this time.

Compensation listed for this position is on a per-course basis, contingent on teaching experience.

Required Qualifications

Applicants should hold a Ph.D. or be ABD in a relevant social science discipline and have experience teaching undergraduates.

Preferred Qualifications

Posting Number: F00166P

Open Until Filled: Yes

Salary: $10,500 to $14,000

Special Instructions to Applicants

Review of applications will begin on June 10, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5292948>

Sarah Lawrence College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and has as one of its goals the recruitment and retention of a racially and culturally diverse administration, staff and faculty. To that end, every job opening is seen as an opportunity to increase diversity and every effort will be made to expand the applicant pool in accordance with these goals.

The college is located in southern Westchester County, 25 minutes by train from midtown Manhattan, NYC. For further information on Sarah Lawrence College, our curriculum, teaching methods, and philosophy of education, please see our web site at <https://www.sarahlawrence.edu/>.

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14384

National Center for State Courts

Rank: Director, Innovation & Evidenced-Based Research

Subfield(s): Open, Non-Academic, Other

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Leadership Studies

Director, Innovation & Evidenced-Based Research

SALARY: $145,600.00 - $180,000.00 Annually

LOCATION: Remote Work Eligible

JOB TYPE: Full Time Regular

JOB NUMBER: 201300299

GROUP: Research & Design Group

DEPARTMENT

Innovation & Evidence Based Research

Job Summary

The National Center for State Courts (NCSC) is an independent, non-profit court improvement organization. NCSC's services--research, information services, education, consulting, association management and technical assistance--are focused on helping courts plan, make decisions, and implement improvements that save time and money, while ensuring judicial administration that supports fair and impartial decision-making. For additional information, visit NCSC.org

NCSC is looking for an experienced Director of Innovation and Evidence-Based Research to join our Research & Design Group.

The Director of Innovation and Evidence-Based Research is a strategic leadership role responsible for developing and overseeing research initiatives to enhance the delivery of justice by state courts in a dynamic and rapidly changing world. The Director is responsible for ensuring an assigned research team's successful performance, including the negotiation and procurement of grants and contracts, the delivery of high-quality work products on time and within budget, compliance with funder requirements, and promotion of work products to various court audiences and others interested in state court research. The Director contributes to the development of a comprehensive research strategy aligned with the NCSC's vision and business goals and the preparation of Research & Design's annual budget. The Director leads and/or provides expertise on high-profile projects, and routinely interacts with all levels of NCSC staff, as well as Chief Justices, State Court Administrators, other members of the court community, and national policy-making bodies. The position also has frequent interaction with existing and potential funders at government agencies and foundations.

Trusted Leadership. Proven Solutions. Better Courts.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Demonstrates conduct that upholds the basic Core Values of NCSC
- Leads a team of staff focused on innovation and evidence-based research

- Supervisory responsibilities include interviewing, onboarding, training, timesheet approval, time off approval, workflow oversight, establishing goals, performance management and managing performance improvement plans if needed
- In conjunction with Vice President, provides overall leadership to the assigned research team by setting goals and objectives, providing support for reaching goals, monitoring progress, and discussing progress with team members
- Ensures a focus on innovation and the development of new resources and tools for courts
- Promotes a collaborative culture within the Research & Design (R&D) Group and across other NCSC departments and groups to ensure effective workflow processes and open communications
- Works with R&D leadership to develop, implement, and monitor the division budget
- Ensures review of the Innovation and Evidence-Based Research team's work products for quality, consistency, and relevance
- Builds and maintains relationships with existing and potential funders
- Provides guidance to staff in developing research projects including grant and proposal writing and submissions
- Participates in projects that generate revenue and further the strategic initiatives of NCSC
- Develops and plans for the dissemination of research findings through various resources including scholarly journals, electronic media, educational programs, consulting services
- Builds R&D's visibility and prestige as a primary provider of innovative court tools and applied research among constituents, policy makers, and public and academic audiences

Qualifications

- Advanced degree in social science, public policy, law, or related discipline
- 10+ years conducting applied social science research
- 5+ years' experience in a leadership role managing staff
- 5+ years' experience in managing projects and/or programs, and budgets
- Demonstrated competency in research design, approaches, and techniques
- Ability to travel several times a year

Additional Skills and Abilities

- Proficiency in MS Office: Word, Excel, Outlook, Teams, and PowerPoint
- Excellent communication skills - written, verbal, interpersonal, presentation, and facilitation; and the ability to communicate complex ideas effectively both orally and written to a variety of audiences.
- Leadership, communications, and inter-personal skills that successfully bring people of diverse background and experience together to create change through teamwork and cooperation
- Knowledge of advanced research methods and data analysis skills
- Working knowledge in both quantitative and qualitative methodologies
- Considerable experience writing for different audiences
- Knowledge of the issues, complexities and challenges facing the justice system
- Policy development, marketing, and fund-raising skills that lead to successful business and professional relationships with private, governmental, and other organizations, generating financial support at both the state and national level
- Strategic thinker with the ability to translate ideas into actionable plans
- Exceptional project and portfolio management skills

Additional Information

Benefits

NCSC is proud to provide a comprehensive benefits package for our regular full-time and regular part-time employees consisting of:

Insurance

- Medical Insurance: PPO, HDHP options (HMO option for VA residents)
- Dental Insurance
- Vision Insurance
- Employer Paid Life Insurance for Employee + Family
- Employer Paid Accidental Death Insurance
- Employer Paid Short-Term & Long-Term Disability
- 125 Plan
- Employee Assistance Program

Retirement

- Retirement: Money Purchase Plan Pension account (9% of salary)
- Retirement Option: 403B

Paid Time Off

- All Purpose Leave (APL)
- Paid Holidays (10)

Other Benefits

- Annual Performance Review
- Education Assistance
- Paid Training and Development
- Qualifying Employer for the Public Service Loan Forgiveness under 501(c)(3)

The annual starting salary for this role is between $145,600 - $180,000, factors which affect starting pay within the range include skills, education and experience and other qualifications as it relates to the position.

Join our Team!

This position is open until filled and we will be recruiting on a rolling basis. Please submit your resume and cover letter in addition to your completed NCSC application. For the reference section, include professional references only with at least one previous or current supervisor.

To register and apply, go to: <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/ncsc>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14362

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Rank: Associate Professor(s)/ Assistant Professor(s)

The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Applications are invited for:-

Faculty of Social Science

Associate Professor(s)/ Assistant Professor(s)

(Ref: 2400011S)

The MSc programme in Global Political Economy (MGPE) of the Faculty of Social Science is an intensive one-year full-time or two-year part-time programme which aims at broadening students' horizon on the wide-ranging and fast-changing connections between global changes and local developments in politics, economics and beyond.

For details of the programme, please visit: <https://mgpe.ssc.cuhk.edu.hk/>.

The Faculty is inviting applications for the post(s) of Associate Professor(s) / Assistant Professor(s) for the MGPE Programme. Applications are welcome from both fresh PhD graduates and experienced academics who possess expertise in global political economy.

Applicants should have

- (i) a PhD degree relevant to global political economy, preferably in social sciences (such as but not limited to political science, social psychology, sociology, economics and human geography);
- (ii) demonstrated capability for high-quality teaching at postgraduate level; and
- (iii) strong commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarship.

The appointee(s) is/are expected to

- (a) teach and manage postgraduate courses related to global political economy;
- (b) supervise postgraduate students;
- (c) undertake scholarly research; and
- (d) organize and engage in activities related to student development, programme administration and curriculum development.

Applicants for appointment as Associate Professor should have a track record of outstanding research and publications and high potential for excellence in teaching and research.

Appointment(s) will normally be made on fixed-term contract basis for up to three years initially commencing August 2024, which, subject to mutual agreement, may lead to longer-term appointment or substantiation.

A highly competitive salary commensurate with qualifications and experience will be offered.

Review of applications will commence from April 2024 on a rolling basis. Applications will be considered until the posts are filled.

Application Procedure

The University only accepts and considers applications submitted online for the post above. For more information and to apply online, please visit <http://career.cuhk.edu.hk>.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 5/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14353

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Full-time Lecturer

Full-Time Lecturer - Criminal Justice

Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research, and public service engages a diverse student body of approximately 17,000 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:

The University at Albany, State University of New York, seeks a Full-time Lecturer (non-tenure-track) for the Online CJ Bachelor's Degree Program in the School of Criminal Justice to begin Fall 2024. We seek an outstanding candidate with demonstrated experience preparing and teaching a variety of criminal justice courses in synchronous and asynchronous distance learning formats. We are also interested in a candidate with prior experience with program coordination and/or academic advising.

This is a 12-month appointment, and the course load is 3-3. The lecturer will be responsible for offering required undergraduate Criminology/CJ courses (e.g., Criminology, Intro to CJ, Intro to Constitutional Law & Criminal Justice, Statistics, Research Methods, Senior Writing-intensive Capstone) and substantive upper-division elective courses in an online format. The Lecturer will also be the CJ Online Degree Program Coordinator, including some admissions and advising responsibilities, and serving as a liaison between the SCJ Student Services Coordinator, the Online program academic advisor, and other campus offices.

Requirements:

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in criminology, criminal justice, or related discipline (e.g., sociology, psychology, political science), from a college or university accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization by 9/1/2024. Candidates who do not hold the degree by this date will not be considered.

Ability to teach undergraduate courses in criminology, criminal justice, or related disciplines.

Demonstrated experience teaching courses in distance learning formats.

Experience with or potential for program coordination.

Applicants must demonstrate an ability to develop inclusive and equitable relationships within our diverse campus community.

Applicants must demonstrate an ability to support diversity, equity, access, inclusion, and belonging relative to their role.

Preferred Qualifications:

Experience teaching core/required CJ courses (e.g., Criminology, Intro to CJ Process, Intro to Law and Criminal Justice, Intro to Statistics in CJ, Research Design in CJ).

Experience in developing new courses.

Experience building or converting courses into a distance learning format.

Evidence of teaching in both synchronous and asynchronous distance learning formats.

Additional Information:

Professional Rank and Salary Range: Lecturer (12 Month)

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=175119>

Application Instructions:

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

CV

Cover letter stating all the required minimum qualifications and any of the applicable preferred qualifications

Contact information for three references

Available evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, student evaluations, and/or teaching statements)

Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.).

See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.

Returning Applicants - Login to your UAlbany Careers Account to check your completed application.

A review of applications will start on May 23, 2024, and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 5/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14350

University College Dublin

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

University College Dublin is currently recruiting a post-doctoral researcher to implement natural language processing (NLP) tools to analyse interview data.

Fixed term contract for 2 years with a proposed start date of 1 September 2024. Application deadline: 13 May, 12:00 noon (Irish time).

The postdoc will work with the Principal Investigator, Dr Stephanie Dornschneider-Elkink, to deliver the research objectives of an Irish

Research Council-funded project. The project combines quantitative text analysis/NLP with cognitive mapping (Axelrod 1976) to examine interviews with participants in Muslim resistance movements.

You will support the development and subsequent publication of new tools to convert text into cognitive maps. Tasks will include but are not limited to POS-tagging, sequence analysis, word embeddings, and visualization. You will have the chance to give substantial input to the analysis and to co-author papers with the PI.

Knowledge of Arabic is not necessary, but a plus. Strong knowledge of R and/or Python is essential. One aim of the work package is to develop new R packages for the translation of natural language into cognitive maps.

More information: https://my.corehr.com/pls/coreportal_ucdp/apply?id=017201

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 5/13/2024

Date Posted: 4/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13310

Amherst College

Rank: Assistant Professor Race and American Law

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Race & Ethnic Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the area of Race and American Law. The college is committed to cultivating an inclusive and critically engaged educational environment. Nearly one-quarter of Amherst's students are Pell Grant recipients; close to half of our students are domestic students of color. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse in matters of gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, socioeconomic status, sexual identity, political outlook, and religion.

