

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

September 2024 | Volume 13, Issue 09

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

Administration ..... 4

American Government and Politics ..... 8

Comparative Politics ..... 57

International Relations ..... 99

Methodology .....

Non-Academic .....

Open .....

Other .....

Political Theory .....

Public Administration .....

Public Law .....

Public Policy .....

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

September 2024 | Volume 13, Issue 09

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4 (6 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 8 (72 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 57 (72 listings)

International Relations ..... 99 (78 listings)

Methodology ..... (26 listings)

Non-Academic ..... (2 listings)

Open ..... (25 listings)

Other ..... (49 listings)

Political Theory ..... (29 listings)

Public Administration ..... (13 listings)

Public Law ..... (21 listings)

Public Policy ..... (48 listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 441

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for September

ADMINISTRATION

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Administration: Open-Rank, Non-Tenure Track Faculty Position_Baker School_Fall 2025

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Public Administration

The Howard H. Baker, Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK) invites applications for a non-tenure-track faculty position (open rank) in Public Policy and Public Affairs to begin in August 2025. This will be a three-year renewable appointment.

We are searching for an expert in public administration, with a focus on leadership, organizational theory, public performance, and program evaluation to deliver in-person and online courses for students and working professionals and engage in public service and outreach. The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs, a Master of Public Policy (MPP), and a Master of Public Administration (MPA). We are seeking exceptional faculty who have a deep commitment to undergraduate and graduate education and a record of teaching effectiveness.

About the University of Tennessee, Knoxville

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. UTK is located in Knoxville, Tennessee, a thriving community located in close proximity to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

About the Baker School

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) aims to produce the next generation of skilled public problem solvers prepared to take leadership roles in their communities. Baker School students are grounded in the legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan, with curriculum and co-curricular activities focused on Baker's guiding principles including Confidence in America, Finding Common Ground and You Might Be Right. Under the umbrellas of two research centers, Baker School faculty and experts combine sound science and thoughtful policy to address challenges facing the state of Tennessee, the United States, and the world. In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which is responsible for encouraging civic knowledge and participation among UT undergraduates and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each member of our team is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work is constantly evolving to meet changing needs.

Who We Are Looking For

We are in search of a solution-finder, someone who enthusiastically embraces opportunities to address novel situations through teamwork and collaboration. We need a hardworking and flexible professional, who thrives in developing out-of-the-box approaches and addressing new challenges. We are looking for an achiever, someone who is searching for a chance to grow their skills and who is open to learning from others. We need a critical thinker who exercises good judgment and who can be relied upon and trusted to provide sound counsel to colleagues and leadership. We need teammates who are dedicated to public service.

Qualifications

??Candidates must have a doctoral degree in public administration, political science, or a relevant field at time of application.

Candidates must be able to develop and deliver undergraduate and graduate courses in leadership, organizational theory, public performance, and program evaluation.

Candidates must submit evidence of a strong teaching record, including developing new courses, a statement of teaching philosophy and effectiveness, and teaching evaluations.

The title and compensation for this position will be commensurate with experience. The University has the following titles for NTT teaching faculty starting in Spring 2025: Teaching Assistant Professor, Teaching Associate Professor, and Teaching Professor.

Candidates for Teaching Assistant Professor must provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a commitment to service to the University and community.

Candidates for Teaching Associate Professor should have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least five years, and internal and external service to their professional community.

Candidates for Teaching Full Professor should also have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least ten years, internal and external service to their professional community.

The successful candidate will be part of a multidisciplinary environment to build the new Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs, the first such organization at a public institution in the State of Tennessee. We seek future colleagues who will help build the School, contribute fresh ideas, and bring a growth mindset.

The candidate will be expected to teach a 4/3 load, which may include a combination of undergraduate and graduate courses offered in-person and online. In addition to teaching responsibilities, the candidates will have service to the Baker School, which may include student advising and mentorship, student programming, and public engagement.

Candidates may be considered for appointment as affiliated faculty experts with the Baker School's research centers (Center for Energy, Transportation, and Environmental Policy, Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs, and the Institute of American Civics).

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following via Interfolio:<http://apply.interfolio.com/151704>

Please attach a cover letter describing their academic experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy. Additional materials are welcome, including but not limited to scholarly works and syllabi, and names of three references. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, contact Professor Tara Bryan, tbryan29@utk.edu.

Note: The search chair will be present at the NASPAA annual conference in Washington, DC, between October 23 and 26. Potential applicants who plan to attend the meeting are encouraged to contact tbryan29@utk.edu to schedule a meeting.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14716

National Archives and Records Administration

Rank: Director

The National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) invites applications for the position of Director, Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library and Museum. This institution is part of the Presidential Library System, administered by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). The Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library and Museum is located in Austin, Texas.

The Library Director plans, directs, and administers all programs and activities of the Library and Museum, including archival, exhibit, public and educational programs. The incumbent works closely with NARA officials to ensure Library operations are in alignment with the Agency's strategic goals. The Director maintains close working relationships with the former President's family and the privately funded support organization; develops cooperative relationships and partnership ventures with academic and other institutions in support of the library's mission and goals; and conducts extensive public relations and fundraising activities in support of the library and museum.

This position is an excepted service Senior Level (SL) appointment within the Federal Government and serves at the pleasure of the Archivist of the United States. The salary range for the position is $147,649 - $221,900 per year. Relocation expenses may be paid. Detailed information about NARA and the national Presidential Library System is available at www.archives.gov.

To apply: <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/805968200>

Announcement Number: SL-12513360-24-JB

Control Number: 805968200

The deadline to apply: 09/20/24

Start Date: Summer 2024

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: $140,000 - $149,999

eJobs ID: 14700

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Criminology, Law and Society (CLS) at the University of California, Irvine invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in CLS. We seek to hire a new or recent PhD with methodological expertise in quantitative or mixed methodologies, and substantive expertise in criminal behavior or the study of the criminal legal system. We are particularly interested in candidates working in the following areas: research on (1) crime and legal systems outside of the United States, Canada, Europe, and Australia and (2) behavior and regulation in the digital world of natural and artificial intelligences. The appointment will be made at the Assistant Professor level. To ensure your application is given full consideration, files should be completed by October 4, 2024. Priority will be given to applications received by that date; however, applications will be accepted until the position is filled. The position will begin July 1, 2025 (teaching duties will begin Fall 2025).

Applications must be uploaded electronically through the on-line Recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF09142>. Candidates should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, statements of research and teaching interests, representative publications, and provide names and contact information for three professional references. A separate statement that addresses past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion (e.g. mentoring activities, committee service, research or teaching activities) is also required.

Please direct questions about this position to the chair of the search committee, Professor Ojmarrh Mitchell (oj.mitchell@uci.edu).

Department: <https://cls.soccco.uci.edu/>

School: <https://socialecology.uci.edu/>

QUALIFICATIONS

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in a related field by June 2025.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Document requirements

Letter of Interest

Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.

Statement of Research

Teaching Statement - See our guidance for writing a reflective teaching statement.

Include information on your teaching interests.

Inclusive Excellence Activities Statement - Statement addressing how past and/or potential contributions to inclusive excellence will advance UCI's Commitment to Inclusive Excellence. See our guidance for writing an inclusive excellence activities statement.

Representative Publications

Sexual Misconduct, Harassment and Discrimination Declaration Form - All applicants of academic positions at the University of California, Irvine must download, complete, sign, and upload the following form with their application: Sexual Misconduct, Harassment and Discrimination Declaration Form

Reference requirements

3 letters of reference required

Apply link: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF09142>

ABOUT UC IRVINE

The University of California, Irvine is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC anti-discrimination policy.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, state, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.

JOB LOCATION

Irvine, CA

Start Date:*Application Deadline: 10/4/2024Date Posted: 8/22/2024Salary: $80,000 - $89,999eJobs ID: 14695U.S. Naval War College*Rank: DEPUTY CHAIR AND ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS DEPARTMENT DEAN OF ACADEMICS AD-1701-09

U.S. NAVAL WAR COLLEGE

NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND SEEKS

DEPUTY CHAIR

AND

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS

NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS DEPARTMENT

DEAN OF ACADEMICS

AD-1701-09

The National Security Affairs (NSA) Department at the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island seeks to fill an anticipated vacancy beginning in July 2025 for a Deputy Chair and an Associate Professor of national security affairs.

U.S. Naval War College. The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

National Security Affairs (NSA) Department. The NSA Department is one of the college's core academic teaching departments and is composed of scholar-practitioners engaged in a wide range of education, research, and service. We highly value experiential learning. You can learn more about the NSA Department at our webpage: <https://usnwc.edu/Faculty-and-Departments/Academic-Departments/National-Security-Affairs-Department>

Responsibilities. Incumbent serves as the NSA Deputy Chair in the day-to-day operations of the NSA Department and acts as the Chair in their absence. Incumbent serves as the department Mission Resource Manager, monitors and approves leave for civilian faculty and U.S. Navy military faculty, oversees curriculum development efforts, assists the Chair in preparation of civilian faculty performance evaluations, supervises department support personnel, acts as an Approving Officer for faculty travel, certifies civilian time and attendance records, and represents the department to numerous other college departments. When required, the incumbent will also teach two distinctive common core graduate-level security studies courses, collaborating in the development of common core curricula, developing and teaching elective courses as desired, scholarly research and publication as desired, and college service. There is no requirement or expectation to attract external funding. Maximum teaching load excluding optional elective classes is 2/2/0 based on a 10-month trimester system. This involves teaching up to two seminar sections (single preparation) of no more than 16 students in the 13-week winter and spring trimesters, with a fall trimester and summer inter-session period devoted primarily to research, curriculum development, and college service. All positions are year-round (12-month).

Qualifications. Essential qualifications include: (1) an advanced degree from an accredited university in national security affairs or related field; (2) proven experience and expertise as a national security professional working at the strategic or theater-strategic levels including at senior ranks; and (3) Joint Professional Military Education Level I (JPME I). Candidates must be prepared to teach at the master's degree level. Desirable qualifications include an earned PhD; Joint Professional Military Education II (JPME II); Joint Qualified Officer; knowledge of joint force development, experience at a Fleet Command, Combatant Command, Service Staff, or the Joint Staff; graduate of a service/joint advanced warfighting school; demonstrated ability to work collaboratively with peers in a learning environment; demonstrated ability to create a professional seminar atmosphere to enhance student educational outcomes; and experience in various DoN/DoD administrative functions.

Applicants must be U.S. citizens capable of obtaining a Department of Defense security clearance at the SECRET level.

Salary Considerations. Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous Federal Civil Service package that includes health insurance with employer contribution, retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary commensurate in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule. This is not a remote work position; however, the incumbent may be eligible for situational telework as determined by policy and the position requirements. The incumbent may be expected to travel on occasion.

Application Procedures. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-24-13 and forward their application package via email to: NWC-24-13@usnwc.edu. Applications will be accepted through 11:59 pm (EDT) September 19, 2024. The application package should include the following: 1) cover letter; 2) Curriculum Vitae; and, 3) three references listed in the cover letter who would be contacted if selected as a finalist.

Please direct any questions about the position or the institution to Professor Derek Reveron, derek.reveron@usnwc.edu.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veterans' preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans' preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans' preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume/CV and attach supporting documentation (DD Form 214, "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty" to their submission. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, "Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference," and supporting documents of the claimed disability (e.g., disability letter from the VA). The SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov. Active duty members must submit a statement of service with their application.

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/19/2024

Date Posted: 8/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14635

University of South Carolina

Rank: Department Chair

Chair, Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences
University of South Carolina, Columbia

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of South Carolina (USC) invites nominations and applications for the position of Chair of the Department of Political Science to begin August 16, 2025. The appointment will be at the rank of Full Professor, tenurable in the department of Political Science within the College of Arts and Sciences. We seek a dynamic scholar and visionary leader with a Ph.D. in political science, or a related social science discipline, plus years of academic experience as required by policy for faculty rank. The faculty position will be on a 9-month pay basis, converted to an 11-month pay basis as Department Chair.

The Department of Political Science has 21 faculty members, including some with joint or affiliate appointments with other departments and colleges, as well as a full-time staff of professional student advisors. The faculty are committed to excellence in research and teaching befitting a Research 1 University. The Dean is committed to growing the tenure track faculty in the department over the coming years. The department currently enrolls about 35 Ph.D. students, 50 Masters level students between its M.A. in International Affairs and accredited Master of Public Administration programs, and has more than 800 undergraduate majors. The department offers an undergraduate internship program and several experiential learning opportunities, including an adolescent mentoring program and a NSF funded Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) program. For more information about the department, please visit our website at: https://sc.edu/study/colleges\_schools/artsandsciences/political\_science/

The department chair provides academic and administrative leadership within the department and is responsible for spearheading the unit's strategic goals, overseeing the budget, facilitating the academic programs (including undergraduate, Masters, and doctoral degree programs), communicating with internal and external personnel for development purposes, and supporting faculty in efforts to secure external funds. Qualifications include administrative expertise and the demonstrated ability to work collaboratively with faculty, staff, and students, consistent with the expectations and mission of a Research 1 University. Candidates should have a strong record of scholarly achievement and teaching excellence commensurate with appointment as a tenured

Full Professor, as the chair is expected to maintain an active research agenda and teach and mentor undergraduate and graduate students.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

The University of South Carolina is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Institution. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of age, ancestry, citizenship status, color, disability, ethnicity, familial status, gender (including transgender), gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, pregnancy (false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, childbirth, recovery therefrom or related medical conditions, breastfeeding), race, religion (including religious dress and grooming practices), sex, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other bases under federal, state, local law, or regulations.

How to Apply

All applicants must apply online at USCJobs at <https://uscjobs.sc.edu>. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications must include a cover letter, statement of leadership philosophy, CV, and contact information for three references. References will only be contacted for candidates on the short list.

Please send any nominations to Brent Simpson, (bts@sc.edu), incoming Interim Department Chair and Chair of the Search Committee, by September 15. Any questions about the position should also be sent to Brent Simpson.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14520

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Teaching Faculty Lecturer in International Security, Defence & Diplomacy, with support for the NATO Field School
Specializations: International Security, Defense, Intelligence

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a continuing Lecturer position in International Security, Defence and Diplomacy. The candidate will provide teaching and support to the NATO Field School (NFS) and teach introductory courses in Political Science and courses in their areas of expertise. The position will start when filled; preferred starting date is January 2025.

We seek candidates who have a strong background in International Security, Defence, and/or Diplomacy, as well as outstanding teaching skills in a diversity of classroom settings. Relevant experiences in experiential learning (hands-on learning, field exercises, summer schools, simulations, case studies, role-play exercises, peer group learning, etc.) are an asset.

Duties

The successful candidate will collaborate with the NFS Director in preparing and teaching the NFS. The NFS is a growing teaching and engagement endeavour with an emphasis on professional placement of its graduates.

In Political Science, the standard course load for lecturers is eight courses per year. The Collective Agreement stipulates that teaching faculty are to be released from their teaching duties one out every nine terms. This position will likely be paired with an additional role – involving logistical and administrative tasks to support the NFS – that will reduce the overall teaching load based on the level of support.

The NATO Field School and Simulation Program is an intensive political science experience that combines coursework with experiential learning. As one of the lead instructors, you are expected to:

- Act as a liaison between SFU and NATO, working closely with the Director.
- Accompany and guide students during their field school experience
- The NFS is held in Europe every summer. The candidate will be expected to travel for up to eight weeks per year in summer to support the field school.
- Help to set up the logistics and with recruitment and financial reporting for the field school.
- Teach courses and prepare lectures relevant to the topic.
- Set up simulations and other exercises to help students prepare for the field school.

Required Qualifications:

- The chosen candidate must hold a PhD in Political Science or in a related field, with research and/or teaching experience in Defence, Diplomacy, and/or International Security. Candidates with firm defence dates by December 2024 may be considered
- Candidates should have demonstrated teaching experience and potential for teaching excellence

Desirable Qualifications:

The following attributes will be considered as additional assets for the position:

- Academic expertise in at least one of the following areas: NATO; international institutions; interstate conflict, diplomacy and negotiations; North American security and defence; Indo-Pacific security and defence; alliances and multilateral security cooperation; interstate conflict, Canadian foreign policy; cyber information warfare and artificial intelligence
- Teaching experience in experiential and engagement courses, including field schools and security simulations for university students
- Professional experience in defence, diplomacy or international relations
- Related publications
- Teaching experience in large classes introductory classes particularly introductory courses in International Relations and Political Science

Candidates must submit the following documents in a single PDF to pol\_apply@sfu.ca:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Teaching portfolio demonstrating teaching excellence in experiential learning and simulations and discussing candidate's approach to equity, diversity and inclusion
- List of three possible referees, to be contacted if the candidate is short-listed

Full consideration will be given to applications submitted by September 5, 2024, however, we will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. Short-listed candidates will be contacted to have three letters of reference forwarded directly to the department via email at pol\_apply@sfu.ca

Faculty salaries at SFU are based on the salary scales bargained between the University and the SFU Faculty Association. A reasonable estimate of the salary range for this role is $98,340 to $114,241.

Simon Fraser University is an institution whose strength is based on our shared commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Diversity is an underlying principle of our Strategic Vision, which pledges SFU to “foster a culture of inclusion and mutual respect, celebrating the diversity reflected among its students, faculty, staff, and our community.” SFU is committed to ensuring that no individual is denied access to employment opportunities for reasons unrelated to ability or qualifications. Consistent with this principle, SFU will advance the interests of underrepresented members of the work force, including Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, racialized persons, and women; embrace gender and sexual diversity; ensure that equal opportunity is afforded to all who seek employment at the University; and treat all employees equitably. Candidates that belong to underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.

SFU is consistently ranked among the top comprehensive universities in Canada and was recently ranked in the top 50 in the world for engaged research. The Department of Political Science at SFU has a growing number of faculty in diverse fields and is strongly supportive of faculty members' strengths, interests, and career progress. The department strongly believes in methodological pluralism. More information about the department and the university can be found on our website: <http://www.sfu.ca/politics.html>. The campus is located on Burnaby Mountain in Greater Vancouver. Vancouver is a scenic waterfront city located minutes from the mountains and a wide range of outdoor activities. It has a reputation as a clean, safe, multicultural, and ethnically diverse city and is one of the very top cities in the world in which to live and work.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Personal information that forms part of an application is collected under the general authority of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, applicable University Policies, and the SFUFA/SFU Collective Agreement. For further details see the full Collection Notice.

Please submit all inquiries and application materials to pol\_apply@sfu.ca

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14427

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

University of Georgia

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications for a Lecturer to begin August 1, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year appointment that is renewable on an annual basis. The lecturer will teach eight courses per academic year, four courses in each academic term. Typically, two or more sections of the same course can be offered each semester and/or during the same academic year. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 100% teaching. The lecturer will be expected to teach the undergraduate introduction to American government. In addition, the candidate will teach upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods in areas that align with their research and teaching interests. Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional-development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel and summer teaching when they are available. The university has a promotion path for lecturers. Upon their sixth year as a lecturer, a faculty may be promoted to senior lecturer, after which they may be promoted to principal lecturer (for details see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/guidelines-for-appointment-and-promotion-of-lecturers/>).

Minimum qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science completed by August 1, 2025.

Additional Requirements:

- Excellent communication skills
- Evidence of teaching excellence or demonstrated potential for teaching excellence

Duties/Responsibilities

- Contribute to the instructional mission of the Department of Political Science
- Teach four three-credit hour courses per academic term including the introduction to American government and upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods.
- Participate in workshops, the development of new course materials, and/or supervise teaching assistants

Special instructions to applicants:

Prospective applicants should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three letter writers who will separately provide letters of recommendation electronically to the UGA jobs web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/387895>

The cover letter is expected to include a description of the candidate's strengths as an instructor and relevant teaching experiences as they relate to this position description. The application should also include a teaching portfolio that provides: a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin January 8, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14517

Ursinus College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor Specializing in American Politics

The Department of Politics and International Relations at Ursinus College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position specializing in American politics (any subfield), to begin in Fall 2025.

Responsibilities

We seek a teacher-scholar broadly trained in political science who is interested in strengthening the department's commitment to active learning. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to American Government and upper-level courses on American political institutions and Constitutional interpretation as well as other courses related to the candidate's area of interest.

The successful candidate will also maintain a productive research program that will support undergraduate student achievement. The successful candidate will be expected to advise and mentor students, so applicants should be interested in contributing to student success and expanding opportunities for experiential learning, e.g. by supervising internships, directing student research and honors projects, and contributing to community-based learning initiatives. All full-time faculty members also contribute to academic advising for students in the Politics major as well as small groups of first-year students across majors.

The Ursinus College faculty is a diverse community of teacher-scholars dedicated to providing transformative experiences for a diverse student body in a highly reflective process embedded in our core curriculum. As part of its commitment to liberal education, all entering students participate in a seminar course called the Common Intellectual Experience with a common syllabus. As the aim of this course is to foster an intellectual community on campus, the successful candidate will contribute to the teaching of this course every few years.

Requirements and Qualifications

Ph.D. by the time of appointment is required, and teaching experience is strongly preferred.

Anticipated Start Date

Fall 2025

Application

Interested candidates should apply here. Applicants should provide a cover letter with statements describing (1) their commitment to, philosophy of, and previous experiences with undergraduate teaching, preferably in a liberal arts setting, (2) a research program that will support undergraduate student achievement, and (3) their experience and/or approach to supporting an inclusive community, broadly conceived. Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and transcripts. Applicants also should submit a list of their three references. Letters of recommendation will be requested only of applicants who are invited to a virtual interview in mid-October. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the position are welcome and should be directed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Johannes Karreth, at jkarreth@ursinus.edu. Members of the department will be at the 2024 APSA meeting in Philadelphia and available for informal conversations about this position.

About Ursinus College

Ursinus College is a selective, independent, co-educational, residential liberal arts college of approximately 1500 students located about 25 miles northwest of center city Philadelphia. With a diverse community of students, it is an expectation of all faculty to contribute to the inclusion, engagement, and success of all students. Ursinus is an EO/AA employer. Ursinus College does not discriminate on grounds of race, color, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, age, creed, ancestry, veteran status, marital status, disability, or other classification protected by applicable law in the administration of any of its educational programs or activities or with respect to employment.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/2/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14779Virginia Commonwealth University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political ScienceSpecializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2025, to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics. We are seeking candidates with active, innovative research agendas who have training and expertise in the politics of gender, race, ethnicity, and/or class and inequality in the U.S.

Successful candidates should be able to teach Women and the Law (POLI 316) and/or Politics of Race, Class, and Gender (POLI 318). Though not required, the ability to teach Research Methods (POLI 320), a core course for our majors, is a plus. The teaching load for tenure-line faculty in our department is two courses per semester.

The position requires a PhD in political science, or a closely related field, at the time of employment. Successful candidates will have demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research.

VCU is an R1, NSF top 50 public research university in Richmond, a thriving city with abundant cultural and outdoor activities. Our campus is a 15-minute walk from the State Capitol. We're also close to the Blue Ridge Mountains, the Chesapeake Bay, the Atlantic Ocean, and Washington, DC. For more information about living and working in Richmond, see <https://hr.vcu.edu/careers-at-vcu/why-work-at-vcu/>.

Diversity is among our greatest assets at VCU, and our effort to create and sustain an equitable and inclusive environment is the best approach toward leveraging this asset into universal excellence and success. Successful candidates will have demonstrated experience working in and fostering inclusion and diversity, or a commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU. VCU is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. VCU provides access to education and employment without regard to age, race, color, national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, veteran's status, political affiliation, or disability.

We will be at the APSA Annual Meeting in Philadelphia. Please contact polistaff@vcu.edu to schedule an interview.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applications can only be submitted at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/5916?c=vcu>. Applicants must upload a CV and cover letter, as well as a research statement, writing sample(s), a teaching statement, and a diversity and inclusion statement. Applicants are also encouraged to submit course evaluations, if available, as well as course syllabi. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alex Keena at keenaja@vcu.edu. The application deadline is October 1, 2024. Start date will be August 2025.

ABOUT THE VCU COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND SCIENCES

The mission of the College of Humanities and Sciences is to serve as the intellectual heart and soul of our institution and wider community. The College of Humanities and Sciences:

- Prepares lifelong learners to participate actively as engaged and responsible citizens
- Propels scientific research and scholarship to improve the human condition, cure and treat diseases, and promote healthy environments
- Grounds us in our history, critically examines our present human condition and empowers students to create more equitable local and global communities
- Provides communities with a passionate and creative workforce that serves as a powerful engine for economic development and innovative solutions to problems

As the intellectual lifeblood of VCU and our community, the College of Humanities and Sciences seeks to inspire our students to explore their passions and dreams as individuals and provide the context to understand their place in the world and connections with others—locally, globally and throughout time. Most importantly, our educational and research environment addresses an array of technological, health-related and societal problems, as well as providing profound insights and reflections of what it means to be human and humane.

Start Date: Fall 2025Application Deadline: 10/1/2024Date Posted: 8/30/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14770Northwest Missouri State University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, Humanities and Social Sciences

EMPLOYMENT TERMS: 9-month, Tenure track Assistant Professor

PRIMARY DUTY: To teach undergraduate courses in Political Science, including a general education course in American Government and Politics, and upper-division and graduate courses in Political Science, and to coordinate and develop programs both on campus and online. Successful candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching within a comprehensive state university, engagement in student and university service, and the promise of scholarly achievement.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

1. Teach American Government General Education section(s)
2. Teach and develop upper division and graduate courses in Political Science, especially Public Administration
3. Ability to use multiple delivery systems, including blended, online, and distance learning formats.

4. Scholarly research in academic discipline
5. Department service, including student organization assistance and sponsorship
6. University service, including committee work
7. Advisement of students in undergraduate course programs and in applications for graduate programs and employment opportunities.
8. Ability to work with diverse populations or completed coursework demonstrating understanding of diverse populations.
9. Other duties as assigned

REQUIREMENTS for Assistant Professor:

Education: ABD or PhD in Political Science or Public Administration
Experience: Successful teaching experience at college level preferred
Skills: teaching ability in Political Science as well as scholarly research in the field

WORKING CONDITIONS: The position entails classroom instruction in upper and lower division courses in classes typically ranging from 15 to 60 students. Faculty maintain regular office hours within the department area to support students.

EQUIPMENT/MATERIALS USED: Faculty are issued a personal laptop with a Microsoft software suite. Classrooms are technology-enhanced (document stations, video equipment, Internet access).

TYPICAL PHYSICAL DEMANDS: Ability to meet essential classroom functions

COMMUNITY: Northwest Missouri State University is located in Maryville, Missouri, a community of 12,000 with a diverse economy and a strong industrial base. Maryville is located 45 miles north of St. Joseph, Missouri, 90 miles north of Kansas City, Missouri, and 110 miles southeast of Omaha, Nebraska. For more information visit the city's website at www.maryville.org.

UNIVERSITY: With an enrollment of about 10,000 students, Northwest is a coeducational, primarily residential four-year university that offers a broad range of undergraduate and selected graduate programs on its Maryville campus as well as its Northwest-Kansas City location at the Northland Innovation Center and through Northwest Online.

Founded in 1905 and ranked by U.S. News and World Report among the top public regional universities in the Midwest, Northwest places a high emphasis on profession-based learning to help graduates get a jump start on their careers. Students have opportunities to build their résumés with experiences on campus in nearly every area of study, including the Horace Mann Laboratory School, National Public Radio affiliate KXCV, the R.T. Wright Farm, Mozingo Outdoor Education Recreation Area and Knacktive, a student-driven integrated digital marketing communications agency.

The University also is a national model for student success and career placement with 96 percent of graduates securing employment or continuing their education within six months of completing a degree at Northwest, according to the most recent data.

Furthermore, its vibrant and diverse learning community offers more than 150 student organizations, and textbooks and a laptop are included in tuition, which is among the lowest in the nation, saving students an estimated $6,800 over four years. Northwest also offers 1,200 student employment positions, allowing students to build professional skills through its internationally benchmarked student employment program. Designated the Missouri Arboretum, the

Northwest campus was named one of the "50 Most Amazing University Botanical Gardens and Arboretums in the U.S."

For more information about Northwest and its performance, visit www.nwmissouri.edu.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications will be reviewed beginning October 28, 2024 or until the position is filled

DATE AVAILABLE: August 11, 2025

TO APPLY: Please fill out a Northwest application online by clicking <https://www.schooljobs.com/careers/nwmissouri> to reach our employment opportunities listing. You will also need to submit a cover letter, resume, and the contact information for three references in order for your application materials to be complete. Please contact the Office of Human Resources at 660-562-1127 or email bbadger@nwmissouri.edu for more information.

INQUIRIES FOR THE POSITION CAN BE MADE TO:

Dr. Bronson Herrera
 Department of Humanities and Social Sciences
 800 University Drive
 Northwest Missouri State University
 Maryville, Missouri 64468
 660-562-1290
bherrera@nwmissouri.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14765

Samford University

Rank: Chair and Professor

Samford University's Howard College of Arts and Sciences invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for the position of chair of the Department of Political Science at the rank of Professor. The 9-month tenure-track position carries a 1 course-release per semester (normal teaching load is 24 credit-hours per year) from teaching and will begin August 2025.

Qualified candidates will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science with preference to those in the field of American Politics and Public Policy. Prior university administrative experience is preferred. A commitment to academic excellence and the ability to work effectively with faculty, students and colleagues is expected. Candidates must show evidence of excellence in teaching, outstanding scholarly potential, commitment to undergraduate teaching, and have an active research agenda. The successful candidate will demonstrate a record of excellence in teaching and research commensurate with the rank of professor in the Department of Political Science at Samford University.

The chair will oversee the department's mission, curriculum, faculty, and recruitment. The per semester course release for department chair is given to facilitate the duties and responsibilities of the position. The chair plays a pivotal role in representing the department to the faculty and to the administration of the university. Including the chair position, the Department of Political Science (<https://www.samford.edu/arts-and-sciences/political-science/>) has 4 full-time faculty positions and over 100 majors. The department offers majors in Political Science; Law, Politics, and Society; International Relations; and Public Administration.

Samford University (www.samford.edu) is a leading nationally ranked Christian University. Founded in 1841, Samford is the 87th oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. It is the largest privately supported and fully accredited institution for higher learning in Alabama. Located in the Birmingham, Alabama, suburb of Homewood, with 425 full-time faculty and more than 5,700 students representing 49 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 22 countries. Samford is ranked #10 in the U.S. for the quality of career preparation provided to its students according to a newly published ranking, "The Top U.S. Colleges for Career and Learning Related Opportunities," in The Wall Street Journal. The University is dedicated to the promotion of rigorous academic inquiry in a Christian setting. The University seeks and prefers employee applicants of the Christian faith and offers competitive salaries with a generous benefits package. Samford University and Howard College of Arts and Sciences embrace diversity in their faculty, students, and staff and encourage applications from those who would add to the diversity of our academic community.

Review of applications will begin August 23 and applications will be accepted until November 30, 2024. Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vita with names and contact information of three references, evidence of teaching effectiveness, description of leadership experience, and research interests and activities. Academic salary is dependent upon qualifications and experience. The successful candidate must pass a background check. Applicants must be authorized to work in the United States, as Samford will not sponsor any employment visas for this position.

Applicants must complete an "Application for Faculty Position" (https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/Human\_Resources/application-for-faculty-employment.pdf) and the Faculty Applicant Christian Mission Statement (<https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/academic-affairs/Faculty-Applicant-ChristianMissionStatement.docx>).

Please submit all materials in a PDF format to: FACAPP@samford.edu
ATTN: Political Science, Dept. Chair Search.

For questions about the position contact Search Committee Chair: Dr. Doug Clapp, dclapp@samford.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14759

Duke University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of assistant or associate professor (with tenure) in political institutions to begin on July 1, 2025. Candidates are expected to demonstrate theoretical creativity and empirical acumen in research and teaching. The search committee is interested in scholars in both the American and comparative subfields and is open to a variety of methodological approaches.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda in no more than three pages, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, two writing samples, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28208>. Address correspondence to: Professor Scott de Marchi, Chair of Political Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204, demarchi@duke.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Duke also makes good faith efforts to recruit, hire, and promote qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14736

Suffolk University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Criminal Justice

Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

The Department of Political Science & Legal Studies in the College of Arts & Sciences at Suffolk University invites applications for a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor position in our Undergraduate Law program beginning July 1, 2025. We are seeking a teacher scholar with a research program focused on equity and inclusion in the law that may include a specialization in Constitutional Law, civil rights law, criminal procedure, environmental racism, immigration law or public health law or another field of law.

Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellent teaching and scholarly potential, including a research agenda and plans for publication in legal journals or peer-reviewed journals in law and public policy. The Undergraduate Law Program prepares students for law school and careers as non-lawyer legal professionals. The Department includes undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Relations and Undergraduate Law, a Paralegal Studies Certificate and Associates Degree Program (for Non-Lawyer Legal Professionals) as well as Master of Arts degrees in Applied Public Policy and Global Public Policy. Preference will be given to those who have experience teaching legal research and writing and working with paralegals and/or supervising legal staff. Candidates should be able to contribute to the core curriculum and first year seminar program. In addition to demonstrating excellence in teaching and research, the successful candidate is expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students, and engage in service with the department, college and university. The workload for this position is 45% teaching, 35% research, and 20% service with a 5-course teaching load per year.

Suffolk's Political Science & Legal Studies Department's faculty are teacher scholars with a strong commitment to student development by providing high quality instruction to a diverse student body. Faculty in the department are award-winning teachers recognized for innovative pedagogical practices, community leaders civically engaged in advancing social justice, internationally recognized policy and political consultants and active researchers and scholars. Initiatives such as Suffolk Votes, the non-partisan university-wide initiative to raise political awareness and impact by increasing student voter participation, reflect the department's key role in Suffolk's Community Engagement Carnegie Classification. Department faculty take advantage of our location in the heart of Boston to design exciting real-world learning opportunities at the Court House and the State House. Close connections with Suffolk Law School, which has top-ranked skills clinics, provide students in the Undergraduate Law program with rich pre-professional opportunities as does our thriving Center for Restorative Justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to a rich tradition of community-engaged teaching and experiential education that prepares our diverse, substantially first-generation college students—40% of whom are Pell eligible—for careers and civic engagement. The successful candidate will have a commitment to inclusive pedagogy and curricular diversity, mentoring and advising students—especially first-generation college students—as well as conducting impactful research. We seek candidates excited about centering best practices pedagogy focused on active, applied and experiential learning in their teaching; a commitment to ongoing and continuous improvement in teaching is expected. Familiarity with and experience using pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and ability groups to reach their maximum potential is a valuable qualification.

Not sure this is you? Contact us to find out! Research indicates that women and members of marginalized populations tend not to apply to jobs when they think they do not meet the qualifications, when, in fact, they often do.

Suffolk University is dedicated to a diverse and inclusive academic community. Diversity, equity and inclusion are woven into our fabric. Founded in 1906 to provide access to legal education during the evening for individuals who might not otherwise have been afforded that opportunity, Suffolk University consistently seeks to advance its history and mission as a school of access and opportunity. This mission is lived through our decisions at every level. U.S. News ranked Suffolk University among the top 100 universities in the country for social mobility. Suffolk was also listed 14th nationally in percentage of international students. Through student, faculty and staff recruitment and support, community engagement, curriculum development, and research, the University community works to advance equity for every student, every day. Learn more about how we manifest the core values of our mission at Suffolk DEI. ?

Candidates must hold a JD (combination JD and PhD in a relevant field also invited) by the commencement of the 2025-26 academic year. Experience teaching undergraduates is preferred. Application should be made through the Suffolk University Human Resources' Careers at Suffolk site.

Completed submissions should include: cover letter; CV; law school transcript; Teaching Philosophy; Diversity Statement; a statement of research interests and agenda; student course evaluations (if available); and 3 letters of reference. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 1, though applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Initial interviews will be via Zoom followed by on-campus interviews.

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located in downtown Boston and is an equal opportunity employer committed to faculty diversity. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Suffolk offers substantial employee benefits, including retirement benefits, tuition remission for employees and their families, tuition exchange program with participating institutions, as well as health, dental, and life insurance, commuter benefits, and a strong employee assistance program. Learn more about CAS faculty here. To learn more about the Political Science & Legal Studies Department visit our website. Inquiries about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Conley, Chair of the Political Science & Legal Studies Department at bconley@suffolk.edu.

The department will also hold information sessions at the 2024 APSA conference in Philadelphia. To meet with a department representative at APSA, please email Prof. Maye Hennings at maye.henning@suffolk.edu

Suffolk University does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, age, genetic information, or status as a veteran in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs, activities, or employment. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer, the University is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive faculty and staff that reflect the broad range of human experience who contribute to the robust exchange of ideas on campus, and who are committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment. We strongly encourage applications from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented because of race/color, gender, religious creed, disability, national origin, veteran status or LGBTQ status. Suffolk University is especially interested in candidates who, through their training, service and experience, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the University community.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14738

University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Job Description

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nevada, Reno invites applications for a tenure-track, full time appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science, with a focus on American Political Behavior. The successful candidate will be expected to develop a robust research program, contribute to our undergraduate and graduate curriculum, including graduate-level methods and American politics courses, as well as advise MA, MPA, and PhD students. The normal teaching load is a 2/2 and the candidate will have the opportunity to develop their own courses.

Required Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand by July 1, 2025. A developing or established research agenda in American Political Behavior.

A record of, or potential for, publishing in top-tier journals and presses in relevant fields.

Demonstrated excellence, or clear evidence of potential for excellence, in teaching in the fields of American Political Behavior.

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of, or potential for strong external grant activity.
Evidence of attention to diversity, equity, and inclusion in research, teaching, and/or service.

Compensation Grade/Rank

II, Assistant Professor

Salary is competitive and commensurate with related education and experience. To view the salary schedule for this position, please visit: Salary Schedules.

Contact Information for this position

Search Coordinators: Karen Braun, kbraun@unr.edu, and Tamela Gorden, tgorden@unr.edu

Required Attachment(s)

Please note, once you submit your application the only attachment/s viewable to you will be the attachment/s to the resume/CV section of the application. Any additional required attachment/s to the cover letter, references, additional documents sections of the application, will not be viewable to you after you submit your application. All uploaded attachment/s will be on the application for the committee to review. To request updates to attachments, prior to the committee review of applications, please contact the candidate helpdesk at jobs@unr.edu.

Please attach the following documents to your application:

- 1) A complete Curriculum Vita
- 2) Cover letter, up to 2 pages, outlining qualifications, experience, research plans and teaching experience
- 3) A writing sample
- 4) A sample syllabus you have constructed for a relevant course in American politics
- 5) Contact information for three profession/academic references
- 6) Please write a brief statement (one page maximum) about how you would contribute toward our mission of creating a culturally inclusive environment in the role for which you are applying.

Close Date or Open Until Filled

Qualified individuals are encouraged to apply. Position is open until filled. First review of applications will begin October 1.

To apply, go to: https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UNR-external/job/University-of-Nevada-Reno---Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor--Political-Science\_R0144366

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14746

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications from outstanding political scientists with a specialization in American political behavior for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor. We are interested in scholars who study any of a range of topics, including public opinion, voting behavior, political participation, identity, media, and representation. The department is committed to building an intellectually vibrant, culturally inclusive, and academically diverse community of exceptional faculty.

Successful candidates will be able to contribute to undergraduate and graduate training in political behavior as well as contributing to substantive literatures in political science. Candidates able to assist in graduate training in quantitative methods, formal theory, or other methods should indicate those competencies. The appointment will begin Fall 2025. Salary and benefits are highly competitive.

The Committee will begin reviewing files as early as September 1, 2024. To ensure full consideration, applicants should submit complete applications by September 15, 2024, but we welcome earlier applications, and we may schedule formal interviews at any time. We will accept applications until we fill the position. Among the qualifications required for hire is the Ph.D. in hand or expected by August 1, 2025. Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, teaching evaluations (if applicable), and three letters of reference electronically at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/152973>. Candidates may discuss equity, diversity, and inclusion in their research and teaching statements, as applicable.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14733

Arizona State University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor, American Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Women & Politics, Political Parties & Organizations

For this position we seek a dynamic and experienced educator who specializes in American Politics, broadly defined. The ideal candidate is passionate about teaching, mentorship, and student engagement. The candidate is expected to work effectively within a collaborative, dynamic, and innovative environment that is committed to student success. This position is an in-person, academic year, benefits-eligible appointment. The anticipated start date is August 2025.

Job Duties:

- Teach a range of undergraduate courses in American Politics and a related subfield such as Politics and Media, Women and Politics, Political Parties, and Judicial Politics
- Develop and implement engaging course materials and innovative teaching strategies in both online and immersion settings
- Supervise and mentor immersion and online students participating in political internships primarily within Arizona and Washington DC, and in other states
- Collaborate with colleagues to enhance the school's curriculum and develop additional experiential learning opportunities, such as programs for first-year, online, or transfer students
- Provide pedagogical and logistical support to Faculty Associates
- Participate in school-related service, including committee work and/or community outreach efforts

Required Qualifications:

By the time of appointment, candidates must:

- An earned Ph.D. by time of appointment in Political Science with a concentration in American Politics or a closely related field from a regionally-accredited university
- Demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching.

- Ability to work collaboratively with faculty, staff, and students from varied backgrounds

Desired Qualifications:

- An earned doctoral degree from a regionally-accredited institution by the time of appointment
- Several years of teaching experience at four-year colleges or universities
- Demonstrated experience in coordinating internships and/or experiential learning programs
- Evidence of activities consistent with the ASU Charter's Design Aspirations
- Demonstrated commitment to working with faculty, staff, students and communities to advance the principles of the ASU Charter

This position is located at Arizona State University at the Tempe campus.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/4/2024

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14718

Ohio State University

Rank: AI in Politics and Society

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant or Associate Professor
Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful applicants will have research and teaching interests in the area of AI in Politics and Society. Based in Columbus, Ohio, the position will begin in the fall of 2025. Preferred applicants will have the promise of a sustained and substantial body of work developing and utilizing data analytic and/or artificial intelligence tools for the analysis of socio-political questions. The position is open with respect to substantive focus or disciplinary subfield in Political Science.

This position is part of the investment of The Ohio State University Provost in the Department of Political Science in Socio-Political Analysis and AI: <https://polisci.osu.edu/good-to-great-proposal>

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- Conduct research on advanced topics in the application of data analytics and AI to social scientific questions
- Mentor and teach in these and related areas at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- Engage with interdisciplinary efforts focused on data analytics and/or AI

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Applicants must be on track to complete their PhD on or before August 15, 2025, in a relevant field, and have the capacity to integrate methodological insights with substantive research demonstrated through a record of and/or promise of scholarly excellence.

Desired: Demonstrate the potential for securing external grant funding and mentoring undergraduate or graduate students. Preferred candidates will show a willingness to participate in interdisciplinary collaborative efforts. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Associate-Professor---AI-in-Politics---Society\_R113066]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Janet Box-Steffensmeier at box-steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:
- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14721

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2025 to June 1, 2026. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Office of Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35921>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – June 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024 for appointments beginning in September 2025. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 2/28/2024

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14727

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, James Madison Program
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients, or recipients who anticipate receiving their Ph.D., to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the anticipated year from September 1, 2025 to September 1, 2026. Appointments will be through the Department of Politics. All James Madison Program researchers are expected to be in residence in Princeton, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Researchers appointed in the Madison Program are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are required to have a Ph.D. degree awarded within the last three years (no earlier than September 1, 2022), or candidates must have less than three years of post-Ph.D. research experience prior to the anticipated start date. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35922>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration, application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
 Adam Thomas, Ph.D.
 Assistant Director
 James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
 Princeton University
 83 Prospect Avenue
 Princeton, NJ 08540
 E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu
 Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/27/2025

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14728

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Political Science, International Relations, and Emerging Technologies- Multiple Tenure-Track Faculty Lines

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) has launched a major new initiative, the Carnegie Mellon Institute for Strategy and Technology (CMIST), which is devoted to the wise development, use and governance of new and emerging technologies that are changing the national and international security landscape. As part of this forward-looking enterprise, the university seeks top tenure-line scholars in political science, international relations, and other related disciplines with established interest in emerging technologies relevant to international affairs. Scholars investigating intersections between biotechnology, artificial intelligence, and major CBNR risks are of particular interest during this hiring cycle, as are experts in international law and technology regulation. But the best candidates will be doing cutting-edge social science research on emerging technologies that promises to contribute to intellectual efforts in CMIST and across CMU.

We will consider scholars at all levels—from entry-level assistant professor to associate and full professor levels. This is an outstanding opportunity to become part of a new, interdisciplinary initiative that combines Carnegie Mellon's existing strengths in AI, cybersecurity, biotechnology, robotics, and other emerging technologies, with scholarship focused on national security, international relations, ethics, law, and policy. We seek intellectually agile, innovative scholars willing to work cooperatively across disciplinary boundaries to tackle the challenges of emergent technologies for war and peace.

Background

Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) launched a major new interdisciplinary institute, the Carnegie Mellon Institute for Strategy and Technology (CMIST), in 2023. CMIST is a university-wide initiative devoted to the wise development, use, and governance of new and emerging technologies that are changing the national and international security landscape.

The home for Carnegie Mellon University's (CMU) study of Political Science and International Relations, CMIST is also uniquely poised to take advantage of the university's strengths in computer science and engineering and its distinctive tradition of collaborative, cross-university, cross-disciplinary research. CMU is ranked in the top five in the U.S. in Computer Science and in Engineering. It is ranked #1 in the subfields of artificial intelligence, computer engineering, cybersecurity, information systems, and software engineering. It has leading research institutes in areas such as robotics, machine learning, natural language technologies, human-computer interaction, engineering and public policy, and public policy and management—all designed to reach across disciplinary boundaries to solve key problems and address the highest-priority challenges facing humanity. Tying these areas of strength to crucial questions of strategy, security, ethics, and policy, CMIST is the newest addition to this rich CMU research landscape.

Carnegie Mellon University

Formally established in 1967, CMU is a dynamic R1 institution that has an exceptional impact on the world. Despite its relative youth, Carnegie Mellon consistently ranks in the top 25 US national universities. CMU is a global, research-intensive university with more than 14,000 students, more than 110,000 living alumni, approximately 5,000 faculty and staff, and over 100 research centers. It is a place of creativity, entrepreneurship, pragmatism, and ambition, with a tradition of strategically focusing its efforts and resources in areas where it can lead, then pursuing those areas with startling intensity. The research and teaching initiative in CMIST is just such a strategic undertaking.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its community on a range of intellectual and cultural dimensions. Carnegie Mellon welcomes faculty applicants who will contribute to this diversity through their research, teaching and service, including women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, individuals with disabilities, and others who would contribute in different ways. Carnegie Mellon University seeks to meet the needs of dual-career couples and is a member of the Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC) that assists with dual-career searches.

How to Apply

Applications should be submitted electronically via the Interfolio application system at <http://apply.interfolio.com/152858>.

They should include the following:

For Junior Scholars:

- A cover letter explaining the candidate's interest in the position, and detailing the applicant's research, teaching, and service record to date.
- A curriculum vitae.
- Up to three writing samples.
- A projection of the candidate's future research agenda.
- A short teaching portfolio, including statement of teaching philosophy, courses the candidate might propose to teach, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations)
- The names and addresses of three references, who will be requested to submit letters through the Interfolio system.

For Mid- and Senior-level Scholars:

- A cover letter explaining the candidate's reasons for being interested in the position.
- A detailed curriculum vitae.
- Other materials and names of references may be requested thereafter.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14702

San Jose State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science: Comparative or American Politics (Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Technology Policy)

The Political Science Department at San José State University seeks qualified candidates for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in comparative or American politics with a specialization in Artificial Intelligence (AI) and technology policy. We highly encourage candidates whose research specializes in any of the following areas including, but not limited to, the role of AI and misinformation, disinformation or manipulation in elections; comparative public policy investigating different government approaches and regulatory systems with respect to AI research and deployment in the public and private sectors; human oversight including the need for international collaboration and standards around AI; examining how the adoption of AI technologies affects employment, inequality, and privacy across different national contexts; and implicit bias within Large Language Models (LLMs), ethics, social justice, and AI.

Successful candidates will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to equity and inclusion through their research, teaching, and/or service. We ask that all applicants include a Diversity Statement with their application package. A guide to writing this statement can be found at SJSU Diversity Statement Guidelines, along with information about how these statements will be evaluated.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.sjsu.edu/en-us/job/542165/assistant-professor-political-science-comparative-or-american-politics-artificial-intelligence-ai-and-technology-policy> Assistant Professor, Political Science: Comparative or American Politics (Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Technology Policy)&lt;/a>&gt;

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in political science at the time of appointment.

Demonstrated teaching experience or potential to teach effectively in comparative politics, technology policy, and political science.

Demonstrated ability or strong potential to develop and maintain an active research agenda with publications appropriate to the political science discipline.

Applicants should demonstrate an awareness of and sensitivity to the educational goals of a socially and economically diverse student population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching, and other comparable experience.

Preferred Qualifications:

Broad knowledge and preparation in comparative politics (especially African and/or Middle Eastern politics) or American politics (with an emphasis in American public policy).

Experience working with Black, Latinx, Indigenous, and other historically underserved students in the classroom, and an understanding of how historical patterns of exclusion of these groups within higher education and the field of political science shape patterns of participation and outcomes.

Willingness to examine and re-mediate one's instructional, relational, and classroom practices to more effectively engage and support historically underserved students.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/11/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 14697

California State University, Fullerton

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Behavior, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science in the Division of Politics, Administration & Justice at California State University, Fullerton, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Science with an appointment to begin Fall 2025.

California State University, Fullerton (CSUF) is a minority-serving institution, affirmative action, and equal opportunity employer. CSUF is firmly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum and fostering an inclusive environment within which students, staff, administrators, and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences. Individuals advancing the University's strategic diversity goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

CSUF is committed to retaining all faculty and has established affinity groups you can join to support your success.

Position

The Political Science Department seeks a candidate whose primary field of teaching and research is political behavior. Preference will be given to candidates whose scholarly and teaching interests focus on the role of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, or other historically marginalized groups and/or minoritized populations; electoral behavior; political polarization; or democratic backsliding within the United States, in isolation or comparatively.

CSUF faculty are committed teacher/scholars who bring research and creative discovery to life for students in classrooms, labs, studios, and individually mentored projects. They teach broadly in the curricula of their departments, advise students, and serve on departmental and university-wide committees.

The primary responsibilities of the position will include teaching core courses in political behavior at both the undergraduate and graduate level, and the development of various courses in the faculty's area(s) of specialization. Faculty generally teach three classes per semester; a reduced teaching load is provided for the first two years. This faculty member will also be responsible for producing scholarship commensurate with the requirements for tenure and will be expected to contribute to and participate in the life and development of the Department and Division, advise students, serve on committees, and participate in the broader university and disciplinary communities.

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. in political science at the time of appointment with an emphasis in political behavior or a related field.
- Ability to teach political behavior in the United States, either in isolation or comparatively.
- Demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching a diverse student population.

- A strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment.
- Experience and commitment to being collaborative and a good colleague.
- Ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service.
- Demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from intersecting marginalized social groups.

Preferred Qualifications

- Research and expertise in the role of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, or other historically marginalized and/or minoritized populations
- Expertise in electoral behavior; or
- Expertise in political polarization; or
- Expertise in democratic backsliding.
- Experience teaching a diverse student population.

Application

A complete online application must be received by electronic submission to be considered. To apply, please visit <http://hr.fullerton.edu/careers/Faculty.php>, choose full-time faculty, search for position 542013, and provide the following required materials:

- cover letter in which you respond to the required qualifications
- curriculum vitae
- research statement describing area of research and current/future research agenda. Please limit to two pages.
- teaching statement describing teaching approach and philosophy. Please limit to one page.
- candidate statement on commitment to inclusive excellence
  - o This statement provides the candidate's unique perspective on their past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting diversity, inclusion, and social justice in higher education and/or their professional careers and their future aspirations in doing so. The statement shall address the following criteria:
    1. The candidate can demonstrate knowledge of barriers for underrepresented students and faculty in higher education.
    2. The candidate has experience in and is committed to engaging in service with underrepresented populations in higher education.
    3. The candidate has experience in and is committed to teaching and/or mentoring underrepresented students in a higher education environment.
    4. The candidate has experience integrating underrepresented populations and communities into scholarly and creative activities.
- a list of three references with relevant contact information
  - o Semi-finalists?must submit three letters of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit. On the References page of the online application, enter information and email?addresses for three referents who will provide a confidential letter of reference for your application. At?the appropriate time in the search process, they will receive a request via email along with information on?uploading the letter. You can verify that CSUF has received each letter by logging?back into your applicant portal.

Please direct all questions about the position to: Shelly Arsneault at sarsneault@fullerton.edu or call 657-278-2456.

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, all application materials must be received by September 30, 2024. The anticipated appointment date is August 2025.

The College and Department

The Department of Political Science provides students with an education that is grounded in theory and evidence-based research. We prepare our students for law school or graduate school, government employment on the local, state and national levels, foreign service, teaching, business, journalism, or leadership in civic and political activities. The Department of Political Science is situated within the Division of Politics, Administration & Justice, a multi-disciplinary Division that provides faculty excellent opportunities for collaboration with colleagues from Public Administration and Criminal Justice. The Division is housed within the College of Humanities and Social Sciences (H&SS) with programs and departments that offer students the breadth of a traditional liberal arts education in the humanities and social sciences while preparing them to be members of a global society participating in a wide range of professions or advanced academic or professional study.

H&SS is the largest college at CSUF, offering 23 undergraduate degrees, 38 minors, and 15 graduate degrees. Our mission is to educate students to be culturally, globally, socially, historically and environmentally astute, civically responsible alumni able to navigate an increasingly complex and interconnected world. Three primary initiatives in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences - CoJET, Passage to the Future, and IBII - showcase our core pillars of civic engagement, social justice, and global awareness. Our faculty-based Collective for Justice, Equity & Transformation (CoJET), consists of H&SS faculty fellows whose expertise addresses equity, diversity, justice, community and organizational transformation. Faculty teaching our Passage to the Future courses help position our students for future success by helping them connect H&SS experiences and knowledge to career paths. The Institute of Black Intellectual Innovation (IBII) is a cross-campus and community-minded initiative to institutionalize the support and inclusion of Black people, culture, creative arts, and intellectual history at California State University, Fullerton and throughout Orange County.

Compensation

The Assistant Professor (Academic Year) classification salary range is $5,925 to $12,594 monthly (12 monthly payments per academic year). The anticipated hiring range is $6,990 to $7,130 per month.

Salary offered is commensurate with experience and qualifications. In addition, the California Equal Pay Act prohibits employers from paying its employees less than those of the opposite sex and/or another race or ethnicity for substantially similar work (https://www.dir.ca.gov/dlse/california\_equal\_pay\_act.htm).

Summer research grants, moving expenses, start-up funds, and a reduced teaching load may be available.

CSUF Benefits

We are growing! The Division of Politics, Administration, & Justice has hired a number of new tenure track faculty within the past 5 years, with more on the horizon. Join us and help shape the life and development of the Department and Division.

An excellent comprehensive benefits package includes health/vision/dental plans; spouse, domestic partner, and dependent fee-waiver; access to campus child-care; and a defined-benefit retirement through the state system and optional tax sheltering opportunities. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit <https://hr.fullerton.edu/total-wellness/>.

CSU Policies

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and must comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083, revised July 21, 2017, as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be formally offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or the continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Reasonable accommodations will be provided for qualified applicants with disabilities who self-disclose.

Notice of Non-Discrimination based on Gender or Sex and Contact Information for Title IX Coordinator (<http://www.fullerton.edu/titleix/about/notice.php>).

In accordance with the California State University (CSU) Out-of-State Employment Policy, the CSU is a state entity whose business operations reside within the State of California. It requires hiring employees to perform CSU-related work within the State of California.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14688

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor, African American Studies and Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology

Description

Yale's Departments of African American Studies, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology invite applicants for multiple positions at the assistant professor level beginning July 2025. These positions are part of a cluster hire in African American Studies and the social sciences—the goal is to deepen empirical scholarship of Black experiences—growing the community at Yale necessary for such scholarship in the process. Applicants' research should fit within one or both of two broad subfields: 1) Racial Attitudes and Political Participation (e.g., estimating the role of prejudice in politics, topics in sexuality and gender identity, race and attitudes towards climate justice, and/or other relevant subspecializations) and 2) Race, Systems, and Institutions (e.g., the intersections of race and class, race and artificial intelligence, race relations in specific domains such as education, child welfare, public administration, and/or other relevant subspecializations). All applicants will be jointly appointed with African American Studies and either Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology and each successful applicant will work with their hiring departments to construct a mentorship plan designed to optimize the applicant's ability to navigate the resources of two departments on their path towards promotion. Candidates will be expected to teach courses whose content falls within one or both general areas of research listed above. Candidates who wish to be considered for more than one combination (e.g., African American Studies and Psychology and/or African American Studies and Sociology) should indicate this desire on the cover sheet and apply by the earliest relevant deadline below.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD (or equivalent) at time of hire.

Application Instructions

Yale seeks outstanding applicants who will advance our mission of understanding Black experiences across a broad range of disciplines.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Political Science, please apply by September 15, 2024.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Sociology, please apply by October 1, 2024.

For both the Af-Am/PoliSci and Af-Am/Soc applicants, review of applications in these areas will begin immediately after the deadlines and you will be informed no later than the end of November about the status of your application.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Psychology, please apply by November 1, 2024.

For these applicants, review of applications in these areas will also begin immediately after the deadline, and you will be informed by early February about the status of your application.

For questions, please contact Senior Administrative Assistant, Ms. Vanessa Epps @vanessa.epps@yale.edu. Applicants must submit the following materials for full consideration to URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/151852>

Cover Letter – Indicate your desired department affiliations (African American Studies and Political Science, Psychology, and/or Sociology) and broad area(s) of research.

Sample Works – For applicants wishing to be considered jointly with Political Science and/or Sociology, submit up to two samples of original research. For applicants wishing to be considered jointly with Psychology, submit three samples of original research.

Research Statement – Describe your most significant scientific discoveries and accomplishments to date as well as your goals for your future research program in a supportive environment like Yale. (2 pages max)

Mentoring and Teaching – Describe your philosophy, experience, and plans for mentoring and teaching undergraduate and graduate students. (1 page max)

Curriculum Vitae – Include your most recent CV with links to publications (or website).

Letters of Recommendation – Please arrange for three referees to upload letters of recommendation by the due date. Recommenders are encouraged to upload them directly.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2025

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14685

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Lecturer in Political Science

Lecturer in Political Science

University of California San Diego

Position overview

Position title: Lecturer

Salary range: A reasonable salary range estimate for this position is $66,259-$97,304 (full-time salary). The posted UC academic salary scales set the minimum pay determined by rank and/or step at appointment. See the following table for the salary scale for this position

[https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/2023-24/july-2023-acad-salary-scales/t15.pdf]

Application Window

Open date: April 3, 2024

Next review date: Thursday, Aug 29, 2024 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.

Final date: Wednesday, Apr 2, 2025 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Applications will continue to be accepted until this date, but those received after the review date will only be considered if the position has not yet been filled.

Position description

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, San Diego, is generating an applicant pool of Lecturer Academic Year (Unit 18-Non-Senate Faculty) instructors to teach courses on a temporary basis should an opening arise. Applicants will be selected from this pool for teaching throughout the 2024-2025 academic year. The number of positions varies by academic term, depending on the needs of the Department. Candidates must identify the specific course or courses they are applying to teach and quarters they are available in the cover letter. (Please visit our department website for a complete listing of the courses we offer.: <https://polisci.ucsd.edu/undergrad/political-science-courses/>.)

Positions typically start at the beginning of an academic quarter, and appointments may be renewable based on need, funding, performance, and the Department's mandate to maintain intellectual diversity.

In addition to the core responsibility of teaching, general duties include (but are not limited to) holding office hours, assigning grades, advising students, preparing course materials (e.g., syllabus), and maintaining a course website. Those teaching large courses are expected to manage and mentor graduate student Teaching Assistants.

Qualifications

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Qualified candidates must hold a PhD in Political Science or closely related field or a related professional degree (including, but not limited to, JD, MPA, MBA).

Preferred qualifications

Candidates with prior research or practical experience relevant to the course(s) to which they are applying to teach and/or prior college level teaching experience are preferred, experience can be as a teaching assistant.

Application Requirements

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter - Description of training, research, and teaching experience and interests.
- Teaching Evaluations
- Statement of Contributions to Diversity - Applicants should summarize their past or potential contributions to diversity. See our /shortcuts/contributions_to_diversity site for more information.

- Sample Syllabi
- Misc / Additional (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 0-2 letters of reference required

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/5547844>

Help contact: ap-poli@ucsd.edu

About UC San Diego

The University of California, San Diego is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, covered veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

For the University of California's Affirmative Action Policy please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4010393/PPSM-20>.

For the University of California's Anti-Discrimination Policy, please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/1001004/Anti-Discrimination>.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, state, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.

The University of California prohibits <https://smokefree.ucsd.edu> use at all University controlled properties.

The UC San Diego Annual Security & Fire Safety Report is available online at: <https://www.police.ucsd.edu/docs/annualclery.pdf>. This report provides crime and fire statistics, as well as institutional policy statement & procedures. Contact the UC San Diego Police Department at (858) 534-4361 if you want to obtain paper copies of this report.

Job location
La Jolla, CA

To apply, please visit: <https://apptrkr.com/5547844>

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 4/2/2025

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14677

Augusta University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Assistant Professor in Political Science

Job ID: 275959

Location: Summerville Campus

Full/Part Time: Full Time

Job Summary

Job ID: 275959

Position # 40071484

The Katherine Reese Pamplin College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, Department of Social Sciences at Augusta University, is seeking to fill a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor for its proposed PhD program in Intelligence, Defense, and Cybersecurity Policy, anticipated to begin August 2025. The selected candidate will be expected to teach courses in this program, as well as our Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) and to implement an active research agenda in Cyber and Intelligence. Candidates must have a PhD in Intelligence Studies, Political Science, International Relations, Security Studies, or a related field and a broad concentration in security, national defense, and conflict. Candidates should demonstrate potential for excellence in research including writing and securing grants and a strong commitment to teaching, including an interest in online instruction. Please see Augusta University Promotion and Tenure website in the Shift/Salary/Benefits section of this posting.

Responsibilities

- Teach courses in the Intelligence, Defense, and Cybersecurity Policy PhD program
- Teach courses in our Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS).
- Implement an active research agenda in Cyber, Intelligence, and Security Studies.
- Participate in shared governance of department, college, and university as assigned.

Required Qualifications

PhD in Intelligence Studies, Political Science, International Relations, Security Studies, or a related field (completed and conferred by start of hire, August 1, 2025).

Assistant Professor- Terminal degree (or nearing its completion), or its equivalent in training, ability, and/or experience.

Required faculty employment qualifications for all USG institutions and all academic ranks within these institutions shall be:

- Consistent with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC)'s requirements for institutional accreditation;
- Evidence of ability as a teacher;
- Evidence of activity as a scholar and ability in all other duties assigned;
- Successful experience (which will necessarily be waived for those just entering the academic profession who meet all other requirements); and,
- Desirable personal qualities judged on the basis of personal interview, complete biographical data, and recommendations.

Preferred Qualifications

- Research/teaching/experience with open-source intelligence
- Experience with social-media analysis and/or information warfare
- Experience with cyber-intelligence and policy/strategy/theory
- Experience with research methods, data analytics, and/or machine-learning
- Experience teaching in person and online
- Grant writing experience or potential/willingness for grant writing.

Shift/Salary/Benefits

This position is academic year based and typically works August through May, depending on dates outlined in offer letter an annual contract.

The intended work commitment or full-time equivalent (FTE) for each of these positions is 1.0.

Assistant Professor Salary and compensation is commensurate with education, experience, and achievements. The salary is subject to availability of funds.

Comprehensive benefits include medical, dental, vision, sick leave, generous retirement plans, tuition waiver, wellness options, and much more!

Also, our full-time employees who have been employed with us successfully for more than 6 months can be considered for the Tuition Assistance Program.

Rank and salary are determined at the time of hire and are based on a variety of factors including but no limited to experience, education, credentials, specialty, training, etc., while also considering internal equity and market data.

Advancement through the faculty ranks at Augusta University is only through the annual Promotion and Tenure process in which faculty may apply if eligible (typically five-year increments). For more information on ranks, please review the Augusta University Promotion and Tenure website: <https://www.augusta.edu/faculty-affairs/promotionandtenure.php>

College/Department Information

The Katherine Reese Pamplin College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences forms the heart of the liberal arts mission of Augusta University. We foster critical thinking about complex questions of the human experience; cultivate skills in written, verbal, and creative expression; promote active citizenship and community engagement; and prepare graduates for a variety of careers in quickly changing globalized environments. Our faculty and staff share a deep commitment to developing the intellectual potential of our students. We offer many undergraduate degrees as well as select graduate and minor programs that allow our students to gain the knowledge and skills that will transfer to career success. Explore opportunities for growth, including undergraduate research, study abroad, internships, and community service.

The Department of Social Sciences is the academic home to over 400 students in undergraduate degrees programs in Political Science; Criminal Justice; Sociology; Health, Society, and Policy; Nonprofit Leadership and Administration; and Social work along with masters programs in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) and Public Administration (MPA). Our MAISS program, with over 60 current students and 7 faculty members, is growing and plans to offer a PhD starting in Fall 2025.

The department is located on the beautiful and historic Summerville campus in a building with newly remodeled classrooms. The city of Augusta is home of the US Army's Cyber Command at Fort Eisenhower and the world-renowned Masters Golf Tournament and is the birthplace of music icon James Brown. Nestled along the banks of the Savannah River, Augusta is located approximately 2.5 hours from the cosmopolitan amenities of Atlanta and Charlotte as well as the outdoor beauty of several beaches and mountains.

About Us

Augusta University is Georgia's innovation center for education and health care, training the next generation of innovators, leaders, and healthcare providers in classrooms and clinics on four campuses in Augusta and locations across the state. More than 10,500 students choose Augusta for educational opportunities at the center of Georgia's cybersecurity hub and experiential learning that blends arts and application, humanities, and the health sciences. Augusta is home to Georgia's only public academic health center, where groundbreaking research is creating a healthier, more prosperous Georgia, and world-class clinicians are bringing the medicine of tomorrow to patient care today. Our <https://www.augusta.edu/about/mission.php> make Augusta University an institution like no other.

The [https://www.usg.edu/hr/orientation/welcome\_to\_the\_board\_of Regents\_university\_system\_office](https://www.usg.edu/hr/orientation/welcome_to_the_board_of Regents_university_system_office) is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Location

Our Summerville Campus:

2500 Walton Way, Augusta, GA 30904

Conditions of Employment

All selected candidates are required to successfully pass a Background Check review prior to starting with Augusta University.

If applicable for the specific position based on the duties: the candidate will also need to have a credit check completed for Positions of Trust and or approved departmental Purchase Card usage.

Motor vehicle reports are required for positions that are required to drive an Augusta University vehicle.

For Faculty Hires: Final candidates will be required to provide proof of completed academic degree(s) as well as post-secondary coursework in the form of original transcript(s). Those candidates trained by a foreign institution will also be required to provide an educational/credential evaluation.

All employees are responsible for ensuring the confidentiality, availability, and integrity of sensitive [patient, student, employee, financial, business, etc.] information by exercising sound judgment and adhering to cybersecurity and privacy policies during their employment and beyond.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Augusta University is proud to be an equal opportunity employer welcoming applicants from underrepresented groups, including individuals with disabilities and veterans.

How To Apply

To be considered an applicant for this position, you must apply online at <https://www.augusta.edu/hr/jobs/#job-portals>.

Please upload a cover letter describing research, teaching, and other pertinent qualifications; a curriculum vitae; an unofficial copy of graduate school transcripts (the successful candidate will be required to submit official copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts); and a list of three references. These documents should be submitted as one combined document.

Questions can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Craig Albert, in the Department of Social Sciences at <mailto:calbert@augusta.edu>. The committee will begin reviewing applications immediately.

Other Information

This position is also responsible for promoting a customer-friendly environment and providing superior service to our patients, students, faculty, and employees. “Augusta University is a patient-and family-centered care institution, where employees partner every day with patients and families for success.”

Augusta University is a tobacco-free environment, and the use of any tobacco products on any part of the campus, both inside and outside, is strictly prohibited.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5543810>

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14667

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor: US Politics

The Wilf Family Department of Politics is seeking outstanding and innovative scholars for a position in US Politics at the assistant professor level. The tenure-track position is to commence September 1, 2025, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

Please apply online at apply.interfolio.com/152513 Candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 19, 2024. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, writing sample, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/19/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14680

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Black Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Black Politics. The search is open with respect to methodology. This position will include teaching assignments for introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses with capacity for large enrollments of diverse students as well as graduate seminars. The position directly supports the unit’s commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Tenure track faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Washington State Law requires that this ad list a binding salary range. The base salary range for this position will be $10,000 - $15,000 per month on a 9-month basis ($90,000 - $135,000 annually), commensurate with experience and qualifications, or as mandated by a U.S. Department of Labor prevailing wage determination. The position will begin on September 16, 2025 and is full time with a 9-month service period (September 16 – June 15).

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research engaging the study of Black Politics. Applicants must have a Ph.D., or foreign equivalent, in Political Science or closely related field by the start of the appointment.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All application materials must be submitted online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/152239>

Applications should include a 1-2 page cover letter, current CV, writing sample, 1-2 page research statement, 1-2 page teaching statement, 1 page diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant’s substantive research interests and accomplishments. The teaching statement should include the following: describe the applicant’s teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant’s record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications received by September 23, 2024 are guaranteed full consideration. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

BENEFITS INFORMATION

A summary of benefits associated with this title/rank can be found at <https://hr.uw.edu/benefits/benefits-orientation/benefit-summary-pdfs/>. Appointees solely employed and paid directly by a non-UW entity are not UW employees and are not eligible for UW or Washington State employee benefits.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY

The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (<http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/>). Additionally, the University's Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member's academic profile and responsibilities (<https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432>).

PRIVATE NOTICE

Review the University of Washington Privacy Notice for Demographic Data of Job Applicants and University Personnel to learn how your demographic data are protected, when the data may be used, and your rights.

DISABILITY SERVICES

To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact the Disability Services Office at 206-543-6450 or dso@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14665

University of Texas, Tyler

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Research Methods, Congress

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas at Tyler invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position specializing in American politics. The successful candidate will be able to teach research methods, along with courses related to elections and political institutions. This position offers an opportunity to join an academically vibrant community and make impactful contributions to teaching, research, and community service.

Job Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 course load.
- Demonstrate the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses.
- Maintain a record of research.
- Advise students.
- Serve the department, college, and university.

Candidates should have an earned Ph.D. in Political Science by the time of appointment.

Our department is embarking on a new direction with the Politics, Philosophy & Law (PPL) track for a BS in Political Science. This innovative program emphasizes public service and equips students with critical skills in politics, ethics, law, and philosophy. The PPL concentration encourages analytical and critical reflection on the values, ethics, and interconnections in politics, philosophy, and legal thought systems, preparing students for careers in law, government, and public interest organizations. We seek a candidate who aligns with this new direction and is enthusiastic about contributing to its development.

About Tyler:

Situated approximately ninety minutes east of Dallas/Ft. Worth, Tyler is a growing city with over 100,000 residents. The University of Texas at Tyler, serving over 10,000 students, is a pivotal educational institution and a central hub for cultural and academic pursuits in the region.

Application Process:

Qualified candidates may apply at [UT Tyler Prospective Employees] (<https://www.uttyler.edu/human-resources/prospective-employees/>). Please submit a letter of application detailing teaching and research interests, teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae and unofficial transcripts, all in one document.

Review of applications begins the week of September 30, 2024. However, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Additional Information:

The successful applicant must be able to demonstrate eligibility to work in the United States.

This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code Section 51.215, authorizing the employer to obtain criminal history record information. The University of Texas at

Tyler is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, status as a protected veteran, or status as a qualified individual with a disability. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14663

Bucknell University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science (American Politics)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics beginning in the fall semester of 2025. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering exceptional candidates at other ranks. We seek candidates whose scholarly and teaching interests center on race and ethnic politics in the U.S. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in American politics, courses in race and ethnic politics, and a course in quantitative or qualitative research methods.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the Department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in American politics. Outstanding candidates in the final stages of their dissertation may be considered, but must complete their degree in their first year at Bucknell in order to continue employment after the first year.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <https://www.bucknell.edu/careers-bucknell>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. The candidates will be requested to provide references later in the process. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to: Professor Doug Hecock rdh013@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on September 16, 2024 and continue until filled.

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 8/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14660

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Job Summary:

The Political Science department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison seeks to hire one faculty member at either the level of Assistant or Associate Professor who will publish original research and teach courses on the subject of American politics.

The successful candidate will advance the educational mission of the College of Letters & Science, that values, prioritizes, and actualizes evidence-based and student-centered teaching and (undergraduate student) mentoring. They will contribute to an inclusive, fair, and equitable environment that fosters engagement and a sense of belonging for faculty, staff, students and members of the broader community.

Responsibilities:

Successful applicants will teach graduate and undergraduate classes, mentor students, conduct scholarly research, and provide service to the department, college, university, and academic community nationally or internationally. The successful candidate, as a member of the College of L&S, will proactively contribute to, support, and advance the college's commitment to equity among all aspects of their teaching, mentoring, research, and service.

Institutional Statement on Diversity:

Diversity is a source of strength, creativity, and innovation for UW-Madison. We value the contributions of each person and respect the profound ways their identity, culture, background, experience, status, abilities, and opinion enrich the university community. We commit ourselves to the pursuit of excellence in teaching, research, outreach, and diversity as inextricably linked goals.

The University of Wisconsin-Madison fulfills its public mission by creating a welcoming and inclusive community for people from every background - people who as students, faculty, and staff serve Wisconsin and the world.

For more information on diversity and inclusion on campus, please visit: <http://diversity.wisc.edu> Diversity and Inclusion

Education:

Required PhD in Political Science, the subfield of American politics. Ph.D. required by start of appointment.

Qualifications:

Candidates with an excellent publication record or a productive research program with strong publishing potential are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will demonstrate experience with fostering or the ability to foster an inclusive and equity-centered teaching, learning, mentoring, departmental, and research environment where all can thrive.

Work Type:

Full Time: 100%

This position may require some work to be performed in-person, onsite, at a designated campus work location. Some work may be performed remotely, at an offsite, non-campus work location.

Appointment Type, Duration:

Ongoing/Renewable

Anticipated Begin Date:

AUGUST 18, 2025

Salary:

Negotiable

ACADEMIC (9 months)

Additional Information:

The College of Letters & Science is committed to creating an inclusive environment in which all of us - students, staff, and faculty - can thrive. Ours is a community in which we all are welcome. Most importantly, we strive to build a community in which all of us feel a great sense of belonging. There is no excellence without diversity in all its forms; diverse teams are more creative and successful than homogeneous ones. We are better when we are diverse and when we acknowledge, celebrate and honor our diversity. In acknowledging and honoring our diversity, we also assume a responsibility to support and stand up for each other.

How to Apply:

Apply online at &quot;Jobs at UW&quot; (<http://jobs.wisc.edu> ) under job number 304011. Applications must be received through UW- Madison's online application system. Applications submitted outside of this system will not be considered. To begin the application process please click on the 'Apply Now' button. You will be asked to create a profile and upload a C.V., cover letter, a research statement, a teaching and mentoring statement, and 2 samples of written work (please upload these 2 samples together). You will also be asked to provide contact information for three (3) references as part of your online application; each reference will receive an electronic link through which they can upload a signed letter of reference at the time of application submission.

Please note that applicants will be evaluated based upon submitted application materials and therefore should speak to and include evidence of their qualifications. Application materials must clearly demonstrate the applicant's dedication to excellence in student-centered teaching and mentoring. Additionally, materials should showcase the applicant's ability to purposefully plan their teaching practices, evidenced through goals, action plans, reflection, and related documentation. This portion of application materials must be created by the applicant that may include supporting letters. It cannot be only in the form of letters and testimony by others.

The deadline for assuring full consideration is October 1, 2024, however the position will remain open and applications may be considered until the position is filled.

Employment will require an institutional reference check regarding any misconduct. To be considered, applicants must upload a signed 'Authorization to Release Information' form as part of the application. The authorization form and a definition of 'misconduct' can be found here: <https://hr.wisc.edu/institutional-reference-check/https://hr.wisc.edu/institutional-reference-check/>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/16/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14662

Emory University

Rank: AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS, open rank

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a faculty appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with a specialization in American Politics. We are interested in scholars whose research is grounded in American Politics, theoretically informed, and methodologically rigorous. The position is open with regard to research specialty within American politics. Candidates are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, mentor students, and conduct research in American politics. Associate and Full professors are also expected to contribute to department and university service and leadership.

A complete application must include a cover letter, a statement describing current and future research, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and a list of three references. Untenured candidates should also supply three recommendation letters, a graduate transcript, and a statement of teaching philosophy and experience. Emory University is committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. All applicants should also submit a brief statement describing their experience and vision for the teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds.

All materials should be submitted online through Interfolio by visiting our application website at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151949>. Candidates are strongly encouraged to apply by September 14, 2024, when we will begin review of applications. All applications received by October 14, 2024 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 8/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14641

Rice University

Rank: Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a Full Professor to begin July 1, 2025. The candidate will be expected to serve as Department Chair. Full professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise Ph.D. dissertations, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to department, university, and disciplinary service. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of leadership and service at the dept/school/university/discipline level, outstanding teaching in undergraduate and graduate courses, and research excellence in their specialized area. Candidates should have research interests and expertise in the areas of American politics, comparative politics, or international relations, and have utilized quantitative research methods in their work. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a leadership/service statement highlighting experience and leadership philosophy; a research statement; a teaching statement; a DEI statement; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and contact information for three references who can attest to the candidate's leadership experience and qualities. References will be contacted for a subset of candidates. All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151772>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14632

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Professor/Advanced Associate Professor, Political Science

Specializations: American Politics, Political Economy, Political Psychology

The Department of Political Science at Stony Brook University invites applications for a full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to begin September 1, 2025. The search is open to the Department's existing areas of sub-field specialty within Political Science: American politics, political economy, and political behavior/psychology (American or Comparative). The Department comprises BA, MA, and PhD programs in Political Science, as well as an MA in Public Policy. It is home to 14 tenured and tenure-track faculty, roughly 500 undergraduate majors and minors, staff, Political Science graduate students, and several non-tenure track full-time lecturers. The Department is ranked in the top 30 Political Science graduate programs in the most recent U.S. News & World Report rankings, and the dynamic, interdisciplinary faculty produce high-quality research that is consistently published in top-rated journals. The faculty are committed to teaching excellence. Successful candidates will have a strong publication record and demonstrated research excellence. An established track record of graduate student collaboration and mentoring is highly desirable.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. (or foreign equivalent) in Political Science, or a closely related field.
2. Rank of full professor or advanced associate professor
3. Research expertise in one of the following areas: American politics, political economy, political behavior/psychology

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Demonstrated record of the following, as evidenced by the applicant's CV and supporting materials:
  - a. Record of producing high-quality research
  - b. Strong research background and training
  - c. Strong publication record
  - d. Experience teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
  - e. Past graduate student mentoring and collaboration
  - f. Commitment to enhancing diversity, equity, and inclusion among faculty, undergraduate, and graduate students

Application Instructions

Please upload the following materials to Interfolio at this address: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147864>

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Writing samples
4. Teaching statement
5. Research statement
6. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) statement
7. Three reference contacts able to provide letters of reference upon request

All application materials must be submitted online. The names of applicants will be kept confidential until a list of finalists is confirmed. Referees will not be contacted without the candidate's prior consent. Please use the Apply Now button to begin your application. For technical support, please visit Interfolio's Support Site (<https://support.interfolio.com/>) or reach out to their Scholar Service Team at help@interfolio.com or (877) 997-8807.

For questions regarding this position, please contact the search chair, Professor Ryan Vander Wielen at ryan.vanderwielen@stonybrook.edu.

For full consideration please submit your materials by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on Monday, September 23, 2024.

Special Notes: This is a tenured, FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA.

The selected candidate must successfully clear a background investigation.

In accordance with the Title II Crime Awareness and Security Act, a copy of our crime statistics is available upon request by calling (631) 632- 6350. It can also be viewed online at the University Police website at <http://www.stonybrook.edu/police>.

About the Department:

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in research and scholarship, graduate student training, undergraduate teaching and learning, public outreach, and the promotion of responsible citizenship. It contributes to the generation of knowledge about politics and aims to deepen scholarly and public understanding of political institutions and the citizenry. The department seeks to prepare students for successful careers in government, academics, and the private sector. The Department provides training for PhD and MA students in cutting-edge approaches to the empirical study of political science to produce graduates with outstanding research, teaching, and professional skills. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/polsci/>

About the College:

As part of a great research university, the College of Arts and Sciences at Stony Brook University focuses on scholarly creativity, connecting our disciplines of fine arts; humanities; social, behavioral and natural sciences; and mathematics with medicine, technology, culture, education, business and environment. As the largest College for the campus, we help students and faculty begin a lifetime of learning and discovery by exploring new ideas that drive innovation and inspiration across all sectors of society. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/cas/>

Campus Description:

Stony Brook University, one of two flagships within the State University of New York (SUNY) system, is one of America's most dynamic public universities, a center of academic excellence, and an internationally recognized research institution that is changing the world. After more than 60 years of existence, it is ranked among the top 100 universities in the nation and the top 25 public universities in the nation. It is a member of the prestigious invitation-only Association of American Universities, composed of the top 66 leading research institutions in North America. As Long Island's largest single-site employer, Stony Brook has nearly 15,000 full- and part-time employees, including 2,800 faculty and nearly 27,000 students — including almost 18,000 undergraduates — and offers more than 200 majors, minors and combined-degree programs. Located approximately 60 miles east of Manhattan on Long Island's beautiful North Shore, Stony Brook is situated on 1,454 wooded acres, encompassing 13 schools and colleges; a Research and Development Park; world-class athletics facilities, including an 8,300-seat stadium and a 4,000-seat arena; and Stony Brook Medicine, Long Island's premier academic medical center. Also part of the University is a teaching and research campus in Southampton, New York, which offers graduate arts programs and is the site of the Marine Sciences Center. In addition, Stony Brook has a role in running, and performs joint research with, Brookhaven National Laboratory, the only Department of Energy Laboratory in the Northeast. Home to the Emerson String Quartet, the Pollock-Krasner House in East Hampton, NY, and the Humanities Institute, with endeavors that extend to the Turkana Basin Institute in Kenya and the Ranomafana National Park in Madagascar, Stony Brook sustains an international reputation that cuts across the arts, humanities, social sciences and natural sciences.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/23/2024
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Above $159,999
eJobs ID: 14627

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Racial and Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in racial and ethnic politics. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151793. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14630

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14628

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2025. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2026, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time “career employee” at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP’s home academic institution for the visiting professor’s salary and benefits during their time at the Academy. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Lt Col Woody Olmstead, PhD), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-116, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Roland.Olmstead@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14623

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire multiple faculty members with expertise in American Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any area of American Politics. Candidates will be expected to teach courses in American Politics commensurate with their experience. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151671>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 8/7/2025
Date Posted: 8/12/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14618

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

The Department of Politics seeks applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in American politics. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35802>.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to American Politics Junior Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 7, 2024.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00003

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/7/2024
Date Posted: 8/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14608

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor – American Politics (Economic, Racial/Ethnic, and/or Gender Studies), Fall 2025

Specializations: Economic Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track position (assistant professor) to begin in August 1, 2025 in American Politics. While the area of concentration is open, we have preference for scholars who examine empirical questions of diversity, inequality, inclusion, race/ethnicity, and/or gender. The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). Strong quantitative methods skills are a plus. The successful candidate must also demonstrate evidence of, or potential for, teaching excellence. Evidence of prior notable pedagogy, teaching and outreach (whether formal, or informal) is preferred. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

Environment and Community

The University of Tennessee campus is located in one of the most beautiful areas of the country with easy access to miles of inland waterways, pristine state and national parks, diverse cultural opportunities, and a blend of convenient urban and rural living settings. Downtown Knoxville, adjacent to campus, is a thriving neighborhood filled with restaurants, shops, and indoor and outdoor entertainment venues, and is home to the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra, the Knoxville Opera Company, annual international festivals such as the Big Ears Music Festival, and seasonal and weekly events such as Jazz on the Square, Shakespeare on the Square, and the Farmers Market. The University is located within easy driving distance to Asheville, Nashville, Atlanta, and the Great Smoky Mountains.

Qualifications

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related discipline must be finished at the time of appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants should send a cover letter, a current CV, a sample of scholarly writing, a research statement, and a teaching statement. In addition to addressing their qualifications for the position in their application, candidates may describe how they would help promote students' access to and inclusion in their teaching and research/scholarship/creative activities. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University. All applicants should request letters from three references to be directly uploaded to Interfolio. Please submit application materials in digital format via Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/150128. Review of applications begins September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Pat Freeland at pfreelan@utk.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14603

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Associate Professor

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Public Opinion, Political Parties & Organizations

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a full-time, tenured associate professor to begin in August 2025. The successful applicant will conduct research and teach in the area of American Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach and expand our current offerings in public opinion, elections, and/or public policy.

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-division undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. Candidates should demonstrate a record of excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured professor. The faculty member will assist the Department in efforts to recruit, advise, and engage students and develop and refine the Department's curriculum.

Applicants must apply by October 15, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately after that and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14602

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Politics, Tenure Track

Specializations: Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Legislative Studies, State Politics

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia seeks to fill a tenure-track, Assistant Professor faculty position in public policy and politics with a start date in Fall 2025. We invite applications from candidates who have earned their doctorate in political science, public policy, or related disciplines, with a focus on American political institutions. We welcome applicants from all subfields within American political institutions whose work focuses on the politics affecting U.S. public policies, including but not limited to the bureaucracy, legislative politics, or state and local government.

The successful candidate will demonstrate the ability to produce highly influential scholarship. The successful candidate must have the desire and ability to effectively teach courses on politics, public policy, and leadership at the undergraduate (BA) and graduate (MPP) levels, and a desire and ability to contribute to the Batten mission through service and public outreach and engagement.

While the primary appointment is in the Batten School, a joint/courtesy appointment could be possible in the Politics Department depending on the candidate's interests and qualifications. The Batten School is a dynamic cross-disciplinary school offering highly competitive teaching loads, salaries, and research support. The Batten School is committed to faculty growth, including multiple searches this year.

Built upon the strong foundation of one of the nation's top public universities, the Batten School combines rigorous training in policy analysis with a unique emphasis on the acquisition of leadership skills. The research faculty includes psychologists, economists, and political scientists, and is enriched by professors of practice who bring real-world policymaking expertise to the classroom. The Batten School currently offers an MPP degree and an undergraduate major and minor in public policy and leadership, as well as multiple dual degree programs with other UVA units.

The candidate should have a PhD, or be on track to attaining the PhD, by August 1, 2025. Applications must be received by September 30, 2024, to receive full consideration, after which applications will be considered on a rolling basis.

TO APPLY

Please apply through Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/150948>

Applicants must complete the online application and submit the following required materials:

- A cover letter
- A CV
- Three letters of recommendation
- A writing sample
- A research statement
- A teaching statement

The selected candidate will be required to complete a background check at time of offer per University Policy.

For questions about the application process, please contact Jennett Murphy, Assistant Director of Faculty Affairs jennett.murphy@virginia.edu.

The University of Virginia offers confidential Dual Career Services to partners of incoming faculty candidates. To learn more, please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14591

Indiana University, Bloomington

Rank: American Politics

American Politics (Open Rank)

The Department of Political Science at Indiana University-Bloomington invites applications for a full-time tenure track Open Rank position in the field of American Politics, beginning August of 2025. Our goal is to hire the strongest candidate available who is doing interesting and important scholarship in this field and who can contribute to the Department's mission and campus's strengths in social sciences. Candidates should demonstrate active research agendas with the promise for publication in high-quality venues and strong teaching credentials. In addition to maintaining an ongoing research program, this faculty member would be expected to teach courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and to participate actively in departmental activities.

Successful candidates will have completed their Ph.D. degree in Political Science by August 1, 2025.

We encourage applications from all, including members of groups that are traditionally underrepresented in academia. Both the Department of Political Science and the College of Arts and Sciences are committed to building and supporting a diverse inclusive and equitable community of students and scholars.

Indiana University is an equal employment employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status. Applications received by October 1, 2024 will be assured full consideration; however, the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a complete curriculum vitae, two publications or papers, relevant course syllabi and a summary of teaching. Candidates should have at least three letters of recommendation forwarded to us. All application materials should be submitted online to the attention of Professor Aurelian Craiutu, Department Chair, Department of Political Science at: <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25305>

Before a conditional offer of employment with tenure is finalized, candidates will be asked to disclose any pending investigations or previous findings of sexual or professional misconduct. They will also be required to authorize an inquiry by Indiana University Bloomington with all current and former employers along these lines. The relevance of information disclosed or ascertained in the context of this process to a candidate's eligibility for hire will be evaluated by Indiana University Bloomington on a case-by-case basis. Applicants should be aware, however, that Indiana University Bloomington takes the matters of sexual and professional misconduct very seriously.

Questions regarding the position or application process should be directed to Jan Peterson, Department Manager, e-mail: janpeter@iu.edu, Department of Political Science, 210 Woodburn Hall, 1100 E. Seventh Street, Indiana University-Bloomington, Bloomington, Indiana, 47405-7110. Tel: 812-855-6308.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/6/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14582

University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Public Opinion)

The Department of Political Science in the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Arkansas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics to start in August 2025. This is a standard nine-month faculty appointment.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in public opinion, survey research, and the regional politics of the U.S. South. The expected teaching load will be two courses a semester and the successful candidate will work with the Blair Center of Southern Politics and Society.

Duties will include:

- 40% Teaching
- 40% Research
- 20% Service

Minimum Qualifications:

With submitted materials, the candidate must demonstrate

- A Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a related field with a specialization in public opinion and the US South from an accredited institution of higher education conferred by the start of appointment.
- A record of successful research and publication (e.g., journal articles published in reputable outlets).
- A well-defined research agenda that employs survey research and examines the US South.
- Evidence of effective teaching (e.g., teaching evaluations, sample syllabus, teaching portfolio)

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated excellence in teaching.
- A demonstrated ability to teach an undergraduate course in American National Government, State and Local Politics, Campaigns and Elections, or similarly related topics.
- A demonstrated potential for publishing in top-tier outlets.
- Demonstrated experience in survey construction and methodology
- A demonstrated commitment to graduate and undergraduate education and a willingness to contribute to our department's existing teaching strengths.
- A demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a student population from different backgrounds.
- Potential to secure external grant funding.
- A demonstrated commitment to active scholarly service.

The department chair, Bill Schreckhise, will be at the APSA's annual meeting in Philadelphia and participating in APSA's interview services at the conference. His email address is schreckw@uark.edu. You can use this Google form to select a time for the interview here: <https://forms.gle/q7Q8pDUzZjXi26KT9>.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Completed applications received by September 15, 2024, will be assured full consideration. Late applications will be reviewed as necessary to fill the position.

For additional inquiries, please contact the search committee chair, Angie Maxwell, at amax@uark.edu.

For a complete position announcement and information regarding how to apply, visit https://uasys.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UASYS/job/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science--Public-Opinion-\_R0060249?locations=17a66cdad98201f7890cfb48ca00e249.

Applicants must submit

1. A cover letter indicating interest and qualifications.
2. A current curriculum vita.
3. A research statement.
4. A teaching statement describing approach to instruction, assessment of learning, and means of including students from different backgrounds and with different learning abilities.
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including teaching evaluations (when available) demonstrating excellence in instruction.
6. Unofficial graduate transcripts.
7. Two writing samples, one of which must be single authored.
8. A list of three professional references (name, title, email address, and phone number) willing to provide letters of recommendation if requested during the application process. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14586

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor

American Politics. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for two tenure-track positions at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointments beginning July 1, 2025. We seek scholars specializing in any area of American politics or public policy who show promise of research and teaching excellence.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Review of applications will begin September 16, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/284934>. Please include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching portfolio (including a teaching statement and any available teaching evaluations or other evidence of potential for teaching excellence), and a research-focused writing sample.

Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles, and email addresses of FOUR professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265; <https://politicalscience.unc.edu>. To facilitate a systematic and equitable review of applicants, people wishing to support a particular applicant are requested to provide such support within a formal letter of reference. They are discouraged from contacting current faculty members directly to support particular individuals.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14584

Smith College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics)

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

The Department of Government at Smith College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin July 1, 2025.

By time of appointment applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely-related discipline (e.g., public policy). The position has a teaching load of 2:2 – i.e., four semester-long courses over the academic year. The hire will also be expected to contribute to student learning beyond regular classes through directing student research and Honors theses, offering independent studies, and helping with department administrative, curricular and advising responsibilities.

Candidates for the position should have a focus on American politics with special attention to judicial politics. We encourage applications for this position from scholars using a range of methodological approaches and focusing on a variety of topics, including but not limited to the courts, jurisprudential theory, constitutional law, and civil liberties. We anticipate that a successful candidate for this position will also be prepared to teach Introduction to American Government, Constitutional Law, and other upper-division courses relating to their area(s) of expertise.

Candidates from groups underrepresented in political science are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates should be prepared to engage actively with diverse students across the liberal arts.

Located in Northampton, MA, Smith College is the largest women's college in the country and is dedicated to excellence in teaching and research across the liberal arts. A faculty of outstanding scholars interact with students in small classes, as advisors, and through student-faculty research projects. Smith College offers opportunities to foster faculty success at every career stage, such as those listed here. The College is a member of the Five College Consortium with Amherst, Hampshire and Mt. Holyoke Colleges, and the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Students cross-enroll and faculty cross-teach across the Five Colleges. Details about the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.smith.edu/academics/government..>

Submit application at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151221> with a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching and research statements, a diversity/inclusion statement and three confidential letters of recommendation. Finalists may be asked for additional materials. Review of applications will begin on October 1.

As set forth in our mission and values, Smith College is committed to promoting a culture of equity and inclusion among students, staff and faculty. The College will not discriminate in employment on the basis of age, race, color, ethnicity, national origin, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, genetic information, age, veteran status, physical or mental disability, or any other classification protected by law. Smith College is an equal opportunity employer and complies with all state and federal laws that prohibit discrimination.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 10/4/2024

Date Posted: 8/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14581

Claremont McKenna College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Department of Government at Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for a tenure-track position, at the early assistant professor level, in American politics. The position will begin on July 1, 2025. The successful candidate is expected to hold a Ph.D. by the time of the appointment.

The successful applicant will teach courses in American politics using historical, institutional, and theoretical perspectives. Candidates will be asked to teach courses in their specialty, as well as one section per year of Introduction to American Politics. The teaching load is two courses per semester.

The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and the highest standards of excellence in teaching.

Given the College's commitment to cultivating an inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinions, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions. Moreover, as part of its commitment to The Open Academy, the College values freedom of expression, viewpoint diversity, and constructive dialogue. Candidates should demonstrate this commitment in their application materials.

Applications should include a cover letter; curriculum vitae; research statement; teaching statement that addresses the candidate's ability to teach, mentor, and inspire students representing a broad range of backgrounds; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and a writing sample. Applicants must also submit the names and e-mail addresses of three references; an email will be automatically sent to them with a link to upload their confidential recommendation letter.

Please upload application materials at: https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty\_opening\_detail.php?PostingID=17042

Complete applications, including letters of recommendation, will be reviewed beginning September 30, 2024. Review of complete applications will continue until the position is filled. Preliminary interviews will be conducted via Zoom.

Claremont McKenna College is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. The Claremont Colleges consortium constitutes an academic community of more than 9,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Claremont McKenna College is an equal opportunity employer. In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal educational and employment opportunities, the College actively encourages applications from members of historically under-represented groups in higher education.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14573

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, US Politics

Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Behavior, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at the United States Air Force Academy invites applications for a Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position focusing on U.S. Politics beginning June 2025. Candidates with teaching and research interests in any U.S. Politics subfield are encouraged to apply though we are especially interested in candidates with an expertise in American Political Behavior/Political Psychology or U.S. political institutions. This could include research related to race and ethnicity, economic or educational inequality, or gender politics, but it is not limited to these areas. Additionally, we encourage candidates with an interest in teaching research methods to apply. Responsibilities include teaching upper division U.S. politics courses and taking a lead role in the USAFA American government core course; maintaining a strong record of teaching and research; academic advising; and service to the department and Academy.

The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire people to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to our nation. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy is committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will further this goal. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage is found at <https://www.usafa.edu/department/political-science/>

To apply, either go to <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/802392200> or go to www.usajobs.gov then type in "United States Air Force Academy, CO" in the "Location" box, and scroll down until you find this position. The deadline for applications is Oct 15, 2024. A doctorate in Political Science or a related field by the start date and U.S. citizenship are required. Essential qualities expected of every faculty member include the personal attributes of integrity, industry, cooperation, initiative, and breadth of intellectual interests.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 14563

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Political Science Department at Boston College seeks a tenure-track assistant professor in American politics beginning Fall 2025. The position is open as to specialty and approach. The Department has multiple needs, but we have a particular interest in scholars of civic politics, parties, and political participation. The Boston College political science department seeks candidates who ask substantively important political questions and are committed to both producing the high-level scholarship expected at a Ph.D.-granting R1 institution and to undergraduate teaching in an institutional culture that values liberal and civic education.

We expect applicants to complete the PhD no later than the summer of 2025.

Interested candidates should send a letter of introduction, curriculum vitae, three confidential letters of recommendation, graduate transcript, and writing sample to apply.interfolio.com/150752. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual letter writers. We will not accept any applications by email nor by U.S.P.S.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/1/2024
Date Posted: 7/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14568

Stanford University

Rank: American Politics, Senior Rank Faculty Position in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Stanford University seeks applicants for a senior appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. The preferred area of specialty is American Politics. Applicants must have demonstrated the ability to maintain a world-class research program and a commitment to effective teaching and mentoring. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in a related field and will be expected to teach and advise students at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The term of appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2025.

Candidates should apply through Stanford Faculty Positions (<https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494753/american-politics-senior-rank-faculty-position-in-political-science>) and submit

- a cover letter
- curriculum vitae (including a publication list)
- research statement (no more than three single-spaced pages)
- teaching statement (no more than two single-spaced pages)
- teaching evaluations

The Department of Political Science, School of Humanities and Sciences and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals.

The salary range for this position is $175,000 – $350,000 for academic year 2024–25.

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the qualifications of the selected candidate, budget availability, and internal equity.

