

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

November 2024 | Volume 13, Issue 11

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

Administration ..... 4

American Government and Politics ..... 12

Comparative Politics ..... 70

International Relations .....

Methodology .....

Non-Academic .....

Open .....

Other .....

Political Theory .....

Public Administration .....

Public Law .....

Public Policy .....

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

November 2024 | Volume 13, Issue 11

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4 (9 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 12 (94 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 70 (93 listings)

International Relations ..... (103 listings)

Methodology ..... (27 listings)

Non-Academic ..... (1 listings)

Open ..... (36 listings)

Other ..... (74 listings)

Political Theory ..... (35 listings)

Public Administration ..... (20 listings)

Public Law ..... (16 listings)

Public Policy ..... (62 listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 570

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for November

ADMINISTRATION

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: Department Chair

Specializations: Criminal Justice, Constitutional Law & Theory, International Security

The University of Texas at El Paso

Department Chair, Criminal Justice and Security Studies

Job Description: The Department of Criminal Justice and Security Studies is seeking a Department Chair with an outstanding record of scholarly research/grants, with experience in strategic planning, program-building initiatives, and faculty mentoring. We seek a leader with management and analytical skills, and a strategic planner committed to consolidating the national reputation of the department and its robust programs. The Department Chair will support recruitment and retention of faculty and staff, advocate for a strategic vision for the undergraduate and graduate programs, and foster an environment of inclusive excellence for students.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Criminal Justice, Criminology, Political Science, or closely related field. Applicants with a J.D., Psy.D., or Ed.D. (without a Ph.D.) will not be considered.
- Administrative or leadership experience at the Department and College/University levels.
- Funded extramural grants and an active scholarly publication record commensurate with a Full Professor at a Carnegie R1 institution.

Preferred Qualifications: Preference will be given to candidates with experience as Department Chair.

Application Instructions: To apply, go to www.utep.edu/employment. If you have questions about the position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Leanne Alarid: Lfalarid@utep.edu Applicants must electronically submit FOUR files:

- Letter of interest that includes relevant administrative experiences that fit into UTEP -a university with the double designation of R1 and HSI; research/grants accomplishments/ impact, area of expertise and its fit within the Department of Criminal Justice and Security Studies at UTEP.
- Statement of Leadership and Management Philosophy.
- Curriculum vita
- Names and full contact information of three professional references.

Application Review Date: Review of applications will begin January 6, 2025, and will continue until the position is filled. Hiring decisions are based on budget approval.

About the University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP): UTEP is a Carnegie R1 and community engaged research university at the heart of the U.S.-Mexico border region that is increasing access to excellent higher education. We advance discovery of public value and positively impact the health, culture, education, and economy of the community we serve. UTEP enrolls 24,000 students—84% of whom are Hispanic and half of whom are the first in their families to attend college. UTEP offers 170 bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs at the only open-access, top-tier research university in America.

The UTEP Department of Criminal Justice and Security Studies is one of the largest departments in the College of Liberal Arts and offers six programs for over 1,200 students. Three undergraduate degrees are in Criminal Justice (B.A.), an equivalent 100% online B.A., and an online B.A. in Security Studies. The graduate programs offered are Criminology and Criminal Justice (M.S.), Intelligence and National Security Studies (M.S.) and an online Master of Defense and Strategic Studies (MDSS).

El Paso's active arts and culture community features the state's longest-running symphony orchestra, a nationally recognized chamber music festival, a vibrant street art and mural scene, art galleries, museums, and a full schedule of seasonal events and festivals. UTEP adds to the arts and entertainment scene with concerts and live events at the city's largest indoor and outdoor venues; theater, music and dance productions; contemporary and student art galleries; and a natural history museum and desert gardens. El Paso is also an ideal location for year-round hiking, mountain biking, rock climbing and other outdoor activities in the nearby Franklin Mountains. For sports fans, the UTEP Miners offer exciting Division I college athletics at Sun Bowl Stadium and the Don Haskins Center. Southwest University Park is home to the El Paso Chihuahuas, the Triple-A baseball affiliate of the San Diego Padres, and the El Paso Locomotive FC, a professional soccer team.

In keeping with its access, excellence, and impact mission, The University of Texas at El Paso is committed to an open, diverse, and inclusive learning and working environment that honors the talents, respects the differences, and nurtures the growth and development of all. We seek to attract faculty and staff who share our commitment.

The University of Texas at El Paso is an Equal Opportunity / Affirmative Action Employer. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, or sexual orientation and gender in employment or the provision of services in accordance with state and federal law. Discrimination on the basis of sex includes an employee's or prospective employee's right to be free from sexual harassment under Title IX of the Higher Education Amendments of 1972.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/6/2025

Date Posted: 11/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15031

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Tenured Professor/Associate Professor and Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Administration, Public Policy

The School of Arts and Sciences (SAS) of the University of Pennsylvania is searching for a senior scholar of India to be appointed July 1, 2025 with tenure in the department of Political Science or Sociology and take on the role of Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India (CASI) on July 1, 2026. Founded in 1992, CASI is the first research institution in the United States dedicated to the study of contemporary India. A national resource, it fills an urgent need for knowledge of India's politics, rapidly changing economy and population, and social transformation. The Center's key goals are to nurture new generations of scholars across disciplines and to provide a forum for dialogue among the academic, business, and foreign policy communities. Appointment as Director will be for a five-year renewable term. The CASI Director holds the Madan Lal Solti Chair for the Study of Contemporary India. In addition, the candidate will teach in appropriate SAS undergraduate and graduate programs, though with a reduced teaching load while serving as CASI director.

The successful applicant will demonstrate intellectual merit that meets tenure standards at a major research university and includes a strong scholarly reputation in their home discipline and as a scholar of contemporary India. We seek scholars doing policy relevant research that concerns development issues, broadly defined to include political, cultural, societal, economic, or demographic perspectives. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to demonstrate engagement with networks of scholars and relevant practitioners in India and capacity to direct a pre-eminent center, such as skills in institutional entrepreneurship, constituency-building, staff development, governance, finances, fundraising, and overall management. These skills may have been acquired in either an academic or non-academic setting. The director must be able to foster work from multiple disciplines and across disciplinary lines.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by values of inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment where everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Application Instructions

Please submit an application at apply.interfolio.com/156880. Include a letter of interest and a current curriculum vitae or résumé. Applications will be considered as they are received, and review will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15033

University of California Office of the President

Rank: VICE PROVOST FOR FACULTY AFFAIRS AND ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

VICE PROVOST FOR FACULTY AFFAIRS AND ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Location: Oakland

Job ID: 73101

Job Posting

For UCOP internal applicants, please login to the internal candidate gateway at: <https://jobs.ucop.edu/>

POSITION SUMMARY

Reporting to the University of California (UC) Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Vice Provost (VP) is a senior academic leader in the UC Office of the President who is responsible for all programs within Faculty Affairs and Academic Programs, an organization with more than 190 FTE and an annual budget of $70M and plays a leadership role in overseeing Academic Personnel policies.

The Vice Provost works in partnership with the Deputy Provost of Systemwide Academic Personnel to ensure appropriate policies and guidelines are in place across the system for UC's 75,000+ academic appointees, which include ladder-rank and equivalent faculty, post-doctoral scholars, lecturers, academic researchers, librarians, faculty administrators, and other academic appointees, including graduate student teaching assistants and researchers. These policies range from tenure and promotion to academic freedom and beyond.

The Vice Provost is a key member of the UC System Provost and Executive Vice President's cabinet and works especially closely with the systemwide Academic Senate. The VP therefore needs to be keenly aware of faculty perspectives, fostering dialogue and policy development that expresses the most robust form of shared governance. The VP carefully reviews and provides advice to the UC Provost and Executive Vice President on personnel policies and procedures, compensation programs and studies, and other areas that impact faculty. In addition, the VP serves as a spokesperson to the Regents, the Legislature, and external organizations as needed.

The VP jointly convenes, with the Deputy Provost of Systemwide Academic Personnel, the Vice Provosts/Vice Chancellors of Academic Personnel from all campuses, working with them to support and enhance UC's unique approach to academic review, compensation, and advancement. The VP also co-leads systemwide Academic Senate-Administration workgroups and task forces related to faculty affairs and is integrally involved in the administration of faculty discipline cases.

The Vice Provost's responsibilities include oversight of several systemwide academic programs. The VP advocates within the Office of the President for the resources needed for the programs to thrive and reviews the performance of the program leaders, including the California Digital Library (CDL), the UC Press, the President's Post-doctoral Fellowship Program (PPFP), the UC Washington Center (UCDC), the UC Center in Sacramento, UCTV, the Education Abroad Program (EAP), and the Advancing Faculty Diversity (AFD) program. As part of the VP's responsibilities to the systemwide academic programs within the department, the VP serves on standing governing boards, councils, and committees for each of the programs. The VP also chairs ad-hoc working groups charged by the Provost that address signature issues for academic programs that require system wide expertise and senior leadership buy-in.

The position is a 100% appointment, full-time, fiscal year faculty administrator. The appointment is for a five-year renewable term. The appointee will retain a 0% faculty position on one of the UC campuses. If the candidate is not a current University of California full professor, they will be recommended for appointment as a faculty member at 0% time at a University of California campus, in accordance with the normal academic process.

This is a hybrid position reporting at least (3) days per week (Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday) onsite in Oakland, CA. The candidate must also be available to travel periodically to UC campuses; to program locations, including Washington, DC.; and to various meeting locations throughout California.

Professional Qualifications and Experience

The ideal candidate will possess the following qualifications and experience:

- Full professor, or academic credentials and scholarly distinction that would qualify the candidate to be appointable as a full professor who is a member of the UC Academic Senate.
- Leadership experience in academic administration that may have been acquired in any of these roles: Vice Provost, Vice Chancellor, Dean, Chair, Associate Vice Provost, Associate Vice Chancellor, Associate Dean, Vice Chair; Academic Senate Chair, Vice Chair, or committee chair; PI on a multi-unit or multi-campus project; or other similar roles.
- Track record of innovation in implementing solutions to complex problems.
- Experience with academic personnel issues, including faculty recruitment, retention, advancement, diversity, compensation, data analysis, faculty code of conduct, academic freedom, and conflict of commitment.
- Demonstrated experience and success with issues of diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging, including a commitment to promoting diversity and maintaining a workplace that is collaborative, supportive, respectful of differences, and committed to fairness and diversity in all interactions, both within and outside the team.
- Ability to lead and delegate in an environment with multiple, often-competing priorities.
- Superior oral and written communications skills, including experience with public speaking before a broad range of audiences to communicate and inform both internal and external audiences of key issues affecting the University.
- Commitment to furthering the University's public interest, academic, and research missions.

Preferred qualities include the following:

- Ability to manage a systemwide administrative office, including supervising staff at various levels with varying degrees of responsibility; managing budgets; building and fostering partnerships within Academic Affairs, across UCOP and the UC campuses; working with teams both small and large; and balancing campus autonomy and needs with systemwide priorities.
- Experience with union-represented academic populations.

Required application materials:

For consideration, all candidates must submit the following by November 1, 2024:

- Letter of interest
- CV
- Statement of contributions to Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging (see below)
- Names of three references (references will not be contacted without notice to the candidate)

*If you have any trouble submitting your application materials, please email Marjo Keller at <mailto:marjo.keller@ucop.edu>.

Salary and Benefits:

A reasonable estimate for this position is $350,000 to $380,000.

For information on the comprehensive benefits package offered by the University visit: <https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/compensation-and-benefits/benefits-of-belonging.html>.

The University of California, Office of the President, is required to provide a reasonable estimate of the compensation range for this role.

This range takes into account the wide range of factors that are considered in making compensation decisions including but not limited to experience, skills, knowledge, abilities, education, licensure and certifications, and other business and organizational needs. It is not typical for an individual to be offered a salary at or near the top of the range for a position. Salary offers are determined based on final candidate qualifications and experience. The full salary range shows the growth potential for this position and the pay scale is the budgeted salary or hourly range that the University reasonably expects to pay for this position.

Application Review Date:

The first review date for this job is November 1, 2024. The position will be open until filled.

Start Date:

It is anticipated that the successful candidate will start the position on April 1, 2025.

Conditions of Employment:

- Background Check Process: Successful completion of a background check is required for this critical position. <https://www.ucop.edu/local-human-resources/manager-resources/hiring-process/background-checks.html>
- Smoke Free Work Environment: The University of California, Office of the President, is smoke & tobacco-free as of January 1, 2014. <https://www.ucop.edu/safety-and-loss-prevention/environmental/program-resources/uc-smoke-free/uc-smoke-tobacco-free.html>
- As a condition of employment, the successful candidate will be required to comply with the University of California <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/VaccinationProgramsPolicy>, as may be amended or revised from time to time. Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

EEO Statement

The University of California, Office of the President, is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the University of California's Affirmative Action Policy please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4010393/PPSM-20>. For the University of California's Anti-Discrimination Policy, please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/1001004/Anti-Discrimination>.

The University of California, Office of the President, strives to make this job board accessible to any and all users. If you have comments regarding the accessibility of our website or need assistance completing the application process, please contact <https://www.ucop.edu/accessibility/index.html> or email the Human Resource Department at: <mailto:epost@ucop.edu>.

Statement of Contributions to Equity, Diversity and Inclusion

We recognize that excellence is inextricably linked to the diversity of our faculty, staff, and student body. We define diversity very broadly and take seriously <http://regents.universityofcalifornia.edu/governance/policies/4400.html> which states:

“The diversity of the people of California has been the source of innovative ideas and creative accomplishments throughout the state's history into the present. Diversity - a defining feature of California's past, present, and future - refers to the variety of personal experiences, values, and worldviews that arise from differences of culture and circumstance. Such differences include race, ethnicity, gender, age, religion, language, abilities/disabilities, sexual orientation, gender identity, socioeconomic status, and geographic region, and more."

In a statement, we ask applicants to describe their understanding of the barriers that exist for historically underrepresented groups in higher education. We ask that applicants discuss their past and/or potential future contributions to promoting a diverse, equitable, and inclusive environment, which is a key requirement of the role of every leader at the University of California.

There are numerous ways to contribute and a commitment to this part of our mission can be reflected through leadership, research, teaching, supervision, mentoring, community engagement, service, and any of the other varied activities that are a part of one's career. Please be specific about the context; your role, scope, or level of effort; and the impact. In describing your future plans, please discuss activities you plan to pursue and how they fit into your vision for faculty affairs and academic programs at the Office of the President and for the University of California.

*****

About the UC Office of the President

The Office of the President is the system-wide headquarters of the University of California, coordinating activities that allow a complex and unique system to operate efficiently as one university, furthering its academic, research and public interest missions. The Office of the President supports UC's academic and research missions and manages its fiscal and business operations across its campuses, labs, and medical centers. It supports campuses and students through system-wide funding and programs; manages the University's multi-billion-dollar operations and investments; oversees medical centers and national labs; provides centralized labor relations and legal services; and promotes the well-being of its diverse and large workforce through benefits and retirement programs. It oversees and manages programs that serve the entire university system, allowing campuses to capture the savings and efficiencies that come from centralized operations. <https://www.ucop.edu/about>.

About Academic Affairs at UCOP

Within the Office of the President, the Division of Academic Affairs provides leadership and services that animate and enable the UC system to realize its true strength and potential in its contributions to the well-being of California, the nation and the world. Across five subdivisions, Academic Affairs provides critical systemwide services and stewardship to the University's ten campuses, national labs, health centers, cooperative extension programs and systemwide initiatives, in a collective effort to expand equity, promote innovation, support excellence in research, and advance social mobility through education and service to California and the world through the development of talent and respect for the intrinsic value of knowledge.

The five divisions are:

- Faculty Affairs and Academic Programs
- Systemwide Academic Personnel
- Graduate, Undergraduate, and Equity Affairs
- Research and Innovation

- Institutional Research and Academic Planning

The Division of Academic Affairs has over 440 FTE and an annual budget of $278M. More specifically, the work of the Academic Affairs Division includes: stewardship of the Academic Personnel Manual (APM) and serving as the center of expertise for academic recruitment, retention, advancement, compensation, diversity, affirmative action, and labor relations; leading and supporting systemwide efforts that advance UC equity and inclusion, promote access to and successful completion of baccalaureate and graduate degrees, and help to provide an exemplary student academic experience; building UC-wide partnerships, shaping effective policies, and providing a strong voice nationally for research and innovation on behalf of UC; and providing timely, accurate, consistent, and reliable information about UC and the environment in which it operates, to illustrate UC's progress, challenges and outcomes in advancing its mission.

As an organization, Academic Affairs seeks to create, reflect and maintain a diverse, productive, equitable and inclusive community committed to the University of California's academic mission and to its core values: integrity in its work, respect for one another, accountability for its public resources, and excellence in its service to the University and to the State.

About the Department of Faculty Affairs and Academic Programs

Faculty Affairs and Academic Programs (FAAP) supports the academic careers of UC's 75,000+ faculty and academic appointees by reviewing and consulting on all personnel policies and procedures impacting UC faculty across the system. Partnering with faculty, the Academic Senate, and academic administrators, FAAP leads development of new academic initiatives/ programs and designs and facilitates multi-campus collaborations.

The Vice Provost has oversight responsibility for several systemwide academic programs:

- <https://uccs.ucdavis.edu/>
- <https://www.ucdc.edu/uc-washington-center-home>
- <https://uceap.universityofcalifornia.edu/>
- <https://cdlib.org/>
- <https://www.ucpress.edu/>
- <https://ppfp.ucop.edu/info/>
- <https://www.uctv.tv/>

While most of these programs have their own leader, the VP acts as an advocate for the programs to ensure they continue to make valuable contributions to the research and teaching missions of the University. As part of the oversight of academic programs, the VP participates in the recruitment of new program leaders and reviews their performance on a regular basis. As part of the VP's responsibilities to the systemwide academic programs within the department, the VP serves as a member of the governing boards, councils, and committees for each of the programs. The VP also plays a critical role in representing the provost on a wide range of standing committees and councils that promote the mission and advance the strategic priorities of the university. In addition, the VP serves as a spokesperson to the Regents, the Legislature, and external organizations as needed.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5663721>

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/7/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 15015Naval War College*Rank: Dean

U.S. NAVAL WAR COLLEGE SEEKS

DEAN

CENTER FOR NAVAL WARFARE STUDIES

AD-1701-09

The President, U.S. Naval War College (PNWC), invites applications for the position of Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies, in Newport, RI. This opening is a senior leadership position at the Naval War College heading the primary research arm of the College.

The U.S. Naval War College. The U.S. Naval War College (NWC) is a Joint Professional Military Education (JPME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education (NECHE). The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise and eventually serve as senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu

Center for Naval Warfare Studies. The Center for Naval Warfare Studies (CNWS) is the primary research organization of the NWC. Faculty and staff produce a wide range of independent and sponsored unclassified and classified research and analysis on issues of war, peace, national security, regional security, and international law -- all with particular attention to issues related to naval warfare and the maritime domain. This research is, as appropriate, published and provided in various forms to the leadership and staffs of the Navy, the other services, the Department of Defense including the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Joint Staff, other elements of the U.S. government, the defense establishments of allies and partners, and the broader national security community. The research also is infused into the curriculum at the College. Faculty and staff use a wide range of research and analytic methods. The goal is for research outputs to be integrated with one another and with other analytic endeavors within the Navy and across the Defense Department, the U.S. government, and broader academic and analytic communities. Wargaming is a significant component of the activities of CNWS and the foundational role of wargaming as part of the college's missions and curriculum. CNWS faculty also support the College curricula through teaching in the electives and distance education programs and providing wargaming design, execution, and other support for resident and distance students.

CNWS consists of three departments and the Naval War College Press. These three departments are: (1) the Stockton Center for International Law (SCIL); (2) the Strategic and Operational Research Department (SORD); and (3) the War Gaming Department (WGD). Within SORD there are a number of institutes and advanced research programs: the China Maritime Studies Institute, Cyber and Innovation Policy Institute (with the Graveley Program), Russian Maritime Studies Institute, Brodie Group, Deterrence Studies Institute and the Halsey Alpha, Halsey Bravo, and Holloway Advanced Research Programs. Further information on these departments, their faculty, and their sub-entities can be found on the USNWC's website: <https://usnwc.edu/> under Research and Wargaming and Faculty and Departments. CNWS faculty and staff are a mix of civilians with advanced degrees (most at the doctoral level), active duty and retired military officers and enlisted personnel, and civilian and contract support staff.

Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies. The Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies, oversees the research work undertaken by its departments, faculty, and staff. As part of managing and shaping the research agenda, the Dean develops and expands a network of contacts within the naval, joint, and broader national security community. Specifically, the Dean develops and expands an understanding of the research and analysis needs of senior Navy, joint, and civilian leaders in the Department of Defense and the U.S. interagency. The Dean leads and organizes innovative research approaches to the Navy's and the Nation's most significant national security challenges. The Dean creates and manages the CNWS budget, faculty, manpower and personnel issues, and the organization of CNWS departments. The Dean is part of the USNWC senior leadership team, reporting to the Provost, and in concert with the Provost and other senior leaders, advises the President, U.S. Naval War College, on policy, procedures, priorities, and resource issues that affect the mission of the College.

Qualifications. Candidates must have an advanced degree and significant experience in leading research projects and analyzing national security issues and strategic and operational warfare issues and concepts. A Master's degree is required, a Ph.D. is highly preferred. Candidates without a Ph.D. must demonstrate knowledge of research design and methods. Candidates must have previously supervised as well as conducted research and analysis on national security and/or warfare issues.

Desired attributes include, but are not limited to: (1) knowledge of U.S. and foreign naval and joint capabilities and concepts of operations; (2) knowledge of or equivalent practical experience with advanced technology and functional military capabilities; (3) knowledge of naval and joint warfare in all phases of operations from peace time to high-end combat; (4) knowledge of how research supports the work of policymakers in the Navy and DOD; and (5) knowledge of and connections with research entities outside the Navy/DOD enterprise. Experience gained by leading teams and conducting research, systems analysis, systems operation, and/or development and execution of warfighting operations, tactics, techniques, and procedures within the Navy, the Department of Defense, other national security organizations, or research entities. Experience working on research teams as well as participating in wargames is highly preferred. Experience making and managing budgets and managing a knowledge-based workforce is also highly preferred.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens and capable of obtaining a Department of Defense TOP SECRET/SCI security clearance. The selected candidate will be subject to a pre-employment drug screening test and to random drug testing thereafter.

Appointment. The appointment is governed by provisions of 10 USC 8748 as delegated by the Secretary of the Navy, and the regulations of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management that apply to “Excepted” appointments under Schedule A. For the successful candidate, the initial term of appointment is expected to be four years in length with provision for renewal dependent on performance. This is not a remote work position; however, the incumbent may be eligible for telework as determined by policy and the position requirements. The incumbent may be expected to travel on occasion.

Salary Considerations. Salary is competitive and accompanied by a generous federal benefit package that includes health insurance and retirement saving plans, paid vacation, paid sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Pay Schedule.

Application Process. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-24-16 and submit their application package via email to: nwc-24-16@usnwc.edu. The application package should include: (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, and (3) names and contact information for three references. Applications will be accepted until 11:59 pm (EDT), 31 October 2024.

Questions about the position or the institution should be emailed to Dr. Thomas Gibbons: gibbonst@usnwc.edu.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veterans’ preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans’ preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans’ preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, “Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty”) to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, “Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference,” and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326. Active-duty members must submit a statement of service with their application.

The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14911

University of Mississippi

Rank: Director of the African American Studies Program

The University of Mississippi invites applications for a full-time, 12-month administrative faculty position as Director of African American Studies, with a joint faculty appointment in African American Studies and another department in the College of Liberal Arts.

The University of Mississippi is an R1 institution in an exciting phase of institutional growth and is located in the city of Oxford, a vibrant community known for its small-town charm and outstanding educational and cultural opportunities. The African American Studies Program develops and coordinates an interdisciplinary undergraduate curriculum that focuses mainly on the African American experience in the United States, especially in Mississippi and the South. Its objectives are to encourage all students and faculty to examine the African American experience, to facilitate a cultural and intellectual atmosphere on campus favorable to such studies, and to develop and support a related program of research and community service. Our program goals are supported by the larger University of Mississippi and College of Liberal Arts’ strategic commitment to access and opportunity. In addition to supporting the current objectives of the Program by supervising the administrative aspects of the program, working with program faculty and students, and coordinating outreach and public programming activities, the new AAS Director will take the lead in shaping a vision for the program’s future. The Director carries a 1-1 teaching load.

Candidates for the position of Director must have a Ph.D. or terminal degree with an outstanding academic record of teaching and publishing on subjects related to African American Studies and must hold the rank of tenured Associate or Full Professor at the time of application. Though we are open to candidates with research focuses in any field of the liberal arts, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate education and knowledge of the broad curricular and academic issues in the field of African American Studies. The successful candidate will have demonstrated leadership and interpersonal skills; experience in personnel management and fiscal management is also desirable. Candidates with demonstrable commitment to and experience in fostering supportive communities for research, teaching, and learning are of particular interest.

The University of Mississippi embraces a meaningful and holistic commitment to complying with relevant laws and non-discrimination provisions, and in doing so, to advancing access and fair treatment for all in a welcoming environment. The University of Mississippi is committed to fostering a collaborative, innovative, and inclusive community that does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, citizenship, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, visit careers.olemiss.edu. In addition to completing the online application, please upload the following: 1) under “Resume” a CV which includes the names and contact information for three professional references; 2) under “Other” an extensive cover letter summarizing your qualifications and academic background, making sure to address 1) your general administrative philosophy and relevant administrative experience; 2) your preliminary vision for the program; and 3) your experience with and approaches to fostering a welcoming and supportive environment for a vibrant community of students, faculty, and staff.

Review of applications will begin in November and continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is July 2025 but is flexible. Questions about the position may be addressed to the search committee chair Dr. Molly Pasco-Pranger (mpranger@olemiss.edu, 662-915-7097).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14973

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Faculty teach graduate and/or undergraduate courses; continue to expand their national and international professional influence in their academic disciplines; and participate actively in the academic community through membership in governance bodies and committees, administrative duties, program planning and development, research, and public service.

Classes focus on American politics.

Submit application here:
<https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/27676>

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14972

Boston College Law School

Rank: Policy Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Other

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Legislative Studies, United States

Job Description

The mission of the Initiative on Land, Housing & Property Rights (the Initiative) is to address real property issues that impact poor and disadvantaged communities. Many of the activities the Initiative undertakes assist disadvantaged communities that have been harmed as a result of lacking adequate land, housing, and other property rights. The Initiative's core activities include training law students and other students to develop legal and other technical expertise that can be used by these students when they are in school and after they graduate to help disadvantaged people and communities address their land and housing issues; catalyzing both theoretical and applied, policy-relevant research on various land and housing issues that have been understudied and undertheorized; proactively working to develop impactful legal reform and policy solutions to address property problems disadvantaged communities experience; and sponsoring both continuing legal education programs for lawyers and community legal education and other outreach programs for disadvantaged communities. The Initiative hopes to collaborate with other stakeholders in a true spirit of partnership to more effectively address land and housing issues that disadvantaged communities experience, specifically communities that are disproportionately though not exclusively communities of color.

Position Summary

The ILHPR seeks an ambitious, entrepreneurial, and thoughtful Policy Director to help build up the Initiative's Legal Reform and Policy Laboratory so that it can substantially increase the Initiative's ability to develop legal reform and policy proposals to address critical land and housing issues at the local, state, and federal level and, in addition, to assist other stakeholders doing such work. A model of the type of legal reform and policy proposals the Initiative would like to help develop is the Uniform Partition of Heirs Property Act (UPHPA), a groundbreaking model state property statute, which was principally drafted by Professor Thomas W. Mitchell, the Initiative's founder and Director and a MacArthur Fellow. Thus far, the UPHPA has been enacted into law in 24 states/jurisdictions that are located in every region of the country, and it has helped thousands of disadvantaged families across the country maintain ownership of their family-owned properties and their generational wealth. Initiative staff have advised stakeholders in several states who have been interested in having their states enact the UPHPA into law. In addition, Initiative staff have helped a select number of other stakeholders at the state and federal level develop legal reform and policy proposals addressing critical land and housing issues. The Initiative is committed to playing leading and supporting roles in developing additional bold yet pragmatic legal reform and policy proposals to address a range of land, housing, and other real property issues disadvantaged communities face.

The Policy Director will manage and support members of the policy team, including the Post-Graduate Policy Fellow and the Ph.D. Fellow for Policy and will work with members of the Policy Team to ensure the quality of policy projects at each stage of every project.

The Policy Director will serve as a member of the ILHPR's leadership team, which includes the Initiative's Director, the Faculty Director of Housing and Property Rights Programs, the Senior Associate Director of Operations, the Research Director, and the Assistant Director of Special Projects. The Policy Director will consult with other members of the leadership team, the Post-Graduate Policy Fellow, and certain external stakeholders to develop the Initiative's policy agenda. To make the policy work sustainable, the Policy Director will help identify funding opportunities for policy projects and will then assist in developing funding proposals and in other development efforts with other Initiative staff and/or external stakeholders.

The Policy Director also will serve as the Initiative's representative for policy-related media relations and for other stakeholders interested in various aspects of the Initiative's policy program. The Initiative seeks candidates whose experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion, both in our internal management practices as well as in shaping our Initiative's policy agenda.

This is a hybrid position. There will be some travel, primarily in New England and the Mid-Atlantic region, though there also will be some travel required to other parts of the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14880

Boston College Law School

Rank: Research Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Other

Specializations: Legislative Studies, Race & Ethnic Politics, United States

The mission of the Initiative on Land, Housing & Property Rights (the Initiative) is to address real property issues that impact poor and disadvantaged communities. Many of the activities the Initiative undertakes assist disadvantaged communities that have been harmed as a result of lacking adequate land, housing, and other property rights. The Initiative's core activities include training law students and other students to develop legal and other technical expertise that can be used by these students when they are in school and after they graduate to help disadvantaged people and communities address their land and housing issues; catalyzing both theoretical and applied, policy-relevant research on various land and housing issues that have been understudied and undertheorized; proactively working to develop impactful legal reform and policy solutions to address property problems disadvantaged communities experience; and sponsoring both continuing legal education programs for lawyers and community legal education and other outreach programs for disadvantaged communities. The Initiative hopes to collaborate with other stakeholders in a true spirit of partnership to more effectively address land and housing issues that disadvantaged communities experience, specifically communities that are disproportionately though not exclusively communities of color.

Position Summary

The ILHPR seeks an ambitious, entrepreneurial, and thoughtful Research Director to help build up the Initiative's research program so that it can produce timely, high quality, and policy-relevant research, which will inform a variety of stakeholders, including academics, other researchers, and policymakers. The research will be generated using a variety of methodologies, including quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods, and doctrinal, a research method many legal academic researchers use. The Research Director will manage and support members of the research team, including the Post-Graduate Research Fellow and the Ph.D. Fellow for Research and will work with members of the research team to ensure the quality of research projects at each stage of every research project.

The Research Director will serve as a member of the ILHPR's leadership team, which includes the Initiative's Director, the Faculty Director of Housing and Property Rights Programs, the Senior Associate Director of Operations, the Policy Director, and the Assistant Director of Special Projects. The Research Director will consult with other members of the leadership team, the Post-Graduate Research Fellow, and certain external stakeholders to develop the Initiative's research agenda, including the following: identifying new research opportunities; developing robust research designs that in the aggregate employ a variety of methodologies; ensuring there is a robust set of annual convenings, including an annual national conference, seminars, workshops, and panel discussions; and overseeing the publication and dissemination of research reports. To make the research work sustainable, the Research Director will help identify funding opportunities for research projects, sometimes working individually and sometimes in collaboration with other Initiative staff members, and will then assist in developing funding proposals and in other development efforts. The Research Director also will work with the leadership team and the Post-Graduate Research Fellow in an effort to establish new research collaborations and will serve as the Initiative's point person in leading and managing any external research partnerships that are established.

The Research Director also will serve as the Initiative's representative for research-related media relations and for other stakeholders interested in various aspects of the Initiative's research program. The Initiative seeks candidates whose experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion, both in our internal management practices as well as in shaping our Initiative's research agenda.

This is a hybrid position. There will be some travel, primarily in New England and the Mid-Atlantic region, though there also will be some travel required to other parts of the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14881

University of South Carolina

Rank: Department Chair

Chair, Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences
University of South Carolina, Columbia

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of South Carolina (USC) invites nominations and applications for the position of Chair of the Department of Political Science to begin August 16, 2025. The appointment will be at the rank of Full Professor, tenurable in the department of Political Science within the College of Arts and Sciences. We seek a dynamic scholar and visionary leader with a Ph.D. in political science, or a related social science discipline, plus years of academic experience as required by policy for faculty rank. The faculty position will be on a 9-month pay basis, converted to an 11-month pay basis as Department Chair.

The Department of Political Science has 21 faculty members, including some with joint or affiliate appointments with other departments and colleges, as well as a full-time staff of professional student advisors. The faculty are committed to excellence in research and teaching befitting a Research 1 University. The Dean is committed to growing the tenure track faculty in the department over the coming years. The department currently enrolls about 35 Ph.D. students, 50 Masters level students between its M.A. in International Affairs and accredited Master of Public Administration programs, and has more than 800 undergraduate majors. The department offers an undergraduate internship program and several experiential learning opportunities, including an adolescent mentoring program and a NSF funded Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) program. For more information about the department, please visit our website at: https://sc.edu/study/colleges\_schools/artsandsciences/political\_science/

The department chair provides academic and administrative leadership within the department and is responsible for spearheading the unit's strategic goals, overseeing the budget, facilitating the academic programs (including undergraduate, Masters, and doctoral degree programs), communicating with internal and external personnel for development purposes, and supporting faculty in efforts to secure external funds. Qualifications include administrative expertise and the demonstrated ability to work collaboratively with faculty, staff, and students, consistent with the expectations and mission of a Research 1 University. Candidates should have a strong record of scholarly achievement and teaching excellence commensurate with appointment as a tenured Full Professor, as the chair is expected to maintain an active research agenda and teach and mentor undergraduate and graduate students.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

The University of South Carolina is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Institution. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of age, ancestry, citizenship status, color, disability, ethnicity, familial status, gender (including transgender), gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, pregnancy (false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, childbirth, recovery therefrom or related medical conditions, breastfeeding), race, religion (including religious dress and grooming practices), sex, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other bases under federal, state, local law, or regulations.

How to Apply

All applicants must apply online at USCJobs at <https://uscjobs.sc.edu>. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications must include a cover letter, statement of leadership philosophy, CV, and contact information for three references. References will only be contacted for candidates on the short list.

Please send any nominations to Brent Simpson, (bts@sc.edu), incoming Interim Department Chair and Chair of the Search Committee, by September 15. Any questions about the position should also be sent to Brent Simpson.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14520

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Radford University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Radford University is seeking a tenure-track Assistant Professor with an emphasis on Law and Legal Studies, beginning in the fall of 2025. Candidates with any legal specialty are invited to apply; those with expertise in Public Administration, Public Policy, or Political Theory are particularly welcome. We seek a vibrant scholar who will add to the strengths of our department.

The Assistant Professor will teach four classes per semester in consultation with the department chair based on student needs, faculty interest and expertise, and departmental strategic priorities. This faculty member will oversee and advise students in the Legal Studies minor and the Law Society student/alumni group and coordinate with the Criminal Justice Department on the award-winning Mock Trial program. The new member of the Radford faculty will be an excellent classroom instructor and active researcher.

Requirements:

A Ph.D. or near completion in Political Science and/or a Juris Doctor degree is required. Expertise in Law is required. Preference will be given to faculty with additional expertise in Public Administration, Public Policy, and/or Political Theory. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom teachers.

An active research agenda in the faculty member's specialty is also required.

Job Duties:

Teach courses in Political Science and Legal Studies as scheduled. Conduct scholarly research in the appropriate field. Advise and mentor undergraduate Political Science majors with a Legal Studies emphasis and Legal Studies Minors as well as the Law Society. Undertake service at the department, college, and university levels.

Instructions to Applicants:

Applicants are required to upload a cover letter, diversity statement ("How might past and potential contributions advance Radford University's commitment to equity and diversity, both locally and globally?"), unofficial graduate transcripts, a curriculum vitae, a teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and contact information of three professional references. Must have a criminal background check.

Applicants must apply directly through Radford University's portal at <https://jobs.radford.edu/postings/15039>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15135

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Visiting Part-Time Faculty Position in American Politics

Department of Political Science

Visiting Part-Time Faculty Position in American Politics

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a visiting part-time faculty position to teach 2 introductory courses in American Politics during the Spring 2025 semester to begin in January 2025. You can learn more about Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross by following this link.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching as informed by current practice and scholarship in the field. Candidates should have experience as an instructor or teaching assistant for introductory courses in American Politics and a Ph.D. (or ABD status) in Political Science.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please submit a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, a statement on teaching philosophy and interests, graduate transcripts (Ph.D. preferred), and two confidential letters of recommendation.

In your cover letter, please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or service might support the College's mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college (see <http://www.holycross.edu/mission>) and its core commitment to diversity and inclusion. For more information, please visit <http://holycross.edu/diversity>. To learn more about faculty life at the College, applicants are encouraged to visit <http://holycross.edu/join>.

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to <https://apply.interfolio.com/158340>.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. For full consideration, please apply by November 26, 2024. Questions about this search may be directed to Prof. Denis Kennedy, Chair of Political Science, at dkennedy@holycross.edu.

COLLEGE OF THE HOLY CROSS

College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,100 students and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate an enduring commitment to academic excellence and who embrace the educational benefits of a richly diverse community. Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Spring 2024

Date Posted: 10/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15129

www.publicagenda.org

Rank: Director

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Non-Academic, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Education Policy, Political Behavior

About Public Agenda

Public Agenda is a research-to-action organization. We seek to strengthen democracy by amplifying public voice and expanding opportunities for all Americans. We work to improve democratic processes and the systems and institutions that determine whether the promise of American democracy will be realized in the lives of everyday people. Because of the special role of education as a public good and foundation of both economic opportunity and civic engagement, much of our work is focused on education systems and institutions. We build knowledge through rigorous research using a range of methodological approaches including in-depth case studies, interviews, focus groups, public opinion surveys, and quantitative analyses of administrative data. Public Agenda also supports academic researchers addressing pressing, practical questions; we frame those questions and synthesize, translate, and communicate results. We discover pathways and tools for change, and we connect what we are learning to individuals and organizations who can put it to use.

About the Position

We are seeking a Director to join a small and highly collaborative team to manage and grow a body of work encompassing democracy, education, and their intersections. The Director will lead a portfolio of research-to-action projects, contributing to the organization's mission, strategic direction, funder relations, partnership and project development, and efforts to translate research into practical implementation and impact for the American people. The Director's portfolio will build on their areas of expertise, experience, and network of relationships.

The Director plays a key role in supporting continuous improvement in the research-to-action team, developing project concepts, securing funding, executing projects, ensuring high quality products, and communicating about projects with internal and external audiences to advance Public Agenda's mission.

Directors work collaboratively, bringing relevant expertise or capacities to projects led by other Directors and shaping their own portfolios in dialogue with colleagues throughout the organization. Individual Directors may have specific organization-wide responsibilities in addition to project leadership.

The ideal candidate possesses strong social science research skills, is passionate about data-informed approaches to challenges facing our democracy, brings an asset-based and equity-centered orientation to project and partnership development, has experience building systems and executing projects or initiatives, and is comfortable working with a wide variety of stakeholders. We are interested in candidates who bring professional networks in their areas of interest and expertise that will catalyze new projects and expand opportunities for funding and impact.

We are particularly interested in candidates with substantive expertise and/or practical experience in one or more of the following areas: (1) democracy reform or renewal, including structural and cultural approaches; (2) civic education in any context; (3) educational access and opportunity; (4) other intersections between democratic values and institutions and education systems, practices, and outcomes.

At Public Agenda, we believe that American democracy would work better if people from diverse backgrounds and perspectives were more able to work together to meet public challenges. We endeavor to create and support a work environment that reflects our values, so we are especially interested in hearing from candidates who share our commitment to democracy and whose experiences and perspectives are underrepresented in the field.

We can envision several different candidate profiles that could be a good fit for the Director position. The successful candidate might be a researcher with significant experience partnering with practitioners, an experienced practitioner in the nonprofit or public sector with expertise implementing evidence-informed strategy, or a professional with some other background that demonstrates their capacity to lead projects connecting research and practice in service of democratic values.

Key responsibilities include:

- Support mission-aligned efforts to increase Public Agenda's impact
- Engage with colleagues and external partners to identify promising concepts for projects
- Work with colleagues to build project budgets, timelines, and teams
- Work with development colleagues to secure project funding
- Manage project teams in the execution of research, engagement, and deliverable development
- Ensure research-to-action process and products meet Public Agenda's standards
- Cultivate ongoing learning and improvement in the research-to-action team

Desired qualifications, skills and abilities:

- Significant experience in research and execution
- Strong strategic and operational sense; ability to read and respond to dynamic contexts and organize systems to meet evolving programmatic requirements
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings and evidence-based implementation approaches in oral and written form to key stakeholders, such as funders, policymakers, advocates, and journalists
- Experience with a range of quantitative and qualitative research methods
- Personal integrity, commitment to resource stewardship
- Balanced, solutions-seeking orientation; strong listening skills
- Commitment to Public Agenda's mission
- Comfort working in a nonpartisan organization committed to ideological diversity
- Commitment to a respectful and equitable workplace
- Graduate degree in a relevant field preferred
- Proficiency in Spanish is a plus

Public Agenda's staff is geographically distributed, and this is a work-from-anywhere position within the United States. Staff members must be available to work during standard Eastern Time business hours. The successful candidate must be available to travel for quarterly organization-wide meetings, occasional conferences, and project-related work such as site visits for qualitative research and convenings of stakeholders.

The expected salary range for this position is $95,000 - $125,000. We offer a competitive benefits package including dental and medical insurance, 401(k) retirement contribution, 4 weeks of paid vacation plus an additional week between Christmas and New Year's Day, paid holidays, sick and personal time, in addition to other benefits. The position reports to the Chief Strategy and Impact Officer.

The above statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work being performed by the individual(s) assigned to this position. They are not intended to be an exhaustive list of all duties, responsibilities, and skills required. Management reserves the right to modify, add, or remove duties and to assign other duties as necessary. In addition, reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions of this position.

Our organization is committed to equal employment opportunity and diversity in the workplace. We do not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment on any legally-recognized basis ["protected class"] including, but not limited to: veteran status, uniform service member status, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information or any other protected class under federal, state, or local law.

Public Agenda is a qualifying employer under the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program (PSLF).

Application process

Interested candidates should submit a resume or CV and a cover letter describing your interest in and qualifications for the position to careers@publicagenda.org. Applications will be considered as they are received until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 15123

Fitchburg State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science - Tenure Track

About Fitchburg State University:

Fitchburg State University, located in Fitchburg, Massachusetts, is a public institution dedicated to integrating high-quality professional programs with strong liberal arts and sciences studies. Founded in 1894, the university now has more than 30 undergraduate programs and 22 master's degree programs, and 7,000 full and part-time students. We invite you to learn more about us and how we can help you achieve your educational goals.

Fitchburg State University embraces a commitment to diversity, inclusion, belonging and social justice. We encourage individuals from historically underrepresented groups to apply and also those who can contribute to diversity, inclusion and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching, research and mentorship.

Job Description:

The School of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in Fall 2025. Applicants must possess a strong desire to teach in a department and institution that emphasizes excellent teaching and the continuation of scholarship that involves engaging and collaborating with undergraduate students.

Responsibilities include a teaching load of 4/4 per semester, student advising, continuing scholarship, and service to the University community. Additional requirements as per the MSCA contract. Commitment to excellence in teaching, especially traditionally underrepresented and first-generation students, demonstrated teaching experience appropriate to the level of appointment, and evidence of scholarly/creative activity.

Requirements:

Ph.D. in Political Science.

ABD will be considered with an anticipated degree completion date of June 30, 2025.

A track record of teaching excellence as evidenced by student evaluations.

Ability to work effectively with a diverse student body.

Preferred:

Prior undergraduate teaching experience is preferred, especially in concert with the ability and willingness to teach a wide array of subjects in American Government. The area of specialization within the American Government is open, with the exception of constitutional law.

Research that involves engaging and collaborating with students and evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is desired.

Additional Information:

Application deadline: December 7, 2024

Review of applications: begins: December 9, 2024

Full-time, Tenure Track, 9 month benefited position, beginning September 1, 2025.

Salary commensurate with qualifications, and experience and in accordance with the MSCA Bargaining Agreement. There are opportunities to teach summer, winter term, online, and undergraduate and graduate courses.

Must be able to satisfactorily pass a check conducted by the Criminal History Systems Board (CORI) as well as a completed background check satisfactory to the university.

Ability to perform all duties with or without reasonable accommodations.

Fitchburg State University strongly recommends that all employees are vaccinated against COVID-19 before they begin employment.

Application Instructions:

Please submit cover letter, CV, three professional references and statement of teaching philosophy.

Fitchburg State University is committed to diversifying its workforce. We strongly encourage women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities to apply for the advertised position.

To apply for this position please click on the link and then click on "Apply Now":
<https://fitchburg.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=182530>

Please click CONTACT US if you need assistance applying through this website.

Please click here to login to check/edit your profile or to upload additional documents.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/7/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15121

University of Central Florida

Rank: Instructor/Lecturer

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory

The Opportunity

The School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs (SPSIA) at the University of Central Florida (UCF) invites applications for the position of an instructor or lecturer in American judicial politics with an anticipated start date of August 2025. The job is a 9-month, non-tenure earning, annually renewable position that offers a clear career path with the possibility of promotion based on years of service and performance.

UCF is one of the most innovative public universities in the nation, as named by the U.S. News & World Report. UCF is a leading, metropolitan, research-intensive university with over 69,000 students.

The School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs (SPSIA) is ranked as the #1 Best Online Political Science Programs by Best Colleges. UCF SPSIA advances the understanding of politics, security, and international and global affairs across the domains of teaching, research, and service. We prepare students for careers and to act as engaged citizens, equipping them with knowledge and the critical thinking and decision-making skills necessary to make a positive impact on politics and government at the local, state, national, and international levels. SPSIA's faculty and centers cultivate cutting-edge research agendas and expertise that address society's biggest challenges and earn recognition across academia, government, and the public and private sectors. In addition to comprehensive traditional benefits, UCF offers support for expectant mothers, paid parental leave for both parents, on-site pre-school, and professional development and leadership training for faculty at all career stages.

The ideal candidate will have a demonstrated record of successful classroom teaching in a variety of political science courses including constitutional law, and other American judicial politics-related classes. The selected candidate will be expected to teach a variety of courses including the introductory American National Government class. The expected teaching load will be eight courses during the academic year (typically four in the fall semester and four in the spring semester). The successful candidate will be expected to teach in different modalities including face-to-face and online. If teaching online, faculty will receive training for utilizing online teaching tools and internal support.

Additionally, we are especially interested in a candidate who can contribute through their teaching and service to the excellence of our academic community and foster an environment in which faculty, staff, and students from a variety of backgrounds, cultures and personal experiences are welcomed and can thrive.

The School of Politics, Security, and International Affairs houses two undergraduate majors, a master's program in political science, and a Ph.D. program in security studies. In addition, the school is home to five institutes, programs, and centers. For more information, visit <https://sciences.ucf.edu/politics/>.

The College of Sciences (COS), UCF's largest college, houses most of the university's natural, computational, and social sciences and is home to 10 diverse departments and schools. The college holds 17 patents across five departments, and seven departments hold national rankings for best graduate programs. The college's programs play a key role in advancing UCF as a national research university that is determined to help students from all backgrounds achieve success. For more information, visit <https://sciences.ucf.edu/>.

Minimum Qualifications:

A master's degree (for an instructor) or a Ph.D. (for a lecturer) in political science (or a closely related field) with an emphasis in American judicial politics, from an accredited institution.

Preferred Qualifications:

A demonstrated record of successful undergraduate teaching in American politics courses.

An ability to teach courses on American judicial politics, including constitutional law, judicial process, and other pre-law and politics classes.

An ability to teach in different modalities (online, face-to-face, etc.).

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents be submitted electronically through the Human Resources employment opportunities website, <https://www.ucf.edu/jobs/>. In addition to the online application, interested candidates should upload the following materials: (1) a current curriculum vitae, (2) a letter detailing your interest in the position; (3) a teaching statement (one to two pages); and (4) the names, phone numbers, and email addresses for three professional references (please do not submit reference letters).

NOTE: Please have all documents ready when applying so they can be simultaneously uploaded. Once the online submission process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents later.

The selected candidate will be required to submit official transcripts (and, as applicable, U.S. degree equivalency evaluations) documenting the conferral of their qualifying academic credentials.

Questions regarding the position should be directed to Dr. Aubrey Jewett, search committee chair, at aubrey.jewett@ucf.edu.

Job Close Date:

11/21/2024

Are you ready to unleash YOUR potential?

As a next-generation public research university and Forbes-ranked top employer in Florida, we are a community of thinkers, doers, creators, innovators, healers, and leaders striving to create broader prosperity and help shape a better future. No matter what your role is, when you join Knight Nation, you'll play an integral role at one of the most impactful universities in the country. You'll be met with opportunities to connect and collaborate with talented faculty, staff, and students across 13 colleges and multiple campuses, engaging in impactful work that makes a positive difference. Your time at UCF will provide you with many meaningful opportunities to grow, you'll work alongside talented colleagues on complex projects that will challenge you and help you gain new skills and you'll have countless rewarding experiences that go well beyond a paycheck.

Working at UCF has its perks! UCF offers:

Benefit packages, including Medical, Dental, Vision, Life Insurance, Flexible Spending, and Employee Assistance Program.?

Paid time off, including annual (12-month faculty) and sick time off and paid holidays.

Retirement savings options.?

Employee discounts, including tickets to many Orlando attractions.?

Education assistance.

Flexible work environment.?

And more... For more benefits information, view the UCF Employee Benefits Guide click here.

Unless explicitly stated on the job posting, it is UCF's expectation that an employee of UCF will reside in Florida as of the date the employment begins.

Additional Requirements related to Research Positions:

Pursuant to Florida State Statute 1010.35, prior to offering employment to certain individuals in research-related positions, UCF is required to conduct additional screening. Applicants subject to additional screening include any citizen of a foreign country who is not a permanent resident of the U.S., or who is a citizen or permanent resident but is affiliated with or has had at least 1 year of education, employment, or training in China, Cuba, Iran, Russia, North Korea, Syria, or Venezuela.

The additional screening requirements only apply to research-related positions, including, but not limited to faculty, graduate positions, individuals compensated by research grants or contract funds, post-doctoral positions, undergraduate positions, visiting assistant professors, and visiting research associates.

Regular Expected Salary

Negotiable
Equal Employment Opportunity Statement:

The University of Central Florida is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer including Disabled/Vets. Click on UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement to view the President's Statement.

The UCF affirmative action plans for qualified individuals with disabilities and protected Veterans are available for inspection in the Office of Institutional Equity, Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., upon request.

As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

The University of Central Florida is proud to be a smoke-free campus and an E-Verify employer.

All applications must be made electronically through the UCF link:

https://ucf.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/careers/job/Orlando-FL-Main-Campus/Instructor-or-Lecturer--American-Judicial-Politics\_R109293

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/21/2024
Date Posted: 10/25/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15109

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Instructional Professor in CIR

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Description

The Division of the Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for one or more positions as Senior Instructional Professor (SIP) in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, career track teaching position. The initial will be between three and five years, depending on rank, and will begin in Academic Year 2024-5 and is renewable with opportunity for promotion. Appointments at the Assistant, Associate, and Full Senior Instructional Professor rank will be considered.

The University of Chicago's CIR is a one-year MA program that trains students in the theory and methods in the study international politics. CIR is a top 15 ranked Master's program, according to Foreign Policy magazine. Founded in 1928, it is the country's oldest MA program in International Relations. CIR's curriculum is organized around core courses in international security, international political economy, and global governance. Students also have access to a vast array of graduate courses offered by the faculty in all University of Chicago departments. Each MA student writes an original, research-intensive thesis. Overall, the program is characterized by a strong focus on academic research and intellectual collaboration across disciplines. The program trains MA students for research-oriented positions in academia, industry, government, consulting, and a variety of think tanks. Graduates have entered top Ph.D. programs and taken prestigious non-academic professional roles.

This is a leadership position. The appointee will also hold the title of Assistant or Associate Director of CIR.

The SIP will annually teach up to four courses. These may include 2-3 courses in the current CIR core curriculum (International Security and Order, International Political Economy, or Global Governance, Rights, and Norms) or a new addition to the core curriculum. These may also include 1-2 electives on more specialized topics in international relations in any of our five field specializations: (1) International Security, Conflict Studies, and Contentious Politics; (2) International Political Economy and Development; (3) Comparative Studies in Institutions and Identity; (4) Human Rights, the Environment, and International Law; and (5) Research Methods in the Social Sciences. The SIP will also oversee a limited number of MA theses (approximately 8-10 per year).

In their administrative leadership, the SIP will, in consultation with the Faculty Director(s) of CIR, provide leadership in vision, planning, and promotion of CIR within and beyond the University; develop, implement, and oversee curricular and co-curricular programs to advance student learning; directly supervise and evaluate other teaching personnel and manage their reappointments; develop new programming to assist in the pedagogical training of all CIR instructors; coordinate all CIR course offerings; serve as the first point of contact for students with disciplinary concerns and for student well-being; make recommendations on how best to improve program operations; lead our PhD application clinic; develop programs to improve post-graduation placement and track these outcomes; and contribute to admissions, staff hiring, student recruitment, and alumni engagement. The SIP will be supervised by CIR's Faculty Director.

This position also includes support for professional development and the possibility of affiliate status with other academic units, such as the Department of Political Science.

Qualifications

Candidates must be at least three years post-PhD in prior to the start date. They must have a demonstrated record designing and teaching courses at the undergraduate or graduate level as a degreed professional, demonstrated experience in research and practice related to the field of International Relations, and promise of future achievement in the performance of all leadership, management, administrative, and supervisory responsibilities to a high standard of excellence.

Application Instructions

The following materials must be submitted through Interfolio at URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157717> (1) a cover letter which includes information about the applicant's prior experience with administrative duties, managing staff, and mentoring students; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) a teaching statement describing previous experience in the classroom, in advising, and suggested course offerings; (4) a research statement; (5) at least one course syllabus; (6) an article-length writing sample on a topic of specialty in International Relations; (7) course evaluations or other evidence of past excellence in teaching or mentoring; and (8) the names and contact information for three recommenders.

Review of applications will begin November 23rd and will continue until the position is filled or the search is close.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15110

University of Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: American Politics, History & Politics, Political Thought: Historical

The Politics Department at the University of Dallas invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning fall 2025.

The Politics Program of the University of Dallas is unique in American higher education today. The program combines the study of timeless classics of Western political thought with rigorous exploration of contemporary American politics and international affairs. We focus on the great themes and issues of political thought and experience: justice, equality, liberty, morality, religion, and human nature.

Through a curriculum that ranges from the Greek polis, through the great Catholic thinkers of the Middle Ages, to the politics of contemporary liberal democracies, we challenge each student to master the most rewarding political works of the Western tradition and the American experiment in self-government.

The department seeks a candidate whose primary expertise is in American Politics, but who also has a strong background in the history of political thought. In particular, the department is seeking an Americanist who can teach courses focusing on American political institutions and policies from the broader perspectives of both American political development and American political thought. The ability to teach Constitutional Law is a plus.

The teaching load is three courses per semester, Fall and Spring. All Politics faculty are expected to teach at the undergraduate, Master's, and PhD levels.

Review of applications will continue until the position is filled, but for best consideration, applications should be received by November 15, 2024.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

- ? Teaching three courses per semester, with regular offerings at the undergraduate and graduate (Master's, and PhD) levels
- ? Regular scholarly productivity in peer-reviewed venues
- ? Service to the department and the University (as needed)
- ? Advising undergraduates
- ? Participating in undergraduate comprehensive exams and graduate qualifying and comprehensive exams
- ? Mentoring PhD students

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS

- ? PhD completed by the starting date of the position

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- ? Primary specialty in American Politics with knowledge of American Political Thought and American Political Development
- ? Experience teaching American Politics at the undergraduate level
- ? Evidence of scholarly productivity
- ? Broad familiarity with the history of political thought

WHO WE ARE

The University of Dallas is a Catholic university that seeks to educate the whole person, encouraging its students to pursue wisdom, truth and virtue as the proper and primary ends of education. We have consistently ranked as one of the top regional universities in the country. All employees are expected to understand and support our Mission.

APPLICATION

Candidates should submit electronically a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, contact information for three references, teaching evaluations (if available), and a sample of scholarly writing.

All applications should be submitted online at:
<https://hr.udallas.edu/apply/>

For questions regarding this position please contact Dr. Jonathan Culp at jculp@udallas.edu.

BENEFITS

UD provides competitive pay and benefits, including eligibility to participate in medical, dental, vision, life and disability insurance; employee events; a health and wellness program; a free fitness center; competitive leave programs; tuition waiver, tuition exchange for employees and their families; and matching retirement plan contributions.

The University of Dallas seeks to recruit, develop, and retain faculty, staff and administration of the highest caliber.

The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and encourages applications from female and minority candidates and others who will enhance our community and advance our Mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15112

Purdue University

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions

Specializations: Presidency, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Constitutional Law & Theory

Job Title: Clinical Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions

Job Summary

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is seeking to hire a Clinical Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions. Clinical positions at Purdue are non-tenure track positions devoted to the practice and scholarship of teaching and engagement with three-year renewable contracts and a pathway to promotion to ranks of Clinical Associate and Clinical Full Professor.

Principal Duties

The person holding this position will teach courses on American political institutions in the Department of Political Science and teach some courses each year in the College of Liberal Arts' award-winning Cornerstone Program.

The ability to teach courses in one or more of the following areas is particularly welcome: Presidency, Bureaucracy, Courts, American Constitutionalism, Public Law, and/or Public Policy. In addition, the person holding this position will engage with communities of practice and students to develop experiential learning opportunities at the local, state, and national levels. Those with prior experience interning or working in a national or subnational American political institution are especially encouraged to apply. The standard load for Clinical faculty is four courses per semester. A portion of the workload may be fulfilled through administrative or engagement roles such as managing the Department's internships or other similar programs.

Qualifications

Candidates must meet all requirements for the Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field by the date of employment. Candidates must have expertise in American political institutions. This position requires strong communication skills, an interest in contributing to the development and growth of student-focused programs, and evidence of preparation to teach high quality courses.

The College and University

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has embarked on a multi-year hiring strategy to address grand challenges in society and connect with innovative initiatives across campus. Positioned at the intersection of liberal arts and STEM, the college leverages Purdue's strengths to propel graduates towards new advances in our disciplines. It houses the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders.

Purdue University is Indiana's public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. A member of the Association of American Universities, the Big Ten Academic Alliance and the American Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities (APLU), Purdue has outstanding academic programs in the colleges and schools of agriculture, education, engineering, health sciences, liberal arts, management, pharmacy, technology, science, and veterinary medicine. The University also has a rich culture of interdisciplinary research, engagement, and translation, which is supported by university-wide institutes and centers. Purdue is home to nearly 2,900 full-time faculty and post-doctoral researchers, enrolls a diverse student body of over 10,500 graduate students and 35,000 undergraduate students. Purdue is in West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu and apply to requisition position 34458. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's experience and training fit the principal duties and qualifications of the position, 3) a teaching statement. Finalists may be required to submit additional materials, including letters of recommendation from three academic references and transcripts. This position requires a background check.

Screening of applicants will begin on December 6, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact search committee chair Logan Strother lstrothe@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15106

Hillsdale College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Politics

The Department of Politics and The Van Andel Graduate School of Statesmanship at Hillsdale College invite application for a tenure-track faculty position (rank open), beginning August, 2025. Candidates with demonstrated expertise in American politics and political thought broadly understood, with teaching responsibilities in American institutions, constitutional law, and American political thought will receive strongest consideration. Applicants should be aware that their teaching responsibilities will range from an introductory core course for freshmen and sophomores to graduate-level classes. Since the Department services a graduate program, applicants will need to have a record of scholarly publication and should have a Ph.D. in hand.

Hillsdale College is a small (1500 undergraduate students and 50-75 students in the Van Andel Graduate School of Statesmanship), fiercely independent Christian liberal arts college dedicated to the perpetuation of freedom through serious learning and moral formation. It is committed to the Western intellectual tradition and requires genuine excellence in undergraduate teaching. The College also considers itself a trustee of our Western philosophical and theological inheritance tracing to Athens and Jerusalem, a heritage finding its clearest expression in the American experiment of self-government under law. For further information on the undergraduate and graduate programs, visit www.hillsdale.edu and gradschool.hillsdale.edu.

Apply at <http://apply.interfolio.com/154823>. Complete applications will include: (a) letter of application; (b) curriculum vitae; (c) transcripts; (d) three up-to-date letters of recommendation, (e) a statement of teaching and research interests; (f) samples of publications or other scholarly manuscript, and (g) a detailed response to the Hillsdale College Mission Statement (<https://www.hillsdale.edu/about/mission/>) that includes a discussion of the candidate's ability to teach in light of the College's commitments.

Review of applications will begin on December 1st and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15088

University of Scranton

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at The University of Scranton invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor in U.S. politics, Public Policy, or related field to begin in August 2025.

Strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, scholarship, and service. The ideal candidate should be broadly trained, and prepared to deliver introductory and elective courses aligned with their interests and expertise and in support of departmental curriculum in Political Science and Public Policy & Service, including those that will help students develop technical and data literacy skills needed to successfully navigate a rapidly changing digital and informational political environment that increasingly relies on Artificial Intelligence (AI), spatial analysis, and big data.

Candidates will also be expected to support University conversations around technology and data opportunities and challenges. The standard teaching load is 3-3. The capability to develop an active research agenda that involves mentoring undergraduate students is preferred.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or related field at time of appointment; strong ABD candidates will be considered.

Review of applications will begin on November 8, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Please submit a 1) letter of interest addressing qualifications, teaching philosophy, and research interests; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statement that indicates commitment to diversity and inclusion and how this informs pedagogy; and 4) three confidential letters of recommendation. Apply at <https://universityofscrantonjobs.com/postings/7696>.

For further information about the Political Science Department, visit our web page at <https://www.scranton.edu/academics/cas/political-science/index.shtml>.

The Department also houses the University's Center for Ethics and Excellence in Public Service (CEEPS) at <https://www.scranton.edu/academics/cas/ceeps/>.

Please contact Dr. JoyAnna Hopper, Associate Professor of Political Science, via email at joyanna.hopper@scranton.edu with questions about the position.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15090

University of Utah

Rank: Assistant Professor - Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties

The Department of Political Science at the University of Utah invites applicants for a position at the rank of Assistant Professor - Lecturer with a focus on law and courts. Candidates from all subfields are welcome to apply. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and teaching adds a comparative/international perspective to the curriculum or whose teaching can contribute to more than one subfield. The position begins July 1, 2025 and carries a three-year renewable contract.

By time of appointment, applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science. This is a teaching focused position with a teaching load of 6 courses over the academic year. The hire will also be expected to contribute to student learning beyond regular classes through the supervision of student research and Honors theses, and participating in department administrative and service responsibilities. The department provides all faculty with research and travel support, and career-line faculty are encouraged to participate in research colloquia in the department.

We encourage applications from scholars who use a range of methodological and theoretical approaches and whose research and teaching contribute to the empirical study of law and courts. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, comparative judicial systems, constitutional law, comparative constitutional design, civil liberties, jurisprudential theory, legal philosophy, and/or judicial politics/behavior. We expect that a successful candidate for this position will be able to teach some of the courses currently offered in our Law & Politics subfield (e.g. Judicial Process, Constitutional Law, and/or Introduction to Law & Politics) through both online and in-person modalities and we also encourage candidates to contribute new courses based on their areas of expertise.

Applicant must submit a vitae, contact information (name, email and phone number) for three references, and a detailed cover letter that addresses how the applicant meets the qualifications and preferences listed above.

The department will begin reviewing applications on December 6, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply for this position please go to: <https://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/172298>. If you have any questions please reach out to Assistant Professor Michael Dichio: michael.dichio@utah.edu.

The University of Utah is the flagship institution of the Utah System of Higher Education, is a member of the AAU (Association of American Universities), and has been classified by the Carnegie Foundation as among those research universities with the "highest research activity." The University provides numerous opportunities for internal research funding and offers a generous benefits and retirement package: <https://www.hr.utah.edu/benefits/>.

The University is located in Salt Lake City, the center of a metropolitan area with a population of approximately 1.3 million residents. The city's proximity to the Wasatch Mountains, world-class ski resorts, and national parks offers unparalleled opportunities for outdoor recreation. Salt Lake City has extensive arts and cultural activities, and the area has received international recognition for its light rail system, foodie culture, Sundance Film Festival, its vibrant downtown, and increasing ethnic diversity.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15094

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, History, Philosophy or Sociology

Tenure Track Assistant Professor in History, Philosophy, Political Science, or Sociology

College of Liberal Arts, Purdue University West Lafayette, IN

Date Available: Fall 2025

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University invites applications for multiple tenure-track assistant professorships with scholarship in areas pertinent to the history, foundations, functioning, and regulation of business sector and market institutions.

Depending on their background and interest, the successful candidate may be appointed with a tenure home in the Department of History, Philosophy, Political Science, or Sociology, where they will contribute to the intellectual life of their department. Potential areas of specialization include political institutions or political economy (for candidates in Political Science); political philosophy or philosophy of social science (for candidates in Philosophy); socio-legal or political or economic/organizational sociology (for candidates in Sociology); economic history or business history (for candidates in History); among others. Regardless of their academic training and ultimate tenure-home, the successful candidate will have an active, interdisciplinary research agenda and an interest in developing and teaching undergraduate and graduate courses that connect with the interdisciplinary field of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE).

Principal Duties:

These positions include half of the teaching and curriculum design in Purdue's innovative, nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program, which educates students across the university.

These faculty will work to advance the Cornerstone for Business Certificate Program as well as teach in a two-course sequence in transformative texts which emphasizes works in political economy, political philosophy, political science, political, legal or economic sociology, and related foundational works. The Certificate will play a central role in transforming the Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr. School of Business in accordance with Daniels' vision that it "be marked by graduates who embody the values of wisdom and creativity, grounded in a firm grasp of today's technologies and their likely evolution and awareness of the history of progress that freedom of enterprise has created".

Qualifications:

Candidates must complete all requirements for a Ph.D. in History, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, or a closely related field by the time of appointment. The candidate should have a specialization in a field appropriate for PPE. Candidates should have a record of publishing high-quality interdisciplinary research on PPE-relevant topics and evidence of preparation for quality instruction.

The College and University:

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has embarked on a multi-year hiring strategy to address grand challenges in society and connect with innovative initiatives across campus. Positioned at the intersection of liberal arts and STEM, the college leverages Purdue's strengths to propel graduates towards new advances in our disciplines. It houses the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders. Since 2021, the college has hired more than 80 new faculty in emerging research areas such as science, technology, and society, artificial intelligence, social genomics/computational genetics, computational social science, and related fields.

Purdue University is Indiana's public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. A member of the Association of American Universities, the Big Ten Academic Alliance and the American Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities (APLU), Purdue has outstanding academic programs in the colleges and schools of agriculture, education, engineering, health sciences, liberal arts, management, pharmacy, technology, science, and veterinary medicine. The University also has a rich culture of interdisciplinary research and translation, which is supported by university-wide institutes and centers. Purdue is home to nearly 2,900 full-time faculty and post-doctoral researchers, enrolls a diverse student body of over 10,500 graduate students and 35,000 undergraduate students. Purdue is in the West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

Application Procedure:

Applications must include the following items uploaded into the online application portal: job requisition #34211. Items should be uploaded in this order and as one PDF document: 1) cover letter, with a discussion of the research agenda and teaching philosophy, and its connection to the description of this position; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) the names of three referees (no letters please). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide additional documents such as a writing sample, letters of reference, or other materials. Questions about the position should be directed to the co-chairs of the search committee: JP Messina, at jpm@purdue.edu and Brian Kogelmann at bkogelma@purdue.edu.

Review of the applications will begin on November 18, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15084

Kennesaw State University

Rank: Lecturer of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

About Us

For more than 60 years, Kennesaw State University has been known for its entrepreneurial spirit and sense of community. A leader in innovative teaching and learning, Kennesaw State is located just north of Atlanta and combines a suburban setting on two metro-Atlanta campuses in Kennesaw and Marietta. As one of Georgia's largest universities, Kennesaw State offers undergraduate and graduate degrees, including a growing number of doctoral programs to over 46,000 students. Our high-impact research, and Division I athletics also draw students from throughout the region and across the globe. A member of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State is a Carnegie-designated doctoral research institution (R2) committed to becoming a world-class academic institution positioned to broaden its academic and research missions and expand its scope on a local, regional, and national level.

Our vibrant culture, career opportunities, mission and values and rich benefits make us an employer of choice. As part of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State exemplifies the power and promise of a student-centered, research-driven university. Our institutional values are respect, integrity, collaboration, inclusivity and accountability. In addition, Kennesaw State supports the University of Georgia's core values of accountability, excellence, integrity, and respect. For more information, visit <https://www.kennesaw.edu/>.

Location

Our Kennesaw campus is located at 1000 Chastain Road NW, Kennesaw, GA 30144. Our Marietta campus is located at 1100 South Marietta Parkway, Marietta, GA 30060.

Department Information

The School of Government and International Affairs is committed to excellence in teaching, learning, research, and service. We value and encourage engagement with the community at the local, national, and global levels. Our primary goal is to provide our students with the necessary academic and communication skills, knowledge base, and analytical abilities to understand political systems and critical issues, and to be involved citizens and high-performing professionals in their chosen careers. Through our various undergraduate and graduate programs and outreach activities, the faculty and students work together to engage in independent scholarship and professional development in areas such as domestic and international politics and policy, and public administration.

With more than 400 full-time faculty and 8,500 degree-seeking students, the Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences prepares the next generation of leaders in a wide array of fields to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century and become contributing citizens in a global society. The home of three Schools and eight Departments, the College offers more than 80 graduate and undergraduate programs of study in both traditional and interdisciplinary fields. RCHSS provides students experiential learning opportunities to enable them to develop leadership, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills, as well as a strong sense of civic engagement.

The College and the School are committed to the success of our students, faculty, staff, and communities. We seek candidates whose experience has prepared them to fulfill that commitment to our students, partners, and stakeholders effectively.

Job Summary

Kennesaw State University is now accepting applications for a full-time, non-tenure track faculty position as Lecturer of Political Science in the School of Government and International Affairs with a preferred start date of August 2025. This is a nine-month contracted position. This position is for work to be performed in the state of Georgia.

Responsibilities

A commitment to excellence in teaching and service to the university, department and/or discipline is expected of all non-tenure track faculty. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

Teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses in Political Science Service to department, college, University, and profession Teaching assignments will be based on earned degrees and SACSCOC Faculty Credentials Guidelines.

Required Qualifications

To teach undergraduate courses:

A minimum of a Master's degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a closely related discipline is required.
OR

A minimum of a Master's degree, or the foreign equivalent, in a non-related discipline with 18 graduate credit hours in the teaching discipline is required.

To teach graduate courses:

A Terminal/Doctorate degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a related discipline is required.

Preferred Qualifications

Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field
Experience in teaching in-person, on-line or hybrid courses and willingness to teach in large classes
Evidence of teaching excellence in a wide variety of fields in political science
Record of past teaching at undergraduate and/or graduate level
Ability to teach introductory courses in Political Science
Experience in teaching American government, comparative politics, and international relations
Ability to mentor undergraduate research

Required Documents to Attach
CV

Cover Letter

Evidence of Successful Teaching (Upload as Additional Documents)
Unofficial Transcripts (Official Transcripts and Official International Course-by-Course Evaluations Due Upon Hire)
Three Letters of Recommendations
Names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 references
Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Apply Before Date

Review of applications will begin immediately. For full consideration, please apply by December 15, 2024.

You can view and apply for this job at: https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=43000&JobOpeningId=278051&PostingSeq=1

Contact Information

For questions about this faculty opening, please contact Dr. April Johnson at ajohn551@kennesaw.edu.

For technical support or assistance completing a job application, please contact the Shared Services Center at (877) 251-2644 or oneusgsupport@usg.edu.

For questions about a specific job posting at Kennesaw State University, please contact the search chair listed under the contact information section on each posting. For general questions about faculty jobs please email facultyjobs@kennesaw.edu.

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Kennesaw State University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for living, work and study. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, Board of Regents policy, and University policy, the University prohibits harassment of or discrimination against any person because of race, color, sex (including sexual harassment, pregnancy, and medical conditions related to pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or veteran or military status by any member of the KSU Community on campus, in connection with a University program or activity, or in a manner that creates a hostile environment for members of the KSU community.

For additional information on this policy, or to file a complaint under the provisions of this policy, students, employees, applicants for employment or admission or other third parties should contact the Office of Institutional Equity at English Building, Suite 225, eeo@kennesaw.edu.

Background Check

Per the University System of Georgia background check policy, all final candidates will be required to consent to a criminal background investigation. Final candidates may be asked to disclose criminal record history during the initial screening process and prior to a conditional offer of employment. Applicants for positions of trust with screening results which confirm a disqualifying criminal history will be immediately disqualified from employment eligibility.

All applicants are required to include professional references as part of their application process. Some positions may require additional job-based screenings such as motor vehicle report, credit check, pre-employment drug screening and/or verification of academic credentials.

https://www.usg.edu/hr/assets/hr/hrap\_manual/HRAP\_Background\_Investigation\_Employment.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15069

Sam Houston State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics)

- up to 3 positions to be filled

Usual Duties

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University is seeking up to three full-time, tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2025. The successful candidate(s) will be responsible for teaching three courses per semester and engaging in research/scholarly activities. The successful candidate(s) will also be expected to participate in service activities such as program and curriculum development, face-to-face and online course development, and student recruitment and engagement.

Degree Requirements

A doctoral degree in political science from an accredited institution of higher education. ABD candidates will be considered, but they must have a PhD by the start date (August 2025).

Experience Requirements

Demonstrated evidence of ability and/or desire to teach a variety of undergraduate (face-to-face and online) and graduate (online) courses related to American politics is required. The successful candidate will be able to offer a general upper-level course in American political science and a general graduate seminar in American political science, and should directly address this qualification in the teaching statement. The specific subfield of research specialization in American politics is open, but candidates who specialize in American political institutions, especially the presidency and/or Congress, parties and interest groups, or in state and local politics will be given special consideration. Demonstrated evidence of an established or emerging research/scholarly program in American politics is required.

Required Application Materials

- Cover letter that identifies interests, qualifications, and experience for the position.
- Current CV that includes, if applicable, a summary of previous teaching experience and the format of each course taught (i.e., face-to-face, online, hybrid).
- All graduate transcripts. Unofficial transcripts will be accepted during the application process; however, the successful candidate(s) must submit official transcripts documenting all post-secondary degrees.
- Three letters of recommendation from individuals who are familiar with the applicant's teaching and research abilities.
- Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available. Those without teaching evaluations will need to upload a placeholder document in lieu of evaluations.
- Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy and how the applicant's teaching will meet the specific needs of Sam Houston State University's students.
- If available, sample syllabi for relevant courses.

The application process will remain open until the positions are filled. Please direct questions to Dr. Stacy Ulbig (ulbig@shsu.edu).

To be considered, you must apply online at: <https://shsu.peopleadmin.com/postings/40826>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15071

Centenary College of Louisiana

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics

Centenary College of Louisiana invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science to begin August 2025. Candidates should be broadly trained in American Politics and Government and prepared to teach a range of introductory and upper division courses.

Applicants must have a terminal degree in Political Science or a related field, demonstrated strength or a commitment to excellence in teaching, and a willingness to mentor undergraduate students in research.

We seek candidates whose research, teaching and/or service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to engagement and inclusion of culturally diverse audiences in higher education, and particularly in the field of political science.

Candidates must also be prepared to advise the department's legal studies minor. The legal studies minor is an interdisciplinary course of study that exposes students to a range of courses that strengthen their critical thinking and communication skills, hone their ability to interpret and apply case law, and understand the role and effect of law within various societal contexts. Successful candidates will be able to teach introductory, general education, and upper-level undergraduate courses. Centenary values interdisciplinary teaching and encourages faculty to contribute to and/or connect course offerings and scholarship.

Priority will be given to candidates with research interests in Race and Ethnic Studies, Latin American Politics, Black Politics, African American Studies or Social Justice.

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective, residential, national liberal arts college. Centenary's beautiful campus in Shreveport's Highland neighborhood is home to a community of faculty, staff, and students who encourage each other to think critically, care deeply, and achieve more. Centenary is Louisiana's only U.S. News & World Report Top National Liberal Arts College and is ranked as one of Princeton Review's "Best 388 Colleges." The College is located in the Shreveport-Bossier City metroplex in NW Louisiana which boasts a rich cultural heritage and easy access to other major cities in the South.

Centenary offers excellent benefits to faculty including comprehensive insurance options, retirement matching, tuition remission and exchange programs, free on campus benefits including membership to the campus fitness center and entry to all athletic and performance events, and annual support for professional development. Start-up funds are available, along with professional development funds (e.g., for conference travel), and competitive internal research support.

Centenary College is committed to providing students with a firm foundation in the liberal arts and to the value of civic debate, the integrity of science, and the inherent usefulness of the liberal arts to help students lead lives of meaning. Centenary recognizes that diversity is essential to its goal of providing an educational environment where students explore the unfamiliar, invent new approaches to understanding, and connect their work and lives to the world at large. We thus encourage applicants who would add to the College's diversity of ideas, beliefs, experiences, and cultural backgrounds. Women, minorities, veterans, and people with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply. EOE.

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 15. Applicants should submit a letter of application and curriculum vitae. Candidate materials should address experience and/or commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students from diverse backgrounds and to advancing the College's commitment to diversity.

Candidates who advance in the search will be asked to provide unofficial transcripts and the names, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three current references. Background checks are required before candidates can be brought to campus for interviews. Official transcripts are required before a candidate can be hired.

To apply, send application materials to hr@centenary.edu

or:

Department of History and Political Science
Centenary College of Louisiana
2911 Centenary Boulevard
Shreveport, Louisiana 71104
Email: hr@centenary.edu

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15058

Florida Atlantic University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Position Summary:

The Department of Political Science at Florida Atlantic University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in American Politics specializing in institutions (Presidency and Congress) beginning August 2025.

Each academic year, candidates should expect to teach at least one section of the introductory Government of the United States course (POS 2041) and/or one section of the Exploring Political Science course (POS 3330). Teaching other undergraduate and graduate courses in American politics and quantitative research methods will be anticipated based on candidate specialization and interests. Applications reflecting breadth of quantitative methodological proficiency, including new techniques and technologies, are preferred.

The hired candidate will have a teaching load of 3/2 with the ability to provide instruction in a variety of modalities, including online, hybrid and in-person. Those willing to lead occasional faculty seminars on new methods are preferred. Candidates should also demonstrate an active research agenda in either methodology or American Politics, which includes potential for outside support through public or private grants. Undergraduate and graduate advising, mentoring, and thesis supervision related to Political Science and Data Science majors are important components of this position.

The Department of Political Science has 17 faculty members committed to excellence in research and teaching. The department has over 450 undergraduate majors and 25 Master's students. The department also contributes to the College of Arts & Letters' interdisciplinary Ph.D. in Comparative Studies. Programs in the department or led by department faculty include the Advanced Campaigning Program, the FAU Florida Internship Program and the Leon Charney Diplomacy Program and the Political Communication and Public Opinion Research (PolCom) Lab. FAU is a multi-campus doctoral research university (RU/High Research Activity) with approximately 30,000 students. Also, FAU is on the cusp of being designated as R1.

The Department Political Science at Florida Atlantic University seeks scholars who are committed to supporting the learning needs of students from diverse backgrounds and to thoughtfully engaging all communities in higher education. Florida Atlantic University embodies a culture of strategic and collaborative community engagement that results in mutual benefit to the institution and the various internal and external communities that it serves.

Further information about the department can be found at: <https://www.fau.edu/artsandletters/politicalscience/>

Summary of Responsibilities:

- Responsible to a Chair or other appropriate administrator of a State university.
- Responsible for teaching, research, service, and related administrative activities.
- Responsible for academic advising and related activities.
- Responsible for a teaching load of 3/2 with the ability to provide instruction in a variety of modalities, including online, hybrid and in-person.
- Responsible for seeking internal and external grants.
- May represent the university, college/school, or department/unit on university and/or Statewide committees.

Minimum Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in political science or a related field.
- Applications reflecting breadth of quantitative methodological proficiency, including new techniques and technologies, are preferred.

Salary:

Commensurate with Experience

College or Department:

Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters/Department of Political Science

Location:

Boca Raton

Work Days and Hours:

N/A

Application Deadline:

2024-11-15

Special Instructions to Applicant:

This position is open until filled and may close without prior notice.

This position is subject to funding.

All applicants must apply electronically to the currently posted position on the Office of Human Resources' job website (<https://fau.edu/jobs>) by completing the required employment application for this recruitment and submitting the related documents.

Required Documents:

FAU's Career Page permits the attachment of required/requested documentation.

PLEASE NOTE: A maximum of five (5) documents may be attached to your application. If more than five (5) documents are required for submission, please combine additional documents into a single attachment to not exceed the maximum permitted.

The site permits the attachment of required/requested documentation. When completing the online application, please upload the following: (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) research statement, (4) teaching statement and (5) the names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited later).

Transcripts:

The selected candidate for this position is required to submit an official transcript sent directly from the institution for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Similarly, for degrees from outside the United States, the evaluation by an organization belonging to the National Association of Credential Evaluation (NACES), with an indication of the documents the evaluation was prepared from (official transcripts, diplomas, dissertation abstracts) is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Transcripts must be issued to Florida Atlantic University, not to the individual applicant.

Background Screening:

Selected candidates must successfully complete and pass all employment screenings prior to the start of employment. Employment screenings may include a criminal background check (level I and level II), motor vehicle check, credit check, reference checks, alcohol, and drug screening check.

As a Hispanic-serving institution, Florida Atlantic University (FAU) is one of the most racially and ethnically diverse institutions in the Florida state university system. We are committed to recruiting and retaining talented faculty and staff. We embrace our shared responsibility to create and celebrate a welcoming and inclusive campus environment for all. Our community features excellent schools, a vibrant and safe community, and a sub-tropical climate conducive to year-round outdoor activities.

Accommodations:

Individuals requiring accommodation, please call 561-297-3057. 711

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15061

Florida Atlantic University

Rank: Chair and Professor

Position Summary:

The Department of Political Science at Florida Atlantic University (FAU) invites applications for the position of Chair of the department to begin Summer 2025. The appointment will be at the rank of full Professor, tenured in the Department and based on the Boca Raton campus. The search is open with regards to subfield specialization. We seek a dynamic scholar and visionary leader with a track record of administrative success. The review of applications will begin on November 15, 2024.

The Department of Political Science has 17 faculty members committed to excellence in research and teaching. The department has over 450 undergraduate majors and 25 Master's students. The department also contributes to the College of Arts & Letters' interdisciplinary Ph.D. in Comparative Studies. Programs in the department or led by department faculty include the Advanced Campaigning Program, the FAU Florida Internship Program and the Leon Charney Diplomacy Program and the Political Communication and Public Opinion Research (PolCom) Lab. FAU is a multi-campus doctoral research university (RU/High Research Activity) with approximately 30,000 students. Also, FAU is on the cusp of being designated as R1.

The Department of Political Science at Florida Atlantic University seeks scholars who are committed to supporting the learning needs of students from diverse backgrounds and to thoughtfully engaging all communities in higher education. Florida Atlantic University embodies a culture of strategic and collaborative community engagement that results in mutual benefit to the institution and the various internal and external communities that it serves.

Further information about the department can be found at: <https://www.fau.edu/artsandletters/politicalscience/>

Summary of Responsibilities:

The department Chair provides academic and administrative leadership within the department and is responsible for the following:

- Personnel Management: Overseeing department faculty and managing staff, including training and performance reviews. Monitoring teaching and service loads to ensure balance among faculty.
- Curriculum and Scheduling: Ensuring curriculum alignment with academic standards and current trends. Managing course scheduling to optimize student learning experiences.
- Budget and Resource Management: Managing the department's budget, allocating resources effectively and ensuring fiscal responsibility. Overseeing department facilities to maintain a safe learning and research environment.
- Recruitment and Retention: Leading efforts to recruit talented faculty by fostering an inclusive environment for working and learning. Creating and implementing strategies for enhancing the undergraduate major.
- Balanced Advocacy: Overseeing the balance between advocating for the specific needs of the department and the broader interests of the college and university.
- Community Outreach: Working collaboratively with the department's Advisory Board and supporting department and faculty efforts to foster relationships within the community.
- Teaching and Research: Teaching courses at the undergraduate and graduate level in line with area of expertise (1:1 teaching load). Mentoring students and maintaining an active research agenda.

Minimum Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field.
- Evidence of excellence in research and teaching appropriate for appointment as a tenured full

Professor in the department.

- A successful history of administrative leadership and service.
- Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively with faculty, staff and students consistent with the expectations and mission of a research university.
- A commitment to the recruitment, retention and mentoring of faculty and students from a wide range of backgrounds and experiences.

Salary:

Commensurate with Experience

College or Department:

Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters/Department of Political Science

Location:

Boca Raton

Work Days and Hours:

N/A

Application Deadline:

2024-11-15

Special Instructions to Applicant:

This position is open until filled and may close without prior notice.

This position is subject to funding.

All applicants must apply electronically to the currently posted position on the Office of Human Resources' job website (<https://fau.edu/jobs>) by completing the required employment application for this recruitment and submitting the related documents.

Required Documents:

FAU's Career Page permits the attachment of required/requested documentation.

PLEASE NOTE: A maximum of five (5) documents may be attached to your application. If more than five (5) documents are required for submission, please combine additional documents into a single attachment to not exceed the maximum permitted.

The site permits the attachment of required/requested documentation. When completing the online application, please upload the following: (1) cover letter, including a statement of leadership philosophy, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) research statement, (4) teaching statement, and (5) the names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited later). At least two of the references should be able to speak to your leadership experience and potential.

Transcripts:

The selected candidate for this position is required to submit an official transcript sent directly from the institution for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Similarly, for degrees from outside the United States, the evaluation by an organization belonging to the National Association of Credential Evaluation (NACES), with an indication of the documents the evaluation was prepared from (official transcripts, diplomas, dissertation abstracts) is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Transcripts must be issued to Florida Atlantic University, not to the individual applicant.

Background Screening:

Selected candidates must successfully complete and pass all employment screenings prior to the start of employment. Employment screenings may include a criminal background check (level I and level II), motor vehicle check, credit check, reference checks, alcohol, and drug screening check.

As a Hispanic-serving institution, Florida Atlantic University (FAU) is one of the most racially and ethnically diverse institutions in the Florida state university system. We are committed to recruiting and retaining talented faculty and staff. We embrace our shared responsibility to create and celebrate a welcoming and inclusive campus environment for all. Our community features excellent schools, a vibrant and safe community, and a sub-tropical climate conducive to year-round outdoor activities.

Accommodations:

Individuals requiring accommodation, please call 561-297-3057. 711

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15062

University of Michigan, Flint

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The University of Michigan-Flint invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Political Science and Public Administration to start Fall 2025. Areas of specialization are open but there is preference for areas in public policy and/or non-profit administration. The candidate will be expected to teach one or more foundational courses in undergraduate and graduate public administration. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or Policy is required; ABDs whose degrees will be completed by September 2025 will be considered. The teaching load is three courses (9 credits) per semester (18 credits per academic year). UM-Flint stresses excellence in teaching as well as scholarship/research and engaging in service supporting the department, college, university and community. The successful candidate will be willing to teach across modes (in-person and online), and the position requires demonstrated excellence in teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels. The University has been awarded the Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement and places high value on outreach. Candidates should submit evidence of promise as teacher/scholars and willingness to participate in civic engagement. Review of applications will start November 30, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit: a cover letter, transcripts, a statement of teaching, statement on research interests/agenda, C.V., teaching evaluation reports, three letters of reference, and writing samples (published journal articles, book chapters, pre-prints and unpublished manuscripts). Documents must be submitted electronically via Interfolio and addressed to: Dr. Kimberly Saks, Search Committee Co-Chair.

UM-Flint is located on a beautiful riverfront campus in downtown Flint. It is one of three campuses of the University of Michigan and has access to the library and other resources of the main campus in Ann Arbor. It has an enrollment of 6,529 graduate and undergraduate students. The MPA program is designed to suit the needs of working professionals. Classes are offered in the evenings with mixed modalities, including hyperflex and fully online. The City of Flint boasts an outstanding cultural center and affords rich opportunities for community-based scholarship and outreach related to its well-known economic/social struggles and efforts to support residents and revitalize the city.

Responsibilities*

- Teach 3 public administration courses per regular semester (primarily at the graduate level but may include undergraduate courses as well).
- Carry out a program of scholarly research and publication.
- Participate in civic engagement / community outreach as appropriate.
- Participate in faculty service/governance (e.g. attend meetings, serve on committees, etc.) as is expected for junior faculty in the College of Arts, Sciences and Education.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15041

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Center for Effective Lawmaking Postdoctoral Fellow: AY 2025-2026

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications for a postdoctoral research position. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Vanderbilt Political Science faculty member, Alan Wiseman, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking.

Qualifications

Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are required. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their Ph.D. by August 1, 2025. This position involves a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2025. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, computing resources, and a research fund.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a vita, a cover letter, and a two-page proposal for how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking while serving as a postdoctoral fellow. Please review www.thelawmakers.org for more information about the Center. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, and three letters of reference are also required. Applicants should submit materials electronically through Interfolio using this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157176>. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before December 15, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15050

Oxford College of Emory University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Tenure Track)

Oxford College of Emory University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Science to begin August 2025. The College seeks a candidate with a background in American Politics, whose teaching and scholarship interests include one or more of the following: voting and elections, legislatures and legislative processes, urban and local politics, or public policy.

The teaching load is three undergraduate courses per semester. Candidates should be prepared to regularly teach an introductory course in American Politics, an introductory Political Science course, a course in Political Science Research Design and Methods, and courses in the candidate's area of expertise. Faculty members at Oxford College also teach one first-year Discovery Seminar on a topic of their choosing within their expertise every other fall.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching excellence, an ability to maintain a productive research agenda, an interest in active engagement in service (broadly defined), and demonstrate a strong appreciation for Oxford College's first-year and second-year student-focused mission. The Oxford College curriculum includes opportunities for experiential, community-based, and global learning courses. For more information, please read about our signature academic programs here: <https://oxford.emory.edu/academics/index.html>.

Who we are:

Located 36 miles east of Atlanta on Emory's original campus in Oxford, Georgia, and as one of Emory University's four schools partnering in undergraduate education, Oxford College provides 975 first- and second-year students of high academic profile an intensive liberal-arts program for the first two years of their Emory bachelor's degree. We are interested in candidates with a commitment to working with a remarkably diverse student body in an inclusive learning community that values excellence in teaching and close student-faculty interaction. Applications from historically excluded populations are particularly welcome. For more information about Oxford College and for a full list of open positions, visit <http://oxford.emory.edu/hiring>.

Qualifications:

Required - A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by August 2025

Preferred – Candidates with experience in inquiry-based teaching and student-centered learning are encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions:

To be considered, applicants must submit the following via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/153710>.

A cover letter that addresses their qualifications for the position, as well as their interest in working at a residential liberal arts college that exclusively serves a diverse population of first- and second-year undergraduate students;

A current curriculum vitae (CV) with a section listing active engagement in service to your current institution, community, professional affiliations, or students beyond the classroom setting.

A statement of teaching, not to exceed 2 pages, that describes experience in, or commitment to, excellence in teaching, inclusive pedagogies, and professional development activities and goals;

A research statement, not to exceed 2 pages, with a section describing how you plan to involve first- and second- year students in your research.

Three reference letters, a writing sample, and graduate school transcripts will be requested only from candidates who advance to the interview stage of this search.

Evaluation of candidates is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Complete applications with cover letters submitted by October 6, 2024, will receive full consideration.

Questions can be directed to the chair of this search, Dr. Don Beaudette, at dbeaude@emory.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15044

Sweet Briar College

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Science

Sweet Briar is a liberal arts college for women with a long history of forging female leaders. Sweet Briar College is repeatedly named by the U.S. News and World Report as one of the most innovative liberal arts colleges in the nation. Sweet Briar College is growing rapidly, attracting students who are drawn to it for its excellent liberal arts program, coupled with distinctive programs in women leadership, engineering, sustainability, arts and its legendary equestrian program. Its finances are robust, and validated by balanced budget and positive bond ratings.

Located in the foothills of Virginia's Blue Ridge Mountains approximately 12 miles north of Lynchburg and 54 miles south of Charlottesville. Its campus is one of the nation's most spectacular, replete with nature sanctuaries, lakes, forests, trails, and most recently, vineyards, apiary and greenhouses.

The College boasts a modern core curriculum focused on women's leadership in the 21st century and undergraduate programs in the arts, sciences and humanities, as well as a Master of Arts in Teaching. It is one of only two women's colleges in the United States with an ABET-accredited engineering degree. The women's leadership core curriculum is innovative and energizing.

When students graduate, they are persuasive communicators who know how to think on their feet and bring people together. No matter what they study or where they go, Sweet Briar women are prepared to lead. The campus community is a family of faculty, staff, coaches, and alumnae who support and encourage students and each other. With a student-to-faculty ratio of 8 to 1, students lead research, ask questions and forge supportive relationships with faculty that can last for decades.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer, Sweet Briar College is committed to enhancing our community and encourages applications from qualified individuals with varied backgrounds, experiences and ideas who would increase the diversity of the College.

Job Title: Associate Professor of Political Science

Classification: Full-time, benefits eligible, tenure-track faculty position

Reports To: Social Sciences and Humanities Division Head

Job Summary/Objective:

Sweet Briar College invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Associate Professor of Political Science beginning Fall 2025. We seek candidates with experience beyond the Ph.D., including a record of exceptional teaching at the undergraduate level and evidence of an active research agenda and scholarly publications. Candidates should have research and teaching interests in American politics but be prepared to teach courses in international relations and national security studies. The successful incumbent will also have the opportunity to make contributions to our women's leadership and core curriculum. Our teaching load is 3 course equivalents per semester.

The successful candidate will be an engaged teacher-scholar who will arrive ready to lead and transform the Political Science program. They will work closely with colleagues in the Social Science and Humanities Division, be a vibrant participant in campus life, and will mentor undergraduates on research and in pursuit of careers in public service, academe, or the professions.

Candidates ready to work with a diverse student body are especially welcome. Sweet Briar prides itself on creating a learning environment that encourages young women to fulfill their highest potential. Leadership in all walks of life is fostered by the special connections our faculty make with their students, and Sweet Briar women translate their academic experiences into interesting and important lives.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or related field and at least five years of experience;
- Demonstrated excellence in teaching;
- Active research agenda and publication record consistent with an associate professor appointment;
- Demonstrated interest in working across disciplines and engaging in collaborative scholarship, teaching, and service; and
- Excellent communication skills.

How to Apply:

To apply, visit: <https://sbc.edu/human-resources/faculty-staff-job-openings/>. All applications should include: 1) cover letter; 2) CV; 3) statement on teaching philosophy and research interests; and 4) a statement highlighting contributions to or future plans for promoting diversity and inclusion through work in this position; 5) the names and full contact information for three professional references. The materials should be assembled to a single pdf and loaded into the job application portal. Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/11/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15038

University of Southern Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Special Instructions to Applicants

Candidates should submit a cover letter, C.V., teaching evaluations or evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of teaching philosophy, a research statement, a writing sample, and contact information of three professional references. We will begin reviewing applications on November 22, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should apply at jobs.usm.edu. Direct any questions to the search chair, Dr. Joseph Weinberg at joseph.weinberg@usm.edu.

Job Summary

The School of Social Science and Global Studies at The University of Southern Mississippi invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Political Science to start August 2025. The position is open with respect to substantive research and teaching interests, but priority will be given to candidates who can offer courses in American political institutions, research methods and/or public law. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to teaching and student mentorship and possess a research agenda with clear potential for a sustained record of scholarship leading to peer-reviewed publications.

The School strongly values interdisciplinary collaboration in teaching and scholarship. Our School offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues

Primary Duties and Responsibilities

Teach three courses per semester in the Fall and Spring.

Mentor undergraduate and graduate students, and participate in undergraduate advisement.

The successful candidate will also be expected to produce peer reviewed scholarly publications and participate in professional conferences. Presentations at academic conferences are supported with annual travel funds.

Tenure-track faculty members participate in shared governance, in School, College, and University committees and other service assignments.

Hold regular office hours.

Performs other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. from an accredited institution in Political Science by the time of appointment. ABD applicants are encouraged to apply but must provide official notification of the terminal degree by date of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of, or the clear potential for, scholarly development and publication in the field of Political Science. Evidence of, or the clear potential for, effective engagement with a diverse student body. Experience creating, or the clear potential for creating, a student-centered learning environment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15030

University of Sydney

Rank: American Australian Association – United States Studies Centre Postdoctoral Fellowship

The United States Studies Centre at the University of Sydney (USSC) is seeking two postdoctoral fellows in the humanities and social sciences to join a dynamic and multidisciplinary academic culture. The Fellowship is open to scholars working in the humanities and social sciences broadly construed, but applicants must have a research strength that aids the purpose and mission of the USSC.

The USSC is a university-based research centre, dedicated to the rigorous analysis of American politics, culture, foreign policy, and economics. The Centre is a national resource that builds Australia's awareness of the dynamics shaping America — and critically — their implications for Australia.

Applicants:

Candidates must have successfully completed their doctoral dissertation and be fewer than five years from the date of PhD conferral at the time of application.

Successful applicants will be provided an office in the Darlington campus of the University of Sydney, mentorship from a senior scholar, as well as a four-month research stipend of US$40,000. Fellows will have an opportunity to present research to their peers and collaborate in relevant teaching and research projects at the USSC.

Eligibility:

- Applicants must be an American citizen or permanent resident (dual citizens/residents are not eligible);
- Applicants must be conducting research or studying within the fields supported;
- Applicants must be at the postdoctoral research level;
- Applicants will be responsible for securing the relevant visa to enter -Australia and for taking out travel insurance.
- The terms of the Fellowship will extend from 1 March 2025 to 1 July 2025.

Applications:

Required documents:

1. Curriculum vitae
2. 1200-word research proposal (indicating your objectives for the fellowship)
3. Graduate school transcripts
4. Detailed budget outlining expenses and income throughout the year of supported study – please download and use the Graduate Education Scholarships Budget Template as a guide
5. Two referees to list in the Letter of Recommendation section.

Please note: after listing, referees will be automatically contacted to complete a recommendation within the online submission form. This is not viewable to the applicant.

Applications close on October 13, 2024

<https://americanaustralian.secure-platform.com/a/solicitations/login/38?returnUrl=https%3A%2F%2Famericanaustralian.secure-platform.com%2Fa%2Fsolicitations%2F38%2FhomePlease> submit your application via the American Australian Association's website.&lt;/a>&gt;

Please contact Richard Burrows for more information:

richard.burrows@americanaustralian.org

Education Program Manager, American Australian Association.

The American Australian Association:

The American Australian Association was founded in 1948 by Sir Keith Murdoch to promote cooperation and understanding between the institutions and people of Australia and the United States. The portfolio of scholarships, fellowships, and exchanges aim to champion progress, allowing young American and Australian leaders to pursue transformative developmental opportunities. In total, the American Australian Association has awarded more than US$17.5 million to graduates, veterans, artists, and indigenous scholars, with our alumni network now consisting of over 1100 members.

<https://www.ussc.edu.au/about/careers/american-australian-association-united-states-studies-centre-postdoctoral-fellowshipJobPosting&lt;/a&gt;>

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 10/13/2024

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15026

Oregon State University

Rank: Instructor

The School of Public Policy at Oregon State University invites applications for a residential lecturer in Political Science to begin September 15, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year. The lecturer will teach ten courses a year over three quarters. Up to five of these courses will be taught in our highly-rated asynchronous online degree program. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 90% teaching and 10% service. The ideal candidate will have primary teaching and research interests in U.S. politics, with an emphasis in U.S. institutions or political behavior. The lecturer will be expected to teach introductory courses on American government as part of our general education core and Research Methods, which is a required course for our majors and serves as our writing-intensive course, as well as other courses upper-level undergraduate courses in political science. The instructor will also contribute to the maintenance of online courses. Oregon State University supports a culture of quality teaching that fosters effective and efficient learning that engages all students in the learning process.

Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel when they are available. Oregon State University offers a generous employee benefits package that includes medical, vision, dental, life, and disability coverage. Also provided is a choice of retirement plans after six full months of employment in a qualifying position.

Prospective candidates must apply for the position through the OSU Faculty Job site at: <https://jobs.oregonstate.edu/postings/160623>. To complete the application, candidates must submit a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vita, evidence of teaching effectiveness, demonstrating excellence in instruction on campus and/or online and contact information for three letters of recommendation. Having earned a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a related discipline by August 2025 is a preferred qualification. Applications received by January 15, 2025 will be assured full consideration.

Corvallis, Oregon is well known for its quality of life. Corvallis boasts both outdoor and urban activities with miles of hiking and biking trails in town, close proximity to Portland, Oregon, the Oregon coast and the Cascade mountains.

The School of Public Policy is committed to enhancing the diversity of the school and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to these goals are encouraged to apply and identify their strengths and experiences in this area in their cover letter. OSU commits to inclusive excellence by advancing equity and diversity in all we do. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer, OSU values diversity in our faculty and staff regardless of their self-identity; to that end, we particularly encourage applications from members of historically underrepresented racial/ethnic groups, individuals with disabilities, veterans, women, LGBTQ community members, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/15/2025

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15024

Eastern Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, International Relations

Title: Assistant Professor (Political Science)

Employee Classification: FA - Faculty 16 and 24 Pay

Pay Grade: FA 01

Division: Academic and Student Affairs

Subdivision: Political Science

Department: College of Arts and Sciences

Campus Location: Main Campus

General Summary

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Michigan University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position focused on the study of civil rights. We will consider any specialization related to civil rights, except for law or judicial politics. Successful candidates will help shape and contribute to the development of EMU's new Civil Rights and Social Justice Center.

Principal Duties and Responsibilities

Teach contractual load of undergraduate and graduate courses as assigned by the department or school.

Assign and submit grades in accordance with established University schedules.

Keep posted office hours during the week which are scheduled at times most beneficial to students.

Provide academic advising to students, if applicable.

Serve on search committees for hiring of new faculty members, departmental committees and other service committees across the university.

Participate in activities such as student registration, orientation, convocations and commencements.

Attend and participate in scheduled departmental meetings and functions.

Provide other support service to the department, college and/or university, if applicable.

Engage in pursuits that enable them to remain current in their respective disciplines.

Engage in pursuits that help to further organize and contribute to growth of the body of knowledge in their respective disciplines, and/or to explore interdisciplinary implications.

Perform related Departmental duties as required.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD in a related field.

Special Instructions:

Your application should include a cover letter discussing your teaching and research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, one or more samples of scholarship, course syllabi, and student evaluations (if available). Items can be combined in files for uploading.

Three recommendation letters are also required as part of the application materials. References will be contacted for a letter of recommendation based on the contact information provided in the application.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on October 31st, but the position will remain open until filled. For additional information, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Klein at dklein2@emich.edu.

EMU, located in Ypsilanti, Michigan, was founded in 1849 and is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of over 14,000 students. Its proximity to Detroit, Ann Arbor, and Lansing provides rich cultural, social, and recreational opportunities.

EMU is an equal-opportunity employer and is recognized by U.S. News and World Report for its diverse campus environment. Successful candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and working with individuals from diverse backgrounds and to furthering the diversity and inclusion missions of the department, college, and university.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/7/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15012

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: History & Politics, Intelligence, International Security

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from recent PhD recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's emphasis on history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. While our Center tends to emphasize the discipline of history, or research with a strong historical component, we also highly encourage applications from PhD recipients in political science, political philosophy, public policy, language studies, area studies, and classics, whose research contributes to traditional political and military history or makes meaningful contributions to the practice of statecraft. Successful applicants will spend their time as fellows working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic and professional resources available at the Center and across the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will actively participate in the Clements Center's programs and activities such as guest lectures and conferences. Additional, specific responsibilities for activities such as directed research or teaching will only occur through mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership; the emphasis of the fellowship is to provide ample time for the young scholar's own research and writing for book manuscripts, journal articles, and similar projects. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applications open on October 7, 2024. Apply on the Clements Center's website. Applicants should submit a current c.v., cover letter, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) statement of proposed research, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants whose research addresses the Indo-Pacific region's increasing role in U.S. foreign policy and security should indicate whether they want to be considered for a formal affiliation at the Clements-Strauss Asia Policy Program. Applications are due no later than December 16, 2024 at 11 p.m. Central. The salary for this position is $69,000 - $77,000. Note that applicants are required to have received their doctorate by August 2025, the date the Postdoctoral Fellowship will commence. Please direct any questions to Emily Burch, Graduate Student Programs Coordinator, at emily.burch@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/16/2024
Date Posted: 10/7/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14982

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Predoctoral Fellowship
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics
Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, International Law & Organizations

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from current PhD candidates for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's emphasis on history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. While our Center tends to emphasize the discipline of history, or research with a strong historical component, we also highly encourage applications from PhD students in political science, political philosophy, public policy, language studies, area studies, and classics, whose research contributes to traditional political and military history or makes meaningful contributions to the practice of statecraft. This fellowship is designed specifically to help expedite dissertation completion, so applicants should be in the dissertation writing phase and within one or at most two years of anticipated dissertation submission. Successful applicants will spend their time as fellows working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic and professional resources available at the Center and across the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will actively participate in the Clements Center's programs and activities such as guest lectures and conferences. Additional, specific responsibilities will only occur through mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applications open on October 7, 2024. Apply on the Clements Center's website. Applicants should submit a current C.V, cover letter, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) research statement, and three letters of recommendation. The salary range for this position is $39,000 - $45,000. Applicants whose research addresses the Indo-Pacific region's increasing role in U.S. foreign policy and security should indicate whether they want to be considered for the Predoctoral Fellowship at the Clements-Strauss Asia Policy Program. Applications are due no later than December 16, 2024 at 11 p.m. Central.

Please direct any questions to Emily Burch, Graduate Student Program Coordinator, at emily.burch@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/16/2024
Date Posted: 10/7/2024
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 14983

Columbia University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other
Specializations: China, International Security, International Political Economy

China and the World Program (C&WP)

Professors Thomas J. Christensen of Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs and Alastair Iain Johnston of Harvard University's Government Department jointly founded the China and the World fellowship program for the advanced study of China's international relations in 2005. As part of Professor Christensen's recent move to Columbia University, the Program was renamed the Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program (C&WP) in 2018. The China and the World Program supports research that integrates theoretical innovations in the field of international relations with the rigorous study of China's interactions with countries, regions, institutions, and non-state actors.

For academic year 2025-2026, C&WP plans to award 2 postdoctoral research fellowships. Both fellows will be in residence at Columbia University and will teach one course in the Fall or Spring semester.

When not attending to program or teaching-related duties, fellows' time should be devoted to their own research, and to participating actively in the life of C&WP, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute (WEAI), the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies, etc. Fellows also will be expected to make at least one public presentation during their appointment and participate in the annual C&WP workshop where an entire day is devoted entirely to the examination of the fellows' research by former fellows of the program. Preference will be given to applicants who are currently working on revising their Ph.D. thesis for publication as a book, or who are just beginning a second major research project.

The appointment is for the 2025-2026 year, beginning September 1, 2025, ending June 30, 2026. The position comes with shared office space and access to the libraries and resources of Columbia University, access to all of which is COVID permitting.

Qualifications

Applicants must have completed all Ph.D. requirements (dissertation completed and filed) between May 1, 2020 and August 31, 2025. Applications from individuals who hold or have held full-time teaching appointments will not be considered. Only applicants working on some aspect of China's relations with the outside world that supports CWP's and WEAI's missions need apply.

Application Process

To apply, submit application materials to sipacwp {att} columbia.edu. Please note that applicants are required to send all files in one email or to upload them to a cloud based application and send the URL via email for full consideration. Faxed or mailed applications will not be considered.

1-2 page cover letter that briefly states your interest in the program, your background, and a summary of your research project
 Updated Curriculum Vitae, including a list of classes taught (if any)
 Project description
 Two scholarly writing samples
 One course proposal with syllabus for a seminar directed at M.A. students and advanced undergraduates
 Course evaluations for classes taught (if any)
 Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees
 Two letters of reference. Please note: Applicants should submit only the name and contact information of their referees. Referees should submit their letter directly to sipacwp {att} columbia.edu.

Application Deadline

All application materials, including letters of reference, must be received by December 20, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST in the United States. Candidates may be invited for an interview to be held by video, phone, or in-person. All evaluations made in connection with applications received are confidential.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their applications in February or March of 2025; a public announcement will be made by April 2025.

For more information about the Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute, or the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies please visit www.CWP.SIPA.Columbia.edu, www.weai.columbia.edu, and <http://www.siwwps.org/> respectively.

This search is subject to all rules and regulations of Columbia University. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As the COVID-19 Pandemic is an evolving concern around the world, these expectations guidelines are subject to change. Thank you for your patience during this challenging time.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/20/2024

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15002

CUNY-Queens College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Queens College is pleased to invite applications for a tenure-track appointment at the level of Assistant Professor in the field of American Politics to begin in the Fall 2025 semester. The search is open with respect to subfield, but we are looking for individuals who combine a strong record of scholarship with a commitment to excellence in teaching in an extraordinarily diverse undergraduate environment. The successful applicant is also expected to maintain an active research agenda and to participate in the department's advisement and service responsibilities.

Queens College is a senior college in the City University of New York (CUNY), the nation's largest urban public university. We are a comprehensive college serving up to 20,000 students drawn primarily from Queens and Long Island. The Queens borough of New York City has a population of 2.4 million that is the most diverse of any large county in the US, where nearly half the residents are foreign born. As the public university of one of America's great immigration gateways, our institution has the pleasure of teaching large numbers of immigrant and first-generation students, and we are proud to rank among the top one percent of colleges in helping students achieve upward socio-economic mobility. Our successes as researchers and teachers help ensure that high-quality educational opportunities are available to thousands of New Yorkers.

The faculty in the Department of Political Science includes award-winning teachers and nationally-recognized scholars who publish in top journals and presses, serve as editors for scholarly journals, hold positions of disciplinary association leadership, and receive disciplinary awards. Our location in New York City offers an unmatched range of opportunities to connect and collaborate with other scholars and civic leaders, and many of our faculty maintain an affiliation with the CUNY Graduate Center's doctoral program in political science. We are deeply invested in CUNY and its mission to provide a first-rate education to all students, regardless of means or background, and we are eager to find a colleague who shares our commitment to high-quality teaching, research, and service in an urban public university serving an extraordinarily diverse student population. In return, we offer an opportunity to join thousands of faculty members at Queens College and CUNY for an exceptionally rewarding academic career!

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in Political Science.

Preferred Qualification

Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

Salary commensurate with education and experience - $82,928-$93,134

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing this job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

Go to cuny.jobs

In the box under "job title/ keyword", enter "29044"

Click on "Assistant Professor - Political Science"

Click on the "Apply Now" button and follow the instructions.

Please note that the candidates must upload a cover letter describing related qualifications and experience, resume, and the name and contact information of three (3) professional references as ONE DOCUMENT in any of the following formats: .doc, .docx, or .pdf format.

**Please use a simple name for the document that you uploaded, for example: JDoeResume. Documents with long names cannot be parsed by the application system

CLOSING DATE

11/02/2024

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 15004

Florida Gulf Coast University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science, Public Administration, and History at Florida Gulf Coast University invites applications for an Assistant Professor of Political Science with specialization in American political institutions, broadly defined. The successful candidate will teach lower and upper-level courses in an undergraduate Political Science program along with the state-mandated civic literacy course on American National Government; be involved in course and/or curriculum development; maintain an active research portfolio; participate on College and University committees and/or initiatives; and perform other duties as assigned.

The review process will start on November 15, 2024, and will continue until position is filled. Appointment will be based on a 9-month continuous multi-year contract starting in August 2025.

Florida Gulf Coast University is a regional comprehensive university dedicated to quality education, research, and service. All faculty are expected to be excellent teachers, and responsive to changing professional needs; be committed to innovative delivery of instruction resulting in improved student learning; be committed to effective use of technology including distance learning; produce peer reviewed scholarship; and provide service to the College, University and Community. Teaching assignments may be on the main campus or at off-campus sites within our region.

FGCU is a member of the State University System of Florida and an Affirmative Action and Equal Employment Opportunity and Access Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, age, disability, sex, pregnancy, national origin, marital status, genetic predisposition, sexual orientation, gender identity/gender expression, veteran status, and any other protected class(es), as required by applicable state and federal law, as well as University regulations and policies.

For full job description and to apply, please visit https://fgcu.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/eaglejobs/job/Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor--Political-Science\_R0005532

FGCU is an EOE AA M/F/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15007

Southern Virginia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Southern Virginia University seeks applications for an Assistant Professor of Political Science, focusing on American government and politics. The position starts in the fall 2025 semester. The main responsibilities include teaching, undergraduate advising, and university service.

The ideal candidate will have evidence of effective teaching in small classes. The position also includes academic advising, course design, and continued development of a growing political science major. A PhD in political science is strongly preferred, though candidates with a Master's degree in political science will also be considered.

Candidates should have graduate training and teaching experience in American politics. Teaching responsibilities will include a course in the core curriculum on US political institutions and the Early Republic, as well as introductory and upper-division political science courses in American politics and comparative politics. The ability and willingness to teach an introductory survey of American history is also preferred. Applications should include a CV, a letter of interest (addressing the desired qualifications, the university's mission, and evidence of teaching effectiveness), and a list of 3 professional references. These materials should be sent as a single pdf to provost@svu.edu. A sample of research may also be included, in a separate PDF.

The application should also include at least three letters of recommendation, which may be sent separately by recommenders to provost@svu.edu

svu.edu. Southern Virginia University is an equal-opportunity employer. Applications will be reviewed beginning November 1, 2024, and the position will remain open until filled.

Southern Virginia University is a private, faith-based institution of higher education aligned with The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. As a university, we gather faithful Latter-day Saints and those who share our values, lift intellectually, socially, and spiritually, and launch into successful lives and careers. Applicants are invited to learn more about the university at svu.edu/mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15009

University of Cincinnati

Rank: Assistant Professor-Educator in Law & Society

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

Assistant Professor – Educator, Law and Society, College of Arts and Sciences

Current UC employees must apply internally via SuccessFactors & gt; <http://bit.ly/UCEMPL>

Founded in 1819, the University of Cincinnati ranks among the nation's best urban public research universities. Home to more than 50,000 students, 11,000 faculty and staff and 340,000 alumni, UC combines a Top 35 public research university with a physical setting The New York Times calls "the most ambitious campus design program in the country."

With the launch of Next Lives Here, the Cincinnati Innovation District, a $100 million JobsOhio investment, nine straight years of record enrollment, worldwide leadership in cooperative education, a dynamic academic health center and entry into the Big 12 Conference, UC's momentum has never been stronger. UC's annual budget tops $1.65 billion and its endowment totals $1.8 billion. The University's overall regional economic impact exceeds $10.6 billion, paving the way for the future of Cincinnati.

Job Overview

The School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) at the University of Cincinnati invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor-Educator in Law and Society. SPIA offers an MPA, MA and PhD in Political Science as well as three undergraduate BAs (Political Science, International Affairs, and Law and Society). SPIA also houses three research centers—the Portman Center for Policy Solutions, the Center for Truth, Racial Healing and Transformation (CTRHT) and the Center for Cyber Strategy and Policy (CCSP).

The University of Cincinnati is an urban, public, comprehensive Research I institution committed to attracting, supporting, and retaining an academically and culturally diverse faculty.

Assistant Professor-Educator positions typically have an initial appointment of 3 years with reappointment to a 5-year contract. Promotion to Associate Professor-Educator is possible after 5 completed years based on School promotion criteria (and Full Professor-Educator subsequently). Reappointment and promotion are based on excellent performance in pedagogy, teaching, and service (committee work, advising, recruitment and retention efforts) and while remaining current in salient research trends being covered in classes taught.

The appointment is intended to begin August 15, 2025.

Essential Functions

- Teach students principally in our undergraduate programs, including Political Science, International Affairs, and Law & Society majors, as well as a course in our MA-PhD graduate program.
- The course load for the position is 3-3 (three courses per 2 semesters). Applicants will be expected to teach courses on Law and Society, Courts and Judicial Processes, Constitutional Law, Judicial Politics and other courses that can be tied to their expertise, including courses focusing on specific legal or constitutional questions, fields, and the intersection of social and legal structures.
- Service activities will include committee work such as but not limited to serving on SPIA program committees, advising students, as well as recruitment and retention efforts.

Minimum Requirements

PhD in Political Science or a related field prior to effective date of the appointment.

Application Process

Interested and qualified applicants must complete our on-line application. In addition to the basic online application, please provide:

- a cover letter indicating fit with the job description and SPIA programs outlined above;
- full and current CV;
- three names of references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists);
- a teaching portfolio (e.g., evaluations [if applicable], teaching philosophy).
- A one-page statement addressing the candidate's intended contributions to the University's goals of building a team culture through teaching, research, and service is also required.

Please use the 'additional documents' feature to include all these required items. Review of Applications will begin October 15 with applications accepted until the position is filled.

Questions should be directed to Associate Professor - Educator William Umphres at william.umphres@uc.edu.

Compensation and Benefits

UC offers a wide array of complementary and affordable benefit options, to meet the financial, educational, health, and wellness needs of you and your family. Eligibility varies by position and FTE.

- Competitive salary range dependent on the candidate's experience.
- Comprehensive insurance plans including medical, dental, vision, and prescription coverage.
- Flexible spending accounts and an award-winning employee wellness program, plus an employee assistance program.
- Financial security via our life and long-term disability insurance, accident and illness insurance, and retirement savings plans.
- Generous paid time off work options including vacation, sick leave, annual holidays, and winter season days in addition to paid parental leave.
- Tuition remission is available for employees and their eligible dependents.

- Enjoy discounts for on and off-campus activities and services.

As a UC employee, and an employee of an Ohio public institution, if hired you will not contribute to the federal Social Security system, other than contributions to Medicare. Instead, UC employees have the option to contribute to a state retirement plan (OPERS, STRS) or an alternative retirement plan (ARP).

To learn more about why UC is a great place to work, please visit our careers page at <https://www.uc.edu/careers.html>.

FOR ALL FACULTY HIRES OFFICIAL ACADEMIC TRANSCRIPTS WILL BE REQUIRED AT THE TIME OF HIRE

For questions about the UC recruiting process or to request accommodations with the application, please contact Human Resources at jobs@uc.edu.

The University of Cincinnati is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15006

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

United States Army War College
Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies
Salary range: $90,730 – $146,476

Objective:

The United States Army War College is accepting applications for an Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies in the Department of National Security and Strategy to begin in the summer of 2025. Position Description:

The person selected for this position will have a leading role in planning, administering, and teaching core courses on African regional studies as well as other core and elective courses of the resident education program and associated programs. They will serve as a faculty instructor for one seminar, advise students, and serve as project advisor for student research projects. They will also engage in cutting-edge scholarship that advances knowledge in fields relevant to the curriculum and engage in service in support of USAWC missions. Other duties may include teaching courses on war, strategy, and national security policy, and/or supporting the development and execution of specialized programs in policy, strategy, and outreach. Finally, the applicant must be able to obtain and maintain a SECRET security clearance from the US government.

The Army War College seeks applicants who would find fulfillment teaching and researching in an environment that intentionally blends scholarly achievement with policy application. It relies on a collaborative and inter-disciplinary teaching environment that emphasizes student engagement. As one of the nation's premiere institutions for military education, it is a dynamic workplace that mixes academic excellence with practitioner experience to prepare senior level officers and civilians for roles in strategy- and policy-making over the rest of their careers. This importance of the mission, and direct impact that faculty instruction has on national security processes, fosters a culture of mutual respect and collegiality across the department and school.

Faculty who are interested in translating their academic expertise into policy debates are encouraged to do so.

This is a full-time, long-term, civilian faculty position. Initial appointment may be for up to three years; the first year may be probationary. Appointments may be renewed subject to job performance and availability of funds; reappointments at USAWC are the norm and the position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track. Academic rank and compensation of initial appointment will be offered commensurate with the applicant's level of experience and qualifications. We are prepared to offer a salary-and-benefits package designed to attract highly talented applicants.

For additional questions about the position, Department of National Security and Strategy, and/or the Army War College, please contact: Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison

US Army War College

651 Wright Avenue

Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013

USAWC\_DNSS\_africanstudies@army.mil

Qualifications:

In order to qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below, also known as Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSAs). Your curriculum vitae or résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience, and cover letters are encouraged to directly address the required KSAs, as they will be used by the search committee appointed to identify the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have master's degree (required) in political science, history, national security studies, international relations, government, or related field. PhD or terminal degree strongly preferred. Doctoral students who expect to complete their Ph.D. prior to July 1, 2025 are eligible and encouraged to apply. Expertise in African politics strongly preferred.

2. Ability to prepare, teach, and lecture on subjects related to African studies, regional politics in Africa, American foreign policy, grand strategy, and national security decision-making. An established record of superlative teaching at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or Senior Service College level, and experience in seminar-style instruction, is preferred.

3. Record of scholarly research and publication—or evidence of great potential for such research and publication—in areas relevant to the curriculum, to include national security policy and strategy, international relations, political science, history, political economy, regional studies, and the strategic use of military force (e.g., assurance, deterrence, coercion, and compellence). Expertise in regional African studies is preferred.

4. A record of successful service to the profession and/or engagement with policy debates, including membership in and service to professional (regional, historical, political) scholarly societies, public history initiatives, or military and defense organizations. A record of successful non-governmental work of a similar nature and scope, such as with a think tank, development organization, media organization, or international organization may also be considered service.

Application Required Documents:

Your application must contain each of the following:

1. Letter of application addressing the required KSAs and other qualifications, as listed in the QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED section above.

2. Curriculum vitae or résumé.

3. One sample of written scholarship not to exceed 50 pages (Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.)

4. List of four disinterested professional references (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate's qualifications but have no stake in the outcome of the selection).

5. A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the US Army War College through teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

To apply for this position, you must submit the documentation specified in the Application Required Documents section above, directly to:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison
US Army War College
651 Wright Avenue
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
USAWC_DNSS_africanstudies@army.mil

The complete application package must be submitted by 11:59 PM (EST) on 11 November 2024 to receive consideration.

Next Steps: If you provided an email address, you will receive an email message acknowledging receipt of your application. Your application package will be used to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. If you are determined to be ineligible or not qualified, your application will receive no further consideration. The deadline to apply for this position is November 15, 2024

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/3/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15001

America in the World Consortium

Rank: America in the World Consortium Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Defense, Foreign Policy

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins SAIS, the University of Texas at Austin, and the University of Florida seeks applications from recent Ph.D. recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines. AWC seeks Postdoctoral Fellows for in-residence positions beginning in August 2025. Applicants will be considered for up to eight (8) fellowship positions for up to two (2) years in residence at one of the four partner institutions:

- Duke University, Program in American Grand Strategy (AGS)
- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS
- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security
- University of Florida, Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in history, political science, public policy, classics, and political philosophy whose research has a strong connection to policy. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. Additional responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the AWC directors. For example, in some cases, Fellows will have the opportunity to teach an undergraduate course.

Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend of $72,000, access to benefits and full use of campus facilities, in addition to other university-specific benefits. The fellowship position will provide funding for a minimum of 12 months and up to 24 months. Fellows will also be given a research fund of $7,500 to cover legitimate research-related expenses, as needed.

Applicants are required to have received a Ph.D. by August 1, 2025, in a relevant field, such as history, political science, public policy, classics, or political philosophy. Applicants who have received a Ph.D. in language studies, area studies, or other related fields may be considered if their research explicitly engages U.S. foreign policy.

Please direct any questions to Emma Rogers, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at emma.rogers@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14993

America in the World Consortium

Rank: America in the World Consortium Predoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Defense, Foreign Policy

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins SAIS, the University of Texas at Austin, and the University of Florida seeks applications from current Ph.D. students for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines. AWC offers predoctoral fellowships to advanced Ph.D. students to live and work at one of the four partner institutions for one year:

- Duke University, Program in American Grand Strategy (AGS)
- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS
- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security
- University of Florida, Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants pursuing a doctorate in history, political science, public policy, classics, and political philosophy whose research has a strong connection to policy.

Fellows will spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. The fellowship offers a competitive stipend, access to campus facilities, and a wide range of resources on-campus.

Applicants are required to be currently enrolled in a Ph.D. program and to have passed their comprehensives/preliminary/qualifying exams and advanced to doctoral candidacy at the time of application.

Please direct any questions to Emma Rogers, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at emma.rogers@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14992

Angelo State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Angelo State University's Department of Political Science and Philosophy is hiring a tenure-track faculty member to teach its upper division courses in International Relations (IR) and Comparative Politics (CP) and core survey courses in Texas and Federal Government.

Our new colleague will be someone broadly trained in political science, specializing in IR or CP, and committed to offering both excellent introductory courses and upper division courses. A variety of research areas will be considered, but preference will be given to candidates whose research is directed toward the activity of major states, such as China, Russia, etc., and who will help cultivate our students for careers in diplomacy, national security, and foreign policy.

Angelo State University is a regional state university providing excellent and accessible higher education opportunities to the City of San Angelo in West-Central Texas, the broader Concho Valley, and beyond. Our student body contains many 1st generation students, veterans, non-traditional students, and is a Hispanic Serving Institution.

Job Duties

Faculty at Angelo State teach a 4-4 load. Tenure track faculty are also expected to perform research and service.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities

Teaching experience and commitment to teaching excellence are essential. An active research agenda is required.

Minimum Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science expected by August 2025.

Applicants interested please apply
<https://employment.angelo.edu/postings/5753>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14979

Elon University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science & Public Policy

The Department of Political Science & Public Policy in Elon College, the College of Arts & Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics and political behavior. The position will begin mid-August 2025, and requires the candidate to:

- Hold a PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or closely-related field by the position start date
- Have a main focus of scholarly expertise in political behavior in the United States context (which may include associated areas such as public opinion, campaigns and elections, voting and participation, parties and interest groups, social movements, political identity, and so forth)
- Demonstrate a commitment to high-quality undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts context
- Demonstrate a significant and sustained research agenda in U.S.-based political behavior
- Exhibit interest and ability to mentor undergraduate research

Responsibilities include teaching introductory and upper-level courses in American Politics, an introductory research methods course (broadly conceived), as well as courses in the Elon Core Curriculum. Additional responsibilities include student mentorship through advising and collaborative undergraduate research, and contributions to the life of the department, university, and discipline or profession. The course load for this position will be 6 classes per year. To support Elon's teacher-scholar-mentor model, we offer an attractive package of research support that includes a pre-tenure sabbatical, course reassignment times, a summer research grant, and funds for conference travel.

To apply, please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement and/or portfolio, research/scholarly plans (not to exceed 3 pages), unofficial copies of graduate school transcripts, and writing sample. In addition, candidates must provide three contacts for letters of reference within the application form. Candidates who have experience working with a diverse range of people are encouraged to identify their experiences in contributing to a climate of inclusivity in their cover letters. Elon is a dynamic private, co-educational, comprehensive institution that is a national model for actively engaging faculty and students in teaching and learning in a liberal arts-based residential campus. To learn more about Elon, please visit the University website at www.elon.edu &lt;<http://www.elon.edu>&gt;. Applications received by Oct. 25, 2024 will be given full consideration. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted online at the following link: <http://jobs.elon.edu/cw/en-us/job/493534?ApplicationSubSourceID=>

Elon values and celebrates the diverse backgrounds, cultures, experiences, and perspectives of our community members. As an equal opportunity employer, decisions related to hiring, compensating, training, evaluating performance, are made fairly, and we provide equal employment opportunities to all qualified candidates and employees. We examine our unconscious biases and take responsibility for always striving to create an inclusive environment that makes every candidate feel welcome. At Elon we strive to follow our mission, where our employees are empowered to respect human differences, have a passion for lifelong learning, an emphasis on personal integrity and an ethic of service.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14984

Marquette University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy and Quantitative Methodology (Tenure track)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Policy and Quantitative Methodology at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2025. Candidates will hold the Ph.D. degree or be near completion, and they will have a demonstrated potential for excellence in research and excellent teaching skills. We seek candidates who have extensive training in the study of public policy and major quantitative methods used in contemporary political science. Expertise in a substantive policy area within American politics is preferred.

The successful candidate will conduct research and publish scholarship. Research outcomes will be disseminated through publications in leading peer-reviewed outlets and presentations at professional meetings. The successful candidate's primary teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate courses on public policy and quantitative analysis of political data. Teaching load will be commensurate with junior faculty in the Department of Political Science. The successful candidate will also serve on one of the two main departmental committees and engage in other departmental, university, and professional service as appropriate. The successful candidate will have opportunities to work collaboratively across departments within the College of Arts and Sciences and with other related programs at the university, including the interdisciplinary data science and analytics programs at Marquette.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette University's electronic recruiting system: <https://employment.marquette.edu/postings/22031>.

Your application should include: 1) a letter of application, 2) a current Curriculum Vitae, 3) a statement on research, 4) a statement on teaching philosophy, 5) a writing sample, 6) unofficial graduate level transcripts and 7) names and email addresses of 3 references.

After submitting your application, contact the three references and have them send letters of recommendation to:

Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Marquette University
PO Box 1881
Milwaukee, WI 53201-1881

Recommenders may also send letters electronically to the Political Science Department Administrative Assistant Ms. Sahvana Williams at sahvana.williams@marquette.edu.

Recommendation letters may also be sent electronically or by mail via Interfolio.

This position is open until filled, but applications will be reviewed starting on November 15, 2024.

Marquette is a Jesuit, Catholic university and seeks candidates who will contribute to its mission, a statement of which can be found at <https://www.marquette.edu/about/mission.php>. Candidates who demonstrate success with marginalized and underrepresented students and lived experiences; have a strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion; and are able to contribute to curriculum development and diversity and inclusiveness initiatives are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14971

University of Florida

Rank: Manning Dauer Eminent Scholar Chair

Specializations: American Politics, Political Parties & Organizations, Political Behavior

The Department seeks to hire faculty broadly engaged in scholarly research that adds to our tradition of intellectual diversity and our strengths in political behavior, political institutions, and public policy. The successful applicant is expected to envision innovative uses of the considerable resources of the Dauer Chair in pursuit of an active research program, while simultaneously building the Department's graduate program and national reputation as a leader in American Politics. The successful candidate should have a rigorous track record of original scholarship, mentoring graduate students, and success in grants and/or other external funding supporting an active research agenda.

The Manning Dauer Eminent Scholar Chair is made possible by the generous bequest of the late Manning Dauer, founding chair of the Department and President of the Southern Political Science Association. The Chair is expected to actively mentor graduate students toward successful careers in American Politics, engage colleagues conducting research in American politics, and be an active colleague in the Department, the College, the University, and the discipline.

The Manning Dauer Eminent Scholar Chair will teach one American Politics course each fall and spring semester, with at least one course each year at the graduate level.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked 6th in the country among public universities (US News and World Report 2023 rankings), and 1st among public institutions in the Wall Street Journal 2023 survey. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville). The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF's large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program. Learn more about what Gainesville has to offer at Visit Gainesville.

<https://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/en-us/job/533297/manning-j-dauer-eminent-scholar-chair>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14968

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Faculty teach graduate and/or undergraduate courses; continue to expand their national and international professional influence in their academic disciplines; and participate actively in the academic community through membership in governance bodies and committees, administrative duties, program planning and development, research, and public service.

Classes focus on American politics.

Submit application here:

<https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/27676>

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14972

Ithaca College

Rank: Assistant Professor

POSITION SUMMARY: The Department of Politics at Ithaca College invites applications for a tenure-track position in U.S. Politics at the Assistant Professor level, to begin Fall 2025. The department seeks candidates whose primary methodological orientation is qualitative, with expertise in critical, historical, and/or ethnographic methods.

POSITION RESPONSIBILITIES: The successful candidate will normally teach a 3/2 annual undergraduate course load in the broad area of U.S. politics at the introductory, intermediate, and upper levels, including one intermediate-level course on Constitutional Law. The ability to teach a course on U.S. Foreign Policy is welcomed.

The selected candidate will be expected to maintain an active scholarship program and will be expected to participate in service to the department, school, college, profession, and/or the off-campus community.

POSITION QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in political science; ABD candidates who will have defended by August 1, 2025, are encouraged to apply. College teaching experience and a commitment to undergraduate teaching are also required. We prefer candidates who share our commitment to critical thinking, writing, and discussion. The ability to cultivate an inclusive, diverse, and welcoming environment is expected.

ON THE POLITICS DEPARTMENT: The Politics Department comprises a dynamic community of educators, researchers, staff, and students, each with various expertise. We have over 80 politics majors and minors. Our small discussion-based classes (10-30 students) promote close student-teacher interaction, often leading to intense dialogue and close collaboration with faculty working at the cutting edge of their fields. Students can share ideas and debate them with their classmates and professors inside and outside the classroom. Our interdisciplinary, transnational, and cross-cultural curriculum is designed to be flexible, and it includes nontraditional coursework that emphasizes analysis of the relationships of power.

Faculty research interests currently range from memory in South Africa to people experiencing homelessness in U.S. cities and rural areas; from democracy assistance in the Balkans to the role of unions in U.S. political party strategies; from the connection between militarism and gender to the effects of the “war on terror” on upstate New York; from the deportation of undocumented workers from New York City to the question of tolerance in liberal democracies. Faculty members have published widely and are regularly present at major national and international conferences. These research experiences inform the faculty’s teaching practice, as shown by the types of courses offered, methods of instruction, and interdisciplinary approach to politics and public policy.

The Politics program prepares students for careers in public service, foreign relations, NGOs, international organizations, international business, and graduate and professional school. Students are well prepared to enter law school or graduate programs in various disciplines, such as the environment, human rights, international and global affairs, public policy, journalism, community organizing, and business.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUBMITTING APPLICATIONS: Interested individuals should apply online at <http://Ithaca.edu/jobs> and attach a cover letter (500 words), curriculum vitae (CV), teaching statement (500 words), scholarship statement (500 words), a representative course syllabus, and a list containing the contact information for three professional references

The cover letter should discuss the candidate’s interest in working at Ithaca College and how the candidate’s undergraduate teaching experience, scholarly interests, and service experience relate to the position description provided. The scholarship statement should describe the applicant’s substantive research project and the future direction of the broader scholarship.

The teaching statement should articulate the applicant’s teaching philosophy and discuss the candidate’s teaching experience to date.

The search committee will request three (3) letters of recommendation, one writing sample (20 – 30 pages), and sample teaching materials from applicants who progress to the semi-finalist stage of the hiring process.

Questions about the online application may be directed to the Office of Human Resources at (607) 274-1207. Questions about the position may be directed to Prof. Carlos Figueroa, Search Committee Chair, Politics Department (cfigueroa@ithaca.edu). The review of applications will begin on November 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Visa sponsorship may be provided for this position.

Ithaca College is building a diverse academic community and encourages members of underrepresented groups to apply. Experience that contributes to the diversity of the College is appreciated.

Hiring Range: $63,000 - $67,000, dependent on discipline, qualifications and experience.

We pride ourselves on providing our benefit-eligible employees with comprehensive benefits, including:

- Healthcare including vision and dental
- Generous Paid Time Off Policies
- 403B Retirement Savings Plan with Matching Employer Contribution
- EAP
- Flexible Work Plans
- Educational Benefits
- Career-Enhancing Trainings
- For an overview of our benefit offerings, please visit <https://www.ithaca.edu/human-resources/employee-benefits-wellness>

In an effort to promote campus safety and the security of College resources, Ithaca College will, consistent with the requirements of the law and prudent practices, conduct criminal background investigations per College policy. This position is subject to a criminal background check. All offers of employment are contingent upon the successful completion of the criminal background check.

About Us

At Ithaca College, a comprehensive residential campus community of approximately 5,000 students, we strive to be at the forefront of the higher education landscape. We offer a distinct integrative learning experience that makes students ready for the personal, professional, and global challenges of our age.

We seek candidates who embrace integrative learning and want to be a part of this exciting time in Ithaca College history. We encourage creative collaboration and innovation in our faculty and staff, providing support and resources for them to grow in their fields and lead students to their own innovative ideas and achievements.

We welcome different ways of thinking and look for candidates with unique points of view and life experiences. We are inclusive of individuals with a wide range of cultural, personal, and professional backgrounds, talents, and skills. Our campus is a vibrant and rewarding community where diverse minds can learn, succeed, and excel.

When reviewing candidates, we are looking for indicators of a number of core competencies. Prospective candidates must be adaptable, collaborative, inclusive, respectful, responsive, results driven, and sustainable. They must communicate effectively, demonstrate leadership, exhibit professional integrity and ethics, take initiative, value personal and professional development, and show that they will engage in the college.

Nestled in the heart of New York State's scenic Finger Lakes region, Ithaca College sits atop South Hill overlooking picturesque Cayuga Lake and is just minutes away from the city center. Combining small town warmth and charm with the vibrancy of a college community, the thriving and culturally diverse city of Ithaca has been rated by Kiplinger's as one of the top 10 places to live in the United States.

To learn more about Ithaca College, visit us at <http://ithaca.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14966

University of Chicago

Rank: Instructional Professor (Open-Rank), Department of Political Science

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Instructional Professor at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full in any area of political science. This is a new, full-time, teaching position. The initial term of appointment will be from three to five years, depending on rank and with a start date no later than September 2025, renewable based on a performance review. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

The successful candidate will teach up to six quarter-length courses per year including: 2-3 sections of the required methods course in Political Science; one section of the honors thesis colloquium; and up to one course of the applicant's choosing, in consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies. In addition, the successful candidate will assist faculty with advising and programming for undergraduate majors.

Candidates must complete all requirements for the PhD degree by the appointment date of September 2025 and have a record of undergraduate teaching experience, with an emphasis on innovative approaches to teaching.

Qualifications

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply online at apply.interfolio.com/155878

Please submit: (1) a cover letter in which you address your teaching interests (2) a CV; (3) three letters of recommendation; (4) a teaching statement and syllabi for two proposed courses; (5) course evaluations or other evidence of past teaching performance; (6) a writing sample (or samples) of approximately 40 pages in total length.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14967

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics (Identity Politics)

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley's student body as an Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics) with a research concentration in Identity Politics beginning in the 2025-2026 academic year.

The successful candidate should be able to teach core lower-division courses in U.S. Federal Government & Politics as well as courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels, including but not limited to courses covering race and ethnicity, gender, sexuality and other forms of political inequality based on identity, and civil rights. This position supports the department's goal of expanding both undergraduates and graduate programs by offering courses grounded in the theories and methods of political science while simultaneously crossing disciplinary boundaries to incorporate topics, concepts, and methods utilized outside of political science. It will further strengthen the department's expertise in American Politics. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule to encourage faculty research and faculty regularly receive teaching support from graduate assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches.

<https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/44411>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/6/2025

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14958

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics (Identity Politics)

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley's student body as an Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics) with a research concentration in Identity Politics beginning in the 2025-2026 academic year.

The successful candidate should be able to teach core lower-division courses in U.S. Federal Government & Politics as well as courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels, including but not limited to courses covering race and ethnicity, gender, sexuality and other forms of political inequality based on identity, and civil rights. This position supports the department's goal of expanding both undergraduates and graduate programs by offering courses grounded in the theories and methods of political science while simultaneously crossing disciplinary boundaries to incorporate topics, concepts, and methods utilized outside of political science. It will further strengthen the department's expertise in American Politics. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule to encourage faculty research and faculty regularly receive teaching support from graduate assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches.

<https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/44411>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14959

University of North Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor: American Politics

General Description/Primary Purpose:

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is seeking a 9-month, tenure-earning Assistant Professor of American Politics. This position will report to Dr. Nicholas Seabrook, Chair, Department of Political Science and Public Administration. Position responsibilities include a 2/2 teaching load, research/scholarship, and service.

Apply at https://unf.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/unfjobs/job/Jacksonville-FL/Assistant-Professor---American-Politics\_JR100815

Anticipated Start Date: The position is expected to begin on August 4, 2025.

Working Hours: Varies

Supervision Exercised: No

About the Department: In recent years, UNF has transitioned to an R2 institution with an increasing focus on research while maintaining excellence in teaching. Faculty at UNF are on flexible teaching loads, typically teaching between four to six courses per year, with newly hired faculty on a reduced load of two courses per semester for the first three years. Continued reduced teaching loads may be offered to faculty demonstrating significant accomplishments aligned with the university's strategic plan (<https://www.unf.edu/strategic-plan/index.html>). Startup funds are available and negotiable.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in Political Science (BA), Public Administration (MPA), and International Affairs (MAIA), as well as minors in Political Science, Public Administration, and Political Campaigns. The department includes the Public Opinion Research Laboratory (PORK), a highly ranked full-service survey research facility, as well as the Public Service Leadership Program (PSLP), and the Pre-Law Program.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and Public Administration visit: <https://www.unf.edu/coas/pspa/>

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Government, or a related discipline is required by August 2025.

Preferred Qualifications / Skills:

The field in American Politics is open. The department seeks broadly trained scholars and has curricular needs across all subfields of American politics, especially research methods. The department welcomes applications from candidates with expertise in data science/AI. The department has a top 15 ranked polling center and is open to increasing the current cluster of survey research focused academics. There are also opportunities for the successful candidate to teach in the department's Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Master of International Affairs (MAIA) programs. UNF faculty are expected to maintain the highest standards of academic excellence in all phases of instruction, research/scholarship/creative activity, and service.

Required Licensure:

N/A

Additional Application Materials Required:

Applicants should be prepared to provide the following required documents and information:

- Cover letter
- Current curriculum vitae
- Unofficial transcripts
- Names, phone numbers, and email address of three professional references
- Plan for future research
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness

The selected candidate will be required to submit official transcripts (and, as applicable, U.S. degree equivalency evaluations) documenting the conferral of their qualifying academic credentials by the date of hire.

Additional Requirements:

Applicants may be required to upload additional documents based on their responses to the Foreign Influence Review questions.

- Passport (all pages including blank pages) and
- Form DS-160 (if ever submitted. If not, upload an explanation)

Application Review Date: Initial review of applications will begin on October 25, 2024.

Job Posting Close Date: Open until filled

How to Apply: Applicants must submit an online application that includes all required documents and reference information at https://unf.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/unfjobs/job/Jacksonville-FL/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics\_JR100815

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14945

University of Virginia

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Center for Effective Lawmaking

Specializations: Legislative Studies, Congress, State Politics

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia invites applications for a full-time postdoctoral research position. The position is offered for one year starting in July 2025. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Batten faculty member, Craig Volden, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking, and will have the opportunity to teach one class in the Batten School. A particular research focus on lawmaking in American state legislatures and/or the U.S. Congress is welcome.

The Center for Effective Lawmaking seeks to advance the generation, communication, and use of new knowledge about the effectiveness of individual lawmakers and U.S. legislative institutions. We envision American legislatures comprised of effective lawmakers, strong institutional capacity, and the incentive structure needed to address America's greatest public policy challenges. To learn more about the Center, please visit: <https://thelawmakers.org/>.

A PhD degree in Political Science or related disciplines is required by the start date of the position. Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are also required. UVA offers competitive salaries and excellent benefits to its community of postdoctoral researchers and scholars.

The position includes mentorship, access to resources and research infrastructure, opportunities to collaborate with faculty at a truly interdisciplinary school, and connections to the policy world and to a robust network of diverse scholars.

Process for Applicants:

Please apply through the UVA job board at <https://jobs.virginia.edu/us/en> and search for R0065579. Internal applicants must apply through their UVA Workday profile. Complete the application, and upload the following required materials:

- CV
- Cover Letter
- A two-page proposal on how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking
- Contact information for three references
- Writing sample
- Graduate school transcript

***Please note that multiple documents can be uploaded in the CV/Resume box or you can combine them into one PDF. You MUST upload ALL documents into the CV/Resume box. Applications that do not contain all of the required documents will not receive full consideration.

For immediate consideration, please apply by November 11, 2024. The position will remain open until filled.

The University will perform background checks on all new hires prior to employment.

For questions about the application process please contact Jessica Russo, Academic Recruiter, at sxv9zv@virginia.edu.

For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14949

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration seeks applications for a 9-month tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 2025. Candidates should have a primary research and teaching interest in American Politics. A Ph.D. degree is required. Candidates with ABD status will be considered but they must possess a Ph.D. degree by the time of appointment. Applicants should demonstrate a strong research capability, a commitment to effective teaching, and a willingness to work with colleagues in professional service responsibilities. The teaching load is four classes per year, a 2-2 load.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university classified as a Research University (very high research activity) by the Carnegie Foundation with an enrollment of about 22,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://www.jobs.msstate.edu/> and follow the instructions for applying for a job.

Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, a vita, and three reference letters. Review of the applications will begin October 15, and the search will remain open until filled. As an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer, the university especially encourages candidates from historically underrepresented groups to apply.

MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14942

Skidmore College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Summary:

The Political Science Department at Skidmore College invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor position in American Politics with a focus on the Presidency and/or Congress. The appointment will begin in Fall 2025. We are especially interested in candidates from underrepresented backgrounds who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of our academic community.

The successful candidate will have expertise in the Presidency and Congress. The ability to offer courses that contribute to Skidmore College's Black Studies Program and/or Latin American & Latinx Studies Program would be greatly valued.

The position carries a teaching load of 18 credits per year (typically a 3-2 schedule). The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in American politics, including "Introduction to American Politics," other courses in their specialization, and an occasional first-year, interdisciplinary seminar. Demonstrated excellence in teaching is required and experience teaching and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds is valued.

Education: A Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment is strongly preferred.