In searching in the field of race and American law, we seek a colleague who sees the domain broadly through the light of theory, practice, and history. We are interested in candidates who conduct research into, for example: the legal construction of race; the moral and legal debates concerning race-based reparative and redistributive practices; the racial dimensions of carceral practices, understood both domestically and trans-nationally; the racial dimensions of the legal construction of space; the role that racial-thinking has played in the construction of immigration policy and the very idea of "Americanness"; how matters of race inform issues of environmental justice; and how the American legal response to the legacy of slavery compares and contrasts with that of other nations with a history of chattel slavery (eg. Brazil).

Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching are interdisciplinary. The position requires a Ph.D. (candidates must have the Ph.D. degree in hand or all requirements for the degree fulfilled by the start of the appointment) or a J.D. The start date for the position is July 1, 2025. To apply, candidates are asked to submit electronically (<https://apply.interfolio.com/142507>) a cover letter addressed to Professor Lawrence Douglas, a curriculum vitae, a sample of their scholarship, a teaching statement, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 3/11/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 13251

National University of Singapore

Rank: Lectureship in Global Studies

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies Programme at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a lecturer of Global Studies Programme. Global Studies is an interdisciplinary programme examining the processes and effects of globalisation across political, economic, social, and cultural domains. We welcome applications from scholars with teaching and research interests in any of the following three areas: global political economy; global dimensions of environmental/climate change; or, global dimensions of human health and development. More information about these themes can be found on the Global Studies website.

Scholars from all social science disciplines with expertise in the themes referenced above are welcome to apply. Applicants with multidisciplinary or interdisciplinary teaching experience and a specialization in global political economy and its effect on race, class, or gender are particularly encouraged to apply.

Lecturers may be promoted advance to Senior Lecturer and then to open-contracted Associate Professor and Professor appointments. Initial appointments are for three years, Senior Lecturer appointments come with a five-year appointment, while appointments at the Associate Professor and above come with open contracts. The teaching load is 3:3 (three courses per semester, totaling six per academic year). Exceptional applicants may be considered for Senior Lecturer if they have at least 5 years of relevant experience.

Salaries at NUS are internationally competitive, includes eligibility for annual performance bonuses and salary increments, subsidized housing for nine years, medical benefits, and research and conference support.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

1. Candidates should submit a letter of application clearly detailing how their research or teaching expertise aligns with the teaching of GL2102 Global Political Economy, and your potential for interdisciplinary teaching;
2. A CV;
3. A teaching statement of no more than 2 pages (short-listed candidates will be asked to submit sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and/or other evidence of teaching effectiveness);
4. The names and contact information for three references (References will only be contacted for short-listed candidates).

For full consideration, please submit your materials to this website <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/23710/> by 22 March 2024.

Applications received after this date may still be considered until the position is filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

Contact list for further enquiries
 Enquiries may be directed to Dr George Radics at socrgb@nus.edu.sg
 Further information about working at the National University of Singapore is available at <https://www.nus.edu.sg/careers/why-join-us/>.
 The Department website can be found at <https://fass.nus.edu.sg/globalstudies/>.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 2/21/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 13210

Yale University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowships with the Identity & Conflict Lab
Specializations: Germany, China, United States

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2024-2025 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The ICL has several ongoing projects in four thematic areas: (1) native-immigrant conflict and the politics of immigrant integration across countries, with a focus on Greece, Cyprus, Turkey, Germany, Denmark, and Qatar; (2) effects of national identification (patriotism; nationalism) on foreign policy preferences with case applications in Greece, South Korea, China, and the United States; (3) strategies to reduce majority-minority group conflicts in India and Pakistan; and (4) collection and analysis of new data on separatist conflicts worldwide, and prediction of new conflict outbreaks of separatist violence. A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and quantitative analysis of observational data. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by associates can also be considered for funding by the ICL.

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Associates will be expected to collect and clean data; review reports on ongoing projects; prepare visualizations and reports of quantitative analysis of new data collected in the lab; assist with drafting grant proposals; program surveys; prepare IRB applications; conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing

Lab projects; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Additionally, associates will be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders, prepare presentations of lab reports/papers, prepare replication files for published studies, help manage the ICL website and seminar series, and provide summaries of ongoing ICL work for public outreach.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be expected to help organize the ICL's annual conference as well as the workshop, which will hold occasional meetings throughout the year. Associates will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop or a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director and would be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary is competitive and comes with a benefits package. Information regarding benefits associated with the position can be found here: <https://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/benefits-enrollment-2023/postdoctoral-associates-benefits-2023>

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2022, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2024. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 10, 2023. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is extensive experience programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

Link to apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/135524>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12883

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: Assistant Professor

About The University of Texas at El Paso

The University of Texas at El Paso is America's leading Hispanic-serving university. Located at the westernmost tip of Texas, where three states and two countries converge along the Rio Grande, UTEP is a comprehensive public research university that is increasing access to excellent higher education. We advance the discovery of public value and positively impact the health, culture, education, and economy of the community we serve. Eighty-four percent of our students are Hispanic, and half of undergraduates are the first in their families to go to college. Deeply woven into the University's character are the distinctive strengths of the people we serve. At UTEP, our 24,000 students have access to 169 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs. Located in the second-most educated city in Texas, UTEP is recognized as one of the best research universities in the country for connecting students with the community around them. UTEP is one of only four institutions in Texas to hold both the top research and community engagement designations from the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education.

The Department of Communication is one of the largest majors at the university, with faculty and over 700 students in five areas of study; Advertising, Communication Studies, Corporate and Organizational Communication, Digital Media Production, and Multimedia Journalism. The Department also offers a Master Arts in Communication. Our 12 tenured and tenure-track faculty and a diverse pool of non-tenure track faculty, engage in communication research and prepare students for applied communication careers; many faculty members focus on Latina/o communication issues in the United States, and we also have a number of faculty focused on global issues and international contexts.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is a growing unit of scholars dedicated to disciplinary and interdisciplinary research. Our current composition of 13 tenured and tenure-track faculty and 6 non-tenure track faculty also dedicate themselves to educate future generations of leaders. The Department offers a Master of Public Administration accredited by the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), a Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit Administration, and an undergraduate concentration and minor in Public Administration.

Job Description:

We are seeking a scholar with a focus on human resource management (preferably as it relates to diversity management), organizational communication, communication and organizational culture, and/or stakeholder/community engagement and responsiveness. We are especially interested in scholars that conduct empirical research that examines how public and nonprofits actors engage underserved or traditionally marginalized groups. The position will be a joint appointment between the Department of Communication and the Department of Political Science and Public Administration with a tenure home in one of these two departments.

Requirements

Required Qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Communication, or a closely related field from an accredited university. ABD applicants will be considered if a doctorate will be in hand by fall 2024. An active research agenda and published scholarly journal articles are required. The potential to secure external funding is highly valued.

Preferred Areas: Preference will be given to candidates who have teaching and/or research expertise in one or more areas listed in the job description.

Application Instructions

Applicants must electronically submit: (1) letter of interest that specifies teaching areas and research expertise; (2) curriculum vita; (3) one scholarly publication or working paper; (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness; (5) graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for application; official one needed at hiring) and (6) names and full contact information of three references that we may contact. If you have questions about the position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Eric Boyer at ejboyer@utep.edu

Application Review Date: Review of applications will begin December 1, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please visit www.utep.edu/employment.

Additional Information

Hiring decisions are based on budget approval.

In keeping with its access, excellence, and impact mission, The University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all. We seek to attract faculty and staff who share our commitment.

The University of Texas at El Paso is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or gender identity in employment or the provision of services in accordance with state and federal law. Discrimination on the basis of sex includes an employee's or prospective employee's right to be free from sexual harassment under Title IX of the Higher Education Amendments of 1972.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12610

POLITICAL THEORY

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Native American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

James Madison College at Michigan State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Theory and Constitutional Democracy (PTCD). James Madison College engages undergraduates in a liberal arts education in public affairs in a residential college setting within a broader research-intensive university. The Political Theory and Constitutional Democracy major is an interdisciplinary field of public affairs. It focuses on liberal constitutional democracy (its origins, practice, critics, and defenders) from the perspective of political philosophy.

We seek a teacher-scholar broadly trained in the history of political theory that supports curriculum in Black political thought (American and comparative), as well as radical perspectives on modern constitutional democracy. Areas of research and teaching focus include African-American politics, comparative Black political thought, and radical political theory. In addition to these requirements, preferred areas of interest include: colonialism studies, Native-American studies, Indigenous studies, American constitutional politics, or modern political theory. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach elective courses cross-listed between PTCD and Social Relations and Policy majors.

Successful candidates will have demonstrated ability to teach core courses in the history of political thought combining serious study of canonical texts as well as authors/voices from outside the canon, with a view to the present and future of constitutional democracy. Applicants should also be able to contribute to the broader interdisciplinary curriculum of the major and the college, including the first-year sequence. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain an active scholarly agenda in their respective field(s). The College is especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their teaching, research and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

For more information, please see the college website: <https://jmc.msu.edu> and the full position description at <https://careers.msu.edu>.

Ph.D. in a related field is required by August 16th, 2025.

Applications must be submitted electronically to the Michigan State University Human Resources web site: <https://careers.msu.edu>. Please see posting number 955409 for complete instructions on how to apply. Review of applications will begin on September 20th, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Katie Dyjach (dyjachk@msu.edu) with any questions.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal opportunity employer. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Michigan State University occupies the ancestral, traditional, and contemporary Lands of the Anishinaabeg-Three Fires Confederacy of Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi peoples. The University resides on Land ceded in the 1819 Treaty of Saginaw.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14388

University College Dublin

Rank: ERC Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

A senior post-PhD ERC research fellow with training in political and social science is being recruited to join an ERC-funded project at UCD's School of Politics and international Relations: Democracy Challenged. You will be tasked with supporting the quantitative and experimental survey aspects of the project. You will work directly with the Principal Investigator/research team on the work package that analyses the relationship between the media, democracy and inequality. More specifically, you will support the PI in implementing cross-national survey experiments on public opinion, democracy and inequality in the USA, UK, France and Germany.

You can read more details about the Democracy Challenged project here:

(opens in a new window)<https://cordis.europa.eu/project/id/101125672>

To apply, please go to: (opens in a new window)https://my.corehr.com/pls/coreportal_ucdp/apply?id=017343

Applications due by Thursday, 27th June 2024, at 12pm.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 6/27/2024

Date Posted: 5/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14375

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2024-2025 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF06488>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by June 5, 2024, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14360

Tufts University

Rank: Lecturer in Political Theory, part-time

Part-time Lecturer in Political Theory Tufts Political Science Department

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position in political theory. The course load will be three courses: one in the fall semester and two in the spring semester. We are particularly interested in candidates who can teach one course on contemporary political thought and two courses focused on central questions in the history of political thought. These courses will be taught in person at Tufts University's Medford campus.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required; completion of the degree by July 1, 2024, is preferred.

Submit application materials to Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/144528

Applications must include a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching interests, and three confidential letters of recommendation sent directly by their authors. Note that our department is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and candidates' materials should address how they will promote these priorities in their professional careers.

The search committee will begin screening applications on May 15, 2024.

All offers are contingent on the successful completion of a background check.

Please direct any questions about the position to Paula Driscoll, Department Administrator, who can be reached at paula.driscoll@tufts.edu or 617-627-3466.

Tufts University, founded in 1852, prioritizes quality teaching and a commitment to active citizenship locally, regionally, and globally. Tufts University also prides itself on creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Current and prospective employees of the university are expected to have and continuously develop skills and dispositions for positively engaging with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and students.