Further information about Stanford's Department of Political Science may be found at <https://politicalscience.stanford.edu/>. Inquiries may be directed to Natalie Badalov, Faculty Affairs Coordinator, nbadalov@stanford.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 8th, 2024; later applications may be considered at the discretion of the search committee.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical mission.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 10/15/2024
Date Posted: 7/31/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14569

Agnes Scott College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Agnes Scott College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level to begin in Fall 2025. The position requires specialization in American institutions, policy, and/or law. Preference will be given to candidates who may be able to teach courses in international law and organizations as well. Successful candidates should expect to offer courses that will contribute to other programs at the college, such as International Relations and Human Rights, and will also serve ASC's pre-law students. Such courses would also contribute to the Summit program, the College's general education on global learning and leadership curriculum. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABDs will be considered), as well as evidence of effective and inclusive teaching and a robust research and publication agenda. A commitment to serve a diverse student population is required.

To apply, email the following to Professor Eleanor Morris through facultyserve@agnesscott.edu:

- ? Cover letter that outlines the candidate's qualifications in research and teaching
- ? Curriculum vitae
- ? Three (3) letters of recommendation
- ? Unofficial graduate transcript(s)
- ? Research statement
- ? Statement on teaching philosophy
- ? Teaching evaluations
- ? Writing sample

Review of applications will start October 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2024
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 14554

Stanford University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Stanford University seeks applications for a tenure line position at the rank of assistant professor in American Politics. Candidates should demonstrate the capacity for a high-quality research trajectory and a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates must have a PhD or be enrolled in a PhD program or equivalent international degree-granting program at the time of application, with expected degree completion by date of appointment as an assistant professor. Candidates will be expected to teach and advise students at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The term of appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2025.

Candidates should apply through Stanford Faculty Positions and submit

- a cover letter
- curriculum vitae (including a complete publication list)
- research statement (no more than three single-spaced pages)
- teaching statement (no more than two single-spaced pages)
- teaching evaluations
- writing sample
- three professional letters of recommendation

The Department of Political Science, School of Humanities & Sciences, and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals.

The salary range for this position is $135,000 – $145,000, for academic year 2024–25.

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the qualifications of the selected candidate, budget availability, and internal equity.

Further information about Stanford's Department of Political Science may be found at <https://politicalscience.stanford.edu/>. Inquiries may be directed to Natalie Badalov, Faculty Affairs Coordinator, nbadalov@stanford.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 8th, 2024, but applications may be considered after that date at the discretion of the search committee.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical missions.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 10/15/2024
Date Posted: 7/30/2024
Salary: $130,000 - $139,999
eJobs ID: 14555

Santa Clara University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics, with an emphasis on Law and Courts)

Position Type: Regular

Salary Range:

The salary range for this position is $85,947 to $95,410, depending on the successful candidate's years of teaching experience at the college-level. The position comes with generous benefits (scu.edu/hr/benefits), including medical, dental, vision, and life insurance, and university contributions toward retirement. Recognizing the high cost of housing in the local area, there are two University housing assistance programs: Rental assistance to ease the transition into the local housing market, and housing purchase assistance for tenure-stream faculty. For details, go to <https://www.scu.edu/provost/policies-and-procedures/support-for-faculty/housing-assistance/> ?

PURPOSE:

The Department of Political Science at Santa Clara University, a Jesuit, Catholic university, seeks applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American Politics, with an emphasis on Law and Courts.

We seek a teacher-scholar with demonstrated commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching and scholarly achievement. Candidates from all subfields and methodological approaches whose research and teaching contribute to the empirical study of law and courts are encouraged to apply. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and teaching focus on judicial behavior, constitutional law, race and the law, law and policy, or immigration law.

SCU is on the quarter system and a typical load for tenure-stream faculty is two courses per quarter, assuming engagement in an active scholarship program. The successful candidate will teach (a) Introduction to U.S. Politics, (b) upper-division courses in constitutional law and judicial politics and their area of specialty, and (c) qualitative or quantitative research methods. The ability to develop and teach courses on Race and the Law, Law and Policy, or Immigration Law will be considered a plus.

Santa Clara University's College of Arts & Sciences is currently conducting its third cluster-hire in the area of Inequality & Social Justice. If applicable, this position will be included in the Fall 2025 cohort. Cluster hire participants will receive mentorship and have the opportunity to participate in regular group meetings providing peer support and interdisciplinary intellectual community to support their scholarly and creative work.

Our department is committed to creating a diverse, welcoming, inclusive, and supportive workplace. We encourage applications from members of historically excluded groups, including people of color, women,

LGBTQ+, and people with disabilities. Over the last decade, Santa Clara University has recruited an increasingly diverse faculty, enrolled more diverse and low-income students, and committed to becoming a Hispanic Serving Institution. Please see <https://www.scu.edu/cas/political-science/> for more information about our programs, faculty, staff, and students.

The position will begin on September 1, 2025.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment.
- 2) A clear research trajectory.
- 3) Evidence of excellence in teaching.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) A record of publication.
- 2) Specialization in race and the law, law and policy, or immigration law.
- 3) Teaching and research interests that will contribute to the Department's pre-law and public-sector studies emphases (See SCU Undergraduate Bulletin).
- 4) Experience with inclusive pedagogical practices that advance SCU's goals of diversity and equity.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

Tenure track faculty at SCU are teaching scholars who are expected to balance teaching, research and service. This is an in-person position. More specifically, duties include but are not limited to:

Teaching

- 1) Teach lower- and upper-division courses in the major and in the university Core Curriculum, as assigned by the chair, including an introductory course in US politics; upper-division courses in their area of specialty; and qualitative or quantitative methods.
- 2) Teaching responsibilities include, but are not limited to, the following:
  - a) Conducting and appearing at all assigned class meetings in a timely and prepared manner that demonstrates a command of the discipline and skill in presenting it effectively.
  - b) Assigning and evaluating written work, projects, and exams that align with course or core learning objectives and providing timely feedback to students.
  - c) Holding weekly office hours at times reasonably convenient to students.
  - d) Assigning and submitting student grades that are appropriate, accurate, and fair measures of student performance to the Office of the Registrar by the designated deadline.
  - e) Administering numerical and narrative evaluations in each section for all courses.
- 3) Develop and teach courses that contribute to ongoing curriculum development in the relevant degree program and/or the university core. Faculty teaching university core courses should follow an approved syllabus or work with the chair to design an appropriate syllabus for submission for approval from the relevant Faculty Core Curriculum Committee.
- 4) Participate in assessment of student learning for courses in the department.
- 5) Provide informed advice and mentoring to undergraduate students.

- 6) Fulfill other instructional or academic duties as may be assigned by the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences or by the chair of the Political Science Department.

Research

- 1) Develop and sustain a research program at SCU that will result in peer-reviewed publications, monographs, and/or creative work per the department scholarship standards.
- 2) Preference will be given to candidates with a research program that can accommodate participation of undergraduates.

Service

Provide effective service to the Department, the College, the University and profession through contributions other than teaching and scholarship such as service on committees, participation in professional organizations and activities, and community service performed by virtue of professional expertise or association with the university, as appropriate to rank and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

For full consideration, applications should be received by September 2, 2024. Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Using the "Apply" button on the SCU job posting (<https://wd1.myworkdaysite.com/en-US/recruiting/scu/scu/details/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science--American-Politics--with-an-emphasis-on-Law-and-Courts--R4691>), please submit the following materials through the hiring portal:

- 1) A cover letter addressing teaching and research interests, your teaching philosophy, and your experience or interest in working with people of diverse cultures and identities
- 2) CV
- 3) Sample syllabi and teaching evaluations
- 4) A writing sample of no more than 40 pages
- 5) Unofficial graduate transcripts
- 6) Three confidential letters of recommendation must be emailed directly to the department manager, Ms. Pam Doherty, at pdoherty@scu.edu, by either the recommenders or a dossier service.

HIRING RANGE:

Competitive salary and benefits; housing assistance available.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Inquiries about this position can be emailed to the department chair, Dr. Elsa Chen, at echen@scu.edu.

Work Authorization:

A foreign national who is appointed to a tenured or tenure-track faculty position is eligible for visa sponsorship assessment by Santa Clara University together with its legal counsel.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972

Santa Clara University does not discriminate in its employment practices or in its educational programs or activities on the basis of sex/gender, and prohibits retaliation against any person opposing discrimination or participating in any discrimination investigation or complaint process internally or externally. The Title IX Coordinator and

Section 504 and ADA Coordinator is Jenna Elliott, Interim Director of Equal Opportunity and Title IX, 408-551-3043, jrelliot@scu.edu, www.scu.edu/title-ix. Inquiries can also be made to the Assistant Secretary of Education within the Office for Civil Rights (OCR).

Clery Notice of Availability

Santa Clara University annually collects information about campus crimes and other reportable incidents in accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. To view the Santa Clara University report, please go to the Campus Safety Services website. To request a paper copy please call Campus Safety at (408) 554-4441. The report includes the type of crime, venue, and number of occurrences.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Santa Clara University affirms its commitment to employ qualified individuals with disabilities within the workplace and to comply with the Americans with Disability Act. All applicants desiring an accommodation should contact the Department of Human Resources, and 408-554-5750 and request to speak to Indu Ahluwalia by phone at 408-554-5750 or by email at iahluwalia@scu.edu.

Santa Clara University annually collects information about campus crimes and other reportable incidents in accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. To view the Santa Clara University report, please go to the Campus Safety Services website. To request a paper copy please call Campus Safety at (408) 554-4441. The report includes the type of crime, venue, and number of occurrences.

COVID-19 Statement

The health and safety of the University community is a top priority. The University strongly recommends that all employees are fully vaccinated for COVID-19 as the vaccination and boosters are safe, effective tools that significantly minimize the chances of serious illness and hospitalization. Please contact Human Resources if you have any questions.

Telecommute

Santa Clara University is registered to do business in the following states: California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, and Illinois. Employees approved to telecommute are required to perform their work within one of these states.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/2/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14546

University of Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics, Critical Race and Ethnic Studies

The Department of Political Science and the Critical Race and Ethnic Studies Program (CRES) at the University of Denver invite applications for a jointly appointed tenure-line Assistant Professor to start in Fall 2025 in the field of American politics. The Department of Political Science consists of eleven tenured or tenure-line faculty supporting the Bachelors of Arts degree in political science within the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Denver. Founded in 2018, the Critical Race and Ethnic Studies program (CRES) is a full program with two current tenure-line faculty, a tenured faculty director, and numerous affiliated faculty members. Like Political Science, CRES offers both an undergraduate major and minor. Both also serve undergraduates across campus by offering courses for the common curriculum.

Our faculty are dedicated to the robust pursuit of research, publication, and public engagement. We also value diversity, equity, and inclusion: a commitment by all constituents to create an academic experience that embraces and engages diverse perspectives and communities within an atmosphere of mutual respect. Our curricula endeavor to develop students' abilities to think critically, communicate clearly, write effectively, and develop compelling analytical argumentation based on justifiable sources of empirical evidence and analytical reasoning.

Position Summary

We seek applications from American Politics scholars who study Race and/or Ethnicity. Specific concentrations within American Politics, Race, and/or Ethnicity are open. Scholars of Political Sociology and Public Policy who study Race and/or Ethnicity in the U.S. political context are also encouraged to apply.

The University of Denver embraces a teacher-scholar model where faculty balance their commitments to rigorous scholarship and to undergraduate education. The position requires teaching the equivalent of five in-person courses over the standard academic year (three quarters) in the Political Science department and/or CRES program, covering a range of CRES major requirements (i.e., Introduction to CRES, Quantitative Methods in CRES, or the CRES Capstone) and cross-listed upper division courses. The faculty member will be a fully participating and voting member of both programs. During the first two years of the position, the faculty member will also assist the Director of the CRES program in developing the new CRES major. To facilitate this, the faculty member will be protected from other substantial service obligations. After the first two years, the CRES program and Political Science department have established a practical distribution of teaching and service obligations to protect the faculty member from work overload, and that arrangement will be codified through a signed memorandum of understanding.

Our curricula are delivered via conventional face-to-face classes on our traditional residential campus, with most online-only courses occurring during summer sessions (in which faculty may elect to teach for supplemental income, pending sufficient enrollment). We welcome the incorporation of experiential learning opportunities in the curriculum. Adhering to the teacher-scholar model, the position requires maintaining an active scholarly agenda as demonstrated via scholarly publications, academic conference participation, etc. The person holding this position would also be expected to contribute to University, College, and departmental/program service.

Essential Functions

Pursue a research agenda that results in high-quality scholarly publications.

Teach the equivalent of five courses across three quarters per academic year, including cross-listed upper division classes between Political Science and the CRES program, as well as introductory, methods, theory, or senior project courses within the CRES program specifically. The teaching schedule will be annually coordinated with the CRES program director and Political Science department chair.

Meet outside of class in office hours on campus and/or online to provide guidance and assistance to students enrolled in courses taught and to provide major advising to political science and CRES students.

Deploy best practices through the University of Denver's current course management system (Canvas), utilizing Canvas tools such as discussion boards, quizzes, assignments with uploaded files, and the gradebook as the means to collect student work, communicate feedback and assign grades, and to conduct class sessions and individual appointments remotely when the need for this arises.

Advise students about major and BA requirements.

Contribute to University, College, departmental, and program service

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Advanced scholarly expertise (PhD level) in the field of American politics, focusing on Race, Ethnicity, and Politics.

Successful publication of peer-reviewed scholarship on American politics, focusing on Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, and/or evidence of future promise as a scholar.

Excellent skills in oral and written communication.

Excellent undergraduate teaching skills

Ability to interact constructively with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and undergraduate students.

Required Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science, Political Sociology, or related field or interdisciplinary program (e.g. American studies or Public Policy). Must have a Ph.D. by start of appointment.

Evidence of a relevant established scholarly agenda as indicated by peer-reviewed publications.

Experience serving as an instructor of record in undergraduate &/or graduate courses in political (or related social) science.

Interest in developing upper-division undergraduate courses to help build out the CRES curriculum.

Growth toward teaching excellence and a commitment to incorporate inclusive teaching methods and/or pedagogies to effectively engage students from a wide range of backgrounds.

A demonstrated commitment to, and experience in, promoting DEI and in using inclusive pedagogies.

Experience using course management software (such as Canvas or similar).

Preferred Qualifications

Experience independently teaching two or more courses concurrently

Working Environment

1. Standard office environment.
2. Unexpected interruptions occur often and stress level is moderate to high.
3. Noise level is quiet to moderate.

Physical Activities

1. Ability to sit in front of a computer for an extended period of time.
2. Occasionally required to move about the office/campus with the capability of transporting objects up to 20 lbs.

Work Schedule

While the University's administrative offices are open Monday – Friday, 8:00 am – 4:30 pm, faculty schedules vary from term to term and are based on courses taught, service commitments, and research agendas. The University's academic calendars are posted on the registrar's website (the law school is on a semester system and has a different academic calendar).

Application Deadline

For consideration, please submit your application materials by 4:00 p.m. (MST) September 9, 2024.

Special Instructions

Candidates must apply online through jobs.du.edu to be considered. Only applications submitted online will be accepted.

Salary Range:

The salary range for this position is $72,000-$82,000

The University of Denver has provided a compensation range that represents its good faith estimate of what the University may pay for the position at the time of posting. The University may ultimately pay more or less than the posted compensation range. The salary offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors such as the qualifications of the selected candidate, departmental budget availability, internal salary equity considerations, and available market information, but not based on a candidate's sex or any other protected status.

Benefits:

The University of Denver offers excellent benefits, including medical, dental, retirement, paid time off, tuition benefit and ECO pass. The University of Denver is a private institution that empowers students who want to make a difference. Learn more about the University of Denver.

Please include the following documents with your application:

1. CV that indicates scholarly specialization, publications and/or working papers, and courses you have taught before as an instructor.
2. Cover Letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for this position
3. Three distinct statements (1-2 pages each), combined into one document with identifying headers, that articulate your (a) research agenda, (b) teaching philosophy and methods to engage students, and (c) how your research, teaching, and/or service contribute to DU's values, practices, and actions regarding diversity, equity, and inclusion. Candidates can view DU's DEI Action Plan [<https://www.du.edu/equity/dei-action-plan>] and/or the College of Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences (CAHSS) DEI Strategic Plan [<https://liberalarts.du.edu/news-events/all-articles/diversity-equity-and-inclusion-strategic-plan-cahss>] for reference.
4. Three samples of written work (e.g., two chapters from dissertation or book and one article).
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness including two course syllabi, a set of teaching evaluations from two different courses, and any other relevant artifacts of teaching excellence (e.g., a teaching award or recognition), all combined into one pdf file with headers identifying each discrete component.
6. For applicants who have not finished their PhD, please include graduate transcripts.
7. Contact information for three professional/academic references who will be emailed to upload letters of recommendation upon request. Candidates using Interfolio may arrange to send all three letters of recommendation in one pdf file via email to Darlene.Squires@du.edu. No other materials beyond letters of recommendation will be accepted via Interfolio.

The University of Denver recognizes that its success in being a great university dedicated to the public good depends greatly on how well it engages, supports, and champions the values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. As part of our intentionality in recruiting and retaining faculty from a wide variety of historically excluded intersecting identities, including those from communities of color, with diverse gender and sexual identities, first-generation college graduates, or with disabilities, new faculty will have the opportunity to choose to participate in a university-wide initiative. This initiative will connect new colleagues in a cohort, building community across units with supportive programming led by the Office of the Vice Provost of Faculty Affairs in collaboration with the Division of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and each faculty participant's academic unit. To learn more about the University of Denver's commitments and work in support of DEI and J, please visit: <https://www.du.edu/equity>. For more information about this program or if you have any questions, please email inclusion@du.edu and/or visit <https://duvpfa.du.edu/faculty-resources/prospective-faculty/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/9/2024
Date Posted: 7/29/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14543

Harvard University

Rank: TENURE-TRACK PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT – AMERICAN POLITICS

Position Description: The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in Government specializing in American Politics, with an emphasis on American political institutions. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2025. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates are encouraged to apply by September 20, 2024; applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

Basic Qualifications: Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science, Government or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Additional Qualifications: Demonstrated strong commitment to teaching and advising is desired.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 16, 2024.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching/advising statement (describing the candidate's teaching philosophy and practices as well as their approach to creating a learning environment in which students are encouraged to ask questions and share their ideas)
4. Research statement
5. Service statement describing efforts to strengthen academic communities, e.g., the candidate's department, institution, and/or professional societies.
6. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received. At least one letter must come from someone who has not served as the candidate's undergraduate, graduate, or postdoctoral advisor.

7. Publications or copies of creative works, if applicable.

Contact Information: James Snyder, Search Committee, Department of Government, jsnyder@gov.harvard.edu.

The health of our workforce is a priority for Harvard University. With that in mind, we strongly encourage all employees to be up-to-date on CDC-recommended vaccines.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/20/2024
Date Posted: 7/26/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14538

Washington College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Tenure Track)
Specializations: State Politics, Social Movements, Women & Politics

The Department of Political Science and Studies at Washington College invites applications for a ten-ure-track position at the Assistant Professor level specializing in U.S. politics starting in August 2025. A successful candidate must show promise in both undergraduate teaching and political science research. Tenure expectations include teaching excellence, a pattern of productive scholarship leading to peer-reviewed publica-tion, and effective participation in the shared governance of the College.

Founded in 1782, Washington College is a selective liberal arts institution located in Chestertown, Maryland on a major tributary of the Chesapeake Bay. The Political Science Department is a vibrant program with six faculty members and numerous curricular and co-curricular experiential learning opportunities for students. A typical course load consists of three classes each semester during the academic year. Faculty also advise senior capstone projects.

Qualified candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science. Candidates who are nearing completion must have degree in hand before the position begins. We are seeking a candidate with a specialization in American Politics to cover existing courses on American Government, Women and Politics, State and Local Politics, Political Data Analysis, and supervise our popular Maryland General Assembly Internship course, offered each spring semester. The ideal candidate would also develop new courses focused on social justice and political advocacy. We seek a candidate with a deep commitment to experiential learning to develop new co-curricular experiential learning opportunities (with an emphasis on historically marginalized groups within our community) in conjunction with the Starr Center for the Study of the American Experience, which would count towards the Fall semester course load (<https://www.washcoll.edu/learn-by-doing/starr/index.php>)

Applicants must submit all the following application materials: (1) a cover letter indicating how the candidate will complement or expand the existing program, (2) a CV, (3) a written narrative, not to exceed three pages, that describes the candidate's teaching philosophy, research interests, and the ways in which the candidate promotes diversity, equity and inclusion through their teaching, mentoring, and/or outreach and (4) names of three professional references with contact information. Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2024. Application materials must be submitted through the college's employment portal: <https://www.paycomonline.net/v4/ats/web.php/jobs/ViewJobDetails?job=28835&clientkey=DA71CF6827C59F768030B3905BDF8A6A>

Diversity Statement

The Political Science Department upholds Washington College's Diversity Statement, creating supportive classroom spaces and opportunities for students of all backgrounds. We recognize the potential of political science as a discipline to foster dialogue, empathy, and civic engagement. We are committed to equitable, inclusive classrooms that support the dignity of all. https://www.washcoll.edu/people\_departments/offices/president/diversitystatement.php

EEO Statement & Title IX

Washington College values diversity within our students, faculty, and staff, and strives to recruit, develop, and retain the most talented people. Washington College does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, transgender status, gender identity, age, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other legally protected status in accordance with applicable federal, state and/or local laws. We particularly encourage members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community to apply for this position. For information on Washington College's Title IX compliance, please visit <https://www.washcoll.edu/title-ix/>

Employment is contingent upon completion of a successful background check and establishment of identity and verification of employment eligibility as required by the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986. It is the policy of Washington College to provide reasonable accommodations. If you require any accommodations to participate in any part of the hiring process, please contact hr@washcoll.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14537

Wake Forest University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

WAKE FOREST UNIVERSITY's Department of Politics and International Affairs is seeking applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the sub-field of American politics to start July 1, 2025.

We invite applicants from the subfield of American Politics who can speak to questions related to media and politics. We welcome applicants who approach this topic from a variety of theoretical and methodological orientations.

We seek candidates pursuing an active research agenda and committed to excellence in teaching who are prepared to teach introductory courses in American politics and develop and teach courses that connect with their research and complement subjects already represented among American politics scholars in the department. More information about the department is available at <https://politics.wfu.edu/>

We have a particular interest in scholars who make connections between subfields and leverage intersectional, interdisciplinary, and community-engaged perspectives. Faculty in the Politics and International Affairs Department engage formally and informally with interdisciplinary academic programs focusing on Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; African American Studies, American Ethnic Studies; Environmental and Sustainability Studies; African Studies, Latin American and Latino Studies; Middle East and South Asia Studies; and East Asian Studies.

Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching, mentoring, and advising undergraduate students from diverse backgrounds, including international students, first-generation students, and those who identify as members of historically marginalized communities. A Ph.D. or ABD status in Political Science or a closely related field is required.

With 5,400 undergraduates and 3,700 graduate and professional students and a student-faculty ratio of 11:1, Wake Forest University is a private institution dedicated to academic excellence in liberal arts, graduate, and professional education and offers a vibrant intellectual community. The University has a deep institutional commitment to public service and engagement with the world, as indicated by the motto "pro humanitate."

Interested applicants should apply via the University's career website at: <https://hr.wfu.edu/careers/>. The application should be submitted as ONE PDF file and include all of the following:

- Cover letter addressing the motivation to join our teacher-scholar community;
- Curriculum vitae including contact information for three professional references;
- Research statement describing candidate's current research and future trajectory;
- Scholarly writing sample (e.g. journal article, dissertation chapter, or draft);
- Teaching statement including plan to establish an inclusive learning environment;
- Sample undergraduate course syllabi;
- Teaching evaluations or other evidence of effective student engagement;
- Copy of graduate transcript(s) (official copies only required upon employment).

In addition to the above, we ask that candidates have three letters of recommendation either mailed or emailed directly to the address listed below. Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but to guarantee full consideration they should be received by September 16, 2024. If access to the internet is an issue, a hard copy of the application can be submitted to John Dinan, Chair, Department of Politics and International Affairs, Wake Forest University, P.O. Box 7568, Winston-Salem, NC 27109.

Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to AskHR@wfu.edu. Inquiries about the position should be directed to John Dinan, Chair and Professor, Politics and International Affairs, dinanjj@wfu.edu.

Wake Forest University welcomes and encourages diversity and inclusivity and seeks applicants with demonstrated success in working with diverse populations. Wake Forest University is an AA/EO employer and values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Wake Forest University and the Department of Politics and International Affairs welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and community engagement.

In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living community, Wake Forest University conducts background investigations for final candidates upon their acceptance of an offer of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/16/2024
Date Posted: 7/24/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14528

Colorado State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Colorado State University invites applications for an entry-level tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics with a specialization in political communication. We are open with respect to theoretical orientation, substantive focus, and methodological approaches, and encourage applicants with a broad array of expertise in political communication in the US to apply.

The Department values both strong teaching and research. Successful candidates will be expected to offer courses in the American politics curriculum at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, including an upper-division undergraduate course in political communication. Additional teaching assignments will depend on the candidate's interests and expertise as well as departmental needs. The normal teaching load is 2-2.

Faculty members are also expected to advise and mentor graduate and undergraduate students; demonstrate an active research agenda; and provide service to the department, college, university, and community.

Approximately one-third of undergraduate political science majors at CSU are first-generation college students. The Department offers programs of study leading to the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The doctoral degree emphasizes the study of environmental politics and policy.

Required Job Qualifications:

- * Primary teaching and/or scholarly emphasis in American Politics
- * Evidence of an active research agenda focused on political communication in the US
- * Evidence of teaching effectiveness including the capacity to teach an upper division undergraduate course on political communication in the US
- * PhD in Political Science or related field by August 16, 2025
- * Ability to enhance the Department's commitment to diversity and inclusion reflecting Departmental and institutional values

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled; to ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by September 8th, 2024. Applicants should submit: 1) a letter of application outlining teaching interests and research agenda as well as a brief statement on how your teaching, research and/or service demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) Graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts acceptable at the initial stage of the search), 4) Evidence of demonstrated or potential teaching effectiveness (syllabi, teaching evaluations, letters of observation), 5) One sample of published or presented work, and 6) The names and contact information of three professional referees who will be emailed immediately upon submission of an application with a request to submit a letter of reference. Please note that a complete application consists of the requested materials and three letters of reference. Your referees will be emailed a request for a letter of reference immediately upon submission of your application. As such, applicants should allow sufficient time for their letters to be submitted by September 15th, 2024 to ensure full consideration. Application materials of semi-finalist candidates, including letters of reference, will be made available for review by the entire faculty in the Department of Political Science. Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Robert Duffy (Robert.Duffy@colostate.edu)

To apply, please visit: <https://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/148354>

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/23/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14524

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Computational Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Comparative Politics
Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Research Methods

The Department of Political Science at Stony Brook University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Computational Political Science. This position would begin in Fall 2025. The department is interested in applicants with expertise in applying big data methods, computational methods, or advanced statistical methods to problems in political science. Successful candidates will have a strong record of demonstrated research excellence. Additional duties include fostering inclusive teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels, conducting a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the departmental, college, and university levels.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. (or foreign equivalent) in Political Science or a closely related field in hand by August 31, 2025. Research work applying big data methods, computational methods, or advanced statistical methods to problems in political science.

Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrated record of the following, as evidenced by the applicant's CV and supporting materials:

- record of producing high-quality research
- strong research background and training
- strong publication record

-research interests in political behavior, American politics, or comparative politics
 -experience teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate level

Application Instructions

Apply through Interfolio at the job posting here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147877>

Please upload:

Cover letter

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Samples of written work
3. Teaching statement
4. Research statement
5. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) statement
6. Three reference contacts able to provide letters of reference upon request

For full consideration please submit your materials by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on Monday, September 16, 2024.

All application materials must be submitted online. Please use the Apply Now button to begin your application. For technical support, please visit Interfolio's Support Site (<https://support.interfolio.com/>) or reach out to their Scholar Service Team at help@interfolio.com or (877) 997-8807.

For questions regarding this position, please contact the search chair, Professor Michael Peress at Michael.Peress@stonybrook.edu.

Special Notes: This is a tenure track position. FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA.

About the Department:

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in research and scholarship, graduate student training, undergraduate teaching and learning, public outreach, and the promotion of responsible citizenship. It contributes to the generation of knowledge about politics and aims to deepen scholarly and public understanding of political institutions and the citizenry. The department seeks to prepare students for successful careers in government, academics, and the private sector. The Department provides training for PhD and MA students in cutting-edge approaches to the empirical study of political science to produce graduates with outstanding research, teaching, and professional skills. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/polsci/>

About the College:

As part of a great research university, the College of Arts and Sciences at Stony Brook University focuses on scholarly creativity, connecting our disciplines of fine arts; humanities; social, behavioral and natural sciences; and mathematics with medicine, technology, culture, education, business and environment. As the largest College for the campus, we help students and faculty begin a lifetime of learning and discovery by exploring new ideas that drive innovation and inspiration across all sectors of society. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/cas/>

Campus Description:

Stony Brook University, one of two flagships within the State University of New York (SUNY) system, is one of America's most dynamic public universities, a center of academic excellence, and an internationally recognized research institution that is changing the world. After more than 60 years of existence, it is ranked among the top 100 universities in the nation and the top 25 public universities in the nation. It is a member of the prestigious invitation-only Association of American Universities, composed of the top 66 leading research institutions in North America. As Long Island's largest single-site employer, Stony Brook has nearly 15,000 full- and part-time employees, including 2,800 faculty and nearly 27,000 students — including almost 18,000 undergraduates — and offers more than 200 majors, minors and combined-degree programs. Located approximately 60 miles east of Manhattan on Long Island's beautiful North Shore, Stony Brook is situated on 1,454 wooded acres, encompassing 13 schools and colleges; a Research and Development Park; world-class athletics facilities, including an 8,300-seat stadium and a 4,000-seat arena; and Stony Brook Medicine, Long Island's premier academic medical center. Also part of the University is a teaching and research campus in Southampton, New York, which offers graduate arts programs and is the site of the Marine Sciences Center. In addition, Stony Brook has a role in running, and performs joint research with, Brookhaven National Laboratory, the only Department of Energy Laboratory in the Northeast. Home to the Emerson String Quartet, the Pollock-Krasner House in East Hampton, NY, and the Humanities Institute, with endeavors that extend to the Turkana Basin Institute in Kenya and the Ranomafana National Park in Madagascar, Stony Brook sustains an international reputation that cuts across the arts, humanities, social sciences and natural sciences.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14519

University of Georgia

Rank: Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science in the UGA School of Public and International Affairs seeks a new faculty colleague at the associate professor level in American government/politics in the field of political communication. This colleague will hold the newly endowed Jones Family Professorship (named for UGA alumnus Joshua Jones). Applicants should have a demonstrated interest in political media, especially new media. The successful candidate will exhibit a record of funded research or strong potential for external funding. The position will contribute to the Bachelor of Arts/the Bachelor of Science in Political Science, undergraduate certificate programs in applied politics and data analytics, and graduate-level degree programs in Political Science. Experts who employ a diverse set of methodological approaches, such as (but not limited to) web-scraping and text analysis, are especially encouraged to apply.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in political science
- Holds appointment at the associate level (candidates who are currently standing for tenure and promotion and expect to be an associate professor by August 1, 2025 are encouraged to apply)
- Strong research record with substantive scholarly interests related to American politics - political communication
- Interest in teaching and mentoring undergraduate and graduate students

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and scholarship
- Scholarly background, interest, and/or experience that will contribute to the Department's graduate course offerings and undergraduate

- courses in political communications, including those that would support certificate programs in applied politics and data analytics
- Potential to contribute to the university's efforts to enhance and maintain an inclusive environment for learning, teaching, research and service
- Potential to create synergies with existing departmental faculty in political methodology, all fields of American politics, and/or political theory
- Potential to collaborate with scholars on interdisciplinary research

Instructions to Applicants:

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form to the UGA Jobs website, <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/388332> : a cover letter that addresses the minimum and preferred qualifications for this position, a curriculum vita, a recent publication or research-related writing sample, a teaching portfolio including evaluations, transcripts, and a list of three letter writers, who will separately provide letters of recommendation (in electronic form).

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, though applications received on or before October 1, 2024 will receive full consideration. Review of applications will begin October 1st and will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science has a strong reputation in the discipline, including 20+ faculty whose research and teaching focus on American politics. For more information about the Department and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/departments-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14521

American University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Violence and Terrorism

The Department of Justice, Law & Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in Academic Year 2025-26. For this position, the department is seeking scholars with substantive expertise in political violence and terrorism. The search is open regarding specialty, but the Department is especially interested in scholars whose research and teaching interests include terrorism, political violence, radicalization, extremism, and cybersecurity. Applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the department are especially welcome.

Applicants should hold a PhD in political science, criminology, sociology, or other closely related discipline. Candidates who possess a law degree only (J.D. or LL.M.) will not be considered for this position. Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. Most of all, the department seeks scholars who will further its goals of producing high impact research and providing innovative undergraduate and graduate teaching. Competitive candidates will possess a strong background in social science methodologies and a productive research portfolio, including publications in high-quality peer reviewed outlets. The Department is home to a range of disciplines, approaches, and methods. We are particularly interested in individuals whose research is interdisciplinary. In addition to scholarship and teaching, all faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses. Possible courses include Causes of Terrorism, Radicalization, and various research methods classes. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service to the department, school, and university. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Link here:

https://urldefense.com/v3/\_\_https://american.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/AU/job/Main-Campus-Washington-DC/Assistant-Professor\_R1353\_!!IaT\_gp1N!xkkDdE2iyhEXP5\_KU53wv373Ac-jan8a3J5-HMYlfhfpQCqNerKxPGc8dVYZnM5TkEJg6ggiWx5zwo0CsYA\$

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled, subject to on-going budgetary approvals. The positions begin August 1, 2025. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion date by August 2025.

Salary and benefits are competitive, with an expected salary range of $90,000 to $110,000. Please submit applications via Workday. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, copies of up to three recently published articles and/or working papers, and three letters of recommendation (note: instead of letters, a list of references is sufficient if applicant currently holds tenure). Please contact Ms. Sarah Feighery, Staff Assistant, at JLC\_FacultySearch@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite. Click here to learn about American University's unique benefit options.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Employees in staff positions at American University must deliver their services to the university from either the District of Columbia, Maryland, or Virginia, or perform work on-site at the university.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

Current American University Employees

American University current employees must apply through their employee Workday account. If you are a current employee at American University, please log into Workday and select the Find Jobs report which will take you to our internal career listings.

Contact Us

For more information or assistance with the American University careers site, email theworkline@american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14495

American University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position beginning in Academic Year 2025-26. The position will be in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. The Department is seeking American Politics scholars.

Applicants should hold a PhD in political science or government. Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. The search is open regarding areas of substantive specialty, but the Department is especially interested in scholars whose research and teaching interests include American political institutions. Most of all, the department seeks scholars who will further its goals of producing high impact research and providing innovative undergraduate and graduate teaching. Applications are particularly welcome from scholars who can contribute to high visibility centers and research initiatives at American University, such as the Women and Politics Institute, Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies, Center for Data Science, and Center for Environmental Policy. In addition to scholarship and teaching, all faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Review of applications will begin on September 1, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled, subject to on-going budgetary approvals. The position begins on August 1, 2025. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion date by August 2025.

Salary and benefits are competitive, with an expected salary range of $90,000 to $110,000. Please submit applications via the Workday link below. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three confidential letters of recommendation, research and teaching narratives, and a writing sample. Please contact Joanne Wiesman, Government Staff Assistant at jwiesman@american.edu if you have any questions.

Workday Listing: https://american.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/AU/job/Main-Campus-Washington-DC/Assistant-Professor\_R1360

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite. Click the link to learn more about American University's unique benefit options. <https://www.american.edu/hr/benefits/>

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Employees in staff positions at American University must deliver their services to the university from either the District of Columbia, Maryland, or Virginia, or perform work on-site at the university.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

Contact Us

For more information or assistance with the American University careers site, email theworkline@american.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14487

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the 2025-26 academic year.

The Department seeks to hire a teacher-scholar whose research focuses on Latina/o/x/e politics in the U.S. All methodological and theoretical approaches to Latina/o/x/e politics are welcomed provided they enhance the department's existing areas of substantive expertise. Topics of interest include but are not limited to immigration policy, political behavior, state and local or urban politics, social movements, or identity politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach either Introduction to American Government or Introduction to Public Policy and to develop new electives in Latino/a/x politics and the areas noted above based on expertise. The position carries a 3-2 teaching load.

Applicants must either hold a PhD in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation and degree requirements by August 1, 2025.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With approximately 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see <https://polisci.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, and separate research and teaching statements. The cover letter should provide a brief summary of the candidate’s research and teaching interests and describe their commitment to the teacher-scholar model. The research statement should expand on the candidate’s research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate’s teaching philosophy, interests, and future professional development goals, with particular emphasis on involvement in and commitment to inclusive pedagogy. In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14486

Simmons University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

ABOUT SIMMONS

Located in Boston’s historic Fenway area, Simmons has a strong tradition of empowering women and challenging traditional gender roles. Simmons University was one of the first higher education institutions to prepare women to become leaders and has evolved to become a university offering a women’s undergraduate program and graduate programs open to all.

You’re joining our community at an especially exciting time as one of our strategic goals is to become the most inclusive campus in New England. You’ll find that people who work here are truly committed to our mission of preparing students to become champions of social justice and leaders in their professions and their communities. This commitment and pride make for a dynamic workplace. Simmons University is committed to inclusive excellence in all aspects of an individual’s community experience.

As a university committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, Simmons encourages applications from all under-represented groups. Simmons is committed to creating, developing, promoting, and enhancing inclusive hiring practices—at all levels, for all positions—ensuring diverse talent pools and the delivery of a consistent positive candidate experience. Simmons is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to continuing to develop a more diverse faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum.

ABOUT OPPORTUNITY

The Department of Politics and Policy in the Gwen Ifill School of Media, Humanities, and Social Sciences at Simmons University invites candidates to submit materials for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American politics.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of effective teaching and scholarship. Multiple areas of expertise within the field of American politics will be considered, including American political institutions, political parties, elections, ideology, voting behavior, and public law. Applicants must be able to teach introduction to American politics, as well as a broad range of electives, including state and local government, Congress and the presidency, and constitutional law, among others. The ability to teach in our Master of Public Policy program is preferred, though not required.

PRIMARY DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

- Carrying a 6-course teaching load per academic year.
- Participating in the ongoing creation of explicit and implicit curricula in consultation with faculty and program leadership.
- Conducting research and scholarship.
- Demonstrate service to the department, school, and university through committee work.

ACADEMIC RESPONSIBILITY

- Serve as instructor for on-ground and online courses.
- Design individual courses and classes.
- Support course development and revision schedule for classes.
- Participate in ongoing Department curricular planning and periodic program review of on-ground and online classes.

STUDENT ADVISING & ENGAGEMENT

- Serve as primary faculty contact for matriculated students, including monitoring academic status, resolving student concerns, and verifying graduation requirements.
- Ensure advising processes are carried out alongside Department Chair and academic advising team and monitor students’ course plans and progress towards their degree objectives.

OTHER DUTIES

- Assume other duties as assigned by the Dean and Department Chair.

TERMS OF SERVICE

- The position will be a 10-month, full-time, tenure-track faculty appointment.
- This position is campus based in Boston, Massachusetts.

QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in Political Science or a related discipline required
- Demonstrated record of excellent teaching
- Demonstrated record of excellent scholarship
- A robust scholarly agenda
- Effective communication and organizational skills.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS

A Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing the following:

- 1) Cover letter addressing qualifications listed above;
- 2) Current curriculum vitae;
- 3) 1-2-page statement of research;
- 4) 1-2-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy

Three letters of recommendation should be sent separately to Lena Zuckerman, Chair of the Department of Politics and Policy: lena.zuckerman@simmons.edu.

To apply, submit your application materials via the Simmons University Careers portal: https://simmons.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Simmons-Careers/job/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics\_R10176

Review of Applications will begin on September 15th.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14477

Transylvania University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics and Public Law)

Transylvania University (www.transy.edu), a top-tier, independent, residential liberal arts college in Lexington, Kentucky, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science with expertise in American Politics and Public Law. This is a tenure-track position, teaching in-person classes, beginning August 29, 2025. Transylvania University recognizes that a diverse and inclusive community is essential to the fulfillment of our mission as a liberal arts institution. To that end, we seek to attract a diverse faculty skilled in the scholarship of teaching, research, and mentorship of students from a variety of backgrounds. Candidates are encouraged, in their cover letter, to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community.

Job Description:

The successful candidate will specialize in the field of American Politics with expertise in Public Law and will instruct core courses in the major, including Introduction to U.S. Politics and our research methods course, Political Analysis, and specialized courses emphasizing the role and practice of law, legal theory, and/or judicial politics. Candidates with the ability to teach courses that contribute to our university's interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies and/or Women, Gender, and Sexuality (WGS) studies will receive special consideration. Occasional contributions to First-Year programming and service as an academic adviser are also expected. The teaching load consists of three courses per semester, plus one short-term course in May (3-3-1) that offers additional opportunities for travel courses, team-taught courses and other more experimental classroom endeavors. Other responsibilities include academic scholarship/professional activity, preferably involving undergraduate students, and service to the university through various committee appointments. The university also has an excellent faculty development program that competitively funds faculty (and student) scholarly research.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is required by the start date. Preference will be given to candidates with undergraduate teaching experience.

The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to continuing their own professional work along with a commitment to teaching, interdisciplinary dialogue, and working collaboratively with other faculty and with students both within the Political Science Program and across disciplines within a liberal arts environment. The ideal applicant is committed to attracting, teaching, and mentoring students from historically excluded and underrepresented groups.

To begin the application process, please submit one PDF that contains all of the following: your curriculum vitae, your unofficial graduate transcripts, and a statement of teaching philosophy. Candidates are encouraged in their cover letter to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community. This PDF, along with your cover letter, which will be uploaded separately, may be submitted by following the job openings link at <http://www.transy.edu/jobs>. If you are selected to move forward in the application process, you will be asked to provide official graduate transcripts and letters of recommendation at a later date. Please send questions specific to this search to Professor Steve Hess, at shess@transy.edu. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and will continue until an appointment is made.

Transylvania University is ranked in the top 15 percent of the nation's four-year colleges by the Princeton Review, which cites its community-driven, personalized approach to a liberal arts education through 49 majors and 39 minors. Founded in 1780, it is the 16th oldest institution of higher learning in the country, with approximately 1,000 students.

Transylvania University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to enhancing the diversity of the university community. In support of this goal, we seek qualified candidates with a wide range of backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences. We embrace diversity and encourage all who are interested to apply.

Application closes: Sep 15, 2024

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14479

University of Tulsa

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tulsa invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor of American Politics, to begin Fall 2025. The search is open with respect to substantive focus. The department is methodologically pluralist, though we anticipate hiring a candidate who conducts research with and is willing to teach quantitative research methods.

The University of Tulsa is a small, private university seeking to enhance its research profile, particularly in areas related to indigeneity, race and ethnicity, and law. It is also a university with small class sizes in the model of a liberal arts institution. The successful candidate for this position will demonstrate excellence in both research and teaching.

Home to approximately 4,000 undergraduate and graduate students, the University of Tulsa is located in midtown Tulsa, approximately two miles from downtown. Both areas are undergoing an exciting period of growth and are home to vibrant art and music scenes. Tulsa is mid-sized (population ~400,000), family-friendly, and an affordable place to live, with easy access to urban, suburban, and rural areas. The city of Tulsa is nestled in an area where the Muscogee Creek, Cherokee, and Osage tribal territories share a common boundary. Tulsa is also home to The Gathering Place, an expansive riverside park, that Time magazine calls “One of the World’s Greatest Places” (<https://www.gatheringplace.org/>). Oklahoma is geographically diverse, including plains, grasslands, rocky mesas, and mountains, and is culturally unique as it is home to 39 federally recognized Native American tribes.

Interested candidates should submit the following materials: 1) cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) research statement; 4) teaching philosophy; and 5) writing sample, preferably a sole-authored paper. Candidates may be asked to submit additional materials as the review process unfolds. Application materials must be submitted through the University’s call for applications at <https://universitytulsa.peopleadmin.com/postings/8960>.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2024. Questions about the position can be directed to Department Chair Matt Hindman (matt-hindman@utulsa.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14476

Villanova University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Villanova University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2025. The successful candidate will have broad training in American political behavior as their primary research interest. We are especially interested in candidates with a specialization in one or more of the following areas: parties, elections, media and politics, and interest groups. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in their areas of specialization at both the undergraduate and graduate level. While the successful candidate will also be expected to teach an undergraduate research methods course, we are not seeking someone principally trained as a methodologist.

For a more detailed description of the Department of Political Science, please consult <https://www1.villanova.edu/university/liberal-arts-sciences/programs/political-science.html>.

The selected candidate will hold a four-year inaugural appointment as the Jolyon Pitt Girard Endowed Assistant Professorship of Political Science which includes an annual research fund.

Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate (MA) courses. Teaching duties include a 2-2 teaching load for the first year and a 3-2 teaching load thereafter. After a successful Third Year Review, a one-year sabbatical is available in the fourth year and the 3-2 teaching load may be continued for another three years contingent on a successful and promising record of scholarship. Ph.D. in hand is strongly preferred. ABDs will be considered; however, continued employment is subject to completion of the Ph.D. no later than August 15, 2025.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.villanova.edu>. The online application should include a detailed letter of application indicating your interest in and suitability for the position, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, curriculum vitae, official graduate and undergraduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, two short writing samples, two syllabi (if available), and evidence of teaching effectiveness. All materials must be received by September 13, 2024.

The Department of Political Science will conduct brief interviews at APSA. Please click the Calendly link to select an interview time and we will be in touch with further information. <https://calendly.com/thedoctorb/apsa-interviews>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14470

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Congress, Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach undergraduate American Politics courses in-person for the Spring 2025 semester. We seek instructors capable of teaching in their area of expertise, in one or more of nearly any area of American Politics (for example, Political Parties, Campaigns and Elections, Public Policy, Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Political Psychology, Social Movements). The instructor would teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity but may be able to teach multiple sections of the same course.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To begin the application process, please send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14463

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

Tenure Track Faculty Position

Assistant Professor in American Politics

Department of Political Science

Cal Poly Pomona

Position description

The faculty member will primarily teach undergraduate classes in American Politics. All areas of specialization within American Politics will be considered. The faculty member will be expected to teach Introduction to American Government, a general education course required for all students at the university, and in addition, contribute to teaching upper-division major courses in both institutions and political behavior. A faculty member could potentially demonstrate a teaching and scholarly interest in gender, identity, intersectionality, and/or race and ethnic politics. The department also welcomes the new faculty member to introduce or teach upper-division major courses based on the lived experiences of racial and ethnic minorities, such as Black Politics and/or Indigenous Politics.

The faculty member will be part of a collegial Political Science Department that grants both B.A. degrees and M.P.A. (Master's in Public Administration) degrees. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work demonstrates a commitment to inclusive excellence and diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution, and the faculty member will be an advisor to many under-represented minorities and first-generation college students.

Minimum requirements include:

*Ph.D. in Political Science from an accredited university at the time of appointment (Degree must be conferred by the start date of the position.)

*Demonstrated commitment to inclusivity and equity. Evidence should be provided in a Student Success Statement that responds to the prompt above - "Inclusive Excellence and Student Success"

*Ability to teach courses in the political science curriculum, specifically within the American politics subfield.

*University teaching experience as instructor of record and/or teaching assistant

*Evidence of scholarly potential (conference presentations, publications, grant development, etc.)

*Evidence of demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching, and/or service and work, as well as experience fostering an inclusive environment

Preferred/Desired Qualifications:

*(Research interests related, but not limited to: social or racial justice, gender inequities, inequality, intersectionality, feminism, political and racial violence, voting rights, social movements and political resistance, tribal politics, and/or the continued impact of colonialism in the US.

*Teaching or scholarly interest in gender, identity, intersectionality, and/or race and ethnic politics.

*The ability to introduce or teach upper-division courses based on the lived experiences of Black Americans and/or Indigenous Americans.

*Preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise under-served populations including, but not limited to, Asian American, Pacific Islander, Black, Latino/e, and Indigenous students.

*Preference will be given to candidates with a scholarly expertise in Black politics and/or Indigenous politics.

*Ability to teach a range of courses, such as undergraduate, graduate, and high impact classes

*Experience in curriculum development and assessment

Conditions of Employment:

The person offered this position is required to pass a background check.

Application Process:

A completed application will consist of:

*Cover letter in which you describe your interest in the position, teaching performance, research experience and interests, and how you meet the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;

*A Student Success Statement (up to 2 pages, single-spaced) that responds to the prompt below - "Inclusive Excellence and Student Success" and addresses at least two of the inclusive excellence criteria listed (please indicate the criteria numbers in your Statement);

*Curriculum vitae;

*The names and contact information for at least three individuals who can serve as references;

*Unofficial transcripts (undergraduate and graduate, official transcripts will be required of finalists).

Finalists for the position will:

*be required to provide official transcripts for highest degree before the on-campus interview;

*be required to provide three letters of reference dated within the last two years;

*be expected to make a presentation of creative work and a teaching demonstration to faculty and interact with students.

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications received no later than Monday, September 16, 2024.

Applications accepted only via PageUp— <https://careers.cpp.edu/en-us/job/540751/political-scienceassistant-professor> —for University hires.

APSA Meeting & Zoom Open Houses

During the annual meeting in Philadelphia (9/5-9/8), Neil Chaturvedi (nschaturvedi@cpp.edu) and Mary Anne Mendoza (maryannem@cpp.edu) will be happy to answer questions about the position, if prospective candidates have questions in person.

We invite all prospective candidates to our Zoom open house to explore our faculty search and engage with our inclusive academic community. This is an excellent opportunity to ask questions and learn more about our mission. The Zoom Open Houses will be held on Wednesday, September 11 and Thursday, September 12 from 5:00-6:30pm PST. Zoom link for both sessions: <https://cpp.zoom.us/j/82583497769>.

Department of Political Science. The Political Science Department offers a bachelor's degree in Political Science with courses in six subfields: American Politics, Public Administration, Public Law, Political Theory, International Relations, and Comparative Politics. We also offer a master's degree in Public Administration. The undergraduate program values research, with a strong capstone program, offering majors the opportunity to complete a senior project centered around a public-service internship or thesis. We also offer and prioritize several polytechnic, small-group experiences including National Model United Nations, Model Organization of American States, Judicial Internship, and department Study Away/Study Abroad programs (e.g., Sacramento, Iowa Caucuses, Japan, Italy, England). Applicants with a commitment to rigorous academic inquiry, practical experiential learning, and contributions to public service are encouraged to apply. Please visit our department webpage if you are considering applying: <https://www.cpp.edu/class/political-science/>.

Cal Poly Pomona. The university has a student body with diverse socio-economic and cultural backgrounds and learning styles. The Department is looking for faculty who can thrive and contribute meaningfully in this environment. Our majors reflect the diversity of the overall university student population. The department currently has over 400 major students, including over 40 graduate students. Sixty percent of our majors are first generation and 70% identify with a minoritized group. The major enrolls a diverse student body that identifies as 64% Latinx, 14% White, 8% Asian, 5% Black, 3% two or more races, 3% international, 3% unknown, and less than 1% Native Hawaiian or Native Pacific Islander. We value faculty who can inspire students through their teaching, but also, who can inspire students through teaching and mentorship in research.

Cal Poly Pomona is one of three polytechnic universities in the 23-campus California State University system and among 12 such institutions nationwide. Since its founding in 1938, Cal Poly Pomona students participate in an integrative experiential learning education that is inclusive, relevant, and values diverse perspectives and experiences. With a variety of degree programs in the arts, humanities, sciences, engineering, and professional disciplines, the university is well known for its learn- by-doing approach and Teacher Scholar Model.

The university is noted for its scenic and historic 1,400-acre campus, which was once the winter ranch of cereal magnate W.K. Kellogg. We acknowledge that Cal Poly Pomona resides on the territorial and homelands of the Tongva and Tataavium people who are the traditional land caretakers of Tovaangar. The university's nearly 30,000 students are taught and mentored by the campus's more than 1,400 faculty as part of 54 baccalaureate and 29 master's degree programs, 11 credential and certificate programs, and a doctorate in educational leadership.

Highly regarded among its peer institutions, Cal Poly Pomona is No. 2 in the U.S. News and World Report rankings of top public regional universities in the west and was named the No. 28 best value college in the nation by Money Magazine. Cal Poly Pomona, a Hispanic-Serving Institution and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution, stands as a national leader in promoting social mobility, and was placed among the 25 top institutions in the country in awarding bachelor's degrees to minoritized students by Diverse Issues in Higher Education. In 2022, the campus launched the Black Thriving Initiative recognizing that Cal Poly Pomona's future as a university is linked to the success of its Black community. More information about our campus initiatives and our Principles of Community can be found on the Office of Inclusive Excellence's website: <https://www.cpp.edu/inclusive-excellence/>

The Cal Poly Pomona campus is located less than 30 miles east of downtown Los Angeles at the intersection of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. It is within an hour's drive of beaches, mountains and deserts. For additional information about the university, please visit www.cpp.edu, and for more about faculty life, please see <https://www.cpp.edu/yourlife/>.

Student Population. Cal Poly Pomona is the number one polytechnic university in the nation for student diversity and economic mobility. Our caring and inclusive campus community is committed to helping anyone who dreams of success achieve it. In Fall 2023, Cal Poly Pomona served more than 24,000 students and close to 2,000 graduate students, mostly residents of California. Over half of Cal Poly Pomona students are first-generation college students, 70% receive financial aid, and 42% are low-income students. The university enrolls 56% percent of historically underrepresented students. Our diverse student body identifies as 53% Hispanic/Latinx, 22% Asian, 13% White, 4% two or more races, 3% unknown, 3% African American/Black, 2% International, less than 1% Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, and less than 1% Native American. Forty-three percent of students enroll in our STEM majors and our top five enrolled programs across the university include mechanical engineering, computer science, civil engineering, psychology, as well as finance, real estate, and law.

Inclusive Excellence and Student Success. We aspire to be the model inclusive polytechnic university in the nation. We have a strong commitment to inclusive excellence and to educational experiences that leverage the diverse perspectives and experiences needed to succeed and thrive in a diverse society.

*As a part of the application for faculty positions, all candidates must submit a Student Success Statement that demonstrates their commitment and record of contributions to diversity and equity through their teaching, scholarship, or service by speaking to at least two of the inclusive excellence criteria below.

Candidates should explain how they have engaged in the criteria below in their pedagogy, scholarship, and/or service, as well as the level to which these efforts have been consistently incorporated into their work.

Inclusive Excellence Criteria:

1. Incorporates the contributions and struggles of historic ethnic minority groups or other disadvantaged communities into their teaching, scholarly work, and/or service contributions;
2. Adopts teaching strategies that support the learning and success of students from diverse student populations;

3. Mentors and engages diverse student populations in discovery, scholarship, and creative activities;
4. Engages students in problem-based projects and learning that address the needs of diverse communities;
5. Possesses knowledge of challenges and barriers for underrepresented students and faculty within the discipline and uses it to inform their work in specific ways;
6. Mentors and assists diverse student populations interested in pursuing graduate education;
7. Engages in community-responsive action research or service with diverse student populations and communities;
8. Has experience in or demonstrates a commitment to adopting experiential learning activities and pedagogy with diverse student populations and communities; and
9. Has expertise in or demonstrated commitment to teaching, scholarship and/or service that contributes to access, diversity, and equal opportunity in higher education.

Please direct inquiries to search chair, Dr. Neil Chaturvedi, at nschaturvedi@cpp.edu.

Salary Range for academic-year/nine-month appointment: $83,000-$85,500

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14448

St. Olaf College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position in American Politics, with a primary focus on institutions and/or law, at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2025. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in race, gender, sexuality, and/or economic inequality, who have a broad background in the discipline, and whose research and teaching interests speak to contemporary public concerns.

The teaching responsibilities, five courses per year, would include Introduction to American Politics as well as upper-level courses depending on the scholar's areas of research and teaching interest, such as courses on Congress, the presidency, the courts, state politics, or constitutional law. We expect that the person who fills this position will contribute to our department as a creative teacher, an engaged scholar, and a collaborative colleague.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by the start of the fall semester is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

About the Department

We are a collegial department, with two faculty members teaching regularly in each of the four subfields. We are committed to supporting our colleagues in their pursuit of creative and thoughtful pedagogy and rigorous scholarship. For more information about the department, visit wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/.

How to Apply

Submit application at: <https://tinyurl.com/4zxwjpdtd>

A complete application includes the following:

References: Provide contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship.

Cover letter outlining your qualifications and why you are interested in this particular position

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement (500 word limit): Describe how you would contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning community at our college through your teaching, research, and/or service. Include examples of your contributions when possible.

Graduate transcripts (unofficial)

Evidence of Teaching Excellence, including a statement of teaching philosophy, focused on pedagogy in and out of the classroom at a liberal arts college

Research Statement focused on your current scholarship and plans for future scholarship

Writing sample

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration. Finalist interviews are expected in November. Questions about the position, department, or College may be directed to Menevis Cilizoglu, Search Committee Chair, at tt2025ps@stolaf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14446

Williams College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Williams College seeks an Assistant Professor of Political Science with scholarly expertise in American political institutions and public policy. We seek a colleague who has a record of excellence in research and is committed to inclusive undergraduate education. The typical teaching load is four courses each year (2-2) plus a Winter Study (January term) course every other year; successful candidates will be able to teach Introduction to American Politics as well as a course on Congress and additional courses in their areas of interest. This tenure track appointment will begin in the 2025–2026 academic year. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field. Candidates should have the Ph.D. completed by June 2025.

Application items should include: a cover letter detailing scholarly interests as well as teaching experience; a curriculum vitae; a writing sample of only one article or chapter; and three letters of recommendation. We ask you to write in your cover letter about your ability to work effectively with a student population that is broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Candidates invited to the first round of (Zoom) interviews will be asked at that time to provide sample syllabi and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

The deadline for the submission of applications is September 10 for full consideration. All application materials should be submitted through Interfolio [<https://apply.interfolio.com/148629>]. Fax and email applications will not be accepted. Inquiries may be sent to Erin Malloy at emb8@williams.edu. All offers of employment are contingent upon completion of a background check. Further information is available here: <https://faculty.williams.edu/prospective-faculty/background-check-policy/>

The Political Science department has a strong commitment to professional development which includes regular opportunities to present work in progress. Williams College offers additional professional development opportunities, including the college's First3 program as well as programming organized by the Rice Center for Teaching and the NCFDD, among other mentoring initiatives.

Williams College is a liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams College website (<http://www.williams.edu>) to learn more about the College and in particular its professional development resources for faculty. Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams College is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/10/2024

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14444

Rollins College

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

Assistant Professor, American Politics

Rollins is the best college in Florida, but don't just take our word for it. See what the experts are saying. Explore all of the ways Rollins is top ranked—from our academic excellence and expert faculty to our unparalleled campus and one-of-a-kind study abroad opportunities.

<https://www.rollins.edu/news/rollins-named-a-2023-great-college-to-work-for/> Be a part of the Rollins experience and find a place where you belong. Ready to join us?

Position Summary:

The <https://www.rollins.edu/political-science/> invites applications for the position of tenure-track Assistant Professor of American politics, beginning August 2025. We seek an Americanist with proficiency in research methodology. Substantive focus is open, although applicants able to contribute to Rollins' interdisciplinary programs such as African & African American Studies, American Studies, Data Analytics, or Public Policy and Political Economy, are especially welcome.

Our department members regularly engage in student/faculty collaborative summer research, international field studies, and honors thesis supervision. The regular teaching load is three courses per semester, including Introduction to American Government and one course yearly for our general education program.

Rollins College is a comprehensive liberal arts college located just north of Orlando, FL, a diverse metropolitan community with a thriving economic and cultural scene. Nearby Orlando International Airport provides easy access to U.S. and international destinations. The college emphasizes innovative and quality teaching in small classes and ranks number one among 121 Southern master's-level universities in the annual rankings of "America's Best Colleges," released by U.S. News & World Report. Please visit the college website at <http://www.rollins.edu/>.

Minimum Qualifications and Education:

- Ph.D. or ABD in Political Science with a specialization in American politics and proficiency in research methods.
- Demonstrated commitment to teaching excellence, preferably in the liberal arts.
- Ability to contribute to, help foster, and sustain a diverse and inclusive learning and working environment at Rollins.
- Record of scholarly activity showing strong potential for future publication.

Instructions to Applicants:

Interested applicants must apply online via the College's employment website and upload the following materials as follows:

- Letter of interest
- Curriculum vitae
- Provide three reference names and email addresses on application

Inquiries can be directed to:

Mike Gunter

Chair, Department of Political Science

<mailto:mgunter@rollins.edu>

**To discuss your application in person or schedule an introductory interview at the 2024 APSA, contact our department chair via email at <mailto:mgunter@rollins.edu>.**

The closing date for applications is Friday, Oct. 11, 2024.

Diversity & Inclusion at Rollins:

Rollins is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus community, and the College celebrates the open exchange of ideas within a climate of civility and mutual respect. We view differences—from race and ethnicity to sexual orientation and political perspectives—as rich opportunities for understanding, learning, and growth. To learn more, please click <https://www.rollins.edu/about-rollins/diversity-inclusion/index.html>.

Through its mission, Rollins College is firmly committed to creating a just community that embraces multiculturalism; persons from historically under-represented minority groups are therefore encouraged to apply. Rollins does not discriminate on the basis of sex, disability, race, age, religion, color, national or ethnic origin, ancestry, marital status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, physical characteristics, or any other category protected by federal, state, or local law, in its educational programs and activities.

Benefits &

Perks:

- Paid Holidays and College Closure Days
- Eligible for Medical, Prescription, Dental & Vision Insurance (within 30 days of hire)
- 100% Employer-Funded Health Reimbursement Account ($125+/month)

- 100% Employer-Paid Short & Long Term Disability Insurance
- Domestic Partner Benefits
- 11.5% Employer Retirement Contributions
- Discounted On-Campus Dining Meal Plans
- FREE On-Campus Parking
- FREE Access to Campus Amenities (gyms, pools, library, sporting events and more)
- FREE Full Tuition for Employees and their Families
- Pet Insurance
- 100% Employer-Funded Employee Assistance Program
- Flexible Spending Accounts
- Award-Winning Wellbeing Programs: Blue Rewards, Rally Dollars, Hinge Health Musculoskeletal Coaching
- Plus More!

Additional Perks:

- Local & National Discount Programs, including Winter Park Locations (i.e. shops, restaurants, gift cards and more)
- FREE E-Training Courses & Professional Development Opportunities
- IT Software & Laptop Discounts (Apple, Lenovo, and more)
- College Bookstore Discounts
- Annual Service Awards & Recognition Programs
- Discover what it's like to live in Orlando: <https://life.orlando.org/live/>
- Plus More!

<https://www.rollins.edu/human-resources/working-at-rollins/why-rollins/benefits.html>.

FLSA Status:

Exempt

Service Months:

9

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5344819>

Rollins is the best college in Florida, but don't just take our word for it. See what the experts are saying. Explore all of the ways Rollins is top ranked—from our academic excellence and expert faculty to our unparalleled campus and one-of-a-kind study abroad opportunities.

<https://www.rollins.edu/news/rollins-named-a-2023-great-college-to-work-for/> Be a part of the Rollins experience and find a place where you belong. Ready to join us?

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14433

Missouri State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

ANNOUNCEMENT OF POSITION VACANCY

Missouri State University

American Politics

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy at Missouri State University invites applications for a nine-month, tenure-track appointment in American Politics at the assistant professor rank. The successful candidate will have a primary field and/or identifiable research agenda in American institutions and must be prepared to teach undergraduate courses in Political Institutions, particularly Congress and the Executive, and the introductory American politics course. While ABDs will be considered, the successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment in August 2025. The successful candidate will be able to enhance the Public Affairs mission of the University and demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to teaching and service and possess an identifiable research agenda that demonstrates the potential for a sustained record of scholarship leading to publications in peer-reviewed journals.

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy has 20 full-time faculty members—14 in political science and six in philosophy—and approximately 160 undergraduate majors as well as master's programs in both Public Administration and International Affairs. Missouri State University is a selective-admission, comprehensive, and multi-campus university system with an enrollment of over 20,000 students, 150 undergraduate majors, and 47 graduate programs. MSU is located in Springfield, MO, with a metropolitan population of over 400,000, in the heart of the Ozarks region of Southwest Missouri.

Apply online at <https://jobs.missouristate.edu/>. For additional information, contact:

Dr. Christopher Lynch, Head
Department of Political Science and Philosophy
Missouri State University
901 S. National Ave.
Springfield, MO 65897

Salary is competitive and commensurate with background and experience. Consideration of applicants begins October 1, 2024, continuing until the position is filled. Employment requires a criminal background check performed at the University's expense.

Missouri State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action/minority/female/veterans/disability/sexual orientation/gender identity employer and institution. We encourage applications from all interested minorities, females, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and sexual orientation/gender identity.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14431

USC Sol Price School of Public Policy

Rank: Professor of Public Policy and Management; Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Position Description and Qualifications

The Sol Price School of Public Policy at the University of Southern California seeks a senior faculty member at the rank of professor (tenured) in the Public Policy and Management Department to serve as the Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise. The individual will have a stellar record of scholarship and leadership in governance and the public enterprise. Of particular interest will be a focus on civic engagement, democratic processes and institutions, collective action, public policy processes and analytics, and public/nonprofit management. We are interested in scholars from all relevant disciplines as well as an interest in a wide array of issue areas that are part of the School's portfolio. Applicants must present evidence of a creative, vibrant and intellectually rigorous research agenda and significant accomplishments in their field. The candidate will also serve as Director of the Bedrosian Center for Governance and the Public Enterprise and is expected to develop and execute public facing programs on Democracy and Governance, including highly visible related policy discussions.

About the Bedrosian Center

The Judith and John Bedrosian Center on Governance and the Public Enterprise was established with a generous gift from Judith and John Bedrosian in 2004. Effective governance is essential to the quality of life of all Americans. The center is dedicated to understanding and improving the nature of democratic governance, policymaking, and management of the public enterprise in the 21st century. The center provides a highly visible focal point for imaginative research, policy analysis, and dialogue across the university. Through public discussion, the center focuses on pressing issues facing society and integrates conversations with civic education, which is at the heart of strong communities.

For additional information about the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy, see our website: <https://priceschool.usc.edu>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/13/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14410

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Political Theory

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in American public law with a focus on constitutional law and American judicial process. The successful applicant will serve as faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society and Moot Court team and may teach, as needed, introductory courses in American Politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs and JDs with teaching experience will also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147105>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2024

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14370

American University

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Applicants should hold a PhD or other terminal degree. Highly qualified applicants with a master's degree related to political science will be considered at the rank of instructor. The position will require the incumbent to teach three undergraduate or M.A. courses per semester in political science with a primary focus on American Politics and Public Policy. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach GOVT 443/643 (Applied Political Writing), GOVT 210 (Political Power and American Public Policy), and GOVT 620 (Applied Politics and American Public Policy). All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three professional recommendations, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers.

Please contact Rachel Whelan, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or spa\_academicaffairs@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

American University is a student-centered research institution located in Washington, DC, with highly ranked schools and colleges, internationally renowned faculty, and a reputation for creating meaningful change in the world.

Learn more about American University. <https://www.american.edu/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14334

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Politics (American Politics)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in American politics, to begin in the fall of 2024. We are interested in a candidate with a range of interests, including but not limited to public opinion, ideology, political parties, elections, and the presidency. The successful candidate could also play an important advisory role for our Washington, D.C. internship programs. The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, and institutional perspectives. Situated on a large and beautiful campus, Catholic University is only three metro stops from the Capitol. Politics is one of the largest majors on campus, attracting many students who value the community of a Catholic university while pursuing careers related to politics and law in the nation's capital. The department's Ph.D program has a long and distinguished history, and the development of professionally minded M.A. programs is a university priority.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12478

Catholic University of America

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Political Theory

Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a clinical (non-tenure track, two-year renewable contract) faculty appointment, to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should have expertise in public policy (American and/or comparative, as well as familiarity with the principles of Catholic social teaching). The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, ethical and institutional perspectives. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to teach both undergraduates and graduates, including students in a new MA in Public Policy program currently under development.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12475

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101:

Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government.

A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University

<https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog/>.

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations.

Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024

(to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee

Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment

Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus

Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA- related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East

- Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010;

Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8844

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a regional specialization in Latin America beginning July 1, 2025. A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

This is a tenure-track appointment with a teaching load of 5 courses per year. The school calendar consists of two 13-week terms (fall and winter) and our unique 4-week spring term. The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory course in Global Politics, 2 sections of applied statistics, and upper-level courses related to the candidate's field of expertise.

This position requires a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment; as such, evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. We also welcome interdisciplinary contributions to the curriculum. Opportunities will be available to teach in interdisciplinary programs at the University—including Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Africana Studies, Poverty and Human Capability Studies, and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies—as well as the DeLaney Center for the Study of Southern Race Relations, Culture, and Politics.

Faculty are also expected to have an active research program. To support faculty research agendas, the university has a summer research grant program, a generous 5-year sabbatical cycle, as well as a pre-tenure research leave program.

Washington and Lee is a top-ranked, highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,860 undergraduates and 380 law students.

Submit all application materials electronically using Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153177>.

Your letter of application should explain why you wish to teach in a liberal arts setting and how your training and research/teaching interests align with this position. Include a curriculum vitae, graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation that speak to your teaching and research abilities.

Full consideration will be given to all applications that are complete by September 30.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/30/2024
Date Posted: 9/2/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14755

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2025 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. Postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from women and minority PhD recipients, and from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose backgrounds and experience would contribute to the diversity (broadly defined) of the program.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses.

For full consideration, candidates should submit all materials by December 1, 2024. For more details and the application, please visit: <https://kingcenter.stanford.edu/opportunities/prospective-postdoctoral-fellows>.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 9/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14773

USAF Air War College

Rank: Professor of Strategy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other
Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

Professor of Strategy in the Air War College's Department of Strategy
<https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806510700>

The Air War College Department of Strategy invites applications for the Professor of Strategy position beginning summer 2025. AWC is a resident master's degree program for senior military/civilian leaders from the U.S. and partner nations. The department receives excellent financial support for research, conference attendance, and professional development. The initial appointment may be up for 3 years and is renewable. The position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track.

A master's degree in a relevant field is required; PhD is highly desired. The minimum starting salary is $102,000.

Duties

- Teaching: leading graduate-level seminars of 12-16 students at a 2/2 equivalent load

- Teaching the Department of Strategy's core curriculum, including the interdisciplinary Foundations of Strategy course
- Teaching electives in the applicant's areas of specialization and/or teaching the AWC's Regional Security Studies (RSS) course. RSS courses involve taking students to different parts of the world for roughly two weeks to study political, military, economic, and societal issues in that region.
- Developing curriculum and advising student research
- Facilitating experiential learning (war games, strategy exercises, etc.) throughout the academic year
  - Research: engaging in professional research and writing in areas of expertise
  - Seeking publication of book manuscripts, articles, monographs, and book reviews for publication in scholarly journals, professional journals, and other outlets
  - Presenting results of research at conferences and symposia
  - Service: serving in faculty positions supporting personnel and programs
  - Participating with other academic and professional associations, professional military education schools, AF/DoD institutions, universities, and colleges for professional development
  - Delivering lectures, conducting seminars, participating in panel discussions related to AWC curriculum
  - Maintaining academic currency by consistently reviewing professional literature and participating in professional associations

Qualifications

A master's degree in a relevant field is required; PhD is highly desired. In addition:

- Teaching experience (preferably at the graduate level) commensurate with professorial rank sought and/or professional experience and a suitable publication record are required.
- US citizenship and the ability to qualify for a US security clearance is required.

To apply, see here: <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806510700>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14712

Oberlin College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics (Comparative Politics)

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a full-time tenure track faculty position in the College of Arts and Sciences in the area of comparative politics. Initial appointment to this position will be for a term of four years, beginning fall semester 2025, and will carry the rank of Assistant Professor.

We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in the comparative study of political regimes (democracies and non-democracies), representation (political parties, civil society actors) and/or identities (gender, class, race, ethnicity). We are particularly interested in expanding our range in comparative politics beyond regions already covered by existing faculty in the department, so candidates whose teaching or research can address advanced capitalism/Global North countries are encouraged to apply. The position is open regarding theoretical and methodological approaches.

The incumbent will teach the standard teaching load (4.5 courses per year) and will be expected to engage in sustained scholarly research.

The incumbent is also expected to participate in the full range of faculty responsibilities, including academic advising, mentoring undergraduate research and service on committees.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2025-26). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

A complete application will be comprised of: 1) a cover letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement (or statements) on your teaching philosophy and expertise in diversity, equity, and inclusion; 5) a research statement that includes how you will support undergraduate research and, if applicable, how you might incorporate undergraduate students into your research program; 6) a writing sample of up to 40 pages; and 7) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at: <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/>

*By providing three letters of reference, you agree that we may contact your letter writers.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the October 15 deadline will be guaranteed full consideration. Preliminary interviews will be conducted via Zoom.

Questions about the position can be addressed to Kristina Mani, Professor and Chair of the Politics Department, kmani@oberlin.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14757

Oberlin College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics (Comparative Politics)

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a full-time tenure track faculty position in the College of Arts and Sciences in the area of comparative politics. Initial appointment to this position will be for a term of four years, beginning fall semester 2025, and will carry the rank of Assistant Professor.

We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in the comparative study of political regimes (democracies and non-democracies), representation (political parties, civil society actors) and/or identities (gender, class, race, ethnicity). We are particularly interested in expanding our range in comparative politics beyond regions already covered by existing faculty in the department, so candidates whose teaching or research can address advanced capitalism/Global North countries are encouraged to apply. The position is open regarding theoretical and methodological approaches.

The incumbent will teach the standard teaching load (4.5 courses per year) and will be expected to engage in sustained scholarly research. The incumbent is also expected to participate in the full range of faculty responsibilities, including academic advising, mentoring undergraduate research and service on committees.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2025-26). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

A complete application will be comprised of: 1) a cover letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement (or statements) on your teaching philosophy and expertise in diversity, equity, and inclusion; 5) a research statement that includes how you will support undergraduate research and, if applicable, how you might incorporate undergraduate students into your research program; 6) a writing sample of up to 40 pages; and 7) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at: <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/>

*By providing three letters of reference, you agree that we may contact your letter writers.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the October 15 deadline will be guaranteed full consideration. Preliminary interviews will be conducted via Zoom. Questions about the position can be addressed to Kristina Mani, Professor and Chair of the Politics Department, kmani@oberlin.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14758

University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Assistant Professor – Comparative Politics

Position Description

The Government Department at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of Comparative Politics.

Duties will include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, the College of Liberal Arts, and the University.

UT Government is one of the largest political science departments in the country. With nearly sixty faculty covering almost every facet of the discipline and a strong commitment to eclecticism in theoretical and methodological approaches, it is a remarkable and remarkably collegial intellectual community. Located in Austin, at Texas' flagship public university, we also have the privilege of serving a plural and gifted student population, in a vibrant and dynamic city.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor. Preferred qualifications include a strong record of research and a trajectory that shows or promises teaching excellence.

Application Instructions

Applicants must upload a cover letter, research statement, vitae, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials.

The department will begin reviewing applications on September 20, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. For help with the application process please reach out to Sarah Eliason (seliason@utexas.edu). For substantive questions about the position please reach out to the chair of the search committee, Zeynep Somer-Topcu (zsomer@utexas.edu).

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Position URL

apply.interfolio.com/153187

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14752

Duke University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of assistant or associate professor (with tenure) in political institutions to begin on July 1, 2025. Candidates are expected to demonstrate theoretical creativity and empirical acumen in research and teaching. The search committee is interested in scholars in both the American and comparative sub-fields and is open to a variety of methodological approaches.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda in no more than three pages, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, two writing samples, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28208>. Address correspondence to: Professor Scott de Marchi, Chair of Political Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204, demarchi@duke.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Duke also makes good faith efforts to recruit, hire, and promote qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14736

Ohio State University

Rank: AI in Politics and Society

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant or Associate Professor
Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful applicants will have research and teaching interests in the area of AI in Politics and Society. Based in Columbus, Ohio, the position will begin in the fall of 2025. Preferred applicants will have the promise of a sustained and substantial body of work developing and utilizing data analytic and/or artificial intelligence tools for the analysis of socio-political questions. The position is open with respect to substantive focus or disciplinary subfield in Political Science.

This position is part of the investment of The Ohio State University Provost in the Department of Political Science in Socio-Political Analysis and AI: <https://polisci.osu.edu/good-to-great-proposal>

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- Conduct research on advanced topics in the application of data analytics and AI to social scientific questions
- Mentor and teach in these and related areas at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- Engage with interdisciplinary efforts focused on data analytics and/or AI

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Applicants must be on track to complete their PhD on or before August 15, 2025, in a relevant field, and have the capacity to integrate methodological insights with substantive research demonstrated through a record of and/or promise of scholarly excellence. Desired: Demonstrate the potential for securing external grant funding and mentoring undergraduate or graduate students. Preferred candidates will show a willingness to participate in interdisciplinary collaborative efforts. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Associate-Professor---AI-in-Politics---Society\_R113066]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Janet Box-Steffensmeier at box-steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:

- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an

NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14721

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics, starting Fall 2025. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, with all areas of specialization invited to apply. Successful candidates should be able to contribute to the graduate program. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field, as well as from applicants already holding Assistant rank. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2025, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript. Letters of recommendation will be solicited after application. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14723

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics, starting Fall 2025. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, but the successful candidate must be able to contribute half their teaching load to the Environmental Studies program (the courses should be on some aspect of environmental politics). They should also be able to contribute to the graduate program in Political Science. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field, as well as from applicants already holding Assistant rank. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2025, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript. Letters of recommendation will be solicited after application. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14724

Seton Hall University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor - Comparative Political Economy

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Seton Hall University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor beginning in the fall semester in 2025. Seton Hall, the oldest U.S. diocesan university, is located 14 miles west of Manhattan, in South Orange, New Jersey.

Duties and Responsibilities:

We seek candidates with scholarly and teaching interests in comparative political economy. Ideally, the candidate's work will focus on one or more areas of need in our political science program such as African politics, Latin American politics, social justice, and/or gender studies especially as they intersect with economics. Fostering collaboration between Political Science and Economics, this faculty member will help develop innovative new academic programs and innovate existing curricula.

Tenure-track faculty at Seton Hall teach three courses per semester and are expected to publish actively, pursue grant-funded research, and perform service appropriate to their rank and experience at the Department, College, and University levels. This is a tenure-track position in the Department of Political Science & Public Affairs. Candidates should have peer-reviewed publications, or show clear promise of peer-reviewed research publication, in the area of comparative political economy.

Required Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated ability to teach a variety of courses in the field of political science. Teaching expectations include the ability to offer a core course in comparative politics, an introductory political science methods course in formal theory/quantitative analysis, and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization within comparative political economy. Additionally, the successful candidate will have a secondary appointment in the Economics Department with responsibility for offering at least one course in economics per Academic Year. The candidate must also demonstrate the ability to teach a principles of economics course and/or a course in political economy.

Ph.D. in Political Science, Political Economy, or Economics (or a closely related field).

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Candidates should submit a cover letter, cv, statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. Applications must be received through the online application portal found here: <https://jobs.shu.edu/>

Seton Hall University is committed to programs of Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) and the principles of affirmative action.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14715

Stanford University

Rank: Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellowship on Contemporary Asia, 2025-2026

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce its search for two 2025-2026 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows on Contemporary Asia. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent PhDs must have degree conferral and approval by June 30, 2025) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the fellowship is on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or on international relations and international political economy in the region. The postdoctoral fellowship is a 10-month appointment with salary rate commensurate with Stanford policy, plus up to $3,000 for research expenses. Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2025-2026 academic year.

Applications will be accepted until December 1, 2024.

For additional information and to apply, visit: <https://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/education/fellowship-and-training-opportunities/shorenstein-postdoctoral-fellowship>

About the Center:

The Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is dedicated to the study of critical issues affecting the countries of Asia and their regional and global relations. Our scholar community is comprised of distinguished academics and practitioners in government, business, and civil society. Through policy-relevant research, publications, education, public programs, and international collaborations, we address pressing challenges in a world in which Asia plays an increasingly central role.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14704

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, is hiring an assistant tenure-track professor whose research uses computational social science methodologies to study inequality and democracy in comparative settings. The position will begin Sept 1, 2025, subject to availability of funding. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (e.g. political sociology, public policy, economics, data science) is required by Sept 1, 2025. The selected candidate will be expected to conduct research and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in comparative politics and research methods. This hire is part of a Chancellor's cluster initiative on Data Science and Artificial Intelligence, which will hire 11 new faculty members, including 4 focused on computational social science, and create a cross-disciplinary scholarly community focused on the societal benefits and implications of artificial intelligence, machine learning, and data science.

Candidates should submit the following materials: (1) c.v.; (2) cover letter; (3) research statement, (4) teaching statement, (5) writing sample; (6) diversity statement addressing ways in which their research, teaching, or service will contribute to Rutgers's commitment to enhancing diversity and inclusiveness (broadly construed); (7) names and email addresses of three references who can upload letters of recommendation. The materials should be uploaded to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/234551>.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Review of applicants will begin on October 7, 2024, and continue until the job is filled.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14705

Union College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative and/or International Politics

Specializations: China, Russia, Africa

Union College invites applications for the position of one-year Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative and/or International Politics, with a specialty in Asian, sub-Saharan African, or Russian politics, beginning January 1, 2025 (this is a January 1-December 31 appointment). Review of applications will begin on September 15 and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by September 15 will receive priority consideration.

Position description:

The Department of Political Science is looking for a candidate (PhD preferred, though ABD candidates will be considered) with expertise in Comparative and/or International Politics and a specialty in Asian, sub-Saharan African, or Russian politics. This is a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position, with a January 1-December 31 appointment. The ability to offer the Introduction to Global Politics, our gateway course to the comparative and international fields, and upper-level courses in the politics of the aforementioned regions is crucial. Offering additional courses organized by theme (rather than region) would be a plus.

The normal teaching load at Union College is six courses across a trimester system (2-2-2). Visiting faculty are eligible for faculty travel and research grants and support. Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness will be important. We prefer candidates who clearly demonstrate research potential with an agenda for future work.

We expect all faculty members to contribute to a thriving, diverse, and inclusive learning community, while promoting a sense of belonging among students, other faculty, and staff colleagues. As such, we welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field and we ask all applicants to address in their cover letter the ways in which their candidacy represents a commitment to the ideals of joining a community of diverse faculty, students, and staff. Visiting faculty are eligible for faculty travel and research grants and support. Union offers highly competitive salary and benefits. For more information on benefits, please visit our website: <https://www.union.edu/human-resources/benefits>.

About the Political Science Department:

The political science department is an active and vibrant community of scholars, including researchers prominent in their respective fields. The department hosts a Faculty Colloquium, where colleagues present their research, and it regularly hosts events on current affairs of political significance, including our Pizza & Politics series. In addition to political science offerings, faculty teach courses that are part of the College's General Education and Writing Across the Curriculum programs and contribute with interdisciplinary programs including Africana Studies, American Studies, Asian Studies, Environmental Policy, Film Studies, Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies, and Latin American and Caribbean Studies. High-quality teaching has long been both an expectation and strength in the department. Our goal is not only to increase diversity, but to support a diverse environment in which people from varied backgrounds can succeed and thrive.

Application instructions:

Please submit all application materials as a single pdf file. Only the materials listed below will be considered. To ensure applications receive full consideration, they should be submitted by September 15, 2024. Please upload a cover letter including your teaching and research plans, an updated CV, and a writing sample (25 pages max.) to jobs.union.edu. Please send questions and other inquiries to Guillermina Seri at serig@union.edu. As part of the initial screening process, applicants may receive a request for the contact information for three professional references who can speak to their abilities in the fields of Comparative and/or International Politics, with regional specialty in Asian, sub-Saharan African, or Russian politics, as of their teaching and research in general, and any other relevant professional qualifications.

Compensation

The annual salary range for this position is $68,500-$70,500. Except for roles with a set rate of pay, the wage/salary of the finalist selected for this role will be set based on a variety of factors, including but not limited to departmental budgets, qualifications, experience, education, licenses, specialty, and training. The stated hiring rate/range represents the College's good faith and reasonable estimate of the rate/range of possible compensation at the time of posting.

We offer exceptional benefits including:

Generous Vacation, Sick, and Personal Time

Winter Recess Break in Addition to Paid Holidays

Healthcare, Dental, and Vision Insurance (Flexible Spending and Dependent Care Accounts)

Free On-Campus Fitness Facility Access and Discounts for On-Campus Wellness Programs

Employee Scholarships toward Certifications, Seminars, Training and Professional Development

Pre and Post Tax participation in a 403(b) Retirement Plan

Salary Continuation Program in the event of Disability

Tuition Assistance Program for Employee, Spouse and/or Dependents

Background Checks: In accordance with our background check policy, finalists for hire will undergo a background check that includes education, employment, and criminal convictions.

E-Verify Participation: Union College participates in E-Verify and will provide the federal government with your Form I-9 information to confirm that you are authorized to work in the United States. Learn more about E-Verify and your Right to Work (Derecho a Trabajar).

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14701

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Politics of the Middle East and North Africa

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

THE DEPARTMENT OF Political Science, UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, seeks to appoint a tenure-track assistant professor in Political Science whose work focuses on the region of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). Candidates will be expected to engage in and promote research and teaching related to the MENA region at Penn and beyond. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree is expected at the start of the appointment. The hired candidate will teach 3 courses per year (2-1 load) at the undergraduate and graduate levels. They will also provide research advice to students at all levels and engage in service to the department, the School, and the University.

Political Science is housed within the School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support faculty include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

With 35 tenured and tenure-track faculty, over 300 undergraduate student majors, and 80 graduate students, we are one of the largest departments in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Our faculty teach and conduct research in all the major fields in our discipline, including American politics, Comparative politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Political Economy, and Methods. Our faculty and students study a range of issues with real-world policy implications ranging from civil wars and ethnic conflict to environmental politics, partisan polarization, and inequality. Our PhD program has an excellent placement record: our graduates go on to jobs in premium research and teaching institutions, as well as to successful careers outside of academia.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Qualifications

The successful candidate's written materials and scholarly productivity will indicate potential for a high-impact research agenda. The successful candidate will typically plan to seek external funding to support their research, and should also be highly proficient in at least one of the four most widely spoken languages in the MENA region: Arabic, Farsi, Kurdish, and Turkish.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/152474

Review of applications will begin on September 10st, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14703

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track - International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. Led by President Karol V. Mason, John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY, and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment as an Assistant Professor in the Bachelor of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (ICJ BA) and the Master of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (IC&J MA) and in a department to be determined by the candidate's PhD or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department.) The position begins in Fall 2025.

The College seeks to hire a promising scholar researching international crime and justice issues. The college is especially interested in researchers working on topics of growing policy importance such as transnational crime and cyber criminology, including but not limited to topics such as cybercrime, cyber organized crime, online fraud, dark web activities, digital privacy and surveillance, social media and crime, AI and predictive policing, digital legislation, cyber terrorism, digital harassment, and the impact of emerging technologies on crime and justice, broadly defined. Additionally, the candidate should possess knowledge of sociological perspectives on crime, law, deviance, social control, and justice. This position requires proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research.

The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the BA and MA ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum ( https://new.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/2023-08/7\_Princip\_Cultur\_Resp\_Incl\_AntiRacist\_Curric\_Adopt\_4.8.21-brief.pdf ), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2025 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

$52,667- $99,532 Salary commensurate with education and credentials.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

1. Navigate to www.cuny.edu
2. Select "Employment"
3. Select "Search Job Postings"
4. Create an Account
5. After creating an account, return to the Job Search page and select "Apply Now"

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of

PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor confirming your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by November 5, 2024. In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Jana Arsovska, Director of the Master of Arts Program in International Crime and Justice via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

All questions should be directed to Dr. Jana Arsovska, Chair of the Search Committee, via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

CLOSING DATE

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024.

Posting closes on November 5, 2024.

*Interviews with successful candidates will be scheduled during the first two weeks of December 2024.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Job ID 28830

Location

John Jay College

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/5/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14699

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Russian Security Studies

Specializations: Russia, History & Politics, Intelligence

The Department of National Security Affairs at the Naval Postgraduate School seeks applications for a tenure-track appointment in Russian Security Studies open to all ranks. Successful candidates must demonstrate broad interest in research and teaching in the field of Russian-area security studies, the ability and willingness to teach one course on the Russian military, and Russian language competence.

The position is open to historians, political scientists, or other scholars of security studies broadly defined. Relevant expertise might include Russian military history/strategy, modern Russian and/or East European history, the Cold War, intelligence studies, Russian technology issues, arms control, or military issues in Russia's relations with NATO, Eastern/Central Europe, the Caucasus, Central Asia, or China. Candidates should demonstrate a strong potential for teaching excellence and scholarly research. The successful candidate should be prepared to teach Master's-level courses on Russian history and security.

The Naval Postgraduate School is a fully accredited graduate school whose students are drawn from the armed forces and civilian agencies of the United States and other countries. The Department of National Security Affairs is multi-disciplinary, with curricula based on Political Science, Political Economy, and History. Tenure-track professors typically teach a 2-2 load on a quarter system and are expected to maintain an active portfolio of academic research, publishing, and institutional service.

Minimum qualifications:

- An earned doctoral degree from an accredited institution
- Evidence of teaching aptitude
- Evidence of potential to advise student theses and dissertations
- Evidence of strong potential for scholarship leading to scholarly publications.

Employment requirements:

- U.S. citizenship is required
- Background check and eligibility for a Secret-level clearance.

Applications should include a CV, cover letter (including teaching and research interests), official graduate transcripts, and syllabi of relevant courses taught. Candidates should also submit up to three writing samples and three letters of recommendation. These confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted separately. ABDs are welcome to apply with the understanding that the award of a Ph.D. degree is a condition of employment. Applications will be reviewed beginning on Friday, October 25, 2024, but the position will remain open until filled. Expected start date is in the summer or fall of 2025.

Address applications and supporting materials electronically to the National Security Affairs Department at nsadept@nps.edu.

Questions and any other inquiries may be directed to:

Prof. Ryan Gingeras
Chair, Russian Security Studies Search Committee
Department of National Security Affairs
Naval Postgraduate School
Monterey, CA 93943
rgingera@nps.edu

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Relocation package, including recruitment/relocation incentive may be authorized.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>

NOTE: IF YOU ARE A VETERAN, you are strongly encouraged to identify your Veterans' Preference on your resume or elsewhere in your application package (type of preference, dates of service, date of VA letter, character of service, etc.).

Additional Veterans' Information: if you are not sure of your preference eligibility, visit the Department of Labor's website: <http://dol.gov/elaws/vets/vetpref/mservice.htm>

For more veterans' preference information, visit: <http://www.fedshirvets.gov/job/vetpref/index.aspx>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14536

San Jose State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science: Comparative or American Politics (Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Technology Policy)

The Political Science Department at San José State University seeks qualified candidates for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in comparative or American politics with a specialization in Artificial Intelligence (AI) and technology policy. We highly encourage candidates whose research specializes in any of the following areas including, but not limited to, the role of AI and misinformation, disinformation or manipulation in elections; comparative public policy investigating different government approaches and regulatory systems with respect to AI research and deployment in the public and private sectors; human oversight including the need for international collaboration and standards around AI; examining how the adoption of AI technologies affects employment, inequality, and privacy across different national contexts; and implicit bias within Large Language Models (LLMs), ethics, social justice, and AI.

Successful candidates will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to equity and inclusion through their research, teaching, and/or service. We ask that all applicants include a Diversity Statement with their application package. A guide to writing this statement can be found at SJSU Diversity Statement Guidelines, along with information about how these statements will be evaluated.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.sjsu.edu/en-us/job/542165/assistant-professor-political-science-comparative-or-american-politics-artificial-intelligence-ai-and-technology-policy> Assistant Professor, Political Science: Comparative or American Politics (Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Technology Policy)

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in political science at the time of appointment.

Demonstrated teaching experience or potential to teach effectively in comparative politics, technology policy, and political science.

Demonstrated ability or strong potential to develop and maintain an active research agenda with publications appropriate to the political science discipline.

Applicants should demonstrate an awareness of and sensitivity to the educational goals of a socially and economically diverse student population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching, and other comparable experience.

Preferred Qualifications:

Broad knowledge and preparation in comparative politics (especially African and/or Middle Eastern politics) or American politics (with an emphasis in American public policy).

Experience working with Black, Latinx, Indigenous, and other historically underserved students in the classroom, and an understanding of how historical patterns of exclusion of these groups within higher education and the field of political science shape patterns of participation and outcomes.

Willingness to examine and re-mediate one's instructional, relational, and classroom practices to more effectively engage and support historically underserved students.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/11/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14697

California State University, Fullerton

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Behavior, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science in the Division of Politics, Administration & Justice at California State University, Fullerton, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Science with an appointment to begin Fall 2025.

California State University, Fullerton (CSUF) is a minority-serving institution, affirmative action, and equal opportunity employer. CSUF is firmly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum and fostering an inclusive environment within which students, staff, administrators, and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences. Individuals advancing the University's strategic diversity goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

CSUF is committed to retaining all faculty and has established affinity groups you can join to support your success.

Position

The Political Science Department seeks a candidate whose primary field of teaching and research is political behavior. Preference will be given to candidates whose scholarly and teaching interests focus on the role of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, or other historically marginalized groups and/or minoritized populations; electoral behavior; political polarization; or democratic backsliding within the United States, in isolation or comparatively.

CSUF faculty are committed teacher/scholars who bring research and creative discovery to life for students in classrooms, labs, studios, and individually mentored projects. They teach broadly in the curricula of their departments, advise students, and serve on departmental and university-wide committees.

The primary responsibilities of the position will include teaching core courses in political behavior at both the undergraduate and graduate level, and the development of various courses in the faculty's area(s) of specialization. Faculty generally teach three classes per semester; a reduced teaching load is provided for the first two years. This faculty member will also be responsible for producing scholarship commensurate with the requirements for tenure and will be expected to contribute to and participate in the life and development of the Department and Division, advise students, serve on committees, and participate in the broader university and disciplinary communities.

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. in political science at the time of appointment with an emphasis in political behavior or a related field.
- Ability to teach political behavior in the United States, either in isolation or comparatively.
- Demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching a diverse student population.
- A strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment.
- Experience and commitment to being collaborative and a good colleague.
- Ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service.

- Demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from intersecting marginalized social groups.

Preferred Qualifications

- Research and expertise in the role of race, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, or other historically marginalized and/or minoritized populations
- Expertise in electoral behavior; or
- Expertise in political polarization; or
- Expertise in democratic backsliding.
- Experience teaching a diverse student population.

Application

A complete online application must be received by electronic submission to be considered. To apply, please visit <http://hr.fullerton.edu/careers/Faculty.php>, choose full-time faculty, search for position 542013, and provide the following required materials:

- cover letter in which you respond to the required qualifications
- curriculum vitae
- research statement describing area of research and current/future research agenda. Please limit to two pages.
- teaching statement describing teaching approach and philosophy. Please limit to one page.
- candidate statement on commitment to inclusive excellence
  - o This statement provides the candidate's unique perspective on their past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting diversity, inclusion, and social justice in higher education and/or their professional careers and their future aspirations in doing so. The statement shall address the following criteria:
    1. The candidate can demonstrate knowledge of barriers for underrepresented students and faculty in higher education.
    2. The candidate has experience in and is committed to engaging in service with underrepresented populations in higher education.
    3. The candidate has experience in and is committed to teaching and/or mentoring underrepresented students in a higher education environment.
    4. The candidate has experience integrating underrepresented populations and communities into scholarly and creative activities.
- a list of three references with relevant contact information
  - o Semi-finalists: must submit three letters of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit. On the References page of the online application, enter information and email addresses for three referents who will provide a confidential letter of reference for your application. At the appropriate time in the search process, they will receive a request via email along with information on uploading the letter. You can verify that CSUF has received each letter by logging back into your applicant portal.

Please direct all questions about the position to: Shelly Arsneault at sarsneault@fullerton.edu or call 657-278-2456.

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, all application materials must be received by September 30, 2024. The anticipated appointment date is August 2025.

The College and Department

The Department of Political Science provides students with an education that is grounded in theory and evidence-based research. We prepare our students for law school or graduate school, government employment on the local, state and national levels, foreign service, teaching, business, journalism, or leadership in civic and political activities. The Department of Political Science is situated within the Division of Politics, Administration & Justice, a multi-disciplinary Division that provides faculty excellent opportunities for collaboration with colleagues from Public Administration and Criminal Justice. The Division is housed within the College of Humanities and Social Sciences (H&SS) with programs and departments that offer students the breadth of a traditional liberal arts education in the humanities and social sciences while preparing them to be members of a global society participating in a wide range of professions or advanced academic or professional study.

H&SS is the largest college at CSUF, offering 23 undergraduate degrees, 38 minors, and 15 graduate degrees. Our mission is to educate students to be culturally, globally, socially, historically and environmentally astute, civically responsible alumni able to navigate an increasingly complex and interconnected world. Three primary initiatives in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences - CoJET, Passage to the Future, and IBII - showcase our core pillars of civic engagement, social justice, and global awareness. Our faculty-based Collective for Justice, Equity & Transformation (CoJET), consists of H&SS faculty fellows whose expertise addresses equity, diversity, justice, community and organizational transformation. Faculty teaching our Passage to the Future courses help position our students for future success by helping them connect H&SS experiences and knowledge to career paths. The Institute of Black Intellectual Innovation (IBII) is a cross-campus and community-minded initiative to institutionalize the support and inclusion of Black people, culture, creative arts, and intellectual history at California State University, Fullerton and throughout Orange County.

Compensation

The Assistant Professor (Academic Year) classification salary range is $5,925 to $12,594 monthly (12 monthly payments per academic year). The anticipated hiring range is $6,990 to $7,130 per month.

Salary offered is commensurate with experience and qualifications. In addition, the California Equal Pay Act prohibits employers from paying its employees less than those of the opposite sex and/or another race or ethnicity for substantially similar work (https://www.dir.ca.gov/dlse/california\_equal\_pay\_act.htm).

Summer research grants, moving expenses, start-up funds, and a reduced teaching load may be available.

CSUF Benefits

We are growing! The Division of Politics, Administration, & Justice has hired a number of new tenure track faculty within the past 5 years, with more on the horizon. Join us and help shape the life and development of the Department and Division.

An excellent comprehensive benefits package includes health/vision/dental plans; spouse, domestic partner, and dependent fee-waiver; access to campus child-care; and a defined-benefit retirement through the state system and optional tax sheltering opportunities. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit <https://hr.fullerton.edu/total-wellness/>.

CSU Policies

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and must comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083, revised July 21, 2017, as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be formally offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or the continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Reasonable accommodations will be provided for qualified applicants with disabilities who self-disclose.

Notice of Non-Discrimination based on Gender or Sex and Contact Information for Title IX Coordinator (<http://www.fullerton.edu/titleix/about/notice.php>).