The application deadline is November 1, 2024. Please submit materials to https://eodq.fa.us6.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX/job/2190/?utm\_medium=jobshare

Candidates should submit a letter of application; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching philosophy; diversity statement; sample syllabi; evaluations of undergraduate teaching or other evidence of teaching effectiveness; and the names and contact information of three recommenders.

Pay Rate: $75,000 - $85,000

Pay Ranges:

The hiring rate for the successful candidate will be determined considering the following criteria:

Prior relevant work or industry experience.

Education level to the extent education is relevant to the position.

Academic discipline (faculty pay ranges reflect 9-month annual salary).

Unique applicable skills.

EEO STATEMENT

Skidmore College is committed to being an inclusive campus community and, as an Equal Opportunity Employer, does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, gender, age, national or ethnic origin, physical or mental disability, military or veteran status, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, predisposition or carrier status, domestic violence victim status, familial status, dating violence, or stalking, or any other category protected by applicable federal, state or local laws.

Employment at Skidmore College is contingent upon an acceptable background check result.

CREATIVE THOUGHT MATTERS.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/25/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14938

Stanford University

Rank: CDDRL Pre/Post-Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law welcomes applications from pre-doctoral students at the write-up stage and from post-doctoral scholars working in any of the four program areas of democracy, development, evaluating the efficacy of democracy promotion, and rule of law. The application cycle for the 2025-2026 academic year will be open from Monday, September 23, 2024, through Sunday, December 1, 2024.

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford and must be at the dissertation write-up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their Ph.D. within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2025.

In addition to our regular call for applications, CDDRL invites applications for the Gerhard Casper Fellow in Rule of Law for 2025-26. We welcome research on any aspect of rule of law, including judicial politics, criminal justice, and the politicization of judicial institutions. We are an interdisciplinary center; candidates from any relevant field (i.e. the social sciences, law) are welcome to apply. The Gerhard Casper Fellow will be part of CDDRL's larger cohort of pre- and postdoctoral fellows. Please apply through the CDDRL fellowship application process and indicate that you would like to be considered for the Gerhard Casper Rule of Law Fellowship.

More information on the application and the guidelines to apply can be found at our website at <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14917

University of Northern Colorado

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Summary:

The Department of Political Science and International Affairs at the University of Northern Colorado invites applications for an entry-level, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics with a preferred secondary expertise in Comparative Politics. We are open with respect to theoretical orientation, substantive focus, and methodological approaches, and we encourage applicants with a broad array of interests and expertise to apply.

Job Duties:

Successful candidates are expected to offer courses in the American politics subfield such as (but not limited to) Electoral Politics in the U.S, Power in America, Public Policy, American Political Development and our Senior Seminar in American Politics. Specific teaching assignments will depend on the candidate's interests and expertise as well as departmental needs, but we have particular interest in those able to teach classes on state and local politics, and political science methodology (broadly construed).

Faculty members are also expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students; demonstrate an active research agenda; and provide service to the department, college, university, and community. Our department is committed to creating a diverse, welcoming, inclusive, and supportive workplace. We encourage applications from members of historically excluded groups, including people of color, women, LGBTQ+, and people with disabilities. Over the last decade, the University of Northern Colorado has recruited an increasingly diverse faculty, enrolled more diverse and low-income students, and in 2024 became a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI). Our college serves diverse students including a high percentage of first-generation college students. The normal teaching load for this post is 3-3 and the typical overall workload for this position is (20: 20: 60; research: service: teaching).

Minimum Qualifications:

Primary teaching and/or scholarly emphasis in American Politics
Potential as a researcher
Potential as a teacher of undergraduate students
PhD in Political Science or related field by August 15th, 2026

Preferred Qualifications:

Potential to teach introductory methodology courses
Potential to teach Comparative Politics classes as required
Potential to teach classes on state and local politics
Contact and Application Deadline:

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled; to ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by November 1st, 2024. Applicants should submit: 1) a cover letter outlining teaching interests and research agenda; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) Graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts acceptable at the initial stage of the search), 4) Evidence of demonstrated or potential teaching effectiveness (such as teaching evaluations, letters of observation), 5) One sample of written work 6) The names and contact information of three professional referees who will be emailed with a request to submit a letter of reference if you are shortlisted. Submit applications online: <https://unco.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/4/home/>

requisition/513?c=unco&lt;/a&gt;

Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Richard Bownas (richard.bownas@unco.edu), Political Science and International Affairs, University of Northern Colorado.

Benefits:

Benefits available include health, dental, vision, life and long-term disability insurance, as well as a selection of several defined contribution retirement plans for all full-time positions. Employees at UNC receive sick leave, and other leave options may be available based on position. Full-time employees are eligible to receive tuition waiver benefits, as well as dependents and spouses of UNC Employees who are employed at 0.5 FTE or above are eligible for undergraduate dependent tuition grants of up to 50%. These tuition grants will cover in-state tuition charges. Further requirements may exist. Other benefits may be available based on position.

About UNC

The University of Northern Colorado is a public doctoral/research institution located in Greeley, Colorado. UNC's commitment to education began in 1889 and continues to be a transformational force for our students. According to CollegeNet's Social Mobility Index, UNC ranked #1 in social mobility (2022). UNC is also committed to providing our faculty and staff with the support they need to succeed as professionals, educators, and in life. Please visit UNC's Career Hub, to learn more about UNC's strategic plan, school programs, and employee benefits.

Federal regulations require that the University of Northern Colorado retain all documents submitted by applicants. Materials will not be returned or copied for applicants.

Background Check

Satisfactory completion of a background check, educational check, and authorization to work in the United States is required after a conditional offer of employment has been made. The successful candidate must submit original transcripts within one (1) month of hire.

This position is contingent on funding from the Colorado State Legislature, approval by the Board of Trustees, and subject to the policies and regulations of the University of Northern Colorado.

Clery Act

In compliance with the Clery Act, the most recent University of Northern Colorado Annual Campus Security and Fire Safety Report is available online. A paper copy can be requested at the UNC Police Department. This report contains crime statistics and policy statements related to safety, conduct processes and Title IX investigations.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/20/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14891

CUNY-City College of New York

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the City College of New York (CCNY)-City University of New York (CUNY) invites applications for tenure-track assistant professorship in American Politics to begin in the fall of 2025. The substantive specialization and methodological approach for this position are open. However, one requirement is that the candidate be willing and able to teach a large multi-section Introduction to American Government course once a year. Candidates should also have a strong commitment to City College's historic mission of providing a public first-rate education to all students, regardless of means or background. Successful candidates will be required to teach two courses per semester until tenure review, pursue an active research agenda, participate actively the life of the department and the college, and have completed all requirements for a Ph.D. by the start date.

About the City College of New York:

Founded in 1847, City College (CCNY) is the flagship institution of the City University of New York (CUNY) system, which combines 25 colleges across the five boroughs. With approximately 11,000 undergraduates and 1,000 graduate students, CCNY is one of the most ethnically, linguistically, and religiously diverse colleges in the country. It serves primarily students from the New York City metropolitan region. As a public institution with a public purpose and a more than 175-year history, CCNY produces citizens who make an impact on the cultural, social, and economic vitality of New York, the nation, and the world.

About the Political Science Department:

The Political Science Department is housed within the Colin Powell School of Civic and Global Leadership, which is the home of the social sciences at CCNY. The Powell School is the largest student division of the college, with nearly 4,000 students and it is home to the CCNY's public service and leadership development programs. The Political Science Department hosts roughly 300 majors and includes a master's program in international relations and an honors program in legal studies.

The City College of New York/CUNY has a strong institutional commitment to the principle of diversity. In that spirit, we are particularly interested in receiving applications from a broad spectrum of individuals.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in Political Science, or closely related field. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

Only applications submitted through CUNYfirst will be considered for this position.

If you are viewing this job posting externally, please apply as follows:

-Go to <https://cuny.jobs/new-york-ny/assistant-professor-political-science/EB9FA3CA9EB4459FB3C2EE35C641E429/job/>

OR

- Go to <https://cuny.jobs/>

- Search for Job Opening ID number: 28950

- Click on the "Apply Now" button and follow the instructions.

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION

Send to Jenifer Roman, jroman@ccny.cuny.edu

Applications including the following must be to the CUNYfirst job application website:

1. Cover Letter
2. Curriculum Vitae/Resume
3. Three Letters of Recommendation
4. Writing Sample (no more than 40 pages)
5. Statement of Teaching

CLOSING DATE

Open until filled with review of applications to begin on October 1, 2024.

QUESTIONS

Contact Daniel DiSalvo, Chair, Department of Political Science, ddisalvo@ccny.cuny.edu

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14853

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Assistant Professor– American Politics/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for an Assistant Professor faculty position in American Politics to begin Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus broadly on American politics and are open to specialty. The American Politics subfield at the University of Houston boasts scholars with a wide range of interests, including political behavior, institutions, and public policy. Special consideration will be given to those whose research agendas will add to the department's existing strengths in this subfield and have potential for collaboration with a variety of current faculty. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to teaching. Review of applications will begin October 11, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence and cultural diversity in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003523. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation for junior candidates only.

For further information please contact Professor Jennifer Hayes Clark, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at jclark10@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14837

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank - American Politics

Open Rank – American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for an open-rank faculty position in American Politics to begin Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus broadly on American politics and are open to specialty. The American Politics subfield at the University of Houston boasts scholars with a wide range of interests, including political behavior, institutions, and public policy. Special consideration will be given to those whose research agendas will add to the department's existing strengths in this subfield and have potential for collaboration with a variety of current faculty. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to teaching. Review of applications will begin October 11, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence and cultural diversity in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and

Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003522. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation for junior candidates only.

For further information please contact Professor Jennifer Hayes Clark, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at jclark10@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14838

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: CFR 2025-26 International Affairs Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: International Security, Economic Policy, China

The Council on Foreign Relations is seeking applicants for its six 2025-26 International Affairs Fellowship programs. These transformational programs enable U.S. citizens who are mid-career professionals with a demonstrated interest in foreign policy to gain experience in a new environment in the United States, Canada, India, Europe, Indonesia, and Japan, or at an international organization. Selected fellows broaden their perspective on foreign affairs by working in a policymaking setting or by conducting research in an academic environment.

Applications are now through November 1, 2024, for all six fellowships. Learn about each program by visiting cfr.org/fellowships for more information or to hear from past fellows.

To apply, please visit cfr.org/fellowships. Applications must be submitted through the official portal on our website to be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999
eJobs ID: 14836

Berry College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Research Methods

The Department of Political Science and International Affairs at Berry College seeks a scholar-teacher-mentor who will engage our students in courses focusing on campaigns and elections, interest groups, public opinion, or policy (with an American or a regional focus) and is competent to teach social science research methods. This Assistant Professor position begins in August 2025.

We hope to be joined by an innovative teacher who will invite students from all disciplines into the study of political science and international affairs. The department collectively encourages students to see politics as something noble and inspiring. We encourage students to be politically active no matter what career path they choose to pursue. The department's active and engaged teacher-scholars emphasize the development of strong writing and critical thinking skills that prepare students for entry into the workforce or for advanced study. Mentoring our students as they develop personally and professionally is a high priority.

The Department is committed to preparing students to become good citizens of the United States and the world. Faculty are supported with travel funds, work grants, and the opportunity to hire students for research projects. This all encourages mentorship of students through collaboration with faculty and deepens students' learning experiences. Successful candidates will be able to contribute to our strategic plan of good citizenship and experiential learning by helping students gain impactful internships. We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship will add diversity to the college curriculum and promote our values of equity, inclusion, diversity, and respect for and service to others.

REQUIREMENTS

Minimum Qualifications: PhD in Political Science required by August 2025. An active research agenda, an interest in mentoring and guiding undergraduate research, and a demonstrated commitment to teaching undergraduates from a range of disciplines, cultures, and academic backgrounds is essential.

ABOUT BERRY COLLEGE

Berry is a selective independent college of 2,200 students located adjacent to Rome, GA, midway between Atlanta, GA, and Chattanooga, TN. Berry's educational approach deliberately unites challenging academic programs with practical work experience in a residential campus community that encourages faith and emphasizes caring for the needs of others above self. Our mission and values are grounded in the ethic that our founder instilled more than a century ago: "We educate the head, heart, and hands – to inspire leaders of integrity who cultivate thriving communities." Nationally recognized for quality of learning and quality of life, Berry offers first-rate undergraduate degree programs in the sciences, humanities, arts and human sciences, as well as undergraduate and master's level opportunities in business and teacher education. The College's stunning 27,000-acre campus affords opportunities that cannot be duplicated elsewhere. Berry's ongoing commitment is to provide exceptional educational experiences to talented students from a wide range of social, racial, and economic backgrounds.

?

COLLEGE COMMITMENTS

Berry College is committed to recruiting and supporting a diverse faculty and staff. An Equal Opportunity Institution, Berry complies with all applicable laws and provisions prohibiting discrimination in its educational and employment policies. Berry respects the essential dignity of all individuals and accordingly hires and promotes employees without regard to matters of personal identity such as race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation, and political affiliation. Berry College is committed to ensuring facilities, programs, services, and activities are accessible to everyone, including those seeking employment at Berry College. Inquiries about interview or workplace accommodations are welcomed and can be directed to Wayne Phipps, Director of Human Resources, at (706) 290-2698.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Applicants should submit a letter of application describing the candidate's interest in this position, commitment to the Berry mission, and to inclusive teaching and learning; a curriculum vitae; a teaching statement that should articulate the candidate's teaching approach, experience, and goals; a statement of research plans; unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts; and names and contact information of three references.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Specific questions about the position may be sent directly to the chair of the search committee, Eric Sands (esands@berry.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14824

MU (Columbia) Campus

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor of American Politics

53103 Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor of American Politics

The Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy and the Truman School of Government and Public Affairs at the University of Missouri invite applications for an open-rank hire in American politics (assistant, associate, or full professor level), with ability to focus on Missouri. Candidates with different concentrations and methodological backgrounds are encouraged to apply, including but not limited to American political development (APD), state and local politics, campaigns and elections, courts/judicial politics, and political parties.

A background in Missouri politics prior to hiring is desirable but not mandatory. Once hired, however, the successful candidate will need to devote a significant portion of their work to Missouri politics. Examples of such engagement could include teaching undergraduate courses on Missouri politics; participating in the Truman School's Legislative Academy for incoming Missouri State legislators; collaborating with local civic groups, museums, archival repositories, and other such entities; promoting experiential opportunities for undergraduate and MA students (such as internships and study abroad); public engagement such as media interviews and talks with community organizations. Publishing on Missouri politics is encouraged, but not mandatory.

Missouri's Kinder Institute is an interdisciplinary, signature academic center connected to the History Department and Truman School of Government and Public Affairs. Proudly non-partisan and committed to empowering students of all backgrounds and viewpoints, it is dedicated to excellence in research, teaching, and community engagement in history, political thought, and institutions, with a particular emphasis on the ideas and events surrounding the creation of the United States and their continued global impact and relevance today. The Kinder Institute houses many thriving programs, including a BA in Constitutional Democracy, an MA in Atlantic History and Politics, and research connections and study abroad initiatives with Oxford University and the University of the Western Cape. In addition, the Kinder Institute sponsors graduate and postdoctoral fellowships in History and Political Science.

Application Materials

Applicants should submit a brief cover letter, a current C.V. with the names/addresses of three references, a one-page research statement, a writing sample (an article or chapter), and a one-page teaching statement that outlines how they would engage students in matters relating to Missouri politics.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Professor Jay Sexton (sextonj@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (Andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2024. The post will remain open until filled. The application can be found here: https://erecruit.umsystem.edu/psp/tamext/COLUM/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&SiteId=9&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=9&JobOpeningId=53103&PostingSeq=1.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14823

Quinnipiac University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor of Political Science

The Department of Philosophy and Political Science in the College of Arts & Sciences at Quinnipiac University seeks a dynamic, student-centered Political Scientist to teach at the undergraduate level. We are looking for applicants in the field of American Politics who specialize in ethnic/racial politics. We are also open to candidates specializing in other areas of American Politics whose expertise meaningfully intersects with race and ethnic politics. Candidates using theoretical, quantitative, interpretive, or historical approaches are equally welcome. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Teaching Professor, with expectations for teaching (four courses per semester), advising students, and engaging in service activities and committees that strengthen the program, department, college, and university community. Our student-centered department has a strong sense of community, and our faculty are highly collaborative in both teaching and research. We welcome and encourage applications from candidates of all backgrounds.

The anticipated start date is August 2025.

About the College:

The College of Arts & Sciences is a vibrant and inclusive community dedicated to providing an immersive and distinctive educational experience. Known for our inclusive teaching, faculty mentorship, and high-impact experiences, our programs integrate career planning and skill development into a broad education tailored to meet the needs and challenges of the 21st century. Our students emerge as ethical and intellectual leaders, capable of critical and independent thinking, equipped to collaborate on solutions to pressing global issues, and prepared for success in their personal, professional, and civic lives. The College of Arts and Sciences offers 25 undergraduate majors, 34 undergraduate minors, an MS in Molecular and Cell Biology, 6 undergraduate and 1 graduate certificates, and 13 undergraduate/graduate dual-degree programs.

About Quinnipiac:

Quinnipiac University is a private, coeducational institution located 90 minutes north of New York City and two hours from Boston. The university currently has an enrollment of 9,000 students in more than 130 degree programs through its Schools of Business, Communications, Education, Computing, and Engineering, Health Sciences, Law, Medicine, Nursing, and the College of Arts and Sciences. Our 21 Division I teams have achieved remarkable success, boasting multiple conference titles. This includes a 2023 NCAA National Championship win in ice hockey, a three-time defending national champion women's rugby team, and a trip to the Sweet 16 for our women's basketball team. The Quinnipiac University Poll is nationally recognized as a leader in public opinion research, and the university is consistently recognized by U.S. News & World Report and Princeton Review's "The Best 388 Colleges." The university is in the midst of program expansion and renewal for both traditional and adult learners, attraction of diverse communities, development of innovative corporate partnerships, and construction of an ambitious set of capital projects. For more information, please visit qu.edu. Connect with Quinnipiac on Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, TikTok and X.

Responsibilities:

Teach, advise, and mentor undergraduate students and help them achieve their academic and career goals

Teach courses in race and ethnic politics

Teach courses in the American government survey, Introduction to Political Science, American Political Movements, and occasional teaching of our undergraduate methods and senior seminars

Engage in service to support the program, department, college and university, which includes attending weekly department meetings and other college and university meetings as required

The successful candidate should be a strong communicator who is comfortable responding to requests for media interviews and commentary regarding their area of expertise

Education Requirements:

Ph.D. in political science, or a related social science, must be completed by the start of appointment

Qualifications:

Experience or a demonstrated commitment to working with diverse student populations and with the effective use of inclusive teaching practices

Demonstrated ability to teach courses in race and ethnic politics
Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrated success in teaching, preferably at the college level
Ability and interest in teaching courses in U.S. national institutions, political psychology, social movements, public policy, survey methodology/polling, or experiential learning pedagogy
Experience in curriculum design and development
Experience and interest in guiding student internships and other forms of experiential learning Experience seeking funding to support research or teaching
Special Instructions to Applicants:

TO APPLY:

Applications must be submitted electronically to <https://career.qu.edu/ci/en-us/job/495853/fulltime-teaching-faculty-political-science> and include:

1. Letter of interest that addresses your qualifications for the position.
2. Curriculum vitae with a list of three academic/professional references who will not be contacted without your permission.
3. Teaching statement (one page preferred) that describes your approach to instruction, which includes a description of your commitment to inclusive teaching practices.
4. Sample teaching evaluations if available.

Applications received by October 21, 2024 will receive first consideration.

Quinnipiac University has a strong commitment to the principles and practices of diversity and inclusion throughout the University community and welcomes candidates who enhance that diversity.

We offer a comprehensive benefits package for full-time faculty and staff which includes tuition remission and a culture that is inclusive and driven by excellence.

Quinnipiac University is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14827

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Summary

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2025, who studies either (1) the politics of groups and identities in American politics, or (2) public policy and/or public administration through the lens of group differences.

Detailed Position Information

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2025, who studies either (1) the politics of groups and identities in American politics, or (2) public policy and/or public administration through the lens of group differences. We invite applications from, among others, scholars of Black politics, Hispanic and Latino politics, and social movements, as well as those who study institutional inequalities grounded in group differences – for example, racial disparities in policy outcomes (e.g. health, education, environment, social welfare), the relationship between social groups and public administration/management (e.g., bureaucratic representation), or the way in which policy shapes class and economic (in)equality. We are open to all methodological approaches. The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2025, who studies either (1) the politics of groups and identities in American politics, or (2) public policy and/or public administration through the lens of group differences. We invite applications from, among others, scholars of Black politics, Hispanic and Latino politics, and social movements, as well as those who study institutional inequalities grounded in group differences – for example, racial disparities in policy outcomes (e.g. health, education, environment, social welfare), the relationship between social groups and public administration/management (e.g., bureaucratic representation), or the way in which policy shapes class and economic (in)equality. We are open to all methodological approaches.

The University of Alabama is a student-centered research university and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. The Political Science Department offers BA, MA, MPA, and PhD degrees and administers an interdisciplinary International Studies program and an Economics program.

Minimum Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications: PhD at the time of appointment.

Instructions and Required Materials for Application

To apply, complete the online application at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/524762>. Attach a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, and for recent PhD or ABD candidates, samples of publications or papers. Additional materials, including transcripts and letters of recommendation, will be required of short-listed candidates. A Ph.D. is required by the start of the appointment. We will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

More Information

More information can be found at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/524762>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14819

Northwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University seeks applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Environmental Politics, broadly construed, with an expected start on September 1, 2025. American politics subfield expertise is preferred, although we also welcome scholars whose work encompasses environmental/climate politics of the US in comparative or international perspective. We are open with regard to methodological approach, as well as to behavioral, institutional, state/local, political economy, and historical perspectives.

Successful candidates will build strong linkages with the Environmental Policy and Culture program and contribute to a cross-disciplinary group of scholars at Northwestern who study social- and human-environment interactions across social, cultural, economic, and political spectra. Successful applicants will have an opportunity to contribute to a growing curriculum at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates should demonstrate evidence of strong research productivity and a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring of undergraduates and graduate students. We are particularly interested in scholars with a commitment and track record of promoting inclusion in the realms of research, teaching and/or service.

Applicants must provide a curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are invited to submit a statement addressing their past and/or potential contributions to enhancing diversity, equity, and/or inclusion through research, teaching, and/or service. Applicants will have the option to upload additional writing samples. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission using Northwestern University's Faculty Recruiting Portal. Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree is required; however, ABD applicants who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2025 will be considered. Consideration of files will begin on October 15 and will continue until the position is filled. All applications received by October 20 will be given priority.

You may apply here: <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html>

For inquiries about job advertisements or the application process, please contact Stephen Monteiro, Business Administrator in the Political Science Department. <mailto:stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu>

Salary

The expected base pay range for this position is $110,000 - $150,000.

This base pay range is for a nine-month academic appointment, does not include summer salary, and is subject to negotiation.

Northwestern University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Benefits

At Northwestern, we are proud to provide meaningful, competitive, high-quality health care plans, retirement benefits, tuition discounts and more! Visit us at <https://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html> to learn more.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14805

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science/Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions in Political Science or Political Economy at the Assistant Professor level. The search is open with respect to subfield. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by July 31, 2025 and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio academic job board at: apply.interfolio.com/153698. Applicants are required to submit: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) two letters of recommendation, 3) one writing sample, 4) research statement, 5) teaching statement, and 6) no more than one-page abstract from their job market paper or dissertation. Applicants may also submit additional optional documents such as: a cover letter, additional writing sample, and/or a third letter of reference. Review of applicants will begin on October 5, 2024. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2025.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14798

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor of Southern Politics

Specializations: American Politics, United States, State Politics

Southern Politics. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointment beginning July 1, 2025. We seek a scholar specializing in any area of Southern Politics who shows promise of research and teaching excellence.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Review of applications will begin October 5, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link

<https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/287356>

Please include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching portfolio (including a teaching statement and any available teaching evaluations or other evidence of potential for teaching excellence), and a research-focused writing sample.

Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles, and email addresses of FOUR professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265; <https://politicalscience.unc.edu>. To facilitate a systematic and equitable review of applicants, people wishing to support a particular applicant are requested to provide such support within a formal letter of reference. They are discouraged from contacting current faculty members directly to support particular individuals.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14796

Seton Hall University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor - American Politics

Specializations: Political Economy, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Seton Hall University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor beginning in the fall semester in 2025, and pending budgetary approval.

Duties and Responsibilities:

We seek candidates with scholarly and teaching interests in American politics. Ideally, the candidate's work will focus on contemporary questions associated with political and economic inequality. Preference will be given to applicants with proficiency in quantitative methods, and who have teaching and scholarship interests in one or more areas of need in our political science program, such as (i) social justice, (ii) race, ethnicity, and politics, (iii) gender and politics, and/or (iv) sexuality and politics.

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science

Tenure-track faculty at Seton Hall teach three courses per semester and are expected to publish actively, pursue grant-funded research, and perform service appropriate to their rank and experience at the Department, College, and University levels. Candidates should have peer-reviewed publications, or show clear promise of peer-reviewed research publication, in American Politics.

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated ability to teach a variety of political science courses. Teaching expectations include the ability to offer a core course in American politics, an introductory political science methods course in formal theory/quantitative analysis, and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization within American politics.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, c.v., statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. All applications must be submitted through the Seton Hall University online portal that can be found here: <https://jobs.shu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14784

University of Georgia

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications for a Lecturer to begin August 1, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year appointment that is renewable on an annual basis. The lecturer will teach eight courses per academic year, four courses in each academic term. Typically, two or more sections of the same course can be offered each semester and/or during the same academic year. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 100% teaching. The lecturer will be expected to teach the undergraduate introduction to American government. In addition, the candidate will teach upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods in areas that align with their research and teaching interests. Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional-development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel and summer teaching when they are available. The university has a promotion path for lecturers. Upon their sixth year as a lecturer, a faculty may be promoted to senior lecturer, after which they may be promoted to principal lecturer (for details see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/guidelines-for-appointment-and-promotion-of-lecturers/>).

Minimum qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science completed by August 1, 2025.

Additional Requirements:

-Excellent communication skills

-Evidence of teaching excellence or demonstrated potential for teaching excellence

Duties/Responsibilities

-Contribute to the instructional mission of the Department of Political Science

-Teach four three-credit hour courses per academic term including the introduction to American government and upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods.

-Participate in workshops, the development of new course materials, and/or supervise teaching assistants

Special instructions to applicants:

Prospective applicants should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three letter writers who will separately provide letters of recommendation electronically to the UGA jobs web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/387895>

The cover letter is expected to include a description of the candidate's strengths as an instructor and relevant teaching experiences as they relate to this position description. The application should also include a teaching portfolio that provides: a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin January 8, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14517

Ursinus College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor Specializing in American Politics

The Department of Politics and International Relations at Ursinus College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position specializing in American politics (any subfield), to begin in Fall 2025.

Responsibilities

We seek a teacher-scholar broadly trained in political science who is interested in strengthening the department's commitment to active learning. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to American Government and upper-level courses on American political institutions and Constitutional interpretation as well as other courses related to the candidate's area of interest.

The successful candidate will also maintain a productive research program that will support undergraduate student achievement. The successful candidate will be expected to advise and mentor students, so applicants should be interested in contributing to student success and expanding opportunities for experiential learning, e.g. by supervising internships, directing student research and honors projects, and contributing to community-based learning initiatives. All full-time faculty members also contribute to academic advising for students in the Politics major as well as small groups of first-year students across majors.

The Ursinus College faculty is a diverse community of teacher-scholars dedicated to providing transformative experiences for a diverse student body in a highly reflective process embedded in our core curriculum.

As part of its commitment to liberal education, all entering students participate in a seminar course called the Common Intellectual Experience with a common syllabus. As the aim of this course is to foster an intellectual community on campus, the successful candidate will contribute to the teaching of this course every few years.

Requirements and Qualifications

Ph.D. by the time of appointment is required, and teaching experience is strongly preferred.

Anticipated Start Date

Fall 2025

Application

Interested candidates should apply https://iaotqy.fa.ocs.oraclecloud.com/hcmUI/CandidateExperience/en/sites/CX\_1/job/100/?utm\_medium=jobsharehere&lt;/a>. Applicants should provide a cover letter with statements describing (1) their commitment to, philosophy of, and previous experiences with undergraduate teaching, preferably in a liberal arts setting, (2) a research program that will support undergraduate student achievement, and (3) their experience and/or approach to supporting an inclusive community, broadly conceived. Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and transcripts. Applicants also should submit a list of their three references. Letters of recommendation will be requested only of applicants who are invited to a virtual interview in mid-October. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the position are welcome and should be directed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Johannes Karreth, at jkarreth@ursinus.edu. Members of the department will be at the 2024 APSA meeting in Philadelphia and available for informal conversations about this position.

About Ursinus College

Ursinus College is a selective, independent, co-educational, residential liberal arts college of approximately 1500 students located about 25 miles northwest of center city Philadelphia. With a diverse community of students, it is an expectation of all faculty to contribute to the inclusion, engagement, and success of all students. Ursinus is an EO/AA employer. Ursinus College does not discriminate on grounds of race, color, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, age, creed, ancestry, veteran status, marital status, disability, or other classification protected by applicable law in the administration of any of its educational programs or activities or with respect to employment.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14779

Samford University

Rank: Chair and Professor

Samford University's Howard College of Arts and Sciences invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for the position of chair of the Department of Political Science at the rank of Professor. The 9-month tenure-track position carries a 1 course-release per semester (normal teaching load is 24 credit-hours per year) from teaching and will begin August 2025.

Qualified candidates will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science with preference to those in the field of American Politics and Public Policy.

Prior university administrative experience is preferred. A commitment to academic excellence and the ability to work effectively with faculty, students and colleagues is expected. Candidates must show evidence of excellence in teaching, outstanding scholarly potential, commitment to undergraduate teaching, and have an active research agenda. The successful candidate will demonstrate a record of excellence in teaching and research commensurate with the rank of professor in the Department of Political Science at Samford University.

The chair will oversee the department's mission, curriculum, faculty, and recruitment. The per semester course release for department chair is given to facilitate the duties and responsibilities of the position. The chair plays a pivotal role in representing the department to the faculty and to the administration of the university. Including the chair position, the Department of Political Science (<https://www.samford.edu/arts-and-sciences/political-science/>) has 4 full-time faculty positions and over 100 majors. The department offers majors in Political Science; Law, Politics, and Society; International Relations; and Public Administration.

Samford University (www.samford.edu) is a leading nationally ranked Christian University. Founded in 1841, Samford is the 87th oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. It is the largest privately supported and fully accredited institution for higher learning in Alabama. Located in the Birmingham, Alabama, suburb of Homewood, with 425 full-time faculty and more than 5,700 students representing 49 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 22 countries. Samford is ranked #10 in the U.S. for the quality of career preparation provided to its students according to a newly published ranking, "The Top U.S. Colleges for Career and Learning Related Opportunities," in The Wall Street Journal. The University is dedicated to the promotion of rigorous academic inquiry in a Christian setting. The University seeks and prefers employee applicants of the Christian faith and offers competitive salaries with a generous benefits package. Samford University and Howard College of Arts and Sciences embrace diversity in their faculty, students, and staff and encourage applications from those who would add to the diversity of our academic community.

Review of applications will begin August 23 and applications will be accepted until November 30, 2024. Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vita with names and contact information of three references, evidence of teaching effectiveness, description of leadership experience, and research interests and activities. Academic salary is dependent upon qualifications and experience. The successful candidate must pass a background check. Applicants must be authorized to work in the United States, as Samford will not sponsor any employment visas for this position.

Applicants must complete an "Application for Faculty Position" (https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/Human\_Resources/application-for-faculty-employment.pdf) and the Faculty Applicant Christian Mission Statement (<https://www.samford.edu/departments/files/academic-affairs/Faculty-Applicant-ChristianMission-Statement.docx>).

Please submit all materials in a PDF format to: FACAPP@samford.edu
ATTN: Political Science, Dept. Chair Search.

For questions about the position contact Search Committee Chair:
Dr. Doug Clapp, dclapp@samford.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14759

Duke University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of assistant or associate professor (with tenure) in political institutions to begin on July 1, 2025. Candidates are expected to demonstrate theoretical creativity and empirical acumen in research and teaching. The search committee is interested in scholars in both the American and comparative sub-fields and is open to a variety of methodological approaches.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda in no more than three pages, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, two writing samples, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28208>. Address correspondence to: Professor Scott de Marchi, Chair of Political Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204, demarchi@duke.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Duke also makes good faith efforts to recruit, hire, and promote qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14736

Suffolk University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Criminal Justice

Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

The Department of Political Science & Legal Studies in the College of Arts & Sciences at Suffolk University invites applications for a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor position in our Undergraduate Law program beginning July 1, 2025. We are seeking a teacher scholar with a research program focused on equity and inclusion in the law that may include a specialization in Constitutional Law, civil rights law, criminal procedure, environmental racism, immigration law or public health law or another field of law.

Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellent teaching and scholarly potential, including a research agenda and plans for publication in legal journals or peer-reviewed journals in law and public policy. The Undergraduate Law Program prepares students for law school and careers as non-lawyer legal professionals. The Department includes undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Relations and Undergraduate Law, a Paralegal Studies Certificate and Associates Degree Program (for Non-Lawyer Legal Professionals) as well as Master of Arts degrees in Applied Public Policy and Global Public Policy. Preference will be given to those who have experience teaching legal research and writing and working with paralegals and/or supervising legal staff. Candidates should be able to contribute to the core curriculum and first year seminar program. In addition to demonstrating excellence in teaching and research, the successful candidate is expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students, and engage in service with the department, college and university. The workload for this position is 45% teaching, 35% research, and 20% service with a 5-course teaching load per year.

Suffolk's Political Science & Legal Studies Department's faculty are teacher scholars with a strong commitment to student development by providing high quality instruction to a diverse student body. Faculty in the department are award-winning teachers recognized for innovative pedagogical practices, community leaders civically engaged in advancing social justice, internationally recognized policy and political consultants and active researchers and scholars. Initiatives such as Suffolk Votes, the non-partisan university-wide initiative to raise political awareness and impact by increasing student voter participation, reflect the department's key role in Suffolk's Community Engagement Carnegie Classification. Department faculty take advantage of our location in the heart of Boston to design exciting real-world learning opportunities at the Court House and the State House. Close connections with Suffolk Law School, which has top-ranked skills clinics, provide students in the Undergraduate Law program with rich pre-professional opportunities as does our thriving Center for Restorative Justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to a rich tradition of community-engaged teaching and experiential education that prepares our diverse, substantially first-generation college students—40% of whom are Pell eligible—for careers and civic engagement. The successful candidate will have a commitment to inclusive pedagogy and curricular diversity, mentoring and advising students—especially first-generation college students—as well as conducting impactful research. We seek candidates excited about centering best practices pedagogy focused on active, applied and experiential learning in their teaching; a commitment to ongoing and continuous improvement in teaching is expected. Familiarity with and experience using pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and ability groups to reach their maximum potential is a valuable qualification.

Not sure this is you? Contact us to find out! Research indicates that women and members of marginalized populations tend not to apply to jobs when they think they do not meet the qualifications, when, in fact, they often do.

Suffolk University is dedicated to a diverse and inclusive academic community. Diversity, equity and inclusion are woven into our fabric. Founded in 1906 to provide access to legal education during the evening for individuals who might not otherwise have been afforded that opportunity, Suffolk University consistently seeks to advance its history and mission as a school of access and opportunity. This mission is lived through our decisions at every level. U.S. News ranked Suffolk University among the top 100 universities in the country for social mobility. Suffolk was also listed 14th nationally in percentage of international students. Through student, faculty and staff recruitment and support, community engagement, curriculum development, and research, the University community works to advance equity for every student, every day. Learn more about how we manifest the core values of our mission at Suffolk DEI. ?

Candidates must hold a JD (combination JD and PhD in a relevant field also invited) by the commencement of the 2025-26 academic year. Experience teaching undergraduates is preferred. Application should be made through the Suffolk University Human Resources' Careers at Suffolk site.

Completed submissions should include: cover letter; CV; law school transcript; Teaching Philosophy; Diversity Statement; a statement of research interests and agenda; student course evaluations (if available); and 3 letters of reference. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 1, though applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Initial interviews will be via Zoom followed by on-campus interviews.

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located in downtown Boston and is an equal opportunity employer committed to faculty diversity. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Suffolk offers substantial employee benefits, including retirement benefits, tuition remission for employees and their families, tuition exchange program with participating institutions, as well as health, dental, and life insurance, commuter benefits, and a strong employee assistance program. Learn more about CAS faculty here. To learn more about the Political Science & Legal Studies Department visit our website. Inquiries about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Conley, Chair of the Political Science & Legal Studies Department at bconley@suffolk.edu.

The department will also hold information sessions at the 2024 APSA conference in Philadelphia. To meet with a department representative at APSA, please email Prof. Maye Hennings at maye.henning@suffolk.edu

Suffolk University does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, age, genetic information, or status as a veteran in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs, activities, or employment. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer, the University is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive faculty and staff that reflect the broad range of human experience who contribute to the robust exchange of ideas on campus, and who are committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment. We strongly encourage applications from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented because of race/color, gender, religious creed, disability, national origin, veteran status or LGBTQ status. Suffolk University is especially interested in candidates who, through their training, service and experience, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the University community.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14738

Ohio State University

Rank: AI in Politics and Society

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant or Associate Professor
Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful applicants will have research and teaching interests in the area of AI in Politics and Society. Based in Columbus, Ohio, the position will begin in the fall of 2025. Preferred applicants will have the promise of a sustained and substantial body of work developing and utilizing data analytic and/or artificial intelligence tools for the analysis of socio-political questions. The position is open with respect to substantive focus or disciplinary subfield in Political Science.

This position is part of the investment of The Ohio State University Provost in the Department of Political Science in Socio-Political Analysis and AI: <https://polisci.osu.edu/good-to-great-proposal>

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- Conduct research on advanced topics in the application of data analytics and AI to social scientific questions
- Mentor and teach in these and related areas at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- Engage with interdisciplinary efforts focused on data analytics and/or AI

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Applicants must be on track to complete their PhD on or before August 15, 2025, in a relevant field, and have the capacity to integrate methodological insights with substantive research demonstrated through a record of and/or promise of scholarly excellence. Desired: Demonstrate the potential for securing external grant funding and mentoring undergraduate or graduate students. Preferred candidates will show a willingness to participate in interdisciplinary collaborative efforts. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Associate-Professor---AI-in-Politics---Society\_R113066]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Janet Box-Steffensmeier at box-steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:

- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an

NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14721

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2025 to June 1, 2026. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Office of Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35921>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – June 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024 for appointments beginning in September 2025. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 2/28/2024

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14727

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, James Madison Program

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients, or recipients who anticipate receiving their Ph.D., to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the anticipated year from September 1, 2025 to September 1, 2026. Appointments will be through the Department of Politics. All James Madison Program researchers are expected to be in residence in Princeton, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Researchers appointed in the Madison Program are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are required to have a Ph.D. degree awarded within the last three years (no earlier than September 1, 2022), or candidates must have less than three years of post-Ph.D. research experience prior to the anticipated start date. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35922>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration, application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.
Assistant Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu
Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/27/2025

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14728

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor, African American Studies and Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology

Description

Yale's Departments of African American Studies, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology invite applicants for multiple positions at the assistant professor level beginning July 2025. These positions are part of a cluster hire in African American Studies and the social sciences. The goal is to deepen empirical scholarship of Black experiences—growing the community at Yale necessary for such scholarship in the process. Applicants' research should fit within one or both of two broad subfields: 1) Racial Attitudes and Political Participation (e.g., estimating the role of prejudice in politics, topics in sexuality and gender identity, race and attitudes towards climate justice, and/or other relevant subspecializations) and 2) Race, Systems, and Institutions (e.g., the intersections of race and class, race and artificial intelligence, race relations in specific domains such as education, child welfare, public administration, and/or other relevant subspecializations). All applicants will be jointly appointed with African American Studies and either Political Science, Psychology, or Sociology and each successful applicant will work with their hiring departments to construct a mentorship plan designed to optimize the applicant's ability to navigate the resources of two departments on their path towards promotion. Candidates will be expected to teach courses whose content falls within one or both general areas of research listed above. Candidates who wish to be considered for more than one combination (e.g., African American Studies and Psychology and/or African American Studies and Sociology) should indicate this desire on the cover sheet and apply by the earliest relevant deadline below.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD (or equivalent) at time of hire.

Application Instructions

Yale seeks outstanding applicants who will advance our mission of understanding Black experiences across a broad range of disciplines.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Political Science, please apply by September 15, 2024.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Sociology, please apply by October 1, 2024.

For both the Af-Am/PoliSci and Af-Am/Soc applicants, review of applications in these areas will begin immediately after the deadlines and you will be informed no later than the end of November about the status of your application.

For those seeking to be considered jointly by African American Studies and Psychology, please apply by November 1, 2024.

For these applicants, review of applications in these areas will also begin immediately after the deadline, and you will be informed by early February about the status of your application.

For questions, please contact Senior Administrative Assistant, Ms. Vanessa Epps @vanessa.epps@yale.edu. Applicants must submit the following materials for full consideration to URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/151852>

Cover Letter – Indicate your desired department affiliations (African American Studies and Political Science, Psychology, and/or Sociology) and broad area(s) of research.

Sample Works – For applicants wishing to be considered jointly with Political Science and/or Sociology, submit up to two samples of original research. For applicants wishing to be considered jointly with Psychology, submit three samples of original research.

Research Statement – Describe your most significant scientific discoveries and accomplishments to date as well as your goals for your future research program in a supportive environment like Yale. (2 pages max)

Mentoring and Teaching – Describe your philosophy, experience, and plans for mentoring and teaching undergraduate and graduate students. (1 page max)

Curriculum Vitae – Include your most recent CV with links to publications (or website).

Letters of Recommendation – Please arrange for three referees to upload letters of recommendation by the due date. Recommenders are encouraged to upload them directly.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2025

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14685

University of Texas, Tyler

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Research Methods, Congress

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas at Tyler invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position specializing in American politics. The successful candidate will be able to teach research methods, along with courses related to elections and political institutions. This position offers an opportunity to join an academically vibrant community and make impactful contributions to teaching, research, and community service.

Job Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 course load.
- Demonstrate the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses.
- Maintain a record of research.
- Advise students.
- Serve the department, college, and university.

Candidates should have an earned Ph.D. in Political Science by the time of appointment.

Our department is embarking on a new direction with the Politics, Philosophy & Law (PPL) track for a BS in Political Science. This innovative program emphasizes public service and equips students with critical skills in politics, ethics, law, and philosophy. The PPL concentration encourages analytical and critical reflection on the values, ethics, and interconnections in politics, philosophy, and legal thought systems, preparing students for careers in law, government, and public interest organizations. We seek a candidate who aligns with this new direction and is enthusiastic about contributing to its development.

About Tyler:
Situated approximately ninety minutes east of Dallas/Ft. Worth, Tyler is a growing city with over 100,000 residents. The University of Texas at Tyler, serving over 10,000 students, is a pivotal educational institution and a central hub for cultural and academic pursuits in the region.

Application Process:

Qualified candidates may apply at [UT Tyler Prospective Employees] (<https://www.uttyler.edu/human-resources/prospective-employees/>). Please submit a letter of application detailing teaching and research interests, teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae and unofficial transcripts, all in one document.

Review of applications begins the week of September 30, 2024. However, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Additional Information:

The successful applicant must be able to demonstrate eligibility to work in the United States.

This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code Section 51.215, authorizing the employer to obtain criminal history record information. The University of Texas at

Tyler is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants

will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, status as a protected veteran, or status as a qualified individual with a disability. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14663

Bucknell University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science (American Politics)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics beginning in the fall semester of 2025. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering exceptional candidates at other ranks. We seek candidates whose scholarly and teaching interests center on race and ethnic politics in the U.S. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in American politics, courses in race and ethnic politics, and a course in quantitative or qualitative research methods.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the Department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in American politics. Outstanding candidates in the final stages of their dissertation may be considered, but must complete their degree in their first year at Bucknell in order to continue employment after the first year.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <https://www.bucknell.edu/careers-bucknell>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. The candidates will be requested to provide references later in the process. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to: Professor Doug Hecock rdh013@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on September 16, 2024 and continue until filled.

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/16/2024
Date Posted: 8/16/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14660

Rice University

Rank: Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a Full Professor to begin July 1, 2025. The candidate will be expected to serve as Department Chair. Full professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise Ph.D. dissertations, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to department, university, and disciplinary service. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of leadership and service at the dept/school/university/discipline level, outstanding teaching in undergraduate and graduate courses, and research excellence in their specialized area. Candidates should have research interests and expertise in the areas of American politics, comparative politics, or international relations, and have utilized quantitative research methods in their work. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a leadership/service statement highlighting experience and leadership philosophy; a research statement; a teaching statement; a DEI statement; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and contact information for three references who can attest to the candidate's leadership experience and qualities. References will be contacted for a subset of candidates. All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151772>.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14632

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Racial and Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in racial and ethnic politics. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151793. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14630

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2025. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2026, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time “career employee” at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP’s home academic institution for the visiting professor’s salary and benefits during their time at the Academy. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Lt Col Woody Olmstead, PhD), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-116, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Roland.Olmstead@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14623

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire multiple faculty members with expertise in American Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any area of American Politics. Candidates will be expected to teach courses in American Politics commensurate with their experience. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151671>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14618

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor – American Politics (Economic, Racial/Ethnic, and/or Gender Studies), Fall 2025

Specializations: Economic Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track position (assistant professor) to begin in August 1, 2025 in American Politics. While the area of concentration is open, we have preference for scholars who examine empirical questions of diversity, inequality, inclusion, race/ethnicity, and/or gender. The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). Strong quantitative methods skills are a plus. The successful candidate must also demonstrate evidence of, or potential for, teaching excellence. Evidence of prior notable pedagogy, teaching and outreach (whether formal, or informal) is preferred. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state’s flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

Environment and Community

The University of Tennessee campus is located in one of the most beautiful areas of the country with easy access to miles of inland waterways, pristine state and national parks, diverse cultural opportunities, and a blend of convenient urban and rural living settings. Downtown Knoxville, adjacent to campus, is a thriving neighborhood filled with restaurants, shops, and indoor and outdoor entertainment venues, and is home to the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra, the Knoxville Opera Company, annual international festivals such as the Big Ears Music Festival, and seasonal and weekly events such as Jazz on the Square, Shakespeare on the Square, and the Farmers Market. The University is located within easy driving distance to Asheville, Nashville, Atlanta, and the Great Smoky Mountains.

Qualifications

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related discipline must be finished at the time of appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants should send a cover letter, a current CV, a sample of scholarly writing, a research statement, and a teaching statement. In addition to addressing their qualifications for the position in their application, candidates may describe how they would help promote students' access to and inclusion in their teaching and research/scholarship/creative activities. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University. All applicants should request letters from three references to be directly uploaded to Interfolio. Please submit application materials in digital format via Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/150128. Review of applications begins September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Pat Freeland at pfreelan@utk.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14603

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Associate Professor

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Public Opinion, Political Parties & Organizations

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a full-time, tenured associate professor to begin in August 2025. The successful applicant will conduct research and teach in the area of American Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who can teach and expand our current offerings in public opinion, elections, and/or public policy.

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-division undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. Candidates should demonstrate a record of excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured professor. The faculty member will assist the Department in efforts to recruit, advise, and engage students and develop and refine the Department's curriculum.

Applicants must apply by October 15, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately after that and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14602

Indiana University, Bloomington

Rank: American Politics

American Politics (Open Rank)

The Department of Political Science at Indiana University-Bloomington invites applications for a full-time tenure track Open Rank position in the field of American Politics, beginning August of 2025. Our goal is to hire the strongest candidate available who is doing interesting and important scholarship in this field and who can contribute to the Department's mission and campus's strengths in social sciences. Candidates should demonstrate active research agendas with the promise for publication in high-quality venues and strong teaching credentials. In addition to maintaining an ongoing research program, this faculty member would be expected to teach courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and to participate actively in departmental activities.

Successful candidates will have completed their Ph.D. degree in Political Science by August 1, 2025.

We encourage applications from all, including members of groups that are traditionally underrepresented in academia. Both the Department of Political Science and the College of Arts and Sciences are committed to building and supporting a diverse inclusive and equitable community of students and scholars.

Indiana University is an equal employment employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status. Applications received by October 1, 2024 will be assured full consideration; however, the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a complete curriculum vitae, two publications or papers, relevant course syllabi and a summary of teaching. Candidates should have at least three letters of recommendation forwarded to us. All application materials should be submitted online to the attention of Professor Aurelian Craiutu, Department Chair, Department of Political Science at: <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25305>

Before a conditional offer of employment with tenure is finalized, candidates will be asked to disclose any pending investigations or previous findings of sexual or professional misconduct. They will also be required to authorize an inquiry by Indiana University Bloomington with all current and former employers along these lines. The relevance of information disclosed or ascertained in the context of this process to a candidate's eligibility for hire will be evaluated by Indiana University Bloomington on a case-by-case basis. Applicants should be aware, however, that Indiana University Bloomington takes the matters of sexual and professional misconduct very seriously.

Questions regarding the position or application process should be directed to Jan Peterson, Department Manager, e-mail: janpeter@iu.edu, Department of Political Science, 210 Woodburn Hall, 1100 E. Seventh Street, Indiana University-Bloomington, Bloomington, Indiana, 47405-7110.

Tel: 812-855-6308.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14582

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor

American Politics. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for two tenure-track positions at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointments beginning July 1, 2025. We seek scholars specializing in any area of American politics or public policy who show promise of research and teaching excellence.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Review of applications will begin September 16, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/284934>. Please include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching portfolio (including a teaching statement and any available teaching evaluations or other evidence of potential for teaching excellence), and a research-focused writing sample.

Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles, and email addresses of FOUR professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265; <https://politicalscience.unc.edu>. To facilitate a systematic and equitable review of applicants, people wishing to support a particular applicant are requested to provide such support within a formal letter of reference. They are discouraged from contacting current faculty members directly to support particular individuals.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14584

Claremont McKenna College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Department of Government at Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for a tenure-track position, at the early assistant professor level, in American politics. The position will begin on July 1, 2025. The successful candidate is expected to hold a Ph.D. by the time of the appointment.

The successful applicant will teach courses in American politics using historical, institutional, and theoretical perspectives. Candidates will be asked to teach courses in their specialty, as well as one section per year of Introduction to American Politics. The teaching load is two courses per semester.

The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and the highest standards of excellence in teaching.

Given the College's commitment to cultivating an inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinions, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions. Moreover, as part of its commitment to The Open Academy, the College values freedom of expression, viewpoint diversity, and constructive dialogue. Candidates should demonstrate this commitment in their application materials.

Applications should include a cover letter; curriculum vitae; research statement; teaching statement that addresses the candidate's ability to teach, mentor, and inspire students representing a broad range of backgrounds; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and a writing sample. Applicants must also submit the names and e-mail addresses of three references; an email will be automatically sent to them with a link to upload their confidential recommendation letter.

Please upload application materials at: https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty\_opening\_detail.php?PostingID=17042

Complete applications, including letters of recommendation, will be reviewed beginning September 30, 2024. Review of complete applications will continue until the position is filled. Preliminary interviews will be conducted via Zoom.

Claremont McKenna College is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. The Claremont Colleges consortium constitutes an academic community of more than 9,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Claremont McKenna College is an equal opportunity employer. In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal educational and employment opportunities, the College actively encourages applications from members of historically under-represented groups in higher education.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14573

Washington College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Tenure Track)

Specializations: State Politics, Social Movements, Women & Politics

The Department of Political Science and Studies at Washington College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level specializing in U.S. politics starting in August 2025. A successful candidate must show promise in both undergraduate teaching and political science research. Tenure expectations include teaching excellence, a pattern of productive scholarship leading to peer-reviewed publication, and effective participation in the shared governance of the College.

Founded in 1782, Washington College is a selective liberal arts institution located in Chestertown, Maryland on a major tributary of the Chesapeake Bay. The Political Science Department is a vibrant program with six faculty members and numerous curricular and co-curricular experiential learning opportunities for students. A typical course load consists of three classes each semester during the academic year. Faculty also advise senior capstone projects.

Qualified candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science. Candidates who are nearing completion must have degree in hand before the position begins. We are seeking a candidate with a specialization in American Politics to cover existing courses on American Government, Women and Politics, State and Local Politics, Political Data Analysis, and supervise our popular Maryland General Assembly Internship course, offered each spring semester. The ideal candidate would also develop new courses focused on social justice and political advocacy. We seek a candidate with a deep commitment to experiential learning to develop new co-curricular experiential learning opportunities (with an emphasis on historically marginalized groups within our community) in conjunction with the Starr Center for the Study of the American Experience, which would count towards the Fall semester course load (<https://www.washcoll.edu/learn-by-doing/starr/index.php>)

Applicants must submit all the following application materials: (1) a cover letter indicating how the candidate will complement or expand the existing program, (2) a CV, (3) a written narrative, not to exceed three pages, that describes the candidate's teaching philosophy, research interests, and the ways in which the candidate promotes diversity, equity and inclusion through their teaching, mentoring, and/or outreach and (4) names of three professional references with contact information. Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2024. Application materials must be submitted through the college's employment portal: <https://www.paycomonline.net/v4/ats/web.php/jobs/ViewJobDetails?job=28835&clientkey=DA71CF6827C59F768030B3905BDF8A6A>

Diversity Statement

The Political Science Department upholds Washington College's Diversity Statement, creating supportive classroom spaces and opportunities for students of all backgrounds. We recognize the potential of political science as a discipline to foster dialogue, empathy, and civic engagement. We are committed to equitable, inclusive classrooms that support the dignity of all. https://www.washcoll.edu/people\_departments/offices/president/diversitystatement.php

EEO Statement & Title IX

Washington College values diversity within our students, faculty, and staff, and strives to recruit, develop, and retain the most talented people. Washington College does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, transgender status, gender identity, age, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other legally protected status in accordance with applicable federal, state and/or local laws. We particularly encourage members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and others who demonstrate the ability to help us achieve our vision of a diverse and inclusive community to apply for this position. For information on Washington College's Title IX compliance, please visit <https://www.washcoll.edu/title-ix/>

Employment is contingent upon completion of a successful background check and establishment of identity and verification of employment eligibility as required by the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986. It is the policy of Washington College to provide reasonable accommodations. If you require any accommodations to participate in any part of the hiring process, please contact hr@washcoll.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14537

University of Georgia

Rank: Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science in the UGA School of Public and International Affairs seeks a new faculty colleague at the associate professor level in American government/politics in the field of political communication. This colleague will hold the newly endowed Jones Family Professorship (named for UGA alumnus Joshua Jones). Applicants should have a demonstrated interest in political media, especially new media. The successful candidate will exhibit a record of funded research or strong potential for external funding. The position will contribute to the Bachelor of Arts/the Bachelor of Science in Political Science, undergraduate certificate programs in applied politics and data analytics, and graduate-level degree programs in Political Science. Experts who employ a diverse set of methodological approaches, such as (but not limited to) web-scraping and text analysis, are especially encouraged to apply.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in political science
- Holds appointment at the associate level (candidates who are currently standing for tenure and promotion and expect to be an associate professor by August 1, 2025 are encouraged to apply)
- Strong research record with substantive scholarly interests related to American politics - political communication
- Interest in teaching and mentoring undergraduate and graduate students

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated record of excellence in teaching and scholarship
- Scholarly background, interest, and/or experience that will contribute to the Department's graduate course offerings and undergraduate courses in political communications, including those that would support certificate programs in applied politics and data analytics
- Potential to contribute to the university's efforts to enhance and maintain an inclusive environment for learning, teaching, research and service
- Potential to create synergies with existing departmental faculty in political methodology, all fields of American politics, and/or political theory
- Potential to collaborate with scholars on interdisciplinary research

Instructions to Applicants:

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form to the UGA Jobs website, <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/388332> : a cover letter that addresses the minimum and preferred qualifications for this position, a curriculum vita, a recent publication or research-related writing sample, a teaching portfolio including evaluations, transcripts, and a list of three letter writers, who will separately provide letters of recommendation (in electronic form).

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, though applications received on or before October 1, 2024 will receive full consideration. Review of applications will begin October 1st and will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science has a strong reputation in the discipline, including 20+ faculty whose research and teaching focus on American politics. For more information about the Department and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14521

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the 2025-26 academic year.

The Department seeks to hire a teacher-scholar whose research focuses on Latina/o/x/e politics in the U.S. All methodological and theoretical approaches to Latina/o/x/e politics are welcomed provided they enhance the department's existing areas of substantive expertise. Topics of interest include but are not limited to immigration policy, political behavior, state and local or urban politics, social movements, or identity politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach either Introduction to American Government or Introduction to Public Policy and to develop new electives in Latino/a/x politics and the areas noted above based on expertise. The position carries a 3-2 teaching load.

Applicants must either hold a PhD in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation and degree requirements by August 1, 2025.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With approximately 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see <https://polisci.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, and separate research and teaching statements. The cover letter should provide a brief summary of the candidate's research and teaching interests and describe their commitment to the teacher-scholar model. The research statement should expand on the candidate's research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and future professional development goals, with particular emphasis on involvement in and commitment to inclusive pedagogy. In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14486

Simmons University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

ABOUT SIMMONS

Located in Boston's historic Fenway area, Simmons has a strong tradition of empowering women and challenging traditional gender roles. Simmons University was one of the first higher education institutions to prepare women to become leaders and has evolved to become a university offering a women's undergraduate program and graduate programs open to all.

You're joining our community at an especially exciting time as one of our strategic goals is to become the most inclusive campus in New England. You'll find that people who work here are truly committed to our mission of preparing students to become champions of social justice and leaders in their professions and their communities. This commitment and pride make for a dynamic workplace. Simmons University is committed to inclusive excellence in all aspects of an individual's community experience.

As a university committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, Simmons encourages applications from all under-represented groups. Simmons is committed to creating, developing, promoting, and enhancing inclusive hiring practices—at all levels, for all positions—ensuring diverse talent pools and the delivery of a consistent positive candidate experience. Simmons is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to continuing to develop a more diverse faculty, staff, student body, and curriculum.

ABOUT OPPORTUNITY

The Department of Politics and Policy in the Gwen Ifill School of Media, Humanities, and Social Sciences at Simmons University invites candidates to submit materials for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American politics.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of effective teaching and scholarship. Multiple areas of expertise within the field of American politics will be considered, including American political institutions, political parties, elections, ideology, voting behavior, and public law. Applicants must be able to teach introduction to American politics, as well as a broad range of electives, including state and local government, Congress and the presidency, and constitutional law, among others. The ability to teach in our Master of Public Policy program is preferred, though not required.

PRIMARY DUTIES & RESPONSIBILITIES

- Carrying a 6-course teaching load per academic year.
- Participating in the ongoing creation of explicit and implicit curricula in consultation with faculty and program leadership.
- Conducting research and scholarship.
- Demonstrate service to the department, school, and university through committee work.

ACADEMIC RESPONSIBILITY

- Serve as instructor for on-ground and online courses.
- Design individual courses and classes.
- Support course development and revision schedule for classes.
- Participate in ongoing Department curricular planning and periodic program review of on-ground and online classes.

STUDENT ADVISING & ENGAGEMENT

- Serve as primary faculty contact for matriculated students, including monitoring academic status, resolving student concerns, and verifying graduation requirements.
- Ensure advising processes are carried out alongside Department Chair and academic advising team and monitor students' course plans and progress towards their degree objectives.

OTHER DUTIES

- Assume other duties as assigned by the Dean and Department Chair.

TERMS OF SERVICE

- The position will be a 10-month, full-time, tenure-track faculty appointment.
- This position is campus based in Boston, Massachusetts.

QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in Political Science or a related discipline required
- Demonstrated record of excellent teaching
- Demonstrated record of excellent scholarship
- A robust scholarly agenda
- Effective communication and organizational skills.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS

A Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing the following:

- 1) Cover letter addressing qualifications listed above;
- 2) Current curriculum vitae;
- 3) 1-2-page statement of research;
- 4) 1-2-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy

Three letters of recommendation should be sent separately to Lena Zuckerman, Chair of the Department of Politics and Policy: lena.zuckerman@simmons.edu.

To apply, submit your application materials via the Simmons University Careers portal: https://simmons.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Simmons-Careers/job/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics\_R10176

Review of Applications will begin on September 15th.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14477

Transylvania University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics and Public Law)

Transylvania University (www.transy.edu), a top-tier, independent, residential liberal arts college in Lexington, Kentucky, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science with expertise in American Politics and Public Law. This is a tenure-track position, teaching in-person classes, beginning August 29, 2025. Transylvania University recognizes that a diverse and inclusive community is essential to the fulfillment of our mission as a liberal arts institution. To that end, we seek to attract a diverse faculty skilled in the scholarship of teaching, research, and mentorship of students from a variety of backgrounds. Candidates are encouraged, in their cover letter, to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community.

Job Description:

The successful candidate will specialize in the field of American Politics with expertise in Public Law and will instruct core courses in the major, including Introduction to U.S. Politics and our research methods course, Political Analysis, and specialized courses emphasizing the role and practice of law, legal theory, and/or judicial politics. Candidates with the ability to teach courses that contribute to our university's interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies and/or Women, Gender, and Sexuality (WGS) studies will receive special consideration. Occasional contributions to First-Year programing and service as an academic adviser are also expected. The teaching load consists of three courses per semester, plus one short-term course in May (3-3-1) that offers additional opportunities for travel courses, team-taught courses and other more experimental classroom endeavors. Other responsibilities include academic scholarship/professional activity, preferably involving undergraduate students, and service to the university through various committee appointments. The university also has an excellent faculty development program that competitively funds faculty (and student) scholarly research.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is required by the start date. Preference will be given to candidates with undergraduate teaching experience. The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to continuing their own professional work along with a commitment to teaching, interdisciplinary dialogue, and working collaboratively with other faculty and with students both within the Political Science Program and across disciplines within a liberal arts environment. The ideal applicant is committed to attracting, teaching, and mentoring students from historically excluded and underrepresented groups.

To begin the application process, please submit one PDF that contains all of the following: your curriculum vitae, your unofficial graduate transcripts, and a statement of teaching philosophy. Candidates are encouraged in their cover letter to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community. This PDF, along with your cover letter, which will be uploaded separately, may be submitted by following the job openings link at <http://www.transy.edu/jobs>. If you are selected to move forward in the application process, you will be asked to provide official graduate transcripts and letters of recommendation at a later date. Please send questions specific to this search to Professor Steve Hess, at shess@transy.edu. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and will continue until an appointment is made.

Transylvania University is ranked in the top 15 percent of the nation's four-year colleges by the Princeton Review, which cites its community-driven, personalized approach to a liberal arts education through 49 majors and 39 minors. Founded in 1780, it is the 16th oldest institution of higher learning in the country, with approximately 1,000 students.

Transylvania University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to enhancing the diversity of the university community. In support of this goal, we seek qualified candidates with a wide range of backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences. We embrace diversity and encourage all who are interested to apply.

Application closes: Sep 15, 2024

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14479

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other
Specializations: Congress, Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach undergraduate American Politics courses in-person for the Spring 2025 semester. We seek instructors capable of teaching in their area of expertise, in one or more of nearly any area of American Politics (for example, Political Parties, Campaigns and Elections, Public Policy, Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Political Psychology, Social Movements). The instructor would teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity but may be able to teach multiple sections of the same course.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To begin the application process, please send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14463

St. Olaf College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position in American Politics, with a primary focus on institutions and/or law, at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2025. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in race, gender, sexuality, and/or economic inequality, who have a broad background in the discipline, and whose research and teaching interests speak to contemporary public concerns.

The teaching responsibilities, five courses per year, would include Introduction to American Politics as well as upper-level courses depending on the scholar's areas of research and teaching interest, such as courses on Congress, the presidency, the courts, state politics, or constitutional law. We expect that the person who fills this position will contribute to our department as a creative teacher, an engaged scholar, and a collaborative colleague.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by the start of the fall semester is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

About the Department

We are a collegial department, with two faculty members teaching regularly in each of the four subfields. We are committed to supporting our colleagues in their pursuit of creative and thoughtful pedagogy and rigorous scholarship. For more information about the department, visit wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/.

How to Apply

Submit application at: <https://tinyurl.com/4zxwjpd>

A complete application includes the following:

References: Provide contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship.

Cover letter outlining your qualifications and why you are interested in this particular position

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement (500 word limit): Describe how you would contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning community at our college through your teaching, research, and/or service. Include examples of your contributions when possible.

Graduate transcripts (unofficial)

Evidence of Teaching Excellence, including a statement of teaching philosophy, focused on pedagogy in and out of the classroom at a liberal arts college

Research Statement focused on your current scholarship and plans for future scholarship

Writing sample

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration. Finalist interviews are expected in November. Questions about the position, department, or College may be directed to Menevis Cilizoglu, Search Committee Chair, at tt2025ps@stolaf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14446

Missouri State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

ANNOUNCEMENT OF POSITION VACANCY

Missouri State University

American Politics

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy at Missouri State University invites applications for a nine-month, tenure-track appointment in American Politics at the assistant professor rank. The successful candidate will have a primary field and/or identifiable research agenda in American institutions and must be prepared to teach undergraduate courses in Political Institutions, particularly Congress and the Executive, and the introductory American politics course. While ABDs will be considered, the successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment in August 2025. The successful candidate will be able to enhance the Public Affairs mission of the University and demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to teaching and service and possess an identifiable research agenda that demonstrates the potential for a sustained record of scholarship leading to publications in peer-reviewed journals.

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy has 20 full-time faculty members—14 in political science and six in philosophy—and approximately 160 undergraduate majors as well as master's programs in both Public Administration and International Affairs. Missouri State University is a selective-admission, comprehensive, and multi-campus university system with an enrollment of over 20,000 students, 150 undergraduate majors, and 47 graduate programs. MSU is located in Springfield, MO, with a metropolitan population of over 400,000, in the heart of the Ozarks region of Southwest Missouri.

Apply online at <https://jobs.missouristate.edu/>. For additional information, contact:

Dr. Christopher Lynch, Head
Department of Political Science and Philosophy
Missouri State University
901 S. National Ave.
Springfield, MO 65897

Salary is competitive and commensurate with background and experience. Consideration of applicants begins October 1, 2024, continuing until the position is filled. Employment requires a criminal background check performed at the University's expense.

Missouri State University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action/minority/female/veterans/disability/sexual orientation/gender identity employer and institution. We encourage applications from all interested minorities, females, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and sexual orientation/gender identity.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14431

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Political Theory

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in American public law with a focus on constitutional law and American judicial process. The successful applicant will serve as faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society and Moot Court team and may teach, as needed, introductory courses in American Politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs and JDs with teaching experience will also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia

Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147105>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate “good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning.”

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2024

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14370

American University

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Applicants should hold a PhD or other terminal degree. Highly qualified applicants with a master’s degree related to political science will be considered at the rank of instructor. The position will require the incumbent to teach three undergraduate or M.A. courses per semester in political science with a primary focus on American Politics and Public Policy. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach GOVT 443/643 (Applied Political Writing), GOVT 210 (Political Power and American Public Policy), and GOVT 620 (Applied Politics and American Public Policy). All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three professional recommendations, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers.

Please contact Rachel Whelan, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or spa\_academicaffairs@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

American University is a student-centered research institution located in Washington, DC, with highly ranked schools and colleges, internationally renowned faculty, and a reputation for creating meaningful change in the world.

Learn more about American University. <https://www.american.edu/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14334

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101: Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government. A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University

<https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog->

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA- related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 4/30/2024

Date Posted: 4/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8844

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Southern Utah University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Job Description:

Southern Utah University is a comprehensive, regional graduate and undergraduate degree-granting university. Located in Cedar City, Utah, it is an accredited, state-supported institution with an enrollment of over 11,000 students. Home to the Utah Shakespeare Festival and surrounded by national parks, monuments, forests, and wilderness areas that draw millions of visitors annually from around the world, it is only 40 minutes from great snow skiing and year-round golfing. It is located 2 ½ hours from Las Vegas and 3 ½ hours from Salt Lake City.

Southern Utah University invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full-time, 9-month, tenure-track position to begin August 16, 2025. The salary range is between $63,000 to 65,000 (dependent upon qualifications and experience) and includes excellent benefits. This position is contingent on funding.

The first consideration of applications will begin December 9th, 2024. The position will remain open until filled.

Duties and Responsibilities:

SUU is primarily a teaching university, and the successful hire is expected to teach 12 credit hours each semester. We are seeking an engaging Assistant Professor with a specialization within the field of Comparative Politics. This search is open to candidates working within any areas of expertise within comparative politics. Primary teaching responsibilities will include introductory and advanced Comparative Politics courses, including courses in their area of expertise. Ability to teach Methods is a plus, and all faculty are expected to teach introductory American Government, as well as courses based on department needs. Southern Utah University's Carnegie Classification is registered as a "Master's Colleges and Universities: Larger Programs (M1)." Accordingly, under SUU Policy 2.0, the successful hire will be expected to keep current in the field by attending and presenting in professional forums and contributing to the scholarly discourse regularly. The successful hire will for example:

Possess the academic qualifications to teach Political Science Courses. Advise Political Science students in the major as well as help facilitate internship and employment opportunities.

Provide an ongoing assessment of course offerings and degree requirements. Develop course content, objectives, and evaluation systems for course offerings in both face-to-face and online modalities. Make recommendations for equipment, texts, audio-visual materials, reference materials, etc., to support program instruction.

Carry out committee and/or special assignments upon the request of the Department Chair or Dean of the College.

Attend staff meetings for purposes of curriculum development, procedures, schedules, dissemination of information, and evaluation.

Perform all other duties as assigned.

Education and Experience Requirements:

Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field in hand by August 15, 2025.

University, college, & department service and leadership experience.

Documents needed to apply:

Cover letter

CV

Statement of Teaching Philosophy

Unofficial Transcripts

Contact information for 3 professional references

If you have any questions please reach out to the search committee chair, Doug Murdoch at dougmurdoch@suu.edu. To apply please visit: <https://suu.applicantpro.com/jobs/3546436>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15133

Georgia Southern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Criminal Justice, Africa, International Security

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies.

Georgia Southern is a dynamic university with three vibrant campuses in Hinesville, Savannah and Statesboro serving the communities in Southeast Georgia. As a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution, our world-class scholars instruct about 26,000 students in associate's, bachelor's, master's and doctoral level degree programs. Whether you are seeking the charm of a small town, the traditions of a historical/urban destination near the beach or supporting our military service members and their families, Georgia Southern offers its faculty and staff the best of all worlds!

Beyond an ideal location, there is a place for you to work in an exciting environment abounding with opportunities for personal and professional growth. We are steeped in tradition and devoted to academic distinction in teaching, scholarship and service. In 2018 Forbes Magazine listed Georgia Southern, along with 10 other Georgia companies or institutions, as one of America's Best Midsize Employers. Georgia Southern University is passionate about serving our region while preparing our students to be lifelong scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities and the world.

To learn more about Georgia Southern's Vision, Mission and Values please click here: <https://president.georgiasouthern.edu/performance-excellence/mission-values/>

Within this setting, the Department of Political Science and International Studies' mission is to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to be productive, politically literate, and engaged citizens in their communities, their nation, and the world. Integrating diverse and high-quality faculty research with excellence in the classroom, our programs promote intellectual, personal, and professional student development and cultivate research, communication, and analytical skills that are in high professional demand. Students are encouraged to bring fresh perspectives and critical thinking to the classroom that will help them become politically active. Our faculty are engaged in impactful service within the University, the profession, and the community. The Department values diversity in all its forms, recognizing that democratic virtues such as engagement, tolerance, and empathy are enhanced by the inclusion of multiple voices.

This position will contribute significantly to the Department's strengths in the area of global security with a focus on international crime, terrorism and counterterrorism, and/or human rights and a preferred regional focus on Africa. This position will also contribute to the growing partnership between the Department of Political Science and the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology around this important topical area. The Assistant Professor will be expected to contribute to collaborative, interdisciplinary research in this area with a specific emphasis on securing external grant funding and engaging with local and international community partners. The position will also contribute to cross-disciplinary courses to support the following undergraduate and graduate programs: BA Political Science, BS Criminal Justice, Master of Arts in Social Sciences, and MS in Criminal Justice. As such, support in research and teaching for this position will be offered by both academic departments (ideally, 51% Political Science and International Studies and 49% Criminal Justice and Criminology).

Location

Statesboro Campus
1332 Southern Drive
Statesboro, GA 30458

Job Summary. Reporting to the Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, the Assistant Professor position requires a strong commitment to research (50% workload with an expectation of securing external grants), a strong commitment to cross-disciplinary undergraduate and graduate education (40% workload, a 2-2 teaching load), and to service at the department, college, university, and/or professional levels. The position is an academic (10 month), tenure track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:

- Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or a closely related field such as Criminology and Criminal Justice or Sociology, by August 1, 2025
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives.
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development.
- Demonstrated commitment to advancing a strong and growing research and scholarship agenda and the production of research/creative activities as appropriate to the discipline.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Research and teaching expertise in any of the following areas of global security (broadly defined): international crime, terrorism and counterterrorism, human rights, international criminal law/justice
- Research and/or teaching expertise in Africa.
- Evidence of teaching techniques designed to reach a diverse student population, including online and graduate students.

- Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience.

Proposed Salary

Commensurate with experience.

This is an exempt position paid on a monthly basis.

Required Documents to Attach

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 professional references. Other documentation may be requested.

Apply Before Date

Open Until Filled

Screening of applications begins November 25, 2024 and continues until the position is filled. Preferred start date is August 1, 2025.

See <https://hr.georgiasouthern.edu/employment-opportunities/> to apply. Reference Job ID 68080.

Contact Information

Dr. Kate Perry, Chair Search #68080

Associate Professor of Political Science and International Studies

+1-912-478-0838

kperry@georgiasouthern.edu

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Conditions of Employment:

All work (with limited exceptions such as research and study abroad outside activities such as grading and email correspondence) for Georgia Southern University must be completed while the employee is physically present in the state of Georgia, unless specifically authorized by the university for a specific purpose and limited period of time within current policy.

Faculty are expected to contribute to the vibrant university community by engaging students, participating in events, and performing other responsibilities on-campus.

Faculty may be required to teach, conduct research, or perform service duties on any of the three campuses. Georgia Southern provides accessible transportation options between campuses.

Offers of employment are contingent upon completion of background investigation including a criminal background check demonstrating your eligibility for employment with Georgia Southern University, as determined by Georgia Southern University in its sole discretion, confirmation of the credentials and employment history reflected in your application materials and, if applicable, a satisfactory credit check. Applicants may be subject to a pre-employment drug test.

Offers are made expressly subject to the applicable federal and state laws, to the statutes, rules and regulations of this institution and to the Bylaws and Policies of the Board of Regents (BOR) of the University System of Georgia (USG), which are available for your inspection upon request.

Legally authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the University.

Georgia Southern University is a Tobacco and Smoke-Free Community.

Equal Employment Opportunity

More information about the institution is available through <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu> or <https://www.georgiasouthern.edu/cbss/points/>. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals in need of reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources: (912) 478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15117

Symphony Talent

Rank: Faculty Fellow in European and Mediterranean Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Movements, Foreign Policy

Faculty Fellow in European and Mediterranean Studies

Center for European and Mediterranean Studies

New York University Arts and Science

The Center for European and Mediterranean Studies in Arts and Science at New York University (CEMS/NYU) invites applicants for a Faculty Fellow position in the field of European Studies. The initial appointment will be for one year beginning September 1, 2025, renewable annually for a maximum of three years, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

Faculty fellows teach three graduate seminars per year, advise and mentor students, oversee master's theses, organize public programs, and actively participate in shaping the life of the program. Student advising is a key component of this position, as the faculty fellow will have a significant role in directing theses, teaching research methodologies, and supporting both MA students and undergraduate students in their research. Service to the program will also involve representing the Center at university events and meetings and contributing to organizing academic workshops and events at the Center. Candidates should demonstrate through their application materials a commitment to interdisciplinary scholarship and excellence in teaching.

In compliance with NYC's Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary for this position is $60,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Qualifications

CEMS/NYU seeks a scholar experienced in advising student research about Europe and specializing in one of the following disciplines: comparative European politics, international relations, sociology, contemporary European history, or anthropology. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching focus on the European Union; on political, economic and social developments in contemporary Europe; on European foreign affairs; or on identity and minorities in Europe.

Candidates should have completed their Ph.D. no earlier than 2020 and no later than August 1, 2025.

Application Instructions

The deadline to apply is January 17, 2025. All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/155756>

To apply, please submit a cover letter that discusses research and teaching interests, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a diversity and inclusion statement. As diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, for the latter statement we ask you to provide a brief paragraph telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past and present teaching, research, community engagement, and/or life experience, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity and inclusion to bear on the teaching and programming of NYU CEMS. Information about diversity and inclusion statements may be found here.

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the NYU Arts and Science commitment to diversity and inclusion, please read here.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

NYU is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to a policy of equal treatment and opportunity in every aspect of its recruitment and hiring process without regard to age, alienage, caregiver status, childbirth, citizenship status, color, creed, disability, domestic violence victim status, ethnicity, familial status, gender and/or gender identity or expression, marital status, military status, national origin, parental status, partnership status, predisposing genetic characteristics, pregnancy, race, religion, reproductive health decision making, sex, sexual orientation, unemployment status, veteran status, or any other legally protected basis. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, persons of minority sexual orientation or gender identity, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply for vacant positions at all levels.

Sustainability Statement

NYU aims to be among the greenest urban campuses in the country and carbon neutral by 2040. Learn more at nyu.edu/sustainability

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/17/2025

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15120

University of Colorado, Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Latin American, Developing Nations, Political Economy

The Political Science Department at the University of Colorado Denver invites applications from innovative and versatile candidates for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position, starting August 2025. Successful candidates will have expertise in Comparative Politics/International Relations, with a focus on the political economy of the "Global South." We seek to identify candidates with expertise in one or more of the following subfields: International Development, Indigenous Peoples' Politics, Public Health, Human Rights, Labor and Migration, Colonialism and Neo-Colonialism. This position comes with responsibilities in teaching (40% of time), research (40% of time), and service (20% of time). The teaching load is 2/2 (four courses an academic year).

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science, International Studies, or closely related field. Expertise in the political economy of the "Global South." College level teaching. Record of scholarly achievement, such as journal or book publications, conference presentations, and/or published journalism

The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. CU Denver is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To achieve this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees.

To apply for this position, go to <http://www.cu.edu/cu-careers> Reference job posting 35194.

The direct link for this job position is: <https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=35194&clang=en>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 15119

Koç University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The College of Administrative Sciences and Economics at Koç University invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor position in the Department of International Relations starting in September 2025. While candidates from all fields of Political Science will be considered, candidates with a focus on International Political Economy and/or Comparative Politics are especially encouraged to apply. The successful applicants must have a strong commitment to research and teaching both at the undergraduate and the graduate levels. Candidates are expected to have a doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field by September 2025. Interested applicants need to send a letter of application explaining their research and teaching experience, an updated curriculum vitae, up to three sample publications/working papers, teaching portfolio (including sample syllabus and teaching evaluations with a key), and three letters of reference.

Koç University is a private, non-profit Turkish institution of higher education located just north of Istanbul. Koç University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. Students are admitted to our department through a very competitive central examination. The medium of instruction is English. Regular teaching load is two courses per semester. The assistant professors teach three courses per academic year till being promoted to the rank of associate professor. Salary and benefits are competitive.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on December 31. All material has to be sent electronically to Ms. Vildan Ertugrul (vertugrul@ku.edu.tr) in the Office of the Dean, College of Administrative Sciences and Economics, Koç University, Rumelifeneri Yolu, Sariyer 34450, Istanbul, TURKEY.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/31/2024

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15100

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Instructional Professor in CIR

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Description

The Division of the Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for one or more positions as Senior Instructional Professor (SIP) in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, career track teaching position. The initial will be between three and five years, depending on rank, and will begin in Academic Year 2024-5 and is renewable with opportunity for promotion. Appointments at the Assistant, Associate, and Full Senior Instructional Professor rank will be considered.

The University of Chicago's CIR is a one-year MA program that trains students in the theory and methods in the study international politics. CIR is a top 15 ranked Master's program, according to Foreign Policy magazine. Founded in 1928, it is the country's oldest MA program in International Relations. CIR's curriculum is organized around core courses in international security, international political economy, and global governance. Students also have access to a vast array of graduate courses offered by the faculty in all University of Chicago departments. Each MA student writes an original, research-intensive thesis. Overall, the program is characterized by a strong focus on academic research and intellectual collaboration across disciplines. The program trains MA students for research-oriented positions in academia, industry, government, consulting, and a variety of think tanks. Graduates have entered top Ph.D. programs and taken prestigious non-academic professional roles.

This is a leadership position. The appointee will also hold the title of Assistant or Associate Director of CIR.

The SIP will annually teach up to four courses. These may include 2-3 courses in the current CIR core curriculum (International Security and Order, International Political Economy, or Global Governance, Rights, and Norms) or a new addition to the core curriculum. These may also include 1-2 electives on more specialized topics in international relations in any of our five field specializations: (1) International Security, Conflict Studies, and Contentious Politics; (2) International Political Economy and Development; (3) Comparative Studies in Institutions and Identity; (4) Human Rights, the Environment, and International Law; and (5) Research Methods in the Social Sciences. The SIP will also oversee a limited number of MA theses (approximately 8-10 per year).

In their administrative leadership, the SIP will, in consultation with the Faculty Director(s) of CIR, provide leadership in vision, planning, and promotion of CIR within and beyond the University; develop, implement, and oversee curricular and co-curricular programs to advance student learning; directly supervise and evaluate other teaching personnel and manage their reappointments; develop new programming to assist in the pedagogical training of all CIR instructors; coordinate all CIR course offerings; serve as the first point of contact for students with disciplinary concerns and for student well-being; make recommendations on how best to improve program operations; lead our PhD application clinic; develop programs to improve post-graduation placement and track these outcomes; and contribute to admissions, staff hiring, student recruitment, and alumni engagement. The SIP will be supervised by CIR's Faculty Director.

This position also includes support for professional development and the possibility of affiliate status with other academic units, such as the Department of Political Science.

Qualifications

Candidates must be at least three years post-PhD in prior to the start date. They must have a demonstrated record designing and teaching courses at the undergraduate or graduate level as a degreed professional, demonstrated experience in research and practice related to the field of International Relations, and promise of future achievement in the performance of all leadership, management, administrative, and supervisory responsibilities to a high standard of excellence.

Application Instructions

The following materials must be submitted through Interfolio at URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157717> (1) a cover letter which includes information about the applicant's prior experience with administrative duties, managing staff, and mentoring students; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) a teaching statement describing previous experience in the classroom, in advising, and suggested course offerings; (4) a research statement; (5) at least one course syllabus; (6) an article-length writing sample on a topic of specialty in International Relations; (7) course evaluations or other evidence of past excellence in teaching or mentoring; and (8) the names and contact information for three recommenders.

Review of applications will begin November 23rd and will continue until the position is filled or the search is close.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15110

Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

Rank: Faculty Position (Computational Social Science)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Administration

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Research Methods

The Division of Social Science at The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology seeks to fill an open-rank faculty position in Computational Social Science.

Candidates may work in any major area in social sciences, including political science, sociology, and economics. Applicants who work on cross-disciplinary topics with other social science subjects, and/or who may contribute to the development of computational or quantitative social science in the Division are especially welcome.

Applicants should have a PhD degree in hand by the time of employment.

Teaching will be at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The University is an English-speaking research university with international faculty. The Division of Social Science is highly ranked internationally. For more information about the Division, please visit <https://sosc.hkust.edu.hk/>.

Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Fringe benefits including annual leave, medical and dental benefits will be provided. Housing benefits will also be provided where applicable. Initial appointment at Assistant Professor rank will normally be on a three-year contract, renewable subject to mutual agreement. A gratuity will be payable upon successful completion of contract.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, a sample publication, and teaching records electronically via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/156794>).

Assistant Professor applicants should arrange for 3 letters of recommendation to be sent via interfolio. For tenured Associate or Full Professor positions, references will be solicited only after both sides agree to proceed with the process of appointment.

Review of applications will start on 1 November 2024 and the search will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15101

Princeton University

Rank: Fung Global Fellows Program-Visiting Research Scholars

Specializations: Central Asia, Africa, Latin American

Princeton University is pleased to announce the call for applications to the Fung Global Fellows Program at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS). The program will select early-career scholars from around the world to be in residence at Princeton for an academic year (10 months) and to engage in research and discussion around a common theme. The fellowships will be awarded to those employed outside the United States who have a faculty appointment, a professional research appointment, or are established independent scholars. They will also be expected to return to their positions at the conclusion of the fellowship. Lastly, they must have demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievement and unusual intellectual promise. Early-career scholars will be appointed at the rank of Visiting Research Scholar.

The program for the academic year 2025-26 will focus on "Post-imperial Spaces of Amnesia." While the current fellows are in conversation investigating the residues of colonialism in diverse parts of Asia, Africa, and Latin America, this next group will expand the conversation to examine the willed amnesia, or yet nostalgia, concerning the imperial past-in former metropolises and colonies alike, where memories of often violent processes of expropriation have frequently been distanced in time and space, erased, or are simply not recalled today. This is despite the continuum of supply and demand straddling the postcolonial moment. One might think, for example, of the global demand for products with plantation antecedents such as coffee and rubber; ongoing issues of migration, mobility and citizenship; or decisions about museums, monuments, and the content of school curricula. Just where and when does the question of the colonial past figure in the modern public sphere as governments make decisions about how to remember (or forget) while movements seek social justice or reparations? What is forgotten when something else is recalled and celebrated? Who decides when the colonial came to an end?

Applicants may address any region of the world that has had a colonial relationship, and may be from any disciplinary background in the humanities and social sciences. Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36541>. Applications are due on November 15, 2024 (11:59 p.m. EST). To be eligible, applicants must have received their Ph.D. (or equivalent) no earlier than September 1, 2015. Fellowships will be awarded on the strength of a candidate's proposed research project, the relationship of the project to the program's theme, the candidate's scholarly record and ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the program. More information: <https://funggfp.princeton.edu/applications>.

The following items must be submitted by the applicant, in English, by November 15, 2024:

- Cover letter (1.5 pages maximum)
- Curriculum Vitae (including publications)
- Research proposal (maximum of 3 pages, single spaced)
- One writing sample (article or book chapter, maximum of 50 pages)
- If an applicant is an established independent scholar, please upload a PDF stating this as the applicant's current status.
- The names and email addresses for three referees, who will be contacted automatically by the online application system with an invitation to upload their letter of recommendation to the system by the application deadline. (*Please note: all letters of reference should be submitted by your referees before the November 15, 2024 deadline.*)

Should an offer be made, successful candidates who hold faculty appointments or professional research appointments, will be required to submit an official letter from their current employer affirming that they would be permitted to accept the offer and to spend the academic year at Princeton University.

The work location for this position is in-person, on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15103

American University of Sharjah

Rank: Faculty Position in Political Science

The Department of International Studies at American University of Sharjah in the United Arab Emirates seeks to hire a full-time, rolling-track faculty member in political science at the Assistant Professor level. We welcome applications from candidates working in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are particularly interested in candidates with strong expertise in quantitative methods, and regional emphasis on Africa or East Asia or Southeast Asia.

Candidates must be able to teach a range of introductory courses in political science as well as upper-level undergraduate courses in their specialty, including social science methods. The department has also recently launched a Master of Arts in International Studies program, and the successful candidate will have the opportunity to teach master's-level courses, as well as advise graduate students and develop courses in the program.

Successful candidates must have a PhD in Political Science (or in politics, international relations, government) at the time of appointment, a record of excellent teaching, and an active research agenda. The successful candidate will join AUS and reside in the UAE starting in August 2025. All department members are expected to contribute to a range of faculty and student-oriented service activities in what is a vibrant interdisciplinary department. The regular teaching load for research-active faculty is 3-3, with support for conference, research travel and access to internal research grants.

As a university formed on the American model and with English as the language of instruction, American University of Sharjah will give priority to candidates who have substantial experience in American models of higher education.

The complete application will include the following documents, uploaded in separate files: a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, a list of three referees with contact information, one chapter/article length publication sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as sample syllabi and, if available, student evaluations. Please apply online at <https://forms.aus.edu/242803550089053?X=Political%20Science%20&rank38=Assistant%20Professor>.

Situated near Sharjah International Airport in the expansive University City area, and only 30 minutes from Dubai International Airport, AUS is located in a dynamic and cosmopolitan area that includes abundant opportunities for travel, entertainment, cultural experiences and natural beauty. Salary and benefits are competitive.

American University of Sharjah is a not-for-profit, independent, coeducational institution of higher education formed on American models but thoroughly grounded in Arab culture. Located in University City, Sharjah, AUS offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs to more than 5,800 students from approximately 90 nations. English is the language of instruction and the workplace. AUS has been ranked among the top ten Arab universities by QS World University Rankings every year for the past nine consecutive years.

AUS is licensed and its programs are accredited by the Commission for Academic Accreditation of the Ministry of Education's Higher Education Affairs Division in the United Arab Emirates. AUS has been accredited in the United States of America by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (1007 North Orange Street, 4th Floor, MB #166, Wilmington, DE 19801 USA) since June 2004.

You are welcome to contact Dr. Giacomo Chiozza, chair of the search committee, at gchiozza@aus.edu or Dr. Yuting Wang, Head of Department, at ywang@aus.edu with any questions about the position.

Application review will begin on January 15, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15087

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China (CCC) at Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for the 2025-2026 academic year. The ideal candidate is an outstanding recent PhD who focuses on contemporary China from a social science disciplinary perspective. The appointment will be made for one year with the possibility of renewal for a second year based on performance and availability of funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2025. The successful candidate will be expected to be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The associate will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. The search is limited to applicants with less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36741>. The following application items are required and should be uploaded by the applicant.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
4. Contact information for two references.
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Celine Li at celineli@princeton.edu.

More information about the Center on Contemporary China may be found at <https://ccc.princeton.edu>.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15095

University of Utah

Rank: Assistant Professor - Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties

The Department of Political Science at the University of Utah invites applicants for a position at the rank of Assistant Professor - Lecturer with a focus on law and courts. Candidates from all subfields are welcome to apply. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and teaching adds a comparative/international perspective to the curriculum or whose teaching can contribute to more than one subfield. The position begins July 1, 2025 and carries a three-year renewable contract.

By time of appointment, applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science. This is a teaching focused position with a teaching load of 6 courses over the academic year. The hire will also be expected to contribute to student learning beyond regular classes through the supervision of student research and Honors theses, and participating in department administrative and service responsibilities. The department provides all faculty with research and travel support, and career-line faculty are encouraged to participate in research colloquia in the department.

We encourage applications from scholars who use a range of methodological and theoretical approaches and whose research and teaching contribute to the empirical study of law and courts. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, comparative judicial systems, constitutional law, comparative constitutional design, civil liberties, jurisprudential theory, legal philosophy, and/or judicial politics/behavior. We expect that a successful candidate for this position will be able to teach some of the courses currently offered in our Law & Politics subfield (e.g. Judicial Process, Constitutional Law, and/or Introduction to Law & Politics) through both online and in-person modalities and we also encourage candidates to contribute new courses based on their areas of expertise.

Applicant must submit a vitae, contact information (name, email and phone number) for three references, and a detailed cover letter that addresses how the applicant meets the qualifications and preferences listed above.

The department will begin reviewing applications on December 6, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply for this position please go to: <https://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/172298>. If you have any questions please reach out to Assistant Professor Michael Dichio: michael.dichio@utah.edu.

The University of Utah is the flagship institution of the Utah System of Higher Education, is a member of the AAU (Association of American Universities), and has been classified by the Carnegie Foundation as among those research universities with the "highest research activity." The University provides numerous opportunities for internal research funding and offers a generous benefits and retirement package: <https://www.hr.utah.edu/benefits/>.

The University is located in Salt Lake City, the center of a metropolitan area with a population of approximately 1.3 million residents. The city's proximity to the Wasatch Mountains, world-class ski resorts, and national parks offers unparalleled opportunities for outdoor recreation. Salt Lake City has extensive arts and cultural activities, and the area has received international recognition for its light rail system, foodie culture, Sundance Film Festival, its vibrant downtown, and increasing ethnic diversity.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15094

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in Democracy

Specializations: Latin American, Political Behavior, Quantitative Methods

The Kellogg Institute for International Studies, part of the Keough School of Global Affairs at the University of Notre Dame, is seeking a postdoctoral researcher in Democracy as part of the University's Democracy Initiative. Individuals selected for the postdoctoral position will have the option of renewing their appointment for a second year, conditional on satisfactory performance. A successful postdoctoral candidate will have a Ph.D. in Political Science, strong quantitative methodological skills, and a comparative research agenda preferably addressing questions of democracy, public opinion, political behavior, and attitudinal change. In addition to carrying out independent research, the hire will be part of the research team of the Notre Dame Violence against Women (E-VAW) Lab and contribute to projects examining the effects of democratic backsliding on public opinion through the lens of gender as well as other related lab projects.

The individual selected for this position can expect to devote approximately 50% of their time to activities related to research assistantship with co-authorship opportunities and collaborations with the Kellogg Institute, and 50% of their time to independent research. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to attend and present at the Kellogg Work In Progress Seminars, will have dedicated office space, and will be part of a cohort of visiting fellows and guest researchers. In addition, the position includes $5,000 per year in research funds.

To apply, please submit a cover letter that includes a description of your current research, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation, along with filling out the short application form. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2024. The position is available starting January 2025 with the possibility of joining no later than August 2025. This position is located in South Bend, Indiana. Reasonable moving expenses will be covered.

Qualifications

A successful postdoctoral candidate will have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field conferred by December 1, 2024 and will have earned their PhD no sooner than 2021.

Application Instructions

To apply, please submit a cover letter that includes a description of your current research, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, three letters of recommendation, and fill out the short application form. <https://apply.interfolio.com/157368>

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15081

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor; Farzaneh Family Assistant/Associate Professor of Iranian Studies

Specializations: Middle East, Political Economy, Political Development

General Description:

The David L. Boren College of International Studies at the University of Oklahoma seeks applicants for a full-time Farzaneh Family Professor of Iranian Studies, at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor (tenure-track or tenured), with a start date of August 15, 2025. The College encourages applications from all interested and qualified parties. Our mission statement and other information can be found at www.ou.edu/cis.

We seek a scholar of Iranian Studies working in the Political Science subfields of International Relations and/or Comparative Politics. While the position is open with respect to substantive specialization within these subfields, we have particular interest in candidates with research interests in comparative and/or international political economy, political/economic development, international trade, natural resource economies, or economic inequality.

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and MA-level courses in Iranian Studies, as well as courses within their areas of specialization, particularly as they relate to Iran and the broader Persian Gulf region. The College has particular teaching needs in the subjects of the politics and economics of Iran, US-Iran relations, as well as international political economy, political economy of development, and international trade.

The successful candidate will also be expected to develop and maintain a consistent research agenda leading to high-quality academic publications and will have an opportunity to take an engaged role in the Farzaneh Family Center for Iranian and Persian Gulf Studies (<https://www.ou.edu/cis/research/farzaneh-family-center>).

The Boren College of International Studies offers nine undergraduate degrees to approximately 300 majors and minors, an on-campus MA in International Studies with 25 students, and an online MA in Global Affairs with over 150 students. The College hosts a variety of research centers and has 23 full-time faculty with combined strengths in international security, development, and area studies (<https://www.ou.edu/cis>).

Required and Preferred Qualifications:

Required:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations in hand or expected by time of appointment.
- Demonstrated ability to conduct high-quality research in their areas of expertise related to Iranian / Persian Gulf Studies.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to teach courses in Iranian Studies, International Relations and/or Comparative Politics.

Preferences (Not Required):

- One or more publications in relevant peer-reviewed outlets and additional ongoing research.
- Research expertise in comparative and/or international political economy, political/economic development, international trade, natural resource economies, or economic inequality.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to generate external research funding.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to participate in the programming activities of the Farzaneh Center.
- Working proficiency in Persian.
- Excellence in teaching and in supporting student success.

Application Instructions:

Applicants are invited to submit a cover letter, current C.V., writing sample, and list of three potential academic references to <http://apply.interfolio.com/156855>. The cover letter may address examples of the candidate's approach to teaching, inclusive excellence, research, service, and student mentorship. Additional materials may be requested at a later date. The search will remain open until filled.

Contact Person and Application Review Date:

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on November 18, 2024.

Inquiries should be directed to the search committee chair:

Dr. Eric Heinze, Professor of International Relations
University of Oklahoma
eheinze@ou.edu

Mission of the University of Oklahoma

The Mission of the University of Oklahoma is to provide the best possible educational experience for our students through excellence in teaching, research and creative activity, and service to the state and society.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Why You Belong at the University of Oklahoma

The University of Oklahoma, fosters an inclusive culture of respect and civility, belonging, and access, which are essential to our collective pursuit of excellence and our determination to change lives. The unique talents, perspectives, and experiences of our community enrich the learning, and working environment at OU, inspiring us to harness our innovation, creativity, and collaboration for the advancement of people everywhere.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15085

National Taiwan University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant / Associate Professor/Professor

Sponsored by Taiwan's National Development Fund and several internationally renowned enterprises (including TSMC), School of Political Science and Economics (SPE) at National Taiwan University aims to develop first tier research of international political economy. The school takes an interdisciplinary approach and incorporates scholars from the fields of political science, economics, and finance. Two master programs, MA in Political Economy, and MA in Finance, will start to enroll students in fall 2025.

The school invites applications for several faculty positions at the assistant professor level (or above). Fields of specialization include international political economy and comparative political economy. Candidates must demonstrate strong ability in research and teaching, and we are particularly looking for applicants who are interdisciplinary in nature, and are willing to incorporate the knowledge of science and advanced technology into their research. Candidates should obtain their Ph.D. degrees before July, 2025. SPE is an all English program.

All interviews will be conducted virtually. Applications must arrive by Dec 15, 2024 to ensure full consideration. Positions are open until filled.

Application Requirements:

Letters of Reference

Research Papers

Transcripts

Job Market Paper

Cover Letter

CV

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 12/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15079

Kennesaw State University

Rank: Lecturer of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

About Us

For more than 60 years, Kennesaw State University has been known for its entrepreneurial spirit and sense of community. A leader in innovative teaching and learning, Kennesaw State is located just north of Atlanta and combines a suburban setting on two metro-Atlanta campuses in Kennesaw and Marietta. As one of Georgia's largest universities, Kennesaw State offers undergraduate and graduate degrees, including a growing number of doctoral programs to over 46,000 students. Our high-impact research, and Division I athletics also draw students from throughout the region and across the globe. A member of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State is a Carnegie-designated doctoral research institution (R2) committed to becoming a world-class academic institution positioned to broaden its academic and research missions and expand its scope on a local, regional, and national level.

Our vibrant culture, career opportunities, mission and values and rich benefits make us an employer of choice. As part of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State exemplifies the power and promise of a student-centered, research-driven university. Our institutional values are respect, integrity, collaboration, inclusivity and accountability. In addition, Kennesaw State supports the University of Georgia's core values of accountability, excellence, integrity, and respect. For more information, visit <https://www.kennesaw.edu/>.

Location

Our Kennesaw campus is located at 1000 Chastain Road NW, Kennesaw, GA 30144. Our Marietta campus is located at 1100 South Marietta Parkway, Marietta, GA 30060.

Department Information

The School of Government and International Affairs is committed to excellence in teaching, learning, research, and service. We value and encourage engagement with the community at the local, national, and global levels. Our primary goal is to provide our students with the necessary academic and communication skills, knowledge base, and analytical abilities to understand political systems and critical issues, and to be involved citizens and high-performing professionals in their chosen careers. Through our various undergraduate and graduate programs and outreach activities, the faculty and students work together to engage in independent scholarship and professional development in areas such as domestic and international politics and policy, and public administration.

With more than 400 full-time faculty and 8,500 degree-seeking students, the Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences prepares the next generation of leaders in a wide array of fields to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century and become contributing citizens in a global society. The home of three Schools and eight Departments, the College offers more than 80 graduate and undergraduate programs of study in both traditional and interdisciplinary fields. RCHSS provides students experiential learning opportunities to enable them to develop leadership, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills, as well as a strong sense of civic engagement.

The College and the School are committed to the success of our students, faculty, staff, and communities. We seek candidates whose experience has prepared them to fulfill that commitment to our students, partners, and stakeholders effectively.

Job Summary

Kennesaw State University is now accepting applications for a full-time, non-tenure track faculty position as Lecturer of Political Science in the School of Government and International Affairs with a preferred start date of August 2025. This is a nine-month contracted position. This position is for work to be performed in the state of Georgia.

Responsibilities

A commitment to excellence in teaching and service to the university, department and/or discipline is expected of all non-tenure track faculty. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

Teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses in Political Science Service to department, college, University, and profession Teaching assignments will be based on earned degrees and SACSCOC Faculty Credentials Guidelines.

Required Qualifications

To teach undergraduate courses:

A minimum of a Master's degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a closely related discipline is required.

OR

A minimum of a Master's degree, or the foreign equivalent, in a non-related discipline with 18 graduate credit hours in the teaching discipline is required.

To teach graduate courses:

A Terminal/Doctorate degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a related discipline is required.

Preferred Qualifications

Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field
Experience in teaching in-person, on-line or hybrid courses and willingness to teach in large classes
Evidence of teaching excellence in a wide variety of fields in political science
Record of past teaching at undergraduate and/or graduate level
Ability to teach introductory courses in Political Science
Experience in teaching American government, comparative politics, and international relations
Ability to mentor undergraduate research

Required Documents to Attach

CV
Cover Letter
Evidence of Successful Teaching (Upload as Additional Documents)
Unofficial Transcripts (Official Transcripts and Official International Course-by-Course Evaluations Due Upon Hire)
Three Letters of Recommendations
Names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 references

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Apply Before Date

Review of applications will begin immediately. For full consideration, please apply by December 15, 2024.

You can view and apply for this job at: https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=43000&JobOpeningId=278051&PostingSeq=1

Contact Information

For questions about this faculty opening, please contact Dr. April Johnson at ajohn551@kennesaw.edu.

For technical support or assistance completing a job application, please contact the Shared Services Center at (877) 251-2644 or oneusgsupport@usg.edu.

For questions about a specific job posting at Kennesaw State University, please contact the search chair listed under the contact information section on each posting. For general questions about faculty jobs please email facultyjobs@kennesaw.edu.

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Kennesaw State University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for living, work and study. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, Board of Regents policy, and University policy, the University prohibits harassment of or discrimination against any person because of race, color, sex (including sexual harassment, pregnancy, and medical conditions related to pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or veteran or military status by any member of the KSU Community on campus, in connection with a University program or activity, or in a manner that creates a hostile environment for members of the KSU community.

For additional information on this policy, or to file a complaint under the provisions of this policy, students, employees, applicants for employment or admission or other third parties should contact the Office of Institutional Equity at English Building, Suite 225, eeo@kennesaw.edu.

Background Check

Per the University System of Georgia background check policy, all final candidates will be required to consent to a criminal background investigation. Final candidates may be asked to disclose criminal record history during the initial screening process and prior to a conditional offer of employment. Applicants for positions of trust with screening results which confirm a disqualifying criminal history will be immediately disqualified from employment eligibility.

All applicants are required to include professional references as part of their application process. Some positions may require additional job-based screenings such as motor vehicle report, credit check, pre-employment drug screening and/or verification of academic credentials.

https://www.usg.edu/hr/assets/hr/hrap\_manual/HRAP\_Background\_Investigation\_Employment.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15069

Randolph-Macon College

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science

Randolph-Macon College (RMC) invites applications for an Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science to begin September 1, 2025. This is a tenure-track appointment.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach a broad range of Comparative Politics courses as well as to contribute courses to the College's general education program. In addition, all faculty members in the department are expected to teach either Introduction to Politics or Introduction to American Government. Although the department welcomes applications in support of a range of geographic areas, it is particularly interested in course offerings that focus on the developing world, including Asia and Latin America. The ability to teach an upper-level Research Methods course – either quantitative or qualitative in focus – is preferred. The standard teaching load will be seven courses per year, normally in a 3-1-3 configuration across the College's academic calendar, which consists of Fall and Spring terms, along with a four-week January term.

This position requires a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment; as such, evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. We also encourage interdisciplinary contributions to the curriculum. Opportunities may be available to teach in interdisciplinary programs at the College, including Asian Studies; Black Studies; Environmental Studies; Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies (GSWS); Hispanic Studies; the College's Honors Program; and more. RMC faculty are also expected to have an active research program, and are encouraged to conduct research in collaboration with students. The College's Schapiro Undergraduate Research Fellowships are available to support students and faculty in all disciplines to conduct summer research. The College offers generous research, travel, and sabbatical funding.

Institution Information

Randolph-Macon College is a nationally-recognized residential institution of 1650 students located in Ashland, Virginia, just north of Richmond. Founded in 1830, the college offers a broad range of academic programs, including a graduate program in PA studies. The RMC curriculum, grounded in a liberal arts core, and our culture personal attention foster intellectual growth and personal development, with a steadfast focus on helping students find and navigate pathways through college and to successful outcomes. With a commitment to inclusivity and hands-on learning, Randolph-Macon College provides an extraordinary educational experience –enhanced by exceptional athletic and extracurricular activities and supportive alumni – and prepares graduates for success in their chosen fields and in their lives.

The Department of Political Science gives students a firm footing in the core concepts of political science, and unique internship, research, and hands-on learning opportunities in a specialization of their choosing: American politics; international relations; foreign and comparative politics; and political theory. An RMC political science degree provides students with a strong foundation for careers in law, public administration, election campaigns, social justice, and public service.

Major/Essential Functions:

Randolph-Macon College faculty teach, advise, conduct research and engage in scholarship, and serve the college and department. Primary teaching responsibilities will include courses in Comparative Politics, and contributions to the College's general education program.

Minimum Qualifications:

- ? PhD in Political Science, Comparative Politics, or a related field by the time appointment begins in Fall 2025
- ? Demonstrated effectiveness in undergraduate teaching
- ? Ability to teach upper-level undergraduate courses in at least one area of comparative politics
- ? Evidence of a clear research agenda with the potential to produce scholarly publications in an area(s) of comparative politics
- ? Evidence of a commitment to undergraduate teaching and student engagement
- ? Experience working with people from diverse backgrounds and a demonstrated commitment to pedagogical methods that enable students with diverse backgrounds to reach their maximum potential

Preferred Qualifications:

- ? Ability to teach an undergraduate Research Methods course
- ? Evidence of ability to engage undergraduates in the applicant's area of study
- ? Ability to contribute to interdisciplinary programs outside of the political science department

Application Procedures

Please complete an online application at <http://bit.ly/407HzPB> to include uploading the following as a single pdf addressed to Sabrina Granderson, Administrative Services Coordinator, no later than November 4.

- ? Letter of application that addresses the position qualifications
- ? Curriculum vitae
- ? One page statement of teaching philosophy and commitment to undergraduate teaching
- ? One page statement of scholarly research interests
- ? A single example of scholarly writing (this can be a link to a publicly available sample)
- ? One page statement describing past, present, and future (planned) contributions to equity, diversity, and inclusion
- ? Transcripts (unofficial and scanned copies acceptable)

? The names and contact information for three professional references. At least one must be able to address teaching experience and teaching effectiveness; please indicate the teaching reference in your letter of application. Please do NOT ask references to submit letters of recommendation; the committee will conduct reference checks by phone.

For full consideration, applications must be received by November 4. While applications may be accepted after this date, it is not guaranteed that they will be considered. At this time, please only upload the required documents listed above; finalists may be asked to submit additional documentation as needed. Incomplete applications will NOT be considered by the search committee.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/4/2024

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15049

Stetson University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

STETSON UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

POSITION: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Stetson University seeks an individual with expertise in comparative politics, with a preferred specialization in Latin America. This is a full-time, 9-month position beginning in August 2025.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred, but applicants who are ABD will be considered if they are at the final stage of the dissertation process by August 2025. The successful candidate will have an active scholarly agenda and demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduates.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

The annual teaching load includes five regular courses and one student-centered immersive experience (equivalent to one course) as a part of the University's experiential, contemporary, and integrative learning initiative – Hatter Ready. Primary teaching responsibilities include introductory courses and upper-level courses in comparative politics, with the opportunity to develop additional courses that contribute to the university's interdisciplinary programs on campus, such as Latin American and Latino Studies, International Studies, and/or Global Development. Other courses will be based on the candidate's expertise and may include offerings for the University's requirements in General Education, including First Year Seminars and Junior Seminars. The faculty member is also expected to mentor students academically and professionally. Candidates should demonstrate a passion for the highest quality of teaching, combined with the ability to produce rigorous peer-reviewed academic scholarship. Scholarly activity leading to publication in peer-reviewed journals and service to the Department, the College of Arts and Sciences, the University, and the profession are required. For more information on our expectations in teaching and scholarship, our tenure policies, and our support for faculty development, please see the Academic Affairs website at <http://www.stetson.edu/administration/provost/prospective-faculty/index.php>

THE DEPARTMENT:

Stetson's Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/artsci/political-science/>) takes a rigorous, interdisciplinary approach to undergraduate liberal arts education. Our faculty are also committed scholars with strong publication records and offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies, Russian, East European, and Eurasian Studies, Latin American and Latino Studies, Asian Studies, Environmental Studies, Public Health, American Studies, Social Science, and the Honors Program. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, and Public Administration and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and nine interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; seven graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, allowing students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 3,700 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls approximately 2,500 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1945, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs based at the main campus in DeLand include Business, Accounting, Education, Counseling, and Creative Writing, with Educational Leadership cohorts also offered at the Gulfport campus. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 38,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive. STARTING DATE: August 11, 2025. APPLICATION:

Applicants should supply:

a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy and a representative sample of teaching evaluations,

a curriculum vitae,

copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation (or a list of three referees), at least one of which should include an evaluation of teaching ability, and a statement of research interests and a description of how undergraduate students might participate in that research.

In the cover letter, candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

All information may be submitted electronically to polisearch@stetson.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 25, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15046

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Universidad Católica del Uruguay calls for applications to fill a position of Assistant Professor (Full time) at its Department of Social Sciences. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. of be near completion (July 2025) in Sociology or Political Science, but candidates in other social science disciplines such as Demography, Human Geography or Criminology are also encouraged to apply. Candidates may be specialized in any substantive subarea (for example, research methods, public policy, social stratification, socioeconomic inequalities, political economy, or comparative politics).

Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching, an active substantive research agenda, and a demonstrated ability to publish and teach in English and Spanish. Successful candidates are expected to work full-time (160 hours per month) and start working in February or August 2025.

Applications will start being analyzed on October 30, 2024, but applications received after that will still be considered until the position is filled or the university closes the call. A complete application must contain (1) a cover letter, (2) CV, (3) an example of an undergraduate course program that the candidate would be able to teach, (4) up to 2 examples of academic research work, (5) teacher evaluations, and (6) three letters of recommendation. The application should be made electronically (<https://bpm.ucu.edu.uy/public/01LPOSD>).

Letters of recommendation must be directly sent by their author to the following email: ines.fynn@ucu.edu.uy (Ref: LLAMACA-257–Letter of recommendation for [Name Last name]).

The selection process will consist on the following stages. First, a short list of candidates will be selected to be interviewed by the Selection Committee in person or via videoconference in case of residing abroad. Then, 3 shortlisted candidates will be invited to the Montevideo campus to present their research and hold interviews with members of the Department and other authorities. The selection committee may request from the candidates, at any time during the process, additional materials, or the corresponding accreditations. The decisions of the selection committee will be final. The Universidad Católica del Uruguay reserves the right not to hire any candidates without responsibility of any kind at its own expense.

For additional information, applicants may contact the Department's Chair, Rosario

Queirolo (rosario.queirolo@ucu.edu.uy).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15054

Kennesaw State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

About Us

For more than 60 years, Kennesaw State University has been known for its entrepreneurial spirit and sense of community. A leader in innovative teaching and learning, Kennesaw State is located just north of Atlanta and combines a suburban setting on two metro-Atlanta campuses in Kennesaw and Marietta. As one of Georgia's largest universities, Kennesaw State offers undergraduate and graduate degrees, including a growing number of doctoral programs to over 46,000 students. Our high-impact research, and Division I athletics also draw students from throughout the region and across the globe. A member of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State is a Carnegie-designated doctoral research institution (R2) committed to becoming a world-class academic institution positioned to broaden its academic and research missions and expand its scope on a local, regional, and national level.

Our vibrant culture, career opportunities, mission and values and rich benefits make us an employer of choice. As part of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State exemplifies the power and promise of a student-centered, research-driven university. Our institutional values are respect, integrity, collaboration, inclusivity and accountability. In addition, Kennesaw State supports the University of Georgia's core values of accountability, excellence, integrity, and respect. For more information, visit <https://www.kennesaw.edu/>.

Location

Our Kennesaw campus is located at 1000 Chastain Road NW, Kennesaw, GA 30144. Our Marietta campus is located at 1100 South Marietta Parkway, Marietta, GA 30060.

Department Information

The School of Government and International Affairs is committed to excellence in teaching, learning, research, and service. We value and encourage engagement with the community at the local, national, and global levels. Our primary goal is to provide our students with the necessary academic and communication skills, knowledge base, and analytical abilities to understand political systems and critical issues, and to be involved citizens and high-performing professionals in their chosen careers. Through our various undergraduate and graduate programs and outreach activities, the faculty and students work together to engage in independent scholarship and professional development in areas such as domestic and international politics and policy, and public administration.

With more than 400 full-time faculty and 8,500 degree-seeking students, the Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences prepares the next generation of leaders in a wide array of fields to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century and become contributing citizens in a global society. The home of three Schools and eight Departments, the College offers more than 80 graduate and undergraduate programs of study in both traditional and interdisciplinary fields. RCHSS provides students experiential learning opportunities to enable them to develop leadership, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills, as well as a strong sense of civic engagement.

The College and the School are committed to the success of our students, faculty, staff, and communities. We seek candidates whose experience has prepared them to fulfill that commitment to our students, partners, and stakeholders effectively.

Job Summary

Kennesaw State University is now accepting applications for a full-time, tenure track faculty position as Assistant Professor of Political Science in the School of Government and International Affairs with a preferred start date of August 2025. This is a nine-month contracted position. This position is for work to be performed in the state of Georgia.

Responsibilities

Teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses in the area of East Asian Politics, Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. Service to Department, College, University, and profession.

Scholarship/Research expectations: Maintaining a steady research and publication agenda on Asian politics and pursuing extramural funding opportunities.

Teaching assignments will be based on earned degrees and SACSCOC Faculty Credentials Guidelines.

Required Qualifications

A Doctorate degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a related discipline, is required. The required degree must be earned by the start date.

Experience teaching in-person, on-line or hybrid courses and willingness to teach in large classes.

Evidence of scholarship activities pertaining to East Asian politics.

Preferred Qualifications

Record of past teaching at undergraduate and/or graduate level

Likelihood of obtaining extramural funding

Ability to teach introductory courses in Political Science

Fieldwork research experience in East Asia or language proficiency in one of the East Asian languages

Required Documents to Attach

1. CV

2. Cover Letter

3. Statement of Research Interests

4. Unofficial Transcripts (Official Transcripts and Official International Course-by-Course Evaluations Due Upon Hire)

5. Names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 references

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Optional documents to include:

Evidence of successful teaching

Apply Before Date

Review of applications will begin immediately. For full consideration, please apply by December 1, 2024.

You can view and apply for this job at: https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=43000&JobOpeningId=277858&PostingSeq=1

Contact Information

For questions about this faculty opening, please contact Dr. Thomas Rotnem, Search Committee Chair, trotnem@kennesaw.edu.

For technical support or assistance completing a job application, please contact the Shared Services Center at (877) 251-2644 or oneusgsupport@usg.edu.

For questions about a specific job posting at Kennesaw State University, please contact the search chair listed under the contact information section on each posting. For general questions about faculty jobs please email facultyjobs@kennesaw.edu.

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Kennesaw State University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for living, work and study. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, Board of Regents policy, and University policy, the University prohibits harassment of or discrimination against any person because of race, color, sex (including sexual harassment, pregnancy, and medical conditions related to pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or veteran or military status by any member of the KSU Community on campus, in connection with a University program or activity, or in a manner that creates a hostile environment for members of the KSU community.

For additional information on this policy, or to file a complaint under the provisions of this policy, students, employees, applicants for employment or admission or other third parties should contact the Office of Institutional Equity at English Building, Suite 225, eeo@kennesaw.edu.

Background Check

Per the University System of Georgia background check policy, all final candidates will be required to consent to a criminal background investigation. Final candidates may be asked to disclose criminal record history during the initial screening process and prior to a conditional offer of employment. Applicants for positions of trust with screening results which confirm a disqualifying criminal history will be immediately disqualified from employment eligibility.

All applicants are required to include professional references as part of their application process. Some positions may require additional job-based screenings such as motor vehicle report, credit check, pre-employment drug screening and/or verification of academic credentials.

https://www.usg.edu/hr/assets/hr/hrap\_manual/HRAP\_Background\_Investigation\_Employment.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15037

MU (Columbia) Campus

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor
University of Missouri in Columbia, MO

Description

The University of Missouri's ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world's most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we're looking to recruit possess:

- ? A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- ? A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward
- ? A robust publication and citation record
- ? National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- ? An interdisciplinary scope of work.

For more information and to apply, see: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu/>.

About the University of Missouri

The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri's largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation's top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City.

Columbia, MO., consistently rated as one of the best communities to live, is an ideal college town, combining small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals.

Application Requirements

- External application URL and instructions below: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15032

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Tenured Professor/Associate Professor and Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Administration, Public Policy

The School of Arts and Sciences (SAS) of the University of Pennsylvania is searching for a senior scholar of India to be appointed July 1, 2025 with tenure in the department of Political Science or Sociology and take on the role of Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India (CASI) on July 1, 2026. Founded in 1992, CASI is the first research institution in the United States dedicated to the study of contemporary India. A national resource, it fills an urgent need for knowledge of India's politics, rapidly changing economy and population, and social transformation. The Center's key goals are to nurture new generations of scholars across disciplines and to provide a forum for dialogue among the academic, business, and foreign policy communities. Appointment as Director will be for a five-year renewable term. The CASI Director holds the Madan Lal Solti Chair for the Study of Contemporary India. In addition, the candidate will teach in appropriate SAS undergraduate and graduate programs, though with a reduced teaching load while serving as CASI director.

The successful applicant will demonstrate intellectual merit that meets tenure standards at a major research university and includes a strong scholarly reputation in their home discipline and as a scholar of contemporary India. We seek scholars doing policy relevant research that concerns development issues, broadly defined to include political, cultural, societal, economic, or demographic perspectives. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to demonstrate engagement with networks of scholars and relevant practitioners in India and capacity to direct a pre-eminent center, such as skills in institutional entrepreneurship, constituency-building, staff development, governance, finances, fundraising, and overall management. These skills may have been acquired in either an academic or non-academic setting. The director must be able to foster work from multiple disciplines and across disciplinary lines.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by values of inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment where everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Application Instructions

Please submit an application at apply.interfolio.com/156880. Include a letter of interest and a current curriculum vitae or résumé. Applications will be considered as they are received, and review will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15033

California Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Instructor in the Linde Center for Science, Society, and Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: American Politics, Environmental Policy, Health Care

The Linde Center for Science, Society, and Policy (LCSSP) provides a forum for research and discussion around issues at the intersection of science, ethics, and public policy. Based in the Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences since its establishment in 2022, the center serves as a research hub that hosts working groups on topics where Caltech is uniquely positioned to contribute to debates. Professors Michael Alvarez (political and computational social science) and Frederick Eberhardt (philosophy) are the founding co-directors. Activities of the LCSSP focus on areas of scientific research with direct policy implications. As of 2024, these include, but are not limited to, artificial intelligence, biotechnology, and climate and sustainability.

We aim to recruit two energetic postdoctoral instructors who are excited to contribute to a center exploring the intersection of science and policy. The postdocs are expected to develop and teach one to two undergraduate courses per year on topics relevant to the LCSSP. In collaboration with the co-directors, the postdocs will have the opportunity to shape the research focus and profile of the center, to develop and advance new research projects, and to take part in organizing and hosting high-profile keynote speakers and discussion panels. Successful candidates are expected to take the initiative to explore new territory and to engage broadly with other stakeholders at Caltech and beyond.

The duration of the appointment is up to two years: an initial one-year appointment with the potential for a one-year renewal contingent upon satisfactory performance. Applicants should hold or be completing a PhD in a relevant field where they have developed extensive experience with issues that arise at the intersection of science and society.

Requirements: The positions are contingent upon completion of the PhD. Interested candidates are asked to submit a CV, a 2 to 3-page Research Statement, and three names of reference letter writers (as well as two letters) to lcssp@hss.caltech.edu. The Research Statement (or a separate document) should contain a section that addresses the applicant's thoughts on classroom instruction, mentorship of students, and ways to foster an inclusive, equitable environment for those who come to Caltech with many different backgrounds and experiences. A cover letter (maximum 1 page) is optional.

Applications will be reviewed starting on December 1, 2024 and will remain open until positions are filled.

As one of the largest employers in Pasadena, CA, Caltech is committed to providing comprehensive benefits to eligible employees and their eligible dependents. Our benefits package includes competitive compensation, health, dental, and vision insurance, retirement savings plans, generous paid time off, parental leave, tuition reimbursement, and more. Learn more about our benefits and who is eligible: <https://hr.caltech.edu/departments/total-rewards/benefits>.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15020

Georgetown University

Rank: Faculty Position in Comparative Politics and IPOL, Open Rank (Assistant / Associate / Professor)

Faculty Position in Comparative Politics and IPOL, Open Rank (Assistant / Associate / Professor)

Georgetown University: Main Campus: Walsh School of Foreign Service: Georgetown University in Qatar

Location: Doha, Qatar

Open Date: Sep 30, 2024

Deadline:

Description

Georgetown University in Qatar invites applications for one (1) senior or junior core faculty position in Comparative Politics. Core faculty positions are full-time positions designed to replicate the institutional commitment to academic freedom and professional opportunities associated with tenure-track and tenured appointments, in compliance with Georgetown University's academic governance guidelines. This is an open rank search.

We seek scholars with a regional specialization in East, South, or South-East Asia. The successful candidate will be able to teach a core curriculum course in Comparative Political Systems and Scope and Methods in Political Science. The ability to teach, and mentor, quantitative research in politics will be an advantage.

Applicants should have a record of scholarship and teaching appropriate for their rank.

The successful applicant will take their place at a top-ranking research institution and will have as colleagues a team of internationally-recognized scholars.

GU-Q provides generous research support and support for conference travel. Faculty at Georgetown University in Qatar are eligible to apply for GU-Q Faculty Research Funds and the Qatar National Research Fund's Qatar <https://connect.qrdi.org.qa/scientific-research/p/opportunities/p/19> and <https://connect.qrdi.org.qa/scientific-research/p/opportunities/p/22>. Colleagues with senior core faculty status are eligible to apply for periodic research sabbaticals.

The teaching load is 2-2. GU-Q boasts best-in-class teaching facilities including a Global Classroom for classes connecting students in Washington, D.C. and Doha.

Compensation is very competitive in relation to the US academic market. It includes an annual summer research stipend for active scholars, amounting to an additional 2/9 of the base salary. The <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/about/careers/human-resources/benefits-and-allowances/> <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/about/> <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/about/careers/human-resources/benefits-and-allowances/> includes fully-furnished high-quality housing, transportation allowance, annual family home leave allowance, health insurance (worldwide coverage), generous private school tuition support for accompanying children, etc.

GU-Q was established in 2005 alongside other elite international universities in <https://www.qf.org.qa/education/education-city>, in partnership with Qatar Foundation. GU-Q is an integral part of Georgetown University, delivering the renowned School of Foreign Service's <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/academics/programs/bachelor-science-foreign-service-bsfs-degree-program/> degree: a <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/academics/programs/bsfs-core-curriculum-first-two-years-degree/> <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/academics/programs/bsfs-core-curriculum-first-two-years-degree/> offering majors in International Politics, International History, Culture and Politics, and International Economics. Several MA programs are in development. Degrees are issued by Georgetown University. GU-Q is a research-focused, student-oriented institution with a globally competitive research and publications record and it houses the <https://cirs.georgetown.edu/>. GU-Q values interdisciplinarity, and its faculty and students benefit from the opportunities offered by the wider academic eco-system of Education City. For more information on GU-Q, see <https://www.qatar.georgetown.edu/>.

Qatar offers a diverse, safe and family-friendly living environment. <https://www.middleeastmonitor.com/20200714-qatar-ranked-safest-country-in-the-world-for-sixth-time/> <https://www.middleeastmonitor.com/20200714-qatar-ranked-safest-country-in-the-world-for-sixth-time/>, it is connected by direct flights to over 160 destinations in 90 countries. The iconic <https://www.qnl.qa/en> adjacent to GU-Q in Education City and designed by Rem Koolhaas, provides free membership to all faculty and students. Public parks, beaches, sports facilities (including Education City's extensive sports venues), <https://www.qm.org.qa/encafes> and restaurants abound, and a state-of-the-art metro system connects all parts of Doha and nearby locations (see <https://www.visitqatar.qa/en/home>). For a glimpse of what it is like to teach and live in Qatar, see: <https://youtu.be/HNoERWln4k>.

Qualifications

Application Instructions

Review of applications will begin on October 15, and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should provide a cover letter detailing teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, and the names of three scholarly references. All application materials must be submitted via Georgetown's online application management system at <http://apply.interfolio.com/156206> Faxed or emailed applications will not be accepted. Questions about the online application system should be directed to Ms. Carina Lawson at cl978@georgetown.edu.

Queries about the position should be directed to Professor Clyde Wilcox, Search Committee Chair, at wilcox@georgetown.edu. Please reference "Comparative Politics Search" in the subject line.

For more information and to apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5691457>

Georgetown University is an <https://policymanual.hr.georgetown.edu/https%3A/policymanual.gudrupal.georgetown.edu/201-Equal-Employment-Opportunity-Affirmative-Action> fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic <https://www.dol.gov/ofccp/regs/compliance/posters/pdf/eeopost.pdf>.

If you are a qualified individual with a disability and need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please <https://ideaa.georgetown.edu/accommodations/procedures/applicants> for more information, or contact the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity & Affirmative Action (IDEAA) at (202) 687-4798.

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-cdd980a3f92e7d49bb7496c8be3a8d1a>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15014

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: History & Politics, Intelligence, International Security

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from recent PhD recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's emphasis on history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. While our Center tends to emphasize the discipline of history, or research with a strong historical component, we also highly encourage applications from PhD recipients in political science, political philosophy, public policy, language studies, area studies, and classics, whose research contributes to traditional political and military history or makes meaningful contributions to the practice of statecraft. Successful applicants will spend their time as fellows working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic and professional resources available at the Center and across the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will actively participate in the Clements Center's programs and activities such as guest lectures and conferences. Additional, specific responsibilities for activities such as directed research or teaching will only occur through mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership; the emphasis of the fellowship is to provide ample time for the young scholar's own research and writing for book manuscripts, journal articles, and similar projects. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applications open on October 7, 2024. Apply on the Clements Center's website. Applicants should submit a current c.v., cover letter, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) statement of proposed research, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants whose research addresses the Indo-Pacific region's increasing role in U.S. foreign policy and security should indicate whether they want to be considered for a formal affiliation at the Clements-Strauss Asia Policy Program. Applications are due no later than December 16, 2024 at 11 p.m. Central. The salary for this position is $69,000 - $77,000. Note that applicants are required to have received their doctorate by August 2025, the date the Postdoctoral Fellowship will commence. Please direct any questions to Emily Burch, Graduate Student Programs Coordinator, at emily.burch@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/16/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14982

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Predoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, International Law & Organizations

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from current PhD candidates for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's emphasis on history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. While our Center tends to emphasize the discipline of history, or research with a strong historical component, we also highly encourage applications from PhD students in political science, political philosophy, public policy, language studies, area studies, and classics, whose research contributes to traditional political and military history or makes meaningful contributions to the practice of statecraft. This fellowship is designed specifically to help expedite dissertation completion, so applicants should be in the dissertation writing phase and within one or at most two years of anticipated dissertation submission. Successful applicants will spend their time as fellows working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic and professional resources available at the Center and across the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will actively participate in the Clements Center's programs and activities such as guest lectures and conferences. Additional, specific responsibilities will only occur through mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applications open on October 7, 2024. Apply on the Clements Center's website. Applicants should submit a current C.V, cover letter, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) research statement, and three letters of recommendation. The salary range for this position is $39,000 - $45,000. Applicants whose research addresses the Indo-Pacific region's increasing role in U.S. foreign policy and security should indicate whether they want to be considered for the Predoctoral Fellowship at the Clements-Strauss Asia Policy Program. Applications are due no later than December 16, 2024 at 11 p.m. Central.

Please direct any questions to Emily Burch, Graduate Student Program Coordinator, at emily.burch@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/16/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 14983

Colby College Dept of Government

Rank: Assistant Professor - Conflict and Human Security (tenure-track)

The Department of Government at Colby College invites applications for a tenure-track position in international relations and/or comparative politics with a focus on conflict and human security, starting in the fall of 2025. Possible strengths might include human rights, the intersection between climate change and conflict, migration and refugees, gender and sexuality, and/or global health. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work analyzes human security within the Global South, or in the connections between the Global South and the Global North. We welcome candidates whose regional expertise can complement our department's existing strengths in Latin America, Europe, East Asia and the Middle East, and who can contribute to important interdisciplinary programs on campus.

Colby is a highly selective liberal arts college located in Central Maine with high standards for teaching and research. Our students are motivated, intellectually curious, and easily engaged in the classroom and in independent research. Our department faculty have active research agendas and receive generous support from the college, including a pre-tenure sabbatical during the fourth year, start-up and travel funds, divisional research grant opportunities, and department funded student research assistants. The teaching load at Colby is 4.5 courses per year.

We seek highly qualified candidates who have demonstrated excellence in teaching and who are committed to working with an increasingly diverse student body. The successful applicant will teach Introduction to International Relations, and either an introductory comparative politics course or an introductory course in research methods, as well as additional courses chosen in consultation with the department chair.

Applicants should submit the following materials: a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement outlining the candidate's research agenda, a recent sample of scholarly writing, a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates a commitment to equitable and inclusive teaching, course descriptions and/or syllabi for three proposed courses, evidence of teaching excellence, a graduate school transcript, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Please submit all of these materials via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/156604>. Review of applications will begin in early November and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to the committee chair, Professor Ken Rodman kenneth.rodman@colby.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15005

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the Center for Southeast Asian Studies (CSEAS) at Northern Illinois University (NIU) invite applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics, International Relations or related subfield at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin August 16, 2025. The Department of Political Science offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. For more information about the Department, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and for more information about the Center for Southeast Asian Studies, please visit <http://www.niu.edu/cseas/>.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field (e.g., Public Policy) by the time of appointment and regional expertise in the politics of Southeast Asia are required. A strong likelihood of a sustained publication record is expected. Additionally, preference will be given to candidates who can teach quantitative and/or qualitative methods courses at the graduate level, who are proficient in one or more Southeast Asian languages, and have demonstrated relationships and partnerships with institutions or organizations in the region. We encourage applications from those who bring a range of methodological skills to bear on topics such as, but not limited to, democratization, authoritarianism, national and transnational electoral politics, public policy, and diasporic politics, political economy, and regional conflict and peacebuilding.

The Department's normal teaching load is a 2:2 (i.e., four semester-long courses over an academic year). We anticipate that the successful candidate for this position will be prepared to contribute to undergraduate and graduate student learning beyond regular classes through directing student research and Honors Theses, offering independent studies, and helping with departmental administrative, curricular, and advising responsibilities.

The Assistant Professor will teach undergraduate courses on the politics of Southeast Asia or particular countries within those regions, and graduate courses relating to their area(s) of expertise. The successful candidate will be a tenure-track faculty member in the Department of Political Science and a Faculty Associate in the CSEAS. The successful candidate will teach classes and conduct research in Comparative Politics, International Relations and/or a closely related subfield with a regional focus on Southeast Asia.

NIU is a public research university in DeKalb, IL, an affordable and growing community that is a commutable distance from Chicago and Rockford metropolitan areas. Our 16,000+ student body is diverse, with many first-generation and racially and culturally diverse students. NIU prides itself on student-centered approaches to teaching and research, and has social mobility, equity, and inclusion at the heart of its mission. Recently, NIU was nationally recognized as a top college for diversity and LGBTQ+ students and staff and has been named one of the Great Colleges to Work For two years in a row. NIU's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion includes a thriving Division of Academic Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and six cultural resource centers.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. NIU offers a robust benefits package.

For full consideration, prospective applicants should visit <https://employment.niu.edu/postings/80332> to create an application profile and submit a 1) resume/curriculum vitae, 2) cover letter, statement of teaching philosophy, including how you incorporate the principles of diversity, equity, and inclusion in your classroom, 3) a statement of research vision, including how you incorporate the principles of diversity, equity, and inclusion in your research, 4) 7,000-10,000 word writing sample, 5) contact information of 3 references, and 6) transcripts (unofficial with official required at hire). Additionally, applicants will need to email 3 letters of recommendation directly to Jennifer Gregory (jgregory@niu.edu).

Applications and corresponding materials, including the three letters of recommendation should be submitted by November 17, 2024. Priority review of completed applications will begin immediately after this date and will continue until the position is filled.

Specific questions about the position may be directed to Mitch Pickerrill, the Chair of the Department of Political Science, at pick@niu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/17/2024

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15010

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment in Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, Japan, International Security

Stanford University seeks candidates for a new faculty position in the politics and foreign policy of Japan. The successful candidate will have expertise in politics, policy studies, diplomacy, security studies, international relations, or global affairs relating to Japan and the Indo-Pacific region, and will be expected to advance research and education on Japanese politics and foreign policy, in the Japan Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC). This is an open-rank search.

The new faculty member will be appointed as a Senior Fellow or Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI) affiliated with APARC. Senior Fellows at Stanford University are full members of the Professoriate and Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenured associate or full professor. Center Fellows at Stanford University are also members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenure-track assistant professor. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Senior applicants should possess an exceptional record of research and publication, outstanding experience in developing, advising, or implementing policy, and a demonstrated commitment to mentoring and teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Junior applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at the graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Junior candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review (senior candidates may mark these field as "N/A").

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Senior Fellow: $191,000 - $250,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at : <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494789/faculty-appointment-in-japanese-politics-and-foreign-policy>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14996

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment in Korean Studies

Stanford University seeks candidates for a faculty position in Korean Studies. The successful candidate will be expected to advance research and education on Korea, in the Korea Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC).

The new faculty member will be appointed as Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI), affiliated with APARC. Center Fellows at Stanford University are the equivalent rank of tenure-track assistant professor. They are members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, eligible to serve as principal investigators, and accrue sabbatical. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at the graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review.

The Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals. Additional information about Stanford's IDEAL initiative may be found here: <https://ideal.stanford.edu/>.

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at: <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494768/faculty-appointment-in-korean-studies>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14995

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment in Taiwan Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Stanford University seeks candidates for a new faculty position in Taiwan Studies. The successful candidate will have expertise in policy studies, social sciences, international relations, or global affairs relating to Taiwan, and will be expected to contribute to the newly established Taiwan Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC). This is an open-rank search.

The new faculty member will be appointed as a Senior Fellow or Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI) affiliated with APARC. Senior Fellows at Stanford University are full members of the Professoriate and Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenured associate or full professor. Center Fellows at Stanford University are also members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenure-track assistant professor. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Senior applicants should possess an exceptional record of research and publication, outstanding experience in developing, advising, or implementing policy, and a demonstrated commitment to mentoring and teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Junior applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at a graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Junior candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review (senior candidates may mark these fields as "N/A").

The Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals. Additional information about Stanford's IDEAL initiative may be found here: <https://ideal.stanford.edu/>.

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Senior Fellow: $191,000 - $250,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at: <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494788/faculty-appointment-in-taiwan-studies>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14994

University of Missouri, Kansas City

Rank: Norman Royall Endowed Professor/Associate Professor of Political Communication/UMKC School of Humanities & Social Sciences

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

JOID 53314 / POSITION 55964

Hiring Department

UNIVERSITY of MISSOURI-KANSAS CITY

SCHOOL of HUMANITIES and SOCIAL SCIENCES

Department of Political Science and Philosophy

With our vast selection of courses spanning the arts, humanities and sciences, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences offers a diverse educational experience. Analyzing ideas and human experiences from a wide variety of perspectives prepares students for careers in government, law, education, communications, and political organizations. <https://shss.umkc.edu/about-us/index.html>

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy is a dynamic department with programs and courses across the political science and philosophy disciplines. Our award-winning faculty are committed to the success of our students, both in and out of the classroom. <https://shss.umkc.edu/areas-of-study/political-science-and-philosophy/index.html>

Job Description

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Missouri-Kansas City invites applications for the Norman Royall Professor or Associate Professor with expertise in political science and one of the following: quantitative methods, data science, or data analytics research. This is a 9-month full-time tenure-eligible endowed faculty appointment; rank commensurate with career experience. The position begins with the Fall 2025 semester.

The successful candidate will play a critical role in the research and teaching mission of the Department of Political Science and Philosophy, including securing extramural research funding, working collaboratively, and teaching courses. Endowed Professors with their vast career experiences serve as valuable resources to the School, the university and the community.

In support of our goals to be a workplace of choice and a national leader in research and scholarship, UMKC strives to assure that all individuals appointed to endowed chairs and professorships are outstanding leaders in scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants for this endowed position are encouraged to review UMKC's Guidelines for Evaluation of Endowed Chairs and Professors at the following link: <https://info.umkc.edu/academichiring/ended-chairs-professorships/>.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field.

A full-time ranked faculty appointment at the associate or full professor rank which reflects scholastic success and a record of funded research.

Anticipated Hiring Range

Salary is commensurate with rank, experience and a record of success in externally funded research. It is determined by a variety of factors, including but not limited to, the individual's particular combination of education, skills, and capacity to enhance the department offerings.

Your total compensation goes beyond the number on your paycheck. The University of Missouri provides generous leave, health plans, and retirement contributions that add to your bottom line. Our academic workloads and schedules provide for a positive work/life balance.

Application Materials For consideration, you must apply online at www.umkc.edu/jobs, click in Academic Positions (Job Opening ID 53314).

Please combine all application materials (personal letter of interest reflecting your teaching philosophy, research interests and applicable experience with accompanying up-to-date curriculum vitae and a list of 3 academic and/or professional references with current contact information) into one PDF or Microsoft Word document and upload as your resume attachments. Limit document name to 50 characters and do not include any special characters (e.g., /, &, %, etc.).

· If you are experiencing technical problems during application, please email umpshrsupport@umsystem.edu.

· For questions about the position, please contact umkcfacultysearch@umkc.edu including the Job Identification number 53314 and name of the position.

· Reasonable accommodations may be requested during the application and recruitment process. If you need an accommodation, please contact the Office of Affirmative Action at (816) 235-1323.

· Finalists will be asked to provide university transcripts reflecting award of degrees and references will be contacted.

· A successful Criminal Background Check is required for hire.

Application Deadline

Applications accepted until a qualified candidate is hired. Review of completed applications will begin upon receipt, with priority consideration for those received by October 21, 2024.

Comments

UMKC is a public, urban, research university with more than 15,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. It is part of the larger University of Missouri System. Our university is committed to being a model urban university that is recognized for our partnerships with surrounding urban communities to effectively foster a healthy, safe, and more economically secure socially just quality of life.

A City on the Rise: Big City Life and Midwest Charm, Kansas City offers the best of both worlds - a vibrant, urban community with midwestern appeal and an affordable cost of living. The university is located in a Kansas City metropolitan area that is among the most entrepreneurial cities in America with a population of more than 2.4 million. Our UMKC campuses are centered in the hubs of business activity, cultural arts, (some great barbeque and ethnic cuisine!) and health science research engagement for both the Volker and Health Sciences campuses. Our community boasts championship professional athletic teams, NASCAR racing, and a rich history of music and performing arts. Our beautiful state provides rivers, lakes, biking/hiking trails and mountains for outdoor enthusiasts all within an easy drive. To learn more about life in Kansas City, check out VisitKC.com.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. As part of your total compensation, the University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts for all four UM System campuses. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <https://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Values Commitment We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate.

In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research, and engagement.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umssystem.edu/ums/hr/eoo> or call Human Resources at 816-235-1621. To request ADA accommodations, please call the Office of Equity & Title IX at 816-235-6910.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14978

University of Chicago

Rank: Instructional Professor (Open-Rank), Department of Political Science

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Instructional Professor at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full in any area of political science. This is a new, full-time, teaching position. The initial term of appointment will be from three to five years, depending on rank and with a start date no later than September 2025, renewable based on a performance review. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

The successful candidate will teach up to six quarter-length courses per year including: 2-3 sections of the required methods course in Political Science; one section of the honors thesis colloquium; and up to one course of the applicant's choosing, in consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies. In addition, the successful candidate will assist faculty with advising and programming for undergraduate majors.

Candidates must complete all requirements for the PhD degree by the appointment date of September 2025 and have a record of undergraduate teaching experience, with an emphasis on innovative approaches to teaching.

Qualifications

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply online at apply.interfolio.com/155878

Please submit: (1) a cover letter in which you address your teaching interests (2) a CV; (3) three letters of recommendation; (4) a teaching statement and syllabi for two proposed courses; (5) course evaluations or other evidence of past teaching performance; (6) a writing sample (or samples) of approximately 40 pages in total length.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14967

University of Nebraska, Omaha

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

Tenure-track Assistant Professor, Politics of the Middle East

The University of Nebraska at Omaha seeks applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Political Science. The anticipated start date is August 2025. A completed PhD is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered. Candidates seeking to fill the position should have interests in and a demonstrated capacity to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in politics of the Middle East. A willingness to teach online courses is also required. The position offers a teaching load of three courses per semester and a nine-month contract with the possibility to teach in the summer, contingent upon resources. Our new colleague will be expected to build a record of excellence in teaching, research, and service as required for tenure and promotion. We will begin reviewing applications after October 28, 2024. Applications will be reviewed as they arrive and will be accepted until the position is filled.

UNO is a vibrant, metropolitan university in the state's largest city with an enrollment of approximately 15,000 students. In recent decades the campus developed as a more traditional residential university supported by several new and beautifully appointed residence halls. UNO is classified as a doctoral research university in the latest Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education and the Athletic program competes in NCAA division I. UNO also has the distinction of being one of the nation's leaders in engagement and outreach with a 2015 Community Engagement Classification from the Carnegie Foundation. The campus is located in the heart of Omaha, a cosmopolitan city of more than 600,000 (1.2 million including the large Omaha metro area), which is known for its excellent public school system and strong economic base. The city is home to a number of racially, ethnically, and culturally diverse groups, and is characterized by myriad places to eat, live, and shop. For more information about how UNO lives its metropolitan mission, please visit: <https://www.unomaha.edu/strategic-planning/mission-and-values.php>.

The University and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among the faculty and staff. The University of Nebraska does not discriminate based on race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation in its programs, activities, or employment. UNO is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an E-Verify employer.

To learn more and apply online, please visit: <https://unomaha.peopleadmin.com/postings/21813> and submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, an article length writing sample, a teaching statement, a Diversity, Equity and Inclusion statement describing how you foster an inclusive and equitable learning environment for students from diverse perspectives, and the names and e-mail addresses of three references.

Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Carson Holloway, Chair, Department of Political Science: cholloway@unomaha.edu. Applications must be submitted directly through the UNO website to be considered for this position. Any applications submitted via email or this website will not be reviewed or considered.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14964

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: Assistant Professor of Middle Eastern/African Politics

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley's student body as an Assistant Professor of Political Science (Middle Eastern/African Politics) beginning in the 2025-2026 academic year.

The department seeks applicants with a robust research agenda and teaching interest in political dynamics, historical development, and current issues of the Middle East and/or Africa region. This position supports the department's goal of expanding both undergraduates and graduate programs by offering courses grounded in the theories and methods of political science while simultaneously crossing disciplinary boundaries to incorporate topics, concepts, and methods utilized outside of political science. It will further strengthen the department's expertise in comparative, international relations, and area studies. The successful candidate will teach courses on Middle Eastern/African politics and courses in their substantive specialization and required lower-division courses in U.S. Federal Government & Politics and/or Texas Government and Politics. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule to encourage faculty research and faculty regularly receive teaching support from graduate assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches

<https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/44396>

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/31/2024
Date Posted: 9/27/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14960

Tulane University

Rank: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Latin American, Central America, Caribbean

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2025-2026, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are preferred. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments starting in July 2025 with a stipend of $50,000 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in one of the Center's ongoing research initiatives, including the Central American Politics Consortium and/or Research Group

MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment. Applicants must specify in their application which track is their first preference and which their second. Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2025. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/155003> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) a writing sample; and (5) teaching evaluations if available. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting November 30, 2024.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 11/30/2024
Date Posted: 9/26/2024
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 14950

Tulane University

Rank: Mid-Career Research Fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) at Tulane University seeks a Visiting Mid-Career Research Fellow for the Fall 2025 or Spring 2026 academic semester. The Center supports empirical research in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required. A fellow will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, and the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs.

The fellow will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of their disciplinary department, CIPR, and the Stone Center for Latin American Studies. They are expected to participate in weekly CIPR seminars and workshops, as well as lectures, conferences, and other events organized by the Center. The fellow will collaborate with resident faculty and students on projects of mutual interest in addition to developing their independent research agendas on related topics, as well as mentor junior colleagues at the Center when possible.

The fellowship is for one semester with a stipend of $37,000 plus benefits. Fellows may also obtain funding from their own academic institutions, outside foundations or personal resources. Round-trip travel expenses of up to $3,000 are also supported. Foreign applicants will need to obtain separate health insurance coverage.