Start Date: Spring 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13330

SOAS University of London

Rank: Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Politics and/or International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Job title: Lecturer / Senior Lecturer in Politics and/or International Relations X2

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 & Grade 9 - £60,239 - £69,132 p/a incl. London Allowance

Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Near and Middle East. SOAS University of London is positioned to play a leading role in reimagining higher education globally, with a new strategic plan in place as the basis for the renewal and revitalisation of the School which commits SOAS to both student responsiveness and research intensity. SOAS is moving towards a new model of international partnerships which is responsive to the transnational character of our global challenges

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading, research-led department, ranked 5th in the UK and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The Department is known for its combination of both academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on the politics and international relations of the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East).

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for two Lecturer / Senior (T&R) Lecturer positions in Politics and/or International Relations starting in the Autumn of 2024.

The role holder will be expected to contribute to—and shape—the Department’s research profile as well as the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Apart from the publication of outstanding academic research, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise both undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations, supervise PhD theses (pending completion of a probationary period), and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

Within the discipline of Politics and International Relations, the search is open as to disciplinary subfield and research specialism. Regional expertise is valued, and some experience running both on-campus and online modules, including Executive Education modules, will be beneficial.

Further information on key criteria for the role can be found in the Job Description and the Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities.

How to Apply: Please kindly visit the link below to submit an application.
<https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/job/540482&t#160>;

Closing date: 15th June 2024

Interviews: TBC

For more information on the role, including a full list of its duties and responsibilities please consult the Job Description and Person Specification found in the job pack attached.

For informal inquiries please contact the Head of Department, Professor Matthew J. Nelson, at mn6@soas.ac.uk.

Further information:

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact hr-recruitment@soas.ac.uk 'Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006' for the duration of their contract. SOAS will support visa applications for this role where possible.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 6/15/2024

Date Posted: 4/12/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13319

Waseda University

Rank: Tenure-track or tenured position in Political Theory/History of Political Thought

Specializations: Political Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical

Full information of the recruitment of this position is available at the following website:

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news-en/2024/04/11/21056/>

Faculty Recruitment Information in Political Theory/History of Political Thought

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics at Waseda University invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position in Political Theory/History of Political Thought to begin in the spring of 2025 (or a mutually agreed later date).

Waseda University, founded in 1882, is a leading private research university located in central Tokyo. As part of its globalization efforts, the Faculty of Political Science and Economics (the “FPSE”) has been offering degree programs in English for both undergraduate and graduate students since 2010, in addition to degree programs in Japanese. The programs provide diverse and dynamic academic opportunities for talented students from all around the world.

1. Affiliation:

The Faculty of Political Science and Economics (FPSE), Waseda University

2. Field:

Political Theory/History of Political Thought

3. Courses to be taught:

The courses to be taught by the successful candidate will be arranged from those listed below according to the candidate’s specialization.

- “Research Methods in Political Science (Normative Studies),” “Modern Political Thought,” and Seminar Courses for the Political Science Course in the Graduate School of Political Science

- “History of Political Thought,” “Public Philosophy (Political Perspectives),” and Advanced Seminar Courses for the School of Political Science and Economics (Undergraduate Program)

- Other related courses in the FPSE.

4. Qualifications:

- (1) Applicants must have research achievements in the field of Political Theory and/or History of Political Thought.
- (2) Applicants must be able to teach the courses stated in “3. Courses to be taught” in both Japanese and English.
- (3) Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree or expect to obtain it by the time of appointment.
- (4) Teaching experience in relevant courses at university level is desirable.

5. Number of positions available:
One

6. Position rank and title:
Professor (tenured), Associate Professor (tenured), Associate Professor (tenure-track), or Assistant Professor (tenure-track)

The position rank is determined by such factors as the applicant’s academic and research record, as well as evaluation during the screening process. It will be made known to the applicant at the final interview with the FPSE’s senior dean and other executive committee members.

General Idea of Tenure-Track Positions at the FPSE: (Detailed information will be provided after the second round of selection.)

A tenure-track position at FPSE shall be appointed either as Assistant Professor (tenure-track) or Associate Professor (tenure-track), for three years in the first term, followed by two years of reappointment and an additional two years of reappointment, for a total of up to seven years. As a general rule, the interim review shall be carried out in the second semester of the third year (sixth semester) following the appointment and completed within the first three-year term on the tenure track. When a tenure-track faculty member passes the interim review, the first reappointment of two years shall be confirmed before the end of the initial appointment (three years).

By default, the final review shall be carried out in the second semester of the fifth year (tenth semester) and completed by the end of the fifth year on the tenure track. When the tenure-track faculty member passes the final review, the faculty member will become a tenured faculty member from the following semester. The second reappointment of two years may be granted to a tenure-track faculty member who fails the final review. The tenure-track faculty member may request an interim review or a final review at any time in or after the second semester of the second year (fourth semester) following appointment.

If maternity and/or parental leave is taken before the end of the interim or final review, the period of the tenure-track faculty member may be extended by a period equivalent to the maternity and/or parental leave, subject to the approval of the University, provided that the total period of continuous service does not exceed 10 years.

If you have had an employment contract with Waseda University (regardless of job title) since April 1, 2013, and there is no period of at least six months without an employment contract with Waseda University at the scheduled start of this position, in principle, there is a limit to the duration of the employment contract. Therefore, the above may not be applied.

7. Working conditions:

- Salary, allowances, and commuting expenses are commensurate with qualifications and are based on Waseda University pay scales.
- The workplace will, in principle, be on a Waseda University campus.

- Scheduled working days and working hours (starting/finishing times and rest periods) are based on university regulations. The discretionary labor system for professional work will be applied to research work. Considering the nature of research work, working hours are at the discretion of each faculty member.

- Holidays:

Holidays are Saturdays, Sundays, New Year’s holidays, legally recognized public holidays, and compensatory holidays appointed by the University for holding classes on public holidays and the anniversary of the University’s founding. Holidays prescribed as working days determined by the University in advance will be excluded. There may be cases where classes and other types of FPSE work will be scheduled on holidays. Employees may take compensatory holiday(s) for those occasions. For the academic calendar of the university, please see the URL below.

<https://www.waseda.jp/top/en/about/work/organizations/academic-affairs-division/academic-calendar>

- Leave:

Leave is determined by the Labor Standards Act and other related laws, including days that are designated by the University as leave days.

- Social insurance:

Pension, health insurance, labor insurance, and employment insurance are provided based on university regulations.

- Research Funding:

Individual research allowance: 210,000 yen (per year)

Academic conference traveling subsidies: 90,000 yen (per year)

International academic conference traveling subsidies: 110,000 yen (per year)

Other competitive research funds are available at Waseda University.

- Retirement benefits:

Retirement benefits will be paid to tenured Professors and tenured Associate Professors in accordance with university regulations.

No retirement benefits will be provided to Associate Professors (tenure-track) and Assistant Professors (tenure-track). However, if they continue to serve as tenured faculty members after the term as tenure-track faculty members, retirement benefits will be provided in accordance with university regulations. The period of service for calculating the retirement benefits of a tenured faculty member is counted from the date of appointment as an Associate Professor (tenure-track) or Assistant Professor (tenure-track).

8. Scheduled start of employment:

April 1, 2025 (or a mutually agreed later date)

9. Application procedure:

All applications must be submitted via the following website:

https://www.wasedapse.jp/en/fpse2/eng_input.php

On the web application form, choose “Political Theory/History of Political Thought” in the “Application Category.”

In “References,” please provide contact information for three referees. If the candidate makes it to the second stage, we will ask them to provide us with a letter of recommendation.

Please prepare PDF copies of the following documents and upload each document to the relevant sections of “Application Documents.”

Please be sure to read the “Notes for using the Web Application Form” from the link below before filling in the Web Application Form.
https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/assets/uploads/2020/01/20200128_Notes-for-using-the-Web-Application-Form.pdf

Templates for the cover letter and curriculum vitae are available from the following website: <https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news-en/2024/04/11/21056/>

1) Cover letter with your contact information:

Download the prescribed form from the above website. Fill out the form and upload it to “(1) Application Form/Cover Letter.”

2) A curriculum vitae with a list of academic/research accomplishments:

Upload it to “(2) Curriculum vitae with a list of academic/research accomplishments.” Use either a free format or the prescribed formats found on the website. Please put both curriculum vitae and academic/research accomplishments into a single PDF file when you use the prescribed formats.

3) A research statement:

Either in Japanese (approximately 2,000 characters/kana) or English (approximately 1,000 words). Describe your past research and future research plans. The format is free.

Upload it to “(3) Additional application material 1.”

4) A teaching statement:

Put following(s) into a single PDF file and upload it to “(3) Additional application material 2.”

- A teaching philosophy in Political Theory and/or History of Political Thought and (if applicable) teaching experience in the field. Either in Japanese (approximately 2,000 characters/kana) or in English (approximately 1,000 words). The format is free.

- The results of your course evaluation and any other evidence of your teaching ability (if applicable)

5) Up to three major academic works:

Put them together in a PDF file and upload the file to “(3) Additional application material 3.”

Should you wish to submit a hard copy of your work (books, book drafts, etc.), please send the material by registered mail to arrive on or before the application deadline. (Please note that items submitted will not be returned.)

The address is as follows:

Attn: Application for Faculty Position in Political Theory/History of Political Thought

Faculty of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University
1-6-1 Nishi Waseda, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-8050 Japan

6) Summary of your major academic works (up to three works):

Provide a summary of each work in approximately 600 characters/kana of Japanese or approximately 300 words of English. The format is free. Upload the summary to “(3) Additional application material 4.”

7) [Degree holder] Proof of the award of a Ph.D. degree (copy of a diploma or a certificate of degree conferral): Upload it to “(3) Additional application material 5.”

[Degree candidate] A document/letter which confirms when a doctoral degree is expected to be awarded. Upload it to “(3) Additional application material 5.”

When your application has been submitted successfully, you will receive an automatic reply titled “Notification of completion of registration (Waseda University)” to the email address you gave on the Web Application Form.

Please be sure to check that all the information you submitted and the documents you uploaded are shown in the email.

10. Deadline:

The deadline is 1 p.m., May 31, 2024 (JST).

11. Recruitment process:

There will be three stages to the recruitment process:

1) Shortlisting based on document screening.

2) An interview with members of the search committee, including a mock lecture and a research presentation.

3) An interview with the FPSE’s senior dean and the executive committee members.

The result of the recruitment process will be made known to the candidate. The schedule of the second stage, including travel arrangements, will be made known to candidates who pass the first stage.

12. Inquiries:

Inquiries should be made only by email. The address is as follows.
pse-hr-pt-hpt24@list.waseda.jp

Waseda University is committed to enhancing diversity and inclusion. In all matters related to faculty recruitment and promotion, the University prohibits any form of discrimination on the basis of sex, disability, sexual orientation and gender identity, nationality, ethnicity, creed, and age.

[END]

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 5/31/2024

Date Posted: 4/12/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 13317

Framingham State University

Rank: Full-time position (one year) in American Politics and Public Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science, Law, and Global Studies at Framingham State University invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure-track, full-time position in American politics and Public Law, beginning in the 2024-2025 academic year.

We are seeking candidates deeply committed to teaching in a liberal arts environment. Full-time faculty members at Framingham State teach three 4-credit courses per semester.

Duties include undergraduate teaching, research and scholarship, and service to the department and Framingham State University. The successful candidate will teach introductory and advanced courses in American government, constitutional and public law, and judicial politics to undergraduate prelaw students. Interest in teaching courses on racial and gender diversity in American politics and law, and/or the intersection of law and technology, is a plus. Responsibilities will also include serving as the prelaw advisor to students interested in applying to law school. The successful candidate will also demonstrate an active interest in mentoring and inspiring students who are traditionally underrepresented in the field of law and legal careers.

Requirements

Minimum Qualifications:

- J.D. or a Ph.D. in Political Science in a law-related field.

- ABD's will also be considered (PhD must be completed by August 31, 2024).
- Experience teaching relevant undergraduate courses.
- Experience with or a demonstrated willingness to participate in teaching, mentoring, research, or service activities that promote the growth of an equitable, diverse, and inclusive academic environment.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, or a related discipline.
- Experience teaching introductory and advanced-level courses in American politics and public law.