In accordance with the California State University (CSU) Out-of-State Employment Policy, the CSU is a state entity whose business operations reside within the State of California. It requires hiring employees to perform CSU-related work within the State of California.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14688

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor in Global Development

Specializations: Developing Nations, Africa, South Asia

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs at Georgia Tech invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Global Development as part of an exciting new interdisciplinary Global Development Program, which includes a Minor, Certificate, and one-year Master's of Science in Global Development. The start date for the position will be August 2025.

Applicants should show promise or evidence of outstanding scholarly achievement, exceptional commitment to teaching, and should have an interest in contributing to the advancement of the intellectual community and related outreach efforts. While we will consider applicants working on a broad range of regions and Global Development topics, we are particularly interested in candidates focusing on the intersection of technology and development or on questions related to the UN Sustainable Development Goals or to threats to democracy, as well as in candidates with a regional specialty in South/Southeast Asia or Africa. Successful candidates will be fluent in the perspectives of political science, economics, sociology, and/or other interdisciplinary backgrounds. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an exceptional commitment to the teaching and mentoring of students. For further details and to submit an application, please click here.

Responsibilities Teaching:

- Demonstrate exceptional commitment to teaching.
- Contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs in Global Development.
- Develop and teach courses related to global development, potentially including topics such as technology and development, UN Sustainable Development Goals, threats to democracy, and regional specialties in South/Southeast Asia or Africa.
- Deliver courses that integrate perspectives from political science, economics, sociology, and/or other interdisciplinary backgrounds.

Research:

- Conduct outstanding scholarly research in the field of Global Development.
- Show promise or evidence of outstanding scholarly achievement.

- Publish research findings in reputable academic journals.
- Develop a strong research agenda aligned with the goals of the Global Development Program.
- Contribute to the advancement of the intellectual community through research activities.

Service and Outreach:

- Contribute to the advancement of the intellectual community and related outreach efforts.
- Engage in service activities within the department, university, and broader academic community.
- Participate in related outreach efforts to enhance the visibility and impact of the Global Development Program.
- Collaborate with other faculty members and departments on interdisciplinary projects and initiatives.

Interdisciplinary Collaboration:

- Collaborate with colleagues from diverse backgrounds within the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs and across other relevant departments and schools at Georgia Tech.
- Contribute to joint degree programs with other schools, such as Modern Languages, Economics, and City and Regional Planning.
- Foster interdisciplinary approaches to teaching, research, and outreach activities.

Professional Development:

- Stay current with developments in the field of Global Development, including emerging trends, methodologies, and best practices.
- Pursue opportunities for professional development and growth, such as attending conferences and workshops.
- Mentor and advise graduate students in their academic and research pursuits.

Administrative Responsibilities:

- Fulfill administrative duties as assigned by the department or university leadership.
- Contribute to the development and assessment of academic programs within the Global Development Program.
- Participate in faculty meetings, committees, and other departmental activities as needed.

Required Qualifications:

Applicants must have an earned doctorate by the start of the appointment. The degree should be in a relevant field such as Global Development, International Affairs, Political Science, Economics, Sociology, or a related interdisciplinary area.

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=275330&PostingSeq=1&PortalActualURL=https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=275330&PostingSeq=1&PortalRegistryName=CAREERS&PortalServletURI=https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/&PortalURI=https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/&PortalHostNode=APPLICANT&NoCrumbs=yes&PortalKeyStruct=yes&

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14664

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile

Rank: Tenure-Track positions in crime and public security, public administration, and Ethics of Public Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Political Theory

The School of Government of Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for three full-time academic positions in three areas: public administration, crime and public security, and ethics of public policy. We seek one candidate for each of these positions. For all positions, the selected candidates are expected to start in the first or second semester of 2025. The deadline to apply is October 15th, 2024. We welcome applications from candidates with a PhD in Political Science (or in the final process of its completion) with specialization in the required fields.

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile is an interdisciplinary academic unit comprised of the Schools of Economics and Administration, Social Sciences, Law, History, Geography, Political Science, and Engineering. The school was established with a commitment to addressing public issues and the governance challenges of increasingly complex societies, both in Chile and globally, through innovative and interdisciplinary approaches. Currently, the School has twenty faculty members who support the master's program in Public Policy and the undergraduate program in Public Administration, which offers both a bachelor's degree and the Professional Title of Public Administrator.

Academic requirements are regulated by the norms established in the "Regulation of the Academic" of Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile and the Complementary Norms of the School of Government. Generally, it is expected that an academic will teach undergraduate and graduate courses on general topics related to their area of interest and specialized courses (the regular teaching load is three courses per year) and be able to supervise graduate theses or final graduation activities. Additionally, they are expected to develop their own research line with funding from competitive grants and maintain a continuous pace of high-quality academic publications. Previous teaching experience, proactivity, leadership, skills for working in interdisciplinary teams, and previous collaborative work will be valued, considering the academic career stage of each applicant.

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, consistently ranked among the top three in the QS Ranking of Latin American universities, is deeply committed to fostering equal opportunities and building an inclusive, diverse, and fraternal academic community. This commitment to inclusivity extends to promoting the academic development of both women and men. In this context, we especially encourage applications from women.

Position 1: Crime and Public Security

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position for scholars specializing in the study of organized crime, crime, and/or public security. Applicants with a PhD conducting research and teaching on issues related to crime and public security from any social science discipline (including political science, economics, law, public policy, and related fields) are encouraged to apply. Knowledge and interest in developing public policies in this area and experience in empirical research will be valued. Applications from those close to completing their doctorate will also be accepted.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call, or a central chapter or article from the doctoral thesis (job market paper) for those finishing or recently completed their doctorate.
- A cover letter including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of the call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>
- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the coming years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of a School of Government and a criminology program (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, for those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying the completion of the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of the School of Government, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form: <https://form.jotform.com/242047360786662>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Position 2: Public Administration

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position for scholars specializing in public administration. Applicants with a PhD in public administration, political science, government, public policy, public law, or related areas, who conduct research and teaching on relevant issues in public sector politics and management are encouraged to apply. Applications from those close to completing their doctorate will also be accepted.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call, or a central chapter or article from the doctoral thesis (job market paper) for those finishing or recently completed their doctorate.
- A cover letter including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of the call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>

- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the coming years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of a School of Government and a criminology program (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, for those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying the completion of the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of the School of Government, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form: <https://form.jotform.com/242027259167660>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Position 3: Ethics of Public Policy (normative or applied)

The School of Government (EG) and The Institute of Applied Ethics (IEA) at the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position as Assistant or Associate Professor, with a shared appointment in both academic units, for scholars specializing in ethics of public service or ethics of public policy.

Priority will be given to candidates whose research agenda focuses on topics related to corruption, public integrity, ethical management in public institutions, or ethics of public administration professionals. Applications are welcome from those who approach these phenomena either from a normative or empirical perspective. The primary affiliation to one of these units will be defined based on the profiles of the applicants.

Applicants must have completed a doctoral program (PhD) in applied ethics, government, public administration, public policy, political theory, political science, law, or related areas. Applications from those close to graduating from their doctorate will be accepted. Applicants must show proven ability to develop independent and interdisciplinary research. Previous teaching experience, proactivity, leadership, skills for working in interdisciplinary teams, and previous collaborative work will be valued. All these aspects will be considered according to the stage of the academic career of the applicants.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications. The CV should be organized as follows: i) Personal Information ii) Education iii) Experience in the field of education iv) Professional Experience v) Publications (WOS and other publications) vi) Other relevant matters such as awards, recognitions, or participation in scientific societies.

- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call. Candidates completing their doctorate may send one of their publications in progress or chapters of their thesis.
- A cover letter explaining the applicant's interest in the position, including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of this call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>
- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the next 5 years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of the IEA and the EG (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, in the case of those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying that they have completed the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree or the date on which they will obtain it.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of both academic units, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl and eticasaplicadas@uc.cl, indicating "Academic Position in Public Ethics" as the subject.

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form:

<https://form.jotform.com/242046175156656>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14657

Marist College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Africa, East Asia, Latin American

The Political Science Department at Marist College invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor of Political Science position in Comparative Politics beginning Fall 2025. We are seeking a broadly trained candidate who can teach introductory and advanced courses in Global Politics and Politics of the Global South. Candidates should have some combination of regional expertise in Latin America, Africa and/or Asia (ability to teach courses in more than one region is a plus). An ability to teach upper-level courses in your specialization including Democratization, Global Health, Human Rights, and Research Methods is also desirable. Preference will be given to candidates that can also teach classes in International Relations. ABD required, PhD preferred. Strong candidates will be able to provide evidence of teaching effectiveness at the collegiate level.

This position is part of an ongoing cluster hire as we welcome additional new faculty members as part of our Global Studies cluster. These new faculty members will join faculty in the departments of English, history, modern languages and cultures, and political science who focus on Global Studies generally, and Africana Studies and Latinx & Latin American Studies specifically. The position is also part of a major college-wide hiring initiative with the goal of creating a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive institution.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations is required. Advanced ABD candidates will be considered. Teaching experience and evidence of teaching effectiveness at the college level is required.

The teaching load will be 3-4 but faculty who achieve and maintain an outstanding record of scholarship may be eligible for a 3-3 teaching load. In addition to teaching and research responsibilities, faculty participate regularly in service activities for our students, Marist College, and the community.

See more about this listing and Marist College at: <https://careers.marist.edu/cw/en-us/job/493703/assistant-professor-of-political-science>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/14/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14634

Lafayette College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law at Lafayette College invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2025. The Department seeks candidates specializing in international and/or comparative political economy in the Global South, with a focus on dynamics of power and inequality. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science (or closely related field) or demonstrate that the Ph.D. is near completion. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to International Politics or Introduction to Comparative Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to the College's interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda. The Department especially welcomes applications from candidates who will contribute to Lafayette's commitment to diversity and inclusion. The teaching load during the first year is four courses (normally two each semester) and five courses each year thereafter.

Applications should include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. The letter of intent should contain a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, and address the ways in which the applicant's teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will advance Lafayette College's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion as articulated in the College's diversity statement (<https://belong.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/>).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151960>. Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Seo-Hyun Park (parksh@lafayette.edu).

Located within 70 miles of New York City and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts and engineering institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship. Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. All Lafayette operations reflect the College's commitment to Diversity, Equity, Access, and Inclusion (DEAI) initiatives, and Lafayette welcomes applicants from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14626

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Short-term Visiting Fellowships, 2025-2026

Job Title: Visiting Fellow

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00005

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year's visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for advanced or mid-career scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established Latin American writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on research or creative projects who may benefit from a short stay at Princeton University.

Appointments will be for one month during the 2025-2026 academic year (September 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026) or the summer (July and August) to be determined on a case-by-case basis. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines stipend on the basis of current academic rank; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of seniority and current institutional affiliation.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 13, 2024. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34842>.

1) Cover letter (in English) indicating the calendar month the applicant proposes to stay), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);

2) Curriculum vitae (in English);
3) A statement (in English) describing the research project as well as the ways Princeton resources and/or faculty will be useful for the project (1,000-1500 words);
4) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14516

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Visiting Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Visiting Research Scholar

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00004

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are expected to be for one or two semesters, during the 2025-2026 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2025 - January 16, 2026; spring semester: January 16, 2026 - June 1, 2026). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 13, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials (in English) and apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34841>.

1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
2) Curriculum vitae;
3) One undergraduate seminar proposal or syllabus for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how the course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;

- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 - 2,000 words);
 5) The names and contact information of two referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Advanced degree preferred. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14515

Rice University

Rank: Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a Full Professor to begin July 1, 2025. The candidate will be expected to serve as Department Chair. Full professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise Ph.D. dissertations, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to department, university, and disciplinary service. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of leadership and service at the dept/school/university/discipline level, outstanding teaching in undergraduate and graduate courses, and research excellence in their specialized area. Candidates should have research interests and expertise in the areas of American politics, comparative politics, or international relations, and have utilized quantitative research methods in their work. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a leadership/service statement highlighting experience and leadership philosophy; a research statement; a teaching statement; a DEI statement; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and contact information for three references who can attest to the candidate's leadership experience and qualities. References will be contacted for a subset of candidates. All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151772>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14632

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

Brown University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow in the Civil Conflict and Democratic Erosion Policy Lab

Professor Robert Blair (Department of Political Science and Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs) is accepting applications for a Post-Doctoral Research Associate beginning in fall 2025. The Post-Doctoral Research Associate will help Professor Blair oversee the new Civil Conflict and Democratic Erosion Policy Lab at the Watson Institute and will work closely with Professor Blair on a variety of collaborative research projects. Professor Blair's current research interests include policy reforms and evaluations to improve police-community relations in countries affected by civil conflict; the political determinants of violence against environmental activists in the Amazon; the development of mechanisms to reduce partisan polarization in the US; and the dynamics and drivers of democratic erosion around the world, among other topics. The ideal candidate will have similarly broad research interests, and will be eager to collaborate on projects spanning multiple substantive areas in multiple geographical locations. The Post-Doctoral Research Associate will also help oversee a team of undergraduate and graduate research assistants connected to the Policy Lab.

Eligible for remote work in line with Brown's policies.

The Political Science Department is interested in qualified candidates who have demonstrated commitment to excellence by providing leadership in teaching, research or service toward building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Qualifications needed:

- PhD in political science, economics, or related discipline by the position start date
- Experience with data analysis in Stata or R (preferably both)
- Experience running surveys, field experiments, and/or other forms of complex field-based research
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Spoken Spanish or Portuguese is desirable but not necessary

Application instructions: Please provide a cover letter, CV, research statement, writing sample, and two letters of recommendation.

Please apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/142214>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14622

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2025. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2026, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time “career employee” at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP’s home academic institution for the visiting professor’s salary and benefits during their time at the Academy. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Lt Col Woody Olmstead, PhD), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-116, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Roland.Olmstead@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14623

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2025. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Jackson School of Global Affairs, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. This search includes additional resources in two targeted areas within this broader search area. The first is for an assistant professor with expertise in African Politics, who will teach at least one course cross-listed with, and contribute to, Yale’s Council on African Studies. The second is for a candidate who works on Environmental Politics, jointly appointed with the Jackson School of Global Affairs. Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in areas of political science commensurate with their expertise. Candidates jointly appointed with Jackson will also teach courses in Jackson’s undergraduate and graduate curriculum. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151662>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14619

University of Hong Kong

Rank: Postdoctoral fellowship (all fields considered)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Hong Kong seeks candidates for the Presidential Research Assistant Professor (RAP) Scheme 2024/25. These are non-tenure track postdoctoral research-focused positions with no teaching requirement. Each award will be for three years and will receive funding of HK$48,000 (approx. US$6,155) per month and a 15% contract gratuity. In addition, each awardee will be entitled to an annual research grant and annual conference support.

Candidates should be within three years of their PhD graduation from top universities anywhere in the world at the time of nomination. Another call for nominations (second round) may be issued in the first/second quarter of 2025.

The Department will consider excellent researchers with any area of specialization in terms of field of study (Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory or Public Administration) and geographical specialization.

About the University and the Department:

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong is an English-medium, research-led, comprehensive university with 39,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. It upholds high standards of academic freedom and excellence in its research, teaching and service to the community. HKU is consistently ranked among the world's top universities: 17th in the 2025 QS World University Rankings, 2nd in the 2024 QS Asia University Rankings, and the most international university in the world in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. The University is situated in an economically vibrant and culturally unique part of China that has historically been the gateway between East and West. More information about HKU can be found at <https://hku.hk/>.

The Department of Politics and Public Administration has played a leading role in the University and its global disciplines since its establishment in 1970. In addition to a competitive PhD research degree program, the Department offers three taught postgraduate programs – Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master in International and Public Affairs (MIPA), and Doctor of Public Administration (DPA) – as well as thriving undergraduate programs. The Department's faculty members are research active, diverse, international and highly collegial. Many have received training and work experience in the most prestigious departments and universities in North America, Europe and across Asia. Their expertise spans the fields of Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Administration. For more information about the Department, visit <https://ppa.hku.hk/>.

Application Procedure:

The following documents should be included:

- a. a one-page research abstract;
- b. a two-page research plan including background of research, research plan, methodology;
- c. a two-page CV of each candidate; and
- d. a three-minute video recording including the candidate's self-introduction and the details of the proposed research.

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 4, 2024. Departments must nominate candidates to the Faculty by September 9 for Faculty's consideration.

Applications should be sent to the Department administrator, Ms. Yannes Tang, sktang@hku.hk.

Informal inquiries may be directed to the Head of Department, Professor Robert Thomson, rthomson@hku.hk.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/4/2024

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14607

University of Hong Kong

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor in Public Administration

Applications are invited for appointment as Professor or Associate Professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration. New appointments at the University of Hong Kong are generally offered a tenure-track appointment. Exceptional candidates will be considered for appointment with tenure immediately. The appointee will contribute to the Department's thriving graduate and undergraduate teaching programs in Public Administration taking on leadership roles in these programs in due course.

Candidates for these senior positions should have compelling achievements in relation to research, teaching and institutional service commensurate with the level of appointment they seek. Research achievements are likely to include peer-reviewed articles in discipline-wide pinnacle journals and competitive research grants. Teaching achievements are likely to include the development of new courses and programs and practice in innovative pedagogical methods.

The Department will consider candidates with any geographical specialization and subfield of Public Administration and/or Comparative Politics. Relevant subfields include, but are not limited to, technology governance, environmental sustainability, public management, non-profit management, and diversity. The Department values both qualitative and quantitative research methods.

About the University and the Department:

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong is an English-medium, research-led, comprehensive university with 39,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. It upholds high standards of academic freedom and excellence in its research, teaching and service to the community. HKU is consistently ranked among the world's top universities: 17th in the 2025 QS World University Rankings, 2nd in the 2024 QS Asia University Rankings, and the most international university in the world in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. The University is situated in an economically vibrant and culturally unique part of China that has historically been the gateway between East and West. More information about HKU can be found at <https://hku.hk/>.

The Department of Politics and Public Administration has played a leading role in the University and its global disciplines since its establishment in 1970. In addition to a competitive PhD research degree program, the Department offers three taught postgraduate programs – Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master in International and Public Affairs (MIPA), and Doctor of Public Administration (DPA) – as well as thriving undergraduate programs. The Department's faculty members are research active, diverse, international and highly collegial. Many have received training and work experience in the most prestigious departments and universities in North America,

Europe and across Asia. Their expertise spans the fields of Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Administration. For more information about the Department, visit <https://ppa.hku.hk/>.

What We Offer: A supportive working environment and a highly competitive salary, in addition to annual leave, medical benefits, pension contributions and housing benefits. Salary tax does not exceed 15% of the gross income. New faculty members are entitled to generous research support to continue their scholarly work and develop grant proposals for local and international sources of funding, and, in the case of pre-tenure colleagues, mentorship from senior members at the Department. The usual course teaching load is presently three courses per year (a 2:1 load across two semesters, each with 12 teaching weeks).

How to Apply: The University accepts online applications for the above post (https://jobs.hku.hk/en/listing/ job reference 527158). Applicants should upload (1) an up-to-date CV identifying key publications, (2) a cover letter, (3) a research statement, (4) a teaching statement, (5) names and contact details of three referees who are willing to write in support of the candidate. Candidates may also provide additional supporting material including teaching evaluations. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2024, and continue until the post is filled. Informal inquiries may be directed to the Head of Department, Professor Robert Thomson, rthomson@hku.hk.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14606

University of Miami

Rank: Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Miami invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 15, 2025. The department seeks candidates in the field of Comparative Politics. We are particularly interested in applicants who can contribute to existing university programs in Latin American Studies, Global Black Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Climate Resilience, Global Health, Data Science, Public Policy, or Democracy. Advanced methodological skills are also desirable, particularly in machine learning, AI, or computational modeling. The expected teaching commitment is 2-2. Candidates should have a PhD or anticipate PhD completion by August 15, 2025. In some circumstances, ABDs with exceptional promise will be considered for appointment at the rank of Lecturer, with conversion to Assistant Professor upon completion of PhD.

Interested applicants may apply online at https://umiami.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UMFaculty/job/Coral-Gables-FL/Assistant-Professor\_R100079700. Applicants should upload a single pdf document including: (1) cover letter; (2) CV; (3) teaching statement focusing on your ability to contribute to an inclusive undergraduate political science major serving a diverse array of students; (4) PhD transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application); (5) writing sample. Please arrange for three reference letters to be sent directly to the search chair at UMPOLSearch@miami.edu. Applications received on or before September 15, 2024, will be given full consideration, though the committee will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. For further information about the position please contact the department chair (Casey Klofstad, c.klofstad@miami.edu). Additional information about the department is available at <http://www.as.miami.edu/politicalscience/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14610

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Two-Tenure Track Assistant Professor Faculty Positions in Comparative Politics

Specializations: Political Development, Political Economy, Social Movements

Department of Political Science

Two Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Faculty Positions in Comparative Politics

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross invites applications for TWO full-time tenure-track Assistant Professors in the area of comparative politics to begin in August 2025.

Each of these positions is open to specialists in regions including (but not limited to) Asia, Russia, Latin America, and Africa; we are not currently seeking candidates specializing in Western Europe and the Middle East. Areas of interest include (but are not limited to) political economy, the politics of development, political behavior, and social movements. The successful candidates will teach Introduction to Comparative Politics (27 students) and upper-division courses (19 students) in their area of regional and/or thematic expertise. Candidates will also have the opportunity to contribute to the College's interdisciplinary programs, such as International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Gender, Sexuality and Women's Studies; and other programs housed in the College's Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

Each of these positions carries a 3-2 teaching load with a research leave prior to tenure review of either a full year at 80% salary or a semester at full salary, and generous sabbatical and fellowship leaves for tenured faculty. To enable a smooth transition to Holy Cross, new full-time tenure-track Assistant Professors receive start-up funding to support their research and professional development and have a one-course reduction in their first year of teaching (i.e., 2-2). All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and full benefits. Faculty at the College cultivate a richly diverse academic community, pursue innovative teaching, and create high-impact scholarship. To learn more about faculty life at the College & the Worcester area, candidates are encouraged to visit our Prospective Faculty page.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate excellence in scholarship and a commitment to effective undergraduate teaching in the context of a liberal arts college. Ph.D. required by the beginning of the appointment.

APPLICATION MATERIALS

Please submit a cover letter addressing the position requirements listed above, a current curriculum vitae, unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts, and a statement on teaching. Candidates reaching the interview stage will be expected to provide three confidential letters of recommendation.

In your cover letter and statement on teaching, in addition to describing your research and teaching interests, please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or service would support the College's mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college and its core commitment to diversity and inclusion. The College values cultural and intellectual pluralism as integral to this mission and essential to the excellence of our academic program.

SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications. Please submit all application materials only through this platform: to <https://apply.interfolio.com/151681>. Materials submitted through any other means will not be considered.

Applications should be submitted by September 8. Initial interviews of selected applicants via Zoom will take place in September and October, and campus visits for selected applicants will take place in October and November. Questions about this search may be directed to Dr. Denis Kennedy, Chair of the Department of Political Science, at dkennedy@holycross.edu.

COLLEGE OF THE HOLY CROSS

College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,100 students and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate an enduring commitment to academic excellence and who embrace the educational benefits of a richly diverse community. Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14597

Tecnológico de Monterrey

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Assistant Professor Positions

The Tecnológico de Monterrey (Tec) invites applications from candidates in Political Science and International Relations. The search is open with respect to specialty and methodological approaches. We are recruiting candidates with the potential to conduct theoretically informed, methodologically rigorous research for publication in top peer-reviewed venues. In IR, we are interested in scholars from any of the major subfields, including international political economy, security studies, and/or global governance. In Political Science, we are seeking scholars from comparative politics and methods subfields. The Tecnológico de Monterrey offers a dynamic academic environment with generous research support.

Minimum Requirements:

Candidates must have a demonstrated ability in conducting theoretical and empirical research in one or more of the aforementioned areas. The Tecnológico de Monterrey also prizes an excellent background in teaching. Professors are expected to teach and mentor undergraduates as well as graduate students. We are primarily interested in scholars early in their academic careers for the Assistant Research Professor track with teaching obligations that approximate a 2-2 load. We also have openings for Assistant Teaching Professors (3-3 or 4-4) and Student Advisor Professors (2-2 or 3-3), depending on the campus. Applications from ABD candidates will be considered if they include a letter from the dissertations chair stating a defense date, which should occur no later than June 2025 to start in August 2025.

Compensation is competitive and it includes incentives and support for research activities. The Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide legal assistance for foreign nationals in order to obtain work permits and visas for the candidate and his or her dependents.

Applicants should send the following documents in PDF format to Karen Aguayo: karenaguayo@tec.mx

- Curriculum Vitae accompanied by a cover letter.
- Research statement for the next 3 years (no longer than three pages).
- A statement of teaching philosophy (no more than two pages). Finalists may be asked to provide evidence of teaching performance.
- Writing sample, not to exceed 50 double spaced pages. If co-authored the candidate should be the first author.
- Three letters of recommendation. Ph.D. candidates should also include a letter from their chair indicating defense date.

For informal inquiries please contact the following committee members:

Prof. Mariana Rangel: mariana.rangel@tec.mx

Prof. Gabriel Aguilera: gabe.aguilera@tec.mx

About the Tecnológico de Monterrey:

The Tecnológico de Monterrey is ranked highly among the top universities in Latin America and Mexico. Undergraduate departments and programs in political science, international relations, economics, law, and public policy are housed in the School of Social Sciences and Government at our major campuses in Mexico City, Monterrey, Puebla, Querétaro, and Guadalajara. For more information, visit <https://tec.mx/es/noticias/cienciassociales-y-gobierno>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14589

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Asian Studies

Specializations: Asian American Politics, Central Asia, Southeast Asia

United States Army War College

Assistant/Associate Professor of Asian Studies

Salary range: $90,730 – $146,476

Objective:

The United States Army War College is accepting applications for an Assistant/Associate Professor of Asian Studies in the Department of National Security and Strategy to begin in the summer of 2025.

Position Description:

The person selected for this position will have a leading role in planning, administering, and teaching core courses on Asian regional studies as well as other core and elective courses of the resident education program and associated programs. They will serve as a faculty instructor for one seminar, advise students, and serve as project advisor for student research projects. They will also engage in cutting-edge scholarship that advances knowledge in fields relevant to the curriculum and engage in service in support of USAWC missions. Other duties may include teaching courses on war, strategy, and national security policy, and/or supporting the development and execution of specialized programs in policy, strategy, and outreach. Finally, the applicant must be able to obtain and maintain a SECRET security clearance from the US government.

The Army War College seeks applicants who would find fulfillment teaching and researching in an environment that intentionally blends scholarly achievement with policy application. It relies on a collaborative and inter-disciplinary teaching environment that emphasizes student engagement. As one of the nation's premiere institutions for military education, it is a dynamic workplace that mixes academic excellence with practitioner experience to prepare senior level officers and civilians for roles in strategy- and policy-making over the rest of their careers. This importance of the mission, and direct impact that faculty instruction has on national security processes, fosters a culture of mutual respect and collegiality across the department and school. Faculty who are interested in translating their academic expertise into policy debates are encouraged to do so.

This is a full-time, long-term, civilian faculty position. Initial appointment may be for up to 4 years; the first year may be probationary. Appointments may be renewed subject to job performance and availability of funds; reappointments at USAWC are the norm and the position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track. Academic rank and compensation of initial appointment will be offered commensurate with the applicant's level of experience and qualifications. We are prepared to offer a salary-and-benefits package designed to attract highly talented applicants.

For additional questions about the position, Department of National Security and Strategy, and/or the Army War College, please contact:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison
US Army War College
651 Wright Avenue
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
DNSS_asianstudies@army.mil

Qualifications:

In order to qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below, also known as Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSAs). Your curriculum vitae or résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience, and cover letters are encouraged to directly address the required KSAs, as they will be used by the search committee appointed to identify the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have master's degree (required) in political science, history, national security studies, international relations, government, or related field. PhD or terminal degree strongly preferred. Doctoral students who expect to complete their Ph.D. prior to July 2025 are eligible and encouraged to apply. Expertise in Asian politics strongly preferred.
2. Ability to prepare, teach, and lecture on subjects related to Asian studies, regional politics in East, Southeast, or South Asia, American foreign policy, grand strategy, and national security decision-making. An established record of superlative teaching at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or Senior Service College level, and experience in seminar-style instruction, is preferred.
3. Record of scholarly research and publication—or evidence of great potential for such research and publication—in areas relevant to the curriculum, to include national security policy and strategy, international relations, political science, history, political economy, regional studies, and the strategic use of military force (e.g., assurance, deterrence, coercion, and compellence). Expertise in regional Asian studies is preferred.
4. A record of successful service to the profession and/or engagement with policy debates, including membership in and service to professional (regional, historical, political) scholarly societies, public history initiatives, or military and defense organizations. A record of successful non-governmental work of a similar nature and scope, such as with a think tank, development organization, media organization, or international organization may also be considered service.
5. Regional language ability is preferred.

Application Required Documents:

Your application must contain each of the following:

1. Letter of application addressing the required KSAs and other qualifications, as listed in the QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED section above.
2. Curriculum vitae or résumé.
3. One sample of written scholarship not to exceed 50 pages (Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.)
4. Unofficial academic transcripts of the highest degree attained. You must provide official transcripts upon request.
5. List of four disinterested professional references (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate's qualifications but have no stake in the outcome of the selection).
6. Proof of U.S. citizenship.
7. A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the U.S. Army War College through teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

To apply for this position, you must submit the documentation specified in the Application Required Documents section above, directly to:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison
US Army War College
651 Wright Avenue
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
DNSS_asianstudies@army.mil

The complete application package must be submitted by 11:59 PM (EST) on 18 September 2024 to receive consideration.

Next Steps: If you provided an email address, you will receive an email message acknowledging receipt of your application. Your application package will be used to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. If you are determined to be ineligible or not qualified, your application will receive no further consideration.

The deadline to apply for this position is September 18, 2024.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/18/2024

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 14595

Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics. We are particularly interested in scholars who study East Asia, Southeast Asia, and/or South Asia. Applications by researchers whose areas of expertise intersect traditional subfields in political science are welcomed. Teaching responsibilities will include an introductory course on comparative politics as well as other courses in the candidate's areas of expertise. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field or be ABD with a Ph.D. expected before the start date of the appointment. For a complete position description, visit Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/151639>). Review of applications begins on September 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14593

Stanford University

Rank: Comparative Politics, Senior Rank Faculty Position in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Stanford University seeks applicants for a senior appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. The preferred area of specialty is Comparative Politics. Applicants must have demonstrated the ability to maintain a world-class research program and a commitment to effective teaching and mentoring. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in a related field and will be expected to teach and advise students at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The term of appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2025.

Candidates should apply through Stanford Faculty Positions (<https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494760/comparative-politics-senior-rank-faculty-position-in-political-science>) and submit

- a cover letter

- curriculum vitae (including a publication list)

- research statement (no more than three single-spaced pages)

- teaching statement (no more than two single-spaced pages)

- teaching evaluations

The Department of Political Science, School of Humanities and Sciences and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals.

The salary ranges for academic year 2024-25:

Associate Professor: $175,000 - $220,000

Professor: $250,000 - $350,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the qualifications of the selected candidate, budget availability, and internal equity.

Further information about Stanford's Department of Political Science may be found at <https://politicalscience.stanford.edu/>. Inquiries may be directed to Natalie Badalov, Faculty Affairs Coordinator, nbadalov@stanford.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 8th, 2024; later applications may be considered at the discretion of the search committee.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical mission.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14579

Lake Forest College

Rank: Latin American Politics and International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: South America, Central America, Mexico

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics and International Relations invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in comparative politics or international relations with a specialization in Latin America to begin August 2025. We seek someone to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics; Introduction to Global Politics; a research methods survey course, required for Politics and International Relations majors, that includes qualitative and/or quantitative methods; and a broad range of other courses in comparative politics or international relations with a focus on Spanish-speaking countries in Latin America. While we encourage candidates of all substantive interests to apply, those whose work focuses on issues of human rights, social movements, migration, indigenous communities, or populism are preferred. Additionally, candidates with corollary research and/or teaching interests in the Latinx experience within the domestic United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

Lake Forest College has a rich, interdisciplinary program in Latin American and Latinx Studies to which the successful candidate is expected to contribute significantly. Other interdisciplinary programs include Urban Studies; Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies; African American Studies; and Social Justice. We also have an "In the Loop" semester-long residential program in Chicago, as well as many courses emphasizing Chicago history, politics, and its diverse cultures. Lake Forest College's proximity to Chicago provides an opportunity to use the city as a "laboratory" for student work and research. We are interested in candidates who can contribute to any of these programs. We are especially interested in candidates who can incorporate students into their research programs and want to build a career centered on teaching and advising excellence.

Candidates are expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. A Ph.D. in political science or a related field is required. (ABD is acceptable if degree is conferred prior to the start of the 25-26 academic year.) Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through the provision of student research assistants and the potential to apply for summer research funds. The successful passage of the third-year review earns a one-semester sabbatical at full pay in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, an unofficial graduate transcript, a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting, sample syllabi, a single sample of scholarly writing, three confidential letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to James J. Marquardt, Ph.D., Chair of the Department of Politics and International Relations at the following email address: latinamericasearch2024@lakeforest.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled but must be received by October 1, 2024, to be assured full consideration.

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago's North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,800 students from more than 40 states and from more than 100 countries. Lake Forest is one of the most diverse small colleges in the Midwest with approximately 40% of our student body comprised of domestic students of color and international students. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member's teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. The College also expects peer-reviewed publications and active participation in the College community. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14565

Occidental College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Theory to begin in August 2025. We seek a political theorist with a specialization in contemporary political thought. Areas of focus may include, but are not limited to, democratic theory, multiculturalism, comparative political theory, feminist theory, queer theory, critical race theory, non-Western theory, postcolonial theory, Indigenous theory, and environmental political thought. The department is especially interested in candidates whose work speaks to democratic, comparative, non-Western and/or Indigenous perspectives or environmental political thought. All candidates should be prepared to offer (i) courses in traditional political thought (ancient and modern); (ii) a survey class in contemporary political thought that addresses challenges of and to democracy, and (iii) courses in their specialization.

Strong candidates will be thoughtful in their pedagogical approaches, will seek to continually improve their teaching, and will possess a record of, or potential for, teaching excellence. Strong candidates will design and teach a wide variety of courses attractive to undergraduate liberal arts students and we welcome applications from candidates interested in contributing to the College's First Year Program as well as those whose courses might be cross listed with other humanities and social sciences departments. Successful candidates will possess a record of, or potential for, strong scholarship in the discipline of political science. Finally, strong candidates will contribute to and participate in the life of the college, through service, advising, mentoring students, and other activities.

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. in political science – Applicants may be Ph.D. candidates in political science who expect to have their Ph.D. in hand by August 1, 2025.
- A specialization in contemporary political thought.
- Demonstrated commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching.
- A strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment.
- Demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from minoritized and marginalized social groups.
- Ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service.
- Demonstrated commitment to the four cornerstones of the mission of the College: excellence, equity, community, and service

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience working collaboratively with local community organizations

Application Submission Materials

Upload your application materials to Interfolio, <http://apply.interfolio.com/150794>

You must submit a complete application package electronically to be considered by the search committee. An application includes the following:

- Cover Letter in which you describe the education, experience, and/or skills you possess that are relevant to the position description, required and preferred qualifications
- Curriculum Vitae
- Research Statement (maximum 2-page single-spaced)
- Teaching Philosophy Statement (maximum 2-page single-spaced)
- Commitment to Inclusive Excellence Statement (maximum 2-page single-spaced)
- o This statement provides your unique perspective on your past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity in your professional career. This should include your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for students from marginalized and minoritized groups. You may also speak to how your research and/or service promotes justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity. The purpose of this statement is to help the department identify candidates who have professional experience, intellectual commitments, and/or willingness to engage in activities that could help the College contribute to its mission in these areas.

- List of three references with relevant contact information
  - o If you advance to the finalist phase, you will be asked to have each of your three references submit a letter of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit should you move forward to this phase of the search. Do not submit these letters with your initial application.

Please direct all questions about the position to: Regina Freer, Chair of Politics at rffreer@oxy.edu or call 323-259-2924.

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, your application materials must be received by September 6, 2024.

Upon receipt of a complete application package, you will receive a preliminary questionnaire. Please complete this questionnaire by September 9, 2024 to move forward in the search process.

The Department and College

The dynamic curriculum and exciting faculty research agendas in the Politics department focus on questions of democracy, social justice, power, rights, and liberties. We work closely with our students, preparing them to become thoughtful, well-informed, and engaged leaders in our increasingly complex, interdependent world, combining rigorous in-classroom work, research, and community-based experiential learning opportunities. The faculty are active scholars and contributors to the local, state, national, and international communities.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14572

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00006

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral associates are expected to participate regularly in the scholarly and academic activities of the program.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. Start date is around September 1, 2025.

Appointments are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year, starting September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34843>.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4. A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5. Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Eligible candidate must have less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14514

Tulane University

Rank: Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Comparative Politics of Autocracies

Position description: We seek to hire an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in the Comparative Politics of Autocracies to complement our existing strength in Comparative Politics; the position is open with regard to regional focus and specialization. We aim to foster methodological pluralism. Prospective candidates may work on a single country or conduct comparisons across multiple cases. The teaching load is 2-2. The prospective candidate will contribute to the Political Science program at the undergraduate and graduate curricular levels. The expected start date for this position is July 1, 2025. For further questions about the position, contact Prof. Eduardo Silva, gesilva@tulane.edu

Qualifications: PhD in Political Science preferred. Although ABD candidates will be considered, a terminal degree is required by the time the Assistant Professor appointment begins.

Application instructions: Please send in a cover letter, a CV, a statement of research, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by September 2, 2024. All materials should be uploaded directly in Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/150920>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/2/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14570

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics/China and East Asia

The Department of Political Science at Boston College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor rank in Comparative Politics/China and East Asia. The position is open in regard to research focus and methods. Preference will be given to candidates with demonstrated teaching excellence and broad knowledge of Chinese domestic politics. The appointment begins Fall 2025.

We expect applicants to complete the PhD no later than the summer of 2025.

A completed application should include: a letter of interest, stating research and teaching interests; curriculum vitae; three confidential letters of recommendation; a writing sample; teaching evaluations; and graduate transcript to apply.interfolio.com/151086. The three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by individual letter writers. We will not accept any applications by email nor by U.S.P.S.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 7/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14567

Morehouse College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Africa, Developing Nations, International Political Economy

The Division of Humanities, Social Sciences, Media & Arts (HSSMA) at Morehouse College invites applications for a full-time, assistant professor in the Political Science Department. Candidates should specialize in comparative politics with a regional focus on Africa. The successful applicant will be able to teach courses in comparative politics, African politics, and the politics of development and underdevelopment. An ability to teach courses in international relations is preferred but not required. The candidate is also expected to maintain an appropriate level of scholarly activity/ research and service to the Department, the Division and the College.

We are looking for someone who thinks creatively about their teaching, engages in scholarship, and can be committed to the mission of Morehouse College—to develop men with disciplined minds who lead lives of leadership and service by emphasizing the intellectual and character development of its students and by assuming a special responsibility for teaching the history and culture of Black people.

The Political Science Department offers a broad range of courses, including majors in Urban Studies and International Studies. Applicants should have experience teaching political science concepts to a diverse group of students including non-majors. We are especially interested in candidates who can develop innovative first-year experience (FYE) courses for our general education program. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources.

Responsibilities include teaching courses (a 3-3 load), advising, and mentoring students; developing and maintaining a scholarly research and publication agenda; and service to the department and the College. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources. An official transcript will be required of the selected candidate.

The start date for the position is August 2025.

For further information about the position as well as application instructions, please visit: <https://morehouse.peopleadmin.com/postings/10491>

Members of the search committee will conduct a limited number of preliminary interviews at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Philadelphia. Candidates who wish to be considered for a brief interview at APSA should send a cover letter and CV to pscfacultysearch@morehouse.edu no later than August 23, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14562

Denison University

Rank: Open Rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Position Title: Open-rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Location: Denison University

Position Type: Tenure Track Faculty

Position URL: <https://apply.interfolio.com/150219>

Position Description:

The Department of Politics and Public Affairs (PPA) at Denison University invites applications for an open rank, tenure-track position in comparative politics, beginning Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching emphasizes constitutionalism, policy analysis, or how social movements interact with either, with a geographic focus on the politics of countries or regions beyond the United States or Western Europe. The successful candidate must have the demonstrated ability to teach introductory courses in comparative politics of democracies, as well as interest and ability to teach a rotating set of upper division courses in comparative politics broadly and in their areas of expertise.

The Politics and Public Affairs program provides our students an integrated view of politics emphasizing links between theory and practice. Our major is structured as a learning community where undergraduates pursue a track of interest that aligns with traditional subfields and have multiple opportunities to share their knowledge with peers. Our majors must complement classroom experiences with a department-approved off campus learning component. We seek a new colleague who shares our enthusiasm for this approach to teaching about politics and public affairs. As a department, we work hard to ensure our students hear and consider diverse perspectives and we welcome applicants who contribute to that diversity. In the fall of 2025, our faculty includes four full-time tenured or tenure track faculty and one long-term visiting faculty member. We graduate roughly 30 seniors each year.

All instructors are expected to regularly teach introductory classes (typically around 24 students) that serve PPA majors/minors as well as the general education requirements of the college's curriculum; successfully teaching introductory classes requires teachers who relish the challenge of tailoring instruction for both the skeptical and the interested student. All instructors regularly teach upper division classes (typically capped at 20 students) in their area of interest which are usually populated by PPA or related majors, as well as required PPA major courses such as sophomore and senior seminar. The teaching load is 5 courses per academic year (3/2). Denison is a fully residential campus and all classes are held in-person and on-campus.

Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness from college-level courses. We seek to hire a new colleague with broad training in the study of politics. The successful candidate is expected to have significant interest in and demonstrated ability to be effective at undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and in contributing to the integration of the theoretical with experiential elements of our major. Independent teaching experience (beyond TA) is preferred.

Successful candidates are expected to maintain an ongoing research agenda; thus, applicants should show promise of a strong publication record. The prospective teacher-scholar also will support the University's commitment to liberal arts education, be an effective advisor to a range of students, be an active participant in departmental and university governance, and develop a program of research leading to peer-reviewed publication.

Denison is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2,300 students from across the nation and around the world. The college is located in the village of Granville, 30 minutes from Columbus, Ohio, the state capital, which hosts a wide range of cultural and artistic opportunities. Granville offers an excellent public school system and easy access to outdoor activities. Denison is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty and is committed to providing a work and learning environment free from discrimination. A supportive environment for teacher-scholars who value both classroom and research excellence, Denison offers extensive support for its faculty, including start-up research funds, an annual professional development account, competitive professional development funding, and a one-semester research leave after a successful pre-tenure review. The college also offers opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, stipends for supervising summer-research students, and a range of workshops and mentoring programs to develop our strengths as teacher-scholars. Denison offers a competitive salary and a comprehensive benefits package, including tuition benefits to attend Denison or other affiliated colleges and a generous retirement contribution.

Qualifications:

Candidates are required to have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely-related field by start date.

Application Instructions:

To ensure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 7, 2024. Applications should include the following:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate level transcript [official or unofficial]
- Teaching Portfolio, which should include a 1) teaching statement that lays out the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and experience; the teaching statement should also describe how the candidate fosters an inclusive classroom where students with diverse perspectives and experiences can respectfully contribute and learn, 2) Evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations or other artifacts), 3) an introductory syllabus for comparative politics of democracies, and 4) an upper division syllabus that reflects your expertise.
- Research Statement that lays out the candidate's scholarly interests and plans
- A writing sample
- Contact information for three letters of reference

Job seekers who may need a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should contact the Office of Human Resources at (740) 587-6299 or by email at HR@denison.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14553

European University Institute

Rank: Chair in Political Science and Social Sciences
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Political Theory
Specializations: Western Europe, Normative Political Theory, Political Parties & Organizations

The European University Institute is looking for candidates with a distinguished record of scholarly publications and experience in postgraduate teaching and doctoral supervision, to fill a Chair in Political Science and Social Sciences. Candidates should have an interest in comparative research in political science, preferably with a focus on European societies and polities. The successful candidate will have a strong record of empirical research, an interest in theory and research methods and a commitment to excellence in postgraduate teaching. The chair will be open to candidates at different levels of seniority. Interested applicants should consult Open competitions for academic posts • European University Institute (eui.eu) for further particulars: <https://www.eui.eu/About/JobOpportunities/Open-competitions-for-academic-posts>

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/16/2024
Date Posted: 7/29/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14544

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

Princeton University's Initiatives for Contemporary European Affairs (ICEA) through Princeton School of Public and International and the Department of Politics hosts postdoctoral associate positions for twelve-month appointment anticipated to start September 2, 2025. ICEA welcomes applications from social scientists who specialize in comparative politics and whose research includes a focus on European politics.

Research associates will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of ICEA, the Department of Politics, and the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs. To fully participate in the daily intellectual life of the university, they will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity.

Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary and applicable Princeton University benefits in accordance with university guidelines, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance. PhD is required.

Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names of two (and not more than two) references. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this 2025-2026 postdoctoral research associate position must apply to <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/position/35261>.

The deadline for receipt of complete applications is November 4, 2024, at 11:59 p.m. EST. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by November 8, 2024 11:59 p.m. EST. Please complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/4/2024
Date Posted: 7/29/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14549

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar

Princeton University's Initiatives for Contemporary European Affairs (ICEA) hosts a Visiting Research Scholar Program for faculty members applying to spend their academic leave year with ICEA. ICEA welcomes applications from social scientists who specialize in comparative politics and whose research includes a focus on European politics. ICEA visiting scholar positions are restricted to employed scholars on leave who are expected to return to their positions.

Visiting scholars will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of ICEA, the Department of Politics, and the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs. To fully participate in the daily intellectual life of the university, they will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or to demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice.

Visiting scholars from academic institutions often receive up to one-half of their academic-year salaries from their home institutions for the appointment period. The amount that Princeton contributes to the scholar's salary is based on the financial support provided by their home institution. Selected candidates will be asked to indicate, or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm, what percentage of financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide during their visit, if any, and to submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – July 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary; they will also be asked to provide a statement of their home institution's leave policy. Successful candidates will receive applicable benefits, travel to and from Princeton, and a research allowance.

Verification of employment will be requested prior to approval by the Office of the Dean of the Faculty. PhD or equivalent doctoral degree required. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this Visiting Research Scholar position for 2025-2026 should apply to <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35262>. The deadline for receipt of complete applications is November 4, 2024, at 11:59 p.m. EST.

The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 11/4/2024
Date Posted: 7/29/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14550

Tel Aviv University

Rank: Tenure-track Appointment in The School of Political Science, Government and International Affairs,

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The School of Political Science, Government, and International Affairs at Tel Aviv University invites applications for two open rank tenure-track positions. Preference will be given to researchers specializing in international relations or comparative politics, as well as scholars studying the interaction between politics and technology. The term of appointment will begin on October 1, 2025.

Successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence and endorsements from referees of high standing. The successful candidate is expected to pursue an innovative research program. Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Hebrew is the primary language of instruction at Tel Aviv University, and candidates must be able to teach courses in Hebrew within three years of their appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and brief research and teaching statements (no more than two pages for each statement). Interested individuals must submit their application materials using the submission portal (link below). Additionally, applicants should ask for three letters of recommendation (on letterhead, signed) that should be sent directly by the letter writers to the search committee via e-mail to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il by October 10, 2024.

The committee will begin reading applications on October 10, 2024, but may consider files received after this date. The school reserves the right to make (or not make) an appointment according to its exclusive consideration.

Submission portal link:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdsqhyrJ-DMjorvsIXEYKET9HMUW1Q7bJyiPm7\_Je\_WKIUHg/viewform

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/10/2024

Date Posted: 7/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14525

Hamilton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (African Politics)

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a tenure-track position in African politics to begin in Summer 2025. The department seeks a specialist in sub-Saharan African politics, but within this specialty, we are open to all substantive areas of expertise in either comparative politics or international relations.

The teaching load for this position is four courses during the first year and five courses thereafter, including an introductory course in either comparative politics or international relations and upper-level courses in the candidate's specialty. The expected salary range for this position is $89,800 to $96,000. The position requires institutional service, including academic advising of undergraduate students after the first year.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, evidence of teaching ability, and letters of reference via Interfolio at <http://> apply.interfolio.com/150100 . We seek candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address ways in which you raise issues of diversity, equity, inclusion, and/or belonging in your teaching, scholarship, and/or service. Preference will be given to candidates who have the PhD in hand at the start of the position, but ABD candidates will also be considered.

Our review of applications will begin on 15 September 2024. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Prof. Sharon Rivera, African Politics Search Committee Chair, at srivera@hamilton.edu.

**To schedule an informational interview at APSA 2024, please email Erica De Bruin (edebruin@hamilton.edu) and Heather Sullivan (hasuliv@hamilton.edu).

Hamilton College is a residential liberal arts college located in central New York. The College has built its reputation on the teaching excellence and leading scholarship of its faculty, and on the academic distinction and intellectual curiosity of its approximately 2000 students who take advantage of Hamilton's open curriculum (<https://www.hamilton.edu/academics/open-curriculum>). Accomplished faculty, highly capable and motivated students, and a student-faculty ratio of 9:1 provide an educational experience that emphasizes academic excellence, intellectual and cultural diversity, and respect for differences in the development of students as human beings. Hamilton's commitment to diversity is embodied in its need-blind admission policy and meeting the full demonstrated financial need of every accepted student for their entire undergraduate program. Please visit the college website for more information (www.hamilton.edu).

Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer that is committed to building an inclusive and diverse learning community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and excel. We encourage candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education to apply. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at <https://www.hercjobs.org/regions/higher-ed-careers-upstate-new-york/>, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/dof/faculty-development/resources-for-prospective-or-new-faculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/24/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14529

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Computational Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Research Methods

The Department of Political Science at Stony Brook University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Computational Political Science. This position would begin in Fall 2025. The department is interested in applicants with expertise in applying big data methods, computational methods, or advanced statistical methods to problems in political science. Successful candidates will have a strong record of demonstrated research excellence. Additional duties include fostering inclusive teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels, conducting a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the departmental, college, and university levels.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. (or foreign equivalent) in Political Science or a closely related field in hand by August 31, 2025. Research work applying big data methods, computational methods, or advanced statistical methods to problems in political science.

Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrated record of the following, as evidenced by the applicant's CV and supporting materials:

- record of producing high-quality research
- strong research background and training
- strong publication record
- research interests in political behavior, American politics, or comparative politics
- experience teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate level

Application Instructions

Apply through Interfolio at the job posting here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147877>

Please upload:

Cover letter

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Samples of written work
3. Teaching statement
4. Research statement
5. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) statement
6. Three reference contacts able to provide letters of reference upon request

For full consideration please submit your materials by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on Monday, September 16, 2024.

All application materials must be submitted online. Please use the Apply Now button to begin your application. For technical support, please visit Interfolio's Support Site (<https://support.interfolio.com/>) or reach out to their Scholar Service Team at help@interfolio.com or (877) 997-8807.

For questions regarding this position, please contact the search chair, Professor Michael Peress at Michael.Peress@stonybrook.edu.

Special Notes: This is a tenure track position. FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA.

About the Department:

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in research and scholarship, graduate student training, undergraduate teaching and learning, public outreach, and the promotion of responsible citizenship. It contributes to the generation of knowledge about politics and aims to deepen scholarly and public understanding of political institutions and the citizenry. The department seeks to prepare students for successful careers in government, academics, and the private sector. The Department provides training for PhD and MA students in cutting-edge approaches to the empirical study of political science to produce graduates with outstanding research, teaching, and professional skills. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/polsci/>

About the College:

As part of a great research university, the College of Arts and Sciences at Stony Brook University focuses on scholarly creativity, connecting our disciplines of fine arts; humanities; social, behavioral and natural sciences; and mathematics with medicine, technology, culture, education, business and environment. As the largest College for the campus, we help students and faculty begin a lifetime of learning and discovery by exploring new ideas that drive innovation and inspiration across all sectors of society. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/cas/>

Campus Description:

Stony Brook University, one of two flagships within the State University of New York (SUNY) system, is one of America's most dynamic public universities, a center of academic excellence, and an internationally recognized research institution that is changing the world. After more than 60 years of existence, it is ranked among the top 100 universities in the nation and the top 25 public universities in the nation. It is a member of the prestigious invitation-only Association of American Universities, composed of the top 66 leading research institutions in North America. As Long Island's largest single-site employer, Stony Brook has nearly 15,000 full- and part-time employees, including 2,800 faculty and nearly 27,000 students — including almost 18,000 undergraduates — and offers more than 200 majors, minors and combined-degree programs. Located approximately 60 miles east of Manhattan on Long Island's beautiful North Shore, Stony Brook is situated on 1,454 wooded acres, encompassing 13 schools and colleges; a Research and Development Park; world-class athletics facilities, including an 8,300-seat stadium and a 4,000-seat arena; and Stony Brook Medicine, Long Island's premier academic medical center. Also part of the University is a teaching and research campus in Southampton, New York, which offers graduate arts programs and is the site of the Marine Sciences Center. In addition, Stony Brook has a role in running, and performs joint research with, Brookhaven National Laboratory, the only Department of Energy Laboratory in the Northeast. Home to the Emerson String Quartet, the Pollock-Krasner House in East Hampton, NY, and the Humanities Institute, with endeavors that extend to the Turkana Basin Institute in Kenya and the Ranomafana National Park in Madagascar, Stony Brook sustains an international reputation that cuts across the arts, humanities, social sciences and natural sciences.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14519

University of Southern California

Rank: Full-Time, Teaching or Practice Track Faculty

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.

- An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications has begun. We will continue to consider new applications until August 1, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies
Department of Political Science and International Relations
Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352
University of Southern California
Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044
morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14523

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2025. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and very strong quantitative research skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the study of democratic representation, mass political behavior, elite behavior and/or political institutions. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2025.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We especially encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQIA+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150044>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14511

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant, associate, Full Professor, Korea Foundation Endowed Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Missouri, Columbia is seeking a Korea Foundation Endowed Professor. The position is an open rank tenured/tenure track position focused on Korean politics to begin in the Fall Semester of 2025. This is a 9-month teaching and research appointment. The typical teaching load will be two (2) courses per semester. Additional expectations include active engagement with the University of Missouri Institute for Korean Studies.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:

Competitive applicants will have a clear research agenda, strong theoretical orientation, excellent methodological skills, ability to publish in highly ranked journals and academic presses, and potential for effective teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Applicants from scholars whose research has an emphasis on Korea from all subfields of political science and related fields are encouraged to apply including comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and public administration. However, the ideal candidate will contribute to the TSGPA's teaching and research interests in comparative politics.

Application Materials

Please apply online at: <https://hr.missouri.edu/job-openings> (Job Opening ID 52446). Use the online application and be prepared to upload your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and writing samples. Please also provide evidence of effective teaching, as well as a teaching statement that describes your pedagogical goals/practices including information about your ability to teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students from a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should provide three letters of recommendations to the Truman School Director's Office (mutsgpadirector@missouri.edu). Candidates at the associate or full professor level should provide three names and contact information of references. Written references will be required prior to an on-campus interview. The cover letter should address the following: current and future research, teaching interests including how the applicant ensures the classroom is inclusive of multiple perspectives and of students from different backgrounds, as well as, how the applicant envisions engaging in research focused on Korea, and with universities there. This information can also be provided in separate teaching and research statements.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee Dr. Laron Williams (williamslaro@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science, and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu>.

Benefit Eligibility This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eco>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14512

Middlebury College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics with a regional focus on the politics of Russia and Eastern Europe. The position begins in September 2025. We seek broadly trained candidates prepared to teach the introductory course in comparative politics as well as a variety of upper-level courses on Russia and Eastern Europe. Appointment will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarly potential. Tenure-track faculty at Middlebury teach a 2/2 load with an additional class in winter term every other year. They are also required to contribute to the College in the form of service including, but not limited to, serving on elected committees and as Chair or Director of the department or program at the appropriate time in their career.

Middlebury College is a top-tier liberal arts college with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in faculty teaching and research. It is also committed to fostering a truly inclusive, open, and supportive learning, teaching, and working environment. The College hires faculty from around the world with a myriad of life experiences, cultures, frames of reference, social identities, and learning perspectives?to help cultivate and advance innovation in our curriculum and to provide a rich and varied educational experience to our talented and distinguished student body. To that end, as an equal opportunity employer, Middlebury College seeks applications from people who would contribute to our increasingly diverse educational community not only through their backgrounds and interests, but in age, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, ethnicity, national origin, religion, and physical ability.

Middlebury College uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Email and paper applications will not be accepted.

At Middlebury, we strive to make our campus a respectful, engaged community that embraces difference, with all the complexity and individuality each person brings. Thus, with your application materials please provide a separate, one-page statement on inclusion that addresses how your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and/or community service demonstrate a commitment to and/or evidence of engaging with issues of diversity and inclusion. Through Interfolio submit: a letter of application addressed to the search committee chair, Professor Erik Bleich; a curriculum vitae; undergraduate and graduate transcripts; a statement of teaching and research plans; a sample of scholarly production; and three current letters of recommendation, at least two of which must speak to teaching ability/promise. More information is available at <http://apply.interfolio.com/149901> and <https://www.middlebury.edu/academics/ps>. Review of applications begins September 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Offers of employment are contingent on completion of a background check. Information on our background check policy can be found here: <http://go.middlebury.edu/backgroundchecks>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14503

Clemson University

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor or Professor in domestic, comparative, or international public policy; policymaking processes; or public administration, to begin in August 2025. We welcome applicants from all subfields in political science, especially those that have an interest in the development and promotion of our Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Ph.D. Policy Studies programs, as well as mentoring graduate students. This is a nine-month faculty position, and qualified candidates will be considered for tenure on arrival. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or in a related field.

The successful candidate also will be expected to pursue an active research agenda resulting in a strong record of peer-reviewed publications. We especially encourage applications from candidates with a history of external research funding or definite plans to apply for grants. The position's teaching responsibilities will include offering courses in public policy, public administration, or in related areas within the Department's Ph.D., MPA, and undergraduate programs. The expected teaching load is two courses per semester.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, along with its master's degree in public administration and Ph.D. in policy studies. The Department has 26 full-time faculty and 3 full-time staff. Clemson University is a land-grant institution located in western South Carolina in the Greenville metropolitan area. Its strategic plan—Clemson Elevate—articulates three dynamic goals: delivering the #1 student experience in the nation, doubling research productivity by 2035, and transforming lives statewide and beyond. These overlapping priorities are intended to continue Clemson's development as a leading public research university, sustain its Carnegie R1 status, and position itself for membership in the Association of American Universities (AAU).

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, candidates should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) contact information for three references who will provide confidential letters of recommendation, (4) a research statement, (5) a statement on teaching and student mentoring (including evidence of teaching effectiveness); and (6) sample syllabi for undergraduate and/or graduate courses. Apply at - Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/149108>).

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Adam Warber (awarber@clemson.edu), Search Committee Chair, or to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemson.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14468

Texas Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

Application Deadline:

Review of applications will begin September 16. Open until filled.

Position Details:

This full-time faculty position is on-campus and in-person.

The Department of Political Science at Texas Christian University invites applications for a tenure track, assistant professor of comparative politics with a regional specialization in Latin America or Sub-Saharan Africa. The normal teaching load for this position is 3-2. The successful candidate will show evidence of teaching excellence and will have an active research agenda supported by published research or the strong promise of such publication. We prefer applicants who will have completed their Ph.D. in political science by the appointment date.

Required Application Materials & Application Instructions:

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, unofficial transcript, research statement, teaching statement (addressing teaching philosophy and potential course offerings), diversity statement, writing sample, and a sample syllabus of an upper-level course offering. Full review of applications begins on September 16 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair, Eric Cox, at e.cox@tcu.edu.

Department Details:

The TCU political science department has 17 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in two undergraduate degrees. TCU political science faculty run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies, Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies, Asian Studies, and Middle East Studies.

School/College Description:

Named for TCU's founders, Addison and Randolph Clark, the AddRan College of Liberal Arts is home to the core academic disciplines of the humanities and social sciences. The College includes approximately 155 full-time faculty members, 13 departments (Comparative Race & Ethnic Studies, Criminology & Criminal Justice, Economics, English, Geography, History, Modern Language Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, Religion, Sociology & Anthropology, Spanish and Hispanic Studies, and Women & Gender Studies), and two units of Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Army and Air Force). AddRan College departments confer 17 Bachelor of Arts and 7 Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of General Studies, an online master's degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice, a Master of Liberal Arts degree, and master's and Ph.D. degrees in History, English, and Rhetoric and Composition.

University & Fort Worth Description:

ABOUT TCU

Founded in 1873, Texas Christian University sits on 302 acres nestled in a primarily residential part of Fort Worth, just minutes away from downtown. The University includes seven schools and colleges, in addition to the John V. Roach Honors College and the Burnett School of Medicine.

Currently, TCU enrolls more than 10,200 undergraduates and 1,700 graduate students. Twenty-eight percent of students self-identify as a member of a minority group, five percent are international students, and forty-five percent are from out-of-state. Our students are supported by more than 2,200 faculty and staff. The University has more than 700 full-time faculty members and is a top 100 National University as classified by US News and World Report and has a Carnegie Classification of R2: Doctoral Universities – High Research Activity.

At TCU, diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) are an educational imperative directly tied to the University mission, vision, and strategic plan. Fulfilling TCU's mission to develop ethical leaders and critical thinkers in a global community depends on the University's ability to attract and retain students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. A diverse and inclusive campus leads to innovation, broadened perspective, and understanding—values that are foundational aspects of higher education. For the fourth consecutive year, TCU has earned the Higher Education Excellence in Diversity Award, which highlights ongoing commitment to build a comprehensive DEI strategy that aligns with core values and creates a campus culture where everyone is respected and included.

ABOUT FORT WORTH

Like TCU, Fort Worth has the approachable, friendly charm of a smaller town, but offers the amenities, cultural activities, diversity and unique personality of a much larger city. Fort Worth, Texas, is the 13th largest city in the United States with an ever-growing population nearing 1 million. Fort Worth and TCU have grown together in a nearly 150-year relationship. You'll find that many Horned Frogs remain here after graduation, thanks to the region's thriving job market. Fort Worth is part of the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area, the fourth largest metropolitan area in the United States, and the number 1 tourist destination in Texas. In 2018, bizjournals.com ranked Fort Worth the 7th most affordable city to live and work in the United States and U.S. News and World Report named Fort Worth one of the Best Places to Live. Fort Worth, Dallas and Arlington all rank among the top 25 most diverse cities in the country.

Fort Worth is known for its vast array of cultural, educational and entertainment opportunities. The city boasts three world class art museums—the Kimbell Art Museum, the Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth and the Amon Carter Museum of American Art. The Bass Performance Hall is one of the premier performance venues in the country. Concerts, film festivals and other events are held regularly at Sundance Square, Panther Island and Near Southside venues.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14465

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invites applications for postdoctoral research associates from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by July 1, 2025, for the 2025-2026 academic year. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies are of relevance. Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. NCGG invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and related activities for the duration of the fellowship (July 1, 2025- July 1, 2026). Appointments are for one year.

Application Deadline - Applicants should apply by Tuesday, October 1, 2024 (11:59 pm EST) for full consideration; however, posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process - All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35041>.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by July 1, 2025, in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

*Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;

*Current curriculum vitae, including publications;

*2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;

*One writing sample (limit of 50 pages);

*Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Saturday, October 5, 2024. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted on time.

Salary - Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund. This is a one-year appointment.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in December 2024. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14462

Trinity College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Trinity College, Hartford, invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative politics at the assistant professor level, starting Fall 2025. We especially welcome candidates with research expertise in the following countries and geographic regions: Europe, Russia and Eurasia, China, or Southeast Asia. Candidates should also have the ability and interest to teach an introductory research methodology course.

Evidence of scholarly promise is required. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is desired, if available. The teaching load is 2/2 for the first two years (and 3/2 thereafter), with a one-semester leave every fourth year. A Ph.D. in political science should be completed by August 2025.

To ensure full consideration, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, statement of teaching interests (including your potential to teach and supervise diverse undergraduates), a scholarly writing sample, graduate transcript, course syllabi (including a syllabus for an introductory research methodology course) and evaluations (if available), and three letters of reference to <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com> and <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com> by September 30, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14458

George Washington University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Elizabeth J. Somers Women's Leadership Program (WLP) at the George Washington University in Washington, D.C. invites applications for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science position to fill a 1-year vacancy beginning August 12, 2024. WLP is a selective, living-learning program for first year students to build leadership skills within the context of their discipline and as part of a supportive community. Students enroll in one of 4 WLP cohorts: Globalization, Economics, & Business; International Arts & Culture; Science, Health, & Medicine; or International Politics. Students take foundational courses in their field of study in small classes with their cohort faculty members both fall and spring, as well as a year-long, experiential leadership symposium course.

The selected candidate will serve as the primary faculty and Program Coordinator for the International Politics cohort of approximately 20 students in the WLP. They will teach small classes of first-year students for WLP and the University Honors Program. The selected candidate will report to the Associate Provost for Undergraduate Affairs and Special Programs. They will work with the WLP Director and colleagues to integrate co-curricular offerings and activities to enhance the academic experiences of all WLP students. The Program Coordinator serves as instructor, academic mentor, and advisor to students in the International Politics cohort, teaching Introduction to International Politics and Introduction to Comparative Politics, and helping students navigate their college experience from the first year and beyond. They will also participate in WLP orientation, information sessions for prospective students, and other campus events.

Diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) are core principles of the WLP, and we are committed to building and sustaining a community that is supportive and inclusive of all individuals. Strong candidates will have experience and vision regarding teaching and mentorship of students of multiple and diverse backgrounds with attention to structural barriers that limit access to educational opportunities. The university has a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff, and we are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of historically marginalized groups. Learn more about our commitment via the GW Statement on Diversity and Inclusion.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants must have excellent teaching skills as demonstrated by student evaluations, a strong desire to teach and mentor students at the undergraduate level, and a demonstrated commitment to equity and inclusion in the classroom. For appointment at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor, they must hold a doctorate in political science or related field by date of appointment. ABD applicants will be considered for appointment at the rank of Visiting Instructor if they have not completed all requirements for the doctorate by date of appointment.

Specific Duties and Responsibilities: The effort breakdown for the position is 70% teaching, 15% administration/service, and 15% scholarship. The teaching component includes four undergraduate courses during the course of the year and co-teaching a year-long, one-credit leadership symposium. Two courses and the symposium are taught to first-year students in the Women's Leadership Program. The remaining two courses are taught to students in the University Honors Program. Administrative work is related to the Program Coordinator role, and includes planning co-curricular events and symposium structure. Service obligations may be met by serving on a departmental or university-level committee, engaging with prospective students, and attending major campus events. Scholarship for this role is broadly defined and may include activities such as presenting at conferences, creating and disseminating curriculum materials, or publishing political science research.

Application Procedure: To apply please send an application to wlp@gwu.edu. Applicants should submit a cover letter that includes a statement of interest in the Women's Leadership Program and discusses contributions to DEI initiatives in their teaching, mentorship, and/or professional engagement.

Applicants should also submit curriculum vitae; evidence of effective teaching through student evaluations; statement of past and/or potential contributions to DEI; and names of three references.

Advertised Salary: Salary is commensurate with experience

The George Washington University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

A direct link to the GW jobs portal can be found here: <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/112299>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/29/2024

Date Posted: 6/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14450

South Dakota State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Assistant Professor of Political Science
School of American & Global Studies
South Dakota State University

The School of American & Global Studies (AGS) at South Dakota State University (SDSU) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The School of AGS seeks a dynamic scholar whose field areas include public administration or public policy. Located on our main campus in Brookings, South Dakota, this position is nine months, full time, benefits eligible, and tenure track, with the possibility of supplemental summer salary. The position is supervised by the Director of the School of American & Global Studies. We anticipate a start date of August 22, 2025.

The School of American & Global Studies is a vibrant, interdisciplinary unit, offering B.A./B.S. degrees in American Indian & Indigenous Studies, Global Studies, History, Modern Languages (French, German, Lakota, Spanish), and Political Science as well as standalone minors in Legal Studies, Philosophy, and Religion. Over 300 students major in AGS programs, with another 400 from programs across campus who pursue AGS minors. The school's current composition of 21 tenured and tenure-track faculty and 6 non-tenure track faculty value interdisciplinary and interprofessional collaboration across its research, teaching, and outreach efforts. In alignment with the university's land-grant mission, the schoolhouses four public-facing research and outreach centers: The Ethics Lab, The PHI | Public Humanities Institute, the South Dakota Polling Project, and the recently launched Mike Huether Public Service Academy.

South Dakota State University promotes access to and opportunities for all to receive the benefit of and participate in education, research, and service and is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to this land-grant mission of access.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

The successful candidate will teach three classes per semester in consultation with the director based on student needs and school/program strategic priorities. This faculty member will mentor students in the Political Science program and the Huether Public Service Academy and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School. The new member of the SDSU faculty will conduct scholarly research consistent with their field. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom instructors with an active research agenda.

SALARY RANGE:

The salary is commensurate with qualifications. We offer a generous retirement plan that includes 6% matching, 9.34 hours of sick leave each month, and eleven paid holidays. Relocation benefits are available per university's guidelines.

BENEFITS:

We offer a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusions and access. The university is part of a dynamic community for families, students, young professionals, and retirees, which offers an abundance of attractions and activities. South Dakota State University offers a wide range of excellent benefits including medical, dental, and flexible benefits, retirement plans, compensation packages, paid holidays, and leave. Employees also have access to internal and state-sponsored training as well as reduced tuition for state-supported courses at all State of South Dakota academic institutions.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- Hold a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Public Policy, Political Science or closely related field by start date.
- Ability to teach public policy (open specialization) and/or public administration courses as well as state and local government.
- Ability or potential to develop and teach undergraduate elective courses in the candidate's area of specialization.
- Ability or potential to develop and sustain an active research agenda.
- Ability to contribute to program and school initiatives through general service.
- Effective written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills.

THE UNIVERSITY:

South Dakota State University is the state's largest, most comprehensive university with more than 200 academic programs, an enrollment of approximately 12,000 students, and over $60 million annual research expenditures.

South Dakota State University offers a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusion and access through inspired, student-centered education, creative activities and research, innovation and engagement that improve the quality of life in South Dakota, the region, the nation, and the world. Its employees embrace the university's core values of being people-centered, expanding knowledge through creativity, embracing organizational and personal integrity, commitment to diversity of thought, and excellence through continuous improvement.

The College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences is the intellectual and cultural heart of SDSU. The college consists of seven interdisciplinary schools—American and Global Studies, Communication and Journalism, Design, English and Interdisciplinary Studies, the Ness School of Management and Economics, and Performing Arts—additionally, the college includes programs in military science (Army ROTC) and Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC). The college's unique administrative structure supports and encourages interdisciplinary collaboration among both faculty and students, allowing each unit and discipline to thrive. The college is committed to supporting the Land Grant Mission of SDSU. Our faculty regularly conduct research that directly benefits the people of South Dakota and our region with research that engages our communities, supporting their social, cultural, and economic development.

As the state's 1862 Morrill Act land grant institution, the work of the university is carried out on its main resident campus in Brookings, at sites in Sioux Falls, Pierre, Rapid City, and Aberdeen, and through SDSU Extension offices and Agricultural Experiment Station research sites across South Dakota.

Jackrabbits Athletics competes as an NCAA Division I member with membership in the Missouri Valley Football Conference, the Summit League, and the Big XII.

The university benefits from a robust investor and alumni network actively engaged in classrooms and student ventures. The recent SDSU Bold and Blue comprehensive campaign—the university's largest fundraising effort—raised over $600 million to support the university.

BROOKINGS, SOUTH DAKOTA:

Brookings is home to approximately 24,000 residents and is located 60 miles north of Sioux Falls and 200 miles west of Minneapolis. Brookings is listed as an ideal community for families, students, young professionals, and retirees, and is rated among the safest and most vibrant cities in South Dakota.

The Brookings Public School District educates approximately 3,300 K-12 students and ranks among the state's highest academic achieving school districts. The district includes three elementary schools, an intermediate school for fourth and fifth grade, one middle school, and a high school.

The city also boasts an abundance of attractions and activities, including the Children's Museum of South Dakota, the Dakota Nature Park, the South Dakota Art Museum, McCrory Gardens, the South Dakota Agricultural Heritage Museum, an outdoor adventure center, and the Brookings summer arts festival.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

Position is open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by September 20, 2024.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

SDSU accepts applications through an on-line employment site. To apply, visit: <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu>, search by the position title, view the job announcement, and click on "apply for this job." This system will guide you through the electronic application form. This employment site will also require the attachment of a cover letter, which should specifically address how the candidate meets the qualifications as outlined in the advertisement, teaching statement, CV, and a reference page with the contact information for three professional references. Email applications will not be accepted. Please contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128 if you require assistance with this process.

Any offer of employment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to, successful completion of a criminal background check.

South Dakota State University is a tobacco free environment. It is the policy of the University to maintain a drug-free environment and to thereby establish, promote, and maintain a safe and healthy working and learning environment for employees and students. This position is subject to South Dakota State University's Drug and Alcohol Testing Policy 4:14.

For questions on the position, contact search committee chair and Professor of Political Science David Wiltse at 605-688-6367 or David.Wiltse@sdstate.edu.

South Dakota State University promotes access to and opportunities for all to receive the benefit of and participate in education, research, and service and is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to this land-grant access mission. SDSU is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to, and SDSU prohibits discrimination on, the basis of, sex, race, color, creed, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran's status, or any other status that may become protected in the offering of all educational programs and employment. Arrangements for accommodations required by disabilities can be made by emailing HR@sdstate.edu. Individuals with concerns regarding discrimination should contact: Equal Opportunity Officer/Title IX Coordinator, Human Resources, Morrill Hall 100, SDSU, Brookings, SD 57007. Phone: (605) 688-4128.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 6/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14449

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Latin American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach a course in-person on Latin American Politics (one section only) for the Fall 2024 semester in a part-time, non-tenure track position as a teaching faculty member. The upper-level course is called PS 303 Latin American Politics.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14441

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Middle East Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach an upper-level, undergraduate course in-person on Middle East Politics (one section only) for the Spring 2025 semester. The instructor will teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity .

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University

Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14442

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry. The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system professor at the rank of Assistant Professor in the field of public law, broadly construed.

Candidates from all subfields and methodological approaches whose research and teaching contribute to the scientific study of law are strongly encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests would complement existing thematic areas and subfields within the department: Minority Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy, and/or American Politics. Substantive areas of interest include, but are not limited to, civil rights, civil liberties, comparative judicial institutions, comparative law, human rights, international law, judicial behavior, judicial elections, or the philosophy of law.

Candidates with a history of receiving external research funding, or those with mature plans to apply for funding, will be highly favored. The candidate would be expected to teach courses and mentor students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Required Degree

Doctorate by date of hire

Minimum Requirements

- Completed PhD by the date of hire.

- Research and teaching interests that contribute to the scientific study of law.
- Potential for high impact peer-reviewed publications.
- Potential for obtaining external funding.
- Potential for high-quality instruction and mentoring at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- Potential for working with students from diverse backgrounds and working to improving access to higher education for all students.

Desired Qualifications

- Research and teaching interests that connect with existing thematic areas and/or subfields within the Department of Political Science (see position summary).

Required Application Materials

Electronic submission is required, and materials should be uploaded at <http://careers.msu.edu> (posting number 950778). Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, a diversity and inclusion statement, and contact information for three references.

Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024. The search committee members are Ryan Black (search chair, rblack@msu.edu), Ana Bracic (bracic@msu.edu), and Cory Smidt (smidtc@msu.edu). Please contact any committee member with questions about this position.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14440

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Department of Political Science in Cambridge MA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor effective July 1st, 2025, or as soon thereafter as possible. Responsibilities include research, graduate and undergraduate teaching, and student research supervision. Applicants should have a PhD degree in Political Science or a related field by start of employment. MIT is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin. Applications should include a cover letter which addresses your research agenda and teaching interests. Also include a CV, writing sample(s), and three recommendations. Please submit online applications to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27778> <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27778&lt;/a>>. Completed applications must be submitted by September 15th, 2024.

Employment is contingent upon the completion of a satisfactory background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 6/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14422

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science and International Relations

Specializations: Environmental Policy, South Asia, Russia

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning in Fall 2025. Loyola Marymount University (LMU) faculty are helping to create the world we want to live in. We are seeking the next generation of mission-driven teacher-scholars. We seek a candidate who is excited to teach undergraduate students.

<https://academics.lmu.edu/joinourfaculty/>

Substantively, the department is interested in candidates with expertise in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are open to field but will prioritize areas that complement our department's curricular needs, including but not limited to:

Environment/climate change

Democracy and authoritarianism

Comparative public policy

South Asia, Russia, China

International organizations

Security

International Relations Theory

We are open to methodological approach and welcome qualitative, quantitative and mixed methods research.

The regular teaching load for this position includes teaching introductory courses (e.g. comparative politics, international relations) and upper-division courses. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3-course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department's mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Our department welcomes antiracist and inclusive pedagogies, and/or curricula.

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal (<http://jobs.lmu.edu>). Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU's Mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi as a single PDF.

A minimum of three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLS@lmu.edu.

Only online applications will be accepted.

Please direct questions to POLS@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 13, 2024, and will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search.

A PhD is required; ABD applicants who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2025 will be considered.

#HERC# #HEJ#

Faculty Regular

Reasonable expected salary: $87,000.00

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experience, and beliefs to apply. (Visit www.lmu.edu for more information.)

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/12/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14425

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Political Economy; Comparative Politics of Asia

Specializations: International Political Economy, Southeast Asia, East Asia

Job Description

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments, one in International Political Economy (IPE) and the other in Comparative Politics (CP). For the IPE position, individuals with research expertise in emerging technologies, such as AI, biotechnology, cyber, or environmental/climate change are especially encouraged to apply. For the CP position, we have a preference for those who work on East and Southeast Asia, especially the latter. Those with other substantive expertise are also welcome to apply.

Job Qualifications

The ideal candidate will have:

- a completed PhD by August 2025 in international relations, political science, or related disciplines;
- publications in top journals in the field and/or a strong pipeline of working papers;
- demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in IPE or CP; and

- a willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/&lt;/a>>;

The deadline for submitting the package is November 1, 2024.

The package should include:

1. A cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A research statement (1000 words max) that outlines your past, current and future research agenda
4. A teaching statement (1000 words max) detailing courses taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness
5. Up to two writing samples
6. Three references sent directly to <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/&lt;/a>>;

Members of the hiring committee will be attending the APSA Annual Conference in Philadelphia (September 5-8) and will be available for an informational session. If you are interested in attending the APSA informational session, please send us your CV by August 15, 2024. Only shortlisted candidates will be invited to attend the informational session. Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/&lt;/a>>;

Additional Information

About the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year; two for first contract assistant professors) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14399

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get\_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor (Presidential Young Professor (PYP) )

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for the tenure-track position of Presidential Young Professor (PYP) at the rank of Assistant Professor, to commence in 2025. Applications are invited from all major subfields of political science including, but not limited to, comparative politics, international relations, and public policy. We are especially interested in candidates with an Asia-focused research programme.

The NUS Presidential Young Professorship and NUS Presidential Fellowship Awards aim to attract, support, and empower the brightest and most promising young academics in the early stage of their careers so that they can develop themselves into world-class scholars. As a young academic at NUS, you will have the opportunity to work alongside a diverse and dynamic community of scholars and students, to pursue excellence and innovation with a positive societal impact. Successful PYP candidates are awarded a start-up grant package of either SGD 250,000 or SGD 750,000, depending on the demands of their research program. Successful PYP candidates are also granted an award of an additional SGD 250,000 for discretionary spending.

The NUS Department of Political Science is one of the leading global programs, with a vibrant research culture and located in a cosmopolitan hub. It is one of 15 departments within the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. Southeast and East Asia are geographical areas of departmental strength, but our 20+ faculty members have research interests which range across the subfields of political theory, international relations, comparative politics, and governance and public policy. In addition, the world-renowned Asia Research Institute (ARI) at NUS engages political scientists as part of its interdisciplinary community, as do our many area studies departments. Our department is committed to promoting equity, diversity, and inclusion as integral values in our strategic development. We also offer a competitive remuneration package, including housing and relocation benefits for eligible overseas candidates. The typical teaching load is 2:1 (one or two courses per semester, totaling three per academic year).

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25147/>. Application dossiers should include:

- ? A brief cover letter explaining why the position at NUS is of interest and discusses the ambition of your research program
- ? A comprehensive CV with a complete list of publications, awards, grants, and courses taught
- ? A research statement with a three year research plan
- ? Two signature publications with the applicant as the lead author
- ? Letters from at least three referees. If the applicant is two or more years post-PhD, the referees should not be limited to supervisors. The referees should compare the research performance of the applicant to specific individuals at equivalent and top institutions and/or programs. Please send all referee letters directly to pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Review of applications will begin on 29 July 2024 and continue until an appointment is made. We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified. If there are any questions, please email the search committee at pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/4/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14396

Fordham University

Rank: Tenure-Track: Comparative Politics/Middle East (Fordham University)

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning Fall 2025. The primary location for this position is at Fordham College-Lincoln Center campus in Manhattan but service may be at any campus of the University.

The area of specialization for this position is comparative politics with a regional focus on the Middle East/North Africa. Within these regional contexts, we are seeking innovative scholars with significant expertise in areas that could include but are not limited to populism, social movements, institutions, political behavior, crime and corruption, political identities, ethnic and racial politics, intersectional approaches to power and marginalization, the effects of climate change, the politics of crisis, and socio-economic inequality. Scholars who are able to contribute to the University's interdisciplinary programs such as, but not limited to: Middle East Studies, Islamic Studies, International Studies, Urban Studies, Humanitarian Studies, Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, or Peace and Justice Studies are of particular interest. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with political and social institutions in New York City and contribute to the University and the department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with our Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that diversity is central to the excellence of our academic program, and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students of different races and ethnicities, from a range of socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on September 10, 2024. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor José Alemán, Committee Chair, via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/147081>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience; curriculum vitae; writing sample; three letters of reference; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Statement. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience and may include past course syllabi, peer observations, and/or student evaluations. The Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Statement should address how the candidate's teaching, mentoring, scholarship, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/10/2024
Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14392

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics and Political Economy

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Yale University and the Jackson School of Global Affairs are seeking to jointly hire several faculty members at the rank of Associate or Full Professor with tenure with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Comparative Political Economy, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2024. Faculty are expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and a CV. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/131556>. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2023 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 9/21/2024

Date Posted: 9/21/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12585

Catholic University of America

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Political Theory

Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a clinical (non-tenure track, two-year renewable contract) faculty appointment, to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should have expertise in public policy (American and/or comparative, as well as familiarity with the principles of Catholic social teaching). The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, ethical and institutional perspectives. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to teach both undergraduates and graduates, including students in a new MA in Public Policy program currently under development.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.”

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University’s mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12475

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a regional specialization in Latin America beginning July 1, 2025. A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

This is a tenure-track appointment with a teaching load of 5 courses per year. The school calendar consists of two 13-week terms (fall and winter) and our unique 4-week spring term. The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department’s introductory course in Global Politics, 2 sections of applied statistics, and upper-level courses related to the candidate’s field of expertise.

This position requires a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment; as such, evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. We also welcome interdisciplinary contributions to the curriculum. Opportunities will be available to teach in interdisciplinary programs at the University—including Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Africana Studies, Poverty and Human Capability Studies, and Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies—as well as the DeLaney Center for the Study of Southern Race Relations, Culture, and Politics.

Faculty are also expected to have an active research program. To support faculty research agendas, the university has a summer research grant program, a generous 5-year sabbatical cycle, as well as a pre-tenure research leave program.

Washington and Lee is a top-ranked, highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,860 undergraduates and 380 law students.

Submit all application materials electronically using Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153177>.

Your letter of application should explain why you wish to teach in a liberal arts setting and how your training and research/teaching interests align with this position. Include a curriculum vitae, graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation that speak to your teaching and research abilities.

Full consideration will be given to all applications that are complete by September 30.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14755

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development’s Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2025 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center’s Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. Postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center’s Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from women and minority PhD recipients, and from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose backgrounds and experience would contribute to the diversity (broadly defined) of the program.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses.

For full consideration, candidates should submit all materials by December 1, 2024. For more details and the application, please visit: <https://kingcenter.stanford.edu/opportunities/prospective-postdoctoral-fellows>.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 9/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14773

University of Western Ontario
Rank: International Relations (tenure-track)

Political Science – International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor (Tenure-Track)

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for highly qualified applicants for a probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of International Relations, broadly defined, with a starting date of July 1, 2025.

We seek individuals who conduct rigorous empirical research in International Relations. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service and help advance Western's Strategic Plan: <https://strategicplan.uwo.ca/>. They will be able to deliver a range of courses in the undergraduate and graduate programs in Political Science and the Honours Specialization in International Relations. They will also maintain an active research program and compete successfully for external research funding. Candidates whose teaching and scholarship relates to any of the following areas are especially encouraged to apply – war and conflict, threats to democracy, global justice, international institutions, human rights, and/or inter-state relations - but all strong IR candidates will be given due consideration. As Western Political Science aims to be Canada's top destination for training in empirical research methods, the ability to teach empirical research methods, qualitative, quantitative, or mixed, will be considered an asset.

Candidates should have a PhD in Political Science or a related field by May 1, 2025 or soon thereafter. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Applications should include the following:

- 1) application form (<http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf>),
- 2) cover letter that addresses how the candidate fits the position and the department,
- 3) curriculum vitae,
- 4) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers, and
- 5) names and contact information of three academic referees.

This material should be sent to:

Chair, Department of Political Science Western University
 Room 7335, Social Science Centre London, Ontario, CANADA
 N6A 5C2
 EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Review of applications will commence on September 30, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For any questions about the position or application please contact: laura.stephenson@uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/30/2024
Date Posted: 9/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14708

USAF Air War College

Rank: Professor of Strategy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other
Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

Professor of Strategy in the Air War College's Department of Strategy
<https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806510700>

The Air War College Department of Strategy invites applications for the Professor of Strategy position beginning summer 2025. AWC is a resident master's degree program for senior military/civilian leaders from the U.S. and partner nations. The department receives excellent financial support for research, conference attendance, and professional development. The initial appointment may be up for 3 years and is renewable. The position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track.

A master's degree in a relevant field is required; PhD is highly desired. The minimum starting salary is $102,000.

Duties

- Teaching: leading graduate-level seminars of 12-16 students at a 2/2 equivalent load
  - Teaching the Department of Strategy's core curriculum, including the interdisciplinary Foundations of Strategy course
  - Teaching electives in the applicant's areas of specialization and/or teaching the AWC's Regional Security Studies (RSS) course. RSS courses involve taking students to different parts of the world for roughly two weeks to study political, military, economic, and societal issues in that region.
  - Developing curriculum and advising student research
  - Facilitating experiential learning (war games, strategy exercises, etc.) throughout the academic year
- Research: engaging in professional research and writing in areas of expertise

- Seeking publication of book manuscripts, articles, monographs, and book reviews for publication in scholarly journals, professional journals, and other outlets
- Presenting results of research at conferences and symposia
- Service: serving in faculty positions supporting personnel and programs
- Participating with other academic and professional associations, professional military education schools, AF/DoD institutions, universities, and colleges for professional development
- Delivering lectures, conducting seminars, participating in panel discussions related to AWC curriculum
- Maintaining academic currency by consistently reviewing professional literature and participating in professional associations

Qualifications

A master's degree in a relevant field is required; PhD is highly desired. In addition:

- Teaching experience (preferably at the graduate level) commensurate with professorial rank sought and/or professional experience and a suitable publication record are required.
- US citizenship and the ability to qualify for a US security clearance is required.

To apply, see here: <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806510700>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14712

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor

Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations
The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC) in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position (assistant professor, associate professor or professor) in International Relations.

We seek candidates with a strong substantive research program in any domain of International Relations whose work advances theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. We have special needs in the field of conflict and security studies broadly understood. Candidates are expected to have strong methodological training. A strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate education is also expected.

The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will start September 23, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/open-rank-faculty-position-in-international-relations/1209/69386885440>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

The annual base salary range for this position is $100,510 - $281,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14777

Boston University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations, China Studies

The Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in China Studies, beginning on or before July 1, 2025. The search is open to applicants from all disciplines and functional specializations, but we are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching focus on Chinese domestic politics and/or international relations. Successful candidates would be expected to have demonstrated the potential for excellence in any discipline relevant to international affairs, and share a commitment to the Pardee School's institutional values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice.

The successful candidate will teach at least one required course on China, as well as courses in his/her/their area/s of functional expertise, and will also advise and mentor our undergraduate and graduate Masters degree students. Prior teaching experience and a record of publication and research will be considered a significant plus. The Pardee School of Global Studies is committed to multidisciplinary, empirically-grounded, and policy-relevant research and teaching and to nurturing the next generation of international relations practitioners, and it is expected that candidates will share this commitment. Candidates who have demonstrated policy experience in addition to scholarly qualifications are especially encouraged to apply.

Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration, and upholds freedom of expression. Boston University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, with a rich tradition of inclusion and social justice. We are proud of our record of inclusiveness, including being the first American university to award a PhD to a woman and the institution from which Martin Luther King, Jr. received his PhD. We are dedicated to increasing participation of all talented students and professionals, especially women and underrepresented minorities. We are an equal opportunity employer: all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act federal contractor.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last 7 years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign an authorization to release information after execution of an offer letter.

Please submit 1) a letter of application describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, 2) curriculum vitae, and 3) three letters of recommendation electronically at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28218>. Questions about the position or school may be directed to Ms. Elaine Bidianos at elaineb@bu.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning October 1, 2024, but applications will be accepted until the job is filled. The expected starting date for employment is July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14767

Boston University

Rank: Professor of International Relations and Director of the Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future

The Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University invites applications for Director of the Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future. The Director shall hold the rank of Professor, with tenure. The appointment is expected to begin July 1, 2025. The search is open to applicants from all disciplines and functional specializations. Successful candidates would be expected to have demonstrated the potential for excellence in any discipline relevant to international affairs, and share a commitment to the Pardee School's institutional values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice. The successful candidate must have a demonstrated record of interdisciplinary research that addresses globally important issues that affect the human condition presently, with increasing relevance over the next several decades. Scholars and practitioners whose work addresses the challenges of climate change and other forms of environmental degradation, artificial intelligence, cyber-security, the future of technologies, governance, or human security are especially encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in work that has policy relevance.

The Frederick S. Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future is an interdisciplinary research center of the Frederick S. Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University. The Pardee Center was established in 2000 through the generosity of the late Frederick S. Pardee, whose career as a systems analyst and an economic forecaster was imbued with a passion for analyzing trends for the future. Both the Pardee Center and the Pardee School are motivated by Mr. Pardee's lifelong dedication to the creation of a better future for all of humanity. The Center conducts interdisciplinary research on globally important issues that affect the human condition over the course of several decades. Through programs of scholarship, outreach, and education, the Pardee Center works to improve public decision-making and policy and to train future generations of interdisciplinary scholars.

The Center Director oversees the operations and activities of the Center, including research affiliates, research seminars, summer graduate fellows program, and supervises staff. The Director is expected to participate in fundraising activities for the School and the Pardee Center. In addition to leading the work of the Center, the successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in his/her/their area(s) of functional expertise, and will also advise and mentor our undergraduate and graduate students. A distinguished record of publication and research and the capacity for excellence in teaching are essential. The Pardee School of Global Studies is committed to multidisciplinary, policy-relevant research and teaching and to nurturing the next generation of international relations practitioners, and it is expected that candidates will share this commitment. Candidates who have demonstrated policy experience in addition to scholarly qualifications are encouraged to apply.

Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration, and upholds freedom of expression. Boston University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, with a rich tradition of inclusion and social justice. We are proud of our record of inclusiveness, including being the first American university to award a PhD to a woman and the institution from which Martin Luther King, Jr. received his PhD. We are dedicated to increasing participation of all talented students and professionals, especially women and underrepresented minorities. We are an equal opportunity employer: all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act federal contractor.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last 7 years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign an authorization to release information after execution of an offer letter.

Please submit 1) a letter of application describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, and 2) curriculum vitae electronically at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/25543>. Questions about the position or school may be directed to Ms. Elaine Bidianos at elaineb@bu.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning October 1, 2024, but applications will be accepted until the job is filled. The expected starting date for employment is July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14772

Boston University

Rank: Professor of International Relations, Latin America

The Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University invites applications for a tenured Professor in Latin American Studies, beginning on or before July 1, 2025. The search is open to applicants from all disciplines and functional specializations. Successful candidates would be expected to have demonstrated the potential for excellence in any discipline relevant to international affairs, and share a commitment to the Pardee School's institutional values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice.

The successful candidate will teach at least one required course on Latin America, as well as courses in his/her/their area/s of functional expertise, and will also advise and mentor our undergraduate and graduate Masters degree students. Demonstrated excellence in teaching and a distinguished record of publication and research are essential. The Pardee School of Global Studies is committed to multidisciplinary, empirically-grounded, and policy-relevant research and teaching and to nurturing the next generation of international relations practitioners, and it is expected that candidates will share this commitment. Candidates who have demonstrated policy experience in addition to scholarly qualifications are especially encouraged to apply.

Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration, and upholds freedom of expression. Boston University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, with a rich tradition of inclusion and social justice. We are proud of our record of inclusiveness, including being the first American university to award a PhD to a woman and the institution from which Martin Luther King, Jr. received his PhD. We are dedicated to increasing participation of all talented students and professionals, especially women and underrepresented minorities. We are an equal opportunity employer: all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act federal contractor.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last 7 years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign an authorization to release information after execution of an offer letter.

Please submit 1) a letter of application describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, and 2) curriculum vitae electronically at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/28221>. Questions about the position or school may be directed to Ms. Elaine Bidianos at elaineb@bu.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning October 1, 2024, but applications will be accepted until the job is filled. The expected starting date for employment is July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14769

Case Western Reserve University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Case Western Reserve University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position. The successful applicant will study international or global politics with a focus on security, broadly defined, and participate in the rotation of faculty who teach the introductory course on international politics.

Case Western Reserve University is a private R1 research university where Political Science faculty teach a standard 2-2 load. For more information about CWRU, the department and Cleveland, see this description (<https://acrobat.adobe.com/link/review?uri=urn:aaid:scds:US:eb78a8c9-9c71-3e27-96a2-5bca47c715b8>).

The position will commence July 1, 2025 and requires a PhD or ABD in Political Science or related field.

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) an approximately one-page research statement, 4) an approximately one-page teaching statement, 5) a publication or writing sample, and 6) three letters of recommendation. Case Western Reserve University and the Department of Political Science value activities that support diversity and inclusion and invite applicants to describe such activities in their cover letter and research and teaching statements.

Candidates should upload all application materials electronically through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/152595>). Consideration of applicants will begin on November 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be sent to Professor Pete Moore, Search Committee Chair, at pwm10@case.edu.

Case Western Reserve University strives to maintain a diverse and inclusive work environment. All applicants are protected under Federal law from discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age and genetics.

Case Western Reserve provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office of Equity by phone at 216.368.3066 or by email at equity@case.edu. Determinations as to granting reasonable accommodations for any applicant will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14768

University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Assistant Professor – International Relations

Position Description

The Government Department at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of International Relations.

Duties will include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, the College of Liberal Arts, and the University.

UT Government is one of the largest political science departments in the country. With nearly sixty faculty covering almost every facet of the discipline and a strong commitment to eclecticism in theoretical and methodological approaches, it is a remarkable and remarkably collegial intellectual community. Located in Austin, at Texas' flagship public university, we also have the privilege of serving a plural and gifted student population, in a vibrant and dynamic city.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor.

Preferred qualifications include a strong record of research and a trajectory that shows or promises teaching excellence.

Application Instructions

Applicants must upload a cover letter, research statement, vitae, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, examples of scholarly work, and teaching portfolio.

The department will begin reviewing applications on September 30, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. For help with the application process please reach out to Sarah Eliason (seliason@austin.utexas.edu). For substantive questions about the position please reach out to the chair of the search committee, Scott Wolford (swolford@austin.utexas.edu).

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Position URL

apply.interfolio.com/153183

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14753

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Political Economy 2025-2027

Until very recently, students of the political economy of finance considered bankers the undisputed masters of the capitalist universe. Since the global financial crisis of 2008, however, we have seen a change of guard. Today, the financial system increasingly revolves around asset managers — mutual fund providers, private equity and venture capital firms, and hedge funds. Although asset managers serve as the agents of (individual and institutional) wealth owners, their control over ‘other people’s money’ makes them the pivotal actors in corporate governance, and in matters of capital allocation more broadly.

Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Political Economy at the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs. We seek a scholar interested in studying the emerging area of asset manager capitalism from a political economy perspective. An explicit focus on inequalities is an asset, as is experience in working with large-scale financial datasets. We encourage research proposals that seek to answer big questions about the political economy of capitalism.

The successful candidate will be working with Prof. Mark Blyth at the Rhodes Center for International Economics and Finance at Brown University (Providence) and with Prof. Benjamin Braun at the European Institute at the London School of Economics (LSE). This is a two-year appointment. It is expected that the successful candidate will be primarily located at Brown with occasional short-term research stays at LSE.

Ability to conduct and write policy-oriented research, as well as academic research, is essential. There are no teaching responsibilities. The selected candidate will devote 50 percent time to projects at the Rhodes Center and 50 percent time to their own research projects.

The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Please apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147689>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14743

University of Kentucky

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts & Sciences at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY seeks to fill a tenure-eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor level with expertise in the field of Political Violence.

This is a 9-month position in the regular title series with an anticipated start date of August 1, 2025.

Applicants for this position will need to demonstrate clear potential for research excellence and be able to teach classes at the graduate level in International Relations, and at the undergraduate level in the department's two majors: Political Science, and Law and Justice. The successful candidate will have a PhD in Political Science, with a specialization in International Relations by June 2025.

Interested applicants should apply online at: <https://ukjobs.uky.edu/postings/546896>. Applicants must include the following: 1) Cover Letter 2) CV, 3) Research Statement (upload as Specific Request 1), and 4) Teaching Statement (upload as Specific Request 2). In addition, please provide the names and contact information of three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information may be utilized to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

The University of Kentucky provides comprehensive benefits which are fully described at <https://hr.uky.edu/employment/working-uk/our-benefits>.

Questions about this search should be addressed to Daniel Morey, Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Kentucky (danielmorey@uky.edu).

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14744

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Assistant Professor of Politics

University of Virginia: UVA Provost's Office: College and Graduate School of Arts & Sciences: Politics

Location

Charlottesville, VA

Open Date
Aug 27, 2024

Description

The Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies Security, Political Economy, and/or International Organizations. The successful candidate will join a vibrant community of roughly 35 tenure line faculty members and a PhD program with students across all of the discipline's subfields.

Application review will begin September 30, 2024 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2025. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda, a strong interest in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics.