Qualifications:

Scholars are expected to hold a PhD. Recent PhD graduates are generally not appropriate candidates. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required.

Application Instructions:

Applications must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/155389> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests, fit to the program, and intended research plan to be developed at CIPR if selected. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 30, 2024.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 14954

University of North Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor: IR/CP

General Description/Primary Purpose:

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is seeking a 9-month, tenure-earning Assistant Professor of International Relations and/or Comparative Politics. This position will report to Dr. Nicholas Seabrook, Chair, Department of Political Science and Public Administration. Position responsibilities include a 2/2 teaching load, research/scholarship, and service.

Apply at https://unf.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/unfjobs/job/Jacksonville-FL/Assistant-Professor---International-Relations-Comparative-Politics\_JR100813-1

Anticipated Start Date: The position is expected to begin on August 4, 2025.

Working Hours: Varies

Supervision Exercised: No

About the Department: In recent years, UNF has transitioned to an R2 institution with an increasing focus on research while maintaining excellence in teaching. Faculty at UNF are on flexible teaching loads, typically teaching between four to six courses per year, with newly hired faculty on a reduced load of two courses per semester for the first three years. Continued reduced teaching loads may be offered to faculty demonstrating significant accomplishments aligned with the university's strategic plan (<https://www.unf.edu/strategic-plan/index.html>). Startup funds are available and negotiable.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in Political Science (BA), Public Administration (MPA), and International Affairs (MAIA), as well as minors in Political Science, Public Administration, and Political Campaigns. The department includes the Public Opinion Research Laboratory (PORL), a highly ranked full-service survey research facility, as well as the Public Service Leadership Program (PSLP), and the Pre-Law Program.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and Public Administration visit: <https://www.unf.edu/coas/pspa/>

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Government, or a related discipline is required by August 2025.

Preferred Qualifications / Skills:

The successful candidate will demonstrate excellence in teaching introductory and advanced courses in international relations and comparative politics. Expertise in a specific region (preferably Latin America or Asia) is desirable. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to our M.A. program in International Affairs, have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, and possess an active research agenda.

Required Licensure:

N/A

Additional Application Materials Required:

Applicants should be prepared to provide the following required documents and information:

- Cover letter
- Current curriculum vitae
- Unofficial transcripts
- Names, phone numbers, and email address of three professional references
- Plan for future research
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness

The selected candidate will be required to submit official transcripts (and, as applicable, U.S. degree equivalency evaluations) documenting the conferral of their qualifying academic credentials by the date of hire.

Additional Requirements:

Applicants may be required to upload additional documents based on their responses to the Foreign Influence Review questions.

- Passport (all pages including blank pages) and
- Form DS-160 (if ever submitted. If not, upload an explanation)

Application Review Date: Initial review of applications will begin on October 25, 2024.

Job Posting Close Date: Open until filled

How to Apply: Applicants must submit an online application that includes all required documents and reference information at https://unf.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/unfjobs/job/Jacksonville-FL/Assistant-Professor---International-Relations-Comparative-Politics\_JR100813-1

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14947

Concordia College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Concordia College invites applications for a tenure-eligible Assistant Professor position in the Department of Political Science, with a specialization in Comparative Politics. Qualified applicants will possess excellent teaching skills and an active research agenda. Normal course load is three courses (equivalent to 12 semester hours) per semester.

The successful candidate will teach the introductory course in Comparative Politics and additional upper division courses in Comparative Politics suited to their area of expertise. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach courses in some combination of democratization, citizenship, immigration, human rights (or human rights law), and emerging technology and contribute to a core curriculum with the theme of engaged citizenship. Regional area of specialization is open.

Qualified applicants will demonstrate a strong commitment to student success in the classroom, during office hours, through mentorship and advising of students, and by supervising undergraduate research projects within a liberal arts institution. They will aspire to be part of a diverse community that affirms an abundance of identities, experiences, and perspectives in order to imagine, examine, and implement possibilities for individual and communal thriving both inside and outside of the Department of Political Science.

The Political Science department at Concordia College is comprised of 4 faculty and serves over 70 majors and minors. We are a collegial and dynamic group of people who provide a positive, supportive work atmosphere. The typical class size of our courses is 15-25 students. Faculty development opportunities are available, including funds that allow for conference presentations. On-campus workshops and research presentations are also offered regularly throughout the year. Internal grant funding is available for summer research with undergraduate students. Collaborative work with colleagues within and outside of the department is encouraged and supported. Information about the Political Science department can be found at: <https://www.concordiacollege.edu/academics/programs-of-study/political-science/>.

Concordia College is a private four-year liberal arts college of approximately 1,800 undergraduates located in Moorhead (MN)/Fargo (ND), a growing metropolitan area of 250,000 that is known for quality schools, affordable housing, and the nearby Minnesota lakes country. Concordia College is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer with a commitment to excellence through diversity (<https://www.concordiacollege.edu/about/president/concordia-leads/excellence-through-diversity/>). A more thorough description of Concordia College can be found at <https://www.concordiacollege.edu/>.

To apply, send a cover letter that describes your teaching, research, and service, and how your work would contribute to the development of an equitable and inclusive community in the department and at the college. Additionally, please include a CV, a statement of teaching philosophy, a research statement focused on current scholarship and plans for future research, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Shortlisted candidates may be asked to supply additional materials at a later date. Please submit application materials through the Concordia College Human Resources portal at <https://hr.cord.edu/postings/11503>. Direct any questions to the search committee chair, Dr. Leila Zakhirova at lzakhiro@cord.edu. Applications received by October 20, 2024 will receive the committee's full consideration, and the position will remain open until filled.

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science (ABDs will be considered)
- Primary specialization in the subfield of Comparative Politics
- Ability to teach the introductory course in Comparative Politics
- Ability to teach courses related to some combination of democratization, citizenship, immigration, human rights (or human rights law), and emerging technology
- Ability to teach courses focused on the candidate's geographic area of specialization
- Demonstrated interest in supporting the college's diversity, equity, and inclusion goals through course content and other activities

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience working directly with people from diverse racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds
- Interest in contributing to interdisciplinary programs (e.g. Global Studies, Pre-Law)
- Interest in conducting research with undergraduate students

Required Application Materials

- Cover letter
- CV
- Statement of teaching philosophy
- Research statement focused on current scholarship and plans for future research
- Writing sample
- 3 letters of recommendation

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14926

Concordia College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Concordia College invites applications for a tenure-eligible Assistant Professor position in the Department of Political Science, with a specialization in Comparative Politics. Qualified applicants will possess excellent teaching skills and an active research agenda. Normal course load is three courses (equivalent to 12 semester hours) per semester.

The successful candidate will teach the introductory course in Comparative Politics and additional upper division courses in Comparative Politics suited to their area of expertise. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach courses in some combination of democratization, citizenship, immigration, human rights (or human rights law), and emerging technology and contribute to a core curriculum with the theme of engaged citizenship. Regional area of specialization is open.

Qualified applicants will demonstrate a strong commitment to student success in the classroom, during office hours, through mentorship and advising of students, and by supervising undergraduate research projects within a liberal arts institution. They will aspire to be part of a diverse community that affirms an abundance of identities, experiences, and perspectives in order to imagine, examine, and implement possibilities for individual and communal thriving both inside and outside of the Department of Political Science.

The Political Science department at Concordia College is comprised of 4 faculty and serves over 70 majors and minors. We are a collegial and dynamic group of people who provide a positive, supportive work atmosphere. The typical class size of our courses is 15-25 students. Faculty development opportunities are available, including funds that allow for conference presentations. On-campus workshops and research presentations are also offered regularly throughout the year. Internal grant funding is available for summer research with undergraduate students. Collaborative work with colleagues within and outside of the department is encouraged and supported. Information about the Political Science department can be found at: <https://www.concordiacollege.edu/academics/programs-of-study/political-science/>.

Concordia College is a private four-year liberal arts college of approximately 1,800 undergraduates located in Moorhead (MN)/Fargo (ND), a growing metropolitan area of 250,000 that is known for quality schools, affordable housing, and the nearby Minnesota lakes country. Concordia College is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer with a commitment to excellence through diversity (<https://www.concordiacollege.edu/about/president/concordia-leads/excellence-through-diversity/>). A more thorough description of Concordia College can be found at <https://www.concordiacollege.edu/>.

To apply, send a cover letter that describes your teaching, research, and service, and how your work would contribute to the development of an equitable and inclusive community in the department and at the college. Additionally, please include a CV, a statement of teaching philosophy, a research statement focused on current scholarship and plans for future research, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Shortlisted candidates may be asked to supply additional materials at a later date. Please submit application materials through the Concordia College Human Resources portal at <https://hr.cord.edu/postings/11503>. Direct any questions to the search committee chair, Dr. Leila Zakhirova at lzakhiro@cord.edu. Applications received by October 20, 2024 will receive the committee's full consideration, and the position will remain open until filled.

Minimum Qualifications

- Ph.D. in Political Science (ABDs will be considered)
- Primary specialization in the subfield of Comparative Politics
- Ability to teach the introductory course in Comparative Politics
- Ability to teach courses related to some combination of democratization, citizenship, immigration, human rights (or human rights law), and emerging technology
- Ability to teach courses focused on the candidate's geographic area of specialization
- Demonstrated interest in supporting the college's diversity, equity, and inclusion goals through course content and other activities

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience working directly with people from diverse racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds
- Interest in contributing to interdisciplinary programs (e.g. Global Studies, Pre-Law)
- Interest in conducting research with undergraduate students

Required Application Materials

- Cover letter
- CV
- Statement of teaching philosophy
- Research statement focused on current scholarship and plans for future research
- Writing sample
- 3 letters of recommendation

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14927

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Assistant Professor Position in Black Cultural Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics, Social Movements

Assistant Professor Position in Black Cultural Studies

Department of Social and Cultural Analysis

New York University Arts and Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in Black Cultural Studies. We are particularly interested in applicants whose research takes an interdisciplinary approach to the social and cultural life of the African diaspora and contributes to the department's strengths in gender and sexuality studies; critical race and ethnic studies; and/or urban studies.

This position is part of a multi-departmental cluster hire in "Black Diaspora Cultural Studies," which includes the Arts and Science departments of Art History, History and Music. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars at NYU working across a range of disciplines. More information about this cluster can be found here, along with background on NYU's broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is an interdisciplinary department committed to developing innovative approaches in urbanism, migration, critical racial, ethnic and indigenous studies, gender and sexuality, art, culture, politics, and economic life. The Department has degree programs in Africana Studies, American Studies, Asian/Pacific/American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latinx Studies, Metropolitan Studies, and Social and Cultural Analysis.

Candidates should submit the following materials via this Interfolio link:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/155129>

Letter of application

Curriculum vitae

Writing sample of 20-25 pages

Three confidential letters of recommendation

Your letter of application should focus on the contributions your research makes to the field and to the department. You may also address how your work in the university, such as classroom teaching, has contributed toward equity and inclusion.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on November 10, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions about the position please consult the NYU Department of Social and Cultural Analysis website: <http://sca.as.nyu.edu>, referring to the homepage link "Employment Opportunities." For questions not answered here please contact Marty Correia at mc2828@nyu.edu.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2025, pending administrative and budgetary approval. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by September 1, 2025.

In compliance with NYC's Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary range for this position is $85,000 to $115,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Arts & Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber, who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are underrepresented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the Arts & Science commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, visit <https://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14937

University of Montana

Rank: Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Japan, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Maureen and Mike Mansfield Center and the Department of Political Science at the University of Montana invite applications for a tenure-track Professor of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Studies at the advanced assistant, associate, or full level to begin in August 2025. The successful candidate for this position will be appointed as the endowed Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs; the locus of tenure will be in the Department of Political Science. We invite applications from candidates in Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Security Studies. Specialization for this position is open: Candidates with expertise and research interests in contemporary Japanese politics, policy studies including foreign policy and security studies of the Indo-Pacific region are particularly encouraged to apply.

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach at all levels (introductory, advanced/upper division undergraduate, and graduate (MA) in their field. They may also have the opportunity to develop courses in collaboration with the Department of History.

The successful applicant is also expected to maintain an active research agenda in their field. Additionally, the successful candidate will be expected to collaborate with the Mansfield Center's programs for the purpose of promoting deeper understanding of Japanese politics, foreign policy, Japan-U.S. relations, and a Free and Open Indo-Pacific. This may include, but would not be limited to, organizing symposia, inviting speakers, outreach to the media and the general public, and advising the Mansfield Center in the development of its programs.

Applicants at the advanced assistant level should demonstrate potential for scholarly excellence (e.g., publications, among other things), and evidence of effective instruction consistent with an early tenure schedule. Applicants for appointment as associate and full professor should have a record of excellence in social science research (through high-quality peer-reviewed publications and grants), undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured position (preferably including some experience in media and public outreach).

Position Details

Tenure Track Faculty: Department of Political Science

Title: Professor/ Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs

Schedule: Full-time academic year (10-month) position

Entry Rate: $70,000-100,000 commensurate with experience

Benefits: A comprehensive and competitive benefits package. Medical Insurance/Mandatory Retirement Contribution, 50% family tuition waiver in all Montana University System colleges and universities, and a wellness program.

Primary Duties: Teaching, research, and service.

Qualifications

- A PhD in Political Science or similar field, and scholarly experience in the field of Japanese politics, policy studies including foreign policy and security studies, international relations, and/or Indo-Pacific affairs, as evidenced by a record of college-level teaching, and published research.
- Experience supporting students in achieving curricular and co-curricular objectives.
- Experience teaching and mentoring undergraduate students.
- Demonstrated ability to work in a cross-cultural environment with a variety of academic and non-academic partners.
- Study of and research conducted in a language native to the Indo-Pacific region.

Priority Application Date : 30 days

Complete applications received by this date will be guaranteed consideration. To receive full consideration, candidates are required to submit all of the following materials.

- Letter of Interest addressing the qualifications
- Detailed Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- Three (3) professional references - Names and contact information

Application Link:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/155574>

Founded by an Act of Congress in 1983, the Mansfield Center fosters globally minded leaders of integrity in honor of the legacy of Senator Mike Mansfield and his wife, Maureen Hayes Mansfield. With a mandate to foster ethics in public affairs and U.S.-Asia relations, the U.S.-Japan relationship is a critical component of our work. As Mike Mansfield frequently said, "the U.S.-Japan Alliance is the most important bilateral relationship in the world, bar none." We collaborate with the College of Humanities and Sciences to offer an emphasis in Japanese Studies with a practical combination of language, culture, history, and politics. East Asian Studies are part of UM's interdisciplinary programs including Global Public Health, Global Leadership, Migration Studies, and the Honors College. The program's course offerings are supplemented by Mansfield Center enhancements of speakers, conferences, and cultural activities. For more information about the Center, and about Maureen and Mike Mansfield, see www.umt.edu/mansfield.

This new position is endowed by a generous gift from the Government of Japan. The affiliation with the Mansfield Center and the endowment offers unique benefits, including an annual research fund, membership dues, support of symposia, student scholarships, speakers, outreach activities, and unique networks provided through the Mansfield Legacy.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14936

Stanford University

Rank: CDDRL Pre/Post-Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law welcomes applications from pre-doctoral students at the write-up stage and from post-doctoral scholars working in any of the four program areas of democracy, development, evaluating the efficacy of democracy promotion, and rule of law. The application cycle for the 2025-2026 academic year will be open from Monday, September 23, 2024, through Sunday, December 1, 2024.

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford and must be at the dissertation write-up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their Ph.D. within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2025.

In addition to our regular call for applications, CDDRL invites applications for the Gerhard Casper Fellow in Rule of Law for 2025-26. We welcome research on any aspect of rule of law, including judicial politics, criminal justice, and the politicization of judicial institutions. We are an interdisciplinary center; candidates from any relevant field (i.e. the social sciences, law) are welcome to apply. The Gerhard Casper Fellow will be part of CDDRL's larger cohort of pre- and postdoctoral fellows. Please apply through the CDDRL fellowship application process and indicate that you would like to be considered for the Gerhard Casper Rule of Law Fellowship.

More information on the application and the guidelines to apply can be found at our website at <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14917

University of Northern Colorado

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Summary:

The Department of Political Science and International Affairs at the University of Northern Colorado invites applications for an entry-level, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics with a preferred secondary expertise in Comparative Politics. We are open with respect to theoretical orientation, substantive focus, and methodological approaches, and we encourage applicants with a broad array of interests and expertise to apply.

Job Duties:

Successful candidates are expected to offer courses in the American politics subfield such as (but not limited to) Electoral Politics in the U.S, Power in America, Public Policy, American Political Development and our Senior Seminar in American Politics. Specific teaching assignments will depend on the candidate's interests and expertise as well as departmental needs, but we have particular interest in those able to teach classes on state and local politics, and political science methodology (broadly construed).

Faculty members are also expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students; demonstrate an active research agenda; and provide service to the department, college, university, and community. Our department is committed to creating a diverse, welcoming, inclusive, and supportive workplace. We encourage applications from members of historically excluded groups, including people of color, women, LGBTQ+, and people with disabilities. Over the last decade, the University of Northern Colorado has recruited an increasingly diverse faculty, enrolled more diverse and low-income students, and in 2024 became a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI). Our college serves diverse students including a high percentage of first-generation college students. The normal teaching load for this post is 3-3 and the typical overall workload for this position is (20: 20: 60; research: service: teaching).

Minimum Qualifications:

Primary teaching and/or scholarly emphasis in American Politics
Potential as a researcher
Potential as a teacher of undergraduate students
PhD in Political Science or related field by August 15th, 2026

Preferred Qualifications:

Potential to teach introductory methodology courses
Potential to teach Comparative Politics classes as required
Potential to teach classes on state and local politics
Contact and Application Deadline:

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled; to ensure full consideration, complete applications should be received by November 1st, 2024. Applicants should submit: 1) a cover letter outlining teaching interests and research agenda; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) Graduate school transcripts (unofficial transcripts acceptable at the initial stage of the search), 4) Evidence of demonstrated or potential teaching effectiveness (such as teaching evaluations, letters of observation), 5) One sample of written work 6) The names and contact information of three professional referees who will be emailed with a request to submit a letter of reference if you are shortlisted. Submit applications online: <https://unco.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/4/home/>

requisition/513?c=unco<https://unco.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/4/home/requisition/513?c=unco&lt;/a&gt;>

Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Richard Bownas (richard.bownas@unco.edu), Political Science and International Affairs, University of Northern Colorado.

Benefits:

Benefits available include health, dental, vision, life and long-term disability insurance, as well as a selection of several defined contribution retirement plans for all full-time positions. Employees at UNC receive sick leave, and other leave options may be available based on position. Full-time employees are eligible to receive tuition waiver benefits, as well as dependents and spouses of UNC Employees who are employed at 0.5 FTE or above are eligible for undergraduate dependent tuition grants of up to 50%. These tuition grants will cover in-state tuition charges. Further requirements may exist. Other benefits may be available based on position.

About UNC

The University of Northern Colorado is a public doctoral/research institution located in Greeley, Colorado. UNC's commitment to education began in 1889 and continues to be a transformational force for our students. According to CollegeNet's Social Mobility Index, UNC ranked #1 in social mobility (2022). UNC is also committed to providing our faculty and staff with the support they need to succeed as professionals, educators, and in life. Please visit UNC's Career Hub, to learn more about UNC's strategic plan, school programs, and employee benefits.

Federal regulations require that the University of Northern Colorado retain all documents submitted by applicants. Materials will not be returned or copied for applicants.

Background Check

Satisfactory completion of a background check, educational check, and authorization to work in the United States is required after a conditional offer of employment has been made. The successful candidate must submit original transcripts within one (1) month of hire.

This position is contingent on funding from the Colorado State Legislature, approval by the Board of Trustees, and subject to the policies and regulations of the University of Northern Colorado.

Clery Act

In compliance with the Clery Act, the most recent University of Northern Colorado Annual Campus Security and Fire Safety Report is available online. A paper copy can be requested at the UNC Police Department. This report contains crime statistics and policy statements related to safety, conduct processes and Title IX investigations.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/20/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14891

University of Northern Iowa

Rank: Assistant Professor

The University of Northern Iowa's Department of Political Science seeks applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in comparative politics, starting in Fall 2025. All areas of specialization within comparative politics are invited to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching address pressing global political issues such as democratization, political institutions, authoritarianism, regional studies, or comparative public policy. Primary teaching responsibilities will be undergraduate courses in comparative politics at the introductory and advanced levels, including courses in UNI's general education program that serve as a gateway into the political science major. The normal teaching load is three courses per semester.

The department provides a supportive environment for faculty development, growth, and professional success. We are home to undergraduate majors in Political Science, Public Administration, and Political Communication, and a Master of Public Policy program. We also offer several minors and certificates, including an International Affairs minor and an International Peace and Security certificate. The department oversees a successful Model United Nations Competition Team and is part of the U.S. Strategic Command's Academic Alliance.

The University of Northern Iowa provides high-quality education, purposefully guiding students to find and develop their strengths and preparing them for success after college. Building on its historic excellence in teacher education, the university has developed outstanding programs in business, natural sciences, humanities and fine arts, and social and behavioral sciences, with advanced degrees available in many programs. The University's attractive size, approximately 9,200 students, allows UNI to offer faculty, facilities, and academic choices characteristic of a much larger university while retaining a friendly, small-college atmosphere on a park-like campus. UNI has been consistently recognized as one of the "Best Midwest Universities" by U.S. News & World Report. Located in Cedar Falls/Waterloo, the campus is composed of more than 40 buildings on 940 acres. For more information, visit www.uni.edu.

UNI is located in picturesque Cedar Falls, Iowa, a riverfront town with many recreational, cultural, and entertainment opportunities. It was recently named a Distinctive Destination by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The metropolitan community of Cedar Falls/Waterloo has a combined population of 165,000 and offers a pleasant residential setting with a strong and growing industrial base. Cedar Falls is a friendly, affordable community located about 300 miles from Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, and Chicago. For more information, visit www.cedarfalls.com.

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related discipline required. ABDs are welcome to apply with an expected degree completion date by August 1, 2025. Other required qualifications include an ability to develop and teach a range of courses within comparative politics as well as occasional courses in international relations; a record of excellence in teaching; and a clear research agenda with a demonstrated ability to produce peer-reviewed publishable research. Ability to teach courses in one or more regions of the world (other than the Middle East) preferred.

Curriculum vitae; cover letter; research statement; statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching effectiveness required when applying. Names of references will be requested at a later stage. To apply, visit <https://careers.uni.edu>. Applications received by 11/1/

2024 will receive full consideration. Pre-employment background checks required. For more information, please contact Dr. Scott Peters, Professor and Department Head, at 319-273-2727 or e-mail at scott.peters@uni.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 9/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14892

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Joint SAIS Europe - SNF Agora Faculty Position at SAIS Europe

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Position Description:

SAIS Europe of the School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF) Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University seek faculty (or nominations of faculty) for endowed professorships at the level of Associate or Full Professors who focus on the study of democracy under stress, particularly as related to questions of civic engagement and inclusive discourse. We define these terms broadly and seek scholars from a range of disciplines, including but not limited to scholars who study the dynamics of states; state contexts; political, civic, social, and economic organizations and institutions; social movements and social networks, as well as their role in shaping, interacting with, constraining, making possible, and challenging the realization of democracy in global contexts. We have a particular interest in scholars whose scholarship focuses on European Union membership and its impact. This position will be located at SAIS Europe in Bologna, Italy and will be jointly appointed between SAIS and the SNF Agora Institute. Established in 1955 as an integral part of the School of Advanced International Studies of the Johns Hopkins University (SAIS), SAIS Europe in Bologna, Italy has been educating global leaders in the area of international affairs for almost 70 years. As a highly selective graduate institution with a distinguished faculty, SAIS consistently ranks as one of the top schools of international relations in the world. SAIS was founded to provide a practical approach to training students in international leadership and foreign relations, and to provide mid-career educational opportunities for those already working in related fields. Today, SAIS Europe hosts around 200 full-time students hailing from 40 countries pursuing master- and doctoral-level degrees, with a diverse, international group of over 60 resident and adjunct faculty. To learn more about SAIS and SAIS Europe, please visit <https://sais.jhu.edu/sais-europe>. The SNF Agora Institute is a new, $150M multi-disciplinary initiative that integrates research, teaching, and practice to strengthen global democracy by improving and expanding civic engagement and inclusive dialogue, and by supporting inquiry that leads to real-world change. Housed in the university's Krieger School of Arts and Sciences, the SNF Agora Institute at JHU will serve as a leading forum bringing together experts from a range of fields—including but not limited to political science, sociology, history, neuroscience, psychology, philosophy, and ethics.

Qualifications:

Successful candidates should be established scholars with a substantial record of research and publication, or may be rising scholars of exceptional quality. All candidates should demonstrate an interest in the mission of the SNF Agora Institute, and be prepared to play a leading role in the establishment of a program of activities on democracy under stress in Europe.

Johns Hopkins is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The university is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Consistent with the university's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will assess the comprehensive qualifications of each applicant.

Applicants should apply online via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/154574> and submit a cover letter, a research statement, curriculum vitae, and two to three representative publications.

Review of applications will begin on October 31, 2024 and continue until the positions are filled. Appointments will commence on July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/19/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14888

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

IE University's School of Politics, Economics, and Global Affairs (SPEGA) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2025. The position is open in terms of specialization. We are equally interested in candidates from the fields of political behavior, political institutions, political organizations, and formal theory.

Successful candidates will join the Political Science and International Relations group within SPEGA, which consists of 14 tenured and tenure-track scholars studying comparative politics, international relations, and political economy. Recent publications from this group appear in APSR, AJPS, JOP, BJPS, and many other top generalist and field outlets.

Candidates should have a PhD from a recognized department of political science, international relations, public policy, or related field, or demonstrate clear evidence that their PhD will be complete by July, 2025.

The IE SPEGA is part of IE University, located in Madrid Segovia, Spain. We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by October 14, 2024, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/154301>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14860

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

IE University's School of Politics, Economics and Global Affairs (SPEGA) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2025. The position is open in terms of specialization, and we are equally interested in empirical work and formal theoretic work.

Successful candidates will join the Political Science and International Relations group within SPEGA, which consists of 14 tenured and tenure-track scholars studying comparative politics, international relations, political economy, and political behavior. Recent publications from this group appear in APSR, AJPS, JOP, BJPS, and many other top generalist and field outlets.

Candidates should have a PhD from a recognized department of political science, international relations, public policy, or related field, or demonstrate clear evidence that their PhD will be complete by July 2025.

The IE SPEGA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain. We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by October 14, 2024, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/154309>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14859

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics

Assistant Professor Faculty Position in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for an Assistant Professor faculty position in Comparative Politics, starting in Fall 2025. We welcome applications from candidates from all subfields of Comparative Politics and are particularly interested in those whose research agendas enhance or complement the department's existing strengths. Successful candidates should have strong methodological training, a commitment to high-quality graduate and undergraduate education, and a record of excellence in scholarly research and publication.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates should apply through the University's online job portal: <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003536. Required application materials include a cover letter, CV, a writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie Tier One public research university, offering over 250 undergraduate and graduate degree programs across diverse disciplines. As the largest public research university in Houston and one of the largest in Texas, UH enrolls over 46,000 students. The university's main campus is located just minutes from central Houston.

The Department of Political Science is dedicated to delivering high-quality education to over 800 undergraduate majors and 75 graduate students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, a dynamic hub of international commerce and demographic and economic innovation, to offer our students and faculty unique opportunities for research and professional development.

As the fourth largest city in the United States, Houston boasts a vibrant and diverse cultural landscape, enriched by a mix of international communities. Residents enjoy a wide range of cultural experiences, from world-class dining and arts to exciting sports teams. The city offers affordable housing and has a low cost of living. Houston is also home to the Texas Medical Center—the world's largest medical complex—as well as numerous energy and technology companies, and NASA's Johnson Space Center.

For further information please contact Professor Eduardo Alemán, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at ealeman2@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

The University of Houston is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution and recognizes protected classes of race, color, sex (including pregnancy), genetic information, religion, age (40 and above), national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or status, and gender expression as required by federal law. Veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14849

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank Faculty Position - Comparative Politics

Open Rank Faculty Position in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for an open-rank faculty position in Comparative Politics, starting in Fall 2025. We welcome applications from candidates from all subfields of Comparative Politics and are particularly interested in those whose research agendas enhance or complement the department's existing strengths. Successful candidates should have strong methodological training, a commitment to high-quality graduate and undergraduate education, and a record of excellence in scholarly research and publication (commensurate with the rank for which they are applying).

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates should apply through the University's online job portal: <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003538. Required application materials include a cover letter, CV, a writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation only for junior candidates.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie Tier One public research university, offering over 250 undergraduate and graduate degree programs across diverse disciplines. As the largest public research university in Houston and one of the largest in Texas, UH enrolls over 46,000 students. The university's main campus is located just minutes from central Houston.

The Department of Political Science is dedicated to delivering high-quality education to over 800 undergraduate majors and 75 graduate students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, a dynamic hub of international commerce and demographic and economic innovation, to offer our students and faculty unique opportunities for research and professional development.

As the fourth largest city in the United States, Houston boasts a vibrant and diverse cultural landscape, enriched by a mix of international communities. Residents enjoy a wide range of cultural experiences, from world-class dining and arts to exciting sports teams. The city offers affordable housing and has a low cost of living. Houston is also home to the Texas Medical Center—the world's largest medical complex— as well as numerous energy and technology companies, and NASA's Johnson Space Center.

For further information please contact Professor Eduardo Alemán, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at ealeman2@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

The University of Houston is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution and recognizes protected classes of race, color, sex (including pregnancy), genetic information, religion, age (40 and above), national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or status, and gender expression as required by federal law. Veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14848

University of Toronto

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Area of Research: Chinese Politics or Chinese Political Economy

Description of Duties: To conduct research related to Chinese politics and/or political economy. To take charge of research projects, including leading a team of student researchers. Opportunities for collaboration with supervisor. Possible areas of specialization: conflict studies, governance, state-business relations, public opinion.

Salary: $65,000 per year, plus standard benefits

Closing Date: Applications will be accepted until the position is filled

Supervisor: Professor Lynette Ong

Expected Start Date: July 1, 2025

Required Qualifications: Candidates must have a PhD, with a strong background in quantitative methods. Knowledge of Chinese politics, and proficiency in Mandarin Chinese are also required.

Application Instructions: All individuals interested in the position must submit the following documents by the closing date to Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca using the subject line "Post-doc – [Your Name]":

- a. A cover letter outlining how you meet the qualifications for the position
- b. Your academic CV
- c. A research sample that showcases your research ability (e.g., a dissertation chapter, a conference paper, or a published article)
- d. The names and contact information for THREE academic referees (Your referees will only be contacted once you've advanced to the interview round)

Term: 1 year with a renewal opportunity for a second year

FTE: This is a full-time position. The normal hours of work are 40 hours per week for a full-time postdoctoral fellow, recognizing that the needs of the employee's research and training and the needs of the supervisor's research program may require flexibility in the performance of the employee's duties and hours of work.

If you have any questions about this opportunity, please connect with Professor Lynette Ong, at lynette.ong@utoronto.ca

Employment as a Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Toronto is covered by the terms of the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

This job is posted in accordance with the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons, persons of colour, women, Indigenous Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14857

Columbia University

Rank: Gerald L. Curtis Professor of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy - Open Rank: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor / Full Professor

The Columbia School of International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a distinguished scholar at any academic rank, from tenure-track assistant professor to tenured full professor, to hold the Gerald L. Curtis Professorship of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy to begin July 1, 2025.

The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in the School of International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science or may be appointed exclusively in one of these two units.

A Ph.D. and the ability to undertake research in the Japanese language are required. Candidates will be expected to teach and sustain an active research and publication agenda involving public policy issues in contemporary Japanese politics and/or foreign relations. The candidate will be expected to play a leadership role in the Weatherhead East Asian Institute in organizing research and programmatic activities concerning Japanese politics and foreign policy.

Hiring Salary Range: $120,000-$250,000

- Assistant Professor: $120,000-$130,000
- Associate Professor: $130,000-$180,000
- Professor with tenure: $180,000-$250,000

All applications must be submitted through Columbia University's Academic Search and Recruiting (ARS) system here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/153718>

Non-tenured applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, list of references, and at least two brief writing samples.

Tenured applicants should upload a vitae and letter of interest detailing current and future research plans.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For further information, please contact Deirdre Brady, Senior Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs, at d.brady@columbia.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14847

College of William & Mary

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Comparative/International Relations)

The Department of Government at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, seeks applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level in Comparative Politics/International Relations with an emphasis on the politics of the Middle East and North Africa. We are especially interested in individuals with research or teaching expertise in race, ethnicity, diaspora, or migration politics.

Duties include research, teaching, and service to the University. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a vibrant research program that inspires a highly motivated undergraduate student body. Teaching expectation is 2 courses per semester. Successful applicants must possess the skills to teach compelling courses in Middle East politics to undergraduates at the intermediate and advanced level. The successful candidate will possess a demonstrated commitment to producing high-level scholarship and outstanding classroom teaching; will help the Department enhance diversity of new perspectives to its research profile and curricular offerings; and will be interested in mentoring student research or conducting collaborative research with students.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science or a related field at the time the appointment begins (August 10, 2025).

Preferred Qualifications: Previous experience in teaching and mentoring successful undergraduate research is preferred. Demonstrated interest or previous experience teaching introductory courses in comparative politics, international relations, or research methods is preferred.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of teaching interests, a statement of research interests, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness that may include teaching evaluations. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, October 17, 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.

Information on the degree programs in the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.wm.edu/as/government/index.php>. Government is one of the largest majors on campus. Our faculty receive support from various research centers on campus, and we contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Asian and Middle Eastern Studies, Data Science, Environmental Science and Policy, Gender Sexuality and Women's Studies, Global Studies, International Relations, American Studies, Public Health, and Public Policy. William & Mary is convenient to Richmond, Norfolk, and Washington, DC.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/17/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14832

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Tenure Track Professor of Technology and Governance, Open Rank

Indiana University's Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies is inviting applications for an open rank tenured/tenure track professor of Technology and Governance in the school's multi-disciplinary Department of International Studies.

The successful candidate will have a strong research and teaching agenda focused on existing and/or emerging technologies and their effect on democracy, peace and conflict, development and inequality, transnational regulation whether public or private, or governance more broadly. The scholar should be prepared to teach courses that explore global issues and advanced governance topics in diplomacy, security, democracy, peace, and/or economic (in)equality as they relate to technologies and the infrastructures that support and make these technologies possible.

Technologies of particular interest include, but are not limited to, artificial intelligence, robotics, quantum computing, surveillance technologies, blockchain, the Internet of Things (IoT), biotechnology, nanotechnology, cloud computing, military technologies, 5G networks, big data analytics, renewable energy technologies, fintech, and virtual/augmented reality.

Review of applications will begin immediately, with all applications received by October 18, 2024 being guaranteed full consideration. This appointment is anticipated to begin on August 1, 2025.

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies houses the Department of International Studies and three preeminent area studies departments: East Asian Languages and Cultures, Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures, and Central Eurasian Studies. A long-standing leader in language and cultural studies in the Midwest, it also houses three federally funded language flagship programs (Arabic, Chinese, and Russian), six Title VI funded National Resource Centers (African Studies Program, Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Center for the Study of Global Change, Center for the Study of the Middle East, Inner Asian and Uralic National Resource Center, Robert F. Byrnes Russian and East European Institute) and nine additional research and teaching centers. IU has also invested heavily in interdisciplinary research at the intersection of emerging technologies/infrastructures (such as AI, vehicle autonomy, and cybersecurity) and society. For more information about these programs and initiatives, see the Luddy Artificial Intelligence Center, the Center for Applied Cybersecurity Research, and the Mauer School's Law and Technology program.

The School's central mission is to combine deep area expertise with rigorous, multidisciplinary instruction of international affairs and global cultural studies. The Department of International Studies offers four undergraduate degrees (B.A. in International Studies, B.S. in International Studies, B.A. in International Law and Institutions, and B.S. in Cybersecurity and Global Policy (offered jointly with the Luddy School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering)) and three professional graduate degrees (M.A. in International Studies, M.S. in International Studies, and, joint with the O'Neill School of Environmental and Public Affairs, a Master's in International Affairs) along with one accelerated B.A./M.A. in the International Studies program.

Bloomington, Indiana is a charming college town in south central Indiana, roughly one hour to the award-winning Indianapolis Airport and ninety minutes to Louisville, KY. Bloomington offers many amenities including a relatively low cost of living, short commute times, excellent public schools, diverse dining options, and easy access to state parks and national forests. The confluence of the Jacob School of Music, the Eskenazi Art School, and a vibrant local music, comedy, and theater scene provide access to substantial affordable artistic programming. IU Bloomington is committed to fostering an inclusive and diverse community, as evidenced by it recently being ranked fourth nationwide on a list of the top LGBTQ+-friendly colleges. More about the University's diversity and inclusion initiatives can be found here: <https://diversity.iu.edu/faculty-and-belonging/index.html>
Basic Qualifications:

Candidates should hold a PhD or equivalent in a relevant discipline in the social sciences, humanities, or law and have a strong record of research, publication, teaching, and professional service (appropriate to their rank). Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to working in an interdisciplinary academic environment and be enthusiastic about engaging with scholars and students focused on area studies.

Preferred Qualifications:

The department has a preference for candidates whose scholarship involves grounded expertise in their topic, such as through using research methods that display fluency in a second language, involve fieldwork, and/or engage with international organizations/institutions. Additionally, we are especially interested to receive applications from scholars with training in quantitative research methods, though such training is not a prerequisite for applying.

Required Application Materials:

Applicants should submit a cover letter highlighting their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, a sample syllabus of a course they are prepared to teach, and the names of three references (finalists' references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation).

Applicant referees will receive an email link to submit their letters of reference directly to the search committee through the PeopleAdmin interface.

For questions regarding the Department of International Studies, please contact Professor Sarah Bauerle Danzman, search committee chair, at sbauerle@iu.edu or visit the departmental website at internationalstudies.indiana.edu. For questions regarding the application submission process, please contact Mr. Zac Muller, Assistant Director of Faculty Relations, Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies, at zmuller@iu.edu.

Application materials may be submitted via the PeopleAdmin applicant portal at:

<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25574>

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Please note that this offer must also gain final administrative approval and is subject to the University's receipt of verification of your credentials and other information required by law, and on your furnishing the federally required documentation showing that you are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or an authorized alien entitled to be employed in the U.S. for the period of your appointment. Indiana University participates in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's E-Verify Program to confirm employment eligibility. Upon acceptance of your offer, you will receive an email containing information on employment eligibility verification and the E-Verify process. This appointment is also conditional on a positive outcome of a background check, a part of the appointment process for all faculty and staff at the University as well as a misconduct review for prospective tenured faculty. You will receive an authorization/release form that you will be asked to sign. The misconduct review will occur before this offer is finalized, and the background check will be initiated and completed through HireRight, the default web-based system, once all appointment-related documentation has been submitted to the Business Office.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14830

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Asian Political Economy

Specializations: Political Economy, China, Southeast Asia

Asian Political Economy. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure-track/tenured position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor, with appointment beginning July 1, 2025. We seek a scholar specializing in any area of political economy with a focus on Asia (both broadly understood) who shows promise of research and teaching excellence.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Review of applications will begin October 5, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/287310>

Please include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching portfolio (including a teaching statement and any available teaching evaluations or other evidence of potential for teaching excellence), and a research-focused writing sample.

Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles, and email addresses of FOUR professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265; <https://politicalscience.unc.edu>. To facilitate a systematic and equitable review of applicants, people wishing to support a particular applicant are requested to provide such support within a formal letter of reference. They are discouraged from contacting current faculty members directly to support particular individuals.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14814

Auburn University

Rank: Assistant Professor (tenure-track), Global Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Middle East

The Department of Political Science at Auburn University seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Global Politics to begin August 16, 2025. Areas of interest include contentious politics and authoritarian systems, ethnic politics, and international/comparative political economy. Regional expertise in Sub-Saharan Africa or the Middle East/North Africa is also desirable.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations, as well as the Department's University Core Course: Global Politics and Issues. We seek candidates with strong methodological skills who can contribute to quantitative methodological instruction in the Department, both at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester for at least the first three years of appointment. In person instruction.

Required qualifications include a doctoral degree in Political Science conferred by the appointment start date. The candidate selected must be able to meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States at the time the appointment is scheduled to begin and continue working legally during employment.

Excellent interpersonal and written communication skills are required.

The review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until a suitable candidate is selected. To apply, please visit <https://www.auemployment.com/postings/47619>. Candidates must submit a cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position, a curriculum vitae, contact information for three letters of recommendation, a teaching statement and evidence of teaching ability, a research statement, and a writing sample.

Auburn University is an elite, top-tier Carnegie R1 research institution, enrolling more than 33,000 students. It is one of the nation's premier public land-grant institutions. In 2024, U.S. News and World Report ranked it among the top 50 public universities in the country. The University is nationally recognized for its commitment to academic excellence, positive work environment, student engagement, and beautiful campus.

The Department of Political Science has 26 tenured or tenure-track faculty. It offers undergraduate majors in political science, law and justice, public administration, and health services administration, master's degree programs in public administration and community planning, and a Ph.D. in public administration and public policy. The political science major is one of the largest in the College of Liberal Arts, enrolling around 275 students on average.

Direct questions to Peter White, Global Politics Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University, AL 36849-5208.

Email polisci@auburn.edu.

Auburn University is understanding of and sensitive to the family needs of faculty, including dual-career couples. Please see <http://www.auburn.edu/academic/provost/facultyjobs/> for more details.

Auburn University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. It is our policy to provide equal employment opportunities for all individuals without regard to race, sex, religion, color, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other classification protected by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14801

Lehigh University

Rank: Bernard L. & Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Position: Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY. The Department of International Relations invites applications for a tenured Full Professor to fill the Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair, with an anticipated start date of July 2025. The position is open to all research and teaching specializations within the fields of international relations, foreign policy, and/or comparative politics.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in International Relations or a closely related field. The ideal candidate will have connections to the policy community in Washington, DC, and/or New York City and be able to assist students with internship placement.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and excellence in research. The individual hired will, specifically, be expected to teach courses in International Relations at the undergraduate level, engage in scholarly activities, and participate in departmental, college, and university service, as well as advise undergraduate internships.

Lehigh is among the few higher educational institutions in the US that has long had a separate department of IR. This allows students with a particular interest in international affairs to benefit from a concentrated, high-level program of study that few other schools offer.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly-ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for over 7,500 students. Lehigh University has some 5,800 undergraduates, 1,800 graduate students, and nearly 600 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA, a vibrant and historic area. Over 840,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, however, applications should be received by October 11, 2024. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28335>. Candidates should submit the following materials:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Research statement that describes past scholarly contributions and future research directions

Teaching statement that describes instructional philosophy and courses that the candidate would want to teach or develop

Name and contact information for three references

A statement on contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) that describes knowledge, prior DEI experience, and the candidate's future plans for enhancing community and culture at Lehigh (the Lehigh ADVANCE Center's guide for understanding and preparing such statements is available here)

All inquiries regarding the search should be directed to Ms. Edann Brady at emb703@lehigh.edu or 610-758-3390.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14800

Northwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University seeks applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Environmental Politics, broadly construed, with an expected start on September 1, 2025. American politics subfield expertise is preferred, although we also welcome scholars whose work encompasses environmental/climate politics of the US in comparative or international perspective. We are open with regard to methodological approach, as well as to behavioral, institutional, state/local, political economy, and historical perspectives.

Successful candidates will build strong linkages with the Environmental Policy and Culture program and contribute to a cross-disciplinary group of scholars at Northwestern who study social- and human-environment interactions across social, cultural, economic, and political spectra. Successful applicants will have an opportunity to contribute to a growing curriculum at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates should demonstrate evidence of strong research productivity and a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring of undergraduates and graduate students. We are particularly interested in scholars with a commitment and track record of promoting inclusion in the realms of research, teaching and/or service.

Applicants must provide a curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are invited to submit a statement addressing their past and/or potential contributions to enhancing diversity, equity, and/or inclusion through research, teaching, and/or service. Applicants will have the option to upload additional writing samples. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission using Northwestern University's Faculty Recruiting Portal. Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree is required; however, ABD applicants who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2025 will be considered. Consideration of files will begin on October 15 and will continue until the position is filled. All applications received by October 20 will be given priority.

You may apply here: <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html>

For inquiries about job advertisements or the application process, please contact Stephen Monteiro, Business Administrator in the Political Science Department. <mailto:stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu>

Salary

The expected base pay range for this position is $110,000 - $150,000.

This base pay range is for a nine-month academic appointment, does not include summer salary, and is subject to negotiation.

Northwestern University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Benefits

At Northwestern, we are proud to provide meaningful, competitive, high-quality health care plans, retirement benefits, tuition discounts and more! Visit us at <https://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html> to learn more.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14805

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science/Political Economy
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions in Political Science or Political Economy at the Assistant Professor level. The search is open with respect to subfield. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by July 31, 2025 and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio academic job board at: apply.interfolio.com/153698. Applicants are required to submit: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) two letters of recommendation, 3) one writing sample, 4) research statement, 5) teaching statement, and 6) no more than one-page abstract from their job market paper or dissertation. Applicants may also submit additional optional documents such as: a cover letter, additional writing sample, and/or a third letter of reference. Review of applicants will begin on October 5, 2024. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2025.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14798

U.S. Air War College

Rank: Professor (open rank) of International Security Studies
Specializations: Southeast Asia, South Asia, Latin American

The United States Air War College Department of International Security Studies invites applications for the position of Professor (open rank) of International Security. Applicants should have expertise in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, as well as scholarly interests in international relations, political economy, comparative politics (with a security focus), and/or U.S. national security policy. The department is particularly interested in candidates with expertise on the intersection of security and international economics, as well as those with regional expertise in Southeast Asia, Northeast Asia, South Asia, or Latin America.

Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum (Great Power Studies, Regional Security Studies focused on either your region of specialization, and US national security); teaching electives in the applicant's area(s) of specialization; curriculum development; advising student research; and service to the institution. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Approximate class sizes are 12-16 students per seminar.

Qualifications and Requirements

The position requires university-equivalent teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and broad knowledge of the subject matter that comprises the AWC curriculum, i.e., global environment, international political structures and strategy; military thought and theory; military history; organization, capabilities, and limitations of armed forces.

A successful candidate would be expected to maintain an active research agenda including the publication of scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews in peer reviewed scholarly journals, professional journals and other outlets, and presentation of research at appropriate conferences and symposia. There is time and funding available for research and travel for individual areas of expertise or regional specialty.

Applicants must be:

US citizens holding a PhD at the time of application in political science, government, international relations, history or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy.

Able to obtain a Secret clearance.

Application Materials:

Cover Letter

CV

Application form (available through USA Jobs)

Teaching portfolio including a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching accomplishments (experience and awards)

Diversity Statement including teaching, life experience and/or research interests that contribute to a climate that values and promotes diversity in all its forms

3 Professional References

Academic Transcript from PhD

For more information about the position, and to apply, please visit <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806548500> <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806548500&lt;a&gt;>

Point of contact: Ashly Townsen, ashly.townsen@au.af.edu

Note: Only applications submitted through USA Jobs will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14790

San Diego State University

Rank: Mexican-Central American Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Central America, Mexico, Latin American

Description

The Political Science Department at San Diego State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Mexican and/or Central American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 2025. Applicants should demonstrate a well-developed research agenda, a promise of sustained scholarship, and a record of effective teaching.

Qualifications

The department seeks a scholar with expertise in the politics of Mexico or Central America broadly understood. We are open on theoretical and methodological approaches and welcome scholars trained in comparative politics or international relations. The successful candidate's geographic scope of research will focus on one or more countries in the region while substantive topics can include, but are not limited to, the politics of inequality, development, indigenous politics, environmental politics, state/society relations, immigration/migration, militarization, social movements, or human rights. The successful candidate will have sufficient expertise to teach and mentor on the politics of Mexico.

As part of a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) located on the US-Mexico border, we value research and teaching that are grounded in the politics of neighboring countries that have deep historical, economic, and political ties to the US and to Southern California. The candidate would be expected to offer a range of courses serving political science and associated disciplines and might also collaborate with interdisciplinary programs such as the Center for Latin American Studies, Sustainability, ISCOR (International Security and Conflict Resolution), or the Mesoamerican Studies Center in Oaxaca.

The Political Science Department at San Diego State is dedicated to the ideal of the engaged teacher-scholar. It has over 600 undergraduate majors and provides course offerings for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. At the graduate level, the department maintains an M.A. program of high quality. The members of the faculty share a strong commitment to collegiality, active participation in the governing of the department, innovative scholarship, methodological pluralism, rigorous teaching, and robust intellectual and normative engagement. Candidates are encouraged to consult the department website: <http://politicalscience.sdsu.edu>.

We are seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups. Candidates must satisfy two or more of the eight Building on Inclusive Excellence (BIE) criteria. Candidates that meet BIE criteria: (a) are committed to engaging in service with underrepresented populations within the discipline, (b) have demonstrated knowledge of barriers for underrepresented students and faculty within the discipline, (c) have experience or have demonstrated commitment to teaching and mentoring underrepresented students, (d) have experience or have demonstrated commitment to integrating understanding of underrepresented populations and communities into research, (e) have experience in or have demonstrated commitment to extending knowledge of opportunities and challenges in achieving artistic/scholarly success to members of an underrepresented group, (f) have experience in or have demonstrated commitment to research that engages underrepresented communities, (g) have expertise or demonstrated commitment to developing expertise in cross-cultural communication and collaboration, and/or (h) have research interests that contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Please indicate in a separate diversity statement how you meet at least two (2) of these criteria. Additional guidance on our BIE program for applicants is here.

SDSU is the oldest institution of higher education in the San Diego region, with a campus in San Diego serving 36,000 undergraduate and graduate students and additional locations in Southern California's Imperial Valley and Tbilisi in the Republic of Georgia. SDSU is included in the Carnegie Foundation's Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity category. Established in 1897, SDSU offers bachelor degrees in 97 areas, masters in 84 and doctorates in 23. See <http://www.sdsu.edu> for more information. SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university, an Asian-Native American-Pacific Islander -Serving Institution and a Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150566>. A completed file includes a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, complete teaching evaluations (quantitative evaluations and complete sets of qualitative evaluations of recent courses), sample syllabi, academic writing samples, diversity statement, and three letters of recommendation. To ensure full consideration, submit all materials by October 4th, 2024. Screening of applications will begin then. Applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. by the start of the term of appointment will be given priority. Those without a Ph.D. in-hand should include in their letter of interest a statement of progress on the dissertation and reasons to expect completion in a timely fashion.

Further inquiries should be addressed to Jonathan Graubart, Chair of the Department of Political Science, at graubart@sdsu.edu.

The minimum salary for this position is based on the current CSU salary schedule for Assistant Professors and may be revised based on contract collective bargaining. The anticipated salary range is from $82,000-$87,000. Salary placement will be based on the selected candidate's qualifications and experience, and salaries higher than the published maximums may be offered in limited circumstances. San Diego State University offers a rich benefits package that constitutes a major portion of total compensation. For benefits information, click here.

As part of its commitment to a safe and equitable "OneSDSU" community, SDSU requires that individuals seeking faculty employment provide at the time of application authorization to conduct background checks if they become a finalist for the position; applications without this authorization will be considered incomplete and not considered.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Apply Now

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/4/2024

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14785

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of International Affairs at the University of Georgia invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall of 2025. We seek a comparative politics scholar who researches the Middle East. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the areas of political behavior, political violence, discrimination, and/or extremism. Candidates are expected to have a demonstrated ability to produce high-quality research, show promise of attracting external funding and teaching effectiveness, and be well-trained in research methods, including qualitative and/or quantitative methods. The University of Georgia supports a culture of active learning in which students think about what they are learning while they are learning it, and instructors utilize instructional practices that purposefully engage all students in the learning process.

Prospective candidates must apply for the position through the UGA Faculty Job site at: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/397108>. To complete the application, candidates will need to submit a cover letter indicating interest and qualifications, a current curriculum vita, a writing sample, teaching evaluations demonstrating excellence in instruction, original transcripts, and three letters of recommendation. Questions or hard copies of letters of recommendation can be sent to Bill Zachmann, Department of International Affairs, University of Georgia, Candler Hall 219, Athens, GA 30602 (zachmann@uga.edu). Applicants should have an earned Ph.D. degree in political science or a related discipline by August 1, 2025. Applications received by November 1, 2024, will be assured full consideration.

Georgia is well known for its quality of life, outdoor and cultural amenities, and affordability (<https://www.exploregeorgia.org> and <https://www.georgia.org/competitive-advantages/life-georgia>). UGA (www.uga.edu) is a land/sea grant institution located 75 miles north-east of Atlanta.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14781

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a regional specialization in Latin America beginning July 1, 2025. A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

This is a tenure-track appointment with a teaching load of 5 courses per year. The school calendar consists of two 13-week terms (fall and winter) and our unique 4-week spring term. The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory course in Global Politics, 2 sections of applied statistics, and upper-level courses related to the candidate's field of expertise.

This position requires a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment; as such, evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. We also welcome interdisciplinary contributions to the curriculum. Opportunities will be available to teach in interdisciplinary programs at the University—including Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Africana Studies, Poverty and Human Capability Studies, and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies—as well as the DeLaney Center for the Study of Southern Race Relations, Culture, and Politics.

Faculty are also expected to have an active research program. To support faculty research agendas, the university has a summer research grant program, a generous 5-year sabbatical cycle, as well as a pre-tenure research leave program.

Washington and Lee is a top-ranked, highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,860 undergraduates and 380 law students.

Submit all application materials electronically using Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153177>.

Your letter of application should explain why you wish to teach in a liberal arts setting and how your training and research/teaching interests align with this position. Include a curriculum vitae, graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation that speak to your teaching and research abilities.

Full consideration will be given to all applications that are complete by September 30.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 9/30/2024
Date Posted: 9/2/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14755

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2025 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. Postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose background and lived experiences would support or enhance the diversity (broadly defined) of academia or their field of study.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses. Visa sponsorship available.

For full consideration, candidates should submit all materials by December 1, 2024. For more details and the application, please visit: <https://kingcenter.stanford.edu/opportunities/prospective-postdoctoral-fellows>.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 9/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14773

Duke University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of assistant or associate professor (with tenure) in political institutions to begin on July 1, 2025. Candidates are expected to demonstrate theoretical creativity and empirical acumen in research and teaching. The search committee is interested in scholars in both the American and comparative subfields and is open to a variety of methodological approaches.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda in no more than three pages, a curriculum vitae, graduate school transcripts, two writing samples, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically using the following site: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28208>. Address correspondence to: Professor Scott de Marchi, Chair of Political Institutions Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall, Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204, demarchi@duke.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Duke also makes good faith efforts to recruit, hire, and promote qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/28/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14736

Ohio State University

Rank: AI in Politics and Society

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant or Associate Professor
 Department of Political Science
 College of Arts and Sciences

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful applicants will have research and teaching interests in the area of AI in Politics and Society. Based in Columbus, Ohio, the position will begin in the fall of 2025. Preferred applicants will have the promise of a sustained and substantial body of work developing and utilizing data analytic and/or artificial intelligence tools for the analysis of socio-political questions. The position is open with respect to substantive focus or disciplinary subfield in Political Science.

This position is part of the investment of The Ohio State University Provost in the Department of Political Science in Socio-Political Analysis and AI: <https://polisci.osu.edu/good-to-great-proposal>

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- Conduct research on advanced topics in the application of data analytics and AI to social scientific questions
- Mentor and teach in these and related areas at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- Engage with interdisciplinary efforts focused on data analytics and/or AI

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Applicants must be on track to complete their PhD on or before August 15, 2025, in a relevant field, and have the capacity to integrate methodological insights with substantive research demonstrated through a record of and/or promise of scholarly excellence.

Desired: Demonstrate the potential for securing external grant funding and mentoring undergraduate or graduate students. Preferred candidates will show a willingness to participate in interdisciplinary collaborative efforts. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Associate-Professor---AI-in-Politics---Society\_R113066]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Janet Box-Steffensmeier at box-steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:
- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.

- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14721

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics, starting Fall 2025. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, with all areas of specialization invited to apply. Successful candidates should be able to contribute to the graduate program. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field, as well as from applicants already holding Assistant rank. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2025, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript. Letters of recommendation will be solicited after application. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14723

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics, starting Fall 2025. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, but the successful candidate must be able to contribute half their teaching load to the Environmental Studies program (the courses should be on some aspect of environmental politics). They should also be able to contribute to the graduate program in Political Science. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field, as well as from applicants already holding Assistant rank. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2025, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript. Letters of recommendation will be solicited after application. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14724

Seton Hall University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor - Comparative Political Economy

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Seton Hall University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor beginning in the fall semester in 2025. Seton Hall, the oldest U.S. diocesan university, is located 14 miles west of Manhattan, in South Orange, New Jersey.

Duties and Responsibilities:

We seek candidates with scholarly and teaching interests in comparative political economy. Ideally, the candidate's work will focus on one or more areas of need in our political science program such as African politics, Latin American politics, social justice, and/or gender studies especially as they intersect with economics. Fostering collaboration between Political Science and Economics, this faculty member will help develop innovative new academic programs and innovate existing curricula.

Tenure-track faculty at Seton Hall teach three courses per semester and are expected to publish actively, pursue grant-funded research, and perform service appropriate to their rank and experience at the Department, College, and University levels. This is a tenure-track position in the Department of Political Science & Public Affairs. Candidates should have peer-reviewed publications, or show clear promise of peer-reviewed research publication, in the area of comparative political economy.

Required Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated ability to teach a variety of courses in the field of political science. Teaching expectations include the ability to offer a core course in comparative politics, an introductory political science methods course in formal theory/quantitative analysis, and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization within comparative political economy. Additionally, the successful candidate will have a secondary appointment in the Economics Department with responsibility for offering at least one course in economics per Academic Year. The candidate must also demonstrate the ability to teach a principles of economics course and/or a course in political economy.

Ph.D. in Political Science, Political Economy, or Economics (or a closely related field).

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Candidates should submit a cover letter, cv, statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. Applications must be received through the online application portal found here: <https://jobs.shu.edu/>

Seton Hall University is committed to programs of Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) and the principles of affirmative action.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14715

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, is hiring an assistant tenure-track professor whose research uses computational social science methodologies to study inequality and democracy in comparative settings. The position will begin Sept 1, 2025, subject to availability of funding. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (e.g. political sociology, public policy, economics, data science) is required by Sept 1, 2025. The selected candidate will be expected to conduct research and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in comparative politics and research methods. This hire is part of a Chancellor's cluster initiative on Data Science and Artificial Intelligence, which will hire 11 new faculty members, including 4 focused on computational social science, and create a cross-disciplinary scholarly community focused on the societal benefits and implications of artificial intelligence, machine learning, and data science.

Candidates should submit the following materials: (1) c.v.; (2) cover letter; (3) research statement, (4) teaching statement, (5) writing sample; (6) diversity statement addressing ways in which their research, teaching, or service will contribute to Rutgers's commitment to enhancing diversity and inclusiveness (broadly construed); (7) names and email addresses of three references who can upload letters of recommendation. The materials should be uploaded to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/234551>.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Review of applicants will begin on October 7, 2024, and continue until the job is filled.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14705

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track - International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. Led by President Karol V. Mason, John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY, and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment as an Assistant Professor in the Bachelor of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (ICJ BA) and the Master of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (IC&J MA) and in a department to be determined by the candidate's PhD or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department.) The position begins in Fall 2025.

The College seeks to hire a promising scholar researching international crime and justice issues. The college is especially interested in researchers working on topics of growing policy importance such as transnational crime and cyber criminology, including but not limited to topics such as cybercrime, cyber organized crime, online fraud, dark web activities, digital privacy and surveillance, social media and crime, AI and predictive policing, digital legislation, cyber terrorism, digital harassment, and the impact of emerging technologies on crime and justice, broadly defined. Additionally, the candidate should possess knowledge of sociological perspectives on crime, law, deviance, social control, and justice. This position requires proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research.

The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the BA and MA ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum ( https://new.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/2023-08/7\_Princip\_Cultur\_Resp\_Incl\_AntiRacist\_Curric\_Adopt\_4.8.21-brief.pdf ), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2025 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

$52,667- $99,532 Salary commensurate with education and credentials.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

1. Navigate to www.cuny.edu
2. Select "Employment"
3. Select "Search Job Postings"
4. Create an Account
5. After creating an account, return to the Job Search page and select "Apply Now"

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor confirming your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by November 5, 2024. In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Jana Arsovska, Director of the Master of Arts Program in International Crime and Justice via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

All questions should be directed to Dr. Jana Arsovska, Chair of the Search Committee, via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

CLOSING DATE

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024.
Posting closes on November 5, 2024.

*Interviews with successful candidates will be scheduled during the first two weeks of December 2024.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty
Job ID 28830
Location
John Jay College

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/5/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14699

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor in Global Development

Specializations: Developing Nations, Africa, South Asia

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs at Georgia Tech invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Global Development as part of an exciting new interdisciplinary Global Development Program, which includes a Minor, Certificate, and one-year Master's of Science in Global Development. The start date for the position will be August 2025.

Applicants should show promise or evidence of outstanding scholarly achievement, exceptional commitment to teaching, and should have an interest in contributing to the advancement of the intellectual community and related outreach efforts. While we will consider applicants working on a broad range of regions and Global Development topics, we are particularly interested in candidates focusing on the intersection of technology and development or on questions related to the UN Sustainable Development Goals or to threats to democracy, as well as in candidates with a regional specialty in South/Southeast Asia or Africa. Successful candidates will be fluent in the perspectives of political science, economics, sociology, and/or other interdisciplinary backgrounds. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an exceptional commitment to the teaching and mentoring of students. For further details and to submit an application, please click here.

Responsibilities Teaching:

- Demonstrate exceptional commitment to teaching.
  - Contribute to undergraduate and graduate programs in Global Development.
  - Develop and teach courses related to global development, potentially including topics such as technology and development, UN Sustainable Development Goals, threats to democracy, and regional specialties in South/Southeast Asia or Africa.
  - Deliver courses that integrate perspectives from political science, economics, sociology, and/or other interdisciplinary backgrounds.
- Research:

- Conduct outstanding scholarly research in the field of Global Development.
  - Show promise or evidence of outstanding scholarly achievement.
  - Publish research findings in reputable academic journals.
  - Develop a strong research agenda aligned with the goals of the Global Development Program.
  - Contribute to the advancement of the intellectual community through research activities.
- Service and Outreach:
- Contribute to the advancement of the intellectual community and related outreach efforts.

- Engage in service activities within the department, university, and broader academic community.
- Participate in related outreach efforts to enhance the visibility and impact of the Global Development Program.
- Collaborate with other faculty members and departments on interdisciplinary projects and initiatives.

Interdisciplinary Collaboration:

- Collaborate with colleagues from diverse backgrounds within the Sam Nunn School of International Affairs and across other relevant departments and schools at Georgia Tech.
- Contribute to joint degree programs with other schools, such as Modern Languages, Economics, and City and Regional Planning.
- Foster interdisciplinary approaches to teaching, research, and outreach activities.

Professional Development:

- Stay current with developments in the field of Global Development, including emerging trends, methodologies, and best practices.
- Pursue opportunities for professional development and growth, such as attending conferences and workshops.
- Mentor and advise graduate students in their academic and research pursuits.

Administrative Responsibilities:

- Fulfill administrative duties as assigned by the department or university leadership.
- Contribute to the development and assessment of academic programs within the Global Development Program.
- Participate in faculty meetings, committees, and other departmental activities as needed.

Required Qualifications

Applicants must have an earned doctorate by the start of the appointment. The degree should be in a relevant field such as Global Development, International Affairs, Political Science, Economics, Sociology, or a related interdisciplinary area.

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=275330&PostingSeq=1&PortalActualURL=https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=275330&PostingSeq=1&PortalRegistryName=CAREERS&PortalServletURI=https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/&PortalURI=https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/&PortalHostNode=APPLICANT&NoCrumbs=yes&PortalKeyStruct=yes&

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14664

Marist College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Africa, East Asia, Latin American

The Political Science Department at Marist College invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor of Political Science position in Comparative Politics beginning Fall 2025. We are seeking a broadly trained candidate who can teach introductory and advanced courses in Global Politics and Politics of the Global South. Candidates should have some combination of regional expertise in Latin America, Africa and/or Asia (ability to teach courses in more than one region is a plus). An ability to teach upper-level courses in your specialization including Democratization, Global Health, Human Rights, and Research Methods is also desirable. Preference will be given to candidates that can also teach classes in International Relations. ABD required, PhD preferred. Strong candidates will be able to provide evidence of teaching effectiveness at the collegiate level.

This position is part of an ongoing cluster hire as we welcome additional new faculty members as part of our Global Studies cluster. These new faculty members will join faculty in the departments of English, history, modern languages and cultures, and political science who focus on Global Studies generally, and Africana Studies and Latinx & Latin American Studies specifically. The position is also part of a major college-wide hiring initiative with the goal of creating a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive institution.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations is required. Advanced ABD candidates will be considered. Teaching experience and evidence of teaching effectiveness at the college level is required.

The teaching load will be 3-4 but faculty who achieve and maintain an outstanding record of scholarship may be eligible for a 3-3 teaching load. In addition to teaching and research responsibilities, faculty participate regularly in service activities for our students, Marist College, and the community.

See more about this listing and Marist College at: <https://careers.marist.edu/cw/en-us/job/493703/assistant-professor-of-political-science>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/14/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14634

Lafayette College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law at Lafayette College invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2025. The Department seeks candidates specializing in international and/or comparative political economy in the Global South, with a focus on dynamics of power and inequality. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science (or closely related field) or demonstrate that the Ph.D. is near completion. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to International Politics or Introduction to Comparative Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to the College's interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda. The Department especially welcomes applications from candidates who will contribute to Lafayette's commitment to diversity and inclusion. The teaching load during the first year is four courses (normally two each semester) and five courses each year thereafter.

Applications should include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. The letter of intent should contain a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, and address the ways in which the applicant's teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will advance Lafayette College's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion as articulated in the College's diversity statement (<https://belong.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/>).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151960>. Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Seo-Hyun Park (parksh@lafayette.edu).

Located within 70 miles of New York City and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts and engineering institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship. Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. All Lafayette operations reflect the College's commitment to Diversity, Equity, Access, and Inclusion (DEAI) initiatives, and Lafayette welcomes applicants from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14626

Rice University

Rank: Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a Full Professor to begin July 1, 2025. The candidate will be expected to serve as Department Chair. Full professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise Ph.D. dissertations, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to department, university, and disciplinary service. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of leadership and service at the dept/school/university/discipline level, outstanding teaching in undergraduate and graduate courses, and research excellence in their specialized area. Candidates should have research interests and expertise in the areas of American politics, comparative politics, or international relations, and have utilized quantitative research methods in their work. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a leadership/service statement highlighting experience and leadership philosophy; a research statement; a teaching statement; a DEI statement; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and contact information for three references who can attest to the candidate's leadership experience and qualities. References will be contacted for a subset of candidates. All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151772>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14632

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

Brown University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow in the Civil Conflict and Democratic Erosion Policy Lab

Professor Robert Blair (Department of Political Science and Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs) is accepting applications for a Post-Doctoral Research Associate beginning in fall 2025. The Post-Doctoral Research Associate will help Professor Blair oversee the new Civil Conflict and Democratic Erosion Policy Lab at the Watson Institute and will work closely with Professor Blair on a variety of collaborative research projects. Professor Blair's current research interests include policy reforms and evaluations to improve police-community relations in countries affected by civil conflict; the political determinants of violence against environmental activists in the Amazon; the development of mechanisms to reduce partisan polarization in the US; and the dynamics and drivers of democratic erosion around the world, among other topics. The ideal candidate will have similarly broad research interests, and will be eager to collaborate on projects spanning multiple substantive areas in multiple geographical locations. The Post-Doctoral Research Associate will also help oversee a team of undergraduate and graduate research assistants connected to the Policy Lab.

Eligible for remote work in line with Brown's policies.

The Political Science Department is interested in qualified candidates who have demonstrated commitment to excellence by providing leadership in teaching, research or service toward building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Qualifications needed:

- PhD in political science, economics, or related discipline by the position start date
- Experience with data analysis in Stata or R (preferably both)
- Experience running surveys, field experiments, and/or other forms of complex field-based research
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Spoken Spanish or Portuguese is desirable but not necessary

Application instructions: Please provide a cover letter, CV, research statement, writing sample, and two letters of recommendation.

Please apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/142214>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14622

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2025. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2026, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Lt Col Woody Olmstead, PhD), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-116, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Roland.Olmstead@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14623

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2025. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Jackson School of Global Affairs, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. This search includes additional resources in two targeted areas within this broader search area. The first is for an assistant professor with expertise in African Politics, who will teach at least one course cross-listed with, and contribute to, Yale's Council on African Studies. The second is for a candidate who works on Environmental Politics, jointly appointed with the Jackson School of Global Affairs. Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in areas of political science commensurate with their expertise. Candidates jointly appointed with Jackson will also teach courses in Jackson's undergraduate and graduate curriculum. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151662>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14619

University of Miami

Rank: Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Miami invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 15, 2025. The department seeks candidates in the field of Comparative Politics. We are particularly interested in applicants who can contribute to existing university programs in Latin American Studies, Global Black Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Climate Resilience, Global Health, Data Science, Public Policy, or Democracy. Advanced methodological skills are also desirable, particularly in machine learning, AI, or computational modeling. The expected teaching commitment is 2-2. Candidates should have a PhD or anticipate PhD completion by August 15, 2025. In some circumstances, ABDs with exceptional promise will be considered for appointment at the rank of Lecturer, with conversion to Assistant Professor upon completion of PhD.

Interested applicants may apply online at https://umiami.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UMFaculty/job/Coral-Gables-FL/Assistant-Professor\_R100079700. Applicants should upload a single pdf document including: (1) cover letter; (2) CV; (3) teaching statement focusing on your ability to contribute to an inclusive undergraduate political science major serving a diverse array of students; (4) PhD transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application); (5) writing sample. Please arrange for three reference letters to be sent directly to the search chair at UMPOLSearch@miami.edu. Applications received on or before September 15, 2024, will be given full consideration, though the committee will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. For further information about the position please contact the department chair (Casey Klofstad, c.klofstad@miami.edu). Additional information about the department is available at <http://www.as.miami.edu/politicalscience/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14610

Stanford University

Rank: Comparative Politics, Senior Rank Faculty Position in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Stanford University seeks applicants for a senior appointment at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor. The preferred area of specialty is Comparative Politics. Applicants must have demonstrated the ability to maintain a world-class research program and a commitment to effective teaching and mentoring. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in a related field and will be expected to teach and advise students at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The term of appointment is expected to begin on September 1, 2025.

Candidates should apply through Stanford Faculty Positions (<https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494760/comparative-politics-senior-rank-faculty-position-in-political-science>) and submit

- a cover letter
- curriculum vitae (including a publication list)
- research statement (no more than three single-spaced pages)
- teaching statement (no more than two single-spaced pages)
- teaching evaluations

The Department of Political Science, School of Humanities and Sciences and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals.

The salary ranges for academic year 2024-25:

Associate Professor: $175,000 - $220,000

Professor: $250,000 - $350,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the qualifications of the selected candidate, budget availability, and internal equity.

Further information about Stanford's Department of Political Science may be found at <https://politicalscience.stanford.edu/>. Inquiries may be directed to Natalie Badalov, Faculty Affairs Coordinator, nbadalov@stanford.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 8th, 2024; later applications may be considered at the discretion of the search committee.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical mission.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14579

Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00006

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral associates are expected to participate regularly in the scholarly and academic activities of the program.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. Start date is around September 1, 2025.

Appointments are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year, starting September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34843>.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4. A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5. Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Eligible candidate must have less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2025Application Deadline: 12/1/2024Date Posted: 8/1/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14514Morehouse College*Rank: Assistant Professor

The Division of Humanities, Social Sciences, Media & Arts (HSSMA) at Morehouse College invites applications for a full-time, assistant professor in the field of comparative politics. We are open to area of specialization, though we have an interest in candidates who can teach African politics as well as international relations. The candidate is expected to maintain an appropriate level of scholarly activity/ research and service to the Department, the Division and the College.

We are looking for someone who thinks creatively about their teaching, engages in scholarship, and can be committed to the mission of Morehouse College—to develop men with disciplined minds who lead lives of leadership and service by emphasizing the intellectual and character development of its students and by assuming a special responsibility for teaching the history and culture of Black people.

The Political Science Department offers a broad range of courses, including majors in Urban Studies and International Studies. Applicants should have experience teaching political science concepts to a diverse group of students including non-majors. We are especially interested in candidates who can develop innovative first-year experience (FYE) courses for our general education program. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources.

Responsibilities include teaching courses (a 3-3 load), advising, and mentoring students; developing and maintaining a scholarly research and publication agenda; and service to the department and the College. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources. An official transcript will be required of the selected candidate.

The start date for the position is August 2025.

For further information about the position as well as application instructions, please visit: <https://morehouse.peopleadmin.com/postings/10491>

Members of the search committee will conduct a limited number of preliminary interviews at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in Philadelphia. Candidates who wish to be considered for a brief interview at APSA should send a cover letter and CV to pscfacultysearch@morehouse.edu no later than August 23, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025Application Deadline: 10/1/2024Date Posted: 7/31/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14562Denison University*Rank: Open Rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Position Title: Open-rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Location: Denison University

Position Type: Tenure Track Faculty

Position URL: <https://apply.interfolio.com/150219>

Position Description:

The Department of Politics and Public Affairs (PPA) at Denison University invites applications for an open rank, tenure-track position in comparative politics, beginning Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching emphasizes constitutionalism, policy analysis, or how social movements interact with either, with a geographic focus on the politics of countries or regions beyond the United States or Western Europe. The successful candidate must have the demonstrated ability to teach introductory courses in comparative politics of democracies, as well as interest and ability to teach a rotating set of upper division courses in comparative politics broadly and in their areas of expertise. The Politics and Public Affairs program provides our students an integrated view of politics emphasizing links between theory and practice. Our major is structured as a learning community where undergraduates pursue a track of interest that aligns with traditional subfields and have multiple opportunities to share their knowledge with peers. Our majors must complement classroom experiences with a department-approved off campus learning component. We seek a new colleague who shares our enthusiasm for this approach to teaching about politics and public affairs. As a department, we work hard to ensure our students hear and consider diverse perspectives and we welcome applicants who contribute to that diversity. In the fall of 2025, our faculty includes four full-time tenured or tenure track faculty and one long-term visiting faculty member. We graduate roughly 30 seniors each year.

All instructors are expected to regularly teach introductory classes (typically around 24 students) that serve PPA majors/minors as well as the general education requirements of the college's curriculum; successfully teaching introductory classes requires teachers who relish the challenge of tailoring instruction for both the skeptical and the interested student. All instructors regularly teach upper division classes (typically capped at 20 students) in their area of interest which are usually populated by PPA or related majors, as well as required PPA major courses such as sophomore and senior seminar. The teaching load is 5 courses per academic year (3/2). Denison is a fully residential campus and all classes are held in-person and on-campus.

Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness from college-level courses. We seek to hire a new colleague with broad training in the study of politics. The successful candidate is expected to have significant interest in and demonstrated ability to be effective at undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and in contributing to the integration of the theoretical with experiential elements of our major. Independent teaching experience (beyond TA) is preferred.

Successful candidates are expected to maintain an ongoing research agenda; thus, applicants should show promise of a strong publication record. The prospective teacher-scholar also will support the University's commitment to liberal arts education, be an effective advisor to a range of students, be an active participant in departmental and university governance, and develop a program of research leading to peer-reviewed publication.

Denison is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2,300 students from across the nation and around the world. The college is located in the village of Granville, 30 minutes from Columbus, Ohio, the state capital, which hosts a wide range of cultural and artistic opportunities. Granville offers an excellent public school system and easy access to outdoor activities. Denison is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty and is committed to providing a work and learning environment free from discrimination. A supportive environment for teacher-scholars who value both classroom and research excellence, Denison offers extensive support for its faculty, including start-up research funds, an annual professional development account, competitive professional development funding, and a one-semester research leave after a successful pre-tenure review. The college also offers opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, stipends for supervising summer-research students, and a range of workshops and mentoring programs to develop our strengths as teacher-scholars. Denison offers a competitive salary and a comprehensive benefits package, including tuition benefits to attend Denison or other affiliated colleges and a generous retirement contribution.

Qualifications:

Candidates are required to have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely-related field by start date.

Application Instructions:

To ensure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 7, 2024. Applications should include the following:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate level transcript [official or unofficial]
- Teaching Portfolio, which should include a 1) teaching statement that lays out the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and experience; the teaching statement should also describe how the candidate fosters an inclusive classroom where students with diverse perspectives and experiences can respectfully contribute and learn, 2) Evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations or other artifacts), 3) an introductory syllabus for comparative politics of democracies, and 4) an upper division syllabus that reflects your expertise.
- Research Statement that lays out the candidate's scholarly interests and plans
- A writing sample

- Contact information for three letters of reference

Job seekers who may need a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should contact the Office of Human Resources at (740) 587-6299 or by email at HR@denison.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14553

University of Southern California

Rank: Full-Time, Teaching or Practice Track Faculty

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications has begun. We will continue to consider new applications until August 1, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies

Department of Political Science and International Relations

Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352

University of Southern California

Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044

morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14523

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2025. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and very strong quantitative research skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the study of democratic representation, mass political behavior, elite behavior and/or political institutions. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2025.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We especially encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQIA+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150044>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14511

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant, associate, Full Professor, Korea Foundation Endowed Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Missouri, Columbia is seeking a Korea Foundation Endowed Professor. The position is an open rank tenured/tenure track position focused on Korean politics to begin in the Fall Semester of 2025. This is a 9-month teaching and research appointment. The typical teaching load will be two (2) courses per semester. Additional expectations include active engagement with the University of Missouri Institute for Korean Studies.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:

Competitive applicants will have a clear research agenda, strong theoretical orientation, excellent methodological skills, ability to publish in highly ranked journals and academic presses, and potential for effective teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Applicants from scholars whose research has an emphasis on Korea from all subfields of political science and related fields are encouraged to apply including comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and public administration. However, the ideal candidate will contribute to the TSGPA's teaching and research interests in comparative politics.

Application Materials

Please apply online at: <https://hr.missouri.edu/job-openings> (Job Opening ID 52446). Use the online application and be prepared to upload your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and writing samples. Please also provide evidence of effective teaching, as well as a teaching statement that describes your pedagogical goals/practices including information about your ability to teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students from a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should provide three letters of recommendations to the Truman School Director's Office (mutsgpadirector@missouri.edu). Candidates at the associate or full professor level should provide three names and contact information of references. Written references will be required prior to an on-campus interview. The cover letter should address the following: current and future research, teaching interests including how the applicant ensures the classroom is inclusive of multiple perspectives and of students from different backgrounds, as well as, how the applicant envisions engaging in research focused on Korea, and with universities there. This information can also be provided in separate teaching and research statements.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee Dr. Laron Williams (williamslaro@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science, and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu>.

Benefit Eligibility This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eo>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14512

Clemson University

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor or Professor in domestic, comparative, or international public policy; policymaking processes; or public administration, to begin in August 2025. We welcome applicants from all subfields in political science, especially those that have an interest in the development and promotion of our Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Ph.D. Policy Studies programs, as well as mentoring graduate students. This is a nine-month faculty position, and qualified candidates will be considered for tenure on arrival. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or in a related field.

The successful candidate also will be expected to pursue an active research agenda resulting in a strong record of peer-reviewed publications. We especially encourage applications from candidates with a history of external research funding or definite plans to apply for grants. The position's teaching responsibilities will include offering courses in public policy, public administration, or in related areas within the Department's Ph.D., MPA, and undergraduate programs. The expected teaching load is two courses per semester.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, along with its master's degree in public administration and Ph.D. in policy studies. The Department has 26 full-time faculty and 3 full-time staff. Clemson University is a land-grant institution located in western South Carolina in the Greenville metropolitan area. Its strategic plan—Clemson Elevate—articulates three dynamic goals: delivering the #1 student experience in the nation, doubling research productivity by 2035, and transforming lives statewide and beyond. These overlapping priorities are intended to continue Clemson's development as a leading public research university, sustain its Carnegie R1 status, and position itself for membership in the Association of American Universities (AAU).

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, candidates should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) contact information for three references who will provide confidential letters of recommendation, (4) a research statement, (5) a statement on teaching and student mentoring (including evidence of teaching effectiveness); and (6) sample syllabi for undergraduate and/or graduate courses. Apply at - Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/149108>).

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Adam Warber (awarber@clemson.edu), Search Committee Chair, or to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemson.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14468

Texas Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

Application Deadline:

Review of applications will begin September 16. Open until filled.

Position Details:

This full-time faculty position is on-campus and in-person.

The Department of Political Science at Texas Christian University invites applications for a tenure track, assistant professor of comparative politics with a regional specialization in Latin America or Sub-Saharan Africa. The normal teaching load for this position is 3-2.

The successful candidate will show evidence of teaching excellence and will have an active research agenda supported by published research or the strong promise of such publication. We prefer applicants who will have completed their Ph.D. in political science by the appointment date.

Required Application Materials & Application Instructions:

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, unofficial transcript, research statement, teaching statement (addressing teaching philosophy and potential course offerings), diversity statement, writing sample, and a sample syllabus of an upper-level course offering. Full review of applications begins on September 16 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair, Eric Cox, at e.cox@tcu.edu.

Department Details:

The TCU political science department has 17 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in two undergraduate degrees. TCU political science faculty run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies, Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies, Asian Studies, and Middle East Studies.

School/College Description:

Named for TCU's founders, Addison and Randolph Clark, the AddRan College of Liberal Arts is home to the core academic disciplines of the humanities and social sciences. The College includes approximately 155 full-time faculty members, 13 departments (Comparative Race & Ethnic Studies, Criminology & Criminal Justice, Economics, English, Geography, History, Modern Language Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, Religion, Sociology & Anthropology, Spanish and Hispanic Studies, and Women & Gender Studies), and two units of Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Army and Air Force). AddRan College departments confer 17 Bachelor of Arts and 7 Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of General Studies, an online master's degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice, a Master of Liberal Arts degree, and master's and Ph.D. degrees in History, English, and Rhetoric and Composition.

University & Fort Worth Description:

ABOUT TCU

Founded in 1873, Texas Christian University sits on 302 acres nestled in a primarily residential part of Fort Worth, just minutes away from downtown. The University includes seven schools and colleges, in addition to the John V. Roach Honors College and the Burnett School of Medicine.

Currently, TCU enrolls more than 10,200 undergraduates and 1,700 graduate students. Twenty-eight percent of students self-identify as a member of a minority group, five percent are international students, and forty-five percent are from out-of-state. Our students are supported by more than 2,200 faculty and staff. The University has more than 700 full-time faculty members and is a top 100 National University as classified by US News and World Report and has a Carnegie Classification of R2: Doctoral Universities – High Research Activity.

At TCU, diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) are an educational imperative directly tied to the University mission, vision, and strategic plan. Fulfilling TCU's mission to develop ethical leaders and critical thinkers in a global community depends on the University's ability to attract and retain students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. A diverse and inclusive campus leads to innovation, broadened perspective, and understanding—values that are foundational aspects of higher education. For the fourth consecutive year, TCU has earned the Higher Education Excellence in Diversity Award, which highlights ongoing commitment to build a comprehensive DEI strategy that aligns with core values and creates a campus culture where everyone is respected and included.

ABOUT FORT WORTH

Like TCU, Fort Worth has the approachable, friendly charm of a smaller town, but offers the amenities, cultural activities, diversity and unique personality of a much larger city. Fort Worth, Texas, is the 13th largest city in the United States with an ever-growing population nearing 1 million. Fort Worth and TCU have grown together in a nearly 150-year relationship. You'll find that many Horned Frogs remain here after graduation, thanks to the region's thriving job market. Fort Worth is part of the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area, the fourth largest metropolitan area in the United States, and the number 1 tourist destination in Texas. In 2018, bizjournals.com ranked Fort Worth the 7th most affordable city to live and work in the United States and U.S. News and World Report named Fort Worth one of the Best Places to Live. Fort Worth, Dallas and Arlington all rank among the top 25 most diverse cities in the country.

Fort Worth is known for its vast array of cultural, educational and entertainment opportunities. The city boasts three world class art museums—the Kimbell Art Museum, the Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth and the Amon Carter Museum of American Art. The Bass Performance Hall is one of the premier performance venues in the country. Concerts, film festivals and other events are held regularly at Sundance Square, Panther Island and Near Southside venues.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14465

Trinity College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Trinity College, Hartford, invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative politics at the assistant professor level, starting Fall 2025. We especially welcome candidates with research expertise in the following countries and geographic regions: Europe, Russia and Eurasia, China, or Southeast Asia. Candidates should also have the ability and interest to teach an introductory research methodology course.

Evidence of scholarly promise is required. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is desired, if available. The teaching load is 2/2 for the first two years (and 3/2 thereafter), with a one-semester leave every fourth year. A Ph.D. in political science should be completed by August 2025.

To ensure full consideration, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, statement of teaching interests (including your potential to teach and supervise diverse undergraduates), a scholarly writing sample, graduate transcript, course syllabi (including a syllabus for an introductory research methodology course) and evaluations (if available), and three letters of reference to <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com> and <https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com> by September 30, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14458

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Middle East Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach an upper-level, undergraduate course in-person on Middle East Politics (one section only) for the Spring 2025 semester. The instructor will teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity .

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14442

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Political Economy; Comparative Politics of Asia

Specializations: International Political Economy, Southeast Asia, East Asia

Job Description

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments, one in International Political Economy (IPE) and the other in Comparative Politics (CP). For the IPE position, individuals with research expertise in emerging technologies, such as AI, biotechnology, cyber, or environmental/climate change are especially encouraged to apply. For the CP position, we have a preference for those who work on East and Southeast Asia, especially the latter. Those with other substantive expertise are also welcome to apply.

Job Qualifications

The ideal candidate will have:

- a completed PhD by August 2025 in international relations, political science, or related disciplines;
- publications in top journals in the field and/or a strong pipeline of working papers;
- demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in IPE or CP; and
- a willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/&lt;a&gt;>.

The deadline for submitting the package is November 1, 2024.

The package should include:

1. A cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A research statement (1000 words max) that outlines your past, current and future research agenda
4. A teaching statement (1000 words max) detailing courses taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness
5. Up to two writing samples
6. Three references sent directly to <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/&lt;a&gt;>.

Members of the hiring committee will be attending the APSA Annual Conference in Philadelphia (September 5-8) and will be available for an informational session. If you are interested in attending the APSA informational session, please send us your CV by August 15, 2024. Only shortlisted candidates will be invited to attend the informational session. Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/25150/&lt;a&gt;>.

Additional Information

About the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year; two for first contract assistant professors) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14399

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get\_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

Fordham University

Rank: Tenure-Track: Comparative Politics/Middle East (Fordham University)

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning Fall 2025. The primary location for this position is at Fordham College-Lincoln Center campus in Manhattan but service may be at any campus of the University.

The area of specialization for this position is comparative politics with a regional focus on the Middle East/North Africa. Within these regional contexts, we are seeking innovative scholars with significant expertise in areas that could include but are not limited to populism, social movements, institutions, political behavior, crime and corruption, political identities, ethnic and racial politics, intersectional approaches to power and marginalization, the effects of climate change, the politics of crisis, and socio-economic inequality. Scholars who are able to contribute to the University's interdisciplinary programs such as, but not limited to: Middle East Studies, Islamic Studies, International Studies, Urban Studies, Humanitarian Studies, Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, or Peace and Justice Studies are of particular interest. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with political and social institutions in New York City and contribute to the University and the department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with our Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that diversity is central to the excellence of our academic program, and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students of different races and ethnicities, from a range of socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on September 10, 2024. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor José Alemán, Committee Chair, via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/147081>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience; curriculum vitae; writing sample; three letters of reference; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and a Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Statement. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience and may include past course syllabi, peer observations, and/or student evaluations. The Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Statement should address how the candidate's teaching, mentoring, scholarship, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/10/2024

Date Posted: 5/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14392

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Visiting Full-Time Faculty Position in International Relations

Department of Political Science

Visiting Full-Time Faculty Position in International Relations

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a visiting full-time faculty position to teach 2 introductory courses in International Relations and an upper level course of the instructor's choice during the Spring 2025 semester to begin in January 2025. You can learn more about Political Science at the College of the Holy Cross by following this link.

Visiting full-time faculty teach 3 courses each semester and are eligible for travel support and reimbursement of relocation costs within the College's published policies. All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and include full benefits.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching as informed by current practice and scholarship in the field. Candidates should have experience as an instructor or teaching assistant for introductory courses in International Relations and a Ph.D. (or ABD status) in Political Science.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please submit a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, a statement on teaching philosophy and interests, transcripts (Ph.D. preferred or advanced ABD), and two confidential letters of recommendation.

In your cover letter, please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or service might support the College's mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college (see <http://www.holycross.edu/mission>) and its core commitment to diversity and inclusion. For more information, please visit <http://holycross.edu/diversity>. To learn more about faculty life at the College, applicants are encouraged to visit <http://holycross.edu/join>.

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to <https://apply.interfolio.com/158338>.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. For full consideration, please apply by November 26, 2024. Questions about this search may be directed to Prof. Denis Kennedy, Chair of Political Science, at dkennedy@holycross.edu.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,200 students and is located in a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community.

Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (<http://www.newenglandherc.org>). The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Spring 2024

Date Posted: 10/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15128

California State University, San Marcos

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Apply here:

<https://careersmanager.pageuppeople.com/873/sm/en-us/job/543961/assistant-professor-of-political-science>

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science in the College of Humanities, Arts, Behavioral and Social Sciences at California State University San Marcos invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor, beginning in Fall 2025. We seek a scholar with a strong foundation in international relations and a dedicated research focus on international environmental politics.

Minimum Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science (or closely related field) (ABD applicants accepted; PhD Confirm required by hired date); primary teaching and scholarly emphasis in international relations, with a specialization in international environmental politics; evidence of teaching effectiveness; a record of scholarly achievement or a well-developed research agenda. The successful candidate must be prepared to develop and effectively teach courses on international environmental politics, and contribute to the department's core curriculum by teaching introductory political science courses, other core major courses, and senior seminar as needed. The successful candidate is expected to participate in shared governance of the department, college, and university as assigned or chosen, and provide meaningful service including contributions to a campus and professional community that supports equity, inclusion, and diversity. The successful candidate must have demonstrated intercultural competence with diverse groups in teaching, research, and/or service.

Preferred Qualifications

Ability to teach social science research methods and European politics. Demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary collaboration with our Environmental Studies program.

Application Material

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement: Summary of past or potential contributions to fostering an equitable and inclusive learning environment, particularly in international relations courses

Teaching statement: Summary of your teaching philosophy and how you have incorporated elements of your teaching philosophy, particularly in international relations courses

Research statement: Summary of your research accomplishments to date and your research goals for the future

Evidence of teaching success (e.g. student evaluations/summaries, peer observation summaries, etc.)

Three professional references

Anticipated Hiring Salary Range: $7,250- $7,700 per month

CSU Classification Salary Range: $6,221- $13,224 per month

Review of applications will begin November 25, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

The University is particularly interested in applicants who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds and a demonstrated commitment to improving access to higher education for under-represented groups.

CSUSM has been designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and was recently named one of the top 32 Colleges most friendly to junior faculty by the Collaborative on Academic Careers in Higher Education. Visit Faculty Opportunities for more information.

California State University San Marcos is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer strongly committed to promoting diversity in all areas of the campus community. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to age, physical or mental disability, gender or sex, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, medical condition, nationality, race or ethnicity, religion or religious creed, sexual orientation and veteran or military status.

Per the California State University's Out-of-State Employment Policy, the CSU is prohibited from hiring employees to perform CSU-related work outside California. Working in the State of California is a condition of employment.

The person holding this position is considered a mandated reporter under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 Revised December 22, 2020 as a condition of employment.

CSU requires faculty, staff, and students who are accessing campus facilities to be immunized against COVID-19 or declare a medical or religious exemption from doing so. Any candidates advanced in a currently open search process should be prepared to comply with this requirement. The systemwide policy, can be found at CSU Covid Policy. Questions should be sent to the Office of Human Resources at hr@csum.edu.

This position is subject to employment verification, education verification, reference checks and criminal record checks. An offer of appointment is contingent upon successful completion of a background check, including a criminal records check, and may be rescinded if the background check reveals disqualifying information and/or it is discovered that the candidate knowingly withheld or falsified information. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the continued employment of a current CSU employee who was conditionally offered the position.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act or Clery Act Notification can be found at Clery Act Notification.

Advertised: October 28, 2024 (9:00 AM) Pacific Daylight Time
Applications close: Open Until Filled

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 15124

The American University in Cairo

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor in International Relations Theory

Company Description:

The American University in Cairo (AUC) has a rich legacy that dates back 100 years. Founded in 1919 as an English-language university based on high standards of conduct and scholarship, AUC remains a vibrant institution that contributes to the intellectual growth, discipline, and character of the future leaders of Egypt and the region. AUC emphasizes a liberal arts education, with all undergraduate students studying a common set of courses in the humanities and the natural and social sciences as part of the University's Core Curriculum. The AUC Libraries contain the largest English-language research collection in the region and are an active and integral part of the University's pursuit of excellence in all academic and scholarly programs. Located in one of the most interesting and important cities in the world - at the nexus of Africa, the Middle East, Asia, and Europe, and the center of events of the Arab world - AUC is chartered and accredited in the United States and Egypt. AUC is an English-medium institution.

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a position in International Relations starting Fall 2025. This is a tenure-track position. We invite applications at the Assistant/Associate Professor level. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in the fields of theories of international relations including critical international relations theory, global governance and security studies. For this position an expertise in Asian studies will be a distinct advantage. These positions will involve teaching at the BA and MA levels within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to equal opportunity and a diverse faculty.

Requirements:

A PhD is required at the time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing research and publication program and teaching experience. In addition to research and teaching, responsibilities include service to the Department and the University.

Additional Information:

Priority will be given to applications received by November 30th, 2024. The position is open until filled.

Application Instructions:

Applicants must submit the following documents via the online system: (a) an updated CV; (b) a letter of interest addressing the required qualifications; (c) a completed AUC Personnel Information Form (PIF); (d) a statement of teaching philosophy; (e) copies of recent student evaluations; (f) an example of a recent publication relevant to the position; and (g) letters of reference from at least three referees familiar with the applicant's professional background.

To ensure full consideration, candidates are encouraged to submit their applications by November 30th, 2024. The committee will begin reviewing applications after this date; however, applications will continue to be accepted until a qualified applicant pool has been achieved or until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to: Dr. Javed Maswood, Chair, javedmaswood@aucegypt.edu (<http://javedmaswood@aucegypt.edu/>); Dr. Dina Hosni, Senior Officer Student Liaison, dina\_h@aucegypt.edu (http://dina\_h@aucegypt.edu/); or visit the department's website at: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Apply Here: <https://www.click2apply.net/pA67ABf5nDZpkIjqdiNMgD>

PI253817634

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/28/2024

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15126

Georgia Southern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Criminal Justice, Africa, International Security

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies.

Georgia Southern is a dynamic university with three vibrant campuses in Hinesville, Savannah and Statesboro serving the communities in Southeast Georgia. As a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution, our world-class scholars instruct about 26,000 students in associate's, bachelor's, master's and doctoral level degree programs. Whether you are seeking the charm of a small town, the traditions of a historical/urban destination near the beach or supporting our military service members and their families, Georgia Southern offers its faculty and staff the best of all worlds!

Beyond an ideal location, there is a place for you to work in an exciting environment abounding with opportunities for personal and professional growth. We are steeped in tradition and devoted to academic distinction in teaching, scholarship and service. In 2018 Forbes Magazine listed Georgia Southern, along with 10 other Georgia companies or institutions, as one of America's Best Midsize Employers. Georgia Southern University is passionate about serving our region while preparing our students to be lifelong scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities and the world.

To learn more about Georgia Southern's Vision, Mission and Values please click here: <https://president.georgiasouthern.edu/performance-excellence/mission-values/>

Within this setting, the Department of Political Science and International Studies' mission is to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to be productive, politically literate, and engaged citizens in their communities, their nation, and the world. Integrating diverse and high-quality faculty research with excellence in the classroom, our programs promote intellectual, personal, and professional student development and cultivate research, communication, and analytical skills that are in high professional demand. Students are encouraged to bring fresh perspectives and critical thinking to the classroom that will help them become politically active. Our faculty are engaged in impactful service within the University, the profession, and the community. The Department values diversity in all its forms, recognizing that democratic virtues such as engagement, tolerance, and empathy are enhanced by the inclusion of multiple voices.

This position will contribute significantly to the Department's strengths in the area of global security with a focus on international crime, terrorism and counterterrorism, and/or human rights and a preferred regional focus on Africa. This position will also contribute to the growing partnership between the Department of Political Science and the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology around this important topical area. The Assistant Professor will be expected to contribute to collaborative, interdisciplinary research in this area with a specific emphasis on securing external grant funding and engaging with local and international community partners. The position will also contribute to cross-disciplinary courses to support the following undergraduate and graduate programs: BA Political Science, BS Criminal Justice, Master of Arts in Social Sciences, and MS in Criminal Justice. As such, support in research and teaching for this position will be offered by both academic departments (ideally, 51% Political Science and International Studies and 49% Criminal Justice and Criminology).

Location

Statesboro Campus
1332 Southern Drive
Statesboro, GA 30458

Job Summary. Reporting to the Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, the Assistant Professor position requires a strong commitment to research (50% workload with an expectation of securing external grants), a strong commitment to cross-disciplinary undergraduate and graduate education (40% workload, a 2-2 teaching load), and to service at the department, college, university, and/or professional levels. The position is an academic (10 month), tenure track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:

- Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or a closely related field such as Criminology and Criminal Justice or Sociology, by August 1, 2025
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives.
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development.
- Demonstrated commitment to advancing a strong and growing research and scholarship agenda and the production of research/creative activities as appropriate to the discipline.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Research and teaching expertise in any of the following areas of global security (broadly defined): international crime, terrorism and counterterrorism, human rights, international criminal law/justice
- Research and/or teaching expertise in Africa.
- Evidence of teaching techniques designed to reach a diverse student population, including online and graduate students.
- Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience.

Proposed Salary

Commensurate with experience.

This is an exempt position paid on a monthly basis.

Required Documents to Attach

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 professional references. Other documentation may be requested.

Apply Before Date

Open Until Filled

Screening of applications begins November 25, 2024 and continues until the position is filled. Preferred start date is August 1, 2025.

See <https://hr.georgiasouthern.edu/employment-opportunities/> to apply. Reference Job ID 68080.

Contact Information

Dr. Kate Perry, Chair Search #68080

Associate Professor of Political Science and International Studies

+1-912-478-0838

kperry@georgiasouthern.edu

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Conditions of Employment:

All work (with limited exceptions such as research and study abroad outside activities such as grading and email correspondence) for Georgia Southern University must be completed while the employee is physically present in the state of Georgia, unless specifically authorized by the university for a specific purpose and limited period of time within current policy.

Faculty are expected to contribute to the vibrant university community by engaging students, participating in events, and performing other responsibilities on-campus.

Faculty may be required to teach, conduct research, or perform service duties on any of the three campuses. Georgia Southern provides accessible transportation options between campuses.

Offers of employment are contingent upon completion of background investigation including a criminal background check demonstrating your eligibility for employment with Georgia Southern University, as determined by Georgia Southern University in its sole discretion, confirmation of the credentials and employment history reflected in your application materials and, if applicable, a satisfactory credit check. Applicants may be subject to a pre-employment drug test.

Offers are made expressly subject to the applicable federal and state laws, to the statutes, rules and regulations of this institution and to the Bylaws and Policies of the Board of Regents (BOR) of the University System of Georgia (USG), which are available for your inspection upon request.

Legally authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the University.

Georgia Southern University is a Tobacco and Smoke-Free Community.

Equal Employment Opportunity

More information about the institution is available through <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu> or <https://www.georgiasouthern.edu/cbss/points/>. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals in need of reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources: (912) 478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15117

Symphony Talent

Rank: Faculty Fellow in European and Mediterranean Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Movements, Foreign Policy

Faculty Fellow in European and Mediterranean Studies

Center for European and Mediterranean Studies

New York University Arts and Science

The Center for European and Mediterranean Studies in Arts and Science at New York University (CEMS/NYU) invites applicants for a Faculty Fellow position in the field of European Studies. The initial appointment will be for one year beginning September 1, 2025, renewable annually for a maximum of three years, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

Faculty fellows teach three graduate seminars per year, advise and mentor students, oversee master's theses, organize public programs, and actively participate in shaping the life of the program. Student advising is a key component of this position, as the faculty fellow will have a significant role in directing theses, teaching research methodologies, and supporting both MA students and undergraduate students in their research. Service to the program will also involve representing the Center at university events and meetings and contributing to organizing academic workshops and events at the Center. Candidates should demonstrate through their application materials a commitment to interdisciplinary scholarship and excellence in teaching.

In compliance with NYC's Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary for this position is $60,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Qualifications

CEMS/NYU seeks a scholar experienced in advising student research about Europe and specializing in one of the following disciplines: comparative European politics, international relations, sociology, contemporary European history, or anthropology. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching focus on the European Union; on political, economic and social developments in contemporary Europe; on European foreign affairs; or on identity and minorities in Europe.

Candidates should have completed their Ph.D. no earlier than 2020 and no later than August 1, 2025.

Application Instructions

The deadline to apply is January 17, 2025. All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/155756>

To apply, please submit a cover letter that discusses research and teaching interests, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a diversity and inclusion statement. As diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, for the latter statement we ask you to provide a brief paragraph telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past and present teaching, research, community engagement, and/or life experience, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity and inclusion to bear on the teaching and programming of NYU CEMS. Information about diversity and inclusion statements may be found here.

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the NYU Arts and Science commitment to diversity and inclusion, please read here.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

NYU is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to a policy of equal treatment and opportunity in every aspect of its recruitment and hiring process without regard to age, alienage, caregiver status, childbirth, citizenship status, color, creed, disability, domestic violence victim status, ethnicity, familial status, gender and/or gender identity or expression, marital status, military status, national origin, parental status, partnership status, predisposing genetic characteristics, pregnancy, race, religion, reproductive health decision making, sex, sexual orientation, unemployment status, veteran status, or any other legally protected basis. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, persons of minority sexual orientation or gender identity, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply for vacant positions at all levels.

Sustainability Statement

NYU aims to be among the greenest urban campuses in the country and carbon neutral by 2040. Learn more at nyu.edu/sustainability

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/17/2025

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15120

The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shenzhen Rank: Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations and/or International Political Economy (Ref. AC2024/047/01)

School of Humanities and Social Science now invites applications and nominations for:

Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations and/or International Political Economy (Ref. AC2024/047/01)

Applicants should have a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a related discipline of international relations/international political economy. Preferred areas include Sino-US Relations, China-Southeast Asia Relations, China-Africa Relations, Technology/Digitalization, International Development, Global Governance, and International Organizations. Candidates with research interests that focus on one of these topics or which combine two or more of these topics are welcome. Applications are invited for faculty positions at the ranks of assistant professor, associate professor and full professor. Applicants for junior positions should have solid training in theories and cutting-edge methods (either qualitative or quantitative) from internationally prestigious universities. Applicants for senior positions are expected to have a proven record in high-quality teaching and research in the expertise areas. For senior positions, priorities will be given to candidates with management experience and skills in program planning, curriculum development and student supervision, and a proven record of research publications in competitive international outlets.

The appointee is expected to commence work in academic year 2025-26. A Ph.D. must be in hand prior to taking up the appointment.

Appointment will normally be made on contract basis for up to three years initially, leading to longer-term appointment or tenure later, subject to successful performance evaluation and mutual agreement. In cases where a candidate has an established record of excellence and demonstrable potential for continued success, tenure may be offered to the candidate at the time of initial appointment.

Salary & Benefits

Salary will be competitive, commensurate with qualifications and experience. Appointment will be made under the establishment of CUHK, Shenzhen and statutory benefits will be provided according to the prevailing labor laws applicable in the People's Republic of China. The appointee will be based at the University campus in Shenzhen, Guangdong Province, China. Successful applicants can also apply for additional benefits and generous start-up research support through high-talent schemes at the Guangdong provincial level, the Shenzhen city level, and the Longgang district level.

Application Procedure

Applicants should apply online at <http://academicrecruit.cuhk.edu.cn/views/positionapply/hss/form/home/positionapply> and upload up-to-date CV, certification of all degrees and teaching evaluation report. Applicants will be required to arrange three recommendation letters after being shortlisted.

Applications will be reviewed immediately and considered until the post is filled.

E-mail Address: talents4hss@cuhk.edu.cn

About The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shenzhen

The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shenzhen is established in accordance with the Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Chinese-foreign Cooperation in Running Schools upon approval of the Ministry of Education. It inherits the educational philosophy and academic systems of The Chinese University of Hong Kong. It is intended to evolve into a world-class research university with strong international orientation. It is committed to nurturing high-end talents with a global perspective, Chinese cultural tradition and social responsibility.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15114

University of Colorado, Denver

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Latin American, Developing Nations, Political Economy

The Political Science Department at the University of Colorado Denver invites applications from innovative and versatile candidates for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position, starting August 2025. Successful candidates will have expertise in Comparative Politics/International Relations, with a focus on the political economy of the “Global South.” We seek to identify candidates with expertise in one or more of the following subfields: International Development, Indigenous Peoples’ Politics, Public Health, Human Rights, Labor and Migration, Colonialism and Neo-Colonialism. This position comes with responsibilities in teaching (40% of time), research (40% of time), and service (20% of time). The teaching load is 2/2 (four courses an academic year).

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science, International Studies, or closely related field. Expertise in the political economy of the “Global South.” College level teaching. Record of scholarly achievement, such as journal or book publications, conference presentations, and/or published journalism

The University of Colorado is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. CU Denver is dedicated to ensuring a safe and secure environment for our faculty, staff, students and visitors. To achieve this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective employees.

To apply for this position, go to <http://www.cu.edu/cu-careers> Reference job posting 35194.

The direct link for this job position is: <https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ft?job=35194&clang=en>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 15119

Koç University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The College of Administrative Sciences and Economics at Koç University invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor position in the Department of International Relations starting in September 2025. While candidates from all fields of Political Science will be considered, candidates with a focus on International Political Economy and/or Comparative Politics are especially encouraged to apply. The successful applicants must have a strong commitment to research and teaching both at the undergraduate and the graduate levels. Candidates are expected to have a doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field by September 2025. Interested applicants need to send a letter of application explaining their research and teaching experience, an updated curriculum vitae, up to three sample publications/working papers, teaching portfolio (including sample syllabus and teaching evaluations with a key), and three letters of reference.

Koç University is a private, non-profit Turkish institution of higher education located just north of Istanbul. Koç University is committed to the pursuit of excellence in both research and teaching. Students are admitted to our department through a very competitive central examination. The medium of instruction is English. Regular teaching load is two courses per semester. The assistant professors teach three courses per academic year till being promoted to the rank of associate professor. Salary and benefits are competitive.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on December 31. All material has to be sent electronically to Ms. Vildan Ertugrul (vertugrul@ku.edu.tr) in the Office of the Dean, College of Administrative Sciences and Economics, Koç University, Rumelifeneri Yolu, Sariyer 34450, Istanbul, TURKEY.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/31/2024

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15100

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Instructional Professor in CIR

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Description

The Division of the Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for one or more positions as Senior Instructional Professor (SIP) in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, career track teaching position. The initial will be between three and five years, depending on rank, and will begin in Academic Year 2024-5 and is renewable with opportunity for promotion. Appointments at the Assistant, Associate, and Full Senior Instructional Professor rank will be considered.

The University of Chicago’s CIR is a one-year MA program that trains students in the theory and methods in the study international politics. CIR is a top 15 ranked Master’s program, according to Foreign Policy magazine. Founded in 1928, it is the country’s oldest MA program in International Relations. CIR’s curriculum is organized around core courses in international security, international political economy, and global governance. Students also have access to a vast array of graduate courses offered by the faculty in all University of Chicago departments. Each MA student writes an original, research-intensive thesis. Overall, the program is characterized by a strong focus on academic research and intellectual collaboration across disciplines. The program trains MA students for research-oriented positions in academia, industry, government, consulting, and a variety of think tanks. Graduates have entered top Ph.D. programs and taken prestigious non-academic professional roles.

This is a leadership position. The appointee will also hold the title of Assistant or Associate Director of CIR.

The SIP will annually teach up to four courses. These may include 2-3 courses in the current CIR core curriculum (International Security and Order, International Political Economy, or Global Governance, Rights, and Norms) or a new addition to the core curriculum. These may also include 1-2 electives on more specialized topics in international relations in any of our five field specializations: (1) International Security, Conflict Studies, and Contentious Politics; (2) International Political Economy and Development; (3) Comparative Studies in Institutions and Identity; (4) Human Rights, the Environment, and International Law; and (5) Research Methods in the Social Sciences. The SIP will also oversee a limited number of MA theses (approximately 8-10 per year).

In their administrative leadership, the SIP will, in consultation with the Faculty Director(s) of CIR, provide leadership in vision, planning, and promotion of CIR within and beyond the University; develop, implement, and oversee curricular and co-curricular programs to advance student learning; directly supervise and evaluate other teaching personnel and manage their reappointments; develop new programming to assist in the pedagogical training of all CIR instructors; coordinate all CIR course offerings; serve as the first point of contact for students with disciplinary concerns and for student well-being; make recommendations on how best to improve program operations; lead our PhD application clinic; develop programs to improve post-graduation placement and track these outcomes; and contribute to admissions, staff hiring, student recruitment, and alumni engagement. The SIP will be supervised by CIR's Faculty Director.

This position also includes support for professional development and the possibility of affiliate status with other academic units, such as the Department of Political Science.

Qualifications

Candidates must be at least three years post-PhD in prior to the start date. They must have a demonstrated record designing and teaching courses at the undergraduate or graduate level as a degreed professional, demonstrated experience in research and practice related to the field of International Relations, and promise of future achievement in the performance of all leadership, management, administrative, and supervisory responsibilities to a high standard of excellence.

Application Instructions

The following materials must be submitted through Interfolio at URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157717> (1) a cover letter which includes information about the applicant's prior experience with administrative duties, managing staff, and mentoring students; (2) a curriculum vitae; (3) a teaching statement describing previous experience in the classroom, in advising, and suggested course offerings; (4) a research statement; (5) at least one course syllabus; (6) an article-length writing sample on a topic of specialty in International Relations; (7) course evaluations or other evidence of past excellence in teaching or mentoring; and (8) the names and contact information for three recommenders.

Review of applications will begin November 23rd and will continue until the position is filled or the search is close.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15110

University of Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: American Politics, History & Politics, Political Thought: Historical

The Politics Department at the University of Dallas invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning fall 2025.

The Politics Program of the University of Dallas is unique in American higher education today. The program combines the study of timeless classics of Western political thought with rigorous exploration of contemporary American politics and international affairs. We focus on the great themes and issues of political thought and experience: justice, equality, liberty, morality, religion, and human nature. Through a curriculum that ranges from the Greek polis, through the great Catholic thinkers of the Middle Ages, to the politics of contemporary liberal democracies, we challenge each student to master the most rewarding political works of the Western tradition and the American experiment in self-government.

The department seeks a candidate whose primary expertise is in American Politics, but who also has a strong background in the history of political thought. In particular, the department is seeking an Americanist who can teach courses focusing on American political institutions and policies from the broader perspectives of both American political development and American political thought. The ability to teach Constitutional Law is a plus.

The teaching load is three courses per semester, Fall and Spring. All Politics faculty are expected to teach at the undergraduate, Master's, and PhD levels.

Review of applications will continue until the position is filled, but for best consideration, applications should be received by November 15, 2024.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

- ? Teaching three courses per semester, with regular offerings at the undergraduate and graduate (Master's, and PhD) levels
- ? Regular scholarly productivity in peer-reviewed venues
- ? Service to the department and the University (as needed)
- ? Advising undergraduates

- ? Participating in undergraduate comprehensive exams and graduate qualifying and comprehensive exams
- ? Mentoring PhD students

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS

- ? PhD completed by the starting date of the position

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- ? Primary specialty in American Politics with knowledge of American Political Thought and American Political Development
- ? Experience teaching American Politics at the undergraduate level
- ? Evidence of scholarly productivity
- ? Broad familiarity with the history of political thought

WHO WE ARE

The University of Dallas is a Catholic university that seeks to educate the whole person, encouraging its students to pursue wisdom, truth and virtue as the proper and primary ends of education. We have consistently ranked as one of the top regional universities in the country. All employees are expected to understand and support our Mission.

APPLICATION

Candidates should submit electronically a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, contact information for three references, teaching evaluations (if available), and a sample of scholarly writing.

All applications should be submitted online at:
<https://hr.udallas.edu/apply/>

For questions regarding this position please contact Dr. Jonathan Culp at jculp@udallas.edu.

BENEFITS

UD provides competitive pay and benefits, including eligibility to participate in medical, dental, vision, life and disability insurance; employee events; a health and wellness program; a free fitness center; competitive leave programs; tuition waiver, tuition exchange for employees and their families; and matching retirement plan contributions.

The University of Dallas seeks to recruit, develop, and retain faculty, staff and administration of the highest caliber.

The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and encourages applications from female and minority candidates and others who will enhance our community and advance our Mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15112

Gardner-Webb University

Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Science (International)/Sociology

Gardner-Webb University seeks a qualified, broadly trained individual to fill a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the area of International Relations and/or Comparative Politics in Political Science and International Affairs and Sociology programs in the Department of Social Sciences at the main campus in Boiling Springs, North Carolina to begin ideally in January 2025 (or August 2025). The successful candidate is expected to provide support and leadership in the on-going growth and rollout of the political science program.

Required Qualifications:

- Applicants must hold an advanced degree in political science, with a focus on/concentration in international relations and/or comparative politics and/or Sociology. Candidates must be qualified to teach courses in political science and sociology.
- Traditional or Graduate level teaching and mentoring experience with a record of established success with students. Teaching experience in these discipline areas is preferred.
- The candidate must be willing to conduct research in the field or related discipline. Professional development is an expectation.
- Demonstrated commitment to community outreach and engagement, as is expected of faculty at GWU.
- A track record that demonstrates exceptional organization, communication, collaboration, and interpersonal relations and the ability to effectively manage undergraduate programs.
- A deep commitment to diversity and inclusion demonstrated through pedagogy, research, and/or public engagement is a plus.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Additional preference given to candidates who are interested in and/or have experience leading Model UN. A once thriving program, we are seeking the re-launch and re-invigoration of Model UN.

Responsibilities:

- Demonstrated commitment to Christian Higher Education.
- Teach at the undergraduate level which could include courses in international politics, comparative politics, and sociology courses.
- Provide leadership, guidance and supervision to students in undergraduate programs.
- Contribute to the on-going accreditation, assessment, and evaluation processes.
- Participate in faculty committees and business of the university as requested.
- Attend monthly department, college, and university faculty meetings.
- Participate in the recruitment of students through university sponsored events.
- Establish relationships with university partners.

Application Materials include the following documents:

- Letter of interest.
- Curriculum vita.
- Statement of teaching philosophy with evidence of quality teaching.
- Three letters of reference with contact information.
- Certified transcripts of all education at the bachelor's level and above.

Questions about the program specifics or job requirements should be directed to Dr. Jennifer Buckner, Associate Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences.

The University desires to fill the position immediately. Salary is commensurate with experience. Screening of applicants will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:*Date Posted: 10/23/2024Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 15105Princeton University

Rank: Fung Global Fellows Program-Visiting Research Scholars
Specializations: Central Asia, Africa, Latin American

Princeton University is pleased to announce the call for applications to the Fung Global Fellows Program at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS). The program will select early-career scholars from around the world to be in residence at Princeton for an academic year (10 months) and to engage in research and discussion around a common theme. The fellowships will be awarded to those employed outside the United States who have a faculty appointment, a professional research appointment, or are established independent scholars. They will also be expected to return to their positions at the conclusion of the fellowship. Lastly, they must have demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievement and unusual intellectual promise. Early-career scholars will be appointed at the rank of Visiting Research Scholar.

The program for the academic year 2025-26 will focus on “Post-imperial Spaces of Amnesia.” While the current fellows are in conversation investigating the residues of colonialism in diverse parts of Asia, Africa, and Latin America, this next group will expand the conversation to examine the willed amnesia, or yet nostalgia, concerning the imperial past-in former metropolises and colonies alike, where memories of often violent processes of expropriation have frequently been distanced in time and space, erased, or are simply not recalled today. This is despite the continuum of supply and demand straddling the postcolonial moment. One might think, for example, of the global demand for products with plantation antecedents such as coffee and rubber; ongoing issues of migration, mobility and citizenship; or decisions about museums, monuments, and the content of school curricula. Just where and when does the question of the colonial past figure in the modern public sphere as governments make decisions about how to remember (or forget) while movements seek social justice or reparations? What is forgotten when something else is recalled and celebrated? Who decides when the colonial came to an end?

Applicants may address any region of the world that has had a colonial relationship, and may be from any disciplinary background in the humanities and social sciences. Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36541>. Applications are due on November 15, 2024 (11:59 p.m. EST). To be eligible, applicants must have received their Ph.D. (or equivalent) no earlier than September 1, 2015. Fellowships will be awarded on the strength of a candidate's proposed research project, the relationship of the project to the program's theme, the candidate's scholarly record and ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the program. More information: <https://fungfp.princeton.edu/applications>.

The following items must be submitted by the applicant, in English, by November 15, 2024:

- Cover letter (1.5 pages maximum)

- Curriculum Vitae (including publications)
- Research proposal (maximum of 3 pages, single spaced)
- One writing sample (article or book chapter, maximum of 50 pages)
- If an applicant is an established independent scholar, please upload a PDF stating this as the applicant's current status.
- The names and email addresses for three referees, who will be contacted automatically by the online application system with an invitation to upload their letter of recommendation to the system by the application deadline. (*Please note: all letters of reference should be submitted by your referees before the November 15, 2024 deadline.*)

Should an offer be made, successful candidates who hold faculty appointments or professional research appointments, will be required to submit an official letter from their current employer affirming that they would be permitted to accept the offer and to spend the academic year at Princeton University.

The work location for this position is in-person, on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025Application Deadline: 11/15/2024Date Posted: 10/23/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 15103American University-SIS*Rank: Postdoctoral FellowSubfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Other

The School of International Service at American University (AU) invites applications for an eighteen-month Center for Environment, Community, & Equity (CECE) Postdoctoral Fellow in Civic Environmentalism. The Post-Doctoral fellow will work on the Addressing Climate Through Our Nation's Service Corps Program under the project's Principal Investigator, Professor Dana R. Fisher. We seek a junior scholar with a deep knowledge about civic engagement and activism, and a strong background in both survey and interview research methods to join the project's research team. In addition to working with the team to collect and analyze data, and write-up the research findings, the post-doctoral fellow will support our new DataCorps Fellowship Program, which will train graduate students to evaluate civic programs that are springing up across the US to support climate work. Although the post-doctoral fellow will support DataCorps Program as fellows conduct evaluations over the summer, there are no teaching responsibilities.

We welcome applicants who possess a broad and big-picture understanding of civic engagement and environmental challenges, and the ability to engage with research and scholarship from multiple disciplines. Preference will be given to applicants with experience working on actionable research and strong intrapersonal skills, with a record of published research.

We especially encourage applications from individuals from sectors of the population historically underrepresented on the professorial faculties of U.S. colleges and universities. The position begins on January 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal for additional time.

The postdoctoral fellow should reside in the D.C. metropolitan area and be an active participant in SIS' vibrant intellectual community. Other fellowship expectations include contributing to the day-to-day activities at the Center for Environment, Community, & Equity

(CECE), including coordinating environmental events, hosting guests, writing for the CECE Clearinghouse, and providing other administrative support (for up to 25% of the fellow's time).

Applicants should hold a PhD or the highest equivalent degree in any discipline connected to the social sciences by the start date, though ABD applications will be considered. Annual salary: $70,000 plus benefits. Review of applications will begin on November 4, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted electronically via the Workday application system (https://american.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/AU/job/Main-Campus-Washington-DC/CECE-Postdoctoral-Fellow\_R1982). Applications should include the following:

- Cover letter detailing the applicant's research background and expertise
- Curriculum vitae
- Sample publications
- Brief research statement including research agenda
- Statement describing past examples of your contributions to diversity and inclusion in your scholarship, the classroom and/or in other professional settings.
- The names and email addresses of three references (the Workday system will contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation) and whom the committee may contact.

Queries about the search may be sent to Professor Dana Fisher (drfisher@american.edu). Queries about the online application system may be sent to SIS faculty affairs manager Alissa Iwaniuk (aiwaniuk@american.edu).

American University is a private institution of higher education in the nation's capital (Please visit www.american.edu for more information). American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs with 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. SIS faculty produce transformational research and our prime location provides opportunities for collaboration with professionals in government, the private sector, and think tanks and other non-profits. Learn more about SIS at www.american.edu/sis.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities.

American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus. To ensure the health and safety of our community, American University requires that all faculty and staff are vaccinated for Covid-19. To learn more about American University's health and safety directives please click here: <https://www.american.edu/hr/how-we-work/vaccinations.cfm>

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on the successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/22/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15096

American University of Sharjah

Rank: Faculty Position in Political Science

The Department of International Studies at American University of Sharjah in the United Arab Emirates seeks to hire a full-time, rolling-track faculty member in political science at the Assistant Professor level. We welcome applications from candidates working in comparative politics and/or international relations. We are particularly interested in candidates with strong expertise in quantitative methods, and regional emphasis on Africa or East Asia or Southeast Asia.

Candidates must be able to teach a range of introductory courses in political science as well as upper-level undergraduate courses in their specialty, including social science methods. The department has also recently launched a Master of Arts in International Studies program, and the successful candidate will have the opportunity to teach master's-level courses, as well as advise graduate students and develop courses in the program.

Successful candidates must have a PhD in Political Science (or in politics, international relations, government) at the time of appointment, a record of excellent teaching, and an active research agenda. The successful candidate will join AUS and reside in the UAE starting in August 2025. All department members are expected to contribute to a range of faculty and student-oriented service activities in what is a vibrant interdisciplinary department. The regular teaching load for research-active faculty is 3-3, with support for conference, research travel and access to internal research grants.

As a university formed on the American model and with English as the language of instruction, American University of Sharjah will give priority to candidates who have substantial experience in American models of higher education.

The complete application will include the following documents, uploaded in separate files: a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, a list of three referees with contact information, one chapter/article length publication sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as sample syllabi and, if available, student evaluations. Please apply online at <https://forms.aus.edu/242803550089053?X=Political%20Science%20&rank38=Assistant%20Professor>.

Situated near Sharjah International Airport in the expansive University City area, and only 30 minutes from Dubai International Airport, AUS is located in a dynamic and cosmopolitan area that includes abundant opportunities for travel, entertainment, cultural experiences and natural beauty. Salary and benefits are competitive.

American University of Sharjah is a not-for-profit, independent, co-educational institution of higher education formed on American models but thoroughly grounded in Arab culture. Located in University City, Sharjah, AUS offers undergraduate and graduate degree programs to more than 5,800 students from approximately 90 nations. English is the language of instruction and the workplace. AUS has been ranked among the top ten Arab universities by QS World University Rankings every year for the past nine consecutive years.

AUS is licensed and its programs are accredited by the Commission for Academic Accreditation of the Ministry of Education's Higher Education Affairs Division in the United Arab Emirates. AUS has been accredited in the United States of America by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (1007 North Orange Street, 4th Floor, MB #166, Wilmington, DE 19801 USA) since June 2004.

You are welcome to contact Dr. Giacomo Chiozza, chair of the search committee, at gchiozza@aus.edu or Dr. Yuting Wang, Head of Department, at ywang@aus.edu with any questions about the position.

Application review will begin on January 15, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15087

Dartmouth College

Rank: Fellows Program in U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security.

The John Sloan Dickey Center for International Understanding at Dartmouth College invites applications for the 2025-26 E. John Rosenwald, Jr. '52 TU'53 Fellows Program in U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security. We welcome applications from historians, political scientists, and other scholars whose research bears directly on foreign policy, international security or international history. We welcome applications from any untenured scholar. Fellows typically include a mix of recent Ph.D recipients as well as tenure-track faculty on leave from other institutions.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of (i) significance of the applicant's research for advancing knowledge about U.S. foreign policy and international security; (ii) ability of the applicant to benefit from interaction with and mentoring from Dartmouth faculty in Government, History, or other relevant departments; and (iii) ability of the applicant to contribute to Dartmouth's community.

Fellows receive competitive stipends, research support, and benefits, comparable to those offered by other fellowship programs. Fellows are expected to be in residence from September 2025 through June 2026 in order to participate in Dickey Center seminars and to contribute to Dartmouth's community more broadly.

Dartmouth is committed to academic excellence and encourages the open exchange of ideas within a culture of mutual respect. People with different backgrounds, life experiences, and perspectives make the Dartmouth community diverse, which enhances academic excellence. Applicants should address in their cover letter how their research, teaching, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitment to diversity in service of academic excellence.

Qualifications

Applicants should hold a Ph.D, or equivalent degree by the start of their appointment. Relevant disciplines include political science, history, or others if the applicant's research relates directly to foreign policy, international security or international history.

Application Instructions

Please submit all materials electronically through Interfolio by Thursday, December 19, 2024 at 11:59pm EST to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157321>

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. An abstract (200 words max.) describing the applicant's principal research project
4. A statement (1,500 words max.) describing the applicant's research agenda for the next year
5. Writing sample (50 pp. max)
6. Two confidential letters of reference

If you have any questions please reach out to Thomas K. Candon (Thomas.K.Candon@dartmouth.edu)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 12/19/2024

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15091

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China (CCC) at Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for the 2025-2026 academic year. The ideal candidate is an outstanding recent PhD who focuses on contemporary China from a social science disciplinary perspective. The appointment will be made for one year with the possibility of renewal for a second year based on performance and availability of funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2025. The successful candidate will be expected to be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The associate will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. The search is limited to applicants with less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36741>. The following application items are required and should be uploaded by the applicant.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
4. Contact information for two references.
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Celine Li at celineli@princeton.edu.

More information about the Center on Contemporary China may be found at <https://ccc.princeton.edu>.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/21/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15095

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Specializations: International Security, International Law & Organizations, History & Politics

The Reimagining World Order Research Community (RWO) at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for the 2025-2026 academic year. The ideal candidate is an exceptional recent PhD who is researching issues relating to the theory, history, and politics of international order in the fields of history and political science. Areas of special interest include the rise and decline of international order, the order-building grand strategies of major states, the logic and character of liberal international order, and non-Western conceptions of world order. Applicants must demonstrate outstanding scholarly achievement and excellence in teaching. Eligible candidates must have less than three years postdoctoral experience prior to preferred start date of September 1, 2025, and must not currently hold a tenure-track or permanent academic position. The appointment is for one year (12 months) with the possibility of renewal for a second year based on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

The fellowship's responsibilities include co-teaching (one semester-long course in Spring 2026), and actively participating in research, discussions, and scholarly collaborations within the RWO Research Community. In addition, the successful candidate may have the opportunity to advise students in his/her specialty or related areas. When teaching, the successful candidate will carry a secondary teaching rank. Any teaching role is contingent on sufficient course enrollments and the prior approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

In addition to salary and benefits, the program will provide the Fellow with a research fund of $3,000 per year.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36761>. Applications are due by December 15, 2024 (11:59 p.m. EST). The following application items should be uploaded by the applicant:

- *Cover letter
- *Curriculum vitae
- *Dissertation abstract
- *Writing sample: one chapter of the dissertation or one published article related to the dissertation topic
- *Details of prior courses taught and evaluation results if available
- *Document confirming your completion of all requirements for the PhD degree
- *Names and email addresses for three references. References will be contacted only for those who advance to the short list of candidates.

Due to the anticipated volume of applications, only final candidates will be contacted. Further information about the RWO Community can be found at: <https://rwo.princeton.edu/>.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Nikki Woolward, woolward@princeton.edu.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person, on campus at Princeton University.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/15/2024
Date Posted: 10/21/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15089

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor; Farzaneh Family Assistant/Associate Professor of Iranian Studies

Specializations: Middle East, Political Economy, Political Development

General Description:

The David L. Boren College of International Studies at the University of Oklahoma seeks applicants for a full-time Farzaneh Family Professor of Iranian Studies, at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor (tenure-track or tenured), with a start date of August 15, 2025. The College encourages applications from all interested and qualified parties. Our mission statement and other information can be found at www.ou.edu/cis.

We seek a scholar of Iranian Studies working in the Political Science subfields of International Relations and/or Comparative Politics. While the position is open with respect to substantive specialization within these subfields, we have particular interest in candidates with research interests in comparative and/or international political economy, political/economic development, international trade, natural resource economies, or economic inequality.

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and MA-level courses in Iranian Studies, as well as courses within their areas of specialization, particularly as they relate to Iran and the broader Persian Gulf region. The College has particular teaching needs in the subjects of the politics and economics of Iran, US-Iran relations, as well as international political economy, political economy of development, and international trade.

The successful candidate will also be expected to develop and maintain a consistent research agenda leading to high-quality academic publications and will have an opportunity to take an engaged role in the Farzaneh Family Center for Iranian and Persian Gulf Studies (<https://www.ou.edu/cis/research/farzaneh-family-center>).

The Boren College of International Studies offers nine undergraduate degrees to approximately 300 majors and minors, an on-campus MA in International Studies with 25 students, and an online MA in Global Affairs with over 150 students. The College hosts a variety of research centers and has 23 full-time faculty with combined strengths in international security, development, and area studies (<https://www.ou.edu/cis>).

Required and Preferred Qualifications:

Required:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations in hand or expected by time of appointment.

- Demonstrated ability to conduct high-quality research in their areas of expertise related to Iranian / Persian Gulf Studies.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to teach courses in Iranian Studies, International Relations and/or Comparative Politics.

Preferences (Not Required):

- One or more publications in relevant peer-reviewed outlets and additional ongoing research.
- Research expertise in comparative and/or international political economy, political/economic development, international trade, natural resource economies, or economic inequality.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to generate external research funding.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to participate in the programming activities of the Farzaneh Center.
- Working proficiency in Persian.
- Excellence in teaching and in supporting student success.

Application Instructions:

Applicants are invited to submit a cover letter, current C.V., writing sample, and list of three potential academic references to <http://apply.interfolio.com/156855>. The cover letter may address examples of the candidate's approach to teaching, inclusive excellence, research, service, and student mentorship. Additional materials may be requested at a later date. The search will remain open until filled.

Contact Person and Application Review Date:

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on November 18, 2024.

Inquiries should be directed to the search committee chair:
Dr. Eric Heinze, Professor of International Relations
University of Oklahoma
ehinze@ou.edu

Mission of the University of Oklahoma

The Mission of the University of Oklahoma is to provide the best possible educational experience for our students through excellence in teaching, research and creative activity, and service to the state and society.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Why You Belong at the University of Oklahoma

The University of Oklahoma, fosters an inclusive culture of respect and civility, belonging, and access, which are essential to our collective pursuit of excellence and our determination to change lives. The unique talents, perspectives, and experiences of our community enrich the learning, and working environment at OU, inspiring us to harness our innovation, creativity, and collaboration for the advancement of people everywhere.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15085

Boston University Global Development Policy Center

Rank: 2025-2026 Fellows Program

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

The Boston University Global Development Policy Center is seeking applications for the 2025-2026 Fellows Program in two of its research initiatives: the Global China Initiative and the Global Economic Governance Initiative. The GDP Center is a policy-oriented research center working to advance financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability across the globe through rigorous interdisciplinary research, policy engagement and strategic communications.

The Global China Initiative

The Global China Fellows Program provides a one-of-a-kind opportunity to engage and collaborate with GDP Center researchers, BU faculty members and Global South-based institutions to conduct policy-oriented research on China's overseas economic activity and engagement with international institutions to advance financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability. Global China Fellows are paired with a BU faculty member or GDP Center Senior Academic Researcher under one of the four GCI workstreams: Data Analysis for Transparency and Accountability (D.A.T.A.); Forestry, Agriculture, Indigenous Rights and the Belt and Road Initiative (FAIR-BRI); Energy and Climate; and China and the International Financial Architecture (CHIFA). Fellows contribute to GCI research projects while receiving guidance and support on their own independent research projects. Fellows are expected to produce one GCI working paper per appointment year.

Required Qualifications:

- Pre-doctoral applicants must have completed their qualification/comprehensive exams and defended their dissertation proposal; post-doctoral applicants must have successfully defended their dissertation by August 2025;
- Strong research interest and expertise in China's overseas economic activities and engagement with international institutions.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience in priority geographical regions of interest, in addition to China, such as Africa, Latin America and Southeast Asia;
- Fluency in Chinese or a language from one of the priority regions;
- Experience researching the relationship between China's overseas engagement and the following issues is most preferred:
  - o The role of China and Chinese development finance institutions in expanding energy access and renewable energy, decarbonization and addressing climate change;
  - o Biodiversity and Indigenous Lands, geolocation and mapping;
  - o International economic institutions, reform of the global sovereign debt architecture, debt sustainability, the Global Financial Safety Net and RMB internationalization.
- The GDP Center accepts applications from scholars of all disciplinary backgrounds, especially the natural and social sciences, engineering and business. Quantitative methodological and modeling expertise are strongly preferred.

The Global Economic Governance Initiative

The Global Economic Governance Initiative (GEGI) advances policy-oriented research to enable the international financial architecture to foster financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability across the globe. Within GEGI, research is conducted across three thematic programs: climate and development finance, financial stability and development, and trade and investment rules. GEGI also focuses on emerging and cross-cutting challenges such as just transitions, financial stability and climate change. The Initiative hosts flagship programs, such as the Working Group on Trade Treaties and Access to Medicines and the Task Force on Climate, Development and the International Monetary Fund.

The Global Economic Governance Fellows Program offers the opportunity to conduct independent research in line with GEGI's research areas and participate in GEGI's research projects, policy engagement and Center-wide activities. Fellows will be expected to support research activities in one or more of the thematic programs, with specific focus on:

- The role of development banks (multilateral, regional or national) in enhancing climate and development action, particularly in mobilizing resources and facilitating a just transition away from fossil fuels;
- The intersection of the international trade regime with climate change (including green industrialization strategies) and access to medicines; and
- Financial stability and development, with a focus on reform of the global debt architecture to be fit-for-purpose, the Global Financial Safety Net and the International Monetary Fund.

Fellows contribute to GEGI research projects while receiving guidance and support on their own independent research projects. Fellows are expected to produce one GEGI working paper per appointment year.

Applicant Qualifications:

- Enrolled in or graduated from a PhD program. Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled in doctoral programs. The GDP Center will accept applications from all disciplines, especially the natural and social sciences, engineering and business.
- Strong research interest in one or more of the GEGI areas of focus: development finance institutions, trade and investment rules, and financial stability.
- Quantitative and/or qualitative methodological expertise as appropriate, specifically with Excel and Tableau.

To Apply

The majority of the fellowships will be awarded for the 2025-2026 academic year. Fellows will receive a competitive and modest stipend funding for data collection and/or fieldwork and potentially be eligible for reimbursement for relocation expenses. This fellowship program is in-person at the GDP Center.

Interested applicants should prepare following materials in one PDF:

- A cover letter that demonstrates interest and experience in research relevant to their chosen initiative.
- A current curriculum vitae.
- A 1-2 page individual working paper proposal that outlines the research question(s), methodology, research plan and its significance.
- A writing sample that reflects the candidate's research interests (no more than 30 pages)
- Contact information for two references.

For applicants interested in the Global China Initiative, please send these materials to gci@bu.edu with the subject line "&lt;&lt;LastName_FirstName&gt;&gt; GCI Fellow Application 2025-2026?"

For applicants interested in the Global Economic Governance Initiative, please send these materials to gegi@bu.edu with the subject line "&lt;&lt;LastName_FirstName&gt;&gt; GEGI Fellow Application 2025-2026?"

The majority of the fellowships will be awarded for the 2025-2026 academic year. Fellows will receive a competitive and modest stipend funding for data collection and/or fieldwork and potentially be eligible for reimbursement for relocation expenses. This fellowship program is in-person at the GDP Center.

Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until December 20, 2024. Applicants are encouraged to apply early. Due to the volume of applicants, only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

For International candidates: International candidates will need express approval from their sponsoring institution stating that the potential fellow is allowed to earn income from another institution. This is especially important for international students with J-1 visas. Note: If you do not currently have a valid US scholar visa, certain research positions at Boston University qualify for immigration sponsorship. Prospective scholars should first establish their potential affiliation with the GDP Center as a pre- or post-doctoral fellow and clarify the terms of their appointment. BU's International Students and Scholars Office (ISSO) will work with the prospective scholar and the GDP Center to evaluate which immigration classification is most appropriate. The ISSO will consider various factors such as the appointment/affiliation terms, the scholar's educational achievements and US immigration history.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15076

National Taiwan University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant / Associate Professor/Professor

Sponsored by Taiwan's National Development Fund and several internationally renowned enterprises (including TSMC), School of Political Science and Economics (SPE) at National Taiwan University aims to develop first tier research of international political economy. The school takes an interdisciplinary approach and incorporates scholars from the fields of political science, economics, and finance. Two master programs, MA in Political Economy, and MA in Finance, will start to enroll students in fall 2025.

The school invites applications for several faculty positions at the assistant professor level (or above). Fields of specialization include international political economy and comparative political economy. Candidates must demonstrate strong ability in research and teaching, and we are particularly looking for applicants who are interdisciplinary in nature, and are willing to incorporate the knowledge of science and advanced technology into their research. Candidates should obtain their Ph.D. degrees before July, 2025. SPE is an all English program.

All interviews will be conducted virtually. Applications must arrive by Dec 15, 2024 to ensure full consideration. Positions are open until filled.

Application Requirements:

Letters of Reference
 Research Papers
 Transcripts
 Job Market Paper
 Cover Letter
 CV

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 12/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15079

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: CFR 2025-26 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy

Specializations: International Security, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) is seeking applicants for its 2025–26 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship. The fellowship offers younger scholars studying nuclear security issues the opportunity to conduct policy-relevant research at CFR's New York or Washington, DC, offices. CFR awards up to two fellowships annually.

The fellowship begins in September 2025 and runs for twelve months.

How to Apply:

Program details, eligibility requirements, and the online application can be found at: www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship. Applicants must be U.S. citizens.

The deadline to apply is December 2, 2024. If you have questions about the fellowship, please email fellowships@cfr.org.

CFR has a long-standing commitment to making the foreign policy community in the United States more representative of American society as a whole and actively seeks fellowship candidates from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15065

Kennesaw State University

Rank: Lecturer of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

About Us

For more than 60 years, Kennesaw State University has been known for its entrepreneurial spirit and sense of community. A leader in innovative teaching and learning, Kennesaw State is located just north of Atlanta and combines a suburban setting on two metro-Atlanta campuses in Kennesaw and Marietta. As one of Georgia's largest universities, Kennesaw State offers undergraduate and graduate degrees, including a growing number of doctoral programs to over 46,000 students. Our high-impact research, and Division I athletics also draw students from throughout the region and across the globe. A member of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State is a Carnegie-designated doctoral research institution (R2) committed to becoming a world-class academic institution positioned to broaden its academic and research missions and expand its scope on a local, regional, and national level.

Our vibrant culture, career opportunities, mission and values and rich benefits make us an employer of choice. As part of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State exemplifies the power and promise of a student-centered, research-driven university. Our institutional values are respect, integrity, collaboration, inclusivity and accountability. In addition, Kennesaw State supports the University of Georgia's core values of accountability, excellence, integrity, and respect. For more information, visit <https://www.kennesaw.edu/>.

Location

Our Kennesaw campus is located at 1000 Chastain Road NW, Kennesaw, GA 30144. Our Marietta campus is located at 1100 South Marietta Parkway, Marietta, GA 30060.

Department Information

The School of Government and International Affairs is committed to excellence in teaching, learning, research, and service. We value and encourage engagement with the community at the local, national, and global levels. Our primary goal is to provide our students with the necessary academic and communication skills, knowledge base, and analytical abilities to understand political systems and critical issues, and to be involved citizens and high-performing professionals in their chosen careers. Through our various undergraduate and graduate programs and outreach activities, the faculty and students work together to engage in independent scholarship and professional development in areas such as domestic and international politics and policy, and public administration.

With more than 400 full-time faculty and 8,500 degree-seeking students, the Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences prepares the next generation of leaders in a wide array of fields to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century and become contributing citizens in a global society. The home of three Schools and eight Departments, the College offers more than 80 graduate and undergraduate programs of study in both traditional and interdisciplinary fields. RCHSS provides students experiential learning opportunities to enable them to develop leadership, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills, as well as a strong sense of civic engagement.

The College and the School are committed to the success of our students, faculty, staff, and communities. We seek candidates whose experience has prepared them to fulfill that commitment to our students, partners, and stakeholders effectively.

Job Summary

Kennesaw State University is now accepting applications for a full-time, non-tenure track faculty position as Lecturer of Political Science in the School of Government and International Affairs with a preferred start date of August 2025. This is a nine-month contracted position. This position is for work to be performed in the state of Georgia.

Responsibilities

A commitment to excellence in teaching and service to the university, department and/or discipline is expected of all non-tenure track faculty. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

Teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses in Political Science
 Service to department, college, University, and profession
 Teaching assignments will be based on earned degrees and SACSCOC Faculty Credentials Guidelines.

Required Qualifications

To teach undergraduate courses:

A minimum of a Master's degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a closely related discipline is required.

OR

A minimum of a Master's degree, or the foreign equivalent, in a non-related discipline with 18 graduate credit hours in the teaching discipline is required.

To teach graduate courses:

A Terminal/Doctorate degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a related discipline is required.

Preferred Qualifications

Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field
Experience in teaching in-person, on-line or hybrid courses and willingness to teach in large classes
Evidence of teaching excellence in a wide variety of fields in political science
Record of past teaching at undergraduate and/or graduate level
Ability to teach introductory courses in Political Science
Experience in teaching American government, comparative politics, and international relations
Ability to mentor undergraduate research

Required Documents to Attach

CV

Cover Letter

Evidence of Successful Teaching (Upload as Additional Documents)
Unofficial Transcripts (Official Transcripts and Official International Course-by-Course Evaluations Due Upon Hire)
Three Letters of Recommendations
Names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 references
Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Apply Before Date

Review of applications will begin immediately. For full consideration, please apply by December 15, 2024.

You can view and apply for this job at: https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=43000&JobOpeningId=278051&PostingSeq=1

Contact Information

For questions about this faculty opening, please contact Dr. April Johnson at ajohn551@kennesaw.edu.

For technical support or assistance completing a job application, please contact the Shared Services Center at (877) 251-2644 or oneusgsupport@usg.edu.

For questions about a specific job posting at Kennesaw State University, please contact the search chair listed under the contact information section on each posting. For general questions about faculty jobs please email facultyjobs@kennesaw.edu.

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18-personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Kennesaw State University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for living, work and study. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, Board of Regents policy, and University policy, the University prohibits harassment of or discrimination against any person because of race, color, sex (including sexual harassment, pregnancy, and medical conditions related to pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or veteran or military status by any member of the KSU Community on campus, in connection with a University program or activity, or in a manner that creates a hostile environment for members of the KSU community.

For additional information on this policy, or to file a complaint under the provisions of this policy, students, employees, applicants for employment or admission or other third parties should contact the Office of Institutional Equity at English Building, Suite 225, eeo@kennesaw.edu.

Background Check

Per the University System of Georgia background check policy, all final candidates will be required to consent to a criminal background investigation. Final candidates may be asked to disclose criminal record history during the initial screening process and prior to a conditional offer of employment. Applicants for positions of trust with screening results which confirm a disqualifying criminal history will be immediately disqualified from employment eligibility.

All applicants are required to include professional references as part of their application process. Some positions may require additional job-based screenings such as motor vehicle report, credit check, pre-employment drug screening and/or verification of academic credentials.

https://www.usg.edu/hr/assets/hr/hrap\_manual/HRAP\_Background\_Investigation\_Employment.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15069

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science (Political Science) - Dr. Sujeong Shim and Dr. Muhammet Bas

We are inviting applications for a 3-year Post-Doctoral Associate in the Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi from individuals who recently have or will soon receive a PhD in Political Science. The appointment will begin September 1, 2025, subject to final budget approval.

The post-doctoral associate will spend half their time on independent research, and half their time on collaborative research with Professors Sujeong Shim and Muhammet Bas. The collaborative research will be broadly on global economic cooperation and emerging challenges to it.

We seek a candidate who studies international political economy and/or international institutions, and their interactions with security domains; is trained well in quantitative research methods; and has experience in managing and analyzing data. Experience in survey research is not mandatory but is appreciated. Example focus areas include, but not limited to, politics of sovereign financing, geopolitics of different types of foreign aid, and the political economy of the environment.

The position does not require teaching, but it may be possible to get teaching experience for compensation. You would join a group of over 20 post-doctoral fellows and 70 faculty in the Division of Social Science.

For consideration, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae with full publication list, statement of research interests, and two letters of reference, all in PDF format. If you have any questions, please email Professors Shim and Bas at ss17029@nyu.edu and mbas@nyu.edu.

Priority will be given to applications submitted by December 1, 2024. However, we will continue to accept applications after the deadline until the position is filled.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Working for NYUAD

We offer a comprehensive benefits package. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi. It includes a competitive salary; housing and transportation allowances; educational assistance for your dependents attending school in the UAE; and access to health and wellness services. Click here for more information on benefits for you and your family.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 5/30/2025

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15064

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty - Digital Systems and International Affairs

Specializations: Science & Technology, Political Development, International Security

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs (<https://inta.gatech.edu/>) at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta, Georgia invites applications for multiple open rank, tenure-track faculty positions in the areas of Digital Systems and International Affairs. These appointments are part of a strategic cluster hire initiative coordinated with the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy. The expected start date is Fall 2025. Scholars with a research specialization at the intersection of international affairs and digital systems are encouraged to apply. Potential research topics of interest include but are not limited to the security, governance, economic, privacy, resilience, justice and equity, development, or geographical aspects of information technology, communication infrastructure, digital devices, data systems, artificial intelligence, quantum computing, synthetic biology, or augmented reality. We invite applicants with disciplinary backgrounds in political science, international relations, sociology, STS, history, public policy, and interdisciplinary researchers with backgrounds at the intersections of computing and social sciences.