Additional Information

This is a full-time, exempt, benefits-eligible position in the Massachusetts State College Association (MSCA) bargaining unit at an open rank consistent with credentials and experience. Salary commensurate with experience per Appendix O of the MSCA contract (<http://mscaunion.org/day-and-dgce-contracts/>).

Framingham State University conducts criminal history and sexual offender record checks on recommended finalists prior to final employment for all positions.

Framingham State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Members of underrepresented groups, minorities, women, veterans, persons with disabilities, and all persons committed to diversity and inclusive excellence are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

Candidates must apply online by submitting:

- Cover letter addressing teaching philosophy and any areas of specialization/expertise,
- CV/Resume,
- Equity and inclusion statement*, and
- The names and contact information for three professional references (references are not automatically contacted at the time of application).

*An Equity and Inclusion Statement is a personal statement on a candidate's past efforts, as well as future plans, to enhance diversity, equity, and inclusion. Regardless of personal demographic characteristics, FSU has a commitment to hiring candidates who share our commitment to the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AAC&U) Inclusive Excellence Model. The equity and inclusion statement is an opportunity for candidates to discuss scholarship, professional skills, experience, and/or willingness to engage in activities that would enhance the university's efforts to promote a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Equity and inclusion statements will be considered as part of a transparent and comprehensive review of candidates' application materials.

Official transcripts must be submitted upon appointment.

Candidates must apply by May 15, 2024, for full consideration though the position will remain open until filled.

Specific inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Joseph Coelho, chairperson of the department at jcoelho2@framingham.edu

Framingham State University only accepts application materials through our online application system. We are unable to accept application materials through mail, email, fax, or hand delivery. If you experience technical issues with the online application process, please submit a helpdesk ticket.

Framingham State University understands that persons with specific disabilities may need assistance with the job application process and/or with the interview process. For confidential assistance, please contact the Human Resources Office at 508-626-4530 or humanresources@framingham.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/10/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13313

Florida International University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor (American Politics; Political Theory)

The Department of Politics and International Relations (PIR), in the Steven J. Green School of International & Public Affairs at Florida International University in Miami, FL, invites applications for a Teaching Assistant Professor (non-tenure track) position in American Politics and Political Theory, with a focus on online teaching and learning. Ability to teach online courses in American Politics and Political Theory (especially the introductory courses in these fields) is a must. A successful candidate will have significant experience with, and demonstrated effectiveness in, fully online teaching modalities. This faculty member will support online teaching in PIR and will assist the Director of Online Learning in this role. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline is required. The anticipated starting date is August 13, 2024.

The Department, situated in the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (<https://sipa.fiu.edu>), is home to more than 1,700 undergraduate majors, almost 100 graduate students, and 38 faculty (<https://pir.fiu.edu>). The university and the department value the diversity and inclusivity of our campus community and the curriculum. Faculty enjoy opportunities to work with colleagues in FIU's centers and institutes: the African and African Diaspora Studies program, the Center for the Administration of Justice, the Center for Women's and Gender Studies, the Cuban Research Institute, the Global Energy Security Forum, the Jack D. Gordon Institute for Public Policy and Citizenship Studies, the Jewish Studies Program, the Latin American and Caribbean Center, the Miami-Florida Jean Monnet European Studies Program, the Jaffer Center for Muslim World Studies, and more.

In September 2021, the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (Green School) received full membership in the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA). This prestigious organization includes the top 40 schools of international affairs in the world. The SIPA is among 25 in the US with this designation, 5th in the Southeastern United States, and the 1st and only in the State of Florida.

Florida International University is a top public university that drives real talent and innovation in Miami and globally. Very high research (R1) activity and high social mobility come together at FIU to uplift and accelerate learner success in a global city by focusing in the areas of environment, health, innovation, and justice. Today, FIU has two campuses and multiple centers. FIU serves a diverse student body of more than 56,000 and 290,000 Panther alumni. U.S. News and World Report places dozens of FIU programs among the best in the nation, including international business at No. 2. Washington Monthly Magazine ranks FIU among the top 20 public universities contributing to the public good.

Qualified candidates are encouraged to apply to Job Opening ID 531925 at <https://facultycareers.fiu.edu> and include the following as part of their application: (1) a curriculum vitae, (2) a cover letter, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a recent writing sample, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy and teaching interests, and (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness. Candidates will be requested to provide names and contact information for at least three references who will be contacted as determined by the search committee. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

If you have any questions, please contact the Department of Politics and International Relations at pir@fiu.edu.

FIU is a member of the State University System of Florida and an Equal Opportunity, Equal Access Affirmative Action Employer all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13298

University of Houston

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Visiting Assistant Professor – Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor for the academic year Fall 2024-Spring 2025. We seek applicants who have research and teaching interests in Political Theory. Special consideration will be given to those whose research agendas will add to the department's existing strengths in this subfield and have potential for collaboration with a variety of current faculty. Successful candidates will demonstrate a clear commitment to undergraduate teaching. Review of applications will begin April 8 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence and cultural diversity in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003359. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation.

For further information please contact Professor Jeffrey Church, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at jchurch@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13270

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, Normative Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Political Theory at the rank of Associate (with tenure) or Full Professor, beginning as early as July 1, 2024. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in Normative Political Theory. We are open as well to those operating at the intersection of political theory and allied subfields/disciplines. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and a CV. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/138148>. Review of applications will begin February 15, 2024, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

<http://apply.interfolio.com/138148>

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 1/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13056

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Politics (American Politics)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in American politics, to begin in the fall of 2024. We are interested in a candidate with a range of interests, including but not limited to public opinion, ideology, political parties, elections, and the presidency. The successful candidate could also play an important advisory role for our Washington, D.C. internship programs. The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, and institutional perspectives. Situated on a large and beautiful campus, Catholic University is only three metro stops from the Capitol. Politics is one of the largest majors on campus, attracting many students who value the community of a Catholic university while pursuing careers related to politics and law in the nation's capital. The department's Ph.D program has a long and distinguished history, and the development of professionally minded M.A. programs is a university priority.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12478

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Job no: 531489

Work type: Instructional Faculty – Tenured/Tenure-Track

Location: Long Beach

Categories: Unit 3 - CFA - California Faculty Association, Faculty - Letters/Humanities, Tenured/Tenure-Track, Full Time

Position: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Effective Date: August 19, 2024 (Fall Semester)

Salary: The Assistant Professor (Academic Year) classification salary is $5,405 to $11,994/per month (12 monthly payments per academic year). The anticipated hiring range is $6,667 to $7,084/per month. Salary offered is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application Deadline: Review of applications to begin October 3, 2023. Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled).

College of Liberal Arts
Department of Political Science

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory. Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2024.

- Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching

- Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication

- Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance

- Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population

Preferred Qualifications:

- Evidence of academic training in the canon of political theory (i.e., antiquity, modernity, and contemporary thought)

- Evidence of scholarly activities grounded in political theory and focusing on timely topics central to the discipline (e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic and critical race theory, gender studies and feminist scholarship, migration studies, postcolonial and decolonial theory, politics of indigeneity, environmental theory, disability studies, non-Western and queer theory, the carceral state, political economy and inequality/oppression, nationalism, technology and political theory, and the impact of COVID)

- Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., ancient and modern political thought, recent ideology, special topics in political theory, and the graduate seminar)

- Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity

- Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body
- Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service
- Experience of successfully working with populations demographically and socioeconomically similar to the CSULB student body (Demographics)

Duties:

- Teach courses in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels [Mode of instruction may include in-person, hybrid, online, and/or any combination thereof.]
- Develop courses in political theory at undergraduate and graduate levels
- Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and theses
- Engage in research leading to conference participation and peer-reviewed publications
- Participate in faculty governance
- Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community

The Department of Political Science takes great pride in having one of the most diverse student bodies in higher education. We have more than 600 students in one of our three academic programs: a Bachelor of Arts, a Minor, and a Master of Arts. Our 19 full-time and 15 part-time faculty are passionate about teaching politics in the twenty-first century, offering courses that are directly relevant to the contemporary world. Together we seek to provide our students the foundational knowledge and skills essential to understand and engage issues relevant to our common political life today. Our department offers numerous programs and clubs, including Moot Court, Model United Nations, undergraduate and graduate student associations, a chapter of the Pi Sigma Alpha National Honor Society, internship and research opportunities, a Legal Studies certificate, and much more.

The College of Liberal Arts at CSULB is the largest college on campus, with thirty-one excellent departments and programs, several innovative centers and projects, over 685 outstanding faculty members, and over 74 individual staff members. The college faculty are among the best in the nation and have received a variety of national and international awards. CLA has 9300 undergraduate students pursuing a variety of highly valued degrees through the college's 99 unique majors and minors. Additionally, 575 graduate students are also obtaining advanced degrees and special certificates in the college. With degrees ranging from humanities and foreign languages to social and behavioral sciences, CLA's graduates are well-rounded citizens, effective communicators, and analytical thinkers who live knowledgeable, responsibly, and humanely in a world where complex problems demand informed, creative, and thoughtful solutions. The skills gained through degrees from CLA are invaluable and open up countless career paths for graduates to follow.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

Information on excellent benefits package available to CSULB faculty is located here: CSU Employee Benefits

How to Apply - Required Documentation:

- An Equity and Diversity Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (maximum two pages, single-spaced). For further information and guidelines, please visit: Equity and Diversity Statement
- Letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications
- CV
- Names and contact information for three references (to be contacted for confidential letters of recommendation should the applicant reach the semi-finalist stage)
- Writing sample(s)
- Teaching evaluations, if applicable
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree (to be submitted by request should you reach the semi-finalist stage)
- Finalists should be prepared to submit an official transcript (e-transcript preferred, if available)

How to Apply: Click Apply Now icon (at the web address below) to complete the CSULB online application

Requests for information about the position should be addressed to:

Mary Caputi, Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

562-985-4705 or E-Mail: mary.caputi@csulb.edu

EMPLOYMENT REQUIREMENTS:

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 Revised July 21, 2017 as a condition of employment.

CSU Vaccination Policy

CSU requires faculty, staff, and students who are accessing campus facilities to be immunized against COVID-19 or declare a medical or religious exemption from doing so. Any candidates advanced in a currently open search process should be prepared to comply with this requirement. The systemwide policy can be found at <https://calstate.policystat.com/policy/9779821/latest/> and questions may be sent to fahr@csulb.edu.

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race or ethnicity (including color or ancestry), nationality, religion or religious creed, gender (or sex), gender identity (including transgender), gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, disability (physical or mental), medical condition, genetic information, age, veteran or military status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Applications close: Open until filled

Full information with active links available here: <https://careers.pageuppeople.com/873/lb/en-us/job/531489/assistant-professor-of-political-science-political-theory>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2023

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 12420

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Political Theory

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach our introductory course in political theory, POLISCI 108: Contemporary Political Ideologies. A description of this courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University <https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog->

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of political theory. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of

Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East
- Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010;
Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8845

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Lehigh University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor for Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Lehigh University is in need of an instructor for POLS 360/460 (Public Administration) for Summer Session II 2024 (July 1-August 8, 2024). The class is scheduled on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00-9:50 p.m. It can be taught face-to-face, online, or in a hybrid format. The mode is entirely up to the instructor. Interested individuals should send a CV to Brian Fife, Chair, Department of Political Science, at blf218@lehigh.edu.

Lehigh University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Affirmative Action employer. The College of Arts and Sciences at Lehigh University is committed to increasing the diversity and inclusion of the college community and curriculum.

Start Date: Summer 2024
Application Deadline: 6/21/2024
Date Posted: 5/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14389

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration/Public Management/Public Policy

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the fields of public policy, public administration, and/or public management. Of particular interest are scholars whose research and teaching focuses on public management, public policy, digital technologies and sustainability and with relevance to Asia.