Application Instructions

Apply at apply.interfolio.com/152796

All applications must include:

1. A cover letter addressing the candidate's past and future research, as well as their teaching experience and interests, including how their skills and experiences could advance the University's ambition to cultivate the most vibrant community in higher education in order to prepare students to be leaders in a diverse and globally connected world
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. Research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages)
4. Teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page)
5. One article-length writing sample
7. Three letters of recommendation

**Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.****

Questions about this position should be directed to Department Chair Jennifer Lawless at jll9jx@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14734

Ohio State University

Rank: International Relations

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a position in International Relations (IR) at the rank of assistant professor to begin in August 2025. Substantive areas of interest include, but are not limited to, global governance, security (broadly defined), foreign policy, political psychology, and IR theory. Candidates are expected to have methodological training appropriate to their research interests. We are particularly interested in candidates who are keen to join a pluralistic IR group and to engage with other programs and interdisciplinary centers at the university.

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- maintaining a research program;
- contributing to graduate and undergraduate teaching and mentoring;
- engaging in service to the department, university, and profession.

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or related discipline by August 2025. Successful candidates must be trained in International Relations (IR) or a related subfield, including methodological training appropriate to research specialization.

Desired: Preference is given to candidates with a record of publications and/or working papers, and to those providing evidence of accomplishments in teaching and/or mentoring. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Professor---International-Relations\_R112765-1]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Jennifer Mitzen at mitzen.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:
- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14720

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in the Domestic Politics of China

THE DEPARTMENT OF Political Science, UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, seeks to appoint either a tenure-track assistant professor or an associate professor with tenure whose work focuses on the domestic politics of China. Candidates will be expected to engage in research and teaching related to the domestic politics of China, participate in the Center for the Study of Contemporary China, and promote the study of China at Penn and beyond. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree is expected at the start of the appointment.

Political Science is housed within the School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support faculty include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

With 35 tenured and tenure-track faculty, over 300 undergraduate student majors, and 80 graduate students, we are one of the largest departments in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Our faculty teach and conduct research in all the major fields in our discipline, including American politics, Comparative politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Political Economy, and Methods. Our faculty and students study a range of issues with real-world policy implications ranging from civil wars and ethnic conflict to environmental politics, partisan polarization, and inequality. Our PhD program has an excellent placement record: our graduates go on to jobs in premium research and teaching institutions, as well as to successful careers outside academia. The School and the University have attractive research leave and sabbatical arrangements.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Qualifications

The successful Assistant Professor candidate's written materials and scholarly productivity will be expected to demonstrate potential for a high-impact research agenda; at the Associate Professor level, the successful candidate will be expected to have a substantial, prominent portfolio of research. The successful candidate at either rank will be highly proficient in Chinese, and will teach three courses per year in English at the undergraduate and graduate levels (a 2-1 load). They will also provide research advice to students at all levels and engage in service to the department, the School, and the University.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, and a writing sample. Additionally, applicants requesting consideration for appointment as Assistant Professor should submit three confidential letters of reference. Please submit materials to: apply.interfolio.com/152949

Review of applications will begin on September 15st, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14719

Stanford University

Rank: Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellowship on Contemporary Asia, 2025-2026

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce its search for two 2025-2026 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows on Contemporary Asia. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent PhDs must have degree conferral and approval by June 30, 2025) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the fellowship is on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or on international relations and international political economy in the region. The postdoctoral fellowship is a 10-month appointment with salary rate commensurate with Stanford policy, plus up to $3,000 for research expenses. Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2025-2026 academic year.

Applications will be accepted until December 1, 2024.

For additional information and to apply, visit: <https://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/education/fellowship-and-training-opportunities/shorenstein-postdoctoral-fellowship>

About the Center:

The Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is dedicated to the study of critical issues affecting the countries of Asia and their regional and global relations. Our scholar community is comprised of distinguished academics and practitioners in government, business, and civil society. Through policy-relevant research, publications, education, public programs, and international collaborations, we address pressing challenges in a world in which Asia plays an increasingly central role.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14704

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Political Science, International Relations, and Emerging Technologies- Multiple Tenure-Track Faculty Lines

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) has launched a major new initiative, the Carnegie Mellon Institute for Strategy and Technology (CMIST), which is devoted to the wise development, use and governance of new and emerging technologies that are changing the national and international security landscape. As part of this forward-looking enterprise, the university seeks top tenure-line scholars in political science, international relations, and other related disciplines with established interest in emerging technologies relevant to international affairs. Scholars investigating intersections between biotechnology, artificial intelligence, and major CBNR risks are of particular interest during this hiring cycle, as are experts in international law and technology regulation. But the best candidates will be doing cutting-edge social science research on emerging technologies that promises to contribute to intellectual efforts in CMIST and across CMU.

We will consider scholars at all levels—from entry-level assistant professor to associate and full professor levels. This is an outstanding opportunity to become part of a new, interdisciplinary initiative that combines Carnegie Mellon's existing strengths in AI, cybersecurity, biotechnology, robotics, and other emerging technologies, with scholarship focused on national security, international relations, ethics, law, and policy. We seek intellectually agile, innovative scholars willing to work cooperatively across disciplinary boundaries to tackle the challenges of emergent technologies for war and peace.

Background

Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) launched a major new interdisciplinary institute, the Carnegie Mellon Institute for Strategy and Technology (CMIST), in 2023. CMIST is a university-wide initiative devoted to the wise development, use, and governance of new and emerging technologies that are changing the national and international security landscape.

The home for Carnegie Mellon University's (CMU) study of Political Science and International Relations, CMIST is also uniquely poised to take advantage of the university's strengths in computer science and engineering and its distinctive tradition of collaborative, cross-university, cross-disciplinary research. CMU is ranked in the top five in the U.S. in Computer Science and in Engineering. It is ranked #1 in the subfields of artificial intelligence, computer engineering, cybersecurity, information systems, and software engineering. It has leading research institutes in areas such as robotics, machine learning, natural language technologies, human-computer interaction, engineering and public policy, and public policy and management—all designed to reach across disciplinary boundaries to solve key problems and address the highest-priority challenges facing humanity. Tying these areas of strength to crucial questions of strategy, security, ethics, and policy, CMIST is the newest addition to this rich CMU research landscape.

Carnegie Mellon University

Formally established in 1967, CMU is a dynamic R1 institution that has an exceptional impact on the world. Despite its relative youth, Carnegie Mellon consistently ranks in the top 25 US national universities. CMU is a global, research-intensive university with more than 14,000 students, more than 110,000 living alumni, approximately 5,000 faculty and staff, and over 100 research centers. It is a place of creativity, entrepreneurship, pragmatism, and ambition, with a tradition of strategically focusing its efforts and resources in areas where it can lead, then pursuing those areas with startling intensity. The research and teaching initiative in CMIST is just such a strategic undertaking.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its community on a range of intellectual and cultural dimensions. Carnegie Mellon welcomes faculty applicants who will contribute to this diversity through their research, teaching and service, including women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, individuals with disabilities, and others who would contribute in different ways. Carnegie Mellon University seeks to meet the needs of dual-career couples and is a member of the Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC) that assists with dual-career searches.

How to Apply

Applications should be submitted electronically via the Interfolio application system at <http://apply.interfolio.com/152858>.

They should include the following:

For Junior Scholars:

- A cover letter explaining the candidate's interest in the position, and detailing the applicant's research, teaching, and service record to date.
- A curriculum vitae.
- Up to three writing samples.
- A projection of the candidate's future research agenda.
- A short teaching portfolio, including statement of teaching philosophy, courses the candidate might propose to teach, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations)
- The names and addresses of three references, who will be requested to submit letters through the Interfolio system.

For Mid- and Senior-level Scholars:

- A cover letter explaining the candidate's reasons for being interested in the position.
- A detailed curriculum vitae.
- Other materials and names of references may be requested thereafter.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14702

Union College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative and/or International Politics

Specializations: China, Russia, Africa

Union College invites applications for the position of one-year Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative and/or International Politics, with a specialty in Asian, sub-Saharan African, or Russian politics, beginning January 1, 2025 (this is a January 1-December 31 appointment). Review of applications will begin on September 15 and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by September 15 will receive priority consideration.

Position description:

The Department of Political Science is looking for a candidate (PhD preferred, though ABD candidates will be considered) with expertise in Comparative and/or International Politics and a specialty in Asian, sub-Saharan African, or Russian politics. This is a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position, with a January 1-December 31 appointment. The ability to offer the Introduction to Global Politics, our gateway course to the comparative and international fields, and upper-level courses in the politics of the aforementioned regions is crucial. Offering additional courses organized by theme (rather than region) would be a plus.

The normal teaching load at Union College is six courses across a trimester system (2-2-2). Visiting faculty are eligible for faculty travel and research grants and support. Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness will be important. We prefer candidates who clearly demonstrate research potential with an agenda for future work.

We expect all faculty members to contribute to a thriving, diverse, and inclusive learning community, while promoting a sense of belonging among students, other faculty, and staff colleagues. As such, we welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field and we ask all applicants to address in their cover letter the ways in which their candidacy represents a commitment to the ideals of joining a community of diverse faculty, students, and staff. Visiting faculty are eligible for faculty travel and research grants and support. Union offers highly competitive salary and benefits. For more information on benefits, please visit our website: <https://www.union.edu/human-resources/benefits>.

About the Political Science Department:

The political science department is an active and vibrant community of scholars, including researchers prominent in their respective fields. The department hosts a Faculty Colloquium, where colleagues present their research, and it regularly hosts events on current affairs of political significance, including our Pizza & Politics series. In addition to political science offerings, faculty teach courses that are part of the College's General Education and Writing Across the Curriculum programs and contribute with interdisciplinary programs including Africana Studies, American Studies, Asian Studies, Environmental Policy, Film Studies, Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies, and Latin American and Caribbean Studies. High-quality teaching has long been both an expectation and strength in the department. Our goal is not only to increase diversity, but to support a diverse environment in which people from varied backgrounds can succeed and thrive.

Application instructions:

Please submit all application materials as a single pdf file. Only the materials listed below will be considered. To ensure applications receive full consideration, they should be submitted by September 15, 2024. Please upload a cover letter including your teaching and research plans, an updated CV, and a writing sample (25 pages max.) to jobs.union.edu. Please send questions and other inquiries to Guillermina Seri at serig@union.edu. As part of the initial screening process, applicants may receive a request for the contact information for three professional references who can speak to their abilities in the fields of Comparative and/or International Politics, with regional specialty in Asian, sub-Saharan African, or Russian politics, as of their teaching and research in general, and any other relevant professional qualifications.

Compensation

The annual salary range for this position is $68,500-$70,500. Except for roles with a set rate of pay, the wage/salary of the finalist selected for this role will be set based on a variety of factors, including but not limited to departmental budgets, qualifications, experience, education, licenses, specialty, and training. The stated hiring rate/range represents the College's good faith and reasonable estimate of the rate/range of possible compensation at the time of posting.

We offer exceptional benefits including:

Generous Vacation, Sick, and Personal Time

Winter Recess Break in Addition to Paid Holidays

Healthcare, Dental, and Vision Insurance (Flexible Spending and Dependent Care Accounts)

Free On-Campus Fitness Facility Access and Discounts for On-Campus Wellness Programs

Employee Scholarships toward Certifications, Seminars, Training and Professional Development

Pre and Post Tax participation in a 403(b) Retirement Plan

Salary Continuation Program in the event of Disability

Tuition Assistance Program for Employee, Spouse and/or Dependents

Background Checks: In accordance with our background check policy, finalists for hire will undergo a background check that includes education, employment, and criminal convictions.

E-Verify Participation: Union College participates in E-Verify and will provide the federal government with your Form I-9 information to confirm that you are authorized to work in the United States. Learn more about E-Verify and your Right to Work (Derecho a Trabajar).

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14701

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Politics of the Middle East and North Africa

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

THE DEPARTMENT OF Political Science, UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, seeks to appoint a tenure-track assistant professor in Political Science whose work focuses on the region of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). Candidates will be expected to engage in and promote research and teaching related to the MENA region at Penn and beyond. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree is expected at the start of the appointment. The hired candidate will teach 3 courses per year (2-1 load) at the undergraduate and graduate levels. They will also provide research advice to students at all levels and engage in service to the department, the School, and the University.

Political Science is housed within the School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support faculty include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

With 35 tenured and tenure-track faculty, over 300 undergraduate student majors, and 80 graduate students, we are one of the largest departments in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Our faculty teach and conduct research in all the major fields in our discipline, including American politics, Comparative politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Political Economy, and Methods. Our faculty and students study a range of issues with real-world policy implications ranging from civil wars and ethnic conflict to environmental politics, partisan polarization, and inequality. Our PhD program has an excellent placement record: our graduates go on to jobs in premium research and teaching institutions, as well as to successful careers outside of academia.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Qualifications

The successful candidate's written materials and scholarly productivity will indicate potential for a high-impact research agenda. The successful candidate will typically plan to seek external funding to support their research, and should also be highly proficient in at least one of the four most widely spoken languages in the MENA region: Arabic, Farsi, Kurdish, and Turkish.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/152474

Review of applications will begin on September 10st, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14703

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track - International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. Led by President Karol V. Mason, John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY, and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment as an Assistant Professor in the Bachelor of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (ICJ BA) and the Master of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (IC&J MA) and in a department to be determined by the candidate's PhD or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department.) The position begins in Fall 2025.

The College seeks to hire a promising scholar researching international crime and justice issues. The college is especially interested in researchers working on topics of growing policy importance such as transnational crime and cyber criminology, including but not limited to topics such as cybercrime, cyber organized crime, online fraud, dark web activities, digital privacy and surveillance, social media and crime, AI and predictive policing, digital legislation, cyber terrorism, digital harassment, and the impact of emerging technologies on crime and justice, broadly defined. Additionally, the candidate should possess knowledge of sociological perspectives on crime, law, deviance, social control, and justice. This position requires proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research.

The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the BA and MA ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum (https://new.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/2023-08/7\_Princip\_Cultur\_Resp\_Incl\_AntiRacist\_Curric\_Adopt\_4.8.21-brief.pdf), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2025 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

$52,667- $99,532 Salary commensurate with education and credentials.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYFirst, please follow the instructions below:

1. Navigate to www.cuny.edu
2. Select "Employment"
3. Select "Search Job Postings"
4. Create an Account
5. After creating an account, return to the Job Search page and select "Apply Now"

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor confirming your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by November 5, 2024. In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Jana Arsovska, Director of the Master of Arts Program in International Crime and Justice via email jarovska@jjay.cuny.edu

All questions should be directed to Dr. Jana Arsovska, Chair of the Search Committee, via email jarovska@jjay.cuny.edu

CLOSING DATE

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024.
Posting closes on November 5, 2024.

*Interviews with successful candidates will be scheduled during the first two weeks of December 2024.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Job ID 28830

Location

John Jay College

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/5/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14699

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Russian Security Studies

Specializations: Russia, History & Politics, Intelligence

The Department of National Security Affairs at the Naval Postgraduate School seeks applications for a tenure-track appointment in Russian Security Studies open to all ranks. Successful candidates must demonstrate broad interest in research and teaching in the field of Russian-area security studies, the ability and willingness to teach one course on the Russian military, and Russian language competence.

The position is open to historians, political scientists, or other scholars of security studies broadly defined. Relevant expertise might include Russian military history/strategy, modern Russian and/or East European history, the Cold War, intelligence studies, Russian technology issues, arms control, or military issues in Russia's relations with NATO, Eastern/Central Europe, the Caucasus, Central Asia, or China. Candidates should demonstrate a strong potential for teaching excellence and scholarly research. The successful candidate should be prepared to teach Master's-level courses on Russian history and security.

The Naval Postgraduate School is a fully accredited graduate school whose students are drawn from the armed forces and civilian agencies of the United States and other countries. The Department of National Security Affairs is multi-disciplinary, with curricula based on Political Science, Political Economy, and History. Tenure-track professors typically teach a 2-2 load on a quarter system and are expected to maintain an active portfolio of academic research, publishing, and institutional service.

Minimum qualifications:

- An earned doctoral degree from an accredited institution
- Evidence of teaching aptitude
- Evidence of potential to advise student theses and dissertations
- Evidence of strong potential for scholarship leading to scholarly publications.

Employment requirements:

- U.S. citizenship is required
- Background check and eligibility for a Secret-level clearance.

Applications should include a CV, cover letter (including teaching and research interests), official graduate transcripts, and syllabi of relevant courses taught. Candidates should also submit up to three writing samples and three letters of recommendation. These confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted separately. ABDs are welcome to apply with the understanding that the award of a Ph.D. degree is a condition of employment. Applications will be reviewed beginning on Friday, October 25, 2024, but the position will remain open until filled. Expected start date is in the summer or fall of 2025.

Address applications and supporting materials electronically to the National Security Affairs Department at nsadep@nps.edu.

Questions and any other inquiries may be directed to:

Prof. Ryan Gingeras

Chair, Russian Security Studies Search Committee

Department of National Security Affairs

Naval Postgraduate School

Monterey, CA 93943

rgingera@nps.edu

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Relocation package, including recruitment/relocation incentive may be authorized.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>

NOTE: IF YOU ARE A VETERAN, you are strongly encouraged to identify your Veterans' Preference on your resume or elsewhere in your application package (type of preference, dates of service, date of VA letter, character of service, etc.).

Additional Veterans' Information: if you are not sure of your preference eligibility, visit the Department of Labor's website: <http://dol.gov/elaws/vets/vetpref/mservice.htm>

For more veterans' preference information, visit: <http://www.fedshirevets.gov/job/vetpref/index.aspx>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14536

The American University in Cairo

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor in International Relations Theory

Company Description:

The American University in Cairo (AUC) has a rich legacy that dates back 100 years. Founded in 1919 as an English-language university based on high standards of conduct and scholarship, AUC remains a vibrant institution that contributes to the intellectual growth, discipline, and character of the future leaders of Egypt and the region. AUC emphasizes a liberal arts education, with all undergraduate students studying a common set of courses in the humanities and the natural and social sciences as part of the University's Core Curriculum. The AUC Libraries contain the largest English-language research collection in the region and are an active and integral part of the University's pursuit of excellence in all academic and scholarly programs. Located in one of the most interesting and important cities in the world - at the nexus of Africa, the Middle East, Asia, and Europe, and the center of events of the Arab world - AUC is chartered and accredited in the United States and Egypt. AUC is an English-medium institution.

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a position in International Relations starting Fall 2025. This is a tenure-track position. We invite applications at the Assistant/Associate Professor level. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in the fields of theories of international relations including critical international relations theory, global governance and security studies. For this position an expertise in Asian studies will be a distinct advantage. These positions will involve teaching at the BA and MA levels within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to equal opportunity and a diverse faculty.

Requirements:

A PhD is required at the time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing research and publication program and teaching experience. In addition to research and teaching, responsibilities include service to the Department and the University.

Additional Information:

Priority will be given to applications received by November 30th, 2024. The position is open until filled.

Application Instructions:

Applicants must submit the following documents via the online system: (a) an updated CV; (b) a letter of interest addressing the required qualifications; (c) a completed AUC Personnel Information Form (PIF); (d) a statement of teaching philosophy; (e) copies of recent student evaluations; (f) an example of a recent publication relevant to the position; and (g) letters of reference from at least three referees familiar with the applicant's professional background.

To ensure full consideration, candidates are encouraged to submit their applications by November 30th, 2024. The committee will begin reviewing applications after this date; however, applications will continue to be accepted until a qualified applicant pool has been achieved or until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to: Dr. Javed Maswood, Chair, javedmaswood@aucegypt.edu; Dr. Dina Hosni, Senior Officer Student Liaison, dina\_h@aucegypt.edu; or visit the department's website at: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Apply Here: <https://www.click2apply.net/01Vz1bud8yWyqsq7QIBjym>

PI246055247

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14691

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor: International Relations

The Wilf Family Department of Politics is seeking outstanding and innovative scholars for a position in International Relations at the assistant professor level. The tenure-track position is to commence September 1, 2025, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

Please apply online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/152515>. Candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 19, 2024. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, writing sample, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/19/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14681

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Black Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Black Politics. The search is open with respect to methodology. This position will include teaching assignments for introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses with capacity for large enrollments of diverse students as well as graduate seminars. The position directly supports the unit's commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Tenure track faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Washington State Law requires that this ad list a binding salary range. The base salary range for this position will be $10,000 - $15,000 per month on a 9-month basis ($90,000 - $135,000 annually), commensurate with experience and qualifications, or as mandated by a U.S. Department of Labor prevailing wage determination. The position will begin on September 16, 2025 and is full time with a 9-month service period (September 16 – June 15).

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research engaging the study of Black Politics. Applicants must have a Ph.D., or foreign equivalent, in Political Science or closely related field by the start of the appointment.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All application materials must be submitted online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/152239>

Applications should include a 1-2 page cover letter, current CV, writing sample, 1-2 page research statement, 1-2 page teaching statement, 1 page diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests and accomplishments. The teaching statement should include the following: describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant's record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications received by September 23, 2024 are guaranteed full consideration. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

BENEFITS INFORMATION

A summary of benefits associated with this title/rank can be found at <https://hr.uw.edu/benefits/benefits-orientation/benefit-summary-pdfs/>. Appointees solely employed and paid directly by a non-UW entity are not UW employees and are not eligible for UW or Washington State employee benefits.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY

The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (<http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/>). Additionally, the University's Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member's academic profile and responsibilities (<https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432>).

PRIVATE NOTICE

Review the University of Washington Privacy Notice for Demographic Data of Job Applicants and University Personnel to learn how your demographic data are protected, when the data may be used, and your rights.

DISABILITY SERVICES

To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact the Disability Services Office at 206-543-6450 or dso@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14665

Cornell University

Rank: Open Rank International Relations

The Department of Government at Cornell University invites applications for up to three open-rank positions in the field of international relations to begin on July 1, 2025. Successful candidates will do research in international relations and related topics, teach courses in international relations at the graduate and undergraduate levels, and supervise graduate and undergraduate research. The candidate must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a directly related field by the time of hire. Applicants should apply online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28072>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations. In addition, we ask applicants to share their experiences and/or approaches (past, current, or future) to fostering learning, research, service, and/or outreach in a diverse community; applicants may choose to submit a stand-alone statement or embed the information in other parts of their application.

Review of applications will begin on September 10, 2024 and to guarantee full consideration, your file should be complete by this date.

Pay Range: $107,400 - $275,00

Actual salary offers in the College of Arts and Sciences will be based on education, experience, discipline, and relevant skills.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14650

University of Oregon

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

Candidates are asked to apply online at <https://careers.uoregon.edu/cw/en-us/job/533949/assistant-professor-of-international-relations>

Required Application Materials

- Application letter describing research and teaching interests, experience, and potential contributions to our diverse and pluralistic community.
- Curriculum vitae.
- A writing sample.
- Contact information for three references. Recommendation letters will be requested directly from your references.

Position Announcement

The University of Oregon's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position of Assistant Professor in Political Science, to begin in fall 2025. We seek candidates with expertise in any aspect of International Relations, while noting particular interest in international political economy (IPE), China-related expertise, and innovative data analysis methodologies such as machine learning and the use of AI. Competitive applicants will be capable of outstanding research and teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Department or Program Summary

Our faculty employ diverse theoretical and methodological approaches but share the pursuit of meaningful answers to big questions with real-world implications. We serve a large and thriving undergraduate major and a PhD program that enrolls an average of six students a year. We particularly welcome applications from scholars who are from populations historically underrepresented in the academy, and/or who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds.

In addition to our focus on research excellence, our department is constantly adjusting to improve our undergraduate and graduate experience. For example, in recent years we have revised our undergraduate curriculum to feature students' career-related pathways, gathered statistics to lessen equity gaps in gateway-class outcomes, reformed our graduate curriculum to strengthen cohorts' common training, and streamlined the process for graduate qualifying exams.

Junior faculty in political science will be supported through the transition to tenure, including reduced service expectations and access to university-wide programs (which include new faculty mentorship, and training in teaching through the Teaching Engagement Program). The political science department invests in the success of each new colleague and seeks to support faculty in successful and impactful careers while maintaining a healthy work-life balance.

Minimum Requirements

- Ph.D. in Political Science or related field in hand by time of appointment.
- The successful candidate is expected to have developed a rigorous research program and to be ready to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

All offers of employment are contingent upon successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/25/2024

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14644

Lafayette College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law at Lafayette College invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2025. The Department seeks candidates specializing in international and/or comparative political economy in the Global South, with a focus on dynamics of power and inequality. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science (or closely related field) or demonstrate that the Ph.D. is near completion. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to International Politics or Introduction to Comparative Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to the College's interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda. The Department especially welcomes applications from candidates who will contribute to Lafayette's commitment to diversity and inclusion. The teaching load during the first year is four courses (normally two each semester) and five courses each year thereafter.

Applications should include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. The letter of intent should contain a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, and address the ways in which the applicant's teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will advance Lafayette College's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion as articulated in the College's diversity statement (<https://belong.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/>).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151960>. Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Seo-Hyun Park (parksh@lafayette.edu).

Located within 70 miles of New York City and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts and engineering institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship. Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. All Lafayette operations reflect the College's commitment to Diversity, Equity, Access, and Inclusion (DEAI) initiatives, and Lafayette welcomes applicants from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14626

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Short-term Visiting Fellowships, 2025-2026

Job Title: Visiting Fellow

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00005

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year's visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for advanced or mid-career scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established Latin American writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on research or creative projects who may benefit from a short stay at Princeton University.

Appointments will be for one month during the 2025-2026 academic year (September 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026) or the summer (July and August) to be determined on a case-by-case basis. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines stipend on the basis of current academic rank; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of seniority and current institutional affiliation.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 13, 2024. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34842>.

- 1) Cover letter (in English) indicating the calendar month the applicant proposes to stay), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
- 2) Curriculum vitae (in English);
- 3) A statement (in English) describing the research project as well as the ways Princeton resources and/or faculty will be useful for the project (1,000-1500 words);
- 4) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14516

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Visiting Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Visiting Research Scholar

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00004

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are expected to be for one or two semesters, during the 2025-2026 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2025 - January 16, 2026; spring semester: January 16, 2026 - June 1, 2026). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 13, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials (in English) and apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34841>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae;
- 3) One undergraduate seminar proposal or syllabus for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how the course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;
- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 - 2,000 words);
- 5) The names and contact information of two referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Advanced degree preferred. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14515

Rice University

Rank: Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a Full Professor to begin July 1, 2025. The candidate will be expected to serve as Department Chair. Full professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise Ph.D. dissertations, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to department, university, and disciplinary service. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of leadership and service at the dept/school/university/discipline level, outstanding teaching in undergraduate and graduate courses, and research excellence in their specialized area. Candidates should have research interests and expertise in the areas of American politics, comparative politics, or international relations, and have utilized quantitative research methods in their work. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a leadership/service statement highlighting experience and leadership philosophy; a research statement; a teaching statement; a DEI statement; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and contact information for three references who can attest to the candidate's leadership experience and qualities. References will be contacted for a subset of candidates. All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151772>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14632

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in international relations. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151783>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14625

Tulane University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) in International Relations

We are seeking to hire an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in International Relations, with a substantive research area that complements our existing strength in International Political Economy and is open to subfield, except for International Political Economy. The teaching load is 2-2. The prospective candidate will contribute to the Political Science program at the undergraduate and graduate curricular levels. The expected start date for this position is July 1, 2025. For further questions about the position, contact Prof. Christopher Fettweis, fettweis@tulane.edu

Qualifications

PhD in Political Science preferred. Although ABD candidates will be considered, a terminal degree is required by the time the Assistant Professor appointment begins.

Application Instructions

Please send in a cover letter, a CV, a statement of research, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by September 10, 2024. All materials should be uploaded directly in Interfolio: apply.interfolio.com/150846

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/10/2024

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14621

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2025. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2026, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time “career employee” at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP’s home academic institution for the visiting professor’s salary and benefits during their time at the Academy. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Lt Col Woody Olmstead, PhD), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-116, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Roland.Olmstead@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14623

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2025. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Jackson School of Global Affairs, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs.

This search includes additional resources in two targeted areas within this broader search area. The first is for an assistant professor with expertise in African Politics, who will teach at least one course cross-listed with, and contribute to, Yale's Council on African Studies. The second is for a candidate who works on Environmental Politics, jointly appointed with the Jackson School of Global Affairs. Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in areas of political science commensurate with their expertise. Candidates jointly appointed with Jackson will also teach courses in Jackson's undergraduate and graduate curriculum. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151662>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14619

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, South Asian Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in South Asian Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any major subfield(s) of political science, with reference to the domestic and/or international politics of one or more of the following countries: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka. Expected teaching, commensurate with the candidate's expertise, will be in South Asian Politics. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151100>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14620

London School of Economics and Political Science

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Based in the Department of International Relations, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the Department and wider School activities.

All candidates must have expertise and research interests in International Relations, with a specialism in China in International Relations (broadly defined). They must show a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research. The successful candidate must be able to teach undergraduate and postgraduate courses on International Relations, and on China in International Relations.

Candidates will need a completed PhD in International Relations, Political Science, or a related field by the post start date. Candidates should also have a proven or developing track record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly respected book publishers, and have a clear, well-developed and viable strategy for research that has the potential to be world leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour.

Successful candidates should have excellent communication skills and an ability to work as part of a team with colleagues across the School. The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification, which can be found attached to the vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

The Department is committed to promoting diversity in the field of International Relations, by fostering and supporting new generations of scholars from diverse backgrounds, by teaching an innovative, inclusive and diverse curriculum, and by supporting an inclusive departmental research culture.

Full details about the post, including job description, person specification and guidance on how to apply can be found at:

<https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/I/5702/0/435652/15539/assistant-professor-in-international-relations>

The closing date for receipt of applications is 9th September 2024 (23.59 UK time). We are unable to accept any late applications.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research grants policy with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start in September 2025 and by the start of the academic year 2025/26.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/9/2024
Date Posted: 8/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14600

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations.

The Department of Politics seeks applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in international relations. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35842>.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to International Relations Junior Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 8, 2024.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00004

Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14609

University of Hong Kong

Rank: Postdoctoral fellowship (all fields considered)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Hong Kong seeks candidates for the Presidential Research Assistant Professor (RAP) Scheme 2024/25. These are non-tenure track postdoctoral research-focused positions with no teaching requirement. Each award will be for three years and will receive funding of HK$48,000 (approx. US$6,155) per month and a 15% contract gratuity. In addition, each awardee will be entitled to an annual research grant and annual conference support.

Candidates should be within three years of their PhD graduation from top universities anywhere in the world at the time of nomination. Another call for nominations (second round) may be issued in the first/second quarter of 2025.

The Department will consider excellent researchers with any area of specialization in terms of field of study (Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory or Public Administration) and geographical specialization.

About the University and the Department:

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong is an English-medium, research-led, comprehensive university with 39,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. It upholds high standards of academic freedom and excellence in its research, teaching and service to the community. HKU is consistently ranked among the world's top universities: 17th in the 2025 QS World University Rankings, 2nd in the 2024 QS Asia University Rankings, and the most international university in the world in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. The University is situated in an economically vibrant and culturally unique part of China that has historically been the gateway between East and West. More information about HKU can be found at <https://hku.hk/>.

The Department of Politics and Public Administration has played a leading role in the University and its global disciplines since its establishment in 1970. In addition to a competitive PhD research degree program, the Department offers three taught postgraduate programs – Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master in International and Public Affairs (MIPA), and Doctor of Public Administration (DPA) – as well as thriving undergraduate programs. The Department's faculty members are research active, diverse, international and highly collegial. Many have received training and work experience in the most prestigious departments and universities in North America, Europe and across Asia. Their expertise spans the fields of Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Administration. For more information about the Department, visit <https://ppa.hku.hk/>.

Application Procedure:

The following documents should be included:

- a. a one-page research abstract;
- b. a two-page research plan including background of research, research plan, methodology;
- c. a two-page CV of each candidate; and
- d. a three-minute video recording including the candidate's self-introduction and the details of the proposed research.

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 4, 2024. Departments must nominate candidates to the Faculty by September 9 for Faculty's consideration.

Applications should be sent to the Department administrator, Ms. Yannes Tang, sktang@hku.hk.

Informal inquiries may be directed to the Head of Department, Professor Robert Thomson, rthomson@hku.hk.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/4/2024
Date Posted: 8/9/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14607

Tecnologico de Monterrey

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Assistant Professor Positions

The Tecnológico de Monterrey (Tec) invites applications from candidates in Political Science and International Relations. The search is open with respect to specialty and methodological approaches. We are recruiting candidates with the potential to conduct theoretically informed, methodologically rigorous research for publication in top peer-reviewed venues. In IR, we are interested in scholars from any of the major subfields, including international political economy, security studies, and/or global governance. In Political Science, we are seeking scholars from comparative politics and methods subfields. The Tecnológico de Monterrey offers a dynamic academic environment with generous research support.

Minimum Requirements:

Candidates must have a demonstrated ability in conducting theoretical and empirical research in one or more of the aforementioned areas. The Tecnológico de Monterrey also prizes an excellent background in teaching. Professors are expected to teach and mentor undergraduates as well as graduate students. We are primarily interested in scholars early in their academic careers for the Assistant Research Professor track with teaching obligations that approximate a 2-2 load. We also have openings for Assistant Teaching Professors (3-3 or 4-4) and Student Advisor Professors (2-2 or 3-3), depending on the campus. Applications from ABD candidates will be considered if they include a letter from the dissertations chair stating a defense date, which should occur no later than June 2025 to start in August 2025.

Compensation is competitive and it includes incentives and support for research activities. The Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide legal assistance for foreign nationals in order to obtain work permits and visas for the candidate and his or her dependents.

Applicants should send the following documents in PDF format to Karen Aguayo: karenaguayo@tec.mx

- Curriculum Vitae accompanied by a cover letter.
- Research statement for the next 3 years (no longer than three pages).
- A statement of teaching philosophy (no more than two pages). Finalists may be asked to provide evidence of teaching performance.
- Writing sample, not to exceed 50 double spaced pages. If co-authored the candidate should be the first author.
- Three letters of recommendation. Ph.D. candidates should also include a letter from their chair indicating defense date.

For informal inquiries please contact the following committee members:

Prof. Mariana Rangel: mariana.rangel@tec.mx

Prof. Gabriel Aguilera: gabe.aguilera@tec.mx

About the Tecnológico de Monterrey:

The Tecnológico de Monterrey is ranked highly among the top universities in Latin America and Mexico. Undergraduate departments and programs in political science, international relations, economics, law, and public policy are housed in the School of Social Sciences and Government at our major campuses in Mexico City, Monterrey, Puebla, Querétaro, and Guadalajara. For more information, visit <https://tec.mx/es/noticias/cienciassociales-y-gobierno>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14589

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Asian Studies

Specializations: Asian American Politics, Central Asia, Southeast Asia

United States Army War College

Assistant/Associate Professor of Asian Studies

Salary range: $90,730 – $146,476

Objective:

The United States Army War College is accepting applications for an Assistant/Associate Professor of Asian Studies in the Department of National Security and Strategy to begin in the summer of 2025.

Position Description:

The person selected for this position will have a leading role in planning, administering, and teaching core courses on Asian regional studies as well as other core and elective courses of the resident education program and associated programs. They will serve as a faculty instructor for one seminar, advise students, and serve as project advisor for student research projects. They will also engage in cutting-edge scholarship that advances knowledge in fields relevant to the curriculum and engage in service in support of USAWC missions. Other duties may include teaching courses on war, strategy, and national security policy, and/or supporting the development and execution of specialized programs in policy, strategy, and outreach. Finally, the applicant must be able to obtain and maintain a SECRET security clearance from the US government.

The Army War College seeks applicants who would find fulfillment teaching and researching in an environment that intentionally blends scholarly achievement with policy application. It relies on a collaborative and inter-disciplinary teaching environment that emphasizes student engagement. As one of the nation's premiere institutions for military education, it is a dynamic workplace that mixes academic excellence with practitioner experience to prepare senior level officers and civilians for roles in strategy- and policy-making over the rest of their careers. This importance of the mission, and direct impact that faculty instruction has on national security processes, fosters a culture of mutual respect and collegiality across the department and school. Faculty who are interested in translating their academic expertise into policy debates are encouraged to do so.

This is a full-time, long-term, civilian faculty position. Initial appointment may be for up to 4 years; the first year may be probationary. Appointments may be renewed subject to job performance and availability of funds; reappointments at USAWC are the norm and the position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track. Academic rank and compensation of initial appointment will be offered commensurate with the applicant's level of experience and qualifications. We are prepared to offer a salary-and-benefits package designed to attract highly talented applicants.

For additional questions about the position, Department of National Security and Strategy, and/or the Army War College, please contact:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison
 US Army War College
 651 Wright Avenue
 Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
 DNSS_asianstudies@army.mil

Qualifications:

In order to qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below, also known as Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSAs). Your curriculum vitae or résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience, and cover letters are encouraged to directly address the required KSAs, as they will be used by the search committee appointed to identify the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have master's degree (required) in political science, history, national security studies, international relations, government, or related field. PhD or terminal degree strongly preferred. Doctoral students who expect to complete their Ph.D. prior to July 2025 are eligible and encouraged to apply. Expertise in Asian politics strongly preferred.
2. Ability to prepare, teach, and lecture on subjects related to Asian studies, regional politics in East, Southeast, or South Asia, American foreign policy, grand strategy, and national security decision-making. An established record of superlative teaching at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or Senior Service College level, and experience in seminar-style instruction, is preferred.
3. Record of scholarly research and publication—or evidence of great potential for such research and publication—in areas relevant to the curriculum, to include national security policy and strategy, international relations, political science, history, political economy, regional studies, and the strategic use of military force (e.g., assurance, deterrence, coercion, and compellence). Expertise in regional Asian studies is preferred.
4. A record of successful service to the profession and/or engagement with policy debates, including membership in and service to professional (regional, historical, political) scholarly societies, public history initiatives, or military and defense organizations. A record of successful non-governmental work of a similar nature and scope, such as with a think tank, development organization, media organization, or international organization may also be considered service.
5. Regional language ability is preferred.

Application Required Documents:

Your application must contain each of the following:

1. Letter of application addressing the required KSAs and other qualifications, as listed in the QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED section above.
2. Curriculum vitae or résumé.
3. One sample of written scholarship not to exceed 50 pages (Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.)
4. Unofficial academic transcripts of the highest degree attained. You must provide official transcripts upon request.
5. List of four disinterested professional references (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate's qualifications but have no stake in the outcome of the selection).
6. Proof of U.S. citizenship.

7. A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the U.S. Army War College through teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

To apply for this position, you must submit the documentation specified in the Application Required Documents section above, directly to:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison
 US Army War College
 651 Wright Avenue
 Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
 DNSS_asianstudies@army.mil

The complete application package must be submitted by 11:59 PM (EST) on 18 September 2024 to receive consideration.

Next Steps: If you provided an email address, you will receive an email message acknowledging receipt of your application. Your application package will be used to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. If you are determined to be ineligible or not qualified, your application will receive no further consideration.

The deadline to apply for this position is September 18, 2024.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/18/2024

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 14595

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science (International Relations), Fall 2025

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a full-time tenure track position in International Relations to begin August 1, 2025. Appointment is at the Assistant Professor level. While the department seeks a scholar broadly trained in theories of international politics and will review applications from all specializations, it has a preference for candidates who can enhance our disciplinary presence in areas such as security policy (e.g. political violence, terrorism, or civil war), foreign policy, or international political economy. Candidates who can contribute to a new College-wide, inter-disciplinary research and hiring initiative on societal resilience to climate change (SoReCC), climate-related disasters, and the politics of climate change will also be preferred. With societies now experiencing acute effects of rapid climate change, including environmental degradation, changes in global migration patterns, and political conflicts among nation-states and non-state actors, public and expert attention is increasingly shifting towards developing societal capabilities for disaster preparedness, prevention, mitigation, and resilience. Positions added in the SoReCC strategic focus area will leverage the college's existing instructional and research strength in disciplines and transdisciplinary areas that speak to questions of climate change and societal resilience. The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publications in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). Candidates should also have strong methodological skills. Ability to contribute to the department's methods sequence would be highly desirable. Preference will be shown for applicants who have research and teaching interests that complement existing departmental interests and strengths, have a capacity for attracting extramural funding, and demonstrate evidence of or potential for college/university teaching excellence, and exhibit a commitment to diversity and inclusion. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the accessibility and intercultural goals of the University. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. UTK is a land-grant university and values engaged forms of research/scholarship/creative activity, teaching and service, and considers evidence of these commitments in the records of applicants. More information about the Department is available at: <https://polisci.utk.edu/>.

Environment and Community

The University of Tennessee campus is located in one of the most beautiful areas of the country with easy access to miles of inland waterways, pristine state and national parks, diverse cultural opportunities, and a blend of convenient urban and rural living settings. Downtown Knoxville, adjacent to campus, is a thriving neighborhood filled with restaurants, shops, and indoor and outdoor entertainment venues, and is home to the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra, the Knoxville Opera Company, annual international festivals such as the Big Ears Music Festival, and seasonal and weekly events such as Jazz on the Square, Shakespeare on the Square, and the Farmers Market. The University is located within easy driving distance to Asheville, Nashville, Atlanta, and the Great Smoky Mountains.

Qualifications

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related discipline must be finished at the time of appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants should send a cover letter, a current CV, a sample of scholarly writing, a research statement, and a teaching statement. In addition to addressing their qualifications for the position in their application, candidates may describe how they would help promote students' access to and inclusion in their teaching and research/scholarship/creative activities. We encourage all potential applicants to visit the University of Tennessee's access and engagement website: <https://dae.utk.edu/>. All applicants should request letters from three references to be directly uploaded to Interfolio. Please submit application materials in digital format via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150101>. Review of applications begins September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Wonjae Hwang at whwang@utk.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14604

Middlebury College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations with a focus on foreign policy analysis. The position begins in September 2025. We seek broadly trained candidates prepared to teach the introductory course in international politics, an intermediate level course on American foreign policy, as well as a variety of upper-level courses on general foreign policy issues. Ability to contribute to our research methods sequence is welcome. Appointment will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarly potential. Tenure-track faculty at Middlebury teach a 2/2 load with an additional class in winter term every other year. They are also required to contribute to the College in the form of service including, but not limited to, serving on elected committees and as Chair or Director of the department or program at the appropriate time in their career.

Middlebury College is a top-tier liberal arts college with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in faculty teaching and research. It is also committed to fostering a truly inclusive, open, and supportive learning, teaching, and working environment. The College hires faculty from around the world with a myriad of life experiences, cultures, frames of reference, social identities, and learning perspectives?to help cultivate and advance innovation in our curriculum and to provide a rich and varied educational experience to our talented and distinguished student body. To that end, as an equal opportunity employer, Middlebury College seeks applications from people who would contribute to our increasingly diverse educational community not only through their backgrounds and interests, but in age, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, ethnicity, national origin, religion, and physical ability.

Middlebury College uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Email and paper applications will not be accepted. At Middlebury, we strive to make our campus a respectful, engaged community that embraces difference, with the all the complexity and individuality each person brings. Thus, with your application materials please provide a separate, one-page statement on inclusion that addresses how your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and/or community service demonstrate a commitment to and/or evidence of engaging with issues of diversity and inclusion. Through Interfolio submit: a letter of application addressed to the search committee chair, Professor Kemi Fuentes-George; a curriculum vitae; undergraduate and graduate transcripts; a statement of teaching and research plans; a sample of scholarly production; and three current letters of recommendation, at least two of which must speak to teaching ability/promise. More information is available at <http://apply.interfolio.com/149898> and <https://www.middlebury.edu/academics/ps>. Review of applications begins September 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Offers of employment are contingent on completion of a background check. Information on our background check policy can be found here: <http://go.middlebury.edu/backgroundchecks>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14583

University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Organizations and Norms)

The Department of Political Science in the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Arkansas invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Organizations and Norms to start in August 2025. This is a standard nine-month faculty appointment.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in international organization and global governance institutions as they intersect with topics such as the design, development and performance of international governmental organizations (IGOs) and non-governmental organizations (NGOs). Specialization in issues related to global health, environment, transnational networks, migration, ethnicity/nationalism, or human rights are strongly preferred. The individual will be expected to work with our college's Global and International Studies program. The expected teaching load will be two courses a semester.

Duties will include:

- 40% Teaching
- 40% Research
- 20% Service

Minimum Qualifications:

With submitted materials, the candidate must demonstrate

- A Ph.D. degree in Political Science or International Relations with a specialization in international organization, or a related field, from an accredited institution of higher education conferred by the start of appointment.
- A demonstrated ability to teach an undergraduate Introduction to International Relations course.
- Record of successful research and publication (e.g., journal articles published in reputable outlets).
- A well-defined research agenda that focuses on international governmental organizations (IGOs) and non-governmental organizations (NGOs).
- Evidence of effective teaching (e.g., teaching evaluations, sample syllabi, teaching portfolio)

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated excellence in teaching.
- A strong and active research agenda that is well-grounded in theory and backed by advanced analytical, methodological, and empirical skills.
- A demonstrated potential for publishing in top-tier outlets.
- A demonstrated commitment to graduate and undergraduate education and a willingness to contribute to our department's existing teaching strengths.
- Specialization in issues related to global health, environment, transnational networks, migration, ethnicity/nationalism, or human rights.
- A demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a student population from different backgrounds.
- Potential to secure external grant funding.
- A demonstrated commitment to active scholarly service.

The department chair, Bill Schreckhise, will be at the APSA's annual meeting in Philadelphia and participating in APSA's interview services at the conference. His email address is schreckw@uark.edu. You can use this Google form to select a time for the interview here: <https://forms.gle/q7Q8pDUzZjXi26KT9>.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Completed applications received by September 15, 2024, will be assured full consideration. Late applications will be reviewed as necessary to fill the position.

For additional inquiries, please contact the search committee chair, Jeff Ryan, at jeffr@uark.edu.

For a complete position announcement and information regarding how to apply, visit https://uasys.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UASYS/job/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science--International-Organizations-and-Norms-\_R0060199?locations=17a66cdad98201f7890cfb48ca00e249.

Applicants must submit

1. A cover letter indicating interest and qualifications.
2. A current curriculum vita.
3. A research statement.
4. A teaching statement describing approach to instruction, assessment of learning, and means of including students from different backgrounds and with different learning abilities.
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including teaching evaluations (when available) demonstrating excellence in instruction.
6. Unofficial graduate transcripts.
7. Two writing samples, one of which must be single authored.
8. a list of three professional references (name, title, email address, and phone number) willing to provide letters of recommendation if requested during the application process. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14585

Bowdoin College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

Bowdoin College's Department of Government invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty appointment in International Relations at the Assistant Professor level, beginning July 1, 2025. The position subfield is open, with a preference for candidates whose research involves one or more of the following: human rights, international law, or international organizations. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The successful candidate will be expected to teach Introduction to International Relations in rotation, as well as courses in their own specialties; the ability to teach International Law is welcome. A PhD in International Relations or similar is expected by the date of appointment. We are particularly interested in candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate liberal arts education.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful research and/or creative work and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. At Bowdoin, inclusive excellence is an ongoing collective practice that honors our institutional commitment to provide an outstanding liberal arts education and serve the common good. We practice inclusive excellence when we build capacity to engage with and learn from differences, leverage resources to disrupt inequities, and foster belonging so that all members of our community can thrive.

The Bowdoin community warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the College's multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. Accessibility during the application and interview stages, as well as once employed, is a priority of the College: <https://www.bowdoin.edu/accessibility/index.html>. We recognize that recruiting faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, the College has developed a policy for considering short-term (non-renewable), part-time faculty appointments for academic spouses and partners and will facilitate outreach and networking for non-academic spouses and partners. Finally, visa sponsorships for faculty hires are available.

Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long pre-tenure sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals. Support for teaching, grant-writing, digital initiatives, computing software, and community partnerships in courses is readily available to all faculty. The College also offers robust programming and resources for establishing and enhancing mentoring networks.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu/postings/14466> to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion; and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland, the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (40% students of color, 7% international students and 18% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14574

University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Security)

The Department of Political Science in the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Security. This is a standard nine-month faculty appointment.

The successful candidate's scholarship and teaching should concentrate on international relations and international security, focusing on one or more of the following areas: strategic studies, cybersecurity, terrorism and counterterrorism, critical security studies, human security, and environmental security. The individual will be expected to work with our college's and International & Global Studies program. The expected teaching load will be two courses a semester. This individual will teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their area of expertise, and contribute to service.

Minimum Qualifications

With submitted materials, the candidate must demonstrate:

1. A Ph.D. degree in Political Science or International Relations with a specialization in international security or a related field from an accredited institution of higher education conferred by the start of appointment.
2. A demonstrated ability to teach an undergraduate Introduction to International Relations course.
3. An ability to teach some combination of the following courses at the undergraduate or graduate level: International Conflict and National Security Policy, Theories of International Relations, and American Foreign Policy.
4. A record of successful research and publication (e.g., journal articles published in reputable outlets).
5. A well-defined research agenda that focuses on international security.
6. Evidence of effective teaching (e.g., teaching evaluations, sample syllabus, teaching portfolio).

Preferred Qualifications:

1. A strong and active research agenda that is well-grounded in theory and backed by advanced analytical, methodological, and empirical skills.
2. A demonstrated potential for publishing in top-tier outlets.
3. A demonstrated commitment to graduate and undergraduate education and a willingness to contribute to our department's existing teaching strengths.
4. A demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a student population from different backgrounds.
5. Potential to secure external grant funding.
6. A demonstrated commitment to active scholarly service

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Recruitment Contact Information: Shirin Saeidi, search committee chair, saeidi@uark.edu.

The department chair, Bill Schreckhise, will be at the APSA's annual meeting in Philadelphia and participating in APSA's interview services at the conference. His email address is schreckw@uark.edu. You can use this Google form to select a time for the interview here: <https://forms.gle/q7Q8pDUzZjXi26KT9>.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All application materials must be uploaded to the University of Arkansas System Career Site <https://uasys.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/UASYS>

Completed applications received by September 15, 2024, will be assured full consideration. Late applications will be reviewed as necessary to fill the position.

For additional inquiries, please contact the search committee chair, Shirin Saeidi, at saeidi@uark.edu.

Applicants must submit

1. A cover letter indicating interest and qualifications.
2. A current curriculum vitae.
3. A research statement.
4. A teaching statement describing approach to instruction, assessment of learning, and means of including students from different backgrounds and with different learning abilities.
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including teaching evaluations (when available) demonstrating excellence in instruction.
6. Unofficial graduate transcripts.
7. Two writing samples, one of which must be single authored.
8. A list of three professional references (name, title, email address, and phone number) willing to provide letters of recommendation if requested during the application process. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14576

Lake Forest College

Rank: Latin American Politics and International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Specializations: South America, Central America, Mexico

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics and International Relations invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in comparative politics or international relations with a specialization in Latin America to begin August 2025. We seek someone to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics; Introduction to Global Politics; a research methods survey course, required for Politics and International Relations majors, that includes qualitative and/or quantitative methods; and a broad range of other courses in comparative politics or international relations with a focus on Spanish-speaking countries in Latin America. While we encourage candidates of all substantive interests to apply, those whose work focuses on issues of human rights, social movements, migration, indigenous communities, or populism are preferred. Additionally, candidates with corollary research and/or teaching interests in the Latinx experience within the domestic United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

Lake Forest College has a rich, interdisciplinary program in Latin American and Latinx Studies to which the successful candidate is expected to contribute significantly. Other interdisciplinary programs include Urban Studies; Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies; African American Studies; and Social Justice. We also have an "In the Loop" semester-long residential program in Chicago, as well as many courses emphasizing Chicago history, politics, and its diverse cultures. Lake Forest College's proximity to Chicago provides an opportunity to use the city as a "laboratory" for student work and research. We are interested in candidates who can contribute to any of these programs. We are especially interested in candidates who can incorporate students into their research programs and want to build a career centered on teaching and advising excellence.

Candidates are expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. A Ph.D. in political science or a related field is required. (ABD is acceptable if degree is conferred prior to the start of the 25-26 academic year.) Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students).

We support faculty research through the provision of student research assistants and the potential to apply for summer research funds. The successful passage of the third-year review earns a one-semester sabbatical at full pay in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, an unofficial graduate transcript, a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting, sample syllabi, a single sample of scholarly writing, three confidential letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to James J. Marquardt, Ph.D., Chair of the Department of Politics and International Relations at the following email address: latinamericasearch2024@lakeforest.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled but must be received by October 1, 2024, to be assured full consideration.

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago's North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,800 students from more than 40 states and from more than 100 countries. Lake Forest is one of the most diverse small colleges in the Midwest with approximately 40% of our student body comprised of domestic students of color and international students. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member's teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. The College also expects peer-reviewed publications and active participation in the College community. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14565

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00006

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral associates are expected to participate regularly in the scholarly and academic activities of the program.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. Start date is around September 1, 2025.

Appointments are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year, starting September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34843>.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4. A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5. Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Eligible candidate must have less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14514

Grinnell College

Rank: Political Science/International Relations Tenure Track Fall 2025

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations

GRINNELL COLLEGE. The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in International Relations beginning Fall 2025. Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD) or Associate Professor possible. Research and teaching interests might include, but are not limited to: security, conflict, political violence, human rights, foreign policy, global governance, international organizations, or international law. High consideration will be given to individuals who can demonstrate educational, research, service, or other experiences that prepare them for mentoring and engaging with underrepresented and historically marginalized students and colleagues.

Grinnell College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts college with a strong tradition of social responsibility. In letters of application, candidates should discuss their potential to contribute to a college community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. To be assured of full consideration, all application materials should be received by September 13, 2024. Please visit our application website at <https://jobs.grinnell.edu> to find more details about the job and submit applications online. Candidates will need to upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (copies are acceptable), a sample of scholarly work, and provide email addresses for three references. Questions about this search should be directed to the search chair, Professor Barry Driscoll at [politicalscienceresearch@grinnell.edu] or 641-269-3137.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/25/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14545

Harvard University

Rank: TENURE-TRACK PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT – INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in Government specializing in International Relations. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2025. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates are encouraged to apply by September 20, 2024; applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

Basic Qualifications: Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science, Government or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Additional Qualifications: Demonstrated strong commitment to teaching and advising is desired.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 16, 2024.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching/advising statement (describing the candidate's teaching philosophy and practices as well as their approach to creating a learning environment in which students are encouraged to ask questions and share their ideas)
4. Research statement
5. Service statement describing efforts to strengthen academic communities, e.g., the candidate's department, institution, and/or professional societies.
6. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received. At least one letter must come from someone who has not served as the candidate's undergraduate, graduate, or postdoctoral advisor.

7. Publications or copies of creative works, if applicable.

The health of our workforce is a priority for Harvard University. With that in mind, we strongly encourage all employees to be up-to-date on CDC-recommended vaccines.

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, creed, national origin, ancestry, age, protected veteran status, disability, genetic information, military service, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or other protected status.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14548

Tel Aviv University

Rank: Tenure-track Appointment in The School of Political Science, Government and International Affairs,

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The School of Political Science, Government, and International Affairs at Tel Aviv University invites applications for two open rank tenure-track positions. Preference will be given to researchers specializing in international relations or comparative politics, as well as scholars studying the interaction between politics and technology. The term of appointment will begin on October 1, 2025.

Successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence and endorsements from referees of high standing. The successful candidate is expected to pursue an innovative research program. Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Hebrew is the primary language of instruction at Tel Aviv University, and candidates must be able to teach courses in Hebrew within three years of their appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and brief research and teaching statements (no more than two pages for each statement). Interested individuals must submit their application materials using the submission portal (link below). Additionally, applicants should ask for three letters of recommendation (on letterhead, signed) that should be sent directly by the letter writers to the search committee via e-mail to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il by October 10, 2024.

The committee will begin reading applications on October 10, 2024, but may consider files received after this date. The school reserves the right to make (or not make) an appointment according to its exclusive consideration.

Submission portal link:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdsqhyrJ-DMjorvsIXEYKET9HMUW1Q7bJyiPm7\_Je\_jWKIUHg/viewform

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/10/2024

Date Posted: 7/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14525

Hamilton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (African Politics)

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a tenure-track position in African politics to begin in Summer 2025. The department seeks a specialist in sub-Saharan African politics, but within this specialty, we are open to all substantive areas of expertise in either comparative politics or international relations.

The teaching load for this position is four courses during the first year and five courses thereafter, including an introductory course in either comparative politics or international relations and upper-level courses in the candidate's specialty. The expected salary range for this position is $89,800 to $96,000. The position requires institutional service, including academic advising of undergraduate students after the first year.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, evidence of teaching ability, and letters of reference via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150100>. We seek candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address ways in which you raise issues of diversity, equity, inclusion, and/or belonging in your teaching, scholarship, and/or service. Preference will be given to candidates who have the PhD in hand at the start of the position, but ABD candidates will also be considered.

Our review of applications will begin on 15 September 2024. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Prof. Sharon Rivera, African Politics Search Committee Chair, at srivera@hamilton.edu.

**To schedule an informational interview at APSA 2024, please email Erica De Bruin (edebruin@hamilton.edu) and Heather Sullivan (hasuliv@hamilton.edu).

Hamilton College is a residential liberal arts college located in central New York. The College has built its reputation on the teaching excellence and leading scholarship of its faculty, and on the academic distinction and intellectual curiosity of its approximately 2000 students who take advantage of Hamilton's open curriculum (<https://www.hamilton.edu/academics/open-curriculum>). Accomplished faculty, highly capable and motivated students, and a student-faculty ratio of 9:1 provide an educational experience that emphasizes academic excellence, intellectual and cultural diversity, and respect for differences in the development of students as human beings. Hamilton's commitment to diversity is embodied in its need-blind admission policy and meeting the full demonstrated financial need of every accepted student for their entire undergraduate program. Please visit the college website for more information (www.hamilton.edu).

Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer that is committed to building an inclusive and diverse learning community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and excel. We encourage candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education to apply. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at <https://www.hercjobs.org/regions/higher-ed-careers-upstate-new-york/>, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/dof>

faculty-development/resources-for-prospective-or-new-faculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/24/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14529

Franklin & Marshall College

Rank: Tenure Track Position

Franklin & Marshall College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Government beginning August 2025. The rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor depending on qualifications. Applicants should possess or be close to completing a doctorate degree. The position is in international relations and we are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching combine that expertise with a regional focus on the Middle East. In addition, the candidate would offer courses that build on the Department's offerings along with contributions in the College's general education program, Connections. Faculty maintain active research programs and contribute to the College's shared governance.

Candidates must submit the following items electronically via Interfolio: apply.interfolio.com/149720 : a cover letter; curriculum vitae; graduate transcript(s) (unofficial copies are fine); a holistic statement on your approach to inclusive excellence in teaching and student success; a research statement; teaching evaluations and/or observations (if available); and a list of three reference names (NOTE: letters of reference will be solicited at a later stage, and once they are solicited referees will need to supply them within two weeks). For full consideration applications should be received by September 23, 2024.

Pursuant to cultivating an inclusive college community, the search committee will holistically assess the qualifications of each applicant. We will consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds. We will also consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to academic success.

Franklin & Marshall College is committed to having an inclusive campus community where all members are treated with dignity and respect. As an Equal Opportunity Employer, the College does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices on the basis of gender, sex, race, ethnicity, color, national origin, religion, age, disability, family or marital status, sexual orientation, or any protected characteristic. Individuals who need accommodation due to a disability in order to submit an application or to otherwise participate in the employment process should contact the department's academic coordinator, Caroline Fresh (cfresh@fandm.edu).

Franklin and Marshall College is committed to providing a safe and productive learning, living and working community. To assist in achieving this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective applicants being considered for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14522

University of Southern California

Rank: Full-Time, Teaching or Practice Track Faculty

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications has begun. We will continue to consider new applications until August 1, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies

Department of Political Science and International Relations

Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352

University of Southern California

Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044

morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14523

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2025. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of international relations, including international security, international cooperation, the intersection of domestic politics and IR, foreign policy, and political violence/civil war. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods and use these methods in their work. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2025.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150029>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14509

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant, associate, Full Professor, Korea Foundation Endowed Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Missouri, Columbia is seeking a Korea Foundation Endowed Professor. The position is an open rank tenured/tenure track position focused on Korean politics to begin in the Fall Semester of 2025. This is a 9-month teaching and research appointment. The typical teaching load will be two (2) courses per semester. Additional expectations include active engagement with the University of Missouri Institute for Korean Studies.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:

Competitive applicants will have a clear research agenda, strong theoretical orientation, excellent methodological skills, ability to publish in highly ranked journals and academic presses, and potential for effective teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Applicants from scholars whose research has an emphasis on Korea from all subfields of political science and related fields are encouraged to apply including comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and public administration. However, the ideal candidate will contribute to the TSGPA's teaching and research interests in comparative politics.

Application Materials

Please apply online at: <https://hr.missouri.edu/job-openings> (Job Opening ID 52446). Use the online application and be prepared to upload your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and writing samples. Please also provide evidence of effective teaching, as well as a teaching statement that describes your pedagogical goals/practices including information about your ability to teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students from a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should provide three letters of recommendations to the Truman School Director's Office (mutsgpadirector@missouri.edu). Candidates at the associate or full professor level should provide three names and contact information of references. Written references will be required prior to an on-campus interview. The cover letter should address the following: current and future research, teaching interests including how the applicant ensures the classroom is inclusive of multiple perspectives and of students from different backgrounds, as well as, how the applicant envisions engaging in research focused on Korea, and with universities there. This information can also be provided in separate teaching and research statements.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee Dr. Laron Williams (williamslaro@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science, and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu>.

Benefit Eligibility This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eoo>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14512

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: Tenure Track Position - Gender and International Relations (Open Rank)

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Women & Politics, Conflict Processes

The Department of International Relations at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is seeking to fill the Leonard and Sophie Davis Lecture-ship in Gender, Conflict Resolution, and Peace, beginning fall 2025. We welcome applicants at all academic ranks.

The candidate for this endowed position is expected to have a proven record of excellence in cutting-edge research and teaching in Gender and International Relations with an emphasis on Gender, Conflict Resolution, and Peace, and is expected to take on a leadership role in the development of research and teaching on Gender and IR at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

We encourage applications from scholars of all epistemological and methodological approaches to the study of gender. We especially seek candidates who can complement the strengths of our department in other areas of International Relations. Candidates should be able to conduct research, teach undergraduate and graduate-level classes, as well as mentor students. Advanced doctoral candidates are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than October 1st 2025.

The language of teaching at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years following their arrival.

The deadline for applications is 15 September 2024. Candidates selected by the Department of International Relations require the approval of the Faculty of Social Sciences. The Department of International Relations and the Hebrew University are committed to diversity and equal opportunity. These issues are considered in hiring deliberations.

Please submit all application materials electronically at: <http://tftp.huji.ac.il/>

The applicants will be asked to upload:

- A cover letter stating willingness to begin teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem in the fall of 2025;
- A list of required and elective courses that can be taught at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem;
- A scientific biography outlining research orientation and plans for the coming years;
- A Curriculum Vitae, including teaching experience;
- Three writing samples;
- Teaching evaluations, if available

Three letters of recommendation should be sent directly according to the guidelines on the application website.

For questions regarding the search, please contact Prof. Piki Ish-Shalom, piki.ish-shalom@mail.huji.ac.il

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14435

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: Tenure Track Positions - International Relations (Open rank)

The Department of International Relations at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem seeks to fill one or more tenure-track positions beginning fall 2025.

We seek excellent candidates who can complement the strengths of our department in all areas and subfields of International Relations, broadly defined. Candidates should have a promising research agenda in international relations and be able to teach undergraduate and graduate level classes as well as mentor students.

Junior and senior scholars are encouraged to apply. Applications by Arab-Israeli/Palestinian applicants are especially welcome. Advanced doctoral candidates are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than 1 October 2025.

The language of teaching at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years following their arrival.

The deadline for applications is 15 September 2024. Candidates selected by the Department of International Relations require the approval of the Faculty of Social Sciences. The Department of International Relations and the Hebrew University are committed to diversity and equal opportunity. These issues are considered in hiring deliberations.

Please submit all application materials electronically <http://tpp.huji.ac.il/>.

The applicants will be asked to upload:

- A cover letter stating willingness to begin teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem in the fall of 2025;
- A list of required and elective courses that can be taught at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem;
- A scientific biography outlining research orientation and plans for the coming years;
- A Curriculum Vitae, including teaching experience;
- Three writing samples;
- Teaching evaluations, if available

Three letters of recommendation should be sent directly according to the guidelines on the application website.

For questions regarding the search, please contact Prof. Piki Ish-Shalom (piki.ish-shalom@mail.huji.ac.il)

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14434

Soka University of America

Rank: Tenure-Track Faculty Position Assistant Professor of Middle East and North African (MENA) Studies

The International Studies Concentration at Soka University of America (SUA) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty position as Assistant Professor of Middle East and North African Studies (MENA), effective August 1st, 2025.

The successful candidate will demonstrate their ability to excite and engage classes of 16 or fewer students, to develop a productive program of research and scholarship, and to engage in service.

Responsibilities:

We seek a broadly trained expert in the MENA region who is capable of teaching students from multiple disciplinary, ideological and national perspectives. The successful candidate will be expected to develop a rotation of lower and upper-division courses in consultation with the Concentration and is expected to teach a course on Peace and Conflict in the Middle East. As part of a five-course annual teaching load, the successful applicant will normally teach three courses in the International Studies Concentration as well as two courses in our interdisciplinary general education program, for example, Core 1, Core 2, Modes of Inquiry, Pacific Basin, American Experience, and/or Learning Cluster (see our Undergraduate Catalog.)

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong background in teaching and scholarship as well as evidence of ongoing research activity. The successful candidate should describe a plan to maintain an active research program involving undergraduates. SUA provides resources to support faculty research year-round with undergraduates through institutional research funds and student research assistantships. All SUA graduates complete a Capstone (senior thesis), and successful applicants will demonstrate their ability to mentor student Capstones.

Qualifications:

Applicants will hold or be near completing a PhD in peace studies, political science, economics, sociology, anthropology, cultural studies, history, or another scholarly field with an emphasis on the peoples and countries of the Middle East and North Africa.

Candidates should demonstrate responsiveness toward and understanding of diverse student backgrounds, especially regarding socioeconomic status, race, ethnicity, culture, ability/disability, sexual orientation, and gender identity. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to the university's mission to develop global citizens. Having the ability and willingness to work collegially is essential, as is an understanding of an interdisciplinary liberal arts curriculum.

Soka University of America:

Soka University of America (SUA), located in Aliso Viejo, California, is a private liberal arts college founded on the principles of peace, human rights, and the sanctity of life. It offers a unique and globally focused education with a commitment to fostering a learning environment that emphasizes critical thinking, creativity, and intercultural understanding. SUA's small student body, approximately 450 undergraduates, ensures personalized attention and a close-knit academic community. The university's curriculum is rooted in the liberal arts tradition and incorporates a strong international perspective, requiring students to study abroad for a semester. Faculty members at SUA have the opportunity to engage in interdisciplinary teaching and research, supported by state-of-the-art facilities and a strong commitment to faculty development and academic freedom. The campus is known for its beautiful architecture, serene environment, and a culture that values dialogue, diversity, and the holistic development of its students.

Application Instructions:

Applicants should submit the following materials: (1) Letter of application addressing the required qualifications; (2) A Curriculum vitae; (3) A teaching statement that describes their teaching experience in relevant courses, specifically a philosophy that should reflect how the candidate would address teaching needs in a liberal arts environment and address diverse identities and viewpoints (maximum two pages, single-spaced); (4) Statement of research interests and plan, detailing how undergraduate students will be involved (maximum two pages, single-spaced); and (5) three letters of reference, uploaded directly via Interfolio.

We welcome all candidates and encourage those from historically disadvantaged communities.

Review of applications will begin on 15 November and will continue until the position is filled.

Employment is contingent on the completion of a successful background check.

Benefits and Salary:

SUA offers an excellent benefits package for full-time faculty that includes medical, dental, vision, retirement, dependent tuition remission, and faculty home loans. The salary range for this position is $87,000 - $97,000 and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please apply by submitting your application through Interfolio using this link:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/148730>

Email: facultyrecruiting@soka.edu

Soka University of America is an equal-opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14466

National University of Singapore

Rank: Associate Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites application for one full-time tenure-track or tenured position in International Relations at the rank of full Professor or Associate Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all areas of the subfield, including but not limited to non-traditional security, human security, and gender and international relations. We especially encourage applications from candidates with research experience relating to Asia and whose backgrounds are traditionally underrepresented in the discipline. Candidates should submit a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests as well as leadership experience; curriculum vitae; up to three writing samples; four references; and teaching evaluations and materials if available.

The teaching load is three modules per academic year. Compensation is competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support. Successful candidates are expected to teach graduate and undergraduate classes and take a leading role in developing new departmental initiatives.

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.fas.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) includes scholars working in all areas of political science. Faculty and students can take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, and various research institutes including the Asia-Europe Foundation, the Institute of South Asian Studies, the East Asia Institute, and the Yusof Ishak Institute—Institute of Southeast Asian Studies among others. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a global leader in research and higher education. Singapore is a highly livable global city that is a major regional and international travel hub. Members of the search committee will be attending the American Political Science Annual Meeting 2024 and would be happy to arrange informal informational meetings.

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal : <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/21719/> . Applications will be reviewed on 1 October 2024, and continue until the search is complete. Application materials should be sent to the Chair of the Search Committee at polbox5@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14457

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invites applications for postdoctoral research associates from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by July 1, 2025, for the 2025-2026 academic year. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies are of relevance. Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. NCGG invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and related activities for the duration of the fellowship (July 1, 2025- July 1, 2026). Appointments are for one year.

Application Deadline - Applicants should apply by Tuesday, October 1, 2024 (11:59 pm EST) for full consideration; however, posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process - All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35041>.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by July 1, 2025, in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

*Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;

*Current curriculum vitae, including publications;

*2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;

*One writing sample (limit of 50 pages);

*Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Saturday, October 5, 2024. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted on time.

Salary - Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund. This is a one-year appointment.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in December 2024. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14462

George Washington University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Elizabeth J. Somers Women's Leadership Program (WLP) at the George Washington University in Washington, D.C invites applications for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science position to fill a 1-year vacancy beginning August 12, 2024. WLP is a selective, living-learning program for first year students to build leadership skills within the context of their discipline and as part of a supportive community. Students enroll in one of 4 WLP cohorts: Globalization, Economics, & Business; International Arts & Culture; Science, Health, & Medicine; or International Politics. Students take foundational courses in their field of study in small classes with their cohort faculty members both fall and spring, as well as a year-long, experiential leadership symposium course.

The selected candidate will serve as the primary faculty and Program Coordinator for the International Politics cohort of approximately 20 students in the WLP. They will teach small classes of first-year students for WLP and the University Honors Program. The selected candidate will report to the Associate Provost for Undergraduate Affairs and Special Programs. They will work with the WLP Director and colleagues to integrate co-curricular offerings and activities to enhance the academic experiences of all WLP students. The Program Coordinator serves as instructor, academic mentor, and advisor to students in the International Politics cohort, teaching Introduction to International Politics and Introduction to Comparative Politics, and helping students navigate their college experience from the first year and beyond. They will also participate in WLP orientation, information sessions for prospective students, and other campus events.

Diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) are core principles of the WLP, and we are committed to building and sustaining a community that is supportive and inclusive of all individuals. Strong candidates will have experience and vision regarding teaching and mentorship of students of multiple and diverse backgrounds with attention to structural barriers that limit access to educational opportunities. The university has a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff, and we are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of historically marginalized groups. Learn more about our commitment via the GW Statement on Diversity and Inclusion.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants must have excellent teaching skills as demonstrated by student evaluations, a strong desire to teach and mentor students at the undergraduate level, and a demonstrated commitment to equity and inclusion in the classroom. For appointment at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor, they must hold a doctorate in political science or related field by date of appointment. ABD applicants will be considered for appointment at the rank of Visiting Instructor if they have not completed all requirements for the doctorate by date of appointment.

Specific Duties and Responsibilities: The effort breakdown for the position is 70% teaching, 15% administration/service, and 15% scholarship. The teaching component includes four undergraduate courses during the course of the year and co-teaching a year-long, one-credit leadership symposium. Two courses and the symposium are taught to first-year students in the Women's Leadership Program. The remaining two courses are taught to students in the University Honors Program. Administrative work is related to the Program Coordinator role, and includes planning co-curricular events and symposium structure. Service obligations may be met by serving on a departmental or university-level committee, engaging with prospective students, and attending major campus events. Scholarship for this role is broadly defined and may include activities such as presenting at conferences, creating and disseminating curriculum materials, or publishing political science research.

Application Procedure: To apply please send an application to wlp@gwu.edu. Applicants should submit a cover letter that includes a statement of interest in the Women's Leadership Program and discusses contributions to DEI initiatives in their teaching, mentorship, and/or professional engagement.

Applicants should also submit curriculum vitae; evidence of effective teaching through student evaluations; statement of past and/or potential contributions to DEI; and names of three references.

Advertised Salary: Salary is commensurate with experience

The George Washington University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

A direct link to the GW jobs portal can be found here: <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/112299>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 7/29/2024

Date Posted: 6/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14450

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Latin American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach a course in-person on Latin American Politics (one section only) for the Fall 2024 semester in a part-time, non-tenure track position as a teaching faculty member. The upper-level course is called PS 303 Latin American Politics.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14441

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Middle East Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach an upper-level, undergraduate course in person on Middle East Politics (one section only) for the Spring 2025 semester. The instructor will teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity .

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14442

Brandeis University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of Politics at Brandeis University invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in academic year 2025-2026. This position is subject to budget approval. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests focus on one or more of these areas: international conflict and cooperation; foreign policy; national security; and war and peace. Duties include the teaching of undergraduate courses in International Relations, including Introduction to International Relations, one or more courses on a topic listed above, and more specialized offerings; undergraduate thesis advising; and departmental and university service. The course load is two courses per semester. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in hand by August 2025. Applicants should submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; a statement of research and teaching interests (including potential course offerings and, where available, syllabi and student evaluations); a statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion; two chapters or article-length writing samples; and names and contact information for three referees. Brandeis University is committed to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and service. In the statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion, applicants should address how their experiences, interests, commitments, or future goals could promote and build departmental and institutional pluralism, justice, and unity. Only online applications will be accepted. Application materials may be uploaded here: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27783>. First consideration will be given to applications received by 23 September 2024. Questions about the position can be directed to: Kerry Chase, Chair, Search Committee on International Relations (chase@brandeis.edu). At Brandeis, we believe that diversity, equity, and inclusion are essential components of academic excellence. Brandeis University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer that is committed to creating equitable access and opportunities for applicants to all employment positions. Because diversity, equity, and inclusion are at the core of Brandeis' history and mission, we value and are seeking candidates with a variety of social identities, including those that have been underrepresented in higher education, who possess skills that spark innovation, and who, through their scholarly pursuits, teaching, and/or service experiences, bring expertise in building, engaging and sustaining a pluralistic, unified, and just campus community.

Application Materials Required:

Submit the following items online at this website to complete your application:

Cover letter

Curriculum Vitae

statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion

Two chapters or article-length writing samples statement of research and teaching interests (including potential course offerings and, where available, syllabi and student evaluations)

Three references (no actual letters, just names and email addresses help popup)

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14438

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry. The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system professor at the rank of Assistant Professor in the field of public law, broadly construed.

Candidates from all subfields and methodological approaches whose research and teaching contribute to the scientific study of law are strongly encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests would complement existing thematic areas and subfields within the department: Minority Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy, and/or American Politics. Substantive areas of interest include, but are not limited to, civil rights, civil liberties, comparative judicial institutions, comparative law, human rights, international law, judicial behavior, judicial elections, or the philosophy of law.

Candidates with a history of receiving external research funding, or those with mature plans to apply for funding, will be highly favored. The candidate would be expected to teach courses and mentor students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Required Degree

Doctorate by date of hire

Minimum Requirements

- Completed PhD by the date of hire.
- Research and teaching interests that contribute to the scientific study of law.
- Potential for high impact peer-reviewed publications.
- Potential for obtaining external funding.
- Potential for high-quality instruction and mentoring at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- Potential for working with students from diverse backgrounds and working to improving access to higher education for all students.

Desired Qualifications

- Research and teaching interests that connect with existing thematic areas and/or subfields within the Department of Political Science (see position summary).

Required Application Materials

Electronic submission is required, and materials should be uploaded at <http://careers.msu.edu> (posting number 950778). Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, a diversity and inclusion statement, and contact information for three references.

Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024. The search committee members are Ryan Black (search chair, rblack@msu.edu), Ana Bracic (bracic@msu.edu), and Cory Smidt (smidtc@msu.edu). Please contact any committee member with questions about this position.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14440

Baylor University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations

Specializations: International Security, International Political Economy, Science & Technology

To apply, go to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/147215>

Baylor University seeks to fill a tenure-track faculty position within the Department of Political Science at the Assistant Professor level in the field of International Relations, beginning Fall 2025. Area of specialization is open, and we welcome all methodological approaches. The department is particularly interested in candidates whose research or teaching interests include alliances, diplomacy, emerging technologies, environmental/climate politics, globalization, history of international relations thought, human rights, international political economy, migration, the Middle East, religion, or security studies. An ability to contribute to the university's cybersecurity initiative would be a plus.

In their application materials, candidates whose teaching/research intersects their faith are welcome to reflect on those connections.

Please visit our webpage for more information about the College of Arts and Sciences and the Department of Political Science: <https://politicalscience.artsandsciences.baylor.edu/>

About Baylor University: Located in Waco, Texas, Baylor University is the oldest college in Texas. With a population of 21,000 diverse students, Baylor is one of the top universities in the nation, having been named an R1 institution by the Carnegie Classification in January 2022. Baylor is also on the honor roll of the "Great Colleges to Work For" from The Chronicle of Higher Education; Baylor offers competitive salaries and benefits while allowing faculty and staff to live in one of the fastest-growing parts of the state. Our strategic plan, Illuminate, guides the University as we continue to live up to Baylor's mission of educating men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Qualifications:

1. Candidates must have fulfilled all doctoral degree requirements in political science or a related field by the time of appointment.
2. Candidates must demonstrate an active research agenda and a commitment to research excellence.
3. A commitment to teaching excellence as demonstrated by pedagogical thoughtfulness and effective classroom instruction is preferred.

Please submit the following materials electronically via Interfolio:

1. cover letter
2. curriculum vitae
3. research statement
4. teaching portfolio including a statement of teaching philosophy and, if available, student evaluations and sample syllabi
5. copy of the transcript from the highest-degree granting institution (unofficial copy acceptable for application)
6. three letters of recommendation

As part of the application process, all applicants must complete a self-disclosed Religious Affiliation Form.

Candidates invited for an on-campus interview will need to provide official transcripts.

Complete applications must be submitted by 11 PM Central time on 9/12/2024.

Questions concerning the position should be directed to the Search Committee Chairs, Peter Campbell and Richard Jordan, peter\_campbell@baylor.edu and richard\_jordan@baylor.edu.

Baylor University is committed to making information and resources available via the web accessible for all users. If you are a job seeker and need accessibility assistance or accommodation to apply for one of our open positions, please call 254-710-2000.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/12/2024

Date Posted: 6/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14430

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Teaching Faculty Lecturer in International Security, Defence & Diplomacy, with support for the NATO Field School

Specializations: International Security, Defense, Intelligence

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a continuing Lecturer position in International Security, Defence and Diplomacy. The candidate will provide teaching and support to the NATO Field School (NFS) and teach introductory courses in Political Science and courses in their areas of expertise. The position will start when filled; preferred starting date is January 2025.

We seek candidates who have a strong background in International Security, Defence, and/or Diplomacy, as well as outstanding teaching skills in a diversity of classroom settings. Relevant experiences in experiential learning (hands-on learning, field exercises, summer schools, simulations, case studies, role-play exercises, peer group learning, etc.) are an asset.

Duties

The successful candidate will collaborate with the NFS Director in preparing and teaching the NFS. The NFS is a growing teaching and engagement endeavour with an emphasis on professional placement of its graduates.

In Political Science, the standard course load for lecturers is eight courses per year. The Collective Agreement stipulates that teaching faculty are to be released from their teaching duties one out every nine terms. This position will likely be paired with an additional role – involving logistical and administrative tasks to support the NFS – that will reduce the overall teaching load based on the level of support.

The NATO Field School and Simulation Program is an intensive political science experience that combines coursework with experiential learning. As one of the lead instructors, you are expected to:

- Act as a liaison between SFU and NATO, working closely with the Director.
- Accompany and guide students during their field school experience
- The NFS is held in Europe every summer. The candidate will be expected to travel for up to eight weeks per year in summer to support the field school.
- Help to set up the logistics and with recruitment and financial reporting for the field school.
- Teach courses and prepare lectures relevant to the topic.
- Set up simulations and other exercises to help students prepare for the field school.

Required Qualifications:

- The chosen candidate must hold a PhD in Political Science or in a related field, with research and/or teaching experience in Defence, Diplomacy, and/or International Security. Candidates with firm defence dates by December 2024 may be considered
- Candidates should have demonstrated teaching experience and potential for teaching excellence

Desirable Qualifications:

The following attributes will be considered as additional assets for the position:

- Academic expertise in at least one of the following areas: NATO; international institutions; interstate conflict, diplomacy and negotiations; North American security and defence; Indo-Pacific security and defence; alliances and multilateral security cooperation; interstate conflict, Canadian foreign policy; cyber information warfare and artificial intelligence
- Teaching experience in experiential and engagement courses, including field schools and security simulations for university students
- Professional experience in defence, diplomacy or international relations
- Related publications
- Teaching experience in large classes introductory classes particularly introductory courses in International Relations and Political Science

Candidates must submit the following documents in a single PDF to pol\_apply@sfu.ca:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Teaching portfolio demonstrating teaching excellence in experiential learning and simulations and discussing candidate's approach to equity, diversity and inclusion
- List of three possible referees, to be contacted if the candidate is short-listed

Full consideration will be given to applications submitted by September 5, 2024, however, we will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. Short-listed candidates will be contacted to have three letters of reference forwarded directly to the department via email at pol\_apply@sfu.ca

Faculty salaries at SFU are based on the salary scales bargained between the University and the SFU Faculty Association. A reasonable estimate of the salary range for this role is $98,340 to $114,241.

Simon Fraser University is an institution whose strength is based on our shared commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Diversity is an underlying principle of our Strategic Vision, which pledges SFU to "foster a culture of inclusion and mutual respect, celebrating the diversity reflected among its students, faculty, staff, and our community." SFU is committed to ensuring that no individual is denied access to employment opportunities for reasons unrelated to ability or qualifications. Consistent with this principle, SFU will advance the interests of underrepresented members of the work force, including Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, racialized persons, and women; embrace gender and sexual diversity; ensure that equal opportunity is afforded to all who seek employment at the University; and treat all employees equitably. Candidates that belong to underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.

SFU is consistently ranked among the top comprehensive universities in Canada and was recently ranked in the top 50 in the world for engaged research. The Department of Political Science at SFU has a growing number of faculty in diverse fields and is strongly supportive of faculty members' strengths, interests, and career progress. The department strongly believes in methodological pluralism. More information about the department and the university can be found on our website: <http://www.sfu.ca/politics.html>. The campus is located on Burnaby Mountain in Greater Vancouver. Vancouver is a scenic waterfront city located minutes from the mountains and a wide range of outdoor activities. It has a reputation as a clean, safe, multicultural, and ethnically diverse city and is one of the very top cities in the world in which to live and work.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. This position is subject to the availability of funding.

Personal information that forms part of an application is collected under the general authority of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, applicable University Policies, and the SFUFA/SFU Collective Agreement. For further details see the full Collection Notice.

Please submit all inquiries and application materials to pol\_apply@sfu.ca

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14427

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Department of Political Science in Cambridge MA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor effective July 1st, 2025, or as soon thereafter as possible. Responsibilities include research, graduate and undergraduate teaching, and student research supervision. Applicants should have a PhD degree in Political Science or a related field by start of employment. MIT is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin. Applications should include a cover letter which addresses your research agenda and teaching interests. Also include a CV, writing sample(s), and three recommendations. Please submit online applications to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27779> <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27779> and completed applications must be submitted by September 15th, 2024.

Employment is contingent upon the completion of a satisfactory background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 6/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14423

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Professor of Public Policy

The University of Michigan's Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy invites applications for a tenured position in International Policy, especially at the rank of full professor. We welcome a broad range of applicants who have a PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, Economics, or Sociology who conduct policy-relevant research on international institutions. Examples of topical focus include (but are not limited to) sustainability, migration, conflict, or global or regional collaboration. Successful candidates must demonstrate a record of outstanding research impact; ability and willingness to teach core and elective courses in undergraduate, master and PhD degree programs in public policy; effective public and policy engagement; and a keen interest in interacting with students, faculty, staff, and policy practitioners in an interdisciplinary professional school environment. Candidates should combine relevant substantive expertise with strong interests in public policy. A demonstrated record of leadership in an academic or policy setting is a plus.

The following application materials are required: a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; a statement of research and policy interests; a statement of teaching experience and philosophy; the names of three references; and a statement describing how your work would contribute to the Ford School's and University of Michigan's strategic commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion (fordschool.umich.edu/dei).

Interested applicants may upload their application materials to <http://apply.interfolio.com/148203>. This is an ongoing search. First consideration will be given to applications received by October 1, 2024, but applications will be considered until the position is filled.

The University of Michigan is an AA/EEO employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. The University is supportive of the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 6/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14418

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science and International Relations

Specializations: Environmental Policy, South Asia, Russia

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning in Fall 2025. Loyola Marymount University (LMU) faculty are helping to create the world we want to live in. We are seeking the next generation of mission-driven teacher-scholars. We seek a candidate who is excited to teach undergraduate students.

<https://academics.lmu.edu/joinourfaculty/>

Substantively, the department is interested in candidates with expertise in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are open to field but will prioritize areas that complement our department's curricular needs, including but not limited to:

Environment/climate change

Democracy and authoritarianism

Comparative public policy

South Asia, Russia, China

International organizations

Security

International Relations Theory

We are open to methodological approach and welcome qualitative, quantitative and mixed methods research.

The regular teaching load for this position includes teaching introductory courses (e.g. comparative politics, international relations) and upper-division courses. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3-course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department's mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Our department welcomes antiracist and inclusive pedagogies, and/or curricula.

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal (<http://jobs.lmu.edu>). Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU's Mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi as a single PDF.

A minimum of three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLS@lmu.edu.

Only online applications will be accepted.

Please direct questions to POLS@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 13, 2024, and will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search.

A PhD is required; ABD applicants who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2025 will be considered.

#HERC# #HEJ#

Faculty Regular

Reasonable expected salary: $87,000.00

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experience, and beliefs to apply. (Visit www.lmu.edu for more information.)

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/12/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14425

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, International/Global History, International Relations

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, International Security

Description

Yale University seeks applicants with expertise in the field of international/global history or international relations for a tenured faculty position at the Associate or Full Professor level, to begin 1 July 2025.

The successful candidate will receive a fully joint appointment in the Jackson School of Global Affairs and either the Faculty of Arts and Sciences' Department of History or its Department of Political Science. The appointee will be expected to teach courses in international relations or international/global history and share their teaching and service obligations between both the Jackson School and the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications

The appointee must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a directly related field by the time of hire.

Application Instructions

Application materials include a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement and writing sample. Materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/147211>.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Larisa Satara at larisa.satara@yale.edu if you have questions regarding the position or application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 6/10/2025

Date Posted: 6/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14405

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get\_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor (Presidential Young Professor (PYP) )

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for the tenure-track position of Presidential Young Professor (PYP) at the rank of Assistant Professor, to commence in 2025. Applications are invited from all major subfields of political science including, but not limited to, comparative politics, international relations, and public policy. We are especially interested in candidates with an Asia-focused research programme.

The NUS Presidential Young Professorship and NUS Presidential Fellowship Awards aim to attract, support, and empower the brightest and most promising young academics in the early stage of their careers so that they can develop themselves into world-class scholars. As a young academic at NUS, you will have the opportunity to work alongside a diverse and dynamic community of scholars and students, to pursue excellence and innovation with a positive societal impact. Successful PYP candidates are awarded a start-up grant package of either SGD 250,000 or SGD 750,000, depending on the demands of their research program. Successful PYP candidates are also granted an award of an additional SGD 250,000 for discretionary spending.

The NUS Department of Political Science is one of the leading global programs, with a vibrant research culture and located in a cosmopolitan hub. It is one of 15 departments within the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. Southeast and East Asia are geographical areas of departmental strength, but our 20+ faculty members have research interests which range across the subfields of political theory, international relations, comparative politics, and governance and public policy. In addition, the world-renowned Asia Research Institute (ARI) at NUS engages political scientists as part of its interdisciplinary community, as do our many area studies departments. Our department is committed to promoting equity, diversity, and inclusion as integral values in our strategic development. We also offer a competitive remuneration package, including housing and relocation benefits for eligible overseas candidates. The typical teaching load is 2:1 (one or two courses per semester, totaling three per academic year).

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25147/>. Application dossiers should include:

- ? A brief cover letter explaining why the position at NUS is of interest and discusses the ambition of your research program
- ? A comprehensive CV with a complete list of publications, awards, grants, and courses taught
- ? A research statement with a three year research plan
- ? Two signature publications with the applicant as the lead author
- ? Letters from at least three referees. If the applicant is two or more years post-PhD, the referees should not be limited to supervisors. The referees should compare the research performance of the applicant to specific individuals at equivalent and top institutions and/or programs. Please send all referee letters directly to pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Review of applications will begin on 29 July 2024 and continue until an appointment is made. We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified. If there are any questions, please email the search committee at pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14396

Fordham University

Rank: Tenure-Track: International Politics/Security (Fordham University)

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure track position in International Politics at the Assistant Professor level, beginning Fall 2025. The primary location for this position is at Fordham College-Rose Hill campus in the Bronx but service may be at any campus of the University.

We are particularly interested in candidates in the field of international security. We especially welcome applicants with regional expertise and a perspective from the Global South. Specializations for this position include, but would not be limited to: inter-state conflict; great power politics; national security; foreign policy; transnational terrorism; and the politics of weapons of mass destruction. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to undergraduate and graduate curricular needs in political science, as well as contribute to Fordham's interdisciplinary International Studies major, the Humanitarian Studies Program, and the Cybersecurity Program. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with institutions within New York City and contribute to our University and department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with our Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that diversity is central to the excellence of our academic programs, and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students of different races and ethnicities, from a range of socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor Anjali Dayal, Committee Chair, via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/147076>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience; curriculum vitae; writing sample; a diversity, equity, and inclusion statement; three letters of recommendation; and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience and may include past course syllabi, peer observations, and/or student evaluations. The diversity, equity, and inclusion statement should address how the candidate's teaching, mentoring, scholarship, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Earned Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans, and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14393

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

All applications must be submitted electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/147035>

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position for a scholar who studies World Politics/International Relations.

This position is at the assistant professor rank and is a university year appointment. It is anticipated to begin August 25, 2025. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required.

Applicants should include the following applications materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts, and a statement that demonstrates your commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation. Information on our research initiatives and scholarly interest of current faculty can be found on the Department's website: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci>. All applications must be submitted electronically to: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/current-job-postings.html>.

For full consideration, complete applications should be submitted by August 19, 2024.

Employment will require a criminal background check and candidates must meet all degree requirements prior to the start date of the position.

The University of Michigan is committed to fostering and maintaining a diverse work culture that respects the rights of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, gender expression, height, weight, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, or veteran status. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 8/19/2024
Date Posted: 5/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14383

Mount Holyoke College

Rank: Tenure-track faculty position

Open Rank Professor of Politics
 Department of Politics

The Department of Politics at Mount Holyoke College invites applications for an open rank tenure-track faculty position in international relations with specialization in U.S. foreign policy, to begin July 1, 2025. Ph.D. or A.B.D. in political science required.

Candidates should be prepared to teach a range of introductory through advanced undergraduate courses on both the process and substance of U.S. foreign policy since World War II. They may also expect to teach an introductory course in international relations on a rotating basis. The successful candidate will teach and mentor students in both Politics and the multidisciplinary International Relations Program. Teaching load is 2-2. The successful candidate will have a demonstrated record of strong teaching at the undergraduate level and experience mentoring students who are broadly diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, C.V., and statements concerning (1) research interests, (2) teaching philosophy, and (3) mentoring of a diverse student body. In addition, they should provide graduate transcripts, a sample syllabus of an introductory course in international relations, a sample syllabus of a course on U.S. foreign policy, and a short writing sample in their field of specialization. Please upload these additional documents in the Please upload other documents in support of your application section of the application. The application website is:

https://mtholyoke.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/External/job/Mount-Holyoke-College---Main-Campus/Open-Rank-Professor-of-Politics\_R-0000000969

Deadline for receipt of complete applications is September 15, 2024. Reference letters will be requested at a later date in the process. Questions regarding the position should be directed to the chair of the search committee, Sohail Hashmi.

Mount Holyoke is an undergraduate liberal arts college with 2,200 students and 220 faculty. Mount Holyoke College is located about 90 miles west of Boston in the Connecticut River valley, and is a member of the Five College Consortium consisting of Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts.

Background Checks:

Mount Holyoke College is committed to providing a safe and secure environment, supported by qualified employees that will allow all of its students, faculty, staff and those associated with them to successfully carry out the mission of the college. As a condition of employment, the College will conduct appropriate background checks for all new hires. Mount Holyoke has designated the Office of Human Resources as the office responsible for ensuring that background checks (CORI, SORI, Credit History, & Driver Credential) are completed and utilized in the hiring process and Five College Office of Compliance and Risk Management as the office responsible for facilitating background checks as articulated in this policy.

Special Instructions for Applicants:

Apply online; application materials must include:

- A cover letter summarizing interests and qualifications
- A complete resume or curriculum vitae
- For faculty positions, statements on mentoring, teaching, and research will also be required.

Mount Holyoke College is an Equal Opportunity Employer (EOE)

Mount Holyoke College, the leading gender-diverse women's college, is dedicated to providing equal employment opportunities for all individuals regardless of their race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, or any other legally protected status. We are a diverse community of staff, faculty, and students, united in our mission to offer an intellectually adventurous education in the liberal arts through academic programs that are renowned internationally for their cross-disciplinary excellence, experiential approach, and commitment to diversity.

Mount Holyoke College is a welcoming and inclusive environment that values and respects individuals of all backgrounds. As an EOE, we encourage members of historically underrepresented groups or nontraditional backgrounds to apply for open positions at our institution. The College has a long-standing tradition of providing women and other historically underrepresented groups with access to an innovative educational experience that prepares students for purposeful leadership by integrating hands-on opportunities into the curriculum. We firmly believe that diversity enriches our community and enhances our ability to prepare students for success in an increasingly globalized world.

We are dedicated to providing equal opportunities for all qualified applicants and to building an exemplary workforce that reflects the diversity of our student body and the communities we serve. Our ultimate goal is to produce graduates who are capable of engaging thoughtfully, effectively, and boldly with the world.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 5/30/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14386

Scripps College

Rank: Tenure Track Position in Global Politics

SCRIPPS COLLEGE

CLAREMONT, CALIFORNIA 91711

TENURE TRACK POSITION IN GLOBAL POLITICS

Scripps College, a women's liberal arts college with a strong interdisciplinary tradition, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Global Politics starting July 1, 2025.

The department seeks scholarly and teaching expertise in global politics broadly defined. We are particularly interested in topics including, but not limited to, the transnational politics of climate, migration, gender, human rights, international development, social movements, and settler colonialism, with a preference for expertise in the Global South. We value interdisciplinary approaches to, and breadth in, teaching and research, and are interested in candidates who show potential for engaging, research-informed teaching in small classroom settings, and who can supervise undergraduate research effectively. Participation in the Core Curriculum in Interdisciplinary Studies [about to be changed from Interdisciplinary Humanities] is expected.

The position entails a 2-2 teaching load, including the introductory survey course in Global Politics, as well as supervision (shared with other department faculty) of required one-semester senior theses. The candidate should have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2025, either in political science or in adjacent fields, such as geography, sociology, and anthropology.

Candidates should submit the following materials online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/145103>: a CV, a cover letter, a statement of teaching philosophy that also discusses how the candidate could contribute to the College's mission of inclusive and equitable education, an article-length writing sample, and names and contact information for three references.

Semi-finalists will be asked to submit evidence of effective and inclusive teaching, three letters of recommendation, and, potentially, additional research materials.

The salary for this position will range from $81,000 to $90,000 and will be set based on a variety of factors, including but not limited to internal equity, experience, education, specialty, and training.

Review of materials will begin on September 16, 2024. For more information, please contact Nancy Neiman, search committee chair at nneiman@scrippscollege.edu.

Scripps College is one of the seven members of The Claremont Colleges consortium located 35 miles east of Los Angeles. In keeping with its ongoing commitment to build and support a diverse and equitable academic community, Scripps College actively encourages applications from women and members of historically underrepresented groups. Preference will be given to applicants committed to improving higher education for underrepresented students.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/13/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14355

Yale University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowships with the Identity & Conflict Lab

Specializations: Germany, China, United States

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2024-2025 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The ICL has several ongoing projects in four thematic areas: (1) native-immigrant conflict and the politics of immigrant integration across countries, with a focus on Greece, Cyprus, Turkey, Germany, Denmark, and Qatar; (2) effects of national identification (patriotism; nationalism) on foreign policy preferences with case applications in Greece, South Korea, China, and the United States; (3) strategies to reduce majority-minority group conflicts in India and Pakistan; and (4) collection and analysis of new data on separatist conflicts worldwide, and prediction of new conflict outbreaks of separatist violence. A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and quantitative analysis of observational data. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by associates can also be considered for funding by the ICL.

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Associates will be expected to collect and clean data; review reports on ongoing projects; prepare visualizations and reports of quantitative analysis of new data collected in the lab; assist with drafting grant proposals; program surveys; prepare IRB applications; conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing Lab projects; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Additionally, associates will be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders, prepare presentations of lab reports/papers, prepare replication files for published studies, help manage the ICL website and seminar series, and provide summaries of ongoing ICL work for public outreach.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be expected to help organize the ICL's annual conference as well as the workshop, which will hold occasional meetings throughout the year. Associates will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop or a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director and would be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary is competitive and comes with a benefits package. Information regarding benefits associated with the position can be found here:

<https://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/benefits-enrollment-2023/postdoctoral-associates-benefits-2023>

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2022, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2024. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 10, 2023. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is extensive experience programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

Link to apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/135524>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12883

METHODOLOGY

University of Georgia

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications for a Lecturer to begin August 1, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year appointment that is renewable on an annual basis. The lecturer will teach eight courses per academic year, four courses in each academic term. Typically, two or more sections of the same course can be offered each semester and/or during the same academic year. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 100% teaching. The lecturer will be expected to teach the undergraduate introduction to American government. In addition, the candidate will teach upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods in areas that align with their research and teaching interests. Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional-development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel and summer teaching when they are available. The university has a promotion path for lecturers. Upon their sixth year as a lecturer, a faculty may be promoted to senior lecturer, after which they may be promoted to principal lecturer (for details see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/guidelines-for-appointment-and-promotion-of-lecturers/>).