Applicants to this cluster hire can be considered for joint appointments including with the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy within the College of Computing. Specifics of any joint appointment will be based upon the needs of the schools and the intellectual fit of the applicant.

The job advertisement is posted in CAREERS and please see the link below:

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS.CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=03000&JobOpeningId=278163&PostingSeq=1

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15063

Goucher College

Rank: Open Rank (Assistant or Associate) Professor of Int'l Relations

Specializations: Latin American, Africa, Middle East

Since its founding in 1885, Goucher College has been a place of innovation and excellence. As a private, non-profit liberal arts college of approximately 1,000 undergraduate and 600 graduate students, Goucher is dedicated to teaching students to become complex problem-solvers prepared for the jobs of the future. Small class sizes, a rigorous curriculum, and dedicated faculty and staff allow for personalized mentorship of each student. Named one of the most innovative colleges in the country by U.S. News & World Report, Goucher is a leader in global education and was one of the first, and remains one of the only, colleges in the U.S. to provide 100% of its students with the opportunity to study abroad at no additional charge.

We invite applications for a full-time tenure-track assistant or associate professor in international relations who will also direct programming for the Sarah T. Hughes Field Politics Center in a new global direction, beginning in the 2025-26 academic year. We seek candidates with expertise in Latin American Politics, African Politics, or Middle East Politics who can also teach the core IR courses: Approaches to International Relations; International Political Economy; and the capstone Seminar in Theories of International Relations. The position carries a 3/2 teaching load with release time for directing the Sarah T. Hughes Field Politics Center.

The Sarah T. Hughes Field Politics Center was established with a goal of connecting the classroom and liberal arts education of Goucher College students with the world of practical politics and public affairs. We are excited for the Center to launch new programming with an emphasis on global politics that would be attractive to students in the Department of Political Science and International Relations.

Successful applicants will have teaching experience and demonstrate student-centered teaching and learning. It is helpful to have a familiarity with inclusive pedagogies that support equity and student success. Applicants should also demonstrate strong potential to be active scholars. Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD candidates with a defense date prior to August 2025 will be considered.

Minimum Requirements:

Ph.D., but ABD candidates with a defense date prior to August 2025 will be considered.

Teaching experience

Preferred Qualifications:

Experience with student-centered programming
Previous experience working for/with international organizations and/or non-governmental organizations

Salary:

Assistant: $60,753-70,878

Associate: $72,000-82,827

Application Instructions:

Interested applicants must apply online at: https://goucher.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Goucher\_Careers/details/Open-Rank--Assistant-or-Associate--Professor-of-International-Relations\_R-0000000524

Review of applications will begin on November 8, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, please submit the following application materials online:

- (1) Curriculum vita
- (2) Cover letter
- (3) Statement of commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, addressing their ability to work across diverse groups and contribute to inclusivity in the campus community
- (4) Statement of teaching philosophy that includes teaching interests, areas of expertise, and where they can contribute within our programs

- (5) Statement outlining a vision for the Hughes Field Politics Center in a transnational context
- (6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available)

Goucher College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15057

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Universidad Católica del Uruguay calls for applications to fill a position of Assistant Professor (Full time) at its Department of Social Sciences. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. of be near completion (July 2025) in Sociology or Political Science, but candidates in other social science disciplines such as Demography, Human Geography or Criminology are also encouraged to apply. Candidates may be specialized in any substantive subarea (for example, research methods, public policy, social stratification, socioeconomic inequalities, political economy, or comparative politics).

Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching, an active substantive research agenda, and a demonstrated ability to publish and teach in English and Spanish. Successful candidates are expected to work full-time (160 hours per month) and start working in February or August 2025.

Applications will start being analyzed on October 30, 2024, but applications received after that will still be considered until the position is filled or the university closes the call. A complete application must contain (1) a cover letter, (2) CV, (3) an example of an undergraduate course program that the candidate would be able to teach, (4) up to 2 examples of academic research work, (5) teacher evaluations, and (6) three letters of recommendation. The application should be made electronically (<https://bpm.ucu.edu.uy/public/01LPOSD>). Letters of recommendation must be directly sent by their author to the following email: ines.fynn@ucu.edu.uy (Ref: LLAMACA-257–Letter of recommendation for [Name Last name]).

The selection process will consist on the following stages. First, a short list of candidates will be selected to be interviewed by the Selection Committee in person or via videoconference in case of residing abroad. Then, 3 shortlisted candidates will be invited to the Montevideo campus to present their research and hold interviews with members of the Department and other authorities. The selection committee may request from the candidates, at any time during the process, additional materials, or the corresponding accreditations. The decisions of the selection committee will be final. The Universidad Católica del Uruguay reserves the right not to hire any candidates without responsibility of any kind at its own expense.

For additional information, applicants may contact the Department's Chair, Rosario Queirolo (rosario.queirolo@ucu.edu.uy).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15054

Kennesaw State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

About Us

For more than 60 years, Kennesaw State University has been known for its entrepreneurial spirit and sense of community. A leader in innovative teaching and learning, Kennesaw State is located just north of Atlanta and combines a suburban setting on two metro-Atlanta campuses in Kennesaw and Marietta. As one of Georgia's largest universities, Kennesaw State offers undergraduate and graduate degrees, including a growing number of doctoral programs to over 46,000 students. Our high-impact research, and Division I athletics also draw students from throughout the region and across the globe. A member of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State is a Carnegie-designated doctoral research institution (R2) committed to becoming a world-class academic institution positioned to broaden its academic and research missions and expand its scope on a local, regional, and national level.

Our vibrant culture, career opportunities, mission and values and rich benefits make us an employer of choice. As part of the University System of Georgia, Kennesaw State exemplifies the power and promise of a student-centered, research-driven university. Our institutional values are respect, integrity, collaboration, inclusivity and accountability. In addition, Kennesaw State supports the University of Georgia's core values of accountability, excellence, integrity, and respect. For more information, visit <https://www.kennesaw.edu/>.

Location

Our Kennesaw campus is located at 1000 Chastain Road NW, Kennesaw, GA 30144. Our Marietta campus is located at 1100 South Marietta Parkway, Marietta, GA 30060.

Department Information

The School of Government and International Affairs is committed to excellence in teaching, learning, research, and service. We value and encourage engagement with the community at the local, national, and global levels. Our primary goal is to provide our students with the necessary academic and communication skills, knowledge base, and analytical abilities to understand political systems and critical issues, and to be involved citizens and high-performing professionals in their chosen careers. Through our various undergraduate and graduate programs and outreach activities, the faculty and students work together to engage in independent scholarship and professional development in areas such as domestic and international politics and policy, and public administration.

With more than 400 full-time faculty and 8,500 degree-seeking students, the Norman J. Radow College of Humanities and Social Sciences prepares the next generation of leaders in a wide array of fields to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century and become contributing citizens in a global society. The home of three Schools and eight Departments, the College offers more than 80 graduate and undergraduate programs of study in both traditional and interdisciplinary fields. RCHSS provides students experiential learning opportunities to enable them to develop leadership, problem-solving, and critical thinking skills, as well as a strong sense of civic engagement.

The College and the School are committed to the success of our students, faculty, staff, and communities. We seek candidates whose experience has prepared them to fulfill that commitment to our students, partners, and stakeholders effectively.

Job Summary

Kennesaw State University is now accepting applications for a full-time, tenure track faculty position as Assistant Professor of Political Science in the School of Government and International Affairs with a preferred start date of August 2025. This is a nine-month contracted position. This position is for work to be performed in the state of Georgia.

Responsibilities

Teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses in the area of East Asian Politics, Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. Service to Department, College, University, and profession. Scholarship/Research expectations: Maintaining a steady research and publication agenda on Asian politics and pursuing extramural funding opportunities. Teaching assignments will be based on earned degrees and SACSCOC Faculty Credentials Guidelines.

Required Qualifications

A Doctorate degree, or the foreign equivalent, in Political Science or a related discipline, is required. The required degree must be earned by the start date. Experience teaching in-person, on-line or hybrid courses and willingness to teach in large classes. Evidence of scholarship activities pertaining to East Asian politics.

Preferred Qualifications

Record of past teaching at undergraduate and/or graduate level
Likelihood of obtaining extramural funding
Ability to teach introductory courses in Political Science
Fieldwork research experience in East Asia or language proficiency in one of the East Asian languages

Required Documents to Attach

1. CV
2. Cover Letter
3. Statement of Research Interests
4. Unofficial Transcripts (Official Transcripts and Official International Course-by-Course Evaluations Due Upon Hire)
5. Names, phone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 references

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Optional documents to include:

Evidence of successful teaching

Apply Before Date

Review of applications will begin immediately. For full consideration, please apply by December 1, 2024.

You can view and apply for this job at: https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=43000&JobOpeningId=277858&PostingSeq=1

Contact Information

For questions about this faculty opening, please contact Dr. Thomas Rotnem, Search Committee Chair, trotnem@kennesaw.edu.

For technical support or assistance completing a job application, please contact the Shared Services Center at (877) 251-2644 or oneusgsupport@usg.edu.

For questions about a specific job posting at Kennesaw State University, please contact the search chair listed under the contact information section on each posting. For general questions about faculty jobs please email facultyjobs@kennesaw.edu.

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Kennesaw State University is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for living, work and study. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, Board of Regents policy, and University policy, the University prohibits harassment of or discrimination against any person because of race, color, sex (including sexual harassment, pregnancy, and medical conditions related to pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, or veteran or military status by any member of the KSU Community on campus, in connection with a University program or activity, or in a manner that creates a hostile environment for members of the KSU community.

For additional information on this policy, or to file a complaint under the provisions of this policy, students, employees, applicants for employment or admission or other third parties should contact the Office of Institutional Equity at English Building, Suite 225, eeo@kennesaw.edu.

Background Check

Per the University System of Georgia background check policy, all final candidates will be required to consent to a criminal background investigation. Final candidates may be asked to disclose criminal record history during the initial screening process and prior to a conditional offer of employment. Applicants for positions of trust with screening results which confirm a disqualifying criminal history will be immediately disqualified from employment eligibility.

All applicants are required to include professional references as part of their application process. Some positions may require additional job-based screenings such as motor vehicle report, credit check, pre-employment drug screening and/or verification of academic credentials.

https://www.usg.edu/hr/assets/hr/hrap\_manual/HRAP\_Background\_Investigation\_Employment.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15037

Georgetown University

Rank: Open Rank Professor in International Security

Open Rank Professor in International Security

Georgetown University: Main Campus: Walsh School of Foreign Service

Location: Washington, DC

Open Date: Oct 03, 2024

Deadline: Nov 03, 2025 at 11:59 PM Eastern Time

Description

The <https://sfs.georgetown.edu> at <https://georgetown.eduseeks> qualified applicants for a tenured associate or full professor, or tenure-track assistant professor, in security studies. The successful candidate will serve as a core faculty member of the Security Studies Program (SSP) of the SFS.

Ideal candidates will have an active research agenda in security studies, with expertise in either traditional security areas (such as great power politics, military conflict, etc.) or non-traditional ones (such as peace and reconciliation, human security, etc.), or both. Competitive candidates will have a Ph.D. in international security or a related field, and the ability to teach core security courses as well as more specialized courses in their areas of expertise. We encourage candidates from multiple disciplines to apply, including but not limited to international relations, political science, history, economics, and public policy.

Applicants for an associate or full professor position should submit a cover letter and curriculum vitae. (Final candidates will be asked to submit letters of reference.) Applicants for an assistant professor position should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and any evidence of teaching record (syllabi, course evaluations, etc.). Applicants are welcome to submit an optional one-page statement discussing how the candidate views security concerns within a global context, and how they approach research, teaching, mentorship, and writing within and for a diverse global community of scholars and students. The SFS is strongly committed to fostering a climate that encourages diversity, equity, and inclusion.

All applications and supporting materials must be submitted through the following link <https://apptrkr.com/5697928>. Faxed, emailed, or mailed applications will not be accepted. Applications will be accepted until November 3, 2024. Invited interviews will occur shortly thereafter.

Questions about the online application should be directed to Lauren Bauschard, Director of Faculty Affairs, at <mailto:lb1230@georgetown.edu>. Questions about the position should be directed to Professor Katharine Donato (SFS Faculty Council Chair) and Professor Keir Lieber (SSP Search Committee Chair) at <mailto:kmd285@georgetown.edu> and <mailto:kal25@georgetown.edu>.

The projected salary range for this position is Assistant Rank $110,000 - $120,000 Associate Rank: $124,296 - $144,813, Full Rank: $174,337 - $205,500, which represents the full range of anticipated compensation for this position. Compensation is determined by a number of factors including, but not limited to, the candidate's individual qualifications, experience, education, skills, and certifications, as well as the University's business needs and external factors.

Application Instructions

For more information and to apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5697928>

Georgetown University is an <https://policymanual.hr.georgetown.edu/https%3A//policymanual.gudrupal.georgetown.edu/201-Equal-Employment-Opportunity-Affirmative-Action> fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic <https://www.dol.gov/ofccp/regs/compliance/posters/pdf/eeopost.pdf>.

If you are a qualified individual with a disability and need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please <https://ideaa.georgetown.edu/accommodations/procedures/applicants> for more information, or contact the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity & Affirmative Action (IDEAA) at (202) 687-4798.

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15036

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Nuclear Security Fellow

The Nuclear Security Fellows Program seeks to stimulate the development of the next generation of thought leaders in nuclear security by supporting research that will advance policy-relevant understanding of the subject. Fellowships are available for pre-doctoral and post-doctoral scholars and for junior faculty. Fellows are expected to produce policy-relevant research, including book manuscripts, draft articles, dissertations, chapters in edited volumes, or reports. Nuclear security as a subject of study is an umbrella term that includes nuclear war, nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear force posture, and, as it relates to nuclear security, nuclear energy.

Eligibility

Fellowships are available to scholars with a PhD or equivalent degree (e.g., MD or JD) from the United States or abroad. PhD candidates must have at least three chapters of their dissertation completed, and their dissertation topic must be in nuclear security. Proposed research for the fellowship must be consistent with the mission of the program described above.

Stipend Information

All fellows will receive a ten-month stipend. Fellows are expected to be in residence at MIT. Stipends at the pre-doctoral, post-doctoral and junior faculty level will be competitive and commensurate with experience. MIT's health insurance is included. Office space and supplies, use of a computer, and access to MIT's libraries and other facilities will be provided.

Application Procedures

Each applicant should submit a packet that includes:

Completed one-page form <https://docs.google.com/document/d/1HB1AJEAVd-bj2uF1bvMICuAmhXQiyaD/editDownload> Here&lt;/a>

Prospectus for research project or dissertation (no more than 1,500 words), including a statement regarding how it relates to nuclear security

Resume/CV

Three letters of recommendation (sent directly from the recommender to the email address below)

A short writing sample pertinent to the application (pre-docs should submit at least three completed dissertation chapters)

A graduate school transcript (for pre-doctoral candidates only)

Please do not submit supplemental materials such as books or lengthy manuscripts

Please submit all application materials electronically, by email, to <mailto:ssp-fellowships@mit.edu> &lt;/a>

Applications for these fellowships for the 2025-2026 academic year will be accepted until December 6, 2024. Decisions will be announced in January 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/6/2024

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15028

Eastern Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, International Relations

Title: Assistant Professor (Political Science)

Employee Classification: FA - Faculty 16 and 24 Pay

Pay Grade: FA 01

Division: Academic and Student Affairs
 Subdivision: Political Science
 Department: College of Arts and Sciences
 Campus Location: Main Campus

General Summary

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Michigan University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position focused on the study of civil rights. We will consider any specialization related to civil rights, except for law or judicial politics. Successful candidates will help shape and contribute to the development of EMU's new Civil Rights and Social Justice Center.

Principal Duties and Responsibilities

Teach contractual load of undergraduate and graduate courses as assigned by the department or school.

Assign and submit grades in accordance with established University schedules.

Keep posted office hours during the week which are scheduled at times most beneficial to students.

Provide academic advising to students, if applicable.

Serve on search committees for hiring of new faculty members, departmental committees and other service committees across the university.

Participate in activities such as student registration, orientation, convocations and commencements.

Attend and participate in scheduled departmental meetings and functions.

Provide other support service to the department, college and/or university, if applicable.

Engage in pursuits that enable them to remain current in their respective disciplines.

Engage in pursuits that help to further organize and contribute to growth of the body of knowledge in their respective disciplines, and/or to explore interdisciplinary implications.

Perform related Departmental duties as required.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD in a related field.

Special Instructions:

Your application should include a cover letter discussing your teaching and research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, one or more samples of scholarship, course syllabi, and student evaluations (if available). Items can be combined in files for uploading.

Three recommendation letters are also required as part of the application materials. References will be contacted for a letter of recommendation based on the contact information provided in the application.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on October 31st, but the position will remain open until filled. For additional information, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Klein at dklein2@emich.edu.

EMU, located in Ypsilanti, Michigan, was founded in 1849 and is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of over 14,000 students. Its proximity to Detroit, Ann Arbor, and Lansing provides rich cultural, social, and recreational opportunities.

EMU is an equal-opportunity employer and is recognized by U.S. News and World Report for its diverse campus environment. Successful candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and working with individuals from diverse backgrounds and to furthering the diversity and inclusion missions of the department, college, and university.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/7/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15012

St. Mary's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies and Global Affairs

Specializations: International Political Economy, Research Methods, International Security

The Department of International Studies and Global Affairs at St. Mary's University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in security studies with an open regional focus (Asia or Africa are preferred) beginning August 2025. The position will entail teaching three- course load per semester, research, administration, advising, and service in both interdisciplinary M.A. Program in International Relations and B.A. International and Global Studies. A Ph.D. in International Relations, Security Studies, or a related field is required at the time of appointment; ABD applicants will be considered.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should have a record of excellence in teaching both in person and online courses, as well as a record of successful peer-reviewed publication in scholarly journals which is essential for a graduate-level position. Candidates must provide evidence of an ability to work collaboratively in an interdisciplinary and student-centred environment. The successful candidate will be required to make substantive contributions through service to the department, the University, and the broader community. Applicants should also recognize that the Department of International Studies and Global Affairs and St. Mary's University are faith-based with an emphasis in social justice and the common good.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching in our security policy concentration along with non-traditional security issues and general core (International Political Economy, National Security, International Relations Theory, Research and Writing in IR). Some international field experience is desirable.

The International and Global Studies program offers a Bachelor of Arts degree with four tracks (General Studies, Economic and Trade Affairs, Political and Cultural Affairs, and Latin American Studies). The Graduate International Relations Program offers the Master of Arts degree to a diverse student population from a variety of countries and backgrounds, including students who have recently completed their undergraduate degrees and mid-career professionals. It currently includes on-campus and online programs with 2 focus areas: 1) security policy and 2) sustainable development and conflict transformation.

St. Mary's University, as a Catholic Marianist University, fosters the formation of people in faith and educates leaders for the common good through community, integrated liberal arts and professional education, and academic excellence: www.stmarytx.edu/about. St. Mary's is the oldest Catholic university in the Southwest and continues to advocate the Marianist mission. St. Mary's enrolls approximately 3500 students in a diverse university with four schools, more than 40 academic programs including Ph.D. and J.D. programs, and numerous pre-professional programs. The successful candidate is expected to support and contribute to the University's Marianist educational mission.

Applications can be found at <http://stmarytx.applicantpro.com/jobs/> with the option to upload all supporting documents electronically. Along with the employment application please submit a statement of your teaching philosophy, along with a full set of teaching evaluations, curriculum vitae, transcripts, and writing samples illustrating excellence in research. Finalists will be required to submit letters of recommendations. Refer any questions to: Dr. Claudia Donoso, Chairperson Search Committee, Department of International Studies and Global Affairs, cdonoso@stmarytx.edu. For full consideration, applications should be received by December 2, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment is contingent upon budget approval and upon successful completion of a clear background check.

St. Mary's University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to furthering diversity, equity, and inclusion and encourages all qualified candidates apply.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15018

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: History & Politics, Intelligence, International Security

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from recent PhD recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's emphasis on history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. While our Center tends to emphasize the discipline of history, or research with a strong historical component, we also highly encourage applications from PhD recipients in political science, political philosophy, public policy, language studies, area studies, and classics, whose research contributes to traditional political and military history or makes meaningful contributions to the practice of statecraft. Successful applicants will spend their time as fellows working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic and professional resources available at the Center and across the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will actively participate in the Clements Center's programs and activities such as guest lectures and conferences. Additional, specific responsibilities for activities such as directed research or teaching will only occur through mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership; the emphasis of the fellowship is to provide ample time for the young scholar's own research and writing for book manuscripts, journal articles, and similar projects. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applications open on October 7, 2024. Apply on the Clements Center's website. Applicants should submit a current c.v., cover letter, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) statement of proposed research, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants whose research addresses the Indo-Pacific region's increasing role in U.S. foreign policy and security should indicate whether they want to be considered for a formal affiliation at the Clements-Strauss Asia Policy Program. Applications are due no later than December 16, 2024 at 11 p.m. Central. The salary for this position is $69,000 - $77,000. Note that applicants are required to have received their doctorate by August 2025, the date the Postdoctoral Fellowship will commence. Please direct any questions to Emily Burch, Graduate Student Programs Coordinator, at emily.burch@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/16/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14982

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Predoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, International Law & Organizations

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from current PhD candidates for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's emphasis on history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. While our Center tends to emphasize the discipline of history, or research with a strong historical component, we also highly encourage applications from PhD students in political science, political philosophy, public policy, language studies, area studies, and classics, whose research contributes to traditional political and military history or makes meaningful contributions to the practice of statecraft. This fellowship is designed specifically to help expedite dissertation completion, so applicants should be in the dissertation writing phase and within one or at most two years of anticipated dissertation submission. Successful applicants will spend their time as fellows working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic and professional resources available at the Center and across the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will actively participate in the Clements Center's programs and activities such as guest lectures and conferences. Additional, specific responsibilities will only occur through mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applications open on October 7, 2024. Apply on the Clements Center's website. Applicants should submit a current C.V, cover letter, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) research statement, and three letters of recommendation. The salary range for this position is $39,000 - $45,000. Applicants whose research addresses the Indo-Pacific region's increasing role in U.S. foreign policy and security should indicate whether they want to be considered for the Predoctoral Fellowship at the Clements-Strauss Asia Policy Program. Applications are due no later than December 16, 2024 at 11 p.m. Central.

Please direct any questions to Emily Burch, Graduate Student Program Coordinator, at emily.burch@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/16/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 14983

Colby College Dept of Government

Rank: Assistant Professor - Conflict and Human Security (tenure-track)

The Department of Government at Colby College invites applications for a tenure-track position in international relations and/or comparative politics with a focus on conflict and human security, starting in the fall of 2025. Possible strengths might include human rights, the intersection between climate change and conflict, migration and refugees, gender and sexuality, and/or global health. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work analyzes human security within the Global South, or in the connections between the Global South and the Global North. We welcome candidates whose regional expertise can complement our department's existing strengths in Latin America, Europe, East Asia and the Middle East, and who can contribute to important interdisciplinary programs on campus.

Colby is a highly selective liberal arts college located in Central Maine with high standards for teaching and research. Our students are motivated, intellectually curious, and easily engaged in the classroom and in independent research. Our department faculty have active research agendas and receive generous support from the college, including a pre-tenure sabbatical during the fourth year, start-up and travel funds, divisional research grant opportunities, and department funded student research assistants. The teaching load at Colby is 4.5 courses per year.

We seek highly qualified candidates who have demonstrated excellence in teaching and who are committed to working with an increasingly diverse student body. The successful applicant will teach Introduction to International Relations, and either an introductory comparative politics course or an introductory course in research methods, as well as additional courses chosen in consultation with the department chair.

Applicants should submit the following materials: a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement outlining the candidate's research agenda, a recent sample of scholarly writing, a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates a commitment to equitable and inclusive teaching, course descriptions and/or syllabi for three proposed courses, evidence of teaching excellence, a graduate school transcript, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Please submit all of these materials via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/156604>. Review of applications will begin in early November and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to the committee chair, Professor Ken Rodman kenneth.rodman@colby.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15005

Columbia University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: China, International Security, International Political Economy

China and the World Program (C&WP)

Professors Thomas J. Christensen of Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs and Alastair Iain Johnston of Harvard University's Government Department jointly founded the China and the World fellowship program for the advanced study of China's international relations in 2005. As part of Professor Christensen's recent move to Columbia University, the Program was renamed the Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program (C&WP) in 2018. The China and the World Program supports research that integrates theoretical innovations in the field of international relations with the rigorous study of China's interactions with countries, regions, institutions, and non-state actors.

For academic year 2025-2026, C&WP plans to award 2 postdoctoral research fellowships. Both fellows will be in residence at Columbia University and will teach one course in the Fall or Spring semester. When not attending to program or teaching-related duties, fellows' time should be devoted to their own research, and to participating actively in the life of C&WP, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute (WEAI), the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies, etc. Fellows also will be expected to make at least one public presentation during their appointment and participate in the annual C&WP workshop where an entire day is devoted entirely to the examination of the fellows' research by former fellows of the program. Preference will be given to applicants who are currently working on revising their Ph.D. thesis for publication as a book, or who are just beginning a second major research project.

The appointment is for the 2025-2026 year, beginning September 1, 2025, ending June 30, 2026. The position comes with shared office space and access to the libraries and resources of Columbia University, access to all of which is COVID permitting.

Qualifications

Applicants must have completed all Ph.D. requirements (dissertation completed and filed) between May 1, 2020 and August 31, 2025.

Applications from individuals who hold or have held full-time teaching appointments will not be considered.

Only applicants working on some aspect of China's relations with the outside world that supports CWP's and WEAI's missions need apply.

Application Process

To apply, submit application materials to sipacwp@columbia.edu. Please note that applicants are required to send all files in one email or to upload them to a cloud based application and send the URL via email for full consideration. Faxed or mailed applications will not be considered.

1-2 page cover letter that briefly states your interest in the program, your background, and a summary of your research project
 Updated Curriculum Vitae, including a list of classes taught (if any)
 Project description
 Two scholarly writing samples
 One course proposal with syllabus for a seminar directed at M.A. students and advanced undergraduates
 Course evaluations for classes taught (if any)
 Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees
 Two letters of reference. Please note: Applicants should submit only the name and contact information of their referees. Referees should submit their letter directly to sipacwp {att} columbia.edu.

Application Deadline

All application materials, including letters of reference, must be received by December 20, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST in the United States. Candidates may be invited for an interview to be held by video, phone, or in-person. All evaluations made in connection with applications received are confidential.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their applications in February or March of 2025; a public announcement will be made by April 2025.

For more information about the Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute, or the the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies please visit www.CWP.SIPA.Columbia.edu, www.weai.columbia.edu, and <http://www.siwps.org/> respectively.

This search is subject to all rules and regulations of Columbia University. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As the COVID-19 Pandemic is an evolving concern around the world, these expectations guidelines are subject to change. Thank you for your patience during this challenging time.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/20/2024

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15002

Northern Illinois University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the Center for Southeast Asian Studies (CSEAS) at Northern Illinois University (NIU) invite applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics, International Relations or related subfield at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin August 16, 2025. The Department of Political Science offers B.A., B.S., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. For more information about the Department, please visit <http://polisci.niu.edu/> and for more information about the Center for Southeast Asian Studies, please visit <http://www.niu.edu/cseas/>.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field (e.g., Public Policy) by the time of appointment is and regional expertise in the politics of Southeast Asia are required. A strong likelihood of a sustained publication record is expected. Additionally, preference will be given to candidates who can teach quantitative and/or qualitative methods courses at the graduate level, who are proficient in one or more Southeast Asian languages, and have demonstrated relationships and partnerships with institutions or organizations in the region. We encourage applications from those who bring a range of methodological skills to bear on topics such as, but not limited to, democratization, authoritarianism, national and transnational electoral politics, public policy, and diasporic politics, political economy, and regional conflict and peacebuilding.

The Department's normal teaching load is a 2:2 (i.e., four semester-long courses over an academic year). We anticipate that the successful candidate for this position will be prepared to contribute to undergraduate and graduate student learning beyond regular classes through directing student research and Honors Theses, offering independent studies, and helping with departmental administrative, curricular, and advising responsibilities.

The Assistant Professor will teach undergraduate courses on the politics of Southeast Asia or particular countries within those regions, and graduate courses relating to their area(s) of expertise. The successful candidate will be a tenure-track faculty member in the Department of Political Science and a Faculty Associate in the CSEAS. The successful candidate will teach classes and conduct research in Comparative Politics, International Relations and/or a closely related subfield with a regional focus on Southeast Asia.

NIU is a public research university in DeKalb, IL, an affordable and growing community that is a commutable distance from Chicago and Rockford metropolitan areas. Our 16,000+ student body is diverse, with many first-generation and racially and culturally diverse students. NIU prides itself on student-centered approaches to teaching and research, and has social mobility, equity, and inclusion at the heart of its mission. Recently, NIU was nationally recognized as a top college for diversity and LGBTQ+ students and staff and has been named one of the Great Colleges to Work For two years in a row. NIU's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion includes a thriving Division of Academic Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and six cultural resource centers.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. NIU offers a robust benefits package.

For full consideration, prospective applicants should visit <https://employment.niu.edu/postings/80332> to create an application profile and submit a 1) resume/curriculum vitae, 2) cover letter, statement of teaching philosophy, including how you incorporate the principles of diversity, equity, and inclusion in your classroom, 3) a statement of research vision, including how you incorporate the principles of diversity, equity, and inclusion in your research, 4) 7,000-10,000 word writing sample, 5) contact information of 3 references, and 6) transcripts (unofficial with official required at hire). Additionally, applicants will need to email 3 letters of recommendation directly to Jennifer Gregory (jgregory@niu.edu).

Applications and corresponding materials, including the three letters of recommendation should be submitted by November 17, 2024. Priority review of completed applications will begin immediately after this date and will continue until the position is filled.

Specific questions about the position may be directed to Mitch Pick-erill, the Chair of the Department of Political Science, at pick@niu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/17/2024
Date Posted: 10/4/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15010

America in the World Consortium

Rank: America in the World Consortium Postdoctoral Fellowship
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: American Politics, Defense, Foreign Policy

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins SAIS, the University of Texas at Austin, and the University of Florida seeks applications from recent Ph.D. recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines. AWC seeks Postdoctoral Fellows for in-residence positions beginning in August 2025. Applicants will be considered for up to eight (8) fellowship positions for up to two (2) years in residence at one of the four partner institutions:

- Duke University, Program in American Grand Strategy (AGS)
- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS
- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security
- University of Florida, Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in history, political science, public policy, classics, and political philosophy whose research has a strong connection to policy. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. Additional responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the AWC directors. For example, in some cases, Fellows will have the opportunity to teach an undergraduate course.

Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend of $72,000, access to benefits and full use of campus facilities, in addition to other university-specific benefits. The fellowship position will provide funding for a minimum of 12 months and up to 24 months. Fellows will also be given a research fund of $7,500 to cover legitimate research-related expenses, as needed.

Applicants are required to have received a Ph.D. by August 1, 2025, in a relevant field, such as history, political science, public policy, classics, or political philosophy. Applicants who have received a Ph.D. in language studies, area studies, or other related fields may be considered if their research explicitly engages U.S. foreign policy.

Please direct any questions to Emma Rogers, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at emma.rogers@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/2/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14993

America in the World Consortium

Rank: America in the World Consortium Predoctoral Fellowship
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: American Politics, Defense, Foreign Policy

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins SAIS, the University of Texas at Austin, and the University of Florida seeks applications from current Ph.D. students for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines. AWC offers predoctoral fellowships to advanced Ph.D. students to live and work at one of the four partner institutions for one year:

- Duke University, Program in American Grand Strategy (AGS)
- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS
- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security
- University of Florida, Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants pursuing a doctorate in history, political science, public policy, classics, and political philosophy whose research has a strong connection to policy.

Fellows will spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. The fellowship offers a competitive stipend, access to campus facilities, and a wide range of resources on-campus.

Applicants are required to be currently enrolled in a Ph.D. program and to have passed their comprehensives/preliminary/qualifying exams and advanced to doctoral candidacy at the time of application.

Please direct any questions to Emma Rogers, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at emma.rogers@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/2/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14992

Stanford University*Rank: Faculty Appointment in Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy*Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative PoliticsSpecializations: East Asia, Japan, International Security

Stanford University seeks candidates for a new faculty position in the politics and foreign policy of Japan. The successful candidate will have expertise in politics, policy studies, diplomacy, security studies, international relations, or global affairs relating to Japan and the Indo-Pacific region, and will be expected to advance research and education on Japanese politics and foreign policy, in the Japan Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC). This is an open-rank search.

The new faculty member will be appointed as a Senior Fellow or Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI) affiliated with APARC. Senior Fellows at Stanford University are full members of the Professoriate and Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenured associate or full professor. Center Fellows at Stanford University are also members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenure-track assistant professor. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Senior applicants should possess an exceptional record of research and publication, outstanding experience in developing, advising, or implementing policy, and a demonstrated commitment to mentoring and teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Junior applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at the graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Junior candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review (senior candidates may mark these field as "N/A").

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Senior Fellow: $191,000 - $250,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at : <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494789/faculty-appointment-in-japanese-politics-and-foreign-policy>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14996

Stanford University*Rank: Faculty Appointment in Taiwan Studies*Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Stanford University seeks candidates for a new faculty position in Taiwan Studies. The successful candidate will have expertise in policy studies, social sciences, international relations, or global affairs relating to Taiwan, and will be expected to contribute to the newly established Taiwan Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC). This is an open-rank search.

The new faculty member will be appointed as a Senior Fellow or Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI) affiliated with APARC. Senior Fellows at Stanford University are full members of the Professoriate and Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenured associate or full professor. Center Fellows at Stanford University are also members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenure-track assistant professor. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Senior applicants should possess an exceptional record of research and publication, outstanding experience in developing, advising, or implementing policy, and a demonstrated commitment to mentoring and teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Junior applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at a graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Junior candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review (senior candidates may mark these fields as "N/A").

The Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals. Additional information about Stanford's IDEAL initiative may be found here: <https://ideal.stanford.edu/>.

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Senior Fellow: $191,000 - $250,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at: <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494788/faculty-appointment-in-taiwan-studies>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14994

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate at the Africa Initiative at Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University, 2025-2027

Position Description

As part of a broader commitment to develop its programmatic focus on Africa, the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University seeks to appoint a postdoctoral research associate who will participate actively in the Africa Initiative. Broadly, the Watson Institute aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. The Africa Initiative postdoctoral research associate will contribute to this core mission with a specific focus on Africa. A main aim is to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research in Africa related to the Institute's three core thematic areas: development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. This is a one-year renewable position, for a maximum of two years, with the expectation that postdoctoral research associate will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Africa Initiative and the Institute. PDRAs will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department. The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Qualifications

The competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. The selection process is open with regard to nationality. Candidates from or located in Africa are strongly encouraged to apply. Scholars who have received their PhDs within three years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. Postdoctoral research associates will receive an annual stipend of $75,000, for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus. Candidates selected for postdoctoral fellow positions who have not completed their dissertations by July 1, 2025, will be paid a reduced salary and appointed as a research associate until their dissertation is defended.

Application Instructions

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by November 15, 2024, via Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/153091>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear the focus on Africa as well as where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits. Please also include a statement about teaching in a diverse and inclusive classroom.
- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three confidential letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on November 16, 2024; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in February 2025.

For further information regarding the Watson Institute's Africa Initiative Postdoctoral Fellow position, please contact:

Professor Daniel Jordan Smith, Director of the Africa Initiative, Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs: daniel\_j\_smith@brown.edu

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14977

University of California, Santa Barbara

Rank: Louis G. Lancaster Chair of International Relations

Position overview

Position title: Louis G. Lancaster Endowed Chair

Salary range: The posted UC salary scales set the minimum pay determined by rank and/or step at the time of appointment. See <https://ap.ucsb.edu/compensation.and.benefits/ucsb.salary.scales/1.pdf> for the salary ranges. Off-scale salaries and other components of pay, i.e. a salary that is higher than the published system-wide salary at the designated rank and step, are offered when necessary to meet competitive conditions. A reasonable estimate for this position is $102,400 - $375,000.

Percent time: 100%

Anticipated start: July 1, 2025

Application Window

Open date: September 27, 2024

Next review date: Friday, Nov 15, 2024 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.

Final date: Thursday, May 1, 2025 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Applications will continue to be accepted until this date, but those received after the review date will only be considered if the position has not yet been filled.

Position description

The Department of Political Science at the University of California, Santa Barbara invites applications for a scholar of international relations at the tenured associate or full professor level to fill the Louis G. Lancaster Chair. Candidates should sustain an active research and publication agenda and be prepared to offer core IR graduate and undergraduate courses and mentoring related to international political economy. We are particularly interested in applicants whose research engages with issues of inequality, globalization, migration, security, international law, identity, and environmental politics. We are open with respect to methodological or theoretical approach, but the candidate's research should be theoretically informed and must demonstrate mastery of appropriate research methods.

Our department has particular strengths in cross-cutting areas of the politics of identity, and the politics of environment and climate. UCSB emphasizes multidisciplinary across campus, and it is both an Hispanic Serving Research Institution (HSRI) and an Asian American Native American Pacific-Islander Serving Institution (AANAPISI).

The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service as appropriate to the position. Diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at UC Santa Barbara. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, staff and students who share our commitment to these values.

Department: <https://www.polsci.ucsb.edu/>

Qualifications

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Applicants should hold a PhD in Political Science or a related field.

Additional qualifications (required at time of start)

Must hold an associate or full professor rank or equivalent title.

Preferred qualifications

Expertise in international relations/international political economy, construed broadly, applicants whose research engages with issues of inequality, globalization, migration, security, international law, identity, or environmental politics; Teaching ability/promise, Publication record/promise, Evidence and/or promise of contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic community through research, teaching and/or service, as applicable.

Application Requirements

Document requirements

Cover Letter - To facilitate unbiased review of applications, please concisely introduce us to your research and highlight your unique qualifications.

Curriculum Vitae - Please submit a complete CV including full publication, funding, teaching and mentorship, and service and professional engagement records.

Statement of Research - Briefly describe research experience and interests, your current research focus, highlighting major contributions to the field thus far as well as areas to be investigated in future work. This statement may also include information about the candidate's possible areas of collaboration within the department or campus, and the potential for sustained impact of the research.

Statement of Teaching - Please provide a brief statement that includes teaching and mentorship experiences to date, a brief summary of your teaching and mentoring philosophy, a list of courses taught, and a description of what topics or courses that you would be interested in teaching.

Statement of Contributions to Diversity - Please briefly describe how your scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service and engagement contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion. In this statement, describe any steps you have taken (or are planning to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in your research lab, in the classroom, in professional environments, and/or in your field more generally.

Reference requirements

3-5 required (contact information only)

At the time of application contact information only. Once the short-list is determined, the letter writers will be contacted via UC Recruit to submit reference letters.

Apply link: <https://recruit.ap.ucsb.edu/JPF02824>

Help contact: ehickingbottom@ucsb.edu

About UC Santa Barbara

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the University of California's Affirmative Action Policy please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4010393/PPSM-20>. For the University of California's Anti-Discrimination Policy, please visit: <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/1001004/Anti-Discrimination>.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California Policy on Vaccination Programs, as may be amended or revised from time to time. Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Job location

Santa Barbara, California

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14986

Tulane University

Rank: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Latin American, Central America, Caribbean

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2025-2026, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are preferred. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments starting in July 2025 with a stipend of $50,000 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in one of the Center's ongoing research initiatives, including the Central American Politics Consortium and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment. Applicants must specify in their application which track is their first preference and which their second. Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2025. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/155003> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) a writing sample; and (5) teaching evaluations if available. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting November 30, 2024.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14950

Tulane University

Rank: Mid-Career Research Fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) at Tulane University seeks a Visiting Mid-Career Research Fellow for the Fall 2025 or Spring 2026 academic semester. The Center supports empirical research in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required. A fellow will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, and the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs.

The fellow will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of their disciplinary department, CIPR, and the Stone Center for Latin American Studies. They are expected to participate in weekly CIPR seminars and workshops, as well as lectures, conferences, and other events organized by the Center. The fellow will collaborate with resident faculty and students on projects of mutual interest in addition to developing their independent research agendas on related topics, as well as mentor junior colleagues at the Center when possible.

The fellowship is for one semester with a stipend of $37,000 plus benefits. Fellows may also obtain funding from their own academic institutions, outside foundations or personal resources. Round-trip travel expenses of up to $3,000 are also supported. Foreign applicants will need to obtain separate health insurance coverage.

Qualifications:

Scholars are expected to hold a PhD. Recent PhD graduates are generally not appropriate candidates. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required.

Application Instructions:

Applications must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/155389> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests, fit to the program, and intended research plan to be developed at CIPR if selected. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 30, 2024.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 14954

University of North Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor: IR/CP

General Description/Primary Purpose:

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is seeking a 9-month, tenure-earning Assistant Professor of International Relations and/or Comparative Politics. This position will report to Dr. Nicholas Seabrook, Chair, Department of Political Science and Public Administration. Position responsibilities include a 2/2 teaching load, research/scholarship, and service.

Apply at https://unf.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/unfjobs/job/Jacksonville-FL/Assistant-Professor---International-Relations-Comparative-Politics\_JR100813-1

Anticipated Start Date: The position is expected to begin on August 4, 2025.

Working Hours: Varies

Supervision Exercised: No

About the Department: In recent years, UNF has transitioned to an R2 institution with an increasing focus on research while maintaining excellence in teaching. Faculty at UNF are on flexible teaching loads, typically teaching between four to six courses per year, with newly hired faculty on a reduced load of two courses per semester for the first three years. Continued reduced teaching loads may be offered to faculty demonstrating significant accomplishments aligned with the university's strategic plan (<https://www.unf.edu/strategic-plan/index.html>). Startup funds are available and negotiable.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in Political Science (BA), Public Administration (MPA), and International Affairs (MAIA), as well as minors in Political Science, Public Administration, and Political Campaigns. The department includes the Public Opinion Research Laboratory (PORK), a highly ranked full-service survey research facility, as well as the Public Service Leadership Program (PSLP), and the Pre-Law Program.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and Public Administration visit: <https://www.unf.edu/coas/pspa/>

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science, Government, or a related discipline is required by August 2025.

Preferred Qualifications / Skills:

The successful candidate will demonstrate excellence in teaching introductory and advanced courses in international relations and comparative politics. Expertise in a specific region (preferably Latin America or Asia) is desirable. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to our M.A. program in International Affairs, have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, and possess an active research agenda.

Required Licensure:

N/A

Additional Application Materials Required:

Applicants should be prepared to provide the following required documents and information:

- Cover letter
- Current curriculum vitae
- Unofficial transcripts
- Names, phone numbers, and email address of three professional references
- Plan for future research
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness

The selected candidate will be required to submit official transcripts (and, as applicable, U.S. degree equivalency evaluations) documenting the conferral of their qualifying academic credentials by the date of hire.

Additional Requirements:

Applicants may be required to upload additional documents based on their responses to the Foreign Influence Review questions.

- Passport (all pages including blank pages) and
- Form DS-160 (if ever submitted. If not, upload an explanation)

Application Review Date: Initial review of applications will begin on October 25, 2024.

Job Posting Close Date: Open until filled

How to Apply: Applicants must submit an online application that includes all required documents and reference information at https://unf.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/unfjobs/job/Jacksonville-FL/Assistant-Professor--International-Relations-Comparative-Politics\_JR100813-1

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14947

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Assistant Professor Position in Black Cultural Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics, Social Movements

Assistant Professor Position in Black Cultural Studies

Department of Social and Cultural Analysis

New York University Arts and Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in Black Cultural Studies. We are particularly interested in applicants whose research takes an interdisciplinary approach to the social and cultural life of the African diaspora and contributes to the department's strengths in gender and sexuality studies; critical race and ethnic studies; and/or urban studies.

This position is part of a multi-departmental cluster hire in "Black Diaspora Cultural Studies," which includes the Arts and Science departments of Art History, History and Music. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars at NYU working across a range of disciplines. More information about this cluster can be found here, along with background on NYU's broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is an interdisciplinary department committed to developing innovative approaches in urbanism, migration, critical racial, ethnic and indigenous studies, gender and sexuality, art, culture, politics, and economic life. The Department has degree programs in Africana Studies, American Studies, Asian/Pacific/American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latinx Studies, Metropolitan Studies, and Social and Cultural Analysis.

Candidates should submit the following materials via this Interfolio link:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/155129>

Letter of application

Curriculum vitae

Writing sample of 20-25 pages

Three confidential letters of recommendation

Your letter of application should focus on the contributions your research makes to the field and to the department. You may also address how your work in the university, such as classroom teaching, has contributed toward equity and inclusion.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on November 10, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions about the position please consult the NYU Department of Social and Cultural Analysis website: <http://sca.as.nyu.edu>, referring to the homepage link "Employment Opportunities." For questions not answered here please contact Marty Correia at mc2828@nyu.edu.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2025, pending administrative and budgetary approval. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by September 1, 2025.

In compliance with NYC's Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary range for this position is $85,000 to $115,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Arts & Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber, who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are underrepresented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the Arts & Science commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, visit <https://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14937

University of Montana

Rank: Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Japan, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Maureen and Mike Mansfield Center and the Department of Political Science at the University of Montana invite applications for a tenure-track Professor of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Studies at the advanced assistant, associate, or full level to begin in August 2025. The successful candidate for this position will be appointed as the endowed Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs; the locus of tenure will be in the Department of Political Science. We invite applications from candidates in Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Security Studies. Specialization for this position is open: Candidates with expertise and research interests in contemporary Japanese politics, policy studies including foreign policy and security studies of the Indo-Pacific region are particularly encouraged to apply.

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach at all levels (introductory, advanced/upper division undergraduate, and graduate (MA) in their field. They may also have the opportunity to develop courses in collaboration with the Department of History. The successful applicant is also expected to maintain an active research agenda in their field. Additionally, the successful candidate will be expected to collaborate with the Mansfield Center's programs for the purpose of promoting deeper understanding of Japanese politics, foreign policy, Japan-U.S. relations, and a Free and Open Indo-Pacific. This may include, but would not be limited to, organizing symposia, inviting speakers, outreach to the media and the general public, and advising the Mansfield Center in the development of its programs.

Applicants at the advanced assistant level should demonstrate potential for scholarly excellence (e.g., publications, among other things), and evidence of effective instruction consistent with an early tenure schedule. Applicants for appointment as associate and full professor should have a record of excellence in social science research (through high-quality peer-reviewed publications and grants), undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured position (preferably including some experience in media and public outreach).

Position Details

Tenure Track Faculty: Department of Political Science

Title: Professor/ Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs

Schedule: Full-time academic year (10-month) position

Entry Rate: $70,000-100,000 commensurate with experience

Benefits: A comprehensive and competitive benefits package. Medical Insurance/Mandatory Retirement Contribution, 50% family tuition waiver in all Montana University System colleges and universities, and a wellness program.

Primary Duties: Teaching, research, and service.

Qualifications

- A PhD in Political Science or similar field, and scholarly experience in the field of Japanese politics, policy studies including foreign policy and security studies, international relations, and/or Indo-Pacific affairs, as evidenced by a record of college-level teaching, and published research.
- Experience supporting students in achieving curricular and co-curricular objectives.
- Experience teaching and mentoring undergraduate students.
- Demonstrated ability to work in a cross-cultural environment with a variety of academic and non-academic partners.
- Study of and research conducted in a language native to the Indo-Pacific region.

Priority Application Date : 30 days

Complete applications received by this date will be guaranteed consideration. To receive full consideration, candidates are required to submit all of the following materials.

- Letter of Interest addressing the qualifications
- Detailed Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- Three (3) professional references - Names and contact information

Application Link:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/155574>

Founded by an Act of Congress in 1983, the Mansfield Center fosters globally minded leaders of integrity in honor of the legacy of Senator Mike Mansfield and his wife, Maureen Hayes Mansfield. With a mandate to foster ethics in public affairs and U.S.-Asia relations, the U.S.-Japan relationship is a critical component of our work. As Mike Mansfield frequently said, "the U.S.-Japan Alliance is the most important bilateral relationship in the world, bar none." We collaborate with the College of Humanities and Sciences to offer an emphasis in Japanese Studies with a practical combination of language, culture, history, and politics. East Asian Studies are part of UM's interdisciplinary programs including Global Public Health, Global Leadership, Migration Studies, and the Honors College. The program's course offerings are supplemented by Mansfield Center enhancements of speakers, conferences, and cultural activities. For more information about the Center, and about Maureen and Mike Mansfield, see www.umt.edu/mansfield.

This new position is endowed by a generous gift from the Government of Japan. The affiliation with the Mansfield Center and the endowment offers unique benefits, including an annual research fund, membership dues, support of symposia, student scholarships, speakers, outreach activities, and unique networks provided through the Mansfield Legacy.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14936

Stanford University

Rank: CDDRL Pre/Post-Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law welcomes applications from pre-doctoral students at the write-up stage and from post-doctoral scholars working in any of the four program areas of democracy, development, evaluating the efficacy of democracy promotion, and rule of law. The application cycle for the 2025-2026 academic year will be open from Monday, September 23, 2024, through Sunday, December 1, 2024.

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford and must be at the dissertation write-up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their Ph.D. within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2025.

In addition to our regular call for applications, CDDRL invites applications for the Gerhard Casper Fellow in Rule of Law for 2025-26. We welcome research on any aspect of rule of law, including judicial politics, criminal justice, and the politicization of judicial institutions. We are an interdisciplinary center; candidates from any relevant field (i.e. the social sciences, law) are welcome to apply. The Gerhard Casper Fellow will be part of CDDRL's larger cohort of pre- and postdoctoral fellows. Please apply through the CDDRL fellowship application process and indicate that you would like to be considered for the Gerhard Casper Rule of Law Fellowship.

More information on the application and the guidelines to apply can be found at our website at <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14917

University of Toronto

Rank: Assistant Professor - Andrea and Charles Bronfman Chair in Israeli Studies

The Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in Israeli Studies. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025. The successful candidate is also eligible to be named the Andrea and Charles Bronfman Chair in Israeli Studies for a four-year term, with the possibility of renewal following a favourable review. The successful candidate will be appointed to either the Department of Political Science or the Department of Sociology (51%) dependent upon their area of expertise, and hold a minority appointment in the Anne Tanenbaum Centre for Jewish Studies (49%).

Applicants must hold a PhD in any social science discipline or related fields, with a research and teaching portfolio with a substantial focus on modern Israel and a scholarly connection to the field of Jewish Studies broadly defined. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and enhance our existing strengths with proven ability to cross disciplinary boundaries. The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research and to establish an outstanding, competitive research program in areas pertaining to the study of Israel.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence as demonstrated by the following: a record of publications in top-ranked and field-relevant venues or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades for innovative work, and any noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of their discipline inclusive of the study of Israel, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high international standing.

The successful candidate is expected to strengthen the Faculty of Arts & Science's undergraduate and graduate education in the study of Israel. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier, including a statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations, and sample course materials submitted as part of the application.

Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

For more information about the Faculty of Arts & Science, please visit the website at www.artsci.utoronto.ca. For more information about the Departments of Political Science and Sociology, and the Anne Tanenbaum Centre for Jewish Studies, see politics.utoronto.ca, sociology.utoronto.ca and jewishstudies.utoronto.ca.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; one recent publication; and a teaching dossier which includes a teaching statement, sample course syllabi, and teaching evaluations.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each referee the day after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit recent letters (on letterhead, dated, and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact acadhr.artsci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including recent reference letters, must be received by November 18, 2024.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14895

University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor/Professor - Andrea and Charles Bronfman Chair in Israeli Studies

The Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in Israeli Studies. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025. The successful candidate will be appointed to either the Department of Political Science or the Department of Sociology (51%) dependent upon their area of expertise, and hold a minority appointment in the Anne Tanenbaum Centre for Jewish Studies (49%).

In addition, the successful candidate is also eligible to be named the Andrea and Charles Bronfman Chair in Israeli Studies. This endowed chair appointment would be for a five-year term and is renewable following a favourable review.

Applicants must hold a PhD degree in in any social science discipline or related fields, with a research and teaching portfolio with a substantial focus on modern Israel and a scholarly connection to the field of Jewish Studies broadly defined. They must demonstrate an exceptional record of excellence in research and teaching as well as relevant experience in research supervision. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing strengths with proven ability to cross disciplinary boundaries. Candidates will have an established international reputation and be expected to sustain and lead innovative and independent research at the highest international level in areas pertaining to the study of Israel.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence as demonstrated by the following: sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked and field-relevant venues, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades for innovative work, and any noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of their discipline inclusive of the study of Israel, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high international standing.

The successful candidate is expected to strengthen the Faculty of Arts & Science's undergraduate and graduate education in the study of Israel. Evidence of excellence in teaching and experience in research supervision will be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier, including a statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations, and sample course materials submitted as part of the application.

Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

For more information about the Faculty of Arts & Science please visit the website at www.artsci.utoronto.ca. For more information about the Departments of Political Science and Sociology, and the Anne Tanenbaum Centre for Jewish Studies, see politics.utoronto.ca, sociology.utoronto.ca and jewishstudies.utoronto.ca.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; one recent publication; and a teaching dossier which includes a teaching statement, sample course syllabi, and teaching evaluations.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each referee the day after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit recent letters (on letterhead, dated, and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact acadhr.artsci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including recent reference letters, must be received by November 18, 2024.

The University of Toronto has adopted the AAU Principles on Preventing Sexual Harassment in Academia, including the requirement that applicants release personnel information from prior employers regarding sexual misconduct. Full details and requirements can be found here.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14896

University of Northern Iowa

Rank: Assistant Professor

The University of Northern Iowa's Department of Political Science seeks applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in comparative politics, starting in Fall 2025. All areas of specialization within comparative politics are invited to apply. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching address pressing global political issues such as democratization, political institutions, authoritarianism, regional studies, or comparative public policy. Primary teaching responsibilities will be undergraduate courses in comparative politics at the introductory and advanced levels, including courses in UNI's general education program that serve as a gateway into the political science major. The normal teaching load is three courses per semester.

The department provides a supportive environment for faculty development, growth, and professional success. We are home to undergraduate majors in Political Science, Public Administration, and Political Communication, and a Master of Public Policy program. We also offer several minors and certificates, including an International Affairs minor and an International Peace and Security certificate. The department oversees a successful Model United Nations Competition Team and is part of the U.S. Strategic Command's Academic Alliance.

The University of Northern Iowa provides high-quality education, purposefully guiding students to find and develop their strengths and preparing them for success after college. Building on its historic excellence in teacher education, the university has developed outstanding programs in business, natural sciences, humanities and fine arts, and social and behavioral sciences, with advanced degrees available in many programs. The University's attractive size, approximately 9,200 students, allows UNI to offer faculty, facilities, and academic choices characteristic of a much larger university while retaining a friendly, small-college atmosphere on a park-like campus. UNI has been consistently recognized as one of the "Best Midwest Universities" by U.S. News & World Report. Located in Cedar Falls/Waterloo, the campus is composed of more than 40 buildings on 940 acres. For more information, visit www.uni.edu.

UNI is located in picturesque Cedar Falls, Iowa, a riverfront town with many recreational, cultural, and entertainment opportunities. It was recently named a Distinctive Destination by the National Trust for Historic Preservation. The metropolitan community of Cedar Falls/Waterloo has a combined population of 165,000 and offers a pleasant residential setting with a strong and growing industrial base. Cedar Falls is a friendly, affordable community located about 300 miles from Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, and Chicago. For more information, visit www.cedarfalls.com.

Required Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related discipline required. ABDs are welcome to apply with an expected degree completion date by August 1, 2025. Other required qualifications include an ability to develop and teach a range of courses within comparative politics as well as occasional courses in international relations; a record of excellence in teaching; and a clear research agenda with a demonstrated ability to produce peer-reviewed publishable research. Ability to teach courses in one or more regions of the world (other than the Middle East) preferred.

Curriculum vitae; cover letter; research statement; statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching effectiveness required when applying. Names of references will be requested at a later stage. To apply, visit <https://careers.uni.edu>. Applications received by 11/1/2024 will receive full consideration. Pre-employment background checks required. For more information, please contact Dr. Scott Peters, Professor and Department Head, at 319-273-2727 or e-mail at scott.peters@uni.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14892

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Joint SAIS Europe - SNF Agora Faculty Position at SAIS Europe

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Position Description:

SAIS Europe of the School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF) Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University seek faculty (or nominations of faculty) for endowed professorships at the level of Associate or Full Professors who focus on the study of democracy under stress, particularly as related to questions of civic engagement and inclusive discourse. We define these terms broadly and seek scholars from a range of disciplines, including but not limited to scholars who study the dynamics of states; state contexts; political, civic, social, and economic organizations and institutions; social movements and social networks, as well as their role in shaping, interacting with, constraining, making possible, and challenging the realization of democracy in global contexts. We have a particular interest in scholars whose scholarship focuses on European Union membership and its impact. This position will be located at SAIS Europe in Bologna, Italy and will be jointly appointed between SAIS and the SNF Agora Institute. Established in 1955 as an integral part of the School of Advanced International Studies of the Johns Hopkins University (SAIS), SAIS Europe in Bologna, Italy has been educating global leaders in the area of international affairs for almost 70 years. As a highly selective graduate institution with a distinguished faculty, SAIS consistently ranks as one of the top schools of international relations in the world. SAIS was founded to provide a practical approach to training students in international leadership and foreign relations, and to provide mid-career educational opportunities for those already working in related fields. Today, SAIS Europe hosts around 200 full-time students hailing from 40 countries pursuing master- and doctoral-level degrees, with a diverse, international group of over 60 resident and adjunct faculty. To learn more about SAIS and SAIS Europe, please visit <https://sais.jhu.edu/sais-europe>. The SNF Agora Institute is a new, $150M multi-disciplinary initiative that integrates research, teaching, and practice to strengthen global democracy by improving and expanding civic engagement and inclusive dialogue, and by supporting inquiry that leads to real-world change. Housed in the university's Krieger School of Arts and Sciences, the SNF Agora Institute at JHU will serve as a leading forum bringing together experts from a range of fields—including but not limited to political science, sociology, history, neuroscience, psychology, philosophy, and ethics.

Qualifications:

Successful candidates should be established scholars with a substantial record of research and publication, or may be rising scholars of exceptional quality. All candidates should demonstrate an interest in the mission of the SNF Agora Institute, and be prepared to play a leading role in the establishment of a program of activities on democracy under stress in Europe.

Johns Hopkins is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The university is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Consistent with the university's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will assess the comprehensive qualifications of each applicant.

Applicants should apply online via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/154574> and submit a cover letter, a research statement, curriculum vitae, and two to three representative publications.

Review of applications will begin on October 31, 2024 and continue until the positions are filled. Appointments will commence on July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14888

Bentley University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position with expertise in International Political Economy (IPE) to begin July 1, 2025. Based on qualifications, there is the possibility of an appointment at the associate level. The position is open with respect to the substantive area of expertise within IPE. While specific geographic expertise is not required, we welcome applications from candidates who also have expertise on South Asia, the Middle East or Africa.

The ideal candidate will be instrumental in developing a new major in international business and contribute to existing majors in international affairs and public policy. We seek candidates who can amplify our department's commitment to anti-racism. Black, indigenous, and Latinx faculty, as well as faculty from other underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom and prefer candidates with classroom teaching experience.

Bentley is committed to the teacher-scholar model where teaching, scholarship, service and community engagement are expected and valued. We seek qualified faculty who represent diverse backgrounds, interests and talents and share a commitment to high ethical standards and a willingness to embrace challenge and change.

The Global Studies Department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from political science, geography and cultural studies. For more information about the Global Studies Department's programs and faculty, please see <https://www.bentley.edu/academics/departments/global-studies>

Bentley University, located in suburban Boston, is an AACSB and NECHE accredited institution that enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral levels. Bentley is ranked at or near the top in several categories by US News & World Report, including Best Regional Universities North and Most Innovative Schools, with Bloomberg ranking Bentley in the top 20 undergraduate business programs. Bentley's high graduation and retention rates and top-ranked Pulsifer Career Center reflects a commitment to student success and inclusiveness. With a strong faculty of teacher-scholars, Bentley strives to be a "Force for Good" through the integration of business with the arts and sciences, and a strong emphasis on ethics and social responsibility. Providing a stimulating academic community for faculty, staff, and students, Bentley supports its faculty as they pursue cutting-edge research and bring their expertise and real world understanding into the classroom.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2025 semester.

For full consideration, candidates must submit the following as part of the application before October 15, 2024, through the university's online portal:

https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Waltham-MA/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Associate-Professor--International-Political-Economy\_R0005027

A curriculum vitae.

A letter of interest that summarizes the candidate's overall strengths.

A teaching statement of not more than two pages, which should include a description of how the faculty member has demonstrated or intends to create and support an inclusive classroom environment.

A research statement of not more than two pages detailing the candidate's research strengths and plans for future research.

One research writing sample.

The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Bonnie Field at bfield@bentley.edu.

The position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by October 15, 2024.

Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre-employment screening.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14876

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Open Rank

Two Open Rank Positions in International Relations

Position Description

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for two open-rank positions specializing in international relations.

The specialization within international relations is open with some preference for conflict or international political economy. The Political Science program is interested in hiring one position in International Political Economy and one in Conflict Studies. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing programs and strengths in quantitative methods and to publish in the top peer-reviewed journals and presses in the field.

The appointments commence for the fall 2025 semester.

Qualifications

Minimum Education and Experience: A PhD in political science is required. Candidates are expected to demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a highly collaborative, engaging, and dynamic environment comprised of individuals with a range of backgrounds, skills, and perspectives. We are seeking candidates able to produce research and scholarly or creative achievements that enhance the program and the discipline, and able to deliver high quality teaching using evidence-based practices to effectively engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.

Preferred Education and Experience: Candidates applying at the Assistant Professor rank should have at least one article either published or conditionally accepted in a peer-reviewed journal. Candidates applying at the Associate or Full Professor ranks should demonstrate an established record of grant-funded research and publication.

The School

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at UT Dallas is a national leader in research addressing critical social, political, and economic issues. Our graduates work in government, nonprofits, and the private sector, with many pursuing advanced degrees that prepare them for leadership roles in advancing positive change at the local, national, and global levels.

Application Instructions

Applicants should upload the following via the <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/27552online> application&lt;a&gt;

- Full curriculum vitae and cover letter summarizing their interests and their qualifications for the position.
- Statement of teaching philosophy describing their conceptualizations of teaching and learning, teaching and assessment methods, and how their teaching philosophy and practices will engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.
- Research statement describing past, present, and future research, including how they mentor (or will mentor) student researchers and foster (or will foster) collaborative research environments.
- Full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Reviews will commence as completed applications are received and will continue until the positions are filled or the search is closed on March 1, 2025. Priority will be given to completed applications received by November 1, 2024.

The University and Community

UT Dallas is a top public research university located in one of the nation's fastest-growing metropolitan regions. Our seven schools offer more than 140 undergraduate and graduate programs, plus professional certificates and fast-track programs. Our student body is 30,000 strong, reflecting students from over 100 countries and a multiplicity of identities and experiences. Over 65% of our undergraduate students receive some form of need- or merit- based financial aid; and 66% of graduating seniors have no student debt compared to 48% in Texas and 32% in the nation (2021 TICAS report).

UT Dallas is committed to graduating well-rounded members of the global community whose education has prepared them for rewarding lives and productive careers in a constantly changing world. A diversity of people, ideas, and perspectives is crucial to our vision and mission. UT Dallas is a place where members of the community from all backgrounds are welcomed, treated fairly, and encouraged in their pursuit of excellence.

The University has a variety of programs and initiatives to support engagement and success for all members of the campus community. Employee benefits include a range of physical and mental wellness resources. "LilyPad" lactation facilities are located throughout the campus.

There are several Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) comprised of individuals who share common interests to help build community among UT Dallas faculty and staff (e.g., Universal Access ERG, Military and Veteran ERG, UT Dallas Young Professionals).

Rich with visual and performing arts venues, museum districts, professional and semi-professional athletics teams, botanical gardens, accessible trails and so much more, the Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) metroplex has something for everyone to explore. UT Dallas partners with regional higher education institutions and school districts and with the Richardson Innovation Quarter (Richardson IQ), a major hub for innovation, entrepreneurship, and educational activities.

Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful, and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an equal opportunity/affirmative action university.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14867

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

IE University's School of Politics, Economics, and Global Affairs (SPEGA) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2025. The position is open in terms of specialization. We are equally interested in candidates from the fields of political behavior, political institutions, political organizations, and formal theory.

Successful candidates will join the Political Science and International Relations group within SPEGA, which consists of 14 tenured and tenure-track scholars studying comparative politics, international relations, and political economy. Recent publications from this group appear in APSR, AJPS, JOP, BJPS, and many other top generalist and field outlets.

Candidates should have a PhD from a recognized department of political science, international relations, public policy, or related field, or demonstrate clear evidence that their PhD will be complete by July, 2025.

The IE SPEGA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain. We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by October 14, 2024, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/154301>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14860

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

IE University's School of Politics, Economics and Global Affairs (SPEGA) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2025. The position is open in terms of specialization, and we are equally interested in empirical work and formal theoretic work.

Successful candidates will join the Political Science and International Relations group within SPEGA, which consists of 14 tenured and tenure-track scholars studying comparative politics, international relations, political economy, and political behavior. Recent publications from this group appear in APSR, AJPS, JOP, BJPS, and many other top generalist and field outlets.

Candidates should have a PhD from a recognized department of political science, international relations, public policy, or related field, or demonstrate clear evidence that their PhD will be complete by July 2025.

The IE SPEGA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain. We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by October 14, 2024, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/154309>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14859

Northwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University seeks applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor in International Relations to begin on September 1, 2025. All methodological approaches are welcome. The ideal candidate will have broad training in the discipline and aim for work that offers insight into important issues in contemporary world politics as well as impact within the field.

The successful applicant will teach a combination of graduate and undergraduate courses. A Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or a closely related discipline is required. ABD applicants who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2025 will be considered. Applicants must provide a curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, a professional statement, and three letters of recommendation. The professional statement can encompass research, teaching, and service, as well as contributions to enhancing diversity, equity, and inclusion. Review of applications will begin immediately. Applications received by &lt;b>November 1&lt;/b> will be given priority. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

You may apply here: <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html> &quot; target=&quot;_blank&lt;a href="https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html">https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html&lt;/a>

For inquiries about job advertisements or the application process, please contact Stephen Monteiro, Business Administrator in the Political Science Department. <mailto:stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu> &lt;a href="mailto:stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu">stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu&lt;/a>

&lt;b>Salary&lt;/b>

The expected base pay range for this position is $110,000 - $150,000.

This base pay range is for a nine-month academic appointment, does not include summer salary, and is subject to negotiation.

Northwestern University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

&lt;b>Benefits&lt;/b>

At Northwestern, we are proud to provide meaningful, competitive, high-quality health care plans, retirement benefits, tuition discounts and more! Visit us at <https://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html> &quot; target=&quot;_blank&lt;a href="https://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html">https://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html&lt;/a> to learn more.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14866

University of South Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor of Global/National Security + Technology

Position Summary

The School of Interdisciplinary Global Studies (SIGS) at the University of South Florida (USF) invites applications for a 9-month full-time and tenure-earning Assistant Professor position beginning on August 7, 2025. The position will be located on USF's Sarasota Manatee Campus. The candidate may be required to sometimes teach on the Tampa Campus.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

The minimum requirement for this position is a Ph.D. in political science, government, international studies, or international relations, international security, cybersecurity, or related fields from an accredited institution. The successful candidate must have demonstrated expertise at the intersection of security and technology. Applications from individuals who are ABD will be accepted, but the degree must be conferred by the time of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications

The School seeks a candidate with expertise in global or national security that intersects with technology. Preference will be given to candidates specializing in one or more of the following areas:

- Information and influence operations (e.g., disinformation, propaganda, electoral interference)
- Artificial Intelligence
- Emerging technologies and inter-state competition (e.g., weapons, future of warfare, space competition; semi-conductors, critical cyber infrastructure)
- Cyber warfare (e.g., malicious hacking)
- Technology and intelligence (e.g., AI + technology ethics/political impacts, technology and intelligence gathering, OSINT, smart cities, big data and surveillance technologies)
- International cyber cooperation (e.g., diplomatic efforts to address cyber threats, international policies on cyber security).

The hiring builds on USF's 2021 Strategic Plan, which emphasizes global and national security as a core area of institutional focus and will also strengthen the School's masters and doctoral degrees in politics and international affairs. Additionally, the position builds on the USF Sarasota Manatee's Campus' efforts to build an interdisciplinary research cluster in cyber security and technology. The candidate will have the opportunity to engage with the Global and National Security Institute (GNSI), Cyber Florida, and other entities within the university. The teaching load is two courses per semester (four courses per academic year).

Salary Reference

- Salary is competitive/negotiable.

Application Process

To apply, please visit https://gems.usf.edu:4440/psc/gemsprom-tam/EMPLOYEE/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=1&JobOpeningId=37865&PostingSeq=1

Applications should be uploaded as a single document and organized in the following way:

1. cover letter detailing your research agenda and teaching experience,
2. current curriculum vitae,
3. graduate transcripts
4. a writing sample of no more than 40 pages
5. a sample syllabus of a course you have taught
6. three references (at this stage contact information only)

All documents must be combined and uploaded as one file.

Reference Requirements:

- 3 references (at this stage contact information only)
- Applicants must provide the names and contact information of their references (3 required). SIGS will request confidential letters from the references of those applicants who are under consideration.

Application Deadline

Applications must be received by October 20, 2024, to receive full consideration, though application will remain open until the position is filled.

About the University

The University of South Florida, a high-impact research university dedicated to student success and committed to community engagement, generates an annual economic impact of more than $6 billion. With campuses in Tampa, St. Petersburg and Sarasota-Manatee, USF serves approximately 50,000 students who represent nearly 150 different countries. For four consecutive years, U.S. News & World Report has ranked USF as one of the nation's top 50 public universities, including USF's highest ranking ever in 2023 (No. 42). In 2023, USF became the first public university in Florida in nearly 40 years to be invited to join the Association of American Universities (AAU), a prestigious group of the leading research universities in the United States and Canada. Through hundreds of millions of dollars in research activity each year and as one of the top universities in the world for securing new patents, USF is a leader in solving global problems and improving lives. USF is a member of the American Athletic Conference. Learn more at www.usf.edu

Legal and EO/EA Statement

Conclusion of this search is subject to final budget approval. According to Florida Law, applications and meetings regarding them are open to the public. USF is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access institution. To request an accommodation with the application or interview process, please contact Carolyn Dyson, Associate Director, Human Resources, USF Sarasota-Manatee campus cdyson@usf.edu, a minimum of five working days in advance.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14856

College of William & Mary

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government (Comparative/International Relations)

The Department of Government at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, seeks applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level in Comparative Politics/International Relations with an emphasis on the politics of the Middle East and North Africa. We are especially interested in individuals with research or teaching expertise in race, ethnicity, diaspora, or migration politics.

Duties include research, teaching, and service to the University. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a vibrant research program that inspires a highly motivated undergraduate student body. Teaching expectation is 2 courses per semester. Successful applicants must possess the skills to teach compelling courses in Middle East politics to undergraduates at the intermediate and advanced level. The successful candidate will possess a demonstrated commitment to producing high-level scholarship and outstanding classroom teaching; will help the Department enhance diversity of new perspectives to its research profile and curricular offerings; and will be interested in mentoring student research or conducting collaborative research with students.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science or a related field at the time the appointment begins (August 10, 2025).

Preferred Qualifications: Previous experience in teaching and mentoring successful undergraduate research is preferred. Demonstrated interest or previous experience teaching introductory courses in comparative politics, international relations, or research methods is preferred.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of teaching interests, a statement of research interests, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness that may include teaching evaluations. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, October 17, 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed

Information on the degree programs in the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.wm.edu/as/government/index.php>. Government is one of the largest majors on campus. Our faculty receive support from various research centers on campus, and we contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Asian and Middle Eastern Studies, Data Science, Environmental Science and Policy, Gender Sexuality and Women's Studies, Global Studies, International Relations, American Studies, Public Health, and Public Policy. William & Mary is convenient to Richmond, Norfolk, and Washington, DC.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/17/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 14832

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: CFR 2025-26 International Affairs Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: International Security, Economic Policy, China

The Council on Foreign Relations is seeking applicants for its six 2025-26 International Affairs Fellowship programs. These transformational programs enable U.S. citizens who are mid-career professionals with a demonstrated interest in foreign policy to gain experience in a new environment in the United States, Canada, India, Europe, Indonesia, and Japan, or at an international organization. Selected fellows broaden their perspective on foreign affairs by working in a policymaking setting or by conducting research in an academic environment.

Applications are now through November 1, 2024, for all six fellowships. Learn about each program by visiting cfr.org/fellowships for more information or to hear from past fellows.

To apply, please visit cfr.org/fellowships. Applications must be submitted through the official portal on our website to be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14836

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Tenure Track Professor of International Law and Ethics, Open Rank

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies at Indiana University - Bloomington is inviting applications for a full-time position in International Law, Institutions and Ethics. This is an open rank tenured/tenure track position in the school's multidisciplinary Department of International Studies.

The successful candidate will have a strong research and teaching record in international law, institutions and ethics. Candidates might specialize in the fields of international humanitarian or human rights law, ethics, law and armed conflict, humanitarian intervention, ethics and AI, privacy, or the ethics of development and environmental conservation/justice.

Review of applications will begin immediately, with all applications received by October 18, 2024 being guaranteed full consideration. This appointment is anticipated to begin on August 1, 2025.

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies houses the Department of International Studies and three preeminent area studies departments: East Asian Languages and Cultures, Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures, and Central Eurasian Studies. A long-standing leader in language and cultural studies in the Midwest, it also houses three federally funded language flagship programs (Arabic, Chinese, and Russian), six Title VI funded National Resource Centers

(African Studies Program, Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Center for the Study of Global Change, Center for the Study of the Middle East, Inner Asian and Uralic National Resource Center, Robert F. Byrnes Russian and East European Institute) and nine additional research and teaching centers. Of particular relevance to scholars interested in this position is the Tobias Center for Innovation in International Development (<https://tobiasdevelopment.indiana.edu/>).

The School's central mission is to combine deep area expertise with rigorous, multidisciplinary instruction of international affairs and global cultural studies. The Department of International Studies offers four undergraduate degrees (B.A. in International Studies, B.S. in International Studies, B.A. in International Law and Institutions, and B.S. in Cybersecurity and Global Policy (offered jointly with the Luddy School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering)) and three professional graduate degrees (M.A. in International Studies, M.S. in International Studies, and, joint with the O'Neill School of Environmental and Public Affairs, a Master's in International Affairs) along with one accelerated B.A./M.A. in the International Studies program.

Bloomington, Indiana is a charming college town in south central Indiana, roughly one hour to the award-winning Indianapolis Airport and ninety minutes to Louisville, KY. Bloomington offers many amenities including a relatively low cost of living, short commute times, excellent public schools, diverse dining options, and easy access to state parks and national forests. The confluence of the Jacob School of Music, the Eskenazi Art School, and a vibrant local music, comedy, and theater scene provide access to substantial affordable artistic programming. IU Bloomington is committed to fostering an inclusive and diverse community, as evidenced by it recently being ranked fourth nationwide on a list of the top LGBTQ+-friendly colleges. More about the University's diversity and inclusion initiatives can be found here: <https://diversity.iu.edu/faculty-and-belonging/index.html>

Basic Qualifications:

Candidates should hold a PhD or equivalent in a relevant discipline in law, social sciences or the humanities and have an outstanding record of research, publication, teaching and professional service (appropriate to their rank). Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to working in an interdisciplinary academic environment and be enthusiastic about engaging with scholars and students focused on area studies.

Preferred Qualifications:

The department has a preference for candidates whose scholarship involves grounded expertise in their topic, such as through using research methods that display fluency in a second language, involve fieldwork, and/or engage with international organizations/institutions.

Required Application Materials:

Applicants should submit a cover letter highlighting their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, a sample syllabus of a course they are prepared to teach, and the names of three references (finalists' references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation).

Applicant referees will receive an email link to submit their letters of reference directly to the search committee through the PeopleAdmin interface.

For questions regarding the Department of International Studies, please contact Professor Emma Gilligan, search committee chair, at egilliga@iu.edu or visit the departmental website at internationalstudies.indiana.edu. For questions regarding the application submission process, please contact Mr. Zac Muller, Assistant Director of Faculty Relations, Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies, at zmuller@iu.edu.

Application materials may be submitted via the PeopleAdmin applicant portal at:

<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25573>

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Please note that this offer must also gain final administrative approval and is subject to the University's receipt of verification of your credentials and other information required by law, and on your furnishing the federally required documentation showing that you are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or an authorized alien entitled to be employed in the U.S. for the period of your appointment. Indiana University participates in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's E-Verify Program to confirm employment eligibility. Upon acceptance of your offer, you will receive an email containing information on employment eligibility verification and the E-Verify process. This appointment is also conditional on a positive outcome of a background check, a part of the appointment process for all faculty and staff at the University as well as a misconduct review for prospective tenured faculty. You will receive an authorization/release form that you will be asked to sign. The misconduct review will occur before this offer is finalized, and the background check will be initiated and completed through HireRight, the default web-based system, once all appointment-related documentation has been submitted to the Business Office.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14833

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Tenure Track Professor of Technology and Governance, Open Rank

Indiana University's Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies is inviting applications for an open rank tenured/tenure track professor of Technology and Governance in the school's multidisciplinary Department of International Studies.

The successful candidate will have a strong research and teaching agenda focused on existing and/or emerging technologies and their effect on democracy, peace and conflict, development and inequality, transnational regulation whether public or private, or governance more broadly. The scholar should be prepared to teach courses that explore global issues and advanced governance topics in diplomacy, security, democracy, peace, and/or economic (in)equality as they relate to technologies and the infrastructures that support and make these technologies possible.

Technologies of particular interest include, but are not limited to, artificial intelligence, robotics, quantum computing, surveillance technologies, blockchain, the Internet of Things (IoT), biotechnology, nanotechnology, cloud computing, military technologies, 5G networks, big data analytics, renewable energy technologies, fintech, and virtual/augmented reality.

Review of applications will begin immediately, with all applications received by October 18, 2024 being guaranteed full consideration. This appointment is anticipated to begin on August 1, 2025.

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies houses the Department of International Studies and three preeminent area studies departments: East Asian Languages and Cultures, Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures, and Central Eurasian Studies. A long-standing leader in language and cultural studies in the Midwest, it also houses three federally funded language flagship programs (Arabic, Chinese, and Russian), six Title VI funded National Resource Centers (African Studies Program, Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Center for the Study of Global Change, Center for the Study of the Middle East, Inner Asian and Uralic National Resource Center, Robert F. Byrnes Russian and East European Institute) and nine additional research and teaching centers. IU has also invested heavily in interdisciplinary research at the intersection of emerging technologies/infrastructures (such as AI, vehicle autonomy, and cybersecurity) and society. For more information about these programs and initiatives, see the Luddy Artificial Intelligence Center, the Center for Applied Cybersecurity Research, and the Mauer School's Law and Technology program.

The School's central mission is to combine deep area expertise with rigorous, multidisciplinary instruction of international affairs and global cultural studies. The Department of International Studies offers four undergraduate degrees (B.A. in International Studies, B.S. in International Studies, B.A. in International Law and Institutions, and B.S. in Cybersecurity and Global Policy (offered jointly with the Luddy School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering) and three professional graduate degrees (M.A. in International Studies, M.S. in International Studies, and, joint with the O'Neill School of Environmental and Public Affairs, a Master's in International Affairs) along with one accelerated B.A./M.A. in the International Studies program.

Bloomington, Indiana is a charming college town in south central Indiana, roughly one hour to the award-winning Indianapolis Airport and ninety minutes to Louisville, KY. Bloomington offers many amenities including a relatively low cost of living, short commute times, excellent public schools, diverse dining options, and easy access to state parks and national forests. The confluence of the Jacob School of Music, the Eskenazi Art School, and a vibrant local music, comedy, and theater scene provide access to substantial affordable artistic programming. IU Bloomington is committed to fostering an inclusive and diverse community, as evidenced by it recently being ranked fourth nationwide on a list of the top LGBTQ+-friendly colleges. More about the University's diversity and inclusion initiatives can be found here: <https://diversity.iu.edu/faculty-and-belonging/index.html> Basic Qualifications:

Candidates should hold a PhD or equivalent in a relevant discipline in the social sciences, humanities, or law and have a strong record of research, publication, teaching, and professional service (appropriate to their rank). Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to working in an interdisciplinary academic environment and be enthusiastic about engaging with scholars and students focused on area studies.

Preferred Qualifications:

The department has a preference for candidates whose scholarship involves grounded expertise in their topic, such as through using research methods that display fluency in a second language, involve fieldwork, and/or engage with international organizations/institutions. Additionally, we are especially interested to receive applications from scholars with training in quantitative research methods, though such training is not a prerequisite for applying.

Required Application Materials:

Applicants should submit a cover letter highlighting their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, a sample syllabus of a course they are prepared to teach, and the names of three references (finalists' references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation).

Applicant referees will receive an email link to submit their letters of reference directly to the search committee through the PeopleAdmin interface.

For questions regarding the Department of International Studies, please contact Professor Sarah Bauerle Danzman, search committee chair, at sbauerle@iu.edu or visit the departmental website at internationalstudies.indiana.edu. For questions regarding the application submission process, please contact Mr. Zac Muller, Assistant Director of Faculty Relations, Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies, at zmuller@iu.edu.

Application materials may be submitted via the PeopleAdmin applicant portal at:

<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25574>

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Please note that this offer must also gain final administrative approval and is subject to the University's receipt of verification of your credentials and other information required by law, and on your furnishing the federally required documentation showing that you are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or an authorized alien entitled to be employed in the U.S. for the period of your appointment. Indiana University participates in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's E-Verify Program to confirm employment eligibility. Upon acceptance of your offer, you will receive an email containing information on employment eligibility verification and the E-Verify process. This appointment is also conditional on a positive outcome of a background check, a part of the appointment process for all faculty and staff at the University as well as a misconduct review for prospective tenured faculty. You will receive an authorization/release form that you will be asked to sign. The misconduct review will occur before this offer is finalized, and the background check will be initiated and completed through HireRight, the default web-based system, once all appointment-related documentation has been submitted to the Business Office.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14830

College of William & Mary

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government & Africana Studies (Race/Ethnicity)

The Department of Government and the Africana Studies program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, jointly seek applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level with an emphasis on the politics of race and ethnicity of the peoples of Africa and/or the African diaspora. Appointment will begin August 10, 2025.

Duties include research, teaching, and service to the University. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a vibrant research program that inspires a highly motivated undergraduate student body. Teaching expectation is two courses per semester split equally between Government and Africana Studies. Successful applicants must possess the skills to teach compelling lecture and seminar-style courses for both units on the politics of race and ethnicity. The successful candidate will possess a demonstrated commitment to producing high-level scholarship and outstanding classroom teaching in the areas of political science and African and/or African diasporic studies; will help the units enhance diversity of new perspectives to its research profile and curricular offerings; and will be interested in mentoring or conducting collaborative research with students. The tenure home will be in the Government Department.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science, African studies, African American studies or a related field at the time the appointment begins (August 10, 2025).

Preferred Qualifications: Previous experience in teaching and mentoring successful undergraduate research, and willingness to enter the rotation of professors who teach

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a CV, a cover letter, a statement of teaching interests, a statement of research interests, writing sample and evidence of teaching effectiveness that may include teaching evaluations. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, October 10, 2024.

Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.

Information on the degree programs in the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.wm.edu/as/government/index.php>.

Information on the Africana Studies program is available at <https://www.wm.edu/as/africanastudies/>. William & Mary is convenient to Richmond, Norfolk, and Washington, DC.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/17/2024

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 14821

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant Professor of International & Area Studies – International Security

The David L. Boren College of International Studies at the University of Oklahoma seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track Wick Cary Assistant Professor of International Security with a starting date of August 15, 2025. The College encourages applications from all interested and qualified parties. Our mission statement and other information can be found at www.ou.edu/cis.

While the position is open with respect to substantive specialization within the International Relations subfield of International Security, we have particular interest in candidates with research expertise in United States Foreign Policy and/or the international security implications of emerging technologies.

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate courses in International Relations and International Security, as well as courses in our on-campus MA in International Studies (MAIS) program. The College has particular teaching needs in the area of United States Foreign Policy at the undergraduate and MA levels, as well as in Policy Analysis and Writing at the MA level. We also have interest in candidates with the ability to teach courses on international security and technology. The candidate will also have the opportunity to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in their specific area of expertise.

The successful candidate will also be expected to develop and maintain a consistent research agenda leading to high-quality academic publications, and to take an engaged role in overseeing and building academic programs in International Relations and International Security. The Boren College of International Studies offers nine undergraduate degrees to approximately 300 majors and minors, an on-campus MA in International Studies with 25 students, and an online MA in Global Affairs with nearly 150 students. The College hosts a variety of research centers and has 23 full-time faculty with combined strengths in international security, development, and area studies (<https://www.ou.edu/cis>).

Required and Preferred Qualifications:

Required:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations in hand, or expected by time of appointment.
- Demonstrated ability to conduct high-quality research in International Security.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to teach courses in International Relations and/or International Security.

Preferences (Not Required):

- One or more publications in relevant peer-reviewed outlets and additional ongoing research in International Security.
- Research expertise in United States Foreign Policy and/or the international security implications of emerging technologies.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to generate external research funding.
- Demonstrated ability or potential to teach courses in United States Foreign Policy, Policy Analysis and Writing, and/or courses on international security and technology.
- Excellence in teaching and in supporting student success.

Application Instructions:

Applicants are invited to submit a cover letter, current C.V., writing sample, and list of three potential academic references to <https://apply.interfolio.com/152477>. The cover letter may address examples of the candidate's approach to teaching, inclusive excellence, research, service, and student mentorship. Additional materials may be requested at a later date. The search will remain open until filled.

Contact Person and Application Review Date:

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on October 10, 2024. Inquiries should be directed to the search committee chair: Dr. Mark Raymond, Wick Cary Associate Professor of International Relations University of Oklahoma
 mraymond@ou.edu

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Why You Belong at the University of Oklahoma

The University of Oklahoma fosters an inclusive culture of respect and civility, belonging, and access, which are essential to our collective pursuit of excellence and our determination to change lives. The unique talents, perspectives, and experiences of our community enrich the learning, and working environment at OU, inspiring us to harness our innovation, creativity, and collaboration for the advancement of people everywhere.

Mission of the University of Oklahoma

The Mission of the University of Oklahoma is to provide the best possible educational experience for our students through excellence in teaching, research and creative activity, and service to the state and society.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14825

Columbia University

Rank: Gerald L. Curtis Professor of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy

Position Description

The Columbia School of International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a distinguished scholar at any academic rank, from tenure-track assistant professor to tenured full professor, to hold the Gerald L. Curtis Professorship of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy to begin July 1, 2025.

The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in the School of International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science or may be appointed exclusively in one of these two units.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. and the ability to undertake research in the Japanese language are required. Candidates will be expected to teach and sustain an active research and publication agenda involving public policy issues in contemporary Japanese politics and/or foreign relations. The candidate will be expected to play a leadership role in the Weatherhead East Asian Institute in organizing research and programmatic activities concerning Japanese politics and foreign policy.

Salary Range:

- Assistant Professor: $120,000-$130,000
- Associate Professor: $130,000-$180,000
- Professor with tenure: $180,000-$250,000

Application Instructions

Non-tenured applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, list of references, and at least two brief writing samples.

Tenured applicants should upload a vitae and letter of interest detailing current and future research plans.

Please visit our online application site at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153718> for further information about this position and to submit your application.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For further information, please contact Deirdre Brady, Senior Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs, at d.brady@columbia.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14809

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Affairs and Data Science

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs (www.inta.gatech.edu) at the Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in International Affairs and Data Science to begin Fall 2025. Scholars with a research specialization in International Security, International Political Economy, or Global Development are encouraged to apply. The position is open to applicants employing any methodology in their research and teaching, but applicants with specializations in computational approaches at the intersection of Science & Technology and International Affairs such as GIS, machine learning, deep learning, natural language processing, Bayesian statistics, network analysis, or other computational tools are especially encouraged to apply. A geographic area of specialization is welcomed but not necessary. Candidates with a proven record in teaching data analytics to non-specialists and conducting rigorous policy relevant research are encouraged to apply.

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPT\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=276838&PostingSeq=1

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14806

Auburn University

Rank: Assistant Professor (tenure-track), Global Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Middle East

The Department of Political Science at Auburn University seeks a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Global Politics to begin August 16, 2025. Areas of interest include contentious politics and authoritarian systems, ethnic politics, and international/comparative political economy. Regional expertise in Sub-Saharan Africa or the Middle East/North Africa is also desirable.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations, as well as the Department's University Core Course: Global Politics and Issues. We seek candidates with strong methodological skills who can contribute to quantitative methodological instruction in the Department, both at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester for at least the first three years of appointment. In person instruction.

Required qualifications include a doctoral degree in Political Science conferred by the appointment start date. The candidate selected must be able to meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States at the time the appointment is scheduled to begin and continue working legally during employment.

Excellent interpersonal and written communication skills are required.

The review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until a suitable candidate is selected. To apply, please visit <https://www.auemployment.com/postings/47619>. Candidates must submit a cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position, a curriculum vitae, contact information for three letters of recommendation, a teaching statement and evidence of teaching ability, a research statement, and a writing sample.

Auburn University is an elite, top-tier Carnegie R1 research institution, enrolling more than 33,000 students. It is one of the nation's premier public land-grant institutions. In 2024, U.S. News and World Report ranked it among the top 50 public universities in the country. The University is nationally recognized for its commitment to academic excellence, positive work environment, student engagement, and beautiful campus.

The Department of Political Science has 26 tenured or tenure-track faculty. It offers undergraduate majors in political science, law and justice, public administration, and health services administration, master's degree programs in public administration and community planning, and a Ph.D. in public administration and public policy. The political science major is one of the largest in the College of Liberal Arts, enrolling around 275 students on average.

Direct questions to Peter White, Global Politics Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University, AL 36849-5208.

Email polisci@auburn.edu.

Auburn University is understanding of and sensitive to the family needs of faculty, including dual-career couples. Please see <http://www.auburn.edu/academic/provost/facultyjobs/> for more details.

Auburn University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. It is our policy to provide equal employment opportunities for all individuals without regard to race, sex, religion, color, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other classification protected by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14801

Lehigh University

Rank: Bernard L. & Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Position: Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY. The Department of International Relations invites applications for a tenured Full Professor to fill the Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair, with an anticipated start date of July 2025. The position is open to all research and teaching specializations within the fields of international relations, foreign policy, and/or comparative politics.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in International Relations or a closely related field. The ideal candidate will have connections to the policy community in Washington, DC, and/or New York City and be able to assist students with internship placement.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and excellence in research. The individual hired will, specifically, be expected to teach courses in International Relations at the undergraduate level, engage in scholarly activities, and participate in departmental, college, and university service, as well as advise undergraduate internships.

Lehigh is among the few higher educational institutions in the US that has long had a separate department of IR. This allows students with a particular interest in international affairs to benefit from a concentrated, high-level program of study that few other schools offer.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly-ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for over 7,500 students. Lehigh University has some 5,800 undergraduates, 1,800 graduate students, and nearly 600 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA, a vibrant and historic area. Over 840,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, however, applications should be received by October 11, 2024. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28335>. Candidates should submit the following materials:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Research statement that describes past scholarly contributions and future research directions

Teaching statement that describes instructional philosophy and courses that the candidate would want to teach or develop

Name and contact information for three references

A statement on contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) that describes knowledge, prior DEI experience, and the candidate's future plans for enhancing community and culture at Lehigh (the Lehigh ADVANCE Center's guide for understanding and preparing such statements is available here)

All inquiries regarding the search should be directed to Ms. Edann Brady at emb703@lehigh.edu or 610-758-3390.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 14800

Northwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern University seeks applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Environmental Politics, broadly construed, with an expected start on September 1, 2025. American politics subfield expertise is preferred, although we also welcome scholars whose work encompasses environmental/climate politics of the US in comparative or international perspective. We are open with regard to methodological approach, as well as to behavioral, institutional, state/local, political economy, and historical perspectives.

Successful candidates will build strong linkages with the Environmental Policy and Culture program and contribute to a cross-disciplinary group of scholars at Northwestern who study social- and human-environment interactions across social, cultural, economic, and political spectra. Successful applicants will have an opportunity to contribute to a growing curriculum at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates should demonstrate evidence of strong research productivity and a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring of undergraduates and graduate students. We are particularly interested in scholars with a commitment and track record of promoting inclusion in the realms of research, teaching and/or service.

Applicants must provide a curriculum vitae, cover letter, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants are invited to submit a statement addressing their past and/or potential contributions to enhancing diversity, equity, and/or inclusion through research, teaching, and/or service. Applicants will have the option to upload additional writing samples. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission using Northwestern University's Faculty Recruiting Portal. Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree is required; however, ABD applicants who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2025 will be considered. Consideration of files will begin on October 15 and will continue until the position is filled. All applications received by October 20 will be given priority.

You may apply here: <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html>; target=&quot;\_blankhttps://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html;

For inquiries about job advertisements or the application process, please contact Stephen Monteiro, Business Administrator in the Political Science Department. <mailto:stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu>;

Salary

The expected base pay range for this position is $110,000 - $150,000.

This base pay range is for a nine-month academic appointment, does not include summer salary, and is subject to negotiation.

Northwestern University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Benefits

At Northwestern, we are proud to provide meaningful, competitive, high-quality health care plans, retirement benefits, tuition discounts and more! Visit us at <https://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html>; target=&quot;\_blankhttps://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/index.html; to learn more.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/6/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14805

U.S. Air War College

Rank: Professor (open rank) of International Security Studies

Specializations: Southeast Asia, South Asia, Latin American

The United States Air War College Department of International Security Studies invites applications for the position of Professor (open rank) of International Security. Applicants should have expertise in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, as well as scholarly interests in international relations, political economy, comparative politics (with a security focus), and/or U.S. national security policy. The department is particularly interested in candidates with expertise on the intersection of security and international economics, as well as those with regional expertise in Southeast Asia, Northeast Asia, South Asia, or Latin America.

Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum (Great Power Studies, Regional Security Studies focused on either your region of specialization, and US national security); teaching electives in the applicant's area(s) of specialization; curriculum development; advising student research; and service to the institution. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Approximate class sizes are 12-16 students per seminar.

Qualifications and Requirements

The position requires university-equivalent teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and broad knowledge of the subject matter that comprises the AWC curriculum, i.e., global environment, international political structures and strategy; military thought and theory; military history; organization, capabilities, and limitations of armed forces.

A successful candidate would be expected to maintain an active research agenda including the publication of scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews in peer reviewed scholarly journals, professional journals and other outlets, and presentation of research at appropriate conferences and symposia. There is time and funding available for research and travel for individual areas of expertise or regional specialty.

Applicants must be:

US citizens holding a PhD at the time of application in political science, government, international relations, history or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy.

Able to obtain a Secret clearance.

Application Materials:

Cover Letter

CV

Application form (available through USA Jobs)

Teaching portfolio including a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching accomplishments (experience and awards)

Diversity Statement including teaching, life experience and/or research interests that contribute to a climate that values and promotes diversity in all its forms

3 Professional References

Academic Transcript from PhD

For more information about the position, and to apply, please visit <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806548500> <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/806548500>;

Point of contact: Ashly Townsen, ashly.townsen@au.af.edu

Note: Only applications submitted through USA Jobs will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14790

University of London, SOAS

Rank: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor positions in Politics and/or International Relations

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy

Job title: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor positions in Politics and/or International Relations

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 & Grade 9 - £60,239 - £69,132 p/a incl. London Allowance
Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Near and Middle East. SOAS University of London is positioned to play a leading role in re-imagining higher education globally, with a new strategic plan in place as the basis for the renewal and revitalisation of the School which commits SOAS to both student responsiveness and research intensity. SOAS is moving towards a new model of international partnerships which is responsive to the transnational character of our global challenges

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading research-led department, ranked 5th in the UK and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The Department is known for its combination of academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on politics and international relations in the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East).

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for two Lecturer (Assistant Professor) / Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor) positions in Politics and/or International Relations starting in the Autumn of 2025. These are T&R (Teaching and Research) positions. The role holder will be expected to contribute to—and shape—the Department's research profile as well as the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Apart from the publication of outstanding academic research, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations, supervise PhD theses (pending completion of a probationary period), and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

Within the discipline of Politics and International Relations, the search is open as to disciplinary subfield and research specialism. Regional expertise is valued, and some experience running both on-campus and online modules, including Executive Education modules, will be beneficial.

Further information on key criteria for the role can be found in the Job Description and the Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities.

How to Apply: Please apply via the link : <https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/job/605776>

Closing date: 30th November 2024

Interviews: TBC

For more information on the role, including a full list of its duties and responsibilities please consult the Job Description and Person Specification found in the job pack attached.

For informal inquiries please contact the Head of Department, Professor Matthew J. Nelson, at mn6@soas.ac.uk.

Further information:

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact hr-recruitment@soas.ac.uk. Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 for the duration of their contract. SOAS will support visa applications for this role where possible.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

We would particularly welcome applications from candidates from working class, first generation Higher Education, Black, Asian, other minority ethnic and underrepresented groups from within the UK and beyond. All appointment decisions will be made on merit, following a fair and competitive process.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14787

San Diego State University

Rank: Mexican-Central American Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Central America, Mexico, Latin American

Description

The Political Science Department at San Diego State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Mexican and/or Central American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 2025. Applicants should demonstrate a well-developed research agenda, a promise of sustained scholarship, and a record of effective teaching.

Qualifications

The department seeks a scholar with expertise in the politics of Mexico or Central America broadly understood. We are open on theoretical and methodological approaches and welcome scholars trained in comparative politics or international relations. The successful candidate's geographic scope of research will focus on one or more countries in the region while substantive topics can include, but are not limited to, the politics of inequality, development, indigenous politics, environmental politics, state/society relations, immigration/migration, militarization, social movements, or human rights. The successful candidate will have sufficient expertise to teach and mentor on the politics of Mexico.

As part of a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) located on the US-Mexico border, we value research and teaching that are grounded in the politics of neighboring countries that have deep historical, economic, and political ties to the US and to Southern California. The candidate would be expected to offer a range of courses serving political science and associated disciplines and might also collaborate with interdisciplinary programs such as the Center for Latin American Studies, Sustainability, ISCOR (International Security and Conflict Resolution), or the Mesoamerican Studies Center in Oaxaca.

The Political Science Department at San Diego State is dedicated to the ideal of the engaged teacher-scholar. It has over 600 undergraduate majors and provides course offerings for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. At the graduate level, the department maintains an M.A. program of high quality. The members of the faculty share a strong commitment to collegiality, active participation in the governing of the department, innovative scholarship, methodological pluralism, rigorous teaching, and robust intellectual and normative engagement. Candidates are encouraged to consult the department website: <http://politicalscience.sdsu.edu>.

We are seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups. Candidates must satisfy two or more of the eight Building on Inclusive Excellence (BIE) criteria. Candidates that meet BIE criteria: (a) are committed to engaging in service with underrepresented populations within the discipline, (b) have demonstrated knowledge of barriers for underrepresented students and faculty within the discipline, (c) have experience or have demonstrated commitment to teaching and mentoring underrepresented students, (d) have experience or have demonstrated commitment to integrating understanding of underrepresented populations and communities into research, (e) have experience in or have demonstrated commitment to extending knowledge of opportunities and challenges in achieving artistic/scholarly success to members of an underrepresented group, (f) have experience in or have demonstrated commitment to research that engages underrepresented communities, (g) have expertise or demonstrated commitment to developing expertise in cross-cultural communication and collaboration, and/or (h) have research interests that contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Please indicate in a separate diversity statement how you meet at least two (2) of these criteria. Additional guidance on our BIE program for applicants is here.

SDSU is the oldest institution of higher education in the San Diego region, with a campus in San Diego serving 36,000 undergraduate and graduate students and additional locations in Southern California's Imperial Valley and Tbilisi in the Republic of Georgia. SDSU is included in the Carnegie Foundation's Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity category. Established in 1897, SDSU offers bachelor degrees in 97 areas, masters in 84 and doctorates in 23. See <http://www.sdsu.edu> for more information. SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university, an Asian-Native American-Pacific Islander-Serving Institution and a Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150566>. A completed file includes a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, complete teaching evaluations (quantitative evaluations and complete sets of qualitative evaluations of recent courses), sample syllabi, academic writing samples, diversity statement, and three letters of recommendation. To ensure full consideration, submit all materials by October 4th, 2024. Screening of applications will begin then. Applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. by the start of the term of appointment will be given priority. Those without a Ph.D. in-hand should include in their letter of interest a statement of progress on the dissertation and reasons to expect completion in a timely fashion.

Further inquiries should be addressed to Jonathan Graubart, Chair of the Department of Political Science, at graubart@sdsu.edu.

The minimum salary for this position is based on the current CSU salary schedule for Assistant Professors and may be revised based on contract collective bargaining. The anticipated salary range is from $82,000-$87,000. Salary placement will be based on the selected candidate's qualifications and experience, and salaries higher than the published maximums may be offered in limited circumstances. San Diego State University offers a rich benefits package that constitutes a major portion of total compensation. For benefits information, click here.

As part of its commitment to a safe and equitable "OneSDSU" community, SDSU requires that individuals seeking faculty employment provide at the time of application authorization to conduct background checks if they become a finalist for the position; applications without this authorization will be considered incomplete and not considered.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Apply Now

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/4/2024

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14785

Washington & Lee University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

The Department of Politics at Washington and Lee University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a regional specialization in Latin America beginning July 1, 2025. A completed Ph.D. is required by the time of appointment.

This is a tenure-track appointment with a teaching load of 5 courses per year. The school calendar consists of two 13-week terms (fall and winter) and our unique 4-week spring term. The successful candidate will be expected to teach sections of the Department's introductory course in Global Politics, 2 sections of applied statistics, and upper-level courses related to the candidate's field of expertise.

This position requires a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment; as such, evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. We also welcome interdisciplinary contributions to the curriculum. Opportunities will be available to teach in interdisciplinary programs at the University—including Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Africana Studies, Poverty and Human Capability Studies, and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies—as well as the DeLaney Center for the Study of Southern Race Relations, Culture, and Politics.

Faculty are also expected to have an active research program. To support faculty research agendas, the university has a summer research grant program, a generous 5-year sabbatical cycle, as well as a pre-tenure research leave program.

Washington and Lee is a top-ranked, highly selective university devoted to the teaching of the liberal arts. We are committed to excellence in teaching and to the research and professional activity that support it. Situated in the Shenandoah Valley, three hours southwest of Washington, DC, the university enrolls approximately 1,860 undergraduates and 380 law students.

Submit all application materials electronically using Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153177>.

Your letter of application should explain why you wish to teach in a liberal arts setting and how your training and research/teaching interests align with this position. Include a curriculum vitae, graduate transcript (unofficial is acceptable for initial application), teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation that speak to your teaching and research abilities.

Full consideration will be given to all applications that are complete by September 30.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14755

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2025 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. Postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose background and lived experiences would support or enhance the diversity (broadly defined) of academia or their field of study.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses. Visa sponsorship available.

For full consideration, candidates should submit all materials by December 1, 2024. For more details and the application, please visit: <https://kingcenter.stanford.edu/opportunities/prospective-postdoctoral-fellows>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14773

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor

Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC) in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position (assistant professor, associate professor or professor) in International Relations.

We seek candidates with a strong substantive research program in any domain of International Relations whose work advances theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield. We have special needs in the field of conflict and security studies broadly understood. Candidates are expected to have strong methodological training. A strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate education is also expected.

The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will start September 23, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usc Careers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/open-rank-faculty-position-in-international-relations/1209/69386885440>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

The annual base salary range for this position is $100,510 - $281,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14777

Boston University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations, China Studies

The Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in China Studies, beginning on or before July 1, 2025. The search is open to applicants from all disciplines and functional specializations, but we are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching focus on Chinese domestic politics and/or international relations. Successful candidates would be expected to have demonstrated the potential for excellence in any discipline relevant to international affairs, and share a commitment to the Pardee School's institutional values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice.

The successful candidate will teach at least one required course on China, as well as courses in his/her/their area/s of functional expertise, and will also advise and mentor our undergraduate and graduate Masters degree students. Prior teaching experience and a record of publication and research will be considered a significant plus. The Pardee School of Global Studies is committed to multidisciplinary, empirically-grounded, and policy-relevant research and teaching and to nurturing the next generation of international relations practitioners, and it is expected that candidates will share this commitment. Candidates who have demonstrated policy experience in addition to scholarly qualifications are especially encouraged to apply.

Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration, and upholds freedom of expression. Boston University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, with a rich tradition of inclusion and social justice. We are proud of our record of inclusiveness, including being the first American university to award a PhD to a woman and the institution from which Martin Luther King, Jr. received his PhD. We are dedicated to increasing participation of all talented students and professionals, especially women and underrepresented minorities. We are an equal opportunity employer: all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act federal contractor.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last 7 years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign an authorization to release information after execution of an offer letter.

Please submit 1) a letter of application describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, 2) curriculum vitae, and 3) three letters of recommendation electronically at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28218>. Questions about the position or school may be directed to Ms. Elaine Bidianos at elaineb@bu.edu.

bu.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning October 1, 2024, but applications will be accepted until the job is filled. The expected starting date for employment is July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14767

Boston University

Rank: Professor of International Relations and Director of the Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future

The Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University invites applications for Director of the Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future. The Director shall hold the rank of Professor, with tenure. The appointment is expected to begin July 1, 2025. The search is open to applicants from all disciplines and functional specializations. Successful candidates would be expected to have demonstrated the potential for excellence in any discipline relevant to international affairs, and share a commitment to the Pardee School's institutional values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice. The successful candidate must have a demonstrated record of interdisciplinary research that addresses globally important issues that affect the human condition presently, with increasing relevance over the next several decades. Scholars and practitioners whose work addresses the challenges of climate change and other forms of environmental degradation, artificial intelligence, cyber-security, the future of technologies, governance, or human security are especially encouraged to apply. We are particularly interested in work that has policy relevance.

The Frederick S. Pardee Center for the Study of the Longer-Range Future is an interdisciplinary research center of the Frederick S. Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University. The Pardee Center was established in 2000 through the generosity of the late Frederick S. Pardee, whose career as a systems analyst and an economic forecaster was imbued with a passion for analyzing trends for the future. Both the Pardee Center and the Pardee School are motivated by Mr. Pardee's lifelong dedication to the creation of a better future for all of humanity. The Center conducts interdisciplinary research on globally important issues that affect the human condition over the course of several decades. Through programs of scholarship, outreach, and education, the Pardee Center works to improve public decision-making and policy and to train future generations of interdisciplinary scholars.

The Center Director oversees the operations and activities of the Center, including research affiliates, research seminars, summer graduate fellows program, and supervises staff. The Director is expected to participate in fundraising activities for the School and the Pardee Center. In addition to leading the work of the Center, the successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in his/her/their area(s) of functional expertise, and will also advise and mentor our undergraduate and graduate students. A distinguished record of publication and research and the capacity for excellence in teaching are essential. The Pardee School of Global Studies is committed to multidisciplinary, policy-relevant research and teaching and to nurturing the next generation of international relations practitioners, and it is expected that candidates will share this commitment. Candidates who have demonstrated policy experience in addition to scholarly qualifications are encouraged to apply.

Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration, and upholds freedom of expression. Boston University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, with a rich tradition of inclusion and social justice. We are proud of our record of inclusiveness, including being the first American university to award a PhD to a woman and the institution from which Martin Luther King, Jr. received his PhD. We are dedicated to increasing participation of all talented students and professionals, especially women and underrepresented minorities. We are an equal opportunity employer: all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act federal contractor.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last 7 years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign an authorization to release information after execution of an offer letter.

Please submit 1) a letter of application describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, and 2) curriculum vitae electronically at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/25543>. Questions about the position or school may be directed to Ms. Elaine Bidianos at elaineb@bu.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning October 1, 2024, but applications will be accepted until the job is filled. The expected starting date for employment is July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14772

Boston University

Rank: Professor of International Relations, Latin America

The Pardee School of Global Studies at Boston University invites applications for a tenured Professor in Latin American Studies, beginning on or before July 1, 2025. The search is open to applicants from all disciplines and functional specializations. Successful candidates would be expected to have demonstrated the potential for excellence in any discipline relevant to international affairs, and share a commitment to the Pardee School's institutional values of diversity, equity, inclusion, and social justice.

The successful candidate will teach at least one required course on Latin America, as well as courses in his/her/their area/s of functional expertise, and will also advise and mentor our undergraduate and graduate Masters degree students. Demonstrated excellence in teaching and a distinguished record of publication and research are essential. The Pardee School of Global Studies is committed to multidisciplinary, empirically-grounded, and policy-relevant research and teaching and to nurturing the next generation of international relations practitioners, and it is expected that candidates will share this commitment. Candidates who have demonstrated policy experience in addition to scholarly qualifications are especially encouraged to apply.

Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration, and upholds freedom of expression. Boston University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities, with a rich tradition of inclusion and social justice. We are proud of our record of inclusiveness, including being the first American university to award a PhD to a woman and the institution from which Martin Luther King, Jr. received his PhD. We are dedicated to increasing participation of all talented students and professionals, especially women and underrepresented minorities. We are an equal opportunity employer: all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act federal contractor.

BU conducts a background check on all final candidates for certain faculty and staff positions. The background check includes contacting the final candidate's current and previous employer(s) to ask whether, in the last 7 years, there has been a substantiated finding of misconduct violating that employer's applicable sexual misconduct policies. To implement this process, the University requires a final candidate to complete and sign an authorization to release information after execution of an offer letter.

Please submit 1) a letter of application describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, and 2) curriculum vitae electronically at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28221>. Questions about the position or school may be directed to Ms. Elaine Bidianos at elaineb@bu.edu. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, beginning October 1, 2024, but applications will be accepted until the job is filled. The expected starting date for employment is July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14769

Case Western Reserve University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Case Western Reserve University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position. The successful applicant will study international or global politics with a focus on security, broadly defined, and participate in the rotation of faculty who teach the introductory course on international politics.

Case Western Reserve University is a private R1 research university where Political Science faculty teach a standard 2-2 load. For more information about CWRU, the department and Cleveland, see this description (<https://acrobat.adobe.com/link/review?uri=urn:aaid:scds:US:eb78a8c9-9c71-3e27-96a2-5bca47c715b8>).

The position will commence July 1, 2025 and requires a PhD or ABD in Political Science or related field.

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) an approximately one-page research statement, 4) an approximately one-page teaching statement, 5) a publication or writing sample, and 6) three letters of recommendation. Case Western Reserve University and the Department of Political Science value activities that support diversity and inclusion and invite applicants to describe such activities in their cover letter and research and teaching statements.

Candidates should upload all application materials electronically through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/152595>). Consideration of applicants will begin on November 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be sent to Professor Pete Moore, Search Committee Chair, at pwm10@case.edu.

Case Western Reserve University strives to maintain a diverse and inclusive work environment. All applicants are protected under Federal law from discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age and genetics.

Case Western Reserve provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office of Equity by phone at 216.368.3066 or by email at equity@case.edu. Determinations as to granting reasonable accommodations for any applicant will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/30/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14768

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Political Economy 2025-2027

Until very recently, students of the political economy of finance considered bankers the undisputed masters of the capitalist universe. Since the global financial crisis of 2008, however, we have seen a change of guard. Today, the financial system increasingly revolves around asset managers — mutual fund providers, private equity and venture capital firms, and hedge funds. Although asset managers serve as the agents of (individual and institutional) wealth owners, their control over ‘other people’s money’ makes them the pivotal actors in corporate governance, and in matters of capital allocation more broadly.

Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Political Economy at the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs. We seek a scholar interested in studying the emerging area of asset manager capitalism from a political economy perspective. An explicit focus on inequalities is an asset, as is experience in working with large-scale financial datasets. We encourage research proposals that seek to answer big questions about the political economy of capitalism.

The successful candidate will be working with Prof. Mark Blyth at the Rhodes Center for International Economics and Finance at Brown University (Providence) and with Prof. Benjamin Braun at the European Institute at the London School of Economics (LSE). This is a two-year appointment. It is expected that the successful candidate will be primarily located at Brown with occasional short-term research stays at LSE.

Ability to conduct and write policy-oriented research, as well as academic research, is essential. There are no teaching responsibilities. The selected candidate will devote 50 percent time to projects at the Rhodes Center and 50 percent time to their own research projects.

The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Please apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147689>

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/28/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14743

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Assistant Professor of Politics

University of Virginia: UVA Provost's Office: College and Graduate School of Arts & Sciences: Politics

Location
 Charlottesville, VA
 Open Date
 Aug 27, 2024

Description

The Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies Security, Political Economy, and/or International Organizations. The successful candidate will join a vibrant community of roughly 35 tenure line faculty members and a PhD program with students across all of the discipline's subfields.

Application review will begin September 30, 2024 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2025. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda, a strong interest in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics.

Application Instructions

Apply at apply.interfolio.com/152796

All applications must include:

1. A cover letter addressing the candidate's past and future research, as well as their teaching experience and interests, including how their skills and experiences could advance the University's ambition to cultivate the most vibrant community in higher education in order to prepare students to be leaders in a diverse and globally connected world
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. Research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages)
4. Teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page)
5. One article-length writing sample
7. Three letters of recommendation

**Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.**

Questions about this position should be directed to Department Chair Jennifer Lawless at jl9jx@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14734

Ohio State University

Rank: International Relations

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a position in International Relations (IR) at the rank of assistant professor to begin in August 2025. Substantive areas of interest include, but are not limited to, global governance, security (broadly defined), foreign policy, political psychology, and IR theory. Candidates are expected to have methodological training appropriate to their research interests. We are particularly interested in candidates who are keen to join a pluralistic IR group and to engage with other programs and interdisciplinary centers at the university.

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- maintaining a research program;
- contributing to graduate and undergraduate teaching and mentoring;
- engaging in service to the department, university, and profession.

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or related discipline by August 2025. Successful candidates must be trained in International Relations (IR) or a related subfield, including methodological training appropriate to research specialization.

Desired: Preference is given to candidates with a record of publications and/or working papers, and to those providing evidence of accomplishments in teaching and/or mentoring. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Professor---International-Relations\_R112765-1]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Jennifer Mitzen at mitzen.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document;
- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14720

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track - International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. Led by President Karol V. Mason, John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY, and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment as an Assistant Professor in the Bachelor of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (ICJ BA) and the Master of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (IC&J MA) and in a department to be determined by the candidate's PhD or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department.) The position begins in Fall 2025.

The College seeks to hire a promising scholar researching international crime and justice issues. The college is especially interested in researchers working on topics of growing policy importance such as transnational crime and cyber criminology, including but not limited to topics such as cybercrime, cyber organized crime, online fraud, dark web activities, digital privacy and surveillance, social media and crime, AI and predictive policing, digital legislation, cyber terrorism, digital harassment, and the impact of emerging technologies on crime and justice, broadly defined. Additionally, the candidate should possess knowledge of sociological perspectives on crime, law, deviance, social control, and justice. This position requires proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research.

The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the BA and MA ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum (https://new.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/2023-08/7\_Princip\_Cultur\_Resp\_Incl\_AntiRacist\_Curric\_Adopt\_4.8.21-brief.pdf), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2025 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

$52,667- $99,532 Salary commensurate with education and credentials.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYFirst, please follow the instructions below:

1. Navigate to www.cuny.edu
2. Select "Employment"
3. Select "Search Job Postings"
4. Create an Account
5. After creating an account, return to the Job Search page and select "Apply Now"

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor confirming your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by November 5, 2024. In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Jana Arsovska, Director of the Master of Arts Program in International Crime and Justice via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

All questions should be directed to Dr. Jana Arsovska, Chair of the Search Committee, via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

CLOSING DATE

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024.
Posting closes on November 5, 2024.

*Interviews with successful candidates will be scheduled during the first two weeks of December 2024.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty
Job ID 28830
Location
John Jay College

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/5/2024
Date Posted: 8/22/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14699

Lafayette College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law at Lafayette College invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2025. The Department seeks candidates specializing in international and/or comparative political economy in the Global South, with a focus on dynamics of power and inequality. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science (or closely related field) or demonstrate that the Ph.D. is near completion. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to International Politics or Introduction to Comparative Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to the College's interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda. The Department especially welcomes applications from candidates who will contribute to Lafayette's commitment to diversity and inclusion. The teaching load during the first year is four courses (normally two each semester) and five courses each year thereafter.

Applications should include a letter of intent, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. The letter of intent should contain a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, and address the ways in which the applicant's teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will advance Lafayette College's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion as articulated in the College's diversity statement (<https://belong.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/>).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151960>. Review of applications will begin on September 23, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Seo-Hyun Park (parksh@lafayette.edu).

Located within 70 miles of New York City and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts and engineering institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship. Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. All Lafayette operations reflect the College's commitment to Diversity, Equity, Access, and Inclusion (DEAI) initiatives, and Lafayette welcomes applicants from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14626

Rice University

Rank: Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a Full Professor to begin July 1, 2025. The candidate will be expected to serve as Department Chair. Full professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise Ph.D. dissertations, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to department, university, and disciplinary service. Candidates must have a demonstrated record of leadership and service at the dept/school/university/discipline level, outstanding teaching in undergraduate and graduate courses, and research excellence in their specialized area. Candidates should have research interests and expertise in the areas of American politics, comparative politics, or international relations, and have utilized quantitative research methods in their work. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 1, 2024 but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; a leadership/service statement highlighting experience and leadership philosophy; a research statement; a teaching statement; a DEI statement; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and contact information for three references who can attest to the candidate's leadership experience and qualities. References will be contacted for a subset of candidates. All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151772>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14632

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in international relations. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151783>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14625

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2025. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2026, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time “career employee” at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Lt Col Woody Olmstead, PhD), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-116, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Roland.Olmstead@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14623

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire several faculty members at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2025. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Jackson School of Global Affairs, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. This search includes additional resources in two targeted areas within this broader search area. The first is for an assistant professor with expertise in African Politics, who will teach at least one course cross-listed with, and contribute to, Yale's Council on African Studies. The second is for a candidate who works on Environmental Politics, jointly appointed with the Jackson School of Global Affairs. Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in areas of political science commensurate with their expertise. Candidates jointly appointed with Jackson will also teach courses in Jackson's undergraduate and graduate curriculum. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151662>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14619

Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, South Asian Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in South Asian Politics at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any major subfield(s) of political science, with reference to the domestic and/or international politics of one or more of the following countries: Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka. Expected teaching, commensurate with the candidate's expertise, will be in South Asian Politics. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and CV. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151100>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/7/2025

Date Posted: 8/12/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14620

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science (International Relations), Fall 2025

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a full-time tenure track position in International Relations to begin August 1, 2025. Appointment is at the Assistant Professor level. While the department seeks a scholar broadly trained in theories of international politics and will review applications from all specializations, it has a preference for candidates who can enhance our disciplinary presence in areas such as security policy (e.g. political violence, terrorism, or civil war), foreign policy, or international political economy. Candidates who can contribute to a new College-wide, inter-disciplinary research and hiring initiative on societal resilience to climate change (SoReCC), climate-related disasters, and the politics of climate change will also be preferred. With societies now experiencing acute effects of rapid climate change, including environmental degradation, changes in global migration patterns, and political conflicts among nation-states and non-state actors, public and expert attention is increasingly shifting towards developing societal capabilities for disaster preparedness, prevention, mitigation, and resilience. Positions added in the SoReCC strategic focus area will leverage the college's existing instructional and research strength in disciplines and transdisciplinary areas that speak to questions of climate change and societal resilience. The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publications in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). Candidates should also have strong methodological skills. Ability to contribute to the department's methods sequence would be highly desirable. Preference will be shown for applicants who have research and teaching interests that complement existing departmental interests and strengths, have a capacity for attracting extramural funding, and demonstrate evidence of or potential for college/university teaching excellence, and exhibit a commitment to diversity and inclusion. The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the accessibility and intercultural goals of the University. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. UTK is a land-grant university and values engaged forms of research/scholarship/creative activity, teaching and service, and considers evidence of these commitments in the records of applicants. More information about the Department is available at: <https://polisci.utk.edu/>.

Environment and Community

The University of Tennessee campus is located in one of the most beautiful areas of the country with easy access to miles of inland waterways, pristine state and national parks, diverse cultural opportunities, and a blend of convenient urban and rural living settings. Downtown Knoxville, adjacent to campus, is a thriving neighborhood filled with restaurants, shops, and indoor and outdoor entertainment venues, and is home to the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra, the Knoxville Opera Company, annual international festivals such as the Big Ears Music Festival, and seasonal and weekly events such as Jazz on the Square, Shakespeare on the Square, and the Farmers Market. The University is located within easy driving distance to Asheville, Nashville, Atlanta, and the Great Smoky Mountains.

Qualifications

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related discipline must be finished at the time of appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants should send a cover letter, a current CV, a sample of scholarly writing, a research statement, and a teaching statement. In addition to addressing their qualifications for the position in their application, candidates may describe how they would help promote students' access to and inclusion in their teaching and research/scholarship/creative activities. We encourage all potential applicants to visit the University of Tennessee's access and engagement website: <https://dae.utk.edu/>. All applicants should request letters from three references to be directly uploaded to Interfolio. Please submit application materials in digital format via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150101>. Review of applications begins September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Wonjae Hwang at whwang@utk.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14604

Middlebury College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations with a focus on foreign policy analysis. The position begins in September 2025. We seek broadly trained candidates prepared to teach the introductory course in international politics, an intermediate level course on American foreign policy, as well as a variety of upper-level courses on general foreign policy issues. Ability to contribute to our research methods sequence is welcome. Appointment will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarly potential. Tenure-track faculty at Middlebury teach a 2/2 load with an additional class in winter term every other year. They are also required to contribute to the College in the form of service including, but not limited to, serving on elected committees and as Chair or Director of the department or program at the appropriate time in their career.

Middlebury College is a top-tier liberal arts college with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in faculty teaching and research. It is also committed to fostering a truly inclusive, open, and supportive learning, teaching, and working environment. The College hires faculty from around the world with a myriad of life experiences, cultures, frames of reference, social identities, and learning perspectives to help cultivate and advance innovation in our curriculum and to provide a rich and varied educational experience to our talented and distinguished student body. To that end, as an equal opportunity employer, Middlebury College seeks applications from people who would contribute to our increasingly diverse educational community not only through their backgrounds and interests, but in age, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, ethnicity, national origin, religion, and physical ability.

Middlebury College uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Email and paper applications will not be accepted. At Middlebury, we strive to make our campus a respectful, engaged community that embraces difference, with all the complexity and individuality each person brings. Thus, with your application materials please provide a separate, one-page statement on inclusion that addresses how your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and/or community service demonstrate a commitment to and/or evidence of engaging with issues of diversity and inclusion. Through Interfolio submit: a letter of application addressed to the search committee chair, Professor Kemi Fuentes-George; a curriculum vitae; undergraduate and graduate transcripts; a statement of teaching and research plans; a sample of scholarly production; and three current letters of recommendation, at least two of which must speak to teaching ability/promise. More information is available at <http://apply.interfolio.com/149898> and <https://www.middlebury.edu/academics/ps>. Review of applications begins September 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Offers of employment are contingent on completion of a background check. Information on our background check policy can be found here: <http://go.middlebury.edu/backgroundchecks>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/6/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14583

Bowdoin College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

Bowdoin College's Department of Government invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty appointment in International Relations at the Assistant Professor level, beginning July 1, 2025. The position subfield is open, with a preference for candidates whose research involves one or more of the following: human rights, international law, or international organizations. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The successful candidate will be expected to teach Introduction to International Relations in rotation, as well as courses in their own specialties; the ability to teach International Law is welcome. A PhD in International Relations or similar is expected by the date of appointment. We are particularly interested in candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate liberal arts education.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful research and/or creative work and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. At Bowdoin, inclusive excellence is an ongoing collective practice that honors our institutional commitment to provide an outstanding liberal arts education and serve the common good. We practice inclusive excellence when we build capacity to engage with and learn from differences, leverage resources to disrupt inequities, and foster belonging so that all members of our community can thrive.

The Bowdoin community warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the College's multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. Accessibility during the application and interview stages, as well as once employed, is a priority of the College: <https://www.bowdoin.edu/accessibility/index.html>. We recognize that recruiting faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, the College has developed a policy for considering short-term (non-renewable), part-time faculty appointments for academic spouses and partners and will facilitate outreach and networking for non-academic spouses and partners. Finally, visa sponsorships for faculty hires are available.

Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long pre-tenure sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals. Support for teaching, grant-writing, digital initiatives, computing software, and community partnerships in courses is readily available to all faculty. The College also offers robust programming and resources for establishing and enhancing mentoring networks.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu/postings/14466> to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion; and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland, the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (40% students of color, 7% international students and 18% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14574

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00006

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral associates are expected to participate regularly in the scholarly and academic activities of the program.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. Start date is around September 1, 2025.

Appointments are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year, starting September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34843>.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4. A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5. Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Eligible candidate must have less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14514

University of Southern California

Rank: Full-Time, Teaching or Practice Track Faculty

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences

at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications has begun. We will continue to consider new applications until August 1, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies
Department of Political Science and International Relations
Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352
University of Southern California
Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044
morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14523

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2025. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of international relations, including international security, international cooperation, the intersection of domestic politics and IR, foreign policy, and political violence/civil war. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods and use these methods in their work. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2025.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150029>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14509

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant, associate, Full Professor, Korea Foundation Endowed Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Missouri, Columbia is seeking a Korea Foundation Endowed Professor. The position is an open rank tenured/tenure track position focused on Korean politics to begin in the Fall Semester of 2025. This is a 9-month teaching and research appointment. The typical teaching load will be two (2) courses per semester. Additional expectations include active engagement with the University of Missouri Institute for Korean Studies.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:

Competitive applicants will have a clear research agenda, strong theoretical orientation, excellent methodological skills, ability to publish in highly ranked journals and academic presses, and potential for effective teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Applicants from scholars whose research has an emphasis on Korea from all subfields of political science and related fields are encouraged to apply including comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and public administration. However, the ideal candidate will contribute to the TSGPA's teaching and research interests in comparative politics.

Application Materials

Please apply online at: <https://hr.missouri.edu/job-openings> (Job Opening ID 52446). Use the online application and be prepared to upload your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and writing samples. Please also provide evidence of effective teaching, as well as a teaching statement that describes your pedagogical goals/practices including information about your ability to teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students from a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should provide three letters of recommendations to the Truman School Director's Office (mutsgpadirector@missouri.edu). Candidates at the associate or full professor level should provide three names and contact information of references. Written references will be required prior to an on-campus interview. The cover letter should address the following: current and future research, teaching interests including how the applicant ensures the classroom is inclusive of multiple perspectives and of students from different backgrounds, as well as, how the applicant envisions engaging in research focused on Korea, and with universities there. This information can also be provided in separate teaching and research statements.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee Dr. Laron Williams (williamslaro@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science, and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu>.

Benefit Eligibility This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eoo>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14512

National University of Singapore

Rank: Associate Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites application for one full-time tenure-track or tenured position in International Relations at the rank of full Professor or Associate Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all areas of the subfield, including but not limited to non-traditional security, human security, and gender and international relations. We especially encourage applications from candidates with research experience relating to Asia and whose backgrounds are traditionally underrepresented in the discipline. Candidates should submit a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests as well as leadership experience; curriculum vitae; up to three writing samples; four references; and teaching evaluations and materials if available.

The teaching load is three modules per academic year. Compensation is competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support. Successful candidates are expected to teach graduate and undergraduate classes and take a leading role in developing new departmental initiatives.

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.fas.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) includes scholars working in all areas of political science. Faculty and students can take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, and various research institutes including the Asia-Europe Foundation, the Institute of South Asian Studies, the East Asia Institute, and the Yusof Ishak Institute—Institute of Southeast Asian Studies among others. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a global leader in research and higher education. Singapore is a highly livable global city that is a major regional and international travel hub. Members of the search committee will be attending the American Political Science Annual Meeting 2024 and would be happy to arrange informal informational meetings.

Interested applicants are invited to apply directly at our NUS Career Portal : <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/21719/> . Applications will be reviewed on 1 October 2024, and continue until the search is complete. Application materials should be sent to the Chair of the Search Committee at polbox5@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14457

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Middle East Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach an upper-level, undergraduate course in-person on Middle East Politics (one section only) for the Spring 2025 semester. The instructor will teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity .

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14442

Baylor University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations

Specializations: International Security, International Political Economy, Science & Technology

To apply, go to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/147215>

Baylor University seeks to fill a tenure-track faculty position within the Department of Political Science at the Assistant Professor level in the field of International Relations, beginning Fall 2025. Area of specialization is open, and we welcome all methodological approaches. The department is particularly interested in candidates whose research or teaching interests include alliances, diplomacy, emerging technologies, environmental/climate politics, globalization, history of international relations thought, human rights, international political economy, migration, the Middle East, religion, or security studies. An ability to contribute to the university's cybersecurity initiative would be a plus.

In their application materials, candidates whose teaching/research intersects their faith are welcome to reflect on those connections.

Please visit our webpage for more information about the College of Arts and Sciences and the Department of Political Science: <https://politicalscience.artsandsciences.baylor.edu/>

About Baylor University: Located in Waco, Texas, Baylor University is the oldest college in Texas. With a population of 21,000 diverse students, Baylor is one of the top universities in the nation, having been named an R1 institution by the Carnegie Classification in January 2022. Baylor is also on the honor roll of the "Great Colleges to Work For" from The Chronicle of Higher Education; Baylor offers competitive salaries and benefits while allowing faculty and staff to live in one of the fastest-growing parts of the state. Our strategic plan, Illuminate, guides the University as we continue to live up to Baylor's mission of educating men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community.

Qualifications:

1. Candidates must have fulfilled all doctoral degree requirements in political science or a related field by the time of appointment.
2. Candidates must demonstrate an active research agenda and a commitment to research excellence.
3. A commitment to teaching excellence as demonstrated by pedagogical thoughtfulness and effective classroom instruction is preferred.

Please submit the following materials electronically via Interfolio:

1. cover letter

2. curriculum vitae
3. research statement
4. teaching portfolio including a statement of teaching philosophy and, if available, student evaluations and sample syllabi
5. copy of the transcript from the highest-degree granting institution (unofficial copy acceptable for application)
6. three letters of recommendation

As part of the application process, all applicants must complete a self-disclosed Religious Affiliation Form.

Candidates invited for an on-campus interview will need to provide official transcripts.

Complete applications must be submitted by 11 PM Central time on 9/12/2024.

Questions concerning the position should be directed to the Search Committee Chairs, Peter Campbell and Richard Jordan, peter\_campbell@baylor.edu and richard\_jordan@baylor.edu.

Baylor University is committed to making information and resources available via the web accessible for all users. If you are a job seeker and need accessibility assistance or accommodation to apply for one of our open positions, please call 254-710-2000.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/12/2024
Date Posted: 6/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14430

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, International/Global History, International Relations

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, International Security

Description

Yale University seeks applicants with expertise in the field of international/global history or international relations for a tenured faculty position at the Associate or Full Professor level, to begin 1 July 2025.

The successful candidate will receive a fully joint appointment in the Jackson School of Global Affairs and either the Faculty of Arts and Sciences' Department of History or its Department of Political Science. The appointee will be expected to teach courses in international relations or international/global history and share their teaching and service obligations between both the Jackson School and the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications

The appointee must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a directly related field by the time of hire.

Application Instructions

Application materials include a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement and writing sample. Materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/147211>.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Larisa Satara at larisa.satara@yale.edu if you have questions regarding the position or application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 6/10/2025
Date Posted: 6/10/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14405

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get\_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025
Application Deadline: 8/30/2024
Date Posted: 6/5/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14404

Fordham University

Rank: Tenure-Track: International Politics/Security (Fordham University)

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure track position in International Politics at the Assistant Professor level, beginning Fall 2025. The primary location for this position is at Fordham College-Rose Hill campus in the Bronx but service may be at any campus of the University.

We are particularly interested in candidates in the field of international security. We especially welcome applicants with regional expertise and a perspective from the Global South. Specializations for this position include, but would not be limited to: inter-state conflict; great power politics; national security; foreign policy; transnational terrorism; and the politics of weapons of mass destruction. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to undergraduate and graduate curricular needs in political science, as well as contribute to Fordham's interdisciplinary International Studies major, the Humanitarian Studies Program, and the Cybersecurity Program. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with institutions within New York City and contribute to our University and department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with our Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that diversity is central to the excellence of our academic programs, and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students of different races and ethnicities, from a range of socioeconomic and cultural backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor Anjali Dayal, Committee Chair, via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/147076>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience; curriculum vitae; writing sample; a diversity, equity, and inclusion statement; three letters of recommendation; and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience and may include past course syllabi, peer observations, and/or student evaluations. The diversity, equity, and inclusion statement should address how the candidate's teaching, mentoring, scholarship, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Earned Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans, and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 5/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14393

Yale University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowships with the Identity & Conflict Lab Specializations: Germany, China, United States

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2024-2025 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The ICL has several ongoing projects in four thematic areas: (1) native-immigrant conflict and the politics of immigrant integration across countries, with a focus on Greece, Cyprus, Turkey, Germany, Denmark, and Qatar; (2) effects of national identification (patriotism; nationalism) on foreign policy preferences with case applications in Greece, South Korea, China, and the United States; (3) strategies to reduce majority-minority group conflicts in India and Pakistan; and (4) collection and analysis of new data on separatist conflicts worldwide, and prediction of new conflict outbreaks of separatist violence. A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and quantitative analysis of observational data. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by associates can also be considered for funding by the ICL.

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Associates will be expected to collect and clean data; review reports on ongoing projects; prepare visualizations and reports of quantitative analysis of new data collected in the lab; assist with drafting grant proposals; program surveys; prepare IRB applications; conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing Lab projects; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Additionally, associates will be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders, prepare presentations of lab reports/papers, prepare replication files for published studies, help manage the ICL website and seminar series, and provide summaries of ongoing ICL work for public outreach.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be expected to help organize the ICL's annual conference as well as the workshop, which will hold occasional meetings throughout the year. Associates will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop or a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director and would be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary is competitive and comes with a benefits package. Information regarding benefits associated with the position can be found here: <https://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/benefits-enrollment-2023/postdoctoral-associates-benefits-2023>

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2022, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2024. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 10, 2023. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is extensive experience programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

Link to apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/135524>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12883

METHODOLOGY

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research

Rank: Researcher/Senior Researcher

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Welfare, United States

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research invites PhD researchers in economics, public policy, sociology, political science, industrial relations, or a related field to apply for a full-time research position. Recent PhDs may apply for a Researcher position, and those with at least 5 years of experience and an established publication record in peer-reviewed journals may apply for a Senior Researcher position.

The Upjohn Institute is an endowed, nonprofit research organization that conducts independent, nonpartisan research on employment-related issues. The Institute offers a thriving and collaborative research environment. Our staff includes twelve PhDs who share common research interests and are excellent colleagues. The Institute's endowment allows researchers considerable freedom in developing their agenda within the Institute's mission to study policy-related employment issues. (Please see <https://www.upjohn.org/about>). Research staff also seek funding from foundations or government agencies as a way of augmenting their research or becoming more involved in finding practical solutions to employment problems. Researchers receive excellent support from in-house staff, including research analysts, computer specialists, information and database specialists, communications specialists, and administrative assistants.

The Institute is searching for candidates who have demonstrated strong analytical skills, excellent oral and written communication skills for academic, policy, and general audiences, and a strong interest in addressing policy-relevant issues and communicating research findings to policy makers. A record of successful external funding commensurate with experience is a definite plus. The Institute offers competitive salaries and benefits, including the possibility of a remote work arrangement. The Institute is an equal opportunity employer that is fully committed to sustaining and continuing to build an environment of diversity, equity, and inclusion.

The position is open until filled. Review of applications will begin on November 20, 2024.

About Kalamazoo, Michigan

Kalamazoo is a dynamic metropolitan area in Southwest Michigan, located just 30 minutes from the shores of Lake Michigan. Centered halfway between Chicago and Detroit, it has a rich arts culture and a strong educational community that includes Kalamazoo College, a private liberal arts college, and Western Michigan University, a large public research institution with a nationally recognized medical school. Kalamazoo is home to The Kalamazoo Promise, which provides free in-state college tuition to all graduates of its public schools.

Application Requirements:

- A cover letter that includes a statement of how the applicant's research fits within the Institute's mission
- CV
- Up to Two Research Papers
- Three Letters of Reference for applicants with less than a year of graduation from a Ph.D. program; for other applicants, letters of reference will be requested later in the process

To apply, please submit application materials online through the JOE website: https://www.aeaweb.org/joe/listing.php?JOE\_ID=111475106

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15125

Georgia Southern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Criminal Justice, Africa, International Security

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Studies.

Georgia Southern is a dynamic university with three vibrant campuses in Hinesville, Savannah and Statesboro serving the communities in Southeast Georgia. As a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution, our world-class scholars instruct about 26,000 students in associate's, bachelor's, master's and doctoral level degree programs. Whether you are seeking the charm of a small town, the traditions of a historical/urban destination near the beach or supporting our military service members and their families, Georgia Southern offers its faculty and staff the best of all worlds!

Beyond an ideal location, there is a place for you to work in an exciting environment abounding with opportunities for personal and professional growth. We are steeped in tradition and devoted to academic distinction in teaching, scholarship and service. In 2018 Forbes Magazine listed Georgia Southern, along with 10 other Georgia companies or institutions, as one of America's Best Midsize Employers. Georgia Southern University is passionate about serving our region while preparing our students to be lifelong scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities and the world.

To learn more about Georgia Southern's Vision, Mission and Values please click here: <https://president.georgiasouthern.edu/performance-excellence/mission-values/>

Within this setting, the Department of Political Science and International Studies' mission is to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to be productive, politically literate, and engaged citizens in their communities, their nation, and the world. Integrating diverse and high-quality faculty research with excellence in the classroom, our programs promote intellectual, personal, and professional student development and cultivate research, communication, and analytical skills that are in high professional demand. Students are encouraged to bring fresh perspectives and critical thinking to the classroom that will help them become politically active. Our faculty are engaged in impactful service within the University, the profession, and the community. The Department values diversity in all its forms, recognizing that democratic virtues such as engagement, tolerance, and empathy are enhanced by the inclusion of multiple voices.

This position will contribute significantly to the Department's strengths in the area of global security with a focus on international crime, terrorism and counterterrorism, and/or human rights and a preferred regional focus on Africa. This position will also contribute to the growing partnership between the Department of Political Science and the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology around this important topical area. The Assistant Professor will be expected to contribute to collaborative, interdisciplinary research in this area with a specific emphasis on securing external grant funding and engaging with local and international community partners. The position will also contribute to cross-disciplinary courses to support the following undergraduate and graduate programs: BA Political Science, BS Criminal Justice, Master of Arts in Social Sciences, and MS in Criminal Justice. As such, support in research and teaching for this position will be offered by both academic departments (ideally, 51% Political Science and International Studies and 49% Criminal Justice and Criminology).

Location

Statesboro Campus
1332 Southern Drive
Statesboro, GA 30458

Job Summary. Reporting to the Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, the Assistant Professor position requires a strong commitment to research (50% workload with an expectation of securing external grants), a strong commitment to cross-disciplinary undergraduate and graduate education (40% workload, a 2-2 teaching load), and to service at the department, college, university, and/or professional levels. The position is an academic (10 month), tenure track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:

- Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or a closely related field such as Criminology and Criminal Justice or Sociology, by August 1, 2025
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives.
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development.
- Demonstrated commitment to advancing a strong and growing research and scholarship agenda and the production of research/creative activities as appropriate to the discipline.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Research and teaching expertise in any of the following areas of global security (broadly defined): international crime, terrorism and counterterrorism, human rights, international criminal law/justice
- Research and/or teaching expertise in Africa.
- Evidence of teaching techniques designed to reach a diverse student population, including online and graduate students.
- Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience.

Proposed Salary

Commensurate with experience.

This is an exempt position paid on a monthly basis.

Required Documents to Attach

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; and the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of at least 3 professional references. Other documentation may be requested.

Apply Before Date

Open Until Filled

Screening of applications begins November 25, 2024 and continues until the position is filled. Preferred start date is August 1, 2025.

See <https://hr.georgiasouthern.edu/employment-opportunities/> to apply. Reference Job ID 68080.

Contact Information

Dr. Kate Perry, Chair Search #68080

Associate Professor of Political Science and International Studies

+1-912-478-0838

kperry@georgiasouthern.edu

USG Core Values

The University System of Georgia is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct.

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Conditions of Employment:

All work (with limited exceptions such as research and study abroad outside activities such as grading and email correspondence) for Georgia Southern University must be completed while the employee is physically present in the state of Georgia, unless specifically authorized by the university for a specific purpose and limited period of time within current policy.

Faculty are expected to contribute to the vibrant university community by engaging students, participating in events, and performing other responsibilities on-campus.

Faculty may be required to teach, conduct research, or perform service duties on any of the three campuses. Georgia Southern provides accessible transportation options between campuses.

Offers of employment are contingent upon completion of background investigation including a criminal background check demonstrating your eligibility for employment with Georgia Southern University, as determined by Georgia Southern University in its sole discretion, confirmation of the credentials and employment history reflected in your application materials and, if applicable, a satisfactory credit check. Applicants may be subject to a pre-employment drug test.

Offers are made expressly subject to the applicable federal and state laws, to the statutes, rules and regulations of this institution and to the Bylaws and Policies of the Board of Regents (BOR) of the University System of Georgia (USG), which are available for your inspection upon request.

Legally authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the University.

Georgia Southern University is a Tobacco and Smoke-Free Community.

Equal Employment Opportunity

More information about the institution is available through <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu> or <https://www.georgiasouthern.edu/cbss/points/>. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals in need of reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources: (912) 478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15117

Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

Rank: Faculty Position (Computational Social Science)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Administration

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Research Methods

The Division of Social Science at The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology seeks to fill an open-rank faculty position in Computational Social Science.

Candidates may work in any major area in social sciences, including political science, sociology, and economics. Applicants who work on cross-disciplinary topics with other social science subjects, and/or who may contribute to the development of computational or quantitative social science in the Division are especially welcome.

Applicants should have a PhD degree in hand by the time of employment.

Teaching will be at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The University is an English-speaking research university with international faculty. The Division of Social Science is highly ranked internationally. For more information about the Division, please visit <https://sosc.hkust.edu.hk/>.

Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Fringe benefits including annual leave, medical and dental benefits will be provided. Housing benefits will also be provided where applicable. Initial appointment at Assistant Professor rank will normally be on a three-year contract, renewable subject to mutual agreement. A gratuity will be payable upon successful completion of contract.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, a sample publication, and teaching records electronically via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/156794>).

Assistant Professor applicants should arrange for 3 letters of recommendation to be sent via interfolio. For tenured Associate or Full Professor positions, references will be solicited only after both sides agree to proceed with the process of appointment.

Review of applications will start on 1 November 2024 and the search will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15101

Dartmouth College

Rank: Associate Professor of Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College seeks a teacher-scholar for a tenured appointment as Associate Professor, to be appointed as early as July 1, 2025. In exceptional cases, appointment as Professor may be considered. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science. With an emphasis on tackling social science questions, relevant fields for this search include applied mathematics, statistics, demography, economics, geography, political science, sociology, and related disciplines. We are particularly interested in applicants who have an interest in contributing to program leadership and the broader development of QSS on campus. Qualified candidates should have a Ph.D. in a relevant discipline. For a complete position description, visit Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/1570390>). Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15092

Universidad Catolica del Uruguay

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Universidad Católica del Uruguay calls for applications to fill a position of Assistant Professor (Full time) at its Department of Social Sciences. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. of be near completion (July 2025) in Sociology or Political Science, but candidates in other social science disciplines such as Demography, Human Geography or Criminology are also encouraged to apply. Candidates may be specialized in any substantive subarea (for example, research methods, public policy, social stratification, socioeconomic inequalities, political economy, or comparative politics).

Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching, an active substantive research agenda, and a demonstrated ability to publish and teach in English and Spanish. Successful candidates are expected to work full-time (160 hours per month) and start working in February or August 2025.

Applications will start being analyzed on October 30, 2024, but applications received after that will still be considered until the position is filled or the university closes the call. A complete application must contain (1) a cover letter, (2) CV, (3) an example of an undergraduate course program that the candidate would be able to teach, (4) up to 2 examples of academic research work, (5) teacher evaluations, and (6) three letters of recommendation. The application should be made electronically (<https://bpm.ucu.edu.uy/public/01LPOSD>). Letters of recommendation must be directly sent by their author to the following email: ines.fynn@ucu.edu.uy (Ref: LLAMACA-257–Letter of recommendation for [Name Last name]).

The selection process will consist on the following stages. First, a short list of candidates will be selected to be interviewed by the Selection Committee in person or via videoconference in case of residing abroad. Then, 3 shortlisted candidates will be invited to the Montevideo campus to present their research and hold interviews with members of the Department and other authorities. The selection committee may request from the candidates, at any time during the process, additional materials, or the corresponding accreditations. The decisions of the selection committee will be final. The Universidad Católica del Uruguay reserves the right not to hire any candidates without responsibility of any kind at its own expense.