Job Qualifications:
The ideal candidate will have:

- A completed PhD by 2024 in public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or related disciplines;
- Publications in top journals in the field and a strong pipeline of ground-breaking research / working papers;
- Demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in public management and policy; and
- A willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application:

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via CHRS Link. <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/24841/>

The package should include:

- A cover letter.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A research statement that outlines your publications at the very top journals, your current research interests and pipeline of working papers.
- A teaching statement detailing course taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Names and contact information for three referees.
- Up to two writing samples.

The review of applications will begin in early October 2024 and continue until positions are filled. Members of the hiring committee may be present at PMRC 2024 and/or APPAM 2024. Interested candidates are welcome to arrange meetings by writing to lkysppjoi-nus@nus.edu.sg

Additional Information:

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and the 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/28/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14374

Library of Congress

Rank: Research Manager - Executive Branch
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Regulatory Policy, Economic Policy, Congress

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is seeking a Section Research Manager (SRM) for the Executive Branch Section within the Government and Finance Division. The Research Manager leads the Section's public policy research and analysis of issues related to congressional oversight of the federal government. This includes the policies, procedures, management, and organization of the executive branch in both government-wide and agency-specific contexts.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 6/10/2024
Date Posted: 5/15/2024
Salary: Above $159,999
eJobs ID: 14357

Radford University

Rank: Instructor/Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Radford University is seeking a one-year non-tenure-track faculty member with an emphasis on law and legal studies, beginning in the Fall of 2024. Candidates with any legal specialty are welcome to apply. Candidates with additional expertise in Public Administration or political theory are particularly invited to apply. We seek a vibrant scholar who will add to the strengths in our department.

The faculty member will teach four classes per semester in consultation with the department chair based on student needs and departmental strategic priorities. This faculty member will mentor and advise students in the Legal Studies minor and coordinate with the Criminal Justice Department on the Mock Trial program. The new member of the Radford faculty will conduct scholarly research consistent with their field. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom instructors with an active research agenda.

Radford University is a comprehensive public university of over 7,700 students that has received national recognition for many of its undergraduate and graduate academic programs, as well as its sustainability initiatives. Radford University serves the Commonwealth of Virginia and the nation through a wide range of academic, cultural, human service and research programs. Well known for its strong faculty/student bonds, innovative use of technology in the learning environment and vibrant student life on a beautiful 211-acre American classical campus, Radford University offers students many opportunities to get involved and succeed in and out of the classroom. The University offers 76 bachelor's degree programs in 47 disciplines, and six certificates at the undergraduate level; 28 master's programs in 23 disciplines and six doctoral programs at the graduate level; and 17 post-baccalaureate certificates and one post-master's certificate. A Division I member of the NCAA and Big South Conference, Radford University competes in 16 men's and women's varsity athletics. With over 200 clubs and organizations, Radford University offers many opportunities for student engagement, leadership development and community service. In addition to robust academic offerings and engaging student experiences on the main campus located in Radford, Virginia, Radford University also offers a clinical-based educational experience for more than 1,100 students living and learning in Roanoke, Virginia as part of Radford University Carilion, a public-private partnership focused on the cutting-edge delivery of health sciences programming, outreach and service.

Candidates can apply at <https://jobs.radford.edu/postings/14219>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13316

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: Assistant Professor

About The University of Texas at El Paso

The University of Texas at El Paso is America's leading Hispanic-serving university. Located at the westernmost tip of Texas, where three states and two countries converge along the Rio Grande, UTEP is a comprehensive public research university that is increasing access to excellent higher education. We advance the discovery of public value and positively impact the health, culture, education, and economy of the community we serve. Eighty-four percent of our students are Hispanic, and half of undergraduates are the first in their families to go to college. Deeply woven into the University's character are the distinctive strengths of the people we serve. At UTEP, our 24,000 students have access to 169 bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree programs. Located in the second-most educated city in Texas, UTEP is recognized as one of the best research universities in the country for connecting students with the community around them. UTEP is one of only four institutions in Texas to hold both the top research and community engagement designations from the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education.

The Department of Communication is one of the largest majors at the university, with faculty and over 700 students in five areas of study; Advertising, Communication Studies, Corporate and Organizational Communication, Digital Media Production, and Multimedia Journalism. The Department also offers a Master Arts in Communication. Our 12 tenured and tenure-track faculty and a diverse pool of non-tenure track faculty, engage in communication research and prepare students for applied communication careers; many faculty members focus on Latina/o communication issues in the United States, and we also have a number of faculty focused on global issues and international contexts.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is a growing unit of scholars dedicated to disciplinary and interdisciplinary research. Our current composition of 13 tenured and tenure-track faculty and 6 non-tenure track faculty also dedicate themselves to educate future generations of leaders. The Department offers a Master of Public Administration accredited by the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), a Graduate Certificate in Nonprofit Administration, and an undergraduate concentration and minor in Public Administration.

Job Description:

We are seeking a scholar with a focus on human resource management (preferably as it relates to diversity management), organizational communication, communication and organizational culture, and/or stakeholder/community engagement and responsiveness. We are especially interested in scholars that conduct empirical research that examines how public and nonprofits actors engage underserved or traditionally marginalized groups. The position will be a joint appointment between the Department of Communication and the Department of Political Science and Public Administration with a tenure home in one of these two departments.

Requirements

Required Qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Communication, or a closely related field from an accredited university. ABD applicants will be considered if a doctorate will be in hand by fall 2024. An active research agenda and published scholarly journal articles are required. The potential to secure external funding is highly valued.

Preferred Areas: Preference will be given to candidates who have teaching and/or research expertise in one or more areas listed in the job description.

Application Instructions

Applicants must electronically submit: (1) letter of interest that specifies teaching areas and research expertise; (2) curriculum vita; (3) one scholarly publication or working paper; (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness; (5) graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for application; official one needed at hiring) and (6) names and full contact information of three references that we may contact. If you have questions about the position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Eric Boyer at ejboyer@utep.edu

Application Review Date: Review of applications will begin December 1, 2023, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please visit www.utep.edu/employment.

Additional Information

Hiring decisions are based on budget approval.

In keeping with its access, excellence, and impact mission, The University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all. We seek to attract faculty and staff who share our commitment.

The University of Texas at El Paso is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation, or gender identity in employment or the provision of services in accordance with state and federal law. Discrimination on the basis of sex includes an employee's or prospective employee's right to be free from sexual harassment under Title IX of the Higher Education Amendments of 1972.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12610

PUBLIC LAW

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in American public law with a focus on constitutional law; the ability to offer courses in international or comparative law is a plus. The successful applicant will serve as faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society and Moot Court team and may teach, as needed, introductory courses in American Politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs near completion may also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14370

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations, Civil Rights & Liberties

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives, and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry. The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system professor at the rank of Assistant Professor in the field of public law, broadly construed.

Candidates from all subfields and methodological approaches whose research and teaching contribute to the scientific study of law are strongly encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests would complement existing thematic areas and subfields within the department: Minority Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy, and/or American Politics. Substantive areas of interest include, but are not limited to, civil rights, civil liberties, comparative judicial institutions, comparative law, human rights, international law, judicial behavior, judicial elections, or the philosophy of law.

Candidates with a history of receiving external research funding, or those with mature plans to apply for funding, will be highly favored. The candidate would be expected to teach courses and mentor students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Equal Opportunity Statement

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, disability, or protected veteran status.

Required Degree

Doctorate

Minimum Requirements

- Completed PhD by the date of hire.
- Research and teaching interests that contribute to the scientific study of law.
- Potential for high impact peer-reviewed publications.
- Potential for obtaining external funding.
- Potential for high-quality instruction and mentoring at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- Potential for working with students from diverse backgrounds and working to improving access to higher education for all students.

Desired Qualifications

- Research and teaching interests that connect with existing thematic areas and/or subfields within the Department of Political Science (see position summary).

Required Application Materials

Electronic submission is required, and materials should be uploaded at <http://careers.msu.edu> (posting number 950778). Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, a diversity and inclusion statement, and contact information three references.

The search committee members are Ryan Black (search chair, rblack@msu.edu), Ana Bracic (bracic@msu.edu), and Cory Smidt (smidtc@msu.edu). Please contact any committee member with questions about this position.

Review of Applications Begins On September 23, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14359

Southern Illinois University, Carbondale

Rank: Assistant Professor of Practice in Prelaw and Legal Studies

Description

The School of Anthropology, Political Science, and Sociology seeks an Assistant Professor of Practice (Non-Tenure Track) in Prelaw and Legal Studies. This is a renewable nine-month appointment, beginning August 16, 2024. This is a full-time position with responsibilities that include teaching courses, mentoring students, assisting in program coordination, and participating in recruitment & retention. The position requires a PhD in Political Science or a JD.

Examples of Duties

The successful candidate will participate in undergraduate teaching and mentorship (75 percent) and provide School/University service appropriate to their academic rank (25 percent). Specifically, the candidate will:

- > Teach high-quality courses in law and society, constitutional law, and other topics in legal studies. This includes teaching both on-campus, in-person courses and online, distance-education courses.
- > Provide mentorship and guidance to students interested in applying to law school and pursuing a career in law.
- > Actively participate in recruitment and retention efforts, collaborating with College recruitment and retention staff.
- > Assist the School in the coordination of the Political Science prelaw and legal studies programs.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A PhD in Political Science or a Juris Doctorate. Applicants with a PhD must demonstrate a specialization in public law. Applicants will be considered if all requirements for the degree will be completed by August 15, 2024. If all degree requirements are not completed by August 15, 2024, the candidate will be appointed at the lower rank at a reduced salary (see <https://policies.siu.edu/personnel-policies/chapter2/ch2-faps/faculty-contingent.php>).

In addition to the degree requirement, applicants must demonstrate:

- > Experience teaching undergraduate students.
- > Commitment to recruiting and mentoring students who are interested in the law and legal careers.
- > Commitment to working with students from diverse backgrounds such as racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify as LGBTQ+, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first-generation or otherwise underserved college students.

Preferred Qualifications:

- > Candidates who demonstrate excellence in mentoring students interested in the law and legal careers are preferred.
- > Candidates with experience in the legal profession are preferred.

Supplemental Information

Contact: Stacia Werner, swerner@siu.edu Applications must be submitted online <https://jobs.siu.edu>.

SIU Carbondale, member of the SIU System, is an anti-racist community that opposes racism, discrimination and inequity in any form, and embraces diversity, inclusion, equity, and justice for all people.

SIU Carbondale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of individuals with disabilities and protected veterans that strives to enhance its ability to develop a diverse faculty and staff and to increase its potential to serve a diverse student population. All applications are welcomed and encouraged and will receive consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 5/31/2024

Date Posted: 5/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14352

Radford University

Rank: Instructor/Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Radford University is seeking a one-year non-tenure-track faculty member with an emphasis on law and legal studies, beginning in the Fall of 2024. Candidates with any legal specialty are welcome to apply. Candidates with additional expertise in Public Administration or political theory are particularly invited to apply. We seek a vibrant scholar who will add to the strengths in our department.

The faculty member will teach four classes per semester in consultation with the department chair based on student needs and departmental strategic priorities. This faculty member will mentor and advise students in the Legal Studies minor and coordinate with the Criminal Justice Department on the Mock Trial program. The new member of the Radford faculty will conduct scholarly research consistent with their field. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom instructors with an active research agenda.