Minimum qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science completed by August 1, 2025.

Additional Requirements:

- Excellent communication skills
- Evidence of teaching excellence or demonstrated potential for teaching excellence

Duties/Responsibilities

- Contribute to the instructional mission of the Department of Political Science
- Teach four three-credit hour courses per academic term including the introduction to American government and upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods.
- Participate in workshops, the development of new course materials, and/or supervise teaching assistants

Special instructions to applicants:

Prospective applicants should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three letter writers who will separately provide letters of recommendation electronically to the UGA jobs web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/387895>

The cover letter is expected to include a description of the candidate's strengths as an instructor and relevant teaching experiences as they relate to this position description. The application should also include a teaching portfolio that provides: a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin January 8, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14517

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor

Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations
The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC) in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position (assistant professor, associate professor or professor) in International Relations.

We seek candidates with a strong substantive research program in any domain of International Relations whose work advances theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. We have special needs in the field of conflict and security studies broadly understood. Candidates are expected to have strong methodological training. A strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate education is also expected.

The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will start September 23, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/open-rank-faculty-position-in-international-relations/1209/69386885440>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

The annual base salary range for this position is $100,510 - $281,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14777

Duke Kunshan University

Rank: Faculty Position in Environmental Policy

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications for a faculty position in environmental public policy to begin in the academic year 2025-2026. The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in DKU's undergraduate program and related graduate program, the International Master of Environmental Policy. We seek candidates with strong quantitative skills and research expertise in environmental economics, environmental policy, and climate finance. Candidates employing computational methods and causal inference tools in their research are especially encouraged to apply. This call is open with regard to rank, including tenured and tenure track positions. This position is open to scholars in the following subject areas: Environmental Economics, Climate Finance, and Public Policy.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor's degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master's degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master's degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (<https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/>). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of <8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master's level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke's educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate's specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28166>. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using the subject "Environmental Policy" as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by November 15, 2024; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14735

Duke Kunshan University

Rank: Faculty Position in Public Policy

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Science & Technology

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to a tenure-track or tenured faculty position in Public Policy, beginning in the academic year 2025-2026. Applicants should have expertise in computational social science, computational legal methods, or machine learning based research methodologies. Candidates are expected to teach courses in Public Policy and to contribute to the Computation and Design major, which has specializations in computer science, digital media, and social policy. We are especially interested in scholars who study technology (including but not limited to AI and other emerging technologies) from a policy, regulation, or legal perspective.

The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in DKU's undergraduate program and related graduate program, the International Master of Environmental Policy. We seek candidates with strong quantitative skills and research expertise in environmental economics, environmental policy, and climate finance. Candidates employing computational methods and causal inference tools in their research are especially encouraged to apply. This call is open with regard to rank, including tenured and tenure track positions. This position is open to scholars in the following subject areas: Environmental Economics, Climate Finance, and Public Policy.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor's degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master's degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master's degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (<https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/>). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of <8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master's level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke's educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate's specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28168>. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using the subject "Public Policy/Computation" as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 10, 2024; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14748

Duke University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications in Political Methodology for a tenure-track assistant or tenured associate professor position to begin on July 1, 2025. The position is open to all subfield specializations. We are looking for applicants with a promising record of contributions to political methodology and the ability to play a major role in the department's methodological training.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda, a curriculum vitae, a technical writing sample, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28209>. Address correspondence to: Daniel Stegmüller, Chair, Methods Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Duke also makes good faith efforts to recruit, hire, and promote qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14737

Ohio State University

Rank: AI in Politics and Society

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant or Associate Professor
Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful applicants will have research and teaching interests in the area of AI in Politics and Society. Based in Columbus, Ohio, the position will begin in the fall of 2025. Preferred applicants will have the promise of a sustained and substantial body of work developing and utilizing data analytic and/or artificial intelligence tools for the analysis of socio-political questions. The position is open with respect to substantive focus or disciplinary subfield in Political Science.

This position is part of the investment of The Ohio State University Provost in the Department of Political Science in Socio-Political Analysis and AI: <https://polisci.osu.edu/good-to-great-proposal>

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- Conduct research on advanced topics in the application of data analytics and AI to social scientific questions
- Mentor and teach in these and related areas at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- Engage with interdisciplinary efforts focused on data analytics and/or AI

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Applicants must be on track to complete their PhD on or before August 15, 2025, in a relevant field, and have the capacity to integrate methodological insights with substantive research demonstrated through a record of and/or promise of scholarly excellence.

Desired: Demonstrate the potential for securing external grant funding and mentoring undergraduate or graduate students. Preferred candidates will show a willingness to participate in interdisciplinary collaborative efforts. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Associate-Professor---AI-in-Politics---Society\_R113066]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Janet Box-Steffensmeier at box-steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:
- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14721

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics

Subfield(s): Methodology, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics in Political Science, with the appointment to begin in the 2025-2026 academic year. In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship.

We welcome candidates from any subfield, regardless of methodological or regional expertise. We are particularly interested in scholars whose expertise contributes to or complements one or more of the following cross-cutting themes: 1) Global and Transnational Challenges, 2) Groups and Identities, 3) Democracy and Development, 4) Representation and Accountability.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh has faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Minimum qualifications: applicants must have a PhD, at least 6 years of experience, significant record of publications, and demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, to contribute to an inclusive climate, and to attract and retain a diverse study body.

The committee will begin looking at applications December 2nd, 2024, but will continue to accept materials until the position is filled. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a CV, and 3 names of people that can provide references when needed; cover letters should include a discussion how the candidate's research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion. References can be sent to psjobs@pitt.edu. Candidates with questions can contact Chris Bonneau, search committee co-chair, at cwbonneau@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14711

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, is hiring an assistant tenure-track professor whose research uses computational social science methodologies to study inequality and democracy in comparative settings. The position will begin Sept 1, 2025, subject to availability of funding. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (e.g. political sociology, public policy, economics, data science) is required by Sept 1, 2025. The selected candidate will be expected to conduct research and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in comparative politics and research methods. This hire is part of a Chancellor's cluster initiative on Data Science and Artificial Intelligence, which will hire 11 new faculty members, including 4 focused on computational social science, and create a cross-disciplinary scholarly community focused on the societal benefits and implications of artificial intelligence, machine learning, and data science.

Candidates should submit the following materials: (1) c.v.; (2) cover letter; (3) research statement, (4) teaching statement, (5) writing sample; (6) diversity statement addressing ways in which their research, teaching, or service will contribute to Rutgers's commitment to enhancing diversity and inclusiveness (broadly construed); (7) names and email addresses of three references who can upload letters of recommendation. The materials should be uploaded to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/234551>.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Review of applicants will begin on October 7, 2024, and continue until the job is filled.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14705

University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) School of Public Health

Rank: Health Services Research Open Rank Tenure Track Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Health Care, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) School of Public Health seeks applicants for a full-time open rank tenure track faculty position, who are passionate about Health Services Research with high impact on health policy, health services delivery, health outcomes, comparative effectiveness research, health communication, socio-economic determinants of health, population health, and/or public health. Interested faculty should also have content expertise and teaching capabilities from among the following areas: policy or political science, policy analysis and assessment of legislative efforts, quantitative or qualitative research methods, survey design, geographic information system methodologies, demography, big data analysis, healthcare payments systems, healthcare financing, health outcomes and quality of care research, and health IT.

The UTHealth School of Public Health has more than 165 faculty and over 1300 students located in and around Austin, Brownsville, Dallas, El Paso, Houston and San Antonio, all strategically located across Texas. The UTHealth School of Public Health is a top ranked school with a strategic vision for leading population health innovation and practice. This position is in the Department of Management, Policy and Community Health (MPACH) at the Houston campus.

Houston is the fourth largest city in the United States and boasts a strong economy with a relatively low cost of living (www.houstontx.gov). The Houston Campus is located in the heart of the Texas Medical Center, the largest medical complex in the world—with eight million patient visits, and more than 180,000 surgeries annually. Texas Medical Center members include but are not limited to: MD Anderson Cancer Center, Texas Children's Hospital, Memorial Hermann Health System, CHI's St. Luke Health, and Houston Methodist. Texas is a large and diverse state that has not expanded Medicaid, creating unique opportunities for health services research.

Primary responsibilities will be: (1) establishing an externally funded research program focused on health services research; (2) mentoring emerging scholars in health services research; (3) teaching in MPH and/or doctoral programs; and (4) serving in institutional and external capacities.

Qualifications include: (1) an earned doctoral degree in health services research, public policy, health policy, public health, or other related social science fields; (2) a track record and/or strong promise of obtaining peer-reviewed funding and publications; (3) expertise in health services, health outcomes and policy research, and big data analysis; (4) commitment to excellence in teaching and advising graduate students; and (5) excellent written and oral communication skills.

Interested applicants should complete the web application at: <https://careers.uth.tmc.edu/us/en/job/240001MH>

Address any questions to Suja S. Rajan, Ph.D., Chair, HSR Search Committee at suja.s.rajan@uth.tmc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

UTHealth is committed to providing equal opportunity in all employment-related activities without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, gender identity or expression, veteran status or any other basis prohibited by law or university policy. Reasonable accommodation, based on disability or religious observances, will be considered in accordance with the applicable law and UTHealth policy. The University maintains affirmative action programs with respect to women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and eligible veterans in accordance with applicable law. This is a security-sensitive position and thereby subject to Texas Education code §51.215. A background check will be required for the final candidate.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14672

University of Texas, Tyler

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Research Methods, Congress

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas at Tyler invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position specializing in American politics. The successful candidate will be able to teach research methods, along with courses related to elections and political institutions. This position offers an opportunity to join an academically vibrant community and make impactful contributions to teaching, research, and community service.

Job Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 course load.
- Demonstrate the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses.
- Maintain a record of research.
- Advise students.
- Serve the department, college, and university.

Candidates should have an earned Ph.D. in Political Science by the time of appointment.

Our department is embarking on a new direction with the Politics, Philosophy & Law (PPL) track for a BS in Political Science. This innovative program emphasizes public service and equips students with critical skills in politics, ethics, law, and philosophy. The PPL concentration encourages analytical and critical reflection on the values, ethics, and interconnections in politics, philosophy, and legal thought systems, preparing students for careers in law, government, and public interest organizations. We seek a candidate who aligns with this new direction and is enthusiastic about contributing to its development.

About Tyler:

Situated approximately ninety minutes east of Dallas/Ft. Worth, Tyler is a growing city with over 100,000 residents. The University of Texas at Tyler, serving over 10,000 students, is a pivotal educational institution and a central hub for cultural and academic pursuits in the region.

Application Process:

Qualified candidates may apply at [UT Tyler Prospective Employees]

(<https://www.uttyler.edu/human-resources/prospective-employees/>). Please submit a letter of application detailing teaching and research interests, teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae and unofficial transcripts, all in one document.

Review of applications begins the week of September 30, 2024. However, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Additional Information:

The successful applicant must be able to demonstrate eligibility to work in the United States.

This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code Section 51.215, authorizing the employer to obtain criminal history record information. The University of Texas at

Tyler is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, status as a protected veteran, or status as a qualified individual with a disability. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14663

University of Chicago

Rank: Open-Rank Faculty Position, Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in Quantitative Methods. This position will begin on or after July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14647

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Professor/Advanced Associate Professor, Political Science

Specializations: American Politics, Political Economy, Political Psychology

The Department of Political Science at Stony Brook University invites applications for a full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to begin September 1, 2025. The search is open to the Department's existing areas of sub-field specialty within Political Science: American politics, political economy, and political behavior/psychology (American or Comparative). The Department comprises BA, MA, and PhD programs in Political Science, as well as an MA in Public Policy. It is home to 14 tenured and tenure-track faculty, roughly 500 undergraduate majors and minors, staff, Political Science graduate students, and several non-tenure track full-time lecturers. The Department is ranked in the top 30 Political Science graduate programs in the most recent U.S. News & World Report rankings, and the dynamic, interdisciplinary faculty produce high-quality research that is consistently published in top-rated journals. The faculty are committed to teaching excellence. Successful candidates will have a strong publication record and demonstrated research excellence. An established track record of graduate student collaboration and mentoring is highly desirable.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. (or foreign equivalent) in Political Science, or a closely related field.
2. Rank of full professor or advanced associate professor
3. Research expertise in one of the following areas: American politics, political economy, political behavior/psychology

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Demonstrated record of the following, as evidenced by the applicant's CV and supporting materials:
  - a. Record of producing high-quality research
  - b. Strong research background and training
  - c. Strong publication record
  - d. Experience teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
  - e. Past graduate student mentoring and collaboration
  - f. Commitment to enhancing diversity, equity, and inclusion among faculty, undergraduate, and graduate students

Application Instructions

Please upload the following materials to Interfolio at this address:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/147864>

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Writing samples
4. Teaching statement
5. Research statement
6. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) statement
7. Three reference contacts able to provide letters of reference upon request

All application materials must be submitted online. The names of applicants will be kept confidential until a list of finalists is confirmed. Referees will not be contacted without the candidate's prior consent. Please use the Apply Now button to begin your application. For technical support, please visit Interfolio's Support Site (<https://support.interfolio.com/>) or reach out to their Scholar Service Team at help@interfolio.com or (877) 997-8807.

For questions regarding this position, please contact the search chair, Professor Ryan Vander Wielen at ryan.vanderwielen@stonybrook.edu.

For full consideration please submit your materials by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on Monday, September 23, 2024.

Special Notes: This is a tenured, FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA.

The selected candidate must successfully clear a background investigation.

In accordance with the Title II Crime Awareness and Security Act, a copy of our crime statistics is available upon request by calling (631) 632- 6350. It can also be viewed online at the University Police website at <http://www.stonybrook.edu/police>.

About the Department:

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in research and scholarship, graduate student training, undergraduate teaching and learning, public outreach, and the promotion of responsible citizenship. It contributes to the generation of knowledge about politics and aims to deepen scholarly and public understanding of political institutions and the citizenry. The department seeks to prepare students for successful careers in government, academics, and the private sector. The Department provides training for PhD and MA students in cutting-edge approaches to the empirical study of political science to produce graduates with outstanding research, teaching, and professional skills. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/polsci/>

About the College:

As part of a great research university, the College of Arts and Sciences at Stony Brook University focuses on scholarly creativity, connecting our disciplines of fine arts; humanities; social, behavioral and natural sciences; and mathematics with medicine, technology, culture, education, business and environment. As the largest College for the campus, we help students and faculty begin a lifetime of learning and discovery by exploring new ideas that drive innovation and inspiration across all sectors of society. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/cas/>

Campus Description:

Stony Brook University, one of two flagships within the State University of New York (SUNY) system, is one of America's most dynamic public universities, a center of academic excellence, and an internationally recognized research institution that is changing the world. After more than 60 years of existence, it is ranked among the top 100 universities in the nation and the top 25 public universities in the nation. It is a member of the prestigious invitation-only Association of American Universities, composed of the top 66 leading research institutions in North America. As Long Island's largest single-site employer, Stony Brook has nearly 15,000 full- and part-time employees, including 2,800 faculty and nearly 27,000 students — including almost 18,000 undergraduates — and offers more than 200 majors, minors and combined-degree programs. Located approximately 60 miles east of Manhattan on Long Island's beautiful North Shore, Stony Brook is situated on 1,454 wooded acres, encompassing 13 schools and colleges; a Research and Development Park; world-class athletics facilities, including an 8,300-seat stadium and a 4,000-seat arena; and Stony Brook Medicine, Long Island's premier academic medical center. Also part of the University is a teaching and research campus in Southampton, New York, which offers graduate arts programs and is the site of the Marine Sciences Center. In addition, Stony Brook has a role in running, and performs joint research with, Brookhaven National Laboratory, the only Department of Energy Laboratory in the Northeast. Home to the Emerson String Quartet, the Pollock-Krasner House in East Hampton, NY, and the Humanities Institute, with endeavors that extend to the Turkana Basin Institute in Kenya and the Ranomafana National Park in Madagascar, Stony Brook sustains an international reputation that cuts across the arts, humanities, social sciences and natural sciences.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14627

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Formal Theory

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track appointment in formal theory. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151776>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14624

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14628

Cornell University

Rank: Open Rank Political Methodology

The Department of Government at Cornell University invites applications for up to two open-rank positions in the field of political methodology. We are interested in candidates whose research uses modern statistical methodology to answer substantive research questions in political science, or whose methodological research deepens our understanding of quantitative political methodology, broadly understood (e.g., statistics, computational methods, causal inference, etc.). The successful candidate will teach courses in statistical methods and research design at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Applicants should apply online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28021>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations. In addition, we ask applicants to share their experiences and/or approaches (past, current, or future) to fostering learning, research service, and/or outreach in a diverse community; applicants may choose to submit a stand-alone statement or embed the information in other parts of their application.

We will begin to review applications starting September 10, 2024, and will continue until the search is complete.

[Pay Range: $107,400 - $275,00] Actual salary offers in the College of Arts and Sciences will be based on education, experience, discipline, and relevant skills.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14612

Tecnológico de Monterrey

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Assistant Professor Positions

The Tecnológico de Monterrey (Tec) invites applications from candidates in Political Science and International Relations. The search is open with respect to specialty and methodological approaches. We are recruiting candidates with the potential to conduct theoretically informed, methodologically rigorous research for publication in top peer-reviewed venues. In IR, we are interested in scholars from any of the major subfields, including international political economy, security studies, and/or global governance. In Political Science, we are seeking scholars from comparative politics and methods subfields. The Tecnológico de Monterrey offers a dynamic academic environment with generous research support.

Minimum Requirements:

Candidates must have a demonstrated ability in conducting theoretical and empirical research in one or more of the aforementioned areas. The Tecnológico de Monterrey also prizes an excellent background in teaching. Professors are expected to teach and mentor undergraduates as well as graduate students. We are primarily interested in scholars early in their academic careers for the Assistant Research Professor track with teaching obligations that approximate a 2-2 load. We also have openings for Assistant Teaching Professors (3-3 or 4-4) and Student Advisor Professors (2-2 or 3-3), depending on the campus. Applications from ABD candidates will be considered if they include a letter from the dissertations chair stating a defense date, which should occur no later than June 2025 to start in August 2025.

Compensation is competitive and it includes incentives and support for research activities. The Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide legal assistance for foreign nationals in order to obtain work permits and visas for the candidate and his or her dependents.

Applicants should send the following documents in PDF format to Karen Aguayo: karenaguayo@tec.mx

- Curriculum Vitae accompanied by a cover letter.
- Research statement for the next 3 years (no longer than three pages).
- A statement of teaching philosophy (no more than two pages). Finalists may be asked to provide evidence of teaching performance.
- Writing sample, not to exceed 50 double spaced pages. If co-authored the candidate should be the first author.
- Three letters of recommendation. Ph.D. candidates should also include a letter from their chair indicating defense date.

For informal inquiries please contact the following committee members:

Prof. Mariana Rangel: mariana.rangel@tec.mx

Prof. Gabriel Aguilera: gabe.aguilera@tec.mx

About the Tecnológico de Monterrey:

The Tecnológico de Monterrey is ranked highly among the top universities in Latin America and Mexico. Undergraduate departments and programs in political science, international relations, economics, law, and public policy are housed in the School of Social Sciences and Government at our major campuses in Mexico City, Monterrey, Puebla, Querétaro, and Guadalajara. For more information, visit <https://tec.mx/es/noticias/cienciassociales-y-gobierno>

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/31/2024
Date Posted: 8/8/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14589

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh seeks candidates for a tenure-stream position in applied Political Methodology or Computational Social Science at the level of Assistant Professor. We are seeking to hire a colleague that has expertise in developing and applying statistical and machine learning approaches, broadly construed, to explore important, computationally intensive, problems in political science. Candidates with demonstrated experiences creatively leveraging less-structured data (e.g., text, audio, video, eye-tracking, MRI, GIS or other such information) at scale through measurement, analytics, and visualization and/or innovating new methodologies to improve inferences and forecasts (e.g. utilizing neural network architectures, spatio-temporal models, Bayesian computation, or other relevant approaches) will be particularly competitive for the position.

We welcome applications from all scholars whose work complements and builds on our departmental strengths, including from candidates whose main training is in political science as well as those who have interdisciplinary training relevant to the position. The key evaluation criteria will include having a strong, relevant research agenda, evidence of teaching ability in political methodology or computational social science, the promise of attracting external funding, as well as providing impactful research experiences for undergraduate and graduate students. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to contribute to the Responsible Data Science initiative at Pitt as well as the Computational Social Science Major which is co-run by Political Science and the Department of Informatics and Networked Systems, and benefit from the resources of the Center for Research Computing and Pittsburgh Supercomputing Center.

Applicants are required to have, or expect to have, a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field before the appointment begins. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and a minimum of three letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by September 20, 2024, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The official start date for this position will be September 1, 2025. Any questions about the position can be directed to the search committee chair, Michael Colaresi, mcolaresi@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Applications should be submitted to the following site:

https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt\_faculty\_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=24006205&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew\_York

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14599

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign Rank: Open-Rank Faculty Position in Quantitative Methods

The Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign invites applications for a full-time tenure stream open-rank faculty position in Quantitative Methods. Successful candidates are expected to teach Quantitative Methods courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, establish and maintain an active and independent research program, and provide service to the department, the university, and the profession. Successful candidates may have substantive expertise in American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. Candidates who have demonstrated a commitment to working with students or faculty from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented in the field through teaching, mentoring, or administration are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants at the Assistant Professor level must demonstrate evidence of a promising research agenda and a commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Applicants at the Associate/Full Professor level must have an established record in research, teaching, and service. Ph.D. in Political Science or related field required. Target start date is August 16, 2025. The budgeted salary range for the position is $100-110,000 at the Assistant Professor level, $110-125,000 at the Associate Professor level, and $125-180,000 at the Full Professor level, for a 9-month service basis.

The Illinois College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is a world leader in research, teaching, and public engagement. Faculty in the College create knowledge, address critical societal needs through the transfer and application of knowledge, and prepare students for lives of impact in the state, nation, and globally. To meet these objectives, the College embraces and values diversity and difference through hiring faculty candidates who can contribute through their research, teaching, and/or service to the diversity and excellence of the Illinois community.

We have an active and successful dual-career partner placement program and a strong commitment to work-life balance and family-friendly programs for faculty and staff (<http://provost.illinois.edu/faculty-affairs/work-life-balance/>). To find out more about the resources available at the university and Urbana-Champaign community please visit these sites:

Benefits

Living in Champaign-Urbana

Work-Life Balance & Family Friendly Programs

To apply, create your candidate profile through <https://jobs.illinois.edu> and upload your application materials by 6:00pm (CST) on September 16, 2024: letter of application, CV, a representative publication, statement of teaching and research interests, and a statement detailing how their teaching, service and/or scholarship has contributed to the success of all students, including those from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic field. Applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further Illinois' and the College of LAS' commitment to Inclusive Excellence and the success of all students.

We ask that all documents be uploaded in a single .pdf file as an upload in the "Resume/CV" section. An email request for contact information for three professional references will be sent to you 1-2 business days after you application is submitted. Once the contact information for the references is uploaded into the system, their letters will be invited. Early application submission is encouraged to allow time for referees to submit letters of recommendation.

Only applications submitted through the University of Illinois Job Board will be considered. Questions about the position may be directed to the faculty search coordinator at pol@illinois.edu.

For questions regarding the application process, please contact 217-333-2137.

The University of Illinois must also comply with applicable federal export control laws and regulations and, as such, reserves the right to employ restricted party screening procedures for applicants.

The University of Illinois System is an equal opportunity employer, including but not limited to disability and/or veteran status, and complies with all applicable state and federal employment mandates. Please visit Required Employment Notices and Posters to view our non-discrimination statement and find additional information about required background checks, sexual harassment/misconduct disclosures, and employment eligibility review through E-Verify.

Applicants with disabilities are encouraged to apply and may request a reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (2008) to complete the application and/or interview process. Requests may be submitted through the reasonable accommodations portal, or by contacting the Accessibility & Accommodations Division of the Office for Access and Equity at 217-333-0885, or by emailing accessibility@illinois.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/16/2024
Date Posted: 8/6/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14587

Lake Forest College

Rank: Latin American Politics and International Relations
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology
Specializations: South America, Central America, Mexico

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics and International Relations invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in comparative politics or international relations with a specialization in Latin America to begin August 2025. We seek someone to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics; Introduction to Global Politics; a research methods survey course, required for Politics and International Relations majors, that includes qualitative and/or quantitative methods; and a broad range of other courses in comparative politics or international relations with a focus on Spanish-speaking countries in Latin America. While we encourage candidates of all substantive interests to apply, those whose work focuses on issues of human rights, social movements, migration, indigenous communities, or populism are preferred. Additionally, candidates with corollary research and/or teaching interests in the Latinx experience within the domestic United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

Lake Forest College has a rich, interdisciplinary program in Latin American and Latinx Studies to which the successful candidate is expected to contribute significantly. Other interdisciplinary programs include Urban Studies; Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies; African American Studies; and Social Justice. We also have an "In the Loop" semester-long residential program in Chicago, as well as many courses emphasizing Chicago history, politics, and its diverse cultures. Lake Forest College's proximity to Chicago provides an opportunity to use the city as a "laboratory" for student work and research. We are interested in candidates who can contribute to any of these programs. We are especially interested in candidates who can incorporate students into their research programs and want to build a career centered on teaching and advising excellence.

Candidates are expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. A Ph.D. in political science or a related field is required. (ABD is acceptable if degree is conferred prior to the start of the 25-26 academic year.) Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through the provision of student research assistants and the potential to apply for summer research funds. The successful passage of the third-year review earns a one-semester sabbatical at full pay in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, an unofficial graduate transcript, a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting, sample syllabi, a single sample of scholarly writing, three confidential letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to James J. Marquardt, Ph.D., Chair of the Department of Politics and International Relations at the following email address: latinamericasearch2024@lakeforest.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled but must be received by October 1, 2024, to be assured full consideration.

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago's North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,800 students from more than 40 states and from more than 100 countries. Lake Forest is one of the most diverse small colleges in the Midwest with approximately 40% of our student body comprised of domestic students of color and international students. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member's teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. The College also expects peer-reviewed publications and active participation in the College community. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14565

Harvard University

Rank: TENURE-TRACK PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT – QUANTITATIVE METHODS

Position Description: The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in Government specializing in Political Methodology or Formal Theory. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2025. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates are encouraged to apply by September 20, 2024; applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

Basic Qualifications: Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science, Government or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Additional Qualifications: Demonstrated strong commitment to teaching and advising is desired.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 16, 2024.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching/advising statement (describing the candidate's teaching philosophy and practices as well as their approach to creating a learning environment in which students are encouraged to ask questions and share their ideas)
4. Research statement
5. Service statement describing efforts to strengthen academic communities, e.g., the candidate's department, institution, and/or professional societies.
6. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received. At least one letter must come from someone who has not served as the candidate's undergraduate, graduate, or postdoctoral advisor.
7. Publications or copies of creative works, if applicable.

Contact Information: Gary King, Search Committee, Department of Government, king@harvard.edu.

The health of our workforce is a priority for Harvard University. With that in mind, we strongly encourage all employees to be up-to-date on CDC-recommended vaccines.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14539

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Computational Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Research Methods

The Department of Political Science at Stony Brook University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Computational Political Science. This position would begin in Fall 2025. The department is interested in applicants with expertise in applying big data methods, computational methods, or advanced statistical methods to problems in political science. Successful candidates will have a strong record of demonstrated research excellence. Additional duties include fostering inclusive teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels, conducting a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the departmental, college, and university levels.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. (or foreign equivalent) in Political Science or a closely related field in hand by August 31, 2025. Research work applying big data methods, computational methods, or advanced statistical methods to problems in political science.

Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrated record of the following, as evidenced by the applicant's CV and supporting materials:

- record of producing high-quality research
- strong research background and training
- strong publication record
- research interests in political behavior, American politics, or comparative politics
- experience teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate level

Application Instructions

Apply through Interfolio at the job posting here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147877>

Please upload:

Cover letter

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Samples of written work
3. Teaching statement
4. Research statement
5. Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) statement
6. Three reference contacts able to provide letters of reference upon request

For full consideration please submit your materials by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on Monday, September 16, 2024.

All application materials must be submitted online. Please use the Apply Now button to begin your application. For technical support, please visit Interfolio's Support Site (<https://support.interfolio.com/>) or reach out to their Scholar Service Team at help@interfolio.com or (877) 997-8807.

For questions regarding this position, please contact the search chair, Professor Michael Peress at Michael.Peress@stonybrook.edu.

Special Notes: This is a tenure track position. FLSA Exempt position, not eligible for the overtime provisions of the FLSA.

About the Department:

The Department of Political Science is committed to excellence in research and scholarship, graduate student training, undergraduate teaching and learning, public outreach, and the promotion of responsible citizenship. It contributes to the generation of knowledge about politics and aims to deepen scholarly and public understanding of political institutions and the citizenry. The department seeks to prepare students for successful careers in government, academics, and the private sector. The Department provides training for PhD and MA students in cutting-edge approaches to the empirical study of political science to produce graduates with outstanding research, teaching, and professional skills. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/polsci/>

About the College:

As part of a great research university, the College of Arts and Sciences at Stony Brook University focuses on scholarly creativity, connecting our disciplines of fine arts; humanities; social, behavioral and natural sciences; and mathematics with medicine, technology, culture, education, business and environment. As the largest College for the campus, we help students and faculty begin a lifetime of learning and discovery by exploring new ideas that drive innovation and inspiration across all sectors of society. <http://www.stonybrook.edu/cas/>

Campus Description:

Stony Brook University, one of two flagships within the State University of New York (SUNY) system, is one of America's most dynamic public universities, a center of academic excellence, and an internationally recognized research institution that is changing the world. After more than 60 years of existence, it is ranked among the top 100 universities in the nation and the top 25 public universities in the nation. It is a member of the prestigious invitation-only Association of American Universities, composed of the top 66 leading research institutions in North America. As Long Island's largest single-site employer, Stony Brook has nearly 15,000 full- and part-time employees, including 2,800 faculty and nearly 27,000 students — including almost 18,000 undergraduates — and offers more than 200 majors, minors and combined-degree programs. Located approximately 60 miles east of Manhattan on Long Island's beautiful North Shore, Stony Brook is situated on 1,454 wooded acres, encompassing 13 schools and colleges; a Research and Development Park; world-class athletics facilities, including an 8,300-seat stadium and a 4,000-seat arena; and Stony Brook Medicine, Long Island's premier academic medical center. Also part of the University is a teaching and research campus in Southampton, New York, which offers graduate arts programs and is the site of the Marine Sciences Center. In addition, Stony Brook has a role in running, and performs joint research with, Brookhaven National Laboratory, the only Department of Energy Laboratory in the Northeast. Home to the Emerson String Quartet, the Pollock-Krasner House in East Hampton, NY, and the Humanities Institute, with endeavors that extend to the Turkana Basin Institute in Kenya and the Ranomafana National Park in Madagascar, Stony Brook sustains an international reputation that cuts across the arts, humanities, social sciences and natural sciences.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14519

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2025. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and very strong quantitative research skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the study of democratic representation, mass political behavior, elite behavior and/or political institutions. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2025.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We especially encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQIA+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150044>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14511

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Department of Political Science in Cambridge MA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty position in Political Methodology, open as to rank, effective July 1st, 2025, or as soon thereafter as possible. Responsibilities include research, graduate and undergraduate teaching, and student research supervision. Applicants should have a PhD degree in Political Science or a related field by start of employment. MIT is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin. Applications should include a cover letter which addresses your research agenda and teaching interests. Also include a CV, writing sample(s), and three recommendations. Please submit online applications to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27780> <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27780> &lt;a>. Completed applications must be submitted by September 15th, 2024.

Employment is contingent upon the completion of a satisfactory background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 6/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14424

Purdue University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Association AI and Political Science
Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Artificial Intelligence, Political Science
Job Summary

The Department of Political Science seeks a two-year postdoctoral researcher to assist with projects, papers, and grant proposals in the Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL) and the Computational

Social Science Lab (CSS). The postdoctoral fellow will be mentored in research and proposal writing by faculty directors of the labs and participate in an active research community in Political Science and the College of Liberal Arts.

For information about the labs, please see the following websites:
 GRAIL: <https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/research/labs/grail/index.html>
 CSS: <https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/research/labs/computational-social-science-lab/index.html>

The start date is negotiable, but must fall between August 1, 2024 and January 1, 2025. The position is at Purdue's main campus in West Lafayette, Indiana.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field is required. ABDs will be considered but the successful candidate must provide evidence of completion of all requirements for the PhD prior to the start date of the position. Qualified candidates must have strong skills in writing, quantitative data analysis, data visualization, and research methods. Candidates must have experience managing research projects and a record of successful collaboration. Candidates must also have evidence of a research pipeline related to the aims of GRAIL and the CSS Lab.

About Purdue University

In recent years, the College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has hired a large group of faculty in the area of artificial intelligence (AI), broadly construed. Representing a variety of disciplines in the College, this cohort of scholars expands our capacity to explore the implications of AI development across multiple domains and contribute to disciplinary and interdisciplinary research and educational initiatives surrounding AI in new and important ways.

Political Science is home to 28 faculty and more than 40 PhD students, visiting scholars, and post-docs. Purdue University is a member of the AAU and a land grant university with enrollment of over 52,000 students. The campus is located in West Lafayette, Indiana, an area with a favorable cost of living and a vibrant local community. Purdue University offers high-quality research and computing facilities with many opportunities for collaboration in Centers and Institutes across campus and in the broader region. Purdue University is building world-leading programs in AI, including a new Institute for Physical Artificial Intelligence.

Computational Social Science (CSS) Lab at Purdue University

Under the direction of Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich, the Computational Social Science Lab (CSS) was established to promote the application and development of computational methods to large, typically complex, human, and behavioral data. CSS has received coverage both on and off campus for its "revolutionary" approach to social science research, especially its novel use of text, audio, and video data. The lab comprises an interdisciplinary team of undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, and postdoctoral fellows.

Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich joined the faculty at Purdue University in the Fall of 2022. His research uses novel quantitative, automated, and machine learning methods to analyze non-traditional data sources such as audio (or speech) data and video data. His work has appeared in prominent journals like the American Political Science Review, Journal of Politics, Nature Human Behavior, Political Analysis, and Political Psychology. In addition to securing external awards from the NIH and NSF, his work has also been covered by prominent media outlets like The Washington Post, The Economist and National Public Radio (NPR). His most recent work using C-SPAN has looked at gender and social dynamics on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL) at Purdue University
 The Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL), co-directed by Dr. Daniel S. Schiff and Dr. Kaylyn Jackson Schiff, conducts research on the social, ethical, and governance implications of artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies. GRAIL consists of an interdisciplinary team of faculty, graduate students, and undergraduate students and produces rigorous, policy-relevant work on AI supported by funding from the National Institute of Justice and Google. The lab's research explores topics such as the political impacts of deepfakes, emerging legislation and regulation related to AI, use of AI in government and law enforcement, and public and elite opinion on AI. GRAIL is a member of the National Institute of Standards and Technology's AI Safety Institute Consortium and an affiliate of Purdue's Institute for Physical Artificial Intelligence.

Dr. Daniel S. Schiff studies the formal and informal governance of AI through policy and industry, as well as AI's social and ethical implications in domains like education, manufacturing, finance, and criminal justice. Daniel previously served as the founding Responsible AI Lead at JP Morgan Chase & Co. and as the Secretary of the IEEE 7010-2020 standard, the first AI ethics industry standard. His research has been published in prominent interdisciplinary venues such as Policy Studies Journal, the American Political Science Review, AI & Society, and the International Journal of AI in Education.

Dr. Kaylyn Jackson Schiff conducts research on how technological developments are changing citizen-government contact and explores implications for service provision, misinformation, policing, education, and government use of artificial intelligence. Her research has won the award for best dissertation in the field of public administration from the American Political Science Association and the Journal of Politics best paper award. Her work has been published in top journals such as the American Political Science Review, Public Administration Review, Policy Studies Journal, and Nature Human Behavior.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit <https://careers.purdue.edu/> position number 32237. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research fits the principal duties and qualifications of the position, 2) Curriculum Vitae, and 3) Recent research paper or other writing sample related to the position description. Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation and transcripts.

Screening of applicants will begin on July 15th, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich at bjdietri@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/17/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14420

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get\_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024
Date Posted: 6/5/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14404

Dartmouth College

Rank: Data Scientist

These positions will be shared with the Economics and QSS departments and will serve all the social sciences. The new staff members will help students and faculty with computational and statistical research. Among the tasks they will likely perform are:

- Hosting quarterly tutorials in Stata and R for students
- Working with faculty in classes using quantitative methods (e.g., Gov 12, Data Visualization, Experiments in Politics, etc.)
- Helping honors students with data analysis and visualization
- Helping faculty scrape, clean, prepare and analyze data
- Helping faculty with data visualizations and slides

More details here: <https://searchjobs.dartmouth.edu/postings/73875/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14364

NON-ACADEMIC

Florida State University

Rank: Research Director of the College of Law Election Law Program

RESPONSIBILITIES

The Research Director of the College of Law Election Law Program will focus primarily on executing the Program's Expert Witness Project. The parameters and goals of the Expert Witness Project are outlined below.

EXPERT WITNESS PROJECT

This project will review predictions that expert witnesses made in challenges to election laws under the U.S. Constitution and Voting Rights Act regarding the effects that those provisions would have on voters' Participation in future election. Focusing specifically on cases where the challenged provisions were permitted to go into effect, they will assess the extent to which these predictions proved accurate. Based on this retrospective analysis, this project will seek to determine whether particular methodologies, models, or bodies of data used in challenges to election-related statutes may be identified as more—or less—reliable than others. It will attempt to ascertain the reliability of various types of predictions about the impacts of legislative or regulatory changes to voting procedures.

The Research Director will also assist Executive Director of the Election Law Program in cultivating and sustaining external and internal partnerships to advance the Program's short-term and long-term goals.

QUALIFICATIONS

A background in quantitative and statistical analysis is required, most likely holding a PhD in political science with a focus in either American politics or quantitative methods.

Strong research and writing skills are also required.

A Juris Doctor degree is desirable.

CONTACT INFO

Maureen Wagner Vinson
Executive Director of Election Law Program
Florida State University College of Law
Mwagner3@law.fsu.edu

HOW TO APPLY

If qualified and interested in a specific Faculty job opening as advertised, apply to Florida State University at <https://hr.fsu.edu/facultyjobs>.

Applicants are required to complete the online application with all applicable information. Applications must include education details even if attaching a vitae.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 9/9/2024

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14687

APSA

Rank: Program Assistant, Research

POSITION SUMMARY:

The American Political Science Association (APSA) seeks a Program Assistant, Research to provide research assistance to internal teams as well as direct support as requested by members - such as in assisting members with their research needs. The Program Assistant will be responsible for supporting data-oriented research on the profession, including drafting reports based on analysis from APSA's surveys on the profession as well as supporting program evaluation within the organization.

TO APPLY:

https://workforcenow.adp.com/mascsr/default/mdf/recruitment/recruitment.html?cid=14a57c82-310e-42e3-8cc8-6b9883f0d8a9&ccId=19000101\_000001&jobId=527606&lang=en\_US Please apply online here with a cover letter and resume.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

The examples of essential functions listed below are intended only as illustrations of the various types of work that may be performed. The omission of specific statements of duties does not exclude them from the position. Duties and responsibilities are also subject to change by the employer as the needs of the employer and requirements of the job change.

- Analyzes departmental trends in political science including demographics, enrollments, curriculums, and degrees conferred as well as professional trends including compensation and overall demographic composition
- Maintains and produces samples for the annual surveys (Departmental Chairs and Graduate Directors); and cleans, and analyzes data made available from annual surveys
- Drafts descriptive reports based on these analyses and publishes reports on the profession online at APSA PrePrints and apsanet.org in collaboration with other APSA staff members

- Analyzes the job market for demographic and employment trends, including compiling and analyzing eJobs data for listing view counts and position trends for Member Services; and supports the Manager, Research in producing six-month eJobs job market trends reports from eJobs advertisements
- Provides research assistance to Member Services, including analyzing membership for broader trends, e.g. changes in membership categories, and analyzing membership groups (such as Organized Sections) for retention rates and member movement within and between groups
- Works with colleagues to prepare for, staff, and evaluate the Annual Meeting
- Engages with APSA members to respond to inquiries, collect information, and troubleshoot issues as they relate to research and development initiatives; update and curate Research on the Profession resources for the APSA website
- Prepares data for use in online interactive dashboards for APSA members and the public, and creates the APSA Quarterly Data Visualization

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: EXPERIENCE, KNOWLEDGE, SKILL, AND ABILITY:

- Bachelor's Degree in Political Science or another social science required
- One year of related experience and/or a Master's degree is preferred
- Experience with the R programming environment, and related programs, coding languages and platforms
- Familiarity with quantitative and qualitative research methodologies, through coursework or previous work experience
- Aptitude for quickly learning and utilizing new information, concepts, and programs
- Great organizational skills with attention to detail
- Experience taking initiative, problem solving, and being flexible
- Able to work independently or as part of a team
- Strong communication skills, including excellent verbal, written and interpersonal skills
- Experience supporting public and/or member engagement a plus
- Knowledge of advanced Microsoft Office Suite functions, especially Word, Excel, and Outlook

PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS AND WORK ENVIRONMENT:

The physical demands described here are representative of those that must be met by an employee to successfully perform the essential functions of this job. This job description is subject to change at any time. While performing the duties of this job, the employee is regularly required to communicate and exchange information. The employee frequently is required to remain in a stationary position and constantly operate computer and other office productivity machinery.

- Generally good working conditions with little or no exposure to extremes in noise or temperature.
- Minimal lifting or climbing.
- Work performed in an office setting.
- Flexible work schedule and work arrangement (at least 2 days a week in the office).
- All team members are required to adhere to the APSA vaccination policy.

REPORTING RELATIONSHIP:

Reports to: Manager, Research

COMPENSATION & BENEFITS:

Hourly rate: $26.10-$29.15 which equates to approximately $47,500-$53,050 annually with our 35-hour work week.

APSA offers a comprehensive benefits package that includes medical, dental and vision plans for employees, dependents and spouses/domestic partners, disability and life insurance, paid family and medical leave, professional development and public transportation stipends, a 403(b) retirement plan with a generous employer contribution, and robust time off policies, including paid time off for the week between Christmas and New Years. APSA also has a 35-hour work week, a hybrid work environment, a kind, respectful, and collaborative team, opportunities to learn (questions and concerns are always welcome) and make an impact in your role and, the political science field as a whole.

FLSA STATUS:

This position is considered non-exempt under the Fair Labor Standards Act and is therefore eligible for overtime pay.

APSA is an equal opportunity employer committed to workplace diversity, equity, inclusion and belonging.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 14652

OPEN

Peking University

Rank: Faculty of Environmental Social Sciences at Peking University in Beijing, China (Open Rank Positions)

The Department of Environmental Management at the College of Environmental Sciences and Engineering (CESE) of Peking University in Beijing, China invites applications for Environmental Social Science faculty positions at all levels (Assistant, Associate and Full Professor) starting from the academic year 2025-2026. We seek candidates with expertise in areas including environmental economics, applied quantitative analysis, public policy, and environmental governance. A Ph.D. or equivalent degree in economics, public policy, political science, or other related fields is a prerequisite for this position.

Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in independent research. We expect candidates to develop an internationally competitive and innovative research program, foster international collaborations, and provide high quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students at Peking University. Proficiency in Mandarin Chinese is preferred.

The positions come with a competitive salary, subsidized housing, and an attractive research grant start-up package. To apply, please send your application including a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, published papers and any supporting documents to demonstrate your expertise, and contact information for three references to Ms Ziyu Zhan at zhanziyu@pku.edu.cn and Professor Hancheng Dai at dai.hancheng@pku.edu.cn. The application deadline is usually December 15th of each year, but complete applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. We will accept applications until the positions are filled. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to Yana Jin at jin.yana@pku.edu.cn or Hancheng Dai at dai.hancheng@pku.edu.cn. For more information about our current faculty, please visit our website at <http://cese.pku.edu.cn/szdw/zzjs/index.htm> (in Chinese) or <https://en.cese.pku.edu.cn/faculty/facultybydepartment/departmentofmanagement/index.htm> (in English).

Peking University is an equal opportunity employer committed to building a diverse and inclusive academic community. We encourage applications from individuals with backgrounds in environmental social sciences, particularly those underrepresented in academia.

For full recruitment information on the official website, please see: <https://en.cese.pku.edu.cn/jobs/1367897.htm>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14750

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Assistant Professor and Experiential Learning Coordinator

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) is seeking applications for an Experiential Learning Coordinator (ELC), to begin August 2025. This is a nine-month, non-tenured faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank, with additional teaching responsibilities in support of the political science curriculum.

The ELC has substantial mission-driven administrative responsibilities that contribute to the Department's student success goals, including:

- ?Overseeing and expanding POLI's internship, undergraduate research, and study abroad/away programs, supporting the expansion of project-based learning in the Department, partnering with faculty and staff to identify learning opportunities, and ensuring more of our students gain valuable real-world experiences;
- ?Developing POLI's career readiness programs and resources; and
- ?Providing experiential learning and career development resources to students, including events, online content, networking guidance, and others.

The position has a work effort allocation of 50% to administration and service as the ELC, and 50% to teaching. Candidates must be able to teach political science courses that align with work of the ELC, such as courses involving career development and those bearing VCU's REAL designation, as well as courses related to their areas of expertise. Though not required, the ability to teach Research Methods (POLI 320), a core course for our majors, is a plus.

The position requires a PhD in political science, or a closely related field, at the time of employment. Successful candidates will have demonstrated expertise or experience in the areas of experiential learning and career development, and/or significant relevant experience in non-academic careers. The faculty member in this position will be eligible for later promotions to the ranks of Associate Professor and Professor, in accordance with departmental, college, and university guidelines.

VCU is a large and diverse public research university in Richmond, a thriving city with abundant cultural and outdoor activities. Our campus is a 15-minute walk from the State Capitol. We're also close to the Blue Ridge Mountains, the Chesapeake Bay, the Atlantic Ocean, and Washington, DC. For more information about living and working in Richmond, see <https://hr.vcu.edu/careers-at-vcu/why-work-at-vcu/>.

Diversity is among VCU's greatest assets, a critical part of our universal excellence and success. Successful candidates will have demonstrated experience working in and fostering inclusion and diversity, or a commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU. VCU is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. VCU provides access to education and employment without regard to age, race, color, national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation, veteran's status, political affiliation, or disability.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applications can only be submitted at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/5877?c=vcu>. Applicants must upload a CV and cover letter, as well as a research statement, writing sample(s), a teaching statement, and a diversity and inclusion statement. Applicants are also encouraged to submit course evaluations, if available, as well as course syllabi. Questions should be directed to Dr. Chris Burdett at clburdett@vcu.edu. This position will be open until filled, but the Department prefers applications by October 1, 2024. Start date will be August 2025.

ABOUT THE VCU COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND SCIENCES

The mission of the College of Humanities and Sciences is to serve as the intellectual heart and soul of our institution and wider community. The College of Humanities and Sciences:

- ?Prepares lifelong learners to participate actively as engaged and responsible citizens
- ?Propels scientific research and scholarship to improve the human condition, cure and treat diseases, and promote healthy environments
- ?Grounds us in our history, critically examines our present human condition and empowers students to create more equitable local and global communities
- ?Provides communities with a passionate and creative workforce that serves as a powerful engine for economic development and innovative solutions to problems

As the intellectual lifeblood of VCU and our community, the College of Humanities and Sciences seeks to inspire our students to explore their passions and dreams as individuals and provide the context to understand their place in the world and connections with others—locally, globally and throughout time. Most importantly, our educational and research environment addresses an array of technological, health-related and societal problems, as well as providing profound insights and reflections of what it means to be human and humane.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14771

Air War College

Rank: Professor of Strategic Studies

Salary: $90,000 - $135,000 per year

Location: Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama - must live in location - NOT a remote job

Travel Required Occasionally

Appointment type: Term 3 Years with one-year probationary period

Full-time position

Must be a US citizen capable of gaining a Top Secret security clearance

The primary focus of the position is on curriculum development and instruction in electives on strategic deterrence and nuclear deterrence operations to students at the Air War College and Air Command and Staff College at Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama. General class size is 8-12 students. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Participates in planning, developing, and implementing course content, instructional methods/materials, and testing/evaluation instruments. Provides detailed feedback to students and documentation of student progress. Serves as subject-matter expert and advisor to military colleges and Air University on subjects of relevance to academic background and teaching area. Makes recommendations on educational methods, program content, course organization, lesson development, lecture subjects, lecturers, integration of state-of-the-art technology applications, and other areas of curriculum development. Guides, stimulates discussion, and evaluates participation and contribution of students.

Advises student research on major research projects (professional study papers). With other academic officers, ensures research studies are conducted in line with the latest US government policies and strategies. Pursues individual research in area of expertise, writes scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews for external peer-reviewed publications, broadens and deepens personal knowledge to maintain intellectual leadership. Funding is available for research and conference participation. Ensures AU is using educational best practices to leverage technology, develop sound methodology, and garner useful feedback from AF and DoD stakeholders and students. Establishes and continuously maintains professional contacts with educators, military officers, and institutions related to area of expertise.

Provides advice and counsel to Course Directors, Department Directors, and Deans on topics related to area(s) of expertise. Organizes and conducts faculty development activities related to research activities, curriculum development initiatives, new techniques, and technology application in the curriculum. Reviews and provides scholarly opinion on draft Air Force publications. Attends meetings and participates in other organizational activities intended to advance the state of knowledge in area of expertise or to set and maintain professional standards of performance and promote professional ethics. Serves as guest lecturer at AU and other DoD schools as schedule permits.

Conditions of Employment

U.S. Citizenship Required

Must be registered for Selective Service, see Legal and Regulatory Guide

***The ability to gain a top-secret security clearance is required***

You may qualify for moving expenses, if authorized, it may be covered using PCS, Recruitment or Relocation Incentive in accordance with agency policy.

Incumbent may be required to travel by commercial or military conveyance to perform temporary duty.

This job is being filled by an alternative hiring process and is not in the competitive civil service. This is an Administratively Determined position in the excepted service.

This is a Testing Designated Position; the employee is subject to random drug testing.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have demonstrated superior teaching performance and the ability to develop and maintain curriculum; have guided research projects; and published in strategic deterrence concentrations.

Understanding of and work experience in areas of nuclear enterprise and operations, nuclear employment, nuclear surety to include Personal Reliability Program, compliance, safety, security, and reliability is highly desired.

Knowledge of strategic deterrence theory and the strategic and operational challenges in international and regional security environments in the mid to long term.

Practical understanding of the DoD nuclear enterprise and operations mission, to include nuclear surety and nuclear command and control.

Knowledge of the principles, practices, and techniques of educational instruction.

Ability to establish program objectives and to assess progress toward achievement of those objectives.

Ability to work harmoniously with others within the education environment. -

Ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing.

Skill in accomplishing special educational/ instructional group research studies and projects with knowledge of educational resources, programs, principles, and policies.

Ability to analyze problems and develop timely and economical solutions.

Our Agency:

Air University is the intellectual and leadership-development center of the Air and Space Forces. Our mission is to educate and develop Air, Space, and Cyberspace warrior leaders in support of the National Defense Strategy.

Air University, with headquarters at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, is a major component of Air Education and Training Command and is the lead agent for Air Force education.

Air University provides the full spectrum of Air Force education, encompassing pre-commissioning programs for new officers; graduate programs in specialized military disciplines; progressive, career-long professional military development for officer, enlisted, and civilian Airmen; and specialized programs for US cabinet appointees, senior executive service civilians, and general officers.

Air University draws on a long legacy of airpower education. The Wright brothers established the first US civilian flying school here in 1910. In the early 1930s, the Army Air Corps Tactical School moved to Montgomery, establishing Maxwell Field.

Air University was established in 1946, and today is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award associate, masters, and doctor of philosophy degrees.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14729

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in Moral and Political Economy

The Center for Economy and Society, a division of the SNF Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University, invites applications for two or more postdoctoral fellowships in Moral and Political Economy. Applications are encouraged from scholars working on cross-disciplinary topics related to moral and political economy, who anticipate having a Ph.D. in hand prior to the anticipated start date of July 1, 2025. Fellows will be appointed for a three-year term, and will be expected to teach two sections or seminars in the first year, and three sections or seminars in both the second and third years, in addition to advising senior thesis students in the major. During the academic year fellows are expected to remain in residence in the Baltimore-Washington region, and to participate actively in the intellectual community of CES. Please submit a statement of purpose outlining your research interests and teaching experience (up to 1,500 words), a CV, an article-length writing sample, and three letters of recommendation online via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/153178>. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2024.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14739

University of Kentucky

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, Kentucky invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position Political Science to begin August 1, 2025.

The selected candidate will be appointed to a 9-month, non-tenure eligible faculty position for an initial two-year period that has the potential for renewal and for promotion to Senior Lecturer after five years.

The individual selected for this position will demonstrate clear potential for teaching excellence and will be able to teach classes that support the department's new major: Law and Justice. The Law and Justice major is designed to equip students with an understanding of legal principles and justice systems and the critical skills needed to effectively address legal and justice-related challenges in various professional contexts.

A Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by July 2025 is required.

Interested applicants should apply online at: <https://ukjobs.uky.edu/postings/546086>. Applicants must include the following: 1) Cover Letter, 2) CV, and 3) Teaching Statement (upload as Specific Request 1). In addition, please provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information may be utilized to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

The University of Kentucky provides comprehensive benefits which are fully described at <https://hr.uky.edu/employment/working-uk/our-benefits>.

Questions about this search should be addressed to Dr. Bridgett King, Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Kentucky (Bridgett.King@uky.edu).

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14745

Knox College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Applications are made through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152080>

The Department of Environmental Studies at Knox College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies, with a focus in the social sciences, beginning September 1, 2025. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on some aspect of environmental policy.

Knox is an independent, selective liberal arts institution with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a community that embraces a diversity of perspectives and individuals. Experience working with diverse populations of students and a commitment to successful teaching in a multicultural environment are expected. With over 35% of the student body identifying as U.S. students of color and more than 20% international students, the College supports instruction and research that appeals to Knox's students broadly.

The Environmental Studies Department offers major tracks in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, both of which culminate in faculty-supervised student research. Teaching responsibilities include two classes per each of three 10-week terms (Fall, Winter, Spring) and support for advanced student work in the program.

The successful candidate will have experience with research techniques appropriate to their field and will be prepared to supervise senior research projects. They will also teach Introduction to Environmental Policy as well as an advanced course in their area of expertise, and contribute to a team-taught introductory course in Environmental Studies. In consultation with the department, they will teach additional courses in the environmental social sciences that contribute to departmental majors as well as the general education curriculum.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in environmental studies or related field is expected by the time of appointment, but exceptional ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates should submit:

1. A letter of application that addresses the qualifications listed above, including the candidate's research agenda, undergraduate liberal arts teaching philosophy, and approach to teaching and mentorship in a diverse community of students;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. An unofficial graduate transcript;
4. Names of three confidential professional references. References will be contacted for those candidates progressing in the interview process, and will be expected to provide letters quickly when requested.

Additional materials may be requested at a later date.

Review of applications begins September 13, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to Katherine Adelsberger at kadelsbe@knox.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14717

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Democratic Development, Backsliding and Capacity Building (Assistant or Associate Professor)

Democratic Development, Backsliding and Capacity Building (Assistant or Associate Professor)

College/School/Unit: LBJ School of Public Affairs

Posted: Aug 7, 2024

Apply By: Open until filled

Description

The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas at Austin ("LBJ School") invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science or other allied disciplines to begin in Fall of academic year 2025-26 (with an August 2025 start date). One of the nation's top ten programs in public affairs, the LBJ School is seeking to strengthen its faculty in the democratic backsliding, consolidation as well as capacity building, with a focus on low- or middle-income countries (LMICs).

The LBJ School comprises more than 45 faculty members and approximately 350 graduate students, and a new undergraduate degree that will eventually serve another 400 students. It offers multi-disciplinary curricula leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts of Public Affairs, Master of Public Affairs, Master of Global Policy Studies, and Ph.D. in Public Policy.

The ideal candidate will possess proven experience and expertise as a political scientist in one or more of the following areas: democratic consolidation and stabilization, authoritarianism, democratic backsliding, institutional and political development, and capacity building in LMICs.

They will also teach courses related to a field of public policy. The appointee's research will have direct relevance to public policy. The appointee will conduct and publish scholarly research and seek grant opportunities in support of their research and/or teaching activities. The appointee will participate in faculty governance in the LBJ School.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, Sociology or a related field with an emphasis in democratic political development is required. ABD candidates will be considered if the doctoral degree will be complete by the time of employment. Experience in college teaching and evidence of scholarship or scholarly potential is preferred.

Application Instructions

Interested candidates can submit their cover letter, CV, statement of teaching, three years of teaching evaluations (or fewer if unavailable), three letters of reference, and one article-length writing sample via Interfolio. Questions about the position can be directed to Kate Weaver at <mailto:ceweaver@austin.utexas.edu>. Questions about the application can be directed to Shannon LaFevers at <mailto:slafevers@austin.utexas.edu>.

The search committee will begin considering applications October 1. The position will remain open until filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Texas at Austin, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5577850>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14725

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics

Subfield(s): Methodology, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics in Political Science, with the appointment to begin in the 2025-2026 academic year. In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship.

We welcome candidates from any subfield, regardless of methodological or regional expertise. We are particularly interested in scholars whose expertise contributes to or complements one or more of the following cross-cutting themes: 1) Global and Transnational Challenges, 2) Groups and Identities, 3) Democracy and Development, 4) Representation and Accountability.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh has faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Minimum qualifications: applicants must have a PhD, at least 6 years of experience, significant record of publications, and demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, to contribute to an inclusive climate, and to attract and retain a diverse study body.

The committee will begin looking at applications December 2nd, 2024, but will continue to accept materials until the position is filled. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a CV, and 3 names of people that can provide references when needed; cover letters should include a discussion how the candidate's research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion. References can be sent to psjobs@pitt.edu. Candidates with questions can contact Chris Bonneau, search committee co-chair, at cwbonneau@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14711

University of Chicago

Rank: Collegiate Assistant Professor

The College at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. Collegiate Assistant Professors are members of the College Faculty whose primary professional responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program. <https://college.uchicago.edu/academics/core-curriculum>

Core courses in the Humanities typically deal with fundamental issues and texts in history, philosophy, and literature. Currently, the Core is organized into eight year-long sequences: Readings in World Literature; Human Being and Citizen; Greece and Rome: Texts, Traditions, Transformations; Philosophical Perspectives on the Humanities; Media Aesthetics; Reading Cultures; Poetry and the Human; and Language and the Human. We encourage applicants to spend time reviewing the descriptions and syllabi for Core sequences to understand the distinct topics and approaches and gauge best fit. Descriptions of these courses are available here: <https://college.uchicago.edu/academics/core/humanities-core>

Core courses in the Social Sciences explore, on the basis of significant works or primary source materials, the fundamental concepts and the different modes of inquiry that have defined the social sciences in the modern period. Currently, we are inviting applications for Collegiate Assistant Professors to teach in several of the year-long sequences into which the Core is organized: Self, Culture and Society; Classics of Social and Political Thought; Power, Identity, and Resistance; Democracy: Equality, Liberty and the Dilemma of Self-Governance; and Global Society. We encourage applicants to spend time reviewing the descriptions and syllabi for Core sequences to understand the distinct topics and approaches and gauge best fit. Descriptions of these courses are available here: <https://college.uchicago.edu/academics/core/social-sciences-core>

Some Collegiate Assistant Professors also teach in the Introduction to the Civilizations Core Sequences. We are currently accepting applications in the Civilizations of East Asia and Introduction to Latin American Civilizations core sequences. These courses are taught on the basis of intensive readings of significant primary source documents. For descriptions and syllabi of the Introduction to the Civilizations of East Asia and Introduction to Latin American Civilization see: <https://college.uchicago.edu/academics/core/civilization-studies-core>

The positions are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2025. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as in their original scholarship. While many Core sequences feature set reading lists, applicants need not have conventional expertise in the specific texts and topics that are currently taught. Rather, we welcome applicants from a wide variety of disciplinary backgrounds who can apply conceptual and methodological creativity and skill to the teaching of general education courses. Applicants should be prepared 1) to identify and guide students through fundamental questions in a Core sequence and 2) to contribute meaningfully to the instructional community and the curricular evolution for that Core sequence.

In most years, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. In the second through fourth year of residence, each Collegiate Assistant Professor has the opportunity to design up to two independent courses and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical. In the fourth year there is a possibility of another quarter of sabbatical with salary reduction.

The position comes with a minimum salary of $82,571, carries full benefits, and an annual professional development fund of $6,250. The effective date for these teaching appointments is September 1, 2025

To apply for these positions, please see our web site at <https://fellows.uchicago.edu>.

The terms and conditions of these positions are described in the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union.

On-line application deadline: 11:59:59 PM EDT, Tuesday, October 15, 2024.

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. See the University's Statements on Diversity (<https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>).

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer (<https://humanresources.uchicago.edu/fpg/policies/200/p201.shtml>) and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination (<https://www.uchicago.edu/non-discrimination>).

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14678

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Law & Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington's Seattle campus invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position focusing on law and politics. The position is open to subfields of Political Science and other disciplines. The department is especially interested in building on its expertise in research and teaching that engages law through the lens of power and politics, including the areas of rights, justice, courts and legal mobilization.

This position contributes to the Department's commitment to cross field and interdisciplinary studies of the law. You would be joining a broader University of Washington community of engaged scholars and students curious about the many ways law matters in politics and society at the local, national, transnational or international level. This position is directly tied to the department's deep commitment to teaching, mentorship, and community engagement as well as research excellence.

Washington State Law requires that this ad list a binding salary range. The base salary range for this position will be $10,000 - $14,000 per month on a 9-month basis ($90,000 - $126,000 annually), commensurate with experience and qualifications, or as mandated by a U.S. Department of Labor prevailing wage determination. The position will begin on September 16, 2025 and is full time with a 9-month service period (September 16 – June 15).

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research critically engaging law and politics. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a closely related field by the start of the appointment.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All application materials must be submitted online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/152232>

Applications should include a 1-2 page cover letter, current CV, writing sample, 1-2 page research statement, 1-2 page teaching statement, 1 page diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests and accomplishments. The teaching statement should describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant's record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications received by September 23, 2024 are guaranteed full consideration. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

BENEFITS INFORMATION

A summary of benefits associated with this title/rank can be found at <https://hr.uw.edu/benefits/benefits-orientation/benefit-summary-pdfs/>. Appointees solely employed and paid directly by a non-UW entity are not UW employees and are not eligible for UW or Washington State employee benefits.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY

The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (<http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/>). Additionally, the University's Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member's academic profile and responsibilities (<https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432>).

PRIVATE NOTICE

Review the University of Washington Privacy Notice for Demographic Data of Job Applicants and University Personnel to learn how your demographic data are protected, when the data may be used, and your rights.

DISABILITY SERVICES

To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact the Disability Services Office at 206-543-6450 or dso@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14666

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Faculty Fellowship

The Notre Dame Institute for Ethics and the Common Good (ECG)—formerly the Notre Dame Institute for Advanced Study—convenes a multidisciplinary community to advance moral understanding and develop compelling responses to the most pressing ethical issues of our era.

Each year the institute awards 6-8 residential Faculty Fellowships annually to researchers whose work addresses the Institute's yearly research theme.

During the 2025-26 academic year, ECG is sponsoring research projects that investigate The Future of Virtue Ethics: Strengthening Foundations and Exploring Applications.

These fellowships will bring together ethicists from across many disciplines—including philosophers, theologians, humanities scholars, social scientists, policy analysts, and legal scholars—to discern future directions of virtue ethics.

One Faculty Fellowship will be co-sponsored by the History of Philosophy Forum at Notre Dame, in connection with the Forum's Historical Traditions of Ethics Research Cluster beginning in 2025. This fellowship will fund a project that investigates a topic in the history of ethics.

Faculty Fellows typically have a faculty appointment at their home institution, but the fellowships are also open to independent researchers, public practitioners, postdoctoral scholars, those who have recently received their Ph.D. (or equivalent terminal) degree, those who are pursuing the creative arts, and faculty from Notre Dame. Scholars from outside the U.S. are welcome to apply—there are no citizenship requirements for these fellowships.

Current graduate students are eligible to apply only if they will receive their terminal degree by August 1, 2025.

Faculty Fellows receive half of their base salary per academic year (up to $80,000), subsidized housing (for those who currently reside outside of the South Bend area), a research allowance of $1,000 per year, and a private office at ECG. Fellows' home institutions provide the remainder of their salaries as well as all benefits, including health insurance.

Postdocs are welcome to apply and receive a stipend of up to $80,000 paid directly to them (rather than to a home institution). Postdocs are also provided health insurance benefits.

All Faculty Fellows are expected to reside in the South Bend area and to remain in residence at the University of Notre Dame during the period of their fellowship (except for vacation periods, holidays, and University breaks). Faculty Fellows are expected to attend weekly seminars, present their research twice during these seminars, and attend ECG retreats, communications workshops, and other special events.

Applications for Faculty Fellowships must be submitted through Interfolio and should include the following:

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Curriculum vitae (no more than four pages, single-spaced)
- 3) Proposal abstract (no more than 400 words)
- 4) Fellowship research proposal (no more than six pages double-spaced; research proposals may include a works-cited or bibliography page, which does not count toward the six-page limit). In the research proposal, applicants should provide an explanation of the project they intend to pursue at ECG, including:
  - *How the proposed research aligns with the research theme and mission of the Institute (see <https://ethics.nd.edu/about>)
  - *Preliminary objectives for the research to be conducted (i.e., whether the research might result in a book, journal article, art work, etc.)
  - *The proposed work plan (including what research or work has already been accomplished, what will be done during the fellowship period, the methodology to be employed, and the organization of the scholarly project, book, or other work)
- 5) Public-engagement proposal (no more than two pages, double sided). In the public-engagement proposal, applicants should explain how they plan to engage a public audience with their proposed research project (e.g., through a newspaper op-ed, public discussion, podcast episode, etc.).
- 6) Two letters of reference. The letters should address the strength of the applicant's proposed research project, its fit with the 2025-2026 theme of The Future of Virtue Ethics, and the applicant's collaborative potential and collegiality.
- 7) (Optional) Up to two pages of non-text materials supporting the research proposal.

All 2025-26 ECG Faculty Fellowship applications, including letters of reference and supporting documentation, must be received by 11:59 p.m. (EDT) on Monday, October 14, 2024.

Learn more and apply at <https://ethics.nd.edu/fellowships-and-grants/faculty/>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14617

Waseda University

Rank: Assistant Professor (non-tenure-track)

Full information of the recruitment of this position is available at the following website.

<https://www.waseda.jp/fpse/pse/news-en/2024/07/29/21890/>

Waseda University, a long-established private university located in central Tokyo, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor (full time, non-tenure-track) (in Japanese, "Kôshi-ninkitsuki") in the Faculty of Political Science and Economics (FPSE). We seek individuals who wish to participate actively in education and research at the Faculty.

- Starting date

Starting date: April 1, 2025

- Duration of employment

Two years from the starting date of employment.

*At the end of this two-year period, taking into account such factors as education, research and work performance, Assistant Professor (non-tenure-track) may be reappointed for another year. However, the combined period of employment must be completed by March 31, 2028.

- Requirements

(1) Candidates must hold a doctoral degree or expect to obtain a doctoral degree or expect his/her affiliated institution to make an official decision to award the degree before February 28, 2025.

(2) Candidates must be able to give lectures and conduct seminars in either Japanese or English.

For detailed information of the position, please refer to the above website.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 9/6/2024

Date Posted: 8/7/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14559

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

The School of Civic Leadership (SCL) at The University of Texas at Austin (UT Austin) invites applications for a one-year distinguished visiting professor positions at the full professor level. The position is open to a scholars from a broad range of disciplines whose work is in one or more of SCL's core areas: 1) History of Philosophy, History of Political Thought; 2) Constitutional Studies: Law, History, and Theory; and 3) Economic Opportunity and Dynamism.

Considering the responsibility public institutions of higher education have to prepare students for leadership in a free society, the University of Texas System Board of Regents established the School of Civic Leadership at UT Austin in 2023. Building on the strengths of the Civitas Institute, the School of Civic Leadership is an interdisciplinary school whose dual mission is to equip students with the knowledge and aptitudes necessary to lead in a free society, and to produce academic research at the highest levels of scholarly excellence.

The school offers a minor in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) in collaboration with the College of Liberal Arts and will launch a new Civics Honors major and Civics minor in the 2025-26 academic year.

The School of Civic Leadership invites applicants to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and list of three academic references. (References do not need to submit full letters at this stage.) Cover letters should give a brief overview of the candidate's research agenda, highlight areas of teaching competence, and concisely describe how the candidate would contribute to developing the school.

Review of applications will begin on September 15.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/149476>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14558

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Larry R. Faulkner Distinguished Professorship

The School of Civic Leadership (SCL) at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for the Larry R. Faulkner Distinguished Professorship. The position is open to a scholars from a broad range of disciplines whose work is in one or more of SCL's core areas: 1) History of Philosophy, History of Political Thought; 2) Constitutional Studies: Law, History, and Theory; and 3) Economic Opportunity and Dynamism.

Considering the responsibility public institutions of higher education have to prepare students for leadership in a free society, the University of Texas System Board of Regents established the School of Civic Leadership at UT Austin in 2023. SCL is interdisciplinary school whose dual mission is to equip students with the knowledge and aptitudes necessary to lead in a free society, and to produce academic research at the highest levels of scholarly excellence.

The school offers a minor in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) in collaboration with the College of Liberal Arts and will launch a new Civics Honors major and Civics minor in the 2025-26 academic year.

The School of Civic Leadership invites applicants to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and list of three academic references. (References do not need to submit full letters at this stage.) Cover letters should give a brief overview of the candidate's research agenda, highlight areas of teaching competence, and concisely describe how the candidate would contribute to developing the School of Civic Leadership. Ideal candidates will (1) have excellent records of scholarship with robust research agendas, (2) provide evidence of exceptional teaching, and (3) show a readiness to contribute to the intellectual life, governance, and programmatic development of the school.

Review of applications will begin on September 15.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/149473>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14557

University of Calgary

Rank: Mark Grosjean Post-doctoral Fellowship in Political Science

Mark Grosjean Postdoctoral Fellowship in Political Science

Location: Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Application Deadline: November 1, 2024.

Fellowship Start: Between May 1 and September 1, 2025.

Job Description: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Department of Political Science at the University of Calgary.

Position Summary: During the period of the Fellowship, the successful candidate must carry out a program of independent research, be an active, in-person, full-time participant in official departmental functions and events where possible, and disseminate the research undertaken during the Fellowship in a public forum in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Salary: CAN $70,000 per year, plus specified Postdoctoral Associate Group Benefits, plus a CAN $6,000 research stipend.

Qualifications: Applicants must have earned their PhD in political science less than 4 years before the start date of the position in any given competition year.

Eligibility: Unrestricted citizenship. Applicants working in any area of political science are eligible. Fellows must be in residence at UCalgary, unless required by occasional research trips. Applicants must not simultaneously hold another postdoctoral fellowship or any other full-time position.

Minimum Education/Experience: Applicants must have earned their PhD in political science less than 4 years before the start date of the position in any given competition year.

More Information or To Apply: <https://arts.ucalgary.ca/grosjean-fellowship>

Email: Grosjean.Fellowship@UCalgary.ca

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 7/24/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14530

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science, Bush School of Government & Public Service at Texas A&M University (<http://bush.tamu.edu/pols>) is recruiting for two (2) tenure-track (Assistant Professor) full-time, nine-month positions which are open with respect to subfields. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service to the profession. Strong research and teaching interests across traditional subfields of political science will be highly valued. The starting date for this position is fall 2025. The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas was founded in 1997 under President George H. W. Bush's philosophy that "public service is a noble calling." <https://bush.tamu.edu/>

This position requires a Ph.D. in political science or a related field. All appointees are expected to be committed to teaching and research of the highest quality.

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/147939: 1) cover letter (Letter of Interest ([referencing research agenda and teaching interests]) 2) curriculum vitae, 3) personal statement, (The statement should include your philosophy and plans for research, teaching and service), 4) writing sample (You may provide unpublished works or works in progress if you have not published, 5) three (3) confidential letters of recommendation requested through applicant's Interfolio account, and 6) provide contact information for two additional professional references. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The review of applications will begin on September 1, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Questions regarding this position should be sent to Carrie Kilpatrick at carriek@tamu.edu.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14508

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: Tenure Track Position - Gender and International Relations (Open Rank)

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Women & Politics, Conflict Processes

The Department of International Relations at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is seeking to fill the Leonard and Sophie Davis Lecture-ship in Gender, Conflict Resolution, and Peace, beginning fall 2025. We welcome applicants at all academic ranks.

The candidate for this endowed position is expected to have a proven record of excellence in cutting-edge research and teaching in Gender and International Relations with an emphasis on Gender, Conflict Resolution, and Peace, and is expected to take on a leadership role in the development of research and teaching on Gender and IR at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

We encourage applications from scholars of all epistemological and methodological approaches to the study of gender. We especially seek candidates who can complement the strengths of our department in other areas of International Relations. Candidates should be able to conduct research, teach undergraduate and graduate-level classes, as well as mentor students. Advanced doctoral candidates are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than October 1st 2025.

The language of teaching at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years following their arrival.

The deadline for applications is 15 September 2024. Candidates selected by the Department of International Relations require the approval of the Faculty of Social Sciences. The Department of International Relations and the Hebrew University are committed to diversity and equal opportunity. These issues are considered in hiring deliberations.

Please submit all application materials electronically at: <http://tj.huji.ac.il/>

The applicants will be asked to upload:

- A cover letter stating willingness to begin teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem in the fall of 2025;
- A list of required and elective courses that can be taught at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem;
- A scientific biography outlining research orientation and plans for the coming years;

- A Curriculum Vitae, including teaching experience;
- Three writing samples;
- Teaching evaluations, if available

Three letters of recommendation should be sent directly according to the guidelines on the application website.

For questions regarding the search, please contact Prof. Piki Ish-Shalom, piki.ish-shalom@mail.huji.ac.il

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14435

Texas A&M University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science, Bush School of Government & Public Service at Texas A&M University (<http://bush.tamu.edu/pols>) is recruiting 4 tenured full-time, nine-month positions which are open with respect to subfields. This search is for the rank of Associate or Full Professor. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service to the profession. Strong research and teaching interests across traditional subfields of political science will be highly valued. A Ph.D. is required. The expected starting date for this position is August 1, 2025. The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas was founded in 1997 under President George H. W. Bush's philosophy that "public service is a noble calling." <https://bush.tamu.edu/>

This position requires a Ph.D. in political science or a related field. All appointees are expected to be committed to teaching and research of the highest quality.

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/147945 1) cover letter 2) curriculum vitae, 3) personal statement, (your statement should include your philosophy and plans for teaching), 4) provide contact information for five professional references. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The review of applications will begin on September 1, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Questions regarding this position should be sent to Carrie Kilpatrick at carriek@tamu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14497

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: Tenure Track Position

The Department of Political Science at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem invites applications for a tenure-track position (open rank), beginning fall 2025. We welcome applications from outstanding candidates with a record of excellence in research in all fields of political science. We currently have a particular interest in researchers working on Israeli politics from an institutional, public policy & administration, or comparative politics perspective. However, scholars specializing in other fields of political science are also welcome to apply. Both junior and senior researchers, holding a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline, are encouraged to apply. Candidates are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than June 30th 2025.

The Department of Political Science is committed to equal opportunities. Applicants from disadvantaged groups under-represented in our faculty, including women and minorities, are encouraged to apply. To apply, please submit the following materials:

- A letter of intent stating willingness to begin teaching in the fall of 2025
- Curriculum Vitae
- Scientific biography outlining research orientation and plans for the coming years
- List of courses the candidate can teach at the undergraduate and graduate level
- Electronic copies of up to three writing samples
- Teaching evaluations, if available

Additionally, three letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to the Search Committee.

Please submit all application materials electronically at: <http://tpp.huji.ac.il>

The language of teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years of their arrival.

The deadline for applications is September 29th, 2024. Candidates selected by the Department will compete with candidates from other departments in the Faculty of Social Sciences for available positions. For inquiries concerning the search please contact Prof. Oren Barak at oren.barak1@mail.huji.ac.il.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/29/2024

Date Posted: 7/14/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14490

Harvard University

Rank: Academy Scholar

The Academy Scholars Program of The Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies identifies and supports outstanding scholars at the start of their academic careers whose work combines excellence in a social science discipline with a command of the language and knowledge or expertise of countries or regions outside of the United States or Canada. Their scholarship should span traditional disciplinary divisions and elucidate comparative, transnational, or domestic issues, past or present.

The Academy Scholars are a select community of individuals possessed of resourcefulness, initiative, and originality whose work shows promise as a foundation for careers in research universities or international institutions.

Academy Scholars are appointed for a two-year, in-residence, postdoctoral fellowship at The Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA, USA. They receive substantial financial and research assistance which permits them to undertake robust research projects and skills development in their chosen fields and areas. They meet at dinners, seminars, and informal get-togethers in order to pursue innovative interdisciplinary approaches to their work. They are mentored by the Harvard Academy Senior Scholars, a cohort of faculty members who act as a selection committee, participate in Harvard Academy events, and are committed to supporting the Academy Scholars as they work to achieve their potential.

These awards are open to recipients of PhD or comparable doctoral degrees (within two years of the August 1, 2025, start date) and advanced doctoral candidates in the social sciences. Scholars nearing dissertation completion must be able to submit degree conferral documentation issued by their university registrar's office by June 30, 2025, for an August 1, 2025, start date. Individuals who hold or have completed another Harvard postdoctoral fellowship are not eligible to apply.

The Harvard Academy is dedicated to building an inclusive community of scholars with an array of experiences, perspectives, and methods and welcomes a diverse pool of applicants.

Each year, five to six Academy Scholars are named for two-year appointments with an annual stipend of $80,000 (annual research support of $5,000 is also provided, along with funds for hiring research assistants), with the two years to be completed within a three-year window. Year 1 of the fellowship must be taken up no later than the fall immediately following the postdoctoral fellowship offer. Delays or deferrals in the start of Year 1 are not permitted. Between Years 1 and 2, Academy Scholars may apply for a one-time leave (up to 12 months), either to accept or to continue with a tenure-track teaching appointment but for no other professional reason. Academy Scholars may not accept other sources of funding, awards, or obligations during their appointment.

All application materials must be submitted by the deadline of September 20, 2024. We do not accept late applications.

The completed application will include:

Curriculum vitae (CV); including list of publications

Research proposal (2000 words maximum); including intellectual objectives and planned methodological and disciplinary work

One scholarly writing sample (e.g., PhD dissertation chapter or single-authored peer-reviewed academic journal article; fifty pages maximum; in English)

A copy of your PhD program transcript

Three letters of recommendation (uploaded directly and confidentially by the recommend-er through the online application)

All parts of the application, including the three letters of recommendation, are submitted online as pdf documents. Access the online application through the homepage of The Harvard Academy's website: <https://academy.wcfia.harvard.edu>.

All materials must be received by September 20, 2024. The selection process begins immediately thereafter. Applicants whose materials are incomplete are at a disadvantage when considered by the Selection Committee. Announcement of the awards will be made in December 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14459

Purdue University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Association AI and Political Science

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Artificial Intelligence, Political Science

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science seeks a two-year postdoctoral researcher to assist with projects, papers, and grant proposals in the Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL) and the Computational Social Science Lab (CSS). The postdoctoral fellow will be mentored in research and proposal writing by faculty directors of the labs and participate in an active research community in Political Science and the College of Liberal Arts.

For information about the labs, please see the following websites:

GRAIL: <https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/research/labs/grail/index.html>

CSS: <https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/research/labs/computational-social-science-lab/index.html>

The start date is negotiable, but must fall between August 1, 2024 and January 1, 2025. The position is at Purdue's main campus in West Lafayette, Indiana.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field is required. ABDs will be considered but the successful candidate must provide evidence of completion of all requirements for the PhD prior to the start date of the position. Qualified candidates must have strong skills in writing, quantitative data analysis, data visualization, and research methods. Candidates must have experience managing research projects and a record of successful collaboration. Candidates must also have evidence of a research pipeline related to the aims of GRAIL and the CSS Lab.

About Purdue University

In recent years, the College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has hired a large group of faculty in the area of artificial intelligence (AI), broadly construed. Representing a variety of disciplines in the College, this cohort of scholars expands our capacity to explore the implications of AI development across multiple domains and contribute to disciplinary and interdisciplinary research and educational initiatives surrounding AI in new and important ways.

Political Science is home to 28 faculty and more than 40 PhD students, visiting scholars, and post-docs. Purdue University is a member of the AAU and a land grant university with enrollment of over 52,000 students. The campus is located in West Lafayette, Indiana, an area with a favorable cost of living and a vibrant local community. Purdue University offers high-quality research and computing facilities with many opportunities for collaboration in Centers and Institutes across campus and in the broader region. Purdue University is building world-leading programs in AI, including a new Institute for Physical Artificial Intelligence.

Computational Social Science (CSS) Lab at Purdue University

Under the direction of Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich, the Computational Social Science Lab (CSS) was established to promote the application and development of computational methods to large, typically complex, human, and behavioral data. CSS has received coverage both on and off campus for its "revolutionary" approach to social science research, especially its novel use of text, audio, and video data. The lab comprises an interdisciplinary team of undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, and postdoctoral fellows.

Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich joined the faculty at Purdue University in the Fall of 2022. His research uses novel quantitative, automated, and machine learning methods to analyze non-traditional data sources such as audio (or speech) data and video data. His work has appeared in prominent journals like the American Political Science Review, Journal of Politics, Nature Human Behavior, Political Analysis, and Political Psychology. In addition to securing external awards from the NIH and NSF, his work has also been covered by prominent media outlets like The Washington Post, The Economist and National Public Radio (NPR). His most recent work using C-SPAN has looked at gender and social dynamics on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL) at Purdue University The Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL), co-directed by Dr. Daniel S. Schiff and Dr. Kaylyn Jackson Schiff, conducts research on the social, ethical, and governance implications of artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies. GRAIL consists of an interdisciplinary team of faculty, graduate students, and undergraduate students and produces rigorous, policy-relevant work on AI supported by funding from the National Institute of Justice and Google. The lab's research explores topics such as the political impacts of deepfakes, emerging legislation and regulation related to AI, use of AI in government and law enforcement, and public and elite opinion on AI. GRAIL is a member of the National Institute of Standards and Technology's AI Safety Institute Consortium and an affiliate of Purdue's Institute for Physical Artificial Intelligence.

Dr. Daniel S. Schiff studies the formal and informal governance of AI through policy and industry, as well as AI's social and ethical implications in domains like education, manufacturing, finance, and criminal justice. Daniel previously served as the founding Responsible AI Lead at JP Morgan Chase & Co. and as the Secretary of the IEEE 7010-2020 standard, the first AI ethics industry standard. His research has been published in prominent interdisciplinary venues such as Policy Studies Journal, the American Political Science Review, AI & Society, and the International Journal of AI in Education.

Dr. Kaylyn Jackson Schiff conducts research on how technological developments are changing citizen-government contact and explores implications for service provision, misinformation, policing, education, and government use of artificial intelligence. Her research has won the award for best dissertation in the field of public administration from the American Political Science Association and the Journal of Politics best paper award. Her work has been published in top journals such as the American Political Science Review, Public Administration Review, Policy Studies Journal, and Nature Human Behavior.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit <https://careers.purdue.edu/> position number 32237. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research fits the principal duties and qualifications of the position, 2) Curriculum Vitae, and 3) Recent research paper or other writing sample related to the position description. Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation and transcripts.

Screening of applicants will begin on July 15th, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich at bjdietri@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14420

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

All applications must be submitted electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/147036>

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position for a scholar who studies Race and Ethnic Politics, open with respect to subfield.

This position is at the assistant professor rank and is a university year appointment. It is anticipated to begin August 25, 2025. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required.

Applicants should include the following applications materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts, and a statement that demonstrates your commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation. Information on our research initiatives and scholarly interest of current faculty can be found on the Department's website: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci>. All applications must be submitted electronically to: <https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/current-job-postings.html>.

For full consideration, complete applications should be submitted by August 19, 2024.

Employment will require both a criminal background and candidates must meet all degree requirements prior to the start date of the position.

The University of Michigan is committed to fostering and maintaining a diverse work culture that respects the rights of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, gender expression, height, weight, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, or veteran status. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples and is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and members of minority groups are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/19/2024

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14382

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Political Theory

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in political theory and the ability to offer courses in classical, early modern, and modern political theory. The successful candidate will teach Western Culture in the College's Core Cultures program and may participate in the Rhetoric program. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs near completion may also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll-Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147324>. Review of applications will begin in early fall and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14369

Fudan University*Rank: Post-doctoral fellowsSubfield(s): Open, Open, Open

Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS)

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Areas Expertise: Region Open

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time “Post-doc fellows” at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China’s top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review’s editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias\_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2024Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/6/2023Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 13000University of Missouri, Columbia*Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Truman School of Government and Public Affairs, University of Missouri

Job Description:

The University of Missouri has launched an ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, that is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world’s most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we’re looking to recruit possess:

- A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward
- A robust publication and citation record
- National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- An interdisciplinary scope of work

Although all research areas will be considered, the University of Missouri is particularly interested in recruiting scholars focused on artificial intelligence, economic development, disparities in science, health, and education, as well as energy and technology policy.

To apply go to Mizzou Forward (<https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward>) and submit materials through the priority area that best matches your expertise. For questions about the Truman School or potential priority areas through which to apply, contact Lael Keiser, Truman School Director, at keiserl@missouri.edu.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs: Almost 1,000 students and 10,000 alumni strong, the Truman School of Government and Public Affairs provides an interdisciplinary educational environment for our undergraduate and graduate students. Through our research and teaching, we inform public policy, educate for ethical leadership in public service, and foster democratic discourse among citizens, policymakers, and scholars. We offer degrees in Political Science (BA, PhD), Public Administration and Policy (BA), Public Affairs (MPA, PhD), and Defense and Strategic Studies (MA).

About the University of Missouri: The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri’s largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation’s top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia

Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City.

Columbia, MO., consistently rated as one of the best communities to live, is an ideal college town, combining small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2023

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 12662

OTHER

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2025. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2025.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must submit a CV, and a job market paper. Applicants for non-tenured positions should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted by November 30, 2024. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to Faculty\_Recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Assistant Professor: $225,000 - $245,000

Associate Professor: $285,000 - $305,000

Full Professor: $375,000 - $395,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Consistent with its obligations under the law, the University will provide reasonable accommodation to any employee with a disability who requires accommodation to perform the essential functions of his or her job. Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical missions.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14776

USAF Air War College

Rank: Professor of Strategy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

Professor of Strategy in the Air War College's Department of Strategy
<https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806510700>

The Air War College Department of Strategy invites applications for the Professor of Strategy position beginning summer 2025. AWC is a resident master's degree program for senior military/civilian leaders from the U.S. and partner nations. The department receives excellent financial support for research, conference attendance, and professional development. The initial appointment may be up for 3 years and is renewable. The position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track.

A master's degree in a relevant field is required; PhD is highly desired. The minimum starting salary is $102,000.

Duties

- Teaching: leading graduate-level seminars of 12-16 students at a 2/2 equivalent load
- Teaching the Department of Strategy's core curriculum, including the interdisciplinary Foundations of Strategy course
- Teaching electives in the applicant's areas of specialization and/or teaching the AWC's Regional Security Studies (RSS) course. RSS courses involve taking students to different parts of the world for roughly two weeks to study political, military, economic, and societal issues in that region.
- Developing curriculum and advising student research
- Facilitating experiential learning (war games, strategy exercises, etc.) throughout the academic year
- Research: engaging in professional research and writing in areas of expertise
- Seeking publication of book manuscripts, articles, monographs, and book reviews for publication in scholarly journals, professional journals, and other outlets
- Presenting results of research at conferences and symposia
- Service: serving in faculty positions supporting personnel and programs
- Participating with other academic and professional associations, professional military education schools, AF/DoD institutions, universities, and colleges for professional development
- Delivering lectures, conducting seminars, participating in panel discussions related to AWC curriculum
- Maintaining academic currency by consistently reviewing professional literature and participating in professional associations

Qualifications

A master's degree in a relevant field is required; PhD is highly desired. In addition:

- Teaching experience (preferably at the graduate level) commensurate with professorial rank sought and/or professional experience and a suitable publication record are required.
- US citizenship and the ability to qualify for a US security clearance is required.

To apply, see here: <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806510700>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14712

American University

Rank: Assistant Professor--Legal and Political Institutions

The Department of Justice, Law & Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position beginning in Academic Year 2025-26. The position will be at the rank of Assistant Professor. The ideal candidate would be someone who focuses on the development of legal and political institutions and is attuned to the contemporary challenges to the rule of law. Applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the department are especially welcome.

Applicants should hold a PhD in legal studies, history, political science, economics, sociology, or a closely related field. Candidates who possess a law degree only (J.D. or LL.M.) will not be considered for this position. Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. Most of all, the department seeks scholars who will further its goals of producing high impact research and providing innovative undergraduate and graduate teaching. Competitive candidates will possess a strong background in social science methodologies and a productive research portfolio, including publications in high-quality peer reviewed outlets. The Department is home to a range of disciplines, approaches, and methods. We are particularly interested in individuals whose research is interdisciplinary. In addition to scholarship and teaching, all faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses. Possible courses related to our legal studies offerings can be found listed with the prefix JLC in the university's course catalog. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service to the department, school, and university. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Review of applications will begin on a rolling basis starting September 3, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled, subject to on-going budgetary approvals. Interviews will begin in mid-November. The position begins August 1, 2025. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion date by August 2025.

Salary and benefits are competitive, with an expected salary range of $90,000 to $110,000. Please submit applications via Workday.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interest and intent, a statement of teaching philosophy and recent evaluations of teaching, and three letters of recommendation. Contact information for three letters of reference will be solicited by Workday after applications are submitted. Please contact Ms. Sarah Feighery, Staff Assistant, at JLC\_FacultySearch@american.edu if you have any questions

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14756

SUNY, Binghamton University

Rank: Coordinator of Pre-Law Services

About Binghamton University:

Binghamton University is a premier public R1 research institution in the State University of New York (SUNY) system that unites more than 130 broadly interdisciplinary educational programs with some of the most vibrant research in the nation. Our unique character - shaped by our mission, outstanding academics, facilities, and community life - promotes extraordinary student success, research, and service; Binghamton University is where our students, faculty and staff thrive.

Working at Binghamton University is more than about having a great job - it is about having the opportunity to flourish in an exciting, engaging environment. Our faculty and staff appreciate Binghamton's collegial and inclusive culture and its commitment to excellence, education, innovation and civic engagement. Our diverse campus community contributes to our success.

Binghamton merges rigorous academics, distinguished faculty, exceptional staff, and ultramodern facilities to engage and challenge its 18,000+ students. The high-achieving Binghamton student body also represents a great diversity of life experiences, from first-generation college-goers to international students. Beyond their talent, these classmates share a desire to shape the future through technology, insight, intellectual exploration, and community service.

We are an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer, and in keeping with this commitment, we welcome all to apply, including veterans and persons with disabilities.

Job Description:

Budget Title: Senior Academic Advisor (SL-4)

Salary: $62,596

Reporting to the Director of Harpur Academic Advising, the Coordinator of Pre-Law Services leads Binghamton University's Pre-Law Advising efforts for students and recent alums interested in attending law school or pursuing legal careers. The Coordinator of Pre-Law Services works closely with faculty, advisors, and staff in a busy, collaborative environment. Responsibilities of the pre-law advisor are as follows:

Advising responsibilities:

Provide information on the curricular and co-curricular opportunities required to develop the skills and experiences required for success in law school

Provide advice to students applying to law schools, using rankings and other statistics

Assist advisees with the law school application process, including personal statements, letters of recommendation, LSATs, etc.

Provide support and offer relevant resources for underrepresented students

Advise on the financial aspects of law school, including costs and income expectations

Provide general academic advising to pre-law students, if appropriate
Serve as the departmental liaison to specific Harpur College departments

Creating connections:

Connect with pre-law student groups and faculty

Coordinate communication with the Harpur Law Council and other alumni in the legal field. Participate in Harpur Law Council meetings several times per year, some which are held in New York City.

Maintain and promote a network of faculty, attorneys and law students as advising resources

Connect with pre-law advisors and law school admissions representatives

Create and lead the BU pre-law advisory council, made up of faculty, advisors, students and other campus personnel connected with law school advising and career readiness.

Participate in the Northeast Association of Pre-Law Advisors (NAPLA) Programming:

Coordinate pre-law activities on campus, including speakers, outreach, training sessions, Work with the Harpur Dean's office to coordinate the HARP 300, a four-day winter session course held in NYC

Participate in new student orientation and admissions events

Coordinate and attend an annual trip to visit a New York City area law school, followed by a law alumni networking event

Develop and plan additional programming

Coordinate the Harpur Law Council's summer law internship programs

Administration:

Coordinate the annual campus Law Day with the Fleishman Center for Career and Professional Development

Collect law school admission data and prepare an annual pre-law report

Write dean's letters and process bar statements

Review and award pre-law scholarships

Supervision:

In addition to the primary duties, the pre-law advisor will take on the responsibility of supervising general advisors working with typical pre-law majors.

The successful candidate will be highly organized, self-disciplined, and able to work independently and as a part of a team. Candidates with a Ph.D. may have opportunities to teach as an adjunct in their discipline.

Requirements:

Master's Degree

3-5 years of experience in higher education or legal setting

Understanding of, appreciation for, and proven experience working with diverse constituencies

Effective and professional communication skills, both written and oral

Ability to participate in evening/weekend programming (occasional travel will be necessary)

Exceptional public speaking and presentation skills

Proven ability to complete responsibilities in a professional and timely manner

Preferred:

Strong knowledge and deep understanding of college student population, particularly pre-law students

Demonstrated understanding of law school admissions

Experience with website maintenance, database management, and presentation software

Visa sponsorship is not available for this position

Additional Information:

Offers of employment may be contingent upon successful completion of a pre-employment background check and verification of degree(s) and credentials.

Binghamton University is a tobacco-free campus.

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov

Payroll information can be found on our website <https://www.binghamton.edu/offices/human-resources/payroll/>

Cover letters may be addressed &quot;To the Search Committee.&quot;

Postings active on the website, accept applications until closure.

For information on the Dual Career Program, please visit:

<https://www.binghamton.edu/offices/human-resources/prospective/dual-career/index.html>

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

The State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. It is the policy of Binghamton University to provide for and promote equal opportunity employment, compensation, and other terms and conditions of employment without discrimination on the basis of age, race, color, religion, disability, national origin, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, veteran or military service member status, marital status, domestic violence victim status, genetic predisposition or carrier status, or arrest and/or criminal conviction record unless based upon a bona fide occupational qualification or other exception.

As required by Title IX and its implementing regulations Binghamton University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational programs and activities which it operates. This requirement extends to employment and admission. Inquiries about sex discrimination may be directed to the University Title IX Coordinator or directly to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR). Contact information for the Title IX Coordinator and OCR, as well as the University's complete Non-Discrimination Notice may be found here.

Binghamton University is committed to providing access, equal opportunity, and reasonable accommodation for individuals with disabilities in employment, its services, programs, and activities. To request reasonable accommodation to participate in the job application or interview process, contact: Ada Robinson-Perez, ADA Coordinator email: arobins@binghamton.edu or 607-777-3660.

Application Instructions:

All applicants must apply via Interview Exchange: <http://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=180401>

Deadline for Internal Applicants:

Deadline for External Applicants: Open until filled

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the vacancy is filled.

Please submit:

Resume,

Cover letter, and

Contact information for three professional references

You may add additional files/documents after uploading your resume. After you fill out your contact information, you will be directed to the upload page. Please login to check/edit your profile or to upload additional documents: <http://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/login.jsp>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14760

University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Rank: Tenured Associate Professor or Professor in Cybersecurity

*We will be holding an informational session for both our Middle East position as well as our Cyber Security position at the ASPA annual meeting on September 5th 4:00 pm - 5:30pm*

The Department of Political Science at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC) invites applications for a tenured Associate Professor or Professor position with a specialization in cybersecurity, beginning in August 2025. UMBC is a Carnegie Foundation R1 (Doctoral University – Very high research activity), community-engaged, minority-serving institution focused on inclusive excellence.

This position is part of a multi-year, campus-wide, and state-supported hiring initiative to develop the UMBC Cybersecurity Institute (UCI). The UCI builds upon a strong foundation established under the UMBC Cybersecurity Center (UCYBR) over the past decade, which today comprises over thirty faculty members from six departments across all colleges at UMBC. UCI-affiliated faculty members will have a tenured appointment in their respective home departments but are expected to collaborate across disciplines to develop as part of a cohort of new faculty members with complementary expertise in the rapidly expanding field of cybersecurity.

UMBC is a dynamic and growing public research university located in the Baltimore-Washington corridor, an area rich in scholarly resources and opportunities, especially in the area of cybersecurity. We have more than 14,000 undergraduate and graduate students. UMBC routinely ranks among the top universities in the country for undergraduate teaching and innovation in U.S. News and World Report. In addition, the Chronicle of Higher Education recognizes UMBC as one its “Great Colleges to Work For.” In doing so, the Chronicle cites the university as one of only 11 institutions nationwide (and one of only two universities with the Carnegie R1 classification) to excel in all 10 recognition categories.

We are especially proud of our diverse student population (<https://umbc.edu/about/>) and our designation by the U.S. Department of Education as a minority-serving institution (MSI). Because we hope to attract an equally diverse applicant pool for this position, candidates from diverse backgrounds, including women and under-represented minorities, are particularly encouraged to apply. UMBC has a strong commitment to equity and social justice. To learn more about the Department of Political Science, visit <https://politicalscience.umbc.edu/> and <https://politicalscience.umbc.edu/commitment-to-diversity-equity-and-inclusion/>.

UMBC is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, with a preference for a focus on international relations. Applicants must provide evidence of a focused, ambitious research agenda and a commitment to excellent undergraduate teaching. Candidates must also describe how their research, teaching, and/or life experiences contribute to “inclusive excellence,” such as their ability to work with underserved and diverse populations and their capacity to respond in pedagogically productive ways to the competence, aspirations, and needs of students from diverse backgrounds.

Application Instructions

For best consideration, applicants should submit their applications by October 20, 2024, using Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153170>. They should provide a cover letter; a CV, a statement of their research agenda; a statement of their teaching philosophy; a statement of their commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion; up to two writing samples or publications; up to two sample course syllabi; and three letters of reference. Questions should be addressed to the search chair, Dr. Devin Hagerty (dhagerty@umbc.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024
Date Posted: 8/29/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14751

Knox College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Applications are made through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152080>

The Department of Environmental Studies at Knox College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies, with a focus in the social sciences, beginning September 1, 2025. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on some aspect of environmental policy.