For additional information, applicants may contact the Department's Chair, Rosario

Queirolo (rosario.queirolo@ucu.edu.uy).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 15054

University of Chicago

Rank: Post-doctoral Position in Political Science at the University of Chicago

The University of Chicago is seeking a post-doctoral researcher to work on a project funded by a European Research Council Starting Grant (ERC Stg), "DEPOLARIZE: Affective Polarization and Democratic Attitudes." The project will establish whether affective polarization is a factor driving democratic backsliding using state-of-the-art causal inference methods in four countries – Hungary, Poland, Turkey, and the United States. This position will focus on the case of the United States in the project.

Through a collaboration with Koç University in Istanbul, this position will work with Professor Susan Stokes at the University of Chicago and Associate Professor Selim Erdem Aytac at Koç University. The researcher for this position will be hired by the University of Chicago. This is a one-year position, in person at the University of Chicago.

Duties and responsibilities:

This position focuses on data collection and analyses related to surveys in the United States. The researcher is expected to engage in project-related activities for 80% of full-time work (32 hrs/week), while the remaining 20% (8 hrs/week) is set aside for independent research.

The responsibilities include:

- Conduct and publish high-quality research within the framework of DEPOLARIZE,
- Support the organization of roundtable discussions, literature reviews, development of survey instruments and experimental interventions, coordination with survey firms, analyses of data, and reporting of results,
- Participate in research administration and organization of project-related events,

- Disseminate results at international conferences and department seminars.

Skills and qualifications:

- PhD in Political Science or related discipline (all requirements for the PhD must be completed by the start date),
- Advanced quantitative methodological skills and experience with survey analysis and experimental designs,
- Strong interest in or background on the study of democracy, democratic backsliding, and affective polarization,
- Proficiency in Stata and R,
- Interest in or background on the study of American political behavior is an asset but is not required.

What we offer:

- 1-year employment at the vibrant Department of Political Science and the Chicago Center on Democracy at the University of Chicago,
- An internationally competitive and salary and benefits package,
- Funding for conference travel within the scope of the project.

Application instructions:

Your application package should include:

- A letter of motivation (1-2 pages) explaining your research profile and interests,
- An up-to-date CV,
- Two academic writing samples (e.g., chapter of doctoral thesis, articles, working papers),
- Two letters of recommendation.

Please send your application electronically as a single pdf file to democracy@uchicago.edu.

Application deadline: Applications are strongly preferred by October 25, 2024, though the position will remain open until filled or the search is closed.

Interviews with shortlisted candidates: Early November 2024

Starting date of position: January 2025 (with some flexibility)

Informal inquiries about the position and project can be addressed to Selim Erdem Aytac at saytac@ku.edu.tr.

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15051

University of Southern Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Special Instructions to Applicants

Candidates should submit a cover letter, C.V., teaching evaluations or evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of teaching philosophy, a research statement, a writing sample, and contact information of three professional references. We will begin reviewing applications on November 22, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should apply at jobs.usm.edu. Direct any questions to the search chair, Dr. Joseph Weinberg at joseph.weinberg@usm.edu.

Job Summary

The School of Social Science and Global Studies at The University of Southern Mississippi invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Political Science to start August 2025. The position is open with respect to substantive research and teaching interests, but priority will be given to candidates who can offer courses in American political institutions, research methods and/or public law. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to teaching and student mentorship and possess a research agenda with clear potential for a sustained record of scholarship leading to peer-reviewed publications.

The School strongly values interdisciplinary collaboration in teaching and scholarship. Our School offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues

Primary Duties and Responsibilities

Teach three courses per semester in the Fall and Spring.

Mentor undergraduate and graduate students, and participate in undergraduate advisement.

The successful candidate will also be expected to produce peer reviewed scholarly publications and participate in professional conferences. Presentations at academic conferences are supported with annual travel funds.

Tenure-track faculty members participate in shared governance, in School, College, and University committees and other service assignments.

Hold regular office hours.

Performs other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. from an accredited institution in Political Science by the time of appointment. ABD applicants are encouraged to apply but must provide official notification of the terminal degree by date of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of, or the clear potential for, scholarly development and publication in the field of Political Science. Evidence of, or the clear potential for, effective engagement with a diverse student body. Experience creating, or the clear potential for creating, a student-centered learning environment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15030

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Data-Driven Social Science

Princeton University's Initiative for Data-Driven Social Science (DDSS) invites applications for Postdoctoral Research Associates. DDSS supports technical and methodological innovation in quantitative and computational social science, addressing a diverse array of new data and analytic challenges, facilitating impactful multidisciplinary collaboration, scholarly advancement, and the creation of tools and public goods.

Requirements

Applicants must have (or expect to have at time of appointment) a PhD in the social sciences, statistics, computer science, or related fields, and their interests must fall at the technical forefront of quantitative social science. Candidates should offer state-of-the-art technical or methodological skills, applying innovative techniques in the examination of substantive social science research questions. In addition to innovation, candidates will be evaluated on their potential to create public goods and their capacity for interdisciplinary engagement.

Responsibilities

This role's emphasis is on making substantive technical and methodological contributions that either directly or indirectly support DDSS-supported projects or its mission. Candidates will be able to apply and further develop their technical skills in a dynamic research environment. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to work closely with our engineers and other research staff. Projects may include software package creation and maintenance, data engineering, development and/or implementation of advanced statistical methodologies, and supporting research on high performance and cloud computing.

The successful candidate will also be expected to offer 2-3 advanced technical or methodological workshops each semester, assist in organizing research-based events (e.g., speaker series, symposia, or reading groups), present their work at research methods and field-specific seminars, and offer consultation to faculty, graduate students, and postdoctoral researchers from the social sciences on topics related to the candidate's area of expertise. Two days per week can be dedicated to independent research. Postdoctoral research associates work under the direct supervision of the Director for Research and Strategy and DDSS Faculty Director.

Area of expertise is open, but preference will be given to candidates with expertise in one or more of the following: software package development and maintenance in R; record linkage/entity resolution; data privacy techniques; large data processing and high performance computing; advanced causal inference and statistics; computer vision and novel applications of machine learning.

Advanced knowledge of R or Python is required. Intermediate knowledge in C/C++ and/or at least one SQL dialect is preferred.

Apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36664> Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2024.

Application Requirements

1. Cover letter
2. C.V.
3. 1-2 page research statement, specifying research interests and example training workshops candidate could offer
4. 1-2 research papers
5. Names of two persons who can provide letters of reference upon request

Appointments are for one year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. The appointment will be through the Department of Politics.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Requisition Number D-25-POL-00011

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14998

U.S. Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor and Analyst

Conducting labor economic analysis to inform Air Force and Space Force personnel policy; maintaining a record or research consistent with academic rank; teaching undergraduate courses consistent with area of academic expertise; advising and mentoring cadets; serving on departmental and Academy committees.

Applicants will be assessed based on education, quality of scholarship, relevance of education and experience to labor economic analysis and human resource management, service to applicants' discipline and institution, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should submit the following items: curriculum vitae, a written research sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should additionally provide the names and contact information for three professional references. A Ph.D. in Economics, Public Policy, Business, or related field, or letter of completion by the start date and U.S. citizenship is required. Essential qualities expected of every faculty member include the personal attributes of integrity, industry, cooperation, initiative, and breadth of intellectual interests.

Must apply at <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/810548200> no later than 08NOV2024.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/8/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 14933

Marquette University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy and Quantitative Methodology (Tenure track)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Policy and Quantitative Methodology at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2025. Candidates will hold the Ph.D. degree or be near completion, and they will have a demonstrated potential for excellence in research and excellent teaching skills. We seek candidates who have extensive training in the study of public policy and major quantitative methods used in contemporary political science. Expertise in a substantive policy area within American politics is preferred.

The successful candidate will conduct research and publish scholarship. Research outcomes will be disseminated through publications in leading peer-reviewed outlets and presentations at professional meetings. The successful candidate's primary teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate courses on public policy and quantitative analysis of political data. Teaching load will be commensurate with junior faculty in the Department of Political Science. The successful candidate will also serve on one of the two main departmental committees and engage in other departmental, university, and professional service as appropriate. The successful candidate will have opportunities to work collaboratively across departments within the College of Arts and Sciences and with other related programs at the university, including the interdisciplinary data science and analytics programs at Marquette.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette University's electronic recruiting system: <https://employment.marquette.edu/postings/22031>.

Your application should include: 1) a letter of application, 2) a current Curriculum Vitae, 3) a statement on research, 4) a statement on teaching philosophy, 5) a writing sample, 6) unofficial graduate level transcripts and 7) names and email addresses of 3 references.

After submitting your application, contact the three references and have them send letters of recommendation to:

Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Marquette University
PO Box 1881
Milwaukee, WI 53201-1881

Recommenders may also send letters electronically to the Political Science Department Administrative Assistant Ms. Sahvana Williams at sahvana.williams@marquette.edu.

Recommendation letters may also be sent electronically or by mail via Interfolio.

This position is open until filled, but applications will be reviewed starting on November 15, 2024.

Marquette is a Jesuit, Catholic university and seeks candidates who will contribute to its mission, a statement of which can be found at <https://www.marquette.edu/about/mission.php>. Candidates who demonstrate success with marginalized and underrepresented students and lived experiences; have a strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion; and are able to contribute to curriculum development and diversity and inclusiveness initiatives are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14971

University of Chicago

Rank: Instructional Professor (Open-Rank), Department of Political Science

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Instructional Professor at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full in any area of political science. This is a new, full-time, teaching position. The initial term of appointment will be from three to five years, depending on rank and with a start date no later than September 2025, renewable based on a performance review. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

The successful candidate will teach up to six quarter-length courses per year including: 2-3 sections of the required methods course in Political Science; one section of the honors thesis colloquium; and up to one course of the applicant's choosing, in consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies. In addition, the successful candidate will assist faculty with advising and programming for undergraduate majors.

Candidates must complete all requirements for the PhD degree by the appointment date of September 2025 and have a record of undergraduate teaching experience, with an emphasis on innovative approaches to teaching.

Qualifications

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply online at apply.interfolio.com/155878

Please submit: (1) a cover letter in which you address your teaching interests (2) a CV; (3) three letters of recommendation; (4) a teaching statement and syllabi for two proposed courses; (5) course evaluations or other evidence of past teaching performance; (6) a writing sample (or samples) of approximately 40 pages in total length.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14967

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Political Psychology, with an emphasis on Social Psychology and experimental methods

The Department of Political Science at Simon Fraser University invites applications for a continuing full-time tenure track research faculty appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor starting in July 2025. The position may be 100% Political Science or a 75% Political Science and 25% joint appointment with SFU's Department of Psychology. This position is part of the Department of Political Science's long-term effort to build an experimental political psychology group, including a new experimental methods laboratory.

Pursuant to Section 42 of the B.C. Human Rights Code, preference will be given to candidates who self-identify as a woman or non-binary and will bring to their research and teaching the perspective that comes from the lived experiences of those underrepresented in higher education, particularly the experiences of women and non-binary peoples. Such candidates who wish to qualify for preferential consideration are requested to self-identify in their application. Simon Fraser University is committed to advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion. We encourage applicants to fill out the Applicant Demographic Survey (<https://www.surveymonkey.ca/r/VSXZJJW>) administered by the Equity Office. While participation is voluntary, your participation aids the Search Committee in ensuring equitable employment practices as specified in the job posting.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have a PhD in Political Science, Social Psychology, or an aligned field in hand on the appointment start date, and will demonstrate evidence of high-quality scholarly output in research in Political Psychology with expertise in experimental methods. Output includes publications in well-recognized journals and successfully obtaining grants.

Duties

They will be expected to carry out an independent research program yielding significant peer-reviewed publications, and to compete successfully for external funding to support this research program. Research that aligns with SFU's Strategic Research Plan will be a strength. This includes rigorous data collection and analysis; interdisciplinary projects; and community-based policy research. The ideal candidate may also conduct research that aligns with SFU's core research challenges to understand our origins and strengthen civil society by advancing justice, equality, and social responsibility.

The successful candidate will also demonstrate excellence in and/or strong potential for outstanding teaching contributions at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and an ongoing commitment to academic and pedagogical excellence in support of the Department of Political Science's programs. At the undergraduate level, the appointee would be expected to teach introductory courses in political science, including courses in political science, research design, methodology and statistics, among others. At the graduate level, the appointee will teach courses as part of the Masters in Political Science and the PhD program in Political Science, and be expected to supervise graduate students in their areas of research expertise.

If a joint appointment, the successful candidate will also conduct research, teach and supervise students in the Department of Psychology.

The person who fills this position is expected to contribute to the department's supportive and collegial working environment, and to make substantive contributions through service to the departments, the Faculty, the University, and/or the broader community.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit <https://www.sfu.ca/politics.html>. For more information about the Department of Psychology, please visit <https://www.sfu.ca/psychology.html>.

Simon Fraser University is an institution whose strength is based on our shared commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Diversity is an underlying principle of our Strategic Vision, which pledges SFU to "foster a culture of inclusion and mutual respect, celebrating the diversity reflected among its students, faculty, staff, and our community." SFU is committed to ensuring that no individual is denied access to employment opportunities for reasons unrelated to ability or qualifications. Consistent with this principle, SFU will advance the interests of underrepresented members of the work force, including Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, racialized persons, and women; embrace gender and sexual diversity; ensure that equal opportunity is afforded to all who seek employment at the University; and treat all employees equitably. Candidates that belong to underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must submit the following documents in a single PDF to pol\_apply@sfu.ca

- Cover letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Statement of research, including experience in conducting experimental methods
- Statement of contributions and commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion – addressing past, ongoing, and/or potential contributions through teaching, research, professional activity, and/or service
- Evidence of teaching excellence
- Academic writing sample

- List of three possible referees, to be contacted if the candidate is shortlisted
- Applicants are encouraged to complete the Applicant Demographic Survey (<https://www.surveymonkey.ca/r/VSXZJJW>)

Applications will be reviewed starting on 25 October 2024 and will be accepted until the position has been filled. Preference will be given to applications received by that date. The Search Committee anticipates a two-step interview process, with Zoom interviews in the first stage followed by a second stage of in-person interviews. Faculty salaries at SFU are based on the salary scales bargained between the University and the SFU Faculty Association. A reasonable estimate of the salary range for this role is $104,700 to $133,322.

This is an entry level position. The position is subject to availability of funding.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

Personal information that forms part of an application is collected under the general authority of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, applicable University Policies, and the SFUFA/SFU Collective Agreement. For further details see the full Collection Notice.

Please submit all inquiries and application materials to pol\_apply@sfu.ca

Simon Fraser University respectfully acknowledges the xʷmʷkʷyʷm (Musqueam), Sʷwx_wú7mesh Úxwumixw (Squamish), sʷlilwʷtaʷ (Tsilil-Waututh), qʷicʷyʷ (Katzie), kʷikʷʷʷm (Kwkwetlem), Qay-qayt, Kwantlen, Semiahmoo and Tsawwassen peoples on whose unceded traditional territories our three campuses reside.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14863

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Affairs and Data Science

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs (www.inta.gatech.edu) at the Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in International Affairs and Data Science to begin Fall 2025. Scholars with a research specialization in International Security, International Political Economy, or Global Development are encouraged to apply. The position is open to applicants employing any methodology in their research and teaching, but applicants with specializations in computational approaches at the intersection of Science & Technology and International Affairs such as GIS, machine learning, deep learning, natural language processing, Bayesian statistics, network analysis, or other computational tools are especially encouraged to apply. A geographic area of specialization is welcomed but not necessary. Candidates with a proven record in teaching data analytics to non-specialists and conducting rigorous policy relevant research are encouraged to apply.

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=276838&PostingSeq=1

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/8/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14806Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods Department of PoliticsSpecializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for postdoctoral research associates or more senior research positions in the fields of formal theory or quantitative methods.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for one year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars. We strongly encourage applications from groups that have been historically underrepresented in the field of political science at Princeton University.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36242> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. Ph.D. is required. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton Politics faculty members. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to F/Q Postdoc Search, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08544. We will begin reviewing applications on January 15, 2025.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. EEO IS THE LAW

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00008

Start Date:*Date Posted: 9/4/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14792Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Politics, Machine Learning and Statistics

The Department of Politics at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral research associate position.

The individual, who will work with Professor Arthur Spirling, will be asked to participate in projects that research and refine quantitative methodology for political science. The postdoc will work on a variety of projects, which may include methods for large language models, the impact of artificial intelligence on society, as well as broader questions surrounding the application of statistics and machine learning in social science. The position requires no teaching, though some mild administrative responsibilities may be required. In particular, the postdoc may be asked to assist with organizing/planning a seminar series, conference or broader "Polmeth" community administration.

The successful candidate will have a PhD and a strong background in quantitative research/statistics/econometrics. Strong computational skills are required. Ideally these skills would include programming ability in scripting and system languages. Experience working with large language models, either locally or via API is desirable. Experience working with large relational databases is also desirable. The candidate should be creative, take initiative, well organized, flexible, attend to detail, and respond to deadlines in a timely fashion.

Applicants must apply online here: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36283> and submit a cover letter, CV and contact information for two recommendations, one of which should be from the principal advisor of the doctorate program. The appointment is for one year with the possibility for extension pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. This position is subject to the university's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University. We will begin reviewing applications on January 15, 2025.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. EEO IS THE LAW

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00009

Start Date:*Date Posted: 9/4/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 14793University of Georgia*Rank: LecturerSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications for a Lecturer to begin August 1, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year appointment that is renewable on an annual basis. The lecturer will teach eight courses per academic year, four courses in each academic term. Typically, two or more sections of the same course can be offered each semester and/or during the same academic year. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 100% teaching. The lecturer will be expected to teach the undergraduate introduction to American government. In addition, the candidate will teach upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods in areas that align with their research and teaching interests. Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional-development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel and summer teaching when they are available. The university has a promotion path for lecturers. Upon their sixth year as a lecturer, a faculty may be promoted to senior lecturer, after which they may be promoted to principal lecturer (for details see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/guidelines-for-appointment-and-promotion-of-lecturers/>).

Minimum qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science completed by August 1, 2025.

Additional Requirements:

- Excellent communication skills
- Evidence of teaching excellence or demonstrated potential for teaching excellence

Duties/Responsibilities

- Contribute to the instructional mission of the Department of Political Science
- Teach four three-credit hour courses per academic term including the introduction to American government and upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods.
- Participate in workshops, the development of new course materials, and/or supervise teaching assistants

Special instructions to applicants:

Prospective applicants should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three letter writers who will separately provide letters of recommendation electronically to the UGA jobs web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/387895>

The cover letter is expected to include a description of the candidate's strengths as an instructor and relevant teaching experiences as they relate to this position description. The application should also include a teaching portfolio that provides: a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin January 8, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14517

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Professor

Open Rank Faculty Position in International Relations
The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC) in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position (assistant professor, associate professor or professor) in International Relations.

We seek candidates with a strong substantive research program in any domain of International Relations whose work advances theoretical and empirical research on important questions in their subfield.

We have special needs in the field of conflict and security studies broadly understood. Candidates are expected to have strong methodological training. A strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate education is also expected.

The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will start September 23, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://uscareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/open-rank-faculty-position-in-international-relations/1209/69386885440>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

The annual base salary range for this position is $100,510 - $281,400. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14777

Duke University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at Duke University invites applications in Political Methodology for a tenure-track assistant or tenured associate professor position to begin on July 1, 2025. The position is open to all subfield specializations. We are looking for applicants with a promising record of contributions to political methodology and the ability to play a major role in the department's methodological training.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest describing their research agenda, a curriculum vitae, a technical writing sample, evidence of teaching excellence, and three letters of recommendation. All application materials should be submitted electronically at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28209>. Address correspondence to: Daniel Stegmüller, Chair, Methods Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 140 Science Drive, 208 Gross Hall Box 90204, Duke University, Durham, NC 27708-0204.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. Duke also makes good faith efforts to recruit, hire, and promote qualified women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14737

Ohio State University

Rank: AI in Politics and Society

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant or Associate Professor
Department of Political Science
College of Arts and Sciences

Position Overview

The Department of Political Science at The Ohio State University invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Successful applicants will have research and teaching interests in the area of AI in Politics and Society. Based in Columbus, Ohio, the position will begin in the fall of 2025. Preferred applicants will have the promise of a sustained and substantial body of work developing and utilizing data analytic and/or artificial intelligence tools for the analysis of socio-political questions. The position is open with respect to substantive focus or disciplinary subfield in Political Science.

This position is part of the investment of The Ohio State University Provost in the Department of Political Science in Socio-Political Analysis and AI: <https://polisci.osu.edu/good-to-great-proposal>

Performance Objectives

Responsibilities of the position include:

- Conduct research on advanced topics in the application of data analytics and AI to social scientific questions
- Mentor and teach in these and related areas at the undergraduate and/or graduate level
- Engage with interdisciplinary efforts focused on data analytics and/or AI

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: Applicants must be on track to complete their PhD on or before August 15, 2025, in a relevant field, and have the capacity to integrate methodological insights with substantive research demonstrated through a record of and/or promise of scholarly excellence. Desired: Demonstrate the potential for securing external grant funding and mentoring undergraduate or graduate students. Preferred candidates will show a willingness to participate in interdisciplinary collaborative efforts. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

How to Apply

Apply to the Careers at Ohio State website at: [https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Assistant-Associate-Professor---AI-in-Politics---Society\_R113066]. A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcript, separate research and teaching statements, writing sample(s), and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Janet Box-Steffensmeier at box-steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FIVE documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter and CV as a single document:
- Cover letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 2: Unofficial transcript.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring.
- Attachment 5: One or more writing samples as a single document.

All applicants will be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14721

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics

Subfield(s): Methodology, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics in Political Science, with the appointment to begin in the 2025-2026 academic year. In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship.

We welcome candidates from any subfield, regardless of methodological or regional expertise. We are particularly interested in scholars whose expertise contributes to or complements one or more of the following cross-cutting themes: 1) Global and Transnational Challenges, 2) Groups and Identities, 3) Democracy and Development, 4) Representation and Accountability.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh has faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Minimum qualifications: applicants must have a PhD, at least 6 years of experience, significant record of publications, and demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, to contribute to an inclusive climate, and to attract and retain a diverse study body.

The committee will begin looking at applications December 2nd, 2024, but will continue to accept materials until the position is filled. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a CV, and 3 names of people that can provide references when needed; cover letters should include a discussion how the candidate's research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion. References can be sent to psjobs@pitt.edu. Candidates with questions can contact Chris Bonneau, search committee co-chair, at cwbonneau@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 8/26/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14711

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, is hiring an assistant tenure-track professor whose research uses computational social science methodologies to study inequality and democracy in comparative settings. The position will begin Sept 1, 2025, subject to availability of funding. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (e.g. political sociology, public policy, economics, data science) is required by Sept 1, 2025. The selected candidate will be expected to conduct research and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in comparative politics and research methods. This hire is part of a Chancellor's cluster initiative on Data Science and Artificial Intelligence, which will hire 11 new faculty members, including 4 focused on computational social science, and create a cross-disciplinary scholarly community focused on the societal benefits and implications of artificial intelligence, machine learning, and data science.

Candidates should submit the following materials: (1) c.v.; (2) cover letter; (3) research statement, (4) teaching statement, (5) writing sample; (6) diversity statement addressing ways in which their research, teaching, or service will contribute to Rutgers's commitment to enhancing diversity and inclusiveness (broadly construed); (7) names and email addresses of three references who can upload letters of recommendation. The materials should be uploaded to: <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/234551>.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Review of applicants will begin on October 7, 2024, and continue until the job is filled.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 8/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14705

University of Texas, Tyler

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Research Methods, Congress

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas at Tyler invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position specializing in American politics. The successful candidate will be able to teach research methods, along with courses related to elections and political institutions. This position offers an opportunity to join an academically vibrant community and make impactful contributions to teaching, research, and community service.

Job Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 course load.
- Demonstrate the ability to teach undergraduate and graduate courses.
- Maintain a record of research.
- Advise students.
- Serve the department, college, and university.

Candidates should have an earned Ph.D. in Political Science by the time of appointment.

Our department is embarking on a new direction with the Politics, Philosophy & Law (PPL) track for a BS in Political Science. This innovative program emphasizes public service and equips students with critical skills in politics, ethics, law, and philosophy. The PPL concentration encourages analytical and critical reflection on the values, ethics, and interconnections in politics, philosophy, and legal thought systems, preparing students for careers in law, government, and public interest organizations. We seek a candidate who aligns with this new direction and is enthusiastic about contributing to its development.

About Tyler:

Situated approximately ninety minutes east of Dallas/Ft. Worth, Tyler is a growing city with over 100,000 residents. The University of Texas at Tyler, serving over 10,000 students, is a pivotal educational institution and a central hub for cultural and academic pursuits in the region.

Application Process:

Qualified candidates may apply at [UT Tyler Prospective Employees] (<https://www.uttyler.edu/human-resources/prospective-employees/>). Please submit a letter of application detailing teaching and research interests, teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae and unofficial transcripts, all in one document.

Review of applications begins the week of September 30, 2024. However, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Additional Information:

The successful applicant must be able to demonstrate eligibility to work in the United States.

This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code Section 51.215, authorizing the employer to obtain criminal history record information. The University of Texas at

Tyler is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants

will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, status as a protected veteran, or status as a qualified individual with a disability. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14663

University of Chicago

Rank: Open-Rank Faculty Position, Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in Quantitative Methods. This position will begin on or after July 1, 2025.

Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago's Interfolio website at

<https://apply.interfolio.com/151969>

Applications must include a 1) cover letter, 2) CV, 3) teaching statement, 4) research statement, and 5) contact information for at least three recommenders that may be contacted at a later date. Short-listed candidates will be asked to submit supplemental documents.

Consideration of applications will begin on September 16, 2024 and continue until the position is filled or the search has ended.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14647

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Formal Theory

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track appointment in formal theory. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151776>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14624

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Open Rank Professor of Political Science in the field of Environmental Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis and the Environmental Studies Program invite applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in the area of Environmental Politics at the rank of assistant professor, associate professor, or professor. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2025. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for the rank of associate or full professor should have an outstanding academic record of research, publication teaching, and service commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/151775. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14628

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2025. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and very strong quantitative research skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the study of democratic representation, mass political behavior, elite behavior and/or political institutions. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2025.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We especially encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQIA+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 15, 2024. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150044>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14511

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) seeks candidates for two tenure-track assistant professor positions in Comparative Politics and International Relations, with an expected (but negotiable) start date of March 2025. Very strong candidates at the associate level will also be considered. We are open with respect to substantive subfield, theoretical orientation, and methodological approach. Regional expertise in regions other than Latin America (e.g., East, South, or Southeast Asia, Western or Eastern Europe, the Middle East or North America) is a plus, as is the ability to teach courses on research design, data science/statistics, and/or causal inference. Candidates are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research and to teaching and mentoring students. The teaching load is three courses per year. Most courses are taught in Spanish, although a growing number are offered in English. The position includes a research fund and a year's sabbatical (at full salary) every six years.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, conducting research, writing for publication in high-quality academic venues, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science or related disciplines (ABD candidates will also be considered) and a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Proficiency in both Spanish and English is required. Questions should be directed to Professor Carlos Gervasoni, Chair of the Department of Political Science and International Studies, at cgervasoni@utdt.edu.

To apply please visit https://utdt.hiringroom.com/jobs/get\_vacancy/665727a62994ec85980166a0, by August 30, 2024 (applications received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the positions are filled). The required documents include a cover letter, CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and the names and email addresses of 3 references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists).

Universidad Torcuato Di Tella is a private research university located in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Our Department is consistently ranked as one of the best in Latin America in terms of reputation and research excellence. Our guiding principles are academic excellence, pluralism of ideas and equal opportunity. UTDT is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff, following the principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment, regardless of national origin, race, color, ethnicity, religion, political ideology, age, sex, sexual orientation, or gender identity. The university encourages applications of individuals from historically underrepresented groups who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community. We welcome applications from all nationalities. Approximately 25% of the Department's research professors are foreigners. For further information about Universidad Torcuato Di Tella and our department, please visit: <https://www.utdt.edu/>.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 8/30/2024

Date Posted: 6/5/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14404

NON-ACADEMIC

www.publicagenda.org

Rank: Director

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Non-Academic, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Education Policy, Political Behavior

About Public Agenda

Public Agenda is a research-to-action organization. We seek to strengthen democracy by amplifying public voice and expanding opportunities for all Americans. We work to improve democratic processes and the systems and institutions that determine whether the promise of American democracy will be realized in the lives of everyday people. Because of the special role of education as a public good and foundation of both economic opportunity and civic engagement, much of our work is focused on education systems and institutions. We build knowledge through rigorous research using a range of methodological approaches including in-depth case studies, interviews, focus groups, public opinion surveys, and quantitative analyses of administrative data. Public Agenda also supports academic researchers addressing pressing, practical questions; we frame those questions and synthesize, translate, and communicate results. We discover pathways and tools for change, and we connect what we are learning to individuals and organizations who can put it to use.

About the Position

We are seeking a Director to join a small and highly collaborative team to manage and grow a body of work encompassing democracy, education, and their intersections. The Director will lead a portfolio of research-to-action projects, contributing to the organization's mission, strategic direction, funder relations, partnership and project development, and efforts to translate research into practical implementation and impact for the American people. The Director's portfolio will build on their areas of expertise, experience, and network of relationships.

The Director plays a key role in supporting continuous improvement in the research-to-action team, developing project concepts, securing funding, executing projects, ensuring high quality products, and communicating about projects with internal and external audiences to advance Public Agenda's mission.

Directors work collaboratively, bringing relevant expertise or capacities to projects led by other Directors and shaping their own portfolios in dialogue with colleagues throughout the organization. Individual Directors may have specific organization-wide responsibilities in addition to project leadership.

The ideal candidate possesses strong social science research skills, is passionate about data-informed approaches to challenges facing our democracy, brings an asset-based and equity-centered orientation to project and partnership development, has experience building systems and executing projects or initiatives, and is comfortable working with a wide variety of stakeholders. We are interested in candidates who bring professional networks in their areas of interest and expertise that will catalyze new projects and expand opportunities for funding and impact.

We are particularly interested in candidates with substantive expertise and/or practical experience in one or more of the following areas: (1) democracy reform or renewal, including structural and cultural approaches; (2) civic education in any context; (3) educational access and opportunity; (4) other intersections between democratic values and institutions and education systems, practices, and outcomes.

At Public Agenda, we believe that American democracy would work better if people from diverse backgrounds and perspectives were more able to work together to meet public challenges. We endeavor to create and support a work environment that reflects our values, so we are especially interested in hearing from candidates who share our commitment to democracy and whose experiences and perspectives are underrepresented in the field.

We can envision several different candidate profiles that could be a good fit for the Director position. The successful candidate might be a researcher with significant experience partnering with practitioners, an experienced practitioner in the nonprofit or public sector with expertise implementing evidence-informed strategy, or a professional with some other background that demonstrates their capacity to lead projects connecting research and practice in service of democratic values.

Key responsibilities include:

- Support mission-aligned efforts to increase Public Agenda's impact
- Engage with colleagues and external partners to identify promising concepts for projects
- Work with colleagues to build project budgets, timelines, and teams
- Work with development colleagues to secure project funding
- Manage project teams in the execution of research, engagement, and deliverable development
- Ensure research-to-action process and products meet Public Agenda's standards
- Cultivate ongoing learning and improvement in the research-to-action team

Desired qualifications, skills and abilities:

- Significant experience in research and execution
- Strong strategic and operational sense; ability to read and respond to dynamic contexts and organize systems to meet evolving programmatic requirements
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings and evidence-based implementation approaches in oral and written form to key stakeholders, such as funders, policymakers, advocates, and journalists
- Experience with a range of quantitative and qualitative research methods
- Personal integrity, commitment to resource stewardship
- Balanced, solutions-seeking orientation; strong listening skills
- Commitment to Public Agenda's mission
- Comfort working in a nonpartisan organization committed to ideological diversity
- Commitment to a respectful and equitable workplace
- Graduate degree in a relevant field preferred
- Proficiency in Spanish is a plus

Public Agenda's staff is geographically distributed, and this is a work-from-anywhere position within the United States. Staff members must be available to work during standard Eastern Time business hours. The successful candidate must be available to travel for quarterly organization-wide meetings, occasional conferences, and project-related work such as site visits for qualitative research and convenings of stakeholders.

The expected salary range for this position is $95,000 - $125,000. We offer a competitive benefits package including dental and medical insurance, 401(k) retirement contribution, 4 weeks of paid vacation plus an additional week between Christmas and New Year's Day, paid holidays, sick and personal time, in addition to other benefits. The position reports to the Chief Strategy and Impact Officer.

The above statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work being performed by the individual(s) assigned to this position. They are not intended to be an exhaustive list of all duties, responsibilities, and skills required. Management reserves the right to modify, add, or remove duties and to assign other duties as necessary. In addition, reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions of this position.

Our organization is committed to equal employment opportunity and diversity in the workplace. We do not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment on any legally-recognized basis ["protected class"] including, but not limited to: veteran status, uniform service member status, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information or any other protected class under federal, state, or local law.

Public Agenda is a qualifying employer under the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program (PSLF).

Application process

Interested candidates should submit a resume or CV and a cover letter describing your interest in and qualifications for the position to careers@publicagenda.org. Applications will be considered as they are received until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 15123

OPEN

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Assistant Professor - Artificial Intelligence in the Liberal Arts

The College of Liberal Arts, at the University of Texas at Arlington, a Carnegie Research I institution, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor working at the intersection of the arts and humanities with artificial intelligence and emerging technologies, beginning in fall 2025. Candidates must have a terminal degree in an academic field housed in a department in the College of Liberal Arts (see listing of departments below).

Broadly, the committee is seeking candidates who will work in one or more of the following areas:

Using AI in Teaching / Pedagogy—AI is becoming an essential tool in the classroom, allowing for personalized learning experiences and new forms of creative expression.

Teaching AI Tools—Students must develop a strong understanding of AI technologies, such as large language models and generative AI, to succeed in an increasingly AI-driven world. Teaching communication technology, multilingual AI, and algorithmic bias helps prepare students to navigate AI's complexities across industries.

Using AI to Conduct Research—AI has become a powerful tool for conducting research, particularly in social sciences, communication, and public policy. Researchers use AI to analyze vast datasets, investigate human decision-making processes, and explore how emerging digital media and AI systems shape society.

Examining How AI is Changing the Liberal Arts—AI is reshaping the very fields we study, transforming empathy, communication, and creativity. Broader discussions on AI futures, automation, and agency will push scholars to examine how technology redefines prosperity, power, and human agency.

Ethics and Impact of AI—The ethical and societal impact of AI is at the forefront of its adoption, raising critical questions about bias, privacy, and regulation. AI ethics touches on public trust, the potential for algorithmic discrimination, and the need for ethical AI regulation to protect individuals and communities. As AI continues to shape human decision-making and public policy, understanding its philosophical and societal implications is crucial for navigating the evolving technological landscape.

The committee is especially interested in research that develops new, expansive, and creative approaches to understanding, using, and interpreting ML, AI and emerging technologies within the mission of the college, and in candidates. Candidates whose scholarship encourages valuable critical debate around AI and emerging technologies are highly encouraged.

Sample areas of research and teaching may include, but are not limited to:

AI at Work
 AI Ethics
 AI in Campaigns, Elections, and Policymaking
 Digital Media and Emerging Communication Technologies
 Computational Communication Studies
 AI Regulation
 Human-AI Interaction
 Philosophy of AI
 Societal Impact of AI
 AI Futures
 AI in the Visual Arts
 AI in the Performing Arts
 AI-First Creative Works
 Large Language Models and Generative AI
 Multilingual and Multicultural AI
 AI and Language Learning
 AI and Algorithmic Bias

The successful candidate will contribute to the research and teaching goals of their home department as well as working in an interdisciplinary way—collaboratively researching, authoring, teaching and presenting across disciplines both within the College and across campus. Additionally, the candidate will be a leader dedicated to fostering a research and teaching environment that advances AI and emerging technologies across the College of Liberal Arts. A new assistant professor in liberal arts is expected to actively seek funding opportunities from varying sources, including governmental agencies, foundations, and private donors.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/31/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15132

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate - Democratic Innovations Fellowship

The Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) invites postdoctoral students and junior scholars to apply for its Democratic Innovations Fellowship. Democratic Innovations is a new interdisciplinary ISPS program, led by Alan Gerber, Helene Landemore, and Adam Mierowitz. The program brings together social scientists from a variety of fields to think about the factors that affect government policy and decision-making and to analyze novel democratic institutions that might support improvements in representation, citizen inclusion, and government performance. To further the study and dissemination of novel ideas for political representation and decision making, the program will aim to answer questions such as:

- What changes to our political institutions will promote efficient, evidence-based decisions?
- What changes to our political institutions can make them more representative, inclusive, deliberative, and participatory?
- How do ideas and knowledge spread and what institutions can catalyze faster social learning and elevate fact over misinformation?
- How can we build democratic political institutions founded on a realistic view of citizen engagement?
- How can we attract dedicated and talented people to government and promote public engagement that contributes high-quality participation to the political system?
- What new possibilities for government, representation, and citizen participation are introduced by modern technologies, including artificial intelligence?
- What lessons can we learn about factors affecting government performance from history and social science?
- How can we test our ideas scientifically and how can we work to put proven good ideas into practice?

We are interested in theoretical and empirical scholars doing basic or applied research on these and related questions. We are also interested in scholars who are experts in novel systems of representation and decision making, especially any innovations in voting, citizens' assemblies, or other political reforms that have been introduced recently and take advantage of advances in communication or computation. We are also especially interested in researchers whose work addresses strategies for detecting and reducing government corruption in U.S. state and local government.

Fellowship positions are open to those who have recently completed their Ph.D. (in the last 6 years), or to those who currently hold a faculty position as long as it is without tenure. Junior scholars are generally supported at a standard postdoctoral level for a period of one year beginning July 1, 2025, and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. In some cases, the fellowship may be extended to a second year. Fellows are expected to be actively engaged with the activities of the Democratic Innovations program and present their research at least once per semester. Salary is negotiable depending on qualifications and may, in some cases, include minimal teaching responsibilities.

Please send cover letter, research statement, current C.V., one writing sample, and two letters of recommendation. A copy of graduate transcripts is also required for postdoctoral applicants not currently holding a faculty position. Applications should be submitted online at this link on Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/157947>

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/31/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 15136

National Tsing Hua University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, Full Professor

Positions: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Full Professor

Job Description: Full Time, Tenured Track

Location of Work: Hsinchu, Taiwan

Language of Instruction: English

Start of Employment: August 2025 onwards

Qualification: Applicants must have or expect a Ph.D. degree in Political Science, Economics, or related fields. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in research as well as in teaching.

Fields of Specialty:

- Political Science: All fields are welcome, but priority will be given to scholars with specialty in political economy or doing applied/empirical research in political science.
- Economics: All fields are welcome, but priority will be given to scholars with specialty in political economy or doing applied/empirical research in economics.

Compensation: TSE offers a competitive compensation package which carries full tenure-track benefits, including enrollment in National Health Insurance, pension, and retirement benefits.

About TSE:

TSE is dedicated to high-quality post-graduate education in political economy. We currently offer Master degree program in Asian Political Economy, Global Political Economy, and Economic Development as well as Ph.D. degree program in Political Science and Economics. We emphasize interdisciplinary study and integrated economics and political science training and research. International students comprise over 80 percent of our student body. We look for economists and political scientists with strong training in theory, research methodology, quantitative skills, and with a keen interest in policy research.

About NTHU:

Founded in 1911, National Tsing Hua University (NTHU) is a leading comprehensive research university located in Hsinchu, Taiwan, a hub for high-tech innovation. Since its re-establishment in 1956, NTHU has grown into a world-class institution offering over 140 degree programs across 12 colleges. Renowned for cutting-edge research and a distinguished faculty, NTHU is consistently ranked among the top universities in East Asia. Our alumni include Nobel laureates and global leaders, reflecting the university's rich academic history and commitment to excellence.

How to Apply:

Please submit the following documents as a single PDF (or a download link) to the TSE office at tse@my.nthu.edu.tw, specifying your field and area of specialty in the email. The recommendation letters must be sent directly to tse@my.nthu.edu.tw by the referees, respective departments, or via services such as Interfolio.

- (1) Curriculum Vitae
- (2) Cover Letter
- (3) Representative Publications: Please provide at least three representative publications from the last five years. For new Ph.D.s or Ph.D. candidates, at least one Job Market Paper and a copy of dissertation (draft) are required. Other research papers are preferred but not required.

(4) Degree Certificate: Please provide a copy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for the completion of coursework and successful defense of the dissertation. For applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, a letter certifying the completion of coursework and the imminent scheduling of the oral examination is required.

(5) Transcripts/Certificate or Proofs for appointments: For new Ph.D.s or Ph.D. candidates, please provide the Transcripts. For applicants who are neither new Ph.D.s nor Ph.D. candidates, please provide a certificate or proof of your current position at any academic institution instead.

(6) Statement of Research Interests

(7) Teaching Evaluations (preferred but not required)

(8) Three recommendation letters: the recommendation letters may be submitted directly to tse@my.nthu.edu.tw by the referees, respective departments, or via services such as Interfolio.

Application deadline: December 31, 2024 (GMT+8).

For more information on the job opening, please visit: <https://www.tse.nthu.edu.tw/post/82-tse-job-opening>.

To see a full description of our programs, please visit the following website: www.tse.nthu.edu.tw.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/31/2024

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15115

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science & Artificial Intelligence

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Artificial Intelligence

Date Available: Fall 2025

Principal Duties: Departments of Anthropology, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology; the School of Languages and Cultures; and the Brian Lamb School of Communication at Purdue University invite applications for multiple positions of tenure-track assistant professorship in Artificial Intelligence (AI) with an appointment in one or more of these units. A Ph.D. in one of the fields represented by the above-named units is required. The successful candidate will develop and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in AI and contribute to the intellectual life of their units. Depending on their background and interest, the successful candidate may be appointed in one of the above-named units or may be jointly appointed.

Qualifications: The Candidate must have a Ph.D. in one of the fields represented by the above-named units with a focus on Artificial Intelligence (including machine learning and computational data science) by the start of appointment. The Candidate must have a record of publishing high-quality peer-reviewed research. Salary will be commensurate with training and experience.

The College and University: For the fourth consecutive year, the College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking on multiple hires with a focus on AI to begin in Fall 2025. Representing a variety of disciplines in the College, this cohort of scholars will expand our capacity to explore the implications of developing AI across our academic domains and advance and contribute to research and educational initiatives surrounding AI in new and important ways. These positions will also include in-person teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university.

Application Procedure: Applications must include the following items uploaded at <https://careers.purdue.edu/> in this order and as one PDF document: 1) cover letter of no more than three pages including a discussion of teaching philosophy and research agenda; 2) Curriculum vitae; and 3) the names and contact information of at least three references (no letters please). The search committee may contact references to request letters at a later stage. Questions about the position should be directed to the chair of the search committee: Christopher Yeomans at cyemans@purdue.edu.

Review of the applications will begin on November 22, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15097

California Polytechnic State University

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty, Assistant Professor on African American Politics and/or Policy

The Political Science Department in the College of Liberal Arts at California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, California, seeks applications for a full-time, academic-year, tenure-track Assistant Professor to begin on September 11, 2025 with a specialization in African American politics and/or policy. This position is part of a university-wide cluster of searches designed to increase coverage of areas related to DEI as well as to promote inclusive and equity-minded teaching strategies across the university. For more information about Cal Poly's DEI-Focused Cluster Hires, please visit: <https://cla.calpoly.edu/diversity-cluster>. Interested applicants should complete the online faculty application at <http://jobs.calpoly.edu/> and submit it to Requisition #541883. Review Begin Date: NOV-18-2024

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at California Polytechnic State University (Cal Poly), San Luis Obispo, California, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track, academic-year Assistant Professor with specialization in African American politics and/or policy, to begin on September 11, 2025. Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is required at time of appointment. Evidence of strong teaching skills and an active research program is required.

The successful candidate should be prepared to teach African American politics and policy as well as courses within their specialty related to U.S. politics. Other teaching responsibilities may include courses based upon applicant's ability to demonstrate expertise in other areas. Successful candidates will have demonstrated teaching and research experience in social justice issues. Some departmental administrative responsibilities and service to the university are required. Continued professional development is required.

An earned doctorate (Ph.D.) in Political Science or a closely related field from an accredited institution or international equivalent is required. Candidates nearing completion of the doctorate (ABD) may be considered but must provide proof that the doctorate has been completed prior to the start of the appointment. The initial appointment is for two years, subject to renewal.

Cal Poly strongly values diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI), in the classroom, in scholarship, and in service experience. This position is part of a university-wide cluster of searches designed to increase curricular coverage of areas related to DEI, as well as to promote inclusive and equity-minded teaching strategies across the university. Successful candidates will be expected to contribute to the university's goals in these areas. Candidates selected through this DEI cluster hire will be given start-up funds to support their work in DEI and a dedicated mentor will be given upon appointment. Once hired, candidates will collaborate with their dean and others to develop a plan for utilizing these funds for supplemental compensation, assigned time, or professional development activities.

For more information about Cal Poly's DEI-Focused Cluster Hires, please visit: <https://academic-personnel.calpoly.edu/clusterhire>. The other searches are for positions in the following disciplines across campus:

- African American Politics and/or Policy (Political Science)
- African American Psychology (Psychology & Child Development)
- DEI-focused University Archivist (Special Collections and Archives, Library)
- Director of General Engineering (Dept. dependent on specialty)
- Environmental Health in Latinx/e Populations (Kinesiology and Public Health)
- Environmental Justice and Sustainable Development, focus on Latinx/e or Black populations (Natural Resources and Environmental Science)
- Environmental Social Justice, Latinx/e focus (Social Sciences)
- Metadata and Cataloguing Librarian (Collection Strategies and Discovery, Library)
- Spanish Language Journalism (Journalism)

Salary: Anticipated Hiring Range: $90,276 - $98,244/year, $7,523 - $8,187/month

(Note that hiring level will be commensurate with the qualifications and experience of the candidate.)

Although Cal Poly is primarily a teaching university, our faculty are expected to balance teaching with an active program of research/professional development (including publication), student supervision and advising, and participation in service activities at the department and college/university level. The typical teaching load is 12 units (three courses) per quarter, with a reduction in course load in each of the first two years to help new faculty establish an active program of research and professional development. Cal Poly strongly values diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI), especially in the classroom and among its areas of study.

The College of Liberal Arts (CLA) sees diversity as central to its mission and is committed to fostering an equitable and inclusive environment within the college and university. We value our diversity of complex and intersecting identities, while striving to maintain an environment that is equitable, respectful, and inclusive. The successful applicant should be able to clearly demonstrate how they have infused these values and student learning objectives into their work. They should be prepared to present clear examples of how they would infuse these areas into their work as a faculty member.

At California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, we believe that cultivating an environment that embraces and promotes diversity is fundamental to the success of our students, our employees and our community. Bringing people together from different backgrounds and experiences fosters the innovative and creative thinking that exemplifies Cal Poly's values of free inquiry and reflection on impacts of cultural context, mutual respect, civic engagement, and social and environmental responsibility. Cal Poly's commitment to DEI informs our efforts in recruitment, hiring and retention. California Polytechnic State University is an equal opportunity employer.

Due to CSU policies, the person hired must reside in the state of California at the time of hire and for the entirety of the appointment.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy or a closely related field.
- Demonstrated expertise in African American Politics or Policy
- Demonstrated university teaching experience.
- Demonstrated proficiency in written and oral use of the English language.
- Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations and fostering a collaborative, supportive, and inclusive environment

Preferred Qualifications:

- Preference will be given to candidates with teaching and research interest in social justice issues, including but not limited to policing, prisons, gender, reparations, disenfranchisement, employment, ideology, environmental/climate justice, etc.
- Demonstrated experience and commitment to student-centered learning and teaching.
- Demonstrated ability to collaboratively work in multidisciplinary settings.
- Preference will also be given to those with relevant work experience and those who bring professional capabilities.

Special Conditions:

All CSU employees are designated "mandated reporters" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act. As a condition of your employment, you will be required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 and any subsequent amendments.

Following a conditional offer of employment, a background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate may start work with Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may result in the withdrawal of the offer of employment. Note: Cal Poly cannot deny an applicant a position solely or in part due to a criminal conviction history until it has performed an individualized assessment and linked the relevant conviction history with specific job duties in the position being sought.

Please note: Current employees who are offered positions on campus will be required to undergo a background check for any position where a background check is required by law or that Cal Poly has designated as sensitive. Sensitive positions are those requiring heightened scrutiny of individuals holding the position based on potential for harm to children, concerns for the safety and security of people, animals, or property, or heightened risk of financial loss to Cal Poly or individuals in the university community.

For health and well-being, Cal Poly is a smoke & tobacco-free campus. The university is committed to promoting a healthy environment for all members of our community.

In accordance with the California State University (CSU) Out-of-State Employment Policy, the CSU is a state entity whose business operations reside within the State of California and prohibits hiring employees to perform CSU related work outside of California.

About the Department

The Cal Poly Political Science Department prides itself on its collegiality and commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarship. The department serves approximately 350 majors, over 200 minors, and 25 graduate students. At the undergraduate level, the department offers concentrations in U.S. Politics, Global Politics, Pre-Law and Individualized Courses of Study, as well as minors in Law & Society, Political Science, and Global Politics. It also administers a Master of Public Policy Program.

How to Apply

To apply, please visit <http://jobs.calpoly.edu/>, complete a required online faculty application and apply to Requisition 541883 Please upload the following required materials as part of the electronic application:

- Cover letter: address the feasibility of conducting a research program within the context of a primarily teaching-oriented undergraduate program
- Current curriculum vitae
- Statement of demonstrated commitment to DEI in teaching, scholarship and/or service describing past experience, contributions to DEI efforts, the impact on students, faculty, staff and/or your field and a description of how you will demonstrate a commitment in these areas in teaching, research, and/or service at Cal Poly
- Unofficial transcripts showing highest degree earned, official transcripts showing highest degree earned will be required prior to appointment.

Please be prepared to provide three professional references with names and email addresses when completing the online faculty application.

Projected Start Date: 09-11-2025

Review Begin Date: NOV 18, 2024. Applicants with complete files by the Review Begin Date will be given full consideration. Applications received after this date may be considered.

For questions about the position please contact Department Chair, Dr. Helene Shanruo Ning Zhang, via email at nizhang@calpoly.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15073

Tulane University

Rank: Faculty Fellow/Visiting Research Professor

The Center for Ethics at the Murphy Institute at Tulane University invites applications for three Faculty Fellowships/Visiting Research Professorships for the 2025-2026 academic year. These fellowships are available to support outstanding faculty whose teaching and research focus on ethics; political and social philosophy; moral psychology, agency and responsibility; philosophy of law; political theory; or questions of moral choice in areas such as, but not restricted to, business, government, law, economics, public health and medicine.

While fellows will participate in seminars, lectures, and conferences organized by the Murphy Institute, they will be expected to devote most of their time to conducting their research.

Faculty Fellows are appointed as Visiting Research Professors at Tulane University's Murphy Institute, receive a salary of $70,000, and are eligible for faculty benefits, including medical insurance. Faculty Fellows enjoy the use of private faculty offices and receive assistance from the Murphy Institute staff and graduate assistants. The Murphy Institute's Center for Ethics is one of the most active in the country, hosting fourteen guest speakers and sponsoring international conferences each year.

Qualifications

We encourage applicants from a broad range of disciplines. Applicants must hold a doctorate in philosophy, political theory, law, political economy, economics, public health, or a related discipline at the time of application. Applicants must also hold a full-time college or university appointment at the time of application. Faculty Fellowships are open to full-time faculty at all ranks.

Application Instructions

The application deadline is December 15, 2023. Required application materials include a curriculum vitae, a project description of approximately 1500 words (including a one-page bibliography, which is not included in the suggested word count), a scholarly paper, and two confidential letters of recommendation. Please apply via Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/156341>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15072

University of South Alabama

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science, tenure-track

The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice at the University of South Alabama invites applications for a full-time (9 month), tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Science to begin August 15, 2025. An earned Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. ABDs currently near the completion of the degree are welcome to apply, but an earned Ph.D. is required at the time of appointment.

Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice faculty are known for their research, award-winning teaching, and collegiality. Our departmental faculty have earned multiple grants, teaching awards, scholarship awards, and published research in top research journals such as Spine. The Department offers the Master of Public Administration degree and a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice. Our growing and dynamic graduate program currently offers three concentrations: Health Administration, Criminal Justice Administration, and Geographic Information Technology, with anticipated development of new concentrations in the future.

Applicants must have teaching and research interests in the area of Political Science and/or closely related subfields and demonstrate a history or ability to publish in Political Science outlets. The primary expectation is that a successful candidate is able to teach undergraduate courses in political science, but there may be opportunities to teach electives in our graduate program. In addition to research and teaching, the successful candidate will be expected to advise a diverse student body, many of whom are first-generation college students. Service to the college and the community are highly important aspects of the position. Our department encourages candidates from all backgrounds, including historically underrepresented groups, to apply. We seek candidates with unique backgrounds and life experiences which will contribute to our ever-growing department.

Home to approximately 14,000 students, the University of South Alabama is a dynamic community of leaders and learners who support and challenge one another to be actively engaged citizens who advance the Gulf Coast Region and make a global impact. The University has implemented a strategic plan that is organized around five major priorities: Student Access and Success; Enhancement of research and Graduate Education, Global Engagement, Excellence in Health Care, and University Community Engagement. These priorities are the guiding influence in developing a strong, consistent vision for the future of the University. With an acceptance rate of 65% and an average undergraduate ACT score of 23.9, South is home to a dedicated body of students seeking to advance their knowledge and improve the world around them.

Mobile and its surroundings are a similarly thriving environment that provides ample opportunities for collaboration and plenty of entertainment. Located near some of the country's best beaches, home of the original Mardi Gras, and known for amazing seafood, the city is a bustling community that is growing economically, socially, and culturally.

To apply for initial consideration, please send the following documents: a letter of application, CV, unofficial transcripts, and a writing sample to Dr. Thomas Shaw at tshaw@southalabama.edu.

Applicants selected for an initial digital interview should arrange to have official transcripts sent directly from the Registrars of all colleges/universities attended. The registrars should send these transcripts either electronically to Dr. Thomas Shaw at tshaw@southalabama.edu or by mail to Dr. Shaw at the following mailing address:

Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice
The University of South Alabama
5991 USA Dr N
HUMB 226
Mobile, AL 36688-0002

In addition to the above, candidates selected for a digital interview should arrange for three signed, professional letters of reference to be sent electronically to Dr. Shaw at this email address: tshaw@southalabama.edu. Letters of reference must include addresses, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses of the letter writers.

The review of applications will begin on Thursday, October 31, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Informal inquiries regarding the position should be sent to the Search Chair, Dr. Thomas Shaw, at tshaw@southalabama.edu.

If selected for an on-campus interview, the following biographical data form will need to be completed:

<https://www.southalabama.edu/departments/eforms/academicaffairs/biographicaldataform.pdf>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15067

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: PPE Postdoctoral Researcher

The Philosophy, Politics and Economics Program at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications for two openings for the position of a Postdoctoral Researcher, beginning Fall 2025 (appointment start date July 1, 2025). These positions are designed to support a talented political philosopher/philosopher of social science, experimental political scientist, or behavioral economist. Specific duties will include teaching each semester one advanced interdisciplinary seminar of their choice, and each year one research seminar to train a small number of students to conduct research in their field. The Postdoctoral Researchers will also be invited to conduct research in collaboration with Professor Bicchieri and members of the Center for Social Norms and Behavioral Dynamics at the University of Pennsylvania. The appointments will be for an initial year with the possibility of annual renewal for up to an additional four years, contingent upon satisfactory performance review and approval by the Dean.

You can find out more about Penn's PPE program on our website: <https://ppe.sas.upenn.edu/>

The positions are open to candidates who have recently earned or will earn their Ph.D. Close familiarity with experimental methods of experimentation is important. In particular, experience in conducting field, lab-based and web-based experiments is desirable. A successful candidate must demonstrate an outstanding capacity to generate original research questions and implement studies to investigate those questions.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, two letters of recommendation, and a cover letter describing their research interests. Review of applications is happening now, on a rolling basis.

Application materials should be emailed to mtartag@sas.upenn.edu. Letters of recommendation should be sent directly by references.

For general questions, please email Marissa Tartaglia at mtartag@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15059

Wabash College

Rank: Post-doctoral Scholar in Residence

Wabash College, a liberal arts college for men located in Crawfordsville, Indiana, seeks applicants to serve as a Post-doctoral Scholar-in-Residence to be housed in the Stephenson Institute for Classical Liberalism.

Post-doctoral Scholar-in-Residencies are residential fellowships that support full-time research and publication efforts. The duration of the appointment is one academic year with the possibility of renewal for a second-year term.

The disciplinary field, project design, and research approach are open. Successful applicants will have an interest in engaging with our students and participating in the intellectual life of the College and Institute during the fellowship. Applicants will propose a project that contributes to one or more of the subject areas and research topics of particular interest to the Stephenson Institute's mission:

- The institutional and cultural conditions of individual rights and legal equality
- Free inquiry, free expression, free speech, and the market-place of ideas
- The relationship(s) between market economies and government intervention
- The role of personal responsibility in a free society
- Comparative and historical investigations of differing property rights regimes
- Comparative political economy and comparative political philosophy

Applicants are invited in their proposals to offer other ideas for how they might contribute to the Institute's programming and areas of student engagement. While the primary focus of the position is research, any Scholar-in-Residence will also contribute to campus conversations via participation in Institute programming. There are no formal teaching expectations or responsibilities, but candidates who desire to teach a course should indicate that interest in their materials. A teaching placement is at the full discretion of the relevant academic department.

Preferred start date is July 1, 2025. This position provides salary, benefits, office space, relocation costs, and a generous fund to support research, travel, and related needs. Salary will be commensurate with relevant experience and academic field.

About Wabash College and the Stephenson Institute

Wabash College is a private, independent, residential four-year liberal arts college for men located in Crawfordsville, Indiana. Founded in 1832, its mission is to "educate men to think critically, act responsibly, lead effectively, and live humanely." Our 65-acre wooded campus is located 50 miles west of Indianapolis and three hours from Chicago.

Established in 2021, the Stephenson Institute for Classical Liberalism is a non-partisan academic research center. We provide teaching, learning, and research opportunities for motivated students and faculty at Wabash College and beyond whom share an interest in the operations and implications of a free society.

In the midst of a strategic transformation to advance the success of first-generation students, students of color, and students from low-income families, Wabash College is committed to attracting and effectively supporting faculty from all backgrounds, including an academically and culturally diverse faculty. Approximately 25% of our students are federal Pell Grant recipients, one-third are first-generation college students, and 20% identify as domestic students of color. Home to the Malcolm X Institute of Black Studies for more than fifty years and a newly launched Latino Community Center, Wabash is a top-60 Liberal Arts College according to U.S. News and is a member of Colleges That Change Lives.

Qualifications

Applicants for the Postdoctoral Scholar-in-Residence position should have a terminal degree in their academic field, and be no further than four years since completion of a Ph.D.

To apply, go to <https://www.wabash.edu/employment/>, and select the "Stephenson Institute Scholar in Residence" listing. The application dossier should consist of:

1. A cover letter describing interest in the position and the stated mission and topic areas of the Stephenson Institute for Classical Liberalism;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. A proposal for the research project to be conducted in residence; and
4. Email addresses for two individuals who will submit confidential letters of reference that address the scholar's contributions to the field.

Inquiries about the positions should be addressed to Dr. Daniel J. D'Amico, director of the Stephenson Institute for Classical Liberalism, at damicod@wabash.edu. Review of applications will begin on December 15, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

Wabash College, a liberal arts college for men, seeks faculty and staff who are committed to providing quality engagement with students, high levels of academic challenge and support, and meaningful experiences that prepare students for life and leadership among diverse populations around the globe. Wabash is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from persons of all backgrounds.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15053

Harvard University

Rank: Harvard University Environmental Fellows Program

The Harvard University Center for the Environment created the Environmental Fellows program to enable recent doctorate recipients to use and expand Harvard's extraordinary resources to tackle complex environmental problems. The Environmental Fellows will work for two years with Harvard faculty members in any school or department while also strengthening connections across the University's academic disciplines.

The Award:

The fellowship includes a salary of $90,000 per year, employee health insurance eligibility, up to $2,500 reimbursement for relocation expenses, and a $2,500 annual allowance for travel and other professional expenses.

The Center for the Environment expects to award approximately six fellowships for the 2025 cohort. The Center will organize a co-curricular program to ensure that the fellows get to know each other and each other's work. All fellows will attend biweekly dinners with their colleagues, faculty members, and guests.

Program Requirements:

Candidates for 2025 Environmental Fellowships should have received their terminal degree between May 2021 and August 2025. (Fellows must have filed their dissertation before starting their appointment in September 2025.)

Candidates with a doctorate or equivalent in any field are eligible, and they may propose research projects in any discipline. Applicants without a Ph.D. may apply if they have studied in fields where the Ph.D. is not the typical terminal degree. All successful candidates will be able to demonstrate experience performing scholarly research.

Each candidate must secure a commitment from one or more Harvard faculty members to serve as a mentor and to provide office or lab space for the two-year fellowship.

Candidates may have received their degrees at any university in the world. Foreign nationals are eligible for fellowships, though study at Harvard requires proficiency in English.

Candidates who received terminal degrees from Harvard, and post-docs currently working at Harvard are eligible for the fellowship provided their research and host arrangements take them in new directions and forge new connections within the University. Harvard candidates should not propose to continue to work with the same professors or lab groups with whom they are currently associated. No candidate should propose to work extensively with their thesis advisor. Harvard is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer.

Successful candidates should be prepared to commit to work at Harvard for the full two years of the fellowship. This fellowship requires residency in the Cambridge, MA area and any fieldwork trip must be scheduled for the summer or January recess.

Application Requirements:

Please complete the online application form found at <https://academicpositions.harvard.edu/postings/14017> by January 13, 2024 at 5 p.m. (ET) and attach the relevant supporting documents as PDFs: curriculum vitae including list of publications; detailed research proposal where applicants should explain their specific reasons for applying to this fellowship (maximum of five pages, references counted separately) and up to three publications/writing samples.

Three letters of reference, including one from the applicant's dissertation adviser.

A letter of support is also required from the applicant's host committing to serve as a mentor and explaining their commitment to the proposed research, including the provision of office or lab space. Hosts should send their letters directly to the attention of Cayla Jett at the Center at environmental\_fellows@harvard.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/13/2025

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15023

Georgetown University

Rank: Professor and McCourt Chair

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applicants for the McCourt Chair of Public Policy. The endowed chair holder is expected to provide leadership and substantial impact for the School across the dimensions of research, teaching and service, particularly with their research. The successful candidate will have an outstanding scholarly track record and agenda, with evidence of both high productivity and high-quality research. Applicants should also demonstrate evidence of national and international prominence in their respective field. While the search is open with respect to field, discipline, and geographic research concentrations, scholars with disciplinary backgrounds in public management, political science, public policy and sociology are especially encouraged to apply.

Questions about the position can be directed to the committee chair, R. Daniel Kelemen, at rk1230@georgetown.edu. Those interested in the position should submit a CV and letter of interest to Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/156635>. The Committee will begin reviewing applications on October 28, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

The projected base salary range is $250,000 - $325,000. Compensation is determined by a number of factors including, but not limited to, the candidate's individual qualifications, experience, education, skills, and certifications, as well as the University's business needs and external factors.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 15013

Southern Virginia University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Southern Virginia University seeks applications for an Assistant Professor of Political Science, focusing on American government and politics. The position starts in the fall 2025 semester. The main responsibilities include teaching, undergraduate advising, and university service.

The ideal candidate will have evidence of effective teaching in small classes. The position also includes academic advising, course design, and continued development of a growing political science major. A PhD in political science is strongly preferred, though candidates with a Master's degree in political science will also be considered.

Candidates should have graduate training and teaching experience in American politics. Teaching responsibilities will include a course in the core curriculum on US political institutions and the Early Republic, as well as introductory and upper-division political science courses in American politics and comparative politics. The ability and willingness to teach an introductory survey of American history is also preferred. Applications should include a CV, a letter of interest (addressing the desired qualifications, the university's mission, and evidence of teaching effectiveness), and a list of 3 professional references. These materials should be sent as a single pdf to provost@svu.edu. A sample of research may also be included, in a separate PDF.

The application should also include at least three letters of recommendation, which may be sent separately by recommenders to provost@svu.edu. Southern Virginia University is an equal-opportunity employer. Applications will be reviewed beginning November 1, 2024, and the position will remain open until filled.

Southern Virginia University is a private, faith-based institution of higher education aligned with The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. As a university, we gather faithful Latter-day Saints and those who share our values, lift intellectually, socially, and spiritually, and launch into successful lives and careers. Applicants are invited to learn more about the university at svu.edu/mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15009

College of William & Mary

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environment & Sustainability (Climate Social Sci)

The Environmental Science and Policy program promotes multidisciplinary education and research to produce active and literate environmental citizens, leaders, and problem solvers. We emphasize the value of integrating knowledge and approaches from the natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, and professional schools to generate a holistic understanding of environmental issues and policy making, while simultaneously stressing the need for in-depth training in at least one environmental discipline.

Position Summary:

The Environment & Sustainability Program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, seeks applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level. The successful candidate will have a joint appointment in the Environment & Sustainability Program and a department within the social sciences. Appointment will begin August 10, 2025. We are interested in individuals with research expertise in the social scientific dimensions of climate change, broadly construed.

Duties include research, teaching, and service to the University. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a vibrant research program that inspires a highly motivated undergraduate student body. Teaching expectation is 2 courses per semester. Successful applicants must possess the skills to regularly teach the core environmental policy making course in the Environment & Sustainability Program and teach compelling courses on the social dimensions of climate change that complement and extend the program's curriculum.

Required Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in a discipline that explores the social scientific dimensions of climate change, such as anthropology, economics, environmental studies, political science, or sociology at the time appointment begins (August 10, 2025).

Preferred Qualifications

Previous experience in teaching and mentoring successful undergraduate research is preferred. Evidence of scholarly achievement or demonstrated potential as a scholar.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of research interests, and a statement of teaching interests that speaks to potential course contributions to the Environment & Sustainability Program and how a course on environmental policy making might be taught. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in environmentally focused classes in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference. For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, November 15, 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/3/2024
Date Posted: 10/3/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 15000

Angelo State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Angelo State University's Department of Political Science and Philosophy is hiring a tenure-track faculty member to teach its upper division courses in International Relations (IR) and Comparative Politics (CP) and core survey courses in Texas and Federal Government.

Our new colleague will be someone broadly trained in political science, specializing in IR or CP, and committed to offering both excellent introductory courses and upper division courses. A variety of research areas will be considered, but preference will be given to candidates whose research is directed toward the activity of major states, such as China, Russia, etc., and who will help cultivate our students for careers in diplomacy, national security, and foreign policy.

Angelo State University is a regional state university providing excellent and accessible higher education opportunities to the City of San Angelo in West-Central Texas, the broader Concho Valley, and beyond. Our student body contains many 1st generation students, veterans, non-traditional students, and is a Hispanic Serving Institution.

Job Duties

Faculty at Angelo State teach a 4-4 load. Tenure track faculty are also expected to perform research and service.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities

Teaching experience and commitment to teaching excellence are essential. An active research agenda is required.

Minimum Qualifications

Ph.D. in Political Science expected by August 2025.

Applicants interested please apply
<https://employment.angelo.edu/postings/5753>

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/1/2024
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 14979

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

During the 2025-26 academic year, the Program on U.S.-Japan Relations, which is part of the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs at Harvard University, will offer postdoctoral fellowships for social scientists. Scholars in a broad range of fields, including anthropology, economics, education, history, international relations, law, political science, public health, public policy, and sociology, are invited to apply. The fellowship recipient must hold a doctoral degree by July 31, 2025. The grant includes a stipend of $70,000, health insurance coverage for grantee, and up to $5,000 in research funds.

The application deadline is December 15, 2024.

For more information and the application portal to apply, please see: <https://us-japan.wcfia.harvard.edu/apply-become-postdoctoral-fellow>

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 12/15/2024
Date Posted: 9/27/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14963

Hitotsubashi University

Rank: Lecturer (non tenure-track)

Hitotsubashi University is one of Japan's leading research institutions, specializing in social sciences. The Graduate School of Social Sciences conducts advanced, interdisciplinary research and education across both the social sciences and humanities. We are recruiting a lecturer (non tenure-track) specializing in political science.

As a research-focused faculty member, the selected candidate is expected to publish internationally recognized work in English and establish a global research network during the term. The position involves teaching one course per year, open to both undergraduate and graduate students (to be taught in English). The course title will be determined based on the selected candidate's area of expertise.

Qualifications:

- (1) Possess a Ph.D. or equivalent degree, or be close to completing one. The doctorate must be awarded before the successful candidate takes up the position.
- (2) Specialize in political science (the specific field and methodologies are flexible, covering areas such as political theory, political history, comparative politics, international relations, Japanese politics, political processes, political economy, political sociology, and area studies).
- (3) Be able to teach a lecture course in English. Japanese language proficiency is not required.

For further information, please see: https://jrecin.jst.go.jp/seek/SeekJorDetail?id=D124091336&ln=1&JOR\_ID\_KEY=D124091336&JOR\_LN\_KEY=2

Start Date: Spring 2025
Application Deadline: 11/10/2024
Date Posted: 9/27/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14961

Rice University

Rank: Director of Housing and Neighborhoods

The Kinder Institute for Urban Research at Rice University is seeking a tenured Associate or Full Professor to fill the position of Director of Housing and Neighborhoods. This director will oversee an interdisciplinary team of community-engaged researchers who work closely with local partners on topics such as housing affordability, home ownership, segregation, eviction, gentrification, and neighborhood development. Faculty directors in the Kinder Institute are expected to work closely with the institute director and leadership team to develop and maintain relationships with community partners, set the research agenda together with these partners, coordinate intersecting projects across research teams, and ensure that research use and impact are maximized. Faculty directors are also expected to secure research grants, working closely with the leadership and grant writing teams. Leadership experience and community partnership experience is required.

Candidates must have a PhD or terminal degree and an outstanding record in urban research, experience leading a research team, and experience in community-engaged research done in partnership with local organizations that apply the research in meaningful ways. Faculty members are on nine-month appointments, and the successful candidate will have a tenure home in the department that aligns with the selected applicant's disciplinary background (see here for a list of departments at Rice), which includes teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in that department. Grant funding may be used for course buyouts. Kinder Faculty directors are expected to center their research efforts on institute projects, utilizing the institute's resources, and co-developed with the institute's community partners, aiming to inform their efforts to improve lives. Because the Kinder Institute focuses on maximizing research use and impact, institute researchers work closely with community partners to develop the research agenda, plan how research will be used, and generate informative research products beyond, but inclusive of, academic publications.

The Kinder Institute for Urban Research is an interdisciplinary research organization that works in direct partnership with local agencies and organizations that use its research, data, and policy analysis to implement solutions to critical challenges facing the Houston region. The institute aims to improve lives through data, research, engagement, and action. It consists of (and is developing) five centers that conduct research on housing, education, public health, economic mobility, and population dynamics. Centers conduct research that focuses on their particular topics, as well as research that intersects across centers, through interdisciplinary teams that specialize in solutions-oriented, community-engaged research called research-practice partnerships (RPPs).

The Kinder Institute has a team of over 60 full-time research and administrative staff, plus faculty and student affiliates. Researchers benefit from access to hundreds of datasets, established long-term community partnerships, highly skilled interdisciplinary teams, and extensive research support such as financial, communications, and grant writing teams. Founded in 2010, the Kinder Institute was endowed with a gift from Houston philanthropists Richard and Nancy Kinder. Today, the institute generates funding from research grants, corporate sponsorships, individual donors, and an endowment.

The Kinder Institute is committed to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion in our research and service endeavors. We strive to promote an environment that welcomes and respects diverse backgrounds, experiences, and views, as this diversity strengthens our research and our collaborative outreach efforts. In this spirit, we particularly welcome applications from all genders and members of historically underrepresented groups who exemplify diverse experiences. The search committee is eager to receive applications from scholars with lived experience related to the issues on which the Kinder Institute is focused.

Interested candidates should submit application materials through Interfolio, <https://apply.interfolio.com/155237>, including a CV, cover letter, research sample, and statement of partnership research. References will be requested for candidates that advance to the shortlist. All materials must be submitted by Nov 15, 2024. The start date is July 1, 2025. In the cover letter and statement of research partnership, applicants are encouraged to address their experience with and/or plans for building and leading inclusive research teams.

Rice University is a private, comprehensive university located in the heart of Houston's dynamic Museum District. The Houston, TX, metro is one of the largest and most diverse in the country. Rice offers undergraduate and graduate degrees across eight schools and has approximately 4,000 undergraduate and 3,000 graduate students. Rice consistently ranks among the top 20 US universities and the top 10 in undergraduate teaching; its endowment ranks among the top 20 (US News & World Report).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14956

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Center for Philosophy, Politics, and Economics at Brown University (PPE Center) will be appointing up to two Postdoctoral Research Associates. Postdoctoral Research Associates will pursue their own research, participate in PPE Center workshops, and teach one seminar course per year. In addition to a CV, three confidential letters of reference, a writing sample, and teaching statement, applications should include a cover letter describing how their research fits within the mission of the PPE Center.

We seek candidates who will contribute to diversity and/or have demonstrated support for diversity and inclusion through their teaching and research. The successful candidate must have a promising interdisciplinary research agenda demonstrated through dissertation work, publications, and/or works in progress. By interdisciplinary research, we mean the candidates' research should cross at least two of the three constituent fields of philosophy, politics, and economics.

Brown University PPE Center seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives, viewpoints, and ways of knowing and learning.

Candidates are asked to include a statement of how their teaching is designed to contribute to an inclusive educational environment. A similar contribution from one's research can also be cited if relevant. Appointments are for one year, renewable for a second year based on satisfactory performance and the availability of funds. PhD must have been received by July 2025 or within the previous three years. Position start date is July 2025. Salary is competitive.

Deadline for application is December 1, 2024. Apply at <http://apply.interfolio.com/154344>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14934

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Economic Policy

The Penn Development Research Initiative and DevLab@Penn (PDRI-DevLab) seek to appoint TWO full time PhD-level Research Associates to support PDRI-DevLab's expanding research portfolio. Candidates will be expected to engage in both independent and collaborative high-quality research, assist in grant proposals, write for both academic and policy audiences, and teach one course annually. Research interests in governance, conflict, migration and forced displacement, climate change and/or computational social science are a plus. Applicants with a strong quantitative background are especially encouraged to apply.

One Research Associate will work on projects across the range of substantive areas described above; many of these involve impact evaluations of international development policies. The other Research Associate will work on a suite of projects cognate to the Machine Learning for Peace project that will involve detecting regime narratives and environmental events in text; the successful candidate for this position would have familiarity with R, Python, and Large Language Models.

These are excellent opportunities to engage with high-level, policy-facing research in a dynamic environment. These are not postdoctoral fellowships. Successful candidates, subject to performance, may be considered for future appointment as Research Assistant Professor. The appointments could begin as early as January, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree in a relevant social science discipline is expected at the start of the appointment.

Launched in 2020, PDRI-DevLab brings together Penn researchers and students who seek to identify solutions to core challenges facing low- and middle-income countries. PDRI-DevLab fosters impactful, rigorous international development research by harnessing the expertise of its interdisciplinary, vertically integrated team of faculty, post-docs, graduate students, pre-docs, and undergraduate fellows. Deploying diverse, cutting-edge methodological approaches, PDRI-DevLab catalyzes extramurally funded research projects that include collaborations with development agencies, international NGOs, local NGOs, and government agencies. PDRI-DevLab also serves as an intellectual hub for Penn scholars researching developing countries.

PDRI-DevLab is housed within Penn's School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support full time researchers include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities: <https://www.sas.upenn.edu/2020-inclusion-and-anti-racism-initiatives>

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science, public policy, economics or a related field, and be expected to demonstrate potential for high-quality research. The successful candidate will be highly proficient with quantitative research methods, and be expected to support the initiative's external funding efforts as well as policy engagement efforts. The hired candidates will teach one course per year at the undergraduate or graduate level for the Political Science department's International Development minor and/or the Fels Institute of Government. They will also provide research advice to graduate students, predoctoral fellows, and undergraduate students who are also engaged in PDRI-DevLab's research projects.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, a writing sample, and two letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/154783

Review of applications will begin on November 14st, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Spring 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14935

Fudan University

Rank: Distinguished Professors/Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer

Areas Expertise: Open for all candidates who have expertise in computational political science, computational social sciences, AI for social research with strong publication records.

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time positions at the top rank of Distinguished Professors/Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is Open for all candidates who have expertise in computational political science, computational social sciences, AI for social research with strong publication records. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong publication records and their potentials to continue their scholarship during their tenure, and employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the fields, and well recognized as leading scholars in the fields of their research. Applicants are expected to continue publishing research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI), and contribute to the annual research projects at Fudan IAS and to the disciplinary development at Fudan University. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press.

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
3. A brief statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Two published journal articles in PDF;
2. An extensive/detailed curriculum vitae; including honors and awards in disciplines, list of publications, information of three references. Letters of recommendation may be requested.

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended rank/position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias\_fudan@126.com

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14923

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time "Post-doc fellows" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open for all candidates who have expertise in computational political science, computational social sciences, AI for social research with strong publication records. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias\_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Spring

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14924

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Communication

Description

The Department of Communication at the University of Washington, Seattle, seeks a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor who studies political communication. This position will utilize a strong grounding in theories of political communication to establish and maintain a dynamic research agenda that illuminates: the media's role in democratic societies; the processes by which they shape individuals as well as public life; and how these processes play out across lines of social and political difference. This full-time position has an anticipated start date of September 16, 2025 and will have a nine-month service period. Tenure-track faculty in the department are expected to produce a significant line of research, teach and develop courses in our undergraduate and graduate programs, work with graduate students at the master's and doctoral levels, and engage in departmental, university, and disciplinary service. The Department of Communication is founded on the principles of intellectual and cultural pluralism, equity, interdisciplinarity, innovation through collaboration, and public scholarship. The Department's statement on difference and equity can be found at <https://com.uw.edu/about/difference-and-equity-statement/>. Information about the faculty, departmental centers (Center for Journalism, Media and Democracy; Center for Communication, Difference, and Equity; and Center for Speech and Debate), degree programs, course offerings, and mission and values can be found on its website. Washington State law requires that this ad list a binding salary range. The nine-month base salary range for this position will be $9,250 - $13,250 per month ($83,250 - $119,250 annually), commensurate with experience and qualifications, or as mandated by a U.S. Department of Labor prevailing-wage determination.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a Ph.D., or foreign equivalent, in Communication or a related field by the start of the appointment. They must also show evidence of teaching effectiveness and/or potential for high-quality teaching.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit the following: (1) a two-page letter of interest outlining the candidate's research trajectory in political communication and explaining how that research meets the job criteria and complements/extends existing strengths in the department; (2) a separate two-page teaching statement that includes the candidate's pedagogical philosophy and identifies existing and new courses the candidate is qualified to teach; (3) a two-page diversity statement that describes the candidate's experiences with and commitments to difference, race, equity, and social justice in research, teaching, and/or service; (4) a curriculum vitae; (5) two article-length academic writing samples; and (6) the names and contact information of three referees. Application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153166>. Priority will be given to applications received before November 1, 2024. Inquiries can be directed to the search committee chair Patricia Moy (pmoy@uw.edu).

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

Benefits Information

A summary of benefits associated with this title/rank can be found at <https://hr.uw.edu/benefits/benefits-orientation/benefit-summary-pdfs/>. Appointees solely employed and paid directly by a non-UW entity are not UW employees and are not eligible for UW or Washington State employee benefits.

Commitment to Diversity

The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (<http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/>). Additionally, the University's Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member's academic profile and responsibilities (<https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432>).

Privacy Notice

Review the University of Washington Privacy Notice for Demographic Data of Job Applicants and University Personnel to learn how your demographic data are protected, when the data may be used, and your rights.

Disability Services

To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact the Disability Services Office at 206-543-6450 or dso@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/8/2024

Date Posted: 9/20/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14900

College of William & Mary

Rank: Associate Professor and Director of Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies

The Program of Gender, Sexuality and Women's Studies at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, seeks applications for a jointly appointed tenure track position at the Associate Professor level. The successful candidate will serve as Director of the Program. The appointee will have an academic record tenurable at associate level and will be eligible for off-cycle tenure review upon accepting the position. The finalist's tenure home and joint title will be assigned at the time of hire. Obligations of this position will be shared between Gender, Sexuality and Women's Studies (75%) and a tenure home department (25%). Appointment will begin August 10, 2025. We are interested in individuals with experience in academic leadership, and research and teaching in interdisciplinary gender, feminist, queer and/or sexuality studies at the intersections of race, ethnicity, religion, and/or disability. We are interested in candidates from any disciplinary or interdisciplinary background with a record of sustained scholarly achievement.

Duties include leading a vibrant interdisciplinary program, and research, teaching, and service to the University. Successful applicants will develop and implement a sustainable, innovative and inclusive vision for the program's growth. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a robust research program that inspires a highly motivated undergraduate student body. The role entails a 2/2 teaching load, with one course reduction per year as director. Successful applicants must possess the skills to mentor undergraduate research and teach compelling core curriculum courses including Introduction to Gender, Sexuality, and Women's Studies, interdisciplinary lecture and seminar courses, and courses focused on gender and/or sexuality through a global and/or intersectional perspective.

Required Qualifications:

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in gender, feminist, queer, sexuality studies, or a related field at the time appointment begins (August 10, 2025).

Preferred Qualifications

Previous experience in inclusive teaching and mentoring undergraduate research in gender, feminist, queer and/or sexuality studies is preferred.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of teaching interests and teaching effectiveness, a statement of research interests, a writing sample, and a statement outlining their vision for the future of interdisciplinary gender, sexuality and women's studies programs. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in gender, sexuality and women's studies in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, 14 October 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/13/2024

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14869

University of South Carolina

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Science

The faculty of the Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina, Columbia campus, invites applications for a 9-month, full-time, tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor to begin August 16, 2025. Subfield of specialization is open. We seek candidates with well-conceived, theoretically informed research agendas who have published in leading outlets. The successful candidate will be expected to conduct highly visible, high-quality research, teach both graduate and undergraduate courses at a high level of performance, and provide additional senior leadership in our department, including mentoring junior faculty. The position requires a Ph.D. in political science, plus years of relevant experience consistent with academic policy and a record of accomplishment commensurate with rank at the Associate Professor level, by the start date of appointment.

The Department of Political Science is a research-active, collegial, and growing department. The department has more than 800 majors in its undergraduate Bachelor of Arts degree programs in political science and in international studies. At the graduate level, the department offers a Ph.D. in political science as well as the Master's Degree in Public Administration and the Master's Degree in International Studies. For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit our website at https://sc.edu/study/colleges\_schools/artsandsciences/political\_science/.

At the University of South Carolina, we strive to cultivate an inclusive environment that is open, welcoming, and supportive of individuals of all backgrounds. We recognize diversity in our workforce is essential to providing academic excellence and critical to our sustainability. The University is committed to eliminating barriers created by institutional discrimination through accountability and continuous process improvement. We celebrate the diverse voices, perspectives, and experiences of our employees.

From the Upstate to the Lowcountry, the University of South Carolina system is transforming the lives of South Carolinians through the impact of our eight institutions and 20 locations throughout the state. More than 50,000 students are enrolled at one of eight institutions, including the research campus in Columbia and comprehensive four-year universities in Aiken, Upstate and Beaufort. In addition, our Palmetto College campuses in Salkehatchie, Union, Lancaster and Sumter enable students to earn associate or bachelor's degrees through a combination of in-person, online or blended learning. All of our system institutions place strong emphasis on service — helping to build healthier, more educated communities in South Carolina and beyond.

The University of South Carolina is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Institution. Women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities or decisions for qualified persons on the basis of age, ancestry, citizenship status, color, disability, ethnicity, familial status, gender (including transgender), gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, pregnancy (false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy, childbirth, recovery therefrom or related medical conditions, breastfeeding), race, religion (including religious dress and grooming practices), sex, sexual orientation, veteran status, or any other bases under federal, state, local law, or regulations.

How to Apply

All applicants must apply online at USCJobs at <https://uscjobs.sc.edu>. Applications must include: (1) a cover letter that describes research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, and (3) contact information (including telephone number and email address) for three references. References will be contacted only for finalists selected for interview.

The position will remain open until filled, and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on October 7, 2024. Please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Darmofal (darmofal@mail-box.sc.edu), with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14861

Université de Montréal

Rank: Political Economy

Ranked among the best in Canada, the Department of Political Science at the University of Montreal has been training students from around the world since 1958. Its faculty bets on scientific excellence and international influence in French. www.pol.umontreal.ca

Adequate proficiency in the French language or a strong commitment to mastering the proficiency level required upon assuming the position in accordance to Université de Montréal's Language Policy. A French language learning assistance program is offered to all professors who wish to acquire French language skills or enhance their communication abilities.

Your application must include the following documents and be sent before 11-22-2024.

- A cover letter (maximum of two pages) and resume
- Three publications or recent research works
- A teaching statement (one page)
- A statement of current and prospective research interests (maximum of two pages)
- At least three reference letters

DETAILS:

https://universityaffairs.ca/search-job/?job\_id=66313

Contact details for reference letters

Frédéric Mérand, Chair

Faculty of Arts and Science/ Department of Political Science

Email : direction@pol.umontreal.ca

Université de Montréal's application process allows all members of the Professor's Assembly to review the application files submitted. If you wish to keep your application confidential until the shortlist is established, please mention it in your application.

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 9/13/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14843

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Department of Politics

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for postdoctoral research associates or more senior research positions. The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for one year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments.

Scholars in all subfields of political science will be considered. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars. We strongly encourage applications from groups that have been historically underrepresented in the field of political science at Princeton University. Ph.D. is required.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36201> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. For best consideration, apply by December 15, 2024 11:59 EST. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. EEO IS THE LAW

Requisition No: D-25-POL-00007

Start Date:
Date Posted: 9/4/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14791

University of Rochester

Rank: Race and Ethnic Politics Professor

The University of Rochester's Department of Political Science invites applications from candidates working on race and ethnic politics for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor rank, starting July 1, 2025. We are open to methodological approaches, and we are especially interested in scholars whose work intersects with Black politics.

The primary appointment will be in the Department of Political Science, with the possibility of a joint appointment in the Department of Black Studies. The position is part of an effort to foster the rigorous analysis of race and ethnic politics, to support path-breaking research in Black politics, and to strengthen ties with the Frederick Douglass Institute and the Department of Black Studies.

Salary: $110,000 – $140,000. The referenced pay range represents the full base range of pay for this job. Individual salaries will be determined within the job's salary range and established based on market data, experience and expertise of the individual, and internal equity considerations.

Qualifications:

All applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, samples of written work, and three letters of recommendation. Candidates without a prior tenure-track appointment should also include a graduate transcript.

Application Instructions

Please apply via: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153501>

For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department, go to: <http://www.sas.rochester.edu/psc/>. For more information on the Frederick Douglass Institute and Department of Black Studies, go to: <https://www.sas.rochester.edu/aas/>.

The University of Rochester is firmly committed to advancing equity and fostering an inclusive and diverse community. We ask candidates to include a statement discussing the ways in which their experiences will shape your pursuits as a member of our faculty and help them add to the University's core values of Meliora (ever better).

We will begin reviewing applications on September 20, 2024.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Rochester is committed to fostering, cultivating, and preserving a culture of equity, diversity, and inclusion to advance the University's mission to Learn, Discover, Heal, Create – and Make the World Ever Better. In support of our values and those of our society, the University is committed to not discriminating on the basis of age, color, disability, ethnicity, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, military/veteran status, national origin, race, religion/creed, sex, sexual orientation, citizenship status, or any other status protected by law. This commitment extends to the administration of our policies, admissions, employment, access, and recruitment of candidates from underrepresented populations, veterans, and persons with disabilities consistent with these values and government contractor Affirmative Action obligations.

The University of Rochester is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity, and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education.

EOE / Minorities / Females / Protected Veterans / Disabled

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/4/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14788

Texas Christian University

Rank: Herman Brown Chair of Political Science

Application Deadline:

Open Until Filled. Application review will start on November 1st.

Position Details:

Texas Christian University invites highly qualified candidates to apply for the Herman Brown Endowed Chair of Political Science. The ideal candidate will have an exceptional record of nationally and internationally recognized research and a demonstrable aptitude for, and commitment to, effective undergraduate teaching. We welcome applicants at the rank of Professor or senior Associate Professor, and from all subfields of Political Science. Nominations are welcome. We seek an individual who will contribute intellectual and programmatic leadership in a large and thriving undergraduate department.

The Herman Brown Chair of Political Science in the AddRan College of Liberal Arts was created in 1968 through an endowment grant by The Brown Foundation, Inc. of Houston to recognize distinguished achievement in the field of political science. The chair includes a competitive salary, a generous annual stipend for professional expenses and programming, and a teaching load of two courses per year.

Required Application Materials & Application Instructions:

Applications should upload a letter of application detailing their research agenda and teaching philosophy, a curriculum vitae, a diversity statement, and contact information for three referees to jobs.tcu.edu. Nominations should upload a CV, contact information for the candidate, and a brief statement of the candidate's qualifications for the chair.

Full review of applications begins on November 1 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair, Keith Gaddie, at Keith.Gaddie@tcu.edu.

Department Details:

The TCU political science department has 17 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in two undergraduate degrees. TCU political science faculty run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies, Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies, Asian Studies, and Middle East Studies. The department is also editorial home to the journal Social Science Quarterly.

School/College Description:

Named for TCU's founders, Addison and Randolph Clark, the AddRan College of Liberal Arts is home to the core academic disciplines of the humanities and social sciences. The College includes approximately 155 full-time faculty members, 13 departments (Comparative Race & Ethnic Studies, Criminology & Criminal Justice, Economics, English, Geography, History, Modern Language Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, Religion, Sociology & Anthropology, Spanish and Hispanic Studies, and Women & Gender Studies), and two units of Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Army and Air Force). AddRan College departments confer 17 Bachelor of Arts and 7 Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of General Studies, an online master's degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice, a Master of Liberal Arts degree, and master's and Ph.D. degrees in History, English, and Rhetoric and Composition.

University & Fort Worth Description:

ABOUT TCU

Founded in 1873, Texas Christian University sits on 302 acres nestled in a primarily residential part of Fort Worth, just minutes away from downtown. The University includes seven schools and colleges, in addition to the John V. Roach Honors College and the Burnett School of Medicine.

Currently, TCU enrolls more than 10,200 undergraduates and 1,700 graduate students. Twenty-eight percent of students self-identify as a member of a minority group, five percent are international students, and forty-five percent are from out-of-state. Our students are supported by more than 2,200 faculty and staff. The University has more than 700 full-time faculty members and is a top 100 National University as classified by US News and World Report and has a Carnegie Classification of R2: Doctoral Universities – High Research Activity.

At TCU, diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) are an educational imperative directly tied to the University mission, vision, and strategic plan. Fulfilling TCU's mission to develop ethical leaders and critical thinkers in a global community depends on the University's ability to attract and retain students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. A diverse and inclusive campus leads to innovation, broadened perspective, and understanding—values that are foundational aspects of higher education. For the fourth consecutive year, TCU has earned the Higher Education Excellence in Diversity Award, which highlights ongoing commitment to build a comprehensive DEI strategy that aligns with core values and creates a campus culture where everyone is respected and included.

ABOUT FORT WORTH

Like TCU, Fort Worth has the approachable, friendly charm of a smaller town, but offers the amenities, cultural activities, diversity and unique personality of a much larger city. Fort Worth, Texas, is the 13th largest city in the United States with an ever-growing population nearing 1 million. Fort Worth and TCU have grown together in a nearly 150-year relationship. You'll find that many Horned Frogs remain here after graduation, thanks to the region's thriving job market. Fort Worth is part of the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area, the fourth largest metropolitan area in the United States, and the number 1 tourist destination in Texas. In 2018, bizjournals.com ranked Fort Worth the 7th most affordable city to live and work in the United States and U.S. News and World Report named Fort Worth one of the Best Places to Live. Fort Worth, Dallas and Arlington all rank among the top 25 most diverse cities in the country.

Fort Worth is known for its vast array of cultural, educational and entertainment opportunities. The city boasts three world class art museums—the Kimbell Art Museum, the Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth and the Amon Carter Museum of American Art. The Bass Performance Hall is one of the premier performance venues in the country. Concerts, film festivals and other events are held regularly at Sundance Square, Panther Island and Near Southside venues.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14782

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in Moral and Political Economy

The Center for Economy and Society, a division of the SNF Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University, invites applications for two or more postdoctoral fellowships in Moral and Political Economy. Applications are encouraged from scholars working on cross-disciplinary topics related to moral and political economy, who anticipate having a Ph.D. in hand prior to the anticipated start date of July 1, 2025. Fellows will be appointed for a three-year term, and will be expected to teach two sections or seminars in the first year, and three sections or seminars in both the second and third years, in addition to advising senior thesis students in the major. During the academic year fellows are expected to remain in residence in the Baltimore-Washington region, and to participate actively in the intellectual community of CES. Please submit a statement of purpose outlining your research interests and teaching experience (up to 1,500 words), a CV, an article-length writing sample, and three letters of recommendation online via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/153178>. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2024.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14739

Knox College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Applications are made through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152080>

The Department of Environmental Studies at Knox College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies, with a focus in the social sciences, beginning September 1, 2025. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on some aspect of environmental policy.

Knox is an independent, selective liberal arts institution with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a community that embraces a diversity of perspectives and individuals. Experience working with diverse populations of students and a commitment to successful teaching in a multicultural environment are expected. With over 35% of the student body identifying as U.S. students of color and more than 20% international students, the College supports instruction and research that appeals to Knox's students broadly.

The Environmental Studies Department offers major tracks in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, both of which culminate in faculty-supervised student research. Teaching responsibilities include two classes per each of three 10-week terms (Fall, Winter, Spring) and support for advanced student work in the program.

The successful candidate will have experience with research techniques appropriate to their field and will be prepared to supervise senior research projects. They will also teach Introduction to Environmental Policy as well as an advanced course in their area of expertise, and contribute to a team-taught introductory course in Environmental Studies. In consultation with the department, they will teach additional courses in the environmental social sciences that contribute to departmental majors as well as the general education curriculum.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in environmental studies or related field is expected by the time of appointment, but exceptional ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates should submit:

1. A letter of application that addresses the qualifications listed above, including the candidate's research agenda, undergraduate liberal arts teaching philosophy, and approach to teaching and mentorship in a diverse community of students;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. An unofficial graduate transcript;
4. Names of three confidential professional references. References will be contacted for those candidates progressing in the interview process, and will be expected to provide letters quickly when requested.

Additional materials may be requested at a later date.

Review of applications begins September 13, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to Katherine Adelsberger at kadelsbe@knox.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14717

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics

Subfield(s): Methodology, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the Maurice Falk Professorship of Politics in Political Science, with the appointment to begin in the 2025-2026 academic year. In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship.

We welcome candidates from any subfield, regardless of methodological or regional expertise. We are particularly interested in scholars whose expertise contributes to or complements one or more of the following cross-cutting themes: 1) Global and Transnational Challenges, 2) Groups and Identities, 3) Democracy and Development, 4) Representation and Accountability.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh has faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Minimum qualifications: applicants must have a PhD, at least 6 years of experience, significant record of publications, and demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, to contribute to an inclusive climate, and to attract and retain a diverse study body.

The committee will begin looking at applications December 2nd, 2024, but will continue to accept materials until the position is filled. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a CV, and 3 names of people that can provide references when needed; cover letters should include a discussion how the candidate's research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion. References can be sent to psjobs@pitt.edu. Candidates with questions can contact Chris Bonneau, search committee co-chair, at cwbonneau@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is committed to championing all aspects of diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility within our community. This commitment is a fundamental value of the University and is crucial in helping us advance our mission, which includes attracting and retaining diverse workforces. We will continue to create and maintain an environment that allows individuals to discover, belong, contribute, and grow, while honoring the experiences, perspectives, and unique identities of all.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Date Posted: 8/26/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14711

University of Calgary

Rank: Mark Grosjean Post-doctoral Fellowship in Political Science

Mark Grosjean Postdoctoral Fellowship in Political Science

Location: Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Application Deadline: November 1, 2024.

Fellowship Start: Between May 1 and September 1, 2025.

Job Description: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Department of Political Science at the University of Calgary.

Position Summary: During the period of the Fellowship, the successful candidate must carry out a program of independent research, be an active, in-person, full-time participant in official departmental functions and events where possible, and disseminate the research undertaken during the Fellowship in a public forum in Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Salary: CAN $70,000 per year, plus specified Postdoctoral Associate Group Benefits, plus a CAN $6,000 research stipend.

Qualifications: Applicants must have earned their PhD in political science less than 4 years before the start date of the position in any given competition year.

Eligibility: Unrestricted citizenship. Applicants working in any area of political science are eligible. Fellows must be in residence at UCalgary, unless required by occasional research trips. Applicants must not simultaneously hold another postdoctoral fellowship or any other full-time position.

Minimum Education/Experience: Applicants must have earned their PhD in political science less than 4 years before the start date of the position in any given competition year.

More Information or To Apply: <https://arts.ucalgary.ca/grosjean-fellowship>

Email: Grosjean.Fellowship@UCalgary.ca

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 7/24/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14530

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science, Bush School of Government & Public Service at Texas A&M University (<http://bush.tamu.edu/pols>) is recruiting for two (2) tenure-track (Assistant Professor) full-time, nine-month positions which are open with respect to subfields. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service to the profession. Strong research and teaching interests across traditional subfields of political science will be highly valued. The starting date for this position is fall 2025. The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas was founded in 1997 under President George H. W. Bush's philosophy that "public service is a noble calling." <https://bush.tamu.edu/>

This position requires a Ph.D. in political science or a related field. All appointees are expected to be committed to teaching and research of the highest quality.

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/147939: 1) cover letter (Letter of Interest ([referencing research agenda and teaching interests]) 2) curriculum vitae, 3) personal statement, (The statement should include your philosophy and plans for research, teaching and service), 4) writing sample (You may provide unpublished works or works in progress if you have not published, 5) three (3) confidential letters of recommendation requested through applicant's Interfolio account, and 6) provide contact information for two additional professional references. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The review of applications will begin on September 1, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Questions regarding this position should be sent to Carrie Kilpatrick at carriek@tamu.edu.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/18/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14508

Texas A&M University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science, Bush School of Government & Public Service at Texas A&M University (<http://bush.tamu.edu/pols>) is recruiting 4 tenured full-time, nine-month positions which are open with respect to subfields. This search is for the rank of Associate or Full Professor. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service to the profession. Strong research and teaching interests across traditional subfields of political science will be highly valued. A Ph.D. is required. The expected starting date for this position is August 1, 2025. The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas was founded in 1997 under President George H. W. Bush's philosophy that "public service is a noble calling." <https://bush.tamu.edu/>

This position requires a Ph.D. in political science or a related field. All appointees are expected to be committed to teaching and research of the highest quality.

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/147945 1) cover letter 2) curriculum vitae, 3) personal statement, (your statement should include your philosophy and plans for teaching), 4) provide contact information for five professional references. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The review of applications will begin on September 1, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Questions regarding this position should be sent to Carrie Kilpatrick at carriek@tamu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14497

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Political Theory

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in political theory and the ability to offer courses in classical, early modern, and modern political theory. The successful candidate will teach Western Culture in the College's Core Cultures program and may participate in the Rhetoric program. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs near completion may also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia

Carroll-Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147324>. Review of applications will begin in early fall and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14369

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Subfield(s): Open, Open, Open

Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS)

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Areas Expertise: Region Open

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time "Post-doc fellows" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan

Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias\_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2023

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13000

OTHER

St. Catherine University

Rank: Assistant Prof of Economics

Assistant Prof of Economics

Division: Academic Affairs

Department/Office: Economics & Poli Sci

Advertisement:

The Economics & Political Science department at St. Catherine University invites applications for an Assistant Professor of Economics full-time, tenure track position.

The undergraduate college at St. Catherine is one of only six US institutions that is both a women's college and a minority serving institution. Based in the Twin Cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, St. Kate's is home to a diverse group of nearly 3,500 students in varying disciplines and degree levels. The Economics and Political Science Department contributes to a wide array of majors, including Economics, Financial Economics, International Business and Economics, International Studies, Political Science, Public Policy, Women and International Development, and a Non-Profit Studies minor. The department also houses the Minnesota Center for Diversity in Economics and is committed to gender and racial diversity at every stage of the educational and career pipeline.

Responsibilities:

- The selected candidate is expected to have responsibilities in teaching, research, and service. The teaching load is six sections (24 credits) per academic year.
- Applicants from all fields are welcome and should expect to teach introductory and upper level courses within their area of expertise.

Strong candidates will be comfortable teaching public policy & introductory statistics as well as more advanced topics courses that appeal to students from a variety of majors.

- The creation of knowledge in the discipline resulting in its dissemination through the publication of peer-reviewed articles is expected. Applicants should demonstrate excellence in teaching and a commitment to university service. The selected candidate will be responsible for advising undergraduate students and is expected to engage in service activities with colleagues, the department, school, campus, community and professional organizations.
- Applicants should be prepared to work collaboratively to support students who are passionate about social justice and plan to use their training to lead and influence.

St. Catherine University in St. Paul, Minnesota, is a comprehensive Catholic university and home to one of the nation's largest colleges for women, with associate and graduate programs for all genders. Founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet in 1905, the University integrates liberal arts and professional education within the Catholic traditions of intellectual inquiry and social teaching. Committed to excellence and opportunity, St. Catherine <https://www.stkate.edu/about/why-st-kates> in certificate, associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral programs in traditional day and evening/weekend/online formats.

Minimum Qualifications:

- All But Dissertation (ABD)

Preferred Qualifications:

- Preferred applicants should have a Ph.D. (in Public Policy, Economics or Political Science or related field) by the beginning of September 2025 and demonstrate evidence of a commitment to excellence in research and teaching.

We seek creative, adaptable staff who enjoy working in a university climate that promotes cultural diversity, multicultural understanding, and cultural fluency. Consistent with the university's commitment to women, diversity and social justice, preference will be given to candidates who manifest these themes in their experience and service.

Application instructions:

Posting Number: 20220278-FAC

Posting Start Date: 10/23/2024

Application Deadline: 11/29/2024

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5760184>

St. Catherine University is an equal opportunity employer. Our commitment to inclusion reflects the central value of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet to "love of neighbor without distinction" and provides a learning and working environment that is enriched by the diversity of all our members. Individuals of religious, racial, ethnic, gender identity, nation of origin, or disability groups that have traditionally had less representation in higher education are encouraged to apply. Should you need an interview accommodation please contact us at hr%20@stkate.edu or 651-690-6565.

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:*Application Deadline: 11/29/2024Date Posted: 10/29/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 15122Massachusetts Institute of Technology*Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

POSTDOCTORAL ASSOCIATE, Political Science - MIT Governance Lab (MIT GOV/LAB), to lead collaborative projects on generative AI and democracy, teach an undergraduate course on Democracy and Generative AI, and lead an undergraduate Social and Ethical Responsibilities of Computing (SERC) reading group. Will provide supervision and guidance to students and researchers while engaging in activities that support the general mission of MIT GOV/LAB and SERC; collaborate with other post docs, SERC scholars, and instructors; 25% contribute to ongoing and new MIT GOV/LAB applied research projects; 30% teach one undergraduate course per year on AI and Democracy (Spring); 20% lead a SERC scholar reading group; and approximately 25% of time allotted for independent research.

Job Requirements

REQUIRED: Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, Sociology or other related social science field; advanced quantitative methods training with expertise in experiments, identification, and causal inference; demonstrated research experience in generative AI, governance, public trust, and other related areas and experience in the practitioner world; proven record of academic excellence, research achievement and publication that contributes to the study of the above areas; attention to detail; self-motivation and ability to work on projects independently; proven ability to handle multiple projects concurrently and meet deadlines; and demonstrated proficiency in statistical software (e.g. Stata/R). PREFERRED: qualitative fieldwork experience; and expertise in developing country contexts. Job #24547

Please provide the following compiled in one attachment: Cover letter, CV, Research statement of primary research interests including ongoing and planned projects (3-5 pages). Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide three letters of reference. Please apply here: https://careers.peopleclick.com/careerscp/client\_mit/external/jobDetails/jobDetail.html?jobPostId=31309&localeCode=en-us.

Priority review will be given to application materials submitted by Friday, November 15.

The appointment is for one year starting Summer 2025 (flexible start date), with the possibility of renewal for a second year.

The Postdoctoral Associate should expect to work from Cambridge, MA for the duration of the appointment, with some potential for travel.

The position is eligible for MIT benefits.

Start Date: Summer 2025Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/28/2024Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 15118Symphony Talent*Rank: Faculty Fellow in European and Mediterranean Studies*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, OtherSpecializations: Economic Policy, Social Movements, Foreign Policy

Faculty Fellow in European and Mediterranean Studies

Center for European and Mediterranean Studies

New York University Arts and Science

The Center for European and Mediterranean Studies in Arts and Science at New York University (CEMS/NYU) invites applicants for a Faculty Fellow position in the field of European Studies. The initial appointment will be for one year beginning September 1, 2025, renewable annually for a maximum of three years, pending administrative and budgetary approval.

Faculty fellows teach three graduate seminars per year, advise and mentor students, oversee master's theses, organize public programs, and actively participate in shaping the life of the program. Student advising is a key component of this position, as the faculty fellow will have a significant role in directing theses, teaching research methodologies, and supporting both MA students and undergraduate students in their research. Service to the program will also involve representing the Center at university events and meetings and contributing to organizing academic workshops and events at the Center. Candidates should demonstrate through their application materials a commitment to interdisciplinary scholarship and excellence in teaching.

In compliance with NYC's Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary for this position is $60,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Qualifications

CEMS/NYU seeks a scholar experienced in advising student research about Europe and specializing in one of the following disciplines: comparative European politics, international relations, sociology, contemporary European history, or anthropology. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching focus on the European Union; on political, economic and social developments in contemporary Europe; on European foreign affairs; or on identity and minorities in Europe.

Candidates should have completed their Ph.D. no earlier than 2020 and no later than August 1, 2025.

Application Instructions

The deadline to apply is January 17, 2025. All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/155756>

To apply, please submit a cover letter that discusses research and teaching interests, CV, three letters of recommendation, and a diversity and inclusion statement. As diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, for the latter statement we ask you to provide a brief paragraph telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past and present teaching, research, community engagement, and/or life experience, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity and inclusion to bear on the teaching and programming of NYU CEMS. Information about diversity and inclusion statements may be found here.

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the NYU Arts and Science commitment to diversity and inclusion, please read here.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

NYU is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to a policy of equal treatment and opportunity in every aspect of its recruitment and hiring process without regard to age, alienage, caregiver status, childbirth, citizenship status, color, creed, disability, domestic violence victim status, ethnicity, familial status, gender and/or gender identity or expression, marital status, military status, national origin, parental status, partnership status, predisposing genetic characteristics, pregnancy, race, religion, reproductive health decision making, sex, sexual orientation, unemployment status, veteran status, or any other legally protected basis. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, persons of minority sexual orientation or gender identity, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply for vacant positions at all levels.

Sustainability Statement

NYU aims to be among the greenest urban campuses in the country and carbon neutral by 2040. Learn more at nyu.edu/sustainability

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/17/2025

Date Posted: 10/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15120

Augusta University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science

Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science

Job ID: 278390

Location: Summerville Campus

Full/Part Time: Full Time

Job Summary

Job ID 278390

Position # 40083541

The Department of Social Sciences in the Katherine Reese Pamplin College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at Augusta University is seeking to fill a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor anticipated to begin August 2025. We seek individuals who can teach courses in the Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) program. Applicants must implement an active research agenda in Security Studies. Candidates should demonstrate potential for excellence in research, including writing and securing grants, and a strong commitment to teaching, including an interest in online instruction. Please see Augusta University Promotion and Tenure website in the Shift/Salary/Benefits section of this posting.

Responsibilities

- Teach courses in the Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) program as assigned by Department Chair either in-person or online related to ethnic conflict; causes of war; international security; terrorism studies; and/or grand strategy
- Implement an active research agenda in Security Studies.
- Participate in the shared governance of the department, college, university, and the social work profession

Required Qualifications

PhD in Political Science/International Relations/Security Studies/Intelligence Studies and/or a broad concentration in security, national defense, and conflict.

Established record or demonstrated potential for high-quality, original scholarship that is appropriate to the discipline and shows promise of continuation.

Assistant Professor- Terminal degree (or nearing its completion), or its equivalent in training, ability, and/or experience.

Associate Professor- Terminal degree or its equivalent in training, ability, and/or experience; completion of at least five years as an Assistant Professor.

Required faculty employment qualifications for all USG institutions and all academic ranks within these institutions shall be:

- Consistent with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC)'s requirements for institutional accreditation;
- Evidence of ability as a teacher;
- Evidence of activity as a scholar and ability in all other duties assigned;
- Successful experience (which will necessarily be waived for those just entering the academic profession who meet all other requirements); and,
- Desirable personal qualities judged on the basis of personal interview, complete biographical data, and recommendations.

Preferred Qualifications

- Have experience or willingness to research and teach international security, the causes of warfare, grand strategy, ethnic conflict, and/or terrorism studies
- Experience with national defense and policy/strategy/theory
- Experience with research methods, data analytics, and/or machine-learning
- Experience with social-media analysis
- Experience teaching in person and online
- Grant writing experience or potential/willingness for grant writing.

Shift/Salary/Benefits

This position is academic year based and typically works August through May, depending on dates outlined in offer letter and yearly contract.

The intended work commitment or full-time equivalent (FTE) for this position is 1.0.

Assistant Professor- Salary and compensation is commensurate with education, experience, and achievements. The salary is subject to availability of funds.

Associate Professor- Salary and compensation is commensurate with education, experience, and achievements. The salary is subject to availability of funds.

Comprehensive benefits include medical, dental, vision, sick leave, generous retirement plans, tuition waiver, wellness options, and much more!

Also, our full-time employees who have been employed with us successfully for more than 6 months can be considered for the Tuition Assistance Program.

Rank and salary are determined at the time of hire and are based on a variety of factors including but not limited to experience, education, credentials, specialty, training, etc. while also considering internal equity and market data.

Advancement through the faculty ranks at Augusta University is only through the annual Promotion and Tenure process in which faculty may apply if eligible (typically five-year increments). For more information on ranks, please review the Augusta University Promotion and Tenure website: <https://www.augusta.edu/faculty-affairs/promotionandtenure.php>

College/Department Information

The Department of Social Sciences is the academic home to over 400 students across undergraduate degree programs in Criminal Justice; Health, Society, and Policy; Nonprofit Leadership and Administration; Political Science; Sociology; and Social Work, along with graduate programs, our MAISS and MPA degrees. Our MAISS program, with over 60 current students and 7 faculty members, is growing, and the department will be offering a PhD in Intelligence, Defense, and Cybersecurity Policy starting in Fall 2025.

The department is located on the beautiful and historic Summerville campus in a building with newly remodeled classrooms. The city of Augusta is home of the US Army's Cyber Command at Fort Eisenhower and the world-renowned Masters Golf Tournament and is the birthplace of music icon James Brown. Nestled along the banks of the Savannah River, Augusta is located approximately 2.5 hours from the cosmopolitan amenities of Atlanta and Charlotte as well as the outdoor beauty of several beaches and mountains.

The Katherine Reese Pamplin College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences forms the heart of the liberal arts mission of Augusta University. We foster critical thinking about complex questions of the human experience; cultivate skills in written, verbal, and creative expression; promote active citizenship and community engagement; and prepare graduates for careers in quickly changing globalized environments. Our faculty and staff share a deep commitment to developing the intellectual potential of our students. We offer many undergraduate degrees as well as select graduate and minor programs that allow our students to gain the knowledge and skills that will transfer to career success. Explore opportunities for growth, including undergraduate research, study abroad, internships, and community service.

About Us

Augusta University is Georgia's innovation center for education and health care, training the next generation of innovators, leaders, and healthcare providers in classrooms and clinics on four campuses in Augusta and locations across the state. More than 10,500 students choose Augusta for educational opportunities at the center of Georgia's cybersecurity hub and experiential learning that blends arts and application, humanities, and the health sciences. Augusta is home to Georgia's only public academic health center, where groundbreaking research is creating a healthier, more prosperous Georgia, and world-class clinicians are bringing the medicine of tomorrow to patient care today. Our <https://www.augusta.edu/about/mission.php> make Augusta University an institution like no other.

The [https://www.usg.edu/hr/orientation/welcome\_to\_the\_board\_of Regents\_university\_system\_office](https://www.usg.edu/hr/orientation/welcome_to_the_board_of Regents_university_system_office) is comprised of our 26 institutions of higher education and learning as well as the System Office. Our USG Statement of Core Values are Integrity, Excellence, Accountability, and Respect. These values serve as the foundation for all that we do as an organization, and each USG community member is responsible for demonstrating and upholding these standards. More details on the USG Statement of Core Values and Code of Conduct are available in USG Board Policy 8.2.18.1.2 and can be found online at https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section8/C224/#p8.2.18\_personnel\_conduct

Additionally, USG supports Freedom of Expression as stated in Board Policy 6.5 Freedom of Expression and Academic Freedom found online at <https://www.usg.edu/policymanual/section6/C2653>.

Location

Our Summerville Campus:

2500 Walton Way, Augusta, GA 30904

Conditions of Employment

All selected candidates are required to successfully pass a Background Check review prior to starting with Augusta University.

If applicable for the specific position based on the duties: the candidate will also need to have a credit check completed for Positions of Trust and or approved departmental Purchase Card usage.

Motor vehicle reports are required for positions that are required to drive an Augusta University vehicle.

For Faculty Hires: Final candidates will be required to provide proof of completed academic degree(s) as well as post-secondary coursework in the form of original transcript(s). Those candidates trained by a foreign institution will also be required to provide an educational/credential evaluation.

All employees are responsible for ensuring the confidentiality, availability, and integrity of sensitive [patient, student, employee, financial, business, etc.] information by exercising sound judgment and adhering to cybersecurity and privacy policies during their employment and beyond.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Augusta University is proud to be an equal opportunity employer welcoming applicants from underrepresented groups, including individuals with disabilities and veterans.

How To Apply

To be considered an applicant for this position, you must apply online at <http://www.augusta.edu/hr/jobs/>.

Please upload a cover letter describing research, teaching, and other pertinent qualifications; a curriculum vitae; an unofficial copy of graduate school transcripts (the successful candidate will be required to submit official copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts); and a list of three references as one document.

Questions can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Craig Albert, in the Department of Social Sciences at <mailto:calbert@augusta.edu>.

Other Information

This position is also responsible for promoting a customer-friendly environment and providing superior service to our patients, students, faculty, and employees. “Augusta University is a patient-and family-centered care institution, where employees partner every day with patients and families for success.”

Augusta University is a tobacco-free environment, and the use of any tobacco products on any part of the campus, both inside and outside, is strictly prohibited.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5754118>

Copyright ©2024 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15111

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Johns Hopkins University is pleased to invite applications for the position of Patrick Henry Scholar, a two-year postdoctoral fellowship offered by the Department of Political Science.

People in motion, and the regulation of their movement, are a key dimension of global and local orders. The imperial world involved distinctive forms of movement, including flows of slaves, settlers and labor. The national/international world that followed initiated population transfers to fit national borders and erected a mobilities regime of regulations, rules and norms to facilitate, regulate and restrict their movement across borders, thereby institutionalizing migrant categories and hierarchies. This regime, along with the American world power that underwrote it, is now in crisis. Central to this crisis are the politics of migration and the ways in which they have unsettled domestic, regional and international order, in and beyond the United States.

This two-year early career postdoctoral fellowship will support research concerned with some aspect of the global politics of mobility and American world power. As mobility is simultaneously a global and local matter, national and international, we invite applications from scholars across Political Science subfields whose work fosters cross-field, interdisciplinary synergies that move beyond isolated cases.

Qualifications

Applicants must show demonstrated excellence in their research and have completed their PhD in political science between 2020 and June 30, 2025. The fellowship term will begin on July 1, 2025, and will end on June 30, 2027. The Patrick Henry Scholar will normally teach one undergraduate course and one graduate seminar over the course of the fellowship and will be expected to participate fully in the intellectual life of the Department of Political Science, including giving a formal research presentation to faculty and graduate students. The Patrick Henry Scholar will also benefit from faculty mentoring in the Department.

Application Instructions

Candidates should upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, dissertation abstract and sample chapter or article via Interfolio, <http://apply.interfolio.com/157861>, no later than February 1st, 2025. At least two letters of reference should be uploaded independently by the referees.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 2/1/2025

Date Posted: 10/24/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15107

American University-SIS

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Other

The School of International Service at American University (AU) invites applications for an eighteen-month Center for Environment, Community, & Equity (CECE) Postdoctoral Fellow in Civic Environmentalism. The Post-Doctoral fellow will work on the Addressing Climate Through Our Nation’s Service Corps Program under the project’s Principal Investigator, Professor Dana R. Fisher. We seek a junior scholar with a deep knowledge about civic engagement and activism, and a strong background in both survey and interview research methods to join the project’s research team. In addition to working with the team to collect and analyze data, and write-up the research findings, the post-doctoral fellow will support our new DataCorps Fellowship Program, which will train graduate students to evaluate civic programs that are springing up across the US to support climate work. Although the post-doctoral fellow will support DataCorps Program as fellows conduct evaluations over the summer, there are no teaching responsibilities.

We welcome applicants who possess a broad and big-picture understanding of civic engagement and environmental challenges, and the ability to engage with research and scholarship from multiple disciplines. Preference will be given to applicants with experience working on actionable research and strong intrapersonal skills, with a record of published research.

We especially encourage applications from individuals from sectors of the population historically underrepresented on the professorial faculties of U.S. colleges and universities. The position begins on January 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal for additional time.

The postdoctoral fellow should reside in the D.C. metropolitan area and be an active participant in SIS’ vibrant intellectual community. Other fellowship expectations include contributing to the day-to-day activities at the Center for Environment, Community, & Equity (CECE), including coordinating environmental events, hosting guests, writing for the CECE Clearinghouse, and providing other administrative support (for up to 25% of the fellow's time).

Applicants should hold a PhD or the highest equivalent degree in any discipline connected to the social sciences by the start date, though ABD applications will be considered. Annual salary: $70,000 plus benefits. Review of applications will begin on November 4, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted electronically via the Workday application system (https://american.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/AU/job/Main-Campus-Washington-DC/CECE-Postdoctoral-Fellow\_R1982). Applications should include the following:

- Cover letter detailing the applicant's research background and expertise
- Curriculum vitae
- Sample publications
- Brief research statement including research agenda
- Statement describing past examples of your contributions to diversity and inclusion in your scholarship, the classroom and/or in other professional settings.
- The names and email addresses of three references (the Workday system will contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation) and whom the committee may contact.

Queries about the search may be sent to Professor Dana Fisher (drfisher@american.edu). Queries about the online application system may be sent to SIS faculty affairs manager Alissa Iwaniuk (aiwaniuk@american.edu).

American University is a private institution of higher education in the nation's capital (Please visit www.american.edu for more information). American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs with 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. SIS faculty produce transformational research and our prime location provides opportunities for collaboration with professionals in government, the private sector, and think tanks and other non-profits. Learn more about SIS at www.american.edu/sis.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities.

American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus. To ensure the health and safety of our community, American University requires that all faculty and staff are vaccinated for Covid-19. To learn more about American University's health and safety directives please click here. <https://www.american.edu/hr/how-we-work/vaccinations.cfm>

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on the successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/22/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15096

Binghamton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor

The Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention (I-GMAP) and Binghamton University announce a search for the position of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor of Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention. Academic rank at appointment will be commensurate with the successful applicant's qualifications.

The Institute seeks a creative, dynamic, and engaged scholar-practitioner with a documented record of success both in academic research and teaching and in engagement with non-academic partners in the global community of atrocity prevention practice, broadly conceived. The Institute is particularly interested in candidates who are prepared to work collaboratively in a trans-disciplinary setting.

I-GMAP is a small, dynamic, trans-disciplinary institute focusing specifically on the prevention of atrocity crimes and all forms of identity-based violence. With a deliberately broad conception of prevention, I-GMAP's educational and research programs encompass areas including risk assessment and early warning; "upstream" or structural interventions designed to identify both risk factors and sources of social resilience; "mid-stream" intervention in imminent or ongoing atrocities, and "downstream" or post-atrocity approaches for mitigating risks of recurrence of atrocity crimes, including transitional justice mechanisms, the formation of public memory and the role of memory sites.

I-GMAP's educational programs include a unique professional Master of Science program, a graduate certificate, and a university-wide undergraduate minor. I-GMAP collaborates with a global network of non-governmental organizations for policy research, convening, and advocacy initiatives.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15082

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, History, Philosophy or Sociology

Tenure Track Assistant Professor in History, Philosophy, Political Science, or Sociology

College of Liberal Arts, Purdue University West Lafayette, IN

Date Available: Fall 2025

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University invites applications for multiple tenure-track assistant professorships with scholarship in areas pertinent to the history, foundations, functioning, and regulation of business sector and market institutions.

Depending on their background and interest, the successful candidate may be appointed with a tenure home in the Department of History, Philosophy, Political Science, or Sociology, where they will contribute to the intellectual life of their department. Potential areas of specialization include political institutions or political economy (for candidates in Political Science); political philosophy or philosophy of social science (for candidates in Philosophy); socio-legal or political or economic/organizational sociology (for candidates in Sociology); economic history or business history (for candidates in History); among others. Regardless of their academic training and ultimate tenure-home, the successful candidate will have an active, interdisciplinary research agenda and an interest in developing and teaching undergraduate and graduate courses that connect with the interdisciplinary field of Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE).

Principal Duties:

These positions include half of the teaching and curriculum design in Purdue's innovative, nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program, which educates students across the university. These faculty will work to advance the Cornerstone for Business Certificate Program as well as teach in a two-course sequence in transformative texts which emphasizes works in political economy, political philosophy, political science, political, legal or economic sociology, and related foundational works. The Certificate will play a central role in transforming the Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr. School of Business in accordance with Daniels' vision that it "be marked by graduates who embody the values of wisdom and creativity, grounded in a firm grasp of today's technologies and their likely evolution and awareness of the history of progress that freedom of enterprise has created".

Qualifications:

Candidates must complete all requirements for a Ph.D. in History, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, or a closely related field by the time of appointment. The candidate should have a specialization in a field appropriate for PPE. Candidates should have a record of publishing high-quality interdisciplinary research on PPE-relevant topics and evidence of preparation for quality instruction.

The College and University:

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has embarked on a multi-year hiring strategy to address grand challenges in society and connect with innovative initiatives across campus. Positioned at the intersection of liberal arts and STEM, the college leverages Purdue's strengths to propel graduates towards new advances in our disciplines. It houses the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders. Since 2021, the college has hired more than 80 new faculty in emerging research areas such as science, technology, and society, artificial intelligence, social genomics/computational genetics, computational social science, and related fields.

Purdue University is Indiana's public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. A member of the Association of American Universities, the Big Ten Academic

Alliance and the American Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities (APLU), Purdue has outstanding academic programs in the colleges and schools of agriculture, education, engineering, health sciences, liberal arts, management, pharmacy, technology, science, and veterinary medicine. The University also has a rich culture of interdisciplinary research and translation, which is supported by university-wide institutes and centers. Purdue is home to nearly 2,900 full-time faculty and post-doctoral researchers, enrolls a diverse student body of over 10,500 graduate students and 35,000 undergraduate students. Purdue is in the West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

Application Procedure:

Applications must include the following items uploaded into the online application portal: job requisition #34211. Items should be uploaded in this order and as one PDF document: 1) cover letter, with a discussion of the research agenda and teaching philosophy, and its connection to the description of this position; 2) Curriculum vitae; 3) the names of three referees (no letters please). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide additional documents such as a writing sample, letters of reference, or other materials. Questions about the position should be directed to the co-chairs of the search committee: JP Messina, at jpm@purdue.edu and Brian Kogelmann at bkogelma@purdue.edu.

Review of the applications will begin on November 18, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15084

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Assistant Professor - Health and Society

Specializations: Health Care, Social Welfare, Regulatory Policy

The College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for an Assistant Professor (Tenure Track) specializing in Health and Society. The position is open to applicants in the arts, humanities, or social sciences. The eventual hire will have a home department in the College of Liberal Arts that is determined by their primary disciplinary area, in which they are expected to have an active program of scholarship or creative work.

We seek an innovative scholar whose research focuses on health and society. Example areas of specialization include, but are not limited to, biomedical ethics, cultural conceptions of illness and health, disability studies, global health and health justice, medical anthropology, and the social determinants of health.

We are especially seeking candidates who demonstrate strong potential for interdisciplinary collaboration, program development, and community engagement, and who can build on existing strengths across the College and University. Successful candidates may collaborate with established interdisciplinary programs within the college, such as ASL and Deaf Studies, Disability Studies, and Medical Humanities and Bioethics.

As a part of their responsibilities, the eventual hire will:

- Develop and teach courses on topics related to health and society;
- Maintain an active and interdisciplinary research program and build a strong record of academic output (e.g., peer-reviewed articles and presentations at national or international conferences); and
- Participate in service within the Department, College, University, and the broader academic community.

For more information and to apply, please see here: <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/30064>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15086

Boston University Global Development Policy Center

Rank: 2025-2026 Fellows Program

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

The Boston University Global Development Policy Center is seeking applications for the 2025-2026 Fellows Program in two of its research initiatives: the Global China Initiative and the Global Economic Governance Initiative. The GDP Center is a policy-oriented research center working to advance financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability across the globe through rigorous interdisciplinary research, policy engagement and strategic communications.

The Global China Initiative

The Global China Fellows Program provides a one-of-a-kind opportunity to engage and collaborate with GDP Center researchers, BU faculty members and Global South-based institutions to conduct policy-oriented research on China's overseas economic activity and engagement with international institutions to advance financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability. Global China Fellows are paired with a BU faculty member or GDP Center Senior Academic Researcher under one of the four GCI workstreams: Data Analysis for Transparency and Accountability (D.A.T.A.); Forestry, Agriculture, Indigenous Rights and the Belt and Road Initiative (FAIR-BRI); Energy and Climate; and China and the International Financial Architecture (CHIFA). Fellows contribute to GCI research projects while receiving guidance and support on their own independent research projects. Fellows are expected to produce one GCI working paper per appointment year.

Required Qualifications:

- Pre-doctoral applicants must have completed their qualification/comprehensive exams and defended their dissertation proposal; post-doctoral applicants must have successfully defended their dissertation by August 2025;
- Strong research interest and expertise in China's overseas economic activities and engagement with international institutions.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience in priority geographical regions of interest, in addition to China, such as Africa, Latin America and Southeast Asia;
- Fluency in Chinese or a language from one of the priority regions;
- Experience researching the relationship between China's overseas engagement and the following issues is most preferred:
  - o The role of China and Chinese development finance institutions in expanding energy access and renewable energy, decarbonization and addressing climate change;
  - o Biodiversity and Indigenous Lands, geolocation and mapping;
  - o International economic institutions, reform of the global sovereign debt architecture, debt sustainability, the Global Financial Safety Net and RMB internationalization.

- The GDP Center accepts applications from scholars of all disciplinary backgrounds, especially the natural and social sciences, engineering and business. Quantitative methodological and modeling expertise are strongly preferred.

The Global Economic Governance Initiative

The Global Economic Governance Initiative (GEGI) advances policy-oriented research to enable the international financial architecture to foster financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability across the globe. Within GEGI, research is conducted across three thematic programs: climate and development finance, financial stability and development, and trade and investment rules. GEGI also focuses on emerging and cross-cutting challenges such as just transitions, financial stability and climate change. The Initiative hosts flagship programs, such as the Working Group on Trade Treaties and Access to Medicines and the Task Force on Climate, Development and the International Monetary Fund.

The Global Economic Governance Fellows Program offers the opportunity to conduct independent research in line with GEGI's research areas and participate in GEGI's research projects, policy engagement and Center-wide activities. Fellows will be expected to support research activities in one or more of the thematic programs, with specific focus on:

- The role of development banks (multilateral, regional or national) in enhancing climate and development action, particularly in mobilizing resources and facilitating a just transition away from fossil fuels;
- The intersection of the international trade regime with climate change (including green industrialization strategies) and access to medicines; and
- Financial stability and development, with a focus on reform of the global debt architecture to be fit-for-purpose, the Global Financial Safety Net and the International Monetary Fund.

Fellows contribute to GEGI research projects while receiving guidance and support on their own independent research projects. Fellows are expected to produce one GEGI working paper per appointment year.

Applicant Qualifications:

- Enrolled in or graduated from a PhD program. Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled in doctoral programs. The GDP Center will accept applications from all disciplines, especially the natural and social sciences, engineering and business.
- Strong research interest in one or more of the GEGI areas of focus: development finance institutions, trade and investment rules, and financial stability.
- Quantitative and/or qualitative methodological expertise as appropriate, specifically with Excel and Tableau.

To Apply

The majority of the fellowships will be awarded for the 2025-2026 academic year. Fellows will receive a competitive and modest stipend funding for data collection and/or fieldwork and potentially be eligible for reimbursement for relocation expenses. This fellowship program is in-person at the GDP Center.

Interested applicants should prepare following materials in one PDF:

- A cover letter that demonstrates interest and experience in research relevant to their chosen initiative.
- A current curriculum vitae.
- A 1-2 page individual working paper proposal that outlines the research question(s), methodology, research plan and its significance.

- A writing sample that reflects the candidate's research interests (no more than 30 pages)
- Contact information for two references.

For applicants interested in the Global China Initiative, please send these materials to gci@bu.edu with the subject line "&lt;&lt;LastName_FirstName&gt;&gt; GCI Fellow Application 2025-2026?"

For applicants interested in the Global Economic Governance Initiative, please send these materials to gegi@bu.edu with the subject line "&lt;&lt;LastName_FirstName&gt;&gt; GEGI Fellow Application 2025-2026?"

The majority of the fellowships will be awarded for the 2025-2026 academic year. Fellows will receive a competitive and modest stipend funding for data collection and/or fieldwork and potentially be eligible for reimbursement for relocation expenses. This fellowship program is in-person at the GDP Center.

Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until December 20, 2024. Applicants are encouraged to apply early. Due to the volume of applicants, only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

For International candidates: International candidates will need express approval from their sponsoring institution stating that the potential fellow is allowed to earn income from another institution. This is especially important for international students with J-1 visas. Note: If you do not currently have a valid US scholar visa, certain research positions at Boston University qualify for immigration sponsorship. Prospective scholars should first establish their potential affiliation with the GDP Center as a pre- or post-doctoral fellow and clarify the terms of their appointment. BU's International Students and Scholars Office (ISSO) will work with the prospective scholar and the GDP Center to evaluate which immigration classification is most appropriate. The ISSO will consider various factors such as the appointment/affiliation terms, the scholar's educational achievements and US immigration history.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15076

The Ohio State University

Rank: Mershon Chair in Peace Studies

Department:

Arts and Sciences | Geography

Position Overview

The Mershon Center for International Security Studies, in collaboration with the Department of Geography at The Ohio State University, is inviting applications for a tenure-track position in peace and conflict studies. The selected candidate will hold the prestigious Mershon Chair in Peace Studies. This is a joint appointment, with a 50% commitment to the Mershon Center and a 50% appointment in the Department of Geography, which will serve as the tenure home.

We invite applications from scholars at all ranks for this position. We are seeking a dynamic, innovative, and transformative scholar who can make significant contributions to advancing the field of peace and conflict studies at Ohio State. The ideal candidate will strengthen our units' research and teaching leadership in this critical area.

We seek a colleague with field experience in conflict-affected settings who considers transformational peacemaking and/or peacebuilding processes in interaction with development, governance, social justice struggles, environmental and demographic change, ideological and cultural change, state-local relationships, regional dynamics and international actors, or other issues. For this Geography-based position, we also seek a scholar with expertise in the spatial dimensions of political processes and power relations in post-conflict societies.

We are particularly interested in scholars whose research explores how conflict and its aftermath reshape territories, identities, and governance structures at the scale of everyday lived experience. Key areas of focus could include landscape securitization, memory and place, geographies of displacement and return, border control and security, political and economic reconstruction, community-level social justice struggles, peacebuilding and reconciliation efforts, disarmament and demobilization, infrastructure challenges, police and military reform, gender/race/class and post-conflict recovery, and the geographies of development and aid, among other topics. We will prioritize scholars whose research directly engages with affected communities to better understand their experiences and perspectives.

Performance Objectives

The Peace Chair will design and teach courses in peace studies at the general education, specialized, and graduate levels. A key focus for the successful candidate will be developing undergraduate courses that contribute to the International Studies program at Ohio State (<https://internationalstudies.osu.edu>). These courses should encourage students to critically examine the dynamics of peace and conflict both globally and locally, equipping them with tools to understand and engage with their roles as citizens and community members. Support and funding will be available for the creation of study-abroad and community engagement initiatives, depending on the Chair's area of focus, to enhance experiential learning. The Mershon Center's Associate Director for Peacebuilding Research will collaborate in teaching and curriculum development.

With a 50% teaching load, the Peace Chair will have substantial time and resources for individual and collaborative research. Public-facing activities can also be funded by the Chair and supported by the Mershon Center staff.

Education and Experience Requirements

Required: A PhD in geography or cognate field. The successful candidate will demonstrate a sustained commitment to research and teaching using geographical approaches or perspectives, for example by prioritizing space, place, mobility, landscape, territoriality, or scale. The successful candidate will have field experience as a researcher or researcher-practitioner in conflict-affected regions and will produce scholarship that is engaged with real-world problems and constituencies.

Desired: The successful candidate should demonstrate a capacity to work collaboratively with communities, organizations, or stakeholders in their field. The candidate should also demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse intellectual community, in line with OSU's Shared Values (see below).

Additional Information:

How to Apply

Visit: <https://osujoblinks.com/es8f>

A competitive application consists of the following required elements: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, separate research and teaching statements, and the names of three people who are willing to provide letters of recommendation.

Applications received by November 30, 2024 will receive full consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Dorothy Noyes, director of the Mershon Center (noyes.10@osu.edu).

You will be presented with the opportunity to attach up to FOUR documents in the Application Documents section. Please include the following:

- Attachment 1: Cover Letter: 1-2 page letter, which should include a brief summary of your academic background and why you are interested in this opportunity.
- Attachment 2: CV (Curriculum Vitae): Detailed overview of your scholarly experience, including your research experience, teaching and mentoring experience, service, funding, and publications.
- Attachment 3: Research Statement: Summary of your past research accomplishments, current work/research, and proposal for your future research plan as a faculty member, with an emphasis on engaged research contributions, plans, and potential.
- Attachment 4: Teaching Statement: A statement of your approaches, experience and philosophy regarding your teaching, learning, and mentoring, with an emphasis on teaching in a multidisciplinary context.

Please be aware, you will not be able to edit your application or attachments after you apply. You will need to fill out the application in its entirety and upload all required documents before clicking Submit.

You may be asked to provide the names and contact information for three references following the submission of application materials.

The College

With more than 80 majors and 100 minors, the College of Arts and Sciences is the academic heart of the university. The Arts and Sciences provides extraordinary opportunities to collaborate across disciplines, blending creativity and analysis to truly be at the forefront of thought. The breadth and depth of knowledge in the college gives students and researchers the critical thinking and adaptability essential for a lifetime of success.

Department Information

The Mershon Center for International Security Studies (<https://mershoncenter.osu.edu>) is housed in the College of Arts and Sciences. The Mershon Center focuses on the human and social dimensions of complex security challenges. Mershon convenes faculty and students from all fields involved analytically and/or practically with diplomacy, conflict, transitional justice and peacebuilding, governance, cooperative problem-solving, and related concerns. The Center houses three endowed chairs and two designated professorships as well as an extensive grant program for faculty and students across the university. It supports an Associate Director for Peacebuilding Research, who collaborates with a wide range of international partners and has developed a strong peacebuilding focus within the Center's programming, research, and training activities.

The Department of Geography (<https://geography.osu.edu>), also housed in Arts and Sciences, is celebrating its 100th anniversary and is among the largest geography departments in the country. Our 28 full-time faculty and eight staff members manage a graduate program with some 50 students and an undergraduate program with 500 majors. We are known nationally and internationally as a leader in social and environmental geography, GIS, spatial analysis, and atmospheric sciences and meteorology. Our faculty include members of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and the National Academies of Science.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15078

MU (Columbia) Campus

Rank: Kinder Institute of Constitutional Democracy Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy at the University of Missouri invites applications for a postdoctoral fellow in political science for researchers whose work examines the political development and political thought of the early United States. Candidates' research areas might include American political development and thought, and its connections to contemporary U.S. politics, political institutions and processes, constitutional law & theory and related areas. We also welcome applications from scholars whose research examines political development and thought within a transatlantic context.

The Fellowship is a full-time position that comes with a competitive salary, university benefits, an office at the Kinder Institute, and dedicated funds for conference travel, research, and other professional expenses. Funds are also available to help offset moving costs. The fellowship is renewable for up to three years.

The Postdoctoral Fellow will have an annual teaching load of 2-1 or 1-2. These courses will include small, discussion-based seminars associated with the common curriculum for the Kinder Institute's B.A. in Constitutional Democracy, a team-taught online section of American Government, and potentially an upper division class on American political development.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a Ph.D. or an anticipated Ph.D. in Political Science or Government, completed by August 2025.

Application Requirements:

To apply, please submit the following materials:

1. A letter of interest;
2. a research proposal;
3. a curriculum vitae;
4. a statement of teaching
5. and the names of two scholarly references.

Applications and inquiries should be sent electronically to Kinder Institute Program Coordinator Amber Strong Helwig at stronga@missouri.edu using "Kinder Postdoctoral Fellowship" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin on Friday, January 24th, 2025.

About the Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy:

The Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy at the University of Missouri is an interdisciplinary, signature academic center on the Columbia campus, jointly operated by faculty from the Political Science and History Departments, in cooperation with other scholars across campus. It is dedicated to excellence in research, teaching, and community engagement on the subjects of American political thought and development, history, and institutions, with a particular emphasis on the ideas and events of the American Founding and their continued global impact and relevance today. Learn more about the Kinder Institute at <https://democracy.missouri.edu>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/23/2025

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15066

Stanford University Shorenstein Asia Pacific Research Center

Rank: Asia Health Policy Program Postdoctoral Fellowship 2025 - 2026

The Asia Health Policy Program at the Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (Shorenstein APARC) promotes a comparative understanding of health and health policy in the Asia-Pacific region. From its inception, the program has been committed to fostering the next generation of Asia health policy researchers. Each year the program offers a postdoctoral fellowship position to a recent doctoral graduate.

The postdoctoral fellow participates in the program while undertaking original research on contemporary health or healthcare policy of high relevance to low- and middle-income countries in the Asia-Pacific region. We welcome fellowship applications from candidates studying evidence-based health policy using a variety of disciplinary perspectives, such as public policy, public health, economics, demography, sociology, political science, anthropology, law, medicine, health services research, and related fields.

Appointments begin in the fall quarter of the academic year. The fellowships are limited to recent PhDs: applicants cannot be more than three years past the awarding of their doctoral degree (or no more than six years past the awarding of their M.D.) when the fellowship starts. They must have degree conferral and approval no later than June 30 prior to the fellowship start date (that is, no later than June 30, 2025 for 2025-26 fellowships starting in fall 2025).

The 2025-26 AHPP postdoctoral fellow is required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment, present their research findings in Center seminars, and participate in the Center's publication program. The postdoctoral fellowship is at minimum a 10-month appointment with a salary rate of $65,000, commensurate with Stanford policy, plus $3,000 for research expenses.

All application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. Pacific Time on Sunday, December 1, 2024.

Note: Please be advised that Stanford University will close for winter break from December 23, 2024, through January 3, 2025. Response time to inquiries during this period may be delayed.

For additional information and to apply, visit: <https://aparc.fsi.stanford.edu/education/fellowship-and-training-opportunities/asia-health-policy-postdoctoral-fellowship>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15070

Bocconi University

Rank: Assistant Professor in the Department of Social and Political Sciences

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at Bocconi University is inviting applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in environmental politics and policy. The subfield is open, but the Department is most interested in candidates who are actively conducting research on the global consequences of climate change for political, social and economic outcomes, such as health, inequality, conflict, migration, and citizen attitudes towards environmental regulation. The appointment begins on September 1, 2025.

To complement the existing strengths and profile of the department, candidates engaged in research employing rigorous quantitative analysis are highly preferred. Candidates should show evidence of a promising research agenda, and should be doing work that engages with multiple fields of study in the department—political science, applied economics, public administration and health, sociology and demography, and economic history. Candidates should also be able to teach courses in environmental politics and policy at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Bocconi University is a leading European research and teaching institution in economics, social sciences, management and related disciplines. In the 2023 QS World University Ranking of Social Sciences and Management programs, Bocconi ranked 4th in Europe and 14th worldwide. The Department of Social and Political Sciences provides an ideal interdisciplinary research environment. It comprises approximately 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members who share an interest in policy-relevant research, addressing questions on numerous world challenges, such as inequality, government responsiveness and accountability, corruption and organized crime, environmental sustainability, global health, and international cooperation. Bocconi is located in Italy's most vibrant center, Milan, a historic, cosmopolitan and international city in a metropolitan area of 3 million that is well connected to the rest of Europe and the world. Knowledge of Italian is not required. Terms of employment are competitive.

Applications should be received by November 30, 2024. Applicants must submit (1) a current curriculum vitae, (2) a job market paper (and up to four other published papers), (3) a cover letter, and (4) teaching and research statements via the on-line form using PDF attachments at www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket. Additionally, at least three academic letters of reference must also be submitted by referees via www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket. Applicants must successfully defend their PhD thesis by no later than August 30, 2025 to receive the job appointment.

Bocconi University is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. Applications are particularly welcome from women and members of groups who are underrepresented in academic posts.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15056

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty - Digital Systems and International Affairs

Specializations: Science & Technology, Political Development, International Security

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs (<https://inta.gatech.edu/>) at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta, Georgia invites applications for multiple open rank, tenure-track faculty positions in the areas of Digital Systems and International Affairs. These appointments are part of a strategic cluster hire initiative coordinated with the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy. The expected start date is Fall 2025. Scholars with a research specialization at the intersection of international affairs and digital systems are encouraged to apply.

Potential research topics of interest include but are not limited to the security, governance, economic, privacy, resilience, justice and equity, development, or geographical aspects of information technology, communication infrastructure, digital devices, data systems, artificial intelligence, quantum computing, synthetic biology, or augmented reality. We invite applicants with disciplinary backgrounds in political science, international relations, sociology, STS, history, public policy, and interdisciplinary researchers with backgrounds at the intersections of computing and social sciences.

Applicants to this cluster hire can be considered for joint appointments including with the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy within the College of Computing. Specifics of any joint appointment will be based upon the needs of the schools and the intellectual fit of the applicant.

The job advertisement is posted in CAREERS and please see the link below:

https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=03000&JobOpeningId=278163&PostingSeq=1

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15063

University of Chicago

Rank: Director of Practice, Instructional Professor in Human Rights (open rank)

The Social Sciences Collegiate Division at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for an Instructional Professor who will also have responsibility for the Human Rights Practice component of the undergraduate curriculum in the Pozen Family Center for Human Rights. This is a full-time, renewable appointment, with an initial term of at least three years, beginning September 1, 2025. Appointment at the rank Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor will be considered based on the candidate's experience. The position is year-round: teaching will be scheduled during the autumn, winter, and spring quarters of the academic year, but all other responsibilities will continue throughout the calendar year.

The Instructional Professor will support the Center's Human Rights major, which explores the theory and practice of human rights through sustained interdisciplinary inquiry, experiential learning, and capstone research or practice-based projects. Students in the major examine fundamental conceptual issues around human rights through coursework in a variety of disciplines, from the arts and humanities to the law and the social and biological sciences, while formulating their critical perspectives by engaging in practice-based work.

The Instructional Professor will teach an annual load of four courses during the regular academic year, comprising a human rights fieldwork course, a two-quarter human rights capstone project seminar (weighted as one course), a large lecture course on contemporary human rights issues, and an upper-level seminar for Human Rights majors. The Instructional Professor will help grow the Center's global programming on human rights through experiential learning components as well as strategically aligning applied programmatic work with course work and creating research collaborations that span academic disciplines. The Instructional Professor will advise students through the field placement process during summer term, plan events and programs to prepare students for their field placement, oversee research opportunities for majors who undertake independent research to meet their required fieldwork experience, and coordinate the Center's summer human rights internship program for undergraduate students. The Instructional Professor will supervise 4th year BA thesis and capstone projects. The Instructional Professor will also cultivate relationships with external organizations, such as NGOs and community-based organizations, inter-governmental agencies, and think tanks, to build and deliver appropriate learning opportunities for both human rights majors and other university students. Additionally, the Instructional Professor will plan programs and events to serve the broader University and provide forums to link the University with the community.

Qualifications

The position requires a Ph.D. in a related field with a background in human rights, or a JD (or its equivalent) with a specialization in international law or human rights. Also required are teaching experience and a record of scholarship and experience with experiential learning programs. The candidate must have a working knowledge of the UN human rights system (both Charter and Treaty). This can be demonstrated by work to advance human rights through advocacy toward UN treaty mechanisms or other UN bodies, work with non-governmental organizations, government, the United Nations, or other inter-governmental and international organizations as well as related research and teaching experience.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio jobs board at apply.interfolio.com/157013 and upload the following:

A curriculum vitae

A letter of interest

A teaching statement

Syllabi of courses previously taught and/or designed by the candidate, including a proposed syllabus for "Human Rights Fieldwork and Practice"

One writing sample (not more than 30 pages in length)

Additional evidence of pedagogical accomplishment and promise: such as a teaching portfolio, recent course evaluations, third-party observations of teaching if available, or other relevant assessments

Three (3) letters of recommendation.