Radford University is a comprehensive public university of over 7,700 students that has received national recognition for many of its undergraduate and graduate academic programs, as well as its sustainability initiatives. Radford University serves the Commonwealth of Virginia and the nation through a wide range of academic, cultural, human service and research programs. Well known for its strong faculty/student bonds, innovative use of technology in the learning environment and vibrant student life on a beautiful 211-acre American classical campus, Radford University offers students many opportunities to get involved and succeed in and out of the classroom. The University offers 76 bachelor's degree programs in 47 disciplines, and six certificates at the undergraduate level; 28 master's programs in 23 disciplines and six doctoral programs at the graduate level; and 17 post-baccalaureate certificates and one post-master's certificate. A Division I member of the NCAA and Big South Conference, Radford University competes in 16 men's and women's varsity athletics. With over 200 clubs and organizations, Radford University offers many opportunities for student engagement, leadership development and community service. In addition to robust academic offerings and engaging student experiences on the main campus located in Radford, Virginia, Radford University also offers a clinical-based educational experience for more than 1,100 students living and learning in Roanoke, Virginia as part of Radford University Carilion, a public-private partnership focused on the cutting-edge delivery of health sciences programming, outreach and service.

Candidates can apply at <https://jobs.radford.edu/postings/14219>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13316

Framingham State University

Rank: Full-time position (one year) in American Politics and Public Law

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science, Law, and Global Studies at Framingham State University invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure-track, full-time position in American politics and Public Law, beginning in the 2024-2025 academic year.

We are seeking candidates deeply committed to teaching in a liberal arts environment. Full-time faculty members at Framingham State teach three 4-credit courses per semester.

Duties include undergraduate teaching, research and scholarship, and service to the department and Framingham State University. The successful candidate will teach introductory and advanced courses in American government, constitutional and public law, and judicial politics to undergraduate prelaw students. Interest in teaching courses on racial and gender diversity in American politics and law, and/or the intersection of law and technology, is a plus. Responsibilities will also include serving as the prelaw advisor to students interested in applying to law school. The successful candidate will also demonstrate an active interest in mentoring and inspiring students who are traditionally underrepresented in the field of law and legal careers.

Requirements

Minimum Qualifications:

- J.D. or a Ph.D. in Political Science in a law-related field.
- ABD's will also be considered (PhD must be completed by August 31, 2024).
- Experience teaching relevant undergraduate courses.
- Experience with or a demonstrated willingness to participate in teaching, mentoring, research, or service activities that promote the growth of an equitable, diverse, and inclusive academic environment.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, or a related discipline.
- Experience teaching introductory and advanced-level courses in American politics and public law.

Additional Information

This is a full-time, exempt, benefits-eligible position in the Massachusetts State College Association (MSCA) bargaining unit at an open rank consistent with credentials and experience. Salary commensurate with experience per Appendix O of the MSCA contract (<http://mscaunion.org/day-and-dgce-contracts/>).

Framingham State University conducts criminal history and sexual offender record checks on recommended finalists prior to final employment for all positions.

Framingham State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Members of underrepresented groups, minorities, women, veterans, persons with disabilities, and all persons committed to diversity and inclusive excellence are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

Candidates must apply online by submitting:

- Cover letter addressing teaching philosophy and any areas of specialization/expertise,
- CV/Resume,
- Equity and inclusion statement*, and
- The names and contact information for three professional references (references are not automatically contacted at the time of application).

*An Equity and Inclusion Statement is a personal statement on a candidate's past efforts, as well as future plans, to enhance diversity, equity, and inclusion. Regardless of personal demographic characteristics, FSU has a commitment to hiring candidates who share our commitment to the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AAC&U) Inclusive Excellence Model. The equity and inclusion statement is an opportunity for candidates to discuss scholarship, professional skills, experience, and/or willingness to engage in activities that would enhance the university's efforts to promote a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Equity and inclusion statements will be considered as part of a transparent and comprehensive review of candidates' application materials.

Official transcripts must be submitted upon appointment.

Candidates must apply by May 15, 2024, for full consideration though the position will remain open until filled.

Specific inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Joseph Coelho, chairperson of the department at jcoelho2@framingham.edu

Framingham State University only accepts application materials through our online application system. We are unable to accept application materials through mail, email, fax, or hand delivery. If you experience technical issues with the online application process, please submit a helpdesk ticket.

Framingham State University understands that persons with specific disabilities may need assistance with the job application process and/or with the interview process. For confidential assistance, please contact the Human Resources Office at 508-626-4530 or humanresources@framingham.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/10/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 13313

Amherst College

Rank: Assistant Professor Race and American Law

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Race & Ethnic Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the area of Race and American Law. The college is committed to cultivating an inclusive and critically engaged educational environment. Nearly one-quarter of Amherst's students are Pell Grant recipients; close to half of our students are domestic students of color. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse in matters of gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, socioeconomic status, sexual identity, political outlook, and religion.

In searching in the field of race and American law, we seek a colleague who sees the domain broadly through the light of theory, practice, and history. We are interested in candidates who conduct research into, for example: the legal construction of race; the moral and legal debates concerning race-based reparative and redistributive practices; the racial dimensions of carceral practices, understood both domestically and trans-nationally; the racial dimensions of the legal construction of space; the role that racial-thinking has played in the construction of immigration policy and the very idea of "Americanness"; how matters of race inform issues of environmental justice; and how the American legal response to the legacy of slavery compares and contrasts with that of other nations with a history of chattel slavery (eg. Brazil).

Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching are interdisciplinary. The position requires a Ph.D. (candidates must have the Ph.D. degree in hand or all requirements for the degree fulfilled by the start of the appointment) or a J.D. The start date for the position is July 1, 2025. To apply, candidates are asked to submit electronically (<https://apply.interfolio.com/142507>) a cover letter addressed to Professor Lawrence Douglas, a curriculum vitae, a sample of their scholarship, a teaching statement, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 3/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13251

University of South Carolina

Rank: Fulltime Professional Track Instructor in Public Law or American Politics

Full-Time Instructor in Public Law or American Politics

University of South Carolina

Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a full-time instructor position in Public Law or American Politics to begin August 16, 2024. We seek candidates who have experience teaching a wide range of classes including Constitutional Law, Civil Liberties, Judicial Process, American National Government, and other courses focused on the Founding Documents of the United States. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the start date of appointment.

From the Upstate to the Lowcountry, the University of South Carolina system is transforming the lives of South Carolinians through the impact of our eight institutions and 20 locations throughout the state. More than 50,000 students are enrolled at one of eight institutions, including the research campus in Columbia and comprehensive four-year universities in Aiken, Upstate and Beaufort. In addition, our Palmetto College campuses in Salkehatchie, Union, Lancaster, and Sumter enable students to earn associate or bachelor's degrees through a combination of in-person, online or blended learning. All of our system institutions place strong emphasis on service — helping to build healthier, more educated communities in South Carolina and beyond.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

How to Apply

Applicants must submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; two writing samples that demonstrate a significant ongoing research agenda; statements of research and teaching interests; graduate transcript; and contact information (including telephone number and email address) for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation (which must be submitted on appropriate letterhead). The position will remain open until filled, and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on March 15, 2024. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/163210>

Please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Darmofal (darmofal@mailbox.sc.edu) with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 2/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13154

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer in Public Law

Full-Time Teaching Track Lecturer (Promotion Eligible) in Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position in Public Law to begin Fall 2024. Lecturers at GSU are full-time faculty who are eligible for promotion to Senior Lecturer and Principal Lecturer.

Lecturers at GSU have both teaching and service requirements and are full members of the department's intellectual community and leadership team. In addition to helping the university achieve excellence in undergraduate teaching and serving on MA thesis committees, Lecturers meet a broad array of vital service needs, such as coordinating our core courses, directing undergraduate programs, leading study abroad trips, coaching academic teams, and developing innovative experiential learning courses. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity, and the College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks (including Lecturers) in college-level program development.

GSU is an urban research university located in downtown Atlanta. Designated as a minority-serving institution, and the only comprehensive Predominantly Black Institution with a R1 Carnegie Research Classification in the nation, GSU has one of the most diverse study bodies in the country and is nationally recognized for its record in student success regardless of race, ethnicity, and income level. The Department of Political Science prides itself on serving this student body and advancing innovative teaching and research. More information about the department is available here: <https://politicalscience.gsu.edu>.

Required Qualifications:

- Ability to teach courses related to public law such as: Judicial Politics and Process, Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Constitutional Law, Introduction to American Law and/or other courses of particular interest to the candidate, both online and in-person.
- Ability to deliver effective, high-impact instruction across all modalities.
- Interest in teaching and mentoring students from all backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning.
- A Ph.D. in hand, or evidence that a PhD will be awarded by Summer 2024, in Political Science or a related field.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated interest in pedagogical innovation.

Applicants should send a letter of application that details how the essential and (if applicable) preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also provide a list of at least three professional references (name, title, email address, and telephone number) who are willing to provide letters of reference in the future.

Please submit all materials electronically to polssearchpl@gsu.edu. Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or status as a protected veteran. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12791

Morningside University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: State Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Research Methods

Applications are invited for a tenure-track position in American Politics in the Department of Social Science with specialization in such areas as U.S. political institutions, public law, state and local politics, public policy, and/or research methods. The successful candidate will bring a quantitative approach that complements the department's commitment to methodological diversity and innovative approaches to teaching and research. Teaching responsibilities may include Introduction to U.S. Government, U.S. Law, US Constitution, State and Local Government, Research Methods in Political Science, Congress & Presidency, courses in general education (including a course in introductory statistics and first-year writing), and other courses in the applicant's area(s) of expertise. Ideal candidates will have an active scholarly agenda that may include collaborating with students.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related discipline; ABD will be considered. This position is a nine-month appointment beginning August 12, 2024. The teaching load is 20 credits per academic year plus a May term course once every three years.

Morningside, a private university located in Sioux City, Iowa, is admired for both its rich, connected campus community and exceptional active learning experiences. Established in 1894, the university has been led by its 13th president Dr. Albert Mosley since 2022 and is nestled within a serene 69-acre park-like campus in the heart of Iowa's fourth largest city. Morningside also offers academic environments at its 77-acre learning farm and at the Sioux Gateway Airport for its School of Aviation. The institution serves a community of approximately 2,300 students from almost all 50 states and more than 30 countries.

As a testament to its learning outcomes, more than 80% of undergraduate students have engaged in an internship, externship, student teaching, or preceptorship upon graduation, and for more than a decade 99% of students have gone on to a job or graduate school in their field of study within six months of graduation.

Residential undergraduate students can expect a tranquil and secure campus environment, propelling personal and professional growth. Student life includes around 50 student-led clubs and organizations, a wide array of visual and performing arts opportunities, and 28 varsity sports that regularly receive conference and national recognition. Morningside is also proud to serve as a regional resource for the Siouxland area, offering a variety of on-campus events and activities for students, alumni, and the community at large. Learn more at morningside.edu.

Review of applications for the position will begin immediately and will continue until filled. For fullest consideration, applicant materials should be received by Oct 31, 2023. Candidates for searches must have current authorization to be employed in the U.S. without employer sponsorship. Successful completion of a background check and education verification are required. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, sex, religion, creed, race, color, gender identity, sexual orientation, disability, genetic information, national origin, or other characteristics protected by state and federal law. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact the Director of Human Resources at welp@morningside.edu. Apply on-line only by submitting an email to facultysearch@morningside.edu entering Political Science Search in the subject line and attaching a PDF or Microsoft Word files for the following documents: A cover letter, current curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, a brief statement of research interests, and three letters of recommendation. If the letters of recommendation are not included in the application, they must be submitted electronically to the "facultysearch" email address provided above. Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Brian McFarland, mcfarlandb@morningside.edu.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/4/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12663

PUBLIC POLICY

Lehigh University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor for Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Lehigh University is in need of an instructor for POLS 360/460 (Public Administration) for Summer Session II 2024 (July 1-August 8, 2024). The class is scheduled on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00-9:50 p.m. It can be taught face-to-face, online, or in a hybrid format. The mode is entirely up to the instructor. Interested individuals should send a CV to Brian Fife, Chair, Department of Political Science, at blf218@lehigh.edu.

Lehigh University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Affirmative Action employer. The College of Arts and Sciences at Lehigh University is committed to increasing the diversity and inclusion of the college community and curriculum.