Knox is an independent, selective liberal arts institution with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a community that embraces a diversity of perspectives and individuals. Experience working with diverse populations of students and a commitment to successful teaching in a multicultural environment are expected. With over 35% of the student body identifying as U.S. students of color and more than 20% international students, the College supports instruction and research that appeals to Knox's students broadly.

The Environmental Studies Department offers major tracks in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, both of which culminate in faculty-supervised student research. Teaching responsibilities include two classes per each of three 10-week terms (Fall, Winter, Spring) and support for advanced student work in the program.

The successful candidate will have experience with research techniques appropriate to their field and will be prepared to supervise senior research projects. They will also teach Introduction to Environmental Policy as well as an advanced course in their area of expertise, and contribute to a team-taught introductory course in Environmental Studies. In consultation with the department, they will teach additional courses in the environmental social sciences that contribute to departmental majors as well as the general education curriculum.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in environmental studies or related field is expected by the time of appointment, but exceptional ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates should submit:

1. A letter of application that addresses the qualifications listed above, including the candidate's research agenda, undergraduate liberal arts teaching philosophy, and approach to teaching and mentorship in a diverse community of students;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. An unofficial graduate transcript;
4. Names of three confidential professional references. References will be contacted for those candidates progressing in the interview process, and will be expected to provide letters quickly when requested.

Additional materials may be requested at a later date.

Review of applications begins September 13, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to Katherine Adelsberger at kadelsbe@knox.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14717

Stanford University

Rank: Survey Center Research Scientist and Public Pulse Project Director

The School of Humanities and Sciences (H&S) is the foundation of a liberal arts education at Stanford. The school encompasses 24 departments and 25 interdisciplinary programs. H&S is home to fundamental and applied research, where free, open, and critical inquiry is pursued across disciplines. As the university's largest school, H&S serves as the foundation of a Stanford undergraduate education no matter which discipline students pursue as a major. Graduate students work alongside world-renowned faculty to pursue and shape foundational research that leads to breakthroughs and discoveries that shed new light on the past, influence the present, and shape the future. Together, faculty and students in H&S engage in inspirational teaching, learning, and research every day.

POSITION SUMMARY: Stanford's Institute for Research in the Social Sciences (<https://iriss.stanford.edu/>) seeks to hire a Survey Research Scientist [Academic Program Professional 2] to launch a new center in survey research excellence. This is an outstanding opportunity to be on the ground floor of an exciting and innovative new initiative in survey research and public opinion at Stanford University. The position requires a person with training and experience in survey research and survey methods, a person with a focus on public policy and how public opinion is used in a representative democracy, and a person with a demonstrated ability to manage, take on projects, and get things accomplished. This will be an extraordinary opportunity for someone who holds a strong commitment to the value of survey research in the nation's social and political discourse, who is immersed in the details and nuances of survey research and survey methods, and who relishes the chance to direct and manage a startup initiative, breaking new ground.

The position is responsible for two related functions within the Stanford Center for Excellence in Survey Research at the Institute for Research in the Social Sciences. One function is focused on the Public Pulse Project, a large-scale, ongoing operation that will gather, evaluate, review and issue reports on the state of American public opinion on a wide range of important issues facing the country. The Public Pulse Project Director will be the first hire and lead staff position within this new organization. This part of the job requires the skills to deal with an Advisory Board of academics, professional pollsters, journalists, and others in developing and executing a new approach to the review, synthesis, and use of public opinion on the important issues of the day.

The other area of responsibility is working with Stanford faculty and graduate students on the design and fielding of surveys, and analysis of survey data.

Both elements of the job involve writing and editing content for proposals, peer-reviewed publications, and other program activities under the general direction of the faculty director, institute director and advisory board leadership. The incumbent will assist with the development of research grants, including exploring new funding opportunities, writing portions of the grant proposals, and summarizing data needs and data findings.

This is a 100% FTE, exempt position for a two-year term, with the possibility of extension. The position is eligible for a full range of benefits. This position will be based on the Stanford campus and is eligible for a hybrid schedule, based on organizational need.

If you believe that this opportunity is a match for your knowledge, skills and abilities, we encourage you to apply. Thank you for considering employment opportunities with the School of Humanities and Sciences.

CORE DUTIES

- Develop and manage research activities, making recommendations that impact policies and programs, and coordinating and implementing changes.
- Source, collect and analyze data, create reports, review and explain trends to determine program effectiveness; formulate and evaluate alternative solutions and/or recommendations to achieve the goals of the program.
- Write and edit complex content for proposals, peer-reviewed publications, and other program activities under the general direction of PI. Assist with the development of research grants, (i.e., may suggest new funding opportunities, write portions of grants, and/or summarize data for grant support).
- Contribute to and inform on strategic program planning and related funding and financial sustainability.
- Identify, recommend and implement opportunities for new research.
- Represent the program or function as the key contact and subject matter expert within the department, unit or school and develop communications for internal and external constituencies. Organize and/or participate in outreach activities such as events, partnerships, fundraising, training, and conferences. Lead workshops and facilitate meetings.
- Monitor expenses, budgets, and finances of the program. Make recommendations on funding based on program spend.

EDUCATION AND EXPERIENCE:

A PhD in a social science, with a particular emphasis on and experience in survey research and survey methods is highly preferred. Program administration and research experience are required.

KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Demonstrated oral, written, and analytical skills, exhibiting fluency in area of specialization.
- Ability to oversee and provide basic direction to staff.

Highly desired knowledge, skills and abilities include:

- Background, training, and demonstrable interest in public policy and the great issues of the day;
- Entrepreneurship, managing, and enthusiasm for the development of a new venture

The expected pay range for this position is $95,000 to $139,000 per annum.

Stanford University provides pay ranges representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for a position.

The pay offered to a selected candidate will be determined based on factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the qualifications of the selected candidate, departmental budget availability, internal equity, geographic location and external market pay for comparable jobs.

At Stanford University, base pay represents only one aspect of the comprehensive rewards package. The Cardinal at Work website (<https://cardinalatwork.stanford.edu/benefits-rewards>) provides detailed information on Stanford's extensive range of benefits and rewards offered to employees. Specifics about the rewards package for this position may be discussed during the hiring process.

Why Stanford is for You

Imagine a world without search engines or social platforms. Consider lives saved through first-ever organ transplants and research to cure illnesses. Stanford University has revolutionized the way we live and enrich the world. Supporting this mission is our diverse and dedicated 17,000 staff. We seek talent driven to impact the future of our legacy. Our culture and unique perks empower you with:

- Freedom to grow. We offer career development programs, tuition reimbursement, or audit a course. Join a film screening, or listen to a renowned author or global leader speak.
- A caring culture. We provide superb retirement plans, generous time-off, and family care resources.
- A healthier you. Climb our rock wall, or choose from hundreds of health or fitness classes at our world-class exercise facilities. We also provide excellent health care benefits.
- Discovery and fun. Stroll through historic sculptures, trails, and museums.
- Envious resources. Enjoy free commuter programs, ridesharing incentives, discounts and more.

The job duties listed are typical examples of work performed by positions in this job classifications and are not designed to contain or be interpreted as a comprehensive inventory of all duties, tasks and responsibilities. Specific duties and responsibilities may vary depending on department or program needs without changing the general nature and scope of the job or level of responsibility. Employees may also perform other duties as assigned.

Consistent with its obligations under the law, the University will provide reasonable accommodations to applicants and employees with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application or hiring process should contact Stanford University Human Resources at stanfordelr@stanford.edu. For all other inquiries, please submit a contact form.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14730

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics, starting Fall 2025. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, but the successful candidate must be able to contribute half their teaching load to the Environmental Studies program (the courses should be on some aspect of environmental politics). They should also be able to contribute to the graduate program in Political Science. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field, as well as from applicants already holding Assistant rank. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2025, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript. Letters of recommendation will be solicited after application. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14724

University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor / Professor, Bissell-Heyd-Associates Chair in American Studies

The Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy in the Faculty of Arts & Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of American Studies. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2025. The successful candidate will be named the Bissell-Heyd-Associates Chair in American Studies for a five-year term, which will be renewable following a favourable review. The successful candidate will also normally hold the appointment of Director, Centre for the Study of the United States.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in social sciences or a humanities field and have demonstrated expertise relating to American Studies, with a clearly demonstrated exceptional record of excellence in research and teaching. The Munk School seeks a scholar whose research and teaching interests complement and enhance one or more of our existing strengths. The Committee especially welcomes scholars who focus on the impact of digitalization on democratic theory, institutions and/or practices, the changing world order, or the political economy of innovation and candidates whose work engages with global affairs and policy, with an understanding and strong knowledge of the United States, and a deep commitment to the field of American Studies. Candidates will have an established international reputation and will be expected to sustain and lead innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to maintain an outstanding, competitive, externally funded research program.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked disciplinary and/or field-relevant academic journals or academic presses, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades, other noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of the field, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, through the teaching dossier submitted as part of the application including a teaching statement, sample course materials, teaching evaluations, and through endorsements of teaching in the letters of reference.

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses, including in the Munk School's professional graduate programs (the Master of Global Affairs and the Master of Public Policy) to students from a wide range of academic backgrounds and interests. The successful candidate will have experience or demonstrable interest in a professional school and/or in an interdisciplinary environment.

Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

For more information about the Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy at the University of Toronto St. George campus, please visit our home page at <https://munkschool.utoronto.ca/>.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; one recent publication; teaching dossier (including a teaching statement and sample course materials and teaching evaluations); and a research statement outlining current and future research interests. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in the PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact munkschool.academic@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Monday October 14, 2024.

The University of Toronto has adopted the AAU Principles on Preventing Sexual Harassment in Academia, including the requirement that applicants release personnel information from prior employers regarding sexual misconduct. Full details and requirements can be found here.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

To apply please go to <https://jobs.utoronto.ca/job/Toronto-Associate-Professor-Professor%2C-Bissell-Heyd-Associates-Chair-in-American-Studies-ON/583953317/>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14731

University of Rochester

Rank: Race and Ethnic Politics

The University of Rochester's Department of Political Science invites applications from candidates working on race and ethnic politics for a tenure-track or tenured position at the assistant or associate professor rank, starting July 1, 2025. We are open to methodological approaches, and we are especially interested in scholars whose work intersects with Black politics.

The primary appointment will be in the Department of Political Science, with the possibility of a joint appointment in the Department of Black Studies. The position is part of an effort to foster the rigorous analysis of race and ethnic politics, to support path-breaking research in Black politics, and to strengthen ties with the Frederick Douglass

Institute and the Department of Black Studies. Tenure upon appointment for qualified senior candidates may be granted, contingent on favorable review of the candidate's dossier by the department, the dean of arts & sciences, and the provost.

Salary: $110,000 – $235,000. The referenced pay range represents the full base range of pay for this job. Individual salaries will be determined within the job's salary range and established based on market data, experience and expertise of the individual, and internal equity considerations.

All applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, and samples of written work. Candidates for a position at the rank of assistant professor should also include three letters of recommendation, and candidates without a prior tenure-track appointment should include a graduate transcript.

The University of Rochester is firmly committed to advancing equity and fostering an inclusive and diverse community. We ask candidates to include a statement discussing the ways in which their experiences will shape your pursuits as a member of our faculty and help them add to the University's core values of Meliora (ever better).

Materials should be submitted online at: www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting. For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department, go to: <http://www.sas.rochester.edu/psc/>. For more information on the Frederick Douglass Institute and Department of Black Studies, go to: <https://www.sas.rochester.edu/aas/>.

We will begin reviewing applications on September 20, 2024.

The University of Rochester is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education.

EOE / Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14714

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Political Science, International Relations, and Emerging Technologies- Multiple Tenure-Track Faculty Lines

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) has launched a major new initiative, the Carnegie Mellon Institute for Strategy and Technology (CMIST), which is devoted to the wise development, use and governance of new and emerging technologies that are changing the national and international security landscape. As part of this forward-looking enterprise, the university seeks top tenure-line scholars in political science, international relations, and other related disciplines with established interest in emerging technologies relevant to international affairs. Scholars investigating intersections between biotechnology, artificial intelligence, and major CBNR risks are of particular interest during this hiring cycle, as are experts in international law and technology regulation. But the best candidates will be doing cutting-edge social science research on emerging technologies that promises to contribute to intellectual efforts in CMIST and across CMU.

We will consider scholars at all levels—from entry-level assistant professor to associate and full professor levels. This is an outstanding opportunity to become part of a new, interdisciplinary initiative that combines Carnegie Mellon's existing strengths in AI, cybersecurity, biotechnology, robotics, and other emerging technologies, with scholarship focused on national security, international relations, ethics, law, and policy. We seek intellectually agile, innovative scholars willing to work cooperatively across disciplinary boundaries to tackle the challenges of emergent technologies for war and peace.

Background

Carnegie Mellon University (CMU) launched a major new interdisciplinary institute, the Carnegie Mellon Institute for Strategy and Technology (CMIST), in 2023. CMIST is a university-wide initiative devoted to the wise development, use, and governance of new and emerging technologies that are changing the national and international security landscape.

The home for Carnegie Mellon University's (CMU) study of Political Science and International Relations, CMIST is also uniquely poised to take advantage of the university's strengths in computer science and engineering and its distinctive tradition of collaborative, cross-university, cross-disciplinary research. CMU is ranked in the top five in the U.S. in Computer Science and in Engineering. It is ranked #1 in the subfields of artificial intelligence, computer engineering, cybersecurity, information systems, and software engineering. It has leading research institutes in areas such as robotics, machine learning, natural language technologies, human-computer interaction, engineering and public policy, and public policy and management—all designed to reach across disciplinary boundaries to solve key problems and address the highest-priority challenges facing humanity. Tying these areas of strength to crucial questions of strategy, security, ethics, and policy, CMIST is the newest addition to this rich CMU research landscape.

Carnegie Mellon University

Formally established in 1967, CMU is a dynamic R1 institution that has an exceptional impact on the world. Despite its relative youth, Carnegie Mellon consistently ranks in the top 25 US national universities. CMU is a global, research-intensive university with more than 14,000 students, more than 110,000 living alumni, approximately 5,000 faculty and staff, and over 100 research centers. It is a place of creativity, entrepreneurship, pragmatism, and ambition, with a tradition of strategically focusing its efforts and resources in areas where it can lead, then pursuing those areas with startling intensity. The research and teaching initiative in CMIST is just such a strategic undertaking.

Carnegie Mellon University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its community on a range of intellectual and cultural dimensions. Carnegie Mellon welcomes faculty applicants who will contribute to this diversity through their research, teaching and service, including women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, individuals with disabilities, and others who would contribute in different ways. Carnegie Mellon University seeks to meet the needs of dual-career couples and is a member of the Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC) that assists with dual-career searches.

How to Apply

Applications should be submitted electronically via the Interfolio application system at <http://apply.interfolio.com/152858>.

They should include the following:

For Junior Scholars:

- A cover letter explaining the candidate's interest in the position, and detailing the applicant's research, teaching, and service record to date.
- A curriculum vitae.
- Up to three writing samples.
- A projection of the candidate's future research agenda.
- A short teaching portfolio, including statement of teaching philosophy, courses the candidate might propose to teach, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations)
- The names and addresses of three references, who will be requested to submit letters through the Interfolio system.

For Mid- and Senior-level Scholars:

- A cover letter explaining the candidate's reasons for being interested in the position.
- A detailed curriculum vitae.
- Other materials and names of references may be requested thereafter.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14702

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track - International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. Led by President Karol V. Mason, John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY, and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment as an Assistant Professor in the Bachelor of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (ICJ BA) and the Master of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (IC&J MA) and in a department to be determined by the candidate's PhD or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department.) The position begins in Fall 2025.

The College seeks to hire a promising scholar researching international crime and justice issues. The college is especially interested in researchers working on topics of growing policy importance such as transnational crime and cyber criminology, including but not limited to topics such as cybercrime, cyber organized crime, online fraud, dark web activities, digital privacy and surveillance, social media and crime, AI and predictive policing, digital legislation, cyber terrorism, digital harassment, and the impact of emerging technologies on crime and justice, broadly defined. Additionally, the candidate should possess knowledge of sociological perspectives on crime, law, deviance, social control, and justice. This position requires proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research.

The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the BA and MA ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum ( https://new.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/2023-08/7\_Princip\_Cultur\_Resp\_Incl\_AntiRacist\_Curric\_Adopt\_4.8.21-brief.pdf ), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2025 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

$52,667- $99,532 Salary commensurate with education and credentials.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

1. Navigate to www.cuny.edu

2. Select "Employment"
3. Select "Search Job Postings"
4. Create an Account
5. After creating an account, return to the Job Search page and select "Apply Now"

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor confirming your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by November 5, 2024. In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Jana Arsovska, Director of the Master of Arts Program in International Crime and Justice via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

All questions should be directed to Dr. Jana Arsovska, Chair of the Search Committee, via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

CLOSING DATE

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024.
Posting closes on November 5, 2024.

*Interviews with successful candidates will be scheduled during the first two weeks of December 2024.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty
Job ID 28830
Location
John Jay College

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/5/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14699

Duke University

Rank: Post Doctoral Associate

Specializations: Developing Nations, Environmental Policy, South-east Asia

The Duke Center for International Development (DCID), a unit within Duke University's Sanford School of Public Policy, advances international development policy and practice through interdisciplinary approaches to post-graduate education, mid-career training, international advising and research. Its faculty and staff continuously strive to create programs that meet the specific needs of each client and student. At DCID, faculty, staff, and students are driven by a shared vision: development that promotes peace and prosperity for all people.

The Duke Center of International Development (DCID) invites applications for a Post-Doctoral Fellowship for the 2024-2025 academic year. There is a possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding.

Directed by Prof. Edmund Malesky, DCID focuses on promoting sustainable development through research, education and engagement with students, policy makers, practitioners, development partners, civil society and the private sector. The Fellow will work closely with Prof. Malesky and Dr. Jonathan Stromseth, Professor of the Practice at the Sanford School, to design and construct a data visualization platform under a new climate innovation initiative at DCID, focusing on Southeast Asia. The platform will both catalogue climate innovations in the region and illustrate financial flows going to climate projects, including official flows, private investments, and blended finance.

Applicants should have strong data science training and familiarity with global climate trends. DCID is looking to fill this position as soon possible. Salary is competitive. Ph.D. must be in hand before beginning the appointment. On site availability in Durham, NC is preferred, though certain hybrid work schedules may be considered.* <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28109>

*Duke currently has employment agreements with Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Maryland Massachusetts, Montana, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and Washington, DC.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas-an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14698

Princeton University

Rank: Associate Professor/Professor, Princeton University, Center for Human Values

Princeton University invites applications for a tenured faculty position in law and human values based in the University Center for Human Values, to begin on or after July 1, 2025. Rank: Associate or Full Professor. Joint appointment in another unit of Princeton University will be considered.

The Center is an interdisciplinary community of scholars whose additional appointments currently include History, Philosophy, Politics, Psychology, Public Policy and International Affairs, Religion, and Sociology. The Center seeks scholars of distinction and promise, whose research lies at the intersection between law and the study of human values broadly understood, and who can contribute to the undergraduate and graduate teaching curricula of the University. Princeton University is especially interested in considering qualified candidates who can contribute through their scholarship and teaching to the excellence and diversity of the Center's academic community.

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on or around October 2, 2024.

Requested materials

A letter of application, addressing research interests, teaching experience/interests, and the suitability of the candidate for an interdisciplinary center devoted to exploring ethical questions and human values
A curriculum vitae

A sample of writing in the candidate's field of specialization

The names of three or more referees (whom we would approach only after an initial review of the applications).

Please complete the full application at this link: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35962>(Link is external)

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 10/3/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14696

SUNY, College at Brockport

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science (Tenure Track)

SUNY Brockport is currently accepting applications for an Assistant Professor of Political Science with a concentration in American politics and Law/Legal Studies. The person in this role is responsible for teaching courses in the Department of Political Science and International Relations, for conducting research and publishing scholarship in political science, and for regular service (including advisement and accreditation activities), at the department, school and College levels. Specifically, this person will also coordinate the legal studies program within the department and act as pre-law advisor campus-wide. Best consideration given to those applications submitted by September 6th, 2024.

Candidate must be able to teach Introduction to American Politics, The Presidency, Congress, Campaigns & Elections, Constitutional Law, and Law and Legal Processes.

Ph.D. in Political Science From and an accredited US Department of education or internationally recognized institution. ABD candidates must earn their doctoral degree within 6 months of hire.

J.D. or equivalent degree, or specialization in law and legal process or policy, preferred but not required.

Please apply for this position through PageUp and do not contact Susan Orr with resume materials directly unless you have questions.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14682

University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) School of Public Health

Rank: Health Services Research Open Rank Tenure Track Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Health Care, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) School of Public Health seeks applicants for a full-time open rank tenure track faculty position, who are passionate about Health Services Research with high impact on health policy, health services delivery, health outcomes, comparative effectiveness research, health communication, socio-economic determinants of health, population health, and/or public health. Interested faculty should also have content expertise and teaching capabilities from among the following areas: policy or political science, policy analysis and assessment of legislative efforts, quantitative or qualitative research methods, survey design, geographic information system methodologies, demography, big data analysis, healthcare payments systems, healthcare financing, health outcomes and quality of care research, and health IT.

The UTHealth School of Public Health has more than 165 faculty and over 1300 students located in and around Austin, Brownsville, Dallas, El Paso, Houston and San Antonio, all strategically located across Texas. The UTHealth School of Public Health is a top ranked school with a strategic vision for leading population health innovation and practice. This position is in the Department of Management, Policy and Community Health (MPACH) at the Houston campus.

Houston is the fourth largest city in the United States and boasts a strong economy with a relatively low cost of living (www.houstontx.gov). The Houston Campus is located in the heart of the Texas Medical Center, the largest medical complex in the world—with eight million patient visits, and more than 180,000 surgeries annually. Texas Medical Center members include but are not limited to: MD Anderson Cancer Center, Texas Children's Hospital, Memorial Hermann Health System, CHI's St. Luke Health, and Houston Methodist. Texas is a large and diverse state that has not expanded Medicaid, creating unique opportunities for health services research.

Primary responsibilities will be: (1) establishing an externally funded research program focused on health services research; (2) mentoring emerging scholars in health services research; (3) teaching in MPH and/or doctoral programs; and (4) serving in institutional and external capacities.

Qualifications include: (1) an earned doctoral degree in health services research, public policy, health policy, public health, or other related social science fields; (2) a track record and/or strong promise of obtaining peer-reviewed funding and publications; (3) expertise in health services, health outcomes and policy research, and big data analysis; (4) commitment to excellence in teaching and advising graduate students; and (5) excellent written and oral communication skills.

Interested applicants should complete the web application at: <https://careers.uth.tmc.edu/us/en/job/240001MH>

Address any questions to Suja S. Rajan, Ph.D., Chair, HSR Search Committee at suja.s.rajan@uth.tmc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

UTHealth is committed to providing equal opportunity in all employment-related activities without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, gender identity or expression, veteran status or any other basis prohibited by law or university policy. Reasonable accommodation, based on disability or religious observances, will be considered in accordance with the applicable law and UTHealth policy. The University maintains affirmative action programs with respect to women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and eligible veterans in accordance with applicable law. This is a security-sensitive position and thereby subject to Texas Education code §51.215. A background check will be required for the final candidate.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14672

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Summary:

The Political Science department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison seeks to hire a faculty member at the level of Assistant Professor who will publish original research and teach courses on the politics of environmental sustainability from a theoretical, domestic, international, or comparative perspective. The position is open to scholars working in all subfields and regions.

The successful candidate will advance the educational mission of the College of Letters & Science, that values, prioritizes, and actualizes evidence-based and student-centered teaching and mentoring. They will contribute to an inclusive, fair, and equitable environment that fosters engagement and a sense of belonging for faculty, staff, students and members of the broader community.

Responsibilities:

Responsibilities include conducting research in the field of the politics of environmental sustainability, from a theoretical, domestic, international, or comparative perspective, maintaining an active research program, teaching courses at the graduate and undergraduate level, and service at the professional, department, and university level.

The successful candidate, as a member of the College of L&S, will proactively contribute to, support, and advance the college's commitment to equity among all aspects of their teaching, mentoring, research, and service.

Education:

Required

PhD in Political Science or related disciplines. Ph.D. required by start of appointment.

Qualifications:

Candidates with an excellent publication record or a productive research program with strong publishing potential are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will demonstrate experience with fostering or the ability to foster an inclusive and equity-centered teaching, learning, mentoring, departmental, and research environment where all can thrive.

Work Type:

Full Time: 100%

This position may require some work to be performed in-person, onsite, at a designated campus work location. Some work may be performed remotely, at an offsite, non-campus work location.

Appointment Type, Duration:

Ongoing/Renewable

How to Apply:

Apply online at "Jobs at UW" (<http://jobs.wisc.edu>) under job number 304146. Applications must be received through UW-Madison's online application system. Applications submitted outside of this system will not be considered. To begin the application process please click on the 'Apply Now' button. You will be asked to create a profile and upload a C.V., a cover letter, a research statement, a teaching and mentoring statement, and 2 samples of written work (please upload these 2 samples together). You will also be asked to provide contact information for three (3) references as part of your online application; each reference will receive an electronic link through which they can upload a signed letter of reference at the time of application submission.

Please note that applicants will be evaluated based upon submitted application materials and therefore should speak to and include evidence of their qualifications. Application materials must clearly demonstrate the applicant's dedication to excellence in student-centered teaching and mentoring. Additionally, materials should showcase the applicant's ability to purposefully plan their teaching practices, evidenced through goals, action plans, reflection, and related documentation. This portion of application materials must be created by the applicant that may include supporting letters. It cannot be only in the form of letters and testimony by others.

The deadline for assuring full consideration is October 1, 2024, however the position will remain open and applications may be considered until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14673

Tulane University

Rank: Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Data Analytics

The Department of Political Science at Tulane University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-line appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor with a particular focus in Data Analytics, Data Science, or Political Methodology, broadly defined. The successful candidate may come from any subfield of political science or public policy, but their research should feature some computational social science component such as natural language processing, network science, machine learning, etc. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in political methodology as well as courses in their area of research specialization at all levels of the curriculum (lower and upper division undergraduate and graduate). The regular teaching load is 2/2. The expected start date for this position is July 1, 2025. For further questions about the position, contact Prof. Brian Brox, bbrox@tulane.edu.

Qualifications

PhD in Political Science preferred. Although ABD candidates will be considered, a terminal degree is required by the time the Assistant Professor appointment begins.

Application Instructions

Please submit a letter of application, CV, statement of research, teaching statement, writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by September 16, 2024 to apply.interfolio.com/152275.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14668

Stanford University

Rank: Hoover Fellow

2025 Hoover Fellow Position

Stanford University, Hoover Institution

Opportunities for Early-Career Scholars

The Hoover Institution at Stanford University seeks outstanding scholars for positions as a Hoover Fellow. The term of the appointment is five years, with the option to renew for one additional term. The position is located at the Hoover Institution, Stanford, CA.

During their Fellowship period, Hoover Fellows are expected to publish scholarly articles and books that have implications for public policy. Hoover Fellows are also expected to contribute to the intellectual life of the Hoover Institution. There are no teaching responsibilities associated with this position. The 12-month base salary range for this position is $165,000 to $230,000, plus a housing allowance of $20,000 per year.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a relevant field - such as economics, history, international relations, national security, political science, or public policy, and expect to complete that degree by September 1st, 2025.

Hoover Fellows are encouraged to engage with Stanford's broader research community in their respective fields. The Hoover Institution is a research center at Stanford University, located in the heart of Stanford's campus.

Please submit:

- A cover letter or statement of interest that includes a description of academic background and experience
- One or more recent publications, working papers, or draft book chapters.
- A curriculum vitae
- A statement about future research plans (two pages maximum)

- Three letters of recommendation that focus on the candidate's research and research potential.

If you have any questions, please contact hooverfellowship@stanford.edu. Please note that we monitor this email address periodically.

Please submit completed applications online at <https://applyhooverfellows.hoover.org/> by November 18, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14656

Stanford University

Rank: W. Glenn Campbell and Rita Ricardo-Campbell
National Fellow

The Hoover Institution Glenn Campbell and Rita Ricardo-Campbell National Fellows Program allows outstanding scholars from colleges, universities, and institutions around the world to be freed from academic and professional responsibilities to devote one year to unrestricted, creative research and publication. National Fellows Program fellowships provide scholars the opportunity to complete an original significant research project with the expectation of generating a publishable manuscript while in residence at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, Stanford, California.

Two unique resources frame the Hoover Institution National Fellows Program:

- The Hoover Library and Archives affords Fellows access to the richest private archive collections in the United States. With nearly one million volumes and more than six thousand archival collections from 171 countries, the Hoover Library and Archives is a national and international center for primary-source documentation and research on problems of political, economic, and social change.
- National Fellows are able to draw on the experience of outstanding resident scholars at the Hoover Institution and Stanford University. Resident fellows and university faculty are available to discuss research topics, as well as provide insight into policy issues and strategic challenges.

Multiple National Fellows Program fellowships are awarded annually. Participation in the program begins September 1 and ends August 31 of the following year. National Fellows are encouraged to engage in the intellectual life of the Hoover Institution and are expected to make at least one presentation on their research before an appropriate group of scholars during the year in residence.

ADMINISTRATION

The selection committee is made up of Hoover Senior Fellows and distinguished scholars from Stanford University. The committee selects program participants and makes recommendations to the Director of the Hoover Institution regarding each year's participants.

APPLICATION

Application to the program requires the online submission of:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae

- Three (3) to five (5) page research proposal
- Three (3) to five (5) confidential letters of recommendation from leading scholars

Qualified candidates should hold a Ph.D. degree or its equivalent, have an established publication record, and hold promise as a productive scholar. Candidates are generally five (5) to ten (10) years beyond the Ph.D. degree. They are expected to resume pre-existing full-time appointments at highly regarded institutions or universities upon completion of the National Fellows program. Hoover National Fellows receive financial support solely on the merits of their proposed research and scholarly record, irrespective of pre-existing support.

All materials must be submitted electronically by November 18, 2024, at <https://applynationalfellows.hoover.org/>

If you have any questions, please contact hooverfellowship+national@stanford.edu. Please note that we monitor this email address periodically.

The Hoover Institution is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. The Hoover Institution welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to its mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14659

Cornell University

Rank: Open Rank Latino Politics

The Department of Government and the Latina/o Studies Program at Cornell University invite applications an open-rank search in Latino Politics to begin July 1, 2025. The position will be a joint appointment between the department and the program, with the tenure home in the Department of Government. It will require that courses be cross-listed with the Latina/o Studies Program. Candidates must have a scholarly background and research interests in U.S. Latina/o Studies, substantial promise of excellence in research and teaching, and demonstrated research skills and training. A Ph.D. is required no later than July 1, 2025. Applicants should apply online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28070>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations. In addition, we ask applicants to share their experiences and/or approaches (past, current, or future) to fostering learning, research, service, and/or outreach in a diverse community; applicants may choose to submit a stand-alone statement or embed the information in other parts of their application. We will begin to review applications starting September 10, 2024, and will continue until the search is complete. To guarantee full consideration, your file should be complete by this date. Pay Range: $107,400 - $275,00 Actual salary offers in the College of Arts and Sciences will be based on education, experience, discipline, and relevant skills.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14651

University of Oregon

Rank: Assistant Professor of Inequality

Please apply online by submitting the following materials at <https://careers.uoregon.edu/cw/en-us/job/533950/assistant-professor-of-inequality>

Required Application Materials

- application letter describing research and teaching interests, experience, and potential contributions to our diverse and pluralistic community,
- curriculum vitae,
- a writing sample,
- contact information for 3 references; recommendation letters will be requested directly from your references.

Position Announcement

The University of Oregon's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position for an Assistant Professor in Political Science specializing in inequality in the United States—its political, economic, cultural and/or social dimensions. This search will encourage applicants representing varied methods and approaches, ranging from causal inference and machine learning to American Political Development (APD) and political theory. This position will begin in fall 2025.

Competitive applicants will be capable of outstanding research and teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Department or Program Summary

Our department is committed to recruiting and retaining a culturally diverse and pluralistic faculty. We encourage applications from all qualified candidates, and strongly encourage women faculty, faculty of color and faculty with disabilities to apply. We are especially interested in candidates who can support our work in mentoring, research, teaching, and outreach with women, first-generation students, communities of color, and other underrepresented groups. All applicants are requested to include in their cover letter information about how they will contribute to this work.

In addition to our focus on research excellence, our department is constantly adjusting to improve our undergraduate and graduate experience. For example, in recent years we have revised our undergraduate curriculum to feature students' career-related pathways, gathered statistics to lessen equity gaps in gateway-class outcomes, reformed our graduate curriculum to strengthen cohorts' common training, and streamlined the process for graduate qualifying exams.

Junior faculty in political science will be supported through the transition to tenure, including reduced service expectations and access to university-wide programs (which include new faculty mentorship, and training in teaching through the Teaching Engagement Program). The political science department invests in the success of each new colleague and seeks to support faculty in successful and impactful careers while maintaining a healthy work-life balance.

Minimum Requirements

- Ph.D. in Political Science or related field in hand by time of appointment.

- The successful candidate is expected to have conducted a rigorous research program as well as have the ability teach at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

All offers of employment are contingent upon successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/25/2024

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14643

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Assistant Professor in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

Salary is no less than £61,446 per annum and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Political Science, with a specialism in Political Economy. Candidates should have formal and/or empirical research and teaching interests in Political Economy. The post holder will add to our existing strengths in this area. We welcome candidates with expertise in any region, country or set of issues.

Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political economy at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in political economy.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political economy, evidenced by existing publications or the potential to publish articles in highly rated academic journals.

The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2025), a PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline.

The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification, which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research grants policy with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will commence ideally on 1 September 2025.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification.

To apply for this post, please go to www.jobs.lse.ac.uk. If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email Gov.HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 September 2024 (23.59 UK time). We are unable to accept any late applications.

<https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/I/1319/0/435694/15539/assistant-professor-in-political-science>

Job Description

This summarises the purpose of the job and lists its key tasks. It is not a definitive list of all the tasks to be undertaken as those can be varied from time to time at the discretion of the School, in consultation with the postholder. The description of the duties and responsibilities reflect the post at the time it was drawn up, the details of which may change over time without changing the general character and purpose of the post or the level of responsibility encompassed.

Job Summary

Based in the Department of Government the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

The main teaching responsibilities will be to contribute to courses and student supervision offered by the Department of Government.

Range of Academic Activities and Responsibilities at Assistant Professor Level at LSE

Note: The relative balance of activities in research, teaching and administration may vary across departments, and is also likely to vary for any particular individual over the course of their career.

Research:

Conducting substantive research into complex problems, ideas, concepts or theories and applying appropriate methodologies.

Developing and carrying forward a coherent research strategy in their discipline which has national and international impact.

Developing a body of outstanding quality publications in well recognised peer reviewed outlets.

Initiating and developing links with internal contacts such as academics in interdisciplinary departments/institutes/centres, external contacts at other educational institutions, employers and professional organisations to actively foster collaboration.

Presenting research and giving invited papers at national and international conferences.

Acting as a reviewer for academic journals.

Providing academic leadership at conferences and raising the profile of LSE research.

Providing expert opinion and commentary to external audiences and organisations.

Teaching:

Contributing to the intellectual life of the School by engaging in high quality core teaching.

Contributing to the monitoring and enhancement of quality in teaching within the department.

Actively seeking and pursuing training in teaching technology and practice, for example by undertaking the PGCertHE to associate level.

Teaching and examining undergraduate and masters level students.

Acting as personal adviser and providing pastoral care.

Supervising PhD students (but not sole supervisory responsibility for research students whilst pre-Interim Review).

Developing innovative and attractive courses, shaping and influencing curriculum development and actively contributing to the review of courses in accordance with departmental strategy.

Supervising hourly-paid teachers, including organising and delegating work, arranging induction and providing training and guidance.

Actively contributing to departmental teaching administration.

Activities relating to departmental administration and management and/or School-wide service:

Fostering departmental collegiality and fulfilling individual responsibilities as set out by the Head of Department and/or other senior colleagues.

Actively contributing to the intellectual life of the department and to the work of the School overall, for example:

Attending and participating in departmental meetings.

Acting as a member of and/or chairing departmental, inter-departmental or School committees, e.g. exam boards and sub-boards.

Participating in departmental hiring searches and making shortlisting recommendations for new members of academic staff.

Liaising with central and departmental administration across the School to resolve issues concerning programme development, student welfare and examinations etc.

Engaging with external institutions, organisations and the wider community to support research, teaching and School strategic objectives.

Flexibility:

To deliver services effectively, a degree of flexibility is needed, and the post holder may be required to perform work not specifically referred to above.

Equality and Diversity:

LSE believes that equality for all is a basic human right. All posts (and post holders) will seek to ensure diversity and inclusion, while opposing all forms of unlawful and unfair discrimination on the grounds of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.

Ethics Code:

Posts (and post holders) are assumed to have a responsibility to act in accordance with the School's Ethics Code and to promote the principles and values that the Code enshrines. The Ethics Code clearly states that the whole LSE community, including all staff, students, and governors of LSE, are expected to act in accordance with the principles which are set out in the School's Ethics Code. As such you are required to read and familiarise yourself with the Ethics Code.

Environmental Sustainability:

The post holder is required to minimise environmental impact in the performance of the role, and actively contribute to the delivery of the LSE Environmental Policy.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 8/12/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14616

University of Nebraska - Lincoln

Rank: Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure-track position in the area of Race and Ethnic Politics. The position is open with respect to particular subfields, though candidates with an interest in or research focus in public policy are especially encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will contribute to the department's undergraduate and graduate curriculum in Race and Ethnic Politics and/or public policy, add to the department's research mission, and undertake service responsibilities commensurate with position and rank.

A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or a related field is required and must be in hand by August 18, 2025. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of scholarship in Race and Ethnic Politics, as well as documented experience and/or interest in teaching courses in Race and Ethnic Politics.

Preference will be given to applicants with research interests in public policy and experience teaching public policy process and public policy evaluation courses.

All materials must be received by September 15, 2024. Review of applications begins on September 16, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply go to <https://employment.unl.edu>, requisition F_240104. Please attach your letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and research, teaching, and service statements. Combine the statements into a single document for upload. Three letters of recommendation are also required. Recommenders should submit letters to David Csontos, Office Associate for the Department of Political Science, at dcsontos2@unl.edu.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln seeks to achieve a working and learning environment that is open to all people. Diversity is the hallmark of great institutions of learning and has long been one of the strengths of our society. Dignity and respect for all in the UNL community are the responsibility of each individual member of the community. The realization of that responsibility across the campus is critical to UNL's success.

As an EO/AA employer, the University of Nebraska considers qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation. See <https://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14601

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applicants for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor whose work addresses structural racism, racial oppression, or racial hierarchies either within the United States or from a comparative or international/transnational perspective, pending budgetary approval. The position is open with respect to the subfield. We encourage applications from scholars whose work intersects with a wide range of themes, including but not limited to colonialism, imperialism, ethnic discrimination or violence, identity, migration, minority representation, or political economy.

Applicants are required to have or expect to have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field before the appointment begins. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a description of how your research, teaching, or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and a minimum of three letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by September 20, 2024, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The official start date for this position will be September 1, 2025. Any questions about the position can be directed to the search committee chair, Tony Carey, at tony-carey@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/20/2024
Date Posted: 8/8/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14598

Western Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program within the Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice is seeking two faculty members at the rank of Assistant Professor (tenure-track), beginning August 1, 2025. These are nine-month positions with summer teaching possibilities and are for our residential program with some likely online teaching responsibilities. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Responsibilities include teaching, research, and service.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Emergency Management, Criminology/Criminal Justice, Political Science, Public Administration, Public Health, Urban Planning, or other discipline closely related to the field of Emergency & Disaster Management. Highly qualified ABD candidates will be considered if completion of the degree is imminent. Candidates must have a clearly articulated research agenda in Emergency & Disaster Management, experience and/or graduate coursework related to Emergency & Disaster Management, and a commitment of academic excellence and collegiality.

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program has an established record of engaging students through undergraduate research and experiential learning and is consistently ranked as one of the best undergraduate programs in the nation. The ideal candidate will have an interest in contributing to these efforts and have a firm foundation to teach a range of emergency and disaster management courses.

Application Process:

Application materials must be submitted online to the Western Carolina University Human Resources Portal at <http://jobs.wcu.edu>. Candidates should submit an online candidate profile, cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, unofficial transcripts, evidence of teaching experience/philosophy, and contact information for three current references.

Review of applications will begin September 15th and continue until the position is filled.

Contact:

Inquiries may be directed to Committee Chair and EDM Director Dr. Lisa Briggs at lbriggs@wcu.edu or 828.227.2180.

About WCU:

Western Carolina University is the UNC system's westernmost campus and has been consistently ranked as one of the Top 15 public regional institutions in the South. WCU's main campus sits in the beautiful mountains of Western, North Carolina, near the Great Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains, fifty-two miles west of Asheville. WCU's location in the rural mountains amidst incredible biodiversity and unique communities creates an opportunity for academic discovery service and is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. The campus covers approximately 600 acres, with a student body population of over 11,500.

Please go to <https://www.wcu.edu> for more information.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14590

University of Toronto

Rank: Assistant Professor - Canadian Politics

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Canadian Politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2025.

Candidates must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We seek candidates whose research focuses on Canadian Politics and who are prepared to teach core courses in Canadian Politics at both undergraduate and graduate levels. The area of specialization within Canadian Politics is open, as they are theoretical and methodological approaches.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and deepen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University of Toronto's downtown (St. George) campus. Candidates are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, presentations at significant conferences, the submitted research statement, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, a teaching dossier (with required materials outlined below) submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample of no more than 30 pages; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each referee the day after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <https://jobs.utoronto.ca/content/Frequently-Asked-Questions/>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by September 26, 2024.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission. The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/26/2024

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14577

University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor - Canadian Politics

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Canadian Politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor/Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2025.

Candidates must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, with a clearly demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We seek candidates whose research focuses on Canadian Politics.

The successful candidate will be expected to promote the study of Canadian Politics within the Department and to provide intellectual and administrative leadership in this area, including through graduate supervision. Candidates must be prepared to teach core courses in Canadian Politics at both undergraduate and graduate levels. The area of specialization within Canadian Politics is open, as they are theoretical and methodological approaches. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and deepen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program.

The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University of Toronto's downtown (St. George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated a record of sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked and field-relevant journals, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades, and other noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of the discipline, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided by a record of teaching accomplishments, a teaching dossier (with required materials outlined below) submitted as part of the application, as well as by strong letters of reference.

Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below.

Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; one recent publication; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each referee the day after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by September 26, 2024.

The University of Toronto has adopted the AAU Principles on Preventing Sexual Harassment in Academia, including the requirement that applicants release personnel information from prior employers regarding sexual misconduct. Full details and requirements can be found here.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission. As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission. The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/26/2024

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14578

Denison University

Rank: Open Rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Position Title: Open-rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Location: Denison University

Position Type: Tenure Track Faculty

Position URL: <https://apply.interfolio.com/150219>

Position Description:

The Department of Politics and Public Affairs (PPA) at Denison University invites applications for an open rank, tenure-track position in comparative politics, beginning Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching emphasizes constitutionalism, policy analysis, or how social movements interact with either, with a geographic focus on the politics of countries or regions beyond the United States or Western Europe. The successful candidate must have the demonstrated ability to teach introductory courses in comparative politics of democracies, as well as interest and ability to teach a rotating set of upper division courses in comparative politics broadly and in their areas of expertise.

The Politics and Public Affairs program provides our students an integrated view of politics emphasizing links between theory and practice. Our major is structured as a learning community where undergraduates pursue a track of interest that aligns with traditional subfields and have multiple opportunities to share their knowledge with peers. Our majors must complement classroom experiences with a department-approved off campus learning component. We seek a new colleague who shares our enthusiasm for this approach to teaching about politics and public affairs. As a department, we work hard to ensure our students hear and consider diverse perspectives and we welcome applicants who contribute to that diversity. In the fall of 2025, our faculty includes four full-time tenured or tenure track faculty and one long-term visiting faculty member. We graduate roughly 30 seniors each year.

All instructors are expected to regularly teach introductory classes (typically around 24 students) that serve PPA majors/minors as well as the general education requirements of the college's curriculum; successfully teaching introductory classes requires teachers who relish the challenge of tailoring instruction for both the skeptical and the interested student. All instructors regularly teach upper division classes (typically capped at 20 students) in their area of interest which are usually populated by PPA or related majors, as well as required PPA major courses such as sophomore and senior seminar. The teaching load is 5 courses per academic year (3/2). Denison is a fully residential campus and all classes are held in-person and on-campus.

Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness from college-level courses. We seek to hire a new colleague with broad training in the study of politics. The successful candidate is expected to have significant interest in and demonstrated ability to be effective at undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and in contributing to the integration of the theoretical with experiential elements of our major. Independent teaching experience (beyond TA) is preferred.

Successful candidates are expected to maintain an ongoing research agenda; thus, applicants should show promise of a strong publication record. The prospective teacher-scholar also will support the University's commitment to liberal arts education, be an effective advisor to a range of students, be an active participant in departmental and university governance, and develop a program of research leading to peer-reviewed publication.

Denison is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2,300 students from across the nation and around the world. The college is located in the village of Granville, 30 minutes from Columbus, Ohio, the state capital, which hosts a wide range of cultural and artistic opportunities. Granville offers an excellent public school system and easy access to outdoor activities. Denison is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty and is committed to providing a work and learning environment free from discrimination. A supportive environment for teacher-scholars who value both classroom and research excellence, Denison offers extensive support for its faculty, including start-up research funds, an annual professional development account, competitive professional development funding, and a one-semester research leave after a successful pre-tenure review. The college also offers opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, stipends for supervising summer-research students, and a range of workshops and mentoring programs to develop our strengths as teacher-scholars. Denison offers a competitive salary and a comprehensive benefits package, including tuition benefits to attend Denison or other affiliated colleges and a generous retirement contribution.

Qualifications:

Candidates are required to have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely-related field by start date.

Application Instructions:

To ensure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 7, 2024. Applications should include the following:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate level transcript [official or unofficial]
- Teaching Portfolio, which should include a 1) teaching statement that lays out the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and experience; the teaching statement should also describe how the candidate fosters an inclusive classroom where students with diverse perspectives and experiences can respectfully contribute and learn, 2) Evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations or other artifacts), 3) an introductory syllabus for comparative politics of democracies, and 4) an upper division syllabus that reflects your expertise.
- Research Statement that lays out the candidate's scholarly interests and plans
- A writing sample
- Contact information for three letters of reference

Job seekers who may need a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should contact the Office of Human Resources at (740) 587-6299 or by email at HR@denison.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14553

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Professor (Open Rank) in Constitutional Studies: Law, History, and Theory

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, Other

The School of Civic Leadership (SCL) at The University of Texas at Austin (UT Austin) invites applications for full-time tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the assistant, associate, or full professor level with expertise in the area of Constitutional Studies (Law, History, and Theory).

Considering the responsibility public institutions of higher education have to prepare students for leadership in a free society, the University of Texas System Board of Regents established the School of Civic Leadership at UT Austin in 2023. SCL is an interdisciplinary school whose dual mission is to equip students with the knowledge and aptitudes necessary to lead in a free society, and to produce academic research at the highest levels of scholarly excellence.

The school offers a minor in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) in collaboration with the College of Liberal Arts and will launch a new Civics Honors major and Civics minor in the 2025-26 academic year.

We seek outstanding candidates in the areas of Constitutional Studies (Law, History, and Theory) whose work speaks to the SCL's core themes: political, economic, and individual liberty and its philosophical underpinnings; constitutionalism and the rule of law; and the political economy of a free society. Ideal candidates will (1) have excellent records of scholarship with robust research agendas, (2) provide evidence of exceptional teaching, and (3) show a readiness to contribute to the intellectual life, governance, and programmatic development of the school.

The School of Civic Leadership invites applicants to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and list of three academic references. (References do not need to submit full letters at this stage.) Cover letters should give a brief overview of the candidate's research agenda, high-light areas of teaching competence, and concisely describe how the candidate would contribute to developing the school.

Review of applications will begin on September 15.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/149448>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14556

European University Institute

Rank: Chair in Political Science and Social Sciences

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Political Theory

Specializations: Western Europe, Normative Political Theory, Political Parties & Organizations

The European University Institute is looking for candidates with a distinguished record of scholarly publications and experience in postgraduate teaching and doctoral supervision, to fill a Chair in Political Science and Social Sciences. Candidates should have an interest in comparative research in political science, preferably with a focus on European societies and politics. The successful candidate will have a strong record of empirical research, an interest in theory and research methods and a commitment to excellence in postgraduate teaching. The chair will be open to candidates at different levels of seniority. Interested applicants should consult Open competitions for academic posts • European University Institute (eui.eu) for further particulars: <https://www.eui.eu/About/JobOpportunities/Open-competitions-for-academic-posts>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14544

Tel Aviv University

Rank: Tenure-track Appointment in The School of Political Science, Government and International Affairs,

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The School of Political Science, Government, and International Affairs at Tel Aviv University invites applications for two open rank tenure-track positions. Preference will be given to researchers specializing in international relations or comparative politics, as well as scholars studying the interaction between politics and technology. The term of appointment will begin on October 1, 2025.

Successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence and endorsements from referees of high standing. The successful candidate is expected to pursue an innovative research program. Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Hebrew is the primary language of instruction at Tel Aviv University, and candidates must be able to teach courses in Hebrew within three years of their appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and brief research and teaching statements (no more than two pages for each statement). Interested individuals must submit their application materials using the submission portal (link below). Additionally, applicants should ask for three letters of recommendation (on letterhead, signed) that should be sent directly by the letter writers to the search committee via e-mail to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il by October 10, 2024.

The committee will begin reading applications on October 10, 2024, but may consider files received after this date. The school reserves the right to make (or not make) an appointment according to its exclusive consideration.

Submission portal link:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdsqhyrJ-DMjorvs1XEYKET9HMUW1Q7bJyiPm7\_Je\_jWKIUHG/viewform

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/10/2024

Date Posted: 7/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14525

University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Rank: Assistant Professor in Middle East Politics

-We will be holding an informational session for both our Middle East position as well as our Cyber Security position at the ASPA annual meeting on September 5 4:00 pm -5:30pm-

The Department of Political Science at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Middle East politics and either or both comparative politics and international relations, beginning in August 2025. UMBC is a Carnegie Research-1, community-engaged, minority-serving institution focused on inclusive excellence. The annual teaching load is five courses, which includes two sections of one course preparation.

UMBC is a dynamic and growing public research university located in the Baltimore-Washington Corridor, an area rich in scholarly resources and opportunities. We have 14,000 undergraduate and graduate students. U.S. News and World Report regularly ranks UMBC in the top 10 of most innovative universities, and the Chronicle of Higher Education recognizes the university as one its "Great Colleges to Work For" in areas such as cooperative governance, compensation, teaching environment, and work-life balance. We are especially proud of the diversity of our student body (<https://umbc.edu/about/>), and we hope to attract an equally diverse applicant pool for this position. Our campus community has a strong commitment to equity and social justice. For example, our department's undergraduate Council of Majors is spearheading an initiative to increase diversity and inclusion in the curriculum. To learn more about the Department of Political Science at UMBC, please visit <https://politicalscience.umbc.edu/> and <https://politicalscience.umbc.edu/commitment-to-diversity-equity-and-inclusion/>.

Qualifications

Preference will be given to candidates who have a Ph.D. in political science or international politics, or will have a Ph.D. in hand by August 2025. Applicants must provide evidence of a focused, ambitious research agenda and a commitment to excellent undergraduate teaching. Candidates must also describe how their research, teaching, and/or life experiences contribute to "inclusive excellence," such as their ability to work with underserved and diverse populations and their capacity to respond in pedagogically productive ways to the competence, aspirations, and needs of students from diverse backgrounds. The successful candidate can expect to teach undergraduate courses on the Middle East from a comparative politics and/or international relations perspective, with a preference for candidates able to teach courses in both subdisciplines.

Application Instructions

For best consideration, applicants should submit their applications by September 20, 2024, using apply.interfolio.com/150619. Please provide a cover letter; a CV; a statement of your research agenda; a statement of your teaching philosophy; a statement of your commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion; up to two writing samples or publications; two sample course syllabi; and three letters of reference. Questions should be addressed to either of the search co-chairs, Dr. Carolyn Forestiere (forestie@umbc.edu) and Dr. Brian Grodsky (bgrodsky@umbc.edu), using the subject line "POLI Search."

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14532

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Professor (Open Rank) in the areas of History of Philosophy, History of Political Thought, and Intellectual History

Subfield(s): Other, Other, Other

The School of Civic Leadership (SCL) at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for full-time tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the assistant, associate, or full professor level in the areas of History of Philosophy, History of Political Thought, and Intellectual History.

Considering the responsibility public institutions of higher education have to prepare students for leadership in a free society, the University of Texas System Board of Regents established the School of Civic Leadership at UT Austin in 2023. SCL is an interdisciplinary school whose dual mission is to equip students with the knowledge and aptitudes necessary to lead in a free society, and to produce academic research at the highest levels of scholarly excellence. The school offers a minor in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) in collaboration with the College of Liberal Arts and will launch a new Civics Honors major and Civics minor in the 2025-26 academic year.

We seek outstanding candidates in the areas of history of philosophy, history of political thought, and intellectual history whose work speaks to the SCL's core themes: political, economic, and individual liberty and its philosophical underpinnings; constitutionalism and the rule of law; and the political economy of a free society. Ideal candidates will (1) have excellent records of scholarship with robust research agendas, (2) provide evidence of exceptional teaching, and (3) show a readiness to contribute to the intellectual life, governance, and programmatic development of the school.

The School of Civic Leadership invites applicants to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and list of three academic references. (References do not need to submit full letters at this stage.) Cover letters should give a brief overview of the candidate's research agenda, highlight areas of teaching competence, and concisely describe how the candidate would contribute to developing the School of Civic Leadership.

Review of applications will begin on September 15.
<https://apply.interfolio.com/149408>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14526

University of Michigan

Rank: Stuart B. and Barbara Padnos Professorship in Jewish Thought

The Frankel Center for Judaic Studies at the University of Michigan invites applications for the Stuart B. and Barbara Padnos Professorship in Jewish Thought. Successful candidates will be appointed at the tenure-track Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor rank. This is a university-year appointment with an expected start date of August 25, 2025.

This field as we envision it encompasses the full range and dynamism of textual, material, embodied, and ritual sources that Jews across the globe have thought with and through. We invite applications from scholars working in all subfields, geographical areas, periods, and languages of Jewish thought. We welcome scholars whose work in related fields such as anthropology, political theory, law, religious studies, gender/sexuality/queer studies, environment, and ecology intersects with the study of philosophy and intellectual history.

Candidates should demonstrate outstanding scholarly potential as well as commitment to excellence in teaching and mentorship. They will also be expected to contribute to the Frankel Center's public outreach efforts and participate in cross-departmental initiatives and collaborations.

A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment. Application review begins on September 16, 2024 and will continue until an appointment is made.

All application materials should be submitted online through Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/148285>

Materials should include a cover letter detailing the candidate's interest in and qualifications for the position; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching philosophy and experience (2-3 pages); statement of current and future research plans (2-3 pages); a writing sample (approximately 25 pages); teaching evaluations and other evidence of teaching excellence. Additionally, please include a diversity statement that demonstrates commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion through scholarship/research, and/or teaching/mentoring, and/or service/engagement. There may be some overlap between the DEI statement and the research proposal and teaching statements (1-3 pages). Candidates selected for interviews will be asked to provide three letters of reference.

Questions about the application process or materials may be directed to Michele Fleming (js-secretary-admin@umich.edu).

The University of Michigan is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action (EOAA) employer. We strongly encourage women and minoritized communities to apply including, but not limited to, applicants who are racially marginalized; people with disabilities; and members of the LGBTQI and gender non-conforming communities. The University of Michigan is also supportive of the needs of dual career couples.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks are performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act. Employment may also require an institutional reference check regarding any misconduct. Candidates will be required to submit a self-disclosure form as well as an authorization to release information form, and must meet all degree requirements prior to the start date of the position.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14513

American Bar Foundation

Rank: Research Professor

The American Bar Foundation (ABF) invites applications to join its residential faculty as a Research Professor beginning in the 2025-2026 academic year. We seek one or more early to mid-career scholar(s) with a PhD and/or JD and a demonstrated capacity for innovative research on socio-legal issues. We welcome applicants from all research domains, all social science disciplines, and all methodological and theoretical approaches. We are deeply committed to fostering a diverse scholarly community, and we strongly encourage applicants from historically under-represented groups.

The successful candidate(s) will join a vibrant interdisciplinary community of scholars, contributing to expanding knowledge and advancing justice through rigorous, theoretically grounded empirical research.

ABF Research Professors hold a mix of full-time appointments at the ABF and joint appointments with nearby universities. These appointments are ongoing, subject to periodic performance reviews. All ABF Research Professors receive competitive salary and benefits and generous internal research funding, along with office space, computing support, and library access at the ABF's downtown Chicago headquarters, adjacent to the Northwestern University Law School. They enjoy intellectual autonomy and are responsible for setting their own research agendas and designing and conducting their own empirical investigations, and they are expected to pursue external funding and publication opportunities whenever feasible and appropriate.

For the current hiring cycle, we especially encourage applicants with backgrounds in anthropology, or with research agendas addressing migration and citizenship, whether in the US or globally. We also particularly welcome applicants, regardless of discipline or research domain, who seek a full-time (non-joint) ABF appointment, although joint appointments with Chicago-area universities are also possible.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter of no more than three pages, which should include a brief statement about the applicant's commitment to diversity and inclusion in their scholarship and professional life; a curriculum vitae; a writing sample; a Research Statement of no more than two pages, describing current and future research plans; and three academic letters of reference.

All materials should be uploaded electronically, through the Breezy portal, at <https://bit.ly/abfrp25>. To ensure full consideration, applications should be submitted no later than September 15, 2024. Inquiries can be directed to careers@abfn.org.

About the ABF

The ABF is a world-renowned interdisciplinary research institute committed to the empirical social scientific study of law, legal institutions, and legal processes. Founded in 1952 by the American Bar Association (ABA) and supported in part by the American Bar Endowment (ABE), the ABF operates as a fully independent organization – autonomous, nonpartisan, and firmly committed to academic freedom and open inquiry. Its Chicago-based but globally engaged faculty-in-residence includes leading scholars in anthropology, economics, history, political science, psychology, sociology, and law. The vibrant and diverse ABF community also features a wide array of weekly speakers, visiting scholars, and post-doctoral, doctoral, and undergraduate research fellows. (For more about the ABF, see: www.americanbarfoundation.org/about and www.americanbarfoundation.org/careers.)

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 7/15/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14496

University of Cambridge

Rank: THE PROFESSORSHIP OF POLITICS

THE PROFESSORSHIP OF POLITICS

Department of Politics and International Studies

The Board of Electors to the Professorship of Politics invite applications for this Professorship from persons whose work falls within the general field of Politics (with the exception of International Relations and Public Policy), to take up appointment on 1 September 2025 or as soon as possible thereafter.

Candidates will have an outstanding research record of international stature in the field of Politics and the vision, leadership, experience and enthusiasm to build on current strengths of the Department of Politics and International Studies at the University of Cambridge. They will hold a PhD or equivalent postgraduate qualification and demonstrate a proven track record of publications in the best international outlets.

Standard professorial duties include lecturing, supervising, research, examining, supervision and administration. The Professor is expected to be based in Cambridge. A competitive salary will be offered.

Further information is available at: <http://www.hr.admin.cam.ac.uk/professorships> or contact the Human Resources, University Offices, The Old Schools, Cambridge, CB2 1TT, (email: professorships@admin.cam.ac.uk).

Applications, consisting of a letter of application, a statement of current and future research plans, a description of the range of possible teaching that could be offered, a description of leadership experience, a curriculum vitae and a publications list, along with details of three referees should be made online no later than 15 September 2024.

Informal enquiries may be directed to Professor Jude Browne, Head of Department and Convenor of Board of Electors: jmb63@cam.ac.uk.

Start Date: Summer 2024
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 7/15/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14493

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) at Princeton University is pleased to introduce a groundbreaking fellowship program. As a leading global institution in interdisciplinary research on international issues, PIIRS is dedicated to advancing innovative scholarship that addresses the world's most pressing challenges. The PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellows Program is integral to that mission.

We will award multiple postdoctoral fellowships to our inaugural cohort in 2025-2026, recent PhDs in the Social Sciences who have demonstrated exceptional scholarship, congruent with the Institute's intellectual focus, that simultaneously advances theoretical debates in their disciplinary field; creatively speaks to and engages with a multidisciplinary audience; and deepens substantive regional knowledge of specific places.

Appointments are for one year (12 months) with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. Fellows must reside on campus during the academic year to fully engage with PIIRS and university activities. Leveraging Princeton's scholarly resources, fellows will focus on research, expand their intellectual horizons, and prepare work for publication. They will have biweekly meetings with the faculty director to share their work, and monthly meetings with faculty fellows from various social sciences to present their work and learn from others. Fellows are also encouraged to engage with colleagues and attend departmental seminars.

Applicants must demonstrate outstanding scholarly achievement and promise. To be eligible, applicants generally cannot have more than two years of postdoctoral experience prior to the start of the appointment, at the beginning of the academic year, September 1, 2025.

The postdoctoral selection will be made based on the strength of the candidates' scholarly record; the promise of the proposed research; and the ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the postdoctoral program (with interest in connecting with other PIIRS and Princeton departments on campus).

In addition to a competitive salary, benefits, and housing subsidy, the program will provide the Fellow with the opportunity to host a small, pre-publication, book workshop; and a research fund of $4,000 per year.

Applicants must apply online at <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35401> <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35401&lt;/a&gt;>. Applications are due by November 1, 2024 (11:59 p.m. EST). The following application items should be uploaded by the applicant:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Transcripts
- Research Proposal indicating plans for two-year postdoc (maximum 5 pages double-spaced)
- Dissertation abstract (including Table of Contents)
- Writing sample: one chapter of the dissertation or one published article related to dissertation topic.
- Document confirming either that you have completed all requirements for the PhD degree or a letter signed from your dissertation advisor indicating that you will complete the PhD by the start date of the fellowship
- The names and email addresses for three referees, who will be contacted automatically by the online application system with an invitation to upload their letter of recommendation to the system by the application deadline. (**Please note: all letters of reference should be submitted by your referees before the November 1, 2024 deadline. **)

Further information can be found at <https://piirs.princeton.edu/funding-fellowships/piirs-postdoctoral-fellows> <https://piirs.princeton.edu/funding-fellowships/piirs-postdoctoral-fellows1&lt;/a&gt;>.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/4/2024

Date Posted: 7/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14483

University of Iowa

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Study of Conflict

The Department of Political Science at the University of Iowa invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with a focus in the study of conflict (either inter-state or intra-state). The Department welcomes applications from candidates who are doing research on violent conflict between or within countries. This could include great power conflicts, wars and military crises between countries, the effect of domestic politics on inter-state conflict, the political economy of inter- or intra-state conflict, terrorism, civil wars, and studies on resolving, ending, and preventing conflict. Preference will be given to candidates who use quantitative methods. Candidates must be able to teach courses in International Relations. Candidates should clearly describe their research and teaching interests in their letter of application and include a CV, research statement, teaching statement, writing sample, teaching evaluations, and letters of recommendation.

The position will begin on August 20, 2025, and the appointment requires a Ph.D in hand by start date. The review of applicants will begin September 10, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

For information on how to apply, please visit <http://jobs.uiowa.edu/> and reference Requisition #75342. Electronic attachments to the online application include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, writing sample, teaching evaluations and information for 3 letters of reference. Question can be directed to polisci@uiowa.edu.

Required Qualifications

- PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Government, or related field in hand by start date.
- Has a primary research and teaching specialty in International Relations and Conflict
- Has conducted research in the study of Conflict.
- Ability to teach International Relations classes at the undergraduate and graduate level

Desirable Qualifications

- Ability to publish in general field refereed journals or books
- Demonstrated strong quantitative methods skills
- Proven ability to be an effective instructor

Successful candidates will be required to self-disclose any misconduct history or pending research misconduct investigation including but not limited to sexual misconduct in prior employment and provide a related release and will be subject to a criminal background and credential check and credential/education verification.

The University of Iowa is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment free from discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, pregnancy (including childbirth and related conditions), disability, genetic information, status as a U.S. veteran, service in the U.S. military, sexual orientation, gender identity, or associational preferences.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14478

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science
- Dr. Aaron Kaufman

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Political Theory, Other
Specializations: Science & Technology, Political Economy, Science & Technology

We are inviting applications for a Postdoctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi from individuals who have or will soon receive a PhD in one of the social sciences, computer science, or a related discipline. The appointment will begin September 1, 2025, subject to final budget approval.

The post-doctoral associate will spend half their time on independent research, and half their time on collaborative research with Professor Aaron Kaufman. The collaborative research will be at the intersection of computational social science, large language models, and political science.

We seek a candidate with expertise in managing big data sets and efficiently implementing machine learning and NLP workflows, and who has an interest in applying those tools to political institutions and political economy. This is an excellent position for a computational scientist looking to move to the social sciences.

The position does not require teaching, but it may be possible to get teaching experience for compensation. You would join a group of over 20 post-doctoral fellows and 70 faculty in the Division of Social Science.

For consideration, applicants must submit their application to <http://apply.interfolio.com/146823>. The application must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae with full publication list, statement of research interests, transcript of degree, and two letters of reference, all in PDF format

If you have any questions, please email Professor Kaufman at aaron-kaufman@nyu.edu.

About NYU Abu Dhabi:

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14474

University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Rank: Assistant Professor Legal Studies Program

About UMass Amherst

UMass Amherst, the Commonwealth's flagship campus, is a nationally ranked public research university offering a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees. The University sits on nearly 1,450-acres in the scenic Pioneer Valley of Western Massachusetts and offers a rich cultural environment in a bucolic setting close to major urban centers. In addition, the University is part of the Five Colleges (including Amherst College, Hampshire College, Mount Holyoke College, and Smith College), which adds to the intellectual energy of the region.

Job Description

The interdisciplinary Legal Studies Program of the Department of Political Science and the Commonwealth Honors College at the University of Massachusetts Amherst are pleased to announce a joint faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Legal Studies and Commonwealth Honors College, to commence Fall 2025. This is an Honors faculty tenure-track position. We welcome applicants from a variety of methodological, disciplinary, and theoretical backgrounds with a substantive focus on law, crime, and society, punishment, and/or the carceral state, in the United States or the US in comparative perspective. The teaching load is 2/2 and consists of two Legal Studies courses and two Honors courses per year, particularly the Honors Thesis Seminar or courses satisfying General Education requirements. Honors Faculty also are engaged in the Commonwealth Honors College community and meet annually with the CHC Dean, in addition to contributing to the life of their home department, college, and university.

Requirements

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science, Sociology, Anthropology, Criminology, or other related field by the appointment start date.

Additional Information

Legal Studies at UMass is the oldest undergraduate liberal arts program for the study of law and society in the country, and the only one in New England at a public university. The Program is housed in the Department of Political Science and maintains its own distinct undergraduate major. The expanding Legal Studies Program is a center for ambitious intellectual activity and research that addresses important questions about the place of law in societies around the world while helping to produce the next generation of social science law and society scholars. The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences is the institutional home of the Law and Society Association, the world's premier interdisciplinary legal studies organization, and the Center for Justice, Law, and Societies. Commonwealth Honors College is the flagship honors college for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and a nationally recognized residential community that serves the land grant mission of UMass Amherst. Honors students benefit from small honors classes and close-knit ties with faculty that enrich the honors thesis experience and student success.

Instructions for Applicants

Along with the application, please submit the following:

A letter of interest addressed to Professor Rebecca Hamlin, Director of Legal Studies, Thompson Hall, 200 Hicks Way, Amherst, MA 01003 USA.

A curriculum vitae.

Evidence of quality teaching (such as summaries of teaching evaluations) and a teaching statement.

A statement explaining your understanding of justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion and how you would contribute to these values at UMass. Names and contact information for three (3) references who are willing to submit letters upon request through the UMass online application system.

Writing sample.

Inquiries about the position can be addressed to Rebecca Hamlin, Director of Legal Studies (rhamlin@umass.edu). Applications will be reviewed beginning September 10, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14461

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Congress, Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach undergraduate American Politics courses in-person for the Spring 2025 semester. We seek instructors capable of teaching in their area of expertise, in one or more of nearly any area of American Politics (for example, Political Parties, Campaigns and Elections, Public Policy, Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Political Psychology, Social Movements). The instructor would teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity but may be able to teach multiple sections of the same course.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To begin the application process, please send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14463

Ashoka University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track) positions in the Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for full-time faculty positions at the level of tenure track Assistant Professor. We welcome outstanding candidates in any sub-field of Political Science. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply.

Successful candidates are expected to excel in teaching and research. Faculty members are also expected to mentor students, supervise their research, and contribute to the institution. Ashoka offers an attractive pay package as well as support for research.

We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a PhD by the time of appointment. Selected candidates would be expected to join by 1 January or 1 August 2025.

Application Instructions

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit:

- 1) a cover letter

- 2) curriculum vitae
- 3) two samples of academic writings
- 4) teaching philosophy statement and evaluations (if available)
- 5) research statement
- 6) three confidential letters of reference.

All materials should be submitted through Interfolio link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147240>

The deadline for submitting a complete application is 20th October 2024.

For any queries or further information, please contact: hod.pol@ashoka.edu.in with '2024 Faculty Recruitment' marked in the Subject line.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14454

Ashoka University

Rank: Professor/Associate Professor, Tenure-track Professor positions in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for full-time faculty positions at the levels of tenured Associate and Full Professors. We welcome outstanding candidates in any subfield of Political Science. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply.

Successful candidates are expected to excel in teaching and research. Faculty members are also expected to mentor students, supervise their research, and contribute to the institution. Ashoka offers an attractive pay package as well as support for research.

We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a PhD by the time of appointment. Selected candidates would be expected to join by 1 January or 1 August 2025.

Application Instructions

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit:

- 1) a cover letter
- 2) curriculum vitae
- 3) two samples of academic writings
- 4) statement of teaching philosophy
- 5) research statement
- 6) names of three references.

All materials should be submitted through Interfolio link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147241>

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: 20th October, 2024.

For any queries or further information, please contact: hod.pol@ashoka.edu.in with '2024 Faculty Recruitment' marked in the Subject line.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14453

Princeton University

Rank: Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Research Associate in Bioethics

The Princeton University Center for Human Values invites applications for the Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics for a position starting around September 2025. The Shapiro Fellowship supports outstanding scholars studying ethical questions arising from developments in medicine, the biological sciences, or the human population. We particularly encourage proposals focusing on problems of practical importance that have broader theoretical interest.

Appointments are for one year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. The Shapiro Fellow will spend time at Princeton conducting research and, as needed, teaching up to one semester course each year, pending sufficient course enrollments and with the approval of the Office of the Dean of the Faculty. They will participate in the Ira W. DeCamp Seminar in Bioethics and in a range of other activities in the University Center for Human Values.

Qualifications

Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D., M.D., or other equivalent doctoral degree. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the start of appointment. An applicant may have a background in any related field, not necessarily in bioethics. However, the proposed research plan should be in the field of bioethics.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments and the promise of the proposed research project in bioethics. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be considered.

Term of Appointment

The term of the fellowship is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal for up to two additional years pending satisfactory performance. Appointment will be made to the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate; the Shapiro Fellow will also carry the title of Lecturer, if teaching. Princeton University offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35121> (Link is external).

A complete application will include the following supporting materials:

- A curriculum vitae;
- A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words). Please provide an indicative title in the heading;
- A scholarly paper (of no more than 12,000 words, not including bibliography) representing the applicant's scholarly achievement or potential;

-Contact information for two referees, who should be prepared to comment specifically about the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Monday, November 25, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference should be submitted by Monday, December 2, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately, so receipt of letters of reference after December 2nd may put candidates at a disadvantage.

Decisions will be announced in March 2025. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14445

Princeton University

Rank: Laurance S Rockeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships

The University Center for Human Values invites applications for Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships for the academic year 2025-26. Fellows devote an academic year in residence at Princeton to research and writing about topics involving human values in public and private life. This full-time visiting program is open to scholars in all disciplines across the humanities and social sciences. We welcome applications from scholars from a variety of disciplines.

Fellows are expected to reside in or around Princeton or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to commute to campus on a daily basis during the 12-week fall and spring semesters. Fellows pursue their own research and are active contributors to the intellectual life of the Center. This includes participating in a weekly seminar attended by fellows and Center faculty to discuss work in progress and in various other seminars, colloquia and lectures sponsored by the Center. Fellows enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities and facilities throughout the University.

Candidates must have a doctorate or equivalent professional degree and a strong record of research publications appropriate to their career stage. Typically, Fellows hold faculty positions at other universities or colleges; in exceptional cases we consider applications from independent scholars when there is a high level of scholarly achievement. This is not a postdoctoral fellowship program and we do not generally consider candidates who will have held the Ph.D. for less than two years at the time of appointment, or who are coming directly from a postdoctoral fellowship.

The fellowship typically extends from September 1 to June 1. Fellows receive a stipend paid in nine equal installments. Ordinarily, home institutions provide a portion of their salaries in addition to benefits, although this is not a requirement. Independent scholars are eligible to apply.

Main considerations in the evaluation of applications are the following:

The significance of the proposed research and its relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values (see <http://uchv.princeton.edu/> (Link is external))

The quality of a candidate's previous research and the contribution the candidate is likely to make in the future through their scholarship
The likelihood that the research would benefit from being conducted in the University Center environment

How to apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35003> (Link is external).

Required materials:

-A CV

-One scholarly paper (no more than 12,000 words) written in the past three years

-A statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research project, including a brief working title for the project.

-Contact information for three referees, including at least one referee who was not a graduate advisor (note that referees will be asked to send in their letters fairly quickly – by October 26, 2024 for best consideration).

Applicant materials must be submitted by the deadline: October 18, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. We aim to announce decisions by late March 2025.

The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/18/2024

Date Posted: 6/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14439

Amherst College

Rank: Assistant Professor Race and American Law

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Race & Ethnic Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the area of Race and American Law. The college is committed to cultivating an inclusive and critically engaged educational environment. Nearly one-quarter of Amherst's students are Pell Grant recipients; close to half of our students are domestic students of color. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse in matters of gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, socioeconomic status, sexual identity, political outlook, and religion.

In searching in the field of race and American law, we seek a colleague who sees the domain broadly through the light of theory, practice, and history. We are interested in candidates who conduct research into, for example: the legal construction of race; the moral and legal debates concerning race-based reparative and redistributive practices; the racial dimensions of carceral practices, understood both domestically and trans-nationally; the racial dimensions of the legal construction of space; the role that racial-thinking has played in the construction of immigration policy and the very idea of “Americanness”; how matters of race inform issues of environmental justice; and how the American legal response to the legacy of slavery compares and contrasts with that of other nations with a history of chattel slavery (eg. Brazil).

Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching are interdisciplinary. The position requires a Ph.D. (candidates must have the Ph.D. degree in hand or all requirements for the degree fulfilled by the start of the appointment) or a J.D. The start date for the position is July 1, 2025. To apply, candidates are asked to submit electronically (<https://apply.interfolio.com/142507>) a cover letter addressed to Professor Lawrence Douglas, a curriculum vitae, a sample of their scholarship, a teaching statement, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 3/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13251

National University of Singapore

Rank: Lectureship in Global Studies

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies Programme at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a lecturer of Global Studies Programme. Global Studies is an interdisciplinary programme examining the processes and effects of globalisation across political, economic, social, and cultural domains. We welcome applications from scholars with teaching and research interests in any of the following three areas: global political economy; global dimensions of environmental/climate change; or, global dimensions of human health and development. More information about these themes can be found on the Global Studies website.

Scholars from all social science disciplines with expertise in the themes referenced above are welcome to apply. Applicants with multidisciplinary or interdisciplinary teaching experience and a specialization in global political economy and its effect on race, class, or gender are particularly encouraged to apply.

Lecturers may be promoted advance to Senior Lecturer and then to open-contracted Associate Professor and Professor appointments. Initial appointments are for three years, Senior Lecturer appointments come with a five-year appointment, while appointments at the Associate Professor and above come with open contracts. The teaching load is 3:3 (three courses per semester, totaling six per academic year). Exceptional applicants may be considered for Senior Lecturer if they have at least 5 years of relevant experience.

Salaries at NUS are internationally competitive, includes eligibility for annual performance bonuses and salary increments, subsidized housing for nine years, medical benefits, and research and conference support.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

1. Candidates should submit a letter of application clearly detailing how their research or teaching expertise aligns with the teaching of GL2102 Global Political Economy, and your potential for interdisciplinary teaching;
2. A CV;
3. A teaching statement of no more than 2 pages (short-listed candidates will be asked to submit sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and/or other evidence of teaching effectiveness);
4. The names and contact information for three references (References will only be contacted for short-listed candidates ).

For full consideration, please submit your materials to this website <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/23710/> by 22 March 2024. Applications received after this date may still be considered until the position is filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

Contact list for further enquiries

Enquiries may be directed to Dr George Radics at socrgb@nus.edu.sg Further information about working at the National University of Singapore is available at <https://www.nus.edu.sg/careers/why-join-us/>. The Department website can be found at <https://fass.nus.edu.sg/globalstudies/>.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 2/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13210

Yale University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowships with the Identity & Conflict Lab
Specializations: Germany, China, United States

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2024-2025 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The ICL has several ongoing projects in four thematic areas: (1) native-immigrant conflict and the politics of immigrant integration across countries, with a focus on Greece, Cyprus, Turkey, Germany, Denmark, and Qatar; (2) effects of national identification (patriotism; nationalism) on foreign policy preferences with case applications in Greece, South Korea, China, and the United States; (3) strategies to reduce majority-minority group conflicts in India and Pakistan; and (4) collection and analysis of new data on separatist conflicts worldwide, and prediction of new conflict outbreaks of separatist violence. A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and quantitative analysis of observational data. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by associates can also be considered for funding by the ICL.

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Associates will be expected to collect and clean data; review reports on ongoing projects; prepare visualizations and reports of quantitative analysis of new data collected in the lab; assist with drafting grant proposals; program surveys; prepare IRB applications; conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing Lab projects; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Additionally, associates will be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders, prepare presentations of lab reports/papers, prepare replication files for published studies, help manage the ICL website and seminar series, and provide summaries of ongoing ICL work for public outreach.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be expected to help organize the ICL's annual conference as well as the workshop, which will hold occasional meetings throughout the year. Associates will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop or a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director and would be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary is competitive and comes with a benefits package. Information regarding benefits associated with the position can be found here: <https://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/benefits-enrollment-2023/postdoctoral-associates-benefits-2023>

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2022, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2024. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 10, 2023. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is extensive experience programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary.

Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

Link to apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/135524>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12883

POLITICAL THEORY

University of Georgia

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications for a Lecturer to begin August 1, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year appointment that is renewable on an annual basis. The lecturer will teach eight courses per academic year, four courses in each academic term. Typically, two or more sections of the same course can be offered each semester and/or during the same academic year. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 100% teaching. The lecturer will be expected to teach the undergraduate introduction to American government. In addition, the candidate will teach upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods in areas that align with their research and teaching interests. Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional-development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel and summer teaching when they are available. The university has a promotion path for lecturers. Upon their sixth year as a lecturer, a faculty may be promoted to senior lecturer, after which they may be promoted to principal lecturer (for details see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/guidelines-for-appointment-and-promotion-of-lecturers/>).

Minimum qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science completed by August 1, 2025.

Additional Requirements:

- Excellent communication skills
- Evidence of teaching excellence or demonstrated potential for teaching excellence

Duties/Responsibilities

- Contribute to the instructional mission of the Department of Political Science
- Teach four three-credit hour courses per academic term including the introduction to American government and upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods.
- Participate in workshops, the development of new course materials, and/or supervise teaching assistants

Special instructions to applicants:

Prospective applicants should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three letter writers who will separately provide letters of recommendation electronically to the UGA jobs web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/387895>

The cover letter is expected to include a description of the candidate's strengths as an instructor and relevant teaching experiences as they relate to this position description. The application should also include a teaching portfolio that provides: a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin January 8, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14517

Bucknell University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science (Non-Western Political Thought)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Non-Western Political Thought beginning in the fall semester of 2025. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level. We seek candidates whose scholarly and teaching interests focus on any region outside of Europe and North America, although we will also consider candidates who work on Indigenous Thought in North or South America. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in political theory as well as courses in their areas of specialty.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in political theory. Outstanding candidates in the final stages of their dissertation will be considered but must complete their degree in their first year at Bucknell in order to continue employment after the first year.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <https://www.bucknell.edu/azdirectory/talent-culture-human-resources/careers-bucknell> The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Later in the process, candidates may be asked to provide contact information for three references, so that confidential letters of reference may be obtained. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to: Professor Michael R. James at mjames@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on October 7, 2024, and continue until filled.

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music. Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14761

Colgate University

Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Political Theory

The <https://www.colgate.edu/academics/departments-programs/department-political-science> Department of Political Science at Colgate University invites applications for a tenure-stream position in Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor. The appointment will begin in the fall of 2025.

The successful candidate should be able to teach introductory courses covering the classic texts of ancient, medieval, and modern political philosophy and a thematic course on "Politics and Moral Vision," as well as more advanced courses in the candidate's areas of interests. We are especially interested in candidates whose scholarly interests include contemporary political theory, philosophy & public affairs, and/or non-Western political theory.

Candidates will be expected to contribute to university-wide initiatives including the <https://www.colgate.edu/academics/core-curriculum> Liberal Arts Core Curriculum and/or one of Colgate's many <https://www.colgate.edu/about/offices-centers-institutes/centers-institutes> Institutes and Centers. The teaching load is five courses (or their equivalent) over two semesters.

Please submit a https://docs.google.com/document/d/1c2GjRvZX-nH\_CxngfDrj7QZfic5wPxyIpPdOcjQ-9E/edit?usp=sharing letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., statement of teaching philosophy and student evaluations of teaching), a writing sample (30 pages single-spaced or 60 pages double-spaced), and three letters of recommendation.

To ensure consideration of your application by the search committee, please submit your application materials through <http://apply.interfolio.com/153017> [http://apply.interfolio.com/153017] by 23 September 2024.

Completion of PhD is required before, or shortly after, the date of hire.

Colgate strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. All applications should speak directly, particularly in the cover letter, to the candidate's ability to work effectively with students across a wide range of identities and backgrounds.

Colgate University is a leading liberal arts university of 3200 students situated in central New York state. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find postings of other employment opportunities at Colgate and at other institutions of higher education in upstate New York at <http://www.upstatenyherc.org/www.upstatenyherc.org>;

It is the policy of Colgate University not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment based on their race, color, creed, religion, age, sex, pregnancy, national origin, marital status, disability, protected Veterans status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, being or having been victims of domestic violence or stalking, familial status, or any other categories covered by law. Colgate is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, women, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply.

Campus Crime Reporting and Statistics

The Department of Campus Safety at Colgate University will provide upon request a copy of Colgate's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report. This report includes statistics as reported to the United States Department of Education for the previous three years concerning reported: 1. crimes that occurred on-campus; in certain off-campus buildings or property owned or controlled by Colgate University; and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from, the campus and 2. fires that occurred in student housing facilities. The report also includes institutional policies concerning campus security and fire safety, such as policies concerning sexual assault, life safety systems, and other related matters. You may access the report from the Clery Compliance web page <https://www.colgate.edu/student-life/safety/department-campus-safety/campus-safety-staff/clery-compliancehere>; Printed copies of this report may be obtained upon request from the Department of Campus Safety via e-mail at cusafety@colgate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14722

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2025 to June 1, 2026. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Office of Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35921>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – June 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024 for appointments beginning in September 2025. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 2/28/2024

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14727

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, James Madison Program

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients, or recipients who anticipate receiving their Ph.D., to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the anticipated year from September 1, 2025 to September 1, 2026. Appointments will be through the Department of Politics. All James Madison Program researchers are expected to be in residence in Princeton, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Researchers appointed in the Madison Program are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are required to have a Ph.D. degree awarded within the last three years (no earlier than September 1, 2022), or candidates must have less than three years of post-Ph.D. research experience prior to the anticipated start date. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35922>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration, application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
Adam Thomas, Ph.D.
Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu
Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/27/2025

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14728

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Black Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Black Politics. The search is open with respect to methodology. This position will include teaching assignments for introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses with capacity for large enrollments of diverse students as well as graduate seminars. The position directly supports the unit's commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Tenure track faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Washington State Law requires that this ad list a binding salary range. The base salary range for this position will be $10,000 - $15,000 per month on a 9-month basis ($90,000 - $135,000 annually), commensurate with experience and qualifications, or as mandated by a U.S. Department of Labor prevailing wage determination. The position will begin on September 16, 2025 and is full time with a 9-month service period (September 16 – June 15).

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research engaging the study of Black Politics. Applicants must have a Ph.D., or foreign equivalent, in Political Science or closely related field by the start of the appointment.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All application materials must be submitted online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/152239>

Applications should include a 1-2 page cover letter, current CV, writing sample, 1-2 page research statement, 1-2 page teaching statement, 1 page diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests and accomplishments. The teaching statement should include the following: describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant's record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications received by September 23, 2024 are guaranteed full consideration. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

BENEFITS INFORMATION

A summary of benefits associated with this title/rank can be found at <https://hr.uw.edu/benefits/benefits-orientation/benefit-summary-pdfs/>. Appointees solely employed and paid directly by a non-UW entity are not UW employees and are not eligible for UW or Washington State employee benefits.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY

The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (<http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/>). Additionally, the University's Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member's academic profile and responsibilities (<https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432>).

PRIVATE NOTICE

Review the University of Washington Privacy Notice for Demographic Data of Job Applicants and University Personnel to learn how your demographic data are protected, when the data may be used, and your rights.

DISABILITY SERVICES

To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact the Disability Services Office at 206-543-6450 or dso@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14665

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile

Rank: Tenure-Track positions in crime and public security, public administration, and Ethics of Public Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Political Theory

The School of Government of Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for three full-time academic positions in three areas: public administration, crime and public security, and ethics of public policy. We seek one candidate for each of these positions. For all positions, the selected candidates are expected to start in the first or second semester of 2025. The deadline to apply is October 15th, 2024. We welcome applications from candidates with a PhD in Political Science (or in the final process of its completion) with specialization in the required fields.

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile is an interdisciplinary academic unit comprised of the Schools of Economics and Administration, Social Sciences, Law, History, Geography, Political Science, and Engineering. The school was established with a commitment to addressing public issues and the governance challenges of increasingly complex societies, both in Chile and globally, through innovative and interdisciplinary approaches. Currently, the School has twenty faculty members who support the master's program in Public Policy and the undergraduate program in Public Administration, which offers both a bachelor's degree and the Professional Title of Public Administrator.

Academic requirements are regulated by the norms established in the "Regulation of the Academic" of Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile and the Complementary Norms of the School of Government. Generally, it is expected that an academic will teach undergraduate and graduate courses on general topics related to their area of interest and specialized courses (the regular teaching load is three courses per year) and be able to supervise graduate theses or final graduation activities. Additionally, they are expected to develop their own research line with funding from competitive grants and maintain a continuous pace of high-quality academic publications. Previous teaching experience, proactivity, leadership, skills for working in interdisciplinary teams, and previous collaborative work will be valued, considering the academic career stage of each applicant.

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, consistently ranked among the top three in the QS Ranking of Latin American universities, is deeply committed to fostering equal opportunities and building an inclusive, diverse, and fraternal academic community. This commitment to inclusivity extends to promoting the academic development of both women and men. In this context, we especially encourage applications from women.

Position 1: Crime and Public Security

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position for scholars specializing in the study of organized crime, crime, and/or public security. Applicants with a PhD conducting research and teaching on issues related to crime and public security from any social science discipline (including political science, economics, law, public policy, and related fields) are encouraged to apply. Knowledge and interest in developing public policies in this area and experience in empirical research will be valued. Applications from those close to completing their doctorate will also be accepted.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call, or a central chapter or article from the doctoral thesis (job market paper) for those finishing or recently completed their doctorate.
- A cover letter including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of the call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>

- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the coming years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of a School of Government and a criminology program (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, for those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying the completion of the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of the School of Government, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form: <https://form.jotform.com/242047360786662>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Position 2: Public Administration

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position for scholars specializing in public administration. Applicants with a PhD in public administration, political science, government, public policy, public law, or related areas, who conduct research and teaching on relevant issues in public sector politics and management are encouraged to apply. Applications from those close to completing their doctorate will also be accepted.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call, or a central chapter or article from the doctoral thesis (job market paper) for those finishing or recently completed their doctorate.
- A cover letter including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of the call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>
- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the coming years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of a School of Government and a criminology program (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, for those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying the completion of the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of the School of Government, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.

- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form: <https://form.jotform.com/242027259167660>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Position 3: Ethics of Public Policy (normative or applied)

The School of Government (EG) and The Institute of Applied Ethics (IEA) at the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position as Assistant or Associate Professor, with a shared appointment in both academic units, for scholars specializing in ethics of public service or ethics of public policy.

Priority will be given to candidates whose research agenda focuses on topics related to corruption, public integrity, ethical management in public institutions, or ethics of public administration professionals. Applications are welcome from those who approach these phenomena either from a normative or empirical perspective. The primary affiliation to one of these units will be defined based on the profiles of the applicants.

Applicants must have completed a doctoral program (PhD) in applied ethics, government, public administration, public policy, political theory, political science, law, or related areas. Applications from those close to graduating from their doctorate will be accepted. Applicants must show proven ability to develop independent and interdisciplinary research. Previous teaching experience, proactivity, leadership, skills for working in interdisciplinary teams, and previous collaborative work will be valued. All these aspects will be considered according to the stage of the academic career of the applicants.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications. The CV should be organized as follows: i) Personal Information ii) Education iii) Experience in the field of education iv) Professional Experience v) Publications (WOS and other publications) vi) Other relevant matters such as awards, recognitions, or participation in scientific societies.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call. Candidates completing their doctorate may send one of their publications in progress or chapters of their thesis.
- A cover letter explaining the applicant's interest in the position, including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of this call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>

- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the next 5 years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of the IEA and the EG (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, in the case of those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying that they have completed the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree or the date on which they will obtain it.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of both academic units, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl and eticasaplicadas@uc.cl, indicating &quot;Academic Position in Public Ethics&quot; as the subject.

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form:

<https://form.jotform.com/242046175156656>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14657

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Normative Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Normative Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any area of political theory. The candidate will be asked to teach courses in political theory commensurate with their expertise. The initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151667>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2025

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14645

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor in the field of Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in political theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin in the fall semester of 2025. We are a small theory group that works closely with our empirically oriented colleagues: we are thus especially interested in scholars whose research speaks to pressing political problems, including but not limited to racial and gender-based justice, environmental justice, global justice, democratic erosion, populism, protest, and the political and ethical challenges posed by AI and other emerging technologies.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before October 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151789>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14629

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

Salary is no less than £61,446 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Political Theory. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Theory, the post holder will add to our existing strengths in political theory.

Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills and the ability to teach political theory at undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political theory, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses.

The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2025), a PhD in political theory or a closely related discipline.

The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification, which is attached to this vacancy on the LSE's online recruitment system.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will commence ideally on 1 September 2025.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification.

To apply for this post, please go to www.jobs.lse.ac.uk. If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 September 2024 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

<https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/I/1479/0/435696/15539/assistant-professor-in-political-theory>

Job Description

This summarises the purpose of the job and lists its key tasks. It is not a definitive list of all the tasks to be undertaken as those can be varied from time to time at the discretion of the School, in consultation with the post-holder. The description of the duties and responsibilities reflect the post at the time it was drawn up, the details of which may change over time without changing the general character and purpose of the post or the level of responsibility encompassed.

Job Summary:

Based in the Department of Government, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School by conducting and publishing outstanding-quality research, engaging in high-quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in School and Department activities.

Range of Academic Activities and Responsibilities at Assistant Professor Level at LSE

Note: The relative balance of activities in research, teaching and administration may vary across departments, and is also likely to vary for any particular individual over the course of their career.

Research:

Conducting substantive research into complex problems, ideas, concepts or theories and applying appropriate methodologies.

Developing and carrying forward a coherent research strategy in their discipline which has national and international impact.

Developing a body of outstanding-quality publications in well-recognised peer reviewed outlets.

Initiating and developing links with internal contacts such as academics in interdisciplinary departments/institutes/centres, external contacts at other educational institutions, employers and professional organisations to actively foster collaboration.

Presenting research and giving invited papers at national and international conferences.

Acting as a reviewer for academic journals.

Providing academic leadership at conferences and raising the profile of LSE research.

Providing expert opinion and commentary to external audiences and organisations.

Teaching:

Contributing to the intellectual life of the School by engaging in high-quality teaching.

Contributing to the monitoring and enhancement of quality in teaching within the Department.

Actively seeking and pursuing training in teaching technology and practice, for example by undertaking the PGCertHE to associate level.

Teaching and examining undergraduate and masters-level students.

Acting as personal adviser and providing pastoral care.

Supervising PhD students (but not sole supervisory responsibility for research students whilst pre-Interim Review).

Developing innovative and attractive courses, shaping and influencing curriculum development, and actively contributing to the review of courses in accordance with departmental strategy.

Supervising hourly-paid teachers, including organising and delegating work, arranging induction and providing training and guidance.

Actively contributing to departmental teaching administration.

Activities relating to departmental administration and management and/or School-wide service:

Fostering departmental collegiality and fulfilling individual responsibilities as set out by the Head of Department and/or other senior colleagues.

Actively contributing to the intellectual life of the department and to the work of the School overall, for example:

Attending and participating in departmental meetings.

Acting as a member of and/or chairing departmental, inter-departmental or School committees, e.g. exam boards and sub-boards.

Participating in departmental hiring searches and making shortlisting recommendations for new members of academic staff.

Liaising with central and departmental administration across the School to resolve issues concerning programme development, student welfare and examinations etc.

Engaging with external institutions, organisations and the wider community to support research, teaching and School strategic objectives.

Flexibility:

To deliver services effectively, a degree of flexibility may be required in the duties performed in order to meet the exigencies of service. Job roles may also naturally develop over time and ongoing substantial changes to a role will be discussed between line managers and their staff, with job descriptions updated as and when appropriate.

Government

Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI):

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university. All posts (and post holders) will seek to ensure diversity and inclusion, while opposing all forms of unlawful and unfair discrimination on the grounds of age, disability, gender identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation, or social and economic background.

Ethics Code:

Posts (and post holders) are assumed to have a responsibility to act in accordance with the School's Ethics Code and to promote the principles and values that the Code enshrines. The Ethics Code clearly states that the whole LSE community, including all staff, students, and governors of LSE, are expected to act in accordance with the principles which are set out in the Code. As such you are required to read and familiarise yourself with it. The School's Effective Behaviours Framework is designed to support this Code. It sets out examples for the six behaviours that all staff are expected to demonstrate, these can be found on the following link: click here

Environmental Sustainability:

The post holder is required to minimise environmental impact in the performance of the role, and actively contribute to the delivery of the LSE Environmental Policy.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14615

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Theory

The Department of Politics seeks applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in political theory. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35782>.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Political Theory Junior Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration, apply by September 9, 2024.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition Number D-25-POL-00001

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/9/2024

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14613

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, Political Theory

The Department of Politics and the University Center for Human Values are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenured faculty position in political theory. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35762>.

Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on October 2, 2024.

Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition Number D-25-POL-00002

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/2/2024

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14614

Occidental College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Theory to begin in August 2025. We seek a political theorist with a specialization in contemporary political thought. Areas of focus may include, but are not limited to, democratic theory, multiculturalism, comparative political theory, feminist theory, queer theory, critical race theory, non-Western theory, postcolonial theory, Indigenous theory, and environmental political thought. The department is especially interested in candidates whose work speaks to democratic, comparative, non-Western and/or Indigenous perspectives or environmental political thought. All candidates should be prepared to offer (i) courses in traditional political thought (ancient and modern); (ii) a survey class in contemporary political thought that addresses challenges of and to democracy, and (iii) courses in their specialization.

Strong candidates will be thoughtful in their pedagogical approaches, will seek to continually improve their teaching, and will possess a record of, or potential for, teaching excellence. Strong candidates will design and teach a wide variety of courses attractive to undergraduate liberal arts students and we welcome applications from candidates interested in contributing to the College's First Year Program as well as those whose courses might be cross listed with other humanities and social sciences departments. Successful candidates will possess a record of, or potential for, strong scholarship in the discipline of political science. Finally, strong candidates will contribute to and participate in the life of the college, through service, advising, mentoring students, and other activities.

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. in political science – Applicants may be Ph.D. candidates in political science who expect to have their Ph.D. in hand by August 1, 2025.
- A specialization in contemporary political thought.
- Demonstrated commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching.
- A strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment.
- Demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from minoritized and marginalized social groups.
- Ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service.
- Demonstrated commitment to the four cornerstones of the mission of the College: excellence, equity, community, and service

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience working collaboratively with local community organizations

Application Submission Materials

Upload your application materials to Interfolio, <http://apply.interfolio.com/150794>

You must submit a complete application package electronically to be considered by the search committee. An application includes the following:

- Cover Letter in which you describe the education, experience, and/or skills you possess that are relevant to the position description, required and preferred qualifications
- Curriculum Vitae
- Research Statement (maximum 2-page single-spaced)
- Teaching Philosophy Statement (maximum 2-page single-spaced)
- Commitment to Inclusive Excellence Statement (maximum 2-page single-spaced)

o This statement provides your unique perspective on your past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity in your professional career. This should include your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for students from marginalized and minoritized groups. You may also speak to how your research and/or service promotes justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity. The purpose of this statement is to help the department identify candidates who have professional experience, intellectual commitments, and/or willingness to engage in activities that could help the College contribute to its mission in these areas.

- List of three references with relevant contact information

o If you advance to the finalist phase, you will be asked to have each of your three references submit a letter of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit should you move forward to this phase of the search. Do not submit these letters with your initial application.

Please direct all questions about the position to: Regina Freer, Chair of Politics at rffreer@oxy.edu or call 323-259-2924.

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, your application materials must be received by September 6, 2024.

Upon receipt of a complete application package, you will receive a preliminary questionnaire. Please complete this questionnaire by September 9, 2024 to move forward in the search process.

The Department and College

The dynamic curriculum and exciting faculty research agendas in the Politics department focus on questions of democracy, social justice, power, rights, and liberties. We work closely with our students, preparing them to become thoughtful, well-informed, and engaged leaders in our increasingly complex, interdependent world, combining rigorous in-classroom work, research, and community-based experiential learning opportunities. The faculty are active scholars and contributors to the local, state, national, and international communities.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14572

Haverford College

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Political Science

Haverford College seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science to begin Fall 2025.