The review of applications will begin on December 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

The terms and conditions of employment for this position are covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and the University.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 15060

University of Florida

Rank: Director

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Florida invites applications for the full-time, nine-month position of Director of the Samuel Proctor Oral History Program, with appointment to begin August 16, 2025. The appointment requires a Ph.D. in one's discipline and will be made at the rank of a tenured or tenure-earning assistant, associate, or full professor. All geographic fields and disciplines that fall within the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences will be considered.

The Samuel Proctor Oral History Program (SPOHP) is an award-winning, nationally respected institution that has long been a cornerstone unit on the University of Florida campus, providing its services across disciplines and to the general public. The director will supervise a professional staff of five, along with several undergraduate and graduate assistants, and oversee a collection that constitutes more than 150,000 transcribed pages produced from more than 8,000 interviews found in the SPOHP archives and University of Florida Digital Collections.

The successful candidate therefore should have considerable experience in acquiring, conducting, and archiving oral histories and come with a strategic vision for the future of SPOHP in the digital age. Equally essential is the ability to manage personnel, budgets, and applying for and winning grants. The new director must also be willing to work with other units on campus, such as various area-studies programs, UF libraries, the Center for the Humanities and the Public Sphere, and the Gulf Scholars Program (a National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine-supported certificate program for undergraduates).

The new director will have a tenure home in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and, in addition to SPOHP responsibilities, must be able to contribute to their department's intellectual growth and emphasis on interdisciplinary and collaborative research. The successful candidate will be expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching a diverse body of undergraduate and graduate students in Gainesville, Florida, and maintain a robust research and publishing agenda appropriate to a Research 1 institution. Teaching responsibilities include upper-division undergraduate and graduate courses in the applicant's field. Equally important is the ability to contribute effectively to the graduate program of one's department: mentoring graduate students, offering graduate seminars, and chairing and serving on graduate committees (including serving on committees in other departments). The position also includes service responsibilities appropriate to rank.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked 7th in the country among public universities (US News and World Report 2023 rankings), and 1st among public institutions in the Wall Street Journal 2023 survey. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville). The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF's large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program. Learn more about what Gainesville has to offer at Visit Gainesville.

The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, and the compensation includes a full benefits package.

Employment Benefits include:

Health Insurance: UF participates in state- and university-sponsored benefits programs for individuals, families, and domestic partners, and offers voluntary insurance that includes vision, dental, long-term disability and more.

Retirement Options: Attractive options include Florida Retirement System Pension Plan, State University System Optional Retirement Program, Florida Retirement System Investment Plan, and Voluntary Retirement Savings Plan.

Leave: UF staff enjoy a generous paid leave plan as well as access to a sick-leave pool, parental leave, and leave payouts.

For full consideration, applications must be submitted online. Click on Apply Now at the top of this posting.

A complete application includes (1) a letter of application summarizing the applicant's qualifications, interests, and suitability for the position, while also articulating one's vision for an oral history program (2) a complete curriculum vitae, (3) a statement on teaching and research goals, and (4) names of three references (the search committee will request confidential letters of recommendation only from candidates selected for its preliminary "long" list).

Applications will be reviewed beginning November 15, 2024, and the position will remain open until filled. Only complete applications will be reviewed at this time. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

The selected candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at <http://www.naces.org/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15052

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Description Summary

Assistant Professor (tenure track) to teach undergraduate courses in Criminal Justice, advise students, provide service to the institution, the community and/or the profession and maintain an active research agenda. The appointment will begin on August 18, 2025.

Job Description

Assistant Professor (tenure track) to teach undergraduate courses in Criminal Justice, advise students, provide service to the institution, the community and/or the profession and maintain an active research agenda. The appointment will begin on August 18, 2025. Miami offers a competitive salary and benefits package that includes, among other things, medical and dental insurance, a tuition waiver for dependents and a retirement plan.

Founded in 1809, Miami University is the 10th oldest public university in the United States. A comprehensive liberal arts university, Miami offers over 100 undergraduate and over 50 graduate degrees and is consistently ranked highly for its commitment to undergraduate teaching by U.S. News and World Report.

The successful candidate will join the Department of Justice and Community Studies (JCS), which is located at the Miami's regional campuses in Hamilton and Middletown. JCS currently serves over 120 majors with five full-time continuing faculty and several part-time, visiting and affiliate faculty. JCS is committed to Miami Regionals' community service mission, to the teacher-scholar model, and to academic freedom and the truth-seeking mission of the University. The typical class size is 20 – 30 students, and JCS courses are taught both on-line and in face-to-face formats.

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in criminal justice or closely related discipline by date of appointment or a J.D. and master's degree in closely related discipline by date of appointment.

Consideration may be given to candidates who possess significant teaching experience in both face-to-face and online formats and/or those with research and teaching interests that complement existing departmental strengths.

Additional Position Information (if applicable)

Required Application Documents

Learn More – Apply Today: https://miamioh.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/miamioh-faculty/job/Assistant-Professor\_JR101177

Cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research plans, statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available)

Special Instructions (if applicable)

Inquiries may be directed to Dr. Daniel Hall, Search Committee Chair, at hallde@miamioh.edu. Review of applications will begin two weeks after position posting and will continue until the position is filled.

Additional Information

A criminal background check is required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco-free campuses.

This organization participates in E-Verify.

Remote Work

For positions that are approved for remote work: Remote work is not a right, it is a work arrangement that can be modified or revoked by Miami University at any time for any reason, including the convenience of the University.

Reasonable Accommodations

Requests for reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560. Questions and follow-ups regarding requests should also be directed here.

Diversity Statement

Miami University is committed to creating an inclusive and effective teaching, learning, research, and working environment for all. For more information on Miami University's diversity initiatives, please visit the Office of Transformational and Inclusive Excellence webpage. For more information on Miami University's mission and core values, please visit the Mission and Core Values webpage.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Statement

Miami University, an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, encourages applications from minorities, women, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. Miami University prohibits harassment, discrimination and retaliation on the basis of age (40 years or older), color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, military status, national origin (ancestry), pregnancy, race, religion, sex/gender, status as a parent or foster parent, sexual orientation, or protected veteran status in its application and admission processes, educational programs and activities, facilities, programs or employment practices. Requests for reasonable accommodations for disabilities related to employment should be directed to ADAFacultyStaff@miamioh.edu or 513-529-3560.

Clery Act

As part of the University's commitment to maintaining a healthy and safe living, learning, and working environment, we encourage you to read Miami University's Annual Security & Fire Safety Report at: <http://www.MiamiOH.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>, which contains information about campus safety, crime statistics, and our drug and alcohol abuse and prevention program designed to prevent the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol on campus and at university events and activities. This report also contains information on programs and policies designed to prevent and address sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is also provided to prospective students and employees. Hard copies of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report may be obtained from the Miami University Police Department at 513-529-2223.

Labor Law Posters for Applicants

Please visit our Labor Law Posters webpage to access all relevant and applicable labor law information.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15048

Temple University

Rank: Assistant Professor -- Instructional

The College of Liberal Arts at Temple University is excited to announce the creation of a new undergraduate major in Cybersecurity and Human Behavior, designed to explore the intersection of technology, policy, politics, ethics, and human psychology in cybersecurity contexts. We are seeking a dynamic and innovative Assistant Professor – Instructional, who will play a key role in shaping the future of this interdisciplinary program. The program emphasizes the human aspects of cybersecurity, while providing students with foundational technical skills. The initial contract is for one year beginning fall 2025, with the potential for contract renewal. Note that instructional faculty are eligible for promotion

Teaching and other responsibilities:

- Expected to teach the required Introduction to Cybersecurity and Human Behavior.
- Preference will be given to those applicants who can also teach cybersecurity topics in the social science and/or humanities.
- Focus on real-world applications rather than in-depth technical skills.
- Expected to foster an inclusive and supportive learning environment for students from diverse backgrounds.

- Manage schedule of courses, student advising and faculty coordination.
- Participate in outreach efforts, including marketing the program and attracting prospective students.

Qualifications:

- Graduate degree in Cybersecurity, Social Sciences, Humanities, Information Systems or related fields or equivalent professional experience in the private, public, or nonprofit sector.
- Teaching experience at the undergraduate level preferred.
- Ability to build strong relationships with students, faculty, and external stakeholders.
- Familiarity with emerging trends in cybersecurity education and training.

Required documents: cover letter, CV, and names and contact information of three references should be send via email attachment to: cyberpos@temple.edu We will review of applications and plan for the first round of interviews on a rolling basis.

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (highest research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home to 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays a tremendous role in Temple University's academic success and its mission mirrors both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded. Temple University is an AA/ EOE employer and is committed to diversity within its community. In pursuit of that, we encourage diversity among applicants for this position.

For questions, please contact Sandra Suarez (suarez@temple.edu) or Hiram Aldarondo (hiram.aldarondo@temple.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15040

University of Chicago

Rank: Open-Rank Faculty Position, Department of Political Science

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in climate politics. This position is part of a departmental initiative in the politics of climate and the Climate and Energy Institute at the University of Chicago. We welcome applications from all subfields of political science addressing the political challenges of climate mitigation and adaptation at the local, national, or global level. This position will begin on or after July 1, 2025.

Qualifications

Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago's Interfolio website at <https://apply.interfolio.com/157101>. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant's prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) research statement; and 4) teaching statement. Short-listed candidates will be asked to submit supplemental documents. Consideration of applications will begin on November 15, 2024.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15039

College of William & Mary

Rank: Social Sci Assistant/Associate/Professor & Dir. of Aid-Data TUFF

The Global Research Institute (GRI) and Arts & Sciences (A&S) at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, seeks applications for a tenure track position at the Advanced Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Full Professor level in the social sciences. Appointment will begin August 10, 2025. We are interested in individuals with research and teaching expertise in global development and cross-border financial flows from sociology, political science, economics, or public policy, and strong applicants from related fields are encouraged to apply. Prospective tenure units for the successful applicant are Sociology (preferred), Economics, or Government.

The duties of the 9-month instructional faculty position (which include up to 3 months of additional grant-supported summer salary) include research, teaching, and service to the University. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a vibrant, externally funded research program that inspires a highly motivated body of undergraduate and graduate students. Additionally, as a member of the senior leadership team of the GRI's AidData research lab, the applicant is expected to conduct pioneering research on the nature, distribution, and effects of aid, credit, and investment from non-Western sources; prepare and submit grant proposals that advance the research objectives of the Tracking Underreported Financial Flows Unit; broker and manage partnerships with external sponsors; generate innovative academic and policy research that generates elite media coverage and interest among public sector decision-makers; formulate and implement strategies to maximize the internal cohesion, productivity, and policy impact of an externally-funded programmatic unit with approximately 12 full-time employees; and directly supervise and mentor several unit employees.

The successful applicant will also have a track record of publishing research in leading, peer-reviewed disciplinary and inter-disciplinary journals; demonstrated experience working with large, complex datasets using Stata, R, Python, and/or Matlab; a track record of submitting deliverables and progress reports to external research sponsors in a timely and acceptable manner; substantial experience leading interdisciplinary teams and technically-demanding research projects; and substantial experience effectively communicating research methods and findings to those who make and shape international policies and programs.

Teaching expectation is 1 course per semester. Successful applicants must possess the skills to teach compelling courses – including lecture and seminar-style courses – in one or more of the following subject areas: economic sociology, sociology of development, international economics, development economics, comparative politics, international relations, public policy, or research methods.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in sociology, economics, political science, public policy, or a related discipline at the time appointment begins (August 10, 2025). Applicants must also have at least five years of experience designing and implementing externally-sponsored international research projects as a Principal Investigator; and a track record of obtaining large-scale research funding from a diverse set of government agencies, international organizations, and/or philanthropic sources.

Preferred Qualifications: A Ph.D. in sociology is preferred. Previous experience in teaching and mentoring successful undergraduate or graduate research is preferred. Other preferred qualifications include research and teaching expertise in global development and cross-border financial flows; substantial experience working with development finance data; substantial knowledge of China's overseas grant-giving, lending, and investment practices; a track record of preparing statistical code for independent reproduction of results; expertise in experimental and quasi-experimental methods of causal inference, social network analysis, and/or spatial analysis; and a demonstrated ability to develop and deliver training courses for public sector decision-makers, business leaders, journalists, and/or nonprofit leaders.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu/postings/62335>. Submit a curriculum vitae (with URLs to the statistical replication packages that accompany the applicant's publications), a cover letter, a statement of teaching interests, a statement of research interests, and a statement of interest in serving on AidData's senior leadership team and directing its Tracking Underreported Financial Flows Unit. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, November 15, 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15035

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

POSTDOCTORAL ASSOCIATE, The Center for International Studies (CIS), to conduct cutting-edge research on the intersection of AI and social sciences in the international context; develop and apply novel AI or AI enhanced models and/or tools to address frontier global challenges (e.g., climate mitigation / adaptation, inequality reduction, building just societies, conflict resolution); and, to collaborate with faculty and graduate students on joint projects. This is an excellent opportunity for someone interested in developing new projects in an interdisciplinary setting.

Job Requirements

REQUIRED: PhD and relevant background in Computer Science, Political Science, Economics, or a related discipline with a focus on international studies; robust quantitative skills and AI-relevant expertise; a track-record of innovation; excellent written and oral communication skills; and, ability to work independently and as part of a collaborative research team. Job #24445

To apply, submit your application through MIT's hiring site here: https://careers.peopleclick.com/careerscp/client\_mit/external/jobDetails/jobDetail.html?jobPostId=31069&localeCode=en-ushttps://careers.peopleclick.com/careerscp/client\_mit/external/jobDetails/jobDetail.html?jobPostId=31069&localeCode=en-us&lt;/a&gt;.

Please submit a cover letter outlining your research interests and how they relate to this position, a CV including a list of publications, and contact information for three references.

The review of applications will begin on November 1, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. The assignment is scheduled to start on August 1, 2025, and last one year, with the potential for a one-year extension.

Contact Information: Evan Lieberman, Total Professor of Political Science and Director, CIS and Mihaela Papa, Director of Research and Principal Research Scientist, CIS, <mailto:mpapa@mit.edu>mpapa@mit.edu&lt;/a&gt;

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15029

The University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Geospatial Information Sciences with a Specialization in Crime/Violence Analysis and Mapping

Position Description

The Geospatial Information Sciences (GIS) Program at the University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in GIS, specializing in Crime/Violence Analysis and Mapping. We are looking for a dynamic and innovative scholar to advance GIS and its applications in criminology, criminal justice, and policing through collaborative research, teaching, and service.

The successful candidate will conduct high-impact research integrating GIS with crime, policing and violence studies, addressing critical social, economic, and security challenges. Research areas may involve but are not limited to analysis of crime patterns, series, and trends; big data and GeoAI assisted crime modeling and prediction; optimization for efficient policing resource deployment; identification, prevention, and intervention in potential violence; proactive and targeted investigation of terrorists; hotspot geographical profiling, spatial link analysis, evaluation of policing effectiveness, and other spatiotemporal analytics approaches. Teaching responsibilities will include developing and delivering courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels in GIS, GIS applications in criminology, geospatial intelligence, spatial statistics and analysis, and related subjects. The candidate should also foster interdisciplinary collaborations with faculty in the Criminology and Criminal Justice Program and engage with the law enforcement community in research and teaching.

The appointment commences for the fall 2025 semester.

Qualifications

Minimum Education and Experience. A PhD or equivalent in GIS-science, geography, criminology, criminal justice, or a closely related field is required prior to employment; those with ABD status will be considered at the application/interviewing stage. Candidates are expected to demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a highly collaborative, engaging, and dynamic environment comprised of individuals with a range of backgrounds, skills, and perspectives. We are seeking candidates able to produce research and scholarly or creative achievements that enhance the program and the discipline, and able to deliver high quality teaching using evidence-based practices to effectively engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.

Preferred Education and Experience: Experience with advanced GIS technologies, such as spatial data science, machine learning, and AI, is preferred and a demonstrated ability to secure external research funding.

The School and the Program

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at UT Dallas is a national leader in research addressing critical social, political, and economic issues. Our graduates work in government, nonprofits, and the private sector, with many pursuing advanced degrees that prepare them for leadership roles in advancing positive change on the local, national, and global level. The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences, which houses the Geospatial Information Sciences Program, has a long tradition of fostering interdisciplinary research.

The Geospatial Information Sciences program at the University of Texas at Dallas is a nationally recognized program offering bachelor's, master's, and Ph.D. degrees, as well as several Graduate Certificates. With world-renowned faculty specialized in spatial statistics, spatiotemporal analysis, remote sensing, and geocomputation, it is designated as one institution of the Esri Innovation Program and one of 20 USGIF Accredited Academic Programs of the US Geospatial Intelligence Foundation.

For more information, please consult the School's web site at: <http://epps.utdallas.edu>, and the Program's website at <https://epps.utdallas.edu/about/programs/geospatial-information-sciences/>.

Application Instructions

Applicants should upload the following via the online application:

- Full curriculum vitae and cover letter summarizing their interests and qualifications for the position.
- Statement of teaching philosophy describing their conceptualizations of teaching and learning, and teaching and assessment methods, and how their teaching practices will engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.
- Full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Reviews will commence as completed applications are received and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed on November 15, 2024. Priority will be given to completed applications received by October 15, 2024.

The University and Community

UT Dallas is a top public research university located in one of the nation's fastest-growing metropolitan regions. Our seven schools offer more than 140 undergraduate and graduate programs, plus professional certificates and fast-track programs. Our student body is 31,000 strong, reflecting students from over 100 countries and a multiplicity of identities and experiences. Over 65% of our undergraduate students receive some form of need- or merit-based financial aid; and 66% of graduating seniors have no student debt compared to 48% in Texas and 32% in the nation (2021 TICAS report).

UT Dallas is committed to graduating well-rounded members of the global community whose education has prepared them for rewarding lives and productive careers in a constantly changing world. A diversity of people, ideas, and perspectives is crucial to our vision and mission. UT

Dallas is a place where members of the community from all backgrounds are welcomed, treated fairly, and encouraged in their pursuit of excellence.

The University has a variety of programs and initiatives to support engagement and success for all members of the campus community. Employee benefits include a range of physical and mental wellness resources. "LilyPad" lactation facilities are located throughout the campus. There are several Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) comprised of individuals who share common interests to help build community among UT Dallas faculty and staff (e.g., Universal Access ERG, Military and Veteran ERG, UT Dallas Young Professionals).

Rich with visual and performing arts venues, museum districts, professional and semi-professional athletics teams, botanical gardens, accessible trails and so much more, the Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) metroplex has something for everyone to explore. UT Dallas partners with regional higher education institutions and school districts and with the Richardson Innovation Quarter (Richardson IQ), a major hub for innovation, entrepreneurship, and educational activities.

Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an equal opportunity/affirmative action university.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15027

Columbia University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scholar: The Columbia Center for Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Public Policy

About Columbia World Projects

Columbia World Projects mobilizes the university's researchers and scholars to work with governments, organizations, businesses and communities to tackle global challenges. Columbia World Projects is a major, university-wide initiative that aims to forge a closer and more useful connection between Columbia University's vast research capabilities and the needs of the world.

Columbia World Projects is part of Columbia Global, which brings together major global initiatives from across the university to advance knowledge and foster global engagement. In addition to World Projects, those initiatives include the Columbia Global Centers, the Committee on Global Thought, and the Institute for Ideas and Imagination.

Columbia Global's mission is to address complex global challenges through groundbreaking scholarly pursuits, leadership development, cutting-edge research, and projects that aim for social impact.

About the Columbia Center for Political Economy

Launched in 2022, the Center for Political Economy at Columbia World Projects identifies and advances the most promising contemporary developments within economics and promotes a new political economy with robust, intellectual and policy incubators across distinct thematic areas, or 'Idea Labs', outlined below.

Position Summary

The Columbia Center for Political Economy is seeking full-time Postdoctoral Research Scholars beginning July 1, 2025. Under the direction of the Center's faculty Co-directors and Idea Lab leads, the Scholar will have the opportunity to pursue their own research while supporting the work of the Center.

The Center invites applications on topics of relevance to the Center's broad priorities. This includes the foci of the Center's Idea Labs – Work and Labor, Firms and Industrial Policy, Money and Finance, and Political Economy of Climate. We encourage you to apply for the Idea Lab that best suits your background and research interests. Please see below for descriptions of each Lab.

Work and Labor examines the forces that influence labor and labor markets, focusing on modes of collective worker action, the interplay between government policies and worker power, how worker organizations intersect with the political process and government, and the future of domestic and international labor movements, with an emphasis on empirical research. This cycle the Work and Labor Idea Lab is especially interested in applicants whose work speaks to politics and policy, including, but not limited to, the politics of enacting labor reform at different levels of government; worker perspectives on representation through labor organizations and collective action; the design of labor policies and the effects of those policies on opportunities for building worker power and fostering collective action; coalition management between worker organizations and other movements and organized interests; and the relationship between worker organizations, including unions, and politics and government.

Firms and Industrial Policy aims to gain new insights into how firms behave, to provide a grounding for policy interventions to promote innovation and shared prosperity. Industrial policy – government interventions to stimulate innovation, accelerate technological change, and promote selected industries – is back on mainstream policy agendas in the U.S., Europe, and many developing countries. But even as the policy pendulum swings back toward government intervention, the knowledge base to guide industrial policy remains underdeveloped. Topics may focus on factors that shape firms' decisions technology adoption, product innovation, quality upgrading, R&D investments, patenting, and other forms of innovative behavior; on how such decisions are influenced by market conditions, network relationships, and supply chain architectures; on novel ways to measure such decisions and influences; and on what works and doesn't work in industrial policy.

Money and Finance explores the relation of money and finance both in theoretical terms and in institutional configurations, including the design of financial instruments as well as the policy instruments employed by central banks, but also the design of financial intermediaries and their relation to central banks and financial market regulators. The deeply imbricated institutional relation of money and finance has important implications for political economy. Topics may include the future of central banking, the rise of digital money systems, the role of money and finance in climate change as accelerator or mitigator, the impact of large asset managers on financial systems, as well as the search for alternative forms for financing R&D, land preservation, and social protection.

Political Economy of Climate explores how political and economic forces shape policy and societal responses to climate change. The Lab is most interested in fostering synergies around the following thematic areas: climate fairness and environmental justice, international collaboration or lack thereof, interests shaping the effectiveness of energy transition, and political constraints on environmental (especially climate) policies. The Lab is currently focused on the political economy of forests and how communities dependent on fossil fuel extraction adjust to shifts in demand.

Funding for the Postdoctoral Research Scholar will cover salary for up to one year with the possibility of a one-year extension. The scholar will commit to jointly organize seminars and conferences, public events, and additional programmatic support and outreach with the given Lab that they are involved with.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD, JSD, or equivalent from across the social sciences, history, and law.

Salary Range

The salary range for this position is $71,050-$82,000

Application

Interested applicants should submit the following materials via Submittable:

Cover Letter describing your interest and relevant experience;

Curriculum Vitae;

Documentation of PhD or JSD conferment, or timeline for obtaining degree;

Writing sample consisting of a single journal article, essay, or book chapter (published or unpublished);

A summary of the research plan for which the position is sought (limited to 350 words);

A detailed research plan (up to five pages, single-spaced) for the position stating specific goals to be accomplished during the period it will be held; and

Three letters of recommendation provided by references familiar with your work (including your doctoral supervisor, if applicable).

Please use this Submittable application link (<https://cwp.submittable.com/submit/303472/2025-26-center-for-political-economy-postdoctoral-research-scholar-opportunity>) to submit an application. Only complete applications submitted via the process outlined will be considered.

Key Deadlines:

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. All application materials must be received no later than December 2, 2024 at 5:00PM EST.

Decisions are expected to be made in February 2025, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025.

Please contact politicaleconomy@columbia.edu with any questions.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15021

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Computational Science

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applicants for an Assistant or Associate Professor in Computational Science.

Candidates are expected have the following:

strong interests in public policy, ideally indicating interests or participation in public policy administration, design, implementation, evaluation, and/or how governments use computational social science methods in public policy;

expertise in computational social science methods such as machine learning, text as data, spatial data, computation using large-scale data, network analysis, data visualization;

have completed a Ph.D. in economics, public policy, political science, sociology, statistics, information science, computer science or a related field by August 1, 2025.

The person hired in this search will be expected to do research at the intersection of data science and public policy and teach courses in Python and/or R for McCourt's Data Science for Public Policy (DSPP) program. The DSPP program is a two-year MS degree program that trains students to use modern computing power to understand important issues in public policy. DSPP courses include topics such as programming, machine learning, probability and statistics, data visualization, databases, and data infrastructure.

The projected base salary range is Assistant: $103,800-$182,000, Associate: $118,700 – $210,000. Compensation is determined by a number of factors including, but not limited to, the candidate's individual qualifications, experience, education, skills, and certifications, as well as the University's business needs and external factors.

To apply, applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, teaching statement, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation by 11:59pm EST on Friday November 1, 2024.

Apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/156634>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15016

Wofford College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Social Sciences

The Environmental Studies Department at Wofford College seeks an engaged teacher-scholar with expertise in environmental social sciences to join our multi-disciplinary team of faculty as a tenure-track assistant professor starting in fall 2025.

EXPECTATIONS

Wofford is a liberal arts college and environmental studies is an interdisciplinary department. Candidates from any social science discipline will be considered; a focus on environmental policy, law or economics is desired. We seek an engaged teacher-scholar with a commitment to the liberal arts and the ability to connect their teaching and mentoring to environmental aspects of natural science and humanities fields. This person will actively engage in the program's valued tradition of field studies and experiential education and equip students to communicate effectively about environmental issues to diverse audiences. Candidates should discuss how they might work and facilitate learning at Wofford's Goodall Environmental Studies Center, as some environmental studies courses take place there. The ideal candidate will also embrace the collaborative spirit that characterizes the college and display excellent interpersonal and communication skills.

The teaching responsibilities for this position include three courses each semester and a four-week January focused-study Interim term (Interim is not taught during the first year or during sabbaticals). To earn tenure, faculty are expected to demonstrate excellence in teaching, continued scholarly development and service to the college. The successful candidate will teach an environmental social science core course that incorporates multiple social science perspectives and is taken by all environmental studies majors and minors. They will also teach upper-level courses within their specialty area and a topical first-year seminar. All department faculty periodically teach our four-credit interdisciplinary introductory seminar, capstone courses and senior seminar, as well as mentor environmental studies majors as they engage in multi-semester original research projects that reflect their diverse interests.

QUALIFICATIONS

Qualified candidates will have a terminal degree (e.g. Ph.D., J.D.) by August 2025 with a focus on an environmental social science field. We are particularly interested in candidates who work on environmental issues as they relate to economics, policy and law, broadly construed.

Evidence of having taught or demonstrated capacity to teach environmental policy is preferred. We welcome applicants who have shown a commitment to enhancing and promoting diversity, equity and inclusion relevant to environmental studies. Candidates must show evidence of excellent undergraduate teaching and evidence of or aptitude for mentoring undergraduates in scholarship that reflect their diverse interests in environmental social sciences. Candidates must show capacity and interest in experiential or applied teaching. The successful candidate must be active in scholarship or similar productive pursuits, with expertise that complements and broadens existing departmental strengths.

APPLICATION

To apply, please send a single pdf document with:

1. A cover letter describing your experience and how you meet the qualifications of this position.
2. A current curriculum vitae.
3. A statement of teaching philosophy.
4. A statement of research interests and direction including your approach to mentoring student research.
5. Unofficial graduate and undergraduate transcripts.
6. The names and contact information for three professional references.

Send materials to ENVS-search@wofford.edu. Statements should be one to two pages in length. Applications received by October 31, 2024, will be given full review and consideration.

ABOUT WOFFORD COLLEGE

Wofford College is a place where thought leads, where ideas are celebrated and problem solving is expected. Wofford invites applicants who are focused on student success and excited to join a community committed to preparing thought leaders.

Wofford College, established in 1854, is a four-year, residential liberal arts college located in Spartanburg, South Carolina. A Phi Beta Kappa college (chartered in 1940), Wofford more than 80 academic majors, minors and programs to a student body of 1,815 undergraduates.

Nationally known for the strength of its academic program, outstanding faculty, experiential learning opportunities and successful and supportive graduates, Wofford is recognized consistently as a "best value" and for accessibility for low- and middle-income students. To learn more, visit wofford.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15017

Columbia University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: China, International Security, International Political Economy

China and the World Program (C&WP)

Professors Thomas J. Christensen of Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs and Alastair Iain Johnston of Harvard University's Government Department jointly founded the China and the World fellowship program for the advanced study of China's international relations in 2005. As part of Professor Christensen's recent move to Columbia University, the Program was renamed the Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program (C&WP) in 2018. The China and the World Program supports research that integrates theoretical innovations in the field of international relations with the rigorous study of China's interactions with countries, regions, institutions, and non-state actors.

For academic year 2025-2026, C&WP plans to award 2 postdoctoral research fellowships. Both fellows will be in residence at Columbia University and will teach one course in the Fall or Spring semester. When not attending to program or teaching-related duties, fellows' time should be devoted to their own research, and to participating actively in the life of C&WP, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute (WEAI), the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies, etc. Fellows also will be expected to make at least one public presentation during their appointment and participate in the annual C&WP workshop where an entire day is devoted entirely to the examination of the fellows' research by former fellows of the program. Preference will be given to applicants who are currently working on revising their Ph.D. thesis for publication as a book, or who are just beginning a second major research project.

The appointment is for the 2025-2026 year, beginning September 1, 2025, ending June 30, 2026. The position comes with shared office space and access to the libraries and resources of Columbia University, access to all of which is COVID permitting.

Qualifications

Applicants must have completed all Ph.D. requirements (dissertation completed and filed) between May 1, 2020 and August 31, 2025. Applications from individuals who hold or have held full-time teaching appointments will not be considered. Only applicants working on some aspect of China's relations with the outside world that supports CWP's and WEAI's missions need apply.

Application Process

To apply, submit application materials to sipacwp@{att}columbia.edu. Please note that applicants are required to send all files in one email or to upload them to a cloud based application and send the URL via email for full consideration. Faxed or mailed applications will not be considered.

1-2 page cover letter that briefly states your interest in the program, your background, and a summary of your research project
 Updated Curriculum Vitae, including a list of classes taught (if any)
 Project description
 Two scholarly writing samples
 One course proposal with syllabus for a seminar directed at M.A. students and advanced undergraduates
 Course evaluations for classes taught (if any)
 Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees
 Two letters of reference. Please note: Applicants should submit only the name and contact information of their referees. Referees should submit their letter directly to sipacwp@{att}columbia.edu.

Application Deadline

All application materials, including letters of reference, must be received by December 20, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST in the United States. Candidates may be invited for an interview to be held by video, phone, or in-person. All evaluations made in connection with applications received are confidential.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their applications in February or March of 2025; a public announcement will be made by April 2025.

For more information about the Columbia-Harvard China and the World Program, the Weatherhead East Asian Institute, or the the Saltzman Institute of War and Peace Studies please visit www.CWP.SIPA.Columbia.edu, www.weai.columbia.edu, and <https://www.siwps.org/> respectively.

This search is subject to all rules and regulations of Columbia University. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As the COVID-19 Pandemic is an evolving concern around the world, these expectations guidelines are subject to change. Thank you for your patience during this challenging time.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/20/2024

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15002

Institute for Advanced Study in Toulouse

Rank: Post-doctoral Research Fellowships

Each year, IAST invites applications for post-doctoral Research Fellowships, which offer candidates an opportunity to devote themselves full-time to their research at the start of their careers. Fellows are provided with office space, computer facilities, and a two-year contract renewable for a third year.

We welcome applications from researchers in a wide range of disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences, including anthropology, economics, evolutionary biology, history, mathematics, philosophy, political science, psychology, and sociology. Motivated applications from outside these disciplines will also be considered.

We seek candidates with a strong research background in their discipline but open to engaging in interdisciplinarity. Successful applicants must demonstrate an interest in and a commitment to at least one of the other disciplines of IAST. All research interests relevant to studying human behavior and organization are welcome. However, interests that complement and enhance those already developed at IAST — particularly those in line with one of the Research Teams — will be given special consideration. These interests include (to cite a few):

- In anthropology: cooperation and conflict, life history theory, human development and plasticity, health and infectious disease, aging, demography, diet and nutrition, global health, evolutionary medicine, and genetics.
- In evolutionary biology: evolutionary theory, social evolution, major evolutionary transitions, and behavioral ecology.
- In history: quantitative economic history (cliometrics), empirical political economy in history, qualitative economics, and social history.

- In political science: public opinion and public policies, political economy, political institutions, development, experimental political science, and studies of networks and their impact on individual and collective action.
- In psychology: artificial intelligence ethics, cumulative culture, human-machine cooperation, machine behavior, moral character, moral dilemmas, social credit, social learning, and social preferences.
- In sociology: analytical sociology, social networks, social mobility, inequality and social stratification, polarization and social influence, and environmental sociology.

What do we expect from our Research Fellows?

IAST is an institution that fosters communication between disciplines and interdisciplinary research. Key components of this process are exposure to presentations and participation in discussions. Research Fellows are, therefore, expected to regularly attend seminars, institutional social events, and our annual retreat. If required, they should also be able to contribute to our summer school in quantitative social sciences.

Who is eligible?

Eligible applicants for 2025 must be active researchers who have completed or will complete their PhD after December 2021 and before September 2025 (if the PhD is expected to be completed between October and December of 2025, the start of the fellowship will be postponed accordingly). Motivated applications will be considered from candidates whose PhDs were completed in 2021 or earlier; if applicable, please explain your reasons in your cover letter. Researchers who are either tenure-track or tenured at their present institution should not apply for this research fellowship.

IAST supports equality, diversity, and inclusion. We encourage applications from members of underrepresented groups in academia, including citizens from the Global South.

How do I apply?

To apply for a Research Fellowship, please send your application (before November 15, 2024) by clicking on the link below:

<https://www.iast.fr/postdoctoral-fellowship-2025-2026>

Each application should include (only in English):

- CV.
- Cover Letter (not to exceed two single-spaced pages). This should include a statement addressing current research and future plans.
- At least two writing samples (e.g., published peer-reviewed journal articles, working papers, book chapters).
- Contact information (i.e., name, title, email) of at least three references willing to provide a letter on your behalf. Note that your references will automatically receive an email notification from IAST once you submit your application. Just in case, please ask your references to check their spam folders. The deadline for submitting recommendation letters is November 30, 2024.

Tentative Recruitment Timeline

Zoom interviews will likely occur from mid-January until early February. Recruitment committee decisions will not be made until around mid-March 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 14987

College of William & Mary

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environment & Sustainability (Climate Social Sci)

The Environmental Science and Policy program promotes multidisciplinary education and research to produce active and literate environmental citizens, leaders, and problem solvers. We emphasize the value of integrating knowledge and approaches from the natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, and professional schools to generate a holistic understanding of environmental issues and policy making, while simultaneously stressing the need for in-depth training in at least one environmental discipline.

Position Summary:

The Environment & Sustainability Program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, seeks applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level. The successful candidate will have a joint appointment in the Environment & Sustainability Program and a department within the social sciences. Appointment will begin August 10, 2025. We are interested in individuals with research expertise in the social scientific dimensions of climate change, broadly construed.

Duties include research, teaching, and service to the University. The applicant is expected to establish and maintain a vibrant research program that inspires a highly motivated undergraduate student body. Teaching expectation is 2 courses per semester. Successful applicants must possess the skills to regularly teach the core environmental policy making course in the Environment & Sustainability Program and teach compelling courses on the social dimensions of climate change that complement and extend the program's curriculum.

Required Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in a discipline that explores the social scientific dimensions of climate change, such as anthropology, economics, environmental studies, political science, or sociology at the time appointment begins (August 10, 2025).

Preferred Qualifications

Previous experience in teaching and mentoring successful undergraduate research is preferred. Evidence of scholarly achievement or demonstrated potential as a scholar.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of research interests, and a statement of teaching interests that speaks to potential course contributions to the Environment & Sustainability Program and how a course on environmental policy making might be taught. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in environmentally focused classes in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference. For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, November 15, 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/3/2024
Date Posted: 10/3/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 15000

MIT Sloan School of Management and Schwarzman College of Computing

Rank: Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Social, Economic, and Ethical Implications of Computing and Networks

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Sloan School of Management and the MIT Schwarzman College of Computing (SCC) located in Cambridge, MA invite applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level in social, economic, and ethical implications of computing and networks, with specific focus on the Future of Work and the evolving interface between Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Human Interaction. The intended start date is July 1, 2025, or as soon thereafter as possible. We seek candidates whose research involves development and/or novel conceptual use of computational, statistical, and/or AI methodologies to address substantive questions at the frontier of AI and its interaction with human decision-making at individual, organizational, and/or societal levels.

Areas related to this search include but are not limited to: (1) AI in Human Decision-Making: dynamics of human-AI collaboration; issues of bias and fairness in AI-driven decisions; the impact of AI system transparency (or lack thereof) on trust and accountability. (2) AI and Collective Intelligence: role of AI in accelerating knowledge accumulation, integration of diverse expertise within team settings, and in exploring ways in which AI tools can enhance collaboration, collective intelligence, and innovation; (3) AI in Recruitment and Human Resources: examining AI's influence on hiring, employee evaluation, and performance management; implications for reward allocation and well-being of organizational members; addressing bias, inequality, and learning challenges in organizational contexts.

The successful candidate will hold a shared appointment in the Sloan School of Management, ideally within the Work and Organization Studies (WOS) group (or in a different group within Sloan) and the SCC, within either the Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science (EECS) or the Institute of Data, Systems, and Society (IDSS). This position aligns with Sloan's focus on The Future of Work and AI-Human Interaction, and SCC's strategic area of Social, Economic, and Ethical Implications of Computing and Networks.

Candidates must have a PhD in Computer Science, Management, Sociology, Economics, Operations Research, Information Science or a related field by the start of employment. Applicants should have strong computational or statistical skills and a commitment to research that brings together social sciences and computing.

Faculty responsibilities include teaching courses at undergraduate and graduate levels in the areas of networks, organizations and computing, advising students, conducting research, and providing service to the institution and profession. The primary appointment will be in the Work and Organization Studies group, but candidates are expected to teach in both Sloan and educational programs of SCC.

Application requirements: A cover letter, Curriculum Vitae, research statement (3-4 pages), teaching statement (1 page), and contact details for at least three references. Applicants should discuss how their work aligns with the position and how they would support Sloan and SCC programs. Recommendations should be submitted directly by the recommenders.

Applications received and completed (including recommendation letters) by November 4th will be prioritized. Applications received and completed after November 4th could also be considered. Please submit online applications to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/156476>.

For more details, visit MIT Sloan and MIT SCC websites. Questions can be directed to the faculty search chairs Professor Ray Reagans (rreagans@mit.edu) and Professor Saurabh Amin (amins@mit.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: 11/4/2024
Date Posted: 10/3/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14999

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

United States Army War College
 Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies
 Salary range: $90,730 – $146,476
 Objective:

The United States Army War College is accepting applications for an Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies in the Department of National Security and Strategy to begin in the summer of 2025. Position Description:

The person selected for this position will have a leading role in planning, administering, and teaching core courses on African regional studies as well as other core and elective courses of the resident education program and associated programs. They will serve as a faculty instructor for one seminar, advise students, and serve as project advisor for student research projects. They will also engage in cutting-edge scholarship that advances knowledge in fields relevant to the curriculum and engage in service in support of USAWC missions. Other duties may include teaching courses on war, strategy, and national security policy, and/or supporting the development and execution of specialized programs in policy, strategy, and outreach. Finally, the applicant must be able to obtain and maintain a SECRET security clearance from the US government.

The Army War College seeks applicants who would find fulfillment teaching and researching in an environment that intentionally blends scholarly achievement with policy application. It relies on a collaborative and inter-disciplinary teaching environment that emphasizes student engagement. As one of the nation's premiere institutions for military education, it is a dynamic workplace that mixes academic excellence with practitioner experience to prepare senior level officers and civilians for roles in strategy- and policy-making over the rest of their careers. This importance of the mission, and direct impact that faculty instruction has on national security processes, fosters a culture of mutual respect and collegiality across the department and school. Faculty who are interested in translating their academic expertise into policy debates are encouraged to do so.

This is a full-time, long-term, civilian faculty position. Initial appointment may be for up to three years; the first year may be probationary. Appointments may be renewed subject to job performance and availability of funds; reappointments at USAWC are the norm and the position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track. Academic rank and compensation of initial appointment will be offered commensurate with the applicant's level of experience and qualifications. We are prepared to offer a salary-and-benefits package designed to attract highly talented applicants.

For additional questions about the position, Department of National Security and Strategy, and/or the Army War College, please contact: Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison

US Army War College

651 Wright Avenue

Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013

USAWC_DNSS_africanstudies@army.mil

Qualifications:

In order to qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below, also known as Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSAs). Your curriculum vitae or résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience, and cover letters are encouraged to directly address the required KSAs, as they will be used by the search committee appointed to identify the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have master's degree (required) in political science, history, national security studies, international relations, government, or related field. PhD or terminal degree strongly preferred. Doctoral students who expect to complete their Ph.D. prior to July 1, 2025 are eligible and encouraged to apply. Expertise in African politics strongly preferred.

2. Ability to prepare, teach, and lecture on subjects related to African studies, regional politics in Africa, American foreign policy, grand strategy, and national security decision-making. An established record of superlative teaching at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or Senior Service College level, and experience in seminar-style instruction, is preferred.

3. Record of scholarly research and publication—or evidence of great potential for such research and publication—in areas relevant to the curriculum, to include national security policy and strategy, international relations, political science, history, political economy, regional studies, and the strategic use of military force (e.g., assurance, deterrence, coercion, and compellence). Expertise in regional African studies is preferred.

4. A record of successful service to the profession and/or engagement with policy debates, including membership in and service to professional (regional, historical, political) scholarly societies, public history initiatives, or military and defense organizations. A record of successful non-governmental work of a similar nature and scope, such as with a think tank, development organization, media organization, or international organization may also be considered service.

Application Required Documents:

Your application must contain each of the following:

1. Letter of application addressing the required KSAs and other qualifications, as listed in the QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED section above.

2. Curriculum vitae or résumé.

3. One sample of written scholarship not to exceed 50 pages (Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.)

4. List of four disinterested professional references (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate's qualifications but have no stake in the outcome of the selection).

5. A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the US Army War College through teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

To apply for this position, you must submit the documentation specified in the Application Required Documents section above, directly to:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison

US Army War College

651 Wright Avenue

Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013

USAWC_DNSS_africanstudies@army.mil

The complete application package must be submitted by 11:59 PM (EST) on 11 November 2024 to receive consideration.

Next Steps: If you provided an email address, you will receive an email message acknowledging receipt of your application. Your application package will be used to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. If you are determined to be ineligible or not qualified, your application will receive no further consideration. The deadline to apply for this position is November 15, 2024

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/3/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15001

University of Missouri, Kansas City

Rank: Norman Royall Endowed Professor/Associate Professor of Political Communication/UMKC School of Humanities & Social Sciences

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

JOID 53314 / POSITION 55964

Hiring Department

UNIVERSITY of MISSOURI-KANSAS CITY

SCHOOL of HUMANITIES and SOCIAL SCIENCES

Department of Political Science and Philosophy

With our vast selection of courses spanning the arts, humanities and sciences, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences offers a diverse educational experience. Analyzing ideas and human experiences from a wide variety of perspectives prepares students for careers in government, law, education, communications, and political organizations. <https://shss.umkc.edu/about-us/index.html>

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy is a dynamic department with programs and courses across the political science and philosophy disciplines. Our award-winning faculty are committed to the success of our students, both in and out of the classroom. <https://shss.umkc.edu/areas-of-study/political-science-and-philosophy/index.html>

Job Description

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Missouri-Kansas City invites applications for the Norman Royall Professor or Associate Professor with expertise in political science and one of the following: quantitative methods, data science, or data analytics research. This is a 9-month full-time tenure-eligible endowed faculty appointment; rank commensurate with career experience. The position begins with the Fall 2025 semester.

The successful candidate will play a critical role in the research and teaching mission of the Department of Political Science and Philosophy, including securing extramural research funding, working collaboratively, and teaching courses. Endowed Professors with their vast career experiences serve as valuable resources to the School, the university and the community.

In support of our goals to be a workplace of choice and a national leader in research and scholarship, UMKC strives to assure that all individuals appointed to endowed chairs and professorships are outstanding leaders in scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants for this endowed position are encouraged to review UMKC's Guidelines for Evaluation of Endowed Chairs and Professors at the following link: <https://info.umkc.edu/academichiring/endowed-chairs-professorships/>.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field.

A full-time ranked faculty appointment at the associate or full professor rank which reflects scholastic success and a record of funded research.

Anticipated Hiring Range

Salary is commensurate with rank, experience and a record of success in externally funded research. It is determined by a variety of factors, including but not limited to, the individual's particular combination of education, skills, and capacity to enhance the department offerings.

Your total compensation goes beyond the number on your paycheck. The University of Missouri provides generous leave, health plans, and retirement contributions that add to your bottom line. Our academic workloads and schedules provide for a positive work/life balance.

Application Materials For consideration, you must apply online at www.umkc.edu/jobs, click in Academic Positions (Job Opening ID 53314).

Please combine all application materials (personal letter of interest reflecting your teaching philosophy, research interests and applicable experience with accompanying up-to-date curriculum vitae and a list of 3 academic and/or professional references with current contact information) into one PDF or Microsoft Word document and upload as your resume attachments. Limit document name to 50 characters and do not include any special characters (e.g., /, &, %, etc.).

· If you are experiencing technical problems during application, please email umpshrsupport@umsystem.edu.

· For questions about the position, please contact umkcfacultysearch@umkc.edu including the Job Identification number 53314 and name of the position.

· Reasonable accommodations may be requested during the application and recruitment process. If you need an accommodation, please contact the Office of Affirmative Action at (816) 235-1323.

· Finalists will be asked to provide university transcripts reflecting award of degrees and references will be contacted.

· A successful Criminal Background Check is required for hire.

Application Deadline

Applications accepted until a qualified candidate is hired. Review of completed applications will begin upon receipt, with priority consideration for those received by October 21, 2024.

Comments

UMKC is a public, urban, research university with more than 15,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. It is part of the larger University of Missouri System. Our university is committed to being a model urban university that is recognized for our partnerships with surrounding urban communities to effectively foster a healthy, safe, and more economically secure socially just quality of life.

A City on the Rise: Big City Life and Midwest Charm, Kansas City offers the best of both worlds - a vibrant, urban community with midwestern appeal and an affordable cost of living. The university is located in a Kansas City metropolitan area that is among the most entrepreneurial cities in America with a population of more than 2.4 million. Our UMKC campuses are centered in the hubs of business activity, cultural arts, (some great barbeque and ethnic cuisine!) and health science research engagement for both the Volker and Health Sciences campuses. Our community boasts championship professional athletic teams, NASCAR racing, and a rich history of music and performing arts. Our beautiful state provides rivers, lakes, biking/hiking trails and mountains for outdoor enthusiasts all within an easy drive. To learn more about life in Kansas City, check out VisitKC.com.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. As part of your total compensation, the University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts for all four UM System campuses. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <https://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Values Commitment We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate.

In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research, and engagement.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eeo> or call Human Resources at 816-235-1621. To request ADA accommodations, please call the Office of Equity & Title IX at 816-235-6910.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14978

University of Mississippi

Rank: Director of the African American Studies Program

The University of Mississippi invites applications for a full-time, 12-month administrative faculty position as Director of African American Studies, with a joint faculty appointment in African American Studies and another department in the College of Liberal Arts.

The University of Mississippi is an R1 institution in an exciting phase of institutional growth and is located in the city of Oxford, a vibrant community known for its small-town charm and outstanding educational and cultural opportunities. The African American Studies Program develops and coordinates an interdisciplinary undergraduate curriculum that focuses mainly on the African American experience in the United States, especially in Mississippi and the South. Its objectives are to encourage all students and faculty to examine the African American experience, to facilitate a cultural and intellectual atmosphere on campus favorable to such studies, and to develop and support a related program of research and community service. Our program goals are supported by the larger University of Mississippi and College of Liberal Arts' strategic commitment to access and opportunity. In addition to supporting the current objectives of the Program by supervising the administrative aspects of the program, working with program faculty and students, and coordinating outreach and public programming activities, the new AAS Director will take the lead in shaping a vision for the program's future. The Director carries a 1-1 teaching load.

Candidates for the position of Director must have a Ph.D. or terminal degree with an outstanding academic record of teaching and publishing on subjects related to African American Studies and must hold the rank of tenured Associate or Full Professor at the time of application. Though we are open to candidates with research focuses in any field of the liberal arts, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate education and knowledge of the broad curricular and academic issues in the field of African American Studies. The successful candidate will have demonstrated leadership and interpersonal skills; experience in personnel management and fiscal management is also desirable. Candidates with demonstrable commitment to and experience in fostering supportive communities for research, teaching, and learning are of particular interest.

The University of Mississippi embraces a meaningful and holistic commitment to complying with relevant laws and non-discrimination provisions, and in doing so, to advancing access and fair treatment for all in a welcoming environment. The University of Mississippi is committed to fostering a collaborative, innovative, and inclusive community that does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, citizenship, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, visit careers.olemiss.edu. In addition to completing the online application, please upload the following: 1) under "Resume" a CV which includes the names and contact information for three professional references); 2) under "Other" an extensive cover letter summarizing your qualifications and academic background, making sure to address 1) your general administrative philosophy and relevant administrative experience; 2) your preliminary vision for the program; and 3) your experience with and approaches to fostering a welcoming and supportive environment for a vibrant community of students, faculty, and staff.

Review of applications will begin in November and continue until the position is filled. The anticipated starting date is July 2025 but is flexible. Questions about the position may be addressed to the search committee chair Dr. Molly Pasco-Pranger (mprranger@olemiss.edu, 662-915-7097).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14973

Rice University

Rank: Demographer

The Kinder Institute for Urban Research at Rice University is seeking a tenured Associate or Full Professor in the field of demography/population studies. The candidate will have a leadership position within the institute's Houston Population Research Center (HPRC), overseeing an interdisciplinary team of community-engaged researchers who work closely with local partners on a wide range of demographic topics. The candidate will also be part of the Kinder Institute's leadership team and is expected to work closely with the institute director and directors from the institute's other research centers to develop and maintain relationships with community partners, set the research agenda together with these partners, coordinate intersecting projects across research teams, and ensure that research use and impact are maximized. Faculty directors are also expected to secure research grants, working closely with the leadership and grant writing teams. Leadership experience and community partnership experience is required.

Candidates must have a PhD or terminal degree in Demography, Economics, Population Health, Sociology, or a similar field and an outstanding record in demographic research, experience leading a research team, and experience in community-engaged research done in partnership with local organizations that apply the research in meaningful ways.

Faculty members are on nine-month appointments, and the successful candidate will have a tenure home in the department that aligns with the selected applicant's disciplinary background (see here for a list of departments at Rice), which includes teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in that department. Grant funding may be used for course buyouts. Faculty in the Kinder Institute are expected to focus their research efforts on institute projects that will utilize the institute's resources, and co-design projects with community partners. Because the Kinder Institute focuses on maximizing research use and impact, research centers work closely with community partners to develop their research agenda, plan how research will be used, and generate informative research products beyond, but inclusive of, academic publications,

Kinder Institute:

The Kinder Institute for Urban Research is an interdisciplinary research institute that works in direct partnership with local agencies and organizations to produce research, data, and policy analysis aimed at informing and shaping solutions to critical challenges facing the Houston region. The institute aims to improve lives through data, research, engagement, and action.

The institute consists of five research centers:

Houston Education Research Consortium

Houston Population Research Center

Center for Community and Public Health

Center for Economic Mobility

Center for Housing and Neighborhoods

Centers conduct research that focuses on their particular topics, as well as research that intersects across centers, through interdisciplinary teams that specialize in solutions-oriented, community-engaged research called research-practice partnerships (RPPs).

The Kinder Institute has a team of over 70 full-time research and administrative staff, plus faculty and student affiliates. Researchers benefit from access to hundreds of datasets, established long-term community partnerships, highly skilled interdisciplinary teams, and extensive research support such as financial, communications, and grant writing teams. Founded in 2010, the Kinder Institute was endowed with several gifts from Houston philanthropists Richard and Nancy Kinder. Today, the institute generates funding from research grants, corporate sponsorships, individual donors, and an endowment.

The Kinder Institute is committed to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion in our research and service endeavors. We strive to promote an environment that welcomes and respects diverse backgrounds, experiences, and views, as this diversity strengthens our research and our collaborative outreach efforts. In this spirit, we particularly welcome applications from all genders and members of historically underrepresented groups, who exemplify diverse experiences. The search committee is eager to receive applications from scholars with lived experience related to the issues on which the Kinder Institute is focused.

Application Process:

Interested candidates should submit application materials through Interfolio, <https://apply.interfolio.com/155080>, including a CV, cover letter, research sample, and statement of partnership research. References will be requested for candidates that advance to the shortlist. All materials must be submitted by Nov 1, 2024. The start date is July 1, 2025. In the cover letter and statement of research partnership, applicants are encouraged to address their experience with and/or plans for building and leading inclusive research teams.

Rice University:

Rice University is a private, comprehensive university located in the heart of Houston's dynamic Museum District. The Houston metro is one of the largest and most diverse in the country. Rice offers undergraduate and graduate degrees across eight schools and has approximately 4,000 undergraduate and 3,000 graduate students. Rice consistently ranks among the top 20 US universities and the top 10 in undergraduate teaching; its endowment ranks among the top 20 (US News & World Report).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14957

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Assistant Professor Position in Black Cultural Studies

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics, Social Movements

Assistant Professor Position in Black Cultural Studies

Department of Social and Cultural Analysis

New York University Arts and Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in Black Cultural Studies. We are particularly interested in applicants whose research takes an interdisciplinary approach to the social and cultural life of the African diaspora and contributes to the department's strengths in gender and sexuality studies; critical race and ethnic studies; and/or urban studies.

This position is part of a multi-departmental cluster hire in "Black Diaspora Cultural Studies," which includes the Arts and Science departments of Art History, History and Music. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars at NYU working across a range of disciplines. More information about this cluster can be found here, along with background on NYU's broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is an interdisciplinary department committed to developing innovative approaches in urbanism, migration, critical racial, ethnic and indigenous studies, gender and sexuality, art, culture, politics, and economic life. The Department has degree programs in Africana Studies, American Studies, Asian/Pacific/American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Latinx Studies, Metropolitan Studies, and Social and Cultural Analysis.

Candidates should submit the following materials via this Interfolio link:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/155129>

Letter of application

Curriculum vitae

Writing sample of 20-25 pages

Three confidential letters of recommendation

Your letter of application should focus on the contributions your research makes to the field and to the department. You may also address how your work in the university, such as classroom teaching, has contributed toward equity and inclusion.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on November 10, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions about the position please consult the NYU Department of Social and Cultural Analysis website: <http://sca.as.nyu.edu>, referring to the homepage link "Employment Opportunities." For questions not answered here please contact Marty Correia at mc2828@nyu.edu.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2025, pending administrative and budgetary approval. Candidates must have Ph.D. in hand by September 1, 2025.

In compliance with NYC's Pay Transparency Act, the annual base salary range for this position is $85,000 to $115,000. New York University considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, as well as market and organizational considerations when extending an offer.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Arts & Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber, who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are underrepresented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the Arts & Science commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, visit <https://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14937

University of Montana

Rank: Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Japan, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Maureen and Mike Mansfield Center and the Department of Political Science at the University of Montana invite applications for a tenure-track Professor of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Studies at the advanced assistant, associate, or full level to begin in August 2025. The successful candidate for this position will be appointed as the endowed Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs; the locus of tenure will be in the Department of Political Science. We invite applications from candidates in Comparative Politics, International Relations, and Security Studies. Specialization for this position is open: Candidates with expertise and research interests in contemporary Japanese politics, policy studies including foreign policy and security studies of the Indo-Pacific region are particularly encouraged to apply.

The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach at all levels (introductory, advanced/upper division undergraduate, and graduate (MA) in their field. They may also have the opportunity to develop courses in collaboration with the Department of History. The successful applicant is also expected to maintain an active research agenda in their field. Additionally, the successful candidate will be expected to collaborate with the Mansfield Center's programs for the purpose of promoting deeper understanding of Japanese politics, foreign policy, Japan-U.S. relations, and a Free and Open Indo-Pacific. This may include, but would not be limited to, organizing symposia, inviting speakers, outreach to the media and the general public, and advising the Mansfield Center in the development of its programs.

Applicants at the advanced assistant level should demonstrate potential for scholarly excellence (e.g., publications, among other things), and evidence of effective instruction consistent with an early tenure schedule. Applicants for appointment as associate and full professor should have a record of excellence in social science research (through high-quality peer-reviewed publications and grants), undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate for a tenured position (preferably including some experience in media and public outreach).

Position Details

Tenure Track Faculty: Department of Political Science

Title: Professor/ Mansfield Chair of Japanese and Indo-Pacific Affairs

Schedule: Full-time academic year (10-month) position

Entry Rate: $70,000-100,000 commensurate with experience

Benefits: A comprehensive and competitive benefits package. Medical Insurance/Mandatory Retirement Contribution, 50% family tuition waiver in all Montana University System colleges and universities, and a wellness program.

Primary Duties: Teaching, research, and service.

Qualifications

- A PhD in Political Science or similar field, and scholarly experience in the field of Japanese politics, policy studies including foreign policy and security studies, international relations, and/or Indo-Pacific affairs, as evidenced by a record of college-level teaching, and published research.
- Experience supporting students in achieving curricular and co-curricular objectives.
- Experience teaching and mentoring undergraduate students.
- Demonstrated ability to work in a cross-cultural environment with a variety of academic and non-academic partners.
- Study of and research conducted in a language native to the Indo-Pacific region.

Priority Application Date : 30 days

Complete applications received by this date will be guaranteed consideration. To receive full consideration, candidates are required to submit all of the following materials.

- Letter of Interest addressing the qualifications
- Detailed Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- Three (3) professional references - Names and contact information

Application Link:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/155574>

Founded by an Act of Congress in 1983, the Mansfield Center fosters globally minded leaders of integrity in honor of the legacy of Senator Mike Mansfield and his wife, Maureen Hayes Mansfield. With a mandate to foster ethics in public affairs and U.S.-Asia relations, the U.S.-Japan relationship is a critical component of our work. As Mike Mansfield frequently said, "the U.S.-Japan Alliance is the most important bilateral relationship in the world, bar none." We collaborate with the College of Humanities and Sciences to offer an emphasis in Japanese Studies with a practical combination of language, culture, history, and politics. East Asian Studies are part of UM's interdisciplinary programs including Global Public Health, Global Leadership, Migration Studies, and the Honors College. The program's course offerings are supplemented by Mansfield Center enhancements of speakers, conferences, and cultural activities. For more information about the Center, and about Maureen and Mike Mansfield, see www.umt.edu/mansfield.

This new position is endowed by a generous gift from the Government of Japan. The affiliation with the Mansfield Center and the endowment offers unique benefits, including an annual research fund, membership dues, support of symposia, student scholarships, speakers, outreach activities, and unique networks provided through the Mansfield Legacy.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/24/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14936

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Faculty Position in Migration

The University of Notre Dame's Keough School of Global Affairs, in conjunction with the Notre Dame Poverty Initiative, is searching for an Associate or Full Professor who works in migration. The Keough School anticipates multiple hires in this area. Duties include research, teaching and service.

Each professorship will be based in the Keough School, which promotes interdisciplinary and policy-relevant research on critical issues in global affairs, transformative educational programs, and partnerships for global engagement. The Keough School approaches global affairs and development through a focus on integrated human development, which is also central to the University of Notre Dame's mission. Each successful candidate will be a core faculty member of the Klau Institute for Civil and Human Rights and an affiliated faculty member of the university's new population center, Notre Dame Population Analytics. These units will provide substantial resources to support research.

Competitive candidates for this position will have a scholarly track record with evidence of high-quality research as well as experience or interest in policy engagement. Candidates should have a PhD in economics, political science, sociology or related fields. A successful candidate's research on migration will contribute to population studies and will exhibit policy and/or scholarly engagement with questions of human dignity and human rights.

The University of Notre Dame seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to our Catholic tradition, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. The Keough School is committed to fostering a culture of diverse views and approaches to Global Affairs. We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or service has prepared them to contribute to our mission and commitment to diversity and excellence. All applicants whose scholarly pursuits will enhance our ability to fulfill that commitment are encouraged to apply.

Applications including a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and research statement should be submitted through the Interfolio system: <https://apply.interfolio.com/153900>. Evidence of teaching and/or mentoring effectiveness is also welcomed. Questions about the position can be directed to the co-chairs of the search committee, Professor William Evans (wevans1@nd.edu) and Professor Jennifer Mason McAward (mason.1@nd.edu). We will begin the review of applicants on October 31, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/31/2024
Date Posted: 9/24/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14925

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Economic Policy

The Penn Development Research Initiative and DevLab@Penn (PDRI-DevLab) seek to appoint TWO full time PhD-level Research Associates to support PDRI-DevLab's expanding research portfolio. Candidates will be expected to engage in both independent and collaborative high-quality research, assist in grant proposals, write for both academic and policy audiences, and teach one course annually. Research interests in governance, conflict, migration and forced displacement, climate change and/or computational social science are a plus. Applicants with a strong quantitative background are especially encouraged to apply.

One Research Associate will work on projects across the range of substantive areas described above; many of these involve impact evaluations of international development policies. The other Research Associate will work on a suite of projects cognate to the Machine Learning for Peace project that will involve detecting regime narratives and environmental events in text; the successful candidate for this position would have familiarity with R, Python, and Large Language Models.

These are excellent opportunities to engage with high-level, policy-facing research in a dynamic environment. These are not postdoctoral fellowships. Successful candidates, subject to performance, may be considered for future appointment as Research Assistant Professor. The appointments could begin as early as January, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree in a relevant social science discipline is expected at the start of the appointment.

Launched in 2020, PDRI-DevLab brings together Penn researchers and students who seek to identify solutions to core challenges facing low- and middle-income countries. PDRI-DevLab fosters impactful, rigorous international development research by harnessing the expertise of its interdisciplinary, vertically integrated team of faculty, postdocs, graduate students, predocs, and undergraduate fellows. Deploying diverse, cutting-edge methodological approaches, PDRI-DevLab catalyzes extramurally funded research projects that include collaborations with development agencies, international NGOs, local NGOs, and government agencies. PDRI-DevLab also serves as an intellectual hub for Penn scholars researching developing countries.

PDRI-DevLab is housed within Penn's School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support full time researchers include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities: <https://www.sas.upenn.edu/2020-inclusion-and-anti-racism-initiatives>

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science, public policy, economics or a related field, and be expected to demonstrate potential for high-quality research. The successful candidate will be highly proficient with quantitative research methods, and be expected to support the initiative's external funding efforts as well as policy engagement efforts. The hired candidates will teach one course per year at the undergraduate or graduate level for the Political Science department's International Development minor and/or the Fels Institute of Government. They will also provide research advice to graduate students, predoctoral fellows, and undergraduate students who are also engaged in PDRI-DevLab's research projects.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, a writing sample, and two letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/154783

Review of applications will begin on November 14th, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Spring 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14935

The University of Hong Kong

Rank: Professor/ Associate Professor

The University of Hong Kong

Founded in 1911, The University of Hong Kong has attained pre-eminence as a research-led comprehensive university, comprising 36,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students and more than 8,500 full-time professoriate, academic and professional services staff. Through upholding the highest international standards of excellence in its research pursuits, scholarship, teaching and learning, and service to the community, HKU is consistently ranked amongst the world's top universities: 26th in the 2024 QS World University Rankings, 2nd in the 2024 QS Asia University Rankings 2024, and #1 most international university in the world in the 2023 Times Higher Education World University Rankings. More information about HKU can be found at <https://hku.hk/>.

The Faculty of Social Sciences, HKU

The Faculty of Social Sciences of The University of Hong Kong was established in 1967 and has undergone rapid expansion and significant transformation since then. It comprises the Departments of Geography, Politics and Public Administration, Psychology, Social Work and Social Administration, Sociology, and Journalism and Media Studies Centre. The Faculty aims to contribute to the advancement of society and the development of leaders locally, regionally, and globally, seeking to make a positive social contribution through a global presence, regional significance and engagement with the rest of China. The Faculty delivers impact through internationalization, innovation and interdisciplinarity. It attracts and nurtures global scholars through excellence in research, teaching and learning and knowledge exchange.

The Faculty has been a major research hub in the region and was ranked 5th in Asia and 32nd in the world in 2024 according to the QS World University Ranking. Among the six departments, four ranked top 3 in Asia and three ranked top 25 in the world. Our ongoing success propels us toward our goal of becoming the foremost social sciences institution in Asia. More information about the Faculty can be found at <https://www.socsc.hku.hk>.

The Position

The Faculty is seeking an outstanding scholar with proven international leadership in research, teaching and knowledge exchange in the field of computational social science. Applications are invited for appointment as Professor/ Associate Professor within the Faculty of Social Sciences, with a start date of September 1, 2025 or at the earliest convenience.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. degree in sociology, political science, statistics, economics, or related fields with a focus on computational social sciences. The candidate should have expertise in developing and applying cutting-edge computational and quantitative methods to big data in the social sciences and a proven ability to work on cross-disciplinary topics, bridging multiple social science subjects. The appointee should also have a strong research track record with publications in leading academic journals. He/She will also be responsible for teaching courses and supervising students at both graduate and undergraduate levels, as well as contributing to the administration of academic programmes.

What We Offer

A highly competitive salary commensurate with qualifications and experience will be offered, in addition to annual leave and medical benefits. At current rates, salaries tax does not exceed 15% of gross income. The appointment will attract a contract-end gratuity and University contribution to a retirement benefits scheme, totalling up to 15% of basic salary. Housing benefits will be provided as applicable.

Nominations and Applications

The University only accepts online application for the above post. Applicants should apply online at the University's careers site (<https://jobs.hku.hk>) and upload (1) an up-to-date CV, (2) a research plan, (3) a teaching statement, and (4) state the contact information of three referees on the online application form. Review of applications will start as soon as possible and continue until December 31, 2024, or until the post is filled, whichever is earlier.

The University is an equal opportunities employer and is committed to equality, ethics, inclusivity, diversity, and transparency.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14903

Harvard University

Rank: FELLOWS-IN-RESIDENCE PROGRAM

The Edmond & Lily Safra Center for Ethics at Harvard University invites applications from a broad range of researchers and practitioners who will work over the course of the year on pressing issues in ethics. Faculty in arts and sciences and professional schools, postdoctoral scholars, practitioners, and researchers from industry, government, and NGOs are eligible to apply. The call for applications for the 2025-26 academic year is completely open: we will consider any topic pertaining to the serious ethical questions of our time. Our Center will also be launching an interdisciplinary research network to explore ethical and political dimensions of disagreement, in both its productive and unproductive varieties. Philosophers, humanists, social psychologists, and any researchers from relevant domains are invited to indicate whether their project falls into this research orbit. All eligible applicants are encouraged to apply and will be given careful consideration; priority will be given to outstanding early career scholars and practitioners.

As always, our goal will be to craft a cohort in which all fellows will find valuable intellectual partnerships to support and spur their work. The ideal candidates are those who are willing to invest time and energy into building community with the other fellows in their cohort.

Fellows-in-Residence will be expected to devote the majority of their time to their individual projects and to participate in regular work-in-progress seminars. In addition, Fellows are strongly encouraged to participate in—and contribute to—the Center’s programming, which includes public lectures, themed seminars and reading groups, conferences, workshops, and lunch discussions.

This Fellowship is residential. With the exception of travel to conferences and meetings, Fellows are expected to be in residence in the Boston area at least four working days per week during the term, and working from the Center’s office space at least three days per week.

For the last few years, the Center has offered the possibility of joint fellowship opportunities with several other Centers at Harvard. We continue to offer that possibility, with specific potential affiliations to be worked out on a case-by-case basis:

Berkman Klein Center for Internet and Society at Harvard University
Carr Center for Human Rights at the Harvard Kennedy School
Center for Bioethics at the Harvard Medical School
Center for Research on Computation and Society at the Harvard John A. Paulson School of Engineering and Applied Sciences
Hutchins Center for African & African American Research at Harvard University
Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology and Bioethics at the Harvard Law School

Applicants will be invited to indicate on the application form whether they wish to be considered for a joint fellowship position with one of these Centers. If selected, the joint fellowship will offer access to development opportunities and programming at the Edmond & Lily Safra Center for Ethics and the partnering center.

NEW! Post-Doctoral Fellowships: For the first time, the Center will offer two-year fellowships specifically for postdoctoral researchers who receive(d) their degree between September 1, 2023 and August 30, 2025. One new fellow will be selected each year, ultimately creating a postdoctoral cohort within the Fellows-in-Residence program. We will accept applications for the postdoctoral fellowship on any topic pertaining to the serious ethical questions of our time.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants must have a PhD, professional degree, or a minimum of 5 years of equivalent professional experience by September 1 of the fellowship year. Applicants from any discipline or professional field will be considered. Those who have previously held a yearlong residential Fellowship at the Center are not eligible; this limitation does not apply to former Undergraduate Fellows or former Graduate Fellows. The Fellows-in-Residence Program runs the course of the academic year, typically from the beginning of September through the end of May, and is open to all applicants who meet the above criteria, regardless of citizenship.

Please note that advanced language skills in both written and spoken English are required for Fellows at the Center. Fellows are expected to discuss and/or present their work in English and are encouraged to participate in informal discussions with faculty and students with related interests. Application materials, including writing samples, should be in English. If offered a fellowship, non-native English speakers who cannot demonstrate their proficiency through (1) completion of a degree from an English-speaking institution of higher education or (2) satisfactory TOEFL or IELTS scores will be contacted by the Center staff to arrange for further evaluation as needed.

STIPEND

Faculty:

We offer a stipend of one-half of your base academic year salary up to $80,000 and a research allowance of up to $5,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Post-Doc:

The stipend for post-doctoral fellows will be $7,000/month for 2025-26. We also provide a research allowance of up to $5,000 per academic year for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Practitioner:

Practitioner stipends are determined on a case-by-case basis, commensurate with experience, up to a maximum of $80,000. We also provide a research allowance of up to $5,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Before beginning the application, you may wish to have the following information available:

The title of your research proposal
Names and contact information for 3 references (no letters are accepted at the application stage)

To apply, complete our online application form, which will request the information noted above. You will also be asked to upload the following documents:

Cover letter stating your background and interest in the Fellows-in-Residence Program at the Edmond & Lily Safra Center for Ethics Curriculum Vitae
Research proposal
Recent writing sample

Please note: Name and contact information for three professional references will be requested, but no letters will be accepted at this stage. Please prepare your references for the possibility that we will reach out to them for their assessment of your work. In that case, they will be asked to submit a letter and complete a form within a short turn-around period.

The deadline to submit an application is?November 15, 2024, with decisions likely to be announced in March 2025. Please note that the application form will be saved automatically while in progress, but no edits or alterations will be allowed once you have submitted the application. Please direct questions regarding this application process to?ethics_fellowships@fas.harvard.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/15/2024
Date Posted: 9/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14893

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Faculty Position in Migration

The University of Notre Dame's Keough School of Global Affairs, in conjunction with the Notre Dame Poverty Initiative, is searching for an Associate or Full Professor who works in migration. The Keough School anticipates multiple hires in this area. Duties include research, teaching and service.

Each professorship will be based in the Keough School, which promotes interdisciplinary and policy-relevant research on critical issues in global affairs, transformative educational programs, and partnerships for global engagement. The Keough School approaches global affairs and development through a focus on integrated human development, which is also central to the University of Notre Dame's mission. Each successful candidate will be a core faculty member of the Klau Institute for Civil and Human Rights and an affiliated faculty member of the university's new population center, Notre Dame Population Analytics. These units will provide substantial resources to support research.

Competitive candidates for this position will have a scholarly track record with evidence of high-quality research as well as experience or interest in policy engagement. Candidates should have a PhD in economics, political science, sociology or related fields. A successful candidate's research on migration will contribute to population studies and will exhibit policy and/or scholarly engagement with questions of human dignity and human rights.

The University of Notre Dame seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to our Catholic tradition, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. The Keough School is committed to fostering a culture of diverse views and approaches to Global Affairs. We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or service has prepared them to contribute to our mission and commitment to diversity and excellence. All applicants whose scholarly pursuits will enhance our ability to fulfill that commitment are encouraged to apply.

Applications including a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and research statement should be submitted through the Interfolio system: <https://apply.interfolio.com/153900>. Evidence of teaching and/or mentoring effectiveness is also welcomed. Questions about the position can be directed to the co-chairs of the search committee, Professor William Evans (wevans1@nd.edu) and Professor Jennifer Mason McAward (mason.1@nd.edu). We will begin the review of applicants on October 31, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/31/2024
Date Posted: 9/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14894

Boston College Law School

Rank: Policy Director
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Other
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Legislative Studies, United States

Job Description

The mission of the Initiative on Land, Housing & Property Rights (the Initiative) is to address real property issues that impact poor and disadvantaged communities. Many of the activities the Initiative undertakes assist disadvantaged communities that have been harmed as a result of lacking adequate land, housing, and other property rights. The Initiative's core activities include training law students and other students to develop legal and other technical expertise that can be used by these students when they are in school and after they graduate to help disadvantaged people and communities address their land and housing issues; catalyzing both theoretical and applied, policy-relevant research on various land and housing issues that have been understudied and undertheorized; proactively working to develop impactful legal reform and policy solutions to address property problems disadvantaged communities experience; and sponsoring both continuing legal education programs for lawyers and community legal education and other outreach programs for disadvantaged communities. The Initiative hopes to collaborate with other stakeholders in a true spirit of partnership to more effectively address land and housing issues that disadvantaged communities experience, specifically communities that are disproportionately though not exclusively communities of color.

Position Summary

The ILHPR seeks an ambitious, entrepreneurial, and thoughtful Policy Director to help build up the Initiative's Legal Reform and Policy Laboratory so that it can substantially increase the Initiative's ability to develop legal reform and policy proposals to address critical land and housing issues at the local, state, and federal level and, in addition, to assist other stakeholders doing such work. A model of the type of legal reform and policy proposals the Initiative would like to help develop is the Uniform Partition of Heirs Property Act (UPHPA), a groundbreaking model state property statute, which was principally drafted by Professor Thomas W. Mitchell, the Initiative's founder and Director and a MacArthur Fellow. Thus far, the UPHPA has been enacted into law in 24 states/jurisdictions that are located in every region of the country, and it has helped thousands of disadvantaged families across the country maintain ownership of their family-owned properties and their generational wealth. Initiative staff have advised stakeholders in several states who have been interested in having their states enact the UPHPA into law. In addition, Initiative staff have helped a select number of other stakeholders at the state and federal level develop legal reform and policy proposals addressing critical land and housing issues. The Initiative is committed to playing leading and supporting roles in developing additional bold yet pragmatic legal reform and policy proposals to address a range of land, housing, and other real property issues disadvantaged communities face.

The Policy Director will manage and support members of the policy team, including the Post-Graduate Policy Fellow and the Ph.D. Fellow for Policy and will work with members of the Policy Team to ensure the quality of policy projects at each stage of every project.

The Policy Director will serve as a member of the ILHPR's leadership team, which includes the Initiative's Director, the Faculty Director of Housing and Property Rights Programs, the Senior Associate Director of Operations, the Research Director, and the Assistant Director of Special Projects. The Policy Director will consult with other members of the leadership team, the Post-Graduate Policy Fellow, and certain external stakeholders to develop the Initiative's policy agenda. To make the policy work sustainable, the Policy Director will help identify funding opportunities for policy projects and will then assist in developing funding proposals and in other development efforts with other Initiative staff and/or external stakeholders.

The Policy Director also will serve as the Initiative's representative for policy-related media relations and for other stakeholders interested in various aspects of the Initiative's policy program. The Initiative seeks candidates whose experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion, both in our internal management practices as well as in shaping our Initiative's policy agenda.

This is a hybrid position. There will be some travel, primarily in New England and the Mid-Atlantic region, though there also will be some travel required to other parts of the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14880

Boston College Law School

Rank: Research Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Other

Specializations: Legislative Studies, Race & Ethnic Politics, United States

The mission of the Initiative on Land, Housing & Property Rights (the Initiative) is to address real property issues that impact poor and disadvantaged communities. Many of the activities the Initiative undertakes assist disadvantaged communities that have been harmed as a result of lacking adequate land, housing, and other property rights. The Initiative's core activities include training law students and other students to develop legal and other technical expertise that can be used by these students when they are in school and after they graduate to help disadvantaged people and communities address their land and housing issues; catalyzing both theoretical and applied, policy-relevant research on various land and housing issues that have been understudied and undertheorized; proactively working to develop impactful legal reform and policy solutions to address property problems disadvantaged communities experience; and sponsoring both continuing legal education programs for lawyers and community legal education and other outreach programs for disadvantaged communities. The Initiative hopes to collaborate with other stakeholders in a true spirit of partnership to more effectively address land and housing issues that disadvantaged communities experience, specifically communities that are disproportionately though not exclusively communities of color.

Position Summary

The ILHPR seeks an ambitious, entrepreneurial, and thoughtful Research Director to help build up the Initiative's research program so that it can produce timely, high quality, and policy-relevant research, which will inform a variety of stakeholders, including academics, other researchers, and policymakers. The research will be generated using a variety of methodologies, including quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods, and doctrinal, a research method many legal academic researchers use. The Research Director will manage and support members of the research team, including the Post-Graduate Research Fellow and the Ph.D. Fellow for Research and will work with members of the research team to ensure the quality of research projects at each stage of every research project.

The Research Director will serve as a member of the ILHPR's leadership team, which includes the Initiative's Director, the Faculty Director of Housing and Property Rights Programs, the Senior Associate Director of Operations, the Policy Director, and the Assistant Director of Special Projects. The Research Director will consult with other members of the leadership team, the Post-Graduate Research Fellow, and certain external stakeholders to develop the Initiative's research agenda, including the following: identifying new research opportunities; developing robust research designs that in the aggregate employ a variety of methodologies; ensuring there is a robust set of annual convenings, including an annual national conference, seminars, workshops, and panel discussions; and overseeing the publication and dissemination of research reports. To make the research work sustainable, the Research Director will help identify funding opportunities for research projects, sometimes working individually and sometimes in collaboration with other Initiative staff members, and will then assist in developing funding proposals and in other development efforts. The Research Director also will work with the leadership team and the Post-Graduate Research Fellow in an effort to establish new research collaborations and will serve as the Initiative's point person in leading and managing any external research partnerships that are established.

The Research Director also will serve as the Initiative's representative for research-related media relations and for other stakeholders interested in various aspects of the Initiative's research program. The Initiative seeks candidates whose experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion, both in our internal management practices as well as in shaping our Initiative's research agenda.

This is a hybrid position. There will be some travel, primarily in New England and the Mid-Atlantic region, though there also will be some travel required to other parts of the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14881

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Rank: Lipton Professor of Jewish Studies

Job Summary:

The Mosse/Weinstein Center for Jewish Studies seeks a visionary and collaborative faculty member to serve as the tenured Lipton Professor of Jewish Studies. In addition, the successful candidate will serve as the Center's Director for up to five years (subject to regular academic governance procedures). The ideal candidate will be committed to advancing an innovative research agenda, furthering the development of a robust curriculum, and fostering Jewish Studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison as well as the Center's critical service and outreach efforts in accordance with the Wisconsin Idea (<https://www.wisc.edu/wisconsin-idea/>). This candidate will provide faculty leadership in keeping with the University's tradition of shared governance (<https://www.wisc.edu/governance/>) and will guide the Mosse/Weinstein Center for Jewish Studies to develop and realize its mission.

We welcome applicants from any disciplinary background to apply, but we encourage applications from those with research expertise that complements current strengths on campus. We are especially interested in scholarship in the following areas: early modern studies, Sephardic studies, Atlantic studies, anthropology, and medieval studies.

Applicants at the current rank of Professor or advanced Associate Professor are invited to apply.

The successful candidate will advance the educational mission of the College of Letters & Science, that values, prioritizes, and actualizes evidence-based and student-centered teaching and undergraduate student mentoring. They will contribute to an environment that fosters engagement and a sense of belonging for faculty, staff, students and members of the broader community.

Responsibilities:

As a tenured member of the faculty within UW-Madison, the successful candidate will conduct research, teach students, and perform program, college, and university service and outreach in accordance with the Wisconsin Idea.

As Director of the Mosse/Weinstein Center for Jewish Studies, the candidate will help to identify and implement actions that promote and advance the Center's mission and goals. The Director's actions will take place within several spheres:

* In the area of faculty and staff administration, the Director will make requests for faculty and academic staff searches; mentor probationary faculty and oversee tenure processes; oversee the post-tenure review process and promotions in rank; handle personnel matters and appoint departmental committees; facilitate team-building and a strong climate within the shared governance structure; and articulate and implement a commitment to inclusion, belonging, and thriving.

* In research, the Director is responsible for fostering top-notch and innovative research in Jewish Studies within the Center and on-campus more broadly.

* In teaching and learning, the Director is responsible for maintaining and extending the excellence of the Center for Jewish Studies. The Director will work with the Curriculum Committee and Associate Director on curricular planning at the undergraduate level, especially when it comes to the development of courses that serve as a gateway to the undergraduate major and certificate. The Director will pursue the creation of new undergraduate scholarship/fellowship opportunities and oversee administration of existing ones. Finally, the Director will participate in delivering the curriculum by teaching a reduced course load of 1-1 during the duration of their stint as Director, after which they will teach the standard 2-2 teaching load.

* In financial administration, the Director will provide budgetary oversight through shared governance. Working with the Budget Committee, Executive Committee, and College administration, the Director will set and administer budgetary priorities.

* In advancement and development, the Director will collaborate with faculty, staff, and institutional leaders to determine goals and to implement those goals in conjunction with the Center's Director of Development. The Director will provide donor stewardship, oversee the Center's Board of Visitors, and cultivate new donors.

* In general administration, the Director will inspire and realize an energetic vision for the Center, and will act as liaison to other college-wide and campus entities.

Education:

Required

PhD in a relevant humanistic or social scientific field is required

Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have an academic record in research, teaching, and service in Jewish Studies commensurate with an appointment at the rank of advanced Associate Professor with Tenure or Full Professor with tenure; experience in academic leadership, with three years preferred; a record of success in strategic planning and development; experience with budgets and resource allocation; proven commitment to enhancing inclusion, a sense of belonging, and thriving among students and faculty; understanding of and commitment to the mission, vision, and values of a public flagship R1 university; a willingness to play an active role in the life of the College and the University; a commitment to excellence in research, teaching, learning, and mentoring; strong leadership and communication skills; and the ability to collaboratively develop and articulate a bold vision for the future of the Mosse/Weinstein Center for Jewish Studies.

The successful candidate will demonstrate experience with fostering or the ability to foster an inclusive and equity-centered teaching, learning, mentoring, departmental, and research environment where all can thrive.

Anticipated Begin Date:
AUGUST 18, 2025

Salary:
Negotiable
ACADEMIC (9 months)

About UW Madison:

The University of Wisconsin-Madison occupies ancestral Ho-Chunk land known as Teejop. The University's history and ongoing colonization of this land and the land of eleven other indigenous nations in the state of Wisconsin informs efforts to build a shared future of collaboration and innovation.

The College of Letters & Science is committed to creating an inclusive environment in which all of us - students, staff, and faculty - can thrive. Ours is a community in which we all are welcome. Most importantly, we strive to build a community in which all of us feel a great sense of belonging. There is no excellence without diversity in all its forms; diverse teams are more creative and successful than homogeneous ones. We are better when we are diverse and when we acknowledge, celebrate and honor our diversity. In acknowledging and honoring our diversity, we also assume a responsibility to support and stand up for each other.

The successful applicant will be responsible for ensuring eligibility for employment in the United States on or before the effective date of the appointment. University sponsorship is not available for this position.

How to Apply:

Apply online at <https://jobs.wisc.edu/jobs/lipton-professor-of-jewish-studies-madison-wisconsin-united-states>. Applications must be received through UW Madison's online application system. Applications submitted outside of this system will not be considered. Click the "Apply Now" button to start the application process.

Applications are due by November 15, 2024; however, the position will remain open, and applications may be considered until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) a CV, (3) a 20- to 40-page research sample (e.g. article, book chapter, or disciplinary equivalent), (4) a 1-page leadership statement, and (5) the names and contact information of three references, at least one of whom is able to speak to the candidate's leadership qualifications and experience. The cover letter should include a narrative of the candidate's research and teaching profile and trajectory (including undergraduate classes they might teach). The leadership statement should address the candidate's leadership qualities and experience and articulate a vision for Jewish Studies on campus. If selected to participate further in the recruitment process, candidates may be asked to submit other supporting materials and references will be invited to submit a signed letter of recommendation.

Questions may be sent to Prof. Jordan Rosenblum at jrosenblum@wisc.edu.

Please note that applicants will be evaluated based upon submitted application materials and therefore should speak to and include evidence of their qualifications. Application materials must clearly demonstrate the applicant's dedication to excellence in student-centered teaching and mentoring. Additionally, materials should showcase the applicant's ability to purposefully plan their teaching practices, evidenced through goals, action plans, reflection, and related documentation. This portion of the application materials must be created by the applicant and may include supporting letters. It cannot be only in the form of letters and testimony by others.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Date Posted: 9/19/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14887

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Climate Solutions 2025-2027

Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Climate Solutions at the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs. We seek a scholar to help us address the political economy of the clean energy transition. The postdoc could help research topics such as: how climate change affects electrical grids in the United States, Europe, India, or elsewhere; the social reception of new energy infrastructure and stakeholder engagement in the clean energy transition; how states and market actors can work together to finance decarbonization; the industrial organization of renewable energy providers; policy instruments for electric vehicles or other modes of transportation; electrical grid stability in an age of climate change; the social & racial justice dimensions of electricity or energy; the diffusion of clean energy innovations; the politics of climate obstruction and delay; and carbon border adjustment mechanisms or supply chain challenges. Ability to conduct and write policy-oriented research, as well as academic research, is essential. There are no teaching responsibilities.

The selected candidate will devote 33 percent time to projects at the Climate Solutions Lab, under the supervision of Professors Jeff Colgan, Jennifer Hadden, and Christopher Rea, and 67 percent time to their own (climate-related) research projects. The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs is interested in qualified candidates who have demonstrated commitment to excellence by providing leadership in teaching, research or service toward building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Applications should be submitted via Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/153582>

Start Date: Summer 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/18/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14875

Coastal Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Cyber Threat Intelligence
Subfield(s): Other, Other, Other
Specializations: Intelligence, Intelligence, Intelligence

Assistant Professor of Cyber Threat Intelligence
The Edwards College of Humanities and Fine Arts and the Gupta College of Science at Coastal Carolina University invite applications for a full-time assistant professor (tenure-track) position in Cyber Threat Intelligence (CTI). This is a joint position between the Departments of Intelligence and Security Studies and the Department of Computing Sciences. The Department of Intelligence and Security Studies will serve as the home department. For this position, CTI focuses on gathering, analyzing, and interpreting information about potential cybersecurity threats, enabling organizations to understand and mitigate risks.

The successful applicant will be appointed to a full-time, nine-month position beginning in August 2024.

Preference will be given to applicants with broad training and/or expertise in cyber security and intelligence topics who can spearhead the development of a new cyber threat intelligence focus within our university's curriculum. This effort will center on synthesizing the broad range of technical and human factors underlying computer networks and associated malign actors. As a result, the ability to offer courses in cybersecurity, programming, cyber threat intelligence, emerging technologies, and other areas of departmental needs is of particular interest. Professional experience in the field is welcome but not required.

Required Qualifications are an earned doctorate in cybersecurity, computer science, intelligence studies, or a closely related field (ABD will be considered if the defense is by August 2024).

Desired Qualifications:

- A record of excellence in university teaching, service, and consistent scholarly research;
- Potential for developing curriculum and other educational opportunities to support academic programming;
- A record of excellence in mentoring, supporting, and advising undergraduate students;
- Excellent oral and written communication skills;
- Experience in distance or online course delivery.

Responsibilities:

The duties include teaching, research, and service. Specific responsibilities will include:

- 3:3 teaching load – 3 courses provided to each college for teaching undergraduate courses
- Advisement duties in each college (determined by department chairs);
- Assistance in developing curricular and other programmatic initiatives to support the growth of the new initiative in cyber threat intelligence;
- Engage in scholarly activity connected to either department; and
- Engage in departmental service to both colleges and service to the home college.

The Edwards College of Humanities and Fine Arts is a diverse college with more than 1,700 undergraduate and graduate students. It offers 23 undergraduate majors and 4 graduate programs in 10 departments, including degrees in interdisciplinary studies, communication, the humanities, and the fine and performing arts. The Intelligence and Security Studies Department was established in 2021 and is one of the top undergraduate programs in the field. This new department originates from a highly successful major program that has been in operation since 2012 at CCU. Today this program has grown to more than 300 majors and is known for the strong placement record of its graduates and its established partnerships with federal government organizations.

The Gupta College of Science is the largest college within Coastal Carolina University, with more than 2,800 undergraduate and graduate students. The College offers a premier STEM education delivered by committed faculty from 7 different STEM departments. The College offers 13 undergraduate degree programs, covering diverse fields from biochemistry to psychology and 15 focused concentrations that allow students to develop expertise alongside their degrees. For those pursuing advanced studies, Gupta College presents two master's degree programs and one doctoral program. Four academic programs within the Gupta College of Science have earned accreditation through the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET and the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET.

Coastal Carolina University is a public comprehensive liberal arts institution located in Conway, South Carolina, just nine miles from the Atlantic coastal resort city of Myrtle Beach. Coastal Carolina University enrolls over 10,000 students from 49 states and 55 nations. The University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award the baccalaureate and master's degrees of national and/or regional significance in the arts and sciences, business, humanities, education, and health and human services, a specialist degree in instructional technology, and PhD degrees in marine science: coastal and marine systems science and education sciences.

Interested candidates should submit: a letter of application (outlining interest in the position with the specified qualifications and approach to teaching), current curriculum vitae, copies of transcripts of all graduate work (copies are acceptable at this time), evidence of teaching effectiveness (Research Statement), a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests, and contact information for least three (3) professional references. All information and material must be submitted electronically at <http://jobs.coastal.edu>. Applicants that are invited for interviews must provide official transcripts of all graduate coursework prior to visiting campus. Applicant review will begin January 24, 2024 and will continue until position is filled.

Coastal Carolina University is committed to fostering an environment that embraces diversity, equity and inclusion, and we seek candidates who will contribute to a climate that supports the growth and development of a diverse campus community. The University provides equal opportunity without regard to race, color, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, veteran status or disability in admissions, employment and in all of its educational programs and activities. We encourage individuals from underrepresented groups to apply.

Coastal Carolina University is an EO/AA employer.

Posting Number: F00389P

Link to posting: <https://jobs.coastal.edu/postings/22124>

Start Date: Winter 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14872

Utah State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Utah State University invites applications for a tenure-track, academic-year position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning August 2025. Candidates should have research interests in the areas of health or education politics and policy. Application review will begin October 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

This hire is part of a broader cluster initiative examining health and educational disparities across the College of Humanities & Social Sciences, the Emma Eccles Jones College of Education and Human Services, and the Quinney College of Natural Resources. This collaboration seeks to expand and enhance research and curricular offerings that investigate and produces scholarship around these themes in Utah, the nation, and the world.

Responsibilities will include a primary role in research, teaching at both the master's and undergraduate levels, and service. Preference will be given to those with expertise in research methods. The anticipated teaching load is two courses per semester, with two course releases in the first three years.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must have a doctoral degree in Political Science as of employment date

Candidates must demonstrate potential for excellence in research?

Candidates must demonstrate potential for effectiveness in teaching
The successful applicant must generate a satisfactory outcome on a background check.

The Department of Political Science is a vibrant community of about 14 tenured or tenure-track faculty with a strong tradition for excellence. The department is one of 8 departments situated in the College of Humanities & Social Sciences. This position is based on our main campus in Logan, Utah in the scenic Cache Valley and offers abundant opportunities for cultural experiences, shopping, and access to nature.

Founded in 1888, Utah State University is Utah's premier land-grant, public service university, with a strong commitment to excellence, access, and inclusion, empowering people to lead successful lives of involvement, innovation, and impact. Utah State provides high-quality education to 27,500-plus students locations throughout the state, including at three residential campuses, eight statewide campuses, and 23 education centers. USU Online educates students from all 50 states and 55 countries. For over 25 years, USU Extension has served and engaged Utahns in all of Utah's counties. As an R1 research institution, Utah State is dedicated to advancing knowledge through research and scholarly activities, providing a high-quality undergraduate and graduate education at an affordable price.

Utah State is committed to cultivating a community of inclusive excellence where all perspectives, values, cultures, and identities are acknowledged, welcomed, and valued. We seek to recruit, hire, and retain people from all walks of life who will champion excellence in education, research, discovery, outreach, and service. We believe that promoting a strong sense of community and belonging empowers and engages all members of USU to thrive and be successful. Forbes recognized our commitment to employees when they named Utah State the best employer in Utah in 2023. Learn more about USU.

The university provides a Dual Career Assistance Program to support careers for partners who are also seeking employment. Additionally,

USU is committed to providing access and reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities. To request a reasonable accommodation for a disability, contact the university's ADA Coordinator in the Office of Human Resources at (435) 797-0122 or hr@usu.edu.

About the Region

U.S. News and World Report ranked Utah first for its strong economy, fiscal stability, education, and health care. Outstanding outdoor recreational opportunities abound throughout the state, including five national parks, 43 state parks and recreation areas, and 15 alpine ski resorts. The home of USU's main campus, Logan, is a city of 54,000-plus people in a picturesque mountain valley 80 miles north of Salt Lake City. The Logan metro area claimed the top spot in the Milken Institute's 2022 ranking for best-performing small cities in the nation.

To apply, complete an online application by visiting <https://careers-usu.icims.com/jobs/intro> and searching for the job's requisition number, which is 2024-8372. When completing the online application, please attach:

CV to be uploaded at the beginning of your application in the Candidate Profile under "Resume/CV"

Documents below to be uploaded at the beginning of your application in the Candidate Profile under "Documents 1-10"

Cover Letter

One or More Unpublished Writing Samples

Research Statement

Statement of Teaching Philosophy

Evidence of Effective Teaching, if Available.

Names and email addresses of three references, that we may request letters of recommendation from.

**Document size may not exceed 10 MB.**

Employees typically work indoors and are protected from weather and/or contaminants, but not, necessarily, occasional temperature changes.

In its programs and activities, including in admissions and employment, Utah State University does not discriminate or tolerate discrimination, including harassment, based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, status as a protected veteran, or any other status protected by University policy, Title IX, or any other federal, state, or local law.

The following individuals have been designated to handle inquiries regarding the application of Title IX and its implementing regulations and/or USU's non-discrimination policies:

Executive Director of the Office of Equity Matthew Pinner, discrimination@usu.edu, Distance Education Rm. 401, 435-797-1266

Title IX Coordinator Cody Carmichael, titleix@usu.edu, Distance Education Rm. 404, 435-797-1266

Mailing address: 5100 Old Main Hill, Logan, UT 84322

For further information regarding non-discrimination, please visit <https://equity.usu.edu/>, or contact:

U.S. Department of Education, Office of Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights, 800-421-3481, OCR@ed.gov

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14870

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Assistant Professor in Technology Ethics

The University of Notre Dame's Keough School of Global Affairs in conjunction with the Notre Dame Ethics Initiative invites applicants for an Assistant Professor focused in the area of technology ethics. We seek candidates focusing on the ethical issues related to AI and digital technology. Areas of particular interest include, but are not limited to, the impact of AI and digital technology on human dignity and workers, poverty and inequality, economic development and democracy, or on the environment and climate change. Duties include research, teaching and service.

The professorship will be based in the Keough School, which promotes interdisciplinary and policy-relevant research on critical issues in global affairs, transformative educational programs, and partnerships for global engagement. The Keough School approaches global affairs and development through a focus on integrated human development, which is also central to the University of Notre Dame's mission. The successful candidate will also be appointed as an affiliated faculty member of Notre Dame's Institute for Ethics and the Common Good, which convenes a multidisciplinary community to advance moral understanding and develop compelling responses to the most pressing ethical issues of our era.

Competitive candidates for this professorship will have a scholarly track record with evidence of, or potential for, high-quality research and, ideally, policy engagement in global and national discussions on ethical issues related to the use of AI and digital technology. A PhD from any discipline is acceptable with a preference for philosophy, computer science, economics, business, sociology, political science, or public policy. Regardless of discipline the candidate's research should include deep expertise on the intersection between ethics and AI/digital technology. ABD candidates will be considered for an entry level position.

The University of Notre Dame seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to our Catholic tradition, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. The Keough School is committed to fostering a culture of diverse views and approaches to Global Affairs. We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or service has prepared them to contribute to our mission and commitment to diversity and excellence. All applicants whose scholarly pursuits will enhance our ability to fulfill that commitment are encouraged to apply.

Applications including a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and research statement should be submitted through the Interfolio system: <https://apply.interfolio.com/153902>. Evidence of teaching and/or mentoring effectiveness is also welcomed. Applicants should also arrange for three confidential letters of reference to be submitted via Interfolio. Questions about the position can be directed to the chair of the search committee, Professor Yong Lee, at yong.s.lee@nd.edu. We will begin the review of applicants on October 31, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14851

Yale University

Rank: Yale Program for the Study of Antisemitism Postdoctoral Associate

Yale University intends to appoint a Postdoctoral Associate in the Study of Antisemitism for the academic year 2025-2026. The position will come with two main responsibilities:

- Design and teach a one-semester course for undergraduates on a topic relating to antisemitism
- Help the director and program coordinator develop the intellectual and programmatic vision of YPSA.

Housed at the Whitney Humanities Center, the Yale Program for the Study of Antisemitism is an interdisciplinary program dedicated to promoting research into the phenomenon of antisemitism from antiquity to the present. It brings together scholars from across the university and from a variety of different disciplines—History, Political Science, Literature, Sociology, Psychology, etc. Currently, the main activities of the program involve sponsoring research projects and hosting lectures and conferences. The Postdoctoral Associate will be expected to attend all YPSA events and participate in all YPSA activities.

While the funding for the position will come from YPSA, the Postdoctoral Associate will be associated with the Humanities Program, and the course taught by the Associate will be listed with that program. Additional affiliations with Yale departments are also possible.

Qualifications

Initial appointment will be for one year. A Ph.D. involving research centrally related to antisemitism is required, although disciplinary specialization is open.

Application Instructions

The application can be submitted online via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/153767, and must include: a) cover letter; b) curriculum vitae; and c) three letters of recommendation, including one that discusses teaching experience. We will begin reviewing applications on December 1, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

For more information, please contact Inessa Laskova at inessa.laskova@yale.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14835

University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor / Professor - Applied Economics and Munk Chair in Economics

The Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy in the Faculty of Arts & Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Applied Economics. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025. The successful candidate will also be named the Munk Chair in Economics for a five-year term, which will be renewable following a favourable review.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Economics, with a clearly demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching in the area of applied economics. The Munk School seeks a scholar whose research and teaching interests complement and enhance our existing strengths. The Committee especially welcomes scholars who focus on the impact of digitalization on democratic theory, institutions and/or practices, the changing world order, or the political economy of innovation and candidates whose work engages with policy, with a deep understanding of microeconomics and macroeconomics, with an appreciation for its application to global affairs and public policy and excellent theoretical knowledge of the core literature in their disciplines. Candidates will have an established international reputation and will be expected to sustain and lead innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to maintain an outstanding, competitive, externally funded research program.

The successful candidate will teach applied economics courses in the Munk School's professional graduate programs (the Master of Global Affairs and the Master of Public Policy) to students from a wide range of academic backgrounds and interests. The successful candidate will have experience or demonstrable interest in a professional school and/or in an interdisciplinary environment.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked disciplinary and/or field-relevant academic journals or academic presses, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades, other noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of the field, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching may be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, through the teaching dossier submitted as part of the application including a teaching statement, sample course materials, teaching evaluations, and through endorsements of teaching in the letters of reference.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

For more information about the Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy at the University of Toronto St. George campus, please visit our home page at <https://munkschool.utoronto.ca/>.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; one recent publication; teaching dossier (including a teaching statement and sample course materials and teaching evaluations); and a research statement outlining current and future research interests.

Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted (this happens overnight). Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in the PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact munkschool.academic@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday November 7, 2024.

The University of Toronto has adopted the AAU Principles on Preventing Sexual Harassment in Academia, including the requirement that applicants release personnel information from prior employers regarding sexual misconduct. Full details and requirements can be found here.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement:

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement:

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

To apply please click here. (<https://jobs.utoronto.ca/job/Toronto-Associate-Professor-Professor-Applied-Economics-and-Munk-Chair-in-Economics-ON/584372017/>)

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/7/2024

Date Posted: 9/9/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14815

Lehigh University*Rank: Bernard L. & Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations*Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Position: Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair in International Relations

LEHIGH UNIVERSITY. The Department of International Relations invites applications for a tenured Full Professor to fill the Bernard L. and Bertha F. Cohen Chair, with an anticipated start date of July 2025. The position is open to all research and teaching specializations within the fields of international relations, foreign policy, and/or comparative politics.

Candidates must have an earned PhD in International Relations or a closely related field. The ideal candidate will have connections to the policy community in Washington, DC, and/or New York City and be able to assist students with internship placement.

Candidates are expected to have a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching and excellence in research. The individual hired will, specifically, be expected to teach courses in International Relations at the undergraduate level, engage in scholarly activities, and participate in departmental, college, and university service, as well as advise undergraduate internships.

Lehigh is among the few higher educational institutions in the US that has long had a separate department of IR. This allows students with a particular interest in international affairs to benefit from a concentrated, high-level program of study that few other schools offer.

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly-ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for over 7,500 students. Lehigh University has some 5,800 undergraduates, 1,800 graduate students, and nearly 600 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA, a vibrant and historic area. Over 840,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia.

Review of applications will begin on October 11, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, however, applications should be received by October 11, 2024. Applicants should submit their materials at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28335>. Candidates should submit the following materials:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Research statement that describes past scholarly contributions and future research directions

Teaching statement that describes instructional philosophy and courses that the candidate would want to teach or develop

Name and contact information for three references

A statement on contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) that describes knowledge, prior DEI experience, and the candidate's future plans for enhancing community and culture at Lehigh (the Lehigh ADVANCE Center's guide for understanding and preparing such statements is available here)

All inquiries regarding the search should be directed to Ms. Edann Brady at emb703@lehigh.edu or 610-758-3390.

Start Date: Fall 2025Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/6/2024Salary: Above $159,999eJobs ID: 14800Duke University*Rank: Associate/Full Professor of Climate Policy

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University seeks to hire a tenure-line, senior (Associate or Full) faculty member in the area of climate policy, in particular an environmental social scientist or climate policy scholar, broadly defined. The successful candidate will join a growing set of faculty at Duke focused on climate as part of Duke's Climate Commitment. Further, this search complements another search at Sanford, for a junior, tenure-line faculty member in climate with a focus on the intersection between the public and private sectors. We may consider advanced Assistant Professors but we do not anticipate hiring below the rank of Associate Professor. Successful candidates will be expected to teach courses in Sanford's core curriculum and in their area of specialization, along with electives that increase Sanford and Duke's climate offerings.

The ideal candidate has academic training and a track record of research, teaching, and mentoring in intersections of climate change and public policy from local to regional, transnational, or global perspectives. A successful applicant could have a background in any of public policy, political science, sociology, anthropology, geography, economics, sustainability science, or other related social science disciplines, as well as experience working in climate policy. Applicants must have a PhD, in a relevant discipline, with demonstrated capacity for strength in scholarly publication, teaching, and public engagement.

The Sanford School includes nearly 70 interdisciplinary full-time faculty and offers an undergraduate major, five Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. The Sanford School houses several research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, DC, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Duke University and The Sanford School of Public Policy are strongly committed to advancing inclusive excellence throughout our research, teaching, and service activities. A diverse faculty – defined broadly as representing a wide range of identities, lived experiences, and perspectives – is a prerequisite for excellence and is essential to driving innovation within our scholarly community. To achieve these goals, it is essential that all members of the community feel valued and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community are expected to uphold these values, and we seek to hire faculty who are passionate about increasing the participation and success of individuals from all different backgrounds and communities.

Candidates should submit: a letter of application describing research and teaching interests and experiences; a statement on fostering equitable, inclusive learning-and-research environments; a CV; a writing sample; and the names and contact information for three references (though we do not expect to ask for letters until we get to a short list). These should be submitted via: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28183>

Applications submitted by September 30th will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, you can contact Alex Pfaff, search committee chair, at alex.pfaff@duke.edu.

Duke is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, (including pregnancy and pregnancy related conditions), sexual orientation, or military status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14783

San Diego State University

Rank: Mexican-Central American Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Central America, Mexico, Latin American

Description

The Political Science Department at San Diego State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Mexican and/or Central American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 2025. Applicants should demonstrate a well-developed research agenda, a promise of sustained scholarship, and a record of effective teaching.

Qualifications

The department seeks a scholar with expertise in the politics of Mexico or Central America broadly understood. We are open on theoretical and methodological approaches and welcome scholars trained in comparative politics or international relations. The successful candidate's geographic scope of research will focus on one or more countries in the region while substantive topics can include, but are not limited to, the politics of inequality, development, indigenous politics, environmental politics, state/society relations, immigration/migration, militarization, social movements, or human rights. The successful candidate will have sufficient expertise to teach and mentor on the politics of Mexico.

As part of a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) located on the US-Mexico border, we value research and teaching that are grounded in the politics of neighboring countries that have deep historical, economic, and political ties to the US and to Southern California. The candidate would be expected to offer a range of courses serving political science and associated disciplines and might also collaborate with interdisciplinary programs such as the Center for Latin American Studies, Sustainability, ISCOR (International Security and Conflict Resolution), or the Mesoamerican Studies Center in Oaxaca.

The Political Science Department at San Diego State is dedicated to the ideal of the engaged teacher-scholar. It has over 600 undergraduate majors and provides course offerings for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. At the graduate level, the department maintains an M.A. program of high quality. The members of the faculty share a strong commitment to collegiality, active participation in the governing of the department, innovative scholarship, methodological pluralism, rigorous teaching, and robust intellectual and normative engagement. Candidates are encouraged to consult the department website: <http://politicalscience.sdsu.edu>.

We are seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups. Candidates must satisfy two or more of the eight Building on Inclusive Excellence (BIE) criteria. Candidates that meet BIE criteria: (a) are committed to engaging in service with underrepresented populations within the discipline, (b) have demonstrated knowledge of barriers for underrepresented students and faculty within the discipline, (c) have experience or have demonstrated commitment to teaching and mentoring underrepresented students, (d) have experience or have demonstrated commitment to integrating understanding of underrepresented populations and communities into research, (e) have experience in or have demonstrated commitment to extending knowledge of opportunities and challenges in achieving artistic/scholarly success to members of an underrepresented group, (f) have experience in or have demonstrated commitment to research that engages underrepresented communities, (g) have expertise or demonstrated commitment to developing expertise in cross-cultural communication and collaboration, and/or (h) have research interests that contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Please indicate in a separate diversity statement how you meet at least two (2) of these criteria. Additional guidance on our BIE program for applicants is here.

SDSU is the oldest institution of higher education in the San Diego region, with a campus in San Diego serving 36,000 undergraduate and graduate students and additional locations in Southern California's Imperial Valley and Tbilisi in the Republic of Georgia. SDSU is included in the Carnegie Foundation's Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity category. Established in 1897, SDSU offers bachelor degrees in 97 areas, masters in 84 and doctorates in 23. See <http://www.sdsu.edu> for more information. SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university, an Asian-Native American-Pacific Islander -Serving Institution and a Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/150566>. A completed file includes a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, complete teaching evaluations (quantitative evaluations and complete sets of qualitative evaluations of recent courses), sample syllabi, academic writing samples, diversity statement, and three letters of recommendation. To ensure full consideration, submit all materials by October 4th, 2024. Screening of applications will begin then. Applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. by the start of the term of appointment will be given priority. Those without a Ph.D. in-hand should include in their letter of interest a statement of progress on the dissertation and reasons to expect completion in a timely fashion.

Further inquiries should be addressed to Jonathan Graubart, Chair of the Department of Political Science, at graubart@sdsu.edu.

The minimum salary for this position is based on the current CSU salary schedule for Assistant Professors and may be revised based on contract collective bargaining. The anticipated salary range is from $82,000-$87,000. Salary placement will be based on the selected candidate's qualifications and experience, and salaries higher than the published maximums may be offered in limited circumstances. San Diego State University offers a rich benefits package that constitutes a major portion of total compensation. For benefits information, click here.

As part of its commitment to a safe and equitable "OneSDSU" community, SDSU requires that individuals seeking faculty employment provide at the time of application authorization to conduct background checks if they become a finalist for the position; applications without this authorization will be considered incomplete and not considered.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Apply Now

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/4/2024

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14785

University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor / Professor, Munk Chair in Global China

The Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy in the Faculty of Arts & Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Global China. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2025. The successful candidate will be named the endowed Munk Chair in Global China for a five-year term, which will be renewable following a favourable review.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in any social sciences field relating to Global China or a related area such as Economics, History, Law, Political Science, Sociology, with a clearly demonstrated exceptional record of excellence in research and teaching. The Munk School seeks a scholar whose research and teaching interests complement and enhance one or more of our existing strengths. The Committee especially welcomes scholars who focus on the impact of digitalization on democratic theory, institutions and/or practices, the changing world order, or the political economy of innovation and candidates whose work focuses on the global role of China within the political economy of innovation, and the role of democratic societies, justice, and foreign relations. Candidates will have an established international reputation and will be expected to sustain and lead innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to maintain an outstanding, competitive, externally funded research program.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked disciplinary and/or field-relevant academic journals or academic presses, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades, other noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of the field, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, through the teaching dossier submitted as part of the application including a teaching statement, sample course materials, teaching evaluations, and through endorsements of teaching in the letters of reference.

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses, including in the Munk School's professional graduate programs (the Master of Global Affairs and the Master of Public Policy) to students from a wide range of academic backgrounds and interests and will also expand teaching capacity in the Asian Institute Collaborative Master's Specialization in Contemporary East and Southeast Asian Studies and the Dr. David Chu program in Contemporary Asian Studies. The successful candidate will have experience or demonstrable interest in a professional school and/or in an interdisciplinary environment.

Salary and rank will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

For more information about the Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy at the University of Toronto St. George campus, please visit our home page at <https://munkschool.utoronto.ca/>.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; one recent publication; teaching dossier (including a teaching statement and sample course materials and teaching evaluations); and a research statement outlining current and future research interests. Equity, diversity and inclusion are essential to academic excellence as articulated in University of Toronto's Statement on Equity, Diversity and Excellence. We seek candidates who share these values and who demonstrate throughout the application materials their commitment and efforts to advance equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate FAQ.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in the PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact munkschool.academic@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday October 31, 2024.

The University of Toronto has adopted the AAU Principles on Preventing Sexual Harassment in Academia, including the requirement that applicants release personnel information from prior employers regarding sexual misconduct. Full details and requirements can be found here.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement:

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement:

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

To apply please go to <https://jobs.utoronto.ca/job/Toronto-Associate-Professor-Professor%2C-Munk-Chair-in-Global-China-ON/583953817/>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 9/2/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14740

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2025. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2025.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must submit a CV, and a job market paper. Applicants for non-tenured positions should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted by November 30, 2024. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to Faculty\_Recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Assistant Professor: $225,000 - $245,000

Associate Professor: $285,000 - $305,000

Full Professor: $375,000 - $395,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Consistent with its obligations under the law, the University will provide reasonable accommodation to any employee with a disability who requires accommodation to perform the essential functions of his or her job. Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical missions.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14776

SUNY, Binghamton University*Rank: Coordinator of Pre-Law Services

About Binghamton University:

Binghamton University is a premier public R1 research institution in the State University of New York (SUNY) system that unites more than 130 broadly interdisciplinary educational programs with some of the most vibrant research in the nation. Our unique character - shaped by our mission, outstanding academics, facilities, and community life - promotes extraordinary student success, research, and service; Binghamton University is where our students, faculty and staff thrive.

Working at Binghamton University is more than about having a great job - it is about having the opportunity to flourish in an exciting, engaging environment. Our faculty and staff appreciate Binghamton's collegial and inclusive culture and its commitment to excellence, education, innovation and civic engagement. Our diverse campus community contributes to our success.

Binghamton merges rigorous academics, distinguished faculty, exceptional staff, and ultramodern facilities to engage and challenge its 18,000+ students. The high-achieving Binghamton student body also represents a great diversity of life experiences, from first-generation college-goers to international students. Beyond their talent, these classmates share a desire to shape the future through technology, insight, intellectual exploration, and community service.

We are an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer, and in keeping with this commitment, we welcome all to apply, including veterans and persons with disabilities.

Job Description:

Budget Title: Senior Academic Advisor (SL-4)

Salary: $62,596

Reporting to the Director of Harpur Academic Advising, the Coordinator of Pre-Law Services leads Binghamton University's Pre-Law Advising efforts for students and recent alums interested in attending law school or pursuing legal careers. The Coordinator of Pre-Law Services works closely with faculty, advisors, and staff in a busy, collaborative environment. Responsibilities of the pre-law advisor are as follows:

Advising responsibilities:

Provide information on the curricular and co-curricular opportunities required to develop the skills and experiences required for success in law school

Provide advice to students applying to law schools, using rankings and other statistics

Assist advisees with the law school application process, including personal statements, letters of recommendation, LSATs, etc.

Provide support and offer relevant resources for underrepresented students

Advise on the financial aspects of law school, including costs and income expectations

Provide general academic advising to pre-law students, if appropriate
Serve as the departmental liaison to specific Harpur College departments

Creating connections:

Connect with pre-law student groups and faculty

Coordinate communication with the Harpur Law Council and other alumni in the legal field. Participate in Harpur Law Council meetings several times per year, some which are held in New York City.

Maintain and promote a network of faculty, attorneys and law students as advising resources

Connect with pre-law advisors and law school admissions representatives

Create and lead the BU pre-law advisory council, made up of faculty, advisors, students and other campus personnel connected with law school advising and career readiness.

Participate in the Northeast Association of Pre-Law Advisors (NAPLA) Programming:

Coordinate pre-law activities on campus, including speakers, outreach, training sessions, Work with the Harpur Dean's office to coordinate the HARP 300, a four-day winter session course held in NYC

Participate in new student orientation and admissions events

Coordinate and attend an annual trip to visit a New York City area law school, followed by a law alumni networking event

Develop and plan additional programming

Coordinate the Harpur Law Council's summer law internship programs

Administration:

Coordinate the annual campus Law Day with the Fleishman Center for Career and Professional Development

Collect law school admission data and prepare an annual pre-law report

Write dean's letters and process bar statements

Review and award pre-law scholarships

Supervision:

In addition to the primary duties, the pre-law advisor will take on the responsibility of supervising general advisors working with typical pre-law majors.

The successful candidate will be highly organized, self-disciplined, and able to work independently and as a part of a team. Candidates with a Ph.D. may have opportunities to teach as an adjunct in their discipline.

Requirements:

Master's Degree

3-5 years of experience in higher education or legal setting

Understanding of, appreciation for, and proven experience working with diverse constituencies

Effective and professional communication skills, both written and oral
Ability to participate in evening/weekend programming (occasional travel will be necessary)

Exceptional public speaking and presentation skills

Proven ability to complete responsibilities in a professional and timely manner

Preferred:

Strong knowledge and deep understanding of college student population, particularly pre-law students

Demonstrated understanding of law school admissions

Experience with website maintenance, database management, and presentation software

Visa sponsorship is not available for this position

Additional Information:

Offers of employment may be contingent upon successful completion of a pre-employment background check and verification of degree(s) and credentials.

Binghamton University is a tobacco-free campus.

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov

Payroll information can be found on our website <https://www.binghamton.edu/offices/human-resources/payroll/>

Cover letters may be addressed "To the Search Committee."

Postings active on the website, accept applications until closure.

For information on the Dual Career Program, please visit: <https://www.binghamton.edu/offices/human-resources/prospective/dual-career/index.html>

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

The State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. It is the policy of Binghamton University to provide for and promote equal opportunity employment, compensation, and other terms and conditions of employment without discrimination on the basis of age, race, color, religion, disability, national origin, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, veteran or military service member status, marital status, domestic violence victim status, genetic predisposition or carrier status, or arrest and/or criminal conviction record unless based upon a bona fide occupational qualification or other exception.

As required by Title IX and its implementing regulations Binghamton University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational programs and activities which it operates. This requirement extends to employment and admission. Inquiries about sex discrimination may be directed to the University Title IX Coordinator or directly to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR). Contact information for the Title IX Coordinator and OCR, as well as the University's complete Non-Discrimination Notice may be found here.

Binghamton University is committed to providing access, equal opportunity, and reasonable accommodation for individuals with disabilities in employment, its services, programs, and activities. To request reasonable accommodation to participate in the job application or interview process, contact: Ada Robinson-Perez, ADA Coordinator email: arobins@binghamton.edu or 607-777-3660.

Application Instructions:

All applicants must apply via Interview Exchange: <http://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=180401>

Deadline for Internal Applicants:

Deadline for External Applicants: Open until filled

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the vacancy is filled.

Please submit:

Resume,

Cover letter, and

Contact information for three professional references

You may add additional files/documents after uploading your resume.

After you fill out your contact information, you will be directed to the upload page. Please login to check/edit your profile or to upload additional documents: <http://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/login.jsp>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14760

Knox College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Applications are made through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152080>

The Department of Environmental Studies at Knox College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies, with a focus in the social sciences, beginning September 1, 2025. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on some aspect of environmental policy.

Knox is an independent, selective liberal arts institution with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a community that embraces a diversity of perspectives and individuals. Experience working with diverse populations of students and a commitment to successful teaching in a multicultural environment are expected. With over 35% of the student body identifying as U.S. students of color and more than 20% international students, the College supports instruction and research that appeals to Knox's students broadly.

The Environmental Studies Department offers major tracks in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, both of which culminate in faculty-supervised student research. Teaching responsibilities include two classes per each of three 10-week terms (Fall, Winter, Spring) and support for advanced student work in the program.

The successful candidate will have experience with research techniques appropriate to their field and will be prepared to supervise senior research projects. They will also teach Introduction to Environmental Policy as well as an advanced course in their area of expertise, and contribute to a team-taught introductory course in Environmental Studies. In consultation with the department, they will teach additional courses in the environmental social sciences that contribute to departmental majors as well as the general education curriculum.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in environmental studies or related field is expected by the time of appointment, but exceptional ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates should submit:

1. A letter of application that addresses the qualifications listed above, including the candidate's research agenda, undergraduate liberal arts teaching philosophy, and approach to teaching and mentorship in a diverse community of students;

2. A curriculum vitae;
3. An unofficial graduate transcript;
4. Names of three confidential professional references. References will be contacted for those candidates progressing in the interview process, and will be expected to provide letters quickly when requested.

Additional materials may be requested at a later date.

Review of applications begins September 13, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to Katherine Adelsberger at kadelsbe@knox.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14717

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics, starting Fall 2025. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, but the successful candidate must be able to contribute half their teaching load to the Environmental Studies program (the courses should be on some aspect of environmental politics). They should also be able to contribute to the graduate program in Political Science. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field, as well as from applicants already holding Assistant rank. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2025, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript. Letters of recommendation will be solicited after application. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14724

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track - International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

FACULTY VACANCY ANNOUNCEMENT

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) and an internationally recognized

leader in educating for justice. Led by President Karol V. Mason, John Jay is a federally designated Hispanic-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups in higher education.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of CUNY, and offers bachelor's and master's degrees both in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment as an Assistant Professor in the Bachelor of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (ICJ BA) and the Master of Arts Program in International Criminal Justice (IC&J MA) and in a department to be determined by the candidate's PhD or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department.) The position begins in Fall 2025.

The College seeks to hire a promising scholar researching international crime and justice issues. The college is especially interested in researchers working on topics of growing policy importance such as transnational crime and cyber criminology, including but not limited to topics such as cybercrime, cyber organized crime, online fraud, dark web activities, digital privacy and surveillance, social media and crime, AI and predictive policing, digital legislation, cyber terrorism, digital harassment, and the impact of emerging technologies on crime and justice, broadly defined. Additionally, the candidate should possess knowledge of sociological perspectives on crime, law, deviance, social control, and justice. This position requires proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research.

The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the BA and MA ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum ( <https://new.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/> 2023- 08/7_Princip_Cultur_Resp_Incl_AntiRacist_Curric_Adopt_4.8.21-brief.pdf ), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2025 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

$52,667- $99,532 Salary commensurate with education and credentials.

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

1. Navigate to www.cuny.edu
2. Select "Employment"
3. Select "Search Job Postings"
4. Create an Account
5. After creating an account, return to the Job Search page and select "Apply Now"

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor confirming your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by November 5, 2024. In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Jana Arsovska, Director of the Master of Arts Program in International Crime and Justice via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

All questions should be directed to Dr. Jana Arsovska, Chair of the Search Committee, via email jarsovska@jjay.cuny.edu

CLOSING DATE

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024.
Posting closes on November 5, 2024.

*Interviews with successful candidates will be scheduled during the first two weeks of December 2024.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Job ID 28830

Location

John Jay College

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

CUNY encourages people with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women to apply. At CUNY, Italian Americans are also included among our protected groups. Applicants and employees will not be discriminated against on the basis of any legally protected category, including sexual orientation or gender identity. EEO/AA/Vet/Disability Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/5/2024

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14699

Duke University

Rank: Post Doctoral Associate

Specializations: Developing Nations, Environmental Policy, Southeast Asia

The Duke Center for International Development (DCID), a unit within Duke University's Sanford School of Public Policy, advances international development policy and practice through interdisciplinary approaches to post-graduate education, mid-career training, international advising and research. Its faculty and staff continuously strive to create programs that meet the specific needs of each client and student. At DCID, faculty, staff, and students are driven by a shared vision: development that promotes peace and prosperity for all people.

The Duke Center of International Development (DCID) invites applications for a Post-Doctoral Fellowship for the 2024-2025 academic year. There is a possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding.

Directed by Prof. Edmund Malesky, DCID focuses on promoting sustainable development through research, education and engagement with students, policy makers, practitioners, development partners, civil society and the private sector. The Fellow will work closely with Prof. Malesky and Dr. Jonathan Stromseth, Professor of the Practice at the Sanford School, to design and construct a data visualization platform under a new climate innovation initiative at DCID, focusing on Southeast Asia. The platform will both catalogue climate innovations in the region and illustrate financial flows going to climate projects, including official flows, private investments, and blended finance.

Applicants should have strong data science training and familiarity with global climate trends. DCID is looking to fill this position as soon possible. Salary is competitive. Ph.D. must be in hand before beginning the appointment. On site availability in Durham, NC is preferred, though certain hybrid work schedules may be considered.* <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28109> *Duke currently has employment agreements with Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Illinois, Maryland Massachusetts, Montana, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and Washington, DC.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/22/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14698

SUNY, College at Brockport

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science (Tenure Track)

SUNY Brockport is currently accepting applications for an Assistant Professor of Political Science with a concentration in American politics and Law/Legal Studies. The person in this role is responsible for teaching courses in the Department of Political Science and International Relations, for conducting research and publishing scholarship in political science, and for regular service (including advisement and accreditation activities), at the department, school and College levels. Specifically, this person will also coordinate the legal studies program within the department and act as pre-law advisor campus-wide. Best consideration given to those applications submitted by September 6th, 2024.

Candidate must be able to teach Introduction to American Politics, The Presidency, Congress, Campaigns & Elections, Constitutional Law, and Law and Legal Processes.

Ph.D. in Political Science from an accredited US Department of education or internationally recognized institution. ABD candidates must earn their doctoral degree within 6 months of hire.

J.D. or equivalent degree, or specialization in law and legal process or policy, preferred but not required.

Please apply for this position through PageUp and do not contact Susan Orr with resume materials directly unless you have questions.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 8/21/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14682

University of Wisconsin, Madison

Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Summary:

The Political Science department at the University of Wisconsin-Madison seeks to hire a faculty member at the level of Assistant Professor who will publish original research and teach courses on the politics of environmental sustainability from a theoretical, domestic, international, or comparative perspective. The position is open to scholars working in all subfields and regions.

The successful candidate will advance the educational mission of the College of Letters & Science, that values, prioritizes, and actualizes evidence-based and student-centered teaching and mentoring. They will contribute to an inclusive, fair, and equitable environment that fosters engagement and a sense of belonging for faculty, staff, students and members of the broader community.

Responsibilities:

Responsibilities include conducting research in the field of the politics of environmental sustainability, from a theoretical, domestic, international, or comparative perspective, maintaining an active research program, teaching courses at the graduate and undergraduate level, and service at the professional, department, and university level.

The successful candidate, as a member of the College of L&S, will proactively contribute to, support, and advance the college's commitment to equity among all aspects of their teaching, mentoring, research, and service.

Education:

Required

PhD in Political Science or related disciplines. Ph.D. required by start of appointment.

Qualifications:

Candidates with an excellent publication record or a productive research program with strong publishing potential are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will demonstrate experience with fostering or the ability to foster an inclusive and equity-centered teaching, learning, mentoring, departmental, and research environment where all can thrive.

Work Type:

Full Time: 100%

This position may require some work to be performed in-person, onsite, at a designated campus work location. Some work may be performed remotely, at an offsite, non-campus work location.

Appointment Type, Duration:

Ongoing/Renewable

How to Apply:

Apply online at "Jobs at UW" (<http://jobs.wisc.edu>) under job number 304146. Applications must be received through UW-Madison's online application system. Applications submitted outside of this system will not be considered. To begin the application process please click on the 'Apply Now' button. You will be asked to create a profile and upload a C.V., a cover letter, a research statement, a teaching and mentoring statement, and 2 samples of written work (please upload these 2 samples together). You will also be asked to provide contact information for three (3) references as part of your online application; each reference will receive an electronic link through which they can upload a signed letter of reference at the time of application submission.

Please note that applicants will be evaluated based upon submitted application materials and therefore should speak to and include evidence of their qualifications. Application materials must clearly demonstrate the applicant's dedication to excellence in student-centered teaching and mentoring. Additionally, materials should showcase the applicant's ability to purposefully plan their teaching practices, evidenced through goals, action plans, reflection, and related documentation. This portion of application materials must be created by the applicant that may include supporting letters. It cannot be only in the form of letters and testimony by others.

The deadline for assuring full consideration is October 1, 2024, however the position will remain open and applications may be considered until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14673

Stanford University

Rank: Hoover Fellow

2025 Hoover Fellow Position

Stanford University, Hoover Institution

Opportunities for Early-Career Scholars

The Hoover Institution at Stanford University seeks outstanding scholars for positions as a Hoover Fellow. The term of the appointment is five years, with the option to renew for one additional term. The position is located at the Hoover Institution, Stanford, CA.

During their Fellowship period, Hoover Fellows are expected to publish scholarly articles and books that have implications for public policy. Hoover Fellows are also expected to contribute to the intellectual life of the Hoover Institution. There are no teaching responsibilities associated with this position. The 12-month base salary range for this position is $165,000 to $230,000, plus a housing allowance of $20,000 per year.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a relevant field - such as economics, history, international relations, national security, political science, or public policy, and expect to complete that degree by September 1st, 2025.

Hoover Fellows are encouraged to engage with Stanford's broader research community in their respective fields. The Hoover Institution is a research center at Stanford University, located in the heart of Stanford's campus.

Please submit:

- A cover letter or statement of interest that includes a description of academic background and experience
- One or more recent publications, working papers, or draft book chapters.
- A curriculum vitae
- A statement about future research plans (two pages maximum)
- Three letters of recommendation that focus on the candidate's research and research potential.

If you have any questions, please contact hooverfellowship@stanford.edu. Please note that we monitor this email address periodically.

Please submit completed applications online at <https://applyhooverfellows.hoover.org/> by November 18, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14656

Stanford University

Rank: W. Glenn Campbell and Rita Ricardo-Campbell National Fellow

The Hoover Institution Glenn Campbell and Rita Ricardo-Campbell National Fellows Program allows outstanding scholars from colleges, universities, and institutions around the world to be freed from academic and professional responsibilities to devote one year to unrestricted, creative research and publication. National Fellows Program fellowships provide scholars the opportunity to complete an original significant research project with the expectation of generating a publishable manuscript while in residence at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University, Stanford, California.

Two unique resources frame the Hoover Institution National Fellows Program:

- The Hoover Library and Archives affords Fellows access to the richest private archive collections in the United States. With nearly one million volumes and more than six thousand archival collections from 171 countries, the Hoover Library and Archives is a national and international center for primary-source documentation and research on problems of political, economic, and social change.
- National Fellows are able to draw on the experience of outstanding resident scholars at the Hoover Institution and Stanford University. Resident fellows and university faculty are available to discuss research topics, as well as provide insight into policy issues and strategic challenges.

Multiple National Fellows Program fellowships are awarded annually. Participation in the program begins September 1 and ends August 31 of the following year. National Fellows are encouraged to engage in the intellectual life of the Hoover Institution and are expected to make at least one presentation on their research before an appropriate group of scholars during the year in residence.

ADMINISTRATION

The selection committee is made up of Hoover Senior Fellows and distinguished scholars from Stanford University. The committee selects program participants and makes recommendations to the Director of the Hoover Institution regarding each year's participants.

APPLICATION

Application to the program requires the online submission of:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Three (3) to five (5) page research proposal
- Three (3) to five (5) confidential letters of recommendation from leading scholars

Qualified candidates should hold a Ph.D. degree or its equivalent, have an established publication record, and hold promise as a productive scholar. Candidates are generally five (5) to ten (10) years beyond the Ph.D. degree. They are expected to resume pre-existing full-time appointments at highly regarded institutions or universities upon completion of the National Fellows program. Hoover National Fellows receive financial support solely on the merits of their proposed research and scholarly record, irrespective of pre-existing support.

All materials must be submitted electronically by November 18, 2024, at <https://applynationalfellows.hoover.org/>

If you have any questions, please contact hooverfellowship+national@stanford.edu. Please note that we monitor this email address periodically.

The Hoover Institution is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. The Hoover Institution welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to its mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/18/2024

Date Posted: 8/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14659

Western Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program within the Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice is seeking two faculty members at the rank of Assistant Professor (tenure-track), beginning August 1, 2025. These are nine-month positions with summer teaching possibilities and are for our residential program with some likely online teaching responsibilities. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Responsibilities include teaching, research, and service.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Emergency Management, Criminology/Criminal Justice, Political Science, Public Administration, Public Health, Urban Planning, or other discipline closely related to the field of Emergency & Disaster Management. Highly qualified ABD candidates will be considered if completion of the degree is imminent. Candidates must have a clearly articulated research agenda in Emergency & Disaster Management, experience and/or graduate coursework related to Emergency & Disaster Management, and a commitment of academic excellence and collegiality.

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program has an established record of engaging students through undergraduate research and experiential learning and is consistently ranked as one of the best undergraduate programs in the nation. The ideal candidate will have an interest in contributing to these efforts and have a firm foundation to teach a range of emergency and disaster management courses.

Application Process:

Application materials must be submitted online to the Western Carolina University Human Resources Portal at <http://jobs.wcu.edu>. Candidates should submit an online candidate profile, cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, unofficial transcripts, evidence of teaching experience/philosophy, and contact information for three current references.

Review of applications will begin September 15th and continue until the position is filled.

Contact:

Inquiries may be directed to Committee Chair and EDM Director Dr. Lisa Briggs at lbriggs@wcu.edu or 828.227.2180.

About WCU:

Western Carolina University is the UNC system's westernmost campus and has been consistently ranked as one of the Top 15 public regional institutions in the South. WCU's main campus sits in the beautiful mountains of Western, North Carolina, near the Great Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains, fifty-two miles west of Asheville. WCU's location in the rural mountains amidst incredible biodiversity and unique communities creates an opportunity for academic discovery service and is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. The campus covers approximately 600 acres, with a student body population of over 11,500.

Please go to <https://www.wcu.edu> for more information.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14590

Denison University

Rank: Open Rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Position Title: Open-rank Professor in Comparative Politics

Location: Denison University

Position Type: Tenure Track Faculty

Position URL: <https://apply.interfolio.com/150219>

Position Description:

The Department of Politics and Public Affairs (PPA) at Denison University invites applications for an open rank, tenure-track position in comparative politics, beginning Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching emphasizes constitutionalism, policy analysis, or how social movements interact with either, with a geographic focus on the politics of countries or regions beyond the United States or Western Europe. The successful candidate must have the demonstrated ability to teach introductory courses in comparative politics of democracies, as well as interest and ability to teach a rotating set of upper division courses in comparative politics broadly and in their areas of expertise.

The Politics and Public Affairs program provides our students an integrated view of politics emphasizing links between theory and practice. Our major is structured as a learning community where undergraduates pursue a track of interest that aligns with traditional subfields and have multiple opportunities to share their knowledge with peers. Our majors must complement classroom experiences with a department-approved off campus learning component. We seek a new colleague who shares our enthusiasm for this approach to teaching about politics and public affairs. As a department, we work hard to ensure our students hear and consider diverse perspectives and we welcome applicants who contribute to that diversity. In the fall of 2025, our faculty includes four full-time tenured or tenure track faculty and one long-term visiting faculty member. We graduate roughly 30 seniors each year.

All instructors are expected to regularly teach introductory classes (typically around 24 students) that serve PPA majors/minors as well as the general education requirements of the college's curriculum; successfully teaching introductory classes requires teachers who relish the challenge of tailoring instruction for both the skeptical and the interested student. All instructors regularly teach upper division classes (typically capped at 20 students) in their area of interest which are usually populated by PPA or related majors, as well as required PPA major courses such as sophomore and senior seminar. The teaching load is 5 courses per academic year (3/2). Denison is a fully residential campus and all classes are held in-person and on-campus.

Applicants should provide evidence of teaching effectiveness from college-level courses. We seek to hire a new colleague with broad training in the study of politics. The successful candidate is expected to have significant interest in and demonstrated ability to be effective at undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and in contributing to the integration of the theoretical with experiential elements of our major. Independent teaching experience (beyond TA) is preferred.

Successful candidates are expected to maintain an ongoing research agenda; thus, applicants should show promise of a strong publication record. The prospective teacher-scholar also will support the University's commitment to liberal arts education, be an effective advisor to a range of students, be an active participant in departmental and university governance, and develop a program of research leading to peer-reviewed publication.

Denison is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2,300 students from across the nation and around the world. The college is located in the village of Granville, 30 minutes from Columbus, Ohio, the state capital, which hosts a wide range of cultural and artistic opportunities. Granville offers an excellent public school system and easy access to outdoor activities. Denison is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty and is committed to providing a work and learning environment free from discrimination. A supportive environment for teacher-scholars who value both classroom and research excellence, Denison offers extensive support for its faculty, including start-up research funds, an annual professional development account, competitive professional development funding, and a one-semester research leave after a successful pre-tenure review. The college also offers opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, stipends for supervising summer-research students, and a range of workshops and mentoring programs to develop our strengths as teacher-scholars. Denison offers a competitive salary and a comprehensive benefits package, including tuition benefits to attend Denison or other affiliated colleges and a generous retirement contribution.

Qualifications:

Candidates are required to have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely-related field by start date.

Application Instructions:

To ensure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 7, 2024. Applications should include the following:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate level transcript [official or unofficial]
- Teaching Portfolio, which should include a 1) teaching statement that lays out the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and experience; the teaching statement should also describe how the candidate fosters an inclusive classroom where students with diverse perspectives and experiences can respectfully contribute and learn, 2) Evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., teaching evaluations or other artifacts), 3) an introductory syllabus for comparative politics of democracies, and 4) an upper division syllabus that reflects your expertise.
- Research Statement that lays out the candidate's scholarly interests and plans
- A writing sample
- Contact information for three letters of reference

Job seekers who may need a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should contact the Office of Human Resources at (740) 587-6299 or by email at HR@denison.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/7/2024

Date Posted: 7/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14553

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) at Princeton University is pleased to introduce a groundbreaking fellowship program. As a leading global institution in interdisciplinary research on international issues, PIIRS is dedicated to advancing innovative scholarship that addresses the world's most pressing challenges. The PIIRS Postdoctoral Fellows Program is integral to that mission.

We will award multiple postdoctoral fellowships to our inaugural cohort in 2025-2026, recent PhDs in the Social Sciences who have demonstrated exceptional scholarship, congruent with the Institute's intellectual focus, that simultaneously advances theoretical debates in their disciplinary field; creatively speaks to and engages with a multidisciplinary audience; and deepens substantive regional knowledge of specific places.

Appointments are for one year (12 months) with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. Fellows must reside on campus during the academic year to fully engage with PIIRS and university activities. Leveraging Princeton's scholarly resources, fellows will focus on research, expand their intellectual horizons, and prepare work for publication. They will have biweekly meetings with the faculty director to share their work, and monthly meetings with faculty fellows from various social sciences to present their work and learn from others. Fellows are also encouraged to engage with colleagues and attend departmental seminars.

Applicants must demonstrate outstanding scholarly achievement and promise. To be eligible, applicants generally cannot have more than two years of postdoctoral experience prior to the start of the appointment, at the beginning of the academic year, September 1, 2025.

The postdoctoral selection will be made based on the strength of the candidates' scholarly record; the promise of the proposed research; and the ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the postdoctoral program (with interest in connecting with other PIIRS and Princeton departments on campus).

In addition to a competitive salary, benefits, and housing subsidy, the program will provide the Fellow with the opportunity to host a small, pre-publication, book workshop; and a research fund of $4,000 per year.

Applicants must apply online at <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35401> <https://puwebp-princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35401&lt;/a&gt;>. Applications are due by November 1, 2024 (11:59 p.m. EST). The following application items should be uploaded by the applicant:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Transcripts
- Research Proposal indicating plans for two-year postdoc (maximum 5 pages double-spaced)
- Dissertation abstract (including Table of Contents)
- Writing sample: one chapter of the dissertation or one published article related to dissertation topic.
- Document confirming either that you have completed all requirements for the PhD degree or a letter signed from your dissertation advisor indicating that you will complete the PhD by the start date of the fellowship
- The names and email addresses for three referees, who will be contacted automatically by the online application system with an invitation to upload their letter of recommendation to the system by the application deadline. (**Please note: all letters of reference should be submitted by your referees before the November 1, 2024 deadline. **)

Further information can be found at <https://piirs.princeton.edu/funding-fellowships/piirs-postdoctoral-fellows> <https://piirs.princeton.edu/funding-fellowships/piirs-postdoctoral-fellows1&lt;/a&gt;>.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/4/2024

Date Posted: 7/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14483

University of Massachusetts, Amherst

Rank: Assistant Professor Legal Studies Program

About UMass Amherst

UMass Amherst, the Commonwealth's flagship campus, is a nationally ranked public research university offering a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional degrees. The University sits on nearly 1,450-acres in the scenic Pioneer Valley of Western Massachusetts and offers a rich cultural environment in a bucolic setting close to major urban centers. In addition, the University is part of the Five Colleges (including Amherst College, Hampshire College, Mount Holyoke College, and Smith College), which adds to the intellectual energy of the region.

Job Description

The interdisciplinary Legal Studies Program of the Department of Political Science and the Commonwealth Honors College at the University of Massachusetts Amherst are pleased to announce a joint faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Legal Studies and Commonwealth Honors College, to commence Fall 2025. This is an Honors faculty tenure-track position. We welcome applicants from a variety of methodological, disciplinary, and theoretical backgrounds with a substantive focus on law, crime, and society, punishment, and/or the carceral state, in the United States or the US in comparative perspective. The teaching load is 2/2 and consists of two Legal Studies courses and two Honors courses per year, particularly the Honors Thesis Seminar or courses satisfying General Education requirements. Honors Faculty also are engaged in the Commonwealth Honors College community and meet annually with the CHC Dean, in addition to contributing to the life of their home department, college, and university.

Requirements

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science, Sociology, Anthropology, Criminology, or other related field by the appointment start date.

Additional Information

Legal Studies at UMass is the oldest undergraduate liberal arts program for the study of law and society in the country, and the only one in New England at a public university. The Program is housed in the Department of Political Science and maintains its own distinct undergraduate major. The expanding Legal Studies Program is a center for ambitious intellectual activity and research that addresses important questions about the place of law in societies around the world while helping to produce the next generation of social science law and society scholars. The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences is the institutional home of the Law and Society Association, the world's premier interdisciplinary legal studies organization, and the Center for Justice, Law, and Societies. Commonwealth Honors College is the flagship honors college for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and a nationally recognized residential community that serves the land grant mission of UMass Amherst. Honors students benefit from small honors classes and close-knit ties with faculty that enrich the honors thesis experience and student success.

Instructions for Applicants

Along with the application, please submit the following:

A letter of interest addressed to Professor Rebecca Hamlin, Director of Legal Studies, Thompson Hall, 200 Hicks Way, Amherst, MA 01003 USA.

A curriculum vitae.

Evidence of quality teaching (such as summaries of teaching evaluations) and a teaching statement.

A statement explaining your understanding of justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion and how you would contribute to these values at UMass. Names and contact information for three (3) references who are willing to submit letters upon request through the UMass online application system.

Writing sample.

Inquiries about the position can be addressed to Rebecca Hamlin, Director of Legal Studies (rhamlin@umass.edu). Applications will be reviewed beginning September 10, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14461

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Congress, Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach undergraduate American Politics courses in-person for the Spring 2025 semester. We seek instructors capable of teaching in their area of expertise, in one or more of nearly any area of American Politics (for example, Political Parties, Campaigns and Elections, Public Policy, Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Political Psychology, Social Movements). The instructor would teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity but may be able to teach multiple sections of the same course.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To begin the application process, please send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14463

Ashoka University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track) positions in the Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for full-time faculty positions at the level of tenure track Assistant Professor. We welcome outstanding candidates in any sub-field of Political Science. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply.

Successful candidates are expected to excel in teaching and research. Faculty members are also expected to mentor students, supervise their research, and contribute to the institution. Ashoka offers an attractive pay package as well as support for research.

We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a PhD by the time of appointment. Selected candidates would be expected to join by 1 January or 1 August 2025.

Application Instructions

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit:

- 1) a cover letter
- 2) curriculum vitae
- 3) two samples of academic writings
- 4) teaching philosophy statement and evaluations (if available)
- 5) research statement
- 6) three confidential letters of reference.

All materials should be submitted through Interfolio link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147240>

The deadline for submitting a complete application is 20th October 2024.

For any queries or further information, please contact: hod.pol@ashoka.edu.in with '2024 Faculty Recruitment' marked in the Subject line.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14454

Ashoka University

Rank: Professor/Associate Professor, Tenure-track Professor positions in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for full-time faculty positions at the levels of tenured Associate and Full Professors. We welcome outstanding candidates in any subfield of Political Science. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply.

Successful candidates are expected to excel in teaching and research. Faculty members are also expected to mentor students, supervise their research, and contribute to the institution. Ashoka offers an attractive pay package as well as support for research.

We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a PhD by the time of appointment. Selected candidates would be expected to join by 1 January or 1 August 2025.

Application Instructions

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit:

- 1) a cover letter
- 2) curriculum vitae
- 3) two samples of academic writings
- 4) statement of teaching philosophy
- 5) research statement
- 6) names of three references.

All materials should be submitted through Interfolio link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147241>

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: 20th October, 2024.

For any queries or further information, please contact: hod.pol@ashoka.edu.in with '2024 Faculty Recruitment' marked in the Subject line.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 10/20/2024

Date Posted: 7/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14453

Princeton University

Rank: Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Research Associate in Bioethics

The Princeton University Center for Human Values invites applications for the Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics for a position starting around September 2025. The Shapiro Fellowship supports outstanding scholars studying ethical questions arising from developments in medicine, the biological sciences, or the human population. We particularly encourage proposals focusing on problems of practical importance that have broader theoretical interest.

Appointments are for one year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding. The Shapiro Fellow will spend time at Princeton conducting research and, as needed, teaching up to one semester course each year, pending sufficient course enrollments and with the approval of the Office of the Dean of the Faculty. They will participate in the Ira W. DeCamp Seminar in Bioethics and in a range of other activities in the University Center for Human Values.

Qualifications

Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D., M.D., or other equivalent doctoral degree. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the start of appointment. An applicant may have a background in any related field, not necessarily in bioethics. However, the proposed research plan should be in the field of bioethics.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments and the promise of the proposed research project in bioethics. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be considered.

Term of Appointment

The term of the fellowship is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal for up to two additional years pending satisfactory performance. Appointment will be made to the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate; the Shapiro Fellow will also carry the title of Lecturer, if teaching. Princeton University offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/35121> (Link is external).

A complete application will include the following supporting materials:

- A curriculum vitae;
- A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words). Please provide an indicative title in the heading;
- A scholarly paper (of no more than 12,000 words, not including bibliography) representing the applicant's scholarly achievement or potential;
- Contact information for two referees, who should be prepared to comment specifically about the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Monday, November 25, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference should be submitted by Monday, December 2, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately, so receipt of letters of reference after December 2nd may put candidates at a disadvantage.

Decisions will be announced in March 2025. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/25/2024

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14445

National University of Singapore

Rank: Lectureship in Global Studies

The Department of Political Science and Global Studies Programme at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a lecturer of Global Studies Programme. Global Studies is an interdisciplinary programme examining the processes and effects of globalisation across political, economic, social, and cultural domains. We welcome applications from scholars with teaching and research interests in any of the following three areas: global political economy; global dimensions of environmental/climate change; or, global dimensions of human health and development. More information about these themes can be found on the Global Studies website.

Scholars from all social science disciplines with expertise in the themes referenced above are welcome to apply. Applicants with multidisciplinary or interdisciplinary teaching experience and a specialization in global political economy and its effect on race, class, or gender are particularly encouraged to apply.