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: 6/21/2024

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14389

American Enterprise Institute

Rank: Jeane Kirkpatrick Fellowship Program

Overview

The American Enterprise Institute is inviting candidates to apply for an open scholar position in the Jeane Kirkpatrick Fellowship Program in Foreign and Defense Policy Studies. The program is open to mid-career academics, government, and civilian professionals in foreign policy and security studies who are looking for an opportunity to deepen their work.

The application period commences on May 1, 2024. The program begins in September 2024, although the starting date for new Jeane Kirkpatrick scholars is negotiable to accommodate existing personal and professional obligations. The program's duration is one year from the start date, with the possibility of a one-year extension.

Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis.

Fellowship Benefits:

Guided by the belief that American liberties are best preserved by a robust national defense and US global leadership, senior research fellows will conduct in-depth research to produce policy recommendations intended to enhance American security and interests. AEI will assist fellows in developing and disseminating their research by providing the support and training needed to publish serious longer works, place their work in the nation's most-read publications, brief policymakers, and host public and private events at the Institute.

Application Process:

Qualified applicants should apply at www.aei.org/jobs and submit a resume and a 1,000-word statement addressing academic interests, how this fellowship will enhance their professional goals, and which scholars they would like to work with in AEI's foreign and defense policy department.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14376

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration/Public Management/Public Policy

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the fields of public policy, public administration, and/or public management. Of particular interest are scholars whose research and teaching focuses on public management, public policy, digital technologies and sustainability and with relevance to Asia.

Job Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will have:

- A completed PhD by 2024 in public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or related disciplines;
- Publications in top journals in the field and a strong pipeline of ground-breaking research / working papers;
- Demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in public management and policy; and
- A willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application:

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via CHRS Link. <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/24841/>

The package should include:

- A cover letter.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A research statement that outlines your publications at the very top journals, your current research interests and pipeline of working papers.
- A teaching statement detailing course taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Names and contact information for three referees.
- Up to two writing samples.

The review of applications will begin in early October 2024 and continue until positions are filled. Members of the hiring committee may be present at PMRC 2024 and/or APPAM 2024. Interested candidates are welcome to arrange meetings by writing to lkysppjoinus@nus.edu.sg

Additional Information:

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and the 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14374

University of Southern California

Rank: Dean of the Sol Price School of Public Policy

The <https://usc.edu> invites nominations, expressions of interest, and applications for a remarkable scholar and leader to serve as the next dean of the <https://priceschool.usc.edu>, one of the country's premier schools improving the quality of life for people and communities, worldwide.

A global powerhouse that is ranked fourth nationally for schools of its kind, USC Price annually trains roughly 2,000 top graduate, doctoral, and undergraduate students from across the country and around the globe. Students choose Price because they want to use their degree to change the world, selecting from six areas of study: health policy and management; non-profits and philanthropy; public administration; public policy; real estate development; and urban planning. Price offers three bachelor's degrees, 17 master's degrees, and three doctoral degree programs. The school's location, in the heart of Los Angeles, provides endless opportunities to learn from distinguished faculty, access one of the most extensive and influential professional networks in the world, and learn in the living classroom that is Los Angeles. The Sacramento and Washington, D.C. Centers expand the living classroom, providing additional opportunities to those associated with the Price School.

USC Price is home to internationally recognized scholars with deep research strength. Investments from the National Institutes of Health, among other prestigious organizations, support this work, which is central to the school's policy impact, prestige, and classroom excellence.

The present and future leaders who attend USC Price leave the school with a profound understanding of ethics and public service; detailed awareness of how the public, nonprofit, and private sectors can intersect to achieve positive change; and the solid analytic, creative, and consensus-building skills necessary to solve pressing problems.

USC Price seeks in its next dean a leader with the highest aspirations and ambitions for the quality and reputation of the school and a deep commitment to its mission. The new dean will expand the school's impact; innovate for 21st century needs and challenges; develop faculty and staff and support student achievement; and build upon a foundation of fundraising success. The ideal candidate will bring academic leadership experience of progressively greater responsibility and a nationally, if not internationally, recognized research portfolio. Applied connection to policy or service is a plus. An earned doctorate or terminal degree along with demonstrated excellence as a teacher and a strong reputation in the academic community, sufficient to merit appointment as a tenured professor, is expected.

All applications, nominations, and inquiries are invited. Applications should include, as separate documents, a CV or resume and a letter of interest addressing the themes in the profile available at <https://apptrkr.com/5277645>.

The budgeted annual salary range that the University of Southern California reasonably expects to pay for the dean of the USC Price School is $475,000 to $575,000. This range takes into account a wide range of factors that are considered in making compensation decisions, including but not limited to experience, skills, knowledge, abilities, education, licensure and certifications, and other business and organizational needs. Salary offers are determined based on final candidate qualifications and experience.

For fullest consideration, application materials should be received by August 5, 2024. Applications and nominations can be directed to the WittKieffer consultants supporting this search:

Robin Mamlet, Melody Rose, Ph.D., and Alejandra Gillette-Teran

USCPriceDean@wittkieffer.com

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/23/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14368

Library of Congress

Rank: Research Manager - Executive Branch

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Regulatory Policy, Economic Policy, Congress

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is seeking a Section Research Manager (SRM) for the Executive Branch Section within the Government and Finance Division. The Research Manager leads the Section's public policy research and analysis of issues related to congressional oversight of the federal government. This includes the policies, procedures, management, and organization of the executive branch in both government-wide and agency-specific contexts.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 6/10/2024

Date Posted: 5/15/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14357

American University

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Applicants should hold a PhD or other terminal degree. Highly qualified applicants with a master's degree related to political science will be considered at the rank of instructor. The position will require the incumbent to teach three undergraduate or M.A. courses per semester in political science with a primary focus on American Politics and

Public Policy. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach GOVT 443/643 (Applied Political Writing), GOVT 210 (Political Power and American Public Policy), and GOVT 620 (Applied Politics and American Public Policy). All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three professional recommendations, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers.

Please contact Rachel Whelan, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or spa_academicaffairs@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

American University is a student-centered research institution located in Washington, DC, with highly ranked schools and colleges, internationally renowned faculty, and a reputation for creating meaningful change in the world.

Learn more about American University. <https://www.american.edu/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14334

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Full Time Instructor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a full-time instructor. The appointment will be for a one-year term. We invite applications from all specialists in all subfields of political science. Minimum qualifications: MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level. Preferred qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university. For more information about the department, see <https://psc.ua.edu/>. Please direct questions to Professor Daniel Levine, daniel.j.levine@ua.edu.

Position begins August 16, 2024.

Applicants should submit a cover letter summarizing their teaching qualifications and experience, courses prepared to offer, and reasons for interest in the position, a cv, evidence of teaching effectiveness, syllabi (if available), and the names and contact information of 3 references (ideally with knowledge of candidate's teaching experience). Letters will only be required for short-listed candidates..

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/522456>.

Deadline: Submit applications by May 20, 2024 for best consideration; screening of applications will continue until the positions are filled.

Minimum Qualifications

MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level.

Preferred Qualifications

PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/22/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 13332

University of Southern California

Rank: (Open Rank) Teaching Track or Practice Track

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications will begin April 29, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies

Department of Political Science and International Relations

Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352

University of Southern California

Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044

morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13324

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Adjunct Professor, Notre Dame Washington Program

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The University of Notre Dame's Washington Program seeks an adjunct professor to teach one class in Washington D.C. in Fall 2024 and Spring 2025.

The course should be in comparative politics or international relations fields in political science, policy, economics, or other related disciplines. The ideal candidate will be able to offer a course that takes advantage of the unique opportunity for students to learn in our nation's capital.

The course will be taught in person one night per week (preferably Monday) from 6:30 pm to 9:30 pm, for 14 sessions per semester. Enrollment in the course may range from 10-15 students. The position may be renewable.

The pay is $8,500 per class per semester.

Applicants should hold a PhD, or be nearly finished with their degree, in Political Science or a related discipline, or should have sufficient professional experience and accomplishment in related fields to offer a rigorous course as a practitioner.

Applications should include a letter of interest, a CV or resume, and a one page outline of course you would be prepared to teach highlighting the basic structure and content, a full syllabus is not necessary at this time.

Apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/143946>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 5/15/2024

Date Posted: 4/3/2024

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 13295

Valparaiso University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Valparaiso University invites applications for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor, in the Department of Political Science and International Relations (<https://www.valpo.edu/political-science>). Valparaiso University ("Valpo"), a community of learning grounded in the Lutheran tradition of scholarship, freedom, and faith, prepares students to lead and serve both church and society. Located one hour southeast of Chicago on a 310-acre campus, Valpo is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of just under 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students. Valpo is consistently recognized as one of the best private universities in the Midwest and is located in Valparaiso Indiana, a county seat of 35,000 residents with high quality schools and an active social community.

The successful candidate will teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations with a 24-credit teaching load over two semesters. The successful candidate will be required to teach an introductory course in undergraduate Research Methods and a course on the Politics of Developing States. The ability to offer additional courses in regional studies—especially Latin America, East Asia, or Industrialized States—and courses in Public Policy and/or Public Administration will also be beneficial. Teaching responsibilities may also include teaching in our interdisciplinary seminar for first-year students. This position is currently approved for one year, beginning August 2024.

Candidate should have a Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations by the position start date, but we will consider ABD applicants who will have completed all degree requirements prior to the start date. The ideal candidate will specialize in Comparative Politics with International Relations as a secondary field. Please direct inquiries about this position to Dr. James Old, Chair, at James.Old@valpo.edu.

As a campus with an increasingly diverse student body, we encourage applications from individuals with a commitment to mentoring students from underrepresented communities. Please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of recommendation to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/141703>. In your cover letter, please include brief statements of (a) how you might contribute to the university's distinctive mission, and (b) what experiences you have had that will enable you to mentor a diverse student body. Candidates who submit references should expect that the search committee will contact these references, in confidence, and that credentials will be confirmed prior to hire. Employment will require a satisfactory criminal background check. Applications will be considered until the position is filled; however, applicants are encouraged to apply by April 1, 2024 for timely consideration.

Valparaiso University does not unlawfully discriminate and aims to employ persons of various backgrounds and experiences to develop and support its diverse community. Its entire EOE policy can be found at <http://www.valpo.edu/general-counsel/policies/equal-opportunity-policy>.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/23/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13216

Connecticut College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of American Environmental Politics and Policy

Visiting Assistant Professor of American Environmental Politics and Policy

The Environmental Studies Program and the Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a one-year joint position as a visiting assistant professor in Environmental Studies and the U.S. politics subfield, whose focus is on U.S. environmental politics and policy, and who can teach a range of courses on U.S. environmental politics, policy, law and institutions. In addition to an introductory US Politics and Government course and an introductory environmental studies course, the successful candidate must be able to teach three intermediate courses in some aspect of U.S. environmental politics and policy, one of which will be a senior seminar in the field of environmental politics and policy (for a total of five courses). These politics and policy courses could, for example, focus on environmental institutions, law and courts, public policy, environmental justice, or environmental policy history.

A PhD or ABD in political science, government, public policy environmental studies, or a closely related field is required. The projected start date is July 1, 2024.

As a joint appointment between the Environmental Studies Program and the Department of Government and International Relations, the successful candidate will have the opportunity to participate in the collegial work of both academic disciplines. There are also opportunities to become involved in the College's interdisciplinary environmental sustainability certificate program or the work of the Office of Sustainability.

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts (can be unofficial), and at least three letters of recommendation to <http://apply.interfolio.com/140887>

E-mail inquiries should be sent to Doug Thompson, Director of the Environmental Studies Program at dmtho@conncoll.edu. Applications should be submitted by March 6, 2024 for full consideration.

The teaching load for a full-time visitor is five courses per academic year. We value the contributions visitors bring to our community and encourage their active engagement with their departments and all aspects of campus life during the course of their appointment. Visiting faculty are initially participating members of the faculty and voting members in their second and subsequent years; their presence is welcome at all faculty meetings.