Haverford College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Science, with a primary specialization in contemporary political theory. The position will start in the Fall semester of 2025. Successful candidates must: have earned their PhD by September 1, 2025; demonstrate an independent and productive research program; teach effectively at all levels of the political theory curriculum; have the ability to mentor a diverse set of students in their research activities; show interest in and ability to advance diversity (broadly construed) within the political science department; and contribute to a collegial, inclusive, and active departmental culture.

Candidates with teaching and/or research interests that contribute to our interdisciplinary programs, including but not limited to African and Africana Studies; Latin American, Iberian and Latinx Studies; Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies; Environmental Studies; Health Studies; Gender and Sexuality Studies; and Peace Justice and Human Rights, will be viewed positively.

To learn more about the Political Science Department at Haverford, please see here:

<https://www.haverford.edu/political-science>

For more information about Haverford and this position, please see here:

<https://www.haverford.edu/available-positions/tenure-track-search-political-science-2024>

Applicants should submit the following via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/150887>): a cover letter; a CV; a statement of research interests, goals, and plans (2-3 pages); a teaching statement that includes teaching interests and experience and addresses the candidate's ability to teach political theory to a diverse undergraduate student body (1-2 pages); a sample syllabus; and a writing sample. They should also arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be submitted.

All application materials must be submitted by September 15, 2024 via Interfolio.

Questions about the position or application process should be directed to: hc-poliscisearch@haverford.edu. For technical questions, please contact Interfolio directly at 1-877-997-8807 or help@interfolio.com.

Haverford College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, social justice, and providing equal opportunities and access to all individuals regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin or ancestry, age, marital status, disability, or veteran status. Women, non-binary and transgender individuals, people of color, Indigenous people, and those with other or multiple historically marginalized and/or underrepresented identities are especially encouraged to apply. Haverford College and our consortial partners are located on Lenape lands.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14552

Pitzer College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Studies

Pitzer College, a member of the Claremont Colleges, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Studies with an emphasis in political theory. Research and teaching interests should include one or more of the following focuses: feminist political theory; comparative/global political theory; race/ethnicity and political theory.

The successful candidate will teach an introductory political theory course along with other courses in their area of specialization, as well as regularly contributing to the college-wide First-Year Writing seminar program. It is expected that the Ph.D. will be completed by the time of appointment. Pitzer College has a strong institutional commitment to diversity in all areas and strongly encourages candidates from underrepresented groups. We favor candidates who can contribute to the College's distinctive educational objectives, which promote interdisciplinary perspectives, intercultural understanding, and concern with social responsibility and the ethical implications of knowledge and action. Pitzer College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. For the successful applicant with the relevant interests, affiliations are possible with the intercollegiate departments of Africana Studies, Asian American Studies, Chican@/Latin@Studies, and/or the Intercollegiate Feminist Center for Teaching, Research, and Engagement.

To apply, submit to a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of excellence in teaching and research, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment and experience with diversity, equity, and inclusion, description of research, and three letters of recommendation. Additionally, candidates should include a separate statement that addresses how their cultural, experiential, and/or academic background contribute to the understanding of diversity at the College level. These materials should be submitted via the following link: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/27918>

Compensation range: $93,000 – $95,000 The salary of the finalist(s) selected for this role will be set based on a variety of factors, including but not limited to, internal equity, experience, education, specialty, and training. Pitzer College is committed to providing comprehensive benefits to eligible employees and their eligible dependents. Our benefits package includes competitive compensation, health, dental, and vision insurance, retirement savings plans, generous paid time off (vacation, holidays, sick time, parental leave, bereavement, etc.), tuition reimbursement, tuition exchange program participation and more. Questions may be directed to faculty\_jobs@pitzer.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14551

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Professor (Open Rank) in Constitutional Studies: Law, History, and Theory

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, Other

The School of Civic Leadership (SCL) at The University of Texas at Austin (UT Austin) invites applications for full-time tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the assistant, associate, or full professor level with expertise in the area of Constitutional Studies (Law, History, and Theory).

Considering the responsibility public institutions of higher education have to prepare students for leadership in a free society, the University of Texas System Board of Regents established the School of Civic Leadership at UT Austin in 2023. SCL is an interdisciplinary school whose dual mission is to equip students with the knowledge and aptitudes necessary to lead in a free society, and to produce academic research at the highest levels of scholarly excellence.

The school offers a minor in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) in collaboration with the College of Liberal Arts and will launch a new Civics Honors major and Civics minor in the 2025-26 academic year.

We seek outstanding candidates in the areas of Constitutional Studies (Law, History, and Theory) whose work speaks to the SCL's core themes: political, economic, and individual liberty and its philosophical underpinnings; constitutionalism and the rule of law; and the political economy of a free society. Ideal candidates will (1) have excellent records of scholarship with robust research agendas, (2) provide evidence of exceptional teaching, and (3) show a readiness to contribute to the intellectual life, governance, and programmatic development of the school.

The School of Civic Leadership invites applicants to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and list of three academic references. (References do not need to submit full letters at this stage.) Cover letters should give a brief overview of the candidate's research agenda, high-light areas of teaching competence, and concisely describe how the candidate would contribute to developing the school.

Review of applications will begin on September 15.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/149448>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14556

European University Institute

Rank: Chair in Political Science and Social Sciences

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Political Theory

Specializations: Western Europe, Normative Political Theory, Political Parties & Organizations

The European University Institute is looking for candidates with a distinguished record of scholarly publications and experience in postgraduate teaching and doctoral supervision, to fill a Chair in Political Science and Social Sciences. Candidates should have an interest in comparative research in political science, preferably with a focus on European societies and politics. The successful candidate will have a strong record of empirical research, an interest in theory and research methods and a commitment to excellence in postgraduate teaching. The chair will be open to candidates at different levels of seniority. Interested applicants should consult Open competitions for academic posts • European University Institute (eui.eu) for further particulars: <https://www.eui.eu/About/JobOpportunities/Open-competitions-for-academic-posts>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14544

University of Toronto

Rank: Assistant Professor - Black Political Thought

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Black Political Thought. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025.

This search aligns with the University's commitment to strategically and proactively promote diversity among our community members (Statement on Equity, Diversity & Excellence). Recognizing that Black, Indigenous, and other Racialized communities have experienced inequities that have developed historically and are ongoing, we strongly welcome and encourage candidates from those communities to apply.

Candidates must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related discipline by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a clearly demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. The successful candidate will specialize in Black Political Thought, understood broadly to include political thought from Africa, the Caribbean, Latin America, Canada, the United States, Europe, or other parts of the world. The position is open with respect to approach and methodology. Examples of possible research areas include but are not limited to the history of political thought; critical analysis of race, racism, and ethnicity; gendered and class hierarchies of power; colonialism, imperialism, slavery, and their afterlives; political solidarity and social movements; and the implications of Black political thought for comparative political theory.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and deepen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University of Toronto's downtown (St. George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by the submitted research statement, a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier (with required materials outlined below) submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below.

Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample of no more than 30 pages; and a teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment. Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted.

Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit recent letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date.

More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by October 7, 2024.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 7/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14542

University of Toronto

Rank: Assistant Professor - Liberal Democratic Theory

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in liberal democratic theory. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2025.

Candidates must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of the appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. The successful candidate will specialize in liberal and/or democratic theory. We would particularly welcome candidates who consider criticisms of, or threats to, liberal democracy and the theoretical arguments for addressing them. The position is open with respect to approaches and methods.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and deepen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University of Toronto's downtown (St. George) campus. Candidates are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by the submitted research statement, a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier (with required materials outlined below) submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample of no more than 30 pages; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted.

Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit recent letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ. Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by September 23, 2024.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 7/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14540

University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor - Black Political Thought

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Black Political Thought. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2025.

This search aligns with the University's commitment to strategically and proactively promote diversity among our community members (Statement on Equity, Diversity & Excellence). Recognizing that Black, Indigenous, and other Racialized communities have experienced inequities that have developed historically and are ongoing, we strongly welcome and encourage candidates from those communities to apply.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related discipline with a clearly demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. The successful candidate will specialize in Black Political Thought, understood broadly to include political thought from Africa, the Caribbean, Latin America, Canada, the United States, Europe, or other parts of the world. The position is open with respect to approach and methodology. Examples of possible research areas include but are not limited to the history of political thought; critical analysis of race, racism, and ethnicity; gendered and class hierarchies of power; colonialism, imperialism, slavery, and their afterlives; political solidarity and social movements; and the implications of Black political thought for comparative political theory.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and deepen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University of Toronto's downtown (St. George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us. The successful candidate will be expected to sustain and lead innovative and independent research at the highest international level and maintain an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program, and will have an established reputation.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by the submitted research statement, a record of sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades and other noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of the discipline, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier (with required materials outlined below) submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample of no more than 30 pages; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca. All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by October 7, 2024.

The University of Toronto has adopted the AAU Principles on Preventing Sexual Harassment in Academia, including the requirement that applicants release personnel information from prior employers regarding sexual misconduct. Full details and requirements can be found here.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 7/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14541

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach an upper-level, undergraduate course in-person on Modern Political Theory (one section only) for the Fall 2024 semester. The instructor will teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14535

CUNY-Baruch College

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track)

"At Baruch College, we believe that student success is everyone's responsibility."

Baruch College's Political Science Department invites applications for a tenure track position as assistant professor in the subfield of Political Theory. Preferred area of specialization is Non-Western Political Theory. The position will begin in the Fall semester 2025.

Baruch, a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY), is located in the historic Gramercy Park/Flatiron district of Manhattan. Baruch has an extremely diverse student body of more than 19,000, many of them first-generation college students. We seek faculty who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education. www.baruch.cuny.edu

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or closely related field at time of appointment and an active research agenda.

COMPENSATION

Salary range: $82,928-$99,532, commensurate with qualifications and experience.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

STEP ONE – Online Application and Required Materials
Copy and paste the link below into your browser:

<https://cuny.jobs/new-york-ny/assistant-professor-political-science/11B7995C938048029DA607341CF6821B/job/>

Please submit your application online by clicking on “Apply Now.”

For instructions for creating an account on the CUNYfirst job application system, please click here:

<https://www.cuny.edu/employment/search-jobs/cunyfirst-job-system-instructions/>

Required Materials: Candidates must provide a cover letter describing research and teaching interests and their interest in the position; a CV; writing samples, and (if applicable) any formal evaluations of teaching performance. Additionally, applicants are required to submit a narrative statement describing their commitment to and experience with working effectively with faculty, staff and students in a multicultural/multiethnic environment with a substantial population of students who are among the first-generation of their family to attend a college or university.

STEP TWO – Confidential Letters of Recommendation

All applicants are further required to have three confidential letters of recommendation submitted by their references via email to the Search Committee: WSAS.POLSearch@baruch.cuny.edu .

CLOSING DATE

For full consideration, all materials, including letters of recommendation, must be received by September 15, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 7/17/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14505

Sciences Po

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track) in Political Theory - Immigration & Democracy

In collaboration with the Department of Political Science at Sciences Po, The Centre for Political Research at Sciences Po (CEVIPOF) is seeking an Assistant Professor (tenure track) in Political Theory/Philosophy, with a speciality in ‘Immigration and Democracy’. We are particularly interested in someone who can address the theoretical issues raised by migration and its impact on contemporary democracies and, if possible, whose theoretical work reflects an engagement with empirical literature and research in the field.

RESEARCH: The candidate will be affiliated with the CEVIPOF, a multidisciplinary research center of Sciences Po, founded in 1960 and based in Paris, and a joint research unit of the French National Centre for Scientific Research (CNRS). The successful candidate is expected to actively participate to its ‘political theory’ subfield, while being able to work in synergy with its other teams or researchers of CEVIPOF.

TEACHING: There will be a reduced teaching and administrative load for the first three years (per year: two instead of three courses of 24 hours each; 40 instead of 56 hours of general service and other academic duties). The candidate will teach courses in political science and/or political humanities at BA, Master and PhD levels.

The application, in French or English, comprises the following: a cover letter (2 pages max.); a complete CV with list of publications; two significant publications in PDF; a research statement (3000 words max.); a synopsis of a potential course; (if available) teaching evaluations; a photocopy of the Doctoral Diploma (political science or philosophy).

The dossier should be sent by email to recrutement.cevipof@sciencespo.fr no later than August 23, 2024 (6:00 PM, Paris time).

Interviews of shortlisted candidates will be held in Paris, September 27, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 8/23/2024
Date Posted: 7/17/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14504

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science - Dr. Aaron Kaufman

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Political Theory, Other
Specializations: Science & Technology, Political Economy, Science & Technology

We are inviting applications for a Postdoctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi from individuals who have or will soon receive a PhD in one of the social sciences, computer science, or a related discipline. The appointment will begin September 1, 2025, subject to final budget approval.

The post-doctoral associate will spend half their time on independent research, and half their time on collaborative research with Professor Aaron Kaufman. The collaborative research will be at the intersection of computational social science, large language models, and political science.

We seek a candidate with expertise in managing big data sets and efficiently implementing machine learning and NLP workflows, and who has an interest in applying those tools to political institutions and political economy. This is an excellent position for a computational scientist looking to move to the social sciences.

The position does not require teaching, but it may be possible to get teaching experience for compensation. You would join a group of over 20 post-doctoral fellows and 70 faculty in the Division of Social Science.

For consideration, applicants must submit their application to <http://apply.interfolio.com/146823>. The application must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae with full publication list, statement of research interests, transcript of degree, and two letters of reference, all in PDF format

If you have any questions, please email Professor Kaufman at aaron-kaufman@nyu.edu.

About NYU Abu Dhabi:

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14474

University of Michigan

Rank: WCEE Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Political Theory

The Weiser Center for Europe and Eurasia (WCEE) at the University of Michigan invites scholars with a recent PhD in social sciences, humanities, public policy, and related fields with expertise in Ukraine and Ukrainian affairs to apply for a two-year WCEE Postdoctoral Fellowship, from August 2025 to July 2027.

WCEE Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in the center's events, present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, and teach one course per year at the University of Michigan while in full-time residency.

Eligibility:

Eligibility is restricted to applicants who have obtained their PhD no earlier than January 1, 2023. Current doctoral candidates are eligible to apply but must have defended and filed their dissertations by July 31, 2025.

Benefits:

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $60,000 and up to $10,000 in research funds during the postdoctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning August 1, 2024 through July 31, 2026). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Application materials:

Candidates should submit the following via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/146559>):

- A research proposal (2000 words maximum) that describes your intellectual objectives and concrete plan for the fellowship duration
- Curriculum Vitae
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter or peer-reviewed journal article (50 pages maximum)
- Teaching statement with potential course topics
- DEI statement
- Two letters of recommendation

To be assured full consideration, fellowship applications should be received by October 15, 2024, 11:59 PM EST. Successful applicants will be notified by December 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 6/1/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14390

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Political Theory

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in political theory and the ability to offer courses in classical, early modern, and modern political theory. The successful candidate will teach Western Culture in the College's Core Cultures program and may participate in the Rhetoric program. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs near completion may also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll-Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147324>. Review of applications will begin in early fall and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14369

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, Normative Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Political Theory at the rank of Associate (with tenure) or Full Professor, beginning as early as July 1, 2024. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in Normative Political Theory. We are open as well to those operating at the intersection of political theory and allied subfields/disciplines. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and a CV. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/138148>. Review of applications will begin February 15, 2024, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

<http://apply.interfolio.com/138148>

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 1/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13056

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Politics (American Politics)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in American politics, to begin in the fall of 2024. We are interested in a candidate with a range of interests, including but not limited to public opinion, ideology, political parties, elections, and the presidency. The successful candidate could also play an important advisory role for our Washington, D.C. internship programs. The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, and institutional perspectives. Situated on a large and beautiful campus, Catholic University is only three metro stops from the Capitol. Politics is one of the largest majors on campus, attracting many students who value the community of a Catholic university while pursuing careers related to politics and law in the nation's capital. The department's Ph.D program has a long and distinguished history, and the development of professionally minded M.A. programs is a university priority.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2023

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 12478

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Administration: Open-Rank, Non-Tenure Track Faculty Position Baker School Fall 2025

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Public Administration

The Howard H. Baker, Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK) invites applications for a non-tenure-track faculty position (open rank) in Public Policy and Public Affairs to begin in August 2025. This will be a three-year renewable appointment.

We are searching for an expert in public administration, with a focus on leadership, organizational theory, public performance, and program evaluation to deliver in-person and online courses for students and working professionals and engage in public service and outreach. The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs, a Master of Public Policy (MPP), and a Master of Public Administration

(MPA). We are seeking exceptional faculty who have a deep commitment to undergraduate and graduate education and a record of teaching effectiveness.

About the University of Tennessee, Knoxville

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. UTK is located in Knoxville, Tennessee, a thriving community located in close proximity to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

About the Baker School

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) aims to produce the next generation of skilled public problem solvers prepared to take leadership roles in their communities. Baker School students are grounded in the legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan, with curriculum and co-curricular activities focused on Baker's guiding principles including Confidence in America, Finding Common Ground and You Might Be Right. Under the umbrellas of two research centers, Baker School faculty and experts combine sound science and thoughtful policy to address challenges facing the state of Tennessee, the United States, and the world. In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which is responsible for encouraging civic knowledge and participation among UT undergraduates and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each member of our team is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work is constantly evolving to meet changing needs.

Who We Are Looking For

We are in search of a solution-finder, someone who enthusiastically embraces opportunities to address novel situations through teamwork and collaboration. We need a hardworking and flexible professional, who thrives in developing out-of-the-box approaches and addressing new challenges. We are looking for an achiever, someone who is searching for a chance to grow their skills and who is open to learning from others. We need a critical thinker who exercises good judgment and who can be relied upon and trusted to provide sound counsel to colleagues and leadership. We need teammates who are dedicated to public service.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a doctoral degree in public administration, political science, or a relevant field at time of application.

Candidates must be able to develop and deliver undergraduate and graduate courses in leadership, organizational theory, public performance, and program evaluation.

Candidates must submit evidence of a strong teaching record, including developing new courses, a statement of teaching philosophy and effectiveness, and teaching evaluations.

The title and compensation for this position will be commensurate with experience. The University has the following titles for NTT teaching faculty starting in Spring 2025: Teaching Assistant Professor, Teaching Associate Professor, and Teaching Professor.

Candidates for Teaching Assistant Professor must provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a commitment to service to the University and community.

Candidates for Teaching Associate Professor should have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least five years, and internal and external service to their professional community.

Candidates for Teaching Full Professor should also have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least ten years, internal and external service to their professional community.

The successful candidate will be part of a multidisciplinary environment to build the new Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs, the first such organization at a public institution in the State of Tennessee. We seek future colleagues who will help build the School, contribute fresh ideas, and bring a growth mindset.

The candidate will be expected to teach a 4/3 load, which may include a combination of undergraduate and graduate courses offered in-person and online. In addition to teaching responsibilities, the candidates will have service to the Baker School, which may include student advising and mentorship, student programming, and public engagement.

Candidates may be considered for appointment as affiliated faculty experts with the Baker School's research centers (Center for Energy, Transportation, and Environmental Policy, Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs, and the Institute of American Civics).

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following via Interfolio:<http://apply.interfolio.com/151704>

Please attach a cover letter describing their academic experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy. Additional materials are welcome, including but not limited to scholarly works and syllabi, and names of three references. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, contact Professor Tara Bryan, tbryan29@utk.edu.

Note: The search chair will be present at the NASPAA annual conference in Washington, DC, between October 23 and 26. Potential applicants who plan to attend the meeting are encouraged to contact tbryan29@utk.edu to schedule a meeting.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14716

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Poverty & Public Policy

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Social Welfare

The La Follette School of Public Affairs seeks a faculty member who studies poverty and public policy. The school is open with regards to the specific area and approach to poverty research. However, we are particularly interested in a scholar who focuses on U.S. domestic poverty policy.

The La Follette School is a highly ranked school of public affairs, and one of many highly ranked social science units at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The University is consistently ranked among the top universities in terms of success in federally funded research grants and is highly supportive of an interdisciplinary approach to scholarship.

The selected candidate will conduct productive research, be a committed teacher, and welcome being part of an interdisciplinary department dedicated to promoting good public policy. Teaching will involve core graduate and undergraduate courses in public affairs or international public affairs, as well as upper-level electives in poverty and social policy. We are especially interested in a scholar who will contribute core classes to the school's growing undergraduate program.

Successful applicants will teach graduate and undergraduate classes, mentor students, conduct scholarly research, and provide service to the department, college, university, and academic community nationally or internationally. The successful candidate, as a member of the College of L&S, will proactively contribute to, support, and advance the college's commitment to equity among all aspects of their teaching, mentoring, research, and service.

For full consideration, all materials must be received no later than 11:55pm on October 9, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled and are encouraged before October 21, 2024. Please note that applicants will be evaluated based upon submitted application materials and therefore should speak to and include evidence of their qualifications.

Applications must be received through UW-Madison's online application system. Applications submitted outside of this system will not be considered. Click the "Apply Now" button to start the application process. Applicants should submit the following 4 items:

1. a letter of interest (including research and teaching interests),
2. curriculum vitae,
3. a writing sample of roughly 35 pages,
4. three reference letters

<https://jobs.wisc.edu/jobs/assistant-or-associate-professor-of-poverty-public-policy-madison-wisconsin-united-states>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14684

University of Kentucky

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor of Public Policy - Environmental, Urban, or Social Policy

The Martin School of Public Policy and Administration at the University of Kentucky seeks applicants for a tenure track or tenured position beginning August 2025. We will consider candidates at the assistant, associate, and full professor levels. The ideal candidate will have a research and teaching interest in Environmental Policy, Urban Policy, or Social Policy. Applicants with a Ph.D. in Public Policy, Public Administration, Public Affairs, Political Science, Sociology, or Economics are encouraged to apply. We seek outstanding scholars who can contribute to our Ph.D. program, our professional master's degree programs, and undergraduate degree in public policy.

The Martin School is a University Center of Excellence with a multidisciplinary faculty offering five degrees: Ph.D. in Public Policy and

Administration, Master of Public Administration, Master of Public Policy, Master of Public Financial Management, and a Bachelor of Arts in Public Policy. Currently, the Martin School is a highly ranked program as it is currently ranked 26th among all public affairs programs, 4th in public finance and budgeting, 24th in local government management, and 35th in public policy analysis by U.S. News and World Report. For more information about the Martin School, please visit <http://www.martin.uky.edu/>

Applications must include the following: a letter of application (upload under cover letter), curriculum vitae, and sample research paper, and contact information for three professional references. This information may be utilized to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system. Interested applicants should submit a UK Online Application at <https://ukjobs.uky.edu/postings/542558>. Applications received by October 1 will receive full consideration. For questions regarding the position, please contact Dr. Harvey at hope.harvey@uky.edu.

The University of Kentucky is committed to a diverse and inclusive workforce by ensuring all our students, faculty, and staff work in an environment of openness and acceptance. We strive to foster a community where people of all backgrounds, identities, and perspectives can feel secure and welcome. We also value the well-being of each of our employees and are dedicated to creating a healthy place to work, learn and live. In the interest of maintaining a safe and healthy environment for our students, employees, patients and visitors the University of Kentucky is a Tobacco & Drug Free campus.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer, we strongly encourage veterans, individuals with disabilities, women, and all minorities to consider our employment opportunities.

Any candidate offered a position may be required to pass pre-employment screenings as mandated by University of Kentucky Human Resources. These screenings may include a national background check and/or drug screen.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14676

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy

Specializations: Health Care, Environmental Policy, Science & Technology

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Public Policy, to begin in August 2025. We are especially interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in one of these areas or at their nexus: health, environmental, and/or technology politics and policymaking. The Department includes and welcomes a wide range of methodologies.

Candidates should demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate to the rank. The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-level undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. They should serve as an effective teacher who can relate the real-world application of public policy ideas and theories to students. They will also provide research advising to students.

A completed Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of appointment. ABDs will be considered.

To apply, applicants should go to <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/29334> and submit the following materials:

Cover letter
 Curriculum vitae
 Transcripts
 A research statement
 One to two writing samples
 A teaching statement
 If available, evidence of teaching ability (such as syllabi and/or evaluations)
 Contact information for three references. Referees will be automatically notified to upload their letters as soon as possible.

Applicants must apply by September 30, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately after that and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Kayla Canelo at kayla.canelo@uta.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14675

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile

Rank: Tenure-Track positions in crime and public security, public administration, and Ethics of Public Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Political Theory

The School of Government of Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for three full-time academic positions in three areas: public administration, crime and public security, and ethics of public policy. We seek one candidate for each of these positions. For all positions, the selected candidates are expected to start in the first or second semester of 2025. The deadline to apply is October 15th, 2024. We welcome applications from candidates with a PhD in Political Science (or in the final process of its completion) with specialization in the required fields.

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile is an interdisciplinary academic unit comprised of the Schools of Economics and Administration, Social Sciences, Law, History, Geography, Political Science, and Engineering. The school was established with a commitment to addressing public issues and the governance challenges of increasingly complex societies, both in Chile and globally, through innovative and interdisciplinary approaches. Currently, the School has twenty faculty members who support the master's program in Public Policy and the undergraduate program in Public Administration, which offers both a bachelor's degree and the Professional Title of Public Administrator.

Academic requirements are regulated by the norms established in the "Regulation of the Academic" of Pontificia Universidad Católica de

Chile and the Complementary Norms of the School of Government. Generally, it is expected that an academic will teach undergraduate and graduate courses on general topics related to their area of interest and specialized courses (the regular teaching load is three courses per year) and be able to supervise graduate theses or final graduation activities. Additionally, they are expected to develop their own research line with funding from competitive grants and maintain a continuous pace of high-quality academic publications. Previous teaching experience, proactivity, leadership, skills for working in interdisciplinary teams, and previous collaborative work will be valued, considering the academic career stage of each applicant.

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, consistently ranked among the top three in the QS Ranking of Latin American universities, is deeply committed to fostering equal opportunities and building an inclusive, diverse, and fraternal academic community. This commitment to inclusivity extends to promoting the academic development of both women and men. In this context, we especially encourage applications from women.

Position 1: Crime and Public Security

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position for scholars specializing in the study of organized crime, crime, and/or public security. Applicants with a PhD conducting research and teaching on issues related to crime and public security from any social science discipline (including political science, economics, law, public policy, and related fields) are encouraged to apply. Knowledge and interest in developing public policies in this area and experience in empirical research will be valued. Applications from those close to completing their doctorate will also be accepted.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call, or a central chapter or article from the doctoral thesis (job market paper) for those finishing or recently completed their doctorate.
- A cover letter including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of the call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>
- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the coming years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of a School of Government and a criminology program (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, for those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying the completion of the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of the School of Government, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form:

<https://form.jotform.com/242047360786662>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Position 2: Public Administration

The School of Government at Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position for scholars specializing in public administration. Applicants with a PhD in public administration, political science, government, public policy, public law, or related areas, who conduct research and teaching on relevant issues in public sector politics and management are encouraged to apply. Applications from those close to completing their doctorate will also be accepted.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call, or a central chapter or article from the doctoral thesis (job market paper) for those finishing or recently completed their doctorate.
- A cover letter including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of the call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>
- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the coming years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of a School of Government and a criminology program (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, for those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying the completion of the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of the School of Government, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form: <https://form.jotform.com/242027259167660>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Position 3: Ethics of Public Policy (normative or applied)

The School of Government (EG) and The Institute of Applied Ethics (IEA) at the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time academic position as Assistant or Associate Professor, with a shared appointment in both academic units, for scholars specializing in ethics of public service or ethics of public policy.

Priority will be given to candidates whose research agenda focuses on topics related to corruption, public integrity, ethical management in public institutions, or ethics of public administration professionals. Applications are welcome from those who approach these phenomena either from a normative or empirical perspective. The primary affiliation to one of these units will be defined based on the profiles of the applicants.

Applicants must have completed a doctoral program (PhD) in applied ethics, government, public administration, public policy, political theory, political science, law, or related areas. Applications from those close to graduating from their doctorate will be accepted. Applicants must show proven ability to develop independent and interdisciplinary research. Previous teaching experience, proactivity, leadership, skills for working in interdisciplinary teams, and previous collaborative work will be valued. All these aspects will be considered according to the stage of the academic career of the applicants.

Availability: To join during the first or second semester of 2025.

Application Documents:

- Complete Curriculum Vitae, including a list of publications. The CV should be organized as follows: i) Personal Information ii) Education iii) Experience in the field of education iv) Professional Experience v) Publications (WOS and other publications) vi) Other relevant matters such as awards, recognitions, or participation in scientific societies.
- Attach the publication considered most relevant for the application, reflecting the work done in the area of the call. Candidates completing their doctorate may send one of their publications in progress or chapters of their thesis.
- A cover letter explaining the applicant's interest in the position, including a brief history of their research and teaching trajectory, highlighting their interests and contributions in the area of this call. Additionally, justify the interest in joining Universidad Católica and indicate what particular contributions are expected to be made to the UC community, considering their areas of development and mission (maximum 2 letter-sized pages). The vision and mission of UC can be consulted here: <https://www.uc.cl/universidad/>
- A brief teaching and research proposal to be developed over the next 5 years, justifying how it fits with the interests and objectives of the IEA and the EG (maximum 2 letter-sized pages).
- Copy of the Doctoral degree certificate, or, in the case of those in the final stages, a letter from the current program certifying that they have completed the requirements for obtaining the Doctoral degree or the date on which they will obtain it.
- Two confidential letters of recommendation explicitly referring to the academic trajectory and potential of the candidate. These must be addressed to the Incorporation Committee of both academic units, providing the contact details of those who will write the letters in the same application form.
- Copy of teaching evaluations, if applicable.

A foreign national without permanent residency in the country or applying from abroad, if selected for the position, will need to manage their visa in their country of origin to join the academic staff of the University.

If you have additional questions regarding the call, please direct them to contrataciones.egob@uc.cl and eticasaplicadas@uc.cl, indicating &quot;Academic Position in Public Ethics&quot; as the subject.

All documents must be sent before October 15th, 2024, through this form:

<https://form.jotform.com/242046175156656>

Documents can be sent in either Spanish or English.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14657

University of Hong Kong

Rank: Postdoctoral fellowship (all fields considered)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Hong Kong seeks candidates for the Presidential Research Assistant Professor (RAP) Scheme 2024/25. These are non-tenure track postdoctoral research-focused positions with no teaching requirement. Each award will be for three years and will receive funding of HK$48,000 (approx. US$6,155) per month and a 15% contract gratuity. In addition, each awardee will be entitled to an annual research grant and annual conference support.

Candidates should be within three years of their PhD graduation from top universities anywhere in the world at the time of nomination. Another call for nominations (second round) may be issued in the first/second quarter of 2025.

The Department will consider excellent researchers with any area of specialization in terms of field of study (Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory or Public Administration) and geographical specialization.

About the University and the Department:

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong is an English-medium, research-led, comprehensive university with 39,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. It upholds high standards of academic freedom and excellence in its research, teaching and service to the community. HKU is consistently ranked among the world's top universities: 17th in the 2025 QS World University Rankings, 2nd in the 2024 QS Asia University Rankings, and the most international university in the world in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. The University is situated in an economically vibrant and culturally unique part of China that has historically been the gateway between East and West. More information about HKU can be found at <https://hku.hk/>.

The Department of Politics and Public Administration has played a leading role in the University and its global disciplines since its establishment in 1970. In addition to a competitive PhD research degree program, the Department offers three taught postgraduate programs – Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master in International and Public Affairs (MIPA), and Doctor of Public Administration (DPA) – as well as thriving undergraduate programs. The Department's faculty members are research active, diverse, international and highly collegial. Many have received training and work experience in the most prestigious departments and universities in North America, Europe and across Asia. Their expertise spans the fields of Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Administration. For more information about the Department, visit <https://ppa.hku.hk/>.

Application Procedure:

The following documents should be included:

- a one-page research abstract;
- a two-page research plan including background of research, research plan, methodology;
- a two-page CV of each candidate; and
- a three-minute video recording including the candidate's self-introduction and the details of the proposed research.

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 4, 2024. Departments must nominate candidates to the Faculty by September 9 for Faculty's consideration.

Applications should be sent to the Department administrator, Ms. Yannes Tang, sktang@hku.hk.

Informal inquiries may be directed to the Head of Department, Professor Robert Thomson, rthomson@hku.hk.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/4/2024

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14607

University of Hong Kong

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor in Public Administration

Applications are invited for appointment as Professor or Associate Professor in the Department of Politics and Public Administration. New appointments at the University of Hong Kong are generally offered a tenure-track appointment. Exceptional candidates will be considered for appointment with tenure immediately. The appointee will contribute to the Department's thriving graduate and undergraduate teaching programs in Public Administration taking on leadership roles in these programs in due course.

Candidates for these senior positions should have compelling achievements in relation to research, teaching and institutional service commensurate with the level of appointment they seek. Research achievements are likely to include peer-reviewed articles in discipline-wide pinnacle journals and competitive research grants. Teaching achievements are likely to include the development of new courses and programs and practice in innovative pedagogical methods.

The Department will consider candidates with any geographical specialization and subfield of Public Administration and/or Comparative Politics. Relevant subfields include, but are not limited to, technology governance, environmental sustainability, public management, non-profit management, and diversity. The Department values both qualitative and quantitative research methods.

About the University and the Department:

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong is an English-medium, research-led, comprehensive university with 39,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. It upholds high standards of academic freedom and excellence in its research, teaching and service to the community. HKU is consistently ranked among the world's top universities: 17th in the 2025 QS World University Rankings, 2nd in the 2024 QS Asia University Rankings, and the most international university in the world in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. The University is situated in an economically vibrant and culturally unique part of China that has historically been the gateway between East and West. More information about HKU can be found at <https://hku.hk/>.

The Department of Politics and Public Administration has played a leading role in the University and its global disciplines since its establishment in 1970. In addition to a competitive PhD research degree program, the Department offers three taught postgraduate programs – Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master in International and Public Affairs (MIPA), and Doctor of Public Administration (DPA) – as well as thriving undergraduate programs. The Department's faculty members are research active, diverse, international and highly collegial. Many have received training and work experience in the most prestigious departments and universities in North America, Europe and across Asia. Their expertise spans the fields of Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Administration. For more information about the Department, visit <https://ppa.hku.hk/>.

What We Offer: A supportive working environment and a highly competitive salary, in addition to annual leave, medical benefits, pension contributions and housing benefits. Salary tax does not exceed 15% of the gross income. New faculty members are entitled to generous research support to continue their scholarly work and develop grant proposals for local and international sources of funding, and, in the case of pre-tenure colleagues, mentorship from senior members at the Department. The usual course teaching load is presently three courses per year (a 2:1 load across two semesters, each with 12 teaching weeks).

How to Apply: The University accepts online applications for the above post (<https://jobs.hku.hk/en/listing/> job reference 527158). Applicants should upload (1) an up-to-date CV identifying key publications, (2) a cover letter, (3) a research statement, (4) a teaching statement, (5) names and contact details of three referees who are willing to write in support of the candidate. Candidates may also provide additional supporting material including teaching evaluations. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2024, and continue until the post is filled. Informal inquiries may be directed to the Head of Department, Professor Robert Thomson, rthomson@hku.hk.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14606

Western Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program within the Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice is seeking two faculty members at the rank of Assistant Professor (tenure-track), beginning August 1, 2025. These are nine-month positions with summer teaching possibilities and are for our residential program with some likely online teaching responsibilities. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Responsibilities include teaching, research, and service.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Emergency Management, Criminology/Criminal Justice, Political Science, Public Administration, Public Health, Urban Planning, or other discipline closely related to the field of Emergency & Disaster Management. Highly qualified ABD candidates will be considered if completion of the degree is imminent. Candidates must have a clearly articulated research agenda in Emergency & Disaster Management, experience and/or graduate coursework related to Emergency & Disaster Management, and a commitment of academic excellence and collegiality.

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program has an established record of engaging students through undergraduate research and experiential learning and is consistently ranked as one of the best undergraduate programs in the nation. The ideal candidate will have an interest in contributing to these efforts and have a firm foundation to teach a range of emergency and disaster management courses.

Application Process:

Application materials must be submitted online to the Western Carolina University Human Resources Portal at <http://jobs.wcu.edu>. Candidates should submit an online candidate profile, cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, unofficial transcripts, evidence of teaching experience/philosophy, and contact information for three current references.

Review of applications will begin September 15th and continue until the position is filled.

Contact:

Inquiries may be directed to Committee Chair and EDM Director Dr. Lisa Briggs at lbriggs@wcu.edu or 828.227.2180.

About WCU:

Western Carolina University is the UNC system's westernmost campus and has been consistently ranked as one of the Top 15 public regional institutions in the South. WCU's main campus sits in the beautiful mountains of Western, North Carolina, near the Great Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains, fifty-two miles west of Asheville. WCU's location in the rural mountains amidst incredible biodiversity and unique communities creates an opportunity for academic discovery service and is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. The campus covers approximately 600 acres, with a student body population of over 11,500.

Please go to <https://www.wcu.edu> for more information.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14590

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant, associate, Full Professor, Korea Foundation Endowed Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Missouri, Columbia is seeking a Korea Foundation Endowed Professor. The position is an open rank tenured/tenure track position focused on Korean politics to begin in the Fall Semester of 2025. This is a 9-month teaching and research appointment. The typical teaching load will be two (2) courses per semester. Additional expectations include active engagement with the University of Missouri Institute for Korean Studies.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:

Competitive applicants will have a clear research agenda, strong theoretical orientation, excellent methodological skills, ability to publish in highly ranked journals and academic presses, and potential for effective teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Applicants from scholars whose research has an emphasis on Korea from all subfields of political science and related fields are encouraged to apply including comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and public administration. However, the ideal candidate will contribute to the TSGPA's teaching and research interests in comparative politics.

Application Materials

Please apply online at: <https://hr.missouri.edu/job-openings> (Job Opening ID 52446). Use the online application and be prepared to upload your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and writing samples. Please also provide evidence of effective teaching, as well as a teaching statement that describes your pedagogical goals/practices including information about your ability to teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students from a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should provide three letters of recommendations to the Truman School Director's Office (mutsgpadirector@missouri.edu). Candidates at the associate or full professor level should provide three names and contact information of references. Written references will be required prior to an on-campus interview. The cover letter should address the following: current and future research, teaching interests including how the applicant ensures the classroom is inclusive of multiple perspectives and of students from different backgrounds, as well as, how the applicant envisions engaging in research focused on Korea, and with universities there. This information can also be provided in separate teaching and research statements.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee Dr. Laron Williams (williamslaro@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science, and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu>.

Benefit Eligibility This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eo>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14512

Clemson University

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor or Professor in domestic, comparative, or international public policy; policymaking processes; or public administration, to begin in August 2025. We welcome applicants from all subfields in political science, especially those that have an interest in the development and promotion of our Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Ph.D. Policy Studies programs, as well as mentoring graduate students. This is a nine-month faculty position, and qualified candidates will be considered for tenure on arrival. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or in a related field.

The successful candidate also will be expected to pursue an active research agenda resulting in a strong record of peer-reviewed publications. We especially encourage applications from candidates with a history of external research funding or definite plans to apply for grants. The position's teaching responsibilities will include offering courses in public policy, public administration, or in related areas within the Department's Ph.D., MPA, and undergraduate programs. The expected teaching load is two courses per semester.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, along with its master's degree in public administration and Ph.D. in policy studies. The Department has 26 full-time faculty and 3 full-time staff. Clemson University is a land-grant institution located in western South Carolina in the Greenville metropolitan area. Its strategic plan—Clemson Elevate—articulates three dynamic goals: delivering the #1 student experience in the nation, doubling research productivity by 2035, and transforming lives statewide and beyond. These overlapping priorities are intended to continue Clemson's development as a leading public research university, sustain its Carnegie R1 status, and position itself for membership in the Association of American Universities (AAU).

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, candidates should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) contact information for three references who will provide confidential letters of recommendation, (4) a research statement, (5) a statement on teaching and student mentoring (including evidence of teaching effectiveness); and (6) sample syllabi for undergraduate and/or graduate courses. Apply at - Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/149108>).

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Adam Warber (awarber@clemsun.edu), Search Committee Chair, or to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemsun.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14468

South Dakota State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Assistant Professor of Political Science
School of American & Global Studies
South Dakota State University

The School of American & Global Studies (AGS) at South Dakota State University (SDSU) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The School of AGS seeks a dynamic scholar whose field areas include public administration or public policy. Located on our main campus in Brookings, South Dakota, this position is nine months, full time, benefits eligible, and tenure track, with the possibility of supplemental summer salary. The position is supervised by the Director of the School of American & Global Studies. We anticipate a start date of August 22, 2025.

The School of American & Global Studies is a vibrant, interdisciplinary unit, offering B.A./B.S. degrees in American Indian & Indigenous Studies, Global Studies, History, Modern Languages (French, German, Lakota, Spanish), and Political Science as well as standalone minors in Legal Studies, Philosophy, and Religion. Over 300 students major in AGS programs, with another 400 from programs across campus who pursue AGS minors. The school's current composition of 21 tenured and tenure-track faculty and 6 non-tenure track faculty value interdisciplinary and interprofessional collaboration across its research, teaching, and outreach efforts. In alignment with the university's land-grant mission, the schoolhouses four public-facing research and outreach centers: The Ethics Lab, The PHI | Public Humanities Institute, the South Dakota Polling Project, and the recently launched Mike Huether Public Service Academy.

South Dakota State University promotes access to and opportunities for all to receive the benefit of and participate in education, research, and service and is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to this land-grant mission of access.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

The successful candidate will teach three classes per semester in consultation with the director based on student needs and school/program strategic priorities. This faculty member will mentor students in the Political Science program and the Huether Public Service Academy and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School. The new member of the SDSU faculty will conduct scholarly research consistent with their field. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom instructors with an active research agenda.

SALARY RANGE:

The salary is commensurate with qualifications. We offer a generous retirement plan that includes 6% matching, 9.34 hours of sick leave each month, and eleven paid holidays. Relocation benefits are available per university's guidelines.

BENEFITS:

We offer a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusions and access. The university is part of a dynamic community for families, students, young professionals, and retirees, which offers an abundance of attractions and activities. South Dakota State University offers a wide range of excellent benefits including medical, dental, and flexible benefits, retirement plans, compensation packages, paid holidays, and leave. Employees also have access to internal and state-sponsored training as well as reduced tuition for state-supported courses at all State of South Dakota academic institutions.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- Hold a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Public Policy, Political Science or closely related field by start date.
- Ability to teach public policy (open specialization) and/or public administration courses as well as state and local government.
- Ability or potential to develop and teach undergraduate elective courses in the candidate's area of specialization.
- Ability or potential to develop and sustain an active research agenda.
- Ability to contribute to program and school initiatives through general service.
- Effective written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills.

THE UNIVERSITY:

South Dakota State University is the state's largest, most comprehensive university with more than 200 academic programs, an enrollment of approximately 12,000 students, and over $60 million annual research expenditures.

South Dakota State University offers a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusion and access through inspired, student-centered education, creative activities and research, innovation and engagement that improve the quality of life in South Dakota, the region, the nation, and the world. Its employees embrace the university's core values of being people-centered, expanding knowledge through creativity, embracing organizational and personal integrity, commitment to diversity of thought, and excellence through continuous improvement.

The College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences is the intellectual and cultural heart of SDSU. The college consists of seven interdisciplinary schools—American and Global Studies, Communication and Journalism, Design, English and Interdisciplinary Studies, the Ness School of Management and Economics, and Performing Arts—additionally, the college includes programs in military science (Army ROTC) and Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC). The college's unique administrative structure supports and encourages interdisciplinary collaboration among both faculty and students, allowing each unit and discipline to thrive. The college is committed to supporting the Land Grant Mission of SDSU. Our faculty regularly conduct research that directly benefits the people of South Dakota and our region with research that engages our communities, supporting their social, cultural, and economic development.

As the state's 1862 Morrill Act land grant institution, the work of the university is carried out on its main resident campus in Brookings, at sites in Sioux Falls, Pierre, Rapid City, and Aberdeen, and through SDSU Extension offices and Agricultural Experiment Station research sites across South Dakota.

Jackrabbits Athletics competes as an NCAA Division I member with membership in the Missouri Valley Football Conference, the Summit League, and the Big XII.

The university benefits from a robust investor and alumni network actively engaged in classrooms and student ventures. The recent SDSU Bold and Blue comprehensive campaign—the university's largest fundraising effort—raised over $600 million to support the university.

BROOKINGS, SOUTH DAKOTA:

Brookings is home to approximately 24,000 residents and is located 60 miles north of Sioux Falls and 200 miles west of Minneapolis. Brookings is listed as an ideal community for families, students, young professionals, and retirees, and is rated among the safest and most vibrant cities in South Dakota.

The Brookings Public School District educates approximately 3,300 K-12 students and ranks among the state's highest academic achieving school districts. The district includes three elementary schools, an intermediate school for fourth and fifth grade, one middle school, and a high school.

The city also boasts an abundance of attractions and activities, including the Children's Museum of South Dakota, the Dakota Nature Park, the South Dakota Art Museum, McCrory Gardens, the South Dakota Agricultural Heritage Museum, an outdoor adventure center, and the Brookings summer arts festival.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

Position is open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by September 20, 2024.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

SDSU accepts applications through an on-line employment site. To apply, visit: <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu>, search by the position title, view the job announcement, and click on "apply for this job." This system will guide you through the electronic application form. This employment site will also require the attachment of a cover letter, which should specifically address how the candidate meets the qualifications as outlined in the advertisement, teaching statement, CV, and a reference page with the contact information for three professional references. Email applications will not be accepted. Please contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128 if you require assistance with this process.

Any offer of employment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to, successful completion of a criminal background check.

South Dakota State University is a tobacco free environment. It is the policy of the University to maintain a drug-free environment and to thereby establish, promote, and maintain a safe and healthy working and learning environment for employees and students. This position is subject to South Dakota State University's Drug and Alcohol Testing Policy 4:14.

For questions on the position, contact search committee chair and Professor of Political Science David Wiltse at 605-688-6367 or David.Wiltse@sdstate.edu.

South Dakota State University promotes access to and opportunities for all to receive the benefit of and participate in education, research, and service and is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to this land-grant access mission. SDSU is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to, and SDSU prohibits discrimination on, the basis of, sex, race, color, creed, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran's status, or any other status that may become protected in the offering of all educational programs and employment. Arrangements for accommodations required by disabilities can be made by emailing HR@sdstate.edu. Individuals with concerns regarding discrimination should contact: Equal Opportunity Officer/Title IX Coordinator, Human Resources, Morrill Hall 100, SDSU, Brookings, SD 57007. Phone: (605) 688-4128.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 6/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14449

USC Sol Price School of Public Policy

Rank: Professor of Public Policy and Management; Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Position Description and Qualifications

The Sol Price School of Public Policy at the University of Southern California seeks a senior faculty member at the rank of professor (tenured) in the Public Policy and Management Department to serve as the Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise. The individual will have a stellar record of scholarship and leadership in governance and the public enterprise. Of particular interest will be a focus on civic engagement, democratic processes and institutions, collective action, public policy processes and analytics, and public/nonprofit management. We are interested in scholars from all relevant disciplines as well as an interest in a wide array of issue areas that are part of the School's portfolio. Applicants must present evidence of a creative, vibrant and intellectually rigorous research agenda and significant accomplishments in their field. The candidate will also serve as Director of the Bedrosian Center for Governance and the Public Enterprise and is expected to develop and execute public facing programs on Democracy and Governance, including highly visible related policy discussions.

About the Bedrosian Center

The Judith and John Bedrosian Center on Governance and the Public Enterprise was established with a generous gift from Judith and John Bedrosian in 2004. Effective governance is essential to the quality of life of all Americans. The center is dedicated to understanding and improving the nature of democratic governance, policymaking, and management of the public enterprise in the 21st century. The center provides a highly visible focal point for imaginative research, policy analysis, and dialogue across the university. Through public discussion, the center focuses on pressing issues facing society and integrates conversations with civic education, which is at the heart of strong communities.

For additional information about the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy, see our website: <https://priceschool.usc.edu>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/13/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14410

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration/Public Management/Public Policy

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the fields of public policy, public administration, and/or public management. Of particular interest are scholars whose research and teaching focuses on public management, public policy, digital technologies and sustainability and with relevance to Asia.

Job Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will have:

- A completed PhD by 2024 in public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or related disciplines;
- Publications in top journals in the field and a strong pipeline of ground-breaking research / working papers;
- Demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in public management and policy; and
- A willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application:

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via CHRS Link. <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/24841/>

The package should include:

- A cover letter.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A research statement that outlines your publications at the very top journals, your current research interests and pipeline of working papers.
- A teaching statement detailing course taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Names and contact information for three referees.
- Up to two writing samples.

The review of applications will begin in early October 2024 and continue until positions are filled. Members of the hiring committee may be present at PMRC 2024 and/or APPAM 2024. Interested candidates are welcome to arrange meetings by writing to lkysppjoinus@nus.edu.sg

Additional Information:

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and the 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14374

PUBLIC LAW

Ohio University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Instruction, Political Science, non-tenure track

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Gender Politics & Policy, Lesbian & Gay Studies

The Department of Political Science at Ohio University invites applications for a renewable Assistant Professor of Instruction (non-tenure-track) position in Law and Politics with a specialization in gender and/or LGBTQ+ issues to start in Fall 2025. This position is renewable annually depending upon available funding, performance, and continuing departmental need. The candidate will provide teaching and service support to the department and the Center for Law, Justice, and Culture (CLJC) and will teach courses that will include Introduction to U.S. Politics, Civil Liberties, and upper-level courses in their area of specialization.

We seek candidates who have a strong background in Public Law or Law and Society who share the department's commitment to inclusion and teaching excellence.

The standard course workload for instructional faculty in Political Science is 4-4. Instructional faculty at Ohio University may be eligible for promotion and multi-year contracts based on periodic performance evaluations and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Minimum Qualifications:

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field and will have demonstrated teaching experience.

Preferred Qualifications:

Experience with innovative teaching pedagogy, interdisciplinary curriculum, or leadership in interdepartmental programming is an asset.

Salary is commensurate with experience and credentials and is accompanied by our generous university benefits such as tuition for self and dependents, a comprehensive insurance package (including but not limited to health, prescription, vision, dental, and life insurance), an excellent retirement plan including company contributions, parental leave, adoption reimbursement, and more. OHIO is also proud to offer wellness programs, on-site wellness facilities, and a generous employee assistance program. Additional Information is available at <https://www.ohio.edu/hr/benefits/>.

To apply, please visit our website and complete the online application-<https://www.ohiouniversityjobs.com/postings/50823>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14778

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor - Law and Politics - Jurisprudence & Social Policy Program - School of Law

Assistant Professor - Law and Politics - Jurisprudence & Social Policy Program - School of Law

Position overview Position title: Assistant Professor of Law
Salary range: The current salary range for this position is $189,900-$310,300 (9-month academic year salary), however, off-scale salary and other components of pay, which would yield compensation that is higher than this range, are offered to meet competitive conditions

Anticipated start: July 1, 2025

Application Window

Open date: August 27, 2024

Next review date: Wednesday, Oct 30, 2024 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.

Final date: Wednesday, Oct 30, 2024 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

Applications will continue to be accepted until this date.

Position description

The Jurisprudence and Social Policy (JSP) PhD Program in the School of Law at the University of California, Berkeley invites entry-level and lateral applicants for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position focused on law and political science. We are particularly interested in entry-level applicants and in early-career lateral applicants who received the PhD (or equivalent international degree) within the past six years.

We seek a scholar whose primary research focus is the relation of law to politics in the United States, though we would also welcome applications from scholars who use comparative analysis to better understand American law and politics. The successful candidate should be a scholar who does theoretically informed qualitative or quantitative research, which could include but is not limited to archival methods, computational text analysis, ethnography, randomized experiments, causal inference with non-experimental data, mixed methods, survey methods, interviews, or other methods. Possible areas of specialization might include but certainly are not limited to: American government and legal institutions, including work on Congress, the Executive Branch, and the courts; judicial politics; American political development; the politics of regulation and litigation; federalism and state politics; constitutional law and politics; and administrative law and practice. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research relates to race and inequality.

The JSP Program attracts a diverse student body with a variety of experiences before graduate school. We are interested in candidates who have demonstrated excellence in research, teaching and service, and/or a commitment to mentor, teach, and build an equitable, diverse, and interdisciplinary learning environment for all students, including those with nontraditional backgrounds. Candidates with a commitment to mentoring non-traditional and underrepresented minority students are encouraged to apply and state their experience and/or commitment in their letter of interest and/or in their Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion.

The JSP Program is committed to methodological pluralism and encourages scholars who are willing and able to mentor students who are using a range of methods. Applicants should indicate in their letters of interest their qualifications for and proposed contributions to working with students from diverse disciplinary backgrounds. A J.D. degree is not required, though we especially welcome candidates who could contribute to teaching within the broader community at Berkeley Law, including the J.D. program. JSP faculty members also teach in Berkeley's interdisciplinary undergraduate Legal Studies major, which operates under the auspices of JSP.

The JSP Program is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We welcome applicants who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia. For information about family friendly resources, potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty>.

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community dedicated to the advancement, application, and transmission of knowledge and creative endeavors through academic excellence, where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in a safe and secure environment, free of violence, harassment, discrimination, exploitation, or intimidation. Consistent with this commitment, UC Berkeley requires all applicants for Senate faculty positions to complete, sign, and upload an Authorization of Information Release form into AP Recruit as part of their application. If an applicant does not include the signed authorization, the application will be considered incomplete, and as with any incomplete application, will not receive further consideration. Although all applicants for faculty recruitments must complete the entire application, applicants will only be subject to reference checks if and when they are selected as the candidate to whom the hiring unit would like to extend a formal offer. More information is available on the Berkeley Office for Faculty Equity and Welfare website: <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/attestation-prior-misconduct>.

School: <https://www.law.berkeley.edu/>

For further details about the JSP and Legal Studies Programs, see: <https://jsp-ls.berkeley.edu/>

Qualifications

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Hold a Ph.D. or equivalent international degree, or have advanced to candidacy status for a Ph.D., or equivalent international degree

Preferred qualifications

- Candidates whose primary research focus is on law and politics in the United States. Possible areas of specialization might include but certainly are not limited to: American government and its legal institutions, including work on Congress, the Executive Branch, and the courts; judicial politics; American political development; the politics of regulation and litigation; federalism and state politics; constitutional law and politics; and administrative law and practice. We particularly welcome scholars working on race, inequality and law in American politics.

- Candidates who do theoretically informed qualitative or quantitative research, which could include but is not limited to: archival methods, computational text analysis, ethnography, randomized experiments, causal inference with non-experimental data, mixed methods, survey methods, interviews, or other methods.

- Candidates who will teach at least one introductory graduate course on law and politics.

- Candidates who will work with students from diverse disciplinary backgrounds.

- Candidates with a history and/or commitment to mentoring non-traditional and underrepresented minority students.

- Candidates who will contribute to teaching within the undergraduate Legal Studies program and who could contribute to the JD program.

Application Requirements

Document requirements

Additional materials may be required of candidates during the recruitment process.

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.

- Statement of Research and Teaching Interest - Applicants should indicate in their letters of interest their qualifications for and proposed contributions to working with students from diverse disciplinary fields of study.

- Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion - Applicants should describe their contributions, commitment, and/or specific plans and goals for mentoring, teaching, and building an equitable, diverse interdisciplinary learning environment for all students, including underrepresented minority students and students with nontraditional backgrounds. More Information and guidelines: <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity><https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity>

- Authorization to Release Information Form - A reference check will be completed only if you are selected as the candidate to whom the hiring unit would like to extend a formal offer. Download, complete, sign, and upload the Authorization to Release Information form: https://ofew.berkeley.edu/sites/default/files/auth\_release\_info.pdfhttps://ofew.berkeley.edu/sites/default/files/auth\_release\_info.pdf

- Copies of representative and recent scholarship - Up to three examples of representative and recent scholarship. No more than one (1) sample per individual upload.

- Copies of representative and recent scholarship - Up to three examples of representative and recent scholarship. No more than one (1) sample per individual upload. (Optional)

- Copies of representative and recent scholarship - Up to three examples of representative and recent scholarship. No more than one (1) sample per individual upload. (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3 letters of reference required

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/5580303>

Help contact: <mailto:academicpositions@law.berkeley.edu>

About UC Berkeley

UC Berkeley is committed to diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging. The excellence of the institution requires an environment in which the diverse community of faculty, students, and staff are welcome and included. Successful candidates will demonstrate knowledge and skill related to ensuring equity and inclusion in the activities of their academic position (e.g., teaching, research, and service, as applicable).

The University of California, Berkeley is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status.

Please refer to the https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/apm/apm-035.pdf and the <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/1001004/Anti-Discrimination>.

In searches when letters of reference are required all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the <http://apo.berkeley.edu/ucb-confidentiality-policy> prior to submitting their letter.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, state, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.

Job location
Berkeley, CA

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5580303>

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14774

American University

Rank: Assistant Professor--Legal and Political Institutions

The Department of Justice, Law & Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position beginning in Academic Year 2025-26. The position will be at the rank of Assistant Professor. The ideal candidate would be someone who focuses on the development of legal and political institutions and is attuned to the contemporary challenges to the rule of law. Applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the department are especially welcome.

Applicants should hold a PhD in legal studies, history, political science, economics, sociology, or a closely related field. Candidates who possess a law degree only (J.D. or LL.M.) will not be considered for this position. Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. Most of all, the department seeks scholars who will further its goals of producing high impact research and providing innovative undergraduate and graduate teaching. Competitive candidates will possess a strong background in social science methodologies and a productive research portfolio, including publications in high-quality peer reviewed outlets. The Department is home to a range of disciplines, approaches, and methods. We are particularly interested in individuals whose research is interdisciplinary. In addition to scholarship and teaching, all faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses. Possible courses related to our legal studies offerings can be found listed with the prefix JLC in the university's course catalog. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service to the department, school, and university. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Review of applications will begin on a rolling basis starting September 3, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled, subject to on-going budgetary approvals. Interviews will begin in mid-November. The position begins August 1, 2025. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion date by August 2025.

Salary and benefits are competitive, with an expected salary range of $90,000 to $110,000. Please submit applications via Workday. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interest and intent, a statement of teaching philosophy and recent evaluations of teaching, and three letters of recommendation. Contact information for three letters of reference will be solicited by Workday after applications are submitted. Please contact Ms. Sarah Feighery, Staff Assistant, at JLC_FacultySearch@american.edu if you have any questions

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14756

University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Assistant Professor – Public Law

Position Description

The Government Department at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law at the rank of Assistant Professor. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of Public Law, including those working within or across the United States and other political jurisdictions, and analyzing questions from judicial behavior to institutionalism to constitutional development to political philosophy. Candidates who are intellectually curious and committed to rigorous and innovative approaches are particularly welcome.

Duties will include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, the College of Liberal Arts, and the University.

UT Government is one of the largest political science departments in the country with one of the strongest Public Law programs anywhere. Enjoying a close relationship with UT Law, nearly sixty faculty covering almost every other facet of the discipline, and a strong commitment to eclecticism in theoretical and methodological approaches, it is the perfect intellectual community for a Public Law scholar. Located in Austin, at Texas' flagship public university, we also have the privilege of serving a plural and gifted student population, in a vibrant and dynamic city.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor. Preferred qualifications include a strong record of research and a trajectory that shows or promises teaching excellence.

Application Instructions

Applicants must upload a cover letter, research statement, vitae, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials.

The department will begin reviewing applications on September 30, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

For help with the application process please reach out to Sarah Eliason (seliason@austin.utexas.edu). For substantive questions about the position please reach out to the chair of the search committee, Zach Elkins (zelkins@austin.utexas.edu).

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Position URL

apply.interfolio.com/153127

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14754

Suffolk University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Criminal Justice

Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

The Department of Political Science & Legal Studies in the College of Arts & Sciences at Suffolk University invites applications for a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor position in our Undergraduate Law program beginning July 1, 2025. We are seeking a teacher scholar with a research program focused on equity and inclusion in the law that may include a specialization in Constitutional Law, civil rights law, criminal procedure, environmental racism, immigration law or public health law or another field of law.

Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellent teaching and scholarly potential, including a research agenda and plans for publication in legal journals or peer-reviewed journals in law and public policy. The Undergraduate Law Program prepares students for law school and careers as non-lawyer legal professionals. The Department includes undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Relations and Undergraduate Law, a Paralegal Studies Certificate and Associates Degree Program (for Non-Lawyer Legal Professionals) as well as Master of Arts degrees in Applied Public Policy and Global Public Policy. Preference will be given to those who have experience teaching legal research and writing and working with paralegals and/or supervising legal staff. Candidates should be able to contribute to the core curriculum and first year seminar program. In addition to demonstrating excellence in teaching and research, the successful candidate is expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students, and engage in service with the department, college and university. The workload for this position is 45% teaching, 35% research, and 20% service with a 5-course teaching load per year.

Suffolk's Political Science & Legal Studies Department's faculty are teacher scholars with a strong commitment to student development by providing high quality instruction to a diverse student body. Faculty in the department are award-winning teachers recognized for innovative pedagogical practices, community leaders civically engaged in advancing social justice, internationally recognized policy and political consultants and active researchers and scholars. Initiatives such as Suffolk Votes, the non-partisan university-wide initiative to raise political awareness and impact by increasing student voter participation, reflect the department's key role in Suffolk's Community Engagement Carnegie Classification. Department faculty take advantage of our location in the heart of Boston to design exciting real-world learning opportunities at the Court House and the State House. Close connections with Suffolk Law School, which has top-ranked skills clinics, provide students in the Undergraduate Law program with rich pre-professional opportunities as does our thriving Center for Restorative Justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to a rich tradition of community-engaged teaching and experiential education that prepares our diverse, substantially first-generation college students—40% of whom are Pell eligible—for careers and civic engagement. The successful candidate will have a commitment to inclusive pedagogy and curricular diversity, mentoring and advising students—especially first-generation college students—as well as conducting impactful research. We seek candidates excited about centering best practices pedagogy focused on active, applied and experiential learning in their teaching; a commitment to ongoing and continuous improvement in teaching is expected. Familiarity with and experience using pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and ability groups to reach their maximum potential is a valuable qualification.

Not sure this is you? Contact us to find out! Research indicates that women and members of marginalized populations tend not to apply to jobs when they think they do not meet the qualifications, when, in fact, they often do.

Suffolk University is dedicated to a diverse and inclusive academic community. Diversity, equity and inclusion are woven into our fabric. Founded in 1906 to provide access to legal education during the evening for individuals who might not otherwise have been afforded that opportunity, Suffolk University consistently seeks to advance its history and mission as a school of access and opportunity. This mission is lived through our decisions at every level. U.S. News ranked Suffolk University among the top 100 universities in the country for social mobility. Suffolk was also listed 14th nationally in percentage of international students. Through student, faculty and staff recruitment and support, community engagement, curriculum development, and research, the University community works to advance equity for every student, every day. Learn more about how we manifest the core values of our mission at Suffolk DEI. ?

Candidates must hold a JD (combination JD and PhD in a relevant field also invited) by the commencement of the 2025-26 academic year. Experience teaching undergraduates is preferred. Application should be made through the Suffolk University Human Resources' Careers at Suffolk site.

Completed submissions should include: cover letter; CV; law school transcript; Teaching Philosophy; Diversity Statement; a statement of research interests and agenda; student course evaluations (if available); and 3 letters of reference. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 1, though applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Initial interviews will be via Zoom followed by on-campus interviews.

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located in downtown Boston and is an equal opportunity employer committed to faculty diversity. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Suffolk offers substantial employee benefits, including retirement benefits, tuition remission for employees and their families, tuition exchange program with participating institutions, as well as health, dental, and life insurance, commuter benefits, and a strong employee assistance program. Learn more about CAS faculty here. To learn more about the Political Science & Legal Studies Department visit our website. Inquiries about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Conley, Chair of the Political Science & Legal Studies Department at bconley@suffolk.edu.

The department will also hold information sessions at the 2024 APSA conference in Philadelphia. To meet with a department representative at APSA, please email Prof. Maye Hennings at maye.henning@suffolk.edu

Suffolk University does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, age, genetic information, or status as a veteran in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs, activities, or employment. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer, the University is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive faculty and staff that reflect the broad range of human experience who contribute to the robust exchange of ideas on campus, and who are committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment. We strongly encourage applications from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented because of race/color, gender, religious creed, disability, national origin, veteran status or LGBTQ status. Suffolk University is especially interested in candidates who, through their training, service and experience, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the University community.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/28/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14738

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2025 to June 1, 2026. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Office of Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35921>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – June 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024 for appointments beginning in September 2025. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
 Adam Thomas, Ph.D.
 Assistant Director
 James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
 Princeton University
 83 Prospect Avenue
 Princeton, NJ 08540
 E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 2/28/2024
Date Posted: 8/27/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14727

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, James Madison Program
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients, or recipients who anticipate receiving their Ph.D., to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the anticipated year from September 1, 2025 to September 1, 2026. Appointments will be through the Department of Politics. All James Madison Program researchers are expected to be in residence in Princeton, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Researchers appointed in the Madison Program are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are required to have a Ph.D. degree awarded within the last three years (no earlier than September 1, 2022), or candidates must have less than three years of post-Ph.D. research experience prior to the anticipated start date. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35922>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration, application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/27/2025

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14728

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University seeks to hire a tenure-track assistant professor with a focus on the criminal legal system. We define the criminal legal system broadly to include, among other things: (1) how and why criminal legal policies have come to be and evolved; (2) how macro- and micro-level policies and practices contribute to rates of—and disparities in—levels of contact with the criminal legal system; and (3) how contact with the criminal legal system affects individuals, families, and communities and how the nature of this contact—the texture of police stops or conditions of confinement, for example—shape the social, economic, and/or political consequences of exposure to the criminal legal system. These are, of course, only some of the ways in which criminal legal policy could be defined, and we are open to other related research areas.

Candidates should be able to teach courses in their substantive areas of interest that also align with the interests of undergraduate and graduate students engaged with public policy. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in a relevant social scientific discipline (for example, public policy, sociology, criminology, political science, economics, or demography) and a record of (or demonstrated capacity for) scholarly publication, public engagement, and excellence in teaching.

Duke University and The Sanford School of Public Policy are strongly committed to advancing inclusive excellence throughout our research, teaching, and service activities. A diverse faculty – defined broadly as representing a wide range of identities, lived experiences, and perspectives – is a prerequisite for excellence and is essential to driving innovation within our scholarly community. To achieve these goals, it is essential that all members of the community feel valued and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community are expected to uphold these values, and we seek to hire faculty who are passionate about increasing the participation and success of individuals from all different backgrounds and communities.

The Sanford School includes an interdisciplinary full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, five Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. The Sanford School houses several research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that describes their research and teaching interests and experiences, and that includes a brief statement addressing how they foster an equitable and inclusive learning and research environment; a CV; one to two writing samples; and names and contact information for three references. These materials should be submitted via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28105>

Applications submitted by September 15, 2024, will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, contact William Darity, Search Committee Chair, at william.darity@duke.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14674

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Law & Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington's Seattle campus invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position focusing on law and politics. The position is open to subfields of Political Science and other disciplines. The department is especially interested in building on its expertise in research and teaching that engages law through the lens of power and politics, including the areas of rights, justice, courts and legal mobilization.

This position contributes to the Department's commitment to cross field and interdisciplinary studies of the law. You would be joining a broader University of Washington community of engaged scholars and students curious about the many ways law matters in politics and society at the local, national, transnational or international level. This position is directly tied to the department's deep commitment to teaching, mentorship, and community engagement as well as research excellence.

Washington State Law requires that this ad list a binding salary range. The base salary range for this position will be $10,000 - $14,000 per month on a 9-month basis ($90,000 - $126,000 annually), commensurate with experience and qualifications, or as mandated by a U.S. Department of Labor prevailing wage determination. The position will begin on September 16, 2025 and is full time with a 9-month service period (September 16 – June 15).

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research critically engaging law and politics. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a closely related field by the start of the appointment.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All application materials must be submitted online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/152232>

Applications should include a 1-2 page cover letter, current CV, writing sample, 1-2 page research statement, 1-2 page teaching statement, 1 page diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant's substantive research interests and accomplishments. The teaching statement should describe the applicant's teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant's record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications received by September 23, 2024 are guaranteed full consideration. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY STATEMENT

University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

BENEFITS INFORMATION

A summary of benefits associated with this title/rank can be found at <https://hr.uw.edu/benefits/benefits-orientation/benefit-summary-pdfs/>. Appointees solely employed and paid directly by a non-UW entity are not UW employees and are not eligible for UW or Washington State employee benefits.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY

The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (<http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/>). Additionally, the University's Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member's academic profile and responsibilities (<https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432>).

PRIVATE NOTICE

Review the University of Washington Privacy Notice for Demographic Data of Job Applicants and University Personnel to learn how your demographic data are protected, when the data may be used, and your rights.

DISABILITY SERVICES

To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact the Disability Services Office at 206-543-6450 or dso@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/23/2024

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14666

University of Tennessee, Chattanooga

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Tenure Track

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

The Department of Political Science and Public Service at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Public Law beginning in August 2025.

The Assistant Professor will:

- teach a 3-3 load including introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in public law and judicial politics;
- offer a robust pre-law advising program;
- have opportunities to teach in other areas of expertise in the political science curriculum;
- pursue a coherent scholarly agenda;
- contribute to the pursuit of the goals of UTC's strategic plan; and
- enjoy the support of a collegial department that values viewpoint diversity, instructional excellence, and work-life balance.

Applicants are required to have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field by August 2025 and must submit the following materials via the UTC faculty job site:

- letter of interest, including specific areas of teaching interest;
- CV, including current email and phone number;
- unofficial transcripts;
- evidence of teaching effectiveness, including a statement of teaching philosophy, summary of teaching experience, course evaluations, and sample syllabi;
- statement of research agenda; and
- names, titles, and email addresses for three references.

Review of applications will begin September 20, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Michelle D. Deardorff (Michelle-Deardorff@utc.edu). Applications should be made here: https://ut.taleo.net/careersection/utc\_faculty/jobdetail.ftl?job=24000001Q6

About the Department of Political Science and Public Service, the University, and Chattanooga

The Department of Political Science and Public Service includes 12 tenured and tenure-track faculty members, about 200 majors and minors, the Master of Public Administration program, and the undergraduate Political Science major, which includes six concentrations: American Politics, International and Comparative Studies, Public Law, Public Policy, Public Administration and Nonprofit Management, and a flexible "Politics" option. Our faculty engage in a wide range of scholarship reflecting our diverse subdisciplines. We engage our students in a rigorous curriculum with many opportunities for active learning, both in and outside the classroom. Learn more about the department at www.utc.edu/ppps.

The department is part of the College of Arts and Sciences, one of University of Tennessee at Chattanooga's five colleges, which offer 116 undergraduate and 48 graduate degree programs for over 11,000 students. Learn more at www.utc.edu/about.

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga proudly calls Chattanooga home—a city lauded by U.S. News and World Report, Money Magazine, and Southern Living for its unique blend of historic charm and modern vibrancy and twice by Outdoor Magazine as “Best Town Ever.” Nestled between scenic Lookout Mountain and the Tennessee River, Chattanooga offers breathtaking natural beauty, lively city amenities, and a small-town feel. Our city has it all, with historic cultural institutions like the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra and the Bessie Smith Cultural Center, iconic attractions like Rock City and Ruby Falls, opportunities for epic outdoor adventures, and an eclectic contemporary art, music, and food scene. Chattanooga's robust economy fosters an environment where tech start-ups thrive alongside established industries and corporations. UTC embodies Chattanooga's dynamic spirit, serving as one of the city's most vital institutions where forward-looking transformation and community thrive. UTC is where Chattanooga goes to build the future.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14646

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Professor (Open Rank) in Constitutional Studies: Law, History, and Theory

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, Other

The School of Civic Leadership (SCL) at The University of Texas at Austin (UT Austin) invites applications for full-time tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the assistant, associate, or full professor level with expertise in the area of Constitutional Studies (Law, History, and Theory).

Considering the responsibility public institutions of higher education have to prepare students for leadership in a free society, the University of Texas System Board of Regents established the School of Civic Leadership at UT Austin in 2023. SCL is an interdisciplinary school whose dual mission is to equip students with the knowledge and aptitudes necessary to lead in a free society, and to produce academic research at the highest levels of scholarly excellence.

The school offers a minor in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) in collaboration with the College of Liberal Arts and will launch a new Civics Honors major and Civics minor in the 2025-26 academic year.

We seek outstanding candidates in the areas of Constitutional Studies (Law, History, and Theory) whose work speaks to the SCL's core themes: political, economic, and individual liberty and its philosophical underpinnings; constitutionalism and the rule of law; and the political economy of a free society. Ideal candidates will (1) have excellent records of scholarship with robust research agendas, (2) provide evidence of exceptional teaching, and (3) show a readiness to contribute to the intellectual life, governance, and programmatic development of the school.

The School of Civic Leadership invites applicants to submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and list of three academic references. (References do not need to submit full letters at this stage.) Cover letters should give a brief overview of the candidate's research agenda, highlight areas of teaching competence, and concisely describe how the candidate would contribute to developing the school.

Review of applications will begin on September 15.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/149448>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14556

Santa Clara University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics, with an emphasis on Law and Courts)

Position Type: Regular

Salary Range:

The salary range for this position is $85,947 to $95,410, depending on the successful candidate's years of teaching experience at the college-level. The position comes with generous benefits (scu.edu/hr/benefits), including medical, dental, vision, and life insurance, and university contributions toward retirement. Recognizing the high cost of housing in the local area, there are two University housing assistance programs: Rental assistance to ease the transition into the local housing market, and housing purchase assistance for tenure-stream faculty. For details, go to <https://www.scu.edu/provost/policies-and-procedures/support-for-faculty/housing-assistance/> ?

PURPOSE:

The Department of Political Science at Santa Clara University, a Jesuit, Catholic university, seeks applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American Politics, with an emphasis on Law and Courts.

We seek a teacher-scholar with demonstrated commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching and scholarly achievement. Candidates from all subfields and methodological approaches whose research and teaching contribute to the empirical study of law and courts are encouraged to apply. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and teaching focus on judicial behavior, constitutional law, race and the law, law and policy, or immigration law.

SCU is on the quarter system and a typical load for tenure-stream faculty is two courses per quarter, assuming engagement in an active scholarship program. The successful candidate will teach (a) Introduction to U.S. Politics, (b) upper-division courses in constitutional law and judicial politics and their area of specialty, and (c) qualitative or quantitative research methods. The ability to develop and teach courses on Race and the Law, Law and Policy, or Immigration Law will be considered a plus.

Santa Clara University's College of Arts & Sciences is currently conducting its third cluster-hire in the area of Inequality & Social Justice. If applicable, this position will be included in the Fall 2025 cohort. Cluster hire participants will receive mentorship and have the opportunity to participate in regular group meetings providing peer support and interdisciplinary intellectual community to support their scholarly and creative work.

Our department is committed to creating a diverse, welcoming, inclusive, and supportive workplace. We encourage applications from members of historically excluded groups, including people of color, women, LGBTQ+, and people with disabilities. Over the last decade, Santa Clara University has recruited an increasingly diverse faculty, enrolled more diverse and low-income students, and committed to becoming a Hispanic Serving Institution. Please see <https://www.scu.edu/cas/political-science/> for more information about our programs, faculty, staff, and students.

The position will begin on September 1, 2025.

BASIC QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment.
- 2) A clear research trajectory.
- 3) Evidence of excellence in teaching.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) A record of publication.
- 2) Specialization in race and the law, law and policy, or immigration law.
- 3) Teaching and research interests that will contribute to the Department's pre-law and public-sector studies emphases (See SCU Undergraduate Bulletin).
- 4) Experience with inclusive pedagogical practices that advance SCU's goals of diversity and equity.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

Tenure track faculty at SCU are teaching scholars who are expected to balance teaching, research and service. This is an in-person position. More specifically, duties include but are not limited to:

Teaching

- 1) Teach lower- and upper-division courses in the major and in the university Core Curriculum, as assigned by the chair, including an introductory course in US politics; upper-division courses in their area of specialty; and qualitative or quantitative methods.
- 2) Teaching responsibilities include, but are not limited to, the following:
  - a) Conducting and appearing at all assigned class meetings in a timely and prepared manner that demonstrates a command of the discipline and skill in presenting it effectively.
  - b) Assigning and evaluating written work, projects, and exams that align with course or core learning objectives and providing timely feedback to students.
  - c) Holding weekly office hours at times reasonably convenient to students.
  - d) Assigning and submitting student grades that are appropriate, accurate, and fair measures of student performance to the Office of the Registrar by the designated deadline.
  - e) Administering numerical and narrative evaluations in each section for all courses.
- 3) Develop and teach courses that contribute to ongoing curriculum development in the relevant degree program and/or the university core. Faculty teaching university core courses should follow an approved syllabus or work with the chair to design an appropriate syllabus for submission for approval from the relevant Faculty Core Curriculum Committee.
- 4) Participate in assessment of student learning for courses in the department.

- 5) Provide informed advice and mentoring to undergraduate students.
- 6) Fulfill other instructional or academic duties as may be assigned by the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences or by the chair of the Political Science Department.

Research

- 1) Develop and sustain a research program at SCU that will result in peer-reviewed publications, monographs, and/or creative work per the department scholarship standards.
- 2) Preference will be given to candidates with a research program that can accommodate participation of undergraduates.

Service

Provide effective service to the Department, the College, the University and profession through contributions other than teaching and scholarship such as service on committees, participation in professional organizations and activities, and community service performed by virtue of professional expertise or association with the university, as appropriate to rank and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

For full consideration, applications should be received by September 2, 2024. Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

Using the "Apply" button on the SCU job posting (<https://wd1.myworkdaysite.com/en-US/recruiting/scu/scu/details/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science--American-Politics--with-an-emphasis-on-Law-and-Courts--R4691>), please submit the following materials through the hiring portal:

- 1) A cover letter addressing teaching and research interests, your teaching philosophy, and your experience or interest in working with people of diverse cultures and identities
- 2) CV
- 3) Sample syllabi and teaching evaluations
- 4) A writing sample of no more than 40 pages
- 5) Unofficial graduate transcripts
- 6) Three confidential letters of recommendation must be emailed directly to the department manager, Ms. Pam Doherty, at pdoherty@scu.edu, by either the recommenders or a dossier service.

HIRING RANGE:

Competitive salary and benefits; housing assistance available.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Inquiries about this position can be emailed to the department chair, Dr. Elsa Chen, at echen@scu.edu.

Work Authorization:

A foreign national who is appointed to a tenured or tenure-track faculty position is eligible for visa sponsorship assessment by Santa Clara University together with its legal counsel.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972

Santa Clara University does not discriminate in its employment practices or in its educational programs or activities on the basis of sex/gender, and prohibits retaliation against any person opposing discrimination or participating in any discrimination investigation or complaint process internally or externally. The Title IX Coordinator and

Section 504 and ADA Coordinator is Jenna Elliott, Interim Director of Equal Opportunity and Title IX, 408-551-3043, jrelliot@scu.edu, www.scu.edu/title-ix. Inquiries can also be made to the Assistant Secretary of Education within the Office for Civil Rights (OCR).

Clery Notice of Availability

Santa Clara University annually collects information about campus crimes and other reportable incidents in accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. To view the Santa Clara University report, please go to the Campus Safety Services website. To request a paper copy please call Campus Safety at (408) 554-4441. The report includes the type of crime, venue, and number of occurrences.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Santa Clara University affirms its commitment to employ qualified individuals with disabilities within the workplace and to comply with the Americans with Disability Act. All applicants desiring an accommodation should contact the Department of Human Resources, and 408-554-5750 and request to speak to Indu Ahluwalia by phone at 408-554-5750 or by email at iahluwalia@scu.edu.

Santa Clara University annually collects information about campus crimes and other reportable incidents in accordance with the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act. To view the Santa Clara University report, please go to the Campus Safety Services website. To request a paper copy please call Campus Safety at (408) 554-4441. The report includes the type of crime, venue, and number of occurrences.

COVID-19 Statement

The health and safety of the University community is a top priority. The University strongly recommends that all employees are fully vaccinated for COVID-19 as the vaccination and boosters are safe, effective tools that significantly minimize the chances of serious illness and hospitalization. Please contact Human Resources if you have any questions.

Telecommute

Santa Clara University is registered to do business in the following states: California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, and Illinois. Employees approved to telecommute are required to perform their work within one of these states.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/2/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14546

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia seeks an Associate or Assistant Professor in judicial politics starting August 2025. We encourage nominations and applications from Associate Professors, Assistant Professors, and graduate students who will have completed their degree by the start date.

Duties focus on the publishing of original research in professional outlets and teaching and mentoring at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the Department's offerings in law and courts including topical areas such as US courts, judicial process, constitutional law, and criminal justice.

Minimum Qualifications:

-Ph.D. in political science by August 2025.

-Strong research-related skills with substantive scholarly interests related to law and US courts.

-Interest in teaching and mentoring undergraduate and graduate students.

Preferred Qualifications:

-Demonstrated record or potential for excellence in teaching and scholarship.

-Candidates who will contribute to the university's efforts to enhance and maintain an inclusive environment for learning, teaching, research and service.

-Potential to create synergies with existing departmental faculty in political methodology, all fields of American politics, and/or political theory.

Instructions to Applicants:

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter that addresses the minimum and preferred qualifications for this position, a curriculum vita, a recent publication or research-related writing sample, a teaching portfolio including evaluations, transcripts, and a list of three letter writers, who will separately provide letters of recommendation (in electronic form), to the UGA job search web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/388077>

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin October 1st and will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science has an exceptionally strong reputation in American politics, including six faculty who teach and conduct research in areas related to law and courts. For more information about the Department and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR at hrweb@uga.edu. Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14518

University of Massachusetts, Boston

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Massachusetts Boston invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics to be filled at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning September 1, 2025. We are interested in candidates whose area of specialization is judicial politics, civil liberties, and/or constitutional law. A typical teaching load is two courses per semester, and candidates are expected to be productive scholars with active research agendas and pedagogical commitments. This position will come with pre-law advising responsibilities.

Requirements:

All candidates should hold a PhD in a relevant field or should have a reasonable expectation of earning the PhD by no later than August 31, 2025.

Application instructions:

Review of applications will begin October 14, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) relevant transcripts, (4) a statement of research and teaching interests, (5) a writing sample, and (6) three letters of recommendation. Please submit application materials online.

UMass Boston is an urban public research university with a teaching soul, whose impact is both local and global. We are the third most diverse university in the country - more than 60% of our undergraduate students come from minoritized communities and groups and more than half of our students are the first in their families to attend a college or university. Thus, our students come to us from richly diverse life experiences and backgrounds; they bring to our classrooms and research settings the robust range of perspectives growing out of the socio-cultural, economic, and historical contexts in which they have lived, along with the challenges they encounter, engage, and strive to overcome. We invite applications from candidates who engage the diverse life experiences of our student body, who appreciate that students bring their holistic selves into the academic setting, and who recognize and articulate how their own life experiences and backgrounds have shaped their journeys, practices, and commitments as researchers, scholars, and educators.

UMass Boston is committed to the full inclusion of all qualified individuals. As part of this commitment, we will ensure that persons with disabilities are provided reasonable accommodations for the hiring process. If reasonable accommodation is needed, please contact HRDirect@umb.edu or 617-287-5150.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14494

Transylvania University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics and Public Law)

Transylvania University (www.transy.edu), a top-tier, independent, residential liberal arts college in Lexington, Kentucky, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science with expertise in American Politics and Public Law. This is a tenure-track position, teaching in-person classes, beginning August 29, 2025.

Transylvania University recognizes that a diverse and inclusive community is essential to the fulfillment of our mission as a liberal arts institution. To that end, we seek to attract a diverse faculty skilled in the scholarship of teaching, research, and mentorship of students from a variety of backgrounds. Candidates are encouraged, in their cover letter, to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community.

Job Description:

The successful candidate will specialize in the field of American Politics with expertise in Public Law and will instruct core courses in the major, including Introduction to U.S. Politics and our research methods course, Political Analysis, and specialized courses emphasizing the role and practice of law, legal theory, and/or judicial politics. Candidates with the ability to teach courses that contribute to our university's interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies and/or Women, Gender, and Sexuality (WGS) studies will receive special consideration. Occasional contributions to First-Year programming and service as an academic adviser are also expected. The teaching load consists of three courses per semester, plus one short-term course in May (3-3-1) that offers additional opportunities for travel courses, team-taught courses and other more experimental classroom endeavors. Other responsibilities include academic scholarship/professional activity, preferably involving undergraduate students, and service to the university through various committee appointments. The university also has an excellent faculty development program that competitively funds faculty (and student) scholarly research.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is required by the start date. Preference will be given to candidates with undergraduate teaching experience. The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to continuing their own professional work along with a commitment to teaching, interdisciplinary dialogue, and working collaboratively with other faculty and with students both within the Political Science Program and across disciplines within a liberal arts environment. The ideal applicant is committed to attracting, teaching, and mentoring students from historically excluded and underrepresented groups.

To begin the application process, please submit one PDF that contains all of the following: your curriculum vitae, your unofficial graduate transcripts, and a statement of teaching philosophy. Candidates are encouraged in their cover letter to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community. This PDF, along with your cover letter, which will be uploaded separately, may be submitted by following the job openings link at <http://www.transy.edu/jobs>. If you are selected to move forward in the application process, you will be asked to provide official graduate transcripts and letters of recommendation at a later date. Please send questions specific to this search to Professor Steve Hess, at shess@transy.edu. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and will continue until an appointment is made.

Transylvania University is ranked in the top 15 percent of the nation's four-year colleges by the Princeton Review, which cites its community-driven, personalized approach to a liberal arts education through 49 majors and 39 minors. Founded in 1780, it is the 16th oldest institution of higher learning in the country, with approximately 1,000 students.

Transylvania University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to enhancing the diversity of the university community.

In support of this goal, we seek qualified candidates with a wide range of backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences. We embrace diversity and encourage all who are interested to apply.

Application closes: Sep 15, 2024

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14479

University of Tulsa

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tulsa invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor of American Politics, to begin Fall 2025. The search is open with respect to substantive focus. The department is methodologically pluralist, though we anticipate hiring a candidate who conducts research with and is willing to teach quantitative research methods.

The University of Tulsa is a small, private university seeking to enhance its research profile, particularly in areas related to indigeneity, race and ethnicity, and law. It is also a university with small class sizes in the model of a liberal arts institution. The successful candidate for this position will demonstrate excellence in both research and teaching.

Home to approximately 4,000 undergraduate and graduate students, the University of Tulsa is located in midtown Tulsa, approximately two miles from downtown. Both areas are undergoing an exciting period of growth and are home to vibrant art and music scenes. Tulsa is mid-sized (population ~400,000), family-friendly, and an affordable place to live, with easy access to urban, suburban, and rural areas. The city of Tulsa is nestled in an area where the Muscogee Creek, Cherokee, and Osage tribal territories share a common boundary. Tulsa is also home to The Gathering Place, an expansive riverside park, that Time magazine calls "One of the World's Greatest Places" (<https://www.gatheringplace.org/>). Oklahoma is geographically diverse, including plains, grasslands, rocky mesas, and mountains, and is culturally unique as it is home to 39 federally recognized Native American tribes.

Interested candidates should submit the following materials: 1) cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) research statement; 4) teaching philosophy; and 5) writing sample, preferably a sole-authored paper. Candidates may be asked to submit additional materials as the review process unfolds. Application materials must be submitted through the University's call for applications at <https://universitytulsa.peopleadmin.com/postings/8960>.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2024. Questions about the position can be directed to Department Chair Matt Hindman (matt-hindman@utulsa.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14476

St. Olaf College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position in American Politics, with a primary focus on institutions and/or law, at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2025. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in race, gender, sexuality, and/or economic inequality, who have a broad background in the discipline, and whose research and teaching interests speak to contemporary public concerns.

The teaching responsibilities, five courses per year, would include Introduction to American Politics as well as upper-level courses depending on the scholar's areas of research and teaching interest, such as courses on Congress, the presidency, the courts, state politics, or constitutional law. We expect that the person who fills this position will contribute to our department as a creative teacher, an engaged scholar, and a collaborative colleague.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by the start of the fall semester is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

About the Department

We are a collegial department, with two faculty members teaching regularly in each of the four subfields. We are committed to supporting our colleagues in their pursuit of creative and thoughtful pedagogy and rigorous scholarship. For more information about the department, visit wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/.

How to Apply

Submit application at: <https://tinyurl.com/4zxwjpdt>

A complete application includes the following:

References: Provide contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship. Cover letter outlining your qualifications and why you are interested in this particular position

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement (500 word limit): Describe how you would contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning community at our college through your teaching, research, and/or service. Include examples of your contributions when possible.

Graduate transcripts (unofficial)

Evidence of Teaching Excellence, including a statement of teaching philosophy, focused on pedagogy in and out of the classroom at a liberal arts college

Research Statement focused on your current scholarship and plans for future scholarship

Writing sample

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration. Finalist interviews are expected in November. Questions about the position, department, or College may be directed to Menevis Cilizoglu, Search Committee Chair, at tt2025ps@stolaf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024
Date Posted: 6/26/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14446

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry. The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system professor at the rank of Assistant Professor in the field of public law, broadly construed.

Candidates from all subfields and methodological approaches whose research and teaching contribute to the scientific study of law are strongly encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests would complement existing thematic areas and subfields within the department: Minority Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy, and/or American Politics. Substantive areas of interest include, but are not limited to, civil rights, civil liberties, comparative judicial institutions, comparative law, human rights, international law, judicial behavior, judicial elections, or the philosophy of law.

Candidates with a history of receiving external research funding, or those with mature plans to apply for funding, will be highly favored. The candidate would be expected to teach courses and mentor students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Required Degree

Doctorate by date of hire

Minimum Requirements

- Completed PhD by the date of hire.
- Research and teaching interests that contribute to the scientific study of law.
- Potential for high impact peer-reviewed publications.
- Potential for obtaining external funding.
- Potential for high-quality instruction and mentoring at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- Potential for working with students from diverse backgrounds and working to improving access to higher education for all students.

Desired Qualifications

- Research and teaching interests that connect with existing thematic areas and/or subfields within the Department of Political Science (see position summary).

Required Application Materials

Electronic submission is required, and materials should be uploaded at <http://careers.msu.edu> (posting number 950778). Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, a diversity and inclusion statement, and contact information for three references.

Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024. The search committee members are Ryan Black (search chair, rblack@msu.edu), Ana Bracic (bracic@msu.edu), and Cory Smidt (smidtc@msu.edu). Please contact any committee member with questions about this position.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14440

University of Michigan

Rank: WCEE Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Political Theory

The Weiser Center for Europe and Eurasia (WCEE) at the University of Michigan invites scholars with a recent PhD in social sciences, humanities, public policy, and related fields with expertise in Ukraine and Ukrainian affairs to apply for a two-year WCEE Postdoctoral Fellowship, from August 2025 to July 2027.

WCEE Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in the center's events, present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, and teach one course per year at the University of Michigan while in full-time residency.

Eligibility:

Eligibility is restricted to applicants who have obtained their PhD no earlier than January 1, 2023. Current doctoral candidates are eligible to apply but must have defended and filed their dissertations by July 31, 2025.

Benefits:

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $60,000 and up to $10,000 in research funds during the postdoctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning August 1, 2024 through July 31, 2026). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Application materials:

Candidates should submit the following via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/146559>):

- A research proposal (2000 words maximum) that describes your intellectual objectives and concrete plan for the fellowship duration
- Curriculum Vitae
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter or peer-reviewed journal article (50 pages maximum)
- Teaching statement with potential course topics
- DEI statement
- Two letters of recommendation

To be assured full consideration, fellowship applications should be received by October 15, 2024, 11:59 PM EST. Successful applicants will be notified by December 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 6/1/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 14390

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Political Theory

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in American public law with a focus on constitutional law and American judicial process. The successful applicant will serve as faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society and Moot Court team and may teach, as needed, introductory courses in American Politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs and JDs with teaching experience will also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147105>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate “good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning.”

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2024

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14370

Amherst College

Rank: Assistant Professor Race and American Law

Specializations: African American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Race & Ethnic Politics

Amherst College’s Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the area of Race and American Law. The college is committed to cultivating an inclusive and critically engaged educational environment. Nearly one-quarter of Amherst’s students are Pell Grant recipients; close to half of our students are domestic students of color. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse in matters of gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, socioeconomic status, sexual identity, political outlook, and religion.

In searching in the field of race and American law, we seek a colleague who sees the domain broadly through the light of theory, practice, and history. We are interested in candidates who conduct research into, for example: the legal construction of race; the moral and legal debates concerning race-based reparative and redistributive practices; the racial dimensions of carceral practices, understood both domestically and trans-nationally; the racial dimensions of the legal construction of space; the role that racial-thinking has played in the construction of immigration policy and the very idea of “Americanness”; how matters of race inform issues of environmental justice; and how the American legal response to the legacy of slavery compares and contrasts with that of other nations with a history of chattel slavery (eg. Brazil).

Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching are interdisciplinary. The position requires a Ph.D. (candidates must have the Ph.D. degree in hand or all requirements for the degree fulfilled by the start of the appointment) or a J.D. The start date for the position is July 1, 2025. To apply, candidates are asked to submit electronically (<https://apply.interfolio.com/142507>) a cover letter addressed to Professor Lawrence Douglas, a curriculum vitae, a sample of their scholarship, a teaching statement, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 3/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13251

PUBLIC POLICY

University of California, Riverside

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Public Policy

The School of Public Policy at UCR is seeking to hire up to two Assistant and/or Associate Professors of Public Policy. We are open to the area of public policy scholarship. Competitive candidates are expected to have produced research that: (a) prospectively or retrospectively assesses the impact of specific public policies on humans, the built environment, and/or the natural world; (b) studies how policy is created and implemented and how organizations and implementers operate; (c) evaluates how and when advocacy for policy change is successful; (d) proposes or evaluates reforms to political processes that might improve (or hinder) policy outcomes; and/or (e) develops analytical methods for policy research. The School of Public Policy values public policies that promote efficiency, equity, prosperity, and justice; we are particularly interested in scholars who apply these principles in their research and teaching.

(Note: this search is in addition to a search we posted in July that seeks “scholars who can conduct research and teaching on the politics of the policy process”. If you are also interested in being considered for the “politics of the policy process” search, please additionally respond to that search advertisement.)

Applicants must have an earned doctorate by the time of appointment in a relevant field and demonstrated excellence in research and teaching. As these experiences may be helpful in the production of policy research and/or teaching public policy students, the following will be considered a positive (but not necessary) applicant characteristic: (a) having a bachelor's degree, master's degree, or PhD in public policy, public affairs, or public administration; and/or (b) work experience in government agencies, legislative offices, policy think tanks and consulting firms, or political advocacy organizations. Instructional and mentoring activities include teaching four, 10-week courses per academic year and guiding the research of undergraduate and graduate students.

The School of Public Policy values diversity among its faculty and strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups.

The Assistant and Associate Professor Series are full-time positions with the rights and responsibilities of membership in the Academic Senate. Assistant Professor appointments and reappointments are limited to a maximum term of two years. The total University service with this title may not exceed eight years except as provided in APM - 133-12-b and 133-12-c https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/apm/apm-133.pdf. Associate Professor appointments are tenured appointments.

Advancement through the faculty and non-senate academic ranks at the University of California is through a series of structured, merit-based evaluations, occurring every 2-3 years, each of which includes substantial peer input. Teaching, scholarly professional achievement, and activities, and university and public service constitute the criteria for advancement.

All materials must be uploaded using UCR's on-line application system via <https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/JPF01987>. To ensure full consideration, complete applications including cover letter, CV, writing samples, a research statement, a teaching statement, evidence of teaching excellence, statement of past and/or planned future contributions to advancing diversity and inclusive excellence should be received by October 31, 2024. Additionally, applicants at the Assistant level should submit three letters of reference while applicants at the Associate level should include information for at least 6 people who can be contacted for letters of recommendation (extramural letters will be solicited by the University for the top candidate). Review of applicants will continue until the position is filled. The appointment will commence as early as July 1, 2025, or as late as September 1, 2025, per negotiation with the candidate.

The posted UC salary scales, <https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/compensation/index.html>, set the minimum pay determined by rank and/or step at appointment. See Table 1 https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/2024-25/oct-2024-scales/t1.pdf for the salary range. The salary range for this appointment is $78,200 to $101,400 annually for Assistant Professors and $96,500 to $121,600 for Associate Professors. “Off-scale salaries” and other components of pay, i.e., a salary that is higher than the published system-wide salary at the designated rank and step, are offered when necessary to meet competitive conditions.

The University of California, Riverside is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. UCR is a member institution of the American Association of Universities (AAU) as well as the Alliance of Hispanic Serving Research Universities (HSRU). Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability or protected veteran status.

For the University of California's Affirmative Action Policy please visit: https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/apm/apm-035.pdf.

For the University of California's Anti-Discrimination Policy, please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/1001004/Anti-Discrimination>.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, State, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.

For more information about the position, please contact Victoria Anaya at victoria.anaya@ucr.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 9/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14780

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2025 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. Postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from women and minority PhD recipients, and from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose backgrounds and experience would contribute to the diversity (broadly defined) of the program.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses.

For full consideration, candidates should submit all materials by December 1, 2024. For more details and the application, please visit: <https://kingcenter.stanford.edu/opportunities/prospective-postdoctoral-fellows>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14773

Duke Kunshan University

Rank: Faculty Position in Environmental Policy

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications for a faculty position in environmental public policy to begin in the academic year 2025-2026. The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in DKU's undergraduate program and related graduate program, the International Master of Environmental Policy. We seek candidates with strong quantitative skills and research expertise in environmental economics, environmental policy, and climate finance. Candidates employing computational methods and causal inference tools in their research are especially encouraged to apply. This call is open with regard to rank, including tenured and tenure track positions. This position is open to scholars in the following subject areas: Environmental Economics, Climate Finance, and Public Policy.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor's degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master's degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master's degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (<https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/>). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of <8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master's level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke's educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate's specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28166>. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using the subject "Environmental Policy" as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by November 15, 2024; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a sub-way-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14735

Duke Kunshan University

Rank: Faculty Position in Public Policy

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Science & Technology

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to a tenure-track or tenured faculty position in Public Policy, beginning in the academic year 2025-2026. Applicants should have expertise in computational social science, computational legal methods, or machine learning based research methodologies. Candidates are expected to teach courses in Public Policy and to contribute to the Computation and Design major, which has specializations in computer science, digital media, and social policy. We are especially interested in scholars who study technology (including but not limited to AI and other emerging technologies) from a policy, regulation, or legal perspective.