Lecturers may be promoted advance to Senior Lecturer and then to open-contracted Associate Professor and Professor appointments. Initial appointments are for three years, Senior Lecturer appointments come with a five-year appointment, while appointments at the Associate Professor and above come with open contracts. The teaching load is 3:3 (three courses per semester, totaling six per academic year). Exceptional applicants may be considered for Senior Lecturer if they have at least 5 years of relevant experience.

Salaries at NUS are internationally competitive, includes eligibility for annual performance bonuses and salary increments, subsidized housing for nine years, medical benefits, and research and conference support.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

1. Candidates should submit a letter of application clearly detailing how their research or teaching expertise aligns with the teaching of GL2102 Global Political Economy, and your potential for interdisciplinary teaching;
2. A CV;
3. A teaching statement of no more than 2 pages (short-listed candidates will be asked to submit sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and/or other evidence of teaching effectiveness);
4. The names and contact information for three references (References will only be contacted for short-listed candidates ).

For full consideration, please submit your materials to this website <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/23710/> by 22 March 2024. Applications received after this date may still be considered until the position is filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

Contact list for further enquiries

Enquiries may be directed to Dr George Radics at socrgb@nus.edu.sg. Further information about working at the National University of Singapore is available at <https://www.nus.edu.sg/careers/why-join-us/>. The Department website can be found at <https://fass.nus.edu.sg/globalstudies/>.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 2/21/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 13210

Yale University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowships with the Identity & Conflict Lab
Specializations: Germany, China, United States

The Identity & Conflict Lab (ICL) at Yale University, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis, seeks up to two exceptional candidates as Postdoctoral Associates for the 2024-2025 academic year. This opportunity is for a one-year, full-time residential postdoctoral research fellowship, with potential to renew for one year.

Housed in the MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, the ICL addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The ICL analyzes how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The ICL has several ongoing projects in four thematic areas: (1) native-immigrant conflict and the politics of immigrant integration across countries, with a focus on Greece, Cyprus, Turkey, Germany, Denmark, and Qatar; (2) effects of national identification (patriotism; nationalism) on foreign policy preferences with case applications in Greece, South Korea, China, and the United States; (3) strategies to reduce majority-minority group conflicts in India and Pakistan; and (4) collection and analysis of new data on separatist conflicts worldwide, and prediction of new conflict outbreaks of separatist violence.

A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and quantitative analysis of observational data. The ICL seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to develop new analytical approaches and new insights into these thematic areas with a view to shaping new directions in scholarly literatures as well as influencing policy design.

Postdoctoral associates will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by associates can also be considered for funding by the ICL.

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Associates will be expected to collect and clean data; review reports on ongoing projects; prepare visualizations and reports of quantitative analysis of new data collected in the lab; assist with drafting grant proposals; program surveys; prepare IRB applications; conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing Lab projects; and co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty. Additionally, associates will be asked to contribute to the ICL Director's engagement with funders, prepare presentations of lab reports/papers, prepare replication files for published studies, help manage the ICL website and seminar series, and provide summaries of ongoing ICL work for public outreach.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Associates will be expected to help organize the ICL's annual conference as well as the workshop, which will hold occasional meetings throughout the year. Associates will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop or a graduate-level course led by the ICL Director and would be expected to engage with research by graduate students who are affiliated with the ICL.

The salary is competitive and comes with a benefits package. Information regarding benefits associated with the position can be found here: <https://your.yale.edu/work-yale/benefits/benefits-enrollment-2023/postdoctoral-associates-benefits-2023>

Qualifications

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2022, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2024. Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting on November 10, 2023. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases. Excellent knowledge of the statistical software Stata and R is required as is extensive experience programming surveys in Qualtrics. Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team and be sensitive to the demands of multiple simultaneously ongoing projects; they should be able to multi-task and be willing to travel for fieldwork if necessary. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted online through Interfolio. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation (only references for short-listed candidates will be requested).

Link to apply: <https://apply.interfolio.com/135524>

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2023

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 12883

POLITICAL THEORY

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: Political Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory, Normative Political Theory

We invite applications for our 2025-26 Embedded Ethics postdoctoral fellowship based at the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society and the Institute for Human-Centered AI (HAI). Stanford Embedded Ethics is a collaborative program that embeds the teaching of ethics directly into the core undergraduate courses of Stanford's computer science curriculum. Working in collaboration with CS faculty and graduate students, the fellows create curricular materials, course assignments, and teach ethics modules in CS courses.

Fellowship Details

We will hire 3-4 fellows. The postdoctoral fellows are expected to spend 50% of their time working with the Embedded Ethics program and 50% of their time on their independent research within a cohort of postdoctoral fellows appointed at the Ethics Center and HAI. The postdoctoral fellow will have responsibility for (a) working with CS faculty and students to develop course materials, (b) teaching the modules, (c) providing pedagogical training for Course Assistants in CS, and (d) participating in the intellectual life of the Ethics Center and HAI.

Eligibility and Application Requirements

We seek applicants with a Ph.D. in philosophy, law, political science, information studies, computer science, or science and technology studies who can teach ethics (however, ethics need not be their specialization). We will prioritize candidates who have a computer science background from their undergraduate studies and/or work experience. Ideal candidates will have knowledge of computer science fundamentals, coding skills, significant teaching experience, experience with cross-disciplinary research or teaching, and enthusiasm about developing ethics modules.

Applicants must complete all requirements for their Ph.D. no later than June 30, 2025. Candidates must also be no more than three years from the awarding of their degree at the start of the fellowship (i.e., September 2022). The term of the fellowship is September 1, 2025 - August 31, 2026 and is renewable for a second year. We welcome applications from individuals with a broad range of life experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds who would contribute to our community of scholars. The expected salary is $78,000.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single-spaced), and a list of classes that they have taught and/or are prepared to teach and a list of CS courses taken (if applicable).

Applications are due December 2, 2024. For additional information and the link to apply, please visit <https://bit.ly/EmbeddedEthicsPostdoc>.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/2/2024
Date Posted: 10/31/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 15134

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: Political Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory, Normative Political Theory

For 2025-26, the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society at Stanford seeks to appoint up to four postdoctoral fellows across the two programs described below. The two types of fellows have some distinct training opportunities and responsibilities, but they form a common community at the Center and participate together in the Center's intellectual life. All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships and do not need to tailor their application for one or the other fellowship.

Applicants for these positions must have normative training and hold a Ph.D. in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a Ph.D. in Law will also be considered so long as their work focuses on ethical dimensions of public policy or law.

General Ethics Fellowship

This postdoctoral program is open to candidates with substantial normative research in any area within Philosophy or Political Science. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work bears on serious problems affecting people's lives now. General Ethics Fellows participate in the intellectual life of the Center (attend weekly workshops, Center events, and professional training opportunities), teach one class per year, interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellowship

Addressing many pressing social problems involves knowledge of the work of the social sciences, law, engineering, and the life sciences. The premise of this program is that the normative scholarship of our fellows will be enhanced by engagement with empirically oriented scholars. To that end, each fellow in the program will be matched with a partner center at Stanford that is dedicated to interdisciplinary work. For 2025-26, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in environmental ethics, global justice, biomedical ethics, philosophy of technology, ethics of artificial intelligence, and those working on empirically-grounded philosophical approaches to other urgent contemporary problems. Applicants need not name a possible partner center on campus or tailor their materials for this type of fellowship. The Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows and partner centers will be selected based on the match between their work.

Fellows will regularly participate in the intellectual life of the partner center and the Ethics Center (e.g., attend weekly workshops, Center events, and professional training opportunities), teach one class per year, interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Eligibility and Application Requirements

Candidates for both types of fellowships must have normative training and hold a Ph.D. in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a Ph.D. in Law will also be considered so long as their work focuses on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. Applicants must complete all requirements for their Ph.D. no later than June 30, 2025. Candidates must also be no more than three years from the awarding of their degree at the start of the fellowship (i.e., September 2022). The term of the fellowship is September 1, 2025 - August 31, 2026 and is renewable for a second year. We welcome applications from individuals with a broad range of life experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds who would contribute to our community of scholars. The expected salary is $78,000. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single-spaced), and a list of classes that they have taught and/or are prepared to teach.

Applications are due December 2, 2024. For additional information and the link to apply, please <https://bit.ly/EthicsPostdocs>.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/2/2024
Date Posted: 10/30/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 15131

Wellesley College

Rank: Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow in Political Science

The Political Science Department at Wellesley College invites applications for a two-year Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowship in political theory beginning in Fall 2025. We seek a scholar trained in comparative political theory with a particular interest in candidates whose research focuses on non-Western theorists or texts. Substantive areas of expertise could include the political theory of Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, South or East Asia; indigenous political thought; or environmental political theory and climate justice. Candidates should have received their Ph.D. within the last five years (ABD considered) of the time of appointment. For both years, the Fellow will teach one course each semester. The Fellow will also be expected to mentor students and participate in programming for the Political Science Department, in consultation with the department chair.

Applications should be submitted online through the college's career application website (<https://www.wellesley.edu/hr/jobseekers>). Please submit the following: a letter of application, a C.V., and a writing sample (not to exceed 40 pages). Reference letters are not required at the time of application, but may be requested. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, beginning on November 1st. This position is in a collective bargaining unit represented by Wellesley Organized Academic Workers – UAW (WOAW-UAW).

Wellesley College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer, and we are committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and the curriculum. Candidates who believe they can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2024
Application Deadline: 4/15/2024
Date Posted: 10/28/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15116

University of Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: American Politics, History & Politics, Political Thought: Historical

The Politics Department at the University of Dallas invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning fall 2025.

The Politics Program of the University of Dallas is unique in American higher education today. The program combines the study of timeless classics of Western political thought with rigorous exploration of contemporary American politics and international affairs. We focus on the great themes and issues of political thought and experience: justice, equality, liberty, morality, religion, and human nature. Through a curriculum that ranges from the Greek polis, through the great Catholic thinkers of the Middle Ages, to the politics of contemporary liberal democracies, we challenge each student to master the most rewarding political works of the Western tradition and the American experiment in self-government.

The department seeks a candidate whose primary expertise is in American Politics, but who also has a strong background in the history of political thought. In particular, the department is seeking an Americanist who can teach courses focusing on American political institutions and policies from the broader perspectives of both American political development and American political thought. The ability to teach Constitutional Law is a plus.

The teaching load is three courses per semester, Fall and Spring. All Politics faculty are expected to teach at the undergraduate, Master's, and PhD levels.

Review of applications will continue until the position is filled, but for best consideration, applications should be received by November 15, 2024.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

- ? Teaching three courses per semester, with regular offerings at the undergraduate and graduate (Master's, and PhD) levels
- ? Regular scholarly productivity in peer-reviewed venues
- ? Service to the department and the University (as needed)
- ? Advising undergraduates
- ? Participating in undergraduate comprehensive exams and graduate qualifying and comprehensive exams
- ? Mentoring PhD students

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS

- ? PhD completed by the starting date of the position

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- ? Primary specialty in American Politics with knowledge of American Political Thought and American Political Development
- ? Experience teaching American Politics at the undergraduate level

- ? Evidence of scholarly productivity
- ? Broad familiarity with the history of political thought

WHO WE ARE

The University of Dallas is a Catholic university that seeks to educate the whole person, encouraging its students to pursue wisdom, truth and virtue as the proper and primary ends of education. We have consistently ranked as one of the top regional universities in the country. All employees are expected to understand and support our Mission.

APPLICATION

Candidates should submit electronically a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, contact information for three references, teaching evaluations (if available), and a sample of scholarly writing.

All applications should be submitted online at:
<https://hr.udallas.edu/apply/>

For questions regarding this position please contact Dr. Jonathan Culp at jculp@udallas.edu.

BENEFITS

UD provides competitive pay and benefits, including eligibility to participate in medical, dental, vision, life and disability insurance; employee events; a health and wellness program; a free fitness center; competitive leave programs; tuition waiver, tuition exchange for employees and their families; and matching retirement plan contributions.

The University of Dallas seeks to recruit, develop, and retain faculty, staff and administration of the highest caliber.

The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and encourages applications from female and minority candidates and others who will enhance our community and advance our Mission.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/25/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15112

University of Toronto, Mississauga

Rank: Assistant Professor - Politics of South and/or East Asia

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto Mississauga (UTM) invites applications for one full-time tenure stream position in the field of South and/or East Asian politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025.

Candidates must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We are seeking applicants specializing in the Comparative Politics of South and/or East Asia, including but not limited to India and/or China, and who are prepared to teach core courses in Comparative Politics at both undergraduate and graduate levels. The theoretical and methodological approach is open.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and deepen our existing departmental strengths (see <https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/political-science/>). The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research, and to establish an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate teaching responsibilities at the UTM campus (<https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/>) and will also become a full member of the Graduate Department of Political Science, with graduate teaching and supervision at the St. George campus. Candidates are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of UTM Department of Political Science (<https://www.utm.utoronto.ca/political-science/>) and the Department of Political Science (St. George campus) (<https://politics.utoronto.ca/faculty/>).

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, presentations at significant conferences, the submitted research statement, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier (with required materials outlined below) submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

At UTM we are committed to fostering an environment of diversity and inclusion. With an enviable diverse student body, we especially welcome applications from candidates who identify as Indigenous, Black, or racially visible (persons of colour), and who have experience working with, teaching or mentoring diverse groups or students. Candidates must demonstrate, in their application materials, an ability to foster diversity on campus and within the curriculum or discipline, and must show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial environment. Candidates must submit a statement describing their contributions to equity, diversity, and inclusion, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities; efforts undertaken to develop inclusive pedagogies, collaboration, and engagement with underrepresented communities; and mentoring of students from underrepresented groups. If you have questions about this statement, please contact Distinguished Professor and Chair Steven Bernstein at chair.pol.utm@utoronto.ca.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto's recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each referee the day after an application is submitted. Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that referees submit recent letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date. More details on the automatic reference letter collection, including timelines, are available in the candidate

FAQ (https://jobs.utoronto.ca/content/Frequently-Asked-Questions/?locale=en\_US).

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Debra Burrowes at assistant.pol.utm@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including recent reference letters, must be received by January 6, 2025.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto embraces Diversity and is building a culture of belonging that increases our capacity to effectively address and serve the interests of our global community. We strongly encourage applications from Indigenous Peoples, Black and racialized persons, women, persons with disabilities, and people of diverse sexual and gender identities. We value applicants who have demonstrated a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion and recognize that diverse perspectives, experiences, and expertise are essential to strengthening our academic mission.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Click here to apply: <https://jobs.utoronto.ca/job/Mississauga-Assistant-Professor-Politics-of-South-and-or-East-Asia-ON/585943117/>

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 1/6/2025

Date Posted: 10/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15108

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: CFR 2025-26 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy

Specializations: International Security, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) is seeking applicants for its 2025–26 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship. The fellowship offers younger scholars studying nuclear security issues the opportunity to conduct policy-relevant research at CFR's New York or Washington, DC, offices. CFR awards up to two fellowships annually.

The fellowship begins in September 2025 and runs for twelve months.

How to Apply:

Program details, eligibility requirements, and the online application can be found at: www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship. Applicants must be U.S. citizens.

The deadline to apply is December 2, 2024. If you have questions about the fellowship, please email fellowships@cfr.org.

CFR has a long-standing commitment to making the foreign policy community in the United States more representative of American society as a whole and actively seeks fellowship candidates from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15065

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, seeks applicants for a full-time, non-tenure-track position to teach undergraduate classes in the field of political theory, beginning September 1, 2025. Appointment will be at the Instructor rank and is eligible for renewal. The appointment entails a 6-course teaching load (3/3) per academic year, a minimum salary of $75,152, and health and pension benefits. PhD or equivalent terminal degree in Political Science or related field (e.g. law, gender studies) by start date is required.

The successful candidate will teach courses in the department's undergraduate curriculum, especially our large lecture introduction to political theory course, feminist theory courses, and courses in the political theory canon, broadly conceived. The ideal candidate will develop courses that complement our department's strengths in Women and Politics and Race and Ethnic politics, mentor undergraduate honors students, and contribute to the department's career mentoring program. Experience working with teaching assistants is preferred.

Candidates should submit the following materials: (1) C.V.; (2) cover letter; (3) teaching statement addressing teaching experience and the ways in which your teaching engages and supports a diverse student body; and (4) names and email addresses of three references who can upload letters of recommendation. The materials should be uploaded to <https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/237300>

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to building an inclusive community that embodies, reflects, and respects the diversity of our world. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Review of applicants will begin on October 23, 2024, and continue until the job is filled.

All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/23/2024

Date Posted: 10/13/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15042

University of Vermont

Rank: Henderson-Harris Post-Doctoral Fellowship in Political Theory

Position Announcement:

Henderson-Harris Fellowship Program

Academic Fellowship in the Department of Political Science

College of Arts and Sciences

The University of Vermont

The University of Vermont's Department of Political Science in The College of Arts & Sciences invites applications for a Henderson-Harris Post-Doctoral Fellowship with a specialization in Political Theory. The position, which starts in Fall of 2025, lasts for a period of up to two years, with the expectation that the Fellow will transition to a tenure-track Assistant Professor position at the completion of the Fellowship.

Preference will be given to candidates whose research focuses on the themes of inequality and/or exclusion, in either a domestic or global context. We define these themes very broadly—they include economic and political inequalities, gender hierarchies, racial and ethnic inequality or exclusion, the disparate burdens of environmental pollution, and more. Candidates should have the capacity to teach and engage students in the subfield of political theory.

Applicants should have their PhD by the start of the Fellowship. We seek candidates who demonstrate excellence and promise in scholarship and teaching, and an ability to engage a variety of learners with effective pedagogies. Fellows are expected to teach one course per semester (two courses per academic year) and deliver one research colloquium talk per year related to their research. The Fellowship includes an annual salary, health insurance, and a fund to support research.

This Fellowship is offered as a full-time, 12-month Post-Doctoral/Post-MFA Associate appointment (September 1, 2025 through August 31, 2026). The salary is $66,000 for the 12-month appointment. For a list of benefits and other terms of employment, see: (<https://www.uvm.edu/hrs/postdoctoral-associates-fellows-overview>).

Application Process:

Review of applications will begin on November 22, 2024 and the position will remain open until filled.

Applicants are asked to submit materials to Alex Zakaras (azakaras@uvm.edu), Professor of Political Science and chair of the search committee.

Applicants are asked to submit the following materials:

- A cover letter;
- CV;
- three letters of reference;
- a statement of research interests;
- a statement of teaching philosophy;
- a statement about how they plan to contribute to the diversity, inclusion and equity work of the University and the College of Arts and Sciences.

Questions may be directed to Alex Zakaras (azakaras@uvm.edu).

The Henderson-Harris Fellowship Program

The Henderson-Harris Fellowship Program honors the memory of George Washington Henderson and Andrew Harris. George Washington Henderson was one of the first African American students elected to Phi Beta Kappa and to graduate from the University of Vermont (class of 1877). Andrew Harris was not only the very first African American graduate of the University of Vermont (class of 1838), but he was also the first African American college graduate in the United States to champion the abolition of slavery and to demand full equality for people of color. The Henderson-Harris Fellowship Program, offered in cooperation with academic departments, supports post-doctoral scholars whose expertise aligns with advancing the University of Vermont's (UVM) research and teaching priorities, particularly those related to Our Common Ground principles and UVM's inclusive excellence objectives.

The Henderson-Harris Fellowship Program seeks applicants whose diverse lived experiences have profoundly shaped their research, pedagogical, and service-oriented objectives. Ideal candidates will be able to articulate the influence of these experiences on their academic pursuits, particularly those whose research and teaching goals directly engage with issues of inequality and injustice within their respective disciplines. We welcome applications from all candidates who are committed to these values.

The Henderson-Harris fellowships are awarded for a maximum of two years, with the expectation that the Fellow will transition to a tenure-track position at UVM upon completion of the fellowship. The requesting unit must contribute at least one-half of the starting salary and start-up expenses. In-kind commitments from the Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs (VPFA) will include professional development, peer mentoring, community building, and networking opportunities, as applicable. UVM will not sponsor employment authorization for these positions. Academic units are encouraged to assess the interest and potential of Henderson-Harris Fellows candidates before the submission of the Faculty Staffing proposal. Academic units are also strongly encouraged to explore joint efforts and identify thematic areas for cluster hires.

Possibility of Tenure-Track

Fellows establish and pursue their own research agenda with guidance through a mentorship program tailored to help them transition into a tenure-track faculty position at the end of the Fellowship. If the Fellow decides to apply for a tenure-track position at UVM, the Department of Political Science will conduct a vote about converting the position to tenure-track and send the hiring recommendation to the Provost for approval.

The University

Established in 1791, the University of Vermont is considered a public university and consistently ranked as one of the top public universities in the United States. Our academic programs combine faculty-student relationships most commonly found in a small liberal arts college with the resources of a land-grant research institution. UVM's tradition of equity and social justice extends not only to faculty, staff, and students, but also is reflected in a commitment to environmentally sound and sustainable practices.

The College of Arts & Sciences

In the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS), students experience the connectedness and accessibility of a small liberal arts college within a high caliber public research institution. Whether students are pursuing the Fine Arts, the Humanities, Natural Science and Mathematics or Social Sciences, they have a place here, in the College of Arts and Sciences' academic ecosystem.

The College of Arts and Sciences highly values the excellence that results when people from different backgrounds and perspectives work, interact, and learn together. In this way, commitment to diversity fosters our educational mission. For our students, it prepares them for life and work ahead: it recognizes that we are a culturally, ethnically, and racially diverse nation, one that is also situated in an increasingly global environment. For our faculty, scholarship and research are increasingly cooperative activities-often crossing national borders-requiring the abilities and skills to work with others often from very different backgrounds. For both our students and faculty, diversity enhances our curriculum, enriches the classroom experience, and fosters the exchange of ideas. As our society, economy, politics, and global interactions become increasingly diverse, so must our intellectual community of students, faculty, and staff.

The College of Arts & Sciences' Diversity Plan

The College of Arts & Sciences (CAS) will become a role model for the creation of a welcoming and socially nurturing environment that actively promotes a sincere appreciation of diversity. To achieve our purpose, CAS will:

Ensure faculty, students, and staff members from underrepresented and marginalized populations are an integral part of the life and governance of the institution

Substantially increase the representation of women, minoritized, and other marginalized groups among faculty, students, and staff

Engage all students, faculty, staff and community members in rich curricular and co-curricular experiences that enhance their understanding and appreciation of people of diverse personal and group histories, identities, and perspectives

Establishing a diverse and inclusive culture is a priority at the University of Vermont. UVM holds that diversity and academic excellence are inseparable. The University of Vermont is an educationally purposeful community seeking to prepare students to be accountable leaders in a diverse and changing world. Members of the University of Vermont community embrace and advance the values of Our Common Ground.

The Department

The Department of Political Science is one of the largest departments in UVM's College of Arts and Sciences and continues to attract a growing number of undergraduate students. Our internationally recognized faculty include highly productive scholars who have won grants from major foundations and published in some of the best outlets in the field. Our faculty have also been recognized as among the best teachers at UVM. For more information about the department, see: <https://www.uvm.edu/cas/polisci>

The Community

UVM is located in Burlington, Vermont, which is rated as one of the best small cities in the country. The greater Burlington area has an increasingly diverse population of about 125,000 and enjoys a panoramic setting on the shore of Lake Champlain, between the Green Mountains of Vermont and the Adirondack Mountains of New York State. The surrounding area provides an environment rich in cultural, civic and recreational activities. Vermont has a deep history of social activism and political participation. It offers many opportunities for collaborative partnerships in community and state-wide human service and social change organizations in multiple fields of practice, including state agencies.

The University of Vermont is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other category legally protected by federal or state law. The University encourages applications from all individuals who will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the institution.

For all applicants, employment is subject to a successful background check. UVM will not sponsor employment authorization for these positions.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15043

Columbia University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scholar: The Columbia Center for Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Public Policy

About Columbia World Projects

Columbia World Projects mobilizes the university's researchers and scholars to work with governments, organizations, businesses and communities to tackle global challenges. Columbia World Projects is a major, university-wide initiative that aims to forge a closer and more useful connection between Columbia University's vast research capabilities and the needs of the world.

Columbia World Projects is part of Columbia Global, which brings together major global initiatives from across the university to advance knowledge and foster global engagement. In addition to World Projects, those initiatives include the Columbia Global Centers, the Committee on Global Thought, and the Institute for Ideas and Imagination.

Columbia Global's mission is to address complex global challenges through groundbreaking scholarly pursuits, leadership development, cutting-edge research, and projects that aim for social impact.

About the Columbia Center for Political Economy

Launched in 2022, the Center for Political Economy at Columbia World Projects identifies and advances the most promising contemporary developments within economics and promotes a new political economy with robust, intellectual and policy incubators across distinct thematic areas, or 'Idea Labs', outlined below.

Position Summary

The Columbia Center for Political Economy is seeking full-time Postdoctoral Research Scholars beginning July 1, 2025. Under the direction of the Center's faculty Co-directors and Idea Lab leads, the Scholar will have the opportunity to pursue their own research while supporting the work of the Center.

The Center invites applications on topics of relevance to the Center's broad priorities. This includes the foci of the Center's Idea Labs – Work and Labor, Firms and Industrial Policy, Money and Finance, and Political Economy of Climate. We encourage you to apply for the Idea Lab that best suits your background and research interests. Please see below for descriptions of each Lab.

Work and Labor examines the forces that influence labor and labor markets, focusing on modes of collective worker action, the interplay between government policies and worker power, how worker organizations intersect with the political process and government, and the future of domestic and international labor movements, with an emphasis on empirical research. This cycle the Work and Labor Idea Lab is especially interested in applicants whose work speaks to politics and policy, including, but not limited to, the politics of enacting labor reform at different levels of government; worker perspectives on representation through labor organizations and collective action; the design of labor policies and the effects of those policies on opportunities for building worker power and fostering collective action; coalition management between worker organizations and other movements and organized interests; and the relationship between worker organizations, including unions, and politics and government.

Firms and Industrial Policy aims to gain new insights into how firms behave, to provide a grounding for policy interventions to promote innovation and shared prosperity. Industrial policy – government interventions to stimulate innovation, accelerate technological change, and promote selected industries – is back on mainstream policy agendas in the U.S., Europe, and many developing countries. But even as the policy pendulum swings back toward government intervention, the knowledge base to guide industrial policy remains underdeveloped. Topics may focus on factors that shape firms' decisions technology adoption, product innovation, quality upgrading, R&D investments, patenting, and other forms of innovative behavior; on how such decisions are influenced by market conditions, network relationships, and supply chain architectures; on novel ways to measure such decisions and influences; and on what works and doesn't work in industrial policy.

Money and Finance explores the relation of money and finance both in theoretical terms and in institutional configurations, including the design of financial instruments as well as the policy instruments employed by central banks, but also the design of financial intermediaries and their relation to central banks and financial market regulators. The deeply imbricated institutional relation of money and finance has important implications for political economy. Topics may include the future of central banking, the rise of digital money systems, the role of money and finance in climate change as accelerator or mitigator, the impact of large asset managers on financial systems, as well as the search for alternative forms for financing R&D, land preservation, and social protection.

Political Economy of Climate explores how political and economic forces shape policy and societal responses to climate change. The Lab is most interested in fostering synergies around the following thematic areas: climate fairness and environmental justice, international collaboration or lack thereof, interests shaping the effectiveness of energy transition, and political constraints on environmental (especially climate) policies. The Lab is currently focused on the political economy of forests and how communities dependent on fossil fuel extraction adjust to shifts in demand.

Funding for the Postdoctoral Research Scholar will cover salary for up to one year with the possibility of a one-year extension. The scholar will commit to jointly organize seminars and conferences, public events, and additional programmatic support and outreach with the given Lab that they are involved with.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD, JSD, or equivalent from across the social sciences, history, and law.

Salary Range

The salary range for this position is $71,050-$82,000

Application

Interested applicants should submit the following materials via Submittable:

- Cover Letter describing your interest and relevant experience;
- Curriculum Vitae;
- Documentation of PhD or JSD conferment, or timeline for obtaining degree;
- Writing sample consisting of a single journal article, essay, or book chapter (published or unpublished);
- A summary of the research plan for which the position is sought (limited to 350 words);
- A detailed research plan (up to five pages, single-spaced) for the position stating specific goals to be accomplished during the period it will be held; and
- Three letters of recommendation provided by references familiar with your work (including your doctoral supervisor, if applicable).

Please use this Submittable application link (<https://cwp.submittable.com/submit/303472/2025-26-center-for-political-economy-postdoctoral-research-scholar-opportunity>) to submit an application. Only complete applications submitted via the process outlined will be considered.

Key Deadlines:

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. All application materials must be received no later than December 2, 2024 at 5:00PM EST.

Decisions are expected to be made in February 2025, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025.

Please contact politicaleconomy@columbia.edu with any questions.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15021

St. Mary's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies and Global Affairs

Specializations: International Political Economy, Research Methods, International Security

The Department of International Studies and Global Affairs at St. Mary's University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in security studies with an open regional focus (Asia or Africa are preferred) beginning August 2025. The position will entail teaching three- course load per semester, research, administration, advising, and service in both interdisciplinary M.A. Program in International Relations and B.A. International and Global Studies. A Ph.D. in International Relations, Security Studies, or a related field is required at the time of appointment; ABD applicants will be considered.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should have a record of excellence in teaching both in person and online courses, as well as a record of successful peer-reviewed publication in scholarly journals which is essential for a graduate-level position. Candidates must provide evidence of an ability to work collaboratively in an interdisciplinary and student-centred environment. The successful candidate will be required to make substantive contributions through service to the department, the University, and the broader community. Applicants should also recognize that the Department of International Studies and Global Affairs and St. Mary's University are faith-based with an emphasis in social justice and the common good.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching in our security policy concentration along with non-traditional security issues and general core (International Political Economy, National Security, International Relations Theory, Research and Writing in IR). Some international field experience is desirable.

The International and Global Studies program offers a Bachelor of Arts degree with four tracks (General Studies, Economic and Trade Affairs, Political and Cultural Affairs, and Latin American Studies). The Graduate International Relations Program offers the Master of Arts degree to a diverse student population from a variety of countries and backgrounds, including students who have recently completed their undergraduate degrees and mid-career professionals. It currently includes on-campus and online programs with 2 focus areas: 1) security policy and 2) sustainable development and conflict transformation.

St. Mary's University, as a Catholic Marianist University, fosters the formation of people in faith and educates leaders for the common good through community, integrated liberal arts and professional education, and academic excellence: www.stmarytx.edu/about. St. Mary's is the oldest Catholic university in the Southwest and continues to advocate the Marianist mission. St. Mary's enrolls approximately 3500 students in a diverse university with four schools, more than 40 academic programs including Ph.D. and J.D. programs, and numerous pre-professional programs. The successful candidate is expected to support and contribute to the University's Marianist educational mission.

Applications can be found at <http://stmarytx.applicantpro.com/jobs/> with the option to upload all supporting documents electronically. Along with the employment application please submit a statement of your teaching philosophy, along with a full set of teaching evaluations, curriculum vitae, transcripts, and writing samples illustrating excellence in research. Finalists will be required to submit letters of recommendations. Refer any questions to: Dr. Claudia Donoso, Chairperson Search Committee, Department of International Studies and Global Affairs, cdonoso@stmarytx.edu. For full consideration, applications should be received by December 2, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment is contingent upon budget approval and upon successful completion of a clear background check.

St. Mary's University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to furthering diversity, equity, and inclusion and encourages all qualified candidates apply.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15018

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, Political Theory

United States Army War College

Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies

Salary range: $90,730 – $146,476

Objective:

The United States Army War College is accepting applications for an Assistant/Associate Professor of African Studies in the Department of National Security and Strategy to begin in the summer of 2025.

Position Description:

The person selected for this position will have a leading role in planning, administering, and teaching core courses on African regional studies as well as other core and elective courses of the resident education program and associated programs. They will serve as a faculty instructor for one seminar, advise students, and serve as project advisor for student research projects. They will also engage in cutting-edge scholarship that advances knowledge in fields relevant to the curriculum and engage in service in support of USAWC missions. Other duties may include teaching courses on war, strategy, and national security policy, and/or supporting the development and execution of specialized programs in policy, strategy, and outreach. Finally, the applicant must be able to obtain and maintain a SECRET security clearance from the US government.

The Army War College seeks applicants who would find fulfillment teaching and researching in an environment that intentionally blends scholarly achievement with policy application. It relies on a collaborative and inter-disciplinary teaching environment that emphasizes student engagement. As one of the nation's premiere institutions for military education, it is a dynamic workplace that mixes academic excellence with practitioner experience to prepare senior level officers and civilians for roles in strategy- and policy-making over the rest of their careers. This importance of the mission, and direct impact that faculty instruction has on national security processes, fosters a culture of mutual respect and collegiality across the department and school. Faculty who are interested in translating their academic expertise into policy debates are encouraged to do so.

This is a full-time, long-term, civilian faculty position. Initial appointment may be for up to three years; the first year may be probationary. Appointments may be renewed subject to job performance and availability of funds; reappointments at USAWC are the norm and the position should be considered equivalent to tenure-track. Academic rank and compensation of initial appointment will be offered commensurate with the applicant's level of experience and qualifications. We are prepared to offer a salary-and-benefits package designed to attract highly talented applicants.

For additional questions about the position, Department of National Security and Strategy, and/or the Army War College, please contact: Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison

US Army War College

651 Wright Avenue

Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013

USAWC\_DNSS\_africanstudies@army.mil

Qualifications:

In order to qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below, also known as Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities (KSAs). Your curriculum vitae or résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience, and cover letters are encouraged to directly address the required KSAs, as they will be used by the search committee appointed to identify the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have master's degree (required) in political science, history, national security studies, international relations, government, or related field. PhD or terminal degree strongly preferred. Doctoral students who expect to complete their Ph.D. prior to July 1, 2025 are eligible and encouraged to apply. Expertise in African politics strongly preferred.
2. Ability to prepare, teach, and lecture on subjects related to African studies, regional politics in Africa, American foreign policy, grand strategy, and national security decision-making. An established record of superlative teaching at the undergraduate, graduate, and/or Senior Service College level, and experience in seminar-style instruction, is preferred.
3. Record of scholarly research and publication—or evidence of great potential for such research and publication—in areas relevant to the curriculum, to include national security policy and strategy, international relations, political science, history, political economy, regional studies, and the strategic use of military force (e.g., assurance, deterrence, coercion, and compellence). Expertise in regional African studies is preferred.
4. A record of successful service to the profession and/or engagement with policy debates, including membership in and service to professional (regional, historical, political) scholarly societies, public history initiatives, or military and defense organizations. A record of successful non-governmental work of a similar nature and scope, such as with a think tank, development organization, media organization, or international organization may also be considered service.

Application Required Documents:

Your application must contain each of the following:

1. Letter of application addressing the required KSAs and other qualifications, as listed in the QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED section above.
2. Curriculum vitae or résumé.
3. One sample of written scholarship not to exceed 50 pages (Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.)

4. List of four disinterested professional references (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate's qualifications but have no stake in the outcome of the selection).

5. A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the US Army War College through teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

To apply for this position, you must submit the documentation specified in the Application Required Documents section above, directly to:

Dr. Mark Duckenfield, Committee Liaison
US Army War College
651 Wright Avenue
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
USAWC_DNSS_africanstudies@army.mil

The complete application package must be submitted by 11:59 PM (EST) on 11 November 2024 to receive consideration.

Next Steps: If you provided an email address, you will receive an email message acknowledging receipt of your application. Your application package will be used to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. If you are determined to be ineligible or not qualified, your application will receive no further consideration. The deadline to apply for this position is November 15, 2024

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/3/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15001

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach an upper-level, undergraduate course in-person on Global Justice (one section only) for the Spring 2025 semester. The instructor will teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity .

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please first send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14989

CUNY, Hunter College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Hunter College Political Science Department is hiring for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in political theory, beginning Fall 2025, pending final college approval. Candidates whose research addresses race, empire, colonialism, ecology, technology, or indigeneity will be preferred. The successful candidate will be expected to teach American Political Thought and potentially develop additional courses for the "US Experience in its Diversity" component of the Hunter College Core Curriculum.

This position involves conducting research, contributing to departmental administration, participating in university programs, and potentially having the option to join the faculty at the CUNY Graduate Center.

Performs teaching, research and guidance duties in area(s) of expertise. Shares responsibility for committee and department assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of experience or equivalent required; applicants must have a PhD in hand by the position's starting date. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

Assistant Professor ($75,465-$90,375)

HOW TO APPLY

Candidates should submit a cover letter describing their research agenda and teaching philosophy, a current CV, a writing sample (of no more than 30 pages), a graduate transcript, three letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness by November 1.

Applications must be submitted online by accessing the CUNY Portal on City University of New York job website www.cuny.edu/ employment or <https://cuny.jobs/> and following the CUNYfirst Job System Instructions. To search for this vacancy, click on Search Job Listings, select More Options To Search For CUNY Jobs and enter the Job Opening ID number (29068) or use the link below:

https://hrsa.cunyfirst.cuny.edu/psc/erecruit/EMPLOYEE/HRMSCG/c/HRS\_HRAM\_FL.HRS\_CG\_SEARCH\_FL.GBL?Page=HRS\_APP\_JBPST\_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=1&JobOpeningId=29068&PostingSeq=1&

Upload all documents as ONE single file-- PDF format preferred.

Letters of recommendation should be emailed separately to polsrch@hunter.cuny.edu.

Please contact the Department Chairperson, Zachary Shirkey if you have questions.

CLOSING DATE

The committee will begin reviewing complete applications on November 1, 2024. The search will remain open, and screening and review of applications will be ongoing-- until the position is filled. Applications submitted after the deadline will only be considered if the position(s) remain open after initial round.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 14976

University of Missouri, Kansas City

Rank: Norman Royall Endowed Professor/Associate Professor of Political Communication/UMKC School of Humanities & Social Sciences

Subfield(s): Other, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

JOID 53314 / POSITION 55964

Hiring Department

UNIVERSITY of MISSOURI-KANSAS CITY

SCHOOL of HUMANITIES and SOCIAL SCIENCES

Department of Political Science and Philosophy

With our vast selection of courses spanning the arts, humanities and sciences, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences offers a diverse educational experience. Analyzing ideas and human experiences from a wide variety of perspectives prepares students for careers in government, law, education, communications, and political organizations. <https://shss.umkc.edu/about-us/index.html>

The Department of Political Science and Philosophy is a dynamic department with programs and courses across the political science and philosophy disciplines. Our award-winning faculty are committed to the success of our students, both in and out of the classroom. <https://shss.umkc.edu/areas-of-study/political-science-and-philosophy/index.html>

Job Description

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University of Missouri-Kansas City invites applications for the Norman Royall

Professor or Associate Professor with expertise in political science and one of the following: quantitative methods, data science, or data analytics research. This is a 9-month full-time tenure-eligible endowed faculty appointment; rank commensurate with career experience. The position begins with the Fall 2025 semester.

The successful candidate will play a critical role in the research and teaching mission of the Department of Political Science and Philosophy, including securing extramural research funding, working collaboratively, and teaching courses. Endowed Professors with their vast career experiences serve as valuable resources to the School, the university and the community.

In support of our goals to be a workplace of choice and a national leader in research and scholarship, UMKC strives to assure that all individuals appointed to endowed chairs and professorships are outstanding leaders in scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants for this endowed position are encouraged to review UMKC's Guidelines for Evaluation of Endowed Chairs and Professors at the following link: <https://info.umkc.edu/academichiring/ended-chairs-professorships/>.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field.

A full-time ranked faculty appointment at the associate or full professor rank which reflects scholastic success and a record of funded research.

Anticipated Hiring Range

Salary is commensurate with rank, experience and a record of success in externally funded research. It is determined by a variety of factors, including but not limited to, the individual's particular combination of education, skills, and capacity to enhance the department offerings.

Your total compensation goes beyond the number on your paycheck. The University of Missouri provides generous leave, health plans, and retirement contributions that add to your bottom line. Our academic workloads and schedules provide for a positive work/life balance.

Application Materials For consideration, you must apply online at www.umkc.edu/jobs, click in Academic Positions (Job Opening ID 53314).

Please combine all application materials (personal letter of interest reflecting your teaching philosophy, research interests and applicable experience with accompanying up-to-date curriculum vitae and a list of 3 academic and/or professional references with current contact information) into one PDF or Microsoft Word document and upload as your resume attachments. Limit document name to 50 characters and do not include any special characters (e.g., /, &, %, etc.).

· If you are experiencing technical problems during application, please email umpshrsupport@umsystem.edu .

· For questions about the position, please contact umkcfacultysearch@umkc.edu including the Job Identification number 53314 and name of the position.

· Reasonable accommodations may be requested during the application and recruitment process. If you need an accommodation, please contact the Office of Affirmative Action at (816) 235-1323.

· Finalists will be asked to provide university transcripts reflecting award of degrees and references will be contacted.

· A successful Criminal Background Check is required for hire.

Application Deadline

Applications accepted until a qualified candidate is hired. Review of completed applications will begin upon receipt, with priority consideration for those received by October 21, 2024.

Comments

UMKC is a public, urban, research university with more than 15,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. It is part of the larger University of Missouri System. Our university is committed to being a model urban university that is recognized for our partnerships with surrounding urban communities to effectively foster a healthy, safe, and more economically secure socially just quality of life.

A City on the Rise: Big City Life and Midwest Charm, Kansas City offers the best of both worlds - a vibrant, urban community with midwestern appeal and an affordable cost of living. The university is located in a Kansas City metropolitan area that is among the most entrepreneurial cities in America with a population of more than 2.4 million. Our UMKC campuses are centered in the hubs of business activity, cultural arts, (some great barbeque and ethnic cuisine!) and health science research engagement for both the Volker and Health Sciences campuses. Our community boasts championship professional athletic teams, NASCAR racing, and a rich history of music and performing arts. Our beautiful state provides rivers, lakes, biking/hiking trails and mountains for outdoor enthusiasts all within an easy drive. To learn more about life in Kansas City, check out VisitKC.com.

Benefit Eligibility

This position is eligible for University benefits. As part of your total compensation, the University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts for all four UM System campuses. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <https://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Values Commitment We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate.

In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research, and engagement.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eo> or call

Human Resources at 816-235-1621. To request ADA accommodations, please call the Office of Equity & Title IX at 816-235-6910.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14978

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory

Assistant Professor – Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for multiple tenure-track Assistant Professor positions, to begin Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on Political Theory. Candidates from all areas of Political Theory are invited to apply, though special consideration will be given to candidates with a research interest in the History of Political Theory, American political thought, or Constitutional Theory/Constitutionalism. Successful candidates should have extensive training in the History of Political Theory, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Review of applications will begin November 15 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence and cultural diversity in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003563. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Professor Alin Fumurescu, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at afumures@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples. The University of Houston is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution and recognizes protected classes of race, color, sex (including pregnancy), genetic information, religion, age (40 and above), national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or status, and gender expression as required by federal law. Veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14962

Tulane University

Rank: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Latin American, Central America, Caribbean

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2025-2026, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are preferred. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments starting in July 2025 with a stipend of $50,000 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in one of the Center's ongoing research initiatives, including the Central American Politics Consortium and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment. Applicants must specify in their application which track is their first preference and which their second. Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2025. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/155003> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) a writing sample; and (5) teaching evaluations if available. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting November 30, 2024.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 14950

Tulane University

Rank: Mid-Career Research Fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) at Tulane University seeks a Visiting Mid-Career Research Fellow for the Fall 2025 or Spring 2026 academic semester. The Center supports empirical research in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required. A fellow will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, and the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs.

The fellow will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of their disciplinary department, CIPR, and the Stone Center for Latin American Studies. They are expected to participate in weekly CIPR seminars and workshops, as well as lectures, conferences, and other events organized by the Center. The fellow will collaborate with resident faculty and students on projects of mutual interest in addition to developing their independent research agendas on related topics, as well as mentor junior colleagues at the Center when possible.

The fellowship is for one semester with a stipend of $37,000 plus benefits. Fellows may also obtain funding from their own academic institutions, outside foundations or personal resources. Round-trip travel expenses of up to $3,000 are also supported. Foreign applicants will need to obtain separate health insurance coverage.

Qualifications:

Scholars are expected to hold a PhD. Recent PhD graduates are generally not appropriate candidates. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency are required.

Application Instructions:

Applications must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/155389> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests, fit to the program, and intended research plan to be developed at CIPR if selected. Letters of recommendation will be requested only for finalists, so applicants at this stage are asked only to indicate who their recommenders will be. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy and Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 30, 2024.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/26/2024

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999
eJobs ID: 14954

University of Saskatchewan

Rank: Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Public Policy in a Polarized Era

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: International Political Economy, Public Opinion, Political Development

The Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy (JSGS) at the University of Saskatchewan (USask) is recruiting for a Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Public Policy in a Polarized Era. The Canada Research Chairs Program is the flagship of a national strategy to make Canada a world-leading country in research and development and is committed to addressing Research Chair equity gaps.

Canada's policy context is highly complex, and our understanding of governance needs to be adapted to the realities of dissolving social cohesion, increasing populism, the ongoing processes of reconciliation, and growing distrust of both science and government. The Tier 1 CRC in Public Policy in a Polarized Era will lead cutting-edge research into the governance tools necessary to advance evidence-informed policy in an era of political polarization.

This CRC is both timely and necessary. Both misinformation (false or misleading information) and disinformation (misinformation spread with a deliberate intent to deceive) are on the rise. These dynamics feed political polarization and create a powerful negative feedback loop that makes evidence-informed policy difficult.

Polarization is a broad international social phenomenon that is limiting the potential for science-based advancement to translate into public policy. The context for evidence-informed policy in Canada and other advanced democracies has never been more challenging or complex. If we are to achieve the potential for scientific and technological advancement to address the world's most challenging problems, there is a need for change.

The CRC will help advance both policy frameworks and policy training. In turn, by improving the context for evidence-informed policy-making, the CRC will:

- ? Improve the quality of life in Canada;
- ? Train graduate students and postdoctoral fellows to become policy leaders equipped to advance evidence-informed policy through innovative public engagement research and practices suitable for a polarized political environment;
- ? Create new graduate course offerings on policy and polarization available to students in a wide range of disciplines;
- ? Partner with USask researchers in areas highly affected by polarization;
- ? Establish international interdisciplinary networks of scholars focused on the issue of evidence-informed policy within a context of polarization; and
- ? Increase evidence-informed policy tools through JSGS's strong government connections for use by policymakers

Start Date: Summer 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14943

Georgetown University

Rank: Provost's Distinguished Faculty Fellow and Assistant Professor of Government

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Theory to begin on August 1, 2025.

For the first year of this position, the successful candidate will also hold the title of Provost's Distinguished Faculty Fellow, and will have no teaching and service responsibilities to allow a focus on research while receiving mentorship and support from two senior faculty members. After the first year, the teaching load will be two courses per semester, with teaching responsibilities at both the undergraduate and graduate level. Additional responsibilities include contributing to the Ph.D. Program in Political Theory, the Political Theory Speaker Series, and supporting the intellectual life of the Department of Government.

We are looking for candidates whose work addresses American Political Thought, broadly understood, with a particular interest in questions of race, African American political thought, religion and politics, and/or America's place in the international system, potentially including theories of natural law and world order, empire, colonialism and anti-colonialism, immigration, or ethics and international relations.

Candidates with interests in these areas and other areas of political theory are strongly encouraged to apply.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is required prior to the start date of August 1, 2025. In addition to the potential for outstanding research and teaching, candidates should demonstrate a commitment to academic excellence and diversity, equity, and inclusion in their teaching/mentoring, research, and/or service. This commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion can be demonstrated in many ways, including those whose scholarship/teaching focuses on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or those who have demonstrated a commitment to fostering diversity, equity, and inclusion through their service activities.

Position Details

The Provost's Distinguished Faculty Fellowship program is in its third year at Georgetown University. This program is designed to bring in a cohort of new faculty from a wide range of backgrounds who demonstrate a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Provost's Distinguished Fellows are on the tenure track and will be exempt from teaching and service duties in the first year of their appointments, and will devote their full-time effort to building their research program. Fellows will be assigned senior faculty mentors by their home departments/schools.

Application Instructions

Click on Apply Now to submit the following required materials:

1. Cover Letter
2. Academic CV
3. Three confidential letters of recommendation
4. Writing sample of no more than 40 pages
5. Diversity Statement indicating how the candidate has in the past and will in the future at Georgetown enrich a community that seeks a diversity of perspectives and people

Applications are due by October 22, 2024.

For questions related to this position, please contact the Chair of the Search Committee, Richard Boyd, at rb352@georgetown.edu

The projected salary pay range for this position is $93,591 - 103,990, which represents the full range of anticipated compensation for this position. Compensation is determined by a number of factors including, but not limited to, the candidate's individual qualifications, experience, education, skills, and certifications, as well as the University's business needs and external factors.

Application Process

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Apply Now:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/154947>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/22/2024

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 14884

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Women & Politics, Political Theory

The Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) Program in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking to appoint a tenure-track Assistant Professor to serve as a core faculty member in our thriving Philosophy, Politics, and Economics Program and to take a leading role in developing and expanding the PPE Program and the PPE Society. The position will begin on July 1, 2025. The successful candidate will likely have a primary appointment in the Philosophy Department, which houses the PPE Program and the PPE Society, although appointment in either Political Science or Public Policy is a possibility, depending on the candidate's qualifications. We welcome applications from candidates whose work aligns with our departmental mission as outlined on our website.

Salary commensurate with qualifications. Normal responsibilities include a standard 2-2 teaching load, graduate student supervision, committee work, and active support and engagement with PPE-related extracurricular activities.

Please submit your application here: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/288248>

Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. We will try to give the same consideration for applications that are received after October 15, 2024, but we cannot guarantee it. We will continue our review of applications until the position is filled.

Your application should include:

- a cover letter that speaks explicitly and substantively to your interests in and ability to contribute to a Philosophy, Politics and Economics Program,
- a curriculum vitae,
- a writing sample,
- a description of your research,
- evidence of teaching quality, and
- the names, titles, affiliations, and email addresses of those who are writing letters of recommendation for you (three are required, five are permitted). Recommenders identified by the applicant will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference and the application system will solicit recommendations directly from Interfolio. Please see the Interfolio information about Online Application Delivery. Finally, applicants may also and instead list the email address of a Graduate Coordinator willing to upload their confidential references instead of the referring faculty.

If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to Kori Hensell at ppeprogram\_hiring@unc.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14871

Utah State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Utah State University invites applications for a academic year, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning August 2025. We seek candidates who are broadly trained in political theory. The area of specialization is open. Application review will begin October 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Responsibilities will include a primary role in research, high quality teaching at both the master's and undergraduate levels, and service. Preference will be given to those with a strong research trajectory and demonstrated interest in teaching courses of need in the department, including introductory and upper division courses in political theory, including in the candidate's area of specialization. The anticipated teaching load is two classes per semester.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must have a doctoral degree in Political Science as of employment date

Candidates must demonstrate accomplishments and/or clear potential for success in research

Candidates must demonstrate accomplishments and/or clear potential for success in teaching

The successful candidate must generate a satisfactory outcome on a background check

The Department of Political Science is a vibrant community of about 14 tenured or tenure-track faculty with a strong tradition for excellence. The department is one of 8 departments situated in the College of Humanities & Social Sciences. This position is based on our main campus in Logan, Utah in the scenic Cache Valley and offers abundant opportunities for cultural experiences, shopping, and access to nature.

Founded in 1888, Utah State University is Utah's premier land-grant, public service university, with a strong commitment to excellence, access, and inclusion, empowering people to lead successful lives of involvement, innovation, and impact. Utah State provides high-quality education to 27,500-plus students locations throughout the state, including at three residential campuses, eight statewide campuses, and 23 education centers. USU Online educates students from all 50 states and 55 countries. For over 25 years, USU Extension has served and engaged Utahns in all of Utah's counties. As an R1 research institution, Utah State is dedicated to advancing knowledge through research and scholarly activities, providing a high-quality undergraduate and graduate education at an affordable price.

Utah State is committed to cultivating a community of inclusive excellence where all perspectives, values, cultures, and identities are acknowledged, welcomed, and valued. We seek to recruit, hire, and retain people from all walks of life who will champion excellence in education, research, discovery, outreach, and service. We believe that promoting a strong sense of community and belonging empowers and engages all members of USU to thrive and be successful. Forbes recognized our commitment to employees when they named Utah State the best employer in Utah in 2023. Learn more about USU.

The university provides a Dual Career Assistance Program to support careers for partners who are also seeking employment. Additionally, USU is committed to providing access and reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities. To request a reasonable accommodation for a disability, contact the university's ADA Coordinator in the Office of Human Resources at (435) 797-0122 or hr@usu.edu.

About the Region

U.S. News and World Report ranked Utah first for its strong economy, fiscal stability, education, and health care. Outstanding outdoor recreational opportunities abound throughout the state, including five national parks, 43 state parks and recreation areas, and 15 alpine ski resorts. The home of USU's main campus, Logan, is a city of 54,000-plus people in a picturesque mountain valley 80 miles north of Salt Lake City. The Logan metro area claimed the top spot in the Milken Institute's 2022 ranking for best-performing small cities in the nation.

To apply, complete an online application by visiting <https://careers-usu.icims.com/jobs/intro> and searching for the job's requisition number, which is 2024-8371. When completing the online application, please attach:

1. CV to be uploaded at the beginning of your application in the Candidate Profile under "Resume/CV"
2. Documents below to be uploaded at the beginning of your application in the Candidate Profile under "Documents 1-10"
Cover Letter
Writing Sample
Research Statement
Statement of Teaching Philosophy
Evidence of Effective Teaching.
3. Names and email addresses of three references, that we may request letters of recommendation from.

**Document size may not exceed 10 MB.**

Employees typically work indoors and are protected from weather and/or contaminants, but not, necessarily, occasional temperature changes.

In its programs and activities, including in admissions and employment, Utah State University does not discriminate or tolerate discrimination, including harassment, based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, status as a protected veteran, or any other status protected by University policy, Title IX, or any other federal, state, or local law.

The following individuals have been designated to handle inquiries regarding the application of Title IX and its implementing regulations and/or USU's non-discrimination policies:

Executive Director of the Office of Equity Matthew Pinner, discrimination@usu.edu, Distance Education Rm. 401, 435-797-1266
Title IX Coordinator Cody Carmichael, titleix@usu.edu, Distance Education Rm. 404, 435-797-1266
Mailing address: 5100 Old Main Hill, Logan, UT 84322
For further information regarding non-discrimination, please visit <https://equity.usu.edu/>, or contact:
U.S. Department of Education, Office of Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights, 800-421-3481, OCR@ed.gov

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14868

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

IE University's School of Politics, Economics, and Global Affairs (SPEGA) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2025. The position is open in terms of specialization. We are equally interested in candidates from the fields of political behavior, political institutions, political organizations, and formal theory.

Successful candidates will join the Political Science and International Relations group within SPEGA, which consists of 14 tenured and tenure-track scholars studying comparative politics, international relations, and political economy. Recent publications from this group appear in APSR, AJPS, JOP, BJPS, and many other top generalist and field outlets.

Candidates should have a PhD from a recognized department of political science, international relations, public policy, or related field, or demonstrate clear evidence that their PhD will be complete by July, 2025.

The IE SPEGA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain. We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by October 14, 2024, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/154301>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14860

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

IE University's School of Politics, Economics and Global Affairs (SPEGA) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2025. The position is open in terms of specialization, and we are equally interested in empirical work and formal theoretic work.

Successful candidates will join the Political Science and International Relations group within SPEGA, which consists of 14 tenured and tenure-track scholars studying comparative politics, international relations, political economy, and political behavior. Recent publications from this group appear in APSR, AJPS, JOP, BJPS, and many other top generalist and field outlets.

Candidates should have a PhD from a recognized department of political science, international relations, public policy, or related field, or demonstrate clear evidence that their PhD will be complete by July 2025.

The IE SPEGA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain. We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by October 14, 2024, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/154309>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14859

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Tenure Track Professor of International Law and Ethics, Open Rank

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies at Indiana University - Bloomington is inviting applications for a full-time position in International Law, Institutions and Ethics. This is an open rank tenured/tenure track position in the school's multidisciplinary Department of International Studies.

The successful candidate will have a strong research and teaching record in international law, institutions and ethics. Candidates might specialize in the fields of international humanitarian or human rights law, ethics, law and armed conflict, humanitarian intervention, ethics and AI, privacy, or the ethics of development and environmental conservation/justice.

Review of applications will begin immediately, with all applications received by October 18, 2024 being guaranteed full consideration. This appointment is anticipated to begin on August 1, 2025.

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies houses the Department of International Studies and three preeminent area studies departments: East Asian Languages and Cultures, Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures, and Central Eurasian Studies. A long-standing leader in language and cultural studies in the Midwest, it also houses three federally funded language flagship programs (Arabic, Chinese, and Russian), six Title VI funded National Resource Centers (African Studies Program, Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Center for the Study of Global Change, Center for the Study of the Middle East, Inner Asian and Uralic National Resource Center, Robert F. Byrnes Russian and East European Institute) and nine additional research and teaching centers. Of particular relevance to scholars interested in this position is the Tobias Center for Innovation in International Development (<https://tobiasdevelopment.indiana.edu/>).

The School's central mission is to combine deep area expertise with rigorous, multidisciplinary instruction of international affairs and global cultural studies. The Department of International Studies offers four undergraduate degrees (B.A. in International Studies, B.S. in International Studies, B.A. in International Law and Institutions, and B.S. in Cybersecurity and Global Policy (offered jointly with the Luddy School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering)) and three professional graduate degrees (M.A. in International Studies, M.S. in International Studies, and, joint with the O'Neill School of Environmental and Public Affairs, a Master's in International Affairs) along with one accelerated B.A./M.A. in the International Studies program.

Bloomington, Indiana is a charming college town in south central Indiana, roughly one hour to the award-winning Indianapolis Airport and ninety minutes to Louisville, KY. Bloomington offers many amenities including a relatively low cost of living, short commute times, excellent public schools, diverse dining options, and easy access to state parks and national forests. The confluence of the Jacob School of Music, the Eskenazi Art School, and a vibrant local music, comedy, and theater scene provide access to substantial affordable artistic programming. IU Bloomington is committed to fostering an inclusive and diverse community, as evidenced by it recently being ranked fourth nationwide on a list of the top LGBTQ+-friendly colleges. More about the University's diversity and inclusion initiatives can be found here: <https://diversity.iu.edu/faculty-and-belonging/index.html>

Basic Qualifications:

Candidates should hold a PhD or equivalent in a relevant discipline in law, social sciences or the humanities and have an outstanding record of research, publication, teaching and professional service (appropriate to their rank). Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to working in an interdisciplinary academic environment and be enthusiastic about engaging with scholars and students focused on area studies.

Preferred Qualifications:

The department has a preference for candidates whose scholarship involves grounded expertise in their topic, such as through using research methods that display fluency in a second language, involve fieldwork, and/or engage with international organizations/institutions.

Required Application Materials:

Applicants should submit a cover letter highlighting their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, a sample syllabus of a course they are prepared to teach, and the names of three references (finalists' references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation).

Applicant referees will receive an email link to submit their letters of reference directly to the search committee through the PeopleAdmin interface.

For questions regarding the Department of International Studies, please contact Professor Emma Gilligan, search committee chair, at egilliga@iu.edu or visit the departmental website at internationalstudies.indiana.edu. For questions regarding the application submission process, please contact Mr. Zac Muller, Assistant Director of Faculty Relations, Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies, at zmuller@iu.edu.

Application materials may be submitted via the PeopleAdmin applicant portal at:

<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25573>

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Please note that this offer must also gain final administrative approval and is subject to the University's receipt of verification of your credentials and other information required by law, and on your furnishing the federally required documentation showing that you are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or an authorized alien entitled to be employed in the U.S. for the period of your appointment. Indiana University participates in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's E-Verify Program to confirm employment eligibility. Upon acceptance of your offer, you will receive an email containing information on employment eligibility verification and the E-Verify process. This appointment is also conditional on a positive outcome of a background check, a part of the appointment process for all faculty and staff at the University as well as a misconduct review for prospective tenured faculty. You will receive an authorization/release form that you will be asked to sign. The misconduct review will occur before this offer is finalized, and the background check will be initiated and completed through HireRight, the default web-based system, once all appointment-related documentation has been submitted to the Business Office.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14833

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science/Political Economy
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions in Political Science or Political Economy at the Assistant Professor level. The search is open with respect to subfield. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by July 31, 2025 and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio academic job board at: apply.interfolio.com/153698. Applicants are required to submit: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) two letters of recommendation, 3) one writing sample, 4) research statement, 5) teaching statement, and 6) no more than one-page abstract from their job market paper or dissertation. Applicants may also submit additional optional documents such as: a cover letter, additional writing sample, and/or a third letter of reference. Review of applicants will begin on October 5, 2024. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2025.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All University departments and institutes are charged with building a faculty from a diversity of backgrounds and with diverse viewpoints; with cultivating an inclusive community that values freedom of expression; and with welcoming and supporting all their members.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, military or veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/5/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14798

New School for Social Research

Rank: Henry A. and Louise Loeb Professor of Politics

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

To apply, please visit: https://newschool.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/External/job/D---6-East-16th-Street/Professor-or-Associate-Professor-of-Politics\_JR105966

The Politics Department at The New School for Social Research and Eugene Lang College seeks to appoint a political theorist who will be eligible to be named as the Henry A. and Louise Loeb Professor of Politics, a tenured and endowed position at the full professor or associate professor level.

We seek candidates whose work is theoretically sophisticated, historically sensitive, and politically critical and who are committed to engaging with colleagues outside the theory subfield. We are open to any area within the subfield of Political Theory, but would be especially interested in candidates whose work speak to issues linked to the contemporary political moment — including that of race, gender, capitalism, domination, trans/internationalism, and the environment/climate.

We aim to appoint someone with broad interests, who can contribute to cross-field discussions in a politics department committed to blurring subfield divisions; to interdisciplinary debate in a graduate division dedicated to critically-oriented social science, philosophy and history; and to collegial life in an innovative liberal arts college dedicated to seminar teaching.

The Department of Politics specializes in critical, historical, grounded, and interdisciplinary approaches to the study of politics. Faculty and students bring the leading edge of scholarly debate and analysis into conversation with pressing issues of our time. The Department offers Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and PhD degrees.

The New School is strongly committed to diversity and inclusion in the workplace and particularly seeks applications from members of underrepresented groups, as well as candidates who share this commitment.

RESPONSIBILITIES

The successful candidate will be expected to sustain an active and innovative research agenda. They will teach a 2/2 load in our graduate and undergraduate programs, provide mentorship for MA and PhD students, advise undergraduates and contribute to the regular service needs of the department, college, and University.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in Political Science or other related discipline, with a focus on political theory
- Evidence of a peer-reviewed publications and an active research agenda
- Evidence of teaching success at an institution of higher education

WORK MODE

On-Campus Position: Faculty are expected to work on-campus due to the nature of the work in accordance with the University policies as set forth in the Full-Time Faculty Handbook. #LI-ONSITE

SALARY RANGE

Associate Professor/Full Professor = $119,642 - $149,642

PRIORITY APPLICATION DEADLINE

Applications will be reviewed starting October 1, 2024 and will be accepted until the position is filled.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANTS

- To apply, please submit:
- letter of application outlining qualifications and interest
  - curriculum vitae
  - names and contact information for three references, who would be asked to provide letters at a later stage of the search process

-- a published recent writing sample

Applicants may be contacted at the discretion of the search committee for additional materials.

We look forward to receiving your application!

To apply, please visit: https://newschool.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/External/job/D---6-East-16th-Street/Professor-or-Associate-Professor-of-Politics\_JR105966

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14794

University of London, SOAS

Rank: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor positions in Politics and/or International Relations

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy

Job title: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor positions in Politics and/or International Relations

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 & Grade 9 - £60,239 - £69,132 p/a incl. London Allowance

Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Near and Middle East. SOAS University of London is positioned to play a leading role in re imagining higher education globally, with a new strategic plan in place as the basis for the renewal and revitalisation of the School which commits SOAS to both student responsiveness and research intensity. SOAS is moving towards a new model of international partnerships which is responsive to the transnational character of our global challenges

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading research-led department, ranked 5th in the UK and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The Department is known for its combination of academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on politics and international relations in the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East).

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for two Lecturer (Assistant Professor) / Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor) positions in Politics and/or International Relations starting in the Autumn of 2025. These are T&R (Teaching and Research) positions. The role holder will be expected to contribute to—and shape—the Department's research profile as well as the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Apart from the publication of outstanding academic research, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations, supervise PhD theses (pending completion of a probationary period), and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

Within the discipline of Politics and International Relations, the search is open as to disciplinary subfield and research specialism. Regional expertise is valued, and some experience running both on-campus and online modules, including Executive Education modules, will be beneficial.

Further information on key criteria for the role can be found in the Job Description and the Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities.

How to Apply: Please apply via the link : <https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/job/605776>

Closing date: 30th November 2024
Interviews: TBC

For more information on the role, including a full list of its duties and responsibilities please consult the Job Description and Person Specification found in the job pack attached.

For informal inquiries please contact the Head of Department, Professor Matthew J. Nelson, at mn6@soas.ac.uk.

Further information:

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact hr-recruitment@soas.ac.uk. Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006 for the duration of their contract. SOAS will support visa applications for this role where possible.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

We would particularly welcome applications from candidates from working class, first generation Higher Education, Black, Asian, other minority ethnic and underrepresented groups from within the UK and beyond. All appointment decisions will be made on merit, following a fair and competitive process.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14787

University of Georgia

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia invites applications for a Lecturer to begin August 1, 2025. This is a nine-month academic year appointment that is renewable on an annual basis. The lecturer will teach eight courses per academic year, four courses in each academic term. Typically, two or more sections of the same course can be offered each semester and/or during the same academic year. The allocation of effort at appointment will be 100% teaching. The lecturer will be expected to teach the undergraduate introduction to American government. In addition, the candidate will teach upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods in areas that align with their research and teaching interests. Lecturers are eligible to participate in professional-development opportunities and receive funds for professional travel and summer teaching when they are available. The university has a promotion path for lecturers. Upon their sixth year as a lecturer, a faculty may be promoted to senior lecturer, after which they may be promoted to principal lecturer (for details see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/guidelines-for-appointment-and-promotion-of-lecturers/>).

Minimum qualifications: Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science completed by August 1, 2025.

Additional Requirements:

-Excellent communication skills

-Evidence of teaching excellence or demonstrated potential for teaching excellence

Duties/Responsibilities

-Contribute to the instructional mission of the Department of Political Science

-Teach four three-credit hour courses per academic term including the introduction to American government and upper division undergraduate courses in American politics, political theory, or methods.

-Participate in workshops, the development of new course materials, and/or supervise teaching assistants

Special instructions to applicants:

Prospective applicants should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a teaching portfolio, and a list of three letter writers who will separately provide letters of recommendation electronically to the UGA jobs web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/387895>

The cover letter is expected to include a description of the candidate's strengths as an instructor and relevant teaching experiences as they relate to this position description. The application should also include a teaching portfolio that provides: a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness.

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin January 8, 2025 and continue until the position is filled.

For more information about the Department of Political Science and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14517

Bucknell University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science (Non-Western Political Thought)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Non-Western Political Thought beginning in the fall semester of 2025. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level. We seek candidates whose scholarly and teaching interests focus on any region outside of Europe and North America, although we will also consider candidates who work on Indigenous Thought in North or South America. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in political theory as well as courses in their areas of specialty.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a sub-field specialization in political theory. Outstanding candidates in the final stages of their dissertation will be considered but must complete their degree in their first year at Bucknell in order to continue employment after the first year.

For additional information and to apply, please go to <https://www.bucknell.edu/azdirectory/talent-culture-human-resources/careers-bucknell>. The application should include a cover letter, C.V., statement of teaching philosophy, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Later in the process, candidates may be asked to provide contact information for three references, so that confidential letters of reference may be obtained. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to: Professor Michael R. James at mjames@bucknell.edu. The review of applications will begin on October 7, 2024, and continue until filled.

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music. Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/29/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14761

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2025 to June 1, 2026. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Office of Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35921>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – June 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024 for appointments beginning in September 2025. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 2/28/2024
Date Posted: 8/27/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14727

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, James Madison Program
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients, or recipients who anticipate receiving their Ph.D., to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the anticipated year from September 1, 2025 to September 1, 2026. Appointments will be through the Department of Politics. All James Madison Program researchers are expected to be in residence in Princeton, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Researchers appointed in the Madison Program are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are required to have a Ph.D. degree awarded within the last three years (no earlier than September 1, 2022), or candidates must have less than three years of post-Ph.D. research experience prior to the anticipated start date. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35922>

A complete application must include the following:
* a curriculum vitae;
* a scholarly paper written in the past three years;

* a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
* contact information for two references.

For priority consideration, application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
Adam Thomas, Ph.D.
Assistant Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu
Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 1/27/2025
Date Posted: 8/27/2024
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 14728

Yale University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Normative Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Normative Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning July 1, 2025. A successful applicant should focus on substantive questions in any area of political theory. The candidate will be asked to teach courses in political theory commensurate with their expertise. The initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications
Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions
All applications must include a cover letter, CV, 3 recommendation letters, 2 writing samples, and separate short (2 pages or less) research and teaching statements. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/151667>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2024 (or 30 days after posting, whichever is later), and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 8/15/2025
Date Posted: 8/15/2024
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 14645

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Professor in the field of Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track faculty appointment in political theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin in the fall semester of 2025. We are a small theory group that works closely with our empirically oriented colleagues: we are thus especially interested in scholars whose research speaks to pressing political problems, including but not limited to racial and gender-based justice, environmental justice, global justice, democratic erosion, populism, protest, and the political and ethical challenges posed by AI and other emerging technologies.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before October 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/151789>. If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any additional questions, please email Amanda Nutter (nutter@wustl.edu).

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14629

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Political Theory

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Political Thought: Historical

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in political theory and the ability to offer courses in classical, early modern, and modern political theory. The successful candidate will teach Western Culture in the College's Core Cultures program and may participate in the Rhetoric program. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs near completion may also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll-Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/>

147324. Review of applications will begin in early fall and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14369

Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, Normative Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire a faculty member with expertise in Political Theory at the rank of Associate (with tenure) or Full Professor, beginning as early as July 1, 2024. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in Normative Political Theory. We are open as well to those operating at the intersection of political theory and allied subfields/disciplines. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Application Instructions

All applications must include a cover letter and a CV. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/138148>. Review of applications will begin February 15, 2024, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

<http://apply.interfolio.com/138148>

Please contact Ms. Xaria Callender, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at xaria.callender@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 1/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 13056

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

Rank: Faculty Position (Computational Social Science)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Administration

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Research Methods

The Division of Social Science at The Hong Kong University of Science and Technology seeks to fill an open-rank faculty position in Computational Social Science.

Candidates may work in any major area in social sciences, including political science, sociology, and economics. Applicants who work on cross-disciplinary topics with other social science subjects, and/or who may contribute to the development of computational or quantitative social science in the Division are especially welcome.

Applicants should have a PhD degree in hand by the time of employment.

Teaching will be at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The University is an English-speaking research university with international faculty. The Division of Social Science is highly ranked internationally. For more information about the Division, please visit <https://sosc.hkust.edu.hk/>.

Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Fringe benefits including annual leave, medical and dental benefits will be provided. Housing benefits will also be provided where applicable. Initial appointment at Assistant Professor rank will normally be on a three-year contract, renewable subject to mutual agreement. A gratuity will be payable upon successful completion of contract.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, a sample publication, and teaching records electronically via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/156794>).

Assistant Professor applicants should arrange for 3 letters of recommendation to be sent via interfolio. For tenured Associate or Full Professor positions, references will be solicited only after both sides agree to proceed with the process of appointment.

Review of applications will start on 1 November 2024 and the search will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15101

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Public Administration

The Trachtenberg School of Public Policy and Public Administration (TSPPPA) at the George Washington University (GW) seeks applicants for two full-time, tenure-track positions that will start in the Fall of 2025. Both faculty appointments will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. The first position will be in a public administration or public policy field. The second position will specialize in policy with any relevant disciplinary background or policy interest. For both positions, we welcome applications from those with expertise or experience related to teaching program evaluation, public budgeting & finance, or research methods.

We seek applicants with the potential to establish a sustained program of academic research resulting in a strong publication record as evidenced by scholarly publications or works in progress. The persons hired for these positions will sustain strong research and publication records that can serve as a basis for tenure. They will teach elective and/or required courses and mentor students in our Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master of Public Policy (MPP), Master of Arts in Environmental and Sustainability Policy (MA-ESP), and/or Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration programs. The standard course load is four courses for the academic year for all professors. Assistant professors are expected to carry a minimal service load that includes service outside and internal to GW.

The Trachtenberg School has a long reputation of excellence, offering two of the oldest public administration and public policy programs in the world. It is one of the few graduate-only Schools at GW and leverages its location in the Nation's Capital to enhance student, alumni, and faculty experiences. Our award-winning faculty are recognized for their research expertise and teaching excellence. We pride ourselves on our pursuit of an inclusive culture that values excellence, humility, and compassion. We consistently rank among the top 20 public affairs schools and have eight specialties ranked in the top 10% by US News and World Report. Our classes typically are under thirty students and our alumni network is strong and active.

GW sits in the vibrant Foggy Bottom community within walking distance of the White House, World Bank, museums, world-class restaurants, and other amenities. As an R1 institution, the university boasts a robust community of scholars and numerous multi-disciplinary initiatives. It is home to many centers and institutes including the GW Institute of Public Policy, Alliance for a Sustainable Future, Global Food Institute, Center for Washington Area Studies, and Trachtenberg's own Regulatory Studies Center.

To apply, please complete an online faculty application for Trachtenberg's tenure-track assistant professor in a public administration or public policy field at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/114645>, and the tenure-track assistant professor position specializing in policy at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/114644>. Upload a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests and qualifications, a curriculum vitae, a sample publication or job market paper, and teaching evaluations (if available). Applicants should also arrange for three academic letters of reference to be emailed to the Search Chair at tssearch@gwu.edu. Only complete applications will be considered.

The review of applications will begin on October 15 and continue until the position is filled. More information about the Trachtenberg School is available at tspppa.gwu.edu. Questions about the position can be sent to Kate Rosa at katerosa@gwu.edu.

Minimum Qualifications:

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, public policy, or a related field (e.g., economics, political science, etc.) by date of appointment or within one semester after appointment. Applicants must have the ability to teach core courses in our public administration (MPA), public policy (MPP), environmental and sustainability policy (MA-ESP), and/or Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration programs. As stated above, applicants must have the potential to establish a sustained program of academic research resulting in a strong publication record as evidenced by scholarly publications or works in progress.

Salary Range: $92,000 - $105,000

Benefits: These positions are eligible for full-time health benefits. A full explanation of those benefits is available at <https://hr.gwu.edu/health-benefits>.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law. Employment offers are contingent upon the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15075

University of Melbourne

Rank: Lecturer In Public Policy (equivalent to tenure-track Assistant Professor)

Are you ready to cultivate a remarkable career in public policy at Australia's number one University? We are seeking an exceptional academic to build on our existing strengths in this dynamic field during an exciting period of growth and expansion.

We welcome applicants researching and teaching in all areas of public policy, public administration, public management, public governance, policy studies and related fields.

The successful candidate will be an outstanding researcher and engaging educator, contributing primarily to the highly successful Master of Public Policy and Management (MPPM) program. They will bring recognised expertise in public policy, public management, and public governance, producing high-quality research and publications, while also demonstrating potential for securing grant income. With a commitment to innovation in teaching, the appointee will deliver core and elective subjects in public policy at the graduate level, as well as contribute to curriculum development, supervise student research, and foster a culture of excellence within the School of Social and Political Sciences.

Beyond teaching and research, the role offers a unique chance to build national and international engagement, working with external partners, and playing a key role in enhancing the School's research culture.

As a Lecturer, you will join the School of Social and Political Sciences which is at the forefront of teaching and research in the social sciences in Australia and internationally. With a team of more than 120 dedicated academic and professional staff, The School's aim is to redefine the world and change what matters, and its work is underpinned by the values of intellectual freedom, integrity, social justice, diversity and environmental sustainability.

Your responsibilities will include:

Preparation and delivery of lectures, tutorials and seminars into the Master of Public Policy and Management as well as elsewhere in the Political Science Discipline, as deemed appropriate

Subject coordination and delivery; marking and assessment

Curriculum design and innovation, including cross-disciplinary approaches

Development of technology-based teaching, learning and assessment programs and resources

Teaching and learning innovation grants (with emphasis on national competitive and peer reviewed)

Initiation, development and review of subject material, particularly at the postgraduate level

Supervision of honours, graduate coursework and graduate research students

Publications, including (but not limited to) peer-reviewed journal articles, book chapters, books, creative outputs and commissioned reports

Application for external competitive research funding

Who We Are Looking For

We invite applications from candidates that demonstrate outstanding research record, a growing publication profile, and the ability to attract national or international research funding.

Applicants with research interests and capacity to teach in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: comparative public policy; comparative public administration/public management; policy elites and interest groups; digitalisation/digital policy; and, policy studies in Australia, Asia and the Pacific.

You will also have:

A completed PhD in public policy, public management, public administration, public governance, or a closely related discipline

Demonstrated specialisation in research which complements the existing public policy and governance profile of the University of Melbourne

An outstanding record in research with a developing publication profile in relevant high-quality journals and publishing houses commensurate with stage of career

Capacity to attract international and/or national competitive research funding (e.g. research grants and/or consultancies)

Demonstrated excellence in teaching Public Policy and related subjects at the tertiary level, including the capacity to initiate subject/course development and teach high enrolment postgraduate subjects

Ability to supervise honours and graduate degree theses, and to participate in supervisory panels at the graduate research level

Proven initiative in and commitment to identifying, collaborating and engaging with a wide range of external interests including public bodies, businesses, not-for-profits and communities on research and/or learning

For further information regarding responsibilities and requirements, please refer to the attached PD.

This role requires that the successful candidate must undergo and maintain an up-to-date Working with Children Check.

Please note: Visa sponsorship is available for this position.

If you feel this role is right for you, please apply with the following documents:

Resume

Cover Letter outlining your interest and experience

The responses against the Selection Criteria^ (found in the Position Description)

^For information to help you with compiling short statements to answer the selection criteria and competencies, please go to <http://about.unimelb.edu.au/careers/selection-criteria>

Please ensure that you apply through the Apply Now button at the bottom of this advertisement. However, if you have any questions regarding the recruitment process, please feel free to contact Ana Gencic via email at hr-careers@unimelb.edu.au

If you have any particular questions regarding the job please follow the details listed on the Position Description: <https://jobs.unimelb.edu.au/ci/en/job/918434/lecturer-in-public-policy>

Applications close: 3 NOVEMBER 2024 11:55 PM Australian Eastern Daylight Time (AEDT)

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: 11/4/2024

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15045

University of Michigan, Flint

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The University of Michigan-Flint invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Political Science and Public Administration to start Fall 2025. Areas of specialization are open but there is preference for areas in public policy and/or non-profit administration. The candidate will be expected to teach one or more foundational courses in undergraduate and graduate public administration. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or Policy is required; ABDs whose degrees will be completed by September 2025 will be considered. The teaching load is three courses (9 credits) per semester (18 credits per academic year). UM-Flint stresses excellence in teaching as well as scholarship/research and engaging in service supporting the department, college, university and community. The successful candidate will be willing to teach across modes (in-person and online), and the position requires demonstrated excellence in teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels. The University has been awarded the Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement and places high value on outreach. Candidates should submit evidence of promise as teacher/scholars and willingness to participate in civic engagement. Review of applications will start November 30, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit: a cover letter, transcripts, a statement of teaching, statement on research interests/agenda, C.V., teaching evaluation reports, three letters of reference, and writing samples (published journal articles, book chapters, preprints and unpublished manuscripts). Documents must be submitted electronically via Interfolio and addressed to: Dr. Kimberly Saks, Search Committee Co-Chair.

UM-Flint is located on a beautiful riverfront campus in downtown Flint. It is one of three campuses of the University of Michigan and has access to the library and other resources of the main campus in Ann Arbor. It has an enrollment of 6,529 graduate and undergraduate students. The MPA program is designed to suit the needs of working professionals. Classes are offered in the evenings with mixed modalities, including hyperflex and fully online. The City of Flint boasts an outstanding cultural center and affords rich opportunities for community-based scholarship and outreach related to its well-known economic/social struggles and efforts to support residents and revitalize the city.

Responsibilities*

- Teach 3 public administration courses per regular semester (primarily at the graduate level but may include undergraduate courses as well).
- Carry out a program of scholarly research and publication.
- Participate in civic engagement / community outreach as appropriate.
- Participate in faculty service/governance (e.g. attend meetings, serve on committees, etc.) as is expected for junior faculty in the College of Arts, Sciences and Education.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15041

MU (Columbia) Campus

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

University of Missouri in Columbia, MO

Description

The University of Missouri's ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world's most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we're looking to recruit possess:

- ? A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- ? A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward
- ? A robust publication and citation record
- ? National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- ? An interdisciplinary scope of work.

For more information and to apply, see: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu/>.

About the University of Missouri

The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri's largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation's top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City.

Columbia, MO., consistently rated as one of the best communities to live, is an ideal college town, combining small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual cultural festivals.

Application Requirements

- External application URL and instructions below:
<https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15032

California State University-Sacramento

Rank: Hazel Cramer Endowed Professorship of Public Policy and Administration

Specializations: Latino Politics, Research Methods, Public Finance & Budgeting

COLLEGE: College of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies

DEPARTMENT: Public Policy and Administration (PPA)

POSITION TITLE: Hazel Cramer Endowed Professorship (Open Rank)

DEPARTMENT SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Policy and Administration (PPA) at California State University, Sacramento (Sacramento State) prepares diverse future leaders to address the complex issues facing California by developing leaders with robust analytical tools and a deep commitment to public service and inclusion.

Our core academic program is the Master of Public Policy and Administration (MPPA). The MPPA provides professional training for graduate students—many of whom work in state or local government. PPA faculty focus on developing engaging and inclusive curricula that include project-based work applicable to California's current policy and administrative issues. We teach our courses in the evenings to accommodate students who are full-time working professionals.

POSITION DETAILS:

We invite applications from high-qualified candidates for a tenured or tenure track (open rank) faculty member with a demonstrated expertise and interest in community-engaged master's level teaching in public policy with an academic year appointment beginning in August 2025.

This position offers an initial appointment as the prestigious Hazel Cramer Endowed Professorship for tenured or experienced pre-tenured faculty and provides a unique opportunity to conduct community-engaged research, teaching, and student service. The Hazel Cramer Endowed Professor will cultivate purposeful, long-term, and mutually beneficial partnerships across the region to confront systemic inequities, transform the lives of our students, and strengthen our communities. The endowed professorship comes with a reduced teaching assignment and resources to support documented summer efforts that correspond to and extend this focus.

The endowed professorship is a three-year renewable term based on the documented performance of the faculty member. If the endowed professorship is not renewed, the faculty will return to their base faculty pay and regular faculty duties per the faculty workload policy at the direction of the PPA Chairperson.?

The classification annual salary range for the base Academic Year position is as follows, dependent on rank:

Assistant Professor: $74,652 - $158,688

Associate Professor: $81,900 - $174,276

Full Professor: $103,116 - $182,532

Given that this is an endowed position, the work differs significantly from a traditional faculty member, and additional funds will be provided to ensure that the endowed professor can meet those expectations.

As a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and awardee of the Seal of Excelencia certification, this position is part of Sac State's efforts to hire a cohort of faculty to support the university's commitment to Latinx/e student success during the 2024-25 tenure-track hiring cycle. We seek teachers/scholars with an established commitment to teaching, research, and/or service in and with the Latinx/e community. Successful candidates will have demonstrated two or more of the four Latinx/e Student Success Cohort Hire criteria stated below.

JOB DUTIES:

Teach core courses in public policy.

Teach in a manner that fosters inclusive and equitable student success, incorporates evidence-based pedagogy, and uses a community-engaged/service-learning approach.

Engage in scholarly and professional activities related to public policy with a community-engaged focus.

Provide service to the institution at the Department, College, and University levels.

Provide service to the community in the area of expertise in public policy.

Advise students in the PPA Department.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Earned doctoral degree in public policy or a closely related field (e.g., economics or political science).

Experience and success in teaching public policy.

Track record of publications (in peer-reviewed and/or professional outlets) in areas related to public policy.

A strong and demonstrated commitment to diversity, justice, equity, and inclusion, particularly in the classroom, scholarship, and community engagement.

An expressed commitment to teaching evening classes in a primarily in-person modality to a post-baccalaureate learning community of students that is significantly part-time and professionally focused.

Experience working with communities at the local or regional level and an expressed interest in further developing such work in the Sacramento Region.

Latinx/e Student Success Cohort Criteria (must demonstrate two or more of the following):

Excellence in teaching Latinx/e students.

Effective service (e.g., advising, mentoring) to Latinx/e students.

Research, scholarship, and/or creative artistic expression focused on the Latinx/e community.

Knowledge (professional background and/or training experiences) that advances our institutional commitment to Latinx/e student success.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Teaching experience and success in (1) public budgeting/finance, (2) the politics of policymaking, and (3) qualitative and/or quantitative research methods as applied to public policy.

Experience with community-engaged teaching, scholarship, and service.

Experience with inclusive forms of student engagement and pedagogy in the classroom.

Experience in post-baccalaureate teaching.

Proficient in reading, writing, and conversational Spanish.

APPLICANT INSTRUCTIONS:

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2024, and the position will remain open until filled.

Required:

Curriculum Vitae.

Contact information: From three professional references only contacted at the finalist stage.

Transcripts: Unofficial and from the highest degree earned.

Cover Letter: Address your ability to meet the required and preferred qualifications, fulfill stated position responsibilities, and meet two or more of Latinx/e Student Success Cohort criteria. Expand upon this last ability in your Diversity Statement and provide additional documentation, as appropriate, in the documents asked for below. Specifically address your community engagement experience and plans for the Hazel Cramer Endowment.

Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness: Brief (maximum of 500 words) narrative about how your previous and planned teaching of public policy-related courses meets the required and preferred criteria above. Also provide recent course evaluations in their official form. Optional evidence may include peer evaluations of teaching and course syllabi. Combine all items into one PDF before uploading.

Diversity Statement (maximum 500 words): Brief narrative discussing how your professional skills, experiences, and plans for teaching, research, service can help advance Sacramento State's Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Goals. Expand on your ability to meet two or more of the Latinx/e Student Success Cohort criteria.

Evidence of Scholarly Qualifications: Provide three examples of publications that demonstrate the qualification standards listed above. Combine all items into one PDF before uploading.

We strongly encourage candidates from underrepresented and/or minoritized groups in the academic field of public policy to apply. We will consider all applicants who meet the required qualifications above.

About Sacramento State

Sacramento State is located in the heart of California's capital city, five miles from the State Capitol. The lush, 300-acre campus is situated along the American River, close to numerous bike trails and other recreational areas. Sacramento, also known as the "Farm-to-Fork Capital," is one of the most ethnically diverse and livable cities in the country, with a population of half of a million. Sacramento State is a Hispanic and AANAPISI serving institution with about 31,000 students coming not only from the Greater Sacramento Region, but also from across the state, country, and world. Our 1,800 faculty and 1,500 staff are committed to meeting our mission:

"As California's capital university, we transform lives by preparing students to lead, serve, and succeed. Sacramento State will be a welcoming, caring, and inclusive leader in education, innovation, and engagement." As the regional hub of higher education, Sacramento State is dedicated to learning and student success; teaching, research, scholarship and creative activity; justice, diversity, equity and inclusion; resource development and sustainability; dedicated community engagement, and wellness and safety.

As evidenced by the values embedded in our Hornet Honor Code, Sacramento State is committed to creating an inclusive environment where all faculty, staff, students, and guests are welcome and valued. Our commitment is more than simply ensuring that our campus is free from bias and discrimination, but is one devoted to celebrating many diverse identities, life experiences, and perspectives that enrich our community, teaching and learning.

To learn more about why you should join the Hornet Family, please visit the Why Sac State? Page.

Equal Employment Opportunity

California State University, Sacramento is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and has a strong institutional commitment to the principle of diversity in all areas. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, pregnancy, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, or disability. Sacramento State hires only those individuals who are lawfully authorized to accept employment in the United States.

It is the policy of California State University, Sacramento to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified persons with disabilities who are employees or applicants for employment. If you need a disability related reasonable accommodation as part of the application and/or interviewing process, visit <https://www.csus.edu/administration-business-affairs/human-resources/benefits/reasonable-accommodation.html>.

The University is committed to creating an education and working environment free from discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. For more information on mandatory training for new employees, visit <https://www.csus.edu/administration-business-affairs/human-resources/learning-development/csu-learn.html>.

Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act and Campus Fire Safety Right-To-know Act Notification:

Pursuant to the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, the current Annual Security Report (ASR) is available for viewing at <https://www.csus.edu/clery>.

The ASR contains the current security and safety-related policy statements, emergency preparedness and evacuation information, crime prevention and sexual assault prevention information, and drug and alcohol prevention programming. The ASR also contains statistics of Clery Act crimes for Sacramento State for the last three (3) calendar years. Paper copies are available upon request at the Police Service Center located in the University Union.

Background Check Disclaimer

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with California State University, Sacramento. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current California State University, Sacramento employees who apply for the position.

COVID19 Vaccination Policy

Effective May 2023, per the CSU COVID-19 Vaccination Policy, it is strongly recommended that all California State University, Sacramento employees who are accessing office and campus facilities follow COVID-19 vaccine recommendations adopted by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) applicable to their age, medical condition, and other relevant indications.

Out of State Employment

Per CSU-wide policy (HR2021-04), all faculty who will begin initial employment (or return from a 12-month break in service) on or after January 1, 2022, are required to perform their work from within the State of California. Faculty hired prior to January 1, 2022, must be available to perform work in the State of California if their assignment is in-person.

Eligibility Verification

Candidate will be required to provide official transcripts of their highest degree earned and must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S. California State University, Sacramento is a sponsoring agency (ie. H-1-B Visa).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15025

California Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Instructor in the Linde Center for Science, Society, and Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: American Politics, Environmental Policy, Health Care

The Linde Center for Science, Society, and Policy (LCSSP) provides a forum for research and discussion around issues at the intersection of science, ethics, and public policy. Based in the Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences since its establishment in 2022, the center serves as a research hub that hosts working groups on topics where Caltech is uniquely positioned to contribute to debates. Professors Michael Alvarez (political and computational social science) and Frederick Eberhardt (philosophy) are the founding co-directors. Activities of the LCSSP focus on areas of scientific research with direct policy implications. As of 2024, these include, but are not limited to, artificial intelligence, biotechnology, and climate and sustainability.

We aim to recruit two energetic postdoctoral instructors who are excited to contribute to a center exploring the intersection of science and policy. The postdocs are expected to develop and teach one to two undergraduate courses per year on topics relevant to the LCSSP. In collaboration with the co-directors, the postdocs will have the opportunity to shape the research focus and profile of the center, to develop and advance new research projects, and to take part in organizing and hosting high-profile keynote speakers and discussion panels. Successful candidates are expected to take the initiative to explore new territory and to engage broadly with other stakeholders at Caltech and beyond.

The duration of the appointment is up to two years: an initial one-year appointment with the potential for a one-year renewal contingent upon satisfactory performance. Applicants should hold or be completing a PhD in a relevant field where they have developed extensive experience with issues that arise at the intersection of science and society.

Requirements: The positions are contingent upon completion of the PhD. Interested candidates are asked to submit a CV, a 2 to 3-page Research Statement, and three names of reference letter writers (as well as two letters) to lcssp@hss.caltech.edu. The Research Statement (or a separate document) should contain a section that addresses the applicant's thoughts on classroom instruction, mentorship of students, and ways to foster an inclusive, equitable environment for those who come to Caltech with many different backgrounds and experiences. A cover letter (maximum 1 page) is optional.

Applications will be reviewed starting on December 1, 2024 and will remain open until positions are filled.

As one of the largest employers in Pasadena, CA, Caltech is committed to providing comprehensive benefits to eligible employees and their eligible dependents. Our benefits package includes competitive compensation, health, dental, and vision insurance, retirement savings plans, generous paid time off, parental leave, tuition reimbursement, and more. Learn more about our benefits and who is eligible: <https://hr.caltech.edu/departments/total-rewards/benefits>.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15020

Eastern Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, International Relations

Title: Assistant Professor (Political Science)

Employee Classification: FA - Faculty 16 and 24 Pay

Pay Grade: FA 01

Division: Academic and Student Affairs

Subdivision: Political Science

Department: College of Arts and Sciences

Campus Location: Main Campus

General Summary

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Michigan University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position focused on the study of civil rights. We will consider any specialization related to civil rights, except for law or judicial politics. Successful candidates will help shape and contribute to the development of EMU's new Civil Rights and Social Justice Center.

Principal Duties and Responsibilities

Teach contractual load of undergraduate and graduate courses as assigned by the department or school.

Assign and submit grades in accordance with established University schedules.

Keep posted office hours during the week which are scheduled at times most beneficial to students.

Provide academic advising to students, if applicable.

Serve on search committees for hiring of new faculty members, departmental committees and other service committees across the university.

Participate in activities such as student registration, orientation, convocations and commencements.

Attend and participate in scheduled departmental meetings and functions.

Provide other support service to the department, college and/or university, if applicable.

Engage in pursuits that enable them to remain current in their respective disciplines.

Engage in pursuits that help to further organize and contribute to growth of the body of knowledge in their respective disciplines, and/or to explore interdisciplinary implications.

Perform related Departmental duties as required.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD in a related field.

Special Instructions:

Your application should include a cover letter discussing your teaching and research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, one or more samples of scholarship, course syllabi, and student evaluations (if available). Items can be combined in files for uploading.

Three recommendation letters are also required as part of the application materials. References will be contacted for a letter of recommendation based on the contact information provided in the application.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on October 31st, but the position will remain open until filled. For additional information, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. David Klein at dklein2@emich.edu.

EMU, located in Ypsilanti, Michigan, was founded in 1849 and is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of over 14,000 students. Its proximity to Detroit, Ann Arbor, and Lansing provides rich cultural, social, and recreational opportunities.

EMU is an equal-opportunity employer and is recognized by U.S. News and World Report for its diverse campus environment. Successful candidates will demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and working with individuals from diverse backgrounds and to furthering the diversity and inclusion missions of the department, college, and university.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/7/2024

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15012

University of Saskatchewan

Rank: Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Public Policy in a Polarized Era

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Political Theory
Specializations: International Political Economy, Public Opinion, Political Development

The Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy (JSGS) at the University of Saskatchewan (USask) is recruiting for a Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Public Policy in a Polarized Era. The Canada Research Chairs Program is the flagship of a national strategy to make Canada a world-leading country in research and development and is committed to addressing Research Chair equity gaps.

Canada's policy context is highly complex, and our understanding of governance needs to be adapted to the realities of dissolving social cohesion, increasing populism, the ongoing processes of reconciliation, and growing distrust of both science and government. The Tier 1 CRC in Public Policy in a Polarized Era will lead cutting-edge research into the governance tools necessary to advance evidence-informed policy in an era of political polarization.

This CRC is both timely and necessary. Both misinformation (false or misleading information) and disinformation (misinformation spread with a deliberate intent to deceive) are on the rise. These dynamics feed political polarization and create a powerful negative feedback loop that makes evidence-informed policy difficult.

Polarization is a broad international social phenomenon that is limiting the potential for science-based advancement to translate into public policy. The context for evidence-informed policy in Canada and other advanced democracies has never been more challenging or complex. If we are to achieve the potential for scientific and technological advancement to address the world's most challenging problems, there is a need for change.

The CRC will help advance both policy frameworks and policy training. In turn, by improving the context for evidence-informed policy-making, the CRC will:

- ? Improve the quality of life in Canada;
- ? Train graduate students and postdoctoral fellows to become policy leaders equipped to advance evidence-informed policy through innovative public engagement research and practices suitable for a polarized political environment;
- ? Create new graduate course offerings on policy and polarization available to students in a wide range of disciplines;
- ? Partner with USask researchers in areas highly affected by polarization;
- ? Establish international interdisciplinary networks of scholars focused on the issue of evidence-informed policy within a context of polarization; and
- ? Increase evidence-informed policy tools through JSGS's strong government connections for use by policymakers

Start Date: Summer 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14943

Auburn University

Rank: Advanced Assistant/Associate Professor, tenure track, in Public Administration

Position Summary: The Auburn University Department of Political Science seeks to hire two advanced assistant/associate professor faculty to support its undergraduate and graduate public administration offerings to begin August 16, 2025.

Position Responsibilities: Candidates must be able to offer courses in public administration in person and online at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates should be broadly trained in public administration and/or public policy. We seek individuals who can contribute extensively to the NASPAA-accredited MPA program's core curriculum offerings and our Ph.D. and undergraduate public administration programs. The standard teaching load is two courses per semester for at least the first three years of appointment.

We seek candidates who must be able to contribute teaching and/or research capabilities in some combination of the following areas: Public management/public administration theory, public budgeting and finance, public personnel administration, and local government administration. In addition, candidates who can also teach courses and/or conduct research in environmental policy and management, intergovernmental relations, or comparative public administration are desired.

Required/Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in public administration, public policy, or related field conferred by August 16, 2025. Candidates with professional experience in public administration, public or nonprofit management, experience teaching online and in-person classes, experience teaching public administration and/or nonprofit management courses at the undergraduate and graduate level, and evidence of a record of commitment to student success at the college level through substantial and continued effectiveness in teaching, advising, and other student-related responsibilities are highly desired. Candidates must strongly indicate the ability to achieve future research productivity in appropriate academic journals. Candidates with experience as members/chairs of dissertation committees are also highly desired.

The candidate selected for this position must meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States when the appointment is scheduled to begin and continue working legally for the proposed term of employment. Excellent interpersonal and written communication skills are required.

Special Instructions to Applicant: Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2024, and will continue until a suitable candidate has been selected. To apply, visit <https://www.auemployment.com/postings/48668>. Candidates must submit a cover letter outlining their qualifications for the position, a curriculum vitae, an official transcript of all graduate work, contact information for three letters of recommendation, a teaching statement and evidence of teaching ability, a research statement, and a writing sample.

Auburn University is an elite, top-tier Carnegie R1 research institution, enrolling more than 33,000 students. It is one of the nation's premier public land-grant institutions. In 2024, U.S. News and World Report ranked it among the top 50 public universities in the country. The University is nationally recognized for its commitment to academic excellence, positive work environment, student engagement, and beautiful campus.

The Political Science Department maintains a faculty of 30 tenured and tenure-track members and offers undergraduate degrees in political science, health services administration, and public administration; a Master of Public Administration (MPA) with graduate certificates in Election Administration, Nonprofit Organizations and Community Governance, Economic Development and Global Public Service; a Master of Community Planning (MCP), and a Ph.D. program in Public Administration and Public Policy.

Direct questions to Dr. John C. Morris, Public Administration Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University AL, 36849. Email: jcm0143@auburn.edu. The department's website may be found at <https://cla.auburn.edu/polisci/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14879

Auburn University

Rank: Professor of Practice, Public Administration

Position Summary: The Auburn University Department of Political Science seeks a Professor of Practice in Public Administration. This is a full-time, nine-month, non-tenure-track position. The appointment begins on August 16, 2025, and is eligible for annual renewal based on job performance, need, and funding availability.

Candidates must be able to offer public administration and management courses in-person and online at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The successful candidate should be broadly trained in public administration, have a passion for teaching, and have a professional career in the public sector that informs classroom pedagogy and practice. We seek individuals who can contribute extensively to the core curriculum in our NASPAA-accredited MPA Program and one or more of its certificates and can contribute to teaching in our undergraduate public administration program.

Position Responsibilities: The candidate is expected to teach three courses per semester, mainly at the graduate level. In addition, the successful candidate will supervise students' ePortfolio projects, coordinate the program's new online MPA under the supervision of the MPA director, and perform assigned service responsibilities. Summer salary for supervision of the online MPA and teaching summer courses are available depending on the online program's success and student demand. Courses to be taught include introductory public administration and some combination of personnel/human resources, financial management and budgeting, and intergovernmental relations. Applicants should also be able to contribute courses to one or more of the MPA program's graduate certificates and/or specializations. Candidates must be willing to develop and deliver courses in a variety of distance education modalities as well as embrace pedagogical training for in-person and online courses to help them translate their professional experiences into student learning and success.

Required/Minimum Qualifications: Required qualifications at the time of appointment are a master's degree in public administration and/or public policy or a related field, and at least ten (10) years of professional experience in public sector administration and management. A doctoral degree in public administration, public policy, or a related field is highly desired, and professional experience at the state and/or local level is especially desired. Some experience teaching in-person, or online classes is desired but not required.

The candidate selected for this position must meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States when the appointment is scheduled to begin and continue working legally for the proposed term of employment; excellent communication skills are required.

Special Instructions to Applicant: Review of applications will begin October 25, 2024, and will continue until a suitable candidate has been selected. To apply, visit INSERT LINK.

Candidates must submit a cover letter outlining their qualifications, a current curriculum vitae, contact information for three letters of recommendation, teaching evaluations (if available), and an official transcript of all graduate work.

Auburn University is an elite, top-tier Carnegie R1 research institution, enrolling more than 33,000 students. It is one of the nation's premier public land-grant institutions. In 2024, U.S. News and World Report ranked it among the top 50 public universities in the country. The University is nationally recognized for its commitment to academic excellence, positive work environment, student engagement, and beautiful campus.

The Department of Political Science has thirty (30) faculty members and houses various academic disciplines. It offers undergraduate majors in political science, law and justice, public administration, and health services administration, a Master of Public Administration, a Master of Community Planning, and a Ph.D. in public administration and public policy. The MPA program is NASPAA accredited and offers graduate certificates in economic development, election administration, global public service, and nonprofit organizations & community governance.

Direct questions to Dr. Joseph Aistrup, Search Committee Chair, Department of Political Science, 7080 Haley Center, Auburn University, AL, 36849-5208, polisci@auburn.edu. The department's website may be found at <https://cla.auburn.edu/polisci/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14878

University of North Carolina, Greensboro

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, Research Methods, Urban Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Administration at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning August 1, 2025. Candidates must hold or should anticipate a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Public Policy, Public Affairs, Political Science, or a closely related discipline by the time of appointment. While we seek outstanding candidates in the field of public administration broadly, preference is given to candidates who best fulfill our instructional and programmatic needs in public budgeting and financial management, urban economics (or economic development more broadly), and quantitative analysis for public administration. We also are interested in candidates with an ability to teach courses in local government management. Candidates are expected to teach at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.

The Department of Political Science houses the NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Affairs (MPA) program. Offering concentrations in community & economic development, local government, and non-profit management, the MPA program primarily serves the local region through an on-campus program. As part of the department's graduate programming, we offer an online graduate certificate program in nonprofit management and an on-campus graduate certificate program in urban and economic development. The MPA program primarily serves the local region through courses offered on-campus during the evening.

This position will add to the department's faculty that emphasizes high quality, student-centered undergraduate and graduate education, maintains a strong research agenda, and engages in meaningful service within the University (including a strong commitment to student mentoring), the profession, and the community.

Applicants should apply online at <https://spartantalent.uncg.edu> and click on "Faculty" (position 1691). Please submit a cover letter that includes a statement of teaching interests and a summary of your research program, up to three representative writing samples, sample syllabi, teaching evaluations (if available), and a curriculum vitae. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a confidential letter of reference. Inquiries should be made to the search committee chair, Professor Hunter Bacot, ahbacot@uncg.edu.

The department webpage is <https://psc.uncg.edu>. The review of applications will begin on November 1, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

UNCG is a Minority Serving Institution. UNCG and the Political Science Department foster an environment of collaboration across departments and schools and support community-engaged research. UNCG is located in a metropolitan area of more than 1.7 million in the Piedmont region of North Carolina, between the Atlantic Ocean and the Appalachian mountains. UNCG is an EOE/AA/M/F/D/V employer and are strongly committed to increasing faculty diversity."

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/19/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14886

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenured/Tenure-Track: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

The Department of Public Service and Administration in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position at the assistant, associate, or full professor level, with expertise in any field related to public policy, starting in August 2025. All tenured and tenure-track faculty members are expected to make significant contributions in the areas of scholarly research/creative work, teaching, and service. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of policy-relevant research, contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and provide service to the university and the profession. We are especially interested in candidates who are well-prepared to teach policy analysis, public finance, microeconomics, and/or quantitative methods. This is a full-time 9-month appointment with a standard 2-2 teaching load.

The Department of Public Service and Administration at the Bush School of Government and Public Service offers a nationally recognized Master's Degree program in Public Service & Administration with tracks in Policy Analysis, Public Management, Nonprofit Management and Homeland Security. We are also launching a new undergraduate program in the fall of 2024. Our interdisciplinary faculty features scholars in economics, public policy, political science, public administration, and nonprofit management. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu/psaa>.

Texas A&M University is one of the nation's leading research institutions, with researchers who are making discoveries that can improve lives and impact the world and more than $1 billion in research expenditures per fiscal year. Our triple designation as a land-, sea- and space-grant university reflects the wide variety of research conducted here daily. We are located in the Bryan-College Station community, a vibrant, dynamic community that offers culture, arts, entertainment, job opportunities, low cost-of-living, and overall quality of life.

Successful applicants must have a Ph.D. in economics, public policy, political science, or a closely related field in hand by date of hire and must demonstrate a commitment to high quality research and teaching.

Applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, personal statement to include philosophy and plans for research, teaching, and service, as applicable, writing sample (such as a job market paper or current working paper), and contact information for three references on the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/152957. Confidential letters of recommendation may be requested for candidates selected for interviews.

The review of applications will begin October 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries regarding the position should be directed to Stephanie Bustos at sbustos@tamu.edu.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/17/2024Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 14864Texas A&M University*Rank: Tenured/Tenure-Track: Open Rank

The Department of Public Service and Administration (PSAA) in The Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites nominations and applications for two tenured or tenure-track positions at the assistant, associate, or full professor level that are open with respect to subfield, starting in August 2025. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service to the university and the profession. Strong research and teaching interests across traditional subfields of public management and administration will be highly valued, as will the ability to teach core courses in public administration such as public budgeting, public management, cross-sector collaboration, leadership, ethics, and program evaluation at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The positions are a full-time, 9-month appointment with a standard 2-2 teaching load.

The Bush School of Government and Public Service was founded in 1997 under President George H. W. Bush's philosophy that "public service is a noble calling." Since then, the Bush School has continued to reflect that notion in curriculum, research, and student experience and has become a leading international affairs, political science, and public affairs institution. PSAA faculty at the Bush School teach courses in both the master's degree and new undergraduate major in Public Service and Administration. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>. For more information about our classes, please see the course catalog descriptions for both the undergraduate and graduate programs:

? <https://catalog.tamu.edu/undergraduate/government-public-service/public-service-administration/>

? <https://catalog.tamu.edu/graduate/colleges-schools-interdisciplinary/government-public-service/public-service-administration/mpsa/#text>

Successful applicants must have a Ph.D. in Public Administration, Public Management, Public Policy, Political Science or a related discipline in hand by date of hire. The individual selected will need to demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching, service, and research in the context of a public policy environment.

Applicants should submit the following materials electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/152970

1) cover letter, referencing research agenda and teaching interests 2) curriculum vitae, 3) personal statement, including philosophy and plans for teaching, research, and service as applicable 4) provide contact information for three professional references. Confidential letters of recommendation may be requested for candidates selected for interviews.

The review of applications will begin on October 1, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position should be sent to Stephanie Bustos (sbustos@tamu.edu)

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/17/2024Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 14865Columbia University*Rank: Lecturer in Discipline, Ethics

The School of International and Public Affairs at Columbia University in the City of New York invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-track, renewable position of Lecturer in Discipline, to begin July 1, 2025, in the field of Ethics and Public Policy.

The successful candidate will develop and teach a new required course in Ethics and Public Policy as part of SIPA's revised Core Curriculum for master's students. Research interests should be policy-relevant and the successful candidate should be able to engage with one or more of the following global policy challenges: democratic resilience; technology and innovation; geopolitical stability; inclusive prosperity and macroeconomic performance; climate and sustainable development.

Qualifications

A PhD or other relevant doctorate required at the time of appointment. Candidates must have demonstrated record of accomplishment in teaching and in an appropriate field of research. Research interests should be policy-relevant.

Salary range: $105,000-$115,000

Application Instructions

Applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, list of references (3), and a writing sample.

Please visit our online application site at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153822> for further information about this position and to submit your application.

Screening of the candidates will begin immediately, and the search will remain open for at least 30 days from the day of posting and continue until filled. For further information, please contact Deirdre Brady, Senior Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs, at d.brady@columbia.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025Application Deadline: 11/9/2024Date Posted: 9/9/2024Salary: $110,000 - $119,999eJobs ID: 14810University of Texas, Arlington*Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy*Specializations: Health Care, Environmental Policy, Science & Technology

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Public Policy, to begin in August 2025. We are especially interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in one of these areas or at their nexus: health, environmental, and/or technology politics and policymaking. The Department includes and welcomes a wide range of methodologies.

Candidates should demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate to the rank. The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-level undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. They should serve as an effective teacher who can relate the real-world application of public policy ideas and theories to students. They will also provide research advising to students.

A completed Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of appointment. ABDs will be considered.

To apply, applicants should go to <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/29334> and submit the following materials:

Cover letter
Curriculum vitae
Transcripts
A research statement
One to two writing samples
A teaching statement
If available, evidence of teaching ability (such as syllabi and/or evaluations)
Contact information for three references. Referees will be automatically notified to upload their letters as soon as possible.

Applicants must apply by September 30, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately after that and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Kayla Canelo at kayla.canelo@uta.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/30/2024
Date Posted: 8/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14675

Western Carolina University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program within the Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice is seeking two faculty members at the rank of Assistant Professor (tenure-track), beginning August 1, 2025. These are nine-month positions with summer teaching possibilities and are for our residential program with some likely online teaching responsibilities. Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Responsibilities include teaching, research, and service.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Emergency Management, Criminology/Criminal Justice, Political Science, Public Administration, Public Health, Urban Planning, or other discipline closely related to the field of Emergency & Disaster Management. Highly qualified ABD candidates will be considered if completion of the degree is imminent. Candidates must have a clearly articulated research agenda in Emergency & Disaster Management, experience and/or graduate coursework related to Emergency & Disaster Management, and a commitment of academic excellence and collegiality.

The Emergency and Disaster Management Program has an established record of engaging students through undergraduate research and experiential learning and is consistently ranked as one of the best undergraduate programs in the nation. The ideal candidate will have an interest in contributing to these efforts and have a firm foundation to teach a range of emergency and disaster management courses.

Application Process:

Application materials must be submitted online to the Western Carolina University Human Resources Portal at <http://jobs.wcu.edu>. Candidates should submit an online candidate profile, cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, unofficial transcripts, evidence of teaching experience/philosophy, and contact information for three current references.

Review of applications will begin September 15th and continue until the position is filled.

Contact:

Inquiries may be directed to Committee Chair and EDM Director Dr. Lisa Briggs at lbriggs@wcu.edu or 828.227.2180.

About WCU:

Western Carolina University is the UNC system's westernmost campus and has been consistently ranked as one of the Top 15 public regional institutions in the South. WCU's main campus sits in the beautiful mountains of Western, North Carolina, near the Great Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains, fifty-two miles west of Asheville. WCU's location in the rural mountains amidst incredible biodiversity and unique communities creates an opportunity for academic discovery service and is a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. The campus covers approximately 600 acres, with a student body population of over 11,500.

Please go to <https://www.wcu.edu> for more information.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/7/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14590

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Assistant, associate, Full Professor, Korea Foundation Endowed Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Missouri, Columbia is seeking a Korea Foundation Endowed Professor. The position is an open rank tenured/tenure track position focused on Korean politics to begin in the Fall Semester of 2025. This is a 9-month teaching and research appointment. The typical teaching load will be two (2) courses per semester. Additional expectations include active engagement with the University of Missouri Institute for Korean Studies.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by the time of appointment.

Candidates will be evaluated on:

Competitive applicants will have a clear research agenda, strong theoretical orientation, excellent methodological skills, ability to publish in highly ranked journals and academic presses, and potential for effective teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Applicants from scholars whose research has an emphasis on Korea from all subfields of political science and related fields are encouraged to apply including comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and public administration. However, the ideal candidate will contribute to the TSGPA's teaching and research interests in comparative politics.

Application Materials

Please apply online at: <https://hr.missouri.edu/job-openings> (Job Opening ID 52446). Use the online application and be prepared to upload your curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and writing samples. Please also provide evidence of effective teaching, as well as a teaching statement that describes your pedagogical goals/practices including information about your ability to teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students from a variety of backgrounds and experiences.

Candidates at the assistant professor level should provide three letters of recommendations to the Truman School Director's Office (mutsgpadirector@missouri.edu). Candidates at the associate or full professor level should provide three names and contact information of references. Written references will be required prior to an on-campus interview. The cover letter should address the following: current and future research, teaching interests including how the applicant ensures the classroom is inclusive of multiple perspectives and of students from different backgrounds, as well as, how the applicant envisions engaging in research focused on Korea, and with universities there. This information can also be provided in separate teaching and research statements.

We value the uniqueness of every individual and strive to ensure each person's success. Contributions from individuals with diverse backgrounds, experiences and perspectives promote intellectual pluralism and enable us to achieve the excellence that we seek in learning, research and engagement. This commitment makes our university a better place to work, learn and innovate. In your application materials, please discuss your experiences and expertise that support these values and enrich our missions of teaching, research and engagement.

Applicants may contact the Chair of the Search Committee Dr. Laron Williams (williamslaro@missouri.edu) with any questions about the job duties. Contact Andrew Longley (andrew.longley@umsystem.edu) for any questions about the application process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the school and houses a PhD in Political Science, a PhD in Public Affairs, a Master's in Public Affairs, and a Master's in Defense and Strategic Studies, as well as BA in Political Science, and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. For more information see: <https://truman.missouri.edu>.

Benefit Eligibility This position is eligible for University benefits. The University offers a comprehensive benefits package, including medical, dental and vision plans, retirement, and educational fee discounts. For additional information on University benefits, please visit the Faculty & Staff Benefits website at <http://www.umsystem.edu/totalrewards/benefits>.

Equal Employment Opportunity

The University of Missouri System is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Equal Opportunity is and shall be provided for all employees and applicants for employment on the basis of their demonstrated ability and competence without unlawful discrimination on the basis of their race, color, national origin, ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable state or federal law. This policy applies to all employment decisions including, but not limited to, recruiting, hiring, training, promotions, pay practices, benefits, disciplinary actions and terminations. For more information, visit <https://www.umsystem.edu/ums/hr/eoo>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/13/2024

Date Posted: 7/18/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14512

Clemson University

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor or Professor in domestic, comparative, or international public policy; policymaking processes; or public administration, to begin in August 2025. We welcome applicants from all subfields in political science, especially those that have an interest in the development and promotion of our Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Ph.D. Policy Studies programs, as well as mentoring graduate students. This is a nine-month faculty position, and qualified candidates will be considered for tenure on arrival. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or in a related field.

The successful candidate also will be expected to pursue an active research agenda resulting in a strong record of peer-reviewed publications. We especially encourage applications from candidates with a history of external research funding or definite plans to apply for grants. The position's teaching responsibilities will include offering courses in public policy, public administration, or in related areas within the Department's Ph.D., MPA, and undergraduate programs. The expected teaching load is two courses per semester.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, along with its master's degree in public administration and Ph.D. in policy studies. The Department has 26 full-time faculty and 3 full-time staff. Clemson University is a land-grant institution located in western South Carolina in the Greenville metropolitan area. Its strategic plan—Clemson Elevate—articulates three dynamic goals: delivering the #1 student experience in the nation, doubling research productivity by 2035, and transforming lives statewide and beyond. These overlapping priorities are intended to continue Clemson's development as a leading public research university, sustain its Carnegie R1 status, and position itself for membership in the Association of American Universities (AAU).

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, candidates should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) contact information for three references who will provide confidential letters of recommendation, (4) a research statement, (5) a statement on teaching and student mentoring (including evidence of teaching effectiveness); and (6) sample syllabi for undergraduate and/or graduate courses. Apply at - Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/149108>).

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Adam Warber (awarber@clemsun.edu), Search Committee Chair, or to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemsun.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14468

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration/Public Management/Public Policy

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the fields of public policy, public administration, and/or public management. Of particular interest are scholars whose research and teaching focuses on public management, public policy, digital technologies and sustainability and with relevance to Asia.

Job Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will have:

- A completed PhD by 2024 in public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or related disciplines;
- Publications in top journals in the field and a strong pipeline of ground-breaking research / working papers;
- Demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in public management and policy; and
- A willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application:

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via CHRS Link. <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/24841/>

The package should include:

- A cover letter.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A research statement that outlines your publications at the very top journals, your current research interests and pipeline of working papers.
- A teaching statement detailing course taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Names and contact information for three referees.
- Up to two writing samples.

The review of applications will begin in early October 2024 and continue until positions are filled. Members of the hiring committee may be present at PMRC 2024 and/or APPAM 2024. Interested candidates are welcome to arrange meetings by writing to lkysppjoi-nus@nus.edu.sg

Additional Information:

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and the 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14374

PUBLIC LAW

Radford University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Radford University is seeking a tenure-track Assistant Professor with an emphasis on Law and Legal Studies, beginning in the fall of 2025. Candidates with any legal specialty are invited to apply; those with expertise in Public Administration, Public Policy, or Political Theory are particularly welcome. We seek a vibrant scholar who will add to the strengths of our department.

The Assistant Professor will teach four classes per semester in consultation with the department chair based on student needs, faculty interest and expertise, and departmental strategic priorities. This faculty member will oversee and advise students in the Legal Studies minor and the Law Society student/alumni group and coordinate with the Criminal Justice Department on the award-winning Mock Trial program. The new member of the Radford faculty will be an excellent classroom instructor and active researcher.

Requirements:

A Ph.D. or near completion in Political Science and/or a Juris Doctor degree is required. Expertise in Law is required. Preference will be given to faculty with additional expertise in Public Administration, Public Policy, and/or Political Theory. Candidates are expected to be excellent classroom teachers.

An active research agenda in the faculty member's specialty is also required.

Job Duties:

Teach courses in Political Science and Legal Studies as scheduled. Conduct scholarly research in the appropriate field. Advise and mentor undergraduate Political Science majors with a Legal Studies emphasis and Legal Studies Minors as well as the Law Society. Undertake service at the department, college, and university levels.

Instructions to Applicants:

Applicants are required to upload a cover letter, diversity statement (“How might past and potential contributions advance Radford University’s commitment to equity and diversity, both locally and globally?”), unofficial graduate transcripts, a curriculum vitae, a teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and contact information of three professional references. Must have a criminal background check.

Applicants must apply directly through Radford University’s portal at <https://jobs.radford.edu/postings/15039>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15135

Purdue University

Rank: Clinical Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions

Specializations: Presidency, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Constitutional Law & Theory

Job Title: Clinical Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions

Job Summary

Purdue University’s Department of Political Science is seeking to hire a Clinical Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions. Clinical positions at Purdue are non-tenure track positions devoted to the practice and scholarship of teaching and engagement with three-year renewable contracts and a pathway to promotion to ranks of Clinical Associate and Clinical Full Professor.

Principal Duties

The person holding this position will teach courses on American political institutions in the Department of Political Science and teach some courses each year in the College of Liberal Arts’ award-winning Cornerstone Program.

The ability to teach courses in one or more of the following areas is particularly welcome: Presidency, Bureaucracy, Courts, American Constitutionalism, Public Law, and/or Public Policy. In addition, the person holding this position will engage with communities of practice and students to develop experiential learning opportunities at the local, state, and national levels. Those with prior experience interning or working in a national or subnational American political institution are especially encouraged to apply. The standard load for Clinical faculty is four courses per semester. A portion of the workload may be fulfilled through administrative or engagement roles such as managing the Department’s internships or other similar programs.

Qualifications

Candidates must meet all requirements for the Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field by the date of employment. Candidates must have expertise in American political institutions. This position requires strong communication skills, an interest in contributing to the development and growth of student-focused programs, and evidence of preparation to teach high quality courses.

The College and University

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University has embarked on a multi-year hiring strategy to address grand challenges in society and connect with innovative initiatives across campus. Positioned at the intersection of liberal arts and STEM, the college leverages Purdue’s strengths to propel graduates towards new advances in our disciplines. It houses the nationally recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which challenges students to become independent thinkers, preparing them to become bold, visionary leaders.

Purdue University is Indiana’s public land-grant university and a world-class research and teaching institution. In 2023, for the sixth consecutive year, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Purdue among the top 10 Most Innovative Schools in the nation. A member of the Association of American Universities, the Big Ten Academic Alliance and the American Association of Public and Land-Grant Universities (APLU), Purdue has outstanding academic programs in the colleges and schools of agriculture, education, engineering, health sciences, liberal arts, management, pharmacy, technology, science, and veterinary medicine. The University also has a rich culture of interdisciplinary research, engagement, and translation, which is supported by university-wide institutes and centers. Purdue is home to nearly 2,900 full-time faculty and post-doctoral researchers, enrolls a diverse student body of over 10,500 graduate students and 35,000 undergraduate students. Purdue is in West Lafayette/Lafayette community with an abundance of activities, high quality of life, and reasonable cost of living.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu and apply to requisition position 34458. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant’s experience and training fit the principal duties and qualifications of the position, 3) a teaching statement. Finalists may be required to submit additional materials, including letters of recommendation from three academic references and transcripts. This position requires a background check.

Screening of applicants will begin on December 6, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact search committee chair Logan Strother lstrothe@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15106

University of Utah

Rank: Assistant Professor - Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties

The Department of Political Science at the University of Utah invites applicants for a position at the rank of Assistant Professor - Lecturer with a focus on law and courts. Candidates from all subfields are welcome to apply. Preference will be given to candidates whose research and teaching adds a comparative/international perspective to the curriculum or whose teaching can contribute to more than one subfield. The position begins July 1, 2025 and carries a three-year renewable contract.

By time of appointment, applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science. This is a teaching focused position with a teaching load of 6 courses over the academic year. The hire will also be expected to contribute to student learning beyond regular classes through the supervision of student research and Honors theses, and participating in department administrative and service responsibilities. The department provides all faculty with research and travel support, and career-line faculty are encouraged to participate in research colloquia in the department.

We encourage applications from scholars who use a range of methodological and theoretical approaches and whose research and teaching contribute to the empirical study of law and courts. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, comparative judicial systems, constitutional law, comparative constitutional design, civil liberties, jurisprudential theory, legal philosophy, and/or judicial politics/behavior. We expect that a successful candidate for this position will be able to teach some of the courses currently offered in our Law & Politics subfield (e.g. Judicial Process, Constitutional Law, and/or Introduction to Law & Politics) through both online and in-person modalities and we also encourage candidates to contribute new courses based on their areas of expertise.

Applicant must submit a vitae, contact information (name, email and phone number) for three references, and a detailed cover letter that addresses how the applicant meets the qualifications and preferences listed above.

The department will begin reviewing applications on December 6, and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply for this position please go to: <https://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/172298>. If you have any questions please reach out to Assistant Professor Michael Dichio: michael.dichio@utah.edu.

The University of Utah is the flagship institution of the Utah System of Higher Education, is a member of the AAU (Association of American Universities), and has been classified by the Carnegie Foundation as among those research universities with the "highest research activity." The University provides numerous opportunities for internal research funding and offers a generous benefits and retirement package: <https://www.hr.utah.edu/benefits/>.

The University is located in Salt Lake City, the center of a metropolitan area with a population of approximately 1.3 million residents. The city's proximity to the Wasatch Mountains, world-class ski resorts, and national parks offers unparalleled opportunities for outdoor recreation. Salt Lake City has extensive arts and cultural activities, and the area has received international recognition for its light rail system, foodie culture, Sundance Film Festival, its vibrant downtown, and increasing ethnic diversity.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15094

University of Southern Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Special Instructions to Applicants

Candidates should submit a cover letter, C.V., teaching evaluations or evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of teaching philosophy, a research statement, a writing sample, and contact information of three professional references. We will begin reviewing applications on November 22, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should apply at jobs.usm.edu. Direct any questions to the search chair, Dr. Joseph Weinberg at joseph.weinberg@usm.edu.

Job Summary

The School of Social Science and Global Studies at The University of Southern Mississippi invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Political Science to start August 2025. The position is open with respect to substantive research and teaching interests, but priority will be given to candidates who can offer courses in American political institutions, research methods and/or public law. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. The successful candidate will demonstrate a commitment to teaching and student mentorship and possess a research agenda with clear potential for a sustained record of scholarship leading to peer-reviewed publications.

The School strongly values interdisciplinary collaboration in teaching and scholarship. Our School offers support for scholarship and actively mentors junior colleagues

Primary Duties and Responsibilities

Teach three courses per semester in the Fall and Spring.

Mentor undergraduate and graduate students, and participate in undergraduate advisement.

The successful candidate will also be expected to produce peer reviewed scholarly publications and participate in professional conferences. Presentations at academic conferences are supported with annual travel funds.

Tenure-track faculty members participate in shared governance, in School, College, and University committees and other service assignments.

Hold regular office hours.

Performs other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. from an accredited institution in Political Science by the time of appointment. ABD applicants are encouraged to apply but must provide official notification of the terminal degree by date of appointment.

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of, or the clear potential for, scholarly development and publication in the field of Political Science. Evidence of, or the clear potential for, effective engagement with a diverse student body. Experience creating, or the clear potential for creating, a student-centered learning environment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/9/2024

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 15030

University of Cincinnati

Rank: Assistant Professor-Educator in Law & Society

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

Assistant Professor – Educator, Law and Society, College of Arts and Sciences

Current UC employees must apply internally via SuccessFactors & gt; <http://bit.ly/UCEMPL>

Founded in 1819, the University of Cincinnati ranks among the nation's best urban public research universities. Home to more than 50,000 students, 11,000 faculty and staff and 340,000 alumni, UC combines a Top 35 public research university with a physical setting The New York Times calls “the most ambitious campus design program in the country.”

With the launch of Next Lives Here, the Cincinnati Innovation District, a $100 million JobsOhio investment, nine straight years of record enrollment, worldwide leadership in cooperative education, a dynamic academic health center and entry into the Big 12 Conference, UC's momentum has never been stronger. UC's annual budget tops $1.65 billion and its endowment totals $1.8 billion. The University's overall regional economic impact exceeds $10.6 billion, paving the way for the future of Cincinnati.

Job Overview

The School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA) at the University of Cincinnati invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor-Educator in Law and Society. SPIA offers an MPA, MA and PhD in Political Science as well as three undergraduate BAs (Political Science, International Affairs, and Law and Society). SPIA also houses three research centers—the Portman Center for Policy Solutions, the Center for Truth, Racial Healing and Transformation (CTRHT) and the Center for Cyber Strategy and Policy (CCSP).

The University of Cincinnati is an urban, public, comprehensive Research I institution committed to attracting, supporting, and retaining an academically and culturally diverse faculty.

Assistant Professor-Educator positions typically have an initial appointment of 3 years with reappointment to a 5-year contract. Promotion to Associate Professor-Educator is possible after 5 completed years based on School promotion criteria (and Full Professor-Educator subsequently). Reappointment and promotion are based on excellent performance in pedagogy, teaching, and service (committee work, advising, recruitment and retention efforts) and while remaining current in salient research trends being covered in classes taught.

The appointment is intended to begin August 15, 2025.

Essential Functions

- Teach students principally in our undergraduate programs, including Political Science, International Affairs, and Law & Society majors, as well as a course in our MA-PhD graduate program.
- The course load for the position is 3-3 (three courses per 2 semesters). Applicants will be expected to teach courses on Law and Society, Courts and Judicial Processes, Constitutional Law, Judicial Politics and other courses that can be tied to their expertise, including courses focusing on specific legal or constitutional questions, fields, and the intersection of social and legal structures.

- Service activities will include committee work such as but not limited to serving on SPIA program committees, advising students, as well as recruitment and retention efforts.

Minimum Requirements

PhD in Political Science or a related field prior to effective date of the appointment.

Application Process

Interested and qualified applicants must complete our on-line application. In addition to the basic online application, please provide:

- a cover letter indicating fit with the job description and SPIA programs outlined above;
- full and current CV;
- three names of references (letters of reference will be required of short-listed finalists);
- a teaching portfolio (e.g., evaluations [if applicable], teaching philosophy).
- A one-page statement addressing the candidate's intended contributions to the University's goals of building a team culture through teaching, research, and service is also required.

Please use the 'additional documents' feature to include all these required items. Review of Applications will begin October 15 with applications accepted until the position is filled.

Questions should be directed to Associate Professor - Educator William Umphres at william.umphres@uc.edu.

Compensation and Benefits

UC offers a wide array of complementary and affordable benefit options, to meet the financial, educational, health, and wellness needs of you and your family. Eligibility varies by position and FTE.

- Competitive salary range dependent on the candidate's experience.
- Comprehensive insurance plans including medical, dental, vision, and prescription coverage.
- Flexible spending accounts and an award-winning employee wellness program, plus an employee assistance program.
- Financial security via our life and long-term disability insurance, accident and illness insurance, and retirement savings plans.
- Generous paid time off work options including vacation, sick leave, annual holidays, and winter season days in addition to paid parental leave.
- Tuition remission is available for employees and their eligible dependents.
- Enjoy discounts for on and off-campus activities and services.

As a UC employee, and an employee of an Ohio public institution, if hired you will not contribute to the federal Social Security system, other than contributions to Medicare. Instead, UC employees have the option to contribute to a state retirement plan (OPERS, STRS) or an alternative retirement plan (ARP).

To learn more about why UC is a great place to work, please visit our careers page at <https://www.uc.edu/careers.html>.

FOR ALL FACULTY HIRES OFFICIAL ACADEMIC TRANSCRIPTS WILL BE REQUIRED AT THE TIME OF HIRE

For questions about the UC recruiting process or to request accommodations with the application, please contact Human Resources at jobs@uc.edu.

The University of Cincinnati is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 15006

Texas Christian University

Rank: Instructor of Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at Texas Christian University invites applications for an instructor of judicial politics, beginning in the fall of 2025. Competitive applications will show clear evidence of teaching excellence, and we prefer applicants who will have completed a Ph.D. in political science by the appointment date.

An instructor is a full-time, non-tenure track faculty member who is focused primarily on teaching. Instructors participate in department governance and receive benefits, merit raises, travel funding, and a share of any available funds for undergraduate research assistants. There are promotion pathways within the instructor ranks, offering opportunities for career advancement. Instructors are appointed for renewable terms that grow longer with promotion, with the expectation of renewal upon confirmation that the instructor continues to demonstrate excellence in teaching, academic leadership, and service. The salary is competitive.

This instructor will have the opportunity to teach highly in-demand courses geared toward pre-law students, including the two-semester Constitutional Law sequence (Institutional Powers and Rights and Liberties), as well as judicially related introductory and upper-division classes. The normal teaching load is four classes per semester.

Required Application Materials & Application Instructions:

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, unofficial transcript, and a teaching portfolio that includes a teaching statement, sample syllabi, and any other evidence of pedagogical expertise and effectiveness to <https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/> [replace w/ job-specific URL]. Letters of recommendation will be requested when review of applications begins. Full review of applications begins on January 15 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hr-talentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair, Adam Schiffer, at a.schiffer@tcu.edu.

Department Details:

The TCU political science department has 17 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors. Political science faculty run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies, Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies, Asian Studies, and Middle East Studies.

School/College Description:

Named for TCU's founders, Addison and Randolph Clark, the AddRan College of Liberal Arts is home to the core academic disciplines of the humanities and social sciences. The College includes approximately 155 full-time faculty members, 13 departments (Comparative Race & Ethnic Studies, Criminology & Criminal Justice, Economics, English, Geography, History, Modern Language Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, Religion, Sociology & Anthropology, Spanish and Hispanic Studies, and Women & Gender Studies), and two units of Reserve Officers' Training Corps (Army and Air Force). AddRan College departments confer 17 Bachelor of Arts and 7 Bachelor of Science degrees, a Bachelor of General Studies, an online master's degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice, a Master of Liberal Arts degree, and master's and Ph.D. degrees in History, English, and Rhetoric and Composition.

University & Fort Worth Description:

ABOUT TCU

Founded in 1873, Texas Christian University sits on 302 acres nestled in a primarily residential part of Fort Worth, just minutes away from downtown. The University includes seven schools and colleges, in addition to the John V. Roach Honors College and the Burnett School of Medicine.

Currently, TCU enrolls more than 10,200 undergraduates and 1,700 graduate students. Twenty-eight percent of students self-identify as a member of a minority group, five percent are international students, and forty-five percent are from out-of-state. Our students are supported by more than 2,200 faculty and staff. The University has more than 700 full-time faculty members and is a top 100 National University as classified by US News and World Report and has a Carnegie Classification of R2: Doctoral Universities – High Research Activity.

At TCU, diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) are an educational imperative directly tied to the University mission, vision, and strategic plan. Fulfilling TCU's mission to develop ethical leaders and critical thinkers in a global community depends on the University's ability to attract and retain students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds. A diverse and inclusive campus leads to innovation, broadened perspective, and understanding—values that are foundational aspects of higher education. For the fourth consecutive year, TCU has earned the Higher Education Excellence in Diversity Award, which highlights ongoing commitment to build a comprehensive DEI strategy that aligns with core values and creates a campus culture where everyone is respected and included.

ABOUT FORT WORTH

Like TCU, Fort Worth has the approachable, friendly charm of a smaller town, but offers the amenities, cultural activities, diversity and unique personality of a much larger city. Fort Worth, Texas, is the 13th largest city in the United States with an ever-growing population nearing 1 million. Fort Worth and TCU have grown together in a nearly 150-year relationship. You'll find that many Horned Frogs remain here after graduation, thanks to the region's thriving job market. Fort Worth is part of the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area, the fourth largest metropolitan area in the United States, and the number 1 tourist destination in Texas. In 2018, bizjournals.com ranked Fort Worth the 7th most affordable city to live and work in the United States and U.S. News and World Report named Fort Worth one of the Best Places to Live. Fort Worth, Dallas and Arlington all rank among the top 25 most diverse cities in the country.

Fort Worth is known for its vast array of cultural, educational and entertainment opportunities. The city boasts three world class art museums—the Kimbell Art Museum, the Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth and the Amon Carter Museum of American Art. The Bass Performance Hall is one of the premier performance venues in the country. Concerts, film festivals and other events are held regularly at Sundance Square, Panther Island and Near Southside venues.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/15/2025

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14985

Indiana University - Bloomington

Rank: Tenure Track Professor of International Law and Ethics, Open Rank

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies at Indiana University - Bloomington is inviting applications for a full-time position in International Law, Institutions and Ethics. This is an open rank tenured/tenure track position in the school's multidisciplinary Department of International Studies.

The successful candidate will have a strong research and teaching record in international law, institutions and ethics. Candidates might specialize in the fields of international humanitarian or human rights law, ethics, law and armed conflict, humanitarian intervention, ethics and AI, privacy, or the ethics of development and environmental conservation/justice.

Review of applications will begin immediately, with all applications received by October 18, 2024 being guaranteed full consideration. This appointment is anticipated to begin on August 1, 2025.

The Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies houses the Department of International Studies and three preeminent area studies departments: East Asian Languages and Cultures, Middle Eastern Languages and Cultures, and Central Eurasian Studies. A long-standing leader in language and cultural studies in the Midwest, it also houses three federally funded language flagship programs (Arabic, Chinese, and Russian), six Title VI funded National Resource Centers (African Studies Program, Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Center for the Study of Global Change, Center for the Study of the Middle East, Inner Asian and Uralic National Resource Center, Robert F. Byrnes Russian and East European Institute) and nine additional research and teaching centers. Of particular relevance to scholars interested in this position is the Tobias Center for Innovation in International Development (<https://tobiasdevelopment.indiana.edu/>).

The School's central mission is to combine deep area expertise with rigorous, multidisciplinary instruction of international affairs and global cultural studies. The Department of International Studies offers four undergraduate degrees (B.A. in International Studies, B.S. in International Studies, B.A. in International Law and Institutions, and B.S. in Cybersecurity and Global Policy (offered jointly with the Luddy School of Informatics, Computing, and Engineering) and three professional graduate degrees (M.A. in International Studies, M.S. in International Studies, and, joint with the O'Neill School of Environmental and Public Affairs, a Master's in International Affairs) along with one accelerated B.A./M.A. in the International Studies program.

Bloomington, Indiana is a charming college town in south central Indiana, roughly one hour to the award-winning Indianapolis Airport and ninety minutes to Louisville, KY. Bloomington offers many amenities including a relatively low cost of living, short commute times, excellent public schools, diverse dining options, and easy access to state parks and national forests. The confluence of the Jacob School of Music, the Eskenazi Art School, and a vibrant local music, comedy, and theater scene provide access to substantial affordable artistic programming. IU Bloomington is committed to fostering an inclusive and diverse community, as evidenced by it recently being ranked fourth nationwide on a list of the top LGBTQ+-friendly colleges. More about the University's diversity and inclusion initiatives can be found here: <https://diversity.iu.edu/faculty-and-belonging/index.html>

Basic Qualifications:

Candidates should hold a PhD or equivalent in a relevant discipline in law, social sciences or the humanities and have an outstanding record of research, publication, teaching and professional service (appropriate to their rank). Candidates should have a demonstrated commitment to working in an interdisciplinary academic environment and be enthusiastic about engaging with scholars and students focused on area studies.

Preferred Qualifications:

The department has a preference for candidates whose scholarship involves grounded expertise in their topic, such as through using research methods that display fluency in a second language, involve fieldwork, and/or engage with international organizations/institutions.

Required Application Materials:

Applicants should submit a cover letter highlighting their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, a sample syllabus of a course they are prepared to teach, and the names of three references (finalists' references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation).

Applicant referees will receive an email link to submit their letters of reference directly to the search committee through the PeopleAdmin interface.

For questions regarding the Department of International Studies, please contact Professor Emma Gilligan, search committee chair, at egilliga@iu.edu or visit the departmental website at internationalstudies.indiana.edu. For questions regarding the application submission process, please contact Mr. Zac Muller, Assistant Director of Faculty Relations, Hamilton Lugar School of Global and International Studies, at zmuller@iu.edu.

Application materials may be submitted via the PeopleAdmin applicant portal at:

<https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/25573>

Indiana University is an equal employment and affirmative action employer and a provider of ADA services. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment based on individual qualifications. Indiana University prohibits discrimination based on age, ethnicity, color, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, marital status, national origin, disability status or protected veteran status.

Please note that this offer must also gain final administrative approval and is subject to the University's receipt of verification of your credentials and other information required by law, and on your furnishing the federally required documentation showing that you are a citizen or permanent resident of the United States or an authorized alien entitled to be employed in the U.S. for the period of your appointment. Indiana University participates in the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's E-Verify Program to confirm employment eligibility. Upon acceptance of your offer, you will receive an email containing information on employment eligibility verification and the E-Verify process. This appointment is also conditional on a positive outcome of a background check, a part of the appointment process for all faculty and staff at the University as well as a misconduct review for prospective tenured faculty. You will receive an authorization/release form that you will be asked to sign. The misconduct review will occur before this offer is finalized, and the background check will be initiated and completed through HireRight, the default web-based system, once all appointment-related documentation has been submitted to the Business Office.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/18/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14833

Suffolk University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Criminal Justice

Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

The Department of Political Science & Legal Studies in the College of Arts & Sciences at Suffolk University invites applications for a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor position in our Undergraduate Law program beginning July 1, 2025. We are seeking a teacher scholar with a research program focused on equity and inclusion in the law that may include a specialization in Constitutional Law, civil rights law, criminal procedure, environmental racism, immigration law or public health law or another field of law.

Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellent teaching and scholarly potential, including a research agenda and plans for publication in legal journals or peer-reviewed journals in law and public policy. The Undergraduate Law Program prepares students for law school and careers as non-lawyer legal professionals. The Department includes undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Relations and Undergraduate Law, a Paralegal Studies Certificate and Associates Degree Program (for Non-Lawyer Legal Professionals) as well as Master of Arts degrees in Applied Public Policy and Global Public Policy. Preference will be given to those who have experience teaching legal research and writing and working with paralegals and/or supervising legal staff. Candidates should be able to contribute to the core curriculum and first year seminar program. In addition to demonstrating excellence in teaching and research, the successful candidate is expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students, and engage in service with the department, college and university. The workload for this position is 45% teaching, 35% research, and 20% service with a 5-course teaching load per year.

Suffolk's Political Science & Legal Studies Department's faculty are teacher scholars with a strong commitment to student development by providing high quality instruction to a diverse student body. Faculty in the department are award-winning teachers recognized for innovative pedagogical practices, community leaders civically engaged in advancing social justice, internationally recognized policy and political consultants and active researchers and scholars. Initiatives such as Suffolk Votes, the non-partisan university-wide initiative to raise political awareness and impact by increasing student voter participation, reflect the department's key role in Suffolk's Community Engagement Carnegie Classification. Department faculty take advantage of our location in the heart of Boston to design exciting real-world learning opportunities at the Court House and the State House. Close connections with Suffolk Law School, which has top-ranked skills clinics, provide students in the Undergraduate Law program with rich pre-professional opportunities as does our thriving Center for Restorative Justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to a rich tradition of community-engaged teaching and experiential education that prepares our diverse, substantially first-generation college students—40% of whom are Pell eligible—for careers and civic engagement. The successful candidate will have a commitment to inclusive pedagogy and curricular diversity, mentoring and advising students—especially first-generation college students—as well as conducting impactful research. We seek candidates excited about centering best practices pedagogy focused on active, applied and experiential learning in their teaching; a commitment to ongoing and continuous improvement in teaching is expected. Familiarity with and experience using pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and ability groups to reach their maximum potential is a valuable qualification.

Not sure this is you? Contact us to find out! Research indicates that women and members of marginalized populations tend not to apply to jobs when they think they do not meet the qualifications, when, in fact, they often do.

Suffolk University is dedicated to a diverse and inclusive academic community. Diversity, equity and inclusion are woven into our fabric. Founded in 1906 to provide access to legal education during the evening for individuals who might not otherwise have been afforded that opportunity, Suffolk University consistently seeks to advance its history and mission as a school of access and opportunity. This mission is lived through our decisions at every level. U.S. News ranked Suffolk University among the top 100 universities in the country for social mobility. Suffolk was also listed 14th nationally in percentage of international students. Through student, faculty and staff recruitment and support, community engagement, curriculum development, and research, the University community works to advance equity for every student, every day. Learn more about how we manifest the core values of our mission at Suffolk DEI. ?

Candidates must hold a JD (combination JD and PhD in a relevant field also invited) by the commencement of the 2025-26 academic year. Experience teaching undergraduates is preferred. Application should be made through the Suffolk University Human Resources' Careers at Suffolk site.

Completed submissions should include: cover letter; CV; law school transcript; Teaching Philosophy; Diversity Statement; a statement of research interests and agenda; student course evaluations (if available); and 3 letters of reference. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 1, though applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Initial interviews will be via Zoom followed by on-campus interviews.

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located in downtown Boston and is an equal opportunity employer committed to faculty diversity. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Suffolk offers substantial employee benefits, including retirement benefits, tuition remission for employees and their families, tuition exchange program with participating institutions, as well as health, dental, and life insurance, commuter benefits, and a strong employee assistance program. Learn more about CAS faculty here. To learn more about the Political Science & Legal Studies Department visit our website. Inquiries about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Conley, Chair of the Political Science & Legal Studies Department at bconley@suffolk.edu.

The department will also hold information sessions at the 2024 APSA conference in Philadelphia. To meet with a department representative at APSA, please email Prof. Maye Hennings at maye.henning@suffolk.edu

Suffolk University does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, age, genetic information, or status as a veteran in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs, activities, or employment. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer, the University is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive faculty and staff that reflect the broad range of human experience who contribute to the robust exchange of ideas on campus, and who are committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment. We strongly encourage applications from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented because of race/color, gender, religious creed, disability, national origin, veteran status or LGBTQ status. Suffolk University is especially interested in candidates who, through their training, service and experience, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the University community.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14738

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2025 to June 1, 2026. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Office of Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35921>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2024 – June 1, 2025) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024 for appointments beginning in September 2025. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 2/28/2024

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14727

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, James Madison Program

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients, or recipients who anticipate receiving their Ph.D., to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates for the anticipated year from September 1, 2025 to September 1, 2026. Appointments will be through the Department of Politics. All James Madison Program researchers are expected to be in residence in Princeton, or the local vicinity, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Researchers appointed in the Madison Program are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are required to have a Ph.D. degree awarded within the last three years (no earlier than September 1, 2022), or candidates must have less than three years of post-Ph.D. research experience prior to the anticipated start date. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=35922>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration, application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 6, 2024; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2025 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Adam Thomas, Ph.D.

Assistant Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: adamt@princeton.edu

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 1/27/2025

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14728

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University seeks to hire a tenure-track assistant professor with a focus on the criminal legal system. We define the criminal legal system broadly to include, among other things: (1) how and why criminal legal policies have come to be and evolved; (2) how macro- and micro-level policies and practices contribute to rates of—and disparities in—levels of contact with the criminal legal system; and (3) how contact with the criminal legal system affects individuals, families, and communities and how the nature of this contact—the texture of police stops or conditions of confinement, for example—shape the social, economic, and/or political consequences of exposure to the criminal legal system. These are, of course, only some of the ways in which criminal legal policy could be defined, and we are open to other related research areas.

Candidates should be able to teach courses in their substantive areas of interest that also align with the interests of undergraduate and graduate students engaged with public policy. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in a relevant social scientific discipline (for example, public policy, sociology, criminology, political science, economics, or demography) and a record of (or demonstrated capacity for) scholarly publication, public engagement, and excellence in teaching.

Duke University and The Sanford School of Public Policy are strongly committed to advancing inclusive excellence throughout our research, teaching, and service activities. A diverse faculty – defined broadly as representing a wide range of identities, lived experiences, and perspectives – is a prerequisite for excellence and is essential to driving innovation within our scholarly community. To achieve these goals, it is essential that all members of the community feel valued and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community are expected to uphold these values, and we seek to hire faculty who are passionate about increasing the participation and success of individuals from all different backgrounds and communities.