Connecticut College is a private, highly selective institution with a demonstrated commitment to outstanding faculty teaching and research. We recognize that intellectual vitality and diversity are inseparable. The College seeks creative scholars excited about working in a liberal arts setting, with its strong focus on engaged teaching, participation in shared governance, and active involvement in an institution-wide advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion. AA/EOE

Effective June 8, 2023 Connecticut College no longer mandates the COVID-19 vaccine or boosters. The College strongly recommends that all students and employees be vaccinated and remain updated with their COVID-19 boosters.

Currently, the College is not sponsoring visas for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 3/6/2024

Date Posted: 2/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13185

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director, Data Analytics and Policy

Johns Hopkins University: Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences: Advanced Academic Programs

Application link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/139965>

Location: Washington, DC, 20001

Description

Position Description

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of assistant program director. This position will support the MS in Data Analytics and Policy program in the Center for Data Analytics, Policy, and Government within the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs division. Reporting to the director of the Data Analytics and Policy program and associate dean for graduate and professional programs, the assistant program director will contribute to the program's academic excellence and support ongoing innovation in the curriculum. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs

Advanced Academic Programs is a Krieger School of Arts and Sciences division at Johns Hopkins University. As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online in Washington, D.C., and on the Homewood campus in Baltimore, Maryland. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 30 degree programs.

AAP was launched in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of more than 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as program chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the Krieger School dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position

The Advanced Academic Programs division seeks an assistant program director to teach in and provide administrative support to the Data Analytics and Policy program. The Master of Science in Data Analytics and Policy prepares students to be data-driven leaders and decision-makers, with a curriculum that blends data science training with substantive expertise in politics and policy. The assistant program director has academic and administrative duties supporting the curriculum, students, adjunct faculty, and the program's public presence. The assistant program director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the program director and other faculty within the Center for Data Analytics, Policy, and Government, as well as across other AAP programs.

The assistant program director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of lecturer or senior lecturer, commensurate with experience. The assistant program director reports to the director of the data analytics and policy program, who consults with the center director and program chair on academic matters, and to the associate dean for graduate and professional programs, who leads AAP and reports to the Krieger School dean.

The assistant program director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities

- Teach five graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both onsite at the Johns Hopkins University Bloomberg Center in Washington, D.C., and online), using best practices for teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds
- Develop new courses, both in-person and online
- Coordinate with adjunct faculty in the delivery of multi-section courses
- Advise students, including both program and research advising
- Provide input on the curriculum to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs
- Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, and contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities

- Assist the program director with program administration, such as reviewing admission materials, developing program materials, and maintaining program communications
- Assist with the management of degree concentrations

- Organize professionally and academically enriching co-curricular programming that engages students and external audiences, such as skills workshops, networking opportunities, and public-facing events
- Participate in adjunct faculty hiring and development
- Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications

The assistant program director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The assistant program director must have a passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for part-time and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in political science, public policy, statistics, or other relevant field
- One to three years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- Expertise required to teach a variety of courses at the confluence of data analytics and policy, such as statistics, programming in R and Python, data visualization, research design, and political and public policy analysis
- Interest in leading and engaging with co-curricular programming and public-facing initiatives related to data analytics and public policy
- Strong organizational and problem-solving skills
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Ability to work collaboratively, iteratively, and creatively on program development

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level?
- 1-3 years of related professional work experience outside of academia, including but not limited to, government service, outside consulting, or collaborative work within fields related to politics, governance, and/or policy
- Professional interests in artificial intelligence, machine learning, and the application of these technologies to political and governmental processes
- Experience managing a degree or certificate program
- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design
- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions

For consideration interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials:

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position
- CV?
- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters
- Transcripts for every degree awarded

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check, provide three references, and submit proof of educational attainment.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/139965>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13130

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Associate Professor

Specializations: American Politics, Electoral Behavior, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a full-time, tenured associate professor to begin in August 2024. The successful applicant will conduct research and teach in the area of American Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach and expand our current offerings in public opinion, elections, or public policy (e.g., health, social, and energy/environmental policy, or policy process theory).

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-division undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. Candidates should demonstrate a record of excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured professor. The faculty member may assist the department in efforts to recruit, advise, and engage students and develop and refine the department's curriculum.

To apply, applicants should go to <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/26907> and submit the following materials: a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a published writing sample (article or book chapter), a research statement, a teaching statement, and evidence of teaching ability (2-3 course evaluations and/or syllabi). Applicants should also provide the names and contact information for three references. Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Brent Boyea at boyea@uta.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 2/15/2024

Date Posted: 12/22/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13065

Rowan University

Rank: Open Rank Tenure/Track Faculty Position, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Open

The Department of Political Science & Economics at Rowan University invites applications for one or more tenure-track positions in Political Science beginning in Fall 2024. The Department seeks candidates with expertise in public policy and the politics of health equity broadly constructed. Areas of research interest may include but are not limited to: welfare or social policies that relate to health including housing policy, food insecurity, Medicare and/or Medicaid expansion, the politics of the ACA, reproductive rights, LGBTQ+ rights, and other gender issues associated with health, and equal access to healthcare. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in both research and teaching, as well as the potential to secure external grant/fellowship support. Teaching responsibilities include introductory, advanced courses and graduate courses in American politics, methodology, and/or public policy.

A top 100 national public research institution, Rowan University offers bachelor's through doctoral and professional programs in person and online to 22,000 students through its main campus in Glassboro, N.J., its medical school campuses in Camden and Stratford, and five others. The University has earned national recognition for innovation, commitment to high-quality, affordable education, and developing public-private partnerships. A Carnegie-classified R2 (high research activity) institution, Rowan has been recognized as the fourth fastest-growing public research university, as reported by The Chronicle of Higher Education. For more information on Rowan University, click here.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants at the assistant professor level must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy (or related field) or ABD with a firm date of completion no later than July 1, 2024, a strong research agenda, and a commitment to quality teaching and active service. Associate or full professor applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy (or related field), a strong record of publications and external grant activity, and a commitment to quality teaching and active service.

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis until the position is filled. The first full review of applications will be on January 19, 2024. Applications must be submitted through our online applicant tracking system at <https://jobs.rowan.edu/en-us/job/499103/open-rank-tenure-track-faculty-position-political-science-department-of-political-science-and-economics>.

Applications must include a cover letter, a CV, unofficial transcripts, a writing sample, and a teaching portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, courses taught, teaching evaluations, etc.). Please do not submit letters of reference at this time.

Rowan University values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.

All positions are contingent upon budget appropriations.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12902

University of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Political Science at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor in American Politics (Public Policy) to begin August 16, 2024. The Department is open to all fields of specialization, including but not limited to criminal justice, health care, the environment, U.S. trade and immigration, digital technologies, social welfare, education, housing, or research addressing federalism or the policy process more generally.

The Department seeks to hire faculty broadly engaged in research that is field-bridging, adding to our Department's long tradition of intellectual diversity and pluralism in keeping with the themes of our recent cluster hires. While we are open to fields of study, we are particularly interested in candidates who combine rigorous and original scholarship and evidence of grant activity.

Successful applicants are expected to teach two courses per fall and two courses per spring semester, with a mix of introductory and advanced undergraduate courses and graduate seminars. The ability to develop experiential learning opportunities for undergraduates and excel in mentoring undergraduate research in the Department's Honors and Junior Fellows programs is a plus.

More information about the Department of Political Science can be found at: <http://www.polisci.ufl.edu>.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked the Number 1 public university in the United States by Wall Street Journal in its "2024 Best Colleges in the U.S." report. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville). The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF's large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program. Learn more about what Gainesville has to offer at Visit Gainesville.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 12573

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Politics (American Politics)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in American politics, to begin in the fall of 2024. We are interested in a candidate with a range of interests, including but not limited to public opinion, ideology, political parties, elections, and the presidency. The successful candidate could also play an important advisory role for our Washington, D.C. internship programs. The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, and institutional perspectives. Situated on a large and beautiful campus, Catholic University is only three metro stops from the Capitol. Politics is one of the largest majors on campus, attracting many students who value the community of a Catholic university while pursuing careers related to politics and law in the nation's capital. The department's Ph.D program has a long and distinguished history, and the development of professionally minded M.A. programs is a university priority.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12478

Catholic University of America

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Political Theory
Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a clinical (non-tenure track, two-year renewable contract) faculty appointment, to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should have expertise in public policy (American and/or comparative, as well as familiarity with the principles of Catholic social teaching). The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, ethical and institutional perspectives. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to teach both undergraduates and graduates, including students in a new MA in Public Policy program currently under development.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12475

Salem State University

Rank: Faculty - Public Policy - Full Time, Temporary

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Housing, American Politics

The politics, policy and international relations department at Salem State University invites a full-time, temporary faculty position for the 2024-2025 academic year. We are seeking a public policy specialist with familiarity with policies in an urban context such as housing, education, transportation, policing, poverty, and/or immigration. This position is part of a Salem State initiative to help establish and advance our proposed North Shore Policy Lab and may be reappointed for up to two additional years subject to available funding. With continued growth of the program, there may be additional tenure track lines in the department.

Housed in the department's Bates Center for Public and Global Affairs, the North Shore Policy Lab will involve students in research conducted on behalf of local and state government and non-governmental organizations in order to prepare them for jobs in the public, non-profit and/or private sectors.

The candidate should be well-versed in both quantitative and qualitative research methods and be able to teach our current Research Methods course as well as a new, advanced multi-methods class that will serve as the foundation for student work on applied policy research projects as a part of the policy lab. The ideal candidate will have a demonstrated record of community-based research and community partnerships with a focus on equity issues in the context of urban areas like those served by Salem State.

Salem State University is committed to excellence in teaching. We pride ourselves in providing first-rate classroom experiences and supervising intensive learning opportunities such as research and internships. Many of our students are first generation, racial/ethnic minorities, veterans, and adult learners. Salem State University is located in the Greater Boston area in the historic city of Salem, Massachusetts. The Greater Boston region is famous for its world-class education, healthcare, and business enterprises and the area offers numerous opportunities for professional and personal enrichment.

Duties and Responsibilities

Candidates are required to perform duties in accordance with the MSCA contract. Duties include teaching, advising, scholarship and contributions to continuously improve the department and university. The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester. The position is subject to available funding.

Required Qualifications:

Earned PhD in public policy or a related field from an accredited institution (ABD considered if degree will be conferred by September 2024)

Advising and/or mentoring experience

Preferred Qualifications:

Commitment to anti-racist, culturally responsive teaching
 Demonstrated expertise in community-based research
 Active publication record and/or exemplary scholarly potential (e.g., ABD candidates with strong pipeline of research)
 Prior applied experience in non-profit or public sector settings
 Demonstrated excellence in teaching

As an emerging Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI), Salem State University seeks to enrich the faculty/librarian ranks by actively encouraging candidates whose lived and scholarly experiences directly address issues regarding the health, welfare, and representation of Latinx populations in the United States. Candidates who meet this strongly desired qualification should present documented activities in Latinx-related teaching, scholarship/research, and service, including community-based endeavors in each of these three areas.

Working Conditions:

This is an on-site, in-person position.

Salem State University complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) to provide reasonable accommodation to qualified applicants and employees with disabilities. For accommodation information or requests please email eo-hr@salemstate.edu.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Please apply online and attach curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching philosophy, and a diversity statement (please read our institutional diversity statement and describe how you would contribute to our mission in your teaching, research, mentoring/advising, and service).

The online portal can be found at: <https://internal-salemstate.icims.com/jobs/2894/faculty%2c-political-science-%28public-policy%29%2c-full-time%2c-temporary%2c-fall-2024/job>

Employment is contingent upon a completed background and CORI check satisfactory to the university.

This position is not eligible for H1B visa sponsorship.

Please Note: If there is no application deadline associated with a position, it may be removed at any time and additional applications will not be accepted.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12351