The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in DKU's undergraduate program and related graduate program, the International Master of Environmental Policy. We seek candidates with strong quantitative skills and research expertise in environmental economics, environmental policy, and climate finance. Candidates employing computational methods and causal inference tools in their research are especially encouraged to apply. This call is open with regard to rank, including tenured and tenure track positions. This position is open to scholars in the following subject areas: Environmental Economics, Climate Finance, and Public Policy.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor's degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master's degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master's degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (<https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/>). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of <8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master's level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke's educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate's specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28168>. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using the subject "Public Policy/Computation" as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 10, 2024; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14748

Suffolk University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Criminal Justice

Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

The Department of Political Science & Legal Studies in the College of Arts & Sciences at Suffolk University invites applications for a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor position in our Undergraduate Law program beginning July 1, 2025. We are seeking a teacher scholar with a research program focused on equity and inclusion in the law that may include a specialization in Constitutional Law, civil rights law, criminal procedure, environmental racism, immigration law or public health law or another field of law.

Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellent teaching and scholarly potential, including a research agenda and plans for publication in legal journals or peer-reviewed journals in law and public policy. The Undergraduate Law Program prepares students for law school and careers as non-lawyer legal professionals. The Department includes undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Relations and Undergraduate Law, a Paralegal Studies Certificate and Associates Degree Program (for Non-Lawyer Legal Professionals) as well as Master of Arts degrees in Applied Public Policy and Global Public Policy. Preference will be given to those who have experience teaching legal research and writing and working with paralegals and/or supervising legal staff. Candidates should be able to contribute to the core curriculum and first year seminar program. In addition to demonstrating excellence in teaching and research, the successful candidate is expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students, and engage in service with the department, college and university. The workload for this position is 45% teaching, 35% research, and 20% service with a 5-course teaching load per year.

Suffolk's Political Science & Legal Studies Department's faculty are teacher scholars with a strong commitment to student development by providing high quality instruction to a diverse student body. Faculty in the department are award-winning teachers recognized for innovative pedagogical practices, community leaders civically engaged in advancing social justice, internationally recognized policy and political consultants and active researchers and scholars. Initiatives such as Suffolk Votes, the non-partisan university-wide initiative to raise political awareness and impact by increasing student voter participation, reflect the department's key role in Suffolk's Community Engagement Carnegie Classification. Department faculty take advantage of our location in the heart of Boston to design exciting real-world learning opportunities at the Court House and the State House. Close connections with Suffolk Law School, which has top-ranked skills clinics, provide students in the Undergraduate Law program with rich pre-professional opportunities as does our thriving Center for Restorative Justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to a rich tradition of community-engaged teaching and experiential education that prepares our diverse, substantially first-generation college students—40% of whom are Pell eligible—for careers and civic engagement. The successful candidate will have a commitment to inclusive pedagogy and curricular diversity, mentoring and advising students—especially first-generation college students—as well as conducting impactful research. We seek candidates excited about centering best practices pedagogy focused on active, applied and experiential learning in their teaching; a commitment to ongoing and continuous improvement in teaching is expected. Familiarity with and experience using pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and ability groups to reach their maximum potential is a valuable qualification.

Not sure this is you? Contact us to find out! Research indicates that women and members of marginalized populations tend not to apply to jobs when they think they do not meet the qualifications, when, in fact, they often do.

Suffolk University is dedicated to a diverse and inclusive academic community. Diversity, equity and inclusion are woven into our fabric. Founded in 1906 to provide access to legal education during the evening for individuals who might not otherwise have been afforded that opportunity, Suffolk University consistently seeks to advance its history and mission as a school of access and opportunity. This mission is lived through our decisions at every level. U.S. News ranked Suffolk University among the top 100 universities in the country for social mobility. Suffolk was also listed 14th nationally in percentage of international students. Through student, faculty and staff recruitment and support, community engagement, curriculum development, and research, the University community works to advance equity for every student, every day. Learn more about how we manifest the core values of our mission at Suffolk DEI. ?

Candidates must hold a JD (combination JD and PhD in a relevant field also invited) by the commencement of the 2025-26 academic year. Experience teaching undergraduates is preferred. Application should be made through the Suffolk University Human Resources' Careers at Suffolk site.

Completed submissions should include: cover letter; CV; law school transcript; Teaching Philosophy; Diversity Statement; a statement of research interests and agenda; student course evaluations (if available); and 3 letters of reference. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 1, though applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Initial interviews will be via Zoom followed by on-campus interviews.

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located in downtown Boston and is an equal opportunity employer committed to faculty diversity. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Suffolk offers substantial employee benefits, including retirement benefits, tuition remission for employees and their families, tuition exchange program with participating institutions, as well as health, dental, and life insurance, commuter benefits, and a strong employee assistance program. Learn more about CAS faculty here. To learn more about the Political Science & Legal Studies Department visit our website. Inquiries about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Conley, Chair of the Political Science & Legal Studies Department at bconley@suffolk.edu.

The department will also hold information sessions at the 2024 APSA conference in Philadelphia. To meet with a department representative at APSA, please email Prof. Maye Hennings at maye.henning@suffolk.edu

Suffolk University does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, age, genetic information, or status as a veteran in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs, activities, or employment. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer, the University is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive faculty and staff that reflect the broad range of human experience who contribute to the robust exchange of ideas on campus, and who are committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment. We strongly encourage applications from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented because of race/color, gender, religious creed, disability, national origin, veteran status or LGBTQ status. Suffolk University is especially interested in candidates who, through their training, service and experience, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the University community.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14738

University of Maryland

Rank: Assistant Clinical Professor in Governance, Management, Ethics, and Leadership

Position Summary/Purpose of Position:

The School of Public Policy at the University of Maryland, College Park, seeks to appoint a full-time Assistant Clinical Professor with expertise in Governance, Management, Ethics, and Leadership, starting in Fall 2025. This appointment entails a teaching load of six courses per academic year, with a primary focus on teaching governance, management, ethics, and leadership courses in the master's, undergraduate, and executive programs. They will mentor and help students gain practical experience in the policy world. They will also engage in other activities that serve the academic mission and governance of the School and University equivalent to approximately 25% of their working hours. This is a non-tenurable appointment.

The School of Public Policy is committed to increasing the diversity of our community and the greater campus community. We embrace diversity in multiple forms, including identity, background, theoretical and methodological orientations, and opinions. Women, non-binary individuals, and members of minorities whose hiring would enhance the School's diversity are especially encouraged to apply.

Minimum Qualifications:

Education: Candidates must have a terminal degree in public administration, public policy, political science, or a related field.

Experience:

- Candidates must have higher-education teaching experience in a relevant field.
- Candidates must have 5+ years of relevant professional experience in governments, non-profits, international organizations, and related institutions.

Preferences:

- Candidates with 15+ years of relevant professional experience in governments, non-profits, international organizations, and related institutions are preferred. Lengthier tenure and higher rank of relevant professional experience will be valued.
- Candidates are expected to have a demonstrated commitment to teaching and mentorship at either the undergraduate or graduate levels, including working with students and groups from minoritized groups. Experience teaching and mentoring in executive programs is a plus.
- Candidates with a demonstrated ability to use (a) active learning and/or (b) equity-centered pedagogies and techniques in teaching and mentoring are preferred.

Best Consideration Date: September 27, 2024

To apply, visit <https://ejobs.umd.edu/postings/121973>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/27/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14742

University of Maryland

Rank: Assistant Clinical Professor in Quantitative Methods

Specializations: Economic Policy, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

Position Summary/Purpose of Position:

The School of Public Policy at the University of Maryland, College Park seeks to appoint an Assistant Clinical Professor with expertise in quantitative methods, starting in Fall 2025. This appointment entails a 6 courses per academic year teaching load, with a primary focus on teaching econometrics/statistics and research methods at the master's and undergraduate levels. This is a 9-month per year position. The ability to teach micro, macro, or international economics at the undergraduate or Master's level is a plus. The successful candidate will teach in the School's undergraduate major and graduate program. They will mentor and help students gain practical experience in the policy world. They will also engage in service.

The School of Public Policy is committed to increasing the diversity of our community and the greater campus community. We embrace diversity in multiple forms, including identity, background, theoretical and methodological orientations, and opinions. Women, non-binary individuals, and members of minorities whose hiring would enhance the School's diversity are especially encouraged to apply.

Minimum Qualifications:

Education: Candidates must have a doctorate in economics, political science, public health, public policy, or a related field.

Experience:

- Candidates must have higher-education teaching experience in a relevant field.
- Candidates should have a demonstrated interest in applying statistical methods to inform policy debates and improve outcomes.

Preferences:

- The ability to teach micro- and macroeconomics at the master's level is a plus.
- Relevant professional and teaching experience commensurate with a faculty appointment at a highly-ranked public policy program is a plus.
- Scholarly knowledge and/or practical experience with the application of quantitative methods to analyze public policies across a range of substantive issues is strongly desired.

Best Consideration Date: September 27, 2024

To apply, visit <https://ejobs.umd.edu/postings/121749>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/27/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14741

Knox College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Applications are made through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152080>

The Department of Environmental Studies at Knox College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies, with a focus in the social sciences, beginning September 1, 2025. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on some aspect of environmental policy.

Knox is an independent, selective liberal arts institution with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a community that embraces a diversity of perspectives and individuals. Experience working with diverse populations of students and a commitment to successful teaching in a multicultural environment are expected. With over 35% of the student body identifying as U.S. students of color and more than 20% international students, the College supports instruction and research that appeals to Knox's students broadly.

The Environmental Studies Department offers major tracks in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, both of which culminate in faculty-supervised student research. Teaching responsibilities include two classes per each of three 10-week terms (Fall, Winter, Spring) and support for advanced student work in the program.

The successful candidate will have experience with research techniques appropriate to their field and will be prepared to supervise senior research projects. They will also teach Introduction to Environmental Policy as well as an advanced course in their area of expertise, and contribute to a team-taught introductory course in Environmental Studies. In consultation with the department, they will teach additional courses in the environmental social sciences that contribute to departmental majors as well as the general education curriculum.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in environmental studies or related field is expected by the time of appointment, but exceptional ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates should submit:

1. A letter of application that addresses the qualifications listed above, including the candidate's research agenda, undergraduate liberal arts teaching philosophy, and approach to teaching and mentorship in a diverse community of students;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. An unofficial graduate transcript;
4. Names of three confidential professional references. References will be contacted for those candidates progressing in the interview process, and will be expected to provide letters quickly when requested.

Additional materials may be requested at a later date.

Review of applications begins September 13, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to Katherine Adelsberger at kadelsbe@knox.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14717

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Administration: Open-Rank, Non-Tenure Track

Faculty Position: Baker School Fall 2025

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Public Administration

The Howard H. Baker, Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK) invites applications for a non-tenure-track faculty position (open rank) in Public Policy and Public Affairs to begin in August 2025. This will be a three-year renewable appointment.

We are searching for an expert in public administration, with a focus on leadership, organizational theory, public performance, and program evaluation to deliver in-person and online courses for students and working professionals and engage in public service and outreach. The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs, a Master of Public Policy (MPP), and a Master of Public Administration (MPA). We are seeking exceptional faculty who have a deep commitment to undergraduate and graduate education and a record of teaching effectiveness.

About the University of Tennessee, Knoxville

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. UTK is located in Knoxville, Tennessee, a thriving community located in close proximity to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

About the Baker School

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) aims to produce the next generation of skilled public problem solvers prepared to take leadership roles in their communities. Baker School students are grounded in the legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan, with curriculum and co-curricular activities focused on Baker's guiding principles including Confidence in America, Finding Common Ground and You Might Be Right. Under the umbrellas of two research centers, Baker School faculty and experts combine sound science and thoughtful policy to address challenges facing the state of Tennessee, the United States, and the world. In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which is responsible for encouraging civic knowledge and participation among UT undergraduates and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each member of our team is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work is constantly evolving to meet changing needs.

Who We Are Looking For

We are in search of a solution-finder, someone who enthusiastically embraces opportunities to address novel situations through teamwork and collaboration. We need a hardworking and flexible professional, who thrives in developing out-of-the-box approaches and addressing new challenges. We are looking for an achiever, someone who is searching for a chance to grow their skills and who is open to learning from others. We need a critical thinker who exercises good judgment and who can be relied upon and trusted to provide sound counsel to colleagues and leadership. We need teammates who are dedicated to public service.

Qualifications

??Candidates must have a doctoral degree in public administration, political science, or a relevant field at time of application.

Candidates must be able to develop and deliver undergraduate and graduate courses in leadership, organizational theory, public performance, and program evaluation.

Candidates must submit evidence of a strong teaching record, including developing new courses, a statement of teaching philosophy and effectiveness, and teaching evaluations.

The title and compensation for this position will be commensurate with experience. The University has the following titles for NTT teaching faculty starting in Spring 2025: Teaching Assistant Professor, Teaching Associate Professor, and Teaching Professor.

Candidates for Teaching Assistant Professor must provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a commitment to service to the University and community.

Candidates for Teaching Associate Professor should have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least five years, and internal and external service to their professional community.

Candidates for Teaching Full Professor should also have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least ten years, internal and external service to their professional community.

The successful candidate will be part of a multidisciplinary environment to build the new Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs, the first such organization at a public institution in the State of Tennessee. We seek future colleagues who will help build the School, contribute fresh ideas, and bring a growth mindset.

The candidate will be expected to teach a 4/3 load, which may include a combination of undergraduate and graduate courses offered in-person and online. In addition to teaching responsibilities, the candidates will have service to the Baker School, which may include student advising and mentorship, student programming, and public engagement.

Candidates may be considered for appointment as affiliated faculty experts with the Baker School's research centers (Center for Energy, Transportation, and Environmental Policy, Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs, and the Institute of American Civics).

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following via Interfolio:<http://apply.interfolio.com/151704>

Please attach a cover letter describing their academic experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy. Additional materials are welcome, including but not limited to scholarly works and syllabi, and names of three references. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, contact Professor Tara Bryan, tbryan29@utk.edu.

Note: The search chair will be present at the NASPAA annual conference in Washington, DC, between October 23 and 26. Potential applicants who plan to attend the meeting are encouraged to contact tbryan29@utk.edu to schedule a meeting.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14716

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Democratic Development, Backsliding and Capacity Building (Assistant or Associate Professor)

Democratic Development, Backsliding and Capacity Building (Assistant or Associate Professor)

College/School/Unit: LBJ School of Public Affairs

Posted: Aug 7, 2024

Apply By: Open until filled

Description

The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at the University of Texas at Austin ("LBJ School") invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science or other allied disciplines to begin in Fall of academic year 2025-26 (with an August 2025 start date). One of the nation's top ten programs in public affairs, the LBJ School is seeking to strengthen its faculty in the democratic backsliding, consolidation as well as capacity building, with a focus on low- or middle-income countries (LMICs).

The LBJ School comprises more than 45 faculty members and approximately 350 graduate students, and a new undergraduate degree that will eventually serve another 400 students. It offers multi-disciplinary curricula leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts of Public Affairs, Master of Public Affairs, Master of Global Policy Studies, and Ph.D. in Public Policy.

The ideal candidate will possess proven experience and expertise as a political scientist in one or more of the following areas: democratic consolidation and stabilization, authoritarianism, democratic backsliding, institutional and political development, and capacity building in LMICs.

They will also teach courses related to a field of public policy. The appointee's research will have direct relevance to public policy. The appointee will conduct and publish scholarly research and seek grant opportunities in support of their research and/or teaching activities. The appointee will participate in faculty governance in the LBJ School.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, Sociology or a related field with an emphasis in democratic political development is required. ABD candidates will be considered if the doctoral degree will be complete by the time of employment. Experience in college teaching and evidence of scholarship or scholarly potential is preferred.

Application Instructions

Interested candidates can submit their cover letter, CV, statement of teaching, three years of teaching evaluations (or fewer if unavailable), three letters of reference, and one article-length writing sample via Interfolio. Questions about the position can be directed to Kate Weaver at <mailto:ceweaver@austin.utexas.edu>. Questions about the application can be directed to Shannon LaFevers at <mailto:slafevers@austin.utexas.edu>.

The search committee will begin considering applications October 1. The position will remain open until filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Texas at Austin, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5577850>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14725

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor-Political and Policy Processes

The School of Public Policy (<https://spp.gatech.edu>) at the Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications for an open-rank tenured or tenure-track faculty position with a focus on American political and policy processes. Topics of research and teaching expertise should include the development, adoption, and implementation of public policies and related politics at the national, state, and/or local level. We are especially interested in candidates whose research relates to the School's strengths in science and technology policy, health policy, energy and environment policy, ethics, social and urban policy, and cyber/cybersecurity policy. Candidates are also expected to demonstrate an exceptional commitment to the teaching and mentoring of students.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Job duties will include research, teaching and advising students, and service activities at Georgia Tech.

Required documents to attach

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a description of teaching interests as well as their advising/mentoring philosophy, and the names and contact information for at least three references.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

An earned doctorate is required by the start of the appointment.

BACKGROUND CHECK

The candidate of choice will be required to pass a pre-employment background screening.

<http://policylibrary.gatech.edu/employment/pre-employment-screening>.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- The ability to teach and mentor a diverse student body
- The ability to promote an inclusive and welcoming educational/work environment
- The ability to adopt teaching strategies that support the learning and success of all students
- The ability to engage students in experiential learning activities and pedagogy that support student success

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a description of teaching interests as well as their advising/mentoring philosophy, and the names and contact information for at least three references.

Application materials should be submitted to:

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=03000&JobOpeningId=276010&PostingSeq=1

Applications will be considered beginning October 1, but the search will continue until the position is filled.

Questions about the position may be directed to Chris Hayter (chayter3@gatech.edu).

DEPARTMENT INFO

About the School of Public Policy at the Georgia Institute of Technology

The School of Public Policy (<http://spp.gatech.edu/>) has 63 faculty members and we instruct students in undergraduate, masters, and Ph.D. programs. Georgia Tech is a top-ranked public research university situated in the heart of Atlanta, a diverse and vibrant city with great economic and cultural strengths. The Institute is a member of the University System of Georgia, the Georgia Research Alliance, and the Association of American Universities. Georgia Tech prides itself on its technology resources, interdisciplinary research and collaborations, and high-quality student body.

Georgia Tech prides itself on its technological resources, collaborations, high-quality student body, and its commitment to building an outstanding and diverse community of learning, discovery, and creation. We strongly encourage applicants whose values align with our institutional values, as outlined in our Strategic Plan. These values include academic excellence, diversity of backgrounds and perspectives, inquiry and innovation, collaboration and community, and ethical behavior and stewardship. Georgia Tech has policies to promote a healthy work-life balance and is aware that attracting faculty may require meeting the needs of two careers.

Georgia Tech is a top-ranked public research university situated in the heart of Atlanta, a diverse and vibrant city with numerous economic and cultural strengths. The Institute serves more than 45,000 students through top-ranked undergraduate, graduate, and executive programs in engineering, computing, science, business, design, and liberal arts. Georgia Tech's faculty attracted more than $1.4 billion in research awards this past year in fields ranging from biomedical technology to artificial intelligence, energy, sustainability, semiconductors, neuroscience, and national security. Georgia Tech ranks among the nation's top 20 universities for research and development spending and No. 1 among institutions without a medical school.

Georgia Tech's Mission and Values

Georgia Tech's mission is to develop leaders who advance technology and improve the human condition. The Institute has nine key values that are foundational to everything we do:

1. Students are our top priority.
2. We strive for excellence.
3. We thrive on diversity.
4. We celebrate collaboration.

5. We champion innovation.
6. We safeguard freedom of inquiry and expression.
7. We nurture the wellbeing of our community.
8. We act ethically.
9. We are responsible stewards.

Over the next decade, Georgia Tech will become an example of inclusive innovation, a leading technological research university of unmatched scale, relentlessly committed to serving the public good; breaking new ground in addressing the biggest local, national, and global challenges and opportunities of our time; making technology broadly accessible; and developing exceptional, principled leaders from all backgrounds ready to produce novel ideas and create solutions with real human impact.

USG CORE VALUES

All members of the USG community must adhere to the USG Statement of Core Values, which consists of Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values shape and fundamentally support our University's work. Additionally, all faculty, staff, and administrators must also be aware of and comply with the Board of Regents and Georgia Institute of Technology's policies on Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom. More information on these policies can be found here: Board of Regents Policy Manual | University System of Georgia \(usg.edu\)."

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14713

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Policy, Public Policy

The Net Zero Industrial Policy Lab at Johns Hopkins is looking for a post-doctoral fellow to conduct research on countries' economic opportunities in the green energy transition.

The lab seeks to produce the world-leading academic research and timely policy analysis needed to grapple with geopolitics and political economy of the energy transition. It combines the technical analysis of net-zero supply chains with the study of net-zero industrial policies to catalyze strategic collaborations between government and industry. The lab operates as more than an academic research unit—it works closely with partners from industry and government to develop solutions in real-time. The lab works across sectors with projects in critical minerals, hydrogen, steel, aluminum, biofuels, renewables, and other clean energy supply chains.

The lab is embarking on a multi-year project to support the development of smart green industrial policies in multiple countries. In this project, we will map the global industrial base for clean energy technology and assess each countries' capacity to produce the natural resources and technologies needed to build a net zero world economy. We will then look at countries' potential in a prospective analysis of where various countries could contribute to a net zero future. This methodology will produce a picture of each country's current capacities and future capabilities. This provides a rigorous, highly detailed analytical base for the formulation of foreign, trade, industrial, and supply chain policy.

The post-doctoral fellow will lead the analysis of countries' existing and future potential in the global green economy. We expect this to follow from and build on the methodologies laid out in Hidalgo et al (2007), Hausmann et al (2013), and Mealy and Teytelboym (2022). The fellow will work with lab's leadership to translate the results of a complex global modeling exercise into policy designs in both developed and developing countries.

This is a two-year full-time research position. The start date is negotiable for the right candidate but we are hoping to hire into the position as soon as possible. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and continue until a successful candidate is selected.

Qualifications

A PhD in political science, public policy, economics, or engineering. Experience working with manufacturing and trade data as well as knowledge economy concepts and modeling is desired.

Application Instructions

Candidates should log on to Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152455>, and upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and three letters of reference.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14709

Stanford University

Rank: Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellowship on Contemporary Asia, 2025-2026

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center at Stanford University is pleased to announce its search for two 2025-2026 Shorenstein Postdoctoral Fellows on Contemporary Asia. Made possible through the generosity of Walter H. Shorenstein, awards will be made to two junior scholars (recent PhDs must have degree conferral and approval by June 30, 2025) for research and writing on Asia.

The primary focus of the fellowship is on contemporary political, economic, or social change in the Asia-Pacific region (including Northeast, Southeast, and South Asia), or on international relations and international political economy in the region. The postdoctoral fellowship is a 10-month appointment with salary rate commensurate with Stanford policy, plus up to $3,000 for research expenses. Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2025-2026 academic year.

Applications will be accepted until December 1, 2024.

For additional information and to apply, visit: <https://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/education/fellowship-and-training-opportunities/shorenstein-postdoctoral-fellowship>

About the Center:

The Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is dedicated to the study of critical issues affecting the countries of Asia and their regional and global relations. Our scholar community is comprised of distinguished academics and practitioners in government, business, and civil society. Through policy-relevant research, publications, education, public programs, and international collaborations, we address pressing challenges in a world in which Asia plays an increasingly central role.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14704

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Politics of the Middle East and North Africa

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

THE DEPARTMENT OF Political Science, UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, seeks to appoint a tenure-track assistant professor in Political Science whose work focuses on the region of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). Candidates will be expected to engage in and promote research and teaching related to the MENA region at Penn and beyond. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree is expected at the start of the appointment. The hired candidate will teach 3 courses per year (2-1 load) at the undergraduate and graduate levels. They will also provide research advice to students at all levels and engage in service to the department, the School, and the University.

Political Science is housed within the School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support faculty include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

With 35 tenured and tenure-track faculty, over 300 undergraduate student majors, and 80 graduate students, we are one of the largest departments in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Our faculty teach and conduct research in all the major fields in our discipline, including American politics, Comparative politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Political Economy, and Methods. Our faculty and students study a range of issues with real-world policy implications ranging from civil wars and ethnic conflict to environmental politics, partisan polarization, and inequality. Our PhD program has an excellent placement record: our graduates go on to jobs in premium research and teaching institutions, as well as to successful careers outside of academia.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Qualifications

The successful candidate's written materials and scholarly productivity will indicate potential for a high-impact research agenda. The successful candidate will typically plan to seek external funding to support their research, and should also be highly proficient in at least one of the four most widely spoken languages in the MENA region: Arabic, Farsi, Kurdish, and Turkish.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/152474

Review of applications will begin on September 10st, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14703

Duke University

Rank: Tenure-Line Professor of Public Policy (Brown Chair)

The Sanford School of Public Policy seeks to hire a tenure-line political scientist with a focus on political science and public policy with a broad focus on democracy and/or leadership. This faculty member will hold the inaugural Tony and Teddie Brown Chair in the Sanford School.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or in public policy with a concentration in political science, and a record of (or demonstrated capacity for) scholarly publication and excellence in teaching. The Sanford School values applications from candidates with a strong interest in policy engagement. Candidates should be able to teach courses in the Sanford undergraduate and graduate core curriculum in addition to their own areas of policy specialization.

The Sanford School includes an interdisciplinary full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, five Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. The Sanford School houses several research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that describes their research and teaching interests and experiences, and that includes a brief statement addressing how they foster an equitable and inclusive learning and research environment; CV; writing sample; and names and contact information for three references. These materials should be submitted via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28089>

Applications submitted by September 15th, 2024 will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, contact Deondra Rose, search committee chair, at deondra.rose@duke.edu.

Duke is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy and pregnancy related conditions), sexual orientation, or military status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14686

University of Tennessee

Rank: Public Policy: Open-Rank, Non-Tenure Track Faculty Position_Baker School_Fall 2025

The Howard H. Baker, Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK) invites applications for a non-tenure-track faculty position (open rank) in Public Policy and Public Affairs to begin in August 2025. This will be a three-year renewable appointment.

We are searching for an expert in American Public Policy to deliver in-person and online courses for students and working professionals and engage in public service and outreach. The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs, a Master of Public Policy (MPP), and a Master of Public Administration (MPA). We are seeking exceptional faculty who have a deep commitment to undergraduate and graduate education and a record of teaching effectiveness.

About the University of Tennessee, Knoxville

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. UTK is located in Knoxville, Tennessee, a thriving community located in close proximity to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

About the Baker School

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) aims to produce the next generation of skilled public problem solvers prepared to take leadership roles in their communities. Baker School students are grounded in the legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan, with curriculum and co-curricular activities focused on Baker's guiding principles including Confidence in America, Finding Common Ground and You Might Be Right. Under the umbrellas of two research centers, Baker School faculty and experts combine sound science and thoughtful policy to address challenges facing the state of Tennessee, the United States, and the world. In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which is responsible for encouraging civic knowledge and participation among UT undergraduates and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each member of our team is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work is constantly evolving to meet changing needs.

Who We Are Looking For

We are in search of a solution-finder, someone who enthusiastically embraces opportunities to address novel situations through teamwork and collaboration. We need a hardworking and flexible professional, who thrives in developing out-of-the-box approaches and addressing new challenges. We are looking for an achiever, someone who is searching for a chance to grow their skills and who is open to learning from others. We need a critical thinker who exercises good judgment and who can be relied upon and trusted to provide sound counsel to colleagues and leadership. We need teammates who are dedicated to public service.

Qualifications

??Candidates must have a doctoral degree in public policy, political science, economics, or a relevant field at time of application.

Candidates must be able to develop and deliver undergraduate and graduate courses in national, state, and local policy issues and processes. Evidence of teaching in visualizing and communicating data is also welcome, but not required.

Candidates must submit evidence of a strong teaching record, including developing new courses, a statement of teaching philosophy and effectiveness, and teaching evaluations.

The title and compensation for this position will be commensurate with experience. The University has the following titles for NTT teaching faculty to be implemented starting in Spring 2025: Teaching Assistant Professor, Teaching Associate Professor, and Teaching Professor.

Candidates for Teaching Assistant Professor must provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a commitment to service to the University and community.

Candidates for Teaching Associate Professor should have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least five years, and internal and external service to their professional community.

Candidates for Teaching Full Professor should also have a demonstrated record of exceptional teaching for at least ten years, internal and external service to their professional community.

The successful candidate will be part of a multidisciplinary environment to build the new Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs, the first such organization at a public institution in the State of Tennessee. We seek future colleagues who will help build the School, contribute fresh ideas, and bring a growth mindset.

The candidate will be expected to teach a 4/3 load, which may include a combination of undergraduate and graduate courses offered in-person and online. In addition to teaching responsibilities, the candidates will have service to the Baker School, which may include student advising and mentorship, student programming, and public engagement.

Candidates may be considered for appointment as affiliated faculty experts with the Baker School's research centers (Center for Energy, Transportation, and Environmental Policy, Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs, and the Institute of American Civics).

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following via Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/151695>

Please include a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a teaching statement and evaluations, and names of three references. Additional materials are welcome, such as examples of scholarly works. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, contact Professor Jack Mewhirter, jmewhirt@utk.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14689

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Poverty & Public Policy

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Social Welfare

The La Follette School of Public Affairs seeks a faculty member who studies poverty and public policy. The school is open with regards to the specific area and approach to poverty research. However, we are particularly interested in a scholar who focuses on U.S. domestic poverty policy.

The La Follette School is a highly ranked school of public affairs, and one of many highly ranked social science units at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The University is consistently ranked among the top universities in terms of success in federally funded research grants and is highly supportive of an interdisciplinary approach to scholarship.

The selected candidate will conduct productive research, be a committed teacher, and welcome being part of an interdisciplinary department dedicated to promoting good public policy. Teaching will involve core graduate and undergraduate courses in public affairs or international public affairs, as well as upper-level electives in poverty and social policy. We are especially interested in a scholar who will contribute core classes to the school's growing undergraduate program.

Successful applicants will teach graduate and undergraduate classes, mentor students, conduct scholarly research, and provide service to the department, college, university, and academic community nationally or internationally. The successful candidate, as a member of the College of L&S, will proactively contribute to, support, and advance the college's commitment to equity among all aspects of their teaching, mentoring, research, and service.

For full consideration, all materials must be received no later than 11:55pm on October 9, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled and are encouraged before October 21, 2024. Please note that applicants will be evaluated based upon submitted application materials and therefore should speak to and include evidence of their qualifications.

Applications must be received through UW-Madison's online application system. Applications submitted outside of this system will not be considered. Click the "Apply Now" button to start the application process. Applicants should submit the following 4 items:

1. a letter of interest (including research and teaching interests),
2. curriculum vitae,
3. a writing sample of roughly 35 pages,
4. three reference letters

<https://jobs.wisc.edu/jobs/assistant-or-associate-professor-of-poverty-public-policy-madison-wisconsin-united-states>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14684

University of Kentucky

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor of Public Policy - Environmental, Urban, or Social Policy

The Martin School of Public Policy and Administration at the University of Kentucky seeks applicants for a tenure track or tenured position beginning August 2025. We will consider candidates at the assistant, associate, and full professor levels. The ideal candidate will have a research and teaching interest in Environmental Policy, Urban Policy, or Social Policy. Applicants with a Ph.D. in Public Policy, Public Administration, Public Affairs, Political Science, Sociology, or Economics are encouraged to apply. We seek outstanding scholars who can contribute to our Ph.D. program, our professional master's degree programs, and undergraduate degree in public policy.

The Martin School is a University Center of Excellence with a multidisciplinary faculty offering five degrees: Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration, Master of Public Administration, Master of Public Policy, Master of Public Financial Management, and a Bachelor of Arts in Public Policy. Currently, the Martin School is a highly ranked program as it is currently ranked 26th among all public affairs programs, 4th in public finance and budgeting, 24th in local government management, and 35th in public policy analysis by U.S. News and World Report. For more information about the Martin School, please visit <http://www.martin.uky.edu/>

Applications must include the following: a letter of application (upload under cover letter), curriculum vitae, and sample research paper, and contact information for three professional references. This information may be utilized to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system. Interested applicants should submit a UK Online Application at <https://ukjobs.uky.edu/postings/542558>. Applications received by October 1 will receive full consideration. For questions regarding the position, please contact Dr. Harvey at hope.harvey@uky.edu.

The University of Kentucky is committed to a diverse and inclusive workforce by ensuring all our students, faculty, and staff work in an environment of openness and acceptance. We strive to foster a community where people of all backgrounds, identities, and perspectives can feel secure and welcome. We also value the well-being of each of our employees and are dedicated to creating a healthy place to work, learn and live. In the interest of maintaining a safe and healthy environment for our students, employees, patients and visitors the University of Kentucky is a Tobacco & Drug Free campus.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer, we strongly encourage veterans, individuals with disabilities, women, and all minorities to consider our employment opportunities.

Any candidate offered a position may be required to pass pre-employment screenings as mandated by University of Kentucky Human Resources. These screenings may include a national background check and/or drug screen.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14676

University of Oxford

Rank: Associate Professor of Management and Public Policy

University of Oxford

Associate Professorship of Management and Public Policy (Salary 36S: £52,815 - £70,918 p.a.)

In exceptional cases, where the candidate has previously established an academic standing at an appropriate level of distinction, the title of full professor may be awarded at the time of appointment alongside a salary more commensurate with the title.

Blavatnik School of Government in association with Green Templeton College

The Blavatnik School of Government and Green Templeton College are recruiting an Associate Professor of Management and Public Policy to join the School in the academic year from September 2025 (or soon thereafter).

As a global school committed to this vision of a world better led, better served and better governed, the Blavatnik School teaches current and future leaders to tackle this century's most pressing public policy challenges. We are proud of our academic excellence and independent and academically rigorous research, together with our ability to bring people together across disciplines and sectors to share knowledge, exchange ideas and create solutions.

The School is one of the world's leading academic institutions for research, teaching, and public leadership development in the area of government. The Associate Professorship will bring to the School an academic with an emerging global reputation for excellence in an area or areas of management and public policy. They will have a doctorate in management (or closely related field) and be equipped to teach management in an inspiring way to current and future public leaders, as well as to engage in this area with policy experts. Applications are invited in all areas of management and public policy.

The appointment will be made in association with Green Templeton College. You will have the opportunity to contribute to the academic life of an engaging and interdisciplinary community which unites students and Faculty at all levels and across a wide range of intellectual approaches.

You should have a doctorate in management, public management, or a closely related field, track record of internationally excellent articles in highly-ranked, peer reviewed academic journals, commensurate with the candidate's career stage; an outstanding programme of applied research in management and public policy, or a closely related field; an established record of public engagement with governments and international organisations on public policy; the ability and willingness to teach, supervise, and assess high-achieving graduate students with real world professional experience who come from diverse cultural backgrounds; the ability and willingness to develop and teach upon short courses for senior practitioners from diverse cultural backgrounds; a commitment to outstanding and innovative teaching; the ability to build the profile of the School on management and public policy issues.

The general expectation is that members of faculty will devote up to 60% of their time to research, publication and policy engagement, and 40% to teaching, assessment, and administration. The amount of teaching must not normally exceed an average of 288 teaching units per year without approval by the Divisional Board. All Associate Professors are expected to engage in public policy and to contribute to institutional advancement – both of which are part of the Initial Period of Office (IPO) criteria along with teaching and research.

Further information (including full details about how to apply) and a copy of the further particulars can be requested by emailing: recruit@bsg.ox.ac.uk

Please upload a full CV, a supporting statement, and three current academic reference letters.

If you or your referees would prefer, references can be emailed directly to recruit@bsg.ox.ac.uk by the closing date.

The closing date for applications is 12 noon, Monday 16 September 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/16/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14669

University of Tennessee

Rank: Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor National Security and Nuclear Policy_Baker School_Fall 2025

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, Intelligence

Nuclear Policy and National Security: Open-Rank, Tenure Track Faculty Position

The Howard H. Baker, Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville (UTK) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position (open rank) in Public Policy and Public Affairs to begin in August 2025. We are searching for an expert in national security, with particular interest in candidates who have nuclear policy/politics expertise, to partner with our Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs (NSFA), to deliver in-person and online courses for students and working professionals, conduct funded research, and engage in policy engagement and public outreach. The Baker School offers a Bachelor of Science in Public Affairs, a Master of Public Policy (MPP), and a Master of Public Administration (MPA), with concentrations in national security and nuclear policy, among other fields. The Baker School also offers undergraduate and graduate certificates in these areas, in partnership with Oak Ridge National Lab (ORNL). We are seeking scholars who have an active research program and a commitment to undergraduate and graduate education.

About the University of Tennessee, Knoxville

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. UTK is located in Knoxville, Tennessee, a thriving community located in close proximity to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

About the Baker School

The Howard H. Baker Jr. School of Public Policy and Public Affairs (Baker School) aims to produce the next generation of skilled public problem solvers prepared to take leadership roles in their communities. Baker School students are grounded in the legacy of Howard H. Baker Jr., a former US Senator, Senate Majority Leader, White House Chief of Staff, and Ambassador to Japan, with curriculum and co-curricular activities focused on Baker's guiding principles including Confidence in America, Finding Common Ground and You Might Be Right. Under the umbrellas of two research centers, Baker School faculty and experts combine sound science and thoughtful policy to address challenges facing the state of Tennessee, the United States, and the world. In addition, the Baker School houses the Institute of American Civics, which is responsible for encouraging civic knowledge and participation among UT undergraduates and the state at large.

Who We Are

We are a dynamic and close-knit team of dedicated and hardworking individuals devoted to research, education, and public service initiatives that address real-world problems in local, state, national, and global communities. Each member of our team is a valuable contributor to achieving our mission and we work together to find innovative approaches to moving the Baker School forward. We are fast-moving and growing. Our work is constantly evolving to meet changing needs.

Who We Are Looking For

We are in search of a solution-finder, someone who enthusiastically embraces opportunities to address novel situations through teamwork and collaboration. We need a hardworking and flexible professional, who thrives in developing out-of-the-box approaches and addressing new challenges. We are looking for an achiever, someone who is searching for a chance to grow their skills and who is open to learning from others. We need a critical thinker who exercises good judgment and who can be relied upon and trusted to provide sound counsel to colleagues and leadership. We need teammates who are dedicated to public service.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a doctoral degree in political science, public policy, international relations, or a relevant field at time of application.

Candidates must be able to develop and deliver courses in nuclear policy and national security. Existing courses in the Baker School curriculum include U.S. National Security, Foundations of U.S. Foreign Policy, Nuclear Security in an Age of Emerging Technologies, Nuclear Weapons, Nuclear Policy and Deterrence, Nuclear Nonproliferation and Safeguards, Hybrid Warfare, and Grey Zone Warfare and Cybersecurity. This position would be expected to contribute to designing and teaching a selection of these existing courses and to support the development of new courses as needed.

Candidates for Assistant Professor should have an active research agenda, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a commitment to service to the University and community.

Candidates for Associate Professor should have a demonstrated record of publishing in appropriate journals, exceptional teaching, and internal and external service to their professional community. Candidates who have experience in securing and executing externally funded research are preferred, though this is not a requirement of the position.

Candidates for Full Professor should have a demonstrated record of publishing in appropriate journals, exceptional teaching, and internal and external service to their professional community. In addition, the candidate should have national/international recognition in their field of study. Candidates who have experience in securing and executing externally funded research are preferred, though this is not a requirement of the position.

The successful candidate will be part of a multidisciplinary hiring initiative to build the new Baker School of Public Policy and Public Affairs, the first such organization at a public institution in the State of Tennessee. We seek future colleagues who will help build the School and can contribute fresh ideas, a growth mindset, and interdisciplinary experience.

In addition to teaching responsibilities, the candidates will be expected to contribute to the Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs, one of three active research and engagement centers that are part of the School. The other centers are the Center for Energy, Transportation, and Environmental Policy and the Institute of American Civics.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit the following via Interfolio, <http://apply.interfolio.com/149644>

Please include a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, teaching evaluations (if available), and names of three references. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, contact Krista Wiegand, Professor and Director of the Center for National Security and Foreign Affairs (kwiegand@utk.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14670

University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) School of Public Health

Rank: Health Services Research Open Rank Tenure Track Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Health Care, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston (UTHealth) School of Public Health seeks applicants for a full-time open rank tenure track faculty position, who are passionate about Health Services Research with high impact on health policy, health services delivery, health outcomes, comparative effectiveness research, health communication, socio-economic determinants of health, population health, and/or public health. Interested faculty should also have content expertise and teaching capabilities from among the following areas: policy or political science, policy analysis and assessment of legislative efforts, quantitative or qualitative research methods, survey design, geographic information system methodologies, demography, big data analysis, healthcare payments systems, healthcare financing, health outcomes and quality of care research, and health IT.

The UTHealth School of Public Health has more than 165 faculty and over 1300 students located in and around Austin, Brownsville, Dallas, El Paso, Houston and San Antonio, all strategically located across Texas. The UTHealth School of Public Health is a top ranked school with a strategic vision for leading population health innovation and practice. This position is in the Department of Management, Policy and Community Health (MPACH) at the Houston campus.

Houston is the fourth largest city in the United States and boasts a strong economy with a relatively low cost of living (www.houstontx.gov). The Houston Campus is located in the heart of the Texas Medical Center, the largest medical complex in the world—with eight million patient visits, and more than 180,000 surgeries annually. Texas Medical Center members include but are not limited to: MD Anderson Cancer Center, Texas Children's Hospital, Memorial Hermann Health System, CHI's St. Luke Health, and Houston Methodist. Texas is a large and diverse state that has not expanded Medicaid, creating unique opportunities for health services research.

Primary responsibilities will be: (1) establishing an externally funded research program focused on health services research; (2) mentoring emerging scholars in health services research; (3) teaching in MPH and/or doctoral programs; and (4) serving in institutional and external capacities.

Qualifications include: (1) an earned doctoral degree in health services research, public policy, health policy, public health, or other related social science fields; (2) a track record and/or strong promise of obtaining peer-reviewed funding and publications; (3) expertise in health services, health outcomes and policy research, and big data analysis; (4) commitment to excellence in teaching and advising graduate students; and (5) excellent written and oral communication skills.

Interested applicants should complete the web application at: <https://careers.uth.tmc.edu/us/en/job/240001MH>

Address any questions to Suja S. Rajan, Ph.D., Chair, HSR Search Committee at suja.s.rajan@uth.tmc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

UTHealth is committed to providing equal opportunity in all employment-related activities without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, gender identity or expression, veteran status or any other basis prohibited by law or university policy. Reasonable accommodation, based on disability or religious observances, will be considered in accordance with the applicable law and UTHealth policy. The University maintains affirmative action programs with respect to women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and eligible veterans in accordance with applicable law. This is a security-sensitive position and thereby subject to Texas Education code §51.215. A background check will be required for the final candidate.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14672

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy

Specializations: Health Care, Environmental Policy, Science & Technology

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Public Policy, to begin in August 2025. We are especially interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in one of these areas or at their nexus: health, environmental, and/or technology politics and policymaking. The Department includes and welcomes a wide range of methodologies.

Candidates should demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate to the rank. The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-level undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. They should serve as an effective teacher who can relate the real-world application of public policy ideas and theories to students. They will also provide research advising to students.

A completed Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of appointment. ABDs will be considered.

To apply, applicants should go to <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/29334> and submit the following materials:

Cover letter
Curriculum vitae
Transcripts
A research statement
One to two writing samples
A teaching statement
If available, evidence of teaching ability (such as syllabi and/or evaluations)
Contact information for three references. Referees will be automatically notified to upload their letters as soon as possible.

Applicants must apply by September 30, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately after that and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Kayla Canelo at kayla.canelo@uta.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/30/2024
Date Posted: 8/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14675

Augusta University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

Assistant Professor in Political Science

Job ID: 275959

Location: Summerville Campus

Full/Part Time: Full Time

Job Summary

Job ID: 275959

Position # 40071484

The Katherine Reese Pamplin College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, Department of Social Sciences at Augusta University, is seeking to fill a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor for its proposed PhD program in Intelligence, Defense, and Cybersecurity Policy, anticipated to begin August 2025. The selected candidate will be expected to teach courses in this program, as well as our Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) and to implement an active research agenda in Cyber and Intelligence. Candidates must have a PhD in Intelligence Studies, Political Science, International Relations, Security Studies, or a related field and a broad concentration in security, national defense, and conflict. Candidates should demonstrate potential for excellence in research including writing and securing grants and a strong commitment to teaching, including an interest in online instruction. Please see Augusta University Promotion and Tenure website in the Shift/Salary/Benefits section of this posting.

Responsibilities

- Teach courses in the Intelligence, Defense, and Cybersecurity Policy PhD program
- Teach courses in our Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS).
- Implement an active research agenda in Cyber, Intelligence, and Security Studies.
- Participate in shared governance of department, college, and university as assigned.

Required Qualifications

PhD in Intelligence Studies, Political Science, International Relations, Security Studies, or a related field (completed and conferred by start of hire, August 1, 2025).

Assistant Professor- Terminal degree (or nearing its completion), or its equivalent in training, ability, and/or experience.

Required faculty employment qualifications for all USG institutions and all academic ranks within these institutions shall be:

- Consistent with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC)'s requirements for institutional accreditation;
- Evidence of ability as a teacher;
- Evidence of activity as a scholar and ability in all other duties assigned;
- Successful experience (which will necessarily be waived for those just entering the academic profession who meet all other requirements); and,
- Desirable personal qualities judged on the basis of personal interview, complete biographical data, and recommendations.

Preferred Qualifications

- Research/teaching/experience with open-source intelligence
- Experience with social-media analysis and/or information warfare
- Experience with cyber-intelligence and policy/strategy/theory
- Experience with research methods, data analytics, and/or machine-learning
- Experience teaching in person and online
- Grant writing experience or potential/willingness for grant writing.

Shift/Salary/Benefits

This position is academic year based and typically works August through May, depending on dates outlined in offer letter an annual contract.

The intended work commitment or full-time equivalent (FTE) for each of these positions is 1.0.

Assistant Professor Salary and compensation is commensurate with education, experience, and achievements. The salary is subject to availability of funds.

Comprehensive benefits include medical, dental, vision, sick leave, generous retirement plans, tuition waiver, wellness options, and much more!

Also, our full-time employees who have been employed with us successfully for more than 6 months can be considered for the Tuition Assistance Program.

Rank and salary are determined at the time of hire and are based on a variety of factors including but not limited to experience, education, credentials, specialty, training, etc., while also considering internal equity and market data.

Advancement through the faculty ranks at Augusta University is only through the annual Promotion and Tenure process in which faculty may apply if eligible (typically five-year increments). For more information on ranks, please review the Augusta University Promotion and Tenure website: <https://www.augusta.edu/faculty-affairs/promotionandtenure.php>

College/Department Information

The Katherine Reese Pamplin College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences forms the heart of the liberal arts mission of Augusta University. We foster critical thinking about complex questions of the human experience; cultivate skills in written, verbal, and creative expression; promote active citizenship and community engagement; and prepare graduates for a variety of careers in quickly changing globalized environments. Our faculty and staff share a deep commitment to developing the intellectual potential of our students. We offer many undergraduate degrees as well as select graduate and minor programs that allow our students to gain the knowledge and skills that will transfer to career success. Explore opportunities for growth, including undergraduate research, study abroad, internships, and community service.

The Department of Social Sciences is the academic home to over 400 students in undergraduate degrees programs in Political Science; Criminal Justice; Sociology; Health, Society, and Policy; Nonprofit Leadership and Administration; and Social work along with masters programs in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) and Public Administration (MPA). Our MAISS program, with over 60 current students and 7 faculty members, is growing and plans to offer a PhD starting in Fall 2025.

The department is located on the beautiful and historic Summerville campus in a building with newly remodeled classrooms. The city of Augusta is home of the US Army's Cyber Command at Fort Eisenhower and the world-renowned Masters Golf Tournament and is the birthplace of music icon James Brown. Nestled along the banks of the Savannah River, Augusta is located approximately 2.5 hours from the cosmopolitan amenities of Atlanta and Charlotte as well as the outdoor beauty of several beaches and mountains.

About Us

Augusta University is Georgia's innovation center for education and health care, training the next generation of innovators, leaders, and healthcare providers in classrooms and clinics on four campuses in Augusta and locations across the state. More than 10,500 students choose Augusta for educational opportunities at the center of Georgia's cybersecurity hub and experiential learning that blends arts and application, humanities, and the health sciences. Augusta is home to Georgia's only public academic health center, where groundbreaking research is creating a healthier, more prosperous Georgia, and world-class clinicians are bringing the medicine of tomorrow to patient care today. Our <https://www.augusta.edu/about/mission.php> make Augusta University an institution like no other.

The [https://www.usg.edu/hr/orientation/welcome\_to\_the\_board\_of Regents\_university\_system\_office](https://www.usg.edu/hr/orientation/welcome_to_the_board_of Regents_university_system_office) is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Location

Our Summerville Campus:

2500 Walton Way, Augusta, GA 30904

Conditions of Employment

All selected candidates are required to successfully pass a Background Check review prior to starting with Augusta University.

If applicable for the specific position based on the duties: the candidate will also need to have a credit check completed for Positions of Trust and or approved departmental Purchase Card usage.

Motor vehicle reports are required for positions that are required to drive an Augusta University vehicle.

For Faculty Hires: Final candidates will be required to provide proof of completed academic degree(s) as well as post-secondary coursework in the form of original transcript(s). Those candidates trained by a foreign institution will also be required to provide an educational/credential evaluation.

All employees are responsible for ensuring the confidentiality, availability, and integrity of sensitive [patient, student, employee, financial, business, etc.] information by exercising sound judgment and adhering to cybersecurity and privacy policies during their employment and beyond.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Augusta University is proud to be an equal opportunity employer welcoming applicants from underrepresented groups, including individuals with disabilities and veterans.

How To Apply

To be considered an applicant for this position, you must apply online at <https://www.augusta.edu/hr/jobs/#job-portals>.

Please upload a cover letter describing research, teaching, and other pertinent qualifications; a curriculum vitae; an unofficial copy of graduate school transcripts (the successful candidate will be required to submit official copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts); and a list of three references. These documents should be submitted as one combined document.

Questions can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Craig Albert, in the Department of Social Sciences at <mailto:calbert@augusta.edu>. The committee will begin reviewing applications immediately.

Other Information

This position is also responsible for promoting a customer-friendly environment and providing superior service to our patients, students, faculty, and employees. “Augusta University is a patient-and family-centered care institution, where employees partner every day with patients and families for success.”

Augusta University is a tobacco-free environment, and the use of any tobacco products on any part of the campus, both inside and outside, is strictly prohibited.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5543810>

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14667

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

The University of Michigan Ford School of Public Policy invites applicants for the U-M Presidential Postdoctoral Fellowship Program (PPDF) <https://presidentspostdoc.umich.edu/index.php#>. Postdoctoral research fellowships are coupled with faculty mentoring, professional development, and academic networking opportunities

The University of Michigan views these postdoctoral fellowships as providing an exceptional opportunity to recruit potential new faculty to tenure-track positions at the University by offering either a postdoc alone or a combined postdoc and tenure track faculty appointment to follow.

The University seeks applicants whose research, teaching, and service will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Applications are welcomed and encouraged from all qualified individuals regardless of background and identity. The program is particularly interested in scholars with the potential to bring to their research and undergraduate teaching the critical perspective that comes from their non-traditional educational background or understanding of the experiences of groups historically underrepresented in higher education.

The online application for the 2024-25 award cycle will be available on Sunday, September 1, 2024. The deadline for submitting an application to the University of Michigan's President's Postdoctoral Fellowship Program is Friday, November 1, 2024.

Please direct inquiries about this position to Bethany Christoff, cbe-thany@umich.edu

Additional information and a link to the application can be found at: <https://presidentspostdoc.umich.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14661

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Short-term Visiting Fellowships, 2025-2026

Job Title: Visiting Fellow

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00005

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year's visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for advanced or mid-career scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established Latin American writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on research or creative projects who may benefit from a short stay at Princeton University.

Appointments will be for one month during the 2025-2026 academic year (September 1, 2025 to June 30, 2026) or the summer (July and August) to be determined on a case-by-case basis. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines stipend on the basis of current academic rank; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of seniority and current institutional affiliation.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 13, 2024. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34842>.

- 1) Cover letter (in English) indicating the calendar month the applicant proposes to stay), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
- 2) Curriculum vitae (in English);
- 3) A statement (in English) describing the research project as well as the ways Princeton resources and/or faculty will be useful for the project (1,000-1500 words);
- 4) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14516

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Visiting Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Visiting Research Scholar

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00004

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are expected to be for one or two semesters, during the 2025-2026 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2025 - January 16, 2026; spring semester: January 16, 2026 - June 1, 2026). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 13, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials (in English) and apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34841>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae;
- 3) One undergraduate seminar proposal or syllabus for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how the course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;
- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 - 2,000 words);
- 5) The names and contact information of two referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Advanced degree preferred. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14515

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Education Policy (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor)

Education Policy (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor)

College/School/Unit: LBJ School of Public Affairs

Department:

Posted: Aug 5, 2024

Apply By: Open until filled

Description

The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs ("LBJ School") at the University of Texas at Austin (UT) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor of Public Policy to begin in Fall of academic year 2025-26 (with an August 2025 start date). One of the nation's top ten programs in public affairs, the LBJ School is seeking to strengthen its faculty in education policy design, implementation, and evaluation.

The LBJ School comprises more than 45 faculty members and approximately 350 graduate students, and a new undergraduate degree that will eventually serve another 400 students. It offers multi-disciplinary curricula leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts of Public Affairs, Master of Public Affairs, Master of Global Policy Studies, and Ph.D. in Public Policy.

The appointment may be joint with UT's College of Education. Ranked among the top public colleges of education in the country, UT's College of Education endeavors to bridge research and practice while promoting equity, excellence, innovation, empowerment, and community.

The ideal candidate will possess proven experience and expertise as an education policy scholar in one or more of the following areas:

- Impact evaluation, effectiveness and cost-effectiveness of education programs and policies, and standards of evidence used to guide policy decisions (e.g., What Works Clearinghouse, tiered evidence policies).
- Topics in the economics of education—e.g., school finance, educational inequality and access, teacher labor markets, school choice and accountability, human capital and returns to education.
- Education technology and public policy—e.g., the growth and regulation of online higher education, micro-credentialing, and online learning platforms.
- Policy applications of the science of learning and motivation—e.g., science of reading laws, nudging, teacher training, and curricular redesign.

Research inside or outside the US is welcome, as is research that mixes qualitative and quantitative methods.

The successful candidate will teach topical and methodological courses focused on public policy. The appointee will conduct and publish scholarly research and seek grant opportunities in support of their research and/or teaching activities. The appointee will participate in faculty governance in the LBJ School and the College of Education as appropriate.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Economics, Psychology, Public Policy, Sociology, or Education with an emphasis on policy is required. ABD candidates will be considered if the doctoral degree will be complete by the time of employment.

Experience in college teaching and evidence of scholarship or scholarly potential is preferred. We value experience with educational decision makers at the national, state, or district level, as well as experience working in educationally underserved communities.

Application Instructions

Interested candidates can submit their cover letter, CV, statement of teaching, three years of teaching evaluations (or fewer if unavailable), three letters of reference, and one article-length writing sample via Interfolio. Questions about the position can be directed to Paul von Hippel at <mailto:paulvonhippel@utexas.edu>. Questions about the application process can be directed to Shannon LaFevers at <mailto:slafevers@austin.utexas.edu>

The search committee will begin considering applications November 17. The position will remain open until filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Texas at Austin, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5513118>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14631

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00006

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral associates are expected to participate regularly in the scholarly and academic activities of the program.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. Start date is around September 1, 2025.

Appointments are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year, starting September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34843>.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4. A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5. Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Eligible candidate must have less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14514

Agnes Scott College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Agnes Scott College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level to begin in Fall 2025. The position requires specialization in American institutions, policy, and/or law. Preference will be given to candidates who may be able to teach courses in international law and organizations as well. Successful candidates should expect to offer courses that will contribute to other programs at the college, such as International Relations and Human Rights, and will also serve ASC's pre-law students. Such courses would also contribute to the Summit program, the College's general education on global learning and leadership curriculum. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABDs will be considered), as well as evidence of effective and inclusive teaching and a robust research and publication agenda. A commitment to serve a diverse student population is required.

To apply, email the following to Professor Eleanor Morris through faculty@agnesscott.edu:

- ? Cover letter that outlines the candidate's qualifications in research and teaching
- ? Curriculum vitae
- ? Three (3) letters of recommendation
- ? Unofficial graduate transcript(s)
- ? Research statement
- ? Statement on teaching philosophy
- ? Teaching evaluations
- ? Writing sample

Review of applications will start October 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14554

University of Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics, Critical Race and Ethnic Studies

The Department of Political Science and the Critical Race and Ethnic Studies Program (CRES) at the University of Denver invite applications for a jointly appointed tenure-line Assistant Professor to start in Fall 2025 in the field of American politics. The Department of Political Science consists of eleven tenured or tenure-line faculty supporting the Bachelors of Arts degree in political science within the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Denver. Founded in 2018, the Critical Race and Ethnic Studies program (CRES) is a full program with two current tenure-line faculty, a tenured faculty director, and numerous affiliated faculty members. Like Political Science, CRES offers both an undergraduate major and minor. Both also serve undergraduates across campus by offering courses for the common curriculum.

Our faculty are dedicated to the robust pursuit of research, publication, and public engagement. We also value diversity, equity, and inclusion: a commitment by all constituents to create an academic experience that embraces and engages diverse perspectives and communities within an atmosphere of mutual respect. Our curricula endeavor to develop students' abilities to think critically, communicate clearly, write effectively, and develop compelling analytical argumentation based on justifiable sources of empirical evidence and analytical reasoning.

Position Summary

We seek applications from American Politics scholars who study Race and/or Ethnicity. Specific concentrations within American Politics, Race, and/or Ethnicity are open. Scholars of Political Sociology and Public Policy who study Race and/or Ethnicity in the U.S. political context are also encouraged to apply.

The University of Denver embraces a teacher-scholar model where faculty balance their commitments to rigorous scholarship and to undergraduate education. The position requires teaching the equivalent of five in-person courses over the standard academic year (three quarters) in the Political Science department and/or CRES program, covering a range of CRES major requirements (i.e., Introduction to CRES, Quantitative Methods in CRES, or the CRES Capstone) and cross-listed upper division courses. The faculty member will be a fully participating and voting member of both programs. During the first two years of the position, the faculty member will also assist the Director of the CRES program in developing the new CRES major. To facilitate this, the faculty member will be protected from other substantial service obligations. After the first two years, the CRES program and Political Science department have established a practical distribution of teaching and service obligations to protect the faculty member from work overload, and that arrangement will be codified through a signed memorandum of understanding.

Our curricula are delivered via conventional face-to-face classes on our traditional residential campus, with most online-only courses occurring during summer sessions (in which faculty may elect to teach for supplemental income, pending sufficient enrollment). We welcome the incorporation of experiential learning opportunities in the curriculum. Adhering to the teacher-scholar model, the position requires maintaining an active scholarly agenda as demonstrated via scholarly publications, academic conference participation, etc. The person holding this position would also be expected to contribute to University, College, and departmental/program service.

Essential Functions

Pursue a research agenda that results in high-quality scholarly publications.

Teach the equivalent of five courses across three quarters per academic year, including cross-listed upper division classes between Political Science and the CRES program, as well as introductory, methods, theory, or senior project courses within the CRES program specifically. The teaching schedule will be annually coordinated with the CRES program director and Political Science department chair.

Meet outside of class in office hours on campus and/or online to provide guidance and assistance to students enrolled in courses taught and to provide major advising to political science and CRES students.

Deploy best practices through the University of Denver's current course management system (Canvas), utilizing Canvas tools such as discussion boards, quizzes, assignments with uploaded files, and the gradebook as the means to collect student work, communicate feedback and assign grades, and to conduct class sessions and individual appointments remotely when the need for this arises.

Advise students about major and BA requirements.

Contribute to University, College, departmental, and program service

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities

Advanced scholarly expertise (PhD level) in the field of American politics, focusing on Race, Ethnicity, and Politics.

Successful publication of peer-reviewed scholarship on American politics, focusing on Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, and/or evidence of future promise as a scholar.

Excellent skills in oral and written communication.

Excellent undergraduate teaching skills

Ability to interact constructively with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and undergraduate students.

Required Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science, Political Sociology, or related field or interdisciplinary program (e.g. American studies or Public Policy). Must have a Ph.D. by start of appointment.

Evidence of a relevant established scholarly agenda as indicated by peer-reviewed publications.

Experience serving as an instructor of record in undergraduate &/or graduate courses in political (or related social) science.

Interest in developing upper-division undergraduate courses to help build out the CRES curriculum.

Growth toward teaching excellence and a commitment to incorporate inclusive teaching methods and/or pedagogies to effectively engage students from a wide range of backgrounds.

A demonstrated commitment to, and experience in, promoting DEI and in using inclusive pedagogies.

Experience using course management software (such as Canvas or similar).

Preferred Qualifications

Experience independently teaching two or more courses concurrently

Working Environment

1. Standard office environment.
2. Unexpected interruptions occur often and stress level is moderate to high.
3. Noise level is quiet to moderate.

Physical Activities

1. Ability to sit in front of a computer for an extended period of time.
2. Occasionally required to move about the office/campus with the capability of transporting objects up to 20 lbs.

Work Schedule

While the University's administrative offices are open Monday – Friday, 8:00 am – 4:30 pm, faculty schedules vary from term to term and are based on courses taught, service commitments, and research agendas. The University's academic calendars are posted on the registrar's website (the law school is on a semester system and has a different academic calendar).

Application Deadline

For consideration, please submit your application materials by 4:00 p.m. (MST) September 9, 2024.

Special Instructions

Candidates must apply online through jobs.du.edu to be considered. Only applications submitted online will be accepted.

Salary Range:

The salary range for this position is $72,000-$82,000

The University of Denver has provided a compensation range that represents its good faith estimate of what the University may pay for the position at the time of posting. The University may ultimately pay more or less than the posted compensation range. The salary offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors such as the qualifications of the selected candidate, departmental budget availability, internal salary equity considerations, and available market information, but not based on a candidate's sex or any other protected status.

Benefits:

The University of Denver offers excellent benefits, including medical, dental, retirement, paid time off, tuition benefit and ECO pass. The University of Denver is a private institution that empowers students who want to make a difference. Learn more about the University of Denver.

Please include the following documents with your application:

1. CV that indicates scholarly specialization, publications and/or working papers, and courses you have taught before as an instructor.
2. Cover Letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for this position
3. Three distinct statements (1-2 pages each), combined into one document with identifying headers, that articulate your (a) research agenda, (b) teaching philosophy and methods to engage students, and (c) how your research, teaching, and/or service contribute to DU's values, practices, and actions regarding diversity, equity, and inclusion. Candidates can view DU's DEI Action Plan [<https://www.du.edu/equity/dei-action-plan>] and/or the College of Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences (CAHSS) DEI Strategic Plan [<https://liberalarts.du.edu/news-events/all-articles/diversity-equity-and-inclusion-strategic-plan-cahss>] for reference.
4. Three samples of written work (e.g., two chapters from dissertation or book and one article).
5. Evidence of teaching effectiveness including two course syllabi, a set of teaching evaluations from two different courses, and any other relevant artifacts of teaching excellence (e.g., a teaching award or recognition), all combined into one pdf file with headers identifying each discrete component.
6. For applicants who have not finished their PhD, please include graduate transcripts.
7. Contact information for three professional/academic references who will be emailed to upload letters of recommendation upon request. Candidates using Interfolio may arrange to send all three letters of recommendation in one pdf file via email to Darlene.Squires@du.edu. No other materials beyond letters of recommendation will be accepted via Interfolio.

The University of Denver recognizes that its success in being a great university dedicated to the public good depends greatly on how well it engages, supports, and champions the values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. As part of our intentionality in recruiting and retaining faculty from a wide variety of historically excluded intersecting identities, including those from communities of color, with diverse gender and sexual identities, first-generation college graduates, or with disabilities, new faculty will have the opportunity to choose to participate in a university-wide initiative. This initiative will connect new colleagues in a cohort, building community across units with supportive programming led by the Office of the Vice Provost of Faculty Affairs in collaboration with the Division of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and each faculty participant's academic unit. To learn more about the University of Denver's commitments and work in support of DEI and J, please visit: <https://www.du.edu/equity>. For more information about this program or if you have any questions, please email inclusion@du.edu and/or visit <https://duvpfa.du.edu/faculty-resources/prospective-faculty/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/9/2024

Date Posted: 7/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14543

University of Southern California

Rank: Full-Time, Teaching or Practice Track Faculty

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications has begun. We will continue to consider new applications until August 1, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies
Department of Political Science and International Relations
Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352
University of Southern California
Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044
morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14523

University of California, Riverside

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy

Position Announcement:

Assistant Professor of Public Policy, University of California, Riverside

The School of Public Policy at UCR is seeking to hire up to two Assistant Professors of Public Policy. We are seeking scholars who can conduct research and teaching on the politics of the policy process (inclusive of political advocacy, policy creation, implementation, and/or policy evaluation). Competitive candidates are expected to have produced research that: (a) prospectively or retrospectively assesses the impact of specific public policies on humans, the built environment, and/or the natural world; (b) studies how policy is created and implemented and how organizations and implementers operate; (c) evaluates how and when advocacy for policy change is successful; (d) proposes or evaluates reforms to political processes that might improve (or hinder) policy outcomes; and/or (e) develops analytical methods for policy research. The School of Public Policy values public policies that promote efficiency, equity, prosperity, and justice; we are particularly interested in scholars who apply these principles in their research and teaching.

(Note: this search is in addition to a search we will be posting in September that is "open to area of public policy scholarship". If you are also interested in being considered for the "open" search, please additionally respond to that search advertisement.)

Applicants must have an earned doctorate by the time of appointment in a relevant field and demonstrated excellence in research and teaching. As these experiences may be helpful in the production of policy research and/or teaching public policy students, the following will be considered a positive (but not necessary) applicant characteristic: (a) having a bachelor's degree, master's degree, or PhD in public policy, public affairs, or public administration; and/or (b) work experience in government agencies, legislative offices, policy think tanks and consulting firms, or political advocacy organizations. Instructional and mentoring activities include teaching four, 10-week courses per academic year and guiding the research of undergraduate and graduate students.

The School of Public Policy values diversity among its faculty and strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups.

The Assistant Professor Series is a full-time position with the rights and responsibilities of membership in the Academic Senate. Appointments and reappointments are limited to a maximum term of two years. The total University service with this title may not exceed eight years except as provided in APM - 133-12-b and 133-12-c https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/apm/apm-133.pdf. Advancement through the faculty and non-senate academic ranks at the University of California is through a series of structured, merit-based evaluations, occurring every 2-3 years, each of which includes substantial peer input. Teaching, scholarly professional achievement, and activities, and university and public service constitute the criteria for advancement.

All materials must be uploaded using UCR's on-line application system via <https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/JPF01951>. To ensure full consideration, complete applications including cover letter, CV, writing samples, a research statement, a teaching statement, evidence of teaching excellence, statement of past and/or planned future contributions to advancing diversity and inclusive excellence, and at least 3 letters of recommendation should be received by September 15, 2024. Review of applicants will continue until the position is filled. The appointment will commence as early as July 1, 2025, or as late as September 1, 2025, per negotiation with the candidate.

The posted UC salary scales, <https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/compensation/index.html>, set the minimum pay determined by rank and/or step at appointment. See Table 1 https://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel-programs/\_files/2024-25/oct-2024-scales/t1.pdf for the salary range. The salary range for this appointment is $74,600 to $97,200 annually. "Off-scale salaries" and other components of pay, i.e., a salary that is higher than the published system-wide salary at the designated rank and step, are offered when necessary to meet competitive conditions.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a University employee, you will be required to comply with all applicable University policies and/or collective bargaining agreements, as may be amended from time to time. Federal, state, or local government directives may impose additional requirements.

For more information about the position, please contact Victoria Anaya at victoria.anaya@ucr.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14501

American University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Violence and Terrorism

The Department of Justice, Law & Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning in Academic Year 2025-26. For this position, the department is seeking scholars with substantive expertise in political violence and terrorism. The search is open regarding specialty, but the Department is especially interested in scholars whose research and teaching interests include terrorism, political violence, radicalization, extremism, and cybersecurity. Applications from candidates who would enhance the diversity of the department are especially welcome.

Applicants should hold a PhD in political science, criminology, sociology, or other closely related discipline. Candidates who possess a law degree only (J.D. or LL.M.) will not be considered for this position. Candidates should be effective teachers and must be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research. Most of all, the department seeks scholars who will further its goals of producing high impact research and providing innovative undergraduate and graduate teaching. Competitive candidates will possess a strong background in social science methodologies and a productive research portfolio, including publications in high-quality peer reviewed outlets. The Department is home to a range of disciplines, approaches, and methods. We are particularly interested in individuals whose research is interdisciplinary. In addition to scholarship and teaching, all faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses. Possible courses include Causes of Terrorism, Radicalization, and various research methods classes. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service to the department, school, and university. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Link here:

https://urldefense.com/v3/\_\_https://american.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/AU/job/Main-Campus-Washington-DC/Assistant-Professor\_R1353\_\_!!IaT\_gp1N!xkkDdE2iyhEXP5\_KU53wv373Ac-jan8a3J5-HMYlhfhpQCqNErKxPGc8dVYZnM5TkeJg6ggiWx5zzwo0CsYA\$

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled, subject to on-going budgetary approvals. The positions begin August 1, 2025. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completion date by August 2025.

Salary and benefits are competitive, with an expected salary range of $90,000 to $110,000. Please submit applications via Workday. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, copies of up to three recently published articles and/or working papers, and three letters of recommendation (note: instead of letters, a list of references is sufficient if applicant currently holds tenure). Please contact Ms. Sarah Feighery, Staff Assistant, at JLC\_FacultySearch@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite. Click here to learn about American University's unique benefit options.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Employees in staff positions at American University must deliver their services to the university from either the District of Columbia, Maryland, or Virginia, or perform work on-site at the university.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

Current American University Employees

American University current employees must apply through their employee Workday account. If you are a current employee at American University, please log into Workday and select the Find Jobs report which will take you to our internal career listings.

Contact Us

For more information or assistance with the American University careers site, email theworkline@american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14495

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the 2025-26 academic year.

The Department seeks to hire a teacher-scholar whose research focuses on Latina/o/x/e politics in the U.S. All methodological and theoretical approaches to Latina/o/x/e politics are welcomed provided they enhance the department's existing areas of substantive expertise. Topics of interest include but are not limited to immigration policy, political behavior, state and local or urban politics, social movements, or identity politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach either Introduction to American Government or Introduction to Public Policy and to develop new electives in Latino/a/x politics and the areas noted above based on expertise. The position carries a 3-2 teaching load.

Applicants must either hold a PhD in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation and degree requirements by August 1, 2025.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With approximately 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see <https://polisci.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, and separate research and teaching statements. The cover letter should provide a brief summary of the candidate's research and teaching interests and describe their commitment to the teacher-scholar model. The research statement should expand on the candidate's research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and future professional development goals, with particular emphasis on involvement in and commitment to inclusive pedagogy. In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14486

Clemson University

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor or Professor in domestic, comparative, or international public policy; policymaking processes; or public administration, to begin in August 2025. We welcome applicants from all subfields in political science, especially those that have an interest in the development and promotion of our Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Ph.D. Policy Studies programs, as well as mentoring graduate students. This is a nine-month faculty position, and qualified candidates will be considered for tenure on arrival. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or in a related field.

The successful candidate also will be expected to pursue an active research agenda resulting in a strong record of peer-reviewed publications. We especially encourage applications from candidates with a history of external research funding or definite plans to apply for grants. The position's teaching responsibilities will include offering courses in public policy, public administration, or in related areas within the Department's Ph.D., MPA, and undergraduate programs. The expected teaching load is two courses per semester.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, along with its master's degree in public administration and Ph.D. in policy studies. The Department has 26 full-time faculty and 3 full-time staff. Clemson University is a land-grant institution located in western South Carolina in the Greenville metropolitan area. Its strategic plan—Clemson Elevate—articulates three dynamic goals: delivering the #1 student experience in the nation, doubling research productivity by 2035, and transforming lives statewide and beyond. These overlapping priorities are intended to continue Clemson's development as a leading public research university, sustain its Carnegie R1 status, and position itself for membership in the Association of American Universities (AAU).

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, candidates should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) contact information for three references who will provide confidential letters of recommendation, (4) a research statement, (5) a statement on teaching and student mentoring (including evidence of teaching effectiveness); and (6) sample syllabi for undergraduate and/or graduate courses. Apply at - Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/149108>).

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Adam Warber (awarber@clemson.edu), Search Committee Chair, or to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemson.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14468

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Congress, Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach undergraduate American Politics courses in-person for the Spring 2025 semester. We seek instructors capable of teaching in their area of expertise, in one or more of nearly any area of American Politics (for example, Political Parties, Campaigns and Elections, Public Policy, Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Political Psychology, Social Movements). The instructor would teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity but may be able to teach multiple sections of the same course.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To begin the application process, please send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14463

University of Cincinnati

Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Public Policy

Founded in 1819, the University of Cincinnati ranks among the nation's best urban public research universities. Home to more than 50,000 students, 11,000 faculty and staff and 340,000 alumni, UC combines a Top 35 public research university with a physical setting The New York Times calls "the most ambitious campus design program in the country."

With the launch of Next Lives Here, the Cincinnati Innovation District, a $100 million JobsOhio investment, nine straight years of record enrollment, worldwide leadership in cooperative education, a dynamic academic health center and entry into the Big 12 Conference, UC's momentum has never been stronger. UC's annual budget tops $1.65 billion and its endowment totals $1.8 billion. The University's overall regional economic impact exceeds $10.6 billion, paving the way for the future of Cincinnati.

Job Overview

The School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) at the University of Cincinnati (UC) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in the area of environmental public policy and research methodology. While the tenure-home of the position is in SPIA, the successful candidate is expected to teach cross-listed courses in support of the mission of UC's School of Environment and Sustainability Studies (SEaS). SPIA is seeking to expand its research capacity to leverage broader theories/frameworks of public policy and/or governance, which align with SPIA's mission to advance research with public impact.

SPIA offers a PhD and MA in Political Science, a Master's of Public Administration (MPA), as well as three undergraduate BAs (Political Science, International Affairs, and Law and Society). SPIA also houses three centers—the Center for Cyber Strategy and Policy (CCSP), the Portman Center for Policy Solutions (PCPS), and the Center for Truth, Racial Healing and Transformation (CTRHT). SEaS is home to the Environmental Studies BS and BA, as well as two minor tracks. SEaS brings together expertise in the Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, and Humanities to create a transdisciplinary approach to problem solving in the classroom and in the community.

Essential Functions

The successful candidate will be expected to:

- Apply their research and methodological expertise to an environmental policy-centered research agenda that exhibits potential for external funding. Research in any environmental issue-area or using any methodological approach is welcome.
- Teach primarily, but not exclusively, courses at the undergraduate level. The course load for research active tenure-track faculty is 2-2 (two courses per 2 semesters). All undergraduate courses taught will be cross listed between SPIA and SEaS. Courses might include, but are not limited to, Introduction to Environmental Policy, Environmental Justice, Environmental Science and Politics, and/or Global Environmental Politics. Graduate courses might include Public Policy Research Methods and Environmental Policy.
- Develop their own courses that coincide with their specific area of expertise.
- Perform service activities such as committee membership at the unit level as well as the college, university and at national and international levels with professional organizations, community-engagement, public service, as well as student mentorship and advising.

Minimum Requirements

Prior to the effective date of the appointment, candidates must have a completed PhD (i.e., must have completed all requirements for graduation) in Public Policy, Political Science, or a related field.

The expected appointment will begin August 15, 2025.

Application Process

Interested and qualified applicants must complete our on-line application. <https://jobs.uc.edu/job/Cincinnati-Assistant-Professor-in-Environmental-Public-Policy%2C-College-of-Arts-and-Sciences-OH-45201/1182689900/>

In addition to the basic online application, please provide: a cover letter indicating fit with the job description; full and current CV; contact information for three references (letters of reference will be requested for semifinalists); teaching philosophy statement; one writing sample. A one-page statement addressing the candidate's intended contributions to the University's team culture goals is also required. Please use the 'additional documents' feature to include all these required items. Review of applications will begin August 1, 2024 with applications accepted until the position is filled.

Questions should be directed to Dr. Richard Harknett, Director of SPIA and Search Committee Chair at: Richard.harknett@uc.edu

Compensation and Benefits

UC offers a wide array of complementary and affordable benefit options, to meet the financial, educational, health, and wellness needs of you and your family. Eligibility varies by position and FTE.

Competitive salary range dependent on the candidate's experience. Comprehensive insurance plans including medical, dental, vision, and prescription coverage.

Flexible spending accounts and an award-winning employee wellness program, plus an employee assistance program.

Financial security via our life and long-term disability insurance, accident and illness insurance, and retirement savings plans.

Generous paid time off work options including vacation, sick leave, annual holidays, and winter season days in addition to paid parental leave.

Tuition remission is available for employees and their eligible dependents.

Enjoy discounts for on and off-campus activities and services.

For questions about the UC recruiting process or to request accommodations with the application, please contact Human Resources at jobs@uc.edu.

The University of Cincinnati is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

REQ: 96391

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14467

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invites applications for postdoctoral research associates for individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by July 1, 2025, for the 2025-2026 academic year. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies are of relevance. Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. NCGG invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and related activities for the duration of the fellowship (July 1, 2025- July 1, 2026). Appointments are for one year.

Application Deadline - Applicants should apply by Tuesday, October 1, 2024 (11:59 pm EST) for full consideration; however, posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process - All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35041>.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by July 1, 2025, in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

*Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;

*Current curriculum vitae, including publications;

*2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;

*One writing sample (limit of 50 pages);

*Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Saturday, October 5, 2024. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted on time.

Salary - Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund. This is a one-year appointment.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in December 2024. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14462

South Dakota State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Assistant Professor of Political Science
School of American & Global Studies
South Dakota State University

The School of American & Global Studies (AGS) at South Dakota State University (SDSU) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The School of AGS seeks a dynamic scholar whose field areas include public administration or public policy. Located on our main campus in Brookings, South Dakota, this position is nine months, full time, benefits eligible, and tenure track, with the possibility of supplemental summer salary. The position is supervised by the Director of the School of American & Global Studies. We anticipate a start date of August 22, 2025.

The School of American & Global Studies is a vibrant, interdisciplinary unit, offering B.A./B.S. degrees in American Indian & Indigenous Studies, Global Studies, History, Modern Languages (French, German, Lakota, Spanish), and Political Science as well as standalone minors in Legal Studies, Philosophy, and Religion. Over 300 students major in AGS programs, with another 400 from programs across campus who pursue AGS minors. The school's current composition of 21 tenured and tenure-track faculty and 6 non-tenure track faculty value interdisciplinary and interprofessional collaboration across its research, teaching, and outreach efforts. In alignment with the university's land-grant mission, the schoolhouses four public-facing research and outreach centers: The Ethics Lab, The PHI | Public Humanities Institute, the South Dakota Polling Project, and the recently launched Mike Huether Public Service Academy.

South Dakota State University promotes access to and opportunities for all to receive the benefit of and participate in education, research, and service and is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to this land-grant mission of access.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

The successful candidate will teach three classes per semester in consultation with the director based on student needs and school/program strategic priorities. This faculty member will mentor students in the Political Science program and the Huether Public Service Academy and contribute to the overall academic environment of the School. The new member of the SDSU faculty will conduct scholarly research consistent with their field. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom instructors with an active research agenda.

SALARY RANGE:

The salary is commensurate with qualifications. We offer a generous retirement plan that includes 6% matching, 9.34 hours of sick leave each month, and eleven paid holidays. Relocation benefits are available per university's guidelines.

BENEFITS:

We offer a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusions and access. The university is part of a dynamic community for families, students, young professionals, and retirees, which offers an abundance of attractions and activities. South Dakota State University offers a wide range of excellent benefits including medical, dental, and flexible benefits, retirement plans, compensation packages, paid holidays, and leave. Employees also have access to internal and state-sponsored training as well as reduced tuition for state-supported courses at all State of South Dakota academic institutions.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- Hold a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Public Policy, Political Science or closely related field by start date.
- Ability to teach public policy (open specialization) and/or public administration courses as well as state and local government.
- Ability or potential to develop and teach undergraduate elective courses in the candidate's area of specialization.
- Ability or potential to develop and sustain an active research agenda.
- Ability to contribute to program and school initiatives through general service.
- Effective written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills.

THE UNIVERSITY:

South Dakota State University is the state's largest, most comprehensive university with more than 200 academic programs, an enrollment of approximately 12,000 students, and over $60 million annual research expenditures.

South Dakota State University offers a rich academic experience in an environment of inclusion and access through inspired, student-centered education, creative activities and research, innovation and engagement that improve the quality of life in South Dakota, the region, the nation, and the world. Its employees embrace the university's core values of being people-centered, expanding knowledge through creativity, embracing organizational and personal integrity, commitment to diversity of thought, and excellence through continuous improvement.

The College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences is the intellectual and cultural heart of SDSU. The college consists of seven interdisciplinary schools—American and Global Studies, Communication and Journalism, Design, English and Interdisciplinary Studies, the Ness School of Management and Economics, and Performing Arts—additionally, the college includes programs in military science (Army ROTC) and Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC). The college's unique administrative structure supports and encourages interdisciplinary collaboration among both faculty and students, allowing each unit and discipline to thrive. The college is committed to supporting the Land Grant Mission of SDSU. Our faculty regularly conduct research that directly benefits the people of South Dakota and our region with research that engages our communities, supporting their social, cultural, and economic development.

As the state's 1862 Morrill Act land grant institution, the work of the university is carried out on its main resident campus in Brookings, at sites in Sioux Falls, Pierre, Rapid City, and Aberdeen, and through SDSU Extension offices and Agricultural Experiment Station research sites across South Dakota.

Jackrabbits Athletics competes as an NCAA Division I member with membership in the Missouri Valley Football Conference, the Summit League, and the Big XII.

The university benefits from a robust investor and alumni network actively engaged in classrooms and student ventures. The recent SDSU Bold and Blue comprehensive campaign—the university's largest fundraising effort—raised over $600 million to support the university.

BROOKINGS, SOUTH DAKOTA:

Brookings is home to approximately 24,000 residents and is located 60 miles north of Sioux Falls and 200 miles west of Minneapolis.

Brookings is listed as an ideal community for families, students, young professionals, and retirees, and is rated among the safest and most vibrant cities in South Dakota.

The Brookings Public School District educates approximately 3,300 K-12 students and ranks among the state's highest academic achieving school districts. The district includes three elementary schools, an intermediate school for fourth and fifth grade, one middle school, and a high school.

The city also boasts an abundance of attractions and activities, including the Children's Museum of South Dakota, the Dakota Nature Park, the South Dakota Art Museum, McCrory Gardens, the South Dakota Agricultural Heritage Museum, an outdoor adventure center, and the Brookings summer arts festival.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

Position is open until filled with full consideration given to applications received by September 20, 2024.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

SDSU accepts applications through an on-line employment site. To apply, visit: <https://yourfuture.sdbor.edu>, search by the position title, view the job announcement, and click on "apply for this job." This system will guide you through the electronic application form. This employment site will also require the attachment of a cover letter, which should specifically address how the candidate meets the qualifications as outlined in the advertisement, teaching statement, CV, and a reference page with the contact information for three professional references. Email applications will not be accepted. Please contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128 if you require assistance with this process.

Any offer of employment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to, successful completion of a criminal background check.

South Dakota State University is a tobacco free environment. It is the policy of the University to maintain a drug-free environment and to thereby establish, promote, and maintain a safe and healthy working and learning environment for employees and students. This position is subject to South Dakota State University's Drug and Alcohol Testing Policy 4:14.

For questions on the position, contact search committee chair and Professor of Political Science David Wiltse at 605-688-6367 or David.Wiltse@sdstate.edu.

South Dakota State University promotes access to and opportunities for all to receive the benefit of and participate in education, research, and service and is especially interested in candidates that can contribute to this land-grant access mission. SDSU is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to, and SDSU prohibits discrimination on, the basis of, sex, race, color, creed, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran's status, or any other status that may become protected in the offering of all educational programs and employment. Arrangements for accommodations required by disabilities can be made by emailing HR@sdstate.edu. Individuals with concerns regarding discrimination should contact: Equal Opportunity Officer/Title IX Coordinator, Human Resources, Morrill Hall 100, SDSU, Brookings, SD 57007. Phone: (605) 688-4128.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/20/2024
Date Posted: 6/27/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14449

St. Olaf College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy
Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position in American Politics, with a primary focus on institutions and/or law, at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2025. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in race, gender, sexuality, and/or economic inequality, who have a broad background in the discipline, and whose research and teaching interests speak to contemporary public concerns.

The teaching responsibilities, five courses per year, would include Introduction to American Politics as well as upper-level courses depending on the scholar's areas of research and teaching interest, such as courses on Congress, the presidency, the courts, state politics, or constitutional law. We expect that the person who fills this position will contribute to our department as a creative teacher, an engaged scholar, and a collaborative colleague.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by the start of the fall semester is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

About the Department

We are a collegial department, with two faculty members teaching regularly in each of the four subfields. We are committed to supporting our colleagues in their pursuit of creative and thoughtful pedagogy and rigorous scholarship. For more information about the department, visit wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/.

How to Apply

Submit application at: <https://tinyurl.com/4zxwjpdtd>

A complete application includes the following:

References: Provide contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship.
 Cover letter outlining your qualifications and why you are interested in this particular position

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement (500 word limit): Describe how you would contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning community at our college through your teaching, research, and/or service. Include examples of your contributions when possible.

Graduate transcripts (unofficial)

Evidence of Teaching Excellence, including a statement of teaching philosophy, focused on pedagogy in and out of the classroom at a liberal arts college

Research Statement focused on your current scholarship and plans for future scholarship

Writing sample

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration. Finalist interviews are expected in November. Questions about the position, department, or College may be directed to Menevis Cilizoglu, Search Committee Chair, at tt2025ps@stolaf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/20/2024
Date Posted: 6/26/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14446

Purdue University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Association AI and Political Science
Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Artificial Intelligence, Political Science

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science seeks a two-year postdoctoral researcher to assist with projects, papers, and grant proposals in the Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL) and the Computational Social Science Lab (CSS). The postdoctoral fellow will be mentored in research and proposal writing by faculty directors of the labs and participate in an active research community in Political Science and the College of Liberal Arts.

For information about the labs, please see the following websites:

GRAIL: <https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/research/labs/grail/index.html>

CSS: <https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/research/labs/computational-social-science-lab/index.html>

The start date is negotiable, but must fall between August 1, 2024 and January 1, 2025. The position is at Purdue's main campus in West Lafayette, Indiana.

Qualifications

A PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field is required. ABDs will be considered but the successful candidate must provide evidence of completion of all requirements for the PhD prior to the start date of the position. Qualified candidates must have strong skills in writing, quantitative data analysis, data visualization, and research methods. Candidates must have experience managing research projects and a record of successful collaboration. Candidates must also have evidence of a research pipeline related to the aims of GRAIL and the CSS Lab.

About Purdue University

In recent years, the College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has hired a large group of faculty in the area of artificial intelligence (AI), broadly construed. Representing a variety of disciplines in the College, this cohort of scholars expands our capacity to explore the implications of AI development across multiple domains and contribute to disciplinary and interdisciplinary research and educational initiatives surrounding AI in new and important ways.

Political Science is home to 28 faculty and more than 40 PhD students, visiting scholars, and post-docs. Purdue University is a member of the AAU and a land grant university with enrollment of over 52,000 students. The campus is located in West Lafayette, Indiana, an area with a favorable cost of living and a vibrant local community. Purdue University offers high-quality research and computing facilities with many opportunities for collaboration in Centers and Institutes across campus and in the broader region. Purdue University is building world-leading programs in AI, including a new Institute for Physical Artificial Intelligence.

Computational Social Science (CSS) Lab at Purdue University Under the direction of Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich, the Computational Social Science Lab (CSS) was established to promote the application and development of computational methods to large, typically complex, human, and behavioral data. CSS has received coverage both on and off campus for its “revolutionary” approach to social science research, especially its novel use of text, audio, and video data. The lab comprises an interdisciplinary team of undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, and postdoctoral fellows.

Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich joined the faculty at Purdue University in the Fall of 2022. His research uses novel quantitative, automated, and machine learning methods to analyze non-traditional data sources such as audio (or speech) data and video data. His work has appeared in prominent journals like the American Political Science Review, Journal of Politics, Nature Human Behavior, Political Analysis, and Political Psychology. In addition to securing external awards from the NIH and NSF, his work has also been covered by prominent media outlets like The Washington Post, The Economist and National Public Radio (NPR). His most recent work using C-SPAN has looked at gender and social dynamics on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL) at Purdue University The Governance and Responsible AI Lab (GRAIL), co-directed by Dr. Daniel S. Schiff and Dr. Kaylyn Jackson Schiff, conducts research on the social, ethical, and governance implications of artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies. GRAIL consists of an interdisciplinary team of faculty, graduate students, and undergraduate students and produces rigorous, policy-relevant work on AI supported by funding from the National Institute of Justice and Google. The lab’s research explores topics such as the political impacts of deepfakes, emerging legislation and regulation related to AI, use of AI in government and law enforcement, and public and elite opinion on AI. GRAIL is a member of the National Institute of Standards and Technology’s AI Safety Institute Consortium and an affiliate of Purdue’s Institute for Physical Artificial Intelligence.

Dr. Daniel S. Schiff studies the formal and informal governance of AI through policy and industry, as well as AI’s social and ethical implications in domains like education, manufacturing, finance, and criminal justice. Daniel previously served as the founding Responsible AI Lead at JP Morgan Chase & Co. and as the Secretary of the IEEE 7010-2020 standard, the first AI ethics industry standard. His research has been published in prominent interdisciplinary venues such as Policy Studies Journal, the American Political Science Review, AI & Society, and the International Journal of AI in Education.

Dr. Kaylyn Jackson Schiff conducts research on how technological developments are changing citizen-government contact and explores implications for service provision, misinformation, policing, education, and government use of artificial intelligence. Her research has won the award for best dissertation in the field of public administration from the American Political Science Association and the Journal of Politics best paper award. Her work has been published in top journals such as the American Political Science Review, Public Administration Review, Policy Studies Journal, and Nature Human Behavior.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit <https://careers.purdue.edu/> position number 32237. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant’s research fits the principal duties and qualifications of the position, 2) Curriculum Vitae, and 3) Recent research paper or other writing sample related to the position description. Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation and transcripts.

Screening of applicants will begin on July 15th, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact Dr. Bryce J. Dietrich at bjdietri@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14420

USC Sol Price School of Public Policy

Rank: Professor of Public Policy and Management; Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Position Description and Qualifications

The Sol Price School of Public Policy at the University of Southern California seeks a senior faculty member at the rank of professor (tenured) in the Public Policy and Management Department to serve as the Bedrosian Chair in Governance and the Public Enterprise. The individual will have a stellar record of scholarship and leadership in governance and the public enterprise. Of particular interest will be a focus on civic engagement, democratic processes and institutions, collective action, public policy processes and analytics, and public/nonprofit management. We are interested in scholars from all relevant disciplines as well as an interest in a wide array of issue areas that are part of the School’s portfolio. Applicants must present evidence of a creative, vibrant and intellectually rigorous research agenda and significant accomplishments in their field. The candidate will also serve as Director of the Bedrosian Center for Governance and the Public Enterprise and is expected to develop and execute public facing programs on Democracy and Governance, including highly visible related policy discussions.

About the Bedrosian Center

The Judith and John Bedrosian Center on Governance and the Public Enterprise was established with a generous gift from Judith and John Bedrosian in 2004. Effective governance is essential to the quality of life of all Americans. The center is dedicated to understanding and improving the nature of democratic governance, policymaking, and management of the public enterprise in the 21st century. The center provides a highly visible focal point for imaginative research, policy analysis, and dialogue across the university. Through public discussion, the center focuses on pressing issues facing society and integrates conversations with civic education, which is at the heart of strong communities.

For additional information about the USC Sol Price School of Public Policy, see our website: <https://priceschool.usc.edu>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/13/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14410

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor (Presidential Young Professor (PYP) )

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for the tenure-track position of Presidential Young Professor (PYP) at the rank of Assistant Professor, to commence in 2025. Applications are invited from all major subfields of political science including, but not limited to, comparative politics, international relations, and public policy. We are especially interested in candidates with an Asia-focused research programme.

The NUS Presidential Young Professorship and NUS Presidential Fellowship Awards aim to attract, support, and empower the brightest and most promising young academics in the early stage of their careers so that they can develop themselves into world-class scholars. As a young academic at NUS, you will have the opportunity to work alongside a diverse and dynamic community of scholars and students, to pursue excellence and innovation with a positive societal impact. Successful PYP candidates are awarded a start-up grant package of either SGD 250,000 or SGD 750,000, depending on the demands of their research program. Successful PYP candidates are also granted an award of an additional SGD 250,000 for discretionary spending.

The NUS Department of Political Science is one of the leading global programs, with a vibrant research culture and located in a cosmopolitan hub. It is one of 15 departments within the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. Southeast and East Asia are geographical areas of departmental strength, but our 20+ faculty members have research interests which range across the subfields of political theory, international relations, comparative politics, and governance and public policy. In addition, the world-renowned Asia Research Institute (ARI) at NUS engages political scientists as part of its interdisciplinary community, as do our many area studies departments. Our department is committed to promoting equity, diversity, and inclusion as integral values in our strategic development. We also offer a competitive remuneration package, including housing and relocation benefits for eligible overseas candidates. The typical teaching load is 2:1 (one or two courses per semester, totaling three per academic year).

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25147/>. Application dossiers should include:

- ? A brief cover letter explaining why the position at NUS is of interest and discusses the ambition of your research program
- ? A comprehensive CV with a complete list of publications, awards, grants, and courses taught
- ? A research statement with a three year research plan

? Two signature publications with the applicant as the lead author
 ? Letters from at least three referees. If the applicant is two or more years post-PhD, the referees should not be limited to supervisors. The referees should compare the research performance of the applicant to specific individuals at equivalent and top institutions and/or programs. Please send all referee letters directly to pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Review of applications will begin on 29 July 2024 and continue until an appointment is made. We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified. If there are any questions, please email the search committee at pol-ir@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14396

University of Michigan

Rank: WCEE Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Political Theory

The Weiser Center for Europe and Eurasia (WCEE) at the University of Michigan invites scholars with a recent PhD in social sciences, humanities, public policy, and related fields with expertise in Ukraine and Ukrainian affairs to apply for a two-year WCEE Postdoctoral Fellowship, from August 2025 to July 2027.

WCEE Postdoctoral Fellows are expected to focus on their own research, participate in the center's events, present at least one public lecture during their two-year fellowship, and teach one course per year at the University of Michigan while in full-time residency.

Eligibility:

Eligibility is restricted to applicants who have obtained their PhD no earlier than January 1, 2023. Current doctoral candidates are eligible to apply but must have defended and filed their dissertations by July 31, 2025.

Benefits:

Fellowships carry an annual salary of $60,000 and up to $10,000 in research funds during the postdoctoral appointment. Fellowship recipients will be eligible for U-M health, dental, and life insurance options (beginning August 1, 2024 through July 31, 2026). Fellows have full access to U-M library resources.

Application materials:

Candidates should submit the following via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/146559>):

- A research proposal (2000 words maximum) that describes your intellectual objectives and concrete plan for the fellowship duration
- Curriculum Vitae
- A scholarly writing sample, such as a dissertation chapter or peer-reviewed journal article (50 pages maximum)
- Teaching statement with potential course topics
- DEI statement
- Two letters of recommendation

To be assured full consideration, fellowship applications should be received by October 15, 2024, 11:59 PM EST. Successful applicants will be notified by December 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024
Date Posted: 6/1/2024
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 14390

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration/Public Management/Public Policy

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the fields of public policy, public administration, and/or public management. Of particular interest are scholars whose research and teaching focuses on public management, public policy, digital technologies and sustainability and with relevance to Asia.

Job Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will have:

- A completed PhD by 2024 in public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or related disciplines;
- Publications in top journals in the field and a strong pipeline of ground-breaking research / working papers;
- Demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in public management and policy; and
- A willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application:

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via CHRS Link. <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/24841/>

The package should include:

- A cover letter.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A research statement that outlines your publications at the very top journals, your current research interests and pipeline of working papers.
- A teaching statement detailing course taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Names and contact information for three referees.
- Up to two writing samples.

The review of applications will begin in early October 2024 and continue until positions are filled. Members of the hiring committee may be present at PMRC 2024 and/or APPAM 2024. Interested candidates are welcome to arrange meetings by writing to lkysppjoinus@nus.edu.sg

Additional Information:

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and the 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14374

American University

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Applicants should hold a PhD or other terminal degree. Highly qualified applicants with a master's degree related to political science will be considered at the rank of instructor. The position will require the incumbent to teach three undergraduate or M.A. courses per semester in political science with a primary focus on American Politics and Public Policy. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach GOVT 443/643 (Applied Political Writing), GOVT 210 (Political Power and American Public Policy), and GOVT 620 (Applied Politics and American Public Policy). All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three professional recommendations, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers.

Please contact Rachel Whelan, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or spa\_academicaffairs@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

American University is a student-centered research institution located in Washington, DC, with highly ranked schools and colleges, internationally renowned faculty, and a reputation for creating meaningful change in the world.

Learn more about American University. <https://www.american.edu/>

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 4/23/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14334Catholic University of America*Rank: Assistant Professor of PoliticsSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Politics (American Politics)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in American politics, to begin in the fall of 2024. We are interested in a candidate with a range of interests, including but not limited to public opinion, ideology, political parties, elections, and the presidency. The successful candidate could also play an important advisory role for our Washington, D.C. internship programs. The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, and institutional perspectives. Situated on a large and beautiful campus, Catholic University is only three metro stops from the Capitol. Politics is one of the largest majors on campus, attracting many students who value the community of a Catholic university while pursuing careers related to politics and law in the nation's capital. The department's Ph.D program has a long and distinguished history, and the development of professionally minded M.A. programs is a university priority.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/7/2023Salary: $70,000 - $79,999eJobs ID: 12478Catholic University of America*Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor of PoliticsSubfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, American Government and PoliticsSpecializations: American Politics, Latin American, Political Theory

Clinical Assistant Professor of Politics (Public Policy)

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a clinical (non-tenure track, two-year renewable contract) faculty appointment, to begin in the fall of 2024. Candidates should have expertise in public policy (American and/or comparative, as well as familiarity with the principles of Catholic social teaching). The department especially welcomes applicants whose research interests complement its traditional strengths in historical, theoretical, ethical and institutional perspectives. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to teach both undergraduates and graduates, including students in a new MA in Public Policy program currently under development.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research and future research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work (including scholarly publications) to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be directed to Jakub Grygiel, Department Chair, at grygiel@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2024Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/7/2023Salary: $70,000 - $79,999eJobs ID: 12475