The Sanford School includes an interdisciplinary full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, five Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. The Sanford School houses several research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that describes their research and teaching interests and experiences, and that includes a brief statement addressing how they foster an equitable and inclusive learning and research environment; a CV; one to two writing samples; and names and contact information for three references. These materials should be submitted via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28105>

Applications submitted by September 15, 2024, will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, contact William Darity, Search Committee Chair, at william.darity@duke.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/15/2024

Date Posted: 8/20/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14674

University of Tennessee, Chattanooga

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Tenure Track

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

The Department of Political Science and Public Service at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Public Law beginning in August 2025.

The Assistant Professor will:

- teach a 3-3 load including introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in public law and judicial politics;
- offer a robust pre-law advising program;
- have opportunities to teach in other areas of expertise in the political science curriculum;
- pursue a coherent scholarly agenda;
- contribute to the pursuit of the goals of UTC's strategic plan; and
- enjoy the support of a collegial department that values viewpoint diversity, instructional excellence, and work-life balance.

Applicants are required to have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field by August 2025 and must submit the following materials via the UTC faculty job site:

- letter of interest, including specific areas of teaching interest;
- CV, including current email and phone number;
- unofficial transcripts;
- evidence of teaching effectiveness, including a statement of teaching philosophy, summary of teaching experience, course evaluations, and sample syllabi;
- statement of research agenda; and
- names, titles, and email addresses for three references.

Review of applications will begin September 20, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Michelle D. Deardorff (Michelle-Deardorff@utc.edu). Applications should be made here: https://ut.taleo.net/careersection/utc\_faculty/jobdetail.ftl?job=24000001Q6

About the Department of Political Science and Public Service, the University, and Chattanooga

The Department of Political Science and Public Service includes 12 tenured and tenure-track faculty members, about 200 majors and minors, the Master of Public Administration program, and the undergraduate Political Science major, which includes six concentrations: American Politics, International and Comparative Studies, Public Law, Public Policy, Public Administration and Nonprofit Management, and a flexible "Politics" option. Our faculty engage in a wide range of scholarship reflecting our diverse subdisciplines. We engage our students in a rigorous curriculum with many opportunities for active learning, both in and outside the classroom. Learn more about the department at www.utc.edu/psps.

The department is part of the College of Arts and Sciences, one of University of Tennessee at Chattanooga's five colleges, which offer 116 undergraduate and 48 graduate degree programs for over 11,000 students. Learn more at www.utc.edu/about.

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga proudly calls Chattanooga home—a city lauded by U.S. News and World Report, Money

Magazine, and Southern Living for its unique blend of historic charm and modern vibrancy and twice by Outdoor Magazine as "Best Town Ever." Nestled between scenic Lookout Mountain and the Tennessee River, Chattanooga offers breathtaking natural beauty, lively city amenities, and a small-town feel. Our city has it all, with historic cultural institutions like the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra and the Bessie Smith Cultural Center, iconic attractions like Rock City and Ruby Falls, opportunities for epic outdoor adventures, and an eclectic contemporary art, music, and food scene. Chattanooga's robust economy fosters an environment where tech start-ups thrive alongside established industries and corporations. UTC embodies Chattanooga's dynamic spirit, serving as one of the city's most vital institutions where forward-looking transformation and community thrive. UTC is where Chattanooga goes to build the future.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/15/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14646

University of Georgia

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Georgia seeks an Associate or Assistant Professor in judicial politics starting August 2025. We encourage nominations and applications from Associate Professors, Assistant Professors, and graduate students who will have completed their degree by the start date.

Duties focus on the publishing of original research in professional outlets and teaching and mentoring at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the Department's offerings in law and courts including topical areas such as US courts, judicial process, constitutional law, and criminal justice.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in political science by August 2025.
- Strong research-related skills with substantive scholarly interests related to law and US courts.
- Interest in teaching and mentoring undergraduate and graduate students.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Demonstrated record or potential for excellence in teaching and scholarship.
- Candidates who will contribute to the university's efforts to enhance and maintain an inclusive environment for learning, teaching, research and service.
- Potential to create synergies with existing departmental faculty in political methodology, all fields of American politics, and/or political theory.

Instructions to Applicants:

Prospective candidates should submit the following in electronic form: a cover letter that addresses the minimum and preferred qualifications for this position, a curriculum vita, a recent publication or research-related writing sample, a teaching portfolio including evaluations, transcripts, and a list of three letter writers, who will separately provide letters of recommendation (in electronic form), to the UGA job search web site: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/388077>

Questions can be sent to Wendi Finch, Office Manager, Department of Political Science, University of Georgia, 180 Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602-1615 (wendif@uga.edu). Review of applications will begin October 1st and will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science has an exceptionally strong reputation in American politics, including six faculty who teach and conduct research in areas related to law and courts. For more information about the Department and the School of Public and International Affairs, visit <http://spia.uga.edu/department-of-political-science/>. Athens is well known for its quality of life, including both outdoor and urban activities and conveniently located 70 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, ethnicity, age, genetic information, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation, or protected veteran status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR at hrweb@uga.edu. Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14518

Transylvania University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics and Public Law)

Transylvania University (www.transy.edu), a top-tier, independent, residential liberal arts college in Lexington, Kentucky, invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science with expertise in American Politics and Public Law. This is a tenure-track position, teaching in-person classes, beginning August 29, 2025. Transylvania University recognizes that a diverse and inclusive community is essential to the fulfillment of our mission as a liberal arts institution. To that end, we seek to attract a diverse faculty skilled in the scholarship of teaching, research, and mentorship of students from a variety of backgrounds. Candidates are encouraged, in their cover letter, to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community.

Job Description:

The successful candidate will specialize in the field of American Politics with expertise in Public Law and will instruct core courses in the major, including Introduction to U.S. Politics and our research methods course, Political Analysis, and specialized courses emphasizing the role and practice of law, legal theory, and/or judicial politics. Candidates with the ability to teach courses that contribute to our university's interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies and/or Women, Gender, and Sexuality (WGS) studies will receive special consideration. Occasional contributions to First-Year programming and service as an academic adviser are also expected. The teaching load consists of three courses per semester, plus one short-term course in May (3-3-1) that offers additional opportunities for travel courses, team-taught courses and other more experimental classroom endeavors. Other responsibilities include academic scholarship/professional activity, preferably involving undergraduate students, and service to the university through various committee appointments. The university also has an excellent faculty development program that competitively funds faculty (and student) scholarly research.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is required by the start date. Preference will be given to candidates with undergraduate teaching experience. The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to continuing their own professional work along with a commitment to teaching, interdisciplinary dialogue, and working collaboratively with other faculty and with students both within the Political Science Program and across disciplines within a liberal arts environment. The ideal applicant is committed to attracting, teaching, and mentoring students from historically excluded and underrepresented groups.

To begin the application process, please submit one PDF that contains all of the following: your curriculum vitae, your unofficial graduate transcripts, and a statement of teaching philosophy. Candidates are encouraged in their cover letter to identify their strengths and experiences in creating an inclusive academic community. This PDF, along with your cover letter, which will be uploaded separately, may be submitted by following the job openings link at <http://www.transy.edu/jobs>. If you are selected to move forward in the application process, you will be asked to provide official graduate transcripts and letters of recommendation at a later date. Please send questions specific to this search to Professor Steve Hess, at shess@transy.edu. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2024 and will continue until an appointment is made.

Transylvania University is ranked in the top 15 percent of the nation's four-year colleges by the Princeton Review, which cites its community-driven, personalized approach to a liberal arts education through 49 majors and 39 minors. Founded in 1780, it is the 16th oldest institution of higher learning in the country, with approximately 1,000 students.

Transylvania University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to enhancing the diversity of the university community. In support of this goal, we seek qualified candidates with a wide range of backgrounds, perspectives, and experiences. We embrace diversity and encourage all who are interested to apply.

Application closes: Sep 15, 2024

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14479

St. Olaf College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position in American Politics, with a primary focus on institutions and/or law, at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2025. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in race, gender, sexuality, and/or economic inequality, who have a broad background in the discipline, and whose research and teaching interests speak to contemporary public concerns.

The teaching responsibilities, five courses per year, would include Introduction to American Politics as well as upper-level courses depending on the scholar's areas of research and teaching interest, such as courses on Congress, the presidency, the courts, state politics, or constitutional law. We expect that the person who fills this position will contribute to our department as a creative teacher, an engaged scholar, and a collaborative colleague.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by the start of the fall semester is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

About the Department

We are a collegial department, with two faculty members teaching regularly in each of the four subfields. We are committed to supporting our colleagues in their pursuit of creative and thoughtful pedagogy and rigorous scholarship. For more information about the department, visit wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/.

How to Apply

Submit application at: <https://tinyurl.com/4zxwjpd>

A complete application includes the following:

References: Provide contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship. Cover letter outlining your qualifications and why you are interested in this particular position

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement (500 word limit): Describe how you would contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning community at our college through your teaching, research, and/or service. Include examples of your contributions when possible.

Graduate transcripts (unofficial)

Evidence of Teaching Excellence, including a statement of teaching philosophy, focused on pedagogy in and out of the classroom at a liberal arts college

Research Statement focused on your current scholarship and plans for future scholarship

Writing sample

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration. Finalist interviews are expected in November. Questions about the position, department, or College may be directed to Menevis Cilizoglu, Search Committee Chair, at tt2025ps@stolaf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14446

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor: Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Political Theory

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2025. Candidates should have expertise in American public law with a focus on constitutional law and American judicial process. The successful applicant will serve as faculty advisor to the Pre-Law Society and Moot Court team and may teach, as needed, introductory courses in American Politics. Faculty teach in a 6-6-7 course rotation with six courses per year for two years and seven courses in the third year.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Successful applicants will have a record of effective classroom teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, and a willingness to work with colleagues on professional service responsibilities. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a comparable degree by the time of appointment. ABDs and JDs with teaching experience will also be considered.

Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference to Dr. Celia Carroll Jones, Chair, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/147105>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Hampden-Sydney is one of three liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men. Our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning."

Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 8/15/2024

Date Posted: 5/25/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14370

PUBLIC POLICY

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research

Rank: Researcher/Senior Researcher

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Welfare, United States

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research invites PhD researchers in economics, public policy, sociology, political science, industrial relations, or a related field to apply for a full-time research position. Recent PhDs may apply for a Researcher position, and those with at least 5 years of experience and an established publication record in peer-reviewed journals may apply for a Senior Researcher position.

The Upjohn Institute is an endowed, nonprofit research organization that conducts independent, nonpartisan research on employment-related issues. The Institute offers a thriving and collaborative research environment. Our staff includes twelve PhDs who share common research interests and are excellent colleagues. The Institute's endowment allows researchers considerable freedom in developing their agenda within the Institute's mission to study policy-related employment issues. (Please see <https://www.upjohn.org/about>). Research staff also seek funding from foundations or government agencies as a way of augmenting their research or becoming more involved in finding practical solutions to employment problems. Researchers receive excellent support from in-house staff, including research analysts, computer specialists, information and database specialists, communications specialists, and administrative assistants.

The Institute is searching for candidates who have demonstrated strong analytical skills, excellent oral and written communication skills for academic, policy, and general audiences, and a strong interest in addressing policy-relevant issues and communicating research findings to policy makers. A record of successful external funding commensurate with experience is a definite plus. The Institute offers competitive salaries and benefits, including the possibility of a remote work arrangement. The Institute is an equal opportunity employer that is fully committed to sustaining and continuing to build an environment of diversity, equity, and inclusion.

The position is open until filled. Review of applications will begin on November 20, 2024.

About Kalamazoo, Michigan

Kalamazoo is a dynamic metropolitan area in Southwest Michigan, located just 30 minutes from the shores of Lake Michigan. Centered halfway between Chicago and Detroit, it has a rich arts culture and a strong educational community that includes Kalamazoo College, a private liberal arts college, and Western Michigan University, a large public research institution with a nationally recognized medical school. Kalamazoo is home to The Kalamazoo Promise, which provides free in-state college tuition to all graduates of its public schools.

Application Requirements:

- A cover letter that includes a statement of how the applicant's research fits within the Institute's mission
- CV
- Up to Two Research Papers
- Three Letters of Reference for applicants with less than a year of graduation from a Ph.D. program; for other applicants, letters of reference will be requested later in the process

To apply, please submit application materials online through the JOE website: https://www.aeaweb.org/joe/listing.php?JOE\_ID=111475106

Start Date: Fall 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 15125

www.publicagenda.org

Rank: Director

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Non-Academic, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Education Policy, Political Behavior

About Public Agenda

Public Agenda is a research-to-action organization. We seek to strengthen democracy by amplifying public voice and expanding opportunities for all Americans. We work to improve democratic processes and the systems and institutions that determine whether the promise of American democracy will be realized in the lives of everyday people. Because of the special role of education as a public good and foundation of both economic opportunity and civic engagement, much of our work is focused on education systems and institutions. We build knowledge through rigorous research using a range of methodological approaches including in-depth case studies, interviews, focus groups, public opinion surveys, and quantitative analyses of administrative data. Public Agenda also supports academic researchers addressing pressing, practical questions; we frame those questions and synthesize, translate, and communicate results. We discover pathways and tools for change, and we connect what we are learning to individuals and organizations who can put it to use.

About the Position

We are seeking a Director to join a small and highly collaborative team to manage and grow a body of work encompassing democracy, education, and their intersections. The Director will lead a portfolio of research-to-action projects, contributing to the organization's mission, strategic direction, funder relations, partnership and project development, and efforts to translate research into practical implementation and impact for the American people. The Director's portfolio will build on their areas of expertise, experience, and network of relationships.

The Director plays a key role in supporting continuous improvement in the research-to-action team, developing project concepts, securing funding, executing projects, ensuring high quality products, and communicating about projects with internal and external audiences to advance Public Agenda's mission.

Directors work collaboratively, bringing relevant expertise or capacities to projects led by other Directors and shaping their own portfolios in dialogue with colleagues throughout the organization. Individual Directors may have specific organization-wide responsibilities in addition to project leadership.

The ideal candidate possesses strong social science research skills, is passionate about data-informed approaches to challenges facing our democracy, brings an asset-based and equity-centered orientation to project and partnership development, has experience building systems and executing projects or initiatives, and is comfortable working with a wide variety of stakeholders. We are interested in candidates who bring professional networks in their areas of interest and expertise that will catalyze new projects and expand opportunities for funding and impact.

We are particularly interested in candidates with substantive expertise and/or practical experience in one or more of the following areas: (1) democracy reform or renewal, including structural and cultural approaches; (2) civic education in any context; (3) educational access and opportunity; (4) other intersections between democratic values and institutions and education systems, practices, and outcomes.

At Public Agenda, we believe that American democracy would work better if people from diverse backgrounds and perspectives were more able to work together to meet public challenges. We endeavor to create and support a work environment that reflects our values, so we are especially interested in hearing from candidates who share our commitment to democracy and whose experiences and perspectives are underrepresented in the field.

We can envision several different candidate profiles that could be a good fit for the Director position. The successful candidate might be a researcher with significant experience partnering with practitioners, an experienced practitioner in the nonprofit or public sector with expertise implementing evidence-informed strategy, or a professional with some other background that demonstrates their capacity to lead projects connecting research and practice in service of democratic values.

Key responsibilities include:

- Support mission-aligned efforts to increase Public Agenda's impact
- Engage with colleagues and external partners to identify promising concepts for projects
- Work with colleagues to build project budgets, timelines, and teams
- Work with development colleagues to secure project funding
- Manage project teams in the execution of research, engagement, and deliverable development
- Ensure research-to-action process and products meet Public Agenda's standards
- Cultivate ongoing learning and improvement in the research-to-action team

Desired qualifications, skills and abilities:

- Significant experience in research and execution
- Strong strategic and operational sense; ability to read and respond to dynamic contexts and organize systems to meet evolving programmatic requirements
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings and evidence-based implementation approaches in oral and written form to key stakeholders, such as funders, policymakers, advocates, and journalists
- Experience with a range of quantitative and qualitative research methods
- Personal integrity, commitment to resource stewardship
- Balanced, solutions-seeking orientation; strong listening skills
- Commitment to Public Agenda's mission
- Comfort working in a nonpartisan organization committed to ideological diversity
- Commitment to a respectful and equitable workplace
- Graduate degree in a relevant field preferred
- Proficiency in Spanish is a plus

Public Agenda's staff is geographically distributed, and this is a work-from-anywhere position within the United States. Staff members must be available to work during standard Eastern Time business hours. The successful candidate must be available to travel for quarterly organization-wide meetings, occasional conferences, and project-related work such as site visits for qualitative research and convenings of stakeholders.

The expected salary range for this position is $95,000 - $125,000. We offer a competitive benefits package including dental and medical insurance, 401(k) retirement contribution, 4 weeks of paid vacation plus an additional week between Christmas and New Year's Day, paid holidays, sick and personal time, in addition to other benefits. The position reports to the Chief Strategy and Impact Officer.

The above statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work being performed by the individual(s) assigned to this position. They are not intended to be an exhaustive list of all duties, responsibilities, and skills required. Management reserves the right to modify, add, or remove duties and to assign other duties as necessary. In addition, reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions of this position.

Our organization is committed to equal employment opportunity and diversity in the workplace. We do not discriminate against employees or applicants for employment on any legally-recognized basis ["protected class"] including, but not limited to: veteran status, uniform service member status, race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information or any other protected class under federal, state, or local law.

Public Agenda is a qualifying employer under the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program (PSLF).

Application process

Interested candidates should submit a resume or CV and a cover letter describing your interest in and qualifications for the position to careers@publicagenda.org. Applications will be considered as they are received until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/29/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 15123

Yale School of the Environment

Rank: Faculty Position in Water Policy and Management

The Yale School of the Environment (YSE) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the level of an assistant or associate professor, with research and teaching interests in the broad area of water policy and management.

The successful candidate will conduct research from a social science perspective on the ways water policy and management shape, and are shaped by, issues that could include water accessibility and quality, the protection of ecosystem services, transboundary conflict and cooperation, the water-energy-food nexus, coastal-zone vulnerability, sustainable development, public health, water rights and justice, and climate change. While applicants need not have a sole focus on water policy and management, the position is one with expected teaching and leadership responsibilities within YSE's curricular specialization on Water Resource Science and Management.

Applicants are expected to have a doctorate in a relevant social science field, which may include anthropology, economics, international relations, law, political science, public administration, sociology, an interdisciplinary degree, or other relevant field.

The successful applicant will be expected to:

- 1) teach and mentor students at the PhD, masters and potentially undergraduate levels,

- 2) develop an internationally recognized research program that involves graduate students,
- 3) facilitate interdisciplinary research, and
- 4) contribute to building an inclusive academic environment.

Prior to applying, candidates are encouraged to explore the School's website (<http://environment.yale.edu>) and consider how their expertise can complement existing strengths within the School. Applicants should apply online: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157324> Consideration of applications will begin December 2, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Please upload: 1) a curriculum vitae, 2) Representative Research Paper, 2) a statement of research, and 3) a statement of teaching interests. As a part of both the teaching and research statements, we encourage you to consider highlighting your track record and outline of possible future plans for promoting research and teaching in an inclusive environment. Also provide the names and contact information of three professional references who can provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Questions about the faculty search process can be directed to deansoffice.yse@yale.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15102

American University-SIS

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Other

The School of International Service at American University (AU) invites applications for an eighteen-month Center for Environment, Community, & Equity (CECE) Postdoctoral Fellow in Civic Environmentalism. The Post-Doctoral fellow will work on the Addressing Climate Through Our Nation's Service Corps Program under the project's Principal Investigator, Professor Dana R. Fisher. We seek a junior scholar with a deep knowledge about civic engagement and activism, and a strong background in both survey and interview research methods to join the project's research team. In addition to working with the team to collect and analyze data, and write-up the research findings, the post-doctoral fellow will support our new DataCorps Fellowship Program, which will train graduate students to evaluate civic programs that are springing up across the US to support climate work. Although the post-doctoral fellow will support DataCorps Program as fellows conduct evaluations over the summer, there are no teaching responsibilities.

We welcome applicants who possess a broad and big-picture understanding of civic engagement and environmental challenges, and the ability to engage with research and scholarship from multiple disciplines. Preference will be given to applicants with experience working on actionable research and strong intrapersonal skills, with a record of published research.

We especially encourage applications from individuals from sectors of the population historically underrepresented on the professorial faculties of U.S. colleges and universities. The position begins on January 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal for additional time.

The postdoctoral fellow should reside in the D.C. metropolitan area and be an active participant in SIS' vibrant intellectual community.

Other fellowship expectations include contributing to the day-to-day activities at the Center for Environment, Community, & Equity (CECE), including coordinating environmental events, hosting guests, writing for the CECE Clearinghouse, and providing other administrative support (for up to 25% of the fellow's time).

Applicants should hold a PhD or the highest equivalent degree in any discipline connected to the social sciences by the start date, though ABD applications will be considered. Annual salary: $70,000 plus benefits. Review of applications will begin on November 4, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applications must be submitted electronically via the Workday application system (https://american.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/AU/job/Main-Campus-Washington-DC/CECE-Postdoctoral-Fellow\_R1982). Applications should include the following:

- Cover letter detailing the applicant's research background and expertise
- Curriculum vitae
- Sample publications
- Brief research statement including research agenda
- Statement describing past examples of your contributions to diversity and inclusion in your scholarship, the classroom and/or in other professional settings.
- The names and email addresses of three references (the Workday system will contact them for a confidential letter of recommendation) and whom the committee may contact.

Queries about the search may be sent to Professor Dana Fisher (drfisher@american.edu). Queries about the online application system may be sent to SIS faculty affairs manager Alissa Iwaniuk (aiwaniuk@american.edu).

American University is a private institution of higher education in the nation's capital (Please visit www.american.edu for more information). American University's School of International Service (SIS) is a top-ten school of international affairs with 3,000 students, 120+ full-time faculty and more than 20,000 alumni worldwide. SIS faculty produce transformational research and our prime location provides opportunities for collaboration with professionals in government, the private sector, and think tanks and other non-profits. Learn more about SIS at www.american.edu/sis.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities.

American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus. To ensure the health and safety of our community, American University requires that all faculty and staff are vaccinated for Covid-19. To learn more about American University's health and safety directives please click here: <https://www.american.edu/hr/how-we-work/vaccinations.cfm>

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on the successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/22/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 15096

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China (CCC) at Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for the 2025-2026 academic year. The ideal candidate is an outstanding recent PhD who focuses on contemporary China from a social science disciplinary perspective. The appointment will be made for one year with the possibility of renewal for a second year based on performance and availability of funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2025. The successful candidate will be expected to be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The associate will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. The search is limited to applicants with less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date.

Applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/36741>. The following application items are required and should be uploaded by the applicant.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
4. Contact information for two references.
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Celine Li at celineli@princeton.edu.

More information about the Center on Contemporary China may be found at <https://ccc.princeton.edu>.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/21/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15095

University of Scranton

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at The University of Scranton invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor in U.S. politics, Public Policy, or related field to begin in August 2025.

Strong commitment to undergraduate teaching, scholarship, and service. The ideal candidate should be broadly trained, and prepared to deliver introductory and elective courses aligned with their interests and expertise and in support of departmental curriculum in Political Science and Public Policy & Service, including those that will help students develop technical and data literacy skills needed to successfully navigate a rapidly changing digital and informational political environment that increasingly relies on Artificial Intelligence (AI), spatial analysis, and big data.

Candidates will also be expected to support University conversations around technology and data opportunities and challenges. The standard teaching load is 3-3. The capability to develop an active research agenda that involves mentoring undergraduate students is preferred.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or related field at time of appointment; strong ABD candidates will be considered.

Review of applications will begin on November 8, 2024. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Please submit a 1) letter of interest addressing qualifications, teaching philosophy, and research interests; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statement that indicates commitment to diversity and inclusion and how this informs pedagogy; and 4) three confidential letters of recommendation. Apply at <https://universityofscrantonjobs.com/postings/7696>.

For further information about the Political Science Department, visit our web page at <https://www.scranton.edu/academics/cas/political-science/index.shtml>.

The Department also houses the University's Center for Ethics and Excellence in Public Service (CEEPS) at <https://www.scranton.edu/academics/cas/ceeps/>.

Please contact Dr. JoyAnna Hopper, Associate Professor of Political Science, via email at joyanna.hopper@scranton.edu with questions about the position.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/21/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 15090

University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Foundations of Public Policy (Professional Track)

Foundations of Public Policy (Professional Track)

College/School/Unit: LBJ School of Public Affairs

Posted: Oct 17, 2024

Apply By: Open until filled

Description

The Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs at The University of Texas seeks applications for a visiting/adjunct faculty position to teach an undergraduate course on Foundations of Public Affairs in the fall semester of academic year 2025-26.

The LBJ School is a world-renowned public policy school located in Austin, Texas. It has a long history in policy research and professional education at the graduate level. The School currently has around 400 graduate students in four degree programs: PhD, Master of Public Affairs, Master of Global Policy Studies, and Executive Master in Public Leadership. The School is launching its first undergraduate program leading to the Bachelor of Public Affairs degree in the fall semester of 2025.

This new degree program focuses on skills in leadership, policy analysis, data analytics, communication, and organizational management to prepare its graduates for a career in public service. The size of the inaugural cohort is expected to be 70 undergraduate students. The course on Foundations of Public Affairs serves as the intellectual platform for the entire Bachelor of Public Affairs curriculum. The School is therefore seeking an instructor who can weave together multiple scholarly and political perspectives to make this course the cornerstone for the rest of the program. Please see the document next page for the envisioned content of this course.

Course Outline can be found here: <https://utexas.box.com/s/3vbhnyxqxd3l3e06nsmmpm1oa01jdycb>

Qualifications

A master's degree in public affairs or a field related to public affairs is required. Preferred but not required qualifications would be a PhD or terminal degree in a related field and a record of teaching excellence. Professional experience in public affairs or the subject of instruction is also preferred. The successful candidate may choose to teach this one course on an adjunct basis, or propose other contributions to the mission of the Johnson School to make this a full-time visiting position.

Application Instructions

Please submit a cover letter, current curriculum vitae, and three (3) confidential professional references that address your teaching qualifications. If selected, additional documents may be requested. References should be solicited and submitted through the Interfolio application. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge. Please review Interfolio dossier basics online here: <http://product-help.interfolio.com/m/27438/l/692488-dossier-quick-start-guide-for-applicants>

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Texas at Austin, as an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. The University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, disability, religion, or veteran status in employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/5735249>

jeid-254cda7358a3ea4582202c779b1b56df

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15083

Boston University Global Development Policy Center

Rank: 2025-2026 Fellows Program

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

The Boston University Global Development Policy Center is seeking applications for the 2025-2026 Fellows Program in two of its research initiatives: the Global China Initiative and the Global Economic Governance Initiative. The GDP Center is a policy-oriented research center working to advance financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability across the globe through rigorous interdisciplinary research, policy engagement and strategic communications.

The Global China Initiative

The Global China Fellows Program provides a one-of-a-kind opportunity to engage and collaborate with GDP Center researchers, BU faculty members and Global South-based institutions to conduct policy-oriented research on China's overseas economic activity and engagement with international institutions to advance financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability. Global China Fellows are paired with a BU faculty member or GDP Center Senior Academic Researcher under one of the four GCI workstreams: Data Analysis for Transparency and Accountability (D.A.T.A.); Forestry, Agriculture, Indigenous Rights and the Belt and Road Initiative (FAIR-BRI); Energy and Climate; and China and the International Financial Architecture (CHIFA). Fellows contribute to GCI research projects while receiving guidance and support on their own independent research projects. Fellows are expected to produce one GCI working paper per appointment year.

Required Qualifications:

- Pre-doctoral applicants must have completed their qualification/comprehensive exams and defended their dissertation proposal; post-doctoral applicants must have successfully defended their dissertation by August 2025;
- Strong research interest and expertise in China's overseas economic activities and engagement with international institutions.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience in priority geographical regions of interest, in addition to China, such as Africa, Latin America and Southeast Asia;
- Fluency in Chinese or a language from one of the priority regions;
- Experience researching the relationship between China's overseas engagement and the following issues is most preferred:
  - o The role of China and Chinese development finance institutions in expanding energy access and renewable energy, decarbonization and addressing climate change;
  - o Biodiversity and Indigenous Lands, geolocation and mapping;
  - o International economic institutions, reform of the global sovereign debt architecture, debt sustainability, the Global Financial Safety Net and RMB internationalization.
- The GDP Center accepts applications from scholars of all disciplinary backgrounds, especially the natural and social sciences, engineering and business. Quantitative methodological and modeling expertise are strongly preferred.

The Global Economic Governance Initiative

The Global Economic Governance Initiative (GEGI) advances policy-oriented research to enable the international financial architecture to foster financial stability, human well-being and environmental sustainability across the globe. Within GEGI, research is conducted across three thematic programs: climate and development finance, financial stability and development, and trade and investment rules. GEGI also focuses on emerging and cross-cutting challenges such as just transitions, financial stability and climate change. The Initiative hosts flagship programs, such as the Working Group on Trade Treaties and Access to Medicines and the Task Force on Climate, Development and the International Monetary Fund.

The Global Economic Governance Fellows Program offers the opportunity to conduct independent research in line with GEGI's research areas and participate in GEGI's research projects, policy engagement and Center-wide activities. Fellows will be expected to support research activities in one or more of the thematic programs, with specific focus on:

- The role of development banks (multilateral, regional or national) in enhancing climate and development action, particularly in mobilizing resources and facilitating a just transition away from fossil fuels;
- The intersection of the international trade regime with climate change (including green industrialization strategies) and access to medicines; and
- Financial stability and development, with a focus on reform of the global debt architecture to be fit-for-purpose, the Global Financial Safety Net and the International Monetary Fund.

Fellows contribute to GEGI research projects while receiving guidance and support on their own independent research projects. Fellows are expected to produce one GEGI working paper per appointment year.

Applicant Qualifications:

- Enrolled in or graduated from a PhD program. Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled in doctoral programs. The GDP Center will accept applications from all disciplines, especially the natural and social sciences, engineering and business.
- Strong research interest in one or more of the GEGI areas of focus: development finance institutions, trade and investment rules, and financial stability.
- Quantitative and/or qualitative methodological expertise as appropriate, specifically with Excel and Tableau.

To Apply

The majority of the fellowships will be awarded for the 2025-2026 academic year. Fellows will receive a competitive and modest stipend funding for data collection and/or fieldwork and potentially be eligible for reimbursement for relocation expenses. This fellowship program is in-person at the GDP Center.

Interested applicants should prepare following materials in one PDF:

- A cover letter that demonstrates interest and experience in research relevant to their chosen initiative.
- A current curriculum vitae.
- A 1-2 page individual working paper proposal that outlines the research question(s), methodology, research plan and its significance.
- A writing sample that reflects the candidate's research interests (no more than 30 pages)
- Contact information for two references.

For applicants interested in the Global China Initiative, please send these materials to gci@bu.edu with the subject line "&lt;&lt;LastName_FirstName&gt;&gt; GCI Fellow Application 2025-2026"

For applicants interested in the Global Economic Governance Initiative, please send these materials to gegi@bu.edu with the subject line "&lt;&lt;LastName_FirstName&gt;&gt; GEGI Fellow Application 2025-2026"

The majority of the fellowships will be awarded for the 2025-2026 academic year. Fellows will receive a competitive and modest stipend funding for data collection and/or fieldwork and potentially be eligible for reimbursement for relocation expenses. This fellowship program is in-person at the GDP Center.

Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until December 20, 2024. Applicants are encouraged to apply early. Due to the volume of applicants, only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

For International candidates: International candidates will need express approval from their sponsoring institution stating that the potential fellow is allowed to earn income from another institution. This is especially important for international students with J-1 visas. Note: If you do not currently have a valid US scholar visa, certain research positions at Boston University qualify for immigration sponsorship. Prospective scholars should first establish their potential affiliation with the GDP Center as a pre- or post-doctoral fellow and clarify the terms of their appointment. BU's International Students and Scholars Office (ISSO) will work with the prospective scholar and the GDP Center to evaluate which immigration classification is most appropriate. The ISSO will consider various factors such as the appointment/affiliation terms, the scholar's educational achievements and US immigration history.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 15076

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Public Administration

The Trachtenberg School of Public Policy and Public Administration (TSPPPA) at the George Washington University (GW) seeks applicants for two full-time, tenure-track positions that will start in the Fall of 2025. Both faculty appointments will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. The first position will be in a public administration or public policy field. The second position will specialize in policy with any relevant disciplinary background or policy interest. For both positions, we welcome applications from those with expertise or experience related to teaching program evaluation, public budgeting & finance, or research methods.

We seek applicants with the potential to establish a sustained program of academic research resulting in a strong publication record as evidenced by scholarly publications or works in progress. The persons hired for these positions will sustain strong research and publication records that can serve as a basis for tenure. They will teach elective and/or required courses and mentor students in our Master of Public Administration (MPA), Master of Public Policy (MPP), Master of Arts in Environmental and Sustainability Policy (MA-ESP), and/or Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration programs. The standard course load is four courses for the academic year for all professors.

Assistant professors are expected to carry a minimal service load that includes service outside and internal to GW.

The Trachtenberg School has a long reputation of excellence, offering two of the oldest public administration and public policy programs in the world. It is one of the few graduate-only Schools at GW and leverages its location in the Nation's Capital to enhance student, alumni, and faculty experiences. Our award-winning faculty are recognized for their research expertise and teaching excellence. We pride ourselves on our pursuit of an inclusive culture that values excellence, humility, and compassion. We consistently rank among the top 20 public affairs schools and have eight specialties ranked in the top 10% by US News and World Report. Our classes typically are under thirty students and our alumni network is strong and active.

GW sits in the vibrant Foggy Bottom community within walking distance of the White House, World Bank, museums, world-class restaurants, and other amenities. As an R1 institution, the university boasts a robust community of scholars and numerous multi-disciplinary initiatives. It is home to many centers and institutes including the GW Institute of Public Policy, Alliance for a Sustainable Future, Global Food Institute, Center for Washington Area Studies, and Trachtenberg's own Regulatory Studies Center.

To apply, please complete an online faculty application for Trachtenberg's tenure-track assistant professor in a public administration or public policy field at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/114645>, and the tenure-track assistant professor position specializing in policy at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/114644>. Upload a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests and qualifications, a curriculum vitae, a sample publication or job market paper, and teaching evaluations (if available). Applicants should also arrange for three academic letters of reference to be emailed to the Search Chair at tssearch@gwu.edu. Only complete applications will be considered.

The review of applications will begin on October 15 and continue until the position is filled. More information about the Trachtenberg School is available at tsppa.gwu.edu. Questions about the position can be sent to Kate Rosa at katerosa@gwu.edu.

Minimum Qualifications:

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, public policy, or a related field (e.g., economics, political science, etc.) by date of appointment or within one semester after appointment. Applicants must have the ability to teach core courses in our public administration (MPA), public policy (MPP), environmental and sustainability policy (MA-ESP), and/or Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration programs. As stated above, applicants must have the potential to establish a sustained program of academic research resulting in a strong publication record as evidenced by scholarly publications or works in progress.

Salary Range: $92,000 - $105,000

Benefits: These positions are eligible for full-time health benefits. A full explanation of those benefits is available at <https://hr.gwu.edu/health-benefits>.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Employment offers are contingent upon the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15075

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Net Zero Industrial Policy Lab at Johns Hopkins is looking for post-doctoral fellow to conduct research on global green industrial policy.

The lab seeks to produce the world-leading academic research and timely policy analysis needed to grapple with geopolitics and political economy of the energy transition. It combines the technical analysis of net-zero supply chains with the study of net-zero industrial policies to catalyze strategic collaborations between government and industry. The lab operates as more than an academic research unit—it works closely with partners from industry and government to develop solutions in real-time. The lab works across sectors with projects in critical minerals, hydrogen, steel, aluminum, biofuels, renewables, and other clean energy supply chains.

The lab is embarking on a multi-year project on the history and practice of global industrial policy. The goal is to do engaged research that will inform multilateral diplomacy and the international financial institutions. This work will involve:

- i. Conducting historical and theoretical research on earlier efforts to create joint industrial policy such as the European Coal and Steel Community or the international commodity agreements.
- ii. Mapping current collaborative efforts to advance industrial policy and clean energy supply chains across international policy domains (trade, finance, security, and development) and developing analytical frameworks to understand and explain this dynamic landscape.
- iii. Leading policy engagement with foreign policy teams in priority countries, global forums such as the G7, G20, G77, and V20, and the international financial institutions.

This is a two-year full-time research and engagement position.

Duties:

Research (75%)

- Conduct data collection and historical research on global green industrial policy.
- Liaise with domain experts to synthesize key insights and recommendations across international policy domains (trade, finance, security, and development).
- Co-author peer-reviewed academic papers, policy briefs, and analytic reports.
- Co-author grants and funding proposals.

Engagement (20%)

- Participate in meetings with lab partners, foreign policy teams, and global forums to explain and disseminate research.
- Prepare slide decks and other briefing materials as needed.
- Participate in the design and preparation for webinars, workshops, and engagement sessions.

Professionalization and Administration (5%)

- Attend conferences and events on to present your research and the research of the lab.
- Take courses to build necessary skills.
- Attend lab meetings and take active part in internal discussions.
- Support the industrial policy lead with administrative tasks such as preparing budgets, booking meetings, and organizing the industrial base team.

Qualifications

A PhD in political science, public policy, or economics.

Application Instructions:

Candidates should upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and three letters of reference to Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/157443>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/15/2024

Date Posted: 10/17/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 15077

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: CFR 2025-26 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy

Specializations: International Security, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR) is seeking applicants for its 2025–26 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship. The fellowship offers younger scholars studying nuclear security issues the opportunity to conduct policy-relevant research at CFR's New York or Washington, DC, offices. CFR awards up to two fellowships annually.

The fellowship begins in September 2025 and runs for twelve months.

How to Apply:

Program details, eligibility requirements, and the online application can be found at: www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship. Applicants must be U.S. citizens.

The deadline to apply is December 2, 2024. If you have questions about the fellowship, please email fellowships@cfr.org.

CFR has a long-standing commitment to making the foreign policy community in the United States more representative of American society as a whole and actively seeks fellowship candidates from diverse backgrounds.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15065

University of Maryland

Rank: Dean

Search for the Dean of the School of Public Policy

University of Maryland

College Park, Maryland

Studying public policy prepares you to understand the problems and design the solutions. Practicing public policy is the power to change the world.

The University of Maryland, College Park (UMD), the state's flagship land-grant university and one of the nation's preeminent public research institutions, seeks a Dean of the School of Public Policy to advance its mission to develop leaders in policy and governance, advance the frontiers of scholarship, and promote the public good at home and abroad. Reflecting UMD's commitment to the fearless pursuit of the public good, the Dean will lead the School of Public Policy in deploying the assets of a tier-one research university to benefit people in the state, across the country, and around the world.

Formerly known as the Maryland School of Public Affairs, the School of Public Policy has evolved significantly since it opened in 1982. What began with seven faculty members and 12 students has grown to 127 faculty and staff and 585 undergraduate and graduate students spanning diverse disciplines and areas of domestic and international policy. With expanding academic offerings, a growing portfolio of research, and robust partnerships with government, nonprofit, and private organizations, the School embodies the ideals of public policy as a means of bringing people together for constructive dialogue. The School's new 77,000-square-foot building—Thurgood Marshall Hall, which opened in the fall of 2022—was designed for the critical exploration of pressing public issues and offers state-of-the-art teaching and collaborative spaces for students, faculty, and staff. Today, the School ranks among the top 26 public affairs graduate programs in the nation while also earning high accolades for homeland security, public finance and budgeting, and public policy analysis.

Reporting to the Senior Vice President and Provost, the Dean will advance the educational mission of the university and School; oversee and support the community of faculty, staff, and students; and work with the School's six centers and institutes. The Dean will have a distinguished academic record to be tenurable at the full professor level, experience as a consultative and thoughtful leader, a track record of bringing diverse groups and voices together around shared goals, and a national reputation in public policy. The Dean will be an effective and responsive leader, dynamic, strategic, entrepreneurial, and innovative in recognizing and leveraging opportunities and identifying and overcoming constraints.

The University of Maryland has retained Isaacson, Miller, a national executive search firm, to assist in this recruitment. Review of candidates will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Nominations, inquiries, and applications, including a CV and letter of interest, should be submitted via the Isaacson, Miller website search page.

The University of Maryland, College Park, an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action; all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment. The University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, physical or mental disability, protected veteran status, age, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, creed, marital status, political affiliation, personal appearance, or on the basis of rights secured by the First Amendment, in all aspects of employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15068

University of Melbourne

Rank: Lecturer In Public Policy (equivalent to tenure-track Assistant Professor)

Are you ready to cultivate a remarkable career in public policy at Australia's number one University? We are seeking an exceptional academic to build on our existing strengths in this dynamic field during an exciting period of growth and expansion.

We welcome applicants researching and teaching in all areas of public policy, public administration, public management, public governance, policy studies and related fields.

The successful candidate will be an outstanding researcher and engaging educator, contributing primarily to the highly successful Master of Public Policy and Management (MPPM) program. They will bring recognised expertise in public policy, public management, and public governance, producing high-quality research and publications, while also demonstrating potential for securing grant income. With a commitment to innovation in teaching, the appointee will deliver core and elective subjects in public policy at the graduate level, as well as contribute to curriculum development, supervise student research, and foster a culture of excellence within the School of Social and Political Sciences.

Beyond teaching and research, the role offers a unique chance to build national and international engagement, working with external partners, and playing a key role in enhancing the School's research culture.

As a Lecturer, you will join the School of Social and Political Sciences which is at the forefront of teaching and research in the social sciences in Australia and internationally. With a team of more than 120 dedicated academic and professional staff, The School's aim is to redefine the world and change what matters, and its work is underpinned by the values of intellectual freedom, integrity, social justice, diversity and environmental sustainability.

Your responsibilities will include:

Preparation and delivery of lectures, tutorials and seminars into the Master of Public Policy and Management as well as elsewhere in the Political Science Discipline, as deemed appropriate

Subject coordination and delivery; marking and assessment
Curriculum design and innovation, including cross-disciplinary approaches

Development of technology-based teaching, learning and assessment programs and resources

Teaching and learning innovation grants (with emphasis on national competitive and peer reviewed)

Initiation, development and review of subject material, particularly at the postgraduate level

Supervision of honours, graduate coursework and graduate research students

Publications, including (but not limited to) peer-reviewed journal articles, book chapters, books, creative outputs and commissioned reports

Application for external competitive research funding

Who We Are Looking For

We invite applications from candidates that demonstrate outstanding research record, a growing publication profile, and the ability to attract national or international research funding.

Applicants with research interests and capacity to teach in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: comparative public policy; comparative public administration/public management; policy elites and interest groups; digitalisation/digital policy; and, policy studies in Australia, Asia and the Pacific.

You will also have:

A completed PhD in public policy, public management, public administration, public governance, or a closely related discipline

Demonstrated specialisation in research which complements the existing public policy and governance profile of the University of Melbourne

An outstanding record in research with a developing publication profile in relevant high-quality journals and publishing houses commensurate with stage of career

Capacity to attract international and/or national competitive research funding (e.g. research grants and/or consultancies)

Demonstrated excellence in teaching Public Policy and related subjects at the tertiary level, including the capacity to initiate subject/course development and teach high enrolment postgraduate subjects

Ability to supervise honours and graduate degree theses, and to participate in supervisory panels at the graduate research level

Proven initiative in and commitment to identifying, collaborating and engaging with a wide range of external interests including public bodies, businesses, not-for-profits and communities on research and/or learning

For further information regarding responsibilities and requirements, please refer to the attached PD.

This role requires that the successful candidate must undergo and maintain an up-to-date Working with Children Check.

Please note: Visa sponsorship is available for this position.

If you feel this role is right for you, please apply with the following documents:

Resume

Cover Letter outlining your interest and experience

The responses against the Selection Criteria^ (found in the Position Description)

^For information to help you with compiling short statements to answer the selection criteria and competencies, please go to <http://about.unimelb.edu.au/careers/selection-criteria>

Please ensure that you apply through the Apply Now button at the bottom of this advertisement. However, if you have any questions regarding the recruitment process, please feel free to contact Ana Gencic via email at hr-careers@unimelb.edu.au

If you have any particular questions regarding the job please follow the details listed on the Position Description: <https://jobs.unimelb.edu.au/ci/en/job/918434/lecturer-in-public-policy>

Applications close: 3 NOVEMBER 2024 11:55 PM Australian Eastern Daylight Time (AEDT)

Start Date: Winter 2025

Application Deadline: 11/4/2024

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 15045

University of Michigan, Flint

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The University of Michigan-Flint invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in Political Science and Public Administration to start Fall 2025. Areas of specialization are open but there is preference for areas in public policy and/or non-profit administration. The candidate will be expected to teach one or more foundational courses in undergraduate and graduate public administration. A PhD in Political Science, Public Administration or Policy is required; ABDs whose degrees will be completed by September 2025 will be considered. The teaching load is three courses (9 credits) per semester (18 credits per academic year). UM-Flint stresses excellence in teaching as well as scholarship/research and engaging in service supporting the department, college, university and community. The successful candidate will be willing to teach across modes (in-person and online), and the position requires demonstrated excellence in teaching at the undergraduate and/or graduate levels. The University has been awarded the Carnegie Classification for Community Engagement and places high value on outreach. Candidates should submit evidence of promise as teacher/scholars and willingness to participate in civic engagement. Review of applications will start November 30, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit: a cover letter, transcripts, a statement of teaching, statement on research interests/agenda, C.V., teaching evaluation reports, three letters of reference, and writing samples (published journal articles, book chapters, pre-prints and unpublished manuscripts). Documents must be submitted electronically via Interfolio and addressed to: Dr. Kimberly Saks, Search Committee Co-Chair.

UM-Flint is located on a beautiful riverfront campus in downtown Flint. It is one of three campuses of the University of Michigan and has access to the library and other resources of the main campus in Ann Arbor. It has an enrollment of 6,529 graduate and undergraduate students. The MPA program is designed to suit the needs of working professionals. Classes are offered in the evenings with mixed modalities, including hyperflex and fully online. The City of Flint boasts an outstanding cultural center and affords rich opportunities for community-based scholarship and outreach related to its well-known economic/social struggles and efforts to support residents and revitalize the city.

Responsibilities*

- Teach 3 public administration courses per regular semester (primarily at the graduate level but may include undergraduate courses as well).
- Carry out a program of scholarly research and publication.
- Participate in civic engagement / community outreach as appropriate.
- Participate in faculty service/governance (e.g. attend meetings, serve on committees, etc.) as is expected for junior faculty in the College of Arts, Sciences and Education.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15041

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Tenured Professor/Associate Professor and Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Administration, Public Policy

The School of Arts and Sciences (SAS) of the University of Pennsylvania is searching for a senior scholar of India to be appointed July 1, 2025 with tenure in the department of Political Science or Sociology and take on the role of Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India (CASI) on July 1, 2026. Founded in 1992, CASI is the first research institution in the United States dedicated to the study of contemporary India. A national resource, it fills an urgent need for knowledge of India's politics, rapidly changing economy and population, and social transformation. The Center's key goals are to nurture new generations of scholars across disciplines and to provide a forum for dialogue among the academic, business, and foreign policy communities. Appointment as Director will be for a five-year renewable term. The CASI Director holds the Madan Lal Sobti Chair for the Study of Contemporary India. In addition, the candidate will teach in appropriate SAS undergraduate and graduate programs, though with a reduced teaching load while serving as CASI director.

The successful applicant will demonstrate intellectual merit that meets tenure standards at a major research university and includes a strong scholarly reputation in their home discipline and as a scholar of contemporary India. We seek scholars doing policy relevant research that concerns development issues, broadly defined to include political, cultural, societal, economic, or demographic perspectives. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to demonstrate engagement with networks of scholars and relevant practitioners in India and capacity to direct a pre-eminent center, such as skills in institutional entrepreneurship, constituency-building, staff development, governance, finances, fundraising, and overall management. These skills may have been acquired in either an academic or non-academic setting. The director must be able to foster work from multiple disciplines and across disciplinary lines.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by values of inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment where everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities.

Application Instructions

Please submit an application at apply.interfolio.com/156880. Include a letter of interest and a current curriculum vitae or résumé. Applications will be considered as they are received, and review will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15033

California State University-Sacramento*Rank: Hazel Cramer Endowed Professorship of Public Policy and Administration*Specializations: Latino Politics, Research Methods, Public Finance & Budgeting

COLLEGE: College of Social Sciences and Interdisciplinary Studies

DEPARTMENT: Public Policy and Administration (PPA)

POSITION TITLE: Hazel Cramer Endowed Professorship (Open Rank)

DEPARTMENT SUMMARY:

The Department of Public Policy and Administration (PPA) at California State University, Sacramento (Sacramento State) prepares diverse future leaders to address the complex issues facing California by developing leaders with robust analytical tools and a deep commitment to public service and inclusion.

Our core academic program is the Master of Public Policy and Administration (MPPA). The MPPA provides professional training for graduate students—many of whom work in state or local government. PPA faculty focus on developing engaging and inclusive curricula that include project-based work applicable to California's current policy and administrative issues. We teach our courses in the evenings to accommodate students who are full-time working professionals.

POSITION DETAILS:

We invite applications from high-qualified candidates for a tenured or tenure track (open rank) faculty member with a demonstrated expertise and interest in community-engaged master's level teaching in public policy with an academic year appointment beginning in August 2025.

This position offers an initial appointment as the prestigious Hazel Cramer Endowed Professorship for tenured or experienced pre-tenured faculty and provides a unique opportunity to conduct community-engaged research, teaching, and student service. The Hazel Cramer Endowed Professor will cultivate purposeful, long-term, and mutually beneficial partnerships across the region to confront systemic inequities, transform the lives of our students, and strengthen our communities. The endowed professorship comes with a reduced teaching assignment and resources to support documented summer efforts that correspond to and extend this focus.

The endowed professorship is a three-year renewable term based on the documented performance of the faculty member. If the endowed professorship is not renewed, the faculty will return to their base faculty pay and regular faculty duties per the faculty workload policy at the direction of the PPA Chairperson.?

The classification annual salary range for the base Academic Year position is as follows, dependent on rank:

Assistant Professor: $74,652 - $158,688

Associate Professor: $81,900 - $174,276

Full Professor: $103,116 - $182,532

Given that this is an endowed position, the work differs significantly from a traditional faculty member, and additional funds will be provided to ensure that the endowed professor can meet those expectations.

As a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) and awardee of the Seal of Excelencia certification, this position is part of Sac State's efforts to hire a cohort of faculty to support the university's commitment to Latinx/e student success during the 2024-25 tenure-track hiring cycle. We seek teachers/scholars with an established commitment to teaching, research, and/or service in and with the Latinx/e community. Successful candidates will have demonstrated two or more of the four Latinx/e Student Success Cohort Hire criteria stated below.

JOB DUTIES:

Teach core courses in public policy.

Teach in a manner that fosters inclusive and equitable student success, incorporates evidence-based pedagogy, and uses a community-engaged/service-learning approach.

Engage in scholarly and professional activities related to public policy with a community-engaged focus.

Provide service to the institution at the Department, College, and University levels.

Provide service to the community in the area of expertise in public policy.

Advise students in the PPA Department.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Earned doctoral degree in public policy or a closely related field (e.g., economics or political science).

Experience and success in teaching public policy.

Track record of publications (in peer-reviewed and/or professional outlets) in areas related to public policy.

A strong and demonstrated commitment to diversity, justice, equity, and inclusion, particularly in the classroom, scholarship, and community engagement.

An expressed commitment to teaching evening classes in a primarily in-person modality to a post-baccalaureate learning community of students that is significantly part-time and professionally focused.

Experience working with communities at the local or regional level and an expressed interest in further developing such work in the Sacramento Region.

Latinx/e Student Success Cohort Criteria (must demonstrate two or more of the following):

Excellence in teaching Latinx/e students.

Effective service (e.g., advising, mentoring) to Latinx/e students.

Research, scholarship, and/or creative artistic expression focused on the Latinx/e community.

Knowledge (professional background and/or training experiences) that advances our institutional commitment to Latinx/e student success.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

Teaching experience and success in (1) public budgeting/finance, (2) the politics of policymaking, and (3) qualitative and/or quantitative research methods as applied to public policy.

Experience with community-engaged teaching, scholarship, and service.

Experience with inclusive forms of student engagement and pedagogy in the classroom.

Experience in post-baccalaureate teaching.

Proficient in reading, writing, and conversational Spanish.

APPLICANT INSTRUCTIONS:

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2024, and the position will remain open until filled.

Required:

Curriculum Vitae.

Contact information: From three professional references only contacted at the finalist stage.

Transcripts: Unofficial and from the highest degree earned.

Cover Letter: Address your ability to meet the required and preferred qualifications, fulfill stated position responsibilities, and meet two or more of Latinx/e Student Success Cohort criteria. Expand upon this last ability in your Diversity Statement and provide additional documentation, as appropriate, in the documents asked for below. Specifically address your community engagement experience and plans for the Hazel Cramer Endowment.

Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness: Brief (maximum of 500 words) narrative about how your previous and planned teaching of public policy-related courses meets the required and preferred criteria above. Also provide recent course evaluations in their official form. Optional evidence may include peer evaluations of teaching and course syllabi. Combine all items into one PDF before uploading.

Diversity Statement (maximum 500 words): Brief narrative discussing how your professional skills, experiences, and plans for teaching, research, service can help advance Sacramento State's Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Goals. Expand on your ability to meet two or more of the Latinx/e Student Success Cohort criteria.

Evidence of Scholarly Qualifications: Provide three examples of publications that demonstrate the qualification standards listed above. Combine all items into one PDF before uploading.

We strongly encourage candidates from underrepresented and/or minoritized groups in the academic field of public policy to apply. We will consider all applicants who meet the required qualifications above.

About Sacramento State

Sacramento State is located in the heart of California's capital city, five miles from the State Capitol. The lush, 300-acre campus is situated along the American River, close to numerous bike trails and other recreational areas. Sacramento, also known as the "Farm-to-Fork Capital," is one of the most ethnically diverse and livable cities in the country, with a population of half of a million. Sacramento State is a Hispanic and AANAPISI serving institution with about 31,000 students coming not only from the Greater Sacramento Region, but also from across the state, country, and world. Our 1,800 faculty and 1,500 staff are committed to meeting our mission:

"As California's capital university, we transform lives by preparing students to lead, serve, and succeed. Sacramento State will be a welcoming, caring, and inclusive leader in education, innovation, and engagement." As the regional hub of higher education, Sacramento State is dedicated to learning and student success; teaching, research, scholarship and creative activity; justice, diversity, equity and inclusion; resource development and sustainability; dedicated community engagement, and wellness and safety.

As evidenced by the values embedded in our Hornet Honor Code, Sacramento State is committed to creating an inclusive environment where all faculty, staff, students, and guests are welcome and valued. Our commitment is more than simply ensuring that our campus is free from bias and discrimination, but is one devoted to celebrating many diverse identities, life experiences, and perspectives that enrich our community, teaching and learning.

To learn more about why you should join the Hornet Family, please visit the Why Sac State? Page.

Equal Employment Opportunity

California State University, Sacramento is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and has a strong institutional commitment to the principle of diversity in all areas. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, pregnancy, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, or disability. Sacramento State hires only those individuals who are lawfully authorized to accept employment in the United States.

It is the policy of California State University, Sacramento to provide reasonable accommodations for qualified persons with disabilities who are employees or applicants for employment. If you need a disability related reasonable accommodation as part of the application and/or interviewing process, visit <https://www.csus.edu/administration-business-affairs/human-resources/benefits/reasonable-accommodation.html>.

The University is committed to creating an education and working environment free from discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. For more information on mandatory training for new employees, visit <https://www.csus.edu/administration-business-affairs/human-resources/learning-development/csu-learn.html>.

Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act and Campus Fire Safety Right-To-know Act Notification:

Pursuant to the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, the current Annual Security Report (ASR) is available for viewing at <https://www.csus.edu/clery>.

The ASR contains the current security and safety-related policy statements, emergency preparedness and evacuation information, crime prevention and sexual assault prevention information, and drug and alcohol prevention programming. The ASR also contains statistics of Clery Act crimes for Sacramento State for the last three (3) calendar years. Paper copies are available upon request at the Police Service Center located in the University Union.

Background Check Disclaimer

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with California State University, Sacramento. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current California State University, Sacramento employees who apply for the position.

COVID19 Vaccination Policy

Effective May 2023, per the CSU COVID-19 Vaccination Policy, it is strongly recommended that all California State University, Sacramento employees who are accessing office and campus facilities follow COVID-19 vaccine recommendations adopted by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) applicable to their age, medical condition, and other relevant indications.

Out of State Employment

Per CSU-wide policy (HR2021-04), all faculty who will begin initial employment (or return from a 12-month break in service) on or after January 1, 2022, are required to perform their work from within the State of California. Faculty hired prior to January 1, 2022, must be available to perform work in the State of California if their assignment is in-person.

Eligibility Verification

Candidate will be required to provide official transcripts of their highest degree earned and must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S. California State University, Sacramento is a sponsoring agency (ie. H-1-B Visa).

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15025

Columbia University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scholar: The Columbia Center for Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Public Policy

About Columbia World Projects

Columbia World Projects mobilizes the university's researchers and scholars to work with governments, organizations, businesses and communities to tackle global challenges. Columbia World Projects is a major, university-wide initiative that aims to forge a closer and more useful connection between Columbia University's vast research capabilities and the needs of the world.

Columbia World Projects is part of Columbia Global, which brings together major global initiatives from across the university to advance knowledge and foster global engagement. In addition to World Projects, those initiatives include the Columbia Global Centers, the Committee on Global Thought, and the Institute for Ideas and Imagination.

Columbia Global's mission is to address complex global challenges through groundbreaking scholarly pursuits, leadership development, cutting-edge research, and projects that aim for social impact.

About the Columbia Center for Political Economy

Launched in 2022, the Center for Political Economy at Columbia World Projects identifies and advances the most promising contemporary developments within economics and promotes a new political economy with robust, intellectual and policy incubators across distinct thematic areas, or 'Idea Labs', outlined below.

Position Summary

The Columbia Center for Political Economy is seeking full-time Postdoctoral Research Scholars beginning July 1, 2025. Under the direction of the Center's faculty Co-directors and Idea Lab leads, the Scholar will have the opportunity to pursue their own research while supporting the work of the Center.

The Center invites applications on topics of relevance to the Center's broad priorities. This includes the foci of the Center's Idea Labs – Work and Labor, Firms and Industrial Policy, Money and Finance, and Political Economy of Climate. We encourage you to apply for the Idea Lab that best suits your background and research interests. Please see below for descriptions of each Lab.

Work and Labor examines the forces that influence labor and labor markets, focusing on modes of collective worker action, the interplay between government policies and worker power, how worker organizations intersect with the political process and government, and the future of domestic and international labor movements, with an emphasis on empirical research. This cycle the Work and Labor Idea Lab is especially interested in applicants whose work speaks to politics and policy, including, but not limited to, the politics of enacting labor reform at different levels of government; worker perspectives on representation through labor organizations and collective action; the design of labor policies and the effects of those policies on opportunities for building worker power and fostering collective action; coalition management between worker organizations and other movements and organized interests; and the relationship between worker organizations, including unions, and politics and government.

Firms and Industrial Policy aims to gain new insights into how firms behave, to provide a grounding for policy interventions to promote innovation and shared prosperity. Industrial policy – government interventions to stimulate innovation, accelerate technological change, and promote selected industries – is back on mainstream policy agendas in the U.S., Europe, and many developing countries. But even as the policy pendulum swings back toward government intervention, the knowledge base to guide industrial policy remains underdeveloped. Topics may focus on factors that shape firms' decisions technology adoption, product innovation, quality upgrading, R&D investments, patenting, and other forms of innovative behavior; on how such decisions are influenced by market conditions, network relationships, and supply chain architectures; on novel ways to measure such decisions and influences; and on what works and doesn't work in industrial policy.

Money and Finance explores the relation of money and finance both in theoretical terms and in institutional configurations, including the design of financial instruments as well as the policy instruments employed by central banks, but also the design of financial intermediaries and their relation to central banks and financial market regulators. The deeply imbricated institutional relation of money and finance has important implications for political economy. Topics may include the future of central banking, the rise of digital money systems, the role of money and finance in climate change as accelerator or mitigator, the impact of large asset managers on financial systems, as well as the search for alternative forms for financing R&D, land preservation, and social protection.

Political Economy of Climate explores how political and economic forces shape policy and societal responses to climate change. The Lab is most interested in fostering synergies around the following thematic areas: climate fairness and environmental justice, international collaboration or lack thereof, interests shaping the effectiveness of energy transition, and political constraints on environmental (especially climate) policies. The Lab is currently focused on the political economy of forests and how communities dependent on fossil fuel extraction adjust to shifts in demand.

Funding for the Postdoctoral Research Scholar will cover salary for up to one year with the possibility of a one-year extension. The scholar will commit to jointly organize seminars and conferences, public events, and additional programmatic support and outreach with the given Lab that they are involved with.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a PhD, JSD, or equivalent from across the social sciences, history, and law.

Salary Range

The salary range for this position is $71,050-$82,000

Application

Interested applicants should submit the following materials via Submittable:

- Cover Letter describing your interest and relevant experience;
- Curriculum Vitae;
- Documentation of PhD or JSD conferment, or timeline for obtaining degree;
- Writing sample consisting of a single journal article, essay, or book chapter (published or unpublished);
- A summary of the research plan for which the position is sought (limited to 350 words);
- A detailed research plan (up to five pages, single-spaced) for the position stating specific goals to be accomplished during the period it will be held; and
- Three letters of recommendation provided by references familiar with your work (including your doctoral supervisor, if applicable).

Please use this Submittable application link (<https://cwp.submittable.com/submit/303472/2025-26-center-for-political-economy-postdoctoral-research-scholar-opportunity>) to submit an application. Only complete applications submitted via the process outlined will be considered.

Key Deadlines:

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. All application materials must be received no later than December 2, 2024 at 5:00PM EST.

Decisions are expected to be made in February 2025, with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2025.

Please contact politicaleconomy@columbia.edu with any questions.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/2/2024

Date Posted: 10/8/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15021

California Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Instructor in the Linde Center for Science, Society, and Policy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: American Politics, Environmental Policy, Health Care

The Linde Center for Science, Society, and Policy (LCSSP) provides a forum for research and discussion around issues at the intersection of science, ethics, and public policy. Based in the Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences since its establishment in 2022, the center serves as a research hub that hosts working groups on topics where Caltech is uniquely positioned to contribute to debates. Professors Michael Alvarez (political and computational social science) and Frederick Eberhardt (philosophy) are the founding co-directors. Activities of the LCSSP focus on areas of scientific research with direct policy implications. As of 2024, these include, but are not limited to, artificial intelligence, biotechnology, and climate and sustainability.

We aim to recruit two energetic postdoctoral instructors who are excited to contribute to a center exploring the intersection of science and policy. The postdocs are expected to develop and teach one to two undergraduate courses per year on topics relevant to the LCSSP. In collaboration with the co-directors, the postdocs will have the opportunity to shape the research focus and profile of the center, to develop and advance new research projects, and to take part in organizing and hosting high-profile keynote speakers and discussion panels. Successful candidates are expected to take the initiative to explore new territory and to engage broadly with other stakeholders at Caltech and beyond.

The duration of the appointment is up to two years: an initial one-year appointment with the potential for a one-year renewal contingent upon satisfactory performance. Applicants should hold or be completing a PhD in a relevant field where they have developed extensive experience with issues that arise at the intersection of science and society.

Requirements: The positions are contingent upon completion of the PhD. Interested candidates are asked to submit a CV, a 2 to 3-page Research Statement, and three names of reference letter writers (as well as two letters) to lcssp@hss.caltech.edu. The Research Statement (or a separate document) should contain a section that addresses the applicant's thoughts on classroom instruction, mentorship of students, and ways to foster an inclusive, equitable environment for those who come to Caltech with many different backgrounds and experiences. A cover letter (maximum 1 page) is optional.

Applications will be reviewed starting on December 1, 2024 and will remain open until positions are filled.

As one of the largest employers in Pasadena, CA, Caltech is committed to providing comprehensive benefits to eligible employees and their eligible dependents. Our benefits package includes competitive compensation, health, dental, and vision insurance, retirement savings plans, generous paid time off, parental leave, tuition reimbursement, and more. Learn more about our benefits and who is eligible: <https://hr.caltech.edu/departments/total-rewards/benefits>.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15020

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Computational Science

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applicants for an Assistant or Associate Professor in Computational Science.

Candidates are expected have the following:

strong interests in public policy, ideally indicating interests or participation in public policy administration, design, implementation, evaluation, and/or how governments use computational social science methods in public policy;

expertise in computational social science methods such as machine learning, text as data, spatial data, computation using large-scale data, network analysis, data visualization;

have completed a Ph.D. in economics, public policy, political science, sociology, statistics, information science, computer science or a related field by August 1, 2025.

The person hired in this search will be expected to do research at the intersection of data science and public policy and teach courses in Python and/or R for McCourt's Data Science for Public Policy (DSPP) program. The DSPP program is a two-year MS degree program that trains students to use modern computing power to understand important issues in public policy. DSPP courses include topics such as programming, machine learning, probability and statistics, data visualization, databases, and data infrastructure.

The projected base salary range is Assistant: $103,800-$182,000, Associate: $118,700 – $210,000. Compensation is determined by a number of factors including, but not limited to, the candidate's individual qualifications, experience, education, skills, and certifications, as well as the University's business needs and external factors.

To apply, applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, teaching statement, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation by 11:59pm EST on Friday November 1, 2024.

Apply:<https://apply.interfolio.com/156634>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 15016

The Ohio State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Public Policy

Assistant Professor, Public Policy
John Glenn College of Public Affairs
The Ohio State University
Columbus, OH

Department:

John Glenn | Office of the Dean

Position Overview

The John Glenn College of Public Affairs at The Ohio State University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning Autumn 2025. Research and teaching interests should focus on public policy, broadly construed to include policy analysis, policy or program evaluation, and policymaking or implementation processes. Applicants' research may focus on any policy area and employ any methodological approach (qualitative or quantitative). We welcome applicants with training in related social science disciplines, including (but not limited to) economics, political science, public administration, public policy, psychology, and sociology.

The Glenn College is looking for applicants with the potential to become productive and impactful researchers, effective teachers, and conscientious and engaged community members. Salary and benefits are competitive. We welcome applications from qualified candidates who require work authorization.

Performance Objectives

- Publish high-quality scholarship in high-impact policy and disciplinary journals.
- Effectively teach core and elective courses in the Glenn College's undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral degree programs.
- Engage in service to the college, university, community, and professional associations of policy and disciplinary scholars.

Additional Information:

Education and Experience Requirements
Required

Qualified applicants must:

- Conduct research in any subfield of public policy.
- Have, or be on track to complete before starting the position, a Ph.D. in a social science discipline, including (but not limited to) economics, political science, public administration, public policy, psychology, and sociology.

Desired

Relevant prior professional experience.

How to Apply

To be considered, please submit your application via Workday <https://osujoblinks.com/i4ox>

Once you start the application you will need to fill it out to completion and upload all required materials. Please be aware that you will not be able to edit your application or materials after submission.

Application materials must include the following:

- Cover letter describing how the candidate meets the qualifications for the position.
- Curriculum vita (CV)
- Statement of research

- Statement of teaching
- Three letters of reference (which need not be tailored for this position)
- Writing sample (recent article, working paper, or dissertation chapter)

Please note that applicants will not be prompted to provide recommender contact information until after they submit required materials through Workday and our HR team conducts an initial screening process.

The application deadline is November 1, 2024. We will review all applications submitted by the deadline. Please email the chair of the Faculty Search Committee, Professor Stéphane Lavertu at lavertu.1@osu.edu if you have questions about the position.

The College

The John Glenn College of Public Affairs is ranked 16th in the nation and #1 in Ohio among 271 Public Affairs schools by U.S. News and World Report. This marks the college's 10th year within the top 10% of public affairs graduate professional programs in the country. The college is also ranked among our peers in the following specialty areas: public management and leadership (7), nonprofit management (9), local government (18), social policy (19), public policy analysis (20), urban policy (22), and public finance and budgeting (25). Additionally, The Ohio State University ranked No. 5 internationally and No. 1 in the U.S. in public administration according to ShanghaiRanking Consultancy's 2023 Global Ranking of Academic Subjects.

The University

Ohio State is a top-20 public university, and its Ohio State Wexner Medical Center is one of America's leading academic health centers and recently ranked No. 4 on Forbes' list of best U.S. employers for diversity. Eligible Ohio State employees receive comprehensive benefits packages, including medical, dental and vision insurance, tuition assistance for employees and their dependents, and state or alternative retirement options with competitive employer contributions.

The Ohio State University's Shared Values include Excellence and Impact, Diversity and Innovation, Inclusion and Equity, Care and Compassion, and Integrity and Respect. Our university community welcomes differences, encourages open-minded exploration and courageous thinking, and upholds freedom of expression.

Ohio State is a dynamic community where opportunity thrives, and individuals transform themselves and their world. Positions are available in countless fields and specialties. Become a Buckeye and contribute to an incredible legacy that serves to guide our future and shape a better tomorrow.

The Ohio State University is committed to enhancing academic excellence. Recruiting, supporting, and retaining faculty of the highest caliber is a core component of this commitment. The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) has established Dual Careers and Faculty Relocation (DCFR) to focus on supporting new and prospective faculty and their loved ones. Service offerings include dual careers partner consultations, identifying potential employers and/or employment opportunities, consultation and resources related to relocation, as well as identifying opportunities to engage on campus and in the surrounding community. While employment opportunities are not guaranteed, resources and consultation are provided to support the partners of new and prospective faculty as they are considering or transitioning to The Ohio State University.

In addition to being responsive to dual-career opportunities, we strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. Ohio State is an NSF ADVANCE institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

Located in Ohio's capital city, Ohio State's Columbus campus is near the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation, and technology industries. Additional information about the Columbus area is available here. Beyond its Columbus campus, Ohio State has four regional campuses including Ohio State Lima, Ohio State Mansfield, Ohio State Marion, and Ohio State Newark, in addition to the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences (CFAES) Wooster Campus, which houses Ohio State ATI.

Equal Opportunity Employer/Veterans/Disability

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 10/4/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 15003

America in the World Consortium

Rank: America in the World Consortium Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Defense, Foreign Policy

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins SAIS, the University of Texas at Austin, and the University of Florida seeks applications from recent Ph.D. recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines. AWC seeks Postdoctoral Fellows for in-residence positions beginning in August 2025. Applicants will be considered for up to eight (8) fellowship positions for up to two (2) years in residence at one of the four partner institutions:

- Duke University, Program in American Grand Strategy (AGS)
- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS
- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security
- University of Florida, Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in history, political science, public policy, classics, and political philosophy whose research has a strong connection to policy. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. Additional responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the AWC directors. For example, in some cases, Fellows will have the opportunity to teach an undergraduate course.

Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend of $72,000, access to benefits and full use of campus facilities, in addition to other university-specific benefits. The fellowship position will provide funding for a minimum of 12 months and up to 24 months. Fellows will also be given a research fund of $7,500 to cover legitimate research-related expenses, as needed.

Applicants are required to have received a Ph.D. by August 1, 2025, in a relevant field, such as history, political science, public policy, classics, or political philosophy. Applicants who have received a Ph.D. in language studies, area studies, or other related fields may be considered if their research explicitly engages U.S. foreign policy.

Please direct any questions to Emma Rogers, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at emma.rogers@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/2/2024
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 14993

America in the World Consortium

Rank: America in the World Consortium Predoctoral Fellowship
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: American Politics, Defense, Foreign Policy

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins SAIS, the University of Texas at Austin, and the University of Florida seeks applications from current Ph.D. students for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines. AWC offers predoctoral fellowships to advanced Ph.D. students to live and work at one of the four partner institutions for one year:

- Duke University, Program in American Grand Strategy (AGS)
- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS
- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security
- University of Florida, Hamilton Center for Classical and Civic Education

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants pursuing a doctorate in history, political science, public policy, classics, and political philosophy whose research has a strong connection to policy.

Fellows will spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. The fellowship offers a competitive stipend, access to campus facilities, and a wide range of resources on-campus.

Applicants are required to be currently enrolled in a Ph.D. program and to have passed their comprehensives/preliminary/qualifying exams and advanced to doctoral candidacy at the time of application.

Please direct any questions to Emma Rogers, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at emma.rogers@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 10/2/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14992

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment in Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics
Specializations: East Asia, Japan, International Security

Stanford University seeks candidates for a new faculty position in the politics and foreign policy of Japan. The successful candidate will have expertise in politics, policy studies, diplomacy, security studies, international relations, or global affairs relating to Japan and the Indo-Pacific region, and will be expected to advance research and education on Japanese politics and foreign policy, in the Japan Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC). This is an open-rank search.

The new faculty member will be appointed as a Senior Fellow or Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI) affiliated with APARC. Senior Fellows at Stanford University are full members of the Professoriate and Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenured associate or full professor. Center Fellows at Stanford University are also members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenure-track assistant professor. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Senior applicants should possess an exceptional record of research and publication, outstanding experience in developing, advising, or implementing policy, and a demonstrated commitment to mentoring and teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Junior applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at the graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Junior candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review (senior candidates may mark these field as "N/A").

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Senior Fellow: $191,000 - $250,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at : <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494789/faculty-appointment-in-japanese-politics-and-foreign-policy>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14996

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment in Korean Studies

Stanford University seeks candidates for a faculty position in Korean Studies. The successful candidate will be expected to advance research and education on Korea, in the Korea Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC)

The new faculty member will be appointed as Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI), affiliated with APARC. Center Fellows at Stanford University are the equivalent rank of tenure-track assistant professor. They are members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, eligible to serve as principal investigators, and accrue sabbatical. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at the graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review.

The Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals. Additional information about Stanford's IDEAL initiative may be found here: <https://ideal.stanford.edu/>.

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at: <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494768/faculty-appointment-in-korean-studies>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14995

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment in Taiwan Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Stanford University seeks candidates for a new faculty position in Taiwan Studies. The successful candidate will have expertise in policy studies, social sciences, international relations, or global affairs relating to Taiwan, and will be expected to contribute to the newly established Taiwan Program of the Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC). This is an open-rank search.

The new faculty member will be appointed as a Senior Fellow or Center Fellow in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies (FSI) affiliated with APARC. Senior Fellows at Stanford University are full members of the Professoriate and Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenured associate or full professor. Center Fellows at Stanford University are also members of the Professoriate and the Academic Council, with a rank equivalent to tenure-track assistant professor. Center Fellows are appointed for a fixed term of years with the possibility of promotion to Senior Fellow.

Senior applicants should possess an exceptional record of research and publication, outstanding experience in developing, advising, or implementing policy, and a demonstrated commitment to mentoring and teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Junior applicants must have a Ph.D. degree (or equivalent) at the time of the appointment and will be expected to teach and advise students at a graduate level.

Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae with complete bibliography; 2) a research statement (up to 2 pages); 3) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); 4) up to three examples of scholarly publications; and 5) a cover letter. Junior candidates should also provide the names of three references, who may be contacted for this review (senior candidates may mark these fields as “N/A”).

The Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and Stanford University value faculty who will help foster an inclusive academic environment for colleagues, students, and staff with a wide range of backgrounds, identities, and outlooks. Candidates may choose to include as part of their research and teaching statements a brief discussion about how their work and experience will further these ideals. Additional information about Stanford's IDEAL initiative may be found here: <https://ideal.stanford.edu/>.

The deadline for submission is November 30, 2024. Questions regarding this application may be directed to Patrick Laboon.

The expected base pay range for this position is:

Center Fellow: $150,000 - $190,000

Senior Fellow: $191,000 - $250,000

Stanford University has provided a pay range representing its good faith estimate of what the university reasonably expects to pay for the position. The pay offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors including (but not limited to) the experience and qualifications of the selected candidate including years since terminal degree, training, and field or discipline; departmental budget availability; internal equity; and external market pay for comparable jobs.

Apply at: <https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/494788/faculty-appointment-in-taiwan-studies>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 10/2/2024

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 14994

U.S. Air Force Academy

Rank: Assistant Professor and Analyst

Conducting labor economic analysis to inform Air Force and Space Force personnel policy; maintaining a record or research consistent with academic rank; teaching undergraduate courses consistent with area of academic expertise; advising and mentoring cadets; serving on departmental and Academy committees.

Applicants will be assessed based on education, quality of scholarship, relevance of education and experience to labor economic analysis and human resource management, service to applicants' discipline and institution, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should submit the following items: curriculum vitae, a written research sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should additionally provide the names and contact information for three professional references. A

Ph.D. in Economics, Public Policy, Business, or related field, or letter of completion by the start date and U.S. citizenship is required. Essential qualities expected of every faculty member include the personal attributes of integrity, industry, cooperation, initiative, and breadth of intellectual interests.

Must apply at <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/810548200> no later than 08NOV2024.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/8/2024

Date Posted: 10/1/2024

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 14933

Marquette University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy and Quantitative Methodology (Tenure track)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Policy and Quantitative Methodology at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2025. Candidates will hold the Ph.D. degree or be near completion, and they will have a demonstrated potential for excellence in research and excellent teaching skills. We seek candidates who have extensive training in the study of public policy and major quantitative methods used in contemporary political science. Expertise in a substantive policy area within American politics is preferred.

The successful candidate will conduct research and publish scholarship. Research outcomes will be disseminated through publications in leading peer-reviewed outlets and presentations at professional meetings. The successful candidate's primary teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate courses on public policy and quantitative analysis of political data. Teaching load will be commensurate with junior faculty in the Department of Political Science. The successful candidate will also serve on one of the two main departmental committees and engage in other departmental, university, and professional service as appropriate. The successful candidate will have opportunities to work collaboratively across departments within the College of Arts and Sciences and with other related programs at the university, including the interdisciplinary data science and analytics programs at Marquette.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette University's electronic recruiting system: <https://employment.marquette.edu/postings/22031>.

Your application should include: 1) a letter of application, 2) a current Curriculum Vitae, 3) a statement on research, 4) a statement on teaching philosophy, 5) a writing sample, 6) unofficial graduate level transcripts and 7) names and email addresses of 3 references.

After submitting your application, contact the three references and have them send letters of recommendation to:

Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Marquette University
PO Box 1881
Milwaukee, WI 53201-1881

Recommenders may also send letters electronically to the Political Science Department Administrative Assistant Ms. Sahvana Williams at sahvana.williams@marquette.edu.

Recommendation letters may also be sent electronically or by mail via Interfolio.

This position is open until filled, but applications will be reviewed starting on November 15, 2024.

Marquette is a Jesuit, Catholic university and seeks candidates who will contribute to its mission, a statement of which can be found at <https://www.marquette.edu/about/mission.php>. Candidates who demonstrate success with marginalized and underrepresented students and lived experiences; have a strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion; and are able to contribute to curriculum development and diversity and inclusiveness initiatives are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14971

University of Florida

Rank: Manning Dauer Eminent Scholar Chair

Specializations: American Politics, Political Parties & Organizations, Political Behavior

The Department seeks to hire faculty broadly engaged in scholarly research that adds to our tradition of intellectual diversity and our strengths in political behavior, political institutions, and public policy. The successful applicant is expected to envision innovative uses of the considerable resources of the Dauer Chair in pursuit of an active research program, while simultaneously building the Department's graduate program and national reputation as a leader in American Politics. The successful candidate should have a rigorous track record of original scholarship, mentoring graduate students, and success in grants and/or other external funding supporting an active research agenda.

The Manning Dauer Eminent Scholar Chair is made possible by the generous bequest of the late Manning Dauer, founding chair of the Department and President of the Southern Political Science Association. The Chair is expected to actively mentor graduate students toward successful careers in American Politics, engage colleagues conducting research in American politics, and be an active colleague in the Department, the College, the University, and the discipline.

The Manning Dauer Eminent Scholar Chair will teach one American Politics course each fall and spring semester, with at least one course each year at the graduate level.

UF is the state's oldest, largest, and most comprehensive land grant university with an enrollment of over 50,000 students and was ranked 6th in the country among public universities (US News and World Report 2023 rankings), and 1st among public institutions in the Wall Street Journal 2023 survey. UF is located in Gainesville, a city of approximately 150,000 residents in North-Central Florida, 50 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and 67 miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and within a 2-hour drive to large metropolitan areas (Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville). The beautiful climate and extensive nearby parks and recreational areas afford year-round outdoor activities, including hiking, biking, and nature photography. UF's large college sports programs, museums, and performing arts center support a range of activities and cultural events for residents to enjoy. Alachua County schools are highly rated and offer a variety of programs including magnet schools and an international baccalaureate program. Learn more about what Gainesville has to offer at Visit Gainesville.

<https://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/en-us/job/533297/manning-j-dauer-eminent-scholar-chair>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14968

University of Saskatchewan

Rank: Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Public Policy in a Polarized Era

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Political Theory
Specializations: International Political Economy, Public Opinion, Political Development

The Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy (JSGS) at the University of Saskatchewan (USask) is recruiting for a Tier 1 Canada Research Chair (CRC) in Public Policy in a Polarized Era. The Canada Research Chairs Program is the flagship of a national strategy to make Canada a world-leading country in research and development and is committed to addressing Research Chair equity gaps.

Canada's policy context is highly complex, and our understanding of governance needs to be adapted to the realities of dissolving social cohesion, increasing populism, the ongoing processes of reconciliation, and growing distrust of both science and government. The Tier 1 CRC in Public Policy in a Polarized Era will lead cutting-edge research into the governance tools necessary to advance evidence-informed policy in an era of political polarization.

This CRC is both timely and necessary. Both misinformation (false or misleading information) and disinformation (misinformation spread with a deliberate intent to deceive) are on the rise. These dynamics feed political polarization and create a powerful negative feedback loop that makes evidence-informed policy difficult.

Polarization is a broad international social phenomenon that is limiting the potential for science-based advancement to translate into public policy. The context for evidence-informed policy in Canada and other advanced democracies has never been more challenging or complex. If we are to achieve the potential for scientific and technological advancement to address the world's most challenging problems, there is a need for change.

The CRC will help advance both policy frameworks and policy training. In turn, by improving the context for evidence-informed policy-making, the CRC will:

? Improve the quality of life in Canada;

? Train graduate students and postdoctoral fellows to become policy leaders equipped to advance evidence-informed policy through innovative public engagement research and practices suitable for a polarized political environment;

? Create new graduate course offerings on policy and polarization available to students in a wide range of disciplines;

? Partner with USask researchers in areas highly affected by polarization;

? Establish international interdisciplinary networks of scholars focused on the issue of evidence-informed policy within a context of polarization; and

? Increase evidence-informed policy tools through JSGS's strong government connections for use by policymakers

Start Date: Summer 2026

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14943

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Research Methods, Economic Policy

The Penn Development Research Initiative and DevLab@Penn (PDRI-DevLab) seek to appoint TWO full time PhD-level Research Associates to support PDRI-DevLab's expanding research portfolio. Candidates will be expected to engage in both independent and collaborative high-quality research, assist in grant proposals, write for both academic and policy audiences, and teach one course annually. Research interests in governance, conflict, migration and forced displacement, climate change and/or computational social science are a plus. Applicants with a strong quantitative background are especially encouraged to apply.

One Research Associate will work on projects across the range of substantive areas described above; many of these involve impact evaluations of international development policies. The other Research Associate will work on a suite of projects cognate to the Machine Learning for Peace project that will involve detecting regime narratives and environmental events in text; the successful candidate for this position would have familiarity with R, Python, and Large Language Models.

These are excellent opportunities to engage with high-level, policy-facing research in a dynamic environment. These are not postdoctoral fellowships. Successful candidates, subject to performance, may be considered for future appointment as Research Assistant Professor. The appointments could begin as early as January, 2025. A PhD or equivalent degree in a relevant social science discipline is expected at the start of the appointment.

Launched in 2020, PDRI-DevLab brings together Penn researchers and students who seek to identify solutions to core challenges facing low- and middle-income countries. PDRI-DevLab fosters impactful, rigorous international development research by harnessing the expertise of its interdisciplinary, vertically integrated team of faculty, postdocs, graduate students, predocs, and undergraduate fellows. Deploying diverse, cutting-edge methodological approaches, PDRI-DevLab catalyzes extramurally funded research projects that include collaborations with development agencies, international NGOs, local NGOs, and government agencies. PDRI-DevLab also serves as an intellectual hub for Penn scholars researching developing countries.

PDRI-DevLab is housed within Penn's School of Arts & Sciences, which comprises 28 academic departments, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Graduate Division, and the College of Liberal and Professional Studies. Interdisciplinary research and collaboration are supported by the breadth and depth of academic pursuits at Penn as well as the proximity of resources on our contiguous green urban campus in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. We promote and encourage curiosity, intellectual engagement, and discovery among all our students and faculty. University, School, and departmental resources that support full time researchers include but are not limited to: the Offices of the Vice Provost for Faculty and Vice Provost for Research, PennGlobal and Perry World House, Wellness at Penn, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Penn Center for Undergraduate Research and Fellowships, and Penn Human Resources.

We seek candidates who share our strong commitment to research, teaching, and mentoring, and to a scholarly community shaped by a commitment to inclusive excellence. The School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Pennsylvania is committed to cultivating and sustaining a community of students, scholars, researchers, and staff that reflects the diversity of our world. We nurture working and learning environments that are affirming, equitable, and inclusive. As a community, we are committed to thoughtful discussions and dynamic interactions as we strive for an environment in which everyone is supported and valued. Please see our School's Inclusion and Antiracism Initiatives to learn more about our active priorities: <https://www.sas.upenn.edu/2020-inclusion-and-anti-racism-initiatives>

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science, public policy, economics or a related field, and be expected to demonstrate potential for high-quality research. The successful candidate will be highly proficient with quantitative research methods, and be expected to support the initiative's external funding efforts as well as policy engagement efforts. The hired candidates will teach one course per year at the undergraduate or graduate level for the Political Science department's International Development minor and/or the Fels Institute of Government. They will also provide research advice to graduate students, predoctoral fellows, and undergraduate students who are also engaged in PDRI-DevLab's research projects.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a research statement, a writing sample, and two letters of recommendation to: apply.interfolio.com/154783

Review of applications will begin on November 14st, 2024, and continue until the position has been filled.

Start Date: Spring 2024

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14935

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor of Global Health Policy

Position Description

The Public Policy and Political Economy Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a tenure-track faculty position in Global Health Policy at the assistant professor rank. We welcome applicants from a broad range of interests in global health, international health policy, health informatics and related fields. The selected candidate will have a PhD in a public policy or public health-related field and have a research agenda focusing on various outstanding global health issues such as health policy analysis and evaluation, AI/big data and digital health, health care disparity and accessibility, environmental health and disaster prevention, global health politics and health systems, and community and population health across global, national, and subnational/local scales. The selected candidate will also possess very strong collaborative and organizational skills based on experiences working with diverse international communities through partnerships on health issues.

The new hire will be responsible for teaching and developing graduate and undergraduate courses focused on global health policy and related topics. Advising undergraduate and graduate students, service on various school and university committees, professional and community activities are also expected. Research activities should produce peer-reviewed publications and extramural funding. Working in close collaboration with the local research community is highly encouraged.

The appointment commences for the fall 2025 semester.

Qualifications

Minimum Education and Experience: A PhD or equivalent in Global Health, Public Health, Public Policy or a related discipline is required prior to employment. Candidates are expected to demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a highly collaborative, engaging, and dynamic environment comprised of individuals with a range of backgrounds, skills, and perspectives. We are seeking candidates able to produce research and scholarly or creative achievements that enhance the program and the discipline, and able to deliver high quality teaching using evidence-based practices to effectively engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.

Preferred Education and Experience: A demonstrated ability to secure external funding for research activities is also preferred.

The Program and School

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at UT Dallas is a national leader in research addressing critical social, political and economic issues. Our graduates work in government, nonprofits and the private sector, with many pursuing advanced degrees that prepare them for leadership roles in advancing positive change at the local, national and global levels.

Our highly ranked program offers BA, MS, and PhD degrees with 300 undergraduate students and 46 graduate students currently enrolled.

Application Instructions

Apply online at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/27544>

Applicants should upload the following:

- Full curriculum vitae and cover letter summarizing their interests and qualifications for the position.
- Statement of teaching philosophy describing their conceptualizations of teaching and learning, and teaching and assessment methods, and how their teaching practices will engage students from a range of backgrounds and experiences.
- Teaching Evaluations, if available
- Research statement describing past, present, and future research, including how they mentor (or will mentor) student researchers and foster (or will foster) collaborative research environments.

- Full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Reviews will commence as completed applications are received and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed on March 1, 2024. Priority will be given to completed applications received by October 15, 2024.

The University and Community

UT Dallas is a top public research university located in one of the nation's fastest-growing metropolitan regions. Our seven schools offer more than 140 undergraduate and graduate programs, plus professional certificates and fast-track programs. Our student body is 30,000 strong, reflecting students from over 100 countries and a multiplicity of identities and experiences. Over 65% of our undergraduate students receive some form of need- or merit-based financial aid; and 66% of graduating seniors have no student debt compared to 48% in Texas and 32% in the nation (2021 TICAS report).

UT Dallas is committed to graduating well-rounded members of the global community whose education has prepared them for rewarding lives and productive careers in a constantly changing world. A diversity of people, ideas, and perspectives is crucial to our vision and mission. UT Dallas is a place where members of the community from all backgrounds are welcomed, treated fairly, and encouraged in their pursuit of excellence.

The University has a variety of programs and initiatives to support engagement and success for all members of the campus community. Employee benefits include a range of physical and mental wellness resources. "LilyPad" lactation facilities are located throughout the campus. There are several Employee Resource Groups (ERGs) comprised of individuals who share common interests to help build community among UT Dallas faculty and staff (e.g., Universal Access ERG, Military and Veteran ERG, UT Dallas Young Professionals).

Rich with visual and performing arts venues, museum districts, professional and semi-professional athletics teams, botanical gardens, accessible trails and so much more, the Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW) metroplex has something for everyone to explore. UT Dallas partners with regional higher education institutions and school districts and with the Richardson Innovation Quarter (Richardson IQ), a major hub for innovation, entrepreneurship, and educational activities.

Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an equal opportunity/affirmative action university.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14904

Boston College Law School

Rank: Policy Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Other

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Legislative Studies, United States

Job Description

The mission of the Initiative on Land, Housing & Property Rights (the Initiative) is to address real property issues that impact poor and disadvantaged communities. Many of the activities the Initiative undertakes assist disadvantaged communities that have been harmed as a result of lacking adequate land, housing, and other property rights. The Initiative's core activities include training law students and other students to develop legal and other technical expertise that can be used by these students when they are in school and after they graduate to help disadvantaged people and communities address their land and housing issues; catalyzing both theoretical and applied, policy-relevant research on various land and housing issues that have been understudied and undertheorized; proactively working to develop impactful legal reform and policy solutions to address property problems disadvantaged communities experience; and sponsoring both continuing legal education programs for lawyers and community legal education and other outreach programs for disadvantaged communities. The Initiative hopes to collaborate with other stakeholders in a true spirit of partnership to more effectively address land and housing issues that disadvantaged communities experience, specifically communities that are disproportionately though not exclusively communities of color.

Position Summary

The ILHPR seeks an ambitious, entrepreneurial, and thoughtful Policy Director to help build up the Initiative's Legal Reform and Policy Laboratory so that it can substantially increase the Initiative's ability to develop legal reform and policy proposals to address critical land and housing issues at the local, state, and federal level and, in addition, to assist other stakeholders doing such work. A model of the type of legal reform and policy proposals the Initiative would like to help develop is the Uniform Partition of Heirs Property Act (UPHPA), a groundbreaking model state property statute, which was principally drafted by Professor Thomas W. Mitchell, the Initiative's founder and Director and a MacArthur Fellow. Thus far, the UPHPA has been enacted into law in 24 states/jurisdictions that are located in every region of the country, and it has helped thousands of disadvantaged families across the country maintain ownership of their family-owned properties and their generational wealth. Initiative staff have advised stakeholders in several states who have been interested in having their states enact the UPHPA into law. In addition, Initiative staff have helped a select number of other stakeholders at the state and federal level develop legal reform and policy proposals addressing critical land and housing issues. The Initiative is committed to playing leading and supporting roles in developing additional bold yet pragmatic legal reform and policy proposals to address a range of land, housing, and other real property issues disadvantaged communities face.

The Policy Director will manage and support members of the policy team, including the Post-Graduate Policy Fellow and the Ph.D. Fellow for Policy and will work with members of the Policy Team to ensure the quality of policy projects at each stage of every project.

The Policy Director will serve as a member of the ILHPR's leadership team, which includes the Initiative's Director, the Faculty Director of Housing and Property Rights Programs, the Senior Associate Director of Operations, the Research Director, and the Assistant Director of Special Projects. The Policy Director will consult with other members of the leadership team, the Post-Graduate Policy Fellow, and certain external stakeholders to develop the Initiative's policy agenda. To make the policy work sustainable, the Policy Director will help identify funding opportunities for policy projects and will then assist in developing funding proposals and in other development efforts with other Initiative staff and/or external stakeholders.

The Policy Director also will serve as the Initiative's representative for policy-related media relations and for other stakeholders interested in various aspects of the Initiative's policy program. The Initiative seeks candidates whose experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion, both in our internal management practices as well as in shaping our Initiative's policy agenda.

This is a hybrid position. There will be some travel, primarily in New England and the Mid-Atlantic region, though there also will be some travel required to other parts of the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2024

Date Posted: 9/19/2024

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 14880

Boston College Law School

Rank: Research Director

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Other

Specializations: Legislative Studies, Race & Ethnic Politics, United States

The mission of the Initiative on Land, Housing & Property Rights (the Initiative) is to address real property issues that impact poor and disadvantaged communities. Many of the activities the Initiative undertakes assist disadvantaged communities that have been harmed as a result of lacking adequate land, housing, and other property rights. The Initiative's core activities include training law students and other students to develop legal and other technical expertise that can be used by these students when they are in school and after they graduate to help disadvantaged people and communities address their land and housing issues; catalyzing both theoretical and applied, policy-relevant research on various land and housing issues that have been understudied and undertheorized; proactively working to develop impactful legal reform and policy solutions to address property problems disadvantaged communities experience; and sponsoring both continuing legal education programs for lawyers and community legal education and other outreach programs for disadvantaged communities. The Initiative hopes to collaborate with other stakeholders in a true spirit of partnership to more effectively address land and housing issues that disadvantaged communities experience, specifically communities that are disproportionately though not exclusively communities of color.

Position Summary

The ILHPR seeks an ambitious, entrepreneurial, and thoughtful Research Director to help build up the Initiative's research program so that it can produce timely, high quality, and policy-relevant research, which will inform a variety of stakeholders, including academics, other researchers, and policymakers. The research will be generated using a variety of methodologies, including quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods, and doctrinal, a research method many legal academic researchers use. The Research Director will manage and support members of the research team, including the Post-Graduate Research Fellow and the Ph.D. Fellow for Research and will work with members of the research team to ensure the quality of research projects at each stage of every research project.

The Research Director will serve as a member of the ILHPR's leadership team, which includes the Initiative's Director, the Faculty Director of Housing and Property Rights Programs, the Senior Associate Director of Operations, the Policy Director, and the Assistant Director of Special Projects. The Research Director will consult with other members of the leadership team, the Post-Graduate Research Fellow, and certain external stakeholders to develop the Initiative's research agenda, including the following: identifying new research opportunities; developing robust research designs that in the aggregate employ a variety of methodologies; ensuring there is a robust set of annual convenings, including an annual national conference, seminars, workshops, and panel discussions; and overseeing the publication and dissemination of research reports. To make the research work sustainable, the Research Director will help identify funding opportunities for research projects, sometimes working individually and sometimes in collaboration with other Initiative staff members, and will then assist in developing funding proposals and in other development efforts. The Research Director also will work with the leadership team and the Post-Graduate Research Fellow in an effort to establish new research collaborations and will serve as the Initiative's point person in leading and managing any external research partnerships that are established.

The Research Director also will serve as the Initiative's representative for research-related media relations and for other stakeholders interested in various aspects of the Initiative's research program. The Initiative seeks candidates whose experience has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion, both in our internal management practices as well as in shaping our Initiative's research agenda.

This is a hybrid position. There will be some travel, primarily in New England and the Mid-Atlantic region, though there also will be some travel required to other parts of the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2024
Date Posted: 9/19/2024
Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 14881

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Joint SAIS Europe - SNF Agora Faculty Position at SAIS Europe

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Position Description:

SAIS Europe of the School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF) Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University seek faculty (or nominations of faculty) for endowed professorships at the level of Associate or Full Professors who focus on the study of democracy under stress, particularly as related to questions of civic engagement and inclusive discourse. We define these terms broadly and seek scholars from a range of disciplines, including but not limited to scholars who study the dynamics of states; state contexts; political, civic, social, and economic organizations and institutions; social movements and social networks, as well as their role in shaping, interacting with, constraining, making possible, and challenging the realization of democracy in global contexts. We have a particular interest in scholars whose scholarship focuses on European Union membership and its impact. This position will be located at SAIS Europe in Bologna, Italy and will be jointly appointed between SAIS and the SNF Agora Institute. Established in 1955 as an integral part of the School of Advanced International Studies of the Johns Hopkins University (SAIS), SAIS Europe in Bologna, Italy has been educating global leaders in the area of international affairs for almost 70 years. As a highly selective graduate institution with a distinguished faculty, SAIS consistently ranks as one of the top schools of international relations in the world. SAIS was founded to provide a practical approach to training students in international leadership and foreign relations, and to provide mid-career educational opportunities for those already working in related fields. Today, SAIS Europe hosts around 200 full-time students hailing from 40 countries pursuing master- and doctoral-level degrees, with a diverse, international group of over 60 resident and adjunct faculty. To learn more about SAIS and SAIS Europe, please visit <https://sais.jhu.edu/sais-europe>. The SNF Agora Institute is a new, $150M multi-disciplinary initiative that integrates research, teaching, and practice to strengthen global democracy by improving and expanding civic engagement and inclusive dialogue, and by supporting inquiry that leads to real-world change. Housed in the university's Krieger School of Arts and Sciences, the SNF Agora Institute at JHU will serve as a leading forum bringing together experts from a range of fields—including but not limited to political science, sociology, history, neuroscience, psychology, philosophy, and ethics.

Qualifications:

Successful candidates should be established scholars with a substantial record of research and publication, or may be rising scholars of exceptional quality. All candidates should demonstrate an interest in the mission of the SNF Agora Institute, and be prepared to play a leading role in the establishment of a program of activities on democracy under stress in Europe.

Johns Hopkins is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The university is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Consistent with the university's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will assess the comprehensive qualifications of each applicant.

Applicants should apply online via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/154574> and submit a cover letter, a research statement, curriculum vitae, and two to three representative publications.

Review of applications will begin on October 31, 2024 and continue until the positions are filled. Appointments will commence on July 1, 2025.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/19/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14888

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Women & Politics, Political Theory

The Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) Program in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking to appoint a tenure-track Assistant Professor to serve as a core faculty member in our thriving Philosophy, Politics, and Economics Program and to take a leading role in developing and expanding the PPE Program and the PPE Society. The position will begin on July 1, 2025. The successful candidate will likely have a primary appointment in the Philosophy Department, which houses the PPE Program and the PPE Society, although appointment in either Political Science or Public Policy is a possibility, depending on the candidate's qualifications. We welcome applications from candidates whose work aligns with our departmental mission as outlined on our website.

Salary commensurate with qualifications. Normal responsibilities include a standard 2-2 teaching load, graduate student supervision, committee work, and active support and engagement with PPE-related extracurricular activities.

Please submit your application here: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/288248>

Applications received by October 15, 2024 will receive full consideration. We will try to give the same consideration for applications that are received after October 15, 2024, but we cannot guarantee it. We will continue our review of applications until the position is filled.

Your application should include:

- a cover letter that speaks explicitly and substantively to your interests in and ability to contribute to a Philosophy, Politics and Economics Program,
- a curriculum vitae,
- a writing sample,
- a description of your research,
- evidence of teaching quality, and
- the names, titles, affiliations, and email addresses of those who are writing letters of recommendation for you (three are required, five are permitted). Recommenders identified by the applicant will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference and the application system will solicit recommendations directly from Interfolio. Please see the Interfolio information about Online Application Delivery. Finally, applicants may also and instead list the email address of a Graduate Coordinator willing to upload their confidential references instead of the referring faculty.

If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to Kori Hensell at ppeprogram\_hiring@unc.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14871

Utah State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Utah State University invites applications for a tenure-track, academic-year position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning August 2025. Candidates should have research interests in the areas of health or education politics and policy. Application review will begin October 15, 2024 and will continue until the position is filled.

This hire is part of a broader cluster initiative examining health and educational disparities across the College of Humanities & Social Sciences, the Emma Eccles Jones College of Education and Human Services, and the Quinney College of Natural Resources. This collaboration seeks to expand and enhance research and curricular offerings that investigate and produces scholarship around these themes in Utah, the nation, and the world.

Responsibilities will include a primary role in research, teaching at both the master's and undergraduate levels, and service. Preference will be given to those with expertise in research methods. The anticipated teaching load is two courses per semester, with two course releases in the first three years.

Minimum Qualifications:

Candidates must have a doctoral degree in Political Science as of employment date

Candidates must demonstrate potential for excellence in research?

Candidates must demonstrate potential for effectiveness in teaching
The successful applicant must generate a satisfactory outcome on a background check.

The Department of Political Science is a vibrant community of about 14 tenured or tenure-track faculty with a strong tradition for excellence. The department is one of 8 departments situated in the College of Humanities & Social Sciences. This position is based on our main campus in Logan, Utah in the scenic Cache Valley and offers abundant opportunities for cultural experiences, shopping, and access to nature.

Founded in 1888, Utah State University is Utah's premier land-grant, public service university, with a strong commitment to excellence, access, and inclusion, empowering people to lead successful lives of involvement, innovation, and impact. Utah State provides high-quality education to 27,500-plus students locations throughout the state, including at three residential campuses, eight statewide campuses, and 23 education centers. USU Online educates students from all 50 states and 55 countries. For over 25 years, USU Extension has served and engaged Utahns in all of Utah's counties. As an R1 research institution, Utah State is dedicated to advancing knowledge through research and scholarly activities, providing a high-quality undergraduate and graduate education at an affordable price.

Utah State is committed to cultivating a community of inclusive excellence where all perspectives, values, cultures, and identities are acknowledged, welcomed, and valued. We seek to recruit, hire, and retain people from all walks of life who will champion excellence in education, research, discovery, outreach, and service. We believe that promoting a strong sense of community and belonging empowers and engages all members of USU to thrive and be successful. Forbes recognized our commitment to employees when they named Utah State the best employer in Utah in 2023. Learn more about USU.

The university provides a Dual Career Assistance Program to support careers for partners who are also seeking employment. Additionally, USU is committed to providing access and reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities. To request a reasonable accommodation for a disability, contact the university's ADA Coordinator in the Office of Human Resources at (435) 797-0122 or hr@usu.edu.

About the Region

U.S. News and World Report ranked Utah first for its strong economy, fiscal stability, education, and health care. Outstanding outdoor recreational opportunities abound throughout the state, including five national parks, 43 state parks and recreation areas, and 15 alpine ski resorts. The home of USU's main campus, Logan, is a city of 54,000-plus people in a picturesque mountain valley 80 miles north of Salt Lake City. The Logan metro area claimed the top spot in the Milken Institute's 2022 ranking for best-performing small cities in the nation.

To apply, complete an online application by visiting <https://careers-usu.icims.com/jobs/intro> and searching for the job's requisition number, which is 2024-8372. When completing the online application, please attach:

CV to be uploaded at the beginning of your application in the Candidate Profile under "Resume/CV"

Documents below to be uploaded at the beginning of your application in the Candidate Profile under "Documents 1-10"

Cover Letter

One or More Unpublished Writing Samples

Research Statement

Statement of Teaching Philosophy

Evidence of Effective Teaching, if Available.

Names and email addresses of three references, that we may request letters of recommendation from.

**Document size may not exceed 10 MB.**

Employees typically work indoors and are protected from weather and/or contaminants, but not, necessarily, occasional temperature changes.

In its programs and activities, including in admissions and employment, Utah State University does not discriminate or tolerate discrimination, including harassment, based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, status as a protected veteran, or any other status protected by University policy, Title IX, or any other federal, state, or local law.

The following individuals have been designated to handle inquiries regarding the application of Title IX and its implementing regulations and/or USU's non-discrimination policies:

Executive Director of the Office of Equity Matthew Pinner, discrimination@usu.edu, Distance Education Rm. 401, 435-797-1266

Title IX Coordinator Cody Carmichael, titleix@usu.edu, Distance Education Rm. 404, 435-797-1266

Mailing address: 5100 Old Main Hill, Logan, UT 84322

For further information regarding non-discrimination, please visit <https://equity.usu.edu/>, or contact:

U.S. Department of Education, Office of Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights, 800-421-3481, OCR@ed.gov

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14870

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenured/Tenure-Track: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

The Department of Public Service and Administration in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position at the assistant, associate, or full professor level, with expertise in any field related to public policy, starting in August 2025. All tenured and tenure-track faculty members are expected to make significant contributions in the areas of scholarly research/creative work, teaching, and service.

Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of policy-relevant research, contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching, and provide service to the university and the profession. We are especially interested in candidates who are well-prepared to teach policy analysis, public finance, microeconomics, and/or quantitative methods. This is a full-time 9-month appointment with a standard 2-2 teaching load.

The Department of Public Service and Administration at the Bush School of Government and Public Service offers a nationally recognized Master's Degree program in Public Service & Administration with tracks in Policy Analysis, Public Management, Nonprofit Management and Homeland Security. We are also launching a new undergraduate program in the fall of 2024. Our interdisciplinary faculty features scholars in economics, public policy, political science, public administration, and nonprofit management. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu/psaa>.

Texas A&M University is one of the nation's leading research institutions, with researchers who are making discoveries that can improve lives and impact the world and more than $1 billion in research expenditures per fiscal year. Our triple designation as a land-, sea- and space-grant university reflects the wide variety of research conducted here daily. We are located in the Bryan-College Station community, a vibrant, dynamic community that offers culture, arts, entertainment, job opportunities, low cost-of-living, and overall quality of life.

Successful applicants must have a Ph.D. in economics, public policy, political science, or a closely related field in hand by date of hire and must demonstrate a commitment to high quality research and teaching.

Applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, personal statement to include philosophy and plans for research, teaching, and service, as applicable, writing sample (such as a job market paper or current working paper), and contact information for three references on the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/152957 Confidential letters of recommendation may be requested for candidates selected for interviews.

The review of applications will begin October 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries regarding the position should be directed to Stephanie Bustos at sbustos@tamu.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/17/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14864

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Full Professor in Computational Social Science

The University of Notre Dame's Keough School of Global Affairs in conjunction with the Notre Dame Lucy Family Institute for Data and Society invites applicants for an Assistant Professor, Associate Professor or Full Professor position focused in the area of computational social science. The candidate should have expertise in methods such as machine learning, network analysis, system dynamics or big-data analytics and visualization, and have a research agenda focused on using these methods to understand the role of public policy in low- and middle-income countries. Duties include research, teaching and service.

The position will be based in the Keough School, which promotes interdisciplinary and policy-relevant research on critical issues in global affairs, transformative educational programs, and partnerships for global engagement. The Keough School approaches global affairs and development through a focus on integrated human development, which is also central to the University of Notre Dame's mission. The successful candidate will be appointed as an affiliated faculty member of Notre Dame's Lucy Family Institute, which seeks to advance data innovation to help transform society and individual lives.

Competitive candidates for this position will have a scholarly track record with evidence of, or potential for, high-quality research as well as experience or interest in policy engagement. The ideal candidate will have completed, or nearly completed, a Ph.D. in business, computer science, economics, information science, public policy, political science, sociology, statistics, or a related field. ABD candidates will be considered for an entry level position.

The University of Notre Dame seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to our Catholic tradition, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives and ways of knowing and learning. The Keough School is committed to fostering a culture of diverse views and approaches to Global Affairs. We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or service has prepared them to contribute to our mission and commitment to diversity and excellence. All applicants whose scholarly pursuits will enhance our ability to fulfill that commitment are encouraged to apply.

Applications including a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and research statement should be submitted through the Interfolio system: <https://apply.interfolio.com/153895>. Evidence of teaching and/or mentoring effectiveness is also welcomed. Junior candidates should also arrange for three confidential letters of reference to be submitted via Interfolio. Questions about the position can be directed to the chair of the search committee, Professor Santosh Kumar, at skumar23@nd.edu. We will begin the review of applicants on October 31, 2024.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/31/2024

Date Posted: 9/16/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14850

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Public Policy

Position: Assistant/Associate Professor of Public Policy (Global Policy - Human Security)

Application Deadline: 10/14/2024

Link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/287738>.

The Department of Public Policy in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor with a July 1, 2025 start date. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in Public Policy or a related social science discipline (e.g., political science, economics, etc.) by the time of appointment. The department is looking for individuals who conduct rigorous, policy-relevant research in human security issues, broadly conceived. Possible areas of expertise include, but are not limited to, poverty, political violence, governance, climate change and environmental degradation, social disparities and marginalized populations, human rights, and foreign aid. Scholars who teach and conduct research on low and middle-income countries are especially encouraged to apply. The ability to teach empirical research methods—qualitative, quantitative, or mixed—will be considered an asset.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14845

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Public Policy

Position: Assistant/Associate Professor of Public Policy (Politics of Public Policy)

Application deadline: October 9, 2024

Link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/287743>

The Department of Public Policy in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor with a July 1, 2025 start date. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in Public Policy or a related social science discipline (e.g., political science, economics, etc.) by the time of appointment. The department is looking for individuals who conduct rigorous, policy-relevant research and are prepared to teach core classes in the politics of public policy, the policymaking process, political institutions, and/or political behavior at the undergraduate, master's, and doctoral levels. Promise of research excellence and strong teaching potential, as well as the capacity to contribute to an active multidisciplinary department, are necessary for consideration. The substantive area of focus is open. Scholars who conduct research related to environmental issues, human welfare, social policy and inequality, health policy, immigration, or international development are particularly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14846

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Assistant Professor— American Politics/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for an Assistant Professor faculty position in American Politics to begin Fall 2025. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus broadly on American politics and are open to specialty. The American Politics subfield at the University of Houston boasts scholars with a wide range of interests, including political behavior, institutions, and public policy. Special consideration will be given to those whose research agendas will add to the department's existing strengths in this subfield and have potential for collaboration with a variety of current faculty. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to teaching. Review of applications will begin October 11, 2024 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a dynamic research institution founded in 1927, stands as a vibrant hub of academic excellence and cultural diversity in Texas. With over 46,000 students, it offers a comprehensive range of programs across 15 colleges, fostering innovation in fields such as energy, health, hospitality, business, education, law, STEM, and the humanities. Boasting top-tier faculty, state-of-the-art facilities, student success initiatives, and a strong commitment to community engagement, UH prepares students to thrive in a globally interconnected world while contributing impactful research and innovation to the region and beyond.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region that is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

The University's prime location in America's fourth-largest city supports extensive industry partnerships and experiential learning opportunities. Renowned for its energy industry and NASA's Space Center, Houston is home to a vibrant cultural scene with world-class museums, theaters, and restaurants. Houston thrives as a hub for innovation, education, and arts, fostering a unique blend of community charm and modern progress.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC003523. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide letters of recommendation for junior candidates only.

For further information please contact Professor Jennifer Hayes Clark, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at jlark10@uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14837

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: CFR 2025-26 International Affairs Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: International Security, Economic Policy, China

The Council on Foreign Relations is seeking applicants for its six 2025-26 International Affairs Fellowship programs. These transformational programs enable U.S. citizens who are mid-career professionals with a demonstrated interest in foreign policy to gain experience in a new environment in the United States, Canada, India, Europe, Indonesia, and Japan, or at an international organization. Selected fellows broaden their perspective on foreign affairs by working in a policymaking setting or by conducting research in an academic environment.

Applications are now through November 1, 2024, for all six fellowships. Learn about each program by visiting cfr.org/fellowships for more information or to hear from past fellows.

To apply, please visit cfr.org/fellowships. Applications must be submitted through the official portal on our website to be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/11/2024

Salary: $110,000 - $119,999

eJobs ID: 14836

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor of Interdisciplinary Environmental Policy

Position Summary

New College at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, invites applications for a full-time (9-month), tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Interdisciplinary Environmental Policy, with a preference given to those researching environmental issues in the southern United States through the lens of public policy, humanities, or history.

Detailed Position Information

The successful candidate would be appointed to New College, with a cross-appointment in the Department of Political Sciences within the College of Arts and Sciences. The ideal candidate will complement the interdisciplinary research and teaching of New College faculty working across the liberal arts in the areas of environment, sustainability and conservation; social problems and social change; and cultural studies. In addition, the successful candidate must be committed to excellence in the teaching and advising of undergraduate students with varied interests in interdisciplinary social sciences and environmental studies, as well as to teaching and mentoring undergraduate and graduate students in the partner department.

Minimum Qualifications

Applicants must have a Ph.D., with evidence of significant intellectual contributions to the field and a demonstrated commitment to teaching at the undergraduate level. Duties in the partner department may include graduate-level teaching and mentoring in addition to teaching and advising at the undergraduate level.

Instructions and Required Materials for Application

Queries for additional details should be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Marysia Galbraith. To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu>, complete the online application (Job #524722), and upload: (1) a cover letter; (2) CV; (3) statement describing past research achievements and future goals; (4) statement of teaching interests and philosophy; and (5) a list of three to five references (including contact information). The search committee will request letters of reference as appropriate. Consideration of applications will begin October 15, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Prior to hiring, the final candidate will be required to pass a pre-employment background investigation and submit transcripts of all post-secondary education. The start date is August 16, 2025.

About the Division/College/School

New College serves undergraduate students who pursue individualized programs of study. For faculty and students alike, the program provides an integrated liberal arts experience with access to the resources of a large, comprehensive research institution. For more information about New College, visit <https://www.newcollege.ua.edu>.

More Information

More information can be found at <https://careers.ua.edu/jobs/assistant-professor-of-interdisciplinary-environmental-policy-524722-tuscaloosa-alabama-united-states>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/15/2024

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14822

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Position Summary

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2025, who studies either (1) the politics of groups and identities in American politics, or (2) public policy and/or public administration through the lens of group differences.

Detailed Position Information

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2025, who studies either (1) the politics of groups and identities in American politics, or (2) public policy and/or public administration through the lens of group differences. We invite applications from, among others, scholars of Black politics, Hispanic and Latino politics, and social movements, as well as those who study institutional inequalities grounded in group differences – for example, racial disparities in policy outcomes (e.g. health, education, environment, social welfare), the relationship between social groups and public administration/management (e.g., bureaucratic representation), or the way in which policy shapes class and economic (in)equality. We are open to all methodological approaches. The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor beginning August 15, 2025, who studies either (1) the politics of groups and identities in American politics, or (2) public policy and/or public administration through the lens of group differences. We invite applications from, among others, scholars of Black politics, Hispanic and Latino politics, and social movements, as well as those who study institutional inequalities grounded in group differences – for example, racial disparities in policy outcomes (e.g. health, education, environment, social welfare), the relationship between social groups and public administration/management (e.g., bureaucratic representation), or the way in which policy shapes class and economic (in)equality. We are open to all methodological approaches.

The University of Alabama is a student-centered research university and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. The Political Science Department offers BA, MA, MPA, and PhD degrees and administers an interdisciplinary International Studies program and an Economics program.

Minimum Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications: PhD at the time of appointment.

Instructions and Required Materials for Application

To apply, complete the online application at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/524762>. Attach a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, and for recent PhD or ABD candidates, samples of publications or papers. Additional materials, including transcripts and letters of recommendation, will be required of short-listed candidates. A Ph.D. is required by the start of the appointment. We will continue to review applications until the position is filled.

More Information

More information can be found at <https://careers.ua.edu/cw/en-us/job/524762>

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 10/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/10/2024

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 14819

Columbia University

Rank: Gerald L. Curtis Professor of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy

Position Description

The Columbia School of International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a distinguished scholar at any academic rank, from tenure-track assistant professor to tenured full professor, to hold the Gerald L. Curtis Professorship of Modern Japanese Politics and Foreign Policy to begin July 1, 2025.

The successful candidate will be appointed jointly in the School of International and Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science or may be appointed exclusively in one of these two units.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. and the ability to undertake research in the Japanese language are required. Candidates will be expected to teach and sustain an active research and publication agenda involving public policy issues in contemporary Japanese politics and/or foreign relations. The candidate will be expected to play a leadership role in the Weatherhead East Asian Institute in organizing research and programmatic activities concerning Japanese politics and foreign policy.

Salary Range:

- Assistant Professor: $120,000-$130,000
- Associate Professor: $130,000-$180,000
- Professor with tenure: $180,000-$250,000

Application Instructions

Non-tenured applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, list of references, and at least two brief writing samples.

Tenured applicants should upload a vitae and letter of interest detailing current and future research plans.

Please visit our online application site at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/153718> for further information about this position and to submit your application.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For further information, please contact Deirdre Brady, Senior Assistant Dean for Academic Affairs, at d.brady@columbia.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2024

Salary: Above $159,999
eJobs ID: 14809

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Climate Policy (Accenture Chair)

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in climate policy, whose work relates to the intersection between the public and private sectors. This position fits within the broader Climate Commitment at Duke University, a university-wide, impact-oriented initiative to address the climate crisis by creating sustainable and equitable solutions that place society on the path toward a resilient, flourishing, carbon-neutral world.

Successful applicants should have an established research agenda focused on climate policy, with a background in any of public policy, economics, political science, sociology, anthropology, geography, sustainability science, or other related social science disciplines. We may consider advanced Assistant Professors but do not anticipate hiring at a higher rank. Successful candidates are expected to show commitment to undergraduate teaching, and will be expected to teach courses in Sanford's core curriculum and that complement Sanford and Duke's current offerings.

The Sanford School includes nearly 70 interdisciplinary full-time faculty and offers an undergraduate major, four Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. The Sanford School houses several research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, DC, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Duke University and The Sanford School of Public Policy are strongly committed to advancing inclusive excellence throughout our research, teaching, and service activities. A diverse faculty – defined broadly as representing a wide range of identities, lived experiences, and perspectives – is a prerequisite for excellence and is essential to driving innovation within our scholarly community. To achieve these goals, it is essential that all members of the community feel valued and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community are expected to uphold these values, and we seek to hire faculty who are passionate about increasing the participation and success of individuals from all different backgrounds and communities.

Candidates should submit: (i) a letter of application describing research and teaching interests and experiences, and an explanation of their motivation for joining a policy school; (ii) CV; (iii) Job Market Paper; (iv) a one-page statement describing their teaching philosophy, previous experiences, future plans for teaching, and experience and approach to fostering an inclusive learning and mentoring environment for their students; and (v) three reference letters. These should be submitted via: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28280>

Applications submitted by October 30, 2024, will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, you may contact Marc Jeuland, search committee chair, at marc.jeuland@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 10/30/2024
Date Posted: 9/9/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14816

Duke University

Rank: Rothermere Chair in Technology Policy

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University invites applicants for the Rothermere Chair in Technology Policy. This is a tenure-line position. Candidates at both the Associate and Full Professor levels will receive consideration. Candidates for this position should have a well-established and impactful program of research that addresses technology policy issues emerging from the ongoing digital revolution and its societal impact. Possible areas of focus may include artificial intelligence, social media, surveillance, data privacy, the intersection of technology and democracy, or technology ethics and/or governance.

In addition to an accomplished record of research, it is expected that candidates for this position will have a demonstrated track record of policy engagement. The Sanford School is particularly interested in candidates whose research and policy engagement intersect with one or more of the School's other thematic areas of emphasis: energy and environmental policy; health policy; international development; media and democracy; national security/foreign policy; and social policy.

Given the interdisciplinary nature of the technology policy field, we welcome applications from scholars from a wide range of disciplinary backgrounds, including, but not limited to: public policy, political science, law, computer science, data science, communication, sociology, and economics. Successful candidates will be expected to teach courses in Sanford's core curriculum.

Duke University and The Sanford School of Public Policy are strongly committed to advancing inclusive excellence throughout our research, teaching, and service activities. A diverse faculty – defined broadly as representing a wide range of identities, lived experiences, and perspectives – is a prerequisite for excellence and is essential to driving innovation within our scholarly community. To achieve these goals, it is essential that all members of the community feel valued and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community are expected to uphold these values, and we seek to hire faculty who are passionate about increasing the participation and success of individuals from all different backgrounds and communities.

Interested candidates should submit the following by November 1, 2024: (i) cover letter describing motivation to be part of a policy school; (ii) curriculum vitae; (iii) writing sample; (iv) Research statement that describes current and future research as well as experience and approach to mentoring and supporting a diverse and inclusive research environment; (v) a one-page statement describing their teaching philosophy, previous experiences, future plans for teaching, and experience and approach to fostering an inclusive learning and mentoring environment for their students; and (vi) names and contact information for three references. These should be submitted via: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28301>

Questions can be directed to Professor Phil Napoli, search committee chair, at philip.napoli@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/9/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14817

University of London, SOAS

Rank: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor positions in Politics and/or International Relations

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Policy

Job title: Assistant Professor / Associate Professor positions in Politics and/or International Relations

Department: Politics and International Studies

Contract Type: Full-Time (Permanent)

Salary: Grade 8 - £49,803.29 - £58,613.29 & Grade 9 - £60,239 - £69,132 p/a incl. London Allowance

Location: Bloomsbury WC1H 0XG, London

SOAS University of London is the leading Higher Education institution in Europe specialising in the study of Asia, Africa and the Near and Middle East. SOAS University of London is positioned to play a leading role in re-imagining higher education globally, with a new strategic plan in place as the basis for the renewal and revitalisation of the School which commits SOAS to both student responsiveness and research intensity. SOAS is moving towards a new model of international partnerships which is responsive to the transnational character of our global challenges

About the Department:

The SOAS Department of Politics and International Studies is a world-leading research-led department, ranked 5th in the UK and 17th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2023).

The Department is known for its combination of academic and professional training in politics and international relations with a focus on politics and international relations in the Global South (Asia, Africa, and the Middle East).

About the Role:

We are pleased to invite applications for two Lecturer (Assistant Professor) / Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor) positions in Politics and/or International Relations starting in the Autumn of 2025. These are T&R (Teaching and Research) positions. The role holder will be expected to contribute to—and shape—the Department's research profile as well as the delivery of our undergraduate and postgraduate degrees.

Apart from the publication of outstanding academic research, the role holder will convene and teach both general and specialist modules (individually and with others), advise undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations, supervise PhD theses (pending completion of a probationary period), and provide pastoral care for students. The role holder will also be expected to work in a collegial and collaborative manner with both academic and non-academic staff across the Department and the School.

Within the discipline of Politics and International Relations, the search is open as to disciplinary subfield and research specialism. Regional expertise is valued, and some experience running both on-campus and online modules, including Executive Education modules, will be beneficial.

Further information on key criteria for the role can be found in the Job Description and the Person Specification, along with a full list of duties and responsibilities.

How to Apply: Please apply via the link : <https://vacancies.soas.ac.uk/job/605776>

Closing date: 30th November 2024

Interviews: TBC

For more information on the role, including a full list of its duties and responsibilities please consult the Job Description and Person Specification found in the job pack attached.

For informal inquiries please contact the Head of Department, Professor Matthew J. Nelson, at mn6@soas.ac.uk.

Further information:

If you have any questions or require any assistance with regard to the application process, please contact hr-recruitment@soas.ac.uk. 'Successful candidates will need to demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK or have limited leave to remain in the UK and associated right to work for the duration of their employment with SOAS, in accordance with the Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Act 2006' for the duration of their contract. SOAS will support visa applications for this role where possible.

For information on how and why SOAS processes personal data about its job applicants, please read our Job Applicant Notice.

We would particularly welcome applications from candidates from working class, first generation Higher Education, Black, Asian, other minority ethnic and underrepresented groups from within the UK and beyond. All appointment decisions will be made on merit, following a fair and competitive process.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/30/2024

Date Posted: 9/4/2024

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 14787

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2025 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. Postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose background and lived experiences would support or enhance the diversity (broadly defined) of academia or their field of study.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses. Visa sponsorship available.

For full consideration, candidates should submit all materials by December 1, 2024. For more details and the application, please visit: <https://kingcenter.stanford.edu/opportunities/prospective-postdoctoral-fellows>.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 12/1/2024

Date Posted: 9/1/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14773

Suffolk University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics, Criminal Justice

Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Undergraduate Law, Specialization in Equity/Inclusion

The Department of Political Science & Legal Studies in the College of Arts & Sciences at Suffolk University invites applications for a full-time tenure track Assistant Professor position in our Undergraduate Law program beginning July 1, 2025. We are seeking a teacher scholar with a research program focused on equity and inclusion in the law that may include a specialization in Constitutional Law, civil rights law, criminal procedure, environmental racism, immigration law or public health law or another field of law.

Candidates should provide evidence of commitment to excellent teaching and scholarly potential, including a research agenda and plans for publication in legal journals or peer-reviewed journals in law and public policy. The Undergraduate Law Program prepares students for law school and careers as non-lawyer legal professionals. The Department includes undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Relations and Undergraduate Law, a Paralegal Studies Certificate and Associates Degree Program (for Non-Lawyer Legal Professionals) as well as Master of Arts degrees in Applied Public Policy and Global Public Policy. Preference will be given to those who have experience teaching legal research and writing and working with paralegals and/or supervising legal staff. Candidates should be able to contribute to the core curriculum and first year seminar program. In addition to demonstrating excellence in teaching and research, the successful candidate is expected to advise and mentor undergraduate students, and engage in service with the department, college and university. The workload for this position is 45% teaching, 35% research, and 20% service with a 5-course teaching load per year.

Suffolk's Political Science & Legal Studies Department's faculty are teacher scholars with a strong commitment to student development by providing high quality instruction to a diverse student body. Faculty in the department are award-winning teachers recognized for innovative pedagogical practices, community leaders civically engaged in advancing social justice, internationally recognized policy and political consultants and active researchers and scholars. Initiatives such as Suffolk Votes, the non-partisan university-wide initiative to raise political awareness and impact by increasing student voter participation, reflect the department's key role in Suffolk's Community Engagement Carnegie Classification. Department faculty take advantage of our location in the heart of Boston to design exciting real-world learning opportunities at the Court House and the State House. Close connections with Suffolk Law School, which has top-ranked skills clinics, provide students in the Undergraduate Law program with rich pre-professional opportunities as does our thriving Center for Restorative Justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to a rich tradition of community-engaged teaching and experiential education that prepares our diverse, substantially first-generation college students—40% of whom are Pell eligible—for careers and civic engagement. The successful candidate will have a commitment to inclusive pedagogy and curricular diversity, mentoring and advising students—especially first-generation college students—as well as conducting impactful research. We seek candidates excited about centering best practices pedagogy focused on active, applied and experiential learning in their teaching; a commitment to ongoing and continuous improvement in teaching is expected. Familiarity with and experience using pedagogical methods that enable students across racial, ethnic, socio-economic, and ability groups to reach their maximum potential is a valuable qualification.

Not sure this is you? Contact us to find out! Research indicates that women and members of marginalized populations tend not to apply to jobs when they think they do not meet the qualifications, when, in fact, they often do.

Suffolk University is dedicated to a diverse and inclusive academic community. Diversity, equity and inclusion are woven into our fabric. Founded in 1906 to provide access to legal education during the evening for individuals who might not otherwise have been afforded that opportunity, Suffolk University consistently seeks to advance its history and mission as a school of access and opportunity. This mission is lived through our decisions at every level. U.S. News ranked Suffolk University among the top 100 universities in the country for social mobility. Suffolk was also listed 14th nationally in percentage of international students. Through student, faculty and staff recruitment and support, community engagement, curriculum development, and research, the University community works to advance equity for every student, every day. Learn more about how we manifest the core values of our mission at Suffolk DEI. ?

Candidates must hold a JD (combination JD and PhD in a relevant field also invited) by the commencement of the 2025-26 academic year. Experience teaching undergraduates is preferred. Application should be made through the Suffolk University Human Resources' Careers at Suffolk site.

Completed submissions should include: cover letter; CV; law school transcript; Teaching Philosophy; Diversity Statement; a statement of research interests and agenda; student course evaluations (if available); and 3 letters of reference. For full consideration, applications should be submitted by November 1, though applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Initial interviews will be via Zoom followed by on-campus interviews.

Suffolk University is a private, comprehensive, urban university located in downtown Boston and is an equal opportunity employer committed to faculty diversity. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply. Suffolk offers substantial employee benefits, including retirement benefits, tuition remission for employees and their families, tuition exchange program with participating institutions, as well as health, dental, and life insurance, commuter benefits, and a strong employee assistance program. Learn more about CAS faculty here. To learn more about the Political Science & Legal Studies Department visit our website. Inquiries about the position should be addressed to Professor Brian Conley, Chair of the Political Science & Legal Studies Department at bconley@suffolk.edu.

The department will also hold information sessions at the 2024 APSA conference in Philadelphia. To meet with a department representative at APSA, please email Prof. Maye Hennings at maye.henning@suffolk.edu

Suffolk University does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, age, genetic information, or status as a veteran in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs, activities, or employment. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer, the University is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive faculty and staff that reflect the broad range of human experience who contribute to the robust exchange of ideas on campus, and who are committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment. We strongly encourage applications from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented because of race/color, gender, religious creed, disability, national origin, veteran status or LGBTQ status. Suffolk University is especially interested in candidates who, through their training, service and experience, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the University community.

Start Date: Summer 2025

Application Deadline: 11/1/2024

Date Posted: 8/28/2024

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 14738

Knox College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Applications are made through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/152080>

The Department of Environmental Studies at Knox College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Environmental Studies, with a focus in the social sciences, beginning September 1, 2025. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research focuses on some aspect of environmental policy.

Knox is an independent, selective liberal arts institution with a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a community that embraces a diversity of perspectives and individuals. Experience working with diverse populations of students and a commitment to successful teaching in a multicultural environment are expected. With over 35% of the student body identifying as U.S. students of color and more than 20% international students, the College supports instruction and research that appeals to Knox's students broadly.

The Environmental Studies Department offers major tracks in Environmental Studies and Environmental Science, both of which culminate in faculty-supervised student research. Teaching responsibilities include two classes per each of three 10-week terms (Fall, Winter, Spring) and support for advanced student work in the program.

The successful candidate will have experience with research techniques appropriate to their field and will be prepared to supervise senior research projects. They will also teach Introduction to Environmental Policy as well as an advanced course in their area of expertise, and contribute to a team-taught introductory course in Environmental Studies. In consultation with the department, they will teach additional courses in the environmental social sciences that contribute to departmental majors as well as the general education curriculum.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in environmental studies or related field is expected by the time of appointment, but exceptional ABD candidates will be considered.

Candidates should submit:

1. A letter of application that addresses the qualifications listed above, including the candidate's research agenda, undergraduate liberal arts teaching philosophy, and approach to teaching and mentorship in a diverse community of students;
2. A curriculum vitae;
3. An unofficial graduate transcript;
4. Names of three confidential professional references. References will be contacted for those candidates progressing in the interview process, and will be expected to provide letters quickly when requested.

Additional materials may be requested at a later date.

Review of applications begins September 13, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to Katherine Adelsberger at kadelsbe@knox.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/27/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14717

Duke University

Rank: Tenure-Line Professor of Public Policy (Brown Chair)

The Sanford School of Public Policy seeks to hire a tenure-line political scientist with a focus on political science and public policy with a broad focus on democracy and/or leadership. This faculty member will hold the inaugural Tony and Teddie Brown Chair in the Sanford School.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or in public policy with a concentration in political science, and a record of (or demonstrated capacity for) scholarly publication and excellence in teaching.

The Sanford School values applications from candidates with a strong interest in policy engagement. Candidates should be able to teach courses in the Sanford undergraduate and graduate core curriculum in addition to their own areas of policy specialization.

The Sanford School includes an interdisciplinary full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, five Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. The Sanford School houses several research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that describes their research and teaching interests and experiences, and that includes a brief statement addressing how they foster an equitable and inclusive learning and research environment; CV; writing sample; and names and contact information for three references. These materials should be submitted via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/28089>

Applications submitted by September 15th, 2024 will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, contact Deondra Rose, search committee chair, at deondra.rose@duke.edu.

Duke is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy and pregnancy related conditions), sexual orientation, or military status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/15/2024
Date Posted: 8/21/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14686

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy
Specializations: Health Care, Environmental Policy, Science & Technology

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Texas at Arlington invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Public Policy, to begin in August 2025. We are especially interested in candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in one of these areas or at their nexus: health, environmental, and/or technology politics and policymaking. The Department includes and welcomes a wide range of methodologies.

Candidates should demonstrate a record of, or potential for, excellence in social science research, undergraduate and graduate teaching, and service appropriate to the rank. The successful applicant will be expected to develop and teach substantive courses in their area of expertise, including introductory courses, upper-level undergraduate courses, and Master's level courses. They should serve as an effective teacher who can relate the real-world application of public policy ideas and theories to students. They will also provide research advising to students.

A completed Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of appointment. ABDs will be considered.

To apply, applicants should go to <https://uta.peopleadmin.com/postings/29334> and submit the following materials:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Transcripts
- A research statement
- One to two writing samples
- A teaching statement
- If available, evidence of teaching ability (such as syllabi and/or evaluations)
- Contact information for three references. Referees will be automatically notified to upload their letters as soon as possible.

Applicants must apply by September 30, 2024. Review of applications will begin immediately after that and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions may be addressed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Kayla Canelo at kayla.canelo@uta.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 9/30/2024
Date Posted: 8/20/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14675

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

The University of Michigan Ford School of Public Policy invites applicants for the U-M Presidential Postdoctoral Fellowship Program (PPDF) <https://presidentspostdoc.umich.edu/index.php#>. Postdoctoral research fellowships are coupled with faculty mentoring, professional development, and academic networking opportunities

The University of Michigan views these postdoctoral fellowships as providing an exceptional opportunity to recruit potential new faculty to tenure-track positions at the University by offering either a postdoc alone or a combined postdoc and tenure track faculty appointment to follow.

The University seeks applicants whose research, teaching, and service will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Applications are welcomed and encouraged from all qualified individuals regardless of background and identity. The program is particularly interested in scholars with the potential to bring to their research and undergraduate teaching the critical perspective that comes from their non-traditional educational background or understanding of the experiences of groups historically underrepresented in higher education.

The online application for the 2024-25 award cycle will be available on Sunday, September 1, 2024. The deadline for submitting an application to the University of Michigan's President's Postdoctoral Fellowship Program is Friday, November 1, 2024.

Please direct inquiries about this position to Bethany Christoff, cbethany@umich.edu

Additional information and a link to the application can be found at: <https://presidentspostdoc.umich.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 11/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/16/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14661

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2025-2026

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-24-LAS-00006

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral associates are expected to participate regularly in the scholarly and academic activities of the program.

The Term of appointment is based on rank. Positions at the postdoctoral rank are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year with the possibility of renewal pending satisfactory performance and continued funding; those hired at more senior ranks may have multi-year appointments. Start date is around September 1, 2025.

Appointments are for a 12-month term during the 2025-2026 academic year, starting September 1, 2025, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. The work location for this position is in-person on campus at Princeton University.

How to Apply:

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 1, 2024, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/34843>.

1. Cover letter

2. Curriculum vitae
3. Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4. A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5. Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Eligible candidate must have less than three years of post- PhD research experience prior to anticipated start date. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2025
Application Deadline: 12/1/2024
Date Posted: 8/1/2024
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 14514

University of Southern California

Rank: Full-Time, Teaching or Practice Track Faculty
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Full-Time, Teaching or Practice-Track Faculty Positions in Political Science and International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for two full-time, teaching faculty positions:

1. An instructor with expertise in Intelligence and Cyber Operations (INCO). While a Professor of the Practice is preferred, the position is open to the ranks of Assistant Professor (Teaching), Assistant Professor of the Practice, Associate Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor of the Practice, Professor (Teaching) and Professor of the Practice.
2. An Assistant Professor (Teaching), Associate Professor (Teaching), or Professor (Teaching) with expertise in one or more of the following areas: peace and conflict, including topics such as terrorism, genocide, and humanitarian interventions; European security, foreign policy, and diplomacy; international finance; and Environmental politics, policy, or law.

Successful candidates would teach 5 undergraduate-level courses per year.

Qualifications: Successful candidates for the first position must have completed an advanced degree (PhD or JD preferred) in a relevant field and should have demonstrated subject matter expertise, with professional experience in the field preferred, and excellence in teaching. Successful candidates for the second position must have completed a doctorate (PhD strongly preferred) and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Application Materials:

- Cover Letter (including thorough description of relevant expertise and experience)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Evaluations, if available.
- The names of three individuals who may be contacted by USC for a letter of reference (referees should speak to teaching abilities)

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usc Careers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/full-time-teaching-or-practice-track-faculty-positions-in-political-science-and-international-relat/1209/64030220864> .

Review of applications has begun. We will continue to consider new applications until August 1, 2024.

For additional information please contact:

Morris Levy, Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Studies

Department of Political Science and International Relations

Dr. Medicine Crow (DMC) 352

University of Southern California

Los Angeles, CA 90089-0044

morrisl@usc.edu

The annual base salary range for this position is $76,000 - $106,200. When extending an offer of employment, the University of Southern California considers factors such as (but not limited to) the scope and responsibilities of the position, the candidate's work experience, education/training, key skills, internal peer equity, federal, state and local laws, contractual stipulations, grant funding, as well as external market and organizational considerations.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The university particularly encourages members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14523

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in the 2025-26 academic year.

The Department seeks to hire a teacher-scholar whose research focuses on Latina/o/x/e politics in the U.S. All methodological and theoretical approaches to Latina/o/x/e politics are welcomed provided they enhance the department's existing areas of substantive expertise. Topics of interest include but are not limited to immigration policy, political behavior, state and local or urban politics, social movements, or identity politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach either Introduction to American Government or Introduction to Public Policy and to develop new electives in Latino/a/x politics and the areas noted above based on expertise. The position carries a 3-2 teaching load.

Applicants must either hold a PhD in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation and degree requirements by August 1, 2025.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With approximately 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see <https://polisci.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <http://jobs.richmond.edu> and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, and separate research and teaching statements. The cover letter should provide a brief summary of the candidate's research and teaching interests and describe their commitment to the teacher-scholar model. The research statement should expand on the candidate's research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, and future professional development goals, with particular emphasis on involvement in and commitment to inclusive pedagogy. In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence September 20, 2024, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14486

Clemson University

Rank: Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University invites applications for an Associate Professor or Professor in domestic, comparative, or international public policy; policymaking processes; or public administration, to begin in August 2025. We welcome applicants from all subfields in political science, especially those that have an interest in the development and promotion of our Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Ph.D. Policy Studies programs, as well as mentoring graduate students. This is a nine-month faculty position, and qualified candidates will be considered for tenure on arrival. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, public administration, or in a related field.

The successful candidate also will be expected to pursue an active research agenda resulting in a strong record of peer-reviewed publications. We especially encourage applications from candidates with a history of external research funding or definite plans to apply for grants. The position's teaching responsibilities will include offering courses in public policy, public administration, or in related areas within the Department's Ph.D., MPA, and undergraduate programs. The expected teaching load is two courses per semester.

The Department of Political Science offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in political science, along with its master's degree in public administration and Ph.D. in policy studies. The Department has 26 full-time faculty and 3 full-time staff. Clemson University is a land-grant institution located in western South Carolina in the Greenville metropolitan area. Its strategic plan—Clemson Elevate—articulates three dynamic goals: delivering the #1 student experience in the nation, doubling research productivity by 2035, and transforming lives statewide and beyond. These overlapping priorities are intended to continue Clemson's development as a leading public research university, sustain its Carnegie R1 status, and position itself for membership in the Association of American Universities (AAU).

Clemson University is an AA/EEO employer and does not discriminate against any person or group on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, pregnancy, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, veteran status, or genetic information.

To apply, candidates should submit the following: (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) contact information for three references who will provide confidential letters of recommendation, (4) a research statement, (5) a statement on teaching and student mentoring (including evidence of teaching effectiveness); and (6) sample syllabi for undergraduate and/or graduate courses. Apply at - Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/149108>).

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2024, and continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position may be sent to Dr. Adam Warber (awarber@clemson.edu), Search Committee Chair, or to Dr. Joseph Ura (jura@clemson.edu), Department Chair.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/3/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14468

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Congress, Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach undergraduate American Politics courses in-person for the Spring 2025 semester. We seek instructors capable of teaching in their area of expertise, in one or more of nearly any area of American Politics (for example, Political Parties, Campaigns and Elections, Public Policy, Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Political Psychology, Social Movements). The instructor would teach in a part-time, non-tenure track capacity but may be able to teach multiple sections of the same course.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To begin the application process, please send a curriculum vitae with a statement of interest. Eventually, we will ask for letters of reference, a graduate transcript, teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $4,000 - $4,500 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Spring 2025

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/2/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14463

St. Olaf College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position in American Politics, with a primary focus on institutions and/or law, at the Assistant Professor level, to begin August 2025. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in race, gender, sexuality, and/or economic inequality, who have a broad background in the discipline, and whose research and teaching interests speak to contemporary public concerns.

The teaching responsibilities, five courses per year, would include Introduction to American Politics as well as upper-level courses depending on the scholar's areas of research and teaching interest, such as courses on Congress, the presidency, the courts, state politics, or constitutional law. We expect that the person who fills this position will contribute to our department as a creative teacher, an engaged scholar, and a collaborative colleague.

Qualifications

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field completed by the start of the fall semester is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

About the Department

We are a collegial department, with two faculty members teaching regularly in each of the four subfields. We are committed to supporting our colleagues in their pursuit of creative and thoughtful pedagogy and rigorous scholarship. For more information about the department, visit wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/.

How to Apply

Submit application at: <https://tinyurl.com/4zxwjpd>

A complete application includes the following:

References: Provide contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship.

Cover letter outlining your qualifications and why you are interested in this particular position

Curriculum vitae

Diversity statement (500 word limit): Describe how you would contribute to the development of a diverse and inclusive learning community at our college through your teaching, research, and/or service. Include examples of your contributions when possible.

Graduate transcripts (unofficial)

Evidence of Teaching Excellence, including a statement of teaching philosophy, focused on pedagogy in and out of the classroom at a liberal arts college

Research Statement focused on your current scholarship and plans for future scholarship

Writing sample

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2024, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration. Finalist interviews are expected in November. Questions about the position, department, or College may be directed to Menevis Cilizoglu, Search Committee Chair, at tt2025ps@stolaf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2025

Application Deadline: 9/20/2024

Date Posted: 6/26/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14446

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration/Public Management/Public Policy

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKYSPP), National University of Singapore, invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professor appointments. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the fields of public policy, public administration, and/or public management. Of particular interest are scholars whose research and teaching focuses on public management, public policy, digital technologies and sustainability and with relevance to Asia.

Job Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will have:

- A completed PhD by 2024 in public administration, public management, public policy, political science, or related disciplines;
- Publications in top journals in the field and a strong pipeline of ground-breaking research / working papers;

- Demonstrated ability to teach core and specialized courses in public management and policy; and
- A willingness and ability to mentor graduate students.

Application:

Please submit your application package in electronic form (PDF) to the Hiring Committee via CHRS Link. <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/job-invite/24841/>

The package should include:

- A cover letter.
- Curriculum Vitae.
- A research statement that outlines your publications at the very top journals, your current research interests and pipeline of working papers.
- A teaching statement detailing course taught, your pedagogical philosophy and practices, along with any available evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Names and contact information for three referees.
- Up to two writing samples.

The review of applications will begin in early October 2024 and continue until positions are filled. Members of the hiring committee may be present at PMRC 2024 and/or APPAM 2024. Interested candidates are welcome to arrange meetings by writing to lkyspp@nus.edu.sg

Additional Information:

LKYSPP is a leading public policy school in Asia, attracting an internationally diverse, world-class faculty and student body to engage and address the world's most pressing challenges. Its mission is to inspire, improve lives, and take central positions in the policy and governance conversations within Asia and beyond. We do this by working hard on two planks: pursuing academic and intellectual excellence, and crafting lessons for meaningful public policymaking. The school is housed within the National University of Singapore, the highest ranked university in Asia and the 8th in the world (QS World University Rankings 2024).

LKYSPP offers highly competitive research funding, salary, relocation and housing support, and other benefits. The teaching load (typically three per academic year) allows faculty to focus on providing quality instruction while maintaining their research excellence. For more information about the LKY School, please visit www.lkyspp.nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/28/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14374

American University

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Applicants should hold a PhD or other terminal degree. Highly qualified applicants with a master's degree related to political science will be considered at the rank of instructor. The position will require the incumbent to teach three undergraduate or M.A. courses per semester in political science with a primary focus on American Politics and Public Policy. We are especially interested in applicants who can teach

GOVT 443/643 (Applied Political Writing), GOVT 210 (Political Power and American Public Policy), and GOVT 620 (Applied Politics and American Public Policy). All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three professional recommendations, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers.

Please contact Rachel Whelan, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or spa\_academicaffairs@american.edu if you have any questions.

Benefits

AU offers a competitive benefits package including a 200% matching retirement plan, tuition benefits for full-time staff and their families, several leadership development certificates, and has been recognized by the American Heart Association as a fit-friendly worksite.

Other Details

Hiring offers for this position are contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Please note this job announcement is not designed to cover or contain a comprehensive listing of activities, duties or responsibilities that are required of the employee for this job. Duties, responsibilities, and activities may change at any time with or without notice.

American University is an E-Verify employer.

American University is a student-centered research institution located in Washington, DC, with highly ranked schools and colleges, internationally renowned faculty, and a reputation for creating meaningful change in the world.

Learn more about American University. <https://www.american.edu/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/23/2024

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 14334